SENATE BILL NO. 5200, by Senators Hatfield and Shin

Concerning consolidating a new exempt withdrawal of groundwater into an existing public water system.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Hatfield, Substitute Senate Bill No. 5200 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 5200 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading and read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hatfield moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Hatfield be adopted:

(1)(a) Upon the issuance by the department of an amendment to the appropriate permit or certificate of groundwater right, the holder of a valid right to withdraw public groundwaters may consolidate that right with a groundwater right exempt from the permit requirement under RCW 90.44.050, without affecting the priority of either of the water rights being consolidated. Such a consolidation amendment shall be issued only after publication of a notice of the application, a comment period, and a determination made by the department, in lieu of meeting the conditions required for an amendment under RCW 90.44.100, that:

(i) The exempt well taps the same body of public groundwater as the well to which the water right of the exempt well is to be consolidated;

(ii) Use of the exempt well shall be discontinued upon approval of the consolidation amendment to the permit or certificate;

(iii) Legally enforceable agreements have been entered to prohibit the construction of another exempt well to serve the area previously served by the exempt well to be discontinued, and such agreements are binding upon subsequent owners of the land through appropriate binding limitations on the title to the land;

(iv) The exempt well or wells the use of which is to be discontinued will be properly decommissioned in accordance with chapter 18.104 RCW and the rules of the department; and

(v) Other existing rights, including ground and surface water rights and minimum stream flows adopted by rule, shall not be impaired.

(b) The notice required by this section shall be published by the applicant in a newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which the wells for the rights to be consolidated are located once a week for two consecutive weeks. The applicant shall provide evidence of the publication of the notice to the department. The comment period shall be for thirty days beginning on the date the notice is published.

(2) The amount of water to be added to the holder's permit or certificate upon discontinuance of the exempt well or approval of a consolidation under subsection (3) of this section shall be the average withdrawal from the well, in gallons per day, for the most recent five-year period preceding the date of the application, except that the amount shall not be less than eight hundred gallons per day for each residential connection or such alternative minimum amount as may be established by the department in consultation with the department of health, and shall not exceed five thousand gallons per day. The department shall presume that an amount identified by the applicant as being the average withdrawal from the well during the most recent five-year period is accurate if the applicant establishes that the amount identified for the use or uses of water from the exempt well is consistent with the average amount of water used for similar use or uses in the general area in which the exempt well is located. The department shall develop, in consultation with the department of health, a schedule of average household and small-area landscaping water usages in various regions of the state to aid the department and applicants in identifying average amounts used for these purposes. The presumption does not apply if the department finds credible evidence of nonuse of the well during the required period or credible evidence that the use of water from the exempt well or the intensity of the use of the land supported by water from the exempt well is substantially different than such uses in the general area in which the exempt well is located. The department shall also accord a presumption in favor of approval of such consolidation if the requirements of this subsection are met and the discontinuance of the exempt well is consistent with an adopted coordinated water system plan under chapter 70.116 RCW, an adopted comprehensive land use plan under chapter 36.70A RCW, or other comprehensive watershed management plan applicable to the area containing an objective of decreasing the number of existing and newly developed small groundwater withdrawal wells. The department shall provide a priority to reviewing and deciding upon applications subject to this subsection, and shall make its decision within sixty days of the end of the comment period following publication of the notice by the applicant or within sixty days of the date on which compliance with the state environmental policy act, chapter 43.21C RCW, is completed, whichever is later. The applicant and the department may by prior mutual agreement extend the time for making a decision."
3: An existing publicly owned and operated group A or group B water system, as those terms are defined in RCW 70.119A.020, may serve a proposed new development with a quantity of water that otherwise would be withdrawn for beneficial use under the permit exemption in RCW 90.44.050. However, not more than five thousand gallons per day may be provided in this manner by any water system. The existing water rights for a water system will be increased by the amount of water beneficially used for that purpose if the following conditions are met:

(a) A determination is made under RCW 58.17.110 or 19.27.097 that potable water is legally available for single or group domestic use under the permit exemption in RCW 90.44.050 and that provision of this water by the existing water system would comply with water resource rules adopted by the department under chapter 90.54 RCW;

(b) The existing water system does not have water rights in sufficient quantities to serve the proposed new development and withdraws water from the same body of public groundwater as would a new well constructed to serve the proposed new development;

(c) The water system is in compliance with the water use efficiency requirements of RCW 70.119A.180(4), drinking water rules adopted by the department of health under RCW 43.70.040, and rules adopted by the state board of health under RCW 43.20.050(2)(a); and

(d) Within five years of providing a water supply under this subsection, the water system complies with the applicable requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section and, at such time, provides the department with metered water use information for the new development to serve as the basis for quantifying the consolidation."

NEW SECTION.

Sec. 1. The Washington state legislature recognizes the importance of frequent and meaningful contact for siblings separated due to involvement in the foster care system. The legislature also recognizes that children and youth in foster care have not always been provided adequate opportunities for visitation with their siblings. It is the intent of the legislature to encourage appropriate facilitation of sibling visits.

Sec. 2. RCW 13.34.136 and 2011 c 309 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the home, a permanency plan shall be developed no later than sixty days from the time the supervising agency assumes responsibility for providing services, including placing the child, or at the time of a hearing under RCW 13.34.130, whichever occurs first. The permanency planning process continues until a permanency planning goal is achieved or dependency is dismissed. The planning process shall include reasonable efforts to return the child to the parent's home.

(2) The agency supervising the dependency shall submit a written permanency plan to all parties and the court not less than fourteen days prior to the scheduled hearing. Responsive reports of parties not in agreement with the department's or supervising agency's proposed permanency plan must be provided to the department or supervising agency, all other parties, and the court at least seven days prior to the hearing.

The permanency plan shall include:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption, including a tribal customary adoption as defined in RCW 13.38.040; guardianship; permanent legal custody; long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; successful completion of a responsible living skills program; or independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. The department or supervising agency shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW;

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to RCW 13.34.130(1)(d) (8), that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, what steps the supervising agency or the department will take to promote existing appropriate sibling relationships and/or facilitate placement together or contact in accordance with the best interests of each child, and what actions the department or supervising agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The department’s or supervising agency’s plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) Visitation is the right of the family, including the child and the parent, in cases in which visitation is in the best interest of the child. Early, consistent, and frequent visitation is crucial for maintaining parent-child relationships and making it possible for parents and children to safely reunify. The supervising agency or department shall encourage the maximum parent and child ((and siblings)) contact possible, when it is in the best interest of the child, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation shall not be limited as a sanction for a parent's failure to comply with court orders or services where the health, safety, or welfare of the child is not at risk as a result of the visitation. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare. The court and the department or supervising agency should rely upon community resources, relatives, foster parents, and other appropriate persons to provide transportation and supervision for visitation to the extent that such resources are available, and appropriate, and the child's safety would not be compromised.
The child adoptee and his or her siblings of providing for and supervising agency to seriously consider the long-term benefits to foster parents, kinship caregivers, and the department or other shall encourage the prospective adoptive parents, birth parents, and child enrolled in the school the child was attending at the time the child department or supervising agency.

Whenever the permanency plan for a child is adoption, the court termination of parental rights in accordance with RCW the department or supervising agency to file a petition seeking fifteen of the most recent twenty-two months, the court shall require the earliest possible date. If the child has been in out-of-home care for reasonable efforts to ensure visitation and contact between siblings parents if the court orders a termination petition be filed. However, reasonable efforts to ensure visitation and contact between siblings shall be made unless there is reasonable cause to believe the best interests of the child or siblings would be jeopardized.

(3) Permanency planning goals should be achieved at the earliest possible date. If the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen of the most recent twenty-two months, the court shall require the department or supervising agency to file a petition seeking termination of parental rights in accordance with RCW 13.34.145((2))((vi)). In cases where parental rights have been terminated, the child is legally free for adoption, and adoption has been identified as the primary permanency planning goal, it shall be a goal to complete the adoption within six months following entry of the termination order.

(4) If the court determines that the continuation of reasonable efforts to prevent or eliminate the need to remove the child from his or her home or to safely return the child home should not be part of the permanency plan of care for the child, reasonable efforts shall be made to place the child in a timely manner and to complete whatever steps are necessary to finalize the permanent placement of the child.

(5) The identified outcomes and goals of the permanency plan may change over time based upon the circumstances of the particular case.

(6) The court shall consider the child's relationships with the child's siblings in accordance with RCW 13.34.130((4)(b)(v)). Whenever the permanency plan for a child is adoption, the court shall encourage the prospective adoptive parents, birth parents, foster parents, kinship caregivers, and the department or other supervising agency to seriously consider the long-term benefits to the child adoptee and his or her siblings of providing for and facilitating continuing postadoption contact between the siblings.

To the extent that it is feasible, and when it is in the best interests of the child adoptee and his or her siblings, contact between the siblings should be frequent and of a similar nature as that which existed prior to the adoption. If the child adoptee or his or her siblings are represented by an attorney or guardian ad litem in a proceeding under this chapter or in any other child custody proceeding, the court shall inquire of each attorney and guardian ad litem regarding the potential benefits of continuing contact between the siblings and the potential detriments of severing contact. This section does not require the department of social and health services or other supervising agency to agree to any specific provisions in an open adoption agreement and does not create a new obligation for the department to provide supervision or transportation for visits between siblings separated by adoption from foster care.

(7) For purposes related to permanency planning:

(a) "Guardianship" means a dependency guardianship or a legal guardianship pursuant to chapter 11.88 RCW or equivalent laws of another state or a federally recognized Indian tribe.

(b) "Permanent custody order" means a custody order entered pursuant to chapter 26.10 RCW.

(1) Persons (who are developmentally disabled) with developmental disabilities, impaired by chronic alcoholism or drug abuse, or suffering from dementia shall not be detained for evaluation and treatment or judicially committed solely by reason of that condition unless such condition causes a person to be gravely disabled or as a result of a mental disorder such condition exists that constitutes a likelihood of serious harm. Provided however, that persons (who are developmentally disabled) with developmental disabilities, impaired by chronic alcoholism or drug abuse, or suffering from dementia and who otherwise meet the criteria for detention or judicial commitment are not ineligible for detention or commitment based on this condition alone.

(2) The fact that a mental disorder within the definition of RCW 71.05.020 is caused by an underlying medical condition does not provide a reason to withhold detention under this chapter. The fact that a person has been involuntarily detained does not give the right to provide medical treatment against the person's will, except as specified in RCW 71.05.217(7) and 71.05.360(10).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

A designated mental health professional shall take serious consideration of observations and opinions by examining physicians in determining whether detention under this chapter is appropriate. An examining physician who disagrees with a determination not to initiate detention under RCW 71.05.150 or 71.05.153 may submit a declaration describing the reasons why, in the view of the physician, detention is appropriate and stating whether the physician is willing, if necessary, to testify to the physician's observations in court. A designated mental health professional who receives such a declaration and does not initiate detention must provide a written response stating with particularity the reason or reasons why the person has not been detained.

A designated mental health professional who conducts an evaluation for imminent likelihood of serious harm or imminent danger because of being gravely disabled under RCW 71.05.153 must also evaluate the person under RCW 71.05.150 for likelihood of serious harm or grave disability that does not meet the imminent standard for emergency detention.

"NEW SECTION.  Sec. 1. The legislature finds that Western Governors University-Washington, recognized by the state of Washington under RCW 28B.77.240, serves a student population that is nontraditional and geographically diverse. Enrollment in Western Governors University-Washington has grown steadily since 2011 reaching over four thousand three hundred students. These students represent an average age of thirty-seven, sixty-nine percent of whom are classified as underserved, including low-income, ethnic minority, rural, and first-generation students.

The legislature also finds that tuition at Western Governors University-Washington has remained static since 2008 at five thousand seven hundred eighty dollars per year.

Further, the legislature finds that the population served by Western Governors University-Washington deserves to have access to affordable postsecondary education, including baccalaureate degree-granting institutions. Therefore, the legislature intends to provide access to the state need grant program for eligible students attending Western Governors University-Washington.

The legislature also intends that Western Governors University-Washington comply with all reporting requirements established by the student achievement council for state need grant participation, including financial information about students, enrollment, graduation and placement rates, and the institution's standing with its accrediting agency, the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, and the United States department of education.

Sec. 2. RCW 28B.92.030 and 2012 c 229 s 557 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Council" means the student achievement council.

(2) "Disadvantaged student" means a posthigh school student who by reason of adverse cultural, educational, environmental, experiential, familial or other circumstances is unable to qualify for enrollment as a full-time student in an institution of higher education, who would otherwise qualify as a needy student, and who is attending an institution of higher education under an established program designed to qualify the student for enrollment as a full-time student.

(3) "Financial aid" means loans and/or grants to needy students enrolled or accepted for enrollment as a student at institutions of higher education.

(4) "Institution" or "institutions of higher education" means:

(a) Any public university, college, community college, or technical college operated by the state of Washington or any political subdivision thereof; or

(b) Any other university, college, school, or institute in the state of Washington offering instruction beyond the high school level that is a member institution of an accrediting association recognized by rule of the council for the purposes of this section and that agrees to and complies with program rules adopted pursuant to RCW 28B.92.150. However, any institution, branch, extension or facility operating within the state of Washington that is affiliated with an institution operating in another state must:

(5) "Needy student" means a posthigh school student of an institution of higher education who demonstrates to the office the financial inability, either through the student's parents, family and/or personally, to meet the total cost of board, room, books, and tuition and incidental fees for any semester or quarter. "Needy student" also means an opportunity internship graduate as defined by RCW 28C.18.162 within one year of high school graduation.

(6) "Office" means the office of student financial assistance.

(7) "Placebound student" means a student who (a) is unable to complete a college program because of family or employment commitments, health concerns, monetary inability, or other similar factors; and (b) may be influenced by the receipt of an enhanced financial aid award to complete a baccalaureate degree at an eligible institution.

Sec. 3. RCW 28B.105.020 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 11 s 183 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "GET units" means tuition units under the advanced college tuition payment program in chapter 28B.95 RCW.

(2) "Institution of higher education" has the same meaning as in RCW 28B.92.030(4)(a) and (b) (i) and (ii).

(3) "Office" means the office of student financial assistance.

(4) "Program administrator" means the private nonprofit corporation that is registered under Title 24 RCW and qualified as a tax-exempt entity under section 501(c)(3) of the federal internal revenue code, that will serve as the private partner in the public-private partnership under this chapter.

(5) "Qualified program" or "qualified major" means a mathematics, science, or related degree program or major line of study offered by an institution of higher education that is included on the list of programs or majors selected by the (board) office and the program administrator under RCW 28B.105.100.

Sec. 4. RCW 28B.133.010 and 2004 c 275 s 72 are each amended to read as follows:

The educational assistance grant program for students with dependents is hereby created, subject to the availability of receipts, gifts, grants, or endowments from private sources. The program is created to serve financially needy students with dependents eighteen years of age or younger, by assisting them directly through a grant program to pursue a degree or certificate at public or private institutions of higher education, as defined in RCW 28B.92.030(4) (a) and (b) (i) and (ii), that participate in the state need grant program.

Sec. 5. RCW 28B.133.050 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 11 s 238 are each amended to read as follows:

The educational assistance grant program for students with dependents grants may be used by eligible participants to attend any public or private college or university in the state of Washington as provided in RCW 28B.92.150. However, any institution, branch, extension or facility operating within the state of Washington that is affiliated with an institution operating in another state must:

(i) A separately accredited member institution of any such accrediting association;

(ii) A branch of a member institution of an accrediting association recognized by rule of the council for purposes of this section, that is eligible for federal student financial aid assistance and has operated as a nonprofit college or university delivering on-site classroom instruction for a minimum of twenty consecutive years within the state of Washington, and has an annual enrollment of at least seven hundred full-time equivalent students; or

(ii) A nonprofit institution recognized by the state of Washington as provided in RCW 28B.77.240.

The educational assistance grant program for students with dependents grants may be used by eligible participants to attend any public or private college or university in the state of Washington as provided in RCW 28B.92.150. However, any institution, branch, extension or facility operating within the state of Washington that is affiliated with an institution operating in another state must:

(i) A separately accredited member institution of any such accrediting association;

(ii) A branch of a member institution of an accrediting association recognized by rule of the council for purposes of this section, that is eligible for federal student financial aid assistance and has operated as a nonprofit college or university delivering on-site classroom instruction for a minimum of twenty consecutive years within the state of Washington, and has an annual enrollment of at least seven hundred full-time equivalent students; or

(5) "Office" means the office of student financial aid.

Sec. 6. The legislature finds that many American youth arrive in this country and this state through the decision of their parents to relocate in search of opportunities to improve their lives and futures.

On June 15, 2012, President Obama introduced the deferred action for childhood arrivals process. Building on this directive, this section and section 7 of this act are intended to provide a more affordable and attainable route to college for children granted deferred action for childhood arrival status who reside in Washington state. While extending in-state tuition to these youth has helped them better afford higher education in this state, financial aid is necessary to extend to them the full American dream. The extension of financial aid to these aspiring young Americans is also necessary to position everyone for economic success and strengthen Washington state's competitive edge in the world economy.
equivalent and until such time as the individual is admitted to an eligible institution of higher education and has been granted deferred action for childhood arrival status pursuant to the rules and regulations adopted by the United States citizenship and immigration services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 1 through 5 of this act take effect August 1, 2013.”

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after “to” strike the remainder of the title and insert “expanding access to the state need grant; amending RCW 28B.92.030, 28B.105.020, 28B.133.010, 28B.133.050, and 28B.92.010; creating new sections; and providing an effective date.”

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Bailey: “That the striking amendment 189 to Substitute Senate Bill No. 5195 is beyond the scope and object of the bill. The bill was introduced into the Senate, allows one non-profit institution recognized by Washington State under current law to be eligible to participate in the state need grant program, Western Washington Governor’s University. Thus, the same student receiving a state need grant award while attending a Washington Community College would also be eligible to receive a state need grant award if he or she is attending WGU-Washington. By contrast, the striking amendment does not address the type of higher education institution that is eligible to participate in the state need grant program but rather it expands the class of eligible students by attempting to hang, verbatim, a bill that was introduced in the House, Substitute House Bill No. 1817. Specifically the striking amendment expands the class by allowing undocumented immigrants to be eligible for the state need grant award. Because the striking amendment exceeds the scope and object of the underlying bill I respectfully request a ruling accordingly.”

Senator Frockt spoke against the point of order.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, further consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5195 was deferred and the bill held its place on the second reading calendar.

MOTION

At 9:07 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 9:00 a.m. Tuesday, March 12, 2013.

Providing that health care professional licensees may not be required to participate in any public or private third-party reimbursement program. Revised for 2nd Substitute: Concerning health care professionals contracting with public and private payors.

MOTION

MOTION

Senator Becker moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Becker and Keiser be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that Washington state is a provider friendly state within which to practice medicine. As part of health care reform, Washington state endeavors to establish and operate a state-based health benefits exchange wherein insurance products will be offered for sale and add potentially three hundred thousand patients to commercial insurance, and to expand access to Medicaid for potentially three hundred thousand new enrollees. Such a successful and new insurance market in Washington state will require the willing participation of all categories of health care providers. The legislature further finds that principles of fair contracting apply to all contracts between health care providers and health insurance carriers offering insurance within Washington state and that fair dealings and transparency in expectations should be present in interactions between all third-party payors and health care providers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Health care provider" or "provider" has the same meaning as in RCW 48.43.005 and, for the purposes of this chapter, includes facilities licensed under chapter 70.41 RCW.

(2) "Payor" or "third-party payor" means carriers licensed under chapters 48.20, 48.21, 48.44, and 48.46 RCW, and managed health care systems as defined in RCW 74.09.522.

(3) "Material amendment" means any amendment to a contract between a payor and health care provider that would result in requiring a health care provider to participate in a health plan, product, or line of business with a lower fee schedule in order to continue to participate in a health plan, product, or line of business with a higher fee schedule. A material amendment does not include any of the following:

(a) A decrease in payment or compensation resulting from a change in a fee schedule published by the payor upon which the payment or compensation is based and the date of applicability is clearly identified in the contract, compensation addendum, or fee schedule notice;

(b) A decrease in payment or compensation that was anticipated under the terms of the contract, if the amount and date of applicability of the decrease is clearly identified in the contract; or

(c) Changes unrelated to compensation so long as reasonable notice of not less than sixty days is provided.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A third-party payor shall provide no less than sixty days' notice to the health care provider of any proposed material amendments to a health care provider's contract with the third-party payor.

(2) Any material amendment to a contract must be clearly defined in a notice to the provider from the third-party payor as being a material change to the contract before the provider's notice period begins. The notice must also inform the providers that they may choose to reject the terms of the proposed material amendment through written or electronic means at any time during the notice period and that such rejection may not affect the terms of the health care provider's existing contract with the third-party payor.

(3) A health care provider's rejection of the material amendment does not affect the terms of the health care provider's existing contract with the third-party payor.

(4) A failure to comply with the terms of subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section shall void the effectiveness of the material amendment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A payor may not, without the express written agreement of the health care provider, require a health care provider to extend the payor's Medicaid rates, or some percentage above the payor's Medicaid rates, that govern a health benefit program administered by a public purchaser to a commercial plan or line of business offered by a payor that is not administered by a public purchaser. For the purposes of this section, "administered by a public purchaser" does not include commercial coverage offered through the Washington health benefit exchange.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 18.130 RCW to read as follows:

No licensee subject to this chapter may be required to participate in any public or private third-party reimbursement program or any plans or products offered by a payor as a condition of licensure.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 4 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 48 RCW."

(1) In addition to the taxes imposed under RCW 82.04.260((44)) (8), a surcharge is imposed on those persons who are subject to any of the taxes imposed under RCW 82.04.260((44)) (8). Except as otherwise provided in this section, the surcharge is equal to 0.052 percent. The surcharge is added to the rates provided in RCW 82.04.260((44)) (8)(a), (b), (c), and (d).

(2) All receipts from the surcharge imposed under this section must be deposited into the forest and fish support account created in RCW 76.09.405.

(3)(a) The surcharge imposed under this section is suspended if:

(i) Receipts from the surcharge total at least eight million dollars during any fiscal biennium; or

(ii) The office of financial management certifies to the department that the federal government has appropriated at least two million dollars for participation in forest and fish report-related activities by federally recognized Indian tribes located within the geographical boundaries of the state of Washington for any federal fiscal year.

(b)(i) The suspension of the surcharge under (a)(ii) of this subsection (3) takes effect on the first day of the calendar month that is at least thirty days after the end of the month during which the department determines that receipts from the surcharge total at least eight million dollars during the fiscal biennium. The surcharge is imposed again at the beginning of the following fiscal biennium.

(ii) The suspension of the surcharge under (a)(ii) of this subsection (3) takes effect on the later of the first day of October of any federal fiscal year for which the federal government appropriates at least two million dollars for participation in forest and fish report-related activities by federally recognized Indian tribes located within the geographical boundaries of the state of Washington, or the first day of a calendar month that is at least thirty days following the date that the office of financial management makes a certification to the department under subsection (5) of this section. The surcharge is imposed again on the first day of the following July.

(4)(a) If, by October 1st of any federal fiscal year, the office of financial management certifies to the department that the federal government has appropriated funds for participation in forest and fish report-related activities by federally recognized Indian tribes located within the geographical boundaries of the state of Washington but the amount of the appropriation is less than two million dollars, the department must adjust the surcharge in accordance with this subsection.

(b) The department must adjust the surcharge by an amount that the department estimates will cause the amount of funds deposited into the forest and fish support account for the state fiscal year that begins July 1st and that includes the beginning of the federal fiscal year for which the federal appropriation is made, to be reduced by twice the amount of the federal appropriation for participation in forest and fish report-related activities by federally recognized
Indian tribes located within the geographical boundaries of the state of Washington.

(c) Any adjustment in the surcharge takes effect at the beginning of a calendar month that is at least thirty days after the date that the office of financial management makes the certification under subsection (5) of this section.

(3) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) “Grocery distribution cooperative” means an entity that sells groceries and related items to customer-owners of the grocery distribution cooperative and has customer-owners, in the aggregate, who own a majority of the outstanding ownership interests of the grocery distribution cooperative or of the entity controlling the grocery distribution cooperative. “Grocery distribution cooperative” includes an entity that controls a grocery distribution cooperative.

The amount of the credit may not exceed the tax liability arising under this chapter with respect to the extraction or manufacturing of those products.

(5) For the purpose of this section:

(a) "Gross receipts tax" means a tax:

(i) Which is imposed on or measured by the gross volume of business, in terms of gross receipts or in other terms, and in the determination of which the deductions allowed would not constitute the tax an income tax; or (B) Value added tax; and

(ii) Which is also not, pursuant to law or custom, separately stated from the sales price.

(b) "State" means (i) the state of Washington, (ii) a state of the United States other than Washington, or any political subdivision of such other state, (iii) the District of Columbia, and (iv) any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

Sec. 219. RCW 82.04.4451 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 23 s 1102 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing the tax imposed under this chapter, a credit is allowed against the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter, as provided in this section. Except for taxpayers that report at least fifty percent of their taxable amount under RCW 82.04.240 (((2)(a)(i)) 82.04.290(2) (82.04.255)), 82.04.290(2)(a)(i) and 82.04.285, the maximum credit for a taxpayer for a reporting period is thirty-five dollars multiplied by the number of months in the reporting period, as determined under RCW 82.32.045. For a taxpayer that reports at least fifty percent of its taxable amount under RCW ((82.04.255)) 82.04.290(2)(a)(i) and 82.04.285, the maximum credit for a reporting period is seventy dollars multiplied by the number of months in the reporting period, as determined under RCW 82.32.045.

(2) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter is equal to or less than the maximum credit, a credit is allowed equal to the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter.

(3) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter exceeds the maximum credit, a reduced credit is allowed equal to twice the maximum credit, minus the tax otherwise due under this chapter, but not less than zero.

(4) The department may prepare a tax credit table consisting of tax ranges using increments of no more than five dollars and a corresponding tax credit to be applied to those tax ranges. The table ((shall)) must be prepared in such a manner that no taxpayer will owe a greater amount of tax by using the table than would be owed by performing the calculation under subsections (1) through (3) of this section. A table prepared by the department under this subsection must be used by all taxpayers in taking the credit provided in this section.

Sec. 220. RCW 82.04.4463 and 2010 1st sp.s. c 23 s 515 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing the tax imposed under this chapter, a credit is allowed for property taxes and leasehold excise taxes paid during the calendar year.

(2) The credit is equal to:

(a)(i)(A) Property taxes paid on buildings, and land upon which the buildings are located, constructed after December 1, 2003, and used exclusively in manufacturing commercial airplanes or components of such airplanes; and

(B) Leasehold excise taxes paid with respect to buildings constructed after January 1, 2006, the land upon which the buildings are located, or both, if the buildings are used exclusively in manufacturing commercial airplanes or components of such airplanes; and

(C) Property taxes or leasehold excise taxes paid on, or with respect to, buildings constructed after June 30, 2008, the land upon which the buildings are located, or both, and used exclusively for aerospace product development, manufacturing tooling specifically designed for use in manufacturing commercial airplanes or their components, or in providing aerospace services, by persons not within the scope of (a)(i)(A) and (B) of this subsection (2) and are taxable under RCW 82.04.290(3), 82.04.260(((449)), (b), or 82.04.250(3); or

(ii) Property taxes attributable to an increase in assessed value due to the renovation or expansion, after: (A) December 1, 2003, of a building used exclusively in manufacturing commercial airplanes or components of such airplanes; and (B) June 30, 2008, of buildings used exclusively for aerospace product development, manufacturing tooling specifically designed for use in manufacturing commercial airplanes or their components, or in providing aerospace services, by persons not within the scope of (a)(ii)(A) of this subsection (2) and are taxable under RCW 82.04.290(3), 82.04.260(((449)), (b), or 82.04.250(3); and

(b) An amount equal to:

(i)(A) Property taxes paid, by persons taxable under RCW 82.04.260(((449))), (7)(a), on machinery and equipment exempt under RCW 82.08.02565 or 82.12.02565 and acquired after December 1, 2003;

(B) Property taxes paid, by persons taxable under RCW 82.04.260(((449))) (7)(b), on machinery and equipment exempt under RCW 82.08.02565 or 82.12.02565 and acquired after June 30, 2008;

(C) Property taxes paid, by persons taxable under RCW 82.04.250(3) or 82.04.290(3), on computer hardware, computer peripherals, and software exempt under RCW 82.08.975 or 82.12.975 and acquired after June 30, 2008.

(ii) For purposes of determining the amount eligible for credit under (i)(A) and (B) of this subsection (2), the amount of property taxes paid is multiplied by a fraction.

(A) The numerator of the fraction is the total taxable amount subject to the tax imposed under RCW 82.04.260(((449))) (7) (a) or (b) on the applicable business activities of manufacturing commercial airplanes, components of such airplanes, or tooling specifically designed for use in the manufacturing of commercial airplanes or components of such airplanes.
(B) The denominator of the fraction is the total taxable amount subject to the tax imposed under all manufacturing classifications in chapter 82.04 RCW.

(C) For purposes of both the numerator and denominator of the fraction, the total taxable amount refers to the total taxable amount required to be reported on the person's returns for the calendar year before the calendar year in which the credit under this section is earned. The department may provide for an alternative method for calculating the numerator in cases where the tax rate provided in RCW 82.04.260((iii)) (7) for manufacturing was not in effect during the full calendar year before the calendar year in which the credit under this section is earned.

(D) No credit is available under (b)(i)(A) or (B) of this subsection (2) if either the numerator or the denominator of the fraction is zero. If the fraction is greater than or equal to nine-tenths, then the fraction is rounded to one.

(E) As used in (b)(ii)(C) of this subsection (2), "returns" means the tax returns for which the tax imposed under this chapter is reported to the department.

(3) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise.

(a) "Aerospace product development" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 82.04.4461.

(b) "Aerospace services" has the same meaning given in RCW 82.08.975.

(c) "Commercial airplane" and "component" have the same meanings as provided in RCW 82.32.550.

(4) A credit earned during one calendar year may be carried over to be credited against taxes incurred in a subsequent calendar year, but may not be carried over a second year. No refunds may be granted for credits under this section.

(5) In addition to all other requirements under this title, a person claiming the credit under this section must file a complete annual report with the department under RCW 82.32.534.

(6) This section expires July 1, 2024.

Sec. 221. RCW 82.04.460 and 2011 c 174 s 203 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, any person earning apportionable income taxable under this chapter and also taxable in another state must, for the purpose of computing tax liability under this chapter, apportion to this state, in accordance with RCW 82.04.462, that portion of the person's apportionable income derived from business activities performed within this state.

(2) The department must by rule provide a method of apportioning the apportionable income of financial institutions, where such apportionable income is taxable under RCW 82.04.290. The rule adopted by the department must, to the extent feasible, be consistent with the multistate tax commission's recommended formula for the apportionment and allocation of net income of financial institutions as existing on June 1, 2010, or such subsequent date as may be provided by the department by rule, consistent with the purposes of this section, except that:

The return share of covered electronic products used to determine the top ten brand owners for purposes of electing the board must be determined by the department by January 1, 2007. For program years 2015 and beyond, five board positions are reserved for representatives of the top ten brand owners by market share of covered electronic products, and six board positions are reserved for representatives of other brands, including at least one board position reserved for a manufacturer who is also a retailer selling its own private label. The market share of covered electronic products used to determine the top ten brand owners for purposes of electing the board must be determined by the department by October 1, 2015.

(b) The board must have representation from both television and computer manufacturers.

(2) The board shall select from its membership the chair of the board and such other officers as it deems appropriate.

(3) A majority of the board constitutes a quorum.

(4) The directors of the department of (community, trade, and economic development) commerce and the department of ecology serve as ex officio members. The state agency directors serving in ex officio capacity may each designate an employee of their respective departments to act on their behalf in all respects with regard to any matter to come before the authority. Ex officio designations must be made in writing and communicated to the authority director.

(5) The board shall create its own bylaws in accordance with the laws of the state of Washington.

(7) The members of the board serve without compensation but are entitled to reimbursement, solely from the funds of the authority, for expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties under this chapter.

Sec. 13. RCW 70.95N.300 and 2006 c 183 s 31 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Manufacturers participating in the standard plan shall pay the authority to cover all administrative and operational costs associated with the collection, transportation, and recycling of covered electronic products within the state of Washington incurred by the standard program operated by the authority to meet the standard plan's equivalent share obligation as described in RCW 70.95N.280(5).

(2) The authority shall assess charges on each manufacturer participating in the standard plan and collect funds from each participating manufacturer for the manufacturer's portion of the costs in subsection (1) of this section. For program years 2009 through 2014, such apportionment (shall) must be based on return share, market share, any combination of return share and market share, or any other equitable method. For the 2016 program year and all subsequent program years, such apportionment must be based on market share. The authority's apportionment of costs to manufacturers participating in the standard plan may not include nor be based on electronic products imported through the state and subsequently exported outside the state. Charges assessed under this section must not be formulated in such a way as to create incentives to divert imported electronic products to ports or distribution centers in other states. The authority shall adjust the charges to manufacturers participating in the standard plan as necessary in order to ensure that all costs associated with the identified activities are covered.

(3) The authority may require financial assurances or performance bonds for manufacturers participating in the standard plan, including but not limited to new entrants and white box manufacturers, when determining equitable methods for apportioning costs to ensure that the long-term costs for collecting, transporting, and recycling of a covered electronic product are borne by the appropriate manufacturer in the event that the manufacturer ceases to participate in the program.

(4) Nothing in this section authorizes the authority to assess fees or levy taxes directly on the sale or possession of electronic products.

(5) If a manufacturer has not met its financial obligations as determined by the authority under this section, the authority shall notify the department that the manufacturer is no longer participating in the standard plan.

(6) For program years 2009 through 2015, the authority shall submit its plan for assessing charges and apportioning cost on manufacturers participating in the standard plan to the department for review and approval along with the standard plan as provided in RCW 70.95N.060.

(7)(a) Any manufacturer participating in the standard plan may appeal an assessment of charges or apportionment of costs levied by the authority under this section by written petition to the director of the department. The director of the department or the director's designee shall review all appeals within timelines established by the department and shall reverse any assessments of charges or apportionment of costs if the director finds that the authority's assessments or apportionment of costs was an arbitrary administrative decision, an abuse of administrative discretion, or is not an equitable assessment or apportionment of costs. The director shall make a fair and impartial decision based on sound data. If the director of the department reverses an assessment of charges, the authority must redetermine the assessment or apportionment of costs.

(b) Disputes regarding a final decision made by the director or director's designee may be challenged through arbitration. The director shall appoint one member to serve on the arbitration panel and the challenging party shall appoint one other. These two persons shall choose a third person to serve. MOTION

Senator Billig moved that the following striking amendment by Senator Billig be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. Asbestos is a known human carcinogen that causes painful, premature deaths due to diseases such as asbestosis, mesothelioma, lung and gastrointestinal cancers, and other diseases and cancers. Activities that can lead to the release of asbestos fibers include installation, use, maintenance, repair, removal, and disposal of asbestos-containing building materials.

Many people are unaware that asbestos-containing building materials are still imported, sold, and used in the United States. Because few regulations exist that require the disclosure of asbestos in building materials, people can unknowingly be exposed to asbestos. Asbestos is generally invisible, odorless, very durable, and highly aerodynamic. Exposure can occur well after it has been disturbed and long distances from where the asbestos release occurred.

The purpose of this chapter is to allow people to make informed decisions regarding whether or not they purchase or use building materials containing asbestos. More specifically, building materials that contain asbestos must be clearly labeled as such by manufacturers, wholesalers, and distributors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Asbestos" includes the asbestiform varieties of actinolite, amosite (cummingstonite-grunerite), tremolite, chrysotile (serpentine), crocidolite (riebeckite), anthophyllite, and any of these minerals that have been chemically treated or altered. The chemical abstracts service registry number for each is as follows: Asbestos (1332-21-4), actinolite (13768-00-8), amosite (12172-73-5), tremolite (14567-73-8), chrysotile (12001-29-5), crocidolite (12001-28-4), and anthophyllite (17068-78-9).

(2) "Asbestos-containing building material" means any building material to which asbestos is deliberately added in any concentration or that contains more than one percent asbestos by weight or area as determined using the United States environmental protection agency method for the determination of asbestos in building materials, EPA/600/R-93/116, July 1993.

(3) "Building material" includes materials designed for, or used in, construction, renovation, repair, or maintenance of institutional, commercial, public, industrial, or residential buildings and structures. The term does not include automobiles, recreational vehicles, boats, or other mobile means of transportation.

(4) "Consumer" means any person that acquires a building material for direct use or ownership, rather than for resale or use in production and manufacturing.

(5) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(6) "Person" means any individual, firm, public or private corporation, association, partnership, political subdivision, municipality, or government agency.

(7) "Retailer" means any person that sells goods or commodities directly to consumers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Effective January 1, 2014, it is unlawful to manufacture, wholesale, or distribute for sale an asbestos-containing building material that is not labeled as required by section 4 of this act or as required under federal law, 40 C.F.R. part 763, subpart I, Sec. 173.171 (1994). The labeling requirement also applies to stock-on-hand, meaning any asbestos-containing building material in their possession or control after December 31, 2013, must be labeled. Retailers that do not manufacture, wholesale, or distribute asbestos-containing building materials are exempt from this chapter.

(2)(a) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to asbestos-containing building materials that have already been installed, applied, or used by the consumer.

(b) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to asbestos-containing building materials used solely for United States military purposes.

(3) Any manufacturer, wholesaler, or distributor may submit a written request for an exemption from the labeling requirements of this chapter, and the department may grant such an exemption if it determines that the labeling requirements are technically infeasible or create an undue economic hardship. Each exemption is in effect for a period not to exceed three years from the date issued and is subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A label must be placed in a prominent location adjacent to the product name or description on the exterior of the wrapping and packaging in which the asbestos-containing building material is placed for shipment, storage, and sale.

(2) A label must also be placed on the exterior surface of the asbestos-containing building material itself unless it is sold as a liquid or paste, is sand or gravel, or an exemption is granted pursuant to section 3(3) of this act.

(3) Asbestos-containing building materials must have a legible label that clearly identifies it as containing asbestos. The department may adopt rules regarding the implementation of this chapter. At a minimum, the label must state the following:

CAUTION!

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: “Thank you Mr. President. Governor Jay Inslee signed a proclamation honoring Washington State Classified School Employees declaring March 11 through March 15 as Classified School Employee Week so, today I would like to recognize these dedicated individuals. They deserve our recognition and thanks for the work they do in our public schools. There are nearly fifty thousand classified school employees in our state and they are crucial partners with teachers, parents and administrators in supporting the learning environment for our children. They are the bus driver, first person to greet our children in the morning and to welcome them to school; they are the staff in our cafeterias, they prepare our students healthy meals with a caring smile and sometimes children end up working in the kitchens and learning how to cook; they are staff in the class rooms assisting and tutoring our students and they give care and concern to assist our special education children with their needs. They are the custodians and they keep our schools clean and orderly. I would like to share with you my son’s story. When he was in fourth grade he was struggling with school. He didn’t feel like he belonged. He wasn’t being very successful academically and a grounds keeper, a classified employee, began exchanging drawings with my son and recognized his talent as an artist and that made my son feel like somebody cared about him at school. RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling on the Point of Order raised by Senator Darnelle as to whether SB 5396 amends Initiative 1183 so as to require a 2/3 vote on final passage, the President finds and rules as follows:

Substitute Senate Bill No. 5396 allows certain vendors of alcoholic spirits to provide limited sampling of those spirits. The vendors affected are those participating in the “responsible vendors program.” The responsible vendor program participants must provide ongoing training to employees, accept only certain forms of identification for alcohol sales, adopt policies on alcohol sales and checking identification, post specific signs in the business, and keep records verifying compliance with the program’s requirements. Two additional factors are most significant: the program itself was created in Initiative 1183, and participants in the program do not have the legal authority to provide spirits sampling without this bill.

Substitute Senate Bill No. 5396 does not directly alter any of the language found in I-1183, and only refers to the initiative’s provisions by reference. However, the President has previously acknowledged that a 2/3 vote may be required even without a direct change to an initiative, and that he will look to the substance of the bill, rather than its form, in determining whether a bill amends an initiative. (SSB 5929, 1999.)

In this instance, although in its form the bill does not directly amend the words found in the initiative, the bill has only one effect: it grants sampling authority to participants in the responsible vendor program, a program that exists only because of the initiative. The inescapable conclusion is that a program established by initiative less than two years ago would be altered by this bill. Had a limited spirits sampling program been established independent of the responsible vendor program, the initiative would not be impacted.

For these reasons, the President finds that SB 5396 would amend Initiative 1183, and will require a two-thirds constitutional supermajority for final passage as required by Article II, Section 1 of the Washington state constitution. Senator Darnelle’s point is well-taken.”

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 5396 which had been deferred the previous day.

"Sec. 1. RCW 41.80.020 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 50 s 939 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 43 s 445 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the matters subject to bargaining include wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment, and the negotiation of any question arising under a collective bargaining agreement.

(2) The employer is not required to bargain over matters pertaining to:

(a) Health care benefits or other employee insurance benefits, except as required in subsection (3) of this section;

(b) Any retirement system or retirement benefit; or

(c) Rules of the human resources director, the director of enterprise services, or the Washington personnel resources board adopted under RCW 41.06.157.

(3) Matters subject to bargaining include the number of names to be certified for vacancies, promotional preferences, and the employer's percentage contribution of the total weighted average of the projected health care premium for each employee eligible for insurance. The projected health care premium is the weighted average across all health care benefit plans and tiers. However, except as provided otherwise in this subsection for institutions of higher education, negotiations regarding the number of names to be certified for vacancies, promotional preferences, and the employer's percentage contribution of the total weighted average of the projected health care premium for each employee eligible for insurance shall be conducted between the employer and one coalition of all the exclusive bargaining representatives subject to this chapter. The exclusive bargaining representatives for employees that are subject to chapter 47.64 RCW shall bargain the employer's percentage contribution of the total weighted average of the projected health care premium for each employee eligible for insurance with the employer as part of the coalition under this subsection. Any such provision agreed to by the employer and the coalition shall be included in all master collective bargaining agreements negotiated by the parties. For institutions of higher education, promotional preferences and the number of names to be certified for vacancies shall be bargained under the provisions of RCW 41.80.010(4). For agreements covering the 2011-2013 fiscal biennium, any agreement between the employer and the coalition regarding the health care benefits is a separate agreement and shall not be included in the master collective bargaining agreements negotiated by the parties.

(4) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall not agree to any proposal that would prevent the implementation of approved affirmative action plans or that would be inconsistent with the comparable worth agreement that provided the basis for the salary changes implemented beginning with the 1983-1985 biennium to achieve comparable worth.

(5) The employer and the exclusive bargaining representative shall not bargain over matters pertaining to management rights established in RCW 41.80.040.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, if a conflict exists between an executive order, administrative rule, or agency policy relating to wages, hours, and terms and conditions of employment and a collective bargaining agreement negotiated under this chapter, the collective bargaining agreement shall prevail. A provision of a collective bargaining agreement that conflicts with the terms of a statute is invalid and unenforceable.

(7) This section does not prohibit bargaining that affects contracts authorized by RCW 41.06.142.

Sec. 2. RCW 47.64.270 and 2011 c 367 s 713 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The employer and one coalition of all the exclusive bargaining representatives subject to this chapter and chapter 41.80 RCW shall conduct negotiations regarding the employer's percentage contribution of the total weighted average of the projected health care premium for each employee eligible for insurance.

(2) Absent a collective bargaining agreement to the contrary, the department of transportation shall provide contributions to insurance and health care plans for ferry system employees and dependents, as determined by the state health care authority, under chapter 41.05 RCW.

(3) The employer and employee organizations may collectively bargain for insurance plans other than health care benefits, and employer contributions may exceed that of other state agencies as provided in RCW 41.05.050.

(4) For the 2011-2013 fiscal biennium, a collective bargaining agreement related to employee health care benefits negotiated between the employer and coalition pursuant to RCW 41.80.020(3) regarding the dollar amount expended on behalf of each employee for health care benefits must be a separate agreement for which the governor may request funds necessary to implement the agreement. (If such an agreement is negotiated and funded by the legislature, this agreement will supersede any terms and conditions of an expired 2009-2011 biennial collective bargaining agreement under this chapter regarding health care benefits.)

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 41.05 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Beginning no later than January 1, 2014, all state employee health care benefit plans under this chapter must be offered in conjunction with an employee wellness program developed pursuant to RCW 41.05.540. The program must include premium reductions, premium increases, or other financial incentives to promote employee achievement of identified wellness targets or goals.

(2) The governor shall appoint an eight member health and wellness advisory committee to consult with and advise the director regarding the employee wellness program. Three members must be representatives of state employee labor organizations, one member must be a nonrepresented state employee, and four members must be representatives of state agencies or higher education institutions. The members shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The director shall convene the advisory committee not less than four times a year to discuss the employee wellness.
program design and experience, and to solicit recommendations from the committee.

(3) For employees covered by collective bargaining agreements for the period of July 1, 2011, through June 30, 2013, the employee wellness program must be offered at the end of the time period established in RCW 41.80.010(7).

Sec. 4. RCW 41.05.540 and 2007 c 259 s 40 are each amended to read as follows:

(d) Develop and refine common core data elements for health plans and agency worksites to assist with comparable measurement and assessment of outcomes;

(e) Gather and monitor data from agencies on the worksite wellness activities and outcomes including impacts on productivity and employee wellness, and complete an analysis and summary of the outcomes annually;

(f) Coordinate with the public employees benefits board to design a benefit package that more strongly encourages the use of high-value services and member engagement in health assessment and wellness programs. A benefit design must incorporate a financial incentive for completing a health assessment and participating in health activities as an integral structural component in the benefit design rather than as a freestanding assessment tool;

(g) Ensure the design of the health and wellness program and benefit structure complement the development of chronic care management and medical home models consistent with the requirements of RCW 41.05.023 and 41.05.670.

(2) The legislature also finds that children and adolescents who are legal dependents of Washington state have experienced significant trauma and loss, putting them at increased risk for poor life outcomes. Longitudinal research on the adult functioning of former foster youth indicates a disproportionate likelihood that youth aging out of foster care and those who spent several years in care will experience poor outcomes in a variety of areas, including limited human capital upon which to build economic security and inability to fully take advantage of secondary and postsecondary educational opportunities, untreated mental or behavioral health problems, involvement in the criminal justice and corrections systems, and early parenthood combined with second-generation child welfare involvement.

(3) The legislature further finds that research also demonstrates that access to adequate and appropriate supports during the period of transition from foster care to independence can have significant positive impacts on adult functioning and can improve outcomes relating to educational attainment and postsecondary enrollment, employment and earnings, and reduced rates of teen pregnancies.

Sec. 2. RCW 13.34.030 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 36 s 13 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(2) "Child," "juvenile," and "youth" means:

(1) The purpose of a permanency planning hearing is to review the permanency plan for the child, inquire into the welfare of the child and progress of the case, and reach decisions regarding the permanent placement of the child.

(a) A permanency planning hearing shall be held in all cases where the child has remained in out-of-home care for at least nine months and an adoption decree, guardianship order, or permanent custody order has not previously been entered. The hearing shall take place no later than twelve months following commencement of the current placement episode.

(b) Whenever a child is removed from the home of a dependency guardian or long-term relative or foster care provider, and the child is not returned to the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian but is placed in out-of-home care, a permanency planning hearing shall take place no later than twelve months, as provided in this section, following the date of removal unless, prior to the hearing, the child returns to the home of the dependency guardian or long-term care provider, the child is placed in the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian, an adoption decree, guardianship order, or a permanent custody order is entered, or the dependency is dismissed. Every effort shall be made to provide stability in long-term placement, and to avoid disruption of placement, unless the child is being returned home or it is in the best interest of the child.

(c) Permanency planning goals should be achieved at the earliest possible date, preferably before the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen months. In cases where parental rights have been terminated, the child is legally free for adoption, and adoption has been identified as the primary permanency planning goal, it shall be a goal to complete the adoption within six months following entry of the termination order.

Sec. 4. (1) A permanency planning hearing shall be held in all cases where the child has remained in out-of-home care for at least nine months and an adoption decree, guardianship order, or permanent custody order is entered, or the child is not returned to the home of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian but is placed in out-of-home care, a permanency planning to meet the special needs of the child and the child's providers in addition to department or supervising agency staff in reviewing the child's status to determine whether the placement and the primary goal has not been achieved and determine what needs to be done to make it possible to achieve the primary goal. The court shall review the permanency plan prepared by the agency and make explicit findings regarding each of the following:

(i) The continuing necessity for, and the safety and appropriateness of, the placement;
(ii) The extent of compliance with the permanency plan by the department or supervising agency and any other service providers, the child's parents, the child, and the child's guardian, if any;
(iii) The extent of any efforts to involve appropriate service providers in addition to department or supervising agency staff in planning to meet the special needs of the child and the child's parents;
(iv) The progress toward eliminating the causes for the child's placement outside of his or her home and toward returning the child safely to his or her home or obtaining a permanent placement for the child;
(v) The date by which it is likely that the child will be returned to his or her home or placed for adoption, with a guardian or in some other alternative permanent placement; and
(vi) If the child has been placed outside of his or her home for fifteen of the most recent twenty-two months, not including any period during which the child was a runaway from the out-of-home placement or the first six months of any period during which the child was returned to his or her home for a trial home visit, the appropriateness of the permanency plan, whether reasonable efforts were made by the department or supervising agency to achieve the goal of the permanency plan, and the circumstances which prevent the child from any of the following:

(A) Being returned safely to his or her home;
(B) Having a petition for the involuntary termination of parental rights filed on behalf of the child;
(C) Being placed for adoption;
(D) Being placed with a guardian;
(E) Being placed in the home of a fit and willing relative of the child; or
(F) Being placed in some other alternative permanent placement, including independent living or long-term foster care.

At this hearing, the court shall order the department or supervising agency to file a petition seeking termination of parental rights if the child has been in out-of-home care for fifteen of the last twenty-two months since the date the dependency petition was filed unless the court makes a good cause exception as to why the filing of a termination of parental rights petition is not appropriate. Any good cause finding shall be reviewed at all subsequent hearings pertaining to the child. For purposes of this section, "good cause reasons for the recommendation for a change in placement.

(c) If the permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial, personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs prior to approving independent living as a permanency plan of care. The court will inquire whether the child has been provided information about extended foster care services.

(ii) The permanency plan shall also specifically identify the services, including extended foster care services, where appropriate, that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living.

(iii) The department or supervising agency shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.

(d) If the child has resided in the home of a foster parent or relative for more than six months prior to the permanency planning hearing, the court shall:

(i) Enter a finding regarding whether the foster parent or relative was informed of the hearing as required in RCW 74.13.280, 13.34.215(6), and 13.34.096; and

(ii) If the department or supervising agency is recommending a placement other than the child's current placement with a foster parent, relative, or other suitable person, enter a finding as to the reasons for the recommendation for a change in placement.

((44)) (5) In all cases, at the permanency planning hearing, the court shall:

(a)(i) Order the permanency plan prepared by the supervising agency to be implemented; or

(ii) Modify the permanency plan, and order implementation of the modified plan; and

(b)(i) Order the child returned home only if the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in RCW 13.34.130 no longer exists; or

(ii) Order the child to remain in out-of-home care for a limited specified time period while efforts are made to implement the permanency plan.

((44)) (6) Following the first permanency planning hearing, the court shall hold a further permanency planning hearing in accordance with this section at least once every twelve months until a permanency planning goal is achieved or the dependency is dismissed, whichever occurs first.

((44)) (7) Prior to the second permanency planning hearing, the agency that has custody of the child shall consider whether to file a petition for termination of parental rights.

((44)) (8) If the court orders the child returned home, casework supervision by the department or supervising agency shall continue for at least six months, at which time a review hearing shall be held pursuant to RCW 13.34.138, and the court shall determine the need for continued intervention.

((44)) (9) The juvenile court may hear a petition for permanent legal custody when: (a) The court has ordered implementation of a permanency plan that includes permanent legal custody; and (b) the party pursuing the permanent legal custody is the party identified in the permanency plan as the prospective legal custodian. During the pendency of such proceeding, the court shall conduct review hearings and further permanency planning hearings as provided in this chapter. At the conclusion of the legal guardianship or permanent legal custody proceeding, a juvenile court hearing shall be held for the purpose of determining whether dependency should be dismissed. If a guardianship or permanent custody order has been entered, the dependency shall be dismissed.

((44)) (10) Continued juvenile court jurisdiction under this chapter shall not be a barrier to the entry of an order establishing a legal guardianship or permanent legal custody when the requirements of subsection ((44)) (9) of this section are met.

((44)) (11) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit the ability of the agency that has custody of the child to file a petition for termination of parental rights or a guardianship petition at any time following the establishment of dependency. Upon the filing of such a petition, a fact-finding hearing shall be scheduled and held in accordance with this chapter unless the department or supervising agency requests dismissal of the petition prior to the hearing or unless the parties enter an agreed order terminating parental rights, establishing guardianship, or otherwise resolving the matter.

((44)) (12) The approval of a permanency plan that does not contemplate return of the child to the parent does not relieve the supervising agency of its obligation to provide reasonable services, under this chapter, intended to effectuate the return of the child to the parent, including but not limited to, visitation rights. The court shall consider the child's relationships with siblings in accordance with RCW 13.34.130.

((44)) (13) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to limit the procedural due process rights of any party in a termination or guardianship proceeding filed under this chapter.

(b) The court shall also dismiss the dependency proceeding for any child who is a dependent child in foster care and who, at the age of eighteen years and six months, does not meet any of the criteria described in subsection (1)(c) through (e) of this section, does not agree to participate in the program, or if services are not available due to funding not being appropriated specifically for this purpose.

(5) The court shall order a youth participating in extended foster care services to be under the placement and care authority of the department, subject to the youth's continuing agreement to participate in extended foster care services. The department may establish foster care rates appropriate to the needs of the youth participating in extended foster care services.

(6) The court shall appoint counsel to represent a youth, as defined in RCW 13.34.030(2)(b), in dependency proceedings under this section.

The department and supervising agencies are encouraged to group monthly visits to caregivers by geographic area so that in the event an unannounced visit cannot be completed, the caseworker may complete other required monthly visits. The department shall use a method of random selection that does not cause a fiscal impact to the department.

The department or supervising agencies shall conduct the monthly visits with children and caregivers to whom it is providing child welfare services.

and maintenance of a child, including a child with a developmental disability who is placed as a result of an action under chapter 13.34 RCW, unless the department finds that there is good cause not to pursue collection of child support against the parent or parents of the child. Cases involving individuals age eighteen through twenty shall not be referred to the division of child support unless required by federal law.

Notwithstanding any other provision of RCW 13.32A.170 through 13.32A.200 and 74.13.032 through 74.13.036, or of this section all services to be provided by the department under subsections (4), (6), and (7) of this section, subject to the limitations of these subsections, may be provided by any program offering such services funded pursuant to Titles II and III of the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974.

(b) The document must be prepared in conjunction with a community-based organization and must be updated as needed.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

The hour fixed for the consideration of the special order of business having arrived, the President called the Senate to order. The Senate immediately considered Substitute Senate Bill No. 5195.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling on the Point of Order raised by Senator Bailey as to whether Amendment 189 fits within the scope and object of Substitute Senate Bill 5195, the President finds and rules as follows.

In general, a bill with a single subject can be challenging to amend without raising issues of scope and object, particularly when the amendment raises issues of controversy. The underlying bill expands the use of the state needs grant by allowing students who are currently eligible for the grant to use it if enrolled at Western Governors University – Washington. Currently, those students may be eligible for the state need grant, but may not use it at their institution, because the institution does not meet the statutory criteria. The underlying bill does not alter the eligibility standards of students.

Simply put, the bill determines the institutions at which eligible students may use the grant; the amendment changes the eligibility standards for all students regardless of the institution they attend.

For these reasons, the President finds that Amendment 189 is beyond the scope and object of the underlying bill, and Senator Bailey’s point is well-taken.”

The business of the Senate was suspended to allow for remarks by Rear Admiral Keith Taylor, commander, District 13, U.S. Coast Guard.

REMARKS BY REAR ADMIRAL KEITH TAYLOR

Rear Admiral Keith Taylor: “Thank you Mr. President, members of the Senate. Thank you so much for having us here today. It’s great to see so many people that we work so closely with and that support our men and women so well. On behalf of the men and women of the United States Navy, the United States Marine Corps, the United States Merchant Marine and the United States Coast Guard, we collectively thank you for what you’re doing in this state. The resolution you just passed is very meaningful to us. ‘Whereas, Washington State has both a strong maritime heritage and a contemporary reliance on the sea.’ That is a very important set of thoughts. We are a maritime nation. Our safety comes from the sea and by the sea. We need to make sure that our economic vitality is strong and the sea plays an important part in that. We need to do everything we can to protect the sea because it is fragile and we must make sure that our children and their children have the opportunity to enjoy it. All of us in the sea services whether it’s the big Navy across the globe making sure that America’s interest are upheld; your United States Coast Guard here locally making sure that take care of all the maritime traffic. We take care of mariners who are in distress. We make sure that water is available for everyone to enjoy. We all thank you for what you’re doing to help us to our job. And as many of you spoke, it’s all about our youngest men and women. They give so much and we need, to everyday, thank them for their service. Thank you very much.”

REMARKS BY ADMIRAL MARK RICH

Admiral Mark Rich: “Thank you Mr. President and thank you Senators for allowing me this opportunity and honor to speak to you today. I’ll just say on behalf of more than forty thousand active duty reserve service members and government civilians in the state of Washington as well as their eighty thousand plus retirees and family members, I want to thank you for the honor of being here today and for the resolution you just passed. Just before they deployed last summer then Secretary of State, Secretary of Defense Leon Panetta told the crew of the USS John Stennis that when the world calls we have to respond and you’re the best that I have. I can tell you that the Sea Services have been here in the Northwest ready to respond for more than one hundred sixty years now and we’re proud to make our home ports in what we call the ‘Better Washington’. Now we have ensured peace through deterrence, forward presence and engagement and when deterrence’s fail, we responded to those crisis and we fought the nations wars. Here in the Puget Sound we built and repair the country’s fleet. That fleet has maintained the sea lines of communication that today have made this region into a global hub of commerce and innovation. So, I don’t want to talk a whole lot about the budget crisis, because that is a big issue for us, but I will tell that locally here in the state of Washington out of 5.3 billion dollar annual economic impact some of the austerity measures that the Navy is implementing to deal with the three fold crisis that we’re facing right now, they’re going to total up to about two hundred eighty million dollars. I don’t want to short shift that because the biggest impact of all I think is the fact that we have sixteen thousand civilians, navy civilian’s almost all whom will be furloughed. And that is taking a twenty percent pay cut every week for the next twenty two weeks beginning in late April in all likelihood as things stand right now with the budget. So, that’s obviously a big deal and a big concern to us. Additionally we’re looking at budget cuts on the order of one hundred fifty eight million dollars to our facilities, sustainment and restoration and modernization program that we use to maintain our buildings, utilities systems and major infrastructure. We’ve cancelled eighty three million dollars’ worth of depot level air craft maintenance at Whidbey Island and another thirty million dollars from our base operating support accounts that does things like funds the cleanliness and upkeep of our roads, grounds and buildings as well as operate our ports, air fields and provides security, fire and emergency services. Under these conditions I think we need to think about having a national discussion about U. S. strategy and what the, what role we want our military to play in the security of our nation. As for me Navy Region Northwest provides shore installations support to our operational tenants so that they’re trained, ready and able to respond when called. To accomplish that mission we have long collaborated with Washington’s transportation system, private businesses, NGO’s, schools, political leadership and Native American tribes and we’re proud to do so. We literally couldn’t do our job without you. So, I want to thank you for your support. Some of that support is in the form of legislation. Legislation such as what provides quicker state residency tuition requirements for new veterans, keeps activated reservists from losing college credit and that helps the children of deployed service members. Time precludes me from naming them all but I just want to say thank you for that. So as I said earlier there’s been a long standing symbiotic relationship between America’s Sea Services and Washington State. And I can think of no better testament than something that I experienced just yesterday that you referred to Senator. I went to the memorial service for Lt. Commander Patterson and Lt. J. G. s Delaney and Will McIlvaine and to see the community out pouring and the support of that event. Those young aviators were known personally to very, very few people in that community but they turned out remarkably strong and it made me proud to be here in Washington. So, thank you.”

REMARKS BY REAR ADMIRAL KUHLMANN

Admiral Kuhlmann: “Thank you again for recognizing the great service of the Sea Services here and for especially for those young men and women who serve every day. It is my distinct pleasure to be back here in Washington again. This is my fourth tour here. I’ve also done multiple tours in DC and I can confirm this is ’the better Washington.’ So, it is truly a pleasure to be back here in charge of the submarines in the largest submarine base in the United States and the only submarine base that has all three types of submarines. No other base in the country has our ballistic missile, guided missile, and fast attack submarines that you folks support and I appreciate the support represented by this resolution today and we will get that word out to the troops, the strong support this state has, they do feel privileged to serve you. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President would like to recognize, we didn’t get a chance to say thank you to the incredible vocalist that sang the National Anthem from the Navy, Musician Second Class Stephanie Brainard. Now, I don’t see her here but she was here. Not in the wings? Well, please make sure that you express to her our appreciation and thanks to her for it.”

Wilcox, House Republican Floor Leader, to seats at the rostrum. The members of the House of Representatives were invited to seats within the Chamber.

JOINT SESSION

Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8403, the President called the Joint Session to order. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the Senate. The Secretary called the roll of the members of the House of Representatives. The President declared that a quorum of the Legislature was present.

The President welcomed and introduced the statewide elected officials: The Honorable Jay Inslee, Governor; The Honorable Kim Wyman, Secretary of State; The Honorable Jim McIntire, State Treasurer; The Honorable Troy Kelley, State Auditor; The Honorable Randy Dorn, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; and Justice Sheryl Gordon McCloud of the Washington State Supreme Court, who were present and seated at the rostrum.

The Washington Youth Academy Honor Guard consisting of Cadet Jacob Hamilton; Cadet Jeremiah Mealeenga; Cadet Nash Muraya; Cadet Keenan Doane and Cadet Cody Dagget presented the Colors. Cadet Jaenora Olive of the Washington Youth Academy performed the National Anthem.

The prayer was offered by Senator Bruce Dammeier.

Senator Dammeier: “So, as we come together today we’re honoring a tremendous servant leader from community. He started in these chambers, went on to serve as the leader of my home county and ultimately came back here as our state’s leader. As I reflected upon Booth Gardner’s life there’s some key biblical principles of servant leadership that were very apparent to me. The first is, everybody’s familiar I think with Mathew 25 which talks about the parable of the talent. The key element of that is: ‘To whom much is given, much is expected.’ Booth Gardner lived that. Additionally, in the book of Philippians it talks a lot about putting other interests first, ahead of your own. He was known as kind of an anti-politician and he, you know, shunned the limelight and was always looking out for others certainly before himself. Lastly, in the book of James it talks about the role that trials play in our lives and how they can be used to perfect our character. Booth Gardner had more than his share of trials and he came through it with very, very strong character. If you would bow your head.

‘Dear Heavenly Father, we come before You today honoring Booth Gardner. Lord, he was a tremendous example to us all. May all the elected officials in this room be challenged by that example and live to emulate those standards. Lord, I hope You welcomed him with: ‘Well done my good and faithful servant. Enter in to the joy of Your Master’ because he labored hard on this earth, Lord, and did good work. Lastly, Lord, I lift up his family. I pray that You continue to comfort them, that You would bless them, that they would remember all the wonderful things that Booth did through his life and the wonderful memories, the father, the son, the grandfather that he was, the brother, that those would be first and foremost in their minds as they go through this grieving process. Thank You Lord for this time. May You use this to Your glory. Amen.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “This Joint Session has been convened for the purpose of remembering and honoring the life and service of former Governor Booth Gardner. The President believes it was totally appropriate that we had all of this beginning of the ceremony with young people. If you knew Booth as he lived, he was a coach of girls’ soccer, he was very strong advocate for young people. And I think we should recognize these young people for the great job that they did. It is a great honor for the President to be able to preside over this important and very serious memorial for Booth Gardner having had the opportunity to serve with him and considering him a friend.”

The President introduced Ms. Erica Peterson of Saint Michael Parish, Olympia, who performed “On Eagles’ Wings.”

The President called upon the Secretary to read House Concurrent Resolution No. 4404, celebrating the life and legacy of William Booth Gardner, which had been adopted by the Senate earlier in the day and the House of Representatives previously and the resolution was again read, in full.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “The President will recognize members of the Senate and House of Representatives to make Points of Personal Privilege. It is not necessary to request the Point of Personal Privilege.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR TOM

Senator Tom: “Thank you Mr. President. You know there are a lot of different words to describe Governor Booth Gardner. You could say ‘compassionate.’ You could say ‘warm.’ His home town paper called him ‘cuddly,’ – not too many people here get that reference – ‘humble,’ ‘frugal,’ ‘funky,’ and he always offered ‘hope.’ But I think the one thing that really stands out with Governor Gardner was ‘leadership.’ And it wasn’t the kind of leadership where you went and you took a public poll. It was the kind of leadership where you did what you did because it was the right thing to do. If you look at where he did and some of his initiatives he really was a front runner and way ahead of his times in a lot of cases. He banned smoking in state work places; if you look at the Growth Management Act; if you look at banning discrimination based upon sexual orientation; Running Start, which is a phenomenal program we have today; and then his signature initiative, the ‘Death with Dignity.’ In talking with members who worked with Booth, it’s always interesting how much they adored him. How much they respected him and what he really brought to them in making them better individuals. Jim Kneeland, his press secretary, said that Booth created an atmosphere where people could grow, where people could thrive, where people could succeed, where they could experiment with new ideas and new thoughts. And I think that’s why he was such a leader. You know Booth was, his life was not without challenges or what he calls curve balls. His mom and sister died when he was fourteen. You know, he lived the end of his life with Parkinson’s. I did not have the privilege of working with him but I still remember once when him and I sat down over in the Pritchard Building and had lunch and the thing that I remember so much about him was he was like the funniest guy I ever met. I mean it was like a Johnny Carson-type humor. He was an incredible funny man but I think what stands out, although he was funny, he was serious in his approach. He was serious in his intent but he was always soft in his approach. I think he gives us a great lesson and those lessons are hope, humility, and graciousness. You know he’s really left us a great legacy. He’s left us a great example. He’s left us a great pathway for all of us who are in this state to make sure that we continue that legacy of greatness of sharing, of caring and do it a humble manner. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE HUNT
Representative Hunt: “Thank you Mr. President. Well, it is indeed an honor to be able to help memorialize one of our outstanding governors, Booth Gardner. I had the privilege of working with for a couple of years as his education person when we were working on education issues and trying reform, as we always have, that seems it is education. If I could Mr. President, I’d like to start with a couple of quotes my colleague of my fellow people who worked with the Governor? Thank you Mr. President. Denny Heck, who was Chief of Staff and is now a Congressman representing the Tenth District. I took this off Facebook, just so you know. How times change. ‘My heart is at half-mast. Booth Gardner will be remembered for many things. He will be remembered for his impish sense of humor and never failing common touch. He will be remembered as the original turnaround expert for a then troubled Pierce County Government. He will be remembered as a Governor who guided an historic amount of progress while never tooting his own horn. Mostly though, he will be remembered as a leader whose natural style of civility, respectfulness and collaboration served our state very well. We could certainly use more Booth Gardner today.’ And from Ann Ryherd, Ann Daley in those days, ‘He was so wonderful with children. In fact there were times staff couldn’t get him back on schedule because he was taking his time with whatever group of school children stopped by his office. All these years later the schedule seems incredibly unimportant but the way Booth touched all those young lives hopefully lives on.’ The Olympian headline this morning called Booth a beloved Governor with a lasting legacy. He governed during a time of relative prosperity in our state which helped but he tackled many policy issues with courage and vision: education reform; health care; and good management throughout state government. We know that he was a state senator. He was an education Governor. He even tackled the difficult subject of tax reform. I know I got sent once on a cold winter day on a plane to Eastern Washington in a snow storm to advocate for Governor Gardner’s tax reform. The weather and reception was probably equally as chilling. We heard Frisco Freeze but he was also known as a manager by walking around, that’s what he called it management by walking around and he had town halls throughout the state. We were in Wenatchee one day and there were several vans of us after town hall and he said, ‘I need to go to a state office.’ So we went to this state office in Wenatchee. It was really neat because the road was up on a hill and the office was just down below the grade so we all stayed in the cars looking out the windows as the Governor walked in. There was nobody at the front desk. He stood there. He looked around. And, like many state offices, there were cubicles everywhere. And finally a head shot up, looked around went back down. And then three or four more heads shot up and somebody came running out to the side. And we never know what was said but he got to meet a bunch of the state employees there and make his little tour of the office. After that we went to lunch. Where? At a hamburger place of course. And his impish style, which Denny Heck referred to, Congressman Heck, there were a group of young people behind the counter and he walks up. He’s looking at the menu and he said to the kids; ‘Do you know who I am?’ And they looked at him and they actually formed a huddle behind the counter and they kept looking at him and finally one of the kids turns around and looks at him and says, ‘Yes, we know. You’re Brock Adams.’ He corrected himself and we had a good meal and everything. I thought that was a great experience. And being an avid Cougar and he was just about as avid as Husky and now we know why Harvard won last night. He was up there coaching I think. But he had a great tie. One side was purple and gold, the other side was crimson and gray. So, whenever he went to the Apple Cup, he could say he always, after the game, had the tie of the winning team. I watched some excerpts last night of the movie, ‘The Last Campaign of Booth Gardner.’ If I could close with a couple of quotes from Governor Gardner? Thank you Mr. President. And something that we all think of, he says, ‘I automatically thought I had control over the rest of my life.’ Goes on to say, ‘I won’t kid you, not a day goes by that I don’t think about death. I kid myself, is this the day? Is this the day when I’m going to be found dead in the bathroom? So I take shorter showers. I just get in and get out.’ And finally, he says, in talking about the Death with Dignity Initiative, ‘I think I ought to have to make, to have the right to make the last decision. I should decide when it’s time for me to go and how to go.’ Certainly Booth Gardner went with quality and with leadership and with love for us all and from us to him. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR MURRAY
Senator Murray: “Thank you Mr. President, Governor, members of the Gardner family, On behalf of the Senate Democratic Caucus where Governor Gardner served it’s an honor to speak. Let me thank my colleagues in the House for coming to this chamber today, a chamber that meant so much to Governor Gardner. You know Senator Dammeier caught I think in the scripture quotes much of the Booth Gardner we knew. I want to say something about him along those lines as a person and as a public servant. First, on a very personal note, I got to know Governor Gardner, the first time I met him, I was campaign manager for a newly appointed legislator from my district, Cal Anderson and I met Booth and I was just stunned at this casual guy would talk to this sort of kid, kind of nobody but I was more surprised in the 90s when we were working on transportation that he remembered who I was, remembered where he met me and he remembered what I’d been doing in the years between and I think that’s an experience people had again and again about Booth Gardner. You know Booth as a person the stories I have heard as well, as the person I got to know over the years, the person who would call me on Christmas Eve and wish me Merry Christmas is also the person Wayne Ehlers, former Speaker of the House, talked about whom his last year in office they were at a restaurant in Chelan County and Booth spent his time, instead of actually eating dinner, going around and talking to everybody else in the restaurant, going back into the kitchen and meeting all the staff. Coming out, the former Speaker asked him ‘So do you actually know those people back in the kitchen?’ and Booth Gardner replied, ‘Yes, those are my friends.’ Back when he was at the University of Washington he was coaching a, I think it was a baseball team. Yes, it was a baseball team in the international district. They didn’t have any uniforms. They didn’t have any equipment. One day the equipment showed up, the uniforms showed up. They didn’t know it but it was Governor Gardner who paid for them or, you know, a student named Booth Gardner who paid for it. So, that’s the person that Booth Gardner was. The statesman that Booth Gardner was you’ve already heard a little bit about but I think it’s worth mentioning. The State Senator, a County Executive, a Governor of the State and what an incredible legacy he left behind — Running Start; the Basic Health Plan; the Growth Management Act; First Steps; and, yes, beginning the process of education reforms by instituting standards — an incredible achievement on the part of Booth Gardner as Governor of this state. Finally, we’ve heard about his final struggle. I had an opportunity to spend some time with him during those last years and he was in pain but, once again, the person that Senator Dammeyer mentioned showed those same qualities, those same scripture qualities. He took that pain and he thought about how he could help other people. How he could make death, the process of dying, be a process of dignity. He really, not just as Governor, but, again, as a person. The person who handed out uniforms, the person who helped people find dignity as they die. That was the same person. In closing, when I think of him I think of a quote of Robert Kennedy that Robert Kennedy often said, and somebody that Governor Gardner admired, Robert Kennedy said, ‘Some people see things and say, Why? I dream things that never were and say, Why not?’ Certainly whether it was a team that needed equipment, the Basic Health Plan or people who needed the ability to die with dignity. Booth Gardner represented those words. He saw things that never were and said, ‘Why not.’”

REMARKS BY REPRESENTATIVE ANGEL

Representative Angel: ‘Thank you Mr. President, Governor Inslee, distinguished guest, ladies and gentleman of the House and the Senate and family. It is my honor today to stand here to celebrate and honor and give thanks to a very influential gentleman and yet very humble, that was a citizen that became a part of the history of our wonderful state, serving as the nineteenth Governor of the State of Washington, Booth Gardner. It is among the greatest honors that I have had and to come here today and to pay tribute to him for the difference he made in our state in the lives of our people. From his advocacy for better public education including early learning, from his love for the environment and our beautiful Puget Sound and to the snowcapped Cascades and his work to protect the waters from the pollution. From the leadership and making sure that Washington citizens had access to affordable health care and from his dedication to civil rights and his belief that at the end of our life, people could ensure that their life could end with dignity. Booth Gardner was a distinguished leader and he was full of compassion, as you’ve already heard today. The most challenging part for me was in determining what part of Booth’s life did we talk about today? You’ve heard about him being a public servant and in talking and going through his biography that you heard entitled ‘Booth who?’ after his 1983 campaign slogan that was written by John Hughes – that’s over two hundred twenty pages long in itself, and then the movie that Representative Hunt referred to on HBO that was titled ‘The Last Campaign of Governor Booth Gardner’ which was about his efforts to pass the Death with Dignity law here in our state. Everyone that met him, that came in contact with this Governor probably had their own fond memories and stories about him but today I want to talk about the man who was the Senator of the Twenty Sixth District the district which I am proud to represent as well and I want to share a story with you about a helicopter. Yes, a helicopter. Booth’s father sent him on an errand to go to the grocery store. They had a vacation home on Vashon Island, which is just across the water from where I live, and he was coming home when a helicopter buzzed right over his head and he ran to follow it. The tide was out, the helicopter lands on the beach, out of it gets Al Rossellini and Al walks into his home. So Booth goes up to his dad and he said ‘Who is John’s dad?’ He said, ‘Well, John’s dad is the Governor.’ Well, Booth thought that this was pretty cool because this helicopter lands and the Governor gets to get out of it and Booth said to his father, ‘I’m going to ride in that helicopter one day.’ Well, little did we know that helicopter story gave inspiration to a young fifteen year old that ended up doing just that and becoming our Governor. You know he ran for the Senate, as you know in the Twenty Sixth District, and it was a very hard fought campaign. It was back in 1970 and he ran against an incumbent Republican about the same age as Booth. They were both in their thirties but Booth was elected to the Twenty Sixth District by a fifty six percent vote. When he arrived here in the Olympia in January of 1971, a reporter wrote this about him and Mr. President, may I quote that? Thank you. And I quote: ‘Conversing with this thirty-four year old freshman, Tacoma Democrat is akin to filling your lungs with fresh air after spending a day in the smoggiest section of an urban area.’ End of quote. During the time that he served as our Twenty Sixth District Senator, he became Chairman of the Manufacturing and Development Committee. He co-sponsored legislation to diversify the state’s industrial base and to create more jobs in the rural area – a man after my own heart. He signed onto a bill in the legislature that brought the legislature under the Open Public Meetings Act and he became Chairman of the Senate Education Committee. In the summer of 1971, Senator Gardner was offered a job that he just couldn’t turn down and that was President of the Laird Norton Company which owns a network of enterprises of lumber yards to shopping centers. In 1973, he resigned from the Twenty-Sixth District Senator position because he felt pressured with meeting the business and the family responsibilities that he had at that time and he felt that those responsibilities were too great for him to do the justice that he needed to the Senate seat. Back in 1981 he’s back to do more public service and, as you heard, serving as our Pierce County Executive and then, of course, he served us as Governor from 1985 to 1993. I want to talk about the man that people really loved. You know I moved to the state just shortly after, just shortly before actually, he became Governor and he was the very first Governor of the State of Washington that I had the opportunity to meet and when I met him, of course, I’m very intimidated but he made me feel comfortable. He was so easy to be around. And boy he had a great smile. I remember that, and he had a humble nature. He loved to connect with ordinary people. And as you heard he loved children and often when children were visiting in his office, yes, he was delayed because he would be telling stories and he would ruffle up their hair and they too enjoyed him. He loved to laugh. He loved people and, as you heard, his home town paper described him as ‘cuddly.’ Pretty neat, huh? Booth Gardner inherited a fortune when he was a young man but he never flaunted it. In fact, he was very frugal and he was known to enjoy the very simple things of life. One of his favorite places as you heard was Frisco Freeze in Tacoma. It’s a classic 1950’s drive in and it’s over by the Mary Bridge Hospital. His favorite thing was to go there and get a double burger; a medium sized coke – hold the cheese but put lots of mustard, Governor Gardner could afford to eat at the fanciest restaurant in the State of Washington. However, it was the simple things that tells the story about this man, that he enjoyed a burger and a drink for $5.25. But in being frugal and in his personal life he was one of the most generous, compassionate people that walked on the Capitol Campus here. He was generous to charities. He gave his heart and his compassion to the state of Washington. When asked how he would like to be remembered Governor Gardner said, 'I tried to help people and I tried to make a difference.' Well, Governor, you did help people and you did make a difference. And we will miss you as well, the citizens of the State of Washington. Thank you.'

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARGROVE

Senator Hargrove: ‘Thank you Mr. President. Well, actually I have been serving ever since Booth was elected to be Governor of the State of Washington. I was elected in 1984 also running on the same ticket as Booth Who?, didn’t meet him during the election time but got to know him a little bit right afterwards. He was the first of five governors I have now served under, Governor Inslee being the fifth. I just have a couple of striking memories of Booth. The first one, and I will never forget this one, was I was a freshman legislator in the House and there was his bill on Puget Sound cleanup and I had an amendment that would limit Puget Sound back to where the basically the Keystone Ferry line is because I didn’t want it to affect my district and they were very concerned that that amendment might pass so I was invited down to the Governor’s office. Well, you could imagine a freshman legislator, never been in any elected office before, and I go down to the Governor’s office where they still have the chairs where Dixy Lee Ray cut off so you can sit next to the floor while the Governor and all his staff look over at you and say, ‘We really would like you not to introduce that amendment.’ I could still remember looking back up at him and saying ‘No, I’m going to introduce the amendment.’ It was just the start of a career here where I’ve been a little bit difficult to deal with but, the point is that, I have that striking memory but then, back then, and this is an issue that nobody has mentioned so far. We had very distressed timber counties back in that point and time. I know the Lieutenant Governor worked on that with me and with Booth back in that point in time so even though I was a little difficult to deal with and the fact that we disagreed on some issues he still worked with us on that distressed areas legislation and we still passed things that at the time really helped our area. So, that is something that was striking to me is that, you know, you didn’t just have to go along with Booth all the time for him to reach out and say, ‘I’m a Governor for the whole state.’ The other striking memory that I have is when we signed one of those distressed area bills, my oldest son who is now thirty, was at the bill signing and his head in the picture barely stuck above the edge of the table. And I’ve still got that picture of me and Booth and my son’s head just barely above the edge of the table. But you know another thing that I remember when I came to the legislature in 1985 here’s some of the characters that were here from Pierce County: Wayne Ehlers was the Speaker of the House; Ted Bottiger was the Majority Leader of the Senate; Dan Grimm was the Ways & Means Chairman in the House; and George Walk Bottiger was the Majority Leader of the Senate; Dan Grimm was the Transportation Chair – and I probably missed a few – and County: Wayne Ehlers was the Speaker of the House; Ted 1985 here’s some of the characters that were from Pierce

Of love and fairness, I’m here serving in the state legislature. Ladies and Gentleman and members of the Senate and House of Representatives, I just want to say he’s one of the greatest persons I have ever met in my life, not only in the United States but also in Asia. Japan, China and Korea, wherever we went to, he was loved and cared for. He goes to the marketplace carrying cherries, Wenatchee-grown cherries, selling to the marketplace. Can you imagine a Governor doing such things? This is a man of humanity. With his just leadership but he’s a man of love, dignity and respect and I’m so proud to call him my Governor and it is due to his love for me – and I learned so much here – I’m still learning and if I had one wish I’d like to become almost like Governor Booth Gardner. Thank you Mr. President.’

We’re very pleased it’s before us at this time, it’s the only order of consideration of bills today. More than eleven hundred Washingtonians gave their lives in the service of our country during the Vietnam conflict. At that time it’s widely known in all the history books and in the memories of us here that veterans Senator Benton: “Well, thank you Mr. President, I too rise to this excellent bill and I thank the gentleman from the House that introduced it. Both of my older brothers are Vietnam veterans. And I recall very vividly when my oldest brother a Whidbey Island aviator who I thought of often when the Navy was here last week, was actually shot down in Vietnam. He was missing in action on the ground for about seventeen hours. I remember how my folks felt when we were waiting to find out. Of course, my brother told me that he always had a lot of inside rivalry for the Marines but after that Marine chopper came in and picked him up, under fire, and got him and his co-pilot out, after they’d been on the ground running from the VietCong through the jungle for seventeen hours, he always thought, after that, the Marines were ok. So, that ended the rivalry between the Navy and Marines for my brother, Navy combat pilot who flew ninety three missions over Vietnam. My other brother who was in the Army. He wanted to be different than my dad so he didn’t want to go in Navy, he went in the Army and he was a platoon Sergeant. -Senator Hobbs, you’d like this,- he was platoon sergeant for the 1/101st Airborne Division. Those are those crazy guys that jump out of helicopters under fire. And he was awarded the Bronze Star with the ‘V’ for Valor by the President of the United States for his service in Vietnam and both of those boys came home, thank goodness, but my one brother was killed in a car wreck a few months after he arrived home and this, unfortunately, Senator Conway as you well know, was the fate of many of those young boys who were in the adrenaline rush of war and came home and nothing was really quite like that because they’d never experienced anything like it and many of them was depicted in the famous movie ‘The Fourth of July’ and many others were looking for that same kind of adrenaline rush that they got from walking in the jungle. And it just wasn’t there. That need took a lot of their lives, whether it was speed in a car, whether it was drugs, but a lot of those boys were killed by that war after they came home. And part of it was because of the way they were received when they came. I can remember my brother the pilot saying he came home after being shot down and people at the airport spit on him when he came in in his uniform. Now, how do you think that makes you feel after putting your life on the line for your country? It’s not a very good feeling. So, today, we have a chance to honor these young men and women that answered the call. Regardless of the political aspects of that call, the young men and women of this country answered that call. And they did us all very proud. They were fighting for a cause that their government told them was a just cause. And they answered that call and they served us well and they did us all proud. Today I think is a very important day for the Vietnam veteran here in Washington State. That we all recognize that every man and woman that answered that call and served in that war did so because their country called on them and their country needed them and they answered that call. They should be recognized today and every day for the rest of their lives for what they’ve done for us and our country. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR BECKER

Senator Becker: “Thank you Mr. President. Well, I too rise up and support this resolution. You know I grew up in the time when Vietnam became quite an item, thing in school. You know the draft occurred, the shootings of people at Kent State, etc. And you know, I lost one of my very best friends. We rode horses together as kids and I got word that as he was getting onto the helicopter he got shot and he died. I never believed that he was dead. It was something that you just couldn’t accept and I went back to D. C and went to the wall, visited the wall, if you want to call it the wall because so many people were named on that wall. I found his name there and I stood there and cried like a baby because at that point the realization was he was really dead to me but, you know. I think of Senator Swecker. He would be standing up right now and talking about being a helicopter pilot in Vietnam and some of the things that he encountered while in Vietnam. I look at my husband, who didn’t get to go to Vietnam, that wanted to go to Vietnam but he was an air traffic controller in Lynden Johnson’s, on his ranch. He had it pretty easy but my brother-in-law still suffers from some of the effects of what he went through when he was in Vietnam. And you know it’s a real trying time. Now, during the time that I was a stewardess I volunteered. I wanted so badly to fly the MAC (Military Airlift Command) flights. And that meant you’d go to Vietnam pick up the folks, coming home. And I was kind of laughed at because I was way to junior to do that. You probably had to be flying fifteen, twenty years to get those flights so I made a vow that any of the military guys coming back from Vietnam would never have to buy a drink on my airplane. I thank you for the airline because they actually supported that vow. I ran into people from all over the states and people from my home town coming back. They were changed and they were changed for not such a good thing. And I can’t tell you how much I still appreciate everything that they did for us in that country. That war generated a lot of talk and a lot of fights in between families and a lot of commotion and disruptions in everyone’s lives and it’s something that I hope we never forget. How important that was. And I stand here and feel very strongly we should honor everybody coming back or came back from Vietnam and those that didn’t. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HASEGAWA

Senator Hasegawa: “Thank you Mr. President, Speaking as the ranking member of the Governmental Operations Committee, first I want to thank the Chair of the Committee and the committee members, the Rules Committee and this body for expediting the passage of this bill which is we’re hoping we’ll give full recognition to this coming Friday in a more appropriate ceremony. But in thinking about the times, back then, during Vietnam, that was such a troubled time in our countries history. We were going through so much social change at that time. And it reminds me a story that Senator Daniel told once. You’ll recall that during Day of Remembrance, I spoke about the 442 and Senator Inouye told a story about when he was charging machine gun nest in one of those engagements. And he approached the nest and when he reached the nest he saw young German soldiers with terror in their eyes and he came to this epiphany that these are just people. They’re doing their duty for their country but it was really a failure of the political leadership at that time and they, in their innocence and in their wanting to support their country and do their duty, were willing to die for that. In thinking about the Vietnam veterans, regardless what you think about the political leadership at that time and the political motivations behind that war, those people, the soldiers were unjustly bearing the burden of the failure of our political leadership. So, the lesson we need to learn, in my opinion, is that we need to challenge that political leadership when issues of conscience demand that we stand up and challenge that political leadership. I hope that this resolution brings some solace to those who unjustly bore that burden for our whole country during that time of change and I whole heartedly support this bill. Thank you Mr. President.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHIN

Senator Shin: “Thank you Mr. President. Forgive me if this sounds like too much like nepotism but during the Vietnam War in 1974 United States government asked Korean troops to be sent there as joint partner. And three hundred twenty five thousand soldiers sent. And they fought there from 1974 until the end of the war. After the war, those soldiers in Korea returned home out of which about two thousand have immigrated to the United States sponsored the U. S. Defense Department to show gratitude for what we did as an ally of the country. And for this reason, not only for Vietnam, but also those veterans who fought the Vietnam War, should be commented and recognized. Thought you’d be interested to know that, Mr. President. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HONEYFORD

Senator Hobbs: “Mr. President obviously, I rise in support of House Bill No. 1319. I think what’s great about this bill is it honors those men and women that paved the way for future generations of soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines that served in the current war and the war that I served in. When I came home, my family was there to greet me. My youngest son, whom I not seen for several months, just ran right up to me. He just learned how to walk and I missed that. I missed his first steps. I got to wear my uniform when we went from Atlanta Georgia to Fort Benning, we even stopped at a restaurant to eat. Someone paid for my meal because they were thankful for what I’d done. I wasn’t ashamed of what I did but, back then, it was a totally different story. Senator Benton even talked about how his brother was spat on. I’ve heard of stories, I’m sure you have too, of soldiers back then who came back from the war, they took their uniform off before deplaning. I can’t image going through that, having to go through a war and being ashamed of what you did. You know, I know that the American public, when it comes to the Iraq war, a majority I saw the polling said that wasn’t a just war, we shouldn’t have went. You know regardless of what you feel about it it’s tough. It’s tough for me because I served in that war. I did exactly what I was told to do and I’m proud and I would have done it again. I just hate to think I went there for no reason but imagine those men and women that served in Vietnam where the majority of the country was against them and when they came home they were rejected. At least I know when I came home, though, the American public might of said ‘You know we’re not sure about this war,’ at least they welcomed home our veterans with open arms and because of those men and women that suffered during Vietnam that came home, We have great programs now. When I was in Iraq, just before I left, I got to talk to physisitrians just like all the other soldiers did. You know, ‘How are you feeling? What’s going on?’ Dealing with PTSD. When I came home I got to see one another. Several months later, I had another visit and every solider and every service member goes through that now. That didn’t happen back then. Imagine an eighteen year old infantry man going battle after battle seeing their buddies die not having any of that when they came home. The culture was totally different back then. You were taught to keep it in. You’re not a man if you don’t toughen up. You can’t talk about it. What was great coming home for me, for my brothers and sisters that came home? You talk to a fellow Legionnaire, you could talk about it. It was ok. It was encouraged to talk about your experiences. So, I have no doubt that this bill is probably going to go out unanimously but I’m really glad that we’re doing this to really let our veterans, our Vietnam veterans know because of what you did and some of the pain you went through and because you’re talking about it now you’re helping the young men and women of today’s war cope. So thank you.”
Senator Honeyford: “Well thank you Mr. President. It’s an honor to stand up in support of this piece of legislation to honor those that are still living that survived this war and have come home but that’s also important for us to remember those that did not come back. One of the things that I do is walk through all our war memorials during the lunch hours to try to visit each one and say a silent prayer of thanks for those that did not come home. Also wanted to remember those that are MIA. Just recently, well, in the last six or seven years, I found out a young man that I used to play tennis with never came home from Vietnam. His name was Joe Echanis, from Ontario, Oregon (Joseph Yanacio “Joe” Echanis, Major U. S. Air Force) I didn’t know that and I’d just like to mention his name too. Thank you Sir.”

What we’ll do immediately after, I know it’s a pro forma day, but the House and the Senate are both considering this resolution at the same time and we are inviting down the Vietnam vets for that purpose and hopefully we’ll be here to honor them. I think there’s some very personal moving statements here today. I also point out that after we’re through with our floor action we’re going down to the Vietnam Memorial for a recognition of this particular day, which is I know the 29th but this as said earlier we will be celebrating on Friday and we’ll have a program down there with the Department of Veterans Affairs and others to officially begin this recognition of this day. SENATE RESOLUTION 8645

By Senators Fraser, Hatfield, Eide, Hargrove, Braun, and Keiser

WHEREAS, In 1963, a group of courageous and committed families, concerned about the lack of community-based alternatives to placement in state institutions for their children with disabilities, joined together and formed the Lower Puget Sound Development Center; and

WHEREAS, One year later, the Lower Puget Sound Development Center joined with three other local organizations and formed Morningside with the purpose of advancing the employment and self-sufficiency of persons with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, Over fifty years Morningside's employment services have evolved - from assisting clients to produce arts and crafts, to providing business services to the public and private sector, and helping persons with disabilities secure and maintain employment - always with belief that work is important to a fulfilling life and that inclusiveness strengthens and enriches our communities; and

WHEREAS, Morningside now reaches beyond the South Sound, serving hundreds of clients in five counties in Southwest Washington and the Olympic Peninsula, working to ensure that Washingtonians with disabilities are integrated into our communities, and giving them the opportunity for work and to contribute to our state; and

WHEREAS, Morningside today has 85 employees whose goal remains the same as the goal of those who founded the organization - to provide innovative, caring, and successful employment services to persons with disabilities; and

WHEREAS, Morningside has demonstrated success in partnering with businesses, school districts, and state and local government to create employment opportunities for persons with disabilities, as reflected by the best supported employment outcomes in the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate congratulate Morningside, its employees, clients, and volunteers on the organization's fiftieth anniversary and its contributions to enriching the lives of persons with disabilities in Washington; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Jim Larson, President and Chief Executive Officer of Morningside, and to Kris Tefft, Chair of the Morningside Board of Trustees.

MOTION
At 12:06 p.m., on motion of Senator Fain, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Friday, March 29, 2013.

BRAD OWEN, President of the Senate

HUNTER GOODMAN, Secretary of the Senate
The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Owen. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present with the exception of Senators Baumgartner, Billig, Brown Carrell, Darneille, Eide, Ericksen, Hargrove, Hewitt, Kohl-Welles, Lizow, McAuliffe, Nelson, Padden, Parlette, Ranker, Rivers, Rolfs, Schlicher, Sheldon, Smith and Tom.

The Sergeant At Arms Color Guard consisting of Pages Ryan Oda and Kayla Ramez, presented the Colors. In recognition of Senate Resolution No. 8643 and passage and signing of House Bill No. 1319 establishing “Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Day,” the Color Guard was joined by flag bearers representing the Yakama Warriors Association. Page Brittany Cartwright performed the National Anthem.

Present at the rostrum, wearing full traditional war bonnets, were U.S. Air Force veteran and Yakama Elder Mr. Corky Ambrose and U.S. Marine Corps veteran and Yakama Elder Mr. Jake Mann and Miss Jeannetta Garcia, Yakama Nation Treaty Days Pow Wow Queen. A Yakama song of gratitude was performed by Mr. Mike Squeochs, Wanapum Spiritual Leader of Priest Rapids. Mr. Squeochs presented Mr. Ambrose to the Senate.

REMARKS BY MR. CORKY AMBROSE

Mr. Ambrose: “Good Morning everybody in the Senate. You know, when we sing that song, we sing it, when our men got on, they went around the whole encampment. They sang, sent them off to the war. And when they come back, there was one or two horses that didn’t have a rider. We sang the same song to welcome them back. And the maidens knew who was missing by what was painted on the horses and what was brought back. They had passed on with the Creator and had gone up to a better world. We honor all our veterans. Don’t make much difference who they are. We started our organization as tribal members. We opened it up. As long as you have an honorable discharge and a two-fourteen, we honor you to come to join us. We have traveled many places. We have honored the women veterans in Wisconsin. We have went, down Arizona, to honor our heritage, World War II vets that raised the American flag with the other veterans, the Navy and them. We go down, quickly, every year to honor our native people that have traveled and have been deceased. Thank you. Jake.”

REMARKS BY MR. JAKE MANN

Mr. Mann: “Corky told you about the places we’ve traveled but he failed to mention that we’ve been back to Washington, D.C. twice to honor the Vietnam vets. We stood honor guard at the wall. We pulled three shifts each trip and that was a real honor. Like he said, we opened our organization to everybody. At first it was just the Yakama members but we had so many brothers coming home from Vietnam and other wars that wanted to join us. So we opened our organization to where we honored everybody, give them the honor they deserve. Thank you.”

A traditional tribal prayer was offered by Mr. Mike Squeochs, Wanapum Spiritual Leader of Priest Rapids.

WELCOME HOME VIETNAM VETERANS DAY

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Veterans of Foreign Wars #10018 the Narrows Bridge Post and Auxiliary.

REMARKS BY SENATOR CONWAY

Senator Conway: “Thank you Mr. President. I am really deeply humbled to be offering this resolution today. I, this resolution has a very concise message, it says, ‘Welcome home Vietnam Veterans’ and I only wish, we have, that the veterans who are here could have been here on Monday when we actually passed House Bill No. 1319 establishing March 30 as ‘Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Day.’ The speeches that were given that day I think for all of us will be memorable. And, in fact, were put by resolution permanently into the journals of the Senate. I think the reason for that is that we are beginning to awake to trying once again trying to revisit the Vietnam War. And, of course, we recognize that we are truly, under President Obama has established the next decade and half as Veterans History or Vietnam War remembrance period. Surprising to me those of you, some of us, many of us were down signing House Bill No. 1319 and it was a huge crowd down there. I’ve been to a lot of bill signing in my years but never quite as big as that signing. It reflects a simple fact and this is what the Department of Veterans Affairs shared with us, we have two hundred twenty thousand Vietnam Veterans in this state. Two hundred twenty thousand and you know I think with this day incidentally that was recognized, eight others states have already recognize this and three other states are considering it. So, there’s a kind of an awakening in the land here about the Vietnam War and its meaning and I think one of the very important pieces of that was what I shared with you, with your permission Mr. President, from President Obama second memorial address if I could share that language again?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Conway.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR CONWAY

Senator Conway: “It was a National, in speaking to the wrong that was given Vietnam veterans upon their return he said, ‘It was national shame. A disgrace that never should of happened. That’s why today we resolve that it will not happen again. You were blamed for a war you didn’t start when you should have been commended for serving your country with valor.’ You know, I am hoping, when the Governor signed House Bill No. 1319 our state now officially has March 30th as ‘Welcome home Veterans Day.’ I was, the axillary that brought me this resolution is in the gallery here, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its mentioned in the resolution at Narrows Bridge. I went down there on Saturday for their celebration and what is witnessed was a gathering of about I would say, about one hundred families and they were talking about their experiences in the Vietnam War and they were beginning to revisit their experiences. I think you know that this kind of change that I see coming across our land with this ‘Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Day’ is a recognition that many of our veterans who served in that war are now willing to start talking about it and start revisiting it. You know, and that is important because as we know it is a healing process. Today after this event I invite all of you to come down to the Vietnam War Memorial because the Department of Veterans Affairs will be meeting with all the veterans who are here to commemorate this ‘Welcome Home Veterans Day.’ You know, we all know that war memorial was a healing process, right, for so many families and so I kind of see this ‘Welcome Home Veterans Day’ as a healing process for those who served in the war and their families. I think that President Obama said something that was critically important here and that was let us resolve that we never again treat our veterans like we did after the Vietnam War. I believe that I see us trying hard with our veterans coming back from Afghanistan and Iraq to do that. Although we could do more. So, I am very humbled to be here offering this resolution and offering the Senate maybe annually be able to come back and remember this date, March 30th as ‘Welcome home Vietnam Veterans Day.’ Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR SHIN

Senator Shin: “Thank you Mr. President. I too rise in support of this resolution. There is a reason for that, between 1955 and 1975, United States was the first nation to send 2.3 million Americans soldiers to Vietnam. In defense of freedom, fight for their freedom however small the nation may be. I tip my hats to them. As a result Vietnam is a free country today. American’s have traditionally been very small but make it great and we was very small too. Myself, it was 1950, I was drafted into the U. S. Army, went to Germany, then 1950 Lebanon crisis, I was sent to Lebanon sitting on a duffle bag for six months. It was horrible but let me tell you looking back was so humbling. The gratitude to serve the country that I have been blessed with. I was adopted in this country, this is my country as well and I love this country. The veterans of the Vietnam War, thank you so much. Welcome home Vietnam Veterans. We welcome you and we don’t know what’s going to happen in the future. Whatever happens we’re there in the front line to defend on behalf of freedom. Governor, if I may say, there is Korean Veterans serving the Vietnam War. They fought side by side with the American soldiers at the request of the U. S. Government, three hundred twenty eight thousand Korean soldiers went to Vietnam, fought side by side against communism and I’m proud to introduce them to you and proud to say that my birth country, even though a small country, they remember the blessings that they have received from the United States. Therefore they were really happy to send troops and many died and didn’t come home. Over fifty thousand did not come home. This is the fact of life and I offer congratulations to this Veterans Memorial Day and welcome home day and join with you and this is a happy day today. Thank you.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR HOBBS

Senator Hobbs: “Mr. President, I would like to thank the prime sponsor for putting this resolution here today. I know he asked me to say a few words and if the members would forgive me I’m basically going to repeat what I said on Monday. But I rise to thank those Vietnam veterans that paved the way for future veterans like myself who served in the Iraq War and those that served in the war at Afghanistan. I don’t know you did it. I mean in terms of both wars, Iraq and Vietnam, both relatively unpopular, I know that I saw a poll just recently that said fifty five percent of the American public think that the Iraq war wasn’t even worth it. And as a Veteran of that war that’s pretty hard to take in because I served in that war. I did what I believe is right and I think I made the place a little better. What is really difficult to fathom, and I really don’t know how you did it, is not only was it unpopular when you came home there were no parades, not really any thank yous and even disdain. My experience coming home from the Iraq War is completely different. I was greeted when I came off the plane, I saw my family there. I actually wore my uniform from the airport drove all the way to Fort Binning Georgia, which is about you know forty five to an hour drive, stopped at a restaurant in my uniform, somebody bought my meal and my families meal and thanked me. You didn’t have that but you paved the way for others. And even though it was a painful experience for you, know that you helped your sons and daughters and your grandchildren that fought and are fighting in this war. When I was in Iraq and ready to leave I got to see a psychiatrist. I got to see a doctor. You got on a plane and went home. When I came home, again interviewed again by a doctor and a psychiatrist. This is to every soldier. Things have changed so much. PTSD is treated immediately and searched out. Soldiers should not be ashamed and are encouraged to talk about their experiences. You couldn’t, you wouldn’t. TBI is being addressed. You know, most people here know what TBI is. You know I’m pretty sure is was around Vietnam too. There were mortars, rocket fire, there were mines. That was never addressed. Way better conditions for Veterans now, the benefits much improved. VA hospitals, if a VA hospital is not servicing their veterans there is a public outcry and immediate correction. The previous speaker is right. It’s about time and I hope that we can always remember this day and thank our Vietnam veterans for paving the way for the veterans of today who are serving in your nations military, defending our country. Again, I want to thank you, my hats off to you. You made my life and my brothers and sisters lives better for your sacrifice. Thank you.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Queen Brett Rountree, Central Valley High School, the City of Spokane’s 2013 Lilac Festival Queen who was seated at the rostrum.

REMARKS BY MISS BRETT ROUTREE

Miss Brett Rountree: “Good morning, Mr. President, members of the Washington State Senate, guests, family and friends. My name is Brett Rountree and I have the distinct privilege of being the 2013 Spokane Lilac Festival Queen. It’s a huge honor to be here today on behalf of the Spokane Lilac Festival. So far in my brief time as queen I’ve learned that my job goes so far deeper than just wearing a crown and waving in a parade. Every event in which the Royal Court and I participate reflects some portion of the Lilac Festival mission statement: Honoring our military; Recognizing our youth; and Showcasing Spokane in our region throughout the Northwest and beyond. Yes, we do have a parade. As you heard earlier it’s the largest Armed Forces Torchlight Parade in the country. But what sets our festival apart is our commitment to the military and this commitment, it doesn’t begin and end on the third Saturday in May. This past Christmas, for example, we bagged hundreds of cookies for ‘Operation Cookie Drop.’ These bags were given to Fairchild Airmen who wouldn’t be going home for the holidays. We spent time talking to Fairchild Air Force Base officers and enlisted airmen, reading to first and second graders at Michael Anderson Elementary, touring the maintenance and medical facility as well as the base tower. We were also given the opportunity to see a static display of K-135 and, later, discover what it felt like to fly that plane while refueling another plane in the flight simulator. And most recently we attended 92nd Air Refueling Wing Command Chief Rudy Lopez’s retirement ceremony. At every turn we saw the men and women of Fairchild giving of themselves to offer us the freedoms that we take for granted every day. Now, early on in our Royal journey we were challenged to reflect on the quote by James Fraude, ‘The essence of true nobility is neglect itself.’ This statement has become our personal guide. We have done a lot of volunteering around Spokane including serving with Santa Express which is the fundraising arm of the Vanessa Behan Crisis Nursery. We helped underprivileged children pick out clothing during Salvation Army Cloth a Child. We served dinner at the Union Gospel Mission. We’ve read to elementary schools everywhere in Spokane during ‘Read Across America.’ We’ve also been given the opportunity to sing the National Anthem at the Spokane Veterans Home as well as all four State B National Boys Basketball Games. But my favorite, a little while ago we teamed up with Make A Wish Foundation and we were able to fulfill a little girl with a terminally ill disease, to fulfill her princess dreams and she was granted a trip to Walt Disney World. The Spokane Lilac Festival and the Royal Court are Spokane’s ambassadors as we travel during the parade season but most of our parades are right here in Washington and we would love it to see most of you at one of those parades and for a second year in a row, our role as ambassadors is taking us wide and far. After last year’s successful trip to Jinil City in China, this year we are going to be joining the 2013 Lilac President Christine Leva as well as Mayor David Condon on a trip to Limerick Ireland. But, before we do any traveling we have a parade to do so now I would like to personally invite all of you to the Spokane Lilac Festival Parade, Seventy Fifty Diamond Anniversary, Saturday, May 18 to experience the Lilac legacy for yourself. Alive at seventy five. Thank you so much for this amazing opportunity today and for the recognition and honor of the Spokane Lilac Festival.”

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced the members of the Lilac Festival Royal Court: Princess Devyn Russell, Northwest Christian High School; Princess Hailey Hyde, Saint George’s High School; and Princess Savannah Sundseth, Mead High School and representatives of the Spokane Lilac Festival Association: Mrs. Christine Leva, 2013 President; Mrs. Claire Patton, 2012 First Lady and Chaperone; Ms. Shelley Sholl, Chaperone; Ms. Keisha Rountree, Queen Mum and Chaperone who were present in the gallery and recognized by the Senate.

With the permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Ambassador Bisogniero to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY AMBASSADOR CLAUDIO BISOGNIERO

Ambassador Claudio Bisogniero: “Thank you so much Mr. Lt. Governor General. It’s a great pleasure and a great honor for me to be here today in this great building. It happens to be the first time that an Italian Ambassador visits state of Washington since 1978 and that is really too long. I think that we have great opportunities to work together. I think here about the trade and investment area. There’s some great companies in this state and high tech areas. We in Italy have a major industrial bases and we want to do more. We want to work together to find ways in which companies in this state, Italian companies can develop more business and more investments in important areas. Aerospace is one that comes to my mind but also IT and also for instance bio tech and clean energy. These are all areas of which we have a huge potential and that’s what it’s all about at the end of the day, stimulating the economy and job creation which is something very important I guess for my country but also for this great state. Another issue I’d like to mention very briefly is that we have designated 2013 as ‘the Year of the Italian Culture in the United States’ so we are organizing many events throughout the nation, many American cities with American museums, universities, opera houses and so on and so forth. We want, through this great initiative, 2013 the Year of the Italian Culture in the United States to showcase the great Italian artistic and culture tradition that we’re all familiar with, painting, sculptures and opera and music but also at the same time to showcase the Italy of today and the Italy of tomorrow, Italy’s creativity and innovations so we will do events in science, design and technology. So, once again, I believe we have some great potential and I think that we can, through trade and investment, through culture, build some much stronger relationship between this great state of Washington and the Republic of Italy. Thank you very much for your attention.
It’s a pleasure to be here.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, the Senate advanced to the seventh order of business.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, if I could get your attention for a moment please. As has been the custom for years in the Senate, we’re privileged to have the remarks made by the Queen of the Apple Blossom Festival. This year’s Queen Emily Abbot.”

REMARKS BY QUEEN EMILY ABBOTT

Miss Abbott: “Hello, thank you for having us here today. The opportunity to speak here today is a great honor. Along with Princesses Maggie Chvilicek and Madi Still, I would like to thank you for so warmly welcoming us to our state’s capital. As Ambassadors of the 2013 Apple Blossom Festival we are delighted and privileged to be here representing our beautiful home. Wenatchee’s Apple Blossom Festival truly showcases our valley’s natural beauty. As the sun rises over the magnificent Cascade Mountains which surround our valley, the Columbia River glistens like diamonds, the bikers and joggers happily begin their morning workout on the Loop Trail which encircles the river and the smell and sight of newly bloomed apple blossoms is fresh in the air. In addition to being fortunate enough to live in the apple capital of the world, an area rich with natural beauty and three hundred days of sunshine, we are also privileged to experience what truly makes this place so wonderful, our people. For as long as I can remember I have always been touched by the kindness, generosity, and support the Wenatchee Valley citizens have for one another. As one of the premier festivals in the state of Washington, the ninety-fourth Apple Blossom Festival celebrates in a family-friendly manor, our civic pride, our people and of course the fruit industry that helped found this wonderful valley. This year’s festival themes ‘Let’s Rock this Town’ begins on April 25 and runs through May 5. This eleven day festival is filled with exciting and diverse activities for people of all ages and interests. Whether it’s the impressive food fair, first class entertainment or the grand parade with the region’s best or urnate floats and marching bands. There’s something for everyone to enjoy at Apple Blossom 2013. From our special youth weekend and parade, evoking the joys of childhood, to the arts and crafts festival, premier golf tournament and Apple Blossom Musical ‘Happy Days,’ there are a multitude of fun opportunities for people of all ages. With assistance from our web page Appleblossom.org, please make your way to Wenatchee this spring to take part in this year’s Apple Blossom Festival. As you have warmly welcomed us to your home we in turn invite you to ours. I look forward seeing you and hope you will join and ‘Let’s Rock this Town.’ Thank you.”

(a) The time of receipt of a payment order or communication canceling or amending a payment order is determined by the rules applicable to receipt of a notice stated in RCW 62A.1-202. A receiving bank may fix a cut-off time or times on a funds-transfer business day for the receipt and processing of payment orders and communications canceling or amending payment orders. Different cut-off times may apply to payment orders, cancellations, or amendments, or to different categories of payment orders, cancellations, or amendments. Sec. 9. RCW 62A.4A-205 and 1991 sp.s. c 21 s 4A-205 are each amended to read as follows:

However, the customer is not entitled to interest from the bank on the amount to be refunded if the customer fails to exercise ordinary care to determine that the order was not authorized by the customer and to notify the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time not exceeding ninety days after the date the customer received notification from the bank that the order was accepted or that the customer's account was debited with respect to the order. The bank or that the sender's account was debited with respect to the order, the sender has a duty to exercise ordinary care, on the basis of information available to the sender, to discover the error with respect to the order and to advise the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time, not exceeding ninety days, after the bank's notification was received by the sender. If the bank proves that the sender failed to perform that duty, the sender is liable to the bank for the loss the bank proves it incurred as a result of the failure, but the liability of the sender may not exceed the amount of the sender's order.

(((4))) (a) Subject to subsection (((2))) (b) of this section, if, in a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank, the name, bank account number, or other identification of the beneficiary refers to a nonexistent or unidentifiable person or account, no person has rights as a beneficiary of the order and acceptance of the order cannot occur.

(((2))) (b) If a payment order received by the beneficiary's bank identifies the beneficiary both by name and by an identifying or bank account number and the name and number identify different persons, the following rules apply:

(((6))) (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (((5))) (c) of this section, if the beneficiary's bank does not know that the name and number refer to different persons, it may rely on the number as the proper identification of the beneficiary of the order. The beneficiary's bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.

(((6))) (2) If the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by name or knows that the name and number identify different persons, no person has rights as beneficiary except the person paid by the beneficiary's bank if that person was entitled to receive payment from the originator of the funds transfer. If no person has rights as beneficiary, acceptance of the order cannot occur.

(((2))) (c) If (((4))) (i) the originator of an erroneous payment order described in subsection (((4))) (ii) of this section, accepted, (((4))) (ii) the originator's payment order described the beneficiary inconsistently by name and number, and (((4))) (iii) the beneficiary's bank pays the person identified by number as permitted by subsection (((2))) (b) of this section, the following rules apply:

unless the originator's bank proves that the originator, before acceptance of the originator's order, had notice that payment of a payment order issued by the originator might be made by the beneficiary's bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The originator's bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the originator, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing stating the information to which the notice relates.

(((a))) (((d))) (1) In a case governed by subsection (((2))) (b)(1) of this section, if the beneficiary's bank rightfully pays the person identified by number and that person was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the amount paid may be recovered from that person to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution as follows:

(((a))) (((1))) If the originator is obliged to pay its payment order as stated in subsection (((2))) (c) of this section, the originator has the right to recover.

(((a))) (((2))) If the originator is not a bank and is not obliged to pay its payment order, the originator's bank has the right to recover.

Sec. 12. RCW 62A.4A-208 and 1991 sp.s. c 21 s 4A-208 are each amended to read as follows:

(((a))) (((4))) This subsection applies to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank only by an identifying number.

(((a))) (((1))) The receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank and need not determine whether the number identifies a bank.

(((a))) (((2))) The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.

(((a))) (((2))) (b) This subsection applies to a payment order identifying an intermediary bank or the beneficiary's bank both by name and an identifying number if the name and number identify different persons.

(((a))) (((1))) If the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, when it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person or whether the number refers to a bank. The sender is obliged to compensate the receiving bank for any loss and expenses incurred by the receiving bank as a result of its reliance on the number in executing or attempting to execute the order.

(((a))) (((2))) (b) If the sender is not a bank and the receiving bank proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, had notice that the receiving bank might rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank even if it identifies a person different from the bank identified by name, the rights and obligations of the sender and the receiving bank are governed by subsection (((2))) (b)(1) of this section, as though the sender were a bank. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The receiving bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing stating the information to which the notice relates.

(((a))) (((3))) Regardless of whether the sender is a bank, the receiving bank may rely on the name as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank, at the time it executes the sender's order, does not know that the name and number identify different persons. The receiving bank need not determine whether the name and number refer to the same person.

(((a))) (((4))) (b) A payment order issued to the originator's bank cannot be accepted until the payment date if the bank is the beneficiary's bank, or the execution date if the bank is not the beneficiary's bank. If the originator's bank executes the originator's payment order before the execution date or pays the beneficiary of the originator's payment order before the payment date and the payment order is subsequently canceled pursuant to RCW 62A.4A-211((2)), the bank may recover from the beneficiary any payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

(((a))) (((a))) (a) Subject to subsection (((a))) (d) of this section, a receiving bank other than the beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order when it executes the order.

If notice of rejection is received by the sender after the payment date and the authorized account of the sender does not bear interest, the bank is obliged to pay interest to the sender on the amount of the order for the number of days elapsing after the payment date to the day the sender receives notice or learns that the order was not accepted, counting that day as an elapsed day. If the withdrawable credit balance during that period falls below the amount of the order, the amount of interest payable is reduced accordingly.

(((a))) (((4))) (c) Acceptance of a payment order cannot occur before the order is received by the receiving bank. Acceptance does not occur under subsection (((2))) (b) (2) or (3) of this section if the beneficiary of the payment order does not have an account with the receiving bank, the account has been closed, or the receiving bank is not permitted by law to receive credits for the beneficiary's account.

(((a))) (((4))) (d) A payment order issued to the originator's bank cannot be accepted until the payment date if the bank is the beneficiary's bank, or the execution date if the bank is not the beneficiary's bank. If the originator's bank executes the originator's payment order before the execution date or pays the beneficiary of the originator's payment order before the payment date and the payment order is subsequently canceled pursuant to RCW 62A.4A-211((2)), the bank may recover from the beneficiary any payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

Amendment of a payment order is deemed to be cancellation of the original order at the time of amendment and issue of a new payment order in the amended form at the same time.

Sec. 15. RCW 62A.4A-212 and 1991 sp.s. c 21 s 4A-212 are each amended to read as follows:

(((a))) (1) With respect to a payment order accepted by a receiving bank other than the beneficiary’s bank, cancellation or amendment is not effective unless a conforming cancellation or amendment of the payment order issued by the receiving bank is also made.

If the payment order is canceled or amended, the beneficiary’s bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary any amount paid to the beneficiary to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

bank is obliged to instruct the intermediary bank according to the instruction of the originator. An intermediary bank in the funds transfer is similarly bound by an instruction given to it by the sender of the payment order it accepts.

1. If the sender's instruction states that the funds transfer is to be carried out telephonically or by wire transfer or otherwise indicates that the funds transfer is to be carried out by the most expeditious means, the receiving bank is obliged to transmit its payment order by the most expeditious available means, and to instruct any intermediary bank accordingly. If a sender's instruction states a payment date, the receiving bank is obliged to transmit its payment order at a time and by means reasonably necessary to allow payment to the beneficiary on the payment date or as soon thereafter as is feasible.

2. Unless otherwise instructed, a receiving bank executing a payment order may use any funds-transfer system if use of that system is reasonable in the circumstances, and issue a payment order to the beneficiary's bank or to an intermediary bank through which a payment order conforming to the sender's order can expeditiously be issued to the beneficiary's bank if the receiving bank exercises ordinary care in the selection of the intermediary bank. A receiving bank is not required to follow an instruction of the sender designating a funds-transfer system to be used in carrying out the funds transfer if the receiving bank, in good faith, determines that it is not feasible to follow the instruction or that following the instruction would unduly delay completion of the funds transfer.

3. Unless subsection (a) of this section applies or the receiving bank is otherwise instructed, the bank may execute a payment order by transmitting its payment order by first-class mail or by any means reasonable in the circumstances. If the receiving bank is instructed to execute the sender's order by transmitting its payment order by a particular means, the receiving bank may issue its payment order by the means stated or by any means as expeditious as the means stated.

4. Unless instructed by the sender, the receiving bank may not obtain payment of its charges for services and expenses in connection with the execution of the sender's order by issuing a payment order in an amount equal to the amount of the sender's order less the amount of the charges, and may not instruct a subsequent receiving bank to obtain payment of its charges in the same manner.

Sec. 19. RCW 62A.4A-303 and 1991 sp.s c 21 s 4A-303 are each amended to read as follows:

1. A receiving bank that executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order in an amount greater than the amount of the sender's order, or issues a payment order in execution of the sender's order and then issues a duplicate order, is entitled to payment of the amount of the sender's order under RCW 62A.4A-402 if that subsection is otherwise satisfied. The bank is entitled to recover from the beneficiary of the erroneous order the excess payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

2. A receiving bank that executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order in an amount less than the amount of the sender's order is entitled to payment of the amount of the sender's order under RCW 62A.4A-402 if that subsection is otherwise satisfied and the bank corrects its mistake by issuing an additional payment order for the benefit of the beneficiary of the sender's order. If the error is not corrected, the issuer of the erroneous order is entitled to receive or retain payment from the sender of the order it accepted only to the extent of the amount of the erroneous order. This subsection does not apply if the receiving bank executes the sender's payment order by issuing a payment order in an amount less than the amount of the sender's order for the purpose of obtaining payment of its charges for services and expenses pursuant to instruction of the sender.

3. If a receiving bank executes the payment order of the sender by issuing a payment order to a beneficiary different from the beneficiary of the sender's order and the funds transfer is completed on the basis of that error, the sender of the payment order that was erroneously executed and all previous senders in the funds transfer are not obliged to pay the payment orders they issued. The issuer of the erroneous order is entitled to recover from the beneficiary of the order the payment received to the extent allowed by the law governing mistake and restitution.

Sec. 20. RCW 62A.4A-304 and 1991 sp.s c 21 s 4A-304 are each amended to read as follows:

1. If the sender of a payment order that is erroneously executed as stated in RCW 62A.4A-303 receives notification from the receiving bank that the order was executed or that the sender's account was debited with respect to the order, the sender has a duty to exercise ordinary care to determine, on the basis of information available to the sender, that the order was erroneously executed and to notify the bank of the relevant facts within a reasonable time not exceeding ninety days after the notification from the bank was received by the sender. If the sender fails to perform that duty, the bank is not obliged to pay interest on any amount refundable to the sender under RCW 62A.4A-402 for the period before the bank learns of the execution error. The bank is not entitled to any recovery from the sender on account of a failure by the sender to perform the duty stated in this section.

Sec. 21. RCW 62A.4A-305 and 1991 sp.s c 21 s 4A-305 are each amended to read as follows:

1. A funds transfer is completed but execution of a payment order by the receiving bank in breach of RCW 62A.4A-302 results in delay in payment to the beneficiary, the bank is not required to pay interest to either the originator or the beneficiary of the funds transfer for the period of delay caused by the improper execution. Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, additional damages are not recoverable.

2. If execution of a payment order by a receiving bank in breach of RCW 62A.4A-302 results in (a) noncompletion of the funds transfer, (b) failure to use an intermediary bank designated by the originator, or (c) issuance of a payment order that does not comply with the terms of the payment order of the originator, the bank is liable to the originator for its expenses in the funds transfer and for incidental expenses and interest losses, to the extent not covered by subsection (a) of this section, resulting from the improper execution. Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, additional damages are not recoverable.

3. In addition to the amounts payable under subsections (a) and (b) of this section, damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank.

4. If a receiving bank fails to execute a payment order it was obliged by express agreement to execute, the receiving bank is liable for its expenses in the transaction and for incidental expenses and interest losses resulting from the failure to execute. Additional damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank, but are not otherwise recoverable.

5. Reasonable attorneys' fees are recoverable if demand for compensation under subsection (a) or (b) of this section is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim. If a claim is made for breach of an agreement under subsection (d) of this section and the agreement does not provide for damages, reasonable attorneys' fees are recoverable if demand for compensation under subsection (d) of this section is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim.
Except as stated in this section, the liability of a receiving bank under subsections (((4)) and (((2))) (a) and (b) of this section may not be varied by agreement.

((6))) (1) Except as stated in this section, the liability of a receiving bank under subsections (((4)) and (((2))) (a) and (b) of this section may not be varied by agreement.

Sec. 23. RCW 62A.4A-403 and 1991 sp.s. c 21 s 4A-403 are each amended to read as follows:

((6))) (a) Payment of the sender's obligation under RCW 62A.4A-402 to pay the receiving bank occurs as follows:

((6))) (1) If the sender is a bank, payment occurs when the receiving bank receives final settlement of the obligation through a federal reserve bank or through a funds-transfer system.

((6))) (2) If the sender is a bank and the sender (i) credited an account of the receiving bank with the sender, or (ii) caused an account of the receiving bank in another bank to be credited, payment occurs when the credit is withdrawn or, if not withdrawn, at midnight of the day on which the credit is withdrawn and the receiving bank learns of that fact.

((6))) (3) If the receiving bank debits an account of the sender with the receiving bank, payment occurs when the debit is made to the extent the debit is covered by a withdrawable credit balance in the account.

((6))) (4) If the sender and receiving bank are members of a funds-transfer system that nets obligations multilaterally among participants, the receiving bank receives final settlement when settlement is complete in accordance with the rules of the system.

The obligation of the sender to pay the amount of a payment order transmitted through the funds-transfer system may be satisfied, to the extent permitted by the rules of the system, by setting off and applying against the sender's obligation the right of the sender to receive payment from the receiving bank of the amount of any other payment order transmitted to the sender by the receiving bank through the funds-transfer system. The aggregate balance of obligations owed by each sender to each receiving bank in the funds-transfer system may be satisfied, to the extent permitted by the rules of the system, by setting off and applying against that balance the aggregate balance of obligations owed to the sender by other members of the system. The aggregate balance is determined after the right of setoff stated in the second sentence of this subsection has been exercised.

((6))) (a) Subject to RCW 62A.4A-211((6))) (e), 62A.4A-405((6))) (d), and 62A.4A-405((6))) (d), if a beneficiary's bank accepts a payment order, the bank is obliged to pay the amount of the order to the beneficiary of the order. Payment is due on the payment date of the order, but if acceptance occurs on the payment date after the close of the funds-transfer business day of the bank, payment is due on the next funds-transfer business day. If the bank refuses to pay after demand by the beneficiary and receipt of notice of particular circumstances that will give rise to consequential damages as a result of nonpayment, the beneficiary may recover damages resulting from the refusal to pay to the extent the bank had notice of the damages, unless the bank proves that it did not pay because of a reasonable doubt concerning the right of the beneficiary to payment.

((6))) (b) If a payment order accepted by the beneficiary's bank instructs payment to an account of the beneficiary, the bank is obliged to notify the beneficiary of receipt of the order before midnight of the next funds-transfer business day following the payment date. If the payment order does not instruct payment to an account of the beneficiary, the bank is required to notify the beneficiary only if notice is required by the order. Notice may be given by first-class mail or any other means reasonable in the circumstances. If the bank fails to give the required notice, the bank is obliged to pay interest to the beneficiary on the amount of the payment order from the day notice should have been given until the day the beneficiary learned of receipt of the payment order by the bank. No other damages are recoverable. Reasonable attorneys' fees are also recoverable if demand for interest is made and refused before an action is brought on the claim.

((6))) (c) The right of a beneficiary to receive payment and damages as stated in subsection (a) (((subsection (4) of this section))) of this section may not be varied by agreement or a funds-transfer system rule. The right of a beneficiary to be notified as stated in subsection ((((2))) (b) of this section) of this section may be varied by agreement of the beneficiary or by a funds-transfer system rule if the beneficiary is notified of the rule before initiation of the funds transfer.

(((5))) (a) If the beneficiary's bank credits an account of the beneficiary of a payment order, payment of the bank's obligation under RCW 62A.4A-404(((4))) (a) occurs when and to the extent (((4))) (i) the beneficiary is notified of the right to withdraw the credit, (((4))) (ii) the bank lawfully applies the credit to a debt of the beneficiary, or (((4))) (iii) funds with respect to the order are otherwise made available to the beneficiary by the bank.

(((2))) (b) If the beneficiary's bank does not credit an account of the beneficiary of a payment order, the time when payment of the bank's obligation under RCW 62A.4A-404(((4))) (a) occurs is governed by principles of law that determine when an obligation is satisfied.

(((6))) (c) Except as stated in subsections (((5))) (d) and (e) of this article, if the beneficiary's bank pays the beneficiary of a payment order under a condition to payment or agreement of the beneficiary giving the bank the right to recover payment from the beneficiary if the bank does not receive payment of the order, the condition to payment or agreement is not enforceable.

(((5))) (d) A funds-transfer system rule may provide that payments made to beneficiaries of funds transfers made through the system are provisional until receipt of payment by the beneficiary's bank of the payment order it accepted. A beneficiary's bank that makes a payment that is provisional under the rule is entitled to refund from the beneficiary if ((((4))) (i) the rule requires that both the beneficiary and the originator be given notice of the provisional nature of the payment before the funds transfer is initiated, (((5))) (ii) the beneficiary, the beneficiary's bank and the originator's bank agreed to be bound by the rule, and (((5))) (iii) the beneficiary's bank did not receive payment of the payment order that it accepted. If the beneficiary is obliged to refund payment to the beneficiary's bank, acceptance of the payment order by the beneficiary's bank is nullified and no payment by the originator of the funds transfer to the beneficiary occurs under RCW 62A.4A-406.

(((5))) (e) This subsection applies to a funds transfer that includes a payment order transmitted over a funds-transfer system that (((5))) (i) nets obligations multilaterally among participants, and (((5))) (ii) has in effect a loss-sharing agreement among participants for the purpose of providing funds necessary to complete settlement of the obligations of one or more participants that do not meet their settlement obligations. If the beneficiary's bank in the funds transfer accepts a payment order and the system fails to complete settlement pursuant to its rules with respect to any payment order in the funds transfer, (i) the acceptance by the beneficiary's bank is nullified and no person has any right or obligation based on the acceptance, (ii) the beneficiary's bank is entitled to recover payment from the beneficiary, (iii) no payment by the originator to the beneficiary occurs under RCW 62A.4A-406, and (iv) subject to RCW 62A.4A-402(((5))) (c), ((each sender in the funds transfer is excused from its obligation to pay its payment order under RCW 62A.4A-402(((5))) (c) because the funds transfer has not been completed.

(((4))) (a) Subject to RCW 62A.4A-211(((5))) (c), 62A.4A-405(((4))) (d), and 62A.4A-405(((5))) (c), the originator of a funds transfer pays the beneficiary of the originator's payment order (((4))) (i) at the time a payment order for the benefit of the beneficiary is accepted by the beneficiary's bank in the funds transfer and (((4))) (ii) in an amount equal to the amount of the order accepted by the beneficiary's bank, but not more than the amount of the originator's order.

(((6))) (a) If payment under subsection (((4))) (a) of this section is made to satisfy an obligation, the obligation is discharged to the same extent discharge would result from payment to the beneficiary of the same amount in money, unless (((4))) (i) the payment under subsection (((4))) (a) of this section was made by a means prohibited by the contract of the beneficiary with respect to the obligation, (((6))) (ii) the beneficiary, within a reasonable time after receiving notice of receipt of the order by the beneficiary's bank, notified the originator of the beneficiary's refusal of the payment, (((6))) (iii) funds with respect to the order were not withdrawn by the beneficiary or applied to a debt of the beneficiary, and (((6))) (iv) the beneficiary would suffer a loss that could reasonably have been avoided if payment had been made by a means complying with the contract. If payment by the originator does not result in discharge under this section, the originator is subrogated to the rights of the beneficiary to receive payment from the beneficiary's bank under RCW 62A.4A-404(((4))) (a).

(((4))) (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Article, the rights and obligations of a party to a funds transfer may be varied by agreement of the affected party.

(((6))) (b) "Funds-transfer system rule" means a rule of a funds-transfer system of the association or rights and obligations with respect to those orders, or (((6))) (ii) to the extent the rule governs rights and obligations between banks that are parties to a funds transfer in which a federal reserve bank, acting as an intermediary bank, sends a payment order to the beneficiary's bank. Except as otherwise provided in this Article, a funds-transfer system rule governing rights and obligations between participating banks using the system may be effective even if the rule conflicts with (((6))) this Article and indirectly affects another party to the funds transfer who does not consent to the rule. A funds-transfer system rule may also govern rights and obligations of parties other than participating banks using the system to the extent stated in RCW 62A.4A-404(((6))) (c), 62A.4A-405(((4))) (d), and 62A.4A-507(((2))) (c).

(((4))) (a) As used in this section, "creditor process" means levy, attachment, garnishment, notice of lien, sequestration, or similar process issued by or on behalf of a creditor or other claimant with respect to an account.

(((6))) (b) This subsection applies to creditor process with respect to an authorized account of the sender of a payment order if the creditor process is served on the receiving bank. For the purpose of determining rights with respect to the creditor process, if the receiving bank accepts the payment order the balance in the authorized account is deemed to be reduced by the amount of the payment order to the extent the bank did not otherwise receive payment of the order, unless the creditor process is served at (((6))) (a) time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it before the bank accepts the payment order.

(2) Indicate that it is to be filed for record in the real property records;

(3) Provide a description of the real property to which the collateral is related sufficient to give constructive notice of a mortgage under the law of this state if the description were contained in a record of the mortgage of the real property; and

(4) If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real property, provide the name of a record owner.

(c) Record of mortgage as financing statement. A record of a mortgage is effective, from the date of recording, as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut only if:

(1) The record indicates the goods or accounts that it covers;

(2) The goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real property described in the record or the collateral is related to the real property described in the record and is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut;

(3) The record satisfies the requirements for a financing statement in this section (other than an indication), but:

(A) The record need not indicate that it is to be filed in the real property records; and

(B) The record sufficiently provides the name of a debtor who is as the individual which is indicated on the driver's license

(4) If the record is recorded.

(d) Filing before security agreement or attachment. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches.

Sec. 34. RCW 62A.9A-503 and 2011 c 74 s 401 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) Sufficiency of debtor's name. A financing statement sufficiently provides the name of the debtor:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in (3) of this subsection (a), if the debtor is a registered organization or the collateral is held in a trust that is a registered organization, only if the financing statement provides the name of the settlor or testator indicated in the trust's organic record.

(2) Subject to subsection (f) of this section, if the collateral is being administered by the personal representative of a decedent, only if the financing statement provides the name of the settlor or testator indicated in the trust's organic record.

(3) If the collateral is held in a trust that is not a registered organization, only if the financing statement:

(A) Provides, as the name of the debtor:

(i) If the organic record of the trust specifies a name for the trust, the name specified; or

(ii) If the organic record of the trust does not specify a name for the trust, the name of the settlor or testator; and

(B) In a separate part of the financing statement:

(i) If the name is provided in accordance with (3)(A)(i) of this subsection, indicates that the collateral is held in a trust; or

(ii) If the name is provided in accordance with (3)(A)(ii) of this subsection, provides additional information sufficient to distinguish the trust from other trusts having one or more of the same settors or the same testator and indicates that the collateral is held in a trust, unless the additional information so indicates;

(4) Subject to subsection (g) of this section, if the debtor is an individual to whom this state has issued a driver's license or identification card that has not expired, only if the financing statement:

(i) Provides, as the name of the debtor:

(A) Provides the individual name of the debtor;

(B) Provides the surname and first personal name of the debtor; or

(C) Subject to subsection (g) of this section, provides the name of the individual which is indicated on (a) the driver's license or identification card (that this state has issued to the individual and which has not expired);

(5) If the debtor is an individual to whom (4) of this subsection (a) does not apply, only if the financing statement provides the individual name of the debtor or the surname and first personal name of the debtor; and

(i) In other cases:

(A) If the debtor has a name, only if the financing statement provides the organizational name of the debtor; and

(B) If the debtor does not have a name, only if the financing statement provides the names of the partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor, in a manner that each name provided would be sufficient if the person named were the debtor.

(b) Additional debtor-related information. A financing statement that provides the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection (a) of this section is not rendered ineffective by the absence of:

(1) A trade name or other name of the debtor; or

(2) Unless required under subsection ((a)(5)(B)) (a)(6)(B) of this section, names of partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(c) Debtor's trade name insufficient. A financing statement that provides only the debtor's trade name does not sufficiently provide the name of the debtor.

(d) Representative capacity. Failure to indicate the representative capacity of a secured party or representative of a secured party does not affect the sufficiency of a financing statement.

(e) Multiple debtors and secured parties. A financing statement may provide the name of more than one debtor and the name of more than one secured party.

(f) Name of decedent. The name of the decedent indicated on the order appointing the personal representative of the decedent issued by the court having jurisdiction over the collateral is sufficient as the "name of the decedent" under subsection (a)(4) of this section.

(g) Multiple driver's licenses. If this state has issued to an individual more than one driver's license or identification card of a kind described in subsection (a)(4) of this section, the one that was issued most recently is the one to which subsection (a)(4) of this section refers.

(h) Definition. In this section, the "name of the settlor or testator" means:

(1) If the settlor is a registered organization, the name that is stated to be the settlor's name on the public organic record most recently filed with or issued or enacted by the settlor's jurisdiction of organization which purports to state, amend, or restate the settlor's name;

(2) In other cases, the name of the settlor or testator indicated in the trust's organic record.

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Early Learning & K-12 Education be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the use of a basic skills test as an entrance requirement to teacher certification programs has unintentionally created a barrier to the effective recruitment of candidates from underrepresented populations who are otherwise qualified for the program. Therefore, the legislature intends to expand the pool of potential teacher candidates by expanding the types of testing instruments and assessments that may be used to measure basic skills. The legislature intends to review any alternative assessments to ensure that candidates must continue to meet the established standards for admission to a teacher certification program.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.410.220 and 2008 c 176 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Beginning not later than September 1, 2001, the Washington professional educator standards board shall make available and pilot a means of assessing an applicant's knowledge in the basic skills. For the purposes of this section, "basic skills" means the subjects of at least reading, writing, and mathematics."
Beginning September 1, 2002, except as provided in (c) and (d) of this subsection and subsection (4) of this section, passing this assessment shall be required for admission to approved teacher preparation programs and for persons from out-of-state applying for a Washington state residency teaching certificate.

(b) On an individual student basis, approved teacher preparation programs may admit into their programs a candidate who has not achieved the minimum basic skills assessment score established by the Washington professional educator standards board. Individuals so admitted may not receive residency certification without passing the basic skills assessment under this section.

(c) The Washington professional educator standards board may establish criteria to ensure that persons from out-of-state who are applying for residency certification and persons applying to master's degree level teacher preparation programs can demonstrate to the board's satisfaction that they have the requisite basic skills based upon having completed another basic skills assessment acceptable to the Washington professional educator standards board or by some other alternative approved by the Washington professional educator standards board.

(d) The Washington professional educator standards board may identify and accept other tests and test scores as long as the tests are comparable in rigor to the basic skills assessment and candidates meet or exceed the basic skills requirements established by the board. The board must set the acceptable score for admission to teacher certification programs at no lower than the average national scores for the SAT or ACT.

(2) The Washington professional educator standards board shall set performance standards and develop, pilot, and implement a uniform and externally administered professional-level certification assessment based on demonstrated teaching skill. In the development of this assessment, consideration shall be given to changes in professional certification program components such as the culminating seminar.

(3) Beginning not later than September 1, 2002, the Washington professional educator standards board shall provide for the initial piloting and implementation of a means of assessing an applicant's knowledge in the subjects for which the applicant has applied for an endorsement to his or her residency or professional teaching certificate. The assessment of subject knowledge shall not include instructional methodology. Beginning September 1, 2005, passing this assessment shall be required to receive an endorsement for certification purposes.

(4) The Washington professional educator standards board may permit exceptions from the assessment requirements under subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section on a case-by-case basis.

(5) The Washington professional educator standards board shall provide for reasonable accommodations for individuals who are required to take the assessments in subsection (1), (2), or (3) of this section if the individuals have learning or other disabilities.

(6) With the exception of applicants exempt from the requirements of subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section, an applicant must achieve a minimum assessment score or scores established by the Washington professional educator standards board on each of the assessments under subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section.

(7) The Washington professional educator standards board and superintendent of public instruction, as determined by the Washington professional educator standards board, may contract with one or more third parties for:

(c) Any combination of the purposes in this subsection.

(8) Applicants for admission to a Washington teacher preparation program and applicants for residency and professional certificates who are required to successfully complete one or more of the assessments under subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section, and who are charged a fee for the assessment by a third party contracted with under subsection (7) of this section, shall pay the fee charged by the contractor directly to the contractor. Such fees shall be reasonably related to the actual costs of the contractor in providing the assessment.

(9) The superintendent of public instruction is responsible for supervision and providing support services to administer this section.

board provides for a pledge of general indebtedness, each such bond must state upon its face that it is payable from the local improvement district redemption fund and the local improvement guarantee fund only.

As used in RCW 84.34.300 through 84.34.380, unless a different meaning is required, the words defined in this section shall have the meanings indicated.

The board may at any time require a bond in an additional sum.)) A local improvement district may include adjoining, vicinal, or neighboring improvements even though the improvements and the properties benefited are not connected or continuous. Such improvements may be owned by the United States, the state of Washington, the irrigation district, or another local government. Upon approval of the board of an adjoining irrigation district, an irrigation district may form local improvement districts or utility local improvement districts that are composed entirely or in part of territory within that adjoining district. Upon the filing of the petition the board, with the assistance of a competent engineer, shall make an investigation of the feasibility, cost, and need of the proposed local improvement together with the ability of the lands to pay the cost, and if it appears feasible, they ((shall)) may elect to have plans and an estimate of the cost prepared. If a protest against the establishment of the proposed improvement signed by a majority of the holders of title in the proposed local district is presented at or before the hearing, or if the proposed improvement should be found not feasible, too expensive, or not in the best interest of the district, or the lands to be benefited insufficient security for the costs, they shall dismiss the petition ((at the expense of the petitioners)).

Such notice must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which any portion of the land proposed to be included in such local improvement district lies. Such notice shall state that the lands within (said) the described boundaries are proposed to be organized as a local improvement district, stating generally the nature of the proposed improvement; that bonds for such local improvement district are proposed to be issued as the bonds of the irrigation district, or that a contract is proposed to be entered into between the district and the United States or the state of Washington, or both, that the lands within (said) the local improvement district are to be assessed for such improvement, that such bonds or contract will be (a primary) the obligation of such local improvement district (and a general obligation of the irrigation district) and stating a time and place of hearing thereon. At the time and place of hearing named in (said) the notice, all persons interested may appear before the board and show cause for or against the formation of the proposed improvement district and the issuance of bonds or the entering into of a contract as aforesaid. The board may designate a hearing officer to conduct the hearing and the hearing officer shall report recommendations on the establishment of the local improvement district to the board for final action. Upon the hearing the board shall determine as to the establishment of the proposed local improvement district. Any landowner whose lands can be served or will be benefited by the proposed improvement, may make application to the board at the time of hearing to include such land and the board of directors in such cases shall, at its discretion, include such lands within such district. The board of directors may exclude any land specified in (said) the notice from (said) the district provided, that in the judgment of the board, the inclusion thereof will not be practicable.

resolutions shall state generally the plan, character and extent of the proposed improvements, that the land proposed to be included in such improvement district will be assessed for such improvements; and that local improvement district bonds of the irrigation district will be issued or a contract entered into as hereinabove in this section provided to meet the cost thereof and that such bonds or contract will be (a primary) the obligation of such local improvement district (and a general obligation of the irrigation district). (Said) The resolution shall fix a time and place of hearing thereon and shall state that unless a majority of the holders of title or of evidence of title to lands within the proposed local improvement district file their written protest at or before (said) the hearing, consent to the improvement will be implied.

A notice containing a copy of (said) the resolution must be published once a week for two consecutive weeks preceding the date of such hearing and the last publication shall not be more than seven days before such date, and shall be mailed on or before the second publication date by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to each owner or reputed owner of real property within the proposed local improvement district, as shown on the rolls of the county treasurer as of a date not more than twenty days immediately prior to the date such notice was mailed, and the hearing thereon shall not be held in less than twenty days from the adoption of such resolution. Such notice must be published in one newspaper, of general circulation, in each county in which any portion of the land proposed to be included in such local improvement district lies. (Said) The hearing shall be held and all subsequent proceedings conducted in accordance with the provisions of this act relating to the organization of local improvement districts initiated upon petition.

Sec. 5. RCW 87.03.490 and 2003 c 53 s 412 are each bonds may be in any form, including bearer bonds or registered bonds as provided in RCW 39.46.030.

(3) The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited with the treasurer of the district, who shall place them in a special fund designated “Construction fund of local improvement district number . . . . .”

upon petition of the owners thereof and the consent of the United States or the state of Washington, or both, in the event the irrigation district has contracted with the United States or the state of Washington, or both, to repay the cost of the improvement:
PROVIDED, That at such time the lands so included shall pay their equitable proportion upon the basis of benefits of the improvement therefore made by the local improvement district and shall be liable

Updating and aligning with federal requirements hospital health care-associated infection rate reporting.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Becker moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Health Care be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 1. RCW 43.70.056 and 2010 c 113 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Health care-associated infection" means a localized or systemic condition that results from adverse reaction to the presence of an infectious agent or its toxins and that was not present or incubating at the time of admission to the hospital.

(b) "Hospital" means a health care facility licensed under chapter 70.41 RCW.

(2)(a) A hospital shall collect data related to health care-associated infections as required under this subsection (2) on the following:

(i) Beginning July 1, 2008, central line-associated bloodstream infection in the intensive care unit;

(ii) Beginning January 1, 2009, ventilator-associated pneumonia; and

(iii) Beginning January 1, 2010,) Central line-associated bloodstream infection in all hospital inpatient areas where patients normally reside at least twenty-four hours;

(ii) Surgical site infection for the following procedures:

(A) Deep sternal wound for cardiac surgery, including coronary artery bypass graft;

(B) Total hip and knee replacement surgery; and
(C) ((Hysterectomy, abdominal and vaginal.))

(b)(i) Except as required under (b)(ii) and (c) of this subsection,) Colon and abdominal hysterectomy procedures.

(b) The department shall, by rule, delete, add, or modify categories of reporting when the department determines that doing so is necessary to align state reporting with the reporting categories of the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services. The department shall begin rule making forty-five calendar days, or as soon as practicable, after the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services adopts changes to reporting requirements.

(c) A hospital must routinely collect and submit the data required to be collected under (a) and (b) of this subsection to the national healthcare safety network of the United States centers for disease control and prevention in accordance with national healthcare safety network definitions, methods, requirements, and procedures.

(((ii) Until the national health care safety network releases a revised module that successfully interfaces with a majority of computer systems of Washington hospitals required to report data under (a)(iii) of this subsection or three years, whichever occurs sooner, a hospital shall monthly submit the data required to be collected under (a)(iii) of this subsection to the Washington state hospital association's quality benchmarking system instead of the national health care safety network. The department shall not include data reported to the quality benchmarking system in reports published under subsection (3)(d) of this section. The data the hospital submits to the quality benchmarking system under (b)(ii) of this subsection:

(A) Must include the number of infections and the total number of surgeries performed for each type of surgery; and

(B) Must be the basis for a report developed by the Washington state hospital association and published on its web site that compares the health care-associated infection rates for surgical site infections at individual hospitals in the state using the data reported in the previous calendar year pursuant to this subsection. The report must be published on December 1, 2010, and every year thereafter until data is again reported to the national health care safety network.

((c)(i) With respect to any of the health care-associated infection measures for which reporting is required under (a) of this subsection, the department must, by rule, require hospitals to collect and submit the data to the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services according to the definitions, methods, requirements, and procedures of the hospital compare program, or its successor, instead of to the national healthcare safety network, if the department determines that:

(A) The measure is available for reporting under the hospital compare program, or its successor, under substantially the same definition; and

(B) Reporting under this subsection (2)(c) will provide substantially the same information to the public.

(ii) If the department determines that reporting of a measure must be conducted under this subsection (2)(c), the department must adopt rules to implement such reporting. The department's rules must require reporting to the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services as soon as practicable, but not more than one hundred twenty days, after the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services allow hospitals to report the respective measure to the hospital compare program, or its successor. However, if the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services allow infection rates to be reported using the centers for disease control and prevention's national healthcare safety network, the department's rules must require reporting that reduces the burden of data reporting and minimizes changes that hospitals must make to accommodate requirements for reporting.)

If the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services changes reporting from the national healthcare safety network to another database or through another process, the department shall review the new reporting database or process and consider whether it aligns with the purposes of this section.

(d) Data collection and submission required under this subsection (2) must be overseen by a qualified individual with the appropriate level of skill and knowledge to oversee data collection and submission.

(e)(i) A hospital must release to the department, or grant the department access to, its hospital-specific information contained in the reports submitted under this subsection (2), as requested by the department consistent with RCW 70.02.050.

(ii) The hospital reports obtained by the department under this subsection (2), and any of the information contained in them, are not subject to discovery by subpoena or admissible as evidence in a civil proceeding, and are not subject to public disclosure as provided in RCW 42.56.360.

(3) The department shall:

(a) Provide oversight of the health care-associated infection reporting program established in this section;

(b) By January 1, ((2011)) 2014, and biennially thereafter, submit a report to the appropriate committees of the legislature ((based on the recommendations of the advisory committee established in subsection (5) of this section for additional reporting requirements related to health care-associated infections, considering the methodologies and practices of the United States centers for disease control and prevention, the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services, the joint commission, the national quality forum, the institute for healthcare improvement, and other relevant organizations)) that contains: (i) Categories of reporting currently required of hospitals under subsection (2)(a) of this section; (ii) categories of reporting the department plans to add, delete, or modify by rule; and (iii) a description of the evaluation process used under (f) of this subsection;

(c) ((Delete, by rule, the reporting of categories that the department determines are no longer necessary to protect public health and safety;))

(d)) By December 1, 2016, report to the appropriate committees of the legislature with an update on the categories of reporting required under subsection (2)(a) of this section, any plans for federal reporting requirements on the categories, and recommendations for an expiration of the reporting requirements;

(d) By rule, delete, add, or modify categories of reporting when the department determines that it is necessary to align state reporting with the reporting categories of the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services. The department shall begin rule making forty-five calendar days, or as soon as practicable, after the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services adopts changes to reporting requirements.

(e) By December 1, 2009, and by each December 1st thereafter, prepare and publish a report on the department's web site that compares the health care-associated infection rates at individual hospitals in the state using the data reported in the previous calendar year pursuant to subsection (2) of this section. The department may update the reports quarterly. In developing a methodology for the report and determining its contents, the department shall consider the recommendations of the advisory committee established in subsection (5) of this section. The report is subject to the following:

(f) The report must disclose data in a format that does not release health information about any individual patient; and

(ii) The report must not include data if the department determines that a data set is too small or possesses other characteristics that make it otherwise unrepresentative of a hospital’s particular ability to achieve a specific outcome; (and
At (e) (f) Evaluate, on a regular basis, the quality and accuracy of health care-associated infection reporting required under subsection (2) of this section and the data collection, analysis, and reporting methodologies; and

(g) Provide assistance to hospitals with the reporting requirements of this chapter including definitions of required reporting elements.

(4) The department may respond to requests for data and other information from the data required to be reported under subsection (2) of this section, at the requestor's expense, for special studies and analysis consistent with requirements for confidentiality of patient records.

(5)(a) The department shall establish an advisory committee which may include members representing infection control professionals and epidemiologists, licensed health care providers, nursing staff, organizations that represent health care providers and facilities, health maintenance organizations, health care payers and consumers, and the department. The advisory committee shall make recommendations to assist the department in carrying out its responsibilities under this section, including making recommendations on allowing a hospital to review and verify data to be released in the report and on excluding from the report selected data from certified critical access hospitals. ((Annually beginning January 1, 2011, the advisory committee shall also make a recommendation to the department as to whether current science supports expanding presurgical screening for methicillin-resistant staphylococcus aureus prior to open chest cardiac, total hip, and total knee elective surgeries.))

(b) In developing its recommendations, the advisory committee shall consider methodologies and practices related to health care-associated infections of the United States centers for disease control and prevention, the centers for medicare and medicaid services, the joint commission, the national quality forum, the institute for healthcare improvement, and other relevant organizations.

(6) The department shall adopt rules as necessary to carry out its responsibilities under this section."

(1) An officer or employee of an authorized public entity, or the department of ecology at the request of an authorized public entity, may, consistent with subsection (2) of this section, board any vessel at any reasonable time for the purpose of:

(a) Administering this chapter, including identifying ownership of a vessel, assessing the structural integrity of a vessel, and assessing whether a vessel meets the criteria described under RCW 79.100.040(3); or

(b) For the department of ecology only, mitigating a potential threat to health, safety, or the environment under the authority provided in chapter 90.56 RCW.

(2)(a) Prior to boarding any vessel under the authority of this section, an officer or employee of an authorized public entity or the department of ecology must apply for and obtain an administrative search warrant in either Thurston county superior court or the superior court in the county where the vessel is located, unless a warrant is not otherwise required by law. The court may issue an administrative search warrant where the court has reasonable cause to believe it is necessary to achieve the purposes of this section.

(b) Prior to requesting an administrative search warrant under this subsection, the officer or employee must make a reasonable effort to contact the owner or the owner's designee and obtain consent to board the vessel.

(3) Nothing in this section affects an authorized public entity's authority to carry out actions under RCW 79.100.040 or any agency's existing authority to enter onto vessels under any other statute.

Sec. 36. RCW 90.56.410 and 1990 c 116 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department, through its duly authorized representatives, shall have the power to enter upon any private or public property, including the boarding of any ship, at any reasonable time, and the owner, managing agent, master, or occupant of such property shall permit such entry for the purpose of investigating conditions relating to violations or possible violations of this chapter, and to have access to any pertinent records relating to such property, including but not limited to operation and maintenance records and logs. The authority granted (herein) in this section shall not be construed to require any person to divulge trade secrets or secret processes. The director may issue subpoenas for the production of any books, records, documents, or witnesses in any hearing conducted pursuant to this chapter.

(2) The department may utilize the authority granted to it in section 35 of this act for the purposes of mitigating a potential threat to health, safety, or the environment from a vessel.

Sec. 37. RCW 79.100.040 and 2007 c 342 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Prior to exercising the authority granted in RCW 79.100.030, the authorized public entity must first obtain custody of the vessel. To do so, the authorized public entity must:

(a) Mail notice of its intent to obtain custody, at least twenty days prior to taking custody, to the last known address of the previous owner to register the vessel in any state or with the federal government and to any lien holders or secured interests on record. A notice need not be sent to the purported owner or any other person whose interest in the vessel is not recorded with a state or federal government and to any lien holders or secured interests on record. The notice may substitute the address of the purported owner or any other person whose interest in the vessel is not recorded with a state or federal government and to any lien holders or secured interests on record.

(b) Post notice of its intent clearly on the vessel for thirty days and publish its intent at least once, more than ten days but less than twenty days prior to taking custody, in a newspaper of general circulation for the county in which the vessel is located; and

(c) Post notice of its intent on the department’s internet web site on a page specifically designated for such notices. If the authorized public entity is not the department, the department must facilitate the internet posting.

(2) All notices sent, posted, or published in accordance with this section must, at a minimum, explain the intent of the authorized public entity to take custody of the vessel, the rights of the authorized public entity after taking custody of the vessel as provided in RCW 79.100.030, the procedures the owner must follow in order to avoid custody being taken by the authorized public entity, the procedures the owner must follow in order to reclaim possession after custody is taken by the authorized public entity, and the financial liabilities that the owner may incur as provided for in RCW 79.100.060.

(3)(a) [Repealed by Laws 2006 c 153 s 1; c 2006 s 17; c 2008 s 5; c 2010 s 17; c 2012 s 17; c 2013 s 17]

(b) Provide the department of natural resources with information under (a) of this subsection for each applicable vessel and, more broadly, to improve the department's understanding of the condition of the larger, older boats in the state's waters; and

(c) Discourage the future abandonment or dereliction of the vessel; and

(d) Maximize the efficiency and effectiveness of the inspection process, including with respect to the time and resources of the transferor, transferee, and the state.

(2) The department of natural resources shall work with appropriate government agencies and stakeholders in designing the inspection process and standards under this section.

(3) This section expires July 31, 2014.

Sec. 39. RCW 79.100.060 and 2006 c 153 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The owner of an abandoned or derelict vessel, or any person or entity that has incurred secondary liability under section 38 of this act, is responsible for reimbursing an authorized public entity for all reasonable and auditable costs associated with the removal or disposal of the owner's vessel under this chapter. These costs include, but are not limited to, costs incurred exercising the authority granted in RCW 79.100.030, all administrative costs incurred by the authorized public entity during the procedure set forth in RCW 79.100.040, removal and disposal costs, and costs associated with environmental damages directly or indirectly caused by the vessel. An authorized public entity that has taken temporary possession of a vessel may require that all reasonable and auditable costs associated with the removal of the vessel be paid before the vessel is released to the owner.

(2) Reimbursement for costs may be sought from an owner, or any person or entity that has incurred secondary liability under section 38 of this act, who is identified subsequent to the vessel's removal and disposal.

(3) If the full amount of all costs due to the authorized public entity under this chapter is not paid to the authorized public entity within thirty days after first notifying the responsible parties of the amounts owed, the authorized public entity or the department may bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the costs, plus reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs incurred by the authorized public entity.

Sec. 41. RCW 88.26.020 and 1993 c 474 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any private moorage facility operator may take reasonable measures, including the use of chains, ropes, and locks, or removal from the water, to secure vessels within the private moorage facility so that the vessels are in the possession and control of the operator and cannot be removed from the facility. These procedures may be used if an owner mooring or storing a vessel at the facility fails, after being notified that charges are owing and of the owner's right to commence legal proceedings to contest that such charges are owing, to pay charges owed or to commence legal proceedings. Notification shall be by two separate letters, one sent by first-class mail and one sent by registered mail to the owner and any lienholder of record at the last known address. In the case of a transient vessel, or where no address was furnished by the owner, the operator need not give notice prior to securing the vessel. At the time of securing the vessel, an operator shall attach to the vessel a readily visible notice. The notice shall be of a reasonable size and shall contain the following information:

(a) The date and time the notice was attached;

(b) A statement that if the account is not paid in full within ninety days from the time the notice is attached the vessel may be sold at public auction to satisfy the charges; and

(c) The address and telephone number where additional information may be obtained concerning release of the vessel.
After a vessel is secured, the operator shall make a reasonable effort to notify the owner and any lienholder of record by registered mail in order to give the owner the information contained in the notice.

(2) A private moorage facility operator, at his or her discretion, may move moored vessels ashore for storage within properties under the operator's control or for storage with a private person under their control as bailees of the private moorage facility, if the vessel is, in the opinion of the operator, a nuisance, in danger of sinking or creating other damage, or is owing charges. The costs of any such procedure shall be paid by the vessel's owner.

(3) If a vessel is secured under subsection (1) of this section or moved ashore under subsection (2) of this section, the owner who is obligated to the private operator for charges may regain possession of the vessel by:
   (a) Making arrangements satisfactory with the operator for the immediate removal of the vessel from the facility or for authorized moorage; and
   (b) Making payment to the operator of all charges, or by posting with the operator a sufficient cash bond or other acceptable security, to be held in trust by the operator pending written agreement of the parties with respect to payment by the vessel owner of the amount owing, or pending resolution of the matter of the charges in a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction. After entry of judgment, including any appeals, in a court of competent jurisdiction, or after the parties reach agreement with respect to payment, the trust shall terminate and the operator shall receive so much of the bond or other security as agreed, or as is necessary, to satisfy any judgment, costs, and interest as may be awarded to the operator. The balance shall be refunded immediately to the owner at the last known address.

(4) If a vessel has been secured by the operator under subsection (1) of this section and is not released to the owner under the bonding provisions of this section within ninety days after notifying or attempting to notify the owner under subsection (1) of this section, the vessel is conclusively presumed to have been abandoned by the owner.

(5) If a vessel moored or stored at a private moorage facility is abandoned, the operator may authorize the public sale of the vessel by authorized personnel consistent with this section, to the highest and best bidder for cash as follows:
   (a) Before the vessel is sold, the vessel owner and any lienholder of record shall be given at least twenty days' notice of the sale in the manner set forth in subsection (1) of this section if the name and address of the owner is known. The notice shall contain the time and place of the sale, a reasonable description of the vessel to be sold, and the amount of charges owed with respect to the vessel. The notice of sale shall be published at least once, more than ten but not more than twenty days before the sale, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the facility is located. This notice shall include the name of the vessel, if any, the last known owner and address, and a reasonable description of the vessel to be sold. The operator may bid all or part of its charges at the sale and may become a purchaser at the sale.
   (b) Before the vessel is sold, any person seeking to redeem an impounded vessel under this section may commence a lawsuit in the superior court for the county in which the vessel was impounded to contest the validity of the impoundment or the amount of charges owing. This lawsuit must be commenced within sixty days of the date the notification was provided under subsection (1) of this section, or the right to a hearing is deemed waived and the owner is liable for any charges owing the operator. In the event of litigation, the prevailing party is entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.
   (c) The proceeds of a sale under this section shall be applied first to the payment of any liens superior to the claim for charges, then to payment of the charges, then to satisfy any other liens on the vessel in the order of their priority. The balance, if any, shall be paid to the owner. If the owner cannot in the exercise of due diligence be located by the operator within one year of the date of the sale, the excess funds from the sale shall revert to the department of revenue under chapter 63.29 RCW. If the sale is for a sum less than the applicable charges, the operator is entitled to assert a claim for deficiency, however, the deficiency judgment shall not exceed the moorage fees owed for the previous six-month period.
   (d) In the event no one purchases the vessel at a sale, or a vessel is not removed from the premises or other arrangements are not made within ten days of sale, title to the vessel will revert to the operator.
   (e) Either a minimum bid may be established or a letter of credit may be required from the buyer, or both, to discourage the future abandonment of the vessel.

(6) The rights granted to a private moorage facility operator under this section are in addition to any other legal rights an operator may have to hold and sell a vessel and in no manner does this section alter those rights, or affect the priority of other liens on a vessel.

(1) The department may develop and administer a voluntary vessel turn-in program.
(2) The purpose of the vessel turn-in program is to allow the department to dismantle and dispose of vessels that pose a high risk of becoming a derelict vessel or abandoned vessel, but that do not yet meet the definition of those terms. The department shall design the program with the goal of dismantling and disposing of as many vessels as available resources allow, particularly those vessels posing the greatest risk of becoming abandoned or derelict in the future.
(3) The department shall disseminate information about the vessel turn-in program, including information about the application process, on its internet site and through appropriate agency publications and information sources as determined by the department. The department shall disseminate this information for a reasonable time as determined by the department prior to accepting applications.
(4) The department shall accept and review vessel turn-in program applications from eligible vessel owners, including private marinas that have gained legal title to a vessel in an advanced state of disrepair, during the time period or periods identified by the department. In order to be eligible for the vessel turn-in program, an applicant must demonstrate to the department's satisfaction that the applicant:
   (a) Is a Washington resident or business;
   (b) Owns a vessel that is in an advanced state of disrepair, has minimal or no value, and has a high likelihood of becoming an abandoned or derelict vessel; and
   (c) Has insufficient resources to properly dispose of the vessel outside of the vessel turn-in program.
(5) Decisions regarding program eligibility and whether to accept a vessel for dismantling and disposal under the turn-in program are within the sole discretion of the department.
(6) The department may take other actions not inconsistent with this section in order to develop and administer the vessel turn-in program.
(7) The department may not spend more than two hundred thousand dollars in any one biennium on the program established in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 43. (1) In compliance with RCW 43.01.036, the department of natural resources must provide a brief summary of the vessel turn-in program authorized under section 42 of this act to the legislature by September 1, 2014, including information about applications for the program, the vessels disposed of, and any recommendations for modification of the program.

(2) This section expires July 31, 2015.

Sec. 44. RCW 43.21B.305 and 2005 c 34 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In an appeal that involves a penalty of fifteen thousand dollars or less or that involves a derelict or abandoned vessel under RCW 79.100.120, the appeal may be heard by one member of the board, whose decision shall be the final decision of the board. The board shall define by rule alternative procedures to expedite appeals involving penalties of fifteen thousand dollars or less or involving a derelict or abandoned vessel. These alternatives may include: Mediation, upon agreement of all parties; submission of testimony by affidavit; or other forms that may lead to less formal and faster resolution of appeals.

(2) For appeals that involve a derelict or abandoned vessel under RCW 79.100.120 only, an administrative law judge employed by the board may be substituted for a board member under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45. (1) The department of natural resources must, in consultation with the department of ecology and appropriate stakeholders, evaluate potential changes to laws and rules related to derelict and abandoned vessels that increase vessel owner responsibility and address challenges associated with the economics of removing vessels from the water. This evaluation must include the development and analysis of:

(a) Administrative and legislative vessel owner responsibility options that seek to ensure the prevention and cleanup of derelict and abandoned vessels, including the development of mandatory processes for public and private moorage facility operators to employ in an effort to appropriately limit the transfer of high risk vessels; and

(b) The identification of challenges and roadblocks to deconstructing derelict vessels and transforming them into a viable scrap metal product.

(2) The department of natural resources may choose which appropriate stakeholders are consulted in the implementation of this section. However, persons with relevant expertise on financial responsibility mechanisms, such as insurance and surety bonds and letters of credit, must be included. The department of natural resources must also seek to ensure opportunities for interested members of the senate and house of representatives to provide input into the work group process and conclusions.

(3) The department of natural resources must provide a summary of the options developed by the work group, or a draft of proposed legislation, to the legislature consistent with RCW 43.01.036 by December 15, 2013.

(4) This section expires June 30, 2014.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. Section 33 of this act expires June 30, 2019.

Increasing the capacity of school districts to recognize and respond to troubled youth.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:
(a) According to the state department of health, suicide is the second leading cause of death for Washington youth between the ages of ten and twenty-four. Suicide rates among Washington youth remain higher than that national average;
(b) An increasing body of research shows an association between adverse childhood experiences such as trauma, violence, or abuse, and school performance. Children and teens spend a significant amount of time in school. Teachers and other school staff who interact with students daily are in a prime position to recognize the signs of emotional or behavioral distress and make appropriate referrals. School personnel need effective training to help build the skills and confidence to assist youth in seeking help; (c) Educators are not necessarily trained to address significant social, emotional, or behavioral issues exhibited by youth. Rather, best practices guidelines suggest that school districts should form partnerships with qualified health, mental health, and social services agencies to provide support; and (d) Current safe school plans prepared by school districts tend to focus more on natural disasters and external threats and less on how to recognize and respond to potential crises among the students inside the school.

(2) Therefore, the legislature intends to increase the capacity for school districts to recognize and respond to youth in need through additional training, more comprehensive planning, and emphasis on partnerships between schools and communities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.410 RCW to read as follows: (1) As provided under subsections (2) and (3) of this section, individuals certified by the professional educator standards board as a school nurse, school social worker, school psychologist, or school counselor must complete a training program on youth suicide screening and referral as a condition of certification. The training program must be at least three hours in length. The professional educator standards board must adopt standards for the minimum content of the training in consultation with the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the department of health. In developing the standards, the board must consider training programs listed on the best practices registry of the American foundation for suicide prevention and the suicide prevention resource center.

(2) This section applies to the following certificates if the certificate is first issued or is renewed on or after July 1, 2015: (a) Continuing certificates for school nurses; (b) Continuing certificates for school social workers; (c) Continuing and professional certificates for school psychologists; and (d) Continuing and professional certificates for school counselors.

(3) A school counselor who holds or submits a school counseling certificate from the national board for professional teaching standards or a school psychologist who holds or submits a school psychologist certificate from the national association of school psychologists in lieu of a professional certificate must complete the training program under subsection (1) of this section by July 1, 2015, or within the five-year period before the certificate is first submitted to the professional educator standards board, whichever is later, and at least once every five years thereafter in order to be considered certified by the professional educator standards board.

(4) The professional educator standards board shall consider the training program under subsection (1) of this section as approved continuing education under RCW 28A.415.020 and shall count the training program toward meeting continuing education requirements for certification as a school nurse, school social worker, school psychologist, or school counselor.

Sec. 3. RCW 28A.410.035 and 1990 c 90 s 1 are each amended to read as follows: (1) To receive initial certification as a teacher in this state after August 31, 1991, an applicant shall have successfully completed a course on issues of abuse. The content of the course shall discuss the identification of physical, emotional, sexual, and substance abuse, information on the impact of abuse on the behavior and learning abilities of students, discussion of the responsibilities of a teacher to report abuse or provide assistance to students who are the victims of abuse, and methods for teaching students about abuse of all types and their prevention.

(2) The professional educator standards board shall incorporate into the content required for the course under this section, knowledge and skill standards pertaining to recognition, initial screening, and response to emotional or behavioral distress in students, including but not limited to indicators of possible substance abuse, violence, and youth suicide. To receive initial certification after August 31, 2014, an applicant must have successfully completed a course that includes the content of this subsection. The board shall consult with the office of the superintendent of public instruction and the department of health in developing the standards.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows: (1) Beginning in the 2014-15 school year, each school district must adopt a plan for recognition, initial screening, and response to emotional or behavioral distress in students, including but not limited to indicators of possible substance abuse, violence, and youth suicide. The school district must annually provide the plan to all district staff.

(2) At a minimum the plan must address: (a) Identification of training opportunities in recognition, screening, and referral that may be available for staff; (b) How to use the expertise of district staff who have been trained in recognition, screening, and referral; (c) How staff should respond to suspicions, concerns, or warning signs of emotional or behavioral distress in students; (d) Identification and development of partnerships with community organizations and agencies for referral of students to health, mental health, substance abuse, and social support services, including development of at least one memorandum of understanding between the district and such an entity in the community or region; (e) Protocols and procedures for communication with parents; (f) How staff should respond to a crisis situation where a student is in imminent danger to himself or herself or others; and (g) How the district will provide support to students and staff after an incident of violence or youth suicide.

(3) The plan under this section may be a separate plan or a component of another district plan or policy, such as the harassment, intimidation, and bullying prevention policy under RCW 28A.300.2851 or the comprehensive safe school plan required under RCW 28A.320.125.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows: The office of the superintendent of public instruction and the school safety advisory committee shall develop a model school district plan for recognition, initial screening, and response to emotional or behavioral distress in students, including but not limited to indicators of possible substance abuse, violence, and youth suicide. The model plan must incorporate research-based best practices, including practices and protocols used in schools and school districts in other states. The model plan must be posted by February 1, 2014, on the school safety center web site, along with relevant resources and information to support school districts in developing and implementing the plan required under section 4 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28A.310 RCW to read as follows: Each educational service district shall develop and maintain the capacity to offer training for educators and other school district staff on youth suicide screening and referral, and on recognition, initial screening, and response to emotional or behavioral distress in students, including but not limited to indicators of possible substance abuse, violence, and youth suicide. An educational service district may demonstrate capacity by employing staff with sufficient expertise to offer the training or by contracting with individuals or organizations to offer the training. Training may be offered on a fee-for-service basis, or at no cost to school districts or educators if funds are appropriated specifically for this purpose or made available through grants or other sources.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall convene a temporary task force to identify best practices, model programs, and successful strategies for school districts to form partnerships with qualified health, mental health, and social services agencies in the community to coordinate and improve support for youth in need. The task force shall identify and develop resource documents to be posted on the school safety center web site, and submit a report with recommendations to the education committees of the legislature by December 1, 2013. The task force shall also explore the potential use of advance online youth emotional health and crisis response systems that have been developed for use in other countries. The task force must include the results of the review in its December 1st report.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The legislature finds that a lack of information about mental health problems among the general public leads to stigmatizing attitudes and prevents people from seeking help early and seeking the best sort of help. It also prevents people from providing support to family members, friends, and colleagues because they might not know what to do. This lack of knowledge about mental health problems limits the initial accessibility of evidence-based treatments and leads to a lack of support for people with a mental disorder from family, friends, and other members of the community.

(2) The focus on training for teachers and educational staff is intended to provide opportunities for early intervention when the first signs of developing mental illness may be recognized in children, teens, and young adults, so that appropriate referrals may be made to evidence-based behavioral health services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 71.24 RCW to read as follows:

Subject to appropriation for this specific purpose, the department shall provide funds for mental health first-aid training targeted at teachers and educational staff. The training will follow the model developed by the department of psychology in Melbourne, Australia. Instruction provided will describe common mental disorders that arise in youth, their possible causes and risk factors, the availability of evidence-based medical, psychological, and alternative treatments, processes for making referrals for behavioral health services, and methods to effectively render assistance in both initial intervention and crisis situations. The department shall collaborate with the office of the superintendent of public instruction to identify sites and methods of instruction that leverage local resources to the extent possible for the purpose of making the mental health first-aid training broadly available.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This act does not create any civil liability on the part of the state or any state agency, officer, employee, agent, political subdivision, or school district.”

MOTION

Senator Padden moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Padden and Kohl-Welles be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes there are many state agencies and private organizations that might be called on to provide services to victims of sex trafficking. Victims of human trafficking are often in need of services such as emergency medical attention, food and shelter, vocational and English language training, mental health counseling, and legal support. The state intends to improve the response of state, local, and private entities to incidents of trafficking of humans. Victims would be better served if there is an established, coordinated system of identifying the needs of sex trafficking victims, training of service delivery agencies and staff, timely and appropriate delivery of services, and better investigations and prosecutions of trafficking.

Leadership in providing services to victims of sex trafficking also extends beyond government efforts and is grounded in the work of highly dedicated individuals and community-based groups. Without these efforts the struggle against human trafficking will be very difficult to win. The legislature, therefore, finds that such efforts merit regular public recognition and appreciation. Such recognition and appreciation will encourage the efforts of all persons to end sex trafficking, and provide the public with information and education about the necessity of its involvement in this struggle.

The clerk of the board of county commissioners shall certify a copy of the resolution and cause it to be filed for record in the offices of the county auditor and the county assessor of the county. The certified copy shall be entitled to record without payment of a recording fee. If the certificate of the canvassing officials shows that the proposition to organize the proposed cemetery district failed to receive two-thirds of the votes cast at said election, the board of county commissioners shall enter a minute to that effect and all proceedings therefor shall have become)) (1) The returns of the election must be canvassed following the election, but the canvass may be adjourned from time to time to await the receipt of election returns. Upon conclusion of the canvass, the canvassing officials must certify the results to the county legislative authority.

(2) The cemetery district is formed if two-thirds of all votes cast at the election were in favor of the formation of the proposed district. However, in counties with only one municipality the district is formed if a majority of all votes cast at the election were in favor of the formation of the proposed district.

(3) If the proposition to form the proposed district received the voter approval required under this section, the county legislative authority must by resolution recorded in the county legislative authority's minutes: Declare the district formed under the name and number previously designated; and declare the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes for cemetery district commissioners as the duly elected first commissioners of the district. NINETY SECOND DAY, APRIL 15, 2013

Senator Litzow moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be not adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.215 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the first five years of a child's life establish the foundation for educational success. The legislature also finds that children who have high quality early learning opportunities from birth through age five are more likely to succeed throughout their K-12 education and beyond. The legislature further finds that the benefits of high quality early learning experiences are particularly significant for low-income parents and children, and provide an opportunity to narrow the opportunity gap in Washington's K-12 educational system. The legislature understands that early supports for high-risk parents of young children through home visiting services show a high return on investment due to significantly improved chances of better education, health, and life outcomes for children. The legislature further recognizes that, when parents work or go to school, high quality and full-day early learning opportunities should be available and accessible for their children. In order to improve education outcomes, particularly for low-income children, the legislature is committed to expanding high quality early learning opportunities and integrating currently disparate funding streams for all birth-to-five early learning services including, working connections child care and the early childhood education and assistance program, into a single high quality continuum of learning that provides essential services to low-income families and prepares all enrolled children for success in school. The legislature therefore intends to establish the early start program to provide a continuum of high quality and accountable early learning opportunities for Washington's parents and children.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.150.220 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 27 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In order for students to have the opportunity to develop the basic education knowledge and skills under RCW 28A.150.210, school districts must provide instruction of sufficient quantity and quality and give students the opportunity to complete graduation requirements that are intended to prepare them for postsecondary education, gainful employment, and citizenship. The program established under this section shall be the minimum instructional program of basic education offered by school districts.

(2) Each school district shall make available to students the following minimum instructional offering each school year:

(a) For students enrolled in grades one through twelve, at least a district-wide annual average of one thousand hours, which shall be increased to at least one thousand eighty instructional hours for students enrolled in each of grades seven through twelve and at least one thousand instructional hours for students in each of grades one through six according to an implementation schedule adopted by the legislature, but not before the 2014-15 school year; and

(b) For students enrolled in kindergarten, at least four hundred twenty-four hours;

(3) The instructional program of basic education provided by each school district shall include:

(a) Instruction in the essential academic learning requirements under RCW 28A.655.070;

(b) Instruction that provides students the opportunity to complete twenty-four credits for high school graduation, subject to a phased-in implementation of the twenty-four credits as established by the legislature. Course distribution requirements may be established by the state board of education under RCW 28A.230.090;

(c) If the essential academic learning requirements include a requirement of languages other than English, the requirement may be met by students receiving instruction in one or more American Indian languages;

(d) Supplemental instruction and services for underachieving students through the learning assistance program under RCW 28A.165.005 through 28A.165.065;

(e) Supplemental instruction and services for eligible and enrolled students whose primary language is other than English through the transitional bilingual instruction program under RCW 28A.180.010 through 28A.180.080;

(f) The opportunity for an appropriate education at public expense as defined by RCW 28A.155.020 for all eligible students with disabilities as defined in RCW 28A.155.020; and

(g) Programs for highly capable students under RCW 28A.185.010 through 28A.185.030.

(4) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require individual students to attend school for any particular number of hours per day or to take any particular courses.

(5) Each school district's kindergarten through twelfth grade basic educational program shall be accessible to all students who are five years of age, as provided by RCW 28A.225.160, and less than twenty-one years of age and shall consist of a minimum of one hundred eighty school days per school year in such grades as are conducted by a school district, and one hundred eighty half-days of instruction, or equivalent, in kindergarten, to be increased to a minimum of one hundred eighty school days per school year according to the implementation schedule under RCW 28A.150.315. However, schools administering the Washington kindergarten inventory of developing skills may use up to three school days at the beginning of the school year to meet with parents and families as required in the parent involvement component of the inventory. In addition, effective May 1, 1979, a school district may schedule the last five school days of the one hundred and eighty day school year for noninstructional purposes in the case of students who are graduating from high school, including, but not limited to, the observance of graduation and early release from school upon the request of a student, and all such students may be claimed as a full-time equivalent student to the extent they could otherwise have been so claimed for the purposes of RCW 28A.150.250 and 28A.150.260.

(6) Nothing in this section precludes a school district from enriching the instructional program of basic education, such as offering additional instruction or providing additional services, programs, or activities that the school district determines to be appropriate for the education of the school district's students.

(7) The state board of education shall adopt rules to implement and ensure compliance with the program requirements imposed by this section, RCW 28A.150.230 and 28A.150.260, and such related supplemental program approval requirements as the state board may establish.

The motion by Senator Litzow carried and the committee striking amendment was not adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Litzow and McAuliffe be adopted:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 43.215 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the first five years of a child's life establish the foundation for educational success. The legislature also finds that children who have high quality early learning opportunities from birth through age five are more likely to succeed throughout their K-12 education and beyond. The legislature further finds that the benefits of high quality early learning experiences are particularly significant for low-income parents and children, and provide an opportunity to narrow the opportunity gap in Washington's K-12 educational system. The legislature understands that early supports for high-risk parents of young children through home visiting services show a high return on investment due to significantly improved chances of better education, health, and life outcomes for children. The legislature further recognizes that, when parents work or go to school, high quality and full-day early learning opportunities should be available and accessible for their children. In order to improve education outcomes, particularly for low-income children, the legislature is committed to expanding high quality early learning opportunities and integrating currently disparate funding streams for all birth-to-five early learning services including, working connections child care and the early childhood education and assistance program, into a single high quality continuum of learning that provides essential services to low-income families and prepares all enrolled children for success in school. The legislature therefore intends to establish the early start program to provide a continuum of high quality and accountable early learning opportunities for Washington's parents and children.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.150.220 and 2011 1st sp.s c 27 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In order for students to have the opportunity to develop the basic education knowledge and skills under RCW 28A.150.210, school districts must provide instruction of sufficient quantity and quality and give students the opportunity to complete graduation requirements that are intended to prepare them for postsecondary education, gainful employment, and citizenship. The program established under this section shall be the minimum instructional program of basic education offered by school districts.

(2) Each school district shall make available to students the following minimum instructional offering each school year:

(a) For students enrolled in grades one through twelve, at least a district-wide annual average of one thousand hours, which shall be increased to at least one thousand eighty instructional hours for students enrolled in each of grades seven through twelve and at least one thousand instructional hours for students in each of grades one through six according to an implementation schedule adopted by the legislature, but not before the 2014-15 school year; and

(b) For students enrolled in kindergarten, at least four hundred fifty instructional hours, which shall be increased to at least one thousand instructional hours according to the implementation schedule under RCW 28A.150.315.

(3) The instructional program of basic education provided by each school district shall include:

(a) Instruction in the essential academic learning requirements under RCW 28A.655.070;

(b) Instruction that provides students the opportunity to complete twenty-four credits for high school graduation, subject to a phased-in implementation of the twenty-four credits as established by the legislature. Course distribution requirements may be established by the state board of education under RCW 28A.230.090;

(c) If the essential academic learning requirements include a requirement of languages other than English, the requirement may be met by students receiving instruction in one or more American Indian languages;

(d) Supplemental instruction and services for underachieving students through the learning assistance program under RCW 28A.165.005 through 28A.165.065;

(e) Supplemental instruction and services for eligible and enrolled students whose primary language is other than English through the transitional bilingual instruction program under RCW 28A.180.010 through 28A.180.080;

(g) Programs for highly capable students under RCW 28A.185.010 through 28A.185.030.

(4) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require individual students to attend school for any particular number of hours per day or to take any particular courses.

(5) Each school district's kindergarten through twelfth grade basic educational program shall be accessible to all students who are five years of age, as provided by RCW 28A.225.160, and less than twenty-one years of age and shall consist of a minimum of one hundred eighty school days per school year in such grades as are conducted by a school district, and one hundred eighty half-days of instruction, or equivalent, in kindergarten, to be increased to a minimum of one hundred eighty school days per school year according to the implementation schedule under RCW 28A.150.315. However, schools administering the Washington kindergarten inventory of developing skills may use up to three school days at the beginning of the school year to meet with parents and families as required in the parent involvement component of the inventory. In addition, effective May 1, 1979, a school district may schedule the last five school days of the one hundred and eighty day school year for noninstructional purposes in the case of students who are graduating from high school, including, but not limited to, the observance of graduation and early release from school upon the request of a student, and all such students may be claimed as a full-time equivalent student to the extent they could otherwise have been so claimed for the purposes of RCW 28A.150.250 and 28A.150.260.

(6) Nothing in this section precludes a school district from enriching the instructional program of basic education, such as offering additional instruction or providing additional services, programs, or activities that the school district determines to be appropriate for the education of the school district's students.

(7) The state board of education shall adopt rules to implement and ensure compliance with the program requirements imposed by this section, RCW 28A.150.250 and 28A.150.260, and such related supplemental program approval requirements as the state board may establish.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) All claims under this chapter must be filed in superior court. The venue for such actions is governed by RCW 4.12.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) In order to file an actionable claim for compensation under this chapter, the claimant must establish by documentary evidence that:

(a) The claimant has been convicted of one or more felonies in superior court and subsequently sentenced to a term of imprisonment, and has served all or part of the sentence;

(b) The claimant is not currently incarcerated for any offense; and

(ii) During the period of confinement for which the claimant is seeking compensation, the claimant was not serving a term of imprisonment or a concurrent sentence for any crime other than the felony or felonies that are the basis for the claim;

(c) The claimant has been pardoned on grounds consistent with innocence for the felony or felonies that are the basis for the claim; or

(d) The claimant's judgment of conviction was reversed or vacated and the charging document dismissed on the basis of significant new exculpatory information or, if a new trial was ordered pursuant to the presentation of significant new exculpatory information, either the claimant was found not guilty at the new trial or the claimant was not retried and the charging document dismissed; and

(d) The claimant did not commit perjury, or fabricate evidence to cause or bring about the conviction. A guilty plea to a crime the claimant did not commit, or a confession that is later determined by a court to be false, does not automatically constitute perjury or fabricated evidence under this subsection.

(3) Convictions vacated, overturned, or subject to resentencing pursuant to In re: Personal Detention of Andress, 147 Wn.2d 602 (2002) may not serve as the basis for a claim under this chapter unless the claimant otherwise satisfies the qualifying criteria set forth in section 2 of this act and this section.

(4) The claimant may not be compensated for any period of time in which he or she was serving a term of imprisonment or a concurrent sentence for any conviction other than the felony or felonies that are the basis for the claim.

(4) The claimant may not be compensated for any period of time in which he or she was serving a term of imprisonment or a concurrent sentence for any conviction other than the felony or felonies that are the basis for the claim.

(5) If the jury or, in the case where the right to a jury is waived, the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the claimant was wrongly convicted, the court must order the state to pay the actually innocent claimant the following compensation award, as adjusted for partial years served and to account for inflation from the effective date of this section:

(a) Fifty thousand dollars for each year of actual confinement including time spent awaiting trial and an additional fifty thousand dollars for each year served under a sentence of death pursuant to chapter 10.95 RCW;
(b) Twenty-five thousand dollars for each year served on parole, community custody, or as a registered sex offender pursuant only to the felony or felonies which are grounds for the claim;

(c) Compensation for child support payments owed by the claimant that became due and interest on child support arrearages that accrued while the claimant was in custody on the felony or felonies that are grounds for the compensation claim. The funds must be paid on the claimant's behalf in a lump sum payment to the department of social and health services for disbursement under Title 26 RCW;

(d) Reimbursement for all restitution, assessments, fees, court costs, and all other sums paid by the claimant as required by pretrial orders and the judgment and sentence; and

(e) Attorneys' fees for successfully bringing the wrongful conviction claim calculated at ten percent of the monetary damages awarded under subsection (5)(a) and (b) of this section, plus expenses. However, attorneys' fees and expenses may not exceed seventy-five thousand dollars. These fees may not be deducted from the compensation award due to the claimant and counsel is not entitled to receive additional fees from the client related to the claim.

The court may not award any attorneys' fees to the claimant if the claimant fails to prove he or she was wrongly convicted.

(6) The compensation award may not include any punitive damages.

(7) The court may not offset the compensation award by any expenses incurred by the state, the county, or any political subdivision of the state including, but not limited to, expenses of the award under this section. However, any action by the state challenging or appealing the grant of judicial relief and satisfaction of other conditions described in this act, an action for compensation under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) On or after the effective date of this section, when a court grants judicial relief, such as reversal and vacation of a person's conviction, consistent with the criteria established in section 4 of this act, the court must provide to the claimant a copy of sections 2 through 12 of this act at the time the relief is granted.

(2) The clemency and pardons board or the indeterminate sentence review board, whichever is applicable, upon issuance of a pardon by the governor on grounds consistent with innocence on or after the effective date of this section, must provide a copy of sections 2 through 12 of this act to the individual pardoned.

(3) If an individual entitled to receive the information required under this section shows that he or she was not provided with the information, he or she has an additional twelve months, beyond the statute of limitations under section 9 of this act, to bring a claim under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) It is the intent of the legislature that the remedies and compensation provided under this chapter shall be exclusive to all other remedies at law and in equity against the state or any political subdivision of the state. As a requirement to making a request for relief under this chapter, the claimant waives any and all other remedies, causes of action, and other forms of relief or compensation against the state, any political subdivision of the state, and their officers, employees, agents, and volunteers related to the claimant's wrongful conviction and imprisonment. This waiver shall also include all state, common law, and federal claims for relief, including claims pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1983. A wrongfully convicted person who elects not to pursue a claim for compensation pursuant to this chapter shall not be precluded from seeking relief through any other existing remedy. The claimant must execute a legal release prior to the payment of any compensation under this chapter. If the release is held invalid for any reason and the claimant is awarded compensation under this chapter and receives a tort award related to his or her wrongful conviction and incarceration, the claimant must reimburse the state for the lesser of:

(a) The amount of the compensation award, excluding the portion awarded pursuant to section 6(5)(c) through (e) of this act; or

(b) The amount received by the claimant under the tort award.

(2) A release dismissal agreement, plea agreement, or any similar agreement whereby a prosecutor's office or an agent acting on its behalf agrees to take or refrain from certain action if the accused individual agrees to forgo legal action against the county, the state of Washington, or any political subdivision, is admissible and should be evaluated in light of all the evidence. However, any such agreement is not dispositive of the question of whether the claimant was wrongly convicted or entitled to compensation under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Except as provided in section 7 of this act, an action for compensation under this chapter must be commenced within three years after the grant of a pardon, the grant of judicial relief and satisfaction of other conditions described in section 2 of this act, or release from custody, whichever is later. However, any action by the state challenging or appealing the grant of judicial relief or release from custody tolls the three-year period. Any persons meeting the criteria set forth in section 2 of this act who
NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. All payments by the state under this chapter shall be paid from the liability account established under RCW 4.92.130.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 28B.15 RCW to read as follows:

(a) A wrongly convicted person; and

(b) Any child or stepchild of a wrongly convicted person who was born or became the stepchild of, or was adopted by, the wrongly convicted person before compensation is awarded under section 6 of this act.

(2) The following conditions apply to waivers under subsection (1) of this section:

(a) A wrongly convicted person must be a Washington domiciliary to be eligible for the tuition waiver.

(b) A child must be a Washington domiciliary ages seventeen through twenty-six years to be eligible for the tuition waiver. A child's marital status does not affect eligibility.

(c) Each recipient's continued participation is subject to the school's satisfactory progress policy.

(d) Tuition waivers for graduate students are not required for those who qualify under subsection (1) of this section but are encouraged.

(e) Recipients who receive a waiver under subsection (1) of this section may attend full time or part time. Total credits earned using the waiver may not exceed two hundred quarter credits, or the equivalent of semester credits.

(3) Private vocational schools and private higher education institutions are encouraged to provide waivers consistent with the terms of this section.

(4) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "Child" means a biological child, stepchild, or adopted child who was born of, became the stepchild of, or was adopted by a wrongly convicted person before compensation is awarded under section 6 of this act.

(b) "Fees" includes all assessments for costs incurred as a condition to a student's full participation in coursework and related activities at an institution of higher education.

(c) "Washington domiciliary" means a person whose true, fixed, and permanent house and place of habitation is the state of Washington. In ascertaining whether a wrongly convicted person or child is domiciled in the state of Washington, public institutions of higher education must, to the fullest extent possible, rely upon the standards provided in RCW 28B.15.013.

(d) "Wrongly convicted person" means a Washington domiciliary who was awarded damages under section 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 72.09 RCW to read as follows:

When a court refers a person to the department under section 6 of this act as part of the person's award in a wrongful conviction claim, the department must provide reasonable access to existing reentry programs and services. Nothing in this section requires the department to establish new reentry programs or services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Sec. 1981 et seq or for the tortious conduct of its officers, employees, and volunteers and all related legal defense costs.

(1) The purpose of the liability account is to: (a) Expedi tiously pay legal liabilities and defense costs of the state resulting from tortious conduct; (b) promote risk control through a cost allocation system which recognizes agency loss experience, levels of self-retention, and levels of risk exposure, including the payment of compensation awarded by a court under section 6 of this act; and (c) establish an actuarially sound system to pay incurred losses, within defined limits.

(2) The liability account shall be used to pay claims for injury and property damages and legal defense costs exclusive of agency-retained expenses otherwise budgeted.

(3) No money shall be paid from the liability account, except for defense costs, unless all proceeds available to the claimant from any valid and collectible liability insurance shall have been exhausted and unless:

(a) The claim shall have been reduced to final judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(b) The claim has been approved for payment.

(4) The liability account shall be financed through annual premiums assessed to state agencies, based on sound actuarial principles, and shall be for liability coverage in excess of agency-budgeted self-retention levels.

(5) Annual premium levels shall be determined by the risk manager. An actuarial study shall be conducted to assist in determining the appropriate level of funding.

(6) Disbursements for claims from the liability account shall be made to the claimant, or to the clerk of the court for judgments, upon written request to the state treasurer from the risk manager.

(7) The director may direct agencies to transfer moneys from other funds and accounts to the liability account if premiums are delinquent.

(8) The liability account shall not exceed fifty percent of the actuarial value of the outstanding liability as determined annually by the office of risk management. If the account exceeds the maximum amount specified in this section, premiums may be adjusted by the office of risk management in order to maintain the account balance at the maximum limits. If, after adjustment of premiums, the account balance remains above the limits specified, the excess amount shall be prorated back to the appropriate funds.

(9) The payment of compensation for wrongful conviction awarded by a court under section 6 of this act does not constitute a finding that the wrongful conviction resulted from tortious conduct by the officers or employees of the state or the political subdivisions, municipal corporations, and quasi-municipal corporations of the state."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

(1)(a) Vehicles or other items of personal property registered or titled with the department that are impounded by registered tow truck operators pursuant to RCW 46.55.080, 46.55.085, 46.55.113, or 9A.88.140 may be redeemed only (under the following circumstances) by the following persons or entities:

(i) The legal owner;
(ii) The registered owner;
(iii) A person authorized in writing by the registered owner ((or the vehicle's insurer));
(iv) The vehicle's insurer or a vendor working on behalf of the vehicle's insurer;
(v) A third-party insurer that has a duty to repair or replace the vehicle, has obtained consent from the registered owner or the owner's agent to move the vehicle, and has documented that consent in the insurer's claim file, or a vendor working on behalf of a third-party insurer that has received such consent; provided, however, that at all times the registered owner must be granted access to the vehicle. For the purposes of this subsection, "owner's agent" means the legal owner of the vehicle, a driver in possession of the vehicle with the registered owner's permission, or an adult member of the registered owner's family;
(vi) A person who is determined and verified by the operator to have the permission of the registered owner of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department((or one))

(b) In addition, a vehicle impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1)(c) shall not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under (a) of this subsection ((([[1])])) satisfies the requirements of (([[1])) (f) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency. If the department's records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. A vehicle impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 may be released only pursuant to a written order from the agency that ordered the vehicle impounded or from the court having jurisdiction. An agency shall issue a written order to release pursuant to a provision of an applicable state agency rule or local ordinance authorizing release on the basis of the following:

(i) Economic or personal hardship to the spouse of the operator, taking into consideration public safety factors, including the operator's criminal history and driving record;
(ii) The owner of the vehicle was not the driver, the owner did not know that the driver's license was suspended or revoked, and the owner has not received a prior release under this subsection or RCW 46.55.113(3).

In order to avoid discriminatory application, other than for the reasons for release set forth in (([[1))) (b)(i) and (ii) of this subsection, an agency shall, under a provision of an applicable state agency rule or local ordinance, deny release in all other circumstances without discretion.

If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is in violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b), the vehicle may be held for up to thirty days at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded. However, if the department's records show that the operator has been convicted of a violation of RCW 46.20.342(1) (a) or (b) or a similar local ordinance within the past five years, the vehicle may be held at the written direction of the agency ordering the vehicle impounded for up to sixty days, and for up to ninety days if the operator has two or more such prior offenses. If a vehicle is impounded because the operator is arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342, the vehicle may not be released until a person eligible to redeem it under (a) of this subsection ((([[1])])) satisfies the requirements of (([[1])) (f) of this subsection, including paying all towing, removal, and storage fees, notwithstanding the fact that the hold was ordered by a government agency.

 [[[1))) (c) If the vehicle is directed to be held for a suspended license impound, a person who desires to redeem the vehicle at the end of the period of impound shall within five days of the impound at the request of the tow truck operator pay a security deposit to the tow truck operator of not more than one-half of the applicable impound storage rate for each day of the proposed suspended license impound. The tow truck operator shall credit this amount to the vehicle's insurer.

 [[[1))) (d) If the vehicle is directed to be held for a suspended license impound, a person who desires to redeem the vehicle at the end of the period of impound shall within five days of the impound at the request of the tow truck operator pay a security deposit to the tow truck operator of not more than one-half of the applicable impound storage rate for each day of the proposed suspended license impound. The tow truck operator shall credit this amount to the vehicle's insurer. The security deposit required by this section may be paid and must be accepted at any time up to twenty-four hours before the beginning of the auction to sell the vehicle as abandoned. The registered owner is not eligible to purchase the vehicle at the auction, and the tow truck operator shall sell the vehicle to the highest bidder who is not the registered owner.

(((e))) (d) Notwithstanding (((b))) (c) of this subsection, a rental car business may immediately redeem a rental vehicle it owns by payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage, whereupon the vehicle will not be held for a suspended license impound.

(((e))) (e) Notwithstanding (((b))) (c) of this subsection, a motor vehicle dealer or lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle may redeem or lawfully repossess a vehicle immediately by payment of the costs of removal, towing, and storage, whereupon the vehicle will not be held for a suspended license impound. A motor vehicle dealer or lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle may not knowingly and intentionally engage in collusion with a registered owner to repossess and then return or resell a vehicle to the registered owner in an attempt to avoid a suspended license impound. However, this provision does not preclude a vehicle dealer or a lender with a perfected security interest in the vehicle from repossessing the vehicle upon the appropriate court order, in accordance with chapter 62A.9A RCW, including providing redemption rights to the debtor under RCW 62A.9A-623.

If the debtor is the registered owner of the vehicle, the debtor's right to redeem the vehicle under chapter 62A.9A RCW is conditioned upon the debtor obtaining and providing proof from the impounding authority or court having jurisdiction that any fines, penalties, and forfeitures owed by the registered owner, as a result of the suspended license impound, have been paid, and proof of the payment must be tendered to the vehicle dealer or lender at the time the debtor tenders all other obligations required to redeem the vehicle. Vehicle dealers or lenders are not liable for damages if they rely in good faith on an order from the impounding agency or a court in releasing a vehicle held under a suspended license impound.

(((e))) (f) The vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall be released upon the presentation to any person having custody of the vehicle of commercially reasonable tender sufficient to cover the costs of towing, storage, or other services rendered during the course of towing, removing, impounding, or storing any such vehicle, with credit being given for the amount of any security deposit paid under (((b))) (c) of this subsection. In addition, if a vehicle is impounded because the operator was arrested for a violation of RCW 46.20.342 or 46.20.345 and was being operated by the registered owner when it was impounded under local ordinance or agency rule, it must not be released to any person until the registered owner establishes with the agency that ordered the vehicle impounded or the court having jurisdiction that any penalties, fines, or forfeitures owed by him or her have been satisfied. Registered tow truck operators are not liable for damages if they rely in good faith on an order from the impounding agency or a court in releasing a vehicle held under a suspended license impound. Commercially reasonable tender shall include, without limitation, cash, major bank credit cards issued by financial institutions, or personal checks drawn on Washington state branches of financial institutions if accompanied by two pieces of valid identification, one of which may be required by the operator to have a photograph. If the towing firm cannot determine through the customer's bank or a check verification service that the presented check would be paid by the bank or guaranteed by the service, the towing firm may refuse to accept the check. Any person who stops payment on a personal check or credit card, or does not make restitution within ten days from the date a check becomes insufficient due to lack of funds, to a towing firm that has provided a service pursuant to this section or in any other manner defrauds the towing firm in connection with services rendered pursuant to this section shall be liable for damages in the amount of twice the towing and storage fees, plus costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

(2)(a) The registered tow truck operator shall give to each person who seeks to redeem an impounded vehicle, or item of personal property registered or titled with the department, written notice of the right of redemption and opportunity for a hearing, which notice shall be accompanied by a form to be used for requesting a hearing, the name of the person or agency authorizing the impound, and a copy of the towing and storage invoice. The registered tow truck operator shall maintain a record evidenced by the redeeming person's signature that such notification was provided.

(b) Any person seeking to redeem an impounded vehicle under this section has a right to a hearing in the district or municipal court for the jurisdiction in which the vehicle was impounded to contest the validity of the impoundment or the amount of towing and storage charges. The district court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving all impoundments including those authorized by the state or its agents. The municipal court has jurisdiction to determine the issues involving impoundments authorized by agents of the municipality. Any request for a hearing shall be made in writing on the form provided for that purpose and must be received by the appropriate court within ten days of the date the opportunity was provided for in (((subsection (2))))) (a) of this subsection and more than five days before the date of the auction. At the time of the filing of the hearing request, the petitioner shall pay to the court clerk a filing fee in the same amount required for the filing of a suit in district court. If the hearing request is not received by the court within the ten-day period, the right to a hearing is waived and the registered owner is liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment charges permitted under this chapter. Upon receipt of a timely hearing request, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the validity of the impoundment.

(3)(a) The court, within five days after the request for a hearing, shall notify the registered tow truck operator, the person requesting the hearing if not the owner, the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department, and the person or agency authorizing the impound in writing of the hearing date and time.

(b) At the hearing, the person or persons requesting the hearing may produce any relevant evidence to show that the impoundment, towing, or storage fees charged were not proper. The court may consider a written report made under oath by the officer who authorized the impoundment in lieu of the officer's personal appearance at the hearing.

(c) At the conclusion of the hearing, the court shall determine whether the impoundment was proper, whether the towing or storage fees charged were in compliance with the posted rates, and who is responsible for payment of the fees. The court may not adjust fees or charges that are in compliance with the posted or contracted rates.

(d) If the impoundment is found proper, the impoundment, towing, and storage fees as permitted under this chapter together with court costs shall be assessed against the person or persons requesting the hearing, unless the operator did not have a signed and valid impoundment authorization from a private property owner or an authorized agent.

(e) If the impoundment is determined to be in violation of this chapter, then the registered and legal owners of the vehicle or other item of personal property registered or titled with the department shall bear no impoundment, towing, or storage fees, and any security shall be returned or discharged as appropriate, and the person or agency who authorized the impoundment shall be liable for any towing, storage, or other impoundment fees permitted under this chapter. The court shall enter judgment in favor of the registered tow truck operator against the person or agency authorizing the impoundment for the impoundment, towing, and storage fees paid. In addition, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the Concerning stand-alone dental coverage.

MOTION

Senator Becker moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 1. RCW 48.43.715 and 2012 c 87 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Consistent with federal law, the commissioner, in consultation with the board and the health care authority, shall, by rule, select the largest small group plan in the state by enrollment as the benchmark plan for the individual and small group market for purposes of establishing the essential health benefits in Washington state under P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended.

(2) If the essential health benefits benchmark plan for the individual and small group market does not include all of the ten benefit categories specified by section 1302 of P.L. 111-148, as amended, the commissioner, in consultation with the board and the health care authority, shall, by rule, supplement the benchmark plan benefits as needed to meet the minimum requirements of section 1302.

(3) A health plan required to offer the essential health benefits, other than a health plan offered through the federal basic health program or medicaid, under P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended, may not be offered in the state unless the commissioner finds that it is substantially equal to the benchmark plan. When making this determination, the commissioner ((must)): (a) Must ensure that the plan covers the ten essential health benefits categories specified in section 1302 of P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended; (ii) (b) May consider whether the health plan has a benefit design that would create a risk of biased selection based on health status and whether the health plan contains meaningful scope and level of benefits in each of the ten essential health benefit categories specified by section 1302 of P.L. 111-148 of 2010, as amended; (c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, for benefit years beginning January 1, 2015, and only to the extent permitted by federal law and guidance, must establish by rule the review and approval requirements and procedures for pediatric oral services when offered in stand-alone dental plans in the nongrandfathered individual and small group markets outside of the exchange; and (d) Unless prohibited by federal law and guidance, must allow health carriers to also offer pediatric oral services within the health benefit plan in the nongrandfathered individual and small group markets outside of the exchange.

(4) Beginning December 15, 2012, and every year thereafter, the commissioner shall submit to the legislature a list of state-mandated health benefits, the enforcement of which will result in federally imposed costs to the state related to the plans sold through the exchange because the benefits are not included in the essential health benefits designated under federal law. The list must include the anticipated costs to the state of each state-mandated health benefit on the list and any statutory changes needed if funds are not appropriated to defray the state costs for the listed mandate. The commissioner may enforce a mandate on the list for the entire market only if funds are appropriated in an omnibus appropriations act specifically to pay the state portion of the identified costs.
Sec. 2. RCW 48.46.243 and 2008 c 217 s 56 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to subsection (2) of this section, every contract between a health maintenance organization and its participating providers of health care services shall be in writing and shall set forth that in the event the health maintenance organization fails to pay for health care services as set forth in the agreement, the enrolled participant shall not be liable to the provider for any sums owed by the health maintenance organization. Every such contract shall provide that this requirement shall survive termination of the contract.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall not apply:
   (a) To emergency care from a provider who is not a participating provider;
   (b) To out-of-area services;
   (c) To the delivery of covered pediatric oral services that are substantially equal to the essential health benefits benchmark plan;
   (d) In exceptional situations approved in advance by the commissioner, if the health maintenance organization is unable to negotiate reasonable and cost-effective participating provider contracts.

(3)(a) Each participating provider contract form shall be filed with the commissioner fifteen days before it is used.
   (b) Any contract form not affirmatively disapproved within fifteen days of filing shall be deemed approved, except that the commissioner may extend the approval period an additional fifteen days upon giving notice before the expiration of the initial fifteen-day period. The commissioner may approve such a contract form for immediate use at any time. Approval shall be subsequently withdrawn for cause.
   (c) Subject to the right of the health maintenance organization to demand and receive a hearing under chapters 48.04 and 34.05 RCW, the commissioner may disapprove such a contract form if it is in any respect in violation of this chapter or if it fails to conform to minimum provisions or standards required by the commissioner by rule under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(4) No participating provider, or insurance producer, trustee, or assignee thereof, may maintain an action against an enrolled participant to collect sums owed by the health maintenance organization.

Sec. 3. RCW 48.14.0201 and 2011 c 47 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section, "taxpayer" means a health maintenance organization as defined in RCW 48.46.020, a health care service contractor as defined in ((RCW 48.44.010)) chapter 48.44 RCW, or a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in RCW 48.125.010.

(2) Each taxpayer must pay a tax on or before the first day of March of each year to the state treasurer through the insurance commissioner's office. The tax must be equal to the total amount of all premiums and prepayments for health care services collected or received by the taxpayer under RCW 48.14.090 during the preceding calendar year multiplied by the rate of two percent. For tax purposes, the reporting of premiums and prepayments must be on a written basis or on a paid-for basis consistent with the basis required by the annual statement.

(3) Taxpayers must prepay their tax obligations under this section. The minimum amount of the prepayments is the percentages of the taxpayer's tax obligation that would have been due had the tax been in effect during the previous calendar year. The tax prepayments must be paid to the state treasurer through the commissioner's office by the due dates and in the following amounts:
   (a) On or before June 15, forty-five percent;
   (b) On or before September 15, twenty-five percent;
   (c) On or before December 15, twenty-five percent.

(4) For good cause demonstrated in writing, the commissioner may approve an amount smaller than the preceding calendar year's tax obligation as recomputed for calculating the health maintenance organization's, health care service contractor's, self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement's, or certified health plan's prepayment obligations for the current tax year.

(5) Moneys collected under this section are deposited in the general fund.

(6) The taxes imposed in this section do not apply to:
   (a) Amounts received by any taxpayer from the United States or any instrumentality thereof as prepayments for health care services provided under Title XVIII (medicare) of the federal social security act.
   (b) Amounts received by any taxpayer from the state of Washington as prepayments for health care services provided under:
      (i) The medical care services program as provided in RCW 74.09.035; or
      (ii) The Washington basic health plan on behalf of subsidized enrollees as provided in chapter 70.47 RCW.
   (c) Amounts received by any health care service contractor as defined in ((RCW 48.44.010)) chapter 48.44 RCW, or any health maintenance organization as defined in chapter 48.46 RCW, as prepayments for health care services included within the definition of practice of dentistry under RCW 18.32.020, except amounts received for pediatric oral services that qualify as coverage for the minimum essential coverage requirement under P.L. 111-148 (2010), as amended.
   (d) Participant contributions to self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements that are not taxable in this state.

(7) Beginning January 1, 2000, the state preempts the field of imposing excise or privilege taxes upon taxpayers and no county, city, town, or other municipal subdivision has the right to impose any such taxes upon such taxpayers. This subsection is limited to premiums and payments for health benefit plans offered by health care service contractors under chapter 48.44 RCW, health maintenance organizations under chapter 48.46 RCW, and self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements as defined in RCW 48.125.010. The preemption authorized by this subsection must not impair the ability of a county, city, town, or other municipal subdivision to impose excise or privilege taxes upon the health care services directly delivered by the employees of a health maintenance organization under chapter 48.46 RCW.

(8)(a) The taxes imposed by this section apply to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement only in the event that they are not preempted by the employee retirement income security act of 1974, as amended, 29 U.S.C. Sec. 1001 et seq. The arrangements and the commissioner must initially request an advisory opinion from the United States department of labor or obtain a declaratory ruling from a federal court on the legality of imposing state premium taxes on these arrangements. Once the legality of the taxes has been determined, the multiple employer welfare arrangement certified by the insurance commissioner must begin payment of these taxes.
   (b) If there has not been a final determination of the legality of these taxes, then beginning on the earlier of (i) the date the fourth multiple employer welfare arrangement has been certified by the insurance commissioner, or (ii) April 1, 2006, the arrangement must deposit the taxes imposed by this section into an interest bearing escrow account maintained by the arrangement. Upon a final determination that the taxes are not preempted by the employee 1001 et seq., all funds in the interest bearing escrow account must be transferred to the state treasurer.

(9) The effect of transferring contracts for health care services from one taxpayer to another taxpayer is to transfer the tax prepayment obligation with respect to the contracts.

(10) On or before June 1st of each year, the commissioner must notify each taxpayer required to make prepayments in that year of the amount of each prepayment and must provide remittance forms to be used by the taxpayer. However, a taxpayer's responsibility to make prepayments is not affected by failure of the commissioner to send, or the taxpayer to receive, the notice or forms.

Sec. 4. RCW 48.14.020 and 2009 c 161 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to other provisions of this chapter, each authorized insurer except title insurers shall on or before the first day of March of each year pay to the state treasurer through the commissioner's office a tax on premiums. Except as provided in subsection (((2))) of this section, such tax shall be in the amount of two percent of all premiums, excluding amounts returned to or the amount of reductions in premiums allowed to holders of industrial life policies for payment of premiums directly to an officer of the insurer, collected or received by the insurer under RCW 48.14.090 during the preceding calendar year other than ocean marine and foreign trade insurances, after deducting premiums paid to policyholders as returned premiums, upon risks or property resident, situated, or to be performed in this state. For tax purposes, the reporting of premiums shall be on a written basis or on a paid-for basis consistent with the basis required by the annual statement. For the purposes of this section the consideration received by an insured for the granting of an annuity shall not be deemed to be a premium.

(2) The taxes imposed in this section do not apply to amounts received by any life and disability insurer for health care services included within the definition of practice of dentistry under RCW 18.32.020 except amounts received for pediatric oral services that are included within the definition of practice of dentistry under RCW 48.14.090 during the preceding calendar year.

(3) In the case of insurers which require the payment by their policyholders at the inception of their policies of the entire premium thereon in the form of premiums or premium deposits which are the same in amount, based on the character of the risks, regardless of the length of term for which such policies are written, such tax shall be in the amount of two percent of the gross amount of such premiums and premium deposits upon policies on risks resident, located, or to be performed in this state, in force as of the thirty-first day of December next preceding, less the unused or unabsorbed portion of such premiums and premium deposits computed at the average rate thereof actually paid or credited to policyholders or applied in part in the form of dividends. Such gross premiums less all return premiums and premium deposits on one-year policies expiring during such year.

(4) Each authorized insurer shall with respect to all ocean marine and foreign trade insurance contracts written within this state during the preceding calendar year, on or before the first day of March of each year pay to the state treasurer through the commissioner's office a tax of ninety-five one-hundredths of one percent on its gross underwriting profit. Such gross underwriting profit shall be ascertained by deducting from the net premiums (i.e., gross premiums less all return premiums and premiums for reinsurance) on such ocean marine and foreign trade insurance contracts the net losses paid (i.e., gross losses paid less salvage and recoveries on reinsurance ceded) during such calendar year under such contracts. In the case of insurers issuing participating contracts, such gross underwriting profit shall not include, for computation of the tax prescribed by this subsection, the amounts refunded, or paid as participation dividends, by such insurers to the holders of such contracts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. PROCEEDINGS PENDING BEFORE TRIBUNAL; STATUS REPORT. (1) Persons in a proceeding pending before a tribunal may sign a collaborative law participation agreement to seek to resolve a collaborative matter related to the proceeding. Parties shall file promptly with the tribunal a notice of the agreement after it is signed. (2) The parties shall file promptly with the tribunal notice in a record when a collaborative law process concludes. The stay of the proceeding under subsection (1) of this section is lifted when the notice is filed. The notice may not specify any reason for termination of the process.

(3) A tribunal in which a proceeding is stayed under subsection (1) of this section may require the parties and collaborative lawyers to provide a status report on the collaborative law process and the proceeding. A status report may include only information on whether the process is ongoing or concluded. (4) A tribunal may not consider a communication made in violation of subsection (3) of this section.

(5) A tribunal shall provide parties notice and an opportunity to be heard before dismissing a proceeding in which a notice of collaborative law process is filed based on delay or failure to prosecute.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) of this section and section 10 of this act, a lawyer in a law firm with which the collaborative lawyer is associated is disqualified from appearing before a tribunal to represent a party in a proceeding related to the collaborative matter if the collaborative lawyer is disqualified from doing so under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) A collaborative lawyer or a lawyer in a law firm with which the collaborative lawyer is associated may represent a party:

(a) To ask a tribunal to approve an agreement resulting from the collaborative law process; or

(b) To seek or defend an emergency order to protect the health, safety, welfare, or interest of a party, or family or household member, as defined in RCW 26.50.010, if a successor lawyer is not immediately available to represent that person.

(4) If subsection (3)(b) of this section applies, a collaborative lawyer, or lawyer in a law firm with which the collaborative lawyer is associated, may represent a party or family or household member only until the person is represented by a successor lawyer or reasonable measures are taken to protect the health, safety, welfare, or interest of the person.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. GOVERNMENTAL ENTITY AS PARTY. (1) The disqualification of section 9(1) of this act applies to a collaborative lawyer representing a party that is a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality.

(2) After a collaborative law process concludes, another lawyer in a law firm with which the collaborative lawyer is associated may represent a government or governmental subdivision, agency, or instrumentality in the collaborative matter or a matter related to the collaborative matter if:

(a) The collaborative law participation agreement so provides; and

(b) The collaborative lawyer is isolated from any participation in the collaborative matter or a matter related to the collaborative matter through procedures within the law firm which are reasonably calculated to isolate the collaborative lawyer from such participation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION. Except as provided by law other than this chapter, during the collaborative law process, on the request of another party, a party shall make timely, full, candid, and informal disclosure of information related to the collaborative matter without formal discovery. A party also shall update promptly previously disclosed information that has materially changed. The parties may define the scope of disclosure during the collaborative law process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY AND MANDATORY REPORTING NOT AFFECTED. (1) This chapter does not affect the professional responsibility obligations and standards applicable to a lawyer or other licensed professional or relieve a lawyer or other licensed professional from the duty to comply with all applicable professional responsibility obligations and standards.

(2) This chapter does not affect the obligation of a person to report abuse or neglect, abandonment, or exploitation of a child or adult under the law of this state.

(3) Noncompliance with an obligation or prohibition imposed by this chapter does not in itself establish grounds for professional discipline.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. APPROPRIATENESS OF COLLABORATIVE LAW PROCESS. Before a prospective party signs a collaborative law participation agreement, the prospective party must:

(1) Be advised as to whether a collaborative law process is appropriate for the prospective party's matter;

(2) Be provided with sufficient information to make an informed decision about the material benefits and risks of a collaborative law process as compared to the material benefits and risks of other reasonably available alternatives for resolving the proposed collaborative matter, such as litigation, mediation, arbitration, or expert evaluation;

(3) Be informed that after signing an agreement if a party initiates a proceeding or seeks tribunal intervention in a pending proceeding related to the collaborative matter, the collaborative law process terminates;

(4) Be informed that participation in a collaborative law process is voluntary and any party has the right to terminate unilaterally a collaborative law process with or without cause; and

(5) Be informed that the collaborative lawyer and any lawyer in a law firm with which the collaborative lawyer is associated may not appear before a tribunal to represent a party in a proceeding related to the collaborative matter, except as authorized by law or court rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. COERCIVE OR VIOLENT RELATIONSHIP. (1) Before a prospective party signs a collaborative law participation agreement, a prospective collaborative lawyer shall make reasonable inquiry whether the prospective party has a history of a coercive or violent relationship with another prospective party.

(2) Throughout a collaborative law process, a collaborative lawyer reasonably and continuously shall assess whether the party the collaborative lawyer represents has a history of a coercive or violent relationship with another party.

(3) If a collaborative lawyer reasonably believes that the party the lawyer represents or the prospective party who consults the lawyer has a history of a coercive or violent relationship with another party or prospective party, the lawyer may not begin or continue a collaborative law process unless:

(a) The party or the prospective party requests beginning or continuing a process; and

(b) The collaborative lawyer reasonably believes that the safety of the party or prospective party can be protected adequately during a process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. CONFIDENTIALITY OF COLLABORATIVE LAW COMMUNICATION. Subject to section 12 of this act, a collaborative law communication is confidential to the extent agreed by the parties in a signed record or as provided by law of this state other than this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. PRIVILEGE AGAINST DISCLOSURE FOR COLLABORATIVE LAW COMMUNICATION; ADMISSIBILITY; DISCOVERY. (1) Subject to sections 17 and 18 of this act, a collaborative law communication is privileged under subsection (2) of this section, is not subject to discovery, and is not admissible in evidence.

(2) In a proceeding, the following privileges apply:

(a) A party may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a collaborative law communication.

(b) A nonparty participant may refuse to disclose, and may prevent any other person from disclosing, a collaborative law communication of the nonparty participant.

(3) Evidence or information that is otherwise admissible or subject to discovery does not become inadmissible or protected from discovery solely because of its disclosure or use in a collaborative law process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. WAIVER AND PRECLUSION OF PRIVILEGE. (1) A privilege under section 16 of this act may be waived in a record or orally during a proceeding if it is expressly waived by all parties and, in the case of the privilege of a nonparty participant, it is also expressly waived by the nonparty participant.

(2) A person that makes a disclosure or representation about a collaborative law communication which prejudices another person in a proceeding may not assert a privilege under section 16 of this act, but this preclusion applies only to the extent necessary for the person prejudiced to respond to the disclosure or representation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. LIMITS OF PRIVILEGE. (1) There is no privilege under section 16 of this act for a collaborative law communication that is:

(a) Available to the public under chapter 42.56 RCW or made during a session of a collaborative law process that is open, or is required by law to be open, to the public;

(b) A threat or statement of a plan to inflict bodily injury or commit a crime of violence;

(c) Intentionally used to plan a crime, commit or attempt to commit a crime, or conceal an ongoing crime or ongoing criminal activity; or

(d) In an agreement resulting from the collaborative law process, evidenced by a record signed by all parties to the agreement.

(2) The privileges under section 16 of this act for a collaborative law communication do not apply to the extent that a communication is:

(a) Sought or offered to prove or disprove a claim or complaint of professional misconduct or malpractice arising from or related to a collaborative law process;

(b) Sought or offered to prove or disprove abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation of a child or adult, unless the child protective services agency or adult protective services agency is a party to or otherwise participates in the process;

(c) Sought or offered to prove or disprove stalking of a party or child.

(3) There is no privilege under section 16 of this act if a tribunal finds, after a hearing in camera, that the party seeking discovery or the proponent of the evidence has shown the evidence is not otherwise available, the need for the evidence substantially outweighs the interest in protecting confidentiality, and the collaborative law communication is sought or offered in:

(a) A court proceeding involving a felony or misdemeanor; or

(b) A proceeding seeking rescission or reformation of a contract arising out of the collaborative law process or in which a defense to avoid liability on the contract is asserted.

(4) If a collaborative law communication is subject to an exception under subsection (2) or (3) of this section, only the part of the communication necessary for the application of the exception may be disclosed or admitted.

(5) Disclosure or admission of evidence excepted from the privilege under subsection (2) or (3) of this section does not make the evidence or any other collaborative law communication discoverable or admissible for any other purpose.

(6) The privileges under section 16 of this act do not apply if the parties agree in advance in a signed record, or if a record of a proceeding reflects agreement by the parties, that all or part of a collaborative law process is not privileged. This subsection does not apply to a collaborative law communication made by a person that did not receive actual notice of the agreement before the communication was made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. AUTHORITY OF TRIBUNAL IN CASE OF NONCOMPLIANCE. (1) If an agreement fails to meet the requirements of section 4 of this act, or a lawyer fails to comply with section 13 or 14 of this act, a tribunal may nonetheless find that the parties intended to enter into a collaborative law participation agreement if they:

(a) Signed a record indicating an intention to enter into a collaborative law participation agreement; and

(b) Reasonably believed they were participating in a collaborative law process.

(2) If a tribunal makes the findings specified in subsection (1) of this section, and the interests of justice require, the tribunal may:
(a) Enforce an agreement evidenced by a record resulting from the process in which the parties participated;
(b) Apply the disqualification provisions of sections 5, 6, 9, and 10 of this act; and
(c) Apply a privilege under section 16 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. UNIFORMITY OF APPLICATION AND CONSTRUCTION. In applying and construing this uniform act, consideration must be given to the need to promote uniformity of the law with respect to its subject matter among states that enact it.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. RELATION TO ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES IN GLOBAL AND NATIONAL COMMERCE ACT. This chapter modifies, limits, and supersedes the federal electronic signatures in global and national commerce act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001, et seq., but does not modify, limit, or supersedes section 101(c) of that act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7001(c), or authorize electronic delivery of any of the notices described in section 103(b) of that act, 15 U.S.C. Sec. 7003(b).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

MOTION

Senator Dammeier moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:
(a) Through such initiatives as grants for high-demand career and technical education programs and participation in the Microsoft IT academy, the state has previously supported K-12 computer science education;
(b) However, even though there were nearly sixty-five thousand student enrollments in high school computer science courses in the 2011-12 school year, more than half of those enrollments were in beginning or exploratory courses. Fewer than twelve hundred students enrolled in AP computer science courses;
(c) National studies of K-12 computer science education indicate that, in part because computer science is not treated as an academic subject, students may not perceive advanced computer science as relevant to their future academic or career success;
(d) Public institutions of higher education have expanded capacity to grant certificates and degrees in computer science and related fields in response to high employer demand and high student demand. Additional expansion and improvement will be dependent on new resources, updated equipment, and the availability of expert faculty;
(e) Information technology job vacancies exist at all levels of training and education and across all industries that are critical to Washington's economy; and
(f) Strategies are needed to support additional opportunities for Washington students to have careers in the innovative, technology-based or technology-enhanced industries located in our state.
(2) Therefore the legislature intends to take additional steps to improve and expand access to computer science education, particularly in advanced courses that could prepare students for careers in the field.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.230.097 and 2008 c 170 s 202 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Each high school or school district board of directors shall adopt course equivalencies for career and technical high school courses offered to students in high schools and skill centers. A career and technical course equivalency may be for whole or partial credit. Each school district board of directors shall develop a course equivalency approval procedure. Boards of directors must approve AP computer science courses as equivalent to high school mathematics or science, and must denote on a student's transcript that AP computer science qualifies as a math-based quantitative course for students who take the course in their senior year. In order for a board to approve AP computer science as equivalent to high school mathematics, the student must be concurrently enrolled in or have successfully completed algebra II.
(2) Career and technical courses determined to be equivalent to academic core courses, in full or in part, by the high school or school district shall be accepted as meeting core requirements, including graduation requirements, if the courses are recorded on the student's transcript using the equivalent academic high school department designation and title. Full or partial credit shall be recorded as appropriate. The high school or school district shall also issue and keep record of course completion certificates that demonstrate that the career and technical courses were successfully completed as needed for industry certification, college credit, or preapprenticeship, as applicable. The certificate shall be either part of the student's high school and beyond plan or the student's culminating project, as determined by the student. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall develop and make available electronic samples of certificates of course completion."

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that progress is being made in making dual high school and college credit courses available for students:

(a) Overall dual credit program enrollments increased by almost four percent between 2009 and 2012;
(b) The number of dual credit programs offered by Washington high schools increased by almost fifteen percent between the 2009-10 school year and the 2011-12 school year; and
(c) Dual credit program participation rates for low-income students increased more than fourteen percent between the 2009-10 school year and the 2011-12 school year.

(2) However, the legislature further finds that more can be done to promote academic acceleration for all students and eliminate barriers, real or perceived, that may prevent students from enrolling in rigorous advanced courses, including dual credit courses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Each school district board of directors is encouraged to adopt an academic acceleration policy for high school students as provided under this section.

(2) Under an academic acceleration policy:

(a) The district automatically enrolls any student who meets the state standard on the high school statewide student assessment in the next most rigorous level of advanced courses offered by the high school.

(b) Students who successfully complete such an advanced course are then enrolled in the next most rigorous level of advanced course, with the objective that students will eventually be automatically enrolled in courses that offer the opportunity to earn dual credit for high school and college.

(b) The subject matter of the advanced courses in which the student is automatically enrolled depends on the content area or areas of the statewide student assessment where the student has met the state standard.

(c) The district must notify students and parents or guardians regarding the academic acceleration policy and the advanced courses available to students.

(d) The district must provide a parent or guardian with an opportunity to opt out of the academic acceleration policy and enroll a student in an alternative course.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 28A.320 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to funds appropriated specifically for this purpose, the academic acceleration incentive program is established as provided in this section. The intent of the legislature is that the funds awarded under the program be used to support teacher training, curriculum, technology, examination fees, and other costs associated with offering dual credit courses to high school students.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall allocate half of the funds appropriated for the purposes of this section on a competitive basis to provide one-time grants for high schools to expand the availability of dual credit courses. To be eligible for a grant, a school district must have adopted an academic acceleration policy as provided under section 2 of this act. In making grant awards, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must give priority to grants for high schools with a high proportion of low-income students and high schools seeking to develop new capacity for dual credit courses rather than proposing marginal expansion of current capacity.

(3) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall allocate half of the funds appropriated for the purposes of this section to school districts as an incentive award for each student who earned dual high school and college credit, as described under subsection (4) of this section, for courses offered by the district's high schools during the previous school year. School districts must Demographic data shall be disaggregated pursuant to RCW receiving grants under this section for the prior school year. The demographics of the students earning dual credits in the schools of the legislature, by January 1st of each year, information about the report to the education policy committees and the fiscal committees.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the following students are considered to have earned dual high school and college credit in a course offered by a high school:

(a) Students who achieve a score of three or higher on an AP examination;
(b) Students who achieve a score of four or higher on an examination of the international baccalaureate diploma programme;
(c) Students who successfully complete a Cambridge advanced international certificate of education examination;
(d) Students who successfully complete a course through the college in the high school program under RCW 28A.600.290 and are awarded credit by the partnering institution of higher education; and
(e) Students who satisfy the dual enrollment and class performance requirements to earn college credit through a tech prep course.

(5) If a high school provides access to online courses for students to earn dual high school and college credit at no cost to the student, such a course is considered to be offered by the high school. Students enrolled in the running start program under RCW 28A.600.300 do not generate an incentive award under this section.

(6) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall report to the education policy committees and the fiscal committees of the legislature, by January 1st of each year, information about the demographics of the students earning dual credits in the schools receiving grants under this section for the prior school year. Demographic data shall be disaggregated pursuant to RCW 28A.300.042.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

In addition to data on student enrollment in dual credit courses, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall collect and post on the Washington state report card web site the rates at which students earn college credit through a dual credit course, using the following criteria:

(1) Students who achieve a score of three or higher on an AP examination;
(2) Students who achieve a score of four or higher on an examination of the international baccalaureate diploma programme;
(3) Students who successfully complete a Cambridge advanced international certificate of education examination;
(4) Students who successfully complete a course through the college in the high school program under RCW 28A.600.290 and are awarded credit by the partnering institution of higher education; and
(5) Students who satisfy the dual enrollment and class performance requirements to earn college credit through a tech prep course; and

(6) Students who successfully complete a course through the running start program under RCW 28A.600.300 and are awarded credit by the institution of higher education.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If specific funding for purposes of section 3 of this act, referencing section 3 of this act by bill or chapter and section number, is not provided by June 30, 2013, in the omnibus operating appropriations act, section 3 of this act is null and void."

MOTION

There being no objection, the following title amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "students;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "adding new sections to chapter 28A.320 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 28A.300 RCW; and creating new sections."

All meeting notices must be posted on the committee's web site.
(3) The meeting notice must identify the public body that is seeking certification or project approval, and where applicable, a description of projects to be considered at the meeting. The notice must indicate when, where, and how the public may present comments regarding the committee's certification of a public body or approval of a project. Information submitted by a public body to be reviewed at the meeting shall be available on the committee's web site at the time the notice is published.
(4) The committee must allow for public comment on the appropriateness of certification of a public body or on the appropriateness of the use of the proposed contracting procedure and the qualifications of a public body to use the contracting procedure. The public body must submit an application for recertification at least three months before the initial certification expires. The application shall include updated information on the public body's (capital plan for the next three years, its intended use of the procedures) experience and current staffing with the procedure it is applying to renew, and any other information requested in advance by the committee. The application must include a description of the public body's qualifications, a description of the project, and its intended use of alternative contracting procedures.

(2) To approve a proposed project, the committee shall determine that:

(5) (The requirements of subsection (1) of this section also apply to certified public bodies seeking to use the general contractor/construction manager contracting procedure on projects with a total project cost of less than ten million dollars.)

(6) Failure of the committee to meet within sixty calendar days of a public body's application to use an alternative contracting procedure on a project shall be deemed an approval of the application.

Sec. 9. RCW 39.10.300 and 2009 c 75 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the (requirements in RCW 39.10.270, 39.10.270, or 39.10.280, public bodies may utilize the design-build procedure for public works projects in which the total project cost is over ten million dollars and where:

(b) The (project design is repetitive in nature and is an incidental part of the installation or construction) projects selected are practical for meeting desired quality standards or delivery schedules;

(c) (Regular interaction with and feedback from facilities users and operators during design is not critical to an effective facility design) Significant savings in project delivery time would be realized.

(3) The design-build procedure may be used for the construction or erection of portable facilities as defined in WAC 392-343-018, preengineered metal buildings, or not more than ten prefabricated modular buildings per installation site, regardless of cost and is not subject to approval by the committee.

(4) Except for utility projects and approved demonstration projects, the design-build procedure may not be used to procure operations and maintenance services for a period longer than three years. State agency projects that propose to use the design-build-operate-maintain procedure shall submit cost estimates for the construction portion of the project consistent with the office of financial management's capital budget requirements. Operations and maintenance costs must be shown separately and must not be included as part of the capital budget request.

(5) Subject to the process in RCW 39.10.280, public bodies may use the design-build procedure for public works projects in which the total project cost is between two million and ten million dollars and that meet one of the criteria in subsection (1)(a), (b), or (c) of this section.

(6) Subject to the process in RCW 39.10.280, a public body may seek committee approval for a design-build demonstration project that includes procurement of operations and maintenance services for a period longer than three years.

Sec. 10. RCW 39.10.320 and 2007 c 494 s 203 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) A public body utilizing the design-build contracting procedure may provide incentive payments to contractors for early completion, cost savings, or other goals if such payments are identified in the request for proposals.

Sec. 11. RCW 39.10.330 and 2009 c 75 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Contracts for design-build services shall be awarded through a competitive process using public solicitation of proposals for design-build services. The public body shall publish at least once in a legal newspaper of general circulation published in, or as near as possible to, that part of the county in which the public work will be done, a notice of its request for qualifications from proposers for design-build services, and the availability and location of the request for proposal documents. The request for qualifications documents shall include:

The public body may also consider a proposer's outreach plan to include small business entities and disadvantaged business enterprises as subcontractor and suppliers for the project. Alternatively, if the public body determines that all finalists will be capable of producing a design that adequately meets project requirements, the public body may award the contract to the firm that submits the responsive proposal with the lowest price;

(c) The reasons for using the design-build procedure;

(d) Submission of project information, as required by the board;

(e) Contract documents that require the contractor, subcontractors, and designers to submit project information required by the board.

(2) A public body utilizing the design-build contracting procedure may provide incentive payments to contractors for early completion, cost savings, or other goals if such payments are identified in the request for proposals.
(f) The estimated maximum allowable construction cost; and
(g) The bid instructions to be used by the general contractor/ construction manager finalists.

(3)(a) Evaluation factors for selection of the general contractor/construction manager shall include, but not be limited to:

All subcontractors who are awarded a contract over three hundred thousand dollars shall provide a performance and payment bond for the contract amount. All other subcontractors shall provide a performance and payment bond if required by the general contractor/construction manager.

(4) If the general contractor/construction manager receives a written protest from a subcontractor bidder or an equipment or material supplier, the general contractor/construction manager shall not execute a contract for the subcontract bid package or equipment or material purchase order with anyone other than the protesting bidder without first providing at least two full business days' written notice to all bidders of the intent to execute a contract for the subcontract bid package. The protesting bidder must submit written notice of its protest no later than two full business days following the bid opening. Intermediate Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays are not counted.

(5) A low bidder who claims error and fails to enter into a contract is prohibited from bidding on the same project if a second or subsequent call for bids is made for the project.

(6) The general contractor/construction manager may negotiate with the lowest responsible and responsive bidder to negotiate an adjustment to the lowest bid or proposal price based upon agreed changes to the contract plans and specifications under the following conditions:
   (a) All responsive bids or proposal prices exceed the available funds (as certified by an appropriate fiscal officer);
   (b) The apparent low responsive bid or proposal does not exceed the available funds by the greater of one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars or two percent for projects valued over ten million dollars; and
   (c) The negotiated adjustment will bring the bid or proposal price within the amount of available funds.

(7) If the negotiation is unsuccessful, the subcontract work or equipment or material purchases must be rebid.

(8) The general contractor/construction manager must provide a written explanation if all bids are rejected.

Sec. 15. RCW 39.10.385 and 2010 c 163 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As an alternative to the subcontractor selection process outlined in RCW 39.10.380, a general contractor/construction manager may, with the approval of the public body, select ((a)) mechanical subcontractor,( (a)) electrical subcontractor, or both, using the process outlined in this section. This alternative selection process may only be used when the anticipated value of the subcontract will exceed three million dollars. When using the alternative selection process, the general contractor/construction manager should select the subcontractor early in the life of the public works project.

(1) In order to use this alternative selection process, the general contractor/construction manager and the public body must determine that it is in the best interest of the public. In making this determination the general contractor/construction manager and the public body must:
   (a) Publish a notice of intent to use this alternative selection process in a legal newspaper published in or as near as possible to that part of the county where the public work will be constructed. Notice must be published at least fourteen calendar days before conducting a public hearing. The notice must include the date, time, and location of the hearing; a statement justifying the basis and need for the alternative selection process; ((a)) how interested parties may, prior to the hearing, obtain the evaluation criteria and applicable weight given to each criterion that will be used for evaluation; and protest procedures including time limits for filing a protest, which may in no event, limit the time to file a protest to fewer than four business days from the date the proposer was notified of the selection decision;
   (b) Conduct a hearing and provide an opportunity for any interested party to submit written and oral comments regarding the justification for using this selection process, the evaluation criteria, ((and)) weights for each criteria, and protest procedures;
   (c) After the public hearing, consider the written and oral comments received and determine if using this alternative selection process is in the best interests of the public; and
   (d) Issue a written final determination to all interested parties. All protests of the decision to use the alternative selection process must be in writing and submitted to the public body within seven calendar days of the final determination. Any modifications to the criteria, weights, and protest procedures based on comments received during the public hearing process must be included in the final determination.

(2) Contracts for the services of a subcontractor under this section must be awarded through a competitive process requiring a public solicitation of proposals. Notice of the public solicitation of proposals must be provided to the office of minority and women's business enterprises. The public solicitation of proposals must include:
   (a) A description of the project, including programmatic, performance, and technical requirements and specifications when available;
   (b) The reasons for using the alternative selection process;
   (c) A description of the minimum qualifications required of the firm;
   (d) A description of the process used to evaluate qualifications and proposals, including evaluation factors and the relative weight of factors;
   (e) Protest procedures;
   (f) The form of the contract, including any contract for preconstruction services, to be awarded;
   (g) The estimated maximum allowable subcontract cost; and
   (h) The bid instructions to be used by the finalists.

(3) Evaluation factors for selection of the subcontractor must include, but not be limited to:
   (a) Ability of the firm’s professional personnel;
   (b) The firm's past performance on similar projects;
   (c) The firm's ability to meet time and budget requirements;
   (d) The scope of work the firm proposes to perform with its own forces and its ability to perform that work;
   (e) The firm's plan for outreach to minority and women-owned businesses;
   (f) The firm's proximity to the project location;
   (g) The firm's capacity to successfully complete the project;
   (h) The firm's approach to executing the project;
   (i) The firm's approach to safety on the project;
   (j) The firm's safety history; and
   (k) If the firm is selected as one of the most qualified finalists, the firm's fee and cost proposal.

(4) The general contractor/construction manager shall establish a committee to evaluate the proposals. At least one representative from the public body shall serve on the committee. Final proposals, including sealed bids for the percent fee on the estimated maximum allowable subcontract cost, and the fixed amount for the subcontract general conditions work specified in the request for proposal, will be requested from the most qualified firms.

(5) The general contractor/construction manager must notify all proposers of the most qualified firms that will move to the next phase of the selection process. The process may not proceed to the next phase until two business days after all proposers are notified of the committee's selection decision. At the request of a proposer, the general contractor/construction manager must provide the requesting proposer with a scoring summary of the evaluation factors for its proposal. Proposers filing a protest on the selection of the most qualified finalists must file the protest with the public body in accordance with the published protest procedures. The selection process may not advance to the next phase of selection until two business days after the final protest decision issued by the public body is transmitted to the protestor.

((6)) The general contractor/construction manager and the public body shall select the firm submitting the highest scored final proposal using the evaluation factors and the relative weight of factors identified in the solicitation of proposals. The scoring of the nonprice factors must be made available at the opening of the fee and cost proposals. The general contractor/construction manager shall notify all proposers of the selection decision and make a selection summary of the final proposals, which shall be available to all proposers within two business days of such notification. The general contractor/construction manager may not evaluate or disqualify a proposal based on the terms of a collective bargaining agreement.

((6)) (2) If the public body receives a timely written protest from a "most qualified firm," the general contractor/construction manager may not execute a contract for the protested subcontract work until two business days after the final protest decision issued by the public body is transmitted to the protestor. The protestor must submit its protest in accordance with the published protest procedures.

((8)) If the general contractor/construction manager is unable to negotiate a satisfactory maximum allowable subcontract cost with the firm selected deemed by public body and the general contractor/construction manager to be fair, reasonable, and within the available funds, negotiations with that firm must be formally terminated and the general contractor/construction manager may negotiate with the next highest scored firm until an agreement is reached or the process is terminated.

((6)) (2) If the general contractor/construction manager receives a written protest from a bidder, it may not execute a contract for the subject work with anyone other than the protesting bidder, without first providing at least two full business days' written notice to all bidders of the intent to execute a contract for the subcontract bid package. The protesting bidder must submit written notice to the general contractor/construction manager of its protest no later than two full business days following the bid opening.

((2))) (9) With the approval of the public body, the general contractor/construction manager may contract with the selected firm to provide preconstruction services during the design phase that may include life-cycle cost design considerations, value engineering, scheduling, cost estimating, constructability, alternative construction options for cost savings, and sequencing of work, and to act as the mechanical or electrical subcontractor during the construction phase.

((6))) (10) The maximum allowable subcontract cost must be used to establish a total subcontract cost for purposes of a performance and payment bond. Total subcontract cost means the fixed amount for the detailed specified general conditions work, the negotiated maximum allowable subcontract cost, and the percent fee on the negotiated maximum allowable subcontract cost. Maximum allowable subcontract cost means the maximum cost to complete the work specified for the subcontract, including the estimated cost of work to be performed by the subcontractor's own forces, a percentage for risk contingency, negotiated support services, and approved change orders. The maximum allowable subcontract cost must be negotiated between the general contractor/construction manager and the selected firm when the construction documents and specifications are at least ninety percent complete. Final agreement on the maximum allowable subcontract cost is subject to the approval of the public body.

((6))) (11) If the work of the mechanical contractor or electrical contractor is completed for less than the maximum allowable subcontract cost, any savings not otherwise negotiated as part of an incentive clause becomes part of the risk contingency included in the general contractor/construction manager's maximum allowable construction cost. If the work of the mechanical contractor or the electrical contractor is completed for more than the maximum allowable subcontract cost, the additional cost is the responsibility of that subcontractor. An independent audit, paid for by the public body, must be conducted (upon completion of the contract) to confirm the proper accrual of costs as outlined in the contract.

((6))) (12) A mechanical or electrical contractor selected under this section may perform work with its own forces. In the event it elects to subcontract some of its work, it must select a subcontractor utilizing the procedure outlined in RCW 39.10.380.

Sec. 16. RCW 39.10.390 and 2007 c 494 s 306 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in this section, bidding on subcontract work for the supply of equipment or materials by the general contractor/construction manager or its subsidiaries is prohibited.

(2) The general contractor/construction manager, or its subsidiaries, may bid on subcontract work or for the supply of equipment or materials if:

(a) The work within the subcontract bid package or equipment or materials is customarily performed or supplied by the general contractor/construction manager;

(b) The bid opening is managed by the public body and is in compliance with RCW 39.10.380; and

(c) Notification of the general contractor/construction manager's intention to bid is included in the public solicitation of bids for the bid package or for the equipment or materials.

(3) In no event may the general contractor/construction manager or its subsidiaries (purchase equipment or materials for assignment to subcontract bid package bidders for installation or warranty) assign warranty responsibility or the terms of its contract to subcontractors.

Sec. 17. RCW 39.10.400 and 2007 c 494 s 307 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If determination of subcontractor eligibility prior to seeking bids is in the best interest of the project and critical to the successful completion of a subcontract bid package, the general contractor/construction manager and the public body may determine subcontractor eligibility to bid. The general contractor/construction manager and the public body must:

(a) Conduct a hearing and provide an opportunity for any interested party to submit written and verbal comments regarding the justification for conducting bidder eligibility, the evaluation criteria, and weights for each criteria and subcriteria;

(b) Publish a notice of intent to evaluate and determine bidder eligibility in a legal newspaper published in or as near as possible to that part of the county where the public work will be constructed at least fourteen calendar days before conducting a public hearing;

(c) Ensure the public hearing notice includes the date, time, and location of the hearing, a statement justifying the basis and need for performing eligibility analysis before bid opening, and how interested parties may, at least five days before the hearing, obtain the specific eligibility criteria and applicable weights given to each criteria and subcriteria that will be used during evaluation;

(d) After the public hearing, consider written and verbal comments received and determine if establishing bidder eligibility in advance of seeking bids is in the best interests of the project and critical to the successful completion of a subcontract bid package; and

(e) Issue a written final determination to all interested parties. All protests of the decision to establish bidder eligibility before issuing a subcontractor bid package must be filed with the superior court within seven calendar days of the final determination. Any modifications to the eligibility criteria and weights shall be based on comments received during the public hearing process and shall be included in the final determination.

(2) Determinations of bidder eligibility shall be in accordance with the evaluation criteria and weights for each criteria established in the final determination and shall be provided to interested persons upon request. Any potential bidder determined not to meet eligibility criteria must be afforded ((the)) one opportunity to establish its eligibility. Protests concerning bidder eligibility determinations shall be in accordance with subsection (1) of this section.

Sec. 18. RCW 39.10.420 and 2012 c 102 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) The department of enterprise services;
(b) The state universities, regional universities, and The Evergreen State College;
(c) Sound transit (central Puget Sound regional transit authority);
(d) Every city with a population greater than seventy thousand and any public authority chartered by such city under RCW 35.21.730 through 35.21.755;
(e) Every county with a population greater than four hundred fifty thousand;
(f) Every port district with total revenues greater than fifteen million dollars per year;
(g) Every public utility district with revenues from energy sales greater than twenty-three million dollars per year;

(i) The state ferry system.

(2)(a) The department of enterprise services may issue job order contract work orders for Washington state parks department projects.

(b) The department of enterprise services, the University of Washington, and Washington State University may issue job order contract work orders for the state regional universities and The Evergreen State College.

(3) Public bodies may use a job order contract for public works projects when a determination is made that the use of job order contracts will benefit the public by providing an effective means of reducing the total lead-time and cost for the construction of public works projects for repair and renovation required at public facilities through the use of unit price books and work orders by eliminating time-consuming, costly aspects of the traditional public works process, which require separate contracting actions for each small project.

Sec. 19. RCW 39.10.440 and 2007 c 494 s 403 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The maximum total dollar amount that may be awarded under a job order contract is four million dollars per year for a maximum of three years. The maximum total dollar amount that may be awarded under a job order contract for counties with a population of more than one million is six million dollars per year for a maximum of three years.

(2) Job order contracts may be executed for an initial contract term of not to exceed two years, with the option of extending or renewing the job order contract for one year. All extensions or renewals must be priced as provided in the request for proposals. The extension or renewal must be mutually agreed to by the public body and the job order contractor.

(3) A public body may have no more than two job order contracts in effect at any one time, with the exception of the department of ((general administration)) enterprise services, which may have four job order contracts in effect at any one time.

(4) At least ninety percent of work contained in a job order contract must be subcontracted to entities other than the job order contractor. The job order contractor must distribute contracts as equitably as possible among qualified and available subcontractors including minority and woman-owned subcontractors to the extent permitted by law.

(5) The job order contractor shall publish notification of intent to perform public works projects at the beginning of each contract year in a statewide publication and in a legal newspaper of general circulation in every county in which the public works projects are anticipated.

(6) Job order contractors shall pay prevailing wages for all work that would otherwise be subject to the requirements of chapter 39.12 RCW. Prevailing wages for all work performed pursuant to each work order must be the rates in effect at the time the individual work order is issued.

(7) If, in the initial contract term, the public body, at no fault of the job order contractor, fails to issue the minimum amount of work orders stated in the public request for proposals, the public body shall pay the contractor an amount equal to the difference between the minimum work order amount and the actual total of the work orders issued multiplied by an appropriate percentage for overhead and profit contained in the contract award coefficient for services as specified in the request for proposals. This is the contractor's sole remedy.

(8) All job order contracts awarded under this section must be signed before July 1, ((2013)) 2021; however the job order contract may be extended or renewed as provided for in this section.

(9) Public bodies may amend job order contracts awarded prior to July 1, 2007, in accordance with this chapter.

Sec. 20. RCW 39.10.490 and 2007 c 494 s 501 are each amended to read as follows:

The alternative public works contracting procedures authorized under this chapter shall be terminated June 30, ((2013)) 2021, as provided in RCW 43.131.408.

Sec. 22. RCW 43.131.408 and 2012 c 102 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

MOTION

Senator Fraser moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 8655

WHEREAS, During May 2013, many Washingtonians will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the nationally and globally acclaimed successes of the 1963 American Mt. Everest Expedition, because Washington climbers achieved its most notable successes, and Washingtonians enthusiastically supported this historic achievement in many ways; and

WHEREAS, Members of this Expedition are famed for four unprecedented mountaineering achievements:

(1) On May 1, Jim Whittaker, a Washington State native, climbing with Sherpa Nawang Gombu by the South Col route, became the first American to reach Everest's 29,028 foot summit, the highest point on Earth;

(2) On May 22, Willi Unsoeld, who would become a faculty member at The Evergreen State College, and Tom Hornbein, who returned from Everest to the faculty at the University of Washington School of Medicine, pioneered the unprecedented and exceptionally difficult West Ridge route to the summit and descended by the South Col route to complete the first traverse of a major Himalayan peak;

(3) A few hours earlier that same day, Lute Jerstad, a former Washington resident, and Barry Bishop of Washington D.C. reached the summit by the South Col route; and

(4) Both teams were benighted during the descent, Unsoeld and Hornbein catching up with Jerstad and Bishop. All four survived an unplanned and unprecedented all-night bivouac above 28,000 feet without oxygen, tents, or food, and Unsoeld and Bishop suffered severe frostbite; and

WHEREAS, These mountaineering achievements are successes of the human spirit, involving supreme human effort, extraordinary physical capability and endurance, clear vision and goals, intense determination and focus, superior teamwork, high tolerance for discomfort and danger, and exceptional organizational and logistical preparation; and

WHEREAS, These mountaineering achievements are also the successes of the highly appreciated, dedicated, expert Sherpa climbers who accompanied and supported the members of the Expedition; and

WHEREAS, Human survival at the upper elevations of Mt. Everest is possible only for brief periods of time because the air contains roughly one-third of the oxygen density of sea level, temperatures are generally around negative 20 degrees Fahrenheit, and hurricane force winds are frequent; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the 109 days of the Expedition, the team steadily engaged in scientific research relating to physiology, psychology, sociology, geology, and glaciology; and

WHEREAS, The Expedition's worldwide acclaim included recognition by President Kennedy at a White House ceremony, by the National Geographic Society, by King Mahendra of Nepal, by the United States Ambassador to Nepal Henry Stebbins, by India Prime Minister Nehru, by the United States Ambassador to India John Kenneth Galbraith, by the Indian Mountaineering Foundation, by mountaineering organizations throughout the world, by major news media around the world, and more; and

WHEREAS, The people of Washington State played a very significant role in the historic successes of the Expedition, through team members with deep Washington ties, including Barry Prather of Ellensburg and John Breitenbach who attended the University of Washington and tragically died when a massive wall of ice in the Khumbu icefall shifted and buried him in tons of ice blocks; through many contributions of cash and in-kind donations from Washington businesses, organizations, and individuals; through Washington State's United States Senator Warren G. Magnuson serving on the Expedition's Advisory Committee; through the Expedition's training and equipment testing taking place at Mount Rainier; and more; and

WHEREAS, Washingtonians' outdoor recreation heritage of hiking, climbing, and camping in the State's extensive mountain ranges, and the widespread appreciation by Washingtonians of the State's beautiful mountains and stately snowy peaks, served as the inspiration for and enthusiastic support of the Expedition in 1963;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate, on the occasion of the 50th Anniversary of the historic first American ascent of Mt. Everest:

(1) Congratulate members of this historic Expedition Jim Whittaker, Nawang Gombu, Willi Unsoeld, Tom Hornbein, Lute Jerstad, Barry Bishop, and all those who supported them;

(2) Express appreciation to all Washingtonians, to the hundreds of others from around the country who assisted its achievements, and to Norman G. Dyhrenfurth who, with his determination and genius, organized and led the Expedition; and

(3) Encourage Washingtonians to continue to engage in outdoor recreation in Washington's welcoming mountain ranges and to continue to appreciate their splendor and be inspired to greatness by them; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Jim Whittaker, Jolene Unsoeld, Tom Hornbein, Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, to the other four surviving members of the team, and to the surviving widows or nearest of kin of the team members now deceased.

Senators Fraser, King, Baumgartner, Hargrove, Tom, Mullet and Kohl-Welles spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The motion by Senator Fraser carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

With the permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Mr. Whitaker and Representative Unsoeld to offer remarks.
REMARKS BY JIM WHITTAKER

Jim Whittaker: “Thank you very much. I’d just like to say good for you people for climbing a lot of mountains yourselves. Bobby Kennedy was a good friend of mine and we talked a lot about the most honorable profession. His brother thought it was the most honorable profession and so did Bobby. And I want to salute you with admiration for trying to make the world a better place and Washington State a better place. Thank you very much.”

REMARKS BY JOLENE UNSOELD

Jolene Unsoeld: “Of course we all think Washington State is just a terrific place but I didn’t realize until Karen was doing the research for the resolution that ‘Wow, Washington State really was in there,’ at the core of it and spreading the good will between other countries, other climbers. And the United States and Washington supported the expedition all the way from the lowliest professions all the way up to some of our largest corporations here that are still doing great; REI, Eddie Bauer. It’s amazing what Washington State has done not only as a model for the whole United States but has specifically done in the area in mountaineering and the support for the fiftieth anniversary and for the actual expedition that climbed Mount Everest for the first time for the Americans and two routes. Thank you.”

Senator Benton: “I’d like to invite our colleagues and their staffs and anyone that may be interested to have a free lunch and some information. There are constituents from Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Forty-ninth districts that are here today offering a free lunch in the Columbia Room and some experts to share their knowledge of the Columbia River Crossing project. RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “In ruling on the Point of Inquiry raised by Senator Hargrove as to whether Substitute House Bill No. 1422 amends Initiative 1118 so as to require a 2/3 vote on final passage, the President finds and rules as follows:

Initiative 1118 privatized the sale of spirits, allowing certain private retailers to sell the product. Substitute House Bill No. 1422 makes changes to the current eligibility criteria that must be met by a grocery store in order to provide beer and wine samples, by making certain aspects of the endorsement consistent with the terms of the initiative. The endorsement that allows beer and wine sampling was already in statute prior to the passage of the initiative, and was not amended or otherwise altered by the initiative.

Substitute House Bill No. 1422 does not amend the language of the initiative nor even address the issue of the sale of spirits. For these reasons, the President finds that Substitute House Bill No. 1422 would not amend Initiative 1118, and will require only a Constitutional majority vote on final passage.”

The Senate resumed consideration of Substitute House Bill No. 1422 which had been deferred earlier in the day.

President Owen:  “Senator Schoesler, advancing to the ninth order of business is not debatable. However, the practice of the President has always been that he allows a statement on each side for and against the motion.”

Authorizing state-tribal education compact schools.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Litzow moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Ways & Means be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:
(a) American Indian and Alaska Native students make up 2.5 percent of the total student population in the state and twenty-five percent or more of the student population in fifty-seven schools across the state.

(b) American Indian students in Washington have the highest annual drop-out rate at 9.5 percent, compared to 4.6 percent of all students in each of grades nine through twelve. Of the students expected to graduate in 2010 because they entered the ninth grade in 2006, the American Indian on-time graduation rate was only fifty-eight percent, compared to 76.5 percent of all students.

(c) The teaching of American Indian language, culture, and history are important to American Indian people and critical to the educational attainment and achievement of American Indian children.

(d) The state-tribal education compacts authorized under this chapter reaffirm the state's important commitment to government-to-government relationships with the tribes that has been recognized by proclamation, and in the centennial accord and the millennium agreement. These state-tribal education compacts build upon the efforts highlighted by the office of the superintendent of public instruction in its 2012 Centennial Accord Agency Highlights, including: The Since Time Immemorial (STI): Tribal Sovereignty in Washington State Curriculum Project that imbeds the history surrounding sovereignty and intergovernmental responsibilities into this state’s classrooms; the agency's regular meetings with the superintendents of the seven current tribal schools, as well as the federal bureau of Indian education representatives at the regional and national level on issues relating to student academic achievement, accessing of funding for tribal schools, and connecting tribal schools to the K-20 network; and the recent establishment, in statute, of the office of native education within the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(2) The legislature further finds that:

(a) The need for high-quality, culturally competent early learning opportunities continues to grow;

(b) There is a preparation gap among entering kindergartners with many children, especially those from low-income homes, arriving at kindergarten without the knowledge, skills, and good health necessary to succeed in school;

(c) Upon entry into the K-12 school system, the educational opportunity gap becomes more evident, with children of color and from low-income homes having lower scores on math, reading, and writing standardized tests, as well as lower graduation rates and higher rates of dropping out of school; and

(d) Comprehensive, culturally competent early learning and greater collaboration between the early learning and K-12 school systems will ensure appropriate connections and smoother transitions for children, and help eliminate or bridge gaps that might otherwise develop.

(3) In light of these findings, it is the intent and purpose of the legislature to:

(a) Authorize the superintendent of public instruction to enter into state-tribal education compacts; and

(b) Foster the development of a voluntary, high-quality, and culturally competent early learning pilot program to work in conjunction with, and offer a seamless transition to, schools established pursuant to state-tribal education compacts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The superintendent of public instruction is authorized to enter into state-tribal education compacts.

(2) No later than six months after the effective date of this section, the superintendent of public instruction shall establish an application and approval process, procedures, and timelines for the negotiation, approval or disapproval, and execution of state-tribal education compacts.

(3) The process may be initiated by submission, to the superintendent of public instruction, of a resolution by:

(a) The governing body of a tribe in the state of Washington; or

(b) The governing body of any of the schools in Washington that are currently funded by the federal bureau of Indian affairs, whether directly or through a contract or compact with an Indian tribe or a tribal consortium.

(4) The resolution must be accompanied by an application that indicates the grade or grades from kindergarten through twelve that will be offered and that demonstrates that the school will be operated in compliance with all applicable laws, the rules adopted thereunder, and the terms and conditions set forth in the application.

(5) Within ninety days of receipt of a resolution and application under this section, the superintendent must convene a government-to-government meeting for the purpose of considering the resolution and application and initiating negotiations.

(6) State-tribal education compacts must include provisions regarding:

(a) Compliance;

(b) Notices of violation;

(c) Dispute resolution, which may include nonjudicial processes such as mediation;

(d) Recordkeeping and auditing;

(e) The delineation of the respective roles and responsibilities;

(f) The term or length of the contract, and whether or not it is renewable; and

(g) Provisions for compact termination.

(7) The superintendent of public instruction shall adopt such rules as are necessary to implement this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact must operate according to the terms of its compact executed in accordance with section 2 of this act.

(2) Schools that are the subjects of state-tribal education compacts are exempt from all state statutes and rules applicable to school districts and school district boards of directors, except those statutes and rules made applicable under this chapter and in the state-tribal education compact executed under section 2 of this act.

(3) Each school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact must:

(a) Provide a curriculum and conduct an educational program that satisfies the requirements of RCW 28A.150.200 through 28A.150.240 and 28A.230.010 through 28A.230.195;

(b) Employ certificated instructional staff as required in RCW 28A.410.010, however such schools may hire noncertificated instructional staff of unusual competence and in exceptional cases as specified in RCW 28A.150.203(7);

(c) Comply with employee record check requirements in RCW 28A.400.303 and the mandatory termination and notification provisions of RCW 28A.400.320, 28A.400.330, 28A.405.470, and 28A.405.475;

(d) Comply with nondiscrimination laws;

(e) Adhere to generally accepted accounting principles and be subject to financial examinations and audits as determined by the state auditor, including annual audits for legal and fiscal compliance; and

(f) Be subject to and comply with legislation enacted after the effective date of this section governing the operation and management of schools that are the subject of a state-tribal education compact.
(4) No such school may engage in any sectarian practices in its educational program, admissions or employment policies, or operations.

(5) Nothing in this chapter may limit or restrict any enrollment or school choice options otherwise available under Title 28A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) A school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact may not charge tuition except to the same extent as school districts may be permitted to do so with respect to out-of-state and adult students pursuant to chapter 28A.225 RCW, but may charge fees for participation in optional extracurricular events and activities.

(2) Such schools may not limit admission on any basis other than age group, grade level, or capacity and must otherwise enroll all students who apply.

(3) If capacity is insufficient to enroll all students who apply, a school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact may prioritize the enrollment of tribal members and siblings of already enrolled students.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) A school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact must report student enrollment. Reporting must be done in the same manner and use the same definitions of enrolled students and annual average full-time equivalent enrollment as is required of school districts. The reporting requirements in this subsection are required for a school to receive state or federal funding that is allocated based on student characteristics.

(2) Funding for a school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact shall be apportioned by the superintendent of public instruction according to the schedule established under RCW 28A.510.250, including general apportionment, special education, categorical, and other nonbasic education moneys. Allocations for certificated instructional staff must be based on the average staff mix ratio of the school, as calculated by the superintendent of public instruction using the statewide salary allocation schedule and related documents, conditions, and limitations established by the omnibus appropriations act. Allocations for classified staff and certificated administrative staff must be based on the salary allocations of the school district in which the school is located, subject to conditions and limitations established by the omnibus appropriations act. Nothing in this section requires a school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact to use the statewide salary allocation schedule. Such a school is eligible to apply for state grants on the same basis as a school district.

(3) Any moneys received by a school that is the subject of a state-tribal education compact from any source that remain in the school's accounts at the end of any budget year must remain in the school's accounts for use by the school during subsequent budget years.

(4) Schools that are the subject of state-tribal education compacts are encouraged to conduct early learning pilot programs developed under section 9 of this act in conjunction with their school programs for kindergarten and beyond.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28A.642 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter prohibits schools established under chapter 28A.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 9 of this act) from:

(1) Implementing a policy of Indian preference in employment; or

(2) Prioritizing the admission of tribal members where capacity of the school's programs or facilities is not as large as demand.

(5) This section applies only to action taken after December 3, 1998.

(6) This section does not prohibit action that must be taken to establish or maintain eligibility for any federal program, if ineligibility would result in a loss of federal funds to the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. RCW 49.60.400 and 1999 c 3 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter establishes under chapter 28A.--- RCW (the new chapter created in section 9 of this act) from:

The maximum dollar amount which may be levied by or for any school district for maintenance and operation support under the provisions of RCW 84.52.053 shall be determined as follows:

(1) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 1997, the maximum dollar amount shall be calculated pursuant to the laws and rules in effect in November 1996.

(2) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 1998 and thereafter, the maximum dollar amount shall be the sum of (a) plus or minus (b), (c), and (d) of this subsection minus (e) of this subsection:

(b) For districts in a high/nonhigh relationship, the high school district's maximum levy amount shall be reduced and the nonhigh school district's maximum levy amount shall be increased by an amount equal to the estimated amount of the nonhigh payment due to the high school district under RCW 28A.545.030(3) and 28A.545.050 for the school year commencing the year of the levy;

(c) Except for nonhigh districts under (d) of this subsection, for districts in an interdistrict cooperative agreement, the nonresident school district's maximum levy amount shall be reduced and the resident school district's maximum levy amount shall be increased by an amount equal to the per pupil basic education allocation included in the nonresident district's levy base under subsection (3) of this section multiplied by:

(i) The number of full-time equivalent students served from the resident district in the prior school year; multiplied by:
(ii) The serving district's maximum levy percentage determined under subsection ((6)(ii) (7) of this section; increased by:
(iii) The percent increase per full-time equivalent student as stated in the state basic education appropriation section of the biennial budget between the prior school year and the current school year divided by fifty-five percent;

(d) The levy bases of nonhigh districts participating in an 28A.340.080 shall be adjusted by the office of the superintendent of public instruction to reflect each district's proportional share of student enrollment in the cooperative;

(e) The district's maximum levy amount shall be reduced by the maximum amount of state matching funds for which the district is eligible under RCW 28A.500.010.

(3) For excess levies for collection in calendar year 2005 and thereafter, a district's levy base shall be the sum of allocations in (a) through (c) of this subsection received by the district for the prior school year and the amounts determined under subsection (4) of this section, including allocations for compensation increases, plus the sum of such allocations multiplied by the percent increase per full time equivalent student as stated in the state basic education appropriation section of the biennial budget between the prior school year and the current school year and divided by fifty-five percent.
A district's levy base shall not include local school district district property tax levies or other local revenues, or state and federal allocations not identified in (a) through (c) of this subsection.

reduction funds as defined in subsection (((6))) (7) of this section that are to be allocated to the district that year;
(C) Divide the result of (b)(ii)(B) of this subsection by the district's levy base; and

((6))) (8) "Levy reduction funds" shall mean increases in state funds from the prior school year for programs included under subsections (3) and (4) of this section: (a) That are not attributable to enrollment changes, compensation increases, or inflationary adjustments; and (b) that are or were specifically identified as levy reduction funds in the appropriations act. If levy reduction funds are dependent on formula factors which would not be finalized until after the start of the current school year, the superintendent of public instruction shall estimate the total amount of levy reduction funds by using prior school year data in place of current school year data.

Levy reduction funds shall not include moneys received by school districts from cities or counties.

((6))) (9) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(c) "Initiative 728 rate" means the allocation rate at which the student achievement program would have been funded under chapter 3, Laws of 2001, if all annual adjustments to the initial 2001 allocation rate had been made in previous years and in each subsequent year as provided for under chapter 3, Laws of 2001.

(d) "Initiative 732 base" means the prior year's state allocation for annual salary cost-of-living increases for district employees in the state-funded salary base as it would have been calculated under chapter 4, Laws of 2001, if each annual cost-of-living increase allocation had been provided in previous years and in each subsequent year.

(10) Funds collected from transportation vehicle fund tax levies shall not be subject to the levy limitations in this section.

(11) The superintendent of public instruction shall develop rules and inform school districts of the pertinent data necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(12) For calendar year 2009, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall recalculate school district levy authority to reflect levy rates certified by school districts for calendar year 2009.

(1)(a) Every diver engaged in the commercial harvest of subtidal geoduck clams shall obtain a ((nontransferable)) geoduck diver license. An individual may only own one license and all geoduck harvesting performed under the license must be done personally by the actual license holder.

(b) The licensing requirement created in this section does not apply to divers engaged in activities related to the cultivation of geoduck clams as private sector cultured aquatic products as defined in RCW 15.85.020.

(c) The geoduck diver license is a nontransferable license.

(2) Beginning January 1, 2015, the director may not issue more than seventy-seven geoduck diver licenses in any one year.

(3) The annual geoduck diver license fee is as provided in RCW 77.65.440.

(4) A geoduck diver license expires on December 31st of each year. Prior to the license’s expiration, a license holder may apply to renew the license holder’s geoduck diver license only if the license holder is included on a department of natural resources’ geoduck harvest agreement plan of operation during the applicable current calendar year.

(5) Beginning January 1, 2015, each person applying for or renewing a geoduck diver license under this section must complete the geoduck diver safety program established in section 5 of this act prior to being issued a license.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The director of the department of fish and wildlife shall give individuals who held a geoduck diver license in 2011, 2012, 2013, or 2014, and who were listed on a department of natural resources’ geoduck harvest agreement plan of operation during the same period, the right of first refusal to purchase a geoduck diver license for the 2015 license year.

(2) Any license holder who qualifies for the right of first refusal under this section must have his or her intent to purchase a geoduck diver license in 2015 known to the director of the department of fish and wildlife within six months of the effective date of this section.

(3) This section expires June 30, 2016.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 77.65 RCW to read as follows:

The department must revoke a geoduck diver license issued under RCW 77.65.410, and the licensee must surrender the license, if the licensee is found in violation of a department of natural resources’ geoduck harvest agreement two or more times. The person surrendering the geoduck diver license may not hold another geoduck diver license for a period of one calendar year from the date the license is surrendered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.30 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall establish a geoduck harvest safety committee. The geoduck harvest safety committee consists of one representative from the department, one representative from the department’s geoduck diver advisory committee, one representative from an organization representing the interests of geoduck harvesters, and one representative from an organization representing the interests of geoduck divers. Each representative must be appointed by the administrator.

(2) The geoduck harvest safety committee must meet at least quarterly. By December 1, 2013, the committee must submit a recommendation to the department regarding the establishment of a geoduck diver safety program and safety requirements for geoduck divers licensed under RCW 77.65.410.

(3) Upon the establishment of the geoduck diver safety program under section 5 of this act, the geoduck harvest safety committee must continue to review and evaluate the safety program’s success and effectiveness and recommend to the department appropriate changes to improve the geoduck diver safety program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.30 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By December 1, 2014, the department must, by rule, create a geoduck diver safety program and establish safety requirements for geoduck divers licensed under RCW 77.65.410. The department must adopt rules based on the recommendation of the geoduck harvest safety committee established in section 4 of this act.

(2) The department may adopt, amend, or repeal rules as needed to ensure the success and effectiveness of the geoduck diver safety program created under subsection (1) of this section. The department must consider the recommendations provided by the geoduck harvest safety committee under section 4(3) of this act.

(3) The department may not adopt rules in conflict with commercial diving safety standards and regulations promulgated and implemented by the federal occupational safety and health administration established under the federal occupational safety and health act of 1970 (84 Stat. 1590 et seq.; 29 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.).

(4) A civil suit or action may not be commenced or prosecuted against the administrator, department, or any other government officer or entity by reason of any actions taken in connection with the adoption or enforcement of the geoduck diver safety program and safety requirements established under subsections (1) and (2) of this section. The state of Washington does not waive its sovereign immunity with respect to any actions taken by the department under this section.

Sec. 6. RCW 79.135.210 and 2005 c 155 s 708 and 2005 c 113 s 3 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in RCW 79.135.040, geoducks shall be sold as valuable materials under the provisions of chapter 79.90 RCW. After confirmation of the sale, the department may enter into an agreement with the purchaser for the harvesting of geoducks. The department may place terms and conditions in the harvesting agreements as the department deems necessary. The department may enforce the provisions of any harvesting agreement by suspending or canceling the harvesting agreement or through any other means contained in the harvesting agreement. Any geoduck harvester may terminate a harvesting agreement entered into pursuant to this subsection if actions of a governmental agency, beyond the control of the harvester, its agents, or its employees, prohibit harvesting, for a period exceeding thirty days during the term of the harvesting agreement, except as provided within the agreement. Upon termination of the agreement by the harvester, the harvester shall be reimbursed by the department for the cost paid to the department on the agreement, less the value of the harvest already accomplished by the harvester under the agreement.

(2) Harvesting agreements under this title for the purpose of harvesting geoducks shall require the harvester and the harvester’s agent or representatives to comply with all applicable commercial diving safety standards and regulations promulgated and implemented by the federal occupational safety and health administration established under the federal occupational safety and health act of 1970 as the law exists or as amended (84 Stat. 1590 et seq.; 29 U.S.C. Sec. 651 et seq.). However, for the purposes of this section and RCW 77.60.070, all persons who dive for geoducks are deemed to be employees as defined by the federal occupational safety and health act. All harvesting agreements shall provide that failure to comply with these standards is cause for suspension or cancellation of the harvesting agreement. Further, for the purposes of this subsection if the harvester contracts with another person or entity for the harvesting of geoducks, the harvesting agreement shall not be suspended or canceled if the harvester terminates its business.

Concerning the adjudication of tolls and accompanying civil penalties.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Eide moved that the following committee striking amendment by the Committee on Transportation be adopted:

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1941, by House Committee on Transportation (originally sponsored by Representatives Habib, Clibborn and Springer)

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 46.63.160 and 2011 c 367 s 705 are each amended to read as follows: (1) This section applies only to civil penalties for nonpayment of tolls detected through use of photo toll systems.

(2) Nothing in this section prohibits a law enforcement officer from issuing a notice of traffic infraction to a person in control of a vehicle at the time a violation occurs under RCW 46.63.030(1)(a), (b), or (c).

(3) A notice of civil penalty may be issued by the department of transportation when a toll is assessed through use of a photo toll system and the toll is not paid by the toll payment due date, which is eighty days from the date the vehicle uses the toll facility and incurs the toll charge.

(4) Any registered owner or renter of a vehicle traveling upon a toll facility operated under chapter 47.56 or 47.46 RCW is subject to a civil penalty governed by the administrative procedures set forth in this section when the vehicle incurs a toll charge and the toll is not paid by the toll payment due date, which is eighty days from the date the vehicle uses the toll facility and incurs the toll charge.

(5)(a) Consistent with chapter 34.05 RCW, the department of transportation shall develop an administrative adjudication process to review appeals of civil penalties issued by the department of transportation for toll nonpayment detected through the use of a photo toll system under this section. The department of transportation shall submit to the transportation committees of the legislature an annual report on the number of times adjudicators reduce or dismiss the civil penalty as provided in (b) of this subsection and the total amount of the civil penalties dismissed. The report must be submitted by December 1st of each year.

(b) During the adjudication process, the alleged violator must have an opportunity to explain mitigating circumstances. Hospitalization, a divorce decree or legal separation agreement resulting in a transfer of the vehicle, an active duty member of the military or national guard covered by the federal servicemembers civil relief act, 50 U.S.C. Sec. 501 et seq., or state service members' civil relief act, chapter 38.42 RCW, eviction, homelessness, the death of the alleged violator or of an immediate family member, or if the alleged violator did not receive a toll charge bill or notice of civil penalty are valid mitigating circumstances. All of these reasons that constitute mitigating circumstances must occur within a reasonable time of the alleged toll violation. In response to these circumstances, the adjudicator may reduce or dismiss the civil penalty.

(6) The use of a photo toll system is subject to the following requirements:

(a) Photo toll systems may take photographs, digital photographs, microphotographs, videotapes, or other recorded images of the vehicle and vehicle license plate only.

(b) A notice of civil penalty must include with it a certificate or facsimile thereof, based upon inspection of photographs, microphotographs, videotape, or other recorded images produced by a photo toll system, stating the facts supporting the notice of civil penalty. This certificate or facsimile is prima facie evidence of the facts contained in it and is admissible in a proceeding established under subsection (5) of this section. The photographs, digital photographs, microphotographs, videotape, or other recorded images evidencing the toll nonpayment civil penalty must be available for inspection and admission into evidence in a proceeding to adjudicate the liability for the civil penalty.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all photographs, digital photographs, microphotographs, videotape, other recorded images, or other records identifying a specific instance of travel prepared under this (chapter) section are for the exclusive use of the tolling agency for toll collection and enforcement purposes and are not open to the public and may not be used in a court in a pending action or proceeding unless the action or proceeding relates to a civil penalty under this (chapter) section. No photograph, digital photograph, microphotograph, videotape, other recorded image, or other record identifying a specific instance of travel may be used for any purpose other than toll collection or enforcement of civil penalties under this section. Records identifying a specific instance of travel by a specific person or vehicle must be retained only as required to ensure payment and enforcement of tolls and to comply with state records retention policies.

(d) All locations where a photo toll system is used must be clearly marked by placing signs in locations that clearly indicate to a driver that he or she is entering a zone where tolls are assessed and enforced by a photo toll system.

(e) Within existing resources, the department of transportation shall conduct education and outreach efforts at least six months prior to activating an all-electronic photo toll system. Methods of outreach shall include a department presence at community meetings in the vicinity of a toll facility, signage, and information published in local media. Information provided shall include notice of when all electronic photo tolling shall begin and methods of payment. Additionally, the department shall provide quarterly reporting on education and outreach efforts and other data related to the issuance of civil penalties.

(f) The envelope containing a toll charge bill or related notice issued pursuant to RCW 47.46.105 or 47.56.795, or a notice of civil penalty issued under this section, must prominently indicate that the contents are time sensitive and related to a toll violation.

(7) Civil penalties for toll nonpayment detected through the use of photo toll systems must be issued to the registered owner of the vehicle identified by the photo toll system, but are not part of the registered owner's driving record under RCW 46.52.101 and 46.52.120.

(8) The civil penalty for toll nonpayment detected through the use of a photo toll system is forty dollars plus the photo toll and associated fees.

(9) Except as provided otherwise in this subsection, all civil penalties, including the photo toll and associated fees, collected under this section must be deposited into the toll facility account of the facility on which the toll was assessed. However, through June 30, 2013, civil penalties deposited into the Tacoma Narrows toll bridge account created under RCW 47.56.165 that are in excess of amounts necessary to support the toll adjudication process applicable to toll collection on the Tacoma Narrows bridge must first be allocated toward repayment of operating loans and reserve payments provided to the account from the motor vehicle account under section 1005(15), chapter 518, Laws of 2007. Additionally, all civil penalties, resulting from nonpayment of tolls on the state route number 520 corridor, shall be deposited into the state route number 520 civil penalties account created under section 4, chapter 248, Laws of 2010 but only if chapter 248, Laws of 2010 is enacted by June 30, 2010.

(10) If the registered owner of the vehicle is a rental car business, the department of transportation shall, before a toll bill is issued, provide a written notice to the rental car business that a toll bill may be issued to the rental car business if the rental car business does not, within thirty days of the mailing of the written notice, provide to the issuing agency by return mail:

(a) A statement under oath stating the name and known mailing address of the individual driving or renting the vehicle when the toll was assessed; or

(b) A statement under oath that the business is unable to determine who was driving or renting the vehicle at the time the toll was assessed because the vehicle was stolen at the time the toll was assessed. A statement provided under this subsection must be accompanied by a copy of a filed police report regarding the vehicle theft; or

(c) In lieu of identifying the vehicle operator, the rental car business may pay the applicable toll and fee.

Timely mailing of this statement to the issuing agency relieves a rental car business of any liability under this section for the payment of the toll.

(11) Consistent with chapter 34.05 RCW, the department of transportation shall develop rules to implement this section.

(12) For the purposes of this section, "photo toll system" means the system defined in RCW 47.56.010 and 47.46.020.

(1) The department of social and health services, adoption agencies, and independent adoption facilitators shall release the name and location of the court where a relinquishment of parental rights or finalization of an adoption took place to an adult adoptee, a birth parent of an adult adoptee, an adoptive parent, a birth or adoptive grandparent of an adult adoptee, or an adult sibling of an adult adoptee, or the legal guardian of any of these.

(2) The department of health shall make available a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate of a child to the child's birth parents upon request.

(3)(a) For adoptions finalized after October 1, 1993, the department of health shall ((make available)) provide a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate to ((the adoptee after the adoptee's eighteenth birthday unless the birth parent has filed an affidavit of nondisclosure)) an adoptee eighteen years of age or older upon request, unless the birth parent has filed an affidavit of nondisclosure before the effective date of this section or a contact preference form that indicates he or she does not want the original birth certificate released. PROVIDED. That the affidavit of nondisclosure, the contact preference form, or both have not expired.

(b) For adoptions finalized on or before October 1, 1993, the department of health may not provide a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate to the adoptee until after June 30, 2014. After June 30, 2014, the department of health shall provide a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate to an adoptee eighteen years of age or older upon request, unless the birth parent has filed a contact preference form that indicates he or she does not want the original birth certificate released. PROVIDED. That the contact preference form has not expired.

(c) An affidavit of nondisclosure expires upon the death of the birth parent.

(4)(a) Regardless of whether a birth parent has filed an affidavit of nondisclosure or when the adoption was finalized, a birth parent may at any time complete a contact preference form stating his or her preference about personal contact with the adoptee, which, if available, must accompany an original birth certificate provided to an adoptee under subsection (3) of this section.

(b) The contact preference form must include the following options:

(i) I would like to be contacted. I give the department of health consent to provide the adoptee with a noncertified copy of his or her original birth certificate;

(ii) I would like to be contacted only through a confidential intermediary as described in RCW 26.33.343. I give the department of health consent to provide the adoptee with a noncertified copy of his or her original birth certificate;

(iii) I prefer not to be contacted and have completed the birth parent updated medical history form. I give the department of health consent to provide the adoptee with a noncertified copy of his or her original birth certificate; and

(iv) I prefer not to be contacted and have completed the birth parent updated medical history form. I do not want a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate released to the adoptee.

(c) If the birth parent indicates he or she prefers not to be contacted, personally identifying information on the contact preference form must be kept confidential and may not be released.

(d) Nothing in this section precludes a birth parent from subsequently filing another contact preference form to rescind the previous contact preference form and state a different preference.

(c) A contact preference form expires upon the death of the birth parent.

(5) If a birth parent files a contact preference form, the birth parent must also file an updated medical history form with the department of health. Upon request of the adoptee, the department of health must provide the adoptee with the updated medical history form filed by the adoptee's birth parent.

(6) Both a completed contact preference form and birth parent updated medical history form are confidential and must be placed in the adoptee's sealed file.

(7) If a birth parent files a contact preference form within six months after the first time an adoptee requests a copy of his or her original birth certificate as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the department of health must forward the contact preference form and the birth parent updated medical history form to the address of the adoptee.

(8) The department of health may charge a fee not to exceed twenty dollars for providing a noncertified copy of a birth certificate to an adoptee.

(9) The department of health must create the contact preference form and an updated medical history form. The contact preference form must provide a method to ensure personally identifying information can be kept confidential. The updated medical history form may not require the birth parent to disclose any identifying information about the birth parent.

(10) If the department of health does not provide an adoptee with a noncertified copy of the original birth certificate because a valid affidavit of nondisclosure or contact preference form has been filed, the adoptee may request, no more than once per year, that the department of health attempt to determine if the birth parent is deceased. Upon request of the adoptee, the department of health must make a reasonable effort to search public records that are accessible and already available to the department of health to determine if the birth parent is deceased. The department of health may charge the adoptee a reasonable fee to cover the cost of conducting a search."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 19.290 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The following personal property is subject to seizure and forfeiture and no property right exists in them: All personal property including, but not limited to, any item, object, tool, substance, device, weapon, machine, vehicle of any kind, money, security, or negotiable instrument, which the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence was used or intended to be used by its owner or the person in charge to knowingly or intentionally... facilitate the commission of, or to knowingly or intentionally abet the commission of, a crime involving theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property, or which the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence was knowingly or intentionally furnished or was intended to be furnished by any person in the commission of, as a result of, or as compensation for the commission of, a crime involving theft, trafficking, or the unlawful possession of commercial metal property, or which the property owner acquired in whole or in part with proceeds traceable to a knowing or intentional commission of a crime involving the theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property provided that such activity is not less than a class C felony; except that:

(a) No vehicle used by any person as a common carrier in the transaction of business as a common carrier is subject to forfeiture under this section unless the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the owner or other person in charge of the vehicle is a consenting party or is privy to any crime involving theft, trafficking, or the unlawful possession of commercial metal property;

(b) A forfeiture of property encumbered by a bona fide security interest is subject to the interest of the secured party if the secured party neither had actual or constructive knowledge of nor consented to the commission of any crime involving the theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property; and

(c) A property owner's property is not subject to seizure if an employee or agent of that property owner uses the property owner's property to knowingly or intentionally facilitate the commission of, or to knowingly or intentionally aid and abet the commission of, a crime involving theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property, in violation of that property owner's instructions or policies against such activity, and without the property owner's knowledge or consent.

(2) The following real property is subject to seizure and forfeiture and no property right exists in them: All real property, including any right, title, and interest in the whole of any lot or tract of land, and any appurtenances or improvements, that the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence are being used with the knowledge of the owner for the intentional commission of any crime involving the theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property, or which have been acquired in whole or in part with proceeds traceable to the commission of any crime involving the trafficking, theft, or unlawful possession of commercial metal, if such activity is not less than a class C felony and a substantial nexus exists between the commission of the violation or crime and the real property. However:

(a) No property may be forfeited pursuant to this subsection (2), to the extent of the interest of an owner, by reason of any act or omission committed or omitted without the owner's actual or constructive knowledge; and further, a property owner's real property is not subject to seizure if an employee or agent of that property owner uses the property owner's real property to knowingly or intentionally facilitate the commission of, or to knowingly or intentionally aid and abet the commission of, a crime involving theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property, in violation of that property owner's instructions or policies against such activity, and without the property owner's knowledge or consent; and

(b) A forfeiture of real property encumbered by a bona fide security interest is subject to the interest of the secured party if the secured party, neither had actual or constructive knowledge, nor consented to the act or omission.

(3) Property subject to forfeiture under this chapter may be seized by any law enforcement officer of this state upon process issued by any superior court having jurisdiction over the property.
Seizure of real property shall include the filing of a lis pendens by the seizing agency. Real property seized under this section shall not be transferred or otherwise conveyed until ninety days after seizure or until a judgment of forfeiture is entered, whichever is later: PROVIDED, That real property seized under this section may be transferred or conveyed to any person or entity who acquires title by foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure of a security interest. Seizure of personal property without process may be made if:

(a) The seizure is incident to an arrest or a search under a search warrant; or

(b) The property subject to seizure has been the subject of a prior judgment in favor of the state in a criminal injunction or forfeiture proceeding.

(4) In the event of seizure pursuant to this section, proceedings for forfeiture shall be deemed commenced by the seizure. The law enforcement agency under whose authority the seizure was made shall cause notice to be served within fifteen days following the seizure on the owner of the property seized and the person in charge thereof and any person having any known right or interest therein, including any community property interest, of the seizure and intended forfeiture of the seized property. Service of notice of seizure of real property shall be made according to the rules of civil procedure. However, the state may not obtain a default judgment with respect to real property against a party who is served by substituted service absent an affidavit stating that a good faith effort has been made to ascertain if the defaulted party is incarcerated within the state, and that there is no present basis to believe that the party is incarcerated within the state. The notice of seizure of personal property may be served by any method authorized by law or court rule including but not limited to service by certified mail with return receipt requested. Service by mail shall be deemed complete upon mailing within the fifteen day period following the seizure. Notice of seizure in the case of property subject to a security interest that has been perfected by filing a financing statement in accordance with chapter 62A.9A RCW, or a certificate of title shall be made by service upon the secured party or the secured party's assignee at the address shown on the financing statement or the certificate of title.

(5) If no person notifies the seizing law enforcement agency in writing of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of items specified in subsection (1) of this section within forty-five days of the seizure in the case of personal property and ninety days in the case of real property, the item seized shall be deemed forfeited. The community property interest in real property of a person whose spouse or domestic partner committed a violation resulting in seizure of the real property cannot be forfeited if the person did not participate in the violation.

(6) If a person notifies the seizing law enforcement agency in writing of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of the seized property within forty-five days of the seizure in the case of personal property and ninety days in the case of real property, the law enforcement agency shall give the person or persons a reasonable opportunity to be heard as to the claim or right.
The hearing shall be before the chief law enforcement officer of the seizing agency or the chief law enforcement officer's designee, except where the seizing agency is a state agency as defined in RCW 34.12.020(4), the hearing shall be before the chief law enforcement officer of the seizing agency or an administrative law judge appointed under chapter 34.12 RCW, except that any person asserting a claim or right may remove the matter to a court of competent jurisdiction. Removal may only be accomplished according to the rules of civil procedure. The person seeking removal of the matter must serve process against the state, county, political subdivision, or municipality that operates the seizing agency, and any other party of interest, in accordance with RCW 4.28.080 or 4.92.020, within forty-five days after the person seeking removal has notified the seizing law enforcement agency of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession. The court to which the matter is to be removed shall be the district court when the aggregate value of the property is within the jurisdictional limit set forth in RCW 3.66.020. A hearing before the seizing agency and any appeal therefrom shall be under Title 34 RCW. In a court hearing between two or more claimants to the property involved, the prevailing party shall be entitled to a judgment for costs and reasonable attorneys' fees. The burden of producing evidence shall be upon the person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the property.

(7) At the hearing, the seizing agency has the burden of proof to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that seized property is subject to forfeiture, and that the use or intended use of the seized property in connection with a crime pursuant to this section occurred with the owner's actual or constructive knowledge or consent. The person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the property has the burden of proof to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the person owns or has a right to possess the seized property. The possession of bare legal title is not sufficient to establish ownership of seized property if the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the person claiming ownership or right to possession is a nominal owner and did not actually own or exert a controlling interest in the property.

The seizing law enforcement agency shall promptly return the property to the claimant upon a determination by the administrative law judge or court that the claimant is the present lawful owner or is lawfully entitled to possession of the property.

(8) When property is forfeited under this chapter, after satisfying any court-ordered victim restitution, the seizing law enforcement agency may:

(a) Retain it for official use or, upon application by any law enforcement agency of this state, release such property to such agency; or

(b) Sell that which is not required to be destroyed by law and which is not harmful to the public.

(9)(a) Within one hundred twenty days after the entry of an order of forfeiture, each seizing agency shall remit to, if known, the victim of the crime involving the seized property, an amount equal to fifty percent of the net proceeds of any property forfeited.

(b) Retained property and net proceeds not required to be paid to victims shall be retained by the seizing law enforcement agency exclusively for the expansion and improvement of law enforcement activity. Money retained under this section may not be used to supplant precutting funding sources.

(c) The net proceeds of forfeited property is the value of the forfeitable interest in the property after deducting the cost of satisfying any bona fide security interest to which the property is subject at the time of seizure; and in the case of sold property, after deducting the cost of sale, including reasonable fees or commissions paid to independent selling agents, and the cost of any valid landlord's claim for damages.

(d) The value of sold forfeited property is the sale price. The value of retained forfeited property is the fair market value of the property at the time of seizure, determined when possible by reference to an applicable commonly used index, such as the index used by the department of licensing for valuation of motor vehicles. A seizing agency may use, but need not use, an independent qualified appraiser to determine the value of retained property. If an appraiser is used, the value of the property appraised is net of the cost of the appraisal. The value of destroyed property and retained firearms or illegal property is zero.

(10) Upon the entry of an order of forfeiture of real property, the court shall forward a copy of the order to the assessor of the county in which the property is located. Orders for the forfeiture of real property shall be entered by the superior court, subject to court rules. Such an order shall be filed by the seizing agency in the county auditor's records in the county in which the real property is located.

theft, trafficking, or unlawful possession of commercial metal property, in violation of that property owner's instructions or policies against such activity, and without the property owner's knowledge or consent; and

(b) A forfeiture of real property encumbered by a bona fide security interest is subject to the interest of the secured party if the secured party, neither had actual or constructive knowledge, nor consented to the act or omission.

(3) Property subject to forfeiture under this chapter may be seized by any law enforcement officer of this state upon process issued by any superior court having jurisdiction over the property. Seizure of real property shall include the filing of a lis pendens by the seizing agency. Real property seized under this section shall not be transferred or otherwise conveyed until ninety days after seizure or until a judgment of forfeiture is entered, whichever is later: PROVIDED, That real property seized under this section may be transferred or conveyed to any person or entity who acquires title by foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure of a security interest. Seizure of personal property without process may be made if:

(a) The seizure is incident to an arrest or a search under a search warrant; or

(b) The property subject to seizure has been the subject of a prior judgment in favor of the state in a criminal injunction or forfeiture proceeding.

(4) In the event of seizure pursuant to this section, proceedings for forfeiture shall be deemed commenced by the seizure. The law enforcement agency under whose authority the seizure was made shall cause notice to be served within fifteen days following the seizure on the owner of the property seized and the person in charge thereof and any person having any known right or interest therein, including any community property interest, of the seizure and intended forfeiture of the seized property. Service of notice of seizure of real property shall be made according to the rules of civil procedure. However, the state may not obtain a default judgment with respect to real property against a party who is served by substituted service absent an affidavit stating that a good faith effort has been made to ascertain if the defaulted party is incarcerated within the state, and that there is no present basis to believe that the party is incarcerated within the state. The notice of seizure of personal property may be served by any method authorized by law or court rule including but not limited to service by certified mail with return receipt requested. Service by mail shall be deemed complete upon mailing within the fifteen day period following the seizure. Notice of seizure in the case of property subject to a security interest that has been perfected by filing a financing statement in accordance with chapter 62A.9A RCW, or a certificate of title shall be made by service upon the secured party or the secured party's assignee at the address shown on the financing statement or the certificate of title.

(5) If no person notifies the seizing law enforcement agency in writing of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of items specified in subsection (1) of this section within forty-five days of the seizure in the case of personal property and ninety days in the case of real property, the item seized shall be deemed forfeited. The community property interest in real property of a person whose spouse or domestic partner committed a violation giving rise to seizure of the real property may not be forfeited if the person did not participate in the violation.

(6) If a person notifies the seizing law enforcement agency in writing of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession of the seized property within forty-five days of the seizure in the case of personal property and ninety days in the case of real property, the law enforcement agency shall give the person or persons a reasonable opportunity to be heard as to the claim or right. The hearing shall be before the chief law enforcement officer of the seizing agency or the chief law enforcement officer's designee, except where the seizing agency is a state agency as defined in RCW 34.12.020(4), the hearing shall be before the chief law enforcement officer of the seizing agency or an administrative law judge appointed under chapter 34.12 RCW, except that any person asserting a claim or right may remove the matter to a court of competent jurisdiction. Removal may only be accomplished according to the rules of civil procedure. The person seeking removal of the matter must serve process against the state, county, political subdivision, or municipality that operates the seizing agency, and any other party of interest, in accordance with RCW 4.28.080 or 4.92.020, within forty-five days after the person seeking removal has notified the seizing law enforcement agency of the person's claim of ownership or right to possession. The court to which the matter is to be removed shall be the district court when the aggregate value of the property is within the jurisdictional limit set forth in RCW 3.66.020. A hearing before the seizing agency and any appeal therefrom shall be under Title 34 RCW. In a court hearing between two or more claimants to the property involved, the prevailing party shall be entitled to a judgment for costs and reasonable attorneys' fees. The burden of producing evidence shall be upon the person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the property.

(7) At the hearing, the seizing agency has the burden of proof to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that seized property is subject to forfeiture, and that the use or intended use of the seized property in connection with a crime pursuant to this section occurred with the owner's actual or constructive knowledge or consent. The person claiming to be the lawful owner or the person claiming to have the lawful right to possession of the property has the burden of proof to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the person owns or has a right to possess the seized property. The possession of bare legal title is not sufficient to establish ownership of seized property if the seizing agency proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the person claiming ownership or right to possession is a nominal owner and did not actually own or exert a controlling interest in the property.

The seizing law enforcement agency shall promptly return the property to the claimant upon a determination by the administrative law judge or court that the claimant is the present lawful owner or is lawfully entitled to possession of the property.

(8) When property is forfeited under this chapter, after satisfying any court-ordered victim restitution, the seizing law enforcement agency may:

(a) Retain it for official use or, upon application by any law enforcement agency of this state, release such property to such agency; or

(b) Sell that which is not required to be destroyed by law and which is not harmful to the public.

(9)(a) Within one hundred twenty days after the entry of an order of forfeiture, each seizing agency shall remit to, if known, the victim of the crime involving the seized property, an amount equal to fifty percent of the net proceeds of any property forfeited.

(b) Retained property and net proceeds not required to be paid to victims shall be retained by the seizing law enforcement agency exclusively for the expansion and improvement of law enforcement activity. Money retained under this section may not be used to supplant preexisting funding sources.

(c) The net proceeds of forfeited property is the value of the forfeitable interest in the property after deducting the cost of satisfying any bona fide security interest to which the property is subject at the time of seizure; and in the case of sold property, after deducting the cost of sale, including reasonable fees or commissions paid to independent selling agents, and the cost of any valid landlord's claim for damages.
NINETY THIRD DAY, APRIL 16, 2013

(d) The value of sold forfeited property is the sale price. The value of retained forfeited property is the fair market value of the property at the time of seizure, determined when possible by reference to an applicable commonly used index, such as the index used by the department of licensing for valuation of motor vehicles.

A seizing agency may use, but need not use, an independent qualified appraiser to determine the value of retained property. If an appraiser is used, the value of the property appraised is net of the cost of the appraisal. The value of destroyed property and retained firearms or illegal property is zero.

(10) Upon the entry of an order of forfeiture of real property, the court shall forward a copy of the order to the assessor of the county in which the property is located. Orders for the forfeiture of real property shall be entered by the superior court, subject to court rules. Such an order shall be filed by the seizing agency in the county auditor's records in the county in which the real property is located.

The decision to disclose or not shall not result in civil liability for the department or its employees so long as the decision was reached in good faith and without gross negligence. The information received by a state or local agency from the department shall remain confidential and subject to the limitations on disclosure set forth in chapters 70.02, 71.05, and 71.34 RCW and, subject to these limitations, may be released only as relevant and necessary to counteract the danger created by a particular offender.

(6) The information received by the department under RCW 71.05.445 or ((21.34.345)) section 9 of this act may be disclosed by the department to individuals only with respect to offenders who have been determined by the department to have a high risk of reoffending by a risk assessment, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, only as relevant and necessary for those individuals to take reasonable steps for the purpose of self-protection, or as provided in RCW 72.09.370(2). The information may not be disclosed for the purpose of engaging the public in a system of supervision, monitoring, and reporting offender behavior to the department. The department must limit the disclosure of information related to mental health services to the public to descriptions of an offender's behavior, risk he or she may present to the community, and need for mental health treatment, including medications, and shall not disclose or release to the public copies of treatment documents or records, except as otherwise provided by law. All disclosure of information to the public must be done in a manner consistent with the written policy established by the secretary. The decision to disclose or not shall not result in civil liability for the department or its employees so long as the decision was reached in good faith and without gross negligence. Nothing in this subsection prevents any person from reporting to law enforcement or the department behavior that he or she believes creates a public safety risk.
Sec. 33. RCW 9.94A.500 and 2008 c 231 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

SENTENCING HEARINGS—PREVENTION OF WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE OF MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES RECORDS AND INFORMATION. (1) Before imposing a sentence upon a defendant, the court shall conduct a sentencing hearing. The sentencing hearing shall be held within forty court days following conviction. Upon the motion of either party for good cause shown, or on its own motion, the court may extend the time period for conducting the sentencing hearing.

Except in cases where the defendant shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of release or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, the court may order the department to complete a risk assessment report. If available before sentencing, the report shall be provided to the court.

Unless specifically waived by the court, the court shall order the department to complete a chemical dependency screening report before imposing a sentence upon a defendant who has been convicted of a violation of the uniform controlled substances act under chapter 69.50 RCW, a criminal solicitation to commit such a crime, the court shall order the department to complete a risk assessment report. If available before sentencing, the report shall be provided to the court.

The court shall consider the risk assessment report and presentence reports, if any, including any victim impact statement and criminal history, and allow arguments from the prosecutor, the defense counsel, the offender, the victim, the survivor of the victim, or a representative of the victim or survivor, and an investigative law enforcement officer as to the sentence to be imposed.

A criminal history summary relating to the defendant from the prosecuting authority or from a state, federal, or foreign governmental agency shall be prima facie evidence of the existence and validity of the convictions listed therein. If the court is satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant has a criminal history, the court shall specify the convictions it has found to exist. All of this information shall be part of the record. Copies of all risk assessment reports and presentence reports presented to the sentencing court and all written findings of facts and conclusions of law as to sentencing entered by the court shall be sent to the department by the clerk of the court at the conclusion of the sentencing and shall accompany the offender if the offender is committed to the custody of the department. Court clerks shall provide, without charge, certified copies of documents relating to criminal convictions requested by prosecuting attorneys.

(2) To prevent wrongful disclosure of information and records related to mental health services, or grant other relief to achieve the result intended by this subsection, but nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent the subsequent release of information and records related to mental health services as authorized by RCW 71.05.445, (71.34.345) section 9 of this act, or 72.09.585. Any person who otherwise is permitted to attend any hearing pursuant to chapter 7.69 or 7.69A RCW shall not be excluded from the hearing solely because the department intends to disclose or discloses information related to mental health services.
