For state partisan offices in any political subdivision voted on solely by electors of a single county, an individual shall be appointed to fill such vacancy by the county central committee in the case of a major political party or by the state central committee or comparable governing body in the case of a minor political party. For other partisan offices, including federal or state-wide offices, an individual shall be appointed to fill such vacancy by the state central committee or comparable governing body of the appropriate political party.

Should such vacancy occur no later than the third Tuesday prior to the state primary or general election concerned and the ballots and voting machine labels have been printed, it shall be mandatory that they be corrected by the appropriate election officers. In making such correction, it shall not be necessary to reprint complete ballots if any other less expensive technique can be used and the resulting correction is reasonably clear.

Should such vacancy occur after the third Tuesday prior to said state primary or general election and time does not exist in which to correct paper ballots (including absentee ballots) or voting machine labels, either in total or in part, then the votes cast or recorded for the person who has died or become disqualified shall be counted for the person who has been named to fill such vacancy.

When the secretary of state is the person with whom the appointment by the major or minor political party is filed, he shall, in certifying candidates or nominations to the various county officers insert the name of the person appointed to fill a vacancy.

In the event that the secretary of state has already sent forth his certificate when the appointment to fill a vacancy is filed with him, he shall forthwith certify to the county auditors of the proper counties the name and place of residence of the person appointed to fill a vacancy, the office for which he is a candidate or nominee, the party he represents and all other pertinent facts pertaining to the vacancy. The name of the person who receives the greatest number of votes and of the person who receives the next greatest number of votes for each position, shall appear in that order on the city, town, or district general election ballot concerned under the designation for each respective office. In the event there are two or more offices to be filled for the same position, then names of candidates receiving the highest number of votes equal in number to twice the offices to be filled shall appear on the city, town, or district general election ballot so that the voter shall have a choice of two candidates for each position: Provided, That no name of any candidate shall appear on the city, town, or district general election ballot unless said candidate shall receive at least five percent of the total votes cast for that office. Names of candidates printed upon the city, town, or district primary and general election ballot need not be rotated.

The purpose of this section is to establish the holding of a primary election, subject to the exemptions as contained in RCW 29.21.015 as now or hereafter amended, as a uniform procedural requirement to the holding of city, town, and district elections and such provisions shall supersede any and all other statutes, whether general or special in nature, having different election requirements. 29.33.150 Preparation of machine for use. In preparing a voting machine for an election, the custodian shall arrange the machine and labels therefor according to the printed directions furnished by the auditor or clerk so that it will in every particular meet the requirements for voting and counting at such elections, thoroughly test same, and certify thereto to the said auditor or clerk. A voting machine may be so arranged for an election that the names of candidates nominated independently may be placed in the same party row with those nominated by a major political party, if such placing does not prevent such independently nominated candidates from being voted for individually. It may also be so arranged that candidates nominated independently, or by political organizations which nominated but one candidate, are placed in the same party row and voted for individually; in which event the party voting device of the party row shall be locked against movement, and the political designation of each candidate shall be printed upon the ballot labels in connection with his name. The auditor or clerk shall direct the arrangement of all ballot labels on a voting machine in case of nonpartisan primaries and elections in cities of the first class operating under freeholders' charters, so that the arrangement of the names of candidates shall conform as nearly as practicable to the provisions for the arrangement of names on paper ballots. In all other cases of nonpartisan primaries and elections, and in all cases of party primaries and elections, the arrangement of names of candidates upon the ballot labels shall conform as nearly as practicable to the statutory provisions for the arrangement of names on paper ballots.

After being prepared for a primary or an election, each machine shall be examined by the auditor or clerk, and if it was prepared in accordance with law for use thereat, he shall file a certificate thereof in his office. The custodian shall cause all voting machines to be delivered to the polling places in charge of an authorized official who shall certify to their delivery in good order on the certificate furnished therefor. After such delivery the auditor or clerk shall provide proper protection therefor. The custodian shall provide a lantern or proper light for every machine, which light shall be in good order and give sufficient light to enable voters while in the booth to read the ballot labels, and suitable for use by the election officers in examining the counters. [1965 c 9 § 29.33.150. Prior: 1955 c 323 § 4; prior: 1935 c 85 § 1, part; 1919 c 163 § 23, part; 1915 c 114 § 5, part; 1913 c 58 § 10, part; RRS § 5309, part.]

[1965 c 9 § 29.33.160. Prior: 1957 c 195 § 4; prior: 1955 c 323 § 5. (i) 1913 c 58 § 3, part; RRS § 5302, part. (ii) 1915 c 114 § 1, part; 1913 c 58 § 5, part; RRS § 5304, part. Not more than ten nor less than three days before each election at which voting machines are to be used the board or officer charged with the duty of providing ballots shall publish in newspapers representing at least two political parties a diagram of reduced size showing the face of the voting machine after the official ballot labels are arranged thereon, together with illustrated instructions how to vote and a statement of the locations of voting machines which are on public exhibition. Diagrams of voting machines used at general elections held in even-numbered years shall show the position of precinct committeeman, but need not list the names of candidates therefor. In lieu of publication thereof, the board or officer may send by mail or otherwise at least three days before the elections a printed copy of the diagram to each registered voter. The names of candidates for president and vice president for each political party shall be grouped together, each group enclosed in brackets with a single arrow or other notation to the right.

(6) All ballot cards for general elections shall be sequentially numbered, but done in such a way to permit removal of such numbers by precinct election workers without leaving any identifying marks on the ballot. There shall be no printing on the back of the ballot cards nor any mark thereon to distinguish an individual voter's ballot card from other ballot cards from the same precinct. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 67.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.130 Materials, supplies, and procedures—Secretary of state to prescribe. (1) Pursuant to RCW 29.04.080, the secretary of state shall by appropriate regulation devise and prescribe the form, size, weight of paper or material, kind of ballot cards, ballot page formats, procedures for conducting logic and accuracy tests of computer programs, and other materials and supplies and procedures necessary in the use of voting devices or vote tally systems as provided in this chapter and in the process of counting and tabulating the ballots by mechanical, electrical, or electronic devices or equipment.

(2) The secretary of state shall follow the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, in adopting the rules and regulations authorized by this chapter. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 68; 1967 ex.s. c 109 § 23.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.140 Appointment of precinct election officers. The appointment of election officers to serve precincts at which ballot cards and voting devices are used shall be in the same manner as the appointment of precinct election officers to serve paper ballot precincts as provided in chapter 29.45 RCW. [1967 ex.s. c 109 § 24.]

29.34.143 Instructional requirements—Inspectors and judges of elections. Before each primary at which voting devices are to be used, or more frequently as he deems necessary, the county auditor or other election official shall instruct all inspectors and judges of elections who are to serve at that primary or general election in the use of the voting devices and their duties in conjunction with the conduct of that primary or election.

The auditor may waive instructional requirements for inspectors and judges of elections who previously have been granted a certificate of proficiency and who have served as precinct officers for a sufficient length of time to be fully qualified to perform their duties in connection with the voting device: Provided, That any inspectors and judges of elections for whom the instructional requirements are waived may at their discretion take advantage of the instructional program outlined herein. He shall give to each inspector or judge who has received instruction and is qualified to conduct the primary or election with the voting devices, a certificate to that effect. For the purpose of instruction, the county auditor or other election officials shall call such meetings of the inspectors or judges as may be necessary. As compensation for the time spent in receiving instruction each inspector or judge who qualifies and serves at the subsequent primary or election shall receive an additional two hours compensation, to be paid to him at the same time and in the same manner as compensation is paid him for his services on the day of the primary or election. No inspector or judge of election shall serve at any primary or general election at which voting devices are used unless he has received the required instruction and is qualified to perform his duties in connection with voting devices and has received a certificate to that effect from the county auditor or other election official: Provided, That this shall not prevent the appointment of an inspector or judge of election to fill a vacancy in an emergency. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 69.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.145 Instructional requirements—Counting center personnel. Before each state primary or general election at which a vote tallying system is to be used, or more frequently as he deems necessary, the county auditor or other election official shall, during the day of the election, instruct all counting center personnel, including political party observers, who are to serve at that primary or election in their duties in connection with the handling and tallying of ballots for that primary or election. No person shall serve as an election worker in the counting center at any primary or election at which a vote tallying system is used unless he has received the required instruction and is qualified to perform his duties in connection with the handling and tallying of ballots for that primary or election. No person shall serve as a political party observer unless he has received the required instruction and is familiar with the operation of the vote tallying system and the procedures to be employed to verify the accuracy of the programming for that vote tallying system. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 70.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.153 Counting center, location, direction and observation of proceedings—Technical assistance from private vendors, limitations—Duties of public officials. The county auditor shall determine the location of the counting center for each vote tallying system under his jurisdiction and the number of ballot card precincts assigned to each. Such facility may be located wherever in the judgment of the county auditor best serves the voters.

All proceedings at the counting center shall be under the direction of the county auditor and under the observation of at least two observers, who shall not be from the same political party, appointed by the county chairman of the respective major political party. Such proceedings shall be open to the public, but no persons except those employed and authorized for the purpose shall touch any ballot card or ballot container.

Technical assistance from private vendors to the county auditor shall be limited to advice and assistance in the training of precinct election officers and counting center personnel and the development of instructional materials for use in such training, routine maintenance and repair service on the voting devices and vote tallying systems, and any emergency assistance required due to the mechanical failure of any voting device or vote tallying system. Private vendors may provide the compilation of computer programs and preparation of office and report files according to the specifications established by the county auditor for a specific primary or election. All precinct program cards shall be prepared by the county auditor or the staff of his office. Ballot layout functions are to be performed by the secretary of state for federal offices and state-wide measures and offices, and by the county auditor for all other measures and offices. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 71.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.157 Ballot card pick up, delivery, and transportation. At the direction of the county auditor, a representative of each major political party shall together stop at each designated polling place and pick up the sealed containers containing the voted ballot cards for delivery to the counting center. There may be as many as two such stops at each polling place, but the first stop may not be made prior to 2:00 p.m. and the second stop may not be made until after the polls have been closed to voting.

The procedure for transporting voted ballot cards from the respective polling places to the counting center or to predesignated collection stations shall include, but not be limited to, the following measures:

(1) On the day of the primary or election in precincts where ballots are cast on voting devices, two precinct election officials, one representing each major political party, shall place all voted ballots in noncombustible, water resistant ballot containers, furnished by the county auditor and properly identified with his mailing address, and seal the containers with prenumbered seals. The precinct election officials of each major political party or representative of each major political party designated by the county auditor to deliver such ballots shall transport the sealed ballot containers to the counting center or to a predesignated collection station in an enclosed vehicle, making certain that all doors and windows thereof other than those windows necessary for adequate ventilation are closed and locked.

(2) At the counting center or the collection stations where the sealed ballot containers are delivered by the designated representatives of the major political parties, the county auditor or his designated representative shall receive the sealed ballot containers with the voted ballot cards enclosed, record the time and date together with each precinct and seal number, and complete signed receipts indicating the time, date, and precinct and seal number of each ballot container received, and give a copy of such receipt to the representatives delivering the ballot containers as such containers are received.

(3) If the ballot containers are delivered to the collection station instead of being delivered directly to the counting center, the county auditor or his designated representative shall transfer such election containers to the counting center in an enclosed vehicle, making certain that all doors and windows thereof other than those windows necessary for adequate ventilation are closed and locked. All ballots being so transferred shall be accompanied by two appointed officials, who shall not be of the same political party, and a representative of the county auditor, who may be one of the appointed officials. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 72.]

29.34.163 Vote tallying systems—Programming tests. At least three days prior to the day of the primary or general election, all programming for the vote tallying system to be used at that primary or general election shall be tested by the secretary of state or his designee to ascertain that the equipment will correctly count the vote cast for all candidates and on all measures appearing on the ballot at that primary or general election. The tests shall be conducted by processing a preaudited group of ballots prepared by the office of secretary of state, so punched or marked as to record a predetermined number of ballot votes for each candidate and for and against each measure. For each office for which there are two or more candidates and for each issue, the group of test ballots shall include one or more ballots which have votes in excess of the number allowed by law, in order to verify the ability of the vote tallying system to reject such votes. The test shall be designed to verify the capability of the vote tallying system to perform all of the functions that can reasonably be expected to occur during conduct of that particular primary or election, including but not limited to verification of the content of the ballot format for each precinct or polling place, verification of rotation in the program, and verification of major error identification routines in the program of the vote tallying system. If any error is detected, the cause thereof shall be ascertained and corrected, and an errorless count shall be made before the programming is approved and certified.

Such tests shall be observed by at least two observers, who shall not be of the same political party, designated by the county chairmen of the respective county central committees, and shall be open to candidates, the press, and the public. The secretary of state, the county auditor, and the political party observers shall certify that the test has been properly conducted. Copies of such certification shall be retained by the secretary of state and the county auditor. All programming materials and test ballots shall be securely locked in a noncombustible, water resistant container, and sealed until the day of the primary or general election. This test shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official count of ballots in the same manner as set forth above.

The political party observers, upon mutual agreement, may request a precinct, to be selected at random, at the point of check-in, and manually take a total count of ballots and/or a total count for any one office, return that precinct to the counting center, and request a detailed printout. This may be done as many as three times during the official count so that the accuracy of the proceedings can be again verified by the count of the preaudited group of ballots. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 73.]

29.34.167 Counting ballot cards—Official returns. The ballot cards picked up during the polling hours may subsequently be counted before the polls have closed: Provided, That all such election returns must be held in secrecy in the same manner as the count of paper ballots during polling hours as provided by RCW 29.54.030. Any person revealing any election returns to unauthorized persons prior to the close of the polls shall be subject to the same penalties as provided by RCW 29.54.035.

Upon breaking the seals and opening the containers, all voted ballot cards shall be checked for partially removed chads, whereupon any such partially removed chads shall be entirely removed from the ballot cards. If it is found that any ballot is damaged or defective so that it cannot properly be counted by the vote tallying system, a true duplicate copy shall be made of the damaged ballot in the presence of witnesses and substituted for the damaged ballot. All such damaged ballots shall be kept by the county auditor until sixty days after the primary or election concerned.

The returns printed by the vote tallying system, to which has been added the count of questioned ballots, challenged ballots, write-in votes, and absentee votes, shall constitute the official returns of the primary or election in that county. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 74.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

Certification of returns in paper ballot and voting machine precincts: RCW 29.54.080.

"Chad" defined: RCW 29.01.006(7).

29.34.170 Guidance manuals. The secretary of state, upon promulgating the rules and regulations necessary for carrying out the purpose of this chapter, shall publish manuals containing the applicable rules and regulations and statutes for the guidance of the county auditor relating to the printing of ballot cards and preparation of the vote tallying systems, for the guidance of precinct election officers serving ballot card precincts, and for the guidance of election officers and operators of tabulating equipment at counting centers.

There shall be no charge for such manuals, and the number to be printed and the distribution thereof shall be determined by the secretary of state. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 75; 1967 ex.s. c 109 § 32.]

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.34.180 Voting devices and vote tallying systems may be used in all counties. Voting devices and vote tally systems as defined in RCW 29.34.010, may be used in all primaries and elections, general or special, in all counties. [1971 ex.s. c 6 § 2; 1967 ex.s. c 130 § 2.]

Severability—1971 ex.s. c 6: See note following RCW 29.34.080.

*Reviser's note: "section 19 of this 1977 amendatory act" was among the subject matter of Referendum Measure No. 39, which failed to be approved by the voters at the state general election November 8, 1977, and which therefore did not become law.

Effective date—Severability—1977 ex.s. c 361: See notes following RCW 29.01.006.

29.36.020 Certificates. The certificate to be issued by a county auditor honoring a request for an absentee ballot shall state that:

(1) The registrar can identify the applicant by his signature;

(2) The applicant is a voter, registered and qualified to vote, giving the county, city or town, if any, and precinct in which he is qualified to vote and also his place of residence;

(3) The applicant has affixed his signature to the certificate in the place provided therefor in the presence of the registrar; or the registrar has identified the applicant from the signature on his written application.

The certificate must be made in duplicate. If the voter is making his application in person, he shall sign both copies of said certificate. If the voter is making application by mail, the original certificate shall be affixed to his application.

All original certificates, together with applications affixed thereto, must be delivered to the officer having jurisdiction of the election, or his duly authorized representative, before an absentee ballot can be issued.

The duplicate certificate shall be securely attached to the applicant's permanent registration record or a notation to this effect shall be made by the applicant's name on the appropriate precinct lists of registered voters until after the election. 29.36.030 Issuance of ballots and other materials—Envelopes. Upon receipt of the voter's signed application, the officer having jurisdiction of the election, or his duly authorized representative, shall issue an absentee ballot for the election concerned.

At each general election in the even-numbered year, each absentee voter shall also be given a separate ballot containing the names of the candidates that have filed for the office of precinct committeeman provided that two or more candidates have filed for the same political party in the absentee voter's precinct and providing space for writing in the name of additional candidates.

In addition, if other elections, including special or general, are also being held on the same day and it can be determined that the absentee voter is qualified to vote at such elections, such additional absentee ballots shall be automatically issued to the end that, whenever possible, each absentee voter receives the ballots for all elections he would have received if he had been able to vote in person.

The election officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall include the following additional items when issuing an absentee ballot:

(1) Instructions for voting.

(2) A size #9 envelope, capable of being sealed and free of any identification marks, for the purpose of containing the voted absentee ballot.

(2) Except as noted in subsection (1) above, the issuing officer shall mail the absentee ballot directly to each applicant.

(3) No absentee ballot shall be issued on the day of the primary or election concerned. [1965 c 9 § 29.36.035. Prior: 1963 ex.s. c 23 § 4.]

29.36.040 Instructions for voting absentee ballot. Enclosed with the ballot, small envelope and large envelope sent to the absent voter shall be separate printed instructions which the absent voter must observe as follows:

"Upon receipt of this ballot you must mark it and transmit it in accordance with these instructions according to law:

(1) Having marked the ballot, fold it and enclose it in the smaller envelope, sealing the envelope.

(2) Fill out and sign the statement on the larger envelope.

(3) Place the small envelope containing the ballot in the larger one, seal that, attach sufficient first class postage and mail it so that it will be postmarked the day of election or sooner or instead of mailing you may send it by any means which will enable it to reach the county auditor or other issuing officer on or before election day." 29.36.060 How incoming absentee ballots are handled. The opening and canvassing of absentee ballots cast at any primary or election, special or general, may begin on or after the tenth day prior to such primary or election: Provided, That the opening of the inner envelopes and actual counting of such absentee ballots shall not commence until after 8:00 o'clock p.m. on the day of the primary or election but must be completed on or before the tenth day following the primary or election: Provided, That when a state general election is held, the canvassing period shall be extended to and including the fifteenth day following such election.

The county canvassing board, or its duly authorized representatives, may elect not to initial the inner envelope but instead place all such envelopes in containers that can be secured with a numbered metal seal, and such sealed containers shall be stored in the most secure vault available within the courthouse until after 8:00 o'clock p.m. of the day of the primary or election: Provided, That in the instance of punchcard absentee ballots, such ballots may be taken from the inner envelopes and all the normal procedural steps performed necessary to prepare punchcard ballots for computer count and then placed in said sealed containers.

The canvassing board or its duly authorized representatives shall examine the postmark, receipt mark and statement on the outer envelope containing the absentee ballot and verify that the voter's signature thereon is the same as that on the original application: Provided, That if the postmark is illegible, the date on the outer envelope, which a person attests to as provided in RCW 29.36.030 as now or hereafter amended shall be the date for determining the validity, as to the time of voting, of any absentee ballot under the provisions of this chapter. The board then shall open the outer envelopes not later than the tenth day following any primary or special election, and the fifteenth day following any general election, and remove therefrom the inner envelope containing the ballot.

The inner envelopes shall be initialed by the canvassing board or its duly authorized representatives. The inner envelopes thus initialed must be filed by the county auditor under lock and key. The outer envelopes to which must be attached the corresponding original absentee voter's application shall be sealed securely in one package and shall be kept by the auditor for future use in case any question should arise as to the validity of the vote. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 78; 1973 c 140 § 1; 1965 c 9 § 29.36.060. County canvassing board, meeting to canvas returns: RCW 29.62.020.

29.36.065 How incoming absentee ballots are handled—Alternate method. As an alternative to the procedure set forth in RCW 29.36.060, the county canvassing board, or its duly authorized representatives, may elect not to initial the inner envelope but instead place all such envelopes in containers that can be secured with a numbered metal seal and such sealed containers shall be stored in the most secure vault available within the courthouse until after 8:00 o'clock p.m. of the day of the primary or election: Provided, That in the instance of punchcard absentee ballots, such ballots may be taken from the inner envelopes and all the normal procedural steps performed necessary to prepare punchcard ballots for computer count and then placed in said sealed containers. [1973 c 140 § 2.]

29.36.070 Canvassing absentee ballots. Upon the canvass of the votes, if there are on file one or more absentee ballot inner envelopes, the canvassing authority shall cause such envelopes to be opened and the absentee precinct committeeman ballot, if any, shall be physically separated from the remainder of the absentee ballot. The absentee precinct committeeman ballot shall be, subject to the provisions of RCW 29.36.075 and 29.36.077, counted separately. The remainder of the absentee ballot shall be grouped and counted without regard as to precinct by legislative districts if the election is a state primary or state election, special or general.

These ballots shall be made a part of the returns and handled accordingly. [1974 ex.s. c 73 § 2; 1965 c 9 § 29.36.070. Prior: 1955 c 50 § 3; prior: 1933 ex.s. c 41 § 5, part; 1921 c 143 § 6, part; 1917 c 159 § 4, part; 1915 c 189 § 4, part; RRS § 5285, part.]

29.36.075 Uncontested offices—Ballots not to be tabulated—Voter credited with voting—Retention of uncounted ballots. Canvassing boards of any primary or election, including a state primary or state general election, shall not tabulate or record votes cast by absentee ballots on any uncontested office.

Each voter casting an absentee ballot not counted as provided in this section, nevertheless, shall be credited with voting on his permanent voting history record. Further, such uncounted absentee ballots shall be retained for the same length of time and in the same manner as paper ballots cast in person as provided by RCW 29.54-.070. [1965 c 9 § 29.36.075. Prior: 1961 c 78 § 1.]

29.36.077 Uncontested offices—Counting of uncounted ballots on candidate's request. 29.39.010 "Service voter," "armed forces," "members of the merchant marine of the United States," "dependent" defined. "Service voter" means an elector who comes within any of the following categories:

(1) Members of the armed forces while in the active service, and their spouses and dependents, including students and faculty members of the United States military academies.

(2) Members of the merchant marine of the United States, and their spouses and dependents.

(3) Civilian employees of the United States in all categories, including members of the Peace Corps, serving outside the territorial limits of the several states of the United States and the District of Columbia and their spouses and dependents when residing with or accompanying them, whether or not the employee is subject to the civil service laws and the Classification Act of 1949, and whether or not paid from funds appropriated by the congress.

(4) Members of religious groups or welfare agencies assisting members of the armed forces, who are officially attached to and serving with the armed forces, and their spouses and dependents.

(5) Citizens of the United States and of the state of Washington temporarily residing outside of the state of Washington and their spouses and dependents when residing with or accompanying them.

The term "armed forces" means the uniformed services as defined in section 102 of the Career Compensation Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 804), as amended.

The term "members of the merchant marine of the United States" means persons (other than members of the armed forces) employed as officers or members of crews of vessels documented under the laws of the United States, and persons (other than members of the armed forces) enrolled with the United States for employment, or for training for employment, or maintained by the United States for emergency relief service, as officers or members of crews of any such vessels; but does not include persons so employed, or enrolled for such employment or for training for such employment, or maintained for such emergency relief service, on the Great Lakes or the inland waterways.

The term "dependent" means any person who is in fact a dependent. [1973 c 56 § 1; 1967 ex.s. c 109 § 4; 1965 c 9 § 29.39.010. Prior: 1957 c 169 § 1; 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 1.]

Residence, contingencies affecting: State Constitution Art. 6 § 4.

Residence for voting purposes defined: RCW 29.01.140.

29.39.020 "Primary," "primary election" defined. "Primary" or "primary election" means a method provided by statute for nominating candidates to office. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.020. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 2.]

29.39.030 "Election," "primary" defined—Absentee voters' ballots. "Election" used alone means a general election except where the context indicates that a special election is meant or included. "Election" used without qualification never means a primary.

In addition to the above, for the purpose of this chapter, the term "primary" means the primary elections held on the third Tuesday in September of each year. The term "election" means the general elections held on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November of each year.

The purpose of this section is to authorize absentee voters qualifying as service voters as defined by RCW 29.39.010, as now existing or hereafter amended, to cast the same ballots, including those for special elections, as any registered voter would receive under the provisions of RCW 29.36.030 for any September primary or

November general election. [1973 c 4 § 4; 1967 ex.s. c 109 § 5; 1965 c 9 § 29.39.030. Prior: 1950 ex.s c 14 § 3.]

29.39.040 "Date of mailing the ballot" defined. "Date of mailing the ballot" means the date stated on the declaration on the larger envelope and not the date of the postal cancellation thereon. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.040. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 4.]

29.39.050 "Territorial limits of the United States" defined. "Territorial limits of the United States" means the fifty states of the United States and the District of Columbia. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.050. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 5.]

29.39.060 Absentee voting under federal law to be valid. Whenever by any statute of the United States, provision is made for absentee voting, an application for an absent voter's ballot made under the provisions of that law may be given the same effect as an application for an absent voter's ballot made under this chapter. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.060. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 6.]

29.39.070 Must coordinate with federal authority. All public officers having duties to perform under this chapter shall coordinate their efforts with the action of any federal authority now or hereafter established by act of congress for the purpose of facilitating voting by service voters to the end that such voters may cast their ballots with the least possible interference with the performance of their duties in the armed forces. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.070. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 7.]

29.39.080 Name variations not to invalidate ballot. A variation on any absent voter's ballot cast by a service voter between the signature on the large envelope and that on the service voter's request and/or that on the voter's permanent registration card caused by the substitution of initials instead of the first or middle names or both shall not invalidate the ballot if the surname and handwriting are the same. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.080. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 8.]

29.39.090 Application deemed to be for next election. Whenever an application for an absent voter's ballot is made by a service voter, the application shall be deemed an application for an absent voter's ballot for the primary and the election, or such of them as would be required to be held subsequent to the date of application. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.090. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 9.]

29.39.100 Application for absent voter's ballot. Any service voter may secure an absent voter's ballot by mailing a signed request to the registration office of the county, city or town of the service voter's residence or to the secretary of state requesting such ballot. If the ballot request is addressed to the secretary of state such request shall be forwarded by such officer immediately to the appropriate registration officer. The request shall be signed by the applicant and shall state his last home address, the address to which he wishes the absent voter's ballot mailed and the facts qualifying him as a service voter. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.100. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 10.]

29.39.110 Action upon application. Upon receipt of a request made by or on behalf of a service voter for an absent voter's ballot, the registration officer shall immediately check his records and ascertain if the person by, or on whose behalf the request is made, is a duly registered voter as provided by chapter 29.07 RCW, and the registration officer shall make notation on his records to that effect. If such person is a resident of an incorporated city or precinct lying partly within and partly without such incorporated city, the registration officer, after completing such check, shall immediately forward the request to the county auditor noting thereon whether or not such person is a registered voter. If it is determined that such person is not a registered voter, the county auditor shall nevertheless send the absent voter's ballot requested, it being the intent of this section that the county auditor shall upon request send absent voter's ballots to all eligible service voters who make application therefor. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.110. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 11.]

29.39.120 Mailing ballot and voter's pamphlet to voter—Declaration—Penalty. In mailing absent voter's ballots to service voters, the county auditor shall send a copy of the official voters' pamphlet with the ballot and a small envelope and letter of instructions together with a larger envelope addressed to the county auditor and upon which there shall be plainly printed a form in substantially the following language:

"DECLARATION

"I do hereby declare under penalty of perjury that I am a citizen of the United States; that I will be at least eighteen (18) years of age on the day of this election; that I have been a legal resident of the state of Washington for at least thirty days; and that I am a service voter under the laws of the state of Washington. 29.39.130 Ballot sent air mail and free postage when possible. Whenever the county auditor is requested to mail an absent voter's ballot to a service voter, he shall mail the ballot to the service voter by air mail when

29.39.140 Voter's declaration deemed registration—Mailing of ballot by voter. A properly executed declaration on the larger envelope is hereby declared to be a full and complete voter's registration for the election for which it is submitted. After the declaration is fully executed the service voter shall proceed to mark the ballot; then fold it and enclose it in the smaller envelope, sealing that and enclosing it in the larger envelope which shall then be sealed and mailed to the county auditor whose name and address are printed thereon, by air mail, postage to be paid by the addressee, unless the laws of the United States provide for air mail transmission of such ballot without charge. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.140. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 13.]

29.39.150 Ballots and envelopes—Forms—Expense. Notwithstanding any provision of law relating to the size and weight of the ballot or the envelopes in which absent voters' ballots are sent for either the primary or election, the secretary of state may reduce the size and weight of the ballot. He shall furnish uniform envelopes and all forms other than ballots for use in connection with ballots for service voters, and shall reimburse the respective county auditors for expenses of mailing. Each county auditor shall, through the respective boards of county commissioners, present such expenses listed upon state voucher forms in duplicate. The secretary of state, after the approval of the vouchers, shall then present them to the state treasurer for payment. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.150. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 15.]

The state canvassing board, all county canvassing boards and all county auditors and registration officials shall make no undue delay in performing any of the specific actions hereby imposed upon them. All ballots shall be printed as soon as possible after the same can be made up in order that there may be no delay in the forwarding of absent voters' ballots to service voters so as to afford ample time to all service voters for voting as herein provided. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.180. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 21.]

[1965 c 9 § 29.39.190. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 22.]

29.39.200 Penalties for false statements and violations. Any person who makes a false statement in his declaration upon the larger envelope used to transmit his ballot shall be guilty of perjury in the second degree and punished accordingly. Any person violating any other provision of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [1965 c 9 § 29.39.200. Prior: 1950 ex.s. c 14 § 23.]

(2) They shall see that the model is placed where each voter can conveniently operate it and receive instructions thereon as to the manner of voting, before entering the machine booth;

(3) They shall post one diagram inside the polling room and one outside, in places where the voters can conveniently examine them;

(4) They shall see that the lantern or other means provided for giving light is in such condition that the voting machine is sufficiently lighted to enable voters to readily read the names on the ballot labels;

(5) They shall see that the ballot labels are in the proper places on the machine;

If they do not agree they shall at once notify the custodian and delay unlocking the machine, and opening the polls until he has reexamined the machine;

(7) If the numbers or marks on the envelope containing the keys and upon the machine do agree, they shall proceed to see whether the public counter and all the candidate and question counters register "000." If any of the counters are found to register a number other than "000", one of the judges shall at once notify the custodian who shall set such counter at "000;"

(8) Where voting machines equipped with printed election returns mechanism are used, they shall proceed to operate the mechanism provided to produce one imprinted "before election inspection sheet" showing whether the candidate and question counters register "000". If said sheet has imprinted thereon any numbers below any candidate's name or below any question's designation other than "000" one of the judges shall, after the polls close, under the scrutiny of the other members of the board of election officials, deduct that number from that candidate's or question's total in the space provided for on the return sheet.

When the polls are declared open, one of the election officers shall break the seal and unlock the machine for voting. [1965 c 9 § 29.48.080. For such write-in voting, it shall not be necessary for a voter to write the full name of the political party concerned. Any abbreviation including the first letter of the political party name shall be acceptable as long as the precinct election officers can determine to their satisfaction the person voted for and the political party intended.

(1) One election officer shall call the designating number and letter of each candidate's counter in the order given on the statement of canvass, and another election officer shall repeat such number and letter as it is read, and announce the vote registered on such counter, which shall thereupon be entered in ink on each of the statements of canvass;

(3) The vote on each question shall be canvassed in the same manner;

(4) The votes cast on the irregular ballots and paper ballots shall then be canvassed; places or in the device for irregular ballots. Any votes not so cast shall not be counted, except in case of the use of paper ballots;

(6) In precincts where voting machines equipped with printed election returns mechanism are used, the original and duplicate originals of the printed returns sheet of the votes cast for questions and for candidates regularly nominated, or who have duly filed, together with the tabulation and inclusion of any votes written in on the paper roll for those not regularly nominated, or who have not filed, shall constitute the "election returns" and "statement of canvass" from each such precinct when properly certified by the board of election officials.

They shall then certify, in the appropriate place on each of the statements of canvass:

(1) The number of voters that voted at the election as shown by the poll-list and by the number registered on the public counter;

(2) The number registered on the protective counter; and

One copy thereof shall then be placed in an envelope and sealed to become part of the returns. During the canvassing and announcing of the vote, the counter compartment shall remain open, and opportunity shall be given any person lawfully present to examine the counters to determine the correctness of the vote as announced: Provided, That where voting machines equipped with printed election returns mechanism are used, during the canvassing the printed returns sheets shall be available for public inspection and opportunity shall be given any person lawfully present to examine the returns sheets to ascertain the record of votes cast. [1965 c 9 § 29.54.110. Prior: 1957 c 195 § 12; prior: 1935 c 20 § 6, part; 1915 c 114 § 8, part; 1913 c 58 § 14, part; RRS § 5314, part.]

29.62.010 Manner of canvassing election returns—

Generally. Every official body or officer upon whom is imposed the duty of canvassing the returns of any primary or election shall:

(1) Prepare and certify a statement separately setting forth for each office the returns as to which it or he is required by law to canvass, and the vote each candidate received therefor;

(2) If required to canvass returns from a primary, prepare and certify a statement separately setting forth each office the returns as to which it or he is required by law to canvass, and the member of each political party participating therein who received the highest number of votes for each office: Provided, That if there is more than one position to be filled for the same office the number of candidates of each political party participating therein equaling the number of positions to be filled who received the highest number of votes shall be listed as the nominees;

(3) If, at a partisan primary, two or more candidates of the same party are tied for the same office, determine the tie then and there by lot;

(4) If, at a nonpartisan or judicial primary, two or more candidates have received an equal number of votes and such number is barely sufficient for nomination, but as a consequence, the number of persons so nominated exceeds twice the number of positions to be filled, determine the tie then and there by lot so as to reduce the field of candidates to the proper number.

(5) After each election, prepare and certify a statement separately setting forth each office the returns as to which it or he is required by law to canvass, and the person who received the highest number of votes for each office: Provided, That if there is more than one position to be filled for the same office, the number of persons equaling the number of positions to be filled who receive the highest number of votes shall be listed as having been elected. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.010. Prior: 1961 c 130 § 10; prior: (i) 1907 c 209 § 24, part; RRS § 5201, part. (ii) Code 1881 § 3096, part; 1866 p 6 § 2, part; 1865 p 39 § 7, part; RRS § 5343, part.]

29.62.020 County canvassing board—Meeting to canvass returns. On the tenth day after each election or primary or as soon as he has received the returns from all the precincts included therein, the county auditor shall call a meeting of the county canvassing board at his office on a day and hour certain, for the purpose of canvassing the votes cast therein. The canvassing board shall consist of the county auditor, the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the prosecuting attorney. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.020. Prior: 1957 c 195 § 15; prior: 1919 c 163 § 21, part; Code 1881 § 3095, part; 1868 p 20 § 1, part; 1865 p 39 § 6, part; RRS § 5340, part.]

Absentee ballots, canvassing: RCW 29.36.060.

29.62.030 Special canvass for county auditor. If the primary or election is one at which the county auditor is to be nominated or elected, canvass of the returns for that office shall be made by the other two members of the board; if the two disagree, the returns for that office shall be canvassed by the presiding judge of the superior court of the county. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.030. Prior: 1957 c 195 § 16; prior: (i) Code 1881 § 3098; 1865 p 39 § 8; RRS § 5345. (ii) 1919 c 163 § 21, part; Code 1881 § 3095, part; 1868 p 20 § 1, part; 1865 p 39 § 6, part; RRS § 5340, part.]

29.62.040 County canvassing board—Canvassing procedure—Penalty. The county canvassing board at any meeting for canvassing the returns of a primary or election shall proceed as follows:

(1) The chairman of the board of county commissioners shall administer the following oath to the county auditor:

"I do solemnly swear that the primary (or election) returns of the several precincts included in the primary (or election) last held in _____ (here name the county or any other governmental unit not larger than a county if the election was held for it) have been in no wise altered by additions or erasures and that they are the same as when they were deposited in my office, so help me God." This oath, the signature and certificate must be in writing and filed with the papers pertaining to the election;

(2) The county auditor with the assistance of the other members of the canvassing board shall proceed to count the vote of the precincts, precinct by precinct;

(3) Neither the tally books and sheets, the poll lists nor the certificate returned for any primary or election from any precinct shall be rejected for want of form or substance if it can be satisfactorily understood;

(4) File a certificate of their canvass signed by all the members with the county auditor;

(5) If there is a vacancy in the county canvassing board, the remaining members of the board shall choose one of the other county officers to act during the canvass;

(6) Failure to return the total votes counted, if they can be ascertained with reasonable certainty shall be a misdemeanor. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.040. Prior: 1957 c 195 § 17; prior: (i) 1919 c 163 § 21, part; Code 1881 § 3095, part; 1868 p 20 § 1, part; 1865 p 39 § 6, part; RRS § 5340, part. (ii) 1893 c 112 § 2; RRS § 5342. (iii) 1903 c 85 § 1, part; Code 1881 § 3094, part; 1865 p 38 § 4, part; RRS § 5339, part.]

29.62.050 Recanvass of machine votes—Authorized—Procedure. Whenever the board authorized to canvass the returns finds, in its discretion, that there is an apparent discrepancy or an inconsistency in the primary or election returns such board may order that recanvass of the voting machines be made of all, or of any number less than all, of the precincts of the county, and said recanvass may, in the discretion of said board, be made as to all, or as to any number less than all, of the candidates or measures voted upon. In conducting such recanvass said board, or any duly authorized representative or employee of the board, may open the counter compartment of any voting machine without unlocking the machine against voting and recheck the vote cast thereon. If in the course of such recanvass the board determines that there is an error in the return of any precinct said board shall summon the inspector and judges of the precinct and the inspector and judges shall correct such error by making notation thereof in the poll book and shall initial such notation: Provided, That in the event that the election officials do not appear, or fail or refuse to make the correction as indicated, the canvassing board shall correct such error in the poll book and initial such correction. Each political party may send two representatives to be present at the recanvass. After the recanvass shall have been made the voting machines shall be immediately reclosed and the counter compartments relocked. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.060. Prior: 1951 c 193 § 2; 1917 c 7 § 1, part; 1913 c 58 § 15, part; RRS § 5315, part.]

29.62.070 Recanvass of machine votes—Procedure to test counting mechanism—Statement. If upon such recanvass, it should be found that the original canvass of the returns has been correctly made from the machine, and that the discrepancy still remains unaccounted for, the canvassing board, with the assistance of the custodian shall in the presence of such said inspector and judges of election and the authorized representatives of the several political parties or organizations who are attendant, make a record of the number or other designating mark on the seal, and the number on the protective counter and unlock the voting and counting mechanism of said machine and proceed to thoroughly examine and test the machine to determine and reveal the true cause or causes, if any, of the discrepancy in the returns from said machine. Before being tested the counter shall be set at "000," after which each counter shall be operated at least one hundred times. After the completion of said examination and test, the custodian shall then and there prepare a statement in writing giving in detail the result thereof and said statement shall be witnessed by the persons present and shall be filed with the county auditor or other election officer. 29.62.080 Tie votes in final election. If the requisite number of any federal, state, county, city, district, or precinct officers shall not be elected by reason of two or more persons having an equal and highest number of votes for one and the same office, the official empowered by state law to issue the original certificate of election shall give notice to the several persons so having the highest and equal number of votes to attend at the appropriate office at the time to be appointed by said official, who shall then and there proceed publicly to decide by lot which of the persons so having an equal number of votes shall be declared duly elected, and the said official shall make out and deliver to the person thus duly declared elected a certificate of his election as hereinbefore provided. [1965 c 9 § 29.62.080. Prior: 1961 c 130 § 13; prior: (i) Code 1881 § 3097; 1866 p 7 § 3; RRS § 5344. (ii) Code 1881 § 3104; 1865 p 41 § 15; RRS § 5349.]

29.62.090 Abstract by election officer—Transmittal to secretary of state. 29.64.010 Application for recount, generally—Requirements for recount by vote tally system—Scope of chapter. An officer of a political party or any person for whom votes were cast in a primary election for nomination as a candidate for election to an office who was not declared nominated may file with the appropriate canvassing board or boards a written application for a recount of the votes cast at such primary in any precinct for all persons for whom votes were cast in such precinct for such nomination.

An officer of a political party or any person who was a candidate at any general election for election to an office or position who was not declared elected, may file with the appropriate canvassing board or boards a written application for a recount of the votes cast at such election in any precinct in such county for all candidates for election to such office or position.

Any group of five or more registered voters may file with the appropriate canvassing board or boards a written application for a recount of the votes cast at any election, regular or special, in any precinct upon any question or issue, provided that the members of such group shall state in such application that they voted on such question or proposition. Such group of electors shall, in such application, designate one of the members of the group as chairman, and shall indicate therein the voting residence of each member of such group. In the event the recount requested concerns a regular or special district election whereat the precincts were combined and the election results of the individual precincts impossible to determine, the application for the recount shall embrace all ballots cast at such district election.

An application for recount in a precinct using a vote tally system shall specify whether the recount shall be done manually or by the vote tally system. A recount done by the vote tally system shall use separate and distinct programming from that used in the original count, and shall also provide for a separate and distinct test of the logic and accuracy of such program.

All applications for recount shall be filed within three days, excluding Saturdays and Sundays, after the canvassing board has declared the official results of the primary or election.

The provisions of this chapter shall apply to the recounting of votes cast by paper ballots and counted at the polling places, to the recheck of votes recorded on voting machines, and to the recounting of votes recorded on ballot cards and counted by a vote tally system. The provisions of this chapter shall neither apply to votes cast by absentee ballot and counted by the canvassing authority, nor to votes cast on voting machines printing election returns: Provided, That this chapter shall apply to votes cast by absentee and counted by the canvassing authority if specific request for such recount is made at the time the application is filed and the additional deposit is made as provided in RCW 29.64.020. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 98; 1965 c 9 § 29.64.010. Prior: 1963 ex.s. c 25 § 1; 1961 c 50 § 1; 1955 c 215 § 1.]

29.64.015 Mandatory recount when margin not more than one-half of one percent. If the official canvass of the returns of any primary or election reveals that the difference in the number of votes cast for a candidate apparently nominated or elected to office, as the case may be, and the number of votes cast for his closest apparently defeated opponent is not more than one-half of one percent of the total number of votes cast for both candidates, the canvassing board shall, of its own motion, make a recount of all votes cast on such position in the manner provided by RCW 29.64.030 and 29.64.040, and no cost of such recount shall be charged to either candidate concerned. [1965 c 9 § 29.64.015. Prior: 1963 ex.s. c 25 § 2.]

29.64.020 Deposit of fees—Notice of time and place of recount—Attendance. Each application for recount shall separately list each precinct as to which a recount of the votes therein is requested, and the person filing an application shall at the same time deposit with the canvassing board the sum of ten dollars in cash or by certified check for each precinct so listed in such application as security for the payment of charges for the making of the recount therein applied for, which charges shall be fixed by the canvassing board as provided in RCW 29.64.060. In the event the application for a recount applies to a special or regular district election then the deposit to be made with the canvassing board shall be ten dollars in cash or by certified check for each precinct completely or partially within said district. If at said special or regular district election paper ballots were used and the precincts were combined and the election results of the individual precincts impossible to determine, then the deposit shall be a sum of money equal to the total number of ballots cast at such district election multiplied by the factor of five cents; and if a specific request is made for the recount of absentee ballots, then an additional deposit shall be made in a sum of money equal to the total number of such absentee ballots to be counted multiplied by the factor of five cents.

If at said special or regular district election voting machines were used and the precincts were combined and the election results of the individual precincts impossible to determine, then the deposit shall be ten dollars for each voting machine used.

If ballot cards and a vote tally system were used at any precinct as to which a recount is requested, the amount of the deposit required shall depend on whether a manual recount of ballot cards or a recount by the vote tally system is requested. If a manual recount of the ballot cards is requested, the deposit shall be the same as for paper ballots. If a recount by the vote tally system is requested, the deposit shall be five cents for each ballot card.

Upon the filing of an application, the canvassing board shall promptly fix the time when and the place at which the recount will be made, which time shall be not later than five days after the day upon which such application is filed. The county auditor shall mail notice of the time and place so fixed to the applicant. If the application requests a recount of votes cast for a nomination or a candidacy for election, the auditor shall also mail such notice to each person for whom votes were cast for such nomination or election. Such notice shall be mailed by registered mail not later than two days before the date fixed for the commencement of the recount. Each person entitled to receive such notice may attend and witness the recount and may be accompanied by counsel.

In the case of a recount of votes cast upon a question or proposition, a second group of five or more registered voters, who voted upon such question or proposition other than those voters requesting the recount, may file with the canvassing board a written statement to that effect, may designate therein one of their number as chairman of such group and an attorney as their legal counsel, and may request that the persons so designated be permitted to attend and witness the recount. Thereupon the persons so designated may attend and witness the recount. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 99; 1965 c 9 § 29.64.020. Prior: 1961 c 50 § 2; 1955 c 215 § 2.]

29.64.030 Recounting the ballots—Request to stop. At the time and place fixed for making a recount of paper ballots, the canvassing board or their duly authorized representatives, in the presence of all witnesses who may be in attendance, shall open the sealed containers containing the ballots to be recounted, and shall recount them. Ballots shall be handled only by the members of the canvassing board, their duly authorized representatives or by the clerk or other employees of the board. Witnesses shall be permitted to see the ballots but they shall not be permitted to touch them, and the canvassing board shall not permit the counting or tabulation of votes shown on the ballots for any nomination, or for election to any office or position, or upon any question or proposition, other than the votes shown on such ballots for the nomination, election, or question or proposition concerning which a recount of ballots was applied for.

At the time and place fixed for making a recheck of the votes cast on voting machines the canvassing board or their duly authorized representatives in the presence of all witnesses who may be in attendance, shall open the voting machines to be rechecked, and shall recheck them. Witnesses shall be permitted to watch the recheck of the voting machines, and the canvassing board shall not permit the rechecking of votes for any nomination, or for election to any office or position, or upon any question or proposition, other than the votes shown on such voting machines for the nomination, election, or question or proposition concerning which a recount of voting machines was applied for.

At any time before the ballots from all of the precincts listed in the application for the recount have been recounted, the applicant may file with the board a written request to stop the recount and not recount the ballots from the precincts so listed and which have not been recounted prior to the time of such request: Provided, That this provision shall not apply to a recount when a recount is being made of any regular or special district election whereat the precincts were consolidated and as a result thereof the application for a recount embraced all ballots cast at such election.

If, upon such request, the board finds that the results of the votes in the precincts recounted, if substituted for the results of the votes in such precincts as shown in the abstract of the votes in such precincts, would not cause the applicant, if a person for whom votes were cast for nomination or election, to be declared nominated or elected or if an election upon a question or proposition would not cause a result contrary to the result thereof as declared prior to such recount, it shall grant such request and shall not recount the ballots of the precincts listed in the application for recount which have not been recounted prior to such time. If the board finds otherwise, it may deny such request and shall continue to recount ballots until the ballots from all of the precincts listed in the application for recount have been recounted: Provided, That if such request is denied it may be renewed from time to time. Upon any such renewal the board shall consider and act upon the request in the same manner as provided in this section in connection with an original request. [1965 c 9 § 29.64.030. Prior: 1961 c 50 § 3; 1955 c 215 § 3.]

29.64.040 Amended abstracts and declarations. Upon completion of the recount of the ballots, or upon stopping the recount prior to such time, the canvassing board shall promptly prepare and certify an amended abstract showing the votes cast in each precinct in which the nomination, election, or question or proposition was submitted to the electors, which amended abstract shall embody the votes of the precincts, the ballots of which were recounted, as shown by such recount. Copies of such certified amended abstracts shall be mailed to such other boards or election officials as required in the case of the original abstract which such amended abstract amends.

If the nomination, election, or question or proposition concerning which such recount was made was submitted only to the electors within a county, the board shall make an amended declaration of the result of such election in the same manner required in the making of its original declaration of the result of such election.

If the nomination, election, or question or proposition concerning which a recount was made was submitted to the electors of more than one county, the secretary of state shall canvass all amended abstracts received from the canvassing board of each county in which a recount was made, and shall make an amended declaration of the results of such election in the same manner required in the making of his original declaration of the results of such election. [1965 c 9 § 29.64.040. Prior: 1955 c 215 § 4.]

29.64.050 Further recount where partial recount changes results. If a person was declared nominated as a candidate for election to an office or elected to an office or position and if it subsequently appears by the amended declaration of the results of such election made following a recount of votes cast in such election that such person was not so nominated or elected, such person may, within three days after the date of such amended declaration of the results of such election, file an application with the appropriate canvassing board for a recount of the votes cast at such primary or election for such nomination or election in any precinct, the ballots of which have not been recounted.

If, following a recount of votes cast at an election, regular or special, upon any question or proposition, the amended declaration of the results of such election shows the result of such election to be contrary to the result thereof as declared in the original declaration of the results thereof, any group of five or more registered voters which has filed a statement with the board as provided in RCW 29.64.020 may, within three days after the date of the amended declaration, file an application with the board for a recount of the votes cast at such election upon such question or proposition in any precinct, the votes of which have not been recounted.

RCW 29.64.010, 29.64.020 and 29.64.030 are applicable to any application provided for in this section and to the recount had pursuant thereto. [1965 c 9 § 29.64-.050. Prior: 1955 c 215 § 5.]

29.64.060 Expenses of recount—Charges. The charges for making a recount of votes of precincts listed in an application for recount filed with the board of elections shall be fixed by the board and shall include all expenses incurred by such board because of such application other than the regular operating expenses which the board would have incurred if the application had not been filed.

The total amount of charges so fixed divided by the number of precincts listed in such application, the votes of which were recounted, shall be the charge per precinct for the recount of the votes of the precincts listed in such application, the votes of which were recounted: Provided, That the charges per precinct so fixed shall not be more than the actual cost.

Such charge shall be deducted by the board from the money deposited with the board by the applicant for the recount at the time of filing his application, and the balance of the money so deposited shall be returned to such applicant unless the costs of the recount were higher than the deposit, in which case the applicant shall be required to pay the difference: Provided, That no such charges shall be deducted by the board from the money deposited for a recount of votes cast for a nomination or for an election to an office or position in any precinct, if upon the completion of a recount the applicant is declared nominated or elected, or if upon completion of a recount concerning a question or proposition, the result of such election is declared to be opposite to the original declaration of the result of such election. All moneys deposited with the board by an applicant not returned to him shall be paid by such board into the general fund of the political subdivision concerned. [1977 ex.s. c 361 § 100; 1965 c 9 § 29.64.060. Prior: 1955 c 215 § 6.]

29.64.070 Rules and regulations. The secretary of state, as chief election officer, shall make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this chapter, to facilitate and clarify any procedures contained herein. [1965 c 9 § 29.64.070. Prior: 1955 c 215 § 7.]

29.64.080 State-wide measures—Mandatory recount—Cost at state expense. When the official canvass of returns of any election reveals that the difference in the number of votes cast for the approval of a state-wide measure and the number of votes cast for the rejection of such measure is not more than one-half of one percent of the total number of votes cast on such measure, the secretary of state shall direct that a recount of all votes cast on such measure be made on such measure, in the manner provided by RCW 29.64.030 and 29.64.040, and the cost of such recount shall be at state expense. [1973 c 82 § 1.]

29.64.090 State-wide measures—Mandatory recount—Provision for funds for additional expenses. Each county auditor shall file with the secretary of state a statement listing only the additional expenses incurred whenever a mandatory recount of the votes cast on a state measure is made as provided in RCW 29.64.080. The secretary of state shall include in his biennial budget request a provision for sufficient funds to carry out the provisions of this section. Payments hereunder shall be from appropriations specifically provided for such purpose by law. [1977 ex.s. c 144 § 5; 1973 c 82 § 2.]

29.64.900 Short title—Construction. This chapter shall be known as the statutory recount act and shall in no way affect or supersede the election contest statutes as contained in chapter 29.65 RCW. [1965 c 9 § 29.64.900. Prior: 1955 c 215 § 8.]

29.65.060 Misconduct of board—Irregularity must be material to result. No irregularity or improper conduct in the proceedings of any election board or any member thereof shall amount to such malconduct as to annul or set aside any election unless the irregularity or improper conduct was such as to procure the person whose right to the office may be contested, to be declared duly elected although he did not receive the highest number of legal votes. Each bank shall maintain a record of its daily computations of the above balances on forms prescribed by the supervisor. In the event of a deficiency for a semimonthly period, such bank shall immediately forward to the supervisor a report of such deficiency, the record of its computations for the period deficient and for the prior period, and such additional information as the supervisor requests. This section shall not apply to a corporation which is a member of the federal reserve banking system and duly complies with all of the reserve and other requirements of that system.

Notwithstanding the provisions above, whenever he determines that the maintenance of sound banking practices or the prevention of injurious credit expansions or contractions make such action advisable, the supervisor by regulation, may change, from time to time, the nature and amount of reserves required to be maintained by commercial banks doing business in this state which are not members of a federal reserve bank. The reserves so specified shall not be more than those provided in this section, nor less than those required, at the time, of commercial banks doing business in this state which are members of a federal reserve bank. Loans or obligations shall not be subject under this section to any limitation based upon such capital and surplus to the extent that they are secured or covered by guaranties, or by commitments or agreements to take over or to purchase the same, made by any federal reserve bank or by the United States or any department, bureau, board, commission or establishment of the United States, including any corporation wholly owned directly or indirectly by the United States. Except as hereinafter provided or otherwise permitted by law, nothing herein contained shall authorize the purchase by any such bank or trust company for its own account of any shares of stock of any corporation, except a federal reserve bank of which such corporation shall become a member, and then only to the extent required by such federal reserve bank: Provided, That any such bank or trust company may purchase, acquire and hold shares of stock in any other corporation which shares have been previously pledged as security to any loan or discount made in good faith and such purchase shall be necessary to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith and stock so purchased or acquired shall be sold at public or private sale or otherwise disposed of within two years from the time of its purchase or acquisition. Banks and trust companies are authorized to make loans on the security of the capital stock of a bank or trust company other than the lending corporation. Such a bank service corporation may not engage in any activity other than the performance of services for banks. The performance of any service, and any records maintained by any such corporation for a bank, shall be subject to regulation and examination by the supervisor and appropriate federal agencies to the same extent as if such services or records were being performed or maintained by the bank on its own premises. If at any time the earnings of a savings department are insufficient to pay all interest due upon savings deposits, the interest shall be paid by the bank or trust company out of net profits of its other department or departments. Within thirty days of the receipt of this application, the supervisor shall determine whether the activity is an appropriate adjunct to the business of banking, whether the public convenience and advantage will be promoted, whether the activity is apt to create an unsafe or unsound practice by the bank and whether the applicant is capable of performing such an activity. If the supervisor finds the activity to be an appropriate adjunct to the business of banking and the bank is otherwise qualified, he shall forthwith inform the applicant that the activity is authorized. The supervisor may from time to time change the boundaries of said central business district, if, in his judgment, such action is proper.

In addition to the foregoing, each bank and trust company shall before commencing business have subscribed and paid into it in the same manner as is required for capital stock, an additional amount equal to at least ten percent of the capital stock above required. Persons desiring to incorporate a bank or trust company shall file with the supervisor a notice of their intention to organize a bank or trust company in such form and containing such information as the supervisor shall prescribe by regulation, together with proposed articles of incorporation, which shall be submitted for examination to the supervisor at his office in Olympia.

The proposed articles of incorporation shall state:

- (1) The name of such bank or trust company.

[1973 1st ex.s. c 104 § 4; 1959 c 118 § 1; 1957 c 248 § 1; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.020. Prior: (i) 1923 c 115 § 3; 1917 c 80 §

30.08.030 Investigation. When the notice of intention to organize and proposed articles of incorporation complying with the foregoing requirements have been received by the supervisor, together with the fees required by law, he shall ascertain from the best source of information at his command and by such investigation as he may deem necessary, whether the character, responsibility and general fitness of the persons named in such articles are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed bank or trust company will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this title, whether the resources in the neighborhood of such place and in the surrounding country afford a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed bank and whether the proposed bank or trust company is being formed for other than the legitimate objects covered by this title. [1973 1st ex.s. c 104 § 5; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.030. Prior: 1929 c 72 § 3, part; 1923 c 115 § 5, part; 1917 c 80 § 22, part; RRS § 3229, part.]

30.08.040 Notice to file articles—Articles approved or refused—Hearing. After the supervisor shall have satisfied himself of the above facts, and, within six months of the date the notice of intention to organize has been received in his office, he shall notify the incorporators to file executed and acknowledged articles of incorporation with him in quadruplicate. Unless the supervisor otherwise consents in writing, such articles shall be in the same form and shall contain the same information as the proposed articles and shall be filed with him within ten days of such notice. Within thirty days after the receipt of such articles of incorporation, he shall endorse upon each of the quadruplicates thereof, over his official signature, the word "approved," or the word "refused," with the date of such endorsement. In case of refusal he shall forthwith return one of the quadruplicates, so endorsed, together with a statement explaining the reason for refusal to the person from whom the articles were received, which refusal shall be conclusive, unless the incorporators, within ten days of the issuance of such notice of refusal, shall request a hearing pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.04 RCW, as now or hereafter amended. [1973 1st ex.s. c 104 § 6; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.040. Prior: 1929 c 72 § 3, part; 1923 c 115 § 5, part; 1917 c 80 § 22, part; RRS § 3229, part.]

30.08.050 Approved articles to be filed and recorded—Organization complete. In case of approval the supervisor shall forthwith give notice thereof to the proposed incorporators and file one of the quadruplicate articles of incorporation in his own office, and shall transmit another quadruplicate to the county auditor of the county in which such bank or trust company is located, and another quadruplicate to the secretary of state, and the fourth quadruplicate to the incorporators. Upon receipt from the proposed incorporators of the same fees as are required for filing and recording other articles of incorporation the secretary of state and county auditor shall file such articles in their respective offices, and the secretary of state shall record the same. Upon the filing of articles of incorporation in quadruplicate, approved as aforesaid by the supervisor, with the secretary of state and county auditor, all persons named therein and their successors shall become and be a corporation, which shall have the powers and be subject to the duties and obligations prescribed by this title, and whose existence shall continue from the date of the filing of such articles for the term mentioned in its articles of incorporation unless sooner terminated pursuant to law; but such corporation shall not transact any business except as is necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has received a certificate of authority as provided herein. [1957 c 248 § 2; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.050. Prior: 1929 c 72 § 3, part; 1923 c 115 § 5, part; 1917 c 80 § 22, part; RRS § 3229, part.]

30.08.060 Certificate of authority—Issuance—Contents. Before any bank or trust company shall be authorized to do business, and within ninety days after approval of the articles of incorporation, it shall furnish proof satisfactory to the supervisor that such corporation has a paid-in capital in the amount fixed by its articles of incorporation and by this title, that the requisite surplus or reserve fund has been accumulated or paid in cash, and that it has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law and fulfilled all the conditions precedent to commencing business imposed by this title. If so satisfied, and within thirty days after receipt of such proof, the supervisor shall issue under his hand and official seal, in quadruplicate, a certificate of authority for such corporation. The certificate shall state that the corporation therein named has complied with the requirements of law, that it is authorized to transact at the place designated in its articles of incorporation the business of a bank or trust company, or both, as the case may be: Provided, however, That the supervisor may make his issuance of the certificate conditional upon the granting of deposit insurance by the federal deposit insurance corporation, and in such event, shall set out such condition in a written notice which shall be delivered to the corporation.

One of the quadruplicate certificates shall be transmitted by the supervisor to the corporation and the other three shall be filed by the supervisor in the same offices where the articles of incorporation are filed and shall be attached to said articles of incorporation, and the one filed with the secretary of state shall be recorded: Provided, however, That if the issuance of the certificate is made conditional upon the granting of deposit insurance by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the supervisor shall not transmit or file the certificate until such condition is satisfied. [1973 1st ex.s. c 104 § 7; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.060. Prior: 1929 c 72 § 3, part; 1923 c 115 § 5, part; 1917 c 80 § 22, part; RRS § 3229, part.]

or industrial loan company, which corporation shall have failed to organize and commence business within six months after certificate of authority to commence business has been issued by the supervisor, shall forfeit its rights and privileges as such corporation, which fact the supervisor shall certify to the county auditor in whose office the certificate of authority was filed, and to the secretary of state, and such certificate of forfeiture shall be filed in the office of the county auditor and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state in the same manner as the certificate of authority: Provided, That the supervisor may, upon showing of cause satisfactory to him, issue an order under his hand and seal extending for not more than three months the time within which such organization may be effected and business commenced, such order to be transmitted to the offices of such county auditor and the secretary of state and filed and recorded therein. [1955 c 33 § 30.08.070. Prior: 1931 c 9 § 1, RRS § 3229-1; 1915 c 175 § 41, RRS § 3370.]

30.08.080 Extension of existence—Application—Investigation—Order—Appeal—Winding up for failure to continue existence. At any time not less than one year prior to the expiration of the time of the existence of any bank, trust company or mutual savings bank, it may by written application to the supervisor, signed and verified by a majority of its directors and approved in writing by the owners of not less than two-thirds of its capital stock, apply to the supervisor for leave to file amended articles of incorporation, extending its time of existence. Prior to acting upon such application, the supervisor shall make such investigation of the applicant as he deems necessary. If he determines that the applicant is in sound condition, that it is conducting its business in a safe manner and in compliance with law and that no reason exists why it should not be permitted to continue, he shall issue to the applicant a certificate authorizing it to file amended articles of incorporation extending the time of its existence until such time as it be dissolved by the act of its shareholders owning not less than two-thirds of its stock, or until its certificate of authority becomes revoked or forfeited by reason of violation of law, or until its affairs be taken over by the supervisor for legal cause and finally wound up by him. Otherwise he shall notify the applicant that he refuses to grant such certificate. The applicant may appeal from such refusal in the same manner as in the case of a refusal to grant an original certificate of authority. Otherwise the determination of the supervisor shall be conclusive.

Upon receiving a certificate, as hereinabove provided, the applicant may file amended articles of incorporation, extending the time of its existence for the term authorized, to which shall be attached a copy of the certificate of the supervisor. Such articles shall be filed in the same manner and upon payment of the same fees as for original articles of incorporation.

Should any bank, trust company or mutual savings bank fail to continue its existence in the manner herein provided and be not previously dissolved, the supervisor shall at the end of its original term of existence immediately take possession thereof and wind up the same in the same manner as in the case of insolvency. [1961 c 280 § 1; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.080. Prior: 1943 c 148 § 1; 1917 c 80 § 27; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3234.]

30.08.087 Authorized but unissued shares of capital stock—Purposes—Amount—Minimum consideration. Any bank or trust company may provide in its articles of incorporation or amendments thereto for authorized but unissued shares of its capital stock for the following purposes;

(1) For issuance and sale pursuant to approved stock option plans, stock purchase plans, stock bonus plans, or other similar plans approved by the supervisor;

(2) For issuing and selling minimum qualifying shares to new directors;

(3) For any other purpose; when the total amount of such shares is not more than fifty percent of the currently issued and outstanding stock.

If such shares are issued pursuant to approved stock option plans, the consideration received for such shares shall not be less than the higher of par value or one hundred percent of fair market value of the shares at the time the option is granted. If such shares are issued pursuant to approved stock purchase plans, the consideration received for such shares shall not be less than the higher of par value or one hundred percent of fair market value of the shares at the time of purchase. If such shares are issued in order to qualify a new director of the corporation, the consideration received shall not be less than the higher of par value or ninety-five percent of the fair value of the shares at the time of the sale. [1979 c 106 § 1; 1965 c 140 § 1.]

Stock option, stock purchase, stock bonus, or similar plans: RCW 30.12.210.

30.08.088 Authorized but unissued shares of capital stock—Amendment of articles—When shares become part of capital stock—Notice of proposed issuance—Approval. Any amendments to articles of incorporation which provide for authorized but unissued stock shall be made as provided in the case of a capital increase which is to be paid in full before becoming effective. However, the authorized but unissued shares shall not become a part of the capital stock except for the purposes hereof until they have been issued and paid for in cash. Prior to the issuance of authorized but unissued stock, the bank shall notify the supervisor of the proposed issuance and the consideration to be received therefor and receive the supervisor's approval thereof, except that such notification and such approval shall not be required if the authorized but unissued stock is issued to employees of the bank pursuant to approved stock option, stock purchase, stock bonus or other similar plans approved by the supervisor. [1979 c 106 § 2; 1965 c 140 § 2.]

30.08.090 May increase or decrease capital stock or otherwise amend articles—Procedure—Authorized but unissued stock—Statements of condition, certificates. Any bank or trust company may increase or decrease its capital stock or otherwise amend its articles of incorporation, in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this title, by a vote of the stockholders representing two-thirds of its issued capital stock at any regular meeting, or special meeting duly called for that purpose in the manner prescribed by its bylaws: Provided, That notice of a meeting to increase or decrease authorized capital stock shall first be published once a week for four weekly issues in a newspaper published in the place in which such corporation is located, or if there be no newspaper published in such place, then in some newspaper published in the same county. The notice shall state the purpose of the meeting, the amount of the present authorized capital stock of the bank or trust company and the proposed new authorized capital stock. A certificate of the fact and the terms of the amendment shall be executed by a majority of the directors and filed as required herein for articles of incorporation. Except when an amendment provides for authorized but unissued shares as permitted in this title, no increase of authorized capital stock shall be valid, until the amount thereof shall have been subscribed and actually paid in and a certificate of increase is received from the supervisor. No reduction of the capital stock shall be made to an amount less than is required for capital, nor be valid, nor warrant the cancellation of stock certificates, nor diminish the personal liabilities of the stockholders until such reduction has been approved by the supervisor, nor shall any reduction relieve any stockholder from any liability of the corporation incurred prior thereto. No amendment shall be made whereby a bank becomes a trust company unless such bank shall first receive permission from the supervisor.

Banks having authorized but unissued stock shall disclose on all statements of condition the amount of authorized stock and the amount of issued and paid in stock, as certified by the supervisor. The supervisor shall certify to each bank having authorized but unissued stock the amount of its issued and paid in capital stock and this amount shall be used in all statements of condition and in computing the capital of the bank for purposes of determining loan or investment limits and branching powers until a new certificate is issued by the supervisor. In cases where a bank issues authorized but unissued stock as permitted by this title, a new certificate need not be requested upon each stock issue. However, if the bank so requests and the supervisor approves, a certificate of issued and paid in capital stock shall be issued by the supervisor. A new certificate must be requested at such time as any increase of paid in capital stock represents five percent of the authorized capital stock and at such time as there is no remaining authorized but unissued stock. [1965 c 140 § 3; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.090. Prior: 1923 c 115 § 7; 1917 c 80 § 26; RRS § 3233.]

Every bank or trust company shall also pay to the secretary of state or county auditor for filing any instrument with him the same fees as are required of general corporations for filing corresponding instruments, and also the same license fees as are required of general corporations. [1973 1st ex.s. c 104 § 8; 1969 c 136 § 4; 1955 c 33 § 30.08.095. Prior: 1929 c 72 § 1; 1923 c 115 § 1; 1917 c 80 § 12; RRS § 3219. Formerly RCW 30.04.080.]

[1955 c 33 § 30.08.110. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 16; RRS § 3223.]

30.08.120 Trust business of national bank subject to state regulations. Before any such national bank shall engage in such trust business, it shall file a certificate with the supervisor, wherein it agrees to conform to all the regulations and restrictions of this title relating to trust companies and trust business, including the examination of its trust business by the supervisor and the payment of the fees therefor, herein prescribed for the examination of banks and trust companies. Upon the filing of such a certificate in a form to be approved by the supervisor, such national bank shall be subject to all the regulations and restrictions of this title relative to trust companies and trust business. [1955 c 33 § 30.08.120. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 17; RRS § 3224.]

30.08.140 Corporate powers of banks. Upon the issuance of a certificate of authority to a bank, the persons named in the articles of incorporation and their successors shall thereupon become a corporation and shall have power:

(2) To have succession for the term mentioned in its articles of incorporation.

(3) To make contracts.

(4) To sue and be sued, the same as a natural person.

(5) To elect directors who, subject to the provisions of the corporation's bylaws, shall have power to appoint such officers as may be necessary or convenient, to define their powers and duties and to dismiss them at pleasure, and who shall also have general supervision and control of the affairs of such corporation.

(9) If the bank be located in a city of not more than five thousand inhabitants, to act as insurance agent.

(10) To accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon it having not more than six months sight to run, which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods; or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods, providing shipping documents conveying or securing title are attached at the time of acceptance; or which are secured at the time of acceptance by a warehouse receipt or other such document conveying or securing title to readily marketable staples. No bank shall accept, either in a foreign or a domestic transaction, for any one person, company, firm or corporation, to an amount equal at any one time in the aggregate to more than ten percent of its paid up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus unless the bank is secured by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; and no bank shall accept such bills to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than one-half of its paid up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus: Provided, however, That the supervisor, under such general regulations applicable to all banks irrespective of the amount of capital or surplus, as he may prescribe may authorize any bank to accept such bills to an amount not exceeding at any time in the aggregate one hundred percent of its paid up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus: Provided, further, That the aggregate of acceptances growing out of domestic transactions shall in no event exceed fifty percent of such capital stock and surplus.

In the first instance the directors shall be those named in the articles of incorporation and afterwards, those elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held at least once each year on a day to be specified by the bank's or trust company's bylaws but not later than May 15th of each year. If for any cause no election is held at that time, it may be held at an adjourned meeting or at a subsequent meeting called for that purpose in the manner prescribed by the corporation's bylaws. The directors shall meet at least once each month and whenever required by the supervisor. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. At all stockholders' meetings, each share shall be entitled to one vote. Any stockholder may vote in person or by written proxy. Every director must own in his own right shares of the capital stock of the bank or trust company of which he is a director the aggregate par value of which shall not be less than four hundred dollars, unless the capital of the bank or trust company shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars, in which case he must own in his own right shares of such capital stock the aggregate par value of which shall not be less than two hundred dollars. All of the corporate books, including the certificate book, stockholders' ledger and minute book shall be kept at the corporation's principal place of business and not elsewhere.

[1969 c 136 § 9; 1955 c 33 § 30.12.020. Prior: 1927 c 179 § 1; 1917 c 80 § 31; RRS § 3238.]

Such bonds may be individual, schedule or blanket form, and the premiums therefor shall be paid by the bank or trust company.

(2) The said directors shall also direct and require suitable insurance protection to the bank or trust company against burglary, robbery, theft and other similar insurance hazards to which the bank or trust company may be exposed in the operations of its business on the premises or elsewhere.

The said directors shall be responsible for prescribing at least once in each year the amount or penal sum of such bonds or policies and the sureties or underwriters thereon, after giving due consideration to all known elements and factors constituting such risk or hazard. The stockholders of every bank and trust company shall be individually and personally liable, equally and ratably, and not one for another, for all contracts, debts and engagements of such corporation accruing while they remain as stockholders, to the extent of the amount of their stock therein at the par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in such shares. Persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians or trustees, if such relation of trust shall appear in the stock certificate and on the books of the corporation, or as collateral security or in pledge, shall not be personally liable as stockholders, but the assets and funds in the hands of such trustees constituting the trust shall be liable to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward, or person interested in such funds would be, if living or competent to act, and the person pledging such stock shall be deemed a stockholder and liable under this section. 30.24.020 General criterion specified. In acquiring, investing, reinvesting, exchanging, selling and managing property for the benefit of another, a fiduciary shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing, which men of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income as well as the probable safety of their capital. Within the limitations of the foregoing standard, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, a fiduciary is authorized to acquire and retain every kind of property, real, personal or mixed, and every kind of investment specifically including but not by way of limitation, debentures and other corporate obligations, and stocks, preferred or common, which men of prudence, discretion and intelligence acquire for their own account. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.020. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 2; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255–10b.]

30.24.030 Investment in savings accounts—Requirements. A corporation doing a trust business may invest trust funds in savings accounts with itself to the extent that such deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation: Provided, That additional trust funds may be so invested by the corporation if it first sets aside under the control of its trust department as collateral security:

(1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or

(2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of such funds so deposited. [1967 c 133 § 3; 1955 c 33 § 30.24.030. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 3; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255–10c.]

30.24.035 Investments in securities of certain investment trusts. Within the standards of judgment and care established by law, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries, whether individual or corporate, are authorized to acquire and retain securities of any open–end or closed–end management type investment company or investment trust registered under the federal investment company act of 1940 as now or hereafter amended. 30.24.037 Investment or distribution of funds held in fiduciary capacity—Deposit in other departments authorized—Collateral security required, exception. Funds held by a bank or trust company in a fiduciary capacity awaiting investment or distribution shall not be held uninvested or undistributed any longer than is reasonable for the proper management of the account. Such funds, including managing agency accounts, may, unless prohibited by the instrument creating the trust or by other statutes of this state, be deposited in the commercial or savings or other department of the bank or trust company, provided that the bank or trust company shall first set aside under control of the trust department as collateral security:

(1) Direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest; or

(2) Bonds or other obligations which constitute general obligations of any state of the United States or municipal subdivision thereof.

The securities so deposited or securities substituted therefor as collateral shall at all times be at least equal in market value to the amount of such funds so deposited, but such security shall not be required to the extent that the funds so deposited are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. [1967 c 133 § 4.]

30.24.040 Court may permit deviation from terms of trust instrument. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as restricting the power of a court of proper jurisdiction to permit a fiduciary to deviate from the terms of any will, agreement, or other instrument relating to the acquisition, investment, reinvestment, exchange, retention, sale, or management of fiduciary property. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.040. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 4; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-10d.]

30.24.050 Scope of chapter. The provisions of this chapter shall govern fiduciaries acting under wills, agreements, court orders, and other instruments now or hereafter in force. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.050. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 5; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-10e.]

[1967 c 209 § 1; 1955 c 33 § 30.24.060. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 6; 1941 c 41 § 11; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-11.]

30.24.070 Terms of trust instrument controlling. Any fiduciary may invest funds held in trust under an instrument creating such trust, in any manner and/or in any investment and/or in any class of investments authorized by such instrument, whether or not the same is otherwise qualified for the investment of trust funds. The terms "legal investment" or "authorized investment" or words of similar import, as used in any such instrument, shall be taken to mean any investment which is permitted by the terms of RCW 30.24.020. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.070. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 7; 1941 c 41 § 13; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-13.]

30.24.080 Securities in default ineligible. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as authorizing any fiduciary to invest funds held in trust, in any bonds, mortgages, notes or other securities, during any default in payment of either principal or interest thereof. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.080. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 8; 1941 c 41 § 16; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-16.]

30.24.090 Dealings with self or affiliate. Unless the instrument creating the trust expressly provides to the contrary, any fiduciary in carrying out the obligations of the trust, may not buy or sell investments from or to himself or itself or any affiliated or subsidiary company or association. [1955 c 33 § 30.24.090. Prior: 1947 c 100 § 9; 1941 c 41 § 17; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3255-17.]

30.24.120 Investments in policies of life insurance. Within the standards of judgment and care established by law, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries, whether individual or corporate, are authorized to invest the principal of trust funds to acquire and retain policies of life insurance made upon the life of any person for whose benefit the fiduciary holds property or made upon the life of another in whose life such person has an insurable interest, the policy and the proceeds or avails thereof to be the property of the fiduciary.

The purpose of this section is to affirm that certain policies of life insurance are among the investments authorized for fiduciaries, but without creating any inference that a policy of life insurance is preferable to other authorized investments in a particular instance. [1973 1st ex.s. c 89 § 1.]

Insurable interest, guardian, trustee or other fiduciary: RCW 48.18.030(3)(d).

Whenever power or authority to direct or control the acts of a trustee or the investments of a trust is conferred directly or indirectly upon any person other than the designated trustee of the trust, such person shall be deemed to be a fiduciary and shall be liable to the beneficiaries of said trust and to the designated trustee to the same extent as if he were a designated trustee in relation to the exercise or nonexercise of such power or authority. 30.42.010 Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to establish a legal and regulatory framework for operation by alien banks in the state of Washington that will:

(1) Create a financial climate which will benefit the economy of the state of Washington;

(2) Provide a well regulated and supervised financial system to assist the movement of foreign capital into Washington state for the support and diversification of the local industrial base;

(3) Assist the development of the economy of the state of Washington without disrupting business relationships of state and federal financial institutions. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 1.]

30.42.020 Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter, the following terms shall be defined as follows:

(1) "Alien bank" means a bank organized under the laws of a foreign country and having its principal place of business in that country, the majority of the beneficial ownership and control of which is vested in citizens of countries other than the United States of America.

(2) "Office" means a branch or agency of an alien bank carrying on business in this state pursuant to this chapter.

(3) "Branch" means an office of an alien bank that is exercising the powers authorized by RCW 30.42.110.

(4) "Agency" means an office of an alien bank that is exercising the powers authorized by RCW 30.42.180.

(5) "Bureau" means an alien bank's operation in this state exercising the powers authorized by RCW 30.42.230.

(6) "Supervisor" means the supervisor of banking of the state of Washington. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 2.]

30.42.030 Authorization and compliance with chapter required. An alien bank shall not establish and operate an office or bureau in this state unless it is authorized to do so by the supervisor and unless it first complies with all of the provisions of this chapter and then only to the extent expressly permitted by this chapter. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 3.]

30.42.040 More than one office prohibited. An alien bank shall not be permitted to have more than one office in this state. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 4.]

30.42.050 Acquisition or serving on board of directors or trustees of other financial institutions prohibited. An alien bank shall not take over or acquire an existing federal or state-chartered bank, trust company, mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, or credit union or any branch of any such bank, trust company, mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, or credit union in this state; nor shall any designee, officer, agent or employee of an alien bank serve on the board of directors of any federal or state bank, trust company, savings and loan association, or credit union, or the board of trustees of a mutual savings bank. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 5.]

30.42.060 Conditions to be met before opening office in state. An alien bank shall not hereafter open an office in this state until it has met the following conditions:

(1) It has filed with the supervisor an application in such form and containing such information as shall be prescribed by the supervisor.

(2) It has designated the supervisor by a duly executed instrument in writing, its agent, upon whom process in any action or proceeding arising out of a transaction with the Washington office may be served. Such service shall have the same force and effect as if the alien bank were a Washington corporation and had been lawfully served with process within the state. The supervisor shall forward by mail, postage prepaid, a copy of every process served upon him under the provisions of this subdivision, addressed to the manager or agent of such bank at its office in this state.

(3) It has allocated and assigned to its office within this state paid-in capital of not less than two hundred thousand dollars or such larger amounts as the supervisor in his discretion may require.

(4) It has filed with the supervisor a letter from its chief executive officer guaranteeing that the alien bank's entire capital and surplus is and shall be available for all liabilities and obligations of its office doing business in this state.

(5) It has paid the fees required by law and established by the supervisor pursuant to RCW 30.08.095.

(6) It has received from the supervisor his certificate authorizing the transaction of business in conformity with this chapter. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 6.]

30.42.070 Allocated paid-in capital—Requirements. The capital allocated as required in RCW 30.42.060(3) shall be maintained within this state at all times in cash or in supervisor approved interest bearing bonds, notes, debentures, or other obligations of the United States or of any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or of this state, or of a city, county, town, or other municipal corporation, or instrumentality of this state or guaranteed by this state. Such capital shall be deposited with a bank qualified to do business in and having its principal place of business within this state, or in a national bank qualified to engage in banking in this state. Such bank shall issue a written receipt addressed and delivered to the supervisor reciting that such deposit is being held for the sole benefit of the United States domiciled creditors of such alien bank's Washington office and that the same is subject to his order without offset for the payment of such creditors. For the purposes of this section, the term "creditor" shall not include any other offices, branches, subsidiaries, or affiliates of such alien bank. Subject to the approval of the supervisor, reasonable arrangements may be made for substitution of securities. So long as it shall continue business in this state in conformance with this chapter and shall remain solvent, such alien bank shall be permitted to collect all interest and/or income from the assets constituting such allocated capital.

Should any securities so depreciate in market value and/or quality as to reduce the deposit below the amount required, additional money or securities shall be deposited promptly in amounts sufficient to meet such requirements. The supervisor may make an investigation of the market value and of the quality of any security deposited at the time such security is presented for deposit or at any time thereafter. The supervisor may make such charge as may be reasonable and proper for such investigation. [1979 c 106 § 6; 1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 7.]

30.42.080 Separate assets—Books and records—Priority as to assets. Every alien bank maintaining an office in this state shall keep the assets of its Washington office entirely separate and apart from the assets of its other operations as though the Washington office was conducted as a separate and distinct entity. Every such alien bank shall keep separate books of account and records for its Washington office and shall observe with respect to such office the applicable requirements of this chapter and the applicable rules and regulations of the supervisor. The United States domiciled creditors of such alien bank's Washington office shall be entitled to priority with respect to the assets of its Washington office before such assets may be used or applied for the benefit of its other creditors or transferred to its general business. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 8.]

30.42.090 Approval of application—Criteria—Reciprocity. The supervisor may give or withhold his approval of an application by an alien bank to establish an office in this state at his discretion. His decision shall be based on the information submitted to his office in the application required by RCW 30.42.060 and such additional investigation as the supervisor deems necessary or appropriate. Prior to granting approval to said application, he shall have ascertained to his satisfaction that all of the following are true:

(1) the proposed location offers a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed office;

(2) the proposed office is not being formed for other than legitimate objects;

(3) the proposed officers of the proposed office have sufficient banking experience and ability to afford reasonable promise of successful operation;

(4) the reputation and financial standing of the alien bank is such as to command the confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed office will be conducted honestly and efficiently in accordance with the intent and purpose of this chapter, as set forth in RCW 30.42.010;

(5) the principal purpose of establishing such office shall be within the intent of this chapter.

The supervisor shall not grant an application for an office of an alien bank unless the law of the foreign country under which laws the alien bank is organized permits a bank with its principal place of business in this state to establish in that foreign country a branch, agency or similar operation. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 9.]

30.42.100 Notice of approval—Filing—Time period for commencing business. If the supervisor approves the application, he shall notify the alien bank of his approval and shall file certified copies of its charter, certificate or other authorization to do business with the secretary of state and with the recording officer of the county in which the office is to be located. Upon such filing, the supervisor shall issue a certificate of authority stating that the alien bank is authorized to conduct business through a branch or agency in this state at the place designated in accordance with this chapter. Each such certificate shall be conspicuously displayed at all times in the place of business specified therein.

The office of the alien bank must commence business within six months after the issuance of the supervisor's certificate: Provided, That the supervisor for good cause shown may extend such period for an additional time not to exceed three months. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 10.]

30.42.110 Powers and activities. An approved branch of an alien bank may carry on only the following types of activities:

(1) Deposits.

(a) The branch may solicit, receive, or accept money or its equivalent on deposit as a regular business from the following customers:

(b) A branch may accept demand deposits, time deposits, and savings deposits from the customers specified in this section only upon the same terms and conditions (including nature and extent of such deposits, withdrawal, and the payment of interest thereon) that banks organized under the laws of this state and insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation may accept such deposits. Such deposits shall be subject to RCW 30.20-.010 through 30.20.035, as now or hereafter amended. The branch shall maintain reserves or minimum available funds in this state for such deposits to the same extent that reserves or minimum available funds must be maintained by banks organized under the laws of this state.

(2) Loans. A branch shall have the power to make loans and guarantee obligations subject to the following limitations:

(a) Customers. Loans or guarantees shall be restricted to the following types of customers:

(i) Corporations, partnerships or other business organizations, the majority of the beneficial ownership of which is owned by persons of a country other than the United States and who are not residents of the United States, and any subsidiary or affiliate owned or controlled by such an organization;

(i) With respect to customers specified in subsection (2)(a) (i), (ii), and (iii) of this section, for the financing of the international movement of goods and services and for all operational needs including working capital and short-term operating needs and for the acquisition of fixed assets.

(ii) With respect to customers specified in subsection (2)(a)(iv) of this section, for the financing of the international movement of goods and services, and construction of facilities located and operations conducted outside of this state.

(iii) With respect to customers specified in subsection (2)(a)(v) of this section, for any lawful purpose.

(iv) Nothing herein shall permit a branch to make consumer loans to individuals except to the branch's own full time employees.

(c) Amount. A branch shall be subject to the same loan limitations that apply to banks organized under the laws of this state; however, the base for computing the applicable loan limitation shall be the entire capital and surplus of the alien bank. The supervisor may adopt rules and regulations limiting the amount of loans to full time employees of the branch.

(3) Other activities. A branch of an alien bank in this state shall have the power to carry out these other activities:

(a) Borrow funds from banks and other financial institutions;

(b) Buy and sell foreign exchange;

(c) Receive checks, bills, drafts, acceptances, notes, bonds, coupons, and other securities for collection abroad and collect such instruments in the United States for customers abroad;

(d) Hold securities in safekeeping for, or buy and sell securities upon the order and for the risk of, customers abroad;

(e) Act as paying agent for securities issued by foreign governments or other organizations organized under foreign law and not qualified under the laws of the United States, or any state or the District of Columbia to do business in the United States;

(f) In order to prevent loss on debts previously contracted a branch may acquire shares in a corporation: Provided, That the shares are disposed of as soon as practical but in no event later than two years from the date of acquisition;

(g) Issue letters of credit and create acceptances;

(h) In addition to the powers and activities expressly authorized by this section, a branch shall have the power to carry on such additional activities which are necessarily incidental to the activities expressly authorized by this section. [1975 1st ex.s. c 285 § 1; 1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 11.]

30.42.120 Requirements for accepting deposits or transacting business. A branch shall not commence to transact in this state the business of accepting deposits or transact such business thereafter unless it has met the following requirements:

(1) It has obtained federal deposit insurance corporation insurance covering its eligible deposit liabilities within this state, or in lieu thereof, made arrangements satisfactory to the supervisor for maintenance within this state of additional capital equal to not less than ten percent of its deposit liabilities, computed on the basis of the average daily net deposit balances covering semi-monthly periods as prescribed by the supervisor pursuant to RCW 30.04.090. Such additional capital shall be deposited in the manner provided in RCW 30.42.070.

(2) It holds in this state currency, bonds, notes, debentures, drafts, bills of exchange, or other evidences of indebtedness or other obligations payable in the United States or in United States' funds or, with the approval of the supervisor, in funds freely convertible into United States' funds, in an amount not less than one hundred eight percent of the aggregate amount of liabilities of such alien bank payable at or through its office in this state. When calculating the value of the assets so held, credit shall be given for the amounts deposited pursuant to RCW 30.42.060(3) and 30.42.120(1).

If deposits are not insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, then that fact shall be disclosed to all depositors pursuant to rules and regulations of the supervisor. [1975 1st ex.s. c 285 § 2; 1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 12.]

30.42.130 Taking possession by supervisor—Reasons—Disposition of deposits—Claims—Priorities. The supervisor may take possession of the office of an alien bank for the reasons stated and in the manner provided in chapter 30.44 RCW. Upon the supervisor taking such possession of a branch, no deposit liabilities of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, the amounts deposited pursuant to RCW 30.42.120(1) shall thereupon become the property of the supervisor, free and clear of any and all liens and other claims, and shall be held by him in trust for the United States domiciled depositors of the office in this state of such alien bank. Upon obtaining the approval of the superior court of Thurston county, the supervisor shall reduce such deposited capital to cash and as soon as practicable distribute it to such depositors.

If sufficient cash is available, such distribution shall be in equal amounts to each such depositor: Provided, That no such depositor receives more than the amount of his deposit or an amount equal to the maximum amount insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation, whichever is less. If sufficient cash is not available, such distribution shall be on a pro rata basis to each such depositor: Provided, That no such depositor receives more than the maximum amount insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation. If any cash remains after such distribution, it shall be distributed pro rata to those depositors whose deposits have not been paid in full:

Provided, That no depositor receives more than the amount of his deposit. For purposes of this section, the term "depositor" shall not include any other offices, subsidiaries or affiliates of such alien bank.

The term "deposit" as used in this section shall mean the unpaid balance of money or its equivalent received or held by the branch in the usual course of its business and for which it has given or is obligated to give credit, either conditionally or unconditionally to a demand, time or savings account, or which is evidenced by its certificate of deposit, or a check or draft drawn against a deposit account and certified by the branch, or a letter of credit or traveler's checks on which the branch is primarily liable.

Claims of depositors and creditors shall be made and disposed of in the manner provided in chapter 30.44 RCW in the event of insolvency or inability of the bank to pay its creditors in this state. The capital deposit of the bank shall be available for claims of depositors and creditors. The claims of depositors and creditors shall be paid from the capital deposit in the following order or priority:

(1) Claims of depositors not paid from the amounts deposited pursuant to RCW 30.42.120(1);

(2) Claims of Washington domiciled creditors;

(3) Other creditors domiciled in the United States; and

(4) Creditors domiciled in foreign countries.

In making such examination, the accountant shall follow the rules and regulations promulgated by the supervisor governing such examination.

(2) The supervisor, deputy supervisor or a bank examiner, without previous notice, shall visit the office of an alien bank doing business in this state pursuant to this chapter at least once in each year and more often if necessary, for the purpose of making a full investigation into the condition of such office, and for that purpose they are hereby empowered to administer oaths and to examine under oath any director or member of its governing body, officer, employee or agent of such alien bank or office. (c) It has received from the supervisor his certificate authorizing the applicant bank to establish and operate a bureau in conformity herewith.

(2) Upon receipt of the bank's application, and the conducting of such examination or investigation as the supervisor deems necessary and appropriate and being satisfied that the opening of such bureau will be consistent with the purposes of this chapter, the supervisor may grant approval for the bureau and issue his certificate authorizing the alien bank to establish and operate a bureau in the state of Washington. [1973 1st ex.s. c 53 § 21.]

30.44.020 Supervisor may order levy of assessment. Whenever it shall in any manner appear to the supervisor of banking that any offense or delinquency referred to in RCW 30.44.010 renders a bank or trust company in an unsound or unsafe condition to continue its business or that its capital or surplus is reduced or impaired below the amount required by its articles of incorporation or by this title, or that it has suspended payment of its obligations or is insolvent, said supervisor may notify such bank or trust company to levy an assessment on its stock or otherwise to make good such impairment or offense or other delinquency within such time and in such manner as he may specify or if he deems necessary he may take possession thereof without notice.

The board of directors of any such bank or trust company, with the consent of the holders of record of two-thirds of the capital stock expressed either in writing or by vote at a stockholders' meeting called for that purpose, shall have power and authority to levy such assessment upon the stockholders pro rata and to forfeit the stock upon which any such assessment is not paid, in the Levy of assessments: RCW 30.12.180.

30.44.030 Supervisor's right to take possession may be contested. Within ten days after the supervisor takes possession thereof, a bank or trust company may serve a notice upon the supervisor to appear before the superior court of the county wherein such corporation is located and at a time to be fixed by said court, which shall not be less than five nor more than fifteen days from the date of the service of such notice, to show cause why such corporation should not be restored to the possession of its assets. Upon the return day of such notice, or such further day as the matter may be continued to, the court shall summarily hear said cause and shall dismiss the same, if it be found that possession was taken by the supervisor in good faith and for cause, but if it find that no cause existed for the taking possession of such corporation, it shall require the supervisor to restore such bank or trust company to possession of its assets and enjoin him from further interference therewith without cause. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.030. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 68; RRS § 3275.]

30.44.040 Notice of taking possession. Upon taking possession of any bank or trust company, the supervisor shall forthwith give written notice thereof to all persons having possession of any assets of such corporation. No person knowing of the taking of such possession by the supervisor shall have a lien or charge for any payment thereafter advanced or clearance thereafter made or liability thereafter incurred against any of the assets of such corporation. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.040. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 61; 1915 c 98 § 2; RRS § 3268.]

30.44.050 Powers and duties of supervisor. Upon taking possession of any bank or trust company, the supervisor shall proceed to collect the assets thereof and to preserve, administer and liquidate the business and assets of such corporation. With the approval of the superior court of the county in which such corporation is located, he may sell, compound or compromise bad or doubtful debts, and upon such terms as the court shall direct borrow, mortgage, pledge or sell all or any part of the real estate and personal property of such corporation. He shall deliver to each purchaser or lender an appropriate deed, mortgage, agreement of pledge or other instrument of title or security. If real estate is situated outside of said county, a certified copy of the orders authorizing and confirming the sale or mortgage thereof shall be filed for record in the office of the auditor of the county in which such property is situated. He may appoint special deputy supervisors and other necessary agents to assist in the administration and liquidation of such corporation, a certificate of such appointment to be filed with the clerk of the county in which such corporation is located. He shall require each special deputy to give a surety company bond, conditioned as he shall provide, the premium of which shall be paid out of the assets of such corporation. He may also employ an attorney for legal assistance in such administration and liquidation. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.050. Prior: 1933 c 42 § 25; 1917 c 80 § 62; 1915 c 98 § 3; RRS § 3269.]

30.44.060 Notice to creditors—Claims. The supervisor shall publish once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper which he shall select, a notice requiring all persons having claims against such corporation to make proof thereof at the place therein specified not later than ninety days from the date of the first publication of said notice, which date shall be therein stated. He shall mail similar notices to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the corporation. He may approve or reject any claims, but shall serve notice of rejection upon the claimant by mail or personally. An affidavit of service of such notice shall be prima facie evidence thereof. No action shall be brought on any claim after three months from the date of service of notice of rejection.

Claims of depositors may be presented after the expiration of the time fixed in the notice, and, if approved, shall be entitled to their proportion of prior dividends, if there be funds sufficient therefor, and shall share in the distribution of the remaining assets.

After the expiration of the time fixed in the notice the supervisor shall have no power to accept any claim except the claim of a depositor, and all claims except the claims of depositors shall be barred. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.060. Prior: 1923 c 115 § 10; 1917 c 80 § 63; 1915 c 98 § 4; RRS § 3270.]

Upon the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims, he shall make a duplicate list of claims presented, segregating those approved and those rejected, to be filed as aforesaid. He shall also make and file a supplemental list of claims at least fifteen days before the declaration of any dividend, and in any event at least every six months. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.070. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.090. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 66; 1915 c 98 § 7; RRS § 3273.]

30.44.100 Receiver prohibited except in emergency. No receiver shall be appointed by any court for any bank or trust company nor shall any assignment of any bank or trust company for the benefit of creditors be valid, excepting only that a court otherwise having jurisdiction may in case of imminent necessity appoint a temporary receiver to take possession of and preserve the assets of such corporation. Immediately upon any such appointment, the clerk of such court shall notify the supervisor by telegraph and mail of such appointment and the supervisor shall forthwith take possession of such bank or trust company, as in case of insolvency, and such temporary receiver shall upon demand of the supervisor surrender up to him such possession and all assets which shall have come into the hands of such receiver. The supervisor shall in due course pay such receiver out of the assets of such corporation such amount as the court shall allow. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.100. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 69; 1915 c 98 § 9; RRS § 3276.]

30.44.110 Preferences prohibited—Penalty. Every transfer of its property or assets by any bank or trust company in this state, made in contemplation of insolvency, or after it shall have become insolvent, with a view to the preference of one creditor over another, or to prevent the equal distribution of its property and assets among its creditors, shall be void. Every director, officer or employee making any such transfer shall be guilty of a felony. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.110. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 55; RRS § 3262.]

30.44.120 Receiving deposits when insolvent—Penalty. An officer, director or employee of any bank or trust company who shall fraudulently receive for it any deposit, knowing that such bank or trust company is insolvent, shall be guilty of a felony. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.120. Prior: 1933 c 42 § 26; 1917 c 80 § 81; RRS § 3288.]

Receiving deposits after insolvency prohibited: State Constitution Art. 12 § 12.

30.44.130 Expense of liquidation. All expenses incurred by the supervisor in taking possession, administering and winding up any such corporation, including the expenses of deputies and other assistants and reasonable fees for any attorney who may be employed by him in connection therewith, and the reasonable compensation of any special deputy placed in charge of such corporation shall be a first charge upon the assets thereof. Such charges shall be fixed by the supervisor, subject to the approval of the court. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.130. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 64; 1915 c 98 § 5; RRS § 3271.]

30.44.140 Liquidation after claims are paid. When all proper claims of depositors and creditors (not including stockholders) have been paid, as well as all expenses of administration and liquidation and proper provision has been made for unclaimed or unpaid deposits and dividends, and assets still remain in his hands, the supervisor shall call a meeting of the stockholders of such corporation, giving thirty days' notice thereof, by one publication in a newspaper published in the county where such corporation is located. At such meeting, each share shall entitle the holder thereof to a vote in person or by proxy. A vote by ballot shall be taken to determine whether the supervisor shall wind up the affairs of such corporation or the stockholders appoint an agent to do so. The supervisor, if so required, shall wind up such corporation and distribute its assets to those entitled thereto. If the appointment of an agent is determined upon, the stockholders shall forthwith select such agent by ballot. Such agent shall file a bond to the state of Washington in such amount and so conditioned as the supervisor shall require. Thereupon the supervisor shall transfer to such agent the assets of such corporation then remaining in his hands, and be relieved from further responsibility in reference to such corporation. Such agent shall convert the assets of such corporation into cash and distribute the same to the parties thereunto entitled, subject to the supervision of the court. In case of his death, removal or refusal to act, the stockholders may select a successor with like powers. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.140. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 70; RRS § 3277.]

30.44.150 Unclaimed dividends—Disposition. Any dividends to depositors or other creditors of such bank or trust company remaining uncalled for and unpaid in the hands of the supervisor for six months after order of final distribution, shall be deposited in a bank or trust company to his credit, in trust for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto and subject to the supervision of the court shall be paid by him to them upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of their right thereto.

All moneys so deposited remaining unclaimed for five years after deposit shall escheat to the state for the benefit of the permanent school fund and shall be paid by the supervisor into the state treasury. It shall not be necessary to have the escheat adjudged in a suit or action. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.150. Prior: 1923 c 115 § 11; 1917 c 80 § 71; RRS § 3278.]

30.44.160 Voluntary closing—Notice. Any bank or trust company may place itself under the control of the supervisor to be liquidated as herein provided by posting a notice on its door as follows: "This bank (trust company) is in the hands of the State Supervisor of Banking."

Immediately upon the posting of such notice, the officers of such corporation shall notify the supervisor thereof by telegraph and mail. The posting of such notice or the taking possession of any bank or trust company by the supervisor shall be sufficient to place all of its assets and property of every nature in his possession and bar all attachment proceedings. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.160. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 72; RRS § 3279.]

30.44.170 Voluntary liquidation—Notice to creditors. Any bank or trust company may, upon receipt of written permission from the supervisor, go into voluntary liquidation by a vote of its stockholders owning two-thirds of its capital stock. When such liquidation is authorized, the directors of such corporation shall publish in a newspaper published in the place where such corporation is located, once a week for four consecutive weeks, a notice requiring creditors of such corporation to present their claims against it for payment. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.170. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 74; RRS § 3281.]

30.44.180 Unclaimed dividends on voluntary liquidation. Whenever any bank or trust company shall voluntarily liquidate, any dividends to depositors or other creditors of such bank or trust company remaining uncalled for and unpaid at the conclusion of the liquidation shall be transmitted to the supervisor and shall be deposited by him in a bank or trust company to his credit in trust for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto, and shall be paid by him to them upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of their right thereto.

All moneys so deposited remaining unclaimed for five years after deposit shall escheat to the state for the benefit of the permanent school fund and shall be paid by the supervisor into the state treasury. It shall not be necessary to have the escheat adjudged in a suit or action. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.180. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 1; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-1.]

30.44.190 Disposition of unclaimed personal property. Whenever any bank or trust company shall be liquidated, voluntarily or involuntarily, and shall retain in its possession at the conclusion of the liquidation, uncalled for and unclaimed personal property left with it for safekeeping, such property shall, in the presence of at least one witness, be inventoried by the liquidating agent and sealed in separate packages, each package plainly marked with the name and last known address of the person in whose name the property stands on the books of the bank or trust company. If the property is in safe deposit boxes, such boxes shall be opened by the liquidating agent in the presence of at least one witness, and the property inventoried, sealed in packages and marked as above required. All the packages shall be transmitted to the supervisor, together with certificates signed by the liquidating agent and witness or witnesses, listing separately the property standing in the name of any one person on the books of the bank or trust company, together with the date of inventory, and name and last known address of the person in whose name the property stands. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.190. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 2; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-2.]

30.44.200 Duty of supervisor—Notice to owner. Upon receiving possession of the packages, the supervisor shall cause them to be opened in the presence of at least one witness, the property reinventoried, and the packages resealed, and held for safekeeping. The liquidated bank, its directors, officers, and shareholders, and the liquidating agent shall thereupon be relieved of responsibility and liability for the property so delivered to and received by the supervisor. The supervisor shall send immediately to each person in whose name the property stood on the books of the liquidated bank or trust company, at his last known address, in a securely closed, postpaid and registered letter, a notice that the property listed will be held in his name for a period of not less than two years. At any time after the mailing of such notice, and before the expiration of two years, such person may require the delivery of the property so held, by properly identifying himself and offering evidence of his right thereto, to the satisfaction of the supervisor. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.200. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 3; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-3.]

30.44.210 Final notice after two years—Sale. After the expiration of two years from the time of mailing the notice, the supervisor shall mail in a securely closed postpaid registered letter, addressed to such person at his last known address, a final notice stating that two years have elapsed since the sending of the notice referred to in RCW 30.44.200, and that the supervisor will sell all the property or articles of value set out in the notice, at a specified time and place, not less than thirty days after the time of mailing such final notice. Unless such person shall, on or before the day mentioned, claim the property, identify himself and offer evidence of his right thereto, to the satisfaction of the supervisor, the supervisor may sell all the property or articles of value listed in the notice, at public auction, at the time and place stated in the final notice: Provided, That a notice of the time and place of sale has been published once within ten days prior to the sale in a newspaper published in the county where the sale is held. Any such property held by the supervisor, the owner of which is not known, may be sold at public auction after it has been held by the supervisor for two years, provided, that a notice of the time and place of sale has been published once within ten days prior to the sale in a newspaper published in the county where the sale is held. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.210. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 4; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-4.]

30.44.220 Disposition of proceeds—Escheat. The proceeds of such sale shall be deposited by the supervisor in a bank or trust company to his credit, in trust for the benefit of the person entitled thereto, and shall be paid by him to such person upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of his right thereto.

All moneys so deposited remaining unclaimed for five years after deposit shall escheat to the state for the benefit of the permanent school fund and shall be paid by the supervisor into the state treasury. It shall not be necessary to have the escheat adjudged in a suit or action. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.220. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 5; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-5.]

30.44.230 Procedure as to papers, documents, etc. Whenever the personal property held by a liquidated bank or trust company shall consist either wholly or in part, of documents, letters, or other papers of a private nature, such documents, letters, or papers shall not be sold, but shall be retained by the supervisor for a period of five years, and, unless sooner claimed by the owner, may be thereafter destroyed in the presence of the supervisor and at least one other witness. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.230. Prior: 1947 c 148 § 6; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3281-6.]

for the purpose of voluntary liquidation transfer its assets and liabilities to another bank or trust company, by a vote, or with the written consent of the stockholders of record owning two-thirds of its capital stock, but only with the written consent of the supervisor and upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe. Upon any such transfer being made, or upon the liquidation of any such corporation for any cause whatever or upon its being no longer engaged in the business of a bank or trust company, the supervisor shall terminate its certificate of authority, which shall not thereafter be revived or renewed. When the certificate of authority of any such corporation shall have been revoked, it shall forthwith collect and distribute its remaining assets, and when that is done the supervisor shall certify the fact to the secretary of state, whereupon the corporation shall cease to exist and the secretary of state shall note that fact upon his records. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.240. Prior: 1953 c 236 § 1; 1923 c 115 § 12; 1919 c 209 § 17; 1917 c 80 § 75; RRS § 3282.]

30.44.250 Reopening. Whenever the supervisor has taken possession of a bank or trust company for any cause, he may wind up such corporation and cancel its certificate of authority, unless enjoined from so doing, as herein provided. Or if at any time within ninety days after taking possession, he shall determine that all impairment and delinquencies have been made good, and that it is safe and expedient for such corporation to reopen, he may permit such corporation to reopen upon such terms and conditions as he shall prescribe. Before being permitted to reopen, every such corporation shall pay all of the expenses of the supervisor, as herein elsewhere defined. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.250. Prior: 1917 c 80 § 73; RRS § 3280.]

30.44.260 Destruction of records after liquidation. Where any files, records, documents, books of account or other papers have been taken over and are in the possession of the supervisor in connection with the liquidation of any insolvent banks or trust companies under the laws of this state, the supervisor may, in his discretion at any time after the expiration of one year from the declaration of the final dividend, or from the date when such liquidation has been entirely completed, destroy any of the files, records, documents, books of account or other papers which may appear to the supervisor to be obsolete or unnecessary for future reference as part of the liquidation and files of his office. [1955 c 33 § 30.44.260. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 55 § 1; RRS § 3277-1.]

30.44.270 Federal deposit insurance corporation as receiver or liquidator—Appointment—Powers and duties. The federal deposit insurance corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to be and act without bond as receiver or liquidator of any bank or trust company the deposits in which are to any extent insured by that corporation and which shall have been closed on account of inability to meet the demands of its depositors. In the event of such closing, the supervisor of banking may appoint the federal deposit insurance corporation as receiver or liquidator of such bank or trust company. If the corporation accepts such appointment, it shall have and possess all the powers and privileges provided by the laws of this state with respect to a liquidator of a bank or trust company, its depositors and other creditors, and be subject to all the duties of such liquidator, except insofar as such powers, privileges, or duties are in conflict with the provisions of the federal deposit insurance act, as now or hereafter amended. [1973 1st ex.s. c 54 § 1.]

30.44.280 Payment or acquisition of deposit liabilities by federal deposit insurance corporation—Not hindered by judicial review—Liability. The pendency of any proceedings for judicial review of the supervisor's actions in taking possession and control of a bank or trust company and its assets for the purpose of liquidation shall not operate to defer, delay, impede, or prevent the payment or acquisition by the federal deposit insurance corporation of the deposit liabilities of the bank or trust company which are insured by the corporation. During the pendency of any proceedings for judicial review, the supervisor of banking shall make available to the federal deposit insurance corporation such facilities in or of the bank or trust company and such books, records, and other relevant data of the bank or trust company as may be necessary or appropriate to enable the corporation to pay out or to acquire the insured deposit liabilities of the bank or trust company. The federal deposit insurance corporation and its directors, officers, agents, and employees, the supervisor of banking, and his agents and employees shall be free from liability to the bank or trust company, its directors, stockholders, and creditors for or on account of any action taken in connection herewith. [1973 1st ex.s. c 54 § 2.]

30.46.010 Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter the following terms shall be defined as follows:

(1) "Unsafe condition" shall mean and include, but not be limited to, any one or more of the following circumstances:

(a) If a bank's capital is impaired or impairment of capital is threatened;

(b) If a bank violates the provisions of Title 30 RCW or any other law or regulation applicable to banks;

(c) If a bank conducts a fraudulent or questionable practice in the conduct of its business that endangers the bank's reputation or threatens its solvency;

(d) If a bank conducts its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner;

(e) If a bank violates any conditions of its charter or any agreement entered with the supervisor; or

(f) If a bank fails to carry out any authorized order or direction of the bank examiner or the supervisor.

(2) "Exceeded its powers" shall mean and include, but not be limited to the following circumstances:

(a) If a bank has refused to permit examination of its books, papers, accounts, records, or affairs by the supervisor, his deputy or duly commissioned examiners; or

(b) If a bank has neglected or refused to observe an order of the supervisor to make good, within the time prescribed, any impairment of its capital.

(3) "Consent" includes and means a written agreement by the bank to either supervisory direction or conservatorship under this chapter. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 1.]

30.46.020 Grounds for determining need for supervisory direction—Abatement of determination—Supervisory direction, procedure—Conservator. If upon examination or at any other time it appears to the supervisor that any bank is in an unsafe condition and its condition is such as to render the continuance of its business hazardous to the public or to its depositors and creditors, or if such bank appears to have exceeded its powers or has failed to comply with the law, or if such bank gives its consent, then the supervisor shall upon his determination (1) notify the bank of his determination, and (2) furnish to the bank a written list of the supervisor requirements to abate his determination, and (3) if the supervisor makes further determination to directly supervise, he shall notify the bank that it is under the supervisory direction of the supervisor and that the supervisor is invoking the provisions of this chapter. If placed under supervisory direction the bank shall comply with the lawful requirements of the supervisor within such time as provided in the notice of the supervisor, subject however, to the provisions of this chapter. If the bank fails to comply within such time the supervisor may appoint a conservator as hereafter provided. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 2.]

30.46.030 Supervisory direction—Appointment of representative to supervise—Restrictions on operations. During the period of supervisory direction the supervisor may appoint a representative to supervise such bank and may provide that the bank may not do any of the following during the period of supervisory direction, without the prior approval of the supervisor or the appointed representative.

- (1) Dispose of, convey or encumber any of the assets;
- (2) Withdraw any of its bank accounts;
- (3) Lend any of its funds;
- (4) Invest any of its funds;
- (5) Transfer any of its property; or

(6) Incur any debt, obligation, or liability. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 3.]

30.46.040 Conservator—Appointment—Grounds—Powers, duties and functions. After the period of supervisory direction specified by the supervisor for compliance, if he determines that such bank has failed to comply with the lawful requirements imposed, upon due notice and hearing or by consent of the bank, the supervisor may appoint a conservator, who shall immediately take charge of such bank and all of its property, books, records, and effects. The conservator shall conduct the business of the bank and take such steps toward the removal of the causes and conditions which have necessitated such order, as the supervisor may direct. During the pendency of the conservatorship the conservator shall make such reports to the supervisor from time to time as may be required by the supervisor, and shall be empowered to take all necessary measures to preserve, protect, and recover any assets or property of such bank, including claims or causes of actions belonging to or which may be asserted by such bank, and to deal with the same in his own name as conservator, and shall be empowered to file, prosecute, and defend any suit and suits which have been filed or which may thereafter be filed by or against such bank which are deemed by the conservator to be necessary to protect all of the interested parties for a property affected thereby. The supervisor, or any newly appointed deputy, may be appointed to serve as conservator. If the supervisor, however, is satisfied that such bank is not in condition to continue business in the interest of its depositors or creditors under the conservator as above provided, the supervisor may proceed with appropriate remedies provided by other provisions of this title. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 4.]

30.46.050 Costs as charge against bank's assets. All costs incident to supervisory direction and the conservatorship shall be fixed and determined by the supervisor and shall be a charge against the assets of the bank to be allowed and paid as the supervisor may determine. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 5.]

30.46.060 Request for review of action—Stay of action—Orders subject to review. During the period of the supervisory direction and during the period of conservatorship, the bank may request the supervisor to review an action taken or proposed to be taken by the representative or conservator; specifying wherein the action complained of is believed not to be in the best interest of the bank, and such request shall stay the action specified pending review of such action by the supervisor. Any order entered by the supervisor appointing a representative and providing that the bank shall not do certain acts as provided in RCW 30.46.030 and 30.46.040, any order entered by the supervisor appointing a conservator, and any order by the supervisor following the review of an action of the representative or conservator as herein above provided shall be subject to review in accordance with the administrative procedure act of the state of Washington. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 6.]

30.46.070 Suits against bank or conservator, where brought—Suits by conservator. Any suit filed against a bank or its conservator, after the entrance of an order by the supervisor placing such bank in conservatorship and while such order is in effect, shall be brought in the superior court of Thurston county and not elsewhere. The conservator appointed hereunder for such bank may file suit in any superior court or other court of competent jurisdiction against any person for the purpose of preserving, protecting, or recovering any asset or property of such bank including claims or causes of action belonging to or which may be asserted by such bank. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 7.]

30.46.080 Duration of conservator's term—Rehabilitated banks—Management. The conservator shall serve for such time as is necessary to accomplish the purposes of the conservatorship as intended by this chapter. If rehabilitated, the rehabilitated bank shall be returned to management or new managements under such conditions as are reasonable and necessary to prevent recurrence of the condition which occasioned the conservatorship. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 8.]

30.46.090 Authority of supervisor. If the supervisor determines to act under authority of this chapter, the sequence of his acts and proceedings shall be as set forth in this chapter. However, it is the purpose and substance of this chapter to authorize administrative discretion—to allow the supervisor administrative discretion in the event of unsound banking operations—and in furtherance of that purpose the supervisor is hereby authorized to proceed with regulation either under this chapter or under any other applicable provisions of law or under this chapter in connection with other law, either as such law is now existing or is hereinafter enacted, and it is so provided. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 9.]

30.46.100 Rules and regulations. The supervisor is empowered to adopt and promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary for the implementation of this chapter and its purposes. [1975 1st ex.s. c 87 § 10.]

30.49.010 Definitions. As used in this chapter:
 "Merging bank" means a party to a merger;
 "Converting bank" means a bank converting from a state to a national bank, or the reverse;
 "Merger" includes consolidation;
 "Resulting bank" means the bank resulting from a merger or conversion. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.010. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 1.]

30.49.020 State to resulting national bank—Laws applicable—Vote required—Termination of franchise. This section is applicable where there is to be a resulting national bank.

Nothing in the law of this state shall restrict the right of a state bank to merge with or convert into a resulting national bank. The action to be taken by such merging or converting state bank and its rights and liabilities and those of its shareholders shall be the same as those prescribed at the time of the action for national banks merging with or converting into a resulting state bank by the law of the United States, and not by the law of this state, except that a vote of the holders of two-thirds of each class of voting stock of a state bank shall be required for the merger or conversion, and that on conversion by a state into a national bank the rights of dissenting stockholders shall be those specified in RCW 30.49.090.

Upon the completion of the merger or conversion, the franchise of any merging or converting state bank shall automatically terminate. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.020. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 2.]

30.49.030 State or national to resulting state bank—Law applicable to nationals. This section is applicable where there is to be a resulting state bank.

Upon approval by the supervisor of banking, state or national banks may be merged to result in a state bank, or a national bank may convert into a state bank as hereafter prescribed, except that the action by a national bank shall be taken in the manner prescribed by and shall be subject to limitations and requirements imposed by the law of the United States which shall also govern the rights of its dissenting shareholders. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.030. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 3.]

30.49.040 Merger to resulting state bank—Agreement, contents, approval, amendment. This section is applicable where there is to be a resulting state bank.

(1) The board of directors of each merging state bank shall, by a majority of the entire board, approve a merger agreement which shall contain:

(a) The name of each merging state or national bank and location of each office;

(b) With respect to the resulting state bank, (i) the name and location of the principal and other offices; (ii) the name and residence of each director to serve until the next annual meeting of the stockholders; (iii) the name and residence of each officer; (iv) the amount of capital, the number of shares and the par value of each share; and (v) the amendments to its charters and bylaws;

(c) Provisions governing the manner of converting the shares of the merging state or national banks into shares of the resulting state bank;

(d) A statement that the agreement is subject to approval by the supervisor of banking and the stockholders of each merging state or national bank;

(e) Provisions governing the manner of disposing of the shares of the resulting state bank not taken by dissenting shareholders of merging state or national banks;

(f) Such other provisions as the supervisor of banking requires to enable him to discharge his duties with respect to the merger;

(2) After approval by the board of directors of each merging state bank, the merger agreement shall be submitted to the supervisor of banking for approval, together with certified copies of the authorizing resolutions of each board of directors showing approval by a majority of the entire board and evidence of proper action by the board of directors of any merging national bank;

(3) Within sixty days after receipt by the supervisor of banking of the papers specified in subdivision (2), the supervisor of banking shall approve or disapprove of the merger agreement, and if no action is taken, the agreement shall be deemed approved. The supervisor of banking shall approve the agreement if it appears that:

(a) The resulting state bank meets the requirements of state law as to the formation of a new state bank;

(b) The agreement provides an adequate capital structure including surplus in relation to the deposit liabilities of the resulting state bank and its other activities which are to continue or are to be undertaken;

(c) The agreement is fair;

(d) The merger is not contrary to the public interest.

If the supervisor of banking disapproves an agreement, he shall state his objections and give an opportunity to the merging state or national banks to amend the merger agreement to obviate such objections. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.040. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 4.]

30.49.050 Merger to resulting state bank—Stockholders' vote—Notice of meeting—Waiver of notice. To be effective, a merger which is to result in a state bank must be approved by the stockholders of each merging state bank by a vote of two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock of each class at a meeting called to consider such action, which vote shall constitute the adoption of the charter and bylaws of the resulting state bank, including the amendments in the merger agreement.

Unless waived in writing, notice of the meeting of stockholders shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the place where the principal office of each merging state bank is located, at least once each week for four successive weeks, and by mail, at least fifteen days before the date of the meeting, to each stockholder of record of each merging state bank at his address on the books of his bank; no notice of publication need be given if written waivers are received from the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding shares of each class of stock. The notice shall state that dissenting stockholders will be entitled to payment of the value of only those shares which are voted against approval of the plan. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.050. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 5.]

30.49.060 Merger to resulting state bank—Effective date—Termination of charters—Certificate of merger. A merger which is to result in a state bank shall, unless a later date is specified in the agreement, become effective after the filing with and upon the approval of the supervisor of banking of the executed agreement together with copies of the resolutions of the stockholders of each merging state or national bank approving it, certified by the bank's president or a vice president and a secretary. The charters of the merging banks, other than the resulting bank, shall thereupon automatically terminate.

The supervisor of banking shall thereupon issue to the resulting state bank a certificate of merger specifying the name of each merging state or national bank and the name of the resulting state bank. Such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the merger and of the correctness of all proceedings therefor in all courts and places, and may be recorded in any office for the recording of deeds to evidence the new name in which the property of the merging state or national bank is held. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.060. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 6.]

30.49.070 Conversion of national to state bank—Requirements—Procedure. Except as provided in RCW 30.49.100, a national bank located in this state which follows the procedure prescribed by the laws of the United States to convert into a state bank shall be granted a state charter by the supervisor of banking if he finds that the bank meets the standards as to location of offices, capital structures, and business experience and character of officers and directors for the incorporation of a state bank.

The national bank may apply for such charter by filing with the supervisor of banking a certificate signed by its president and cashier and by a majority of the entire board of directors, setting forth the corporate action taken in compliance with the provisions of the laws of the United States governing the conversion of a national to a state bank, and the articles of incorporation, approved by the stockholders, for the government of the bank as a state bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.070. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 7.]

30.49.080 Resulting bank as same business and corporate entity—Use of name of merging, converting bank. A resulting state or national bank shall be the same business and corporate entity as each merging state or national bank or as the converting state or national bank with all property, rights, powers and duties of each merging state or national bank or the converting state or national bank, except as affected by the state law in the case of a resulting state bank or the federal law in the case of a resulting national bank, and by the charter and bylaws of the resulting state or national bank.

A resulting state or national bank shall have the right to use the name of any merging state or national bank or of the converting bank whenever it can do any act under such name more conveniently.

Any reference to a merging or converting state or national bank in any writing, whether executed or taking effect before or after the merger or conversion, shall be deemed a reference to the resulting state or national bank if not inconsistent with the other provisions of such writing. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.080. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 8.]

30.49.090 Rights of dissenting shareholder—Appraisal—Amount due as debt. The owner of shares of a state bank which were voted against a merger to result in a state bank, or against the conversion of a state bank into a national bank, shall be entitled to receive their value in cash, if and when the merger or conversion becomes effective, upon written demand made to the resulting state or national bank at any time within thirty days after the effective date of the merger or conversion, accompanied by the surrender of the stock certificates. The value of such shares shall be determined, as of the date of the shareholders' meeting approving the merger or conversion, by three appraisers, one to be selected by the owners of two-thirds of the dissenting shares, one by the board of directors of the resulting state or national bank, and the third by the two so chosen. The valuation agreed upon by any two appraisers shall govern. If the appraisal is not completed within ninety days after the merger or conversion becomes effective, the supervisor of banking shall cause an appraisal to be made.

The expenses of appraisal shall be paid by the resulting state bank.

The resulting state or national bank may fix an amount which it considers to be not more than the fair market value of the shares of a merging or the converting bank at the time of the stockholders' meeting approving the merger or conversion, which it will pay dissenting shareholders of the bank entitled to payment in cash. The amount due under such accepted offer or under the appraisal shall constitute a debt of the resulting state or national bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.090. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 9.]

30.49.100 Provision for successors to fiduciary positions. Where a resulting state bank is not to exercise trust powers, the supervisor of banking shall not approve a merger or conversion until satisfied that adequate provision has been made for successors to fiduciary positions held by the merging state or national banks or the converting state or national bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.100. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 10.]

30.49.110 Assets, business—Time for conformance with state law. If a merging or converting state or national bank has assets which do not conform to the requirements of state law for the resulting state bank or carries on business activities which are not permitted for the resulting state bank, the supervisor of banking may permit a reasonable time to conform with state law. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.110. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 11.]

30.49.120 Resulting state bank—Valuation of certain assets limited. Without approval by the supervisor of banking no asset shall be carried on the books of the resulting state bank at a valuation higher than that on the books of the merging or converting state or national bank at the time of its last examination by a state or national bank examiner before the effective date of the merger or conversion. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.120. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 12.]

30.49.130 Severability—1955 c 33. If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of the chapter are declared to be severable. The invalidity of any provision as to a national bank or as to the stockholders of a national bank shall not affect its validity as to a state bank or as to the stockholders of a state bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.49.130. Prior: 1953 c 234 § 13.]

30.56.020 Postponement of payments on deposits—Order—Posting. The supervisor of banking is hereby empowered, upon the written application of the directors of a bank, if in his judgment the circumstances warrant it, to authorize a bank to postpone, for a period of ninety days and for such further period or periods as he may deem expedient, the payment of such proportions or amounts of the demands of its depositors from time to time as he may deem necessary. The period or periods of postponement and the proportions or amounts of the demands to be deferred shall be determined by him according to the ability of the bank to pay withdrawals. By the regulations prescribed for deferred payments, the supervisor may classify accounts and limit payments to depositors of the several classes differently. The supervisor's orders, regulations and directions shall be in writing and be filed in his office, and copies thereof shall be delivered to the bank and be forthwith posted in a conspicuous place in the banking room. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.020. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 2; RRS § 3293-2.]

30.56.030 Business during postponement. During postponement of payments the bank shall remain open for business and be in charge of its officers, but shall not make any loans, investments or expenditures except such as the supervisor will approve as necessary to conserve its assets and pay the cost of operation. The bank's failure during a period of postponement to repay deposits existing at the commencement of the period, shall not authorize or require the supervisor to take charge of or liquidate the bank, nor constitute ground for the appointment of a receiver. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.030. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 3; RRS § 3293-3.]

30.56.040 Deposits received during postponement. Deposits received during a period of postponement and for sixty days thereafter shall be kept separate from other assets of the bank, shall not draw interest, shall not be loaned or invested except by depositing with reserve banks or investing in liquid securities approved by the supervisor, and shall be withdrawable upon demand. If during a postponement of payments, or at the expiration thereof, the supervisor shall take charge of the bank for liquidation, deposits made during the period of postponement shall be deemed trust funds and be repaid to the depositors forthwith. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.040. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 4; RRS § 3293-4.]

30.56.050 Plan for reorganization—Conditions. At the request of the directors of a bank, the supervisor may propose a plan for its reorganization, if in his judgment it would be for the best interests of the bank's creditors and of the community which the bank serves. The plan may contemplate such temporary ratable reductions of the demands of depositors and other creditors as would leave its reserve adequate and its capital and surplus unimpaired after the charging off of bad and doubtful debts; and also may contemplate a postponement of payments as in a case falling within RCW 30.56.020. The plan shall be fully described in a writing, the original of which shall be filed in the office of the supervisor and several copies of which shall be furnished the bank, where one or more copies shall be kept available for inspection by stockholders, depositors and other creditors. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.050. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 5; RRS § 3293-5.]

30.56.060 Approval of plan—Unsecured claims. If, within ninety days after the filing of the plan, creditors having unsecured demands against the bank aggregating not less than three-fourths of the amount of the unsecured demands of all its creditors, approved the plan, the supervisor shall have power to declare the plan to be in effect. Thereupon the unsecured demands of creditors shall be ratably reduced according to the plan and appropriate debits shall be made in the books. The right of a secured creditor to enforce his security shall not be affected by the operation of the plan, but the amount of any deficiency to which he may be entitled shall be reduced as unsecured demands were reduced. If the plan contemplates a temporary postponement of payments, RCW 30.56.020, 30.56.030 and 30.56.040 shall be applicable, and the bank shall comply therewith and conduct its affairs accordingly. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.060. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 6; RRS § 3293-6.]

30.56.070 No dividends until reductions paid. A bank for which such a plan has been put into effect shall not declare or pay a dividend or distribute any of its assets among stockholders until there shall have been set aside for and credited ratably to the creditors whose demands were reduced an amount equal to the aggregate of the reductions. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.070. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 7; RRS 3293-7.]

30.56.080 Failure to pay in excess of plan, effect. The failure of a bank operating under such a plan to pay to a creditor at any time a sum greater than the plan then requires, shall not constitute a default nor authorize or require the supervisor to take charge of or liquidate the bank nor entitle the creditor to maintain an action against the bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.080. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 8; RRS 3293-8.]

30.56.090 New bank may be authorized. If the net assets of a bank operating under such a plan are sufficient to provide the capital and surplus of a newly organized bank in the same place, the supervisor, under such reasonable conditions as he shall prescribe, may approve the incorporation of a new bank and permit it to take over the assets and business and assume the liabilities of the existing bank. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.090. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 9; RRS § 3293-9.]

30.56.100 Chapter designated "bank stabilization act". This chapter shall be known as the bank stabilization act. [1955 c 33 § 30.56.100. Prior: 1933 c 49 § 1; RRS § 3293-1.]

30.99.010 Application of chapter. This chapter shall apply to express trusts, except as hereinafter limited, which are executed by the trustor after the *effective date hereof. This chapter shall not apply to resulting trusts, constructive trusts, business trusts where certificates of beneficial interest are issued to the beneficiary, investment trusts, voting trusts, trusts in the nature of mortgages or pledges, trusts created by the judgment or decree of a court not sitting in probate, liquidation trusts, or trusts for the sole purpose of paying dividends, interest, interest coupons, salaries, wages, pensions or profits, trusts created in deposits in any banking institution pursuant to RCW 30.20.035 or RCW 32.12.030, or in accounts in savings and loan associations pursuant to RCW 33.20.070, unless any such trust which is created in writing incorporates this chapter in whole or in part. [1959 c 124 § 1.]

*Reviser's note: The "effective date hereof" is midnight June 10, 1959, see preface 1959 session laws.

30.99.020 Power of trustor—Trust provisions control chapter provisions. The trustor of a trust may by the provisions thereof relieve the trustee from any or all of the duties, restrictions and liabilities which would otherwise be imposed by this chapter, or may alter or deny any or all of the privileges and powers conferred by this chapter; or may add duties, restrictions, liabilities, privileges, or powers to those imposed or granted by this chapter. If any specific provision of this chapter is in conflict with or inconsistent with the provisions of a trust, the provisions of the trust shall control whether or not specific reference is made therein to this chapter. [1959 c 124 § 2.]

30.99.030 Exercise of powers by co-trustees. Any power vested in three or more trustees jointly may be exercised by a majority of such trustees; but no trustee who has not joined in exercising a power shall be liable to the beneficiaries or to others for the consequences of such exercise; nor shall a dissenting trustee be liable for the consequences of an act in which he joins at the direction of the majority of the trustees, if he expressed his dissent in writing to each of his co-trustees at or before the time of such joinder.

Where two or more trustees are appointed to execute a trust and one or more of them for any reason does not accept the appointment or having accepted ceases to be a trustee, the survivor or survivors shall execute the trust and shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority given to the trustees jointly.

Nothing in this section shall excuse a co-trustee from liability for failure either to participate in the administration of the trust or to attempt to prevent a breach of trust. [1959 c 124 § 3.]

30.99.040 Resignation of trustee. Upon petition of the trustee of a trust, the superior court having jurisdiction may accept his resignation and discharge him from the trust upon such notice, if any, and upon such terms as such court may require. [1959 c 124 § 4.]

30.99.050 Filling vacancy in office of trustee. Any beneficiary of a trust, the trustor if alive, or the trustee may in writing petition the superior court having jurisdiction for the appointment of a successor trustee whenever the office of trustee becomes vacant or upon filing of a petition of resignation by a trustee. The court shall make an order fixing the time and place for hearing the petition and the notice thereof shall be signed by the clerk of said court. Petitioner shall cause a copy of the notice to be mailed to each beneficiary, the trustor if alive, and to the incumbent trustee, if any, whose names and addresses are known to him, not less than ten days before the date of the hearing. Proof of the mailing of such notice shall be made by affidavit which shall be filed at or before the hearing. All those whose names or addresses are not known or are not legally competent and any beneficiary who is not ascertained shall be represented at the hearing by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court when it sets the time of hearing. Upon conclusion of the hearing the court shall appoint a successor trustee after giving due consideration to the individual or corporate character of trustor's original trustee, any nominations by those entitled to petition for the appointment or by the guardian ad litem, and all other relevant and material facts. [1959 c 124 § 5.]

30.99.060 Power of successor trustee. A successor trustee of a trust shall succeed to all the powers, duties and discretionary authority of the original trustee. [1959 c 124 § 6.]

30.99.070 Power of trustee. A trustee, or the trustees jointly, of a trust shall, in addition to the authority otherwise given by law, have the power and the exercise of discretion in the application thereof, to acquire, invest, reinvest, exchange, sell, convey and manage the trust property in accordance with the standards provided by law, and in so doing may:

(1) Receive property from any source as additions to the trust or any fund thereof to be held and administered under the provisions thereof;

(2) Sell on credit; and grant, purchase or exercise options;

(3) Sell or exercise subscriptions to stock or other corporate securities and to exercise conversion rights; deposit stock or other corporate securities with any protective or other similar committee; and assent to corporate sales, leases and encumbrances;

(4) Vote trust securities in person or by proxy with power of substitution; and enter into voting trusts;

(5) Register and hold any stocks, securities or other property in the name of a nominee or nominees without mention of the trust relationship, provided the trustee or trustees shall be liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of any such nominee;

(6) Grant leases of trust property, with or without options to purchase or renew, to begin within a reasonable period and for terms within or extending beyond the duration of the trust, for any purpose including exploration for and removal of oil, gas and other minerals; enter into community oil leases, pooling and unitization agreements; create restrictions, easements and other servitudes; alter, renovate, add to or demolish any building, subdivide, develop, improve, dedicate to public use, make or obtain the vacation of public plats, adjust boundaries, partition real property and on exchange or partition to adjust differences in valuation by giving or receiving money or money's worth;

(7) Cause or participate in the formation, reorganization, merger, consolidation and dissolution of corporate or other business undertakings where trust property may be affected and retain any property received pursuant thereto; limit management participation in any partnership and to act as a limited partner; charge profits and losses of any business or farm operation to the trust estate as a whole and not to the trustee; and make available to or invest in any business or farm operation additional moneys from the trust estate or other sources;

(8) Compromise or submit claims to arbitration; advance funds and borrow money, secured or unsecured, from any source, including a corporate trustee's banking department; and mortgage, pledge the assets or credit of the trust estate or otherwise encumber trust property, including future income;

(9) Determine the hazards to be insured against and maintain insurance therefor;

(10) Select any part of the trust estate in satisfaction of any partition or distribution, in kind, in money or both; pay any income or principal distributable to or for the use of any beneficiary, whether or not such beneficiary is under legal disability, to him or for his use to his parent, guardian, person with whom he resides or third persons. [1959 c 124 § 7.]

30.99.080 Nonliability of third persons without knowledge of breach. In the absence of knowledge of a breach of trust, no party dealing with a trustee shall be required to see to the application of any moneys or other properties delivered to the trustee. [1959 c 124 § 8.]

30.99.090 Nonliability for action or inaction based on lack of knowledge of events. When the happening of any event, including but not limited to such events as marriage, divorce, performance of educational requirements or death, affects the administration or distribution of the trust then a trustee who has exercised reasonable care to ascertain the happening of such event shall not be liable for any action or inaction based on lack of knowledge of such event. A corporate trustee shall not be liable prior to receiving such knowledge or notice in its trust department office where the trust is being administered. [1959 c 124 § 9.]

30.99.100 Contract and tort liability. Actions on contracts which have been transferred to a trust and on contracts made by a trustee, and actions in tort for personal liability incurred by a trustee in the course of his administration may be maintained by the party in whose favor the cause of action has accrued as follows:

(1) The plaintiff may sue the trustee in his representative capacity and any judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff shall be collectible by execution out of the trust property: Provided, however, If the action is in tort, collection shall not be had from the trust property unless the court shall determine in such action that (a) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee or his predecessor was properly engaged for the trust; or (b) that, although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, neither the trustee nor his predecessor, nor any officer or employee of the trustee or his predecessor, was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability; or (c) that, although the tort did not fall within classes (a) or (b) above, it increased the value of the trust property. If the tort is within classes (a) or (b) above, collection may be had of the full amount of damage proved, and if the tort is within class (c) above, collection may be had only to the extent of the increase in the value of the trust property.

(2) If the action is on a contract made by the trustee, the trustee may be held personally liable on such contract, if personal liability is not excluded. Either the addition by the trustee of the words "trustee" or "as trustee" after the signature of a trustee to a contract or the transaction of business as trustee under an assumed name in compliance with RCW 19.80.010 to *19.80.050 inclusive shall exclude the trustee from personal liability. If the action is on a contract transferred to the trust or trustee, subject to any rights therein vested at time of such transfer, the trustee shall be personally liable only if he has in writing assumed such liability.

(3) In any such action against the trustee in his representative capacity the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if he had paid the plaintiff's claim.

(4) The trustee may also be held personally liable for any tort committed by him, or by his agents or employees in the course of their employments, subject to the rights of exoneration or reimbursement:

(a) A trustee who has incurred personal liability for a tort committed in the administration of the trust is entitled to exoneration therefor from the trust property if (i) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee was properly engaged for the trust, or (ii) although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, if neither the trustee nor any officer or employee of the trustee was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability;

(b) A trustee who commits a tort which increases the value of the trust property shall be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement with respect thereto to the extent of such increase in value, even though he would not otherwise be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement.

(5) No judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any such action unless the plaintiff shall cause a copy of the notice of the hearing on such action to be mailed not less than twenty days before the date therefor to the trustor, if living, the trustee and to each beneficiary whose name and address is known to him. Proof of the mailing of such notice shall be made by affidavit which shall be filed at or before the hearing. All those whose names or addresses are not known or are not legally competent and any beneficiary who is not ascertained shall be represented at the hearing by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court when it sets the time of hearing.

(6) Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the existing law with regard to the liability of the trustee of a charitable trust for the torts of the trustee. [1959 c 124 § 10.]

See RCW 43.17.010, 43.19.010, 43.19.020 and 43.19.040.

Supervisor of banking, and bank examiners: Chapter 43.19 RCW.

31.08.020 License required. No person shall engage in the business of making secured or unsecured loans of money, credit, goods, or things in action in the amount or of the value of two thousand five hundred dollars or less and charge, contract for, or receive a greater rate of interest, discount, or consideration therefor than the lender would be permitted by law to charge if he were not a licensee hereunder except as authorized by this chapter and without first obtaining a license from the supervisor. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 1; 1959 c 212 § 1; 1941 c 208 § 2; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-2.]

31.08.030 Application for license—Fees—Assets—Bond. Application for such license shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form, if any, prescribed by the supervisor, and shall contain the name and the address (both of the residence and place of business) of the applicant, and if the applicant is a copartnership or association, of every member thereof, and if a corporation, of each officer and director thereof; also the county and municipality with street and number, if any, where the business is to be conducted and such further relevant information as the supervisor may require. Such applicant at the time of making such application shall pay to the supervisor the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars as a fee for investigating the application and the additional sum of one hundred dollars as an annual license fee for a period terminating on the last day of the current calendar year.

Every applicant shall also prove, in form satisfactory to the supervisor, that he or it has available for the operation of such business at the location specified in the application, liquid assets of at least fifty thousand dollars.

At the time of filing of the application, the applicant shall also file with the supervisor a bond to be approved by the supervisor in the penal sum of two thousand five hundred dollars, executed by the applicant as obligor and by a surety company authorized to do a surety business in this state as surety, whose liability as such surety shall not exceed the said sum in the aggregate. Such bond shall run to the state of Washington as obligee for the use and benefit of the state and of any person or persons who may have cause of action against the obligor of said bond under the provisions of this chapter. Such bond shall be conditioned that said obligor as licensee hereunder will faithfully conform to and abide by the provisions of this chapter and of all general rules and regulations lawfully made by the supervisor hereunder and will pay to the state and any such person or persons any and all moneys that may become due and owing to the state from such obligor under and by virtue of the provisions of this chapter. [1979 c 18 § 5; 1977 ex.s. c 150 § 2; 1959 c 212 § 2; 1941 c 208 § 3; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-3. Formerly RCW 31.08.030 and 31.08.040.]

31.08.050 Investigation and action on application.

Upon the filing of such application and the payment of such fees and the approval of such bond the supervisor shall investigate the facts and if he shall find that the financial responsibility, experience, character, and general fitness of the applicant, and of the members thereof if the applicant be a copartnership or association, and of the officers and directors thereof if the applicant be a corporation, are such as to command the confidence of the community and to warrant belief that the business will be operated honestly, fairly, and efficiently within the purposes of this chapter, and that allowing such applicant to engage in business, will promote the convenience and advantage of the community in which the business of the applicant is to be conducted, and that the applicant has available for the operation of such business at the specified location liquid assets of at least fifty thousand dollars, (the foregoing facts being conditions precedent to the issuance of a license under this chapter), he shall thereupon issue and deliver a license to the applicant to make loans in accordance with the provisions of this chapter at the location specified in the said application, which license shall remain in full force and effect until it is surrendered by the licensee or revoked or suspended as hereinafter provided; if the supervisor shall not so find he shall not issue such license and he shall notify the applicant of the denial and return to the applicant the bond and sum paid by the applicant as a license fee, retaining the two hundred and fifty dollars investigation fee to cover the costs of investigating the application. The supervisor shall approve or deny every application for license hereunder within sixty days from the filing thereof with the said fees and the said approved bond.

If the application is denied, the supervisor shall within twenty days thereafter file with the division of banking of the department of general administration his order of denial together with his findings with respect thereto and the reasons supporting the order, and forthwith serve upon the applicant a copy thereof, from which order the applicant may request a hearing and appeal pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 3; 1941 c 208 § 4; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-4.]

31.08.060 License—Contents—Posting. Such license shall state the address at which the business is to be conducted and shall state fully the name of the licensee, and if the licensee is a copartnership or association, the names of the members thereof, and if a corporation, the date and place of its incorporation. Such license shall be kept conspicuously posted in the place of business of the licensee and shall not be transferable or assignable. [1941 c 208 § 5; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-5.]

31.08.070 Additional bond. If the supervisor shall find at any time that the bond is insecure, depleted, exhausted, or otherwise doubtful, an additional bond of the character specified in RCW 31.08.030, to be approved by him, in the sum of not more than two thousand five hundred dollars, shall be filed by the licensee within ten days after written demand upon the licensee by the supervisor.

Every licensee shall maintain at all times assets of at least fifty thousand dollars for each licensed place of business either in liquid form available for the operation of or actually used in the conduct of such business at the location specified in the license. [1979 c 18 § 6; 1977 ex.s. c 150 § 4; 1941 c 208 § 6; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-6.]

31.08.080 License required for each place of business. Not more than one place of business shall be maintained under the same license, but the supervisor may issue more than one license to the same licensee upon compliance with all the provisions of this chapter governing an original issuance of a license, for each such new license.

Whenever a licensee shall wish to change his place of business to a street address other than that designated in his license he shall give written notice thereof to the supervisor and shall pay to the supervisor an investigation fee of one hundred dollars. Upon receipt of such notice and fee the supervisor shall investigate the facts, and, if he shall find that allowing such licensee to engage in business in such new location will promote the convenience and advantage of the community in which the licensee desires to conduct his business, he shall attach to the license in writing his approval of the change and the date thereof, which shall be authority for the operation of such business under such license at such new location. If the supervisor shall not so find he shall deny the licensee permission so to change the location of his place of business, in the manner specified and subject to the provisions contained in the last paragraph of RCW 31.08.050. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 5; 1941 c 208 § 7; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-7.]

31.08.090 Annual license fee and bond. Every licensee shall, for each license held by him, on or before the twentieth day of each December, pay to the supervisor the sum of one hundred dollars as an annual license fee and shall at the same time file with the supervisor a bond to be approved by the supervisor in the same amount and of the same character as required by RCW 31.08.030. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 6; 1941 c 208 § 8; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-8.]

31.08.100 Revocation, suspension, or surrender of license—Reinstatement—Effect. The supervisor shall, upon ten days' written notice to the licensee stating the contemplated action and in general the grounds therefor, and upon reasonable opportunity to be heard, revoke any license issued hereunder if he shall find that:

(1) The licensee has failed to pay the annual license fee or to maintain in effect the bond or bonds required under the provisions of this chapter or to comply with any specific order or demand of the supervisor lawfully made and directed to the licensee pursuant to and within the authority of this chapter; or that

(2) The licensee, either knowingly or without the exercise of due care to prevent the same, has violated any provisions of this chapter or any general rule or regulation lawfully made by the supervisor under and within the authority of this chapter; or that

(3) Any fact or condition exists which, if it had existed at the time of the original application for such license, clearly would have warranted the supervisor in refusing originally to issue such license.

The supervisor may, upon five days' written notice and after a hearing, suspend any license for a period not exceeding thirty days, pending investigation.

The supervisor may revoke or suspend only the particular license with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension may occur or exist, or, if he shall find that such grounds for revocation or suspension are of general application to all offices, or to more than one office, operated by such licensee, he shall revoke or suspend all of the licenses issued to said licensee or such licenses as such grounds apply to, as the case may be.

Any licensee may surrender any license by delivering to the supervisor written notice that he thereby surrenders such license, but such surrender shall not affect such licensee's civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior to such surrender.

No revocation or suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any preexisting lawful contract between the licensee and any borrower.

Every license issued hereunder shall remain in force and effect until the same shall have been surrendered, revoked, or suspended in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, but the supervisor shall have authority on his own initiative to reinstate suspended licenses or to issue new licenses to a licensee whose license or licenses shall have been revoked if no fact or condition then exists which clearly would have warranted the supervisor in refusing originally to issue such license under this chapter.

Whenever the supervisor shall revoke or suspend a license issued pursuant to this chapter, he shall forthwith file with the division of banking of the department of finance, budget and business his order of revocation or suspension together with his finding with respect thereto and the reasons supporting the order, and forthwith serve upon the licensee a copy thereof, from which order the applicant may appeal as provided in RCW 31.08-.260. [1941 c 208 § 9; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-9. Formerly RCW 31.08.100, 31.08.110 and 31.08.120.]

Reviser's note: The powers and duties of the division of banking of the department of finance, budget and business devolved upon the department of general administration. See note following RCW 31.08.010.

31.08.130 Examinations—Cost. For the purpose of discovering violations of this chapter or securing information lawfully required by him hereunder, the supervisor may at any time, either personally or by a person or persons duly designated by him, investigate the loans and business and examine the books, accounts, records, and files used therein, of every licensee and of every person who shall be engaged in the business described in RCW 31.08.020, whether such person shall act or claim to act as principal or agent, or under or without the authority of this chapter. For that purpose the supervisor and his duly designated representatives shall have free access to the offices and places of business, books, accounts, papers, records, files, safes, and vaults of all such persons. The supervisor and all persons duly designated by him shall have authority to require the attendance of and to examine under oath all persons whomsoever whose testimony he may require relative to such loans or such business or to the subject matter of any examination, investigation or hearing. The supervisor shall make such an examination of the affairs, business, office, and records of each licensee at least once each year. The actual cost of every examination shall be paid to the supervisor by every licensee so examined: Provided, however, That the actual cost of examining each licensed place of business shall not exceed the sum of two hundred fifty dollars annually. [1959 c 212 § 3; 1941 c 208 § 10; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-10.]

31.08.140 Records—Annual report. The licensee shall keep and use in his business such books, accounts, and records as will enable the supervisor to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations lawfully made by the supervisor hereunder, to which books, accounts, and records the supervisor shall have free access. Every licensee shall preserve such books, accounts and records, including cards used in the card system, if any, for at least two years after making the final entry on any loan recorded therein.

Each licensee shall annually on or before the first day of March file a report with the supervisor giving such relevant information as he reasonably may require concerning the business and operations during the preceding calendar year of each licensed place of business conducted by such licensee within the state. Such report shall be made under oath and shall be in the form prescribed by the supervisor, who shall make and publish annually an analysis and recapitulation of such reports. [1941 c 208 § 11; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-11.]

31.08.150 Prohibited acts. No licensee or other person shall advertise, print, display, publish, distribute, broadcast, or televise or cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, broadcast, or televised in any manner whatsoever any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms, or conditions for the lending of money, credit, goods, or things in action in the amount or of the value of two thousand five hundred dollars or less. The supervisor may order any licensee to desist from any conduct which he shall find to be a violation of the foregoing provisions.

The supervisor may require that rates of charge, if stated by a licensee, be stated fully and clearly in such manner as he may deem necessary to prevent misunderstanding thereof by prospective borrowers.

No licensee shall conduct the business of making loans under this chapter within any office, room, or place of business in which any other business is solicited or transacted, or in association or conjunction therewith, if the supervisor shall find, after five days' written notice and after a hearing that the solicitation or transaction of such other business conceals evasion of this chapter by the licensee or is of such nature that such solicitation or transaction would facilitate evasion of this chapter or of the general rules and regulations lawfully made hereunder, and shall order such licensee in writing to desist from such conduct.

No licensee shall conduct, or advertise such business or make any loan provided for by this chapter under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in a license issued under this chapter.

No licensee shall take any confession of judgment or any power of attorney to confess judgment. No licensee shall take any note, promise to pay, or other obligation signed by the borrower that does not accurately disclose the actual amount of the loan, the time for which it is made, and the agreed rate of charge, nor any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after the proceeds of the loan are delivered. When charges are precomputed, as permitted by subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160, the note shall disclose the amount of the precomputed charge. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 7; 1959 c 212 § 4; 1941 c 208 § 12; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-12.]

31.08.160 Rates and charges—Splitting loans prohibited. (1) Every licensee hereunder may lend any sum of money not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars in amount and may charge, contract for, and receive thereon charges at a rate not exceeding two and one-half percent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance of any loan not in excess of five hundred dollars, one and one-half percent per month on that part of the unpaid principal balance of any loan in excess of five hundred dollars and not in excess of one thousand dollars, and one percent per month on any remainder of such unpaid principal balance.

(2) Charges on loans made under this chapter shall not be paid, deducted, discounted, or received in advance, or compounded, but the rate of charge authorized by this section may be precomputed as provided in subsection (3) of this section. Charges on loans made under this chapter, except as permitted by subsection (3) hereof, (a) shall be computed and paid only as a percentage per month of the unpaid principal balance or portions thereof, and (b) shall be so expressed in every obligation signed by the borrower. For the purpose of this section a month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to the corresponding date in the next month and if there is no such corresponding date then to the last day of the next month; and a day shall be considered one-thirtieth of a month when computation is made for a fraction of a month.

(3) When the loan contract requires repayment in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined, the charges may be precomputed at the monthly rate on scheduled unpaid principal balances according to the terms of the contract and added to the principal of the loan. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed charge until the contract is fully paid. The acceptance or payment of charges on loans made under the provisions of this subsection shall not be deemed to constitute payment, deduction, or receipt thereof in advance nor compounding under subsection (2) above. Such precomputed charge shall be subject to the following adjustments:

(a) The portion of the precomputed charge applicable to any particular monthly installment period shall bear the same ratio to the total precomputed charge, excluding any adjustment made under paragraph (f) of this subsection, as the balance scheduled to be outstanding during that monthly period bears to the sum of all monthly balances scheduled originally by the contract of loan.

(b) If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, refinancing, or otherwise before the final installment date, the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to the full installment periods following the installment date nearest the date of such prepayment shall be rebated. In computing any required rebate, any prepayment made on or before the fifteenth day following an installment date shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date preceding such prepayment. If prepayment in full occurs before the first installment date an additional rebate of one-thirtieth of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to a first installment period of one month shall be made for each day from the date of such prepayment to the first scheduled installment date. If judgment is obtained before the final installment date, the contract balance shall be reduced by the rebate of precomputed charge which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date judgment is obtained.

(c) If the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments on which no default charge has been collected is deferred one or more full months and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge. Such deferment charge shall not exceed the portion of the precomputed charge applicable under the original contract of loan to the first month of the deferment period multiplied by the number of months in said period. The deferment period is the month or months in which no scheduled payment has been made or in which no payment is to be required by reason of the deferment. In computing any default charge, or required rebate, the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following the deferment period and prior to the deferred maturity shall remain the same as that applicable to such balances and periods under the original contract of loan. Such charge may be collected at the time of deferment or at any time thereafter. If a loan is prepaid in full during a deferment period, the borrower shall receive, in addition to the rebate required under paragraph (b) of this subsection, a rebate of that portion of the deferment charge applicable to any unexpired months of the deferment period.

(d) If the payment in full of any scheduled installment is in default more than seven days and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding five percent of the unpaid amount of the installment or five dollars, whichever is less. Said charge may not be collected more than once for the same default and may be collected when such default occurs or any time thereafter. If such default charge is deducted from any payment received after default occurs and such deduction results in the default of a subsequent installment, no charge may be made for the resulting default.

(e) If two or more full installments are in default for one full month or more at any installment date and if the contract so provides, the licensee may reduce the contract balance by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full on such installment date. Thereafter, charges may be received at the agreed rate computed on actual unpaid balances of the contract for the time outstanding until the contract is fully paid. Charges so collected shall be in lieu of any deferment or default charges which otherwise would accrue on the contract after such installment date.

(f) A licensee and borrower may agree that the first installment due date may be not more than fifteen days more than one month and the amount of such installment may be increased by one-thirtieth of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to a first installment of one month for each extra day.

(4) No licensee shall induce or permit any borrower to split up or divide any loan, nor induce or permit any person, nor any husband or wife jointly or severally, to become obligated, directly or contingently or both, under more than one contract of loan at the same time, for the purpose or with the result of obtaining a higher rate of charge than would otherwise be permitted by this section. If part or all of the consideration for a loan contract is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan with the same licensee, then the principal amount payable under such loan contract shall not include any unpaid charges on the prior loan, except charges which have accrued within sixty days before the making of such loan contract and may include the balance of a precomputed contract which remains after giving the rebate required by subsection (3) hereof.

(5) No licensee shall directly or indirectly charge, contract for, or receive any charges or fees except charges authorized by this chapter and the lawful fees, if any, actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public officer for the transferring of title or for filing, recording, or releasing in any public office, any instrument securing the loan, which fees may be collected when the loan is made, or at any time thereafter. A bona fide error in the calculation of charges or in the recording of such charges in any statement or receipt delivered to the borrower or in the licensee's records shall not be deemed to be a violation of this chapter if the licensee corrects the error. [1979 c 18 § 3; 1977 ex.s. c 150 § 8; 1959 c 212 § 5; 1941 c 208 § 13; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-13.]

Interest and usury in general: Chapter 19.52 RCW.

31.08.170 Statement to borrower—Receipts—Advance payments—Cancellation and release of obligations—Borrower's statement. It shall be the duty of every licensee to:

(1) Deliver to the borrower or anyone thereof, if several, at the time any loan is made under this chapter, a statement, upon which there shall be printed in the English language a copy of subsections (1) and (5) of RCW 31.08.160, showing in clear and distinct terms the principal amount of the loan excluding charges, the date of the loan, the agreed schedule of payments, the nature of the security, if any, for the loan, the name and address of the licensee, and the agreed rate of charges. When charges are precomputed, the statement shall show the amount of the precomputed charge and shall contain a copy of paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160.

(2) Give to the party making any payment a plain and complete receipt for each payment made on account of any such loan at the time such payment is made, specifying the amount applied to charges and the amount, if any, applied to principal, and stating the unpaid principal balance, if any, of such loan: Provided, That if the charges were precomputed the receipt need not be itemized, and no receipt shall be required where payment is made by check or money order and the full amount of such check or money order is applied to the loan: Provided further, That when a default or deferment charge is collected, a receipt shall be given showing the amount applied to the loan and the amount applied to the default or deferment charge;

(3) Permit payment to be made in advance in any amount on any such loan at any time during regular business hours, but the licensee may apply such payment first to all charges at the agreed rate up to the date of such payment: Provided, That when charges are precomputed such payment shall be equal to one or more full scheduled installments;

(4) Upon payment of the loan in full, mark indelibly every obligation signed by the borrower with the word "paid" or "canceled" and release any mortgage and restore all notes and collateral which no longer secures a loan and to which the borrower may be lawfully entitled: Provided, however, That in case any such document or obligation is in custodia legis these requirements shall not be applicable; and

(5) Obtain from the borrower prior to making the loan a statement signed by the borrower setting forth the borrower's then current financial condition and containing a statement that the borrower recognizes the penalties and defenses resulting from giving false statement of financial condition, all on a form approved by the supervisor. The statement required to be delivered to the borrower when the loan is made shall be acknowledged in writing by the licensee and the borrower, and a copy thereof shall be retained by the licensee. [1959 c 212 § 6; 1941 c 208 § 14; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-14.]

31.08.173 Limitation on term of contract. No contract made by a licensee under this chapter shall provide for a final maturity more than forty-eight and one-half months from the date of making such contract. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 9; 1959 c 212 § 10.]

31.08.175 Insurance in connection with loans. (1) No licensee shall require the purchasing of property insurance from the licensee or any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee or from any agent, broker, or insurance company designated by the licensee as a condition precedent to the making of a loan nor shall any licensee decline existing insurance which meets or exceeds the standards set forth in this section.

The licensee may require a borrower to insure tangible property offered as security for a loan hereunder against any substantial risk of loss, damage, or destruction for an amount not to exceed the reasonable value of the property insured or the amount of the loan and for the customary term approximating the term of the loan contract: Provided, That no licensee hereunder may require such insurance on loans in an amount less than three hundred dollars. It shall be optional with the borrower to obtain such insurance in an amount greater than the amount of the loan or for a longer term. The premium for such insurance shall not exceed that fixed by current applicable manual of a recognized standard insurance rating bureau and such insurance shall be written by or through a duly licensed insurance agent or broker.

(2) A licensee may insure the life of one borrower, but only one of them if there are two or more obligors, for the unpaid principal balance scheduled to be outstanding; and regardless of the the premium paid by the licensee, the licensee may charge not more than sixty cents per one hundred dollars per year computed on the original principal amount of the loan, excluding charges for the loan, when the loan contract requires substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined, and such charge may be in the same proportions for different payment schedules, maturities, and principal amounts: Provided, however, That if both husband and wife sign an obligation to repay the loan, each may be an insured borrower hereunder and a single identifiable insurance charge may be made by the licensee for the two jointly under a plan whereby both lives are insured but a death benefit is paid only upon the death of the spouse dying first. For such joint spouse coverage, the licensee may charge not more than one dollar per one hundred dollars per year computed on the same basis as herein prescribed for life insurance on one borrower. Such charge may be deducted from the principal of the loan when the loan is made. Only one such charge may be made in connection with any loan contract irrespective of the number of obligors, and only one obligor need be insured. If the insured obligor dies during the term of the loan contract, the insurance must pay the principal balance of the loan outstanding on the day of his death without any exception or reservation. The insurance shall be in force as soon as the loan is made. If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, refinancing, or otherwise, a portion of such life insurance charge shall be rebated according to the method established in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160. When charges for the loan are precomputed in accordance with subsection (3) of RCW 31.08.160, any required rebate and any permitted deferment charge may be computed on the combined total of the precomputed charge and the life insurance charge.

(3) A licensee may insure against the disability of the borrower, but only one of them if there are two or more obligors, pursuant to chapter 48.34 RCW, and may deduct from the principal of the loan and retain an amount equal to the premium lawfully charged by the insurance company.

(4) If a borrower procures any insurance by or through a licensee, the statement required by RCW 31.08.170 shall disclose the cost to the borrower and the type of insurance, and the licensee shall cause to be delivered to the borrower a copy of the policy, certificate, or other evidence thereof within a reasonable time.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any gain or advantage in any form whatsoever to the licensee or to any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee from any insurance or its sale or provision shall not be deemed to be additional or further interest, consideration, charges, or fee in connection with such loan.

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to alter, amend or repeal any provision of the insurance code.

No insurance shall be required, requested, sold, or offered for sale in connection with any loan made under this chapter, except as and to the extent authorized by this section. [1979 c 18 § 4; 1975 1st ex.s. c 266 § 1; 1959 c 212 § 11.]

Severability—1975 1st ex.s. c 266: "If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected." [1975 1st ex.s. c 266 § 21.]

31.08.180 Loans in excess of two thousand five hundred dollars—Restrictions. No licensee shall directly or indirectly charge, contract for, or receive any interest, discount, or consideration greater than the lender would be permitted by law to charge if he were not a licensee hereunder upon the loan, use, or forbearance of money, goods, or things in action, or upon the loan, use, or sale of credit, of the amount or value of more than two thousand five hundred dollars, exclusive of charges permitted by RCW 31.08.160. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 10; 1959 c 212 § 7; 1941 c 208 § 15; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-15.]

31.08.190 Assignment of earnings as loan. The payment of two thousand five hundred dollars or less in money, credit, goods, or things in action, as consideration for any sale or assignment of, or order for, the payment of wages, salary, commissions, or other compensation for services, whether earned or to be earned, shall for the purpose of regulation under this chapter be deemed a loan secured by such assignment, and the amount by which such assigned compensation retained by the assignee at the completion of the transaction exceeds the total amount of such consideration actually paid by the assignee to the assignor shall for the purpose of regulation under this chapter be deemed interest or charges upon such loan. Such transaction shall be governed by and subject to the provisions of this chapter. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 11; 1959 c 212 § 8; 1941 c 208 § 16; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-16.]

No person except as authorized by this chapter shall directly or indirectly charge, contract for, or receive any interest, discount, or consideration greater than the lender would be permitted by law to charge if he were not a licensee hereunder upon the loan, use, or forbearance of money, goods, or things in action, or upon the loan, use, or sale of credit of the amount or value of two thousand five hundred dollars or less.

The foregoing prohibition shall apply to any person who by any device, subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever shall charge, contract for, or receive greater interest, consideration, or charges than is authorized by this chapter for any such loan, use, or forbearance of money, goods, or things in action or for any such loan, use, or sale of credit.

Interest rates for small loans as described in RCW 31.08.160 are hereby declared to be the maximum rates permissible under the public policy of the state of Washington. With respect to any loan of the amount or value of two thousand five hundred dollars or less for which a greater rate of interest, consideration, or charges than is permitted by RCW 31.08.160 has been charged, contracted for, or received, the lender or his successor in interest shall not be entitled to collect or receive in this state: (1) any principal, interest, consideration or charges whatsoever if any part of the loan transaction occurred in this state; or (2) any interest, consideration or charges in excess of that stated in RCW 31.08.160 if no part of the loan transaction occurred in this state. [1977 ex.s. c 150 § 12; 1967 c 180 § 1; 1959 c 212 § 9; 1941 c 208 § 17; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-17.]

Severability—1967 c 180: "If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provisions to other persons or circumstances is not affected." [1967 c 180 § 16.]

Prior transactions—1967 c 180: "The provisions of this 1967 amendatory act shall not apply to transactions entered into prior to the effective date hereof." [1967 c 180 § 17.]

Any contract or loan not invalid for any other reason, in the making or collection of which any act shall have been done which constitutes a gross misdemeanor under this section shall be void and the lender shall have no right to collect or receive any principal, interest, or charges whatsoever. [1941 c 208 § 18; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 8371-18.]

In order to carry out such investigation the supervisor shall have the power to subpoena witnesses and records, to administer oaths and examine persons under oath. He shall thereupon submit his findings to the next session of the legislature, and make such recommendations, and submit bills or amendments which in his opinion will correct any such abuses. 31.12.020 Declaration of policy—Maximum interest rate—Defaults. A credit union is a cooperative society incorporated for the two-fold purpose of promoting thrift among its members and creating a source of credit for them at legitimate rates of interest not to exceed one percent per month on the unpaid balance or the equivalent thereto, for provident, productive, and educational purposes. Credit unions, in the event of default of such credit, may impose financing and reasonable late charges in accordance with their bylaws and may recover reasonable costs and expenses incurred in the collection of any sums due if provided for in the note or agreement signed by the borrower. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 1; 1967 c 180 § 2; 1957 c 23 § 3. Prior: 1943 c 131 § 1, part; 1933 c 173 § 1, part; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-1, part.]

31.12.030 Use of words in name—Compliance required. A corporation organized under this chapter shall include in its name the words "credit union," and other distinguishing words may be used. No person, partnership, or association and no corporation except one incorporated under this chapter shall receive payment on shares or deposits from its members, or loan such payment on shares or deposits in the manner provided hereby, or transact business under a name or title containing the words "credit union," without compliance with the provisions hereof. Prior: 1943 c 131 § 1, part; 1933 c 173 § 1, part; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-1, part.] [1953 SLC-RO-3]

31.12.040 Authority to organize and commence business. Seven or more persons resident in this state may apply to the supervisor, who shall have and is hereby given authority to grant permission to organize a credit union and become such a corporation upon complying with the provisions of this chapter. A credit union shall organize and commence business within six months from the date of its incorporation, otherwise its charter shall become void. [1943 c 131 § 2; 1933 c 173 § 2; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-2.]

31.12.050 Manner of organizing—Articles, approval, filing—Appeal—Forms. A credit union shall be organized in the following manner:

The applicants shall execute in quadruplicate articles of incorporation and bylaws by the terms of which they agree to be bound, which shall be submitted to and approved by the supervisor.

The articles of incorporation shall state:

(1) The name and location of the proposed credit union;

(2) The number of its directors, which shall not be less than five nor more than fifteen;

(3) The names, occupations and post office address of the subscribers to the articles of incorporation, and a statement of the number of shares which each has agreed to take; and

(4) The par value of the shares of the credit union, which shall be five dollars.

When articles of incorporation complying with the foregoing requirements, together with duplicate copies of such bylaws, have been filed with the supervisor, he shall ascertain whether such articles of incorporation and bylaws of such credit union are consistent with the purposes of this chapter and whether the character, responsibility and general fitness of the persons named in such articles are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the purpose of the proposed credit union will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the purpose of this chapter, and he shall further determine the economic advisability for such credit union, also taking into consideration all surrounding facts and circumstances pertaining to a successful operation of said credit union, and whether the proposed credit union is being formed for other than the legitimate objects covered by this chapter. After the supervisor shall have satisfied himself of the above facts, and within thirty days after receipt of such certificates and bylaws, he shall endorse upon each of the articles of incorporation his official signature with the word "approved" or the word "refused" with the date thereof. In case of refusal, he shall return one of the quadruplicate certificates so endorsed with a copy of the bylaws to the person from whom the same were received, which refusal shall be conclusive unless the incorporators, within ten days of the issuance of such notice of refusal, shall appeal to the superior court of the county in which the credit union is proposed to be located. In case an appeal is taken the supervisor shall prepare, certify and deliver to such credit union a copy of the order of refusal with any documents filed by the applicant, and upon such transcript of proceedings, with any testimony that may be offered by either party, the case shall be tried in the superior court to which the appeal is taken, which shall be heard in the nature of a writ of review and summarily disposed of by the superior court upon such orders and proceedings as the judge may deem best and a judgment rendered, from which an appeal may be taken by either party to the supreme court or the court of appeals; all conditioned that the appellant, upon taking the appeal, shall pay the reasonable charges for a transcript of the proceedings. In case of approval of the proposed corporation, the supervisor shall give notice thereof to the proposed incorporators, and shall file one of the quadruplicate articles of incorporation in his own office, and shall transmit another quadruplicate copy to the secretary of state, and shall return two quadruplicate copies and one of the duplicate bylaws of the incorporators. The incorporators shall file one of the quadruplicate copies with the county auditor of the county in which such credit union is to be located, with a filing fee of twenty-five cents.

Upon receipt from the proposed incorporators of a filing fee of five dollars the secretary of state shall file and record the articles of incorporation. Upon the filing of articles of incorporation, approved as aforesaid by the supervisor, with the secretary of state and county auditor, all persons named therein and their successors shall become and be a corporation, which shall have the powers and be subject to the duties and obligations prescribed by this chapter, and whose existence may be perpetual. In order to simplify the organization of credit unions the supervisor shall cause forms of articles of incorporation and bylaws to be prepared consistent with the provisions of this chapter, and upon written application of any seven residents of this state shall supply them without charge with blank forms of articles of incorporation and form of suggested bylaws. The real estate covered by any such mortgage or contract must be inspected and appraised by an appraiser who has had two or more years experience in appraising real estate for loan purposes within the area in which the property is located. The credit union must have a policy of title insurance issued concurrently by an insurance company licensed to do business in the state of Washington, insuring the interest of the credit union in the real estate in the full amount of the loan, or must have an abstract brought up to date of the loan and certified by a practicing attorney; also with fire insurance covering at least the interest of the credit union. 31.12.300 Transfers to federal agencies. Any corporation formed under this chapter, may sell, assign, transfer, convey and/or deliver to any intermediate credit bank, or agricultural credit corporation, formed under the laws of the United States, or any similar organization, any part of its securities, as may be determined by its board of directors, with or without guaranty and upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the credit union and such corporations, notwithstanding anything in this chapter contained to the contrary. [1933 c 173 § 24; RRS § 3923-24.]

of all expenses, interest on deposits and the amounts required to be set apart to the guaranty fund and to the reserve fund, or such dividend may be declared in whole or in part from the undivided earnings of preceding years remaining after the aforesaid deductions for said years. Dividends due to a member shall, at his election, be paid to him in cash or be credited to his account in either shares or deposits. No dividend exceeding seven percent per annum shall be paid, unless the guaranty fund and undivided profits exceed fifteen percent of assets, but surplus earnings may be distributed to the borrowers as a patronage dividend ratably in proportion to interest paid by them. [1975 1st ex.s. c 222 § 8; 1943 c 131 § 19; 1933 c 173 § 25; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-25.]

31.12.320 Reports—Examinations—Suspension of business—Communications. Within thirty days after the first business day of January in each year, the auditing committee of each credit union shall make to the supervisor a report in such form as he may prescribe, and shall make oath that the report is true and correct. Any credit union neglecting to make said report within the time herein prescribed and such other requested reports within thirty days after notification shall forfeit to the state one dollar for each day during which neglect continues. The penalty for any single delinquency shall not exceed twenty-five dollars.

The supervisor shall make or cause to be made an examination and full investigation into the affairs of each credit union at least once each calendar year. The actual cost of examination and supervision shall be paid by the credit union examined: Provided, That the supervisor may accept in lieu of an examination the report of any competent accountant, satisfactory to the supervisor, who has made and submitted a report of the condition of the affairs of such credit union, and if approved, shall have the same force and effect as though the examination were made by the supervisor or one of his appointees. Examination costs shall not be payable by a credit union with respect to the first examination following approval of its articles of incorporation by the supervisor, and the supervisor may adjust examination costs payable for succeeding examinations giving due consideration to the time and expense incident to such examinations, and to the ability of the credit unions to pay such costs.

If it is found that the capital of a credit union be impaired or that business is being conducted contrary to law the supervisor may require said credit union to suspend operations until such condition is corrected.

Any communications from the supervisor to the board of directors must be read before said board at its next meeting and the reading noted in the minutes of the meeting. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 14; 1947 c 213 § 5; 1943 c 131 § 20; 1933 c 173 § 26; Rem. Supp. 1947 § 3923-26.]

31.12.325 Examination reports and information—Confidential—Privileged—Penalty. (1) All examination reports and all information obtained by the supervisor and the supervisor's staff in conducting

If the supervisor furnishes any examination report to officials empowered to investigate criminal charges, the supervisor may only furnish that part of the report which is necessary and pertinent to the investigation, and the supervisor may do this only after notifying the affected credit union and any customer of the credit union who is named in that part of the report of the order to furnish the part of the examination report unless the officials requesting the report first obtain a waiver of the notice requirement from a court of competent jurisdiction for good cause.

(3) All examination reports furnished under subsection (2) of this section shall remain the property of the division of savings and loan associations and no person, agency, or authority to whom reports are furnished or any officer, director, or employee thereof shall disclose or make public any of the reports or any information contained therein except in published statistical material that does not disclose the affairs of any individual or corporation: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the use in a criminal prosecution of reports furnished under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The examination report made by the division of savings and loan associations is designed for use in the supervision of the credit union, and the supervisor may furnish a copy of the report to the credit union examined. The report shall remain the property of the supervisor and will be furnished to the credit union solely for its confidential use. Under no circumstances shall the credit union or any of its directors, officers, or employees disclose or make public in any manner the report or any portion thereof.

(5) Examination reports and information obtained by the supervisor and the supervisor's staff in conducting examinations shall not be subject to public disclosure under chapter 42.17 RCW.

(6) In any civil action in which the reports are sought to be discovered or used as evidence, any party may, upon notice to the supervisor, petition the court for an in camera review of the report. The court may permit discovery and introduction of only those portions of the report which are relevant and otherwise unobtainable by the requesting party. This subsection shall not apply to an action brought or defended by the supervisor.

(7) This section shall not apply to investigation reports prepared by the supervisor and the supervisor's staff concerning an application for a new credit union or an application for a branch of a credit union: Provided, That the supervisor may adopt rules making confidential portions of the reports if in the supervisor's opinion the public disclosure of the portions of the report would impair the ability to obtain the information which the supervisor considers necessary to fully evaluate the application.

(8) Every person who violates any provision of this section shall forfeit the person's office or employment and be guilty of a gross misdemeanor. [1977 ex.s. c 245 § 4.]

31.12.330 Expenses, limitations on. The expenses of a credit union shall be paid from its earnings. No credit union shall pay or become liable to pay in any calendar year as salaries, fees, wages, or other compensations to officers, directors, agents, attorneys, clerks, and employees and for rent, advertising, and all other operating expenses, sums of money, the aggregate of which exceeds five percent of the average amount of the assets of the union during such year: Provided, That a credit union shall not thereby be limited in its expenditures to a sum less than six hundred dollars in any calendar year. No credit union shall pay any fee, commission, or other compensation, directly or indirectly, to a person for soliciting the purchase of or selling its shares of stock or for soliciting loans or deposits. [1967 c 180 § 14; 1953 c 48 § 9; 1933 c 173 § 27; RRS § 3923–27.]

31.12.340 False statements and entries—Penalty. Any person who shall knowingly subscribe to or make or cause to be made any false statement or false entry in the books of any credit union, or who shall knowingly make any false statement or entry in any report required to be made to the supervisor, or who shall knowingly exhibit any false or fictitious paper, instrument or security to any person authorized to examine such institution, shall be guilty of a felony. [1943 c 131 § 21; 1933 c 173 § 28; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923–28.]

False representation concerning credit: RCW 9.38.010.

31.12.350 Expulsion of members. The board of directors may expel from a credit union any member who has not carried out his engagements with it, or who has been convicted of a criminal offense, or who neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of this chapter or of the bylaws of the credit union, or whose private life is a source of scandal, or who habitually neglects to pay his debts, or who becomes insolvent or bankrupt, who has deceived the corporation or any committee thereof with regard to the use of borrowed money; but no member shall be so expelled until he has been informed in writing of the charges against him, and an opportunity has been given him, after reasonable notice, to be heard thereon. The amounts paid in on shares or deposited by members who have withdrawn or have been expelled shall be paid to them, in the order of withdrawal or expulsion, but only as funds therefor become available and after deducting any amounts due from such members to the credit union. Such expulsion shall not operate to relieve a member from any outstanding liability to the credit union. [1933 c 173 § 29; RRS § 3923–29.]

31.12.360 Suspension of officers—Supervisor to administer and enforce chapter. If an officer of a credit union is, in the opinion of the supervisor, dishonest, inefficient, incapable of doing his work, or wilfully disobeying orders of the supervisor, or is in any way violating this chapter or the bylaws of the credit union, he may be suspended by the supervisor. The supervisor shall give the board of the credit union prompt notice of such suspension and promptly upon receipt thereof the board shall call a meeting of its members to consider the matter forthwith and give the supervisor at least seven days' notice of the time and place of such meeting. If the board shall find the supervisor's objection to be well founded, it shall remove such director, officer or employee immediately. In the event that the board of the credit union shall fail to remove such director, officer or employee, the supervisor may petition the superior court of the county wherein the principal office of the credit union is located, setting forth the reasons why such person should be removed. Such petition shall be answered by the credit union as in civil actions. Such cause shall be heard by the court de novo without the intervention of a jury and upon such hearing the superior court shall enter its decision as to whether such person shall remain in or be removed from his position. The court shall make and enter specific findings of fact and conclusions of law and its decision shall be reviewable by the supreme court or the court of appeals. The supervisor shall be charged with the administration and enforcement of this chapter, shall require each credit union to conduct its business in compliance therewith, and shall have power to commence and prosecute actions and proceedings to enforce the provisions of this chapter, to enjoin violations thereof, and to collect sums due the state of Washington from any credit union. [1971 c 81 § 83; 1967 c 180 § 15; 1953 c 48 § 10; 1943 c 131 § 23; 1933 c 173 § 31; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923–31.]

Severability—Prior transactions—1967 c 180: See notes following RCW 31.08.200.

31.12.370 Mergers. A credit union may, with the approval of the supervisor and in accordance with such uniform rules and regulations as he shall make and promulgate, be merged with another credit union under the charter of such credit union upon any plan agreed upon by the majority of the board of directors of each such credit union joining in such merger, and approved by not less than two-thirds of the members of each credit union present and eligible to vote at meetings duly called for that purpose. All property, property rights and interests of the credit union so merging shall upon such merger be transferred to and vested in the credit union under whose charter the merger is effected without deed, endorsement, or other instrument of transfer, and the debts and obligations of the credit union so merging shall be deemed to have been assumed by the credit union under whose charter the merger is effected, and thereafter the charter of the credit union so merging shall be null and void and it shall cease to exist. [1943 c 131 § 24; 1933 c 173 § 32; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923–32.]

31.12.375 Additional powers—Federal parity. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the supervisor may make reasonable rules authorizing a credit union to exercise any of the powers conferred as of April 1, 1979, upon a federal credit union doing business in this state, if the supervisor finds that the exercise of the power:

(1) Serves the convenience and advantage of members; and

(2) Maintains the quality of competition between state chartered credit unions and federally chartered credit unions.

The exercise of these powers is subject to such rules and regulations as the supervisor may prescribe. [1979 1st ex.s. c 98 § 1.]

31.12.380 Taxation of credit unions. Neither a credit union nor its members shall be taxed upon its shares and deposits as property. A credit union shall be taxable upon its real property and tangible personal property, and every credit union shall be termed a mutual institution for savings and neither it nor its property shall be taxable under any law which shall exempt savings banks or institutions for savings from taxation. For all purposes of taxation, the assets represented by the guaranty fund and other reserves, other than reserves for expenses and losses of a credit union, shall be deemed its only permanent capital, and in computing any tax, whether it be property, income, or excise, appropriate adjustment shall be made to give effect to the mutual nature of such credit union. [1943 c 131 § 26 (adding to 1933 c 173 a new section, § 34); Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923–34.]

31.12.390 Conversion of state to federal credit union. Any credit union, heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state may convert itself into a federal credit union, as authorized by the act of congress known by, and cited as the federal credit union act, approved June 26, 1934, and any amendments of, or supplements thereto, or laws hereafter enacted in substitution therefor, and pursuant to any rules and regulations prescribed, or which may hereafter be prescribed by virtue of, or in accordance with the said federal credit union act, or the acts amending or supplementing the same, or enacted in substitution therefor.

Such conversion shall be effected by the affirmative action of a two-thirds vote of the members present at a regular or special meeting of the shareholders called for that purpose. Such meeting shall be called by the directors, of which a majority shall have previously approved the contemplated conversion, and notice thereof shall be given in the manner prescribed in the bylaws of the said credit union not more than thirty days nor less than ten days prior to the date of the meeting. Proof of the giving of such notice shall be by the affidavit of the secretary of the corporation.

If conversion be authorized, a copy of the resolutions adopted with respect thereto at said meeting verified by the affidavit of the president, or vice president, and secretary or assistant secretary, of the credit union shall within ten days after the holding of such meeting, be filed in the office of the supervisor.

In the event that conversion be authorized by the shareholders, the officers and directors of such credit union shall be authorized to, and within six months from the date of the adoption of said resolutions by the shareholders shall, take the steps necessary to effect a conversion of said credit union into a federal credit union, upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the board of directors of such credit union, and the properly authorized federal authority under the provisions of the said federal credit union act. Upon the filing in the office of the supervisor of a certified copy of the charter or authorization issued to such credit union by the proper federal authority, or of a certificate showing the organization of such credit union as a federal credit union, certified to by the proper federal authority, the supervisor shall file the same, and thereupon the said state chartered credit union shall cease to be an active credit union under the laws of this state except for the purpose of winding up its affairs and prosecuting or defending any litigation by or against it, and for all other purposes shall be deemed converted into a federal credit union.

In consummation of such conversion, the state chartered credit union may execute, acknowledge and deliver to the successor federal credit union, such instruments of transfer, conveyance and assignment as may be necessary and/or desirable to accomplish the transfer, conveyance and assignment to the successor federal credit union, or any property, tangible or intangible, and all right, title or interest therein, as may have been agreed between the board of directors of the applicant credit union, and the proper federal authority.

Similar procedure shall be followed when a credit union organized under the laws of this state wishes to merge with or convert to a credit union organized under the laws of another state. [1943 c 131 § 26 (adding to 1933 c 173 a new section, § 35); Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-35.]

31.12.400 Conversion of federal to state credit union.

Whenever any credit union organized and existing under the laws of the United States, and located within this state, is authorized to dissolve, and it shall have taken the necessary steps to effect such dissolution, or whenever the charter of any such credit union has become inoperative because of a change in, or a nullification of, or a repeal of the laws under which it was organized, or whenever any such credit union is authorized by the laws of the United States to convert itself into a credit union under the laws of this state, such credit union, upon resolution of three-fourths of its directors, at a meeting called for such purpose, or upon action taken by or under the authority of the United States, with the approval in writing of the supervisor, may execute and file articles of incorporation, as provided for the organization of new credit unions in this state, together with a certificate executed by the president and secretary setting forth the facts authorizing such filing.

Upon the filing of said articles and said certificate, with the written approval of the supervisor, such credit union shall become a credit union under the laws of the state of Washington, and thereupon all of the assets of such credit union shall be vested in and become the property of such state chartered credit union, subject to all existing liabilities against such federal credit union, and every person who was a shareholder or member of such federal credit union, shall be a shareholder in such state chartered credit union in like amount.

Similar procedure shall be followed when a credit union organized under the laws of another state wishes to merge or convert to a credit union organized under the laws of this state. [1943 c 131 § 26 (adding to 1933 c 173 a new section, § 36); Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-36.]

31.12.405 Satellite facilities. See chapter 30.43 RCW.

31.12.410 Liquidation—Unclaimed funds, disposition of. At any meeting specially called for the purpose, the members, upon recommendation of not less than two-thirds of the board of directors, may, by a two-thirds vote of the members present vote to liquidate the corporation. A committee of three shall thereupon be elected to liquidate the assets of the corporation under the direction of the supervisor, which committee may be reasonably compensated for its services by action of the board of directors, and each share of capital stock, according to the amount paid thereon, shall be entitled to its proportionate part of the assets in liquidation after all deposits and debts have been paid, and the charter of such corporation voting to liquidate in accordance with this section shall become void except for the purpose of discharging existing obligations and liabilities. Funds representing unclaimed dividends in liquidation and remaining in the hands of the liquidating committee for six months after the date of the final dividend, shall be deposited by them, together with all books and papers of the credit union, with the supervisor, who may after one year therefrom destroy any such records, books and papers as in his judgment are obsolete or unnecessary for future reference. Such funds shall be deposited in one or more trust companies, mutual savings banks, savings and loan associations, or national banks or state banks to the credit of the supervisor in his official capacity in trust for the members of the liquidating credit union entitled thereto, according to their several interests. Upon receipt of evidence satisfactory to him, the supervisor may pay the money so held by him to the persons respectively entitled thereto. In case of doubt or of conflicting claims, he may require an order of the superior court of the county in which the credit union is located, authorizing and directing the payment thereof. He may apply the interest earned by the moneys so held toward defraying the expenses incurred in the payment of such unclaimed dividends. At the expiration of five years from the date of the receipt thereof, such funds as still remain in the hands of the supervisor shall be escheated to the state and revert to the permanent school fund. [1943 c 131 § 22; 1933 c 173 § 30; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-30. Formerly RCW 31.12.410 and 31.12.420.]

Uniform disposition of unclaimed property: Chapter 63.28 RCW.

31.12.430 Penalty. Any officer, director, agent or employee of any credit union who shall knowingly violate or consent to or connive at the violation of any provisions of this chapter, for violation of which a penalty is not herein otherwise provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [1943 c 131 § 25; 1933 c 173 § 34; RRS § 3923-34. Renumbered by 1943 c 131 § 25 as 1933 c 173 § 33; Rem. Supp. 1943 § 3923-33.]

31.12.440 Suspension or revocation of articles—Involuntary liquidation—Grounds. The articles of incorporation of any state chartered credit union may be suspended or revoked, the credit union placed in involuntary liquidation and a liquidating agent therefor appointed upon the finding by the supervisor that the organization is bankrupt, or insolvent. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 15.]

31.12.450 Suspension or revocation of articles—Involuntary liquidation—Notice—Procedure. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the supervisor, before suspending or revoking the articles of incorporation of a credit union and placing the credit union in liquidation, shall cause to be served on the credit union concerned a notice of intention to suspend or revoke the articles, a statement of the reasons for such proposed action and an order directing the credit union concerned to show cause why its articles of incorporation should not be suspended or revoked. Service of the order to show cause shall be either (1) by mail addressed to the credit union concerned at the last address of its office as shown by the records of the division of savings and loan or (2) by personal delivery to any of the officers or members of the board of directors of the credit union. The order shall be returned to the division of savings and loan. No oral hearing shall be held on such order to show cause, but the credit union concerned may file with the division of savings and loan, within the period of time specified in the order to show cause, a statement in writing setting forth the grounds and reasons why its articles of incorporation should not be suspended or revoked. This statement shall be accompanied by a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors of the credit union concerned authorizing the filing of the statement. If no statement is received within the period of time specified in the order, or if the proffered reasons why the articles of incorporation should not be suspended or revoked are found to be insufficient by the supervisor, he may order the articles of incorporation be suspended or revoked and may order the credit union placed in involuntary liquidation. If the credit union is ordered to be liquidated the supervisor shall designate the liquidating agent in the order directing the liquidation. A copy of the order directing the suspension or revocation and where proper, of the order directing the involuntary liquidation and of the appointment of a liquidating agent, and a statement of the findings on which the order is based, shall be served on the credit union concerned. Such service shall be either (1) by mail addressed to the credit union concerned at the last address of its office as shown by the records of the division of savings and loan or (2) by personal delivery to any officer or member of the board of directors of the credit union concerned. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 16.]

31.12.460 Involuntary liquidation—Procedure. On receipt of a copy of the order placing the credit union in involuntary liquidation, the officers and directors of the credit union concerned shall deliver to the liquidating agent possession and control of all books, records, assets, and property of every description of the credit union, and the liquidating agent shall proceed to convert said assets to cash, collect all debts due to said credit union and to wind up its affairs in accordance with the instructions and procedures issued to said liquidating agent by the supervisor. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 17.]

31.12.470 Involuntary liquidation—Cancellation of articles. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 18.]

31.12.900 Severability—1973 1st ex.s. c 8. If any provision of this 1973 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected. [1973 1st ex.s. c 8 § 19.]

31.12.901 Severability—1975 1st ex.s. c 222. If any provision of this 1975 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected. [1975 1st ex.s. c 222 § 9.]

(b) Incomplete: The association shall require the applicant to refile said application in its entirety within thirty days.

(c) Not qualified: The association shall notify said applicant within thirty days of filing: Provided, That said applicant will be allowed to meet qualification standards under conditions as provided in the bylaws of the association.

(3) The initial membership of the association shall be comprised of all those credit unions qualified under subsection (1) hereof by the supervisor within sixty days after September 1, 1975, with final ratification by the initial board of directors subject to full compliance of all qualifications for membership within one hundred twenty days after September 1, 1975.

(4) Membership in either this association or the federal share insurance program under the national credit union administration shall be mandatory. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 6.]

31.12A.050 Funding—Liquidity—Investments—Termination. (1) Establishment of the share guaranty association contingency reserve shall be accomplished by setting aside from each member's guaranty fund an amount equal to one-half of one percent of the total insurable outstanding shares and deposit balances as of the 31st of December preceding September 1, 1975. Such sum shall be retained in the credit union share guaranty contingency reserve as an integral part of its guaranty fund until such time and if necessary to be drawn for the purpose set forth in this chapter.

(2) Continued funding of the association shall be by assessment at the rate of one–forty–fifth of one percent of each member's insurable outstanding share and deposit balance as of December 31st each year commencing the year subsequent to September 1, 1975. Such funds shall be retained by the member in its share guaranty contingency reserve. Such sum may be offset from the statutory transfer requirement to the guaranty fund. The board, with concurrence of the supervisor, shall have authority to assess an additional amount not to exceed one–forty–fifth of one percent of each member's insurable share and deposit balance in any one year, as conditions may warrant.

(3) Members' share guaranty association contingency reserve funds shall be invested in investments as permitted in the bylaws of the association.

(4) The board, in concurrence with the supervisor, may also suspend or diminish the assessment in any given period after reaching a normal operating sufficiency as provided in the bylaws.

(5) Membership in this association may be terminated upon approval by a majority of the credit union members responding to such a proposal and subject further to acceptance by the national credit union administration of continued share insurance coverage under the national credit union administration share insurance program. Notice of such intentions shall be in writing to the association's board of directors at least twelve months prior to such contemplated action: Provided, That in the event of conversion from state to federal credit union charter the converting member will notify the association in compliance with RCW 31.12.390. Share guarantee coverage through the association will terminate with the effective date of the federal charter. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 7.]

31.12A.060 Management. (1) The affairs and operations of the association shall be managed and conducted by a board of directors and officers.

(2) The board shall consist of not more than five directors, as provided by the bylaws. Directors shall be elected by members for terms, as fixed by the bylaws, of not more than three years. The board shall have power to fill vacancies occurring during the interim between annual meetings and until an election is held at the next annual meeting, to fill that portion of the unexpired term.

(3) The officers shall be elected by the board, and shall be a chairman of the board, a vice chairman, and a secretary–treasurer. The officers shall have the usual and customary powers and responsibilities of the respective offices, as fixed by the bylaws.

(4) The directors shall be compensated only to the extent of actual out–of–pocket travel and meeting expenses as provided in the bylaws. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 8.]

31.12A.070 First meeting of members and board of directors. (1) Within thirty days after the operative date of this chapter, the supervisor shall call a first meeting of the initial members of the association for the purpose of electing directors and shall give written notice of the time and place of such meeting. The meeting shall be held within sixty days after such operative date, at a place in this state selected by the supervisor and of convenience to members. The supervisor shall preside at the meeting.

(2) The initial board of directors shall meet within thirty days after the first meeting of members, to elect officers, consider bylaws, and transact such other business relating to the association as may properly come before it. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 9.]

31.12A.080 Bylaws. (1) The first bylaws of the association shall be as adopted by its initial board, and the board shall so adopt bylaws within three months after the association has become operative. All bylaws, and amendments thereof, shall be promptly filed with, and are subject to the approval of, the supervisor, and shall be approved if found by the supervisor to be reasonable, and fair and equitable to the association and its members. Among the customary, useful, and desirable provisions the bylaws shall provide:

(a) For the date and place of holding the annual meeting of members.

(b) Procedure for holding of special meetings.

(c) For voting privilege.

(d) For quorum requirements.

(e) For qualifications of directors, for procedures for nomination, election and removal of directors; and number, term and compensation of directors.

(f) For the bonding of any individual who may be expected to handle funds for the association.

(g) Qualifications for membership.

(h) Duties of officers.

(i) Application fees and assessment fees.

(j) Fines, if any.

(k) Coverage loss limits.

(l) Powers and duties of the board.

(m) Types of investments, liquidity, and normal operating sufficiency.

(n) Such other regulations as may be deemed necessary.

(2) After adoption of initial bylaws by the board, the bylaws shall be subject to amendments only by vote of the members. The secretary–treasurer of the association shall promptly file all bylaws and amendments with the supervisor. No bylaws or amendments thereto, except the adoption of initial bylaws, shall be effective until approved by the supervisor as hereinabove in this section provided. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 10.]

31.12A.090 Liquidation of members—Assessment.

(1) In the event a member of the association is placed in liquidation, either voluntary or involuntary, the supervisor or his representative shall determine as soon as is reasonably possible the probable net assessment, if any, resulting therefrom to its shareholders. If a net assessment seems to be indicated, the supervisor or his representative shall promptly inform the association in writing of the probable amount of such assessment. In determining the probable net assessment of the liquidating member, charges, if any, for services of the supervisor or his representative, or his staff, as well as accrued but unpaid interest or dividends on share accounts, shall not be deemed liabilities of the liquidating credit union; and, with the consent of the association, all illiquid holdings (furniture, fixtures and other personal property) of the liquidating member, at the fair recoverable value thereof, as determined by the supervisor or his representative, may be excluded as assets. In determining the net assessment as to a particular share account, the supervisor or his representative shall first deduct the amount of any accrued and currently payable obligation of the shareholder to the liquidating credit union.

(2) Within thirty days after receipt by the association of the foregoing information, the board shall notify the remaining members of the association of the aggregate amount required to make good the probable net loss to share accounts, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The amount of loss to be made good to any shareholder shall not be less than provided by the national credit union administration share insurance program, with authority vested in the association to increase the coverage.

(b) To the amount of the assessment as otherwise determined pursuant to this section, the board may add such amount as it may deem to be reasonably necessary to cover its clerical, mailing and other expense connected with the assessment and distribution of the proceeds thereof to shareholders of the liquidating credit union, not to exceed actual costs of such mailing and clerical services.

(c) The gross amount of the assessment shall be prorated among the assessed members against their share guaranty contingency reserve: Provided, That members shall not be liable for any amount of assessment exceeding their share guaranty contingency reserve or for any assessments exceeding those permitted in RCW 31.12A-.040 and 31.12A.050 as now or hereafter amended.

(d) That a plan for an orderly and expeditious liquidation be presented to the board of directors for their consideration and approval. In cases where a central or other eligible credit union is authorized to act as liquidator or liquidating agent, the association would provide an indemnity against loss to such authorized credit union.

(3) In case of liquidation the board shall cause written notice to each member stating whether a potential assessment is indicated and, if so, the probable amount of such contingency as it relates to a percentage of their total share guaranty contingency reserve. Actual assessment, if any, shall be paid by members upon completion of liquidation or sooner, as determined by the board of directors. In all cases the total reserve structure of a liquidating credit union, including its share guaranty contingency reserve, shall be utilized in concluding the liquidation. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 11.]

31.12A.100 Payment to shareholders—Subrogation. (1) Upon collection in full of the amount assessed against members as provided for in RCW 31.12A.090, or other provision satisfactory to the board, the association shall conclude the liquidation subject to acceptance by the supervisor.

(2) If illiquid holdings of the liquidating member have not been included as assets in determining net loss to share accounts, as provided for in RCW 31.12A.090(1), the association shall be subrogated to all rights of shareholders with respect to such holdings and to the extent of the value thereof so excluded and reflected in the assessment of association members; and the officers of the liquidating member or other persons having authority with respect thereto shall execute such conveyances, assignments, or other documents as may be requested by the association to facilitate recovery by the association in due course of the amount of its interest in such assets or so much thereof as may in fact be recoverable. The association shall have the right to bring and maintain suit or other action in its own name for the enforcement of any right of the insolvent member or its shareholders with respect to any such asset. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 12.]

31.12A.110 Disposition of amounts recovered. Amounts recovered by the association pursuant to its right of subrogation as provided in RCW 31.12A.100(2) shall be refunded pro rata to those members who paid assessments out of which right of subrogation arose. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 13.]

31.12A.120 Reports—Recommendations—Examination. (1) Within sixty days after expiration of each calendar year, the association shall render a report in writing of its financial affairs and transactions for the year, and of its financial condition at year-end. The association shall furnish a copy of the report to each member and to the supervisor.

(2) The financial affairs of the association shall be subject to examination by the supervisor at such intervals as he may deem advisable in relation to the extent of the association's activities. The cost of examination shall be borne by the association. In lieu of his own examination, the supervisor may accept the report of any competent accountant, satisfactory to the supervisor. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 14.]

31.12A.130 Taxation. The association shall be exempt from all taxes and fees now or hereafter imposed by the state of Washington or any county, municipality, or local authority or subdivision; except that any real property owned by the association shall be subject to taxation to the same extent according to its value as other real property is taxed. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 15.]

31.12A.140 Immunity. There shall be no separate and individual liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature shall arise against any member insurer, agents or employees of the association, the board of directors, or the supervisor or his representatives, for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this chapter. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 16.]

31.12A.900 Short title. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Washington credit union share guaranty association act. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 17.]

31.12A.910 Construction—1975 1st ex.s. c 80. This chapter shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose stated in RCW 31.12A.005, which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 18.]

31.12A.920 Section headings not part of law. Section headings in this act do not constitute any part of the law. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 19.]

31.12A.930 Effective date—1975 1st ex.s. c 80. This act shall become effective on September 1, 1975. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 21.]

31.12A.940 Severability—1975 1st ex.s. c 80. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment has been rendered. [1975 1st ex.s. c 80 § 20.]

The term "standard crops" as herein used means wheat, hay, apples, potatoes, and such other crops as the director of marketing of the state of Washington shall hereafter designate. [1921 c 121 § 3; RRS § 2912. Formerly RCW 31.16.010, part and 31.16.020, part.]

Reviser's note: The powers and duties of the director of marketing have devolved upon the director of agriculture, see 1921 c 7 §§ 83, 90(6) and 135; see also 1921 c 121 § 36 codified herein as RCW 31.16.330.

31.16.028 Classification of associations. Such crop credit associations shall be divided into two classes:

(2) Permanent crop credit associations, which may incorporate for a term not exceeding fifty years, with such powers and privileges as are hereinafter set forth or may be conferred thereon by law. [1921 c 121 § 4; RRS § 2913. Formerly RCW 31.16.010, part.]

Before beginning his duties as the director of crop credit associations he shall make and file in the office of the secretary of state a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, to be approved by the secretary of state, conditioned upon the faithful discharge of his duties as such director of crop credit associations. The word "director" wherever it shall hereafter appear in this chapter shall mean the director of farm marketing of the state of Washington. [1921 c 121 § 5; RRS § 2914.]

In addition thereto, the organizers of such association shall file the application for a permit to transact business as hereinafter more fully set forth. The organizers of such temporary organization shall also pay to the director a fee of five dollars, and to the secretary of state of Washington a fee of ten dollars. [1921 c 121 § 7; RRS § 2916.]

If the director shall be convinced that there is a need for the proposed crop credit association and that the business which it is to do, as shown by said articles of association, is in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, he shall issue a certificate authorizing the filing of the said articles of association in the office of the secretary of state of Washington and in the office of the county auditor of the county wherein is located the principal place of business of said association. [1921 c 121 § 9; RRS § 2918.]

[1921 c 121 § 10; RRS § 2919.]

31.16.090 Powers. Upon the issuance of said certificate of authority by the director and the issuance of a license by the secretary of state, every such association shall be a body corporate and politic in fact and in

- (11) To buy, sell and deal in and to procure for its members such supplies as shall be necessary or useful in and about the growing, harvesting and marketing of any agricultural crop grown or to be grown by them. [1921 c 121 § 11; RRS § 2920.]

31.16.100 Association may act as broker—Buying, selling, dealing prohibited. None of the funds or assets of any such association shall ever be used for or expended in and about the business of buying, selling or dealing in any such crops. [1921 c 121 § 12; RRS § 2921.]

If said bylaws are not approved by the said director, the same shall be suspended by his order until bylaws approved by him shall be adopted by such crop credit association. [1921 c 121 § 13; RRS § 2922.]

31.16.120 Trustees and officers—Election and removal. Such association shall be managed by a board of not less than three trustees. The trustees shall be elected by and from the members of the association at such time and for such term of office as the bylaws may prescribe and shall hold office during the term for which they are elected and until their successors are elected and qualified; but a majority of the members shall have the power, at any regular or special meeting legally called for that purpose, to remove any trustee or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy. The officers of every such association shall be a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected by the trustees. Each of said officers must be a member of the association. All elections shall be by ballot. Each member of the association shall be entitled to one vote only. [1921 c 121 § 14; RRS § 2923.]

31.16.130 Loans and security. 31.24.040 Organizations authorized to acquire, hold and dispose of corporate bonds, securities, stock, etc.—Membership—Rights and powers—Limitation on stock ownership. Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any provision of any general or special law or any provision in their respective charters, agreements of association, articles of organization or trust indentures:

(1) Any person including all domestic corporations organized for the purpose of carrying on business within this state and further including without implied limitation public utility companies and insurance companies, and foreign corporations licensed to do business within this state, and all financial institutions as defined herein, and all trustees, are hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of any bonds, securities or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation, and while owners of said stock to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state except as otherwise provided in this chapter: Provided, That a financial institution which does not become a member of the corporation shall not be permitted to acquire any shares of the capital stock of the corporation;

(2) All financial institutions are hereby authorized to become members of the corporation and to make loans to the corporation as provided herein; and

(3) Each financial institution which becomes a member of the corporation is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of, any bonds, securities or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the corporation, and while owners of said stock, to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory authority of the state: Provided, That the amount of the capital stock of the corporation which may be acquired by any member pursuant to the authority granted herein shall not exceed ten percent of the loan limit of such member.

The amount of capital stock of the corporation which any member is authorized to acquire pursuant to the authority granted herein is in addition to the amount of capital stock in corporations which such member may otherwise be authorized to acquire. [1963 c 162 § 4.]

31.24.050 Membership by financial institutions—Loans to corporation by members—Limitations—Interest. Any financial institution may request membership in the corporation by making application to the board of directors on such form and in such manner as said board of directors may require, and membership shall become effective upon acceptance of such application by said board.

Each member of the corporation shall make loans to the corporation as and when called upon by it to do so on such terms and other conditions as shall be approved from time to time by the board of directors, subject to the following conditions:

(1) All loan limits shall be established at the thousand dollar amount nearest to the amount computed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) No loan to the corporation shall be made if immediately thereafter the total amount of the obligations of the corporation would exceed fifteen times the amount then paid in on the outstanding capital stock of the corporation.

(3) The total amount outstanding on loans to the corporation made by any member at any time, when added to the amount of the investment in the capital stock of the corporation then held by such member, shall not exceed:

(a) Thirty percent of the total amount then outstanding on loans to the corporation by all members, including in said total amount outstanding, amounts validly called for loan but not yet loaned.

(b) The following limit, to be determined as of the time such member becomes a member on the basis of the audited balance sheet of such member at the close of its fiscal year immediately preceding its application for membership, or thereafter on the basis of the preceding fiscal year, or in the case of an insurance company, its last annual statement to the state insurance commissioner; or thereafter on the basis of its last annual statement to the insurance commissioner, two and one-half percent of the capital and surplus of commercial banks and trust companies; one-half of one percent of the total outstanding loans made by savings and loan associations, and building and loan associations; two and one-half percent of the capital and unassigned surplus of stock insurance companies, except fire insurance companies; two and one-half percent of the unassigned surplus of mutual insurance companies, except fire insurance companies; one-tenth of one percent of the assets of fire insurance companies; and such limits as may be approved by the board of directors of the corporation for other financial institutions.

(4) Subject to subsection (3)(a) of this section, each call made by the corporation shall be prorated among the members of the corporation in substantially the same proportion that the adjusted loan limit of each member bears to the aggregate of the adjusted loan limits of all members. The adjusted loan limit of a member shall be the amount of such member's loan limit, reduced by the balance of outstanding loans made by such member to the corporation and the investment in capital stock of the corporation held by such member at the time of such call.

(5) All loans to the corporation by members shall be evidenced by bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the corporation, which shall be freely transferable at all times, and which shall bear interest at a rate of not less than one-quarter of one percent in excess of the rate of interest determined by the board of directors to be the prime rate prevailing at the date of issuance thereof on unsecured commercial loans. [1974 ex.s. c 16 § 2; 1973 1st ex.s. c 90 § 1; 1963 c 162 § 5.]

31.24.060 Membership—Duration—Withdrawal. Membership in the corporation shall be for the duration of the corporation: Provided, That upon written notice given to the corporation five years in advance, a member may withdraw from membership in the corporation at the expiration date of such notice.

A member shall not be obligated to make any loans to the corporation pursuant to calls made subsequent to notice of the intended withdrawal of said member. [1963 c 162 § 6.]

31.24.070 Powers of stockholders and members—Voting rights—Proxy voting. The stockholders and the members of the corporation shall have the following powers of the corporation:

(1) To determine the number of and elect directors as provided in RCW 31.24.090;

(2) To make, amend and repeal bylaws;

(3) To amend this charter as provided in RCW 31.24.080;

(4) To dissolve the corporation as provided in RCW 31.24.150;

(5) To do all things necessary or desirable to secure aid, assistance, loans and other financing from any financial institutions, and from any agency established under the small business investment act of 1958, public law 85-699, 85th congress, or other similar federal laws now or hereafter enacted.

(6) To exercise such other of the powers of the corporation consistent with this chapter as may be conferred on the stockholders and the members by the bylaws.

As to all matters requiring action by the stockholders and the members of the corporation, said stockholders and said members shall vote separately thereon by classes, and, except as otherwise herein provided, such matters shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the stockholders present or represented at the meeting shall be entitled and the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the members present or represented at the meeting shall be entitled.

Each stockholder shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, for each share of capital stock held by him, and each member shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, except that any member having a loan limit of more than one thousand dollars shall have one additional vote, in person or by proxy, for each additional one thousand dollars which such member is authorized to have outstanding on loans to the corporation at any one time as determined under subsection (3)(b) of RCW 31.24.050. [1963 c 162 § 7.]

31.24.080 Amendment of articles—Articles of amendment—Contents—Filing. The articles of incorporation may be amended by the votes of the stockholders and the members of the corporation, voting separately by classes, and such amendments shall require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the stockholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the members shall be entitled: Provided, That no amendment of the articles of incorporation which is inconsistent with the general purposes expressed herein or which authorizes any additional class of capital stock to be issued, or which eliminates or curtails the right of the state supervisor of banking to examine the corporation or the obligation of the corporation to make reports as provided in RCW 31.24.120, shall be made: Provided, further, That no amendment of the articles of incorporation which increases the obligation of a member to make loans to the corporation, or makes any charge in the principal amount, interest rate, maturity date, or in the security or credit position of an outstanding loan of a member to the corporation, or affects a member's right to withdraw from membership as provided herein, or affects a member's voting rights as provided herein, shall be made without the consent of each membership affected by such amendment.

Within thirty days after any meeting at which an amendment of the articles of incorporation has been adopted, articles of amendment signed and sworn to by the president, treasurer, and a majority of the directors, setting forth such amendment and due adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the secretary of state, who shall examine them and if he finds that they conform to the requirements of this chapter, shall so certify and endorse his approval thereon. Thereupon, the articles of amendment shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and no such amendment shall take effect until such articles of amendment shall have been filed as aforesaid. [1963 c 162 § 8.]

31.24.090 Board of directors. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed and conducted by a board of directors, a president, a vice president, a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers and such agents as the corporation by its bylaws shall authorize. The board of directors shall consist of such number, not less than eleven nor more than twenty-one, as shall be determined in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter annually by the members and the stockholders of the corporation. The board of directors may exercise all the powers of the corporation except such as are conferred by law or by the bylaws of the corporation upon the stockholders or members and shall choose and appoint all the agents and officers of the corporation and fill all vacancies except vacancies in the office of director which shall be filled as hereinafter provided. The board of directors shall be elected in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter at the annual meeting, the day and month of which shall be established by the bylaws of the corporations, or, if no annual meeting shall be held in the year of incorporation, then within ninety days after the approval of the articles of incorporation at a special meeting as hereinafter provided. At each annual meeting, or at each special meeting held as provided in this section, the members of the corporation shall elect two-thirds of the board of directors and the stockholders shall elect the remaining directors. The directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the corporation or special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting after the election and until their successors are elected and qualified unless sooner removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws. Any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the members shall be filled by the directors elected by the members, and any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the stockholders shall be filled by the directors elected by the stockholders.

Directors and officers shall not be responsible for losses unless the same shall have been occasioned by the wilful misconduct of such directors and officers. [1974 ex.s. c 16 § 3; 1963 c 162 § 9.]

31.24.100 Earnings and surplus—Reserves. Each year the corporation shall set apart as earned surplus not less than ten percent of its net earnings for the preceding fiscal year until such surplus shall be equal in value to one-half of the amount paid in on the capital stock then outstanding. Whenever the amount of surplus established herein shall become impaired, it shall be built up again to the required amount in the manner provided for its original accumulation. Net earnings and surplus shall be determined by the board of directors, after providing for such reserves as said directors deem desirable, and the determination of the directors made in good faith shall be conclusive on all persons. [1963 c 162 § 10.]

31.24.110 Funds to be deposited in designated depository—Money deposits prohibited. The corporation shall not deposit any of its funds in any banking institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at an authorized meeting of the board of directors, exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated. The corporation shall not receive money on deposit. [1963 c 162 § 11.]

be examined at least once annually by the state supervisor of banking and shall make reports of its condition not less than annually to said state supervisor of banking and more frequently upon call of the state supervisor of banking, who in turn shall make copies of such reports available to the state insurance commissioner and the governor; and the corporation shall also furnish such other information as may from time to time be required by the state supervisor of banking and secretary of state. The corporation shall pay the actual cost of said examinations. The state supervisor of banking shall exercise the same power and authority over corporations organized under this chapter as is now exercised over banks and trust companies by the provisions of the Title 30 RCW, where the provisions of Title 30 RCW are not in conflict with this chapter. [1963 c 162 § 12.]

31.24.130 First meeting. The first meeting of the corporation shall be called by a notice signed by three or more of the incorporators, stating the time, place and purpose of the meeting, a copy of which notice shall be mailed, or delivered, to each incorporator at least five days before the day appointed for the meeting. Said first meeting may be held without such notice upon agreement in writing to that effect signed by all the incorporators. There shall be recorded in the minutes of the meeting a copy of said notice or of such unanimous agreement of the incorporators.

At such first meeting, the incorporators shall organize by the choice, by ballot, of a temporary clerk; by the adoption of bylaws, by the election by ballot of directors; and by action upon such other matters within the powers of the corporation as the incorporators may see fit. The temporary clerk shall be sworn and shall make and attest a record of the proceedings. Ten of the incorporators shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. [1963 c 162 § 13.]

31.24.140 Duration of corporation. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the period of duration of the corporation shall be perpetual, subject, however, to the right of the stockholders and the members to dissolve the corporation prior to the expiration of said period as provided in RCW 31.24.150. [1963 c 162 § 14.]

31.24.150 Dissolution—Method—Distribution of assets. The corporation may upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the stockholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the member shall be entitled dissolve said corporation as provided by *chapter 23.01 RCW, insofar as said *chapter 23.01 RCW is not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter. Upon any dissolution of the corporation, none of the corporation's assets shall be distributed to the stockholders until all sums due the members of the corporation as creditors thereof have been paid in full. [1963 c 162 § 15.]

*Reviser's note: "chapter 23.01 RCW" was repealed by the Washington Business Corporation Act, 1965 c 53. For later enactment see Title 23A RCW.

31.24.160 Credit of state not pledged. Under no circumstances shall the credit of the state of Washington be pledged to any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter. [1963 c 162 § 16.]

31.24.170 Corporations designated state development companies—Scope of operations. Any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter shall be a state development company, as defined in the small business investment act of 1958, public law 85-699, 85th congress, or any other similar federal legislation, and shall be authorized to operate on a state-wide basis. [1963 c 162 § 17.]

31.24.190 Formation of industrial development corporation for purpose of preservation of historic buildings or areas. In addition to the purposes specified in RCW 31.24.020(2) [(3)] an industrial development corporation may be formed to encourage and stimulate the preservation of historic buildings or areas by returning them to economically productive uses which are compatible with or enhance the historic character of such buildings or areas; to stimulate and assist in the development of business or other activities which have an impact upon the preservation of historic buildings or areas; to cooperate and act in conjunction with other organizations, public or private, in the promotion and advancement of historical preservation activities; and to provide financing through loans, investments of other business transactions for the promotion, development, and conduct of all kinds of business activity which encourages or relates to historic preservation. An industrial development corporation created to carry out the purposes of this section shall not engage in the broad economic and business promotion activities permitted by RCW 31.24.020(3) which are not related to the purposes of this section. Any such industrial development corporation shall in all other respects be subject to the provisions of this chapter. [1973 1st ex.s. c 90 § 2.]

31.24.900 Severability—1963 c 162. The provisions of this chapter are severable, and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional by any court of competent jurisdiction, the decision of such court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions. [1963 c 162 § 19.]

This title shall not be construed as amending or repealing any other law of the state authorizing the incorporation of banks or regulating the same, but shall be deemed to be additional legislation for the sole purpose of authorizing the incorporation and operation of mutual savings banks as herein prescribed. Savings banks incorporated on the stock plan and other stock banks having savings departments as authorized by RCW 30.20.060, or by any other law of the state heretofore or hereafter enacted, shall not be in any manner affected by the provisions of this title, or any amendment thereto. [1955 c 13 § 32.04.010. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 52; RRS § 3381.]

32.04.020 Definitions. The use of the term "savings bank" in this title refers to mutual savings banks only.

The use of the words "mutual savings" as part of a name under which business of any kind is or may be transacted by any person, firm, or corporation, except such as were organized and in actual operation on June 9, 1915, or as may be thereafter organized and operated under the requirements of this title is hereby prohibited.

The use of the term "supervisor" in this title refers to the supervisor of banking. [1955 c 13 § 32.04.020. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 49; RRS § 3378.]

32.04.022 "Mortgage" includes deed of trust. The word "mortgage" as used in this title includes deed of trust. [1969 c 55 § 13.]

32.04.025 Powers as to horizontal property regimes or condominiums. The words "real estate" and "real property" as used in this title shall include apartments or other portions, however designated, of horizontal property regimes, or a condominium interest in property, as may be created under any laws now in existence or hereafter enacted. A mutual savings bank may do any act necessary or appropriate in connection with its interest in or ownership of any portion of a horizontal property regime or condominium. [1963 c 176 § 10.]

Horizontal property regimes: Chapter 64.32 RCW.

32.04.030 Offices—Branches. (1) A savings bank shall not do business or be located in the same room with, or in a room connecting with, any other bank, or a trust company that receives deposits of money or commercial paper, or a national banking association.

(2) No savings bank, or any officer or director thereof, shall receive deposits or transact any of its usual business at any place other than its principal place of business or an authorized branch.

(3) A savings bank, with the approval of the supervisor, may establish and operate branches but only upon the conditions and subject to the limitations following:

(a) If its guaranty fund is not less than the aggregate paid-in capital which would be required by law as a prerequisite to the establishment and operation of an equal number of branches in like locations by a bank.

(b) Branches may be established in any county of the state; and

(c) A branch shall not be established at a place at which the supervisor would not permit a proposed new savings bank to engage in business, by reason of any consideration contemplated by RCW 32.08.040, 32.08.050 and 32.08.060, the provisions of which, insofar as applicable, including those relating to appeals, shall extend to applications to establish branches. [1955 c 80 § 1; 1955 c 13 § 32.04.030. Prior: 1933 c 143 § 1; 1925 ex.s. c 86 § 10; 1915 c 175 § 15; RRS § 3344.]

32.04.040 Changing place of business. Any savings bank may make a written application to the supervisor for leave to change its place of business to another place in the same county. The application shall state the reasons for such proposed change, and shall be signed and acknowledged by a majority of its board of trustees. If the proposed place of business is within the limits of the city or town in which the present place of business of the savings bank is located, such change may be made upon the written approval of the supervisor; if beyond such limits, notice of intention to make such application, signed by two principal officers of the savings bank, shall be published once a week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such application in a daily newspaper published in the city of Olympia and shall be published in like manner in a newspaper to be designated by the supervisor, published in the county in which the present place of business of the bank is located. If the supervisor grants his certificate authorizing the change of location, which in his discretion he may do, the savings bank shall cause such certificate to be published once in each week for two successive weeks in the newspapers in which the notice of application was published. When the requirements of this section have been fully complied with, the savings bank may, upon or after the day specified in the certificate, remove its property and effects to the location designated therein, and thereafter its principal place of business shall be the location so specified; and it shall have all the rights and powers in such new location which it possessed at its former location. [1955 c 13 § 32.04.040. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 48; RRS § 3377.]

Every such report, in a condensed form to be prescribed by the supervisor, shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the place where the bank is located. A savings bank shall also make such special reports as the supervisor shall call for. A regular report shall be filed with the supervisor within thirty days and proof of the publication thereof within forty days from the date of the issuance of the call for the report. A special report shall be filed within such time as the supervisor shall indicate in the call therefor. A savings bank that fails to file within the prescribed time any report required by this section or proof of the publication of any report required to be published shall be subject to a penalty to the state of fifty dollars for each day's delay, recoverable by a civil action brought by the attorney general in the name of the state. [1977 ex.s. c 241 § 1; 1955 c 13 § 32.04.050. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 86 § 13; 1915 c 175 § 39; RRS § 3368a.]

If the supervisor furnishes any examination report to officials empowered to investigate criminal charges, the supervisor may only furnish that part of the report which is necessary and pertinent to the investigation, and the supervisor may do this only after notifying the affected mutual savings bank and any customer of the mutual savings bank who is named in that part of the report of the order to furnish the part of the examination report unless the officials requesting the report first obtain a waiver of the notice requirement from a court of competent jurisdiction for good cause.

(3) All examination reports furnished under subsection (2) of this section shall remain the property of the division of banking, and no person, agency, or authority to whom reports are furnished or any officer, director, or employee thereof shall disclose or make public any of the reports or any information contained therein except in published statistical material that does not disclose the affairs of any individual or corporation: Provided, That nothing herein shall prevent the use in a criminal prosecution of reports furnished under subsection (2) of this section.

(4) The examination report made by the division of banking is designed for use in the supervision of the mutual savings bank, and the supervisor may furnish a copy of the report to the mutual savings bank examined. The report shall remain the property of the supervisor and will be furnished to the mutual savings bank solely for its confidential use. Under no circumstances shall the mutual savings bank or any of its trustees, officers, or employees disclose or make public in any manner the report or any portion thereof.

(5) Examination reports and information obtained by the supervisor and the supervisor's staff in conducting examinations shall not be subject to public disclosure under chapter 42.17 RCW.

(6) In any civil action in which the reports are sought to be discovered or used as evidence, any party may, upon notice to the supervisor, petition the court for an in-

The hearing shall be set not earlier than ten days nor later than thirty days after service of the notice, unless a later date is set by the supervisor at the request of the mutual savings bank.

Unless the mutual savings bank shall appear at the hearing by a duly authorized representative, it shall be deemed to have consented to the issuance of the cease and desist order. In the event of this consent or if upon the record made at the hearing the supervisor finds that any violation or practice specified in the notice of charges has been established, the supervisor may issue and serve upon the mutual savings bank an order to cease and desist from the violation or practice. The order may require the mutual savings bank and its trustees, officers, employees, and agents to cease and desist from the violation or practice and may require the mutual savings bank to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from the violation or practice.

(3) A cease and desist order shall become effective at the expiration of ten days after the service of the order upon the mutual savings bank concerned, except that a cease and desist order issued upon consent shall become effective at the time specified in the order and shall remain effective as provided therein, unless it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the supervisor or a reviewing court. The order shall become effective upon service on the mutual savings bank and, unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court in proceedings under RCW 32.04.270, shall remain effective pending the completion of the administrative proceedings under the notice and until such time as the supervisor shall dismiss the charges specified in the notice or until the effective date of a cease and desist order issued against the mutual savings bank under RCW 32.04.250. [1979 c 46 § 2.]

Severability—1979 c 46: See note following RCW 32.04.250.

32.04.270 Violations or unsafe practices—Injunction to set aside temporary cease and desist order. Within ten days after a mutual savings bank has been served with a temporary cease and desist order, the mutual savings bank may apply to the superior court in the county of its principal place of business for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the notice served under RCW 32.04.250.

such place as is designated by the supervisor and shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 34.04 RCW. The hearing shall be private unless the supervisor determines that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest after fully considering the views of the party afforded the hearing.

Within sixty days after the hearing, the supervisor shall render a decision which shall include findings of fact upon which the decision is based and shall issue and serve upon each party to the proceeding an order or orders consistent with RCW 32.04.250 or 32.16.093, as the case may be.

A copy of the petition shall be immediately served upon the supervisor and the supervisor shall then file in the court the record of the proceeding. The court shall have jurisdiction upon the filing of the petition, which jurisdiction shall become exclusive upon the filing of the record, to affirm, modify, terminate, or set aside in whole or in part the order of the supervisor except that the supervisor may modify, terminate, or set aside an order with the permission of the court. The judgment and decree of the court shall be final, except that it shall be subject to appellate review under the rules of court.

(3) The commencement of proceedings for judicial review under subsection (2) of this section shall not operate as a stay of any order issued by the supervisor unless specifically ordered by the court.

(4) Service of any notice or order required to be served under RCW 32.04.250, 32.04.260, or 32.16.093, or under RCW 32.16.090, as now or hereafter amended, shall be accomplished in the same manner as required for the service of process in civil actions in superior courts of this state. When authorized by the supervisor, as hereinafter provided, not less than nine nor more than thirty persons may form a corporation to be known as a "mutual savings bank." Such persons must be citizens of the United States; at least four-fifths of them must be residents of this state, and at least two-thirds of them must be residents of the county where the bank is to be located and its business transacted. They shall subscribe and acknowledge an incorporation certificate in triplicate which shall specifically state:

(1) The name by which the savings bank is to be known, which name shall include the words "mutual savings bank";

(2) The place where the bank is to be located, and its business transacted, naming the city or town and county;

(3) The name, occupation, residence, and post office address of each incorporator;

(4) The sums which each incorporator will contribute in cash to the initial guaranty fund, and to the expense fund respectively, as provided in RCW 32.08.090 and 32.08.100;

(5) A declaration that each incorporator will accept the responsibilities and faithfully discharge the duties of a trustee of the savings bank, and is free from all the disqualifications specified in RCW 32.16.010. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.010. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 1; 1905 c 129 § 2; RRS § 3313.]

32.08.020 Notice of intention. At the time of executing the incorporation certificate, the proposed incorporators shall sign a notice of intention to organize the mutual savings bank, which shall specify their names, the name of the proposed corporation, and its location as set forth in the incorporation certificate. The original of such notice shall be filed in the office of the supervisor within sixty days after the date of its execution, and a copy thereof shall be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper designated by the supervisor, the publication to be commenced within thirty days after such designation. At least fifteen days before the incorporation certificate is submitted to the supervisor for examination, as provided in RCW 32.08.030, a copy of such notice shall be served upon each savings bank doing business in the city or town named in the incorporation certificate, by mailing such copy (postage prepaid) to such bank. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.020. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 2; RRS § 3314.]

32.08.030 Submission of certificate—Proof of service of notice. After the lapse of at least twenty-eight days from the date of the first due publication of the notice of intention to incorporate, and within ten days after the date of the last publication thereof, the incorporation certificate executed in triplicate shall be submitted for examination to the supervisor at his office in Olympia, with affidavits showing due publication and service of the notice of intention to organize prescribed in RCW 32.08.020. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.030. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 3; RRS § 3315.]

32.08.040 Examination and action by supervisor. When any such certificate has been filed for examination the supervisor shall thereupon ascertain from the best source of information at his command, and by such investigation as he may deem necessary, whether the character, responsibility, and general fitness of the person or persons named in such certificate are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed bank will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this title, and whether the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by allowing such proposed bank to be incorporated and engage in business, and whether greater convenience and access to a savings bank would be afforded to any considerable number of depositors by opening a mutual savings bank in the place designated, whether the population in the neighborhood of such place, and in the surrounding country, affords a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed bank, and whether the contributions to the initial guaranty fund and expense fund have been paid in cash. After the supervisor has satisfied himself by such investigation whether it is expedient and desirable to permit such proposed bank to be incorporated and engage in business, he shall within sixty days after the date of the filing of the certificate for examination indorse upon each of the triplicates thereof over his official signature the word "approved" or the word "refused," with the date of such indorsement. In case of refusal he shall forthwith return one of the triplicates so indorsed to the proposed incorporators from whom the certificate was received. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.040. From the supervisor's refusal to issue a certificate of authorization, the applicants or a majority of them, may within thirty days from the date of the filing of the certificate of refusal with the secretary of state, appeal to a board of appeal composed of the governor or the governor's designee, the attorney general and the supervisor of banking by filing in the office of the supervisor a notice that they appeal to such board from his refusal. The procedure upon the appeal shall be such as the board may prescribe, and its determination shall be certified, filed, and recorded in the same manner as the supervisor's, and shall be final. [1979 1st ex.s. c 57 § 6; 1955 c 13 § 32.08.050. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 4, part; RRS § 3316, part.]

32.08.060 Procedure upon approval. In case of approval, the supervisor shall forthwith give notice thereof to the proposed incorporators, and file one of the triplicate certificates in his own office, shall transmit another triplicate to the county auditor of the county in which such bank is to be located and shall transmit the third triplicate to the secretary of state. Upon receipt from the proposed incorporators of the same fees as are required for filing and recording other incorporation certificates, the county auditor and the secretary of state shall file the certificate in their respective offices, and the secretary of state shall record the same. Upon the filing of said incorporation certificate in triplicate approved as aforesaid in the offices of the supervisor, the secretary of state and county auditor, the persons named therein and their successors shall thereupon become and be a corporation, which corporation shall have the powers and be subject to the duties and obligations prescribed in this title and its corporate existence shall be perpetual, unless sooner terminated pursuant to law, but such corporation shall not receive deposits or engage in business until authorized so to do by the supervisor as provided in RCW 32.08.070. Triplicate copies of the resolution, subscribed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of such bank, shall be filed in the office of the supervisor within thirty days after its adoption. If the supervisor finds that the resolution conforms to law he shall, within sixty days after the date of the filing thereof, endorse upon each of the triplicates thereof, over his official signature, his approval and forthwith give notice thereof to the bank and shall file one of the triplicate certificates in his own office, shall transmit another triplicate to the county auditor of the county in which the main office of such bank is located and shall transmit the third triplicate to the secretary of state. Upon receipt from the mutual savings bank of the same fees as are required of general corporations for filing corresponding instruments, the county auditor and the secretary of state shall file the resolution in their respective offices, and the secretary of state shall record the same. Upon the filing of said resolution in triplicate, approved as aforesaid in the offices of the supervisor, the secretary of state and county auditor, the corporate existence of said bank shall continue for the period set forth in said resolution unless sooner terminated pursuant to law. [1963 c 176 § 1; 1957 c 80 § 8.]

32.08.070 Authorization certificate. Before a mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do any business the supervisor shall be satisfied that the corporation has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law and fulfilled all the conditions precedent to commencing business imposed by this title. If satisfied that the corporation has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, and fulfilled all the conditions precedent to commencing business imposed by this title, the supervisor shall within six months after the date upon which the proposed organization certificate was filed with him for examination, but in no case after the expiration of that period, issue under his hand and official seal in quadruplicate an authorization certificate to such corporation. Such authorization certificate shall state that the corporation therein named has complied with all the requirements of law, that it is authorized to transact at the place designated in its certificate of incorporation, the business of a mutual savings bank. One of the quadruplicate authorization certificates shall be transmitted by the supervisor to the corporation therein named, and the other three authorization certificates shall be filed by the supervisor in the same public offices where the certificate of incorporation is filed, and shall be attached to said incorporation certificate. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.070. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 5; RRS § 3317.]

32.08.080 Conditions precedent to reception of deposits. Before such corporation shall be authorized to receive deposits or transact business other than the completion of its organization, the supervisor shall be satisfied that:

(1) The incorporators have made the deposit of the initial guaranty fund required by this title;

(2) That the incorporators have made the deposit of the expense fund required by RCW 32.08.090 and if the supervisor shall so require, have entered into the agreement or undertaking with him and have filed the same and the security therefor as prescribed in said section;

(3) That the corporation has transmitted to the supervisor the name, residence, and post office address of each officer of the corporation;

(4) That its certificate of incorporation in triplicate has been filed in the respective public offices designated in this title. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.080. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 6; RRS § 3318.]

32.08.090 Expense fund—Agreement to contribute further—Security. Before any mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do business, its incorporators shall create an expense fund from which the expense of organizing such bank and its operating expenses may be paid, until such time as its earnings are sufficient to pay its operating expenses in addition to such dividends as may be declared and credited to its depositors from its earnings. The incorporators shall deposit to the credit of such savings bank in cash as an expense fund the sum of five thousand dollars. They shall also enter into such an agreement or undertaking with the supervisor as trustee for the depositors with the savings bank as he may require to make such further contributions in cash to the expense fund as may be necessary to pay its operating expenses until such time as it can pay them from its earnings, in addition to such dividends as may be declared and credited to its depositors. Such agreement or undertaking shall fix the maximum liability assumed thereby which shall be a reasonable amount approved by the supervisor and the same shall be secured to his satisfaction, which security in his discretion may be by a surety bond executed by a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact within this state the business of surety. The agreement or undertaking and security shall be filed in the office of the supervisor. Such agreement or undertaking and such security need not be made or furnished unless the supervisor shall require the same. The amounts contributed to the expense fund of said savings bank by the incorporators or trustees shall not constitute a liability of the savings bank except as hereinafter provided. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.090. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 8; RRS § 3320.]

32.08.100 Guaranty fund. Before any mutual savings bank shall be authorized to do business, its incorporators shall create a guaranty fund for the protection of its depositors against loss on its investments, whether arising from depreciation in the market value of its securities or otherwise:

(1) Such guaranty fund shall consist of payments in cash made by the original incorporators and of all sums credited thereto from the earnings of the savings bank as hereinafter required.

(2) The incorporators shall deposit to the credit of such savings bank in cash as an initial guaranty fund at least five thousand dollars.

(3) Prior to the liquidation of any such savings bank such guaranty fund shall not be in any manner encroached upon, except for losses and the repayment of contributions made by incorporators or trustees as hereinafter provided, until such fund together with undivided profits exceeds twenty-five percent of the amount due depositors.

(4) The amounts contributed to such guaranty fund by the incorporators or trustees shall not constitute a liability of the savings bank, except as hereinafter provided, and any loss sustained by the savings bank in excess of that portion of the guaranty fund created from earnings may be charged against such contributions pro rata. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.100. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 7; RRS § 3319.]

32.08.110 Guaranty fund—Purpose. The contributions of the incorporators, or trustees of any such savings bank under the provisions of RCW 32.08.100, and the sums credited thereto from its net earnings under the provisions of RCW 32.08.120, shall constitute a guaranty fund for the security of its depositors, and shall be held to meet any contingency or loss in its business from depreciation of its securities or otherwise, and for no other purpose except as provided in RCW 32.08.130, and RCW 32.12.090(5). [1955 c 13 § 32.08.110. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 21; RRS § 3350.]

32.08.120 Guaranty fund—Replenishment—Dividends. (1) If at the close of any dividend period the guaranty fund of a savings bank is less than ten percent of the amount due to depositors, there shall be deducted from its net earnings and credited to its guaranty fund not less than five percent of its net earnings for such period.

(2) The balance of its net earnings for such dividend period, plus any earnings from prior accounting periods not previously disbursed and not reserved for losses or other contingencies or required to be maintained in the guaranty fund, shall be available for dividends.

While the trustees of such savings bank are paying its expenses or any portion thereof, the amounts to be credited to its guaranty fund shall be computed at the same percentage upon the total dividends credited to its depositors instead of upon its net earnings. If the guaranty fund accumulated from earnings equals or exceeds ten percent of the amount due to depositors, the minimum dividend shall be four percent, if the net earnings for such period are sufficient therefor. [1955 c 13 § 32.08.120. Prior: 1941 c 15 § 4; 1929 c 123 § 3; 1927 c 184 § 6; 1915 c 175 § 24; Rem. Supp. 1941 § 3353.]

32.08.130 Reimbursement fund. When the portion of the guaranty fund created from earnings amounts to not less than five thousand dollars (including in the case of a savings bank converted from a building and loan or savings and loan association or society the amount of the initial guaranty fund), the board of trustees, with the written consent of the supervisor, may establish a reimbursement fund from which to repay contributors to the expense fund and the initial guaranty fund (excepting the initial guaranty fund in the case of a bank converted from a building and loan or savings and loan association or society), and may transfer to the reimbursement fund any unexpended balance of contributions to the expense fund. At the close of each dividend period the trustees may place to the credit of the reimbursement fund not more than one percent of the net earnings of the bank during that period. Payments from the reimbursement fund may be made from time to time in such amounts as the board of trustees shall determine, and shall be made first to the contributors to the expense fund in proportion to their contributions thereto until they shall have been repaid in full, and then shall be made to the contributors to the guaranty fund in proportion to their contributions thereto until they shall have been repaid in full. In case of the liquidation of the savings bank before the contributions to the expense fund and the initial guaranty fund have been fully repaid as above contemplated, any portion of the contributions not needed for the payment of the expenses of liquidation and the payment of depositors in full shall be paid to the contributors to the expense fund in proportion to their contributions thereto until they have been repaid in full, and then shall be paid to the contributors to the guaranty fund in proportion to their contributions thereto until they have been repaid in full. [1955 c 13 § 32.08-.130. Prior: 1945 c 135 § 1; 1927 c 178 § 1; 1915 c 175 § 9; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3321.]

(1) A trust established by an inter vivos trust agreement or under the will of a deceased person.

Before engaging in trust business, a mutual savings bank shall apply to the supervisor of banking on such form as he shall determine and pay the same fee as required for a state bank to engage in trust business. In considering such application the supervisor shall ascertain from the best source of information at his command and by such investigation as he may deem necessary whether the management and personnel of the mutual savings bank are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the trust business will be adequately and efficiently conducted in accordance with law, whether the resources in the neighborhood of such place and in the surrounding country afford a reasonable promise of adequate support for the proposed trust business and whether the resources of the mutual savings bank are sufficient to support the conduct of such trust business, and that the mutual savings bank has and maintains, in addition to its guaranty fund, undivided profits against which the depositors have no prior claim in an amount not less than would be required of a state bank or trust company, which undivided profits shall be eligible for investment in the same manner as the guaranty fund of a mutual savings bank. Within sixty days after receipt of such application, the supervisor shall either approve or refuse the same and forthwith return to the mutual savings bank a copy of the application upon which his decision has been endorsed. Every such bank may limit the aggregate amount which an individual or any corporation or society may have to his or its credit to such sum as such bank may deem expedient to receive; and may in its discretion refuse to receive a deposit, or may at any time return all or any part of any deposits or require the withdrawal of any dividends or interest. Any account in excess of one hundred thousand dollars may only be accepted or held in accordance with such regulations as the supervisor may establish. [1967 c 145 § 1; 1961 c 80 § 1; 1959 c 41 § 2; 1957 c 80 § 4; 1955 c 13 § 32.12.010. 32.12.020 Repayment of deposits and dividends. The sums deposited with any savings bank, together with any dividends or interest credited thereto, shall be repaid to the depositors thereof respectively, or to their legal representatives, after demand in such manner, and at such times, and under such regulations, as the board of trustees shall prescribe, subject to the provisions of this section and RCW 32.12.030. Such regulations shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the room where the business of such savings bank shall be transacted, and shall be available to depositors upon request. All such rules and regulations, and all amendments thereto, from time to time in effect, shall be binding upon all depositors.

(1) Such bank may at any time by a resolution of its board of trustees require a notice of not more than six months before repaying deposits, in which event no deposit shall be due or payable until the required notice of intention to withdraw the same shall have been personally given by the depositor: Provided, That such bank at its option may pay any deposit or deposits before the expiration of such notice. But no bank shall agree with its depositors or any of them in advance to waive the requirement of notice as herein provided.

(2) Except as provided in subdivisions (3), (4), and (5) of this section the savings bank shall not pay any dividend, or interest, or deposit, or portion thereof, or any check drawn upon it by a depositor unless the certificate of deposit is produced, or the passbook of the depositor is produced and the proper entry is made therein, at the time of the payment.

(3) The board of trustees of any such bank may by its bylaws provide for making payments in cases of loss of passbook or certificate of deposit, or other exceptional cases where the passbooks or certificates of deposit cannot be produced without loss or serious inconvenience to depositors, the right to make such payments to cease when so directed by the supervisor upon his being satisfied that such right is being improperly exercised by any such bank; but payments may be made at any time upon the judgment or order of a court.

(4) The board of trustees of any such bank may by its bylaws provide for making payments to depositors at their request, of dividends or interest payable on any deposit, without requiring the production of the passbook or certificate of deposit of the depositor, and any payment made in accordance with any such request and the receipt or acquittance of the one to whom such payment is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such savings bank for all payments made on account of such request prior to receipt by such savings bank of notice in writing not to pay such sums in accordance with the terms of such request.

(5) The issuance of a passbook or certificate of deposit may be omitted for any account if a ledger record thereof is maintained in lieu of a passbook or certificate of deposit on which shall be entered deposits, withdrawals, and interest credited: Provided, That in any event a passbook or certificate of deposit shall be issued upon the request of any depositor.

(6) If any person dies leaving in any such bank an account on which the balance due him does not exceed one thousand dollars and no executor or administrator of his estate has been appointed, such bank may in its discretion pay the balance of his account to his widow (or if the decedent was a married woman, then to her husband), next of kin, funeral director, or other creditor who may appear to be entitled thereto. As a condition of such payment such bank may require proof by affidavit as to the parties in interest, the filing of proper waivers, the execution of a bond of indemnity with surety or sureties by the person to whom the payment is to be made, and a proper receipt and acquittance for such payment. For any such payment pursuant to this section such bank shall not be liable to the decedent's executor or administrator thereafter appointed, unless the payment was made within six months after the decedent's death, and an action to recover the amount is commenced within six months after the date of payment. On the death of any depositor of any savings bank, the bank may also pay out the moneys on deposit to the credit of the deceased upon presentation of an affidavit as provided in RCW 11.62.010. 32.12.025 Withdrawals by savings bank's drafts in accordance with depositor's instructions authorized. Subject to the provisions of RCW 32.12.020(1), a savings bank may, on instructions from a depositor, effect withdrawals from a savings account by the savings bank's drafts payable to parties and on terms as so instructed; to the extent of the subjection of accounts to such withdrawal instruction, such accounts may be specifically classified under RCW 32.12.090(2) and ineligible to receive interest or eligible only for limited interest. [1967 c 145 § 3.]

32.12.030 Deposits of minors, in trust, of joint tenants. (1) When any deposit shall be made by or in the name of any minor, the same shall be held for the exclusive right and benefit of such minor, and free from the control or lien of all other persons, except creditors, and shall be paid, together with dividends thereon, to the person in whose name the deposit shall have been made, and his receipt or acquittance shall be a valid discharge.

(2) When any deposit shall be made by any person in trust for another, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust shall have been given in writing to such savings bank, in the event of the death of the trustee, the deposit or any part thereof, together with the dividends thereon, may be paid to the person for whom the deposit was made.

(3) After any deposit shall be made by any person in the names of such depositor and one or more other persons and in form to be paid to any of them or the survivor of them, such deposit and any additions thereto made by any of such persons after the making thereof, shall become the property of such persons as joint tenants, and the same, together with all dividends thereon, shall be held for the exclusive use of such persons and may be paid to any of them during their lifetimes or to the survivor or survivors and such payment and the receipt or acquittance of the one to whom such payment is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to such savings bank for all payments made on account of such deposit prior to the receipt by such savings bank of notice in writing not to pay such deposit in accordance with the terms thereof. The making of the deposit in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence, in any action or proceeding to which either such savings bank or the surviving depositor is a party, of the intention of all depositors to vest title to such deposit and the additions thereto in the survivor or survivors. [1963 c 176 § 4; 1961 c 280 § 7; 1955 c 13 § 32.12.030. Prior: 1929 c 123 § 2; 1915 c 175 § 19; RRS § 3348.]

(2) The bonds, notes, mortgages, or other interest bearing obligations purchased or acquired by a savings bank, shall not be entered on its books at more than the actual cost thereof, and shall not thereafter be carried upon its books for a longer period than until the next declaration of dividends, or in any event for more than one year, at a valuation exceeding their present cost as determined by amortization, that is, by deducting from the cost of any such security purchased for a sum in excess of the amount payable thereon at maturity and charging to "profit and loss" a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity, or adding to the cost of any such security purchased at less than the amount payable thereon at maturity and crediting to "profit and loss" a sufficient sum to bring it to par at maturity.

(3) No such bank shall enter, or at any time carry on its books, the real estate and the building or buildings thereon used by it as its place of business at a valuation exceeding their actual cost to the bank.

(4) Every such bank shall conform its methods of keeping its books and records to such orders in respect thereof as shall have been made and promulgated by the supervisor. Any officer, agent, or employee of any savings bank who refuses or neglects to obey any such order shall be punished as hereinafter provided.

(5) Real estate acquired by a savings bank, other than that acquired for use as a place of business, may be entered on the books of the bank at the actual cost thereof but shall not be carried beyond the current dividend period at an amount in excess of the amount of the debt in protection of which such real estate was acquired, plus the cost of any improvements thereto.

An appraisal made by two or more persons appointed by the board of trustees, shall be made of every such parcel of real estate within six months from the date of conveyance and also within six months from date when any expenditure to improve such real estate is added to the book value. If the value at which such real estate is carried on the books is in excess of the value found on appraisal the book value shall, at the end of the dividend period during which such appraisal was made, be reduced to an amount not in excess of such appraised value.

32.12.060 Bad debts—Uncollected judgments. Any debt due a savings bank on which interest is one year or more past due and unpaid, unless such debt is well secured and in course of collection by legal process or probate proceedings, shall be considered a bad debt, and shall be charged off of the books of such bank. A judgment held by a savings bank shall not be considered an asset of the corporation after two years from the date of its rendition, unless with the written permission of the supervisor specifying an additional period: Provided, That time consumed by any appeal shall be excluded. To determine the amount of gross earnings of a savings bank during any dividend period the following items may be included:

(a) All earnings actually received during such period, less interest accrued and uncollected included in the last previous calculation of earnings;

The total contributions for any calendar year shall not exceed a sum equal to one-half of one percent of the net earnings of such savings bank for the preceding calendar year.

The balance thus obtained shall constitute the net earnings of the savings bank for such period.

(3) Unimpaired contributions to the initial guaranty fund and to the expense fund, made by the incorporators or trustees of a savings bank, shall be entitled to have dividends apportioned thereon, which may be credited and paid to such incorporators or trustees.

- (2) Contracts for the sale of realty;
- (3) Mortgages upon leasehold estates; and
- (4) Notes secured by pledges or assignments of first mortgages or real estate contracts. [1977 ex.s. c 104 § 7; 1969 c 55 § 10; 1963 c 176 § 19.]

32.20.420 Loans for financing land acquisition and development for commercial, industrial, or residential usage. A mutual savings bank may invest not to exceed ten percent of its funds in loans on the security, and for the purpose of financing the acquisition and development, of land for primarily commercial, industrial, or residential usage. Within the ten percent limit, and subject to the further limit hereinafter set forth, the bank may loan up to eighty percent of the appraised value of the land as of the completion of the development thereof into building lots or sites ready for construction thereon. Each such loan shall be repayable within a period of not more than ten years and the interest thereon shall be payable at least semiannually. When any portion of the security is released from the lien of the mortgage, the principal amount of such loan shall be reduced in an amount at least equal to that portion of the total loan secured by the property released.

A loan may be made on real estate which is to be developed with the developments to be paid for with the proceeds of such loan if it is arranged that the proceeds will be used for that purpose and that when so used the property will qualify under this section. [1977 ex.s. c 104 § 8; 1969 c 55 § 11; 1967 c 145 § 11.]

32.20.430 Loans to banks or trust companies. A mutual savings bank may invest its funds in loans to banks or trust companies which mature on the next business day following the day of making such loan. The loans may be evidenced by any writing or ledger entries deemed adequate by the mutual savings bank and may be secured or unsecured. The loans made hereunder are payable on the same basis as are regular deposits in such banks, and therefore the transactions may be characterized for accounting and statement purposes and carried on the books of the mutual savings bank as either a deposit with or a loan to the bank. [1971 ex.s. c 222 § 3.]

32.20.440 Purchase of United States securities from banks or trust companies. A mutual savings bank may invest its funds in the purchase of United States government securities from a bank or trust company, subject to the selling bank's or trust company's agreement to repurchase such securities on the business day next following their purchase by the mutual savings bank. The securities may be purchased at par, or at a premium or discount, as the mutual savings bank may agree, and may be characterized for accounting and statement purposes and carried on the books of the mutual savings bank as such securities to the extent of their market value, and as due from such banks or trust companies to the extent that the repurchase price agreed to be paid exceeds such market value. [1971 ex.s. c 222 § 4.]

Severability—1971 ex.s. c 222: See note following RCW 32.04.085.

32.20.450 Low-cost housing—Legislative finding. The legislature finds there is a shortage of adequate housing in a suitable environment in many parts of this state for people of modest means, which shortage adversely affects the public in general and the mutual savings banks of this state and their depositors. The legislature further finds that the making of loans or investments to alleviate this problem which may provide a less than market rate of return and entail a higher degree of risk than might otherwise be acceptable, will benefit this state, the banks, and their depositors. [1973 1st ex.s. c 31 § 1.]

Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31: See RCW 32.20.500.

32.20.460 Low-cost housing—Factory built housing—Mobile homes. In addition to the portions of its funds permitted to be invested in real estate loans under RCW 32.20.410, a mutual savings bank may invest not to exceed fifteen percent of its funds in loans and investments as follows:

(1) Loans for the rehabilitation, remodeling, or expansion of existing housing, if it is arranged that the loan proceeds will be used for such purpose. Such loans may be secured by second mortgages, shall require the payment of principal and interest in annual, semiannual, quarterly, or monthly payments at a rate or rates which if continued would repay the loan in full in not more than fifteen years, and shall be in a principal amount not to exceed twenty thousand dollars per living unit for single family housing or twelve thousand five hundred dollars per living unit for multi-family housing.

(2) Loans in connection with, or participation in:

(a) Housing programs of any agency of federal, state, or local government; and

(b) Housing programs of any nonprofit, union, community, public, or quasi-public corporation or entity.

Such housing must be made available to all without regard to race, creed, sex, color, or national origin.

(3) Loans for purchasing or constructing factory built housing, including but not limited to mobile homes used or to be used for permanent or semipermanent housing. The bank shall determine the amount, security, and repayment basis which it considers prudent for the loans. The loan shall be secured by a first mortgage on the real estate, except that no real estate mortgage need be obtained if provision satisfactory to the bank is made for removal of the mobile home or other housing in the event of default and realization on the security.

(4) In mobile home chattel paper which finances the acquisition of inventory by a mobile home dealer if the inventory is to be held for sale in the ordinary course of business by the mobile home dealer, the monetary obligation evidenced by such chattel paper is the obligation of the mobile home dealer and the amount thereof does not exceed the amount allowed to be loaned on such mobile homes under subsection (3) of this section. [1977 ex.s. c 104 § 9; 1973 1st ex.s. c 31 § 2.]

Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31: See RCW 32.20.500.

32.20.470 Improvement of private land for public parks and recreation areas. Subject to the limits hereinafter set forth, a mutual savings bank may expend its funds for the improvement for public use of privately owned land as parks or recreation areas, including but not limited to "vest pocket" parks, provided that the owner of such land will:

(1) Permit public use thereof for a period of at least eighteen months or for such longer period and subject to such other requirements as the bank may impose; and

(2) At or before the end of public use, permit the removal of all such improvements which in the bank's judgment reasonably may be accomplished.

Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31: See RCW 32.20.500.

32.20.480 Loans or investments to provide adequate housing and environmental improvements—Criteria—Restrictions. Loans or investments made under *this 1973 amendatory act may provide a less than market rate of return and entail a higher degree of risk than might otherwise be acceptable to the general market, so long as the board of trustees of the bank determines the loan or investment may be beneficial to the community where made, without the need to show a direct corporate benefit, and so long as any private individual who benefits is not, and is not related to any person who is, an officer, employee, or trustee of the bank. It is hereby recognized that the mutual savings banks of the state of Washington and their depositors are affected adversely by the absence of adequate low-cost housing and environmental developments and improvements within the communities they serve and the state of Washington.

The amount a mutual savings bank may invest under *this 1973 amendatory act during any twelve month period at less than a market rate of return shall not exceed two percent of the total principal amount of all real estate loans made by the bank during the preceding twelve months. [1973 1st ex.s. c 31 § 4.]

Reviser's note: "this 1973 amendatory act" consists of RCW 32.20.450-32.20.500 and the amendments to RCW 32.20.280 and 32.20.330 by 1973 1st ex.s. c 31.

Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31: See RCW 32.20.500.

32.20.490 Single family residences—First mortgages—Insured loans. A mutual savings bank may invest its funds in first mortgages on single family residences, which loans are insured in whole or in part by an insurance company authorized to do business in the state of Washington and in the business of insuring real estate mortgages. Except as provided in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, the provisions of RCW 32.20.250 shall apply to such loans:

(1) Any loan so insured may exceed ninety percent of the value of the real estate, including improvements, but shall not exceed ninety-five percent of such value.

(2) The terms of payment and the ultimate maturity of such loan may exceed the limits as set forth in RCW 32.20.250. [1973 1st ex.s. c 31 § 5.]

Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31: See RCW 32.20.500.

32.20.500 Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 31. The powers granted by *this 1973 amendatory act are in addition to and not in limitation of the powers conferred upon a mutual savings bank by other provisions of law. [1973 1st ex.s. c 31 § 8.]

Reviser's note: "this 1973 amendatory act", see note following RCW 32.20.480.

32.24.010 Liquidation of solvent bank. If the trustees of any solvent mutual savings bank deem it necessary or expedient to close the business of such bank, they may, by affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the whole number of trustees, at a meeting called for that purpose, of which one month's notice has been given, either personally or by mailing such notice to the post office address of each trustee, declare by resolution their determination to close such business and pay the moneys due depositors and creditors and to surrender the corporate franchise. Subject to the approval and under the direction of the supervisor, such savings bank may adopt any lawful plan for closing up its affairs, as nearly as may be in accordance with the original plan and objects. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.010. Prior: 1915 c 175 § 45; RRS § 3374.]

32.24.020 Procedure to liquidate and dissolve. When the trustees, acting under the provisions of RCW 32.24-.010, have paid the sums due respectively to all creditors and depositors, who, after such notice as the supervisor of banking shall prescribe, claim the money due and their deposits, the trustees shall make a transcript or statement from the books in the bank of the names of all depositors and creditors who have not claimed or have not received the balance of the credit due them, and of the sums due them, respectively, and shall file such transcript with the supervisor and pay over and transfer all such unclaimed and unpaid deposits, credits, and moneys to the supervisor. The trustees shall then report their proceedings, duly verified, to the superior court of the county wherein the bank is located, and upon such report and the petition of the trustees, and after notice to the attorney general and the supervisor, and such other notice as the court may deem necessary, the court shall adjudge the franchise surrendered and the existence of the corporation terminated. Certified copies of the judgment shall be filed in the offices of the secretary of state, supervisor of banking and auditor of the county wherein the bank is located and shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of state. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.020. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 4; 1915 c 175 § 46; RRS § 3375.]

32.24.030 Transfer to another bank for consolidation or liquidation. A mutual savings bank may for the purpose of consolidation or voluntary liquidation transfer its assets and liabilities to another mutual savings bank, by the affirmative vote or with the written consent of two-thirds of the whole number of its trustees, but only with the written consent of the supervisor and upon such terms and conditions as he may prescribe.

Upon any such transfer being made, or upon the liquidation of any such mutual savings bank for any cause whatever, or upon its being no longer engaged in the business of a mutual savings bank, the supervisor shall terminate its certificate of authority, which shall not thereafter be revived or renewed. When the certificate of authority of any such corporation has been revoked, it shall forthwith collect and distribute its remaining assets, and when that is done, the supervisor shall certify the fact to the secretary of state, whereupon the corporation shall cease to exist and the secretary of state shall note the fact upon his records.

In case of the consolidation with or voluntary liquidation of a mutual savings bank by another mutual savings bank, as herein provided, any sums advanced by its incorporators, or others, to create or maintain its guaranty fund or its expense fund shall not be liabilities of such mutual savings bank unless the mutual savings bank, so assuming its liabilities shall specifically undertake to pay the same, or a stated portion thereof. [1955 c 13 § 32-.24.030. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 5; RRS § 3375a.]

32.24.040 Unsafe practices—Notice to correct. Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any mutual savings bank is conducting its business in an unsafe manner or that it refuses to submit its books, papers, or concerns to lawful inspection, or that any trustee or officer thereof refuses to submit to examination on oath touching its concerns, or that it has failed to carry out any authorized order or direction of the supervisor, such supervisor may give notice to the mutual savings bank so offending or delinquent or whose trustee or officer is thus offending or delinquent to correct such offense or delinquency, and if the mutual savings bank fails to comply with the terms of such notice within thirty days from the date of its issuance, or within such further time as the supervisor may allow, then the supervisor may take possession of such mutual savings bank as in the case of insolvency. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.040. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 6; RRS § 3375b.]

32.24.050 Liquidation of bank in unsound condition or insolvent. Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any offense or delinquency referred to in RCW 32.24-.040 renders a mutual savings bank in an unsound or unsafe condition to continue its business, or that it has suspended payment of its obligations, or is insolvent, such supervisor may take possession thereof without notice.

Upon taking possession of any mutual savings bank, the supervisor shall forthwith proceed to liquidate the business, affairs, and assets thereof and such liquidation shall be had in accordance with the provisions of law governing the liquidation of insolvent banks and trust companies. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.050. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 7; RRS § 3375c.]

32.24.060 Possession by supervisor—Bank may contest. Within ten days after the supervisor takes possession thereof, a mutual savings bank may serve notice upon such supervisor to appear before the superior court in the county wherein such corporation is located, at a time to be fixed by said court, which shall not be less than five nor more than fifteen days from the date of the service of such notice, to show cause why such corporation should not be restored to the possession of its assets. Upon the return day of such notice, or such further day as the matter may be continued to, the court shall summarily hear said cause and shall dismiss the same, if it finds that possession was taken by the supervisor in good faith and for cause, but if it finds that no cause existed for the taking possession of such corporation, it shall require the supervisor to restore the bank to the possession of its assets and enjoin him from further interference therewith without cause. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.060. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 8; RRS § 3375d.]

32.24.070 Receiver prohibited except in emergency. No receiver shall be appointed by any court for any mutual savings bank, nor shall any assignment of any such bank for the benefit of creditors be valid, excepting only that a court otherwise having jurisdiction may in case of imminent necessity appoint a temporary receiver to take possession of and preserve the assets of the mutual savings bank. Immediately upon any such appointment, the clerk of the court shall notify the supervisor by telegram and mail of such appointment and the supervisor shall forthwith take possession of the mutual savings bank, as in case of insolvency, and the temporary receiver shall upon demand of the supervisor surrender up to him such possession and all assets which have come into his hands. The supervisor shall in due course pay such receiver out of the assets of the mutual savings bank such amount as the court shall allow. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.070. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 9; RRS § 3375e.]

32.24.080 Transfer of assets when insolvent—Penalty. Every transfer of its property or assets by any mutual savings bank in this state, made in contemplation of insolvency, or after it has become insolvent, with the view to the preference of one creditor over another, or to prevent equal distribution of its property and assets among its creditors, shall be void. Every trustee, officer, or employee making any such transfer shall be guilty of a felony. [1955 c 13 § 32.24.080. Prior: 1931 c 132 § 10; RRS § 3379a.]

32.24.090 Federal deposit insurance corporation as receiver or liquidator—Appointment—Powers and duties. The federal deposit insurance corporation is hereby authorized and empowered to be and act without bond as receiver or liquidator of any mutual savings bank the deposits in which are to any extent insured by that corporation and which shall have been closed on account of inability to meet the demands of its depositors. In the event of such closing, the supervisor of banking may appoint the federal deposit insurance corporation as receiver or liquidator of such mutual savings bank. If the corporation accepts such appointment, it shall have and possess all the powers and privileges provided by the laws of this state with respect to a liquidator of a mutual savings bank, its depositors and other creditors, and be subject to all the duties of such liquidator, except insofar as such powers, privileges, or duties are in conflict with the provisions of the federal deposit insurance act, as now or hereafter amended. [1973 1st ex.s. c 54 § 3.]

32.24.100 Payment or acquisition of deposit liabilities by federal deposit insurance corporation—Not hindered by judicial review—Liability. The pendency of any proceedings for judicial review of the supervisor's actions in taking possession and control of a mutual savings bank and its assets for the purpose of liquidation shall not operate to defer, delay, impede, or prevent the payment or acquisition by the federal deposit insurance corporation of the deposit liabilities of the mutual savings bank which are insured by the corporation. During the pendency of any proceedings for judicial review, the supervisor of banking shall make available to the federal deposit insurance corporation such facilities in or of the mutual savings bank and such books, records, and other relevant data of the mutual savings bank as may be necessary or appropriate to enable the corporation to pay out or to acquire the insured deposit liabilities of the mutual savings bank. The federal deposit insurance corporation and its directors, officers, agents, and employees, the supervisor of banking, and his agents and employees shall be free from liability to the mutual savings bank, its directors, stockholders, and creditors for or on account of any action taken in connection herewith. Installment savings are those upon which regular stipulated payments are agreed to be made at stated periods until the sum of such payments and the dividends credited thereon completes payment of the agreed amount. The bylaws of the association may provide the terms and the conditions under which installment savings are received.

Juvenile savings are those received from minors. The bylaws of the association may provide the terms and conditions under which juvenile savings are received.

The bylaws of the association may provide for payment of a higher dividend rate on fully paid and installment savings than is concurrently paid on other savings in the association, upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors shall prescribe. [1945 c 235 § 39; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-158. Prior: 1939 c 98 § 3; 1933 c 183 §§ 23, 25, 36; 1919 c 169 § 5; 1913 c 110 § 6.]

33.20.130 Dormant accounts. When any savings member shall have neither paid in nor withdrawn any funds from his savings account in the association for seven consecutive years, and his whereabouts is unknown to the association and he shall not respond to a letter from the association inquiring as to his whereabouts, sent by registered mail to his last known address, the association may transfer his account to a "Dormant Accounts" fund. Any savings account in the "Dormant Accounts" fund shall not participate in the earnings of the association except by permissive action of the directors of the association. The member, or his or its executor, administrator, successors or assigns, may claim the amount so transferred from his account to the dormant accounts fund at any time after such transfer. Should the association be placed in liquidation while any savings account shall remain credited in the dormant accounts fund and before any valid claim shall have been made thereto, as hereinabove provided, such savings account so credited, upon order of the supervisor and without any other escheat proceedings, shall escheat to the state of Washington. Every request for withdrawal shall be in writing. If, in the judgment of the board, circumstances warrant deferment of the payment of withdrawals to a later date, thereafter withdrawals shall be paid proportionately, on a percentage basis, to all members requesting withdrawal until full withdrawal requests are paid to all members: Provided, That a board resolution of deferment shall not affect the payments of withdrawals from federal tax and loan accounts.

The board shall, however, have the right in its discretion, where need is shown, to pay not exceeding one hundred dollars to any account holder in one month. Every member shall participate in the dividends of the association until his withdrawal is paid.

If, upon examination the supervisor finds that further postponement of withdrawals is unwarranted, he may order the association to resume full payment of withdrawals and cancel all written withdrawal requests. Such order shall be in writing.

The association's failure, during a period of postponement, to pay withdrawal requests shall not authorize the supervisor to take charge of or liquidate the association. [1979 c 113 § 5; 1953 c 71 § 5; 1945 c 235 § 54; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-173. Prior: 1939 c 98 § 5; 1933 c 183 §§ 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 37; 1919 c 169 § 10; 1913 c 110 § 16; 1890 p 56 § 27.]

33.20.170 Withdrawals may be limited—Conditions. The supervisor further is empowered, if in his judgment the circumstances warrant it, to issue in writing a declaration that an acute business depression, state of panic, or economic emergency exists, in which event the directors of any association, state or federal, within the state may limit withdrawals by resolution, subject to the following conditions; that incoming funds shall be applied:

First, to the payment of operating expenses, indebtedness, taxes, insurance, and to the necessary charges for the protection of the association and its investments;

Second, to the payment to members of emergency withdrawals not exceeding twenty-five dollars per month to any member. The board of directors of any association, with the prior written approval of the supervisor, by resolution may authorize the payment of emergency withdrawals not exceeding one hundred dollars per month to any member;

Third, to the payment of dividends on the savings of its members;

Fourth, three-fourths of all remaining receipts of the association, except interest payments, shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals, until all withdrawal requests have been paid.

All such withdrawal payments shall be made to members having withdrawal requests on file in proportion to the amount of such withdrawal requests. [1945 c 235 § 99; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-218. Prior: 1939 c 98 § 5; 1933 c 183 §§ 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34; 1919 c 169 § 10; 1913 c 110 § 16; 1890 p 56 § 27.]

Every savings and loan association may classify its savers or depositors according to the character, amount, frequency or duration of their dealings with the association and may regulate the earnings in such manner that each saver or depositor shall receive the same returnable portion of dividends as all others of his class. [1969 c 107 § 9.]

33.20.190 Withdrawal instructions—Accounts authorized to be subject to. A savings and loan association may, on instruction from a saver or depositor, effect withdrawals from his account by the association's drafts payable to parties and on terms as so instructed: Provided, however, That no account or deposit in a savings and loan association shall be subject to a check or to withdrawal or transfer on negotiable or transferable order or authorization to the savings and loan association. To the extent of the subjection of accounts to such withdrawal instructions, such accounts may be specifically classified under RCW 33.20.180 and ineligible to receive interest or eligible only for limited interest. No loan upon which payments in reduction of principal are not being made at least annually shall continue for more than five years, unless, at the expiration of each five year period, it shall be reappraised and the loan reduced to an amount not in excess of fifty percent of the new appraised value.

In cases of loans insured or guaranteed in whole or in part by a government agency, the appraisal made by the government agency shall be sufficient.

Every appraisal shall be made in writing, shall state the value of the property as so determined, and be signed by the appraiser. Each appraiser shall personally examine said property. The required appraisal(s) shall be filed with the association before any mortgage loan shall be made. If there are two or more mortgagors who own the property securing the loan, the loan shall be repaid within one year after the death of the last comortgagor, or upon any sale or transfer of the property, in whole or in part, to a person other than another comortgagor, whichever occurs first. The supervisor may within thirty days after the date of filing of the application referred to in RCW 33.24.360, file an action or proceeding in the superior court to prevent the pending acquisition of control if he finds any of the following:

(1) The acquisition would substantially lessen competition or would in any manner be in restraint of trade or would result in a monopoly, or would be in furtherance of any combination or conspiracy to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize the savings and loan business in any part of the state of Washington, unless he also finds that the anticompetitive effects of the proposed acquisition are clearly outweighed in the public interest by the probable effect of the acquisition in meeting the convenience and needs of the community to be served;

(2) The poor financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the savings and loan association being acquired or might prejudice the interests of the savings account holders, borrowers, or stockholders of the savings and loan association or is not in the public interest;

(3) The plan or proposal under which the acquiring party intends to liquidate the savings and loan association, to sell its assets, or to merge it with any person or company, or to make any other major change in its business or corporate structure or management, is not fair and reasonable to the association's savings account holders, borrowers, or stockholders or is not in the public interest; or

(4) The competence, experience and integrity of any acquiring party who would control the operation of the savings and loan association indicates that approval would not be in the interest of the association's savings account holders, borrowers, or stockholders or in the public interest. 33.40.010 Voluntary liquidation, merger, etc., authorized—Procedure. Any domestic association may determine to enter upon voluntary liquidation, to transfer its assets and liabilities to another association, to merge with another association, to segregate its assets into classes, to charge off its losses in excess of its reserves.

Any such liquidation, transfer, merger, segregation, or charge-off shall be effected by the vote of a majority in amount of the members present, in person or by proxy, at any regular or special meeting of the members called for such purpose. Notice of such meeting, stating the purpose thereof, shall be given the supervisor at least thirty days prior to the meeting and to the members pursuant to the provisions contained in RCW 33.20.010.

If such liquidation, transfer, merger, segregation, or charge-off be authorized by the members at the meeting, the directors of the association are authorized and shall effect such action, and the officers of the association shall execute all proper conveyances, documents, and other papers necessary or proper thereunto. [1949 c 20 § 9; 1945 c 235 § 102; Rem. Supp. 1949 § 3717–221. Prior: 1935 c 171 § 4; 1933 c 183 §§ 60, 78; 1919 c 169 § 17.]

33.40.020 Supervisor may take possession on notice for delinquency. Whenever it shall appear to the supervisor that any association is in an unsound condition or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner or is refusing to submit its books, papers, or concerns to lawful inspection, or that any director or officer thereof refuses to submit to examination on oath touching its concerns and affairs or that it has failed to carry out any authorized order or direction of the supervisor, the supervisor may give notice to the association so offending or delinquent or whose director or officer is thus offending or delinquent to correct such offense or delinquency and, if such association or such director or officer fails to correct said condition, offense, or delinquency within a reasonable time, as determined by the supervisor, the supervisor may take possession of such association. [1945 c 235 § 103; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–222. Prior: 1933 c 183 §§ 68, 71.]

33.40.030 Possession without notice. Whenever it shall appear to the supervisor that any association is in an unsound or unsafe condition to continue business or is insolvent, the supervisor may take possession thereof without notice. [1945 c 235 § 104; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–223. Prior: 1933 c 183 §§ 68, 71.]

33.40.040 Procedure on taking possession. Upon the supervisor taking possession of any association, he shall proceed to liquidate such association unless, in his discretion, he shall determine to call a meeting of the savings members to consider either a proportionate charge-off against the members' savings accounts (except juvenile and school savings) to permit the association thereafter to continue in business, or whether the association should proceed to voluntary liquidation under the management of its board of directors. In such event, if the supervisor shall approve the decision of a majority in amount of the savings present and voting, he shall order such action to be taken.

During any period of voluntary liquidation, the supervisor may take possession of the association and its assets and complete the liquidation whenever, in his discretion, this seems advisable. [1945 c 235 § 105; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–224. Prior: 1935 c 171 § 4; 1933 c 183 §§ 70, 72, 78; 1919 c 169 § 13; 1913 c 110 § 20.]

33.40.050 Involuntary liquidation—Procedure. Whenever the supervisor shall determine to liquidate the affairs of an association, he shall cause the attorney general to present to the superior court of the county in which such association has its principal place of business a written petition setting forth the date of his taking possession, the reasons therefor, and other material facts concerning the affairs of the association and, if the court shall determine that said association should be liquidated, it shall appoint the supervisor, and no other person, as the liquidator of such association and fix and require a bond to be given by the liquidator conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such liquidator, but if the association has the insurance protection provided by Title IV of the National Housing Act, as now or hereafter amended, the court upon the request of the supervisor may tender to the federal savings and loan insurance corporation the appointment as liquidator.

Upon the filing with and approval by the court of such bond, the supervisor shall enter upon his duties as liquidator of the affairs of the association, and, under the direction of the court, shall administer and liquidate the assets thereof and apply the same to the payment of the expenses of liquidation and the debts of the association, and distribute the remainder to the savings members, first paying juvenile and school savings accounts in full, and distributing the then remainder to the remaining savings accounts proportionately.

If the court tenders the appointment as liquidator to the federal savings and loan insurance corporation, and if the insurance corporation accepts such appointment, it shall have and possess all the powers and privileges provided by the laws of this state with respect to a liquidator of a savings and loan association, its depositors and other creditors, and be subject to all the duties of such liquidator, except insofar as such powers, privileges, or duties are in conflict with the provisions of Title IV of the National Housing Act, as now or hereafter amended. In any liquidation proceeding in which the insurance corporation is the liquidator, it may proceed to liquidate without being subject to the control of the court and without bond. [1973 c 130 § 29; 1945 c 235 § 106; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–225. Prior: 1935 c 171 § 4; 1933 c 183 §§ 70, 72, 73, 74, 76, 77, 78; 1919 c 169 § 13; 1913 c 110 § 20.]

Definitions—1973 c 130: See RCW 33.24.350.

33.40.060 Procedure to be as in receivership. In any such liquidation proceeding, the court, except as otherwise in this title expressly provided, shall have the powers and proceed as in receivership proceedings. [1945 c 235 § 107; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–226. Prior: 1935 c 171 § 4; 1933 c 183 §§ 70, 72, 73, 75, 76, 77, 78; 1919 c 169 § 13; 1913 c 110 § 20.]

33.40.070 Liquidator's powers. The liquidator, upon the approval of the court, may sell, discount, or compromise debts of the association and claims against its debtors. The liquidator, with the approval of the court, may lease, operate, repair, exchange, or sell, either for cash or upon terms, the real and personal property of the association.

The liquidator, with the approval of the court, when funds are available, may pay savings members whose balances amount to not more than five dollars, the full amount of the balances.

Checks issued or payments held by the liquidator which remain undelivered for six months following the final liquidation dividend, shall be deposited with the supervisor, after which the liquidator shall be discharged by the court. During ten years thereafter, the supervisor shall deliver the checks or payments, or his own checks in lieu thereof, to the payee, or his legal representative, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of his right thereto. After said ten years, the supervisor shall cancel all such checks or payments remaining in his possession and issue his check against the account for the amount thereof, payable to the state treasurer, and deliver it to him. Such payment shall escheat to the state, without further legal proceedings. [1953 c 71 § 10; 1945 c 235 § 108; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717–227. Prior: 1935 c 171 § 4; 1933 c 183 §§ 70, 73, 74, 78.]

33.40.075 Investment of liquidation funds—Use of income. All funds received by the supervisor from liquidations may be invested by him in banks and savings and loan associations in amounts not in excess of the amount insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation or the federal savings and loan insurance corporation, or in securities authorized herein, and the earnings from the moneys so held may be applied toward defraying the expenses incurred in the liquidations. [1951 c 105 § 1.]

33.40.080 Disposition of records. Upon the termination of any liquidation proceeding, any files, records, documents, books of account, or other papers in the possession of the liquidator shall be surrendered into the possession of the supervisor, who, in his discretion at any time after the expiration of one year, may destroy any of such files, records, documents, books of account or other papers which appear to him to be obsolete or unnecessary for future reference. [1945 c 235 § 109; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-228.]

33.40.090 Liquidation of segregation corporation. In any liquidation of the segregation corporation of any association, all funds remaining on hand, after the payment of all accounts, certificates or debentures issued by the segregation corporation or association, together with interest on dividends thereon amounting to, in the aggregate, the rate of dividends credited by the association to its members for the same period, shall be paid to and become the property of the association.

In any such liquidation, any residue remaining amounting to less than one percent of the aggregate original amount of outstanding certificates, debentures or accounts, regardless of the total amount paid to certificate or debenture holders, shall be paid to and become the property of the association. [1945 c 235 § 110; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-229.]

33.40.100 Disposition of unclaimed dividends and records. In the liquidation of a segregation corporation, any checks issued in such liquidation or funds for the payment of liquidation dividends, which remain undelivered for six months following the final liquidating dividend, shall be delivered, together with the books, records, and papers of the corporation, to the association which has been liquidating the said corporation. During five years thereafter, the association shall deliver any such checks or portions of said funds to the payee, or his legal representative, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of his right thereto. After said five years the association shall cancel all undelivered dividend checks remaining in its possession and issue a check for the amount thereof together with any other funds, which check shall be payable to the state treasurer, and deliver the same to him. Such payment shall escheat to the state, and it shall not be necessary to have such escheat adjudged in any legal proceeding. After said five year period the association may destroy any of the books, records, papers, and documents of the corporation which it deems are obsolete or unnecessary for future reference. [1945 c 235 § 111; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-230.]

The supervisor, at any time after one year, may destroy any of such files, records, documents, books of account, or other papers which appear to him to be obsolete or unnecessary for future reference. During ten years thereafter, the supervisor shall deliver such checks, or his own checks in lieu thereof, or portions of such funds to the payee, or his legal representative, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of his right thereto. After the ten years, the supervisor shall cancel all such checks remaining in his possession and issue his check payable to the state treasurer for the amount thereof together with any other liquidating funds, and deliver them to him. Such payment shall escheat to the state without further legal proceedings. [1953 c 71 § 11; 1945 c 235 § 112; Rem. Supp. 1945 § 3717-231.]

During the pendency of any appeal the director of general administration shall act as liquidator of the association, without giving any additional bond for the performance of his duties as such liquidator.

If such order of removal shall be affirmed, the director of general administration shall name another liquidator for the association, which nominee, upon qualifying as required for receivers generally, shall succeed to the position of liquidator of the association. 33.44.010 Definitions. In this chapter, unless repugnant to the context, the word "association" means "building and loan or savings and loan association or society;" the word "director" means one of the managing board of such a corporation; and the word "bank" means "mutual savings bank." [1917 c 154 § 4; RRS § 3757.]

33.44.020 Conversion to a mutual savings bank—Procedure. Any going building and loan or savings and loan association or society organized under the laws of this state, or under the laws of the United States, may, if its contingent fund regularly accumulated, exclusive of any reserve fund stock, amounts to not less than five thousand dollars and if it has obtained the approval, required by law or regulation, of any federal agencies, including the federal home loan board and the federal savings and loan insurance corporation, be converted into a mutual savings bank in the following manner:

(1) The board of directors of such association shall pass a resolution declaring their intention to convert the association into a mutual savings bank and shall apply to the supervisor of banking for leave to submit to the shareholders of the association the question whether the same shall be converted into a mutual savings bank. A duplicate of the application to the supervisor of banking shall be filed with the supervisor of savings and loan associations, except that no such filing shall be required in the case of an association organized under the laws of the United States.

(2) Thereupon the supervisor of banking shall make the same investigation and determine the same questions as he would be required by law to make and determine in case of the submission to him of a certificate of incorporation of a proposed new mutual savings bank, and he shall also determine after conference with the supervisor of savings and loan associations whether by the proposed conversion the business needs and conveniences of the shareholders of such association would be served with facility and safety, except that no such conference shall be pertinent to such investigation or determination in the case of an association organized under the laws of the United States. After the supervisor of banking shall have satisfied himself by such investigation whether it is expedient and desirable to permit the proposed conversion, he shall, within sixty days after the filing of said application, endorse thereon over his official signature the word "granted" or the word "refused", with the date of such endorsement and shall immediately notify the secretary of such association of his decision: Provided,

That if the application is granted the supervisor of banking shall require the applicants to enter into such an agreement or undertaking with him as trustee for the depositors with the savings bank to make such contributions in cash to the expense fund of the savings bank as in his judgment will be necessary then and from time to time thereafter to pay the operating expenses of the bank if its earnings should not be sufficient to pay the same in addition to the payment of such dividends as may be declared and credited to depositors from its earnings.

In case of refusal, said board of directors, or a majority thereof, may, within thirty days after receiving the notice of such refusal appeal to a board of appeal composed of the governor or the governor's designee, the attorney general and the supervisor of banking, in the same manner and under the same procedure as that prescribed by law for an appeal to such board from the supervisor of banking's refusal to permit the original organization of a mutual savings bank.

(3) If such application be granted by the supervisor of banking or by the board of appeal, as the case may be, the board of directors of such association shall, within sixty days thereafter, submit the question of the proposed conversion to the shareholders of the association at a special meeting called for that purpose. Notice of such meeting shall be given in the manner prescribed by the bylaws of the association. Such notice shall state the time, place and purpose of the meeting, and that the only question to be voted upon will be, "shall the (naming the association) be converted into a mutual savings bank under the laws of the state of Washington?" The vote on said question shall be by ballot. Any shareholder may vote by proxy or may transmit his ballot by mail if the bylaws provide a method for so doing. If two-thirds or more in number of the shareholders voting on the question vote affirmatively, then the board of directors shall have power, and it shall be their duty, to proceed to convert such association into a mutual savings bank; otherwise, the proposed conversion shall be abandoned and shall not be again submitted to the shareholders within three years from the date of said meeting.

(4) If authority for the proposed conversion has been voted by the shareholders as hereinabove required, the directors shall, within thirty days thereafter, subscribe and acknowledge and file with the supervisor of banking in quadruplicate a certificate of reincorporation, stating:

(a) The name by which the converted corporation is to be known, which name shall include the words "mutual savings bank."

(b) The place where the bank is to be located and its business transacted, naming the city or town and county, which city or town shall be the same as that where the principal place of business of the corporation has theretofore been located.

(c) The name, occupation, residence and post office address of each signer of the certificate.

(d) The amount of the assets of the corporation, the amount of its liabilities and the amount of its contingent fund as of the first day of the then calendar month.

(e) A declaration that each signer will accept the responsibilities and faithfully discharge the duties of a trustee of the savings bank, and is free from all the disqualifications specified in the laws applicable to mutual savings banks.

(5) Upon the filing of said certificate in quadruplicate the supervisor of banking shall, within thirty days thereafter, if satisfied that all the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, issue in quadruplicate an authorization certificate stating that the corporation has complied with all the requirements of law, and that it has authority to transact at the place designated in its certificate of incorporation the business of a mutual savings bank. One of the supervisor's quadruplicate certificates of authorization shall be attached to each of the quadruplicate certificates of reincorporation, and one set of these shall be filed and retained by the supervisor of banking, one set shall be filed in the office of the county auditor of the county in which such bank is located, one set shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and one set shall be transmitted to the bank for its files. Upon the receipt from the corporation of the same fees as are required for filing and recording other incorporation certificates or articles the county auditor and secretary of state shall file said certificates in their respective offices and the secretary of state shall record the same; whereupon the conversion of such association shall be deemed complete, and the signers of said reincorporation certificate and their successors shall thereupon become and be a corporation having the powers and being subject to the duties and obligations prescribed by the laws of this state applicable to mutual savings banks, and the time of existence of such corporation shall continue for the period of fifty years from the date of the filing of such certificate, unless sooner terminated pursuant to law. [1979 1st ex.s. c 57 § 7; 1975 1st ex.s. c 111 § 1; 1927 c 177 § 1; 1917 c 154 § 1; RRS §§ 3749 through 3754. Formerly RCW 33.44.020 through 33.44.070.]

33.44.080 Members become depositors—Withdrawal. Upon the conversion of any association into a mutual savings bank, every person who was a shareholder of the association at the time of the conversion shall become and be deemed to be a depositor of the bank in a sum equal to the withdrawal value of his shares as of the day on which the conversion was consummated, and every such depositor shall share in the earnings of the corporation to that day as though the conversion had not been effected: Provided, however, That any person who was a shareholder shall be entitled at any time within sixty days after the conversion was consummated to withdraw the value of his shares as though no conversion had taken place. [1927 c 177 § 2; 1917 c 154 § 2; RRS § 3755.]

33.44.090 Transfer of securities—Guaranty fund. All mortgages, notes and other securities of any association that has been converted into a mutual savings bank, shall on request of the bank, be delivered to it by the supervisor of savings and loan associations or under his direction by any trust company or other depository having possession thereof. The contingent fund of the association shall become the guaranty fund of the bank. Every such bank shall, as soon as practicable and within such time and by such methods as the supervisor of banking may direct, cause its organization, its securities and investments, the character of its business and its methods of transacting the same to conform to the laws applicable to mutual savings banks. [1927 c 177 § 3; 1917 c 154 § 3; RRS § 3756.]

(1) The trustees of such bank shall pass, by at least a two-thirds favorable vote of all trustees, a resolution declaring its intention to convert the bank into an association, specifying in such resolution the type of association and whether the association is to be organized under the laws of this state, or is to be organized under the laws of the United States of America. If the association is to be a state association the bank shall apply to the supervisor of savings and loan associations for authority to convert into an association;

(2) A duplicate of the application made to the supervisor of savings and loan associations, or such application as may be filed with the federal home loan bank board or other federal agency, shall be filed with the supervisor of banking;

(3) The supervisor of savings and loan associations shall, in the case of an application to convert into a state association, make the same investigation and determine the same questions as he would be required by law to make in determining the case of submission to him of articles of incorporation of a proposed new state association, and shall also determine, after conference with the supervisor of banking, whether the proposed conversion would serve the needs and conveniences of the depositors of such bank; and

(4) The supervisor of savings and loan associations shall grant or deny the application within sixty days of its date of filing and shall immediately notify the secretary of such bank of his decision. [1975 1st ex.s. c 83 § 2.]

33.46.030 Cash contributions to expense fund. If the application is granted to become a state association, the supervisor of savings and loan associations shall require the applicant to enter into an agreement or undertaking with him, as trustee for the shareholders of the association, to make such cash contributions to an expense fund of the association as in his judgment will be necessary then and from time to time thereafter to pay the operating expenses of the association if its earnings should not be sufficient to pay the same in addition to the payment of such dividends as may be declared and credited to shareholders from its earnings. [1975 1st ex.s. c 83 § 3.]

33.46.040 Appeal from denial of application. If the application is denied by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, the bank, acting by a two-thirds majority of its trustees, may, within thirty days after receiving notice of such denial, appeal to the superior court of Thurston county pursuant to the provisions of the administrative procedure act, chapter 34.04 RCW. [1975 1st ex.s. c 83 § 4.]

33.46.060 Issuance of authorization certificate—Filing—Completion of conversion—Effect. Upon filing the certificate in quadruplicate as provided in RCW 33.46.050, the supervisor of savings and loan associations shall, within thirty days thereafter, if satisfied that all the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, issue in quadruplicate an authorization certificate stating that the association has complied with all of the requirements of law, and that it has authority to transact, at the place or places designated in its certificate, the business of an association. The supervisor of savings and loan associations shall retain one set of the quadruplicate originals of the certificate of reincorporation and of the certificate of authorization and shall transmit the other three sets to the association, which shall retain one set, file one set with the secretary of state, and file one set with the auditor of the county in which the home office of the association is located, paying the required fees. The guaranty fund of the bank shall become the contingent fund of the association. If the association is a state association it shall, as soon as practicable and within such time and by such methods as the supervisor of savings and loan associations may direct, cause its organization, its securities and investments, the character of its business, and its methods of transacting the same to conform to the laws applicable to state associations. [1975 1st ex.s. c 83 § 8.]

33.46.090 Assets, liabilities, etc., vested in association upon conversion. 33.48.020 Charter authorized. The supervisor may, upon terms and conditions required of mutual state savings and loan associations, charter savings and loan associations having guaranty stock. Subject to the specific provisions of this chapter, guaranty associations shall have all the rights, privileges and immunities granted to other associations organized under this title. [1955 c 122 § 3.]

33.48.030 Minimum amount of stock required. Associations chartered under this chapter 33.48 RCW shall be known as guaranty stock savings and loan associations, and shall have a permanent nonwithdrawable stock of the par value of not less than one dollar per share. The minimum amount of such stock shall be twenty-five thousand dollars in the case of associations outside of incorporated cities, or in cities of less than twenty-five thousand population. Associations located in cities of greater population shall have as a minimum, fifty thousand dollars of such stock. The board of such association is authorized and directed to issue and maintain the guaranty stock in the following percentages: Three percent upon the first five million dollars; two percent upon the next three million dollars, and one percent upon all additional withdrawable savings: Provided, That associations whose savings are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation shall not be required to maintain stock in excess of three hundred thousand dollars. The supervisor shall direct the association, in writing, to issue and sell the necessary guaranty stock to comply with this chapter within ninety days from the receipt of such notice. If the board does not comply within said ninety day period, the supervisor may direct that the association cease to accept savings until the percentage deficiency has been removed. [1955 c 122 § 6.]

33.48.060 Stock owners as voting members—No cumulative voting. Owners of guaranty stock shall be considered as members of the association and shall be entitled to one vote for each share of such stock. Guaranty stock shall not be subject to cumulative voting. [1955 c 122 § 7.]

33.48.080 Members proprietary interest—Creditors priority. Each member having guaranty stock in an association shall have a proportionate proprietary interest in its assets and net earnings subordinate to the claims of its creditors with priorities as established by this chapter 33.48 RCW; but no other member as defined in RCW 33.48.010 shall have any such interest except as provided in RCW 33.48.120 as now or hereafter amended. 33.48.100 Conversion procedure—To mutual or federal savings and loan or mutual savings bank. Guaranty stock associations may convert to mutual or federal savings and loan associations or mutual savings banks under the provisions of applicable statutes and regulations of proper supervisory authorities. In the event of compliance with such statutes and regulations an appraisal of the guaranty stock shall be made by the supervisor, upon written request of the directors of the association, and the appropriate value of the guaranty stock may be given consideration in the proceedings to convert by giving credit to such stock from surplus and other reserves. [1955 c 122 § 11.]

33.48.110 Conversion procedure—Mutual association to guaranty stock savings and loan. Any mutual association, either state or federal, operating in the state of Washington may convert itself into a guaranty stock savings and loan association. Such conversion shall be effected by the vote of two-thirds of the members present and voting in person or by proxy at any regular or special meeting of the members called for such purpose. Notice of such meeting, stating the purpose thereof, shall be given to the supervisor and to each member by mailing notice to his last known address at least thirty days prior to the meeting.

At such meeting the members may adopt a resolution amending its articles of incorporation and bylaws to provide for operation under this chapter as a guaranty stock association.

Upon adoption of such resolution, savings members shall be given notice of the proposed change and shall be offered, for a period of sixty days following the date of the meeting, the right to subscribe for the proposed guaranty stock at par, pro rata to their savings in such mutual association, and such right shall be transferable. The amount of such guaranty stock shall be as prescribed in this chapter. In the event that the total guaranty stock required has not, at the end of the sixty day period, been fully subscribed, the unsubscribed portion shall be offered to any former subscribers for such guaranty stock.

When the stock has been fully subscribed and paid for, certified copies of the documents relating to the conversion shall be submitted to the supervisor for his approval of the conversion proceedings. Upon notification by the supervisor that he approves the conversion, the directors shall adopt a resolution declaring the association to be a guaranty stock association and thereafter it shall be such. [1955 c 122 § 12.]

33.48.120 Conversion procedure—Disposition of surplus, reserves, etc. The accumulated surplus and unallocated reserves of an association at the time of conversion to a guaranty stock association shall be designated as a permanent loss reserve against which any losses incurred on assets may be charged. In case of liquidation the remaining sum in said permanent loss reserve shall be distributed to the savings members in proportion to the withdrawable value of their savings accounts at the time of liquidation. In liquidation, after payment of all liabilities and the withdrawable value of all types and classes of savings accounts together with the remainder in the permanent loss reserve heretofore mentioned, any excess shall be paid pro rata to the guaranty stockholders. [1955 c 122 § 13.]

33.48.130 Withdrawal of charter amendment or conversion application. The directors of an association which has voted to amend its charter or convert to another type of institution, may withdraw the application at any time prior to the issuance of the amended charter, by adopting a proper resolution and forwarding a copy to the supervisor. [1955 c 122 § 14.]

33.48.140 Legislative intent—Conflicting provisions of title. It is the intention of the legislature to grant, by this chapter, authority to create guaranty stock savings and loan associations in this state, by either organization or conversion under its provisions, and in the event of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and other provisions of Title 33 RCW, such other provisions shall be construed in favor of the accomplishment of the purposes of this chapter. [1955 c 122 § 15.]

33.48.150 Organizing permit—Required. No subscriptions or funds from proposed stockholders of any proposed association, prior to its incorporation and prior to a decision by the supervisor on its application for approval of its articles of incorporation, may be solicited or taken until a verified application for an organizing permit has been filed and a permit has been issued by the supervisor authorizing such subscription or collection of funds and then, only in accordance with the terms of such permit. (4) "License" includes the whole or part of any agency permit, certificate, approval, registration, charter, or any form of permission required by law, including agency rule, to engage in any activity, but does not include a license required solely for revenue purposes.

(5) "Licensing" includes the agency process respecting the grant, denial, renewal, revocation, suspension, annulment, withdrawal, or modification of a license. [1967 c 237 § 1; 1959 c 234 § 1.]

34.04.020 Adoption of rules of practice and procedure—Organizational description—Records of decisions, orders and opinions open to public—Exceptions—Effect of failure to comply. In addition to other rule-making requirements imposed by law:

(1) Each agency shall adopt rules governing the formal and informal procedures prescribed or authorized by this chapter and rules of practice before the agency, together with forms and instructions: Provided, That RCW 34.04.022 shall apply to agencies which have not adopted comprehensive rules of practice and procedure, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, prior to July 1, 1967.

(2) To assist interested persons dealing with it, each agency shall adopt as a rule a description of its organization, stating the general course and method of its operations and the methods whereby the public may obtain information and make submissions or requests. No person shall be required to comply with agency procedure not adopted as a rule as herein required.

(3) To the extent not prohibited by federal law or regulation, nor prohibited for reasons of confidentiality by state law, each agency shall keep on file for public inspection all final orders, decisions and opinions in contested cases and any digest or index to those orders, decisions or opinions prepared by the agency for its own use. No agency order, decision or opinion is valid or effective against any person, nor may it be invoked by the agency for any purpose, unless it is available for public inspection as herein required. This provision is not applicable in favor of any person who has actual knowledge thereof. [1967 c 237 § 2; 1959 c 234 § 2.]

34.04.022 Uniform procedural rules—Application. On or before July 1, 1967, the code reviser shall add to Title 1 of the Washington Administrative Code a new chapter to be known as chapter 1-08 WAC—Uniform Procedural Rules, which shall become effective July 1, 1967, and shall govern the administrative practice and procedure in and before all agencies which have not adopted comprehensive rules of practice and procedure prior to that date. Except for the numbering thereof, such rules shall be identical with the rules contained in WAC 308-08-010 through 308-08-590 as the same existed on January 3, 1966: Provided, That in publishing chapter 1-08 WAC the reviser may revise such terms as are used in chapter 308-08 WAC to describe "agency", "department", "board", "commission", and like terms, so as to enable the use of such rules by multiple agencies.

This section shall not prohibit any such agency from hereafter adopting its own rules of practice and procedure in the manner provided by this chapter, if such agency shall elect to promulgate comprehensive rules on this subject and shall, in the order of adoption, expressly negative any further applicability to such agency of the rules contained in chapter 1-08 WAC. [1967 c 237 § 12.]

34.04.025 Notices of intention to adopt rules—Opportunity to submit data—Proceedings on rule barred until twenty days after register distribution—Noncompliance, effect. (1) Prior to the adoption, amendment, or repeal of any rule, each agency shall:

(a) File notice thereof with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.08.020(1) for publication in the state register, and mail such notice to all persons who have made timely request of the agency for advance notice of its rule-making proceedings. Such notice shall also include (i) reference to the authority under which the rule is proposed, (ii) a statement of either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved, and (iii) the time when, the place where, and the manner in which interested persons may present their views thereon;

(b) Afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing. In case of substantive rules, opportunity for oral hearing must be granted if requested by twenty-five persons, by a governmental subdivision or agency, or by an association having not less than twenty-five members. The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions respecting the proposed rule. Upon adoption of a rule, the agency, if requested to do so by an interested person either prior to adoption or within thirty days thereafter, shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for and against its adoption, incorporating therein its reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

(2) No proceeding shall be held on any rule until twenty days have passed from the distribution date of the register in which notice thereof was contained. The code reviser shall make provisions for informing an agency giving notice under subsection (1) of this section of the distribution date of the register in which such notice will be published.

(3) No rule hereafter adopted is valid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this section, or, if an emergency rule designated as such, adopted in substantial compliance with RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended. In any proceeding a rule cannot be contested on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of RCW 34.08.020(1), of this section, or of RCW 34.04.030, as now or hereafter amended, after two years have elapsed from the effective date of the rule. [1977 ex.s. c 240 § 7; 1971 ex.s. c 250 § 17; 1967 c 237 § 3.]

Effective date—1977 ex.s. c 240: See note following RCW 34.08.010.

Severability—1977 ex.s. c 240: See RCW 34.08.910.

Construction—Severability—1971 ex.s. c 250: RCW 42.30.910, 42.30.920.

34.04.026 Specific reference to rule-making authority to be included—Alternatives—Format—Request for more specific reference. (1) In addition to the provisions of RCW 34.04.025(1)(a)(i), every agency shall incorporate the most specific, but in no case omit all, of the following language alternatives when adopting or amending rules:

(a) The most specific reference shall be to a section of law which the rule is implementing, and shall be quoted as follows: "This rule is promulgated pursuant to RCW ----- and is intended to administratively implement that statute."

(b) The next specific reference, and one which shall be used only if paragraph (a) of this subsection is not applicable, shall be to that portion of an act which directs an agency to adopt rules and regulations as necessary to implement the act, and shall be quoted as follows: "This rule is promulgated pursuant to RCW ----- which directs that the (agency) has authority to implement the provisions of (name of act or RCW citation)."

(c) The least specific reference, and one which shall be used only if paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subsection are not applicable, is one which indicates that the rule is promulgated under the agency's broad rule-making authority—either in the agency enabling legislation or chapter 34.04 RCW, and shall be quoted as follows: "This rule is promulgated under the general rule-making authority of the (agency) as authorized in RCW -----."

(2) The code reviser is directed to develop a format for placing such specific language in each rule, and agencies shall then comply with the code reviser's direction, and shall include the same in the final rule.

(3) During the promulgation hearings process the public may question whether such rule should have a more specific reference, and the agency shall, pursuant to RCW 34.04.025(1)(b), give consideration to such requests. [1977 c 19 § 2.]

34.04.027 Failure to give twenty days notice of intended action—Effect. When twenty days notice of intended action to adopt, amend or repeal a rule has not been filed with the code reviser, as required in RCW 34.04.025, the code reviser shall not publish such rule and such rule shall not be effective for any purpose. [1967 c 237 § 4.]

34.04.030 Emergency rules and amendments. (1) If the agency finds that immediate adoption or amendment of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observance of the requirements of notice and opportunity to present views on the proposed action would be contrary to the public interest, the agency may dispense with such requirements and adopt the rule or amendment as an emergency rule or amendment. The agency's finding and a brief statement of the reasons for its finding shall be incorporated in the emergency rule or amendment as filed with the office of the code reviser under RCW 34.04.040. An emergency rule or amendment shall not remain in effect for longer than ninety days after filing. This section does not relieve any agency from compliance with any law requiring that its rules be approved by designated persons or bodies before they become effective.

(2) The emergency rule published in the register is solely to inform the public of its adoption, and nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the implementation of the rule upon its filing with the code reviser in accordance with RCW 34.04.040(2). [1977 ex.s. c 240 § 8; 1959 c 234 § 3.]

Severability—1977 ex.s. c 240: See RCW 34.08.910.

34.04.040 Rules filed with code reviser—Register—Effective dates—Report. (1) Each agency shall file forthwith in the office of the code reviser a certified copy of all rules now in effect and hereafter adopted, except the rules contained in tariffs filed with or published by the Washington utilities and transportation commission. The code reviser shall keep a permanent register of such rules open to public inspection.

(2) Emergency rules adopted under RCW 34.04.030 shall become effective upon filing. All other rules hereafter adopted shall become effective upon the expiration of thirty days after the date of filing, unless a later date is required by statute or specified in the rule.

(3) The code reviser shall report to each regular session of the legislature on the state of compliance of the agencies with this section. For this purpose, all agencies shall supply the code reviser with such information as he may request. [1959 c 234 § 4.]

34.04.045 Statement of rule's purpose and how implemented—Contents—Distribution by agency. (1) For the purpose of legislative review of agency rules filed pursuant to this chapter, any new or amendatory rule promulgated after September 21, 1977, shall be accompanied by a statement prepared by the adopting agency which generally describes the rule's purpose and how the rule is to be implemented. Such statement shall contain, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) A title, containing a description of the rule's purpose, the name of the agency, the statutory authority for the rule, and any other information which may be of assistance in identifying the rule or its purpose;

(b) A summary of the rule;

(c) The agency personnel, with their office location and telephone number, who are responsible for the drafting, implementation, and enforcement of the rule;

(d) The names of the proponents and opponents of the rule, if any; and

(e) Agency comments or recommendations, if any, regarding statutory language, implementation, enforcement, and fiscal matters pertaining to the rule.

(2) Upon filing the rule with the code reviser, the adopting agency shall have copies of the statement on file and available for public inspection and shall forward three copies each of the statement to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives, who will in turn forward the statement to the majority and minority caucuses and to the appropriate legislative committees. [1977 ex.s. c 84 § 1.]

34.04.050 Code reviser to compile rules, publish register—Distribution—County law library trustees to maintain set—Judicial notice of rules. (1) The code reviser shall, as soon as practicable after the effective date of this chapter, compile and index all rules adopted by each agency and remaining in effect. Compilations shall be supplemented or revised as often as necessary and at least once every two years.

(2) The code reviser shall publish a monthly register in which he shall set forth the text of all rules filed during the preceding month excluding rules in effect upon the adoption of this chapter.

(3) The code reviser may, in his discretion, omit from the register or the compilation, rules, the publication of which would be unduly cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient, if such rules are made available in printed or processed form on application to the adopting agency, and if such register or compilation contains a notice stating the general subject matter of the rules so omitted and stating how copies thereof may be obtained.

(4) Registers and compilations shall be made available, in written form to state elected officials whose offices are created by Article II or III of the state Constitution or by RCW 48.02.010, upon request, to county boards of law library trustees, and to the Olympia representatives of the Associated Press and the United Press International without request, free of charge, and to other persons at a price fixed by the code reviser.

(5) The board of law library trustees of each county shall keep and maintain a complete and current set of registers and compilations for use and inspection as provided in RCW 27.24.060.

(6) Judicial notice shall be taken of rules filed and published as provided in RCW 34.04.040 and this section. [1977 ex.s. c 240 § 9; 1959 c 234 § 5.]

Effective date—1977 ex.s. c 240: See note following RCW 34.08.010.

Severability—1977 ex.s. c 240: See RCW 34.08.910.

34.04.055 Regulations on filing and form of rules and notices. The code reviser may prescribe regulations for carrying out the provisions of this chapter relating to the filing and publication of rules and notices of intention to adopt rules, including the form and style to be employed by the various agencies in the drafting of such rules and notices. [1967 c 237 § 13.]

34.04.057 Style, format and numbering of rules—Agency compliance. After the rules of an agency have been published by the reviser:

(1) All agency orders amending or rescinding such rules, or creating new rules, shall be formulated in accordance with the style, format, and numbering system of the Washington Administrative Code, and

(2) Any subsequent printing or reprinting of such rules shall be printed in the style and format (including the numbering system) of such code. [1967 c 237 § 14.]

34.04.058 Format and style of rules amending existing sections, adding new sections—Effect of failure to comply. (1) Rules promulgated by an agency pursuant to RCW 34.04.025 or 34.04.030 which amend existing sections of the administrative code shall have the words which are amendatory to such existing sections underlined. Any matter to be deleted from an existing section shall be indicated by setting such matter forth in full, enclosed by double parentheses, and such deleted matter shall be lined out with hyphens. In the case of a new section, such shall be designated "NEW SECTION" in upper case type and such designation shall be underlined, but the complete text of the section shall not be underlined. No rule shall be forwarded by any agency to the code reviser, nor shall the code reviser accept for filing any rule unless the format of such rule is in compliance with the provisions of this section.

(2) Once the rule has been formally adopted by the agency the code reviser need not, except with regard to the *bulletin published pursuant to RCW 34.04.050(2), include the items enumerated in subsection (1) of this section in the official code.

(3) Any addition to or deletion from an existing code section not filed by the agency in the style prescribed by subsection (1) of this section shall in all respects be ineffectual, and shall not be shown in subsequent publications or codifications of that section. [1977 c 19 § 1.]

34.04.060 Petition for adoption, amendment, repeal of rule—Agency action. Any interested person may petition an agency requesting the promulgation, amendment, or repeal of any rule. Each agency shall prescribe by rule the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition. Within thirty days after submission of a petition, or at the next meeting of the agency if it does not meet within thirty days, the agency shall formally consider the petition and shall within thirty days thereafter either deny the petition in writing (stating its reasons for the denial) or initiate rule-making proceedings in accordance with RCW 34.04.025. [1967 c 237 § 5; 1959 c 234 § 6.]

34.04.070 Declaratory judgment on validity of rule.

(1) The validity of any rule may be determined upon petition for a declaratory judgment thereon addressed to the superior court of Thurston county, when it appears that the rule, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs or immediately threatens to interfere with or impair, the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The agency shall be made a party to the proceeding. The declaratory judgment may be rendered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the rule in question.

(2) In a proceeding under subsection (1) of this section the court shall declare the rule invalid only if it finds that it violates constitutional provisions or exceeds the statutory authority of the agency or was adopted without compliance with statutory rule-making procedures. [1959 c 234 § 7.]

34.04.080 Declaratory ruling by agency—Petition—Court review. On petition of any interested person, an agency may issue a declaratory ruling with respect to the applicability to any person, property, or state of facts of any rule or statute enforceable by it. A declaratory ruling, if issued after argument and stated to be binding, is binding between the agency and the petitioner on the state of facts alleged, unless it is altered or set aside by a court. Such a ruling is subject to review in the superior court of Thurston county in the manner hereinafter provided for the review of decisions in contested cases. Each agency shall prescribe by rule the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition. [1959 c 234 § 8.]

34.04.090 Contested cases—Notice—Hearing—Informal disposition—Record—Findings of fact—Agency's powers. (1) In any contested case all parties shall be afforded an opportunity for hearing after not less than twenty days' notice; but no hearing shall be required until the hearing is demanded unless other statutory provisions or agency rules provide otherwise. The notice shall include:

(a) a statement of the time, place and nature of the proceeding;

(b) a statement of the legal authority and jurisdiction under which the hearing is to be held;

(c) a reference to the particular sections of the statutes and rules involved;

(d) a short and plain statement of the matters asserted. If the agency or other party is unable to state the matters in detail at the time the notice is served, the initial notice may be limited to a statement of the issues involved. Thereafter upon request a more definite and detailed statement shall be furnished.

(2) Opportunity shall be afforded all parties to respond and present evidence and argument on all issues involved.

(3) Unless precluded by law, informal disposition may also be made of any contested case by stipulation, agreed settlement, consent order, or default.

(4) The record in a contested case shall include:

(a) all pleadings, motions, intermediate rulings;

(b) evidence received or considered;

(c) a statement of matters officially noticed;
 (d) questions and offers of proof, objections, and ruling thereon;

(e) proposed findings and exceptions;

(f) any decision, opinion, or report by the officer presiding at the hearing;

(5) Oral proceedings shall be transcribed for the purposes of agency decision pursuant to RCW 34.04.110, as now or hereafter amended, rehearing, or court review. A copy of the record or any part thereof shall be transcribed and furnished to any party to the hearing upon request therefor and payment of the reasonable costs thereof.

(6) Findings of fact shall be based exclusively on the evidence and on matters officially noticed.

(7) Each agency shall adopt appropriate rules of procedure for notice and hearing in contested cases.

(8) Agencies, or their authorized agents, may

(a) administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence, and no person shall be compelled to divulge information which he could not be compelled to divulge in a court of law,

(b) issue subpoenas as provided in RCW 34.04.105,

(c) rule upon offers of proof and receive relevant evidence,

(d) take or cause depositions to be taken pursuant to rules promulgated by the agency, and no person shall be compelled to divulge information which he could not be compelled to divulge by deposition in connection with a court proceeding,

(e) regulate the course of the hearing,

(f) hold conferences for the settlement or simplification of the issues by consent of the parties,

(g) dispose of procedural requests or similar matters,

(h) make decisions or proposals for decisions pursuant to RCW 34.04.110,

(i) take any other action authorized by agency rule consistent with this chapter. [1967 c 237 § 9; 1959 c 234 § 9.]

34.04.100 Contested cases—Rules of evidence—Cross-examination. In contested cases:

(1) Agencies, or their authorized agents, may admit and give probative effect to evidence which possesses probative value commonly accepted by reasonably prudent men in the conduct of their affairs. They shall give effect to the rules of privilege recognized by law. They may exclude incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and unduly repetitious evidence.

(2) All evidence, including but not limited to records and documents in the possession of the agency of which it desires to avail itself, shall be offered and made a part of the record in the case, and no other factual information or evidence shall be considered in the determination of the case. Documentary evidence may be received in the form of copies or excerpts, or by incorporation by reference.

(3) Every party shall have the right of cross-examination of witnesses who testify, and shall have the right to submit rebuttal evidence.

(4) Agencies, or their authorized agents, may take notice of judicially cognizable facts and in addition may take notice of general, technical, or scientific facts within their specialized knowledge. Parties shall be notified either before or during hearing, or by reference in preliminary reports or otherwise, of the material so noticed, and they shall be afforded an opportunity to contest the facts so noticed. Agencies, or their authorized agents, may utilize their experience, technical competence, and specialized knowledge in the evaluation of the evidence presented to them. [1959 c 234 § 10.]

34.04.105 Agency hearings and contested cases—Hearings, oaths, subpoenas, evidence, witnesses—Contempt. (1) In order to determine the necessity or desirability of adopting, amending, repealing, or otherwise revising a rule or proposed rule, agencies may hold public hearings, subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, take the testimony of any person under oath, and in connection therewith, require the production for examination of any books or papers relating to the subject matter of contemplated regulation. Each agency may make rules as to the issuance of subpoenas by the agency or its authorized agents. This subsection shall not preclude the exercise of subpoena powers for investigative purposes granted agencies by other statutory provisions.

(2) In any contested case after service of notice as required in RCW 34.04.090(1), as now or hereafter amended, agencies, their authorized agents, and hearing examiners hearing the case:

(a) Shall issue a subpoena upon the request of any party and, to the extent required by agency rule, upon a statement showing general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought: Provided, however, That such subpoena may be issued with like effect by the attorney of record of the party to the contested case in whose behalf the witness is required to appear, and the form of such subpoena in each case may be the same as when issued by the agency except that it shall only be subscribed by the signature of such attorney;

(b) May issue a subpoena upon their own motion.

(3) The subpoena powers created by this section shall be state-wide in effect.

(4) Witnesses in an agency hearing or contested case shall be paid the same fees and allowances, in the same manner and under the same conditions, as provided for witnesses in the courts of this state by chapter 2.40 RCW and by RCW 5.56.010, as now or hereafter amended: Provided, That the agency shall have the power to fix the allowance for meals and lodging in like manner as is provided in RCW 5.56.010, as now or hereafter amended, as to courts. Such fees and allowances, and the cost of producing records required to be produced by agency subpoena, shall be paid by the agency or, in a contested case, by the party requesting the issuance of the subpoena.

(5) If an individual fails to obey a subpoena, or obeys a subpoena but refuses to testify when requested concerning any matter under examination or investigation at the hearing, the agency or attorney issuing the subpoena may petition the superior court of the county where the hearing is being conducted for enforcement of the subpoena. The petition shall be accompanied by a copy of the subpoena and proof of service, and shall set forth in what specific manner the subpoena has not been complied with, and shall ask an order of the court to compel the witness to appear and testify before the agency. The court upon such petition shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed in such order and then and there to show cause why he has not responded to the subpoena or has refused to testify. A copy of the order shall be served upon the witness. If it appears to the court that the subpoena was properly issued and that the particular questions which the witness refuses to answer are reasonable and relevant, and in the case of a rule-making hearing that the requested appearance and testimony are necessary to secure information the expected nature of which would reasonably tend to cause the agency to exercise its rule-making authority, the court shall enter an order that the witness appear at the time and place fixed in the order and testify or produce the required papers, and on failing to obey said order the witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. [1967 c 237 § 10.]

34.04.110 Contested cases—Procedure when deciding officials have not heard or read evidence. Whenever in a contested case a majority of the officials of the agency who are to render the final decision have not heard or read the evidence, the decision, if adverse to a party to the proceeding other than the agency itself, shall not be made until a proposal for decision, including findings of fact and conclusions of law has been served upon the parties, and an opportunity has been afforded each party adversely affected to file exceptions and present written argument to a majority of the officials who are to render the decision, who shall personally consider the whole record or such portions thereof as may be cited by the parties. Oral arguments may be heard in the discretion of the agency. [1959 c 234 § 11.]

34.04.115 Consultation by agency officer as to issues. Except upon notice and opportunity for all parties to be present or to the extent required for the disposition of ex parte matters as authorized by law, no hearing examiner or agency or member of an agency presiding in a contested case or preparing a decision, or proposal for decision shall consult with any person or party on any issue of fact or law in the proceeding, except that in analyzing and appraising the record for decision any agency member or hearing examiner may (1) consult with members of the agency making the decision, (2) have the aid and advice of one or more personal assistants, (3) have the assistance of other employees of the agency who have not participated in the proceeding in any manner, who are not engaged for the agency in any investigative functions in the same or any current factually related case and who are not engaged for the agency in any prosecutory functions. [1967 c 237 § 11.]

34.04.120 Contested cases—Adverse decisions and orders—Findings and conclusions. Every decision and order adverse to a party to the proceeding, rendered by an agency in a contested case, shall be in writing or stated in the record and shall be accompanied by findings of fact and conclusions of law. The findings of fact shall consist of a concise statement of each fact found upon each contested issue of fact. Parties to the proceeding shall be notified of the decision and order in person or by mail. A copy of the decision and order and accompanying findings and conclusions shall be delivered or mailed to each party and to his attorney of record, if any. [1975 c 12 § 1; 1959 c 234 § 12.]

34.04.130 Contested cases—Judicial review. (1) Any person aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case, whether such decision is affirmative or negative in form, is entitled to judicial review thereof only under the provisions of *this 1967 amendatory act, and such person may not use any other procedure to obtain judicial review of a final decision, even though another procedure is provided elsewhere by a special statute or a statute of general application. Where the agency's rules provide a procedure for rehearing or reconsideration, and that procedure has been invoked, the agency decision shall not be final until the agency shall have acted thereon.

(2) Proceedings for review under this chapter shall be instituted by filing a petition in the superior court, at the petitioner's option, for (a) Thurston county, (b) the county of the petitioner's residence or principal place of business, or (c) in any county where the property owned by the petitioner and affected by the contested decision is located. The petition shall be served and filed within thirty days after the service of the final decision of the agency. Copies of the petition shall be served upon the agency and all parties of record. If a timely petition is filed any party of record not filing or joining in the first petition who wants relief from the decision must join in the petition or serve and file a cross-petition within twenty days after service of the first petition or thirty days after service of the final decision of the agency, whichever period of time is longer. The court, in its discretion, may permit other interested persons to intervene.

(3) The filing of the petition shall not stay enforcement of the agency decision. Where other statutes provide for stay or supersedeas of an agency decision, it may be stayed by the agency or the reviewing court only as provided therein; otherwise the agency may do so, or the reviewing court may order a stay upon such terms as it deems proper.

(4) Within thirty days after service of the petition, or within such further time as the court may allow, the agency shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review; but, by stipulation of all parties to the review proceeding, the record may be shortened. Any party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record when deemed desirable.

(5) The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury and shall be confined to the record, except that in cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the agency, not shown in the record, testimony thereon may be taken in the court. The court shall, upon request, hear oral argument and receive written briefs.

(6) The court may affirm the decision of the agency or remand the case for further proceedings; or it may reverse the decision if the substantial rights of the petitioners may have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

- (a) in violation of constitutional provisions; or
- (b) in excess of the statutory authority or jurisdiction of the agency; or
- (c) made upon unlawful procedure; or
- (d) affected by other error of law; or
- (e) clearly erroneous in view of the entire record as submitted and the public policy contained in the act of the legislature authorizing the decision or order; or
- (f) arbitrary or capricious. [1977 ex.s. c 52 § 1; 1967 c 237 § 6; 1959 c 234 § 13.]

34.08.010 Legislative finding. The legislature finds that a need exists to adequately inform the public on the conduct of the people's business by state government, and that providing adequate notice of the affairs of government enables the public to actively participate in the conduct of state government. The legislature further finds that the promulgation of rules by state agencies has a direct effect on the ability of the people to conduct their personal affairs and knowledgeably deal with state government. It is therefore the intent and purpose of RCW 1.08.110 and 42.30.075 and of this chapter to require the publication of a state register by which the public will be adequately informed of the activities of government and where they may actively participate in the conduct of state government and influence the decision making process of the people's business. [1977 ex.s. c 240 § 1.]

[1977 ex.s. c 240 § 5.]

No one county auditor shall be allowed more than thirty days within which so to check the petition. Obligations of contract shall not be impaired: State Constitution Art. 1 § 23.

35.07.110 Effect of disincorporation—Streets. Upon disincorporation of a city or town, its streets and highways pass to the control of the state and shall remain public highways until closed in pursuance of law; and the territory embraced therein shall be made into a new road district or annexed to adjoining districts as may be ordered by the board of county commissioners of the county embracing such city or town. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.110. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 17; RRS § 8930.]

35.07.120 Receiver—Qualification—Bond. The receiver must qualify within ten days after he has been declared elected, by filing with the county auditor a bond equal in penalty to the audited indebtedness and the established liabilities of the city or town with sureties approved by the board of county commissioners, or if the board is not in session, by the judge of the superior court of the county. The bond shall run to the state and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as receiver and the prompt payment in the order of their priority of all lawful claims finally established as the funds come into his hands to discharge them. The bond shall be filed with the county auditor and shall be a public record and shall be for the benefit of every person who may be injured by the receiver's failure to discharge his duty. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.120. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 7; RRS § 8920.]

35.07.130 Elected receiver—Failure to qualify—Court to appoint. If the person elected receiver fails to qualify as such within the prescribed time, the council shall file in the superior court of the county a petition setting forth the fact of the election, its result and the failure of the person elected receiver to qualify within the prescribed time and praying for the appointment of another person as receiver. Notice of the filing of the petition and of the time fixed for hearing thereon must be served upon the person elected receiver at least three days before the time fixed for the hearing. If he cannot be found within the county, no notice need be served, and the court may proceed with full jurisdiction to determine the matter upon the hearing. Unless good cause to the contrary is shown, the court shall appoint some suitable person to act as receiver, who shall qualify as required by RCW 35.07.120 within ten days from the date of his appointment.

If the council fails to procure the appointment of a receiver, any person qualified to vote in the city or town may file such a petition and make such application. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.130. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 8; RRS § 8921.]

35.07.140 No receiver elected though indebtedness exists—Procedure. If no receiver is elected upon the supposition that no indebtedness existed and it transpires that the municipality does have indebtedness or an outstanding liability, any interested person may file a petition in the superior court asking for the appointment of a receiver, and unless the indebtedness or liability is discharged, the court shall appoint some suitable person to act as receiver who shall qualify as required of any other receiver hereunder, within ten days from the date of his appointment. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.140. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 15; RRS § 8928.]

35.07.150 Duties of receiver—Claims—Priority. The receiver, upon qualifying, shall take possession of all the property, money, vouchers, records and books of the former municipality including those in any manner pertaining to its business and proceed to wind up its affairs. He shall have authority to pay:

(1) All outstanding warrants and bonds in the order of their maturity with due regard to the fund on which they are properly a charge;

(2) All lawful claims against the corporation which have been audited and allowed by the council;

(3) All lawful claims which may be presented to him within the time limited by law for the presentation of such claims, but no claim shall be allowed or paid which is not presented within six months from the date of the disincorporation election;

(4) All claims that by final adjudication may come to be established as lawful claims against the corporation.

As between warrants, bonds and other claims, their priority shall be determined with regard to the fund on which they are properly a charge. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.150. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 9; RRS § 8922.]

Accident claims, audits: Chapter 35.31 RCW, RCW 35.24.260.

35.07.160 Receiver may sue and be sued. The receiver shall have the right to sue and be sued in all cases necessary or proper for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the former city or town and shall be subject to suit in all cases wherein the city or town might have been sued, subject to the limitations provided in this chapter. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.160. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 12; RRS § 8925.]

35.07.170 Receiver—Power to sell property. The receiver shall be authorized to sell at public auction after such public notice as the sheriff is required to give of like property sold on execution, all the property of the former municipality except such as is necessary for his use in winding up its affairs, and excepting also such as has been dedicated to public use.

Personal property shall be sold for cash.

Real property may be sold for all cash, or for one-half cash and the remainder in deferred payments, the last payment not to be later than one year from date of sale. Title shall not pass until all deferred payments have been fully paid. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.170. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 10, part; RRS § 8923.]

35.07.180 Receiver—Power to levy taxes. In the same manner and to the same extent as the proper authorities of the former city or town could have done had it not been disincorporated, the receiver shall be authorized to levy taxes on all taxable property, to receive the taxes when collected and to apply them together with the proceeds arising from sales to the extinguishment of the obligations of the former city or town.

After all the lawful claims against the former city or town have been paid excepting bonds not yet due, no levy greater than fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value shall be made; nor shall the levy be greater than sufficient to meet the accruing interest until the bonds mature. [1973 1st ex.s. c 195 § 11; 1965 c 7 §

Severability—Effective dates and termination dates—Construction—1973 1st ex.s. c 195: See notes following RCW 84.52.043.

35.07.190 Receiver's compensation. The receiver shall be entitled to deduct from any funds coming into his hands a commission of six percent on the first thousand dollars, five percent on the second thousand and four percent on any amount over two thousand dollars as his full compensation exclusive of necessary traveling expenses and necessary disbursements, but not exclusive of attorney's fees. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.190. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 11; RRS § 8924.]

35.07.200 Receiver—Removal for cause. The receiver shall proceed to wind up the affairs of the corporation with diligence and for negligence or misconduct in the discharge of his duties may be removed by the superior court upon a proper showing made by a taxpayer of the former city or town or by an unsatisfied creditor thereof. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.200. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 13, part; RRS § 8926, part.]

35.07.210 Receiver—Successive appointments. In the case of removal, death, or resignation of a receiver, the court may appoint a new receiver to take charge of the affairs of the former city or town. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.210. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 13, part; RRS § 8926, part.]

35.07.220 Receiver—Final account and discharge. Upon the final payment of all lawful demands against the former city or town, the receiver shall file a final account, together with all vouchers, with the clerk of the superior court. Any funds remaining in his hands shall be paid to the county treasurer for the use of the school district in which the former city or town was situated; and thereupon the receivership shall be at an end. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.220. Prior: 1897 c 69 § 14; RRS § 8927.]

35.07.230 Involuntary dissolution of towns—Authorized. If any town fails for two successive years to hold its regular municipal election, or if the officers elected at the regular election of any town fail for two successive years to qualify and the government of the town ceases to function by reason thereof, the state auditor through the division of municipal corporations may petition the superior court of the county for an order, dissolving the town. In addition to stating the facts which would justify the entry of such an order, the petition shall set forth a detailed statement of the assets and liabilities of the town insofar as they can be ascertained. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.230. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 76 § 1; RRS § 8931-1.]

35.07.240 Involuntary dissolution of towns—Notice of hearing. Upon the filing of a petition for the involuntary dissolution of a town, the superior court shall enter an order fixing the time for hearing thereon at a date not less than thirty days from date of filing. The state auditor shall give notice of such hearing by publication in a weekly newspaper of general circulation in the county, for three successive issues, and by posting in three public places in the town, stating therein the purpose of the petition and the date and place of hearing thereon. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.240. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 76 § 2; RRS § 8931-2.]

35.07.250 Involuntary dissolution of towns—Hearing. Any person owning property in or qualified to vote in the town may appear at the hearing and file written objections to the granting of the petition. If the court finds that the town has failed for two successive years to hold its regular municipal election or that its officers elected at a regular election have failed to qualify for two successive years thereby causing the government of the town to cease to function, it shall enter an order for disincorporation of the town. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.250. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 76 § 3, part; RRS § 8931-3, part.]

35.07.260 Involuntary dissolution of towns—Alternative forms of order. (1) If the court finds that the town has no indebtedness and no assets, the order of dissolution shall be effective forthwith.

(2) If the court finds that the town has assets, but no indebtedness or liabilities, it shall order a sale of the assets other than cash by the sheriff in the manner provided by law for the sale of property on execution. The proceeds of the sale together with any money on hand in the treasury of the town, after deducting the costs of the proceeding and sale, shall be paid into the county treasury and placed to the credit of the school district in which the town is located.

(3) If the court finds that the town has indebtedness or liabilities and assets other than cash, it shall order the sale of the assets as provided in subsection (2) hereof and that the proceeds thereof and the cash on hand shall be applied to the payment of the indebtedness and liabilities.

(4) If the court finds that the town has indebtedness or liabilities, but no assets or that the assets are insufficient to pay the indebtedness and liabilities, it shall order the board of county commissioners to levy from year to year a tax on the taxable property within the boundaries of the former town until the indebtedness and liabilities are paid. All taxes delinquent at the date of dissolution when collected shall be applied to the payment of the indebtedness and liabilities. Any balance remaining from the collection of delinquent taxes and taxes levied under order of the court, after payment of the indebtedness and liabilities shall be placed to the credit of the school district in which the town is located. [1965 c 7 § 35.07.260. Prior: 1925 ex.s. c 76 § 3, part; RRS § 8931-3, part.]

Elections: Title 29 RCW.

Population determinations: Chapter 43.62 RCW.

Procedure to attack consolidation or annexation affecting a city of the third class: RCW 35.24.440.

35.10.200 Consolidation of contiguous municipal corporations through consolidation or annexation authorized—Classification. Two or more contiguous municipal corporations located in the same or different counties may become consolidated into one corporation after proceeding as required by this chapter either by consolidation or annexation by a city or town of all or a portion of another city or town. When municipal corporations are separated by water and/or tide or shore lands upon which no bona fide residence is maintained by any person, they shall be deemed contiguous for all the purposes of this chapter, and may be consolidated under the terms hereof, and upon such consolidation any such intervening water and/or tide or shore lands shall become a part of the consolidated corporation. Notwithstanding chapter 35.01 RCW and RCW 35.02.010 in the event of such a consolidation, the consolidated city shall have the same classification as the former corporation having the largest population and the annexing city shall retain its same classification regardless of population. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 1; 1965 c 7 § 35.10.200. Prior: 1929 c 64 § 1; RRS § 8909-1. Formerly RCW 35.10.010, part.]

Validating—1929 c 64: "That the attempted consolidation of two or more contiguous municipal corporations pursuant to the provisions of either chapter 167 of the Laws of 1927 or chapter 293 of the Laws of 1927 be, and any such consolidation of any such cities or towns, is hereby in all respects validated." [1929 c 64 § 16.]

35.10.211 Petition—Joint resolution—Contents—Proposition—Submission to electors. The legislative body of either of such contiguous corporations, upon receiving such petition signed by the qualified electors of either of such contiguous corporations equal in number to at least one-fifth of the votes cast at the last municipal general election held in such corporation requesting that a proposition with respect to the consolidation of two or more contiguous corporations be submitted to the voters, shall, within ninety days after receiving it, or the legislative bodies of any contiguous municipal corporations meeting in joint session upon their own initiative by joint resolution, cause to be submitted to the electors of each of such corporations, at a special election to be held for that purpose, the proposition of whether such corporations shall be consolidated into one corporation. The petition or joint resolution may provide that the consolidation proposition may include (1) the form of government, (2) provision in regard to the assumption of indebtedness, (3) the name of the proposed corporation, and (4) whether a community municipal corporation shall be created for the smaller city or town as provided in RCW 35.14.010 through 35.14.060, or that any one or more of these items may be submitted to the voters as a separate proposition. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 2.]

35.10.215 Study of consolidation or annexation—Plan—Contents—Submission to electors. A petition may be signed by the qualified electors of either of such contiguous corporations equal in number to at least one-fifth of the votes cast at the last municipal general election held in such corporation requesting the legislative bodies of contiguous corporations to meet jointly to determine that a study of the consolidation or annexation of such corporations would be desirable or the legislative body of any city or town may request the legislative body of any contiguous corporation to meet jointly to make such determination. If such a finding is made, such legislative bodies shall thereupon within six months immediately following the filing of such petition cause to be developed a proposed consolidation or annexation plan, including but not limited to, whether in connection with the submission of a proposition for the consolidation or annexation of contiguous corporations to the electors, to have the voters also determine to what extent, if any, the indebtedness approved by the voters, contracted, or incurred prior to the date of consolidation by either of the former of such corporations, should be assumed by the other corporation in which the indebtedness did not originate. On or before the expiration of such six month period, such legislative bodies meeting in joint session shall, by majority vote of each, approve the proposed consolidation or annexation plan, or some modification thereof and shall cause to be submitted to the electors of each of such corporations the question (1) whether such corporations shall become consolidated into one corporation, and (2) in case the existing corporations are operating under different forms of government or are operating under the same form of government and desire to consider a different form of government, the question as to which of the forms of government shall be the form of government under which the new corporation shall be organized and operated, (3) a separate proposition "For assumption of indebtedness," and "Against assumption of indebtedness," or words equivalent thereto, and (4) the name or names, not to exceed two, in alphabetical order of the proposed new corporation, and (5) may submit a separate proposition in regard to whether a community municipal corporation for the smaller city or town as provided in RCW 35.14.010 through 35.14.060 should be created: Provided, That in lieu of submitting each of these propositions or questions separately, they may be submitted as a part of the consolidation proposition: Provided further, That in all cases wherein any city or town desires to be annexed to another city or town, the question of consolidation, the form of government, and the name of the corporation shall not be submitted to the electors of the annexing city or town, but a separate proposition for or against assumption of indebtedness by the other corporation(s) in which the indebtedness approved by the voters, contracted, or incurred prior to the date of annexation, did not originate, and a separate proposition in regard to whether a community municipal corporation in the city or town being annexed as provided in RCW 35.14.010 through 35.14.060 should be created, may be submitted to the electors. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 3.]

35.10.217 Other methods for annexation of cities and towns. Three other methods are available for the annexation of all or a part of a city or town to another city or town:

(1) A petition for an election to vote upon the annexation of all or a part of a city or town to another city or town signed by qualified electors of the city or town proposed to be annexed equal in number to at least one-fifth of the votes cast at the last municipal general election held therein may be filed with the legislative body of the city or town to be annexed. Such legislative body, in turn, shall, by resolution, advise the legislative body of the city or town to which annexation is proposed of the receipt of such petition and request the latter legislative body to indicate by resolution whether it will accept the proposed annexation, and if so, on what terms. If such resolution of the annexing city states that its legislative body is favorably disposed toward such annexation, the legislative body of the city or town to be annexed shall submit to the electors in such territory proposed to be annexed, the question of whether such territory shall be annexed and such other propositions as are deemed appropriate.

(2) The legislative body of a city or town may on its own initiative by resolution indicate its desire to be annexed to a city or town either in whole or in part. In case such resolution is passed, such resolution shall be transmitted to the city or town to which it desires to be annexed, and the legislative body of such city or town shall by resolution indicate whether it will accept the proposed annexation, and if so, on what terms.

(3) In the event there are no qualified electors residing within a part of a city or town which said city or town wishes to have annexed to another contiguous city or town, then the issue of annexation will be decided by the legislative body of the city or town from which the territory is to be withdrawn. This decision, which shall be by majority vote of said legislative body, shall be considered as if it was an election by qualified voters of said territory and handled accordingly under the other applicable sections of this chapter.

If the legislative body of the city or town to which annexation is proposed indicates a willingness to accept the annexation, then the question of whether such territory shall be annexed to such corporation and become a part thereof and such other propositions as are deemed appropriate shall be submitted to the electors in the territory to be annexed by the legislative body of the city or town or part thereof to be annexed at an election which such legislative body shall cause to be called for that purpose. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 4.]

35.10.220 Designation of election date—Notice to other corporations affected. The legislative body receiving such petition shall designate a day upon which such special election shall be held in each of the corporations proposed to be consolidated to determine whether such consolidation or creation of a community municipal corporation, or both, as the case may be, shall be effected, and shall give written notice thereof to the legislative body of each of the corporations proposed to be consolidated, or in case the legislative bodies of contiguous municipal corporations by joint resolution initiate a proposal to consolidate such corporations, the day on which such special election is to be held shall be specified in such resolution. Such notice shall designate the suggested name or names in alphabetical order of the proposed new corporation in all cases except in the case of the proposed annexation of all or a portion of any city or town to another city or town. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 5; 1967 c 73 § 15; 1965 c 7 § 35.10.220. Prior: 1929 c 64 § 3; RRS § 8909-3. Formerly RCW 35.10.020, part, and 35.10.040.]

Times for holding elections: Chapter 29.13 RCW.

35.10.230 Duty to give notice of election—Notice requirements. Upon the giving and/or receiving of such notice, it shall be the duty of the legislative body of each of the corporations proposed to be consolidated or consolidated with provision for creation of a community municipal corporation, or in case of a proposed annexation of all or a portion of a city or town to another city or town the legislative body of the city or town proposed to be annexed, to cause the election notice required by RCW 29.27.080 to be given of each special election. Such notice shall distinctly state the propositions to be submitted, the names of the corporations proposed to be consolidated, the name or names in alphabetical order of the proposed new corporation, and the class to which such proposed new corporation will belong, and the question of assumption of indebtedness by the other corporations in which the indebtedness did not originate, and shall invite the electors to vote upon such proposition by placing a cross "X" upon their ballots after the words "For consolidation" or "Against consolidation," and, if appropriate, the words "For creation of community municipal corporation" and "Against creation of community municipal corporation" or words equivalent thereto or "For consolidation and creation of community municipal corporation" or "Against consolidation and creation of community municipal corporation" and, in case the question of the form of government of the proposed new corporation is submitted, to place a cross "X" upon their ballots after the words describing the forms being submitted, for example "For commission form of government" or "For councilmanic form of government" or "For council-manager form of government": Provided, however, That in the event of such annexation no proposition in regard to the name or form of government is to be submitted to the voters. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 6; 1967 c 73 § 16; 1965 c 7 § 35.10.230. Prior: 1929 c 64 § 4; RRS § 8909-4. Formerly RCW 35.10.050, 35.10.060, and 35.11.020, part.]

35.10.240 Canvass of votes—Joint convention—Statement of votes—Contents, filing. In all cases of consolidation or annexation, the county canvassing board or boards shall canvass the votes cast thereat.

In an election on the question of consolidation the votes cast in each of such corporations shall be canvassed separately, and a statement shall be prepared showing the whole number of votes cast, the number of votes cast for consolidation and the number of votes cast against consolidation, the number of votes cast for creation of a community municipal corporation and the number of votes cast against creation of a community municipal corporation, or both, as the case may be, in each of such corporations. In case the question of the form of government of the new corporation shall have been submitted at such election, the votes thereon and on the name of the new corporation shall be canvassed, and the result of such canvass shall be included in the statement, showing the total number of votes cast in all of the corporations for each form of government submitted. A certified copy of such statement shall be filed with the legislative body of each of the corporations affected.

If it shall appear upon such statement of canvass that a majority of the votes cast in each of such corporations were in favor of consolidation or consolidation and creation of a community municipal corporation, the legislative bodies of each of such corporations shall meet in joint convention at the usual place of meeting of the legislative body of that one of the corporations having the largest population as shown by the last United States census or the determination of the planning and community affairs agency on or before the second Monday next succeeding the receipt of the statement of canvass to prepare a statement of votes cast and declaring the consolidation adopted or consolidation adopted and a community municipal corporation created, and if such issue were submitted, declaring the form of government to be that form for which a majority of all the votes on that issue were cast and the name of the consolidated city to be that name for which the greatest number of votes were cast.

In an election on the question of the annexation of all or a part of a city or town to another city or town, the votes cast in the city or town or portion thereof to be annexed shall be canvassed, and if a majority of the votes cast be in favor of annexation, the results shall be included in a statement indicating the total number of votes cast.

Both with respect to consolidation and annexation, a proposition for the assumption of indebtedness outside the constitutional and/or statutory limits by the other corporation(s) in which the indebtedness did not originate shall be deemed approved if a majority of at least three-fifths of the electors of the corporation in which the indebtedness did not originate votes in favor thereof, and the number of persons voting on such proposition constitutes not less than forty percent of the total number of votes cast in such corporations in which indebtedness did not originate at the last preceding general election: Provided, however, That if general obligation bond indebtedness was incurred by action by the city legislative body, a proposition for the assumption of such indebtedness by the other corporation(s) in which such indebtedness did not originate shall be deemed approved if a majority of the electors of the corporation in which such indebtedness did not originate votes in favor thereof.

A duly certified copy of such statement of either a consolidation or annexation election shall be filed with the legislative body of each of the corporations affected and recorded upon its minutes, and it shall be the duty of the clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, of each of such legislative bodies, to transmit to the secretary of state and the planning and community affairs agency a duly certified copy of the record of such statement. [1973 1st ex.s. c 195 § 12; 1969 ex.s. c 89 § 7; 1967 c 73 § 17; 1965 c 7 § 35.10.240. Prior: 1929 c 64 § 5; RRS § 8909-5. Formerly RCW 35.10.070.]

35.10.245 Wards—Election of councilmen. The legislative body of the consolidated or the annexing city or town may, in its discretion, divide the city by ordinance, into a convenient number of wards of substantially equal population and fix the boundaries thereof, and change the same from time to time. Whenever such city is so divided into wards, the city council shall designate by ordinance the number of councilmen to be elected from each ward, apportioning the same in proportion to the population of the wards. Thereafter the councilmen so designated shall be elected by the qualified electors resident in such ward, or by general vote of the whole city as may be designated in such ordinance. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 8.]

35.10.250 Consolidation—Election of officers of new corporation. Immediately after the filing of the statement of a consolidation election, the mayor of the city or town having the largest population, as shown by the last census of the planning and community affairs agency, shall call a meeting of the legislative authorities of the cities and/or towns to be consolidated. Such legislative authorities shall cause to be called a special election, to be held in such new corporation, for the election of the officers required by law to be elected in corporations of the class and form of government to which such new corporation belongs, which election shall be held within six months thereafter: Provided, That if the next regular general election of officers in cities of the class and form of government of such new corporation will be held within one year and not less than two months from the date of such consolidation election, then the officers of such new corporation shall be elected at the said next regular election. Such regular or special election shall be called and conducted and canvassed in all respects in the manner prescribed, or that may be hereafter prescribed, by law for municipal elections in corporations of the class of such new corporation, and the results transmitted by the canvassing authority to the legislative body, who shall immediately declare the result thereof and cause the same to be entered upon its journal, and file certified copies of such result with the legislative body of each of the other corporations affected, who in like manner shall cause the same to be entered upon its journal and a copy thereof shall be filed with the secretary of state. [1969 ex.s. c 89 § 9; 1965 c 7 § 35.10.250. Prior: 1929 c 64 § 6; RRS § 8909-6. Formerly RCW 35.10.080.]

35.13.173 Determination by review board—Factors considered—Filing of findings. The review board shall by majority action, within three months, determine whether the property proposed to be annexed is of such character that such annexation would be in the public interest and for the public welfare, and in the best interest of the city, county, and other political subdivisions affected. The governing officials of the city, county, and other political subdivisions of the state shall assist the review board insofar as their offices can, and all relevant information and records shall be furnished by such offices to the review board. In making their determination the review board shall be guided, but not limited, by their findings with respect to the following factors:

(1) The immediate and prospective populations of the area to be annexed;

(2) The assessed valuation of the area to be annexed, and its relationship to population;

(3) The history of and prospects for construction of improvements in the area to be annexed;

(4) The needs and possibilities for geographical expansion of the city;

(5) The present and anticipated need for governmental services in the area proposed to be annexed, including but not limited to water supply, sewage and garbage disposal, zoning, streets and alleys, curbs, sidewalks, police and fire protection, playgrounds, parks, and other municipal services, and transportation and drainage;

(6) The relative capabilities of the city, county, and other political subdivisions to provide governmental services when the need arises;

(7) The existence of special districts except school districts within the area proposed to be annexed, and the impact of annexation upon such districts;

(8) The elimination of isolated unincorporated areas existing without adequate economical governmental services;

(9) The immediate and potential revenues that would be derived by the city as a result of annexation, and their relation to the cost of providing service to the area.

Whether the review board determines for or against annexation, its reasons therefor, along with its findings on the specified factors and other material considerations shall:

(1) In the case of a petition signed by registered voters calling for an election on annexation, be filed with the board of county commissioners;

(2) In the case of a resolution of a city or town initiating annexation proceedings pursuant to RCW 35.13.015, be filed with the board of county commissioners.

Such findings need not include specific data on every point listed, but shall indicate that all factors were considered.

A favorable determination by the review board is an essential condition precedent to the annexation of territory to a city or town under either the resolution method pursuant to RCW 35.13.015, or under the twenty percent annexation petition under the election method. [1973 1st ex.s. c 164 § 16; 1965 c 7 § 35.13.173. Prior: 1961 c 282 § 4.]

Upon receipt by the board of county commissioners of a determination by a majority of the review board favoring annexation of the proposed area that has been initiated by resolution pursuant to RCW 35.13.015 by the city or town legislative body, the board of county commissioners shall fix a date on which an annexation election shall be held, which date will be not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days thereafter. (4) The time interval following an annexation during which the ordinance or resolution adopting any such plan or regulations, or any part thereof must remain in effect before it may be amended, supplemented or modified by subsequent ordinance or resolution adopted by the annexing city or town.

All such regulations and restrictions shall be designed, among other things, to encourage the most appropriate use of land throughout the area to be annexed; to lessen traffic congestion and accidents; to secure safety from fire; to provide adequate light and air; to prevent overcrowding of land; to avoid undue concentration of population; to promote a coordinated development of the unbuilt areas; to encourage the formation of neighborhood or community units; to secure an appropriate allotment of land area in new developments for all the requirements of community life; to conserve and restore natural beauty and other natural resources; to facilitate the adequate provision of transportation, water, sewerage and other public uses and requirements. 35.13A.010 Definitions. Whenever used in this chapter, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(1) The word "district" shall mean a water district or sewer district as indicated by the context of the section in which used.

(2) The word "city" shall mean a city or town of any class and shall also include any code city as defined in chapter 35A.01 RCW.

(3) The words "included with" shall mean the inclusion of all or part of the territory of a district, as indicated by the context, within the corporate limits of a city either by incorporation of a city, annexation to a city, consolidation of cities or any combination thereof.

(4) The word "indebtedness" shall include general obligation, revenue, and special indebtedness and temporary, emergency, and interim loans. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 1.]

35.13A.020 Assumption authorized—Disposition of properties and rights—Outstanding indebtedness—Management and control. Whenever all of the territory of a water district or sewer district is included within the corporate boundaries of a city, and the city legislative body has elected by resolution or ordinance to assume jurisdiction thereof, all real and personal property, franchises, rights, assets, taxes levied but not collected for the district for other than indebtedness, water and sewer lines, and all other facilities and equipment of the district shall become the property of such city subject to all financial, statutory, or contractual obligations of the district for the security or performance of which such property may have been pledged. Such city, in addition to its other powers, shall have the power to manage, control, maintain and operate such property, facilities and equipment and to fix and collect service and other charges from owners and occupants of properties so served by the city, subject, however, to any outstanding indebtedness, bonded or otherwise, of the district payable from taxes, assessments or revenues of any kind or nature and to any other contractual obligations of the district.

Such city may by resolution of its legislative body, assume the obligation of paying such district indebtedness and of levying and of collecting or causing to be collected such district taxes, assessments and utility rates and charges of any kind or nature to pay and secure the payment of such indebtedness, according to all of the terms, conditions and covenants incident to such indebtedness, and shall assume and perform all other outstanding contractual obligation of the district in accordance with all of its terms, conditions and covenants. No such assumption shall be deemed to impair the obligation of any indebtedness or other contractual obligation entered into after August 9, 1971. During the period until the outstanding indebtedness of the district has been discharged, the territory of the district and the owners and occupants of property therein, shall continue to be liable for its and their proportionate share of such indebtedness, including any outstanding assessments levied within any local improvement district or utility local improvement district thereof. The city shall assume the obligation of causing the payment of such indebtedness, collecting such taxes, assessments and charges and observing and performing the other district contractual obligations. The legislative body of the city shall act as the officers of the district for the purpose of certifying the amount of any property tax to be levied and collected therein, and causing service and other charges and assessments to be collected from such property or owners or occupants thereof, enforcing such collection and performing all other acts necessary to insure performance of the district's contractual obligations in the same manner and by the same means as if the territory of the district had not been included within the boundaries of a city.

When a city assumes the obligation of paying the outstanding indebtedness, and if property taxes or assessments have been levied and service and other charges have accrued for such purpose but have not been collected by the district prior to such election, the same when collected shall belong and be paid to the city and be used by such city so far as necessary for payment of the indebtedness of the district existing and unpaid on the date such city elects to assume the indebtedness. Any funds received by the city which have been collected for the purpose of paying any bonded or other indebtedness of the district, shall be used for the purpose for which they were collected and for no other purpose. Any outstanding indebtedness shall be paid as provided in the bond covenants. All funds of the district on deposit with the county treasurer at the time of title transfer shall be used by the city solely for the benefit of the utility and shall not be transferred to or used for the benefit of the city's general fund. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 2.]

35.13A.030 Assumption of control if sixty percent or more of area or valuation within city. Whenever a portion of a water district or sewer district equal to at least sixty percent of the area or sixty percent of the assessed valuation of the real property lying within such district, is included within the corporate boundaries of a city, the city may assume by ordinance the full and complete management and control of that portion of the entire district not included within another city, whereupon the provisions of RCW 35.13A.020 shall be operative; or the city may proceed directly under the provisions of RCW 35.13A.050. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 3.]

35.13A.040 Assumption of control if less than sixty percent of area or valuation within city. Whenever the portion of a water or sewer district included within the corporate boundaries of a city is less than sixty percent of the area of the district and less than sixty percent of the assessed valuation of the real property within the district, the city may elect to proceed under the provisions of RCW 35.13A.050. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 4.]

35.13A.050 Territory containing facilities within or without city—Duties of city or district—Rates and charges—Assumption of responsibility—Outstanding indebtedness—Properties and rights. When electing under RCW 35.13A.030 or 35.13A.040 to proceed under this section, the city may assume, by ordinance, jurisdiction of the district's responsibilities, property, facilities and equipment within the corporate limits of the city: Provided, That if on the effective date of such an ordinance the territory of the district included within the city contains any facilities serving or designed to serve any portion of the district outside the corporate limits of the city or if the territory lying within the district and outside the city contains any facilities serving or designed to serve territory included within the city (which facilities are hereafter in this section called the "serving facilities"), the city or district shall for the economically useful life of any such serving facilities make available sufficient capacity therein to serve the sewage or water requirements of such territory, to the extent that such facilities were designed to serve such territory at a rate charged to the municipality being served which is reasonable to all parties.

In the event a city proceeds under this section, the district may elect upon a favorable vote of a majority of all voters within the district voting upon such propositions to require the city to assume responsibility for the operation and maintenance of the district's property, facilities and equipment throughout the entire district and to pay the city a charge for such operation and maintenance which is reasonable under all of the circumstances.

A city acquiring property, facilities and equipment under the provisions of this section shall acquire such property, facilities and equipment, and fix and collect service and other charges from owners and occupants of properties served by the city, subject, to any contractual obligations of the district which relate to the property, facilities, or equipment so acquired by the city or which are secured by taxes, assessments or revenues from the territory of the district included within the city. In such cases, the property included within the city and the owners and occupants thereof shall continue to be liable for payment of its and their proportionate share of any outstanding district indebtedness. The district and its officers shall continue to levy taxes and assessments on and to collect service and other charges from such property, or owners or occupants thereof, to enforce such collections, and to perform all other acts necessary to insure performance of the district's contractual obligations in the same manner and by the same means as if the territory of the district had not been included within the boundaries of a city. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 5.]

35.13A.060 District in more than one city—Assumption of responsibilities—Duties of cities. Whenever more than one city, in whole or in part, is included within a water district or sewer district, the city which has within its boundaries sixty percent or more of the area of the assessed valuation of the district (in this section referred to as the "principal city") may, with the approval of any other city containing part of such district, assume responsibility for operation and maintenance of the district's property, facilities and equipment within such other city and make and enforce such charges for operation, maintenance and retirement of indebtedness as may be reasonable under all the circumstances.

Any other city having less than sixty percent in area or assessed valuation of such district, within its boundaries may install facilities and create local improvement districts or otherwise finance the cost of installation of such facilities and if such facilities have been installed in accordance with reasonable standards fixed by the principal city, such other city may connect such facilities to the utility system of such district operated by the principal city upon providing for payment by the owners or occupants of properties served thereby, of such charges established by the principal city as may be reasonable under the circumstances. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 6.]

35.13A.070 Contracts. Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, one or more cities and one or more water districts or sewer districts may, through their legislative authorities, authorize a contract with respect to the rights, powers, duties and obligation of such cities, or districts with regard to the use and ownership of property, the providing of services, the maintenance and operation of facilities, allocation of cost, financing and construction of new facilities, application and use of assets, disposition of liabilities and debts, the performance of contractual obligations and any other matters arising out of the inclusion, in whole or in part, of the district or districts within any city or cities. The contract may provide for the furnishing of services by any party thereto and the use of city or district facilities or real estate for such purpose, and may also provide for the time during which such district or districts may continue to exercise any rights, privileges, powers and functions provided by law for such district or districts as if the district or districts or portions thereof were not included within a city, including but not by way of limitation, the right to promulgate rules and regulations, to levy and collect special assessments, rates, charges, service charges and connection fees, and to adopt and carry out the provisions of a comprehensive plan, and amendments thereto, for a system of improvements and to issue general obligation bonds or revenue bonds in the manner provided by law. The contract may provide for the transfer to a city of district facilities, property, rights and powers as provided in RCW 35.13A.030 and 35.13A.050, whether or not sixty percent of the area or assessed valuation of real estate lying within the district or districts is included within such city. The contract may provide that any party thereto may authorize, issue and sell revenue bonds to provide funds for new water or sewer improvements or to refund any water revenue, sewer revenue or combined water and sewer revenue bonds outstanding of any city, or district which is a party to such contract if such refunding is deemed necessary, providing such refunding will not increase interest costs. The contract may provide that any party thereto may authorize and issue, in the manner provided by law, general obligation or revenue bonds of like amounts, terms, conditions and covenants as the outstanding bonds of any other party to the contract, and such new bonds may be substituted or exchanged for such outstanding bonds: Provided, That no such exchange or substitution shall be effected in such a manner as to impair the obligation or security of any such outstanding bonds. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 7.]

35.13A.080 Dissolution of water district or sewer district. In any of the cases provided for in RCW 35.13A.020, 35.13A.030, and 35.13A.050, and notwithstanding any other method of dissolution provided by law, dissolution proceedings may be initiated by either the city or the district, or both, when the legislative body of the city and the governing body of the district agree to, and petition for, dissolution of the district.

The petition for dissolution shall be signed by the chief administrative officer of the city and the district, upon authorization of the legislative body of the city and the governing body of the district, respectively and such petition shall be presented to the superior court of the county in which the city is situated.

If the petition is thus authorized by both the city and district, and title to the property, facilities and equipment of the district has passed to the city pursuant to action taken under this chapter, all indebtedness and local improvement district or utility local improvement district assessments of the district have been discharged or assumed by and transferred to the city, and the petition contains a statement of the distribution of assets and liabilities mutually agreed upon by the city and the district and a copy of the agreement between such city and the district is attached thereto, a hearing shall not be required and the court shall, if the interests of all interested parties have been protected, enter an order dissolving the district.

In any of the cases provided for in RCW 35.13A.020 and 35.13A.030, if the petition for an order of dissolution is signed on behalf of the city alone or the district alone, or there is no mutual agreement on the distribution of assets and liabilities, the superior court shall enter an order fixing a hearing date not less than sixty days from the day the petition is filed, and the clerk of the court of the county shall give notice of such hearing by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the district once a week for three successive weeks and by posting in three public places in the district at least twenty-one days before the hearing. The notice shall set forth the filing of the petition, its purposes, and the date and place of hearing thereon.

After the hearing the court shall enter its order with respect to the dissolution of the district. If the court finds that such district should be dissolved and the functions performed by the city, the court shall provide for the transfer of assets and liabilities to the city. The court may provide for the dissolution of the district upon such conditions as the court may deem appropriate. A certified copy of the court order dissolving the district shall be filed with the county auditor. If the court does not dissolve the district, it shall state the reasons for declining to do so. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 8.]

35.13A.090 Employment and rights of district employees. Whenever a city acquires all of the facilities of a water district or sewer district, pursuant to this chapter, such a city shall offer to employ every full time employee of the district who is engaged in the operation of such a district's facilities on the date on which such city acquires the district facilities. When a city acquires any portion of the facilities of such a district, such a city shall offer to employ full time employees of the district as of the date of the acquisition of the facilities of the district who are not longer needed by the district.

Whenever a city employs a person who was employed immediately prior thereto by the district, arrangements shall be made:

(1) For the retention of service credits under the pension plan of the district pursuant to RCW 41.04.070 through 41.04.110.

(2) For the retention of all sick leave standing to the employee's credit in the plan of such district.

(3) For a vacation with pay during the first year of employment equivalent to that to which he would have been entitled if he had remained in the employment of the district. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 9.]

35.13A.900 Severability—1971 ex.s. c 95. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected. [1971 ex.s. c 95 § 12.]

(1) As to a service area comprising the territory within the boundaries of the least populous of two consolidated cities, the members of the city council or commission of the least populous of the two cities shall be the members of the original community council. If the voters within the service area have elected to continue the community municipal corporation in existence as provided for in RCW 35.14.060, the membership of any such subsequent council shall be the same in number as the original council and such subsequent members shall be elected to consecutively numbered positions at the continuation election from qualified electors residing within the service area.

Declarations of candidacy and withdrawals shall be in the same manner as is provided for members of the city council or other legislative body of the city to which annexation is proposed. Subsequent council membership shall be the same in number as the initial council and such members shall be elected to consecutively numbered positions at the continuation election pursuant to RCW 35.14.060 from qualified electors residing within the service area.

(4) Terms of original council members shall be coexistent with the original term of existence of the community municipal corporation and until their successors are elected and qualified. Whenever the comprehensive plan of the city, insofar as it affects the area of the community municipal corporation has been submitted as part of an annexation proposition and approved by the voters of the area proposed for annexation pursuant to *chapter 88, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session, such action shall have the same force and effect as approval by the community council of the comprehensive plan, zoning ordinance and subdivision ordinance. [1967 c 73 § 4.]

Reviser's note: Chapter 88, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session is codified as RCW 35.13.015, 35.13.020, 35.13.030, 35.13.080, 35.13.090, 35.13.100, 35.13.110, 35.13.125, 35.13.130, 35.13.160, 35.13.177 and 35.13.178.

35.14.060 Original term of existence of community municipal corporation—Continuation of existence—Procedure. The original terms of existence of any community municipal corporation shall be for at least four years and until the first Monday in January next following a regular municipal election held in the city.

Any such community municipal corporation may be continued thereafter for additional periods of four years' duration with the approval of the voters at an election held and conducted in the manner provided for in this section.

Authorization for a community municipal corporation to continue its term of existence for each additional period of four years may be initiated pursuant to a resolution or a petition in the following manner:

(1) A resolution praying for such continuation may be adopted by the community council and shall be filed not less than seven months prior to the end of the term of existence of such corporation with the city council or other legislative body of the city in which the service area is located.

(2) A petition for continuation shall be signed by at least ten percent of the registered voters residing within the service area and shall be filed not less than six months prior to the end of the term of existence of such corporation with the city council or other legislative body of the city in which the service area is located.

At the same election at which a proposition is submitted to the voters of the service area for the continuation of the community municipal corporation for an additional period of four years, the community council members of such municipal corporation shall be elected. The positions on such council shall be the same in number as the original or initial council and shall be numbered consecutively and elected at large. Declarations of candidacy and withdrawals shall be in the same manner as is provided for members of the city council or other legislative body of the city.

Upon receipt of a petition, the city clerk shall examine the signatures thereon and certify to the sufficiency thereof. No person may withdraw his name from a petition after it has been filed.

Upon receipt of a valid resolution or upon duly certifying a petition for continuation of a community municipal corporation, the city clerk with whom the resolution or petition was filed shall cause a proposition on continuation of the term of existence of the community municipal corporation to be placed on the ballot at the next city general election. No person shall be eligible to vote on such proposition at such election unless he is a qualified voter and resident of the service area.

The ballots shall contain the words "For continuation of community municipal corporation" and "Against continuation of community municipal corporation" or words equivalent thereto, and shall also contain the names of the candidates to be voted for to fill the positions on the community council. The names of all candidates to be voted upon shall be printed on the ballot alphabetically in groups under the numbered position on the council for which they are candidates.

If the results of the election as certified by the county canvassing board reveal that a majority of the votes cast are for continuation, the municipal corporation shall continue in existence for an additional period of four years, and certificates of election shall be issued to the successful candidates who shall assume office at the same time as members of the city council or other legislative body of the city. The city manager shall be responsible to the council for the proper administration of all affairs of the city or town. [1965 c 7 § 35.18.010. 35.18.020 Number of councilmen—Terms—Vacancies (as amended by 1979 c 151). The number of councilmen shall be in proportion to the population of the city or town indicated in its petition for incorporation and thereafter shall be in proportion to its population as last determined by the office of financial management as follows:

(1) A city or town having not more than two thousand inhabitants, five councilmen;

(2) A city having more than two thousand, seven councilmen.

All councilmen shall be elected at large or from such wards or districts as may be established by ordinance, and shall serve for a term of four years and until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided, however, That at the first election, the following shall apply:

(a) At the first election, one councilman shall be nominated and elected from each ward or such other existing district of said city as may have been established for the election of members of the legislative body of the city and the remaining councilmen shall be elected at large; but if there are no such wards or districts in the city, or at an initial election for the incorporation of a community, the councilmen shall be elected at large.

When a municipality has qualified for an increase in the number of councilmen from five to seven by virtue of the next succeeding office of financial management population determination after the majority of the voters thereof have approved operation under the council-manager plan, at the first election when two additional councilmen are to be elected, one of the two additional councilmen receiving the highest number of votes shall be elected for a four year term and the other additional councilman shall be elected for a two year term.

If a vacancy in the council occurs, the remaining members shall appoint a person to fill such office only until the next regular general municipal election at which a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term.

In the event such population determination as provided in this section requires an increase in the number of councilmen, the city or town council shall fill the additional councilmanic positions by appointment not later than thirty days following the release of said population determination, and the appointee shall hold office only until the next regular city or town election at which a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term: Provided, That should said population determination result in a decrease in the number of councilmen, said decrease shall not take effect until the next regular city or town election.
