Mr. Charnley: "No, Representative Sanders, I do not believe that this will, in any way, give us that effect. I have spoken to a few who have said they would welcome the chance and they won't have to go through a hassle or be questioned as to whether or not they are qualified. Electrical contractors would then be bidding on electrical jobs and other contractors for the specific jobs for which they are qualified. I really believe it will be in their best interest to have this and not as a hindrance or a block."

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

TOWARD A GENERATION OF PROSPERITY

Governor Spellman: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Speaker Ehlers, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, Honorable members of the 48th Legislature, other honorable statewide elected officials, ladies and gentlemen:

"In these past three years, our most fundamental governmental priorities have been tested. We have had to redefine who we are and what we demand of our government. We have to count every dollar, and we have had to make every dollar count. Let the record of these past three years show that we have met the great challenges of our time, that we kept the faith. We maintained our education system. We cut the growth of state government in half; and we restored its fiscal integrity. With the help and guidance of our citizens, we made enlightened, although difficult, reductions in social services while still preserving those that are vital. We have launched the most aggressive and broadly based jobs-and-economic-development initiatives in a generation. We have dramatically reduced carnage on our highways and we have protected our environment. In short, we have kept Washington State the best place to live in America.

"Our great challenges were borne on mounting flood tides of global and national recession -- factors beyond our borders and outside our control. Washington found itself in a depression. Two separate legislatures, under two different majorities, were called upon to raise taxes, in order that tens of thousands of their fellow Washingtonians would not be deprived of all resources. We did not abandon government's most basic pledge -- to protect the commonwealth and serve the helpless. Those difficult political decisions kept our school system intact and brought health care to poor children, food to hungry families, chore services to our senior citizens, and unemployment checks to jobless breadwinners.

"We have seen the worst of times in a generation, and now we must set our sights on creating the best of times in our generation and for generations to follow. We must now move toward a generation of prosperity for Washington. We must proceed on a steady, responsible course of progress.

"Having now turned the corner of economic recovery, we must not soon forget the lessons we learned in the second darkest economic times of this century. Never again should we tiptoe on the edge of delicately balanced budget books -- without reserves, with pension liabilities mounting and with operating surpluses too slender to respond to inevitable, unexpected needs.

"Today the condition of the affairs of the state of Washington is good and getting better, but we should remember that state government is a patient that has just come through the post-operative period. Its prospects for the future could not be rosier, but let's be realistic: This is not the time to take on more than we are sure we can handle. We cannot spend a lot of money because we don't have a lot of money to spend. There is a great deal we can do that will not cost a great deal of money. We can, in this session, set the course for Washington's amazing tomorrows.

"As you know, the Governor has the last vote in the legislative process, and I have established three criteria by which I will judge the work of this session. My criteria are: Vision, responsibility and excellence. This session must do the best it can with what we have available now in order to build a better tomorrow for us all, but we cannot so soon forget the repeated fiscal traumas through which we have so recently come. Our vision must be tempered with pragmatism based on experience. We cannot invent mirages of the future simply to satisfy the desires of today.

"Our available revenue remains limited, even in light of our optimistic projections for economic growth throughout 1984, but 1985 remains in doubt. I, for one, will not willingly return to the nightmare syndrome of cuts and taxes brought on by unfulfilled revenue expectations. We must not condemn ourselves to repeat the mistakes of the past, and the past three years have taught us to be fiscally conservative, and so we must remain. That is the responsible course.

"The pension money from the preceding biennium's surplus is untouchable. It is a commitment to retired school teachers, state employees, and police and firefighters. That is the law passed by this Legislature, and it shall be executed in order to ensure the fiscal integrity and stability of this government. That is the responsible course.

"There is much to be done and only sixty days in which to do it. I do not intend today to review with you in detail the elements of my proposed supplemental operating and capital budgets nor my executive request bills; they have they delivered to each of you for your review and approval. In general, what I want from this Legislature is:

- To work for our children;
- To set the course for a generation of prosperity;
- To live within our means, without tax hikes;
- To establish excellence in education;
- To redouble our economic-development efforts; and
- To stop the pollution of our air.

"My theme for this session is children. They are our future. They must be given excellent education. They must be given equal access to mental health care. They must be protected from neglect and abuse. They must be sheltered from the pollution of drugs and alcohol, and they must learn responsible citizenship or lose their driving privileges. I have submitted to you bills that address each item on this children's agenda.

"Even during the past hard times, we consistently applied ourselves to making the Washington our children will inherit a better place to live and work. The need for new jobs in this state remains acute. The welfare of our citizens is best addressed by strong, permanent jobs in a burgeoning economy. We have had the vision to lay foundations for our children's and our own future economic prosperity. We opened a state trade office in Tokyo. We established formal ties with Sichuan Province in the People's Republic of China. We have embarked on aggressive global marketing of our agricultural products, and we have developed the best international relations this state has ever known. World trade is our future. It is the wellspring from which our future jobs will flow. The responsible course for this Legislature is to restore full funding to the development of international trade and to provide new incentives for increased export sales. This is not a one-year budget issue I am talking about; this is the future of our children and our children's children.

"We created a tourism promotion program to create jobs and economic development where they were most needed. Tourism is our nation's fastest producer of jobs and will be a growth industry for decades. The responsible course for this Legislature is to restore full funding to tourism promotion.

"We, together with the people, established local industrial revenue bonding authority that is today bringing hundreds of millions of dollars of private investment and thousands of jobs into our communities. The responsible course for this Legislature is to expand revenue bonding authority to allow smaller businesses and smaller communities to achieve the program's full benefits.

"Even in our darkest hours, most of the private sector did not lose faith in our future and many enterprises undertook major capital development plans. At the same time, the public sector worked successfully to lure new employers from out of state and from around the world. The responsible course for this Legislature is to restore full funding to the state's industrial development program.

"Requiring a new employer to pay sales tax on the barrelhead for constructing a new commercial or industrial facility before a single job or product is produced there puts us at a competitive disadvantage with other states. The responsible course for this Legislature is to allow the temporary deferral of those taxes until the new business is up and running.

"As we look to the future of Washington, to our children's Washington, we can see limitless opportunities to create the greatest prosperity we have ever known. A clear vision of our future, the right tools and hard work are all we need. One of those tools is community redevelopment financing, an innovative technique used in many other states to finance public improvements necessary for local governments to encourage the private redevelopment of blighted areas. The responsible course for this Legislature is to send this issue to the people next November.

"Throughout all of our jobs and economic development initiatives, the state has worked closely with local governments, and we should never forget that while we have some of the world's greatest urban areas, we are really a state of small communities. The State of Washington today enjoys better relationships with its local governments than ever before, but the innovative agency that created local industrial revenue bonding, Urban Development Action Grants for smaller communities, a $200 million Housing Finance Commission program, and other major initiatives is now faced with extinction. The responsible course for this Legislature is to reauthorize this agency as the Department of Community Development.

"During our darkest hours, we resisted the temptation to tamper with our unique natural environment, even as we streamlined our environmental laws to accelerate desirable economic development. We took the responsible course. We protected, defended and preserved Puget Sound's clean water from very real threats. Our people love our unique environment. It is the responsible course for this Legislature now to protect, defend and preserve our clean air by taking on the issue of acid rain and by authorizing a two thousand percent increase in the maximum penalty for air pollution. Our environment is our future and our legacy to generations unborn.

"But Washington's most precious environment is not its scenic wonders or its bountiful ecology. Washington's most precious environment is the mind and spirit of our children. The past few years have seen a growing public concern that we, as a society, are failing to achieve the potential of our most precious resource -- our only unlimited resource -- the human mind. It is the indisputable reality that the successful future of this state and its people depends on education more than on any other factor. Our state and its concerned people anticipated the national trend toward educational reform and have worked hard to develop programs that will carry us into the 21st century. This emerging vision of the future for the nearly one million young Washingtonians in public education today -- and for those that follow them -- must become reality now. Failure to pursue vigorously the educational reforms that the Temporary Committee and I, among others, have proposed is to tamper with the bedrock upon which our future rests and to lose faith with the clear and present will of the people.

"Education is the number-one business of this state government, and it is the critical business of this session. We must finish the work of meeting our mandate to provide fully for basic education, but meeting our minimum responsibilities falls short of developing our maximum potential. We should attempt to realize in concrete terms the aspirations of our people for better results in our common schools, as expressed to the Temporary Committee on Educational Policies.

"The Excellence for Education Act of 1984 seeks to turn widely-shared goals into reality. It is a balanced, action-oriented proposal that says that we are not satisfied with pass/fail sufficiency but that we demand A-plus proficiency. It is not enough for the people of Washington to have an O.K. educational system. We want the best system we can have, and it is the responsible course for this Legislature to take the first steps toward making that happen.

"I have asked for tougher standards and better training for students and new teachers. I have asked that you mandate programs for the gifted as part of our basic education responsibility, while maintaining our commitment to each student based upon his or her unique potential. That the State Board of Education be allowed to ensure that a high school diploma represents a measure of functional literacy and that special provisions be made for our disabled students. I have asked that teachers be recognized and rewarded for excellence, and be given effective, focused training to broaden their skills. That the effort to help dropouts and to reduce the drop-out rate be intensified. As part of that effort, I have also proposed passage of the Juvenile Responsibility Act of 1984. The minds of too many of our young people are being polluted with drugs and alcohol. They cannot learn when they sit in the classroom stoned. I propose that if they are caught being irresponsible with drugs and alcohol, then they must be forced to learn responsibility by losing their driving privileges. I have proposed in my supplemental budget an aggressive program of drug and alcohol education throughout our school system. It is the responsible course for this Legislature to help preserve, protect and defend young minds from the pollution of drugs and alcohol.

"As Governor, I have traveled extensively throughout the Pacific Rim of Asia. What I have seen--whether in China or Japan or Korea--are societies that place a tremendous emphasis on education as their means of achieving the ends of prosperity and happiness for their people. Some of these nations are resource-poor, but their economic growth in recent decades has been nothing short of awesome. The reason for their success is that they have aggressively developed their most precious resources of the mind. They have succeeded in their factories because they first succeeded in their classrooms.

"The economic condition and the quality of life in the Washington and United States of the 21st century will depend profoundly upon how well-educated our people are. It is vital that our educational system provide means of retraining workers displaced by an increasingly complex and changing world. The strength of our college and university program is critical to our children's social and economic success. Let us be mindful that today's kindergarteners are the college graduating class of the year 2000. The time for us to act in order to ensure their future place in the world is now.

"They do indeed have a central role to play in the Century of the Pacific. In my foreign travels to promote the friendship and trade interests of this state, I have seen the future and it is us. The Washington of the 21st century is the crossroads of a new global economic order. Washingtonians will communicate in all the languages of the world, especially those of Asia. Our cities will be international service centers catering to the professional needs of the world. Our people will be the best-educated in America. Our agricultural products will be staples on the dinner tables of six continents and our wines will be the envy of France. Our ports will be crowded with global traffic -- we will be one of the great hubs of global commerce. We will be America's new front door and its turnstile to Asia.

"Our partnership in prosperity with Alaska will be bearing its richest fruits. Our environment's clean air and water, its breathtaking beauty, will be legend throughout the globe, and the whole world will come to visit and share with us this great place in which it is our blessing to live. Our communities will be alive with arts and culture. We will be a prosperous people who will represent the culmination of the great American experiment in tolerance and cooperation. There will be good jobs, good living and an unencumbered pursuit of happiness in the Washington of the 21st century. Our senior citizens, who have shared and contributed to this vision will enjoy security and respect. We will be what Washingtonians have always wanted to be -- the best at everything.

"It is the responsible course for this Legislature to step confidently toward the 21st century.

"As ever, I wish you well and I offer you my cooperation, an open door and an open mind. It would be nice if we could all get through the next sixty days as friends, but if we can't do that, we should be able to get through it as ladies and gentlemen.

"Thank you for your attention and God bless you."

*Sec. 8. Section 12, chapter 137, Laws of 1981 as last amended by section 2, chapter 163, Laws of 1983 and RCW 9.94A.120 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2) and (5) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than three years, and shall not be eligible for furlough, work release or other authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility during such minimum three year term except for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender, the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

(a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;

(b) Undergo available outpatient treatment or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;

(c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;

(d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the probation officer of any change in the offender's address or employment;

(e) Report as directed to the court and a probation officer; or

(f) Pay a fine(~~(-make restitution;))~~ and/or accomplish some community service work.

(6) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, (~~(restitution;))~~ a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or a fine. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds that the sentence otherwise authorized by this subsection would pose an unacceptable threat to community safety.

(7) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of sixty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than sixty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days.

(8) If a sentence imposed includes a fine or restitution, the sentence shall specify a reasonable manner and time in which the fine or restitution shall be paid. No such period of time may exceed ten years subsequent to the entering of the judgment of conviction.

(9) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in RCW 9A.20.020.

(10) A departure from the standards governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210(2) through (6).

(11) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony which results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed on probation, unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution."

In granting probation, the court may suspend the imposition or the execution of the sentence and may direct that the suspension may continue for such period of time as it shall designate, not exceeding the maximum term of sentence in the case of a superior court or a period of two years in the case of a court of limited jurisdiction organized under Title 3, 35, or 35A RCW, except as hereinafter set forth and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine.

In the order granting probation and as a condition thereof, the court may in its discretion imprison the defendant in the county jail for a period not exceeding one year or may fine the defendant any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars plus the costs of the action, and may in connection with the probation impose both imprisonment in the county jail and fine and court costs. As a condition of probation, the court shall require the payment of the penalty assessment required by RCW 7.68.035. The court may also require the defendant to make such monetary payments, on such terms as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, as are necessary (1) to comply with any order of the court for the payment of family support, (2) ~~((to make restitution to any person or persons who may have suffered loss or damage by reason of the commission of the crime in question or when the offender pleads guilty to a lesser offense or fewer offenses and agrees with the prosecutor's recommendation that the offender be required to pay restitution to a victim of an offense or offenses which are not prosecuted pursuant to a plea agreement. (3)))~~ to pay such fine as may be imposed and court costs, including reimbursement of the state for costs of extradition if return to this state by extradition was required, and ~~((4))~~ (3) to contribute to a county or interlocal drug fund, and may require bonds for the faithful observance of any and all conditions imposed in the probation. The court shall require that the probationer make restitution to any persons who have suffered loss or damage caused by the crime, on such terms as the court deems appropriate under the circumstances, unless extraordinary circumstances exist which make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

The court shall order the probationer to report to the secretary of corrections or such officer as the secretary may designate and as a condition of the probation to follow implicitly the instructions of the secretary. ~~((ff))~~ When the probationer has been ordered to make restitution, the officer supervising the probationer shall make a reasonable effort to ascertain whether restitution has been made. If restitution has not been made as ordered, the officer shall inform the prosecutor of that violation of the terms of probation not less than three months prior to the termination of the probation period. The secretary of corrections will promulgate rules and regulations for the conduct of the person during the term of his probation. For defendants found guilty in justice court, like functions as the secretary performs in regard to probation may be performed by probation officers employed for that purpose by the county legislative authority of the county wherein the court is located."

Mr. G. Nelson moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, after line 9 insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 29.85 RCW a new section to read as follows:

A person who removes or defaces lawfully placed political advertising including yard signs or billboards without authorization is guilty of a misdemeanor under chapter 9A.20 RCW. The defacement or removal of each item constitutes a separate violation."

Renumber the remaining sections and correct any internal references.

Representatives G. Nelson and Patrick spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Pruitt spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. G. Nelson yielded to question by Ms. Schmidt.

Ms. Schmidt: "Representative Nelson, with your amendment how would you deal with the casual thing, which I don't particularly object to, where people go through and do some decorating on the signs as opposed to the malicious tearing down of signs or spray painting over the signs?"

Mr. G. Nelson: "The court has the availability and the opportunity under RCW 9.92.060 actually to suspend the sentence and certainly to make it punitive for the infrequent situations of kids going down the block and knocking over signs, some of which may accidentally tear or doing something else. The court can, at the time of the hearing or the time of imposing sentence, direct such a sentence to be suspended until otherwise ordered by such court and the person is placed under the charge of a parole or beat officer or parents, so we are not looking at this amendment to try and punish kids who go through and do this kind of damage as a kind of prank. What the intent of the amendment is, is now to cover the situation as described by other members of this body, of somebody deliberately going out of the way and painting over signs or chopping them up or stealing them and putting them on notice that, yes, they can be cited with a misdemeanor."

Ms. Schmidt spoke in favor of the amendment.

Mr. Barrett demanded an electric roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

Representatives Ebersole and Addison spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Locke spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Locke yielded to question by Ms. Long.

Ms. Long: "Representative Locke, did the statute provide for any exclusions? Is there a requirement that signs have to be on private property in order for those laws to be applicable?"

Mr. Locke: "No. In fact, I will read the definition of 'malicious mischief in the third degree' to you. It says, 'A person is guilty of malicious mischief in the third degree if he knowingly and maliciously causes physical damage to the property of another under circumstances not amounting to malicious mischief in the first or second degree.' When they say 'under circumstances not amounting to malicious mischief in the first or second degree,' that's essentially the value of the property. Malicious mischief in the third degree is a gross misdemeanor. This is stronger than the penalty advocated by the amendment. If the damage to the property is an amount exceeding fifty dollars it is a misdemeanor. Chapter 9A.48.100(2) allows that the value of all the property be abrogated so that you can, in fact, have more than fifty or more than two hundred fifty dollars and then you are into the penalty situation. It specifically talks about allowing that if a person is going around tearing down a hundred yard signs and the value of each yard sign is only three dollars, if you abrogate all of them, it's three hundred dollars; then you would be able to charge a felony. In all of these schemes, whether it's the proposed amendment or malicious mischief, statutes now exist. It really depends on the police to catch the people or the property owners or the candidates to report the culprits to the proper authority because if they are not reported, if they are not identified, nobody can prosecute whether it's the fair election committee or the city attorney or the county police."

Mr. G. Nelson spoke again in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. G. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. D. Nelson.

Mr. D. Nelson: "Representative Nelson, near the end of the amendment it says, 'The defacement or removal of each item constitutes a separate violation.' As I read the amendment, every sign would carry with it a misdemeanor penalty. Assuming somebody was out rounding up an opponent's yard signs and had twenty-five or fifty of them in a pickup truck, how much would that person have to either pay in fine or spend in jail to pay the penalty?"

Mr. G. Nelson: "Representative Nelson, of course it's at the discretion of the court as to how much the penalty would be in monetary amount or in jail. The idea of this particular part of the amendment is to make it cumulative. If you had seventeen violations you should be penalized for seventeen separate citations. I want to point out that in RCW 9.92.060, the court has the option of actually suspending the sentence and then providing further that the court can require the person who is charged and found guilty to replace the actual value of the signs, so that you would be reimbursed and you would be able to make new signs and get them out as a part of your political advertising effort. It would mean that each and every sign destroyed or stolen is going to have to be replaced under that condition and this would also support the need for the amendment and its specific reference to campaign signs and billboards."

Mr. McMullen spoke against the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative G. Nelson to House Bill No. 1133, and the amendment was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 50; nays, 47; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Representatives Addison, Allen, Ballard, Barnes, Barrett, Betzoff, Bond, Broback, Brough, Cantu, Chandler, Charnley, Clayton, Dickie, Ebersole, Fiske, Fuhrman, Hankins, Hastings, Haugen, Holland, Isaacson, Johnson, Lewis, Long, Miller, Mitchell, Nealey, Nelson G., Padden, Patrick, Powers, Prince, Sanders, Schmidt, Schoon, Silver, Smith C., Smith L., Struthers, Taylor, Tilly, Van Dyken, Van Luven, Vander Stoep, Wang, West, Williams B, Williams J, Wilson - 50.

Voting nay: Representatives Appelwick, Armstrong, Belcher, Braddock, Brekke, Burns, Crane, Dellwo, Egger, Ellis, Fisch, Fisher, Gallagher, Galloway, Garrett, Grimm, Halsan, Heck, Hine, Jacobsen, Kaiser, King J, King R, Kreidler, Locke, Lux, McClure, McMullen, Monohon, Moon, Nelson D, Niemi, O'Brien, Pruitt, Rust, Sayan, Scott, Smitherman, Sommers, Stratton, Sutherland, Tanner, Todd, Vekich, Walk, Zellinsky, and Mr. Speaker - 47.

On motion of Mr. G. Nelson, the following amendment to the title of the bill was adopted:

On page 1, line 4 of the title after "29.85.270;" insert "adding a new section to chapter 29.85 RCW;"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charnley yielded to question by Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings: "Representative Charnley, two million dollars is a lot of money, and in your remarks I didn't hear you specifically say where some of these areas were going to be acquired. Do you have a list you could tell us about?"

Mr. Charnley: "Yes, Representative Hastings, I do. These were the ones that were listed as the highest priorities, (and the previous speaker said this was not considered by DNR and that's wrong; it has been and these are the highest ones): 288 acres in Douglas County known as the Highlands Shrub Steppes; 300 acres in Stevens county along the Little Pend Oreille River; 150 acres in Thurston County called Bald Hills Lake; 90 acres in Spokane County, Michlin Hills Pond; 46 acres in Pacific County, Oceanside View, the last remaining area of dunes that still have vegetation on them; 30 acres in Chelan County, Fish Lake Bog; 300 acres in Adams County, Marcellus Shrub Steppes; and 90 to 200 acres in Pierce, Island and Skamania Counties--the reason that it's 90 to 200 acres is that it depends on if the tide is in or out--this is to preserve that island which is already a habitat for an endangered species of deer in that area. I appreciate the question because, as you can see, this covers many areas around the state, not any one single area."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. McMullen yielded to question by Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor: "The voluminous testimony, literally thousands and thousands of pages, was on this issue which we are now going to study. That testimony was given in 1981, and I would feel that it would cut the committee's study time a lot if we don't try to reinvent the wheel. Will you be taking notes and observing the testimony that has already been given in order to save the committee a great amount of time?"

Mr. McMullen: "Representative Taylor, if I'm important enough to be on that committee, it would be my goal to make sure that all possible resources of information will be brought to the committee, a full and fair hearing on all aspects of the whole industrial insurance act. Our purpose here is to bring this out of the realm of partisan politics which sometimes results when we argue about one issue or the other, and to have a full and complete investigation of the entire system from top to bottom with appropriate suggestions. We will make that investigation."

Representatives Taylor, Hastings, Hine, R. King, Bond and Fisch spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

"Sec. 2. Section 4, chapter 131, Laws of 1973 as last amended by section 2, chapter 287, Laws of 1983 and RCW 41.56.450 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If an agreement has not been reached following a reasonable period of negotiations and mediation, and the executive director, upon the recommendation of the assigned mediator, finds that the parties remain at impasse, then an interest arbitration panel shall be created to resolve the dispute. The issues for determination by the arbitration panel shall be limited to the issues certified by the executive director.

(2) With respect to disputes concerning uniformed personnel as defined under RCW 41.56.030(6)(a), each party shall submit to the other within four days following the issuance of the determination of the executive director that the parties remain at impasse, a final offer on each of the impasse items with proof of service of a copy upon the other party. The final offer accepted shall be determined by the voters of the jurisdiction at a special election conducted by the jurisdiction's governing body, and subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall not govern the resolution of the issues thus determined.

(3) Within seven days following the issuance of the determination of the executive director, each party shall name one person to serve as its arbitrator on the arbitration panel. The two members so appointed shall meet within seven days following the appointment of the later appointed member to attempt to choose a third member to act as the neutral chairman of the arbitration panel. Upon the failure of the arbitrators to select a neutral chairman within seven days, the two appointed members shall use one of the two following options in the appointment of the third member, who shall act as chairman of the panel: ((††)) (a) By mutual consent, the two appointed members may jointly request the commission, and the commission shall appoint a third member within two days of such request. Costs of each party's appointee shall be borne by each party respectively; other costs of the arbitration proceedings shall be borne by the commission; or ((f)) (b) either party may apply to the commission, the federal mediation and conciliation service, or the American Arbitration Association to provide a list of five qualified arbitrators from which the neutral chairman shall be chosen. Each party shall pay the fees and expenses of its arbitrator, and the fees and expenses of the neutral chairman shall be shared equally between the parties.

(4) The arbitration panel so constituted shall promptly establish a date, time, and place for a hearing and shall provide reasonable notice thereof to the parties to the dispute. A hearing, which shall be informal, shall be held, and each party shall have the opportunity to present evidence and make argument. No member of the arbitration panel may present the case for a party to the proceedings. The rules of evidence prevailing in judicial proceedings may be considered, but are not binding, and any oral testimony or documentary evidence or other data deemed relevant by the chairman of the arbitration panel may be received in evidence. A recording of the proceedings shall be taken. The arbitration panel has the power to administer oaths, require the attendance of witnesses, and require the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements, and documents as may be deemed by the panel to be material to a just determination of the issues in dispute. If any person refuses to obey a subpoena issued by the arbitration panel, or refuses to be sworn or to make an affirmation to testify, or any witness, party, or attorney for a party is guilty of any contempt while in attendance at any hearing held hereunder, the arbitration panel may invoke the jurisdiction of the superior court in the county where the labor dispute exists, and the court has jurisdiction to issue an appropriate order. Any failure to obey the order may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof. The hearing conducted by the arbitration panel shall be concluded within twenty-five days following the selection or designation of the neutral chairman of the arbitration panel, unless the parties agree to a longer period.

The neutral chairman shall consult with the other members of the arbitration panel, and, within thirty days following the conclusion of the hearing, the neutral chairman shall make written findings of fact and a written determination of the issues in dispute, based on the evidence presented. A copy thereof shall be served on the commission, on each of the other members of the arbitration panel, and on each of the parties to the dispute. That determination shall be final and binding upon both parties, subject to review by the superior court upon the application of either party solely upon the question of whether the decision of the panel was arbitrary or capricious."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the purpose of this chapter to encourage citizen involvement in government at the community level within the unincorporated areas of the counties of the state of Washington. The legislature intends to permit local communities to have input on land use and other issues through the establishment of community corporations as legal entities of county governments.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislative authority of any county may by resolution propose the establishment of one or more community corporations within the unincorporated area of the county. In adopting such resolution, the county legislative authority shall consider the extent to which the residents of the area encompassed by the proposed community corporation share common concerns regarding land use decisions as a result of geographical location, terrain, pattern of development, and other features which make the area distinctive as a community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The establishment of a community corporation may also be initiated by a petition presented to a county legislative authority which requests that an election be held to establish a corporation within a portion of the unincorporated area of the county. The petition shall describe the boundaries of the area encompassed by the proposed community corporation. The petition presented to a county legislative authority shall be signed by at least one percent of the registered voters who reside in the unincorporated area where the community corporation is proposed to be created, or by one hundred of such voters, whichever is greater. No community corporation may be formed that has less than one hundred registered voters residing within its boundaries.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Upon receipt of the petition, the county legislative authority shall transmit the petition to the county auditor who shall examine and certify the signatures. Within thirty days following the receipt of the petition, the auditor shall transmit the petition to the county legislative authority along with the certification of signatures.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Upon the adoption of a resolution under section 2 of this act, or upon receipt of a petition certified under the provisions of section 4 of this act, the legislative authority of a county shall hold a hearing on the establishment of the community corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislative authority of the county shall consider the establishment of the community corporation at the hearing held under section 5 of this act. All persons appearing at the meeting shall have an opportunity to be heard and to voice protests. The hearing may be continued from time to time, but the total number of days from the first day of the hearings to the final day shall not exceed sixty days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. If, after hearing public testimony on the issue, the legislative authority of the county determines that the welfare of the residents of the area encompassed by the proposed community corporation will be served by the establishment of the corporation, it shall declare such to be its finding. Upon this determination, a resolution shall be adopted which sets the date of an election at which the voters of the proposed community corporation area shall approve, or disapprove, the establishment of the community corporation. The resolution may contain modifications in the boundaries described in the original petition or resolution.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A community corporation shall be established upon the approval of a proposition providing for the creation of the the community corporation by a majority of those voting in the election.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Upon the establishment of a community corporation within an unincorporated area of a county, the county legislative authority shall establish and provide for a process to elect the members of the community council, and to fill any vacancies on such councils. The community council shall be the governing body of the community corporation and shall have at least five voting members. Community council members shall serve two year staggered terms and shall not be subject to the provisions of chapter 42.17 RCW, the public disclosure act. The legislative authority of any county within the unincorporated territory of which such a community council is established shall adopt procedures and policies to insure that: (1) Public notice is provided for any meetings of the community council; (2) meetings are open to the general public; and (3) a set of bylaws is developed to govern the community corporation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A community corporation may make recommendations concerning: (1) Land uses, land use proposals, the division of land, and the improvement or development of property or land; (2) public facilities; (3) vehicular traffic; and (4) other matters of concern within the community.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The boundaries of a community corporation may be altered upon both: (1) The adoption of a resolution by the community council providing for the alteration; and (2) approval of a proposition, providing for the alteration, by voters voting on the proposition who reside in the area proposed to be withdrawn from the community corporation, or the area proposed to be added to the community corporation. A community corporation's boundary shall not be altered to include any area located within a city or town.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A community corporation shall be dissolved whenever less than one hundred registered voters reside within its boundaries. Whenever any area located within the boundaries of a community corporation is annexed into a city or town, the area which is annexed shall be automatically withdrawn from the community corporation. If the entire community corporation is annexed into a city or town, the community corporation shall cease to exist.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A community corporation shall also be dissolved upon a majority vote of the registered voters residing within such corporation voting in favor of a proposition to dissolve the corporation. The proposition shall be presented to the registered voters of a community corporation located within the unincorporated area of a county upon the resolution of the county legislative authority. One percent of the registered voters residing within such a corporation, or one hundred of such voters, whichever is greater, however, may petition their legislative authority and request that such a proposition be presented to the voters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Heck, the House advanced to the seventh order of business.

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 710, by Committee on Energy & Utilities (originally sponsored by Representatives D. Nelson, Miller, Braddock and Todd)

Authorizing municipal corporations to develop electrical generation facilities.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Mr. D. Nelson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. D. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. G. Nelson.

Mr. G. Nelson: "Representative Nelson, you mentioned in your comments that the cities already have a citation that permits them to use the right of eminent domain outside the city limits. Could you cite for us the reference that gives that power and for what purposes?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "In RCW 8.12.030, cities may exercise the power of eminent domain within or without the limits of the city for drains, sewers, aqueducts, water systems. In Title 35 (I don't have the exact citation), cities and towns are authorized to operate water, sewer and electric systems and to acquire lands within or without the jurisdiction for such purposes."

Mr. G. Nelson: "When was that passed?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "I really can't tell you when that was passed, but it's Title 35A RCW."

Mr. G. Nelson spoke against passage of the bill, and Mr. Sanders spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. D. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. G. Nelson.

Mr. G. Nelson: "Representative Nelson, could you tell me where the right of eminent domain has ever been used by a city outside its jurisdiction for the purposes cited in RCW 8 and 35?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "I cannot tell you offhand. I know in the case of my own city, which operates a water system and an electrical generating system that is outside of its boundaries, I would guess that eminent domain may have been used in those cases. I can't tell you with any certainty that it has, but if it hasn't, I guess I could add this editorial comment that suggests it has been used prudently even though that right is in the law as it exists right now."

Mr. G. Nelson again opposed passage of the bill, and Mr. D. Nelson spoke again in favor of it.

Mr. Padden spoke against passage of the bill, and Mr. Isaacson spoke in favor of it.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE FLOOR RESOLUTION NO. 84-117, by Representatives Heck, L. Smith, J. King, Tanner, Galloway and Sutherland

WHEREAS, Unfair and retaliatory taxing practices are inconsistent with the history of good relations between Washington and Oregon; and

WHEREAS, The State of Oregon recently enacted section 23, chapter 684, Oregon Laws of 1983, the effect of which is to tax Washington residents employed in Oregon at rates based upon their entire taxable income, from whatever source derived; and

WHEREAS, Oregon residents working in Washington are exempted from paying sales taxes to the State of Washington by the use of sales tax exemption cards; and

WHEREAS, The fiscal integrity of each state and the prosperity of the citizens and businesses of Washington and Oregon may be adversely affected by the current system of taxation; and

WHEREAS, These methods of taxation have caused considerable concern and distress among many Washington and Oregon citizens; and

WHEREAS, The current system of taxation has brought to light taxation practices which may require additional scrutiny by the Governors and Legislatures of Washington and Oregon;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the House of Representatives of the State of Washington, That the bipartisan leadership of the House of Representatives contact Governor Spellman of Washington, Governor Atiyeh of Oregon, the leadership of the Washington State Senate and the leadership of the Oregon Legislature, and request that a bipartisan ad hoc committee be formed to examine and evaluate the current system of taxation of Washingtonians by Oregon and Oregonians by Washington as soon as possible; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the ad hoc committee be bipartisan, that persons representing the Governors of Washington and Oregon and both houses of the Washington and Oregon Legislatures be included among its members, and that the committee report its findings to the Governors and Legislatures as soon as is practicable; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That as soon as the Speaker of the House of Representatives receives notification that the Governors of Washington and Oregon and bipartisan members of the Washington and Oregon Legislatures will serve on the ad hoc committee, he shall appoint such bipartisan members from the House of Representatives as may be necessary to serve on the committee; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this Resolution be forwarded to Governor John Spellman of Washington, Governor Victor Atiyeh of Oregon, the President of the Washington State Senate, the President of the Oregon State Senate, the Speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives, and each member of the Oregon State Legislature.

Mr. Heck moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Hastings moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution:
On page 1, following line 14 insert:

"WHEREAS, The adoption of nonuniform and unfair sales tax rates among the several counties of Washington state discriminates only against Washington state citizens and not those of Oregon; and

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Heck: "Mr. Speaker, I would ask you to rule whether or not this amendment is germane to the resolution."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "The Speaker has examined HFR 84-117 and the floor amendment by Representative Hastings. HFR 84-117 deals with a recently enacted Oregon law and Washington sales tax exemption cards, as these relate to the problem of Washington citizens being taxed in Oregon. The amendment attempts to expand the discussion to include taxes paid by Washington residents in Washington. Therefore, the amendment is clearly not germane to the original proposition of HFR 84-117. Representative Heck, your point of order is well taken."

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. Hastings: "This resolution deals with the first word after the first 'Whereas,' the word 'unfair' and that relates to taxing practices, and my amendment talks also about unfair taxing practices that we are aware of in this state, namely the discrimination of the other counties in southwestern Washington. My point of information is that I would like to have the information on how you can say this doesn't relate when both of them are about unfair taxing practices."

The Speaker: "Your interpretation is different than mine. I based mine on the rules--Reed's Rule 160."

Mr. Heck spoke in favor of the resolution.

Mr. Heck demanded an electric roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Heck yielded to question by Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor: "Representative Heck, there is a certain amount of curiosity on our side of the aisle. You mentioned negotiations; was that a formal conference committee with both sides involved?"

Mr. Heck: "I would suggest that you ask Representative Smith, a member of your own caucus, who participated in those negotiations. Representative Taylor, or you could request the information from Senator Zimmerman, who is also a member of the minority party in the Senate who participated in it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Heck yielded to question by Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor: "Representative Heck, first of all, I'm going to support this resolution because I, too, am a border county and I have heard from my constituents also regarding the unfairness of the Oregon proposition. I guess the only difference is that my constituents, of course, pay a higher sales tax. Being that as it may, what I want to know from you is that this committee is bipartisan in nature, which I applaud, but is the committee going to be made up equally between the two parties in both houses of this Legislature?"

Mr. Heck: "It's not specified and the authority is vested with the Speaker of the House. The question would be more appropriately put to him."

Representatives Hastings, Vander Stoep and Addison spoke in favor of the resolution.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Floor Resolution No. 84-117, and the resolution was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 0; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Representatives Addison, Allen, Appelwick, Armstrong, Ballard, Barnes, Barrett, Belcher, Betrozoff, Bond, Braddock, Brekke, Broback, Brough, Burns, Cantu, Chandler, Charnley, Clayton, Crane, Dellwo, Dickie, Ebersole, Egger, Ellis, Fisch, Fisher, Fiske, Fuhrman, Gallagher, Galloway, Garrett, Grimm, Halsan, Hankins, Hastings, Haugen, Heck, Hine, Holland, Isaacson, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kaiser, King J, King P, King R, Kreidler, Lewis, Locke, Long, Lux, McClure, McMullen, Mitchell, Monohon, Moon, Nealey, Nelson D, Nelson G, Niemi, O'Brien, Padden, Patrick, Powers, Prince, Pruitt, Rust, Sanders, Sayan, Schmidt, Schoon, Scott, Silver, Smith C, Smith L, Smitherman, Sommers, Stratton, Struthers, Sutherland, Tanner, Taylor, Tilly, Todd, Van Luven, Vander Stoep, Vekich, Walk, Wang, West, Williams J, Wilson, Zellinsky, and Mr. Speaker - 95.

Governor Spellman: "Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Speaker Ehlers, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, distinguished elected officials, members of the Legislature, our very welcome and distinguished Canadian guests, ladies and gentlemen: It is my honor and pleasure this morning to introduce to you a distinguished scholar, an accomplished attorney, and a diplomat dedicated to peace and prosperity, the Honorable Allan E. Gottlieb, the Canadian Ambassador to the United States.

"Just as the history and the lives of our two great nations have been intertwined, so too has the life of Ambassador Gottlieb been linked closely to the United States. He is a graduate of the University of California. After receiving advanced degrees as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University in England, he returned to the United States and received his law degree from Harvard University and was honored with the Addison-Browne Prize from its law school.

"He then began a distinguished career as an educator. He served as a lecturer in law at Oxford and as a professor at Queen's University in Ontario and at Ottawa University. His excellence in education has been widely acknowledged. He has received honorary doctoral degrees from the University of Windsor and from New York University. He is a winner of the Deak Prize of the American Society of International Law. He became an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1982.

"Ambassador Gottlieb joined the Department of External Affairs in 1957 and began a distinguished diplomatic career, highlighted by his work in disarmament and international development. He rose to the position of Assistant Under-Secretary of State and became Canada's alternate delegate to the United Nations. He interrupted his service with the Department of External Affairs in 1968 to become Deputy Minister of the then-new Department of Communications. He went on to become Deputy Minister of Manpower and Immigrations and later Chairman-designate of the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission.

"Mr. Gottlieb has additionally distinguished himself as a leader in international trade promotion, serving as Director of the Export Development Corporation and Governor of the International Development Research Centre of Carleton University. He has obviously worked on many things in which we have great interest. In 1977 Ambassador Gottlieb was appointed Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs. In 1981, he served as the personal representative of the Canadian Prime Minister for the Ottawa Summit Economic Conference. In December 1981, he presented his credentials as Canadian Ambassador to the United States to President Reagan.

"Ambassador Gottlieb was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba. He is married to the former Sondra Kaufman, an award-winning novelist, and is the father of three children. He is charming and eloquent; an extraordinary representative of Canada, and he has a clear and firm grasp of the intimate relationship between our two countries.

"It is now my pleasure to present to you a fellow American, the Canadian Ambassador to the United States: The Honorable Allan E. Gottlieb."

ADDRESS BY ALLAN E. GOTTLIEB, AMBASSADOR OF CANADA

Ambassador Gottlieb: "Governor Spellman, Lieutenant Governor Cherberg, Speaker Ehlers, Honorable Members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen: It is an honor and a privilege for me to be here with you today and, in particular, to address this distinguished assemblage of representatives of such a beautiful part of America.

"I now readily appreciate why someone once observed that if the Pilgrims had first landed on the Pacific Coast, everything east of the Rockies would probably still be unsettled. It's a view I understand. I come from a part of Canada just north of North Dakota, and I can assure you that up there we often reflect on our forefathers' choice of geography or their desperation--at least in January.

"There are many important similarities between Canada and the State of Washington. Both economies have been hurt by the recession but are recovering. Agriculture, fishing and natural resource industries such as forestry and mining, remain fundamental to us despite the enormous growth in new high tech and service sector industry. Tourism is a major revenue earner for us both. Our populations tend to be concentrated in relatively small areas--yours around Puget Sound, ours in a fairly narrow strip along the border. Your state government, like our federal government, has played an innovative role in social policy. We also share a mutual interest in the health of our natural environment, be it clean air or the preservation of our forests, lakes, rivers and oceans. This is not only because of economic self-interest. Our populations insist that we be able to pass on our magnificent natural heritage to our children and their children.

"I have been Canada's Ambassador to the United States for a little more than two years now. I've found out that the relationship between our two countries is not usually a glamorous subject, but neither are a lot of other important topics. It has so far proven to be a fascinating experience; and I want to share it with you, particularly the part of my experience most relevant to your own activities. Basically, I would like to speak to you about your own political process. I hope you don't think I'm taking liberties with my status as a foreigner in doing so. It is fundamental and vital to my work as a Canadian Diplomat to understand that although Canadians are foreigners, we are tremendously affected by your political process. This is why my own experience in the United States has been so fascinating.

"There are other reasons, of course. In our world of today surprise has become normal. There are few simple answers to complex and unpredictable world problems. Because you are the world's greatest power, the way in which you do it affects the rest of us. This alone makes for very few dull days in Washington, D.C. No less a factor in the fascination of my assignment, is that there is no other country in the world which is as important to Canada as the U.S.A., and I dare say, vice versa. We have a relationship with the United States which is quite simply unique. We are each other's largest trading partners, who by now, exchange about one hundred billion dollars worth of goods per year. That's far bigger than U.S. trade with Japan or leading European states and as big as your trade with them put together. Trade between Washington and Canada was in the neighborhood of 5.5 billion Canadian dollars in 1982 including gas. That puts Washington close to Japan--our second biggest trading partner. And our two-way trade is growing. Your fruits and vegetables are found throughout Canada; our national and regional airlines fly your aircraft. We have invested tens and tens of billions of dollars in each other's economies and huge capital flows create jobs. Every year some thirty-five million people cross our border, not to mention every form of cultural and human experience which they can carry with them, or which the airwaves do instead. We share a continent--it's defense is a shared military responsibility as well, we hope, as an environmental one.

"We are in sum unlike any other two countries in the world in terms of interchanges between us and the often-easy familiarity with each other's presence. Our political processes are different institutionally, but they are both rooted in our common and complete commitment to democratic values and concepts of human rights which are vastly more than mere platitudes. Obviously all this sharing necessarily means we are likely to have a lot of problems. They go with the territory, so to speak, but the point is that we almost always find ways to work them out. Take the Skagit Valley controversy. There, it's taken us almost fifty years to work out a treaty which in a simple form provides Seattle with electricity and British Columbia with an unflooded valley, but the important story is that we did work it out, and to our mutual satisfaction.

"It is the factor of your political process which makes my assignment here so especially interesting. In terms of working out the problems we are inevitably going to have, the important point to make is that it is becoming harder and harder to do in the traditional ways because of the dynamics of the American political process and the way in which we as a foreign country inevitably get caught up in it. Your system is quite unique. Of course, ours is as well, but ours is probably a lot simpler for a foreign government to cope with, even if we manage to give the impression that everything in Canada is a matter for Federal-Provincial adjudication, foreign relations are at least exclusively in the federal government's jurisdiction. Many foreign representatives to your country are surprised to learn (although they shouldn't be) that the distribution of power in the United States is very dispersed--institutionally and regionally. I have no doubt that in many respects that is exactly what the drafters of your Constitution had in mind when they set out to translate their political principles into a framework for governing this nation, in separating powers between the executive and the legislative branches, and in placing so much emphasis on the rights of states.

"However, most foreign governments find this separation of political power in your system quite different from their own and quite unusual in the world today. Relations between foreign states are generally conducted via interchanges between their respective governments, but maintaining good relations with the United States is not simply a matter of keeping the administration on side. As your history has shown, the White House and State Department are not always the final or only arbiters of American foreign policy. With respect to Canadian interest, they may not even be the dominant ones. It is this which makes life for us complex and sometimes difficult. I note this not as a complaint, but simply as an observation of fact. It is a fact with enormous implications for us and for you. It is unaffected by whatever particular administration is in power at the time. It is a function of the process. As I say, our own process has its own distinguishing features that can complicate the lives of Americans with interests in Canada. But this problem of access to your process is even greater for a country such as Canada which has such a complex and closely interwoven array of interests here. In fact, our own relationship with the United States is defined on your side not so much as foreign policy, but as an aggregate of a variety of domestic policy decisions and action which may be put into effect by a host of different institutions here at all levels of the governmental system. Congress, for example, has traditionally been vested with considerable powers in the realm of foreign policy formulation, such as the Senate's power to advise and consent to foreign agreements, but the authority of Congress goes into almost all other areas of government policy. What Congress does by way of legislative action has often had a major impact on our interests. Often times there is not specifically anti-Canadian sentiment behind these actions.

"Despite the economic recovery under way here, there remain areas in this country which continue to suffer from the effects of the recession and the process of economic restructuring which is underway, not only here but in Canada as well. The uncertainty and dislocation they entail are debilitating, leading in turn to demands for assistance, intervention or protection. The effect, not unnaturally, is one of regional competition for industries and jobs or the adoption of domestic content or buy-local policies and regulations. The impact is felt in Congress, in state legislatures and in municipal councils. The impact is then felt by your neighbors and then the retaliation starts and there's no way of knowing where it could end.

"In a number of cases, we have had the misfortune of being caught up by legislation which is actually implemented in response to the practices of other countries. In the area of international trade, for example, some of our biggest problems stemmed from American reactions to the practices of Japan or Europe. We were included in a sort of 'side-swipe' effect. Take domestic-content legislation—it is Canada with which you trade the most automobiles. It is a balanced trade, I hasten to emphasize. But we will be included if auto-content legislation now before Congress were to pass.

"In other instances, legislation which is inherently domestic in nature, such as the Clean Air Act, can have an appreciable effect on our interests. The air moves! And some of it rains acid! So how Congress or the administration chooses to redefine that legislation will determine what kind of action can be mounted against the devastating effects of acid rain, one of the most profound environmental problems we both face today, a dreadful phenomenon that afflicts not only our rivers and lakes, but our forest industries on both sides of the border. We welcome your recognition here of the seriousness of this problem.

"The kind of road tax system you put into place will affect the nature of truck transportation between our two counties, a key factor in the trade between us. Changes in your maritime shipping law and the deregulation of your air routes affect our established transportation systems as well as the prosperity and efficiency of your airlines and seaports. These may be, ostensibly, domestic policy issues for you, but their impact on us can be potentially enormous.

"Of course, there is a third kind of legislating affecting our interests, that which is aimed at Canada. There are circumstances in which local and regional protectionist impulses can identify Canadian programs or practices as an adversary and lead to action aimed more directly at us. Economic Recovery is proceeding apace in the U.S., but not every state and industry benefits equally. There are tremendous challenges in the U.S. and in Canada to existing industrial structures and it is only human that when local jobs seem threatened, local political pressures emerge to pressure them in any way possible, even at the expense of legislative trading relationships. Those local pressures are very powerful in your political system because they trade off against support of other issues from other sectors and other regions. A little bit of protection for an industry suffering from the effects of the recession or temporary relief from foreign competition can be and is being sought by interests in many countries and this includes my own. But foreign observers sometimes have the impression that it can be obtained in Congress with relative ease, often obliging an administration veto if one is politically available. A bill may be promoted by just a handful, maybe even one or two, members of Congress whose constituencies are directly concerned, but support from others in Congress can often swiftly be won if the interests of their constituencies are not affected. Unlike the administration, Congress is not required to balance the different overall foreign policy interest in the U.S. A number of disputes we have recently had with the U.S. arose in this manner. Trucking is one such area of dispute, uranium was another.

"A foreign country up against such dynamics has a problem on its hands, even a country no doubt as beloved as my own. Any fond sentiments in Congress and state legislatures about your friendly neighbors to the north doesn't seem to stack up in the face of domestic pressure to take action which may be inimical to the interest of that very neighbor. We cannot, of course, vote in Congress or in American elections or provide financial support to contenders for political office in the U.S., and when the political chips are down, we, as foreigners, are simply not players. So your legislative system as an institution is not an easy one with which to deal. It is a complex process in which power and influence are widely dispersed. How often do I hear in Washington that it is unpredictable even to its own membership! There is an increasing awareness on the part of foreign governments that the changes in the Congressional system that have taken hold in the last decade or so have far-reaching implications for their interests. Members tell me that one of the most far-reaching reforms of the 1970's resulted in the demise of the old seniority system with its relatively disciplined management--the rise of many committees and subcommittees which now play so central a role in the Congressional legislative process. These changes have been accompanied, as is well known, by a tremendous growth in the ranks of the Congressional bureaucracy of the attendant political lobbies. Again, it is often explained to me in Washington that all of these changes within Congress have served structurally to decentralize the institution's power, making it less easily responsive to more broadly national issues which are secondary, that are beyond those fundamental responsibilities at the top of the agenda. As a foreigner, I couldn't say--but this conclusion does support my theory.

"Canada learned the hard way about the pivotal role which Congress is capable of playing. You may recall that a few years ago the President and Prime Minister appointed special negotiators to prepare a treaty concerning all fisheries and boundary issues on both coasts. The resulting Gulf of Maine Treaty was the product of long and arduous negotiations between the two governments. Each of us gave a little here and there in order to arrive at a balanced and fair agreement. It was a good treaty, an important one. It called, for the first time in our joint history, for the joint management of a common resource. In keeping with the American constitutional doctrine calling for the Senate to advise and consent to international agreements, the treaty was submitted to the Senate for ratification. It never emerged. Two Senators, representing very specific and basically local interest, killed it. More recently, we seem to have run into a similar type of situation (although I hope not) with the Pacific Salmon Treaty, important to the entire west coast for reasons you well understand. Signature and ratification of the Treaty did not take place during 1983 because Canada and the United States were unable to resolve difficulties raised by the State of Alaska prior to the commencement of the 1983 salmon season. However, both sides renewed their commitment to the Pacific Salmon Treaty when your Secretary of State, the Honorable George Schultz, met with our Deputy Prime Minister, Allen MacEachen, in Halifax last fall. Full negotiating sessions to develop the 1984 salmon management plans were held in Vancouver, B.C., last November 1983, and both sides are still negotiating in Seattle today. I can assure you Canada will continue to strive to arrive at a reasonable and equitable arrangement that will enable both countries to protect and develop the valuable Pacific salmon stocks.

"It is not only federal legislative institutions which have an impact on our relations. State and municipal government policies and programs also have to be factored into the equation. The application by state government of unitary tax systems on the operations of multinational corporations, whether domestic or foreign, is one such policy which has attracted the highly-focused attention of a number of foreign governments in the industrialized world, including my own. Local content regulation governing the procurement policies of state or municipally funded projects is yet another example of the kind of initiative which can adversely affect our bilateral trade in a number of ways.

"Basically, you are often making foreign policy for your country. It is a fascinating fact for foreigners with so much engaged in the matter as we have. Ominous, in a way, not because we don't trust or respect you—we do, enormously—but because we're not sure of the extent to which you factor that foreign consideration into your calculations and because we don't always have a lot of access to you to try to convince you otherwise. I hope you will keep us in mind. We each have a capacity to do each other harm as countries, acting in what seems to me in determined self-interest. But self-interest is usually broader than it is narrow. I am impressed by how keenly this point is recognized in the Evergreen State. Your commitment to a more liberal world trading environment is well-known and appreciated in my country. One of the best kinds of contact I know is that which can take place between the elected representatives of our two countries at the federal and state level. Elected officials have a vast amount in common because you represent people who have a vast amount in common. What we don't have in common are duplicate political processes. We never will since we have different needs, different systems and different constitutions. So it is vital to talk about how one system affects the other's interests.

"It is in this sense I have taken the liberty of talking to you about your own system. I do hope you will accept that I am certainly not criticizing it. It is obviously an intensely democratic and responsive system which has evolved over time to suit the times as you all in this country see them. But its effects can be calibrated some of the time to spare its most disrupting effects on at least one of your friends. In addition, I urge you to know our own system up there. I've spoken to you about the effects of your system on Canadians, but there's a speech to be made, as well, about the effect of our system on Americans. We are your biggest economic partner and I know that your interests can be hurt by what we do. The essential thing for both of us is to think a little more about our interrelationship and what we mean to each other, to mix together a little more and to provide opportunities to talk to each other a little more, as you have so graciously enabled me to do today, and for which I thank you most sincerely. I now understand that there is, indeed, another Washington. Thank you."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Prince: "I would like to bring the members' attention to the bags on our desks furnished by the Pea and Lentil Producers in the states of Idaho and Washington. Even though it's a food that was used in the time of Abraham, it is really a relatively unknown food to a lot of people. This bag of lentils signifies the efforts of producers in my locality to try and increase the knowledge of availability of this type of food and its quality. The lentils that you had for lunch have a story connected with them that we, in this body, should be aware of.

"Some seven years ago, Canada hired away from us one of our scientists from our research station at WSU. They gave him a half million dollars and told him to develop the lentil industry in Canada. Canada, at that time, was not producing a single pound of lentils. Today they are outproducing the United States. Five years ago we put up part of $25 million to start a research station in Syria. Most of that money was put up by the United States Government. Turnkey was able, through that research, to double their production and we lost several major countries as outlets for our own lentils. It points up the need to maintain a strong research program in our food products if we are going to stay viable in the world market. There is some $39 million of crops in the lentil production here within this state and it's important to our economy.

"I could mention a couple of other things about lentils. They are an extremely high protein food—some twenty-five percent protein. I think the thing the body should be most aware of is that the producers of that product today donated to Second Harvest some 41,000 pounds of peas and lentils to be used by the needy families in Seattle and Spokane. For this I think this body should congratulate those people."

Ms. Monohon: "You are limited to two fund raisers per year. It is strictly regulated and the rules are set up by the Gambling Commission. I would find it difficult to believe that you would set up an organization solely for that purpose if you can only raise $10,000 and you can only have two fund raisers per year. You are not restricted as to where you can have these fund raising events. Most of the fund raising events nowadays are being held in local communities because it is too burdensome on a nonprofit organization for the members to travel a great distance and to pay for their lodging and hotel rooms. Most of the events are held locally and put on by the local organization."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Appelwick yielded to question by Mr. Charnley.

Mr. Charnley: "Representative Appelwick, I wonder if you might, just for the record, define what is 'primarily'?"

Mr. Appelwick: "I would not attempt at this point to pin that down. I would think that with any certainty in terms of proportion we might use, for example, a Fred Meyers store, which is normally a utility store, and in some instances has a grocery section. In that case, if it has a specific grocery section and is offering groceries for sale on a regular basis, it would be within the prohibition on the fact of doing promotional games with grocery items. If the sale of a grocery item or food product is an isolated or casual sale, then that would not be within the restrictions because it is not normally their product. I will offer some further clarifying language on final reading."

Ms. Brough spoke against the amendments.

This section sets forth the expenditure programs and the allotment and reserve procedures to be followed by the executive branch for public funds. Allotments of an appropriation for any fiscal period shall conform to the terms, limits, or conditions of the appropriation.

(1) Before the beginning of the fiscal period, all agencies shall submit to the governor a statement of proposed agency expenditures at such times and in such form as may be required by the governor. The statement of proposed expenditures shall show, among other things, the requested allotments of public funds for the ensuing fiscal period for the agency concerned on a monthly basis for the entire fiscal period. The governor shall review the requested allotments in the light of the agency's plan of work and, with the advice of the director of financial management, the governor may revise or alter agency allotments: PROVIDED, That revision of allotments shall not be made for agencies headed by elective officials pursuant to this subsection. The aggregate of the allotments for an appropriation shall not exceed the total appropriation.

(2) Except for the legislative and judicial branches of government, approved allotments may be revised during the course of the fiscal period in accordance with the regulations issued pursuant to this chapter. If at any time during the fiscal period the governor shall ascertain that ((available)) estimated revenues for the applicable period will be less than the respective appropriations, the governor shall revise the allotments concerned so as to prevent the making of expenditures in excess of ((available)) estimated revenues. To the same end, the governor is authorized to withhold and to assign to, and to remove from, a reserve status any portion of an agency appropriation which in the governor's discretion is not needed for the allotment.

No expenditures shall be made from any portion of an appropriation which has been assigned to a reserve status except as provided in this section.

(3) It is expressly provided that all agencies shall be required to maintain accounting records and to report thereon in the manner prescribed in this chapter and under the regulations issued pursuant to this chapter. The director of financial management shall monitor agency expenditures to prevent spending patterns which inflate agency expenditures during the second year of a biennium.

(4) The director of financial management may exempt certain public funds from the allotment controls established under this chapter if it is not practical or necessary to allot the funds. Allotment control exemptions expire at the end of the fiscal biennium for which they are granted. The director of financial management shall report any exemptions granted under this subsection to the legislative fiscal committees.

Sec. 9. Section 7, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 2, chapter 15, Laws of 1982 2d ex. sess. and RCW 43.88.112 are each amended to read as follows:

If at any time during the fiscal period the governor ascertains that ~~((available))~~ estimated revenues for the applicable period will be less than the respective appropriations, the governor shall revise the allotments for the total funds which are appropriated to the superintendent of public instruction for support of state-wide programs and which ultimately will be distributed to local school districts so as to prevent the making of expenditures in excess of ~~((available))~~ estimated revenues, but the governor shall not revise the allotments for the superintendent of public instruction for support of state-wide programs by an amount which would result in less than ample provision for the basic education of the children of the state.

Sec. 10. Section 43.88.120, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 8, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.120 are each amended to read as follows:

The director of financial management may waive the quarterly update requirement for revenue sources if the director determines that quarterly updates are not practical or necessary))~~ and shall submit the statements and estimates to the director of revenue at times and in the form specified by the director, along with any other information which the director may request.

A copy of such collection reports~~((;))~~ and revenue estimates~~((; and waivers))~~ shall be simultaneously submitted to the ~~((legislative budget committee and the committees on ways and means of the senate and house of representatives))~~ economic and revenue forecast work group.

Sec. 11. Section 5, chapter 280, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.540 are each amended to read as follows:

Subsequent to a transfer to the general fund from the stabilization account, resumption of further deposits to the stabilization account shall be made during the biennium when ~~((projections of state))~~ estimated revenues~~((as determined pursuant to this section;))~~ demonstrate that resumption of deposits can be made.

The director of financial management as agent of the governor shall ~~((identify the revenue forecasts to be utilized and))~~ determine the timing of resumption of deposits to the stabilization account.

Sec. 12. Section 82.32.330, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 104, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.330 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as hereinafter provided it shall be unlawful for the department of revenue or any member, deputy, clerk, agent, employee, or representative thereof or any other person to make known or reveal any facts or information contained in any return filed by any taxpayer or disclosed in any investigation or examination of the taxpayer's books and records made in connection with the administration hereof. The foregoing, however, shall not be construed to prohibit the department of revenue or a member or employee thereof from: (1) Giving such facts or information in evidence in any court action involving tax imposed hereunder or involving a violation of the provisions hereof or involving another state department and the taxpayer; (2) giving such facts and information to the taxpayer or his duly authorized agent; (3) publishing statistics so classified as to prevent the identification of particular returns or reports or items thereof; (4) giving such facts or information, for official purposes only, to the governor or attorney general, or to any state department, agency, board, commission, council, or any committee or subcommittee of the legislature dealing with matters of taxation, revenue, trade, commerce, the control of industry or the professions; (5) permitting its records to be audited and examined by the proper state officer, his agents and employees; (6) giving any such facts or information to the proper officer of the internal revenue service of the United States or to the proper officer of the tax department of any state or city or town or county, for official purposes, but only if the statutes of the United States or of such other state or city or town or county, as the case may be, grants substantially similar privileges to the proper officers of this state; or (7) giving any such facts or information to the Department of Justice or the army or navy departments of the United States, or any authorized representative thereof, for official purposes.

Any person acquiring knowledge of such facts or information in the course of his employment with the department of revenue and any person acquiring knowledge of such facts and information as provided under (4), (5), (6) and (7) above, who reveals or makes known any such facts or information to another not entitled to knowledge of such facts or information under the provisions of this section, shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars and, if the offender or person guilty of such violation is an officer or employee of the state, he shall forfeit such office or employment and shall be incapable of holding any public office or employment in this state for a period of two years thereafter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. This act shall take effect October 1, 1984."

Mr. Grimm spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Cantu.

Mr. Cantu: "Representative Grimm, in your contact with the Office of Financial Management, are they agreeing with the bill?"

Mr. Grimm: "Representative Cantu, I have not received word back from the Governor stating the specific language, but the basic premise of having the council established and having the staff deal with the Department of Revenue is consistent with the proposal that has come from the Governor's Office. Basically, this is no different from the last proposal that came from the Governor's Office two weeks ago. I don't think there's anything in here that would, in any way, contradict the wishes of or be opposed by the Governor."

Mr. Cantu spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Ms. Allen.

Ms. Allen: "Representative Grimm, I would like to know, are there any committees or boards or councils that this will supersede that we can get rid of, or erase a few of the thousands that are running around, or is this just one more in the superstructure?"

Mr. Grimm: "This is one more in the superstructure in terms of a title. In terms of staffing or additional responsibilities extended to the state, it doesn't add anything. In fact, it probably fades some of the duplicative services that are currently being provided. We have our own analysis of what the Senate does, the Governor's office does, and to some extent, that may no longer be necessary, so I think that while you are creating something, it is really only in name. It simply changes the working mechanism by which we come up with economic and revenue forecasting and has the legislature involved."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: "Representative Grimm, I've been in this body for eight years and I haven't seen a good revenue forecast come out of the executive branch yet. Do you believe this will improve the revenue forecasting of the executive branch? It really needs improvement."

Mr. Grimm: "That is a good question, Representative Sanders. Does this guarantee any better projection? No. What it does guarantee is that there will not be any manipulation, political manipulation, of the assumption and hopefully, any wholly unreasonable assumptions that have been the case under different governors of different parties. Really the crux of it, is that not only Democratic and Republican legislators and the governors be involved, but also the timely availability of information is a critical element. Previously, with governors of different parties--the governors have been reticent about giving the legislature the background information and sometimes withhold information until it is convenient for them to release it. This way, with both Democrats and Republicans in the legislature involved, it's going to eliminate any partisan political manipulation. If those four or five out of the six want to manipulate it, or if they are going to be wrong, that's still a likelihood and still is possible, but it eliminates that manipulation. I think it has been a concern to several people on both sides of the aisle for some time. It was exposed over the past two years when we bore the brunt of the errors rather than the Senate having it."

Mr. Sanders spoke in favor of the amendment, and it was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Grimm, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "matters;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending section 1, chapter 36, Laws of 1982 1st ex. sess. and RCW 43.88.020; amending section 43.88.030, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.030; amending section 43.88.110, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 47, Laws of 1983 1st ex. sess. and RCW 43.88.110; amending section 7, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 as amended by section 2, chapter 15, Laws of 1982 2nd ex. sess. and RCW 43.88.112; amending section 43.88.120, chapter 8, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 8, chapter 270, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.120; amending section 5, chapter 280, Laws of 1981 and RCW 43.88.540; amending section 82.32.330, chapter 15, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 104, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 82.32.330; adding a new section to chapter 41.06 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 82.01 RCW; and providing an effective date."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Hastings: "Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as Reed's Rule 58 talks about committees and states '...that the committee is the eye and ear and hand, and very often the brain, of the assembly,' and inasmuch as this body has adopted Rule 14(D) that says that we shall adjourn at 10:00 p.m., I notice on the calendar this week that at least one committee, a committee that I'm a member of, Energy & Utilities, has meetings scheduled until 11:00 p.m. If the committees are the eyes, ears and so forth of this body, I wonder why we would allow them to meet beyond a time that this body thinks is prudent to adjourn?"

The Speaker: "Representative Hastings, as you know we have been attempting to expedite the session and adjourn in sixty days. We certainly don't want to impede the committee process. My understanding is that Local Government Committee came up to this problem the other day and they decided to vote on it. I don't, personally, believe the rule passed applies to committees, but I would be happy to talk about it. I really don't think it applies to committees."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, do the rules of the House apply to rules of the committees?"

The Speaker: "Representative Nelson, we were dealing with a specific case. We'll do others as they may arise."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Heck, the House adjourned until 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, February 1, 1984.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Padden yielded to question by Ms. Miller.

Ms. Miller: "Representative Padden, I have a question about the section that deals with the landlord notifying the tenant if he proposes a zoning change. In other words, maybe he wants to vacate the land for an industrial park. Is there any sort of time frame that protects the tenant for a certain period of months before they have to find another location? Does that fall in the twelve-month provision?"

Mr. Padden: "That is a different section of the bill than the twelve-month, but I would have to look that over more carefully to answer you. Perhaps Representative Todd might know a specific answer on that."

Ms. Miller: "Representative Todd, could you respond to that?"

Mr. Todd: "Quite quickly, Representative Miller, what the intent was that when you notify within five days there would be a certain period of time that is going to be needed to go through the whole zoning change procedure itself, so this would be a period that would probably approximate twelve months."

Ms. Miller: "There was a comment made that the utilities' bill could not be cut off by the owner, but are we assuming then that the individual units are not paying their own individual utility bills?"

Mr. Todd: "I think what the section says, on page 4, line 23, is that they cannot 'Charge to any tenant a utility fee in excess of actual utility costs or intentionally cause termination or interruption of any tenant's utility service...except when an interruption of a reasonable duration is required to make necessary repairs...'"

Ms. Miller: "So that doesn't preempt a utility district from collecting the bill from an individual if they are contracting with them?"

Mr. Todd: "No."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Pruitt yielded to question by Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings: "Representative Pruitt, what we are talking about here, and in your remarks you said 'the auditor or his designee,' as in King County, would appoint, I assume, various registrars to carry this out. I guess what concerns me is that it seems to me that he could limit that number. Could you tell me what sort of process the auditor or his designee would go through to limit whomever would be a special registrar?"

Mr. Pruitt: "To limit the activities of that registrar?"

Mr. Hastings: "According to this language, as I read it, he can appoint any registrar but that registrar has to be specifically designated. The implication that arises from that is not every registrar will participate in this. What process would the auditor go through to specifically designate and why would you, by implication, limit certain registrars?"

Mr. Pruitt: "The process would be a process chosen by those auditors--which ones were to be chosen and specifically designated. That auditor or that official would make that choice up to their judgment as to whether or not they felt a person would be a good registrar specifically designated."

Mr. Hastings spoke in favor of the amendments, and Mr. Nealey again spoke in favor of them.

A division was called.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Prince yielded to question by Mr. D. Nelson.

Mr. D. Nelson: "Representative Prince, I've asked several attorneys on the floor this question: If we, in subsection (2), say the state shall be responsible for fires and resulting damages to adjacent property, does that mean that the state assumes a total responsibility liability for damages and that we cannot then go after the party that caused that damage?"

Mr. Prince: "I'm not an attorney, but I do not believe that it means that you cannot go after the guilty party. I think it would be the state that would have to prosecute and would have to stand good for the situation and make sure it was taken care of. Without this amendment, my understanding is it would be the landowner who would have to try and find the guilty party and go to the expense of trying to receive some compensation. In the trail situation where it's so difficult to get to, the person would be long gone before you get to the fire, and it would be very difficult to enforce."

Mr. D. Nelson spoke in favor of the motion for reconsideration, and Representatives Ballard and Clayton spoke against it.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the motion that the House reconsider the vote by which the Prince/C. Smith amendment was adopted to Substitute House Bill No. 1172, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 51; excused, 0.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I believe that HB 1246, which appears on today's fifth order calendar, is appearing there in error. House Bill 1246 failed to receive a majority vote of the committee and no reconsideration of that failure as required under House Rule 21 and Reed's Rule 209 and Rule 74, were given."

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Barrett, in connection with your point of order relative to whether or not a majority of the committee on Ways & Means signed the Do Pass report, all the Speaker has before him is a signed report by fifteen members of the committee, which is more than a majority because the total membership is twenty-six. Evidence before us states that it is adequately reported by the majority of the members of the Ways & Means Committee."

Mr. Barrett: "My point, Mr. Speaker, is not whether or not fifteen members of the committee signed the report. My point of order is that no move for reconsideration was properly made in accordance with House rules."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "It appears, Representative Barrett, that your question on the motion to reconsider might have been required or it might not have been required. We don't have anything like that before us. There's nothing in writing to determine whether your question is right or wrong. All we have is the report of the standing committee, which supplies us with the necessary approval of the majority of the members of the committee."

Mr. Barrett: "I respect that the document before you appears to be in order, however, you and I both are at a disadvantage in that we can't be in every committee meeting to determine whether or not every committee is properly following procedure, but you have us at a very distinct disadvantage, Mr. Speaker, when you will not tell us when we go to a committee meeting; they have to follow any rules, especially the rules of the House to which we are so accustomed. My question, Mr. Speaker, and I will now put it directly, if I may, are the committees advised to follow the rules of the House when we are conducting business away from these chambers?"

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Barrett, I know you have real good intentions in asking the Speaker whether or not the rules of the House govern the respective committees. The question to a great degree right now is rather moot. We don't have that before us. This really is not a parliamentary class, and so I am going to rule that your point is not well taken."

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I appreciate that you and I have sat through the parliamentary class. I now rise to a point of order to challenge the validity of the report which you have in front of you. Our records, taken at that same meeting, indicate that when this came up for a vote it did not have the necessary majority to pass it out."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Mr. Barrett, apparently you challenge the ruling of the Speaker. Do you want to appeal the decision of the Speaker?"

Mr. Barrett: "I, in no way, appealed that ruling. I think we settled that when there is a committee report signed by the proper majority before you, then the report must be accepted. My new point of order, Mr. Speaker, is not to challenge your ruling, but to ask for a ruling on the validity of the document before you according to the records of that particular committee, that when this measure, HB 1246, was voted on at the appropriate time and in the appropriate manner, it did not receive the necessary fourteen votes."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Barrett, this isn't the first time that somebody has challenged the workings of the committee or the committee report. I believe that precedent will show established in our rulings that when precedent has been established and followed on previous Speaker's Rulings, on reports of standing committees, all the Speaker and the Chief Clerk can do is recognize what is before the Chief Clerk and the Speaker of the House. We have accepted that as prima facie evidence that the committee functioned properly. This has occurred more than once as set forth in our Journals."

MOTION

Mr. G. Nelson moved that further consideration of the committee report on HB 1246 be deferred until the records could be obtained from the Committee on Ways & Means' staff regarding the action on the measure.

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Nelson, Rule 11(A) pertains to reading of bills. 'Upon being reported by committee, all measures shall go the rules committee.' If you want to do otherwise, you would have to move to suspend the rules, suspend this rule and defer action on this before the standing committee."

Mr. G. Nelson: "Mr. Speaker, all I'm asking is that we revert back to the fifth order of business. I'm not asking that we not do what you are suggesting. We have, from time to time in this body, read in measures from a committee and then referred them to Rules, and I'm not debating that. I'm simply asking that we defer back to the fifth order after we have conducted some of the other important business, and that we have, with the documentation in hand to allow you to make a more independent decision on exactly what is the process so that you might rule and set a precedent as to what we do have happening here."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Thank you very much. House Bill 1246 is referred to Committee on Rules."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I believe that as a member of this body, I have the right to make an additional motion at this time under the proper order of business. I'm asking for that permission."

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "This is under committee reports. Stipulate your point of order."

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, I was ignored when I called for the floor to make a motion."

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "That would be out of order because under Point of Order you must be dissatisfied with something or the orderly business of the House has been not deemed conducted according to our rules, but to ask for a point of order to make a motion is out of order."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Heck, the remaining bills reported on the fifth order of business were referred to Committee on Rules for second reading.

The intent of this legislation is to maintain the present distribution of revenues between the state and local government. The effective date will be July 1985, to enable a more complete analysis of the local impact. Local governments have had difficulties in making these estimates and we plan to continue to work with the local governments to ensure stability in revenue sources and to fine-tune this labor. Finally, a primary purpose is to increase the efficiency, to reduce the cost of collection of the court fees, and to streamline the whole system. I would urge your support of this measure."

Mr. Appelwick moved adoption of the following amendments:

On page 3, beginning on line 8, after "combustion") strike all material down to and including line 25 and insert "designed primarily for sale at retail to the public designed to produce visual or audible effects by combustion. The term does not include aerial devices or audible ground devices as defined by the United States department of transportation and the federal consumer products safety commission on December 31, 1983, unless the state fire marshal has specifically approved the type of firework classified under these federal definitions."

On page 16, strike lines 12 and 13 and insert the following:

"Sec. 38. Section 13, chapter 230, Laws of 1982 and RCW 70.77.570 are each amended to read as follows:

No person may possess and no fireworks may be sold or offered for sale to the public as common fireworks which are classified as ((sky-rockets)) aerial devices or ((missile-type-rockets-as-defined)) audible ground devices. Aerial devices and audible ground devices have the meaning given them by the United States department of transportation and the federal consumer products safety commission on December 31, 1983, unless the state fire marshal has specifically approved the type of firework ((so)) classified within these definitions."

Representatives Appelwick, Charnley and Patrick spoke in favor of the amendments, and Representatives Locke, J. King and Schoon spoke against them.

The amendments were not adopted.

Mr. Barrett moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, beginning on line 21, strike all material through line 26 on page 3 and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 230, Laws of 1982 and RCW 70.77.126 are each amended as follows:

'Fireworks' means any composition or device, in a finished state, containing any combustible or explosive substance for the purpose of producing a visible or audible effect by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation, and classified as common or special fireworks by the United States bureau of explosives or contained in the regulations of the United States department of transportation as of the effective date of this 1984 act.

Sec. 2. Section 2, chapter 230, Laws of 1982 and RCW 70.77.131 are each amended to read as follows:

'Special fireworks' includes any fireworks designed primarily for exhibition display which produce visible or audible effects by combustion, deflagration, or detonation and classified as special fireworks by the United States bureau of explosives or in the regulations of the United States department of Transportation as of the effective date of this 1984 act.

Sec. 3. Section 3, chapter 230, Laws of 1982 and RCW 70.77.136 are each amended to read as follows:

'Common fireworks' includes any fireworks which are designed primarily for sale at retail to the public during prescribed dates and which produce visible or audible effects through combustion and classified as common fireworks by the United States bureau of explosives or in the regulations of the United States department of transportation as of the effective date of this 1984 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 70.77 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) 'New fireworks item' means any fireworks initially classified or reclassified as special or common fireworks by the United States bureau of explosives or in the regulations of the United States department of transportation after the effective date of this act.

(2) The state fire marshal shall classify any new fireworks item in the same manner as the item is classified by the United States bureau of explosives or in the regulations of the United States department of transportation, unless the state fire marshal determines, stating reasonable grounds, that the item should not be so classified."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references accordingly.

Mr. Barrett spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. Locke spoke against it.

The amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Locke moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Locke and Tilly:

On page 4, line 31 after "rules," strike "However, nothing in this chapter may be construed to restrict the authority of counties, cities, or towns to promulgate and enforce local rules that are more restrictive than state law."

Mr. Locke spoke in favor of the amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Locke yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Locke, what is your understanding of what a local authority may do concerning fireworks' regulation if this bill passes with this amendment?"

Mr. Locke: "Local authorities would still have the authority to regulate fireworks. It is our feeling that this sentence is not necessary because it is our belief that local governments already have that power as part of their police power under Article II, section 11, of the State Constitution to regulate fireworks and any other hazardous item. The sentence is also not necessary because the remainder of subsection (4) just above it says the state fire marshal shall prescribe minimum -- and I emphasize 'minimum' -- statewide standards. That word 'minimum' implies that local governments may go beyond those minimums and that is the rationale behind this amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Padden yielded to question by Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Barrett: "Representative Padden, what is your opinion of the effect of this amendment by Representative Locke?"

Mr. Padden: "As Representative Locke stated, the sentence being eliminated would prevent any inference that the bill is intended to restrict local authority to regulate fireworks. By eliminating that sentence, that local authority is restricted because the previous sentence says, 'Counties, cities and towns shall comply with such rules.' I favor the amendment because I intend that we have a uniform state-wide standard."

Ms. Brough spoke against the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Mr. Hastings moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Hastings, Locke and Jacobsen:

On page 4, after line 33 insert:

"Any local rules adopted by local authorities that are more restrictive than state law as to the types of fireworks that may be sold shall have an effective date no sooner than one year after their adoption."

Representatives Hastings, Locke and Brough spoke in favor of the amendment and it was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Tilly, the following amendments by Representatives Tilly and Locke were adopted:

On page 13, line 31 strike all material through line 1 on page 14 and insert:

"(2) If the fireworks are not returned to the petitioner or destroyed pursuant to RCW 70.77-.435, the state fire marshal may sell confiscated common fireworks and special fireworks that are legal for use and possession under this chapter to wholesalers licensed by the state fire marshal. Sale shall be by public auction after publishing a notice of the date, place, and time of the auction in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the auction is to be held, at least three days before the date of the auction. The proceeds of the sale of the seized fireworks under this section shall be deposited in the general fund. Fireworks that are not legal for use and possession in this state shall be destroyed by the state fire marshal."

On page 14, line 20 strike "class C felony, punishable as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW" and insert "gross misdemeanor"

Substitute House Bill No. 1652 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules for third reading.

Mr. Bond: "All right, I will. Inscrutable Oriental, eh?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Locke yielded to question by Mr. Nealey.

Mr. Nealey: "Representative Locke, I see in here where the time element is from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Is there special significance for having it at such a late hour in the morning?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Vander Stoep yielded to question by Mr. Prince.

Mr. Prince: "Representative Vander Stoep, the bill is very specific in the manner in which student regents would be appointed. How would you propose that these advisory representatives be appointed?"

Mr. Vander Stoep: "It's my intention that the mechanism in the bill would, essentially, be what would be used if this amendment is adopted, Representative Prince. In other words, I think the student advisory members ought to be selected by the governing student body. If that student body chooses to have a student election to select these people, that would be their choice. If they want to have them chosen by the students' leadership, that would be their choice as well."

Mr. Kreidler spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Betzoff: "Representative Kreidler, you are aware, as a member of the Centennial Commission, that the Commission has been somewhat concerned about its authority. In creating the Commission, the Legislature made it clear that it was intended to be advisory to the Legislature and to the Governor. In constructing an effective program to be presented to the Legislature and Governor, the Commission has found it necessary to coordinate with the five other states who also have centennial celebrations. They have found it necessary to contact a wide variety of organizations, and without actually committing the state of Washington to any firm agreements, to ask that Washington's centennial be included in their plans. My question is: Do you believe the commission has exceeded its statutory charge?"

Mr. Kreidler: "Absolutely not. 1989 may seem to be a long way off, but coordination of the various historical societies and museums, interested citizens groups, county and city councils and so on, requires considerable lead time. Five years lead time is awfully short to plan successfully for events of statewide interest. The commission is charged by law with submitting a proposed bond issue to this Legislature. In order to do this for the 1985 session, the Commission must work with local governments to fit in their respective planning. Pacific Rim planning is already going on so the Centennial Commission should become involved with the forthcoming Pacific Rim conferences and exhibits. In order to be a success, the 1989 celebration ought also to be fun, so planning for events like centennial games requires negotiating with various amateur athletic groups. This all requires advance planning. Successful formulation of the plan required by law necessarily implies these kinds of activities. In addition, the real reason for including members of all four caucuses on the Commission is to provide actual legislative input."

Mr. Betzoff spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Sanders: "Representative Kreidler, as I read the bill, we're talking about 'agencies' on page 1, line 23, but then I see under the criteria, we're talking about 'investigating persons' and trying to 'authorize that person.' We had the example of a developmentally disabled mother in a hospital who wanted to go home to be taken care of by her children, and the state wouldn't let the mother leave the hospital because the state said the children weren't capable of taking care of her. Does this bill assist the state in preventing the children of a parent in caring for the parent?"

Mr. Kreidler: "Representative Sanders, I'm not one hundred percent sure if I understand the question, but let me say that in this bill, we have attempted to clarify that we're not trying to prevent people who are the parents and relatives, and so forth, from being encumbered and having this kind of background investigation. In fact, we have specifically exempted them from having that kind of requirement. It is only for those people who would be placed into other people's care. It would be more of an institutional-type setting."

Mr. Isaacson spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

Voting yea: Representatives Addison, Allen, Appelwick, Armstrong, Barrett, Belcher, Braddock, Brekke, Broback, Burns, Charnley, Crane, Dellwo, Ebersole, Ellis, Fisch, Fisher, Gallagher, Galloway, Garrett, Grimm, Halsan, Haugen, Heck, Hine, Holland, Isaacson, Jacobsen, Johnson, Kaiser, King J, King P, King R, Kreidler, Lewis, Locke, Long, Lux, McClure, McMullen, Miller, Mitchell, Monohon, Nelson D, Nelson G, Niemi, O'Brien, Patrick, Powers, Prince, Pruitt, Rust, Sanders, Sayan, Scott, Smith L, Smitherman, Sommers, Stratton, Sutherland, Tanner, Todd, Van Dyken, Van Luven, Vander Stoep, Walk, Wang, Williams B, Zellinsky, and Mr. Speaker - 70.

Absent: Representatives Fiske, Moon - 2.

Excused: Representative Vekich - 1.

Substitute House Bill No. 69, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 229, by Committee on Social & Health Services (originally sponsored by Representatives Charnley, Dellwo, Allen, Rust, Pruitt, Burns, Patrick, Walk, Sanders, Kaiser, D. Nelson, Lux, Long, Jacobsen, Sommers, Brekke, Appelwick, Miller, Haugen, Brough, Silver, Addison and Todd)

Restricting smoking in public areas.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representatives Charnley, Lewis, Brough, Isaacson, Long and Lux spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Fuhrman, G. Nelson, Zellinsky and Clayton spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Charnley yielded to question by Mr. Barrett.

Mr. Barrett: "Representative Charnley, referring to page 3, section 6, about the violations, I'm assuming that this building will be covered by this law when it goes into effect?"

Mr. Charnley: "Representative Barrett, I do not believe it will be. The legislature has constitutionally, I think, excluded itself. We make our own rules; we make our own smoking rules."

Mr. Barrett: "If we were to meet someplace as a body, outside of this group--so I can kind of get an idea of this bill--if Representative Taylor should light up and we called a local law enforcement person, he could be fined $100, right?"

Mr. Charnley: "No, you're wrong again. He would be warned and asked not to smoke, but first he would be asked not to, then he would be issued a warning ticket and on the next day, if we had a meeting for two days and he was there smoking again, then he would be issued a ticket."

Mr. Barrett: "Representative Charnley, I don't understand in section 6(1), subsection (2), it says the operator has a warning, but 'any person essentially violating by removing or destroying a sign.' It's not by smoking, is that correct?"

Mr. Charnley: "That says, '...intentionally violating this chapter by smoking or removing, defacing or destroying signs.' The words are quite clear."

Mr. Barrett: "It does not say he gets two times. If he does that and is eventually fined and if another representative should light up and is fined, does that mean-- section 2 says 'the person in charge,' would pay a fine. Is that correct?"

Mr. Charnley: "Representative Barrett, not being a lawyer, these are lawyer questions, I have no more response."

Ms. Stratton spoke against passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. G. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. Dickie.

Mr. Dickie: "Representative Nelson, I know you've made a rather thorough study of this, and I, too, am concerned about the questions with reference to smoking in the chambers and these buildings. Could you respond to that?"

Mr. G. Nelson: "If one reads section 2 carefully, I think you would all agree that these chambers and every hearing room that this legislature runs is included in this law. I don't think there's any dispute about that. If anybody in this chamber has argued about somebody smoking I think they can have that person cited with a $100 fine as referenced in section 6. It includes auditoriums, hearing rooms, exhibition halls. If you haven't seen a bigger exhibition hall in your whole life than this one, I'll throw in with you. I think it's very clear that this chamber--"

The Speaker: "Representative Nelson, the Speaker realizes that you are yielding to a question, but the Speaker wants to remind everyone that we have a three-minute rule and it's not going to be violated by going off and making additional statements. I'm trying to understand that you are answering a question now, and I'm going to admonish everyone that if people start asking general questions, like 'What do you think about--' the Speaker is not going to accept those. If it's a true question that's legitimate, and I'm going to practice a certain amount of judgment in that. Please continue, Representative Nelson."

Mr. G. Nelson: "I think the intent is good; I don't have any quarrel with the measure, but I would want everybody to realize that it is a lot more far-reaching than what we have ever had as a rule in these chambers or in a committee room. I'm going to vote for this bill, but I do think it needs further clarification before we cite members of the Associated Press or independent newspapers who are in these chambers and who consistently violate our air as well."

Representatives Dickie and Taylor spoke in favor of the bill.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1234, by Committee on Energy & Utilities (originally sponsored by Representatives Jacobsen, Tilly, Charnley, Allen, Niemi, Belcher, Pruitt, Zellinsky, Lux, Ballard, Mitchell and Silver)

Restricting the use of automated telephone dialing and message devices.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representative Jacobsen spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Jacobsen yielded to question by Mr. Van Dyken.

Mr. Van Dyken: "Representative Jacobsen, as is the case with other specialized requests to the telephone company, I presume it is your intent as the author of this legislation to have any costs made by the requestors to be borne by the requestors and not to be borne by the general ratepayers. Is that correct?"

Mr. Jacobsen: "Yes, it would not be borne by the general ratepayers. I have discussed this with telephone representatives and their suggestion was that a firm planning to use AT&T machines would purchase it directly from the phone company and would pay for the cost of compiling the information. I might add that I have some information that they have this system in the southeastern belt and in a city of 250,000. 171,000 requested to have their names put on the list to exclude some telephone calls."

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 1234, and the bill passed the House with the following vote: Yeas, 93; nays, 3; absent, 1; excused, 1.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1519, by Representatives Brekke and Wang

Extending aid to families with dependent children.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Ms. Brekke spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Mr. Cantu spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Brekke yielded to question by Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell: "Representative Brekke, do the states of Oregon and Idaho have the AFDC-E program?"

Ms. Brekke: "I know that Oregon does not; I believe Idaho does not, as well."

Representatives Mitchell and B. Williams spoke against passage of the bill, and Representatives Sayan and Grimm spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Brekke yielded to question by Mr. Schoon.

Mr. Schoon: "Representative Brekke, can you tell me what the fiscal impact would be the first year, the second year and then the fifth year, as usually is indicated in a fiscal note?"

Ms. Brekke: "It is my understanding that the department has come back and confirmed our staff projections upon which the budget figure, $26 million, is based. I believe there is an agreement that the $26 million is expected to be adequate for the food and shelter and the medical components for these people."

Representatives Long, G. Nelson and Isaacson opposed passage of the bill, and Representatives Kreidler and Brekke again spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Mitchell: "I would like to cite chapter 112, Laws of special session, 1979, Substitute House Bill No. 156, which was the first bill that I passed here in the House. The intent of the bill was to be sure that no legislation that had a fiscal impact was voted on the floor unless the fiscal note was attached to the bill. I will read from the Washington law: 'When a fiscal note has been prepared for a bill or resolution, a copy of the fiscal note shall be placed in the billbooks or otherwise attached to the bill or resolution and shall remain with the bill or resolution throughout the legislative process insofar as possible.' I feel that whenever a bill does come before us that has a big fiscal impact on the taxpayers of the State of Washington, that a fiscal note should be attached."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Grimm: "Your point is well taken, Representative Mitchell, and we will do our best as soon as possible to get that fiscal note to every member in this chamber. The reason that I'm able to say with some confidence that we will be able to do that is that I have been given information that the Department of Social and Health Services submitted to the Office of Financial Management, the Governor's budget office, the revised fiscal note approximately one week ago and that the Governor's budget office, the Office of Financial Management, has not forwarded it to this legislative body in accordance with the statutes. I have not personally confirmed that, it's been through secondary sources, but if that is true, that fiscal note will be made available in all due haste."

SPEAKER'S RULING

The Speaker: "Representative Grimm has said your point is well taken, Representative Mitchell, as far as it not being in the books. I think our rule says that if it is 'available.' It does not say 'requested.' If it's available we should have it in our books. I believe that one would have to read very carefully to say that if one has been requested it has to be in the books. It's only if we have it in our possession. We are going to move this down but there is a difference."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell: "Representative Grimm, is it your intention to put the bill down until a fiscal note is available?"

Mr. Grimm: "I think, in response to your question, Representative Mitchell, that the gentleman from the 17th District may very likely be prepared to make that motion."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Heck, further consideration of House Bill No. 1519 was deferred, and the bill was ordered placed at the bottom of the third reading calendar.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 1558, by Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Armstrong and West)

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representatives Armstrong, Lewis and Patrick spoke in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Fuhrman spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Armstrong yielded to question by Mr. Bond.

Mr. Bond: "Representative Armstrong, I'm in great sympathy with the objectives of this bill and I simply have a question about whether or not, in your view, you feel it could be used to harass law-abiding citizens? You might explain, if you would, what safeguards there are in it in that regard."

Mr. Armstrong: "The prime safeguard is one I mentioned. The burden remains on the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that there have been activities of the kind described in this bill."

Representatives Bond, Wang and West spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Padden yielded to question by Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings: "Representative Padden, on page 2 the definition of 'civil disorder' talks in terms of persons. Could you give me a definition of what 'persons' would be in this situation?"

Mr. Padden: "'Persons,' besides being individuals, legally could also mean a corporation or corporate entity or perhaps even could mean government. I think civil disorder, besides just being an individual could include a corporate property or perhaps even government property."

Mr. Hastings spoke in favor of the bill.

Ms. Belcher spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Belcher yielded to question by Mr. Hastings.

Mr. Hastings: "Representative Belcher, in this bill it says that the contract can only go to nonprofit organizations. Why use only nonprofit and not for-profit? Why not use for-profit organizations?"

Ms. Belcher: "You've asked me a technical question that I can't answer. We've researched that and decided this is the better of the two and I don't really remember why."

Representatives Hastings and Padden spoke against the bill.

SECOND READING

Mr. Grimm moved that House Bill No. 1246, House Bill No. 1344, House Bill No. 1363, House Bill No. 1660 and House Bill No. 1311 be placed on the second reading calendar for immediate consideration.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Grimm yielded to question by Mr. Sanders.

Mr. Sanders: "Representative Grimm, one of the measures that you are moving that we work on is House Bill No. 1660, which is an education bill. As you know, we passed this out of Ways & Means Committee a couple of days ago, and at that time we didn't have a fiscal note from the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Office of Financial Management submitted to us that they would get us a fiscal note by Tuesday, which is tomorrow. I look at the fiscal note in our books and I'm wondering--it's kind of a skeleton-type thing--do we have a fiscal note from the SPI yet?"

Mr. Grimm: "Representative Sanders, to the best of my knowledge the fiscal note is in your books as it was presented to us by the Governor's Office of Financial Management. Although the information in it may not be exactly what you are looking for, or as extensive as you might prefer. My guess is that, consistent with their prior established pattern, they had either had that reviewed or initially submitted for their review by the SPI."

Mr. Sanders spoke against the motion.

The motion was carried.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1246, by Representatives Galloway, P. King and Taylor

Relating to improving excellence in education. (t.o.)

The bill was read the second time. On motion of Ms. Galloway, Substitute House Bill No. 1246 was substituted for House Bill No. 1246, and the substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

Substitute House Bill No. 1246 was read the second time.

Mr. Dickie moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, beginning on line 12 strike all of section 1 and insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. There is added to chapter 28A.04 a new section to read as follows:

The state board of education shall prepare recommended courses of study identifying scope, sequence, skills and concepts in each of the subject areas identified in the basic education act. These recommended courses of study are not to be mandated to local school districts. After completion of the original development of the recommended courses of study, the state board of education shall schedule, at least every five years, a review and updating of the recommended courses of study.

The state board of education may establish teams composed of curriculum experts and practicing teachers, with consideration to geographical location. To the extent possible, work should be done when school is not in session. Lodging, travel, subsistence expenses and incentive pay may be provided as well as substitute pay when deemed essential."

Representatives Dickie and Schmidt spoke in favor of the amendment, and Ms. Galloway spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Dickie yielded to question by Ms. Schmidt.

Ms. Schmidt: "Representative Dickie, could you explain what happened to the bill that would have done this a year ago?"

Mr. Dickie: "The thing that occurred a year ago with the bill is that it arrived in the Senate. There seems to be an odd relationship there that reaches into the Senate Education Committee and the Superintendent of Public Instruction's Office. The bill did not come out of committee. It did not come out the committee because the SPI did not want to do this. The Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction and the bill you are going to be voting on is again, going to have a handle on what the curriculum is going to be in the state of Washington. They will develop three model programs a year. They have been doing that for the last fifteen years. We do not have a course of study. What I am saying to you is that we do not have an identifiable course of study in the state of Washington. It's time that we had one. Your schools would not be challenged as they are being challenged in the press today if that had not happened a year ago. We would not need this amendment. It was the politics of the moment, and I hope we don't get caught in the politics of the moment again today and forget that the important thing is what happens in our schools."

Mr. Schoon spoke in favor of the amendment.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Representative Dickie to Substitute House Bill No. 1246, and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 51; excused, 0.

SECOND READING

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 37, by Representatives D. Nelson, Kreidler, Belcher, Allen, Niemi, Miller, Pruitt, Lux, Locke, Lewis, Dellwo, Wang, Ellis and Jacobsen

Requesting the United States grant safe haven status to refugees from El Salvador and Guatemala.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. D. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. Van Dyken.

Mr. Van Dyken: "Representative Nelson, you indicated a list of a number of nations whose refugees have been granted this status since 1960. I believe you said. Can you tell me if that status currently exists for refugees from Nicaragua?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "I am not positive, but I believe that it does, yes."

Mr. Van Dyken: "Do you know whether or not such a policy applies to Lebanese?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "Again, I cannot tell you with certainty whether or not it does at this time."

Mr. Van Dyken: "Cambodia, Iran or Iraq?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "I know that in some of the cases you mentioned, it has been granted. I don't know whether or not it's still an open policy. I believe it is for Nicaragua."

Mr. Van Dyken: "Can you tell me with neighboring countries, Nicaragua, Guatemala, El Salvador, why your concern is strictly on these countries and not Nicaragua?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "Because they are here. There are a number, a substantial number of Guatemalans, El Salvadorians, who have fled their homeland and are seeking sanctuary or have found it in the state of Washington and all across the United States."

Mr. Van Dyken: "Why is Nicaragua not looked at in this memorial?"

Mr. D. Nelson: "I believe that the status was granted when there was a civil war in Nicaragua and people fled at that time. They were granted status at that time because status was needed. It is not needed now. There isn't the demand. There are not Nicaraguans, that I know of, who have fled recently from their country and who are seeking this status and are in the state of Washington."

Mr. Van Dyken spoke in favor of the memorial, and Representatives Padden, Van Luven and Bond spoke against it.

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, you have just referred Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill 4423 to the Committee on Agriculture. My point of parliamentary inquiry is under what rules is the committee to consider that bill?"

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, at this point that is not pertinent to the fourth order of business, introduction of bills. Your point is not appropriate."

Mr. Barrett: "I would remind the Speaker that in the conduct of committee business, we are at a loss to know whether or not the rules of the House are in effect on a committee. As we relate to a committee action, the members of the body are at a loss to know under what rules we function within that committee."

The Speaker: "Perhaps in your spare moments you could read Rule 25 of the Rules of the House, beginning on page 21 and read those over. That has to do with the House committee duties, responsibilities, etc."

Mr. Barrett: "I have read that portion of the rules and my interpretation and the interpretation I have been given is that the rules of the House govern the conduct of the committee. Is that a correct interpretation?"

The Speaker: "Representative Barrett, there are many interpretations of what the rules are and which will apply and which won't. It has been the custom of the Speaker to rule as each case comes before us. Since there is no case specifically before us, a judgment or question of interpretation of any particular rule, we just try to do it on a case-by-case basis."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Haugen: "Representative Grimm, in my community we are having a little problem with our water. We have a lot of people who have lived there for a long time and we have people who are moving there, and as a result, people who have lived there a long time are finding their wells have become very high in silt content and it's becoming a real problem where our water is going to be no good. I was just wondering, with this sort of thinking, do you suppose that next year the people from the 10th District could introduce a bill that would allow us to blow up our bridges to keep the pollutants out? The people who are polluting are the people who come."

Mr. Grimm: "Although resorting to the destruction of bridges may be too drastic an action, Representative Haugen, I happen to agree with the lady from the 33rd District, that in order to protect water quality, if there is action to be taken in order to give the local governmental jurisdiction the authority to decide whether or not that water quality should be protected and what, if any, restrictions should be applied in order to maintain that water quality, I would support you. I would have supported you six years ago when I was a legislator here for the first time, and I will support you as long as I am a legislator here. I happen to think it's a prudent course of action."

Mr. Barrett spoke against passage of the bill.

Mr. Heck demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Isaacson spoke in favor of the amendment, and Mr. D. Nelson spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. D. Nelson yielded to question by Mr. Isaacson.

Mr. Isaacson: "Representative Nelson, if there is a requirement with a time line on it that would require the legislature to approve a site selection process and if that was not done in a timely manner, and the Department of Energy would make a site selection without the express approval of the legislature, what would be the effect of that with respect to the right of the legislature to respond to the ability to either approve or disapprove a site selection? This is the site selection process portion of the bill."

Mr. D. Nelson: "Representative Isaacson, the legislature could move to take its position on the site selection or it could choose not to. The bill leaves it to the political process as does the amendment because the amendment says 'are authorized to;' it doesn't say they 'must.' Obviously, we can't bind the legislature. My preference is for the general language that allows flexibility when that decision, several years in the future, arises."

Business for 4:59 p.m. this evening was to consider House Bill No. 1511, which would only be considered on the sixth order of business. It does not give the privilege of advancing a measure from the sixth order to the seventh order for a vote. I think it's in direct violation of our House Concurrent Resolution No. 32, lines 21 through 26, as well as our own House Rule 28 dealing with the advancement of a measure."

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. HECK PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. Heck presiding): "Representative Nelson, the Speaker rules that the Special Order of Business pertaining to action on House Bill 1511 includes not only the amendatory process, but also reconsideration and any action relating to that bill. Your point is not well taken."

POINT OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Barrett: "Mr. Speaker, Rule 28, which within it contains a reference to HCR 32, says that for the three days preceding the cutoff which is 5 p.m. on this date, that the rules shall require only that a majority is needed to bump a measure. My inquiry, Mr. Speaker, is now that we have finished those three days, ending at 5 p.m. on this date, are we not now in a position of needing a normal super majority to bump a measure?"

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. HECK PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. Heck presiding): "Representative Barrett, the answer to your question is that as soon as action is completed on this measure pending before the body, that we will, indeed, revert to the super majority requirement."

MOTION

Mr. Barrett moved that the rules be suspended to allow immediate consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4678.

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

Mr. O'Brien: "Representative Barrett, it appears to the Speaker that the proper phraseology of your motion would be to move to suspend the rules, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4678 be advanced to second reading and read the second time in full. Do you want to put the bill into consideration?"

With the consent of the House, Mr. Barrett withdrew the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. Barrett: "I want to call to the attention of the body that this measure appears to be before us in violation of our Rule 32. Rule 32, as adopted by the House and the Senate, indicates that after the thirtieth day only bills related to revenue and the supplemental budget and the unemployment insurance bill would still be eligible to be considered. Yesterday the Senate, on the 31st day, passed Engrossed Senate Bill 4678, which certainly does not fit under the category of being the supplemental budget or the unemployment insurance bill or a bill relating to revenue. We raise the point of order, Mr. Speaker, on the basis that our rules do not allow us to keep passing bills that are outside the scope of the rule that we and the Senate passed. We would ask that you rule this out of order unless the subject of this particular bill, redefining the site at which a retail sale occurs and appears only in the counties with unequal sales tax assessment, would perhaps relate to revenue if a change is being made in that particular existing law. Otherwise, there seems to be no reason that the Senate could find that this bill was within the scope of the resolution passed by both the House and the Senate."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Heck, further consideration of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 4678 was deferred and the bill was ordered held for the fourth order of business on the next working day.

Mr. Kreidler spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Kreidler yielded to question by Mr. Schoon.

Mr. Schoon: "Representative Kreidler, the short amendment eliminates the fee schedule for fifty-eight occupations. I didn't quite get the explanation, but are all of those fee schedules covered somewhere else in statute?"

Mr. Kreidler: "Yes, they are covered elsewhere. It's covered in House Bill 359 which we passed last year. It had the provisions in there that health care professions will be able to set their own rates as to what will be necessary to fund their particular board. It won't be specified in statute, as has previously been the case, so that we were constantly dealing with updates and saying that they needed to raise $5, $10, $15 more for a licensing fee in order to pay for the operation of their board. Now we have an act that allows this to be done as needed in conjunction with the Department of Licensing simply to allow occupational therapists to come under these same provisions."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

I wish the record to show that I voted 'Yes' on Substitute House Bill No. 1118 and Substitute House Bill No. 1309.

RICHARD M. "DICK" BOND, 6th District.

The Speaker called on Mr. Charnley to preside.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1362, by Representatives Stratton, B. Williams, Egger, Mitchell, Halsan, Dellwo, Barrett and Silver

Revising recreational food fish and shellfish licenses.

The bill was read the second time. On motion of Ms. Stratton, Substitute House Bill No. 1362 was substituted for House Bill No. 1362 and the substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

Substitute House Bill No. 1362 was read the second time.

Mr. McMullen moved adoption of the following amendments:

On page 1, line 23 strike "and shellfish, other than razor clams,"

26 On page 1, beginning on line 24 after "waters." strike all material through "state." on line

On page 2, beginning on line 4 after "fish" strike "and shellfish"

On page 4, line 23 strike "or shellfish"

On page 4, line 32 after "possess" strike "~~(razor clams)~~ shellfish" and insert "razor clams"

Mr. McMullen spoke in favor of the amendments, and Ms. Stratton spoke against them.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Stratton yielded to question by Mr. Addison.

Mr. Addison: "Representative Stratton, I miss being on the Natural Resources Committee, and I am just wondering--for instance, in my district we have some beaches and there are some butter clams down there, and that sort of thing--if this license is put into effect how are we going to be impacted positively? What is the state going to do for our beaches?"

Ms. Stratton: "There will be an amendment following this that is going to attempt to dedicate the funds. If you really want to talk about it, anything we put into the general fund is going to go eventually into fisheries when they come to us with a budget. At the present time, revenue into the Department of Fisheries constitutes twenty-one percent of the total budget. You and I and the taxpayers all across this state are subsidizing the balance of that budget. I believe that it's quite clear that when they come to us with a budget, if the money is there it will go into it."

Representatives Addison, Vander Stoep, Zellinsky, Halsan and Isaacson spoke in favor of the amendments, and Representatives Haugen, Silver, Dellwo, West, Braddock, Egger, D. Nelson and Lux spoke against them.

Ms. Stratton again opposed the amendments, and Mr. McMullen spoke again in favor of them.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. Isaacson yielded to question by Mr. J. Williams.

Mr. J. Williams: "Representative Isaacson, would you tell me what you mean by 'freshwaters' and would you describe freshwater as between high and low tides where rivers enter the Sound?"

Mr. Isaacson: "Again, the salinity of the water determines whether it's freshwater or saltwater. As an example, if you were in the Columbia River Estuary, you certainly could tell where the saltwater had inserted into that estuary in that it would be saline. If you were in the Chehalis River in Grays Harbor, you would know again by the salinity whether you were in freshwater or saltwater, and also by the species present. The saltwater species do not grow in freshwater and conversely the freshwater species do not necessarily grow in saltwater. It's identifying the difference between those two environments by the nature and quality of that water."

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. B. Williams: "Today we pause briefly to remember Abraham Lincoln, a giant among men who walked tall in our nation's history. He was possessed with the finest attributes and we pray that we may be filled with these attributes of faith, courage, wisdom, justice and compassion.

"Eight score and fifteen years ago a great American president was born. As we pause today to reflect upon Abraham Lincoln's birthday, we remember a man who was born in a Kentucky log cabin. Success came late and death came early to Lincoln.

"Almost from birth Lincoln appeared likely to wind up as an also-ran in life's race. He was poor and he had little formal schooling. He failed in business at the age of twenty-two. He was defeated for the State Legislature at age twenty-three; failed again in business at age twenty-five; had another strike-down at age thirty-two. He failed to receive his party's nomination for Congress at age thirty-four. He ran for the Senate and he lost at age forty-six. He was defeated for the Vice President nomination at age forty-seven; defeated for the Senate again at age forty-nine. A hopeless loser, many people said, yet Abraham Lincoln was elected as President of the United States at age fifty-one. He knew how to accept defeat temporarily.

"Lincoln is remembered not only for his record as President, but also for two immortal speeches which he gave: The Gettysburg Address and his second inaugural address.

"At Gettysburg Lincoln expressed a new moral concept between the victors and the vanquished. He expressed an ideal that was to make it possible to resolve the hate and heal the wounds of a nation torn by one of the most bloody wars of all times. We could certainly use his wisdom in these chambers today.

"As Lincoln stated in his speech--and changed a little for today's setting--"The world will little know or long remember what we say here, but the people of this state will be drastically affected by our actions." We need to dedicate ourselves to the great tasks remaining before us, that from the honored memory of our dead president, we take increased devotion to that cause to which he gave his full measure of devotion, that those ideals expressed at Gettysburg in 1863 today are as useful and vital as they were in 1863. I am firmly convinced that they will continue to have vitality as long as men and women remain determined that government of the people, by the people and for the people will not perish from the earth.

"If a few words are changed in Lincoln's second inaugural address, it would sound as though he were speaking to this session of the legislature. Neither party expected to face economic crisis, to be of this magnitude or duration, which it has already obtained. Each party looked for an earlier triumph and a result less fundamental and Astounding.

"Both parties read the same Bible, pray to the same God and each invoke His aid against the other. It may seem strange that any man could dare to ask a just God's assistance in wringing their rag from the sweat of other men's faces, but let us judge not that we be judged. The prayer of both parties is not the answer. Finally, with malice toward none, with charity to all, we'll turn this into right and God gives us the wisdom to see the right; let us finish the work we are in to bind up the state's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and to do all we may to achieve and cherish a just and lasting economic recovery for the citizens of the State of Washington."

ESB 3437 Prime Sponsor, Senator Talmadge: Modifying provisions relating to malicious prosecution. Reported by Committee on Judiciary

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:
Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that a growing number of unfounded lawsuits, claims, and liens are filed against law enforcement officers, prosecuting authorities, and judges, and against their property, having the purpose and effect of deterring those officers in the exercise of their discretion and inhibiting the performance of their public duties.

The legislature also finds that the cost of defending against such unfounded suits, claims and liens is severely burdensome to such officers, and also to the state and the various cities and counties of the state. The purpose of section 2 of this 1984 act is to provide a remedy to those public officers and to the public.

Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 158, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 4.24.350 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In any action for damages, whether based on tort or contract or otherwise, a claim or counterclaim for damages may be litigated in the principal action for malicious prosecution on the ground that the action was instituted with knowledge that the same was false, and unfounded, malicious and without probable cause in the filing of such action, or that the same was filed as a part of a conspiracy to misuse judicial process by filing an action known to be false and unfounded.

(2) In any action, claim, or counterclaim brought by a judicial officer, prosecuting authority, or law enforcement officer for malicious prosecution arising out of the performance or purported performance of the public duty of such officer, an arrest or seizure of property need not be an element of the claim, nor do special damages need to be proved. A judicial officer, prosecuting authority, or law enforcement officer prevailing in such an action may be allowed an amount up to one thousand dollars as liquidated damages, together with a reasonable attorneys' fee, and other costs of suit. A government entity which has provided legal services to the prevailing judicial officer, prosecuting authority, or law enforcement officer has reimbursement rights to any award for reasonable attorneys' fees and other costs, but shall have no such rights to any liquidated damages allowed.

(3) No action may be brought against an attorney under this section solely because of that attorney's representation of a party in a lawsuit.

(4) As used in this section:

(a) 'Judicial officer' means a justice, judge, magistrate, or other judicial officer of the state or a city, town, or county.

(b) 'Prosecuting authority' means any officer or employee of the state or a city, town, or county who is authorized by law to initiate a criminal or civil proceeding on behalf of the public.

(c) 'Law enforcement officer' means a member of the state patrol, a sheriff or deputy sheriff, or a member of the police force of a city, town, university, or state college, or a 'wildlife agent' or 'ex officio wildlife agent' as defined in RCW 77.08.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The provisions of section 2 of this 1984 act are remedial and shall be liberally construed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

Sec. 3, Section 6, chapter 53, Laws of 1899 as amended by section 3, chapter 329, Laws of 1981 and RCW 6.24.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the return of any sale of real estate as aforesaid, the clerk shall enter the cause, on which the execution or order of sale issued, by its title, on the motion docket, and mark opposite the same: 'Sale of land for confirmation'; notice of the filing of the return of sale shall be mailed by the clerk to all parties (appearing) who have entered a written notice of appearance in the action and who have not had an order of default entered against them and proof of such mailing shall be filed in the action; and the following proceedings shall be had:

(1) The judgment creditor or successful purchaser at the sheriff's sale at any time after twenty days have elapsed from the mailing of the notice of the filing of such return shall be entitled, on motion with notice given to all parties (appearing) who have entered a written notice of appearance in the action and who have not had an order of default entered against them, to have an order confirming the sale, unless the judgment debtor, or in case of his death, his representative, shall file with the clerk within twenty days after the mailing of the notice of the filing of such return, his objections thereto.

(2) If such objections be filed the court shall, notwithstanding, allow the order confirming the sale, unless on the hearing of the motion, it shall satisfactorily appear that there were substantial irregularities in the proceedings concerning the sale, to the probable loss or injury of the party objecting. In the latter case, the court shall disallow the motion and direct that the property be resold, in whole or in part, as the case may be as upon an execution received of that date.

(3) Upon the return of the execution, the sheriff shall pay the proceeds of sale to the clerk, who shall then apply the same, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in satisfaction of the judgment including interest as provided in the judgment. If an order of resale be afterwards made, and the property sell for a greater amount to any person other than the former purchaser, the clerk shall first repay to such purchaser the amount of his bid out of the proceeds of the latter sale together with interest as is provided in the judgment.

(4) Upon a resale, the bid of the purchaser at the former sale shall be deemed to be renewed and continue in force, and no bid shall be taken, except for a greater amount. An order confirming a sale shall be a conclusive determination of the regularity of the proceedings concerning such sale as to all persons in any other action, suit or proceeding whatever.

(5) If, after the satisfaction of the judgment, there be any proceeds of the sale remaining, the clerk shall pay such proceeds to the judgment debtor, or his representative, as the case may be, at any time before the order is made upon the motion to confirm the sale: PROVIDED, Such party file with the clerk a waiver of all objections made or to be made to the proceedings concerning the sale; but if the sale be confirmed, such proceeds shall be paid to said party of course; otherwise they shall remain in the custody of the clerk until the sale of the property has been disposed of.

Sec. 4. Section 8, chapter 53, Laws of 1899 as last amended by section 4, chapter 80, Laws of 1965 and RCW 6.24.140 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless redemption rights have been precluded pursuant to RCW 61.12.093 et seq., the judgment debtor or his successor in interest, or any redemptioner, may redeem the property at any time within one year after the sale, on paying the amount of the bid, with interest thereon at the rate (of eight percent per annum) provided in the judgment to the time of redemption, together with the amount of any assessment or taxes which the purchaser or his successor in interest may have paid thereon after purchase, and like interest on such amount together with any sum paid on a prior lien or obligation secured by an interest in the property to the extent the payment was necessary for the protection of the interest of the judgment debtor, the judgment debtor's successor in interest, or a redemptioner which the purchaser or the purchaser's successor in interest may have paid thereon with interest upon every payment made by the purchaser or the purchaser's successor in interest at the rate provided in the judgment from the date of payment thereof to the time of redemption; and if the purchaser be also a creditor having a lien, by judgment, decree or mortgage, prior to that of the redemptioner, other than the judgment under which such purchase was made, the amount of such lien with interest: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That whenever there is an execution sale of property pursuant to judgment and decree of foreclosure of any mortgage executed after June 30, 1961, which mortgage declares in its terms that the mortgaged property is not used principally for agricultural or farming purposes, and in which complaint the judgment creditor has expressly waived any right to a deficiency judgment, the period of redemption shall be eight months after the said sale.

Sec. 5. Section 6, chapter 329, Laws of 1981 and RCW 6.24.145 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(Every two months during the redemption period provided by RCW 6.24.140, the purchaser or his assignee shall send by certified mail, return receipt requested, and by first class mail to the judgment debtor or his successor in interest a notice advising the judgment debtor that the redemption period is expiring, how many months have expired, and how many months remain. The notice shall also state the amount for which the property may be redeemed and shall advise the judgment debtor that if the property is not redeemed he will face eviction at the end of the redemption period. The notice shall be sent to the judgment debtor at the judgment debtor's last known address and, if different, the property address. The notice shall be sent between the first day and tenth day of the second calendar month after the calendar month of the sale and the equivalent days of each succeeding second calendar~~

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 140 AS AMENDED BY THE HOUSE, by Committee on Ways & Means (originally sponsored by Senators Wojahn, Talmadge, McDermott, Woody and Fleming)

Establishing the special legislative comparable worth settlement team.

The resolution was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Ms. Hine spoke in favor of the resolution, and Mr. Patrick spoke against it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Ms. Hine yielded to question by Ms. Schmidt.

Ms. Schmidt: "Representative Hine, if we adopt Substitute Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 140, is it your understanding that the Legislature is taking a position supporting a settlement rather than an appeal?"

Ms. Hine: "Representative Schmidt, the resolution calls for getting together to pursue the possibility of a settlement. In no way does it make a statement saying whether or not settlement, appeal, either or both are the direction of the resolution."

Ms. Schmidt: "So, in fact, it is not our intent to get into this process of the Attorney General deciding whether or not it is in our best interest to come up with a settlement or in our best interest to appeal this decision?"

Ms. Hine: "It certainly is the intent of the resolution that we have a part in making that decision, and that this group of people sit down and discuss all those potentials. That is the thrust of it, that the Legislature not be left out and that we should, in good faith, get together to see whether or not it is in our best interest to negotiate."

Ms. Schmidt: "Then may I ask, jurisdictionally, how we have that right to step in where the Attorney General clearly is the one who has that responsibility?"

Ms. Hine: "If you will note, the suit is against the State of Washington. The State of Washington includes the Governor, the Attorney General and the Legislature. We would be abrogating our duty if we did not step in and at least participate in the discussion of what is in the best interest of the people of the State of Washington."

Representatives Schmidt, Isaacson, Padden and B. Williams spoke against the resolution, and Representatives Allen, Miller and Armstrong spoke in favor of it.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. B. Williams yielded to question by Mr. Tilly.

Mr. Tilly: "Representative Williams, would it be possible for you to inform me what the present contributions are by the people who are eligible for the current judicial retirement system? What are their benefits now and how many years? Also I need to know what the contributions would be under PERS II and what the benefits would be on the retirement using ten years as a basis for service."

Mr. B. Williams: "Representative Tilly, the essential summary is currently the judges contribute seven and one-half percent which is tax-exempt from their contributions as opposed to the six percent they would have under PERS II. The significant difference is that judges receive a three percent automatic cost-of-living increase per year and PERS receive none. The judges must have ten years and they have an early retirement twelve years. The judges, in addition, rather than the last two years final salary base, or the last five years, as PERS II would have, their salary base is determined as of their salary on the last day on the job provided they served in that position for a one-year period. The example as shown to the Ways & Means Committee showed a rather significant difference between the judges' retirement system and PERS II."

Representatives Tilly and Struthers spoke in favor of the amendment, and Representatives Monohon and Taylor spoke against it.

The amendment was not adopted.

Committee on Ways & Means recommendation: Majority, do pass as amended. (For committee amendments, see Journal, 38th Day, February 15, 1984.)

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. B. Williams: "Mr. Speaker, the proposed committee amendment is in violation of House Rule 12(E), in that this amendment changes the scope and object of the bill."

SPEAKER'S RULING (MR. O'BRIEN PRESIDING)

The Speaker (Mr. O'Brien presiding): "Representative Williams, the Speaker is going to rule that your point is not well taken. The amendment pertains to the date of the act and the emergency portion of it."

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION, Sec. 1. Any mineral interest, if unused for a period of twenty years, may be extinguished by the surface owner as set forth in sections 5 and 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 2. A mineral interest means the interest which is created by an instrument transferring, either by grant, assignment, or reservation, or otherwise an interest, of any kind, in any subsurface mineral.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 3. A mineral interest is used if:

(1) Any minerals produced have been in connection with the mineral interest;
 (2) Operations for injection, withdrawal, storage or disposal of water, gas, or other fluid substances have been conducted in connection with the mineral interest;

(3) Rents or royalties have been paid for the purpose of delaying or enjoying the use or exercise of the mineral interest;

(4) The use or the exercise of the mineral interest has been carried out on any tract with which the mineral interest may be unitized or pooled for production purposes;

(5) In the case of coal or other solid minerals, minerals have been produced from a common vein or seam;

(6) Taxes have been paid on such mineral interest;

(7) Any use pursuant to or authorized by the instrument creating such mineral interest has been taken;

(8) A sale, lease, mortgage, or other transfer of the mineral interest has been recorded in the county auditor's office in the county in which the land affected by the mineral interest is located prior to the end of the twenty-year period set forth in section 1 of this act or within two years after the effective date of this act, whichever is later; or

(9) A statement of claim has been filed by the owner of the mineral interest in the manner set forth in section 4 or 6 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 4. The statement of claim referred to in section 3(9) of this act shall be filed by the current owner of the mineral interest prior to the end of the twenty-year period set forth in section 1 of this act or within two years after the effective date of this act, whichever is later. The statement of claim shall contain the name and address of the current owner of such interest, and the name of the original holder of the mineral interest substantially as that name is shown on the instrument that originally created the mineral interest and shall be accompanied by payment of the fees provided in RCW 36.18.010.

The statement of claim shall be filed in the county auditor's office in the county in which such land affected by the mineral interest is located.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 5. (1) After the later of the expiration of the twenty-year period set forth in section 1 of this act or two years after the effective date of this act, the surface owner may extinguish the mineral interest held by another person and acquire ownership of that interest by providing sixty days notice of intention to file a claim of abandonment and extinguishment of the mineral interest upon the current mineral interest owner. Notice shall be served by personal service or by mailing the notice by registered mail to the last known address of the current mineral interest owner. The county treasurer shall supply the name and address of the current mineral interest owner as they appear on the county property tax records to the surface owner without charge. If the current mineral interest owner is unknown to the county treasurer, and the current mineral interest owner cannot be determined after due diligence, the surface owner may serve the notice upon the current mineral interest owner by publishing the notice at least once each week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the property interest is located, and if there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjoining county, and if there is no such newspaper in an adjoining county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published at the capital of the state.

(2) The notice of intention to file a claim of abandonment and extinguishment shall contain:

(a) The name and address, if known, of the holder of the mineral interest, as shown of record;

(b) A reference to the instrument originally creating the mineral interest, including where it is recorded;

(c) A description of the lands affected by the mineral interest;

(d) The name and address of the person giving notice;

(e) The date of the first publication of the notice if notice is by publication; and

(f) A statement that a claim of abandonment and extinguishment of the mineral interest will be filed upon the expiration of a period of sixty days after the date of the last publication or the date service was perfected by personal service or registered mail on the current mineral interest owner, unless the current mineral interest owner files a statement of claim of mineral interest in the form prescribed in section 4 of this act.

(3) A copy of the notice of intention to file a claim of abandonment and extinguishment and an affidavit of publication shall be submitted to the county auditor within fifteen days after the date of the last publication or the date service was perfected by personal service or registered mail on the current mineral interest owner.

(4) The affidavit of publication shall contain either:

(a) A statement that a copy of the notice has been personally served upon or mailed to the owner of the current mineral interest and the address to which it was mailed; or

(b) If a copy of the notice was not mailed, a detailed description, including dates, of the efforts made to determine with due diligence the address of the current owner of the mineral interest.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. Upon payment of fees provided in RCW 36.18.010, and if the surface owner files the claim of abandonment and extinguishment, together with a copy of the notice and the affidavit of publication, as required in section 5 of this act, in the county auditor's office for the county where such interest is located then the mineral interest shall be conclusively presumed to be extinguished.

If a statement of claim of mineral interest is filed by the current mineral interest owner within the sixty-day period provided in section 5 of this act, together with payment of fees provided in RCW 36.18.010, the county auditor shall record, index, and make special notation in the index of the filing.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. Upon receipt, the county auditor shall record a statement of claim or a notice and affidavit of publication in the dormant mineral interest index. When possible, the auditor shall also indicate by marginal notation on the instrument originally creating the mineral interest the recording of the statement of claim or notice and affidavit of publication. The county auditor shall record a statement of claim by cross-referencing in the dormant mineral interest index the name of the current owner of the mineral interest and the name of the original holder of the mineral interest as set out in the statement of claim.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. Mineral interests retained or owned by any public entity or mineral interests resulting from land exchanges between public and private owners shall not be subject to a claim of abandonment and extinguishment.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 9. The provisions of this chapter may not be waived at any time prior to the expiration of the twenty-year period under section 1 of this act.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 10. Sections 1 through 9 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 78 RCW."

Mr. Halsan moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Halsan and Tilly:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that two separate systems are used in the taxation of forest land and the timber and forest crops grown thereon. Less than eight percent of private forest land is taxed under the system enacted in 1931; over ninety-two percent is taxed under the 1971 law. The policies established under RCW 84.28.005 in 1931 and RCW 84.33.010 in 1971 will be carried out more efficiently and equitably under a single uniform taxing system. It is the purpose of sections 2 through 6 of this act to phase out the system enacted in 1931 for taxation of forest land and forest crops and to integrate the taxation of that land and forest crops into the tax system enacted in 1971.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The classification of land as reforestation land under this chapter is terminated, effective July 1, 1984. Effective July 1, 1984, this land shall be classified forest land under chapter 84.33 RCW and this land and the timber standing thereon shall be subject to all provisions of chapter 84.33 RCW: PROVIDED, That for timber harvested from these reclassified reforestation lands for the period July 1, 1984, through December 1, 1984, the tax shall be paid prior to January 31, 1985, and such tax revenue shall be distributed to the state and local taxing districts in the same manner as if the timber were harvested after October 1, 1984.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

As used in this chapter, 'reclassified reforestation land' means land for which the classification has terminated under section 2 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The county assessor of a county in which there are reclassified reforestation lands shall notify each owner of record of reclassified reforestation land of the reclassification prior to August 1, 1984. If the owner desires to remove any such land from classification as reclassified reforestation land, the owner shall file an application for removal from classification of the land by legal description prior to October 1, 1984. The application for declassification shall be accompanied by a payment equal to six percent of the stumpage value of any commercial timber standing on the land as of July 1, 1984. The assessor shall accept the request for removal from classification but may ask for an appraisal of the standing timber certified by an experienced timber cruiser before final acceptance of the payment due. Upon final approval and payment of the proper amount, the assessor shall assess the land at its value for highest and best use as of January 1, 1985.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

In preparing the assessment rolls as of January 1, 1985, for taxes payable in 1986, the assessor shall list, prior to May 31, 1985, each parcel of reclassified reforestation land at the values set in accordance with RCW 84.33.120. For the purpose of calculating the limitation on tax levies under chapter 84.55 RCW, the increase in assessed valuation of reclassified reforestation land entered on the tax rolls as of January 1, 1985, shall be treated the same as increases resulting from new construction. Reclassified reforestation land shall be considered to have been designated or classified forest land for a period in excess of ten years for purposes of calculating any compensating tax which may become payable under RCW 84.33.140.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 84.28 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) There shall be paid by each owner of reclassified reforestation lands, in addition to the excise tax imposed under RCW 84.33.071, in respect to timber harvested from these lands, the following amounts:

- (a) For timber harvested in 1985, three percent of the stumpage value;
- (b) For timber harvested in 1986, two percent of the stumpage value; and
- (c) For timber harvested in 1987, one percent of the stumpage value.

(2) The taxes payable under this section shall be paid to the county treasurer of the county in which the timber is harvested on or before March 15 of the year following the harvest. The county treasurer shall distribute these receipts to local taxing districts in the same manner as the distributions of tax receipts under chapter 84.33 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 84.33 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of computing the apportionment of timber tax revenues to the taxing districts of the timber counties and to the state general fund for the support of the common schools in 1985 and subsequent years there shall be added to the timber roll established by RCW 84.33.050 for each acre of reclassified reforestation land, as defined in section 3 of this act, an amount per acre equal to the average timber roll value per acre of all land classified as forest land under this chapter and such amount shall be apportioned equally to each acre of reforestation land reclassified under this chapter by section 2 of this act.

(2) For the purpose of computing the apportionment of timber tax revenues under RCW 84.33.080(5) to the taxing districts of the timber counties and to the state general fund for the support of the common schools in 1985 and subsequent years, there shall be included in the computation of the harvest factor an amount equal to the average of the aggregate value of all forest products harvested from reforestation lands classified under chapter 84.28 RCW in each of the immediately preceding five years as determined from the yield tax returns filed with the county in which such forest crops were harvested. The respective county official maintaining the records of the value of such forest crops harvested shall certify to the department of revenue the information necessary for the purposes of this section.

(3) The distribution of moneys from timber tax account A and the timber tax reserve account as limited by RCW 84.33.080(4) shall be increased from the limit otherwise calculated for the year 1985 by seven and one-half percent to compensate for the addition of the reclassified reforestation lands to taxation under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The department of revenue shall audit the records of each county in which there are forest lands classified under chapter 84.28 RCW for the purpose of determining compliance with chapter 84.28 RCW in respect to the collection of yield taxes on timber harvested and the disposition of such moneys for the period 1980 through 1984. The department of revenue shall advise the state treasurer of any underpayment or overpayment of moneys due the state and may enter into an agreement with the county treasurer relieving the county of any further liability under chapter 84.28 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Nothing in sections 2 through 6 of this act excuses or discharges any person from the yield tax imposed by RCW 84.28.110 with respect to timber harvested from reforestation lands prior to July 1, 1984."

Mr. Halsan spoke in favor of the amendment, and Representatives Sommers and Sayan spoke against it.

SSB 4419 Prime Sponsor, Committee on Agriculture: Updating milk and milk product testing laws. Reported by Committee on Agriculture

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. There is added to chapter 15.36 RCW a new section to read as follows:

(1) If the results of an antibiotic or pesticide residue test are above the actionable level as determined by procedures set forth in the current edition of 'Standard Methods for the Examination of Dairy Products,' a producer holding a grade A permit is subject to a civil penalty. The penalty shall be in an amount equal to one-half the value of the sum of the volumes of milk equivalent produced under the permit on the day prior to and the day of the adulteration. The value of the milk shall be computed by the weighted average price for the federal market order under which the milk is delivered.

(2) The penalty is imposed by the department giving a written notice which is either personally served upon or transmitted by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person incurring the penalty. The notice of the civil penalty shall be a final order of the department unless, within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty appeals the penalty by filing a notice of appeal with the department. If a notice of appeal is filed in a timely manner, a contested case hearing shall be conducted on behalf of the department by the office of administrative hearings in accordance with chapters 34.04 and 34.12 RCW and, to the extent they are not inconsistent with this subsection, the provisions of RCW 15.36.580. At the conclusion of the hearing, the department shall determine whether the penalty should be affirmed, reduced, or not imposed and shall issue a final order setting forth the civil penalty assessed, if any. The order may be appealed to superior court in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW. Tests performed for antibiotic or pesticide residues by a state or certified industry laboratory of a milk sample drawn by a department official or a licensed dairy technician shall be admitted as prima facie evidence of the presence or absence of an antibiotic or pesticide residue.

(3) Any penalty imposed under this section is due and payable upon the issuance of the final order by the department. The penalty shall be deducted by the violator's marketing organization from the violator's final payment for the month following the assessment of the penalty and final disposition of the hearing process. The department shall promptly notify the violator's marketing organization of any penalties contained in the final order.

(4) All penalties received or recovered from violations of this section shall be remitted monthly by the violator's marketing organization to the Washington state dairy products commission and deposited in a revolving fund to be used solely for the purposes of education and research. No appropriation is required for disbursements from this fund.

(5) In case of a violation of the antibiotic or pesticide residue test requirements, an investigation shall be made to determine the cause of the residue which shall be corrected. Additional samples shall be taken as soon as possible and tested as soon as feasible for antibiotic or pesticide residue by the department or a certified laboratory. After the notice has been received by the producer and the results of a test of such an additional sample indicate that residues are above the actionable level or levels referred to in subsection (1) of this section, the producer's milk may not be sold until a sample is shown to be below the actionable levels established for the residues.

Prime Sponsor, Committee on Judiciary: Establishing provisions for relief from domestic violence. Reported by Committee on Judiciary

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

*NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. This chapter may be cited as the 'Domestic Violence Prevention Act'.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, the following terms shall have the meanings given them:

(1) 'Domestic violence' means: (a) Physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the infliction of fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury or assault, between family or household members; or (b) sexual assault of one family or household member by another.

(2) 'Family or household members' means spouses, former spouses, adult persons related by blood or marriage, persons who are presently residing together, or who have resided together in the past, and persons who have a child in common regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time.

(3) 'Court' includes the superior, district, and municipal courts of the state of Washington.

(4) 'Judicial day' does not include Saturdays, Sundays, or legal holidays.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Any person may seek relief under this chapter by filing a petition with a court alleging that the person has been the victim of domestic violence committed by the respondent. The person may petition for relief on behalf of himself or herself and on behalf of minor family or household members.

(2) The courts defined in section 2(3) of this act have jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. If a proceeding under chapter 26.09, 26.12, or 26.26 RCW is commenced in a superior court before or after the filing of an action in a district or municipal court under this chapter, then the superior court shall have exclusive jurisdiction over proceedings under this chapter. Any municipal or district court order entered while that court had jurisdiction remains valid until superseded by a superior court order.

(3) An action under this chapter shall be filed in the county or the municipality where the petitioner resides, unless the petitioner has left the residence or household to avoid abuse. In that case, the petitioner may bring an action in the county or municipality of the previous or the new household or residence.

(4) A person's right to petition for relief under this chapter is not affected by the person leaving the residence or household to avoid abuse.

(5) If an action under this chapter is commenced in a district or municipal court and a petitioner or respondent contests custody or visitation rights, then, upon the motion of either party containing proof that the petition for relief under this chapter has been filed with the superior court, the district or municipal court shall dismiss the action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. There shall exist an action known as a petition for an order for protection in cases of domestic violence.

(1) A petition for relief shall allege the existence of domestic violence, and shall be accompanied by an affidavit made under oath stating the specific facts and circumstances from which relief is sought.

(2) A petition for relief may be made regardless of whether or not there is a pending lawsuit, complaint, petition, or other action between the parties.

(3) All court clerk's offices shall make available simplified forms and instructional brochures. Any assistance or information provided by clerks under this section does not constitute the practice of law and clerks are not responsible for incorrect information contained in a petition.

(4) A filing fee of twenty dollars shall be charged for proceedings under this section. Forms and instructional brochures shall be provided free of charge.

(5) A person is not required to post a bond to obtain relief in any proceeding under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Persons seeking relief under this chapter may file an application for leave to proceed in forma pauperis on forms supplied by the court. If the court determines that a petitioner lacks the funds to pay the costs of filing, the petitioner shall be granted leave to proceed in forma pauperis and no filing fee shall be charged by the court to the petitioner for relief sought under this chapter.

(2) For the purpose of determining whether a petitioner has the funds available to pay the costs of filing an action under this chapter, the income of the household or family member named as the respondent is not considered.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Upon receipt of the petition, the court shall order a hearing which shall be held not later than fourteen days from the date of the order. Personal service shall be made upon the respondent not less than five court days prior to the hearing. If timely service cannot be made, the court may set a new hearing date.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Upon notice and after hearing, the court may provide relief as follows:

(1) Restrain a party from committing acts of domestic violence;

(2) Exclude the respondent from the dwelling which the parties share or from the residence of the petitioner;

(3) On the same basis as is provided in chapter 26.09 RCW, award temporary custody and establish temporary visitation with regard to minor children of the parties, and restrain any party from interfering with the custody of the minor children;

(4) Order the respondent to participate in treatment or counseling services;

(5) Order other relief as it deems necessary for the protection of a family or household member, including orders or directives to a peace officer, as allowed under this chapter; and

(6) Require the respondent to pay the filing fee and court costs, including service fees, and to reimburse the petitioner for costs incurred in bringing the action, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

Any relief granted by the order for protection, other than a judgment for costs, shall be for a fixed period not to exceed one year.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) Where an application under this section alleges that irreparable injury could result from domestic violence if an order is not issued immediately without prior notice to the respondent, the court may grant an ex parte temporary order for protection, pending a full hearing, and grant relief as the court deems proper, including an order:

(a) Restraining any party from committing acts of domestic violence;

(b) Excluding any party from the dwelling shared or from the residence of the other until further order of the court; and

(c) Restraining any party from interfering with the other's custody of the minor children or from removing the children from the jurisdiction of the court.

(2) Irreparable injury under this section includes but is not limited to situations in which the respondent has recently threatened petitioner with bodily injury or has engaged in acts of domestic violence against the petitioner.

(3) The court shall hold an ex parte hearing in person or by telephone on the day the petition is filed or on the following judicial day.

(4) An ex parte temporary order for protection shall be effective for a fixed period not to exceed fourteen days, but may be reissued. A full hearing, as provided in this chapter, shall be set for not later than fourteen days from the issuance of the temporary order. The respondent shall be served with a copy of the ex parte order along with a copy of the petition and notice of the date set for the hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. When an order is issued under this chapter upon request of the petitioner, the court may order a peace officer to accompany the petitioner and assist in placing the petitioner in possession of the dwelling or residence, or otherwise assist in the execution of the order of protection. Orders issued under this chapter shall include a designation of the appropriate law enforcement agency to execute, serve, or enforce the order.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) An order issued under this chapter shall be personally served upon the respondent, except as provided in subsection (6) of this section.

(2) The sheriff of the county or the peace officers of the municipality in which the respondent resides shall serve the respondent personally unless the petitioner elects to have the respondent served by a private party.

(3) If service by a sheriff or municipal peace officer is to be used, the clerk of the court shall have a copy of any order issued under this chapter forwarded on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order for service upon the respondent. Service of an order issued under this chapter shall take precedence over the service of other documents unless they are of a similar emergency nature.

(4) If the sheriff or municipal peace officer cannot complete service upon the respondent within ten days, the sheriff or municipal peace officer shall notify the petitioner. The petitioner shall provide information sufficient to permit notification.

(5) Returns of service under this chapter shall be made in accordance with the applicable court rules.

(6) If an order entered by the court recites that the respondent appeared in person before the court, the necessity for further service is waived and proof of service of that order is not necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A copy of an order for protection granted under this chapter shall be forwarded by the clerk of the court on or before the next judicial day to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the order.

Upon receipt of the order, the law enforcement agency shall forthwith enter the order for one year into any computer-based criminal intelligence information system available in this state used by law enforcement agencies to list outstanding warrants. Entry into the law enforcement information system constitutes notice to all law enforcement agencies of the existence of the order. The order is fully enforceable in any county in the state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) Whenever an order for protection is granted under this chapter and the respondent or person to be restrained knows of the order, a violation of the restraint provisions or of a provision excluding the person from a residence is a misdemeanor.

(2) A peace officer shall arrest without a warrant and take into custody a person whom the peace officer has probable cause to believe has violated an order issued under this chapter that restrains the person or excludes the person from a residence, if the person restrained knows of the order.

(3) A violation of an order for protection shall also constitute contempt of court, and is subject to the penalties prescribed by law.

(4) Upon the filing of an affidavit by the petitioner or any peace officer alleging that the respondent has violated an order for protection granted under this chapter, the court may issue an order to the respondent, requiring the respondent to appear and show cause within fourteen days why the respondent should not be found in contempt of court and punished accordingly. The hearing may be held in the court of any county or municipality in which the petitioner or respondent temporarily or permanently resides at the time of the alleged violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. When a party alleging a violation of an order for protection issued under this chapter states that the party is unable to afford private counsel and asks the prosecuting attorney for the county or the attorney for the municipality in which the order was issued for assistance, the attorney shall initiate and prosecute a contempt proceeding if there is probable cause to believe that the violation occurred. In this action, the court may require the violator of the order to pay the costs incurred in bringing the action, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. Upon application with notice to all parties and after a hearing, the court may modify the terms of an existing order for protection. In any situation where an order is terminated or modified before its expiration date, the clerk of the court shall forward on or before the next judicial day a true copy of the modified order or the termination order to the appropriate law enforcement agency specified in the modified or termination order. Upon receipt of the order, the law enforcement agency shall promptly enter it in the law enforcement information system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. Nothing in this act may affect the title to real estate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. Any proceeding under this act is in addition to other civil or criminal remedies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. No peace officer may be held criminally or civilly liable for making an arrest under section 12 of this act if the police officer acts in good faith and without malice.
