RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4652, By Representative Morris

WHEREAS, The British Columbia and Washington State governments share a border, have common natural resources, and geographic similarities; and

WHEREAS, British Columbia and Washington State often work together to achieve our mutual goals; and

WHEREAS, British Columbia and Washington State both recognize the importance and value of civic education, and as part of that responsibility both sponsor nationally renowned legislative internship programs; and

WHEREAS, Washington State undergraduate interns spend their winter quarter or spring semester working in Olympia with staff and members of the Washington State House of Representatives or Senate; and

WHEREAS, In addition to their office work, Washington interns participate in weekly academic seminars and workshops learning about representative democracy in a bicameral legislature; and

WHEREAS, The British Columbia Legislative Internship Program offers an opportunity to university graduates to supplement their academic training by participating in the daily workings of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Both British Columbia and Washington interns acquire skills and knowledge they can apply in their chosen careers and future life experiences that will further contribute to a greater public understanding and appreciation of government; and

WHEREAS, For the third year the British Columbia and Washington State legislative interns have participated in an exchange program to explore and learn about each other's history and governmental processes; and

WHEREAS, We welcome the British Columbia legislative interns to the Washington State Legislature and commend them for their numerous academic contributions;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor the hard work and dedication of both Karen Aitken, the British Columbia Legislative Intern Program Director, and the British Columbia interns; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Karen Aitken and the 2005 British Columbia interns.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 2005-4663. By Representatives Kessler and Armstrong

WHEREAS, Democracy flourishes only when government is accountable to the people that it serves; and

WHEREAS, Civic participation in public affairs is the foundation of democracy; and

WHEREAS, Transparent democracy is fundamental to preserving freedom; and

WHEREAS, Washingtonians have the right to see their government at work; and

WHEREAS, Television plays an important role for education, sociocultural integration, and political awareness; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State House of Representatives encourages its citizens to take part in the state's legislative process; and

WHEREAS, Since April 10, 1995, TVW programming has provided the citizens of Washington state a window to democracy; and

WHEREAS, TVW broadcasts more than 70 hours a week of original programming during the legislative session and 40 hours a week otherwise, including coverage of state agencies, boards, commissions, councils, courts, and major events around the state; and

WHEREAS, More than 1.3 million Washington homes can access the broadcast of live legislative floor sessions directly in their living rooms and workplaces; and

WHEREAS, TVW also broadcasts its programming on the Internet; and

WHEREAS, TVW's mission is to show unfiltered, unedited, unbiased state government at work; and

WHEREAS, TVW is leading the trend of statewide public affairs networks, with states including Alaska, California, Connecticut, Florida, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Wisconsin following TVW's steps; and

WHEREAS, TVW is a state treasure that brings Washington's citizens into the political process, that is a powerful tool for education of Washington's youth, and that is an independent source of news and opinion; and

WHEREAS, TVW has made a tremendous contribution to the cause of democracy by making immediately available to the public a comprehensive, accurate, and unbiased exposition of the political process in this state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State House of Representatives commend TVW on the occasion of its tenth anniversary for the invaluable contribution it has made and continues to make toward informing and educating the people of Washington and thereby enhancing the quality of its government; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Board of Directors of TVW.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4405,
By Representatives Hudgins, Conway, Clibborn, Wallace,
Green, Appleton, Kenney, McCoy, Chase, Ormsby,
Campbell, Simpson, Hasegawa, Sells, Wood and Santos

Creating a task force to study offshore outsourcing.

The concurrent resolution was read the second time.

Representative Conway moved the adoption of the following amendment (426):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing of public and private sector jobs has created concern about job loss in Washington; and

WHEREAS, Some contracts entered into by state agencies are being performed, in whole or in part, outside the United States; and

WHEREAS, The legislature is concerned that these state contracts are being entered into with little, if any, legislative oversight; and

WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing of private sector jobs is creating concern about unemployment in our state and demands on our public services; and

WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing of public and private sector work may be eroding job opportunities and continuing to affect Washington families and communities already suffering from high unemployment and a jobless recovery; and

WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing may put at risk the privacy of medical records, financial data, and other personal information of Washington citizens; and

WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing may impact state and local tax revenues needed to provide for the basic education, as well as to protect the public health and safety, of Washington citizens; and

WHEREAS, Offshore outsourcing may result in transfers of knowledge and core functions that curb entrepreneurial activities and limit technological innovation essential to the future economic success of Washington businesses; and

WHEREAS, The legislature invests significant public resources in work force training and retraining, and wants to ensure that students and workers who benefit from these investments have opportunities to climb career ladders from entry-level jobs to family-wage jobs, and to enjoy the prosperity that is the American dream; and

WHEREAS, The legislature has also invested significant public resources in business development, recruitment, and retention, and wants to ensure that corporations that benefit from these investments are accountable to the legislature and the citizens of Washington state; and

WHEREAS, The legislature is concerned about and wants to examine the potential consequences of offshore outsourcing;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the House of Representatives of the state of Washington, the Senate concurring, That a study of offshore outsourcing be conducted to evaluate the following issues:

The degree to which state contracts, and any subcontracts awarded under such contracts, are being performed at locations outside the United States;

The extent to which the following are adequate to protect legislative authority over state procurement: The process for making and extending the state's commitments under the agreement on government procurement of the world trade organization and other international trade agreements; and the exceptions in the agreement on government procurement of the world trade organization and other international trade agreements;

The applicability of international trade agreements to state procurement policies;

The compliance of signatories to such agreements with international and state child labor, environmental protection, human rights, and labor standards;

The effects of such agreements on domestic preferences adopted by signatories to such agreements;

The cost to the state of retraining workers who are separated from employment because their positions were outsourced to locations outside the United States, and issues relative to their eligibility for training benefits under RCW 50.22.150;

The extent to which state contracts performed at locations outside the United States involve solicitation or disclosure of personal information; and

The relationship between state labor market conditions, including unemployment rate and implications for trade-dependent industries, and offshore outsourcing decisions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the following issues shall be examined, subject to available funding:

The economic benefit of awarding personal services, purchased services, civil service, and public works contracts to Washington companies, including: The number of total employment positions; the number of full-time, part-time, and temporary employment positions as a percent of total employment; the number of employment positions earning less than twenty thousand dollars, between twenty thousand dollars and thirty thousand dollars, between thirty thousand dollars and forty thousand dollars, between forty thousand dollars and fifty thousand dollars, between fifty thousand dollars and sixty thousand dollars, and more than sixty thousand dollars; and the number of employment positions that have employer-provided medical, dental, and retirement benefits, by each of the wage bands; and

The economic impacts of performing work under personal services, purchased services, civil service, and public works contracts in Washington, including: The multiplier effect on state and local tax revenues; and the multiplier effect on state and local employment levels; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the study be conducted by a joint task force of the House of Representatives and the Senate consisting of the following: Four representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, four representatives to be appointed by the minority leader of the House of Representatives, four senators to be appointed by the majority leader of the Senate, and four senators to be appointed by the minority leader of the Senate; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the joint task force, in conjunction with the private sector, consult with and be advised and monitored by an advisory committee consisting of ten members: Three members representing labor, appointed jointly by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, from a list of names recommended by a statewide organization representing a cross-section and majority of organized labor in the state; three members representing business, one of whom shall represent small business, appointed jointly by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, from a list of names recommended by a statewide organization of employers representing a majority of employers of the state; one member representing the office of the Washington state trade representative; one member representing an international human rights organization; one member representing an international environmental protection organization; and one member representing the public; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the findings and recommendations of the joint task force shall be reported to the house of representatives committees on commerce and labor, state government, operations and accountability, technology, energy and communications, economic development, agriculture and trade, and the senate committees on labor, commerce, research and development, international trade and economic development, and government operations and elections, or their successor committees, by December 1, 2005."

Representative Conway moved the adoption of amendment (432) to amendment (426):

On page 3, line 15, after "bands;" strike "and"

On page 3, after line 20, insert the following:

"The economic benefits of decisions by businesses based in other countries and other states to locate research, development, production, and other facilities in Washington; and"

Representatives Conway and Sump spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

The amendment as amended was adopted. The concurrent resolution was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the concurrent resolution was placed on final passage.
