APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE WORKPLAN

Update on Drought and Wildfires

The Appropriations Committee (Committee) will get an update on the drought and wildfire situations after what is predicted to be a warmer and drier summer in Washington State. The Governor declared a drought emergency in April for three eastern Washington basins and has since significantly expanded the declaration. There is funding in the operating budget for drought response and for wildfire prevention and response. (One work session)

Summary and Update Regarding the Medicaid 1115 Transformation Waiver

The Committee will receive a summary and update regarding the Medicaid 1115 Transformation Waiver. In 2017 Washington State and the federal government finalized an agreement for a five-year Medicaid transformation project to improve the state's health care systems and control costs. That agreement (1115 waiver) provided significant additional federal funding but required that the state demonstrate overall cost neutrality. This item will update the Committee on: (1) the status on implementing the three initiatives included as part of the 1115 waiver; and (2) conversations with the federal government about cost neutrality and potential fiscal impacts to the state if neutrality is not achieved. (One work session)

Update on Implementation of E2SHB 2158

The Committee will receive an update on the implementation of E2SHB 2158 (workforce education investment). The bill imposes a business and occupation surcharge on income from activities of select businesses. The additional revenue is deposited in the new Workforce Education Investment Account, and appropriations are made from this account for a variety of higher education purposes including: (1) the Washington College Grant (which replaced and expands the State Need Grant); (2) foundational support for public higher education students; (3) nurse educator salaries and high-demand program faculty salaries at community and technical colleges; (4) the Washington State University medical school; (5) guided pathways; and (6) career connected learning initiatives. (One work session)

Foster Care Placements

The Committee will receive an update on the Department of Children, Youth and Families' (DCYF) progress in placing children in appropriate in-state settings, rather than in hotels or out-of-state settings, and hear from the DCYF on where the DCYF still sees gaps in the foster care placement continuum. (One work session)

K-12 Special Education Funding

The Committee will hear an overview of interest arbitration procedures, including how and when an impasse is declared to trigger interest arbitration, the role of the Public Employment Relations Commission, and the role of the Legislature in the process. (One work session)

Arbitration agreements are sometimes used as a condition of employment or for the receipt of certain employment benefits. Under such an arbitration agreement, an employee may waive their right to submit future disputes to a court.

The Committee will examine workplace transitions and issues related to automation, such as business adaptations and partnerships to support a skilled workforce. (One work session)

Update on Workers' Compensation Issues

As part of the 2011 workers' compensation reform, injured workers are required to seek care from a provider who is part of a medical provider network. The Department of Labor and Industries (Department) launched its statewide network of providers in January 2013. In addition, the Department's Office of the Medical Director, in collaboration with physicians and medical advisors, create medical treatment guidelines (also called Medical Practice Guidelines or Review Criteria), which are used in workers' compensation claim management. The Department generally evaluates the medical treatment guidelines and criteria at least every three years.

The Committee will hear an update from the Department on medical treatment guidelines and criteria, the process for determining and prioritizing guidelines, and the process for appealing the guidelines and criteria. The Committee will also get an update on the medical provider network, the process for selecting providers, and potential gaps in the network.

In addition, the Committee will examine issues related to: (1) the disclosure of an injured worker's mental health records in claims related to post traumatic stress disorder; (2) the death of injured workers whose claims have been denied or whose claims were being investigated or appealed at the time of death; and (3) the services the Department provides to injured workers living outside the country and issues related to out-of-country claimants. (One work session)

Preparation of the Workforce for Retirement

In 2017 the Department of Commerce (Commerce) provided a report to the Legislature regarding the retirement preparedness of Washington residents. The Department is amending its overtime rules, including rules regarding exemptions for EAP employees. The Department is considering increasing the salary threshold that makes EAP employees exempt, and the rule would take effect January 1, 2020.
