In 2024, the Legislature directed the Joint Transportation Committee (JTC) to contract with a national expert on developing inclusive, mixed-income, mixed-use transit-oriented housing to complete a review of development conditions in cities in King, Pierce, Spokane, Clark, and Snohomish counties by December 15, 2025. The review must look at comprehensive plans, local tax and fee programs and development regulations and include examples of local and national best practices for developing affordable and workforce housing near transit. In 2025, the Legislature required cities planning under the Growth Management Act to allow new residential and mixed-use development within a station area at certain transit-oriented development (TOD) densities, authorized a new 20-year Multi-Family Property Tax Exemption program, and reduced transit impact fees if TOD affordability requirements are met. The JTC study must also analyze these TOD supply and affordability strategies and include any recommendation on how it may be most effectively implemented by local governments. In 2025 the Legislature also directed the Office of the Lieutenant Governor to report to the Legislature by December 1, 2025, a review of retail or commercial properties with substantial potential for redevelopment as residential or mixed-use properties providing market rate and affordable housing supply, and to identify state or local legislative actions that would reduce cost and accelerate delivery of new housing supply. Staff will monitor reports to the Legislature on mixed-use development and provide any information, support, and drafting services to members as requested.

In recent years the Legislature has considered a variety of legislation to address housing availability and affordability, many of which require updates to comprehensive plans and development and zoning regulations or other official controls cities have for building and lot requirements. In 2025, the Legislature directed the Department of Commerce (Commerce) to report to the Legislature by June 30, 2025, regarding the funding structures to preserve manufactured and mobile home communities as nonprofit or cooperatively run affordable housing projects. Commerce must also contract with the Housing Finance Commission to draft a plan with specific strategies to reduce the cost of starter homes for first time homebuyers, acquire publicly owned and other sites that can be dedicated to homeownership, identify other ways to enable first-time homebuyers to afford their home purchases, and encourage a variety of design and development options for starter homes. Staff will monitor the progress of the reports and provide any information, support, and drafting services to members as requested. The Legislature established a Covenant Homeownership Program to provide down payment and closing cost assistance to economically disadvantaged classes of persons. The initial study published in March 2024 recommended implementing special purpose credit programs (SPCPs) for economically disadvantaged households with Black, Latino, Native American, Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian, other Pacific Islander, Korean, or Asian Indian borrowers. The original program provides down payment assistance as a zero-interest loan and customized amounts that would enable households with incomes at or below 100 percent of the area median income (AMI) to afford a modest-cost home in their county. The program began providing down payment and closing cost assistance to participants in July 2024. Beginning July 27, 2025, the program may provide down payment assistance to eligible households with incomes at or below 120 percent AMI and fully forgive a loan once the loan has been outstanding for at least five years for program participants who have a household income at or below 80 percent AMI. All other program participants must repay the loan or down payment and closing cost assistance at the time the house is sold. Paid Family and Medical Leave Rates

Completion Date: December

Staff: Susan Jones 360-786-7404

References: SSB 5292 (2025)

The Paid Family and Medical Leave program (PFML) provides partial wage replacement to employees on leave for specified family and medical reasons. The program is funded through premiums paid by employers and employees. The program is administered by the Employment Security Department (ESD). The premiums are calculated based on a formula. If the calculated rate exceeds a rate necessary to maintain a three-month reserve at the end of the following rate collection year, the rate must be set at the minimum rate necessary to close the rate collection year with a three-month reserve. In addition, the rate must not exceed 1.2 percent.

In 2022, the Legislature created the Office of Actuarial Services within ESD. The Office is required to report annually to the PFML Advisory Committee on the experience and financial condition of the account, and the lowest future premium rates necessary to maintain solvency of the account in the next four years while limiting fluctuation in the premium rates. The 2024 report recommended in part, further exploration of adopting actuarial premium rates and shifting to an actuarial rate setting approach.

The Legislature also required the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee (JLARC), in consultation with ESD, to conduct a performance audit analyzing the implementation of the PFML program. For PFML rates, the JLARC report recommends the program use a forward-looking rate-setting approach that is based on actuarial estimates of future revenues and benefit costs; and maintain a financial reserve to cover shortfalls.

In 2025, the Legislature considered SSB 5292, which required ESD to set the PFML premium rate based on the Office of Actuarial Services annual report, not exceed 1.2 percent, and required the Office's report to provide for a rate to close the rate collection year with a three-month reserve in 2030, in addition to the current requirement to maintain a four-year solvency. The statutory formula used to calculate the rate was eliminated under the bill. The bill passed the Senate and the House policy and fiscal committees, but not the House floor.

Staff will monitor the PFML advisory committee with respect to premium discussions, work with agencies and the Governor's office on issues related to the recommendation of JLARC, and review any new reports related to PFML premiums. Staff will provide updates and draft legislation as requested.

Reference: HB 1829 (2025)

Indian tribes are recognized as unique aggregations possessing attributes of sovereignty over both their members and their territory. The interplay between tribal governments and federal, state, and local governments is a complex system of treaties, statutes, and government-to-government agreements.

HB 1829, passed by the Legislature in 2025, implements the recommendations of the Tribal Warrants Implementation Work Group ahead of the effective date of the act which gives state law enforcement the ability to enforce tribal warrants.

Staff will monitor the implementation of HB 1829 and the rollout of the tribal warrants act focusing on issues that arise that were not addressed or considered by the work group.

Firearm Laws Summary

Over the previous five years, the Legislature has passed a suite of bills concerning the purchase, sale, and possession of firearms and related items including prohibitions on manufacture, importation, and distribution of large capacity magazines, limits on the open carry of weapons at public demonstrations and the State Capitol, and most recently, a new permit to purchase firearms system.

The high value of scrap copper is driving rising rates of copper wire theft, which has led to thieves indiscriminately cutting optical fiber lines in their search for copper. Cutting optical fiber adversely affects the interconnected telecommunications infrastructure, such as voice communications and broadband, cellular, and satellite services. It can also cause outages of critical public services, such as 911 calls, and jeopardize the systems used to monitor and control the electrical grid. Repairing these damaged optical fiber lines costs thousands of dollars.

In 2013, the Legislature created a licensing system for scrap metal businesses and expanded criminal penalties for metal theft and malicious mischief, but those measures have proven inadequate to address the current problem. Private and public telecommunications carriers and metal recyclers are seeking additional action from the Legislature, which may include new legislation.

Staff will consult with stakeholders to explore legislative options to address this problem, plan a work session on this topic, and draft legislation as requested.
