MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 3, 2016

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6470 with the following amendment(s): 6470-S.E AMH GGIT H4629.1

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 66.24.170 and 2014 c 105 s 1 and 2014 c 27 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) There ((shall be)) is a license for domestic wineries; fee to be computed only on the liters manufactured: Less than two hundred fifty thousand liters per year, one hundred dollars per year; and two hundred fifty thousand liters or more per year, four hundred dollars per year.

(2) The license allows for the manufacture of wine in Washington state from grapes or other agricultural products.

(3) Any domestic winery licensed under this section may also act as a retailer of wine of its own production. Any domestic winery licensed under this section may act as a distributor of its own production. Notwithstanding any language in this title to the contrary, a domestic winery may use a common carrier to deliver up to one hundred cases of its own production, in the aggregate, per month to licensed Washington retailers. A domestic winery may not arrange for any such common carrier shipments to licensed retailers of wine not of its own production. Except as provided in this section, any winery operating as a distributor and/or retailer under this subsection must comply with the applicable laws and rules relating to distributors and/or retailers, except that a winery operating as a distributor may maintain a warehouse off the premises of the winery for the distribution of wine of its own production provided that: (a) The warehouse has been approved by the board under RCW 66.24.010; and (b) the number of warehouses off the premises of the winery does not exceed one.

(4) A domestic winery licensed under this section, at locations separate from any of its production or manufacturing sites, may serve samples of its own products, with or without charge, may sell wine of its own production at retail, and may sell for off-premises consumption wines of its own production in kegs or sanitary containers meeting the applicable requirements of federal law brought to the premises by the purchaser or furnished by the licensee and filled at the tap at the time of sale, provided that: (a) Each additional location has been approved by the board under RCW 66.24.010; (b) the total number of additional locations does not exceed two; (c) a winery may not act as a distributor at any such additional location; and (d) any person selling or serving wine at an additional location for ((on-premises)) on-premises consumption must obtain a class 12 or class 13 alcohol server permit. Each additional location is deemed to be part of the winery license for the purpose of this title. At additional locations operated by multiple wineries under this section, if the board cannot connect a violation of RCW 66.44.200 or 66.44.270 to a single licensee, the board may hold all licensees operating the additional location jointly liable. Nothing in this subsection may be construed to prevent a domestic winery from holding multiple domestic winery licenses.

(5)(a) A domestic winery licensed under this section may apply to the board for an endorsement to sell wine of its own production at retail for off-premises consumption at a qualifying farmers market. The annual fee for this endorsement is seventy-five dollars. An endorsement issued pursuant to this subsection does not count toward the two additional retail locations limit specified in this section.

(b) For each month during which a domestic winery will sell wine at a qualifying farmers market, the winery must provide the board or its designee a list of the dates, times, and locations at which bottled wine may be offered for sale. This list must be received by the board before the winery may offer wine for sale at a qualifying farmers market.

(c) The wine sold at qualifying farmers markets must be made entirely from grapes grown in a recognized Washington appellation or from other agricultural products grown in this state.

(d) Each approved location in a qualifying farmers market is deemed to be part of the winery license for the purpose of this title. The approved locations under an endorsement granted under this subsection include tasting or sampling privileges subject to the conditions pursuant to RCW 66.24.175. The winery may not store wine at a farmers market beyond the hours that the winery offers bottled wine for sale. The winery may not act as a distributor from a farmers market location.

(e) Before a winery may sell bottled wine at a qualifying farmers market, the farmers market must apply to the board for authorization for any winery with an endorsement approved under this subsection to sell bottled wine at retail at the farmers market. This application shall include, at a minimum: (i) A map of the farmers market showing all booths, stalls, or other designated locations at which an approved winery may sell bottled wine; and (ii) the name and contact information for the on-site market managers who may be contacted by the board or its designee to verify the locations at which bottled wine may be sold. Before authorizing a qualifying farmers market to allow an approved winery to sell bottled wine at retail at its farmers market location, the board ((shall)) must notify the persons or entities of such application for authorization pursuant to RCW 66.24.010 (8) and (9). An authorization granted under this subsection (5)(e) may be withdrawn by the board for any violation of this title or any rules adopted under this title.

(f) The board may adopt rules establishing the application and approval process under this section and such additional rules as may be necessary to implement this section.

(g) For the purposes of this subsection:

(i) "Qualifying farmers market" means an entity that sponsors a regular assembly of vendors at a defined location for the purpose of promoting the sale of agricultural products grown or produced in this state directly to the consumer under conditions that meet the following minimum requirements:

(A) There are at least five participating vendors who are farmers selling their own agricultural products;

(B) The total combined gross annual sales of vendors who are farmers exceeds the total combined gross annual sales of vendors who are processors or resellers. However, if a farmers market does not satisfy this subsection (5)(g)(i)(B), a farmers market is still considered a "qualifying farmers market" if the total combined gross annual sales of farmers and processors at the farmers market is one million dollars or more;

(C) The total combined gross annual sales of vendors who are farmers, processors, or resellers exceeds the total combined gross annual sales of vendors who are not farmers, processors, or resellers;

(D) The sale of imported items and secondhand items by any vendor is prohibited; and

(E) No vendor is a franchisee.

(ii) "Farmer" means a natural person who sells, with or without processing, agricultural products that he or she raises on land he or she owns or leases in this state or in another state's county that borders this state.

(iii) "Processor" means a natural person who sells processed food that he or she has personally prepared on land he or she owns or leases in this state or in another state's county that borders this state.

(iv) "Reseller" means a natural person who buys agricultural products from a farmer and resells the products directly to the consumer.

(5) Wine produced in Washington state by a domestic winery licensee may be shipped out-of-state for the purpose of making it into sparkling wine and then returned to such licensee for resale. Such wine ((shall be)) is deemed wine manufactured in the state of Washington for the purposes of RCW 66.24.206, and shall not require a special license.

(7) During an event held by a nonprofit holding a special occasion license issued under RCW 66.24.380, a domestic winery licensed under this section may take orders, either in writing or electronically, and accept payment for wines of its own production under the following conditions:

(a) Wine produced by the domestic winery may be served for on-premises consumption by the special occasion licensee;

(b) The domestic winery delivers wine to the consumer on a date after the conclusion of the special occasion event;

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(c) The domestic winery delivers wine to the consumer at a location different from the location at which the special occasion event is held;

(d) The domestic winery complies with all requirements in chapter 66.20 RCW for direct sale of wine to consumers;

(e) The wine is not sold for resale; and

(f) The domestic winery is entitled to all proceeds from the sale and delivery of its wine to a consumer after the conclusion of the special occasion event, but may enter into an agreement to share a portion of the proceeds of these sales with the special occasion licensee licensed under RCW 66.24.380.

Sec. 2. RCW 66.24.380 and 2012 c 2 s 112 are each amended to read as follows:

There is a retailer's license to be designated as a special occasion license to be issued to a not-for-profit society or organization to sell spirits, beer, and wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption at a specified event, such as at picnics or other special occasions, at a specified date and place; fee sixty dollars per day.

(1) The not-for-profit society or organization is limited to sales of no more than twelve calendar days per year. For the purposes of this subsection, special occasion licensees that are "agricultural area fairs" or "agricultural county, district, and area fairs," as defined by RCW 15.76.120, that receive a special occasion license may, once per calendar year, count as one event fairs that last multiple days, so long as alcohol sales are at set dates, times, and locations, and the board receives prior notification of the dates, times, and locations. The special occasion license applicant will pay the sixty dollars per day for this event.

(2) The licensee may sell spirits, beer, and/or wine in original, unopened containers for off-premises consumption if permission is obtained from the board prior to the event.

(3) In addition to offering the sale of wine by the individual serving for on-premises consumption, the licensee may sell wine in original, unopened containers for on-premises consumption if permission is obtained from the board prior to the event.

(4) Sale, service, and consumption of spirits, beer, and wine is to be confined to specified premises or designated areas only.

((4)) (5) Liquor sold under this special occasion license must be purchased from a licensee of the board.

((5)) (6) Any violation of this section is a class 1 civil infraction having a maximum penalty of two hundred fifty dollars as provided for in chapter 7.80 RCW.

Sec. 3. RCW 66.12.110 and 2012 c 117 s 272 are each amended to read as follows:

A person twenty-one years of age or over may bring into the state from without the United States, free of tax and markup, for his or her personal or household use such alcoholic beverages as have been declared and permitted to enter the United States duty free under federal law.

Such entry of alcoholic beverages in excess of that herein provided may be authorized by the board upon payment of an equivalent ((markup and)) tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail ((from a Washington state liquor store)) in this state. The board ((shall)) must adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section. The board may issue a spirits, beer, and wine private club license to a charitable or nonprofit corporation of the state of Washington, the majority of the officers and directors of which are United States citizens and the minority of the officers and directors of which are citizens of the Dominion of Canada, and where the location of the premises for such spirits, beer, and wine private club license is not more than ten miles south of the border between the United States and the province of British Columbia.

Sec. 4. RCW 66.12.120 and 1995 c 100 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of this title ((66 RCW)), a person twenty-one years of age or over may, free of tax ((and markup)), for personal or household use, bring into the state of Washington from another state no more than once per calendar month up to two liters of spirits or wine or two hundred eighty-eight ounces of beer. Additionally, such person may be authorized by the board to bring into the state of Washington from another state a reasonable amount of alcoholic beverages in excess of that provided in this section for personal or household use only upon payment of an equivalent ((markup and)) tax as would be applicable to the purchase of the same or similar liquor at retail ((from a state liquor store)) in this state. The board ((shall)) must adopt appropriate regulations pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

Sec. 5. RCW 66.12.240 and 2009 c 361 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this title applies to or prevents a wedding boutique or art gallery from offering or supplying without charge wine or beer by the individual glass to a customer for consumption on the premises. However, the customer must be at least twenty-one years of age and may only be offered one glass of wine or beer, and wine or beer served or consumed ((shall)) must be purchased from a Washington state licensed retailer ((or a Washington state liquor store or agency)) at full retail price. A wedding boutique or art gallery offering wine or beer without charge may not advertise the service of complimentary wine or beer and may not sell wine or beer in any manner. Any employee involved in the service of wine or beer must complete a board-approved limited alcohol server training program.

(2) ((For the purposes of this section:)) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

The House passed ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6293 with the following amendment(s): 6293-S.E AMH MANW TANG 129

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

2016 REGULAR SESSION

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that: (1) School-sponsored, unpaid work-based learning, including cooperative education, clinical experiences, and internship programs are a valuable component of many college certifications and degrees; (2) the opportunity to provide labor and industries' medical aid coverage to students in these programs will encourage employers to participate in school-sponsored, unpaid work-based learning, potentially improving employment opportunities for students; and (3) education improves economic viability in communities and in the state of Washington.

Sec. 2. RCW 51.12.170 and 1994 c 246 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) An employer covered under this title may elect to include student volunteers or unpaid students as employees or workers for all purposes relating to medical aid benefits under chapter 51.36 RCW. The employer shall give notice of its intent to cover all of its student volunteers or unpaid students to the director prior to the occurrence of the injury or contraction of an occupational disease.

(2) A student volunteer is an enrolled student in a public school as defined in RCW 28A.150.010, a private school governed under chapter 28A.195 RCW, or a state public or private institution of higher education, who is participating as a volunteer under a program authorized by the ((public)) school. The student volunteer shall perform duties for the employer without wages. The student volunteer shall be deemed to be a volunteer even if the student is granted maintenance and reimbursement for actual expenses necessarily incurred in performing his or her assigned or authorized duties. A person who earns wages for the services performed is not a student volunteer.

(3) An unpaid student is an enrolled student in a state public or private institution of higher education who is participating in an unpaid work-based learning program authorized by the school. The unpaid student shall perform duties for the employer without wages but receives credit towards completing the school program, certification, or degree in return for the services provided.

(4) Any and all premiums or assessments due under this title on account of service by a student volunteer or unpaid student shall be paid by the employer who has registered and accepted the services of student volunteers or engaged in an approved student work-based learning program authorized by the school and has exercised its option to secure the medical aid benefits under chapter 51.36 RCW for the student volunteers or unpaid students.

(5) For the purposes of this section, "unpaid student" includes a student in school-sponsored, unpaid work-based learning, including cooperative education, clinical experiences, and internship programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 51.12 RCW to read as follows:

An employer who has registered and accepted the services of volunteers, student volunteers, or unpaid students, who are eligible for medical aid benefits under this chapter, may annually elect to pay the premiums and assessments due under this title at the rate due for one hundred hours of volunteer service for each volunteer, student volunteer, or unpaid student instead of tracking the actual number of hours for each volunteer, student volunteer, or unpaid student. An employer selecting this option must use the method to cover all their volunteers, student volunteers, or unpaid students for the calendar year."

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

March 3, 2016

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House passed ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 6100 with the following amendment(s): 6100.E AMH GGIT H4625.1

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:

(a) Washington's unemployment rate during the recent recession created economic and social hardships for the people of the state;

(b) Local start-up companies and small businesses are likely, as they grow, to remain in their communities of origin, thereby creating local jobs and an economic multiplier effect with their payrolls and taxes while providing local economic stimuli, which increases the local tax base;

(c) Statewide economic prosperity and job creation are advanced significantly by creating, promoting, and retaining local start-up companies and small businesses with high growth potential;

(d) Entrepreneurs and small business owners of second-stage companies, which are those companies that are beyond the start-up stage but have not yet fully matured, with innovative products or services that satisfy market needs, have particular potential for expansion and job creation;

(e) Such entrepreneurs and owners can benefit from specialized business assistance to refine core strategies and from access to in-depth market research, competitor analyses, geographic information systems, search engine optimization, and other strategic information, as well as from relationships with mentors and advisers;

(f) The aspects of economic gardening that incorporate these principles have proven successful in improving the entrepreneurial process and promoting economically sustainable local businesses; and

(g) It is important to the overall health and growth of the state's economy to promote favorable conditions for those expanding Washington businesses that demonstrate the ability to grow.

(2) In recognition of the foregoing findings and principles, it is the intent of the legislature to create a Washington economic gardening pilot project in the department of commerce.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.31 RCW to read as follows:

(1) There is hereby created within the department the economic gardening pilot project. The purpose of the pilot project is to stimulate Washington's economy and create good-paying, sustainable jobs by providing economic gardening strategic assistance services to second-stage companies in accordance with this section.

FIFTY EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 8, 2016

(2) The department must oversee and direct all resources for the execution of the pilot project. The department must work with chambers of commerce, associate development organizations, and other economic development organizations to implement the pilot project. The pilot project includes developing the processes for qualifying and selecting second-stage companies, identifying training components for economic development organizations implementing the pilot project, engaging private contractors as necessary to obtain strategic assistance from nationally recognized industry experts, and providing economic gardening strategic assistance to companies participating in the pilot project.

(3)(a) On or before January 1, 2017, the department must initiate a program to provide or obtain all necessary credentials for high-impact strategic assistance for the economic development organizations participating in the pilot project.

(b) Economic development organizations participating in the pilot project must be certified in economic gardening by an entity with relevant expertise in providing strategic assistance to second-stage companies.

(i) Prior to December 1, 2016, the department must issue a request for expression of interest in offering an economic gardening strategic assistance program. The department must compile a list of interested parties identified through the request for expression of interest process.

(ii) By December 1, 2016, the department must provide the list to the legislature. The department must select from the list of interested parties the entity it deems best able to deliver the training and strategic assistance services to second-stage companies described in this section and achieve the deliverables identified in subsection (6) of this section.

(c) The department or economic development organizations participating in the pilot project may, as necessary, contract with national specialists in the industries of the second-stage companies selected for the pilot program.

(d) The department must use the existing infrastructure of economic development organizations in the state to promote the pilot project to second-stage companies and to those clients and referrals that show growth potential in jobs, sales, or export potential.

(4)(a) On or before January 1, 2017, the department and participating economic development organizations must publish criteria for a second-stage company to be selected to participate in the pilot project. The criteria must include job growth potential, sustainability, export potential, and a workforce comprised of at least fifty percent Washington residents. Application criteria must also include requirements for data collection, as specified by the department, to show the impacts of services provided through the pilot project. The department and participating economic development organizations must utilize existing strategic infrastructure and consult with local and regional economic development partners, such as chambers of commerce, associate development organizations, and other local or regional economic development entities, to identify eligible second-stage companies.

(b) In order to participate in the pilot project, a company selected for participation must pay a one-time fee of seven hundred fifty dollars, which moneys must be deposited into the economic gardening pilot project fund, created in subsection (5) of this section, for reinvestment in the pilot project.

(c) On or before March 1, 2017, the department and participating economic development organizations must select a minimum of twenty companies to participate in the pilot project.

(d) The department must oversee staff members certified pursuant to subsection (3)(b) of this section and private contractors selected pursuant to subsection (3)(c) of this section to deploy strategic assistance to all pilot project participants. The department and participating economic development organizations must acquire any tools necessary to provide the strategic assistance, including database licenses, permits, and economic gardening certification.

(e) A participating company has twelve months from the date that the department and participating economic development organizations select the company to participate in the pilot project to use the strategic assistance and other economic gardening services offered pursuant to the pilot project.

(5) There is hereby created in the state treasury the economic gardening pilot project fund, to be administered by the department. The fund consists of all fees received under subsection (4)(b) of this section and any moneys appropriated by the legislature for the purposes of this section. The legislature must make annual appropriations of the moneys in the fund to the department for administering the pilot project. Any moneys in the fund not appropriated must remain in the fund and may not be transferred or revert to the general fund at the end of any fiscal year.

(6) On or before November 1, 2017, and on or before November 1st each year thereafter through November 1, 2019, and in compliance with RCW 43.01.036 the department must submit a report to the economic development and workforce development committees of the legislature. The report must include, at a minimum:

(a) The services offered through the pilot project's strategic assistance;

(b) The department's expenditures on strategic assistance provided to pilot project participants;

(c) The number and types of jobs created as a result of the pilot project;

(d) The increased sales as a result of the pilot project; and

(e) The value of goods or services sold outside the company's local area or state.

(7) The definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Department" means the department of commerce.

industry to perform market research, develop core strategies, conduct business modeling, identify qualified sales leads, provide growth financing referrals, perform search engine optimization, utilize geographic information systems, advise on new media marketing, or assist with network analyses and innovation strategies.

(8) The pilot project created in this section terminates July 1, 2019.

(9) This section expires July 1, 2020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 2016, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void."

MOTION

Senator Parlette moved that the Senate concur in the House amendment(s) to Fifth Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5857.

Senators Parlette, Cleveland and Conway spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Cleveland: "Thank you. There's language in this bill that indicates that the pharmacy benefit managers cannot retaliate against a pharmacy that files an appeal, and so my question is, do we have any assurance that the pharmacy benefit managers will not drop a pharmacy who's appealed from their networks in retaliation?"

Senator Parlette: "Thank you Senator Cleveland for asking the question. As you know the health plans have legal network obligations regarding distance to a pharmacy. And the number of pharmacies needed to ensure adequacy and access under the current network adequacy requirements. The Office of the Insurance Commissioner will be able to monitor that adequacy and monitor for any nexus of small pharmacies that have filed appeals and were subsequently dropped from the networks. Thank you for asking the question."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Parlette that the Senate concur in the House amendment(s) to Fifth Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5857.

The motion by Senator Parlette carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment(s) to Fifth Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 5857 by voice vote.

(2) Every survey of an ambulatory surgical facility may include an inspection of every part of the surgical facility. The department may make an examination of all phases of the ambulatory surgical facility operation necessary to determine compliance with all applicable statutes, rules, and regulations. In the event that the department is unable to make a survey or cause a survey to be made during the three years of the term of the license, the license of the ambulatory surgical facility shall remain in effect until the state conducts a survey or a substitute survey is performed if the ambulatory surgical facility is in compliance with all other licensing requirements.

The payor may not impose additional survey requirements on the ambulatory surgical facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 70.230 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall report to the fiscal committees of the legislature by December 1, 2016, and December 1, 2017, if it anticipates that the amounts raised by ambulatory surgical facility licensing fees will not be sufficient to defray the costs of regulating ambulatory surgical facilities. The report shall identify the amount of state general fund money necessary to compensate for the insufficiency.

(2) The department shall conduct a benchmark survey to compare Washington's system for licensing ambulatory surgical facilities with the ambulatory surgical facility licensing systems of other states with a similar number of licensed ambulatory surgical facilities. The survey must review the licensing standards, staffing levels, training of surveyors and inspectors, and expenditures of the selected states. The survey must examine the total cost of the other states' regulatory structures and analyze the reasons for any differences in cost. The survey must assess the extent to which total program costs in other states are supported through licensing fees compared with state general fund money or other resources. The findings of the survey must be submitted to the committees of the legislature with jurisdiction over health care issues by December 1, 2016. The findings must include recommendations for statutory, regulatory, and administrative changes to reduce ambulatory surgical facility licensing fees.

(3) This section expires July 1, 2018.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 2016, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void.

Concerning the recruitment and retention of Washington state patrol commissioned officers.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator King moved that the following striking amendment no. 741 by Senators King and Hobbs be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to recruit and retain the highest qualified commissioned officers of the Washington state patrol appointed under RCW 43.43.020. The "Joint Transportation Committee Recruitment and Retention Study" dated January 7, 2016, outlines several recommendations to fulfill this intent. The study recommendations were broken down into several areas, with the Washington state patrol, office of financial management, select committee on pension policy, and the legislature all supporting their respective authorizations and control over their respective areas of responsibility and accountability. It is also the intent of the legislature in the 2017-2019 fiscal biennium to increase the thirty dollar vehicle license fee distribution to the state patrol for the salaries and benefits of state patrol officers, including troopers, sergeants, lieutenants, and captains, and make adjustments as needed in the 2019-2021 fiscal biennium.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.68.030 and 2015 3rd sp.s. c 43 s 601 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The director shall forward all fees for vehicle registrations under chapters 46.16A and 46.17 RCW, unless otherwise specified by law, to the state treasurer with a proper identifying detailed report. The state treasurer shall credit these moneys to the motor vehicle fund created in RCW 46.68.070.

(2) Proceeds from vehicle license fees and renewal vehicle license fees must be deposited by the state treasurer as follows:

(a) (($20.35)) $23.60 of each initial or renewal vehicle license fee must be deposited in the state patrol highway account in the motor vehicle fund, hereby created. Vehicle license fees, renewal vehicle license fees, and all other funds in the state patrol highway account must be for the sole use of the Washington state patrol for highway activities of the Washington state patrol, subject to proper appropriations and reappropriations.

(b) $2.02 of each initial vehicle license fee and $0.93 of each renewal vehicle license fee must be deposited each biennium in the Puget Sound ferry operations account.

(c) Any remaining amounts of vehicle license fees and renewal vehicle license fees that are not distributed otherwise under this section must be deposited in the motor vehicle fund.

(3) During the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium, the legislature may transfer from the state patrol highway account to the connecting Washington account such amounts as reflect the excess fund balance of the state patrol highway account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The office of financial management must perform an organization study through a third-party independent consultant to implement the changes in the "Joint Transportation Committee Recruitment and Retention Study" dated January 7, 2016, affecting each organization in the study. Washington state patrol management must work actively with the independent consultant to implement the recommended changes. An implementation report must be delivered to the transportation committees of the house of representatives and senate by September 1, 2016.

(2) The Washington state patrol must develop an action plan and implementation strategy for each of the recommendations that are outlined in the study with a report due to the transportation committees of the house of representatives and senate by November 15, 2016.

(3) The select committee on pension policy must review the pension-related items in the study and make recommendations to the governor's office and the legislature by November 1, 2016, on pension policy that will assist in recruiting and retaining state patrol commissioned officers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Effective July 1, 2016, Washington state patrol troopers, sergeants, lieutenants, and captains must receive a one-time five percent compensation increase. The pay increase must be based on the commissioned salary schedule that is effective July 1, 2016.

Sec. 5. RCW 43.43.380 and 1965 c 8 s 43.43.380 are each amended to read as follows:

The minimum monthly salary paid to state patrol ((officers shall be as follows: Officers, three hundred dollars; staff or technical sergeants, three hundred twenty-five dollars; line sergeants, three hundred fifty dollars; lieutenants, three hundred seventy-five dollars; captains, four hundred twenty-five dollars)) troopers and sergeants on July 1, 2017, must be competitive with law enforcement agencies within the boundaries of the state of Washington, guided by the results of a survey undertaken in the collective bargaining process during 2016. The salary levels on July 1, 2017, must be guided by the average of compensation paid to the corresponding rank from the Seattle police department, King county sheriff's office, Tacoma police department, Snohomish county sheriff's office, Spokane police department, and Vancouver police department. Compensation must be calculated using base salary, premium pay (a pay received by more than a majority of employees), education pay, and longevity pay. The compensation comparison data is based on the Washington state patrol and the law enforcement agencies listed in this section as of July 1, 2016. Increases in salary levels for captains and lieutenants that are collectively bargained must be proportionate to the increases in salaries for troopers and sergeants as a result of the survey described in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.43 RCW to read as follows:

During the 2017-2019 collective bargaining process, the office of financial management, the Washington state patrol troopers association, and the Washington state patrol lieutenants association must evaluate regional differences in the cost of living to determine areas of the state where geographic pay may be needed. The negotiators must implement regional compensation adjustments, as appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 43.43 RCW to read as follows:

To ensure that it is adequately and thoroughly reaching potential recruits, the Washington state patrol must develop a comprehensive outreach and marketing strategic plan that expands on the success of current strategies and looks for ways to tap into groups or individuals that do not currently show an interest in the state patrol or law enforcement as a career. The plan must include, but is not limited to, expanding marketing and outreach efforts online and through other media outlets and expanding recruitment relationships in respective communities. The plan must also include polling applicants about their application. Results from the polling must be tracked to determine the success of each outreach method.

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "officers;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 46.68.030 and 43.43.380; adding new sections to chapter 43.43 RCW; creating new sections; and providing an effective date."

MOTION

Senator Benton moved that the following amendment no. 747 by Senator Benton and others to the striking amendment be adopted:

(2) Any Washington state local law enforcement agency that employs a current or former state patrol officer within thirty-six months of the officer's initial appointment as a state patrol officer must incur the costs of training the officer. The state treasurer must withhold from distribution to individual cities and counties under RCW 82.14.310 and 82.14.320 an amount equal to the costs incurred by the state patrol in recruiting and training the state patrol officer, as determined jointly by the state treasurer and the chief of the Washington state patrol. The amount withheld must be deposited into the state patrol highway account to be used solely for the Washington state patrol academy.

Sec. 9. RCW 82.14.310 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 4 s 1004 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The county criminal justice assistance account is created in the state treasury. Beginning in fiscal year 2000, the state treasurer must transfer into the county criminal justice assistance account from the general fund the sum of twenty-three million two hundred thousand dollars divided into four equal deposits occurring on July 1, October 1, January 1, and April 1. For each fiscal year thereafter, the state treasurer must increase the total transfer by the fiscal growth factor, as defined in RCW 43.135.025, forecast for that fiscal year by the office of financial management in November of the preceding year.

(2) The moneys deposited in the county criminal justice assistance account for distribution under this section, less any moneys deducted under RCW 43.43.050(2) or appropriated for purposes under subsection (4) of this section, must be distributed at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150 and on the relative basis of each county's funding factor as determined under this subsection.

(a) A county's funding factor is the sum of:

(i) The population of the county, divided by one thousand, and multiplied by two-tenths;

(ii) The crime rate of the county, multiplied by three-tenths; and

(iii) The annual number of criminal cases filed in the county superior court, for each one thousand in population, multiplied by five-tenths.

(b) Under this section and RCW 82.14.320 and 82.14.330:

(i) The population of the county or city is as last determined by the office of financial management;

(ii) The crime rate of the county or city is the annual occurrence of specified criminal offenses, as calculated in the most recent annual report on crime in Washington state as published by the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, for each one thousand in population;

(iii) The annual number of criminal cases filed in the county superior court must be determined by the most recent annual report of the courts of Washington, as published by the administrative office of the courts;

(iv) Distributions and eligibility for distributions in the 1989-1991 biennium must be based on 1988 figures for both the crime rate as described under (ii) of this subsection and the annual number of criminal cases that are filed as described under (iii) of this subsection. Future distributions must be based on the most recent figures for both the crime rate as described under (ii) of this subsection and the annual number of criminal cases that are filed as described under (iii) of this subsection.

(3) Moneys distributed under this section must be expended exclusively for criminal justice purposes and may not be used to replace or supplant existing funding. Criminal justice purposes are defined as activities that substantially assist the criminal justice system, which may include circumstances where ancillary benefit to the civil or juvenile justice system occurs, and which includes (a) domestic violence services such as those provided by domestic violence programs, community advocates, and legal advocates, as defined in RCW 70.123.020, and (b) during the 2001-2003 fiscal biennium, juvenile dispositional hearings relating to petitions for at-risk youth, truancy, and children in need of services. Existing funding for purposes of this subsection is defined as calendar year 1989 actual operating expenditures for criminal justice purposes. Calendar year 1989 actual operating expenditures for criminal justice purposes exclude the following: Expenditures for extraordinary events not likely to reoccur, changes in contract provisions for criminal justice services, beyond the control of the local jurisdiction receiving the services, and major nonrecurring capital expenditures.

(4) Not more than five percent of the funds deposited to the county criminal justice assistance account may be available for appropriations for enhancements to the state patrol crime laboratory system and the continuing costs related to these enhancements. Funds appropriated from this account for such enhancements may not supplant existing funds from the state general fund.

(5) During the 2011-2013 fiscal biennium, the amount that would otherwise be transferred into the county criminal justice assistance account from the general fund under subsection (1) of this section must be reduced by 3.4 percent.

(6) During the 2013-2015 fiscal biennium, for the purposes of substance abuse and other programs for offenders, the legislature may appropriate from the county criminal justice assistance account such amounts as are in excess of the amounts necessary to fully meet the state's obligations to the counties and to the Washington state patrol. Excess amounts in this account are not the result of subsection (5) of this section.

Sec. 10. RCW 82.14.320 and 2011 1st sp.s. c 50 s 971 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The municipal criminal justice assistance account is created in the state treasury. Beginning in fiscal year 2000, the state treasurer must transfer into the municipal criminal justice assistance account for distribution under this section from the general fund the sum of four million six hundred thousand dollars divided into four equal deposits occurring on July 1, October 1, January 1, and April 1. For each fiscal year thereafter, the state treasurer must increase the total transfer by the fiscal growth factor, as defined in RCW 43.135.025, forecast for that fiscal year by the office of financial management in November of the preceding year.

(2) No city may receive a distribution under this section from the municipal criminal justice assistance account unless:

(a) The city has a crime rate in excess of one hundred twenty-five percent of the statewide average as calculated in the most recent annual report on crime in Washington state as published by the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs;

(b) The city has levied the tax authorized in RCW 82.14.030(2) at the maximum rate or the tax authorized in RCW 82.46.010(3) at the maximum rate; and

(c) The city has a per capita yield from the tax imposed under RCW 82.14.030(1) at the maximum rate of less than one hundred fifty percent of the statewide average per capita yield for all cities from such local sales and use tax.

(3) The moneys deposited in the municipal criminal justice assistance account for distribution under this section, less any moneys deducted under RCW 43.43.050(2) or appropriated for purposes under subsection (7) of this section, must be distributed at such times as distributions are made under RCW 82.44.150. The distributions must be made as follows:

(a) Unless reduced by this subsection, thirty percent of the moneys must be distributed ratably based on population as last determined by the office of financial management to those cities eligible under subsection (2) of this section that have a crime rate determined under subsection (2)(a) of this section which is greater than one hundred seventy-five percent of the statewide average crime rate. No city may receive more than fifty percent of any moneys distributed under this subsection (a) but, if a city distribution is reduced as a result of exceeding the fifty percent limitation, the amount not distributed must be distributed under (b) of this subsection.

(b) The remainder of the moneys, including any moneys not distributed in subsection (2)(a) of this section, must be distributed to all cities eligible under subsection (2) of this section ratably based on population as last determined by the office of financial management.

(4) No city may receive more than thirty percent of all moneys distributed under subsection (3) of this section.

(5) Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, the distributions to any city that substantially decriminalizes or repeals its criminal code after July 1, 1990, and that does not reimburse the county for costs associated with criminal cases under RCW 3.50.800 or 3.50.805(2), must be made to the county in which the city is located.

(6) Moneys distributed under this section must be expended exclusively for criminal justice purposes and may not be used to replace or supplant existing funding. Sec. 205. 2015 1st sp.s. c 10 s 205 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FOR THE TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

Motor Vehicle Account—State Appropriation . ((~~$2,452,000~~))

Motor Vehicle Account—Federal Appropriation $500,000

Multimodal Transportation Account—State
 Appropriation..... $112,000

TOTAL APPROPRIATION $2,564,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) $300,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation is provided solely to continue evaluating a road usage charge as an alternative to the motor vehicle fuel tax to fund investments in transportation. The evaluation must include monitoring and reviewing work that is underway in other states and nationally. The commission may coordinate with the department of transportation to jointly pursue any federal or other funds that are or might become available and eligible for road usage charge pilot projects. The commission must reconvene the road usage charge steering committee, with the same membership authorized in chapter 222, Laws of 2014, and report to the governor's office and the transportation committees of the house of representatives and the senate by December 15, 2015.

(2) $150,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation is provided solely for the commission to use an outside survey firm to conduct three transportation surveys during the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium. The commission must consult with the joint transportation committee when deciding on the survey topics and design to ensure the survey results will deliver the data, information, and analysis for future transportation policy and strategic planning decisions in a manner useful to the legislature.

(3)(a) The legislature finds that, while some travel times have improved through Interstate 405 between the junctions with Interstate 5 on the north end and NE 6th Street in the city of Bellevue on the south end, especially for transit trips, the implementation of the express toll lane system has made travel more difficult for a number of other drivers and trips. To provide some relief to drivers, the legislature encourages the commission to expedite consideration of the elimination of tolls during evening nonpeak hours, weekends, and holidays, to the extent that such a change will improve commuters' experience on this portion of Interstate 405. The legislature further finds that the commission, as the tolling authority of the state, should act swiftly, working in conjunction with the department of transportation's comprehensive effort to tackle obstacles adversely affecting commutes on this portion of Interstate 405, to drive improved results for the users of this critical corridor as soon as is practicable.

(b) In accordance with the rule-making authority provided under RCW 34.05.350(1)(a), the legislature deems it necessary, for preservation of the general welfare, that operational changes be made to improve the express toll lane program on Interstate 405 and that the tolling authority use its emergency rule-making authority to effect such changes in accordance with RCW 47.56.850 and 47.56.880. The legislature finds that the need for improvements to the commuter experience on the portion of Interstate 405 identified in (a) of this subsection necessitates that such action be taken in an expedited fashion. The tolling authority, with input from the department of transportation, shall evaluate the hours and days of operation for the express toll lanes and the minimum high occupancy vehicle passenger requirements for using the express toll lanes, taking into consideration the goals of: Reducing travel time on this portion of Interstate 405, including in the general purpose lanes; reducing the cost of traveling within the express toll lanes on this portion of Interstate 405; and maintaining sufficient revenue to pay for this portion of Interstate 405's express toll lane operating costs. This subsection (3) does not create a private right of action.

(4)(a) $500,000 of the motor vehicle account—federal appropriation is provided solely to advance the work completed since 2011 in evaluating a road usage charge as an alternative to the motor vehicle fuel tax to fund future investments in transportation by completing the work necessary to launch a road usage charge pilot project, with all implementation details for a pilot project identified and incorporated into a pilot project implementation plan.

(i) Pilot project implementation preparation must include identification of all essential agency roles and responsibilities for the pilot project, a selection of the technologies and methodologies to be included, a target number of participants and participant characteristics, rigorous specific evaluation criteria by which the pilot project will be assessed, a communication plan for the pilot project that consists of a participant recruitment plan and a plan for communicating information about the launch and ongoing progress of the pilot project, and pilot project expenditure and revenue estimates.

(ii) In developing the road usage charge pilot project implementation plan, the commission shall consult and coordinate with the department of transportation, the department of licensing, the department of revenue, and the office of the state treasurer to establish participation and coordination parameters for the project.

(b) The commission shall coordinate with the department of transportation to jointly pursue any federal or other funds that are or might become available to fund a road usage charge pilot project. Where feasible, grant application content prepared by the commission must reflect the direction provided by the road usage charge steering committee on the preferred road usage charge pilot project approach. One or more grant applications may be developed as part of the road usage charge pilot project implementation plan development work, but the pilot project implementation plan must nevertheless include any details necessary for a full launch of the pilot project not required to be included in any grant application.

(c) The commission shall reconvene the road usage charge steering committee, with the same membership authorized in chapter 222, Laws of 2014, as well as the addition of a representative from the Puget Sound regional council, and may obtain guidance from the steering committee when it reaches key pilot project implementation plan development milestones. The commission must provide a report on the road usage charge pilot project implementation plan that includes all implementation details for a road usage charge pilot project to the governor's office and the transportation committees of the house of representatives and the senate by November 1, 2016.

(5) $150,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation is provided solely for supporting the disadvantaged business enterprise advisory committee established in chapter . . . (Senate Bill No. 6180), Laws of 2016. If chapter . . . (Senate Bill No. 6180), Laws of 2016 is not enacted by June 30, 2016, the amount provided in this subsection lapses.

Sec. 216. 2015 1st sp.s. c 10 s 216 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

The department shall give priority to low-cost enhancement projects that improve safety or provide congestion relief. The department shall prioritize low-cost enhancement projects on a statewide rather than regional basis. By September 1st of each even-numbered year, the department shall provide a report to the legislature listing all low-cost enhancement projects prioritized on a statewide rather than regional basis completed in the prior year.

(2) During the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium, the department shall continue a pilot program that expands private transportation providers' access to high occupancy vehicle lanes. Nothing in this subsection is intended to authorize the conversion of public infrastructure to private, for-profit purposes or to otherwise create an entitlement or other claim by private users to public infrastructure.

(3) The legislature recognizes that congestion is increasing on southbound Interstate 5 in Lynnwood, between the Lynnwood transit center and the Mountlake Terrace freeway station, and that allowing transit buses to operate on the shoulder would provide congestion relief and more reliable travel times. Therefore, the department shall, within existing resources, implement a transit bus shoulder operations pilot project on southbound Interstate 5 in Lynnwood, between the Lynnwood transit center and the Mountlake Terrace freeway station. The department shall make all necessary changes to handle the increased traffic and provide a ten-foot shoulder for the transit bypass.

(4) $30,000 of the connecting Washington account—state appropriation is provided solely for the department to create and install motorist information sign panels for the Jerry Taylor Veterans Plaza in Sunnyside along the state-owned right-of-way near exits 63, 67, and 69 on Interstate 182 and on state route number 241 near the junction with Yakima Valley highway and to install supplemental directional signs as permitted by the affected local government and in accordance with the "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" and chapter 47.36 RCW.

A grantee may not receive more than twenty-five percent of the amount appropriated in this subsection. The department shall not approve any increases or changes to the scope of a project for the purpose of a grantee expending remaining funds on an awarded grant.

The amount provided in this subsection is contingent on Island Transit charging fares that achieve a farebox recovery ratio similar to comparable transit systems.

(b) The amount provided in (a) of this subsection must be held in unallotted status until the office of financial management determines that fares have been both adopted and implemented by Island Transit that achieve a farebox recovery ratio similar to comparable transit systems. Island Transit must notify the office of financial management when it has met the requirements of this subsection.

(10)(a) $13,890,000 of the multimodal transportation account—state appropriation is provided solely for projects identified in LEAP Transportation Document 2016-3 as developed March 7, 2016. Except as provided otherwise in this subsection, funds must first be used for projects that are identified as priority one projects. (e) Within existing resources, the public transportation program must develop recommendations regarding potential modifications to the process by which funding is provided to the projects listed in the LEAP transportation document identified in (a) of this subsection. These modifications should include, but are not limited to, options for accelerating the delivery of the listed projects and options for further prioritizing the listed projects. The department must submit a report regarding its recommendations to the transportation committees of the legislature by November 15, 2016.

However, no additional federal funds may be allocated to the I-5/Columbia River Crossing project (400506A).

(3) Within the motor vehicle account—state appropriation and motor vehicle account—federal appropriation, the department may transfer funds between programs I and P, except for funds that are otherwise restricted in this act.

The transportation partnership account—state appropriation must be placed in unallotted status and may only be released by the office of financial management for unpaid invoices from the 2013-2015 fiscal biennium.

(9) Within existing resources, during the regular sessions of the legislature, the department of transportation shall participate in work sessions, before the transportation committees of the house of representatives and senate, on the Alaskan Way viaduct replacement project. These work sessions must include a report on current progress of the project, timelines for completion, outstanding claims, the financial status of the project, and any other information necessary for the legislature to maintain appropriate oversight of the project. The parties invited to present may include the department of transportation, the Seattle tunnel partners, and other appropriate stakeholders.

FIFTY EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 8, 2016

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(b) The state route number 520 corridor account—state appropriation includes up to (($343,505,000)) $343,834,000 in proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized in RCW 47.10.879 and 47.10.886.

(c) The state route number 520 corridor account—federal appropriation includes up to $104,801,000 in proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized in RCW 47.10.879 and 47.10.886.

(d) (($82,195,000)) $126,937,000 of the transportation partnership account—state appropriation, $104,801,000 of the state route number 520 corridor account—federal appropriation, and (($367,792,000)) $368,121,000 of the state route number 520 corridor account—state appropriation are provided solely for the SR 520 Bridge Replacement and HOV project (8BI1003). Of the amounts appropriated in this subsection (12)(d), (($232,598,000)) $233,085,000 of the state route number 520 corridor account—state appropriation must be put into unallotted status and is subject to review by the office of financial management. The director of the office of financial management shall consult with the joint transportation committee prior to making a decision to allot these funds.

(e) When developing the financial plan for the project, the department shall assume that all maintenance and operation costs for the new facility are to be covered by tolls collected on the toll facility and not by the motor vehicle account.

(13) (($15,000,000)) $14,000,000 of the state route number 520 civil penalties account—state appropriation is provided solely for the department to continue to work with the Seattle department of transportation in their joint planning, design, right-of-way acquisition, outreach, and operation of the remaining west side elements including, but not limited to, the Montlake lid, the bicycle/pedestrian path, the effective network of transit connections, and the Portage Bay bridge of the SR 520 Bridge Replacement and HOV project.

(14) (($548,000)) $1,056,000 of the motor vehicle account—federal appropriation and (($19,000)) $38,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation are provided solely for the 31st Ave SW Overpass Widening and Improvement project (L1100048).

(15) The legislature finds that there are sixteen companies involved in wood preserving in the state that employ four hundred workers and have an annual payroll of fifteen million dollars. Prior to the department's switch to steel guardrails, ninety percent of the twenty-five hundred mile guardrail system was constructed of preserved wood and one hundred ten thousand wood guardrail posts were produced annually for state use. Moreover, the policy of using steel posts requires the state to use imported steel. Given these findings, where practicable, and until June 30, 2017, the department shall include the design option to use wood guardrail posts, in addition to steel posts, in new guardrail installations. The selection of posts must be consistent with the agency design manual policy that existed before December 2009.

(16) For urban corridors that are all or partially within a metropolitan planning organization boundary, for which the department has not initiated environmental review, and that require an environmental impact statement, at least one alternative must be consistent with the goals set out in RCW 47.01.440.

(17) The department shall itemize all future requests for the construction of buildings on a project list and submit them through the transportation executive information system as part of the department's 2016 budget submittal. It is the intent of the legislature that new facility construction must be transparent and not appropriated within larger highway construction projects.

(18) (($59,438,000)) $52,869,000 of the motor vehicle account—federal appropriation, (($572,000)) $4,439,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation, and (($388,000)) $1,085,000 of the motor vehicle account—private/local appropriation are provided solely for fish passage barrier and chronic deficiency improvements (OBI4001).

(19) Any new advisory group that the department convenes during the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium must consider the interests of the entire state of Washington.

(20) ((Practical design offers targeted benefits to a state transportation system within available fiscal resources. This delivers value not just for individual projects, but for the entire system. Applying practical design standards will also preserve and enhance safety and mobility. The department shall implement a practical design strategy for transportation design standards. By June 30, 2016, the department shall report to the governor and the house of representatives and senate transportation committees on where practical design has been applied or is intended to be applied in the department and the cost savings resulting from the use of practical design. This subsection takes effect if chapter . . . (Substitute House Bill No. 2012), Laws of 2015 is not enacted by June 30, 2015.)) Except as provided otherwise in this section, the entire connecting Washington account appropriation is provided solely for the projects and activities as listed by fund, project, and amount in LEAP Transportation Document 2016-1 as developed March 7, 2016, Program - Highway Improvements Program (I).

(21) It is the intent of the legislature that for the I-5 JBLM Corridor Improvements project (M00100R), the department shall actively pursue $50,000,000 in federal funds to pay for this project to supplant state funds in the future. $50,000,000 in connecting Washington account funding must be held in unallotted status during the 2021-2023 fiscal biennium. These funds may only be used after the department has provided notice to the office of financial management that it has exhausted all efforts to secure federal funds from the federal highway administration and the department of defense.

(22) Of the amounts allocated to the Puget Sound Gateway project (M00600R) in LEAP Transportation Document 2016-1 as developed March 7, 2016, $4,000,000 must be used to complete the bridge connection at 28th/24th Street over state route number 509 in the city of SeaTac. The bridge connection must be completed prior to other construction on the state route number 509 segment of the project.

(23) In making budget allocations to the Puget Sound Gateway project, the department shall implement the project's construction as a single corridor investment. The department shall develop a coordinated corridor construction and implementation plan for state route number 167 and state route number 509 in collaboration with affected stakeholders. Specific funding allocations must be based on where and when specific project segments are ready for construction to move forward and investments can be best optimized for timely project completion. Emphasis must be placed on avoiding gaps in fund expenditures for either project.

(24) It is the intent of the legislature that, for the I-5/North Lewis County Interchange project (L2000204), the department develop and design the project with the objective of significantly improving access to the industrially zoned properties in north Lewis county. The design must consider the county's process of investigating alternatives to improve such access from Interstate 5 that began in March 2015.

(25) $1,500,000 of the motor vehicle account—state appropriation is provided solely for the department to complete an interchange justification report (IJR) for the U.S. 2 trestle, covering the state route number 204 and 20th Street interchanges at the end of the westbound structure.

(a) The department shall develop the IJR in close collaboration with affected local jurisdictions, including Snohomish county and the cities of Everett, Lake Stevens, Marysville, Snohomish, and Monroe.

(b) Within the amount provided for the IJR, the department must address public outreach and the overall operational approval of the IJR.

(c) The department shall complete the IJR and submit the final report to the governor and the transportation committees of the legislature by July 1, 2018.

(26)(a) The department must conduct outreach to local transit agencies during the planning process for highway construction projects led by the department.

(b) The department must develop process recommendations for best practices in minimizing impacts to transit and freight during project construction. A report on best practices must be submitted to the transportation committees of the legislature by December 1, 2016.

(27) The legislature finds that project efficiencies and savings may be gained by combining the I-5 Marine Drive project (I5OTC1A1) and the SR 529/I-5 Interchange project (N52900R). The department must deliver them as one project, the I-5 Peak Hour Use Lanes and Interchange Improvements project (L2000229), using a design-build approach.

(28) The legislature recognizes that the city of Mercer Island has unique access issues that require the use of Interstate 90 to leave the island and that this access may be impeded by the I-90/Two Way Transit and HOV Improvements project. The department must continue to work with the city of Mercer Island to address potential access solutions as the project nears completion.

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Except as provided otherwise in this section, the entire appropriations in this section are provided solely for the projects and activities as listed in LEAP Transportation Document ((2015-2)) 2016-2 ALL PROJECTS as developed ((May 26, 2015)) March 7, 2016, Program - Washington State Ferries Capital Program (W).

(2) ((($73,000,000)) $90,545,000 of the transportation 2003 account (nickel account)—state appropriation is provided solely for the acquisition of a 144-car vessel (L1000063). The department shall use as much already procured equipment as practicable on the 144-car vessels.

(3) ((($40,617,000)) $46,989,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—federal appropriation, $2,000,000 of the connecting Washington account—state appropriation, $562,000 of the transportation 2003 account (nickel account)—state appropriation, and ((($608,000)) $490,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—state appropriation are provided solely for the Mukilteo ferry terminal (952515P). It is the intent of the legislature, over the sixteen-year investment program, to provide $155,000,000 to complete the Mukilteo Terminal Replacement project (952515P). These funds are identified in the LEAP transportation document referenced in subsection (1) of this section. To the greatest extent practicable and within available resources, the department shall design the new terminal to be a net zero energy building. To achieve this goal, the department shall evaluate using highly energy efficient equipment and systems, and the most appropriate renewable energy systems for the needs and location of the terminal.

(4) ((($4,000,000)) $7,000,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—state appropriation is provided solely for emergency capital repair costs (999910K). Funds may only be spent after approval by the office of financial management.

(5) Consistent with RCW 47.60.662, which requires the Washington state ferry system to collaborate with passenger-only ferry and transit providers to provide service at existing terminals, the department shall ensure that multimodal access, including for passenger-only ferries and transit service providers, is not precluded by any future terminal modifications.

(6) If the department pursues a conversion of the existing diesel powered Issaquah class fleet to a different fuel source or engine technology or the construction of a new vessel powered by a fuel source or engine technology that is not diesel powered, the department must use a design-build procurement process.

(7) Funding is included in the future biennia of the LEAP transportation document referenced in subsection (1) of this section for future vessel purchases. Given that the recent purchase of new vessels varies from the current long range plan, the department shall include in its updated long range plan revised estimates for new vessel costs, size, and purchase time frames. Additionally, the long range plan must include a vessel retirement schedule and associated reserve vessel policy recommendations.

(8) $325,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—state appropriation is provided solely for the ferry system to participate in the development of one account-based system for customers of both the ferry system and tolling system. The current Wave2Go ferry ticketing system is reaching the end of its useful life and the department is expected to develop a replacement account-based system as part of the new tolling division customer service center toll collection system.

(9) Within existing resources, the department must evaluate the feasibility of utilizing the federal EB-5 immigrant investor program for financing the construction of a safety of life at sea (SOLAS) certificated vessel for the Anacortes-Sidney ferry route.

The department must establish a group that includes, but is not limited to, the department of commerce and entities or individuals experienced with vessel engineering and EB-5 financing for assistance in evaluating the applicability of the EB-5 immigrant investor program. The department must deliver a report containing the results of the evaluation to the transportation committees of the legislature and the office of financial management by December 1, 2015.

(10) It is the intent of the legislature, over the sixteen-year investment program, to provide $316,000,000 to complete the Seattle Terminal Replacement project (900010L), including: (a) Design work and selection of a preferred plan, (b) replacing timber pilings with pilings sufficient to support a selected terminal design, (c) replacing the timber portion of the dock with a new and reconfigured steel and concrete dock, and (d) other staging and construction work as the amount allows. These funds are identified in the LEAP transportation document referenced in subsection (1) of this section.

(11) It is the intent of the legislature, over the sixteen-year new investment program, to provide $122,000,000 in state funds to complete the acquisition of a fourth 144-car vessel (L2000109). These funds are identified in the LEAP transportation document referenced in subsection (1) of this section.

(12) $300,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—state appropriation is provided solely to issue a request for proposals and purchase pilot program customer counting equipment. By June 30, 2017, the department must report to the governor and the transportation committees of the legislature on the most effective way to count ferry passengers.

(13) $1,430,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction account—federal appropriation and $1,366,000 of the Puget Sound capital construction—state appropriation are provided solely for installation of security access control and video monitoring systems, and for enhancing wireless network capacity to handle higher security usage, increase connectivity between vessels and land-based facilities, and isolate the security portion of the network from regular business (project 998925A).

(14) The transportation 2003 account (nickel account)—state appropriation includes up to $4,131,000 in proceeds from the sale of bonds authorized in RCW 47.10.861.

TOTAL APPROPRIATION ...	$383,930,000
	$538,035,000

The appropriations in this section are subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) Except as provided otherwise in this section, the entire appropriations in this section are provided solely for the projects and activities as listed by project and amount in LEAP Transportation Document ((2015-2)) 2016-2 ALL PROJECTS as developed ((May 26, 2015)) March 7, 2016, Program - Rail Program (Y).

(2) $5,000,000 of the transportation infrastructure account—state appropriation is provided solely for new low-interest loans approved by the department through the freight rail investment bank (FRIB) program. The department shall issue FRIB program loans with a repayment period of no more than ten years, and charge only so much interest as is necessary to recoup the department's costs to administer the loans. For the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium, the department shall first award loans to 2015-2017 FRIB loan applicants in priority order, and then offer loans to 2015-2017 unsuccessful freight rail assistance program grant applicants, if eligible. If any funds remain in the FRIB program, the department may reopen the loan program and shall evaluate new applications in a manner consistent with past practices as specified in section 309, chapter 367, Laws of 2011. The department shall report annually to the transportation committees of the legislature and the office of financial management on all FRIB loans issued.

(3)(a) (~~($4,514,000)~~) $5,484,000 of the multimodal transportation account—state appropriation, $270,000 of the essential rail assistance account—state appropriation, and $455,000 of the transportation infrastructure account—state appropriation are provided solely for new statewide emergent freight rail assistance projects identified in the LEAP transportation document referenced in subsection (1) of this section.

(b) Of the amounts provided in this subsection, $367,000 of the transportation infrastructure account—state appropriation and $1,100,000 of the multimodal transportation account—state appropriation are provided solely to reimburse Highline Grain, LLC for approved work completed on Palouse River and Coulee City (PCC) railroad track in Spokane county between the BNSF Railway Interchange at Cheney and Geiger Junction and must be administered in a manner consistent with freight rail assistance program projects. The value of the public benefit of this project is expected to meet or exceed the cost of this project in: Shipper savings on transportation costs; jobs saved in rail-dependent industries; and/or reduced future costs to repair wear and tear on state and local highways due to fewer annual truck trips (reduced vehicle miles traveled). The amounts provided in this subsection are not a commitment for future legislatures, but it is the legislature's intent that future legislatures will work to approve biennial appropriations until the full $7,337,000 cost of this project is reimbursed.

(4) (~~($363,191,000)~~) $487,297,000 of the multimodal transportation account—federal appropriation and (~~($5,740,000)~~) $13,679,000 of the multimodal transportation account—state appropriation are provided solely for expenditures related to passenger high-speed rail grants. Except for the Mount Vernon project (P01101A), the multimodal transportation account—state funds reflect no more than one and one-half percent of the total project funds, and are provided solely for expenditures that are not eligible for federal reimbursement.

(5)(a) (~~($550,000)~~) $1,114,000 of the essential rail assistance account—state appropriation ((and $305,000)), $766,000 of the multimodal transportation account—state appropriation, and $68,000 of the transportation infrastructure account—state appropriation are provided solely for the purpose of the rehabilitation and maintenance of the Palouse river and Coulee City railroad line (F01111B).

(b) Expenditures from the essential rail assistance account—state in this subsection may not exceed the combined total of:

(i) Revenues deposited into the essential rail assistance account from leases and sale of property pursuant to RCW 47.76.290; and

(ii) Revenues transferred from the miscellaneous program account to the essential rail assistance account, pursuant to RCW

47.76.360, for the purpose of sustaining the grain train program by maintaining the Palouse river and Coulee City railroad.

(6) The department shall issue a call for projects for the freight rail assistance program, and shall evaluate the applications in a manner consistent with past practices as specified in section 309, chapter 367, Laws of 2011. By November 15, 2016, the department shall submit a prioritized list of recommended projects to the office of financial management and the transportation committees of the legislature.

These modifications should include, but are not limited to, options for accelerating delivery of the listed projects and options for further prioritizing the listed projects. The department must submit a report regarding its recommendations to the transportation committees of the legislature by November 15, 2016.

IMPLEMENTING PROVISIONS

Sec. 601. 2015 1st sp.s. c 10 s 601 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

FUND TRANSFERS

(1) The transportation 2003 projects or improvements and the 2005 transportation partnership projects or improvements are listed in the LEAP list titled ((2015-1)) 2016-1 as developed ((May 26, 2015)) March 7, 2016, which consists of a list of specific projects by fund source and amount over a ((ten-year)) sixteen-year period. Current fiscal biennium funding for each project is a line-item appropriation, while the outer year funding allocations represent a ((ten-year)) sixteen-year plan. The department is expected to use the flexibility provided in this section to assist in the delivery and completion of all transportation partnership account and transportation 2003 account (nickel account) projects on the LEAP transportation documents referenced in this act. However, this section does not apply to the I-5/Columbia River Crossing project (400506A). For the 2015-2017 project appropriations, unless otherwise provided in this act, the director of financial management may authorize a transfer of appropriation authority between projects funded with transportation 2003 account (nickel account) appropriations, or transportation partnership account appropriations, in order to manage project spending and efficiently deliver all projects in the respective program under the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Transfers may only be made within each specific fund source referenced on the respective project list;

(b) Transfers from a project may not be made as a result of the reduction of the scope of a project or be made to support increases in the scope of a project;

(c) Each transfer between projects may only occur if the director of financial management finds that any resulting change will not hinder the completion of the projects as approved by the legislature. Until the legislature reconvenes to consider the 2016 supplemental omnibus transportation appropriations act, any unexpended 2013-2015 appropriation balance as approved by the office of financial management, in consultation with the legislative staff of the house of representatives and senate transportation committees, may be considered when transferring funds between projects;

(d) Transfers from a project may be made if the funds appropriated to the project are in excess of the amount needed to complete the project;

(e) Transfers may not occur for projects not identified on the applicable project list;

(f) Transfers may not be made while the legislature is in session; and

(g) Transfers between projects may be made, without the approval of the director of the office of financial management, by the department of transportation until the transfer amount by project exceeds two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or ten percent of the total project, whichever is less. These transfers must be reported quarterly to the director of financial management and the chairs of the house of representatives and senate transportation committees.

(2) At the time the department submits a request to transfer funds under this section, a copy of the request must be submitted to the transportation committees of the legislature.

(3) The office of financial management shall work with legislative staff of the house of representatives and senate transportation committees to review the requested transfers in a timely manner.

(4) The office of financial management shall document approved transfers and schedule changes in the transportation executive information system, compare changes to the legislative baseline funding and schedules identified by project identification number identified in the LEAP transportation documents referenced in this act, and transmit revised project lists to chairs of the transportation committees of the legislature on a quarterly basis.

Sec. 602. 2015 3rd sp.s. c 43 s 502 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

(1) By November 15, 2015, and annually thereafter, the department of transportation must report on amounts expended to benefit transit, bicycle, or pedestrian elements within all connecting Washington projects in programs I, P, and Z identified in LEAP Transportation Document ((~~2015-NL-1~~) 2016-2 ALL PROJECTS as developed ((~~June 28, 2015~~) March 7, 2016). The report must address each modal category separately and identify if eighteenth amendment protected funds have been used and, if not, the source of funding.

(2) To facilitate the report in subsection (1) of this section, the department of transportation must require that all bids on connecting Washington projects include an estimate on the cost to implement any transit, bicycle, or pedestrian project elements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 603. A new section is added to 2015 1st sp.s. c 10 (uncodified) to read as follows:

BELATED CLAIMS

The agencies and institutions of the state may expend moneys appropriated in this act, upon approval of the office of financial management, for the payment of supplies and services furnished to the agency or institution in prior fiscal biennia.

MISCELLANEOUS 2015-2017 FISCAL BIENNIUM

Sec. 701. RCW 81.53.281 and 2014 c 222 s 702 are each amended to read as follows:

There is hereby created in the state treasury a "grade crossing protective fund" to carry out the provisions of RCW 81.53.261, 81.53.271, 81.53.281, 81.53.291, and 81.53.295; for grants and/or subsidies to public, private, and nonprofit entities for rail safety projects authorized or ordered by the commission; and for personnel and associated costs related to supervising and administering rail safety grants and/or subsidies. During the 2013-2015 fiscal biennium, funds in this account may also be used to conduct the study required under section 102, chapter 222, Laws of 2014. The commission shall transfer from the public service revolving fund's miscellaneous fees and penalties accounts moneys appropriated for these purposes as needed. At the time the commission makes each allocation of cost to said grade crossing protective fund, it shall certify that such cost shall be payable out of said fund. When federal-aid highway funds are involved, the department of transportation shall, upon entry of an order by the commission requiring the installation or upgrading of a grade crossing protective device, submit to the commission an estimate for the cost of the proposed installation and related work. Upon receipt of the estimate the commission shall pay to the department of transportation the percentage of the estimate specified in RCW 81.53.295, as now or hereafter amended, to be used as the grade crossing protective fund portion of the cost of the installation and related work.

The commission may adopt rules for the allocation of money from the grade crossing protective fund. During the 2015-2017 fiscal biennium, the commission may waive rules regarding local matching fund requirements, maximum awards for individual projects, and other application requirements as necessary to expedite the allocation of money from the grade crossing protective fund to address under-protected grade crossings as identified by the commission.

(1) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, the tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 does not apply to sales of new passenger cars, light duty trucks, and medium duty passenger vehicles, which

(a) are exclusively powered by a clean alternative fuel or (b) use at least one method of propulsion that is capable of being reenergized by an external source of electricity and are capable of traveling at least thirty miles using only battery power.

(2) The seller must keep records necessary for the department to verify eligibility under this section.

(3) As used in this section, "clean alternative fuel" means natural gas, propane, hydrogen, or electricity, when used as a fuel in a motor vehicle that meets the California motor vehicle emission standards in Title 13 of the California code of regulations, effective January 1, 2005, and the rules of the Washington state department of ecology.

(4)(a) A sale, other than a lease, is not exempt from sales tax as described under subsection (1) of this section if the selling price of the vehicle plus trade-in property of like kind exceeds thirty-five thousand dollars.

(b) For leased vehicles for which the lease agreement is signed on or after July 15, 2015, lease payments are not exempt from sales tax as described under subsection (1) of this section if the fair market value of the vehicle being leased exceeds thirty-five thousand dollars at the inception of the lease. Until June 30, 2017, and whenever practicable, the department shall use bird deterrent designs or devices when installing a new lighting structure, as part of a state highway construction project, over a storm water drain or near enough to a drain to significantly impact the level of pollutants traveling into that drain."

Senator Benton spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rolfes: "Would this also help keep our cars cleaner?"

Senator Benton: "Only if you're parked on the side of the freeway. Because these are state highways that we're talking about. Normally, I think it's illegal to park on the side of the state highways, so your car wouldn't be there for very long before the folks in our previous bill came along and towed it away. So, probably not, I don't think it would help your car very much in this instance because it would be very isolated incidents where they would be applied."

Senators King, Hobbs and Liias spoke against adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

An original or renewal application must not be granted to any person who does not provide verified proof of his or her United States citizenship or his or her lawful presence within the United States. A person who is a citizen or national of the United States, or who is a legal permanent resident alien, must not be required to provide proof under this subsection, so long as the department has a record of the person's status in compliance with subsection (4) of this section.

(2) A person may prove his or her citizenship by providing a valid, unexpired United States passport or passport card, a certified copy of a birth certificate, a consular report of birth abroad issued by the United States department of state, a certificate of naturalization issued by the department of homeland security, or a certificate of citizenship.

(4) The department must maintain records of an applicant's status as a United States citizen or as a noncitizen, including the type of document provided and the expiration of the applicant's authorization to lawfully be within the United States. license, identicard, or permit being issued by the department exceed the maximum term provided in statute for each license, identicard, or permit.

(7) The department may adopt rules to implement this section and to bring the state into compliance with the REAL ID act of 2005, 49 U.S.C. Sec. 30301, as it existed on January 1, 2015, or such subsequent date as may be provided by the department by rule, consistent with the purposes of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 703. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:

Any driver's license or other form of identification issued by a state that accepts as proof of lawful presence an approved deferred action status based on eligibility criteria that was established after November 20, 2014, must not be considered a valid form of identification in Washington state by the department. This restriction also applies to drivers' licenses or other forms of identification from states that accept as lawful presence an approved deferred action status from a deferred action program that was expanded after November 1, 2014.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 704. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(1) RCW 43.41.390 (Implementation of federal REAL ID Act of 2005) and 2007 c 85 s 1; and

Senator Benton spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

Senator Hobbs spoke against adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Hobbs: "Mr. President, I object to this amendment as being outside the scope and object of the underlying bill. The underlying bill is the transportation budget and this amendment includes changes to the substantive law in violation of Senate rules. Mr. President, in your prior rulings you have given us factors to consider in order to determine whether the provisions is introduced substantive law into a budget including whether the amendment makes permanent change, whether it was the subject of another bill, whether there are rights or eligibility for services affected by the amendment and whether express policy found in another statute is being modified or repealed. This amendment requires a person that is getting his or her driver's license to show proof of citizenship or lawful presence and repeals statutes regarding the implementation of the federal Real ID Act. The provisions are similar to those of Senate Bill 6028. The provisions impact the right of Washingtonians to get their driver's licenses which they are entitled to under current law. And the amendment impacts existing statutes and even repeals some. I therefore request the President rule that this amendment is beyond the scope and object of the underlying bill."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Hobbs has raised the point of order that amendment no. 745 violates Senate Rules 25 and 66 and that includes substantive law in the budget. Senator Benton you have the opportunity for a brief response."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

Senator Benton: "Thank you, Mr. President. I trust your judgement on this matter. I have a backup amendment just in case it's in error."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Liias: "Thank you, Mr. President. We intend to bring the same objection to that subsequent amendment. Would it expedite your decision making process to know that now so you can analyze both of them at the same time?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Liias, it would expedite it. But we need one of two things. We need either to move adoption of the other amendment, or with the consent of the body, I can look at both of them at the same time. If there are no objections, because I'm going to look at it any way. With that, the President will take a look at both amendment no. 745 and no. 746."

Senator Benton offered the following amendment no. 746 by Senator Benton to the striking amendment:

On page 84, after line 7 of the amendment, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 702. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department must implement a one-year pilot project testing the cost and workload impacts of implementing the application of the criteria required under the REAL ID Act of 2005 for persons applying for a driver's license, identicard, agricultural driving permit, and intermediate driver's license. Beginning July 1, 2016, any person obtaining or renewing his or her driver's license, driver's instruction permit, agricultural driving permit, identicard, or intermediate license must show proof of his or her United States citizenship or his or her lawful presence within the United States. An original or renewal application must not be granted to any person who does not provide verified proof of his or her United States citizenship or his or her lawful presence within the United States. A person who is a citizen or national of the United States, or who is a legal permanent resident alien, must not be required to provide proof under this subsection, so long as the department has a record of the person's status in compliance with subsection (4) of this section.

(2) A person may prove his or her citizenship by providing a valid, unexpired United States passport or passport card, a certified copy of a birth certificate, a consular report of birth abroad issued by the United States department of state, a certificate of naturalization issued by the department of homeland security, or a certificate of citizenship.

(3) A person may prove his or her lawful presence within the United States by providing documentation that he or she is an alien:

Renumber the remaining section consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BENTON

Senator Benton: "Thank you, Mr. President. If that be the case, then I'll make a brief argument on no. 746. And that is 746 is designed to address the potential of a scope and object argument on the underlying permanent policy. Amendment no. 746 is designed only to be in effect during the budget period and is written to the allocation for driver's license monies. So it has a direct connection to the funding allocation of drivers' licenses and it will only run as a pilot project for the duration of the transportation budget. And as such, I believe it is fully within the scope and object of the bill under those circumstances. Thank you, Mr. President."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Liias: "Thank you, Mr. President. Since you'll be reviewing amendment no. 746 could I present the argument on the other side of that?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Liias: "Thank you, Mr. President. While Senator Benton is correct that the amendment no. 746 is only for the remainder of this fiscal biennium, your prior rulings do tell us that if it's introducing substantive law changes within the budget and the bill that the Senator referenced in his speech, as well as changes that it makes to the rights of Washington State citizens, make this a change in substantive law. So while it's only for the biennium, it is still a change in substantive law. I believe it's outside the scope and object of the bill."

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "In ruling upon the point of order raised by Senators Hobbs and Liias asserting that amendments nos. 745 and 746 include substantive law in violation of Senate Rules 25 and 66, the President finds and rules as follows:

The proposed amendments offered by Senator Benton seek to include in the transportation budget provisions that would require the department of licensing to verify the lawful presence of applicants for various licenses. One amendment represents a permanent change to substantive law, and the other creates substantive provisions as part of a pilot project.

As the President recognized on this same issue in 2011, the President has long held that a budget bill – whether for the purposes of transportation, or the operation of state agencies – is not an appropriate forum for changing state substantive law. In determining whether substantive law is present, several alternative factors may be considered. Two of these are: first, whether the proposed language seeks to include a policy change that was the subject of a separate bill, and second, whether the inclusion of the language would redefine rights or eligibility for services.

Here, the offered amendments seek to include the licensing requirements found in a separate bill which did not pass. That bill, and these amendments, would reduce the number of persons currently eligible to obtain drivers licenses or similar permits. Both of these factors indicate that the amendments would affect state substantive law.

Today, Washington residents can apply for a drivers' license without proving legal residence; by September, they will not be able to do so if the amendments are adopted and made part of this bill. This alters current substantive law because the amendments create a new requirement for obtaining a drivers' license that does not exist without passage of the amendments.

The fact that amendment no. 746 purports to be a pilot project does not alter this analysis. A budget that suspended the operation of a substantive criminal statute for two years would clearly violate the rule against including policy changes in a budget. The licenses produced under the restrictions in this amendment will continue for several years after the expiration of this pilot project, so it is not entirely correct to view this amendment as one that only affects Washingtonians for the next year.

For these reasons, if adopted, Senator Benton's amendments would violate Rules 25 and 66, and Senators Hobbs's and Liias's points are well-taken."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of the striking amendment no. 739 by Senator King to Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2524.

The motion by Senator King carried and the striking amendment was adopted by voice vote.

MOTION

On motion of Senator King, the rules were suspended, Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2524, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Senators King, Hobbs, Fraser, McAuliffe, Rolfes and Liias spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The President Pro Tempore, Senator Roach, assumed the chair.

Senators Dinsel and Baumgartner spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator McAuliffe: "Senator King will you yield to a question? Is there an opportunity for the public to participate in the Transportation Commission's rule making process regarding SR 405's toll setting described today?"

Senator King: "Senator McAuliffe, the answer is yes. The Transportation Commission must follow the Administrative Procedure Act as it adopts any rules regarding SR 405 tolls. The Administrative Procedure Act requires public hearings when adopting permanent rule changes which the Commission will be doing or pursuing alongside this proposed temporary, emergency rule. Thank you for the question."

MOTION

Senator Fain demanded that the previous question be put.

The President Pro Tempore declared that at least two additional senators joined the demand and the demand was sustained.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be, "Shall the main question be now put?"

The motion by Senator Fain carried and the previous question was put by voice vote.

The President Pro Tempore declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2524, as amended by the Senate.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2524, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; Nays, 5; Absent, 0; Excused, 0.

Voting yeas: Senators Angel, Bailey, Becker, Billig, Braun, Brown, Carlyle, Chase, Cleveland, Conway, Dammeier, Darneille, Ericksen, Fain, Fraser, Frockt, Habib, Hasegawa, Hewitt, Hill, Hobbs, Honeyford, Jayapal, Keiser, King, Liias, Litzow, McAuliffe, McCoy, Miloscia, Mullet, Nelson, O'Ban, Parlette, Pearson, Pedersen, Ranker, Rivers, Roach, Rolfes, Schoesler, Sheldon, Takko and Warnick

Voting nays: Senators Baumgartner, Benton, Dinsel, Hargrove and Padden

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2524, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: "Thank you, Madame President. Well first off, let me say thank you to the body for their support of this supplemental budget. It's like every budget, it isn't perfect. But I think it does move us forward and I want to thank you for that support. I also want to thank Senator Hobbs and Senator Fain and Senator Liias. No, I didn't forget your name, I just did it in the wrong order is all. For their efforts, for their ability to work across the aisle to do the good things for the state of Washington, and I think help all of us move our transportation system forward. And I would be greatly remiss if I didn't thank our staff, Jackson and Nick from the partisan staff. If you're here, I'd like you to step out and I know this is a challenge to get them to do it but as many hours as we have put in, I can tell you, Nick get out here, that these two gentlemen have put in just as many, if not many, many more. We then have our nonpartisan staff of Kelly and David and Kim and Hayley and Brian and Kelly and I don't know if any of them are here, but if they're not I know they're in their offices listening. They are an absolutely fabulous group of people. They work day and night. They craft all kinds of amendments that we can either vote for or vote down. They answer questions at the most ungodly hours of the day and night and over the weekends and I can't thank them enough for their efforts on behalf of the Senate, but also on behalf of the citizens of the state of Washington. And I want to make sure that they are recognized for all their efforts. Thank you, Madame President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlyle: "Thank you so much Mr. President. This morning at about 1:45 a.m., a very gentle and beloved neighborhood in my district, Greenwood neighborhood, experienced a traumatic, a very dangerous explosion, of a gas leak. In that incident, I'm very pleased to report that while nine firefighters were injured, they have all been released. There are some injuries but they have been released. I think I can speak for everyone in feeling so fortunate that this tragedy did not happen midday, which was an extremely busy, dense, populated, and popular area. One of the restaurants for example, Mr. Gyro, was literally blown up categorically, as one of those places that's extremely popular and there's lines out the door, all the way around the block. So our neighborhood is really feeling the trauma of this very substantial explosion and I'm so grateful that the firefighters who have been injured will hopefully recover and very grateful to the first responders of our entire city. Just wanted to take a moment and ask your appreciation, I appreciate your time in allowing me to recognize the people of Greenwood during this time. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you, Mr. President. I would like to let everyone know that today the Nisqually Tribe has designated today as Billy Frank, Jr. Day. I would just like to bring up to everyone's attention, and encourage you to think about him and appreciate him today. He's well known to most senators, he was a huge leader as we all know in salmon recovery. I worked closely with him on the development of the Nisqually Basin River Management Plan years ago, which has been a huge success. He has been a leader in forging good federal, state, local, tribal relationships, he has received humanitarian awards, and the Nisqually Wildlife Refuge was recently renamed in his honor. He has had a wonderful impact on our South Sound area, the state and our nation, and actually our world. So just like to encourage everybody to spend some time today appreciating Billy Frank, Jr. who died about a year ago and has made a remarkable impact on our lives together."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

It was my intention to vote 'No' on SB 5180. I'm concerned that changing the way reserves will be calculated from an experience-based reserve to a reserve based on projected revenues could jeopardize the solvency of insurance plans by allowing insufficient reserves based on overly optimistic revenue projections.

(5) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range if the offender or an accomplice committed the offense while in a county jail or state correctional facility and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Eighteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(2) (a) or (b) or 69.50.410;

(b) Fifteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(2) (c), (d), or (e);

(c) Twelve months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.4013.

For the purposes of this subsection, all of the real property of a state correctional facility or county jail shall be deemed to be part of that facility or county jail.

(6) An additional twenty-four months shall be added to the standard sentence range for any ranked offense involving a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW if the offense was also a violation of RCW 69.50.435 or 9.94A.827. All enhancements under this subsection shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter.

(7) An additional two years shall be added to the standard sentence range for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all impaired driving enhancements under this subsection ((shall be)) are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other impaired driving enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter.

An offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(1)(c).

(8)(a) The following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range for felony crimes committed on or after July 1, 2006, if the offense was committed with sexual motivation, as that term is defined in RCW 9.94A.030. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the sexual motivation enhancement must be added to the total period of total confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to a sexual motivation enhancement. If the offender committed the offense with sexual motivation and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the following additional times shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(i) Two years for any felony defined under the law as a class A felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both;

(ii) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of ten years, or both;

(iii) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a statutory maximum sentence of five years, or both;

(iv) If the offender is being sentenced for any sexual motivation enhancements under (a)(i), (ii), and/or (iii) of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any sexual motivation enhancements on or after July 1, 2006, under (a)(i), (ii), and/or (iii) of this subsection, all sexual motivation enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed;

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all sexual motivation enhancements under this subsection are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions, including other sexual motivation enhancements, for all offenses sentenced under this chapter. However, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, an offender serving a sentence under this subsection may be:

(i) Granted an extraordinary medical placement when authorized under RCW 9.94A.728(((3))) (1)(c); or

(ii) Released under the provisions of RCW 9.94A.730;

(c) The sexual motivation enhancements in this subsection apply to all felony crimes;

(d) If the standard sentence range under this subsection exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender. If the addition of a sexual motivation enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced;

(e) The portion of the total confinement sentence which the offender must serve under this subsection shall be calculated before any earned early release time is credited to the offender;

(f) Nothing in this subsection prevents a sentencing court from imposing a sentence outside the standard sentence range pursuant to RCW 9.94A.535.

(9) An additional one-year enhancement shall be added to the standard sentence range for the felony crimes of RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, or 9A.44.089 committed on or after July 22, 2007, if the offender engaged, agreed, or offered to engage the victim in the sexual conduct in return for a fee. If the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense, the one-year enhancement must be added to the total period of total confinement for all offenses, regardless of which underlying offense is subject to the enhancement. If the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense for the felony crimes of RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, 9A.44.079, 9A.44.083, 9A.44.086, or 9A.44.089, and the offender attempted, solicited another, or conspired to engage, agree, or offer to engage the victim in the sexual conduct in return for a fee, an additional one-year enhancement shall be added to the standard sentence range determined under subsection (2) of this section. For purposes of this subsection, "sexual conduct" means sexual intercourse or sexual contact, both as defined in chapter 9A.44 RCW.

(10)(a) For a person age eighteen or older convicted of any criminal street gang-related felony offense for which the person compensated, threatened, or solicited a minor in order to involve the minor in the commission of the felony offense, the standard sentence range is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by one hundred twenty-five percent. If the standard sentence range under this subsection exceeds the statutory maximum sentence for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence is the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender.

(b) This subsection does not apply to any criminal street gang-related felony offense for which involving a minor in the commission of the felony offense is an element of the offense.

(c) The increased penalty specified in (a) of this subsection is unavailable in the event that the prosecution gives notice that it will seek an exceptional sentence based on an aggravating factor under RCW 9.94A.535.

(11) An additional twelve months and one day shall be added to the standard sentence range for a conviction of attempting to elude a police vehicle as defined by RCW 46.61.024, if the conviction included a finding by special allegation of endangering one or more persons under RCW 9.94A.834.

(12) An additional twelve months shall be added to the standard sentence range for an offense that is also a violation of RCW 9.94A.831.

(13) An additional twelve months shall be added to the standard sentence range for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.520 or for vehicular assault committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.522, or for any felony driving under the influence (RCW 46.61.502(6)) or felony physical control under the influence (RCW 46.61.504(6)) for each child passenger under the age of sixteen who is an occupant in the defendant's vehicle. These enhancements shall be mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall run consecutively to all other sentencing provisions. If the addition of a minor child enhancement increases the sentence so that it would exceed the statutory maximum for the offense, the portion of the sentence representing the enhancement may not be reduced.

FIFTY NINTH DAY, MARCH 9, 2016

(14) An additional twelve months shall be added to the standard sentence range for an offense that is also a violation of RCW 9.94A.832.

Sec. 8. RCW 46.61.506 and 2015 2nd sp.s. c 3 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving or in actual physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, if the person's alcohol concentration is less than 0.08 or the person's THC concentration is less than 5.00, it is evidence that may be considered with other competent evidence in determining whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(2)(a) The breath analysis of the person's alcohol concentration shall be based upon grams of alcohol per two hundred ten liters of breath.

(b) The blood analysis of the person's THC concentration shall be based upon nanograms per milliliter of whole blood.

(c) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug.

(3) Analysis of the person's blood or breath to be considered valid under the provisions of this section or RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 shall have been performed according to methods approved by the state toxicologist and by an individual possessing a valid permit issued by the state toxicologist for this purpose. The state toxicologist is directed to approve satisfactory techniques or methods, to supervise the examination of individuals to ascertain their qualifications and competence to conduct such analyses, and to issue permits which shall be subject to termination or revocation at the discretion of the state toxicologist.

(4)(a) A breath test performed by any instrument approved by the state toxicologist shall be admissible at trial or in an administrative proceeding if the prosecution or department produces prima facie evidence of the following:

(i) The person who performed the test was authorized to perform such test by the state toxicologist;

(ii) The person being tested did not vomit or have anything to eat, drink, or smoke for at least fifteen minutes prior to administration of the test;

(iii) The person being tested did not have any foreign substances, not to include dental work, fixed or removable, in his or her mouth at the beginning of the fifteen-minute observation period;

(iv) Prior to the start of the test, the temperature of any liquid simulator solution utilized as an external standard, as measured by a thermometer approved of by the state toxicologist was thirty-four degrees centigrade plus or minus 0.3 degrees centigrade;

(v) The internal standard test resulted in the message "verified";

(vi) The two breath samples agree to within plus or minus ten percent of their mean to be determined by the method approved by the state toxicologist;

(vii) The result of the test of the liquid simulator solution external standard or dry gas external standard result did lie between .072 to .088 inclusive; and

(viii) All blank tests gave results of .000.

(b) For purposes of this section, "prima facie evidence" is evidence of sufficient circumstances that would support a logical and reasonable inference of the facts sought to be proved. In assessing whether there is sufficient evidence of the foundational facts, the court or administrative tribunal is to assume the truth of the prosecution's or department's evidence and all reasonable inferences from it in a light most favorable to the prosecution or department.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent the subject of the test from challenging the reliability or accuracy of the test, the reliability or functioning of the instrument, or any maintenance procedures. Such challenges, however, shall not preclude the admissibility of the test once the prosecution or department has made a prima facie showing of the requirements contained in (a) of this subsection. Instead, such challenges may be considered by the trier of fact in determining what weight to give to the test result.

(5) When a blood test is administered under the provisions of RCW 46.20.308, the withdrawal of blood for the purpose of determining its alcoholic or drug content may be performed only by a physician licensed under chapter 18.71 RCW; an osteopathic physician licensed under chapter 18.57 RCW; a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, or advanced registered nurse practitioner licensed under chapter 18.79 RCW; a physician assistant licensed under chapter 18.71A RCW; an osteopathic physician assistant licensed under chapter 18.57A RCW; an advanced emergency medical technician or paramedic licensed under chapter 18.73 RCW; until July 1, 2016, a health care assistant certified under chapter 18.135 RCW; or a medical assistant-certified or medical assistant-phlebotomist certified under chapter 18.360 RCW. Proof of qualification to draw blood may be established through the department of health's provider credential search. This limitation shall not apply to the taking of breath specimens.

(6) The person tested may have a licensed or certified health care provider listed in subsection (5) of this section, or a qualified technician, chemist, or other qualified person of his or her own choosing administer one or more tests in addition to any administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer. The test will be admissible if the person establishes the general acceptability of the testing technique or method. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the test or tests taken at the direction of a law enforcement officer.

(7) Upon the request of the person who shall submit to a test or tests at the request of a law enforcement officer, full information concerning the test or tests shall be made available to him or her or his or her attorney.

Sec. 9. RCW 10.31.100 and 2014 c 202 s 307, 2014 c 100 s 2, and 2014 c 5 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

A police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a felony shall have the authority to arrest the person without a warrant. A police officer may arrest a person without a warrant for committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor only when the offense is committed in the presence of an officer, except as provided in subsections (1) through (11) of this section.

(1) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a misdemeanor or gross misdemeanor, involving physical harm or threats of harm to any person or property or the unlawful taking of property or involving the use or possession of cannabis, or involving the acquisition, possession, or consumption of alcohol by a person under the age of twenty-one years under RCW 66.44.270, or involving criminal trespass under RCW 9A.52.070 or 9A.52.080, shall have the authority to arrest the person.

(2) A police officer shall arrest and take into custody, pending release on bail, personal recognizance, or court order, a person without a warrant when the officer has probable cause to believe that:

(a) An order has been issued of which the person has knowledge under RCW 26.44.063, or chapter 7.92, 7.90, 9A.46, 10.99, 26.09, 26.10, 26.26, 26.50, or 74.34 RCW restraining the person and the person has violated the terms of the order restraining the person from acts or threats of violence, or restraining the person from going onto the grounds of or entering a residence, workplace, school, or day care, or prohibiting the person from knowingly coming within, or knowingly remaining within, a specified distance of a location or, in the case of an order issued under RCW 26.44.063, imposing any other restrictions or conditions upon the person; or

(b) A foreign protection order, as defined in RCW 26.52.010, has been issued of which the person under restraint has knowledge and the person under restraint has violated a provision of the foreign protection order prohibiting the person under restraint from contacting or communicating with another person, or excluding the person under restraint from a residence, workplace, school, or day care, or prohibiting the person from knowingly coming within, or knowingly remaining within, a specified distance of a location, or a violation of any provision for which the foreign protection order specifically indicates that a violation will be a crime; or

(c) The person is sixteen years or older and within the preceding four hours has assaulted a family or household member as defined in RCW 10.99.020 and the officer believes: (i) A felonious assault has occurred; (ii) an assault has occurred which has resulted in bodily injury to the victim, whether the injury is observable by the responding officer or not; or (iii) that any physical action has occurred which was intended to cause another person reasonably to fear imminent serious bodily injury or death. Bodily injury means physical pain, illness, or an impairment of physical condition. When the officer has probable cause to believe that family or household members have assaulted each other, the officer is not required to arrest both persons. The officer shall arrest the person whom the officer believes to be the primary physical aggressor. In making this determination, the officer shall make every reasonable effort to consider: (i) The intent to protect victims of domestic violence under RCW 10.99.010; (ii) the comparative extent of injuries inflicted or serious threats creating fear of physical injury; and (iii) the history of domestic violence of each person involved, including whether the conduct was part of an ongoing pattern of abuse.

(3) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a violation of any of the following traffic laws shall have the authority to arrest the person:

(a) RCW 46.52.010, relating to duty on striking an unattended car or other property;

(b) RCW 46.52.020, relating to duty in case of injury to or death of a person or damage to an attended vehicle;

(e) RCW 46.61.503 or 46.25.110, relating to persons having alcohol or THC in their system;

(f) RCW 46.20.342, relating to driving a motor vehicle while operator's license is suspended or revoked;

(g) RCW 46.61.5249, relating to operating a motor vehicle in a negligent manner.

(4) A law enforcement officer investigating at the scene of a motor vehicle accident may arrest the driver of a motor vehicle involved in the accident if the officer has probable cause to believe that the driver has committed in connection with the accident a violation of any traffic law or regulation.

(5)(a) A law enforcement officer investigating at the scene of a motor vessel accident may arrest the operator of a motor vessel involved in the accident if the officer has probable cause to believe that the operator has committed, in connection with the accident, a criminal violation of chapter 79A.60 RCW.

(b) A law enforcement officer investigating at the scene of a motor vessel accident may issue a citation for an infraction to the operator of a motor vessel involved in the accident if the officer has probable cause to believe that the operator has committed, in connection with the accident, a violation of any boating safety law of chapter 79A.60 RCW.

(6) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing a violation of RCW 79A.60.040 shall have the authority to arrest the person.

(7) An officer may act upon the request of a law enforcement officer in whose presence a traffic infraction was committed, to stop, detain, arrest, or issue a notice of traffic infraction to the driver who is believed to have committed the infraction. The request by the witnessing officer shall give an officer the authority to take appropriate action under the laws of the state of Washington.

(8) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed or is committing any act of indecent exposure, as defined in RCW 9A.88.010, may arrest the person.

(9) A police officer may arrest and take into custody, pending release on bail, personal recognizance, or court order, a person without a warrant when the officer has probable cause to believe that an order has been issued of which the person has knowledge under chapter 10.14 RCW and the person has violated the terms of that order.

(10) Any police officer having probable cause to believe that a person has, within twenty-four hours of the alleged violation, committed a violation of RCW 9A.50.020 may arrest such person.

(11) A police officer having probable cause to believe that a person illegally possesses or illegally has possessed a firearm or other dangerous weapon on private or public elementary or secondary school premises shall have the authority to arrest the person.

For purposes of this subsection, the term "firearm" has the meaning defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the term "dangerous weapon" has the meaning defined in RCW 9.41.250 and 9.41.280(1) (c) through (e).

(12) A law enforcement officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed a violation under RCW 77.15.160(4) may issue a citation for an infraction to the person in connection with the violation.

(13) A law enforcement officer having probable cause to believe that a person has committed a criminal violation under RCW 77.15.809 or 77.15.811 may arrest the person in connection with the violation.

(14) Except as specifically provided in subsections (2), (3), (4), and (7) of this section, nothing in this section extends or otherwise affects the powers of arrest prescribed in Title 46 RCW.

FIFTY NINTH DAY, MARCH 9, 2016

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(15) No police officer may be held criminally or civilly liable for making an arrest pursuant to subsection (2) or (9) of this section if the police officer acts in good faith and without malice.

(16)(a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, a police officer shall arrest and keep in custody, until release by a judicial officer on bail, personal recognizance, or court order, a person without a warrant when the officer has probable cause to believe that the person has violated RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance and the police officer has knowledge that the person has a prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055 within ten years.

(b) A police officer is not required to keep in custody a person under (a) of this subsection if the person requires immediate medical attention and is admitted to a hospital.

Sec. 10. RCW 10.01.230 and 2011 c 293 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington traffic safety commission may develop and maintain a registry of qualified victim impact panels. When imposing a requirement that an offender attend a victim impact panel under RCW 46.61.5152, the court may refer the offender to a victim impact panel that is listed in the registry. The Washington traffic safety commission may consult with victim impact panel organizations to develop and maintain a registry.

(2) To be listed on the registry, the victim impact panel must meet the following minimum standards:

(a) The victim impact panel must address the effects of driving while impaired on individuals and families and address alternatives to drinking and driving and drug use and driving;

(b) The victim impact panel ((should strive to)) shall have at least two different speakers, one of whom is a victim survivor of an impaired driving crash, to present their stories in person. A victim survivor may be the panel facilitator. The victim impact panel should be a minimum of sixty minutes of presentation, not including registration and administration time;

(c) The victim impact panel shall have policies and procedures to recruit, screen, train, and provide feedback and ongoing support to the panelists. The panel shall take reasonable steps to verify the authenticity of each panelist's story;

(d) Pursuant to (b) of this subsection, the victim impact panel shall use in-person speakers for each presentation for a minimum of sixty minutes of presentation. The victim impact panel may supplement the in-person presentations with prerecorded videos, but in no case shall the videos shown exceed fifteen minutes of presentation;

(e) The victim impact panel shall charge a reasonable fee to all persons required to attend, unless otherwise ordered by the court;

((e)) (f) The victim impact panel shall have a policy to prohibit admittance of anyone under the influence of alcohol or drugs, or anyone whose actions or behavior are otherwise inappropriate. The victim impact panel may institute additional admission requirements;

((f)) (g) The victim impact panel shall maintain attendance records for at least five years;

((g)) (h) The victim impact panel shall make reasonable efforts to use a facility that meets standards established by the Americans with disabilities act;

((h)) (i) The victim impact panel may provide referral information to other community services; and

((i)) (j) The victim impact panel shall have a designated facilitator who is responsible for the compliance with these minimum standards and who is responsible for maintaining appropriate records and communication with the referring courts and probationary departments regarding attendance or nonattendance.

Sec. 11. RCW 10.05.140 and 2013 2nd sp. s. c 35 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

As a condition of granting a deferred prosecution petition, the court shall order that the petitioner shall not operate a motor vehicle upon the public highways without a valid operator's license and proof of liability insurance. The amount of liability insurance shall be established by the court at not less than that established by RCW 46.29.490. As a condition of granting a deferred prosecution petition on any alcohol-dependency based case, the court shall also order the installation of an ignition interlock under RCW 46.20.720. The required periods of use of the interlock shall be not less than the periods provided for in RCW 46.20.720((3)). As a condition of granting a deferred prosecution petition, the court may order the petitioner to make restitution and to pay costs as defined in RCW 10.01.160. To help ensure continued sobriety and reduce the likelihood of reoffense, the court may order reasonable conditions during the period of the deferred prosecution including, but not limited to, attendance at self-help recovery support groups for alcoholism or drugs, complete abstinence from alcohol and all nonprescribed mind-altering drugs, periodic urinalysis or breath analysis, and maintaining law-abiding behavior. The court may terminate the deferred prosecution program upon violation of the deferred prosecution order.

Sec. 12. RCW 46.20.311 and 2006 c 73 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) The department shall not suspend a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a fixed period of more than one year, except as specifically permitted under RCW 46.20.267, 46.20.342, or other provision of law.

(b) Except for a suspension under RCW 46.20.267, 46.20.289, 46.20.291(5), 46.61.740, or 74.20A.320, whenever the license or driving privilege of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction, a finding that a traffic infraction has been committed, pursuant to chapter 46.29 RCW, or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291 or 46.20.308, the suspension shall remain in effect until the person gives and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

(c) If the suspension is the result of a nonfelony violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcoholism agency or probation department designated under RCW 46.61.5056 and shall deny reinstatement until enrollment and participation in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified. If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcohol or drug dependency agency required under RCW 46.61.524 and shall deny reinstatement until satisfactory progress in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified. If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, and the person is required pursuant to RCW 46.20.720 to drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon written verification by a company doing business in the state that it has installed the required device on a vehicle owned or operated by the person seeking reinstatement. The department may waive the requirement for written verification under this subsection if it determines to its satisfaction that a device previously verified as having been installed on a vehicle owned or operated by the person is still installed and functioning or as permitted by RCW 46.20.720(8). If, based upon notification from the interlock provider or otherwise, the department determines that an interlock required under RCW 46.20.720 is no longer installed or functioning as required, the department shall suspend the person's license or privilege to drive. Whenever the license or driving privilege of any person is suspended or revoked as a result of noncompliance with an ignition interlock requirement, the suspension shall remain in effect until the person provides notice issued by a company doing business in the state that a vehicle owned or operated by the person is equipped with a functioning ignition interlock device.

(d) Whenever the license or driving privilege of any person is suspended as a result of certification of noncompliance with a child support order under chapter 74.20A RCW ((or a residential or visitation order)), the suspension shall remain in effect until the person provides a release issued by the department of social and health services stating that the person is in compliance with the order.

(e)(i) The department shall not issue to the person a new, duplicate, or renewal license until the person pays a reissue fee of seventy-five dollars.

(ii) If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or is the result of administrative action under RCW 46.20.308, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars.

(2)(a) Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked, unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, is not entitled to have the license or privilege renewed or restored until: (i) After the expiration of one year from the date the license or privilege to drive was revoked; (ii) after the expiration of the applicable revocation period provided by RCW 46.20.3101 or 46.61.5055; (iii) after the expiration of two years for persons convicted of vehicular homicide; or (iv) after the expiration of the applicable revocation period provided by RCW 46.20.265.

(b)(i) After the expiration of the appropriate period, the person may make application for a new license as provided by law together with a reissue fee in the amount of seventy-five dollars.

(ii) If the revocation is the result of a violation of RCW 46.20.308, 46.61.502, or 46.61.504, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars. If the revocation is the result of a nonfelony violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcoholism agency or probation department designated under RCW 46.61.5056 and shall deny reissuance of a license, permit, or privilege to drive until enrollment and participation in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified. If the suspension is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon the reports provided by the alcohol or drug dependency agency required under RCW 46.61.524 and shall deny reinstatement until satisfactory progress in an approved program has been established and the person is otherwise qualified. If the revocation is the result of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, and the person is required pursuant to RCW 46.20.720 to drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock or other biological or technical device, the department shall determine the person's eligibility for licensing based upon written verification by a company doing business in the state that it has installed the required device on a vehicle owned or operated by the person applying for a new license. The department may waive the requirement for written verification under this subsection if it determines to its satisfaction that a device previously verified as having been installed on a vehicle owned or operated by the person is still installed and functioning or as permitted by RCW 46.20.720(8). If, following issuance of a new license, the department determines, based upon notification from the interlock provider or otherwise, that an interlock required under RCW 46.20.720 is no longer functioning, the department shall suspend the person's license or privilege to drive until the department has received written verification from an interlock provider that a functioning interlock is installed.

(c) Except for a revocation under RCW 46.20.265, the department shall not then issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of the person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways, and until the person gives and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW. For a revocation under RCW 46.20.265, the department shall not issue a new license unless it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of the person that it will be safe to grant that person the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.

(3)(a) Whenever the driver's license of any person is suspended pursuant to Article IV of the nonresident violators compact or RCW 46.23.020 or 46.20.289 or 46.20.291(5), the department shall not issue to the person any new or renewal license until the person pays a reissue fee of seventy-five dollars.

(b) If the suspension is the result of a violation of the laws of this or any other state, province, or other jurisdiction involving (i) the operation or physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, or (ii) the refusal to submit to a chemical test of the driver's blood alcohol content, the reissue fee shall be one hundred fifty dollars.

Sec. 13. RCW 46.20.385 and 2015 2nd sp.s. c 3 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Any person licensed under this chapter or who has a valid driver's license from another state, who is convicted of: (i) A violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance, or (ii) a violation of RCW 46.61.520(1)(a) or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance, or (iii) a conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.520(1) (b) or (c) if the conviction is the result of a charge that was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.520(1)(a), or (iv) RCW 46.61.522(1)(b) or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance, or (v) RCW 46.61.522(1) (a) or (c) if the conviction is the result of a charge that was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.522(1)(b) committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, or (vi) who has had or will have his or her license suspended, revoked, or denied under RCW 46.20.3101, or who is otherwise permitted under subsection (8) of this section, may submit to the department an application for an ignition interlock driver's license. The department, upon receipt of the prescribed fee and upon determining that the petitioner is eligible to receive the license, may issue an ignition interlock driver's license.

(b) A person may apply for an ignition interlock driver's license anytime, including immediately after receiving the notices under RCW 46.20.308 or after his or her license is suspended, revoked, or denied.

(c) An applicant under this subsection shall provide proof to the satisfaction of the department that a functioning ignition interlock device has been installed on all vehicles operated by the person.

(i) The department shall require the person to maintain the device on all vehicles operated by the person and shall restrict the person to operating only vehicles equipped with the device, for the remainder of the period of suspension, revocation, or denial, unless otherwise permitted under RCW 46.20.720(6). 2016 REGULAR SESSION to the provisions of RCW 46.20.720(3)(b)(ii), the installation of an ignition interlock device is not necessary on vehicles owned, leased, or rented by a person's employer and on those vehicles whose care and/or maintenance is the temporary responsibility of the employer, and driven at the direction of a person's employer as a requirement of employment during working hours. The person must provide the department with a declaration pursuant to RCW 9A.72.085 from his or her employer stating that the person's employment requires the person to operate a vehicle owned by the employer or other persons during working hours.)

(ii) Subject to any periodic renewal requirements established by the department under this section and subject to any applicable compliance requirements under this chapter or other law, an ignition interlock driver's license granted upon a suspension or revocation under RCW 46.61.5055 or 46.20.3101 extends through the remaining portion of any concurrent or consecutive suspension or revocation that may be imposed as the result of administrative action and criminal conviction arising out of the same incident.

((iii) The time period during which the person is licensed under this section shall apply on a day-for-day basis toward satisfying the period of time the ignition interlock device restriction is required under RCW 46.20.720, 46.61.5055, 10.05.140, 46.61.500(3), and 46.61.5249(4). Beginning with incidents occurring on or after September 1, 2011, when calculating the period of time for the restriction under RCW 46.20.720 (2) or (3), the department must also give the person a day-for-day credit for the time period, beginning from the date of the incident, during which the person kept an ignition interlock device installed on all vehicles the person operates. For the purposes of this subsection (1)(c)(iii), the term "all vehicles" does not include vehicles that would be subject to the employer exception under RCW 46.20.720(3).))

(2) An applicant for an ignition interlock driver's license who qualifies under subsection (1) of this section is eligible to receive a license only if the applicant files satisfactory proof of financial responsibility under chapter 46.29 RCW.

(3) Upon receipt of evidence that a holder of an ignition interlock driver's license granted under this subsection no longer has a functioning ignition interlock device installed on all vehicles operated by the driver, the director shall give written notice by first-class mail to the driver that the ignition interlock driver's license shall be canceled. If at any time before the cancellation goes into effect the driver submits evidence that a functioning ignition interlock device has been installed on all vehicles operated by the driver, the cancellation shall be stayed. If the cancellation becomes effective, the driver may obtain, at no additional charge, a new ignition interlock driver's license upon submittal of evidence that a functioning ignition interlock device has been installed on all vehicles operated by the driver.

(4) A person aggrieved by the decision of the department on the application for an ignition interlock driver's license may request a hearing as provided by rule of the department.

(5) The director shall cancel an ignition interlock driver's license after receiving notice that the holder thereof has been convicted of operating a motor vehicle in violation of its restrictions, no longer meets the eligibility requirements, or has been convicted of or found to have committed a separate offense or any other act or omission that under this chapter would warrant suspension or revocation of a regular driver's license. The department must give notice of the cancellation as provided under RCW 46.20.245. A person whose ignition interlock driver's license has been canceled under this section may reapply for a new ignition interlock driver's license if he or she is otherwise qualified under this section and pays the fee required under RCW 46.20.380.

(6)(a) Unless costs are waived by the ignition interlock company or the person is indigent under RCW 10.101.010, the applicant shall pay the cost of installing, removing, and leasing the ignition interlock device and shall pay an additional fee of twenty dollars per month. Payments shall be made directly to the ignition interlock company. The company shall remit the additional twenty dollar fee to the department.

(b) The department shall deposit the proceeds of the twenty dollar fee into the ignition interlock device revolving account. Expenditures from the account may be used only to administer and operate the ignition interlock device revolving account program. The department shall adopt rules to provide monetary assistance according to greatest need and when funds are available.

(7) The department shall adopt rules to implement ignition interlock licensing. The department shall consult with the administrative office of the courts, the state patrol, the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, ignition interlock companies, and any other organization or entity the department deems appropriate.

(8)(a) Any person licensed under this chapter who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.500 when the charge was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance, may submit to the department an application for an ignition interlock driver's license under this section.

(b) A person who does not have any driver's license under this chapter, but who would otherwise be eligible under this section to apply for an ignition interlock license, may submit to the department an application for an ignition interlock license. The department may require the person to take any driver's licensing examination under this chapter and may require the person to also apply and qualify for a temporary restricted driver's license under RCW 46.20.391.

Sec. 14. RCW 46.20.720 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 35 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ((The court may order that after a period of suspension, revocation, or denial of driving privileges, and for up to as long as the court has jurisdiction, any person convicted of any offense involving the use, consumption, or possession of alcohol while operating a motor vehicle may drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock. The court shall establish a specific calibration setting at which the interlock will prevent the vehicle from being started. The court shall also establish the period of time for which interlock use will be required.

(2) Under RCW 46.61.5055 and subject to the exceptions listed in that statute, the court shall order any person convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance to comply with the rules and requirements of the department regarding the installation and use of a functioning ignition interlock device installed on all motor vehicles operated by the person. The court shall order any person participating in a deferred prosecution program under RCW 10.05.020 for a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance to have a functioning ignition interlock device installed on all motor vehicles operated by the person.

(3)(a) The department shall require that, after any applicable period of suspension, revocation, or denial of driving privileges, a person may drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock device if the person is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance. The department shall require that a person may drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock device if the person is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.5249 or 46.61.500 and is required under RCW 46.61.5249(4) or 46.61.500(3) (a) or (b) to install an ignition interlock device on all vehicles operated by the person.

(b)(i) Except as provided in (b)(ii) of this subsection, the installation of an ignition interlock device is not necessary on vehicles owned, leased, or rented by a person's employer and on those vehicles whose care and/or maintenance is the temporary responsibility of the employer, and driven at the direction of a person's employer as a requirement of employment during working hours. The person must provide the department with a declaration pursuant to RCW 9A.72.085 from his or her employer stating that the person's employment requires the person to operate a vehicle owned by the employer or other persons during working hours.

(ii) The employer exemption does not apply:

(A) When the employer's vehicle is assigned exclusively to the restricted driver and used solely for commuting to and from employment;

(B) For the first thirty days after an ignition interlock device has been installed as the result of a first conviction of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance; or

(C) For the first three hundred sixty-five days after an ignition interlock device has been installed as the result of a second or subsequent conviction of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance.

(c) The ignition interlock device shall be calibrated to prevent the motor vehicle from being started when the breath sample provided has an alcohol concentration of 0.025 or more. Subject to the provisions of subsections (4) and (5) of this section, the period of time of the restriction will be no less than:

(i) For a person who has not previously been restricted under this section, a period of one year;

(ii) For a person who has previously been restricted under (c)(i) of this subsection, a period of five years;

(iii) For a person who has previously been restricted under (c)(ii) of this subsection, a period of ten years.

(4) A restriction imposed under subsection (3) of this section shall remain in effect until the department receives a declaration from the person's ignition interlock device vendor, in a form provided or approved by the department, certifying that there have been none of the following incidents in the four consecutive months prior to the date of release:

(a) Any attempt to start the vehicle with a breath alcohol concentration of 0.04 or more unless a subsequent test performed within ten minutes registers a breath alcohol concentration lower than 0.04 and the digital image confirms the same person provided both samples;

(b) Failure to take any random test unless a review of the digital image confirms that the vehicle was not occupied by the driver at the time of the missed test;

(c) Failure to pass any random retest with a breath alcohol concentration of 0.025 or lower unless a subsequent test performed within ten minutes registers a breath alcohol concentration lower than 0.025, and the digital image confirms the same person provided both samples; or

(d) Failure of the person to appear at the ignition interlock device vendor when required for maintenance, repair, calibration, monitoring, inspection, or replacement of the device.

(5) For a person required to install an ignition interlock device pursuant to RCW 46.61.5249(4) or 46.61.500(3), the period of time of the restriction shall be for six months and shall be subject to subsection (4) of this section.

(6) In addition to any other costs associated with the use of an ignition interlock device imposed on the person restricted under this section, the person shall pay an additional fee of twenty dollars per month. Payments must be made directly to the ignition interlock company. The company shall remit the additional twenty dollar fee to the department to be deposited into the ignition interlock device revolving account.)) Ignition interlock restriction. The department shall require that a person may drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock device:

(a) Pretrial release. Upon receipt of notice from a court that an ignition interlock device restriction has been imposed under RCW 10.21.055;

(b) Ignition interlock driver's license. As required for issuance of an ignition interlock driver's license under RCW 46.20.385;

(ii) RCW 46.61.5249 or 46.61.500 or an equivalent local ordinance if the person would be required under RCW 46.61.5249(4) or 46.61.500(3) (a) or (b) to install an ignition interlock device on all vehicles operated by the person in the event of a conviction;

(d) Post conviction. After any applicable period of suspension, revocation, or denial of driving privileges:

(i) Due to a conviction of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local or out-of-state statute or ordinance; or

(ii) Due to a conviction of a violation of RCW 46.61.5249 or 46.61.500 or an equivalent local ordinance if the person is required under RCW 46.61.5249(4) or 46.61.500(3) (a) or (b) to install an ignition interlock device on all vehicles operated by the person; or

(e) Court order. Upon receipt of an order by a court having jurisdiction that a person charged or convicted of any offense involving the use, consumption, or possession of alcohol while operating a motor vehicle may drive only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock. The court shall establish a specific calibration setting at which the ignition interlock will prevent the vehicle from being started. The court shall also establish the period of time for which ignition interlock use will be required.

(2) Calibration. Unless otherwise specified by the court for a restriction imposed under subsection (1)(e) of this section, the ignition interlock device shall be calibrated to prevent the motor vehicle from being started when the breath sample provided has an alcohol concentration of 0.025 or more.

(3) Duration of restriction. A restriction imposed under:

(a) Subsection (1)(a) of this section shall remain in effect until:

(i) The court has authorized the removal of the device under RCW 10.21.055; or

(ii) The department has imposed a restriction under subsection (1)(b), (c), or (d) of this section arising out of the same incident.

(b) Subsection (1)(b) of this section remains in effect during the validity of any ignition interlock driver's license that has been issued to the person.

(c) Subsection (1)(c)(i) or (d)(i) of this section shall be for no less than:

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(iii) For a person who has previously been restricted under (c)(ii) of this subsection, a period of ten years.

The restriction of a person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance and who committed the offense while a passenger under the age of sixteen was in the vehicle shall be extended for an additional six-month period as required by RCW 46.61.5055(6)(a).

(d) Subsection (1)(c)(ii) or (d)(ii) of this section shall be for a period of no less than six months.

(e) Subsection (1)(e) of this section shall remain in effect for the period of time specified by the court.

The period of restriction under (c) and (d) of this subsection based on incidents occurring on or after the effective date of this section must be tolled for any period in which the person does not have an ignition interlock device installed on a vehicle owned or operated by the person.

(4) Requirements for removal. A restriction imposed under subsection (1)(c) or (d) of this section shall remain in effect until the department receives a declaration from the person's ignition interlock device vendor, in a form provided or approved by the department, certifying that there have been none of the following incidents in the four consecutive months prior to the date of release:

(a) Any attempt to start the vehicle with a breath alcohol concentration of 0.04 or more unless a subsequent test performed within ten minutes registers a breath alcohol concentration lower than 0.04 and the digital image confirms the same person provided both samples;

(b) Failure to take any random test unless a review of the digital image confirms that the vehicle was not occupied by the driver at the time of the missed test;

(c) Failure to pass any random retest with a breath alcohol concentration of 0.025 or lower unless a subsequent test performed within ten minutes registers a breath alcohol concentration lower than 0.025, and the digital image confirms the same person provided both samples; or

(d) Failure of the person to appear at the ignition interlock device vendor when required for maintenance, repair, calibration, monitoring, inspection, or replacement of the device.

(5) Day-for-day credit. (a) The time period during which a person has an ignition interlock device installed in order to meet the requirements of subsection (1)(b) of this section shall apply on a day-for-day basis toward satisfying the period of time the ignition interlock device restriction is imposed under subsection (1)(c) or (d) of this section arising out of the same incident.

(b) The department must also give the person a day-for-day credit for any time period, beginning from the date of the incident, during which the person kept an ignition interlock device installed on all vehicles the person operates, other than those subject to the employer exemption under subsection (6) of this section.

(c) If the day-for-day credit granted under this subsection equals or exceeds the period of time the ignition interlock device restriction is imposed under subsection (1)(c) or (d) of this section arising out of the same incident, and the person has already met the requirements for removal of the device under subsection (4) of this section, the department may waive the requirement that a device be installed or that the person again meet the requirements for removal.

(6) Employer exemption. (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the installation of an ignition interlock device is not necessary on vehicles owned, leased, or rented by a person's employer and on those vehicles whose care and/or maintenance is the temporary responsibility of the employer, and driven at the direction of a person's employer as a requirement of employment during working hours. The person must provide the department with a declaration pursuant to RCW 9A.72.085 from his or her employer stating that the person's employment requires the person to operate a vehicle owned by the employer or other persons during working hours.

(b) The employer exemption does not apply when the employer's vehicle is assigned exclusively to the restricted driver and used solely for commuting to and from employment.

(7) Ignition interlock device revolving account. In addition to any other costs associated with the use of an ignition interlock device imposed on the person restricted under this section, the person shall pay an additional fee of twenty dollars per month. Payments must be made directly to the ignition interlock company. The company shall remit the additional twenty dollar fee to the department to be deposited into the ignition interlock device revolving account. The department may waive the monthly fee if the person is indigent under RCW 10.101.010.

(8) Foreign jurisdiction. For a person restricted under this section who is residing outside of the state of Washington, the department may accept verification of installation of an ignition interlock device by an ignition interlock company authorized to do business in the jurisdiction in which the person resides, provided the device meets any applicable requirements of that jurisdiction. The department may waive the monthly fee required by subsection (7) of this section if collection of the fee would be impractical in the case of a person residing in another jurisdiction.

Sec. 15. RCW 46.20.308 and 2015 2nd sp.s. c 3 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who operates a motor vehicle within this state is deemed to have given consent, subject to the provisions of RCW 46.61.506, to a test or tests of his or her breath for the purpose of determining the alcohol concentration in his or her breath if arrested for any offense where, at the time of the arrest, the arresting officer has reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or was in violation of RCW 46.61.503.

(2) The test or tests of breath shall be administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person to have been driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or the person to have been driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while having alcohol in a concentration in violation of RCW 46.61.503 in his or her system and being under the age of twenty-one. Prior to administering a breath test pursuant to this section, the officer shall inform the person of his or her right under this section to refuse the breath test, and of his or her right to have additional tests administered by any qualified person of his or her choosing as provided in RCW 46.61.506. The officer shall warn the driver, in substantially the following language, that:

(a) If the driver refuses to take the test, the driver's license, permit, or privilege to drive will be revoked or denied for at least one year; and

(b) If the driver refuses to take the test, the driver's refusal to take the test may be used in a criminal trial; and

(c) If the driver submits to the test and the test is administered, the driver's license, permit, or privilege to drive will be suspended, revoked, or denied for at least ninety days if:

(i) The driver is age twenty-one or over and the test indicates either that the alcohol concentration of the driver's breath is 0.08 or more; or

(ii) The driver is under age twenty-one and the test indicates either that the alcohol concentration of the driver's breath is 0.02 or more; or

(iii) The driver is under age twenty-one and the driver is in violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504; and

(d) If the driver's license, permit, or privilege to drive is suspended, revoked, or denied the driver may be eligible to immediately apply for an ignition interlock driver's license.

(3) If, following his or her arrest and receipt of warnings under subsection (2) of this section, the person arrested exercises the right, granted herein, by refusing upon the request of a law enforcement officer to submit to a test or tests of his or her breath, no test shall be given except as otherwise authorized by law.

(4) Nothing in subsection (1), (2), or (3) of this section precludes a law enforcement officer from obtaining a person's blood to test for alcohol, marijuana, or any drug, pursuant to a search warrant, a valid waiver of the warrant requirement, when exigent circumstances exist, or under any other authority of law. Any blood drawn for the purpose of determining the person's alcohol, marijuana levels, or any drug, is drawn pursuant to this section when the officer has reasonable grounds to believe that the person is in physical control or driving a vehicle under the influence or in violation of RCW 46.61.503.

(5) If, after arrest and after any other applicable conditions and requirements of this section have been satisfied, a test or tests of the person's blood or breath is administered and the test results indicate that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood is 0.08 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood is 5.00 or more, if the person is age twenty-one or over, or that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood is 0.02 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood is above 0.00, if the person is under the age of twenty-one, or the person refuses to submit to a test, the arresting officer or other law enforcement officer at whose direction any test has been given, or the department, where applicable, if the arrest results in a test of the person's blood, shall:

(a) Serve notice in writing on the person on behalf of the department of its intention to suspend, revoke, or deny the person's license, permit, or privilege to drive as required by subsection (6) of this section;

(b) Serve notice in writing on the person on behalf of the department of his or her right to a hearing, specifying the steps he or she must take to obtain a hearing as provided by subsection (7) of this section;

(c) Serve notice in writing that the license or permit, if any, is a temporary license that is valid for ((sixty)) thirty days from the date of arrest or from the date notice has been given in the event notice is given by the department following a blood test, or until the suspension, revocation, or denial of the person's license, permit, or privilege to drive is sustained at a hearing pursuant to subsection (7) of this section, whichever occurs first. No temporary license is valid to any greater degree than the license or permit that it replaces; and

(d) Immediately notify the department of the arrest and transmit to the department within seventy-two hours, except as delayed as the result of a blood test, a sworn report or report under a declaration authorized by RCW 9A.72.085 that states:

(i) That the officer had reasonable grounds to believe the arrested person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, or both, or was under the age of twenty-one years and had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while having an alcohol or THC concentration in violation of RCW 46.61.503;

(ii) That after receipt of any applicable warnings required by subsection (2) of this section the person refused to submit to a test of his or her breath, or a test was administered and the results indicated that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood was 0.08 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood was 5.00 or more, if the person is age twenty-one or over, or that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood was 0.02 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood was above 0.00, if the person is under the age of twenty-one; and

(iii) Any other information that the director may require by rule.

(6) The department of licensing, upon the receipt of a sworn report or report under a declaration authorized by RCW 9A.72.085 under subsection (5)(d) of this section, shall suspend, revoke, or deny the person's license, permit, or privilege to drive or any nonresident operating privilege, as provided in RCW 46.20.3101, such suspension, revocation, or denial to be effective beginning ((sixty)) thirty days from the date of arrest or from the date notice has been given in the event notice is given by the department following a blood test, or when sustained at a hearing pursuant to subsection (7) of this section, whichever occurs first.

(7) A person receiving notification under subsection (5)(b) of this section may, within ((twenty)) seven days after the notice has been given, request in writing a formal hearing before the department. The person shall pay a fee of three hundred seventy-five dollars as part of the request. If the request is mailed, it must be postmarked within ((twenty)) seven days after receipt of the notification. Upon timely receipt of such a request for a formal hearing, including receipt of the required three hundred seventy-five dollar fee, the department shall afford the person an opportunity for a hearing. The department may waive the required three hundred seventy-five dollar fee if the person is an indigent as defined in RCW 10.101.010. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the hearing is subject to and shall be scheduled and conducted in accordance with RCW 46.20.329 and 46.20.332. The hearing shall be conducted in the county of the arrest, except that all or part of the hearing may, at the discretion of the department, be conducted by telephone or other electronic means. The hearing shall be held within ((sixty)) thirty days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, following the date of timely receipt of such request for a formal hearing before the department or thirty days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays following ((the arrest or following)) the date notice has been given in the event notice is given by the department following a blood test, unless otherwise agreed to by the department and the person, in which case the action by the department shall be stayed, and any valid temporary license under subsection (5) of this section extended, if the person is otherwise eligible for licensing. Unless otherwise agreed to by the department and the person, the department must give five days notice of the hearing to the person. For the purposes of this section, the scope of the hearing shall cover the issues of whether a law enforcement officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while having alcohol in his or her system in a concentration of 0.02 or more, or THC in his or her system in a concentration above 0.00, if the person was under the age of twenty-one, whether the person was placed under arrest, and (a) whether the person refused to submit to the test or tests upon request of the officer after having been informed that such refusal would result in the revocation of the person's license, permit, or privilege to drive, or (b) if a test or tests were administered, whether the applicable requirements of this section were satisfied before the administration of the test or tests, whether the person submitted to the test or tests, or whether a test was administered pursuant to a search warrant, a valid waiver of the warrant requirement, when exigent circumstances exist, or under any other authority of law as permitted under this section, and whether the test or tests indicated that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood was 0.08 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood was 5.00 or more, if the person was age twenty-one or over at the time of the arrest, or that the alcohol concentration of the person's breath or blood was 0.02 or more, or the THC concentration of the person's blood was above 0.00, if the person was under the age of twenty-one at the time of the arrest. Where a person is found to be in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug or was under the age of twenty-one at the time of the arrest and was in physical control of a motor vehicle while having alcohol in his or her system in a concentration of 0.02 or THC concentration above 0.00, the person may petition the hearing officer to apply the affirmative defense found in RCW 46.61.504(3) and 46.61.503(2). The driver has the burden to prove the affirmative defense by a preponderance of the evidence. The sworn report or report under a declaration authorized by RCW 9A.72.085 submitted by a law enforcement officer is prima facie evidence that the officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs, or both, or the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while having alcohol in his or her system in a concentration of 0.02 or more, or THC in his or her system in a concentration above 0.00, and was under the age of twenty-one and that the officer complied with the requirements of this section.

A hearing officer shall conduct the hearing, may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and shall administer oaths to witnesses. The hearing officer shall not issue a subpoena for the attendance of a witness at the request of the person unless the request is accompanied by the fee required by RCW 5.56.010 for a witness in district court. The sworn report or report under a declaration authorized by RCW 9A.72.085 of the law enforcement officer and any other evidence accompanying the report shall be admissible without further evidentiary foundation and the certifications authorized by the criminal rules for courts of limited jurisdiction shall be admissible without further evidentiary foundation. The person may be represented by counsel, may question witnesses, may present evidence, and may testify. The department shall order that the suspension, revocation, or denial either be rescinded or sustained.

(8) If the suspension, revocation, or denial is sustained after such a hearing, the person whose license, privilege, or permit is suspended, revoked, or denied has the right to file a petition in the superior court of the county of arrest to review the final order of revocation by the department in the same manner as an appeal from a decision of a court of limited jurisdiction. Notice of appeal must be filed within thirty days after the date the final order is served or the right to appeal is waived. Notwithstanding RCW 46.20.334, RALJ 1.1, or other statutes or rules referencing de novo review, the appeal shall be limited to a review of the record of the administrative hearing. The appellant must pay the costs associated with obtaining the record of the hearing before the hearing officer. The filing of the appeal does not stay the effective date of the suspension, revocation, or denial. A petition filed under this subsection must include the petitioner's grounds for requesting review. Upon granting petitioner's request for review, the court shall review the department's final order of suspension, revocation, or denial as expeditiously as possible. The review must be limited to a determination of whether the department has committed any errors of law. The superior court shall accept those factual determinations supported by substantial evidence in the record: (a) That were expressly made by the department; or (b) that may reasonably be inferred from the final order of the department. The superior court may reverse, affirm, or modify the decision of the department or remand the case back to the department for further proceedings. The decision of the superior court must be in writing and filed in the clerk's office with the other papers in the case. The court shall state the reasons for the decision. If judicial relief is sought for a stay or other temporary remedy from the department's action, the court shall not grant such relief unless the court finds that the appellant is likely to prevail in the appeal and that without a stay the appellant will suffer irreparable injury. If the court stays the suspension, revocation, or denial it may impose conditions on such stay.

(9)(a) If a person whose driver's license, permit, or privilege to drive has been or will be suspended, revoked, or denied under subsection (6) of this section, other than as a result of a breath test refusal, and who has not committed an offense for which he or she was granted a deferred prosecution under chapter 10.05 RCW, petitions a court for a deferred prosecution on criminal charges arising out of the arrest for which action has been or will be taken under subsection (6) of this section, or notifies the department of licensing of the intent to seek such a deferred prosecution, then the license suspension or revocation shall be stayed pending entry of the deferred prosecution. The stay shall not be longer than one hundred fifty days after the date charges are filed, or two years after the date of the arrest, whichever time period is shorter. If the court stays the suspension, revocation, or denial, it may impose conditions on such stay. If the person is otherwise eligible for licensing, the department shall issue a temporary license, or extend any valid temporary license under subsection (5) of this section, for the period of the stay. If a deferred prosecution treatment plan is not recommended in the report made under RCW 10.05.050, or if treatment is rejected by the court, or if the person declines to accept an offered treatment plan, or if the person violates any condition imposed by the court, then the court shall immediately direct the department to cancel the stay and any temporary license or extension of a temporary license issued under this subsection.

(b) A suspension, revocation, or denial imposed under this section, other than as a result of a breath test refusal, shall be stayed if the person is accepted for deferred prosecution as provided in chapter 10.05 RCW for the incident upon which the suspension, revocation, or denial is based. If the deferred prosecution is terminated, the stay shall be lifted and the suspension, revocation, or denial reinstated. If the deferred prosecution is completed, the stay shall be lifted and the suspension, revocation, or denial canceled.

(c) The provisions of (b) of this subsection relating to a stay of a suspension, revocation, or denial and the cancellation of any suspension, revocation, or denial do not apply to the suspension, revocation, denial, or disqualification of a person's commercial driver's license or privilege to operate a commercial motor vehicle.

(10) When it has been finally determined under the procedures of this section that a nonresident's privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this state has been suspended, revoked, or denied, the department shall give information in writing of the action taken to the motor vehicle administrator of the state of the person's residence and of any state in which he or she has a license.

Sec. 16. RCW 10.21.055 and 2015 2nd sp.s. c 3 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When any person charged with a violation of RCW 46.61.502, 46.61.504, 46.61.520, or 46.61.522, in which the person has a prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055 and the current offense involves alcohol, is released from custody at arraignment or trial on bail or personal recognizance, the court authorizing the release shall require, as a condition of release that person comply with one of the following four requirements:

(i) Have a functioning ignition interlock device installed on all motor vehicles operated by the person, with proof of installation filed with the court by the person or the certified interlock provider within five business days of the date of release from custody or as soon thereafter as determined by the court based on availability within the jurisdiction; or

(ii) Comply with 24/7 sobriety program monitoring, as defined in RCW 36.28A.330; or

(iii) Have an ignition interlock device on all motor vehicles operated by the person pursuant to (a)(i) of this subsection and submit to 24/7 sobriety program monitoring pursuant to (a)(ii) of this subsection, if available, or alcohol monitoring, at the expense of the person, as provided in RCW 46.61.5055(5) (b) and (c); or

(iv) Have an ignition interlock device on all motor vehicles operated by the person and that such person agrees not to operate any motor vehicle without an ignition interlock device as required by the court. Under this subsection (1)(a)(iv), the person must file a sworn statement with the court upon release at arraignment that states the person will not operate any motor vehicle without an ignition interlock device while the ignition interlock restriction is imposed by the court. Such person must also submit to 24/7 sobriety program monitoring pursuant to (a)(ii) of this subsection, if available, or alcohol monitoring, at the expense of the person, as provided in RCW 46.61.5055(5) (b) and (c).

(b) The court shall immediately notify the department of licensing when an ignition interlock restriction is imposed: (i) As a condition of release pursuant to (a) of this subsection; or (ii) in instances where a person is charged with, or convicted of, a violation of RCW 46.61.502, 46.61.504, 46.61.520, or 46.61.522, and the offense involves alcohol. If the court imposes an ignition interlock restriction, the department of licensing shall attach or imprint a notation on the driving record of any person restricted under this section stating that the person may operate only a motor vehicle equipped with a functioning ignition interlock device.

(2)(a) Upon acquittal or dismissal of all pending or current charges relating to a violation of RCW 46.61.502, 46.61.504, 46.61.520, or 46.61.522, or equivalent local ordinance, the court shall authorize removal of the ignition interlock device and lift any requirement to comply with electronic alcohol/drug monitoring imposed under subsection (1) of this section. Nothing in this section limits the authority of the court or department under RCW 46.20.720.

(b) If the court authorizes removal of an ignition interlock device imposed under (((a) of)) this ((subsection)) section, the court shall immediately notify the department of licensing regarding the lifting of the ignition interlock restriction and the department of licensing shall release any attachment, imprint, or notation on such person's driving record relating to the ignition interlock requirement imposed under this section.

(3) When an ignition interlock restriction imposed as a condition of release is canceled, the court shall provide a defendant with a written order confirming release of the restriction. The written order shall serve as proof of release of the restriction until which time the department of licensing updates the driving record.

Sec. 17. RCW 46.61.5055 and 2015 2nd sp.s. c 3 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No prior offenses in seven years. Except as provided in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), a person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has no prior offense within seven years shall be punished as follows:

(a) Penalty for alcohol concentration less than 0.15. In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than one day nor more than three hundred sixty-four days. Twenty-four consecutive hours of the imprisonment may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension and the facts upon which the suspension is based. In lieu of the mandatory minimum term of imprisonment required under this subsection (1)(a)(i), the court may order not less than fifteen days of electronic home monitoring or a ninety day period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring. The court may consider the offender's pretrial 24/7 sobriety program monitoring as fulfilling a portion of posttrial sentencing. The offender shall pay the cost of electronic home monitoring. The county or municipality in which the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device or other separate alcohol monitoring device to include an alcohol detection breathalyzer, and the court may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than three hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Three hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; or

(b) Penalty for alcohol concentration at least 0.15. In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than three hundred sixty-four days. Forty-eight consecutive hours of the imprisonment may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension and the facts upon which the suspension is based. In lieu of the mandatory minimum term of imprisonment required under this subsection (1)(b)(i), the court may order not less than thirty days of electronic home monitoring or a one hundred twenty day period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device to include an alcohol detection breathalyzer or other separate alcohol monitoring device, and the court may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent.

(2) One prior offense in seven years. Except as provided in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), a person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has one prior offense within seven years shall be punished as follows:

The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer or other separate alcohol monitoring device, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Thirty days of imprisonment and sixty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer or other separate alcohol monitoring device, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Forty-five days of imprisonment and ninety days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension and the facts upon which the suspension is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than seven hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Seven hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent.

(3) Two or three prior offenses in seven years. Except as provided in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), a person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who

The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer or other separate alcohol monitoring device, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. Ninety days of imprisonment and one hundred twenty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension and the facts upon which the suspension is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; or

(b) Penalty for alcohol concentration at least 0.15. In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

The offender shall pay for the cost of the electronic monitoring. The court shall order an expanded alcohol assessment and treatment, if deemed appropriate by the assessment. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost. The court may also require the offender's electronic home monitoring device include an alcohol detection breathalyzer or other separate alcohol monitoring device, and may restrict the amount of alcohol the offender may consume during the time the offender is on electronic home monitoring. One hundred twenty days of imprisonment and one hundred fifty days of electronic home monitoring may not be suspended unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. (ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent.

(4) Four or more prior offenses in ten years. A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 shall be punished under chapter 9.94A RCW if:

(b) The person has ever previously been convicted of:

(i) A violation of RCW 46.61.520 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;

(ii) A violation of RCW 46.61.522 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;

(iii) An out-of-state offense comparable to the offense specified in (b)(i) or (ii) of this subsection; or

(iv) A violation of RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6).

(5) Monitoring.

(a) Ignition interlock device. The court shall require any person convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance to comply with the rules and requirements of the department regarding the installation and use of a functioning ignition interlock device installed on all motor vehicles operated by the person.

(b) Monitoring devices. If the court orders that a person refrain from consuming any alcohol, the court may order the person to submit to alcohol monitoring through an alcohol detection breathalyzer device, transdermal sensor device, or other technology designed to detect alcohol in a person's system. The person shall pay for the cost of the monitoring, unless the court specifies that the cost of monitoring will be paid with funds that are available from an alternative source identified by the court. The county or municipality where the penalty is being imposed shall determine the cost.

(c) ((Ignition interlock device substituted for)) 24/7 sobriety program monitoring. In any county or city where a 24/7 sobriety program is available and verified by the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs, the court shall:

(i) Order the person to install and use a functioning ignition interlock or other device in lieu of such period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring;

(ii) Order the person to a period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring pursuant to subsections (1) through (3) of this section; or

(iii) Order the person to install and use a functioning ignition interlock or other device in addition to a period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring pursuant to subsections (1) through (3) of this section.

(a) Order the use of an ignition interlock or other device for an additional six months;

(b) In any case in which the person has no prior offenses within seven years, and except as provided in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), order an additional twenty-four hours of imprisonment and a fine of not less than one thousand dollars and not more than five thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent;

five thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent;

(d) In any case in which the person has two or three prior offenses within seven years, and except as provided in RCW 46.61.502(6) or 46.61.504(6), order an additional ten days of imprisonment and a fine of not less than three thousand dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended unless the court finds the offender to be indigent.

(7) Other items courts must consider while setting penalties. In exercising its discretion in setting penalties within the limits allowed by this section, the court shall particularly consider the following:

(a) Whether the person's driving at the time of the offense was responsible for injury or damage to another or another's property;

(b) Whether at the time of the offense the person was driving or in physical control of a vehicle with one or more passengers;

(c) Whether the driver was driving in the opposite direction of the normal flow of traffic on a multiple lane highway, as defined by RCW 46.04.350, with a posted speed limit of forty-five miles per hour or greater; and

(d) Whether a child passenger under the age of sixteen was an occupant in the driver's vehicle.

(8) Treatment and information school. An offender punishable under this section is subject to the alcohol assessment and treatment provisions of RCW 46.61.5056.

(9) Driver's license privileges of the defendant. The license, permit, or nonresident privilege of a person convicted of driving or being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs must:

(a) Penalty for alcohol concentration less than 0.15. If the person's alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or if for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered under RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) Where there has been no prior offense within seven years, be suspended or denied by the department for ninety days or until the person is evaluated by an alcoholism agency or probation department pursuant to RCW 46.20.311 and the person completes or is enrolled in a ninety day period of 24/7 sobriety program monitoring. In no circumstances shall the license suspension be for fewer than two days;

(iii) Where there have been two or more prior offenses within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for three years;

(b) Penalty for alcohol concentration at least 0.15. If the person's alcohol concentration was at least 0.15:

In no circumstances shall the license revocation be for fewer than four days;

(ii) Where there has been one prior offense within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for nine hundred days; or

(iii) Where there have been two or more prior offenses within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for four years; or

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(i) Where there have been no prior offenses within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for two years;

(ii) Where there has been one prior offense within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for three years; or

(iii) Where there have been two or more previous offenses within seven years, be revoked or denied by the department for four years.

The department shall grant credit on a day-for-day basis for any portion of a suspension, revocation, or denial already served under this subsection for a suspension, revocation, or denial imposed under RCW 46.20.3101 arising out of the same incident.

Upon receipt of a notice from the court under RCW 36.28A.390 that a participant has been removed from a 24/7 sobriety program, the department must resume any suspension, revocation, or denial that had been terminated early under this subsection due to participation in the program, granting credit on a day-for-day basis for any portion of a suspension, revocation, or denial already served under RCW 46.20.3101 or this section arising out of the same incident.

Upon its own motion or upon motion by a person, a court may find, on the record, that notice to the department under RCW 46.20.270 has been delayed for three years or more as a result of a clerical or court error. If so, the court may order that the person's license, permit, or nonresident privilege shall not be revoked, suspended, or denied for that offense. The court shall send notice of the finding and order to the department and to the person. Upon receipt of the notice from the court, the department shall not revoke, suspend, or deny the license, permit, or nonresident privilege of the person for that offense.

For purposes of this subsection (9), the department shall refer to the driver's record maintained under RCW 46.52.120 when determining the existence of prior offenses.

(10) Probation of driving privilege. After expiration of any period of suspension, revocation, or denial of the offender's license, permit, or privilege to drive required by this section, the department shall place the offender's driving privilege in probationary status pursuant to RCW 46.20.355.

(11) Conditions of probation. (a) In addition to any nonsuspendable and nondeferrable jail sentence required by this section, whenever the court imposes up to three hundred sixty-four days in jail, the court shall also suspend but shall not defer a period of confinement for a period not exceeding five years. The court shall impose conditions of probation that include: (i) Not driving a motor vehicle within this state without a valid license to drive; (ii) not driving a motor vehicle within this state without proof of liability insurance or other financial responsibility for the future pursuant to RCW 46.30.020; (iii) not driving or being in physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while having an alcohol concentration of 0.08 or more or a THC concentration of 5.00 nanograms per milliliter of whole blood or higher, within two hours after driving; (iv) not refusing to submit to a test of his or her breath or blood to determine alcohol or drug concentration upon request of a law enforcement officer who has reasonable grounds to believe the person was driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drug; and (v) not driving a motor vehicle in this state without a functioning ignition interlock device as required by the department under RCW 46.20.720((3)). The court may impose conditions of probation that include nonrepetition, installation of an ignition interlock device on the probationer's motor vehicle, alcohol or drug treatment, supervised probation, or other conditions that may be appropriate. The sentence may be imposed in whole or in part upon violation of a condition of probation during the suspension period.

(b) For each violation of mandatory conditions of probation under (a)(i), (ii), (iii), (iv), or (v) of this subsection, the court shall order the convicted person to be confined for thirty days, which shall not be suspended or deferred.

(c) For each incident involving a violation of a mandatory condition of probation imposed under this subsection, the license, permit, or privilege to drive of the person shall be suspended by the court for thirty days or, if such license, permit, or privilege to drive already is suspended, revoked, or denied at the time the finding of probation violation is made, the suspension, revocation, or denial then in effect shall be extended by thirty days. The court shall notify the department of any suspension, revocation, or denial or any extension of a suspension, revocation, or denial imposed under this subsection.

(12) Waiver of electronic home monitoring. A court may waive the electronic home monitoring requirements of this chapter when:

(a) The offender does not have a dwelling, telephone service, or any other necessity to operate an electronic home monitoring system. However, if a court determines that an alcohol monitoring device utilizing wireless reporting technology is reasonably available, the court may require the person to obtain such a device during the period of required electronic home monitoring;

(b) The offender does not reside in the state of Washington; or

(c) The court determines that there is reason to believe that the offender would violate the conditions of the electronic home monitoring penalty.

Whenever the mandatory minimum term of electronic home monitoring is waived, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the waiver and the facts upon which the waiver is based, and shall impose an alternative sentence with similar punitive consequences. The alternative sentence may include, but is not limited to, use of an ignition interlock device, the 24/7 sobriety program monitoring, additional jail time, work crew, or work camp.

Whenever the combination of jail time and electronic home monitoring or alternative sentence would exceed three hundred sixty-four days, the offender shall serve the jail portion of the sentence first, and the electronic home monitoring or alternative portion of the sentence shall be reduced so that the combination does not exceed three hundred sixty-four days.

(13) Extraordinary medical placement. An offender serving a sentence under this section, whether or not a mandatory minimum term has expired, may be granted an extraordinary medical placement by the jail administrator subject to the standards and limitations set forth in RCW 9.94A.728(1)(c).

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Mullet: "Thank you, Mr. President. I'm looking for Senator Benton, oh, he's back there. So, I don't know if everyone's aware, on Financial Institutions and Housing, we think Senator Benton may have set the record for the longest continuing years of service on that committee. We think its twenty years in the Senate, two years in the House, and we got a little gift for him from the Democrats on 'FiHi'. What I want to say, what I respect and admire about Senator Benton on that committee is, it's a tremendous amount of intellectual curiosity, because sometimes you see the reports in this committee and the staff briefing takes five minutes, the bill report is five pages long, and nobody knows what the hell the bill does. Senator Benton will continue to ask questions until he can figure out what the bill actually does and it's very nice to have him on the committee because you don't have to be the one asking those questions. So that for me, is what he's always brought to that committee the four years I've been on it. And I will say that intellectual curiosity carries over off the dais because my office upstairs, we actually have the best coffee in the capitol and there's a lot of people in the chamber who will fly by and grab their cup of coffee and Senator Benton brings that same intellectual curiosity when he talks to my staff when he comes by for his coffee. He's very open, very chatty, and asks a lot of questions about what's going on in their life and he tells his stories. I don't know if he views this as a compliment or not, but they call him 'Uncle Benton,' 'Uncle Don,' because he's like that uncle you have growing up who just comes by your house randomly and tells funny stories. But I've always found that very refreshing that he takes a lot of time to talk to the people in my office the four years I've been down here. And I'll say the final thing that I've appreciated that's separate from a lot of this, the first year I was here, we were at a thing, in one of the alleys south of here, it was a barbeque in the evening and we all have professional lives outside of the senate. His is in marketing. So I told him, I own a pizza restaurant, I need advice on how to market for my restaurant, because I had a lot of anxiety about all the restaurants that were opening up in Issaquah, and he gave me good advice. He said, don't worry about all these restaurants opening up, because when you as a family go out, you're not picking between forty restaurants, basically your brain bandwidth can only pick between the amount of restaurants you can count on one hand. He said as long as you keep your pizza restaurant as one of those fingers on their hand, it doesn't matter how many restaurants open in Issaquah, you'll do just fine. I actually got back from that session of my first year here, relayed that message to my staff, and our pizza sales are up twenty-five percent these last three years. So I will promise Senator Benton in his retirement, a free pizza if he's ever in Issaquah because he helped me out. So thank you very much, I appreciate all your service."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Well thank you, Mr. President. As we're all aware, Senator Benton is leaving. I would suggest to Senator Benton though, the chocolates may contain Ex-Lax. They may have one last surprise for you before you leave us. But, in all honesty, I have known Senator Benton since he was a very strong, ambitious, conservative, elected to the House in 1994 and Don has brought with him, a very strong and passionate support of property rights. He's brought forward leadership on limiting property taxes. I think those are key issues Don has worked closely with the House and the Senate on. I think the Chelsea Harrison Act, many, many years of hard work to bring that into law for crime victims over the years. Don has also never forgot about the unborn and the fragile in our state or our veterans. Watching Don speak on veteran's issues stirs emotion in his heart for having known so many veterans in his family and his community, many of whom didn't come back to us and Don was always there for them in their time, in district or on the floor with those issues. And I think championing the obvious tax issues, the property rights, the unborn, the medically fragile, and of course veterans, that I've seen him become so emotional over, is an impressive stamp on Don Benton's career."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "You know, some people might be surprised I'm standing up and I'm going to say some nice things about Don Benton, because some of you on Transportation have witnessed the stabbing of Steve Hobbs by Don Benton. But the great thing about Don Benton is he stabs you from the front. As you know, some of you stab from behind, but the good thing about Don is for as many times I've been stabbed, not that often, he's there to give you a big hug, he's there to work with you, and we've worked close together. Some people are saying, 'Wow, I can't believe you just took that' but I was laughing the whole time because I was saying classic Don, classic Don. But I've got to tell you, we've worked great together, and you represent your caucus well and you balance things out. I'll tell you if it wasn't for Don Benton working together on the Foreclosure Fairness Act, I don't think we would have gotten it out. And he brought votes along for that, and not only that but when it comes to the homelessness and the voucher bill that we had out, that we had to push out twice, Don Benton was there and he helped negotiate that with me and the stakeholders, and we had some good policies out there. I'm going to miss you, I'm going to miss the good conversations we've had. I don't know why you have to be this close, it's kind of a Ross Hunter thing. I don't get it, but at least you have good breath, you never had bad breath, but I don't understand. You can actually stand this far away and I can hear you. I won't miss the stabbings by the way, but I will miss the good conversations and the good work that you and I did together for the people of this state. I wish you well on your retirement, thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dansel: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, Don Benton, we call him 'Diamond D,' or the other day, I called him 'The Donald' and he was standing next to Mark Schoesler, and I called him 'The Donald' and 'Little Marko.' I did, but it was my first year here and I didn't understand why we were doing something and I was really, really upset that a bill had come out. I think it was my first year here or last year, I can't remember. But I was in the lobby over here really just going crazy and saying 'I can't believe they are doing this.' 'This is ridiculous.' 'How come we can't get one of my bills?' Mike Hewitt would it call it whining I think, is what I was doing. And there's Don Benton and we kind of, it was getting close to the roll call so we were making our way over to the side here and there's Don Benton, and he's every step of the way encouraging me, going 'I know, I tell you what it is, it's highway robbery.' 'I just can't believe they are doing this to you.' And so anyway, Benton comes before Dansel in alphabetical order, so literally I'm sitting there going 'this is amazing I can't believe it, and he's egging me on going 'Yeah, this is the most horrible thing,' and then this guy here goes

'Benton,' and he goes 'Aye.' I just couldn't believe my ears. I go, 'Don, what are you doing?' And he says, 'I know it's not good for you but I have to vote for it because it's got something for something in my district' and I think I'll remember that always. He was really, really against it until he voted for it. And that's 'Diamond D.' But more than anything I will say this, nobody ever wondered where Don stood on an issue, in the caucus or outside of, and that includes his constituents, and he always had a way of making people know with no uncertain terms if you were doing something that wasn't necessarily right. And he got on me a couple of times and said, 'Why are you voting for this?' And he explained it to me in a way that I could understand it better. And also the final thing I'll say is that he was actually the first one who introduced himself to me after I got elected and I thought that was kind of a cool thing. I had never met this guy before, but then again Senator Hobbs is right, I mean he introduced himself like right there, and I'm like alright, here we go. But, we're going to miss you and I thank you for your many years of service Diamond D Don Benton."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: "Thank you, Mr. President. I've appreciated the opportunity to trade parliamentary jabs with the good senator. I will say I think the best interaction we had, and it was during this session, I won't reveal exactly when, but I raised a Point of Order to one of his motions and he came up to me a few days later and said, I was in a discussion and people were criticizing me for the Point of Order that was sustained, and he said, 'Don't criticize him, because if I were in the minority, that's exactly what I would have done too.' So I think if you live by the rules, you die by the rules, and he plays fairly, and I'm going to miss that rigorous analysis of our work and holding us honest for the rules we've set for ourselves. We wish Senator Benton well."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well when Don got here, I'd already been here for several decades. But you know, I've worked with him on a lot of sex offender issues, and back in the nineties when we were working with Jeanine Long and Val Stevens on the committee work, and you know Don didn't always start out with the most reasonable ideas. I remember a bill that required all sex offenders to be castrated. But he was the necessary goad that pushed us along, and I really think we have some of the best sex offender policy in the nation, and a lot of that was because Don was there to kind of pushing and goading and pushing, and we ended up actually doing things. And probably doing things in a way that protected the public way better than if we didn't have that person goading and pushing. So that's on a policy side. I can just imagine Don Benton introducing himself to Senator Dansel. If they were this close, their stomachs would have been touching. That's quite a sight. I keep my distance. The other thing is someone said you don't need to get that close because you can be this far away and hear Don Benton. Well, when Don Benton speaks on the floor, you can hear him in Lacey and Tumwater. He definitely makes himself heard, he feels very strongly about, as was mentioned, veterans, the property tax burden on people, property rights, and I particularly appreciate the work we did together on sex offender issues. So thank you Don. We're going to miss you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "I just wanted to say some nice things about Don, but I'll start by saying this, Don Benton is the first person, the only person I've ever known, who could show up for a meeting an hour late, and as soon as he gets there, be ticked off at everybody else in the meeting who doesn't know what's going on. I mean it's just amazing. But Don is absolutely one of my favorite people in the legislature, you've always been one of the people I've learned from the most. I try to learn from everybody out here and I truly have. But Don, the things I've learned from Don, are just a core conviction, and a big heart for his principles, and he really does have one of the biggest hearts out here, and he really does serve the people with a big heart and I truly appreciate that. Another issue I've learned a lot about is parliamentary procedure, and what do we do here with the chess piece and how to move, and Mr. President, one of the things you said when we first got here was hey learn the rules, not a lot of senators learn the rules and try to use the rules, and I appreciate that Don tries to use the rules to advance his policy ideas and I think it's very noble. I just, I really appreciate the rhetorical flair and the speaking ability of Don Benton and the intensity and the endurance with which he carries it out. Actually, I jokingly tell my father who watches TVW quite regularly, that if I was a genie and could grant a wish, I would send Don Benton to the big senate, just for a day, so he could filibuster, because I imagine this guy could lay it out there with pageantry and with intensity and probably turn D.C. upside down with your abilities to do that. And I'll just say, in closing, that you know when we got to the legislature we were in the minority, and when you're in the minority it's challenging and Don Benton doing that move to the ninth order when we came out of that caucus room and wondering can we stick together, how's this going to work and that unknowing and that little chance to see if we could govern with some of our principles was my single favorite moment in the legislature and I will for the rest of my days when I think about politics, think about Don Benton moving to the ninth order and putting us Republicans in the driver's seat out here. And I really appreciate that you did that Don, thank you so much."

2016 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, Don on the floor and the little red book is a classic. I'll always remember Don lecturing us about the Constitution and telling us about the rules, and absolutely being certain that you're right, and we're wrong. But my oh my are you a student and a scholar of this little red book. And I have to give you kudos for your use of the procedures and the rules and our Constitution. But I also want to give you thanks because you do have a big heart Don, and we've worked together on a lot of things, and we've made some good stuff and I always will be thankful for your vote, you and Senator Bob Oke, helping me with the paid family leave."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fain: "I appreciated Senator Hobbs' comments about Senator Benton stabbing from the front. I am probably one of the members on this floor who has been the recipient of most of Senator Benton's stabs, whether it be out here, in committee, in caucus, so many hours of my life have been drained away fighting this man. But what is most remarkable about that experience is that we will be fighting to a degree. Senator Litzow I think can remember a moment from our first year when there was a particularly heated moment and there were some words that were exchanged that will certainly not be repeated on the floor. But the ability for Senator Benton to just turn on a dime, where you're discussing one issue with one set of impacts and one set of constituencies, and one set of passion that he has and then, and you're yelling, and you're nose to nose, as he is with every conversation, and all of a sudden you need to talk about something else where you two are aligned. And it goes from this rabid dog to the most helpful person in the universe, and I think that is what most characterizes my relationship with Don Benton over these past few years, is that you could fight, and fight, and fight, and then we'd have something that we'd need to accomplish together and we'd say okay we're not fighting about this right now, so let's go and join forces and we'll get this thing done and then we'll go back to fighting a little bit later on. I think that's remarkable. I would certainly prefer that we lower the volume and increase the distance a little bit, but I think it's remarkable. I think it is a testament to how this chamber is supposed to operate. That you deal with an issue that is in front of you with passion and with vigor and then when you move yourself to the next issue. You are able to divorce yourself from that previous acrimony and move on to that next thing. And Don Benton is one of the best at epitomizing that. I will also say that, you know it's funny, am I going to miss Don Benton? I don't know the answer to that question yet. But I bet you sometime next year, when I've lost my foil and I'm looking for someone to blame for something, and you are not here, I am going to miss you a ton. The other thing that I'm going to miss more than anything is you Mr. President, and one of the favorite things you have said throughout these very, very many years. And that of course is, 'Senator Benton's point is not well taken'."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Angel: "Well I want to talk about Senator Benton, too. Dog gone it, I sit next to him in the caucus room, and my apologies to Senator Parlette, because I scoot over as much as I could because when it's lunch time, this man needs space on that table. Watching him though, sitting as his Vice Chair on Financial Institutions, it's been a real learning experience. And as the ranking member knows there are times we've got something coming up, and Senator Benton opens that meeting with his rules of protocol, and then he says I've got to take a phone call and he hands me the gavel. And then we're trying to figure out some of those tough bills, but I'll tell you what, he comes back and he asks those tough questions and it's been a pleasure to watch him work and I envy, I envy, the parliamentary knowledge you have, and the institutional knowledge you have, in being here all these years. And I'm going to do better at reading that red book, so you will truly be missed and God bless you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Billig: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I too wanted to say a couple of words about Senator Benton because I will miss him when he's gone. My first introduction with Senator Benton was when I was a freshman in the House and I'd only been here for a few weeks and Senator Benton had this bill, it had to do with the WIAA if you remember that bill, and it was a bill that was very important for his district. And it came over to the House and it hit a little bit of roadblock in the House, and he was going to talk to the Speaker. And the Speaker decided that this would be a good bill to farm out to the newest member of the House Democratic Caucus. So he said, 'Senator Benton you need to go talk to Representative Billig. He's now in charge of this bill.' So that was my introduction to the tenacity that is Don Benton. And I learned so much in my first year as a legislator about how to pursue a policy that is important to your district. And we worked together on that bill and the policy was not that significant, but the lesson very much was. I also, because our offices are on the same floor, there have been times when Senator Benton has had to come into my office to talk with me, and my staff refers to him as the Benton Tornado, and he just comes in, makes a beeline, walks right by the staff and he is one of our favorites in the office because of the way he treats the staff. But with all that tenacity, with that headwind and the swiftness that he moves, and sometimes even a little bit of gruffness. Earlier this session I saw another side of Senator Benton. My son, Sam, who was one, he was here and was running up and down the hallway, all around the legislature, and we got lots of nice comments and smiles, but Senator Benton was the only one that got down to his level, out in the hall by our offices, he got down to one knee, was sitting there playing with him, genuinely playing with him. Made Sam's day, made my day, hopefully was a good impact on his day as well. Thank you Don, and we'll miss you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: "Thank you, Mr. President. You know, here in Olympia we have characters of the game. And I say that in all the best ways, there are just characters here that are almost larger than life in terms of how they impact the institution. I just have one quick story I want to share. A few years ago we were sitting over on that side and Don, I think, was preparing to run for a different office, and there was a television camera there from one of the television stations. And Don was giving a very fiery speech, speaking directly into the camera, hitting all of his talking points, making a great speech, and I'm standing next to the reporter, and the reporter says to me, 'Should we tell Don that the camera's not on?' And I said, 'No, no forget it. He's rolling.' It was great, but there were just, for many years, people will talk about Don Benton. There will be a big hole left in the institution, whether you get along with him every day or not get along with him every day. It is just really the thing that makes the institution such a special place. And I say character of the game in the best way, because he provides different aspects to it that many of us can't bring to it. It's not just the showmanship, it's not just the bluster on the floor speeches, it's the knowledge of the institution, it's the depth of understanding, it's a great understanding of politics, it's just the straightforward, wonderful conversation that I will truly miss. But you can be guaranteed that we'll be talking here, the people that are here in four years, 'Remember when Don Benton did that? Remember Don Benton?' And you will definitely be missed and you are bigger than the institution and you are a great part of it, and no one has stood up more for the pillars of the institution than Don Benton."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I have worked with Senator Benton for a very, very long time and it's always been a privilege. And one of the things that he does that I admire, is when he comes to your desk to talk to you, he has the most gentle voice. And it's very inspiring when he starts to talk about things he really cares about, and that he's passionate about. So one of the things he cared about at one point in our journey together was fairness in food. So when the capitol was under construction after the earthquake, they were going to shut down our senate dining room. And Senator Benton had a letter that said he wanted to keep Jean- Pierre, our chef in the dining room, open. So we all signed the letter. Oh not all of us? I thought he got us all. I guess not. But, at any rate, I was out doorbelling the very next interim period and I heard a man yell through the door, 'I'm not voting for her, she has a French chef!' So thank you, Senator Benton."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Don and I both came in in 1994 in the big landslide when we had sixty-one members I believe that first year, and I've been serving with him ever since. You went to the senate before I did, but I was just going to mention the French chef as something I'll always remember, and your letter that I did not sign. But I believe we are the last two from that class of '94 and so with your leaving that makes me the last man standing and I expect the appropriate bottle to be delivered to my office."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you, Mr. President. So my predecessor, Margarita Prentice, showed me a picture some time ago, and she was really proud of this picture and it was a picture you know of her, she stands about this tall, with her finger pointing up like this at Senator Benton. She used it as a teaching moment to say you know you can argue and disagree but it's a fellowship, and you can get along and become friends and disagree agreeably. You need to get to know Senator Benton because he really is an honest person, straightforward, somebody that you can work with to try and solve problems. So that was the best bit of advice that she gave me was in reaching out to Senator Benton. We've actually been able to work to solve a lot of problems, you know he's not just adversarial. If there's a way to find a solution he wants to work to figure out what the solution is. So he's been a cosigner on many amendments on the link deposit bill and this parking mitigation thing and I just want to say that. Oh, there's one other thing that you may not know about Senator Benton because we are a kindred spirit in a certain sense. He's a former Teamster organizer, so we would go out and share some old war stories from back in the day, most of which I probably should not mention on the floor unless the statute of limitations has passed. But we would have great conversations over big meals, another thing that we are kindred spirits in, so I just want to say Don I am going to miss you and it has really been a privilege to get to know you better and work with you in the past."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Well, I wanted to say a few words about Don Benton. He's been a very good friend of mine for a number of years, I actually preceded him in being here. The first recollection I have of him, is he had this bill over in the House dealing with a World War II memorial and I didn't know this guy over in the House. I'd been in the Senate for a couple of years, and dog gone it, I had the same bill over here in the Senate. All I can say is he worked his bill harder. It's his bill and he reminds me constantly that that is his memorial in terms of getting something done. But I think that should have been the inkling that this guy has not only a lot of passion, but is an extremely hard worker, an extremely hard worker. There have been so many things that have been said today, but I'll give you a couple because I've known Don for so long. We share a lot of the same political views absolutely. We're both passionate about things. We like to do things that are right, and Don is motivated by doing what he thinks is right and what he thinks is right is a very high standard, and I really appreciate that. He's certainly come to my defense many times. You don't have to worry Senator Fain, when you miss a foil, I'll still be here. You've been working on it for a number of years. So the only difference is, I have an honest man here that will stand up and state things the way they are, and I really appreciate that. So one time Don says to me,

FIFTY NINTH DAY, MARCH 9, 2016

2016 REGULAR SESSION

‘You know, I’ve got this restaurant down in Vancouver called the Chard House’, and I said, ‘The Chard House?’ I’ve never heard of the thing. I’d never heard of it in my life but apparently they had. They were running this deal that was kind of like a contest, like a prize you got, if you went to every one of the Chard House restaurants, they would give you two, a trip around the world, you could stop wherever you wanted, it was a round the world trip. So Benton’s telling me about this, and he says, ‘You’ve got to go to sixty-five restaurants.’ Sixty-five restaurants! So this man had a business where he’d do the marketing, he’d go all over the country, and he’d stop off and go to these Chard House restaurants. One time I think he and his wife, I’m not sure, but they were down in the Caribbean, he leaves Mary and gets on a plane and goes hopping around to St. Croix, going to St. Thomas, all to do one thing: Eat at a Chard House restaurant and get his little thing stamped I guess. So he went to sixty-five restaurants. I don’t know how much that cost him, certainly much more than a trip, if he’d wanted to pay for it himself, around the world, and he took his daughter Mary or his daughter, excuse me, Jennifer. Just a wonderful young woman that Don has always been so proud of. He’s a father, no one’s mentioned that yet, wonderful times with his kids, and when you talk to him he’s out riding on the quads and everything with his sons, taking them out and doing the shooting, spending time with his family which is a lesson we all know and need to be reminded of it. And so I think he’s, there’s a lot of things I could say, he is a world traveler and he and I have a little contest going, which is who can go to the most countries. I know how many I’ve been to and I’ve told him, but he won’t really tell me how many he’s been to, so guess what? That tells me. I think I’ve been to more so that’s what that means. That’s what that means. We did take a wonderful trade mission with Senator Paull Shin. We went to South Korea, we went to China, we went to Thailand, on a wonderful trip meeting with local businesses, businesses that had an interest in the United States of America, meeting with leaders and hopefully doing a good job for America as we were ambassadors. I appreciate those kinds of things. Most of all, he’s a friend, most of all, he’s a friend and you can look around the room, I’ve done it many times, and who would you have Thanksgiving dinner with, you know? But I would have Thanksgiving dinner with Don Benton and it’s because we are good friends, and I’m going to miss that. It’ll force me, Don, to become better friends with others here. I think it will force me, I may even like Senator Braun you know? Over there, wants to take the whole labor movement and go down with it like that. I love you, you know. You were in the service and I appreciate that. What we need to do today I think is learn that a person with passion is bombastic. I’ve always said that, and what a boring life it is if you don’t have passion. If you don’t have beliefs strong enough inside of you, to get out there and preach those things and work those things and run your life that way, I feel sorry for you. Don Benton is a man that has those principles, has those beliefs, good friend, great husband, takes his wife flowers all the time. To think about that I think my husband picks them from the yard. Anyway, I’m going to miss you Don. It’s going to cause a lot of us to be better people. Senator Dansel’s going to be the parliamentarian. We’re going to have people to try to fill this. It’s going to be difficult, but we’re going to rise up to the occasion of being Washington state senators and God bless you as you leave the state senate. We’re your friends.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: “I wasn’t going to say anything about Don, but I do have a couple of things to add to what has been said. First of all, I would like to know where to file my L&I claim for a loss of hearing, and I think I should be getting hazardous duty pay in addition to that because of my proximity to both Senator Benton and Senator Roach. I do have a little loss of hearing, I know, on this side. But I will tell you this, if there’s one person in this body, that I would trust explicitly to know what needs to be done, knows the rules, the go-to person, has always been, for me, Don Benton. I asked him when I found out that he was leaving, if he could do a brain dump, and let me know all the things that he knows about the little red book. But I can tell you he studies it all the time, and he is constantly looking to make sure we follow the rules. I’ve never seen anybody work harder, as exemplified by the number of bills that he turns through this organization. He has always been one that I would seek advice from, and I really have appreciated him. We knew each other before the legislature, before I actually got involved in the legislature, because we shared some commonality in our work outside of the legislature. Probably most people don’t know that, but Don and I do. So with that I really want to wish him well, and I know he’s going to be successful at his other endeavors. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Chase: “Thank you, Mr. President. It is with pleasure that I rise to honor my friend, my conservative friend, from the Seventeenth, and a lot of people say, ‘How can a progressive from the thirty-second be such close friends with a conservative from the seventeenth?’ Well it’s easy, we actually share a lot of the same values. I’m going to miss you so. But even though we share some of the same values, sometimes we take different roadways, different pathways to get there, but he does, it seems to me, exemplify the golden rule, as a way to conduct his life. But I want to tell you, a lot of people don’t realize he’s an environmentalist, you know? He really is. He just showed a lot of people down in Clark County just what kind of environmentalist he is. He’s also a great manager, saved them a lot of money, you know, so we can be very proud about that. One of the things that I muse on, is that it was suggested that four of us could take over the senate and become a great swing caucus. You know we could do that. It would be kind of interesting but we wouldn’t do that because there are rules, and Don being the maven of the rule book, the little red book. I’ve got my little red book to wave it around at you, Don, just so you know I have learned that we do follow the rules here. And I do so appreciate everything that you have done, I appreciate you, thank you.”

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Well Senator Benton you are proof positive that perception is far greater than reality. They really believe you know the rules.”

SENATE RESOLUTION

By Senators Hill, Braun, Hewitt, Hargrove, Conway, Fraser, Hobbs, and Dammeier

WHEREAS, It has been the tradition of the Washington State Senate to honor significant and important contributions made by employees; and

WHEREAS, Steve Jones began his illustrious and lengthy career with the Washington State Legislature in 1976 when he started with the Code Reviser's Office; and

WHEREAS, One of the very first pieces of legislation Steve worked on as a member of the Code Reviser's staff was the bill to close the PERS 1 pension system, and despite repeated investigations there is no evidence that he conspired to set the termination date for PERS 1 after his initial date of employment with the state of Washington; and

WHEREAS, Having secured a plan 1 retirement Steve turned his attention to the state budgets and retained his grip on the state's omnibus operating appropriations act for 37 years; and

WHEREAS, In addition to being recognized as one of the most knowledgeable and accomplished institutional historians of the Senate, Steve also happily serves as a conduit of the latest juicy gossip traveling through the marbled halls of the state capitol; and

WHEREAS, Steve from his days as an undergraduate student at Occidental College has a surprising and almost obsessive knowledge of Original Tommy's chiliburgers in Los Angeles as well as the collected works of avant garde jazz composer and bandleader Don Ellis; and

WHEREAS, Steve has remained on the cutting edge of fashion by wearing a bow tie more than any Senate staffer (including the late Sid Snyder) since the 1940's; and

WHEREAS, Steve for four decades has mastered the rare art of telling lawmakers in the most polite and humorous way possible "Yes, Senator, that is an excellent and innovative idea apart from the slight problem that it is blatantly unconstitutional"; and

WHEREAS, Steve owns the distinction of the shortest kayaking trip to Glacier Bay in Alaska where on just the second day a grizzly bear destroyed their campsite and even the illegal firearm his friend illegally brought into the National Park was not able to distract the bear from ransacking their supplies; and

WHEREAS, Steve is an avid cyclist and regular spectator at the annual Tour de France and was able to finance college educations for both of his children by smuggling cycling memorabilia and souvenirs out of the country and reselling the items on Ebay; and

WHEREAS, Despite being an accomplished hiker and mountain climber as well as a friend of famed mountaineer Fred Beckey, Steve managed to become lost on a backpacking and climbing trip in the North Cascades, spending the night in a creek bed and worrying family and friends until he was rescued somewhere near Stehekin on the north end of Lake Chelan; and

WHEREAS, Over his career Steve has worked with the following Ways and Means Chairs -- Senators McDonald, Rinehart, West, Loveland, Brown, Rossi, Zarelli, Prentice, Murray, and Hill; any of whom could truly serve as the answer to the Sesame Street song "One of these things is not like the others"; and

WHEREAS, During his 28 years working for the Washington State Senate, Steve is recognized as one of the highest respected legal minds, helping countless Senators achieve their public policy goals; and

WHEREAS, The many, many friends he has made during these years in public service will miss him mightily as he is often referred to as the "glue which holds the Senate together," but wish him all the best on his well-deserved retirement;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate give Steve a heartfelt thanks for his years of service and wish him and Kris many days of travel, family, and friends; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Steve Jones.

Senators Hill, Padden, Fraser, Hewitt, Conway, Braun, Hobbs, Hargrove and Parlette spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 8736.

The motion by Senator Hill carried and the resolution was adopted by voice vote.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mr. Steve Jones who was seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Mr. Steve Jones to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY STEVE JONES

Steve Jones: "Thank you. Thank you all for your very, very kind words. I'm not sure I recognized the person that was being described and I'm not going to say very much because I'm going to get very emotional if I do. I arrived in this building forty years ago, a young man with a sunny disposition and a full head of hair and you all have become my friends and my family and I can not imagine being luckier than finding this place and finding a niche that I think I fit into. So I'm very, very honored. It's been a fascinating forty years. Every year has been interesting issues and interesting people and I thank you all very, very much. I'm very touched by your very kind words. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rolfes: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well we don't have a resolution today to honor Senator Karen Fraser because she's running for higher office and that wouldn't be quite right, so we will honor her formally hopefully in January with a resolution honoring her great service to the people of the state of Washington. But as we were honoring Senator Benton and Steve Jones today, it also seems appropriate to pay a little bit of tribute to Karen Fraser who has been in the senate for, I want to say, twenty-two years? Twenty-four years! She was first elected in 1989 and she's been representing the Twenty-second District for twenty-seven years, including the House and the Senate. I know that some of my colleagues are going to want to say something about her as well, but something I would like to say, a couple of things I would like to say, first is, you cannot know a more gracious and kind person than Senator Fraser. And as we look around at colleagues and think about the traditional politician, Karen Fraser is not that person. Karen Fraser approaches everything that I've seen her do in the state Senate, with integrity, and kindness, and passion. And Karen didn't know this, but I sent my intern into her office earlier this session to interview her, to get some important facts and illicit from Karen what she thought was most important in her service to the people of her district. And what she said was her greatest achievement was serving the people of her district to the greatest of her ability for her entire career. She didn't talk about a building or a park or a certain piece of legislation, she talked about the people that she's worked for and, to me Mr. President that is one of the greatest illustrations of public service that we can have. The second thing I want to say about Karen Fraser, and then I'll let others speak, is that we know Karen as a great person and a great woman, what we don't all know about Karen is her athletic achievement. Nobody talks about this, we often don't know what each other do out of session. She's summited four of Washington's major peaks. She's hiked and backpacked throughout the Olympics and the Cascades, she's won numerous awards for racing her sailboat around Puget Sound, and she's completed the Capitol City Marathon twice. This is Senator Fraser. And then the last thing that I want to say, and Senator it's actually very personal, is that we served with you when you lost your husband. And he was a wonderful man with his own incredible life experiences and you were always a great wife, and you continue to be a great mother and grandmother, and a great state senator. And it has been my honor to serve with you and to know you and I think people know that she's running for another office, but she's also retiring from this position which is why we wanted to honor her today as well."

FIFTY NINTH DAY, MARCH 9, 2016

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you, Mr. President. Also speaking with the pending retirement from the Senate of Senator Fraser. Twenty-four years ago when she came to the Senate, I was a newbie in the House. One of the tasks I was assigned to was the Hyogo Friendship Committee with Senator Fraser and we met regularly. One of the things that led to was my daughter taking the trip there. So we go over to the Temple of Justice and there is a cedar tree from Japan that grows sort of odd. That tree was planted by the kids that Senator Fraser put together this program to go. It wouldn't fit hardly in this chamber now, but it was sort of a sickly thing when they planted it there with the kids over twenty years ago. Also, I have fun memories, I don't know if it's fun to Senator Fraser, but in the nineties she chaired the Environment Committee. They worked on a lot of water bills. And the three people that I would see going through those meetings in the wee hours of the morning as session wound down were Senator Fraser, former Representative Gary Chandler, and former Representative Kelli Linville. And I think that had to be one of the ultimate bonding experiences, trying to agree on water policy. They all served this state admirably and Senator Fraser's long record of public service in Thurston County speaks for itself."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Nelson: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well we know Senator Fraser has a strong background in natural resources, water, capital budget, she's had so many accomplishments in serving the Senate. But in our caucus, she's the heart of the caucus. She's the one that calms the waters. She's the one who thinks about the we not the me. She's the one who helps our caucus through tough times. In the last four years, she has served as our caucus chair. And Senator Fraser you know I will miss you, but you will be missed by all of us, because our heart will be leaving."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you, Mr. President. Actually this is a shock to me. For some reason I was thinking that you were in the next cycle and that if you didn't win your election you would be right back here again, so I'm a little bit shocked over this. But Senator I want to tell you that you have been probably been my best friend on that side of the aisle. We've shared committees together, spent a lot of time together. You've been to Walla Walla and attended the rodeo and it was kind of fun because I had to explain to her what happens in a rodeo, because you'd never been to a rodeo before. You have been a wonderful person to work with. I wasn't prepared for this, but I just want to tell you how much I admire you and how fun you were to work with on the budget together for a few years, and you've always been there for me as a friend and I'm just kind of shocked. Anyway, thank you Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCoy: "I haven't known Karen as long as some of you, since about '96 was when I first met her when I lobbied this place for Tulalip Tribes. And naturally what I talked to her about was water and so over the years we've talked a lot about water, done a lot of work on water. And we're on a regional committee together, and I chose not to make a trip this one time, but I get a call, it was about eight or nine o'clock at night, and it was Karen, and all she said was, 'John, I need your help. Get here fast.' And I said, 'Where are you?' She was in Bozeman, Montana, at the hotel, and I said, 'Okay I'll be there on the first plane.' All she had to do was ask. Got on a plane and went over and we took care of the issue that was coming to a head. But on other things, when we went on some national trips and she would always bring Tim with her and we would have dinner and that was a great conversation, Tim, Karen, and me. I'm going to miss her, it's just like in the TVW skit, she is Wonder Woman. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pearson: "Thank you, Mr. President. A number of years ago when Senator Warnick and I, we served in the other chamber with the negotiators on the capital budget, we had the privilege of working with Senator Fraser. And that was my first experience working with Senator Fraser, and I thought a very gracious person to work with and had very good ideas. This year I had the privilege, in our Natural Resources & Parks Committee, Senator Fraser came over to our committee and I was really impressed with the knowledge that she had about our state natural resources and I wanted to thank you. Just a wonderful member and, like Senator Hewitt, I didn't know you were going to be leaving or our last meeting we would have properly honored you in committee, but you are a person worth honoring and thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "Thank you, Mr. President. So when I came in as a freshman here eight years ago, I was vice chair and then chair of Natural Resources. Karen, Jake, and some others, Morton, Bob Morton, who was an incredible mentor. There was a group of folks on that committee that knew those issues inside and out, and had been working those issues for so long, and the lessons I learned, from you Karen, were incredible. Lessons that helped me be a better senator, and not just on those issues but on just dealing with the emotions and the craziness around here. A few years back, we were traveling together for a PNWER trip and something very tragic happened and I got to know another side of you. A very deep and personal side of you, and I will never forget. Senator Fraser and I ended up being in a situation where we began a walk at one a.m., out in the middle of nowhere, and finished that walk around three thirty in the morning. Through very dark streets, at one point we thought we saw a bear or something. It was remarkable, but the conversation we had that night I will never forget, just about life, who we are, and what matters, what really matters. And what matters, ladies and gentleman, is that we care about one another, that we treat each other with respect, and that's something I've learned from you time and time again, Karen. You're an incredibly gracious person and your service to this state has been remarkable."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Thank you, Mr. President and members of the Senate. Well most of you don't know, I think Senator Fraser and I didn't know until a number of years ago, that we had been walking side by side. We've actually been walking side by side on different sides of the fence for a number of years. Senator Fraser and I were both part of a Women's History Consortium and so I know that we were both in Ellensburg for the IWY, the International Women's Year, I think that was 1977. The issues of the day, you had Phyllis Schafly on the right, you had Bella Abzug, you had Gloria Steinem on the left, the issues were really abortion rights or pro-life. That's where you were. You chose a side on that. Over here equal rights amendment or not, certainly you'd have to agree, someone like me at the time, I was not in favor of the equal rights amendment, but I do want equal rights, you can bet I would be fighting for that. We convened in the gymnasium in Ellensburg and had this IWY conference and delegates were elected, they went to Houston under Jimmy Carter's plan, the International Women's Year, and I went to Houston as a reporter actually, I wasn't a delegate. When we came back from Houston there was a state women's council that Dixie Ray had assembled. There was one conservative, her name was, it was pretty much liberal women, and there was a referendum filed to get rid of the women's council, and Dixie Lee Ray wanted to make it a commission actually, elevate it. So we had Referendum Forty in the state of Washington. I was part of that effort, and I think Senator Fraser was looking for a yes vote, to get rid of the council you needed to vote against. We worked to get it on the ballot and then to get a no vote. That's how the referendum worked. And surprisingly seventy-two percent of the people, including women, voted to get rid of the women's council and commission. Dixie Lee Ray had said on her radio, I was driving my car going to Seattle, said that this, regardless of the outcome of Referendum Forty, the State Women's Council will become a commission, and of course that didn't happen. These were interesting times. This is where two of your senators got their start, and the wonderful thing about this is even though we disagreed about some things, and we still do, even though we did that, we actually have kept the commitment. We haven't left the fight. We're here. I'm here to support the things I believe in. She's here to support the things she believes in, and God bless the differences, and God bless America that we can do that, you know. So I think it's one of these things that I just wanted to share with you, I don't share that history very long. I've been doing this since my early twenties, and I'm sure Senator Fraser's done the same thing and now as we begin to part we have enjoyed many, many years, a couple decades of serving together in the Washington State Senate and thank you for your friendship and for that time."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: "You know, I know one group that will really miss Senator Karen Fraser and that is the state employees of Thurston County. If there's been one group she has represented about as well as anyone could, it's been Senator Fraser and I saw that when I came on Ways & Means and I watched her in action. I see that every day when the state employees turn to one person on this floor to talk to about their issues, and it's always been Senator Fraser. I can't possibly tell you how important that has been and it will be very hard to replace her in that role. I knew Senator Fraser in the House because I was on the old Committee on Pension Policy, not the select committee that we call today, but the previous committee. And Karen is part of a generation, Helen Sommers and others. Jeanine Long, who really decided that we had to ensure that this pension system, this thing, would be solvent and work for its employees. Karen served on that committee when I first came on and you should know that she was with me on the hiring committee. I see someone up in the audience who hired our great actuary Matt Smith. She was on that hiring committee with me when we made that decision and I think we all recognize how critically important it was to put the right person in charge of that pension system. So, Karen, I know you had a lot of experience in local government because when we served on state government today, she knew local government issues. Because prior to coming here, she was involved in local government here. I consider her Thurston County. If ever there is a person who represents this county in my mind, it's Senator Fraser and thank you Karen for all your service."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well I have really enjoyed, as caucus chair, working with Senator Fraser. This is my tenth year in a row of being caucus chair, as most of you know, that's not really an easy job. My first four years I got to work with Senator Spanel, the next two years was Senator Ed Murray if you could believe it, and after he got done with that he said I hate this job. I don't even know how I got into it, so that was interesting. But Senator Fraser, she likes what she's doing, she's so good at that. Part of the job as caucus chair, you do the Facilities & Operations Committee, takes a little bit of extra time, but she's extremely easy to work with, always looking for the bright side on trying to find a solution. So, Karen I wish you well on whatever the next adventure is, and I have truly enjoyed working with you, thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: "Thank you, Mr. President. After just watching the TVW show about Batman, I was a little afraid right there, I'm rising to a point of personal privilege. Thank you Mr. President and members of the Senate. I stand today with a little bit of a heavy heart. I have come out of twelve years in the House, and during that time came to know Senator Fraser. She was one of my touchpoints, and is one of my touchpoints, as a fellow Episcopalian, we call ourselves the Frozen Chosen, but she's anything but that. She's so gracious and kind and open to sharing and sort of exalting all of your benefits, all of your points, that you can grow into as a member. I think all of us have learned from her about that gracious gift that she brings of trying to help us. I have often viewed her, that Episcopalian, she also represents that epicenter of our state government, and have just marveled at her over the years. I've watched her really be a force for state employees. And charging us with the task of really understanding all the sacrifices they make to make sure that state government moves efficiently and appropriately. And I want to just say that I have always admired her as a leader on women's rights. She has, while I was in the House, she's risen up on bills that I had, put together a Senate package as well, and so we worked together on women's health issues many, many times. And on violence against women issues, and on issues relating to improving the status of women in our state. She's just been so tireless in those ways and I think that women across our state really owe her a debt of gratitude for raising up issues about equity and fairness and equality and health and stopping violence. I think she's just a wealth of knowledge and her commitment to causes relating to children, causes relating to the poor, were always a real lesson for me. And I want to just end with one example of her gracious demeanor and her kindness, many of you may have known that I served on the Ways & Means Committee, and in fact as vice chair of the Ways & Means Committee in the House for many, many years, eight years total. And I came over here pining, pining to be on the Ways & Means Committee before all of my institutional knowledge went away. So every year when there's been an opening on the committee I've tried to scramble for that opening. This year, Senator Fraser actually stepped aside from her long held position as a member of the Ways & Means Committee, to allow me the opportunity to serve. I've never seen anything like that in my first fifteen years here and I just thought that was an amazing gift and an amazing example of the many gifts she's given to people in this room and people in this body. Those that have come, those that have gone, they have always respected Karen Fraser. And I'm going to miss her a whole lot, thank you."

2016 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Jayapal: "Thank you, Mr. President. I came into this body as a newbie last year. I hadn't had any experience in the House. I had no idea what I was doing here. I still sometimes wonder exactly what I'm supposed to be doing, and I was assigned to Senator Fraser as my sort of mentor and guide as the caucus chair. And she has led me with tremendous grace and kindness and knowledge. Sat down with me right when I came in. I actually remember walking through. You showed me the chamber. You showed me the gallery. I looked here I looked at my desk, just filled with the awe and wonder that comes with being a member of this body in this chamber. And she told me she had seated me around people that had a lot of knowledge so that if I had any questions I had Jeanne Kohl-Welles on this side, I had David Frocht here, and I had Karen Keiser right here. And between the three of them they would show me exactly what needed to happen. But she also had several lunches with me and talked me through. Any time I had a question I was able to go to Senator Fraser. And of course because I was made ranking on Accountability & Reform and had never been a ranking member before, she was right there with me to guide me and it was amazing to watch her knowledge on that committee and now on Natural Resources where I'm proud to serve as the ranking member, to see the incredible amounts of knowledge you have Senator Fraser, on so many things around local government around Natural Resources, around Accountability & Reform. I think you give Senator Miloscia a real run for his money every time he brings up Baldrige. You are there to explain exactly why that is not the right way to go forward, and it's been such a pleasure to watch. I wanted to mention two things; one, that I was deeply grateful for Senator Fraser for referring me to the Japanese Consulate to go on a trip to Japan as one of ten Asian-Pacific Islander leaders from across the country, and that was really because of your advocacy of me. And the other is that my legislative assistant, Yasmin Christopher, who has a very deep, personal story of being trafficked herself with her family, and was at an event with you, I don't know if I've ever even had this conversation with you, and she came back after that event and she said, Senator Fraser is one of the most amazing women I've met. She sat and talked to me in the middle of this big room. We had this long conversation about trafficking and domestic violence and sexual assault and all the things that she has been working on. She said it was so wonderful that a senator of her rank and stature would take that kind of time with me. So Karen, I just want to say, from me personally, thank you for your qualities. I call them the three K's except one of them starts with a C but it sounds like a K - kindness, you have it in deep tremendous, bountiful amounts; knowledge, you have that in deep tremendous, bountiful amounts; and commitment, we'll pretend it's a K, deep commitment to the people of your district, to the people of the state of Washington, and to all of us who have the honor of serving with you in caucus. Thank you so much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you, Mr. President. It's always sad when someone who has been here longer than you leaves, because there's that institutional knowledge and all the things that, we always go back to the people who have been here a little longer. Just the other day I asked who was that who represented that particular district at that particular time. But I first met Senator Fraser in 1990 when I was running for the House of Representatives, and the Thirty-fifth District had a small sliver at that time in Thurston County. So to run for office in Thurston County as a Democrat, the first requirement is, as a rookie, you have to work in the burger wagon at Lakefair. I did and I chopped onions all afternoon, and when I came home my wife said, 'What have you been doing? That doesn't smell real good.' One thing about the Senator, is I don't think I've ever seen her angry. You know we all get angry at this process, but I don't think Senator Fraser gets angry. She is so even tempered. I remember in the House, there were some people talked about the House days, there was a lot of strong women in the House when I first started. I think back about Maria Cantwell or Mary Margaret Haugen was a very strong, committed person, Jennifer Belcher, Harriet Spanel, Karen Fraser, but Karen brought as well a great knowledge of local government. She had been the mayor of Lacey, a Thurston County Commissioner for, I think, two terms, so that commitment to local government gave her so much knowledge here that she helped many of those small cities, not small anymore Lacey, but many of the small cities and counties to help the legislators help their problems. And I think that was a great gift and we'll miss that ability that you brought to do that. And also last thing to mention Mr. President, everyone knows how committed Senator Fraser is to the environment, but this is a very outdoors woman who spends a lot of time in my county, and probably yours too, hiking, enjoying the Olympics, out on the water. I spent a great afternoon with her, she and her husband one time, on a tugboat out in Budd Bay. But she has been up many of those peaks, and knows the Olympics very, very well. So we'll certainly miss you but I know you won't stop visiting those places and we appreciate you very, very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: “I will just make a brief observation, Mr. President. Like Senator Jayapal, I’m new and haven’t had the many, many years to get to know Senator Fraser that my colleagues have, but I’ve learned in this place, that the best way to judge the disposition and the work of any member in the legislature, is how they treat the people around them. And I think it is a testament to Senator Fraser that she has had the same Legislative Assistant for over twenty-seven years, and I think that is a testament to the kindness that she has and also to the amazing work that Brenda does for our caucus. So while our leader talked about losing the heart of the caucus, we’re also losing the mom of the caucus in Brenda who takes care of us and who takes care of all our needs, not just Karen’s needs, but all of our needs. And we will miss them both greatly and I think Brenda’s dedication reminds us all how wonderful Karen is and what a wonderful person she has been for all these twenty-seven years, and we thank and appreciate both of you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: “Well, as far as Karen Fraser goes, you know, fair, sweet, gentle, blah, blah, blah, blah, everybody knows that stuff. But she is as tough as nails. In 2013 when we did a bipartisan budget slash back and forth. Maybe. Maybe not. I think the governor had her down three times to try to get her to not vote for the budget that we had worked on, and she didn’t break. She knew that we had demanded that the CBA’s be funded. They were funded. She was very strong for state employees, she wanted to make a statement there. She knew all the circumstances around the things we requested. The things we got in the budget, that I had been working on with Senator Nelson, who by the way, was very tough at that point in time, and still is. Freudian slip there. But you know you can’t imagine the pressure at that point in time. The House was having a huge press conference with all the Democrats saying that this is a terrible idea, and she knew exactly what we had built and she has the character to have the toughness to stand with me in a very, very tough and difficult time. And, you know, it’s easy to be friendly and nice and support people when it’s easy, but when it’s really hard, and she still did it. I knew that you have a toughness that I had never seen before in that way, and I just wanted to appreciate that. I also wanted to say a word about Brenda. She’s had needles and thread to sew me up when I’ve been falling apart. She’s had things to get the balls off my coat when they look bad. She’s got stains out of my shirt. I think, I’m trying to think what other parts of my wardrobe you’ve helped work on, Band-Aids, all sorts of things. She’s really helped. Really is the mom who helps take care of all of us around here. Senator Fraser, the wisdom you had in picking her, I think was also excellent. But I just wanted to mention that one point about how tough Senator Karen Fraser is. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: “Well you know I kind of wish we did run a resolution of some kind. I’ve known Karen for ten years, since I first got in here, and I’m really excited I’m going to get to know her more after session. Really excited about that. But one thing I do want to mention, is that she is the example of what public service is. The fact that you went to the Evans School, my alum, your alum, I believe Senator Rolfes went there as well, and after that I believe you were on the city council, worked for the county, and now for the state. And you’ve always been there for the state employees, one hundred percent protecting them, the hard working men and women that run our state. I’m also just impressed with you, the fact that your kindness, even though we may not always agree, and there are certain times that we have disagreed on things, you’ve never said ill will or said anything hateful. I like the fact that, since I’ve been in here, before ten years I don’t know who you were, but I understand you never threw a bomb where you were gavelled down at any time. It’s always nice to see that sometimes. I also want to thank you too. You may not realize this, but you were the capital chair at one point, when I came in here on Ways & Means, and you really helped my constituents out. I really needed for the city of Lake Stevens, a senior center. It was run down. It was leaking. Water was everywhere, and we just couldn’t have the funds to help these senior citizens have a place to meet and have some fellowship, and you were there for me trying to push that, and we got that, and I thank you. And your leadership as our caucus chair, always listening to us gripe and complain. Appreciate that as well. And we had a great time going to Japan on that trade mission, a wonderful, wonderful time. And you’re definitely a wonder woman, and thank you for everything.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: “One of the things I’ve found is we get mixed up. Can you believe it? Some people think I’m Senator Fraser, and some people think she’s Senator Keiser. Sometimes I get her mail. Sometimes she gets my mail. I’ve really enjoyed impersonating Senator Fraser because everybody loves Senator Fraser. So it’s a great and wonderful honor to be able to have this sort of doppelganger effect with Senator Fraser as we go out and about to our meetings and to our many, many events. Sometimes, during campaign seasons, we’ve even gotten each other’s checks! It’s the strangest phenomenon and I’m going to miss it terribly. Senator Fraser you have been kind and helpful to me ever since I came to the Senate and you’ve been a mentor to me. I will miss you and one of these days on TVW we’re going to perform that song, Sisters, sisters. Thank you, Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: “Well first of all this is totally unexpected. Thank you all for your wonderful feedback on my efforts here over the years. I feel very connected with each of you. I really believe in the democratic process and I appreciate everybody here who works so hard to represent your districts and your philosophies and your people, and that’s what makes our legislature great. And I feel so honored and privileged to know each of you and be able to call each of you a friend. And some of you I’ve had more strenuous relationships than others, some of the budget issues and water issues and state employee issues certainly have been part of the strenuous life. And actually I was thinking about how my high school was named after President Roosevelt and the slogan we all grew up with there was: ‘I believe in the strenuous life.’ And we certainly do have one here and it is most stimulating. Now, Senator Rolfes has left the floor. Oh there she is, but there’s a reason she’s our leader on the floor, she’s so strategic. I had no idea that her intern was interviewing me for anything other than an educational project. But it really has been an honor and privilege to represent the people of the Twenty-second District over the years, and yes that has been my highest priority to represent my constituents, but also to look out for people all over the state. And one thing I’ve particularly appreciated about representing the state capitol area, is because there’s so many state employees in my district, and statewide organizations, that people want me to look out for the whole state. And so I’ve felt extra privileged that way, and so I think it’s probably getting close to time for dinner and a few other bills, but I feel very connected with the caucus. I'm still having a hard time realizing that I'm leaving and this is the last of this and the last of that, so I do spend a lot of time in caucus completely focusing on what everyone is saying and doing so that will be a change. There's so much I could say. I've appreciated working with Senator Parlette, cooperating well on our inter-caucus relationships. Since I have just a couple of minutes here I wanted to say thank you to all the staff of the Senate, who are fabulous people and I refer to others about them as the brain trust of the Senate who help us do our good work. And so I've appreciated so many relationships and they are going to continue. And I thank all of you for your kind and generous comments, and I look forward to getting back to each of you, but the day is going along, so we probably need to go along. But before I sit down, I do want to say a special thank you to my special, long-time Executive Assistant Brenda Fitzsimmons who is here. Maybe you could come out and smile. We've been together twenty-eight years, so that's a generation. So thank you so much for your fabulous support. And Michelle Burkheimer also works in our office. So thank you for all that you have done for me and for other members of the Senate here. And I see other Senate staff here from committee services and caucus staff and security and rostrum staff, and you, Mr. President, have always been exceptionally gracious in how, in our relationship and with the entire Senate, and we're kind of going out together here. So thank you very much and I look forward to visiting more. Thank you."

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2928, by Representatives Kretz, Blake, Schmick, Dunshee, Short, Haler, Stanford and Chandler

Ensuring that restrictions on outdoor burning for air quality reasons do not impede measures necessary to ensure forest resiliency to catastrophic fires.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Warnick moved that the following striking amendment no. 740 by Senators Warnick, Pearson and Ranker be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The department of natural resources shall conduct a forest resiliency burning pilot project. The goal of the pilot project is to monitor and evaluate the benefits of forest resiliency burning and the impacts on ambient air quality. The department of natural resources is responsible for establishing the processes and procedures necessary to administer the pilot project, including the review and approval of qualifying forest resiliency burning proposals. The department of natural resources may consider forest resiliency burning proposals that include treatments to reduce fuel loads prior to burning, including the thinning of forest stands and grazing to clear brush.

(2)(a) The department of natural resources must, as the primary focus of the pilot project, arrange with interested third parties to perform forest resiliency burning on land prone to forest or wildland fires in coordination with the following forest health collaboratives as recognized by the United States forest service:

- (i) North Central Washington forest health collaborative;
- (ii) Northeast Washington forestry collaborative; and
- (iii) Tapash sustainable forest collaborative.

(b) The department of natural resources must also coordinate with at least one organized group of public agencies and interested stakeholders whose purpose is to protect, conserve, and expand the safe and responsible use of prescribed fire on the Washington landscape.

(3)(a) The department of natural resources must, as part of the pilot project, approve single day or multiple day forest resiliency burns if the burning is unlikely to significantly contribute to an exceedance of air quality standards established by chapter 70.94 RCW. Once approved, forest resiliency burns spanning multiple days may only be revoked or postponed midway through the duration of the approved burn if necessary for the safety of adjacent property or upon a determination by the department of natural resources or the department of ecology that the burn has significantly contributed to an exceedance of air quality standards under chapter 70.94 RCW.

(b) The department of natural resources must approve burns at least twenty-four hours prior to ignition of the fire.

(4) Forest resiliency burning, when conducted under the pilot project authorized by this section, is not subject to the outdoor burning restrictions in RCW 70.94.6512(2) and 70.94.6514.

(5) The implementation of the pilot project authorized in this section is not:

(a) Intended to require the department of natural resources to update the smoke management plan defined in RCW 70.94.6536. However, information obtained through the pilot project's implementation may be used to inform any future updates to the smoke management plan; and

(b) Subject to the provisions of chapter 43.21C RCW.

(6) Forest resiliency burning, and the implementation of the pilot project authorized in this section, must not be conducted at a scale that would require a revision to the state implementation plan under the federal clean air act.

(7) The department of natural resources shall submit a report to the legislature, consistent with RCW 43.01.036, by December 1, 2018. The report must include information and analyses regarding the following elements:

(a) The amount of forest resiliency burns proposed, approved, and conducted;

(b) The quantity and severity of air quality exceedances by pollutant type;

(c) A comparative analysis between the predicted smoke conditions and the actual smoke conditions observed on location by qualified meteorological personnel or trained prescribed burning professionals during the forest resiliency burn; and

(d) Recommendations relating to continuing or expanding forest resiliency burning and creating forest resiliency burning as a new type of outdoor burning permitted by the department of natural resources.

(8) The report to the legislature required by this section may include recommendations for the updating of the smoke management plan defined in RCW 70.94.6536.

(9) For the purposes of this section, "forest resiliency burning" means silvicultural burning carried out under the supervision of qualified silvicultural, ecological, or fire management professionals and used to improve fire dependent ecosystems, mitigate wildfire potential, decrease forest susceptibility to forest insect or disease as defined in RCW 76.06.020, or otherwise enhance forest resiliency to fire.

(10) This section expires July 1, 2019.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Padden moved that the following striking amendment no. 752 by Senators Padden and Pedersen be adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes the invaluable contributions of law enforcement officers, who risk their own lives every day to protect our families and communities. We hold law enforcement to a high standard in their positions of public trust and as the guardians in our communities, and the legislature applauds their efforts to show respect and compassion to all citizens while holding individuals accountable for their criminal activity.

The legislature acknowledges that officers are often placed in harm's way and must make decisions quickly while under extreme stress. Although regrettable in every case, the use of deadly force may sometimes be necessary to protect the safety of others. The legislature also recognizes that both the people of this state and law enforcement officers themselves rely on and expect accountability, the failure of which damages the public trust in those who serve the public honorably and with compassion.

It is the intent of the legislature to improve our law in a manner that provides clear guidance to law enforcement, respects and supports the role of law enforcement to maintain public safety, and fosters accountability and public trust.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A joint legislative task force on the use of deadly force in community policing is established.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House refuses to concur in the Senate amendment(s) to SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2449 and asks the Senate to recede therefrom.

BARBARA BAKER, Chief Clerk

MOTION

Senator O'Ban moved that the Senate recede from its position on the Senate amendments to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2449.

Senator O'Ban spoke in favor of the motion.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be motion by Senator O'Ban that the Senate recede from its position on the Senate amendments to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2449.

The motion by Senator O'Ban carried and the Senate receded from its amendments to Second Substitute House Bill No. 2449.

MOTION

On motion of Senator O'Ban, the rules were suspended and Second Substitute House Bill No. 2449 was returned to second reading for the purposes of amendment.

SECOND READING

SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2449, by House Committee on Appropriations (originally sponsored by Representatives Orwall, Magendanz, Kagi, Santos, Senn, Peterson, Appleton, Moscoso, Goodman, Jinkins, Walkinshaw, Stanford, Clibborn, Sells, Fitzgibbon, Kilduff, Ryu, Bergquist, Pollet and S. Hunt)

Providing court-based and school-based intervention and prevention efforts to promote attendance and reduce truancy.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following striking amendment no. 750 by Senators Hargrove, Darneille and O'Ban be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes that all children and youth in Washington state are entitled to a basic education and to an equal opportunity to learn. The legislature recognizes that poor school attendance can have far-reaching effects on academic performance and achievement, development of social skills and school engagement, dropout rates, and even college completion rates, and that these effects occur regardless of whether excessive absenteeism is considered excused or unexcused or the specific reason or reasons for the absences. The legislature recognizes that there are many causes of truancy and that truancy is an indicator of future school dropout and delinquent behavior. The legislature recognizes that early engagement of parents in the education process is an important measure in preventing truancy. It is the intent of the legislature to encourage the systematic identification of truant behavior as early as possible and to encourage the use of best practices and evidence-based interventions to reduce truant behavior in every school in Washington state. The legislature intends that schools, parents, juvenile courts, and communities share resources within and across school districts where possible to enhance the availability of best practices and evidence-based intervention for truant children and youth.

By taking a four-pronged approach and providing additional tools to schools, courts, communities, and families, the legislature hopes to reduce excessive absenteeism, strengthen families, engage communities and families with schools, promote academic achievement, reduce educational opportunity gaps, reduce juvenile delinquency, address juveniles' emotional, mental health, and chemical dependency needs, and increase high school graduation rates.

First, with respect to absenteeism in general, the legislature intends to put in place consistent practices and procedures, beginning in kindergarten, pursuant to which schools share information with families about the importance of consistent attendance and the consequences of excessive absences, involve families early, and provide families with information, services, and tools that they may access to improve and maintain their children's school attendance.

Second, the legislature recognizes the success that has been had by school districts and county juvenile courts around the state that have worked in tandem with one another to establish truancy boards capable of prevention and intervention and that regularly stay truancy petitions in order to first allow these boards to identify barriers to school attendance, cooperatively solve problems, and connect students and their families with needed community-based services. While keeping petition filing requirements in place, the legislature intends to require an initial stay of truancy petitions in order to allow for appropriate intervention and prevention before using a court order to enforce attendance laws. The legislature also intends to encourage efforts by county juvenile courts and school districts to establish and maintain community truancy boards and to employ other best practices, including the provision of training for board members and other school and court personnel on trauma-informed approaches to discipline, the use of the Washington assessment of the risks and needs of students (WARNS) or other assessment tools to identify the specific needs of individual children, and the provision of evidence-based treatments that have been found to be effective in supporting at-risk youth and their families.

Third, the legislature recognizes that there are instances in which barriers to school attendance that have led to truancy may be best addressed by juvenile courts, which may refer truant students to a crisis residential center or HOPE center for the provision of services. The legislature further recognizes that even when a truant student is found in contempt of a court order to attend school, it is best practice that the truant student not be placed in juvenile detention but, where feasible and available, instead be placed in a secure crisis residential center. The legislature intends to increase the number of beds in HOPE centers and crisis residential centers in order to facilitate their use for truant students.

Fourth, the legislature recognizes that some problematic behaviors that are predictive of truancy and delinquency may be best addressed by appropriate screenings and, where appropriate, temporary provision of home services. The legislature intends to strengthen the juvenile court's ability to seek a chemical dependency or mental health assessment for a child subject to a truancy petition, if the court finds that such an assessment might help to reengage a child in school. The legislature further finds that where family conflict exists or a juvenile's health or safety is in jeopardy due to circumstances in the child's home, referral to a crisis residential center might be appropriate to help achieve family reconciliation.

Sec. 2. RCW 28A.225.005 and 2009 c 556 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each school within a school district shall inform the students and the parents of the students enrolled in the school about: The benefits of regular school attendance; the potential effects of excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, on academic achievement, and graduation and dropout rates; the school's expectations of the parents and guardians to ensure regular school attendance by the child; the resources available to assist the child and the parents and guardians; the role and responsibilities of the school; and the consequences of truancy, including the compulsory education requirements under this chapter. The school shall provide access to the information ((at least annually.)) before or at the time of enrollment of the child at a new school and at the beginning of each school year. If the school regularly and ordinarily communicates most other information to parents online, providing online access to the information required by this section satisfies the requirements of this section unless a parent or guardian specifically requests information to be provided in written form. Reasonable efforts must be made to enable parents to request and receive the information in a language in which they are fluent. A parent must date and acknowledge review of this information online or in writing before or at the time of enrollment of the child at a new school and at the beginning of each school year.

(2) The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall develop a template that schools may use to satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) of this section and shall post the information on its web site.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 28A.225 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, in the event that a child in elementary school is required to attend school under RCW 28A.225.010 or 28A.225.015(1) and has five or more excused absences in a single month during the current school year, or ten or more excused absences in the current school year, the school district shall schedule a conference or conferences with the parent and child at a time reasonably convenient for all persons included for the purpose of identifying the barriers to the child's regular attendance, and the supports and resources that may be made available to the family so that the child is able to regularly attend school. If a regularly scheduled parent-teacher conference day is to take place within thirty days of the absences, the school district may schedule this conference on that day. To satisfy the requirements of this section, the conference must include at least one school district employee such as a nurse, counselor, social worker, teacher, or community human services provider, except in those instances regarding the attendance of a child who has an individualized education program or a plan developed under section 504 of the rehabilitation act of 1973, in which case the reconvening of the team that created the program or plan is required.

(2) A conference pursuant to subsection (1) of this section is not required in the event of excused absences for which prior notice has been given to the school or a doctor's note has been provided and an academic plan is put in place so that the child does not fall behind.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.225.020 and 2009 c 266 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a child required to attend school under RCW 28A.225.010 fails to attend school without valid justification, the public school in which the child is enrolled shall:

(a) Inform the child's ((custodial)) parent((, parents, or guardian)) by a notice in writing or by telephone whenever the child has failed to attend school after one unexcused absence within any month during the current school year. School officials shall inform the parent of the potential consequences of additional unexcused absences. If the ((custodial)) parent((, parents, or guardian)) is not fluent in English, the ((preferred practice is to)) school must make reasonable efforts to provide this information in a language in which the ((custodial)) parent((, parents, or guardian)) is fluent;

(b) Schedule a conference or conferences with the ((custodial)) parent((, parents, or guardian)) and child at a time reasonably convenient for all persons included for the purpose of analyzing the causes of the child's absences after two unexcused absences within any month during the current school year. If a regularly scheduled parent-teacher conference day is to take place within thirty days of the second unexcused absence, then the school district may schedule this conference on that day; and

(c) Take data-informed steps to eliminate or reduce the child's absences. These steps shall include application of the Washington assessment of the risks and needs of students (WARNS) by a school district's designee under section 6 of this act, and where appropriate, providing an available approved best practice or research-based intervention, or both, consistent with the WARNS profile, adjusting the child's school program or school or course assignment, providing more individualized or remedial instruction, providing appropriate vocational courses or work experience, referring the child to a community truancy board, ((if available,)) requiring the child to attend an alternative school or program, or assisting the parent or child to obtain supplementary services that might eliminate or ameliorate the cause or causes for the absence from school. If the child's parent does not attend the scheduled conference, the conference may be conducted with the student and school official. However, the parent shall be notified of the steps to be taken to eliminate or reduce the child's absence.

(2) For purposes of this chapter, an "unexcused absence" means that a child:

(a) Has failed to attend the majority of hours or periods in an average school day or has failed to comply with a more restrictive school district policy; and

(b) Has failed to meet the school district's policy for excused absences.

(3) If a child transfers from one school district to another during the school year, the receiving school or school district shall include the unexcused absences accumulated at the previous school or from the previous school district for purposes of this section, RCW 28A.225.030, and 28A.225.015. The sending school district shall provide this information to the receiving school, together with a copy of any previous assessment as required under subsection (1)(c) of this section, history of any best practices or researched-based intervention previously provided to the child by the child's sending school district, and a copy of the most recent truancy information including any online or written acknowledgment by the parent and child, as provided for in RCW 28A.225.005.

Sec. 5. RCW 28A.225.025 and 2009 c 266 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For purposes of this chapter, "community truancy board" means a board established pursuant to a memorandum of understanding between a juvenile court and a school district and composed of members of the local community in which the child attends school. ((Juvenile courts may establish and operate community truancy boards. If the juvenile court and the school district agree, a school district may establish and operate a community truancy board under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. Juvenile courts may create a community truancy board or may use other entities that exist or are created, such as diversion units. However, a diversion unit or other existing entity must agree before it is used as a truancy board.)) All members of a community truancy board must receive training regarding the identification of barriers to school attendance, the use of the Washington assessment of the risks and needs of students (WARNS) or other assessment tools to identify the specific needs of individual children, trauma-informed approaches to discipline, evidence-based treatments that have been found effective in supporting at-risk youth and their families, and the specific services and treatment available in the particular school, court, community, and elsewhere. Duties of a community truancy board shall include, but not be limited to: Identifying barriers to school attendance, recommending methods for improving ((school)) attendance such as ((assisting the parent or the child to obtain supplementary services that might eliminate or ameliorate the causes for the absences or)) connecting students and their families with community services, culturally appropriate promising practices, and evidence-based services such as functional family therapy, multisystemic therapy, and aggression replacement training, suggesting to the school district that the child enroll in another school, an alternative education program, an education center, a skill center, a dropout prevention program, or another public or private educational program, or recommending to the juvenile court that a juvenile be referred to a HOPE center or crisis residential center.

(2) The legislature finds that utilization of community truancy boards((, or other diversion units that fulfill a similar function,)) is the preferred means of intervention when preliminary methods ((of notice and parent conferences and taking appropriate steps)) to eliminate or reduce unexcused absences as required by RCW 28A.225.020 have not been effective in securing the child's attendance at school. The legislature intends to encourage and support the development and expansion of community truancy boards ((and other diversion programs which are effective in promoting school attendance and preventing the need for more intrusive intervention by the court)). Operation of a school truancy board does not excuse a district from the obligation of filing a petition within the requirements of RCW 28A.225.015(3).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28A.225 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By the beginning of the 2017-18 school year, juvenile courts must establish, through a memorandum of understanding with each school district within their respective counties, a coordinated and collaborative approach to address truancy through the establishment of a community truancy board or, with respect to certain small districts, through other means as provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, each school district must enter into a memorandum of understanding with the juvenile court in the county in which it is located with respect to the operation of a community truancy board. A community truancy board may be operated by a juvenile court, a school district, or a collaboration between both entities, so long as the agreement is memorialized in a memorandum of understanding.

(3) A school district with fewer than two hundred students must enter into a memorandum of understanding with the juvenile court in the county in which it is located with respect to: (a) The operation of a community truancy board; or (b) addressing truancy through other coordinated means of intervention aimed at identifying barriers to school attendance, and connecting students and their families with community services, culturally appropriate promising practices, and evidence-based services such as functional family therapy, multisystemic therapy, and aggression replacement training. School districts with fewer than two hundred students may work cooperatively with other school districts or the school district's educational service district to ensure access to a community truancy board or to provide other coordinated means of intervention.

(4) All school districts must designate, and identify to the local juvenile court, a person or persons to coordinate school district efforts to address excessive absenteeism and truancy, including tasks associated with: Outreach and conferences pursuant to section 3 of this act; entering into a memorandum of understanding with the juvenile court; establishing protocols and procedures with the court; coordinating trainings; sharing evidence-based and culturally appropriate promising practices; identifying a person within every school to serve as a contact with respect to excessive absenteeism and truancy; and assisting in the recruitment of community truancy board members.

(5) As has been demonstrated by school districts and county juvenile courts around the state that have worked together and led the way with community truancy boards, success has resulted from involving the entire community and leveraging existing dollars from a variety of sources, including public and private, local and state, and court, school, and community. In emulating this coordinated and collaborative approach statewide pursuant to local memoranda of understanding, courts and school districts are encouraged to create strong community-wide partnerships and to leverage existing dollars and resources.

Sec. 7. RCW 28A.225.030 and 2012 c 157 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a child under the age of seventeen is required to attend school under RCW 28A.225.010 and if the actions taken by a school district under RCW 28A.225.020 are not successful in substantially reducing an enrolled student's absences from public school, not later than the seventh unexcused absence by a child within any month during the current school year or not later than the tenth unexcused absence during the current school year the school district shall file a petition and supporting affidavit for a civil action with the juvenile court alleging a violation of RCW 28A.225.010: (a) By the parent; (b) by the child; or (c) by the parent and the child. The petition must include a list of all interventions that have been attempted as set forth in RCW 28A.225.020, include a copy of any previous truancy assessment completed by the child's current school district, the history of approved best practices intervention or research-based intervention previously provided to the child by the child's current school district, and a copy of the most recent truancy information document signed by the parent and child, pursuant to RCW 28A.225.005. Except as provided in this subsection, no additional documents need be filed with the petition. Nothing in this subsection requires court jurisdiction to terminate when a child turns seventeen or precludes a school district from filing a petition for a child that is seventeen years of age.

(2) The district shall not later than the fifth unexcused absence in a month:

(a) Enter into an agreement with a student and parent that establishes school attendance requirements;

(b) Refer a student to a community truancy board((, if available,)) as defined in RCW 28A.225.025. The community truancy board shall enter into an agreement with the student and parent that establishes school attendance requirements and take other appropriate actions to reduce the child's absences; or

(c) File a petition under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The petition may be filed by a school district employee who is not an attorney.

(4) If the school district fails to file a petition under this section, the parent of a child with five or more unexcused absences in any month during the current school year or upon the tenth unexcused absence during the current school year may file a petition with the juvenile court alleging a violation of RCW 28A.225.010.

(5) Petitions filed under this section may be served by certified mail, return receipt requested. If such service is unsuccessful, or the return receipt is not signed by the addressee, personal service is required.

Sec. 8. RCW 28A.225.035 and 2012 c 157 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A petition for a civil action under RCW 28A.225.030 or 28A.225.015 shall consist of a written notification to the court alleging that:

(a) The child has unexcused absences as described in RCW 28A.225.030(1) during the current school year;

(b) Actions taken by the school district have not been successful in substantially reducing the child's absences from school; and

(c) Court intervention and supervision are necessary to assist the school district or parent to reduce the child's absences from school.

(2) The petition shall set forth the name, date of birth, school, address, gender, race, and ethnicity of the child and the names and addresses of the child's parents, and shall set forth ((whether)) the languages in which the child and parent are fluent ((in English)), whether there is an existing individualized education program, and the child's current academic status in school.

(3) The petition shall set forth facts that support the allegations in this section and shall generally request relief available under this chapter and provide information about what the court might order under RCW 28A.225.090.

(4)(a) When a petition is filed under RCW 28A.225.030 or 28A.225.015, ((the juvenile court shall schedule a hearing at which the court shall consider the petition, or if the court determines that a referral to an available community truancy board would substantially reduce the child's unexcused absences, the court may refer the case to a community truancy board under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court)) it shall initially be stayed by the juvenile court, and the child and the child's parent must be referred to a community truancy board or other coordinated means of intervention as set forth in the memorandum of understanding under section 6 of this act. The community truancy board must provide to the court a description of the intervention and prevention efforts to be employed to substantially reduce the child's unexcused absences, along with a timeline for completion.

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(b) If a community truancy board or other coordinated means of intervention is not in place as required by section 6 of this act, the juvenile court shall schedule a hearing at which the court shall consider the petition.

(5) ((If)) When a referral is made to a community truancy board, the truancy board must meet with the child, a parent, and the school district representative and enter into an agreement with the petitioner and respondent regarding expectations and any actions necessary to address the child's truancy within twenty days of the referral. If the petition is based on RCW 28A.225.015, the child shall not be required to attend and the agreement under this subsection shall be between the truancy board, the school district, and the child's parent. The court may permit the truancy board or truancy prevention counselor to provide continued supervision over the student, or parent if the petition is based on RCW 28A.225.015.

(6) If the community truancy board fails to reach an agreement, or the parent or student does not comply with the agreement within the timeline for completion set by the community truancy board, the community truancy board shall return the case to the juvenile court ((for a hearing)). The stay of the petition shall be lifted, and the juvenile court shall schedule a hearing at which the court shall consider the petition.

(7)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions in subsection (4)(a) of this section, a hearing shall not be required if other actions by the court would substantially reduce the child's unexcused absences. Such actions may include referral to an existing community truancy board, use of the Washington assessment of risks and needs of students (WARNS) or other assessment tools to identify the specific needs of individual children, the provision of community-based services, and the provision of evidence-based treatments that have been found to be effective in supporting at-risk youth and their families. When a juvenile court hearing is held, the court shall:

(i) Separately notify the child, the parent of the child, and the school district of the hearing. If the parent is not fluent in English, ((the preferred practice is for)) notice ((to)) should be provided in a language in which the parent is fluent as indicated on the petition pursuant to RCW 28A.225.030(1);

(ii) Notify the parent and the child of their rights to present evidence at the hearing; and

(iii) Notify the parent and the child of the options and rights available under chapter 13.32A RCW.

(b) If the child is not provided with counsel, the advisement of rights must take place in court by means of a colloquy between the court, the child if eight years old or older, and the parent.

(8)(a) The court may require the attendance of the child if eight years old or older, the parents, and the school district at any hearing on a petition filed under RCW 28A.225.030.

(b) The court may not issue a bench warrant for a child for failure to appear at a hearing on an initial truancy petition filed under RCW 28A.225.030. If there has been proper service, the court may instead enter a default order assuming jurisdiction under the terms specified in subsection (12) of this section.

(9) A school district is responsible for determining who shall represent the school district at hearings on a petition filed under RCW 28A.225.030 or 28A.225.015.

(10) The court may permit the first hearing to be held without requiring that either party be represented by legal counsel, and to be held without a guardian ad litem for the child under RCW 4.08.050. At the request of the school district, the court shall permit a school district representative who is not an attorney to represent the school district at any future hearings.

(11) If the child is in a special education program or has a diagnosed mental or emotional disorder, the court shall inquire as to what efforts the school district has made to assist the child in attending school.

(12) If the allegations in the petition are established by a preponderance of the evidence, the court shall grant the petition and enter an order assuming jurisdiction to intervene for the period of time determined by the court, after considering the facts alleged in the petition and the circumstances of the juvenile, to most likely cause the juvenile to return to and remain in school while the juvenile is subject to this chapter. In no case may the order expire before the end of the school year in which it is entered.

(13)(a) If the court assumes jurisdiction, the school district shall periodically report to the court any additional unexcused absences by the child, actions taken by the school district, and an update on the child's academic status in school at a schedule specified by the court.

(b) The first report under this subsection (13) must be received no later than three months from the date that the court assumes jurisdiction.

(14) Community truancy boards and the courts shall coordinate, to the extent possible, proceedings and actions pertaining to children who are subject to truancy petitions and at-risk youth petitions in RCW 13.32A.191 or child in need of services petitions in RCW 13.32A.140.

(15) If after a juvenile court assumes jurisdiction in one county the child relocates to another county, the juvenile court in the receiving county shall, upon the request of a school district or parent, assume jurisdiction of the petition filed in the previous county.

Sec. 9. RCW 28A.225.090 and 2009 c 266 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A court may order a child subject to a petition under RCW 28A.225.035 to do one or more of the following:

(a) Attend the child's current school, and set forth minimum attendance requirements, ((including suspensions)) which shall not consider a suspension day as an unexcused absence;

(b) If there is space available and the program can provide educational services appropriate for the child, order the child to attend another public school, an alternative education program, center, a skill center, dropout prevention program, or another public educational program;

(c) Attend a private nonsectarian school or program including an education center. Before ordering a child to attend an approved or certified private nonsectarian school or program, the court shall: (i) Consider the public and private programs available; (ii) find that placement is in the best interest of the child; and (iii) find that the private school or program is willing to accept the child and will not charge any fees in addition to those established by contract with the student's school district. If the court orders the child to enroll in a private school or program, the child's school district shall contract with the school or program to provide educational services for the child. The school district shall not be required to contract for a weekly rate that exceeds the state general apportionment dollars calculated on a weekly basis generated by the child and received by the district. A school district shall not be required to enter into a contract that is longer than the remainder of the school year. A school district shall not be required to enter into or continue a contract if the child is no longer enrolled in the district;

(d) ((Be referred to a community truancy board, if available; or (e))) Submit to ((testing for the use of controlled substances or alcohol based on a determination that such testing)) a substance abuse assessment if the court finds on the record that such assessment is appropriate to the circumstances and behavior of the child and will facilitate the child's compliance with the mandatory attendance law and, if any assessment, including a urinalysis test ordered under this subsection indicates the use of controlled substances or alcohol, order the minor to abstain from the unlawful consumption of controlled substances or alcohol and adhere to the recommendations of the ((drug)) substance abuse assessment at no expense to the school;

(e) Submit to a mental health evaluation or other diagnostic evaluation and adhere to the recommendations of the drug assessment, at no expense to the school, if the court finds on the court records that such evaluation is appropriate to the circumstances and behavior of the child, and will facilitate the child's compliance with the mandatory attendance law; or

(f) Submit to a temporary placement in a crisis residential center or a HOPE center if the court determines there is an immediate health and safety concern, or a family conflict with the need for mediation.

(2) If the child fails to comply with the court order, the court may order the child to be subject to detention, as provided in RCW 7.21.030(2)(e), or may impose alternatives to detention such as community restitution. Failure by a child to comply with an order issued under this subsection shall not be subject to detention for a period greater than that permitted pursuant to a civil contempt proceeding against a child under chapter 13.32A RCW. Detention ordered under this subsection may be for no longer than seven days. Detention ordered under this subsection shall preferably be served at a secure crisis residential center close to the child's home rather than in a juvenile detention facility. A warrant of arrest for a child under this subsection may not be served on a child inside of school during school hours in a location where other students are present.

(3) Any parent violating any of the provisions of either RCW 28A.225.010, 28A.225.015, or 28A.225.080 shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars for each day of unexcused absence from school. The court shall remit fifty percent of the fine collected under this section to the child's school district. It shall be a defense for a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 to show that he or she exercised reasonable diligence in attempting to cause a child in his or her custody to attend school or that the child's school did not perform its duties as required in RCW 28A.225.020. The court may order the parent to provide community restitution instead of imposing a fine. Any fine imposed pursuant to this section may be suspended upon the condition that a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 shall participate with the school and the child in a supervised plan for the child's attendance at school or upon condition that the parent attend a conference or conferences scheduled by a school for the purpose of analyzing the causes of a child's absence.

(4) If a child continues to be truant after entering into a court-approved order with the truancy board under RCW 28A.225.035, the juvenile court shall find the child in contempt, and the court may order the child to be subject to detention, as provided in RCW 7.21.030(2)(e), or may impose alternatives to detention such as meaningful community restitution. Failure by a child to comply with an order issued under this subsection may not subject a child to detention for a period greater than that permitted under a civil contempt proceeding against a child under chapter 13.32A RCW.

(5) Subsections (1), (2), and (4) of this section shall not apply to a six or seven year old child required to attend public school under RCW 28A.225.015.

Sec. 10. RCW 43.185C.315 and 2015 c 69 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall establish HOPE centers that provide no more than seventy-five beds across the state and may establish HOPE centers by contract, within funds appropriated by the legislature specifically for this purpose. HOPE centers shall be operated in a manner to reasonably assure that street youth placed there will not run away. Street youth may leave a HOPE center during the course of the day to attend school or other necessary appointments, but the street youth must be accompanied by an administrator or an administrator's designee. The street youth must provide the administration with specific information regarding his or her destination and expected time of return to the HOPE center. Any street youth who runs away from a HOPE center shall not be readmitted unless specifically authorized by the street youth's placement and liaison specialist, and the placement and liaison specialist shall document with specific factual findings an appropriate basis for readmitting any street youth to a HOPE center. HOPE centers are required to have the following:

((1)) (a) A license issued by the department of social and health services;

((2)) (b) A professional with a master's degree in counseling, social work, or related field and at least one year of experience working with street youth or a bachelor of arts degree in social work or a related field and five years of experience working with street youth. This professional staff person may be contractual or a part-time employee, but must be available to work with street youth in a HOPE center at a ratio of one to every fifteen youth staying in a HOPE center. This professional shall be known as a placement and liaison specialist. Preference shall be given to those professionals cross-credentialed in mental health and chemical dependency. The placement and liaison specialist shall:

((a)) (i) Conduct an assessment of the street youth that includes a determination of the street youth's legal status regarding residential placement;

((b)) (ii) Facilitate the street youth's return to his or her legally authorized residence at the earliest possible date or initiate processes to arrange legally authorized appropriate placement. Any street youth who may meet the definition of dependent child under RCW 13.34.030 must be referred to the department of social and health services. The department of social and health services shall determine whether a dependency petition should be filed under chapter 13.34 RCW. A shelter care hearing must be held within seventy-two hours to authorize out-of-home placement for any youth the department of social and health services determines is appropriate for out-of-home placement under chapter 13.34 RCW. All of the provisions of chapter 13.32A RCW must be followed for children in need of services or at-risk youth;

((c)) (iii) Interface with other relevant resources and system representatives to secure long-term residential placement and other needed services for the street youth;

((d)) (iv) Be assigned immediately to each youth and meet with the youth within eight hours of the youth receiving HOPE center services;

((e)) (v) Facilitate a physical examination of any street youth who has not seen a physician within one year prior to residence at a HOPE center and facilitate evaluation by a county-designated mental health professional, a chemical dependency specialist, or both if appropriate; and

((f)) (vi) Arrange an educational assessment to measure the street youth's competency level in reading, writing, and basic mathematics, and that will measure learning disabilities or special needs;

((3)) (c) Staff trained in development needs of street youth as determined by the department, including an administrator who is a professional with a master's degree in counseling, social work, or a related field and at least one year of experience working with street youth, or a bachelor of arts degree in social work or a related field and five years of experience working with street youth, who must work with the placement and liaison specialist to provide appropriate services on site;

((4)) (d) A data collection system that measures outcomes for the population served, and enables research and evaluation that can be used for future program development and service delivery. Data collection systems must have confidentiality rules and protocols developed by the department;

((5)) (e) Notification requirements that meet the notification requirements of chapter 13.32A RCW. The youth's arrival date and time must be logged at intake by HOPE center staff. The staff must immediately notify law enforcement and dependency caseworkers if a street youth runs away from a HOPE center. A child may be transferred to a secure facility as defined in RCW 13.32A.030 whenever the staff reasonably believes that a street youth is likely to leave the HOPE center and not return after full consideration of the factors set forth in RCW 43.185C.290(2)(a) (i) and (ii). The street youth's temporary placement in the HOPE center must be authorized by the court or the secretary of the department of social and health services if the youth is a dependent of the state under chapter 13.34 RCW or the department of social and health services is responsible for the youth under chapter 13.32A RCW, or by the youth's parent or legal custodian, until such time as the parent can retrieve the youth who is returning to home;

((6)) (f) HOPE centers must identify to the department of social and health services any street youth it serves who is not returning promptly to home. The department of social and health services then must contact the missing children's clearinghouse identified in chapter 13.60 RCW and either report the youth's location or report that the youth is the subject of a dependency action and the parent should receive notice from the department of social and health services; and ((7)) (g) Services that provide counseling and education to the street youth(, and).

((8)) (2) The department shall award contracts for the operation of HOPE center beds with the goal of facilitating the coordination of services provided for youth by such programs and those services provided by secure and semi-secure crisis residential centers.

(3) Subject to funds appropriated for this purpose, the department must incrementally increase the number of available HOPE beds by at least seventeen beds in fiscal year 2017, at least seventeen beds in fiscal year 2018, and at least seventeen beds in fiscal year 2019, such that by July 1, 2019, seventy-five HOPE beds are established and operated throughout the state as set forth in subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Subject to funds appropriated for this purpose, the beds available in HOPE centers shall be increased incrementally beyond the limit of seventy-five set forth in subsection (1) of this section. The additional capacity shall be distributed around the state based upon need and, to the extent feasible, shall be geographically situated so that HOPE beds are available across the state. In determining the need for increased numbers of HOPE beds in a particular county or counties, one of the considerations should be the volume of truancy petitions filed there.

Sec. 11. RCW 43.185C.320 and 2015 c 69 s 23 are each amended to read as follows:

To be eligible for placement in a HOPE center, a minor must be either a street youth, as that term is defined in this chapter, or a youth who, without placement in a HOPE center, will continue to participate in increasingly risky behavior, including truancy. Youth may also self-refer to a HOPE center. Payment for a HOPE center bed is not contingent upon prior approval by the department; however, approval from the department of social and health services is needed if the youth is dependent under chapter 13.34 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 43.185C RCW to read as follows:

Subject to funds appropriated for this purpose, the capacity available in crisis residential centers established pursuant to this chapter shall be increased incrementally by no fewer than ten beds per fiscal year through fiscal year 2019 in order to accommodate truant students found in contempt of a court order to attend school. The additional capacity shall be distributed around the state based upon need and, to the extent feasible, shall be geographically situated to expand the use of crisis residential centers as set forth in this chapter so they are available for use by all courts for housing truant youth.

Sec. 13. RCW 28A.165.005 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 18 s 201 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This chapter is designed to: (a) Promote the use of data when developing programs to assist underachieving students and reduce disruptive behaviors in the classroom; and (b) guide school districts in providing the most effective and efficient practices when implementing supplemental instruction and services to assist underachieving students and reduce disruptive behaviors in the classroom.

(2) School districts implementing a learning assistance program shall focus first on addressing the needs of students:

(a) In grades kindergarten through four who are deficient in reading or reading readiness skills to improve reading literacy; and

(b) For whom a conference is required under section 3 of this act or who are the subject of a petition under RCW 28A.225.035 to increase regular school attendance and eliminate truancy.

(3) For purposes of this chapter, "disruptive behaviors in the classroom" includes excessive absenteeism and truancy.

Sec. 14. RCW 28A.165.035 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 18 s 203 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Beginning in the 2015-16 school year, expenditure of funds from the learning assistance program must be consistent with the provisions of RCW 28A.655.235.

(2) Use of best practices that have been demonstrated through research to be associated with increased student achievement magnifies the opportunities for student success. To the extent they are included as a best practice or strategy in one of the state menus or an approved alternative under this section or RCW 28A.655.235, the following are services and activities that may be supported by the learning assistance program:

(a) Extended learning time opportunities occurring:

(i) Before or after the regular school day;

(ii) On Saturday; and

(iii) Beyond the regular school year;

(b) Services under RCW 28A.320.190;

(c) Professional development for certificated and classified staff that focuses on:

(i) The needs of a diverse student population;

(ii) Specific literacy and mathematics content and instructional strategies; and

(iii) The use of student work to guide effective instruction and appropriate assistance;

(d) Consultant teachers to assist in implementing effective instructional practices by teachers serving participating students;

(e) Tutoring support for participating students;

(f) Outreach activities and support for parents of participating students, including employing parent and family engagement coordinators; ((and))

(g) Up to five percent of a district's learning assistance program allocation may be used for development of partnerships with community-based organizations, educational service districts, and other local agencies to deliver academic and nonacademic supports to participating students who are significantly at risk of not being successful in school to reduce barriers to learning, increase student engagement, and enhance students' readiness to learn. The office of the superintendent of public instruction must approve any community-based organization or local agency before learning assistance funds may be expended; and

(h) Up to two percent of a district's learning assistance program allocation may be used to fund school efforts to address excessive absenteeism and truancy as described in section 3 of this act and RCW 28A.225.025.

(3) In addition to the state menu developed under RCW 28A.655.235, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall convene a panel of experts, including the Washington state institute for public policy, to develop additional state menus of best practices and strategies for use in the learning assistance program to assist struggling students at all grade levels in English language arts and mathematics and reduce disruptive behaviors in the classroom. The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall publish the state menus by July 1, 2015, and update the state menus by each July 1st thereafter.

(4)(a) Beginning in the 2016-17 school year, except as provided in (b) of this subsection, school districts must use a practice or strategy that is on a state menu developed under subsection (3) of this section or RCW 28A.655.235.

(b) Beginning in the 2016-17 school year, school districts may use a practice or strategy that is not on a state menu developed under subsection (3) of this section for two school years initially. Subsequent annual approval by the superintendent of public instruction to use the alternative practice or strategy is dependent on the district continuing to demonstrate increased improved outcomes for participating students.

(c) Beginning in the 2016-17 school year, school districts may enter cooperative agreements with state agencies, local governments, or school districts for administrative or operational costs needed to provide services in accordance with the state menus developed under this section and RCW 28A.655.235.

(5) School districts are encouraged to implement best practices and strategies from the state menus developed under this section and RCW 28A.655.235 before the use is required.

Sec. 15. RCW 28A.655.235 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 18 s 106 are each amended to read as follows:

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (2), the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall exclude the following from the calculation of a school's percentage of tested students receiving a score of basic or below basic on the third grade statewide student assessment:

The office of the superintendent of public instruction shall publish the state menu by July 1, 2014, and update the state menu by each July 1st thereafter.

(4) School districts may use an alternative practice or strategy that is not on a state menu developed under subsection (3) of this section for two school years initially. If the district is able to demonstrate improved outcomes for participating students over the previous two school years at a level commensurate with the best practices and strategies on the state menu, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must approve use of the alternative practice or strategy by the district for one additional school year. Subsequent annual approval by the superintendent of public instruction to use the alternative practice or strategy is dependent on the district continuing to demonstrate an increase in improved outcomes for participating students.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 43.330 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By requiring an initial stay of truancy petitions for diversion to community truancy boards, the legislature intends to achieve the following outcomes:

(a) Increased access to community truancy boards and other truancy early intervention programs for parents and children throughout the state;

(b) Increased quantity and quality of truancy intervention and prevention efforts in the community;

(c) A reduction in the number of truancy petitions that result in further proceedings by juvenile courts, other than dismissal of the petition, after the initial stay and diversion to a community truancy board;

(d) A reduction in the number of truancy petitions that result in a civil contempt proceeding or detention order; and

(e) Increased school attendance.

(2) No later than January 1, 2021, the Washington state institute for public policy is directed to evaluate the effectiveness of chapter . . . , Laws of 2016 (this act). An initial report scoping of the methodology to be used to review chapter . . . , Laws of 2016 (this act) shall be submitted to the fiscal committees of the legislature by January 1, 2018. The initial report must identify any data gaps that could hinder the ability of the institute to conduct its review.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) The educational opportunity gap oversight and accountability committee shall conduct a review and make recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature with respect to:

(a) The cultural competence training that community truancy board members, as well as others involved in the truancy process, should receive;

(b) Best practices for supporting and facilitating parent and community involvement and outreach; and

(c) The cultural relevance of the assessments employed to identify barriers to attendance and the treatments and tools provided to children and their families.

(2) By June 30, 2017, a preliminary review shall be completed and preliminary recommendations provided. The review shall be completed, and a report and final recommendations provided, by December 1, 2017.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "cultural competence" includes knowledge of children's cultural histories and contexts, as well as family norms and values in different cultures; knowledge and skills in accessing community resources and community and parent outreach; and skills in adapting instruction and treatment to children's experiences and identifying cultural contexts for individual children.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 2.56 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) To accurately track the extent to which courts order youth into a secure detention facility in Washington state for the violation of a court order related to a truancy, at-risk youth, or a child in need of services petition, all juvenile courts shall transmit youth-level secure detention data to the administrative office of the courts.

(b) Data may either be entered into the statewide management information system for juvenile courts or securely transmitted to the administrative office of the courts at least monthly. Juvenile courts shall provide, at a minimum, the name and date of birth for the youth, the court case number assigned to the petition, the reasons for admission to the juvenile detention facility, the date of admission, the date of exit, and the time the youth spent in secure confinement.

(c) Courts are also encouraged to report individual-level data reflecting whether a detention alternative, such as electronic monitoring, was used, and the time spent in detention alternatives.

(d) The administrative office of the courts and the juvenile court administrators must work to develop uniform data standards for detention.

(2) The administrative office of the courts shall deliver an annual statewide report to the legislature that details the number of Washington youth who are placed into detention facilities during the preceding calendar year. The first report shall be delivered by March 1, 2017, and shall detail the most serious reason for detention and youth gender, race, and ethnicity. The report must have a specific emphasis on youth who are detained for reasons relating to a truancy, at-risk youth, or a child in need of services petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 28A.225 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to funds appropriated for this purpose, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall allocate to community truancy boards grant funds that may be used to supplement existing funds in order to pay for training for board members or the provision of services and treatment to children and their families.

(2) The superintendent of public instruction must select grant recipients based on the criteria in this section. This is a competitive grant process. A prerequisite to applying for either or both grants is a memoranda of understanding, between a school district and a court, to institute a new or maintain an existing community truancy board that meets the requirements of RCW 28A.225.025.

(3) Successful applicants for an award of grant funds to supplement existing funds to pay for the training of community truancy board members must commit to the provision of training to board members regarding the identification of barriers to school attendance, the use of the Washington assessment of the risks and needs of students (WARNS) or other assessment tools to identify the specific needs of individual children, trauma-informed approaches to discipline, research about adverse childhood experiences, evidence-based treatments and culturally appropriate promising practices, as well as the specific academic and community services and treatments available in the school, court, community, and elsewhere. Increasing access to adequate and appropriate mental health services for children and youth.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator O'Ban moved that the following striking amendment no 753 by Senators O'Ban and Darneille be adopted: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature understands that adverse childhood experiences, such as family mental health issues, substance abuse, serious economic hardship, and domestic violence, all increase the likelihood of developmental delays and later health and mental health problems. The legislature further understands that early intervention services for children and families at high risk for adverse childhood experience help build secure parent-child attachment and bonding, which allows young children to thrive and form strong relationships in the future. The legislature finds that early identification and intervention are critical for children exhibiting aggressive or depressive behaviors indicative of early mental health problems. The legislature intends to improve access to adequate, appropriate, and culturally responsive mental health services for children and youth. The legislature further intends to encourage the use of behavioral health therapies and other therapies that are empirically supported or evidence-based and only prescribe medications for children and youth as a last resort.

(2) The legislature finds that nearly half of Washington's children are enrolled in medicaid and have a higher incidence of serious health problems compared to children who have commercial insurance. The legislature recognizes that disparities also exist in the diagnosis and initiation of treatment services for children of color, with studies demonstrating that children of color are diagnosed and begin receiving early interventions at a later age. The legislature finds that within the current system of care, families face barriers to receiving a full range of services for children experiencing behavioral health problems. The legislature intends to identify what network adequacy requirements, if strengthened, would increase access, continuity, and coordination of behavioral health services for children and families. The legislature further intends to encourage managed care plans and behavioral health organizations to contract with the same providers that serve children so families are not required to duplicate mental health screenings, and to recommend provider rates for mental health services to children and youth which will ensure an adequate network and access to quality based care.

(3) The legislature recognizes that early and accurate recognition of behavioral health issues coupled with appropriate and timely intervention enhances health outcomes while minimizing overall expenditures. The legislature intends to assure that annual depression screenings are done consistently with the highly vulnerable medicaid population and that children and families benefit from earlier access to services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The children's mental health work group is established to identify barriers to accessing mental health services for children and families, and to advise the legislature on statewide mental health services for this population.

(2)(a) The work group shall include diverse, statewide representation from the public and nonprofit and for-profit entities. Its membership shall reflect regional, racial, and cultural diversity to adequately represent the needs of all children and families in the state.

(b) The work group shall consist of not more than twenty-five members, as follows:

(i) The president of the senate shall appoint one member and one alternative member from each of the two largest caucuses of the senate.

(ii) The speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint one member and one alternative member from each of the two largest caucuses in the house of representatives.

(iii) The governor shall appoint at least one representative from each of the following: The department of early learning, the department of social and health services, the health care authority, the department of health, and a representative of the governor.

(v) The governor shall request participation by a representative of tribal governments.

(vi) The governor shall appoint one representative from each of the following: Behavioral health organizations, community mental health agencies, medicaid managed care organizations, pediatricians or primary care providers, providers that specialize in early childhood mental health, child health advocacy groups, early learning and child care providers, the managed health care plan for foster children, the evidence-based practice institute, parents or caregivers who have been a recipient of early childhood mental health services, and foster parents.

(c) The work group shall seek input and participation from stakeholders interested in the improvement of statewide mental health services for children and families.

(d) The work group shall choose two cochairs, one from among its legislative membership and one representative of a state agency. The representative from the health care authority shall convene the initial meeting of the work group.

(3) The children's mental health work group shall review the barriers that exist to identifying and treating mental health issues in children with a particular focus on birth to five and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature. At a minimum the work group must:

(a) Review and recommend developmentally, culturally, and linguistically appropriate assessment tools and diagnostic approaches that managed care plans and behavioral health organizations should use as the mechanism to establish eligibility for services;

(b) Identify and review billing issues related to serving the parent or caregiver in a treatment dyad and the billing issues related to services that are appropriate for serving children, including children birth to five;

(c) Evaluate and identify barriers to billing and payment for behavioral health services provided within primary care settings in an effort to promote and increase the use of behavioral health professionals within primary care settings;

(d) Review workforce issues related to serving children and families, including issues specifically related to birth to five;

(e) Recommend strategies for increasing workforce diversity and the number of professionals qualified to provide children's mental health services;

(f) Review and make recommendations on the development and adoption of standards for training and endorsement of professionals to become qualified to provide mental health services to children birth to five and their parents or caregivers;

(g) Analyze, in consultation with the department of early learning, the health care authority, and the department of social and health services, existing and potential mental health supports for child care providers to reduce expulsions of children in child care and preschool; and

(h) Identify outreach strategies that will successfully disseminate information to parents, providers, schools, and other individuals who work with children and youth on the mental health services offered through the health care plans, including referrals to parenting programs, community providers, and behavioral health organizations.

(4) Legislative members of the work group are reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 44.04.120. Nonlegislative members are not entitled to be reimbursed for travel expenses if they are elected officials or are participating on behalf of an employer, governmental entity, or other organization. Any reimbursement for other nonlegislative members is subject to chapter 43.03 RCW.

(5) The expenses of the work group must be paid jointly by the senate and the house of representatives. Work group expenditures are subject to approval by the senate facilities and operations committee and the house of representatives executive rules committee, or their successor committees.

(6) The work group shall report its findings and recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2016.

(7) Staff support for the committee must be provided by the house of representatives office of program research, the senate committee services, and the office of financial management.

(8) This section expires December 1, 2017.

(b) For purposes of the PAL plus pilot program, the health care authority shall work in collaboration with faculty from the University of Washington working on the integration of mental health and medical care.

(2)(a) The PAL plus service is targeted to help children and families with medicaid coverage who have mental health concerns not already being served by the regional support network system or other local specialty care providers, and who instead receive treatment from their primary care providers. Sec. 101. RCW 28A.710.010 and 2013 c 2 s 201 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Applicant" means a nonprofit corporation that has submitted an application to an authorizer. The nonprofit corporation must be either a public benefit nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.490, or a nonprofit corporation as defined in RCW 24.03.005 that has applied for tax exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the internal revenue code of 1986 (26 U.S.C. (2) "At-risk student" means a student who has an academic or economic disadvantage that requires assistance or special services to succeed in educational programs. The term includes, but is not limited to, students who do not meet minimum standards of academic proficiency, students who are at risk of dropping out of high school, students in chronically low-performing schools, students with higher than average disciplinary sanctions, students with lower participation rates in advanced or gifted programs, students who are limited in English proficiency, students who are members of economically disadvantaged families, and students who are identified as having special educational needs.

(3) "Authorizer" means ((an entity)) the commission established in RCW 28A.710.070 or a school district approved under RCW 28A.710.090 to review, approve, or reject charter school applications; enter into, renew, or revoke charter contracts with applicants; and oversee the charter schools the entity has authorized.

(4) "Charter contract" means a fixed term, renewable contract between a charter school and an authorizer that outlines the roles, powers, responsibilities, and performance expectations for each party to the contract.

(5) "Charter school" or "(public) charter public school" means a public school that is established in accordance with this chapter, governed by a charter school board, and operated according to the terms of a charter contract executed under this chapter ((and includes a new charter school and a conversion charter school)).

(6) "Charter school board" means the board of directors appointed or selected under the terms of a charter application to manage and operate the charter school.

(7) "Commission" means the Washington state charter school commission established in RCW 28A.710.070.

(8) ("Conversion charter school" means a charter school created by converting an existing noncharter public school in its entirety to a charter school under this chapter.

(9) "New charter school" means any charter school established under this chapter that is not a conversion charter school.

(10)) "Parent" means a parent, guardian, or other person or entity having legal custody of a child.

((11)) (9) "Student" means ((any)) a child eligible ((under RCW 28A.225.160)) to attend a public school in the state.

(2) ((Is a public, common school offering)) May offer any program or course of study that ((a noncharter)) any other public school may offer, including one or more of grades kindergarten through twelve;

(3) Is governed by a charter school board according to the terms of a renewable, five-year charter contract executed under RCW 28A.710.160;

(4) ((Is a public school to which parents choose to send their children;

(1) To ((carry out)) fulfill its duty to manage and operate the charter school, and ((carry out)) to execute the terms of its charter contract, a charter school board may:

(e) Issue secured and unsecured debt, including pledging, assigning, or encumbering its assets to be used as collateral for loans or extensions of credit to manage cash flow, improve operations, or finance the acquisition of real property or equipment((: PROVIDED, That)). However, the ((public)) charter public school may not pledge, assign, or encumber any public funds received or to be received pursuant to RCW 28A.710.220. (4) A charter school board may not acquire property by eminent domain.

(5) A charter school board, through web site postings and written notice with receipt acknowledged by signature of the recipient, must advise families of new, ongoing, and prospective students of any ongoing litigation challenging the constitutionality of charter schools or that may require charter schools to cease operations.

However, a charter school must give an enrollment preference to siblings of already enrolled students)) grant an enrollment preference to siblings of enrolled students, with any remaining enrollments allocated through a lottery. A charter school may offer, pursuant to an admissions policy approved by the commission, a weighted enrollment preference for at-risk students or to children of full-time employees of the school if the employees' children reside within the state.

((5)) (4) The enrollment capacity of a charter school must be determined annually by the charter school board in consultation with the charter authorizer and with consideration of the charter school's ability to facilitate the academic success of its students, achieve the objectives specified in the charter contract, and assure that its student enrollment does not exceed the capacity of its facility. An authorizer may not restrict the number of students a charter school may enroll.

((6)) (5) Nothing in this section prevents formation of a charter school whose mission is to offer a specialized learning environment and services for particular groups of students, such as at-risk students, students with disabilities, or students who pose such severe disciplinary problems that they warrant a specific educational program. Nothing in this section prevents formation of a charter school organized around a special emphasis, theme, or concept as stated in the school's application and charter contract.

Sec. 114. RCW 28A.710.140 and 2013 c 2 s 214 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The state board of education must establish an annual statewide timeline for charter application submission and approval or denial((, which)) that must be followed by all authorizers.

(2) In reviewing and evaluating charter applications, authorizers shall employ procedures, practices, and criteria consistent with nationally recognized principles and standards for quality charter authorizing. Authorizers shall give preference to applications for charter schools that are designed to enroll and serve at-risk student populations((: PROVIDED, That)), However, nothing in this chapter may be construed as intended to limit the establishment of charter schools to those that serve a substantial portion of at-risk students, or to in any manner restrict, limit, or discourage the establishment of charter schools that enroll and serve other pupil populations under a nonexclusive, nondiscriminatory admissions policy. The application review process must include thorough evaluation of each application, an in-person interview with the applicant group, and an opportunity to learn about and provide input on each application in a public forum including, without limitation, parents, community members, local residents, and school district board members and staff((, to learn about and provide input on each application)).

(3) In deciding whether to approve an application, authorizers must:

(a) Grant charters only to applicants that have demonstrated competence in each element of the authorizer's published approval criteria and are likely to open and operate a successful ((public)) charter public school;

(b) Base decisions on documented evidence collected through the application review process;

(c) Follow charter-granting policies and practices that are transparent and based on merit; and

(d) Avoid any conflicts of interest, whether real or apparent.

(4) An approval decision may include, if appropriate, reasonable conditions that the charter applicant must meet before a charter contract may be executed.

(5) For any denial of an application, the authorizer shall clearly state in writing its reasons for denial. A denied applicant may subsequently reapply to that authorizer or apply to another authorizer in the state.

Sec. 115. RCW 28A.710.150 and 2013 c 2 s 215 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A maximum of forty ((public)) charter public schools may be established under this chapter((,)) over ((a)) the five-year period commencing with the effective date of this section. No more than eight charter schools may be established in any ((single)) year during the five-year period, except that if in any ((single)) year fewer than eight charter schools are established, ((then)) additional charter schools, equal in number to the difference between the number established in that year and eight, may be established in subsequent years during the five-year period.

(2)(a) To ensure compliance with the limits for establishing new charter schools, certification from the state board of education must be obtained before final authorization of a charter school.

(b) Within ten days of taking action to approve or deny an application under RCW 28A.710.140, an authorizer must submit a report of the action to the applicant and ((to)) the state board of education((, which)), The report must include a copy of the authorizer's resolution setting forth the action taken, the reasons for the decision, and assurances of compliance with the procedural requirements and application elements under RCW 28A.710.130 and 28A.710.140. The authorizer must also indicate whether the charter school is designed to enroll and serve at-risk student populations. The state board of education must establish, for each year in which charter schools may be authorized as part of the timeline to be established pursuant to RCW 28A.710.140, the ((last)) latest annual date by which the authorizer ((must)) may submit the report. The state board of education must send to each authorizer notice of the date ((to each authorizer no later than)) by which a report must be submitted at least six months before the date established by the board.

(3) Upon the receipt of notice from an authorizer that a charter school has been approved, the state board of education shall certify whether the approval is in compliance with the limits on the maximum number of charters allowed under subsection (1) of this section. If the board receives simultaneous notification of approved charters that exceed the annual allowable limits in subsection (1) of this section, the board must select approved charters for implementation through a lottery process, and must assign implementation dates accordingly.

(4) The state board of education must notify authorizers when the maximum allowable number of charter schools has been reached.

Sec. 116. RCW 28A.710.160 and 2013 c 2 s 216 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The purposes of the charter application submitted under RCW 28A.710.130 are to present the proposed charter school's academic and operational vision and plans, and to demonstrate and provide the authorizer with a clear basis for evaluating the applicant's capacities to execute the proposed vision and plans. An approved charter application does not serve as the school's charter contract.

(2) Within ninety days of approval of a charter application, the authorizer and the governing board of the approved charter school must execute a charter contract. The contract must establish the terms by which((, fundamentally,)) the ((public)) charter school agrees to provide educational services that, at a minimum, meet basic education standards, in return for ((an allocation)) a distribution of public funds ((to)) that will be used for ((such)) the purposes ((all as set forth)) established in the contract and in this and other applicable statutes ((and in the charter contract)). The charter contract must clearly set forth the academic and operational performance expectations and measures by which the charter school will be ((judged)) evaluated and the administrative relationship between the authorizer and charter school, including each party's rights and duties. The performance expectations and measures set forth in the charter contract must include, but need not be limited to, applicable federal and state accountability requirements. The performance provisions may be refined or amended by mutual agreement after the charter school is operating and has collected baseline achievement data for its enrolled students.

(3) If the charter school is authorized by a school district board of directors, the charter contract must be signed by the president of the applicable school district board of directors ((if the school district board of directors is the authorizer and by)) and the president of the charter school board. If the charter school is authorized by the commission, the charter contract must be signed by the chair of the commission and the president of the charter school board. Within ten days of executing a charter contract, the authorizer must submit to the state board of education written notification of the charter contract execution, including a copy of the executed charter contract and any attachments.

(4) A charter contract may govern one or more charter schools to the extent approved by the authorizer. A single charter school board may hold one or more charter contracts. However, each charter school that is part of a charter contract must be separate and distinct from any others and, for purposes of calculating the maximum number of charter schools that may be established under this chapter, each charter school must be considered a single charter school regardless of how many charter schools are governed under a particular charter contract.

(5) An initial charter contract must be granted for a term of five operating years. The contract term must commence on the charter school's first day of operation. An approved charter school may delay its opening for one school year in order to plan and prepare for the school's opening. If the school requires an opening delay of more than one school year, the school must request an extension from its authorizer. The authorizer may grant or deny the contract extension depending on the school's circumstances.

(6) Authorizers ((may)) shall establish reasonable preopening requirements or conditions to monitor the start-up progress of newly approved charter schools ((and)), ensure that they are prepared to open smoothly on the date agreed, and ((to)) ensure that each school meets all building, health, safety, insurance, and other legal requirements for school opening.

(7) No charter school may commence operations without a charter contract executed in accordance with this section.

(8) In accordance with section 140(3) of this act:

(a) The state board of education must take reasonable and necessary steps to provide parties to contracts entered into under or in accordance with chapter 2, Laws of 2013 that were in effect or that had been executed on or before December 1, 2015, with an opportunity to execute new contracts with the same terms and duration or substantially the same terms and duration as were in effect on December 1, 2015; and

(b) Each authorizer must take reasonable and necessary steps to provide parties to contracts entered into under or in accordance with chapter 2, Laws of 2013 that were in effect or that had been executed on or before December 1, 2015, with an opportunity to execute new contracts with the same terms and duration or substantially the same terms and duration as were in effect on December 1, 2015.

(9) Contracts executed pursuant to subsection (8) of this section do not count against the annual cap established in RCW 28A.710.150(1).

(10) For purposes of this section, "substantially the same terms and duration" includes contract modifications necessary to comply with the provisions of this chapter or other applicable law.

Sec. 117. RCW 28A.710.170 and 2013 c 2 s 217 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The performance provisions within a charter contract must be based on a performance framework that clearly sets forth the academic and operational performance indicators, measures, and metrics that will guide an authorizer's evaluations of ((each)) a charter school within its jurisdiction.

(2) At a minimum, the performance framework must include indicators, measures, and metrics for:

(a) Student academic proficiency;

(b) Student academic growth;

(c) Achievement gaps in both proficiency and growth between major student subgroups;

(d) Attendance;

(e) Recurrent enrollment from year to year;

(f) High school graduation rates and student postsecondary readiness((, for high schools));

(g) Financial performance and sustainability; and

(h) Charter school board performance and stewardship, including compliance with all applicable laws, rules, and terms of the charter contract.

(3) Annual performance targets must be set by each charter school in conjunction with its authorizer and must be designed to help each school meet applicable federal, state, and authorizer expectations.

(4) The authorizer and charter school may also include additional rigorous, valid, and reliable indicators in the performance framework to augment external evaluations of the charter school's performance.

(5) The performance framework must require the disaggregation of all student performance data by major student subgroups, including gender, race and ethnicity, poverty status, special education status, English language learner status, and highly capable status.

(6) Multiple schools operating under a single charter contract or overseen by a single charter school board must report their performance as separate schools, and each school shall be held independently accountable for its performance.

Sec. 118. RCW 28A.710.180 and 2013 c 2 s 218 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Each authorizer must continually monitor the performance and legal compliance of the charter schools ((it oversees)) under its jurisdiction, including collecting and analyzing data to support ongoing evaluation according to the performance framework in the charter contract.

(2) An authorizer may conduct or require oversight activities that enable the authorizer to fulfill its responsibilities under this chapter, including conducting appropriate inquiries and investigations, ((so long as)) if those activities are consistent with the intent of this chapter, adhere to the terms of the charter contract, and do not unduly inhibit the autonomy granted to charter schools.

(3) In the event that a charter school's performance or legal compliance appears unsatisfactory, the authorizer must promptly notify the school of the perceived problem and provide reasonable opportunity for the school to remedy the problem((, unless)), However, if the problem warrants revocation ((in which case)) of the charter contract, the revocation procedures under RCW 28A.710.200 apply.

(4) An authorizer may take appropriate corrective actions or exercise sanctions short of revocation in response to apparent deficiencies in charter school performance or legal compliance. ((Such)) These actions or sanctions may include, if warranted, requiring a school to develop and execute a corrective action plan within a specified time frame.

Sec. 119. RCW 28A.710.190 and 2013 c 2 s 219 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A charter contract may be renewed by the authorizer, at the request of the charter school, for successive five-year terms((, although)). The authorizer, however, may vary the term based on the performance, demonstrated capacities, and particular circumstances of a charter school, and may grant renewal with specific conditions for necessary improvements to a charter school.

(2) No later than six months before the expiration of a charter contract, the authorizer must issue a performance report and charter contract renewal application guidance to ((that)) the charter school. The performance report must summarize the charter school's performance record to date based on the data required by the charter contract, and must provide notice of any weaknesses or concerns perceived by the authorizer concerning the charter school that may, if not timely rectified, jeopardize its position in seeking renewal ((if not timely rectified)). The charter school has thirty days to respond to the performance report and submit any corrections or clarifications for the report.

(3) The renewal application guidance must, at a minimum, provide an opportunity for the charter school to:

(a) Present additional evidence, beyond the data contained in the performance report, supporting its case for charter contract renewal;

(b) Describe improvements undertaken or planned for the school; and

(c) Detail the school's plans for the next charter contract term.

(4) The renewal application guidance must include or refer explicitly to the criteria that will guide the authorizer's renewal decisions, ((which shall)) and this criteria must be based on the performance framework set forth in the charter contract.

(5) In making charter renewal decisions, an authorizer must:

(a) ((Ground)) Base its decisions in evidence of the school's performance over the term of the charter contract in accordance with the performance framework set forth in the charter contract;

(b) Ensure that data used in making renewal decisions are available to the school and the public; and

(c) Provide a public report summarizing the evidence basis for its decision.

Sec. 120. RCW 28A.710.200 and 2013 c 2 s 220 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) An authorizer may revoke a charter contract ((may be revoked)) at any time, or ((not renewed)) may refuse to renew it, if the authorizer determines that the charter school did any of the following or otherwise failed to comply with the provisions of this chapter:

(a) Committed a material and substantial violation of any of the terms, conditions, standards, or procedures required under this chapter or the charter contract;

(b) Failed to meet or make sufficient progress toward the performance expectations set forth in the charter contract;

(c) Failed to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management; or

(d) Substantially violated any material provision of law from which the charter school is not exempt.

(2) Except as provided otherwise by this subsection (2), an authorizer may not renew a charter contract ((may not be renewed)) if, at the time of the renewal application, the charter school's performance falls in the bottom quartile of schools on the ((accountability)) Washington achievement index developed by the state board of education under RCW 28A.657.110((, unless)), A contract may be renewed without violating this subsection (2), however, if the charter school demonstrates exceptional circumstances that the authorizer finds justifiable.

(3) Each authorizer must develop revocation and nonrenewal processes that:

(a) Provide the charter school board with a timely notification of the prospect of and reasons for revocation or nonrenewal;

(b) Allow the charter school board a reasonable amount of time in which to prepare a response;

(c) Provide the charter school board with an opportunity, at a recorded public proceeding held for that purpose, to submit documents and give testimony challenging the rationale for closure and in support of the continuation of the school ((at a recorded public proceeding held for that purpose));

(d) Allow the charter school board to be represented by counsel and to call witnesses on its behalf; and

(e) After a reasonable period for deliberation, require a final determination to be made and conveyed in writing to the charter school board.

(4) If an authorizer revokes or does not renew a charter contract, the authorizer must clearly state in a resolution the reasons for the revocation or nonrenewal.

(5) Within ten days of taking action to renew, not renew, or revoke a charter contract, an authorizer must submit a report of the action to the ((applicant)) charter school and ((to)) the state board of education((, which)). The report must include a copy of the authorizer's resolution setting forth the action taken, the reasons for the decision, and assurances of compliance with the procedural requirements established by the authorizer under this section.

Sec. 121. RCW 28A.710.210 and 2013 c 2 s 221 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Before making a decision to not renew or to revoke a charter contract, an authorizer(s) must develop a charter school termination protocol to ensure timely notification to parents, orderly transition of students and student records to new schools, as necessary, and proper disposition of public school funds, property, and assets. The protocol must specify tasks, timelines, and responsible parties, including delineating the respective duties of the charter school and the authorizer.

(2) ((In the event that)) If the nonprofit corporation ((applicant)) operator of a charter school should dissolve for any reason including, without limitation, because of the termination of the charter contract, the public school funds of the charter school that have been provided pursuant to RCW 28A.710.220 must be returned to the state or local account from which the public funds originated. If the charter school has commingled the funds, the funds must be returned in proportion to the proportion of those funds received by the charter school from the public accounts in the last year preceding the dissolution. The dissolution of ((an applicant)) a nonprofit corporation shall otherwise proceed as provided by law.

(3) A charter contract may not be transferred from one authorizer to another or from one charter school ((applicant)) to another before the expiration of the charter contract term except by petition to the state board of education by the charter school or its authorizer. The state board of education must review such petitions on a case-by-case basis and may grant transfer requests in response to special circumstances and evidence that such a transfer would serve the best interests of the charter school's students.

Sec. 122. RCW 28A.710.220 and 2013 c 2 s 222 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Charter schools must report student enrollment in the same manner, and based on the same definitions of enrolled students and annual average full-time equivalent enrollment, as other public schools. Charter schools must comply with applicable reporting requirements to receive state or federal funding that is ((allocated)) distributed based on student characteristics.

(2) ((According to the schedule established under RCW 28A.510.250, the superintendent of public instruction shall allocate funding for a charter school including general apportionment, special education, categorical, and other nonbasic education moneys. Allocations must be based on the statewide average staff mix ratio of all noncharter public schools from the prior school year and the school's actual full-time equivalent enrollment. Categorical funding must be allocated to a charter school based on the same funding criteria used for noncharter public schools and the funds must be expended as provided in the charter contract. A charter school is eligible to apply for state grants on the same basis as a school district)) In accordance with appropriations made under sections 127 and 128 of this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall distribute state funding to charter schools according to the schedule established in RCW 28A.510.250.

(3) ((Allocations for pupil transportation must be calculated on a per student basis based on the allocation for the previous school year to the school district in which the charter school is located. A charter school may enter into a contract with a school district or other public or private entity to provide transportation for the students of the school.

(4)) Amounts ((payable)) distributed to a charter school under ((this)) section 128 of this act in the school's first year of operation must be based on the projections of first-year student enrollment established in the charter contract. The office of the superintendent of public instruction must reconcile the amounts ((paid)) distributed in the first year of operation to the amounts that would have been ((paid)) distributed based on actual student enrollment and make adjustments to the charter school's ((allocations)) distributions over the course of the second year of operation.

((5) For charter schools authorized by a school district board of directors, allocations to a charter school that are included in RCW 84.52.0531(3) (a) through (c) shall be included in the levy planning, budgets, and funding distribution in the same manner as other public schools in the district.

(6) Conversion charter schools are eligible for local levy moneys approved by the voters before the conversion start-up date of the school as determined by the authorizer, and the school district must allocate levy moneys to a conversion charter school.

(7) New charter schools are not eligible for local levy moneys approved by the voters before the start-up date of the school unless the local school district is the authorizer.

(8) For levies submitted to voters after the start-up date of a charter school authorized under this chapter, the charter school must be included in levy planning, budgets, and funding distribution in the same manner as other public schools in the district.

(9)) (4) Any moneys received by a charter school from any source and remaining in the school's accounts at the end of ((any)) a budget year ((shall)) must remain in the school's accounts for use by the school during subsequent budget years.

Sec. 123. RCW 28A.710.230 and 2013 c 2 s 223 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Charter schools are eligible for state ((matching funds)) funding for ((common)) school construction. However, such appropriations may not be made from the common school construction fund.

The consideration may include the provision of educational services by the charter school.

(4) Public libraries, community service organizations, museums, performing arts venues, theaters, and public or private colleges and universities may provide space to charter schools within their facilities under their preexisting zoning and land use designations.

((5) A conversion charter school as part of the consideration for providing educational services under the charter contract may continue to use its existing facility without paying rent to the school district that owns the facility. The district remains responsible for major repairs and safety upgrades that may be required for the continued use of the facility as a public school. The charter school is responsible for routine maintenance of the facility including, but not limited to, cleaning, painting, gardening, and landscaping. The charter contract of a conversion charter school using existing facilities that are owned by its school district must include reasonable and customary terms regarding the use of the existing facility that are binding upon the school district.)

Sec. 124. RCW 28A.710.240 and 2013 c 2 s 224 are each reenacted to read as follows:

Years of service in a charter school by certificated instructional staff shall be included in the years of service calculation for purposes of the statewide salary allocation schedule under RCW 28A.150.410. This section does not require a charter school to pay a particular salary to its staff while the staff is employed by the charter school.

Sec. 125. RCW 28A.710.250 and 2013 c 2 s 225 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(2) The annual report must be based on the reports submitted by each authorizer as well as any additional relevant data compiled by the state board of education. The report must include a comparison of the performance of charter school students with the performance of academically, ethnically, and economically comparable groups of students in ((noncharter)) other public schools. In addition, the annual report must include the state board of education's assessment of the successes, challenges, and areas for improvement in meeting the purposes of this chapter, including the board's assessment of the sufficiency of funding for charter schools, the efficacy of the formula for authorizer funding, and any suggested changes in state law or policy necessary to strengthen the state's charter schools.

(3) Together with the issuance of the annual report following the fifth year after there have been charter schools operating for a full school year, the state board of education, in collaboration with the commission, shall submit a recommendation regarding whether or not the legislature should authorize the establishment of additional ((public)) charter public schools.

Sec. 126. RCW 28A.710.260 and 2014 c 221 s 911 are each reenacted to read as follows:

The charter schools oversight account is hereby created in the state treasury. All moneys received by the commission under RCW 28A.710.110 must be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the purposes of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 127. A new section is added to chapter 28A.710 RCW to read as follows:

The state legislature shall, at each regular session in an odd-numbered year, appropriate from the Washington opportunity pathways account for the current use of charter public schools amounts as determined in accordance with section 128 of this act, and amounts authorized under RCW 28A.710.230(1), for state support to charter schools during the ensuing biennium.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 128. A new section is added to chapter 28A.710 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The legislature intends that state funding for charter schools be distributed equitably with state funding provided for other public schools.

(2) For eligible students enrolled in a charter school established and operating in accordance with this chapter, the superintendent of public instruction shall transmit to each charter school an amount calculated as provided in this section and based on the statewide average staff mix factor for certificated instructional staff, including any enrichment to those statutory formulae that is specified in the omnibus appropriations act. The amount must be the sum of (a) and (b) of this subsection, as applicable.

(a) The superintendent shall, for purposes of making distributions under this section, separately calculate and distribute to charter schools moneys appropriated for general apportionment under the same ratios as in RCW 28A.150.260.

(b) The superintendent also shall, for purposes of making distributions under this section, and in accordance with the applicable formulae for categorical programs specified in (b)(i) through (v) of this subsection (2) and any enrichment to those statutory formulae that is specified in the omnibus appropriations act, separately calculate and distribute moneys appropriated by the legislature to charter schools for:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 129. A new section is added to chapter 28A.710 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The eligibility of a charter school student to participate in interschool athletic activities or other interschool extracurricular activities governed by the Washington interscholastic activities association is subject to rules adopted by the Washington interscholastic activities association. The rules must provide that, unless approved by a nonresident school district or the Washington interscholastic activities association, a student attending a charter school may only participate in interschool athletic activities or other interschool extracurricular activities offered by the student's resident school district.

In developing and implementing the initiative, the superintendent shall:

- (1) Include a teacher recruitment component that targets groups of individuals who may be interested in teaching in Washington public schools, such as: College students who have not chosen a major; out-of-state teachers; military personnel and their spouses; and individuals with teaching certificates who are not currently employed as teachers;

The services and tools developed under this subsection must be made available initially to small school districts, and to larger districts as resources are available. When defining small districts for the purpose of this subsection, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must consider whether a district has fewer than three hundred certificated staff;

(3) Create or enhance an existing web site that provides useful information to individuals who are interested in teaching in Washington; and

(8) Identify an expedited professional certification process for out-of-state teachers who have five years or more of successful teaching experience ((to demonstrate skills and impact on student learning commensurate with Washington requirements for professional certification. NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 28A.330 RCW to read as follows:

By June 15th of each year, a school district shall report to the office of the superintendent of public instruction the number of classroom teachers the district projects will be hired in the following school year.

Sec. 12. RCW 28A.660.050 and 2015 3rd sp.s. c 9 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for these purposes, the conditional scholarship programs in this chapter are created under the following guidelines:

(1) The programs shall be administered by the student achievement council. In administering the programs, the council has the following powers and duties:

(a) To adopt necessary rules and develop guidelines to administer the programs;

(b) To collect and manage repayments from participants who do not meet their service obligations; and

(c) To accept grants and donations from public and private sources for the programs.

(2) Requirements for participation in the conditional scholarship programs are as provided in this subsection (2).

(a) The alternative route conditional scholarship program is limited to interns of professional educator standards board-approved alternative routes to teaching programs under RCW 28A.660.040. For fiscal year 2011, priority must be given to fiscal year 2010 participants in the alternative route partnership program. In order to receive conditional scholarship awards, recipients shall:

(i) Be accepted and maintain enrollment in alternative certification routes through a professional educator standards board-approved program;

(ii) Continue to make satisfactory progress toward completion of the alternative route certification program and receipt of a residency teaching certificate; and

(iii) Receive no more than the annual amount of the scholarship, not to exceed eight thousand dollars, for the cost of tuition, fees, and educational expenses, including books, supplies, and transportation for the alternative route certification program in which the recipient is enrolled. The council may adjust the annual award by the average rate of resident undergraduate tuition and fee increases at the state universities as defined in RCW 28B.10.016.

(b) The pipeline for paraeducators conditional scholarship program is limited to qualified paraeducators as provided by RCW 28A.660.042. In order to receive conditional scholarship awards, recipients shall:

(i) Be accepted and maintain enrollment at a community and technical college for no more than two years and attain an associate of arts degree;

(ii) Continue to make satisfactory progress toward completion of an associate of arts degree. This progress requirement is a condition for eligibility into a route one program of the alternative routes to teacher certification program for a mathematics, special education, or English as a second language endorsement; and

(iii) Receive no more than the annual amount of the scholarship, not to exceed four thousand dollars, for the cost of tuition, fees, and educational expenses, including books, supplies, and transportation for the alternative route certification program in which the recipient is enrolled. The student achievement council may adjust the annual award by the average rate of tuition and fee increases at the state community and technical colleges.

(c) The educator retooling conditional scholarship program is limited to current K-12 teachers. In order to receive conditional scholarship awards:

(i) Individuals currently employed as teachers shall pursue an endorsement in a subject or geographic endorsement shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board, including but not limited to((,)) mathematics, science, special education, elementary education, early childhood education, bilingual education, English language learner, computer science education, or environmental and sustainability education; or

(ii) Individuals who are certificated with an elementary education endorsement shall pursue an endorsement in a subject or geographic endorsement shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board, including but not limited to((,)) mathematics, science, special education, bilingual education, English language learner, computer science education, or environmental and sustainability education; and

(iii) Individuals shall use one of the pathways to endorsement processes to receive an endorsement in a subject or geographic endorsement shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board, including but not limited to((,)) mathematics, science, special education, bilingual education, English language learner, computer science education, or environmental and sustainability education, which shall include passing an endorsement test plus observation and completing applicable coursework to attain the proper endorsement; and

(iv) Individuals shall receive no more than the annual amount of the scholarship, not to exceed three thousand dollars, for the cost of tuition, test fees, and educational expenses, including books, supplies, and transportation for the endorsement pathway being pursued.

(3) The Washington professional educator standards board shall select individuals to receive conditional scholarships. In selecting recipients, preference shall be given to eligible veterans or national guard members. In awarding conditional scholarships to support additional bilingual education or English language learner endorsements, the board shall also give preference to teachers assigned to schools required under state or federal accountability measures to implement a plan for improvement, and to teachers assigned to schools whose enrollment of English language learner students has increased an average of more than five percent per year over the previous three years.

(4) For the purpose of this chapter, a conditional scholarship is a loan that is forgiven in whole or in part in exchange for service as a certificated teacher employed in a Washington state K-12 public school. The state shall forgive one year of loan obligation for every two years a recipient teaches in a public school. Recipients who fail to continue a course of study leading to residency teacher certification or cease to teach in a public school in the state of Washington in their endorsement area are required to repay the remaining loan principal with interest.

(5) Recipients who fail to fulfill the required teaching obligation are required to repay the remaining loan principal with interest and any other applicable fees. The student achievement council shall adopt rules to define the terms for repayment, including applicable interest rates, fees, and deferments.

(6) The student achievement council may deposit all appropriations, collections, and any other funds received for the program in this chapter in the future teachers conditional scholarship account authorized in RCW 28B.102.080.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 28B.102 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to an appropriation specifically provided for this purpose, the office shall develop and administer the teacher shortage conditional grant program as a subprogram within the future teachers conditional scholarship and loan repayment program. The purpose of the teacher shortage conditional grant program is to encourage individuals to become teachers by providing financial aid to individuals enrolled in professional educator standards-approved teacher preparation programs.

(2) The office has the power and duty to develop and adopt rules as necessary under chapter 34.05 RCW to administer the program described in this section.

(3) As part of the rule-making process under subsection (2) of this section, the office must collaborate with the professional educator standards board, the Washington state school directors' association, and the professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation programs to develop a framework for the teacher shortage conditional grant program, including eligibility requirements, contractual obligations, conditional grant amounts, and loan repayment requirements.

(4)(a) In developing the eligibility requirements, the office must consider: Whether the individual has a financial need, is a first-generation college student, or is from a traditionally underrepresented group among teachers in Washington; whether the individual is completing an alternative route to teacher certification program; whether the individual plans to obtain an endorsement in a hard-to-fill subject, as defined by the professional educator standards board; the characteristic of any geographic shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board, that the individual plans to teach in; and whether a school district has committed to offering the individual employment once the individual obtains a residency teacher certificate.

(b) In developing the contractual obligations, the office must consider requiring the individual to: Obtain a Washington state residency teacher certificate; teach in a subject or geographic endorsement shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board; and commit to teach for five school years in an approved education program with a need for a teacher with such an endorsement at the time of hire.

(c) In developing the conditional grant award amounts, the office must consider whether the individual is: Enrolled in a public or private institution of higher education, a resident, in a baccalaureate or postbaccalaureate program, or in an alternative route to teacher certification program. In addition, the award amounts must not result in a reduction of the individual's federal or state grant aid, including Pell grants, state need grants, college bound scholarships, or opportunity scholarships.

(d) In developing the repayment requirements for a conditional grant that is converted into a loan, the terms and conditions of the loan must follow the interest rate and repayment terms of the federal direct subsidized loan program. In addition, the office must consider the following repayment schedule:

(i) For less than one school year of teaching completed, the loan obligation is eighty-five percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee;

(ii) For less than two school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is seventy percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee;

(iii) For less than three school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is fifty-five percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee; and

(iv) For less than four school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is forty percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee.

(5) By November 1, 2018, and November 1, 2020, the office shall submit reports, in accordance with RCW 43.01.036, to the appropriate committees of the legislature that recommend whether the teacher shortage conditional grant program under this section should be continued, modified, or terminated, and that include information about the recipients of the grants under this program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 28A.630 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to funds specifically appropriated for this purpose, the teacher endorsement and certification help pilot project, known as the TEACH pilot, is created. The scale of the TEACH pilot is dependent on the level of funding appropriated.

(2) The student achievement council, after consultation with the professional educator standards board, shall have the power and duty to develop and adopt rules as necessary under chapter 34.05 RCW to administer the pilot project described in this section. The rules, which must be adopted by August 1, 2016, must include:

(a) A TEACH pilot grant application process;

(b) A financial need verification process;

(c) The order of priority in which the applications will be approved; and

(d) A process for disbursing TEACH pilot grant awards to selected applicants.

(3) A student seeking a TEACH pilot grant to cover the costs of basic skills and content tests required for teacher certification and endorsement must submit an application to the student achievement council, following the rules developed under this section.

(4) To qualify for financial assistance, an applicant must meet the following criteria:

(a) Be enrolled in, have applied to, or have completed a professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation program;

(b) Demonstrate financial need, as defined by the office of student financial assistance and consistent with the income criteria required to receive the state need grant established in chapter 28B.92 RCW;

(c) Apply for a TEACH pilot grant under this section; and

(d) Register for an endorsement competency test in one or more endorsement shortage areas.

(5) Beginning September 1, 2016, the student achievement council, in collaboration with the professional educator standards board, shall award a TEACH pilot grant to a student who meets the qualifications listed in this section and in rules developed under this section. The TEACH pilot grant award must cover the costs of basic skills and content tests required for teacher certification. The council shall prioritize TEACH pilot grant awards first to applicants registered for competency tests in endorsement shortage areas and second to applicants with greatest financial need. The council shall scale the number of TEACH pilot grant awards to the amount of funds appropriated for this purpose.

(6) The student achievement council and the professional educator standards board shall include information about the TEACH pilot in materials distributed to schools and students.

(7) By December 31, 2018, and in compliance with RCW 43.01.036, the student achievement council, in collaboration with the professional educator standards board, shall submit a preliminary report to the appropriate committees of the legislature that details the effectiveness and costs of the pilot project. The preliminary report must (a) compare the numbers and demographic information of students taking and passing tests in the endorsement shortage areas before and after implementation of the pilot project, and (b) determine the amount of TEACH pilot grant award financial assistance awarded each pilot year and per student.

(8) By December 31, 2020, and in compliance with RCW 43.01.036, the student achievement council, in collaboration with the professional educator standards board, shall submit a final report to the appropriate committees of the legislature that details the effectiveness and costs of the pilot project. In addition to updating the preliminary report, the final report must (a) compare the numbers and demographic information of students obtaining teaching certificates with endorsement competencies in the endorsement shortage areas before and after implementation of the pilot project, and (b) recommend whether the pilot project should be modified, continued, and expanded.

(9) This section expires June 30, 2021.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 28B.76 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to funds appropriated specifically for this purpose, the office shall administer a student teaching residency grant program to provide additional funds to individuals completing student teaching residencies at public schools in Washington.

(2) To qualify for the grant, recipients must be enrolled in a professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation program, be completing or about to start a student teaching residency at a Title I school, and demonstrate financial need, as defined by the office and consistent with the income criteria required to receive the state need grant established in chapter 28B.92 RCW.

(3) The office shall establish rules for administering the grants under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 2016, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Sections 5 and 6 of this act expire July 1, 2021."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you, Mr. President. It only seems fitting after a morning long debate on education that I would speak of our departing colleague Senator Dammeier. Senator Dammeier was vigorously part of the debate in supporting charter schools today, but he also started his political career as a school board director in his native Puyallup, providing public service. We all know that his eight years in Olympia he has been actively involved in education policy and funding in both chambers. That deep commitment we certainly can appreciate as we say farewell to it. We also look at his service to our country. Only the cream of the crop goes to our nation's service academies, Senator Dammeier was one who graduated from our Naval Academy and later served his tour with the Navy. Again serving his country and our state. The family leadership in business and community is very well documented. His wonderful family is joining us here today, sharing the end of his brilliant public service. As we break for lunch today there will be a cake congratulating and thanking Senator Dammeier for his service. My office will be open to all of you to join us in thanking Senator Dammeier for his service to this state and our country."

him and this chamber ever since I came over five years ago, and I think that Senator Dammeier, in many ways, embodies the idea, even though his philosophy in some ways is very different from mine, embodies the philosophy of our former Governor Evans, one of my constituents, who often said it's important to be able to reach across the aisle when it's appropriate. And I know in many respects he has done that. We worked together a few years ago to try to help the budget process get along by working on a third grade reading bill that we helped facilitate and help kind of shake things loose to get a compromise done, and he was very open to our suggestions even though he didn't have to take my suggestions, I was in the minority. He was very helpful that way. And additionally he's done things for Seattle, we were able to get twenty-five million dollars in the Capital Budget for needs in Seattle schools last year because Senator Dammeier understood and listened to the concerns we had in Seattle, and was willing to work with Senator Pedersen and myself on that. And I think we need more of that. And I just want to say he'll be missed and he's been a very excellent member and a great public servant, and I know he'll do quite well in his future endeavors. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Well I am going to miss Senator Dammeier, too. I was very depressed when I saw the announcement this last fall that he was planning on not running for reelection. We had worked on 6130 over and over and over and over and over again, and I really thought we have a good product to start with there. But I really appreciated his willingness to step forward and work on a real solution and to take leadership on that when realizing that additional resources probably isn't the most popular thing to do. And besides that it was Senator Dammeier that encouraged me to co-chair the Prayer Breakfast these last couple of years. And I initially resisted because it takes time and I don't have time, etc., etc., but that has been one of the most pleasurable experiences I've had in my time in Olympia. And so Bruce, as a man of faith, and as someone who has always been straight with me, I can say we are really going to miss you and thank you for your encouragement."

Senator Litzow: "I think there's few on the floor here that will miss Senator Dammeier more than myself. He has been my partner in education, his naval experience has come in handy because it's often that I feel that we are together in a small boat in shark-infested waters taking fire from both opposition and friendly people. But he has handled all of that with graciousness and humor, a level head. He's the most unflappable man I've ever met. It's been a true pleasure to work with him and to call him my friend. I wish him the best of luck."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you, I have to stand with this person sitting next to me for the last few years and tell you how much I'm going to miss him. I've never met anyone quite like Bruce Dammeier. He actually is one of the smartest people I've ever met, but he's the most supportive of every single person in this chamber. If you need anything, you go to Bruce. If you have a question, you go to Bruce, Senator Dammeier I should say. But he was vice chair of the Health Care Committee, and let me tell you, that was an amazing thing, having Bruce Dammeier sit next to me in the Health Care Committee. And we worked so closely together, and he would tell me over and over with his finger when I was doing something wrong and when I was doing something right or when he wanted to talk. He looks at things in a way that probably none of us have the ability to do or maybe a few, but he is going to be missed. No one can fill that seat quite like Senator Dammeier, and I wish him well in his future and I wish him the very best in his entire life and thank him for everything that he's done. Thank you."

Senator Conway: "I know there's a group here who's going to miss Bruce a great deal and that's the Pierce County delegation. I can't tell you who he has helped bring to our delegation. I know that we all remember the Daffodil princesses and Bruce Dammeier and his powerful welcoming of those princesses to this chamber. I want to say though that I think Bruce brings something else that I will miss considerably, and that is his ability to work across this political divide and work together for the common good of our state. And I think, you know last year to me that was so demonstrated in his willingness to put himself at risk in supporting the transportation budget that passed this state. Bruce, I can't tell you how much I feel that you were a critical role in getting that transportation budget passed through this body. I feel that we're going to miss him because of this bipartisan role he's played here. And the beauty of Pierce County is that we are a bipartisan county and we have to work on a bipartisan basis. So I hope that we all remember, he's a great problem solver. He's on the capital budget with us. We worked capital budget a couple of years, always looking for solutions here, trying to figure out the problem, trying to solve the problem. And I hope that we can continue to work on, in that fashion. I think that's what makes this chamber work. I think we had great comments on that when our President announced his retirement, and I just hope, Bruce we're going to miss you very much, and so, first you'll still be in Pierce County, so we'll still have you there, but thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Frockt: "Thank you, Mr. President. I also wanted to add my words to the comments about the good Senator Dammeier. I just wanted to say it's been a pleasure to work with Senator Parlette: “Well I remember the first time, it was actually at a luncheon, that I met Bruce Dammeier, and I was impressed right from the beginning. What I will miss most is Bruce’s calmness and his ability to multitask on a variety of issues. Not only is he a strong leader, but he cares deeply about policy issues, and can handle so many of them, all at the same time. So I would like to be just one of the many colleagues who wish him well on his next endeavor, and hope he doesn’t go too far, because we look forward to seeing him in the future.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Warnick: “Thank you. I had the honor of serving with, now Senator Dammeier, in that other body, and when he came into that caucus room we knew he was there. He has a very, very strong voice, not necessarily loud, but very strong. I also, as another speaker mentioned, appreciated Senator Dammeier being a man of faith. Every Tuesday morning we have fellowship, and you can always count on him being there and being very strongly involved in the Governor’s Prayer Breakfast. What I am going to ask, I just heard a recent story that Senator Dammeier told me about him, maybe his brother or someone else, maybe one of the son’s, coming into my district and driving through Crab Creek, and almost crashing their truck in the Crab Creek and having to roar through it. So, might ask him to come and check that creek out and see if there is any environmental damage done there but I do wish him well, as well, and look forward to seeing him in a different role in the future. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: “Thank you, Mr. President. Well I’m not going to have to miss Senator Dammeier, because he and his wife Lauren love to come to Walla Walla and drink wine. And I know that when he is in his new role, he’s going to continue to come to Walla Walla and he’s going to call me and we’re going to go drink wine. But Senator I really do want to thank you very, very much for the thoughtful and very steady leadership that you have brought to this body. I’ve watched you for a number of years over in the other body and I was so excited to have you come over here, and you have not, absolutely not, disappointed me one bit in your leadership over here. I wish you the best in whatever happens in the future, and to your family as well, and when you come to Walla Walla please know my phone’s available. Thank you, Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Carlyle: “Thank you so much. I join my colleagues in expressing my gratitude to the honorable gentleman who I came into public service in 2008 with me at the same time. You know Mr. President, for the past year and a half or so we had an informal group of folks who worked very hard on McCleary and I know, and I think all of us know on a very meaningful level, that the gentleman from the Twenty-fifth is so passionate about trying to find a resolution, not just to the mechanics of McCleary, but to the broad public education challenge of our state with higher quality outcomes for all kids. We worked very hard and we continue to work very hard, all of us, but on some level we were able to come together and have a level of dialogue, a level of policy analysis, a level of discussion, an examination of the ingredients of a grand bargain. And while we have not yet made progress, that foundation exists in large part because of the gracious gentleman from the Twenty-fifth. And it is so important that the grace and the dignity that he brought to that process be maintained. He’s set that expectation. He laid that foundation for all of us. And I know on a very deep level that he’s disappointed that we haven’t made the type of progress in public education on these particular challenges that we face today, that he wants to, and I think we all share that. But because of his work and because of the integrity and the grace that that process has allowed, I do believe that we will make it happen together. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: “So this is going to be really, really tough, we are going to miss this man so incredibly much. I share with what all my other colleagues have said, but I will also take it one step further in saying you can trust Senator Dammeier. We all know that we have really sticky issues around here sometimes, but Senator Dammeier was the one person that you could, for sure, go to at any hour or time of day or night, and you could say Bruce, I’ve got an issue, and sometimes he would even see it on your face, you wouldn’t even have to go to him. Sometimes, Bruce would come up to you and say, ‘What’s up? What’s wrong? Are you okay? Do you need help? What’s going on?’ And one thing I want to thank Lauren for, is a few years ago I had an issue in my district, Senator Dammeier spent forty-five minutes on the phone with my superintendent on Valentine’s Day eve, so thank you Lauren for that very much. We are going to miss this man.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Angel: “Well I, too, want to stand to thank Senator Dammeier for everything that he has given to the people of Washington and obviously Pierce County. We came to the body on the other side of the rotunda the same year and we got to know each other at that time and we sat together at a dinner at one of our first orientations in Suncadia and we knew at that dinner that we were brought together for a special reason. We felt it..We knew it, but we weren’t sure what it was. And we’ve been on that path together since then, and he’s been an amazing leader, an amazing friend. I was standing right inside the curtains here during a very difficult vote for me, and he knew it was a difficult vote, and I felt a hand on my shoulder and a prayer in my ear. I thank him for that and for all the times that he has been there for us. Lauren and the family, thank you for all the time you shared him with us.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: “Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I too stand to recognize Senator Dammeier today. We have worked through a lot of issues from a bipartisan position and from a Pierce County-centric position and I have always found Senator Dammeier to be very good natured, much more good natured than I am. I have also found him to be hard working and committed to the issues. I respect quite a lot, his philanthropic work in Pierce County, well beyond the bounds of the Twenty-fifth district, and for that our county does thank him as well. We have been called the Pierce County mafia. Over in the other body we were called the Tacoma Pirates, but we have had issues, let’s say, in common that have not marched at the same drum as the rest of the legislature, and we have won some battles and we have lost some. But one thing I’ll say I’ve come to expect from Senator Dammeier is that he’s always thinking. And I don’t know who in this body is going to wink at me all the time because you know when he winks at you that he has concocted a plan so we will have to rise up and start winking. The other thing that I want to say is he's really grown in his skills as a legislator over the years. If I could take some of the people over the years that he trained in the other body, back to those early days, there was a seat similar to Senator Warnick's right at the front of the body and there was a seat similar to the one I'm in now, towards the back of the body. One where Senator Dammeier sat. One where I sat. He was tasked I think to have quite a few floor speeches that were quite contrary to my position about serving the poor, so he would give a floor speech, and Mr. President, I was obligated to smack him down, and now that all these years have passed by, he has not given a speech like that ever, ever, ever in this body, and so I just wish he was going to stay around because I have a lot more to teach him. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: "Senator Dammeier and I have a special connection in many ways. But first of all I'd just like to emphasize a couple of things that have already been said. He is a great man of faith, and I think anyone who knows him and knows him a little more personally would certainly confirm that. He is also a man of family. In spite of all the things that we do here and the time that we spent, taking away from our families, I know that Senator Dammeier's first and foremost thoughts are always with his family. We've had several conversations about that. He's also a man of service, service to his community, to his church, to the state, and he's also been a man of service to his country. That's the area that brought us together, my husband's involvement and long service to our country, and Senator Dammeier's service also, in the same branch of the military, both being Navy retirees. And there's a little something that I want to leave this body with that they could kind of ask Senator Dammeier about, and this is a long standing rivalry between military people who went to the academies and military people who did not. So ask Senator Dammeier sometime which hand he uses to pick his nose. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "Thank you, Mr. President. I just wanted to say that Bruce Dammeier is a great public servant and a great state legislator. And I had heard before Bruce came to the Senate, you know I had heard of him and heard there was this rock star in the House, and frankly I was a little skeptical about someone who was said to be such a good leader with such a good intellect to come over and how he would fit in but he did a great job and was just a great senator. He's not quite at the Karen Fraser level of decorum and friendliness on her best day, but he's pretty darn close and I know he's a great dad because he has a great wife and he sent all of his kids, or at least a number of them to WSU, so we know he has good judgement there. I guess we're missing a number of members and I hope we will speak about Senator Hewitt later, but when I think about the guys we're losing, I think Don Benton is the fighter, Mike Hewitt is the architect, and Bruce Dammeier is the statesman. Thank you for your service."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rolfes: "Thank you, Mr. President. You know, Senator Dammeier isn't just a great legislator and a great friend, he's a great man, and I'm really going to miss him. Listening to the speeches I kind of go between describing him as a great man on the one hand and the Energizer Bunny on the other hand because nobody works harder than Senator Dammeier. And, as has been said, he can work on a variety of issues. But as a member of the minority, and as a member of the majority in the House, Senator Dammeier has always reached out. He has always sought to find out what the Democrats are interested in. He's always worked to try to translate the differences into good public policy moving forward. I don't know that anybody here has spent more time with him in the last year working on education issues than I have, and he has never wavered. He has never stopped working, even knowing that he's not coming back he has remained committed and given it his all. I have never heard Senator Dammeier talk about things in terms of my district, Puyallup this, Puyallup that. Senator Dammeier is all about Washington State, and he's all about helping all of us be successful and get satisfaction out of our work. And so I wanted to take the opportunity to tell Senator Dammeier that I hope we will remain friends and I hope that he will stop by and call when he's on Bainbridge Island or when he's in the Naval base part of Kitsap county."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Braun: "Thank you. I'd also like to say a few words about Senator Bruce Dammeier. When I came to this body four years ago, he was one of the first to reach out, and he didn't just reach out and say hello, he drove and met with me. We were both coming to the Senate the same year, but of course I was brand new, and he had years of experience in the other body, and he offered that experience to help me you know climb that steep learning curve that we all face in that first year. And this is really to me what Bruce Dammeier is all about. He reaches out. He builds relationships. And we've heard a lot about his acumen with policy. He's certainly great in that, his willingness to speak and take on hard issues. But I'd like to share something else. He does more than that. He's great in all those ways and I agree with all the comments, but he also helps as a friend. And one of the things that year, 2012-2013 for me was a very challenging year, partly because that was my first year here and there's a lot of things to learn, but it was also the year my first daughter left to go to the Naval Academy. And we knew that would be hard for her, but what I didn't know is that it would be hard for me. And so Bruce, who went to that esteemed institution, always took time to talk to me about what's going on with her life. What was happening, share his experiences. And it's just one of the ways he goes beyond being a great statesman of the legislature. But he cares as a friend and he's always there to listen, to help, and I don't even know if he knows he's doing it. But he does it, and I really appreciate it. He has, of course, my deepest respect and admiration for the work he's done here, but also for the work he does just by being him. I wish him the best of luck, his family the best of luck. I expect to see great things from him in the future. Thank you again for your service to the state of Washington and to your friends."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "Well you know I too rise and just want to thank Bruce for all the work that you've done. You have certainly reached across the aisle multiple times to talk with me about certain issues and I really appreciate that. And you've been a bedrock to your community in Pierce County. You know for a moment I was going to ask that the remarks of the Twenty-seventh district Senator be spread on the journal. I'm not asking for that, because for the first time she admitted that there is a mafia. She's always told me there isn't a mafia, but clearly there is a mafia. But I've got to tell you, I'm really glad he's leaving, that he's gone, because I'm getting tired of having him remind me every year of the Army/Navy game. It's painful, it hurts, and I'm glad he's leaving. I don't have to hear that from him anymore, but when Army does win, and they haven't won for over a decade, I'm going to call you, I'm going to call you. It's going to be a great day for me, but good luck."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Well thank you, Mr. President. We're going to miss you. He is a true gentleman. He is a calming influence, a jack of all trades, healthcare, education, capital budget, operating budget, he's there. Made me look good. I appreciate that very much, and one thing I have not heard is him knocking his ring. So anyway we're going to miss you very much and thank you to his family for allowing him to serve, and good luck with your jobs."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator O'Ban: "Thank you, Mr. President. I rise to make a few comments about my friend. 'A pleasantness of a friend springs from heartfelt advice,' Proverbs 27 says, and in Bruce, I've had both a friend and a wealth of very sound advice for a new Senator coming here just a few years ago, and not very much experience in the House. I found in Bruce, someone who had all the advice one could hope for and then some, and that then some was his friendship, and I have appreciated that immensely. Bruce always has the right word and almost every morning I can expect a call on my way down to Olympia from Bruce to check on me and to talk over things and I look forward to that call that comes very regularly, almost always from him. And I think, I don't want to repeat some of the fine things that have been said here, and I remarked at how many, as I've sat back here, have wanted to stand and make a comment about Bruce. I want to say this one thing, what leadership is. It can be defined in many respects, but leadership is someone who will take on a difficult duty because it has to be done, and no one else has the time or the inclination to do it, and I found in Bruce, and I want to hopefully lead in this way as I continue on in whatever the Lord may call, to be one like him who will rise to take on difficult tasks because they need to be done. And that is the sign of a sound, good leader, and he has served his Savior well in that respect."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rivers: "Thank you, Mr. President. When I was a freshman in the other body, it didn't take long for Bruce Dammeier to find me and to work his magic. I know that you won't believe this, but I can be a tempestuous individual. Bruce was unfailing in his patience with me and served as a mentor who made such a remarkable difference in my life and who left a mark on my heart. As I listen to the comments of my colleagues in this body, I recognize that I am not singular in this notion. Bruce is possessed of the purest of servant's hearts. I saw him on so many occasions get a pained look on his face as he was being asked to do yet another task for the caucus, but never once did I hear him decline. He stepped up and performed admirably without fail. Bruce has indeed left his mark on each of us, on this body, and I'm going to bet he's going to leave his mark on another area just to the north in the very near future and I'm excited about that for him. It is my hope that one day I will be neighbors with you guys in Mirena, and we won't have to worry about this rain and we can take walks on the golf course and Bruce can continue to offer me wise council. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dansel: "Thank you, Mr. President. I want to say thank you to Senator Dammeier. I too am on the list of folks that when I very first got here, he took me to breakfast here in Olympia to talk about things and just see what my interests were. And we found out that, well we thought along the lines but in some issues we were very far apart in other issues and I thought it was unbelievable how great he was when we disagreed. I will say that what Senator Baumgartner said is true, he's a, he's got a servant's heart. I share the same building as Bruce over in the Newhouse Building, and I always see that beautiful Audi parked there very first thing in the morning and it's always usually the last one to leave so you know that he's working the issues for his constituents. And it didn't really hurt my feelings too much that I came right after Dammeier when this gentleman up here calls the roll, so that I know I've got a probably good voice right before me to know how to vote if I'm ever undecided. So Bruce thank you very much for your service. You are a very fine individual and a dedicated public servant."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: "It has indeed been a tremendous blessing and an honor to serve with you in this awesome responsibility of making the laws for the state of Washington. I can't thank you enough for allowing me to do it and serving with me. I would single out just a few people, because when people ask me will you miss this place? Some things. Long caucus meetings? Not so much. Special sessions? Not at all. The people on this floor? A lot, a lot. Awesome individuals. I would be remiss if I didn't point out just a few. Senator Rivers, Senator Rolfes, Senator Hargrove, thank you for jumping off the cliff with me. Senator Rolfes, I don't know how many Dammeier-Rolfes bills and Rolfes-Dammeier bills there have been, but it has been a pleasure. Senator Litzow, thank you for letting me partner with you. I came in when he was the chair and I've, some people might have resented that but he brought me in as a partner, I really appreciate that. Senator Becker you are awesome. There is no one I would have rather served with on Health Care, and I'm glad, I feel like I was part of the team and I'm glad I could do that with you. And Senator Honeyford, thank you very much for allowing me to be part of the capital budget. It was awesome. I appreciate the Pierce County mafia comments. Very much so. The rest of you should beware, I think the people coming behind me will perpetuate the mafia. I have learned a lot from Senator Darnielle as she pointed out, and one of the things I most learned from her is we have very different political philosophies, but there are many things where our passions and our views align, and I have appreciated that very much. Same with Senator Conway. I would say I didn't know him well in the other chamber, but I think I've enjoyed our work here together a lot, and that has been really special, and hopefully will continue in the future. And then I would have to say, a special appreciation for Senator O'Ban, amazing individual, the best thing that I have ever done for this body, was getting him here. And I'm going to close with a couple of philosophical thoughts, because Senator Hewitt said I could say anything I wanted, right? We all know the easiest things for us to do is nothing. Delay, defer. Those are the tactics that are the easiest to carry out. We all know that getting things done, finding the path to yes, is the hardest possible thing for us to do. And I think that we, jointly, this institution, I was thinking a lot about my service here, and my service with you, and one of the things that concerns me a little bit is some of the erosion on our work. We've seen a lot more initiatives by the people. I'm a big fan of initiatives by the people, but I think we need to be careful. If we are not responsive, if we are not doing our job, I think we are going to get a lot more initiatives, and I think we all know initiatives are an important check and balance, but not the perfect way to make law. You can't strike those delicate compromises. And I think we're seeing other bodies, both counties and cities, doing things that I think are eroding some of our authority and some of our responsibility. Because as I thought about it, what makes Washington State? We're not just a conglomeration of counties. I think we embody Washington State. That Senator Dansel and I can meet here, and talk with Senator Carlyle, wherever he went, and that we can come together and try to find the right things for all of our citizens. I get a little concerned when I feel that there is such a tendency now to act solely in your district's best interest. To only look at it through that lens. We have the responsibility to bring our districts here, but nobody else has the unique responsibility to do what is right for the entire state of Washington, for all of our citizens. Our job is to find those compromises and do that. So as you go forward, know I am with you in spirit and in prayer. And I wish you all the very best. And it has been an absolute privilege to serve with you. Thank you, Mr. President."

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mrs. Lauren Dammeier, wife of Senator Dammeier; Mr. Brent Dammeier, son of Senator Dammeier; Mrs. Molly Dammeier, daughter-in-law of Senator Dammeier; and Mr. Craig Dammeier, son of Senator Dammeier, who were seated in the gallery.

Sec. 4. RCW 26.44.030 and 2015 1st sp.s. c 6 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(b) When any person, in his or her official supervisory capacity with a nonprofit or for-profit organization, has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect caused by a person over whom he or she regularly exercises supervisory authority, he or she shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency, provided that the person alleged to have caused the abuse or neglect is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the organization and coaches, trains, educates, or counsels a child or children or regularly has unsupervised access to a child or children as part of the employment, contract, or voluntary service. No one shall be required to report under this section when he or she obtains the information solely as a result of a privileged communication as provided in RCW 5.60.060.

Nothing in this subsection (1)(b) shall limit a person's duty to report under (a) of this subsection.

For the purposes of this subsection, the following definitions apply:

(i) "Official supervisory capacity" means a position, status, or role created, recognized, or designated by any nonprofit or for-profit organization, either for financial gain or without financial gain, whose scope includes, but is not limited to, overseeing, directing, or managing another person who is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the nonprofit or for-profit organization.

(ii) "Organization" includes a sole proprietor, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, association, financial institution, governmental entity, other than the federal government, and any other individual or group engaged in a trade, occupation, enterprise, governmental function, charitable function, or similar activity in this state whether or not the entity is operated as a nonprofit or for-profit entity.

(iii) "Reasonable cause" means a person witnesses or receives a credible written or oral report alleging abuse, including sexual contact, or neglect of a child.

(iv) "Regularly exercises supervisory authority" means to act in his or her official supervisory capacity on an ongoing or continuing basis with regards to a particular person.

(v) "Sexual contact" has the same meaning as in RCW 9A.44.010.

(c) The reporting requirement also applies to department of corrections personnel who, in the course of their employment, observe offenders or the children with whom the offenders are in contact. If, as a result of observations or information received in the course of his or her employment, any department of corrections personnel has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, he or she shall report the incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(d) The reporting requirement shall also apply to any adult who has reasonable cause to believe that a child who resides with them, has suffered severe abuse, and is able or capable of making a report. For the purposes of this subsection, "severe abuse" means any of the following: Any single act of abuse that causes physical trauma of sufficient severity that, if left untreated, could cause death; any single act of sexual abuse that causes significant bleeding, deep bruising, or significant external or internal swelling; or more than one act of physical abuse, each of which causes bleeding, deep bruising, significant external or internal swelling, bone fracture, or unconsciousness.

(e) The reporting requirement also applies to guardians ad litem, including court-appointed special advocates, appointed under Titles 11((,)) and 13((,)) RCW and ((26 RCW)) this title, who in the course of their representation of children in these actions have reasonable cause to believe a child has been abused or neglected.

(f) The reporting requirement in (a) of this subsection also applies to administrative and academic or athletic department employees, including student employees, of institutions of higher education, as defined in RCW 28B.10.016, and of private institutions of higher education.

(g) The report must be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than forty-eight hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that the child has suffered abuse or neglect. The report must include the identity of the accused if known.

(2) The reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does not apply to the discovery of abuse or neglect that occurred during childhood if it is discovered after the child has become an adult. However, if there is reasonable cause to believe other children are or may be at risk of abuse or neglect by the accused, the reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does apply.

(3) Any other person who has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect may report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department of social and health services as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(4) The department, upon receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency, including military law enforcement, if appropriate. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the department shall notify the proper law enforcement agency within twenty-four hours after a report is received by the department. In all other cases, the department shall notify the law enforcement agency within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the department. If the department makes an oral report, a written report must also be made to the proper law enforcement agency within five days thereafter.

(5) Any law enforcement agency receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means, or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing as provided in RCW 26.44.040 to the proper county prosecutor or city attorney for appropriate action whenever the law enforcement agency's investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed. The law enforcement agency shall also notify the department of all reports received and the law enforcement agency's disposition of them. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within twenty-four hours. In all other cases, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the law enforcement agency.

(6) Any county prosecutor or city attorney receiving a report under subsection (5) of this section shall notify the victim, any persons the victim requests, and the local office of the department, of the decision to charge or decline to charge a crime, within five days of making the decision.

(7) The department may conduct ongoing case planning and consultation with those persons or agencies required to report under this section, with consultants designated by the department, and with designated representatives of Washington Indian tribes if the client information exchanged is pertinent to cases currently receiving child protective services. Upon request, the department shall conduct such planning and consultation with those persons required to report under this section if the department determines it is in the best interests of the child. Information considered privileged by statute and not directly related to reports required by this section must not be divulged without a valid written waiver of the privilege.

(8) Any case referred to the department by a physician licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW on the basis of an expert medical opinion that child abuse, neglect, or sexual assault has occurred and that the child's safety will be seriously endangered if returned home, the department shall file a dependency petition unless a second licensed physician of the parents' choice believes that such expert medical opinion is incorrect. If the parents fail to designate a second physician, the department may make the selection. If a physician finds that a child has suffered abuse or neglect but that such abuse or neglect does not constitute imminent danger to the child's health or safety, and the department agrees with the physician's assessment, the child may be left in the parents' home while the department proceeds with reasonable efforts to remedy parenting deficiencies.

(9) Persons or agencies exchanging information under subsection (7) of this section shall not further disseminate or release the information except as authorized by state or federal statute. Violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor.

(10) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect, the department shall make reasonable efforts to learn the name, address, and telephone number of each person making a report of abuse or neglect under this section. The department shall provide assurances of appropriate confidentiality of the identification of persons reporting under this section. If the department is unable to learn the information required under this subsection, the department shall only investigate cases in which:

(a) The department believes there is a serious threat of substantial harm to the child;

(b) The report indicates conduct involving a criminal offense that has, or is about to occur, in which the child is the victim; or

(c) The department has a prior founded report of abuse or neglect with regard to a member of the household that is within three years of receipt of the referral.

(11)(a) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect, the department shall use one of the following discrete responses to reports of child abuse or neglect that are screened in and accepted for departmental response:

(i) Investigation; or

(ii) Family assessment.

(b) In making the response in (a) of this subsection the department shall:

(i) Use a method by which to assign cases to investigation or family assessment which are based on an array of factors that may include the presence of: Imminent danger, level of risk, number of previous child abuse or neglect reports, or other presenting case characteristics, such as the type of alleged maltreatment and the age of the alleged victim. Age of the alleged victim shall not be used as the sole criterion for determining case assignment;

(ii) Allow for a change in response assignment based on new information that alters risk or safety level;

(iii) Allow families assigned to family assessment to choose to receive an investigation rather than a family assessment;

(iv) Provide a full investigation if a family refuses the initial family assessment;

(v) Provide voluntary services to families based on the results of the initial family assessment. If a family refuses voluntary services, and the department cannot identify specific facts related to risk or safety that warrant assignment to investigation under this chapter, and there is not a history of reports of child abuse or neglect related to the family, then the department must close the family assessment response case. However, if at any time the department identifies risk or safety factors that warrant an investigation under this chapter, then the family assessment response case must be reassigned to investigation;

(vi) Conduct an investigation, and not a family assessment, in response to an allegation that, the department determines based on the intake assessment:

(A) Poses a risk of "imminent harm" consistent with the definition provided in RCW 13.34.050, which includes, but is not limited to, sexual abuse and sexual exploitation as defined in this chapter;

(B) Poses a serious threat of substantial harm to a child;

(C) Constitutes conduct involving a criminal offense that has, or is about to occur, in which the child is the victim;

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(D) The child is an abandoned child as defined in RCW 13.34.030;

(E) The child is an adjudicated dependent child as defined in RCW 13.34.030, or the child is in a facility that is licensed, operated, or certified for care of children by the department under chapter 74.15 RCW, or by the department of early learning.

(c) The department may not be held civilly liable for the decision to respond to an allegation of child abuse or neglect by using the family assessment response under this section unless the state or its officers, agents, or employees acted with reckless disregard.

(12)(a) For reports of alleged abuse or neglect that are accepted for investigation by the department, the investigation shall be conducted within time frames established by the department in rule. In no case shall the investigation extend longer than ninety days from the date the report is received, unless the investigation is being conducted under a written protocol pursuant to RCW 26.44.180 and a law enforcement agency or prosecuting attorney has determined that a longer investigation period is necessary. At the completion of the investigation, the department shall make a finding that the report of child abuse or neglect is founded or unfounded.

(b) If a court in a civil or criminal proceeding, considering the same facts or circumstances as are contained in the report being investigated by the department, makes a judicial finding by a preponderance of the evidence or higher that the subject of the pending investigation has abused or neglected the child, the department shall adopt the finding in its investigation.

(13) For reports of alleged abuse or neglect that are responded to through family assessment response, the department shall:

(a) Provide the family with a written explanation of the procedure for assessment of the child and the family and its purposes;

(b) Collaborate with the family to identify family strengths, resources, and service needs, and develop a service plan with the goal of reducing risk of harm to the child and improving or restoring family well-being;

(c) Complete the family assessment response within forty-five days of receiving the report; however, upon parental agreement, the family assessment response period may be extended up to ninety days;

(d) Offer services to the family in a manner that makes it clear that acceptance of the services is voluntary;

(e) Implement the family assessment response in a consistent and cooperative manner;

(f) Have the parent or guardian sign an agreement to participate in services before services are initiated that informs the parents of their rights under family assessment response, all of their options, and the options the department has if the parents do not sign the consent form.

(14)(a) In conducting an investigation or family assessment of alleged abuse or neglect, the department or law enforcement agency:

(i) May interview children. If the department determines that the response to the allegation will be family assessment response, the preferred practice is to request a parent's, guardian's, or custodian's permission to interview the child before conducting the child interview unless doing so would compromise the safety of the child or the integrity of the assessment. The interviews may be conducted on school premises, at day-care facilities, at the child's home, or at other suitable locations outside of the presence of parents. If the allegation is investigated, parental notification of the interview must occur at the earliest possible point in the investigation that will not jeopardize the safety or protection of the child or the course of the investigation. Prior to commencing the interview the department or law enforcement agency shall determine whether the child wishes a third party to be present for the interview and, if so, shall make reasonable efforts to accommodate the child's wishes. Unless the child objects, the department or law enforcement agency shall make reasonable efforts to include a third party in any interview so long as the presence of the third party will not jeopardize the course of the investigation; and

(ii) Shall have access to all relevant records of the child in the possession of mandated reporters and their employees.

(b) The Washington state school directors' association shall adopt a model policy addressing protocols when an interview, as authorized by this subsection, is conducted on school premises. In formulating its policy, the association shall consult with the department and the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs.

(15) If a report of alleged abuse or neglect is founded and constitutes the third founded report received by the department within the last twelve months involving the same child or family, the department shall promptly notify the office of the family and children's ombuds of the contents of the report. The department shall also notify the ombuds of the disposition of the report.

(16) In investigating and responding to allegations of child abuse and neglect, the department may conduct background checks as authorized by state and federal law.

(17)(a) The department shall maintain investigation records and conduct timely and periodic reviews of all founded cases of abuse and neglect. The department shall maintain a log of screened-out nonabusive cases.

(b) In the family assessment response, the department shall not make a finding as to whether child abuse or neglect occurred. No one shall be named as a perpetrator and no investigative finding shall be entered in the department's child abuse or neglect database.

(18) The department shall use a risk assessment process when investigating alleged child abuse and neglect referrals. The department shall present the risk factors at all hearings in which the placement of a dependent child is an issue. Substance abuse must be a risk factor.

(19) Upon receipt of a report of alleged abuse or neglect the law enforcement agency may arrange to interview the person making the report and any collateral sources to determine if any malice is involved in the reporting.

(20) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect involving a child under the court's jurisdiction under chapter 13.34 RCW, the department shall promptly notify the child's guardian ad litem of the report's contents. The department shall also notify the guardian ad litem of the disposition of the report. For purposes of this subsection, "guardian ad litem" has the meaning provided in RCW 13.34.030.

(21) The department shall make efforts as soon as practicable to determine the military status of parents whose children are subject to abuse or neglect allegations. If the department determines that a parent or guardian is in the military, the department shall notify a department of defense family advocacy program that there is an allegation of abuse and neglect that is screened in and open for investigation that relates to that military parent or guardian."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "youth;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 74.15.020 and 26.44.030; adding a new section to chapter 24.03 RCW; and creating a new section."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 24.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Host home programs have the same meaning as described in RCW 74.15.020.

(2) Host home programs shall register with the secretary of state's office. This registration may occur when the host home program files articles of incorporation or registers as a nonprofit organization under this chapter.

(3) The host home program registration must include a notarized statement by the host home program that it meets all of the statutory requirements as provided for in RCW 74.15.020.

(4) The secretary of state has no duty to confirm that a host home program is meeting its statutory requirements.

(5) Any filing under this section does not imply an endorsement by the secretary of state.

(6) The secretary of state may adopt rules as necessary to carry out its duties under this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 26.44.030 and 2015 1st sp.s. c 6 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When any practitioner, county coroner or medical examiner, law enforcement officer, professional school personnel, registered or licensed nurse, social service counselor, psychologist, pharmacist, employee of the department of early learning, licensed or certified child care providers or their employees, employee of the department, juvenile probation officer, placement and liaison specialist, responsible living skills program staff, HOPE center staff, ((or)) state family and children's ombuds or any volunteer in the ombuds's office, or host home program has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, he or she shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(b) When any person, in his or her official supervisory capacity with a nonprofit or for-profit organization, has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect caused by a person over whom he or she regularly exercises supervisory authority, he or she shall report such incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency, provided that the person alleged to have caused the abuse or neglect is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the organization and coaches, trains, educates, or counsels a child or children or regularly has unsupervised access to a child or children as part of the employment, contract, or voluntary service. No one shall be required to report under this section when he or she obtains the information solely as a result of a privileged communication as provided in RCW 5.60.060.

Nothing in this subsection (1)(b) shall limit a person's duty to report under (a) of this subsection.

For the purposes of this subsection, the following definitions apply:

(i) "Official supervisory capacity" means a position, status, or role created, recognized, or designated by any nonprofit or for-profit organization, either for financial gain or without financial gain, whose scope includes, but is not limited to, overseeing, directing, or managing another person who is employed by, contracted by, or volunteers with the nonprofit or for-profit organization.

(ii) "Organization" includes a sole proprietor, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, association, financial institution, governmental entity, other than the federal government, and any other individual or group engaged in a trade, occupation, enterprise, governmental function, charitable function, or similar activity in this state whether or not the entity is operated as a nonprofit or for-profit entity.

(iii) "Reasonable cause" means a person witnesses or receives a credible written or oral report alleging abuse, including sexual contact, or neglect of a child.

(iv) "Regularly exercises supervisory authority" means to act in his or her official supervisory capacity on an ongoing or continuing basis with regards to a particular person.

(v) "Sexual contact" has the same meaning as in RCW 9A.44.010.

(c) The reporting requirement also applies to department of corrections personnel who, in the course of their employment, observe offenders or the children with whom the offenders are in contact. If, as a result of observations or information received in the course of his or her employment, any department of corrections personnel has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect, he or she shall report the incident, or cause a report to be made, to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(d) The reporting requirement shall also apply to any adult who has reasonable cause to believe that a child who resides with them, has suffered severe abuse, and is able or capable of making a report. For the purposes of this subsection, "severe abuse" means any of the following: Any single act of abuse that causes physical trauma of sufficient severity that, if left untreated, could cause death; any single act of sexual abuse that causes significant bleeding, deep bruising, or significant external or internal swelling; or more than one act of physical abuse, each of which causes bleeding, deep bruising, significant external or internal swelling, bone fracture, or unconsciousness.

(e) The reporting requirement also applies to guardians ad litem, including court-appointed special advocates, appointed under Titles 11((,)) and 13((,)) RCW and ((26 RCW)) this title, who in the course of their representation of children in these actions have reasonable cause to believe a child has been abused or neglected.

(f) The reporting requirement in (a) of this subsection also applies to administrative and academic or athletic department employees, including student employees, of institutions of higher education, as defined in RCW 28B.10.016, and of private institutions of higher education.

(g) The report must be made at the first opportunity, but in no case longer than forty-eight hours after there is reasonable cause to believe that the child has suffered abuse or neglect. The report must include the identity of the accused if known.

(2) The reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does not apply to the discovery of abuse or neglect that occurred during childhood if it is discovered after the child has become an adult. However, if there is reasonable cause to believe other children are or may be at risk of abuse or neglect by the accused, the reporting requirement of subsection (1) of this section does apply.

(3) Any other person who has reasonable cause to believe that a child has suffered abuse or neglect may report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency or to the department of social and health services as provided in RCW 26.44.040.

(4) The department, upon receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident to the proper law enforcement agency, including military law enforcement, if appropriate. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the department shall notify the proper law enforcement agency within twenty-four hours after a report is received by the department. In all other cases, the department shall notify the law enforcement agency within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the department. If the department makes an oral report, a written report must also be made to the proper law enforcement agency within five days thereafter.

(5) Any law enforcement agency receiving a report of an incident of alleged abuse or neglect pursuant to this chapter, involving a child who has died or has had physical injury or injuries inflicted upon him or her other than by accidental means, or who has been subjected to alleged sexual abuse, shall report such incident in writing as provided in RCW 26.44.040 to the proper county prosecutor or city attorney for appropriate action whenever the law enforcement agency's investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed. The law enforcement agency shall also notify the department of all reports received and the law enforcement agency's disposition of them. In emergency cases, where the child's welfare is endangered, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within twenty-four hours. In all other cases, the law enforcement agency shall notify the department within seventy-two hours after a report is received by the law enforcement agency.

(6) Any county prosecutor or city attorney receiving a report under subsection (5) of this section shall notify the victim, any persons the victim requests, and the local office of the department, of the decision to charge or decline to charge a crime, within five days of making the decision.

(7) The department may conduct ongoing case planning and consultation with those persons or agencies required to report

under this section, with consultants designated by the department, and with designated representatives of Washington Indian tribes if the client information exchanged is pertinent to cases currently receiving child protective services. Upon request, the department shall conduct such planning and consultation with those persons required to report under this section if the department determines it is in the best interests of the child. Information considered privileged by statute and not directly related to reports required by this section must not be divulged without a valid written waiver of the privilege.

(8) Any case referred to the department by a physician licensed under chapter 18.57 or 18.71 RCW on the basis of an expert medical opinion that child abuse, neglect, or sexual assault has occurred and that the child's safety will be seriously endangered if returned home, the department shall file a dependency petition unless a second licensed physician of the parents' choice believes that such expert medical opinion is incorrect. If the parents fail to designate a second physician, the department may make the selection. If a physician finds that a child has suffered abuse or neglect but that such abuse or neglect does not constitute imminent danger to the child's health or safety, and the department agrees with the physician's assessment, the child may be left in the parents' home while the department proceeds with reasonable efforts to remedy parenting deficiencies.

(9) Persons or agencies exchanging information under subsection (7) of this section shall not further disseminate or release the information except as authorized by state or federal statute. Violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor.

(10) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect, the department shall make reasonable efforts to learn the name, address, and telephone number of each person making a report of abuse or neglect under this section. The department shall provide assurances of appropriate confidentiality of the identification of persons reporting under this section. If the department is unable to learn the information required under this subsection, the department shall only investigate cases in which:

(a) The department believes there is a serious threat of substantial harm to the child;

(b) The report indicates conduct involving a criminal offense that has, or is about to occur, in which the child is the victim; or

(c) The department has a prior founded report of abuse or neglect with regard to a member of the household that is within three years of receipt of the referral.

(11)(a) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect, the department shall use one of the following discrete responses to reports of child abuse or neglect that are screened in and accepted for departmental response:

(i) Investigation; or

(ii) Family assessment.

(b) In making the response in (a) of this subsection the department shall:

(i) Use a method by which to assign cases to investigation or family assessment which are based on an array of factors that may include the presence of: Imminent danger, level of risk, number of previous child abuse or neglect reports, or other presenting case characteristics, such as the type of alleged maltreatment and the age of the alleged victim. Age of the alleged victim shall not be used as the sole criterion for determining case assignment;

(ii) Allow for a change in response assignment based on new information that alters risk or safety level;

(iii) Allow families assigned to family assessment to choose to receive an investigation rather than a family assessment;

(iv) Provide a full investigation if a family refuses the initial family assessment;

(v) Provide voluntary services to families based on the results of the initial family assessment. If a family refuses voluntary services, and the department cannot identify specific facts related to risk or safety that warrant assignment to investigation under this chapter, and there is not a history of reports of child abuse or neglect related to the family, then the department must close the family assessment response case. However, if at any time the department identifies risk or safety factors that warrant an investigation under this chapter, then the family assessment response case must be reassigned to investigation;

(vi) Conduct an investigation, and not a family assessment, in response to an allegation that, the department determines based on the intake assessment:

(A) Poses a risk of "imminent harm" consistent with the definition provided in RCW 13.34.050, which includes, but is not limited to, sexual abuse and sexual exploitation as defined in this chapter;

(B) Poses a serious threat of substantial harm to a child;

(C) Constitutes conduct involving a criminal offense that has, or is about to occur, in which the child is the victim;

(D) The child is an abandoned child as defined in RCW 13.34.030;

(E) The child is an adjudicated dependent child as defined in RCW 13.34.030, or the child is in a facility that is licensed, operated, or certified for care of children by the department under chapter 74.15 RCW, or by the department of early learning.

(c) The department may not be held civilly liable for the decision to respond to an allegation of child abuse or neglect by using the family assessment response under this section unless the state or its officers, agents, or employees acted with reckless disregard.

(12)(a) For reports of alleged abuse or neglect that are accepted for investigation by the department, the investigation shall be conducted within time frames established by the department in rule. In no case shall the investigation extend longer than ninety days from the date the report is received, unless the investigation is being conducted under a written protocol pursuant to RCW 26.44.180 and a law enforcement agency or prosecuting attorney has determined that a longer investigation period is necessary. At the completion of the investigation, the department shall make a finding that the report of child abuse or neglect is founded or unfounded.

(b) If a court in a civil or criminal proceeding, considering the same facts or circumstances as are contained in the report being investigated by the department, makes a judicial finding by a preponderance of the evidence or higher that the subject of the pending investigation has abused or neglected the child, the department shall adopt the finding in its investigation.

(13) For reports of alleged abuse or neglect that are responded to through family assessment response, the department shall:

(a) Provide the family with a written explanation of the procedure for assessment of the child and the family and its purposes;

(b) Collaborate with the family to identify family strengths, resources, and service needs, and develop a service plan with the goal of reducing risk of harm to the child and improving or restoring family well-being;

(c) Complete the family assessment response within forty-five days of receiving the report; however, upon parental agreement, the family assessment response period may be extended up to ninety days;

(d) Offer services to the family in a manner that makes it clear that acceptance of the services is voluntary;

(e) Implement the family assessment response in a consistent and cooperative manner;

(f) Have the parent or guardian sign an agreement to participate in services before services are initiated that informs the parents of their rights under family assessment response, all of their options, and the options the department has if the parents do not sign the consent form.

(14)(a) In conducting an investigation or family assessment of alleged abuse or neglect, the department or law enforcement agency:

(i) May interview children. If the department determines that the response to the allegation will be family assessment response, the preferred practice is to request a parent's, guardian's, or custodian's permission to interview the child before conducting the child interview unless doing so would compromise the safety of the child or the integrity of the assessment. The interviews may be conducted on school premises, at day-care facilities, at the child's home, or at other suitable locations outside of the presence of parents. If the allegation is investigated, parental notification of the interview must occur at the earliest possible point in the investigation that will not jeopardize the safety or protection of the child or the course of the investigation. Prior to commencing the interview the department or law enforcement agency shall determine whether the child wishes a third party to be present for the interview and, if so, shall make reasonable efforts to accommodate the child's wishes. Unless the child objects, the department or law enforcement agency shall make reasonable efforts to include a third party in any interview so long as the presence of the third party will not jeopardize the course of the investigation; and

(ii) Shall have access to all relevant records of the child in the possession of mandated reporters and their employees.

(b) The Washington state school directors' association shall adopt a model policy addressing protocols when an interview, as authorized by this subsection, is conducted on school premises. In formulating its policy, the association shall consult with the department and the Washington association of sheriffs and police chiefs.

(15) If a report of alleged abuse or neglect is founded and constitutes the third founded report received by the department within the last twelve months involving the same child or family, the department shall promptly notify the office of the family and children's ombuds of the contents of the report. The department shall also notify the ombuds of the disposition of the report.

(16) In investigating and responding to allegations of child abuse and neglect, the department may conduct background checks as authorized by state and federal law.

(17)(a) The department shall maintain investigation records and conduct timely and periodic reviews of all founded cases of abuse and neglect. The department shall maintain a log of screened-out nonabusive cases.

(b) In the family assessment response, the department shall not make a finding as to whether child abuse or neglect occurred. No one shall be named as a perpetrator and no investigative finding shall be entered in the department's child abuse or neglect database.

(18) The department shall use a risk assessment process when investigating alleged child abuse and neglect referrals. The department shall present the risk factors at all hearings in which the placement of a dependent child is an issue. Substance abuse must be a risk factor.

(19) Upon receipt of a report of alleged abuse or neglect the law enforcement agency may arrange to interview the person making the report and any collateral sources to determine if any malice is involved in the reporting.

(20) Upon receiving a report of alleged abuse or neglect involving a child under the court's jurisdiction under chapter 13.34 RCW, the department shall promptly notify the child's guardian ad litem of the report's contents. The department shall also notify the guardian ad litem of the disposition of the report. For purposes of this subsection, "guardian ad litem" has the meaning provided in RCW 13.34.030.

(21) The department shall make efforts as soon as practicable to determine the military status of parents whose children are subject to abuse or neglect allegations. If the department determines that a parent or guardian is in the military, the department shall notify a department of defense family advocacy program that there is an allegation of abuse and neglect that is screened in and open for investigation that relates to that military parent or guardian."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "I think all of our colleagues on the floor and many in the galleries, know that our good friend Mike Hewitt has chosen to spend the next part of his career exclusively with his lovely wife Corrie, and there are going to be a lot of steelhead on the rivers that are going to be terrorized, but never fried just terrorized a little bit, because unlike those of us that like to eat fish, Senator Hewitt is just going to catch them and release them for practice. I think that's an admirable goal to be in a new home on the river, grand on his great, great fishing season, maybe he'll invite you. But I've learned so much here from Senator Hewitt. Before I became the leader of my caucus, I've taken bits and pieces of my leadership styles from many, and Senator Hewitt has always said you can accomplish anything if you don't care who gets the credit, that was Ronald Regan, repeated by Mike Hewitt repeatedly. And it taught me a lot about how we get things done here in the Senate. How we in Eastern Washington can get things done. Those of you who know Mike, know how passionate he's been about veterans, how much he's cared about higher education. I didn't know until I started planning for today, that Mike had been on the school board. One of those things you learn about your friends, I knew he was successful in business and many other places, but I learned that today. He's a man that I would say I look up to, but really I just look him in the eyes. That's really an important thing that Mike has been here for me, been here for all of you for so long. But as you think of all these things about Mike Hewitt, remember that for two days, March second and third, 2012, he was Majority Leader of this floor, so he really did get a chance to be the Majority Leader. He should have been the Majority Leader for a lot longer, because I couldn't have been here without Mike Hewitt."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "Well thank you, Mr. President. I just want to give a little vignette about Senator Hewitt here, because I go back to when we were actually having the Senate over in the office buildings over there after the earthquake. And he had been serving on a committee with me and Senator Long and we were doing a bill on drug treatment instead of sentencing, drug treatment alternatives. And this was a bill that at that point in time that was rather controversial because it kind of sounded soft on crime, because we were going to let people go to treatment instead of go to prison. I had no idea what he was thinking about this, but we went through the vote and he voted for it. And it impressed the heck out of me, and I went and asked him, and he said 'If you and Senator Long are voting for it, that's got to be good policy. I trust you guys.' He has been somebody that has been able to see that spending a little money on prevention can actually make our public safer and I really appreciate your growth Mike in that. And it didn't take long for you to grow. I mean you figured it out pretty quick and that is such an important principle and I really appreciate your open mindedness to doing that. We've had a lot of other great accomplishments too, but that's the one that sticks out in my mind. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: "Thank you, Mr. President. So as we talked earlier on this floor, I'm proud of the fact that I was privileged to attend the United States Naval Academy. The reason that is significant for me, is because it is a place that values leadership above everything else. That is the ethos of that place, so I have been a student of leadership. I have served under some exceptional leaders, and I have served under some not so exceptional leaders. But I will tell you, the reason I am in this body, is because of Mike Hewitt and his leadership. I watched him from afar. I saw the team that he was able to build. I believe in the vision that he cast, so for me, it's all about leadership. And then when I came here, I got another lesson in leadership. One of the most powerful lessons, I think in our country's history, is when George Washington willingly stepped down from being the President of the United States, I've always asked, 'Would I do that?' I hope the answer would be yes, but what a powerful statement. And when Mike Hewitt willingly stepped down from what could have been the majority leader position, because he felt it was in the best interest of our caucus, that was one of the most selfless acts of leadership that I have ever seen. So I have been very blessed to serve with him, and he does throw a heck of a fun tour of the wineries of Walla Walla as well."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Well thank you, Mr. President. Well I, too, would like to express my appreciation for having a great relationship with Senator Hewitt over the years as a colleague and as a friend and also having the great opportunity to get acquainted with his wife Cory who for years managed the fantastic fair over in Walla Walla. Senator Hewitt has always represented his area of the state exceptionally well, he's a great ambassador for southeast Washington, the wine industry, the community college, the agricultural area, the history, and higher education and just a great ambassador for your area. And Senator Hewitt and I were the two capital budget leads for a couple of years, maybe longer I can't remember. And it was a total pleasure to work together. And we agreed on everything, it was a total pleasure so that was fun. And I sure wish you and Cory, I wish Senator Hewitt and his wife Cory a wonderful retirement and I know they are going to have a lot of fun, and I hope you take lots of great memories with you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "Well I want to express my admiration for Senator Mike Hewitt. You know we are losing some special members from this body, and like Senator Don Benton, like Senator Karen Fraser, like Senator Bruce Dammeier, Mike Hewitt is a great public servant and a great state legislator. And you know on our side, I think that Don Benton is the fighter, I think that Bruce Dammeier is the statesman, and I think of Mike Hewitt as the architect. And I think what he built with our team, which is the only Republican majority in the legislative body on the west coast, I think is monumental. And, sometimes I don't know whether to hug him or blame him on all my drives across the state, and all the time away from the family and the burdens and the challenges we go through, because he's one of the people that got me here in our team effort. And if you think about how he built this team, how he found people that fit and then that act of leadership, that act of architecture, to make this thing work and then to step aside at that critical juncture, I just think that's monumental. It's telling. And if there were some sort of MVP award given for state legislators across the country, I think this would be your year to be the MVP if not previously. So, thank you for what you've done for our state and thank you for being the architect of what we're trying to do here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pearson: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well Senator Hewitt and I, we both got elected the same year, back in 2001, myself in the other chamber and Senator Hewitt in the Senate. I always admired him and at times we were at events and I talked to him though he was a wonderful guy. And twelve years later when my Senate seat came up and I was running for Senate, I was very excited because I wanted to serve under his leadership, and as has been mentioned earlier, he did step down and everything but to my delight when I was made chairman of Natural Resources, Senator Hewitt was on that committee. And one thing I will never forget, because even though Senator Hewitt and I have a different philosophy regarding wild fish and my belief of hatchery fish, I had kind of a contentious hearing, and it didn't bother me, but one of the people presenting was attacking me personally and I guess my beliefs. And was kind of getting out of hand a little bit. And I didn't want things to get out of hand and I gaveled it down, tried to correct the person. And I look to my left and Mike is raising his hand so I figured I better let him speak. I go, 'Senator Hewitt' and how he handled it I have never forgotten. He said, 'How dare you?' I've given to your group and I believe exactly with you but how dare you attack the chairman.' That stuck with me because of his respect for decorum and everything and I've never forgotten that - that Mike Hewitt had my back and he honored the position and everything. I will certainly miss him. It's been a true delight having him on the committee and serving with him and conferring with him and seeking counsel at certain times, but I'm also delighted for him. I know that spending your time with your wife, your best friend is something I look forward to someday, but I certainly will miss Senator Hewitt. And I certainly know he's had my back. And I was very much blessed for it. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "Mr. President, I met Mike ten years ago and he was one of the first people that reached out to me when I was a freshman in this body. And we had our differences at first but you know you taught me a lot. And what I learned about Mike Hewitt is even though he had to represent his caucus, he was willing to reach across the aisle. And there was a time when we had our recession and he did reach across the aisle and we worked together to build a bipartisan budget. And, at the same time, we passed good pieces of legislation working with the Governor, with UI reform, worker's comp. reform, that did protect the worker, and at the same time did protect the fund. But one thing you may not know about, is that during these hard times of the recession, even the Governor's budget, I think Apple Health, took a hit when she put her proposal out. And Senator Hewitt made a promise to me as we were working together. And that was to protect Apple Health for kids. And he held on to that promise. And that's why we kept Apple Health for kids during the recession. Mike, he taught me a lot. And there's two things you taught me: One is, it might be a good idea, but it's probably an unfunded mandate. That was one you taught me. The other thing you taught me, was something that Lisa Brown taught me and it was weird because it was almost verbatim. I had to decide,

SIXTIETH DAY, MARCH 10, 2016

2016 REGULAR SESSION

I was trying to decide early on, do I go the chairmanship route, or do I go the leadership route, because those are really the only two routes you can go through as a senator. And you said, 'You should do the chairman route, because if you go through a leadership route, you've got to deal with the crazy people.' So I learned that from you and from Lisa Brown. I wish you well. You've done good work for the state, and you deserve a good retirement."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Well first of all I have to say there's too dog gone many goodbyes this year. You know, when we're talking about Senator Fraser, Senator Benton, Senator Dammeier, Senator Hewitt, and you as well, that's just too dog gone many goodbyes. But I want to talk about Mike Hewitt here because he's the reason I'm here. And I'll never forget the first time I met him was up in Tukwila. And he started pummeling me with questions and then wanted me to run for office and I had to take a little while to think about it. But ever since I've been here he's always said something to me that I've always thought was very, very important, and it was to keep your friends close and your enemies closer. And when you think about that I really don't know that I have any enemies down here, hopefully not, but it is about keeping your friends close and learning what other people think and how they react to things, etc. And Mike I thank you very much for that, but what I really admire about you Mike Hewitt is your sense of humor and your ability to make a comment on something that is extremely controversial or whatever it may be, and you'll turn it in to something that makes you think about it in a different way, in a light way. When I found out that Rodney Tom wasn't running for office again, and I knew that he sat next to Hewitt in Ways & Means, I hotfooted it over and plunked myself down in that chair because I wanted to sit next to that man because of his knowledge and his viewpoints. And sitting next to him in Ways & Means has been a total honor. I've learned so much and I really like it when he hears somebody testifying and he says, 'Good job. That was a good testimony.' I never really thought about it that way until he started me thinking about it that way, and I've learned a lot from you Mike Hewitt. I totally love you Mike Hewitt and I will miss you. Thank you for being here."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: "You know there's some people that touch you. When I was asked to run for the Senate, Mike was here in the wings and I had a chat with him. He was with his wife after coming back from a very serious health issue. I have such admiration for him because he never, ever quit working. His constant aim and goal was for the wellbeing of all the people here in the Senate and especially those of us who were hoping to make the transition. I have so much respect for this man from the integrity he has in the job that he does. His sense of humor has been mentioned, but also the fact that I hope from here on out, Mike, I will always have a place to go and have wine. I wish you well my friend."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: "Thank you, Mr. President. So, Senator Hewitt, Cory, and Jeri May, that is the trifecta of talent around here. Wow. I've always appreciated your honesty, your direction, your guidance, and just having my office right down the hall from yours has just been an invaluable asset of learning how to get around this place. And if you wanted something to happen, all you had to do was go talk to Jeri May and talk to Senator Hewitt and they would help you figure out how to get there. And thank you for your honesty."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Litzow: "Mike was my first leader, the first leader that I had coming in new to the Senate, and he's been a tremendous example of how to act as a statesman. And he taught me three things: Representing your district is an honor, act accordingly; number two, resist with all your might the urge to speak on the floor; and number three, if you cannot resist the urge to speak, please button your jacket when you do. I will always remember that. Thank you, thank you for your service and thank you for serving with us."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Well thank you. I first met Mike when he was at his kick-off announcement in the Tri-Cities and I said lots of nice things about somebody I didn't know anything about. Now he's here and I can say some nice things too, but I want to add one other rule that I believe Mike has, is don't believe your press releases. And I think that's a very important one for all members, but I have something if I may read? This is from Rebecca Japhet, the former director of communications here for the Senate Republicans, and I will read: 'Going on a media tour with Senator Hewitt was like going on a royal tour of the Sixteenth District. Senator Hewitt knew everyone, not just the media, he would introduce me to people everywhere we went from business owners, to college staff, to people walking down the sidewalk. He even pulled the car over one time along the road to introduce me to the infamous Izzy the Camel, just outside of Waitsburg. And if you don't know Izzy the Camel, you need to google it. I had to do that because I didn't know. I'll continue, 'It's such a joy to get to know those folks who adored Senator Hewitt and were so grateful to have him representing them in Olympia. I knew Senator Hewitt, but I didn't really get his influence and stature, no height joke intended here Senator, until I set foot in his district. Thank you for the great memories Senator Hewitt.' And I will just echo that, and just to remind you that, if you want good wine at a reasonable price, stop in Yakima Valley."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Well I came to the Senate at the same time that Senator Hewitt did. However, I had served four years in the other body. And our very first year, as many recall, we had the earthquake. So Senator Hewitt and I, along with another member, got to know each other very well, because I believe the desk that we sat on in the Pritchard building was probably as big as this desk except there were three of us sitting there. So we were in very, very tight corners and you honestly could hear each other breathe every minute, understood why they voted the way they did, and you do get to know somebody in close quarters. Ten years ago was my first year as caucus chair. Senator Hewitt was our leader. We had seventeen Republicans, and I give a lot of credit to Senator Hewitt to help put us in the majority. It takes a team to do that, but it takes a leader, leading the team. And, Senator Hewitt, you were the leader. He's great to work with and the greatest compliment he gave me was just a couple of weeks ago, when I gave him two bottles of wine from Lake Chelan from the father of my sons who helped make the wine.

And he said, 'This is really good.' So I will see you in Chelan at Tunnel Hill Winery. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you very much, Mr. President. Senator Becker has reminded us that a lot of the members are leaving this year and it's a sad time. And I just have to reflect a little bit. I think there are only two people in the chamber here, Senator Fraser, who is leaving, and Senator Hargrove, that have spent more time in the legislature and got to know more legislators over the years. But I want to say about Senator Hewitt that he's probably the most well-liked legislator that I've ever worked with. And it's pretty hard to be well-liked when you've got to be the tough guy, as the majority leader, or minority leader. When you have to be the tough guy it's hard to be well-liked. But when you work with people on that friendly basis across the aisle, and I've served on that side and I've served on this side, believe me it's not easy to do, but when you work with people you get things done. And Mike you've always represented your district so well and probably brought up the spirits of more people here in Olympia, than anyone I've ever met."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Mullet: "So I'll be brief, I know that's what Senator Hewitt appreciates. But I have to say when I ran for this office four years ago, I was kind of shocked by all the crazy things everybody said about me. I would get these flyers in the mail about me wanting to raise taxes and all these evil things I wanted to do, and I would go ask people, 'Who's behind all this?' And everybody would go, 'Well it's Senator Hewitt! He's the guy who masterminds all this stuff.' So when I finally got down here and then - this is what I love about the cafeteria below - is you get a chance to eat with everybody, and I'm having lunch with this guy and I'm just like this cannot be the same person. He's such a nice guy! And so he honestly is one of my favorite people to have lunch with in this building. I really enjoy it. And I just want to say I will miss you. And I have this dream of going to Walla Walla and seeing you driving around in the electric car, so we'll see if that ever comes to fruition or not. Thanks a lot."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hill: "Thank you, Mr. President. And I will also be brief, and my top button is buttoned. So many great things have been said about Mike. And, again, I came in with a handful of freshman and Mike's one of the big reasons we got elected. He worked his tail off. But I think being a leader in the legislature has got to be an incredibly tough job and your managerial style is one which says: Find good people, find them a place where they can succeed, and then leave them alone and just let them be themselves. And I think it's very hard to do because we're all rather uniquely driven and rather uniquely confident in our abilities. And for him to be able to do that and do that successfully I think is really a mark of a great manager. And you're going to be woefully missed and Cory thank you for loaning him to us. It's just tough, as Senator Becker said, so many people are leaving but I know you're off to better things. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Mr. President, there are three ways out of this body. You can choose to leave on your own, and I remember the first day that I met the late Senator McCaslin, I had not even shaken his hand, he walked up behind me at reorg and put this gargantuan hand on my shoulder and said to me, 'Young man, get out of here before you can't. And so I'm going to choose to do that. The other two ways to get out of here are: The people at home can send you home, and that's not pretty; the other way, is that the Lord can take you out of here and that's even uglier. So I'm choosing today, and in the future, to leave here under my own accord. I have a couple of things, and I have several thank yous I just have to say, but I want to say some things that I feel very strongly about, and right now I'm speaking to the voters and I'm hoping they're listening and I'm hoping they're watching. When you vote for an initiative please read it. Please read it and know what the consequences are. It has complicated our lives in the legislature dramatically and I've seen a huge influx of initiatives and it really is creating havoc with us down here. To the Supreme Court: Do your job, but please respect the separation of power, and I'm sure they'll hear that one. To my wife, Cory, Thank you very much. You've allowed me to do this for sixteen years, ten of those years when I was doing the fundraising as the leader and I was doing all the bad things that Senator Mullet talked about. I spent, I actually spent more time over here than I did in Walla Walla, and that's very hard on your body. It's hard on your mind. It's hard on your relationships. So I'm anxious to get back to that. When I came here there were only seven of you on this floor. That's how many are gone today. And we're seeing a huge number leave today as well, or hopefully Friday, or Saturday, or Sunday. I hope the Governor's listening. So, I think it speaks a lot about term limits. When I came here I didn't believe in term limits. I do believe in term limits today - I just believe we have them automatically. Mr. President, I have been so proud to serve in this body with you. I am so happy to call you my friend. I have been so happy to travel with you, both domestically and overseas. I've been proud to serve on the committee with you for the last sixteen years, you're economic development committee. But what I'm most proud of, is the decorum and the professionalism that you demand from this body. You can't eat on the floor. You used to not be able to drink, but at least we have a cup now. You require gentlemen to button their jackets, most of us. And you teach us to respect each other on the floor and you will not accept any other. Mr. President, you are a class act. Jeri May, you are the best kid. I'm telling you. You are the best. You do the job of three people. I get emails from her at five in the morning. I get emails from her at midnight. And I immediately say go home! You are absolutely the best I have ever had. It is unbelievable. She can take someone from district who is so mad at me, and they call and they are so mad, by the time she's done, they are licking out of her hand. It is remarkable. And I want to thank you so much for being there for me. Jerry Cooper, you've been back this is your second or third year. We have two Jerry's in my office, and we're the oldest office so we call ourselves the geriatrics. And Chase it was wonderful to have you here this year as well. I need to say a great big thank you to all the caucus staff on both sides of the aisle. These jobs are not possible without you. There is no possible way we could do what we do without you in the background. I want to say to other employees in the state, the ones we don't see but help us get through all of this, people in the mailroom, people in the Workroom, Code Reviser's, maintenance people, grounds, and the guys in security: You are awesome. You're all awesome. You're just fun to be around. I want to thank my constituents for sending me down here four times, I think. Sometimes I wish they hadn't, but you know what, it's been fun. To all of my friends up in the gallery that I've spent a lot of time with, many of you have become some of my best friends and I appreciate everything you've done, all the hospitality you've provided me. I was always at the top of the list for spending for dinners. That's okay. I never cared. There are, I remember a famous line in a movie, it was Lonesome Dove, and remember Augustus McCrae lost his leg along the way and he was in the hospital and Captain Woodrow called and was there and they were having a discussion and he said to him, 'She's been a hell of a party ain't she Captain?' And that's the way I feel. It's been a hell of a party for sixteen years. We've accomplished so many things and done so many good things for the people of this state, it's just remarkable. So to all of you I say, happy trails to you until we meet again. Happy trails to you. Keep smiling until then."

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mrs. Cory Hewitt, wife of Senator Hewitt, and Ms. Jeri May, his Legislative Assistant, who were seated in the gallery.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "So the President would like to share with you a great recipe addition by Cory. My wife uses it all the time and she wanted me to make sure I said thank you for the tip of putting chopped smokehouse almonds in your cole slaw. It makes it amazing. There's a tip for you. Write it down. Thank you very much for that. Senator Hewitt, I'm going to have a lot of time on my hands if you want to go fishing."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hargrove: "First of all, today is the first day that Senator Fain has let me down. He promised I could have the floor two hours and fifteen minutes ago. But I'm standing to say it's time for me to go. I will not be running again. I can't even get through the first line, it's ridiculous. So I wanted to go through a little history here. When I first came to the Legislature, Cherberg was the Lieutenant Governor. I served with John O'Brien in the House, and when I came to the Senate, I have a picture in my office coming down the center aisle, shaking hands with Irv Newhouse. So I've been here a while and over that time, my notes are disorganized. You know I'm not the type of person to read very much, but I've had some great staff and I want to mention a few that I think are in the all-star level of staff over my time. The first one is Antonio Sanchez, who was my staff when I had the subcommittee on corrections in the House, and he really helped me start to build policy in the corrections area. The second that I can think of is Bernie Ryan. Some of you know him. He was a staff person on Human Services and Corrections in the Senate when we built the empire of the Human Services and Corrections Committee that Senator O'Ban has let slip away to Senator Padden. We had half the issues in the Senate going through one committee at one time. Another person I would like to mention of staff is Jo Arlow. I know many of you know her. She's about this big and she is an absolute dynamo. And it was an absolute privilege to have her work with me. And then there's a couple that are on staff right now that I would put in that category. Heather Lewis-Lechner, who dislocated my hip once when she gave me a body check - a la her skating career, and Victoria Cantore, both excellent staff that I would put in that all-star category. I wanted to cover just a little bit of the policy that I'm proud of working on over the years, and the most important is the Becca legislation. I think we have had incredible success reducing juvenile crime. Keeping kids out of prison. Helping kids get on with their lives. And, you know, I wanted to go back. Everybody thinks it was just me and

Mike Carrell but it wasn't. It was Governor Mike Lowry who signed that bill. Christine Gregoire was the Attorney General. Jean Soliz was the DSHS secretary. A lady named Vickie Wallen was the children's ombudsman that worked for the Governor at the time that worked on that, and Justice Bobbe Bridge also was working on that bill. This was a major effort and I still have, I think the most respect for Governor Lowry who never broke his word to me. Not saying others did, but we were miles apart on lots of policy, but he went up to the University District in Seattle and defended this bill that would give parents rights to know where their kids are and make sure they got them back, and I respect that and I will forever. I'm also very proud of the mental health legislation we did that gave the local option and we're finally going to be combining mental health and drug and alcohol treatment through the BHO's by April first. I can remember however, the first time I introduced a bill to do that, in my committee, showed up Senator Lorraine Wojahn and Senator Alex Deccio to testify against my bill. So I don't know if any of you know those people, but it was like the Norse god of terror and Senator Deccio had a bit of respect on the other side. It didn't pass that year if you would know. There's legislators that I've served with over the years that taught me a lot. I have great relationships with, and the first one I can think of was Wayne Ehlers, my first Speaker. And then Joe King, who I said never stabbed me in the back, just in the front. We heard that about Senator Benton yesterday, but I actually had a nightmare once about getting in a fight with him on the floor of the House, but anyway. But we worked well together on lots of things. But in the Senate, Senator Long, who worked with me on the Human Services Committee, then Senator Val Stevens, and then Mike Carrell. All of which shared the same vision. And I think if I might just say another word about Mike Carrell, because this is something that I hope people get back to, is that he was totally about evidenced-based data on programming. And he relied on WSSIP and the data they created to tell us whether or not a proposal, when you modeled it, would lower crime or what it would do. I think we need to get back to more research driven legislation. Senator Wojahn in the Senate. I can still remember one time after a domestic violence bill that she passed, she came to me and said, 'Thanks for letting my bill pass.' And I was like, huh? She was a pretty powerful person. She actually sent me a note and some flowers after that and I guess I felt like I maybe had started to grow up a little by then. Rosa Franklin was very important and many of you have actually seen the picture I've shown of the whole chart of Becca and Rosa was there with me and she was a prime driver from the Tacoma area because of what was happening to the kids in her neighborhood. And Lisa Brown I want to mention, who I worked with for years. So more recently, I've worked in a very good, bipartisan fashion with Senator Hill and Braun. And I appreciate you guys. I mean, there's a lot of partisan bomb throwing around here, but I can tell you, when we sit down to go through the budget, they have deferred to me on most of the things in mental health, DD, children's issues. And I respect the fact that we've worked together on that. And I can tell you, that if you do not work in a bipartisan fashion next year, you are not going to get it down, ok? There is too big a challenge here to have too much partisanship go into what happens next year. Another example of that bipartisanship is O'Ban and Darnielle. Thank you very much for maintaining the way that committee works and working in a totally bipartisan fashion. I appreciate you guys, standing up and doing that. So, next category here. I'm only on page one here Lieutenant Governor. We didn't put a three minute or a thirty minute rule in place did we? So the next level here is apologies, ok? So last Friday you witnessed when we were talking about

Brad Tower and the tragic event and when I apologized to lobbyists there was spontaneous applause. So at least I got the lobbyists out of the way. All three hundred of them I've offended over time. I have offended staff I'm sure. I'm very gruff and straightforward. Usually too busy, too much in a hurry, many times to realize that they're real people and the things I say may hurt them. And I would like to apologize to them. I'd like to apologize to other government officials, because I'm sure I've insulted everybody from governors to legislators, to city councils, to sheriffs, to whatever. Agency heads they fall right in there, too. The public typically gets a rough - you also, oh yes, the media. Rachel I apologize. They may get it the worst. Though my son is here and he's in the media. He fell pretty far from the tree, that apple. I also have some thank yous. I want to go back and some of my long time staff. Lois Cotton worked for me for twenty-three years. And then Patsy Feeley also worked for me for twenty-three years. And then Shawn has now worked for me for seven years. And I both need to apologize to him and thank him so much because he's another one of these people. I don't read emails. I don't call people back. But he does and he just turns lemons into lemonade all the time with my constituents. I appreciate that so much. So, I also want to thank the citizens of the Twenty-fourth District that have sent me here for thirty-two years. In fact, for twenty years in a row I didn't even have an opponent. So I really appreciate their confidence in me. You know, to be able to serve here one year would be a privilege. I have had a lifetime here. Thirty-two years. My entire life. Not my entire life, that would be Dassel's entire life. So, I can't remember the first speech I gave when I came, but I can remember that I never gave a gift. So, I have a gift for you today. And I have a bible for each one of you. And I want to let you know that I prayed over each one. Each one of your names. And I will continue to pray for you. Hopefully you open that bible and use it, because God's word will not return void. I hope it will bless your life and I hope it will help you with the challenges ahead. There is one scripture I would like to read to you. If I may Mr. President? It's in Galatians 2:10, and it's when Paul was being sent out and Peter and John said to him, they desired only that we should remember the poor. The very thing which I was eager to do, so I implore you to remember the poor and the disadvantaged and the ill. The developmentally disabled and the people that, really, you are their voice here. Not all the powerful special interest groups that have thousands of people and give lots of money to campaigns, but the people who don't. So I also want to thank my family who's all here. They are actually down here. My wife and two kids, two grandkids, and my daughter is in L.A. unfortunately. They've been a huge support and the reason that I could get here today is that I've been thinking about this for some time. But we had a family meeting right after Christmas and I wanted to know what they thought about me retiring. And I expected them to kind of say, 'Dad whatever God wants you to do.' But they didn't. They were very emotional. They really believed that this is what I should do. So much so that they said, 'If you're going to change your mind and not retire, you need to check back with us.' You can imagine the freedom that was to have that. One final vignette here. When my daughter was about six years old and I was running for office, we were at the dinner table praying, and she said, 'God I pray that Dad wins his elections so he doesn't have to go back to being a regular man.' I'm going to be going back to being a regular man. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "Senator Hargrove and I go back to the beginning. I believe that I was there to encourage you to run in the first place and I'm very proud that you did that. I think it's a great privilege to serve the years you and I have served together but I want to tell you how grateful I am for all the one liners you fed me. I wish you the best."

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mrs. Laurie Hargrove, wife of Senator Hargrove; Mr. Daniel Hargrove; and Mr. Jimmy Hargrove, sons of Senator Hargrove, who were present in the wings.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Nelson: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well I really got to know Senator Hargrove in 2013. We were the odd couple. I don't know how else to describe it. Senator Murray was the leader and he decided on budget, I should be Senator Hargrove's shadow, making sure he didn't go too far to the right and I could move him to the left. Senator Hargrove quickly became suspicious of the shadow. Very suspicious. Of course, at that point in time, I really didn't know that his heart was about human services and foster kids and the developmentally disabled. Our hearts were in the same place there. And we will continue to protect those services as you leave. But, we truly became a pair. Fighting for a budget that stood for our values. Checking back in with each other, and occasionally I had to threaten him. I wear three inch heels for a reason, Mr. President. They are the way I deal with those who do not stay in line. I only had to injure him once I remember. It was not severe. But that's when I got to know Senator Hargrove. And we came out with a budget we both believed in, through ups and downs and turmoil, and a few tears. And we are going to miss you, Jim, but we will protect human services. Believe me we will. We will take up education and it will be a challenge, but it will not be on the backs of the poor, our foster kids, or the developmentally disabled. You have left a legacy of your life here and we will protect it. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you, Mr. President. Senator, sixteen years now you've been my mentor. I've never told you that. I have admired you. I've watched you. I loathe you. You are a tremendous person, and what I admired most, I think, about you, was the way that you could handle yourself across the aisle. We've worked together now for sixteen years, a Democrat and a Republican. You never talked politics. You never bring politics into the policy. It is a very difficult and very hard position to do, but somehow you've managed to do that. And I've always admired you for that, and I always will admire you for that. Thank you for thirty-two years of public service. Thank you Laurie for giving him to us for thirty-two years. That's quite an accomplishment. I wish you the best in your retirement. Come to Walla Walla and we won't drink any wine. And you won't have to kill any of my bills any longer. Anyway, good luck to you Senator."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Schoesler: "Thank you, Mr. President. You think I'd start getting really good at this the past couple of days, but it gets tougher and tougher with our friends leaving. Jim, I admire a man who is not afraid to show his faith in our Capitol. And I always admired for most of twenty years how well you and Lynn Kessler and former Representative Buck worked together because you represented the same district. But you all three had some different priorities in your work, but I don't think there was a better team in Olympia, than you and Lynn and Jim. And you know, I still count Lynn Kessler as a friend who calls me from time to time. Jim Buck, and I hope when you've been gone as long as they have, that you still call me, because I'll still call you my friend. Those were important things. On the lighter side of some memories Jim, you won every belly butting contest you and I ever had in the wings. And I think the press once wrote about you chasing me around wanting to strangle me, but I know you were kidding. At least I think so. And when I was a relative newcomer, Mike Padden was just leaving, and we worked an omnibus corrections bill together with the late Ida Ballasiotes. You and I, Antonio Sanchez, and you know we stuck together through that thing. All the way. And that was when I learned how to work with a senator. A very valuable lesson. And the lessons working with you have been invaluable so please continue to be my friend like Lynn and Jim Buck have."

2016 REGULAR SESSION

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "I need to start, where's Laurie? We need to thank Laurie for sharing this remarkable man with us. You've supported him and been by his side and frankly given him leadership on so many issues and given me leadership. I need to point out I was in middle school when Senator Hargrove started out in the Legislature. I worked it out this morning and I was like, 'Wow, I was in the seventh grade!' I was talking to my wife about Senator Hargrove stepping down and I was laughing. I said, 'He's a likeable curmudgeon.' He's this frustrating curmudgeon who walks into rooms and lifts tables and thinks that's amusing. He's the only person ever, and I have to thank Governor Jay Inslee for recognizing that this necessarily wasn't appropriate, but with past governors he's the only person ever I know who would walk straight into the governors office and open the door. No appointment. No nothing. He does it with the Speaker. He does it with our leader. He tries to do it with the governors. He's been a tireless advocate for children, particularly children that need us most, for human services, for victims, for mental health, for those in our communities that need the most help. And he's represented his district extremely well and he's taught us how to do that. I'm, for one reason very glad he's leaving so I won't have to hear about log trucks anymore, but on the other side, he doesn't know that, a lot of folks don't know that he's stood up for the environment. For the last few years, and under Gregoire, he's been an advocate for climate action. He has this absolutely amusing love-hate relationship with staff, and media, and many of us, but most of all he's been a mentor to me. He taught me some incredible lessons that we need to be reminded of. Never burn a bridge you may need to walk over. Be truthful and always stick to your core convictions and your principles. Take this institution very seriously, but never take yourself too seriously. And mostly, care for one another. Care for each other in this institution, and care deeply for the people we represent. Senator Hargrove is a statesman in the truest sense of the word, and mostly he's a very dear friend. The final thing I'll say is that, and maybe I'll do a bill, or maybe this goes through F & O, but I think for the remainder of this institution's history going forward we should have a Hargrove Hamburger Day downstairs and celebrate Senator Hargrove. Thank you for all the lessons, the mentorship, and the friendship."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Sheldon: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I've served with Senator Hargrove a long, long time. When I started in 1990, Senator Hargrove and I had a lot in common. We had both worked - Jim still works - for the Quinault Indian Tribe. And we had a group of nine legislators that we pulled together, called the Coastal Caucus. And, Mr. President, you were a senator at that time and a member of the Coastal Caucus. I remember some of the outstanding members, Mike Riley is no longer with us from Longview. Bob Basich, no longer with us, from Aberdeen, others. And it was very effective and I learned very much from Senator Hargrove. How much and how effective, how much he loved, and how effective he was in his district. And at that time of Washington's history we had something called the Endangered Species Act and the spotted owl. So instead of logging three hundred million board feet from the forest service lands on the Peninsula, we dropped down to about five million feet. I mean, what a difference that made. What a difference that made in the community. And at that time I represented the Harbor all the way to Cosmopolis. And the politics are very interesting down there, very, very interesting. But Senator Hargrove was always such an effective, hardworking, extremely honest, well respected representative and then senator from his district that I don't know anybody who could carry the load that you did down there, with all the issues. And then the social services which was so important to your district. And then as you progressed through the Legislature you made that the statewide issue for yourself, so there's nobody like you Jim. Nobody like you at all. And now I saw the governor briefly came in, and if he calls a special session tonight, you will be going to your fortieth extraordinary session. You will have spent, Senator Hargrove, you will have spent over one and a half years here in special session. You deserve a break. Thank you, Jim."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well I realize sitting here that I have served with Senator Hargrove for twenty-eight of his thirty-two years. We served together in the House. Although we didn't work closely on committees but after we both got here to the Senate, I believe we both came the same year, we were part of a big group of House members who came over at the same time, and actually made quite a difference here in the Senate in a variety of ways. I tried to think about some words to describe him: dedicated; indefatigable; integrity; smart; even though he tries to put on an 'aw shucks' front; caring; an exceptionally hard worker; just as dedicated as any legislator could ever be, and probably above. He's left some wonderful legacies which I hope are carried on. I served with him on the Natural Resources Committee and I think everybody knows he's a true expert on all matters natural resources. And whether he's on the committee or not he has a wonderful influence on our natural resources policies in the state. As a budget leader for our caucus he is amazing. And he has done a fabulous job representing the interests of our members in the budget negotiating process. And this has been mentioned, and it's worth mentioning multiple times. He has left a great legacy of great caring, of effective caring, about the poor, and the infirm, people with special problems, special needs, caring about our corrections institutions and caring about public employees. So he's left a wonderful legacy on human services. And another legacy he has, which I hope will carry on, is he has been, I'll use this word again, indefatigable, in assuring we use good data, and he has been a great leader in ensuring that excellent studies that come from the Institute for Public Policy are actually used to make significant policy decisions. And then, of course, he is a master at representing his far flung district. And when I worked on the capital budget for a long time, and he does hold a record for the longest capital budget reappropriation in history. I think it started out in the House, continued on in the Senate, I don't know how many years it was, maybe twenty years, this got reappropriated, because he was indefatigable, was the Seventh Avenue Theater restoration in Hoquiam. And I had the pleasure of going down to the dedication for that and I can see why he was so dedicated to the Seventh Avenue Theater. I wish you and your family a wonderful retirement and I hope the legacies, I hope the legacies that Senator Hargrove has contributed will carry on."

INTRODUCTION OF GUEST

The President welcomed and introduced The Honorable Jay Inslee, Governor, who was seated at the rostrum.

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to allow Governor Inslee to address the Senate.

REMARKS BY THE GOVERNOR

Governor Inslee: "Thank you, Mr. President. I appreciate it, too. To honor these two remarkable Senators. I want to first thank Senator Hewitt who had an incredible impact in Eastern Washington. When he first started serving sixteen years ago, if you called somebody an enofile at a bar, it would lead to a fight and now with his leadership we have a great industry and a great friend who I heard somebody said is the guy everybody liked most and I think there's a reason for that and I've really enjoyed getting to work with you for a few years. And good luck. But when Senator Hargrove as many of you know this is an extraordinary term of service, but I want to tell you I've served with a lot of legislators, Tom Foley, Paul Ryan, Nancy Pelosi, but I can truly say I've never seen someone who combined a passion for the least amongst us, as the good book says with an effectiveness serving them. It's rare that you find someone with such a big heart with such passion for the least amongst us with the effectiveness that wants to use evidence-based numerical ways to really judge performance. And because of that unique combination of heartfelt passion and ability to recognize what really works and reform our institutions. He's done so much that will be remembered by so many for so many years. And I've enjoyed working with him. I used to sit right back there. I think in Andy's seat, back in 1989 and I respected him then and I respect him more three decades worth since. That's what you did for our state, Senator. Thanks for your faith. It's made a big impact. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Angel: "Well I, like many of you and the comments we're hearing on the floor, I didn't get all those years with Senator Hargrove. But he may remember, which he probably won't, about ten years ago, a county commissioner came in front of him fighting for RSNs and she'd never been in front of a hearing before and was scared to death. And to make a point of the paperwork and the burden of our RSNs, I brought a handtruck with papers stacked up on it into the hearing room. And you not only listened, but you took my written comments and got back to me time after time after time again. And I was so impressed. First of all that you listened, and second of all that you continued to get back to me with good solutions. And I thank you for listening to the little guy the first time. Good grief look what happened! But I thank you for the gift today. Please know it is cherished. And thank you for the man that you are. God bless you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dansel: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well Senator Hargrove, a good man, he calls me Eddie Haskel, character off of Leave it to Beaver, and I call him Ward or dad or grandpa or one of those things. But I truly am as old as he has been here and that's interesting to me. But what's really interesting and cool to me actually is, before Senator Morton passed away, I had a phone call with him about every week and one of the first pieces of advice that I got from him, when I was like, 'Hey, who can I get that's a Democrat that might be a little sympathetic to ranchers or farmers or miners?' And he said, 'Jim Hargrove.' And he has been. He has been somebody that I've been able to go to for advice on many different occasions when it comes to natural resources. I try not to listen to him too much. I'm actually glad to hear the news tonight. I just don't know what took you so long. No, not at all. I'm going to really miss him. And I think that he's been an absolute champion for those things. And, unlike Senator Ranker, I'm going to miss somebody talking about logging trucks. So maybe Kevin, pardon me, Senator Ranker can take that up for him. But no, I just want to say that I appreciate everything you've done. I appreciate your ability to work across party lines. You are going to be missed and I think that you're going to be on the Mount Rushmore when it comes to senators that have served in a long time with a lot of distinction. Thank you, sir."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Darneille: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well, I'm probably going to turn into a blubbing idiot so I'll try to get through as much as I can. This is unexpected today. I may not forgive him. I have to tell you my twelve years in the House, you know you've heard of the movie Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas? Well I think this was fear and loathing in Olympia. I never understood the power of this man. I couldn't understand how he would flip a bill around, something you had worked on, put your blood, sweat, and tears into, and he could find a way to turn it, so that even when something was failing, he could find a way for it to succeed. But then he also killed a lot of things too. But I kept my distance from him. I knew that politically maybe we were on different ends of the spectrum in the Democratic Party. And I can remember one time standing outside the Governor's office when I tried to engage him in a faith discussion about LGBT rights. He held his own and so did I, and we had an impasse. When I came to the Senate, of course, I had a few discussions with him during the summer, and told him that I wanted to be on the Human Services Committee, and he knew that things were going to happen that I didn't know at that time, of course because he always knows everything that's going to happen, and most of us are in the dark, but he let me have his Human Services Committee as the ranking member. And I remember at the time going, I have twelve years of experience in human services, and of course he granted me that opportunity, but he said I'm going to stay on the committee just to make sure you do it right. Which he has done now for four years. But he has been a real miracle worker around human services and corrections issues in our legislative history. I think because he brings a great amount of institutional memory, and in that memory he can actually figure out how to solve problems. And I've actually told him a few times this session, or I've admired him from afar, and said I wanted to learn how he did those things. I'm really mad at him because he's been a real open book about everything except today. And, again, there's my real denial that this would ever happen, and I can find, in my memory, things that he has said, as recently as today, saying to a member who's leaving, we'll really miss you. So I think he had a little bit of his own denial going on, or he just kept the act going as long as he could before he spilled his beans. I'm going to hold my paper here so I can emulate him a little bit, but I think about most of all the lives that he has touched, all the lives that he has changed, and all the lives that he has saved. And I just want to end by saying I love him, and I have a session aide position open next year, and I really want to offer it to him today. Thank you, Mr. President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hill: "Well, you know I started chairing Ways & Means when I'd been here for two years. I was the drippy nose freshman, and we worked on a bipartisan budget and I think everybody thought that was the best way to do it and we'd have better policy and more enduring policy, and the fact of the matter is, that I realized Jim Hargrove was the most effective legislator in the entire legislature. And I figured, geez I'll just study at the foot of the master, and I'll just soak it up because he gets things done that are unbelievable. So I just, everybody talked about me being his mentor but he was my secret mentor and I was just soaking it up. I will mention a few things I learned, and I still don't do it as well as you, not even close, but the ability to find compromise where it seems like there is none. The ability to take a crazy idea that is put out there to poke the other side, and say if we do this, this, and this we can actually get some policy that works. The ability to stomp out a smoldering dispute before it erupts into a major blowup. You know, behind the scenes, on the floor, in committee, I mean Jim really, really helps to keep things running smoothly. And finally what I've learned is despite the efforts of Steve Jones, how to enact legislation that is blatantly unconstitutional and get away with it. But, Jim, I hold you in the highest regard. You are a man of incredible integrity, a man of your word, an absolute joy to work with because what you see is what you get. And, again, I see you as one of the most effective legislators around here. I wish you'd stick around because I still have a lot to learn, but I thank you for everything you taught me. I thank you for your service to the state because it really has been amazing, and I believe a lot of your policy will endure, and endure, and endure."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McCoy: "Well, Mr. President, like you, Jim, I lobbied before I got elected and learned some things then on how to work with him. And as everybody knows, I'm on the high end of the technology spectrum and then when I had to deal with Jim I had to go back to paper and pencil. Which was difficult but I managed. And so in working with him over the years, I've found you don't need a blank piece of paper, just any scrap of paper that you can jot a note on and if he took the note and folded it neatly, well not all the time neatly, but if he put it in his shirt pocket, you had half a chance, but if he just threw it on the desk you were toast. So I didn't have too many hit the desk, but I did have a few go in the shirt pocket. Did all of them make it? No. But at least I knew that I had a chance. And I've worked with him on a number of issues throughout the years and it was just a great pleasure to work with him and we'll miss you Jim. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Padden: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well I came to the House back in 1981, so I was there four years when in 1985, then Representative Hargrove arrived, and we worked together on numerous issues for eight years. And I mean, somebody like me, I didn't know there was such a thing as pro-life Democrats, but you were one and I appreciate all the times you were out there on the steps of the Capitol speaking at the March for Life. But there were other issues too that we worked on, then I took a hiatus for about sixteen years. You know no fool like an old fool coming back here, but in 2011 I came back and I observed then a lot of what Senator Hill said earlier. You know, Republicans in control, Democrats in control, for most of us that's a pretty earth shaking deal. Senator Hargrove didn't make any difference, you were equally effective no matter who's in control. And I felt that was extremely amazing. I think a lot of that is due to not only your core principles, but your personality and the way you are able to work with everybody and work in such a constructive way and the fact that you're not really that partisan of a guy. I think all those things really made a difference. And I remember coming back working with you. And you'd had a campaign in which you were charged with kind of being soft on rapists. I mean it was something that was totally wrong because I knew you. And we were able to work together and pass a bill extending the statute of limitations on rape and I enjoyed working with you so much on that. You know, just a few weeks ago I was asking you whether you were going to run again. I maybe shouldn't have said this but I urged you to run again. So I'm sorry you're not because I think you're such a positive influence on this whole legislature. I think I figured out maybe why you decided you could retire. It was probably getting that forestry school reinstated at WSU. But anyway, and just the type of person you are. Thank you so much Jim for the gift you've given all of us, the bible. I know it comes from your heart and we will really appreciate the prayers and all the good wishes and I hope we still get to see you once in a while."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "I wanted to thank Senator Hargrove for his example to us. I don't think many of us are very good examples all the time, but I think Senator Hargrove has been a good example all the time. I call it righteous indignation if you get mad at somebody. When you call things like they are. I don't think there's a problem with that. So I appreciate the new bible, and I want to go back in history a little bit. I think it was thirty-five years ago I had a son born on March sixteenth, 3:16, and I named him John. So this is my very favorite scripture. Mr. President? 'For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have everlasting life.' And Senator Hargrove has a compass. I think most of us have a compass, sometimes they're not always tuned in the way they should be. But I've been honored to know Senator Hargrove. Honored to even know who he was when I was then a legislative aide to Senator Kent Pullen. And Kent Pullen is the one who said we ought to have a legislative shootout said Kent Pullen, and I was his aide so I got to do the work. And we had the first legislative shootout in something like 1987 or '88, something around there. So I'm maybe the first one today to thank you for your strong stand on the second amendment. We have a lot in common. Our feelings about unborn babies, but I also think the second amendment is something that should be mentioned. I'm going to miss your participation and the fun you have when you're down at the end of the firing range with your cop friends, and blowing up, I don't know what you're doing. I never go down. I'm afraid to. But whatever you're doing is really loud. Senator Darnielle, who came this year, remembers how loud it was. I want to thank you for your advice and help. One particular CPS case that I had, you pointed me in the right direction to someone who could help. You understood the problem. And for those of you that have never been involved in a CPS case, they take a lot of time. The state can come in and try to take children from families that do not deserve, in any way, to have them taken. Even forgetting and throwing aside grandparents who have had nothing to do with anything bad at all. To place them in somebody else's home. That is a real thing that happens. There's no accountability in it. There's no punishment for anyone who lies in a courtroom. It's pretty devastating. We have a lot of hurt going on in Washington State. Imagine someone coming and taking your child. And Senator Hargrove had been through enough of those. I don't know, I could only do a couple of them. It just tears you up. So I want to thank you for your friendship from that long ago. Your example that you are to all of us. The beautiful bible that you've given me. Of course I have other copies, but this one's special. It's from you. This one's special because it's even highlighted my very favorite scripture. Thank you, sir, for all you've been to us, to each one of us, and to the state of Washington. You cannot be replaced, but what we can do is honor your presence here and the things that we do going forward and it has been a blessing in my life to know you. Thank you very much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: "I haven't known Senator Hargrove as long as many of the people here. I was three years old when he joined the Legislature. And just like Senator Darnielle, my first experiences were that he was just the grumpy old man who would come yell at House members. So it was a delight to discover that beneath all of that, there is a wonderfully soft and gentle human being. And I would just like to share a passage from the book that Senator Hargrove gave us as well if I could? In the book of Micah it says, 'He has shown you O mortal, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? To act justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God.' And Jim you've done all three of those excellently for thirty-one years. Well I was going to say the love mercy part was the one where you could do a little bit better, but you've done a real good job at all three. And thank you for the gift. And thank you for the gift of your friendship."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pearson: "Thank you, Mr. President. I will miss Senator Hargrove. And just a few stories when I first was over in the other chamber, I didn't know him very well but one thing we did have in common, we were both weightlifters and we could bench over three hundred pounds. And I remember he used to come over and testify and make fun of my thick neck, and I'm going, 'Who is this guy?' But I remember having bills going in front of his committee. I really didn't know him that well. He says, 'Representative Pearson,' at the time, 'Oh here's your stupid little bill and what is it? Tell us what it is.' If that wasn't intimidating. I remember another time I came with another legislator and we were testifying on a bill and he called her by name and he called me sidekick. And so I didn't know what it was going to be like coming over to the Senate when I did as someone's sidekick. But what I will remember mostly, it was our first year and right in front of me was Senator Carrell and I was on the Human Services Committee. I got to be Senator Carrell's vice chair, and little by little through session, Senator Carrell wouldn't show up and it was really hard because I had my committee as chair, but I was taking more of Senator Carrell's work and if it wasn't for Senator Darnielle, who would be very helpful, but also Senator Hargrove, you know very helpful to get the bills through because a lot of bills went through that committee and it was one of the first times that I had dealt with Human Services. But what meant the world to me after session, because I was going to decide what route, and this was before Senator O'Ban came over, what route do I want to go? Senator Hargrove told me I did a really good job. And coming from you Senator Hargrove, that meant a lot to me. That really touched my heart and I'll really miss you. You've been a really inspirational person to me. I've never told that to you. And I know you're a strong man of faith, but I do love you Senator Hargrove. I think you're just a wonderful man and I'll always want to be your friend. I'll always want to hear from you in the years coming up. So, God bless you my friend."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Jayapal: "Thank you, Mr. President. There's a lot of lore and myth surrounding Jim, Senator Hargrove. And before I came to the Senate, everybody told me about this man who had just an unbelievable amount of power. Everybody was afraid of him. He was gruff. He was mean. He was very, very important in this body. And several people said to me, 'You really need to get to know Senator Hargrove.' And so I made it a point to reach out to him, but I was nervous about it. And I remember we had lunch in your office and we prayed over the food. You asked me if that was okay and I told you that I had actually grown up with Southern Baptists and I actually played Jesus in eighth grade. I was the first brown Jesus to play that part there in the church, and I was quite comfortable with that. And we talked about a lot of things, including deep challenges that you had had a couple of years before, and I felt very privileged that we had that conversation. And you gave me a number of pieces of advice, most of which I didn't listen to, but some I took very much to heart, and I'll tell you what they are in a second. But, also, we started talking after that about some issues that we really care about and that we really disagree on, like minimum wage, and we had some deep arguments about that. But what I realized in having those arguments with you, is that people were wrong about you. That you did want to listen. I think you just push people to see if they really have some substance, and if they have an argument to make and if they are willing to stand up to you. And so I realized early on that you actually didn't mind if I stood up to you, and if we argued about things, and if we came out in different places on those things. And I can't tell you how much I have appreciated your kindness and your generosity towards me, even on the issues that we disagree on. And the things that you taught me about, were you told me to be slow to give my word but when I do to keep it. You said that was really, really important. That the only thing that you have is your trust and integrity. And so if you're going to tell somebody something about a position, make sure that you really mean it. You told me to stand up for what I believe in, because it's actually the only thing I'm going to go home to. I don't know if you remember that, but you said you only live with yourself and you've got to go home to it, so make sure you stand up for what you believe in. And then, Jim Hargrove, you taught the Thirty-seventh Legislative District senator, the radical crazy lefty, how to shoot a gun. And I shot that gun that has the huge boom, and the sheriff from your district said, 'What are you doing Senator Hargrove? You can't give that to her!' But it was really important to me because we have really different views on guns, but being able to actually shoot that thing and see what the difference was. I have a lot of interest in understanding what I'm talking about. And you got me to do something that I don't think anybody else could have done. I won't do it again because I did so well that time that I want to keep that lore very strong. But, Jim you've been incredibly kind to me. You've been a mentor. You've really been gracious, and all of that lore about you may be right. The power and the knowledge that you have from this body, but what is also true is that you have a deep, deep compassionate heart. A heart that lifts up the people that are most vulnerable in our districts and our state, that we have a duty here in this body to remember those people, and a duty to be kind. Even if you don't always show it on the outside, you are one of the kindest men I have met. And I love you very much and I will miss you. And I was deeply shocked when you told me you were leaving today. And so I wasn't ready for this, but I really appreciate all your mentorship and leadership and service to the people of the state of Washington."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Becker: "Thank you, Mr. President. First of all Senator Hargrove, thank you from the bottom of my heart. This will be something I'll keep forever, and ever, and ever, and I'll read it, but you should have gotten one with bigger print. I'll never forget the first time I met you. Val Stevens and I, she kind of drug me over to your office, and the whole way over she said, 'He's kind of a gruff old bear but he's got the biggest heart of anybody I know.' And we were coming over to talk to you about one of my very first bills I got passed. It was when the Binion's lost their son, and it was a loophole in the law and they couldn't get him committed for the treatment that he needed, and he committed suicide in their front room. And when they came in and testified, the entire place was in tears, and deservedly so. So I thank you for that, because that was probably one of the biggest pieces of legislation that we can do to help somebody in crisis like that. But she told me that you had a heart of gold and she was right. And the other day you made me feel so special, and you probably don't even know it, but you asked me to work on the Western State Hospital thing, earlier on and then again. And it made me feel really good because it came from you. And I think I'll probably hold that in my heart for a long, long time. But I can remember when you went out for the Rally for Life, and you said I'm standing up here and I'm supporting you, and whatever your words were, and you said, I'm a Democrat. And it just crossed all lines that anybody can stand up and say really good things and you've been just remarkable and I know people are saying all sorts of good things about you, but I have a question, Mr. President. I'm not asking you to yield, I want to know who else is retiring because I'm tired of people leaving this place today. Anybody else? Ok, good, you're the last one then. All I want to do is say thank you very much, that meeting with you that first day and you asked me what else was in that bill, and I had this blank look and you said, 'That's okay. You know it's okay not to know everything that's in the bill, but to learn it before you actually come before you, because you're going to question you. Thank you for everything. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Habib: "Thank you, Mr. President. You know, I want to say as I talk to people about the State Senate, which I've been doing a lot recently, one of the words that comes to mind is unpredictable. Because I tell them you know the difference between the House and the Senate, and presiding over the House and the Senate, and I hope you'd agree Mr. President, is that this can be an unpredictable place a lot of times. And Senator Hargrove, and I've had the great privilege of sitting just in front of him, can be unpredictable in several different ways and those ways are so organic to the culture of the Senate. In one way, he's unpredictable with respect to his words on the Senate floor and I know those sometimes lead to the greatest one liners, as you pointed out Mr. President. But they've also led to some great floor speeches, even in the limited time I've spent serving with him here in the Senate. I remember last year, for example, there was a speech that he gave on a bill that we did having to do with driver's licenses that were suspended because of child custody payments, back-owed child custody payments. And I hope I'm not sharing a secret with TVW land out there when I say that many times we come to the floor already having decided how we're going to vote, and we give speeches in large part to explain our votes to others, but it's very, very rare that someone's vote will change because of a floor speech. And that day was the first time, for me, that my intended vote changed because of a speech that Senator Hargrove gave. Where he explained really what the bill was doing in a way that I hadn't thought about and put it in a social justice lens. And I happen to believe that others, certainly others on my side of the aisle, changed their votes that day because of a floor speech. So he's unpredictable in what he says, and because of that, people really listen and pay attention when he talks on the Senate floor. He's also unpredictable in how he votes. And this is an area that I really cherish in the Senate as well. Which is that we don't all vote as a block. You do see people voting in different ways, and voting their districts, and sometimes that can lead to different outcomes. And we don't talk about. It's not appropriate to talk about political party here, but I want to say that, I will say that, as a Democrat, it's important to me that we continue to have that diversity that Senator Hargrove represents, that he brings with his voice to our caucus, and to our party, and to the Senate. I can tell you as the person who votes right before him, and I think I've got my vote figured out, we all vote. I hear 'Fraser,' 'Froct,' 'Habib,' you know, and then 'Hargrove,' and it's a completely different vote then what I thought. And then I'm suddenly panicked. What did I miss? And I have to scramble to ask him why he voted that way and sometimes it's because it's about alcohol or marijuana but sometimes it's another thing. And then finally, he's unpredictable when it comes to his movements. His physical movements around the Senate. And I'll tell you that because I do sit near him, that as the person who has to do vote counts. You know I asked at first when I became the whip, can I text everybody and ask everybody for your vote counts when we're counting votes? And of course what did Jim Hargrove say, 'Absolutely not, there's no way you can text me to ask for my vote, just come and find me.' Easier said than done in the best of circumstances, Mr. President. In my situation, even harder. So he's unpredictable in many of those ways. I suspect now that he'll be back in the Twenty-fourth you may be slightly easier to find than when running around the Senate chamber. But to a delightfully, unpredictable, brilliant, charming, kind-hearted, and compassionate man, I'm just so honored to have gotten a chance to sit near and work with Senator Jim Hargrove. Thank you so much."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ericksen: "So on the first Tuesday of this legislative session, I pulled into the parking lot at about seven o'clock, and my phone beeped, and it said Tuesday morning fellowship, and I had not been to Tuesday morning fellowship in years. And I think it was a bit of divine intervention that my phone beeped that day when I walked into the parking lot, because I got to spend this year with Senator Hargrove, listening to him share and pray at Tuesday morning fellowship. And it was very important to me, and I really appreciate it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hobbs: "I just received this email, if you don't mind if I read it? This came from the member's cafeteria, 'Due to the recent retirement announcements of Benton and Hargrove, our meal prices are going down next year. Because of an overabundance of food.' So that's good news there. Well this explains your level of grumpiness, much higher than your normal level of grumpiness that you have. You've been trying to keep this from a lot of people. I kind of found out a little earlier today, and I was very disheartened but I totally understand. When I first came here to the Senate, as a moderate you try to find other moderates, and Senator Hargrove you're certainly that moderate that I look up to and try to emulate and try to learn from, even though you tell me time and time again, 'Why don't you ever listen to me? You never listen to me.' But it's true I do listen to you, and I have watched you over the years. I have these, I call them Hargrovisms, that I have followed over the years. Here's some I have written down: build relationships so that you can get your stuff in the budget even when you're not on Ways & Means and other members don't even know how you got it in there. And those of you who have been in the Senate for a while, you'll open up the budget and say, 'How did he even get that in there? He's not even on Ways & Means.' But somehow you were able to do it and I've learned from that so I've got some stuff in there I'm pretty sure, you'll probably take it out though since you'll be working on it. I don't know if you know this but the Transportation supplemental budget has been passed. The other thing is always, always, always, you've told me this, always give your caucus a heads up when you go against them. Have I not done that Senator Nelson? She says yes. Let the other side know when you're going to change your vote. I think that's important to do. And always count your votes. Always count your votes. You taught me that you can be a fiscal conservative and a moderate and protect the safety net. And the last one I think is very, very important, and I take this to heart. You taught me that the government's role is to check power, and to be there for those that don't have a lobbyist, don't have a special interest group. You taught me that sometimes we have to go against corporations, a political party, a caucus, a business association, our allies, labor and the environmentalists. You taught me to do that, because there are those that don't even know that we're here. They don't vote for us, because they don't even vote, because they've lost all hope. The logger who's lost his job, doesn't know how he's going to feed his family. The senior citizen who's wondering how they're going to heat their home. The small business owner who's felt the pressure of bureaucracy and doesn't know how to make payment. And the single mom who struggles to make ends meet and is trying to dream of opportunity. They don't know who you are, but you've been there for them. And I know you've been thinking about them all your years that you've been here. And I pray to God that I can be that senator that you have been. Thank you for everything."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Baumgartner: "I want to express my admiration and respect for Senator Jim Hargrove. You know, I think when you come to the Senate there are two great privileges of being here. The first great privilege, of course, is serving the people who send us here. The people back home. And the second great privilege is serving with the people that make this place so special. And Jim, you are an absolute giant when it comes to both types of service. You do it the right way for the people back home, and you do it the right way with the people here, and it is an absolute privilege and honor to have served with you. And I say that, probably being the only member of the Senate who came very close to be physically beaten by you on the Senate floor once upon a time. Pearson was too far away to give defense at the moment, so I appreciate your discretion on that day. But you've been such a good senator. And as some of you know I remark from time to time that - I've got to get the top button here Senator Hewitt, sorry for being disrespectful - but as I remark from time to time, my father who is retired watches TVW on an almost daily basis, and has come to really admire all of you on the floor and he's probably the person I respect most in life, and he really, really, really likes and respects you, Jim Hargrove. And I am now going to close and stop saying nice things about you and I'm going to make a very sincere appeal which is don't do this. You've given thirty-two years out here and we really need thirty-three from you. I wish I had, or someone here had been, at the dinner meeting in January because next year is a tough, tough year. With what's coming up with education funding and other things, next year really, really needs Jim Hargrove. So maybe we can cut your committees. You can just roll in once a week. Whatever needs to happen. But I sincerely think we need to think about thirty-three for you. But in any event if we only do get thirty-two, that's thirty-two years to treasure for the people of this state and God bless you Jim."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Brown: "Thank you, Mr. President. I've had the opportunity to work with Senator Hargrove only over the past few years, very limited time, but I've learned a tremendous amount, and it's something that every single person in this body should learn. That when we're working for the victims of this state, when we worked on Jason's law, there was no political party behind our name, it was a victim, and I thank you for that."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Benton: "Thank you, Mr. President. Well my colleagues have probably seen me cry more this week than they did in the last twenty years so I'll try not to do it on this speech but it's awfully hard. When I first came to the Senate, Jim caught me about the first week and he just gave me hell for something. I mean he really read me the riot act. And he set me straight and I've operated under that advisement and that corrective criticism for the last twenty years. And so I thank you for that Jim, I appreciated it. He was serious, and concerned, but gave me the news like my father would, in hopes that I would correct that behavior. And he gives it to you in a way that makes you want to correct that behavior. That's the kind of man he is. And I love you for it and I always have. You're my favorite senator on that side of the aisle. There's no question about it. I've served with you for twenty years and you're a man of integrity and honor, which is rare in these halls, and I admire that about you. And the other thing I admire about you, is you're a Democrat all right and you stick with your party, but you never let your party get in the way of doing the right thing, or in the way of what is good for the American people and the people of Washington State. That's first for you, and I think that's pretty important. Mr. President, in your remarks the other day I think you addressed this very issue, and I agree with you, and you've exemplified that, Jim. Do the right thing first, the party thing second. If more of us did that, we'd get out on time every year because we'd solve these problems without worrying who's going to get the credit or how are we going to take some kind of political stripe off their back for that. In fact, when my very good friend Mike Carrell was ill, you voted for him, because you didn't believe you should take political advantage of someone's illness. That's character there. That's important stuff. Because we're all human beings and we all suffer from some of the same concerns and problems, and you've never taken advantage of anyone's personal problem, or issue, or illness. In fact, you stand up and fight for them, and I've always admired that. Your leadership, your friendship, and your directness, that's what I've appreciated about you, Jim, and I thank you for it. You've made me a better man for having the opportunity to serve with you, thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "Thank you. I would like to add my thanks to the good Senator Hargrove. When I first came over to this chamber, I was House-broken. And I was terrified because I had heard the stories of the good Senator and I did not know what to expect. But I found that outside of the gruff exterior and the rough talk and the use of the rules and the power that he had, he was a great teacher. He was a mentor. I had a bill, a tiny little thing, a mental health directive. It was one of my first bills on the Senate floor, and I ran into some trouble with it and Senator Hargrove came to my rescue with his red book, and encouraged me to use the red book with the good President. It was an audacious day and auspicious as well, because with his mentoring and his support and his guidance, it's been a tremendous opportunity. I would have never been on the Health Care committee without his support. I would have never had the opportunity to work on Obamacare and get health care to tens of thousands, to hundreds of thousands of people in our state, and we all worked on that together. It's been rough, it's been tough, and it's been wonderful. Thank you, Senator Hargrove."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rolfes: "Well as Senator Hargrove sits there, I'm thinking a little bit smugly, I want to be very clear that I came from the House, and that Representative Ruth Kagi was very clear with all of the newer members: Don't be afraid of Senator Jim Hargrove, he's a big pussycat. And so I have known Senator Hargrove long enough to know that that is true. What Senator Hargrove doesn't know about me, that I am going to confess to the entire room, but which the staff knows, is that when he and I were locked in a room together last summer trying to work out the details of a bipartisan McCleary plan, I would actually drink an entire cup of coffee before I entered the room so that I could compete with him in that room as we would talk about property taxes and levies. I'm glad you're laughing at that Jim. The last thing I want to say is that I have personally appreciated Jim's devotion to faith. I'm not half the spiritual person that Jim is, but when listening to some of our colleagues today, I thought there has to be something in Ecclesiastes that is perfect for this occasion, and I would like to read a couple of very short passages from Ecclesiastes? First, Senator Hargrove, 'the end of a matter is better than its beginning,' and 'patience is better than pride. Do not be quickly provoked in your spirit, for anger resides in the lap of fools. Wisdom, like an inheritance, is a good thing and benefits those who see the sun. Wisdom is a shelter as money is a shelter, but the advantage of knowledge is this: Wisdom preserves those who have it.' And finally, I want to conclude my remarks with chapter twelve of Ecclesiastes which says: 'Now all has been heard; here is the conclusion of the matter: fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the duty of all mankind. For God will bring every deed into judgement, including every hidden thing, whether it is good or evil.' And Senator Hargrove imparted that wisdom upon us and our caucus every day that we met together. Thank you, Senator Hargrove."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Braun: "Thank you, Mr. President. So I had a whole speech here that I was going to deliver for Senator Hargrove, but we've talked a lot here, and I don't like to talk that much so I'm going to abbreviate it. And I'm going to go to one thing that started us off here a while ago. I think to sum all this up, your daughter had it right, you are no regular man. You are no regular man. Thank you very much for your service, for your friendship. We have been blessed, the state has been blessed to have you here. And I wish you the very best and your family the very best."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hasegawa: "I just want to quickly say that, Jim, I'm going to miss your mentorship. And you know how I come to you for counsel every now and then. And you truly are a person who works to get to a yes under seemingly impossible circumstances. I think that's going to be the strongest lesson that I'll take back from you. But you have to promise me that we're going to keep that commitment to do that ride over to Conway's place with Senator Dansel."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator O'Ban: "I'll be brief. I spent a lot of time with Senator Carrell as he was dying in his hospital room, and my wife actually had a chance to be with him when he passed away. We're very close to the Carrells. And Mike and I were talking about this place and the people in it. I think, in part, he was preparing me. And I remember one conversation he was talking about the personalities here. And, of course, Jim Hargrove came up. Mike loved you. You were a very loyal friend to him and for that act of courage, loyalty, and great personal challenge, I commend you sir. And I believe that he was aware of that and his deep friendship for you only grew greater. And I have a duty to say on this day of your parting, the kind of friendship you showed to him during that period, so thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Miloscia: "I first met Senator Hargrove at the March for Life in 1991. And I saw him and what he said and I thought: I could do that. I can come down here and serve and take the stance he takes for life, for the poor, for the vulnerable. You've made that the heart of what, the heart of your philosophy, a philosophy that we get from Jesus Christ. And you've lived your faith. You've been that sort of hero. That ideal. It's not just you. It's your wife. I don't know if you knew this, but I got your phone number and I call you at home. Sometimes I get you, but I'd rather get your answering machine, get that blessing from your wife, from God. So that's the center of what drove you, and what I helped use to guide me. Thank you for being who you are and for serving our brothers and sisters."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: "Thank you, Mr. President. Many wonderful things have been said and I could echo, mentorship, coaching, scared out of your pants coming over from the House, all of those things would be true. I have been blessed to spend time with you, and I think I know your heart, and I think you know my heart and thank you for that. I have been pleased to go through Proverbs with you, and I would just leave you with Micah, the book of Micah, chapter six, verse eight, says: 'He has shown you, O man, what is good. And what does the Lord require of you? But to do justice, to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God.' Okay, you're still working on that one, but two out of three isn't bad. Jim, you are awesome. Thank you very much for your friendship and your leadership."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fain, and without objection, the Senate reverted to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House receded from its amendment(s) to ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6455. Under suspension of the rules, the bill was returned to second reading for the purposes of amendment(s). The House adopted the following amendment(s): 6455-S2.E AMH SANT H4717.3, and passed the bill as amended by the House.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, in consultation with school districts, educational service districts, and other state agencies, shall develop and implement a comprehensive, statewide initiative to increase the number of qualified individuals who apply for teaching positions in Washington. In developing and implementing the initiative, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, in partnership with the employment security department, shall:

(a) Develop and implement a teacher recruitment campaign that targets groups of individuals who may be interested in teaching in Washington public schools, such as: College students who have not chosen a major; out-of-state teachers; military personnel and their spouses; and individuals with teaching certificates who are not currently employed as teachers;

(b) Incorporate certificated positions into the employment security department's existing web-based depository for job applications that allows for access by school districts in the state for purposes of hiring teachers and other certificated positions. The services and tools developed under this subsection must be made available initially to small school districts, and to larger districts as resources are available. When defining small districts for the purpose of this subsection, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must consider whether a district has fewer than three hundred certificated staff;

(c) Create or enhance an existing web site that provides useful information to individuals who are interested in teaching in Washington; and

(d) Take other actions to increase the number of qualified individuals who apply for teaching positions in Washington.

(2) By December 1, 2019, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall assess the efficiency and effectiveness of the centralized web-based depository for job applications required under subsection (1)(b) of this section, and shall submit a report to the appropriate committees of the legislature, in accordance with RCW 43.01.036, that recommends whether the requirement for the application depository be continued, modified, or terminated. In performing the assessment required in this subsection (2), the office must solicit and consider feedback from small school districts.

(3) This section expires July 1, 2020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the workforce training and education coordinating board, in collaboration with the professional educator standards board, shall work with the student achievement council, the office of the superintendent of public instruction, school districts, educational service districts, the state board for community and technical colleges, the institutions of higher education, major employers, and other parties to develop and disseminate information designed to increase recruitment into professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation programs. The information must be disseminated statewide through existing channels.

(2) This section expires July 1, 2019.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the professional educator standards board shall create and administer the recruitment specialists grant program to provide funds to professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation programs to hire, or contract with, recruitment specialists that focus on recruitment of individuals who are from traditionally underrepresented groups among teachers in Washington when compared to the common school population.

(2) This section expires July 1, 2018.

Sec. 4. RCW 28A.410.250 and 2005 c 498 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The agency responsible for educator certification shall adopt rules for professional certification that:

(1) Provide maximum program choice for applicants, promote portability among programs, and promote maximum efficiency for applicants in attaining professional certification;

(2) Require professional certification no earlier than the fifth year following the year that the teacher first completes provisional status, with an automatic two-year extension upon enrollment;

(3) Grant professional certification to any teacher who attains certification from the national board for professional teaching standards;

2016 REGULAR SESSION

(4) Permit any teacher currently enrolled in or participating in a program leading to professional certification to continue the program under administrative rules in place when the teacher began the program;

(5) Provide criteria for the approval of educational service districts, beginning no later than August 31, 2007, to offer programs leading to professional certification. The rules shall be written to encourage institutions of higher education and educational service districts to partner with local school districts or consortia of school districts, as appropriate, to provide instruction for teachers seeking professional certification;

(6) Encourage institutions of higher education to offer professional certificate coursework as continuing education credit hours. This shall not prevent an institution of higher education from providing the option of including the professional certification requirements as part of a master's degree program;

(7) Provide criteria for a liaison relationship between approved programs and school districts in which applicants are employed;

(8) Identify an expedited professional certification process for out-of-state teachers who have five years or more of successful teaching experience ((to demonstrate skills and impact on student learning commensurate with Washington requirements for professional certification. The rules may require these teachers, within one year of the time they begin to teach in the state's public schools, take a course in or show evidence that they can teach to the state's essential academic learning requirements)), including a method to determine the comparability of rigor between the Washington professional certification process and the advanced level teacher certification process of other states. A professional certificate must be issued to these experienced out-of-state teachers if the teacher holds: (a) A valid teaching certificate issued by the national board for professional teaching standards; or (b) an advanced level teacher certificate from another state that has been determined to be comparable to the Washington professional certificate; and

(9) Identify an evaluation process of approved programs that includes a review of the program coursework and applicant coursework load requirements, linkages of programs to individual teacher professional growth plans, linkages to school district and school improvement plans, and, to the extent possible, linkages to school district professional enrichment and growth programs for teachers, where such programs are in place in school districts. The agency shall provide a preliminary report on the evaluation process to the senate and house of representatives committees on education policy by November 1, 2005. The board shall identify:

(a) A process for awarding conditional approval of a program that shall include annual evaluations of the program until the program is awarded full approval;

(b) A less intensive evaluation cycle every three years once a program receives full approval unless the responsible agency has reason to intensify the evaluation;

(c) A method for investigating programs that have received numerous complaints from students enrolled in the program and from those recently completing the program;

(d) A method for investigating programs at the reasonable discretion of the agency; and

(e) A method for using, in the evaluation, both program completer satisfaction responses and data on the impact of educators who have obtained professional certification on student work and achievement.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 28A.410 RCW to read as follows:

The agency responsible for educator certification shall adopt rules for professional certification that identify an expedited professional certification process for out-of-state teachers who have five years or more of successful teaching experience, including a method to determine the comparability of rigor between the Washington professional certification process and any United States federally issued or state-issued advanced level teacher certification process that allows an individual to teach internationally. A professional certificate must be issued to these experienced out-of-state teachers if the teacher holds a United States federally issued or state-issued advanced level teacher certificate that allows the individual to teach internationally and that has been determined to be comparable to the Washington professional certificate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 28A.410 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By September 1, 2020, the Washington state institute for public policy must review the effect of the provisions in RCW 28A.410.250(8) and section 5 of this act and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature, in accordance with RCW 43.01.036. The review and report must include information on:

(a) The extent to which advanced level teacher certificates from other states compare to the standards and requirements of the Washington professional certificate;

(b) The extent to which United States federal or state-issued advanced level certificates that allow individuals to teach internationally compare to the standards and requirements of the Washington professional certificate; and

(c) Whether the provisions in RCW 28A.410.250(8) and section 5 of this act have increased the number of professional certifications issued to individuals from out-of-state.

(2) The Washington state institute for public policy must coordinate with state agencies including the office of the superintendent of public instruction, the employment security department, and the professional educator standards board to gather data that informs the review. These state agencies must cooperate in a timely manner with data requests in service of this review.

(3) This section expires July 1, 2021.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 41.32 RCW under the subchapter heading "provisions applicable to plan 2 and plan 3" to be codified between RCW 41.32.067 and 41.32.215 to read as follows:

In addition to the postretirement employment options available in RCW 41.32.802 or 41.32.862, and only until August 1, 2020, a teacher in plan 2 or plan 3 who has retired under the alternate early retirement provisions of RCW 41.32.765(3)(b) or 41.32.875(3)(b) may be employed with an employer for up to eight hundred sixty-seven hours per calendar year without suspension of his or her benefit, provided that: (1) The retired teacher reenters employment more than one calendar month after his or her accrual date and after the effective date of this section; (2) is employed exclusively as either a substitute teacher as defined in RCW 41.32.010(48)(a) in an instructional capacity, as opposed to other capacities identified in RCW 41.32.010(49); and (3) the employing school district compensates the district's substitute teachers at a rate that is at least eighty-five percent of the full daily amount allocated by the state to the district for substitute teacher compensation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 28A.300 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By October 1st of each year, a school district must report to the office of the superintendent of public instruction:

(a) The number of substitute teachers hired per school year;

(b) The number of substitute teachers hired under section 5 of this act per school year;

(c) The full daily compensation rate per substitute teacher; and

(d) The reason for hiring the substitute teacher.

(2) By January 1st of each year, the office of the superintendent of public instruction must post on its web site the information identified in subsection (1) of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the professional educator standards board shall coordinate meetings between the school districts that do not have professional educator standards board-approved alternative route teacher certification programs and the nearest public or private institution of higher education with a professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation program. The purpose of the meetings is to determine whether the districts and institutions can partner to apply to the professional educator standards board to operate an alternative route teacher certification program.

(2) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, an institution of higher education, as defined in RCW 28B.10.016, with a professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation program that does not operate a professional educator standards board-approved alternative route teacher certification program must seek approval from the professional educator standards board to offer an alternative route teacher certification program by submitting the proposal developed under RCW 28A.410.290, or an updated version of the proposal, by September 1, 2016. If approved, the institution of higher education must implement an alternative route teacher certification program according to a timeline suggested by the professional educator standards board.

(3) This section expires July 1, 2017.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 28B.10 RCW to read as follows:

(1) By July 1, 2018, each institution of higher education with a professional educator standards board-approved alternative route teacher certification program must develop a plan describing how the institution of higher education will partner with school districts in the general geographic region of the school, or where its programs are offered, regarding placement of resident teachers. The plans must be developed in collaboration with school districts desiring to partner with the institutions of higher education, and may include use of unexpended federal or state funds to support residencies and mentoring for students who are likely to continue teaching in the district in which they have a supervised student teaching residency.

(2) The plans required under subsection (1) of this section must be updated at least biennially.

Sec. 11. RCW 28A.415.265 and 2013 2nd sp.s. c 18 s 401 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of this section, a mentor is an educator who has achieved appropriate training in assisting, coaching, and advising beginning teachers or student teaching residents as defined by the office of the superintendent of public instruction, such as national board certification or other specialized training.

(2)(a) The educator support program is established to provide professional development and mentor support for beginning educators, candidates in alternative route teacher certification programs under RCW 28A.660.040, and educators on probation under RCW 28A.405.100, to be composed of the beginning educator support team for beginning educators and continuous improvement coaching for educators on probation, as provided in this section.

((2)(a)) (b) The superintendent of public instruction shall notify school districts about the educator support program and encourage districts to apply for program funds.

(3) Subject to ((funds appropriated for this specific)) the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall allocate funds for the beginning educator support team on a competitive basis to individual school districts or consortia of districts. School districts are encouraged to include educational service districts in creating regional consortia. In allocating funds, the office of the superintendent of public instruction shall give priority to:

(a) School districts with low-performing schools identified under RCW 28A.657.020 as being challenged schools in need of improvement; and

(b) School districts with a large influx of beginning classroom teachers.

The state shall forgive one year of loan obligation for every two years a recipient teaches in a public school. Recipients who fail to continue a course of study leading to residency teacher certification or cease to teach in a public school in the state of Washington in their endorsement area are required to repay the remaining loan principal with interest.

(5) Recipients who fail to fulfill the required teaching obligation are required to repay the remaining loan principal with interest and any other applicable fees. The student achievement council shall adopt rules to define the terms for repayment, including applicable interest rates, fees, and deferments.

(6) The student achievement council may deposit all appropriations, collections, and any other funds received for the program in this chapter in the future teachers conditional scholarship account authorized in RCW 28B.102.080.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 28B.102 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Subject to the availability of amounts appropriated for this specific purpose, the office shall develop and administer the teacher shortage conditional grant program as a subprogram within the future teachers conditional scholarship and loan repayment program. The purpose of the teacher shortage conditional grant program is to encourage individuals to become teachers by providing financial aid to individuals enrolled in professional educator standards-approved teacher preparation programs.

(2) The office has the power and duty to develop and adopt rules as necessary under chapter 34.05 RCW to administer the program described in this section.

(3) As part of the rule-making process under subsection (2) of this section, the office must collaborate with the professional educator standards board, the Washington state school directors' association, and the professional educator standards board-approved teacher preparation programs to develop a framework for the teacher shortage conditional grant program, including eligibility requirements, contractual obligations, conditional grant amounts, and loan repayment requirements.

(4)(a) In developing the eligibility requirements, the office must consider: Whether the individual has a financial need, is a first-generation college student, or is from a traditionally underrepresented group among teachers in Washington; whether the individual is completing an alternative route teacher certification program; whether the individual plans to obtain an endorsement in a hard-to-fill subject, as defined by the professional educator standards board; the characteristic of any geographic shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board, that the individual plans to teach in; and whether a school district has committed to offering the individual employment once the individual obtains a residency teacher certificate.

(b) In developing the contractual obligations, the office must consider requiring the individual to: Obtain a Washington state residency teacher certificate; teach in a subject or geographic endorsement shortage area, as defined by the professional educator standards board; and commit to teach for five school years in an approved education program with a need for a teacher with such an endorsement at the time of hire.

(c) In developing the conditional grant award amounts, the office must consider whether the individual is: Enrolled in a public or private institution of higher education, a resident, in a baccalaureate or postbaccalaureate program, or in an alternative route teacher certification program. In addition, the award amounts must not result in a reduction of the individual's federal or state grant aid, including Pell grants, state need grants, college bound scholarships, or opportunity scholarships.

(d) In developing the repayment requirements for a conditional grant that is converted into a loan, the terms and conditions of the loan must follow the interest rate and repayment terms of the federal direct subsidized loan program. In addition, the office must consider the following repayment schedule:

(i) For less than one school year of teaching completed, the loan obligation is eighty-five percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee;

(ii) For less than two school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is seventy percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee;

(iii) For less than three school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is fifty-five percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee; and

(iv) For less than four school years of teaching completed, the loan obligation is forty percent of the conditional grant the student received, plus interest and an equalization fee.

(5) By November 1, 2018, and November 1, 2020, the office shall submit reports, in accordance with RCW 43.01.036, to the appropriate committees of the legislature that recommend whether the teacher shortage conditional grant program under this section should be continued, modified, or terminated, and that include information about the recipients of the grants under this program.

Increasing access to adequate and appropriate mental health services for children and youth.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator O'Ban moved that the following striking amendment no. 753 by Senator O'Ban be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature understands that adverse childhood experiences, such as family mental health issues, substance abuse, serious economic hardship, and domestic violence, all increase the likelihood of developmental delays and later health and mental health problems. The legislature further understands that early intervention services for children and families at high risk for adverse childhood experience help build secure parent-child attachment and bonding, which allows young children to thrive and form strong relationships in the future. The legislature finds that early identification and intervention are critical for children exhibiting aggressive or depressive behaviors indicative of early mental health problems. The legislature intends to improve access to adequate, appropriate, and culturally responsive mental health services for children and youth. The legislature further intends to encourage the use of behavioral health therapies and other therapies that are empirically supported or evidence-based and only prescribe medications for children and youth as a last resort.

(2) The legislature finds that nearly half of Washington's children are enrolled in medicaid and have a higher incidence of serious health problems compared to children who have commercial insurance. The legislature recognizes that disparities also exist in the diagnosis and initiation of treatment services for children of color, with studies demonstrating that children of color are diagnosed and begin receiving early interventions at a later age. The legislature finds that within the current system of care, families face barriers to receiving a full range of services for children experiencing behavioral health problems. The legislature intends to identify what network adequacy requirements, if strengthened, would increase access, continuity, and coordination of behavioral health services for children and families. The legislature further intends to encourage managed care plans and behavioral health organizations to contract with the same providers that serve children so families are not required to duplicate mental health screenings, and to recommend provider rates for mental health services to children and youth which will ensure an adequate network and access to quality based care.

(3) The legislature recognizes that early and accurate recognition of behavioral health issues coupled with appropriate and timely intervention enhances health outcomes while minimizing overall expenditures. The legislature intends to assure that annual depression screenings are done consistently with the highly vulnerable medicaid population and that children and families benefit from earlier access to services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The children's mental health work group is established to identify barriers to accessing mental health services for children and families, and to advise the legislature on statewide mental health services for this population.

(2)(a) The work group shall include diverse, statewide representation from the public and nonprofit and for-profit entities. Its membership shall reflect regional, racial, and cultural diversity to adequately represent the needs of all children and families in the state.

(b) The work group shall consist of not more than twenty-five members, as follows:

(i) The president of the senate shall appoint one member and one alternative member from each of the two largest caucuses of the senate.

(ii) The speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint one member and one alternative member from each of the two largest caucuses in the house of representatives.

(iii) The governor shall appoint at least one representative from each of the following: The department of early learning, the department of social and health services, the health care authority, the department of health, and a representative of the governor.

(iv) The superintendent of public instruction shall appoint one representative from the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

(v) The governor shall request participation by a representative of tribal governments.

(vi) The governor shall appoint one representative from each of the following: Behavioral health organizations, community mental health agencies, medicaid managed care organizations, pediatricians or primary care providers, providers that specialize in early childhood mental health, child health advocacy groups, early learning and child care providers, the managed health care plan for foster children, the evidence-based practice institute, parents or caregivers who have been a recipient of early childhood mental health services, and foster parents.

(c) The work group shall seek input and participation from stakeholders interested in the improvement of statewide mental health services for children and families.

(d) The work group shall choose two cochairs, one from among its legislative membership and one representative of a state agency. The representative from the health care authority shall convene the initial meeting of the work group.

(3) The children's mental health work group shall review the barriers that exist to identifying and treating mental health issues in children with a particular focus on birth to five and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature. At a minimum the work group must:

(a) Review and recommend developmentally, culturally, and linguistically appropriate assessment tools and diagnostic approaches that managed care plans and behavioral health organizations should use as the mechanism to establish eligibility for services;

(b) Identify and review billing issues related to serving the parent or caregiver in a treatment dyad and the billing issues related to services that are appropriate for serving children, including children birth to five;

(c) Evaluate and identify barriers to billing and payment for behavioral health services provided within primary care settings

2016 REGULAR SESSION

in an effort to promote and increase the use of behavioral health professionals within primary care settings;

(d) Review workforce issues related to serving children and families, including issues specifically related to birth to five;

(e) Recommend strategies for increasing workforce diversity and the number of professionals qualified to provide children's mental health services;

(f) Review and make recommendations on the development and adoption of standards for training and endorsement of professionals to become qualified to provide mental health services to children birth to five and their parents or caregivers;

(g) Analyze, in consultation with the department of early learning, the health care authority, and the department of social and health services, existing and potential mental health supports for child care providers to reduce expulsions of children in child care and preschool; and

(h) Identify outreach strategies that will successfully disseminate information to parents, providers, schools, and other individuals who work with children and youth on the mental health services offered through the health care plans, including referrals to parenting programs, community providers, and behavioral health organizations.

(4) Legislative members of the work group are reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 44.04.120. Nonlegislative members are not entitled to be reimbursed for travel expenses if they are elected officials or are participating on behalf of an employer, governmental entity, or other organization. Any reimbursement for other nonlegislative members is subject to chapter 43.03 RCW.

(5) The expenses of the work group must be paid jointly by the senate and the house of representatives. Work group expenditures are subject to approval by the senate facilities and operations committee and the house of representatives executive rules committee, or their successor committees.

(6) The work group shall report its findings and recommendations to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 2016.

(7) Staff support for the committee must be provided by the house of representatives office of program research, the senate committee services, and the office of financial management.

(8) This section expires December 1, 2017.

(1) The percentage of discharges for patients ages six through seventeen who had a visit to the emergency room with a primary diagnosis of mental health or alcohol or other drug dependence during the measuring year and who had a follow-up visit with any provider with a corresponding primary diagnosis of mental health or alcohol or other drug dependence within thirty days of discharge;

(b) For purposes of the PAL plus pilot program, the health care authority shall work in collaboration with faculty from the University of Washington working on the integration of mental health and medical care.

(2)(a) The PAL plus service is targeted to help children and families with medicaid coverage who have mental health concerns not already being served by the regional support network system or other local specialty care providers, and who instead receive treatment from their primary care providers. (3)(a) The health care authority shall monitor PAL plus service outcomes, including, but not limited to:

Training may be offered on a fee-for-service basis, or at no cost to school districts or educators if funds are appropriated specifically for this purpose or made available through grants or other sources.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

MR. PRESIDENT:

The House passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 6523 with the following amendment(s): 6523-S AMH ENGR H4638.E

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Local governments formed intergovernmental consortiums, also known as provider groups, to provide emergency medical services over their shared geographic area. Funds collected through an emergency services levy under RCW 84.52.069 were used to fund the consortium. Employees funded by the consortium provided services to the citizens of all the consortium members.

(2) The attorney general has ruled that where such a consortium is formed pursuant to an interlocal agreement, the consortium members retain their legal responsibilities as employers under the law enforcement officers' and firefighters' retirement system and public employees' retirement system. That is, the employees providing services to the consortium are entitled to retirement system membership if they otherwise meet membership eligibility requirements (AGO 2007 No. 6).

(3) This act is intended to provide those public employees with an opportunity to establish service credit in the public employees' retirement system for emergency medical services they provided to the public on behalf of a consortium or provider group.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 41.40 RCW under the subchapter heading "provisions applicable to plan 1, plan 2, and plan 3" to read as follows:

(1) An employee providing emergency medical services for a consortium of local governments, where some of those local governments qualified as public employees' retirement system employers at the time the service was rendered, may make an election to establish credit for service performed prior to July 27, 2003, as a full-time emergency medical technician serving the consortium to the public employees' retirement system. This option is only available to employees who:

(a) Performed services for a consortium of local governments fully contained within the boundaries of a county whose population on the effective date of this section exceeds seven hundred thousand residents but is less than eight hundred thousand residents; and

(b) File a written election to establish service credit under this section with the department of retirement systems no later than June 30, 2026.

(2)(a) The department of retirement systems shall treat the consortium member with the largest current population among consortium members who qualified as a public employees' retirement system employer at the time the service was rendered

SIXTIETH DAY, MARCH 10, 2016

2016 REGULAR SESSION

as the employer for purposes of this section. This employer classification:

(i) Is solely for the purpose of streamlining reporting service and compensation credit and paying contributions for periods of service covered by this section; and

(ii) Does not mean that the consortium member is the employee's employer for any other purpose.

(b) All contributions required for past periods of service established under this section shall be paid by the employees electing to establish service credit under this section.

(i) Employee contributions shall be calculated by the department equal to the contributions that would have been paid by the employee had the employee been a member of public employees' retirement system.

(ii) Employer contributions shall be calculated by the department equal to the contributions that would have been paid by the employer had the employee been reported in public employees' retirement system.

(iii) All contributions must be submitted by the employee within five years of electing to establish service credit under this section.

(3) If a member who elected to establish service credit under this section dies or retires for disability prior to payment of contributions under subsection (2)(b) of this section, the member, or in the case of death the surviving spouse or eligible minor children, may:

(a) Pay the bill in full;

(b) If a continuing monthly benefit is chosen, have the benefit actuarially reduced to reflect the amount of the unpaid obligation under subsection (2)(b) of this section; or

(c) Continue to make payment against the obligation under subsection (2)(b) of this section, provided that payment in full is made no later than five years from the member's original election date."

Such agreements shall set forth standards of enforcement,

NINETEENTH DAY, MARCH 28, 2016

2016 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. VAPOR PRODUCTS LICENSES. (1) The licenses issuable by the board under this chapter are as follows:

- (a) A vapor product retailer's license;
- (b) A vapor product distributor's license; and
- (c) A vapor product delivery sale license.

(2) Application for the licenses must be made through the business licensing system under chapter 19.02 RCW. The board may adopt rules regarding the regulation of the licenses. The board may refuse to issue any license under this chapter if the board has reasonable cause to believe that the applicant has willfully withheld information requested for the purpose of determining the eligibility of the applicant to receive a license, or if the board has reasonable cause to believe that information submitted in the application is false or misleading or is not made in good faith. In addition, for the purpose of reviewing an application for a distributor's license, retailer's license, or delivery seller's license, and for considering the denial, suspension, or revocation of any such license, the board may consider criminal conduct of the applicant, including an administrative violation history record with the board and a criminal history record information check within the previous five years, in any state, tribal, or federal jurisdiction in the United States, its territories, or possessions, and the provisions of RCW 9.95.240 and chapter 9.96A RCW do not apply to such cases. The board may, in its discretion, issue or refuse to issue the retailer's license, distributor's license, and delivery sale license subject to the provisions of RCW 70.155.100.

(3) The application processes for the retailer license and the distributor license, and any forms used for such processes, must allow the applicant to simultaneously apply for a delivery sale license without requiring the applicant to undergo a separate licensing application process in order to be licensed to conduct delivery sales. However, a delivery sale license obtained in conjunction with a retailer or distributor license under this subsection remains a separate license subject to the delivery sale licensing fee established under this chapter.

(4) No person may qualify for a retailer's license, distributor's license, or delivery sale license under this section without first undergoing a criminal background check. The background check must be performed by the board and must disclose any criminal conduct within the previous five years in any state, tribal, or federal jurisdiction in the United States, its territories, or possessions. If the applicant or licensee also has a license issued under chapter 66.24, 69.50, 82.24, or 82.26 RCW, the background check done under the authority of chapter 66.24, 69.50, 82.24, or 82.26 RCW satisfies the requirements of this subsection.

(5) Each license issued under this chapter expires on the business license expiration date. The license must be continued annually if the licensee has paid the required fee and complied with all the provisions of this chapter and the rules of the board adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(6) Each license and any other evidence of the license required under this chapter must be exhibited in each place of business for which it is issued and in the manner required for the display of a business license.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. LICENSING REQUIRED.

(1)(a) No person may engage in or conduct business as a retailer, distributor, or delivery seller in this state without a valid license issued under this chapter, except as otherwise provided by law. Any person who sells vapor products to ultimate consumers by a means other than delivery sales must obtain a retailer's license under this chapter. Any person who sells vapor products to persons other than ultimate consumers or who meets the definition of distributor under this chapter must obtain a distributor's license under this chapter. Any person who conducts delivery sales of vapor products must obtain a delivery sale license.

(b) A violation of this subsection is punishable as a class C felony according to chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(2) No person engaged in or conducting business as a retailer, distributor, or delivery seller in this state may refuse to allow the enforcement officers of the board, on demand, to make full inspection of any place of business or vehicle where any of the vapor products regulated under this chapter are sold, stored, transported, or handled, or otherwise hinder or prevent such inspection. A person who violates this subsection is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(3) Any person licensed under this chapter as a distributor, any person licensed under this chapter as a retailer, and any person licensed under this chapter as a delivery seller may not operate in any other capacity unless the additional appropriate license is first secured, except as otherwise provided by law. A violation of this subsection is a misdemeanor.

(4) No person engaged in or conducting business as a retailer, distributor, or delivery seller in this state may sell or give, or permit to sell or give, a product that contains any amount of any cannabinoid, synthetic cannabinoid, cathinone, or methcathinone, unless otherwise provided by law. A violation of this subsection (4) is punishable according to RCW 69.50.401.

(5) The penalties provided in this section are in addition to any other penalties provided by law for violating the provisions of this chapter or the rules adopted under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. DISTRIBUTOR LICENSING FEE. A fee of one hundred fifty dollars must accompany each vapor product distributor's license application or license renewal application under section 5 of this act. If a distributor sells or intends to sell vapor products at two or more places of business, whether established or temporary, a separate license with a license fee of one hundred dollars is required for each additional place of business.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. RETAILER LICENSING FEE.

(1) A fee of one hundred seventy-five dollars must accompany each vapor product retailer's license application or license renewal application under section 5 of this act. A separate license is required for each separate location at which the retailer operates.

(2) A retailer applying for, or renewing, both a vapor products retailer's license under section 5 of this act and retailer's license under RCW 82.24.510 may pay a combined application fee of two hundred fifty dollars for both licenses.

Sec. 9. RCW 82.24.530 and 2012 2nd sp.s. c 4 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

A separate license is required for each separate location at which the retailer operates. A fee of thirty additional dollars for each vending machine must accompany each application or renewal for a license issued to a retail dealer operating a cigarette vending machine. An additional fee of ninety-three dollars ((shall)) must accompany each application or renewal for a license issued to a retail dealer operating a cigarette-making machine.

(2) A retailer applying for, or renewing, both a retailer's license under RCW 82.24.510 and a vapor products retailer's license under section 5 of this act may pay a combined application fee of two hundred fifty dollars for both licenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. DELIVERY SALE LICENSING FEE. A fee of two hundred fifty dollars must accompany each vapor product delivery sale license application or license renewal application under section 5 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. ENFORCEMENT—LICENSE SUSPENSION, REVOCATION. (1) The board, or its enforcement officers, has the authority to enforce provisions of this chapter.

(2) The board may revoke or suspend a retailer's, distributor's, or delivery seller's license issued under this chapter upon sufficient cause showing a violation of this chapter.

(3) A license may not be suspended or revoked except upon notice to the licensee and after a hearing as prescribed by the board.

(4) Any retailer's licenses issued under chapter 82.24 or 82.26 RCW to a person whose vapor product retailer's license or licenses have been suspended or revoked for violating RCW 26.28.080 must also be suspended or revoked during the period of suspension or revocation under this section.

(5) Any person whose license or licenses have been revoked under this section may reapply to the board at the expiration of two years of the license or licenses, unless the license was revoked pursuant to section 22(2)(e) of this act. The license or licenses may be approved by the board if it appears to the satisfaction of the board that the licensee will comply with the provisions of this chapter.

(6) A person whose license has been suspended or revoked may not sell vapor products or permit vapor products to be sold during the period of suspension or revocation on the premises occupied by the person or upon other premises controlled by the person or others or in any other manner or form.

(7) Any determination and order by the board, and any order of suspension or revocation by the board of the license or licenses issued under this chapter, or refusal to reinstate a license or licenses after revocation is reviewable by an appeal to the superior court of Thurston county. The superior court must review the order or ruling of the board and may hear the matter de novo, having due regard to the provisions of this chapter and the duties imposed upon the board.

(8) If the board makes an initial decision to deny a license or renewal, or suspend or revoke a license, the applicant may request a hearing subject to the applicable provisions under Title 34 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. SIGNAGE. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, a person who holds a retailer's license issued under this chapter must display a sign concerning the prohibition of vapor product sales to minors. Such sign must:

(a) Be posted so that it is clearly visible to anyone purchasing vapor products from the licensee;

(b) Be designed and produced by the department of health to read: "The sale of vapor products to persons under age eighteen is strictly prohibited by state law. If you are under age eighteen, you could be penalized for purchasing a vapor product; photo id required;" and

(c) Be provided free of charge by the department of health.

(2) For persons also licensed under RCW 82.24.510 or 82.26.150, the board may issue a sign to read: "The sale of tobacco or vapor products to persons under age eighteen is strictly prohibited by state law. If you are under age eighteen, you could be penalized for purchasing a tobacco or vapor product; photo id required," provided free of charge by the board.

(3) A person who holds a license issued under this chapter must display the license or a copy in a prominent location at the outlet for which the license is issued.

the vapor product with a: (a) Warning regarding the harmful effects of nicotine; (b) warning to keep the vapor product away from children; (c) warning that vaping is illegal for those under the legal age to use the product; and (d) except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the amount of nicotine in milligrams per milliliter of liquid along with the total volume of the liquid contents of the product expressed in milliliters.

(2) For closed system nicotine containers as defined in section 4 of this act, a manufacturer that sells, offers for sale, or distributes vapor products in this state must annually provide the department of health with a disclosure of the nicotine content of such vapor product based on measurement standards to be established by the department of health.

(3)(a) This section expires on the effective date of the final regulations issued by the United States food and drug administration or by any other federal agency, when such regulations mandate warning or advertisement requirements for vapor products.

(b) The board must provide notice of the expiration date of this section to affected parties, the chief clerk of the house of representatives, the secretary of the senate, the office of the code reviser, and others as deemed appropriate by the board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. PURCHASING, POSSESSING BY PERSONS UNDER EIGHTEEN—CIVIL INFRACTION—JURISDICTION. (1) A person under the age of eighteen who purchases or attempts to purchase, possesses, or obtains or attempts to obtain vapor products commits a class 3 civil infraction under chapter 7.80 RCW and is subject to a fine as set out in chapter 7.80 RCW or participation in up to four hours of community restitution, or both. The court may also require participation in a smoking cessation program. This provision does not apply if a person under the age of eighteen, with parental authorization, is participating in a controlled purchase as part of a board, law enforcement, or local health department activity.

(2) Municipal and district courts within the state have jurisdiction for enforcement of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. AGE IDENTIFICATION REQUIREMENT. (1) When there may be a question of a person's right to purchase or obtain vapor products by reason of age, the retailer or agent thereof, must require the purchaser to present any one of the following officially issued forms of identification that shows the purchaser's age and bears his or her signature and photograph: (a) Liquor control authority card of identification of a state or province of Canada; (b) driver's license, instruction permit, or identification card of a state or province of Canada; (c) "identocard" issued by the Washington state department of licensing under chapter 46.20 RCW; (d) United States military identification; (e) passport; (f) enrollment card, issued by the governing authority of a federally recognized Indian tribe located in Washington, that incorporates security features comparable to those implemented by the department of licensing for Washington drivers' licenses. At least ninety days prior to implementation of an enrollment card under this subsection, the appropriate tribal authority must give notice to the board. The board must publish and communicate to licensees regarding the implementation of each new enrollment card; or (g) merchant marine identification card issued by the United States coast guard.

(2) It is a defense to a prosecution under RCW 26.28.080 that the person making a sale reasonably relied on any of the officially issued identification as defined in subsection (1) of this section. The board must waive the suspension or revocation of a license if the licensee clearly establishes that he or she acted in good faith to prevent violations and a violation occurred despite the licensee's exercise of due diligence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. VENDOR-ASSISTED SALES REQUIREMENT. (1) No person may offer a tobacco product or

(2) It is unlawful to sell or distribute vapor products from self-service displays.

(3) Retail establishments are exempt from subsections (1) and (2) of this section if minors are not allowed in the store and such prohibition is posted clearly on all entrances.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. MAIL AND INTERNET SALES. (1) No person may conduct a delivery sale or otherwise ship or transport, or cause to be shipped or transported, any vapor product ordered or purchased by mail or through the internet to any person unless such seller has a valid delivery sale license as required under this chapter.

(2) No person may conduct a delivery sale or otherwise ship or transport, or cause to be shipped or transported, any vapor product ordered or purchased by mail or through the internet to any person under the minimum age required for the legal sale of vapor products as provided under section 14 of this act.

(3) A delivery sale licensee must provide notice on its mail order or internet sales forms of the minimum age required for the legal sale of vapor products in Washington state as provided by section 14 of this act.

(4) A delivery sale licensee must not accept a purchase or order from any person without first obtaining the full name, birth date, and residential address of that person and verifying this information through an independently operated third-party database or aggregate of databases, which includes data from government sources, that are regularly used by government and businesses for the purpose of age and identity verification and authentication.

(5) A delivery sale licensee must accept payment only through a credit or debit card issued in the purchaser's own name. The licensee must verify that the card is issued to the same person identified through identity and age verification procedures in subsection (4) of this section.

(6) Before a delivery sale licensee delivers an initial purchase to any person, the licensee must verify the identity and delivery address of the purchaser by mailing or shipping to the purchaser a notice of sale and certification form confirming that the addressee is in fact the person placing the order. The purchaser must return the signed certification form to the licensee before the initial shipment of product. Certification forms are not required for repeat customers. In the alternative, before a seller delivers an initial purchase to any person, the seller must first obtain from the prospective customer an electronic certification, such as by email, that includes a declaration that, at a minimum, the prospective customer is over the minimum age required for the legal sale of a vapor product, and the credit or debit card used for payment has been issued in the purchaser's name.

(7) A delivery sale licensee must include on shipping documents a clear and conspicuous statement which includes, at a minimum, that the package contains vapor products, Washington law prohibits sales to those under the minimum age established by this chapter, and violations may result in sanctions to both the licensee and the purchaser.

(8) A person who knowingly violates this section is guilty of a class C felony, except that the maximum fine that may be imposed is five thousand dollars.

(9) In addition to or in lieu of any other civil or criminal remedy provided by law, a person who has violated this section is subject to a civil penalty of up to five thousand dollars for each violation. The attorney general, acting in the name of the state, may seek recovery of the penalty in a civil action in superior court.

(10) The attorney general may seek an injunction in superior court to restrain a threatened or actual violation of this section and to compel compliance with this section.

(11) Any violation of this section is not reasonable in relation to the development and preservation of business and is an unfair and deceptive act or practice and an unfair method of competition in the conduct of trade or commerce in violation of RCW 19.86.020. Standing to bring an action to enforce RCW 19.86.020 for violation of this section lies solely with the attorney general. Remedies provided by chapter 19.86 RCW are cumulative and not exclusive.

(12)(a) In any action brought under this section, the state is entitled to recover, in addition to other relief, the costs of investigation, expert witness fees, costs of the action, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

(b) If a court determines that a person has violated this section, the court shall order any profits, gain, gross receipts, or other benefit from the violation to be disgorged and paid to the state treasurer for deposit in the general fund.

(13) Unless otherwise expressly provided, the penalties or remedies, or both, under this section are in addition to any other penalties and remedies available under any other law of this state.

(14) A licensee who violates this section is subject to license suspension or revocation by the board.

(15) The board may adopt by rule additional requirements for mail or internet sales.

(16) The board must not adopt rules prohibiting internet sales.

Sec. 1700.20, as in effect on the effective date of this section.

(2) Any person that engages in retail sales of liquid nicotine containers in violation of this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. TASTINGS. (1) No person may offer a tasting of vapor products to the general public unless:

(a) The person is a licensed retailer under section 5 of this act;

(b) The tastings are offered only within the licensed premises operated by the licensee and the products tasted are not removed from within the licensed premises by the customer;

(c) Entry into the licensed premises is restricted to persons eighteen years of age or older;

(d) The vapor product being offered for tasting contains zero milligrams per milliliter of nicotine or the customer explicitly consents to a tasting of a vapor product that contains nicotine; and

(e) If the customer is tasting from a vapor device owned and maintained by the retailer, a disposable mouthpiece tip is attached to the vapor product being used by the customer for tasting or the vapor device is disposed of after each tasting.

(2) A violation of this section is a misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. COUPONS. (1) No person may give or distribute vapor products to a person free of charge by coupon, unless the vapor product was provided to the person as a contingency of prior or the same purchase as part of an in-person transaction or delivery sale.

(2) This section does not prohibit the use of coupons to receive a discount on a vapor product as part of an in-person transaction or delivery sale.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. USE OF VAPOR PRODUCTS IN CERTAIN PUBLIC PLACES. (1) Indoor areas.

(b) Real property that is under the control of a school and upon which the school is located; and

(c) Playgrounds, during the hours between sunrise and sunset, when one or more persons under twelve years of age are present at such playground.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. PENALTIES, SANCTIONS, AND ACTIONS AGAINST LICENSEES. (1) The board may impose a monetary penalty as set forth in subsection (2) of this section, if the board finds that the licensee has violated RCW 26.28.080 or any other provision of this chapter.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) of this section, the sanctions that the board may impose against a person licensed under this chapter based upon one or more findings under subsection (1) of this section may not exceed the following:

(a) A monetary penalty of two hundred dollars for the first violation within any three-year period;

(b) A monetary penalty of six hundred dollars for the second violation within any three-year period;

(d) A monetary penalty of three thousand dollars for the fourth or subsequent violation within any three-year period and suspension of the license for a period of twelve months for the fourth violation of RCW 26.28.080 within any three-year period;

(e) Revocation of the license with no possibility of reinstatement for a period of five years for the fifth or more violation within any three-year period.

(3) If the board finds that a person licensed under this chapter and chapter 82.24 or 82.26 RCW has violated RCW 26.28.080, each subsequent violation of either of the person's licenses counts as an additional violation within that three-year period.

(4) Any retailer's licenses issued under chapter 82.24 or 82.26 RCW to a person whose vapor product retailer's license or licenses have been suspended or revoked for violating RCW 26.28.080 must also be suspended or revoked during the period of suspension or revocation under this section.

(5) The board may impose a monetary penalty upon any person other than a licensed retailer if the board finds that the person has violated RCW 26.28.080.

(6) The monetary penalty that the board may impose based upon one or more findings under subsection (5) of this section may not exceed fifty dollars for the first violation and one hundred dollars for each subsequent violation.

(7) The board may develop and offer a class for retail clerks and use this class in lieu of a monetary penalty for the clerk's first violation.

(8) The board may issue a cease and desist order to any person who is found by the board to have violated or intending to violate the provisions of this chapter or RCW 26.28.080, requiring such person to cease specified conduct that is in violation. The issuance of a cease and desist order does not preclude the imposition of other sanctions authorized by this statute or any other provision of law.

(9) The board may seek injunctive relief to enforce the provisions of RCW 26.28.080 or this chapter. The board may initiate legal action to collect civil penalties imposed under this chapter if the same have not been paid within thirty days after imposition of such penalties. (11) The board may reduce or waive either the penalties or the suspension or revocation of a license, or both, as set forth in this chapter where the elements of proof are inadequate or where there are mitigating circumstances. Mitigating circumstances may include, but are not limited to, an exercise of due diligence by a retailer. Further, the board may exceed penalties set forth in this chapter based on aggravating circumstances.

Sec. 23. RCW 70.155.100 and 2006 c 14 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) This section is the tax preference performance statement for the tax preference in section 2 of this act. This performance statement is only intended to be used for subsequent evaluation of the tax preference. It is not intended to create a private right of action by any party or to determine eligibility for preferential tax treatment.

(2) The legislature categorizes this tax preference as one intended to provide tax relief for certain individuals, as indicated in RCW 82.32.808(2)(e).

(3) It is the legislature's specific public policy objective to provide more extensive property tax relief to veterans with total disability ratings and their surviving spouses or domestic partners to properly recognize their sacrifice on behalf of the nation and to enable them to remain in their residences, thus reducing homelessness and demand for services in state veterans' homes.

(4) To measure the effectiveness of this act in achieving the objective in subsection (3) of this section, the joint legislative audit and review committee must provide a report to the legislature by December 1, 2020, assessing the impact of the tax preference in reducing homelessness and demand for services in state veterans' homes among veterans with total disability ratings and their surviving spouses or domestic partners.

Sec. 2. RCW 84.36.381 and 2015 3rd sp.s. c 30 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

A person is exempt from any legal obligation to pay all or a portion of the amount of excess and regular real property taxes due and payable in the year following the year in which a claim is filed, and thereafter, in accordance with the following:

(1) The property taxes must have been imposed upon a residence which was occupied by the person claiming the exemption as a principal place of residence as of the time of filing. However, any person who sells, transfers, or is displaced from his or her residence may transfer his or her exemption status to a replacement residence, but no claimant may receive an exemption on more than one residence in any year. Moreover, confinement of the person to a hospital, nursing home, assisted living facility, or adult family home does not disqualify the claim of exemption if:

- (a) The residence is temporarily unoccupied;
- (b) The residence is occupied by a spouse or a domestic partner and/or a person financially dependent on the claimant for support; or
- (c) The residence is rented for the purpose of paying nursing home, hospital, assisted living facility, or adult family home costs;

(2) The person claiming the exemption must have owned, at the time of filing, in fee, as a life estate, or by contract purchase, the residence on which the property taxes have been imposed or if the person claiming the exemption lives in a cooperative housing association, corporation, or partnership, such person must own a share therein representing the unit or portion of the structure in which he or she resides. For purposes of this subsection, a residence owned by a marital community or state registered domestic partnership or owned by cotenants is deemed to be owned by each spouse or each domestic partner or each cotenant, and any lease for life is deemed a life estate;

(3) ~~((+))~~ The person claiming the exemption must be:

~~((+))~~ (a) Sixty-one years of age or older on December 31st of the year in which the exemption claim is filed, or must have been, at the time of filing, retired from regular gainful employment by reason of disability, or the surviving spouse or surviving domestic partner of a person who was receiving an exemption under this subsection at the time of the person's death if the surviving spouse or domestic partner is fifty-seven years of age or older and otherwise meets the requirements of this section;
or

~~((+))~~ (b) A veteran of the armed forces of the United States entitled to and receiving compensation from the United States department of veterans affairs at a total disability rating for a service-connected disability

~~(b) However, any surviving spouse or surviving domestic partner of a person who was receiving an exemption at the time of the person's death will qualify if the surviving spouse or surviving domestic partner is fifty-seven years of age or older and otherwise meets the requirements of this section), or the surviving spouse or surviving domestic partner of a person who was receiving an exemption under this subsection at the time of the person's death if the surviving spouse or domestic partner is fifty-seven years of age or older. Those who qualify under this subsection (3)(b) are exempt from all regular and excess property taxes on a residence that meets the requirements of subsections (1) and (2) of this section;~~

(4) The amount that ~~((the))~~ a person qualifying under subsection (3)(a) of this section is exempt from an obligation to pay is calculated on the basis of combined disposable income, as defined in RCW 84.36.383. If the person claiming the exemption was retired for two months or more of the assessment year, the combined disposable income of such person must be calculated by multiplying the average monthly combined disposable income of such person during the months such person was retired by twelve. If the income of the person claiming exemption is reduced for two or more months of the assessment year by reason of the death of the person's spouse or the person's domestic partner, or when other substantial changes occur in disposable income that are likely to continue for an indefinite period of time, the combined disposable income of such person must be calculated by multiplying the average monthly combined disposable income of such person after such occurrences by twelve. If it is necessary to estimate income to comply with this subsection, the assessor may require confirming documentation of such income prior to May 31 of the year following application;

(5)(a) A person under subsection (3)(a) of this section who otherwise qualifies under this section and has a combined disposable income of forty thousand dollars or less is exempt from all excess property taxes; and

(b)(i) A person under subsection (3)(a) of this section who otherwise qualifies under this section and has a combined disposable income of thirty-five thousand dollars or less but greater than thirty thousand dollars is exempt from all regular property taxes on the greater of fifty thousand dollars or thirty-five percent of the valuation of his or her residence, but not to exceed seventy thousand dollars of the valuation of his or her residence; or

(ii) A person under subsection (3)(a) of this section who otherwise qualifies under this section and has a combined disposable income of thirty thousand dollars or less is exempt from all regular property taxes on the greater of sixty thousand dollars or sixty percent of the valuation of his or her residence;

(6)(a) For a person under subsection (3)(a) of this section who otherwise qualifies under this section and has a combined disposable income of forty thousand dollars or less, the valuation of the residence is the assessed value of the residence on the later of January 1, 1995, or January 1st of the assessment year the person first qualifies under this section. If the person subsequently fails to qualify under this section only for one year because of high income, this same valuation must be used upon requalification. If the person fails to qualify for more than one year in succession because of high income or fails to qualify for any other reason, the valuation upon requalification is the assessed value on January 1st of the assessment year in which the person requalifies. If the person transfers the exemption under this section to a different residence, the valuation of the different residence is the assessed value of the different residence on January 1st of the assessment year in which the person transfers the exemption.

(b) In no event may the valuation under this subsection be greater than the true and fair value of the residence on January 1st of the assessment year.

(c) This subsection does not apply to subsequent improvements to the property in the year in which the improvements are made. Subsequent improvements to the property must be added to the value otherwise determined under this subsection at their true and fair value in the year in which they are made.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act is not subject to the expiration date requirements provided in RCW 82.32.805.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

March 15, 2016

To the Honorable Members of the Washington State Senate:

I respectfully transmit for your consideration the following measures which were vetoed by the Governor, along with his objection to the bills, as required by Article III, section 12, of the Washington State Constitution:

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

I voted no because, as the prime sponsor stated, the purpose of this bill is to eliminate the means test. I believe this is wrong policy. For example, the ex-spouse of a cumulative 100 percent disabled veteran who remarries a millionaire would still carry the tax exemption to the millionaire's property.

SENATOR HASEGAWA, 11th Legislative District

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 71.24 RCW to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the growing demand for state hospital beds has strained the state's capacity to meet the demand while providing for a sufficient workforce to operate the state hospitals safely. It is the intent of the legislature that the executive and legislative branches work collaboratively to maximize access to, safety of, and the therapeutic role of the state hospitals to best serve patients while ensuring the safety of patients and employees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 71.24 RCW to read as follows:

TWENTIETH DAY, MARCH 29, 2016

2016 1ST SPECIAL SESSION

(1) The legislature intends to explore the option of changing the current financing structure and financial incentives for state hospital civil bed utilization by providing behavioral health organizations and full integration entities under RCW 71.24.380 with the state funds necessary to purchase a number of days of care at a state hospital equivalent to the current allocation model, instead of providing state hospital bed allocations under RCW 71.24.310. Such funds would be available to purchase state hospital beds or for alternative uses such as to purchase beds in other locations, to invest in community services, and to invest in diversion from inpatient care. Behavioral health organizations and equivalent entities in full integration regions would be placed at risk for state hospital civil utilization for patients within their catchment areas, while receiving the means and opportunity to apply any savings resulting from reduced state hospital utilization directly to the service of clients in the community. This policy option is intended to incentivize behavioral health organizations and entities in full integration regions to increase their utilization management efforts, develop additional capacity for hospital diversion, and increase their capacity to safely serve complex clients in the community.

(2) To further these ends, the department must develop a detailed transition plan in collaboration with its actuarial consultant and the external consultant to examine the current configuration and financing of state hospitals under section 5 of this act and with the regular input of behavioral health organizations, full integration regions, and other stakeholders. The transition plan shall include but not be limited to consideration of the following:

(a) A methodology for division of the current state hospital beds between each of the behavioral health organizations and full integration regions. The methodology must consider two options: (i) A method which allocates the resources supporting state hospital bed utilization solely among behavioral health organizations and full integration regions; and (ii) a method which allocates a portion of the resources supporting state hospital bed utilization among behavioral health organizations and full integration regions, and the remainder to the state long-term care and developmental disabilities systems. The portion allocated to the state long-term care and developmental disability systems must correspond to state hospital bed utilization by patients whose primary community care needs after discharge will be funded by the state long-term care or developmental disability system, based on client history or a functional needs assessment, and include payment responsibility for the state hospital utilization by these patients;

(b) Development of payment rates for state hospital utilization that reflect financing, safety, and accreditation needs under the new system and ensure that necessary access to state hospital beds is maintained for behavioral health organizations and full integration regions;

(c) Maximizing federal participation for treatment and preserving access to funds through the disproportionate share hospital program under either methodology described under (a) of this subsection;

(d) Billing and reimbursement mechanisms;

(e) Discharge planning procedures that must be adapted to account for functional needs assessments upon admission;

(f) Identification of regional differences and challenges for implementation in different regional service areas;

(g) A means of tracking expenditures related to successful reductions of state hospital utilization by regional service areas and means to assure that the funds necessary to safely maintain gains in utilization reduction are protected;

(h) Recommendations for the timing of implementation including exploration of options for transition to full implementation through the use of smaller-scale pilots allowing for the creation of alternative placements outside the state hospitals such as step-down or transitional placements;

(i) The potential for adverse impacts on safety and a description of available methods to mitigate any risks for patients, behavioral health organizations, full integration regions, and the community; and

(j) An explanation of the benefits and disadvantages associated with the alternative methodologies described in (a) of this subsection.

(3) A preliminary draft of the transition plan must be submitted to the relevant committees of the legislature by November 15, 2016, for review by the select committee on quality improvement in state hospitals. The department shall consider the input of the committee and external stakeholders before submitting a final transition plan by December 30, 2016.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A select committee on quality improvement in state hospitals is established, composed of the following members:

(a) Four members of the senate, appointed by the president of the senate, consisting of the chairs and ranking members of the committee on health care and the committee on human services, mental health and housing, or their successor committees;

(b) Four members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, consisting of the chair and ranking members of the committee on health care and wellness and the committee on judiciary, or their successor committees;

(c) One member, appointed by the governor, representing the office of financial management; and

(d) Two nonvoting members, appointed by the governor, consisting of the secretary of the department of social and health services or a designee and the director of the department of labor and industries or a designee.

(2) The committee shall have two cochairs elected by the membership of the committee.

(3) The governor or a designee shall convene the initial meeting of the committee.

(4) Meetings of the committee shall be open to the public and shall provide an opportunity for public comment.

(5) Primary staff support for the committee must be provided by the office of financial management. Additional staff support may be provided by the office of program research and senate committee services.

(6) The committee shall meet, at a minimum, on a quarterly basis beginning April 2016, or as determined necessary by the committee cochairs.

(7) State agency representatives shall respond in a timely manner to data requests from the cochairs relating to the work of the committee.

(8) Legislative members of the committee must be reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with RCW 44.04.120. Nonlegislative members are not entitled to be reimbursed for travel expenses if they are elected officials or are participating on behalf of an employer, governmental entity, or other organization. Any reimbursement for other nonlegislative members is subject to chapter 43.03 RCW.

(9) The expenses of the committee must be paid jointly by the senate and the house of representatives. Committee expenditures are subject to approval by the senate facilities and operations committee and the house of representatives executive rules committee, or their successor committees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The committee shall receive updates, monitor, and make recommendations to the governor, the office of financial management, and the legislature in the following areas, with respect to the state hospitals:

(1) Planning related to the appropriate role of the state hospitals in the state's mental health system, as well as state hospital structure, financing, staff composition, and workforce development needs to improve the quality of care, patient outcomes, safety, and operations of the state hospitals;

(3) Monitoring of process and outcome measures regarding the implementation of policies and appropriations passed by the legislature; and

(4) Reviewing findings by the department of health regarding the results of its survey of the state hospitals and the department of labor and industries concerning the safety of the state hospitals and compliance with follow-up recommendations for corrective action. These agencies shall report to the committee quarterly or as requested by the committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Long-term planning for the state hospitals and recommendations for the use of funds from the governor's behavioral health innovation fund created in section 6 of this act must be informed by the use of consultants who shall make recommendations to the governor, the legislature, and the committee by October 1, 2016. The committee shall review the selection of consultants and provide input into the prioritization of tasks.

(2) The office of financial management must contract for the services of an external consultant who will examine the current configuration and financing of the state hospital system. This consultant shall:

(a) Work with the department of social and health services to produce the detailed transition plan described in section 2 of this act;

(b) Work with the state hospitals, local governments, community hospitals, mental health providers, substance use disorder treatment providers, other providers, and behavioral health organizations to identify options and make recommendations related to:

(i) Identification of which populations are appropriately served at the state hospitals;

(iii) Utilization of interventions to prevent or reduce psychiatric hospitalization;

(iv) Benefits and costs of developing and implementing step-down and transitional placements for state hospital patients;

(v) Whether discharges of patients take into consideration whether it is appropriate for the patient to return to the patient's original community considering the location of family and other natural supports, the availability of appropriate services, and the desires of the patients. The consultant must report whether the lack of resources in a patient's home community is a significant factor that causes barriers to discharge or frequently results in relocation of patients outside their home communities for posthospital care;

(vi) Optimization of continuity of care with community providers, including but not limited to coordination with any community behavioral health provider or evaluation and treatment facility that has treated the patient immediately prior to state hospital admission, and any provider that will serve the patient upon discharge from the state hospital;

(vii) Reduction of barriers to discharge, including options to:

(A) Ensure discharge planning begins at admission;

(B) Offer co-occurring substance use disorder treatment services at the state hospitals;

(C) Clarify and hold accountable state hospitals and behavioral health organizations for their respective roles in the discharge planning process, including development of community diversion and transition options;

(D) Include contract performance measures related to timely discharge planning in behavioral health organization contracts;

(E) Improve state monitoring and oversight of behavioral health organizations in their contracted responsibilities for developing an adequate network to meet the needs of their communities;

(F) Incentivize the use of community resources when clinically appropriate; and

(G) Expedite discharge for individuals who are the responsibility of the long-term care or developmental disability systems, or who are not covered by medicaid, and assure financial responsibility to appropriate systems, including the potential necessity of other state-run facilities;

(viii) Planning for the long-term integration of physical and behavioral health services, including strategies for assessing risk for the utilization of state hospital beds to health plans contracted to provide the full range of physical and behavioral health services; and

(ix) Identification of the potential costs, benefits, and impacts associated with dividing one or both of the state hospitals into discrete hospitals to serve civil and forensic patients in separate facilities.

(3) The department of social and health services shall contract for the services of an academic or independent state hospitals psychiatric clinical care model consultant to examine the clinical role of staffing at the state hospitals.

(a) The consultant's analysis must include an examination of:

(4) The consultant services in this section shall be acquired with funds appropriated for this purpose and the contracts are exempt from the competitive solicitation requirements in RCW 39.26.125.

Only the director of financial management or the director's designee may authorize expenditures from the fund. TWENTIETH DAY, MARCH 29, 2016

(2) The application must include proposals to increase the overall function of the state hospital system in one or more of the following categories:

(a) Instituting fund-shift pilot initiatives through contracts with behavioral health organizations or long-term care providers providing enhanced behavioral supports to move certain state hospital patients to alternative placements outside of the state hospital, contingent on federal funding. Proposals must include quality outcome measures and acuity-based staffing models of interdisciplinary teams designed for optimal treatment outcomes;

(b) Developing and utilizing step-down and transitional placements for state hospital patients;

(c) Improving staff retention and recruiting;

(d) Increasing capacity and instituting other measures to reduce backlogs and wait lists in both the civil and forensic systems;

(5) The office of financial management must consider input from the committee when awarding funding.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The department of social and health services must provide quarterly implementation progress reports to the committee and the office of financial management that include at a minimum:

(1) The status of completing key activities, critical milestones, and deliverables over the prior period;

(2) Identification of specific barriers to completion of key activities, critical milestones, and deliverables and strategies that will be used for addressing these challenges;

(3) The most recent quarterly data on all performance measures and outcomes for which data is currently being collected, as well as any additional data requested by the committee; and

(4) The status of the adoption and implementation of the policies identified in section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of social and health services must assure that the state hospitals adopt and implement the following policies, subject to the availability of appropriated funding, and shall include information regarding the status of the adoption and implementation of these policies in its quarterly reports required under section 8 of this act:

(1) A standardized acuity-based staffing model employed at both facilities that recognizes the staffing level required based upon the type of patients served, the differences and constraints of the physical plant across hospitals and wards, and the full scope of practice of all credentialed health care providers, and that identifies the incorporation of these health care providers practicing to the maximum extent of their credential in interdisciplinary teams. The model shall recognize a role for advanced registered nurse practitioners and physician assistants to utilize the full scope of their practice as provided under section 12 of this act;

(2) A strategy with measurable, articulated steps for reducing the unnecessary utilization of state hospital beds and minimizing readmissions to evaluation and treatment facilities for state hospital patients;

(3) A program of appropriate safety training for state hospital staff;

(5) A process for appeal to the secretary of the department of social and health services or the secretary's designee within fourteen days in cases where a behavioral health organization, other entities under RCW 71.24.380, or the state agency division responsible for the community care needs of the patient and the state hospital treatment team are unable to reach a mutually agreed upon discharge plan for patients who are considered by either party to be ready for discharge. This process shall ensure consideration of risk factors for readmission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Behavioral health organization" has the same meaning as in RCW 71.24.025 and includes any managed care organization that has contracted with the state to provide fully integrated behavioral health and physical health services for medicaid clients.

(2) "Committee" means the select committee on quality improvement in state hospitals created in section 3 of this act.

(3) "State hospitals" include western state hospital and eastern state hospital as designated in RCW 72.23.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) The legislature finds that there are currently patients with long-term care needs at western state hospital who are ready for discharge and could safely be served in community settings if alternative placements are made available.

(2) The department of social and health services must identify discharge and diversion opportunities for patients needing long-term care to reduce the demand for thirty beds currently being used for this population. A twenty bed reduction must be realized by July 1, 2016, with a utilization reduction of ten additional beds by January 1, 2017. The resources being used to serve these beds must be reinvested within the state hospital budget in order to achieve patient and staff safety improvement goals.

(3) The department of social and health services must provide a progress report to the governor and relevant committees of the legislature by December 1, 2016, and a final report by August 1, 2017, describing outcomes for these patients through June 30, 2017.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The legislature finds that the potential uses of psychiatric advanced registered nurse practitioners and physician assistants in institutional settings at the top of their scope of practice are currently being underutilized by the state hospitals.

(2) The office of financial management must create a job class series for psychiatric advanced registered nurse practitioners and a job class series for physician assistants that allows these professionals to practice at the top of their scope of practice at state hospitals. In conjunction and conformance with the staffing analysis described in section 9(1) of this act, the state hospitals shall increase the employment of professionals operating under these new classifications in a manner that allows the state hospitals to reduce their reliance on psychiatrist positions, which the state hospitals are currently unable to fill. The state hospitals must consider the role of these professionals in supervising or directing the work of other treatment team members.

(3) Nothing in this section should be construed to require the state to violate any collective bargaining agreements in place prior to the effective date of this section. Agreements negotiated or renegotiated after the effective date of this section must be consistent with the expanded use of advanced registered nurse practitioners and physician assistants required by this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. To the extent that any of the timelines in this act are not achievable due to conflicts with other hospital improvement timelines set by federal or state regulatory bodies, the department of social and health services may seek a reasonable extension from the select committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. This chapter expires July 1, 2019.

Sec. 15. RCW 71.05.365 and 2014 c 225 s 85 are each amended to read as follows:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Honeyford: "Thank you. Well as some of you know, Brian Sims is retiring at the end of this year and he's in the wings. This is an opportunity for all of us to tell him what we thought of him and so I thought we'd get right down to it. He came to us in the Senate after working for a varied career - the city of Seattle, OFM, DSHS, Sisters of Providence and he started here in 1998 and has served the longest as the capital budget staff person. Something he's kept hidden very well is that he attended

TWENTIETH DAY, MARCH 29, 2016

WSU and apparently was a graduate there and I've seen no cougars in his office and I've been here in the Senate for eighteen years and didn't know this little factoid. I think the alumni association needs to work on him. The fact that he did work for WSU is important because apparently he called about being a TRS 1 member, or a PERS 1, and they told him that being that he worked at WSU at the time, he was a PERS 1. So he's got on the gravy train with all the others. Brian has done the capital budget for eleven years. He's worked with Brandland, Fraser, Honeyford, Keiser, Kilmer, Hewitt and Parlette and I believe he's served us all very, very well. The part I like best about Brian was that he could look and figure out a solution for any problem. That was something that I really appreciated because some things would just seem unsolvable and he would come up with a solution that would work on both sides of the rotunda. That I really do appreciate. You know, because of that ability, he had a very agile mind but something else I didn't know he was quite agile. He was on the gymnastics team at WSU. I'd like to see him do a back flip now! And also, he can explain to anybody how this place works and I think that's important. We had people come in and talk to him that wanted something, or they were floating something, and he could tell them how the place works and how things got done. Also, the budget writers have benefitted also from Brian and the biggest one was the state efficiency and restructuring account, which facilitated in the state taking savings from closed, obsolete institutions during the great recession. So that was a great help for our operating budget. Finally, Brian and Lisa have twelve acres out toward Boston Harbor where they are growing cider apples. And he came over to Sunnyside and we got him wire for his apples and he got questions answered. I even gave him a reel that he could roll off the wire very easily so he will be making and selling Gull Harbor cider. So I'm looking forward to having some of that in the near future. We're going to really miss Brian. He's been a tremendous friend and a hard worker and always got results. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Frockt: "I also just want to say a word about Mr. Sims. I did not work with him as closely or directly as my colleagues on as many occasions, but I just want to say, I don't know if he remembers this, but to show how good of a staff member he was, when I first came to the Senate in 2012 and Derek Kilmer was the chair of the committee. I had no idea what I was doing but I had a twenty-five million dollar request from my school district to build some schools in Seattle. We went and met with Brian. I don't know if you remember this Brian, but you were extremely helpful in helping us find a way to solve the problem. And there are schools being built in Seattle because of your fine staff work and your creativity which is an important part of law making. It's creativity. We rely on our staff, and really excellent staff members, to help us with that. So I just want to say a quick word and say thank you for your service and all the good work and there are children in schools today because of the work that you did with us three years ago and I really appreciate it. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hewitt: "Thank you, Madame President. So Brian I want to say to you thank you for being a great friend. You know I met you some sixteen years ago and I'm actually happy we're retiring together. I think that's kind of cool. He really has become a good friend of mine and we've already spoke about him coming to Walla Walla. And we have something in common. We actually have a couple of things in common. He likes red wine a lot and he especially likes it from Walla Walla, but he does admit that since the chair's from Columbia Valley...anyway. And the other thing that we share is that we both enjoy woodworking. My advice to you as we move forward is don't do them both at the same time. It's not very good for the trade. I do want to thank you. You've been so responsive over the last sixteen years, even during interim when we needed something answered. I'd call and you'd call me right back. That's really pleasing when somebody does that because when we're all looking for answers it's nice to have them. So I wish you and Lisa the best in the future and I know we're going to see you in Walla Walla and I'm certainly looking forward to it and we will not talk politics. Thank you, Madame President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Keiser: "Thank you, Madame President. Well I too want to share in the accolades that we're putting forward for Brian Sims today. Brian is an incredible font of knowledge, an institutional memory that we're going to badly miss in the next few sessions. When any puzzle comes up, when any problem develops, he has a frame of reference, an example, an anecdote, a solution because he has the knowledge and depth of knowledge and institutional memory that gives you that kind of capability. And then you combine that with creative thinking, because he's a very agile thinker, as Senator Honeyford mentioned, and you really have a power house for a staff member who can help you get things done. And in the capital budget, that's what we like to do. We like to get things done. One of the biggest things for me was last week I got to go to a groundbreaking for the Puget Sound Skills Center for their new health professions building. This is the only new building for the oldest skills center in the state. And it's going to be terrific because in about nine months, Brian, I think you should come back to the Highline School District, your old school district, and you should come back and come through the doors of that new Health Professions Building and see all those students. Maybe there you can get your teeth cleaned, because all those students are on the waiting list for the dental professions and for the medical professions programs, will be in class, working in a good learning environment. Because you helped me figure out how after ten years of trying to get that building built, we finally did it. I appreciate your help. I appreciate your service. And best of luck to you on your retirement."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Thank you, Madame President. I would like also to add some accolades to the career of Brian Sims. I chaired the capital budget for six years. So I worked very closely with him and he is a wonderful example of so many staff here who the public never sees, or rarely sees, but who really contribute to the ability of elected officials to do their job. I just have to echo how exceptionally talented he is. The reference to agile mind, his creativity, it is all so true. The capital budget deals with almost every aspect of state government. From K-12, higher education, mental health, prisons, natural resources, recreation, environment, and it has many, many funding sources. So not only does it spend in a lot of places, but it has a wide variety of funding sources which a lot of people don't really realize. And they each have their own complexities. Plus there's all the state bonding so you really have to know a lot to be in the role of coordinating the capital budget. So I agree that he is one who whenever you have an impossible problem, you go see Brian and he will come up with a solution or two for you to consider. He's a very hard worker and people may not realize that sometimes he goes without sleep when we get near our deadlines and somehow he keeps functioning well. So I think he deserves a great retirement and I hope to be seeing him too because he lives in my district and I'm looking forward to trying out the cider. I wish him well."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Dammeier: "Thank you, Madame President. All the things I could echo but I won't, all the things that have been said about Brian Sims on the floor, because they are all very true. But one of the things that hasn't been said is he really enjoys the political game of the negotiation with the House. And it was particularly good when he was matching wits across the table with Representative Dunshee. It's no surprise to me that he is retiring at the same time that Representative Dunshee left the capital budget. I can tell you as one of our negotiators, one of the best things that would happen is you'd have Mr. Sims at the table and it would be so distracting. He would drive Dunshee crazy and it would be distracting for him so we can work about getting the best solution for the Senate and for the citizens of the state of Washington. So we are going to miss it Brian. We're going to miss your distraction and your keen wit and mind in negotiations as well. Thank you for your service to the state."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Conway: "Thank you. I just needed to get out here and say goodbye to who I consider to be a great friend. Brian, I spent a lot of time in the House but you know when I got to the Senate, I finally got close to the capital budget. In the House, it was kind of like, if you're not on that capital budget, you're not even close to it. One thing I really noticed under Brian's leadership on Ways and Means was that whenever my constituents would come to me and ask me we got an idea about funding for a project, I knew immediately I needed to get Brian Sims in the room with them to help them figure out what pot of money, the capital budget's very complicated, and what pot of money and whether there was any chance to get funding. And that kind of a personal touch where you can actually bring Brian into a room with your constituents to talk about a capital budget, you know Brian was always available to that. You know I used to ask Brian, come to Tacoma and help me meet with my constituents and Brian came. Brian would come. He'd take the time to come down to Tacoma to meet. In fact, I can recall when we were talking about the LeMay Auto Museum. Brian was anxious to come in fact because he loved that auto museum and it's quite a museum. You know I lost track of Brian somewhere on that path through that museum. There are four or five levels to it. You know where I found him eventually? I found him at the very bottom. He was in what they call their machine shop where they actually bring the old cars in and work on them. And guess who was working on a car? Brian Sims. Brian was in there working on that car. In fact when I left, he was still there. That's the special kind of person you are Brian, and I really mean that. A person who is not just a staffer here but you're a person who wants to help our state and help our communities. Capital budget is how we build community. I see Brian going on, I actually had something else I was going to say here. I see Brian in kind of an old Anglo-American tradition as a gentleman farmer. As you all know, Brian is frankly looking forward to his retirement because he is building a great orchard out there. Right, Brian? An apple orchard. I can just see Brian in his apple orchard. He's told me his stories of riding around on his tractors and I can see him, because he is a thoughtful, intellectual individual and I know he's going to sit back and analyze every bit of this apple business like he does these capital budgets. You know that's a great tradition, this Anglo-American tradition. Brian I personally am going to miss you an awful lot. I thank you for all your help and I know your staff is going to miss you as well. Thank you."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Parlette: "Thank you very much. I rise in support of honoring Mr. Sims also. I had the fun experience of being ranking on capital budget in the years 2011 and 2012. My big issue in wanting to have that job to sort of concentrate on reducing our debt issue. About a billion dollars a year goes to debt service in our operating budget and that's money that could be spent for education, mental health issues, and other things. Brian was so helpful in helping devise a constitutional amendment which eventually passed in the state of Washington. And also trying to have a smaller amount of bonding and spending issue was my goal in 2011 and dealing with the chair in the other chamber was difficult. But we stood our ground and we did pull an all-nighter and put that capital budget together in 2011 by staying up all night. That was fun and I'm glad he could live on less sleep because I'm not used to that. But really, we're going to miss you and we all have fond memories. Thank you, Madame President."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Mullet: "Thank you, Madame President. The reason I love working with Brian is he can do a thirty minute meeting in five minutes because he doesn't have to look anything up. To me, it's highly productive and he has the notes with him but he doesn't look at them. So that was a big, refreshing thing that I loved about him. Then I had a bill around a fishing line recycling program that I ran two years in a row and never made it to the finish line. Brian came up with this idea where he's like Puget Sound Corps, this is right up their alley. I literally had a meeting at Zeke's with them this last fall and they were ecstatic that this was finally happening. And it's kind of like we heard earlier, they were thanking me and I said I'm actually not the person that came up with the idea. It's a guy you wouldn't even know. He works in Olympia and he's really good at this stuff. I think it's kind of refreshing for the citizens of Washington to realize that the people who do work down here are incredibly smart and devoted and it's a really great example. I promise you if your cider ends up being really good, I will sell it at Zeke's. I will put it on tap so we can have Brian Sims cider in Issaquah. I look forward to it. Thank you very much."

REMARKS BY THE VICE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Brown: "I know the entire chamber will join me in thanking Brian for his number of years of service to this esteemed body. Thank you very much."

The Senate recognized Mr. Brian Sims who was present in the wings.

The measure was read the second time.

WITHDRAWAL OF AMENDMENT

On motion of Senator Padden and without objection, the following amendment no. 772 by Senator Padden to Engrossed Third Substitute House Bill No. 1713 was withdrawn:

Beginning on page 13, line 35, strike all of section 104 and insert the following:

"Sec. 104. RCW 70.96A.097 and 1998 c 296 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall ensure that, for any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under RCW 70.96A.245, a review is conducted by a physician or ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder counselor, as defined in rule by the department, who is employed by the department or an agency under contract with the department and who neither has a financial interest in continued inpatient treatment of the minor nor is affiliated with the program providing the treatment. The physician or ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder counselor shall conduct the review not less than seven nor more than fourteen days following the date the minor was brought to the facility under RCW 70.96A.245(1) to determine whether it is a medical necessity to continue the minor's treatment on an inpatient basis.

(2) In making a determination under subsection (1) of this section whether it is a medical necessity to release the minor from inpatient treatment, the department shall consider the opinion of the treatment provider, the safety of the minor, the likelihood the minor's ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder recovery will deteriorate if released from inpatient treatment, and the wishes of the parent or guardian.

(3) If, after any review conducted by the department under this section, the department determines it is no longer a medical necessity for a minor to receive inpatient treatment, the department shall immediately notify the parents or guardian and the professional person in charge. The professional person in charge shall release the minor to the parents or guardian within twenty-four hours of receiving notice. If the professional person in charge and the parent or guardian believe that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain in inpatient treatment, the minor shall be released to the parent or guardian on the second judicial day following the department's determination in order to allow the parent or guardian time to file an at-risk youth petition under chapter 13.32A RCW. If the department determines it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive outpatient treatment and the minor declines to obtain such treatment, such refusal shall be grounds for the parent or guardian to file an at-risk youth petition.

(4) The department may, subject to available funds, contract with other governmental agencies for the conduct of the reviews conducted under this section and may seek reimbursement from the parents, the guardian, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

(5) In addition to the review required under this section, the department may periodically determine and redetermine the medical necessity of treatment for purposes of payment with public funds.

Sec. 105. RCW 70.96A.230 and 1998 c 296 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

Any provider of outpatient treatment who provides outpatient treatment to a minor thirteen years of age or older shall provide notice of the minor's request for treatment to the minor's parents ((if: (1) The minor signs a written consent authorizing the disclosure; or (2) the treatment program director determines that the minor lacks capacity to make a rational choice regarding consenting to disclosure)) or guardian. The notice shall be made within seven days of the request for treatment, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and shall contain the name, location, and telephone number of the facility providing treatment, and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for treatment with the parent or guardian.

Sec. 107. RCW 70.96A.240 and 1998 c 296 s 26 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The parent or guardian of a minor is not liable for payment of inpatient or outpatient ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder treatment unless the parent or guardian has joined in the consent to the treatment.

(2) The ability of a parent or guardian to apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available ((therefor)).

Sec. 108. RCW 70.96A.245 and 1998 c 296 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A parent or guardian may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a certified treatment program and request that a ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder assessment be conducted by a professional person to determine whether the minor ((is chemically dependent and)) has a substance use disorder and is in need of inpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for admission, evaluation, and treatment if the parent or guardian brings the minor to the program.

(3) An appropriately trained professional person may evaluate whether the minor ((is chemically dependent)) has a substance use disorder. The evaluation shall be completed within twenty-four hours of the time the minor was brought to the program, unless the professional person determines that the condition of the minor necessitates additional time for evaluation. In no event shall a minor be held longer than seventy-two hours for evaluation. If, in the judgment of the professional person, it is determined it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive inpatient treatment, the minor may be held for treatment. The facility shall limit treatment to that which the professional person determines is medically necessary to stabilize the minor's condition until the evaluation has been completed. Within twenty-four hours of completion of the evaluation, the professional person shall notify the department if the child is held for treatment and of the date of admission.

(4) No provider is obligated to provide treatment to a minor under the provisions of this section. No provider may admit a minor to treatment under this section unless it is medically necessary.

(5) No minor receiving inpatient treatment under this section may be discharged from the program based solely on his or her request.

Sec. 109. RCW 70.96A.250 and 1998 c 296 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A parent or guardian may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a provider of outpatient ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder treatment and request that an appropriately trained professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for evaluation if the parent or guardian brings the minor to the provider.

(3) The professional person in charge of the program may evaluate whether the minor has a ((chemical dependency)) substance use disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(4) Any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under RCW 70.96A.245 shall be discharged immediately from inpatient treatment upon written request of the parent or guardian.

Sec. 110. RCW 70.96A.255 and 1998 c 296 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

Following the review conducted under RCW 70.96A.097, a minor child may petition the superior court for his or her release from the facility. The petition may be filed not sooner than fourteen days after the minor is admitted to the facility, or five days following the review, whichever is later. The court shall release the minor unless it finds, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain at the facility."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore Roach: "For the edification of the members, I'd like to take us back about twenty years, and each one of us in our floor desk would have a little tablet and you could write your own amendments. Absolutely write your own amendments. You would put the bill number, the line, you want to insert or delete and you'd sign your name on it and you'd walk it up here to the bar. And they would be photocopied and run out to the floor. And it gave each member an opportunity to actually do something on their own at their desks - meaning get involved. I don't know, maybe about ten years ago the big, bright idea was well if you're going to do an amendment you've got to go through staff, you've got to have this all put in the computer. I don't think it's sped anything up particularly. Taken away some of the really nice parts of feeling a part of the floor action. And so here we are. I asked for a verbal amendment, I'd be happy to take one. I still have that pad of paper in my desk. I'd be happy to share it with someone. Senator Honeyford is waving one. He has one. Are we ready? If not I'll go into another story. You better hurry. Alright, here's another one. Senator Hasegawa, I think I used to...you better hurry. Senator Hasegawa, I used to sit in that chair for a number of years and it used to be that people who sat in those chairs back there particularly at the end of session, you'd pull your drawer out, turn the drawer I believe upside down and write your name on the bottom or sometimes on the inside of the drawer. And it was very cool because you could tell which Senators had been in that seat, giving you that sense of institution. I always thought it was kind of cool. People quit doing it. Just one of those little things. Now everyone's looking at their - do you see it? West was back there. No, my name isn't number forty three. Alright here goes another story, you want to hear another one?"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Hasegawa: "Thank you, Madame President. At your suggestion, I removed the drawer out of my desk and out came my emergency stash of survival candy. I could not locate one of those forms though for writing my own amendments. I'm going to have to go to Senator Honeyford to get one of those. But I did find some interesting names written in my drawer. The first noticeable one is Pam Roach. That's interesting. There is a Leo Thorsness, from the Eleventh District and the last Republican to serve from the Eleventh District, immediately preceded Senator Prentice. Dino Rossi. His name is on the book here. Sharon Nelson. And there's others that are illegible to me. So I think the lesson learned here is you have to write it in indelible ink when you sign these things. I just wanted to bring that to your attention. Thank you."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

President Pro Tempore, Senator Roach: "A Medal of Honor winner, very impressive and from the Eleventh District (a reference to Senator Leo Thorsness).

The Washington State Legislative Intern Program is an academic internship for college students from around Washington State. Interns are assigned to Senate offices and are mentored by members and staff as they conduct research, track legislation, and work with constituents. In addition to building professional experience through their office work, interns earn academic credit and take part in seminars and workshops with state policymakers to gain a first-hand understanding of the legislative process.

The 48 Senate interns in 2016 represented 16 college campuses, a wide range of majors, and communities all over Washington.
