INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Mrs. Wilda Ward and family and friends of Jim Ward who were seated in the gallery.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced the Honorable Janet Kepka, Mayor of Wilkeson, who was seated in the gallery.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: "Thank you Mr. President, members of the senate. Today, we've just been introduced to Mayor Janet Kepka. She's from Wilkeson and Wilkeson is going to be celebrating it's one-hundredth birthday. You'll be hearing a lot about this very, very small town. It is the town whose fore fathers provided the sandstone that surrounds and it holds up our building. So, an incredible part of Washington State history comes from the hillsides of the town of Wilkeson. They were severely affected by flooding recently and I know that each of us that are involved in budget writing will try to remember our smaller towns as well as some of the larger areas that were affected. So, thank you Mr. President, members of the senate, I just want to commend the leadership in this very small but wonderful town of Wilkeson, Washington.”

SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY, MARCH 27, 2009

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Regala: “Thank you Mr. President, well, I rise to greet the mayor of Wilkeson also and just to make a couple of brief comments about it. Believe it or not, that is a town that’s been in my family history. I’m very familiar with it and, Senator Roach, I realize that you probably did not realize that, that Mayor Kepka is actually married to one of my cousins. We haven’t seen each other for a few days, or a few months I should say, so happy to see you here.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “Thank you Mr. President Well, ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, boy it’s quiet in here. Many of you who were here recall the Nisqually Earthquake that caused us to evacuate the Legislative Building. For the next two sessions we were in the temporary housing on campus which is the Pritchard Building. We were sequestered tightly together. We were knitted together. We had no other choice, of course, but to do the people’s work and to get along and that we did. But in the mean time we certainly needed something, something to do to bring us some laughter, to bring us some moments of doing nothing and at that particular time Red Hat Day was started to hopefully become a tradition in the legislature. Representative Mary Skinner and before I go to the next point, at that time I was getting to get a little weak kneed and decided that, maybe we shouldn’t do this but Senator Eide said, ‘No, no, no, no. We got to do it we got to do it. And so with Representative Mary Skinner and I worked together to coordinate that wonderful fun filled day. With red hats throughout the campus, people wondered what was going on. On the senate floor I read the poem by Jenny Joseph that says ‘When I grow old I will wear purple and a red hat that doesn’t fit’ and of course everyone laughed. The late Senator Jim West was at home. He was undergoing treatment for cancer and later on when he came back he said to me, ‘I looked and I wondered what in the world is going on on the senate floor.’ Well, we were really, really having fun. Since that early beginning of course which was the beginning of the twenty-first century more or less, we have invited our male colleagues to wear red ties because Senator from the Thirty-Sixth District, you know she would not let us have any gender differences here. So, those of our colleagues, male colleagues, who wearing ties we gladly welcome. Of course, all of us know there is nothing, nothing better than having a great laugh and having a time of relaxation and of doing nothing. That is what the Red Hatters are all about. Mr. President, if you’ll allow me, I would like to refresh a little memory here by reading this little poem?”

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: “Senator Franklin.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Franklin: “This is of course a warning from by Jenny Joseph.

‘When I am old woman, I shall wear purple
With a red hat that doesn’t go and doesn’t suit me
And satin sandals and I shall spend my pension on brandy and summer gloves and satin sandals and say
We have no money for butter

2009 REGULAR SESSION

I shall set down on the pavement when I am tired and gobble up samples in shops and press alarms bells and

Run my stick along the public railings and make up with the sobriety of my youth

I shall go out in my slippers in the rain and pick flowers in other peoples gardens

But maybe I ought to practice a little noun and that’s what we are doing, we don’t have our canes to run around the railings

But we’ll do a little practicing with our red hats and our purple who knew me shocked and surprised when suddenly I am old

And start to wear purple.’

Mr. President, in this days when we are undergoing a lot of stress, there’s nothing like a great laugh and so Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, just a little time out, just to have fun and to laugh and to dedicate this day in honor of our late good friend, Representative Mary Skinner who I really had fun working with as we of course inaugurated here in the legislature the first Red Hat Day. Thank you Mr. President.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator King: “I appreciate the red hats and also appreciated Mary Skinner and if I may sir? She was true lady, I don’t know if I can get through this. My apologies. Let me just say that all of us in Yakima have lost a great lady, an ambassador to our valley. Thank you.”

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Roach: “Thank you Mr. President, members of the senate. Well I want you to know that while I appreciate the red hats I didn’t bring one today. I was thinking of using my red bracelet but I also want you to know that when this old age approaches I actually got a different plan. I spiked my hair, ok, that’s one part of my plan, secondly, this last week I bought a new guitar, it is blue like this right here. Got myself a pix and also signed up for the guitar lessons. I’m going to pick up somewhere where I left off in the late 60’s around the dorm room. I also drive a car with a rag top and I’m looking forward to the summer time when I can zip around and race around with the Senator from I think it’s the Forty-First District who drives a like and similar wonderful vehicle. So, I think we can have fun, but remember this, you’re only as old as you really feel and it’s very important that we keep that in mind because this is a generation where we’re going to go in style and you never know when that happens. Last Saturday I was a Keynote speaker at a Republican event and was there and saw one of the former colleagues here if you were in the House and bless her heart member of the House, Lois McMahan. She is a wonderful woman. You knew her as cheerful and so forth, she, I think it’s fair I say this, she was there to receive a life time award achievement for the Republican Party efforts. She’s lost one hundred pounds. She did not recognize me because of a terrible disease of dementia. She’s sixty-six. Jennifer Dunn, I remember the day I got my nice car I was driving down the highway and I turned on the radio at nine in the morning, I remember exactly and John Carlson said ‘Ladies and gentlemen,’ he says to the audience of Puget Sound, ‘Sad news, former U. S. Congresswoman Jennifer Dunn has passed away.’ She was sixty-six. So what I want to do is let you know that we all face the inevitable and when we’re doing that we don’t know if it’s a slow decline or a quick one but we got smiles on our faces, we find ways to make sure we have things added to our list of things we want to do and smile a lot, spend time with your family, look at communicating your past to your families by way of journals, personal journals and make sure that you take this segment of life and make it it’s best. That would be my red hat speech for 2009. Thank you.”

MOTION

At 11:44 a.m., on motion of Senator Eide, the Senate adjourned until 12:00 noon, Monday, March 30, 2009.
