(5)(a) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(i) Prior offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently or prior juvenile offenses for which sentences were served consecutively, whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses using the "same criminal conduct" analysis found in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used. The current sentencing court may presume that such other prior offenses were not the same criminal conduct from sentences imposed on separate dates, or in separate counties or jurisdictions, or in separate complaints, indictments, or informations;

(ii) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(b) As used in this subsection (5), "served concurrently" means that: (i) The latter sentence was imposed with specific reference to the former; (ii) the concurrent relationship of the sentences was judicially imposed; and (iii) the concurrent timing of the sentences was not the result of a probation or parole revocation on the former offense.

(6) If the present conviction is one of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for a completed offense.

(7) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (11) or (12) of this section, count one point for each adult prior felony conviction and one point for each juvenile prior violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior nonviolent felony conviction.

(8) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsection (9), (10), (11), or (12) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) If the present conviction is for Murder 1 or 2, Assault 1, Assault of a Child 1, Kidnapping 1, Homicide by Abuse, or Rape 1, count three points for prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in these categories, two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(10) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection (8) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(11) If the present conviction is for a felony traffic offense count two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault; for each felony offense or serious traffic offense, count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction.

(12) If the present conviction is for a drug offense count three points for each adult prior felony drug offense conviction and two points for each juvenile drug offense. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (8) of this section if the current drug offense is violent, or as in subsection (7) of this section if the current drug offense is nonviolent.

(13) If the present conviction is for Willful Failure to Return from Furlough, RCW 72.66.060, Willful Failure to Return from Work Release, RCW 72.65.070, or Escape from Community Custody, RCW 72.09.310, count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(14) If the present conviction is for Escape 1, RCW 9A.76.110, or Escape 2, RCW 9A.76.120, count adult prior convictions as one point and juvenile prior convictions as 1/2 point.

(15) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2 or residential burglary, count priors as in subsection (7) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(16) If the present conviction is for a sex offense, count priors as in subsections (7) through (15) of this section; however count three points for each adult and juvenile prior sex offense conviction.

(17) If the present conviction is for an offense committed while the offender was under community placement, add one point.

(18) If the present conviction is for a felony domestic violence offense as defined in RCW 10.99.020, with respect to misdemeanor domestic violence offenses, count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction.

Sec. 23. RCW 9.94A.120 and 1997 c 340 s 2, 1997 c 338 s 4, 1997 c 144 s 2, 1997 c 121 s 2, and 1997 c 69 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

When a person is convicted of a felony, the court shall impose punishment as provided in this section.

(1) Except as authorized in subsections (2), (4), (5), (6), and (8) of this section, the court shall impose a sentence within the sentence range for the offense.

(2) The court may impose a sentence outside the standard sentence range for that offense if it finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(3) Whenever a sentence outside the standard range is imposed, the court shall set forth the reasons for its decision in written findings of fact and conclusions of law. A sentence outside the standard range shall be a determinate sentence.

(4) A persistent offender shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement for life without the possibility of parole or, when authorized by RCW 10.95.030 for the crime of aggravated murder in the first degree, sentenced to death, notwithstanding the maximum sentence under any other law. An offender convicted of the crime of murder in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than twenty years. An offender convicted of the crime of assault in the first degree or assault of a child in the first degree where the offender used force or means likely to result in death or intended to kill the victim shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. An offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree shall be sentenced to a term of total confinement not less than five years. The foregoing minimum terms of total confinement are mandatory and shall not be varied or modified as provided in subsection (2) of this section. In addition, all offenders subject to the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for community custody, earned early release time, furlough, home detention, partial confinement, work crew, work release, or any other form of early release as defined under RCW 9.94A.150 (1), (2), (3), (5), (7), or (8), or any other form of authorized leave of absence from the correctional facility while not in the direct custody of a corrections officer or officers during such minimum terms of total confinement except in the case of an offender in need of emergency medical treatment or for the purpose of commitment to an inpatient treatment facility in the case of an offender convicted of the crime of rape in the first degree.

(5) In sentencing a first-time offender the court may waive the imposition of a sentence within the sentence range and impose a sentence which may include up to ninety days of confinement in a facility operated or utilized under contract by the county and a requirement that the offender refrain from committing new offenses. The sentence may also include up to two years of community supervision, which, in addition to crime-related prohibitions, may include requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (a) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (b) Undergo available outpatient treatment for up to two years, or inpatient treatment not to exceed the standard range of confinement for that offense;
- (c) Pursue a prescribed, secular course of study or vocational training;
- (d) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (e) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer; or
- (f) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030 and/or perform community service work.

(6)(a) An offender is eligible for the special drug offender sentencing alternative if:

(i) The offender is convicted of the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture or deliver a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II that is a narcotic drug or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW or RCW 69.50.407, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes, and the violation does not involve a sentence enhancement under RCW 9.94A.310 (3) or (4);

(ii) The offender has no prior convictions for a felony in this state, another state, or the United States; and

(iii) The offense involved only a small quantity of the particular controlled substance as determined by the judge upon consideration of such factors as the weight, purity, packaging, sale price, and street value of the controlled substance.

(b) If the midpoint of the standard range is greater than one year and the sentencing judge determines that the offender is eligible for this option and that the offender and the community will benefit from the use of the special drug offender sentencing alternative, the judge may waive imposition of a sentence within the standard range and impose a sentence that must include a period of total confinement in a state facility for one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. During incarceration in the state facility, offenders sentenced under this subsection shall undergo a comprehensive substance abuse assessment and receive, within available resources, treatment services appropriate for the offender. The treatment services shall be designed by the division of alcohol and substance abuse of the department of social and health services, in cooperation with the department of corrections. If the midpoint of the standard range is twenty-four months or less, no more than three months of the sentence may be served in a work release status. The court shall also impose one year of concurrent community custody and community supervision that must include appropriate outpatient substance abuse treatment, crime-related prohibitions including a condition not to use illegal controlled substances, and a requirement to submit to urinalysis or other testing to monitor that status. The court may require that the monitoring for controlled substances be conducted by the department or by a treatment alternatives to street crime program or a comparable court or agency-referred program. The offender may be required to pay thirty dollars per month while on community custody to offset the cost of monitoring. In addition, the court shall impose three or more of the following conditions:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or training;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer before any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations;
- (v) Perform community service work;
- (vi) Stay out of areas designated by the sentencing judge.

(c) If the offender violates any of the sentence conditions in (b) of this subsection, the department shall impose sanctions administratively, with notice to the prosecuting attorney and the sentencing court. Upon motion of the court or the prosecuting attorney, a violation hearing shall be held by the court. If the court finds that conditions have been willfully violated, the court may impose confinement consisting of up to the remaining one-half of the midpoint of the standard range. All total confinement served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender, regardless of whether the total confinement is served as a result of the original sentence, as a result of a sanction imposed by the department, or as a result of a violation found by the court. The term of community supervision shall be tolled by any period of time served in total confinement as a result of a violation found by the court.

(d) The department shall determine the rules for calculating the value of a day fine based on the offender's income and reasonable obligations which the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents. These rules shall be developed in consultation with the administrator for the courts, the office of financial management, and the commission.

(7) If a sentence range has not been established for the defendant's crime, the court shall impose a determinate sentence which may include not more than one year of confinement, community service work, a term of community supervision not to exceed one year, and/or other legal financial obligations. The court may impose a sentence which provides more than one year of confinement if the court finds, considering the purpose of this chapter, that there are substantial and compelling reasons justifying an exceptional sentence.

(8)(a)(i) When an offender is convicted of a sex offense other than a violation of RCW 9A.44.050 or a sex offense that is also a serious violent offense and has no prior convictions for a sex offense or any other felony sex offenses in this or any other state, the sentencing court, on its own motion or the motion of the state or the defendant, may order an examination to determine whether the defendant is amenable to treatment.

The report of the examination shall include at a minimum the following: The defendant's version of the facts and the official version of the facts, the defendant's offense history, an assessment of problems in addition to alleged deviant behaviors, the offender's social and employment situation, and other evaluation measures used. The report shall set forth the sources of the evaluator's information.

The examiner shall assess and report regarding the defendant's amenability to treatment and relative risk to the community. A proposed treatment plan shall be provided and shall include, at a minimum:

- (A) Frequency and type of contact between offender and therapist;
- (B) Specific issues to be addressed in the treatment and description of planned treatment modalities;
- (C) Monitoring plans, including any requirements regarding living conditions, lifestyle requirements, and monitoring by family members and others;
- (D) Anticipated length of treatment; and
- (E) Recommended crime-related prohibitions.

The court on its own motion may order, or on a motion by the state shall order, a second examination regarding the offender's amenability to treatment. The evaluator shall be selected by the party making the motion. The defendant shall pay the cost of any second examination ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost.

(ii) After receipt of the reports, the court shall consider whether the offender and the community will benefit from use of this special sex offender sentencing alternative and consider the victim's opinion whether the offender should receive a treatment disposition under this subsection. If the court determines that this special sex offender sentencing alternative is appropriate, the court shall then impose a sentence within the sentence range. If this sentence is less than eleven years of confinement, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and impose the following conditions of suspension:

(A) The court shall place the defendant on community custody for the length of the suspended sentence or three years, whichever is greater, and require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section;

(B) The court shall order treatment for any period up to three years in duration. The court in its discretion shall order outpatient sex offender treatment or inpatient sex offender treatment, if available. A community mental health center may not be used for such treatment unless it has an appropriate program designed for sex offender treatment. The offender shall not change sex offender treatment providers or treatment conditions without first notifying the prosecutor, the community corrections officer, and the court, and shall not change providers without court approval after a hearing if the prosecutor or community corrections officer object to the change. In addition, as conditions of the suspended sentence, the court may impose other sentence conditions including up to six months of confinement, not to exceed the sentence range of confinement for that offense, crime-related prohibitions, and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (I) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (II) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (III) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (IV) Pay all court-ordered legal financial obligations as provided in RCW 9.94A.030, perform community service work, or any combination thereof; or
- (V) Make recoupment to the victim for the cost of any counseling required as a result of the offender's crime; and

(C) Sex offenders sentenced under this special sex offender sentencing alternative are not eligible to accrue any earned early release time while serving a suspended sentence.

(iii) The sex offender therapist shall submit quarterly reports on the defendant's progress in treatment to the court and the parties. The report shall reference the treatment plan and include at a minimum the following: Dates of attendance, defendant's compliance with requirements, treatment activities, the defendant's relative progress in treatment, and any other material as specified by the court at sentencing.

(iv) At the time of sentencing, the court shall set a treatment termination hearing for three months prior to the anticipated date for completion of treatment. Prior to the treatment termination hearing, the treatment professional and community corrections officer shall submit written reports to the court and parties regarding the defendant's compliance with treatment and monitoring requirements, and recommendations regarding termination from treatment, including proposed community supervision conditions. Either party may request and the court may order another evaluation regarding the advisability of termination from treatment. The defendant shall pay the cost of any additional evaluation ordered unless the court finds the defendant to be indigent in which case the state shall pay the cost. At the treatment termination hearing the court may: (A) Modify conditions of community custody, and either (B) terminate treatment, or (C) extend treatment for up to the remaining period of community custody.

(v) If a violation of conditions occurs during community custody, the department shall either impose sanctions as provided for in RCW 9.94A.205(2)(a) or refer the violation to the court and recommend revocation of the suspended sentence as provided for in (a)(vi) of this subsection.

(vi) The court may revoke the suspended sentence at any time during the period of community custody and order execution of the sentence if: (A) The defendant violates the conditions of the suspended sentence, or (B) the court finds that the defendant is failing to make satisfactory progress in treatment. All confinement time served during the period of community custody shall be credited to the offender if the suspended sentence is revoked.

(vii) Except as provided in (a)(viii) of this subsection, after July 1, 1991, examinations and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall only be conducted by sex offender treatment providers certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW.

(viii) A sex offender therapist who examines or treats a sex offender pursuant to this subsection (8) does not have to be certified by the department of health pursuant to chapter 18.155 RCW if the court finds that: (A) The offender has already moved to another state or plans to move to another state for reasons other than circumventing the certification requirements; (B) no certified providers are available for treatment within a reasonable geographical distance of the offender's home; and (C) the evaluation and treatment plan comply with this subsection (8) and the rules adopted by the department of health.

(ix) For purposes of this subsection (8), "victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a result of the crime charged. "Victim" also means a parent or guardian of a victim who is a minor child unless the parent or guardian is the perpetrator of the offense.

(x) If the defendant was less than eighteen years of age when the charge was filed, the state shall pay for the cost of initial evaluation and treatment.

(b) When an offender commits any felony sex offense on or after July 1, 1987, and is sentenced to a term of confinement of more than one year but less than six years, the sentencing court may, on its own motion or on the motion of the offender or the state, request the department of corrections to evaluate whether the offender is amenable to treatment and the department may place the offender in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department.

Except for an offender who has been convicted of a violation of RCW 9A.44.040 or 9A.44.050, if the offender completes the treatment program before the expiration of his or her term of confinement, the department of corrections may request the court to convert the balance of confinement to community supervision and to place conditions on the offender including crime-related prohibitions and requirements that the offender perform any one or more of the following:

- (i) Devote time to a specific employment or occupation;
- (ii) Remain within prescribed geographical boundaries and notify the court or the community corrections officer prior to any change in the offender's address or employment;
- (iii) Report as directed to the court and a community corrections officer;
- (iv) Undergo available outpatient treatment.

If the offender violates any of the terms of his or her community supervision, the court may order the offender to serve out the balance of his or her community supervision term in confinement in the custody of the department of corrections.

Nothing in this subsection (8)(b) shall confer eligibility for such programs for offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987. This subsection (8)(b) does not apply to any crime committed after July 1, 1990.

(c) Offenders convicted and sentenced for a sex offense committed prior to July 1, 1987, may, subject to available funds, request an evaluation by the department of corrections to determine whether they are amenable to treatment. If the offender is determined to be amenable to treatment, the offender may request placement in a treatment program within a correctional facility operated by the department. Placement in such treatment program is subject to available funds.

(9)(a) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense or a serious violent offense committed after July 1, 1988, but before July 1, 1990, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, any crime against a person where it is determined in accordance with RCW 9.94A.125 that the defendant or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon at the time of commission, any felony domestic violence offense as defined in RCW 10.99.020, or any felony offense under chapter 69.50 or 69.52 RCW not sentenced under subsection (6) of this section, committed on or after July 1, 1988, the court shall in addition to the other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to a one-year term of community placement beginning either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of such community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence.

(b) When a court sentences a person to a term of total confinement to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after July 1, 1990, but before June 6, 1996, a serious violent offense, vehicular homicide, or vehicular assault, committed on or after July 1, 1990, the court shall in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community placement for two years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community placement shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). When the court sentences an offender under this subsection to the statutory maximum period of confinement then the community placement portion of the sentence shall consist entirely of the community custody to which the offender may become eligible, in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2). Any period of community custody actually served shall be credited against the community placement portion of the sentence. Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community placement for offenders sentenced pursuant to this section shall include the following conditions:

- (i) The offender shall report to and be available for contact with the assigned community corrections officer as directed;
- (ii) The offender shall work at department of corrections-approved education, employment, and/or community service;
- (iii) The offender shall not possess or consume controlled substances except pursuant to lawfully issued prescriptions;
- (iv) The offender shall pay supervision fees as determined by the department of corrections;

(v) The residence location and living arrangements are subject to the prior approval of the department of corrections during the period of community placement; and

(vi) The offender shall submit to affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the orders of the court as required by the department.

(c) As a part of any sentence imposed under (a) or (b) of this subsection, the court may also order any of the following special conditions:

(i) The offender shall remain within, or outside of, a specified geographical boundary;

(ii) The offender shall not have direct or indirect contact with the victim of the crime or a specified class of individuals;

(iii) The offender shall participate in crime-related treatment or counseling services;

(iv) The offender shall not consume alcohol;

(v) The offender shall comply with any crime-related prohibitions; or

(vi) For an offender convicted of a felony sex offense against a minor victim after June 6, 1996, the offender shall comply with any terms and conditions of community placement imposed by the department of corrections relating to contact between the sex offender and a minor victim or a child of similar age or circumstance as a previous victim.

(d) Prior to transfer to, or during, community placement, any conditions of community placement may be removed or modified so as not to be more restrictive by the sentencing court, upon recommendation of the department of corrections.

(10)(a) When a court sentences a person to the custody of the department of corrections for an offense categorized as a sex offense committed on or after June 6, 1996, the court shall, in addition to other terms of the sentence, sentence the offender to community custody for three years or up to the period of earned early release awarded pursuant to RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2), whichever is longer. The community custody shall begin either upon completion of the term of confinement or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release in accordance with RCW 9.94A.150 (1) and (2).

(b) Unless a condition is waived by the court, the terms of community custody shall be the same as those provided for in subsection (9)(b) of this section and may include those provided for in subsection (9)(c) of this section. As part of any sentence that includes a term of community custody imposed under this subsection, the court shall also require the offender to comply with any conditions imposed by the department of corrections under subsection (14) of this section.

(c) At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender's term of community custody, if the court finds that public safety would be enhanced, the court may impose and enforce an order extending any or all of the conditions imposed pursuant to this section for a period up to the maximum allowable sentence for the crime as it is classified in chapter 9A.20 RCW, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community custody. If a violation of a condition extended under this subsection occurs after the expiration of the offender's term of community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of the sentence for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.195 and may be punishable as contempt of court as provided for in RCW 7.21.040.

(11) If the court imposes a sentence requiring confinement of thirty days or less, the court may, in its discretion, specify that the sentence be served on consecutive or intermittent days. A sentence requiring more than thirty days of confinement shall be served on consecutive days. Local jail administrators may schedule court-ordered intermittent sentences as space permits.

(12) If a sentence imposed includes payment of a legal financial obligation, the sentence shall specify the total amount of the legal financial obligation owed, and shall require the offender to pay a specified monthly sum toward that legal financial obligation. Restitution to victims shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations. Any legal financial obligation that is imposed by the court may be collected by the department, which shall deliver the amount paid to the county clerk for credit. The offender's compliance with payment of legal financial obligations shall be supervised by the department for ten years following the entry of the judgment and sentence or ten years following the offender's release from total confinement. All monetary payments ordered shall be paid no later than ten years after the last date of release from confinement pursuant to a felony conviction or the date the sentence was entered unless the superior court extends the criminal judgment an additional ten years. If the legal financial obligations including crime victims' assessments are not paid during the initial ten-year period, the superior court may extend jurisdiction under the criminal judgment an additional ten years as provided in RCW 9.94A.140, 9.94A.142, and 9.94A.145. If jurisdiction under the criminal judgment is extended, the department is not responsible for supervision of the offender during the subsequent period. Independent of the department, the party or entity to whom the legal financial obligation is owed shall have the authority to utilize any other remedies available to the party or entity to collect the legal financial obligation. Nothing in this section makes the department, the state, or any of its employees, agents, or other persons acting on their behalf liable under any circumstances for the payment of these legal financial obligations. If an order includes restitution as one of the monetary assessments, the county clerk shall make disbursements to victims named in the order.

(13) Except as provided under RCW 9.94A.140(1) and 9.94A.142(1), a court may not impose a sentence providing for a term of confinement or community supervision or community placement which exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime as provided in chapter 9A.20 RCW.

(14) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, community placement, or legal financial obligation shall be under the supervision of the department of corrections and shall follow explicitly the instructions and conditions of the department of corrections. The department may require an offender to perform affirmative acts it deems appropriate to monitor compliance with the conditions of the sentence imposed.

(a) The instructions shall include, at a minimum, reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, notifying the community corrections officer of any change in the offender's address or employment, and paying the supervision fee assessment.

(b) For offenders sentenced to terms involving community custody for crimes committed on or after June 6, 1996, the department may include, in addition to the instructions in (a) of this subsection, any appropriate conditions of supervision, including but not limited to, prohibiting the offender from having contact with any other specified individuals or specific class of individuals. The conditions authorized under this subsection (14)(b) may be imposed by the department prior to or during an offender's community custody term. If a violation of conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section occurs during community custody, it shall be deemed a violation of community placement for the purposes of RCW 9.94A.207 and shall authorize the department to transfer an offender to a more restrictive confinement status as provided in RCW 9.94A.205. At any time prior to the completion of a sex offender's term of community custody, the department may recommend to the court that any or all of the conditions imposed by the court or the department pursuant to subsection (10) of this section be continued beyond the expiration of the offender's term of community custody as authorized in subsection (10)(c) of this section.

The department may require offenders to pay for special services rendered on or after July 25, 1993, including electronic monitoring, day reporting, and telephone reporting, dependent upon the offender's ability to pay. The department may pay for these services for offenders who are not able to pay.

(15) All offenders sentenced to terms involving community supervision, community service, or community placement under the supervision of the department of corrections shall not own, use, or possess firearms or ammunition. Offenders who own, use, or are found to be in actual or constructive possession of firearms or ammunition shall be subject to the appropriate violation process and sanctions. "Constructive possession" as used in this subsection means the power and intent to control the firearm or ammunition. "Firearm" as used in this subsection means a weapon or device from which a projectile may be fired by an explosive such as gunpowder.

(16) The sentencing court shall give the offender credit for all confinement time served before the sentencing if that confinement was solely in regard to the offense for which the offender is being sentenced.

(17) A departure from the standards in RCW 9.94A.400 (1) and (2) governing whether sentences are to be served consecutively or concurrently is an exceptional sentence subject to the limitations in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, and may be appealed by the defendant or the state as set forth in RCW 9.94A.210 (2) through (6).

(18) The court shall order restitution whenever the offender is convicted of a felony that results in injury to any person or damage to or loss of property, whether the offender is sentenced to confinement or placed under community supervision, unless extraordinary circumstances exist that make restitution inappropriate in the court's judgment. The court shall set forth the extraordinary circumstances in the record if it does not order restitution.

(19) As a part of any sentence, the court may impose and enforce an order that relates directly to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, prohibiting the offender from having any contact with other specified individuals or a specific class of individuals for a period not to exceed the maximum allowable sentence for the crime, regardless of the expiration of the offender's term of community supervision or community placement.

(20) In any sentence of partial confinement, the court may require the defendant to serve the partial confinement in work release, in a program of home detention, on work crew, or in a combined program of work crew and home detention.

(21) All court-ordered legal financial obligations collected by the department and remitted to the county clerk shall be credited and paid where restitution is ordered. Restitution shall be paid prior to any other payments of monetary obligations."

Correct the title.

Representatives Sterk and Costa spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Representatives Sheahan and Costa spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment to amended.

The amendment (915) as amended was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative Sheahan spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2756.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2756 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 96, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Reams, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 96.

Excused: Representatives Buck and Radcliff - 2.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2756, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2897, by Representatives Reams, Grant, Schoesler, Sheahan, Doumit, Pennington, Hatfield, Mulliken, Sherstad, Thompson, Cairnes, Sullivan, Benson, Koster, McMorris, Bush, Dunn, Mielke, Crouse, Chandler and Zellinsky

Exempting certain activities from the state environmental policy act.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative McMorris moved the adoption of amendment (957):

On page 2, after line 7, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 43.21C to read as follows:

Decisions pertaining to preparation and adoption of watershed plans addressing water quality developed by counties or conservation districts outside the Puget Sound area are not subject to the requirements of this chapter if the requirements of subsections 1 and 2 of this section are satisfied.

(1) The plan must be developed by a watershed management committee and its advisory committees which include representatives from:

(a) Cities and counties with territory in the planning area;

(b) Federal Indian reservations located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the planning area;

(c) Special purpose districts within the boundaries of the planning area;

(d) Interest groups representing the major interests in the planning area;

(e) Landowners within the planning area; and

(f) State and federal agencies with jurisdiction over the subject matter of the components of the watershed plan.

(2) Upon completion of the proposed watershed plan, at least one public hearing in the planning area must be held."

Correct the title

Representative McMorris spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative Reams spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Representatives Romero and Gardner spoke against passage of the bill.

Representative Reams again spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2897.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 2897 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 59, Nays - 37, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Bush, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Clements, Cooke, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Doumit, Dunn, Dyer, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lisk, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Mulliken, Parlette, Pennington, Quall, Reams, Robertson, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sterk, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, L., Thompson, Van Luven, Wensman, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 59.

Voting nay: Representatives Anderson, Appelwick, Butler, Chopp, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooper, Costa, Dickerson, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Lantz, Linville, Mason, Morris, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Poulsen, Regala, Romero, Scott, Sommers, H., Sullivan, Thomas, B., Tokuda, Veloria, Wolfe and Wood - 37.

Excused: Representatives Buck and Radcliff - 2.

Engrossed House Bill No. 2897, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2898, by Representatives Sherstad, O'Brien, Schoesler, Sheahan, Hatfield, Pennington, Grant, McMorris, Mulliken, Reams, Cairnes, Thompson, Benson, Koster, Dunn, Bush, Alexander and Mielke

Prescribing procedures for review and evaluation programs regarding buildable lands.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2898 was substituted for House Bill No. 2898 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2898 was read the second time.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Sherstad, O'Brien and Reams spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Representatives Romero and Lantz spoke against passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 2898.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 2898 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 60, Nays - 36, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Bush, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Clements, Cooke, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Koster, Lambert, Lisk, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Mulliken, O'Brien, Parlette, Pennington, Quall, Reams, Robertson, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, L., Thompson, Van Luven, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 60.

Voting nay: Representatives Anderson, Appelwick, Butler, Chopp, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooper, Costa, Dickerson, Doumit, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Lantz, Linville, Mason, Morris, Murray, Ogden, Poulsen, Regala, Romero, Scott, Sommers, H., Thomas, B., Tokuda, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe and Wood - 36.

Excused: Representatives Buck and Radcliff - 2.

Substitute House Bill No. 2898, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2900, by Representatives Cooke, Ballasiotes, McDonald, Boldt and Mitchell

Providing for pro rata calculation of temporary assistance for needy families grants.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2900 was substituted for House Bill No. 2900 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2900 was read the second time.

Representative Cooke moved the adoption of amendment (953):

After the enacting clause strike everything and insert the following:

"(1) The department shall study and report on the feasibility of adopting a pro rata calculation for grant amounts. The study shall include but not be limited to the following: (a) The benefits and difficulties regarding implementation; (b) the fiscal impact; (c) appropriate good cause exceptions; (d) methods and rules for preventing abuse of the exceptions; (e) recommendations on alternative calculation systems.

(2) The department shall report its findings to the children and family services committee of house of representatives and to the human services and corrections committee of the senate by November 30, 1998.

(3) For the purpose of this section "pro rata" shall refer to a benefit calculation system in which a recipient's grant amount for any month reflects the recipient's participation in any required work activity, including a reduction in the grant amount for the number of work units or work activity units required by the department under P.L. 104-193 and this chapter that the recipient fails to perform.

(4) This section expires December 31, 1998."

Correct the title.

Representatives Cooke and Tokuda spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative Cooke spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2900.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2900 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 95, Nays - 1, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Reams, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 95.

Voting nay: Representative Cole - 1.

Excused: Representatives Buck and Radcliff - 2.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2900, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2915, by Representatives Koster, Chandler, Honeyford and Linville

Regulating dairy nutrients.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Second Substitute House Bill No. 2915 was substituted for House Bill No. 2915 and the second substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Second Substitute House Bill No. 2915 was read the second time.

Representative Koster moved the adoption of amendment (958):

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.64.005 and 1993 c 221 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that there is a need to establish a clear and understandable process that provides for the proper and effective management of dairy (~~waste~~) nutrients that affect(~~(s)~~) the quality of surface or ground waters in the state of Washington. The legislature finds that there is a need for a program that will provide a stable and predictable business climate upon which dairy farms may base future investment decisions.

The legislature finds that federal regulations require a permit program for dairies (~~(with)~~) with over seven hundred head of mature cows and, other specified dairy farms that directly discharge into waters or are otherwise significant contributors of pollution. The legislature finds that significant work has been ongoing over a period of time and that the intent of this chapter is to take the consensus that has been developed and place it into statutory form.

It is also the intent of this chapter to establish an inspection and technical assistance program for dairy farms to address the discharge of pollution to surface and ground waters of the state that will lead to water quality compliance by the industry. A further purpose is to create a balanced program involving technical assistance, regulation, and enforcement with coordination and oversight of the program by a committee composed of industry, agency, and other representatives. Furthermore, it is the objective of this chapter to maintain the administration of the water quality program as it relates to dairy operations at the state level.

It is also the intent of this chapter to recognize the existing working relationships between conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department of ecology in protecting water quality of the state. A further purpose of this chapter is to provide statutory recognition of the coordination of the functions of conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department of ecology pertaining to development of dairy waste management plans for the protection of water quality.

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Advisory and oversight committee" means a balanced committee of agency, dairy farm, and interest group representatives convened to provide oversight and direction to the dairy nutrient management program.

(2) "Catastrophic" means a tornado, hurricane, earthquake, flood, or other extreme condition that would cause an overflow from a required waste retention structure.

(3) "Certification" means:

(i) the acknowledgment by a local conservation district that a dairy producer has constructed or otherwise put in place the elements necessary to implement his or her dairy nutrient management plan; and

(ii) the acknowledgment by a dairy producer that he or she is managing dairy nutrients as specified in his or her approved dairy nutrient management plan."

(4) "Chronic" means a series of wet weather events that precludes the proper operation of a dairy nutrient management system that is designed with adequate volume for the current herd size and is also properly maintained.

(5) "Conservation commission" or "commission" means the conservation commission under chapter 89.08 RCW.

~~((2))~~ (6) "Conservation districts" or "district" means a subdivision of state government organized under chapter 89.08 RCW.

~~((3))~~ (7) "Concentrated dairy animal feeding operation" means a dairy animal feeding operation subject to regulation under this chapter which the director designates under RCW 90.64.~~((030))~~020 or meets the following criteria:

(a) Has more than seven hundred mature dairy cows, whether milked or dry cows, that are confined; or

(b) Has more than two hundred head of mature dairy cattle, whether milked or dry cows, that are confined and either:

(i) From which pollutants are discharged into navigable waters through a manmade ditch, flushing system, or other similar manmade device; or

(ii) From which pollutants are discharged directly into surface or ground waters of the state that originate outside of and pass over, across, or through the facility or otherwise come into direct contact with the animals confined in the operation.

~~((4))~~ (8) "Dairy animal feeding operation" means a lot or facility where the following conditions are met:

(a) Dairy animals that have been, are, or will be stabled or confined and fed for a total of forty-five days or more in any twelve-month period; and

(b) Crops, vegetation forage growth, or postharvest residues are not sustained in the normal growing season over any portion of the lot or facility. Two or more dairy animal feeding operations under common ownership are considered, for the purposes of this chapter, to be a single dairy animal feeding operation if they adjoin each other or if they use a common area for land application of wastes.

~~((5))~~ (9) "Dairy farm" means any farm that is licensed to produce milk under chapter 15.36 RCW.

(10) "Dairy nutrient" means any organic waste produced by dairy cows or a dairy farm operation.

(11) "Dairy nutrient management plan" means a plan meeting the requirements established under section 5 of this act.

(12) "Dairy nutrient management technical assistance team" means one or more professional engineers and local conservation district employees convened to serve one of up to four distinct geographic areas in the state.

(13) "Dairy producer" means a person who owns or operates a dairy farm.

(14) "Department" means the department of ecology under chapter 43.21A RCW.

~~((6))~~ (15) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology, or his or her designee.

(16) "Upset" means an exceptional incident in which there is an unintentional and temporary noncompliance because of factors beyond the reasonable control of the dairy.

(17) "Violation" means a discharge of pollutants into the waters of the state, except those discharges that are regulated under the terms of a national pollutant discharge elimination system permit and that are:

(i) caused by a 24-hour, twenty-five year or greater storm event, or by catastrophic or chronic weather events; or

(ii) the result of practices that are approved in a certified dairy nutrient management plan, or that are likely to be approved in such a plan no later than December 1, 2000.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Every dairy producer licensed under chapter 15.36 RCW shall register with the department by September 1, 1998, and shall reregister with the department by September 1st of every even-numbered year. Every dairy producer licensed after September 1, 1998, shall register with the department within sixty days of licensing.

(2) To facilitate registration, the department shall obtain from the food safety and animal health division of the department of agriculture a current list of all licensed dairy producers in the state and mail a registration form to each licensed dairy producer no later than July 15, 1998.

(3) At a minimum, the form shall require the following information:

(a) The name and address of the operator of the dairy farm;

(b) The name and address of the dairy farm;

(c) The telephone number of the dairy farm;

(d) The number of cows in the dairy farm;

(e) The number of young stock in the dairy farm;

(f) The number of acres owned and rented in the dairy farm;

(g) Whether the dairy producer, to the best of his or her knowledge, has a plan for managing dairy nutrient discharges that is tailored to the size of his or her herd, and whether the plan is being fully implemented; and

(h) If the fields where dairy nutrients are being applied belong to someone other than the dairy producer whose farm operation generated the nutrients, the name, address, and telephone number of the owners of the property accepting the dairy nutrients shall be included in the registration form. Of this information, the department shall only require the registrant to provide information that is not already available from other sources accessible to the department, such as dairy licensing information.

(4) In the mailing to dairy producers containing the registration form, the department shall also provide information regarding the requirements of this chapter in a manner that is clear and comprehensive.

(5) The department's failure to reach a dairy producer by mail shall not alter the obligation of the producer to register with the department within the time required.

(6) Failure of a dairy producer to register with the department is a violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Prior to October 1, 1998, the department and conservation commission shall jointly sponsor and hold an educational workshop for conservation districts from around the state. The purpose of the workshop is to inform local conservation districts about the requirements of this chapter, and for local conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department to clearly understand their respective roles and responsibilities in carrying out these requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) By October 1, 1998, the department shall initiate an inspection program of all dairy farms in the state. The purpose of the inspections is to:

(a) Survey for evidence of significant dairy nutrient discharges;

(b) Identify corrective actions for actual or imminent discharges that threaten to violate the state's water quality requirements;

(c) Monitor the development of dairy nutrient management plans; and

(d) Identify dairy producers who would benefit from technical assistance programs.

(2) Local conservation district employees may, at their discretion, accompany department inspectors on any scheduled inspection of dairy farms except random, unannounced inspections.

(3) Follow-up inspections shall be conducted by the department to ensure that corrective and other actions as identified in the course of initial inspections are being carried out. The department shall also conduct such additional inspections as are necessary to ensure compliance with state and federal water quality requirements, provided that all licensed dairy farms shall be inspected once within two years of the start of this program. The department, in consultation with the advisory and oversight committee, shall develop performance-based criteria to determine the frequency of inspections.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) All dairy producers licensed under chapter 15.36 RCW shall prepare a dairy nutrient management plan. Such plans shall be submitted for approval to the local conservation district where the dairy farm is located for approval by July 1, 1999, and shall be certified and fully implemented by October 1, 2001. If a plan meets the requirements identified in subsection (2) of this section, a conservation district shall approve the plan.

(2) By November 1, 1998, the department in conjunction with the advisory and oversight committee established in section 8 of this act shall develop a document clearly describing the elements that a dairy nutrient management plan must contain to gain local conservation district approval.

(3) In developing the elements that an approved dairy nutrient management plan must contain, the commission may authorize the use of methods and technologies other than those developed by the natural resources conservation service, provided that, once implemented, such methods and technologies achieve compliance with water quality requirements.

(4) An approved plan shall be certified by a conservation district and a dairy producer when the elements necessary to implement the plan have been constructed or otherwise put in place, and are being used as designed and intended. A certification form shall be developed by the conservation commission for use state-wide and shall provide for a signature by both a conservation district representative and a dairy producer. Signed certification forms shall be dated by October 1, 2001, and a copy provided to the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Dairy nutrient management plans shall be considered orders of the department and shall be subject to appeal to the pollution control hearing board according to the procedure in chapter 43.21B RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) A dairy nutrient management program advisory and oversight committee is established. The committee shall be co-chaired by the executive director of the conservation commission and a dairy industry representative. The purpose of the committee is to provide direction to and oversight of the dairy nutrient management inspection program, as well as to encourage the use of appropriate alternative technologies and methods for managing dairy nutrient. Members shall be appointed by the commission.

(2) The committee shall include no less than eleven, and no more than thirteen members, including one representative from the department, one representative of the dairy industry from each of up to four geographic areas as referenced in section 9, one representative from the conservation commission, two representatives from local conservation districts, one representative from a local health department, one representative of an environmental organization, and one representative from the shellfish industry. In addition, the natural resources conservation service and the federal environmental protection agency shall each be invited to appoint a representative to the committee.

(3) The committee shall perform the following functions:

(a) Meet at least four times per calendar year;

(b) Maintain meeting minutes and account for the resolution of issues jointly identified by the committee chairs as needing to be addressed;

(c) Review the quarterly data base summary and annual report provided by the department under sections 8 and 11 of this act;

(d) Act as a forum to hear suggestions from any interested parties, including dairy farmers, regarding implementation of the dairy nutrient management program;

(e) Review and recommend standardized dairy farm nutrient management facility inspection procedures and a reporting format to be used by the department; and

(f) Review and recommend dairy nutrient management technologies and methods other than those approved or provided by the natural resources conservation service, as components of nutrient management plans under this chapter. In evaluating new technologies and methods, the principal objective of the evaluation shall be determining whether there is a substantial likelihood that, once implemented, the technologies and methods will achieve compliance with water quality requirements.

(4) The advisory and oversight committee does not replace or infringe upon the authority, duties, or responsibilities of the pollution control hearings board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) By September 1, 1998, the department in consultation with the advisory and oversight committee shall develop and maintain a data base to account for the implementation of the inspection program identified in section 5 of this act.

(2) The data base shall track registration; inspection dates and results, including findings of compliance and non-compliance with water quality requirements; regulatory and enforcement actions; and the status of dairy nutrient management plans. A summary of data base information shall be provided quarterly to the advisory and oversight committee.

(3) Complaints that have been filed with the department or pollution control hearings board shall not be recorded into the data base if, upon the conclusion of an investigation, they are found to be without merit or basis. Any information entered into the data base by the department about any aspect of a particular dairy operation may be reviewed by the affected dairy producer upon request. The department shall correct any information in the data base upon a showing that the information is faulty or inaccurate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The conservation commission shall establish up to four dairy nutrient management technical assistance teams by May 1, 1998. The teams shall be geographically located throughout the state. Each team shall consist of one or more professional engineers, local conservation district employees, and representatives of county agricultural extension service offices.

(2) By September 1, 1998, each team shall develop one or more sets of standards and specifications to assist dairy producers in developing and implementing dairy nutrient management plans. Standards and specifications developed by a technical assistance team shall be appropriate to the soils and other conditions within that geographic area and shall be reviewed by the advisory and oversight committee.

~~((Upon receiving a complaint or upon its own determination that a dairy animal feeding operation is a likely source of water quality degradation,))~~ (1) Under the inspection program established in section 5 of this act, the department may investigate a dairy ~~((animal feeding operation))~~ farm to determine whether the operation is discharging ~~((directly))~~ pollutants or ~~((recently))~~ has ~~((discharged directly))~~ a record of discharging pollutants into surface or ground waters of the state.

Upon concluding an investigation, the department shall make a written report of its findings, including the results of any water quality measurements, photographs, or other pertinent information, and provide a copy of the report to the dairy producer within twenty days of the investigation.

(2) The department shall investigate a written complaint filed with the department within ~~((ten))~~ three working days and shall make a written report of its findings including the results of any water quality measurements, photographs, or other pertinent information. A copy of the findings shall be provided ~~((upon request))~~ to the dairy ~~((animal feeding operation))~~ producer subject to the complaint within twenty days. Only findings of non-compliance with water quality laws shall be entered into the data base identified in section 9 of this act.

~~((Those dairy animal feeding operations that are))~~ (3) A dairy farm that is determined to be a significant contributor of pollution based on actual water quality tests, photographs, or other pertinent information ~~((if immediate corrective actions are not possible, shall be designated as a concentrated dairy animal feeding operation and shall be))~~ is subject to the provisions of this chapter and to the enforcement provisions of chapters 43.05 and 90.48 RCW, including civil penalties levied under RCW 90.48.144.

(4) For a violation of water quality laws that is a first offense for a dairy producer, the penalty may be waived to allow the producer to come into compliance with water quality laws. The department shall record all legitimate violations and subsequent enforcement actions.

(5) A discharge to surface waters of the state shall not be considered a violation of chapter 90.48 RCW, chapter 173-201A WAC, or a violation of the federal clean water act, and shall therefore not be enforceable by the department of ecology or a third party, if at the time of the discharge, the following conditions are met:

(a) The dairy producer has a current national pollution discharge elimination system permit with a wastewater system designed, operated and maintained for the current herd size to contain all process-generated wastewater plus average annual precipitation minus evaporation plus contaminated storm water runoff from a twenty-five year, twenty-four-hour rainfall event for that specific location; and

(i) The discharge is due to a chronic or catastrophic event or is due to an upset; or

(ii) The dairy producer has complied with the national pollution discharge elimination system permit conditions or the dairy waste management plan conditions regarding appropriate land application practices.

(b) A dairy producer shall not be held liable for violations of Chapter 90.48 RCW, chapter 173-201A or the federal clean water act due to the discharge of dairy nutrients to waters of the state resulting from spreading these materials on lands other than where the nutrients were generated, when the nutrients are spread by persons other than the dairy producer, employee or contractor.

(C) This section specifically acknowledges that if a national pollution discharge elimination system permit holder complies with the permit and the dairy waste management plan conditions for appropriate land application practices, the permit provides compliance with the federal clean water act and acts as a shield against citizen or agency enforcement for any additions of pollutants to waters of the state or of the United States that may occur. The department shall issue a permit to any dairy farm of any size that applies for one.

(1) The department has the following duties:

(a) Identify existing or potential water quality problems resulting from dairy farms through implementation of the inspection program in section 5 of this act;

(b) Receive, process, and verify complaints concerning discharge of pollutants from all dairy farms ~~((regardless of size));~~

(c) Determine if a dairy-related water quality problem requires immediate corrective action under the Washington state water pollution control laws, chapter 90.48 RCW, or the Washington state water quality standards adopted under chapter 90.48 RCW~~((, or other authorities))~~. The department shall maintain the lead enforcement responsibility;

(d) Administer and enforce national pollutant~~((s))~~ discharge elimination system permits for operators of concentrated dairy animal feeding operations and other dairy producers, where required by federal regulations~~((,))~~ and ~~((administer))~~ state laws or upon request of a dairy producer;

~~(e) ((Appoint representatives, including dairy industry representatives, to participate in the compliance review committee that will annually review and update policy and disseminate information as needed))~~ Participate on the advisory and oversight committee;

(f) Encourage communication and cooperation between local department personnel and the appropriate conservation district personnel;

~~(g) ((Encourage))~~ Require the use of ((federal soil conservation service standards and specifications in designing best management practices for)) dairy ((waste)) nutrient management plans ((to protect water quality)) for entities required to plan under this chapter. Such plans shall meet the standards and specifications of:

(i) The natural resource conservation service;

(ii) The natural resource conservation service as modified by the geographically based standards developed under section 10 of this act; or

(iii) A professional engineer with expertise in the area of dairy nutrient management, soil science, or land application of biosolids or liquids, provided these standards meet a goal of zero discharge of pollutants;

(h) Provide to the commission and the advisory and oversight committee an annual report of dairy ((waste pollution)) nutrient management planning, inspection, and enforcement activities; and

(i) Oversee the conservation districts' review, approval, and certification of dairy nutrient management plans.

(2) The department may not delegate its responsibilities in enforcement.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.64.060 and 1993 c 221 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the department determines that the operator of a dairy ((animal feeding operation)) has the means to correct a water quality problem in a manner that will prevent future contamination and does so promptly and such correction is maintained, the department shall cease pursuit of the complaint. If a discharge cannot be corrected promptly, the department shall require the dairy producer to obtain a national pollution discharge elimination system permit.

(2) If the department determines that an unresolved water quality problem from a dairy ((animal feeding operation)) farm requires immediate corrective action, the department shall notify the ((operator)) producer and the district in which the problem is located.

When corrective actions are required, the department shall provide copies of all final dairy farm inspection reports and documentation of all formal regulatory and enforcement actions taken by the department to the local conservation district and to the appropriate dairy farm within twenty days.

~~(((3) If immediate action is not necessary by the department, the handling of complaints will differ depending on the amount of information available and the compliance option selected by the conservation district involved.~~

~~(a) When the name and address of the party against whom the complaint was registered are known:~~

~~(i) Districts operating at levels 1 and 2 will receive a copy of complaint information, and compliance letter if one was sent out.~~

~~(ii) Districts operating at levels 3 and 4 will receive a copy of complaint information and the letter sent by the department to the operator informing the operator of the complaint and providing the operator with the opportunity to work with the conservation district on a voluntary basis.~~

~~(b) The department and the conservation district will work together at the local level to resolve complaints when the name and address of the party against whom the complaint was registered are unknown.-)~~

Sec. 14. RCW 90.64.070 and 1993 c 221 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The conservation district has the following duties:

(a) ((Adopt and annually update the water quality section in the conservation district dairy waste management plan)) Provide technical assistance to the department in identifying existing water quality problems resulting from dairy farms through implementation of the inspection program in section 5 of this act;

(b) ((As part of the district annual report, include a water quality progress report on dairy waste management activities conducted that are related to this chapter)) Immediately refer complaints received from the public regarding discharge of pollutants to the department;

(c) Encourage communication and cooperation between the conservation district personnel and local department personnel;

(d) ~~((Adopt and carry out a compliance option from level 1, level 2, level 3, or level 4))~~
Provide technical assistance to dairy producers in developing and implementing a dairy nutrient management plan; and

(e) Review, approve, and certify dairy nutrient management plans that meet the minimum standards developed under RCW 90.64.050(1)(g).

(2) The district's capability to carry out its responsibilities ~~((in the four levels of compliance))~~ under this chapter is contingent upon the availability of funding and resources to implement a dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program.

Sec. 15. RCW 90.64.080 and 1993 c 221 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The conservation commission has the following duties:

~~(a) ((Forward to the department the dairy waste management plan progress reports;~~

~~(b)))~~ Provide assistance as may be appropriate to the conservation districts in the discharge of their responsibilities as management agencies in dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program implementation;

~~((c))~~ (b) Provide coordination for conservation district programs at the state level through special arrangements with appropriate federal and state agencies;

~~((d))~~ (c) Inform conservation districts of activities and experiences of other conservation districts relative to agricultural water quality protection, and facilitate an interchange of advice, experience, and cooperation between the districts;

~~((e))~~ (d) Encourage communication between the conservation district personnel and local department personnel;

~~((f))~~ (e) Appoint conservation district representatives to serve on the ~~((compliance review))~~ advisory and oversight committee with advice of the Washington association of conservation districts;

~~((g) Appoint a commission representative to participate on the compliance review committee that will annually review and update policy and disseminate information as needed;~~

~~(h))~~ (f) Provide a co-chair to the advisory and oversight committee; and

(g) Work with the department to provide communication outreach to representatives of agricultural and environmental organizations to receive feedback on implementation of this chapter.

(2) The commission's capability to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter is contingent upon the availability of funding and resources to implement a dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program.

Sec. 16. RCW 90.48.144 and 1995 c 403 s 636 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in RCW 43.05.060 through 43.05.080 and 43.05.150, every person who:

(1) Violates the terms or conditions of a waste discharge permit issued pursuant to RCW 90.48.180 or 90.48.260 through 90.48.262, or

(2) Conducts a commercial or industrial operation or other point source discharge operation without a waste discharge permit as required by RCW 90.48.160 or 90.48.260 through 90.48.262, or

(3) Violates the provisions of RCW 90.48.080, or other sections of this chapter, chapter 90.64 RCW, or chapter 90.56 RCW or rules or orders adopted or issued pursuant to ~~((either of))~~ those chapters, shall incur, in addition to any other penalty as provided by law, a penalty in an amount of up to ten thousand dollars a day for every such violation. Each and every such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation, every day's continuance shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct violation. Every act of commission or omission which procures, aids or abets in the violation shall be considered a violation under the provisions of this section and subject to the penalty herein provided for. The penalty amount shall be set in consideration of the previous history of the violator and the severity of the violation's impact on public health and/or the environment in addition to other relevant factors. The penalty herein provided for shall be imposed pursuant to the procedures set forth in RCW 43.21B.300.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The dairy waste management account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts from monetary penalties levied pursuant to violations of this chapter must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the commission to provide grants to local conservation districts for the sole purpose of assisting dairy producers to develop and fully implement dairy nutrient management plans. Only the chairman of the commission or the chairman's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

(1) The department shall establish annual fees to collect expenses for issuing and administering each class of permits under RCW 90.48.160, 90.48.162, and 90.48.260. An initial fee schedule shall be established by rule within one year of March 1, 1989, and thereafter the fee schedule shall be adjusted no more often than once every two years. This fee schedule shall apply to all permits, regardless of date of issuance, and fees shall be assessed prospectively. All fees charged shall be based on factors relating to the complexity of permit issuance and compliance and may be based on pollutant loading and toxicity and be designed to encourage recycling and the reduction of the quantity of pollutants. Fees shall be established in amounts to fully recover and not to exceed expenses incurred by the department in processing permit applications and modifications, monitoring and evaluating compliance with permits, conducting inspections, securing laboratory analysis of samples taken during inspections, reviewing plans and documents directly related to operations of permittees, overseeing performance of delegated pretreatment programs, and supporting the overhead expenses that are directly related to these activities.

(2) The annual fee paid by a municipality, as defined in 33 U.S.C. Sec. 1362, for all domestic wastewater facility permits issued under RCW 90.48.162 and 90.48.260 shall not exceed the total of a maximum of fifteen cents per month per residence or residential equivalent contributing to the municipality's wastewater system. The department shall adopt by rule a schedule of credits for any municipality engaging in a comprehensive monitoring program beyond the requirements imposed by the department, with the credits available for five years from March 1, 1989, and with the total amount of all credits not to exceed fifty thousand dollars in the five-year period.

(3) The department shall ensure that indirect dischargers do not pay twice for the administrative expense of a permit. Accordingly, administrative expenses for permits issued by a municipality under RCW 90.48.165 are not recoverable by the department.

(4) In establishing fees, the department shall consider the economic impact of fees on small dischargers and the economic impact of fees on public entities required to obtain permits for storm water runoff and shall provide appropriate adjustments. The fee for a national pollutant discharge elimination system permit issued for discharges related to manure or other dairy nutrient from a dairy farm as defined under chapter 90.64 RCW shall be fifty cents per animal unit covered by the permit.

(5) All fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the water quality permit account hereby created in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may be appropriated only for purposes of administering permits under RCW 90.48.160, 90.48.162, and 90.48.260.

(6) Beginning with the biennium ending June 30, 1997, the department shall present a biennial progress report on the use of moneys from the account to the legislature. The report will be due December 31st of odd-numbered years. The report shall consist of information on fees collected, actual expenses incurred, and anticipated expenses for the current and following fiscal years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department is required to report to the Legislature by December 1 of each year until 2001, on progress made in implementing this act. At a minimum, the reports shall include data on inspections, the status of dairy nutrient planning, compliance with water quality standards, and enforcement actions. The report shall also provide recommendations on how implementation of this act could be facilitated for dairy producers and generally improved.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. RCW 90.64.090 and 1993 c 221 s 10 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Sections 3, 5 through 9, and 16 of this act are each added to chapter 90.64 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 1998, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void."

Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2915, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2924, by Representatives Chandler and Robertson

Granting water rights to certain persons who were water users before January 1, 1993.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2924 was substituted for House Bill No. 2924 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2924 was read the second time.

Representative Linville moved adoption of amendment (951):

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) If a person placed surface or ground water to beneficial use before January 1, 1993, for irrigation, stock watering, or domestic use supplied by a public water supply system with one hundred fifty or fewer service connections for which a permit or certificate was not issued by the department or its predecessors, the person or the public water supply system, or their respective successors may continue to use water in the amount that has been beneficially used as provided in subsection (3) of this section if:

(a) The person or the public water supply system files with the department a statement of claim during the period beginning September 1, 1998, and ending midnight June 30, 1999, using the standard form prescribed by RCW 90.14.051; and

(b) The person or public water supply system has applied the water to beneficial use to the full extent stated in the statement of claim during at least one of the five years preceding the date the statement is filed and the person attests to having done so on the statement.

(2) The person or public water supply system must file with the statement of claim evidence that the quantity of water described in the claim was used beneficially before January 1, 1993, and during one of the five years preceding the date the statement was filed in the form of any two of the following:

(a) A statement signed by two persons other than the person filing the statement of claim verifying that the claimant beneficially used the water before January 1, 1993, and during one of the five years preceding the date the statement was filed as described in the statement of claim;

(b) A copy of a dated photograph clearly demonstrating the presence of grass or a crop requiring irrigation in the amounts asserted in the statement of claim or of livestock requiring water in such amounts; or records of receipts of the sale of crops by the person or the person's successor indicating that irrigation in the amount claimed was required to produce the crops;

(c) Receipts or records of irrigation or stockwatering equipment purchases or repairs associated with the water use specified in the statement of claim;

(d) Water well construction records identifying the date the well specified in the statement of claim as the point of withdrawal was constructed;

(e) Records of electricity bills directly associated with the withdrawal of water as specified in the statement of claim;

(f) Personal records such as photographs, journals, or correspondence indicating the use of water as asserted in the statement of claim.

(3) Public water supply systems must, in addition to the requirements of subsection (2) of this section, provide evidence of service connections existing and using water as of January 1, 1993, including documentation that the homes were built and occupied.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. If the claimant has not already filed an application for a water right under RCW 90.03.250 or 90.44.060 for the water use stated in the statement of claim, the claimant shall file such an application with the claimant's statement of claim. A claimant who has filed both a statement of claim and an application for a water right has standing to assert a claim of a water right in a general adjudication under RCW 90.03.110 for the water use stated in the statement of claim. The statement of claim shall be reviewed by the court as provided in section 3(2) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A person may continue to use water described in the statement of claim until one of the following occurs:

(a) The department makes its final decision granting or denying the water right application filed by the applicant as provided in section 2 of this act, following the completion and adoption of a locally developed water resource watershed plan for the WRIA; or

(b) If the department has not made a final decision on the water right application, a court of competent jurisdiction issues a decree pursuant to a general adjudication under RCW 90.03.200 that defines or denies the claimant's right to appropriate water as provided in subsection (2) of this section.

The department may not make final decisions under (a) of this subsection that are on water right applications associated with a claim filed under section 1 of this act in those watersheds where a local watershed planning process has been initiated before the effective date of this section. If the local planning process results in a watershed plan acceptable to the department, decisions on water right applications associated with claims filed under sections 1 through 6 of this act for water from the watershed shall be consistent with the watershed plan. If a watershed plan is not completed within four years of the effective date of this section, the department may thereafter make a final decision on any applications pending in the watershed.

(2) The department or the court may authorize the continued use of water under subsection (1) of this section only if the claimant meets the requirements of RCW 90.03.247 through 90.03.330, chapter 90.44 RCW, and RCW 90.54.020. If the department finds that the applicable requirements are met, it shall grant the water right application and issue a certificate under RCW 90.03.330 authorizing the person to use that quantity of water that had been put to beneficial use, not to exceed that quantity requested in the application or documented in the statement of claim under section 1 of this act, whichever is less. If in a general adjudication the court finds that the requirements are met, it shall confirm such use of water in a decree issued under RCW 90.03.200 and the department shall issue a certificate under RCW 90.03.240. The court may not confirm a right in excess of the quantity of water that was applied to beneficial use as documented in the statement of claim under section 1 of this act or the quantity requested in the application for a water right, whichever is less. The priority date of any right issued by the department or confirmed by a court shall be the date a water right application authorizing the use of water was filed with the department.

(3) If the department or the court denies the claimant's use of water under subsection (2) of this section, the claimant must cease the use of the water. A decision by the department or a court limiting or denying a claimant's right to continue using water does not constitute a compensable taking under state or federal law because such claimants have no continuing legal right to use water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Sections 1 through 6 of this act do not apply to or authorize any use of water that was the subject of a water right application filed with the department, where the department denied such application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A continuing use of water authorized under sections 1 through 6 of this act shall not affect or impair in any respect whatsoever a water right existing before September 1, 1998. Sections 1 through 6 of this act do not limit the ability of a senior water right holder to take legal action against any other water user to prevent impairment of his or her water right. A right granted under sections 1 through 6 of this act may be junior in every respect to a right with a more senior date of priority. Any right granted under sections 1 through 6 of this act may only be exercised in a manner that does not impair or interfere with a water right that is senior to it. The filing of a statement of claim under this section does not constitute an adjudication of any claim to the right to the use of waters as between the claimant and the state, or as between one or more water use claimants. A statement of claim filed under this section shall be admissible in a general adjudication of water rights as prima facie evidence of the times of use and the quantity of water the claimant was withdrawing or diverting to the same extent as is provided by RCW 90.14.081 for a statement of claim in the water rights claims registry on the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. This section does not apply to ground water in an area that is, during the period established by section 1(2) of this act, the subject of a general adjudication proceeding for water rights in superior court under RCW 90.03.110 through 90.03.245 and the proceeding applies to ground water rights. This section does not apply to surface water in an area that is, during the period established by section 1(2) of this act, the subject of a general adjudication proceeding for water rights in superior court under RCW 90.03.110 through 90.03.245 and the proceeding applies to surface water rights.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act do not apply to rights embodied in a water right permit or certificate issued by the department or its predecessors, a water right represented by a claim in the water rights claims registry, created under RCW 90.14.111, before September 1, 1998, or a water right exempted from permit and application requirements by RCW 90.44.050.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Sections 1 through 6 of this act do not apply to claims for the use of water in a ground water area or subarea for which a management program adopted by the department by rule and in effect on the effective date of this section establishes acreage expansion limitations for the use of ground water.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Sections 1 through 8 of this act are each added to chapter 90.03 RCW."

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 98-4698, by Representatives Backlund, McDonald and L. Thomas

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington State Legislature to recognize excellence in all fields of endeavor; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth President of the United States of America, demonstrated the highest level of excellence and sacrifice in service to this nation; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln was born into poverty as the son of a Kentucky frontiersman, was raised in a log cabin, cleared land and split rails to earn a living as a young man, and although he eventually attained great stature in public life, he never forgot the values he shared with the common people; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, in his efforts to obtain an education, often studied by candlelight late into the night, exemplifying perseverance and acumen in scholastic and professional endeavors, illustrated by the fact that he educated himself in the profession of law, and, following an apprenticeship, earned a well-deserved reputation as a skilled, talented, and respected member of the bar, and became the only United States President to hold a patent; and

WHEREAS, As Judge David Davis, a life-long family friend of President Lincoln, commenting on Abraham Lincoln's perseverance and professional endeavors, stated, "From the humblest poverty, without education, or the means of attaining it, unaided by wealth or influential family connections, he rose, solely, by the strength of his intellect and the force of his character, to the highest position in the world"; and

WHEREAS, Only one week after Abraham Lincoln's presidential inauguration, the southern states formed the Confederacy and within a month the Civil War began, tearing the fabric of the Union and pitting brother against brother and family against family; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln thus faced a task greater than any that had ever rested upon the nation; and

WHEREAS, President Lincoln stated, "Without the assistance of that Divine Being, I cannot succeed. With that assistance, I cannot fail. Trusting in Him who can go with me, and remain with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well"; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln continued, throughout the conflict, to hold fast to the principles which he articulated in his second inaugural address, "With malice towards none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right," and, through adherence to these principles, helped bind the nation together and heal its wounds; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln continues to be known and admired for his eloquent and accomplished oratory, and for his ability to articulate the foundational principles of liberty and justice, as exemplified in his debate with Stephen A. Douglas, in which Lincoln voiced opposition to slavery, as he did in the Gettysburg Address; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln believed the republican form of government established by the founding fathers to be the best means of ensuring freedom, and became the father of the Republican Party, dedicated to maintaining the principles of constitutional representation under the rule of law; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln unselfishly gave of himself throughout his long and distinguished career of public service, which included judicial service in the eighth circuit, service in the Illinois State Legislature, service in the United States Congress, and service as President of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln courageously issued the Emancipation Proclamation on January 1, 1863, which declared "all persons held as slaves within any State or designated part of a State, henceforward, shall be forever free"; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, while President of the United States, issued a proclamation declaring a national day of prayer, recognizing, "It is the duty of nations as well as of men to own their dependence upon the overruling power of God, and to confess their sins and transgressions in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in Holy Scripture, and proven by all history, that those nations only are blessed whose God is the Lord"; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln suffered an untimely death at the hands of an assassin, just five days after bringing the Civil War to an end in April 1865; and

WHEREAS, The American people continue to be instilled with hope that the difficulties faced by our nation can be overcome, as we remember the words of Abraham Lincoln, "That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor the sixteenth President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln.

Representative Backlund moved adoption of the resolution.

Representative Backlund spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4698 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 98-4701, by Representatives Mason, Poulsen, Dickerson, Costa, Eickmeyer, Quall, Scott, Hatfield, Cooper, Conway and McDonald

WHEREAS, February marks the annual observance of Black History Month to celebrate the significant contributions of Americans of African ancestry in the making of our great nation; and

WHEREAS, It is to the benefit of all Americans to honor those who have come before us; and

WHEREAS, Carter G. Woodson, the father of Black History Month, through his research left us with a written record of the presence of millions of Americans whose ancestors have been on the continent of North America since before the Mayflower; and

WHEREAS, Carter G. Woodson founded this month so that Americans of African ancestry could be honored for the many accomplishments which would otherwise go unnoticed in the mainstream textbooks and historical celebrations of United States history; and

WHEREAS, Most Americans of African descent were brought to America in chains to suffer the sustained insults of chattel slavery and human bondage for a recorded history of more than three hundred fifty years; and

WHEREAS, African-Americans have attained success in all fields of human endeavor, as evidenced by the contributions of Frederick Douglas, who taught himself to read and write, and became a great orator and abolitionist; Ida B. Wells, who never lost sight of her mission to eliminate the lynching of men, women, and children in America; and of course our modern day heroes and role models such as Michael Jordan, who has become the icon for determination and focused excellence; and

WHEREAS, From academia to athletics, from education to politics, from space exploration to the armed forces, and in all fields of endeavor and contributions our fellow African-Americans, though written out of history, have been good Americans; and

WHEREAS, African-Americans continue to contribute widely to the attainment of peace, equality, and justice and all Americans deserve to know of all the great moments and eras of the thirty million African-Americans who live among us; and

WHEREAS, Americans of African descent continue to contribute to the social and economic history of Washington, as evidenced by the contributions of Ruth Massinga, of the Casey Family Program; Mack Hogans, Effenus Henderson, and Rodney Proctor of the Weyerhaeuser Corporation; Oscar Eason, National President of Blacks In Government; and Dr. William Bradford of the University of Washington; and

WHEREAS, History is made in the present and recorded in the future to reflect the past, African-American History Month recognizes the young people who are making history today and we applaud their bravery and courage; Dr. Lee Jones Jr., the youngest person to ever hold the position of Associate Dean at Florida State University; Quinton Morris, who at seventeen survived cancer and has been accepted into the University of Paris to continue his studies in classical violin; and Eugene Jenkins, Jr. and family who after serving in the Desert Storm/Desert Shield Operation was honorably discharged;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognizes February as African-American History Month in recognition of Americans of African descent who have contributed to America, a nation in which we take great pride.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 16.57.010 and 1996 c 105 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of this chapter:

- (1) "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.
- (2) "Director" means the director of the department or a duly appointed representative.
- (3) "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.
- (4) "Livestock" includes, but is not limited to, horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, poultry and rabbits.
- (5) "Brand" means a permanent fire brand or any artificial mark, other than an individual identification symbol, approved by the ~~((director))~~ board to be used in conjunction with a brand or by itself.
- (6) "Production record brand" means a number brand which shall be used for production identification purposes only.
- (7) "~~((Brand))~~ Livestock inspection" means the examination of livestock or livestock hides for brands or any means of identifying livestock or livestock hides and/or the application of any artificial identification such as back tags or ear clips necessary to preserve the identity of the livestock or livestock hides examined.
- (8) "Individual identification symbol" means a permanent mark placed on a horse for the purpose of individually identifying and registering the horse and which has been approved for use as such by the ~~((director))~~ board.
- (9) "Registering agency" means any person issuing an individual identification symbol for the purpose of individually identifying and registering a horse.
- (10) "Poultry" means chickens, turkeys, ratites, and other domesticated fowl.
- (11) "Ratite" means, but is not limited to, ostrich, emu, rhea, or other flightless bird used for human consumption, whether live or slaughtered.
- (12) "Ratite farming" means breeding, raising, and rearing of an ostrich, emu, or rhea in captivity or an enclosure.
- (13) "Microchipping" means the implantation of an identification microchip or similar electronic identification device to establish the identity of an individual animal:

(a) In the pipping muscle of a chick ratite or the implantation of a microchip in the tail muscle of an otherwise unidentified adult ratite;

(b) In the nuchal ligament of a horse unless otherwise specified by rule of the ~~((director))~~ board; and

(c) In locations of other livestock species as specified by rule of the ~~((director))~~ board when requested by an association of producers of that species of livestock.

(14) "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the body of five members appointed by the governor that includes one beef producer, one cattle feeder, one dairy producer, one livestock market owner, and one horse producer.

Sec. 2. RCW 16.57.015 and 1993 c 354 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((The director shall establish a livestock identification advisory board. The board shall be composed of six members appointed by the director. One member shall represent each of the following groups: Beef producers, public livestock market operators, horse owners, dairy farmers, cattle feeders, and meat processors. In making appointments, the director shall solicit nominations from organizations representing these groups state wide.~~

~~(2) The purpose of the board is to provide advice to the director regarding livestock identification programs administered under this chapter and regarding brand inspection fees and related licensing fees. The director shall consult the board before adopting, amending, or repealing a rule under this chapter or altering a fee under RCW 16.58.050, 16.58.130, 16.65.030, or 16.65.090. If the director publishes in the state register a proposed rule to be adopted under the authority of this chapter or a proposed rule setting a fee under RCW 16.58.050, 16.58.130, 16.65.030, or 16.65.090 and the rule has not received the approval of the advisory board, the director shall file with the board a written statement setting forth the director's reasons for proposing the rule without the board's approval.~~

~~(3) The members of the advisory board serve three year terms. However, the director shall by rule provide shorter initial terms for some of the members of the board to stagger the expiration of the initial terms. The members serve without compensation. The director may authorize the expenses of a member to be reimbursed if the member is selected to attend a regional or national conference or meeting regarding livestock identification. Any such reimbursement shall be in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.)~~ There is established a Washington state livestock identification board. The board is composed of the director and five members appointed by the governor as follows: One beef producer, one cattle feeder, one dairy producer, one livestock market owner, and one horse producer. Organizations representing the groups represented on the board may submit nominations for these appointments to the governor for the governor's consideration. Three members of the initial board shall be appointed for two years and two members shall be appointed for three years, thereafter gubernatorially appointed members shall be appointed for a three-year term. Members may succeed themselves.

(2) The board shall be responsible for the administration of the livestock identification program which includes the review of recording and registration of brands, approval of all expenditures from the livestock identification account, administration of this chapter and chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW, administration of the inspection, enforcement, and licensing activities, fee setting, and holding hearings and adopting rules for the administration of the livestock identification program. Authorities and responsibilities other than rule making that are granted to the board by this chapter and chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW may be delegated by the board to duly authorized representatives of the board.

(3) The board shall contract with the department for registration and recording and for livestock inspection or investigation work and fix the compensation and terms of the contract. To facilitate the out-of-state movement of cattle and horses the board shall also enter into agreements with Washington state licensed and accredited veterinarians, who have been certified by the board, to perform livestock inspection when issuing official health certificates. Fees for livestock inspection performed by a certified veterinarian shall be collected by the veterinarian and remitted to the board. Veterinarians providing livestock inspection may charge a fee for livestock inspection that is separate from the fees provided in RCW 16.57.220. The board may adopt rules necessary to implement livestock inspection performed by veterinarians and may adopt fees to cover the cost associated with certification of veterinarians.

(4) Members of the board shall receive compensation as provided by RCW 43.03.240 and travel expenses to meetings or in otherwise carrying out the duties of the board as provided under

RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. The board shall meet at least quarterly in each calendar year. The board shall hire staff as necessary to carry out its duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 16.57 RCW to read as follows:

There is established a Washington state livestock identification account in the agricultural local fund created under RCW 43.23.230 into which all moneys collected or received from registration, recording, inspection, or enforcement under this chapter and moneys collected or received by the board under chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW shall be deposited. These moneys shall be used solely for the Washington state livestock identification program. Only the board may authorize expenditures from this account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

Sec. 4. RCW 16.57.020 and 1994 c 46 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall be the recorder of livestock brands and such brands shall not be recorded elsewhere in this state. Any person desiring to register a livestock brand shall apply on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board. Such application shall be accompanied by a facsimile of the brand applied for and a ~~((thirty-five))~~ seventy-dollar recording fee. The ~~((director))~~ board shall, upon ~~((his or her))~~ their satisfaction that the application and brand facsimile meet the requirements of this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder, record such brand.

The director of agriculture may be designated by the board as the recorder of livestock brands. The recording fee shall be deposited by the director in the Washington state livestock identification account and shall be used solely for livestock identification program purposes as provided in this chapter and only as authorized by the board.

Sec. 5. RCW 16.57.030 and 1959 c 54 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall not record tattoo brands or marks for any purpose subsequent to the enactment of this chapter. However, all tattoo brands and marks of record on the date of the enactment of this chapter shall be recognized as legal ownership brands or marks.

Sec. 6. RCW 16.57.040 and 1974 ex.s. c 64 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may provide for the use of production record brands. Numbers for such brands shall be issued at the discretion of the ~~((director))~~ board and shall be placed on livestock immediately below the registered ownership brand or any other location prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board.

Sec. 7. RCW 16.57.070 and 1959 c 54 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall determine conflicting claims between applicants to a brand, and in so doing shall consider the priority of applicants.

Sec. 8. RCW 16.57.080 and 1994 c 46 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The director shall establish by rule a schedule for the renewal of registered brands.))~~ The fee for the renewal of ~~((the))~~ a brand~~((s))~~ registration shall be ~~((no less than twenty-five))~~ seventy dollars for each two-year period of brand ownership, except that the ~~((director))~~ board may~~((, in adopting a renewal schedule,))~~ provide for the collection of renewal fees on a prorated basis ~~((and may by rule increase the registration and renewal fee for brands by no more than fifty percent subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.))~~. At least sixty days before the expiration of a registered brand, the ~~((director))~~ board shall notify by letter the owner of record of the brand that on the payment of the requisite application fee and application of renewal the ~~((director))~~ board shall issue the proof of payment allowing the brand owner exclusive ownership and use of the brand for the subsequent registration period. The failure of the registered owner to pay the renewal fee by the date required by rule shall cause such owner's brand to revert to the ~~((department))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may for a period of one year following such reversion, reissue such brand only to the prior registered owner upon payment of the registration fee and a late filing fee ~~((to be prescribed by the director by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.))~~ of twenty dollars for renewal subsequent to the regular renewal period. The ~~((director))~~ board may at the ~~((director's))~~ board's discretion, if such brand is not reissued within one year to the prior registered owner, issue such brand to any other applicant.

Sec. 9. RCW 16.57.090 and 1994 c 46 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

A brand is the personal property of the owner of record. Any instrument affecting the title of such brand shall be acknowledged in the presence of the recorded owner and a notary public. The ~~((director))~~ board shall record such instrument upon presentation and payment of a recording fee not to exceed fifteen dollars to be prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015. Such recording shall be constructive notice to all the world of the existence and conditions affecting the title to such brand. A copy of all records concerning the brand, certified by the ~~((director))~~ board, shall be received in evidence to all intent and purposes as the original instrument. The ~~((director))~~ board shall not be personally liable for failure of the ~~((director's))~~ board's agents to properly record such instrument.

Sec. 10. RCW 16.57.100 and 1971 ex.s. c 135 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The right to use a brand shall be evidenced by the original certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ board showing that the brand is of present record or a certified copy of the record of such brand showing that it is of present record. A healed brand of record on livestock shall be prima facie evidence that the recorded owner of such brand has legal title to such livestock and is entitled to its possession: PROVIDED, That the ~~((director))~~ board may require additional proof of ownership of any animal showing more than one healed brand.

Sec. 11. RCW 16.57.105 and 1967 c 240 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person having a brand recorded with the ~~((department))~~ board shall have a preemptory right to use such brand and its design under any newly approved method of branding adopted by the ~~((director))~~ board.

Sec. 12. RCW 16.57.110 and 1959 c 54 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

No brand shall be placed on livestock that is not permanent in nature and of a size that is not readily visible. The ~~((director))~~ board, in order to assure that brands are readily visible, may prescribe the size of branding irons to be used for ownership brands.

Sec. 13. RCW 16.57.120 and 1991 c 110 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall remove or alter a brand of record on livestock without first having secured the written permission of the ~~((director))~~ board. Violation of this section shall be a gross misdemeanor punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 14. RCW 16.57.130 and 1959 c 54 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall not record a brand that is identical to a brand of present record; nor a brand so similar to a brand of present record that it will be difficult to distinguish between such brands when applied to livestock.

Sec. 15. RCW 16.57.140 and 1994 c 46 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner of a brand of record may procure from the ~~((director))~~ board a certified copy of the record of the owner's brand upon payment of a fee not to exceed seven dollars and fifty cents to be prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.

Sec. 16. RCW 16.57.150 and 1974 ex.s. c 64 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall publish a book to be known as the "Washington State Brand Book", showing all the brands of record. Such book shall contain the name and address of the owners of brands of record and a copy of the brand laws and regulations. Supplements to such brand book showing newly recorded brands, amendments or newly adopted regulations, shall be published biennially, or prior thereto at the discretion of the ~~((director))~~ board: PROVIDED, That whenever ~~((he deems it))~~ necessary, the ~~((director))~~ board may issue a new brand book.

Sec. 17. RCW 16.57.160 and 1991 c 110 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the ~~((director))~~ board may ~~((by))~~ adopt rules ~~((adopted subsequent to a public hearing designate))~~: Designating any point for mandatory ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle or horses or the furnishing of proof that cattle passing or being transported through such points have been ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected and are lawfully being moved; providing for self-inspection of cattle and horses; and providing for issuance of individual horse and cattle identification certificates or other means of horse and cattle identification.

~~((Further,))~~ (2) The ~~((director))~~ board or any peace officer may stop vehicles carrying cattle or horses to determine if ~~((such))~~ the cattle or horses are identified, branded, or accompanied by ~~((the form prescribed by the director under RCW 16.57.240 or a brand certificate issued by the department))~~ a certificate of permit, inspection certificate, self-inspection certificate, or other satisfactory proof of ownership, as determined by the board.

(3) Inspection shall not be required for any individual private sale of any unbranded dairy breed milk production cattle involving fifteen head or less.

Sec. 18. RCW 16.57.165 and 1971 ex.s. c 135 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may, in order to reduce the cost of ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection to livestock owners, enter into agreements with any qualified county, municipal, or other local law enforcement agency, or qualified individuals for the purpose of performing ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in areas where ~~((department brand))~~ livestock inspection by the department may not readily be available.

Sec. 19. RCW 16.57.170 and 1959 c 54 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may enter at any reasonable time any slaughterhouse or public livestock market to make an examination of the brands on livestock or hides, and may enter at any reasonable time an establishment where hides are held to examine them for brands. The ~~((director))~~ board may enter any of these premises at any reasonable time to examine all books and records required by law in matters relating to ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection or other methods of livestock identification.

Sec. 20. RCW 16.57.180 and 1959 c 54 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

Should the ~~((director))~~ board be denied access to any premises or establishment where such access was sought for the purposes set forth in RCW 16.57.170, ~~((he))~~ the board may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for a search warrant authorizing access to such premises or establishment for said purposes. The court may upon such application, issue the search warrant for the purposes requested.

Sec. 21. RCW 16.57.200 and 1959 c 54 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

Any owner or ~~((his))~~ an agent shall make the brand or brands on livestock being ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected readily visible and shall cooperate with the ~~((director))~~ board to carry out such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in a safe and expeditious manner.

Sec. 22. RCW 16.57.210 and 1959 c 54 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall have authority to arrest any person without warrant anywhere in the state found in the act of, or whom ~~((he))~~ the board has reason to believe is guilty of, driving, holding, selling or slaughtering stolen livestock. Any such person arrested by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be turned over to the sheriff of the county where the arrest was made, as quickly as possible.

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall cause a charge to be made for all ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle and horses required under this chapter and rules adopted hereunder. Such charges shall be paid to the ~~((department))~~ board by the owner or person in possession unless requested by the purchaser and then such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection shall be paid by the purchaser requesting such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection. Except as provided by rule, such inspection charges shall be due and payable at the time ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection is performed and shall be paid upon billing by the ~~((department))~~ board and if not shall constitute a prior lien on the cattle or cattle hides or horses or horse hides ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected until such charge is paid. The ~~((director))~~ board in order to best utilize the services of the ~~((department))~~ livestock inspector in performing ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection may establish schedules by days and hours when a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspector will be on duty to perform ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection at established inspection points. The fees for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection performed at inspection points according to schedules established by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be seventy-five cents per head for cattle and not more than three dollars per head for horses as prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015. Fees for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle and horses at points other than those designated by the ~~((director))~~ board or not in accord with the schedules established by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be based on a fee schedule not to exceed actual net cost to the ~~((department))~~ board of performing the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection service. For the purpose of this section, actual costs shall mean fifteen dollars per hour and the current mileage rate set by the office of financial management.

Sec. 24. RCW 16.57.230 and 1995 c 374 s 50 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall collect or make a charge for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of livestock unless there has been an actual ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of such livestock.

Sec. 25. RCW 16.57.240 and 1995 c 374 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Any person purchasing, selling, holding for sale, trading, bartering, transferring title, slaughtering, handling, or transporting cattle shall keep a record on forms prescribed by the director. Such forms))~~ (1) Certificates of permit, inspection certificates, and self-inspection certificates shall show the owner number, ~~((specie))~~ breed, sex, brand or other method of identification of ~~((such))~~ the cattle or horses and any other necessary information required by the director. ~~((The original shall be kept for a period of three years or shall be furnished to the director upon demand or as prescribed by rule, one copy shall accompany the cattle to their destination and shall be subject to inspection at any time by the director or any peace officer or member of the state patrol. PROVIDED, That in the following instances only, cattle may be moved or transported within this state without being accompanied by an official certificate of permit, brand inspection certificate, bill of sale, or self-inspection slip:-~~

~~(1) When such cattle are moved or transported upon lands under the exclusive control of the person moving or transporting such cattle;~~

~~(2) When such cattle are being moved or transported for temporary grazing or feeding purposes and have the registered brand of the person having or transporting such cattle.))~~

(2) The board may cause certificate of permit forms to be issued to any person on payment of a fee established by rule.

(3) Inspection certificates, self-inspection certificates, or other satisfactory proof of ownership shall be kept by the owner and/or person in possession of any cattle or horses and shall be furnished to the board or any peace officer upon demand.

(4) Cattle may not be moved or transported within this state without being accompanied by a certificate of permit, inspection certificate, or self-inspection certificate except:

(a) When the cattle are moved or transported upon lands under the exclusive control of the person moving or transporting the cattle; or

(b) When the cattle are being moved or transported for temporary grazing or feeding purposes and have the recorded brand of the person having or transporting the cattle.

(5) Certificates of permit, inspection certificates, or self-inspection certificates accompanying cattle being moved or transported within this state shall be subject to inspection at any time by the board or any peace officer.

Sec. 26. RCW 16.57.260 and 1981 c 296 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove or cause to be removed or accept for removal from this state, any cattle or horses which are not accompanied at all times by an official ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ board on such cattle or horses, except as provided in RCW 16.57.160.

Sec. 27. RCW 16.57.270 and 1959 c 54 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person moving or transporting livestock in this state to refuse to assist the ~~((director))~~ board or any peace officer in establishing the identity of such livestock being moved or transported.

Sec. 28. RCW 16.57.275 and 1967 c 240 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

Any cattle carcass, or primal part thereof, of any breed or age being transported in this state from other than a state or federal licensed and inspected slaughterhouse or common carrier hauling for such slaughterhouse, shall be accompanied by a certificate of permit signed by the owner of such carcass or primal part thereof and, if such carcass or primal part is delivered to a facility custom handling such carcasses or primal part thereof, such certificate of permit shall be deposited with the owner or manager of such custom handling facility and such certificate of permit shall be retained for a period of one year and be made available to the ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board for inspection during reasonable business hours. ~~((The owner of such carcass or primal part thereof shall mail a copy of the said certificate of permit to the department within ten days of said transportation.))~~

Sec. 29. RCW 16.57.280 and 1995 c 374 s 52 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall knowingly have unlawful possession of any livestock marked with a recorded brand or tattoo of another person unless:

- (1) Such livestock lawfully bears the person's own healed recorded brand; or
- (2) Such livestock is accompanied by a certificate of permit from the owner of the recorded brand or tattoo; or
- (3) Such livestock is accompanied by a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate; or
- (4) Such cattle is accompanied by a self-inspection slip; or
- (5) Such livestock is accompanied by a bill of sale from the previous owner or other satisfactory proof of ownership.

A violation of this section constitutes a gross misdemeanor punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 30. RCW 16.57.290 and 1995 c 374 s 53 are each amended to read as follows:

All unbranded cattle and horses and those bearing brands not recorded, in the current edition of this state's brand book, which are not accompanied by a certificate of permit, and those bearing brands recorded, in the current edition of this state's brand book, which are not accompanied by a certificate of permit signed by the owner of the brand when presented for inspection by the ~~((director))~~ board, shall be sold by the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative, unless other satisfactory proof of ownership is presented showing the person presenting them to be lawfully in possession. Upon the sale of such cattle or horses, the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative shall give the purchasers a bill of sale therefor, or, if theft is suspected, the cattle or horses may be impounded by the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative.

Sec. 31. RCW 16.57.300 and 1989 c 286 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

The proceeds from the sale of cattle and horses as provided for under RCW 16.57.290, after paying the cost thereof, shall be paid to the ~~((director))~~ board, who shall make a record showing the brand or marks or other method of identification of the animals and the amount realized from the sale thereof. However, the proceeds from a sale of such cattle or horses at a licensed public livestock market shall be held by the licensee for a reasonable period not to exceed thirty days to permit the consignor to establish ownership or the right to sell such cattle or horses. If such consignor fails to establish legal ownership or the right to sell such cattle or horses, such proceeds shall be paid to the ~~((director))~~ board to be disposed of as any other stray proceeds.

Sec. 32. RCW 16.57.310 and 1959 c 54 s 31 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person has been notified by registered mail that animals bearing his or her recorded brand have been sold by the ~~((director))~~ board, he or she shall present to the ~~((director))~~ board a claim on the proceeds within ten days from the receipt of the notice or the ~~((director))~~ board may decide that no claim exists.

Sec. 33. RCW 16.57.320 and 1991 c 110 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after the expiration of one year from the date of sale, the person presenting the animals for inspection has not provided the ~~((director))~~ board with satisfactory proof of ownership, the proceeds from the sale shall be paid on the claim of the owner of the recorded brand. However, it shall be a gross misdemeanor for the owner of the recorded brand to knowingly accept such funds after he or she has sold, bartered or traded such animals to the claimant or any other person. A gross misdemeanor under this section is punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 34. RCW 16.57.330 and 1959 c 54 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after the expiration of one year from the date of sale, no claim is made, the money shall be credited to the ~~((department of agriculture))~~ board to be expended in carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 35. RCW 16.57.340 and 1959 c 54 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall have the authority to enter into reciprocal agreements with any or all states to prevent the theft, misappropriation or loss of identification of livestock. The ~~((director))~~ board may declare any livestock which is shipped or moved into this state from such states estrays if such livestock is not accompanied by the proper official brand certificate or other such certificates required by the law of the state of origin of such livestock. The ~~((director))~~ board may hold such livestock subject to all costs of holding or sell such livestock and send the funds, after the deduction of the cost of such sale, to the proper authority in the state of origin of such livestock.

Sec. 36. RCW 16.57.350 and 1994 c 46 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt such rules as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the ~~((director))~~ board to enforce and carry out the provisions of this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director))~~ board when ~~((he or she))~~ the board is performing or carrying out duties imposed on ~~((him or her))~~ it by this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder.

Sec. 37. RCW 16.57.360 and 1991 c 110 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ board is authorized to issue notices of and enforce civil infractions in the manner prescribed under chapter 7.80 RCW.

The violation of any provision of this chapter and/or rules and regulations adopted hereunder shall constitute a class I civil infraction as provided under chapter 7.80 RCW unless otherwise specified herein.

Sec. 38. RCW 16.57.370 and 1959 c 54 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees collected under the provisions of this chapter shall be retained and deposited by the ~~((director))~~ board to be used only for the enforcement of this chapter.

Sec. 39. RCW 16.57.400 and 1994 c 46 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may provide by rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the issuance of individual horse and cattle identification certificates or other means of horse and cattle identification deemed appropriate. Such certificates or other means of identification shall be valid only for the use of the horse and cattle owner in whose name it is issued.

Horses and cattle identified pursuant to the provisions of this section and the rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder shall not be subject to ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection except when sold at points provided for in RCW ~~((16.57.380))~~ 16.57.160. The ~~((director))~~ board shall charge a fee for the certificates or other means of identification authorized pursuant to this section and no identification shall be issued until the ~~((director))~~ board has received the fee. The schedule of fees shall be established in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 40. RCW 16.57.407 and 1996 c 105 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board has the authority to conduct an investigation of an incident where scars or other marks indicate that a microchip has been removed from a horse.

Sec. 41. RCW 16.57.410 and 1993 c 354 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person may act as a registering agency without a permit issued by the ~~((department))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may issue a permit to any person or organization to act as a registering agency for the purpose of issuing permanent identification symbols for horses in a manner prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board. Application for such permit, or the renewal thereof by January 1 of each year, shall be on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board, and accompanied by the proof of registration to be issued, any other documents required by the ~~((director))~~ board, and a fee of one hundred dollars.

(2) Each registering agency shall maintain a permanent record for each individual identification symbol. The record shall include, but need not be limited to, the name, address, and phone number of the horse owner and a general description of the horse. A copy of each permanent record shall be forwarded to the ~~((director))~~ board, if requested by the ~~((director))~~ board.

(3) Individual identification symbols shall be inspected as required for brands under RCW 16.57.220 ~~((and 16.57.380))~~. Any horse presented for inspection and bearing such a symbol, but not accompanied by proof of registration and certificate of permit, shall be sold as provided under RCW 16.57.290 through 16.57.330.

(4) The ~~((director))~~ board shall adopt such rules as are necessary for the effective administration of this section pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 42. RCW 16.57.420 and 1993 c 105 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board may, in consultation with representatives of the ratite industry, develop by rule a system that provides for the identification of individual ratites through the use of microchipping. The ~~((department))~~ board may establish fees for the issuance or reissuance of microchipping numbers sufficient to cover the expenses of the ~~((department))~~ board.

Sec. 43. RCW 16.58.020 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of this chapter:

(1) "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the livestock identification board defined under RCW 16.57.010.

(2) "Certified feed lot" means any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as a commercial feed lot, cattle feed lot, or the like, which complies with all of the requirements of this chapter, and any ~~((regulations))~~ rules adopted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and which holds a valid license from the ~~((director))~~ board as hereinafter provided.

~~((2))~~ "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.

~~((3))~~ "Director" means the director of the department or his duly authorized representative.

~~((4))~~ (3) "Licensee" means any persons licensed under the provisions of this chapter.

~~((5))~~ (4) "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.

Sec. 44. RCW 16.58.030 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter. The adoption of such rules shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director when he))~~ board when it is performing or carrying out any duties imposed ~~((upon him))~~ by this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 45. RCW 16.58.040 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

On or after August 9, 1971, any person desiring to engage in the business of operating one or more certified feed lots shall obtain an annual license from the ~~((director))~~ board for such purpose. The application for a license shall be on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board and shall include the following:

(1) The number of certified feed lots the applicant intends to operate and their exact location and mailing address;

(2) The legal description of the land on which the certified feed lot will be situated;

(3) A complete description of the facilities used for feeding and handling of cattle at each certified feed lot;

(4) The estimated number of cattle which can be handled for feeding purposes at each such certified feed lot; and

(5) Any other information necessary to carry out the purpose and provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 46. RCW 16.58.050 and 1997 c 356 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The application for an annual license to engage in the business of operating one or more certified feed lots shall be accompanied by a license fee of seven hundred fifty dollars. Upon approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and compliance with the provisions of this chapter and rules adopted hereunder, the applicant shall be issued a license or a renewal thereof. The board shall conduct an inspection of all cattle and their corresponding ownership documents prior to issuing an original license. The inspection fee shall be the higher of the current inspection fee per head of cattle or time and mileage as set forth in RCW 16.57.220.

Sec. 47. RCW 16.58.060 and 1991 c 109 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall establish by rule an expiration date or dates for all certified feed lot licenses. License fees shall be prorated where necessary to accommodate staggering of expiration dates of a license or licenses. If an application for renewal of a certified feed lot license is not received by the ~~((department))~~ board per the date required by rule or should a person fail, refuse, or neglect to apply for renewal of a preexisting license on or before the date of expiration, that person shall be assessed an additional twenty-five dollars which shall be added to the regular license fee and shall be paid before the ~~((director))~~ board may issue a license to the applicant.

Sec. 48. RCW 16.58.070 and 1989 c 175 s 54 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board is authorized to deny, suspend, or revoke a license in accord with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW if ~~((he))~~ it finds that there has been a failure to comply with any requirement of this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. Hearings for the revocation, suspension, or denial of a license shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW concerning adjudicative proceedings.

Sec. 49. RCW 16.58.080 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

Every certified feed lot shall be equipped with a facility or a livestock pen, approved by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board as to location and construction within the ~~((said))~~ feed lot so that necessary ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection can be carried on in a proper, expeditious and safe manner. Each licensee shall furnish the ~~((director))~~ board with sufficient help necessary to carry out ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in the manner set forth above.

Sec. 50. RCW 16.58.095 and 1991 c 109 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

All cattle entering or reentering a certified feed lot must be inspected for brands upon entry, unless they are accompanied by a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, or any other agency authorized in any state or Canadian province by law to issue such a certificate. Licensees shall report a discrepancy between cattle entering or reentering a certified feed lot and the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate accompanying the cattle to the nearest ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspector immediately. A discrepancy may require an inspection of all the cattle entering or reentering the lot, except as may otherwise be provided by rule.

Sec. 51. RCW 16.58.100 and 1979 c 81 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall each year conduct audits of the cattle received, fed, handled, and shipped by the licensee at each certified feed lot. Such audits shall be for the purpose of determining if such cattle correlate with the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificates issued in their behalf and that the certificate of assurance furnished the ~~((director))~~ board by the licensee correlates with his or her assurance that ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected cattle were not commingled with uninspected cattle.

Sec. 52. RCW 16.58.110 and 1991 c 109 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

All certified feed lots shall furnish the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board with records as requested by ~~((him))~~ it from time to time on all cattle entering or on feed in ~~((said))~~ certified feed lots and dispersed therefrom. All such records shall be subject to examination by the ~~((director))~~ board for the purpose of maintaining the integrity of the identity of all such cattle. The ~~((director))~~ board may make the examinations only during regular business hours except in an emergency to protect the interest of the owners of such cattle.

Sec. 53. RCW 16.58.120 and 1991 c 109 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The licensee shall maintain sufficient records as required by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board at each certified feed lot, if ~~((said))~~ the licensee operates more than one certified feed lot.

Sec. 54. RCW 16.58.130 and 1997 c 356 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

Each licensee shall pay to the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a fee of twelve cents for each head of cattle handled through the licensee's feed lot. Payment of such fee shall be made by the licensee on a monthly basis. Failure to pay as required shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of a certified feed lot license. Further, the ~~((director))~~ board shall not renew a certified feed lot license if a licensee has failed to make prompt and timely payments.

Sec. 55. RCW 16.58.140 and 1979 c 81 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees provided for in this chapter shall be retained by the ~~((director))~~ board for the purpose of enforcing and carrying out the purpose and provisions of this chapter or chapter 16.57 RCW.

Sec. 56. RCW 16.58.150 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

No ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection shall be required when cattle are moved or transferred from one certified feed lot to another or the transfer of cattle from a certified feed lot to a point within this state, or out of state where this state maintains ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection, for the purpose of immediate slaughter.

Sec. 57. RCW 16.58.160 and 1991 c 109 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may, when a certified feed lot's conditions become such that the integrity of reports or records of the cattle therein becomes doubtful, suspend such certified feed lot's license until such time as the ~~((director))~~ board can conduct an investigation to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) The term "public livestock market" means any place, establishment or facility commonly known as a "public livestock market", "livestock auction market", "livestock sales ring", yards selling on commission, or the like, conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public livestock market, consisting of pens or other enclosures, and their appurtenances in which livestock is received, held, sold, kept for sale or shipment. The term does not include the operation of a person licensed under this chapter to operate a special open consignment horse sale.

~~((2))~~ ~~("Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.~~

~~((3))~~ ~~"Director" means the director of the department or his duly authorized representative.~~

~~((4))~~ "Licensee" means any person licensed under the provisions of this chapter.

~~((5))~~ ~~(3)~~ "Livestock" includes horses, mules, burros, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats.

~~((6))~~ ~~(4)~~ "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the board created in RCW

~~((5))~~ "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.

~~((7))~~ ~~(6)~~ "Stockyard" means any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as a stockyard consisting of pens or other enclosures and their appurtenances in which livestock services such as feeding, watering, weighing, sorting, receiving and shipping are offered to the public: PROVIDED, That stockyard shall not include any facilities where livestock is offered for sale at public auction, feed lots, or quarantined registered feed lots.

~~((8))~~ ~~(7)~~ "Packer" means any person engaged in the business of slaughtering, manufacturing, preparing meat or meat products for sale, marketing meat, meat food products or livestock products.

~~((9))~~ ~~(8)~~ "Deputy state veterinarian" means a graduate veterinarian authorized to practice in the state of Washington and appointed or deputized by the director of agriculture as his or her duly authorized representative.

~~((10))~~ ~~(9)~~ "Special open consignment horse sale" means a sale conducted by a person other than the operator of a public livestock market which is limited to the consignment of horses and donkeys only for sale on an occasional and seasonal basis.

Sec. 59. RCW 16.65.015 and 1983 c 298 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter does not apply to:

(1) A farmer selling his or her own livestock on the farmer's own premises by auction or any other method.

(2) A farmers' cooperative association or an association of livestock breeders when any class of their own livestock is assembled and offered for sale at a special sale on an occasional and seasonal basis under the association's management and responsibility, and the special sale has been approved by the ~~((director))~~ board in writing. However, the special sale shall be subject to brand and health inspection requirements as provided in this chapter for sales at public livestock markets.

Sec. 60. RCW 16.65.020 and 1983 c 298 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Public livestock markets and special open consignment horse sales shall be under the direction and supervision of the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, and the ~~((director))~~ board, but not ~~((his))~~ its duly authorized representative, may adopt such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the ~~((director))~~ board to enforce and carry out the provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director))~~ board when ~~((he))~~ it is performing or carrying out any duties imposed upon ~~((him))~~ it by this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 61. RCW 16.65.030 and 1995 c 374 s 54 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((On and after June 10, 1959,))~~ No person shall operate a public livestock market without first having obtained a license from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board. Application for ~~((such))~~ a license shall be in writing on forms prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board, and shall include the following:

(a) A nonrefundable original license application fee of fifteen hundred dollars.

(b) A legal description of the property upon which the public livestock market shall be located.

(c) A complete description and blueprints or plans of the public livestock market physical plant, yards, pens, and all facilities the applicant proposes to use in the operation of such public livestock market.

~~((A detailed statement showing all the assets and liabilities of the applicant which must reflect a sufficient net worth to construct or operate a public livestock market.))~~ A financial statement, compiled or audited by a certified or licensed public accountant, to determine whether or not the applicant meets the minimum net worth requirements, established by the director by rule, to construct and/or operate a public livestock market. If the applicant is a subsidiary of a larger company, corporation, society, or cooperative association, both the parent company and the subsidiary company must submit a financial statement to determine whether or not the applicant meets the minimum net worth requirements. All financial statement information required by this subsection is confidential information and not subject to public disclosure.

(e) The schedule of rates and charges the applicant proposes to impose on the owners of livestock for services rendered in the operation of such livestock market.

(f) The weekly or monthly sales day or days on which the applicant proposes to operate his or her public livestock market sales and the class of livestock that may be sold on these days.

(g) Projected source and quantity of livestock ~~((, by county,))~~ anticipated to be handled.

(h) Projected ~~((income and expense statements for))~~ gross dollar volume of business to be carried on, at, or through the public livestock market during the first year's operation.

(i) Facts upon which ~~((are))~~ is based the conclusion that the trade area and the livestock industry will benefit because of the proposed market.

(j) ~~((Such))~~ Other information as the ~~((director))~~ board may ~~((reasonably))~~ require by rule.

(2) ~~((The director shall, after public hearing as provided by chapter 34.05 RCW, grant or deny an application for original license for a public livestock market after considering evidence and testimony relating to all of the requirements of this section and giving reasonable consideration at the same hearing to:~~

~~((a) Benefits to the livestock industry to be derived from the establishment and operation of the public livestock market proposed in the application; and~~

~~((b) The present market services elsewhere available to the trade area proposed to be served.~~

~~((3) Applications for renewal under RCW 16.65.040 shall include all information under subsection (1) of this section, except subsection (1)(a) of this section.))~~ If the board determines that the applicant meets all the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, the director shall conduct a public hearing as provided by chapter 34.05 RCW, and shall grant or deny an application for original license for a public livestock market after considering evidence and testimony relating to the requirements of this section and giving reasonable consideration to:

(a) Benefits to the livestock industry to be derived from the establishment and operation of the public livestock market proposed in the application;

(b) The geographical area that will be affected;

(c) The conflict, if any, with sales days already allocated in the area;

(d) The amount and class of livestock available for marketing in the area;

(e) Buyers available to the proposed market; and

(f) Any other conditions affecting the orderly marketing of livestock.

(3) Before a license is issued to operate a public livestock market, the applicant must:

(a) Execute and deliver to the director a surety bond as required under RCW 16.65.200;

(b) Provide evidence of a custodial account, as required under RCW 16.65.140, for the consignor's proceeds;

(c) Pay the appropriate license fee; and

(d) Provide other information required under this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

Sec. 62. RCW 16.65.037 and 1997 c 356 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and compliance with the provisions of this chapter, the applicant shall be issued a license or renewal thereof. Any license issued under the provisions of this chapter shall only be valid at location and for the sales day or days for which the license was issued.

(2) The license fee shall be based on the average gross sales volume per official sales day of that market:

(a) Markets with an average gross sales volume up to and including ten thousand dollars, a one hundred fifty dollar fee;

(b) Markets with an average gross sales volume over ten thousand dollars and up to and including fifty thousand dollars, a three hundred fifty dollar fee; and

(c) Markets with an average gross sales volume over fifty thousand dollars, a four hundred fifty dollar fee.

The fees for public market licenses shall be set by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.

(3) Any applicant operating more than one public livestock market shall make a separate application for a license to operate each such public livestock market, and each such application shall be accompanied by the appropriate application fee.

Sec. 63. RCW 16.65.040 and 1983 c 298 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

All public livestock market licenses provided for in this chapter shall expire on March 1st subsequent to the date of issue. Any person who fails, refuses, or neglects to apply for a renewal of a preexisting license on or before the date of expiration, shall pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars, which shall be added to the regular license fee, before such license may be renewed by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board.

Sec. 64. RCW 16.65.042 and 1983 c 298 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall not operate a special open consignment horse sale without first obtaining a license from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board. The application for the license shall include:

(a) A detailed statement showing all of the assets and liabilities of the applicant;

(b) The schedule of rates and charges the applicant proposes to impose on the owners of horses for services rendered in the operation of the horse sale;

(c) The specific date and exact location of the proposed sale;

(d) Projected quantity and approximate value of horses to be handled; and

(e) Such other information as the ~~((director))~~ board may reasonably require.

(2) The application shall be accompanied by a license fee of one hundred dollars. Upon the approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ board and compliance with this chapter, the applicant shall be issued a license. A special open consignment horse sale license is valid only for the specific date or dates and exact location for which the license was issued.

Sec. 65. RCW 16.65.050 and 1959 c 107 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees ~~((provided for))~~ collected or received by the board under this chapter shall be ~~((retained by the director))~~ deposited by the board in the livestock identification account created in section 3 of this act. Moneys collected under this chapter may be expended by the board without appropriation for the purpose of enforcing this chapter.

(1) The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board is authorized to deny, suspend, or revoke a license in the manner prescribed herein, when there are findings by the ~~((director))~~ board that any licensee (a) has been guilty of fraud or misrepresentation as to titles, charges, numbers, brands, weights, proceeds of sale, or ownership of livestock; (b) has attempted payment to a consignor by a check the licensee knows not to be backed by sufficient funds to cover such check; (c) has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder; (d) has violated any laws of the state that require health or ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of livestock; (e) has violated any condition of the bond, as provided in this chapter. However, the ~~((director))~~ board may deny a license if the applicant refuses to accept the sales day or days allocated to ~~((him))~~ it under the provisions of this chapter.

(2) In all proceedings for revocation, suspension, or denial of a license the licensee or applicant shall be given an opportunity to be heard in regard to such revocation, suspension or denial of a license. The ~~((director))~~ board shall give the licensee or applicant twenty days' notice in writing and such notice shall specify the charges or reasons for such revocation, suspension or denial. The notice shall also state the date, time and place where such hearing is to be held. Such hearings shall be held in the city where the licensee has his or her principal place of business, or where the applicant resides, unless some other place be agreed upon by the parties, and the defendant may be represented by counsel.

(3) The ~~((director))~~ board may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses, and/or the production of books or documents anywhere in the state. The applicant or licensee shall have opportunity to be heard, and may have such subpoenas issued as he or she desires. Subpoenas shall be served in the same manner as in civil cases in the superior court. Witnesses shall testify under oath which may be administered by the ~~((director))~~ board. Testimony shall be recorded, and may be taken by deposition under such rules as the ~~((director))~~ board may prescribe.

(4) The ~~((director))~~ board shall hear and determine the charges, make findings and conclusions upon the evidence produced, and file them in ~~((his))~~ its office, together with a record of all of the evidence, and serve upon the accused a copy of such findings and conclusions.

Sec. 67. RCW 16.65.090 and 1997 c 356 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall provide for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection. When such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection is required the licensee shall collect from the consignor and pay to the ~~((department))~~ board, as provided by law, a fee for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection for each animal consigned to the public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale. However, if in any one sale day the total fees collected for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection do not exceed ninety dollars, then such licensee shall pay ninety dollars for such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection or as much thereof as the ~~((director))~~ board may prescribe.

Sec. 68. RCW 16.65.100 and 1983 c 298 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The licensee of each public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale shall collect from any purchaser of livestock requesting ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection a fee as provided by law for each animal inspected. Such fee shall be in addition to the fee charged to the consignor for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection and shall not apply to the minimum fee chargeable to the licensee.

Each licensee shall establish a custodial account for consignor's proceeds. All funds derived from the sale of livestock handled on a commission or agency basis shall be deposited in that account. Such account shall be drawn on only for the payment of net proceeds to the consignor, or such other person or persons of whom such licensee has knowledge is entitled to such proceeds, and to obtain from such proceeds only the sums due the licensee as compensation for his or her services as are set out in his or her tariffs, and for such sums as are necessary to pay all legal charges against the consignment of livestock which the licensee in his or her capacity as agent is required to pay for on behalf of the consignor or shipper. The licensee in each case shall keep such accounts and records that will at all times disclose the names of the consignors and the amount due and payable to each from the funds in the custodial account for consignor's proceeds. The licensee shall maintain the custodial account for consignor's proceeds in a manner that will expedite examination by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and reflect compliance with the requirements of this section.

No person shall hereafter operate a public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale unless such person has filed a schedule with the application for license to operate such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale. Such schedule shall show all rates and charges for stockyard services to be furnished by such person at such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale.

(1) Schedules shall be posted conspicuously at the public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, and shall plainly state all such rates and charges in such detail as the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may require, and shall state any rules ~~((and regulations))~~ which in any manner change, affect, or determine any part of the aggregate of such rates or charges, or the value of the stockyard services furnished. The ~~((director))~~ board may determine and prescribe the form and manner in which such schedule shall be prepared, arranged and posted.

(2) No changes shall be made in rates or charges so filed and published except after thirty days' notice to the ~~((director))~~ board and to the public filed and posted as aforesaid, which shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made and the time such changes will go into effect.

(3) No licensee shall charge, demand or collect a greater or a lesser or a different compensation for such service than the rates and charges specified in the schedule filed with the ~~((director))~~ board and in effect at the time; nor shall a licensee refund or remit in any manner any portion of the rates or charges so specified (but this shall not prohibit a cooperative association of producers from properly returning to its members, on a patronage basis, its excess earnings on their livestock); nor shall a licensee extend to any person at such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale any stockyard services except such as are specified in such schedule.

Before the license is issued to operate a public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, the applicant shall execute and deliver to the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a surety bond in a sum as herein provided for, executed by the applicant as principal and by a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in this state as surety. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be a standard form and approved by the ~~((director))~~ board as to terms and conditions. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be conditioned that the principal will not commit any fraudulent act and will comply with the provisions of this chapter and the rules ~~((and/or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be to the state in favor of every consignor and/or vendor creditor whose livestock was handled or sold through or at the licensee's public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale: PROVIDED, That if such applicant is bonded as a market agency under the provisions of the packers and stockyards act, (7 U.S.C. 181) as amended, on March 20, 1961, in a sum equal to or greater than the sum required under the provisions of this chapter, and such applicant furnishes the ~~((director))~~ board with a bond approved by the United States secretary of agriculture ~~((naming the department as trustee))~~, the ~~((director))~~ board may accept such bond and its method of termination in lieu of the bond provided for herein and issue a license if such applicant meets all the other requirements of this chapter.

The total and aggregate liability of the surety for all claims upon the bond shall be limited to the face of such bond. Every bond filed with and approved by the ~~((director))~~ board shall, without the necessity of periodic renewal, remain in force and effect until such time as the license of the licensee is revoked for cause or otherwise canceled. The surety on a bond, as provided herein, shall be released and discharged from all liability to the state accruing on such bond upon compliance with the provisions of RCW 19.72.110 concerning notice and proof of service, as enacted or hereafter amended, but this shall not operate to relieve, release or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue (due and to become due hereunder) before the expiration period provided for in RCW 19.72.110 concerning notice and proof of service as enacted or hereafter amended, and unless the principal shall before the expiration of such period, file a new bond, the ~~((director))~~ board shall forthwith cancel the principal's license.

Sec. 72. RCW 16.65.220 and 1971 ex.s. c 192 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

If the application for a license to operate a public livestock market is from a new public livestock market which has not operated in the past twelve-month period, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall determine a bond, in a reasonable sum, that the applicant shall execute in favor of the state, which shall not be less than ten thousand dollars nor greater than twenty-five thousand dollars: PROVIDED, That the ~~((director))~~ board may at any time, upon written notice, review the licensee's operations and determine whether, because of increased or decreased sales, the amount of the bond should be altered.

Sec. 73. RCW 16.65.235 and 1973 c 142 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

In lieu of the surety bond required under the provisions of this chapter, an applicant or licensee may file with the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a deposit consisting of cash or other security acceptable to the ~~((director))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt rules ~~((and regulations))~~ necessary for the administration of such security.

Sec. 74. RCW 16.65.250 and 1959 c 107 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board or any vendor or consignor creditor may also bring action upon ~~((said))~~ the bond against both principal and surety in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the damages caused by any failure to comply with the provisions of this chapter and the rules ~~((and/or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 75. RCW 16.65.260 and 1983 c 298 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

In case of failure by a licensee to pay amounts due a vendor or consignor creditor whose livestock was handled or sold through or at the licensee's public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, as evidenced by a verified complaint filed with the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, the ~~((director))~~ board may proceed forthwith to ascertain the names and addresses of all vendor or consignor creditors of such licensee, together with the amounts due and owing to them and each of them by such licensee, and shall request all such vendor and consignor creditors to file a verified statement of their respective claims with the ~~((director))~~ board. Such request shall be addressed to each known vendor or consignor creditor at his or her last known address.

Sec. 76. RCW 16.65.270 and 1959 c 107 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

If a vendor or consignor creditor so addressed fails, refuses or neglects to file in the office of the ~~((director his))~~ livestock identification board a verified claim as requested by the ~~((director))~~ board within sixty days from the date of such request, the ~~((director))~~ board shall thereupon be relieved of further duty or action hereunder on behalf of ~~((said))~~ the producer or consignor creditor.

Sec. 77. RCW 16.65.280 and 1959 c 107 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

Where by reason of the absence of records, or other circumstances making it impossible or unreasonable for the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board to ascertain the names and addresses of all ~~((said))~~ the vendor and consignor creditors, the ~~((director))~~ board, after exerting due diligence and making reasonable inquiry to secure ~~((said))~~ the information from all reasonable and available sources, may make demand on ~~((said))~~ the bond on the basis of information then in ~~((his))~~ its possession, and thereafter shall not be liable or responsible for claims or the handling of claims which may subsequently appear or be discovered.

Sec. 78. RCW 16.65.290 and 1959 c 107 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon ascertaining all claims and statements in the manner herein set forth, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may then make demand upon the bond on behalf of those claimants whose statements have been filed, and shall have the power to settle or compromise ~~((said))~~ the claims with the surety company on the bond, and is empowered in such cases to execute and deliver a release and discharge of the bond involved.

Sec. 79. RCW 16.65.300 and 1959 c 107 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the refusal of the surety company to pay the demand, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may thereupon bring an action on the bond in behalf of ~~((said))~~ the vendor and consignor creditors. Upon any action being commenced on ~~((said))~~ the bond, the ~~((director))~~ board may require the filing of a new bond. Immediately upon the recovery in any action on such bond such licensee shall file a new bond. Upon failure to file the same within ten days, in either case, such failure shall constitute grounds for the suspension or revocation of his or her license.

In any settlement or compromise by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board with a surety company as provided in RCW 16.65.290, where there are two or more consignor and/or vendor creditors that have filed claims, either fixed or contingent, against a licensee's bond, such creditors shall share pro rata in the proceeds of the bond to the extent of their actual damage: PROVIDED, That the claims of the state and the ~~((department))~~ board which may accrue from the conduct of the licensee's public livestock market shall have priority over all other claims.

Sec. 81. RCW 16.65.320 and 1985 c 415 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board on the ~~((director's))~~ board's own motion or upon the verified complaint of any vendor or consignor against any licensee, or agent, or any person assuming or attempting to act as such, shall have full authority to make any and all necessary investigations. The ~~((director))~~ board is empowered to administer oaths of verification of such complaints.

Sec. 82. RCW 16.65.330 and 1959 c 107 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of making investigations as provided for in RCW 16.65.320, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may enter a public livestock market and examine any records required under the provisions of this chapter. The ~~((director))~~ board shall have full authority to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses before ~~((him))~~ it, together with all books, memorandums, papers, and other documents relative to the matters under investigation, and to administer oaths and take testimony thereunder.

Sec. 83. RCW 16.65.340 and 1967 c 192 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall, when livestock is sold, traded, exchanged or handled at or through a public livestock market, require such testing, treating, identifying, examining and record keeping of such livestock by a ~~((deputy))~~ state licensed and accredited veterinarian employed by the market as in the ~~((director's))~~ board's judgment may be necessary to prevent the spread of brucellosis, tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, ~~((hog cholera))~~ pseudorabies, or any other infectious, contagious or communicable disease among the livestock of this state. The state veterinarian or his or her authorized representative may conduct additional testing and examinations for the same purpose.

~~((1))~~ The director of the department of agriculture shall ~~((perform all tests and make all examinations required under the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted hereunder: PROVIDED, That veterinary inspectors of the United States department of agriculture may be appointed by the director to make such examinations and tests as are provided for in this chapter without bond or compensation, and shall have the same authority and power in this state as a deputy state veterinarian.~~

~~((2))~~ The director shall have the responsibility for the direction and control of) adopt rules regarding sanitary practices and health practices and standards and for the examination of animals at public livestock markets. ((The deputy state veterinarian at any such public livestock market shall notify the licensee or his managing agent, in writing, of insanitary practices or conditions. Such deputy state veterinarian shall notify the director if the improper sanitary practices or conditions are not corrected within the time specified. The director shall investigate and upon finding such report correct shall take appropriate action to hold a hearing on the suspension or revocation of the licensee's license.))

(1) The floors of all pens and alleys that are part of a public livestock market shall be constructed of concrete or similar impervious material and kept in good repair, with a slope of not less than one-fourth inch per foot to adequate drains leading to an approved sewage system: PROVIDED, That the (~~director~~) livestock identification board may designate certain pens within such public livestock markets as feeding and holding pens and the floors and alleys of such pens shall not be subject to the aforementioned surfacing requirements.

(2) Feeding and holding pens maintained in an area adjacent to a public livestock market shall be constructed and separated from such public livestock market, in a manner prescribed by the director of agriculture, in order to prevent the spread of communicable diseases to the livestock sold or held for sale in such public livestock market.

(3) All yards, chutes and pens used in handling livestock shall be constructed of such materials which will render them easily cleaned and disinfected, and such yards, pens and chutes shall be kept clean, sanitary and in good repair at all times, as required by the director of agriculture.

(4) Sufficient calf pens of adequate size to prevent overcrowding shall be provided, and such pens, when used, shall be cleaned and disinfected no later than the day subsequent to each sale.

(5) All swine pens, when used, shall be cleaned and disinfected no later than the day subsequent to each sale.

(6) A water system carrying a pressure of forty pounds and supplying sufficient water to thoroughly wash all pens, floors, alleys and equipment shall be provided.

(7) Sufficient quarantine pens of adequate capacity shall be provided. Such pens shall be used to hold only cattle reacting to brucellosis and tuberculosis or to quarantine livestock with other contagious or communicable diseases and shall be:

- (a) hard surfaced with concrete or similar impervious material and shall be kept in good repair;
- (b) provided with separate watering facilities;
- (c) painted white with the word "quarantine" painted in red letters not less than four inches high on such quarantine pen's gate;
- (d) provided with a tight board fence not less than five and one-half feet high;
- (e) cleaned and disinfected not later than one day subsequent to the date of sale.

To prevent the spread of communicable diseases among livestock, the director of agriculture shall have the authority to cause the cleaning and disinfecting of any area or all areas of a public livestock market and equipment or vehicles with a complete coverage of disinfectants approved by the director.

Sec. 86. RCW 16.65.420 and 1991 c 17 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any application for sales days or days for a new salesyard, and any application for a change of sales day or days or additional sales day or days for an existing yard shall be subject to approval by the (~~director~~) livestock identification board, subsequent to a hearing as provided for in this chapter and the (~~director~~) board is hereby authorized to allocate these dates and type and class of livestock which may be sold on these dates. In considering the allocation of such sales days, the (~~director~~) board shall give appropriate consideration, among other relevant factors, to the following:

- (a) The geographical area which will be affected;
- (b) The conflict, if any, with sales days already allocated in the area;
- (c) The amount and class of livestock available for marketing in the area;
- (d) Buyers available to such market;
- (e) Any other conditions affecting the orderly marketing of livestock.

(2) No special sales shall be conducted by the licensee unless the licensee has applied to the (~~director~~) board in writing fifteen days prior to such proposed sale and such sale date shall be approved at the discretion of the (~~director~~) board.

(3) In any case that a licensee fails to conduct sales on the sales days allocated to the licensee, the (~~director~~) board shall, subsequent to a hearing, be authorized to revoke an allocation for nonuse. The rate of usage required to maintain an allocation shall be established by rule.

Sec. 87. RCW 16.65.422 and 1963 c 232 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

A producer of purebred livestock may, upon obtaining a permit from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, conduct a public sale of the purebred livestock on an occasional or seasonal basis on premises other than his or her own farm. Application for such special sale shall be in writing to the ~~((director))~~ board for ~~((his))~~ its approval at least fifteen days before the proposed public sale is scheduled to be held by such producer.

Sec. 88. RCW 16.65.423 and 1983 c 298 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall have the authority to issue a public livestock market license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter limited to the sale of horses and/or mules and to allocate a sales day or days to such licensee. The ~~((director))~~ board is hereby authorized and directed to adopt ~~((regulations))~~ rules for facilities and sanitation applicable to such a license. The facility requirements of RCW 16.65.360 shall not be applicable to such licensee's operation as provided for in this section.

Sec. 89. RCW 16.65.424 and 1963 c 232 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall have the authority to grant a licensee an additional sales day or days limited to the sale of horses and/or mules and may if requested grant the licensee, by permit, the authority to have the sale at premises other than at his or her public livestock market if the facilities are approved by the ~~((director))~~ board as being adequate for the protection of the health and safety of such horses and/or mules. For the purpose of such limited sale the facility requirements of RCW 16.65.360 shall not be applicable.

Sec. 90. RCW 16.65.445 and 1989 c 175 s 55 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall hold public hearings upon a proposal to promulgate any new or amended ~~((regulations))~~ rules and all hearings for the denial, revocation, or suspension of a license issued under this chapter or in any other adjudicative proceeding, and shall comply in all respects with chapter 34.05 RCW, the Administrative Procedure Act.

Sec. 91. RCW 16.65.450 and 1991 c 17 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Any licensee or applicant who feels aggrieved by an order of the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may appeal to the superior court of the county in the state of Washington of the residence of the licensee or applicant where the trial on such appeal shall be held de novo.

Sec. 92. RCW 16.04.025 and 1989 c 286 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

If the owner or the person having in charge or possession such animals is unknown to the person sustaining the damage, the person retaining such animals shall, within twenty-four hours, notify the county sheriff or the nearest state brand inspector as to the number, description, and location of the animals. The county sheriff or brand inspector shall examine the animals by brand, tattoo, or other identifying characteristics and attempt to ascertain ownership. If the animal is marked with a brand or tattoo which is registered with the ~~((director of agriculture))~~ livestock identification board, the brand inspector or county sheriff shall furnish this information and other pertinent information to the person holding the animals who in turn shall send the notice required in RCW 16.04.020 to the animals' owner of record by certified mail.

If the county sheriff or the brand inspector determines that there is no apparent damage to the property of the person retaining the animals, or if the person sustaining the damage contacts the county sheriff or brand inspector to have the animals removed from his or her property, such animals shall be removed in accordance with chapter 16.24 RCW. Such removal shall not prejudice the property owner's ability to recover damages through civil suit.

Sec. 93. RCW 41.06.070 and 1996 c 319 s 3, 1996 c 288 s 33, and 1996 c 186 s 109 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

(a) The members of the legislature or to any employee of, or position in, the legislative branch of the state government including members, officers, and employees of the legislative council, joint legislative audit and review committee, statute law committee, and any interim committee of the legislature;

(s) Officers and employees of any commission formed under chapter 15.66 RCW;

(t) Officers and employees of the state wheat commission formed under chapter 15.63 RCW;

(u) Officers and employees of agricultural commissions formed under chapter 15.65 RCW;

(v) Officers and employees of the nonprofit corporation formed under chapter 67.40 RCW;

(w) Executive assistants for personnel administration and labor relations in all state agencies employing such executive assistants including but not limited to all departments, offices, commissions, committees, boards, or other bodies subject to the provisions of this chapter and this subsection shall prevail over any provision of law inconsistent herewith unless specific exception is made in such law;

(x) In each agency with fifty or more employees: Deputy agency heads, assistant directors or division directors, and not more than three principal policy assistants who report directly to the agency head or deputy agency heads;

(y) All employees of the marine employees' commission;

(z) Up to a total of five senior staff positions of the western library network under chapter 27.26 RCW responsible for formulating policy or for directing program management of a major administrative unit. This subsection (1)(z) shall expire on June 30, 1997;

(aa) Staff employed by the department of community, trade, and economic development to administer energy policy functions and manage energy site evaluation council activities under RCW 43.21F.045(2)(m);

(bb) Staff employed by Washington State University to administer energy education, applied research, and technology transfer programs under RCW 43.21F.045 as provided in RCW 28B.30.900(5);

(cc) Officers and employees of the livestock identification board created under RCW 16.57.015.

(2) The following classifications, positions, and employees of institutions of higher education and related boards are hereby exempted from coverage of this chapter:

(a) Members of the governing board of each institution of higher education and related boards, all presidents, vice-presidents, and their confidential secretaries, administrative, and personal assistants; deans, directors, and chairs; academic personnel; and executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions employed by institutions of higher education; principal assistants to executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions; other managerial or professional employees in an institution or related board having substantial responsibility for directing or controlling program operations and accountable for allocation of resources and program results, or for the formulation of institutional policy, or for carrying out personnel administration or labor relations functions, legislative relations, public information, development, senior computer systems and network programming, or internal audits and investigations; and any employee of a community college district whose place of work is one which is physically located outside the state of Washington and who is employed pursuant to RCW 28B.50.092 and assigned to an educational program operating outside of the state of Washington;

(b) Student, part-time, or temporary employees, and part-time professional consultants, as defined by the Washington personnel resources board, employed by institutions of higher education and related boards;

(c) The governing board of each institution, and related boards, may also exempt from this chapter classifications involving research activities, counseling of students, extension or continuing education activities, graphic arts or publications activities requiring prescribed academic preparation or special training as determined by the board: PROVIDED, That no nonacademic employee engaged in office, clerical, maintenance, or food and trade services may be exempted by the board under this provision;

(d) Printing craft employees in the department of printing at the University of Washington.

(3) In addition to the exemptions specifically provided by this chapter, the Washington personnel resources board may provide for further exemptions pursuant to the following procedures. The governor or other appropriate elected official may submit requests for exemption to the Washington personnel resources board stating the reasons for requesting such exemptions. The Washington personnel resources board shall hold a public hearing, after proper notice, on requests submitted pursuant to this subsection. If the board determines that the position for which exemption is requested is one involving substantial responsibility for the formulation of basic agency or executive policy or one involving directing and controlling program operations of an agency or a major administrative division thereof, the Washington personnel resources board shall grant the request and such determination shall be final as to any decision made before July 1, 1993. The total number of additional exemptions permitted under this subsection shall not exceed one percent of the number of employees in the classified service not including employees of institutions of higher education and related boards for those agencies not directly under the authority of any elected public official other than the governor, and shall not exceed a total of twenty-five for all agencies under the authority of elected public officials other than the governor. The Washington personnel resources board shall report to each regular session of the legislature during an odd-numbered year all exemptions granted under subsections (1)(w) and (x) and (2) of this section, together with the reasons for such exemptions.

The salary and fringe benefits of all positions presently or hereafter exempted except for the chief executive officer of each agency, full-time members of boards and commissions, administrative assistants and confidential secretaries in the immediate office of an elected state official, and the personnel listed in subsections (1)(j) through (v), (y), (z), and (2) of this section, shall be determined by the Washington personnel resources board. However, beginning with changes proposed for the 1997-99 fiscal biennium, changes to the classification plan affecting exempt salaries must meet the same provisions for classified salary increases resulting from adjustments to the classification plan as outlined in RCW 41.06.152.

Any person holding a classified position subject to the provisions of this chapter shall, when and if such position is subsequently exempted from the application of this chapter, be afforded the following rights: If such person previously held permanent status in another classified position, such person shall have a right of reversion to the highest class of position previously held, or to a position of similar nature and salary.

Any classified employee having civil service status in a classified position who accepts an appointment in an exempt position shall have the right of reversion to the highest class of position previously held, or to a position of similar nature and salary.

A person occupying an exempt position who is terminated from the position for gross misconduct or malfeasance does not have the right of reversion to a classified position as provided for in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 94. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows: Financial statements provided under RCW 16.65.030(1)(d) are exempt from disclosure under this chapter.

Sec. 95. RCW 43.23.230 and 1988 c 254 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The agricultural local fund is hereby established in the custody of the state treasurer. The fund shall consist of such money as is directed by law for deposit in the fund, and such other money not subject to appropriation that the department authorizes to be deposited in the fund. Any money deposited in the fund, the use of which has been restricted by law, may only be expended in accordance with those restrictions. Except as provided in section 3 of this act, the department may make disbursements from the fund. The fund is not subject to legislative appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 96. (1) On the effective date of this section, all powers, duties, and functions of the department of agriculture under chapters 16.57, 16.58, and 16.65 RCW except those identified as remaining with the department in RCW 16.65.350 and 16.65.360 are transferred to the livestock identification board. The authority to adopt rules regarding those powers, duties, and functions is transferred to the livestock identification board and the administration of those powers, duties, and functions is transferred to the board.

(2)(a) All funds, credits, or other assets, including but not limited to those in the agricultural local fund, held by the department of agriculture in connection with the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall be assigned to the board.

(b) Whenever any question arises as to the transfer of any funds, books, documents, records, papers, files, equipment, or other tangible property used or held in the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties and functions transferred, the director of financial management shall make a determination as to the proper allocation and certify the same to the state agencies concerned.

(3) All rules of the department of agriculture adopted under chapter 16.57 RCW in effect on the effective date of this section, all rules adopted by the department under chapter 16.58 RCW in effect on the effective date of this section, and all rules adopted by the department under chapter 16.65 RCW, except for those adopted under the authorities retained by the department under RCW 16.65.350 and 16.65.360, in effect on the effective date of this section are, on the effective date of this section, rules of the livestock identification board. All proposed rules and all pending business before the department of agriculture pertaining to the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall be continued and acted upon by the board. All existing contracts and obligations shall remain in full force and shall be performed by the board. All registrations made with the department under chapter 16.57 RCW, all licenses issued by the department under chapter 16.58 RCW, and all licenses issued by the department under chapter 16.65 RCW before the effective date of this section shall be considered to be registrations with and licenses issued by the board.

(4) The transfer of the powers, duties, and functions of the department of agriculture shall not affect the validity of any act performed before the effective date of this section. The board shall take action to enforce against violations of chapters 16.57, 16.58, and 16.65 RCW and rules adopted thereunder regarding authorities transferred to the board by this act which occurred before the effective date of this section and for which enforcement is not taken by the department before the effective date of this section with the same force and effect as it may take actions to enforce chapters 16.57 and 16.58 RCW and rules adopted thereunder after the effective date of this section. Any enforcement action taken by the department of agriculture under chapter 16.57, 16.58, or 16.65 RCW regarding authorities transferred to the board by this act, or the rules adopted thereunder and not concluded before the effective date of this section, shall be continued in the name of the board.

(5) As used in this section "livestock identification board" and "board" means the board created under RCW 16.57.015.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 97. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

1. 1997 c 356 s 3;
2. 1997 c 356 s 5;
3. 1997 c 356 s 9;
4. 1997 c 356 s 11;
5. RCW 16.57.380 and 1991 c 110 s 8, 1981 c 296 s 22, & 1974 ex.s. c 38 s 1; and
6. RCW 16.65.110 and 1959 c 107 s 11.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 98. This act takes effect July 1, 1998, except that appointments may be made by the governor and proposed contracts may be developed under RCW 16.57.015 prior to July 1, 1998, to provide for an orderly transition of authority under this act."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "livestock;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 16.57.010, 16.57.015, 16.57.020, 16.57.030, 16.57.040, 16.57.070, 16.57.080, 16.57.090, 16.57.100, 16.57.105, 16.57.110, 16.57.120, 16.57.130, 16.57.140, 16.57.150, 16.57.160, 16.57.165, 16.57.170, 16.57.180, 16.57.200, 16.57.210, 16.57.220, 16.57.230, 16.57.240, 16.57.260, 16.57.270, 16.57.275, 16.57.280, 16.57.290, 16.57.300, 16.57.310, 16.57.320, 16.57.330, 16.57.340, 16.57.350, 16.57.360, 16.57.370, 16.57.400, 16.57.407, 16.57.410, 16.57.420, 16.58.020, 16.58.030, 16.58.040, 16.58.050, 16.58.060, 16.58.070, 16.58.080, 16.58.095, 16.58.100, 16.58.110, 16.58.120, 16.58.130, 16.58.140, 16.58.150, 16.58.160, 16.65.010, 16.65.015, 16.65.020, 16.65.030, 16.65.037, 16.65.040, 16.65.042, 16.65.050, 16.65.080, 16.65.090, 16.65.100, 16.65.140, 16.65.190, 16.65.200, 16.65.220, 16.65.235, 16.65.250, 16.65.260, 16.65.270, 16.65.280, 16.65.290, 16.65.300, 16.65.310, 16.65.320, 16.65.330, 16.65.340, 16.65.350, 16.65.360, 16.65.420, 16.65.422, 16.65.423, 16.65.424, 16.65.445, 16.65.450, 16.04.025, and 43.23.230; reenacting and amending RCW 41.06.070; adding a new section to chapter 16.57 RCW; adding a new section to chapter 42.17 RCW; creating a new section; repealing RCW 16.57.380 and 16.65.110; repealing 1997 c 356 s 3; repealing 1997 c 356 s 5; repealing 1997 c 356 s 9; repealing 1997 c 356 s 11; prescribing penalties; and providing an effective date."

Representative Honeyford moved the adoption of amendment (969) to the striking amendment (960):

On page 3, line 15 of the amendment strike "and five" insert ", who shall be a non-voting member, and five voting"

Representative Honeyford spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted.

Representative Chandler spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment (960) as amended.

Representative Linville spoke against the adoption of the amendment (960) as amended.

Division was demanded. The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) divided the House. The results of the division was 55-YEAS; 41-NAYS.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 98-4695, by Representatives Kastama, Schoesler, Sheahan, Hatfield, Cooper, Conway and McDonald

WHEREAS, The residents of this state are still glowing with pride over the accomplishments of the 1997 Washington State University Cougars football team; and

WHEREAS, The Cougars, led by Coach of the Year Mike Price and All-American Quarterback Ryan Leaf, enjoyed their best season since 1931, defeating the UCLA Bruins, the USC Trojans, and the Arizona Wildcats while winning ten games this season; and

WHEREAS, The tenth win of that season came in Husky Stadium, where the Cougars won the Apple Cup and earned their first Rose Bowl appearance since 1931; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Cougars, played with pride, poise, and spirit in taking the battle to the University of Michigan Wolverines; and

WHEREAS, Mike Price, the architect of this wonderful season, having survived the slings and arrows of the media, alumni, and University of Washington alums since 1989, has forever put to rest the expression, "Cugin' it," a term that Husky alums once tortured Cougar fans with; and

WHEREAS, Mike Price has been honored by The Sporting News, the Football Writers of America, the American Football Coaches Association, and the Bobby Dowd Foundation as the 1997 Coach of the Year; and

WHEREAS, Mike Price has sent to the National Football League talent including Drew Bledsoe, Steve Broussard, Mark Fields, and Ryan Leaf; and

WHEREAS, Unlike many other football coaches who rebuild programs only to leave for greener pastures, Mike Price has chosen to stay at Washington State University, the school where he earned his master's degree in physical education and got his first college football coaching position in 1969;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize the Washington State University Cougars football team and their head coach Mike Price for their glorious season and for the sense of pride the team brought to both sides of the Cascades; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Honorable Gary Locke, Governor of the State of Washington; the Honorable Brad Owen, Lieutenant Governor of the State of Washington and President of the Washington State Senate; the Honorable Clyde Ballard, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Samuel H. Smith, President of Washington State University; Richard R. Albrecht, President of the Board of Regents of Washington State University; and Rick Dickson, Director of Athletics at Washington State University.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 2496, by Representatives Buck, Doumit, Anderson, Sump, D. Sommers, Clements, Butler, Schoesler, Honeyford, Thompson, D. Schmidt, Linville, Chandler, Johnson, Regala, Hatfield, O'Brien, Dickerson, Ogden, Cooper, Kessler, Gardner, Conway and Eickmeyer

Developing the critical path schedule for salmon recovery.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2496 was substituted for House Bill No. 2496 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2496 was read the second time.

Representative Buck moved the adoption of amendment (971):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that repeated attempts to improve salmonid fish runs throughout the state of Washington have failed to avert listings of salmon and steelhead runs as threatened or endangered under the federal endangered species act (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq.). These listings threaten the sport, commercial, and tribal fishing industries as well as the economic well-being and vitality of vast areas of the state. It is the intent of the legislature to recover the salmon stocks as soon as possible, although the legislature understands that successful recovery efforts may not be realized for many years because of the life cycle of salmon and the complex array of natural and human-caused problems they face.

The legislature finds that it is in the interest of the citizens of the state of Washington for the state to retain primary responsibility for managing the natural resources of the state, rather than abdicate those responsibilities to the federal government. The legislature also finds that there is a substantial link between the provisions of the federal endangered species act and the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.). The legislature further finds that habitat restoration is a vital component of salmon recovery efforts. Therefore, it is the intent of the legislature to specifically address salmon habitat restoration in a coordinated state-wide manner and to develop a structure that allows for the coordinated delivery of federal, state, and local assistance to communities for habitat projects that will assist in the recovery and enhancement of salmon stocks within the state while also addressing improvements to water quality.

The legislature also recognizes that a science-based approach that incorporates adaptive management strategies will be needed to help salmon stocks recover, and that an effective monitoring system is essential for implementing adaptive management. The legislature also finds that credible scientific review and oversight is essential for any salmon recovery effort to be successful.

The legislature therefore finds that a coordinated framework for responding to the salmon crisis is needed immediately. To that end, the salmon recovery office should be created within the governor's office to provide overall coordination of the state's response; an independent science team is needed to provide scientific review and oversight; regional councils should be formed to provide a mechanism to include local knowledge and decision making into salmon recovery efforts; and a strong locally based effort to restore salmon habitat should be established by providing a framework to allow citizen volunteers to work effectively.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Adaptive management" means reliance on scientific methods to test the results of actions taken so that the management and related policy can be changed promptly and appropriately.

(2) "Critical pathways methodology" means a project scheduling and management process for examining interactions between habitat projects and salmonid species, prioritizing habitat projects, and assuring positive benefits from habitat projects under section 11 of this act.

(3) "Department" means the department of fish and wildlife.

(4) "Director" means the director of the department of fish and wildlife.

(5) "Habitat project" includes habitat restoration projects, habitat protection projects, habitat projects that improve water quality, habitat projects that protect water quality, habitat-related mitigation efforts, and habitat project maintenance and monitoring activities.

(6) "Natural resources-related state agencies" includes the department of natural resources, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of transportation, the parks and recreation commission, the Puget Sound water quality action team, the interagency committee for outdoor recreation, the conservation commission, the department of ecology, the department of agriculture, the department of health, and the department of community, trade, and economic development.

(7) "Region" or "regional" means an area of the state that is identified as being the boundaries of a regional fisheries enhancement group.

(8) "Salmon" includes all species of the family Salmonidae which are capable of self-sustaining, natural production.

(9) "Schedule" means a habitat work schedule adopted by a regional council under section 7 of this act.

(10) "Tribe" or "tribes" means federally recognized Indian tribes.

(11) "Work plan" means a habitat work plan prepared by a regional council under section 11 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. By December 31, 1998, the governor shall submit a summary of the implementation of this act to the legislature, and include recommendations to the legislature that would further the success of salmon recovery. The recommendations may include: (1) The need to expand or improve nonregulatory programs and activities; (2) the need to expand or improve state and local laws and regulations; and (3) the feasibility of forming a state-wide or regional community foundation or any other funding alternatives to assist in financing salmon recovery efforts.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Beginning in 1999, the governor shall submit a biennial state of the salmon report to the legislature during the first week of December. The report may include the following:

(1) A region-by-region description of the amount of funds, including volunteer, private, and state, federal, tribal as available, and local government money directly spent on salmon recovery in response to endangered species act listings;

(2) A summary of habitat projects including but not limited to:

(a) A summary of accomplishments in removing barriers to salmon passage and an identification of existing barriers;

(b) A summary of salmon restoration efforts undertaken in the past two years; and

(c) A summary of the role which private volunteer initiatives and institutions of higher education contribute in salmon habitat restoration efforts;

(3) A summary of collaborative efforts undertaken with adjoining states or Canada;

(4) A summary of fish management activities affecting salmon recovery;

(5) A summary of information regarding impediments to successful salmon recovery efforts.

The summary may include information on delays in obtaining approval or assistance from federal agencies, gaps or conflicts in state statutes, delays due to jurisdictional disputes, land management practices or other activities that are contributing to the degradation of salmon habitat, the lack of water or poor water quality during certain times of the year for certain stream segments, naturally based causes, international disputes, and any impediments to the success of regional councils;

(6) Information on the estimated carrying capacity of new habitat created pursuant to chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act);

(7) A summary of the number and types of violations of existing laws pertaining to: (a) Water quality; and (b) salmon. The summary shall include information about sanctions imposed for these violations; and

(8) Recommendations to the legislature that would further the success of salmon recovery. The recommendations may include: (a) The need to expand or improve nonregulatory programs and activities; and (b) the need to expand or improve state and local laws and regulations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. There is created the salmon recovery office within the office of the governor for the purpose of having a coordinated state strategy to allow for salmon recovery to healthy sustainable population levels with productive commercial and recreational fisheries. By April 1, 1998, the governor shall appoint an executive director for the office. The executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of the executive director shall be fixed by the governor, subject to RCW 43.03.040.

The salmon office may consist of up to eight total staff, including the executive director. At least one of the permanent staff positions shall be reserved for a person who is knowledgeable in tribal fishery interests. At least two of the staff shall be employees of the department. Other agencies including the department may transfer existing staff as agreed to by the agencies and deemed necessary to achieve the duties of the salmon recovery office.

The governor's salmon recovery office may undertake activities on a state-wide or evolutionarily significant unit basis designed to improve the health of salmon, which may include the following:

- (1) Assist the fish and wildlife commission in the negotiation of international and interstate compacts or treaties affecting salmon recovery;
- (2) Act as liaison to the state congressional delegation, United States congress, federally recognized tribes, and the federal executive branch for issues related to the state's endangered species act salmon recovery plans;
- (3) Coordinate the delivery of technical assistance to regional councils for the development and implementation of habitat work schedules and habitat work plans. State natural resources-related agencies shall provide ongoing technical assistance to regional councils;
- (4) Review work plans with federal and tribal governments and state agencies, for conflict with applicable laws and treaties;
- (5) Any other services requested by a region that are reasonably related to the development or implementation of a salmon habitat restoration plan and agreed to by the executive director;
- (6) Establish a uniform state-wide reporting system for regional councils to collect information necessary to address topics that must be included as part of the governor's state of the salmon report;
- (7) Provide information to regional councils that has been developed or collected by state and federal agencies;
- (8) Develop electronic access to up-to-date information pertaining to salmon;
- (9) Develop a data system to track information pertaining to the number and types of violations of existing laws pertaining to water quality and salmon, including information about sanctions imposed for these violations; and
- (10) Coordinate and assist in the development of salmon recovery plans for evolutionarily significant units, and submit those plans to the appropriate federal agencies in response to the federal endangered species act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) The department shall authorize the creation of, and establish the boundaries for, up to four new regional fisheries enhancement groups in the state. Up to three of the new groups may be located in eastern Washington and one new group may be located in western Washington.

(2) The boundaries served by a regional fisheries enhancement group shall constitute the boundaries of a region for the purpose of developing a habitat work plan. The department, after consultation with affected parties, may by rule adjust the boundaries of a regional fisheries enhancement group area.

(3) One or more regional councils may combine into a single area to carry out the purposes of chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) There are established regional councils for the purpose of developing habitat work schedules and habitat work plans as outlined in section 11 of this act.

(2)(a) The regional council shall consist of: (i) Qualified representation of cities, counties, special purpose districts, state, and tribal governments; (ii) conservation districts; and (iii) project sponsors, regional fisheries enhancement groups, and other restoration interests.

(b) The nongovernmental participants shall predominately be residents of the regions and reflect a reasonably balanced representation between economic and other interests representing environmental, recreation, and other concerns.

(3) The department, in consultation with the appropriate local, state, tribal, and federal governmental agencies shall convene a public meeting to establish a regional council. The department shall assure the time, place, and location of the convening meeting or meetings is well advertised.

(4)(a) An existing group may serve as the regional council. To be considered, the representation of governmental entities and interest groups on such a planning group must be generally similar to the representation identified in subsection (2) of this section. The existing group chosen in this manner plus any new members as in subsection (2) of this section will constitute the regional council for developing salmon habitat work plans under this chapter.

(b) In the event that two or more groups are seeking recognition from the department, the following criteria shall be used:

- (i) A group that has been in existence shall be given preference;

- (ii) A group that most closely resembles the representation identified in subsection (2) of this section shall be given preference; and
- (iii) A group that has the broadest representation of the community shall be given preference.
- (c) The department shall endeavor to ensure that members of a group not selected as a regional council are allowed to participate in habitat restoration activities.
- (5) The department, in consultation with the local government entities in the region, shall formally recognize a regional council when the criteria under subsection (2) of this section are met.
- (6) A regional council may invite representatives of federal agencies as appropriate to assist the regional council in the development of a salmon habitat work plan.
- (7) Council members who are also project sponsors shall not participate in decision making on projects for which the member is the project sponsor and for which the member will recognize a direct financial benefit from the project.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The regional council shall convene a technical assistance group consisting of federal, state, tribal, local, and private individuals with appropriate expertise to provide the technical services identified in section 11 of this act. Where appropriate, the conservation district within the region will take a lead in developing and maintaining relationships between the technical assistance groups and the private landowner project sponsors under section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) "Project sponsors" may include regional fisheries enhancement groups, private landowners, citizen groups, tribes, governmental entities, or nongovernmental entities implementing habitat projects. For a federal, state, or local governmental entity to be considered a project sponsor, it must manage riparian and littoral land in the region.

(2) Within a region, a group of project sponsors may be organized around a river, tributary, estuary, or subbasin of a watershed.

(3) Project sponsors undertake projects which have been prioritized by regional councils pursuant to section 11 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The regional council shall:

(a) Prioritize the habitat projects identified by a technical assistance group and project sponsors. The purpose of the prioritization is to rank projects in a manner that maximizes the habitat capable of establishing healthy populations of salmon;

(b) Develop and submit a habitat work plan as required under section 11 of this act; and

(c) Hold open, public meetings.

(2) The regional council may:

(a) Select an administrator and an administrative assistant and establish their responsibilities;

(b) Administer any available funds to project implementers for salmon restoration efforts;

(c) Establish a name for the regional council; and

(d) Contract for habitat projects.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) Critical pathways methodology shall be used to develop a habitat work schedule and a habitat work plan that ensures salmon restoration activities within each region will be prioritized and implemented in a logical sequential manner that produces habitat capable of carrying healthy populations of salmon. The development of a habitat work schedule and a habitat work plan shall rely, to the extent possible, on existing information.

(2)(a) The regional council shall develop a habitat work schedule to prioritize and determine the order in which habitat projects within the region will be accomplished.

(b) The work schedule shall:

(i) Identify limiting factors for salmon in streams, rivers, tributaries, estuaries, and subbasins in the region. The technical assistance group convened under section 8 of this act has lead responsibility for this task;

(ii) Identify and prioritize categories of projects, and prioritize between these categories, to respond to the limiting factors related to habitat identified by the technical assistance group. The technical assistance group convened under section 8 of this act has lead responsibility for this task;

(iii) Identify local habitat projects that sponsors are willing to undertake. Project sponsors have lead responsibility for this task;

(iv) Prioritize individual habitat projects to assure maximum benefit to salmon recovery. The regional council is responsible for this task, and shall consider salmon recovery efforts which are already being conducted in the region when developing the list of prioritized projects;

(v) Identify appropriate funding sources. The regional council has the lead responsibility for this task;

(vi) Issue requests for project proposals. The department of fish and wildlife, the department of transportation, and the conservation commission have lead responsibility for this task;

(vii) Review, evaluate, and rank project proposals. The department of fish and wildlife, the department of transportation, and the conservation commission shall jointly review and evaluate project proposals in order to fund projects which will be beneficial to improving habitat for fish which are listed under the federal endangered species act or are considered to be weak stock;

(viii) Fund high priority projects, subject to available funding, and any constraints on that funding. The department of fish and wildlife, the department of transportation, the conservation commission, and any other funding entity have lead responsibility for this task. If the agencies find that one or more high priority projects for the region do not have a capable project sponsor, the agencies must gain support from a willing project sponsor prior to funding the project; and

(ix) Identify how projects will be monitored and evaluated. The regional council, in consultation with the technical assistance group and project sponsors, has lead responsibility for coordinating this task.

(c) The habitat work plan consists of the habitat work schedule as well as the following information:

(i) A list of the limiting factors for salmon in the region identified by the technical assistance group or by any watershed assessment in the region;

(ii) A list of the entity or entities performing the habitat projects;

(iii) A description of the adaptive management process that will be used to develop subsequent work plans;

(iv) The start date, duration, estimated date of completion, estimated cost, and, if appropriate, the affected salmonid species, of each project; and

(v) An assessment of all available private, local, tribal, state, and federal government resources available for projects identified in the schedule.

(3) The regional council shall submit a copy of the work plan to the salmon recovery office and to the independent science panel for review. The regional council may also implement those projects for which it has been able to obtain funding. Individual habitat work schedules may be prepared for a river, tributary, estuary, or subbasin of a watershed in a manner that allows the schedules to be combined to create a report which shows the recovery effort within a region, the state, or for specific runs of fish.

(4) The habitat work plans shall be updated on an annual basis to depict new activities, report progress on projects, show completion of scheduled activities, determine which recovery efforts were successful, and show where adaptive management is required to address those recovery efforts that failed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1)(a) An independent science panel is hereby created consisting of five scientists appointed by the governor. The governor shall appoint the members of the independent science panel to a term of four years. The independent science panel members shall elect the chair of the panel among themselves every two years.

(b) The governor shall request the national academy of sciences, the American fisheries society, or a comparable institution to screen candidates to serve as members on the independent science panel. The institution that conducts the screening of the candidates shall submit a list of the nine most qualified candidates to the governor, the chair of the house of representatives natural resources committee, and the chair of the senate natural resources and parks committee. The chair of the senate committee and the chair of the house of representatives committee may each remove one person from the list of recommended candidates submitted by the institution conducting the screening. The governor may remove two persons from the list of recommended candidates. The governor shall appoint the remaining five recommended candidates on the list as the members of the independent science panel.

(2) Membership of the independent science panel shall reflect expertise in habitat requirements of salmon, protection and restoration of salmon populations, artificial propagation of salmon, hydrology, and requirements for fully functioning ecosystems on a watershed basis.

(3) Members of the independent science panel shall be compensated as provided in RCW 43.03.250 and reimbursed for travel expenses as pursuant to RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(4) Except as provided in section 13(3) of this act, the governor's office shall provide all necessary administrative support to the independent science panel.

(5) The independent science panel shall be governed by generally accepted guidelines and practices governing the activities of independent science boards such as the national academy of sciences. The purpose of the independent science panel is to help ensure that sound science is used in salmon recovery efforts, and not to make policy decisions which are the responsibility of decision makers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. The independent science panel shall have the following responsibilities:

(1) Reviewing and evaluating the intended outcomes and performance measures of regionally developed habitat work plans. Comparable habitat restoration plans that have already undergone independent scientific review before the effective date of this act are not subject to review by the independent science panel under this subsection;

(2) Developing, in cooperation with the Puget Sound ambient monitoring program, model monitoring programs for water quality and salmon habitat protection and restoration that may be used in regional salmon restoration efforts to track quantifiable performance measures. The Puget Sound action team, created in RCW 90.71.020, shall provide staff support to the independent science panel in the development of the model monitoring programs; and

(3) Reporting to the governor and the legislature on adaptive management recommendations, performance measures, and intended outcomes for habitat work plans.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1)(a) The legislature finds that:

(i) The health of many salmon stocks around the state have declined significantly and are currently in a critical or depressed condition;

(ii) Citizen involvement will be essential if the general decline in salmon health is to be reversed;

(iii) Citizens can and will show a remarkable level of involvement and commitment to restoring salmon and the healthy rivers and streams that salmon depend on; and

(iv) This level of involvement can be achieved if the program is voluntary, nongovernmental, and widely advertised.

(b) The legislature therefore declares it is in the public interest for regional councils to utilize existing regional fishery enhancement groups and other private nonprofit volunteer groups for the habitat volunteer restoration initiative as provided in this chapter.

(c) The initiative shall be designed to create a very high level of public awareness of salmon issues and how citizens can be involved in positive solutions.

(2) The volunteer habitat restoration account is created in the state treasury to be administered by the department. The department may expend funds from this account only for volunteer restoration initiatives under subsection (3) of this section, for technical assistance to the projects, and for the administration of these projects. Moneys may be spent only after appropriation.

(3) A volunteer habitat restoration initiative is created when a memorandum of understanding is signed by the director, an administrator for a regional council, and a nonprofit entity or a collaborative group of nonprofit entities. The terms of the agreement shall specify the responsibilities of each party to include but not be limited to the following:

(a) The regional council in cooperation with the volunteer group shall identify:

(i) The types of projects that are appropriate for volunteers to undertake;

(ii) The outcome that each project is to achieve; and

(iii) The duration of the initiative.

(b) The department shall identify:

(i) A mechanism to streamline permit requirements for projects that are identified in a work plan;

(ii) Staff resources available to provide training or technical assistance to the project; and

- (iii) The amount of funds that will be provided by the department.
- (c) The nonprofit entity or nonprofit entities shall:
  - (i) Recruit volunteers;
  - (ii) Provide training appropriate to the project undertaken;
  - (iii) Deploy volunteers with sufficient resources to meet the outcomes established for the project;
  - (iv) Seek additional funds from private and other sponsors;
  - (v) Work with private landowners, the technical assistance group, and governmental entities to identify project opportunities;
  - (vi) Work with the appropriate local and state government personnel to identify technical assistance needs and permitting obstacles; and
  - (vii) Work with the media to develop a high level of public awareness about the initiative.

Sec. 15. RCW 90.71.005 and 1996 c 138 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) The legislature finds that:
  - (a) Puget Sound and related inland marine waterways of Washington state represent a unique and unparalleled resource. A rich and varied range of marine organisms, comprising an interdependent, sensitive communal ecosystem reside in these sheltered waters. Residents of this region enjoy a way of life centered around the waters of Puget Sound, featuring accessible recreational opportunities, world-class port facilities and water transportation systems, harvest of marine food resources, shoreline-oriented life styles, water-dependent industries, tourism, irreplaceable aesthetics, and other activities, all of which to some degree depend upon a clean and healthy marine resource;
  - (b) The Puget Sound water quality authority has done an excellent job in developing a comprehensive plan to identify actions to restore and protect the biological health and diversity of Puget Sound;
  - (c) The large number of governmental entities that now have regulatory programs affecting the water quality and the aquatic and upland habitats of Puget Sound have diverse interests and limited jurisdictions that cannot adequately address the cumulative, wide-ranging impacts that contribute to the degradation of Puget Sound; and
  - (d) Coordination of the regulatory programs, at the state and local level, is best accomplished through the development of interagency mechanisms that allow these entities to transcend their diverse interests and limited jurisdictions.
- (2) It is therefore the policy of the state of Washington to coordinate the activities of state and local agencies by establishing a biennial work plan that clearly delineates state and local actions necessary to protect and restore the biological health and diversity of Puget Sound. It is further the policy of the state to implement the Puget Sound water quality management plan to the maximum extent possible. To further the policy of the state, a recovery plan developed under the federal endangered species act for a portion or all of the Puget Sound shall be considered for inclusion into the Puget Sound water quality management plan.

- (1) The Puget Sound action team is created. The action team shall consist of: The directors of the departments of ecology; agriculture; natural resources; fish and wildlife; and community, trade, and economic development; the secretaries of the departments of health and transportation; the director of the parks and recreation commission; the director of the interagency committee for outdoor recreation; the administrative officer of the conservation commission designated in RCW 89.08.050; one person representing cities, appointed by the governor; one person representing counties, appointed by the governor; one person representing federally recognized tribes, appointed by the governor; and the chair of the action team. The action team shall also include the following ex officio nonvoting members: The regional director of the United States environmental protection agency; the regional supervisor of the national marine fisheries service; and the regional supervisor of the United States fish and wildlife service. The members representing cities and counties shall each be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.
- (2) The action team shall:
  - (a) Prepare a Puget Sound work plan and budget for inclusion in the governor's biennial budget;
  - (b) Coordinate monitoring and research programs as provided in RCW 90.71.060;

- (c) Work under the direction of the action team chair as provided in RCW 90.71.040;
  - (d) Coordinate permitting requirements as necessary to expedite permit issuance for any local watershed plan developed pursuant to rules adopted under this chapter;
  - (e) Identify and resolve any policy or rule conflicts that may exist between one or more agencies represented on the action team;
  - (f) Periodically amend the Puget Sound management plan;
  - (g) Enter into, amend, and terminate contracts with individuals, corporations, or research institutions for the purposes of this chapter;
  - (h) Receive such gifts, grants, and endowments, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of the action team. The action team may expend the same or any income therefrom according to the terms of the gifts, grants, or endowments;
  - (i) Promote extensive public participation, and otherwise seek to broadly disseminate information concerning Puget Sound;
  - (j) Receive and expend funding from other public agencies;
  - (k) To reduce costs and improve efficiency, review by December 1, 1996, all requirements for reports and documentation from state agencies and local governments specified in the plan for the purpose of eliminating and consolidating reporting requirements; and
  - (l) Beginning in December 1998, and every two years thereafter, submit a report to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the legislature that describes and evaluates the successes and shortcomings of the current work plan relative to the priority problems identified for each geographic area of Puget Sound.
- (3) By July 1, 1996, the action team shall begin developing its initial work plan, which shall include the coordination of necessary support staff.
- (4) The action team shall incorporate, to the maximum extent possible, the recommendations of the council regarding amendments to the Puget Sound (~~(management)~~) management plan and the work plan.
- (5) All proceedings of the action team are subject to the open public meetings act under chapter 42.30 RCW.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.71.030 and 1996 c 138 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) There is established the Puget Sound council composed of (~~nine~~) eleven members. (~~Seven~~) Nine members shall be appointed by the governor. In making these appointments, the governor shall include representation from business, the environmental community, agriculture, the shellfish industry, commercial fishers, recreational fishers, counties, cities, and the tribes. One member shall be a member of the senate selected by the president of the senate and one member shall be a member of the house of representatives selected by the speaker of the house of representatives. The legislative members shall be nonvoting members of the council. Appointments to the council shall reflect geographical balance and the diversity of population within the Puget Sound basin. Members shall serve four-year terms. Of the initial members appointed to the council, two shall serve for two years, two shall serve for three years, and two shall serve for four years. Thereafter members shall be appointed to four-year terms. Vacancies shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as the original appointment for the remainder of the unexpired term of the position being vacated. Nonlegislative members shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. Legislative members shall be reimbursed as provided in RCW 44.04.120.
- (2) The council shall:
- (a) Recommend to the action team projects and activities for inclusion in the biennial work plan;
  - (b) Recommend to the action team coordination of work plan activities with other relevant activities, including but not limited to, agencies' activities other than those funded through the plan, local plan initiatives, and governmental and nongovernmental watershed restoration and protection activities; and
  - (c) Recommend to the action team proposed amendments to the Puget Sound management plan.
- (3) The chair of the action team shall convene the council at least four times per year and shall jointly convene the council and the action team at least two times per year.

Sec. 18. RCW 90.71.050 and 1996 c 138 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Each biennium, the action team shall prepare a Puget Sound work plan and budget for inclusion in the governor's biennial budget. The work plan shall prescribe the necessary federal, state, and local actions to maintain and enhance Puget Sound water quality, including but not limited to, enhancement of recreational opportunities, and restoration of a balanced population of indigenous shellfish, fish, and wildlife. The work plan and budget shall include specific actions and projects pertaining to salmon recovery plans.

(b) In developing a work plan, the action team shall meet the following objectives:

(i) Use the plan elements of the Puget Sound management plan to prioritize local and state actions necessary to restore and protect the biological health and diversity of Puget Sound;

(ii) Consider the problems and priorities identified in local plans; and

(iii) Coordinate the work plan activities with other relevant activities, including but not limited to, agencies' activities that have not been funded through the plan, local plans, and governmental and nongovernmental watershed restoration activities.

(c) In developing a budget, the action team shall identify:

(i) The total funds appropriated to implement local projects originating from the planning process developed for nonpoint pollution; and

(ii) The total funds to implement any other projects designed primarily to restore salmon habitat.

(2) In addition to the requirements identified under RCW 90.71.020(2)(a), the work plan and budget shall:

(a) Identify and prioritize the local and state actions necessary to address the water quality problems in the following locations:

(i) Area 1: Island and San Juan counties;

(ii) Area 2: Skagit and Whatcom counties;

(iii) Area 3: Clallam and Jefferson counties;

(iv) Area 4: Snohomish, King, and Pierce counties; and

(v) Area 5: Kitsap, Mason, and Thurston counties;

(b) Provide sufficient funding to characterize local watersheds, provide technical assistance, and implement state responsibilities identified in the work plan. The number and qualifications of staff assigned to each region shall be determined by the types of problems identified pursuant to (a) of this subsection;

(c) Provide sufficient funding to implement and coordinate the Puget Sound ambient monitoring plan pursuant to RCW 90.71.060;

(d) Provide funds to assist local jurisdictions to implement elements of the work plan assigned to local governments and to develop and implement local plans;

(e) Provide sufficient funding to provide support staff for the action team; and

(f) Describe any proposed amendments to the Puget Sound (~~(management)~~) management plan.

(3) The work plan shall be submitted to the appropriate policy and fiscal committees of the legislature by December 20th of each even-numbered year.

(4) The work plan shall be implemented consistent with the legislative provisos of the biennial appropriation acts.

(5) In the event that any Puget Sound salmon species are proposed for listing under the federal endangered species act, the chair of the action team shall submit the current work plan to the appropriate federal administrator and shall request that the work plan be evaluated for its ability to protect and recover the species for which the listing is proposed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. (1) The departments of transportation, fish and wildlife, and ecology, and tribes shall convene a work group to develop a process to evaluate mitigation proposals. The work group shall seek technical assistance to ensure that federal, state, treaty-right, and local environmental laws and ordinances are met.

(2) The framework shall include:

(a) All elements of mitigation, including but not limited to data requirements, decision making, state and tribal agency coordination, and permitting; and

(b) Criteria and procedures for identifying and evaluating mitigation opportunities, including but not limited to the criteria in chapter 90.74 RCW.

(3) The appropriate agency or affected interests should collaborate with project proponents and the regional council to identify projects that offer mitigation opportunities. Mitigation funds may be used to implement projects identified by a regional council in a regional council's work plan to mitigate for the impacts of a transportation or other development proposal or project.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "mitigation" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 90.74.010.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Sections 1 through 14 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 75 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 1998, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

Representatives Buck and Regala spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Buck, Doumit, Regala, Butler, Alexander, Anderson, Mastin and Eickmeyer spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2496.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2496 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 98, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 0.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Radcliff, Reams, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luvan, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 98.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2496, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2769, by Representatives Clements, Sheahan, Zellinsky, Wensman, McMorris, Honeyford, Lisk, Sterk, Lambert and Mulliken

Establishing procedure for reporting felonies by state employees.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2769 was substituted for House Bill No. 2769 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2769 was read the second time.

Representative Clements moved the adoption of amendment (959):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) Each state agency and institution of higher education shall develop and make available to all employees, by September 1, 1998, a policy that:

(a) Provides that when the agency or institution of higher education has reasonable cause to believe, based on an internal agency reporting process or any investigation, that a crime against a person has been perpetrated by a state employee and that such crime involves conduct occurring in, or related to, the workplace, the agency or institution of higher education must report the incident to the office of crime victims advocacy within a reasonable time, not to exceed seven days;

(b) Provides that when the agency or institution of higher education has reasonable cause to believe, based on an internal agency reporting process or any investigation, that a crime not constituting a crime against a person has been perpetrated by a state employee and that such crime involves conduct occurring in, or related to, the workplace, the agency or institution of higher education must report the incident to the attorney general within a reasonable time, not to exceed ten days;

(c) Provides procedures for an agency or institution of higher education to, within its discretion, report directly to law enforcement or the local prosecutor when the agency or institution of higher education has reasonable cause to believe, based on an internal agency reporting process or any investigation, that a crime has been perpetrated by a state employee involving conduct occurring in, or related to, the workplace and that the crime poses a substantial risk to the public;

(d) Provides that the agency or institution of higher education shall forward any information uncovered in the investigation to the agency it is reporting to; and

(e) Informs employees of the services and resources available to victims from the office of crime victims advocacy.

(2) "Crimes against persons" are those crimes listed as crimes against persons in RCW 9.94A.440.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The attorney general shall develop and make available to its employees, by September 1, 1998, a policy that, when receiving a report from a state agency or institution of higher education under section 1 of this act:

(a) Provides procedures for investigating, reporting, and resolving incidents that are reported;

(b) Requires the attorney general to work with the state agency or institution of higher education in resolving the incident;

(c) Requires that the attorney general will act in a manner that protects the victim, the citizens of the state, and the state; and

(d) Requires the attorney general to report to a law enforcement agency or local prosecutor all instances of crimes that are not crimes against persons. "Crimes against persons" are those crimes listed as crimes against persons in RCW 9.94A.440.

(2) The attorney general shall report annually to the legislature on the number of reports it has received from state agencies. The attorney general shall submit copies of the report to the speaker of the house of representatives, the majority and minority leaders of the senate, and the governor. The report shall provide the following information: The name of the agency which originated the report; the type of crime; what services if any were offered to the victim; the results of any investigation undertaken by an agency; the costs incurred by the agency for investigating and adjudicating, including settling, the incident, and whether the crime was reported to law enforcement. The report shall not divulge the identify of, or any identifying information about, the victim or alleged perpetrator.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) The office of crime victims advocacy shall provide technical assistance to agencies in the development of their policies. The office shall provide any employees subject to the policies with referrals to needed crime victim services and resources.

(2) The office shall report quarterly to the legislature on the number of reports it has received from state agencies. The office shall submit copies of the report to the speaker of the house of representatives and the minority leader of the house of representatives, the majority and minority leaders of the senate, and the governor. The report shall provide the following information: The name of the agency which originated the report; the type of crime; what services if any were offered to the victim; the results of any investigation undertaken by an agency; the costs incurred by the agency for investigating and adjudicating, including settling, the incident, and whether the incident was reported to law enforcement. The report shall not divulge the identity of, or any identifying information about, the victim or alleged perpetrator.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Sections 1 and 3 of this act are each added to chapter 41.04 RCW. Section 2 of this act is added to chapter 43.10 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 1998, in the omnibus appropriates act, this act is null and void."

HOUSE BILL NO. 2439, by Representatives D. Sommers, Costa, Benson, Sterk, Gombosky and O'Brien

Providing for traffic safety education.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2439 was substituted for House Bill No. 2439 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2439 was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendments 879 and 898 were withdrawn.

Representative D. Sommers moved the adoption of amendment (977):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 2. RCW 43.59.010 and 1967 ex.s. c 147 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The purpose of this chapter is to establish a new agency of state government to be known as the Washington traffic safety commission. The functions and purpose of this commission shall be to find solutions to the problems that have been created as a result of the tremendous increase of motor vehicles on our highways and the attendant traffic death and accident tolls; to plan and supervise programs for the prevention of accidents on streets and highways including but not limited to educational campaigns designed to reduce traffic accidents in cooperation with all official and unofficial organizations interested in traffic safety; to coordinate the activities at the state and local level in the development of state-wide and local traffic safety programs; to promote a uniform enforcement of traffic safety laws and establish standards for investigation and reporting of traffic accidents; to promote and improve driver education; and to authorize the governor to perform all functions required to be performed by him under the federal Highway Safety Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-564; 80 Stat. 731).

(2) The legislature finds and declares that bicycling and walking are becoming increasingly popular in Washington as clean and efficient modes of transportation, as recreational activities, and as organized sports. Future plans for the state's transportation system will require increased access and safety for bicycles and pedestrians on our common roadways, and federal transportation legislation and funding programs have created strong incentives to implement these changes quickly. As a result, many more people are likely to take up bicycling in Washington both as a leisure activity and as a convenient, inexpensive form of transportation. Bicyclists are more vulnerable to injury and accident than motorists, and should be as knowledgeable as possible about traffic laws, be highly visible and predictable when riding in traffic, and be encouraged to wear bicycle safety helmets. Hundreds of bicyclists and pedestrians are seriously injured every year in accidents, and millions of dollars are spent on health care costs associated with these accidents. There is clear evidence that organized training in the rules and techniques of safe and effective cycling can significantly reduce the incidence of serious injury and accidents, increase cooperation among road users, and significantly increase the incidence of bicycle helmet use, particularly among minors.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 43.59 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The Washington state traffic safety commission shall establish a program for improving bicycle and pedestrian safety, and shall cooperate with the state criminal justice training commission, bicycle federation of America, the league of American bicyclists, state and local bicycling organizations, local governments, public school districts, or other appropriate public and private organizations in developing and operating programs to improve bicycle and pedestrian safety.

(2) The commission shall prescribe minimum qualifications for the grant recipients.

(3) The commission will form an advisory group of bicycle and pedestrian safety stakeholders to assist the director in:

(a) Establishing standards and criteria for traffic safety grants and reviewing the merits of grant applications submitted;

(b) Determining the most effective programs available to improve bicycle and pedestrian safety; and

(c) Establishing state pedestrian and bicycle safety goals and performance measures.

(4) Upon successful completion of a safety training program, participants will receive a bicycle or pedestrian safety education certificate signed by an authorized instructor. The certificate is evidence of compliance with this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 46.61.750 and 1982 c 55 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) It is a traffic infraction for any person to do any act forbidden or fail to perform any act required in RCW 46.61.750 through 46.61.780.

(2) These regulations applicable to bicycles apply whenever a bicycle is operated upon any highway or upon any bicycle path, subject to those exceptions stated herein. A person found to have committed any infraction under subsection (1) of this section shall be assessed a monetary penalty equal to the penalty assessed under RCW 46.63.110 plus twenty-five percent.

(3) The bicycle and pedestrian safety education account is created in the state treasury. Twenty-five percent of the moneys collected under subsection (2) of this section shall be deposited into the account. Moneys in the account may be spent only after appropriation. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the administration and operation of programs to improve bicycle and pedestrian safety.

(4) State agencies, political subdivisions of the state, and nonprofit organizations, including but not limited to bicycling groups and community and civic organizations, are eligible for grant funds on a matching basis under the programs funded under subsection (3) of this section. All entities receiving matching funds must provide a regularly scheduled program complying with standards established by the traffic safety commission. Bicycle organizations are encouraged to make donations to the bicycle and pedestrian safety education account.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.59 RCW to read as follows:
The traffic safety commission, acting jointly with the department of licensing and the superintendent of public instruction, shall develop a curriculum for bicycle safety education. The commission may develop a video presentation to accompany this curriculum.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 46.20 RCW to read as follows:
The department of licensing shall incorporate a section on bicycle safety and sharing the road into its instructional publications for drivers and shall include questions in the written portion of the driver's license examination on bicycle safety and sharing the road with bicycles.

Sec. 7. RCW 46.20.095 and 1986 c 93 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:
The department shall include information on the proper use of the left-hand lane by motor vehicles on multilane highways and on bicyclists' and pedestrians' rights and responsibilities in its instructional publications for drivers.

Sec. 8. RCW 46.82.430 and 1986 c 93 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
Instructional material used in driver training schools shall include information on the proper use of the left-hand lane by motor vehicles on multilane highways and on bicyclists' and pedestrians' rights and responsibilities and suggested riding procedures in common traffic situations.

Sec. 9. RCW 46.83.040 and 1961 c 12 s 46.83.040 are each amended to read as follows:
It shall be the purpose of every traffic school which may be established hereunder to instruct, educate, and inform all persons appearing for training in the proper, lawful, and safe operation of motor vehicles, including but not limited to rules of the road and the limitations of persons, vehicles, and bicycles and roads, streets, and highways under varying conditions and circumstances.

Sec. 10. RCW 46.20.305 and 1965 ex.s. c 121 s 26 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) The department, having good cause to believe that a licensed driver is incompetent or otherwise not qualified to be licensed may upon notice require him to submit to an examination.
(2) The department shall require the driver of any vehicle responsible for a crash resulting in the death of a person to submit to an examination. The examination must be completed no later than ninety days after the accident report required under RCW 46.52.030 is received by the department.
(3) The department may in addition to an examination under subsection (1) or (2) of this section require such person to obtain a certificate showing his condition signed by a licensed physician or other proper authority designated by the department.
(4) Upon the conclusion of ((such)) an examination under this section the department shall take driver improvement action as may be appropriate and may suspend or revoke the license of such person or permit him to retain such license, or may issue a license subject to restrictions as permitted under RCW 46.20.041. The department may suspend or revoke the license of such person who refuses or neglects to submit to such examination.
(5) The department may require payment of a fee by a person subject to examination under this section. The department shall set the fee in an amount that is sufficient to cover the additional cost of administering examinations required by this section.

(1) During the times specified in RCW 46.37.020, any lighted lamp or illuminating device upon a motor vehicle, other than head lamps, spot lamps, auxiliary lamps, flashing turn signals, emergency vehicle warning lamps, warning lamps authorized by the state patrol and school bus warning lamps, which projects a beam of light of an intensity greater than three hundred candlepower shall be so directed that no part of the high intensity portion of the beam will strike the level of the roadway on which the vehicle stands at a distance of more than seventy-five feet from the vehicle.

(2) Except as required in RCW 46.37.190 no person shall drive or move any vehicle or equipment upon any highway with any lamp or device thereon displaying a red light visible from directly in front of the center thereof.

(3) Flashing lights are prohibited except as required in RCW 46.37.190, 46.37.200, 46.37.210, 46.37.215, and 46.37.300, ~~((and))~~ warning lamps authorized by the state patrol, and light-emitting diode flashing taillights on bicycles.

Sec. 12. RCW 46.61.780 and 1987 c 330 s 746 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every bicycle when in use during the hours of darkness as defined in RCW 46.37.020 shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least five hundred feet to the front and with a red reflector on the rear of a type approved by the state patrol which shall be visible from all distances ~~((from one hundred feet))~~ up to six hundred feet to the rear when directly in front of lawful lower beams of head lamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector. A light-emitting diode flashing taillight visible from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear may also be used in addition to the red reflector.

(2) Every bicycle shall be equipped with a brake which will enable the operator to make the braked wheels skid on dry, level, clean pavement."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART I - CRISIS RESIDENTIAL CENTERS AND TREATMENT SERVICES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:
Any county or group of counties may make application to the department of social and health services in the manner and form prescribed by the department to administer and provide the services established under RCW 13.32A.197. Any such application must include a plan or plans for providing such services to at-risk youth.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:
No county may receive any state funds provided by this chapter until its application and plan are received by the department.

(1) The distribution of funds to a county or a group of counties shall be based on criteria including but not limited to the county's per capita income, regional or county at-risk populations, rates of poverty, and the presence of existing programs serving at-risk children.

(2) The secretary of social and health services shall reimburse a county upon presentation and approval of a valid claim pursuant to this chapter based on actual performance in meeting the terms and conditions of the approved plan and contract. Funds received by participating counties under this chapter shall not be used to replace local funds for existing programs.

(3) Funds available for county-operated treatment facilities and services under RCW 13.32A.197 shall not exceed the appropriation for these services specified in the biennial operating budget.

Sec. 3. RCW 74.13.031 and 1997 c 386 s 32 and 1997 c 272 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the duty to provide child welfare services and shall:

(1) Develop, administer, supervise, and monitor a coordinated and comprehensive plan that establishes, aids, and strengthens services for the protection and care of homeless, runaway, dependent, or neglected children.

(2) Within available resources, recruit an adequate number of prospective adoptive and foster homes, both regular and specialized, i.e. homes for children of ethnic minority, including Indian homes for Indian children, sibling groups, handicapped and emotionally disturbed, teens, pregnant and parenting teens, and annually report to the governor and the legislature concerning the department's success in: (a) Meeting the need for adoptive and foster home placements; (b) reducing the foster parent turnover rate; (c) completing home studies for legally free children; and (d) implementing and operating the passport program required by RCW 74.13.285. The report shall include a section entitled "Foster Home Turn-Over, Causes and Recommendations."

(3) Investigate complaints of alleged neglect, abuse, or abandonment of children, and on the basis of the findings of such investigation, offer child welfare services in relation to the problem to such parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis, and/or bring the situation to the attention of an appropriate court, or another community agency: PROVIDED, That an investigation is not required of nonaccidental injuries which are clearly not the result of a lack of care or supervision by the child's parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis. If the investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed, the department shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

(4) Offer, on a voluntary basis, family reconciliation services to families who are in conflict.

(5) Monitor out-of-home placements, on a timely and routine basis, to assure the safety, well-being, and quality of care being provided is within the scope of the intent of the legislature as defined in RCW 74.13.010 and 74.15.010, and annually submit a report measuring the extent to which the department achieved the specified goals to the governor and the legislature.

(6) Have authority to accept custody of children from parents and to accept custody of children from juvenile courts, where authorized to do so under law, to provide child welfare services including placement for adoption, and to provide for the physical care of such children and make payment of maintenance costs if needed. Except where required by Public Law 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1915), no private adoption agency which receives children for adoption from the department shall discriminate on the basis of race, creed, or color when considering applications in their placement for adoption.

(7) Have authority to provide temporary shelter to children who have run away from home and who are admitted to crisis residential centers.

(8) Have authority to purchase care for children; and shall follow in general the policy of using properly approved private agency services for the actual care and supervision of such children insofar as they are available, paying for care of such children as are accepted by the department as eligible for support at reasonable rates established by the department.

(9) Establish a children's services advisory committee which shall assist the secretary in the development of a partnership plan for utilizing resources of the public and private sectors, and advise on all matters pertaining to child welfare, licensing of child care agencies, adoption, and services related thereto. At least one member shall represent the adoption community.

(10) Have authority to provide continued foster care or group care for individuals from eighteen through twenty years of age to enable them to complete their high school or vocational school program.

(11) Have authority within funds appropriated for foster care services to purchase care for Indian children who are in the custody of a federally recognized Indian tribe or tribally licensed child-placing agency pursuant to parental consent, tribal court order, or state juvenile court order; and the purchase of such care shall be subject to the same eligibility standards and rates of support applicable to other children for whom the department purchases care.

Notwithstanding any other provision of RCW 13.32A.170 through 13.32A.200 and 74.13.032 through 74.13.036, or of this section all services to be provided by the department of social and health services under subsections (4), (6), and (7) of this section, or counties under subsection (12) of this section, subject to the limitations of these subsections, may be provided by any program offering such services funded pursuant to Titles II and III of the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974.

(1) The department shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, regional crisis residential centers with semi-secure facilities. These facilities shall be structured group care facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department and shall have an average of at least four adult staff members and in no event less than three adult staff members to every eight children.

(2) Within available funds appropriated for this purpose, the department shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, regional crisis residential centers with secure facilities. These facilities shall be facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department. These centers may also include semi-secure facilities and to such extent shall be subject to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The department shall, in addition to the facilities established under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, establish additional crisis residential centers pursuant to contract with licensed private group care facilities.

(4) The staff at the facilities established under this section shall be trained so that they may effectively counsel juveniles admitted to the centers, provide treatment, supervision, and structure to the juveniles that recognize the need for support and the varying circumstances that cause children to leave their families, and carry out the responsibilities stated in RCW 13.32A.090. The responsibilities stated in RCW 13.32A.090 may, in any of the centers, be carried out by the department.

(5) The secure facilities located within crisis residential centers shall be operated to conform with the definition in RCW 13.32A.030. The facilities shall have an average of no ~~((more))~~ less than ~~((three))~~ one adult staff member(s) to every ~~((eight))~~ ten children. The staffing ratio shall continue to ensure the safety of the children.

~~(6) ((A center with secure facilities created under this section may not be located within, or on the same grounds as, other secure structures including jails, juvenile detention facilities operated by the state, or units of local government. However, the secretary may, following consultation with the appropriate county legislative authority, make a written finding that location of a center with secure facilities on the same grounds as another secure structure is the only practical location for a secure facility. Upon the written finding a secure facility may be located on the same grounds as the secure structure. Where))~~ If a secure crisis residential center is located in or adjacent to a secure juvenile detention facility, the center shall be operated in a manner that prevents in-person contact between the residents of the center and the persons held in such facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A county or group of counties operating a treatment facility under sections 1 and 2 of this act shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, treatment centers with staff secure facilities. These facilities shall be structured group care facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department.

(2) The staff at the facilities established under RCW 13.32A.197 shall be trained so that they may effectively counsel, supervise, provide treatment for behavioral difficulties or needs, and provide structure to the juveniles admitted to treatment facilities. The treatment, supervision, and counseling must recognize the need for support and the varying circumstances that cause children to leave their families.

(3) Juveniles shall be admitted to the facilities based on a court order for placement at a staff secure facility to receive treatment under RCW 13.32A.197. Juveniles shall not be denied admission based on their county of residence.

PART II - MENTAL HEALTH AND CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislature finds it is often necessary for parents to obtain mental health or chemical dependency treatment for their minor children prior to the time the child's condition presents a likelihood of serious harm or the child becomes gravely disabled. The legislature finds that treatment of such conditions is not the equivalent of incarceration or detention, but is a legitimate act of parental discretion, when supported by decisions of credentialed professionals. The legislature finds that, consistent with Parham v. J.R., 442 U.S. 584 (1979), state action is not involved in the determination of a parent and professional person to admit a minor child to treatment and finds this act provides sufficient independent review by the department of social and health services, as a neutral fact-finder, to protect the interests of all parties. The legislature finds it is necessary to provide parents a statutory process, other than the petition process provided in chapters 70.96A and 71.34 RCW, to obtain treatment for their minor children without the consent of the children.

The legislature finds that differing standards of admission and review in parent-initiated mental health and chemical dependency treatment for their minor children are necessary and the admission standards and procedures under state involuntary treatment procedures are not adequate to provide safeguards for the safety and well-being of all children. The legislature finds the timeline for admission and reviews under existing law do not provide sufficient opportunities for assessment of the mental health and chemically dependent status of every minor child and that additional time and different standards will facilitate the likelihood of successful treatment of children who are in need of assistance but unwilling to obtain it voluntarily. The legislature finds there are children whose behavior presents a clear need of medical treatment but is not so extreme as to require immediate state intervention under the state involuntary treatment procedures.

PART II-A - MENTAL HEALTH

It is the purpose of this chapter to ~~((ensure))~~ assure that minors in need of mental health care and treatment receive an appropriate continuum of culturally relevant care and treatment, ~~((from))~~ including prevention and early intervention ~~((to))~~, self-directed care, parent-directed care, and involuntary treatment. To facilitate the continuum of care and treatment to minors in out-of-home placements, all divisions of the department that provide mental health services to minors shall jointly plan and deliver those services.

It is also the purpose of this chapter to protect the rights of minors against needless hospitalization and deprivations of liberty and to enable treatment decisions to be made in response to clinical needs in accordance with sound professional judgment. The mental health care and treatment providers shall encourage the use of voluntary services and, whenever clinically appropriate, the providers shall offer less restrictive alternatives to inpatient treatment. Additionally, all mental health care and treatment providers shall ~~((ensure))~~ assure that minors' parents are given an opportunity to participate in the treatment decisions for their minor children. The mental health care and treatment providers shall, to the extent possible, offer services that involve minors' parents or family.

It is also the purpose of this chapter to assure the ability of parents to exercise reasonable, compassionate care and control of their minor children when there is a medical necessity for treatment and without the requirement of filing a petition under this chapter.

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Child psychiatrist" means a person having a license as a physician and surgeon in this state, who has had graduate training in child psychiatry in a program approved by the American Medical Association or the American Osteopathic Association, and who is board eligible or board certified in child psychiatry.

(2) "Children's mental health specialist" means:

(a) A mental health professional who has completed a minimum of one hundred actual hours, not quarter or semester hours, of specialized training devoted to the study of child development and the treatment of children; and

(b) A mental health professional who has the equivalent of one year of full-time experience in the treatment of children under the supervision of a children's mental health specialist.

(3) "Commitment" means a determination by a judge or court commissioner, made after a commitment hearing, that the minor is in need of inpatient diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment or that the minor is in need of less restrictive alternative treatment.

(4) "County-designated mental health professional" means a mental health professional designated by one or more counties to perform the functions of a county-designated mental health professional described in this chapter.

(5) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(6) "Evaluation and treatment facility" means a public or private facility or unit that is certified by the department to provide emergency, inpatient, residential, or outpatient mental health evaluation and treatment services for minors. A physically separate and separately-operated portion of a state hospital may be designated as an evaluation and treatment facility for minors. A facility which is part of or operated by the department or federal agency does not require certification. No correctional institution or facility, juvenile court detention facility, or jail may be an evaluation and treatment facility within the meaning of this chapter.

(7) "Evaluation and treatment program" means the total system of services and facilities coordinated and approved by a county or combination of counties for the evaluation and treatment of minors under this chapter.

(8) "Gravely disabled minor" means a minor who, as a result of a mental disorder, is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety, or manifests severe deterioration in routine functioning evidenced by repeated and escalating loss of cognitive or volitional control over his or her actions and is not receiving such care as is essential for his or her health or safety.

(9) "Inpatient treatment" means twenty-four-hour-per-day mental health care provided within a general hospital, psychiatric hospital, or residential treatment facility certified by the department as an evaluation and treatment facility for minors.

(11) "Likelihood of serious harm" means either: (a) A substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon his or her own person, as evidenced by threats or attempts to commit suicide or inflict physical harm on oneself; (b) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon another, as evidenced by behavior which has caused such harm or which places another person or persons in reasonable fear of sustaining such harm; or (c) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon the property of others, as evidenced by behavior which has caused substantial loss or damage to the property of others.

(12) "Medical necessity" for inpatient care means a requested service which is reasonably calculated to: (a) Diagnose, correct, cure, or alleviate a mental disorder; or (b) prevent the worsening of mental conditions that endanger life or cause suffering and pain, or result in illness or infirmity or threaten to cause or aggravate a handicap, or cause physical deformity or malfunction, and there is no adequate less restrictive alternative available.

(13) "Mental disorder" means any organic, mental, or emotional impairment that has substantial adverse effects on an individual's cognitive or volitional functions. The presence of alcohol abuse, drug abuse, juvenile criminal history, antisocial behavior, or mental retardation alone is insufficient to justify a finding of "mental disorder" within the meaning of this section.

~~((13))~~ (14) "Mental health professional" means a psychiatrist, psychologist, psychiatric nurse, or social worker, and such other mental health professionals as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary under this chapter.

~~((14))~~ (15) "Minor" means any person under the age of eighteen years.

~~((16))~~ (17) "Parent" means:

(a) A biological or adoptive parent who has legal custody of the child, including either parent if custody is shared under a joint custody agreement; or

(b) A person or agency judicially appointed as legal guardian or custodian of the child.

~~((17))~~ (18) "Professional person in charge" or "professional person" means a physician or other mental health professional empowered by an evaluation and treatment facility with authority to make admission and discharge decisions on behalf of that facility.

~~((18))~~ (19) "Psychiatric nurse" means a registered nurse who has a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, and who has had, in addition, at least two years' experience in the direct treatment of mentally ill or emotionally disturbed persons, such experience gained under the supervision of a mental health professional. "Psychiatric nurse" shall also mean any other registered nurse who has three years of such experience.

~~((19))~~ (20) "Psychiatrist" means a person having a license as a physician in this state who has completed residency training in psychiatry in a program approved by the American Medical Association or the American Osteopathic Association, and is board eligible or board certified in psychiatry.

~~((21))~~ (22) "Responsible other" means the minor, the minor's parent or estate, or any other person legally responsible for support of the minor.

~~((22))~~ (23) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department or secretary's designee.

~~((23))~~ (24) "Start of initial detention" means the time of arrival of the minor at the first evaluation and treatment facility offering inpatient treatment if the minor is being involuntarily detained at the time. With regard to voluntary patients, "start of initial detention" means the time at which the minor gives notice of intent to leave under the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 9. RCW 71.34.025 and 1995 c 312 s 56 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((The admission of any child under RCW 71.34.030 may be reviewed by the county-designated mental health professional between fifteen and thirty days following admission. The county-designated mental health professional may undertake the review on his or her own initiative and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of the review.))~~

(2)) The department shall ((ensure)) assure that, for any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 18 of this act, a review is conducted ((no later than sixty days)) by a physician or other mental health professional who is employed by the department, or an agency under contract with the department, and who neither has a financial interest in continued inpatient treatment of the minor nor is affiliated with the facility providing the treatment. The physician or other mental health professional shall conduct the review not less than seven nor more than fourteen days following ((admission)) the date the minor was brought to the facility under section 18(1) of this act to determine whether it is ((medically appropriate)) a medical necessity to continue the ((child-s)) minor's treatment on an inpatient basis. ((The department may, subject to available funds, contract with a county for the conduct of the review conducted under this subsection and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

~~(3) For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, children in inpatient mental health or chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the child has been assessed by the department of social and health services or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the child's parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the child. Payment for such care by the department of social and health services shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.))~~

(2) In making a determination under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall consider the opinion of the treatment provider, the safety of the minor, and the likelihood the minor's mental health will deteriorate if released from inpatient treatment. The department shall consult with the parent in advance of making its determination.

(3) If, after any review conducted by the department under this section, the department determines it is no longer a medical necessity for a minor to receive inpatient treatment, the department shall immediately notify the parents and the facility. The facility shall release the minor to the parents within twenty-four hours of receiving notice. If the professional person in charge and the parent believe that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain in inpatient treatment, the minor shall be released to the parent on the second judicial day following the department's determination in order to allow the parent time to file an at-risk youth petition under chapter 13.32A RCW. If the department determines it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive outpatient treatment and the minor declines to obtain such treatment, such refusal shall be grounds for the parent to file an at-risk youth petition.

(4) If the evaluation conducted under section 18 of this act is done by the department, the reviews required by subsection (1) of this section shall be done by contract with an independent agency.

(5) The department may, subject to available funds, contract with other governmental agencies to conduct the reviews under this section. The department may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

(6) In addition to the review required under this section, the department may periodically determine and redetermine the medical necessity of treatment for purposes of payment under the medical assistance program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, minors in inpatient mental health treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the minor has been assessed by the department or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the minor. Payment for such care by the department shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.

PART II-B - VOLUNTARY MENTAL HEALTH OUTPATIENT TREATMENT

~~((4))~~ Any minor thirteen years or older may request and receive outpatient treatment without the consent of the minor's parent. Parental authorization is required for outpatient treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

~~((2) When in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility in accordance with the following requirements:~~

~~(a) A minor may be voluntarily admitted by application of the parent. The consent of the minor is not required for the minor to be evaluated and admitted as appropriate.~~

~~(b) A minor thirteen years or older may, with the concurrence of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, admit himself or herself without parental consent to the evaluation and treatment facility, provided that notice is given by the facility to the minor's parent in accordance with the following requirements:~~

~~(i) Notice of the minor's admission shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent that the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent.~~

~~(ii) The minor shall be released to the parent at the parent's request for release unless the facility files a petition with the superior court of the county in which treatment is being provided setting forth the basis for the facility's belief that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety.~~

~~(iii) The petition shall be signed by the professional person in charge of the facility or that person's designee.~~

~~(iv) The parent may apply to the court for separate counsel to represent the parent if the parent cannot afford counsel.~~

~~(v) There shall be a hearing on the petition, which shall be held within three judicial days from the filing of the petition.~~

~~(vii) At such hearing, the facility must demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence presented at the hearing that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety. The hearing shall not be conducted using the rules of evidence, and the admission or exclusion of evidence sought to be presented shall be within the exercise of sound discretion by the judicial officer conducting the hearing.~~

~~(c) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant no less than once every twelve months.~~

~~(3) A notice of intent to leave shall result in the following:~~

~~(a) Any minor under the age of thirteen must be discharged immediately upon written request of the parent.~~

~~(b) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.~~

~~(c) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county designated mental health professional, and the parent.~~

~~(d) The professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment facility shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility within twenty four hours after receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave, unless the county designated mental health professional or a parent or legal guardian files a petition or an application for initial detention within the time prescribed by this chapter.~~

~~(4) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified evaluation and treatment program for the involuntary admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.)~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. For the purpose of gathering information related to parental notification of outpatient mental health treatment of minors, the department of health shall conduct a survey of providers of outpatient treatment, as defined in chapter 71.34 RCW. The survey shall gather information from a statistically valid sample of providers. In accordance with confidentiality statutes and the physician-patient privilege, the survey shall secure information from the providers related to:

- (1) The number of minors receiving outpatient treatment;
- (2) The number of parents of minors in treatment notified of the minor's treatment;
- (3) The average number of outpatient visits prior to parental notification;
- (4) The average number of treatments with parental notification;
- (5) The average number of treatments without parental notification;
- (6) The percentage of minors in treatment who are prescribed medication;
- (7) The medication prescribed;
- (8) The number of patients terminating treatment due to parental notification; and
- (9) Any other pertinent information.

The department shall submit the survey results to the governor and the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1998.

This section expires June 1, 1999.

PART II-C - VOLUNTARY MENTAL HEALTH INPATIENT TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A minor thirteen years or older may admit himself or herself to an evaluation and treatment facility for inpatient mental treatment, without parental consent. The admission shall occur only if the professional person in charge of the facility concurs with the need for inpatient treatment.

(2) When, in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility.

(3) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant no less than once every twelve months. The minor's need for continued inpatient treatments shall be reviewed and documented no less than every one hundred eighty days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The administrator of the treatment facility shall provide notice to the parents of a minor when the minor is voluntarily admitted to inpatient treatment under section 13 of this act. The notice shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty-four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent: (1) That the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; (2) of the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; (3) of the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent; and (4) of the medical necessity for admission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any minor thirteen years or older who has voluntarily admitted himself or herself to inpatient treatment shall be released to the parent upon the parent's written request for release unless the professional person in charge of the facility exercises his or her option to file a petition for commitment of a minor.

(2)(a) The petition shall be filed with the superior court of the county in which treatment is being provided setting forth the basis for the facility's belief that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety.

(b) The petition shall be signed by the minor and the professional person in charge of the facility or that person's designee.

(c) The parent may apply to the court for separate counsel to represent the parent if the parent cannot afford counsel.

(d) There shall be a hearing on the petition, which shall be held within seventy-two hours from the filing of the petition.

(3) The commitment hearing shall be conducted at the superior court or an appropriate place at the treatment facility.

(4) The professional person must demonstrate, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that the release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety. The rules of evidence shall not apply at the hearing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility under section 13 of this act may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.

(2) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county-designated mental health professional, and the parent.

(3) The professional person shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility within twenty-four hours after receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave, unless the county-designated mental health professional commences an initial detention proceeding under the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

Any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 13 or 18 of this act shall be discharged immediately from inpatient treatment upon written request of the parent.

PART II-D - PARENT-INITIATED MENTAL HEALTH TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to an evaluation and treatment facility and request that the professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of inpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for admission, evaluation, and treatment if the parent brings the minor to the facility.

(3) An appropriately trained professional person may evaluate whether the minor has a mental disorder. The evaluation shall be completed within twenty-four hours of the time the minor was brought to the facility, unless the professional person determines that the condition of the minor necessitates additional time for evaluation. In no event shall a minor be held longer than seventy-two hours for evaluation without being admitted or released. If, in the judgment of the professional person, it is determined it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive inpatient treatment, the minor may be admitted. Prior to admission, the facility shall limit treatment to that which the professional person determines is medically necessary to stabilize the minor's condition. Within twenty-four hours of the admission, the professional person shall notify the department of the admission.

(4) No provider is obligated to provide treatment to a minor under the provisions of this section. No provider may admit a minor to treatment under this section unless it is medically necessary.

(5) No minor receiving inpatient treatment under this section may be discharged from the facility based solely on his or her request.

(6) For the purposes of this section "professional person" does not include a social worker, unless the social worker is certified under RCW 18.19.110 and appropriately trained and qualified by education and experience, as defined by the department, in psychiatric social work.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a provider of outpatient mental health treatment and request that an appropriately trained professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for evaluation if the parent brings the minor to the provider.

(3) The professional person may evaluate whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

Following the review conducted under RCW 71.34.025, a minor child may petition the superior court for his or her release from the facility. The petition may be filed not sooner than five days following the review. The court shall release the minor unless it finds, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain at the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

If the minor is not released as a result of the petition filed under section 20 of this act, he or she shall be released not later than thirty days following the later of: (1) The date of the department's determination under RCW 71.34.025(2); or (2) the filing of a petition for judicial review under section 20 of this act, unless a professional person or the county designated mental health professional initiates proceedings under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The ability of a parent to bring his or her minor child to a certified evaluation and treatment program for evaluation and treatment does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. The state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available.

PART II-E - CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY

Sec. 23. RCW 70.96A.020 and 1996 c 178 s 23 and 1996 c 133 s 33 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Alcoholic" means a person who suffers from the disease of alcoholism.

(2) "Alcoholism" means a disease, characterized by a dependency on alcoholic beverages, loss of control over the amount and circumstances of use, symptoms of tolerance, physiological or psychological withdrawal, or both, if use is reduced or discontinued, and impairment of health or disruption of social or economic functioning.

(3) "Approved treatment program" means a discrete program of chemical dependency treatment provided by a treatment program certified by the department of social and health services as meeting standards adopted under this chapter.

(4) "Chemical dependency" means alcoholism or drug addiction, or dependence on alcohol and one or more other psychoactive chemicals, as the context requires.

(5) "Chemical dependency program" means expenditures and activities of the department designed and conducted to prevent or treat alcoholism and other drug addiction, including reasonable administration and overhead.

(6) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(7) "Designated chemical dependency specialist" means a person designated by the county alcoholism and other drug addiction program coordinator designated under RCW 70.96A.310 to perform the commitment duties described in RCW 70.96A.140 and qualified to do so by meeting standards adopted by the department.

(8) "Director" means the person administering the chemical dependency program within the department.

(9) "Drug addict" means a person who suffers from the disease of drug addiction.

(10) "Drug addiction" means a disease characterized by a dependency on psychoactive chemicals, loss of control over the amount and circumstances of use, symptoms of tolerance, physiological or psychological withdrawal, or both, if use is reduced or discontinued, and impairment of health or disruption of social or economic functioning.

(11) "Emergency service patrol" means a patrol established under RCW 70.96A.170.

(12) "Gravely disabled by alcohol or other drugs" means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol or other drugs: (a) Is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety; or (b) manifests severe deterioration in routine functioning evidenced by a repeated and escalating loss of cognition or volitional control over his or her actions and is not receiving care as essential for his or her health or safety.

(13) "Incapacitated by alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals" means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals, has his or her judgment so impaired that he or she is incapable of realizing and making a rational decision with respect to his or her need for treatment and presents a likelihood of serious harm to himself or herself, to any other person, or to property.

(14) "Incompetent person" means a person who has been adjudged incompetent by the superior court.

(15) "Intoxicated person" means a person whose mental or physical functioning is substantially impaired as a result of the use of alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals.

(16) "Licensed physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine or osteopathic medicine and surgery in the state of Washington.

(17) "Likelihood of serious harm" means either: (a) A substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon his or her own person, as evidenced by threats or attempts to commit suicide or inflict physical harm on one's self; (b) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon another, as evidenced by behavior that has caused the harm or that places another person or persons in reasonable fear of sustaining the harm; or (c) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon the property of others, as evidenced by behavior that has caused substantial loss or damage to the property of others.

(18) "Medical necessity" for inpatient care of a minor means a requested certified inpatient service that is reasonably calculated to: (a) Diagnose, arrest, or alleviate a chemical dependency; or (b) prevent the worsening of chemical dependency conditions that endanger life or cause suffering and pain, or result in illness or infirmity or threaten to cause or aggravate a handicap, or cause physical deformity or malfunction, and there is no adequate less restrictive alternative available.

(19) "Minor" means a person less than eighteen years of age.

~~((19))~~ (20) "Parent" means the parent or parents who have the legal right to custody of the child. Parent includes custodian or guardian.

~~((20))~~ (21) "Peace officer" means a law enforcement official of a public agency or governmental unit, and includes persons specifically given peace officer powers by any state law, local ordinance, or judicial order of appointment.

~~((21))~~ (22) "Person" means an individual, including a minor.

~~((22))~~ (23) "Professional person in charge" or "professional person" means a physician or chemical dependency counselor as defined in rule by the department, who is empowered by a certified treatment program with authority to make assessment, admission, continuing care, and discharge decisions on behalf of the certified program.

(24) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services.

~~((23))~~ (25) "Treatment" means the broad range of emergency, detoxification, residential, and outpatient services and care, including diagnostic evaluation, chemical dependency education and counseling, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and social service care, vocational rehabilitation and career counseling, which may be extended to alcoholics and other drug addicts and their families, persons incapacitated by alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals, and intoxicated persons.

~~((24))~~ (26) "Treatment program" means an organization, institution, or corporation, public or private, engaged in the care, treatment, or rehabilitation of alcoholics or other drug addicts.

PART II-F - VOLUNTARY CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY OUTPATIENT TREATMENT

~~((4))~~ Any person thirteen years of age or older may give consent for himself or herself to the furnishing of outpatient treatment by a chemical dependency treatment program certified by the department. ~~((Consent of the parent of a person less than eighteen years of age for inpatient treatment is necessary to authorize the care unless the child meets the definition of a child in need of services in RCW 13.32A.030(4)(c), as determined by the department.))~~ Parental authorization is required for any treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen. ~~((The parent of a minor is not liable for payment of care for such persons pursuant to this chapter, unless they have joined in the consent to the treatment.~~

~~(2) The parent of any minor child may apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child for purposes authorized in this chapter. The consent of the minor child shall not be required for the application or admission. The certified treatment program shall accept the application and evaluate the child for admission. The ability of a parent to apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.~~

~~(3) Any provider of outpatient treatment who provides outpatient treatment to a minor thirteen years of age or older shall provide notice of the minor's request for treatment to the minor's parents if: (a) The minor signs a written consent authorizing the disclosure; or (b) the treatment program director determines that the minor lacks capacity to make a rational choice regarding consenting to disclosure. The notice shall be made within seven days of the request for treatment, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and shall contain the name, location, and telephone number of the facility providing treatment, and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for treatment with the parent.)~~

Any provider of outpatient treatment who provides outpatient treatment to a minor thirteen years of age or older shall provide notice of the minor's request for treatment to the minor's parents if: (1) The minor signs a written consent authorizing the disclosure; or (2) the treatment program director determines that the minor lacks capacity to make a rational choice regarding consenting to disclosure. The notice shall be made within seven days of the request for treatment, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and shall contain the name, location, and telephone number of the facility providing treatment, and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for treatment with the parent.

PART II-G - VOLUNTARY CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY INPATIENT TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Parental consent is required for inpatient chemical dependency treatment of a minor, unless the child meets the definition of a child in need of services in RCW 13.32A.030(4)(c) as determined by the department: PROVIDED, That parental consent is required for any treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

This section does not apply to petitions filed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The parent of a minor is not liable for payment of inpatient or outpatient chemical dependency treatment unless the parent has joined in the consent to the treatment.

(2) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.

PART II-H - PARENT-INITIATED CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a certified treatment program and request that a chemical dependency assessment be conducted by a professional person to determine whether the minor is chemically dependent and in need of inpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for admission, evaluation, and treatment if the parent brings the minor to the program.

(3) An appropriately trained professional person may evaluate whether the minor is chemically dependent. The evaluation shall be completed within twenty-four hours of the time the minor was brought to the program, unless the professional person determines that the condition of the minor necessitates additional time for evaluation. In no event shall a minor be held longer than seventy-two hours for evaluation without being admitted or released. If, in the judgment of the professional person, it is determined it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive inpatient treatment, the minor may be admitted. Prior to admission, the facility shall limit treatment to that which the professional person determines is medically necessary to stabilize the minor's condition. Within twenty-four hours of the admission the professional person shall notify the department of the admission.

(4) No provider is obligated to provide treatment to a minor under the provisions of this section. No provider may admit a minor to treatment under this section unless it is medically necessary.

(5) No minor receiving inpatient treatment under this section may be discharged from the program based solely on his or her request.

(6) Any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under this section shall be discharged immediately from inpatient treatment upon written request of the parent.

Sec. 29. RCW 70.96A.097 and 1995 c 312 s 48 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((The admission of any child under RCW 70.96A.095 may be reviewed by the county-designated chemical dependency specialist between fifteen and thirty days following admission. The county-designated chemical dependency specialist may undertake the review on his or her own initiative and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of the review.~~

~~(2)) The department shall ensure that, for any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 28 of this act, a review is conducted ((no later than sixty days)) by a physician or chemical dependency counselor, as defined in rule by the department, who is employed by the department or an agency under contract with the department and who neither has a financial interest in continued inpatient treatment of the minor nor is affiliated with the program providing the treatment. The physician or chemical dependency counselor shall conduct the review not less than seven nor more than fourteen days following ((admission)) the date the minor was brought to the facility under section 28(1) of this act to determine whether it is ((medically appropriate)) a medical necessity to continue the ((child's)) minor's treatment on an inpatient basis. ((The department may, subject to available funds, contract with a county for the conduct of the review conducted under this subsection and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.~~

~~(3) For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, children in inpatient mental health or chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the child has been assessed by the department of social and health services or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out of home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the child's parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the child. Payment for such care by the department of social and health services shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.)~~ treatment provider, the safety of the minor, the likelihood the minor's chemical dependency recovery will deteriorate if released from inpatient treatment, and the wishes of the parent.

(3) If, after any review conducted by the department under this section, the department determines it is no longer a medical necessity for a minor to receive inpatient treatment, the department shall immediately notify the parents and the professional person in charge. The professional person in charge shall release the minor to the parents within twenty-four hours of receiving notice. If the professional person in charge and the parent believe that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain in inpatient treatment, the minor shall be released to the parent on the second judicial day following the department's determination in order to allow the parent time to file an at-risk youth petition under chapter 13.32A RCW. If the department determines it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive outpatient treatment and the minor declines to obtain such treatment, such refusal shall be grounds for the parent to file an at-risk youth petition.

(4) The department may, subject to available funds, contract with other governmental agencies for the conduct of the reviews conducted under this section and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

(5) In addition to the review required under this section, the department may periodically determine and redetermine the medical necessity of treatment for purposes of payment under the medical assistance program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a provider of outpatient chemical dependency treatment and request that an appropriately trained professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a chemical dependency and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for evaluation if the parent brings the minor to the provider.

(3) The professional person in charge of the program may evaluate whether the minor has a chemical dependency and is in need of outpatient treatment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Following the review conducted under RCW 70.96A.097, a minor child may petition the superior court for his or her release from the facility. The petition may be filed not sooner than five days following the review. The court shall release the minor unless it finds, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain at the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

If the minor is not released as a result of the petition filed under section 31 of this act, he or she shall be released not later than thirty days following the later of: (1) The date of the department's determination under RCW 70.96A.097(2); or (2) the filing of a petition for judicial review under section 31 of this act, unless a professional person or the designated chemical dependency specialist initiates proceedings under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, minors in inpatient chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the minor has been assessed by the department or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the minor. Payment for such care by the department shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. It is the purpose of sections 28 and 30 of this act to assure the ability of parents to exercise reasonable, compassionate care and control of their minor children when there is a medical necessity for treatment and without the requirement of filing a petition under chapter 70.96A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 35. The department of social and health services shall adopt rules defining "appropriately trained professional person" for the purposes of conducting mental health and chemical dependency evaluations under sections 18(3), 19(1), 28(3), and 30(1) of this act.

PART III - MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 36. The legislature finds that an essential component of the children in need of services, dependency, and truancy laws is the use of juvenile detention. As chapter 7.21 RCW is currently written, courts may not order detention time without a criminal charge being filed. It is the intent of the legislature to avoid the bringing of criminal charges against youth who need the guidance of the court rather than its punishment. The legislature further finds that ordering a child placed in detention is a remedial action, not a punitive one. Since the legislature finds that the state is required to provide instruction to children in detention, use of the courts' contempt powers is an effective means for furthering the education and protection of these children. Thus, it is the intent of the legislature to authorize a limited sanction of time in juvenile detention independent of chapter 7.21 RCW for failure to comply with court orders in truancy, child in need of services, at-risk youth, and dependency cases for the sole purpose of providing the courts with the tools necessary to enforce orders in these limited types of cases because other statutory contempt remedies are inadequate.

Sec. 37. RCW 7.21.030 and 1989 c 373 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court may initiate a proceeding to impose a remedial sanction on its own motion or on the motion of a person aggrieved by a contempt of court in the proceeding to which the contempt is related. Except as provided in RCW 7.21.050, the court, after notice and hearing, may impose a remedial sanction authorized by this chapter.

(2) If the court finds that the person has failed or refused to perform an act that is yet within the person's power to perform, the court may find the person in contempt of court and impose one or more of the following remedial sanctions:

(a) Imprisonment if the contempt of court is of a type defined in RCW 7.21.010(1) (b) through (d). The imprisonment may extend only so long as it serves a coercive purpose.

(b) A forfeiture not to exceed two thousand dollars for each day the contempt of court continues.

(c) An order designed to ensure compliance with a prior order of the court.

(d) Any other remedial sanction other than the sanctions specified in (a) through (c) of this subsection if the court expressly finds that those sanctions would be ineffectual to terminate a continuing contempt of court.

(e) In cases under chapters 13.32A, 13.34, and 28A.225 RCW, commitment to juvenile detention for a period of time not to exceed seven days. This sanction may be imposed in addition to, or as an alternative to, any other remedial sanction authorized by this chapter. This remedy is specifically determined to be a remedial sanction.

(3) The court may, in addition to the remedial sanctions set forth in subsection (2) of this section, order a person found in contempt of court to pay a party for any losses suffered by the party as a result of the contempt and any costs incurred in connection with the contempt proceeding, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(1) In all child in need of services proceedings and at-risk youth proceedings, the court shall verbally notify the parents and the child of the possibility of a finding of contempt for failure to comply with the terms of a court order entered pursuant to this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the court shall treat the parents and the child equally for the purposes of applying contempt of court processes and penalties under this section.

(2) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is a civil contempt of court as provided in ((~~chapter 7.21~~) RCW 7.21.030(2)(e)), subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section.

(3) The court may impose remedial sanctions including a fine of up to one hundred dollars and confinement for up to seven days, or both for contempt of court under this section.

(4) A child placed in confinement for contempt under this section shall be placed in confinement only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(5) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, a child, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(6) Whenever the court finds probable cause to believe, based upon consideration of a motion for contempt and the information set forth in a supporting declaration, that a child has violated a placement order entered under this chapter, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to pick up and take the child to detention. The order may be entered ex parte without prior notice to the child or other parties. Following the child's admission to detention, a detention review hearing must be held in accordance with RCW 13.32A.065.

(1) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is civil contempt of court as provided in ((~~chapter 7.21~~) RCW 7.21.030(2)(e)).

(2) The maximum term of imprisonment that may be imposed as a ((~~punitive~~) remedial) sanction for contempt of court under this section is confinement for up to seven days.

(3) A child imprisoned for contempt under this section shall be confined only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(4) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order entered pursuant to this chapter.

(5) Whenever the court finds probable cause to believe, based upon consideration of a motion for contempt and the information set forth in a supporting declaration, that a child has violated a placement order entered under this chapter, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to pick up and take the child to detention. The order may be entered ex parte without prior notice to the child or other parties. Following the child's admission to detention, a detention review hearing must be held in accordance with RCW 13.32A.065.

Sec. 40. RCW 28A.225.090 and 1997 c 68 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A court may order a child subject to a petition under RCW 28A.225.035 to:

(a) Attend the child's current school;

(b) If there is space available and the program can provide educational services appropriate for the child, order the child to attend another public school, an alternative education program, center, a skill center, dropout prevention program, or another public educational program;

(c) Attend a private nonsectarian school or program including an education center. Before ordering a child to attend an approved or certified private nonsectarian school or program, the court shall: (i) Consider the public and private programs available; (ii) find that placement is in the best interest of the child; and (iii) find that the private school or program is willing to accept the child and will not charge any fees in addition to those established by contract with the student's school district. If the court orders the child to enroll in a private school or program, the child's school district shall contract with the school or program to provide educational services for the child. The school district shall not be required to contract for a weekly rate that exceeds the state general apportionment dollars calculated on a weekly basis generated by the child and received by the district. A school district shall not be required to enter into a contract that is longer than the remainder of the school year. A school district shall not be required to enter into or continue a contract if the child is no longer enrolled in the district;

(d) Be referred to a community truancy board, if available; or

(e) Submit to testing for the use of controlled substances or alcohol based on a determination that such testing is appropriate to the circumstances and behavior of the child and will facilitate the child's compliance with the mandatory attendance law.

(2) If the child fails to comply with the court order, the court may order the child to be punished by detention, as provided in RCW 7.21.030(2)(e), or may impose alternatives to detention such as community service. Failure by a child to comply with an order issued under this subsection shall not be punishable by detention for a period greater than that permitted pursuant to a civil contempt proceeding against a child under chapter 13.32A RCW.

(3) Any parent violating any of the provisions of either RCW 28A.225.010 or 28A.225.080 shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars for each day of unexcused absence from school. It shall be a defense for a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 to show that he or she exercised reasonable diligence in attempting to cause a child in his or her custody to attend school or that the child's school did not perform its duties as required in RCW 28A.225.020. The court may order the parent to provide community service instead of imposing a fine. Any fine imposed pursuant to this section may be suspended upon the condition that a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 shall participate with the school and the child in a supervised plan for the child's attendance at school or upon condition that the parent attend a conference or conferences scheduled by a school for the purpose of analyzing the causes of a child's absence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 41. The legislature finds that predatory individuals, such as drug dealers, sexual marauders, and panderers, provide shelter to at-risk youth as a means of preying upon them. The legislature further finds that at-risk youth are vulnerable to the influence of these individuals. Thus, the legislature finds that it is important to the safety of Washington's youth that they be prevented from coming in contact with these predatory individuals. The legislature further finds that locating runaway children is the first step to preventing individuals from preying on these youth and to achieving family reconciliation. Therefore, the legislature intends to use punitive measures to create a clear disincentive for predatory individuals intending to take advantage of at-risk youth. The legislature further intends that all persons be required to report the location of a runaway minor, but that those individuals who fail to make such a report because they wish to have the minor remain unlocated as a means of preying upon them be punished for their failure to report the child's location.

Sec. 42. RCW 13.32A.080 and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 507 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) A person commits the crime of unlawful harboring of a minor if the person provides shelter to a minor without the consent of a parent of the minor and after the person knows that the minor is away from the home of the parent, without the parent's permission, and if the person intentionally:

(i) Fails to release the minor to a law enforcement officer after being requested to do so by the officer; or

(ii) Fails to disclose the location of the minor to a law enforcement officer after being requested to do so by the officer, if the person knows the location of the minor and had either taken the minor to that location or had assisted the minor in reaching that location; or

(iii) Obstructs a law enforcement officer from taking the minor into custody; or

(iv) Assists the minor in avoiding or attempting to avoid the custody of the law enforcement officer; or

(v) Engages the child in a crime; or

(iv) Engages in a clear course of conduct that demonstrates an intent to contribute to the delinquency of a minor or the involvement of a minor in a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

(b) It is a defense to a prosecution under this section that the defendant had custody of the minor pursuant to a court order.

(2) Harboring a minor is punishable as a gross misdemeanor.

(3) Any person who provides shelter to a child, absent from home, may notify the department's local community service office of the child's presence.

(4) An adult responsible for involving a child in the commission of an offense may be prosecuted under existing criminal statutes including, but not limited to:

(a) Distribution of a controlled substance to a minor, as defined in RCW 69.50.406;

(b) Promoting prostitution as defined in chapter 9A.88 RCW; and

(c) Complicity of the adult in the crime of a minor, under RCW 9A.08.020.

Sec. 43. RCW 13.32A.082 and 1996 c 133 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who, without legal authorization, provides shelter to a minor and who knows at the time of providing the shelter that the minor is away from the parent's home, or other lawfully prescribed residence, without the permission of the parent, shall promptly report the location of the child to the parent, the law enforcement agency of the jurisdiction in which the person lives, or the department. The report may be made by telephone or any other reasonable means.

(2) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Shelter" means the person's home or any structure over which the person has any control.

(b) "Promptly report" means to report within eight hours after the person has knowledge that the minor is away from home without parental permission.

(3) When the department receives a report under subsection (1) of this section, it shall make a good faith attempt to notify the parent that a report has been received and offer services designed to resolve the conflict and accomplish a reunification of the family.

(4) A person who violates subsection (1) of this section with the intent to contribute to the delinquency of a minor or the involvement of a minor in a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Representative Bush moved the adoption of amendment (855):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that the volume of commercial electronic mail is growing, and the consumer protection division of the attorney general's office reports an increasing number of consumer complaints about commercial electronic mail. Interactive computer service providers indicate that their systems sometimes cannot handle the volume of commercial electronic mail being sent and that filtering systems fail to screen out unsolicited commercial electronic mail messages when senders use a third party's internet domain name without the third party's permission, or otherwise misrepresent the message's point of origin. The legislature seeks to provide some immediate relief to interactive computer service providers by prohibiting the sending of commercial electronic mail messages that use a third party's internet domain name without the third party's permission, misrepresent the message's point of origin, or contain untrue or misleading information in the subject line.

The legislature also finds that the utilization of electronic mail messages for commercial purposes merits further study. A select task force should be created to explore technical, legal, and cost issues surrounding the usage of electronic mail messages for commercial purposes and to recommend to the legislature any potential legislation needed for regulating commercial electronic mail messages.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Commercial electronic mail message" means an electronic mail message sent for the purpose of promoting real property, goods, or services for sale or lease.

(2) "Electronic mail address" means a destination, commonly expressed as a string of characters, to which electronic mail may be sent or delivered.

(3) "Initiate the transmission" refers to the action by the original sender of an electronic mail message, not to the action by any intervening interactive computer service that may handle or retransmit the message.

(4) "Interactive computer service" means any information service, system, or access software provider that provides or enables computer access by multiple users to a computer server, including specifically a service or system that provides access to the internet and such systems operated or services offered by libraries or educational institutions.

(5) "Internet domain name" refers to a globally unique, hierarchical reference to an internet host or service, assigned through centralized internet naming authorities, comprising a series of character strings separated by periods, with the right-most string specifying the top of the hierarchy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) No person, corporation, partnership, or association may initiate the transmission of a commercial electronic mail message from a computer located in Washington or to an electronic mail address that the sender knows, or has reason to know, is held by a Washington resident that:

(a) Uses a third party's internet domain name without permission of the third party, or otherwise misrepresents any information in identifying the point of origin or the transmission path of a commercial electronic mail message; or

(b) Contains false or misleading information in the subject line.

(2) For purposes of this section, a person, corporation, partnership, or association knows that the intended recipient of a commercial electronic mail message is a Washington resident if that information is available, upon request, from the registrant of the internet domain name contained in the recipient's electronic mail address.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) It is a violation of the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW, to initiate the transmission of a commercial electronic mail message that:

(a) Uses a third party's internet domain name without permission of the third party, or otherwise misrepresents any information in identifying the point of origin or the transmission path of a commercial electronic mail message; or

(b) Contains false or misleading information in the subject line.

(2) The legislature finds that the practices covered by this chapter are matters vitally affecting the public interest for the purpose of applying the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW. A violation of this chapter is not reasonable in relation to the development and preservation of business and is an unfair or deceptive act in trade or commerce and an unfair method of competition for the purpose of applying the consumer protection act, chapter 19.86 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Damages to the recipient of a commercial electronic mail message sent in violation of this chapter are five hundred dollars, or actual damages, whichever is greater.

(2) Damages to an interactive computer service resulting from a violation of this chapter are one thousand dollars, or actual damages, whichever is greater.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) An interactive computer service may, upon its own initiative, block the receipt or transmission through its service of any commercial electronic mail that it reasonably believes is, or will be, sent in violation of this chapter.

(2) No interactive computer service may be held liable for any action voluntarily taken in good faith to block the receipt or transmission through its service of any commercial electronic mail which it reasonably believes is, or will be, sent in violation of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 19 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) The select task force on commercial electronic mail messages is hereby created. The select task force shall:

(a) Identify technical, legal, and cost issues in relation to the transmission and receipt of commercial electronic mail messages over the internet;

(b) Evaluate whether existing laws are sufficient to resolve any technical, legal, or financial problems created by the increasing volume of commercial electronic mail messages;

(c) Review efforts being made by the federal government and other states to regulate the transmission of commercial electronic mail messages; and

(d) Prepare a report identifying policy options and recommendations for any potential legislation needed to regulate commercial electronic mail messages. The report shall be delivered to the house of representatives energy and utilities committee by November 15, 1998.

(2) The select task force shall be composed of three members, consisting of:

(a) Two members of the house of representatives, one from each of the two largest caucuses, each member being a member of the house of representatives energy and utilities committee, appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives; and

(b) One person appointed by the governor.

(3) The select task force shall solicit input from interested parties, including but not limited to, persons representing:

(a) Attorney general's consumer protection division;

(b) Internet service providers;

(c) Direct marketers;

(d) Manufacturers of electronic mail messaging software;

(e) Nonprofit organizations interested in free speech and other civil liberty matters; and

(f) Internet users.

(4) Staff support for the select task force shall be provided by the house of representatives office of program research.

(5) This section expires December 31, 1998."

Allowing rural counties to authorize additional industrial development in rural areas.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Morris moved the adoption of amendment (937):

On page 2, after line 2, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply to this section, sections 3 and 4 of this act, RCW 82.62.030, and sections 9 through 16 of this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Business" means the person applying for the tax deferral, credit, or exemption.

(b) "Construction" means the construction of a manufacturing operation complex and includes labor and services rendered in respect to construction. "Construction" ends when a project is completed as determined under subsection (2)(c) of this section.

(c) "Distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

(d) "Employment position" means a position in which a permanent full-time employee is employed in a project during the entire tax year. "The entire tax year" means the full-time position is filled for a period of twelve consecutive months. "Full-time" means at least thirty-five hours a week.

(e) "Equipping and operating" means the acquisition of tangible personal property for use at the manufacturing operation complex, and includes labor and services rendered in respect to the installation of tangible personal property.

(f) "Finished product" means an article, substance, or commodity that is manufactured at and shipped from the manufacturing operation complex.

(g) "Manufacturing operation complex" means the buildings, structures, and improvements located at the site where the manufacturing activity occurs. The complex includes the buildings, structures, and improvements used to receive, store, and ship raw materials and finished products as well as buildings, structures, and improvements used for the manufacturing production line. In addition, the term includes all administrative offices, employee support facilities, and production support facilities located at the site. The manufacturing operation complex does not include buildings, structures, and improvements located off of the site.

(h) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(i) "Project" means the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of a manufacturing operation complex.

(j) "Raw material" means the ingredients, components, substances, articles, or other tangible personal property that is received at the manufacturing operation complex for use as ingredients or components of the finished product.

(k) "Site" means a discrete geographical location.

(l) "Site preparation" means demolition of existing improvements, environmental remediation, earth moving, land clearing, site excavation, and shoring, and includes labor and services rendered in respect to site preparation.

(2) As a condition to receiving initial approval and as a condition of continuing eligibility, the following criteria must be met:

(a) The project must be located in a distressed county and must be owned and operated by a person who meets the definition of "manufacturer" as defined in RCW 82.04.110;

(b) The business must commit to an investment, by the time of completion of the project, in land, structures, and equipment, the value of which must be at least four percent of the total of the equalized assessed value in the county in which the project is located. The total equalized assessed value in the county is as published annually by the department in accordance with RCW 84.48.080. Continuing eligibility is conditioned on this investment having actually occurred;

(c)(i) The business must commit to and must create a minimum of twenty new employment positions at the project within two years of completion of the project.

(ii) The business must commit to and create one new employment position for each two million dollars invested in the project within two years of completion of the project. The twenty minimum positions in (c)(i) of this subsection are part of and not in addition to the positions required to meet the investment to job ratio.

(iii) The individuals in the new employment positions must be the employees of the business and must not have been relocated from other locations of the business within this state. Completion of the project is deemed to have occurred when the project is capable of operating and producing finished products. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall determine when the project is complete;

(d) The business must commit to and must pay an average wage of at least one hundred fifty percent of the average wage in the county. The employment security department shall determine the average wage in the county and shall report this amount to the department of community, trade, and economic development; and

(e) The business must remain operational for a fifteen-year period after the project is completed. "Operational" means that the level of employment at the manufacturing operation complex must not drop below the total employment positions required under (c) of this subsection.

(3)(a) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall determine the eligibility of a business and certify eligibility to the department of revenue.

(b) Approval of the project by a public vote of the governing body of the county or city in which the project is located is a precondition to deferral certification by the department of revenue. If the county or city approves the project, the county or city shall send a written notification of the approval to the department of revenue. If the project is in two jurisdictions, both jurisdictions must approve the project.

(c) When both of the notices under (a) and (b) of this subsection are received, the department of revenue shall issue a sales and use tax deferral certificate for use under sections 3 and 4 of this act.

(4) In addition to the initial certification under subsection (3) of this section, the project must be reviewed by the department of community, trade, and economic development each year for continuing eligibility. The business shall provide an annual report to the department of community, trade, and economic development, in a form as required by the department, of its status relative to the eligibility criteria under subsection (2) of this section. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall review the annual report and determine whether the project continues to meet the eligibility criteria. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide a written notice of this determination to the business and to the department of revenue. Annual reapproval by the county or city in which the project is located is not required. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria the amount of taxes deferred under sections 3 and 4 of this act are immediately due.

(5) Taxes deferred under sections 3 and 4 of this act need not be repaid if the project maintains its eligibility criteria for a fifteen-year period. The fifteen-year period begins when the deferral certificate is sent under subsection (3)(c) of this section by the department of revenue to the business.

(6) Application for the deferral under sections 3 and 4 of this act may not be accepted before the effective date of this section or after June 30, 2003.

(7) The employment security department shall provide such data to the department of revenue and the department of community, trade, and economic development as is necessary to administer this section wage data shall be updated annually to reflect current state and county conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person that has received a certification from the department under section 2(3)(c) of this act may use that certificate for deferral of the state share of taxes due under this chapter on the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of the project.

(2) The certificate is not valid for sales that occurred before certification by the department. After the project is determined to be complete under section 2(2)(c) of this act, the certificate is limited to taxes related to equipping and operating of the project.

(3)(a) The certificate may be used for fifteen years after its issuance.

(b) The deferral under this section is conditioned on the business remaining eligible under section 2 of this act. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria, the amount of taxes deferred under this section are immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(4) The buyer must keep such records as the department requires for audit and verification purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person that has received a certification from the department under section 2(3)(c) of this act may use that certificate for deferral of the state share of taxes due under this chapter on the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of the project.

(2) The certificate is not valid for tax due on use that occurred before certification by the department. After the project is determined to be complete under section 2(2)(c) of this act, the certificate is limited to tax due on use of tangible personal property related to equipping and operating of the project.

(3)(a) The certificate may be used for fifteen years after its issuance.

(b) The deferral under this section is conditioned on the business remaining eligible under section 2 of this act. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria, the amount of taxes deferred under this section are immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(4) The buyer must keep such records as the department requires for audit and verification purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:
The deferral under sections 3 and 4 of this act is for the state portion of the sales and use tax and does not extend to the tax imposed in this chapter.

Sec. 5. RCW 81.104.170 and 1997 c 450 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Cities that operate transit systems, county transportation authorities, metropolitan municipal corporations, public transportation benefit areas, and regional transit authorities may submit an authorizing proposition to the voters and if approved by a majority of persons voting, fix and impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter, solely for the purpose of providing high capacity transportation service.

The tax authorized pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the tax authorized by RCW 82.14.030 and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state pursuant to chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the taxing district. The maximum rate of such tax shall be approved by the voters and shall not exceed one percent of the selling price (in the case of a sales tax) or value of the article used (in the case of a use tax). The maximum rate of such tax that may be imposed shall not exceed nine-tenths of one percent in any county that imposes a tax under RCW 82.14.340, or within a regional transit authority if any county within the authority imposes a tax under RCW 82.14.340. The exemptions in RCW 82.08.820 and 82.12.820 are for the state portion of the sales and use tax and do not extend to the tax authorized in this section.

The deferral in sections 3 and 4 of this act is for the state portion of the sales tax and does not extend to the tax imposed in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 82.32 RCW to read as follows:

The department of revenue may develop and institute a tax reporting method whereby the taxpayer uses deductions, credits, or other accounting techniques, as directed by the department, to allow the department to administer, and the taxpayer to report, the deferral in sections 3 and 4 of this act simply and efficiently. Taxpayers who are entitled to this deferral and sellers who receive deferral certificates from buyers shall keep their records in a form and manner as directed by the department so that the department can distinguish between taxable and exempt transactions.

Sec. 7. RCW 82.62.030 and 1997 c 366 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall be allowed a credit against the tax due under chapter 82.04 RCW as provided in this section. For an application approved before January 1, 1996, the credit shall equal one thousand dollars for each qualified employment position directly created in an eligible business project. For an application approved on or after January 1, 1996, the credit shall equal two thousand dollars for each qualified employment position directly created in an eligible business project. For an application approved on or after July 1, 1997, the credit shall equal four thousand dollars for each qualified employment position with wages and benefits greater than forty thousand dollars annually that is directly created in an eligible business. For an application approved on or after July 1, 1997, the credit shall equal two thousand dollars for each qualified employment position with wages and benefits less than or equal to forty thousand dollars annually that is directly created in an eligible business.

(2) The department shall keep a running total of all credits granted under this chapter during each fiscal year. The department shall not allow any credits which would cause the tabulation to exceed five million five hundred thousand dollars in fiscal year 1998 or 1999 or seven million five hundred thousand dollars in any fiscal year thereafter. If all or part of an application for credit is disallowed under this subsection, the disallowed portion shall be carried over for approval the next fiscal year. However, the applicant's carryover into the next fiscal year is only permitted if the tabulation for the next fiscal year does not exceed the cap for that fiscal year as of the date on which the department has disallowed the application.

(3) No recipient may use the tax credits to decertify a union or to displace existing jobs in any community in the state.

(4) No recipient may receive a tax credit on taxes which have not been paid during the taxable year.

(5) A business that has received certification from the department of revenue under section 2 of this act is eligible for an annual credit of four thousand dollars for each of the positions used to establish project eligibility. Positions created in excess of those required to maintain eligibility are also eligible for the credit under this subsection. The business may apply for the credit once the project is complete, as determined in section 2 of this act. The business may apply each of the successive seven years following its initial application under this subsection and shall receive the credit if the continuing employment requirements of section 2 of this act are met. The credits granted under this subsection do not affect the caps under subsection (2) of this section and the fifteen percent requirement under RCW 82.62.010. Application for the credit under this subsection may not be accepted before the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) All real and personal property belonging to a business and used in connection with a project that qualifies under this chapter is exempt from ad valorem property taxation for fifteen successive years from completion of construction and certification of the project, as determined under section 2 of this act.

(2) The exemption does not include real or personal property acquired or constructed prior to the approval of the application prescribed in this chapter. The exemption provided by this chapter is in addition to any other incentives, tax credits, or grants provided by law.

(3) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this chapter, where applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A person making application for exemption under this chapter must meet the requirements of section 2 of this act and must enter into a contract approved by the department and the governing body or bodies of the city or county in which the project is located. In the contract the applicant must agree to the requirements of section 2 of this act and this chapter. The department of revenue may not accept any application for exemption under this chapter after June 30, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. An applicant seeking a tax exemption under this chapter must complete the following procedures:

(1) The applicant shall apply to the department on forms prepared by the department. The application for exemption must contain the following:

(a) A description of the manner in which the applicant intends to proceed with acquisition and construction of the project, together with proposed time frames for accomplishing the requirements of section 2 of this act and this chapter; and

(b) A statement that the applicant is aware of the potential tax liability that will be imposed if the property ceases to be eligible for the exemption provided under this chapter.

(2) The applicant must verify the application for exemption by oath or affirmation.

(3) The department may permit the applicant to revise an application for exemption before final action on the application is taken by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The department may approve the application for exemption filed under this chapter if it finds that:

(1) The proposed project is or will be, at the time of completion, in conformance with all applicable local government regulations in effect at the time the application for exemption is approved;

(2) The applicant has complied with all requirements under this chapter;

(3) The site of the project is located in a distressed county, as defined by section 2 of this act; and

(4) The governing body of the county or city in which the project is located has by a public vote approved the project and has sent a written notification of the approval to the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The department shall approve or deny an application for exemption filed under this chapter within sixty days after it is received, unless in the discretion of the department additional time is necessary in order to make a decision.

(2) If the application for exemption is approved, the department shall issue the applicant a conditional certificate of tax exemption. The certificate must contain a statement by a duly authorized administrative official of the department that the applicant has complied with the requirements of this chapter.

(3) If the application for exemption is denied by the department, the deciding administrative official shall state in writing the reasons for the denial and mail the notice to the applicant at the applicant's last known address within ten days of the denial.

(4) Upon receiving a denial of the application for a property tax exemption under this chapter, the applicant may appeal the denial to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the board. This appeal must be submitted within thirty days of the date the notice is received. If the exemption is denied, the sixty-day time period for approving the application for exemption regarding the project must be extended to the extent necessary to accommodate the appeal process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Upon completion of construction of a project for which an application for exemption under this chapter has been approved, the owner of the eligible business shall file with the department the following:

(a) A statement of the amount of expenditures for land, structures, machinery, and equipment made with respect to the project;

(b) A description of the work that has been completed and a statement that the owner's property qualifies the property for exemption under this chapter; and

(c) A statement that the work has been completed within two years of the issuance of the conditional certificate of tax exemption.

(2) Within thirty days of the date the statements required under subsection (1) of this section are received, the authorized representative of the department shall determine whether the work completed is consistent with the application for exemption and the contract approved by the legislative authority of the local taxing districts and is qualified for exemption under this chapter. The department shall also determine which completed improvements specifically meet the requirements and required findings.

(3) The department shall file the certificate of tax exemption with the county assessor within ten days of approval if:

(a) The construction is completed within two years of the date the conditional certificate of tax exemption was issued or within an authorized extension of this time limit; and

(b) The authorized representative of the department determines that improvements were constructed consistent with the application for exemption and other applicable requirements and the applicant's property is qualified for exemption under this chapter.

(4) The authorized representative of the department shall notify the applicant that a certificate of tax exemption will not be issued if the representative determines that:

(a) The construction was not completed within two years of the approval date or within any authorized extension of the time limit;

(b) The improvements were not constructed consistent with the application for exemption or other applicable requirements; or

(c) The applicant's property is otherwise not qualified for exemption under this chapter.

(5) If the authorized representative of the department finds that the project was not completed within the required time period is due to circumstances beyond the control of the applicant and that the applicant has been acting and could reasonably be expected to act in good faith and with due diligence, the department may extend the deadline for completion of the project for a period not to exceed twenty-four consecutive months.

(6) The decision by the deciding officer that an owner of an eligible business is not entitled to a certificate of tax exemption may be appealed to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) Within thirty days of the anniversary of the date the certificate of tax exemption was issued and each year thereafter for a period of fifteen years, the owner of the eligible business shall file with a designated representative of the department of community, trade, and economic development an annual report indicating the following:

(a) A certification by the owner that the use of the property has not changed since the date the certificate was approved by the department; and

(b) A description of changes or improvements made after the certificate of tax exemption was issued.

(2) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall annually determine whether the business meets the requirements of this chapter and shall annually report this determination to the department of revenue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Land, structures, and machinery and equipment that have been exempted under this chapter shall continue to be exempt if not converted to another use for at least fifteen years from the date of issuance of the certificate of tax exemption. If the owner intends to convert the development to another use, the owner must notify the assessor within sixty days of the change in use. If, after a certificate of tax exemption has been filed with the county assessor, the assessor discovers that the use of a portion of the property has changed or will be changed to a use that no longer meets the requirements as previously approved or agreed upon by contract between the department and the owner and that the eligible business no longer qualifies for the exemption, the tax exemption must be canceled and the following must occur:

(a) Additional property tax must be imposed upon the property in the amount that would normally be imposed, plus a penalty amounting to twenty percent of the additional tax. This additional tax is calculated based upon the difference between the property tax paid and the amount of property tax otherwise due and payable had the property not been granted an exemption. The tax, together with penalty and interest, is due in accordance with RCW 84.56.020 the year following the year the property no longer qualifies for exemption;

(b) The tax must include interest upon the amount of additional tax at the same statutory rate charged on delinquent property taxes from the dates on which the additional tax could have been paid without penalty if the property had been assessed at a value without regard to this chapter; and

(c) An additional tax unpaid on its due date is delinquent. From the date of delinquency until the additional tax and penalty are paid, interest must be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes. The additional tax owed together with interest and penalty become a lien on the land and attach at the time the property or portion of the property no longer meets applicable requirement. The lien has priority to and must be fully paid and satisfied before a recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation, or responsibility to or with which the land may become charged or liable. The lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real or personal property taxes.

(2) When a determination has been made that a tax exemption is to be canceled for a reason stated in this section, the department shall notify the owner of the property, shown by the tax rolls, by mail that the exemption will be canceled. Upon receiving the notice that the exemption is to be canceled, the owner may appeal the cancellation to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedures of the board. This appeal must be submitted within thirty days of the date the notice of cancellation is received and must specify the factual and legal basis on which the determination of cancellation is alleged to be erroneous.

(3) Upon receiving notice from the department or its authorized representative that an exemption has been canceled, the county officials having possession of the assessment and tax rolls shall correct the rolls and collect additional taxes, interest, and penalty in accordance with this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Board" means the community economic revitalization board under chapter 43.160 RCW;

(b) "Private-sector business" or "business" means "person" as defined in RCW 82.04.030. "Private-sector business" does not include a public agency. "Public agency" means the state or its agencies, instrumentalities, or political subdivisions, or the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or an Indian tribe or nation; and

(c) "Public facilities" means bridges, roads, domestic and industrial water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, railroad, electricity, natural gas, buildings or structures, and port facilities, in the state of Washington.

(2) A person shall be allowed a credit against tax due under this chapter or chapter 82.16 RCW as provided in this section. The credit shall equal fifty cents for each dollar of private funds spent on qualifying public facilities. A person may not receive credit for funds spent by another person. Eligible spending is limited to construction, reconstruction, or improvement of the public facility, and includes rights of way and real property acquisition, engineering and design work, environmental assessment and mitigation, and materials acquisition.

(3) The department, subject to the limitations of subsection (4) of this section, shall approve applications for tax credits upon occurrence of the following:

(a) A written certification is submitted by the board to the department, stating the applicant has been approved for a loan or grant under chapter 43.160 RCW. The tax credit applicant shall provide a written request to the board, requesting the board to provide such certification to the department;

(b) A written agreement is submitted to the department before the start of the public facility project, signed by the public agency responsible for the public facility and the business spending money on the public facility, establishing the financial obligations of the business and stating that the public facility is to be owned and controlled by the public agency;

(c) If the facility will be owned by the business until completion, a written agreement is submitted to the department providing a mechanism for transfer of ownership of the facility to the public agency upon completion of the project; and

(d) The business, in consultation with the public agency, provides a letter to the department establishing that the public facility will enable the business to create, retain, or expand jobs. The business making the expenditures must be the same business upon which the job criteria is based. A business may not use the jobs upon which an earlier project was based to justify additional projects for which the business is applying for tax credits.

(4)(a) Tax credits are available on a first-come basis, with priority based on the date an application is received by the department. Upon completion of a public facility, as determined by the department, the department shall certify the business as eligible for tax credits under this section. An applicant is not eligible for tax credits under this section in excess of the amount of tax that would otherwise be due under this chapter. Approved credit may be carried over one calendar year after the year in which the credit is approved. Any unused credit remaining after the one-year carry-over period has elapsed expires. Refunds shall not be given in place of credits.

(b) The department shall keep a running total of all credits approved. The sum total of credits granted under this section and section 18 of this act shall be no more than five million dollars of credits each fiscal year. If the amount requested for a credit in an application will cause the cap to be exceeded, the department shall give a partial approval of the project, equal to the amount of remaining credit available for the fiscal year.

(c) The amount of credit taken is not confidential or subject to RCW 82.32.330, and is disclosable by the department as a public record.

(5) Investments in a public facility do not give the private-sector business a right or privilege, or any other benefit in the public facility.

(6) An application under this section may not be approved after June 30, 2005.

(7) Tax credits shall not be granted for spending that occurred before the effective date of this section. Applicants are not eligible based on a loan or grant approved before the effective date of this section.

(8) If a person has used a credit granted under this section against tax due under chapter 82.16 RCW the person may not use the same credit for tax due under this chapter.

(9) The tax credit program under this section and section 18 of this act is limited to expenditures for public facilities located in distressed counties. "Distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this section exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 82.16 RCW to read as follows:

The tax credit program under section 17 of this act is available to persons for tax due under this chapter. If a person has used a credit granted under this section against tax due under chapter 82.04 RCW the person may not use the same credit for tax due under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. It is the intent of the legislature to promote the creation and the retention of jobs. To that end section 20, chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (section 20 of this act) allows counties to provide public facilities that will attract and retain businesses, thereby creating and maintaining jobs.

(1) The legislative authority of a distressed county may impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter. The tax is in addition to other taxes authorized by law and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the county. The rate of tax shall not exceed ~~((0.04))~~ 0.12 percent of the selling price in the case of a sales tax or value of the article used in the case of a use tax.

(2) The tax imposed under subsection (1) of this section shall be deducted from the amount of tax otherwise required to be collected or paid over to the department of revenue under chapter 82.08 or 82.12 RCW. The department of revenue shall perform the collection of such taxes on behalf of the county at no cost to the county.

(3) Moneys collected under this section shall only be used for the purpose of financing qualifying public facilities in rural counties. The public facility must be listed as an item in the economic development section of the comprehensive plan for those counties planning under RCW 36.70A.040, or, for those counties who do not plan under the growth management act, the public facility must be listed in the county's capital facilities plan. For the purposes of this section, "public facilities" means bridges, roads, domestic and industrial water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, railroad, electricity, natural gas, buildings or structures, and port facilities, in the state of Washington.

(4) No tax may be collected under this section before July 1, 1998. No tax may be collected under this section by a county more than twenty-five years after the date that a tax is first imposed under this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, "distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which a tax is first imposed under this section exceeds the average state ~~((employment))~~ unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Sections 9 through 16 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 84 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. This act takes effect July 1, 1998."

Correct the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Reams requested a ruling on Scope and Object of amendment 937 to House Bill No. 2748.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Mr. Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding): Representative Reams, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order challenging the Scope and Object of amendment 937 to House Bill No. 2748.

House Bill No. 2748 is titled "AN ACT Relating to allowing rural counties to authorized additional industrial development in rural areas". It adds a new section to RCW 36.70A, the statutes that deal with the growth management act.

Amendment 937 by Representative Morris amends Title 82 which deals with the tax laws in this State providing for additional industrial developments making available certain tax benefits for manufacturing projects in distressed counties. The amendment is clearly outside the Scope of the Title of the bill.

Representative Reams, your Point of Order is well taken.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Mulliken, Reams, Clements, Doumit, Alexander and Morris spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Representatives Romero, Gardner, Kessler and Lantz spoke against passage of the bill.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) stated the question before the House to be final passage of House Bill No. 2748.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 2748, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 74, Nays - 22, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Conway, Cooke, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Doumit, Dunn, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Keiser, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Parlette, Pennington, Quall, Radcliff, Reams, Robertson, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Smith, Sommers, D., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luven, Wensman, Wood and Mr. Speaker - 74.

Voting nay: Representatives Appelwick, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Cooper, Costa, Dickerson, Dunshee, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Kastama, Kenney, Lantz, Ogden, Poulsen, Regala, Romero, Scott, Sommers, H., Veloria and Wolfe - 22.

Excused: Representatives Skinner and Zellinsky - 2.

House Bill No. 2748, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2871, by Representatives Parlette, Chandler, Wensman, Anderson, Reams, Clements, Romero, Linville, Gardner and Thompson

Creating a system of classifying land as agricultural land with long-term commercial significance for tax purposes.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2871 was substituted for House Bill No. 2871 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2871 was read the second time.

With the consent of the House, amendment number 928 to Substitute House Bill No. 2871 was withdrawn.

Representative Parlette moved the adoption of amendment (991):

On page 5, after line 20, insert:

As used in this chapter, unless a different meaning is required by the context:

(1) "Open space land" means (a) any land area so designated by an official comprehensive land use plan adopted by any city or county and zoned accordingly, or (b) any land area, the preservation of which in its present use would (i) conserve and enhance natural or scenic resources, or (ii) protect streams or water supply, or (iii) promote conservation of soils, wetlands, beaches or tidal marshes, or (iv) enhance the value to the public of abutting or neighboring parks, forests, wildlife preserves, nature reservations or sanctuaries or other open space, or (v) enhance recreation opportunities, or (vi) preserve historic sites, or (vii) preserve visual quality along highway, road, and street corridors or scenic vistas, or (viii) retain in its natural state tracts of land not less than one acre situated in an urban area and open to public use on such conditions as may be reasonably required by the legislative body granting the open space classification, or (c) any land meeting the definition of farm and agricultural conservation land under subsection (8) of this section. As a condition of granting open space classification, the legislative body may not require public access on land classified under (b)(iii) of this subsection for the purpose of promoting conservation of wetlands.

(2) "Farm and agricultural land" means:

(a) Any parcel of land that is twenty or more acres or multiple parcels of land that are contiguous and total twenty or more acres:

(i) Devoted primarily to the production of livestock or agricultural commodities for commercial purposes;

(ii) Enrolled in the federal conservation reserve program or its successor administered by the United States department of agriculture; or

(iii) Other similar commercial activities as may be established by rule;

(b) Any parcel of land that is five acres or more but less than twenty acres devoted primarily to agricultural uses, which has produced a gross income from agricultural uses equivalent to, as of January 1, 1993:

(i) One hundred dollars or more per acre per year for three of the five calendar years preceding the date of application for classification under this chapter for all parcels of land that are classified under this subsection or all parcels of land for which an application for classification under this subsection is made with the granting authority prior to January 1, 1993; and

(ii) On or after January 1, 1993, two hundred dollars or more per acre per year for three of the five calendar years preceding the date of application for classification under this chapter;

(c) Any parcel of land of less than five acres devoted primarily to agricultural uses which has produced a gross income as of January 1, 1993, of:

(i) One thousand dollars or more per year for three of the five calendar years preceding the date of application for classification under this chapter for all parcels of land that are classified under this subsection or all parcels of land for which an application for classification under this subsection is made with the granting authority prior to January 1, 1993; and

(ii) On or after January 1, 1993, fifteen hundred dollars or more per year for three of the five calendar years preceding the date of application for classification under this chapter. Parcels of land described in (b)(i) and (c)(i) of this subsection shall, upon any transfer of the property excluding a transfer to a surviving spouse, be subject to the limits of (b)(ii) and (c)(ii) of this subsection.

Agricultural lands shall also include such incidental uses as are compatible with agricultural purposes, including wetlands preservation, provided such incidental use does not exceed twenty percent of the classified land and the land on which appurtenances necessary to the production, preparation, or sale of the agricultural products exist in conjunction with the lands producing such products.

Agricultural lands shall also include any parcel of land of one to five acres, which is not contiguous, but which otherwise constitutes an integral part of farming operations being conducted on land qualifying under this section as "farm and agricultural lands"; or

(d) The land on which housing for employees and the principal place of residence of the farm operator or owner of land classified pursuant to (a) of this subsection is sited if: The housing or residence is on or contiguous to the classified parcel; and the use of the housing or the residence is integral to the use of the classified land for agricultural purposes(;

~~(e) Any parcel of land designated as agricultural land under RCW 36.70A.170; or~~

~~(f) Any parcel of land not within an urban growth area zoned as agricultural land under a comprehensive plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW)).~~

(3) "Timber land" means any parcel of land that is five or more acres or multiple parcels of land that are contiguous and total five or more acres which is or are devoted primarily to the growth and harvest of forest crops for commercial purposes. A timber management plan shall be filed with the county legislative authority at the time (a) an application is made for classification as timber land pursuant to this chapter or (b) when a sale or transfer of timber land occurs and a notice of classification continuance is signed. Timber land means the land only.

(4) "Current" or "currently" means as of the date on which property is to be listed and valued by the assessor.

(5) "Owner" means the party or parties having the fee interest in land, except that where land is subject to real estate contract "owner" shall mean the contract vendee.

(6) "Contiguous" means land adjoining and touching other property held by the same ownership. Land divided by a public road, but otherwise an integral part of a farming operation, shall be considered contiguous.

(7) "Granting authority" means the appropriate agency or official who acts on an application for classification of land pursuant to this chapter.

(8) "Farm and agricultural conservation land" means either:

(a) Land that was previously classified under subsection (2) of this section, that no longer meets the criteria of subsection (2) of this section, and that is reclassified under subsection (1) of this section; or

(b) Land that is traditional farmland that is not classified under chapter 84.33 or 84.34 RCW, that has not been irrevocably devoted to a use inconsistent with agricultural uses, and that has a high potential for returning to commercial agriculture.

Sec. 8. RCW 84.34.065 and 1997 c 429 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

The true and fair value of farm and agricultural land, including land classified under section 2 of this act, shall be determined by consideration of the earning or productive capacity of comparable lands from crops grown most typically in the area averaged over not less than five years, capitalized at indicative rates. The earning or productive capacity of farm and agricultural lands shall be the "net cash rental", capitalized at a "rate of interest" charged on long term loans secured by a mortgage on farm or agricultural land plus a component for property taxes. The current use value of land under RCW 84.34.020(2)(d) shall be established as: The prior year's average value of open space farm and agricultural land used in the county plus the value of land improvements such as septic, water, and power used to serve the residence. This shall not be interpreted to require the assessor to list improvements to the land with the value of the land.

~~((In valuing any tract or parcel of real property designated and zoned under a comprehensive plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW as agricultural, forest, or open space land, the appraisal shall not be based on similar sales of parcels that have been converted to nonagricultural, nonforest, or nonopen space uses within five years after the sale.))~~

For the purposes of the above computation:

(1) The term "net cash rental" shall mean the average rental paid on an annual basis, in cash, for the land being appraised and other farm and agricultural land of similar quality and similarly situated that is available for lease for a period of at least three years to any reliable person without unreasonable restrictions on its use for production of agricultural crops. There shall be allowed as a deduction from the rental received or computed any costs of crop production charged against the landlord if the costs are such as are customarily paid by a landlord. If "net cash rental" data is not available, the earning or productive capacity of farm and agricultural lands shall be determined by the cash value of typical or usual crops grown on land of similar quality and similarly situated averaged over not less than five years. Standard costs of production shall be allowed as a deduction from the cash value of the crops.

The current "net cash rental" or "earning capacity" shall be determined by the assessor with the advice of the advisory committee as provided in RCW 84.34.145, and through a continuing internal study, assisted by studies of the department of revenue. This net cash rental figure as it applies to any farm and agricultural land may be challenged before the same boards or authorities as would be the case with regard to assessed values on general property.

(2) The term "rate of interest" shall mean the rate of interest charged by the farm credit administration and other large financial institutions regularly making loans secured by farm and agricultural lands through mortgages or similar legal instruments, averaged over the immediate past five years.

The "rate of interest" shall be determined annually by a rule adopted by the department of revenue and such rule shall be published in the state register not later than January 1 of each year for use in that assessment year. The department of revenue determination may be appealed to the state board of tax appeals within thirty days after the date of publication by any owner of farm or agricultural land or the assessor of any county containing farm and agricultural land.

(3) The "component for property taxes" shall be a figure obtained by dividing the assessed value of all property in the county into the property taxes levied within the county in the year preceding the assessment and multiplying the quotient obtained by one hundred.

Sec. 9. RCW 84.40.030 and 1997 c 429 s 34 (Referendum Bill No. 47), 1997 c 134 s 1, and 1997 c 3 s 104 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

All personal property shall be valued at one hundred percent of its true and fair value in money and assessed on the same basis unless specifically provided otherwise by law.

All real property shall be appraised at one hundred percent of its true and fair value in money and assessed as provided in RCW 84.40.0305 unless specifically provided otherwise by law.

Taxable leasehold estates shall be valued at such price as they would bring at a fair, voluntary sale for cash without any deductions for any indebtedness owed including rentals to be paid.

The true and fair value of real property for taxation purposes (including property upon which there is a coal or other mine, or stone or other quarry) shall be based upon the following criteria:

(1) Any sales of the property being appraised or similar properties with respect to sales made within the past five years. The appraisal shall be consistent with the comprehensive land use plan, development regulations under chapter 36.70A RCW, zoning, and any other governmental policies or practices in effect at the time of appraisal that affect the use of property, as well as physical and environmental influences. An assessment may not be determined by a method that assumes a land usage not permitted, for that property being appraised, under existing zoning or land use planning ordinances or statutes. The appraisal shall also take into account: (a) In the use of sales by real estate contract as similar sales, the extent, if any, to which the stated selling price has been increased by reason of the down payment, interest rate, or other financing terms; and (b) the extent to which the sale of a similar property actually represents the general effective market demand for property of such type, in the geographical area in which such property is located. Sales involving deed releases or similar seller-developer financing arrangements shall not be used as sales of similar property.

(2) In addition to sales as defined in subsection (1) of this section, consideration may be given to cost, cost less depreciation, reconstruction cost less depreciation, or capitalization of income that would be derived from prudent use of the property. In the case of property of a complex nature, or being used under terms of a franchise from a public agency, or operating as a public utility, or property not having a record of sale within five years and not having a significant number of sales of similar property in the general area, the provisions of this subsection ~~((2))~~ shall be the dominant factors in valuation. When provisions of this subsection ~~((2))~~ are relied upon for establishing values the property owner shall be advised upon request of the factors used in arriving at such value.

(3) In valuing any tract or parcel of real property, the true and fair value of the land, exclusive of structures thereon shall be determined; also the true and fair value of structures thereon, but the appraised valuation shall not exceed the true and fair value of the total property as it exists. In valuing agricultural land, growing crops shall be excluded.

~~(((4) In valuing any tract or parcel of real property designated and zoned under a comprehensive plan adopted under chapter 36.70A RCW as agricultural, forest, or open space land, the appraisal shall not be based on similar sales of parcels that have been converted to nonagricultural, nonforest, or nonopen space uses within five years after the sale.)))"~~

Representative Parlette spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Parlette and Dunshee spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2871.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2871 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 96, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Radcliff, Reams, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood and Mr. Speaker - 96.

Excused: Representatives Skinner and Zellinsky - 2.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 2871, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 3099, by Representatives DeBolt, Kessler and Johnson

Revising the definition of "major industrial development" for the purpose of growth management planning.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 3099 was substituted for House Bill No. 3099 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 3099 was read the second time.

Representative Dunshee moved the adoption of amendment (938):

On page 3, after line 11, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The definitions in this subsection apply to this section, sections 3 and 4 of this act, RCW 82.62.030, and sections 9 through 16 of this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(a) "Business" means the person applying for the tax deferral, credit, or exemption.

(b) "Construction" means the construction of a manufacturing operation complex and includes labor and services rendered in respect to construction. "Construction" ends when a project is completed as determined under subsection (2)(c) of this section.

(c) "Distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

(d) "Employment position" means a position in which a permanent full-time employee is employed in a project during the entire tax year. "The entire tax year" means the full-time position is filled for a period of twelve consecutive months. "Full-time" means at least thirty-five hours a week.

(e) "Equipping and operating" means the acquisition of tangible personal property for use at the manufacturing operation complex, and includes labor and services rendered in respect to the installation of tangible personal property.

(f) "Finished product" means an article, substance, or commodity that is manufactured at and shipped from the manufacturing operation complex.

(g) "Manufacturing operation complex" means the buildings, structures, and improvements located at the site where the manufacturing activity occurs. The complex includes the buildings, structures, and improvements used to receive, store, and ship raw materials and finished products as well as buildings, structures, and improvements used for the manufacturing production line. In addition, the term includes all administrative offices, employee support facilities, and production support facilities located at the site. The manufacturing operation complex does not include buildings, structures, and improvements located off of the site.

(h) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(i) "Project" means the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of a manufacturing operation complex.

(j) "Raw material" means the ingredients, components, substances, articles, or other tangible personal property that is received at the manufacturing operation complex for use as ingredients or components of the finished product.

(k) "Site" means a discrete geographical location.

(l) "Site preparation" means demolition of existing improvements, environmental remediation, earth moving, land clearing, site excavation, and shoring, and includes labor and services rendered in respect to site preparation.

(2) As a condition to receiving initial approval and as a condition of continuing eligibility, the following criteria must be met:

(a) The project must be located in a distressed county and must be owned and operated by a person who meets the definition of "manufacturer" as defined in RCW 82.04.110;

(b) The business must commit to an investment, by the time of completion of the project, in land, structures, and equipment, the value of which must be at least four percent of the total of the equalized assessed value in the county in which the project is located. The total equalized assessed value in the county is as published annually by the department in accordance with RCW 84.48.080. Continuing eligibility is conditioned on this investment having actually occurred;

(c)(i) The business must commit to and must create a minimum of twenty new employment positions at the project within two years of completion of the project.

(ii) The business must commit to and create one new employment position for each two million dollars invested in the project within two years of completion of the project. The twenty minimum positions in (c)(i) of this subsection are part of and not in addition to the positions required to meet the investment to job ratio.

(iii) The individuals in the new employment positions must be the employees of the business and must not have been relocated from other locations of the business within this state. Completion of the project is deemed to have occurred when the project is capable of operating and producing finished products. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall determine when the project is complete;

(d) The business must commit to and must pay an average wage of at least one hundred fifty percent of the average wage in the county. The employment security department shall determine the average wage in the county and shall report this amount to the department of community, trade, and economic development; and

(e) The business must remain operational for a fifteen-year period after the project is completed. "Operational" means that the level of employment at the manufacturing operation complex must not drop below the total employment positions required under (c) of this subsection.

(3)(a) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall determine the eligibility of a business and certify eligibility to the department of revenue.

(b) Approval of the project by a public vote of the governing body of the county or city in which the project is located is a precondition to deferral certification by the department of revenue. If the county or city approves the project, the county or city shall send a written notification of the approval to the department of revenue. If the project is in two jurisdictions, both jurisdictions must approve the project.

(c) When both of the notices under (a) and (b) of this subsection are received, the department of revenue shall issue a sales and use tax deferral certificate for use under sections 3 and 4 of this act.

(4) In addition to the initial certification under subsection (3) of this section, the project must be reviewed by the department of community, trade, and economic development each year for continuing eligibility. The business shall provide an annual report to the department of community, trade, and economic development, in a form as required by the department, of its status relative to the eligibility criteria under subsection (2) of this section. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall review the annual report and determine whether the project continues to meet the eligibility criteria. The department of community, trade, and economic development shall provide a written notice of this determination to the business and to the department of revenue. Annual reapproval by the county or city in which the project is located is not required. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria the amount of taxes deferred under sections 3 and 4 of this act are immediately due.

(5) Taxes deferred under sections 3 and 4 of this act need not be repaid if the project maintains its eligibility criteria for a fifteen-year period. The fifteen-year period begins when the deferral certificate is sent under subsection (3)(c) of this section by the department of revenue to the business.

(6) Application for the deferral under sections 3 and 4 of this act may not be accepted before the effective date of this section or after June 30, 2003.

(7) The employment security department shall provide such data to the department of revenue and the department of community, trade, and economic development as is necessary to administer this section wage data shall be updated annually to reflect current state and county conditions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person that has received a certification from the department under section 2(3)(c) of this act may use that certificate for deferral of the state share of taxes due under this chapter on the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of the project.

(2) The certificate is not valid for sales that occurred before certification by the department. After the project is determined to be complete under section 2(2)(c) of this act, the certificate is limited to taxes related to equipping and operating of the project.

(3)(a) The certificate may be used for fifteen years after its issuance.

(b) The deferral under this section is conditioned on the business remaining eligible under section 2 of this act. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria, the amount of taxes deferred under this section are immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(4) The buyer must keep such records as the department requires for audit and verification purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A person that has received a certification from the department under section 2(3)(c) of this act may use that certificate for deferral of the state share of taxes due under this chapter on the site preparation, construction, and equipping and operating of the project.

(2) The certificate is not valid for tax due on use that occurred before certification by the department. After the project is determined to be complete under section 2(2)(c) of this act, the certificate is limited to tax due on use of tangible personal property related to equipping and operating of the project.

(3)(a) The certificate may be used for fifteen years after its issuance.

(b) The deferral under this section is conditioned on the business remaining eligible under section 2 of this act. If the project fails to meet the eligibility criteria, the amount of taxes deferred under this section are immediately due. The department shall assess interest at the rate provided for delinquent excise taxes, but not penalties, retroactively to the date of deferral.

(4) The buyer must keep such records as the department requires for audit and verification purposes.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 82.14 RCW to read as follows:

The deferral under sections 3 and 4 of this act is for the state portion of the sales and use tax and does not extend to the tax imposed in this chapter.

Sec. 5. RCW 81.104.170 and 1997 c 450 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Cities that operate transit systems, county transportation authorities, metropolitan municipal corporations, public transportation benefit areas, and regional transit authorities may submit an authorizing proposition to the voters and if approved by a majority of persons voting, fix and impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter, solely for the purpose of providing high capacity transportation service.

The tax authorized pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the tax authorized by RCW 82.14.030 and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state pursuant to chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the taxing district. The maximum rate of such tax shall be approved by the voters and shall not exceed one percent of the selling price (in the case of a sales tax) or value of the article used (in the case of a use tax). The maximum rate of such tax that may be imposed shall not exceed nine-tenths of one percent in any county that imposes a tax under RCW 82.14.340, or within a regional transit authority if any county within the authority imposes a tax under RCW 82.14.340. The exemptions in RCW 82.08.820 and 82.12.820 are for the state portion of the sales and use tax and do not extend to the tax authorized in this section.

The deferral in sections 3 and 4 of this act is for the state portion of the sales tax and does not extend to the tax imposed in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 82.32 RCW to read as follows:

The department of revenue may develop and institute a tax reporting method whereby the taxpayer uses deductions, credits, or other accounting techniques, as directed by the department, to allow the department to administer, and the taxpayer to report, the deferral in sections 3 and 4 of this act simply and efficiently. Taxpayers who are entitled to this deferral and sellers who receive deferral certificates from buyers shall keep their records in a form and manner as directed by the department so that the department can distinguish between taxable and exempt transactions.

Sec. 7. RCW 82.62.030 and 1997 c 366 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person shall be allowed a credit against the tax due under chapter 82.04 RCW as provided in this section. For an application approved before January 1, 1996, the credit shall equal one thousand dollars for each qualified employment position directly created in an eligible business project. For an application approved on or after January 1, 1996, the credit shall equal two thousand dollars for each qualified employment position directly created in an eligible business project. For an application approved on or after July 1, 1997, the credit shall equal four thousand dollars for each qualified employment position with wages and benefits greater than forty thousand dollars annually that is directly created in an eligible business. For an application approved on or after July 1, 1997, the credit shall equal two thousand dollars for each qualified employment position with wages and benefits less than or equal to forty thousand dollars annually that is directly created in an eligible business.

(2) The department shall keep a running total of all credits granted under this chapter during each fiscal year. The department shall not allow any credits which would cause the tabulation to exceed five million five hundred thousand dollars in fiscal year 1998 or 1999 or seven million five hundred thousand dollars in any fiscal year thereafter. If all or part of an application for credit is disallowed under this subsection, the disallowed portion shall be carried over for approval the next fiscal year. However, the applicant's carryover into the next fiscal year is only permitted if the tabulation for the next fiscal year does not exceed the cap for that fiscal year as of the date on which the department has disallowed the application.

(3) No recipient may use the tax credits to decertify a union or to displace existing jobs in any community in the state.

(4) No recipient may receive a tax credit on taxes which have not been paid during the taxable year.

(5) A business that has received certification from the department of revenue under section 2 of this act is eligible for an annual credit of four thousand dollars for each of the positions used to establish project eligibility. Positions created in excess of those required to maintain eligibility are also eligible for the credit under this subsection. The business may apply for the credit once the project is complete, as determined in section 2 of this act. The business may apply each of the successive seven years following its initial application under this subsection and shall receive the credit if the continuing employment requirements of section 2 of this act are met. The credits granted under this subsection do not affect the caps under subsection (2) of this section and the fifteen percent requirement under RCW 82.62.010. Application for the credit under this subsection may not be accepted before the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) All real and personal property belonging to a business and used in connection with a project that qualifies under this chapter is exempt from ad valorem property taxation for fifteen successive years from completion of construction and certification of the project, as determined under section 2 of this act.

(2) The exemption does not include real or personal property acquired or constructed prior to the approval of the application prescribed in this chapter. The exemption provided by this chapter is in addition to any other incentives, tax credits, or grants provided by law.

(3) The definitions in section 2 of this act apply to this chapter, where applicable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A person making application for exemption under this chapter must meet the requirements of section 2 of this act and must enter into a contract approved by the department and the governing body or bodies of the city or county in which the project is located. In the contract the applicant must agree to the requirements of section 2 of this act and this chapter. The department of revenue may not accept any application for exemption under this chapter after June 30, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. An applicant seeking a tax exemption under this chapter must complete the following procedures:

(1) The applicant shall apply to the department on forms prepared by the department. The application for exemption must contain the following:

(a) A description of the manner in which the applicant intends to proceed with acquisition and construction of the project, together with proposed time frames for accomplishing the requirements of section 2 of this act and this chapter; and

(b) A statement that the applicant is aware of the potential tax liability that will be imposed if the property ceases to be eligible for the exemption provided under this chapter.

(2) The applicant must verify the application for exemption by oath or affirmation.

(3) The department may permit the applicant to revise an application for exemption before final action on the application is taken by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The department may approve the application for exemption filed under this chapter if it finds that:

(1) The proposed project is or will be, at the time of completion, in conformance with all applicable local government regulations in effect at the time the application for exemption is approved;

(2) The applicant has complied with all requirements under this chapter;

(3) The site of the project is located in a distressed county, as defined by section 2 of this act; and

(4) The governing body of the county or city in which the project is located has by a public vote approved the project and has sent a written notification of the approval to the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. (1) The department shall approve or deny an application for exemption filed under this chapter within sixty days after it is received, unless in the discretion of the department additional time is necessary in order to make a decision.

(2) If the application for exemption is approved, the department shall issue the applicant a conditional certificate of tax exemption. The certificate must contain a statement by a duly authorized administrative official of the department that the applicant has complied with the requirements of this chapter.

(3) If the application for exemption is denied by the department, the deciding administrative official shall state in writing the reasons for the denial and mail the notice to the applicant at the applicant's last known address within ten days of the denial.

(4) Upon receiving a denial of the application for a property tax exemption under this chapter, the applicant may appeal the denial to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the board. This appeal must be submitted within thirty days of the date the notice is received. If the exemption is denied, the sixty-day time period for approving the application for exemption regarding the project must be extended to the extent necessary to accommodate the appeal process.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Upon completion of construction of a project for which an application for exemption under this chapter has been approved, the owner of the eligible business shall file with the department the following:

(a) A statement of the amount of expenditures for land, structures, machinery, and equipment made with respect to the project;

(b) A description of the work that has been completed and a statement that the owner's property qualifies the property for exemption under this chapter; and

(c) A statement that the work has been completed within two years of the issuance of the conditional certificate of tax exemption.

(2) Within thirty days of the date the statements required under subsection (1) of this section are received, the authorized representative of the department shall determine whether the work completed is consistent with the application for exemption and the contract approved by the legislative authority of the local taxing districts and is qualified for exemption under this chapter. The department shall also determine which completed improvements specifically meet the requirements and required findings.

(3) The department shall file the certificate of tax exemption with the county assessor within ten days of approval if:

(a) The construction is completed within two years of the date the conditional certificate of tax exemption was issued or within an authorized extension of this time limit; and

(b) The authorized representative of the department determines that improvements were constructed consistent with the application for exemption and other applicable requirements and the applicant's property is qualified for exemption under this chapter.

(4) The authorized representative of the department shall notify the applicant that a certificate of tax exemption will not be issued if the representative determines that:

(a) The construction was not completed within two years of the approval date or within any authorized extension of the time limit;

(b) The improvements were not constructed consistent with the application for exemption or other applicable requirements; or

(c) The applicant's property is otherwise not qualified for exemption under this chapter.

(5) If the authorized representative of the department finds that the project was not completed within the required time period is due to circumstances beyond the control of the applicant and that the applicant has been acting and could reasonably be expected to act in good faith and with due diligence, the department may extend the deadline for completion of the project for a period not to exceed twenty-four consecutive months.

(6) The decision by the deciding officer that an owner of an eligible business is not entitled to a certificate of tax exemption may be appealed to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure of the board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. (1) Within thirty days of the anniversary of the date the certificate of tax exemption was issued and each year thereafter for a period of fifteen years, the owner of the eligible business shall file with a designated representative of the department of community, trade, and economic development an annual report indicating the following:

(a) A certification by the owner that the use of the property has not changed since the date the certificate was approved by the department; and

(b) A description of changes or improvements made after the certificate of tax exemption was issued.

(2) The department of community, trade, and economic development shall annually determine whether the business meets the requirements of this chapter and shall annually report this determination to the department of revenue.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. (1) Land, structures, and machinery and equipment that have been exempted under this chapter shall continue to be exempt if not converted to another use for at least fifteen years from the date of issuance of the certificate of tax exemption. If the owner intends to convert the development to another use, the owner must notify the assessor within sixty days of the change in use. If, after a certificate of tax exemption has been filed with the county assessor, the assessor discovers that the use of a portion of the property has changed or will be changed to a use that no longer meets the requirements as previously approved or agreed upon by contract between the department and the owner and that the eligible business no longer qualifies for the exemption, the tax exemption must be canceled and the following must occur:

(a) Additional property tax must be imposed upon the property in the amount that would normally be imposed, plus a penalty amounting to twenty percent of the additional tax. This additional tax is calculated based upon the difference between the property tax paid and the amount of property tax otherwise due and payable had the property not been granted an exemption. The tax, together with penalty and interest, is due in accordance with RCW 84.56.020 the year following the year the property no longer qualifies for exemption;

(b) The tax must include interest upon the amount of additional tax at the same statutory rate charged on delinquent property taxes from the dates on which the additional tax could have been paid without penalty if the property had been assessed at a value without regard to this chapter; and

(c) An additional tax unpaid on its due date is delinquent. From the date of delinquency until the additional tax and penalty are paid, interest must be charged at the same rate applied by law to delinquent ad valorem property taxes. The additional tax owed together with interest and penalty become a lien on the land and attach at the time the property or portion of the property no longer meets applicable requirement. The lien has priority to and must be fully paid and satisfied before a recognizance, mortgage, judgment, debt, obligation, or responsibility to or with which the land may become charged or liable. The lien may be foreclosed upon expiration of the same period after delinquency and in the same manner provided by law for foreclosure of liens for delinquent real or personal property taxes.

(2) When a determination has been made that a tax exemption is to be canceled for a reason stated in this section, the department shall notify the owner of the property, shown by the tax rolls, by mail that the exemption will be canceled. Upon receiving the notice that the exemption is to be canceled, the owner may appeal the cancellation to the board of tax appeals in accordance with the rules of practice and procedures of the board. This appeal must be submitted within thirty days of the date the notice of cancellation is received and must specify the factual and legal basis on which the determination of cancellation is alleged to be erroneous.

(3) Upon receiving notice from the department or its authorized representative that an exemption has been canceled, the county officials having possession of the assessment and tax rolls shall correct the rolls and collect additional taxes, interest, and penalty in accordance with this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Board" means the community economic revitalization board under chapter 43.160 RCW;

(b) "Private-sector business" or "business" means "person" as defined in RCW 82.04.030.

"Private-sector business" does not include a public agency. "Public agency" means the state or its agencies, instrumentalities, or political subdivisions, or the United States or any instrumentality thereof, or an Indian tribe or nation; and

(c) "Public facilities" means bridges, roads, domestic and industrial water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, railroad, electricity, natural gas, buildings or structures, and port facilities, in the state of Washington.

(2) A person shall be allowed a credit against tax due under this chapter or chapter 82.16 RCW as provided in this section. The credit shall equal fifty cents for each dollar of private funds spent on qualifying public facilities. A person may not receive credit for funds spent by another person. Eligible spending is limited to construction, reconstruction, or improvement of the public facility, and includes rights of way and real property acquisition, engineering and design work, environmental assessment and mitigation, and materials acquisition.

(3) The department, subject to the limitations of subsection (4) of this section, shall approve applications for tax credits upon occurrence of the following:

(a) A written certification is submitted by the board to the department, stating the applicant has been approved for a loan or grant under chapter 43.160 RCW. The tax credit applicant shall provide a written request to the board, requesting the board to provide such certification to the department;

(b) A written agreement is submitted to the department before the start of the public facility project, signed by the public agency responsible for the public facility and the business spending money on the public facility, establishing the financial obligations of the business and stating that the public facility is to be owned and controlled by the public agency;

(c) If the facility will be owned by the business until completion, a written agreement is submitted to the department providing a mechanism for transfer of ownership of the facility to the public agency upon completion of the project; and

(d) The business, in consultation with the public agency, provides a letter to the department establishing that the public facility will enable the business to create, retain, or expand jobs. The business making the expenditures must be the same business upon which the job criteria is based. A business may not use the jobs upon which an earlier project was based to justify additional projects for which the business is applying for tax credits.

(4)(a) Tax credits are available on a first-come basis, with priority based on the date an application is received by the department. Upon completion of a public facility, as determined by the department, the department shall certify the business as eligible for tax credits under this section. An applicant is not eligible for tax credits under this section in excess of the amount of tax that would otherwise be due under this chapter. Approved credit may be carried over one calendar year after the year in which the credit is approved. Any unused credit remaining after the one-year carry-over period has elapsed expires. Refunds shall not be given in place of credits.

(b) The department shall keep a running total of all credits approved. The sum total of credits granted under this section and section 18 of this act shall be no more than five million dollars of credits each fiscal year. If the amount requested for a credit in an application will cause the cap to be exceeded, the department shall give a partial approval of the project, equal to the amount of remaining credit available for the fiscal year.

(c) The amount of credit taken is not confidential or subject to RCW 82.32.330, and is disclosable by the department as a public record.

(5) Investments in a public facility do not give the private-sector business a right or privilege, or any other benefit in the public facility.

(6) An application under this section may not be approved after June 30, 2005.

(7) Tax credits shall not be granted for spending that occurred before the effective date of this section. Applicants are not eligible based on a loan or grant approved before the effective date of this section.

(8) If a person has used a credit granted under this section against tax due under chapter 82.16 RCW the person may not use the same credit for tax due under this chapter.

(9) The tax credit program under this section and section 18 of this act is limited to expenditures for public facilities located in distressed counties. "Distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this section exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 82.16 RCW to read as follows:

The tax credit program under section 17 of this act is available to persons for tax due under this chapter. If a person has used a credit granted under this section against tax due under chapter 82.04 RCW the person may not use the same credit for tax due under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. It is the intent of the legislature to promote the creation and the retention of jobs. To that end section 20, chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (section 20 of this act) allows counties to provide public facilities that will attract and retain businesses, thereby creating and maintaining jobs.

Sec. 19. RCW 82.14.370 and 1997 c 366 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislative authority of a distressed county may impose a sales and use tax in accordance with the terms of this chapter. The tax is in addition to other taxes authorized by law and shall be collected from those persons who are taxable by the state under chapters 82.08 and 82.12 RCW upon the occurrence of any taxable event within the county. The rate of tax shall not exceed ((0.04)) 0.12 percent of the selling price in the case of a sales tax or value of the article used in the case of a use tax.

(2) The tax imposed under subsection (1) of this section shall be deducted from the amount of tax otherwise required to be collected or paid over to the department of revenue under chapter 82.08 or

82.12 RCW. The department of revenue shall perform the collection of such taxes on behalf of the county at no cost to the county.

(3) Moneys collected under this section shall only be used for the purpose of financing qualifying public facilities in rural counties. The public facility must be listed as an item in the economic development section of the comprehensive plan for those counties planning under RCW 36.70A.040, or, for those counties who do not plan under the growth management act, the public facility must be listed in the county's capital facilities plan. For the purposes of this section, "public facilities" means bridges, roads, domestic and industrial water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer, railroad, electricity, natural gas, buildings or structures, and port facilities, in the state of Washington.

(4) No tax may be collected under this section before July 1, 1998. No tax may be collected under this section by a county more than twenty-five years after the date that a tax is first imposed under this section.

(5) For purposes of this section, "distressed county" means a county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which a tax is first imposed under this section exceeds the average state (~~(employment)~~) unemployment for those years by twenty percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. Sections 9 through 16 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 84 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. This act takes effect July 1, 1998."

Correct the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative DeBolt requested a ruling on Scope and Object on amendment number 938 to Substitute House Bill No. 3099.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Mr. Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding): Representative DeBolt. The Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order challenging the Scope and Object of amendment 938 to Substitute House Bill No. 3099.

The title of House Bill No. 3099 is broad; "AN ACT Relating to industrial developments". It amends section 36.70A that deals with the growth management act.

Amendment 938 amends Title 82, Tax Codes of the State, providing additional industrial development tax incentives. Although the amendment is clearly within the Scope of the Title, it is beyond the object of the bill.

Representative DeBolt, your Point of Order is well taken.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives DeBolt, Fisher, Romero and Alexander spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion by Representative Butler, Representative Veloria was excused.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) stated the question before the House to be final passage of Substitute House Bill No. 3099.

"Sec. 1. RCW 74.46.010 and 1980 c 177 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter may be known and cited as the "nursing ((Homes Auditing and Cost Reimbursement Act of 1980)) facility medicaid payment system."

Sec. 2. RCW 74.46.020 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 90 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Accrual method of accounting" means a method of accounting in which revenues are reported in the period when they are earned, regardless of when they are collected, and expenses are reported in the period in which they are incurred, regardless of when they are paid.

~~(2) ("Ancillary care" means those services required by the individual, comprehensive plan of care provided by qualified therapists.~~

~~(3))~~ (3) "Appraisal" means the process of estimating the fair market value or reconstructing the historical cost of an asset acquired in a past period as performed by a professionally designated real estate appraiser with no pecuniary interest in the property to be appraised. It includes a systematic, analytic determination and the recording and analyzing of property facts, rights, investments, and values based on a personal inspection and inventory of the property.

~~((4))~~ (3) "Arm's-length transaction" means a transaction resulting from good-faith bargaining between a buyer and seller who are not related organizations and have adverse positions in the market place. Sales or exchanges of nursing home facilities among two or more parties in which all parties subsequently continue to own one or more of the facilities involved in the transactions shall not be considered as arm's-length transactions for purposes of this chapter. Sale of a nursing home facility which is subsequently leased back to the seller within five years of the date of sale shall not be considered as an arm's-length transaction for purposes of this chapter.

~~((5))~~ (4) "Assets" means economic resources of the contractor, recognized and measured in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

~~((6))~~ (5) "Audit" or "department audit" means an examination of the records of a nursing facility participating in the medicaid payment system, including but not limited to: The contractor's financial and statistical records, cost reports and all supporting documentation and schedules, receivables, and resident trust funds, to be performed as deemed necessary by the department and according to department rule. (6) "Bad debts" means amounts considered to be uncollectible from accounts and notes receivable.

~~(7) ("Beds" means the number of set up beds in the facility, not to exceed the number of licensed beds.~~

~~(8))~~ "Beneficial owner" means:

(a) Any person who, directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, relationship, or otherwise has or shares:

(i) Voting power which includes the power to vote, or to direct the voting of such ownership interest; and/or

(ii) Investment power which includes the power to dispose, or to direct the disposition of such ownership interest;

(b) Any person who, directly or indirectly, creates or uses a trust, proxy, power of attorney, pooling arrangement, or any other contract, arrangement, or device with the purpose or effect of divesting himself or herself of beneficial ownership of an ownership interest or preventing the vesting of such beneficial ownership as part of a plan or scheme to evade the reporting requirements of this chapter;

(c) Any person who, subject to ~~((subparagraph))~~ (b) of this subsection, has the right to acquire beneficial ownership of such ownership interest within sixty days, including but not limited to any right to acquire:

(i) Through the exercise of any option, warrant, or right;

(ii) Through the conversion of an ownership interest;

(iii) Pursuant to the power to revoke a trust, discretionary account, or similar arrangement; or

(iv) Pursuant to the automatic termination of a trust, discretionary account, or similar arrangement; except that, any person who acquires an ownership interest or power specified in ~~((subparagraphs))~~ ~~(c)~~(i), (ii), or (iii) of this ~~((subparagraph (c)))~~ subsection with the purpose or effect of changing or influencing the control of the contractor, or in connection with or as a participant in any transaction having such purpose or effect, immediately upon such acquisition shall be deemed to be the beneficial owner of the ownership interest which may be acquired through the exercise or conversion of such ownership interest or power;

(d) Any person who in the ordinary course of business is a pledgee of ownership interest under a written pledge agreement shall not be deemed to be the beneficial owner of such pledged ownership interest until the pledgee has taken all formal steps necessary which are required to declare a default and determines that the power to vote or to direct the vote or to dispose or to direct the disposition of such pledged ownership interest will be exercised; except that:

(i) The pledgee agreement is bona fide and was not entered into with the purpose nor with the effect of changing or influencing the control of the contractor, nor in connection with any transaction having such purpose or effect, including persons meeting the conditions set forth in ~~((subparagraph))~~ (b) of this subsection; and

(ii) The pledgee agreement, prior to default, does not grant to the pledgee:

(A) The power to vote or to direct the vote of the pledged ownership interest; or

(B) The power to dispose or direct the disposition of the pledged ownership interest, other than the grant of such power(s) pursuant to a pledge agreement under which credit is extended and in which the pledgee is a broker or dealer.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Capitalization" means the recording of an expenditure as an asset.

~~((10))~~ (9) "Case mix" means a measure of the intensity of care and services needed by the residents of a nursing facility or a group of residents in the facility.

(10) "Case mix index" means a number representing the average case mix of a nursing facility.

(11) "Case mix weight" means a numeric score that identifies the relative resources used by a particular group of a nursing facility's residents.

(12) "Contractor" means ~~((an))~~ a person or entity ~~((which contracts))~~ licensed under chapter 18.51 RCW to operate a medicare and medicaid certified nursing facility, responsible for operational decisions, and contracting with the department to provide services to ~~((medical care))~~ medicaid recipients residing in ~~((a))~~ the facility ~~((and which entity is responsible for operational decisions))~~.

~~((14))~~ (13) "Default case" means no initial assessment has been completed for a resident and transmitted to the department by the cut-off date, or an assessment is otherwise past due for the resident, under state and federal requirements.

(14) "Department" means the department of social and health services (DSHS) and its employees.

~~((12))~~ (15) "Depreciation" means the systematic distribution of the cost or other basis of tangible assets, less salvage, over the estimated useful life of the assets.

~~((13))~~ (16) "Direct care" means nursing care and related care provided to nursing facility residents. Therapy care shall not be considered part of direct care.

(17) "Direct care supplies" means medical, pharmaceutical, and other supplies required for the direct ~~((nursing and ancillary))~~ care of ~~((medical care recipients))~~ a nursing facility's residents.

~~((14))~~ (18) "Entity" means an individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or any other association of individuals capable of entering enforceable contracts.

~~((15))~~ (19) "Equity" means the net book value of all tangible and intangible assets less the recorded value of all liabilities, as recognized and measured in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

~~((16))~~ (20) "Facility" or "nursing facility" means a nursing home licensed in accordance with chapter 18.51 RCW, excepting nursing homes certified as institutions for mental diseases, or that portion of a multiservice facility licensed as a nursing home, or that portion of a hospital licensed in accordance with chapter 70.41 RCW which operates as a nursing home.

~~((17))~~ (21) "Fair market value" means the replacement cost of an asset less observed physical depreciation on the date for which the market value is being determined.

~~((18))~~ (22) "Financial statements" means statements prepared and presented in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles including, but not limited to, balance sheet, statement of operations, statement of changes in financial position, and related notes.

~~((19))~~ (23) "Generally accepted accounting principles" means accounting principles approved by the financial accounting standards board (FASB).

~~((20))~~ "Generally accepted auditing standards" means auditing standards approved by the American institute of certified public accountants (AICPA).

~~(21))~~ (24) "Goodwill" means the excess of the price paid for a nursing facility business over the fair market value of all ~~((other))~~ net identifiable ~~((r))~~ tangible ~~((r))~~ and intangible assets acquired, as measured in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

~~((22))~~ (25) "Grouper" means a computer software product that groups individual nursing facility residents into case mix classification groups based on specific resident assessment data and computer logic.

(26) "Historical cost" means the actual cost incurred in acquiring and preparing an asset for use, including feasibility studies, architect's fees, and engineering studies.

~~((23))~~ (27) "Imprest fund" means a fund which is regularly replenished in exactly the amount expended from it.

~~((24))~~ (28) "Joint facility costs" means any costs which represent resources which benefit more than one facility, or one facility and any other entity.

~~((25))~~ (29) "Lease agreement" means a contract between two parties for the possession and use of real or personal property or assets for a specified period of time in exchange for specified periodic payments. Elimination (due to any cause other than death or divorce) or addition of any party to the contract, expiration, or modification of any lease term in effect on January 1, 1980, or termination of the lease by either party by any means shall constitute a termination of the lease agreement. An extension or renewal of a lease agreement, whether or not pursuant to a renewal provision in the lease agreement, shall be considered a new lease agreement. A strictly formal change in the lease agreement which modifies the method, frequency, or manner in which the lease payments are made, but does not increase the total lease payment obligation of the lessee, shall not be considered modification of a lease term.

~~((26))~~ (30) "Medical care program" or "medicaid program" means medical assistance, including nursing care, provided under RCW 74.09.500 or authorized state medical care services.

~~((27))~~ (31) "Medical care recipient," "medicaid recipient," or "recipient" means an individual determined eligible by the department for the services provided ~~((in))~~ under chapter 74.09 RCW.

~~((28))~~ (32) "Minimum data set" means the overall data component of the resident assessment instrument, indicating the strengths, needs, and preferences of an individual nursing facility resident.

(33) "Net book value" means the historical cost of an asset less accumulated depreciation.

~~((29))~~ (34) "Net invested funds" means the net book value of tangible fixed assets employed by a contractor to provide services under the medical care program, including land, buildings, and equipment as recognized and measured in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles, plus an allowance for working capital which shall be five percent of the product of the per patient day rate multiplied by the prior calendar year reported total patient days of each contractor.

~~((30))~~ (35) "Operating lease" means a lease under which rental or lease expenses are included in current expenses in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

~~((31))~~ (36) "Owner" means a sole proprietor, general or limited partners, members of a limited liability company, and beneficial interest holders of five percent or more of a corporation's outstanding stock.

~~((32))~~ (37) "Ownership interest" means all interests beneficially owned by a person, calculated in the aggregate, regardless of the form which such beneficial ownership takes.

~~((33))~~ (38) "Patient day" or "resident day" means a calendar day of care provided to a nursing facility resident, regardless of payment source, which will include the day of admission and exclude the day of discharge; except that, when admission and discharge occur on the same day, one day of care shall be deemed to exist. A "~~((client day))~~ medicaid day" or "recipient day" means a calendar day of care provided to a ~~((medical care))~~ medicaid recipient determined eligible by the department for services provided under chapter 74.09 RCW, subject to the same conditions regarding admission and discharge applicable to a patient day or resident day of care.

~~((34))~~ (39) "Professionally designated real estate appraiser" means an individual who is regularly engaged in the business of providing real estate valuation services for a fee, and who is deemed qualified by a nationally recognized real estate appraisal educational organization on the basis of extensive practical appraisal experience, including the writing of real estate valuation reports as well as the passing of written examinations on valuation practice and theory, and who by virtue of membership in such organization is required to subscribe and adhere to certain standards of professional practice as such organization prescribes.

~~(37))~~ (41) "Real property," whether leased or owned by the contractor, means the building, allowable land, land improvements, and building improvements associated with a nursing facility.

(42) "Rebased rate" or "cost-rebased rate" means a facility-specific component rate assigned to a nursing facility for a particular rate period established on desk-reviewed, adjusted costs reported for that facility covering at least six months of a prior calendar year designated as a year to be used for cost rebasing payment rates under the provisions of this chapter.

~~((38))~~ (43) "Records" means those data supporting all financial statements and cost reports including, but not limited to, all general and subsidiary ledgers, books of original entry, and transaction documentation, however such data are maintained.

~~((39))~~ (44) "Related organization" means an entity which is under common ownership and/or control with, or has control of, or is controlled by, the contractor.

(a) "Common ownership" exists when an entity is the beneficial owner of five percent or more ownership interest in the contractor and any other entity.

(b) "Control" exists where an entity has the power, directly or indirectly, significantly to influence or direct the actions or policies of an organization or institution, whether or not it is legally enforceable and however it is exercisable or exercised.

~~((40))~~ (45) "Related care" means only those services that are directly related to providing direct care to nursing facility residents. These services include, but are not limited to, nursing direction and supervision, medical direction, medical records, pharmacy services, activities, and social services.

(46) "Resident assessment instrument," including federally approved modifications for use in this state, means a federally mandated, comprehensive nursing facility resident care planning and assessment tool, consisting of the minimum data set and resident assessment protocols.

(47) "Resident assessment protocols" means those components of the resident assessment instrument that use the minimum data set to trigger or flag a resident's potential problems and risk areas.

(48) "Resource utilization groups" means a case mix classification system that identifies relative resources needed to care for an individual nursing facility resident.

(49) "Restricted fund" means those funds the principal and/or income of which is limited by agreement with or direction of the donor to a specific purpose.

~~((41))~~ (50) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services.

~~((42))~~ (51) "Support services" means food, food preparation, dietary, housekeeping, and laundry services provided to nursing facility residents.

(52) "Therapy care" means those services required by a nursing facility resident's comprehensive assessment and plan of care, that are provided by qualified therapists, or support personnel under their supervision, including related costs as designated by the department.

(53) "Title XIX" or "medicaid" means the 1965 amendments to the social security act, P.L. 89-07, as amended and the medicaid program administered by the department.

~~((43) "Physical plant capital improvement" means a capitalized improvement that is limited to an improvement to the building or the related physical plant.))~~

Sec. 3. RCW 74.46.040 and 1985 c 361 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Not later than March 31st of each year, each contractor shall submit to the department an annual cost report for the period from January 1st through December 31st of the preceding year.

(2) Not later than one hundred twenty days following the termination of a contract, the terminating contractor shall submit to the department a cost report for the period from January 1st through the date the contract terminated.

(3) Two extensions of not more than thirty days each may be granted by the department upon receipt of a written request setting forth the circumstances which prohibit the contractor from compliance with a report due date; except, that the ~~((secretary))~~ department shall establish the grounds for extension in rule ((and regulation)). Such request must be received by the department at least ten days prior to the due date.

(1) If the cost report is not properly completed or if it is not received by the due date, all or part of any payments due under the contract may be withheld by the department until such time as the required cost report is properly completed and received.

(2) The department may impose civil fines, or take adverse rate action against contractors and former contractors who do not submit properly completed cost reports by the applicable due date. The department is authorized to adopt rules addressing fines and adverse rate actions including procedures, conditions, and the magnitude and frequency of fines.

Sec. 5. RCW 74.46.060 and 1985 c 361 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Cost reports shall be prepared in a standard manner and form, as determined by the department ~~((, which shall provide for an itemized list of allowable costs and a preliminary settlement report)).~~ Costs reported shall be determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, the provisions of this chapter, and such additional rules ~~((and regulations as are))~~ established by the ~~((secretary))~~ department. In the event of conflict, rules adopted and instructions issued by the department take precedence over generally accepted accounting principles.

(2) The records shall be maintained on the accrual method of accounting and agree with or be reconcilable to the cost report. All revenue and expense accruals shall be reversed against the appropriate accounts unless they are received or paid, respectively, within one hundred twenty days after the accrual is made. However, if the contractor can document a good faith billing dispute with the supplier or vendor, the period may be extended, but only for those portions of billings subject to good faith dispute. Accruals for vacation, holiday, sick pay, payroll, and real estate taxes may be carried for longer periods, provided the contractor follows generally accepted accounting principles and pays this type of accrual when due.

(1) All records supporting the required cost reports, as well as trust funds established by RCW 74.46.700, shall be retained by the contractor for a period of four years following the filing of such reports at a location in the state of Washington specified by the contractor. ~~((All records supporting the cost reports and financial statements filed with the department before May 20, 1985, shall be retained by the contractor for four years following their filing.))~~

(2) The department may direct supporting records to be retained for a longer period if there remain unresolved questions on the cost reports. All such records shall be made available upon demand to authorized representatives of the department, the office of the state auditor, and the United States department of health and human services.

~~((2))~~ (3) When a contract is terminated, all payments due will be withheld until accessibility and preservation of the records within the state of Washington are assured.

Sec. 7. RCW 74.46.090 and 1985 c 361 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

The department will retain the required cost reports for a period of one year after final settlement or reconciliation, or the period required under chapter 40.14 RCW, whichever is longer. Resident assessment information and records shall be retained as provided elsewhere in statute or by department rule.

Sec. 8. RCW 74.46.100 and 1985 c 361 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The principles inherent within RCW 74.46.105 and 74.46.130 are))~~ (1) The purposes of department audits under this chapter are to ascertain, through department audit of the financial and statistical records of the contractor's nursing facility operation, that:

~~((1) To ascertain, through department audit, that the))~~ (a) Allowable costs for each year for each medicaid nursing facility are accurately reported~~((, thereby providing a valid basis for future rate determination));~~

~~((2) To ascertain, through department audits of the cost reports, that))~~ (b) Cost reports~~((properly))~~ accurately reflect the true financial condition, revenues, expenditures, equity, beneficial ownership, related party status, and records of the contractor~~((, particularly as they pertain to related organizations and beneficial ownership, thereby providing a valid basis for the determination of return as specified by this chapter));~~

~~((3) To ascertain, through department audit that compliance with the accounting and auditing provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations of the department as they pertain to these accounting and auditing provisions is proper and consistent))~~ (c) The contractor's revenues, expenditures, and costs of the building, land, land improvements, building improvements, and movable and fixed equipment are recorded in compliance with department requirements, instructions, and generally accepted accounting principles; and

~~((4) To ascertain, through department audits, that))~~ (d) The responsibility of the contractor has been met in the maintenance and disbursement of patient trust funds.

(2) The department shall examine the submitted cost report, or a portion thereof, of each contractor for each nursing facility for each report period to determine if the information is correct, complete, reported in conformance with department instructions and generally accepted accounting principles, the requirements of this chapter, and rules as the department may adopt. The department shall determine the scope of the examination.

(3) If the examination finds that the cost report is incorrect or incomplete, the department may make adjustments to the reported information for purposes of establishing payment rates or in determining amounts to be recovered in direct care, therapy care, and support services under section 10 (3) and (4) of this act or in any component rate resulting from undocumented or misreported costs. A schedule of the adjustments shall be provided to the contractor, including dollar amount and explanations for the adjustments. Adjustments shall be subject to review if desired by the contractor under the appeals or exception procedure established by the department.

(4) Examinations of resident trust funds and receivables shall be reported separately and in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and rules adopted by the department.

(5) The contractor shall:

(a) Provide access to the nursing facility, all financial and statistical records, and all working papers that are in support of the cost report, receivables, and resident trust funds. To ensure accuracy, the department may require the contractor to submit for departmental review any underlying financial statements or other records, including income tax returns, relating to the cost report directly or indirectly;

(b) Prepare a reconciliation of the cost report with (i) applicable federal income and federal and state payroll tax returns; and (ii) the records for the period covered by the cost report;

(c) Make available to the department's auditor an individual or individuals to respond to questions and requests for information from the auditor. The designated individual or individuals shall have sufficient knowledge of the issues, operations, or functions to provide accurate and reliable information.

(6) If an examination discloses material discrepancies, undocumented costs, or mishandling of resident trust funds, the department may open or reopen one or both of the two preceding cost report or resident trust fund periods, whether examined or unexamined, for indication of similar discrepancies, undocumented costs, or mishandling of resident trust funds.

(7) Any assets, liabilities, revenues, or expenses reported as allowable that are not supported by adequate documentation in the contractor's records shall be disallowed. Documentation must show both that costs reported were incurred during the period covered by the report and were related to resident care, and that assets reported were used in the provision of resident care.

(8) When access is required at the facility or at another location in the state, the department shall notify a contractor of its intent to examine all financial and statistical records, and all working papers that are in support of the cost report, receivables, and resident trust funds.

(9) The department is authorized to assess civil fines and take adverse rate action if a contractor, or any of its employees, does not allow access to the contractor's nursing facility records.

(10) RCW 74.46.100 through 74.46.130, and rules adopted by the department pursuant thereto prior to January 1, 1998, shall continue to govern the medicaid nursing facility audit process for periods prior to January 1, 1997, as if these statutes and rules remained in full force and effect.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) The department shall reconcile medicaid resident days to billed days and medicaid payments for each medicaid nursing facility for the preceding calendar year, or for that portion of the calendar year the provider's contract was in effect.

(2) The contractor shall make any payment owed the department, determined by the process of reconciliation, by the process of settlement at the lower of cost or rate in direct care, therapy care, and support services component rates, as authorized in this chapter, within sixty days after notification and demand for payment is sent to the contractor.

(3) The department shall make any payment due the contractor within sixty days after it determines the underpayment exists and notification is sent to the contractor.

(4) Interest at the rate of one percent per month accrues against the department or the contractor on an unpaid balance existing sixty days after notification is sent to the contractor. Accrued interest shall be adjusted back to the date it began to accrue if the payment obligation is subsequently revised after administrative or judicial review.

(5) The department is authorized to withhold funds from the contractor's payment for services, and to take all other actions authorized by law, to recover amounts due and payable from the contractor, including any accrued interest. Neither a timely filed request to pursue any administrative appeals or exception procedure that the department may establish in rule, nor commencement of judicial review as may be available to the contractor in law, to contest a payment obligation determination shall delay recovery from the contractor or payment to the contractor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Contractors shall be required to submit with each annual nursing facility cost report a proposed settlement report showing underspending or overspending in each component rate during the cost report year on a per-resident day basis. The department shall accept or reject the proposed settlement report, explain any adjustments, and issue a revised settlement report if needed.

(2) Contractors shall not be required to refund payments made in property, return on investment, and financing allowance component rates, nor shall they be required to refund payments made in operations component rates, in excess of the adjusted costs of providing services corresponding to these components.

(3) The facility will return to the department any overpayment amounts in each of the nursing services, administrative, and operational component rates. The facility will return to the department any overpayment amounts in each of the direct care, therapy care, and support services rate components that the department identifies following the audit and settlement procedures as described in chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act), provided that the contractor may retain any overpayment that does not exceed 1.0% of the facility's direct care, therapy care, and support services component rate. Facilities that are not in substantial compliance, as defined by federal survey regulations during the period for which settlement is being calculated, will not be allowed to retain any amount of overpayment in the facility's direct care, therapy care, and support services component rate.

(4) Determination of unused rate funds, including the amounts of direct care, therapy care, and support services to be recovered, shall be done separately for each component rate, and neither costs nor rate payments shall be shifted from one component rate or corresponding service area to another in determining the degree of underspending or recovery, if any.

(5) Total and component payment rates assigned to a nursing facility, as calculated and revised, if needed, under the provisions of this chapter and those rules as the department may adopt, shall represent the maximum payment for nursing facility services rendered to medicaid recipients for the period the rates are in effect. No increase in payment to a contractor shall result from spending above the total payment rate or in any rate component.

(6) RCW 74.46.150 through 74.46.180, and rules adopted by the department prior to the effective date of this section, shall continue to govern the medicaid settlement process for nursing facilities, including refunds, interest obligations, and other rights of the parties, for periods prior to January 1, 1999, as if these statutes and rules remained in full force and effect.

(7) For calendar year 1999, the department shall calculate split settlements covering January 1, 1999, through June 30, 1999, and July 1, 1999, through December 31, 1999. For the first half of calendar year 1999, rules specified in subsection (6) of this section shall apply and for the second half of calendar year 1999, the provisions of this chapter shall apply. The department shall, by rule, determine the division of calendar year 1999 adjusted costs for settlement purposes.

(1) The substance of a transaction will prevail over its form.

(2) All documented costs which are ordinary, necessary, related to care of medical care recipients, and not expressly unallowable under this chapter or department rule, are to be allowable. Costs of providing ~~((ancillary))~~ therapy care are allowable, subject to any applicable ~~((cost-center))~~ limit contained in this chapter, provided documentation establishes the costs were incurred for medical care recipients and other sources of payment to which recipients may be legally entitled, such as private insurance or medicare, were first fully utilized.

~~(3) ((Costs applicable to services, facilities, and supplies furnished to the provider by related organizations are allowable but at the cost to the related organization, provided they do not exceed the price of comparable services, facilities, or supplies that could be purchased elsewhere.~~

~~(4) Beginning January 1, 1985,))~~ The payment for property usage is to be independent of ownership structure and financing arrangements.

~~((5) Beginning July 1, 1995,))~~ (4) Allowable costs shall not include costs reported by a ~~((nursing care provider))~~ contractor for a prior period to the extent such costs, due to statutory exemption, will not be incurred by the nursing facility in the period to be covered by the rate.

Sec. 12. RCW 74.46.220 and 1980 c 177 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Costs applicable to services, facilities, and supplies furnished by a related organization to the contractor shall be allowable only to the extent they do not exceed the lower of the cost to the related organization or the price of comparable services, facilities, or supplies purchased elsewhere.

(2) Documentation of costs to the related organization shall be made available to the ~~((auditor at the time and place the records relating to the entity are audited))~~ department. Payments to or for the benefit of the related organization will be disallowed where the cost to the related organization cannot be documented.

Sec. 13. RCW 74.46.230 and 1993 sp.s. c 13 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(2) Start-up costs shall include, but not be limited to, administrative and nursing salaries, utility costs, taxes, insurance, repairs and maintenance, and training; except, that they shall exclude expenditures for capital assets. These costs will be allowable in the ~~((administrative))~~ operations cost center if they are amortized over a period of not less than sixty months beginning with the month in which the first patient is admitted for care.

(3) Organizational costs are those necessary, ordinary, and directly incident to the creation of a corporation or other form of business of the contractor including, but not limited to, legal fees incurred in establishing the corporation or other organization and fees paid to states for incorporation; except, that they do not include costs relating to the issuance and sale of shares of capital stock or other securities. Such organizational costs will be allowable in the ~~((administrative))~~ operations cost center if they are amortized over a period of not less than sixty months beginning with the month in which the first patient is admitted for care.

Sec. 14. RCW 74.46.270 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 67 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) The contractor shall disclose to the department:
  - (a) The nature and purpose of all costs which represent allocations of joint facility costs; and
  - (b) The methodology of the allocation utilized.
- (2) Such disclosure shall demonstrate that:
  - (a) The services involved are necessary and nonduplicative; and
  - (b) Costs are allocated in accordance with benefits received from the resources represented by those costs.
- (3) Such disclosure shall be made not later than September ~~((30, 1980,))~~ 30th for the following calendar year ~~((and not later than September 30th for each year thereafter))~~; except that a new contractor shall submit the first year's disclosure ~~((together with the submissions required by RCW 74.46.670. Where a contractor will make neither a change in the joint costs to be incurred nor in the allocation methodology, the contractor may certify that no change will be made in lieu of the disclosure required in subsection (1) of this section))~~ at least sixty days prior to the date the new contract becomes effective.
- (4) The department shall ~~((approve such methodology not later than))~~ by December 31st, ~~((1980, and not later than December 31st for each year thereafter))~~ for all disclosures that are complete and timely submitted, either approve or reject the disclosure. The department may request additional information or clarification.
- (5) Acceptance of a disclosure or approval of a joint cost methodology by the department may not be construed as a determination that the allocated costs are allowable in whole or in part. However, joint facility costs not disclosed, allocated, and reported in conformity with this section and department rules are unallowable.
- (6) An approved methodology may be revised or amended subject to approval as provided in rules and regulations adopted by the department.

Sec. 15. RCW 74.46.280 and 1993 sp.s. c 13 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) Management fees will be allowed only if:
  - (a) A written management agreement both creates a principal/agent relationship between the contractor and the manager, and sets forth the items, services, and activities to be provided by the manager; and
  - (b) Documentation demonstrates that the services contracted for were actually delivered.
- (2) To be allowable, fees must be for necessary, nonduplicative services.
- (3) A management fee paid to or for the benefit of a related organization will be allowable to the extent it does not exceed the lower of the actual cost to the related organization of providing necessary services related to patient care under the agreement or the cost of comparable services purchased elsewhere. Where costs to the related organization represent joint facility costs, the measurement of such costs shall comply with RCW 74.46.270.
- (4) A copy of the agreement must be received by the department at least sixty days before it is to become effective. A copy of any amendment to a management agreement must also be received by the department at least thirty days in advance of the date it is to become effective. Failure to meet these deadlines will result in the unallowability of cost incurred more than sixty days prior to submitting a management agreement and more than thirty days prior to submitting an amendment.
- (5) The scope of services to be performed under a management agreement cannot be so extensive that the manager or managing entity is substituted for the contractor in fact, substantially relieving the contractor/licensee of responsibility for operating the facility.

Sec. 16. RCW 74.46.300 and 1980 c 177 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

Rental or lease costs under arm's-length operating leases of office equipment shall be allowable to the extent the cost is necessary and ordinary. The department may adopt rules to limit the allowability of office equipment leasing expenses.

Sec. 17. RCW 74.46.410 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 97 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) Costs will be unallowable if they are not documented, necessary, ordinary, and related to the provision of care services to authorized patients.
- (2) Unallowable costs include, but are not limited to, the following:

(a) Costs of items or services not covered by the medical care program. Costs of such items or services will be unallowable even if they are indirectly reimbursed by the department as the result of an authorized reduction in patient contribution;

(b) Costs of services and items provided to recipients which are covered by the department's medical care program but not included in ~~((care services))~~ the medicaid per-resident day payment rate established by the department under this chapter;

(c) Costs associated with a capital expenditure subject to section 1122 approval (part 100, Title 42 C.F.R.) if the department found it was not consistent with applicable standards, criteria, or plans. If the department was not given timely notice of a proposed capital expenditure, all associated costs will be unallowable up to the date they are determined to be reimbursable under applicable federal regulations;

(d) Costs associated with a construction or acquisition project requiring certificate of need approval, or exemption from the requirements for certificate of need for the replacement of existing nursing home beds, pursuant to chapter 70.38 RCW if such approval or exemption was not obtained;

(e) Interest costs other than those provided by RCW 74.46.290 on and after January 1, 1985;

(f) Salaries or other compensation of owners, officers, directors, stockholders, partners, principals, participants, and others associated with the contractor or its home office, including all board of directors' fees for any purpose, except reasonable compensation paid for service related to patient care;

(g) Costs in excess of limits or in violation of principles set forth in this chapter;

(h) Costs resulting from transactions or the application of accounting methods which circumvent the principles of the ~~((cost-related reimbursement))~~ payment system set forth in this chapter;

(i) Costs applicable to services, facilities, and supplies furnished by a related organization in excess of the lower of the cost to the related organization or the price of comparable services, facilities, or supplies purchased elsewhere;

(j) Bad debts of non-Title XIX recipients. Bad debts of Title XIX recipients are allowable if the debt is related to covered services, it arises from the recipient's required contribution toward the cost of care, the provider can establish that reasonable collection efforts were made, the debt was actually uncollectible when claimed as worthless, and sound business judgment established that there was no likelihood of recovery at any time in the future;

(k) Charity and courtesy allowances;

(l) Cash, assessments, or other contributions, excluding dues, to charitable organizations, professional organizations, trade associations, or political parties, and costs incurred to improve community or public relations;

(m) Vending machine expenses;

(n) Expenses for barber or beautician services not included in routine care;

(o) Funeral and burial expenses;

(p) Costs of gift shop operations and inventory;

(q) Personal items such as cosmetics, smoking materials, newspapers and magazines, and clothing, except those used in patient activity programs;

(r) Fund-raising expenses, except those directly related to the patient activity program;

(s) Penalties and fines;

(t) Expenses related to telephones, televisions, radios, and similar appliances in patients' private accommodations;

(u) Federal, state, and other income taxes;

(v) Costs of special care services except where authorized by the department;

(w) Expenses of an employee benefit not in fact made available to all employees on an equal or fair basis, for example, key-man insurance and other insurance or retirement plans ~~((not made available to all employees))~~;

(x) Expenses of profit-sharing plans;

(y) Expenses related to the purchase and/or use of private or commercial airplanes which are in excess of what a prudent contractor would expend for the ordinary and economic provision of such a transportation need related to patient care;

(z) Personal expenses and allowances of owners or relatives;

(aa) All expenses of maintaining professional licenses or membership in professional organizations;

- (bb) Costs related to agreements not to compete;
- (cc) Amortization of goodwill, lease acquisition, or any other intangible asset, whether related to resident care or not, and whether recognized under generally accepted accounting principles or not;
- (dd) Expenses related to vehicles which are in excess of what a prudent contractor would expend for the ordinary and economic provision of transportation needs related to patient care;
- (ee) Legal and consultant fees in connection with a fair hearing against the department where a decision is rendered in favor of the department or where otherwise the determination of the department stands;
- (ff) Legal and consultant fees of a contractor or contractors in connection with a lawsuit against the department;
- (gg) Lease acquisition costs ~~((and))~~, goodwill, the cost of bed rights, or any other ~~((intangibles not related to patient care))~~ intangible assets;
- (hh) All rental or lease costs other than those provided in RCW 74.46.300 on and after January 1, 1985;
- (ii) Postsurvey charges incurred by the facility as a result of subsequent inspections under RCW 18.51.050 which occur beyond the first postsurvey visit during the certification survey calendar year;
- (jj) Compensation paid for any purchased nursing care services, including registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, and nurse assistant services, obtained through service contract arrangement in excess of the amount of compensation paid for such hours of nursing care service had they been paid at the average hourly wage, including related taxes and benefits, for in-house nursing care staff of like classification at the same nursing facility, as reported in the most recent cost report period;
- (kk) For all partial or whole rate periods after July 17, 1984, costs of land and depreciable assets that cannot be reimbursed under the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 and implementing state statutory and regulatory provisions;
- (ll) Costs reported by the contractor for a prior period to the extent such costs, due to statutory exemption, will not be incurred by the contractor in the period to be covered by the rate;
- (mm) Costs of outside activities, for example, costs allocated to the use of a vehicle for personal purposes or related to the part of a facility leased out for office space;
- (nn) Travel expenses outside the states of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington and the province of British Columbia. However, travel to or from the home or central office of a chain organization operating a nursing facility is allowed whether inside or outside these areas if the travel is necessary, ordinary, and related to resident care;
- (oo) Moving expenses of employees in the absence of demonstrated, good-faith effort to recruit within the states of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, and the province of British Columbia;
- (pp) Depreciation in excess of four thousand dollars per year for each passenger car or other vehicle primarily used by the administrator, facility staff, or central office staff;
- (qq) Costs for temporary health care personnel from a nursing pool not registered with the secretary of the department of health;
- (rr) Payroll taxes associated with compensation in excess of allowable compensation of owners, relatives, and administrative personnel;
- (ss) Costs and fees associated with filing a petition for bankruptcy;
- (tt) All advertising or promotional costs, except reasonable costs of help wanted advertising;
- (uu) Outside consultation expenses required to meet department-required minimum data set completion proficiency;
- (vv) Interest charges assessed by any department or agency of this state for failure to make a timely refund of overpayments and interest expenses incurred for loans obtained to make the refunds; and
- (ww) All home office or central office costs, whether on or off the nursing facility premises, and whether allocated or not to specific services, in excess of the median of those costs for all reporting facilities for the most recent report period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. (1) Effective July 1, 1999, nursing facility medicaid payment rates shall be facility-specific and shall have six components: Direct care, therapy care, support services, operations, property, and return on investment rate. The department shall establish and adjust each of these components, as provided in this section and elsewhere in this chapter, for each medicaid nursing facility in this state.

(2) All component rates shall be based upon a minimum facility occupancy of eighty-five percent of licensed beds, regardless of how many beds are set up or in use. That portion of a facility's costs associated with or calculated on an occupancy lower than eighty-five percent shall be unallowable.

(3) Adjustments to direct care, therapy care, support services, and operations component rates for economic trends and conditions shall utilize changes in the nursing home input price index without capital costs published by the health care financing administration of the United States department of health and human services (HCFA index), to be applied as specified in this section. The department is authorized to use alternate indexes as selected by the department if any index specified in this section ceases to be published, is altered or superseded, or if another index is deemed more appropriate by the department.

(4) Information and data sources used in determining medicaid payment rates, including formulas, procedures, cost report periods, resident assessment instrument formats, resident assessment methodologies, and resident classification and case mix weighting methodologies, may be substituted or altered from time to time as determined by the department.

(5)(a) Direct care component rates shall be established using adjusted cost report data covering at least six months. Adjusted cost report data from 1996 will be used for July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2001, direct care component rates; adjusted cost report data from 1999 will be used for July 1, 2001, through June 30, 2004, direct care component rates.

(b) Direct care component rates based on 1996 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in this subsection (5)(b); except that facilities whose direct care component rate, as calculated under section 24 of this act, is greater than the ceiling, as described in section 24(5)(g)(ii) of this act, for July 1, 1998, shall receive an adjustment to the direct care component rate for economic trends and conditions, which is equal to the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1995, to July 1, 1996. For every fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, and thereafter, facilities whose direct care component rate, as calculated under section 24 of this act, is greater than the ceiling, as described in section 24(5)(g)(ii) of this act, shall receive an adjustment to the direct care component rate for economic trends that is equal to the change in the HCFA index from July 1st of the calendar year two years prior to the adjustment to July 1st of the calendar year one year prior to the adjustment.

(i) The July 1, 1998, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1996, to July 1, 1997, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 1999, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2000, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1998, to July 1, 1999, multiplied by no factor.

(c) Direct care component rates based on 1999 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in this subsection (5)(c); except that facilities whose direct care component rate, as calculated under section 24 of this act, is greater than the ceiling, as described in section 24(7) of this act, for July 1, 2001, shall receive an adjustment to the direct care component rate for economic trends and conditions, which is equal to the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1999, to July 1, 2000. For every fiscal year beginning July 1, 1999, and thereafter, facilities whose direct care component rate, as calculated under section 24 of this act, is greater than the ceiling, as described in section 24(5)(g)(ii) of this act, shall receive an adjustment to the direct care component rate for economic trends that is equal to the change in the HCFA index from July 1st of the calendar year two years prior to the adjustment to July 1st of the calendar year one year prior to the adjustment:

(i) The July 1, 2001, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1999, to July 1, 2000, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 2002, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2000, to July 1, 2001, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2003, direct care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2002, multiplied by no factor.

(6)(a) Therapy care component rates shall be established using adjusted cost report data covering at least six months. Adjusted cost report data from 1996 will be used for July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2001, therapy care component rates; adjusted cost report data from 1999 will be used for July 1, 2001, through June 30, 2004, therapy care component rates.

(b) Therapy care component rates based on 1996 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in this subsection (6)(b).

(i) The July 1, 1998, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1996, to July 1, 1997, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 1999, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2000, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1998, to July 1, 1999, multiplied by no factor.

(c) Therapy care component rates based on 1999 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as follows:

(i) The July 1, 2001, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1999, to July 1, 2000, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 2002, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2000, to July 1, 2001, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2003, therapy care component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2002, multiplied by no factor.

(7)(a) Support services component rates shall be established using adjusted cost report data covering at least six months. Adjusted cost report data from 1996 shall be used for July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2001, support services component rates; adjusted cost report data from 1999 shall be used for July 1, 2001, through June 30, 2004.

(b) Support services component rates based on 1996 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as follows:

(i) The July 1, 1998, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1996, to July 1, 1997, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 1999, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2000, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1998, to July 1, 1999, multiplied by no factor.

(c) Support services component rates based on 1999 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as follows:

(i) The July 1, 2001, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1999, to July 1, 2000, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 2002, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2000, to July 1, 2001, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2003, support services component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2002, multiplied by no factor.

(8)(a) Operations component rates shall be established using adjusted cost report data covering at least six months. Adjusted cost report data from 1996 shall be used for July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2001, operations component rates; adjusted cost report data from 1999 shall be used for July 1, 2001, through June 30, 2004.

(b) Operations component rates based on 1996 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as follows:

(i) The July 1, 1998, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1996, to July 1, 1997, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 1999, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1997, to July 1, 1998, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2000, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1998, to July 1, 1999, multiplied by no factor.

(c) Operations component rates based on 1999 cost report data shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as follows:

(i) The July 1, 2001, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 1999, to July 1, 2000, multiplied by a factor of one and one-half;

(ii) The July 1, 2002, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2000, to July 1, 2001, multiplied by no factor; and

(iii) The July 1, 2003, operations component shall be adjusted by the change in the HCFA index from July 1, 2001, to July 1, 2002, multiplied by no factor.

(9) The property and return on investment component rates shall be rebased annually, with no further adjustments, using adjusted cost report data from the prior calendar year covering at least six months of data.

(10) Total payment rates under the nursing facility medicaid payment system shall not exceed facility rates charged to the general public for comparable services.

(11) Medicaid contractors shall pay to all facility staff a minimum wage of the greater of five dollars and fifteen cents per hour or the federal minimum wage.

(12) The department shall establish in rule procedures, principles, and conditions for determining rates for facilities in circumstances not directly addressed by this chapter, including but not limited to: The need to prorate inflation for partial-period cost report data, newly constructed facilities, existing facilities entering the medicaid program for the first time or after a period of absence from the program, existing facilities with expanded new bed capacity, existing medicaid facilities following a change of ownership of the nursing facility business, facilities banking beds or converting beds back into service, facilities having less than six months of either resident assessment, cost report data, or both, under the current contractor prior to rate setting, and other circumstances.

(13) The department shall establish in rule procedures, principles, and conditions, including necessary threshold costs, for adjusting rates to reflect capital improvements or new requirements imposed by the department or the federal government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department shall disclose to any member of the public all rate-setting information consistent with requirements of state and federal laws.

Sec. 20. RCW 74.46.475 and 1985 c 361 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall analyze the submitted cost report or a portion thereof of each contractor for each report period to determine if the information is correct, complete, ~~((and))~~ reported in conformance with department instructions and generally accepted accounting principles, the requirements of this chapter, and such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as the ~~((secretary))~~ department may adopt. If the analysis finds that the cost report is incorrect or incomplete, the department may make adjustments to the reported information for purposes of establishing ~~((reimbursement))~~ payment rates. A schedule of such adjustments shall be provided to contractors and shall include an explanation for the adjustment and the dollar amount of the adjustment. Adjustments shall be subject to review and appeal as provided in this chapter.

(2) The department shall accumulate data from properly completed cost reports, in addition to assessment data on each facility's resident population characteristics, for use in:

(a) Exception profiling; and

(b) Establishing rates.

(3) The department may further utilize such accumulated data for analytical, statistical, or informational purposes as necessary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. (1) The department shall employ the resource utilization group III case mix classification methodology. The department shall use the forty-four group index maximizing model for the resource utilization group III grouper version 5.10, but the department may revise or update the classification methodology to reflect advances or refinements in resident assessment or classification, subject to federal requirements.

(2) A default case mix group shall be established for cases in which the resident dies or is discharged for any purpose prior to completion of the resident's initial assessment. The default case mix group and case mix weight for these cases shall be designated by the department.

(3) A default case mix group may also be established for cases in which there is an untimely assessment for the resident. The default case mix group and case mix weight for these cases shall be designated by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. (1) Each case mix classification group shall be assigned a case mix weight. The case mix weight for each resident of a nursing facility for each calendar quarter shall be based on data from resident assessment instruments completed for the resident and weighted by the number of days the resident was in each case mix classification group. Days shall be counted as provided in this section.

(2) The case mix weights shall be based on the average minutes per registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, and certified nurse aide, for each case mix group, and using the health care financing administration of the United States department of health and human services 1995 nursing facility staff time measurement study stemming from its multistate nursing home case mix and quality demonstration project. Those minutes shall be weighted by state-wide ratios of registered nurse to certified nurse aide, and licensed practical nurse to certified nurse aide, wages, including salaries and benefits, which shall be based on 1995 cost report data for this state.

(3) The case mix weights shall be determined as follows:

(a) Set the certified nurse aide wage weight at 1.000 and calculate wage weights for registered nurse and licensed practical nurse average wages by dividing the certified nurse aide average wage into the registered nurse average wage and licensed practical nurse average wage;

(b) Calculate the total weighted minutes for each case mix group in the resource utilization group III classification system by multiplying the wage weight for each worker classification by the average number of minutes that classification of worker spends caring for a resident in that resource utilization group III classification group, and summing the products;

(c) Assign a case mix weight of 1.000 to the resource utilization group III classification group with the lowest total weighted minutes and calculate case mix weights by dividing the lowest group's total weighted minutes into each group's total weighted minutes and rounding weight calculations to the third decimal place.

(4) The case mix weights in this state may be revised if the health care financing administration updates its nursing facility staff time measurement studies. The case mix weights shall be revised, but only when direct care component rates are cost-rebased as provided in subsection (5) of this section, to be effective on the July 1st effective date of each cost-rebased direct care component rate. However, the department may revise case mix weights more frequently if, and only if, significant variances in wage ratios occur among direct care staff in the different caregiver classifications identified in this section.

(5) Case mix weights shall be revised when direct care component rates are cost-rebased every three years as provided in section 18(5)(a) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. (1) From individual case mix weights for the applicable quarter, the department shall determine two average case mix indexes for each medicaid nursing facility, one for all residents in the facility, known as the facility average case mix index, and one for medicaid residents, known as the medicaid average case mix index.

(2)(a) In calculating a facility's two average case mix indexes for each quarter, the department shall include all residents or medicaid residents, as applicable, who were physically in the facility during the quarter in question (January 1st through March 31st, April 1st through June 30th, July 1st through September 30th, or October 1st through December 31st).

(b) The facility average case mix index shall exclude all default cases as defined in this chapter. However, the medicaid average case mix index shall include all default cases.

(3) Both the facility average and the medicaid average case mix indexes shall be determined by multiplying the case mix weight of each resident, or each medicaid resident, as applicable, by the number of days, as defined in this section and as applicable, the resident was at each particular case mix classification or group, and then averaging.

(4)(a) In determining the number of days a resident is classified into a particular case mix group, the department shall determine a start date for calculating case mix grouping periods as follows:

(i) If a resident's initial assessment for a first stay or a return stay in the nursing facility is timely completed and transmitted to the department by the cutoff date under state and federal requirements and as described in subsection (5) of this section, the start date shall be the later of either the first day of the quarter or the resident's facility admission or readmission date;

(ii) If a resident's significant change, quarterly, or annual assessment is timely completed and transmitted to the department by the cutoff date under state and federal requirements and as described in subsection (5) of this section, the start date shall be the date the assessment is completed;

(iii) If a resident's significant change, quarterly, or annual assessment is not timely completed and transmitted to the department by the cutoff date under state and federal requirements and as described in subsection (5) of this section, the start date shall be the due date for the assessment.

(b) If state or federal rules require more frequent assessment, the same principles for determining the start date of a resident's classification in a particular case mix group set forth in subsection (4)(a) of this section shall apply.

(c) In calculating the number of days a resident is classified into a particular case mix group, the department shall determine an end date for calculating case mix grouping periods as follows:

(i) If a resident is discharged before the end of the applicable quarter, the end date shall be the day before discharge;

(ii) If a resident is not discharged before the end of the applicable quarter, the end date shall be the last day of the quarter;

(iii) If a new assessment is due for a resident or a new assessment is completed and transmitted to the department, the end date of the previous assessment shall be the earlier of either the day before the assessment is due or the day before the assessment is completed by the nursing facility.

(5) The cutoff date for the department to use resident assessment data, for the purposes of calculating both the facility average and the medicaid average case mix indexes, and for establishing and updating a facility's direct care component rate, shall be one month and one day after the end of the quarter for which the resident assessment data applies.

(6) A threshold of ninety percent, as described and calculated in this subsection, shall be used to determine the case mix index each quarter. The threshold shall also be used to determine which facilities' costs per case mix unit are included in determining the ceiling, floor, and price. If the facility does not meet the ninety percent threshold, the department may use an alternate case mix index to determine the facility average and medicaid average case mix indexes for the quarter. The threshold is a count of unique minimum data set assessments, and it shall include resident assessment instrument tracking forms for residents discharged prior to completing an initial assessment. The threshold is calculated by dividing the count of unique minimum data set assessments by the average census for each facility. A daily census shall be reported by each nursing facility as it transmits assessment data to the department. The department shall compute a quarterly average census based on the daily census. If no census has been reported by a facility during a specified quarter, then the department shall use the facility's licensed beds as the denominator in computing the threshold.

(7)(a) Although the facility average and the medicaid average case mix indexes shall both be calculated quarterly, the facility average case mix index will be used only every three years in combination with cost report data as specified by this section, to establish a facility's allowable cost per case mix unit. A facility's medicaid average case mix index shall be used to update a nursing facility's direct care component rate quarterly.

(b) The facility average case mix index used to establish each nursing facility's direct care component rate shall be based on an average of calendar quarters of the facility's average case mix indexes.

(i) For July 1, 1998, direct care component rates, the department shall use an average of facility average case mix indexes from the four calendar quarters of 1997.

(ii) For July 1, 2000, direct care component rates, the department shall use an average of facility average case mix indexes from the four calendar quarters of 1998.

(c) The medicaid average case mix index used to update or recalibrate a nursing facility's direct care component rate quarterly shall be from the calendar quarter commencing six months prior to the effective date of the quarterly rate. For example, July 1, 1998, through September 30, 1998, direct care component rates shall use medicaid case mix averages from the January 1, 1998, through March 31, 1999, calendar quarter; October 1, 1998, through December 31, 1998, direct care component rates shall utilize case mix averages from the April 1, 1998, through June 30, 1998, calendar quarter, and so forth.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. (1) The direct care component rate corresponds to the provision of nursing care for one resident of a nursing facility for one day, including direct care supplies. Therapy services and supplies, which correspond to the therapy care component rate, shall be excluded. The direct care component rate includes elements of case mix determined consistent with the principles of this section and other applicable provisions of this chapter.

(2) Beginning July 1, 1998, the department shall determine and update quarterly for each nursing facility serving medicaid residents a facility-specific per-resident day direct care component rate, to be effective on the first day of each calendar quarter. In determining direct care component rates the department shall utilize, as specified in this section, minimum data set resident assessment data for each resident of the facility, as transmitted to, and if necessary corrected by, the department in the resident assessment instrument format approved by federal authorities for use in this state.

(3) The department may question the accuracy of assessment data for any resident and utilize corrected or substitute information, however derived, in determining direct care component rates. The department is authorized to impose civil fines and to take adverse rate actions against a contractor, as specified by the department in rule, in order to obtain compliance with resident assessment and data transmission requirements and to ensure accuracy.

(4) Cost report data used in setting direct care component rates shall be 1996 and 1999, for rate periods as specified in section 18(5)(a) of this act.

(5) Beginning July 1, 1998, the department shall rebase each nursing facility's direct care component rate as described in section 18 of this act, adjust its direct care component rate for economic trends and conditions as described in section 18 of this act, and update its medicaid average case mix index, consistent with the following:

(a) Reduce total direct care costs reported by each nursing facility for the applicable cost report period specified in section 18(5)(a) of this act to reflect any department adjustments, and to eliminate reported resident therapy costs and adjustments, in order to derive the facility's total allowable direct care cost;

(b) Divide each facility's total allowable direct care cost by its adjusted resident days for the same report period, increased if necessary to a minimum occupancy of eighty-five percent; that is, the greater of actual or imputed occupancy at eighty-five percent of licensed beds, to derive the facility's allowable direct care cost per resident day;

(c) Adjust the facility's per resident day direct care cost by the applicable factor specified in section 18(5) (b) and (c) of this act to derive its adjusted allowable direct care cost per resident day;

(d) Divide each facility's adjusted allowable direct care cost per resident day by the facility average case mix index for the applicable quarters specified by section 23(7)(b) of this act to derive the facility's allowable direct care cost per case mix unit;

(e) Divide nursing facilities into two peer groups: Those located in metropolitan statistical areas as determined and defined by the United States office of management and budget or other appropriate agency or office of the federal government, and those not located in a metropolitan statistical area;

(f) Array separately the allowable direct care cost per case mix unit for all metropolitan statistical area and for all nonmetropolitan statistical area facilities, and determine the median allowable direct care cost per case mix unit for each peer group;

(g) Determine each facility's allowable direct care cost per case mix unit. For July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2000, direct care component rates:

(i) A facility's direct care cost per case mix unit shall not be set below the floor of eighty-five percent of the facility's metropolitan statistical area or nonmetropolitan statistical area peer group median cost per case mix unit;

(ii) A facility's direct care cost per case mix unit shall not be set above the ceiling of one hundred fifteen percent of the facility's metropolitan statistical area or nonmetropolitan statistical area peer group median cost per case mix unit. Except that for those facilities whose cost per case mix unit is above the ceiling described in (g)(ii) of this subsection, the direct care component rate shall be set equal to the nursing services component rate in effect on June 30, 1998, in accordance with RCW 74.46.481 as it existed prior to the effective date of this section, less therapy costs, plus any exceptional care offsets as reported on the cost report, adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in section 18 of this act; and after June 30, 1999, shall be set equal to the direct care component rate in effect at the end of the immediately preceding fiscal year, adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in section 18 of this act;

(h) Multiply each nursing facility's allowable direct care cost per case mix unit by that facility's medicaid average case mix index from the applicable quarter specified by section 23(7)(c) of this act to arrive at the facility's quarterly direct care component rate.

(6) For July 1, 2000, through June 30, 2002, direct care component rates, for metropolitan statistical area and nonmetropolitan statistical area facilities, the ceiling for each facility within each peer group shall be one hundred ten percent of the peer group's median allowable direct care cost per case mix unit, and the floor shall be ninety percent of the peer groups' median allowable direct care cost per case mix unit; except that for those facilities whose cost per case mix unit is above the ceiling described in this subsection (6), the direct care component rate shall be set equal to the nursing services component rate in effect at the end of the immediately preceding fiscal year, adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described in section 18 of this act.

(7) For July 1, 2002, through June 30, 2004, direct care component rates, for metropolitan statistical area and nonmetropolitan statistical area facilities, the ceiling for each facility within each peer group shall be one hundred five percent of the peer group's median allowable direct care cost per case mix unit, and the floor shall be ninety-five percent of the peer group's median allowable direct care cost per case mix unit; except that for those facilities whose cost per case mix unit is above the ceiling described in this subsection (7), the direct care component rate shall be set equal to the nursing services component rate in effect at the end of the immediately preceding fiscal year, adjusted for economic trends and conditions as described by section 18 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. (1) The therapy care component rate corresponds to the provision of medicaid one-on-one therapy provided by a qualified therapist as defined in this chapter, including therapy supplies and therapy consultation, for one day for one medicaid resident of a nursing facility. The therapy care component rate for July 1, 1998, through June 30, 2001, shall be based on adjusted therapy costs and days from calendar year 1996. The therapy component rate for July 1, 2001, through June 30, 2004, shall be based on adjusted therapy costs and days from calendar year 1999. The therapy care component rate shall be adjusted for economic trends and conditions as specified in section 18(6)(b) of this act, and shall be determined in accordance with this section.

(2) In rebasing, as provided in section 18(6)(a) of this act, the department shall take from the cost reports of facilities the following reported information:

(a) Direct one-on-one therapy charges for all residents by payer including charges for supplies;
(b) The total units or modules of therapy care for all residents by type of therapy provided, for example, speech or physical. A unit or module of therapy care is considered to be fifteen minutes of one-on-one therapy provided by a qualified therapist or support personnel; and

(c) Therapy consulting expenses for all residents.

(3) The department shall determine for all residents the total cost per unit of therapy for each type of therapy by dividing the total adjusted one-on-one therapy expense for each type by the total units provided for that therapy type.

(4) The department shall divide medicaid nursing facilities in this state into two peer groups:

(a) Those facilities located within a metropolitan statistical area; and
(b) Those not located in a metropolitan statistical area.

Metropolitan statistical areas and nonmetropolitan statistical areas shall be as determined by the United States office of management and budget or other applicable federal office. The department shall array the facilities in each peer group from highest to lowest based on their total cost per unit of therapy for each therapy type. The department shall determine the median total cost per unit of therapy for each therapy type and add ten percent of median total cost per unit of therapy. The cost per unit of therapy for each therapy type at a nursing facility shall be the lesser of its cost per unit of therapy for each therapy type or the median total cost per unit plus ten percent for each therapy type for its peer group.

(5) The department shall calculate each nursing facility's therapy care component rate as follows:

(a) To determine the allowable total therapy cost for each therapy type, the allowable cost per unit of therapy for each type of therapy shall be multiplied by the total therapy units for each type of therapy;

(b) The medicaid allowable one-on-one therapy expense shall be calculated taking the allowable total therapy cost for each therapy type times the medicaid percent of total therapy charges for each therapy type;

(c) The medicaid allowable one-on-one therapy expense for each therapy type shall be divided by total adjusted medicaid days to arrive at the medicaid one-on-one therapy cost per patient day for each therapy type;

(d) The medicaid one-on-one therapy cost per patient day for each therapy type shall be multiplied by total adjusted patient days for all residents to calculate the total allowable one-on-one therapy expense. The lesser of the total allowable therapy consultant expense for the therapy type or a reasonable percentage of allowable therapy consultant expense for each therapy type, as established in rule by the department, shall be added to the total allowable one-on-one therapy expense to determine the allowable therapy cost for each therapy type;

(e) The allowable therapy cost for each therapy type shall be added together, the sum of which shall be the total allowable therapy expense for the nursing facility;

(f) The total allowable therapy expense will be divided by the greater of adjusted total patient days from the cost report on which the therapy expenses were reported, or patient days at eighty-five percent occupancy of licensed beds. The outcome shall be the nursing facility's therapy care component rate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. (1) The support services component rate corresponds to the provision of food, food preparation, dietary, housekeeping, and laundry services for one resident for one day.

(2) Beginning July 1, 1998, the department shall determine each medicaid nursing facility's support services component rate using cost report data specified by section 18(7) of this act.

(3) To determine each facility's support services component rate, the department shall:

(a) Array facilities' adjusted support services costs per adjusted resident day for each facility from facilities' cost reports from the applicable report year, for facilities located within a metropolitan statistical area, and for those not located in any metropolitan statistical area and determine the median adjusted cost for each peer group;

(b) Set each facility's support services component rate at the lower of the facility's per resident day adjusted support services costs from the applicable cost report period or the adjusted median per resident day support services cost for that facility's peer group, either metropolitan statistical area or nonmetropolitan statistical area, plus ten percent; and

(c) Adjust each facility's support services component rate for economic trends and conditions as provided in section 18(7) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. (1) The operations component rate corresponds to the general operation of a nursing facility for one resident for one day, including but not limited to management, administration, utilities, office supplies, accounting and bookkeeping, minor building maintenance, minor equipment repairs and replacements, and other supplies and services, exclusive of direct care, therapy care, support services, and capital return.

(2) Beginning July 1, 1998, the department shall determine each medicaid nursing facility's operations component rate using cost report data specified by section 18(8)(a) of this act.

(3) To determine each facility's operations component rate the department shall:

(a) Array facilities' adjusted general operations costs per adjusted resident day for each facility from facilities' cost reports from the applicable report year, for facilities located within a metropolitan statistical area and for those not located in a metropolitan statistical area and determine the median adjusted cost for each peer group;

(b) Set each facility's operations component rate at the lower of the facility's per resident day adjusted operations costs from the applicable cost report period or the adjusted median per resident day general operations cost for that facility's peer group, metropolitan statistical area or nonmetropolitan statistical area; and

(c) Adjust each facility's operations component rate for economic trends and conditions as provided in section 18(8)(b) of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. (1) The property cost center rate for each facility shall be determined by dividing the sum of the reported allowable prior period actual depreciation, subject to RCW 74.46.310 through 74.46.380, adjusted for any capitalized additions or replacements approved by the department, and the retained savings from such cost center, by the greater of a facility's total resident days for the facility in the prior period or resident days as calculated on ninety or eighty-five percent facility occupancy as applicable. If a capitalized addition or retirement of an asset will result in a different licensed bed capacity during the ensuing period, the prior period total resident days used in computing the property cost center rate shall be adjusted to anticipated resident day level.

(2) A nursing facility's property rate shall be rebased annually, effective July 1st, in accordance with this section and this chapter.

(3) When a certificate of need for a new facility is requested, the department, in reaching its decision, shall take into consideration per-bed land and building construction costs for the facility which shall not exceed a maximum to be established by the secretary.

(4) For the purpose of calculating a nursing facility's property component rate, if a contractor elects to bank licensed beds or to convert banked beds to active service, under chapter 70.38 RCW, the department shall use the facility's anticipated resident occupancy level subsequent to the decrease or increase in licensed bed capacity. However, in no case shall the department use less than ninety percent occupancy of the facility's licensed bed capacity after banking or conversion.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. (1) The department shall establish for each medicaid nursing facility a return on investment rate composed of two parts: A financing allowance and a variable return allowance. The financing allowance part of a facility's return on investment component rate shall be rebased annually, effective July 1st, in accordance with the provisions of this section and this chapter.

(a) The financing allowance shall be determined by multiplying the net invested funds of each facility by .085, and dividing by the greater of a nursing facility's total resident days from the most recent cost report period or resident days calculated on ninety percent or eighty-five percent facility occupancy as applicable. If a capitalized addition or retirement of an asset will result in a different licensed bed capacity during the ensuing period, the prior period total resident days used in computing the financing and variable return allowances shall be adjusted to the anticipated resident day level.

(b) In computing the portion of net invested funds representing the net book value of tangible fixed assets, the same assets, depreciation bases, lives, and methods referred to in RCW 74.46.330, 74.46.350, 74.46.360, 74.46.370, and 74.46.380, including owned and leased assets, shall be utilized, except that the capitalized cost of land upon which the facility is located and such other contiguous land which is reasonable and necessary for use in the regular course of providing resident care shall also be included. Subject to provisions and limitations contained in this chapter, for land purchased by owners or lessors before July 18, 1984, capitalized cost of land shall be the buyer's capitalized cost. For all partial or whole rate periods after July 17, 1984, if the land is purchased after July 17, 1984, capitalized cost shall be that of the owner of record on July 17, 1984, or buyer's capitalized cost, whichever is lower. In the case of leased facilities where the net invested funds are unknown or the contractor is unable to provide necessary information to determine net invested funds, the secretary shall have the authority to determine an amount for net invested funds based on an appraisal conducted according to RCW 74.46.360(1).

(c) In determining the variable return allowance:

(i) For all rate setting periods beginning July 1st, the department, without utilizing peer groups, shall first rank all facilities in numerical order from highest to lowest according to their per resident day adjusted or audited, or both, allowable costs for nursing services, food, administrative, and operational costs combined for the 1994 calendar year cost report period.

(ii) The department shall then compute the variable return allowance by multiplying the appropriate percentage amounts, which shall not be less than one percent and not greater than four percent, by the sum of the facility's nursing services, food, administrative, and operational rate components. The percentage amounts will be based on groupings of facilities according to the rankings prescribed in (c)(i) of this subsection. The percentages calculated and assigned will remain the same for the variable return allowance paid in all July 1, 1996, and July 1, 1997, rates as well. Those groups of facilities with lower per diem costs shall receive higher percentage amounts than those with higher per diem costs.

(d) The sum of the financing allowance and the variable return allowance shall be the return on investment rate for each facility, and shall be added to the prospective rates of each contractor as determined in sections 18 through 27 of this act.

(e) In the case of a facility that was leased by the contractor as of January 1, 1980, in an arm's-length agreement, which continues to be leased under the same lease agreement, and for which the annualized lease payment, plus any interest and depreciation expenses associated with contractor-owned assets, for the period covered by the prospective rates, divided by the contractor's total resident days, minus the property cost center determined according to section 28 of this act, is more than the return on investment rate determined according to (d) of this subsection, the following shall apply:

(i) The financing allowance shall be recomputed substituting the fair market value of the assets as of January 1, 1982, as determined by the department of general administration through an appraisal procedure, less accumulated depreciation on the lessor's assets since January 1, 1982, for the net book value of the assets in determining net invested funds for the facility. A determination by the department of general administration of fair market value shall be final unless the procedure used to make such a determination is shown to be arbitrary and capricious.

(ii) The sum of the financing allowance computed under (e)(i) of this subsection and the variable allowance shall be compared to the annualized lease payment, plus any interest and depreciation associated with contractor-owned assets, for the period covered by the prospective rates, divided by the contractor's total resident days, minus the property cost center rate determined according to section 28 of this act. The lesser of the two amounts shall be called the alternate return on investment rate.

(iii) The return on investment rate determined according to (d) of this subsection or the alternate return on investment rate, whichever is greater, shall be the return on investment rate for the facility and shall be added to the prospective rates of the contractor as determined in sections 18 through 27 of this act.

(f) In the case of a facility that was leased by the contractor as of January 1, 1980, in an arm's-length agreement, if the lease is renewed or extended under a provision of the lease, the treatment provided in (e) of this subsection shall be applied, except that in the case of renewals or extensions made subsequent to April 1, 1985, reimbursement for the annualized lease payment shall be no greater than the reimbursement for the annualized lease payment for the last year prior to the renewal or extension of the lease.

(2) For the purpose of calculating a nursing facility's return on investment component rate, if a contractor elects to bank beds or to convert banked beds to active service, under chapter 70.38 RCW, the department shall use the facility's anticipated resident occupancy level subsequent to the decrease or increase in licensed bed capacity. However, in no case shall the department use less than ninety percent occupancy of the facility's licensed bed capacity after banking or conversion.

(3) Each biennium the secretary shall review the adequacy of return on investment rates in relation to anticipated requirements for maintaining, reducing, or expanding nursing care capacity. The secretary shall report the results of a such review to the legislature and make recommendations for adjustments in the return on investment rates utilized in this section, if appropriate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. (1) The department may adjust component rates for errors or omissions made in establishing component rates and determine amounts either overpaid to the contractor or underpaid by the department.

(2) A contractor may request the department to adjust its component rates because of:

(a) An error or omission the contractor made in completing a cost report; or

(b) An alleged error or omission made by the department in determining one or more of the contractor's component rates.

(3) A request for a rate adjustment made on incorrect cost reporting must be accompanied by the amended cost report pages prepared in accordance with the department's written instructions and by a written explanation of the error or omission and the necessity for the amended cost report pages and the rate adjustment.

(4) The department shall review a contractor's request for a rate adjustment because of an alleged error or omission, even if the time period has expired in which the contractor must appeal the rate when initially issued, pursuant to rules adopted by the department under RCW 74.46.780. If the request is received after this time period, the department has the authority to correct the rate if it agrees an error or omission was committed. However, if the request is denied, the contractor shall not be entitled to any appeals or exception review procedure that the department may adopt under RCW 74.46.780.

(5) The department shall notify the contractor of the amount of the overpayment to be recovered or additional payment to be made to the contractor reflecting a rate adjustment to correct an error or omission. The recovery from the contractor of the overpayment or the additional payment to the contractor shall be governed by the reconciliation, settlement, security, and recovery processes set forth in this chapter and by rules adopted by the department in accordance with this chapter and RCW 74.46.800.

Sec. 31. RCW 74.46.610 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 67 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A contractor shall bill the department each month by completing and returning a facility billing statement as provided by the department (~~which shall include, but not be limited to:~~

~~(a) Billing by cost center;~~

~~(b) Total patient days; and~~

~~(c) Patient days for medical care recipients)).~~

The statement shall be completed and filed in accordance with rules ~~((and regulations))~~ established by the ~~((secretary))~~ department.

(2) A facility shall not bill the department for service provided to a recipient until an award letter of eligibility of such recipient under rules established under chapter 74.09 RCW has been received by the facility. However a facility may bill and shall be reimbursed for all medical care recipients referred to the facility by the department prior to the receipt of the award letter of eligibility or the denial of such eligibility.

(3) Billing shall cover the patient days of care.

Sec. 32. RCW 74.46.620 and 1980 c 177 s 62 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department will ~~((reimburse))~~ pay a contractor for service rendered under the facility contract and billed in accordance with RCW 74.46.610.

(2) The amount paid will be computed using the appropriate rates assigned to the contractor.

(3) For each recipient, the department will pay an amount equal to the appropriate rates, multiplied by the number of ~~((patient))~~ medicaid resident days each rate was in effect, less the amount the recipient is required to pay for his or her care as set forth by RCW 74.46.630.

Sec. 33. RCW 74.46.630 and 1980 c 177 s 63 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department will notify a contractor of the amount each medical care recipient is required to pay for care provided under the contract and the effective date of such required contribution. It is the contractor's responsibility to collect that portion of the cost of care from the patient, and to account for any authorized reduction from his or her contribution in accordance with rules ~~((and regulations))~~ established by the ~~((secretary))~~ department.

(2) If a contractor receives documentation showing a change in the income or resources of a recipient which will mean a change in his or her contribution toward the cost of care, this shall be reported in writing to the department within seventy-two hours and in a manner specified by rules ~~((and regulations))~~ established by the ~~((secretary))~~ department. If necessary, appropriate corrections will be made in the next facility statement, and a copy of documentation supporting the change will be attached. If increased funds for a recipient are received by a contractor, an amount determined by the department shall be allowed for clothing and personal and incidental expense, and the balance applied to the cost of care.

(3) The contractor shall accept the ~~((reimbursement))~~ payment rates established by the department as full compensation for all services provided under the contract, certification as specified by Title XIX, and licensure under chapter 18.51 RCW. The contractor shall not seek or accept additional compensation from or on behalf of a recipient for any or all such services.

Sec. 34. RCW 74.46.640 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 112 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Payments to a contractor may be withheld by the department in each of the following circumstances:

(a) A required report is not properly completed and filed by the contractor within the appropriate time period, including any approved extension. Payments will be released as soon as a properly completed report is received;

(b) State auditors, department auditors, or authorized personnel in the course of their duties are refused access to a nursing facility or are not provided with existing appropriate records. Payments will be released as soon as such access or records are provided;

(c) A refund in connection with a ~~((preliminary or final))~~ settlement or rate adjustment is not paid by the contractor when due. The amount withheld will be limited to the unpaid amount of the refund and any accumulated interest owed to the department as authorized by this chapter;

(d) Payment for the final sixty days of service under a contract will be held in the absence of adequate alternate security acceptable to the department pending ~~((final))~~ settlement of all periods when the contract is terminated; and

(e) Payment for services at any time during the contract period in the absence of adequate alternate security acceptable to the department, if a contractor's net medicaid overpayment liability for one or more nursing facilities or other debt to the department, as determined by ~~((preliminary settlement, final))~~ settlement, civil fines imposed by the department, third-party liabilities or other source, reaches or exceeds fifty thousand dollars, whether subject to good faith dispute or not, and for each subsequent increase in liability reaching or exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars. Payments will be released as soon as practicable after acceptable security is provided or refund to the department is made.

(2) No payment will be withheld until written notification of the suspension is provided to the contractor, stating the reason for the withholding, except that neither a timely filed request to pursue ~~((the))~~ any administrative appeals or exception procedure that the department may establish~~((ed))~~ by ~~((the department in))~~ rule nor commencement of judicial review, as may be available to the contractor in law, shall delay suspension of payment.

Sec. 35. RCW 74.46.650 and 1980 c 177 s 65 are each amended to read as follows:

All payments to a contractor will end no later than sixty days after any of the following occurs:

- (1) A contract ~~((expires,))~~ is terminated ~~((or is not renewed))~~;
- (2) A facility license is revoked; or
- (3) A facility is decertified as a Title XIX facility; except that, in situations where the ~~((secretary))~~ department determines that residents must remain in such facility for a longer period because of the resident's health or safety, payments for such residents shall continue.

Sec. 36. RCW 74.46.660 and 1992 c 215 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In order to participate in the ~~((prospective cost related reimbursement))~~ nursing facility medicaid payment system established by this chapter, the person or legal ~~((organization))~~ entity responsible for operation of a facility shall:

(1) Obtain a state certificate of need and/or federal capital expenditure review (section 1122) approval pursuant to chapter 70.38 RCW and Part 100, Title 42 CFR where required;

(2) Hold the appropriate current license;

(3) Hold current Title XIX certification;

(4) Hold a current contract to provide services under this chapter;

(5) Comply with all provisions of the contract and all ~~((application))~~ applicable regulations, including but not limited to the provisions of this chapter; and

(6) Obtain and maintain medicare certification, under Title XVIII of the social security act, 42 U.S.C. Sec. 1395, as amended, for a portion of the facility's licensed beds. ~~((Until June 1, 1993, the department may grant exemptions from the medicare certification requirements of this subsection to nursing facilities that are making good faith efforts to obtain medicare certification.))~~

Sec. 37. RCW 74.46.680 and 1985 c 361 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) On the effective date of a change of ownership the department's contract with the old owner shall be terminated. The old owner shall give the department sixty days' written notice of such termination. When certificate of need and/or section 1122 approval is required pursuant to chapter 70.38 RCW and Part 100, Title 42 CFR, for the new owner to acquire the facility, and the new owner wishes to continue to provide service to recipients without interruption, certificate of need and/or section 1122 approval shall be obtained before the old owner submits a notice of termination.

(2) If the new owner desires to participate in the ~~((cost related reimbursement))~~ nursing facility medicaid payment system, it shall meet the conditions specified in RCW 74.46.660 ~~((and shall submit a projected budget in accordance with RCW 74.46.670 no later than sixty days before the date of the change of ownership))~~. The facility contract with the new owner shall be effective as of the date of the change of ownership.

(2) Upon notification of a contract termination, the department shall determine by ~~((preliminary or final settlement calculations))~~ settlement or reconciliation the amount of any overpayments made to the contractor, including overpayments disputed by the contractor. If ~~((preliminary or final))~~ settlements are unavailable for any period up to the date of contract termination, the department shall make a reasonable estimate of any overpayment or underpayments for such periods. The reasonable estimate shall be based upon prior period settlements, available audit findings, the projected impact of prospective rates, and other information available to the department. The department shall also determine and add in the total of all other debts and potential debts owed to the department regardless of source, including, but not limited to, interest owed to the department as authorized by this chapter, civil fines imposed by the department, or third-party liabilities.

(3) The old contractor shall provide security, in a form deemed adequate by the department, equal to the total amount of determined and estimated overpayments and all ~~((other))~~ debts and potential debts from any source, whether or not the overpayments are the subject of good faith dispute including but not limited to, interest owed to the department, civil fines imposed by the department, and third-party liabilities. Security shall consist of one or more of the following:

- ~~(a) Withheld payments due the old contractor under the contract being terminated; ((or))~~
  - ~~(b) ((A surety bond issued by a bonding company acceptable to the department; or~~
  - ~~(c)) An assignment of funds to the department; ((or~~
  - ~~(d) Collateral acceptable to the department; or~~
  - ~~(e) A purchaser's)) (c) The new contractor's assumption of liability for the prior contractor's~~
- ~~((overpayment)) debt or potential debt;~~
- ~~(d) An authorization to withhold payments from one or more medicaid nursing facilities that continue to be operated by the old contractor;~~
  - ~~((f)) (e) A promissory note secured by a deed of trust; or~~
  - ~~((g) Any combination of (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), or (f) of this subsection)) (f) Other collateral or security acceptable to the department.~~

- (4) ~~((A surety bond or))~~ An assignment of funds shall:
- ~~(a) Be at least equal ((in)) to the amount ((to)) of determined or estimated ((overpayments, whether or not the subject of good faith dispute,)) debt or potential debt minus withheld payments or other security provided; and~~
  - ~~(b) ((Be issued or accepted by a bonding company or financial institution licensed to transact business in Washington state;~~
  - ~~(c) Be for a term, as determined by the department, sufficient to ensure effectiveness after final settlement and the exhaustion of any administrative appeals or exception procedure and judicial remedies, as may be available to and sought by the contractor, regarding payment, settlement, civil fine, interest assessment, or other debt issues: PROVIDED, That the bond or assignment shall initially be for a term of at least five years, and shall be forfeited if not renewed thereafter in an amount equal to any remaining combined overpayment and debt liability as determined by the department;~~
  - ~~(d) Provide that the full amount of the bond or assignment, or both, shall be paid to the department if a properly completed final cost report is not filed in accordance with this chapter, or if financial records supporting this report are not preserved and made available to the auditor; and~~
  - ~~(e)) Provide that an amount equal to any recovery the department determines is due from the contractor from settlement or from any ((other)) source of debt to the department, but not exceeding the amount of the ((bond and)) assignment, shall be paid to the department if the contractor does not pay the ((refund and)) debt within sixty days following receipt of written demand for payment from the department to the contractor.~~

(5) The department shall release any payment withheld as security if alternate security is provided under subsection (3) of this section in an amount equivalent to the determined and estimated ~~((overpayments))~~ debt.

(6) If the total of withheld payments~~((, bonds,))~~ and assignments is less than the total of determined and estimated overpayments and debts, the unsecured amount of ~~((such))~~ the overpayments and the debt shall be a debt due the state and shall become a lien against the real and personal property of the contractor from the time of filing by the department with the county auditor of the county where the contractor resides or owns property, and the lien claim has preference over the claims of all unsecured creditors.

(7) ~~((The contractor shall file))~~ A properly completed final cost report shall be filed in accordance with the requirements of ~~((this chapter))~~ RCW 74.46.040, which shall be ~~((audited))~~ examined by the department in accordance with the requirements of RCW 74.46.100. ~~((A final settlement shall be determined within ninety days following completion of the audit process, including completion of any administrative appeals or exception procedure review of the audit requested by the contractor, but not including completion of any judicial review available to and commenced by the contractor.))~~

(8) ~~((Following determination of settlement for all periods,))~~ Security held pursuant to this section shall be released to the contractor after all ~~((overpayments, erroneous payments, and))~~ debts ~~((determined in connection with final settlement, or otherwise)),~~ including accumulated interest owed the department, have been paid by the old contractor.

(9) If, after calculation of settlements for any periods, it is determined that overpayments exist in excess of the value of security held by the state, the department may seek recovery of these additional overpayments as provided by law.

(10) Regardless of whether a contractor intends to terminate its medicaid contracts, if a contractor's net medicaid overpayments and erroneous payments for one or more settlement periods, and for one or more nursing facilities, combined with debts due the department, reaches or exceeds a total of fifty thousand dollars, as determined by ~~((preliminary settlement, final))~~ settlement, civil fines imposed by the department, third-party liabilities or by any other source, whether such amounts are subject to good faith dispute or not, the department shall demand and obtain security equivalent to the total of such overpayments, erroneous payments, and debts and shall obtain security for each subsequent increase in liability reaching or exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars. Such security shall meet the criteria in subsections (3) and (4) of this section, except that the department shall not accept an assumption of liability. The department shall withhold all or portions of a contractor's current contract payments or impose liens, or both, if security acceptable to the department is not forthcoming. The department shall release a contractor's withheld payments or lift liens, or both, if the contractor subsequently provides security acceptable to the department. ~~((This subsection shall apply to all overpayments and erroneous payments determined by preliminary or final settlements issued on or after July 1, 1995, regardless of what payment periods the settlements may cover and shall apply to all debts owed the department from any source, including interest debts, which become due on or after July 1, 1995.))~~

(1) ~~((For all nursing facility medicaid payment rates effective on or after July 1, 1995, and for all settlements and audits issued on or after July 1, 1995, regardless of what periods the settlements or audits may cover,))~~ If a contractor wishes to contest the way in which a rule relating to the medicaid payment ~~((rate))~~ system was applied to the contractor by the department, it shall pursue ~~((the))~~ any appeals or exception procedure ~~((established by))~~ that the department may establish in rule authorized by RCW 74.46.780.

(2) If a contractor wishes to challenge the legal validity of a statute, rule, or contract provision or wishes to bring a challenge based in whole or in part on federal law, ~~((including but not limited to issues of procedural or substantive compliance with the federal medicaid minimum payment standard for long term care facility services, the))~~ any appeals or exception procedure ~~((established by))~~ that the department may establish in rule may not be used for these purposes. This prohibition shall apply regardless of whether the contractor wishes to obtain a decision or ruling on an issue of validity or federal compliance or wishes only to make a record for the purpose of subsequent judicial review.

(3) If a contractor wishes to challenge the legal validity of a statute, rule, or contract provision relating to the medicaid payment rate system, or wishes to bring a challenge based in whole or in part on federal law, it must bring such action de novo in a court of proper jurisdiction as may be provided by law.

Sec. 40. RCW 74.46.780 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 115 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((For all nursing facility medicaid payment rates effective on or after July 1, 1995, and for all audits completed and settlements issued on or after July 1, 1995, regardless of what periods the payment rates, audits, or settlements may cover,))~~ The department shall establish in rule, consistent with federal requirements for nursing facilities participating in the medicaid program, an appeals or exception procedure that allows individual nursing care providers an opportunity to submit additional evidence and receive prompt administrative review of payment rates with respect to such issues as the department deems appropriate.

(1) The department shall have authority to adopt, ((promulgate,)) amend, and rescind such administrative rules and definitions as ((are)) it deems necessary to carry out the policies and purposes of this chapter and to resolve issues and develop procedures that it deems necessary to implement, update, and improve the case mix elements of the nursing facility medicaid payment system. ~~((In addition, at least annually the department shall review changes to generally accepted accounting~~ principles and generally accepted auditing standards as approved by the financial accounting standards board, and the American institute of certified public accountants, respectively. The department shall adopt by administrative rule those approved changes which it finds to be consistent with the policies and purposes of this chapter.)

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require the department to adopt or employ any calculations, steps, tests, methodologies, alternate methodologies, indexes, formulas, mathematical or statistical models, concepts, or procedures for medicaid rate setting or payment that are not expressly called for in this chapter.

Sec. 42. RCW 74.46.820 and 1985 c 361 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((Cost reports and their final audit))~~ Financial reports filed by the contractor shall be subject to public disclosure pursuant to the requirements of chapter 42.17 RCW. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, ~~((cost))~~ reports ~~((schedules))~~ showing information on rental or lease of assets, the facility or corporate balance sheet, schedule of changes in financial position, statement of changes in equity-fund balances, notes to financial statements, and any ~~((accompanying))~~ schedules summarizing ~~((the))~~ adjustments to a contractor's financial records, reports on review of internal control and accounting procedures, and letters of comments or recommendations relating to suggested improvements in internal control or accounting procedures which are prepared pursuant to the requirements of this chapter shall be exempt from public disclosure.

~~((This))~~ (2) Subsection (1) of this section does not prevent a contractor from having access to its own records or from authorizing an agent or designee to have access to the contractor's records.

~~((2))~~ (3) Regardless of whether any document or report submitted to the secretary pursuant to this chapter is subject to public disclosure, copies of such documents or reports shall be provided by the secretary, upon written request, to the legislature and to state agencies or state or local law enforcement officials who have an official interest in the contents thereof.

Sec. 43. RCW 74.46.840 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 67 s 42 are each amended to read as follows:

If any part of this chapter ~~((and))~~ or RCW 18.51.145 ~~((and))~~ or 74.09.120 is found by an agency of the federal government to be in conflict with federal requirements ~~((which))~~ that are a prescribed condition to the receipts of federal funds to the state, the conflicting part of this chapter ~~((and))~~ or RCW 18.51.145 ~~((and))~~ or 74.09.120 is ~~((hereby))~~ declared inoperative solely to the extent of the conflict and with respect to the agencies directly affected, and such finding or determination shall not affect the operation of the remainder of this chapter ~~((and))~~ or RCW 18.51.145 ~~((and))~~ or 74.09.120 in its application to the agencies concerned. In the event that any portion of this chapter ~~((and))~~ or RCW 18.51.145 ~~((and))~~ or 74.09.120 is found to be in conflict with federal requirements ~~((which))~~ that are a prescribed condition to the receipt of federal funds, the secretary, to the extent that the secretary finds it to be consistent with the general policies and intent of chapters 18.51, 74.09, and 74.46 RCW, may adopt such rules as to resolve a specific conflict and ~~((which))~~ that do meet minimum federal requirements. In addition, the secretary shall submit to the next regular session of the legislature a summary of the specific rule changes made and recommendations for statutory resolution of the conflict.

Sec. 44. RCW 74.09.120 and 1993 sp.s. c 3 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall purchase necessary physician and dentist services by contract or "fee for service." The department shall purchase nursing home care by contract and payment for the care shall be in accordance with the provisions of chapter 74.46 RCW and rules adopted by the department under the authority of RCW 74.46.800. ~~((The department shall establish regulations for reasonable nursing home accounting and reimbursement systems which shall provide that))~~ No payment shall be made to a nursing home which does not permit inspection by the department of social and health services of every part of its premises and an examination of all records, including financial records, methods of administration, general and special dietary programs, the disbursement of drugs and methods of supply, and any other records the department deems relevant to the ~~((establishment of such a system))~~ regulation of nursing home operations, enforcement of standards for resident care, and payment for nursing home services.

The department may purchase nursing home care by contract in veterans' homes operated by the state department of veterans affairs~~((The department shall establish rules for reasonable accounting and reimbursement systems for such care))~~ and payment for the care shall be in accordance with the provisions of chapter 74.46 RCW and rules adopted by the department under the authority of RCW 74.46.800.

The department may purchase care in institutions for the mentally retarded, also known as intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded. The department shall establish rules for reasonable accounting and reimbursement systems for such care. Institutions for the mentally retarded include licensed nursing homes, public institutions, licensed boarding homes with fifteen beds or less, and hospital facilities certified as intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded under the federal medicaid program to provide health, habilitative, or rehabilitative services and twenty-four hour supervision for mentally retarded individuals or persons with related conditions and includes in the program "active treatment" as federally defined.

The department may purchase care in institutions for mental diseases by contract. The department shall establish rules for reasonable accounting and reimbursement systems for such care. Institutions for mental diseases are certified under the federal medicaid program and primarily engaged in providing diagnosis, treatment, or care to persons with mental diseases, including medical attention, nursing care, and related services.

The department may purchase all other services provided under this chapter by contract or at rates established by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45. (1) Payment for direct care at the pilot nursing facility in King county designed to meet the service needs of residents living with AIDS, as defined in RCW 70.24.017, and as specifically authorized for this purpose under chapter 9, Laws of 1989 1st ex. sess., shall be exempt from case mix methods of rate determination set forth in this chapter and shall be exempt from the direct care metropolitan statistical area peer group cost limitation set forth in this chapter.

(2) Direct care component rates at the AIDS pilot facility shall be based on direct care reported costs at the pilot facility, utilizing the same three-year, rate-setting cycle prescribed for other nursing facilities, and as supported by a staffing benchmark based upon a department-approved acuity measurement system.

(3) All other rate-setting principles, cost lids, and limits, including settlement at the lower of cost or rate in direct care, therapy care, and support services, shall apply to the AIDS pilot facility.

(4) This section applies only to the AIDS pilot nursing facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. For nursing facilities located in King county that commenced operations in February 1995, the department shall use each such facility's 1996 allowable costs to retroactively adjust and reset the July 1, 1997, nursing services, food, administrative, and operational rate components. In determining 1996 allowable costs for the affected King county facilities, the department shall use 1994 cost limits adjusted to 1996. The 1996 cost report shall be the basis for rates subsequent to July 1, 1997, until such time as the nursing facility payment methodology recognizes a new cost report for all facilities. The 1996 allowable costs used to revise the July 1, 1997, rate components shall be adjusted using an inflation factor of 3.79 percent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47. (1) The department of social and health services shall study and provide recommendations, by December 12, 1998, to the chairs of the house of representatives health care committee and the senate health and long-term care committee on the appropriateness of extending the case mix principles, described in chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act), to home and community service providers, as defined in chapter 74.39A RCW. The department shall invite stakeholders to participate in this study.

(2) By December 12, 1999, the department of social and health services shall study and provide recommendations to the chairs of the house of representatives appropriations and health care committees, and the senate ways and means and health and long-term care committees, concerning options for changing the method for paying facilities for capital and property related expenses.

(3) The department of social and health services shall contract with an independent and recognized organization to study and evaluate the impacts of chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act) implementation on access, quality of care, quality of life for nursing facility residents, and the wage and benefit levels of all nursing facility employees. The department shall require, and the contractor shall submit, a report with the results of this study and evaluation, including their findings, to the governor and legislature by December 1, 2001.

(4) The department of social and health services shall study and, as needed, specify additional case mix groups and appropriate case mix weights to reflect the resource utilization of residents whose care needs are not adequately identified or reflected in the resource utilization group III grouper version 5.10. At a minimum, the department shall study the adequacy of the resource utilization group III grouper version 5.10, including the minimum data set, for capturing the care and resource utilization needs of residents with AIDS, residents with traumatic brain injury, and residents who are behaviorally challenged. The department shall report its findings to the chairs of the house of representatives health care committee and the senate health and long-term care committee by December 12, 2002.

(5) By December 12, 2002, the department of social and health services shall report to the legislature and provide an evaluation of the fiscal impact of rebasing future payments at different intervals, including the impact of averaging two years' cost data as the basis for rebasing. This report shall include the fiscal impact to the state and the fiscal impact to nursing facility providers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 48. The department shall not deem tax expenses that have never been incurred by a nursing facility to be a medicaid allowable cost to that facility for the purposes of payment for services, as described in chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act).

Sec. 49. RCW 72.36.030 and 1993 sp.s. c 3 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

All of the following persons who have been actual bona fide residents of this state at the time of their application, and who are indigent and unable to support themselves and their families may be admitted to a state veterans' home under rules as may be adopted by the director of the department, unless sufficient facilities and resources are not available to accommodate these people:

(1)(a) All honorably discharged veterans of a branch of the armed forces of the United States or merchant marines; (b) members of the state militia disabled while in the line of duty; ~~((and))~~ (c) Filipino World War II veterans who swore an oath to American authority and who participated in military engagements with American soldiers; and (d) the spouses of these veterans, merchant marines, and members of the state militia. However, it is required that the spouse was married to and living with the veteran three years prior to the date of application for admittance, or, if married to him or her since that date, was also a resident of a state veterans' home in this state or entitled to admission thereto;

(2)(a) The spouses of: (i) All honorably discharged veterans of the United States armed forces; (ii) merchant marines; and (iii) members of the state militia who were disabled while in the line of duty and who were residents of a state veterans' home in this state or were entitled to admission to one of this state's state veteran homes at the time of death; (b) the spouses of: (i) All honorably discharged veterans of a branch of the United States armed forces; (ii) merchant marines; and (iii) members of the state militia who would have been entitled to admission to one of this state's state veterans' homes at the time of death, but for the fact that the spouse was not indigent, but has since become indigent and unable to support himself or herself and his or her family. However, the included spouse shall be at least fifty years old and have been married to and living with their husband or wife for three years prior to the date of their application. The included spouse shall not have been married since the death of his or her husband or wife to a person who is not a resident of one of this state's state veterans' homes or entitled to admission to one of this state's state veterans' homes; and

(3) All applicants for admission to a state veterans' home shall apply for all federal and state benefits for which they may be eligible, including medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) RCW 74.46.105 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 91, 1985 c 361 s 10, & 1983 1st ex.s. c 67 s 5;

(9) RCW 74.46.670 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 67 s 35 & 1980 c 177 s 67.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 51. RCW 74.46.595 and 1995 1st sp.s. c 18 s 98 are each repealed effective July 2, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 52. Sections 1 through 46 and 48 through 54 of this act take effect July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 53. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 54. Sections 9, 10, 18, 19, 21 through 30, 45, 46, and 48 of this act are each added to chapter 74.46 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 55. Section 47 of this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

On page 1, beginning on line 1 of the title, after "rates;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 74.46.010, 74.46.020, 74.46.040, 74.46.050, 74.46.060, 74.46.080, 74.46.090, 74.46.100, 74.46.190, 74.46.220, 74.46.230, 74.46.270, 74.46.280, 74.46.300, 74.46.410, 74.46.475, 74.46.610, 74.46.620, 74.46.630, 74.46.640, 74.46.650, 74.46.660, 74.46.680, 74.46.690, 74.46.770, 74.46.780, 74.46.800, 74.46.820, 74.46.840, 74.09.120, and 72.36.030; adding new sections to chapter 74.46 RCW; creating a new section; repealing RCW 74.46.105, 74.46.115, 74.46.130, 74.46.150, 74.46.160, 74.46.170, 74.46.180, 74.46.210, 74.46.670, and 74.46.595; prescribing penalties; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency."

Representative Dyer moved the adoption of amendment (1006) to the striking amendment (1004):

On page 23, line 19 of the striking amendment, after "July 1," strike "1999" and insert "1998"

Representative Dyer spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Representatives Dyer and Cody spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment (1004) as amended by amendment (1006).

The amendment as amended was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives H. Sommers, Tokuda, Alexander, Conway, Parlette, Huff, Kenney and Cody spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding) stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2935.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2935 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 96, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 2.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chandler, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Dyer, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Radcliff, Reams, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Van Luven, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood and Mr. Speaker - 96.

Excused: Representatives Skinner and Zellinsky - 2.

Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 2935, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2514, by Representatives Chandler, Linville, Mastin, Parlette, Koster, Anderson, Regala and Cooper

Providing for integrated watershed management.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2514 was substituted for House Bill No. 2514 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2514 was read the second time.

Representative Chandler moved the adoption of striking amendment (985):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.82.005 and 1997 c 442 s 101 are each amended to read as follows:

The purpose of this chapter is to develop a ~~((more))~~ thorough and cooperative method ~~((of))~~ that provides local citizens the maximum possible input for: Determining what the current water resource situation is in each water resource inventory area of the state and ~~((to provide local citizens with the maximum possible input concerning their))~~ establishing goals and objectives for water resource management and development; reviewing water quality problems and recommending strategies for achieving compliance with water quality standards; and coordinating with any plans for the protection and enhancement of fish habitat.

It is necessary for the legislature to establish processes and policies that will result in providing state agencies with more specific guidance to manage the water resources of the state consistent with current law and direction provided by local entities and citizens through the process established in accordance with this chapter.

It is the intent of this chapter to provide locally based groups with the opportunity to: Assess local water supplies and needs and develop strategies to provide adequate water for economic prosperity and environmental protection while protecting existing water rights; ensure that adequate water supplies are available for population and economic growth under the requirements of the state's growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW; review water quality problems and develop a strategy for achieving compliance with water quality standards; and coordinate plans for protection and enhancement of fish habitat.

Chapter . . ., Laws of 1998 (this act) is enacted to: Improve the ability of local governments and citizens to be involved in the design and implementation of solutions to water quantity, water quality, and habitat needs for fish species and provide an opportunity for people in all watersheds to be involved in watershed planning if they so desire; provide a flexible mechanism for conducting locally initiated watershed planning on either a single watershed basis or, if more appropriate, on a multiple watershed basis; and allow local people to determine the scope of the watershed planning process while encouraging them to consider comprehensive watershed planning that includes addressing water quantity, water quality, and habitat for fish species in concert with one another.

Thus it is the intent of the legislature for integrated watershed management to help produce: Adequate water quantity for the future, adequate water quality to protect and promote beneficial uses, and sufficient protection and enhancement of habitat so that fish resources thrive to be used and enjoyed by citizens of the state.

It is also the intent of the legislature to encourage collaboration and cooperation between the wide range of interests, and local, state, federal, and tribal governments to develop solutions to watershed problems. The state of Washington wishes to recognize and maintain formal government-to-government relationships, and it also endeavors to work cooperatively with all governmental entities and representatives of citizen groups to foster effective and practical solutions that have broad-based support. It is the intent of the legislature that all of the citizens of the state of Washington work cooperatively to ensure that the management of the state's economic destiny and environmental heritage remains in the hands of Washington's citizens as much as possible.

Nothing in this chapter may be construed as affecting or impairing existing water or property rights.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.82.010 and 1997 c 442 s 102 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the state's vital interests are served by the wise management of the state's water resources, by protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, by protecting and enhancing instream flows and habitat for fish, and by providing for the public health and economic well-being of the state's citizenry and communities. The legislature finds that many regions of the state are facing challenges relating to water quantity, water quality, and habitat for fish species. There are a number of bodies of water in the state that do not meet federal and state water quality standards. In several areas of the state, there has been a significant decrease in the number of fish returning to state waters and there is a growing sense of urgency to protect and enhance existing fishery resources. The pressures of a growing population and expanding economy have led some local communities to seek additional water supplies for present and future needs and to seek certainty that the supplies will be available for those needs.

The legislature finds that the local development of watershed plans for managing water resources ~~((and))~~, for protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, and for protecting and enhancing habitat for fish is vital to both state and local interests. The local development of these plans serves vital local interests by placing it in the hands of people: Who have the greatest knowledge of both the resources and the aspirations of those who live and work in the watershed; and who have the greatest stake in the proper, long-term management of the resources. The development of such plans serves the state's vital interests by ensuring that the state's water resources are used wisely, by protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, by protecting instream flows for fish, by protecting or enhancing fish habitat, and by providing for the economic well-being of the state's citizenry and communities. Therefore, the legislature believes it necessary for units of local government throughout the state to engage in the orderly development of these watershed plans.

The legislature finds that water resource and fish habitat challenges vary from region to region. The legislature also finds that, in many cases, addressing one water resource or fishery habitat issue can cause concerns and have effects in other areas; as a result, integrated watershed management may be needed to address the variety of these challenges simultaneously.

The legislature further recognizes that considerable effort for addressing many of the challenges is represented by the work, planning, projects, and activities that have already been completed by local interests regarding watershed management or have been initiated and are in various stages of completion. The legislature finds that, if new, integrated watershed management is to be initiated, it must begin with a thorough review of these completed or ongoing efforts and should incorporate their products as appropriate so as not to duplicate the work already performed or underway.

Although these challenges may require approaches that are integrated and comprehensive, the legislature finds that considerable authority currently exists to address these issues but that such authority is spread across an array of federal, state, tribal, and local governments. Integration and coordination of such authorities in ways that have support of state, local, and tribal interests will be needed to develop and implement multi-interest and comprehensive solutions. The legislature further finds that new state and federal regulatory regimes are by and large not necessary to develop good watershed management and that local authorities in particular provide a broad array of implementation tools to support good watershed management. However, the legislature finds that the key to meeting existing regulatory objectives is the involvement and support of local citizens and local governments working cooperatively with state, federal, and tribal governments. The legislature recognizes that it is unable to provide all the funding necessary for integrated watershed management to be developed throughout the entire state at once, and that as a result, watershed management will be phased in across the state over time, and that the state has an ongoing responsibility to provide funding for the watershed management described in this chapter.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.82.020 and 1997 c 442 s 103 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "City" means an incorporated city, code city, or town.

(2) "Department" means the department of ecology.

~~((2))~~ (3) "Implementing rules" for ~~((a-WRIA-plan))~~ integrated watershed management developed by a planning unit are the rules needed to give force and effect to the parts of the ~~((plan))~~ integrated watershed management that create rights or obligations for ~~((any party including))~~ a state agency ~~((or that establish water management policy))~~.

~~((3))~~ (4) "Indian tribe" means any Indian tribe, band, or nation that: (a) is recognized as eligible, by the secretary of the interior, for the special programs and services provided by the United States to Indians because of their status as Indians; and (b) is recognized as possessing powers of self-government.

(5) "Lead agency" means the entity identified under section 9 of this act that makes provision for administrative staff support for and receives grants for a planning unit developing integrated watershed management under this chapter.

(6) "Management area" means the WRIA or the multiple WRIA area for which integrated watershed management is developed by a planning unit under this chapter.

(7) "Minimum instream flows" means ~~((a minimum))~~ flows that meet the requirements of minimum flows under chapter 90.03 or 90.22 RCW ~~((or a))~~ and base flows under chapter 90.54 RCW as adopted by rule.

~~((4))~~ (8) "Planning unit" means a planning unit established under section 10 of this act.

(9) "WRIA" means a water resource inventory area established in chapter 173-500 WAC as it existed on January 1, 1997.

~~((5))~~ (10) "Water supply utility" means a ~~((water, combined))~~ water-sewer district, irrigation district, reclamation district, or public utility district that provides water to persons or other water users within the district or a division or unit responsible for administering a publicly governed water supply system on behalf of a county.

~~((6))~~ ~~"WRIA plan" or "plan"~~ (11) "Integrated watershed management" means the product of the planning unit ~~((including))~~ and includes the plan of the planning unit approved under section 11 of this act, any rules adopted in conjunction with the ~~((product))~~ plan of the planning unit, and strategies of the planning unit for implementing its plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. ELEMENTS OF MANAGEMENT--PRIORITY PROJECTS. (1) Counties, cities, and water supply utilities may, at their option, provide for the development of integrated watershed management for watersheds under this chapter. If initiated, such management shall be developed for water quantity components of water resource management under section 5 of this act, water quality components of water resource management under section 7 of this act, and the coordination of protection or enhancement of fish habitat under section 8 of this act. If integrated watershed management is initiated under this chapter, minimum instream flows shall be established for streams in the management area as provided in section 6 of this act. It is anticipated that a planning unit will not await the development of proposals for minimum instream flows under section 6 of this act to begin developing other components of its integrated watershed management for a management area; rather, work on these developments will be undertaken concurrently.

(2) Under this chapter, integrated watershed management may be developed by a planning unit for one or more WRIAs, but may not be developed by a planning unit for less than one WRIA except for those watersheds planned as pilot projects in the Methow and Dungeness/Quilcene areas before the effective date of this section. This chapter may not be construed to prevent or delay any planning, projects, or activities that are commenced under other laws or that are authorized.

(3) Integrated watershed management developed and approved under this chapter shall not contain provisions that (a) are in conflict with state statutes, federal laws, or tribal treaty rights, existing on the effective date of this section; (b) impair or diminish in any manner an existing water right evidenced by a claim filed in the water rights claims registry or a water right certificate or permit; (c) require a modification in the basic operations of a federal reclamation project with a water right the priority date of which is before the effective date of this section or alter in any manner whatsoever the quantity of water available under the water right for the reclamation project, whether the project has or has not been completed before the effective date of this section; (d) affect or interfere with an ongoing general adjudication of water rights; (e) modify or require the modification of any waste discharge permit issued under chapter 90.48 RCW; or (f) modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken to protect or enhance fish habitat if the activities or actions are: (i) Part of a habitat conservation plan and permit, an incidental take permit or statement, a management or recovery plan, or other cooperative or conservation agreement entered into with a federal or state fish and wildlife protection agency under its statutory authority for fish and wildlife protection that addresses the affected habitat; or (ii) part of an agreement regulating forest practices, which is adopted by rule by the forest practices board under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW, for the affected habitat. This subsection (3)(f) applies as long as the activities or actions continue to be taken in accordance with the plan, agreement, permit, statement, or rules. Any assessment conducted under section 5, 7, or 8 of this act shall take into consideration such activities and actions.

(4) Integrated watershed management developed and approved under this chapter shall not change existing local ordinances or existing state rules, but it may contain recommendations for changing such ordinances or rules.

(5) Once a planning unit has begun developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, the unit shall, as a matter of high priority:

(a) Review the historical geographic characteristics of the management area, and also review the planning, projects, and activities that have already been completed regarding natural resource management or enhancement in the management area and the products or status of those that have been initiated but not completed for such management in the management area, and incorporate their products as appropriate so as not to duplicate the work already performed or underway; and

(b) Identify projects and activities in the management area that the unit believes will likely serve short-term or long-term management goals and that warrant immediate financial assistance from state, federal, or local government. The planning unit shall prioritize these projects and activities in a manner that reflects the degree to which they serve the unit's goals and the costs and the benefits of undertaking them. The unit shall submit its prioritized list to the local governments with jurisdiction and, through the lead state representative on the planning unit designated under section 10(5)(j) of this act, to the legislature and the appropriate state agencies.

(6) Integrated watershed management planning conducted under sections 5, 7, and 8 of this act shall identify within the management area the actions and activities that are necessary to: Implement the provisions of the integrated watershed management, monitor the effectiveness of the implementation, and provide any needed modifications. It shall also identify the entities responsible for conducting these actions and activities. It shall also identify any entity responsible for the coordinated oversight of these responsibilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. WATER QUANTITY. Integrated watershed management established for water quantity in the management area shall include an assessment of water supply and use in the management area, including:

- (1) An estimate of the surface and ground water present in the management area;
- (2) An estimate of the surface and ground water available in the management area, taking into account seasonal and other variations;
- (3) An estimate of the water in the management area represented by claims in the water rights claims registry, water use permits, certificated rights, existing minimum instream flow rules, federally reserved rights, and any other rights to water;
- (4) An estimate of the surface and ground water actually being used in the management area;
- (5) An estimate of the water needed in the future for use in the management area;

(6) An identification of the location areas where aquifers are known to recharge surface bodies of water and areas known to provide for the recharge of aquifers from the surface;

(7) An estimate of the surface and ground water available for further appropriation, taking into account the minimum instream flows adopted by rule or to be adopted by rule for streams in the management area; and

(8) Strategies for increasing water supplies in the management area, which may include, but are not limited to, increasing water supplies through water conservation, water reuse, the use of reclaimed water, voluntary water transfers, aquifer recharge and recovery, additional water allocations, or water storage enhancements. The objective of these strategies is to supply water in sufficient quantities to satisfy the minimum instream flows and to provide water for future out-of-stream uses for water identified in subsection (5) of this section and to ensure that adequate water supplies are available for population and economic growth under the requirements of the state's growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW. These strategies shall not be construed to be an allocation of water. If integrated watershed management is established by a planning unit under this section for water quantity components of water resource management in a management area and that management is approved by the counties under section 11 of this act but does not contain the strategies required under this subsection, all components of integrated watershed management established by the planning unit under this chapter are void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. INSTREAM FLOWS. (1)(a) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, minimum instream flows shall be established by rule for the principal stream or streams in the WRIA or multiple WRIA area for which integrated watershed management is developed by a planning unit under this chapter. At the time a planning unit is chosen or created under section 10 of this act or initial appointments are made by cities and counties under section 10 of this act, the cities and counties in a management area may decide, as described in section 9(9) of this act, that the planning unit will not participate in identifying such flows in the management area, in which case they shall request the department to adopt rules establishing the minimum instream flows for the principle stream or streams in the management area.

(b) In all other management areas after considering in detail the assessment provided in section 5 of this act, identifying the flow regimes that make up the minimum instream flows shall be a collaborative effort between the department and the members of the planning unit developing the integrated watershed management. As these flows are developed, it shall be the duty of the department to attempt to achieve consensus among all of the members of the planning unit regarding the minimum flows to be adopted by rule by the department. Approval is achieved if:

(i) The members of the planning unit present for a recorded vote on the proposed minimum instream flows who have been appointed to represent the state through the shared ballot process described in section 10 (6) and (9) of this act, each appointed to represent tribal governments with federal Indian reservations or federally recognized ceded lands located in whole or in part within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, each appointed to represent directly counties, each appointed to represent directly cities, each appointed to represent directly conservation districts, and each appointed to represent directly water supply utilities records his or her support for the proposed minimum instream flows as part of the recorded vote or abstains from voting on the proposal; and

(ii) A majority of the members of the planning unit, other than those who have been appointed to represent the entities identified in (b)(i) of this subsection, who are present for a recorded vote on proposed minimum instream flows, records support for the proposed minimum instream flows as part of the recorded vote on the proposal.

That such a recorded vote will be taken on proposed minimum instream flows shall be announced at the official meeting of the planning unit immediately preceding the official meeting of the unit at which the vote is recorded and a notice regarding voting on proposed minimum instream flows shall be sent to each member appointed to the planning unit as soon as possible following the meeting at which such an announcement is made.

(2) If approval of the planning unit is achieved on minimum instream flows proposed for a management area under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall establish those flows by rule as described in RCW 90.82.040(8).

(3) If approval is not achieved under subsection (1) of this section within four years of the date the planning unit first receives funding from the department under RCW 90.82.040, the department may promptly initiate rule making under chapter 34.05 RCW to establish minimum instream flows for these streams. If the planning unit did not achieve approval on establishing minimum instream flows, the planning unit may submit the vote on instream flows to the department for its consideration. Minimum flows established under this section shall have a priority date of two years after the planning unit first received funding from the department under RCW 90.82.040.

(4) If minimum instream flows have been adopted by rule for a stream in the management area and the cities and counties do not, under section 9 of this act, request the planning unit or the department to modify those flows, minimum instream flows for the stream shall not be modified for the stream under this chapter. If the cities and counties request, under section 9 of this act, that the planning unit modify the minimum instream flows for the stream but approval is not achieved under this section for modifying those flows, minimum instream flows shall not be modified for the stream under this chapter.

(5) Nothing in this chapter either: (a) Affects the department's authority to establish flow requirements or other conditions under RCW 90.48.260 or the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.) for the licensing or relicensing of a hydroelectric power project under the federal power act (16 U.S.C. Sec. 791 et seq.); or (b) affects or impairs existing instream flow requirements and other conditions in a current license for a hydroelectric power project licensed under the federal power act.

(6) Minimum instream flows shall not be proposed or adopted for the main stem of the Columbia river or the main stem of the Snake river under this chapter.

(7) A planning unit may consider identifying how minimum instream flows could be modified in response to the successful implementation of other elements of the integrated watershed management.

(8) As used in this section, the "principal stream or streams" are, in a management area for which the department is requested by cities and counties to adopt minimum instream flows under subsection (1)(a) of this section, the streams determined by the department to be the principal stream or streams. In any other management area, the "principal stream or streams" are the main stem of the stream with the largest annual average flow in each WRIA in the management area; and the major tributaries to such a main stem and any other streams in the management area that are determined to be principal streams by the planning unit by a majority vote of the planning unit. "Principal stream or streams" does not include streambeds that are used as laterals for irrigation and are nonfish-bearing.

(9) Nothing in this chapter may be construed as affecting or impairing in any manner whatsoever water rights existing before the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. WATER QUALITY. Integrated watershed management established for water quality in the management area shall include the following components:

(1) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the degree to which legally established water quality standards are being met in the management area;

(2) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the causes of water quality violations in the management area, including an examination of information regarding pollutants, point and nonpoint sources of pollution, and pollution-carrying capacities of water bodies in the management area. The analysis shall take into account seasonal stream flow or level variations, natural events, and pollution from natural sources that occurs independent of human activities;

(3) An examination of the uses of each of the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area and an identification of the beneficial uses of each for water quality classification purposes;

(4) An identification of the class of use for nonmarine bodies of water and for basin-specific water quality standards that may be adopted by rule by the department and recommendations for the water quality standards to be adopted for those bodies of water;

(5) A recommended strategy for achieving compliance with water quality standards for the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area; and

(6) Recommended means of monitoring by appropriate government agencies whether actions taken to implement the strategy bring about improvements in water quality that are sufficient to achieve compliance with water quality standards.

This chapter does not obligate the state to undertake analysis or to develop strategies required under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. HABITAT. Integrated watershed management shall be coordinated, or as needed, developed to protect or enhance fish habitat in the management area by relying on existing laws and rules adopted under habitat planning processes such as the habitat work plans prepared under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) and other existing plans created for the purpose of protecting, restoring, or enhancing fish habitat, the shoreline management act, chapter 90.58 RCW, the growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW, and the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW. Management established under this section shall be integrated with strategies developed under other processes to respond to potential and actual listings of salmon and other fish species as being threatened or endangered under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. Integrated watershed management developed for such purposes shall include the following components:

- (1) An analysis of the potential for protecting or enhancing fish habitat in the management area;
- (2) An identification of fish habitat protection or enhancement activities and projects and voluntary transactions, including but not limited to those providing for the purchase of fish habitat or fish habitat easements, that would provide the greatest benefit to such habitat in the management area. Where habitat work plans developed under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) are available or are intended to be developed, the planning shall rely on those plans;
- (3) Recommended means of ensuring that the activities, projects, and transactions identified under subsection (2) of this section will be undertaken. Where habitat work plans developed under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) are available or are intended to be developed, the planning shall rely on those plans; and
- (4) Recommended means of monitoring the effect of undertaking the activities, projects, and transactions identified under subsection (2) of this section on protecting or enhancing fish habitat in the management area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. INITIATING INTEGRATED WATERSHED MANAGEMENT. The following is the procedure by which the development of integrated watershed management may be initiated under this chapter.

(1) The following entities may decide that integrated watershed management should be considered: (a) The county with the largest area within the boundaries of a single WRIA or multi-WRIA proposed management area; (b) the city, if there is one, within the proposed management area using the largest amount of water from within the proposed management area; (c) the city, if there is one, cumulatively diverting and withdrawing the largest amount of water from within the proposed management area; and (d) the water supply utility, if there is one, that provides the largest quantity of water in the proposed management area. However, the county with the largest area bordering on the main stem of the stream with the largest annual flow, not including the Columbia or Snake rivers, within the boundaries of a WRIA, the city obtaining the largest amount of water from the WRIA, and the largest water supply utility in the WRIA may jointly and unanimously choose to initiate watershed management for the WRIA under this chapter.

(2) If entities in subsection (1) of this section decide jointly and unanimously to proceed, they shall invite the Indian tribe, if there is one, with the largest reservation within the proposed management area to participate in integrated watershed management.

(3) The entities in subsection (1) of this section, including the tribe if it affirmatively accepts the invitation, constitute the initiating governments for the purposes of this section.

(4) On behalf of the initiating governments, the county with the largest area within the boundaries of the proposed management area shall convene a public meeting in the affected area to discuss the appointment of a planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter. Notices of the meeting shall be sent to:

- (a) County governments with territory in the proposed management area;
- (b) The cities of each county located in and cities that receive water from the proposed management area;
- (c) Tribal governments of federal Indian reservations or federally recognized ceded lands located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the proposed management area;
- (d) Water supply utilities located in and water supply utilities that receive water from the proposed management area;
- (e) Conservation districts with territory in the proposed management area;

(f) Groups and entities that have been or are currently engaged in public planning processes within the proposed management area that involve water quantity, water quality, or habitat restoration activities. In providing this notice, the county shall make a reasonable attempt to identify and notify groups and entities that within the last five years have been or are currently engaged in such planning; and

(g) The department, which shall notify other appropriate state agencies, appropriate Indian tribes, and appropriate federal agencies.

The notice shall contain the purpose, time, and location of the meeting. The notice shall also be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed management area. The notice that is published in the newspaper shall invite members of the general public to participate.

(5) The purpose of the public meeting is to obtain comments regarding initiating the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter, the coordination of that process with ongoing planning processes and activities in the watershed, and the creation of a planning unit to prepare the integrated watershed management.

(6) For developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, the county with the largest area within the boundaries of the proposed management area is the lead agency for the development of the integrated watershed management, unless the cities, counties, and Indian tribes described in subsection (8) of this section approve the designation of another governmental agency as the lead agency. Such a governmental agency shall act as the lead agency for this purpose if it agrees in writing to accept the designation.

(7) At or following the public meeting, the county that convened the meeting shall call for a vote of the cities, counties, and Indian tribes described in subsection (8) of this section as to whether to proceed with the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter in the proposed management area. If these cities, counties, and Indian tribes approve proceeding with the development of such management, the lead agency shall make application to the department for funding to develop integrated watershed management under this chapter.

(8) The cities, counties, and Indian tribes that may make decisions under subsections (6) and (7) of this section may choose the type of planning unit to be used for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the proposed management area under section 10 of this act.

(9) At the time a planning unit is chosen or created under section 10 of this act or initial appointments are made by cities and counties under section 10 of this act, the cities and counties in a management area may: (a) Decide that the planning unit will not participate in identifying such flows in the management area, in which case they shall request the department to adopt rules establishing the minimum instream flows for the principal stream or streams in the management area; or (b) if minimum instream flows have been adopted by rule for a stream in the management area, request either the planning unit or the department to modify those flows. To approve an action for these purposes, the cities must approve the action by majority vote, with each city having one vote, and the counties must approve the action by unanimous vote, with each county having one vote. The vote of each city and each county shall be the vote assigned directly, in person or in writing, by the elected officials of the city and directly, in person or in writing, by the members of the legislative authority of the county. For this purpose, the "elected officials" of a city are the members of the city's legislative authority and, if applicable, its elected mayor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. PLANNING UNIT--APPOINTMENT--OPTIONS. (1) If the initiating governments approve proceeding with the development of integrated watershed management for a management area as described in section 9(7) of this act, the development of such management will be conducted under this chapter in the single WRIA or multiple WRIA management area by one planning unit. As provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, the cities, counties, and tribe may choose an existing planning group as the basis for local representation on the planning unit or they may identify the composition of a new group as the basis for local representation on the planning unit. Such a choice shall be made as described in section 9(9) of this act. If the cities, counties, and tribe do not choose such an existing or new group in this manner, the planning unit to be used for developing the integrated watershed management for the management area is the planning unit specified in subsection (5) of this section.

(2) If the cities, counties, and tribe choose an existing planning group as the basis for local representation on a planning unit, the planning group shall have been in existence for at least one year before being so chosen. To be considered, the representation of governmental entities and interest groups on such a planning group must be generally similar to the representation identified in subsections (5)(a) through (g) and (12) of this section, or the planning group shall have a statutorily specified membership. If the cities, counties, and tribe find that the existing group has the required composition and find that the scope of the group's work is or has been appropriate considering the tasks to be given the planning unit under this chapter, the cities, counties, and tribe may designate the group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit. The existing group chosen in this manner plus the membership specified in subsection (5)(j) of this section and any membership provided under subsection (5)(i) of this section, which provide for representation by state and tribal governments, constitute the planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the management area.

(3) The cities, counties, and tribe may choose as the basis for local participation on the planning unit under this chapter a new planning group tailored to the specific geographic area for which integrated watershed management will be developed. The cities, counties, and tribe shall ensure that the members of the planning unit represent diverse interests, and shall include the interests represented by a planning unit that would be appointed under subsections (5)(a) through (g) and (12) of this section. If the cities, counties, and tribe designate a new planning group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit, the new group plus the membership specified in subsection (5)(j) of this section and any membership provided under subsection (5)(i) of this section, which provide for representation by state and tribal governments, constitute the planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the management area.

(4) If an existing or new group is designated under subsection (2) or (3) of this section as the basis for local participation on the planning unit, the group and therefore the planning unit it is a part of: Shall have membership positions that directly represent cities in whole or in part in the management area and these positions shall be clearly identified as such; and shall have membership positions that directly represent counties with territory in the WRIsAs that make up the management area and these positions shall be clearly identified as such. The cities, counties, and tribe designating a new group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit may identify a subcommittee structure for the planning unit, but the authorities granted to a planning unit by this chapter may only be exercised by the full planning unit. Any of the cities or counties that are entitled to have a membership position on the planning unit may choose not to participate in the planning unit.

(5) Unless a planning unit is created as provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, the planning unit that develops integrated watershed management in a single WRIA management area under this chapter shall be composed of the following:

- (a) One member representing each county with territory in the WRIA appointed by the county;
- (b) One member representing cities for each county with territory in the WRIA appointed by the cities within that county;
- (c) One member representing water supply utilities for each county with territory within the WRIA, appointed jointly by the three largest water supply utilities in the county;
- (d) One member representing all conservation districts with territory within the WRIA appointed jointly by those districts;
- (e) Three members representing major interests in the WRIA appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the WRIA; three members representing major interests in the WRIA appointed jointly by the counties with territory within the WRIA; and three members representing major interests in the WRIA, appointed jointly by the cities and counties with territory within the WRIA;
- (f) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the WRIA;
- (g) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the counties with territory in the WRIA;
- (h) Two members representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities and counties, one of whom shall be a holder of a water right certificate and one of whom shall be a holder of a water right for which a statement of claim was in the state's water rights claims registry before January 1, 1997;
- (i) If one or more federal Indian reservations, other than the initiating tribe, if there is one, are located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the management area, or if one or more Indian tribes located in this state have federally recognized ceded land within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, the planning unit shall promptly extend an invitation to the tribal government of each such reservation to appoint one member representing that tribal government and to the tribal government of each such Indian tribe to appoint one member representing that tribe; and

(j) One member representing each of the following state agencies: The department of transportation, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of ecology, and the department of natural resources.

(6) The four members representing state agencies under subsection (5)(j) of this section shall have a total of two votes in any voting done by the planning unit. One of these votes shall be shared by the department of natural resources and the department of fish and wildlife; the other vote shall be shared by the department of ecology and the department of transportation. Of these members, the governor shall appoint one lead state representative whose duty it is to ensure that state government ultimately speaks with one voice in developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, to coordinate the state's participation on the planning unit, and to secure and coordinate under section 15 of this act the technical assistance provided by the state to the planning unit.

(7) In addition, for a WRIA located within Pierce, King, Snohomish, or Spokane county, one representative of the water purveyor using the largest amount of water from the WRIA shall be a voting member of the planning unit whether the principal offices of the purveyor are or are not located within the WRIA.

(8) Unless a planning unit is created as provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, the planning unit that develops integrated watershed management in a multi-WRIA management area under this chapter shall be composed of the following:

(a) One member representing each county with territory in the multi-WRIA area appointed by that county;

(b) One member representing cities for each county with territory in the multi-WRIA area appointed by the cities within that county;

(c) One member representing water supply utilities for each county with territory within the multi-WRIA area appointed jointly by the three largest water supply utilities in each county;

(d) Up to two members, as that number is determined by the districts, representing all conservation districts with territory within the multi-WRIA area and appointed jointly by those districts;

(e) Three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the multi-WRIA area; three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the counties with territory within the multi-WRIA area; and three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the cities and counties with territory within the multi-WRIA area;

(f) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the multi-WRIA area;

(g) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the counties with territory in the multi-WRIA area;

(h) Two members representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities and the counties, one of whom shall be a holder of a water right certificate and one of whom shall be a holder of a water right for which a statement of claim was in the state's water rights claims registry before January 1, 1997;

(i) If one or more federal Indian reservations, other than the initiating tribe if there is one, are located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the management area, or if one or more Indian tribes located in this state have federally recognized ceded land within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, the planning unit shall promptly extend an invitation to the tribal government of each such reservation to appoint one member representing that tribal government and to the tribal government of each such Indian tribe to appoint one member representing that tribe; and

(j) One member representing each of the following state agencies: The department of transportation, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of ecology, and the department of natural resources.

(9) The four members representing state agencies under subsection (8)(j) of this section shall have a total of two votes in any voting done by the planning unit. One of these votes shall be shared by the department of natural resources and the department of fish and wildlife; the other vote shall be shared by the department of ecology and the department of transportation. Of these members, the governor shall appoint one lead state representative whose duty it is to ensure that state government ultimately speaks with one voice in developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, to coordinate the state's participation on the planning unit, and to secure and coordinate under section 15 of this act the technical assistance provided by the state to the planning unit.

(10) In addition, for a multi-WRIA planning unit located within Pierce, King, Snohomish, or Spokane county, one representative of the water purveyor using the largest amount of water from the multi-WRIA area shall be a voting member of the planning unit whether the principal offices of the purveyor are or are not located within the multi-WRIA area.

(11) Each planning unit may invite representatives of federal agencies with jurisdiction over the subject matter for which integrated watershed management is being developed by the unit and the managers of major federal lands located within the management area to assist the planning unit by participating in the development of integrated watershed management by the unit under this chapter. Such representatives shall not be considered to be voting members of the planning unit.

(12) In appointing persons to a planning unit representing major interests in the management area, the cities and counties shall ensure that economic and environmental interests and instream and out-of-stream interests in water, in the management area are represented. In doing so, the cities and counties shall consult with each other regarding the representation each is providing and may consider industrial water users, general businesses, hydroelectric and thermal power producers, and irrigated agriculture, nonirrigated agriculture, forestry, recreation, environmental, and recreational and commercial fisheries interest groups, and other groups with interests in the management area.

(13) If a single WRIA or multi-WRIA management area does not contain a city within its boundaries, the county shall make all the appointments that a city would make under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. DECISIONS--HEARINGS--APPROVAL. (1) The planning unit shall attempt to achieve consensus among the members of the planning unit in developing the components of its proposed integrated watershed management under section 5, 7, or 8 of this act.

(2) Decisions regarding setting minimum instream flows shall be made as described in section 6 of this act. Whether the minimum instream flows set for streams in the management area are or are not added as an express component of the planning unit's integrated watershed management for the management area may be determined by the planning unit, but adding or not adding the component does not affect the decisions made under section 6 of this act regarding minimum instream flows.

(3) As part of its integrated watershed management, the planning unit may choose to develop drafts of state administrative rules and local ordinances that would be needed to give force and effect to the parts of its integrated watershed management that would create rights or obligations for any party. If it so chooses, it may also request the appropriate state agencies, units of tribal government, and units of local government to assist it in drafting the rules and ordinances. If the planning unit requests a state agency to provide such assistance, the state agency shall provide the assistance.

(4)(a) Upon completing its proposed integrated watershed management for the management area, the planning unit shall publish notice of and conduct at least one public hearing in each county in the management area on the proposal. The planning unit shall take care to provide notice of the hearing throughout the management area. As a minimum, the notice shall be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the management area. After considering the public comments and making any changes in its proposal, the planning unit may approve the proposal by the process provided for in (b) and (c) of this subsection.

(b)(i) The department and the tribal government with federal Indian reservation land located within the management area shall provide advice as to any specific subsections or sections of the watershed management that the department or tribe believes to be in conflict with state or federal law, and may provide other recommendations regarding the watershed management. The department or tribe shall transmit its advice and recommendations within forty-five days of receiving it for review. The planning unit shall consider each recommendation provided by the department under this subsection. The planning unit may adopt the recommendation or provide changes to respond to the advice of the department or tribe by achieving approval by a vote of the members of the planning unit.

(ii) If the planning unit fails to adopt the department's or tribal council's recommendations regarding provisions of the watershed management that conflict with state or federal law, the department and the planning unit shall submit the dispute to mediation. If mediation does not resolve the dispute within forty-five days, the department shall file a petition for declaratory judgment in the superior court of the county with the largest area in the WRIA or multi-WRIA governed by the watershed management. The superior court shall review the dispute under the error of law standard. If the superior court finds that a component of the plan conflicts with state or federal law, that component of the plan is invalid. Decisions on such petitions are reviewable as in other civil cases. This subsection shall not be construed to establish state liability for any other element of the watershed management adopted as rules.

(c) Approval among the members of the planning unit is achieved if the members of the planning unit present for a recorded vote on the proposal appointed to represent the state through the shared ballot process described in section 10 (6) and (9) of this act, each appointed to represent tribal government with federal Indian reservation land located in the WRIA, each appointed to represent directly counties, each appointed to represent water supply utilities, each appointed to represent conservation districts, and each appointed to represent directly cities records his or her support for the proposed integrated watershed management as part of a recorded vote on the proposal.

(d) Approval among the members of the planning unit appointed to represent major interests in the management area and general citizenry components of the planning unit is achieved if a majority of the members of the planning unit, other than those described in (b) of this subsection, present at the recorded vote on the proposal records support for the integrated watershed management as a part of the recorded vote.

(e) If the watershed management is approved by the planning unit, the unit shall submit the watershed management to the counties with territory within the management area.

(f) If the watershed management is not approved by the planning unit following a vote, then the planning unit shall submit the watershed management to mediation in an attempt to achieve agreement between the members of the planning unit. If the unit is unable to reach an agreement that will achieve approval within forty-five days after submitting the dispute to mediation, the planning unit may either submit the components of the watershed management in which agreement was achieved to the county for approval or terminate the process.

(5) The legislative authority of each of the counties with territory within the management area shall provide public notice for and conduct at least one public hearing in each county on the approved watershed management submitted to the county under this section. The counties shall take care to provide notice of the hearings throughout the management area. As a minimum, the notice shall be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the management area. After the public hearings, the legislative authorities of these counties shall convene in joint session to consider the watershed management. The counties may approve or reject the watershed management, but may not amend it. Approval of a watershed management or of recommendations for a watershed management that are not approved shall be made by a majority vote of the members of the legislative authorities of each of the counties with territory in the management area.

(6) If the watershed management is not approved by the counties, it shall be returned to the planning unit with recommendations for revisions. If the revisions are approved by the planning unit, the watershed management shall be returned to the county for adoption. Approval of such a revised proposal shall be made in the same manner provided for the original integrated watershed management. If the revisions are not approved by the planning unit, the planning unit and the counties shall submit the revisions to mediation in an attempt to reach an agreement that will achieve approval by the planning unit and the counties. If approval of the planning unit is achieved after mediation, the watershed management shall be returned to the county for adoption. If the planning unit is unable to achieve agreement following mediation, it may either submit the components of the watershed management in which agreement was achieved to the county for approval or terminate the process. The department shall proceed with adopting the approved watershed management through a rules adoption process described in RCW 90.82.040(8).

(7) Before the adoption of the watershed management by the county legislative authority, the county shall transmit a copy of the watershed management to each city located in the WRIA. The cities shall hold a public hearing on the watershed management. The city shall publish notice of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the city at least three days before the hearing. The city has forty-five days after receiving the watershed management from the county to consider passage of a resolution that expresses agreement with the watershed management or express any concerns with the watershed management with the county.

(8) At a minimum, the planning unit shall not add a component to its integrated watershed management that creates an obligation for state government unless the members of the planning unit appointed to represent state government agree to adding the component; it shall not add a component that creates an obligation for a tribal government unless the member or members of the planning unit appointed to represent that tribal government agree to adding the component; it shall not add a component that creates an obligation for a county, city, conservation district, or water supply utility unless the members of the planning unit appointed to represent the county, city, conservation district, or water supply utility agree to adding the component. A member's agreeing to add a component shall be evidenced by a recorded vote of all members of the planning unit in which the members record support for adding the component. If integrated watershed management is approved by the planning unit and the counties for a management area under this section and that management creates obligations for agencies of state government, the obligations are binding on the state agencies and the agencies shall adopt implementing rules and take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. MEMBERSHIP--OTHER RULES. (1) A vacancy on a planning unit shall be filled by appointment in the same manner prescribed for appointing the position that has become vacant. The planning unit shall not interrupt its work to await additional original appointments or appointments to fill any vacancies that may occur in its membership.

(2) No person who is a member of a planning unit for a management area under this chapter may designate another to act on behalf of the person as a member or to attend as a member a meeting of the unit on behalf of the person. If a member of such a planning unit is absent from more than five meetings of the planning unit that constitute twenty percent or more of the meetings that have been conducted by the planning unit while the person is a member of the unit.

(3) For the purposes of this chapter, a county or conservation district is considered to have territory within a management area only if the territory of the county or district located in one of the WRIA's in the management area constitutes at least fifteen percent of the area of the WRIA.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.82.040 and 1997 c 442 s 105 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((Once a WRIA planning unit has been organized and designated a lead agency, it shall notify the department and may apply to the department for funding assistance for conducting the planning. Funds shall be provided from and to the extent of appropriations made by the legislature to the department expressly for this purpose.~~

~~(2) Each planning unit that has complied with subsection (1) of this section is eligible to receive fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA to initiate the planning process. The department shall allocate additional funds to WRIA planning units based on need demonstrated by a detailed proposed budget submitted by the planning unit for carrying out the duties of the planning unit. Each WRIA planning unit may receive up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA during the first two year period of planning, with a maximum allocation of five hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA.)) The department shall develop and administer a grant program to provide direct financial assistance to planning units for the preparation of integrated watershed management under this chapter. Three separate grants may be awarded pursuant to this section. These grants are initial organizing grants, grants for watershed assessments and establishment of instream flows, and grants for the development of integrated watershed management and implementation. The total amount of the grants may not exceed five hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA. The department may not impose any local matching fund requirement as a condition for grant eligibility or as a preference for receiving a grant.~~

(2) An initial organizing grant of up to fifty thousand dollars may be awarded to a lead agency that applies to the department and indicates that integrated watershed management is to be developed under this chapter. Organizing grants may be expended for any purpose authorized by the department, including but not limited to determining the scope of work to be addressed by the integrated watershed management for the management area; collecting and reviewing relevant studies and plans that already exist for the watershed, including growth management related plans in which critical areas have been designated pursuant to chapter 36.70A RCW; determining how the integrated watershed management for a management area can be coordinated with existing studies and plans; and baseline monitoring of water within the watershed.

(3)(a) A watershed assessment grant of up to two hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA may be awarded to a planning unit that certifies to the department that it adequately represents a broad range of interests within the watershed, and that it is willing to undertake the following as part of its integrated watershed management for its management area: Integrated watershed management for the protection or enhancement of habitat, integrated watershed management for water quantity, or integrated watershed management for water quality. The planning unit must submit a detailed proposed budget that demonstrates the need for the grant.

(b) Grants awarded pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be awarded for a four-year period. The four-year time period shall begin to run when the lead agency for the planning unit first received the initial organizing grant under subsection (2) of this section. For a planning unit that did not submit an application for an initial organizing grant, the four-year time period shall begin to run when the planning unit receives a grant under this subsection (3).

(4) A management development, instream flow, and implementation grant in an amount of up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA may be awarded to a planning unit that submits evidence that an assessment of the watershed has been adequately prepared in sufficient detail for the purposes for which the watershed assessment grant was awarded; the integrated watershed management that will be developed for the management area will not be in conflict with federal laws, state statutes, or tribal treaty rights; and its development will be coordinated with adjacent jurisdictions for purposes of minimum instream flows and water quality, if water quality was addressed as part of the watershed assessment. The planning unit must submit a detailed proposed budget that demonstrates the need for the grant. Any moneys awarded from the remaining grant balance for implementation in a management area under this section are available only for implementation that commences after integrated watershed management has been adopted for the area under section 11 of this act.

(5)(a) The department shall use the following eligibility criteria instead of rules when evaluating grant applications at each stage of the grants program:

(i) The application has documented that the planning unit meets all of the requirements of this chapter;

(ii) The application demonstrates a need for state planning funds to accomplish the objectives of the planning process; and

(iii) The application and supporting information evidences a readiness to proceed.

(b) In ranking grant applications submitted at each stage of the grants program except for the initial organizing grant under subsection (2) of this section, the department shall give preference to applications in the following order of priority:

(i) Applications from existing planning groups that have been in existence for at least one year;

(ii) Applications from multi-WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth;

(iii) Applications from single WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth;

(iv) Applications from multi-WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act; and

(v) Applications from single WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed under the federal endangered species act.

(6) Funding provided under this section shall be considered a contractual obligation against the moneys appropriated for this purpose.

~~((3) Preference shall be given to planning units requesting funding for conducting multi-WRIA planning under section 108 of this act.~~

~~(4))~~ (7) The department may retain up to one percent of funds allocated under this section to defray administrative costs.

(8) The department may adopt its implementing rules for an integrated watershed management that have been approved by counties as part of integrated watershed management and may adopt rules when necessary to implement this section or section 6(2) of this act either by the regular rules adoption process provided in chapter 34.05 RCW, the expedited rules adoption process as set forth in RCW 34.05.230, or through a rules adoption process that uses the public hearings and notice provided by the planning unit and the county legislative authority as a substitute for the rules adoption requirements of chapter 34.05 RCW. If the planning unit and county legislative authority hearings and notice are used as a substitute for the regular rules adoption process, the rules do not take effect until they are published in the Washington state register as provided in chapter 34.05 RCW. Such rules do not constitute significant legislative rules as defined in RCW 34.05.328, and do not require the preparation of small business economic impact statements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 34.05 RCW to read as follows:
Rules adopted by the department of ecology pursuant to RCW 90.82.040(8) are exempt from the requirements of this chapter to the extent provided in RCW 90.82.040(8).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE. (1) The lead state representative on a planning unit designated under section 10(5)(j) of this act shall establish a program to provide technical assistance to planning units and local governments to encourage and facilitate the adoption and implementation of integrated watershed management for management areas developed under this chapter. The program shall use existing requirements or standards that must be satisfied by the integrated watershed management developed under this chapter and no part of the program may have the effect of a rule adopted under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) The program shall use any staff assigned by the governor for this task, the staff of state agencies, and staff from institutions of higher education to assist in the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter, including but not limited to assistance in determining and explaining how best available science will be incorporated into integrated watershed management for a management area, developing methods for effectively monitoring performance, providing the criteria that represents acceptable performance for key elements of the integrated watershed management for a management area, and the method of reporting performance to the public, local communities, and the state. In providing assistance under this section, the lead state representative shall recognize regional and local variations that exist in different parts of the state.

(3) The lead state representative on a planning unit shall assist planning units in ensuring that integrated watershed management developed under this chapter is coordinated with, and consistent with, the integrated watershed management of other planning units that share common borders or major stream basins. The state shall provide mediation services to resolve disputes between planning units.

(4) The department may contract out technical assistance if the lead state representative finds that it is cost-effective and will assist in implementing the intent of this chapter.

(5) The department shall conduct an annual workshop for planning units to share successful approaches, as well as difficulties, in addressing specific problems within watersheds.

(6) All state agencies with rule-making authority for programs that affect the development and implementation of integrated watershed management developed under this chapter shall review those rules and programs for consistency with this chapter and make recommendations to the legislature for any necessary statutory changes.

Sec. 16. RCW 90.03.345 and 1979 ex.s. c 216 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The establishment of reservations of water for agriculture, hydroelectric energy, municipal, industrial, and other beneficial uses under RCW 90.54.050(1) or minimum flows or levels under RCW 90.22.010 or 90.54.040 shall constitute appropriations within the meaning of this chapter with priority dates as of the effective dates of their establishment. Whenever an application for a permit to make beneficial use of public waters embodied in a reservation, established after September 1, 1979, is filed with the department of ecology after the effective date of such reservation, the priority date for a permit issued pursuant to an approval by the department of ecology of the application shall be the effective date of the reservation.

(2) Minimum flows established under section 6 of this act shall have a priority date as specified in that section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. Captions used in this act are not part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. Sections 4 through 12, and 15 of this act are each added to chapter 90.82 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

On page 1, line 1 of the title, after "management;" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending RCW 90.82.005, 90.82.010, 90.82.020, 90.82.040, and 90.03.345; adding a new section to chapter 34.05 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 90.82 RCW; creating a new section; and declaring an emergency."

Representative Chandler moved the adoption of amendment (989) to the striking amendment (985):

Representatives Chandler and Linville spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment to the striking amendment.

The amendment to the amendment was adopted.

Representative Schoesler moved the adoption of amendment (1001) to the striking amendment (985):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.82.005 and 1997 c 442 s 101 are each amended to read as follows:

The purpose of this chapter is to develop a ~~((more))~~ thorough and cooperative method ~~((of))~~ that provides local citizens the maximum possible input for: Determining what the current water resource situation is in each water resource inventory area of the state and ~~((to provide local citizens with the maximum possible input concerning their))~~ establishing goals and objectives for water resource management and development; reviewing water quality problems and recommending strategies for achieving compliance with water quality standards; and coordinating with any plans for the protection and enhancement of fish habitat.

It is necessary for the legislature to establish processes and policies that will result in providing state agencies with more specific guidance to manage the water resources of the state consistent with current law and direction provided by local entities and citizens through the process established in accordance with this chapter.

It is the intent of this chapter to provide locally based groups with the opportunity to: Assess local water supplies and needs and develop strategies to provide adequate water for economic prosperity and environmental protection while protecting existing water rights; ensure that adequate water supplies are available for population and economic growth under the requirements of the state's growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW; review water quality problems and develop a strategy for achieving compliance with water quality standards; and coordinate plans for protection and enhancement of fish habitat.

Chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act) is enacted to: Improve the ability of local governments and citizens to be involved in the design and implementation of solutions to water quantity, water quality, and habitat needs for fish species and provide an opportunity for people in all watersheds to be involved in watershed planning if they so desire; provide a flexible mechanism for conducting locally initiated watershed planning on either a single watershed basis or, if more appropriate, on a multiple watershed basis; and allow local people to determine the scope of the watershed planning process while encouraging them to consider comprehensive watershed planning that includes addressing water quantity, water quality, and habitat for fish species in concert with one another.

Thus it is the intent of the legislature for integrated watershed management to help produce: Adequate water quantity for the future, adequate water quality to protect and promote beneficial uses, and sufficient protection and enhancement of habitat so that fish resources thrive to be used and enjoyed by citizens of the state.

It is also the intent of the legislature to encourage collaboration and cooperation between the wide range of interests, and local, state, federal, and tribal governments to develop solutions to watershed problems. The state of Washington wishes to recognize and maintain formal government-to-government relationships, and it also endeavors to work cooperatively with all governmental entities and representatives of citizen groups to foster effective and practical solutions that have broad-based support. It is the intent of the legislature that all of the citizens of the state of Washington work cooperatively to ensure that the management of the state's economic destiny and environmental heritage remains in the hands of Washington's citizens as much as possible.

Nothing in this chapter may be construed as affecting or impairing existing water or property rights.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.82.010 and 1997 c 442 s 102 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that the state's vital interests are served by the wise management of the state's water resources, by protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, by protecting and enhancing instream flows and habitat for fish, and by providing for the public health and economic well-being of the state's citizenry and communities. The legislature finds that many regions of the state are facing challenges relating to water quantity, water quality, and habitat for fish species. There are a number of bodies of water in the state that do not meet federal and state water quality standards. In several areas of the state, there has been a significant decrease in the number of fish returning to state waters and there is a growing sense of urgency to protect and enhance existing fishery resources. The pressures of a growing population and expanding economy have led some local communities to seek additional water supplies for present and future needs and to seek certainty that the supplies will be available for those needs.

The legislature finds that the local development of watershed plans for managing water resources (~~and~~), for protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, and for protecting and enhancing habitat for fish is vital to both state and local interests. The local development of these plans serves vital local interests by placing it in the hands of people: Who have the greatest knowledge of both the resources and the aspirations of those who live and work in the watershed; and who have the greatest stake in the proper, long-term management of the resources. The development of such plans serves the state's vital interests by ensuring that the state's water resources are used wisely, by protecting existing water rights and dependent economies, by protecting instream flows for fish, by protecting or enhancing fish habitat, and by providing for the economic well-being of the state's citizenry and communities. Therefore, the legislature believes it necessary for units of local government throughout the state to engage in the orderly development of these watershed plans.

The legislature finds that water resource and fish habitat challenges vary from region to region. The legislature also finds that, in many cases, addressing one water resource or fishery habitat issue can cause concerns and have effects in other areas; as a result, integrated watershed management may be needed to address the variety of these challenges simultaneously.

The legislature further recognizes that considerable effort for addressing many of the challenges is represented by the work, planning, projects, and activities that have already been completed by local interests regarding watershed management or have been initiated and are in various stages of completion. The legislature finds that, if new, integrated watershed management is to be initiated, it must begin with a thorough review of these completed or ongoing efforts and should incorporate their products as appropriate so as not to duplicate the work already performed or underway.

Although these challenges may require approaches that are integrated and comprehensive, the legislature finds that considerable authority currently exists to address these issues but that such authority is spread across an array of federal, state, tribal, and local governments. Integration and coordination of such authorities in ways that have support of state, local, and tribal interests will be needed to develop and implement multi-interest and comprehensive solutions. The legislature further finds that new state and federal regulatory regimes are by and large not necessary to develop good watershed management and that local authorities in particular provide a broad array of implementation tools to support good watershed management. However, the legislature finds that the key to meeting existing regulatory objectives is the involvement and support of local citizens and local governments working cooperatively with state, federal, and tribal governments. The legislature recognizes that it is unable to provide all the funding necessary for integrated watershed management to be developed throughout the entire state at once, and that as a result, watershed management will be phased in across the state over time, and that the state has an ongoing responsibility to provide funding for the watershed management described in this chapter.

Sec. 3. RCW 90.82.020 and 1997 c 442 s 103 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

- (1) "City" means an incorporated city, code city, or town.
- (2) "Department" means the department of ecology.

~~((2))~~ (3) "Implementing rules" for ~~((a-WRIA-plan))~~ integrated watershed management developed by a planning unit are the rules needed to give force and effect to the parts of the ~~((plan))~~ integrated watershed management that create rights or obligations for ~~((any party including))~~ a state agency ~~((or that establish water management policy))~~.

~~((3))~~ (4) "Indian tribe" means any Indian tribe, band, or nation that: (a) is recognized as eligible, by the secretary of the interior, for the special programs and services provided by the United States to Indians because of their status as Indians; and (b) is recognized as possessing powers of self-government.

(5) "Lead agency" means the entity identified under section 9 of this act that makes provision for administrative staff support for and receives grants for a planning unit developing integrated watershed management under this chapter.

(6) "Management area" means the WRIA or the multiple WRIA area for which integrated watershed management is developed by a planning unit under this chapter.

(7) "Minimum instream flows" means ~~((a minimum))~~ flows that meet the requirements of minimum flows under chapter 90.03 or 90.22 RCW ~~((or a))~~ and base flows under chapter 90.54 RCW as adopted by rule.

~~((4))~~ (8) "Planning unit" means a planning unit established under section 10 of this act.

(9) "WRIA" means a water resource inventory area established in chapter 173-500 WAC as it existed on January 1, 1997.

~~((5))~~ (10) "Water supply utility" means a ~~((water, combined))~~ water-sewer district, irrigation district, reclamation district, or public utility district that provides water to persons or other water users within the district or a division or unit responsible for administering a publicly governed water supply system on behalf of a county.

~~((6))~~ ~~"WRIA plan" or "plan")~~ (11) "Integrated watershed management" means the product of the planning unit ~~((including))~~ and includes the plan of the planning unit approved under section 11 of this act, any rules adopted in conjunction with the ~~((product))~~ plan of the planning unit, and strategies of the planning unit for implementing its plan.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. ELEMENTS OF MANAGEMENT--PRIORITY PROJECTS. (1) Counties, cities, and water supply utilities may, at their option, provide for the development of integrated watershed management for watersheds under this chapter. If initiated, such management shall be developed for water quantity components of water resource management under section 5 of this act, water quality components of water resource management under section 7 of this act, and the coordination of protection or enhancement of fish habitat under section 8 of this act. If integrated watershed management is initiated under this chapter, minimum instream flows shall be established for streams in the management area as provided in section 6 of this act. It is anticipated that a planning unit will not await the development of proposals for minimum instream flows under section 6 of this act to begin developing other components of its integrated watershed management for a management area; rather, work on these developments will be undertaken concurrently.

(2) Under this chapter, integrated watershed management may be developed by a planning unit for one or more WRIs, but may not be developed by a planning unit for less than one WRIA except for those watersheds planned as pilot projects in the Methow and Dungeness/Quilcene areas before the effective date of this section. This chapter may not be construed to prevent or delay any planning, projects, or activities that are commenced under other laws or that are authorized.

(3) Integrated watershed management developed and approved under this chapter shall not contain provisions that (a) are in conflict with state statutes, federal laws, or tribal treaty rights, existing on the effective date of this section; (b) impair or diminish in any manner an existing water right evidenced by a claim filed in the water rights claims registry or a water right certificate or permit; (c) require a modification in the basic operations of a federal reclamation project with a water right the priority date of which is before the effective date of this section or alter in any manner whatsoever the quantity of water available under the water right for the reclamation project, whether the project has or has not been completed before the effective date of this section; (d) affect or interfere with an ongoing general adjudication of water rights; (e) apply in an area with an acreage expansion program in effect on the effective date of this section that is an element of a ground water area or subarea management program as provided in RCW 90.44.445; (f) in any way delay the processing of requests for changes in place of water use, purpose of use, or point of diversion; (g) modify or require the modification of any waste discharge permit issued under chapter 90.48 RCW; or (h) modify or require the modification of activities or actions taken to protect or enhance fish habitat if the activities or actions are: (i) Part of a habitat conservation plan and permit, an incidental take permit or statement, a management or recovery plan, or other cooperative or conservation agreement entered into with a federal or state fish and wildlife protection agency under its statutory authority for fish and wildlife protection that addresses the affected habitat; or (ii) part of an agreement regulating forest practices, which is adopted by rule by the forest practices board under the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW, for the affected habitat. This subsection (3)(h) applies as long as the activities or actions continue to be taken in accordance with the plan, agreement, permit, statement, or rules. Any assessment conducted under section 5, 7, or 8 of this act shall take into consideration such activities and actions.

(4) Integrated watershed management developed and approved under this chapter shall not change existing local ordinances or existing state rules, but it may contain recommendations for changing such ordinances or rules.

(5) Once a planning unit has begun developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, the unit shall, as a matter of high priority:

(a) Review the historical geographic characteristics of the management area, and also review the planning, projects, and activities that have already been completed regarding natural resource management or enhancement in the management area and the products or status of those that have been initiated but not completed for such management in the management area, and incorporate their products as appropriate so as not to duplicate the work already performed or underway; and

(b) Identify projects and activities in the management area that the unit believes will likely serve short-term or long-term management goals and that warrant immediate financial assistance from state, federal, or local government. The planning unit shall prioritize these projects and activities in a manner that reflects the degree to which they serve the unit's goals and the costs and the benefits of undertaking them. The unit shall submit its prioritized list to the local governments with jurisdiction and, through the lead state representative on the planning unit designated under section 10(5)(j) of this act, to the legislature and the appropriate state agencies.

(6) Integrated watershed management planning conducted under sections 5, 7, and 8 of this act shall identify within the management area the actions and activities that are necessary to: Implement the provisions of the integrated watershed management, monitor the effectiveness of the implementation, and provide any needed modifications. It shall also identify the entities responsible for conducting these actions and activities. It shall also identify any entity responsible for the coordinated oversight of these responsibilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. WATER QUANTITY. Integrated watershed management established for water quantity in the management area shall include an assessment of water supply and use in the management area, including:

(1) An estimate of the surface and ground water present in the management area;

(2) An estimate of the surface and ground water available in the management area, taking into account seasonal and other variations;

(3) An estimate of the water in the management area represented by claims in the water rights claims registry, water use permits, certificated rights, rights granted under section 17 of this act, existing minimum instream flow rules, federally reserved rights, and any other rights to water;

(4) An estimate of the surface and ground water actually being used in the management area;

(5) An estimate of the water needed in the future for use in the management area;

(6) An identification of the location areas where aquifers are known to recharge surface bodies of water and areas known to provide for the recharge of aquifers from the surface;

(7) An estimate of the surface and ground water available for further appropriation, taking into account the minimum instream flows adopted by rule or to be adopted by rule for streams in the management area; and

(8) Strategies for increasing water supplies in the management area, which may include, but are not limited to, increasing water supplies through water conservation, water reuse, the use of reclaimed water, voluntary water transfers, aquifer recharge and recovery, additional water allocations, or water storage enhancements. The objective of these strategies is to supply water in sufficient quantities to satisfy the minimum instream flows and to provide water for future out-of-stream uses for water identified in subsection (5) of this section and to ensure that adequate water supplies are available for population and economic growth under the requirements of the state's growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW. These strategies shall not be construed to be an allocation of water. If integrated watershed management is established by a planning unit under this section for water quantity components of water resource management in a management area and that management is approved by the counties under section 11 of this act but does not contain the strategies required under this subsection, all components of integrated watershed management established by the planning unit under this chapter are void.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. INSTREAM FLOWS. (1)(a) Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, minimum instream flows shall be established by rule for the principal stream or streams in the WRIA or multiple WRIA area for which integrated watershed management is developed by a planning unit under this chapter. At the time a planning unit is chosen or created under section 10 of this act or initial appointments are made by cities and counties under section 10 of this act, the cities and counties in a management area may decide, as described in section 9(9) of this act, that the planning unit will not participate in identifying such flows in the management area, in which case they shall request the department to adopt rules establishing the minimum instream flows for the principle stream or streams in the management area.

(b) In all other management areas after considering in detail the assessment provided in section 5 of this act, identifying the flow regimes that make up the minimum instream flows shall be a collaborative effort between the department and the members of the planning unit developing the integrated watershed management. As these flows are developed, it shall be the duty of the department to attempt to achieve consensus among all of the members of the planning unit regarding the minimum flows to be adopted by rule by the department. Approval is achieved if:

(i) The members of the planning unit present for a recorded vote on the proposed minimum instream flows who have been appointed to represent the state through the shared ballot process described in section 10 (6) and (9) of this act, each appointed to represent tribal governments with federal Indian reservations or federally recognized ceded lands located in whole or in part within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, each appointed to represent directly counties, each appointed to represent directly cities, each appointed to represent directly conservation districts, and each appointed to represent directly water supply utilities records his or her support for the proposed minimum instream flows as part of the recorded vote or abstains from voting on the proposal; and

(ii) A majority of the members of the planning unit, other than those who have been appointed to represent the entities identified in (b)(i) of this subsection, who are present for a recorded vote on proposed minimum instream flows, records support for the proposed minimum instream flows as part of the recorded vote on the proposal.

That such a recorded vote will be taken on proposed minimum instream flows shall be announced at the official meeting of the planning unit immediately preceding the official meeting of the unit at which the vote is recorded and a notice regarding voting on proposed minimum instream flows shall be sent to each member appointed to the planning unit as soon as possible following the meeting at which such an announcement is made.

(2) If approval of the planning unit is achieved on minimum instream flows proposed for a management area under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall establish those flows by rule as described in RCW 90.82.040(8).

(3) If approval is not achieved under subsection (1) of this section within four years of the date the planning unit first receives funding from the department under RCW 90.82.040, the department may promptly initiate rule making under chapter 34.05 RCW to establish minimum instream flows for these streams. If the planning unit did not achieve approval on establishing minimum instream flows, the planning unit may submit the vote on instream flows to the department for its consideration. Minimum flows established under this section shall have a priority date of two years after the planning unit first received funding from the department under RCW 90.82.040.

(4) If minimum instream flows have been adopted by rule for a stream in the management area and the cities and counties do not, under section 9 of this act, request the planning unit or the department to modify those flows, minimum instream flows for the stream shall not be modified for the stream under this chapter. If the cities and counties request, under section 9 of this act, that the planning unit modify the minimum instream flows for the stream but approval is not achieved under this section for modifying those flows, minimum instream flows shall not be modified for the stream under this chapter.

(5) Nothing in this chapter either: (a) Affects the department's authority to establish flow requirements or other conditions under RCW 90.48.260 or the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.) for the licensing or relicensing of a hydroelectric power project under the federal power act (16 U.S.C. Sec. 791 et seq.); or (b) affects or impairs existing instream flow requirements and other conditions in a current license for a hydroelectric power project licensed under the federal power act.

(6) Minimum instream flows shall not be proposed or adopted for the main stem of the Columbia river or the main stem of the Snake river under this chapter.

(7) A planning unit may consider identifying how minimum instream flows could be modified in response to the successful implementation of other elements of the integrated watershed management.

(8) As used in this section, the "principal stream or streams" are, in a management area for which the department is requested by cities and counties to adopt minimum instream flows under subsection (1)(a) of this section, the streams determined by the department to be the principal stream or streams. In any other management area, the "principal stream or streams" are the main stem of the stream with the largest annual average flow in each WRIA in the management area; and the major tributaries to such a main stem and any other streams in the management area that are determined to be principal streams by the planning unit by a majority vote of the planning unit. "Principal stream or streams" does not include streambeds that are used as laterals for irrigation and are nonfish-bearing.

(9) Nothing in this chapter may be construed as affecting or impairing in any manner whatsoever water rights existing before the effective date of this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. WATER QUALITY. Integrated watershed management established for water quality in the management area shall include the following components:

(1) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the degree to which legally established water quality standards are being met in the management area;

(2) An examination based on existing studies conducted by federal, state, and local agencies of the causes of water quality violations in the management area, including an examination of information regarding pollutants, point and nonpoint sources of pollution, and pollution-carrying capacities of water bodies in the management area. The analysis shall take into account seasonal stream flow or level variations, natural events, and pollution from natural sources that occurs independent of human activities;

(3) An examination of the uses of each of the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area and an identification of the beneficial uses of each for water quality classification purposes;

(4) An identification of the class of use for nonmarine bodies of water and for basin-specific water quality standards that may be adopted by rule by the department and recommendations for the water quality standards to be adopted for those bodies of water;

(5) A recommended strategy for achieving compliance with water quality standards for the nonmarine bodies of water in the management area; and

(6) Recommended means of monitoring by appropriate government agencies whether actions taken to implement the strategy bring about improvements in water quality that are sufficient to achieve compliance with water quality standards.

This chapter does not obligate the state to undertake analysis or to develop strategies required under the federal clean water act (33 U.S.C. Sec. 1251 et seq.).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. HABITAT. Integrated watershed management shall be coordinated, or as needed, developed to protect or enhance fish habitat in the management area by relying on existing laws and rules adopted under habitat planning processes such as the habitat work plans prepared under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) and other existing plans created for the purpose of protecting, restoring, or enhancing fish habitat, the shoreline management act, chapter 90.58 RCW, the growth management act, chapter 36.70A RCW, and the forest practices act, chapter 76.09 RCW. Management established under this section shall be integrated with strategies developed under other processes to respond to potential and actual listings of salmon and other fish species as being threatened or endangered under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. Integrated watershed management developed for such purposes shall include the following components:

(1) An analysis of the potential for protecting or enhancing fish habitat in the management area;

(2) An identification of fish habitat protection or enhancement activities and projects and voluntary transactions, including but not limited to those providing for the purchase of fish habitat or fish habitat easements, that would provide the greatest benefit to such habitat in the management area. Where habitat work plans developed under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) are available or are intended to be developed, the planning shall rely on those plans;

(3) Recommended means of ensuring that the activities, projects, and transactions identified under subsection (2) of this section will be undertaken. Where habitat work plans developed under chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (Substitute House Bill No. 2496) are available or are intended to be developed, the planning shall rely on those plans; and

(4) Recommended means of monitoring the effect of undertaking the activities, projects, and transactions identified under subsection (2) of this section on protecting or enhancing fish habitat in the management area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. INITIATING INTEGRATED WATERSHED MANAGEMENT.

The following is the procedure by which the development of integrated watershed management may be initiated under this chapter.

(1) The following entities may decide that integrated watershed management should be considered: (a) The county with the largest area within the boundaries of a single WRIA or multi-WRIA proposed management area; (b) the city, if there is one, within the proposed management area using the largest amount of water from within the proposed management area; (c) the city, if there is one, cumulatively diverting and withdrawing the largest amount of water from within the proposed management area; and (d) the water supply utility, if there is one, that provides the largest quantity of water in the proposed management area. However, the county with the largest area bordering on the main stem of the stream with the largest annual flow, not including the Columbia or Snake rivers, within the boundaries of a WRIA, the city obtaining the largest amount of water from the WRIA, and the largest water supply utility in the WRIA may jointly and unanimously choose to initiate watershed management for the WRIA under this chapter.

(2) If entities in subsection (1) of this section decide jointly and unanimously to proceed, they shall invite the Indian tribe, if there is one, with the largest reservation within the proposed management area to participate in integrated watershed management.

(3) The entities in subsection (1) of this section, including the tribe if it affirmatively accepts the invitation, constitute the initiating governments for the purposes of this section.

(4) On behalf of the initiating governments, the county with the largest area within the boundaries of the proposed management area shall convene a public meeting in the affected area to discuss the appointment of a planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter. Notices of the meeting shall be sent to:

(a) County governments with territory in the proposed management area;

(b) The cities of each county located in and cities that receive water from the proposed management area;

(c) Tribal governments of federal Indian reservations or federally recognized ceded lands located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the proposed management area;

(d) Water supply utilities located in and water supply utilities that receive water from the proposed management area;

(e) Conservation districts with territory in the proposed management area;

(f) Groups and entities that have been or are currently engaged in public planning processes within the proposed management area that involve water quantity, water quality, or habitat restoration activities. In providing this notice, the county shall make a reasonable attempt to identify and notify groups and entities that within the last five years have been or are currently engaged in such planning; and

(g) The department, which shall notify other appropriate state agencies, appropriate Indian tribes, and appropriate federal agencies.

The notice shall contain the purpose, time, and location of the meeting. The notice shall also be published at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the proposed management area. The notice that is published in the newspaper shall invite members of the general public to participate.

(5) The purpose of the public meeting is to obtain comments regarding initiating the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter, the coordination of that process with ongoing planning processes and activities in the watershed, and the creation of a planning unit to prepare the integrated watershed management.

(6) For developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, the county with the largest area within the boundaries of the proposed management area is the lead agency for the development of the integrated watershed management, unless the cities, counties, and Indian tribes described in subsection (8) of this section approve the designation of another governmental agency as the lead agency. Such a governmental agency shall act as the lead agency for this purpose if it agrees in writing to accept the designation.

(7) At or following the public meeting, the county that convened the meeting shall call for a vote of the cities, counties, and Indian tribes described in subsection (8) of this section as to whether to proceed with the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter in the proposed management area. If these cities, counties, and Indian tribes approve proceeding with the development of such management, the lead agency shall make application to the department for funding to develop integrated watershed management under this chapter.

(8) The cities, counties, and Indian tribes that may make decisions under subsections (6) and (7) of this section may choose the type of planning unit to be used for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the proposed management area under section 10 of this act.

(9) At the time a planning unit is chosen or created under section 10 of this act or initial appointments are made by cities and counties under section 10 of this act, the cities and counties in a management area may: (a) Decide that the planning unit will not participate in identifying such flows in the management area, in which case they shall request the department to adopt rules establishing the minimum instream flows for the principal stream or streams in the management area; or (b) if minimum instream flows have been adopted by rule for a stream in the management area, request either the planning unit or the department to modify those flows. To approve an action for these purposes, the cities must approve the action by majority vote, with each city having one vote, and the counties must approve the action by unanimous vote, with each county having one vote. The vote of each city and each county shall be the vote assigned directly, in person or in writing, by the elected officials of the city and directly, in person or in writing, by the members of the legislative authority of the county. For this purpose, the "elected officials" of a city are the members of the city's legislative authority and, if applicable, its elected mayor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. PLANNING UNIT--APPOINTMENT--OPTIONS. (1) If the initiating governments approve proceeding with the development of integrated watershed management for a management area as described in section 9(7) of this act, the development of such management will be conducted under this chapter in the single WRIA or multiple WRIA management area by one planning unit. As provided in subsections (2) and (3) of this section, the cities, counties, and tribe may choose an existing planning group as the basis for local representation on the planning unit or they may identify the composition of a new group as the basis for local representation on the planning unit. Such a choice shall be made as described in section 9(9) of this act. If the cities, counties, and tribe do not choose such an existing or new group in this manner, the planning unit to be used for developing the integrated watershed management for the management area is the planning unit specified in subsection (5) of this section.

(2) If the cities, counties, and tribe choose an existing planning group as the basis for local representation on a planning unit, the planning group shall have been in existence for at least one year before being so chosen. To be considered, the representation of governmental entities and interest groups on such a planning group must be generally similar to the representation identified in subsections (5)(a) through (g) and (12) of this section, or the planning group shall have a statutorily specified membership. If the cities, counties, and tribe find that the existing group has the required composition and find that the scope of the group's work is or has been appropriate considering the tasks to be given the planning unit under this chapter, the cities, counties, and tribe may designate the group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit. The existing group chosen in this manner plus the membership specified in subsection (5)(j) of this section and any membership provided under subsection (5)(i) of this section, which provide for representation by state and tribal governments, constitute the planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the management area.

(3) The cities, counties, and tribe may choose as the basis for local participation on the planning unit under this chapter a new planning group tailored to the specific geographic area for which integrated watershed management will be developed. The cities, counties, and tribe shall ensure that the members of the planning unit represent diverse interests, and shall include the interests represented by a planning unit that would be appointed under subsections (5)(a) through (g) and (12) of this section. If the cities, counties, and tribe designate a new planning group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit, the new group plus the membership specified in subsection (5)(j) of this section and any membership provided under subsection (5)(i) of this section, which provide for representation by state and tribal governments, constitute the planning unit for developing integrated watershed management under this chapter in the management area.

(4) If an existing or new group is designated under subsection (2) or (3) of this section as the basis for local participation on the planning unit, the group and therefore the planning unit it is a part of: Shall have membership positions that directly represent cities in whole or in part in the management area and these positions shall be clearly identified as such; and shall have membership positions that directly represent counties with territory in the WRIsAs that make up the management area and these positions shall be clearly identified as such. The cities, counties, and tribe designating a new group as the basis for local participation on the planning unit may identify a subcommittee structure for the planning unit, but the authorities granted to a planning unit by this chapter may only be exercised by the full planning unit. Any of the cities or counties that are entitled to have a membership position on the planning unit may choose not to participate in the planning unit.

(5) Unless a planning unit is created as provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, the planning unit that develops integrated watershed management in a single WRIA management area under this chapter shall be composed of the following:

(a) One member representing each county with territory in the WRIA appointed by the county;
(b) One member representing cities for each county with territory in the WRIA appointed by the cities within that county;

(c) One member representing water supply utilities for each county with territory within the WRIA, appointed jointly by the three largest water supply utilities in the county;

(d) One member representing all conservation districts with territory within the WRIA appointed jointly by those districts;

(e) Three members representing major interests in the WRIA appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the WRIA; three members representing major interests in the WRIA appointed jointly by the counties with territory within the WRIA; and three members representing major interests in the WRIA, appointed jointly by the cities and counties with territory within the WRIA;

(f) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the WRIA;

(g) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the counties with territory in the WRIA;

(h) Two members representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities and counties, one of whom shall be a holder of a water right certificate and one of whom shall be a holder of a water right for which a statement of claim was in the state's water rights claims registry before January 1, 1997;

(i) If one or more federal Indian reservations, other than the initiating tribe, if there is one, are located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the management area, or if one or more Indian tribes located in this state have federally recognized ceded land within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, the planning unit shall promptly extend an invitation to the tribal government of each such reservation to appoint one member representing that tribal government and to the tribal government of each such Indian tribe to appoint one member representing that tribe; and

(j) One member representing each of the following state agencies: The department of transportation, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of ecology, and the department of natural resources.

(6) The four members representing state agencies under subsection (5)(j) of this section shall have a total of two votes in any voting done by the planning unit. One of these votes shall be shared by the department of natural resources and the department of fish and wildlife; the other vote shall be shared by the department of ecology and the department of transportation. Of these members, the governor shall appoint one lead state representative whose duty it is to ensure that state government ultimately speaks with one voice in developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, to coordinate the state's participation on the planning unit, and to secure and coordinate under section 15 of this act the technical assistance provided by the state to the planning unit.

(7) In addition, for a WRIA located within Pierce, King, Snohomish, or Spokane county, one representative of the water purveyor using the largest amount of water from the WRIA shall be a voting member of the planning unit whether the principal offices of the purveyor are or are not located within the WRIA.

(8) Unless a planning unit is created as provided in subsection (2) or (3) of this section, the planning unit that develops integrated watershed management in a multi-WRIA management area under this chapter shall be composed of the following:

(a) One member representing each county with territory in the multi-WRIA area appointed by that county;

(b) One member representing cities for each county with territory in the multi-WRIA area appointed by the cities within that county;

(c) One member representing water supply utilities for each county with territory within the multi-WRIA area appointed jointly by the three largest water supply utilities in each county;

(d) Up to two members, as that number is determined by the districts, representing all conservation districts with territory within the multi-WRIA area and appointed jointly by those districts;

(e) Three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the multi-WRIA area; three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the counties with territory within the multi-WRIA area; and three members representing major interests in the management area appointed jointly by the cities and counties with territory within the multi-WRIA area;

(f) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities with territory within the multi-WRIA area;

(g) One member representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the counties with territory in the multi-WRIA area;

(h) Two members representing the general citizenry appointed jointly by the cities and the counties, one of whom shall be a holder of a water right certificate and one of whom shall be a holder of a water right for which a statement of claim was in the state's water rights claims registry before January 1, 1997;

(i) If one or more federal Indian reservations, other than the initiating tribe if there is one, are located in whole or in part within the boundaries of the management area, or if one or more Indian tribes located in this state have federally recognized ceded land within the management area or fishing rights recognized under federal case law on lands within the management area, the planning unit shall promptly extend an invitation to the tribal government of each such reservation to appoint one member representing that tribal government and to the tribal government of each such Indian tribe to appoint one member representing that tribe; and

(j) One member representing each of the following state agencies: The department of transportation, the department of fish and wildlife, the department of ecology, and the department of natural resources.

(9) The four members representing state agencies under subsection (8)(j) of this section shall have a total of two votes in any voting done by the planning unit. One of these votes shall be shared by the department of natural resources and the department of fish and wildlife; the other vote shall be shared by the department of ecology and the department of transportation. Of these members, the governor shall appoint one lead state representative whose duty it is to ensure that state government ultimately speaks with one voice in developing integrated watershed management under this chapter, to coordinate the state's participation on the planning unit, and to secure and coordinate under section 15 of this act the technical assistance provided by the state to the planning unit.

(10) In addition, for a multi-WRIA planning unit located within Pierce, King, Snohomish, or Spokane county, one representative of the water purveyor using the largest amount of water from the multi-WRIA area shall be a voting member of the planning unit whether the principal offices of the purveyor are or are not located within the multi-WRIA area.

(11) Each planning unit may invite representatives of federal agencies with jurisdiction over the subject matter for which integrated watershed management is being developed by the unit and the managers of major federal lands located within the management area to assist the planning unit by participating in the development of integrated watershed management by the unit under this chapter. Such representatives shall not be considered to be voting members of the planning unit.

(12) In appointing persons to a planning unit representing major interests in the management area, the cities and counties shall ensure that economic and environmental interests and instream and out-of-stream interests in water, in the management area are represented. In doing so, the cities and counties shall consult with each other regarding the representation each is providing and may consider industrial water users, general businesses, hydroelectric and thermal power producers, and irrigated agriculture, nonirrigated agriculture, forestry, recreation, environmental, and recreational and commercial fisheries interest groups, and other groups with interests in the management area.

(13) If a single WRIA or multi-WRIA management area does not contain a city within its boundaries, the county shall make all the appointments that a city would make under this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. DECISIONS--HEARINGS--APPROVAL. (1) The planning unit shall attempt to achieve consensus among the members of the planning unit in developing the components of its proposed integrated watershed management under section 5, 7, or 8 of this act.

(2) Decisions regarding setting minimum instream flows shall be made as described in section 6 of this act. Whether the minimum instream flows set for streams in the management area are or are not added as an express component of the planning unit's integrated watershed management for the management area may be determined by the planning unit, but adding or not adding the component does not affect the decisions made under section 6 of this act regarding minimum instream flows.

(3) As part of its integrated watershed management, the planning unit may choose to develop drafts of state administrative rules and local ordinances that would be needed to give force and effect to the parts of its integrated watershed management that would create rights or obligations for any party. If it so chooses, it may also request the appropriate state agencies, units of tribal government, and units of local government to assist it in drafting the rules and ordinances. If the planning unit requests a state agency to provide such assistance, the state agency shall provide the assistance.

(4)(a) Upon completing its proposed integrated watershed management for the management area, the planning unit shall publish notice of and conduct at least one public hearing in each county in the management area on the proposal. The planning unit shall take care to provide notice of the hearing throughout the management area. As a minimum, the notice shall be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the management area. After considering the public comments and making any changes in its proposal, the planning unit may approve the proposal by the process provided for in (b) and (c) of this subsection.

(b)(i) The department and the tribal government with federal Indian reservation land located within the management area shall provide advice as to any specific subsections or sections of the watershed management that the department or tribe believes to be in conflict with state or federal law, and may provide other recommendations regarding the watershed management. The department or tribe shall transmit its advice and recommendations within forty-five days of receiving it for review. The planning unit shall consider each recommendation provided by the department under this subsection. The planning unit may adopt the recommendation or provide changes to respond to the advice of the department or tribe by achieving approval by a vote of the members of the planning unit.

(ii) If the planning unit fails to adopt the department's or tribal council's recommendations regarding provisions of the watershed management that conflict with state or federal law, the department and the planning unit shall submit the dispute to mediation. If mediation does not resolve the dispute within forty-five days, the department shall file a petition for declaratory judgment in the superior court of the county with the largest area in the WRIA or multi-WRIA governed by the watershed management. The superior court shall review the dispute under the error of law standard. If the superior court finds that a component of the plan conflicts with state or federal law, that component of the plan is invalid. Decisions on such petitions are reviewable as in other civil cases. This subsection shall not be construed to establish state liability for any other element of the watershed management adopted as rules.

(c) Approval among the members of the planning unit is achieved if the members of the planning unit present for a recorded vote on the proposal appointed to represent the state through the shared ballot process described in section 10 (6) and (9) of this act, each appointed to represent tribal government with federal Indian reservation land located in the WRIA, each appointed to represent directly counties, each appointed to represent water supply utilities, each appointed to represent conservation districts, and each appointed to represent directly cities records his or her support for the proposed integrated watershed management as part of a recorded vote on the proposal.

(d) Approval among the members of the planning unit appointed to represent major interests in the management area and general citizenry components of the planning unit is achieved if a majority of the members of the planning unit, other than those described in (b) of this subsection, present at the recorded vote on the proposal records support for the integrated watershed management as a part of the recorded vote.

(e) If the watershed management is approved by the planning unit, the unit shall submit the watershed management to the counties with territory within the management area.

(f) If the watershed management is not approved by the planning unit following a vote, then the planning unit shall submit the watershed management to mediation in an attempt to achieve agreement between the members of the planning unit. If the unit is unable to reach an agreement that will achieve approval within forty-five days after submitting the dispute to mediation, the planning unit may either submit the components of the watershed management in which agreement was achieved to the county for approval or terminate the process.

(5) The legislative authority of each of the counties with territory within the management area shall provide public notice for and conduct at least one public hearing in each county on the approved watershed management submitted to the county under this section. The counties shall take care to provide notice of the hearings throughout the management area. As a minimum, the notice shall be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the management area. After the public hearings, the legislative authorities of these counties shall convene in joint session to consider the watershed management. The counties may approve or reject the watershed management, but may not amend it. Approval of a watershed management or of recommendations for a watershed management that are not approved shall be made by a majority vote of the members of the legislative authorities of each of the counties with territory in the management area.

(6) If the watershed management is not approved by the counties, it shall be returned to the planning unit with recommendations for revisions. If the revisions are approved by the planning unit, the watershed management shall be returned to the county for adoption. Approval of such a revised proposal shall be made in the same manner provided for the original integrated watershed management. If the revisions are not approved by the planning unit, the planning unit and the counties shall submit the revisions to mediation in an attempt to reach an agreement that will achieve approval by the planning unit and the counties. If approval of the planning unit is achieved after mediation, the watershed management shall be returned to the county for adoption. If the planning unit is unable to achieve agreement following mediation, it may either submit the components of the watershed management in which agreement was achieved to the county for approval or terminate the process. The department shall proceed with adopting the approved watershed management through a rules adoption process described in RCW 90.82.040(8).

(7) Before the adoption of the watershed management by the county legislative authority, the county shall transmit a copy of the watershed management to each city located in the WRIA. The cities shall hold a public hearing on the watershed management. The city shall publish notice of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the city at least three days before the hearing. The city has forty-five days after receiving the watershed management from the county to consider passage of a resolution that expresses agreement with the watershed management or express any concerns with the watershed management with the county.

(8) At a minimum, the planning unit shall not add a component to its integrated watershed management that creates an obligation for state government unless the members of the planning unit appointed to represent state government agree to adding the component; it shall not add a component that creates an obligation for a tribal government unless the member or members of the planning unit appointed to represent that tribal government agree to adding the component; it shall not add a component that creates an obligation for a county, city, conservation district, or water supply utility unless the members of the planning unit appointed to represent the county, city, conservation district, or water supply utility agree to adding the component. A member's agreeing to add a component shall be evidenced by a recorded vote of all members of the planning unit in which the members record support for adding the component. If integrated watershed management is approved by the planning unit and the counties for a management area under this section and that management creates obligations for agencies of state government, the obligations are binding on the state agencies and the agencies shall adopt implementing rules and take other actions to fulfill their obligations as soon as possible.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. MEMBERSHIP--OTHER RULES. (1) A vacancy on a planning unit shall be filled by appointment in the same manner prescribed for appointing the position that has become vacant. The planning unit shall not interrupt its work to await additional original appointments or appointments to fill any vacancies that may occur in its membership.

(2) No person who is a member of a planning unit for a management area under this chapter may designate another to act on behalf of the person as a member or to attend as a member a meeting of the unit on behalf of the person. If a member of such a planning unit is absent from more than five meetings of the planning unit that constitute twenty percent or more of the meetings that have been conducted by the planning unit while the person is a member of the unit.

(3) For the purposes of this chapter, a county or conservation district is considered to have territory within a management area only if the territory of the county or district located in one of the WRIA's in the management area constitutes at least fifteen percent of the area of the WRIA.

Sec. 12. RCW 90.82.040 and 1997 c 442 s 105 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((Once a WRIA planning unit has been organized and designated a lead agency, it shall notify the department and may apply to the department for funding assistance for conducting the planning. Funds shall be provided from and to the extent of appropriations made by the legislature to the department expressly for this purpose.~~

~~(2) Each planning unit that has complied with subsection (1) of this section is eligible to receive fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA to initiate the planning process. The department shall allocate additional funds to WRIA planning units based on need demonstrated by a detailed proposed budget submitted by the planning unit for carrying out the duties of the planning unit. Each WRIA planning unit may receive up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA during the first two year period of planning, with a maximum allocation of five hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA.)) The department shall develop and administer a grant program to provide direct financial assistance to planning units for the preparation of integrated watershed management under this chapter. Three separate grants may be awarded pursuant to this section. These grants are initial organizing grants, grants for watershed assessments and establishment of instream flows, and grants for the development of integrated watershed management and implementation. The total amount of the grants may not exceed five hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA. The department may not impose any local matching fund requirement as a condition for grant eligibility or as a preference for receiving a grant.~~

(2) An initial organizing grant of up to fifty thousand dollars may be awarded to a lead agency that applies to the department and indicates that integrated watershed management is to be developed under this chapter. Organizing grants may be expended for any purpose authorized by the department, including but not limited to determining the scope of work to be addressed by the integrated watershed management for the management area; collecting and reviewing relevant studies and plans that already exist for the watershed, including growth management related plans in which critical areas have been designated pursuant to chapter 36.70A RCW; determining how the integrated watershed management for a management area can be coordinated with existing studies and plans; and baseline monitoring of water within the watershed.

(3)(a) A watershed assessment grant of up to two hundred thousand dollars for each WRIA may be awarded to a planning unit that certifies to the department that it adequately represents a broad range of interests within the watershed, and that it is willing to undertake the following as part of its integrated watershed management for its management area: Integrated watershed management for the protection or enhancement of habitat, integrated watershed management for water quantity, or integrated watershed management for water quality. The planning unit must submit a detailed proposed budget that demonstrates the need for the grant.

(b) Grants awarded pursuant to this subsection (3) shall be awarded for a four-year period. The four-year time period shall begin to run when the lead agency for the planning unit first received the initial organizing grant under subsection (2) of this section. For a planning unit that did not submit an application for an initial organizing grant, the four-year time period shall begin to run when the planning unit receives a grant under this subsection (3).

(4) A management development, instream flow, and implementation grant in an amount of up to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for each WRIA may be awarded to a planning unit that submits evidence that an assessment of the watershed has been adequately prepared in sufficient detail for the purposes for which the watershed assessment grant was awarded; the integrated watershed management that will be developed for the management area will not be in conflict with federal laws, state statutes, or tribal treaty rights; and its development will be coordinated with adjacent jurisdictions for purposes of minimum instream flows and water quality, if water quality was addressed as part of the watershed assessment. The planning unit must submit a detailed proposed budget that demonstrates the need for the grant. Any moneys awarded from the remaining grant balance for implementation in a management area under this section are available only for implementation that commences after integrated watershed management has been adopted for the area under section 11 of this act.

(5)(a) The department shall use the following eligibility criteria instead of rules when evaluating grant applications at each stage of the grants program:

(i) The application has documented that the planning unit meets all of the requirements of this chapter;

(ii) The application demonstrates a need for state planning funds to accomplish the objectives of the planning process; and

(iii) The application and supporting information evidences a readiness to proceed.

(b) In ranking grant applications submitted at each stage of the grants program except for the initial organizing grant under subsection (2) of this section, the department shall give preference to applications in the following order of priority:

(i) Applications from existing planning groups that have been in existence for at least one year;

(ii) Applications from multi-WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, 16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 et seq. and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth;

(iii) Applications from single WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act, and for which there is evidence of an inability to supply adequate water for population and economic growth;

(iv) Applications from multi-WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed as endangered or threatened under the federal endangered species act; and

(v) Applications from single WRIAs that propose to address protection and enhancement of fish habitat in watersheds that have aquatic species listed under the federal endangered species act.

(6) Funding provided under this section shall be considered a contractual obligation against the moneys appropriated for this purpose.

~~((3) Preference shall be given to planning units requesting funding for conducting multi-WRIA planning under section 108 of this act.~~

~~(4))~~ (7) The department may retain up to one percent of funds allocated under this section to defray administrative costs.

(8) The department may adopt its implementing rules for an integrated watershed management that have been approved by counties as part of integrated watershed management and may adopt rules when necessary to implement this section or section 6(2) of this act either by the regular rules adoption process provided in chapter 34.05 RCW, the expedited rules adoption process as set forth in RCW 34.05.230, or through a rules adoption process that uses the public hearings and notice provided by the planning unit and the county legislative authority as a substitute for the rules adoption requirements of chapter 34.05 RCW. If the planning unit and county legislative authority hearings and notice are used as a substitute for the regular rules adoption process, the rules do not take effect until they are published in the Washington state register as provided in chapter 34.05 RCW. Such rules do not constitute significant legislative rules as defined in RCW 34.05.328, and do not require the preparation of small business economic impact statements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 34.05 RCW to read as follows:
Rules adopted by the department of ecology pursuant to RCW 90.82.040(8) are exempt from the requirements of this chapter to the extent provided in RCW 90.82.040(8).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE. (1) The lead state representative on a planning unit designated under section 10(5)(j) of this act shall establish a program to provide technical assistance to planning units and local governments to encourage and facilitate the adoption and implementation of integrated watershed management for management areas developed under this chapter. The program shall use existing requirements or standards that must be satisfied by the integrated watershed management developed under this chapter and no part of the program may have the effect of a rule adopted under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) The program shall use any staff assigned by the governor for this task, the staff of state agencies, and staff from institutions of higher education to assist in the development of integrated watershed management under this chapter, including but not limited to assistance in determining and explaining how best available science will be incorporated into integrated watershed management for a management area, developing methods for effectively monitoring performance, providing the criteria that represents acceptable performance for key elements of the integrated watershed management for a management area, and the method of reporting performance to the public, local communities, and the state. In providing assistance under this section, the lead state representative shall recognize regional and local variations that exist in different parts of the state.

(3) The lead state representative on a planning unit shall assist planning units in ensuring that integrated watershed management developed under this chapter is coordinated with, and consistent with, the integrated watershed management of other planning units that share common borders or major stream basins. The state shall provide mediation services to resolve disputes between planning units.

(4) The department may contract out technical assistance if the lead state representative finds that it is cost-effective and will assist in implementing the intent of this chapter.

(5) The department shall conduct an annual workshop for planning units to share successful approaches, as well as difficulties, in addressing specific problems within watersheds.

(6) All state agencies with rule-making authority for programs that affect the development and implementation of integrated watershed management developed under this chapter shall review those rules and programs for consistency with this chapter and make recommendations to the legislature for any necessary statutory changes.

Sec. 15. RCW 90.03.345 and 1979 ex.s. c 216 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The establishment of reservations of water for agriculture, hydroelectric energy, municipal, industrial, and other beneficial uses under RCW 90.54.050(1) or minimum flows or levels under RCW 90.22.010 or 90.54.040 shall constitute appropriations within the meaning of this chapter with priority dates as of the effective dates of their establishment. Whenever an application for a permit to make beneficial use of public waters embodied in a reservation, established after September 1, 1979, is filed with the department of ecology after the effective date of such reservation, the priority date for a permit issued pursuant to an approval by the department of ecology of the application shall be the effective date of the reservation.

(2) Minimum flows established under section 6 of this act shall have a priority date as specified in that section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

If a person placed surface or ground water to beneficial use for irrigation or stock watering purposes before January 1, 1993, for which a permit or certificate was not issued by the department or its predecessors, the person or the person's successor holds a water right for that use in the amount beneficially used and with a priority date that is the date a statement of claim is filed for the right under this section if:

(1) The person or the person's successor files with the department a statement of claim for the right during the period beginning September 1, 1998, and ending midnight June 30, 1999, using the standard form prescribed by RCW 90.14.051;

(2) The person or the person's successor has used the water to the full extent stated in the statement of claim during at least each of three of the five years preceding the date the statement is filed and the person attests to having done so on the statement; and

(3) The person or the person's successor files with the statement of claim evidence that the water described in the claim was used beneficially before January 1, 1993, in the form of any two of the following:

(a) A statement signed by two persons other than the person filing the statement of claim verifying that the water was beneficially used by the claimant before January 1, 1993, as described in the statement of claim;

(b) A copy of a dated photograph clearly demonstrating the presence of grass or a crop requiring irrigation in the amounts asserted in the statement of claim or of livestock requiring water in such amounts; or records of receipts of the sale of crops by the person or the person's successor indicating that irrigation in the amount claimed was required to produce the crops;

(c) Receipts or records of irrigation or stockwatering equipment purchases or repairs associated with the water use specified in the statement of claim;

(d) Water well construction records identifying the date the well specified in the statement of claim as the point of withdrawal was constructed;

(e) Records of electricity bills directly associated with the withdrawal of water as specified in the statement of claim;

(f) Personal records such as photographs, journals, or correspondence indicating the use of water as asserted in the statement of claim.

A right granted under this section shall not affect or impair in any respect whatsoever a water right existing prior to September 1, 1998. A right granted under this section shall be junior in every respect to a right with a more senior date of priority. No right granted under this section may be exercised in a manner that impairs or interferes with a water right that is senior to it. The filing of a statement of claim under this section does not constitute an adjudication of any claim to the right to the use of waters as between the claimant and the state, or as between one or more water use claimants and another or others. A statement of claim filed under this section shall be admissible in a general adjudication of water rights as prima facie evidence of the times of use and the quantity of water the claimant was withdrawing or diverting to the same extent as is provided by RCW 90.14.081 for a statement of claim in the water rights claims registry on the effective date of this section.

The department shall establish a registry of claims for rights conferred under this section. Statements of claim filed under this section shall be filed in the registry alphabetically, consecutively by date of filing, and by such other manner as the department deems appropriate.

This section does not apply to ground water withdrawn in an area that is, during the period established by subsection (3) of this section, the subject of a general adjudication proceeding for water rights in superior court under RCW 90.03.110 through 90.03.245 and the proceeding applies to ground water rights. This section does not apply to surface water withdrawn in an area that is, during the period established by subsection (3) of this section, the subject of a general adjudication proceeding for water rights in superior court under RCW 90.03.110 through 90.03.245 and the proceeding applies to surface water rights.

This section does not apply to rights embodied in a water right permit or certificate issued by the department or its predecessors, a water right represented by a claim in the water rights claims registry, created under RCW 90.14.111, prior to September 1, 1998, or a water right exempted from permit and application requirements by RCW 90.44.050.

This section does not apply to claims for the use of water in a ground water area or subarea for which a management program adopted by the department by rule and in effect on the effective date of this section establishes acreage expansion limitations for the use of ground water.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.03.380 and 1997 c 442 s 801 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The right to the use of water which has been applied to a beneficial use in the state shall be and remain appurtenant to the land or place upon which the same is used: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the right may be transferred to another or to others and become appurtenant to any other land or place of use without loss of priority of right theretofore established if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The point of diversion of water for beneficial use or the purpose of use may be changed, if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. A change in the place of use, point of diversion, and/or purpose of use of a water right to enable irrigation of additional acreage or the addition of new uses may be permitted if such change results in no increase in the annual consumptive quantity of water used under the water right. For purposes of this section, "annual consumptive quantity" means the estimated or actual annual amount of water diverted pursuant to the water right, reduced by the estimated annual amount of return flows, averaged over the most recent five-year period of continuous beneficial use of the water right. Before any transfer of such right to use water or change of the point of diversion of water or change of purpose of use can be made, any person having an interest in the transfer or change, shall file a written application therefor with the department, and the application shall not be granted until notice of the application is published as provided in RCW 90.03.280. If it shall appear that such transfer or such change may be made without injury or detriment to existing rights, the department shall issue to the applicant a certificate in duplicate granting the right for such transfer or for such change of point of diversion or of

use. The certificate so issued shall be filed and be made a record with the department and the duplicate certificate issued to the applicant may be filed with the county auditor in like manner and with the same effect as provided in the original certificate or permit to divert water.

(2) If an application for change proposes to transfer water rights from one irrigation district to another, the department shall, before publication of notice, receive concurrence from each of the irrigation districts that such transfer or change will not adversely affect the ability to deliver water to other landowners or impair the financial or operational integrity of either of the districts.

(3) A change in place of use by an individual water user or users of water provided by an irrigation district need only receive approval for the change from the board of directors of the district if the use of water continues within the irrigation district, and when water is provided by an irrigation entity that is a member of a board of joint control created under chapter 87.80 RCW, approval need only be received from the board of joint control if the use of water continues within the area of jurisdiction of the joint board and the change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The board of directors of an irrigation district may approve such a change if the board determines that the change: Will not adversely affect the district's ability to deliver water to other landowners; will not require the construction by the district of diversion or drainage facilities unless the board finds that the construction by the district is in the interest of the district; will not impair the financial or operational integrity of the district; and is consistent with the contractual obligations of the district.

(4) Subsections (1), (2), and (3) of this section do not apply to a transfer or change governed by section 19 of this act.

(5) This section shall not apply to trust water rights acquired by the state through the funding of water conservation projects under chapter 90.38 RCW or RCW 90.42.010 through 90.42.070.

(6) Any right represented by an application for a water right for which a permit for water use has not been issued by the time a transfer or change is approved under this section may not be construed as being injured or detrimentally affected by the transfer or change.

(7) The department may not initiate relinquishment proceedings under chapter 90.14 RCW regarding a water right for which an application for a transfer or change is filed under this section during the period beginning on the date the department receives the application and ending two years after the date the department approves or denies the application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 90.03 RCW to read as follows:

(1)(a) If a portion of the water governed by a water right is made surplus to the beneficial uses exercised under the right through the implementation of practices or technologies, including but not limited to conveyance practices or technologies, which are more efficient or more water-use efficient than those under which the right was perfected, the right to use the surplus water may be changed as provided by subsection (2), (3), (4), or (5) of this section.

(b) If a portion of the water governed by a water right is made surplus to the beneficial uses exercised under the right through a change in the crops grown under the water right, the right to use the surplus water may be changed as provided by subsection (3) of this section. This subsection (1)(b) does not apply to water supplied by an irrigation district.

(c) This section applies only to a change of an agricultural use or portion of an agricultural use of water to an agricultural use of water.

(2) The use within an irrigation district of water supplied by the district and made surplus as provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section shall be regulated solely as provided by the board of directors of the irrigation district. Such a use requires the approval of the board of directors of the irrigation district or must otherwise be authorized by the board. The board may approve or authorize such a use only if the use does not impair the financial or operational integrity of the district. Water supplied by an irrigation district and made surplus as provided in subsection (1)(a) of this section through actions taken by an individual water user served by the district is not available for use as a matter of right by that individual water user, but may be used by the board for the benefit of the district generally. The district's board of directors may approve or otherwise authorize under this subsection uses of such surplus water that result in the total irrigated acreage within the district exceeding the irrigated acreage recorded with the department for the district's water right if the board notifies the department of the change in the irrigated acreage within the district. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, such a notification provides a change in the district's water right and, upon receiving the notification, the department shall revise its records for the district's right to reflect the change.

If an irrigation district is within a federal reclamation project and the district's board of directors approves or otherwise authorizes under this subsection uses of such surplus water that result in the total irrigated acreage within the federal project exceeding the irrigated acreage recorded with the department for the federal project's water right, the board shall notify the department of the change in the irrigated acreage within the federal project. Except as provided by this subsection and subsection (5) of this section, such a notification provides a change in the federal reclamation project's water right and, upon receiving the notification, the department shall revise its records for the federal project's right to reflect the change except that the total irrigable acreage for a water right for a federal reclamation project may not exceed the total irrigable acreage authorized for the project by the United States and related repayment contracts.

(3) The right to use water made surplus as provided in subsection (1)(a) or (b) of this section but not supplied by an irrigation district may be changed to use on other parcels of land owned by the holder of the water right that are contiguous to the parcel or parcels of land upon which the use of the water was authorized by the right before such a change. The holder of the water right shall notify the department of such a change. Except as provided in subsection (5) of this section, the notification provides a change in the holder's water right and, upon receiving the notification, the department shall revise its records for the water right to reflect the change.

(4) If a notification is provided to the department under subsection (2) or (3) of this section with regard to water made surplus and subsequently used before the effective date of this section, the change in the water right shall be made without loss of priority of the right.

(5) If a notification is provided to the department under subsection (2) or (3) of this section with regard to water made surplus and subsequently used, and that use begins after the effective date of this section, the priority date for the use of the water made surplus under this section is the date the notification is filed with the department. When the department is notified regarding such a use under this subsection (5), the notification does not automatically provide a change in the water right holder's, irrigation district's, or reclamation project's water right. The department shall issue the holder, district, or project a temporary water use permit for the use. The term of the permit shall be for fifteen years. It is presumed that the use of water under the temporary water use permit does not impair or interfere with water rights that are senior to the water right represented by the permit. However, if at any time within the fifteen-year term of the permit the department determines that the change would impair or interfere with the use of such a senior water right, the department shall notify the holder of the temporary permit and shall file a notice of its decision with the superior court of the county in which the withdrawal of water under the right takes place. The notice provided by the department shall not stay the use of water under the temporary permit. The superior court shall review the determination of the department de novo. In such a review, the burden of proof in overcoming the presumption provided by this subsection is on the department. The presumption can be overcome only through the application of scientific data supporting the department's determination. At the conclusion of its review, the superior court shall enter a ruling canceling the temporary permit, modifying the conditions of water use under the permit, or affirming that the use of water under the permit does not interfere with water rights senior to the water rights represented by the permit. The decision of the superior court may be appealed as provided for other decisions of the court. If a court's decision modifies the conditions of water use under the permit or affirms that the use of water under the permit does not interfere with senior water rights or if the department does not provide a notice under this subsection within the fifteen-year term of the permit, the use of the water is changed as provided by the temporary permit or the court's decision and the department shall revise its records regarding the right.

The presumption provided by this subsection does not apply with regard to a claim made by any person with a water right in superior court or on appeal of a decision of the superior court that a temporary permit or change in a water right made under this subsection impairs or interferes with the use of the person's senior water right.

(6) If a notification is filed with the department regarding the use of water made surplus under subsection (2) or (3) of this section and that use begins after the effective date of this section, the notification shall identify the date that the use of the water made surplus begins.

(7) The authority provided by this section to change a water right shall not be construed as authorizing the use of a junior water right in a manner that impairs or interferes with the use of a senior water right.

(8) If a water right changed under this section is a right represented by a statement of claim in the water rights claims registry, the department's obligation to revise its records to reflect the change shall be accomplished by providing an amendment to the statement of claim to reflect the change.

(9) This section does not apply in an area with an acreage expansion program in effect on the effective date of this section that is an element of a ground water area or subarea management program as provided in RCW 90.44.445.

(10) Nothing in this section authorizes a change in a water right or a portion of a water right that has not been perfected through beneficial use before the change.

(1) After an application to, and upon the issuance by the department of an amendment to the appropriate permit or certificate of ground water right, the holder of a valid right to withdraw public ground waters may, without losing the holder's priority of right, construct wells or other means of withdrawal at a new location in substitution for or in addition to those at the original location, or the holder may change the manner or the place of use of the water.

(2) An amendment to construct replacement or a new additional well or wells at a location outside of the location of the original well or wells or to change the manner or place of use of the water shall be issued only after publication of notice of the application and findings as prescribed in the case of an original application. Such amendment shall be issued by the department only on the conditions that: (a) The additional or replacement well or wells shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) where a replacement well or wells is approved, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) where an additional well or wells is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not enlarge the right conveyed by the original permit or certificate; and (d) other existing rights shall not be impaired. The department may specify an approved manner of construction and shall require a showing of compliance with the terms of the amendment, as provided in RCW 90.44.080 in the case of an original permit.

(3) The construction of a replacement or new additional well or wells at the location of the original well or wells shall be allowed without application to the department for an amendment. However, the following apply to such a replacement or new additional well: (a) The well shall tap the same body of public ground water as the original well or wells; (b) if a replacement well is constructed, the use of the original well or wells shall be discontinued and the original well or wells shall be properly decommissioned as required under chapter 18.104 RCW; (c) if a new additional well is constructed, the original well or wells may continue to be used, but the combined total withdrawal from the original and additional well or wells shall not enlarge the right conveyed by the original water use permit or certificate; (d) the construction and use of the well shall not interfere with or impair water rights with an earlier date of priority than the water right or rights for the original well or wells; (e) the replacement or additional well shall be located no closer than the original well to a well it might interfere with; (f) the department may specify an approved manner of construction of the well; and (g) the department shall require a showing of compliance with the conditions of this subsection (3).

(4) This section does not apply to a transfer or change governed by section 19 of this act.

(5) Any right represented by an application for a water right for which a permit for water use has not been issued by the time an amendment is approved under this section may not be construed as being impaired by the amendment.

(6) The department may not initiate relinquishment proceedings under chapter 90.14 RCW regarding a water right for which an application for an amendment is filed under this section during the period beginning on the date the department receives the application and ending two years after the date the department makes a decision on the application.

(7) As used in this section, the "location of the original well or wells" is the area described as the point of withdrawal in the original public notice published for the application for the water right for the well.

Sec. 20. RCW 90.03.290 and 1994 c 264 s 84 are each amended to read as follows:

When an application complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules (~~and regulations~~) of the department has been filed, the same shall be placed on record with the department, and it shall be its duty to investigate the application, and determine what water, if any, is available for appropriation, and find and determine to what beneficial use or uses it can be applied. If it is proposed to appropriate water for irrigation purposes, the department shall investigate, determine and find what lands are capable of irrigation by means of water found available for appropriation. If it is proposed to appropriate water for the purpose of power development, the department shall investigate, determine and find whether the proposed development is likely to prove detrimental to the public interest, having in mind the highest feasible use of the waters belonging to the public. If the application does not contain, and the applicant does not promptly furnish sufficient information on which to base such findings, the department may issue a preliminary permit, for a period of not to exceed three years, requiring the applicant to make such surveys, investigations, studies, and progress reports, as in the opinion of the department may be necessary. If the applicant fails to comply with the conditions of the preliminary permit, it and the application or applications on which it is based shall be automatically canceled and the applicant so notified. If the holder of a preliminary permit shall, before its expiration, file with the department a verified report of expenditures made and work done under the preliminary permit, which, in the opinion of the department, establishes the good faith, intent and ability of the applicant to carry on the proposed development, the preliminary permit may, with the approval of the governor, be extended, but not to exceed a maximum period of five years from the date of the issuance of the preliminary permit. The department shall make and file as part of the record in the matter, written findings of fact concerning all things investigated, and if it shall find that there is water available for appropriation for a beneficial use, and the appropriation thereof as proposed in the application will not impair existing rights or be detrimental to the public welfare, it shall issue a permit stating the amount of water to which the applicant shall be entitled and the beneficial use or uses to which it may be applied: PROVIDED, That where the water applied for is to be used for irrigation purposes, it shall become appurtenant only to such land as may be reclaimed thereby to the full extent of the soil for agricultural purposes. But where there is no unappropriated water in the proposed source of supply, or where the proposed use conflicts with existing rights, or threatens to prove detrimental to the public interest, having due regard to the highest feasible development of the use of the waters belonging to the public, it shall be duty of the department to reject such application and to refuse to issue the permit asked for. If the permit is refused because of conflict with existing rights and such applicant shall acquire same by purchase or condemnation under RCW 90.03.040, the department may thereupon grant such permit. Any application may be approved for a less amount of water than that applied for, if there exists substantial reason therefor, and in any event shall not be approved for more water than can be applied to beneficial use for the purposes named in the application. In determining whether or not a permit shall issue upon any application, it shall be the duty of the department to investigate all facts relevant and material to the application. If the applicant is a public water system that is a party to an existing intertie agreement, the department shall also consider the existence, nature, economics, and terms of the agreement between the intertied public water systems when making a determination on the application for new water rights by the public water system. After the department approves ((said)) the application in whole or in part and before any permit shall be issued thereon to the applicant, such applicant shall pay the fee provided in RCW 90.03.470: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the event a permit is issued by the department upon any application, it shall be its duty to notify the director of fish and wildlife of such issuance.

This section does not apply to transfers or changes made under section 19 of this act or to applications for transfers or changes made under RCW 90.03.380 or 90.44.100.

Sec. 21. RCW 90.44.445 and 1993 c 99 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In any acreage expansion program adopted by the department as an element of a ground water management program, the authorization for a water right certificate holder to participate in the program shall be on an annual basis for the first two years. After the two-year period, the department may authorize participation for ten-year periods. The department may authorize participation for ten-year periods for certificate holders who have already participated in an acreage expansion program for two years. The department may require annual certification that the certificate holder has complied with all requirements of the program. The department may terminate the authority of a certificate holder to participate in the program for one calendar year if the certificate holder fails to comply with the requirements of the program.

This section applies only in an area with an acreage expansion program in effect on the effective date of this amendatory section that has been adopted by the department as an element of a ground water area or subarea management program. The provisions of section 19 of this act, RCW 90.03.380, and 90.44.100 apply to transfers, changes, and amendments to permits or rights for the beneficial use of ground water in any other area.

Sec. 22. RCW 90.03.383 and 1991 c 350 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature recognizes the value of interties for improving the reliability of public water systems, enhancing their management, and more efficiently utilizing the increasingly limited resource. Given the continued growth in the most populous areas of the state, the increased complexity of public water supply management, and the trend toward regional planning and regional solutions to resource issues, interconnections of public water systems through interties provide a valuable tool to ensure reliable public water supplies for the citizens of the state. Public water systems have been encouraged in the past to utilize interties to achieve public health and resource management objectives. The legislature finds that it is in the public interest to recognize interties existing and in use as of January 1, 1991, and to have associated water rights modified by the department of ecology to reflect current use of water through those interties, pursuant to subsection (3) of this section. The legislature further finds it in the public interest to develop a coordinated process to review proposals for interties commencing use after January 1, 1991.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Interties" are interconnections between public water systems permitting exchange, acquisition, or delivery of wholesale and/or retail water between those systems for other than emergency supply purposes, where such exchange, acquisition, or delivery is within established instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates specified in the ~~((systems'))~~ supplying system's existing water right permits or certificates, or contained in claims filed pursuant to chapter 90.14 RCW, and which results in better management of public water supply consistent with existing rights and obligations. Interties include interconnections between public water systems permitting exchange, acquisition, or delivery of water to serve as primary or secondary sources of supply, but do not include development of new sources of supply to meet future demand requiring new water right applications to and appropriations by the department of ecology. Interties also include the development of new sources of supply to meet future demands if the water system or systems receiving water through such an intertie make efficient use of existing sources of water supply and the provision of water through such an intertie is consistent with local land use plans. For this purpose, a system's full compliance with the state department of health's conservation guidelines for such systems is deemed efficient use. As referred to in this section, changes of points of use for existing water right permits, certificates, or claims are not within the meaning of a development of new sources of supply.

(b) "Service area" is the area designated as the wholesale and/or retail area in a water system plan or a coordinated water system plan pursuant to chapter 43.20 or 70.116 RCW respectively. When a public water system does not have a designated service area subject to the approval process of those chapters, the service area shall be the designated place of use contained in the water right permit or certificate, or contained in the claim filed pursuant to chapter 90.14 RCW.

(3)(a) Public water systems with interties existing and in use as of January 1, 1991, or that have received written approval from the department of health prior to that date, shall file written notice of those interties with the department of health and the department of ecology. The notice may be incorporated into the public water system's five-year update of its water system plan, but shall be filed no later than June 30, 1996. The notice shall identify the location of the intertie; the dates of its first use; the purpose, capacity, and current use; the intertie agreement of the parties and the service areas assigned; and other information reasonably necessary to modify the public water system's water right ~~((permit))~~. Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 90.03.380 and 90.44.100, for public water systems with interties existing and in use or with written approval as of January 1, 1991, the department of ecology, upon receipt of notice meeting the requirements of this subsection, shall, as soon as practicable, modify the place of use descriptions in the water right permits, certificates, or claims to reflect the actual use through such interties, provided that the place of use is within service area designations established in a water system plan approved pursuant to chapter 43.20 RCW, or a coordinated water system plan approved pursuant to chapter 70.116 RCW, and further provided that the water used is within the instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates specified in the water rights ~~((permit))~~ and that no outstanding complaints of impairment to existing water rights have been filed with the department of ecology prior to September 1, 1991. Where such complaints of impairment have been received, the department of ecology shall make all reasonable efforts to resolve them in a timely manner through agreement of the parties or through available administrative remedies.

(b) An intertie meeting the requirements of this subsection (3) for modifying the place of use description in a water right permit, certificate, or claim may be used to its full design or built capacity within the most recently approved retail or wholesale or retail and wholesale service area, without further approval under this section and without regard to the capacity actually used before January 1, 1991. Any intertie meeting the requirements of this section, however, must be reviewed, analyzed, and approved by the department of health in collaboration with the department of ecology, and in accordance with coordinated water system plan requirements under chapter 70.116 RCW. In addition, any intertie meeting the requirements of this subsection must undergo environmental review in accordance with chapter 43.21C RCW.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of RCW 90.03.380 and 90.44.100, exchange, acquisition, or delivery of water through interties approved by the department of health commencing use after January 1, 1991, shall be permitted when the intertie improves overall system reliability, enhances the manageability of the systems, provides opportunities for conjunctive use, or delays or avoids the need to develop new water sources, and otherwise meets the requirements of this section, provided that ~~((each))~~ a supplying public water system's water use shall not exceed the instantaneous or annual withdrawal rate specified in its water right authorization, shall not adversely affect existing water rights, and shall not be inconsistent with state-approved plans such as water system plans or other plans which include specific proposals for construction of interties. A receiving public water system's use may exceed its water right authorization if the receiving public water system's withdrawal does not exceed the instantaneous or annual withdrawal rate specified in the receiving public water system's water right authorization. Interties commencing use after January 1, 1991, ~~((shall not be inconsistent))~~ must be deemed consistent with regional water resource plans developed pursuant to chapter 90.54 RCW or chapter 90.82 RCW.

(5) For public water systems subject to the approval process of chapter 43.20 RCW or chapter 70.116 RCW, proposals for interties commencing use after January 1, 1991, shall be incorporated into water system plans pursuant to chapter 43.20 RCW or coordinated water system plans pursuant to chapter 70.116 RCW and submitted to the department of health and the department of ecology for review and approval as provided for in subsections (5) through (9) of this section. The plan shall state how the proposed intertie will improve overall system reliability, enhance the manageability of the systems, provide opportunities for conjunctive use, or delay or avoid the need to develop new water sources.

(6) The department of health shall be responsible for review and approval of proposals for new interties. In its review the department of health shall determine whether the intertie satisfies the criteria of subsection (4) of this section, with the exception of water rights considerations, which are the responsibility of the department of ecology, ~~((and))~~ shall determine whether the intertie is necessary to address emergent public health or safety concerns associated with public water supply, and shall determine whether long-term supply is addressed in the intertie agreement between the systems.

(7) If the intertie is determined by the department of health to be necessary to address emergent public health or safety concerns associated with public water supply, the public water system shall amend its water system plan as required and shall file an application with the department of ecology to change its existing water right to reflect the proposed use of the water as described in the approved water system plan. The department of ecology shall process the application for change pursuant to RCW 90.03.380 or 90.44.100 as appropriate, except that, notwithstanding the requirements of those sections regarding notice and protest periods, applicants shall be required to publish notice one time, and the comment period shall be fifteen days from the date of publication of the notice. Within sixty days of receiving the application, the department of ecology shall issue findings and advise the department of health if existing water rights are determined to be adversely affected. If no determination is provided by the department of ecology within the sixty-day period, the department of health shall proceed as if existing rights are not adversely affected by the proposed intertie. The department of ecology may obtain an extension of the sixty-day period by submitting written notice to the department of health and to the applicant indicating a definite date by which its determination will be made. No additional extensions shall be granted, and in no event shall the total review period for the department of ecology exceed one hundred eighty days.

(8) If the department of health determines the proposed intertie appears to meet the requirements of subsection (4) of this section but is not necessary to address emergent public health or safety concerns associated with public water supply, the department of health shall instruct the applicant to submit to the department of ecology an application for change to the underlying water right or claim as necessary to reflect the new place of use. The department of ecology shall consider the applications pursuant to the provisions of RCW 90.03.380 and 90.44.100 as appropriate. The department of ecology shall not deny or limit a change of place of use for an intertie on the grounds that the holder of a permit has not yet put all of the water authorized in the permit to beneficial use. If in its review of proposed interties and associated water rights the department of ecology determines that additional information is required to act on the application, the department may request applicants to provide information necessary for its decision, consistent with agency rules and written guidelines. Parties disagreeing with the decision of the department of ecology ~~((to))~~ to approve or deny the application for change in place of use may appeal the decision to the pollution control hearings board.

(9) The department of health may approve plans containing intertie proposals prior to the department of ecology's decision on the water right application for change in place of use. However, notwithstanding such approval, construction work on the intertie shall not begin until the department of ecology issues the appropriate water right document to the applicant consistent with the approved plan.

(10) An intertie shall not be used to deliver a primary or secondary supply of water to a receiving system on a temporary basis unless the terms of the intertie agreement specify the source of the water that will be used by the receiving system to replace the water delivered on the temporary basis and provide that replacement water will be available for delivery to or use by the receiving system before delivery by the supplying system under the agreement is terminated. However, if a primary or secondary supply of water is delivered to a receiving system on a temporary basis by means of an intertie on the effective date of this subsection and the agreement between the supplying system and receiving system does not contain such provision for such a replacement supply of water for the receiving system, the delivery of the water by the supplying system to the receiving system shall not be terminated until the agreement is modified to establish such provisions and such replacement water is available for delivery to or use by the receiving system.

(1) Upon a showing satisfactory to the department that any appropriation has been perfected in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the department to issue to the applicant a certificate stating such facts in a form to be prescribed by him, and such certificate shall thereupon be recorded with the department. Any original water right certificate issued, as provided by this chapter, shall be recorded with the department and thereafter, at the expense of the party receiving the same, be by the department transmitted to the county auditor of the county or counties where the distributing system or any part thereof is located, and be recorded in the office of such county auditor, and thereafter be transmitted to the owner thereof.

(2) If a public water system is providing water for municipal supply purposes under a certificated water right, the instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates specified in the certificate are deemed valid and perfected.

(3) If a federal reclamation project is providing water for reclamation purposes under a certificated water right, the instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates specified in the certificate are deemed valid and perfected.

(4) If an irrigation district is providing water for the purposes authorized by chapter 87.03 RCW under a certificated water right, the instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates specified in the certificate are deemed valid and perfected.

(5) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the public water system, federal reclamation project, or irrigation district must demonstrate to the department of ecology in accordance with water system plans and reviews pursuant to chapter 70.119A or 87.03 RCW, that the instantaneous and annual withdrawal rates will be necessary in order to accommodate the needs of its users during the most recent projection for a fifty-year period.

Sec. 24. RCW 90.14.140 and 1987 c 125 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) For the purposes of RCW 90.14.130 through 90.14.180, "sufficient cause" shall be defined as the nonuse of all or a portion of the water by the owner of a water right for a period of five or more consecutive years where such nonuse occurs as a result of:

- (a) Drought, or other unavailability of water;
- (b) Active service in the armed forces of the United States during military crisis;
- (c) Nonvoluntary service in the armed forces of the United States;
- (d) The operation of legal proceedings;

(e) Federal laws imposing land or water use restrictions either directly or through the voluntary enrollment of a landowner in a federal program implementing those laws, or acreage limitations, or production quotas;

(f) An elapse of time occurring while a request or application is processed for transferring or changing a water right;

(g) The implementation of practices or technologies or the installation or repair of facilities, including but not limited to water conveyance practices, technologies, or facilities, that are more efficient or more water use efficient than practices, technologies, or facilities previously used under the water right.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of RCW 90.14.130 through 90.14.180, there shall be no relinquishment of any water right:

(a) If such right is claimed for power development purposes under chapter 90.16 RCW and annual license fees are paid in accordance with chapter 90.16 RCW, or

(b) If such right is used for a standby or reserve water supply to be used in time of drought or other low flow period so long as withdrawal or diversion facilities are maintained in good operating condition for the use of such reserve or standby water supply, or

(c) If such right is claimed for a determined future development to take place (~~either~~) at any time within fifteen years of either July 1, 1967, or the most recent beneficial use of the water right, whichever date is later, or

(d) If such right is claimed for municipal water supply purposes under chapter 90.03 RCW, or

(e) If such waters are not subject to appropriation under the applicable provisions of RCW 90.40.030 as now or hereafter amended.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. Captions used in this act are not part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. Sections 4 through 12, and 15 of this act are each added to chapter 90.82 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 27. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 2300, by House Committee on Education (originally sponsored by Representatives Johnson, Keiser, Huff, Talcott, Hickel, Carrell, Linville, Lisk, Veloria, Skinner, Cairnes, Mason, Lambert, Mulliken, Backlund, Mitchell, Wolfe, Constantine, Kastama, Kenney, Gardner, Benson, Ogden, Butler, Carlson, Kessler, Costa, Anderson, Conway, Lantz and McDonald)

Relating to educational pathways

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Johnson requested a Scope and Object ruling on amendment number 825 to Substitute House Bill No. 2300. (For amendment, see Journal 29th Day, February 9, 1998.)

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Johnson, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order which challenges the Scope and Object on amendment 825 to Substitute House Bill No. 2300.

The Title of Substitute House Bill No. 2300 is "AN ACT Relating to educational pathways" the bill amends RCW 28A.630.885 which is part of the Commission on Student Learning law.

Amendment 825 would add a 1.5 million dollar appropriation to the bill to fund the school to work program not found in the RCW sections dealing with the Commission on Student Learning.

The amendment does not in any manner provide funding for the purposes of implementing Substitute House Bill No. 2300 and in fact specifically would dedicate all of its revenues to a program that is not part of Substitute House Bill No. 2300.

The Speaker finds that amendment 825 is beyond the Scope and Object of Substitute House Bill No. 2300.

Representative Johnson, your Point of Order is well taken.

With the consent of the House, amendment number 984 to Substitute House Bill No. 2300 was withdrawn.

Representative Keiser moved the adoption of amendment (899):

On page 5, line 31, after "work-based learning," insert "apprenticeships,"

On page 10, line 1, after "work-based learning," insert "apprenticeships,"

Representatives Keiser, Cole and Conway spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representative Johnson spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

Representative Hatfield demanded an electronic roll call vote and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be adoption of amendment 899 to Substitute House Bill No. 2300.

The Sergeant-at-Arms announced the Senate requested to be admitted to the chamber for joint session. The Speaker requested the Senate leadership be escorted to the Rostrum and that the members be admitted to the floor.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

Mr. Speaker: It is our privilege to again host the Medal of Merit Award Ceremony. We welcome President Owen, our colleagues from the Senate, and all guests who are with us today. It is a pleasure for me to give you, President Owen, the gavel to preside over this joint session.

JOINT SESSION MEDAL OF MERIT CEREMONY

The roll of the House and Senate was called and a quorum was present.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES

The President appointed a special committee to escort the Statewide Elected Officials and Supreme Court Justices from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber: Representatives Romero, O'Brien, Alexander and Dunn, and Senators Patterson, Haugen, Horn and Oke. The President introduced Secretary of State Ralph Munro, State Treasurer Mike Murphy, State Attorney General Christine O. Gregiore and Commissioner of Public Lands Jennifer Belcher, and Justice Charles Z. Smith, Justice Charles W. Johnson, Justice Gerry L. Alexander and Justice Richard B. Sanders.

The President appointed a special committee to escort Governor Locke from his chambers to the House Chamber: Representatives Conway and D. Schmidt, and Senators Loveland and Deccio. The President introduced Governor Locke.

The President appointed a special committee to escort United States Senator Slade Gorton to the Rostrum: Representative Boldt and Senator Snyder. The President introduced U.S. Senator Gorton.

The President appointed special committee to escort the Medal of Merit Honorees from the State Reception Room to the Rostrum: Representatives Dickerson, Veloria, Parlette and Huff, and Senators Kohl, Kline, Sellar and McDonald.

The President recognize former Governor Al Rosellini in the gallery.

The President requested the Sergeant-at-Arms escort the 1998 Medal of Merit awardees to the Rostrum: Dr. E. Donnell Thomas, Mr. Jacob Lawrence, Mr. Grady Auvil and Mrs. Clare McNaughton and Mr. Stan W. McNaughton.

The flags were escorted to the Rostrum by the Washington State Patrol Honor Guard and the National Anthem was performed by Rogers High School Concert Choir, Puyallup.

The prayer was offered by Dr. Kathleen Ross, President, Heritage College, 1995 Medal of Merit recipient.

The President stated the purpose of the Joint Session was to present Medal of Merit awards for the sixth time, honoring four deserving Washington State citizens. The President presented Governor Gary Locke and the Governor addressed the chamber.

The President introduced Secretary of State Ralph Munro who listed past recipients of the Medal of Merit.

MEDAL OF MERIT AWARDS

Mr. President: "The purpose of today's joint session is to present the Medal of Merit awards for the sixth time, honoring four deserving Washington state citizens. It is now my pleasure to present His Excellency, Governor Gary Locke."

Mr. Governor: "Thank you. It is indeed an honored occasion that we gather here today. I am very proud and honored to be governor of the State of Washington. There are times such as this when it is an especially humbling experience. For today we bestow the State's highest honor on four individuals who by anyone's standard have truly excelled. It is especially humbling to be in their presence to hear their individual stories. They have not only had successful careers but they have selflessly given of themselves to improve the lives of others. They have made a positive difference in the lives of the people in the State of Washington, all across America and all across the world.

Dr. Donnell Thomas helped develop the life-saving bone marrow transplant technique, and for that he won the Nobel Prize in 1990.

Grady Auvil is an orchardist who is a key leader and visionary in developing our State's renowned apple industry. He helped establish a research program focusing on alternatives to the use of pesticides, and long before it was fashionable, he shared his company's profits with his employees.

Jacob Lawrence, University of Washington professor emeritus, uses his artistic gift to communicate to the world about American culture and history and particularly the experiences of the African American people. His paintings are hanging in major museums like the Smithsonian and the Metropolitan Museum of Arts. His art has inspired us to reflect on everyday and personal struggles that make us stronger as a people.

And the late Stanley O. McNaughton, CEO of PEMCO, was a pillar of the Seattle community with his civic contributions and his decision that PEMCO donate 5% of its profits to charitable causes. This includes 1000 scholarships for students pursuing a career in education. He passed away just four days after he was selected to receive the Medal of Merit.

Donnell Thomas, Jacob Lawrence, Grady Auvil and Stan McNaughton are the types of Washingtonians that the forty-ninth legislature had in mind in 1986 when it created the Medal of Merit. And since then Medals of Merit have been bestowed upon only fourteen individuals, the last time in 1995.

Typically, a legislative session focuses on fixing what's wrong -- imposing tougher sentences on criminals, curbing pollution of the environment or reducing poverty and child abuse. But our quality of life equally depends on celebrating what's right or making examples of the most generous, the wisest, the most insightful and the kindest among us all. When we draw special attention to the people who embody these virtues, we encourage people from every walk of life, in every part of our State to emulate them.

So it is truly an honor to be here to be part of this momentous occasion as we celebrate four Washingtonians who are making the State of Washington, America and the world a better place to live, work and raise a family.

Thank you."

The President introduced Secretary of State Ralph Munro.

Mr. Munro: Our award winners today will join only a dozen plus two other Washingtonians who have received this high honor. They include:

The late Warren G. Magnuson, a member of this body, who was elected to the United States House of Representatives and member of the Senate of the United States.

Dorothy Bullit, a pioneer in the new communications medium of television, is a long time Washington philanthropist.

Orval Vogel, Washington State University, a cougar through and true, the man who fed the world with the famous Vogel super wheat.

Dr. Lester Sauvage, world-renowned heart surgeon and scientist who now leads the Hope Heart Clinic in Seattle.

Edward Carlson, who went from bellhop at the Olympic Hotel in Seattle to become the president of Western Hotels, United Airlines and the Seattle World Fair.

Dr. William Hutchinson, who in his Brother Fred's name, became a world leader in medical research.

Senator Henry M. Jackson, known to all of us as 'Scoop', was elected to the United States Senate in 1952.

Senator Julia Butler Hansen was the fiery filibuster from Kathlamet and the first woman to chair the House Appropriations Committee and member of the Interior Committee.

Dr. Beldine Skribbner was a physician and inventor who researched and developed kidney dialysis equipment.

Dr. Charles O'dgard was the longest serving president at the University of Washington.

James Reed Ellis, a Seattle advocate and attorney, founder of Metro, cleaned up western Washington waters and was the forward thinker of "forward thrust".

Francis Penrose Owen, a civil leader, a business executive, the organizer of numerous charitable activities was a long time regent at Washington State University.

Dr. Kathleen Ross is the founder of Heritage College and a respected educator.

Dr. Michael Copass, was the former director of the Harborview Emergency Center and medical director of the King County Medic One Program.

So there is no doubt today, that our recipients stand in fine company and we are fortunate to know them.

JACOB LAWRENCE

Secretary of State Ralph Munro introduced and honored Jacob Lawrence.

"On the rarest of occasions, someone comes into our midst who inspires us, who challenges us, who warns us of struggles past and who demands that we think of the future. Such of a man is Jacob Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence's career as a painter and educator has spanned the greater part of this century. In his six major historical series (Toussaint L'Ouverture, Frederick Douglass, Harriet Tubman, Migration, John Brown and Struggle), as well as individual works focusing on scenes of community life, Mr. Lawrence acts a chronicler of both the American and the African-American scene, rendering the situation in human rather than heroic terms. His work has been the subject of three major retrospectives since 1960 and has been collected in many major museums and corporations throughout the world.

Mr. Lawrence began teaching in the late 1940s at Black Mountain College in North Carolina. He worked at the Pratt Institute in New York during the 50's and 60's. He was appointed full professor at the University of Washington in 1971 and continued to teach there until 1983. At the University, Jacob Lawrence was known for his ability to offer critiques of work that were both to the point and respectful of students' or colleagues' feelings. He painted in his studio in the art building, sharing his works in progress with students and providing an example of how a professional artist goes about his or her job. Mr. Lawrence continues to meet with students both at local events and in his travels. Jacob Lawrence is a man with a strong sense of community and a modest sense of self, and these beliefs have shaped the content of his work and tenor of his teaching style.

Ladies and Gentlemen, may I present painter Jacob Lawrence."

The Governor presented the Medal of Merit and certificate to Mr. Lawrence.

COMMENTS OF JACOB LAWRENCE

"This is great occasion for me. To realize your struggles, how you have struggle that you continue to go through to make a better life for all of us. The reason I mention struggle is because of a theme I have been involved in throughout my career. I think struggle is a very beautiful thing to go through. As I sat here looking at your faces and I read about you and what your accomplishments and what you are striving to accomplish, I have a great deal of appreciation for this struggle. I continue to try to fully portray in my work. This is a great country and I think of people like Washington, Fredrick Douglas, Lincoln, John Brown and people who have contributed so much to our growth and to our development. A few years ago we had a great controversy in regards to art for the Capitol. I think out of this came a great deal of appreciation of we the artists try to do in our works. Many of you supported us in this. It was a few years prior to that time I served on the Washington State Arts Commission, and I know what the Commission had to do to prompt and to achieve something of value to the community. I want to thank you for this award. It is an honor I shall always appreciate and value throughout my life.

Thank you very much."

DR. E. DONNELL THOMAS

Justice Gerry Alexander introduced and honored Dr. E. Donnell Thomas.

"In the course of my public and private life, I have introduced many individuals that many events but I must say that in all that time, I have never been so in awe of a person I was about to introduce as I am today. Neither have I ever felt more honored than I do now in being permitted the privilege to introduce such a distinguished recipient of the Washington State Medal of Merit as Dr. E. Donnell Thomas.

Dr. Thomas' curriculum vita listed so many achievements, awards and honors that one hardly knows where to begin the introduction. I am tempted as a loyal alumnus of the University of Washington to tell you first that Dr. Thomas is a professor emeritus at the University of Washington School of Medicine. Or perhaps I could begin by telling you he was elected to the Washington Statehood Centennial Hall of Honor. Or that he had been presented with the nation's highest scientific honor, the National Medal of Science at ceremonies at the White House.

But all of those great honors pale in comparison to one he received in 1990 in Stockholm Sweden, directly from the hand of the King of Sweden. It was of course the Nobel Prize for Medicine. This award was given to Dr. Thomas in recognition of his pioneering work in the use of bone marrow transplantation to treat certain cancers and other blood related and genetic diseases. Appropriately, his Nobel Prize is inscribed with these words: 'For paving the way for transplantation in men.' Incidentally, Governor, this morning Dr. Thomas told me that when one receives the Nobel Prize from the King of Sweden they are expected to bow. I told him that was not required here. However, in the event that he should do that, he told me that the King also in that very democratic nation bows back to the recipient.

Like many of our state citizens, Dr. Thomas is not a native Washingtonian. Our honoree hails from the State of Texas where he received his Bachelors and Masters degrees from the University of Texas. It was also there that he met his future wife, Dorothy. She is here today with their son, Jeffrey Thomas, who is involved in the real estate in Seattle. The Thomas' son Jeffrey, and his wife Debbie and son Alex are here with them. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas also have two other children, both of whom are physicians. One is in private practice of medicine in the State of Montana and the other, a daughter is a professor of medicine at the University of New Mexico and is doing AIDS research at that institution. Dr. Thomas received his medical degree from Harvard University in 1946. After completing his internship and residency in Boston, he stayed in that city to do post-doctoral work at MIT. It was at MIT that he began to investigate marrow transplantation. In 1956 while serving as physician and chief at a hospital in Cooperstown, New York, he began the first person to demonstrate that marrow could be safely infused into a human patient. It was at that hospital that he and his team first treated patients that were effected with acute leukemia or aplasti enema with marrow transplants.

Good fortune smiled on the State of Washington in 1963 when Dr. Thomas moved to Seattle to become the first head of the division of Oncology at the University of Washington School of Medicine. It was there that he created the original Seattle Marrow Transplant team that continued to refine the transplantation procedure he had early developed in the State of New York. When the University's program moved to the world-famous Fred Hutchinson Center in 1974, Dr. Thomas became the director of the Center's division of clinical research, a position he maintained until he stepped down from the administrative post in 1989 to become director emeritus of that division. To this day he continues to pursue his research at the Hutchinson Center and indeed he is writing a book on marrow transplantation.

The Washington State Medal of Merit is awarded to a person who has been distinguished by exceptionally meritorious conduct in performing outstanding services to the people and the state of Washington. Dr. Thomas fills that bill perfectly. For fifteen years, Dr. Thomas headed the largest marrow transplant center in the world at the Hutchinson Center. The clinical team he assembled resolved many of the problems surrounding the complex transplantation procedure and because of his work, and that of his colleagues, tens of thousands of transplants are performed world-wide each year. At the Hutchinson Center, over seven thousand have been performed. He told me that for some diseases the transplant success rate exceeds eighty percent and is approaching ninety percent. This is just the beginning of this work.

Governor Locke, it is my great privilege to present to you and to all of those assembled here today Dr. E. Donnell Thomas, a citizen of our state who in a brilliant career has harnessed science to better the lot of the citizens of this state, our nation and indeed the whole world."

The Governor presented the Medal of Merit and Certificate to Dr. Thomas.

COMMENTS OF DR. E. DONNELL THOMAS

"Thank you very much for this honor. I thank Governor Locke, Secretary of State Munro, Judge Alexander, and all the members of the House and Senate for honoring me and my colleagues from the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center. The Center opened twenty-two years ago and largely through the efforts of Senator Warren G. Magnuson and Dr. Bill Hutchinson. I am really pleased to follow them in receiving this honor from the State of Washington.

This is an exciting time in medical research. It has been an exciting time over the last twenty two years that has seen the Hutchinson Center become one of the leading cancer research centers in the world under the leadership of Dr. Robert Day who I think is here this morning. But the progress we have seen in the last twenty years is nothing like what we will see in the next twenty years. We are now understanding so much about cell behavior and cell operations at the molecular level that we must continue this work.

As you may know, we compete nationally for much of our funding from the Federal Government. I would like to thank Senator Gorton for his efforts on our behalf. At the same time, we have had support of the people from the State of Washington, beginning in a small way and increasing steadily. On behalf of all the faculty and workers at the Hutchinson Center, I would like to thank the people of Washington for their support of the Cancer Center in the past twenty years and their growing support in the next twenty years.

Thank you very much."

GRADY AUVIL

Speaker of the House Clyde Ballard introduced and honored Mr. Grady Auvil.

"We have spent many hours here in the last few days and at times we did not all agree. What a wonderful privilege it is today to be able to take part in something that quite frankly is overwhelming to me. We are blessed with these individuals in the State of Washington and the incredible impact they have had, not only on our lives but upon the lives of everyone in the United States and throughout the world. This is a great honor.

Grady Auvil is known throughout North Central Washington and all of Washington as a leader in fruit production. At age ninety-two, he and his wife Lillian still spend time in the orchard working and caring for the fruit and their employees. He is truly a pillar in the fruit industry. I was given a little history on Grady this morning. I was not aware that in 1923, George Munro, the father of our current Secretary of State, Ralph Munro, and Grady Auvil were roommates at Washington State University.

Grady started farming in 1928. His first major success was in 1940 with the introduction of Red Haven peaches. He then followed with Red Gold Nectarines in the 1960's, Rainier Cherries in the 1970's and has led the way in the apple industry with production of Granny Smiths, Washington's third leading apple. Although, they too will soon be replaced by another Auvil innovation, the Fuji.

Grady is known for his success in agriculture but his expertise is not limited to just apples. As a founding member of the Washington State Tree Fruit Research Commission, Grady has invented and introduced new approaches and ideas involving grafting, irrigation, variety and harvest. His profit sharing plans for his employees have not only enhanced his success they have created a solid working relationship with the most important people in his business – his employees. It cannot be stated clearly enough that Washington State would not be the World leader in apple production today without Grady Auvil. His foresight, his knowledge and his dedication have enabled Washington fruit to compete on a global market and our State's economy has felt his impact.

Throughout his years of success, Grady has remained humble, dedicated and caring. In fact, when I called Grady to invite him here to this ceremony today, he asked me in the typical 'Grady' fashion, "Is it okay if I bring Lillian?"

Named Grower of the Year in 1954, 1981 and 1990, it is my pleasure to introduce one of Washington State's 1998 Medal of Merit recipients, Grady Auvil."

COMMENTS OF GRADY AUVIL

Mr. Auvil: "I am very honored to receive this medal and will always appreciate it. I'm not a good speaker, I'm not sure I can read. Since I've grown fruit all my life I would like to talk a little about farmers.

When man was plowing with horses, less than a hundred years ago, everyone was an organic farmer as there were no farm chemicals at that time. The problem was it took half the citizens to grow enough food for themselves and the other half. Some increase in production was realized and machinery began to replace horses. Real production increase came with chemical use. The main use of chemicals began after World War II and was prevalent in the 1950's and 60's. Probably the greatest food researcher in the world is Bruce Ames, the food expert at UCLA. He found progenisin to be a cause of cancer and originally it was found in farm chemicals. With further exploration, he found that over 98 percent of carcinogenic material consumed by people are found in the fruits and vegetables themselves. Plants had developed toxic materials over thousands of years to protect themselves from insects. Now why would people who eat a diet high in fruits and vegetables be less apt to have cancer? The next discovery was that fruits and vegetables also contain antioxidants and flavonoids, which circulate through the bloodstream and tend to knock out cancer as it begins. There is no question that those of us who eat more fruits and vegetables have less cancer and are healthier.

Farmers deserve a word in their favor. There are now less than one percent of our citizens producing over 90 percent of our fruit while constantly being deprived of chemicals. Farmers are also being buried in rules and regulations of how they should be conducting their farming. A recent cancer research project gave apples a boost. This project tested on nine thousand citizens over twenty five years showed that those eating the most apples have less than half as much lung cancer as those eating the fewest apples.

I thank you for giving me a few minutes of your time and would remind you that behind every good man is a better woman. I wish to introduce my wife Lillian."

STANLEY O. McNAUGHTON

The President of the Senate, Brad Owen introduced Mrs. Clare McNaughton and Stan W. McNaughton, and honored Stanley O. McNaughton.

Mr. President: "Our next presentation of the Medal of Merit is exceptional because it is the first time that the award will be presented posthumously. We did not have the opportunity to tell Stanley O. McNaughton that he was among the recipients. His untimely death came just four days after the award committee had officially approved his nomination. We are honored to have twenty-four members of Stanley O. McNaughton's immediate family with us today.

Chief among the family is Stanley's gracious wife Clare. It has been Clare's choice through fifty-five years of marriage to make her first commitment to home and family including three sons, three daughters and eleven grandchildren. Throughout she supported Stanley O.'s dedication to community, to business and to charitable endeavors.

Before I introduce Stanley W. McNaughton, who with his mother will accept the Medal of Merit for his father, I would like to say a few words about my personal debt to Stanley O. He was a chief supporter of my efforts to stamp out the tragedy of drug abuse in Washington State. Stanley O. was also an enthusiastic partner with Norm Maleng and myself in opposing Initiative 685, the proposal that would effectively legalize drugs in our State. His support against such efforts was indicative of his abhorrence of drugs and anything that threatened the safety and the welfare of our children. I cannot thank him enough for his leadership in supporting his community, education and safety of our children.

It is now my great pleasure to tell you about Stan W. McNaughton who recently became President and Chief Operating Officer of PEMCO Insurance Companies. As a young businessman, he served six years as a CPA with Price Waterhouse. For the next seven years, he distinguishes himself in the world of newspapers as corporate treasurer for the Everett Herald, a subsidiary of the Washington Post. Then in 1986, he joined PEMCO Financial Services as Executive Assistant to the President and later became Executive Vice President.

As I had the pleasure of visiting PEMCO I was totally impressed with the very position which permeated throughout and each and every employee. This was truly representative of Stanley O.'s corporate philosophy and is carried on by my good friend Stanley W. In addition to PEMCO, Stanley W. is a devoted family man. He too is deeply involved in education and other children issues. His wife Cathy and his two children are here today.

It is my great pleasure to introduce to you Mrs. Clare McNaughton and Stanley W. McNaughton to accept the award posthumously for the great Stanley O. McNaughton."

Mr. McNaughton: "Thank you, Brad. I thank the members of the award committee and the Legislative body. The timing was not ideal but something positive came of it. We found out about this award several days after Dad's passing and we had gone through that lowest point. Finding out about this and the number of others things said about our father has allowed us to replace a lot of that loss with pride. This was very well received. Thank you.

It is appropriate that I am up here speaking on behalf of my mother because she delegated to him for about fifty-five years. Dad was a complex individual. He was really bigger than life. A lot of people said he was "Stanley O." He was Stan. I think those who knew him knew what that were about. He had four families: he had his immediate family, my brothers and sisters and my mother, six kids plus Mom. He had his immediate family – eleven brothers and sisters and his mother who are almost ninety-eight, still alive. He had his PEMCO family with over one thousand individuals, most of whom he knew by first name, he knew something about their histories and he would always stop and take time to talk with them. And then he had his community family and that's what I think is represented here today.

He believed in free enterprise. There was no doubt he was a professor of it, he consistently professed it but he didn't necessarily defend every institution it spawned. He also had a simple business philosophy, and you stand back and watch what it is about. It is somewhat unique but it does seem to make sense. Your customer is first. And to take care of that customer you take care of your employee. And then you reinvest in your community because that is where your customers and employees live. And if you do that, then the owners are rewarded with more than money. That was Dad's business philosophy. He followed that throughout his life.

I worked with him for eleven years. It didn't take long to recognize that he too had a struggle, a theme as Jacob mentioned for quest. His quest was to consistently help take care of people who were disadvantaged for no fault of their own. And that theme consistently prevailed everywhere we went. He also believed that corporations should raise the quality of life in the communities they served. Dad and I went to a lot of conferences together. We traveled around the country and even if he was a speaker or at the end of the session when there was a chance to speak off the floor, he always raised that issue. I would just wait for him to raise it. He would raise his hand and say he wanted to raise one more item today. He would leave those closing thoughts with those people.

PEMCO has giving since the sixties, five percent of its pre-tax profits back to the community and I assure you it will continue that legacy.

Many wonderful commits have been said about Dad and I am going to share a couple with you. One friend said, "He was not one of a million. He was one of a kind." Another said, "He treated everyone with dignity. He listened." A close family friend gave me this advice after Dad's passing, "Those who live by principles and who have courage, have critics. Those who compromise, don't. Your dad had many critics. Occasionally you should look over your shoulder and decide if your critics are the ones you are proud of. Your father was proud of his."

On behalf of my father and my family, thank you."

Mr. President: "It is obvious that the State of Washington is truly blessed by its people and exceptionally so by the ones we have an opportunity to recognize here today. We truly appreciate what you have done for the State of Washington and our whole country. You are very much appreciated."

The President asked the special committees to come forward and escort the medal of merit recipients, Senator Gorton, Governor Locke, the State Elected Officials and the Supreme Court Justices to the State Reception Room.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Lisk, the Joint Session was dissolved.

The President returned the gavel to the Speaker of the House. The Speaker requested the Sergeant-at-Arms to escort the President of the Senate and members of the Senate from the House Chamber.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the fourth order of business.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 41.24.160 and 1996 c 57 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a fire fighter, or a reserve officer provided a benefit under this section, dies as the result of injuries received, or sickness contracted in consequence or as the result of the performance of his or her duties, the board of trustees shall order and direct the payment of the sum of ~~((two))~~ one hundred fifty-two thousand dollars to his widow or her widower, or if there is no widow or widower, then to his or her dependent child or children, or if there is no dependent child or children, then to his or her parents or either of them, and the sum of one thousand two hundred seventy-five dollars per month to his widow or her widower during his or her life together with the additional monthly sum of one hundred ten dollars for each child of the member, unemancipated or under eighteen years of age, dependent upon the member for support at the time of his or her death, to a maximum total of two thousand five hundred fifty dollars per month.

(2) If the widow or widower does not have legal custody of one or more dependent children of the deceased fire fighter or if, after the death of the fire fighter, legal custody of such child or children passes from the widow or widower to another person, any payment on account of such child or children not in the legal custody of the widow or widower shall be made to the person or persons having legal custody of such child or children. Such payments on account of such child or children shall be subtracted from the amount to which such widow or widower would have been entitled had such widow or widower had legal custody of all the children and the widow or widower shall receive the remainder after such payments on account of such child or children have been subtracted. If there is no widow or widower, or the widow or widower dies while there are children, unemancipated or under eighteen years of age, then the amount of eight hundred twenty-five dollars per month shall be paid for the youngest or only child together with an additional seventy dollars per month for each additional of such children to a maximum of one thousand six hundred fifty dollars per month until they become emancipated or reach the age of eighteen years; and if there are no widow or widower, child, or children entitled thereto, then to his or her parents or either of them the sum of eight hundred twenty-five dollars per month for life, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the board that the parents, or either of them, were dependent on the deceased for their support at the time of his or her death. In any instance in subsections (1) and (2) of this section, if the widow or widower, child or children, or the parents, or either of them, marries while receiving such pension the person so marrying shall thereafter receive no further pension from the fund.

(3) In the case provided for in this section, the monthly payment provided may be converted in whole or in part into a lump sum payment, not in any case to exceed twelve thousand dollars, equal or proportionate, as the case may be, to the actuarial equivalent of the monthly payment in which event the monthly payments shall cease in whole or in part accordingly or proportionately. Such conversion may be made either upon written application to the state board and shall rest in the discretion of the state board; or the state board is authorized to make, and authority is hereby given it to make, on its own motion, lump sum payments, equal or proportionate, as the case may be, to the value of the annuity then remaining in full satisfaction of claims due to dependents. Within the rule aforesaid the amount and value of the lump sum payment may be agreed upon between the applicant and the state board. Any person receiving a monthly payment under this section on June 29, 1961, may elect, within two years, to convert such payments into a lump sum payment as provided in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

On page 3, beginning on line 5, strike all material through line 14.

On page 3, after line 14, insert the following:

"Sec. 2. RCW 13.34.130 and 1997 c 280 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030; after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a person who is related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(4)(a) and with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. Placement of the child with a relative under this subsection shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:

(i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;

(ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child; or

(iii) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger((; or

~~(iv) The extent of the child's disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home)).~~

(2) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the court finds it is recommended by the supervising agency, that it is in the best interests of the child and that it is not reasonable to provide further services to reunify the family because the existence of aggravated circumstances make it unlikely that services will effectuate the return of the child to the child's parents in the near future. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(a) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;

(b) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;

(c) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;

(d) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;

(e) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;

(f) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim.

(3) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; or long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(4) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's home, subject to review by the court.

(5) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

(viii) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed."

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 98-4682, by Representatives Sehlin, Veloria and D. Schmidt

WHEREAS, 1998 marks the one hundredth anniversary of the USS Olympia's entry into Manila as Admiral George Dewey's Flagship in the United States Navy's Far East Squadron, firing the first shot at the famous Battle of Manila Bay, the Philippine Islands, on May 1, 1898, freeing the Philippines from Spanish rule; and

WHEREAS, The battle effectively erased the Spanish fleet and heralded the arrival of the United States as a significant world naval power; and

WHEREAS, The Olympia also made visible the American presence across Asian and Caribbean waters; and

WHEREAS, The Olympia helped safely escort supply convoys across the Atlantic during World War I, and delivered American forces to Marmansk, Russia in June 1918 as part of an Allied plan to contain the Russian Revolution; and

WHEREAS, The Olympia helped police the eastern Mediterranean and Adriatic Seas, and brought much needed medical aid and supplies to sufferers of typhus and small pox in Regusa, Dalmatia; and

WHEREAS, One of the Olympia's final and most honorable acts of service was the delivery of the body and casket of the "Unknown Soldier" from World War I to be entombed at Arlington and remembered and mourned by generations of Americans; and

WHEREAS, Despite four years of service, the Olympia had no silver service set, citizens of Washington sprang into a fund-raising frenzy and were able to present the Olympia with a stunning silver service set upon return to the United States in New York Harbor in September 1899; and

WHEREAS, After decommissioning, the silver service was moved by the Navy to another vessel; and

WHEREAS, The Navy returned the silver service set to the City of Olympia and State of Washington in 1930; and

WHEREAS, The silver service is still on display, and used daily in our governor's mansion; and

WHEREAS, The Olympia, after decommissioning on December 9, 1922, remains the oldest American steel ship afloat from America's turn-of-the-century "white fleet" and has survived vandals and time, and been restored to its original configuration as a symbolic museum ship at Philadelphia; and

WHEREAS, On September 11, 1957, the Olympia was transferred to the Cruiser Olympia Association as the last living memorial of the Spanish-American War at Penn's Landing, Philadelphia Harbor; and

WHEREAS, Since 1984 a new USS Olympia has served to defend the freedom of the Pacific, the fast attack submarine and her crew have served with honor and distinction, inspiring a sense of national pride and debate amongst its namesake citizens;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives officially celebrate the centennial of the Battle of Manila Bay, and express its gratitude to the sailors and marines who served and sacrificed with honor to propel the USS Olympia to the forefront of the nation's naval traditions. We also honor the women and men of the United States Armed Forces who have actively served on, and in support of, both USS Olympia vessels.

SSB 5636 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Natural Resources & Parks: Revising health inspection warrants for local health officers in response to pollution in commercial or recreational shellfish harvesting areas. Reported by Committee on Natural Resources

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 70.118.030 and 1977 ex.s. c 133 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Local boards of health shall identify failing septic tank drainfield systems in the normal manner and will use reasonable effort to determine new failures. The local health officer, environmental health director, or equivalent officer may apply for an administrative search warrant to a court official authorized to issue a criminal search warrant. The warrant may only be applied for after the local health officer or the health officer's designee has requested inspection of the person's property under the specific administrative plan required in this section, and the person has refused the health officer or the health officer's designee access to the person's property. Timely notice must be given to any affected person that a warrant is being requested and that the person may be present at any court proceeding to consider the requested search warrant. The court official may issue the warrant upon probable cause. A request for a search warrant must show the inspection, examination, test, or sampling is in response to pollution in commercial or recreational shellfish harvesting areas or pollution in fresh water. A specific administrative plan must be developed expressly in response to the pollution. The local health officer, environmental health director, or equivalent officer shall submit the plan to the court as part of the justification for the warrant, along with specific evidence showing that it is reasonable to believe pollution is coming from the septic system on the property to be accessed for inspection. The plan must include each of the following elements:

- (a) The overall goal of the inspection;
- (b) The location and identification by address of the properties being authorized for inspection;
- (c) Requirements for giving the person owning the property and the person occupying the property if it is someone other than the owner, notice of the plan, its provisions, and times of any inspections;
- (d) The survey procedures to be used in the inspection;
- (e) The criteria that would be used to define an on-site sewage system failure; and
- (f) The follow-up actions that would be pursued once an on-site sewage system failure has been identified and confirmed.

(2) Discretionary judgment will be made in implementing corrections by specifying nonwater-carried sewage disposal devices or other alternative methods of treatment and effluent disposal as a measure of ameliorating existing substandard conditions. Local regulations shall be consistent with the intent and purposes stated (~~herein~~) in this section."

SSB 6550 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Health & Long-Term Care: Certifying chemical dependency professionals. Reported by Committee on Health Care

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature recognizes chemical dependency professionals as discrete health professionals. Chemical dependency professional certification serves the public interest.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Certification" means a voluntary process recognizing an individual who qualifies by examination and meets established educational prerequisites, and which protects the title of practice.

(2) "Certified chemical dependency professional" means an individual certified in chemical dependency counseling, under this chapter.

(3) "Chemical dependency counseling" means employing the core competencies of chemical dependency counseling to assist or attempt to assist an alcohol or drug addicted person to develop and maintain abstinence from alcohol and other mood-altering drugs.

(4) "Committee" means the chemical dependency certification advisory committee established under this chapter.

(5) "Core competencies of chemical dependency counseling" means competency in the nationally recognized knowledge, skills, and attitudes of professional practice, including assessment and diagnosis of chemical dependency, chemical dependency treatment planning and referral, patient and family education in the disease of chemical dependency, individual and group counseling with alcoholic and drug addicted individuals, relapse prevention counseling, and case management, all oriented to assist alcoholic and drug addicted patients to achieve and maintain abstinence from mood-altering substances and develop independent support systems.

(6) "Department" means the department of health.

(7) "Health profession" means a profession providing health services regulated under the laws of this state.

(8) "Secretary" means the secretary of health or the secretary's designee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. No person may represent oneself as a certified chemical dependency professional or use any title or description of services of certified chemical dependency professional without applying for certification, meeting the required qualifications, and being certified by the department of health, unless otherwise exempted by this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to authorize the use of the title "certified chemical dependency professional" when treating patients in settings other than programs approved under chapter 70.96A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or restrict:

(1) The practice by an individual licensed, certified, or registered under the laws of this state and performing services within the authorized scope of practice;

(2) The practice by an individual employed by the government of the United States while engaged in the performance of duties prescribed by the laws of the United States;

(3) The practice by a person who is a regular student in an educational program approved by the secretary, and whose performance of services is pursuant to a regular course of instruction or assignments from an instructor and under the general supervision of the instructor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. In addition to any other authority provided by law, the secretary has the authority to:

(1) Adopt rules under chapter 34.05 RCW necessary to implement this chapter, in consultation with the committee;

(2) Establish all certification, examination, and renewal fees in accordance with RCW 43.70.250;

(3) Establish forms and procedures necessary to administer this chapter;

(4) Issue certificates to applicants who have met the education, training, and examination requirements for certification and to deny certification to applicants who do not meet the minimum qualifications, except that proceedings concerning the denial of certification based upon unprofessional conduct or impairment shall be governed by the uniform disciplinary act, chapter 18.130 RCW;

(5) Hire clerical, administrative, investigative, and other staff as needed to implement this chapter, and hire individuals certified under this chapter to serve as examiners for any practical examinations;

(6) Determine minimum education requirements and evaluate and designate those educational programs that will be accepted as proof of eligibility to take a qualifying examination for applicants for certification;

(7) Prepare, grade, and administer, or determine the nature of, and supervise the grading and administration of, examinations for applicants for certification;

(8) Determine whether alternative methods of training are equivalent to formal education, and establish forms, procedures, and criteria for evaluation of an applicant's alternative training to determine the applicant's eligibility to take any qualifying examination;

(9) Determine which states have credentialing requirements equivalent to those of this state, and issue certificates to individuals credentialed in those states without examinations;

(10) Define and approve any experience requirement for certification;

(11) Implement and administer a program for consumer education;

(12) Adopt rules implementing a continuing competency program;

(13) Maintain the official department record of all applicants and certificated individuals;

(14) Establish by rule the procedures for an appeal of an examination failure; and

(15) Establish disclosure requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The secretary shall keep an official record of all proceedings. A part of the record shall consist of a register of all applicants for certification under this chapter and the results of each application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The secretary shall appoint a chemical dependency certification advisory committee to further the purposes of this chapter. The committee shall be composed of seven members, one member initially appointed for a term of one year, three for a term of two years, and three for a term of three years. Subsequent appointments shall be for terms of three years. No person may serve as a member of the committee for more than two consecutive terms. Members of the committee shall be residents of this state. The committee shall be composed of four certified chemical dependency professionals; one chemical dependency treatment program director; one physician licensed under chapter 18.71 or 18.57 RCW who is certified in addiction medicine or a licensed or certified mental health practitioner; and one member of the public who has received chemical dependency counseling.

(2) The secretary may remove any member of the committee for cause as specified by rule. In the case of a vacancy, the secretary shall appoint a person to serve for the remainder of the unexpired term.

(3) The committee shall meet at the times and places designated by the secretary and shall hold meetings during the year as necessary to provide advice to the director. The committee may elect a chair and a vice-chair. A majority of the members currently serving shall constitute a quorum.

(4) Each member of the committee shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as authorized in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. In addition, members of the committee shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240 when engaged in the authorized business of the committee.

(5) The director of the department of social and health services division of alcohol and substance abuse or the director's designee, shall serve as an ex officio member of the committee.

(6) The secretary, members of the committee, or individuals acting on their behalf are immune from suit in any action, civil or criminal, based on any certification or disciplinary proceedings or other official acts performed in the course of their duties.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) The secretary shall issue a certificate to any applicant who demonstrates to the secretary's satisfaction that the following requirements have been met:

(a) Completion of an educational program approved by the secretary or successful completion of alternate training that meets established criteria;

(b) Successful completion of an approved examination, based on core competencies of chemical dependency counseling; and

(c) Successful completion of an experience requirement that establishes fewer hours of experience for applicants with higher levels of relevant education. In meeting any experience requirement established under this subsection, the secretary may not require more than one thousand five hundred hours of experience in chemical dependency counseling for applicants who are licensed under chapter 18.83 RCW or under chapter 18.79 RCW as advanced registered nurse practitioners.

(2) The secretary shall establish by rule what constitutes adequate proof of meeting the criteria.

(3) Applicants are subject to the grounds for denial of a certificate or issuance of a conditional certificate under chapter 18.130 RCW.

(4) Certified chemical dependency professionals shall not be required to be registered under chapter 18.19 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. The secretary may establish by rule the standards and procedures for approval of educational programs and alternative training. The secretary may utilize or contract with individuals or organizations having expertise in the profession or in education to assist in the evaluations. The secretary shall establish by rule the standards and procedures for revocation of approval of education programs. The standards and procedures set shall apply equally to educational programs and training in the United States and in foreign jurisdictions. The secretary may establish a fee for educational program evaluations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. (1) The date and location of examinations shall be established by the secretary. Applicants who have been found by the secretary to meet the other requirements for certification shall be scheduled for the next examination following the filing of the application. The secretary shall establish by rule the examination application deadline.

(2) The secretary or the secretary's designees shall examine each applicant, by means determined most effective, on subjects appropriate to the scope of practice, as applicable. Such examinations shall be limited to the purpose of determining whether the applicant possesses the minimum skill and knowledge necessary to practice competently.

(3) The examination papers, all grading of the papers, and the grading of any practical work shall be preserved for a period of not less than one year after the secretary has made and published the decisions. All examinations shall be conducted under fair and wholly impartial methods.

(4) Any applicant failing to make the required grade in the first examination may take up to three subsequent examinations as the applicant desires upon prepaying a fee determined by the secretary under RCW 43.70.250 for each subsequent examination. Upon failing four examinations, the secretary may invalidate the original application and require such remedial education before the person may take future examinations.

(5) The secretary may approve an examination prepared or administered by a private testing agency or association of licensing agencies for use by an applicant in meeting the certification requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. Applications for certification shall be submitted on forms provided by the secretary. The secretary may require any information and documentation that reasonably relates to the need to determine whether the applicant meets the criteria for certification provided for in this chapter and chapter 18.130 RCW. Each applicant shall pay a fee determined by the secretary under RCW 43.70.250. The fee shall accompany the application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. (1) Within two years after the effective date of this section, the secretary shall waive the examination and certify a person who pays a fee and produces a valid chemical dependency counselor certificate of qualification from the department of social and health services.

(2) Within two years after the effective date of this section, the secretary shall waive the examination and certify applicants who are licensed under chapter 18.83 RCW or under chapter 18.79 RCW as advanced registered nurse practitioners who pay a fee, who document completion of courses substantially equivalent to those required of chemical dependency counselors working in programs approved under chapter 70.96A RCW on the effective date of this section, and who provide evidence of one thousand five hundred hours of experience in chemical dependency counseling.

(3) It is the intent of the legislature that the credentialing of chemical dependency professionals be established solely by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. An applicant holding a credential in another state may be certified to practice in this state without examination if the secretary determines that the other state's credentialing standards are substantially equivalent to the standards in this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. The uniform disciplinary act, chapter 18.130 RCW, shall govern the issuance and denial of certificates, unauthorized practice, and the discipline of persons certified under this chapter. The secretary shall be the disciplining authority under this chapter.

Sec. 16. RCW 18.130.040 and 1997 c 392 s 516, 1997 c 334 s 14, 1997 c 285 s 13, and 1997 c 275 s 2 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) This chapter applies only to the secretary and the boards and commissions having jurisdiction in relation to the professions licensed under the chapters specified in this section. This chapter does not apply to any business or profession not licensed under the chapters specified in this section.

(2)(a) The secretary has authority under this chapter in relation to the following professions:

(i) Dispensing opticians licensed under chapter 18.34 RCW;

(ii) Naturopaths licensed under chapter 18.36A RCW;

(iii) Midwives licensed under chapter 18.50 RCW;

FORTY SIXTH DAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1998

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

---

NOTICE: Formatting and page numbering in this document may be different from that in the original published version.

FORTY SEVENTH DAY

AFTERNOON SESSION

House Chamber, Olympia, February 27, 1998

The House was called to order at 1:30 p.m. by the Speaker (Representative Pennington presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Stephanie Bryan and Erich Davis. Prayer was offered by Pastor Judy Schultz, Crown Hill United Methodist Church, Seattle.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

HOUSE BILL NO. 2417, by Representatives Pennington, Mielke, Hatfield, Doumit, Ogden, Carlson, Alexander and Hankins

Authorizing local vehicle license fees adopted to fund specific projects.

The bill was read the second time. There being no objection, Substitute House Bill No. 2417 was substituted for House Bill No. 2417 and the substitute bill was placed on the second reading calendar.

Substitute House Bill No. 2417 was read the second time.

Representative Mielke moved the adoption of amendment (1018):

On page 1, line 6 after "county, or" strike "of" and insert "subject to subsection (7) of this section."

On page 2, line 20 after "(7)" strike all material through line 31 and insert the following:
"For purposes of this section, a "qualifying city or town" means a city or town residing within a county having a population of greater than seventy-five thousand in which is located all or part of a national monument. A qualifying city or town may impose the fee authorized in subsection (1) subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The city or town may impose the fee only if authorized to do so by a majority of voters voting at a general or special election on a proposition for that purpose. At a minimum, the ballot measure shall contain: (i) a description of the transportation project proposed for funding, properly identified by mileposts or other designations that specify the project parameters; (ii) the proposed number of months or years necessary to fund the city or town's share of the project cost; and (iii) the amount of fee to be imposed for the project.

(b) The city or town may not impose a fee that, if combined with the county fee, exceeds fifteen dollars. If a county imposes or increases a fee under this section that, if combined with the fee imposed by a city or town, exceeds fifteen dollars, the city or town fee shall be reduced or eliminated as needed so that in no city or town does the combined fee exceed fifteen dollars. All revenues from county-imposed fees shall be distributed as called for in RCW 82.80.020(1).

(c) Any fee imposed by a city or town under this section shall expire at the end of the term of months or years provided in the ballot measure, or when the city or town's bonded indebtedness on the project is retired, whichever is sooner."

Representative Mielke spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Pennington and Fisher spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Kessler, Representative Costa was excused.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 82.04.050 and 1997 c 127 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "Sale at retail" or "retail sale" means every sale of tangible personal property (including articles produced, fabricated, or imprinted) to all persons irrespective of the nature of their business and including, among others, without limiting the scope hereof, persons who install, repair, clean, alter, improve, construct, or decorate real or personal property of or for consumers other than a sale to a person who presents a resale certificate under RCW 82.04.470 and who:

(a) Purchases for the purpose of resale as tangible personal property in the regular course of business without intervening use by such person; or

(b) Installs, repairs, cleans, alters, imprints, improves, constructs, or decorates real or personal property of or for consumers, if such tangible personal property becomes an ingredient or component of such real or personal property without intervening use by such person; or

(c) Purchases for the purpose of consuming the property purchased in producing for sale a new article of tangible personal property or substance, of which such property becomes an ingredient or component or is a chemical used in processing, when the primary purpose of such chemical is to create a chemical reaction directly through contact with an ingredient of a new article being produced for sale; or

(d) Purchases for the purpose of consuming the property purchased in producing ferrosilicon which is subsequently used in producing magnesium for sale, if the primary purpose of such property is to create a chemical reaction directly through contact with an ingredient of ferrosilicon; or

(e) Purchases for the purpose of providing the property to consumers as part of competitive telephone service, as defined in RCW 82.04.065. The term shall include every sale of tangible personal property which is used or consumed or to be used or consumed in the performance of any activity classified as a "sale at retail" or "retail sale" even though such property is resold or utilized as provided in (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) of this subsection following such use. The term also means every sale of tangible personal property to persons engaged in any business which is taxable under RCW 82.04.280 (2) and (7) and 82.04.290.

(2) The term "sale at retail" or "retail sale" shall include the sale of or charge made for tangible personal property consumed and/or for labor and services rendered in respect to the following:

(a) The installing, repairing, cleaning, altering, imprinting, or improving of tangible personal property of or for consumers, including charges made for the mere use of facilities in respect thereto, but excluding sales of laundry service to members by nonprofit associations composed exclusively of nonprofit hospitals, and excluding services rendered in respect to live animals, birds and insects;

(b) The constructing, repairing, decorating, or improving of new or existing buildings or other structures under, upon, or above real property of or for consumers, including the installing or attaching of any article of tangible personal property therein or thereto, whether or not such personal property becomes a part of the realty by virtue of installation, and shall also include the sale of services or charges made for the clearing of land and the moving of earth excepting the mere leveling of land used in commercial farming or agriculture;

(c) The charge for labor and services rendered in respect to constructing, repairing, or improving any structure upon, above, or under any real property owned by an owner who conveys the property by title, possession, or any other means to the person performing such construction, repair, or improvement for the purpose of performing such construction, repair, or improvement and the property is then reconveyed by title, possession, or any other means to the original owner;

(d) The sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the cleaning, fumigating, razing or moving of existing buildings or structures, but shall not include the charge made for janitorial services; and for purposes of this section the term "janitorial services" shall mean those cleaning and caretaking services ordinarily performed by commercial janitor service businesses including, but not limited to, wall and window washing, floor cleaning and waxing, and the cleaning in place of rugs, drapes and upholstery. The term "janitorial services" does not include painting, papering, repairing, furnace or septic tank cleaning, snow removal or sandblasting;

(e) The sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to automobile towing and similar automotive transportation services, but not in respect to those required to report and pay taxes under chapter 82.16 RCW;

(f) The sale of and charge made for the furnishing of lodging and all other services by a hotel, rooming house, tourist court, motel, trailer camp, and the granting of any similar license to use real property, as distinguished from the renting or leasing of real property, and it shall be presumed that the occupancy of real property for a continuous period of one month or more constitutes a rental or lease of real property and not a mere license to use or enjoy the same;

(g) The sale of or charge made for tangible personal property, labor and services to persons taxable under (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this subsection when such sales or charges are for property, labor and services which are used or consumed in whole or in part by such persons in the performance of any activity defined as a "sale at retail" or "retail sale" even though such property, labor and services may be resold after such use or consumption. Nothing contained in this subsection shall be construed to modify subsection (1) of this section and nothing contained in subsection (1) of this section shall be construed to modify this subsection.

(3) The term "sale at retail" or "retail sale" shall include the sale of or charge made for personal, business, or professional services including amounts designated as interest, rents, fees, admission, and other service emoluments however designated, received by persons engaging in the following business activities:

(a) Amusement and recreation services including but not limited to golf, pool, billiards, skating, bowling, ski lifts and tows, day trips for sightseeing purposes, and others, when provided to consumers;

(b) Abstract, title insurance, and escrow services;

(c) Credit bureau services;

(d) Automobile parking and storage garage services;

(e) Landscape maintenance and horticultural services in excess of one hundred dollars per month but excluding (i) horticultural services provided to farmers and (ii) pruning, trimming, repairing, removing, and clearing of trees and brush near electric transmission or distribution lines or equipment, if performed by or at the direction of an electric utility;

(f) Service charges associated with tickets to professional sporting events; and

(g) The following personal services: Physical fitness services, tanning salon services, tattoo parlor services, steam bath services, turkish bath services, escort services, and dating services.

(4) The term shall also include the renting or leasing of tangible personal property to consumers and the rental of equipment with an operator.

(5) The term shall also include the providing of telephone service, as defined in RCW 82.04.065, to consumers.

(6) The term shall not include the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the building, repairing, or improving of any street, place, road, highway, easement, right of way, mass public transportation terminal or parking facility, bridge, tunnel, or trestle which is owned by a municipal corporation or political subdivision of the state or by the United States and which is used or to be used primarily for foot or vehicular traffic including mass transportation vehicles of any kind.

(7) The term shall also not include sales of chemical sprays or washes to persons for the purpose of postharvest treatment of fruit for the prevention of scald, fungus, mold, or decay, nor shall it include sales of feed, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, agents for enhanced pollination including insects such as bees, and spray materials to: (a) Persons who participate in the federal conservation reserve program, the environmental quality incentives program, the wetlands reserve program, and the wildlife habitat incentives program, or their successors administered by the United States department of agriculture; (b) farmers for the purpose of producing for sale any agricultural product; and (c) farmers acting under cooperative habitat development or access contracts with an organization exempt from federal income tax under 26 U.S.C. Sec. 501(c)(3) or the Washington state department of fish and wildlife to produce or improve wildlife habitat on land that the farmer owns or leases.

(8) The term shall not include the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the constructing, repairing, decorating, or improving of new or existing buildings or other structures under, upon, or above real property of or for the United States, any instrumentality thereof, or a county or city housing authority created pursuant to chapter 35.82 RCW, including the installing, or attaching of any article of tangible personal property therein or thereto, whether or not such personal property becomes a part of the realty by virtue of installation. Nor shall the term include the sale of services or charges made for the clearing of land and the moving of earth of or for the United States, any instrumentality thereof, or a county or city housing authority. Nor shall the term include the sale of services or charges made for cleaning up for the United States, or its instrumentalities, radioactive waste and other byproducts of weapons production and nuclear research and development.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas requested a Scope and Object ruling on amendment 1015 to Substitute House Bill No. 1276.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Mr. Speaker: Representative B. Thomas, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order which challenges the Scope and Object on amendment 1015 to Substitute House Bill No. 1276.

The Title of House Bill No. 1276 is "AN ACT Relating to the taxation of physical fitness services." As explained in the bill report, the object of the bill is to remove just three words which were added to RCW 82.04.050 in 1993 - physical fitness services. The effect of the 1993 law was to make those services subject to the sales tax. The object of House Bill No. 1276 is to take the sales tax off of those services.

Amendment 1015 seeks to remove the sales tax from activities that were made subject to the sales tax prior to 1993 and which would remain subject to the tax even if the 1993 language were to be removed by House Bill No. 1276.

The Speaker finds that since the Scope of House Bill No. 1276 is to remove the taxation of physical fitness services and the removal of such taxation would not result in a tax cuts proposed by amendment 1015 it is clear that amendment 1015 is beyond the Scope of House Bill No. 1276.

Representative B. Thomas, your Point of Order is well taken.

Representative B. Thomas moved the adoption of amendment (1019):

On page 5, beginning on line 30, strike section 2.

Renumber sections consecutively, correct any internal references accordingly, and correct the title.

Representative B. Thomas spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

Representative Dunshee spoke against the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives Carrell, B. Thomas, Quall, Wensman, Alexander, Huff, Sehlin and Buck spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Representatives Dunshee, Keiser, Cole, H. Sommers and Dickerson spoke against passage of the bill.

Representative Zellinsky demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1276.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 1276 and the bill failed to pass the House by the following vote: Yeas - 63, Nays - 35, Absent - 0, Excused - 0.

Representative Schoesler moved the adoption of amendment (1011):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:
Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of making wholesale sales to farmers of seed conditioned for use in planting and not packaged for retail sale, or in the business of conditioning seed for planting owned by others; the tax imposed shall be equal to the gross proceeds derived from such sales multiplied by the rate of 0.011 percent.

For the purposes of this section, "seed" means seed potatoes and all other "agricultural seed" as defined in RCW 15.49.011. "Seed" does not include "flower seeds" or "vegetable seeds" as defined in RCW 15.49.011, or any other seeds or propagative portions of plants used to grow ornamental flowers or used to grow any type of bush, moss, fern, shrub, or tree.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:
(1) This chapter does not apply to amounts received by a person engaging within this state in the business of: (a) Making wholesale sales to farmers of seed conditioned for use in planting and not packaged for retail sale; or (b) conditioning seed for planting owned by others.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "seed" means seed potatoes and all other "agricultural seed" as defined in RCW 15.49.011. "Seed" does not include "flower seeds" or "vegetable seeds" as defined in RCW 15.49.011, or any other seeds or propagative portions of plants used to grow ornamental flowers or used to grow any type of bush, moss, fern, shrub, or tree.

Sec. 3. RCW 82.04.290 and 1997 c 7 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
(1) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of providing international investment management services, as to such persons, the amount of tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the gross income or gross proceeds of sales of the business multiplied by a rate of 0.275 percent.

(2) Upon every person engaging within this state in any business activity other than or in addition to those enumerated in RCW 82.04.230, 82.04.240, 82.04.250, 82.04.255, 82.04.260, 82.04.270, ~~((and))~~ 82.04.280, and section 1 of this act, and subsection (1) of this section; as to such persons the amount of tax on account of such activities shall be equal to the gross income of the business multiplied by the rate of 1.5 percent.

This section includes, among others, and without limiting the scope hereof (whether or not title to materials used in the performance of such business passes to another by accession, confusion or other than by outright sale), persons engaged in the business of rendering any type of service which does not constitute a "sale at retail" or a "sale at wholesale." The value of advertising, demonstration, and promotional supplies and materials furnished to an agent by his principal or supplier to be used for informational, educational and promotional purposes shall not be considered a part of the agent's remuneration or commission and shall not be subject to taxation under this section.

Sec. 4. RCW 82.04.260 and 1996 c 148 s 2 and 1996 c 115 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of buying wheat, oats, dry peas, dry beans, lentils, triticale, canola, corn, rye and barley, but not including any manufactured ~~((or processed))~~ products thereof, and selling the same at wholesale; the tax imposed shall be equal to the gross proceeds derived from such sales multiplied by the rate of 0.011 percent.

(2) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of manufacturing wheat into flour, barley into pearl barley, soybeans into soybean oil, canola into canola oil, canola meal, or canola byproducts, or sunflower seeds into sunflower oil; as to such persons the amount of tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the value of the flour, pearl barley, oil, canola meal, or canola byproduct manufactured, multiplied by the rate of 0.138 percent.

(3) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of splitting or processing dried peas; as to such persons the amount of tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the value of the peas split or processed, multiplied by the rate of 0.275 percent.

(4) Upon every person engaging within this state in the business of manufacturing seafood products which remain in a raw, raw frozen, or raw salted state at the completion of the manufacturing by that person; as to such persons the amount of tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the value of the products manufactured, multiplied by the rate of 0.138 percent.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended and House Bill No. 3120 was returned to second reading for purpose of amendments.

With the consent of the House, amendment number 1002 to House Bill No. 3120 was withdrawn.

Representative Hankins moved the adoption of amendment (1020):

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 67.70.040 and 1994 c 218 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall have the power, and it shall be its duty:

(1) To promulgate such rules governing the establishment and operation of a state lottery as it deems necessary and desirable in order that such a lottery be initiated at the earliest feasible and practicable time, and in order that such lottery produce the maximum amount of net revenues for the state consonant with the dignity of the state and the general welfare of the people. Such rules shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(a) The type of lottery to be conducted which may include the selling of tickets or shares. The use of electronic or mechanical devices or video terminals which allow for individual play against such devices or terminals shall be prohibited. Approval of the legislature shall be required before entering any agreement with other state lotteries to conduct shared games;

(b) The price, or prices, of tickets or shares in the lottery;

(c) The numbers and sizes of the prizes on the winning tickets or shares;

(d) The manner of selecting the winning tickets or shares;

(e) The manner and time of payment of prizes to the holder of winning tickets or shares which, at the director's option, may be paid in lump sum amounts or installments over a period of years;

(f) The frequency of the drawings or selections of winning tickets or shares. Approval of the legislature is required before conducting any on-line game in which the drawing or selection of winning tickets occurs more frequently than once every twenty-four hours;

(g) Without limit as to number, the type or types of locations at which tickets or shares may be sold;

(h) The method to be used in selling tickets or shares;

(i) The licensing of agents to sell or distribute tickets or shares, except that a person under the age of eighteen shall not be licensed as an agent;

(j) The manner and amount of compensation, if any, to be paid licensed sales agents necessary to provide for the adequate availability of tickets or shares to prospective buyers and for the convenience of the public. A bonus or marketing incentive may not be given in the form of cash unless the omnibus appropriations act specifically appropriates moneys for such cash incentives;

(k) The apportionment of the total revenues accruing from the sale of lottery tickets or shares and from all other sources among: (i) Transfer to the state's general fund, which shall not be less than the proportion of gross annual revenue specified in the omnibus appropriations act, (ii) ~~(The)~~ the payment of prizes to the holders of winning tickets or shares, which shall not be less than forty-five percent of the gross annual revenue from such lottery, and (iii) transfers to the lottery administrative account created by RCW 67.70.260~~(, and (iii) transfer to the state's general fund)~~. Transfers to the state general fund shall be made in compliance with RCW 43.01.050;

(l) Such other matters necessary or desirable for the efficient and economical operation and administration of the lottery and for the convenience of the purchasers of tickets or shares and the holders of winning tickets or shares.

(2) To ensure that in each place authorized to sell lottery tickets or shares, on the back of the ticket or share, and in any advertising or promotion there shall be conspicuously displayed an estimate of the probability of purchasing a winning ticket.

(3) To amend, repeal, or supplement any such rules from time to time as it deems necessary or desirable.

(4) To advise and make recommendations to the director for the operation and administration of the lottery."

Representatives Hankins and Cody spoke in favor of the adoption of the amendment.

The amendment was adopted. The bill was ordered engrossed.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative Hankins spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 3120 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 94, Nays - 0, Absent - 0, Excused - 4.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Conway, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Dickerson, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Fisher, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mason, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Radcliff, Regala, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sommers, H., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 94.

Excused: Representatives Chandler, Dyer, Reams and Van Luven - 4.

Engrossed House Bill No. 3120, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

HOUSE BILL NO. 2335, by Representatives B. Thomas, Mulliken, Thompson, Morris, Gardner, Linville, Backlund, Cooke, Carrell, Kastama, Schoesler, Van Luven, Dunn and Lambert; by request of Department of Revenue

Consolidating business and occupation tax rates into fewer categories.

The bill was read the second time.

Representative Morris moved the adoption of amendment (1024):

On page 7, after line 3, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows: Notwithstanding the rates of taxation provided in RCW 82.04.240 through 82.04.290, inclusive, upon every person taxable under this chapter whose value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business from all business activities taxable under this chapter is less than one hundred fifty thousand dollars per tax year, as to such persons, the amount of tax with respect to such business shall be equal to the value of the products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business, multiplied by the rate of 0.138 percent."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references and the title accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas requested a Scope and Object ruling on amendment 1024 to House Bill No. 2335.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Thomas, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order which challenges amendment 1024 as being beyond the Scope and Object of House Bill No. 2335.

The title of House Bill No. 2335 is "AN ACT Relating to consolidating business and occupation tax rates into fewer categories." Under current law B&O taxes are levied in one of ten categories, House Bill No. 2335 reduces the number of categories to six by consolidating rates and in the instance of the lowest rate, eliminating the tax entirely.

Amendment 1024 provides that businesses with gross proceeds from sales of less than $150,000 per year should pay a lower B&O tax rate than businesses that sell the same products but gross more than $150,000 per year from such sales. The effect of the amendment is to create a new category of B&O taxes for certain smaller businesses.

House Bill No. 2335 consolidates and eliminates categories. Amendment 1024 creates a new category of taxpayers.

The Speaker finds that amendment 1024 is beyond the Scope of the title of House Bill No. 2335.

Representative Thomas, Your Point of Order is well taken.

Representative Morris moved the adoption of amendment (1017):

On page 8, after line 25, insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) This chapter shall not apply to the gross sales or the gross income received by a new small business located in an eligible area as defined in RCW 82.62.010.

(2) As used in this section:

(a) "New small business" means a business that: (i) Obtained or was required to obtain a registration certificate under RCW 82.32.030 for the first time during the thirty-six months immediately preceding the date in which an exemption is claimed under this section; and (ii) for the business, the value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business, from all business activities, is less than five million dollars per year.

(b) For out-of-state entities first engaging in business in this state, "new small business" means a person or company, as defined in RCW 82.04.030, located outside this state that: (i) Obtained or was required to obtain registration with any state, federal, or foreign agency for the first time during the thirty-six months immediately preceding the date in which an exemption is claimed under this section; and (ii) for the business, the value of products, gross proceeds of sales, or gross income of the business, from all business activities, is less than five million dollars per year.

(c) "New small business" does not include:

(i) A business that has been restructured, reorganized, or transferred, unless the majority of the activities to be conducted after restructuring, reorganization, or transferral are significantly different from the activities previously conducted;

(ii) A new branch location or other facility; or

(iii) A business that is substantially similar to a business currently operated, or operated within the past twelve years, by the same principals."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references and the title accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas requested a Scope and Object ruling on amendment 1017 to House Bill No. 2335.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Thomas, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order which challenges amendment 1017 as being beyond the Scope and Object of House Bill No. 2335.

The title of House Bill No. 2335 is "AN ACT Relating to consolidating business and occupation tax rates into fewer categories." Under current law B&O taxes are levied in one of ten categories, House Bill No. 2355 reduces the number of categories to six by consolidating rates and in the instance of the lowest rate, eliminating the tax entirely.

Amendment 1017 would provide that certain businesses located in certain places would be exempt from paying B&O taxes for three years. The amendment would not result in any consolidation of B&O tax categories, the amendment would not eliminate any B&O tax categories, The amendment would simply provide that some businesses would not have to pay B&O taxes while other businesses conducting the same sales would have to pay such taxes.

The Speaker finds that amendment 1017 is beyond the Scope of the title.

Representative Thomas, Your Point of Order is well taken.

Representative Gardner moved the adoption of amendment (1021):

On page 8, after line 25, insert the following:

"Sec. 8. RCW 82.04.4451 and 1997 c 238 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In computing the tax imposed under this chapter, a credit is allowed against the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter, as provided in this section. The maximum credit for a taxpayer for a reporting period is ((~~thirty five~~) fifty) dollars multiplied by the number of months in the reporting period, as determined under RCW 82.32.045.

(2) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter is equal to or less than the maximum credit, a credit is allowed equal to the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter.

(3) When the amount of tax otherwise due under this chapter exceeds the maximum credit, a reduced credit is allowed equal to twice the maximum credit, minus the tax otherwise due under this chapter, but not less than zero.

(4) The department may prepare a tax credit table consisting of tax ranges using increments of no more than five dollars and a corresponding tax credit to be applied to those tax ranges. The table shall be prepared in such a manner that no taxpayer will owe a greater amount of tax by using the table than would be owed by performing the calculation under subsections (1) through (3) of this section. A table prepared by the department under this subsection shall be used by all taxpayers in taking the credit provided in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. Section 8 of this act applies to the entire period of reporting periods ending after the effective date of this section."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively and correct any internal references and the title accordingly.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative B. Thomas requested a Scope and Object ruling on amendment 1021 to House Bill No. 2335.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Representative Thomas, the Speaker is prepared to rule on your Point of Order which challenges amendment 1021 as being beyond the Scope and Object of House Bill No. 2335.

The title of House Bill No. 2335 is "AN ACT Relating to consolidating business and occupation tax rates into fewer categories." Under current law B&O taxes are levied in one of ten categories, House Bill No. 2355 reduces the number of categories to six by consolidating rates and in the instance of the lowest rate, eliminating the tax entirely.

Amendment 1021 would increase the small business credit for the B&O tax from $420 per year to $600 per year. The amendment would not result in any consolidation of B&O tax categories, the amendment would not eliminate any B&O tax categories, the amendment would simply provide that some businesses, but not all businesses, would receive a credit against B&O tax liability.

The Speaker finds that amendment 1021 is beyond the Scope of the title of House Bill No. 2335.

Representative Thomas, Your Point of Order is well taken.

With the consent of the House, amendment number 1012 to House Bill No. 2335 was withdrawn.

There being no objection, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives B. Thomas, Morris and Conway spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of House Bill No. 2335.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 2335, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 88, Nays - 6, Absent - 0, Excused - 4.

Voting yea: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Appelwick, Backlund, Ballasiotes, Benson, Boldt, Buck, Bush, Butler, Cairnes, Carlson, Carrell, Chopp, Clements, Cody, Cole, Constantine, Cooke, Cooper, Costa, Crouse, DeBolt, Delvin, Doumit, Dunn, Dunshee, Eickmeyer, Gardner, Gombosky, Grant, Hankins, Hatfield, Hickel, Honeyford, Huff, Johnson, Kastama, Keiser, Kenney, Kessler, Koster, Lambert, Lantz, Linville, Lisk, Mastin, McCune, McDonald, McMorris, Mielke, Mitchell, Morris, Mulliken, Murray, O'Brien, Ogden, Parlette, Pennington, Poulsen, Quall, Radcliff, Robertson, Romero, Schmidt, D., Schmidt, K., Schoesler, Scott, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sherstad, Skinner, Smith, Sommers, D., Sterk, Sullivan, Sump, Talcott, Thomas, B., Thomas, L., Thompson, Tokuda, Veloria, Wensman, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 88.

Voting nay: Representatives Conway, Dickerson, Fisher, Mason, Regala, Sommers and H. - 6.

Excused: Representatives Chandler, Dyer, Reams and Van Luven - 4.

House Bill No. 2335, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

The Speaker called upon Representative Robertson to preside.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the fourth order of business.

SB 5164 Prime Sponsor, Senator Haugen: Removing certain tenants and occupants from a mobile home park. Reported by Committee on Trade & Economic Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 59.20.030 and 1993 c 66 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Abandoned" as it relates to a mobile home owned by a tenant in a mobile home park, mobile home park cooperative, or mobile home park subdivision or tenancy in a mobile home lot means the tenant has defaulted in rent and by absence and by words or actions reasonably indicates the intention not to continue tenancy;

(2) "Landlord" means the owner of a mobile home park and includes the agents of a landlord;

(3) "Mobile home lot" means a portion of a mobile home park designated as the location of one mobile home and its accessory buildings, and intended for the exclusive use as a primary residence by the occupants of that mobile home;

(4) "Mobile home park" means any real property which is rented or held out for rent to others for the placement of two or more mobile homes for the primary purpose of production of income, except where such real property is rented or held out for rent for seasonal recreational purpose only and is not intended for year-round occupancy;

(5) "Mobile home park cooperative" means real property consisting of common areas and two or more lots held out for placement of mobile homes in which both the individual lots and the common areas are owned by an association of shareholders which leases or otherwise extends the right to occupy individual lots to its own members;

(6) "Mobile home park subdivision" means real property, whether it is called a subdivision, condominium, or planned unit development, consisting of common areas and two or more lots held for placement of mobile homes in which there is private ownership of the individual lots and common, undivided ownership of the common areas by owners of the individual lots;

(7) "Recreational vehicle" means a travel trailer, motor home, truck camper, or camping trailer that is primarily designed and used as temporary living quarters, is either self-propelled or mounted on or drawn by another vehicle, is transient, is not occupied as a primary residence, and is not immobilized or permanently affixed to a mobile home lot;

(8) "Tenant" means any person, except a transient, who rents a mobile home lot; ~~((and))~~

(9) "Transient" means a person who rents a mobile home lot for a period of less than one month for purposes other than as a primary residence;

(10) "Occupant" means any person, including a live-in care provider, other than a tenant, who occupies a mobile home and mobile home lot.

Sec. 2. RCW 59.20.080 and 1993 c 66 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A landlord shall not terminate or fail to renew a tenancy of a tenant or the occupancy of an occupant, of whatever duration except for one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Substantial violation, or repeated or periodic violations of the rules of the mobile home park as established by the landlord at the inception of the tenancy or as assumed subsequently with the consent of the tenant or for violation of the tenant's duties as provided in RCW 59.20.140. The tenant shall be given written notice to cease the rule violation immediately. The notice shall state that failure to cease the violation of the rule or any subsequent violation of that or any other rule shall result in termination of the tenancy, and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days:

PROVIDED, That for a periodic violation the notice shall also specify that repetition of the same violation shall result in termination: PROVIDED FURTHER, That in the case of a violation of a "material change" in park rules with respect to pets, tenants with minor children living with them, or recreational facilities, the tenant shall be given written notice under this chapter of a six month period in which to comply or vacate;

(b) Nonpayment of rent or other charges specified in the rental agreement, upon five days written notice to pay rent and/or other charges or to vacate;

(c) Conviction of the tenant of a crime, commission of which threatens the health, safety, or welfare of the other mobile home park tenants. The tenant shall be given written notice of a fifteen day period in which to vacate;

(d) Failure of the tenant to comply with local ordinances and state laws and regulations relating to mobile homes or mobile home living within a reasonable time after the tenant's receipt of notice of such noncompliance from the appropriate governmental agency;

(e) Change of land use of the mobile home park including, but not limited to, conversion to a use other than for mobile homes or conversion of the mobile home park to a mobile home park cooperative or mobile home park subdivision: PROVIDED, That the landlord shall give the tenants twelve months' notice in advance of the effective date of such change, except that for the period of six months following April 28, 1989, the landlord shall give the tenants eighteen months' notice in advance of the proposed effective date of such change;

(f) Engaging in "criminal activity." "Criminal activity" means a criminal act defined by statute or ordinance that threatens the health, safety, or welfare of the tenants. A park owner seeking to evict a tenant or occupant under this subsection need not produce evidence of a criminal conviction, even if the alleged misconduct constitutes a criminal offense. Notice from a law enforcement agency of criminal activity constitutes sufficient grounds, but not the only grounds, for an eviction under this subsection. Notification of the seizure of illegal drugs under RCW 59.20.155 is evidence of criminal activity and is grounds for an eviction under this subsection. The requirement that any tenant or occupant register as a sex offender under RCW 9A.44.130 is grounds for eviction under this subsection. If criminal activity is alleged to be a basis of termination, the park owner may proceed directly to an unlawful detainer action;

(g) The tenant's application for tenancy contained a material misstatement that induced the park owner to approve the tenant as a resident of the park, and the park owner discovers and acts upon the misstatement within one year of the time the resident began paying rent;

(h) If the landlord serves a tenant three fifteen-day notices within a twelve-month period to comply or vacate for failure to comply with the material terms of the rental agreement or park rules. The applicable twelve-month period shall commence on the date of the first violation;

(i) Failure of the tenant to comply with obligations imposed upon tenants by applicable provisions of municipal, county, and state codes, statutes, ordinances, and regulations, including chapter 59.20 RCW. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days;

(j) The tenant engages in disorderly or substantially annoying conduct upon the park premises that results in the destruction of the rights of others to the peaceful enjoyment and use of the premises. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days;

(k) The tenant creates a nuisance that materially affects the health, safety, and welfare of other park residents. The landlord shall give the tenant written notice to cease the conduct that constitutes a nuisance immediately. The notice must state that failure to cease the conduct will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises in five days;

(l) Any other substantial just cause that materially affects the health, safety, and welfare of other park residents. The landlord shall ~~((be))~~ give ~~((shall give))~~ the tenant written notice to comply immediately. The notice must state that failure to comply will result in termination of the tenancy and that the tenant shall vacate the premises within fifteen days; or

(m) Failure to pay rent by the due date provided for in the rental agreement three or more times in a twelve-month period, commencing with the date of the first violation, after service of a five-day notice to comply or vacate.

(2) Within five days of a notice of eviction as required by subsection (1)(a) of this section, the landlord and tenant shall submit any dispute to mediation. The parties may agree in writing to mediation by an independent third party or through industry mediation procedures. If the parties cannot agree, then mediation shall be through industry mediation procedures. A duty is imposed upon both parties to participate in the mediation process in good faith for a period of ten days for an eviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section. It is a defense to an eviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section that a landlord did not participate in the mediation process in good faith.

(3) Chapters 59.12 and 59.18 RCW govern the eviction of recreational vehicles from mobile home parks.

Sec. 3. RCW 59.20.090 and 1980 c 152 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless otherwise agreed rental agreements shall be for a term of one year. Any rental agreement of whatever duration shall be automatically renewed for the term of the original rental agreement, unless~~((~~

~~((a)))~~ a different specified term is agreed upon~~((; or~~

~~((b) The landlord serves notice of termination without cause upon the tenant prior to the expiration of the rental agreement: PROVIDED, That under such circumstances, at the expiration of the prior rental agreement the tenant shall be considered a month-to-month tenant upon the same terms as in the prior rental agreement until the tenancy is terminated)).~~

(2) A landlord seeking to increase the rent upon expiration of the term of a rental agreement of any duration shall notify the tenant in writing three months prior to the effective date of any increase in rent~~((; PROVIDED, That if a landlord serves a tenant with notice of a rental increase at the same time or subsequent to serving the tenant with notice of termination without cause, such rental increase shall not become effective until the date the tenant is required to vacate the leased premises pursuant to the notice of termination or three months from the date notice of rental increase is served, whichever is later)).~~

(3) A tenant shall notify the landlord in writing one month prior to the expiration of a rental agreement of an intention not to renew.

(4)(a) The tenant may terminate the rental agreement upon thirty days written notice whenever a change in the location of the tenant's employment requires a change in his residence, and shall not be liable for rental following such termination unless after due diligence and reasonable effort the landlord is not able to rent the mobile home lot at a fair rental. If the landlord is not able to rent the lot, the tenant shall remain liable for the rental specified in the rental agreement until the lot is rented or the original term ends;

(b) Any tenant who is a member of the armed forces may terminate a rental agreement with less than thirty days notice if he receives reassignment orders which do not allow greater notice."

"Sec. 1. RCW 28A.210.280 and 1994 sp.s. c 9 s 721 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Public school districts and private schools that offer classes for any of grades kindergarten through twelve may provide for clean, intermittent bladder catheterization of students, or assisted self-catheterization of students pursuant to RCW 18.79.290, if the catheterization is provided for in substantial compliance with:

(a) Rules adopted by the state nursing care quality assurance commission and the instructions of a registered nurse or advanced registered nurse practitioner issued under such rules; and

(b) Written policies of the school district or private school which shall be adopted in order to implement this section and shall be developed in accordance with such requirements of chapters 41.56 and 41.59 RCW as may be applicable.

(2) School district employees, except those licensed under chapter 18.79 or 18.88A RCW, who have not agreed in writing to perform clean, intermittent bladder catheterizations, may file a written letter of refusal to perform clean, intermittent bladder catheterizations of students. This written letter of refusal shall not serve as grounds for discharge, nonrenewal, or other actions adversely affecting the employee's contract status.

(3) This section does not require school districts to provide intermittent bladder catheterization of students."

E3SSB 5278 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Ways & Means: Requiring dependency investigations for infants born drug affected. Reported by Committee on Children & Family Services

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that all children have the right to be born healthy and free of the consequences of the nonprescription use of controlled substances and/or the abuse of alcohol by the mother during pregnancy. Individuals who have a drug or alcohol addiction are unable to make reasoned decisions that help ensure the birth of a healthy infant. The availability of long-term pharmaceutical birth control, when combined with other treatment regimens, may allow women to regain control of their lives and make long-term decisions in the best interest of themselves and their children. The legislature further finds that a third or subsequent drug-affected infant being born to the same mother means it may be unreasonable to attempt to continue efforts to reunify the family and that all reasonable reunification efforts that have previously been made have proven futile and there is no likelihood that future efforts will produce a different outcome.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A physician licensed under chapter 18.71 or 18.57 RCW, an advanced registered nurse practitioner licensed under chapter 18.79 RCW, or a midwife licensed under chapter 18.50 RCW, primarily responsible for the care of a newborn infant, who has reasonable cause to believe an infant has been exposed to nonprescription use of controlled substances or alcohol must notify the department of the name and address of the parent or parents of an infant who is drug-affected.

(2) The physician or advanced registered nurse practitioner or midwife responsible for the delivery of the infant must, as soon as practical, inform the mother of a drug-affected infant of: (a) Her right to publicly funded tubal ligation surgery as provided under section 12 of this act; (b) available drug treatment and counseling; and (c) birth control counseling and education. The mother may accept the offer of a tubal ligation up to six months following its tender.

(3) A physician who makes any determination under this section shall not be liable in any cause of action as a result of his or her determination except for acts of gross negligence or intentional misconduct.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department, upon receipt of a report under section 2 of this act, shall investigate and, if the department has reasonable cause to believe that the infant is drug-affected, is in need of treatment for conditions related to the infant's exposure to nonprescription use of controlled substances or alcohol including withdrawal, and the parents of the child cannot adequately care for the child's conditions, the department shall take custody of the child for the purpose of obtaining treatment for the child. Where medically indicated, the department may place the infant in an appropriate birth facility or pediatric care program, and access services for the treatment of the child's drug-affected condition. The child's withdrawal shall be under the supervision of appropriate health care professionals. The department shall retain custody of the child until the court assumes custody, until the department upon a documented and substantiated record determines that the child's parents can adequately care for the infant's condition, or until the department decides not to file a dependency petition under subsection (2) of this section.

(2) After an investigation in response to a receipt of a report under section 2 of this act, the department shall, in appropriate cases, file a dependency petition under this chapter. In the event the department does not file a petition, it shall refer the mother to available chemical dependency treatment programs or a model project.

(3) The department and the mother may enter an agreement in which the mother agrees to chemical dependency treatment on an inpatient or outpatient basis or be referred to a model project created under section 10 of this act.

(4) If the department and mother enter an agreement under subsection (3) of this section, the department shall, if a dependency petition has been filed, request the court to defer the entry of an order of dependency for as long as the mother remains in treatment or enrolled in the model project, subject to the department's monitoring for compliance. As a condition of deferral of the order of dependency, the parents, if both are available and known, shall stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency and the court shall order treatment or enrollment in a model project and prohibit nonprescription use of controlled substances. In the event that an available parent unreasonably refuses to stipulate to facts constituting a dependency, the court may proceed with the hearing on the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If the department receives a report under section 2 of this act of a mother who has given birth to a second drug-affected infant, the department:

(a) May request the court to proceed immediately with the entry of a dependency for the first drug-affected infant; and

(b) Shall investigate and, unless there are compelling reasons to the contrary, file a dependency petition on the second drug-affected infant. If the department does not file a petition, it shall refer the woman to available chemical dependency treatment programs or a model project.

(2) The department and the mother may enter an agreement in which the mother agrees to: (a) Enter chemical dependency inpatient treatment or a model project, together with an aftercare program that includes participation in a model project when feasible; and (b) medically appropriate pharmaceutical pregnancy prevention. The selection of the pregnancy prevention method shall be based on an evaluation of the medical and physical consequences to the mother and shall remain in effect until the dependency petition is dismissed or the court determines it is no longer medically appropriate.

(3) If the department and the mother enter an agreement under subsection (2) of this section, the department shall request the court to defer the entry of an order of dependency on the second drug-affected infant for as long as the mother remains in treatment or enrolled in the model project, subject to the department's monitoring for compliance. As a condition of deferral of the order of dependency, the parents, if both are available and known, shall stipulate to facts sufficient to constitute a dependency and the court shall order treatment or enrollment in a model project and prohibit nonprescription use of controlled substances. In the event that an available parent unreasonably refuses to stipulate to facts constituting a dependency, the court may proceed with the hearing on the petition.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

The department may request the court to dismiss the petition deferred under section 3 or 4 of this act at any time, but a petition may not be vacated or dismissed unless the mother demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that she has not used controlled substances in a nonprescription manner for at least twelve consecutive months and can safely provide for the child's welfare without continuing supervision by the department or court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

If the department receives a report under section 2 of this act of a mother who has given birth to a third or subsequent drug-affected infant, the department shall:

(1) Request the court to proceed immediately with the entry of a finding of dependency on all drug-affected children born before the third or subsequent birth unless an order of dependency has been vacated or dismissed; and

(2) File a dependency petition on any drug-affected infant subject to this section as well as any other child born before the third or subsequent birth of a drug-affected infant.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:
Following a filing of a petition under section 6 of this act:

(1) The court shall order evaluation by a designated chemical dependency specialist, as defined in RCW 70.96A.020 who shall undertake the processes described in RCW 70.96A.140.

(2) A court may order removal of a child or children from the home and placed out-of-home under RCW 13.34.130 without finding that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal and to make it possible for the child to return home.

(3) If the court has ordered removal of a child or children, the out-of-home placement order shall remain in effect until the petition is dismissed or the mother has successfully completed inpatient treatment and any aftercare program for controlled substances ordered by the court.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. By July 1, 1999, the department of social and health services, in consultation with the department of health, shall adopt rules to implement this act, including a definition of "drug-affected infant," which shall include infants who are affected by a mother's abuse of alcohol during pregnancy.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department shall operate a model project to provide services to women who give birth to infants exposed to the nonprescription use of controlled substances by the mother during pregnancy. The project shall be offered in one site in each of three of the department's administrative regions which have the highest incidence of drug-affected babies annually. The project shall accept women referred to it by the department following the birth of a drug-affected infant. The model project shall be concluded by July 1, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Any treatment program or model project in which a mother is enrolled under sections 3 through 5 of this act shall provide family planning, education, counseling, information, and services other than pregnancy termination. "Family planning services" means the process of limiting or spacing the birth of children. The process may include the provision of acceptable and effective education, counseling, reproductive health care, and testing.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 74.09 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall make available, or cause to be made available, pharmaceutical birth control services, information, and counseling to any person who enters chemical dependency treatment under section 3 or 4 of this act. The department shall pay for any tubal ligations requested under section 2 of this act if the mother's income is less than two hundred percent of the federal poverty level. The department shall report by December 1st of each year to the governor and legislature: (1) The number of tubal ligations performed as a result of chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act); (2) the number of women who decline to undergo the surgery; (3) the number of women who obtain pharmaceutical birth control, by type of birth control; and (4) the number of women who are reported to the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The department of social and health services shall study the costs and benefits associated with including mothers of children born affected by alcohol or with fetal alcohol syndrome in the services and responsibilities established in this act. The study shall include a review of appropriate medical and social science research. The department shall report to the governor and legislature by December 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 18.71 RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in section 2 of this act imposes any additional duties or responsibilities on, or removes any duties or responsibilities from, a physician licensed under this chapter, except as specifically included in chapter 13.34 RCW and sections 10 and 11 of this act.

Sec. 14. RCW 13.34.070 and 1993 c 358 § 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk of the court shall issue a summons, one directed to the child, if the child is twelve or more years of age, and another to the parents, guardian, or custodian, and such other persons as appear to the court to be proper or necessary parties to the proceedings, requiring them to appear personally before the court at the time fixed to hear the petition. If the child is developmentally disabled and not living at home, the notice shall be given to the child's custodian as well as to the child's parent. The developmentally disabled child shall not be required to appear unless requested by the court. Where the custodian is summoned, the parent or guardian or both shall also be served with a summons. The fact-finding hearing on the petition shall be held no later than seventy-five days after the filing of the petition, unless exceptional reasons for a continuance are found. Execution of an agreement under section 3 and 4 of this act shall constitute exceptional reasons for a continuance. The party requesting the continuance shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that exceptional circumstances do exist. To ensure that the hearing on the petition occurs within the seventy-five day time limit, the court shall schedule and hear the matter on an expedited basis.

(2) A copy of the petition shall be attached to each summons.

(3) The summons shall advise the parties of the right to counsel. The summons shall also inform the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian of his or her right to appointed counsel, if indigent, and of the procedure to use to secure appointed counsel.

(4) The summons shall advise the parents that they may be held responsible for the support of the child if the child is placed in out-of-home care.

(5) The judge may endorse upon the summons an order directing any parent, guardian, or custodian having the custody or control of the child to bring the child to the hearing.

(6) If it appears from affidavit or sworn statement presented to the judge that there is probable cause for the issuance of a warrant of arrest or that the child needs to be taken into custody pursuant to RCW 13.34.050, the judge may endorse upon the summons an order that an officer serving the summons shall at once take the child into custody and take him to the place of shelter designated by the court.

(7) If the person summoned as provided in this section is subject to an order of the court pursuant to subsection (5) or (6) of this section, and if the person fails to abide by the order, he may be proceeded against as for contempt of court. The order endorsed upon the summons shall conspicuously display the following legend:

NOTICE:
VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS SUBJECT TO PROCEEDING FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT
PURSUANT TO RCW 13.34.070.

(8) If a party to be served with a summons can be found within the state, the summons shall be served upon the party personally as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court. If the party is within the state and cannot be personally served, but the party's address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the summons may be served upon the party by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail as soon as possible following the filing of the petition, but in no case later than fifteen court days before the hearing, or such time as set by the court. If a party other than the child is without the state but can be found or the address is known, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, service of the summons may be made either by delivering a copy thereof to the party personally or by mailing a copy thereof to the party by certified mail at least ten court days before the fact-finding hearing, or such time as set by the court.

(9) Service of summons may be made under the direction of the court by any person eighteen years of age or older who is not a party to the proceedings or by any law enforcement officer, probation counselor, or department of social and health services social worker.

(10) In any proceeding brought under this chapter where the court knows or has reason to know that the child involved is a member of an Indian tribe, notice of the pendency of the proceeding shall also be sent by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the child's tribe. If the identity or location of the tribe cannot be determined, such notice shall be transmitted to the secretary of the interior of the United States.

Sec. 15. RCW 13.34.130 and 1997 c 280 § 1 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after a fact-finding hearing pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, it has been proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is dependent within the meaning of RCW 13.34.030; after consideration of the predisposition report prepared pursuant to RCW 13.34.110 and after a disposition hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 13.34.110, the court shall enter an order of disposition pursuant to this section.

(1) The court shall order one of the following dispositions of the case:

(a) Order a disposition other than removal of the child from his or her home, which shall provide a program designed to alleviate the immediate danger to the child, to mitigate or cure any damage the child has already suffered, and to aid the parents so that the child will not be endangered in the future. In selecting a program, the court should choose those services that least interfere with family autonomy, provided that the services are adequate to protect the child.

(b) Order that the child be removed from his or her home and ordered into the custody, control, and care of a relative or the department of social and health services or a licensed child placing agency for placement in a foster family home or group care facility licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW or in a home not required to be licensed pursuant to chapter 74.15 RCW. Unless there is reasonable cause to believe that the safety or welfare of the child would be jeopardized or that efforts to reunite the parent and child will be hindered, such child shall be placed with a person who is related to the child as defined in RCW 74.15.020(4)(a) and with whom the child has a relationship and is comfortable, and who is willing and available to care for the child. Placement of the child with a relative under this subsection shall be given preference by the court. An order for out-of-home placement may be made only if the court finds that reasonable efforts have been made to prevent or eliminate the need for removal of the child from the child's home and to make it possible for the child to return home, specifying the services that have been provided to the child and the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, and that preventive services have been offered or provided and have failed to prevent the need for out-of-home placement, unless the health, safety, and welfare of the child cannot be protected adequately in the home, and that:

- (i) There is no parent or guardian available to care for such child;
- (ii) The parent, guardian, or legal custodian is not willing to take custody of the child;
- (iii) The court finds, by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence, a manifest danger exists that the child will suffer serious abuse or neglect if the child is not removed from the home and an order under RCW 26.44.063 would not protect the child from danger; or
- (iv) The extent of the child's disability is such that the parent, guardian, or legal custodian is unable to provide the necessary care for the child and the parent, guardian, or legal custodian has determined that the child would benefit from placement outside of the home.

(2) If the court has ordered a child removed from his or her home pursuant to subsection (1)(b) of this section, the court may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed if the court finds it is recommended by the supervising agency, that it is in the best interests of the child and that it is not reasonable to provide further services to reunify the family because the existence of aggravated circumstances make it unlikely that services will effectuate the return of the child to the child's parents in the near future. In determining whether aggravated circumstances exist, the court shall consider one or more of the following:

(a) Conviction of the parent of rape of the child in the first, second, or third degree as defined in RCW 9A.44.073, 9A.44.076, and 9A.44.079;

(b) Conviction of the parent of criminal mistreatment of the child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.42.020 and 9A.42.030;

(c) Conviction of the parent of one of the following assault crimes, when the child is the victim: Assault in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.011 and 9A.36.021 or assault of a child in the first or second degree as defined in RCW 9A.36.120 or 9A.36.130;

(d) Conviction of the parent of murder, manslaughter, or homicide by abuse of the child's other parent, sibling, or another child;

(e) A finding by a court that a parent is a sexually violent predator as defined in RCW 71.09.020;

(f) Failure of the parent to complete available treatment ordered under this chapter or the equivalent laws of another state, where such failure has resulted in a prior termination of parental rights to another child and the parent has failed to effect significant change in the interim;

(g) The mother has given birth to three or more drug-affected infants, resulting in the department filing a petition under section 6 of this act.

(3) Whenever a child is ordered removed from the child's home, the agency charged with his or her care shall provide the court with:

(a) A permanency plan of care that shall identify one of the following outcomes as a primary goal and may identify additional outcomes as alternative goals: Return of the child to the home of the child's parent, guardian, or legal custodian; adoption; guardianship; or long-term relative or foster care, until the child is age eighteen, with a written agreement between the parties and the care provider; and independent living, if appropriate and if the child is age sixteen or older. Whenever a permanency plan identifies independent living as a goal, the plan shall also specifically identify the services that will be provided to assist the child to make a successful transition from foster care to independent living. Before the court approves independent living as a permanency plan of care, the court shall make a finding that the provision of services to assist the child in making a transition from foster care to independent living will allow the child to manage his or her financial affairs and to manage his or her personal, social, educational, and nonfinancial affairs. The department shall not discharge a child to an independent living situation before the child is eighteen years of age unless the child becomes emancipated pursuant to chapter 13.64 RCW.

(b) Unless the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to return the child home, and what actions the agency will take to maintain parent-child ties. All aspects of the plan shall include the goal of achieving permanence for the child.

(i) The agency plan shall specify what services the parents will be offered in order to enable them to resume custody, what requirements the parents must meet in order to resume custody, and a time limit for each service plan and parental requirement.

(ii) The agency shall be required to encourage the maximum parent-child contact possible, including regular visitation and participation by the parents in the care of the child while the child is in placement. Visitation may be limited or denied only if the court determines that such limitation or denial is necessary to protect the child's health, safety, or welfare.

(iii) A child shall be placed as close to the child's home as possible, preferably in the child's own neighborhood, unless the court finds that placement at a greater distance is necessary to promote the child's or parents' well-being.

(iv) The agency charged with supervising a child in placement shall provide all reasonable services that are available within the agency, or within the community, or those services which the department of social and health services has existing contracts to purchase. It shall report to the court if it is unable to provide such services.

(c) If the court has ordered, pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, that a termination petition be filed, a specific plan as to where the child will be placed, what steps will be taken to achieve permanency for the child, services to be offered or provided to the child, and, if visitation would be in the best interests of the child, a recommendation to the court regarding visitation between parent and child pending a fact-finding hearing on the termination petition. The agency shall not be required to develop a plan of services for the parents or provide services to the parents.

(4) If there is insufficient information at the time of the disposition hearing upon which to base a determination regarding the suitability of a proposed placement with a relative, the child shall remain in foster care and the court shall direct the supervising agency to conduct necessary background investigations as provided in chapter 74.15 RCW and report the results of such investigation to the court within thirty days. However, if such relative appears otherwise suitable and competent to provide care and treatment, the criminal history background check need not be completed before placement, but as soon as possible after placement. Any placements with relatives, pursuant to this section, shall be contingent upon cooperation by the relative with the agency case plan and compliance with court orders related to the care and supervision of the child including, but not limited to, court orders regarding parent-child contacts and any other conditions imposed by the court. Noncompliance with the case plan or court order shall be grounds for removal of the child from the relative's home, subject to review by the court.

(5) Except for children whose cases are reviewed by a citizen review board under chapter 13.70 RCW, the status of all children found to be dependent shall be reviewed by the court at least every six months from the beginning date of the placement episode or the date dependency is established, whichever is first, at a hearing in which it shall be determined whether court supervision should continue. The review shall include findings regarding the agency and parental completion of disposition plan requirements, and if necessary, revised permanency time limits.

(a) A child shall not be returned home at the review hearing unless the court finds that a reason for removal as set forth in this section no longer exists. The parents, guardian, or legal custodian shall report to the court the efforts they have made to correct the conditions which led to removal. If a child is returned, casework supervision shall continue for a period of six months, at which time there shall be a hearing on the need for continued intervention.

(b) If the child is not returned home, the court shall establish in writing:

(i) Whether reasonable services have been provided to or offered to the parties to facilitate reunion, specifying the services provided or offered;

(ii) Whether the child has been placed in the least-restrictive setting appropriate to the child's needs, including whether consideration and preference has been given to placement with the child's relatives;

(iii) Whether there is a continuing need for placement and whether the placement is appropriate;

(iv) Whether there has been compliance with the case plan by the child, the child's parents, and the agency supervising the placement;

(v) Whether progress has been made toward correcting the problems that necessitated the child's placement in out-of-home care;

(vi) Whether the parents have visited the child and any reasons why visitation has not occurred or has been infrequent;

(vii) Whether additional services are needed to facilitate the return of the child to the child's parents; if so, the court shall order that reasonable services be offered specifying such services; and

(viii) The projected date by which the child will be returned home or other permanent plan of care will be implemented.

(c) The court at the review hearing may order that a petition seeking termination of the parent and child relationship be filed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The policy of the state of Washington is to make every effort to detect as early as feasible and to prevent where possible preventable disorders resulting from parental use of alcohol and drugs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. The department of health, in consultation with appropriate medical professionals, shall develop screening criteria for use in identifying pregnant or lactating women addicted to drugs or alcohol who are at risk of producing a drug-affected baby. The department shall also develop training protocols for medical professionals related to the identification and screening of women at risk of producing a drug-affected baby.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The department of health shall investigate the feasibility of medical protocols for laboratory testing or other screening of newborn infants for exposure to alcohol or drugs. The department of health shall consider how to improve the current system with respect to testing, considering such variables as whether such testing is available, its cost, which entity is currently responsible for ordering testing, and whether testing should be mandatory or targeted.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. The department of health shall report to the appropriate legislative committees on its findings under sections 17 and 18 of this act by December 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. (1) The department of health, in collaboration with the department of social and health services, shall develop a comprehensive plan for providing services to mothers who (a) have delivered a drug or alcohol exposed or affected infant, and (b) meet the definition of at-risk eligible persons in RCW 74.09.790 and who have a child up to three years of age. The services to be provided by the plan will include those defined in RCW 74.09.790. The plan shall provide for the coordination of services between the department's divisions, between other state agencies, and through community based programs. The plan shall further provide recommendations to the legislature for implementing the plan and any alternative methods for addressing the needs of these mothers and their children.

(2) In developing the plan, the department of health shall inventory the community based programs that may be accessed to provide services to these mothers and their children; evaluate implementing services for these mothers through extension of the maternity care access system; and evaluate the fiscal impact of the plan. In performing the fiscal evaluation, the department will calculate potential long-term cost savings to the state resulting from reduce use of the medical, juvenile justice, public assistance, and dependency systems by children and noters receiving services under the plan.

(3) The department shall submit a report describing the plan to the appropriate committees of the house of representatives and senate by November 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Sections 16 through 20 of this act constitute a new chapter in Title 70 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. Sections 1 through 7 and 9 through 15 of this act take effect July 1, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. If specific funding for the purposes of this act, referencing this act by bill or chapter number, is not provided by June 30, 1998, in the omnibus appropriations act, this act is null and void."

ESSB 5305 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Health & Long-Term Care: Controlling drugs used to facilitate rape. Reported by Committee on Criminal Justice & Corrections

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 69.50.401 and 1997 c 71 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) Except as authorized by this chapter, it is unlawful for any person to manufacture, deliver, or possess with intent to manufacture or deliver, a controlled substance.

(1) Any person who violates this subsection with respect to:

(i) a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II which is a narcotic drug or flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than ten years, or (A) fined not more than twenty-five thousand dollars if the crime involved less than two kilograms of the drug, or both such imprisonment and fine; or (B) if the crime involved two or more kilograms of the drug, then fined not more than one hundred thousand dollars for the first two kilograms and not more than fifty dollars for each gram in excess of two kilograms, or both such imprisonment and fine;

(ii) methamphetamine, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than ten years, or (A) fined not more than twenty-five thousand dollars if the crime involved less than two kilograms of the drug, or both such imprisonment and fine; or (B) if the crime involved two or more kilograms of the drug, then fined not more than one hundred thousand dollars for the first two kilograms and not more than fifty dollars for each gram in excess of two kilograms, or both such imprisonment and fine. Three thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended. As collected, the first three thousand dollars of the fine must be deposited with the law enforcement agency having responsibility for cleanup of laboratories, sites, or substances used in the manufacture of the methamphetamine. The fine moneys deposited with that law enforcement agency must be used for such clean-up cost;

(iii) any other controlled substance classified in Schedule I, II, or III, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both;

(iv) a substance classified in Schedule IV, except flunitrazepam, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both;

(v) a substance classified in Schedule V, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both.

(b) Except as authorized by this chapter, it is unlawful for any person to create, deliver, or possess a counterfeit substance.

(1) Any person who violates this subsection with respect to:

(i) a counterfeit substance classified in Schedule I or II which is a narcotic drug, or flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than ten years, fined not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, or both;

(ii) a counterfeit substance which is methamphetamine, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than ten years, fined not more than twenty-five thousand dollars, or both;

(iii) any other counterfeit substance classified in Schedule I, II, or III, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both;

(iv) a counterfeit substance classified in Schedule IV, except flunitrazepam, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both;

(v) a counterfeit substance classified in Schedule V, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both.

(c) It is unlawful, except as authorized in this chapter and chapter 69.41 RCW, for any person to offer, arrange, or negotiate for the sale, gift, delivery, dispensing, distribution, or administration of a controlled substance to any person and then sell, give, deliver, dispense, distribute, or administer to that person any other liquid, substance, or material in lieu of such controlled substance. Any person who violates this subsection is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both.

(d) It is unlawful for any person to possess a controlled substance unless the substance was obtained directly from, or pursuant to, a valid prescription or order of a practitioner while acting in the course of his or her professional practice, or except as otherwise authorized by this chapter. Any person who violates this subsection is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be imprisoned for not more than five years, fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or both, except as provided for in subsection (e) of this section.

(e) Except as provided for in subsection (a)(1)(iii) of this section any person found guilty of possession of forty grams or less of marihuana shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(f) It is unlawful to compensate, threaten, solicit, or in any other manner involve a person under the age of eighteen years in a transaction unlawfully to manufacture, sell, or deliver a controlled substance. A violation of this subsection shall be punished as a class C felony punishable in accordance with RCW 9A.20.021.

This section shall not apply to offenses defined and punishable under the provisions of RCW 69.50.410.

Sec. 2. RCW 69.50.406 and 1996 c 205 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(a) Any person eighteen years of age or over who violates RCW 69.50.401(a) by distributing a controlled substance listed in Schedules I or II which is a narcotic drug or methamphetamine, or flunitrazepam listed in Schedule IV, to a person under eighteen years of age is punishable by the fine authorized by RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (i) or (ii), by a term of imprisonment of up to twice that authorized by RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (i) or (ii), or by both.

(b) Any person eighteen years of age or over who violates RCW 69.50.401(a) by distributing any other controlled substance listed in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and V to a person under eighteen years of age who is at least three years his junior is punishable by the fine authorized by RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (iii), (iv), or (v), by a term of imprisonment up to twice that authorized by RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (iii), (iv), or (v), or both.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.030 and 1997 c 365 s 1, 1997, c 340 s 4, 1997 c 339 s 1, 1997 c 338 s 2, 1997 c 144 s 1, and 1997 c 70 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Collect," or any derivative thereof, "collect and remit," or "collect and deliver," when used with reference to the department of corrections, means that the department is responsible for monitoring and enforcing the offender's sentence with regard to the legal financial obligation, receiving payment thereof from the offender, and, consistent with current law, delivering daily the entire payment to the superior court clerk without depositing it in a departmental account.

(2) "Commission" means the sentencing guidelines commission.

(3) "Community corrections officer" means an employee of the department who is responsible for carrying out specific duties in supervision of sentenced offenders and monitoring of sentence conditions.

(4) "Community custody" means that portion of an inmate's sentence of confinement in lieu of earned early release time or imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120 (6), (8), or (10) served in the community subject to controls placed on the inmate's movement and activities by the department of corrections.

(5) "Community placement" means that period during which the offender is subject to the conditions of community custody and/or postrelease supervision, which begins either upon completion of the term of confinement (postrelease supervision) or at such time as the offender is transferred to community custody in lieu of earned early release. Community placement may consist of entirely community custody, entirely postrelease supervision, or a combination of the two.

(6) "Community service" means compulsory service, without compensation, performed for the benefit of the community by the offender.

(7) "Community supervision" means a period of time during which a convicted offender is subject to crime-related prohibitions and other sentence conditions imposed by a court pursuant to this chapter or RCW 16.52.200(6) or 46.61.524. For first-time offenders, the supervision may include crime-related prohibitions and other conditions imposed pursuant to RCW 9.94A.120(5). For purposes of the interstate compact for out-of-state supervision of parolees and probationers, RCW 9.95.270, community supervision is the functional equivalent of probation and should be considered the same as probation by other states.

(8) "Confinement" means total or partial confinement as defined in this section.

(9) "Conviction" means an adjudication of guilt pursuant to Titles 10 or 13 RCW and includes a verdict of guilty, a finding of guilty, and acceptance of a plea of guilty.

(10) "Court-ordered legal financial obligation" means a sum of money that is ordered by a superior court of the state of Washington for legal financial obligations which may include restitution to the victim, statutorily imposed crime victims' compensation fees as assessed pursuant to RCW 7.68.035, court costs, county or interlocal drug funds, court-appointed attorneys' fees, and costs of defense, fines, and any other financial obligation that is assessed to the offender as a result of a felony conviction. Upon conviction for vehicular assault while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, RCW 46.61.522(1)(b), or vehicular homicide while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, RCW 46.61.520(1)(a), legal financial obligations may also include payment to a public agency of the expense of an emergency response to the incident resulting in the conviction, subject to the provisions in RCW 38.52.430.

(11) "Crime-related prohibition" means an order of a court prohibiting conduct that directly relates to the circumstances of the crime for which the offender has been convicted, and shall not be construed to mean orders directing an offender affirmatively to participate in rehabilitative programs or to otherwise perform affirmative conduct. However, affirmative acts necessary to monitor compliance with the order of a court may be required by the department.

(12) "Criminal history" means the list of a defendant's prior convictions and juvenile adjudications, whether in this state, in federal court, or elsewhere. The history shall include, where known, for each conviction (a) whether the defendant has been placed on probation and the length and terms thereof; and (b) whether the defendant has been incarcerated and the length of incarceration.

(13) "Day fine" means a fine imposed by the sentencing judge that equals the difference between the offender's net daily income and the reasonable obligations that the offender has for the support of the offender and any dependents.

(14) "Day reporting" means a program of enhanced supervision designed to monitor the defendant's daily activities and compliance with sentence conditions, and in which the defendant is required to report daily to a specific location designated by the department or the sentencing judge.

(15) "Department" means the department of corrections.

(16) "Determinate sentence" means a sentence that states with exactitude the number of actual years, months, or days of total confinement, of partial confinement, of community supervision, the number of actual hours or days of community service work, or dollars or terms of a legal financial obligation. The fact that an offender through "earned early release" can reduce the actual period of confinement shall not affect the classification of the sentence as a determinate sentence.

(17) "Disposable earnings" means that part of the earnings of an individual remaining after the deduction from those earnings of any amount required by law to be withheld. For the purposes of this definition, "earnings" means compensation paid or payable for personal services, whether denominated as wages, salary, commission, bonuses, or otherwise, and, notwithstanding any other provision of law making the payments exempt from garnishment, attachment, or other process to satisfy a court-ordered legal financial obligation, specifically includes periodic payments pursuant to pension or retirement programs, or insurance policies of any type, but does not include payments made under Title 50 RCW, except as provided in RCW 50.40.020 and 50.40.050, or Title 74 RCW.

(18) "Drug offense" means:

(a) Any felony violation of chapter 69.50 RCW except possession of a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.401(d)) or forged prescription for a controlled substance (RCW 69.50.403);

(b) Any offense defined as a felony under federal law that relates to the possession, manufacture, distribution, or transportation of a controlled substance; or

(c) Any out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a drug offense under (a) of this subsection.

(19) "Escape" means:

(a) Escape in the first degree (RCW 9A.76.110), escape in the second degree (RCW 9A.76.120), willful failure to return from furlough (RCW 72.66.060), willful failure to return from work release (RCW 72.65.070), or willful failure to be available for supervision by the department while in community custody (RCW 72.09.310); or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as an escape under (a) of this subsection.

(20) "Felony traffic offense" means:

(a) Vehicular homicide (RCW 46.61.520), vehicular assault (RCW 46.61.522), eluding a police officer (RCW 46.61.024), or felony hit-and-run injury-accident (RCW 46.52.020(4)); or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a felony traffic offense under (a) of this subsection.

(21) "Fines" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court.

(22) "First-time offender" means any person who is convicted of a felony (a) not classified as a violent offense or a sex offense under this chapter, or (b) that is not the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture or deliver a controlled substance classified in Schedule I or II that is a narcotic drug or flunitrazepam classified in Schedule IV, nor the manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, its salts, isomers, and salts of its isomers as defined in RCW 69.50.206(d)(2), nor the selling for profit of any controlled substance or counterfeit substance classified in Schedule I, RCW 69.50.204, except leaves and flowering tops of marijuana, who previously has never been convicted of a felony in this state, federal court, or another state, and who has never participated in a program of deferred prosecution for a felony offense.

(23) "Most serious offense" means any of the following felonies or a felony attempt to commit any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended:

(a) Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony;

(b) Assault in the second degree;

(c) Assault of a child in the second degree;

(d) Child molestation in the second degree;

(e) Controlled substance homicide;

(f) Extortion in the first degree;

(g) Incest when committed against a child under age fourteen;

(h) Indecent liberties;

(i) Kidnapping in the second degree;

(j) Leading organized crime;

(k) Manslaughter in the first degree;

(l) Manslaughter in the second degree;

(m) Promoting prostitution in the first degree;

(n) Rape in the third degree;

(o) Robbery in the second degree;

(p) Sexual exploitation;

(q) Vehicular assault;

(r) Vehicular homicide, when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner;

(s) Any other class B felony offense with a finding of sexual motivation, as "sexual motivation" is defined under this section;

(t) Any other felony with a deadly weapon verdict under RCW 9.94A.125;

(u) Any felony offense in effect at any time prior to December 2, 1993, that is comparable to a most serious offense under this subsection, or any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a most serious offense under this subsection;

(v)(i) A prior conviction for indecent liberties under RCW 9A.88.100(1) (a), (b), and (c), chapter 260, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as it existed until July 1, 1979, RCW 9A.44.100(1) (a), (b), and (c) as it existed from July 1, 1979, until June 11, 1986, and RCW 9A.44.100(1) (a), (b), and (d) as it existed from June 11, 1986, until July 1, 1988;

(ii) A prior conviction for indecent liberties under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed from June 11, 1986, until July 1, 1988, if: (A) The crime was committed against a child under the age of fourteen; or (B) the relationship between the victim and perpetrator is included in the definition of indecent liberties under RCW 9A.44.100(1)(c) as it existed from July 1, 1988, through July 27, 1997, or RCW 9A.44.100(1) (d) or (e) as it existed from July 25, 1993, through July 27, 1997.

(24) "Nonviolent offense" means an offense which is not a violent offense.

(25) "Offender" means a person who has committed a felony established by state law and is eighteen years of age or older or is less than eighteen years of age but whose case is under superior court jurisdiction under RCW 13.04.030 or has been transferred by the appropriate juvenile court to a criminal court pursuant to RCW 13.40.110. Throughout this chapter, the terms "offender" and "defendant" are used interchangeably.

(26) "Partial confinement" means confinement for no more than one year in a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any other unit of government, or, if home detention or work crew has been ordered by the court, in an approved residence, for a substantial portion of each day with the balance of the day spent in the community. Partial confinement includes work release, home detention, work crew, and a combination of work crew and home detention as defined in this section.

(27) "Persistent offender" is an offender who:

(a)(i) Has been convicted in this state of any felony considered a most serious offense; and

(ii) Has, before the commission of the offense under (a) of this subsection, been convicted as an offender on at least two separate occasions, whether in this state or elsewhere, of felonies that under the laws of this state would be considered most serious offenses and would be included in the offender score under RCW 9.94A.360; provided that of the two or more previous convictions, at least one conviction must have occurred before the commission of any of the other most serious offenses for which the offender was previously convicted; or

(b)(i) Has been convicted of: (A) Rape in the first degree, rape of a child in the first degree, child molestation in the first degree, rape in the second degree, rape of a child in the second degree, or indecent liberties by forcible compulsion; (B) murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, homicide by abuse, kidnapping in the first degree, kidnapping in the second degree, assault in the first degree, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the first degree, or burglary in the first degree, with a finding of sexual motivation; or (C) an attempt to commit any crime listed in this subsection (27)(b)(i); and

(ii) Has, before the commission of the offense under (b)(i) of this subsection, been convicted as an offender on at least one occasion, whether in this state or elsewhere, of an offense listed in (b)(i) of this subsection. A conviction for rape of a child in the first degree constitutes a conviction under subsection (27)(b)(i) only when the offender was sixteen years of age or older when the offender committed the offense. A conviction for rape of a child in the second degree constitutes a conviction under subsection (27)(b)(i) only when the offender was eighteen years of age or older when the offender committed the offense.

(28) "Postrelease supervision" is that portion of an offender's community placement that is not community custody.

(29) "Restitution" means the requirement that the offender pay a specific sum of money over a specific period of time to the court as payment of damages. The sum may include both public and private costs. The imposition of a restitution order does not preclude civil redress.

(30) "Serious traffic offense" means:

(a) Driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.502), actual physical control while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug (RCW 46.61.504), reckless driving (RCW 46.61.500), or hit-and-run an attended vehicle (RCW 46.52.020(5)); or

(b) Any federal, out-of-state, county, or municipal conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be classified as a serious traffic offense under (a) of this subsection.

(31) "Serious violent offense" is a subcategory of violent offense and means:

(a) Murder in the first degree, homicide by abuse, murder in the second degree, manslaughter in the first degree, assault in the first degree, kidnapping in the first degree, or rape in the first degree, assault of a child in the first degree, or an attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit one of these felonies; or

(b) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a serious violent offense under (a) of this subsection.

(32) "Sentence range" means the sentencing court's discretionary range in imposing a nonappealable sentence.

(33) "Sex offense" means:

(a) A felony that is a violation of chapter 9A.44 RCW or RCW 9A.64.020 or 9.68A.090 or a felony that is, under chapter 9A.28 RCW, a criminal attempt, criminal solicitation, or criminal conspiracy to commit such crimes;

(b) A felony with a finding of sexual motivation under RCW 9.94A.127 or 13.40.135; or

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a sex offense under (a) of this subsection.

(34) "Sexual motivation" means that one of the purposes for which the defendant committed the crime was for the purpose of his or her sexual gratification.

(35) "Total confinement" means confinement inside the physical boundaries of a facility or institution operated or utilized under contract by the state or any other unit of government for twenty-four hours a day, or pursuant to RCW 72.64.050 and 72.64.060.

(36) "Transition training" means written and verbal instructions and assistance provided by the department to the offender during the two weeks prior to the offender's successful completion of the work ethic camp program. The transition training shall include instructions in the offender's requirements and obligations during the offender's period of community custody.

(37) "Victim" means any person who has sustained emotional, psychological, physical, or financial injury to person or property as a direct result of the crime charged.

(38) "Violent offense" means:

(a) Any of the following felonies, as now existing or hereafter amended: Any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or an attempt to commit a class A felony, criminal solicitation of or criminal conspiracy to commit a class A felony, manslaughter in the first degree, manslaughter in the second degree, indecent liberties if committed by forcible compulsion, kidnapping in the second degree, arson in the second degree, assault in the second degree, assault of a child in the second degree, extortion in the first degree, robbery in the second degree, drive-by shooting, vehicular assault, and vehicular homicide, when proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502, or by the operation of any vehicle in a reckless manner;

(b) Any conviction for a felony offense in effect at any time prior to July 1, 1976, that is comparable to a felony classified as a violent offense in (a) of this subsection; and

(c) Any federal or out-of-state conviction for an offense that under the laws of this state would be a felony classified as a violent offense under (a) or (b) of this subsection.

(39) "Work crew" means a program of partial confinement consisting of civic improvement tasks for the benefit of the community of not less than thirty-five hours per week that complies with RCW 9.94A.135. The civic improvement tasks shall have minimal negative impact on existing private industries or the labor force in the county where the service or labor is performed. The civic improvement tasks shall not affect employment opportunities for people with developmental disabilities contracted through sheltered workshops as defined in RCW 82.04.385. Only those offenders sentenced to a facility operated or utilized under contract by a county or the state are eligible to participate on a work crew. Offenders sentenced for a sex offense as defined in subsection (33) of this section are not eligible for the work crew program.

(40) "Work ethic camp" means an alternative incarceration program designed to reduce recidivism and lower the cost of corrections by requiring offenders to complete a comprehensive array of real-world job and vocational experiences, character-building work ethics training, life management skills development, substance abuse rehabilitation, counseling, literacy training, and basic adult education.

(41) "Work release" means a program of partial confinement available to offenders who are employed or engaged as a student in a regular course of study at school. Participation in work release shall be conditioned upon the offender attending work or school at regularly defined hours and abiding by the rules of the work release facility.

(42) "Home detention" means a program of partial confinement available to offenders wherein the offender is confined in a private residence subject to electronic surveillance.

PRIOR ADJUDICATIONS

- NOTE: References in the grid to days or weeks mean periods of confinement.
- (1) The vertical axis of the grid is the current offense category. The current offense category is determined by the offense of adjudication.
  - (2) The horizontal axis of the grid is the number of prior adjudications included in the juvenile's criminal history. Each prior felony adjudication shall count as one point. Each prior violation, misdemeanor, and gross misdemeanor adjudication shall count as 1/4 point. Fractional points shall be rounded down.
  - (3) The standard range disposition for each offense is determined by the intersection of the column defined by the prior adjudications and the row defined by the current offense category.
  - (4) RCW 13.40.180 applies if the offender is being sentenced for more than one offense.
  - (5) A current offense that is a violation is equivalent to an offense category of E. However, a disposition for a violation shall not include confinement.

CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY DISPOSITION ALTERNATIVE

If the juvenile offender is subject to a standard range disposition of local sanctions or 15 to 36 weeks of confinement and has not committed an A- or B+ offense, the court may impose a disposition under RCW 13.40.160(5) and 13.40.165.

OR

OPTION C MANIFEST INJUSTICE

If the court determines that a disposition under option A or B would effectuate a manifest injustice, the court shall impose a disposition outside the standard range under RCW 13.40.160(2).

Sec. 6. RCW 9A.44.050 and 1997 c 392 s 514 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of rape in the second degree when, under circumstances not constituting rape in the first degree, the person engages in sexual intercourse with another person:

(a) By forcible compulsion;

(b) When the victim is incapable of consent by reason of being physically helpless or mentally incapacitated, including physical helplessness or mental incapacity induced by any controlled substance, and the perpetrator knows of the helplessness or incapacity;

(c) When the victim is developmentally disabled and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and who has supervisory authority over the victim;

(d) When the perpetrator is a health care provider, the victim is a client or patient, and the sexual intercourse occurs during a treatment session, consultation, interview, or examination. It is an affirmative defense that the defendant must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the client or patient consented to the sexual intercourse with the knowledge that the sexual intercourse was not for the purpose of treatment;

(e) When the victim is a resident of a facility for mentally disordered or chemically dependent persons and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and has supervisory authority over the victim; or

(f) When the victim is a frail elder or vulnerable adult and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and who has a significant relationship with the victim.

(2) Rape in the second degree is a class A felony.

Sec. 7. RCW 9A.44.100 and 1997 c 392 s 515 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person is guilty of indecent liberties when he knowingly causes another person who is not his spouse to have sexual contact with him or another:

(a) By forcible compulsion;

(b) When the other person is incapable of consent by reason of being mentally defective, mentally incapacitated, or physically helpless, including mental incapacity or physical helplessness induced by any controlled substance, and the perpetrator knows of the defect, incapacity, or helplessness;

(c) When the victim is developmentally disabled and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and who has supervisory authority over the victim;

(d) When the perpetrator is a health care provider, the victim is a client or patient, and the sexual contact occurs during a treatment session, consultation, interview, or examination. It is an affirmative defense that the defendant must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the client or patient consented to the sexual contact with the knowledge that the sexual contact was not for the purpose of treatment;

(e) When the victim is a resident of a facility for mentally disordered or chemically dependent persons and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and has supervisory authority over the victim; or

(f) When the victim is a frail elder or vulnerable adult and the perpetrator is a person who is not married to the victim and who has a significant relationship with the victim.

(2) Indecent liberties is a class B felony.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 9A.44 RCW to read as follows:

Rape crisis centers, law enforcement, and hospital emergency rooms shall provide to all personnel investigating cases of sexual assault training on how to recognize the presence of sedating substances, how to test for the substances, and the appropriate chain of custody procedures to follow so that the evidence may be used in a court of law. The training required by this section may be incorporated into existing training programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This act applies to crimes committed on or after July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. This act takes effect July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

ESSB 5347 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Natural Resources & Park: Creating a program for juvenile fishing only waters. Reported by Committee on Natural Resources

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that providing young fishers with increased opportunity to fish with recreational gear will provide wholesome activities that will better their lives and instill an appreciation for the state's natural resources. Society as a whole will gain from these positive, youthful experiences, and an important tradition of Northwest life will be perpetuated. Many youthful fishers will be exposed to a natural experience that will teach them self-confidence and respect for the resource, and that will remain with them for the rest of their lives.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The fish and wildlife commission shall institute a program to identify, establish, and expand fishing opportunities for young anglers.

(2) In instituting this program, the department:

(a) Shall direct the program at young anglers less than eighteen years of age;

(b) May establish specific areas throughout the state where only young anglers are allowed to fish;

(c) May establish specific areas throughout the state where an adult is allowed to fish only when accompanied by a young angler;

(d) Shall strive to create fishing opportunities that encourage participation year around;

(e) Shall strive to provide fishing opportunities that are easily accessible from urban areas so as to encourage inner-city youth to participate in fishing activities;

(f) Shall emphasize catch and retention opportunities, although the commission may establish some waters for catch-and-release fishing; and

(g) May utilize fish produced in private and public fish hatcheries to provide viable fishing opportunities for young anglers.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department must work with cooperative groups, regional fisheries enhancement groups, government agencies, Indian tribes, private fish farmers, and civic groups for the purpose of expanding fishing opportunities for young anglers throughout the state. Organized groups that sponsor group outings for young fishers must be encouraged to the fullest extent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department of fish and wildlife must report to the appropriate committees of the legislature on the progress of implementing sections 2 and 3 of this act on or before January 31, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. Sections 2 and 3 of this act are each added to chapter 77.32 RCW."

ESSB 5527 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Agriculture & Environment: Providing incentives for water-efficient irrigation systems. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Ecology

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that significant water savings may be realized through the installation and use of more efficient irrigation systems and techniques. The legislature also finds that positive economic incentives, establishment of necessary legal procedures, and removal of legal barriers are needed to stimulate the development of workable technologies and farming systems that rely on lesser quantities of water.

The purpose of this act is to foster the use of water-efficient irrigation systems by allowing the saved water to be voluntarily transferred by the water right holder to other uses or other places of use. Additionally, the purpose is to establish incentives through enabling self-funded, private capital or public funds to provide improved market-based incentives for adopting water saving technologies and to allow the benefits of the conserved water to be fully realized. It is the intent of this act that sufficient protections be provided to assure that existing water users are not adversely affected by transfers approved under this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1) "Contract" means a written legal instrument that provides for the transfer of a portion of a water right from an existing water right holder to another person for consideration.

(2) "Department" means the department of ecology.

(3) "Net water savings" has the same meaning as defined in RCW 90.42.020.

(4) "Person" means a person, corporation, quasi-municipal corporation, municipal corporation, or state agency.

(5) "Reduction in evaporative loss" means the amount of water that is no longer lost to further use as a result of changing from a conventional irrigation system to a water-efficient irrigation system. "Reduction in evaporative loss" includes the reduction in the amount of water consumed through evaporation during the conveyance and/or the application of water to crops and through transpiration by nonproductive plants such as cover crops, but does not include any water that contributed to return flows used to satisfy existing rights.

(6) "Transfer" means a transfer of, change in, or amendment to a surface or ground water right described in RCW 90.03.380 and 90.44.100 or to transfer, change, or amend such a right.

(7) "Trust water right" means a water right transferred to and managed by the department for the benefit of instream flows or for the allocation to new uses as provided in chapter 90.38 or 90.42 RCW.

(8) "Water-efficient irrigation system" means a system, the use of which results in a water savings when compared to the use or loss of water experienced in conveying water and/or applying water to a crop or crops before the installation of the system.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) A person holding a valid water right who installs a water-efficient irrigation system for use under the right may apply to the department for a transfer of the use of the water resulting from the reduction in evaporative loss plus any additional net water savings resulting from the installation. The water use may be transferred:

(a) To other land owned by the person with less senior water rights or that lacks a full and sufficient supply of water or for the irrigation of an additional parcel or parcels of land owned by the person. The application for such a transfer must be processed based upon the same criteria as if the transfer were to be made to another person; or

(b) To another person for use on other land.

In the latter case, the person holding the valid water right may enter into a contract with another person for the transfer of water saved through installation of the water-efficient irrigation system. A contract may allow for a permanent transfer of a portion of the original water right, or for lease agreements with set expiration dates. The applicant shall state that the contract is not permanent in the application if the contract is not permanent. Such a contract shall be filed with the department with or as a supplement to the application and the department shall maintain a record of such a contract with the certificate of water right for the transferred water.

(2) In determining the amount that is transferrable as a result of the installation of a water-efficient irrigation system, the department shall allow the transfer of an amount equal to the reduction in the evaporative loss. The reduction in evaporative loss is a readily transferrable component of net water savings.

In addition, the department shall evaluate whether there are additional net water savings that result directly from installation of the water-efficient irrigation system that could be transferred without detriment to other existing water users. The department may not delay because of decisions on the determination of additional net water savings the approval of the transfer of the water that constitutes the reduction in evaporative loss.

(3) The use of water supplied by an irrigation district that is saved through installation of a water-efficient irrigation system as described in this section shall be regulated solely as provided by the board of directors of the irrigation district.

(4) A person wishing to make application for a transfer of a water right under this chapter, whether for surface or ground water, shall comply with RCW 90.03.380. The transferred portion of the water right has the same date of priority as the water right from which it originated, but between them the transferred portion of the right is inferior in priority unless otherwise provided by the parties by contract filed with the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department may adopt rules, in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW, for procedures to be used to facilitate the processing of requests for water right transfers made under this chapter and to establish a streamlined procedure to quantify the reduction in the evaporative loss. The methods used by the department for calculating reductions in evaporative loss, including but not limited to those for determining the exposure of water to evaporative loss using various irrigation systems, and the pan evaporation data to be used shall be the methods and data recommended by the Washington state cooperative extension service.

The rules may establish procedures for the department to make preliminary findings that can be used as an initial basis for developing contracts by applicants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. An applicant shall accompany an application for a water right transfer under this chapter with a fee established in RCW 90.03.470.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. In processing applications for transfers of portions of water rights under this chapter, if the department is unable to conclusively determine the validity of the original water right, the department may include a presumption of validity in the certificate of water rights. The presumption must provide to the contract purchaser the same right to the use of water embodied in the original water right.

The presumption of validity may not be used as evidence as to the existence or nonexistence in a water right adjudication conducted under chapter 90.03 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A holder of a water right may voluntarily enter into a contract with the department. The department may utilize funds that are now or hereafter authorized for the purchase of water savings made available under this chapter. The department shall utilize the same methods of calculating water that is transferrable to another party under this chapter in determining the amount of water that is transferrable to the state. If additional net water saved is available for the benefit of only a stream segment, the calculations may be made on a case-by-case basis while assuring no detriment to existing water users occurs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. This chapter may be known and cited as the agricultural water conservation incentives act.

Sec. 9. RCW 90.03.380 and 1997 c 442 s 801 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The right to the use of water which has been applied to a beneficial use in the state shall be and remain appurtenant to the land or place upon which the same is used(~~(; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the)~~). However, all or a portion of a right may be transferred to another or to others and become appurtenant to any other land or place of use without loss of priority of right theretofore established if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The point of diversion of water for beneficial use or the purpose of use may be changed, if such change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. A change in the place of use, point of diversion, and/or purpose of use of a water right to enable irrigation of additional acreage or the addition of new uses may be permitted if such change results in no increase in the annual consumptive quantity of water used under the water right. For purposes of this section, "annual consumptive quantity" means the estimated or actual annual amount of water diverted pursuant to the water right, reduced by the estimated annual amount of return flows, averaged over the most recent five-year period of continuous beneficial use of the water right. Before any transfer of such right to use water or change of the point of diversion of water or change of purpose of use can be made, any person having an interest in the transfer or change, shall file a written application therefor with the department, and the application shall not be granted until notice of the application is published as provided in RCW 90.03.280. If it shall appear that such transfer or such change may be made without injury or detriment to existing rights, the department shall issue to the applicant an authorization to make the change or transfer. When the applicant has completed the change or transfer, the department shall issue to the applicant a certificate in duplicate granting the right for such transfer or for such change of point of diversion or of use. The certificate so issued shall be filed and be made a record with the department and the duplicate certificate issued to the applicant may be filed with the county auditor in like manner and with the same effect as provided in the original certificate or permit to divert water.

(2) If an application for change proposes to transfer water rights from one irrigation district to another, the department shall, before publication of notice, receive concurrence from each of the irrigation districts that such transfer or change will not adversely affect the ability to deliver water to other landowners or impair the financial integrity of either of the districts.

(3) A change in place of use by an individual water user or users of water provided by an irrigation district need only receive approval for the change from the board of directors of the district if the use of water continues within the irrigation district, and when water is provided by an irrigation entity that is a member of a board of joint control created under chapter 87.80 RCW, approval need only be received from the board of joint control if the use of water continues within the area of jurisdiction of the joint board and the change can be made without detriment or injury to existing rights. The board of directors of an irrigation district may approve such a change if the board determines that the change: Will not adversely affect the district's ability to deliver water to other landowners; will not require the construction by the district of diversion or drainage facilities unless the board finds that the construction by the district is in the interest of the district; will not impair the financial or operational integrity of the district; and is consistent with the contractual obligations of the district.

(4) This section shall not apply to trust water rights acquired by the state through the funding of water conservation projects under chapter 90.38 RCW or RCW 90.42.010 through 90.42.070.

This section governs the denial of an application for a license or the suspension, revocation, or modification of a license by the department.

(1) The department shall give written notice of the denial of an application for a license to the applicant or his or her agent. The department shall give written notice of revocation, suspension, or modification of a license to the licensee or his or her agent. The notice shall state the reasons for the action. The notice shall be personally served in the manner of service of a summons in a civil action or shall be given in another manner that shows proof of receipt.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection and in subsection (4) of this section, revocation, suspension, or modification is effective twenty-eight days after the licensee or the agent receives the notice.

(a) The department may make the date the action is effective later than twenty-eight days after receipt. If the department does so, it shall state the effective date in the written notice given the licensee or agent.

(b) The department may make the date the action is effective sooner than twenty-eight days after receipt when necessary to protect the public health, safety, or welfare. When the department does so, it shall state the effective date and the reasons supporting the effective date in the written notice given to the licensee or agent.

(c) When the department has received certification pursuant to chapter 74.20A RCW from the division of child support that the licensee is a person who is not in compliance with a support order or an order from court stating that the licensee is in noncompliance with a residential or visitation order under *chapter 26.09 RCW, the department shall provide that the suspension is effective immediately upon receipt of the suspension notice by the licensee.

(3) Except for licensees suspended for noncompliance with a support order under chapter 74.20A RCW ~~((or a residential or visitation order under *chapter 26.09 RCW))~~ or actions taken by the department pursuant to section 2 of this act or RCW 74.15.130(5), a license applicant or licensee who is aggrieved by a department denial, revocation, suspension, or modification has the right to an adjudicative proceeding. The proceeding is governed by the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW. The application must be in writing, state the basis for contesting the adverse action, include a copy of the adverse notice, be served on and received by the department within twenty-eight days of the license applicant's or licensee's receiving the adverse notice, and be served in a manner that shows proof of receipt.

(4)(a) If the department gives a licensee twenty-eight or more days notice of revocation, suspension, or modification and the licensee files an appeal before its effective date, the department shall not implement the adverse action until the final order has been entered. The presiding or reviewing officer may permit the department to implement part or all of the adverse action while the proceedings are pending if the appellant causes an unreasonable delay in the proceeding, if the circumstances change so that implementation is in the public interest, or for other good cause.

(b) If the department gives a licensee less than twenty-eight days notice of revocation, suspension, or modification and the licensee timely files a sufficient appeal, the department may implement the adverse action on the effective date stated in the notice. The presiding or reviewing officer may order the department to stay implementation of part or all of the adverse action while the proceedings are pending if staying implementation is in the public interest or for other good cause." Renumber remaining sections accordingly and correct the title.

ESSB 6117 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Ways & Means: Creating a salmon license buyback program. Reported by Committee on Natural Resources

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that recovery plans for salmon stocks listed as threatened or endangered under the federal endangered species act will require large scale restrictions, or complete fishing closures, for the commercial and charter boat fishery. To ensure that Canadian fishers continue to honor current restrictions on intercepting Washington coho and chinook as provided in annexes under the Pacific salmon treaty between the United States and Canada, it is essential that nontribal fishers from Washington reduce their harvest of Fraser river sockeye to below their full allocation as allowed under U.S. v. Washington, 384 F. Supp. 31 (1974). In addition, in order to successfully conclude negotiations on a new Pacific salmon treaty, it is essential to demonstrate the state's resolve in reducing harvests. This reduction of fishers depends upon federal funding and the implementation of a program to permanently retire a number of commercial salmon fishing licenses in Washington to a level commensurate with proposed harvest reductions.

It is the intent of the legislature to provide a source of funds to compensate commercial fishers and charter boat licensees for the loss of their livelihood by purchasing the commercial salmon fisher's license or charter boat license. Federal funds appropriated for the purchase of such licenses may only be available to the state of Washington if the state provides a matching share.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 75.44 RCW to read as follows:

The department, in consultation with representatives of commercial salmon license holders, shall develop a program of license purchase from persons holding a valid license under RCW 75.30.120. The objective of this program is to achieve the greatest license reduction at the lowest cost and in a minimum amount of time. In addition, priority for license purchase shall be based upon participation in and economic dependence on salmon fisheries harvested by commercial fleets from Canada or the United States. The department may purchase charter boat licenses from owners that hold valid charter boat licenses under RCW 75.30.065.

Purchase of the licenses is authorized only under the condition that the license is purchased for a one time price and that the license is permanently canceled and removed from the fishery. The department is not authorized to purchase vessels, fishing gear, or salmon delivery licenses. Charter boat licensees who participate in the license buyback program shall not be eligible to transfer all or a part of angler permits issued under RCW 75.30.070.

The department shall not exceed a state-funded share of twenty-five percent for each license purchased under the buyback program.

Sec. 3. RCW 75.44.140 and 1995 c 269 s 3201 are each amended to read as follows:

The director shall adopt rules for the administration of the program. ~~((To assist the department in the administration of the program, the director may contract with persons not employed by the state and may enlist the aid of other state agencies.))~~

Sec. 4. RCW 75.44.150 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 46 s 160 are each amended to read as follows:

The director is responsible for the administration and disbursement of all funds ~~((, goods, commodities, and services))~~ received by the state under the program.

There is created within the state treasury a fund to be known as the "~~((vessel, gear, license, and permit))~~ salmon commercial fishing license and charter boat reduction fund". This fund shall be used for purchases under ~~((RCW 75.44.110))~~ section 2 of this act and for the administration of the program. This fund shall be credited with federal or other funds received to carry out the purposes of the program ~~((and the proceeds from the sale or other disposition of property purchased under RCW 75.44.110)).~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) RCW 75.44.100 and 1985 c 7 s 150, 1983 1st ex.s. c 46 s 155, 1977 ex.s. c 230 s 3, & 1975 1st ex.s. c 183 s 3;
- (2) RCW 75.44.110 and 1984 c 67 s 1, 1983 1st ex.s. c 46 s 156, 1979 ex.s. c 43 s 1, 1977 ex.s. c 230 s 4, & 1975 1st ex.s. c 183 s 4;
- (3) RCW 75.44.120 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 46 s 157 & 1975 1st ex.s. c 183 s 5; and
- (4) RCW 75.44.130 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 46 s 158, 1979 ex.s. c 43 s 2, & 1975 1st ex.s. c 183 s 6.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

SSB 6119 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Government Operations: Concerning the assumption of a water-sewer district by a municipality. Reported by Committee on Government Administration

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 35.13A.010 and 1971 ex.s. c 95 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever used in this chapter, the following words shall have the following meanings:

(1) The words "district," "water district," and "sewer district" shall mean a ~~((water district or sewer district as indicated by the context of the section in which used))~~ "water-sewer district" as that term is used in Title 57 RCW.

(2) The word "city" shall mean a city or town of any class and shall also include any code city as defined in chapter 35A.01 RCW.

(3) ~~((The words "included with" shall mean the inclusion of all or part of the territory of a district, as indicated by the context, within the corporate limits of a city either by incorporation of a city, annexation to a city, consolidation of cities or any combination thereof.~~

~~(4))~~ The word "indebtedness" shall include general obligation, revenue, and special indebtedness and temporary, emergency, and interim loans.

Sec. 2. RCW 35.13A.020 and 1971 ex.s. c 95 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever all of the territory of a water ~~((district or))~~-sewer district is included within the corporate boundaries of a city, ~~((and))~~ the city legislative body ~~((has elected by))~~ may adopt a resolution or ordinance to assume jurisdiction ~~((thereof))~~ over all of the district.

(2) Upon the assumption, all real and personal property, franchises, rights, assets, taxes levied but not collected for the district for other than indebtedness, water ~~((and))~~, sewer ~~((lines))~~, and drainage facilities, and all other facilities and equipment of the district shall become the property of ~~((such))~~ the city subject to all financial, statutory, or contractual obligations of the district for the security or performance of which ~~((such))~~ the property may have been pledged. ~~((Such))~~ The city, in addition to its other powers, shall have the power to manage, control, maintain, and operate ~~((such))~~ the property, facilities and equipment and to fix and collect service and other charges from owners and occupants of properties so served by the city, subject, however, to any outstanding indebtedness, bonded or otherwise, of the district payable from taxes, assessments, or revenues of any kind or nature and to any other contractual obligations of the district.

~~((Such))~~ (3) The city may by resolution or ordinance of its legislative body, assume the obligation of paying such district indebtedness and of levying and of collecting or causing to be collected ~~((such))~~ the district taxes, assessments, and utility rates and charges of any kind or nature to pay and secure the payment of ~~((such))~~ the indebtedness, according to all of the terms, conditions and covenants incident to ~~((such))~~ the indebtedness, and shall assume and perform all other outstanding contractual obligation of the district in accordance with all of ~~((its))~~ their terms, conditions, and covenants. ~~((No such))~~ An assumption shall not be deemed to impair the obligation of any indebtedness or other contractual obligation ~~((entered into after August 9, 1971))~~. During the period until the outstanding indebtedness of the district has been discharged, the territory of the district and the owners and occupants of property therein, shall continue to be liable for its and their proportionate share of ~~((such))~~ the indebtedness, including any outstanding assessments levied within any local improvement district or utility local improvement district thereof. The city shall assume the obligation of causing the payment of ~~((such))~~ the district's indebtedness, collecting ~~((such))~~ the district's taxes, assessments, and charges, and observing and performing the other district contractual obligations. The legislative body of the city shall act as the officers of the district for the purpose of certifying the amount of any property tax to be levied and collected therein, and causing service and other charges and assessments to be collected from ~~((such))~~ the property or owners or occupants thereof, enforcing ~~((such))~~ the collection and performing all other acts necessary to ~~((insure))~~ ensure performance of the district's contractual obligations in the same manner and by the same means as if the territory of the district had not been included within the boundaries of a city.

When a city assumes the obligation of paying the outstanding indebtedness, and if property taxes or assessments have been levied and service and other charges have accrued for ~~((such))~~ this purpose but have not been collected by the district prior to ~~((such election))~~ the assumption, the same when collected shall belong and be paid to the city and be used by ~~((such))~~ the city so far as necessary for payment of the indebtedness of the district existing and unpaid on the date ~~((such))~~ the city ~~((elects to))~~ assumes the indebtedness. Any funds received by the city which have been collected for the purpose of paying any bonded or other indebtedness of the district, shall be used for the purpose for which they were collected and for no other purpose. Any outstanding indebtedness shall be paid as provided in the ~~((bond))~~ terms, conditions, and covenants of the indebtedness. All funds of the district on deposit with the county treasurer at the time of title transfer shall be used by the city solely for the benefit of the assumed utility and shall not be transferred to or used for the benefit of the city's general fund.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. During the period commencing with the effective date of this act and running through July 1, 1999, a city may not assume jurisdiction of all or a portion of a water-sewer district under RCW 35.13A.030 or 35.13A.040, unless voters of the entire water-sewer district approve a ballot proposition authorizing the assumption, and during the same period a water-sewer district may not:

- (1) Merge or consolidate with another water-sewer district; or
- (2) Take any action that would establish different contractual obligations, requirements for retiring indebtedness, authority to issue debt in parity with the district's existing outstanding indebtedness, rates of compensation, or terms of employment contracts, if a city assumes jurisdiction of all or a portion of the district.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and takes effect immediately."

SSB 6161 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Agriculture & Environment: Creating a dairy nutrient management program. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Ecology

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 90.64.005 and 1993 c 221 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature finds that there is a need to establish a clear and understandable process that provides for the proper and effective management of dairy ((waste)) nutrients that affect((s)) the quality of surface or ground waters in the state of Washington. The legislature finds that there is a need for a program that will provide a stable and predictable business climate upon which dairy farms may base future investment decisions.

The legislature finds that federal regulations require a permit program for dairies ((with)) with over seven hundred head of mature cows and, other specified dairy farms that directly discharge into waters or are otherwise significant contributors of pollution. The legislature finds that significant work has been ongoing over a period of time and that the intent of this chapter is to take the consensus that has been developed and place it into statutory form.

It is also the intent of this chapter to establish an inspection and technical assistance program for dairy farms to address the discharge of pollution to surface and ground waters of the state that will lead to water quality compliance by the industry. A further purpose is to create a balanced program involving technical assistance, regulation, and enforcement with coordination and oversight of the program by a committee composed of industry, agency, and other representatives. Furthermore, it is the objective of this chapter to maintain the administration of the water quality program as it relates to dairy operations at the state level.

It is also the intent of this chapter to recognize the existing working relationships between conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department of ecology in protecting water quality of the state. A further purpose of this chapter is to provide statutory recognition of the coordination of the functions of conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department of ecology pertaining to development of dairy waste management plans for the protection of water quality.

Sec. 2. RCW 90.64.010 and 1993 c 221 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Advisory and oversight committee" means a balanced committee of agency, dairy farm, and interest group representatives convened to provide oversight and direction to the dairy nutrient management program.

(2) "Bypass" means the intentional diversion of waste streams from any portion of a treatment facility.

(3) "Catastrophic" means a tornado, hurricane, earthquake, flood, or other extreme condition that causes an overflow from a required waste retention structure.

(4) "Certification" means:

(a) The acknowledgment by a local conservation district that a dairy producer has constructed or otherwise put in place the elements necessary to implement his or her dairy nutrient management plan; and

(b) The acknowledgment by a dairy producer that he or she is managing dairy nutrients as specified in his or her approved dairy nutrient management plan.

(5) "Chronic" means a series of wet weather events that precludes the proper operation of a dairy nutrient management system that is designed for the current herd size.

(6) "Conservation commission" or "commission" means the conservation commission under chapter 89.08 RCW.

~~((2))~~ (7) "Conservation districts" or "district" means a subdivision of state government organized under chapter 89.08 RCW.

~~((3))~~ (8) "Concentrated dairy animal feeding operation" means a dairy animal feeding operation subject to regulation under this chapter which the director designates under RCW ~~((90.64.030))~~ 90.64.020 or meets the following criteria:

(a) Has more than seven hundred mature dairy cows, whether milked or dry cows, that are confined; or

(b) Has more than two hundred head of mature dairy cattle, whether milked or dry cows, that are confined and either:

(i) From which pollutants are discharged into navigable waters through a manmade ditch, flushing system, or other similar manmade device; or

(ii) From which pollutants are discharged directly into surface or ground waters of the state that originate outside of and pass over, across, or through the facility or otherwise come into direct contact with the animals confined in the operation.

~~((4))~~ (9) "Dairy animal feeding operation" means a lot or facility where the following conditions are met:

(a) Dairy animals that have been, are, or will be stabled or confined and fed for a total of forty-five days or more in any twelve-month period; and

(b) Crops, vegetation forage growth, or postharvest residues are not sustained in the normal growing season over any portion of the lot or facility. Two or more dairy animal feeding operations under common ownership are considered, for the purposes of this chapter, to be a single dairy animal feeding operation if they adjoin each other or if they use a common area for land application of wastes.

~~((5))~~ (10) "Dairy farm" means any farm that is licensed to produce milk under chapter 15.36 RCW.

(11) "Dairy nutrient" means any organic waste produced by dairy cows or a dairy farm operation.

(12) "Dairy nutrient management plan" means a plan meeting the requirements established under section 6 of this act.

(13) "Dairy nutrient management technical assistance team" means one or more professional engineers and local conservation district employees convened to serve one of up to four distinct geographic areas in the state.

(14) "Dairy producer" means a person who owns or operates a dairy farm.

(15) "Department" means the department of ecology under chapter 43.21A RCW.

~~((6))~~ (16) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology, or his or her designee.

(17) "Upset" means an exceptional incident in which there is an unintentional and temporary noncompliance with technology-based permit effluent limitations because of factors beyond the reasonable control of the dairy. An upset does not include noncompliance to the extent caused by operational error, improperly designed treatment facilities, inadequate treatment facilities, lack of preventive maintenance, or careless or improper operation.

(18) "Violation" means the following acts or omissions:

(a) A discharge of pollutants into the waters of the state, except those discharges that occur when:

(i) A dairy producer has a current national pollutant discharge elimination system permit with a wastewater system designed, operated, and maintained for the current herd size and that contains all process-generated wastewater plus average annual precipitation minus evaporation plus contaminated storm water runoff from a twenty-five year, twenty-four hour rainfall event for that specific location, and the discharge is due to a chronic or catastrophic event, or to an upset as provided in 40 C.F.R. Sec. 122.41, or to a bypass as provided in 40 C.F.R. Sec. 122.41; or

(ii) The dairy producer has complied with the national pollutant discharge elimination system permit conditions or all of the elements, including appropriate land application practices, of a dairy nutrient management plan that prevents the discharge of pollutants to waters of the state, that is commensurate with the dairy producer's current herd size, and that is approved under section 6 of this act;

(b) Failure to register as required under section 3 of this act; or

(c) The lack of an approved dairy nutrient management plan by July 1, 2002; or

(d) The lack of a certified dairy nutrient management plan for a dairy farm after December 31, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) Every dairy producer licensed under chapter 15.36 RCW shall register with the department by September 1, 1998, and shall reregister with the department by September 1st of every even-numbered year. Every dairy producer licensed after September 1, 1998, shall register with the department within sixty days of licensing. The purpose of registration is to provide and update baseline information for the dairy nutrient management program.

(2) To facilitate registration, the department shall obtain from the food safety and animal health division of the department of agriculture a current list of all licensed dairy producers in the state and mail a registration form to each licensed dairy producer no later than July 15, 1998.

(3) At a minimum, the form shall require the following information as of the date the form is completed:

(a) The name and address of the operator of the dairy farm;

(b) The name and address of the dairy farm;

(c) The telephone number of the dairy farm;

(d) The number of cows in the dairy farm;

(e) The number of young stock in the dairy farm;

(f) The number of acres owned and rented in the dairy farm;

(g) Whether the dairy producer, to the best of his or her knowledge, has a plan for managing dairy nutrient discharges that is commensurate with the size of his or her herd, and whether the plan is being fully implemented; and

(h) If the fields where dairy nutrients are being applied belong to someone other than the dairy producer whose farm operation generated the nutrients, the name, address, and telephone number of the owners of the property accepting the dairy nutrients.

(4) In the mailing to dairy producers containing the registration form, the department shall also provide clear and comprehensive information regarding the requirements of this chapter.

(5) The department shall require the registrant to provide only information that is not already available from other sources accessible to the department, such as dairy licensing information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Before October 1, 1998, the department and conservation commission shall jointly sponsor and hold an educational workshop for conservation districts from around the state. The purpose of the workshop is to inform local conservation districts about the requirements of this chapter, and for local conservation districts, the conservation commission, and the department to clearly understand their respective roles and responsibilities in carrying out these requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) By October 1, 1998, the department shall initiate an inspection program of all dairy farms in the state. The purpose of the inspections is to:

(a) Survey for evidence of violations;

(b) Identify corrective actions for actual or imminent discharges that violate or could violate the state's water quality standards;

(c) Monitor the development and implementation of dairy nutrient management plans; and

(d) Identify dairy producers who would benefit from technical assistance programs.

(2) Local conservation district employees may, at their discretion, accompany department inspectors on any scheduled inspection of dairy farms except random, unannounced inspections.

(3) Follow-up inspections shall be conducted by the department to ensure that corrective and other actions as identified in the course of initial inspections are being carried out. The department shall also conduct such additional inspections as are necessary to ensure compliance with state and federal water quality requirements, provided that all licensed dairy farms shall be inspected once within two years of the start of this program. The department, in consultation with the advisory and oversight committee established in section 8 of this act, shall develop performance-based criteria to determine the frequency of inspections.

(4) Dairy farms shall be prioritized for inspection based on the development of criteria that include, but are not limited to, the following factors:

(a) Existence or implementation of a dairy nutrient management plan;

(b) Proximity to impaired waters of the state; and

(c) Proximity to all other waters of the state. The criteria developed to implement this subsection (4) shall be reviewed by the advisory and oversight committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) Except for those producers who already have a certified dairy nutrient management plan as required under the terms and conditions of an individual or general national pollutant discharge elimination system permit, all dairy producers licensed under chapter 15.36 RCW, regardless of size, shall prepare a dairy nutrient management plan. If at any time a dairy nutrient management plan fails to prevent the discharge of pollutants to waters of the state, it shall be required to be updated.

(2) By January 1, 1999, the conservation commission, in conjunction with the advisory and oversight committee shall develop a document clearly describing the elements that a dairy nutrient management plan must contain to gain local conservation district approval.

(3) In developing the elements that an approved dairy nutrient management plan must contain, the commission may authorize the use of methods and technologies other than those developed by the natural resources conservation service. Such methods and technologies shall meet the standards and specifications of:

(a) The natural resources conservation service as modified by the geographically based standards developed under section 10 of this act; or

(b) A professional engineer with expertise in the area of dairy nutrient management, if the use of any of the standards developed under this subsection (3) would not cause a violation of water quality standards.

(4) In evaluating alternative technologies and methods, the principal objectives of the committee's evaluation shall be determining:

(a) Whether there is a substantial likelihood that, once implemented, the alternative technologies and methods would not violate water quality requirements;

(b) Whether more cost-effective methods can be successfully implemented in some or all categories of dairy operations; and

(c) Whether the technologies and methods approved or provided by the natural resources conservation service for use by confined animal feeding operations are necessarily required for other categories of dairy operations.

In addition, the committee shall encourage the conservation commission and the conservation districts to apply in dairy nutrient management plans technologies and methods that are appropriate to the needs of the specific type of operation and the specific farm site and to avoid imposing requirements that are not necessary for the specific dairy producer to achieve compliance with water quality requirements.

(5) Such plans shall be submitted for approval to the local conservation district where the dairy farm is located, and shall be approved by conservation districts no later than by July 1, 2002. The conservation commission, in conjunction with conservation districts, shall develop a state-wide schedule of plan development and approval to ensure adequate resources are available to have all plans approved by July 1, 2002.

(6) If a plan meets the requirements identified in subsection (2) of this section, a conservation district shall approve the plan no later than ninety days after receiving the plan. If the plan does not meet the requirements identified in subsection (2) of this section, the local conservation district shall notify the dairy producer in writing of modifications needed in the plan no later than ninety days after receiving the plan. The dairy producer shall provide a revised plan that includes the needed modifications within ninety days of the date of the local conservation district notification. If the dairy producer does not agree with, or otherwise takes exception to, the modifications requested by the local conservation district, the dairy producer may initiate the appeals process described in section 7 of this act within thirty days of receiving the letter of notification.

(7) An approved plan shall be certified by a conservation district and a dairy producer when the elements necessary to implement the plan have been constructed or otherwise put in place, and are being used as designed and intended. A certification form shall be developed by the conservation commission for use state-wide and shall provide for a signature by both a conservation district representative and a dairy producer. Certification forms shall be signed by December 31, 2003, and a copy provided to the department for recording in the data base established in section 9 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Conservation district decisions pertaining to denial of approval or denial of certification of a dairy nutrient management plan; modification or amendment of a plan; conditions contained in a plan; application of any dairy nutrient management practices, standards, methods, and technologies to a particular dairy farm; and the failure to adhere to plan review and approval timelines identified in section 6 of this act are appealable under this chapter. Department actions pertaining to water quality violations are appealable under chapter 90.48 RCW.

In addition, a dairy producer who is constrained from complying with the planning requirements of this chapter because of financial hardship or local permitting delays may request a hearing before the conservation commission and may request an extension of up to one year beyond the approval and certification dates prescribed in this chapter for plan approval and certification.

(2) Within thirty days of receiving a local conservation district notification regarding any of the decisions identified in subsection (1) of this section, a dairy producer who disagrees with any of these decisions may request an informal hearing before the conservation commission or may appeal directly to the pollution control hearings board. The commission shall issue a written decision no later than thirty days after the informal hearing.

(3) If the conservation commission upholds the decision of the local conservation district at the informal hearing, the decision of the local conservation district may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board according to the procedure in chapter 43.21B RCW within thirty days of receipt of the commission's decision.

(4) When an appeals process is initiated under this section, the length of time extending from the start of the appeals process to its conclusion shall be added onto the timelines provided in this chapter for plan development, approval, and certification only if an appeal is heard by the pollution control hearings board.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. (1) A dairy nutrient management program advisory and oversight committee is established. The committee shall be cochaired by the executive director of the conservation commission and a dairy industry representative. The purpose of the committee is to provide direction to and oversight of the dairy nutrient management inspection program, as well as to encourage the use of appropriate alternative technologies and methods for managing dairy nutrients.

(2) The committee shall include no less than eleven, and no more than thirteen members, including one representative from the department, one representative of the dairy industry from each of up to four geographic areas as referenced in section 10 of this act, one representative from the conservation commission, two representatives from local conservation districts, one representative from a local health department, one representative of an environmental organization, and one representative from the shellfish industry. In addition, the natural resources conservation service and the federal environmental protection agency shall each be invited to appoint a representative to the committee.

(3) The conservation commission shall contact agencies and organizations representing the interests identified in subsection (2) of this section and request that they notify their employees and membership of the opportunity to serve on the advisory and oversight committee. The commission shall also extend invitations to the two persons representing the natural resources conservation service and the federal environmental protection agency. An association representing the dairy industry shall solicit interest broadly from both within and outside of the association. Persons interested in serving on the advisory and oversight committee shall submit their names to the conservation commission no later than May 1, 1998. By June 1, 1998, the commission shall appoint the required number of members from the nominations received.

(4) Commission members shall be compensated according to the provisions for part-time boards established in RCW 43.03.250.

(5) The committee shall perform the following functions:

(a) Meet at least four times per calendar year;

(b) Maintain meeting minutes and account for the resolution of issues jointly identified by the committee chairs as needing to be addressed;

(c) Review the development of the data base, the quarterly data base summary, and the annual report provided by the department under section 9 of this act and RCW 90.64.050;

(d) Act as a forum to hear suggestions from any interested parties, including dairy farmers, regarding implementation of the dairy nutrient management program;

(e) Review and recommend standardized dairy farm inspection procedures, prioritization criteria, and frequencies and a reporting format to be used by the department;

(f) Assist the department and the conservation commission in developing reports to the legislature as required in section 18 of this act; and

(g) Review and recommend dairy nutrient management technologies and methods other than those approved or provided by the natural resources conservation service for use as components of nutrient management plans under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. (1) By October 1, 1998, the department, in consultation with the advisory and oversight committee, shall develop and maintain a data base to account for the implementation of this chapter.

(2) The data base shall track registrations; inspection dates and results, including findings of violations; regulatory and enforcement actions; and the status of dairy nutrient management plans. In addition, the number of dairy farm inspections by inspector shall be tallied by month. A summary of data base information shall be provided quarterly to the advisory and oversight committee.

(3) Any information entered into the data base by the department about any aspect of a particular dairy operation may be reviewed by the affected dairy producer upon request. The department shall correct any information in the data base upon a showing that the information is faulty or inaccurate. Complaints that have been filed with the department and determined to be unfounded, invalid, or without merit shall not be recorded in the data base. Appeals of decisions related to dairy nutrient management plans to the pollution control hearings board or to any court shall be recorded, as well as the decisions of those bodies.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) The conservation commission shall establish up to four dairy nutrient management technical assistance teams by June 1, 1998. The teams shall be geographically located throughout the state. Each team shall consist of one or more professional engineers, local conservation district employees, and dairy nutrient management experts from the Washington State University cooperative extension. The purpose of the teams is to:

(a) Actively develop and promote new cost-effective approaches for managing dairy nutrients; and

(b) Assist dairy farms in developing dairy nutrient management plans.

The ability of dairy producers to comply with the planning requirements of this chapter is acknowledged, in many cases, to depend upon the availability of federal and state funding to support technical assistance provided by local conservation districts. Dairy producers shall not be held responsible for noncompliance with the planning requirements of this chapter if conservation districts are unable to perform their duties under this chapter because of insufficient funding.

(2) By November 1, 1998, each team shall develop one or more initial sets of standards and specifications to assist dairy producers in developing and implementing dairy nutrient management plans. Standards and specifications developed by a technical assistance team shall be appropriate to the soils and other conditions within that geographic area and shall be reviewed by the advisory and oversight committee.

Sec. 11. RCW 90.64.030 and 1993 c 221 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Upon receiving a complaint or upon its own determination that a dairy animal feeding operation is a likely source of water quality degradation,))~~ (1) Under the inspection program established in section 5 of this act, the department may investigate a dairy ~~((animal feeding operation))~~ farm to determine whether the operation is discharging ~~((directly))~~ pollutants or ~~((recently))~~ has ~~((discharged directly))~~ a record of discharging pollutants into surface or ground waters of the state. Upon concluding an investigation, the department shall make a written report of its findings, including the results of any water quality measurements, photographs, or other pertinent information, and provide a copy of the report to the dairy producer within twenty days of the investigation.

(2) The department shall investigate a written complaint filed with the department within ~~((ten))~~ three working days and shall make a written report of its findings including the results of any water quality measurements, photographs, or other pertinent information. A copy of the findings shall be provided ~~((upon request))~~ to the dairy ~~((animal feeding operation))~~ producer subject to the complaint within twenty days. Only findings of violations shall be entered into the data base identified in section 9 of this act.

~~((Those dairy animal feeding operations that are))~~ (3) A dairy farm that is determined to be a significant contributor of pollution based on actual water quality tests, photographs, or other pertinent information ~~((if immediate corrective actions are not possible, shall be designated as a concentrated dairy animal feeding operation and shall be))~~ is subject to the provisions of this chapter and to the enforcement provisions of chapters 43.05 and 90.48 RCW, including civil penalties levied under RCW 90.48.144.

(4) For a violation of water quality laws that is a first offense for a dairy producer, the penalty may be waived to allow the producer to come into compliance with water quality laws. The department shall record all legitimate violations and subsequent enforcement actions.

(5) A discharge, including a storm water discharge, to surface waters of the state shall not be considered a violation of this chapter, chapter 90.48 RCW, or chapter 173-201A WAC, and shall therefore not be enforceable by the department of ecology or a third party, if at the time of the discharge, the conditions in RCW 90.64.010(18) are met. In addition, a dairy producer shall not be held liable for violations of this chapter, chapter 90.48 RCW, chapter 173-201A WAC, or the federal clean water act due to the discharge of dairy nutrients to waters of the state resulting from spreading these materials on lands other than where the nutrients were generated, when the nutrients are spread by persons other than the dairy producer or the dairy producer's agent.

(6) Agricultural activities associated with the management of dairy nutrients are presumed to be reasonable and shall not be found to constitute a nuisance unless the activity has a substantial adverse effect on public health and safety.

(7) This section specifically acknowledges that if a holder of a general or individual national pollutant discharge elimination system permit complies with the permit and the dairy nutrient management plan conditions for appropriate land application practices, the permit provides compliance with the federal clean water act and acts as a shield against citizen or agency enforcement for any additions of pollutants to waters of the state or of the United States as authorized by the permit.

(8) A dairy producer who fails to have an approved dairy nutrient management plan by July 1, 2002, or a certified dairy nutrient management plan by December 31, 2003, and for which no appeals have been filed with the pollution control hearings board, is in violation of this chapter. Each month beyond these deadlines that a dairy producer is out of compliance with the requirement for either plan approval or plan certification shall be considered separate violations of chapter 90.64 RCW that may be subject to penalties. Such penalties may not exceed one hundred dollars per month for each violation up to a combined total of five thousand dollars. Failure to register as required in section 3 of this act shall subject a dairy producer to a maximum penalty of one hundred dollars. Penalties shall be levied by the department upon request of the conservation commission.

Sec. 12. RCW 90.64.050 and 1993 c 221 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department has the following duties:

(a) Identify existing or potential water quality problems resulting from dairy farms through implementation of the inspection program in section 5 of this act;

(b) Inspect a dairy farm upon the request of a dairy producer;

(c) Receive, process, and verify complaints concerning discharge of pollutants from all dairy farms ~~((regardless of size));~~

~~((e))~~ (d) Determine if a dairy-related water quality problem requires immediate corrective action under the Washington state water pollution control laws, chapter 90.48 RCW, or the Washington state water quality standards adopted under chapter 90.48 RCW~~((, or other authorities)).~~ The department shall maintain the lead enforcement responsibility;

~~((d))~~ (e) Administer and enforce national pollutant~~((s))~~ discharge elimination system permits for operators of concentrated dairy animal feeding operations, where required by federal regulations~~((,))~~ and ~~((administer))~~ state laws or upon request of a dairy producer;

~~((e))~~ ~~Appoint representatives, including dairy industry representatives, to participate in the compliance review committee that will annually review and update policy and disseminate information as needed;~~

(f) Participate on the advisory and oversight committee;

(g) Encourage communication and cooperation between local department personnel and the appropriate conservation district personnel;

~~((g))~~ (h) Require the use of ((federal soil conservation service standards and specifications in designing best management practices for)) dairy ((waste)) nutrient management plans ((to protect water quality)) as required in sections 6, 8, and 10 of this act for entities required to plan under this chapter; and

~~((h))~~ (i) Provide to the commission and the advisory and oversight committee an annual report of dairy ((waste pollution)) nutrient management planning, inspection, and enforcement activities.

(2) The department may not delegate its responsibilities in enforcement.

Sec. 13. RCW 90.64.060 and 1993 c 221 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((1) If the department determines that the operator of a dairy animal feeding operation has the means to correct a water quality problem in a manner that will prevent future contamination and does so promptly and such correction is maintained, the department shall cease pursuit of the complaint.~~

~~(2))~~ If the department determines that an unresolved water quality problem from a dairy ~~((animal feeding operation))~~ farm requires immediate corrective action, the department shall notify the ~~((operator))~~ producer and the district in which the problem is located. When corrective actions are required to address such unresolved water quality problems, the department shall provide copies of all final dairy farm inspection reports and documentation of all formal regulatory and enforcement actions taken by the department against that particular dairy farm to the local conservation district and to the appropriate dairy farm within twenty days.

~~((3) If immediate action is not necessary by the department, the handling of complaints will differ depending on the amount of information available and the compliance option selected by the conservation district involved.~~

~~(a) When the name and address of the party against whom the complaint was registered are known:~~

~~(i) Districts operating at levels 1 and 2 will receive a copy of complaint information, and compliance letter if one was sent out.~~

~~(ii) Districts operating at levels 3 and 4 will receive a copy of complaint information and the letter sent by the department to the operator informing the operator of the complaint and providing the operator with the opportunity to work with the conservation district on a voluntary basis.~~

~~(b) The department and the conservation district will work together at the local level to resolve complaints when the name and address of the party against whom the complaint was registered are unknown.)~~

Sec. 14. RCW 90.64.070 and 1993 c 221 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The conservation district has the following duties:

~~(a) ((Adopt and annually update the water quality section in the conservation district dairy waste management plan))~~ Provide technical assistance to the department in identifying and correcting existing water quality problems resulting from dairy farms through implementation of the inspection program in section 5 of this act;

~~(b) ((As part of the district annual report, include a water quality progress report on dairy waste management activities conducted that are related to this chapter))~~ Immediately refer complaints received from the public regarding discharge of pollutants to the department;

(c) Encourage communication and cooperation between the conservation district personnel and local department personnel;

~~(d) ((Adopt and carry out a compliance option from level 1, level 2, level 3, or level 4))~~ Provide technical assistance to dairy producers in developing and implementing a dairy nutrient management plan; and

(e) Review, approve, and certify dairy nutrient management plans that meet the minimum standards developed under this chapter.

(2) The district's capability to carry out its responsibilities ~~((in the four levels of compliance))~~ under this chapter is contingent upon the availability of funding and resources to implement a dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program.

Sec. 15. RCW 90.64.080 and 1993 c 221 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The conservation commission has the following duties:

~~(a) ((Forward to the department the dairy waste management plan progress reports;~~

~~(b))~~ Provide assistance as may be appropriate to the conservation districts in the discharge of their responsibilities as management agencies in dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program implementation;

~~((c))~~ (b) Provide coordination for conservation district programs at the state level through special arrangements with appropriate federal and state agencies, including oversight of the review, approval, and certification of dairy nutrient management plans;

~~((d))~~ (c) Inform conservation districts of activities and experiences of other conservation districts relative to agricultural water quality protection, and facilitate an interchange of advice, experience, and cooperation between the districts;

(d) Provide an informal hearing for disputes between dairy producers and local conservation districts pertaining to: (i) Denial of approval or denial of certification of dairy nutrient management plans; (ii) modification or amendment of plans; (iii) conditions contained in plans; (iv) application of any dairy nutrient management practices, standards, methods, and technologies to a particular dairy farm; and (v) the failure to adhere to the plan review and approval timelines identified in section 6 of this act. An informal hearing may also provide an opportunity for dairy producers who are constrained from timely compliance with the planning requirements of this chapter because of financial hardship or local permitting delays to petition for additional time to comply.

(e) Encourage communication between the conservation district personnel and local department personnel;

(f) Accept nominations and appoint ~~((conservation district representatives))~~ members to serve on the ~~((compliance review))~~ advisory and oversight committee with advice of the Washington association of conservation districts and the department;

(g) ~~((Appoint a commission representative to participate on the compliance review committee that will annually review and update policy and disseminate information as needed))~~ Provide a cochair to the advisory and oversight committee;

(h) Report to the legislature by December 1st of each year until 2003 on the technical assistance provided to dairy producers in carrying out the requirements of this chapter; and

(i) Work with the department to provide communication outreach to representatives of agricultural and environmental organizations to receive feedback on implementation of this chapter.

(2) The commission's capability to carry out its responsibilities under this chapter is contingent upon the availability of funding and resources to implement a dairy ~~((waste))~~ nutrient management program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. The dairy waste management account is created in the custody of the state treasurer. All receipts from monetary penalties levied pursuant to violations of this chapter must be deposited into the account. Expenditures from the account may be used only for the commission to provide grants to local conservation districts for the sole purpose of assisting dairy producers to develop and fully implement dairy nutrient management plans. Only the chairman of the commission or the chairman's designee may authorize expenditures from the account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

Sec. 17. RCW 90.48.465 and 1997 c 398 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall establish annual fees to collect expenses for issuing and administering each class of permits under RCW 90.48.160, 90.48.162, and 90.48.260. An initial fee schedule shall be established by rule within one year of March 1, 1989, and thereafter the fee schedule shall be adjusted no more often than once every two years. This fee schedule shall apply to all permits, regardless of date of issuance, and fees shall be assessed prospectively. All fees charged shall be based on factors relating to the complexity of permit issuance and compliance and may be based on pollutant loading and toxicity and be designed to encourage recycling and the reduction of the quantity of pollutants. Fees shall be established in amounts to fully recover and not to exceed expenses incurred by the department in processing permit applications and modifications, monitoring and evaluating compliance with permits, conducting inspections, securing laboratory analysis of samples taken during inspections, reviewing plans and documents directly related to operations of permittees, overseeing performance of delegated pretreatment programs, and supporting the overhead expenses that are directly related to these activities.

(2) The annual fee paid by a municipality, as defined in 33 U.S.C. Sec. 1362, for all domestic wastewater facility permits issued under RCW 90.48.162 and 90.48.260 shall not exceed the total of a maximum of fifteen cents per month per residence or residential equivalent contributing to the municipality's wastewater system. The department shall adopt by rule a schedule of credits for any municipality engaging in a comprehensive monitoring program beyond the requirements imposed by the department, with the credits available for five years from March 1, 1989, and with the total amount of all credits not to exceed fifty thousand dollars in the five-year period.

(3) The department shall ensure that indirect dischargers do not pay twice for the administrative expense of a permit. Accordingly, administrative expenses for permits issued by a municipality under RCW 90.48.165 are not recoverable by the department.

(4) In establishing fees, the department shall consider the economic impact of fees on small dischargers and the economic impact of fees on public entities required to obtain permits for storm water runoff and shall provide appropriate adjustments.

(5) The fee for an individual permit issued for a dairy farm as defined under chapter 90.64 RCW shall be capped at fifty cents per animal unit covered by the permit up to two thousand three hundred thirty-four animal units for fiscal year 1998, and two thousand four hundred twenty-eight animal units for fiscal year 1999. The fee for a general permit issued for a dairy farm as defined under chapter 90.64 RCW shall be capped at fifty cents per animal unit covered by the permit up to one thousand six hundred thirty-four animal units for fiscal year 1998, and one thousand seven hundred animal units for fiscal year 1999. For animal units in excess of these numbers, the fees shall be as prescribed in WAC 173-224-040.

(6) All fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the water quality permit account hereby created in the state treasury. Moneys in the account may be appropriated only for purposes of administering permits under RCW 90.48.160, 90.48.162, and 90.48.260.

~~((6))~~ (7) Beginning with the biennium ending June 30, 1997, the department shall present a biennial progress report on the use of moneys from the account to the legislature. The report will be due December 31st of odd-numbered years. The report shall consist of information on fees collected, actual expenses incurred, and anticipated expenses for the current and following fiscal years.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. The department, in conjunction with the conservation commission and advisory and oversight committee, shall report to the legislature by December 1st of each year until 2002, on progress made in implementing chapter . . ., Laws of 1998 (this act). At a minimum, the reports shall include data on inspections, the status of dairy nutrient planning, compliance with water quality standards, and enforcement actions. The report shall also provide recommendations on how implementation of chapter . . ., Laws of 1998 (this act) could be facilitated for dairy producers and generally improved.

Sec. 19. RCW 43.21B.110 and 1993 c 387 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The hearings board shall only have jurisdiction to hear and decide appeals from the following decisions of the department, the director, local conservation districts, the administrator of the office of marine safety, and the air pollution control boards or authorities as established pursuant to chapter 70.94 RCW, or local health departments:

(a) Civil penalties imposed pursuant to RCW 18.104.155, 70.94.431, 70.105.080, 70.107.050, 88.46.090, 90.03.600, 90.48.144, 90.56.310, and 90.56.330.

(b) Orders issued pursuant to RCW 18.104.043, 18.104.060, 43.27A.190, 70.94.211, 70.94.332, 70.105.095, 86.16.020, 88.46.070, 90.14.130, ~~((and))~~ 90.48.120, and 90.56.330.

(c) The issuance, modification, or termination of any permit, certificate, or license by the department or any air authority in the exercise of its jurisdiction, including the issuance or termination of a waste disposal permit, the denial of an application for a waste disposal permit, or the modification of the conditions or the terms of a waste disposal permit.

(d) Decisions of local health departments regarding the grant or denial of solid waste permits pursuant to chapter 70.95 RCW.

(e) Decisions of local health departments regarding the issuance and enforcement of permits to use or dispose of biosolids under RCW 70.95J.080.

(f) Decisions of local conservation districts related to the denial of approval or denial of certification of a dairy nutrient management plan; conditions contained in a plan; application of any dairy nutrient management practices, standards, methods, and technologies to a particular dairy farm; and failure to adhere to the plan review and approval timelines in section 6 of this act.

(g) Any other decision by the department, the administrator of the office of marine safety, or an air authority which pursuant to law must be decided as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) The following hearings shall not be conducted by the hearings board:

(a) Hearings required by law to be conducted by the shorelines hearings board pursuant to chapter 90.58 RCW.

(b) Hearings conducted by the department pursuant to RCW 70.94.332, 70.94.390, 70.94.395, 70.94.400, 70.94.405, 70.94.410, and 90.44.180.

(c) Proceedings by the department relating to general adjudications of water rights pursuant to chapter 90.03 or 90.44 RCW.

(d) Hearings conducted by the department to adopt, modify, or repeal rules.

(3) Review of rules and regulations adopted by the hearings board shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. RCW 90.64.090 and 1993 c 221 s 10 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. Sections 3, 5 through 10, 16, and 18 of this act are each added to chapter 90.64 RCW.

"Sec. 1. RCW 46.61.5055 and 1997 c 229 s 11 and 1997 c 66 s 14 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has no prior offense within five years shall be punished as follows:

(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than one day nor more than one year. Twenty-four consecutive hours of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than three hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Three hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By suspension of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of ninety days. The period of license, permit, or privilege suspension may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall suspend the offender's license, permit, or privilege; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than one year. Two consecutive days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of one year. The period of license, permit, or privilege suspension may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall suspend the offender's license, permit, or privilege.

(2) A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has one prior offense within five years shall be punished as follows:

(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than one year. Thirty days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of two years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than forty-five days nor more than one year. Forty-five days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than seven hundred fifty dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. Seven hundred fifty dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of nine hundred days. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege.

(3) A person who is convicted of a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 and who has two or more prior offenses within five years shall be punished as follows:

(a) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was less than 0.15, or for whom for reasons other than the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than ninety days nor more than one year. Ninety days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of three years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege; or

(b) In the case of a person whose alcohol concentration was at least 0.15, or for whom by reason of the person's refusal to take a test offered pursuant to RCW 46.20.308 there is no test result indicating the person's alcohol concentration:

(i) By imprisonment for not less than one hundred twenty days nor more than one year. One hundred twenty days of the imprisonment may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds that the imposition of this mandatory minimum sentence would impose a substantial risk to the offender's physical or mental well-being. Whenever the mandatory minimum sentence is suspended or deferred, the court shall state in writing the reason for granting the suspension or deferral and the facts upon which the suspension or deferral is based; and

(ii) By a fine of not less than one thousand five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars. One thousand five hundred dollars of the fine may not be suspended or deferred unless the court finds the offender to be indigent; and

(iii) By revocation of the offender's license or permit to drive, or suspension of any nonresident privilege to drive, for a period of four years. The period of license, permit, or privilege revocation may not be suspended. The court shall notify the department of licensing of the conviction, and upon receiving notification of the conviction the department shall revoke the offender's license, permit, or privilege.

(4) In exercising its discretion in setting penalties within the limits allowed by this section, the court shall particularly consider whether the person's driving at the time of the offense was responsible for injury or damage to another or another's property.

(5) An offender punishable under this section is subject to the alcohol assessment and treatment provisions of RCW 46.61.5056.

(6) After expiration of any period of suspension or revocation of the offender's license, permit, or privilege to drive required by this section, the department shall place the offender's driving privilege in probationary status pursuant to RCW 46.20.355.

(7)(a) In addition to any nonsuspendable and nondeferrable jail sentence required by this section, whenever the court imposes less than one year in jail, the court shall also suspend but shall not defer a period of confinement for a period not exceeding two years. The court shall impose conditions of probation that include: (i) Not driving a motor vehicle within this state without a valid license to drive and proof of financial responsibility for the future; (ii) not driving a motor vehicle within this state while having an alcohol concentration of 0.08 or more within two hours after driving; and (iii) not refusing to submit to a test of his or her breath or blood to determine alcohol concentration upon request of a law enforcement officer who has reasonable grounds to believe the person was driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle within this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The court may impose conditions of probation that include nonrepetition, installation of an ignition interlock or other biological or technical device on the probationer's motor vehicle, alcohol or drug treatment, supervised probation, or other conditions that may be appropriate. The sentence may be imposed in whole or in part upon violation of a condition of probation during the suspension period.

(b) For each violation of mandatory conditions of probation under (a)(i) and (ii) or (a)(i) and (iii) of this subsection, the court shall order the convicted person to be confined for thirty days, which shall not be suspended or deferred.

(c) For each incident involving a violation of a mandatory condition of probation imposed under this subsection, the license, permit, or privilege to drive of the person shall be suspended by the court for thirty days or, if such license, permit, or privilege to drive already is suspended, revoked, or denied at the time the finding of probation violation is made, the suspension, revocation, or denial then in effect shall be extended by thirty days. The court shall notify the department of any suspension, revocation, or denial or any extension of a suspension, revocation, or denial imposed under this subsection.

(8)(a) A "prior offense" means any of the following:

(i) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or an equivalent local ordinance;

(ii) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance;

(iii) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.520 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;

(iv) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.522 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug;

(v) A conviction for a violation of RCW 46.61.5249, 46.61.500, or 9A.36.050 or an equivalent local ordinance, if the conviction is the result of a charge that was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance, or of RCW 46.61.520 or 46.61.522;

(vi) An out-of-state conviction for a violation that would have been a violation of (a)(i), (ii), (iii), (iv), or (v) of this subsection if committed in this state;

(vii) A deferred prosecution under chapter 10.05 RCW granted in a prosecution for a violation of RCW 46.61.502, 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance; or

(viii) A deferred prosecution under chapter 10.05 RCW granted in a prosecution for a violation of RCW 46.61.5249, or an equivalent local ordinance, if the charge under which the deferred prosecution was granted was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504, or an equivalent local ordinance, or of RCW 46.61.520 or 46.61.522.

(b) "Within five years" means that the arrest for a prior offense occurred within five years of the arrest for the current offense.

Sec. 2. RCW 46.61.520 and 1996 c 199 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) When the death of any person ensues within three years as a proximate result of injury proximately caused by the driving of any vehicle by any person, the driver is guilty of vehicular homicide if the driver was operating a motor vehicle:

(a) While under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug, as defined by RCW 46.61.502; or

(b) In a reckless manner; or

(c) With disregard for the safety of others.

(2) Vehicular homicide is a class A felony punishable under chapter 9A.20 RCW, except that, for a conviction under subsection (1)(a) of this section, an additional two years shall be added to the sentence for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

Sec. 3. RCW 9.94A.310 and 1997 c 365 s 3 and 1997 c 338 s 50 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

NOTE: Numbers in the first horizontal row of each seriousness category represent sentencing midpoints in years(y) and months(m). Numbers in the second and third rows represent presumptive sentencing ranges in months, or in days if so designated. 12+ equals one year and one day.

(2) For persons convicted of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy under chapter 9A.28 RCW, the presumptive sentence is determined by locating the sentencing grid sentence range defined by the appropriate offender score and the seriousness level of the completed crime, and multiplying the range by 75 percent.

(3) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any firearm enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Five years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(b) Three years for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Eighteen months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced for any firearm enhancements under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (4)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all firearm enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all firearm enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall not run concurrently with any other sentencing provisions.

(f) The firearm enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

(4) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence for felony crimes committed after July 23, 1995, if the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon as defined in this chapter other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements based on the classification of the completed felony crime. If the offender or an accomplice was armed with a deadly weapon other than a firearm as defined in RCW 9.41.010 and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection as eligible for any deadly weapon enhancements, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section based on the felony crime of conviction as classified under RCW 9A.28.020:

(a) Two years for any felony defined under any law as a class A felony or with a maximum sentence of at least twenty years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(b) One year for any felony defined under any law as a class B felony or with a maximum sentence of ten years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(c) Six months for any felony defined under any law as a class C felony or with a maximum sentence of five years, or both, and not covered under (f) of this subsection.

(d) If the offender is being sentenced under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection for any deadly weapon enhancements and the offender has previously been sentenced for any deadly weapon enhancements after July 23, 1995, under (a), (b), and/or (c) of this subsection or subsection (3)(a), (b), and/or (c) of this section, or both, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this subsection shall be twice the amount of the enhancement listed.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any and all deadly weapon enhancements under this section are mandatory, shall be served in total confinement, and shall not run concurrently with any other sentencing provisions.

(f) The deadly weapon enhancements in this section shall apply to all felony crimes except the following: Possession of a machine gun, possessing a stolen firearm, drive-by shooting, theft of a firearm, unlawful possession of a firearm in the first and second degree, and use of a machine gun in a felony.

(g) If the presumptive sentence under this section exceeds the statutory maximum for the offense, the statutory maximum sentence shall be the presumptive sentence unless the offender is a persistent offender as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

(5) The following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence if the offender or an accomplice committed the offense while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter and the offender is being sentenced for one of the crimes listed in this subsection. If the offender or an accomplice committed one of the crimes listed in this subsection while in a county jail or state correctional facility as that term is defined in this chapter, and the offender is being sentenced for an anticipatory offense under chapter 9A.28 RCW to commit one of the crimes listed in this subsection, the following additional times shall be added to the presumptive sentence determined under subsection (2) of this section:

(a) Eighteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (i) or (ii) or 69.50.410;

(b) Fifteen months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(a)(1) (iii), (iv), and (v);

(c) Twelve months for offenses committed under RCW 69.50.401(d).

For the purposes of this subsection, all of the real property of a state correctional facility or county jail shall be deemed to be part of that facility or county jail.

(6) An additional twenty-four months shall be added to the presumptive sentence for any ranked offense involving a violation of chapter 69.50 RCW if the offense was also a violation of RCW 69.50.435.

(7) An additional two years shall be added to the presumptive sentence for vehicular homicide committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug as defined by RCW 46.61.502 for each prior offense as defined in RCW 46.61.5055.

Sec. 4. RCW 9.94A.360 and 1997 c 338 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The offender score is measured on the horizontal axis of the sentencing grid. The offender score rules are as follows:

The offender score is the sum of points accrued under this section rounded down to the nearest whole number.

(1) A prior conviction is a conviction which exists before the date of sentencing for the offense for which the offender score is being computed. Convictions entered or sentenced on the same date as the conviction for which the offender score is being computed shall be deemed "other current offenses" within the meaning of RCW 9.94A.400.

(2) Class A and sex prior felony convictions shall always be included in the offender score. Class B prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score, if since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent ten consecutive years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction. Class C prior felony convictions other than sex offenses shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender had spent five consecutive years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction. Serious traffic convictions shall not be included in the offender score if, since the last date of release from confinement (including full-time residential treatment) pursuant to a felony conviction, if any, or entry of judgment and sentence, the offender spent five years in the community without committing any crime that subsequently results in a conviction. This subsection applies to both adult and juvenile prior convictions.

(3) Out-of-state convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law. Federal convictions for offenses shall be classified according to the comparable offense definitions and sentences provided by Washington law. If there is no clearly comparable offense under Washington law or the offense is one that is usually considered subject to exclusive federal jurisdiction, the offense shall be scored as a class C felony equivalent if it was a felony under the relevant federal statute.

(4) Score prior convictions for felony anticipatory offenses (attempts, criminal solicitations, and criminal conspiracies) the same as if they were convictions for completed offenses.

(5)(a) In the case of multiple prior convictions, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all convictions separately, except:

(i) Prior offenses which were found, under RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), to encompass the same criminal conduct, shall be counted as one offense, the offense that yields the highest offender score. The current sentencing court shall determine with respect to other prior adult offenses for which sentences were served concurrently or prior juvenile offenses for which sentences were served consecutively, whether those offenses shall be counted as one offense or as separate offenses using the "same criminal conduct" analysis found in RCW 9.94A.400(1)(a), and if the court finds that they shall be counted as one offense, then the offense that yields the highest offender score shall be used. The current sentencing court may presume that such other prior offenses were not the same criminal conduct from sentences imposed on separate dates, or in separate counties or jurisdictions, or in separate complaints, indictments, or informations;

(ii) In the case of multiple prior convictions for offenses committed before July 1, 1986, for the purpose of computing the offender score, count all adult convictions served concurrently as one offense, and count all juvenile convictions entered on the same date as one offense. Use the conviction for the offense that yields the highest offender score.

(b) As used in this subsection (5), "served concurrently" means that: (i) The latter sentence was imposed with specific reference to the former; (ii) the concurrent relationship of the sentences was judicially imposed; and (iii) the concurrent timing of the sentences was not the result of a probation or parole revocation on the former offense.

(6) If the present conviction is one of the anticipatory offenses of criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy, count each prior conviction as if the present conviction were for a completed offense.

(7) If the present conviction is for a nonviolent offense and not covered by subsection (11) or (12) of this section, count one point for each adult prior felony conviction and one point for each juvenile prior violent felony conviction and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior nonviolent felony conviction.

(8) If the present conviction is for a violent offense and not covered in subsection (9), (10), (11), or (12) of this section, count two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent felony conviction, one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(9) If the present conviction is for Murder 1 or 2, Assault 1, Assault of a Child 1, Kidnapping 1, Homicide by Abuse, or Rape 1, count three points for prior adult and juvenile convictions for crimes in these categories, two points for each prior adult and juvenile violent conviction (not already counted), one point for each prior adult nonviolent felony conviction, and 1/2 point for each prior juvenile nonviolent felony conviction.

(10) If the present conviction is for Burglary 1, count prior convictions as in subsection (8) of this section; however count two points for each prior adult Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each prior juvenile Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(11) If the present conviction is for a felony traffic offense count two points for each adult or juvenile prior conviction for Vehicular Homicide or Vehicular Assault; for each felony offense or serious traffic offense, count one point for each adult and 1/2 point for each juvenile prior conviction.

This subsection shall not apply when additional time is added to a sentence pursuant to RCW 46.61.520(2).

(12) If the present conviction is for a drug offense count three points for each adult prior felony drug offense conviction and two points for each juvenile drug offense. All other adult and juvenile felonies are scored as in subsection (8) of this section if the current drug offense is violent, or as in subsection (7) of this section if the current drug offense is nonviolent.

(13) If the present conviction is for Willful Failure to Return from Furlough, RCW 72.66.060, Willful Failure to Return from Work Release, RCW 72.65.070, or Escape from Community Custody,

RCW 72.09.310, count only prior escape convictions in the offender score. Count adult prior escape convictions as one point and juvenile prior escape convictions as 1/2 point.

(14) If the present conviction is for Escape 1, RCW 9A.76.110, or Escape 2, RCW 9A.76.120, count adult prior convictions as one point and juvenile prior convictions as 1/2 point.

(15) If the present conviction is for Burglary 2 or residential burglary, count priors as in subsection (7) of this section; however, count two points for each adult and juvenile prior Burglary 1 conviction, two points for each adult prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction, and one point for each juvenile prior Burglary 2 or residential burglary conviction.

(16) If the present conviction is for a sex offense, count priors as in subsections (7) through (15) of this section; however count three points for each adult and juvenile prior sex offense conviction.

(17) If the present conviction is for an offense committed while the offender was under community placement, add one point.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 46.61 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Immediately before the court defers prosecution under RCW 10.05.020, dismisses a charge, or orders a sentence for any offense listed in subsection (2) of this section, the court and prosecutor shall verify the defendant's criminal history and driving record. The order shall include specific findings as to the criminal history and driving record. For purposes of this section, the criminal history shall include all previous convictions and orders of deferred prosecution, as reported through the judicial information system or otherwise available to the court or prosecutor, current to within the period specified in subsection (3) of this section before the date of the order. For purposes of this section, the driving record shall include all information reported to the court by the department of licensing.

(2) The offenses to which this section applies are violations of: (a) RCW 46.61.502 or an equivalent local ordinance; (b) RCW 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance; (c) RCW 46.61.520 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug; (d) RCW 46.61.522 committed while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or any drug; and (e) RCW 46.61.5249, 46.61.500, or 9A.36.050, or an equivalent local ordinance, if the conviction is the result of a charge that was originally filed as a violation of RCW 46.61.502 or 46.61.504 or an equivalent local ordinance, or of RCW 46.61.520 or 46.61.522.

(3) The periods applicable to previous convictions and orders of deferred prosecution are: (a) One working day, in the case of previous actions of courts that fully participate in the state judicial information system; and (b) seven calendar days, in the case of previous actions of courts that do not fully participate in the judicial information system. For purposes of this subsection, "fully participate" means regularly providing records to and receiving records from the system by electronic means on a daily basis."

2SSB 6168 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Ways & Means: Developing housing for temporary workers. Reported by Committee on Trade & Economic Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 19.27 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Temporary worker housing shall be constructed, altered, or repaired as provided in chapter 70.114A RCW and chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act). The construction, alteration, or repair of temporary worker housing is not subject to the codes adopted under RCW 19.27.031, except as provided by rule adopted under chapter 70.114A RCW or chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act).

(2) For the purpose of this section, "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 70.114A.020.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.114A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department shall adopt by rule a temporary worker building code in conformance with the temporary worker housing standards developed under the Washington industrial safety and health act, chapter 49.17 RCW, the rules adopted by the state board of health under RCW 70.54.110, and the following guidelines:

(a) The temporary worker building code shall provide construction standards for shelter and associated facilities that are safe, secure, and capable of withstanding the stresses and loads associated with their designated use, and to which they are likely to be subjected by the elements;

(b) The temporary worker building code shall permit and facilitate designs and formats that allow for maximum affordability, consistent with the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary housing;

(c) In developing the temporary worker building code the department shall consider:

(i) The need for dormitory type housing for groups of unrelated individuals; and

(ii) The need for housing to accommodate families;

(d) The temporary worker building code shall incorporate the opportunity for the use of construction alternatives and the use of new technologies that meet the performance standards required by law; and

(e) The temporary worker building code shall include standards for heating and insulation appropriate to the type of structure and length and season of occupancy.

(2) In adopting the temporary worker building code, the department shall make exceptions to the codes listed in RCW 19.27.031 and chapter 19.27A RCW, in keeping with the guidelines set forth in this section. The initial temporary worker building code adopted by the department shall be substantially equivalent with the temporary worker building code developed by the state building code council as directed by section 8, chapter 220, Laws of 1995.

(3) The temporary worker building code authorized and required by this section shall be enforced by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 49.17 RCW to read as follows:

By December 1, 1998, the department of labor and industries shall adopt rules requiring electricity in all temporary worker housing and establishing minimum requirements to ensure the safe storage, handling, and preparation of food in these camps, regardless of whether individual or common cooking facilities are in use.

Sec. 4. RCW 43.22.480 and 1995 c 289 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall adopt and enforce rules that protect the health, safety, and property of the people of this state by assuring that all factory built housing or factory built commercial structures are structurally sound and that the plumbing, heating, electrical, and other components thereof are reasonably safe. The rules shall be reasonably consistent with recognized and accepted principles of safety and structural soundness, and in adopting the rules the department shall consider, so far as practicable, the standards and specifications contained in the uniform building, plumbing, and mechanical codes, including the barrier free code and the Washington energy code as adopted by the state building code council pursuant to chapter 19.27A RCW, and the national electrical code, including the state rules as adopted pursuant to chapter 19.28 RCW and published by the national fire protection association or, when applicable, the temporary worker building code adopted under section 2 of this act.

(2) The department shall set a schedule of fees which will cover the costs incurred by the department in the administration and enforcement of RCW 43.22.450 through 43.22.490.

(3) The director may adopt rules that provide for approval of a plan that is certified as meeting state requirements or the equivalent by a professional who is licensed or certified in a state whose licensure or certification requirements meet or exceed Washington requirements.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any person providing temporary worker housing as defined in chapter 70.114A RCW shall secure an annual operating license prior to occupancy and shall pay a fee according to RCW 43.70.340. The license shall be conspicuously displayed on site.

(2) Licenses issued under this chapter may be suspended or revoked upon the failure or refusal of the person providing temporary worker housing to comply with the provisions of RCW 70.54.110, or of any rules adopted under this section by the department. All such proceedings shall be governed by the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) The department may assess a civil fine in accordance with RCW 43.70.095 for failure or refusal to obtain a license prior to occupancy of temporary worker housing. The department may refund all or part of the civil fine collected once the operator obtains a valid operating license. Civil fines under this section shall not exceed seven thousand dollars for the first violation of this section, and shall not exceed seventy thousand dollars for second and subsequent violations within any five-year period.

(4) The department shall adopt rules as necessary to assure compliance with this section.

(5) For the purpose of this section, "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as provided in chapter 70.114A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 43.70 RCW to read as follows:

This section applies to operators of temporary worker housing as defined in chapter 70.114A RCW who are providing temporary worker housing on farm except the provisions of RCW 70.114A.030 shall not apply to the requirements of this section.

(1) Any person who constructs, alters, or makes an addition to temporary worker housing shall:

(a) Submit plans and specifications for the alteration, addition, or new construction of this housing prior to beginning any alteration, addition, or new construction on this housing;

(b) Apply for and obtain a temporary worker housing building permit from the department prior to construction or alteration of this housing; and

(c) Submit a plan review and permit fee to the department of health pursuant to section 5 of this act.

(2) The department shall adopt rules as necessary, for the application procedures for the temporary worker housing plan review, permit process, construction inspection, and issuance of an occupancy permit.

(3) Any alteration of a manufactured structure to be used for temporary worker housing remains subject to chapter 43.22 RCW, and the rules adopted under chapter 43.22 RCW.

(4) For the purpose of this section, "temporary worker housing" has the same meaning as provided in chapter 70.114A RCW except the provisions of RCW 70.114A.030 shall not apply to the requirements of this section.

Sec. 7. RCW 43.70.340 and 1990 c 253 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ~~((farmworker housing inspection))~~ temporary worker housing fund is established in the custody of the state treasury. The department ~~((of health))~~ shall deposit all funds received under subsections (2) and (3) of this section and from the legislature to administer a ~~((labor camp))~~ temporary worker housing permitting, licensing, and inspection program conducted by the department ~~((of health))~~. Disbursement from the fund shall be on authorization of the secretary of health or the secretary's designee. The fund is subject to the allotment procedure provided under chapter 43.88 RCW, but no appropriation is required for disbursements.

(2) There is imposed a fee on each operating license issued by the department (~~(of health)~~) to every operator of (~~(a labor camp)~~) temporary worker housing that is regulated by the state board of health. (~~(The fee paid under this subsection shall include all necessary inspection of the units to ensure compliance with)~~) In establishing the fee to be paid under this subsection the department shall consider the cost of administering a license as well as enforcing applicable state board of health rules on (~~(labor camps-~~

~~(a) Fifty dollars shall be charged for each labor camp containing six or less units.~~

~~(b) Seventy five dollars shall be charged for each labor camp containing more than six units))~~ temporary worker housing.

(3) There is imposed a fee on each temporary worker housing building permit issued by the department to every operator of farm temporary worker housing as required by section 5 of this act. The fee shall include the cost of administering a permit as well as enforcing the department's temporary worker building code as adopted under section 2 of this act.

(4) The department shall conduct a fee study for:

(a) A temporary worker housing operator's license;

(b) On-site inspections; and

(c) A plan review and building permit for new construction.

After completion of the study, the department shall adopt these fees by rule by no later than December 31, 1998.

(5) The term of the operating license and the application procedures shall be established, by rule, by the department (~~(of health)~~).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 43.330 RCW to read as follows:

(1) There is established the farm worker housing finance program within the department. The department shall provide financial assistance to organizations eligible to receive assistance under chapter 43.185 RCW to assist in the development, maintenance, and operation of housing for low-income farm workers.

(2) The department shall work in cooperation with the departments of health, labor and industries, and social and health services to review proposals and make recommendations to the funding approval board that oversees the distribution of housing trust fund grants and loans. An advisory group representing growers, farm workers, and other interested parties shall be formed to assist the interagency group.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. RCW 70.114A.080 and 1995 c 220 s 8 are each repealed."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART I--TESTAMENTARY DISPOSITION OF NONPROBATE ASSETS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. SHORT TITLE. This chapter may be known and cited as the testamentary disposition of nonprobate assets act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. PURPOSES. The purposes of this chapter are to:

(1) Enhance and facilitate the power of testators to control the disposition of assets that pass outside their wills;

(2) Provide simple procedures for resolution of disputes regarding entitlement to such assets; and

(3) Protect any financial institution or other third party having possession of or control over such an asset and transferring it to a beneficiary duly designated by the testator, unless that third party has been provided notice of a testamentary disposition as required in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. CONSTRUCTION--JURISDICTION. (1) When construing sections and provisions of this chapter, the sections and provisions must:

(a) Be liberally construed and applied to promote the purposes of this chapter;

(b) Be considered part of a general act that is intended as unified coverage of the subject matter, and no part of this chapter may be deemed impliedly repealed by subsequent legislation if the construction can be reasonably avoided;

(c) Not be held invalid because of the invalidity of other sections or provisions of this chapter as long as the section or provision in question can be given effect without regard to the invalid section or provision, and to this end the sections or provisions of this chapter are severable;

(d) Not be construed by reference to section or subsection headings as used in this chapter, since these do not constitute any part of the law;

(e) Not be deemed to alter the community or separate property nature of any asset passing outside a testator's will or any individual's community or separate rights to the asset, and a testator's community or separate property rights to the asset are not affected by whether it passes outside the will or, under this chapter, by disposition under the will; and

(f) Not be construed as authorizing or extending the authority of any financial institution or other third party to sell or otherwise create assets that would pass outside a testator's will upon such terms as would contravene any other applicable federal or state law.

(2) The sections and provisions of this chapter apply to an owner who dies while a resident of this state on or after the effective date of this section and to a nonprobate asset the disposition of which on the death of the owner would otherwise be governed by the law of this state.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. DEFINITIONS. The definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(1)(a) "Actual knowledge" means:

(i) For a financial institution, whether acting as personal representative or otherwise, or other third party in possession or control of a nonprobate asset, receipt of written notice that: (A) Complies with section 109 of this act; (B) pertains to the testamentary disposition or ownership of a nonprobate asset in its possession or control; and (C) is received by the financial institution or third party after the death of the owner in a time sufficient to afford the financial institution or third party a reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge; and

(ii) For a personal representative that is not a financial institution, personal knowledge or possession of documents relating to the testamentary disposition or ownership of a nonprobate asset of the owner sufficient to afford the personal representative reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge, including reasonable opportunity for the personal representative to provide the written notice under section 109 of this act.

(b) For the purposes of (a) of this subsection, notice of more than thirty days is presumed to be notice that is sufficient to afford the party a reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge, but notice of less than five business days is presumed not to be a sufficient notice for these purposes. These presumptions may be rebutted only by clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.

(2) "Beneficiary" means the person designated to receive a nonprobate asset upon the death of the owner by means other than the owner's will.

(3) "Broker" means a person defined as a broker or dealer under the federal securities laws.

(4) "Date of will" means, as to any nonprobate asset, the date of signature of the will or codicil that refers to the asset and disposes of it.

(5) "Designate" means a written means by which the owner selects a beneficiary, including but not limited to instruments under contractual arrangements and registration of accounts, and "designation" means the selection.

(6) "Financial institution" means: A bank, trust company, mutual savings bank, savings and loan association, credit union, broker, or issuer of stock or its transfer agent.

(7)(a) "Nonprobate asset" means a nonprobate asset within the meaning of RCW 11.02.005, but excluding the following:

(i) A right or interest in real property passing under a joint tenancy with right of survivorship;

(ii) A deed or conveyance for which possession has been postponed until the death of the owner;

(iii) A right or interest passing under a community property agreement; and

(iv) An individual retirement account or bond.

(b) For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, see RCW 11.07.010(5).

(8) "Owner" means a person who, during life, has beneficial ownership of the nonprobate asset.

(9) "Request" means a request by the beneficiary for transfer of a nonprobate asset after the death of the owner, if it complies with all conditions of the arrangement, including reasonable special requirements concerning necessary signatures and regulations of the financial institution or other third party, or by the personal representative of the owner's estate or the testamentary beneficiary, if it complies with the owner's will and any additional conditions of the financial institution or third party for such transfer.

(10) "Testamentary beneficiary" means a person named under the owner's will to receive a nonprobate asset under this chapter, including but not limited to the trustee of a testamentary trust.

(11) "Third party" means a person, including a financial institution, having possession of or control over a nonprobate asset at the death of the owner, including the trustee of a revocable living trust and surviving joint tenant or tenants.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 105. DISPOSITION OF NONPROBATE ASSETS UNDER WILL.

(1) Subject to community property rights, upon the death of an owner the owner's interest in any nonprobate asset specifically referred to in the owner's will belongs to the testamentary beneficiary named to receive the nonprobate asset, notwithstanding the rights of any beneficiary designated before the date of the will.

(2) A general residuary gift in an owner's will, or a will making general disposition of all of the owner's property, does not entitle the devisees or legatees to receive nonprobate assets of the owner.

(3) A disposition in a will of the owner's interest in "all nonprobate assets" or of all of a category of nonprobate asset under section 104(7) of this act, such as "all of my payable on death bank accounts" or similar language, is deemed to be a disposition of all the nonprobate assets the beneficiaries of which are designated before the date of the will.

(4) If the owner designates a beneficiary for a nonprobate asset after the date of the will, the will does not govern the disposition of that nonprobate asset. If the owner revokes the later beneficiary designation, the prior will does not govern the disposition of the nonprobate asset. A beneficiary designation with respect to an asset that renews without the signature of the owner is deemed to have been made on the date on which the account was first opened.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 106. WAIVER OF RIGHT TO DISPOSE OF A NONPROBATE ASSET UNDER WILL. An owner may waive the right to dispose of a specific nonprobate asset by will under this chapter, with or without consideration, by a written instrument signed by the owner and delivered to the financial institution or other third party, including but not limited to signature cards or deposit agreements. The waiver is revocable by written instrument delivered to the financial institution or other third party unless the owner has stated that the waiver is to be irrevocable.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 107. CONTROVERSIES BETWEEN BENEFICIARIES AND TESTAMENTARY BENEFICIARIES. This chapter is intended to establish ownership rights to nonprobate assets upon the death of the owner, as between beneficiaries and testamentary beneficiaries. This chapter is relevant only as to controversies between these persons, and has no bearing on the right of a person to transfer a nonprobate asset under its terms in the absence of a testamentary provision under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 108. RIGHT TO RELY ON FORM OF NONPROBATE ASSET--DISCHARGE OF FINANCIAL INSTITUTION OR OTHER THIRD PARTY. In transferring nonprobate assets, a financial institution or other third party may rely conclusively and entirely upon the form of the nonprobate asset and the terms of the nonprobate asset arrangement in effect on the date of death of the owner, unless the financial institution or other third party has actual knowledge of the existence of a claim by a testamentary beneficiary. A financial institution or other third party is not required to inquire as to either the source or ownership of any nonprobate asset in its possession or under its control, or as to the proposed application of an asset so transferred. A transfer of a nonprobate asset in accordance with this section constitutes a complete release and discharge of the financial institution or other third party from all claims relating to the nonprobate asset, regardless of whether or not the transfer is consistent with the actual ownership of the nonprobate asset.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 109. NOTICE--FORM--LIMITATION ON LIABILITY FOR FAILURE TO PROVIDE NOTICE. (1) Written notice under this chapter must be served personally or by certified mail, return receipt requested and postage prepaid, on the financial institution or other third party having the nonprobate asset in its possession or control, on the beneficiary, on the testamentary beneficiary, and on the personal representative, and proof of the mailing or service must be made by affidavit and filed under the cause number assigned to the owner's estate. Notice to a financial institution must include notice delivered as follows:

(a) If the nonprobate asset was maintained at a specific office of the financial institution, notice must be delivered to the office at which the nonprobate asset was maintained, which notice must be directed to the manager of the office;

(b) If the nonprobate asset was held in a trust administered by a financial institution, notice must be delivered to the office at which the trust was administered, which notice must be directed to a named officer responsible for the administration of the trust; and

(c) In all cases, notice must be delivered to any other location and in any other manner specifically designated in a written agreement signed by the owner and the financial institution, including but not limited to a signature card or deposit agreement.

(2) Written notice to a financial institution or other third party of the testamentary disposition of a nonprobate asset under this chapter must be in a form substantially similar to the following:

NOTICE OF TESTAMENTARY DISPOSITION OF NONPROBATE ASSET

The undersigned personal representative, petitioner for appointment as personal representative, attorney for the personal representative or petitioner, or testamentary beneficiary under the will of the decedent named above (as that term is defined in section 104 of this act) hereby notifies you that the decedent named above died on (DATE MUST BE SUPPLIED) and left a will dated (DATE OF WILL MUST BE SUPPLIED) disposing of the following nonprobate asset or assets in your possession or control:

(EACH SUCH ASSET MUST BE DESCRIBED WITH REASONABLE SPECIFICITY. FOR ACCOUNTS AT FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS, THE WRITTEN NOTICE MUST SPECIFY THE OFFICE AT WHICH THE ACCOUNT WAS MAINTAINED, THE NAME OR NAMES IN WHICH THE ACCOUNT WAS HELD, AND THE FULL ACCOUNT NUMBER. FOR ASSETS HELD IN TRUST, THE WRITTEN NOTICE MUST SPECIFY THE NAME OR NAMES OF THE GRANTOR, THE NAME OF THE TRUST, IF ANY, AND THE DATE OF THE TRUST INSTRUMENT.)

Under chapter 11.-- RCW (sections 101 through 116 of this act), you may not transfer, deliver, or otherwise dispose of the asset or assets listed above in accordance with the beneficiary designation, account registration, or other arrangement made with you by the decedent. You may transfer, deliver, or otherwise dispose of the asset or assets listed above only upon receipt of the written direction of the personal representative or of the testamentary beneficiary, if the personal representative consents.

(CAPACITY OF SIGNER)

(3) The personal representative of the estate of the owner, a petitioner for appointment as personal representative, or the testamentary beneficiary may provide written notice under this section. The personal representative has no duty to provide written notice under this section and has no liability for failing or refusing to give the notice.

(4) Written notice under this section may be provided at any time after the death of the owner and before discharge of the personal representative on closing of the estate, and may be provided before admission to probate of the will.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 110. VESTING OF RIGHTS AND POWERS UNDER CHAPTER. The right to provide notice under section 109 of this act and the entitlement of the testamentary beneficiary to the nonprobate asset vest immediately upon death of the owner. The power of the personal representative to direct the financial institution or other third party having the nonprobate asset in its possession or under its control to transfer or otherwise dispose of the asset arises upon the later of appointment of the personal representative or admission of the will to probate.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 111. OWNERSHIP RIGHTS AS BETWEEN INDIVIDUALS PRESERVED--TESTAMENTARY BENEFICIARY MAY RECOVER NONPROBATE ASSET FROM BENEFICIARY--LIMITATION ON ACTION TO RECOVER. (1) The protection accorded to financial institutions and other third parties under section 108 of this act has no bearing on the actual rights of ownership to nonprobate assets as between beneficiaries and testamentary beneficiaries, and their heirs, successors, personal representatives, and assigns.

(2) A testamentary beneficiary entitled to a nonprobate asset otherwise transferred to a beneficiary not so entitled, and a personal representative of the owner's estate on behalf of the testamentary beneficiary, may petition the superior court having jurisdiction over the owner's estate for an order declaring that the testamentary beneficiary is so entitled, the hearing of the petition to be held in accordance with chapter 11.96 RCW.

(3) A testamentary beneficiary claiming a nonprobate asset who has not filed such a petition within the earlier of: (a) Six months from the date of admission of the will to probate; and (b) one year from the date of the owner's death, shall be forever barred from making such a claim or commencing such an action.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 112. NONPROBATE ASSETS NOT PROPERTY OF ESTATE. (1) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, a nonprobate asset disposed of under the owner's will may not be treated as a part of the owner's probate estate for any other purpose under this title, unless:

(a) The nonprobate asset is subject to liabilities and claims, estate taxes, and expenses of administration under RCW 11.18.200; or

(b) Any section of this title directs otherwise, by specifically referring to this section.

(2) Provision of notice under this chapter has no effect on the administration of other assets of the estate of the owner. The personal representative has no duty to administer upon a nonprobate asset because of providing the notice, unless specifically required by this chapter or under RCW 11.18.200.

(3) RCW 11.12.110, regarding death of a devisee or legatee before the testator, does not apply to disposition of a nonprobate asset under a will.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 113. TRANSFER OF NONPROBATE ASSET TO TESTAMENTARY BENEFICIARY. (1) A financial institution's or third party's obligation to transfer a nonprobate asset to a testamentary beneficiary arises only after it has actual knowledge of the claim of the testamentary beneficiary, and after receiving written direction from the personal representative of the owner's estate, or if the personal representative consents in writing, from the testamentary beneficiary, to make the transfer. The financial institution may also require that its customary procedures be followed in effectuating a transfer of the nonprobate asset.

(2) Subject to subsection (1) of this section, financial institutions and other third parties may transfer a nonprobate asset that has not already been distributed to the testamentary beneficiary entitled to the nonprobate asset under the owner's will, subject to liabilities and claims, estate taxes, and expenses of administration under RCW 11.18.200.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 114. AUTHORITY TO WITHHOLD TRANSFER. (1) This chapter does not require any financial institution or other third party to transfer a nonprobate asset to a beneficiary, testamentary beneficiary, or other person claiming an interest in the nonprobate asset if the financial institution or third party has actual knowledge of the existence of a dispute between beneficiaries, testamentary beneficiaries, or other persons concerning rights or ownership to the nonprobate asset under this chapter, or if the financial institution or third party is otherwise uncertain as to who is entitled to receive the nonprobate asset under this chapter. In any such case, the financial institution or third party may, without liability, notify in writing all beneficiaries, testamentary beneficiaries, or other persons claiming an interest in the nonprobate asset of either its uncertainty as to who is entitled to transfer of the nonprobate asset or the existence of any dispute, and it may also, without liability, refuse to transfer a nonprobate asset to a beneficiary or a testamentary beneficiary until such time as either:

(a) All the beneficiaries, testamentary beneficiaries, and other interested persons have consented in writing to the transfer; or

(b) The transfer is authorized or directed by a court of proper jurisdiction.

(2) The expense of obtaining the written consent or court authorization or direction may, by order of the court, be paid by the personal representative as an expense of administration.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 115. ADVERSE CLAIM BOND. Notwithstanding section 114 of this act, a financial institution or other third party having actual knowledge of the existence of a dispute between beneficiaries, a testamentary beneficiary, or other persons concerning rights to a nonprobate asset under this chapter may condition transfer of the nonprobate asset on execution, in form and with security acceptable to the financial institution or other third party, of a bond in an amount that is double the fair market value of the nonprobate asset on the date of the owner's death or the amount of any adverse claim, whichever is the lesser, indemnifying the financial institution or other third party from any and all liability, loss, damage, costs, and expenses, for and on account of transfer of the nonprobate asset.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 116. APPLICATION OF CHAPTER. This chapter applies to any will of an owner who dies while a resident of this state on or after the effective date of this section, regardless of whether the will was executed or republished before or after the effective date of this section and regardless of whether the beneficiary of the nonprobate asset was designated before or after the effective date of this section.

Sec. 117. RCW 11.02.005 and 1997 c 252 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

When used in this title, unless otherwise required from the context:

(1) "Personal representative" includes executor, administrator, special administrator, and guardian or limited guardian and special representative.

(2) "Net estate" refers to the real and personal property of a decedent exclusive of homestead rights, exempt property, the family allowance and enforceable claims against, and debts of, the deceased or the estate.

(3) "Representation" refers to a method of determining distribution in which the takers are in unequal degrees of kinship with respect to the intestate, and is accomplished as follows: After first determining who, of those entitled to share in the estate, are in the nearest degree of kinship, the estate is divided into equal shares, the number of shares being the sum of the number of persons who survive the intestate who are in the nearest degree of kinship and the number of persons in the same degree of kinship who died before the intestate but who left issue surviving the intestate; each share of a deceased person in the nearest degree shall be divided among those of the deceased person's issue who survive the intestate and have no ancestor then living who is in the line of relationship between them and the intestate, those more remote in degree taking together the share which their ancestor would have taken had he or she survived the intestate. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parent.

(4) "Issue" includes all the lawful lineal descendants of the ancestor and all lawfully adopted children.

(5) "Degree of kinship" means the degree of kinship as computed according to the rules of the civil law; that is, by counting upward from the intestate to the nearest common ancestor and then downward to the relative, the degree of kinship being the sum of these two counts.

(6) "Heirs" denotes those persons, including the surviving spouse, who are entitled under the statutes of intestate succession to the real and personal property of a decedent on the decedent's death intestate.

(7) "Real estate" includes, except as otherwise specifically provided herein, all lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and all rights thereto, and all interest therein possessed and claimed in fee simple, or for the life of a third person.

(8) "Will" means an instrument validly executed as required by RCW 11.12.020.

(9) "Codicil" means a will that modifies or partially revokes an existing earlier will. A codicil need not refer to or be attached to the earlier will.

(10) "Guardian" or "limited guardian" means a personal representative of the person or estate of an incompetent or disabled person as defined in RCW 11.88.010 and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(11) "Administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(12) "Executor" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed by will and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(13) "Special administrator" means a personal representative of the estate of a decedent appointed for limited purposes and the term may be used in lieu of "personal representative" wherever required by context.

(14) "Trustee" means an original, added, or successor trustee and includes the state, or any agency thereof, when it is acting as the trustee of a trust to which chapter 11.98 RCW applies.

(15) "Nonprobate asset" means those rights and interests of a person having beneficial ownership of an asset that pass on the person's death under a written instrument or arrangement other than the person's will. "Nonprobate asset" includes, but is not limited to, a right or interest passing under a joint tenancy with right of survivorship, joint bank account with right of survivorship, payable on death or trust bank account, transfer on death security or security account, deed or conveyance if possession has been postponed until the death of the person, trust of which the person is grantor and that becomes effective or irrevocable only upon the person's death, community property agreement, individual retirement account or bond, or note or other contract the payment or performance of which is affected by the death of the person. "Nonprobate asset" does not include: A payable-on-death provision of a life insurance policy, annuity, or other similar contract, or of an employee benefit plan; a right or interest passing by descent and distribution under chapter 11.04 RCW; a right or interest if, before death, the person has irrevocably transferred the right or interest, the person has waived the power to transfer it or, in the case of contractual arrangement, the person has waived the unilateral right to rescind or modify the arrangement; or a right or interest held by the person solely in a fiduciary capacity. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, RCW 11.07.010(5) applies. For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to revocation of a provision for a former spouse upon dissolution of marriage or declaration of invalidity of marriage, see RCW 11.07.010(5). For the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to testamentary disposition of nonprobate assets, see section 104(7) of this act.

(16) "Internal Revenue Code" means the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended or renumbered on January 1, (~~1997~~) 1998.

Words that import the singular number may also be applied to the plural of persons and things. Words importing the masculine gender only may be extended to females also.

Sec. 118. RCW 11.07.010 and 1997 c 252 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) This section applies to all nonprobate assets, wherever situated, held at the time of entry by a superior court of this state of a decree of dissolution of marriage or a declaration of invalidity.

(2)(a) If a marriage is dissolved or invalidated, a provision made prior to that event that relates to the payment or transfer at death of the decedent's interest in a nonprobate asset in favor of or granting an interest or power to the decedent's former spouse is revoked. A provision affected by this section must be interpreted, and the nonprobate asset affected passes, as if the former spouse failed to survive the decedent, having died at the time of entry of the decree of dissolution or declaration of invalidity.

(b) This subsection does not apply if and to the extent that:

(i) The instrument governing disposition of the nonprobate asset expressly provides otherwise;

(ii) The decree of dissolution or declaration of invalidity requires that the decedent maintain a nonprobate asset for the benefit of a former spouse or children of the marriage, payable on the decedent's death either outright or in trust, and other nonprobate assets of the decedent fulfilling such a requirement for the benefit of the former spouse or children of the marriage do not exist at the decedent's death; or

(iii) If not for this subsection, the decedent could not have effected the revocation by unilateral action because of the terms of the decree or declaration, or for any other reason, immediately after the entry of the decree of dissolution or declaration of invalidity.

(3)(a) A payor or other third party in possession or control of a nonprobate asset at the time of the decedent's death is not liable for making a payment or transferring an interest in a nonprobate asset to a decedent's former spouse whose interest in the nonprobate asset is revoked under this section, or for taking another action in reliance on the validity of the instrument governing disposition of the nonprobate asset, before the payor or other third party has actual knowledge of the dissolution or other invalidation of marriage. A payor or other third party is liable for a payment or transfer made or other action taken after the payor or other third party has actual knowledge of a revocation under this section.

(b) This section does not require a payor or other third party to pay or transfer a nonprobate asset to a beneficiary designated in a governing instrument affected by the dissolution or other invalidation of marriage, or to another person claiming an interest in the nonprobate asset, if the payor or third party has actual knowledge of the existence of a dispute between the former spouse and the beneficiaries or other persons concerning rights of ownership of the nonprobate asset as a result of the application of this section among the former spouse and the beneficiaries or among other persons, or if the payor or third party is otherwise uncertain as to who is entitled to the nonprobate asset under this section. In such a case, the payor or third party may, without liability, notify in writing all beneficiaries or other persons claiming an interest in the nonprobate asset of either the existence of the dispute or its uncertainty as to who is entitled to payment or transfer of the nonprobate asset. The payor or third party may also, without liability, refuse to pay or transfer a nonprobate asset in such a circumstance to a beneficiary or other person claiming an interest until the time that either:

(i) All beneficiaries and other interested persons claiming an interest have consented in writing to the payment or transfer; or

(ii) The payment or transfer is authorized or directed by a court of proper jurisdiction.

(c) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2) of this section and (a) and (b) of this subsection, a payor or other third party having actual knowledge of the existence of a dispute between beneficiaries or other persons concerning rights to a nonprobate asset as a result of the application of this section may condition the payment or transfer of the nonprobate asset on execution, in a form and with security acceptable to the payor or other third party, of a bond in an amount that is double the fair market value of the nonprobate asset at the time of the decedent's death or the amount of an adverse claim, whichever is the lesser, or of a similar instrument to provide security to the payor or other third party, indemnifying the payor or other third party for any liability, loss, damage, costs, and expenses for and on account of payment or transfer of the nonprobate asset.

(d) As used in this subsection, "actual knowledge" means, for a payor or other third party in possession or control of the nonprobate asset at or following the decedent's death, written notice to the payor or other third party, or to an officer of a payor or third party in the course of his or her employment, received after the decedent's death and within a time that is sufficient to afford the payor or third party a reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge. The notice must identify the nonprobate asset with reasonable specificity. The notice also must be sufficient to inform the payor or other third party of the revocation of the provisions in favor of the decedent's spouse by reason of the dissolution or invalidation of marriage, or to inform the payor or third party of a dispute concerning rights to a nonprobate asset as a result of the application of this section. Receipt of the notice for a period of more than thirty days is presumed to be received within a time that is sufficient to afford the payor or third party a reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge, but receipt of the notice for a period of less than five business days is presumed not to be a sufficient time for these purposes. These presumptions may be rebutted only by clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.

(4)(a) A person who purchases a nonprobate asset from a former spouse or other person, for value and without actual knowledge, or who receives from a former spouse or other person payment or transfer of a nonprobate asset without actual knowledge and in partial or full satisfaction of a legally enforceable obligation, is neither obligated under this section to return the payment, property, or benefit nor is liable under this section for the amount of the payment or the value of the nonprobate asset. However, a former spouse or other person who, with actual knowledge, not for value, or not in satisfaction of a legally enforceable obligation, receives payment or transfer of a nonprobate asset to which that person is not entitled under this section is obligated to return the payment or nonprobate asset, or is personally liable for the amount of the payment or value of the nonprobate asset, to the person who is entitled to it under this section.

(b) As used in this subsection, "actual knowledge" means, for a person described in (a) of this subsection who purchases or receives a nonprobate asset from a former spouse or other person, personal knowledge or possession of documents relating to the revocation upon dissolution or invalidation of marriage of provisions relating to the payment or transfer at the decedent's death of the nonprobate asset, received within a time after the decedent's death and before the purchase or receipt that is sufficient to afford the person purchasing or receiving the nonprobate asset reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge. Receipt of the personal knowledge or possession of the documents for a period of more than thirty days is presumed to be received within a time that is sufficient to afford the payor or third party a reasonable opportunity to act upon the knowledge, but receipt of the notice for a period of less than five business days is presumed not to be a sufficient time for these purposes. These presumptions may be rebutted only by clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.

(5) As used in this section, "nonprobate asset" means those rights and interests of a person having beneficial ownership of an asset that pass on the person's death under only the following written instruments or arrangements other than the decedent's will:

(a) A payable-on-death provision of a life insurance policy, employee benefit plan, annuity or similar contract, or individual retirement account;

(b) A payable-on-death, trust, or joint with right of survivorship bank account;

(c) A trust of which the person is a grantor and that becomes effective or irrevocable only upon the person's death; or

(d) Transfer on death beneficiary designations of a transfer on death or pay on death security, if such designations are authorized under Washington law.

~~((However, for the general definition of "nonprobate asset" in this title, RCW 11.02.005 applies.))~~ For the general definition in this title of "nonprobate asset," see RCW 11.02.005(15) and for the definition of "nonprobate asset" relating to testamentary disposition of nonprobate assets, see section 104(7) of this act.

(6) This section is remedial in nature and applies as of July 25, 1993, to decrees of dissolution and declarations of invalidity entered after July 24, 1993, and this section applies as of January 1, 1995, to decrees of dissolution and declarations of invalidity entered before July 25, 1993.

PART II--PROBATE

Sec. 201. RCW 11.54.070 and 1997 c 252 s 54 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in ~~((subsection))~~ RCW 11.54.060(2) ~~((of this section))~~, property awarded and cash paid under this chapter is immune from all debts, including judgments and judgment liens, of the decedent and of the surviving spouse existing at the time of death.

(2) Both the decedent's and the surviving spouse's interests in any community property awarded to the spouse under this chapter are immune from the claims of creditors.

Sec. 202. RCW 11.68.110 and 1997 c 252 s 68 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a personal representative who has acquired nonintervention powers does not apply to the court for either of the final decrees provided for in RCW 11.68.100 as now or hereafter amended, the personal representative shall, when the administration of the estate has been completed, file a declaration that must state as follows:

(a) The date of the decedent's death and the decedent's residence at the time of death;

(b) Whether or not the decedent died testate or intestate;

(c) If the decedent died testate, the date of the decedent's last will and testament and the date of the order probating the will;

(d) That each creditor's claim which was justly due and properly presented as required by law has been paid or otherwise disposed of by agreement with the creditor, and that the amount of estate taxes due as the result of the decedent's death has been determined, settled, and paid;

(e) That the personal representative has completed the administration of the decedent's estate without court intervention, and the estate is ready to be closed;

(f) If the decedent died intestate, the names, addresses (if known), and relationship of each heir of the decedent, together with the distributive share of each heir; and

(g) The amount of fees paid or to be paid to each of the following: (i) Personal representative or representatives; (ii) lawyer or lawyers; (iii) appraiser or appraisers; and (iv) accountant or accountants; and that the personal representative believes the fees to be reasonable and does not intend to obtain court approval of the amount of the fees or to submit an estate accounting to the court for approval.

(2) Subject to the requirement of notice as provided in this section, unless an heir, devisee, or legatee of a decedent petitions the court either for an order requiring the personal representative to obtain court approval of the amount of fees paid or to be paid to the personal representative, lawyers, appraisers, or accountants, or for an order requiring an accounting, or both, within thirty days from the date of filing a declaration of completion of probate, the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court and the representative's powers will cease thirty days after the filing of the declaration of completion of probate, and the declaration of completion of probate shall, at that time, be the equivalent of the entry of a decree of distribution in accordance with chapter 11.76 RCW for all legal intents and purposes.

(3) Within five days of the date of the filing of the declaration of completion, the personal representative or the personal representative's lawyer shall mail a copy of the declaration of completion to each heir, legatee, or devisee of the decedent, who: ~~(a) Has not waived notice of the filing, in writing, filed in the cause((, or who, not having waived notice,))~~; and (b) either has not received the full amount of the distribution to which the heir, legatee, or devisee is entitled or has a property right that might be affected adversely by the discharge of the personal representative under this section, together with a notice which shall be substantially as follows:

NOTICE IS GIVEN that the attached Declaration of Completion of Probate was filed by the undersigned in the above-entitled court on the . . . . day of . . . . ., 19. . . ; unless you shall file a petition in the above-entitled court requesting the court to approve the reasonableness of the fees, or for an accounting, or both, and serve a copy thereof upon the personal representative or the personal representative's lawyer, within thirty days after the date of the filing, the amount of fees paid or to be paid will be deemed reasonable, the acts of the personal representative will be deemed approved, the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court, and the Declaration of Completion of Probate will be final and deemed the equivalent of a Decree of Distribution entered under chapter 11.76 RCW.

If you file and serve a petition within the period specified, the undersigned will request the court to fix a time and place for the hearing of your petition, and you will be notified of the time and place thereof, by mail, or personal service, not less than ten days before the hearing on the petition.

Dated this . . . . day of . . . . ., 19. . .

Personal Representative

(4) If all heirs, devisees, and legatees of the decedent entitled to notice under this section waive, in writing, the notice required by this section, the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court and the declaration of completion of probate will become effective as a decree of distribution upon the date of filing thereof. In those instances where the personal representative has been required to furnish bond, and a declaration of completion is filed pursuant to this section, any bond furnished by the personal representative shall be automatically discharged upon the discharge of the personal representative.

Sec. 203. RCW 11.68.114 and 1997 c 252 s 70 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The personal representative retains the powers to: Deal with the taxing authority of any federal, state, or local government; hold a reserve in an amount not to exceed three thousand dollars, for the determination and payment of any additional taxes, interest, and penalties, and of all reasonable expenses related directly or indirectly to such determination or payment; pay from the reserve the reasonable expenses, including compensation for services rendered or goods provided by the personal representative or by the personal representative's employees, independent contractors, and other agents, in addition to any taxes, interest, or penalties assessed by a taxing authority; receive and hold any credit, including interest, from any taxing authority; and distribute the residue of the reserve to the intended beneficiaries of the reserve; if:

(a) In lieu of the statement set forth in RCW 11.68.110(1)(e), the declaration of completion of probate states that:

The personal representative has completed the administration of the decedent's estate without court intervention, and the estate is ready to be closed, except for the determination of taxes and of interest and penalties thereon as permitted under this section;

and

(b) The notice of the filing of declaration of completion of probate must be in substantially the following form:

NOTICE IS GIVEN that the attached Declaration of Completion of Probate was filed by the undersigned in the above-entitled court on the . . . day of . . . . , . . . . ; unless you file a petition in the above-entitled court requesting the court to approve the reasonableness of the fees, or for an accounting, or both, and serve a copy thereof upon the personal representative or the personal representative's lawyer, within thirty days after the date of the filing:

(i) The schedule of fees set forth in the Declaration of Completion of Probate will be deemed reasonable;

(ii) The Declaration of Completion of Probate will be final and deemed the equivalent of a Decree of Distribution entered under chapter 11.76 RCW;

(iii) The acts that the personal representative performed before the Declaration of Completion of Probate was filed will be deemed approved, and the personal representative will be automatically discharged without further order of the court with respect to all such acts; and

(iv) The personal representative will retain the power to deal with the taxing authorities, together with $. . . for the determination and payment of all remaining tax obligations. Only that portion of the reserve that remains after the settlement of any tax liability, and the payment of any expenses associated with such settlement, will be distributed to the persons legally entitled to the reserve.

(2) If the requirements in subsection (1) of this section are met, the personal representative is discharged from all claims other than those relating to the settlement of any tax obligations and the actual distribution of the reserve, at the effective date of the declaration of completion. The personal representative is discharged from liability from the settlement of any tax obligations and the distribution of the reserve, and the personal representative's powers cease, thirty days after the personal representative((:

~~(a))~~ has mailed to those persons who would have shared in the distribution of the reserve had the reserve remained intact((:)) and

~~((b))~~ has filed with the court copies of checks or receipts showing how the reserve was in fact distributed, unless a person with an interest in the reserve petitions the court earlier within the thirty-day period for an order requiring an accounting of the reserve or an order determining the reasonableness, or lack of reasonableness, of distributions made from the reserve. If the personal representative has been required to furnish a bond, any bond furnished by the personal representative is automatically discharged upon the final discharge of the personal representative.

Sec. 204. 1997 c 252 s 87 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed, effective December 31, 1997, for estates of decedents dying after December 31, 1997:

- (1) RCW 11.40.011 and 1989 c 333 s 2, 1983 c 201 s 1, & 1967 ex.s. c 106 s 3;

Sec. 205. 1997 c 252 s 89 (uncodified) is amended to read as follows:

Sections 1 through (~~73 of this act~~) 72, chapter 252, Laws of 1997 apply to estates of decedents dying after December 31, 1997. Sections 81 through 86, chapter 252, Laws of 1997 apply to all estates, trusts, and governing instruments in existence on or at any time after March 7, 1984, and to all proceedings with respect thereto after March 7, 1984, whether the proceedings commenced before or after March 7, 1984, and including distributions made after March 7, 1984. Sections 81 through 86, chapter 252, Laws of 1997 do not apply to any governing instrument, the terms of which expressly or by necessary implication make the application of sections 81 through 86, chapter 252, Laws of 1997 inapplicable. The judicial and nonjudicial dispute resolution procedures of chapter 11.96 RCW apply to sections 81 through 86, chapter 252, Laws of 1997.

PART III--UNIFORM TRANSFERS TO MINORS ACT

Sec. 301. RCW 11.114.030 and 1991 c 193 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A person having the right to designate the recipient of property transferable upon the occurrence of a future event may revocably nominate a custodian to receive the property for a minor beneficiary upon the occurrence of the event by naming the custodian followed in substance by the words: ". . . . . as custodian for . . . . . (name of minor) under the Washington uniform transfers to minors act." The nomination may name one or more persons as substitute custodians to whom the property shall be transferred, in the order named, if the first nominated custodian dies before the transfer or is unable, declines, or is ineligible to serve. The nomination may be made in a will, a trust, a deed, an instrument exercising a power of appointment, or in a writing designating a beneficiary of contractual rights which is registered with or delivered to the payor, issuer, or other obligor of the contractual rights.

As an alternative to naming a specific person as custodian, the nomination may provide that the custodian may be designated by the legal representative of, or other person specified by, the person having the right to designate the recipient of the property described in this subsection. The person having the right of designation of the custodian is authorized to designate himself or herself as custodian, if he or she falls within the class of persons eligible to serve as custodian under RCW 11.114.090(1).

(2) A custodian nominated under this section shall be a person to whom a transfer of property of that kind may be made under RCW 11.114.090(1).

(3) Instead of designating one specific minor, the designation may specify multiple persons or a class or classes of persons, but when the custodial property is actually created under subsection (4) of this section, it must be constituted as a separate custodianship for each beneficiary, and each beneficiary's interest in it must be determined in accordance with the governing instrument and applicable law.

(4) The nomination of a custodian under this section does not create custodial property until the nominating instrument becomes irrevocable or a transfer to the nominated custodian is completed under RCW 11.114.090. Unless the nomination of a custodian has been revoked, upon the occurrence of the future event the custodianship becomes effective and the custodian shall enforce a transfer of the custodial property pursuant to RCW 11.114.090.

PART IV--INTERNAL REVENUE CODE REFERENCES

Sec. 401. RCW 83.100.020 and 1994 c 221 s 70 are each amended to read as follows:

ESSB 6203 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Agriculture & Environment: Authorizing exemptions from solid waste designations. Reported by Committee on Agriculture & Ecology

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 70.95.020 and 1985 c 345 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The purpose of this chapter is to establish a comprehensive state-wide program for solid waste handling, and solid waste recovery and/or recycling which will prevent land, air, and water pollution and conserve the natural, economic, and energy resources of this state. To this end it is the purpose of this chapter:

(1) To assign primary responsibility for adequate solid waste handling to local government, reserving to the state, however, those functions necessary to assure effective programs throughout the state;

(2) To provide for adequate planning for solid waste handling by local government;

(3) To provide for the adoption and enforcement of basic minimum performance standards for solid waste handling;

(4) To provide technical and financial assistance to local governments in the planning, development, and conduct of solid waste handling programs;

(5) To encourage storage, proper disposal, and recycling of discarded vehicle tires and to stimulate private recycling programs throughout the state; and

(6) To encourage the development and operation of waste recycling facilities and activities needed to accomplish the management priority of waste recycling and to promote consistency in the permitting requirements for such facilities and activities throughout the state.

It is the intent of the legislature that local governments be encouraged to use the expertise of private industry and to contract with private industry to the fullest extent possible to carry out solid waste recovery and/or recycling programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department may by rule exempt a solid waste from the permitting requirements of this chapter for one or more beneficial uses. In adopting such rules, the department shall specify both the solid waste that is exempted from the permitting requirements and the beneficial use or uses for which the solid waste is so exempted. The department shall consider: (a) Whether the material will be beneficially used or reused; and (b) whether the beneficial use or reuse of the material will present threats to human health or the environment.

(2) The department may also exempt a solid waste from the permitting requirements of this chapter for one or more beneficial uses by approving an application for such an exemption. The department shall establish by rule procedures under which a person may apply to the department for such an exemption. The rules shall establish criteria for providing such an exemption, which shall include, but not be limited to: (a) The material will be beneficially used or reused; and (b) the beneficial use or reuse of the material will not present threats to human health or the environment. Rules adopted under this subsection shall identify the information that an application shall contain. Persons seeking such an exemption shall apply to the department under the procedures established by the rules adopted under this subsection.

(3) After receipt of an application filed under rules adopted under subsection (2) of this section, the department shall review the application to determine whether it is complete, and forward a copy of the completed application to all jurisdictional health departments for review and comment. Within forty-five days, the jurisdictional health departments shall forward to the department their comments and any other information they deem relevant to the department's decision to approve or disapprove the application. Every complete application shall be approved or disapproved by the department within ninety days of receipt. If the application is approved by the department, the solid waste is exempt from the permitting requirements of this chapter when used anywhere in the state in the manner approved by the department. If the composition, use, or reuse of the solid waste is not consistent with the terms and conditions of the department's approval of the application, the use of the solid waste remains subject to the permitting requirements of this chapter.

(4) The department shall establish procedures by rule for providing to the public and the solid waste industry notice of and an opportunity to comment on each application for an exemption under subsection (2) of this section.

(5) Any jurisdictional health department or applicant may appeal the decision of the department to approve or disapprove an application under subsection (3) of this section. The appeal shall be made to the pollution control hearings board by filing with the hearings board a notice of appeal within thirty days of the decision of the department. The hearings board's review of the decision shall be made in accordance with chapter 43.21B RCW and any subsequent appeal of a decision of the board shall be made in accordance with RCW 43.21B.180.

(6) This section shall not be deemed to invalidate the exemptions or determinations of nonapplicability in the department's solid waste rules as they exist on the effective date of this section, which exemptions and determinations are recognized and confirmed subject to the department's continuing authority to modify or revoke those exemptions or determinations by rule.

Sec. 3. RCW 70.95.170 and 1997 c 213 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided otherwise in section 5 or 6 of this act, after approval of the comprehensive solid waste plan by the department no solid waste handling facility or facilities shall be maintained, established, or modified until the county, city, or other person operating such site has obtained a permit (~~(from the jurisdictional health department)~~) pursuant to (~~(the provisions of)~~) RCW 70.95.180 or 70.95.190.

Sec. 4. RCW 70.95.190 and 1997 c 213 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Every permit for an existing solid waste handling facility issued pursuant to RCW 70.95.180 shall be renewed at least every five years on a date established by the jurisdictional health department having jurisdiction of the site and as specified in the permit. If a permit is to be renewed for longer than one year, the local jurisdictional health department may hold a public hearing before making such a decision. Prior to renewing a permit, the health department shall conduct a review as it deems necessary to assure that the solid waste handling facility or facilities located on the site continues to meet minimum functional standards of the department, applicable local regulations, and are not in conflict with the approved solid waste management plan. A jurisdictional health department shall approve or disapprove a permit renewal within forty-five days of conducting its review. The department shall review and may appeal the renewal as set forth for the approval of permits in RCW 70.95.185.

(2) The jurisdictional board of health may establish reasonable fees for permits reviewed under this section. All permit fees collected by the health department shall be deposited in the treasury and to the account from which the health department's operating expenses are paid.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the department may by rule exempt from the requirements to obtain a solid waste handling permit any category of solid waste handling facility that it determines to:

(a) Present little or no environmental risk; and

(b) Meet the environmental protection and performance requirements required for other similar solid waste facilities.

(2) This section does not apply to any facility or category of facilities that:

(a) Receives municipal solid waste destined for final disposal, including but not limited to transfer stations, landfills, and incinerators;

(b) Applies putrescible solid waste on land for final disposal purposes;

(c) Handles mixed solid wastes that have not been processed to segregate solid waste materials destined for disposal from other solid waste materials destined for a beneficial use;

(d) Receives or processes organic waste materials into compost in volumes that generally far exceed those handled by municipal park departments, master gardening programs, and households; or

(e) Receives solid waste destined for recycling or reuse, the operation of which is determined by the department to present risks to human health and the environment.

(3) Rules adopted under this section shall contain such terms and conditions as the department deems necessary to ensure compliance with applicable statutes and rules. If a facility does not operate in compliance with the terms and conditions established for an exemption under subsection (1) of this section, the facility is subject to the permitting requirements for solid waste handling under this chapter.

(4) This section shall not be deemed to invalidate the exemptions or determinations of nonapplicability in the department's solid waste rules as they exist on the effective date of this section, which exemptions and determinations are recognized and confirmed subject to the department's continuing authority to modify or revoke those exemptions or determinations by rule.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, the department shall adopt rules:

(a) Describing when a jurisdictional health department may, at its discretion, waive the requirement that a permit be issued for a facility under this chapter if other air, water, or environmental permits are issued for the same facility. As used in this section, a jurisdictional health department's waiving the requirement that a permit be issued for a facility under this chapter based on the issuance of such other permits for the facility is the health department's "deferring" to the other permits; and

(b) Allowing deferral only if the applicant and the jurisdictional health department demonstrate that other permits for the facility will provide a comparable level of protection for human health and the environment that would be provided by a solid waste handling permit.

(2) This section does not apply to any transfer station, landfill, or incinerator that receives municipal solid waste destined for final disposal.

(3) If, before the effective date of this section, either the department or a jurisdictional health department has deferred solid waste permitting or regulation of a solid waste facility to permitting or regulation under other environmental permits for the same facility, such deferral is valid and shall not be affected by the rules developed under subsection (1) of this section.

(4) Rules adopted under this section shall contain such terms and conditions as the department deems necessary to ensure compliance with applicable statutes and rules.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:

The department may assess a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars per day per violation to any person exempt from solid waste permitting in accordance with section 2 or 5 of this act who fails to comply with the terms and conditions of the exemption. Each such violation shall be a separate and distinct offense, and in the case of a continuing violation, each day's continuance shall be a separate and distinct violation.

Sec. 8. RCW 43.21B.110 and 1993 c 387 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The hearings board shall only have jurisdiction to hear and decide appeals from the following decisions of the department, the director, the administrator of the office of marine safety, and the air pollution control boards or authorities as established pursuant to chapter 70.94 RCW, or local health departments:

(a) Civil penalties imposed pursuant to RCW 18.104.155, 70.94.431, 70.105.080, 70.107.050, 88.46.090, 90.03.600, 90.48.144, 90.56.310, and 90.56.330.

(b) Orders issued pursuant to RCW 18.104.043, 18.104.060, 43.27A.190, 70.94.211, 70.94.332, 70.105.095, 86.16.020, 88.46.070, 90.14.130, and 90.48.120.

(c) The issuance, modification, or termination of any permit, certificate, or license by the department or any air authority in the exercise of its jurisdiction, including the issuance or termination of a waste disposal permit, the denial of an application for a waste disposal permit, ~~((or))~~ the modification of the conditions or the terms of a waste disposal permit, or a decision to approve or deny an application for a solid waste permit exemption under section 2 of this act.

(d) Decisions of local health departments regarding the grant or denial of solid waste permits pursuant to chapter 70.95 RCW.

(e) Decisions of local health departments regarding the issuance and enforcement of permits to use or dispose of biosolids under RCW 70.95J.080.

(f) Any other decision by the department, the administrator of the office of marine safety, or an air authority which pursuant to law must be decided as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) The following hearings shall not be conducted by the hearings board:

(a) Hearings required by law to be conducted by the shorelines hearings board pursuant to chapter 90.58 RCW.

(b) Hearings conducted by the department pursuant to RCW 70.94.332, 70.94.390, 70.94.395, 70.94.400, 70.94.405, 70.94.410, and 90.44.180.

(c) Proceedings by the department relating to general adjudications of water rights pursuant to chapter 90.03 or 90.44 RCW.

(d) Hearings conducted by the department to adopt, modify, or repeal rules.

(3) Review of rules and regulations adopted by the hearings board shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 70.95 RCW to read as follows:
Nothing in chapter . . . , Laws of 1998 (this act) may be construed to affect chapter 81.77 RCW and the authority of the utilities and transportation commission."

(7) "~~((Brand))~~ Livestock inspection" means the examination of livestock or livestock hides for brands or any means of identifying livestock or livestock hides and/or the application of any artificial identification such as back tags or ear clips necessary to preserve the identity of the livestock or livestock hides examined.

(8) "Individual identification symbol" means a permanent mark placed on a horse for the purpose of individually identifying and registering the horse and which has been approved for use as such by the ~~((director))~~ board.

(9) "Registering agency" means any person issuing an individual identification symbol for the purpose of individually identifying and registering a horse.

(10) "Poultry" means chickens, turkeys, ratites, and other domesticated fowl.

(11) "Ratite" means, but is not limited to, ostrich, emu, rhea, or other flightless bird used for human consumption, whether live or slaughtered.

(12) "Ratite farming" means breeding, raising, and rearing of an ostrich, emu, or rhea in captivity or an enclosure.

(13) "Microchipping" means the implantation of an identification microchip or similar electronic identification device to establish the identity of an individual animal:

(a) In the pipping muscle of a chick ratite or the implantation of a microchip in the tail muscle of an otherwise unidentified adult ratite;

(b) In the nuchal ligament of a horse unless otherwise specified by rule of the ~~((director))~~ board; and

(c) In locations of other livestock species as specified by rule of the ~~((director))~~ board when requested by an association of producers of that species of livestock.

(14) "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the board established under RCW 16.57.015.

(15) "Certificate of permit" means a form prescribed by and obtained from the board that is completed by the owner or a person authorized to act on behalf of the owner to show the ownership of livestock. It does not evidence inspection of livestock.

(16) "Inspection certificate" means a certificate issued by the board documenting the ownership of livestock based on an inspection of livestock by the board. It includes an individual identification certificate issued by the board.

(17) "Self-inspection certificate" means a form prescribed by and obtained from the board that is used for self-inspection of cattle or horses and is signed by the buyer and seller of the cattle or horses.

Sec. 2. RCW 16.57.015 and 1993 c 354 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((The director shall establish a livestock identification advisory board. The board shall be composed of six members appointed by the director. One member shall represent each of the following groups: Beef producers, public livestock market operators, horse owners, dairy farmers, cattle feeders, and meat processors. In making appointments, the director shall solicit nominations from organizations representing these groups state wide.~~

~~(2) The purpose of the board is to provide advice to the director regarding livestock identification programs administered under this chapter and regarding brand inspection fees and related licensing fees. The director shall consult the board before adopting, amending, or repealing a rule under this chapter or altering a fee under RCW 16.58.050, 16.58.130, 16.65.030, or 16.65.090. If~~

~~the director publishes in the state register a proposed rule to be adopted under the authority of this chapter or a proposed rule setting a fee under RCW 16.58.050, 16.58.130, 16.65.030, or 16.65.090 and the rule has not received the approval of the advisory board, the director shall file with the board a written statement setting forth the director's reasons for proposing the rule without the board's approval.~~

~~(3) The members of the advisory board serve three year terms. However, the director shall by rule provide shorter initial terms for some of the members of the board to stagger the expiration of the initial terms. The members serve without compensation. The director may authorize the expenses of a member to be reimbursed if the member is selected to attend a regional or national conference or meeting regarding livestock identification. Any such reimbursement shall be in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.)~~ There is established a Washington state livestock identification board. The board is composed of the director, who shall be a nonvoting member, and six voting members appointed by the governor as follows: One beef producer, one cattle feeder, one dairy producer, one livestock market owner, one meat packer, and one horse producer. Organizations representing the groups represented on the board may submit nominations for these appointments to the governor for the governor's consideration. Three members of the initial board shall be appointed for two years and two members shall be appointed for three years, thereafter gubernatorially appointed members shall be appointed for a three-year term. Members may succeed themselves. As used in this subsection, "meat packer" means a person licensed to operate a slaughtering establishment under chapter 16.49A RCW.

(2) The board shall be responsible for the administration of the livestock identification program which includes the review of recording and registration of brands, approval of all expenditures from the livestock identification account, administration of this chapter and chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW, administration of the inspection, enforcement, and licensing activities, fee setting, and holding hearings and adopting rules for the administration of the livestock identification program. Authorities and responsibilities other than rule making that are granted to the board by this chapter and chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW may be delegated by the board to duly authorized representatives of the board. The board shall adopt rules regarding such authorities and responsibilities in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW.

(3) Until June 30, 2004, the board shall contract with the department for registration and recording and for livestock inspection or investigation work and fix the compensation and terms of the contract. Beginning July 1, 2004, the board may contract with the department or other entities to provide such registration, recording, inspection, or investigation. The board may also enter into agreements with Washington state licensed and accredited veterinarians, or other persons, who have been certified by the board, to perform livestock inspection. Fees for livestock inspection performed by a certified veterinarian shall be collected by the veterinarian and remitted to the board. Veterinarians providing livestock inspection may charge a fee for livestock inspection that is separate from the fees provided in RCW 16.57.220. The board may adopt rules necessary to implement livestock inspection performed by veterinarians and may adopt fees to cover the cost associated with certification of veterinarians.

(4) Members of the board shall receive compensation as provided by RCW 43.03.240 and travel expenses to meetings or in otherwise carrying out the duties of the board as provided under RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060. The board shall meet at least quarterly in each calendar year. The board shall hire staff as necessary to carry out its duties.

(5) The board may select the area of the state in which to locate its principal office, which may include an area that is, by and large, near the geographic center of the state. The department shall examine the rental and other costs of locating the principal office from which it administers any contract it has with the board in an area that is, by and large, near the geographic center of the state. The department shall compare these costs with those of maintaining the principal office in its current location. The department shall report its findings to the board and shall consider moving its principal office for such administration to such an area if it would be more cost-effective to do so.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 16.57 RCW to read as follows:

There is established a Washington state livestock identification account in the agricultural local fund created under RCW 43.23.230 into which all moneys collected or received from registration, recording, inspection, or enforcement under this chapter and moneys collected or received by the board under chapters 16.58 and 16.65 RCW shall be deposited. These moneys shall be used solely for the Washington state livestock identification program. Only the board may authorize expenditures from this account. The account is subject to allotment procedures under chapter 43.88 RCW, but an appropriation is not required for expenditures.

Sec. 4. RCW 16.57.020 and 1994 c 46 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ~~((director))~~ board shall be the recorder of livestock brands and such brands shall not be recorded elsewhere in this state. Any person desiring to register a livestock brand shall apply on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board. Such application shall be accompanied by a facsimile of the brand applied for and a ~~((thirty-five))~~ seventy-dollar recording fee. The ~~((director))~~ board shall, upon ~~((his or her))~~ their satisfaction that the application and brand facsimile meet the requirements of this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder, record such brand.

(2) As provided in RCW 16.57.015, the director of agriculture may be designated by the board as the recorder of livestock brands. If the director is so designated, the recording fee shall be deposited by the director in the Washington state livestock identification account and shall be used solely for livestock identification program purposes as provided in this chapter and only as authorized by the board.

(3) This section is null and void unless subsections (1) through (5) of section 2 of this act and section 96 of this act become law.

Sec. 5. RCW 16.57.030 and 1959 c 54 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall not record tattoo brands or marks for any purpose subsequent to the enactment of this chapter. However, all tattoo brands and marks of record on the date of the enactment of this chapter shall be recognized as legal ownership brands or marks.

Sec. 6. RCW 16.57.040 and 1974 ex.s. c 64 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may provide for the use of production record brands. Numbers for such brands shall be issued at the discretion of the ~~((director))~~ board and shall be placed on livestock immediately below the registered ownership brand or any other location prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board.

Sec. 7. RCW 16.57.070 and 1959 c 54 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall determine conflicting claims between applicants to a brand, and in so doing shall consider the priority of applicants.

Sec. 8. RCW 16.57.080 and 1994 c 46 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The director shall establish by rule a schedule for the renewal of registered brands.))~~ (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the fee for the renewal of ((the)) a brand((s)) registration shall be ((no less than twenty-five)) seventy dollars for each two-year period of brand ownership((, except that)). However, the ((director)) board may((, in adopting a renewal schedule,)) provide for the collection of renewal fees on a prorated basis ((and may by rule increase the registration and renewal fee for brands by no more than fifty percent subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015)). At least sixty days before the expiration of a registered brand, the ~~((director))~~ board shall notify by letter the owner of record of the brand that on the payment of the requisite application fee and application of renewal the ~~((director))~~ board shall issue the proof of payment allowing the brand owner exclusive ownership and use of the brand for the subsequent registration period. The failure of the registered owner to pay the renewal fee by the date required by rule shall cause such owner's brand to revert to the ~~((department))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may for a period of one year following such reversion, reissue such brand only to the prior registered owner upon payment of the registration fee and a late filing fee ~~((to be prescribed by the director by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015,))~~ of twenty dollars for renewal subsequent to the regular renewal period. The ~~((director))~~ board may at the ~~((director's))~~ board's discretion, if such brand is not reissued within one year to the prior registered owner, issue such brand to any other applicant.

(2) The board may adopt rules establishing criteria and fees for the permanent renewal of brands registered with the department or the board but renewed as livestock heritage brands. Such heritage brands are not intended for use on livestock.

(3) This section is null and void unless subsections (1) through (5) of section 2 of this act and section 96 of this act become law.

Sec. 9. RCW 16.57.090 and 1994 c 46 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

A brand is the personal property of the owner of record. Any instrument affecting the title of such brand shall be acknowledged in the presence of the recorded owner and a notary public. The ~~((director))~~ board shall record such instrument upon presentation and payment of a recording fee not to exceed fifteen dollars to be prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015. Such recording shall be constructive notice to all the world of the existence and conditions affecting the title to such brand. A copy of all records concerning the brand, certified by the ~~((director))~~ board, shall be received in evidence to all intent and purposes as the original instrument. The ~~((director))~~ board shall not be personally liable for failure of the ~~((director's))~~ board's agents to properly record such instrument.

Sec. 10. RCW 16.57.100 and 1971 ex.s. c 135 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The right to use a brand shall be evidenced by the original certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ board showing that the brand is of present record or a certified copy of the record of such brand showing that it is of present record. A healed brand of record on livestock shall be prima facie evidence that the recorded owner of such brand has legal title to such livestock and is entitled to its possession: PROVIDED, That the ~~((director))~~ board may require additional proof of ownership of any animal showing more than one healed brand.

Sec. 11. RCW 16.57.105 and 1967 c 240 s 38 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person having a brand recorded with the ~~((department))~~ board shall have a preemptory right to use such brand and its design under any newly approved method of branding adopted by the ~~((director))~~ board.

Sec. 12. RCW 16.57.110 and 1959 c 54 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

No brand shall be placed on livestock that is not permanent in nature and of a size that is not readily visible. The ~~((director))~~ board, in order to assure that brands are readily visible, may prescribe the size of branding irons to be used for ownership brands.

Sec. 13. RCW 16.57.120 and 1991 c 110 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall remove or alter a brand of record on livestock without first having secured the written permission of the ~~((director))~~ board. Violation of this section shall be a gross misdemeanor punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 14. RCW 16.57.130 and 1959 c 54 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall not record a brand that is identical to a brand of present record; nor a brand so similar to a brand of present record that it will be difficult to distinguish between such brands when applied to livestock.

Sec. 15. RCW 16.57.140 and 1994 c 46 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

The owner of a brand of record may procure from the ~~((director))~~ board a certified copy of the record of the owner's brand upon payment of a fee not to exceed seven dollars and fifty cents to be prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.

Sec. 16. RCW 16.57.150 and 1974 ex.s. c 64 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall publish a book to be known as the "Washington State Brand Book", showing all the brands of record. Such book shall contain the name and address of the owners of brands of record and a copy of the brand laws and regulations. Supplements to such brand book showing newly recorded brands, amendments or newly adopted regulations, shall be published biennially, or prior thereto at the discretion of the ~~((director))~~ board: PROVIDED, That whenever ~~((he deems it))~~ necessary, the ~~((director))~~ board may issue a new brand book.

Sec. 17. RCW 16.57.160 and 1991 c 110 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, the ~~((director))~~ board may ~~((by))~~ adopt rules ~~((adopted subsequent to a public hearing designate))~~: Designating any point for mandatory ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle or horses or the furnishing of proof that cattle passing or being transported through such points have been ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected and are lawfully being moved; providing for self-inspection of cattle and horses; and providing for issuance of individual horse and cattle identification certificates or other means of horse and cattle identification.

~~((Further,))~~ (2) The ~~((director))~~ board or any peace officer may stop vehicles carrying cattle or horses to determine if ~~((such))~~ the cattle or horses are identified, branded, or accompanied by ~~((the form prescribed by the director under RCW 16.57.240 or a brand certificate issued by the department))~~ a certificate of permit, inspection certificate, self-inspection certificate, or other satisfactory proof of ownership, as determined by the board.

(3) Inspection shall not be required for:

(a) Any individual private sale of any unbranded dairy breed milk production cattle involving fifteen head or less; or

(b) A sale by the owner of a dairy farm licensed under chapter 15.36 RCW of a male calf or male calves from the farm that are not more than thirty days old, as long as the license number for the dairy is listed on the bill of sale or its equivalent.

Sec. 18. RCW 16.57.165 and 1971 ex.s. c 135 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may, in order to reduce the cost of ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection to livestock owners, enter into agreements with any qualified county, municipal, or other local law enforcement agency, or qualified individuals for the purpose of performing ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in areas where ~~((department brand))~~ livestock inspection by the department may not readily be available.

Sec. 19. RCW 16.57.170 and 1959 c 54 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may enter at any reasonable time any slaughterhouse or public livestock market to make an examination of the brands on livestock or hides, and may enter at any reasonable time an establishment where hides are held to examine them for brands. The ~~((director))~~ board may enter any of these premises at any reasonable time to examine all books and records required by law in matters relating to ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection or other methods of livestock identification.

Sec. 20. RCW 16.57.180 and 1959 c 54 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

Should the ~~((director))~~ board be denied access to any premises or establishment where such access was sought for the purposes set forth in RCW 16.57.170, ~~((he))~~ the board may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for a search warrant authorizing access to such premises or establishment for said purposes. The court may upon such application, issue the search warrant for the purposes requested.

Sec. 21. RCW 16.57.200 and 1959 c 54 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

Any owner or ~~((his))~~ an agent shall make the brand or brands on livestock being ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected readily visible and shall cooperate with the ~~((director))~~ board to carry out such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in a safe and expeditious manner.

Sec. 22. RCW 16.57.210 and 1959 c 54 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall have authority to arrest any person without warrant anywhere in the state found in the act of, or whom ~~((he))~~ the board has reason to believe is guilty of, driving, holding, selling or slaughtering stolen livestock. Any such person arrested by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be turned over to the sheriff of the county where the arrest was made, as quickly as possible.

Sec. 23. RCW 16.57.220 and 1997 c 356 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall cause a charge to be made for all ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle and horses required under this chapter and rules adopted hereunder. Such charges shall be paid to the ~~((department))~~ board by the owner or person in possession unless requested by the purchaser and then such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection shall be paid by the purchaser requesting such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection. Except as provided by rule, such inspection charges shall be due and payable at the time ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection is performed and shall be paid upon billing by the ~~((department))~~ board and if not shall constitute a prior lien on the cattle or cattle hides or horses or horse hides ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected until such charge is paid. The ~~((director))~~ board in order to best utilize the services of the ~~((department))~~ livestock inspector in performing ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection may establish schedules by days and hours when a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspector will be on duty to perform ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection at established inspection points. Except as provided in rules adopted under subsection (2) of this section, the fees for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection performed at inspection points according to schedules established by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be seventy-five cents per head for cattle and ~~((not more than))~~ three dollars per head for horses ~~((as prescribed by the director subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015)).~~ Fees for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of cattle and horses at points other than those designated by the ~~((director))~~ board or not in accord with the schedules established by the ~~((director))~~ board shall be based on a fee schedule not to exceed actual net cost to the ~~((department))~~ board of performing the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection service. For the purpose of this section, actual costs shall mean fifteen dollars per hour and the current mileage rate set by the office of financial management.

(2) The board may by rule prescribe a fee for the inspection of cattle performed at inspection points that is not less than seventy-five cents per head and not more than one dollar per head and may by rule prescribe a fee for the inspection of horses performed at inspection points that is not less than three dollars per head and not more than five dollars per head. However, a rule prescribing such a fee may be proposed and adopted by the board only by a unanimous vote of the members of the board entitled to vote under RCW 16.57.015. This subsection constitutes prior legislative approval for the initial fee prescribed by rule of the board for the inspection of cattle and the initial fee prescribed by rule of the board for the inspection of horses to result in an increase of the fee established under subsection (1) of this section for the inspection that is in excess of the fiscal growth factor under chapter 43.135 RCW.

Sec. 24. RCW 16.57.230 and 1995 c 374 s 50 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall collect or make a charge for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of livestock unless there has been an actual ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of such livestock.

Sec. 25. RCW 16.57.240 and 1995 c 374 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Any person purchasing, selling, holding for sale, trading, bartering, transferring title, slaughtering, handling, or transporting cattle shall keep a record on forms prescribed by the director. Such forms))~~ (1) Certificates of permit, inspection certificates, and self-inspection certificates shall show the owner, number, ~~((specie))~~ breed, sex, brand or other method of identification of ~~((such))~~ the cattle or horses and any other necessary information required by the ~~((director))~~ board. ~~((The original shall be kept for a period of three years or shall be furnished to the director upon demand or as prescribed by rule, one copy shall accompany the cattle to their destination and shall be subject to inspection at any time by the director or any peace officer or member of the state patrol. PROVIDED, That in the following instances only, cattle may be moved or transported within this state without being accompanied by an official certificate of permit, brand inspection certificate, bill of sale, or self inspection slip:~~

~~(1) When such cattle are moved or transported upon lands under the exclusive control of the person moving or transporting such cattle;~~

~~(2) When such cattle are being moved or transported for temporary grazing or feeding purposes and have the registered brand of the person having or transporting such cattle.))~~

(2) The board may cause certificate of permit forms to be issued to any person on payment of a fee established by rule.

(3) Inspection certificates, self-inspection certificates, or other satisfactory proof of ownership shall be kept by the owner and/or person in possession of any cattle or horses and shall be furnished to the board or any peace officer upon demand.

(4) Cattle may not be moved or transported within this state without being accompanied by a certificate of permit, inspection certificate, or self-inspection certificate except:

(a) When the cattle are moved or transported upon lands under the exclusive control of the person moving or transporting the cattle; or

(b) When the cattle are being moved or transported for temporary grazing or feeding purposes and have the recorded brand of the person having or transporting the cattle.

(5) Certificates of permit, inspection certificates, or self-inspection certificates accompanying cattle being moved or transported within this state shall be subject to inspection at any time by the board or any peace officer.

Sec. 26. RCW 16.57.260 and 1981 c 296 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to remove or cause to be removed or accept for removal from this state, any cattle or horses which are not accompanied at all times by an official ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ board on such cattle or horses, except as provided in RCW 16.57.160.

Sec. 27. RCW 16.57.270 and 1959 c 54 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person moving or transporting livestock in this state to refuse to assist the ~~((director))~~ board or any peace officer in establishing the identity of such livestock being moved or transported.

Sec. 28. RCW 16.57.275 and 1967 c 240 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

Any cattle carcass, or primal part thereof, of any breed or age being transported in this state from other than a state or federal licensed and inspected slaughterhouse or common carrier hauling for such slaughterhouse, shall be accompanied by a certificate of permit signed by the owner of such carcass or primal part thereof and, if such carcass or primal part is delivered to a facility custom handling such carcasses or primal part thereof, such certificate of permit shall be deposited with the owner or manager of such custom handling facility and such certificate of permit shall be retained for a period of one year and be made available to the ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board for inspection during reasonable business hours. ~~((The owner of such carcass or primal part thereof shall mail a copy of the said certificate of permit to the department within ten days of said transportation.))~~

Sec. 29. RCW 16.57.280 and 1995 c 374 s 52 are each amended to read as follows:

No person shall knowingly have unlawful possession of any livestock marked with a recorded brand or tattoo of another person unless:

(1) Such livestock lawfully bears the person's own healed recorded brand; or

(2) Such livestock is accompanied by a certificate of permit from the owner of the recorded brand or tattoo; or

(3) Such livestock is accompanied by a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate; or

(4) Such cattle is accompanied by a self-inspection slip; or

(5) Such livestock is accompanied by a bill of sale from the previous owner or other satisfactory proof of ownership.

A violation of this section constitutes a gross misdemeanor punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 30. RCW 16.57.290 and 1995 c 374 s 53 are each amended to read as follows:

All unbranded cattle and horses and those bearing brands not recorded, in the current edition of this state's brand book, which are not accompanied by a certificate of permit, and those bearing brands recorded, in the current edition of this state's brand book, which are not accompanied by a certificate of permit signed by the owner of the brand when presented for inspection by the ~~((director))~~ board, shall be sold by the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative, unless other satisfactory proof of ownership is presented showing the person presenting them to be lawfully in possession. Upon the sale of such cattle or horses, the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative shall give the purchasers a bill of sale therefor, or, if theft is suspected, the cattle or horses may be impounded by the ~~((director))~~ board or the ~~((director's))~~ board's representative.

Sec. 31. RCW 16.57.300 and 1989 c 286 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

The proceeds from the sale of cattle and horses as provided for under RCW 16.57.290, after paying the cost thereof, shall be paid to the ~~((director))~~ board, who shall make a record showing the brand or marks or other method of identification of the animals and the amount realized from the sale thereof. However, the proceeds from a sale of such cattle or horses at a licensed public livestock market shall be held by the licensee for a reasonable period not to exceed thirty days to permit the consignor to establish ownership or the right to sell such cattle or horses. If such consignor fails to establish legal ownership or the right to sell such cattle or horses, such proceeds shall be paid to the ~~((director))~~ board to be disposed of as any other estray proceeds.

Sec. 32. RCW 16.57.310 and 1959 c 54 s 31 are each amended to read as follows:

When a person has been notified by registered mail that animals bearing his or her recorded brand have been sold by the ~~((director))~~ board, he or she shall present to the ~~((director))~~ board a claim on the proceeds within ten days from the receipt of the notice or the ~~((director))~~ board may decide that no claim exists.

Sec. 33. RCW 16.57.320 and 1991 c 110 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after the expiration of one year from the date of sale, the person presenting the animals for inspection has not provided the ~~((director))~~ board with satisfactory proof of ownership, the proceeds from the sale shall be paid on the claim of the owner of the recorded brand. However, it shall be a gross misdemeanor for the owner of the recorded brand to knowingly accept such funds after he or she has sold, bartered or traded such animals to the claimant or any other person. A gross misdemeanor under this section is punishable to the same extent as a gross misdemeanor that is punishable under RCW 9A.20.021.

Sec. 34. RCW 16.57.330 and 1959 c 54 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

If, after the expiration of one year from the date of sale, no claim is made, the money shall be credited to the ~~((department of agriculture))~~ board to be expended in carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 35. RCW 16.57.340 and 1959 c 54 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall have the authority to enter into reciprocal agreements with any or all states to prevent the theft, misappropriation or loss of identification of livestock. The ~~((director))~~ board may declare any livestock which is shipped or moved into this state from such states estrays if such livestock is not accompanied by the proper official brand certificate or other such certificates required by the law of the state of origin of such livestock. The ~~((director))~~ board may hold such livestock subject to all costs of holding or sell such livestock and send the funds, after the deduction of the cost of such sale, to the proper authority in the state of origin of such livestock.

Sec. 36. RCW 16.57.350 and 1994 c 46 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt such rules as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the ~~((director))~~ board to enforce and carry out the provisions of this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director))~~ board when ~~((he or she))~~ the board is performing or carrying out duties imposed on ~~((him or her))~~ it by this chapter and/or rules adopted hereunder.

Sec. 37. RCW 16.57.360 and 1991 c 110 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ board is authorized to issue notices of and enforce civil infractions in the manner prescribed under chapter 7.80 RCW.

The violation of any provision of this chapter and/or rules and regulations adopted hereunder shall constitute a class I civil infraction as provided under chapter 7.80 RCW unless otherwise specified herein.

Sec. 38. RCW 16.57.370 and 1959 c 54 s 37 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees collected under the provisions of this chapter shall be retained and deposited by the ~~((director))~~ board to be used only for the enforcement of this chapter.

Sec. 39. RCW 16.57.400 and 1994 c 46 s 20 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may provide by rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW for the issuance of individual horse and cattle identification certificates or other means of horse and cattle identification deemed appropriate. Such certificates or other means of identification shall be valid only for the use of the horse and cattle owner in whose name it is issued.

Horses and cattle identified pursuant to the provisions of this section and the rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder shall not be subject to ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection except when sold at points provided for in RCW ~~((16.57.380))~~ 16.57.160. The ~~((director))~~ board shall charge a fee for the certificates or other means of identification authorized pursuant to this section and no identification shall be issued until the ~~((director))~~ board has received the fee. The schedule of fees shall be established in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 40. RCW 16.57.407 and 1996 c 105 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board has the authority to conduct an investigation of an incident where scars or other marks indicate that a microchip has been removed from a horse.

Sec. 41. RCW 16.57.410 and 1993 c 354 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) No person may act as a registering agency without a permit issued by the ~~((department))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may issue a permit to any person or organization to act as a registering agency for the purpose of issuing permanent identification symbols for horses in a manner prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board. Application for such permit, or the renewal thereof by January 1 of each year, shall be on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board, and accompanied by the proof of registration to be issued, any other documents required by the ~~((director))~~ board, and a fee of one hundred dollars.

(2) Each registering agency shall maintain a permanent record for each individual identification symbol. The record shall include, but need not be limited to, the name, address, and phone number of the horse owner and a general description of the horse. A copy of each permanent record shall be forwarded to the ~~((director))~~ board, if requested by the ~~((director))~~ board.

(3) Individual identification symbols shall be inspected as required for brands under RCW 16.57.220 ~~((and 16.57.380))~~. Any horse presented for inspection and bearing such a symbol, but not accompanied by proof of registration and certificate of permit, shall be sold as provided under RCW 16.57.290 through 16.57.330.

(4) The ~~((director))~~ board shall adopt such rules as are necessary for the effective administration of this section pursuant to chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 42. RCW 16.57.420 and 1993 c 105 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((department))~~ livestock identification board may, in consultation with representatives of the ratite industry, develop by rule a system that provides for the identification of individual ratites through the use of microchipping. The ~~((department))~~ board may establish fees for the issuance or reissuance of microchipping numbers sufficient to cover the expenses of the ~~((department))~~ board.

Sec. 43. RCW 16.58.020 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of this chapter:

(1) "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the livestock identification board defined under RCW 16.57.010.

(2) "Certified feed lot" means any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as a commercial feed lot, cattle feed lot, or the like, which complies with all of the requirements of this chapter, and any ~~((regulations))~~ rules adopted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and which holds a valid license from the ~~((director))~~ board as hereinafter provided.

~~((2))~~ "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.

~~((3))~~ "Director" means the director of the department or his duly authorized representative.

~~((4))~~ (3) "Licensee" means any persons licensed under the provisions of this chapter.

~~((5))~~ (4) "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.

Sec. 44. RCW 16.58.030 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter. The adoption of such rules shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director when he))~~ board when it is performing or carrying out any duties imposed ~~((upon him))~~ by this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 45. RCW 16.58.040 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

On or after August 9, 1971, any person desiring to engage in the business of operating one or more certified feed lots shall obtain an annual license from the ~~((director))~~ board for such purpose. The application for a license shall be on a form prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board and shall include the following:

(1) The number of certified feed lots the applicant intends to operate and their exact location and mailing address;

(2) The legal description of the land on which the certified feed lot will be situated;

(3) A complete description of the facilities used for feeding and handling of cattle at each certified feed lot;

(4) The estimated number of cattle which can be handled for feeding purposes at each such certified feed lot; and

(5) Any other information necessary to carry out the purpose and provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 46. RCW 16.58.050 and 1997 c 356 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

The application for an annual license to engage in the business of operating one or more certified feed lots shall be accompanied by a license fee of seven hundred fifty dollars. Upon approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and compliance with the provisions of this chapter and rules adopted hereunder, the applicant shall be issued a license or a renewal thereof. The board shall conduct an inspection of all cattle and their corresponding ownership documents prior to issuing an original license. The inspection fee shall be the higher of the current inspection fee per head of cattle or time and mileage as set forth in RCW 16.57.220.

Sec. 47. RCW 16.58.060 and 1991 c 109 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board shall establish by rule an expiration date or dates for all certified feed lot licenses. License fees shall be prorated where necessary to accommodate staggering of expiration dates of a license or licenses. If an application for renewal of a certified feed lot license is not received by the ~~((department))~~ board per the date required by rule or should a person fail, refuse, or neglect to apply for renewal of a preexisting license on or before the date of expiration, that person shall be assessed an additional twenty-five dollars which shall be added to the regular license fee and shall be paid before the ~~((director))~~ board may issue a license to the applicant.

Sec. 48. RCW 16.58.070 and 1989 c 175 s 54 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board is authorized to deny, suspend, or revoke a license in accord with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW if ~~((he))~~ it finds that there has been a failure to comply with any requirement of this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. Hearings for the revocation, suspension, or denial of a license shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW concerning adjudicative proceedings.

Sec. 49. RCW 16.58.080 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

Every certified feed lot shall be equipped with a facility or a livestock pen, approved by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board as to location and construction within the ~~((said))~~ feed lot so that necessary ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection can be carried on in a proper, expeditious and safe manner. Each licensee shall furnish the ~~((director))~~ board with sufficient help necessary to carry out ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection in the manner set forth above.

Sec. 50. RCW 16.58.095 and 1991 c 109 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

All cattle entering or reentering a certified feed lot must be inspected for brands upon entry, unless they are accompanied by a ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate issued by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, or any other agency authorized in any state or Canadian province by law to issue such a certificate. Licensees shall report a discrepancy between cattle entering or reentering a certified feed lot and the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificate accompanying the cattle to the nearest ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspector immediately. A discrepancy may require an inspection of all the cattle entering or reentering the lot, except as may otherwise be provided by rule.

Sec. 51. RCW 16.58.100 and 1979 c 81 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall each year conduct audits of the cattle received, fed, handled, and shipped by the licensee at each certified feed lot. Such audits shall be for the purpose of determining if such cattle correlate with the ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection certificates issued in their behalf and that the certificate of assurance furnished the ~~((director))~~ board by the licensee correlates with his or her assurance that ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspected cattle were not commingled with uninspected cattle.

Sec. 52. RCW 16.58.110 and 1991 c 109 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

All certified feed lots shall furnish the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board with records as requested by ~~((him))~~ it from time to time on all cattle entering or on feed in ~~((said))~~ certified feed lots and dispersed therefrom. All such records shall be subject to examination by the ~~((director))~~ board for the purpose of maintaining the integrity of the identity of all such cattle. The ~~((director))~~ board may make the examinations only during regular business hours except in an emergency to protect the interest of the owners of such cattle.

Sec. 53. RCW 16.58.120 and 1991 c 109 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

The licensee shall maintain sufficient records as required by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board at each certified feed lot, if ~~((said))~~ the licensee operates more than one certified feed lot.

Sec. 54. RCW 16.58.130 and 1997 c 356 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

Each licensee shall pay to the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a fee of twelve cents for each head of cattle handled through the licensee's feed lot. Payment of such fee shall be made by the licensee on a monthly basis. Failure to pay as required shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of a certified feed lot license. Further, the ~~((director))~~ board shall not renew a certified feed lot license if a licensee has failed to make prompt and timely payments.

Sec. 55. RCW 16.58.140 and 1979 c 81 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees provided for in this chapter shall be retained by the ~~((director))~~ board for the purpose of enforcing and carrying out the purpose and provisions of this chapter or chapter 16.57 RCW.

Sec. 56. RCW 16.58.150 and 1971 ex.s. c 181 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

No ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection shall be required when cattle are moved or transferred from one certified feed lot to another or the transfer of cattle from a certified feed lot to a point within this state, or out of state where this state maintains ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection, for the purpose of immediate slaughter.

Sec. 57. RCW 16.58.160 and 1991 c 109 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ board may, when a certified feed lot's conditions become such that the integrity of reports or records of the cattle therein becomes doubtful, suspend such certified feed lot's license until such time as the ~~((director))~~ board can conduct an investigation to carry out the purpose of this chapter.

Sec. 58. RCW 16.65.010 and 1983 c 298 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) The term "public livestock market" means any place, establishment or facility commonly known as a "public livestock market", "livestock auction market", "livestock sales ring", yards selling on commission, or the like, conducted or operated for compensation or profit as a public livestock market, consisting of pens or other enclosures, and their appurtenances in which livestock is received, held, sold, kept for sale or shipment. The term does not include the operation of a person licensed under this chapter to operate a special open consignment horse sale.

~~((2))~~ ~~((("Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.~~

~~((3))~~ ~~((("Director" means the director of the department or his duly authorized representative.~~

~~((4))~~ "Licensee" means any person licensed under the provisions of this chapter.

~~((5))~~ (3) "Livestock" includes horses, mules, burros, cattle, sheep, swine, and goats.

~~((6))~~ (4) "Livestock identification board" or "board" means the board created in RCW 16.57.015.

(5) "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.

~~((7))~~ (6) "Stockyard" means any place, establishment, or facility commonly known as a stockyard consisting of pens or other enclosures and their appurtenances in which livestock services such as feeding, watering, weighing, sorting, receiving and shipping are offered to the public: PROVIDED, That stockyard shall not include any facilities where livestock is offered for sale at public auction, feed lots, or quarantined registered feed lots.

~~((8))~~ (7) "Packer" means any person engaged in the business of slaughtering, manufacturing, preparing meat or meat products for sale, marketing meat, meat food products or livestock products.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Deputy state veterinarian" means a graduate veterinarian authorized to practice in the state of Washington and appointed or deputized by the director of agriculture as his or her duly authorized representative.

~~((10))~~ (9) "Special open consignment horse sale" means a sale conducted by a person other than the operator of a public livestock market which is limited to the consignment of horses and donkeys only for sale on an occasional and seasonal basis.

Sec. 59. RCW 16.65.015 and 1983 c 298 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter does not apply to:

(1) A farmer selling his or her own livestock on the farmer's own premises by auction or any other method.

(2) A farmers' cooperative association or an association of livestock breeders when any class of their own livestock is assembled and offered for sale at a special sale on an occasional and seasonal basis under the association's management and responsibility, and the special sale has been approved by the ~~((director))~~ board in writing. However, the special sale shall be subject to brand and health inspection requirements as provided in this chapter for sales at public livestock markets.

Sec. 60. RCW 16.65.020 and 1983 c 298 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Public livestock markets and special open consignment horse sales shall be under the direction and supervision of the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, and the ~~((director))~~ board, but not ~~((his))~~ its duly authorized representative, may adopt such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter. It shall be the duty of the ~~((director))~~ board to enforce and carry out the provisions of this chapter and rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. No person shall interfere with the ~~((director))~~ board when ~~((he))~~ it is performing or carrying out any duties imposed upon ~~((him))~~ it by this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 61. RCW 16.65.030 and 1995 c 374 s 54 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((On and after June 10, 1959,))~~ No person shall operate a public livestock market without first having obtained a license from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board. Application for ~~((such))~~ a license shall be in writing on forms prescribed by the ~~((director))~~ board, and shall include the following:

(a) A nonrefundable original license application fee of fifteen hundred dollars.
(b) A legal description of the property upon which the public livestock market shall be located.
(c) A complete description and blueprints or plans of the public livestock market physical plant, yards, pens, and all facilities the applicant proposes to use in the operation of such public livestock market.

~~((A detailed statement showing all the assets and liabilities of the applicant which must reflect a sufficient net worth to construct or operate a public livestock market.))~~ A financial statement, compiled or audited by a certified or licensed public accountant, to determine whether or not the applicant meets the minimum net worth requirements, established by the director by rule, to construct and/or operate a public livestock market. If the applicant is a subsidiary of a larger company, corporation, society, or cooperative association, both the parent company and the subsidiary company must submit a financial statement to determine whether or not the applicant meets the minimum net worth requirements. All financial statement information required by this subsection is confidential information and not subject to public disclosure.

(e) The schedule of rates and charges the applicant proposes to impose on the owners of livestock for services rendered in the operation of such livestock market.

(f) The weekly or monthly sales day or days on which the applicant proposes to operate his or her public livestock market sales and the class of livestock that may be sold on these days.

(g) Projected source and quantity of livestock ~~((, by county,))~~ anticipated to be handled.

(h) Projected ~~((income and expense statements for))~~ gross dollar volume of business to be carried on, at, or through the public livestock market during the first year's operation.

(i) Facts upon which ~~((are))~~ is based the conclusion that the trade area and the livestock industry will benefit because of the proposed market.

(j) ~~((Such))~~ Other information as the ~~((director))~~ board may ~~((reasonably))~~ require by rule.

(2) ~~((The director shall, after public hearing as provided by chapter 34.05 RCW, grant or deny an application for original license for a public livestock market after considering evidence and testimony relating to all of the requirements of this section and giving reasonable consideration at the same hearing to:~~

~~((a) Benefits to the livestock industry to be derived from the establishment and operation of the public livestock market proposed in the application; and~~

~~((b) The present market services elsewhere available to the trade area proposed to be served.~~

~~((3) Applications for renewal under RCW 16.65.040 shall include all information under subsection (1) of this section, except subsection (1)(a) of this section.))~~ If the board determines that the applicant meets all the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, the board shall conduct a public hearing as provided by chapter 34.05 RCW, and shall grant or deny an application for original license for a public livestock market after considering evidence and testimony relating to the requirements of this section and giving reasonable consideration to:

(a) Benefits to the livestock industry to be derived from the establishment and operation of the public livestock market proposed in the application;

(b) The geographical area that will be affected;

(c) The conflict, if any, with sales days already allocated in the area;

- (d) The amount and class of livestock available for marketing in the area;
- (e) Buyers available to the proposed market; and
- (f) Any other conditions affecting the orderly marketing of livestock.
- (3) Before a license is issued to operate a public livestock market, the applicant must:
  - (a) Execute and deliver to the board a surety bond as required under RCW 16.65.200;
  - (b) Provide evidence of a custodial account, as required under RCW 16.65.140, for the consignor's proceeds;
  - (c) Pay the appropriate license fee; and
  - (d) Provide other information required under this chapter and rules adopted under this chapter.

Sec. 62. RCW 16.65.037 and 1997 c 356 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) Upon the approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and compliance with the provisions of this chapter, the applicant shall be issued a license or renewal thereof. Any license issued under the provisions of this chapter shall only be valid at location and for the sales day or days for which the license was issued.
- (2) The license fee shall be based on the average gross sales volume per official sales day of that market:
  - (a) Markets with an average gross sales volume up to and including ten thousand dollars, a one hundred fifty dollar fee;
  - (b) Markets with an average gross sales volume over ten thousand dollars and up to and including fifty thousand dollars, a three hundred fifty dollar fee; and
  - (c) Markets with an average gross sales volume over fifty thousand dollars, a four hundred fifty dollar fee.

The fees for public market licenses shall be set by the ~~((director))~~ board by rule subsequent to a hearing under chapter 34.05 RCW and in conformance with RCW 16.57.015.

- (3) Any applicant operating more than one public livestock market shall make a separate application for a license to operate each such public livestock market, and each such application shall be accompanied by the appropriate application fee.

Sec. 63. RCW 16.65.040 and 1983 c 298 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

All public livestock market licenses provided for in this chapter shall expire on March 1st subsequent to the date of issue. Any person who fails, refuses, or neglects to apply for a renewal of a preexisting license on or before the date of expiration, shall pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars, which shall be added to the regular license fee, before such license may be renewed by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board.

Sec. 64. RCW 16.65.042 and 1983 c 298 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) A person shall not operate a special open consignment horse sale without first obtaining a license from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board. The application for the license shall include:
  - (a) A detailed statement showing all of the assets and liabilities of the applicant;
  - (b) The schedule of rates and charges the applicant proposes to impose on the owners of horses for services rendered in the operation of the horse sale;
  - (c) The specific date and exact location of the proposed sale;
  - (d) Projected quantity and approximate value of horses to be handled; and
  - (e) Such other information as the ~~((director))~~ board may reasonably require.
- (2) The application shall be accompanied by a license fee of one hundred dollars. Upon the approval of the application by the ~~((director))~~ board and compliance with this chapter, the applicant shall be issued a license. A special open consignment horse sale license is valid only for the specific date or dates and exact location for which the license was issued.

Sec. 65. RCW 16.65.050 and 1959 c 107 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

All fees ~~((provided for))~~ collected or received by the board under this chapter shall be ~~((retained by the director))~~ deposited by the board in the livestock identification account created in section 3 of this act. Moneys collected under this chapter may be expended by the board without appropriation for the purpose of enforcing this chapter.

Sec. 66. RCW 16.65.080 and 1985 c 415 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board is authorized to deny, suspend, or revoke a license in the manner prescribed herein, when there are findings by the ~~((director))~~ board that any licensee (a) has been guilty of fraud or misrepresentation as to titles, charges, numbers, brands, weights, proceeds of sale, or ownership of livestock; (b) has attempted payment to a consignor by a check the licensee knows not to be backed by sufficient funds to cover such check; (c) has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or rules ~~((and regulations))~~ adopted hereunder; (d) has violated any laws of the state that require health or ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection of livestock; (e) has violated any condition of the bond, as provided in this chapter. However, the ~~((director))~~ board may deny a license if the applicant refuses to accept the sales day or days allocated to ~~((him))~~ it under the provisions of this chapter.

(2) In all proceedings for revocation, suspension, or denial of a license the licensee or applicant shall be given an opportunity to be heard in regard to such revocation, suspension or denial of a license. The ~~((director))~~ board shall give the licensee or applicant twenty days' notice in writing and such notice shall specify the charges or reasons for such revocation, suspension or denial. The notice shall also state the date, time and place where such hearing is to be held. Such hearings shall be held in the city where the licensee has his or her principal place of business, or where the applicant resides, unless some other place be agreed upon by the parties, and the defendant may be represented by counsel.

(3) The ~~((director))~~ board may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses, and/or the production of books or documents anywhere in the state. The applicant or licensee shall have opportunity to be heard, and may have such subpoenas issued as he or she desires. Subpoenas shall be served in the same manner as in civil cases in the superior court. Witnesses shall testify under oath which may be administered by the ~~((director))~~ board. Testimony shall be recorded, and may be taken by deposition under such rules as the ~~((director))~~ board may prescribe.

(4) The ~~((director))~~ board shall hear and determine the charges, make findings and conclusions upon the evidence produced, and file them in ~~((his))~~ its office, together with a record of all of the evidence, and serve upon the accused a copy of such findings and conclusions.

Sec. 67. RCW 16.65.090 and 1997 c 356 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall provide for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection. When such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection is required the licensee shall collect from the consignor and pay to the ~~((department))~~ board, as provided by law, a fee for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection for each animal consigned to the public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale. However, if in any one sale day the total fees collected for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection do not exceed ninety dollars, then such licensee shall pay ninety dollars for such ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection or as much thereof as the ~~((director))~~ board may prescribe.

Sec. 68. RCW 16.65.100 and 1983 c 298 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

The licensee of each public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale shall collect from any purchaser of livestock requesting ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection a fee as provided by law for each animal inspected. Such fee shall be in addition to the fee charged to the consignor for ~~((brand))~~ livestock inspection and shall not apply to the minimum fee chargeable to the licensee.

Sec. 69. RCW 16.65.140 and 1971 ex.s. c 192 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Each licensee shall establish a custodial account for consignor's proceeds. All funds derived from the sale of livestock handled on a commission or agency basis shall be deposited in that account. Such account shall be drawn on only for the payment of net proceeds to the consignor, or such other person or persons of whom such licensee has knowledge is entitled to such proceeds, and to obtain from such proceeds only the sums due the licensee as compensation for his or her services as are set out in his or her tariffs, and for such sums as are necessary to pay all legal charges against the consignment of livestock which the licensee in his or her capacity as agent is required to pay for on behalf of the consignor or shipper. The licensee in each case shall keep such accounts and records that will at all times disclose the names of the consignors and the amount due and payable to each from the funds in the custodial account for consignor's proceeds. The licensee shall maintain the custodial account for consignor's proceeds in a manner that will expedite examination by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board and reflect compliance with the requirements of this section.

No person shall hereafter operate a public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale unless such person has filed a schedule with the application for license to operate such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale. Such schedule shall show all rates and charges for stockyard services to be furnished by such person at such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale.

(1) Schedules shall be posted conspicuously at the public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, and shall plainly state all such rates and charges in such detail as the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may require, and shall state any rules ~~((and regulations))~~ which in any manner change, affect, or determine any part of the aggregate of such rates or charges, or the value of the stockyard services furnished. The ~~((director))~~ board may determine and prescribe the form and manner in which such schedule shall be prepared, arranged and posted.

(2) No changes shall be made in rates or charges so filed and published except after thirty days' notice to the ~~((director))~~ board and to the public filed and posted as aforesaid, which shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made and the time such changes will go into effect.

(3) No licensee shall charge, demand or collect a greater or a lesser or a different compensation for such service than the rates and charges specified in the schedule filed with the ~~((director))~~ board and in effect at the time; nor shall a licensee refund or remit in any manner any portion of the rates or charges so specified (but this shall not prohibit a cooperative association of producers from properly returning to its members, on a patronage basis, its excess earnings on their livestock); nor shall a licensee extend to any person at such public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale any stockyard services except such as are specified in such schedule.

Before the license is issued to operate a public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, the applicant shall execute and deliver to the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a surety bond in a sum as herein provided for, executed by the applicant as principal and by a surety company qualified and authorized to do business in this state as surety. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be a standard form and approved by the ~~((director))~~ board as to terms and conditions. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be conditioned that the principal will not commit any fraudulent act and will comply with the provisions of this chapter and the rules ~~((and/or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder. ~~((Said))~~ The bond shall be to the state in favor of every consignor and/or vendor creditor whose livestock was handled or sold through or at the licensee's public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale: PROVIDED, That if such applicant is bonded as a market agency under the provisions of the packers and stockyards act, (7 U.S.C. 181) as amended, on March 20, 1961, in a sum equal to or greater than the sum required under the provisions of this chapter, and such applicant furnishes the ~~((director))~~ board with a bond approved by the United States secretary of agriculture ~~((naming the department as trustee))~~, the ~~((director))~~ board may accept such bond and its method of termination in lieu of the bond provided for herein and issue a license if such applicant meets all the other requirements of this chapter.

The total and aggregate liability of the surety for all claims upon the bond shall be limited to the face of such bond. Every bond filed with and approved by the ~~((director))~~ board shall, without the necessity of periodic renewal, remain in force and effect until such time as the license of the licensee is revoked for cause or otherwise canceled. The surety on a bond, as provided herein, shall be released and discharged from all liability to the state accruing on such bond upon compliance with the provisions of RCW 19.72.110 concerning notice and proof of service, as enacted or hereafter amended, but this shall not operate to relieve, release or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue (due and to become due hereunder) before the expiration period provided for in RCW 19.72.110 concerning notice and proof of service as enacted or hereafter amended, and unless the principal shall before the expiration of such period, file a new bond, the ~~((director))~~ board shall forthwith cancel the principal's license.

Sec. 72. RCW 16.65.220 and 1971 ex.s. c 192 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

If the application for a license to operate a public livestock market is from a new public livestock market which has not operated in the past twelve-month period, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall determine a bond, in a reasonable sum, that the applicant shall execute in favor of the state, which shall not be less than ten thousand dollars nor greater than twenty-five thousand dollars: PROVIDED, That the ~~((director))~~ board may at any time, upon written notice, review the licensee's operations and determine whether, because of increased or decreased sales, the amount of the bond should be altered.

Sec. 73. RCW 16.65.235 and 1973 c 142 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

In lieu of the surety bond required under the provisions of this chapter, an applicant or licensee may file with the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board a deposit consisting of cash or other security acceptable to the ~~((director))~~ board. The ~~((director))~~ board may adopt rules ~~((and regulations))~~ necessary for the administration of such security.

Sec. 74. RCW 16.65.250 and 1959 c 107 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board or any vendor or consignor creditor may also bring action upon ~~((said))~~ the bond against both principal and surety in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the damages caused by any failure to comply with the provisions of this chapter and the rules ~~((and/or regulations))~~ adopted hereunder.

Sec. 75. RCW 16.65.260 and 1983 c 298 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

In case of failure by a licensee to pay amounts due a vendor or consignor creditor whose livestock was handled or sold through or at the licensee's public livestock market or special open consignment horse sale, as evidenced by a verified complaint filed with the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, the ~~((director))~~ board may proceed forthwith to ascertain the names and addresses of all vendor or consignor creditors of such licensee, together with the amounts due and owing to them and each of them by such licensee, and shall request all such vendor and consignor creditors to file a verified statement of their respective claims with the ~~((director))~~ board. Such request shall be addressed to each known vendor or consignor creditor at his or her last known address.

Sec. 76. RCW 16.65.270 and 1959 c 107 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

If a vendor or consignor creditor so addressed fails, refuses or neglects to file in the office of the ~~((director his))~~ livestock identification board a verified claim as requested by the ~~((director))~~ board within sixty days from the date of such request, the ~~((director))~~ board shall thereupon be relieved of further duty or action hereunder on behalf of ~~((said))~~ the producer or consignor creditor.

Sec. 77. RCW 16.65.280 and 1959 c 107 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

Where by reason of the absence of records, or other circumstances making it impossible or unreasonable for the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board to ascertain the names and addresses of all ~~((said))~~ the vendor and consignor creditors, the ~~((director))~~ board, after exerting due diligence and making reasonable inquiry to secure ~~((said))~~ the information from all reasonable and available sources, may make demand on ~~((said))~~ the bond on the basis of information then in ~~((his))~~ its possession, and thereafter shall not be liable or responsible for claims or the handling of claims which may subsequently appear or be discovered.

Sec. 78. RCW 16.65.290 and 1959 c 107 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon ascertaining all claims and statements in the manner herein set forth, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may then make demand upon the bond on behalf of those claimants whose statements have been filed, and shall have the power to settle or compromise ~~((said))~~ the claims with the surety company on the bond, and is empowered in such cases to execute and deliver a release and discharge of the bond involved.

Sec. 79. RCW 16.65.300 and 1959 c 107 s 30 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the refusal of the surety company to pay the demand, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may thereupon bring an action on the bond in behalf of ~~((said))~~ the vendor and consignor creditors. Upon any action being commenced on ~~((said))~~ the bond, the ~~((director))~~ board may require the filing of a new bond. Immediately upon the recovery in any action on such bond such licensee shall file a new bond. Upon failure to file the same within ten days, in either case, such failure shall constitute grounds for the suspension or revocation of his or her license.

Sec. 80. RCW 16.65.310 and 1959 c 107 s 31 are each amended to read as follows:

In any settlement or compromise by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board with a surety company as provided in RCW 16.65.290, where there are two or more consignor and/or vendor creditors that have filed claims, either fixed or contingent, against a licensee's bond, such creditors shall share pro rata in the proceeds of the bond to the extent of their actual damage: PROVIDED, That the claims of the state and the ~~((department))~~ board which may accrue from the conduct of the licensee's public livestock market shall have priority over all other claims.

Sec. 81. RCW 16.65.320 and 1985 c 415 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this chapter, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board on the ~~((director's))~~ board's own motion or upon the verified complaint of any vendor or consignor against any licensee, or agent, or any person assuming or attempting to act as such, shall have full authority to make any and all necessary investigations. The ~~((director))~~ board is empowered to administer oaths of verification of such complaints.

Sec. 82. RCW 16.65.330 and 1959 c 107 s 33 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of making investigations as provided for in RCW 16.65.320, the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may enter a public livestock market and examine any records required under the provisions of this chapter. The ~~((director))~~ board shall have full authority to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses before ~~((him))~~ it, together with all books, memorandums, papers, and other documents relative to the matters under investigation, and to administer oaths and take testimony thereunder.

Sec. 83. RCW 16.65.340 and 1967 c 192 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall, when livestock is sold, traded, exchanged or handled at or through a public livestock market, require such testing, treating, identifying, examining and record keeping of such livestock by a ~~((deputy))~~ state licensed and accredited veterinarian employed by the market as in the ~~((director's))~~ board's judgment may be necessary to prevent the spread of brucellosis, tuberculosis, paratuberculosis, ~~((hog cholera))~~ pseudorabies, or any other infectious, contagious or communicable disease among the livestock of this state. The state veterinarian or his or her authorized representative may conduct additional testing and examinations for the same purpose.

Sec. 84. RCW 16.65.350 and 1959 c 107 s 35 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((4))~~ The director of the department of agriculture shall ~~((perform all tests and make all examinations required under the provisions of this chapter and rules and regulations adopted hereunder: PROVIDED, That veterinary inspectors of the United States department of agriculture may be appointed by the director to make such examinations and tests as are provided for in this chapter without bond or compensation, and shall have the same authority and power in this state as a deputy state veterinarian.~~

~~(2) The director shall have the responsibility for the direction and control of)~~ adopt rules regarding sanitary practices and health practices and standards and for the examination of animals at public livestock markets. ~~((The deputy state veterinarian at any such public livestock market shall notify the licensee or his managing agent, in writing, of insanitary practices or conditions. Such deputy state veterinarian shall notify the director if the improper sanitary practices or conditions are not corrected within the time specified. The director shall investigate and upon finding such report correct shall take appropriate action to hold a hearing on the suspension or revocation of the licensee's license.))~~

Licensees shall provide facilities and sanitation for the prevention of livestock diseases at their public livestock markets, as follows:

(1) The floors of all pens and alleys that are part of a public livestock market shall be constructed of concrete or similar impervious material and kept in good repair, with a slope of not less than one-fourth inch per foot to adequate drains leading to an approved sewage system: PROVIDED, That the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may designate certain pens within such public livestock markets as feeding and holding pens and the floors and alleys of such pens shall not be subject to the aforementioned surfacing requirements.

(2) Feeding and holding pens maintained in an area adjacent to a public livestock market shall be constructed and separated from such public livestock market, in a manner prescribed by the director of agriculture, in order to prevent the spread of communicable diseases to the livestock sold or held for sale in such public livestock market.

(3) All yards, chutes and pens used in handling livestock shall be constructed of such materials which will render them easily cleaned and disinfected, and such yards, pens and chutes shall be kept clean, sanitary and in good repair at all times, as required by the director of agriculture.

(4) Sufficient calf pens of adequate size to prevent overcrowding shall be provided, and such pens, when used, shall be cleaned and disinfected no later than the day subsequent to each sale.

(5) All swine pens, when used, shall be cleaned and disinfected no later than the day subsequent to each sale.

(6) A water system carrying a pressure of forty pounds and supplying sufficient water to thoroughly wash all pens, floors, alleys and equipment shall be provided.

(7) Sufficient quarantine pens of adequate capacity shall be provided. Such pens shall be used to hold only cattle reacting to brucellosis and tuberculosis or to quarantine livestock with other contagious or communicable diseases and shall be:

(a) hard surfaced with concrete or similar impervious material and shall be kept in good repair;

(b) provided with separate watering facilities;

(c) painted white with the word "quarantine" painted in red letters not less than four inches high on such quarantine pen's gate;

(d) provided with a tight board fence not less than five and one-half feet high;

(e) cleaned and disinfected not later than one day subsequent to the date of sale.

To prevent the spread of communicable diseases among livestock, the director of agriculture shall have the authority to cause the cleaning and disinfecting of any area or all areas of a public livestock market and equipment or vehicles with a complete coverage of disinfectants approved by the director.

Sec. 86. RCW 16.65.420 and 1991 c 17 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any application for sales days or days for a new salesyard, and any application for a change of sales day or days or additional sales day or days for an existing yard shall be subject to approval by the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, subsequent to a hearing as provided for in this chapter and the ~~((director))~~ board is hereby authorized to allocate these dates and type and class of livestock which may be sold on these dates. In considering the allocation of such sales days, the ~~((director))~~ board shall give appropriate consideration, among other relevant factors, to the following:

(a) The geographical area which will be affected;

(b) The conflict, if any, with sales days already allocated in the area;

(c) The amount and class of livestock available for marketing in the area;

- (d) Buyers available to such market;
- (e) Any other conditions affecting the orderly marketing of livestock.
- (2) No special sales shall be conducted by the licensee unless the licensee has applied to the ~~((director))~~ board in writing fifteen days prior to such proposed sale and such sale date shall be approved at the discretion of the ~~((director))~~ board.
- (3) In any case that a licensee fails to conduct sales on the sales days allocated to the licensee, the ~~((director))~~ board shall, subsequent to a hearing, be authorized to revoke an allocation for nonuse. The rate of usage required to maintain an allocation shall be established by rule.

Sec. 87. RCW 16.65.422 and 1963 c 232 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

A producer of purebred livestock may, upon obtaining a permit from the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board, conduct a public sale of the purebred livestock on an occasional or seasonal basis on premises other than his or her own farm. Application for such special sale shall be in writing to the ~~((director))~~ board for ~~((his))~~ its approval at least fifteen days before the proposed public sale is scheduled to be held by such producer.

Sec. 88. RCW 16.65.423 and 1983 c 298 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall have the authority to issue a public livestock market license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter limited to the sale of horses and/or mules and to allocate a sales day or days to such licensee. The ~~((director))~~ board is hereby authorized and directed to adopt ~~((regulations))~~ rules for facilities and sanitation applicable to such a license. The facility requirements of RCW 16.65.360 shall not be applicable to such licensee's operation as provided for in this section.

Sec. 89. RCW 16.65.424 and 1963 c 232 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall have the authority to grant a licensee an additional sales day or days limited to the sale of horses and/or mules and may if requested grant the licensee, by permit, the authority to have the sale at premises other than at his or her public livestock market if the facilities are approved by the ~~((director))~~ board as being adequate for the protection of the health and safety of such horses and/or mules. For the purpose of such limited sale the facility requirements of RCW 16.65.360 shall not be applicable.

Sec. 90. RCW 16.65.445 and 1989 c 175 s 55 are each amended to read as follows:

The ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board shall hold public hearings upon a proposal to promulgate any new or amended ~~((regulations))~~ rules and all hearings for the denial, revocation, or suspension of a license issued under this chapter or in any other adjudicative proceeding, and shall comply in all respects with chapter 34.05 RCW, the Administrative Procedure Act.

Sec. 91. RCW 16.65.450 and 1991 c 17 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Any licensee or applicant who feels aggrieved by an order of the ~~((director))~~ livestock identification board may appeal to the superior court of the county in the state of Washington of the residence of the licensee or applicant where the trial on such appeal shall be held de novo.

Sec. 92. RCW 16.04.025 and 1989 c 286 s 21 are each amended to read as follows:

If the owner or the person having in charge or possession such animals is unknown to the person sustaining the damage, the person retaining such animals shall, within twenty-four hours, notify the county sheriff or the nearest state brand inspector as to the number, description, and location of the animals. The county sheriff or brand inspector shall examine the animals by brand, tattoo, or other identifying characteristics and attempt to ascertain ownership. If the animal is marked with a brand or tattoo which is registered with the ~~((director of agriculture))~~ livestock identification board, the brand inspector or county sheriff shall furnish this information and other pertinent information to the person holding the animals who in turn shall send the notice required in RCW 16.04.020 to the animals' owner of record by certified mail.

If the county sheriff or the brand inspector determines that there is no apparent damage to the property of the person retaining the animals, or if the person sustaining the damage contacts the county sheriff or brand inspector to have the animals removed from his or her property, such animals shall be removed in accordance with chapter 16.24 RCW. Such removal shall not prejudice the property owner's ability to recover damages through civil suit.

Sec. 93. RCW 41.06.070 and 1996 c 319 s 3, 1996 c 288 s 33, and 1996 c 186 s 109 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

(a) The members of the legislature or to any employee of, or position in, the legislative branch of the state government including members, officers, and employees of the legislative council, joint legislative audit and review committee, statute law committee, and any interim committee of the legislature;

(b) The justices of the supreme court, judges of the court of appeals, judges of the superior courts or of the inferior courts, or to any employee of, or position in the judicial branch of state government;

(c) Officers, academic personnel, and employees of technical colleges;

(d) The officers of the Washington state patrol;

(e) Elective officers of the state;

(f) The chief executive officer of each agency;

(g) In the departments of employment security and social and health services, the director and the director's confidential secretary; in all other departments, the executive head of which is an individual appointed by the governor, the director, his or her confidential secretary, and his or her statutory assistant directors;

(h) In the case of a multimember board, commission, or committee, whether the members thereof are elected, appointed by the governor or other authority, serve ex officio, or are otherwise chosen:

(i) All members of such boards, commissions, or committees;

(ii) If the members of the board, commission, or committee serve on a part-time basis and there is a statutory executive officer: The secretary of the board, commission, or committee; the chief executive officer of the board, commission, or committee; and the confidential secretary of the chief executive officer of the board, commission, or committee;

(iii) If the members of the board, commission, or committee serve on a full-time basis: The chief executive officer or administrative officer as designated by the board, commission, or committee; and a confidential secretary to the chair of the board, commission, or committee;

(iv) If all members of the board, commission, or committee serve ex officio: The chief executive officer; and the confidential secretary of such chief executive officer;

(i) The confidential secretaries and administrative assistants in the immediate offices of the elective officers of the state;

(j) Assistant attorneys general;

(k) Commissioned and enlisted personnel in the military service of the state;

(l) Inmate, student, part-time, or temporary employees, and part-time professional consultants, as defined by the Washington personnel resources board;

(m) The public printer or to any employees of or positions in the state printing plant;

(n) Officers and employees of the Washington state fruit commission;

(o) Officers and employees of the Washington state apple advertising commission;

(p) Officers and employees of the Washington state dairy products commission;

(q) Officers and employees of the Washington tree fruit research commission;

(r) Officers and employees of the Washington state beef commission;

(s) Officers and employees of any commission formed under chapter 15.66 RCW;

(t) Officers and employees of the state wheat commission formed under chapter 15.63 RCW;

(u) Officers and employees of agricultural commissions formed under chapter 15.65 RCW;

(v) Officers and employees of the nonprofit corporation formed under chapter 67.40 RCW;

(w) Executive assistants for personnel administration and labor relations in all state agencies employing such executive assistants including but not limited to all departments, offices, commissions, committees, boards, or other bodies subject to the provisions of this chapter and this subsection shall prevail over any provision of law inconsistent herewith unless specific exception is made in such law;

(x) In each agency with fifty or more employees: Deputy agency heads, assistant directors or division directors, and not more than three principal policy assistants who report directly to the agency head or deputy agency heads;

(y) All employees of the marine employees' commission;

(z) Up to a total of five senior staff positions of the western library network under chapter 27.26 RCW responsible for formulating policy or for directing program management of a major administrative unit. This subsection (1)(z) shall expire on June 30, 1997;

(aa) Staff employed by the department of community, trade, and economic development to administer energy policy functions and manage energy site evaluation council activities under RCW 43.21F.045(2)(m);

(bb) Staff employed by Washington State University to administer energy education, applied research, and technology transfer programs under RCW 43.21F.045 as provided in RCW 28B.30.900(5);

(cc) Officers and employees of the livestock identification board created under RCW 16.57.015.

(2) The following classifications, positions, and employees of institutions of higher education and related boards are hereby exempted from coverage of this chapter:

(a) Members of the governing board of each institution of higher education and related boards, all presidents, vice-presidents, and their confidential secretaries, administrative, and personal assistants; deans, directors, and chairs; academic personnel; and executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions employed by institutions of higher education; principal assistants to executive heads of major administrative or academic divisions; other managerial or professional employees in an institution or related board having substantial responsibility for directing or controlling program operations and accountable for allocation of resources and program results, or for the formulation of institutional policy, or for carrying out personnel administration or labor relations functions, legislative relations, public information, development, senior computer systems and network programming, or internal audits and investigations; and any employee of a community college district whose place of work is one which is physically located outside the state of Washington and who is employed pursuant to RCW 28B.50.092 and assigned to an educational program operating outside of the state of Washington;

(b) Student, part-time, or temporary employees, and part-time professional consultants, as defined by the Washington personnel resources board, employed by institutions of higher education and related boards;

(c) The governing board of each institution, and related boards, may also exempt from this chapter classifications involving research activities, counseling of students, extension or continuing education activities, graphic arts or publications activities requiring prescribed academic preparation or special training as determined by the board: PROVIDED, That no nonacademic employee engaged in office, clerical, maintenance, or food and trade services may be exempted by the board under this provision;

(d) Printing craft employees in the department of printing at the University of Washington.

(3) In addition to the exemptions specifically provided by this chapter, the Washington personnel resources board may provide for further exemptions pursuant to the following procedures. The governor or other appropriate elected official may submit requests for exemption to the Washington personnel resources board stating the reasons for requesting such exemptions. The Washington personnel resources board shall hold a public hearing, after proper notice, on requests submitted pursuant to this subsection. If the board determines that the position for which exemption is requested is one involving substantial responsibility for the formulation of basic agency or executive policy or one involving directing and controlling program operations of an agency or a major administrative division thereof, the Washington personnel resources board shall grant the request and such determination shall be final as to any decision made before July 1, 1993. The total number of additional exemptions permitted under this subsection shall not exceed one percent of the number of employees in the classified service not including employees of institutions of higher education and related boards for those agencies not directly under the authority of any elected public official other than the governor, and shall not exceed a total of twenty-five for all agencies under the authority of elected public officials other than the governor. The Washington personnel resources board shall report to each regular session of the legislature during an odd-numbered year all exemptions granted under subsections (1)(w) and (x) and (2) of this section, together with the reasons for such exemptions.

The salary and fringe benefits of all positions presently or hereafter exempted except for the chief executive officer of each agency, full-time members of boards and commissions, administrative assistants and confidential secretaries in the immediate office of an elected state official, and the personnel listed in subsections (1)(j) through (v), (y), (z), and (2) of this section, shall be determined by the Washington personnel resources board. However, beginning with changes proposed for the 1997-99 fiscal biennium, changes to the classification plan affecting exempt salaries must meet the same provisions for classified salary increases resulting from adjustments to the classification plan as outlined in RCW 41.06.152.

Any person holding a classified position subject to the provisions of this chapter shall, when and if such position is subsequently exempted from the application of this chapter, be afforded the following rights: If such person previously held permanent status in another classified position, such person shall have a right of reversion to the highest class of position previously held, or to a position of similar nature and salary.

Any classified employee having civil service status in a classified position who accepts an appointment in an exempt position shall have the right of reversion to the highest class of position previously held, or to a position of similar nature and salary.

A person occupying an exempt position who is terminated from the position for gross misconduct or malfeasance does not have the right of reversion to a classified position as provided for in this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 94. A new section is added to chapter 42.17 RCW to read as follows: Financial statements provided under RCW 16.65.030(1)(d) are exempt from disclosure under this chapter.

Sec. 95. RCW 43.23.230 and 1988 c 254 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The agricultural local fund is hereby established in the custody of the state treasurer. The fund shall consist of such money as is directed by law for deposit in the fund, and such other money not subject to appropriation that the department authorizes to be deposited in the fund. Any money deposited in the fund, the use of which has been restricted by law, may only be expended in accordance with those restrictions. Except as provided in section 3 of this act, the department may make disbursements from the fund. The fund is not subject to legislative appropriation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 96. (1) On the effective date of this section, all powers, duties, and functions of the department of agriculture under chapters 16.57, 16.58, and 16.65 RCW except those identified as remaining with the department in RCW 16.65.350 and 16.65.360 are transferred to the livestock identification board. The authority to adopt rules regarding those powers, duties, and functions is transferred to the livestock identification board and the administration of those powers, duties, and functions is transferred to the board.

(2)(a) All funds, credits, or other assets, including but not limited to those in the agricultural local fund, held by the department of agriculture in connection with the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall be assigned to the board.

(b) At any time after June 30, 2004, and at the conclusion of a contract under which the department of agriculture conducts by contract activities for the livestock identification board, the board may request the transfer and the department shall, upon such a request, transfer to the custody of the board all reports, documents, surveys, books, records, files, papers, or written material in the possession of the department of agriculture pertaining to the functions performed by contract by the department for the board and all cabinets, furniture, office equipment, motor vehicles, and other tangible property employed by the department to perform such duties on behalf of the board.

(c) Whenever any question arises as to the transfer of any funds, books, documents, records, papers, files, equipment, or other tangible property used or held in the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties and functions transferred, the director of financial management shall make a determination as to the proper allocation and certify the same to the state agencies concerned.

(3) All rules of the department of agriculture adopted under chapter 16.57 RCW in effect on the effective date of this section, all rules adopted by the department under chapter 16.58 RCW in effect on the effective date of this section, and all rules adopted by the department under chapter 16.65 RCW, except for those adopted under the authorities retained by the department under RCW 16.65.350 and 16.65.360, in effect on the effective date of this section are, on the effective date of this section, rules of the livestock identification board. All proposed rules and all pending business before the department of agriculture pertaining to the powers, functions, and duties transferred shall be continued and acted upon by the board. All existing contracts and obligations shall remain in full force and shall be performed by the board. All registrations made with the department under chapter 16.57 RCW, all licenses issued by the department under chapter 16.58 RCW, and all licenses issued by the department under chapter 16.65 RCW before the effective date of this section shall be considered to be registrations with and licenses issued by the board.

(4) The transfer of the powers, duties, and functions of the department of agriculture shall not affect the validity of any act performed before the effective date of this section. The board shall take action to enforce against violations of chapters 16.57, 16.58, and 16.65 RCW and rules adopted thereunder regarding authorities transferred to the board by this act which occurred before the effective date of this section and for which enforcement is not taken by the department before the effective date of this section with the same force and effect as it may take actions to enforce chapters 16.57 and 16.58 RCW and rules adopted thereunder after the effective date of this section. Any enforcement action taken by the department of agriculture under chapter 16.57, 16.58, or 16.65 RCW regarding authorities transferred to the board by this act, or the rules adopted thereunder and not concluded before the effective date of this section, shall be continued in the name of the board.

(5) As used in this section "livestock identification board" and "board" means the board created under RCW 16.57.015.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 97. (1) The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

(a) 1997 c 356 s 3;

(b) 1997 c 356 s 5;

(c) 1997 c 356 s 9;

SSB 6208 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Human Services & Corrections: Revising procedures for at-risk youth. Reported by Committee on Children & Family Services

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"PART I - CRISIS RESIDENTIAL CENTERS AND STAFF-SECURE TREATMENT CENTERS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:
Any county or group of counties may make application to the department of social and health services in the manner and form prescribed by the department to administer and provide the services established under RCW 13.32A.197. Any such application must include a plan or plans for providing such services to at-risk youth.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:
No county may receive any state funds provided by section 1 of this act until its application and plan are received by the department.

(1) The distribution of funds to a county or a group of counties shall be based on criteria including but not limited to the county's per capita income, regional or county at-risk populations, rates of poverty, and the presence of existing programs serving at-risk children.

(2) The secretary of social and health services shall reimburse a county upon presentation and approval of a valid claim pursuant to this chapter based on actual performance in meeting the terms and conditions of the approved plan and contract. Funds received by participating counties under this chapter shall not be used to replace local funds for existing programs.

(3) Funds available for county-operated staff-secure facilities and services under RCW 13.32A.197 shall not exceed the appropriation for these services specified in the biennial operating budget.

Sec. 3. RCW 74.13.031 and 1997 c 386 s 32 and 1997 c 272 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the duty to provide child welfare services and shall:

(1) Develop, administer, supervise, and monitor a coordinated and comprehensive plan that establishes, aids, and strengthens services for the protection and care of homeless, runaway, dependent, or neglected children.

(2) Within available resources, recruit an adequate number of prospective adoptive and foster homes, both regular and specialized, i.e. homes for children of ethnic minority, including Indian homes for Indian children, sibling groups, handicapped and emotionally disturbed, teens, pregnant and parenting teens, and annually report to the governor and the legislature concerning the department's success in: (a) Meeting the need for adoptive and foster home placements; (b) reducing the foster parent turnover rate; (c) completing home studies for legally free children; and (d) implementing and operating the passport program required by RCW 74.13.285. The report shall include a section entitled "Foster Home Turn-Over, Causes and Recommendations."

(3) Investigate complaints of alleged neglect, abuse, or abandonment of children, and on the basis of the findings of such investigation, offer child welfare services in relation to the problem to such parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis, and/or bring the situation to the attention of an appropriate court, or another community agency: PROVIDED, That an investigation is not required of nonaccidental injuries which are clearly not the result of a lack of care or supervision by the child's parents, legal custodians, or persons serving in loco parentis. If the investigation reveals that a crime may have been committed, the department shall notify the appropriate law enforcement agency.

(4) Offer, on a voluntary basis, family reconciliation services to families who are in conflict.

(5) Monitor out-of-home placements, on a timely and routine basis, to assure the safety, well-being, and quality of care being provided is within the scope of the intent of the legislature as defined in RCW 74.13.010 and 74.15.010, and annually submit a report measuring the extent to which the department achieved the specified goals to the governor and the legislature.

(6) Have authority to accept custody of children from parents and to accept custody of children from juvenile courts, where authorized to do so under law, to provide child welfare services including placement for adoption, and to provide for the physical care of such children and make payment of maintenance costs if needed. Except where required by Public Law 95-608 (25 U.S.C. Sec. 1915), no private adoption agency which receives children for adoption from the department shall discriminate on the basis of race, creed, or color when considering applications in their placement for adoption.

(7) Have authority to provide temporary shelter to children who have run away from home and who are admitted to crisis residential centers.

(8) Have authority to purchase care for children; and shall follow in general the policy of using properly approved private agency services for the actual care and supervision of such children insofar as they are available, paying for care of such children as are accepted by the department as eligible for support at reasonable rates established by the department.

(9) Establish a children's services advisory committee which shall assist the secretary in the development of a partnership plan for utilizing resources of the public and private sectors, and advise on all matters pertaining to child welfare, licensing of child care agencies, adoption, and services related thereto. At least one member shall represent the adoption community.

(10) Have authority to provide continued foster care or group care for individuals from eighteen through twenty years of age to enable them to complete their high school or vocational school program.

(11) Have authority within funds appropriated for foster care services to purchase care for Indian children who are in the custody of a federally recognized Indian tribe or tribally licensed child-placing agency pursuant to parental consent, tribal court order, or state juvenile court order; and the purchase of such care shall be subject to the same eligibility standards and rates of support applicable to other children for whom the department purchases care.

(12) Provide funding for counties to operate treatment facilities and provide treatment services to children who have been ordered placed in a staff secure facility under RCW 13.32A.197.

Notwithstanding any other provision of RCW 13.32A.170 through 13.32A.200 and 74.13.032 through 74.13.036, or of this section all services to be provided by the department of social and health services under subsections (4), (6), and (7) of this section, or counties under subsection (12) of this section, subject to the limitations of these subsections, may be provided by any program offering such services funded pursuant to Titles II and III of the federal juvenile justice and delinquency prevention act of 1974.

Sec. 4. RCW 74.13.032 and 1995 c 312 s 60 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, regional crisis residential centers with semi-secure facilities. These facilities shall be structured group care facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department and shall have an average of at least four adult staff members and in no event less than three adult staff members to every eight children.

(2) Within available funds appropriated for this purpose, the department shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, regional crisis residential centers with secure facilities. These facilities shall be facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department. These centers may also include semi-secure facilities and to such extent shall be subject to subsection (1) of this section.

(3) The department shall, in addition to the facilities established under subsections (1) and (2) of this section, establish additional crisis residential centers pursuant to contract with licensed private group care facilities.

(4) The staff at the facilities established under this section shall be trained so that they may effectively counsel juveniles admitted to the centers, provide treatment, supervision, and structure to the juveniles that recognize the need for support and the varying circumstances that cause children to leave their families, and carry out the responsibilities stated in RCW 13.32A.090. The responsibilities stated in RCW 13.32A.090 may, in any of the centers, be carried out by the department.

(5) The secure facilities located within crisis residential centers shall be operated to conform with the definition in RCW 13.32A.030. The facilities shall have an average of no ~~((more))~~ less than ~~((three))~~ one adult staff member~~((s))~~ to every ~~((eight))~~ ten children. The staffing ratio shall continue to ensure the safety of the children.

~~(6) ((A center with secure facilities created under this section may not be located within, or on the same grounds as, other secure structures including jails, juvenile detention facilities operated by the state, or units of local government. However, the secretary may, following consultation with the appropriate county legislative authority, make a written finding that location of a center with secure facilities on the same grounds as another secure structure is the only practical location for a secure facility. Upon the written finding a secure facility may be located on the same grounds as the secure structure. Where))~~ If a secure crisis residential center is located in or adjacent to a secure juvenile detention facility, the center shall be operated in a manner that prevents in-person contact between the residents of the center and the persons held in such facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. A new section is added to chapter 74.13 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A county or group of counties operating a staff-secure facility under sections 1 and 2 of this act shall establish, by contracts with private or public vendors, treatment centers with staff secure facilities. These facilities shall be structured group care facilities licensed under rules adopted by the department.

(2) The staff at the facilities established under RCW 13.32A.197 shall be trained so that they may effectively counsel, supervise, provide treatment for behavioral difficulties or needs, and provide structure to the juveniles admitted to treatment facilities. The treatment, supervision, and counseling must recognize the need for support and the varying circumstances that cause children to leave their families.

(3) Juveniles shall be admitted to the facilities based on a court order for placement at a staff secure facility to receive treatment under RCW 13.32A.197. Juveniles shall not be denied admission based on their county of residence.

PART II - MENTAL HEALTH AND CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The legislature finds it is often necessary for parents to obtain mental health or chemical dependency treatment for their minor children prior to the time the child's condition presents a likelihood of serious harm or the child becomes gravely disabled. The legislature finds that treatment of such conditions is not the equivalent of incarceration or detention, but is a legitimate act of parental discretion, when supported by decisions of credentialed professionals. The legislature finds that, consistent with Parham v. J.R., 442 U.S. 584 (1979), state action is not involved in the determination of a parent and professional person to admit a minor child to treatment and finds this act provides sufficient independent review by the department of social and health services, as a neutral fact-finder, to protect the interests of all parties. The legislature intends and recognizes that children affected by the provisions of this act are not children whose mental or substance abuse problems are adequately addressed by chapters 70.96A and 71.34 RCW. Therefore, the legislature finds it is necessary to provide parents a statutory process, other than the petition process provided in chapters 70.96A and 71.34 RCW, to obtain treatment for their minor children without the consent of the children.

The legislature finds that differing standards of admission and review in parent-initiated mental health and chemical dependency treatment for their minor children are necessary and the admission standards and procedures under state involuntary treatment procedures are not adequate to provide safeguards for the safety and well-being of all children. The legislature finds the timeline for admission and reviews under existing law do not provide sufficient opportunities for assessment of the mental health and chemically dependent status of every minor child and that additional time and different standards will facilitate the likelihood of successful treatment of children who are in need of assistance but unwilling to obtain it voluntarily. The legislature finds there are children whose behavior presents a clear need of medical treatment but is not so extreme as to require immediate state intervention under the state involuntary treatment procedures.

PART II-A - MENTAL HEALTH

Sec. 7. RCW 71.34.010 and 1992 c 205 s 302 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the purpose of this chapter to (~~ensure~~) assure that minors in need of mental health care and treatment receive an appropriate continuum of culturally relevant care and treatment, (~~from~~) including prevention and early intervention (~~to~~), self-directed care, parent-directed care, and involuntary treatment. To facilitate the continuum of care and treatment to minors in out-of-home placements, all divisions of the department that provide mental health services to minors shall jointly plan and deliver those services.

It is also the purpose of this chapter to protect the rights of minors against needless hospitalization and deprivations of liberty and to enable treatment decisions to be made in response to clinical needs in accordance with sound professional judgment. The mental health care and treatment providers shall encourage the use of voluntary services and, whenever clinically appropriate, the providers shall offer less restrictive alternatives to inpatient treatment. Additionally, all mental health care and treatment providers shall (~~ensure~~) assure that minors' parents are given an opportunity to participate in the treatment decisions for their minor children. The mental health care and treatment providers shall, to the extent possible, offer services that involve minors' parents or family.

It is also the purpose of this chapter to assure the ability of parents to exercise reasonable, compassionate care and control of their minor children when there is a medical necessity for treatment and without the requirement of filing a petition under this chapter.

Sec. 8. RCW 71.34.020 and 1985 c 354 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Child psychiatrist" means a person having a license as a physician and surgeon in this state, who has had graduate training in child psychiatry in a program approved by the American Medical Association or the American Osteopathic Association, and who is board eligible or board certified in child psychiatry.

(2) "Children's mental health specialist" means:

(a) A mental health professional who has completed a minimum of one hundred actual hours, not quarter or semester hours, of specialized training devoted to the study of child development and the treatment of children; and

(b) A mental health professional who has the equivalent of one year of full-time experience in the treatment of children under the supervision of a children's mental health specialist.

(3) "Commitment" means a determination by a judge or court commissioner, made after a commitment hearing, that the minor is in need of inpatient diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment or that the minor is in need of less restrictive alternative treatment.

(4) "County-designated mental health professional" means a mental health professional designated by one or more counties to perform the functions of a county-designated mental health professional described in this chapter.

(5) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(6) "Evaluation and treatment facility" means a public or private facility or unit that is certified by the department to provide emergency, inpatient, residential, or outpatient mental health evaluation and treatment services for minors. A physically separate and separately-operated portion of a state hospital may be designated as an evaluation and treatment facility for minors. A facility which is part of or operated by the department or federal agency does not require certification. No correctional institution or facility, juvenile court detention facility, or jail may be an evaluation and treatment facility within the meaning of this chapter.

(7) "Evaluation and treatment program" means the total system of services and facilities coordinated and approved by a county or combination of counties for the evaluation and treatment of minors under this chapter.

(8) "Gravely disabled minor" means a minor who, as a result of a mental disorder, is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety, or manifests severe deterioration in routine functioning evidenced by repeated and escalating loss of cognitive or volitional control over his or her actions and is not receiving such care as is essential for his or her health or safety.

(9) "Inpatient treatment" means twenty-four-hour-per-day mental health care provided within a general hospital, psychiatric hospital, or residential treatment facility certified by the department as an evaluation and treatment facility for minors.

(10) "Less restrictive alternative" or "less restrictive setting" means outpatient treatment provided to a minor who is not residing in a facility providing inpatient treatment as defined in this chapter.

(11) "Likelihood of serious harm" means either: (a) A substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon his or her own person, as evidenced by threats or attempts to commit suicide or inflict physical harm on oneself; (b) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon another, as evidenced by behavior which has caused such harm or which places another person or persons in reasonable fear of sustaining such harm; or (c) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon the property of others, as evidenced by behavior which has caused substantial loss or damage to the property of others.

(12) "Medical necessity" for inpatient care means a requested service which is reasonably calculated to: (a) Diagnose, correct, cure, or alleviate a mental disorder; or (b) prevent the worsening of mental conditions that endanger life or cause suffering and pain, or result in illness or infirmity or threaten to cause or aggravate a handicap, or cause physical deformity or malfunction, and there is no adequate less restrictive alternative available.

(13) "Mental disorder" means any organic, mental, or emotional impairment that has substantial adverse effects on an individual's cognitive or volitional functions. The presence of alcohol abuse, drug abuse, juvenile criminal history, antisocial behavior, or mental retardation alone is insufficient to justify a finding of "mental disorder" within the meaning of this section.

~~((13))~~ (14) "Mental health professional" means a psychiatrist, psychologist, psychiatric nurse, or social worker, and such other mental health professionals as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary under this chapter.

~~((14))~~ (15) "Minor" means any person under the age of eighteen years.

~~((15))~~ (16) "Outpatient treatment" means any of the nonresidential services mandated under chapter 71.24 RCW and provided by licensed services providers as identified by RCW 71.24.025(3).

~~((16))~~ (17) "Parent" means:

(a) A biological or adoptive parent who has legal custody of the child, including either parent if custody is shared under a joint custody agreement; or

(b) A person or agency judicially appointed as legal guardian or custodian of the child.

~~((17))~~ (18) "Professional person in charge" or "professional person" means a physician or other mental health professional empowered by an evaluation and treatment facility with authority to make admission and discharge decisions on behalf of that facility.

~~((18))~~ (19) "Psychiatric nurse" means a registered nurse who has a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, and who has had, in addition, at least two years' experience in the direct treatment of mentally ill or emotionally disturbed persons, such experience gained under the supervision of a mental health professional. "Psychiatric nurse" shall also mean any other registered nurse who has three years of such experience.

~~((19))~~ (20) "Psychiatrist" means a person having a license as a physician in this state who has completed residency training in psychiatry in a program approved by the American Medical Association or the American Osteopathic Association, and is board eligible or board certified in psychiatry.

~~((20))~~ (21) "Psychologist" means a person licensed as a psychologist under chapter 18.83 RCW.

~~((21))~~ (22) "Responsible other" means the minor, the minor's parent or estate, or any other person legally responsible for support of the minor.

~~((22))~~ (23) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department or secretary's designee.

~~((23))~~ (24) "Start of initial detention" means the time of arrival of the minor at the first evaluation and treatment facility offering inpatient treatment if the minor is being involuntarily detained at the time. With regard to voluntary patients, "start of initial detention" means the time at which the minor gives notice of intent to leave under the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 9. RCW 71.34.025 and 1995 c 312 s 56 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ~~((The admission of any child under RCW 71.34.030 may be reviewed by the county-designated mental health professional between fifteen and thirty days following admission. The county-designated mental health professional may undertake the review on his or her own initiative and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of the review.~~

~~(2))~~ The department shall ~~((ensure))~~ assure that, for any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 18 of this act, a review is conducted ~~((no later than sixty days))~~ by a physician or other mental health professional who is employed by the department, or an agency under contract with the department, and who neither has a financial interest in continued inpatient treatment of the minor nor is affiliated with the facility providing the treatment. The physician or other mental health professional shall conduct the review not less than seven nor more than fourteen days following ~~((admission))~~ the date the minor was brought to the facility under section 18(1) of this act to determine whether it is ~~((medically appropriate))~~ a medical necessity to continue the ~~((child's))~~ minor's treatment on an inpatient basis. ~~((The department may, subject to available funds, contract with a county for the conduct of the review conducted under this subsection and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.~~

~~If the county-designated mental health professional determines that continued inpatient treatment of the child is no longer medically appropriate, the professional shall notify the facility, the child, the child's parents, and the department of the finding within twenty-four hours of the determination.~~

~~(3) For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, children in inpatient mental health or chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the child has been assessed by the department of social and health services or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the child's parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the child. Payment for such care by the department of social and health services shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.)~~

~~(2) In making a determination under subsection (1) of this section, the department shall consider the opinion of the treatment provider, the safety of the minor, and the likelihood the minor's mental health will deteriorate if released from inpatient treatment. The department shall consult with the parent in advance of making its determination.~~

~~(3) If, after any review conducted by the department under this section, the department determines it is no longer a medical necessity for a minor to receive inpatient treatment, the department shall immediately notify the parents and the facility. The facility shall release the minor to the parents within twenty-four hours of receiving notice. If the professional person in charge and the parent believe that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain in inpatient treatment, the minor shall be released to the parent on the second judicial day following the department's determination in order to allow the parent time to file an at-risk youth petition under chapter 13.32A RCW. If the department determines it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive outpatient treatment and the minor declines to obtain such treatment, such refusal shall be grounds for the parent to file an at-risk youth petition.~~

~~(4) If the evaluation conducted under section 18 of this act is done by the department, the reviews required by subsection (1) of this section shall be done by contract with an independent agency.~~

(5) The department may, subject to available funds, contract with other governmental agencies to conduct the reviews under this section. The department may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

(6) In addition to the review required under this section, the department may periodically determine and redetermine the medical necessity of treatment for purposes of payment with public funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, minors in inpatient mental health treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the minor has been assessed by the department or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the minor. Payment for such care by the department shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.

PART II-B - VOLUNTARY MENTAL HEALTH OUTPATIENT TREATMENT

Sec. 11. RCW 71.34.030 and 1995 c 312 s 52 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((4))~~ Any minor thirteen years or older may request and receive outpatient treatment without the consent of the minor's parent. Parental authorization is required for outpatient treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

~~((2) When in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility in accordance with the following requirements:~~

~~(a) A minor may be voluntarily admitted by application of the parent. The consent of the minor is not required for the minor to be evaluated and admitted as appropriate.~~

~~(b) A minor thirteen years or older may, with the concurrence of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, admit himself or herself without parental consent to the evaluation and treatment facility, provided that notice is given by the facility to the minor's parent in accordance with the following requirements:~~

~~(i) Notice of the minor's admission shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent that the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent.~~

~~(ii) The minor shall be released to the parent at the parent's request for release unless the facility files a petition with the superior court of the county in which treatment is being provided setting forth the basis for the facility's belief that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety.~~

~~(iii) The petition shall be signed by the professional person in charge of the facility or that person's designee.~~

~~(iv) The parent may apply to the court for separate counsel to represent the parent if the parent cannot afford counsel.~~

~~(v) There shall be a hearing on the petition, which shall be held within three judicial days from the filing of the petition.~~

~~(vi) The hearing shall be conducted by a judge, court commissioner, or licensed attorney designated by the superior court as a hearing officer for such hearing. The hearing may be held at the treatment facility.~~

~~(vii) At such hearing, the facility must demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence presented at the hearing that the minor is in need of inpatient treatment and that release would~~

~~constitute a threat to the minor's health or safety. The hearing shall not be conducted using the rules of evidence, and the admission or exclusion of evidence sought to be presented shall be within the exercise of sound discretion by the judicial officer conducting the hearing.~~

~~(c) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant no less than once every twelve months.~~

~~(d) The minor's need for continued inpatient treatments shall be reviewed and documented no less than every one hundred eighty days.~~

~~(3) A notice of intent to leave shall result in the following:~~

~~(a) Any minor under the age of thirteen must be discharged immediately upon written request of the parent.~~

~~(b) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.~~

~~(c) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county designated mental health professional, and the parent.~~

~~(d) The professional person in charge of the evaluation and treatment facility shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility within twenty four hours after receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave, unless the county designated mental health professional or a parent or legal guardian files a petition or an application for initial detention within the time prescribed by this chapter.~~

~~(4) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified evaluation and treatment program for the involuntary admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.)~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. For the purpose of gathering information related to parental notification of outpatient mental health treatment of minors, the department of health shall conduct a survey of providers of outpatient treatment, as defined in chapter 71.34 RCW. The survey shall gather information from a statistically valid sample of providers. In accordance with confidentiality statutes and the physician-patient privilege, the survey shall secure information from the providers related to:

- (1) The number of minors receiving outpatient treatment;
- (2) The number of parents of minors in treatment notified of the minor's treatment;
- (3) The average number of outpatient visits prior to parental notification;
- (4) The average number of treatments with parental notification;
- (5) The average number of treatments without parental notification;
- (6) The percentage of minors in treatment who are prescribed medication;
- (7) The medication prescribed;
- (8) The number of patients terminating treatment due to parental notification; and
- (9) Any other pertinent information.

The department shall submit the survey results to the governor and the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1998.

This section expires June 1, 1999.

PART II-C - VOLUNTARY MENTAL HEALTH INPATIENT TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A minor thirteen years or older may admit himself or herself to an evaluation and treatment facility for inpatient mental treatment, without parental consent. The admission shall occur only if the professional person in charge of the facility concurs with the need for inpatient treatment.

(2) When, in the judgment of the professional person in charge of an evaluation and treatment facility, there is reason to believe that a minor is in need of inpatient treatment because of a mental disorder, and the facility provides the type of evaluation and treatment needed by the minor, and it is not feasible to treat the minor in any less restrictive setting or the minor's home, the minor may be admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility.

(3) Written renewal of voluntary consent must be obtained from the applicant no less than once every twelve months. The minor's need for continued inpatient treatments shall be reviewed and documented no less than every one hundred eighty days.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The administrator of the treatment facility shall provide notice to the parents of a minor when the minor is voluntarily admitted to inpatient treatment under section 13 of this act. The notice shall be in the form most likely to reach the parent within twenty-four hours of the minor's voluntary admission and shall advise the parent: (1) That the minor has been admitted to inpatient treatment; (2) of the location and telephone number of the facility providing such treatment; (3) of the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for inpatient treatment with the parent; and (4) of the medical necessity for admission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any minor thirteen years or older voluntarily admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility under section 13 of this act may give notice of intent to leave at any time. The notice need not follow any specific form so long as it is written and the intent of the minor can be discerned.

(2) The staff member receiving the notice shall date it immediately, record its existence in the minor's clinical record, and send copies of it to the minor's attorney, if any, the county-designated mental health professional, and the parent.

(3) The professional person shall discharge the minor, thirteen years or older, from the facility upon receipt of the minor's notice of intent to leave.

PART II-D - PARENT-INITIATED MENTAL HEALTH TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to an evaluation and treatment facility and request that the professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of inpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for admission, evaluation, and treatment if the parent brings the minor to the facility.

(3) An appropriately trained professional person may evaluate whether the minor has a mental disorder. The evaluation shall be completed within twenty-four hours of the time the minor was brought to the facility, unless the professional person determines that the condition of the minor necessitates additional time for evaluation. In no event shall a minor be held longer than seventy-two hours for evaluation. If, in the judgment of the professional person, it is determined it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive inpatient treatment, the minor may be held for treatment. The facility shall limit treatment to that which the professional person determines is medically necessary to stabilize the minor's condition until the evaluation has been completed. Within twenty-four hours of completion of the evaluation, the professional person shall notify the department if the child is held for treatment and of the date of admission.

(4) No provider is obligated to provide treatment to a minor under the provisions of this section. No provider may admit a minor to treatment under this section unless it is medically necessary.

(5) No minor receiving inpatient treatment under this section may be discharged from the facility based solely on his or her request.

(6) Prior to the review conducted under RCW 71.34.025, the professional person shall notify the minor of his or her right to petition superior court for release from the facility.

(7) For the purposes of this section "professional person" does not include a social worker, unless the social worker is certified under RCW 18.19.110 and appropriately trained and qualified by education and experience, as defined by the department, in psychiatric social work.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a provider of outpatient mental health treatment and request that an appropriately trained professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for evaluation if the parent brings the minor to the provider.

(3) The professional person may evaluate whether the minor has a mental disorder and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(4) Any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under sections 13 or 16 of this act shall be discharged immediately from inpatient treatment upon written request of the parent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

Following the review conducted under RCW 71.34.025, a minor child may petition the superior court for his or her release from the facility. The petition may be filed not sooner than five days following the review. The court shall release the minor unless it finds, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain at the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

If the minor is not released as a result of the petition filed under section 20 of this act, he or she shall be released not later than thirty days following the later of: (1) The date of the department's determination under RCW 71.34.025(2); or (2) the filing of a petition for judicial review under section 20 of this act, unless a professional person or the county designated mental health professional initiates proceedings under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 20. A new section is added to chapter 71.34 RCW to read as follows:

The ability of a parent to bring his or her minor child to a certified evaluation and treatment program for evaluation and treatment does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. The state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available.

PART II-E - CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY

Sec. 21. RCW 70.96A.020 and 1996 c 178 s 23 and 1996 c 133 s 33 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(1) "Alcoholic" means a person who suffers from the disease of alcoholism.

(2) "Alcoholism" means a disease, characterized by a dependency on alcoholic beverages, loss of control over the amount and circumstances of use, symptoms of tolerance, physiological or psychological withdrawal, or both, if use is reduced or discontinued, and impairment of health or disruption of social or economic functioning.

(3) "Approved treatment program" means a discrete program of chemical dependency treatment provided by a treatment program certified by the department of social and health services as meeting standards adopted under this chapter.

(4) "Chemical dependency" means alcoholism or drug addiction, or dependence on alcohol and one or more other psychoactive chemicals, as the context requires.

(5) "Chemical dependency program" means expenditures and activities of the department designed and conducted to prevent or treat alcoholism and other drug addiction, including reasonable administration and overhead.

(6) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(7) "Designated chemical dependency specialist" means a person designated by the county alcoholism and other drug addiction program coordinator designated under RCW 70.96A.310 to perform the commitment duties described in RCW 70.96A.140 and qualified to do so by meeting standards adopted by the department.

(8) "Director" means the person administering the chemical dependency program within the department.

(9) "Drug addict" means a person who suffers from the disease of drug addiction.

(10) "Drug addiction" means a disease characterized by a dependency on psychoactive chemicals, loss of control over the amount and circumstances of use, symptoms of tolerance, physiological or psychological withdrawal, or both, if use is reduced or discontinued, and impairment of health or disruption of social or economic functioning.

(11) "Emergency service patrol" means a patrol established under RCW 70.96A.170.

(12) "Gravely disabled by alcohol or other drugs" means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol or other drugs: (a) Is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety; or (b) manifests severe deterioration in routine functioning evidenced by a repeated and escalating loss of cognition or volitional control over his or her actions and is not receiving care as essential for his or her health or safety.

(13) "Incapacitated by alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals" means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals, has his or her judgment so impaired that he or she is incapable of realizing and making a rational decision with respect to his or her need for treatment and presents a likelihood of serious harm to himself or herself, to any other person, or to property.

(14) "Incompetent person" means a person who has been adjudged incompetent by the superior court.

(15) "Intoxicated person" means a person whose mental or physical functioning is substantially impaired as a result of the use of alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals.

(16) "Licensed physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine or osteopathic medicine and surgery in the state of Washington.

(17) "Likelihood of serious harm" means either: (a) A substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon his or her own person, as evidenced by threats or attempts to commit suicide or inflict physical harm on one's self; (b) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon another, as evidenced by behavior that has caused the harm or that places another person or persons in reasonable fear of sustaining the harm; or (c) a substantial risk that physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon the property of others, as evidenced by behavior that has caused substantial loss or damage to the property of others.

(18) "Medical necessity" for inpatient care of a minor means a requested certified inpatient service that is reasonably calculated to: (a) Diagnose, arrest, or alleviate a chemical dependency; or (b) prevent the worsening of chemical dependency conditions that endanger life or cause suffering and pain, or result in illness or infirmity or threaten to cause or aggravate a handicap, or cause physical deformity or malfunction, and there is no adequate less restrictive alternative available.

(19) "Minor" means a person less than eighteen years of age.

~~((19))~~ (20) "Parent" means the parent or parents who have the legal right to custody of the child. Parent includes custodian or guardian.

~~((20))~~ (21) "Peace officer" means a law enforcement official of a public agency or governmental unit, and includes persons specifically given peace officer powers by any state law, local ordinance, or judicial order of appointment.

~~((21))~~ (22) "Person" means an individual, including a minor.

~~((22))~~ (23) "Professional person in charge" or "professional person" means a physician or chemical dependency counselor as defined in rule by the department, who is empowered by a certified treatment program with authority to make assessment, admission, continuing care, and discharge decisions on behalf of the certified program.

(24) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services.

~~((23))~~ (25) "Treatment" means the broad range of emergency, detoxification, residential, and outpatient services and care, including diagnostic evaluation, chemical dependency education and counseling, medical, psychiatric, psychological, and social service care, vocational rehabilitation and career counseling, which may be extended to alcoholics and other drug addicts and their families, persons incapacitated by alcohol or other psychoactive chemicals, and intoxicated persons.

~~((24))~~ (26) "Treatment program" means an organization, institution, or corporation, public or private, engaged in the care, treatment, or rehabilitation of alcoholics or other drug addicts.

PART II-F - VOLUNTARY CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY OUTPATIENT TREATMENT

Sec. 22. RCW 70.96A.095 and 1996 c 133 s 34 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((4))~~ Any person thirteen years of age or older may give consent for himself or herself to the furnishing of outpatient treatment by a chemical dependency treatment program certified by the department. ~~((Consent of the parent of a person less than eighteen years of age for inpatient treatment is necessary to authorize the care unless the child meets the definition of a child in need of services in RCW 13.32A.030(4)(c), as determined by the department.))~~ Parental authorization is required for any treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen. ~~((The parent of a minor is not liable for payment of care for such persons pursuant to this chapter, unless they have joined in the consent to the treatment.))~~

~~(2) The parent of any minor child may apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child for purposes authorized in this chapter. The consent of the minor child shall not be required for the application or admission. The certified treatment program shall accept the application and evaluate the child for admission. The ability of a parent to apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.~~

~~(3) Any provider of outpatient treatment who provides outpatient treatment to a minor thirteen years of age or older shall provide notice of the minor's request for treatment to the minor's parents if: (a) The minor signs a written consent authorizing the disclosure; or (b) the treatment program director determines that the minor lacks capacity to make a rational choice regarding consenting to disclosure. The notice shall be made within seven days of the request for treatment, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and shall contain the name, location, and telephone number of the facility providing treatment, and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for treatment with the parent.)~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 23. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Any provider of outpatient treatment who provides outpatient treatment to a minor thirteen years of age or older shall provide notice of the minor's request for treatment to the minor's parents if: (1) The minor signs a written consent authorizing the disclosure; or (2) the treatment program director determines that the minor lacks capacity to make a rational choice regarding consenting to disclosure. The notice shall be made within seven days of the request for treatment, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, and shall contain the name, location, and telephone number of the facility providing treatment, and the name of a professional person on the staff of the facility providing treatment who is designated to discuss the minor's need for treatment with the parent.

PART II-G - VOLUNTARY CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY INPATIENT TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 24. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Parental consent is required for inpatient chemical dependency treatment of a minor, unless the child meets the definition of a child in need of services in RCW 13.32A.030(4)(c) as determined by the department: PROVIDED, That parental consent is required for any treatment of a minor under the age of thirteen.

This section does not apply to petitions filed under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) The parent of a minor is not liable for payment of inpatient or outpatient chemical dependency treatment unless the parent has joined in the consent to the treatment.

(2) The ability of a parent to apply to a certified treatment program for the admission of his or her minor child does not create a right to obtain or benefit from any funds or resources of the state. However, the state may provide services for indigent minors to the extent that funds are available therefor.

PART II-H - PARENT-INITIATED CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY TREATMENT

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a certified treatment program and request that a chemical dependency assessment be conducted by a professional person to determine whether the minor is chemically dependent and in need of inpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for admission, evaluation, and treatment if the parent brings the minor to the program.

(3) An appropriately trained professional person may evaluate whether the minor is chemically dependent. The evaluation shall be completed within twenty-four hours of the time the minor was brought to the program, unless the professional person determines that the condition of the minor necessitates additional time for evaluation. In no event shall a minor be held longer than seventy-two hours for evaluation. If, in the judgment of the professional person, it is determined it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive inpatient treatment, the minor may be held for treatment. The facility shall limit treatment to that which the professional person determines is medically necessary to stabilize the minor's condition until the evaluation has been completed. Within twenty-four hours of completion of the evaluation, the professional person shall notify the department if the child is held for treatment and of the date of admission.

(4) No provider is obligated to provide treatment to a minor under the provisions of this section. No provider may admit a minor to treatment under this section unless it is medically necessary.

(5) No minor receiving inpatient treatment under this section may be discharged from the program based solely on his or her request.

Sec. 27. RCW 70.96A.097 and 1995 c 312 s 48 are each amended to read as follows:

~~(1) ((The admission of any child under RCW 70.96A.095 may be reviewed by the county-designated chemical dependency specialist between fifteen and thirty days following admission. The county-designated chemical dependency specialist may undertake the review on his or her own initiative and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of the review.~~

~~(2)) The department shall ensure that, for any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 28 of this act, a review is conducted ((no later than sixty days)) by a physician or chemical dependency counselor, as defined in rule by the department, who is employed by the department or an agency under contract with the department and who neither has a financial interest in continued inpatient treatment of the minor nor is affiliated with the program providing the treatment. The physician or chemical dependency counselor shall conduct the review not less than seven nor more than fourteen days following ((admission)) the date the minor was brought to the facility under section 28(1) of this act to determine whether it is ((medically appropriate)) a medical necessity to continue the ((child's)) minor's treatment on an inpatient basis. ((The department may, subject to available funds, contract with a county for the conduct of the review conducted under this subsection and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.~~

~~If the county-designated chemical dependency specialist determines that continued inpatient treatment of the child is no longer medically appropriate, the specialist shall notify the facility, the~~

~~child, the child's parents, and the department of the finding within twenty four hours of the determination.~~

~~(3) For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, children in inpatient mental health or chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the child has been assessed by the department of social and health services or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out of home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the child's parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the child. Payment for such care by the department of social and health services shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.)~~

(2) In making a determination under subsection (1) of this section whether it is a medical necessity to release the minor from inpatient treatment, the department shall consider the opinion of the treatment provider, the safety of the minor, the likelihood the minor's chemical dependency recovery will deteriorate if released from inpatient treatment, and the wishes of the parent.

(3) If, after any review conducted by the department under this section, the department determines it is no longer a medical necessity for a minor to receive inpatient treatment, the department shall immediately notify the parents and the professional person in charge. The professional person in charge shall release the minor to the parents within twenty-four hours of receiving notice. If the professional person in charge and the parent believe that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain in inpatient treatment, the minor shall be released to the parent on the second judicial day following the department's determination in order to allow the parent time to file an at-risk youth petition under chapter 13.32A RCW. If the department determines it is a medical necessity for the minor to receive outpatient treatment and the minor declines to obtain such treatment, such refusal shall be grounds for the parent to file an at-risk youth petition.

(4) The department may, subject to available funds, contract with other governmental agencies for the conduct of the reviews conducted under this section and may seek reimbursement from the parents, their insurance, or medicaid for the expense of any review conducted by an agency under contract.

(5) In addition to the review required under this section, the department may periodically determine and redetermine the medical necessity of treatment for purposes of payment with public funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

(1) A parent may bring, or authorize the bringing of, his or her minor child to a provider of outpatient chemical dependency treatment and request that an appropriately trained professional person examine the minor to determine whether the minor has a chemical dependency and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(2) The consent of the minor is not required for evaluation if the parent brings the minor to the provider.

(3) The professional person in charge of the program may evaluate whether the minor has a chemical dependency and is in need of outpatient treatment.

(4) Any minor admitted to inpatient treatment under section 28 of this act shall be discharged immediately from inpatient treatment upon written request of the parent.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

Following the review conducted under RCW 70.96A.097, a minor child may petition the superior court for his or her release from the facility. The petition may be filed not sooner than five days following the review. The court shall release the minor unless it finds, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that it is a medical necessity for the minor to remain at the facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

If the minor is not released as a result of the petition filed under section 31 of this act, he or she shall be released not later than thirty days following the later of: (1) The date of the department's determination under RCW 70.96A.097(2); or (2) the filing of a petition for judicial review under section 31 of this act, unless a professional person or the designated chemical dependency specialist initiates proceedings under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 31. A new section is added to chapter 70.96A RCW to read as follows:

For purposes of eligibility for medical assistance under chapter 74.09 RCW, minors in inpatient chemical dependency treatment shall be considered to be part of their parent's or legal guardian's household, unless the minor has been assessed by the department or its designee as likely to require such treatment for at least ninety consecutive days, or is in out-of-home care in accordance with chapter 13.34 RCW, or the parents are found to not be exercising responsibility for care and control of the minor. Payment for such care by the department shall be made only in accordance with rules, guidelines, and clinical criteria applicable to inpatient treatment of minors established by the department.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. It is the purpose of sections 28 and 30 of this act to assure the ability of parents to exercise reasonable, compassionate care and control of their minor children when there is a medical necessity for treatment and without the requirement of filing a petition under chapter 70.96A RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. The department of social and health services shall adopt rules defining "appropriately trained professional person" for the purposes of conducting mental health and chemical dependency evaluations under sections 18(3), 19(1), 28(3), and 30(1) of this act.

PART III - MISCELLANEOUS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. The legislature finds that an essential component of the children in need of services, dependency, and truancy laws is the use of juvenile detention. As chapter 7.21 RCW is currently written, courts may not order detention time without a criminal charge being filed. It is the intent of the legislature to avoid the bringing of criminal charges against youth who need the guidance of the court rather than its punishment. The legislature further finds that ordering a child placed in detention is a remedial action, not a punitive one. Since the legislature finds that the state is required to provide instruction to children in detention, use of the courts' contempt powers is an effective means for furthering the education and protection of these children. Thus, it is the intent of the legislature to authorize a limited sanction of time in juvenile detention independent of chapter 7.21 RCW for failure to comply with court orders in truancy, child in need of services, at-risk youth, and dependency cases for the sole purpose of providing the courts with the tools necessary to enforce orders in these limited types of cases because other statutory contempt remedies are inadequate.

Sec. 35. RCW 7.21.030 and 1989 c 373 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court may initiate a proceeding to impose a remedial sanction on its own motion or on the motion of a person aggrieved by a contempt of court in the proceeding to which the contempt is related. Except as provided in RCW 7.21.050, the court, after notice and hearing, may impose a remedial sanction authorized by this chapter.

(2) If the court finds that the person has failed or refused to perform an act that is yet within the person's power to perform, the court may find the person in contempt of court and impose one or more of the following remedial sanctions:

(a) Imprisonment if the contempt of court is of a type defined in RCW 7.21.010(1) (b) through (d). The imprisonment may extend only so long as it serves a coercive purpose.

(b) A forfeiture not to exceed two thousand dollars for each day the contempt of court continues.

(c) An order designed to ensure compliance with a prior order of the court.

(d) Any other remedial sanction other than the sanctions specified in (a) through (c) of this subsection if the court expressly finds that those sanctions would be ineffectual to terminate a continuing contempt of court.

(e) In cases under chapters 13.32A, 13.34, and 28A.225 RCW, commitment to juvenile detention for a period of time not to exceed seven days. This sanction may be imposed in addition to, or as an alternative to, any other remedial sanction authorized by this chapter. This remedy is specifically determined to be a remedial sanction.

(3) The court may, in addition to the remedial sanctions set forth in subsection (2) of this section, order a person found in contempt of court to pay a party for any losses suffered by the party as a result of the contempt and any costs incurred in connection with the contempt proceeding, including reasonable attorney's fees.

Sec. 36. RCW 13.32A.250 and 1996 c 133 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) In all child in need of services proceedings and at-risk youth proceedings, the court shall verbally notify the parents and the child of the possibility of a finding of contempt for failure to comply with the terms of a court order entered pursuant to this chapter. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the court shall treat the parents and the child equally for the purposes of applying contempt of court processes and penalties under this section.

(2) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is a civil contempt of court as provided in (~~chapter 7.21~~) RCW 7.21.030(2)(e), subject to the limitations of subsection (3) of this section.

(3) The court may impose remedial sanctions including a fine of up to one hundred dollars and confinement for up to seven days, or both for contempt of court under this section.

(4) A child placed in confinement for contempt under this section shall be placed in confinement only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(5) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, a child, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order adopted pursuant to this chapter.

(6) Whenever the court finds probable cause to believe, based upon consideration of a motion for contempt and the information set forth in a supporting declaration, that a child has violated a placement order entered under this chapter, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to pick up and take the child to detention. The order may be entered ex parte without prior notice to the child or other parties. Following the child's admission to detention, a detention review hearing must be held in accordance with RCW 13.32A.065.

Sec. 37. RCW 13.34.165 and 1996 c 133 s 29 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Failure by a party to comply with an order entered under this chapter is civil contempt of court as provided in (~~chapter 7.21~~) RCW 7.21.030(2)(e).

(2) The maximum term of imprisonment that may be imposed as a (~~punitive~~) remedial sanction for contempt of court under this section is confinement for up to seven days.

(3) A child imprisoned for contempt under this section shall be confined only in a secure juvenile detention facility operated by or pursuant to a contract with a county.

(4) A motion for contempt may be made by a parent, juvenile court personnel, or by any public agency, organization, or person having custody of the child under a court order entered pursuant to this chapter.

(5) Whenever the court finds probable cause to believe, based upon consideration of a motion for contempt and the information set forth in a supporting declaration, that a child has violated a placement order entered under this chapter, the court may issue an order directing law enforcement to pick up and take the child to detention. The order may be entered ex parte without prior notice to the child or other parties. Following the child's admission to detention, a detention review hearing must be held in accordance with RCW 13.32A.065.

Sec. 38. RCW 28A.225.090 and 1997 c 68 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) A court may order a child subject to a petition under RCW 28A.225.035 to:
- (a) Attend the child's current school;
  - (b) If there is space available and the program can provide educational services appropriate for the child, order the child to attend another public school, an alternative education program, center, a skill center, dropout prevention program, or another public educational program;
  - (c) Attend a private nonsectarian school or program including an education center. Before ordering a child to attend an approved or certified private nonsectarian school or program, the court shall: (i) Consider the public and private programs available; (ii) find that placement is in the best interest of the child; and (iii) find that the private school or program is willing to accept the child and will not charge any fees in addition to those established by contract with the student's school district. If the court orders the child to enroll in a private school or program, the child's school district shall contract with the school or program to provide educational services for the child. The school district shall not be required to contract for a weekly rate that exceeds the state general apportionment dollars calculated on a weekly basis generated by the child and received by the district. A school district shall not be required to enter into a contract that is longer than the remainder of the school year. A school district shall not be required to enter into or continue a contract if the child is no longer enrolled in the district;
  - (d) Be referred to a community truancy board, if available; or
  - (e) Submit to testing for the use of controlled substances or alcohol based on a determination that such testing is appropriate to the circumstances and behavior of the child and will facilitate the child's compliance with the mandatory attendance law.
- (2) If the child fails to comply with the court order, the court may order the child to be punished by detention, as provided in RCW 7.21.030(2)(e), or may impose alternatives to detention such as community service. Failure by a child to comply with an order issued under this subsection shall not be punishable by detention for a period greater than that permitted pursuant to a civil contempt proceeding against a child under chapter 13.32A RCW.
- (3) Any parent violating any of the provisions of either RCW 28A.225.010 or 28A.225.080 shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars for each day of unexcused absence from school. It shall be a defense for a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 to show that he or she exercised reasonable diligence in attempting to cause a child in his or her custody to attend school or that the child's school did not perform its duties as required in RCW 28A.225.020. The court may order the parent to provide community service instead of imposing a fine. Any fine imposed pursuant to this section may be suspended upon the condition that a parent charged with violating RCW 28A.225.010 shall participate with the school and the child in a supervised plan for the child's attendance at school or upon condition that the parent attend a conference or conferences scheduled by a school for the purpose of analyzing the causes of a child's absence.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 39. The legislature finds that predatory individuals, such as drug dealers, sexual marauders, and panderers, provide shelter to at-risk youth as a means of preying upon them. The legislature further finds that at-risk youth are vulnerable to the influence of these individuals. Thus, the legislature finds that it is important to the safety of Washington's youth that they be prevented from coming in contact with these predatory individuals. The legislature further finds that locating runaway children is the first step to preventing individuals from preying on these youth and to achieving family reconciliation. Therefore, the legislature intends to use punitive measures to create a clear disincentive for predatory individuals intending to take advantage of at-risk youth. The legislature further intends that all persons be required to report the location of a runaway minor, but that those individuals who fail to make such a report because they wish to have the minor remain unlocated as a means of preying upon them be punished for their failure to report the child's location.

Sec. 40. RCW 13.32A.080 and 1994 sp.s. c 7 s 507 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) A person commits the crime of unlawful harboring of a minor if the person provides shelter to a minor without the consent of a parent of the minor and after the person knows that the minor is away from the home of the parent, without the parent's permission, and if the person intentionally:

(i) Fails to release the minor to a law enforcement officer after being requested to do so by the officer; or

(ii) Fails to disclose the location of the minor to a law enforcement officer after being requested to do so by the officer, if the person knows the location of the minor and had either taken the minor to that location or had assisted the minor in reaching that location; or

(iii) Obstructs a law enforcement officer from taking the minor into custody; or

(iv) Assists the minor in avoiding or attempting to avoid the custody of the law enforcement officer; or

(v) Engages the child in a crime; or

(iv) Engages in a clear course of conduct that demonstrates an intent to contribute to the delinquency of a minor or the involvement of a minor in a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

(b) It is a defense to a prosecution under this section that the defendant had custody of the minor pursuant to a court order.

(2) Harboring a minor is punishable as a gross misdemeanor.

(3) Any person who provides shelter to a child, absent from home, may notify the department's local community service office of the child's presence.

(4) An adult responsible for involving a child in the commission of an offense may be prosecuted under existing criminal statutes including, but not limited to:

(a) Distribution of a controlled substance to a minor, as defined in RCW 69.50.406;

(b) Promoting prostitution as defined in chapter 9A.88 RCW; and

(c) Complicity of the adult in the crime of a minor, under RCW 9A.08.020.

Sec. 41. RCW 13.32A.082 and 1996 c 133 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person who, without legal authorization, provides shelter to a minor and who knows at the time of providing the shelter that the minor is away from the parent's home, or other lawfully prescribed residence, without the permission of the parent, shall promptly report the location of the child to the parent, the law enforcement agency of the jurisdiction in which the person lives, or the department. The report may be made by telephone or any other reasonable means.

(2) Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this subsection apply throughout this section.

(a) "Shelter" means the person's home or any structure over which the person has any control.

(b) "Promptly report" means to report within eight hours after the person has knowledge that the minor is away from home without parental permission.

(3) When the department receives a report under subsection (1) of this section, it shall make a good faith attempt to notify the parent that a report has been received and offer services designed to resolve the conflict and accomplish a reunification of the family.

(4) A person who does not report a child's location in violation of subsection (1) of this section with the intent to contribute to the delinquency of a minor or engage the child in a crime is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2SSB 6214 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Ways & Means: Revising provisions relating to commitment of mentally ill persons. Reported by Committee on Criminal Justice & Corrections

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. It is the intent of the legislature to: (1) Clarify that it is the nature of a person's current conduct, current mental condition, history, and likelihood of committing future acts that pose a threat to public safety or himself or herself, rather than simple categorization of offenses, that should determine treatment procedures and level; (2) improve and clarify the sharing of information between the mental health and criminal justice systems; and (3) provide additional opportunities for mental health treatment for persons whose conduct threatens himself or herself or threatens public safety and has led to contact with the criminal justice system.

The legislature recognizes that a person can be incompetent to stand trial, but may not be gravely disabled or may not present a likelihood of serious harm. The legislature does not intend to create a presumption that a person who is found incompetent to stand trial is gravely disabled or presents a likelihood of serious harm requiring civil commitment.

Sec. 2. RCW 71.05.010 and 1997 c 112 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter are intended by the legislature:

- (1) To ~~((end))~~ prevent inappropriate, indefinite commitment of mentally disordered persons and to eliminate legal disabilities that arise from such commitment;
- (2) To provide prompt evaluation and timely and appropriate treatment of persons with serious mental disorders;
- (3) To safeguard individual rights;
- (4) To provide continuity of care for persons with serious mental disorders;
- (5) To encourage the full use of all existing agencies, professional personnel, and public funds to prevent duplication of services and unnecessary expenditures;
- (6) To encourage, whenever appropriate, that services be provided within the community;
- (7) To protect the public safety.

Sec. 3. RCW 71.05.020 and 1997 c 112 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Antipsychotic medications(~~(, "also referred to as "neuroleptics,")~~)" means that class of drugs primarily used to treat serious manifestations of mental illness associated with thought disorders ~~((and currently includes phenothiazines, thioxanthenes, butyrophenone, dihydroindolone, and dibenzoxazipine))~~;

(2) "Attending staff" means any person on the staff of a public or private agency having responsibility for the care and treatment of a patient;

(3) "County designated mental health professional" means a mental health professional appointed by the county to perform the duties specified in this chapter;

(4) "Custody" means involuntary detention under the provisions of this chapter or chapter 10.77 RCW, uninterrupted by any period of unconditional release from a facility providing involuntary care and treatment;

~~((4))~~ (5) "Department" means the department of social and health services;

~~((5))~~ (6) "Developmental disabilities professional" means a person who has specialized training and three years of experience in directly treating or working with persons with developmental disabilities and is a psychiatrist, psychologist, or social worker, and such other developmental disabilities professionals as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary;

~~((6))~~ (7) "Developmental disability" means that condition defined in RCW 71A.10.020(2);

~~((7))~~ (8) "Evaluation and treatment facility" means any facility which can provide directly, or by direct arrangement with other public or private agencies, emergency evaluation and treatment, outpatient care, and timely and appropriate inpatient care to persons suffering from a mental disorder, and which is certified as such by the department. A physically separate and separately operated portion of a state hospital may be designated as an evaluation and treatment facility. A facility which is part of, or operated by, the department or any federal agency will not require certification. No correctional institution or facility, or jail, shall be an evaluation and treatment facility within the meaning of this chapter;

~~((8))~~ (9) "Gravely disabled" means a condition in which a person, as a result of a mental disorder: (a) Is in danger of serious physical harm resulting from a failure to provide for his or her essential human needs of health or safety~~((;))~~; or (b) manifests severe deterioration in routine functioning evidenced by repeated and escalating loss of cognitive or volitional control over his or her actions and is not receiving such care as is essential for his or her health or safety;

~~((9))~~ (10) "Habilitative services" means those services provided by program personnel to assist persons in acquiring and maintaining life skills and in raising their levels of physical, mental, social, and vocational functioning. Habilitative services include education, training for employment, and therapy. The habilitative process shall be undertaken with recognition of the risk to the public safety presented by the individual being assisted as manifested by prior charged criminal conduct;

~~((10))~~ (11) "History of one or more violent acts" refers to the period of time ten years prior to the filing of a petition under this chapter, excluding any time spent, but not any violent acts committed, in a mental health facility or in confinement as a result of a criminal conviction;

(12) "Individualized service plan" means a plan prepared by a developmental disabilities professional with other professionals as a team, for an individual with developmental disabilities, which shall state:

- (a) The nature of the person's specific problems, prior charged criminal behavior, and habilitation needs;
- (b) The conditions and strategies necessary to achieve the purposes of habilitation;
- (c) The intermediate and long-range goals of the habilitation program, with a projected timetable for the attainment;
- (d) The rationale for using this plan of habilitation to achieve those intermediate and long-range goals;
- (e) The staff responsible for carrying out the plan;
- (f) Where relevant in light of past criminal behavior and due consideration for public safety, the criteria for proposed movement to less-restrictive settings, criteria for proposed eventual discharge from involuntary confinement, and a projected possible date for discharge from involuntary confinement; and
- (g) The type of residence immediately anticipated for the person and possible future types of residences;

~~((11))~~ (13) "Judicial commitment" means a commitment by a court pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

~~((12))~~ (14) "Likelihood of serious harm" means:

- (a) A substantial risk that: (i) Physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon his or her own person, as evidenced by threats or attempts to commit suicide or inflict physical harm on oneself (~~(, (b) a substantial risk that)~~); (ii) physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon another, as evidenced by behavior which has caused such harm or which places another person or persons in reasonable fear of sustaining such harm (~~(, or (c) a substantial risk that)~~); or (iii) physical harm will be inflicted by an individual upon the property of others, as evidenced by behavior which has caused substantial loss or damage to the property of others; or

~~((13))~~ (b) The individual has threatened the physical safety of another and has a history of one or more violent acts;

(15) "Mental disorder" means any organic, mental, or emotional impairment which has substantial adverse effects on an individual's cognitive or volitional functions;

~~((14))~~ (16) "Mental health professional" means a psychiatrist, psychologist, psychiatric nurse, or social worker, and such other mental health professionals as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

~~((15))~~ (17) "Peace officer" means a law enforcement official of a public agency or governmental unit, and includes persons specifically given peace officer powers by any state law, local ordinance, or judicial order of appointment;

~~((16))~~ (18) "Private agency" means any person, partnership, corporation, or association not defined as a public agency, whether or not financed in whole or in part by public funds, which constitutes an evaluation and treatment facility or private institution, hospital, or sanitarium, which is conducted for, or includes a department or ward conducted for the care and treatment of persons who are mentally ill;

~~((17))~~ (19) "Professional person" (~~shall~~) means a mental health professional (~~(, as above defined,)~~) and shall also mean a physician, registered nurse, and such others as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

~~((18))~~ (20) "Psychiatrist" means a person having a license as a physician and surgeon in this state who has in addition completed three years of graduate training in psychiatry in a program approved by the American medical association or the American osteopathic association and is certified or eligible to be certified by the American board of psychiatry and neurology;

~~((19))~~ (21) "Psychologist" means a person who has been licensed as a psychologist pursuant to chapter 18.83 RCW;

~~((20))~~ (22) "Public agency" means any evaluation and treatment facility or institution, hospital, or sanitarium which is conducted for, or includes a department or ward conducted for, the care and treatment of persons who are mentally ill or deranged, if the agency is operated directly by, federal, state, county, or municipal government, or a combination of such governments;

~~((21))~~ (23) "Resource management services" has the meaning given in chapter 71.24 RCW;

~~((22))~~ (24) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services, or his or her designee;

~~((23))~~ (25) "Social worker" means a person with a master's or further advanced degree from an accredited school of social work or a degree deemed equivalent under rules adopted by the secretary;

(26) "Violent act" means behavior that resulted in homicide, attempted suicide, nonfatal injuries, or substantial damage to property.

Sec. 4. RCW 71.05.030 and 1985 c 354 s 31 are each amended to read as follows:

Persons suffering from a mental disorder may not be involuntarily committed for treatment of such disorder except pursuant to provisions of this chapter, chapter 10.77 RCW (~~or its successor~~), chapter 71.06 RCW, chapter 71.34 RCW, transfer pursuant to RCW 72.68.031 through 72.68.037, or pursuant to court ordered evaluation and treatment not to exceed ninety days pending a criminal trial or sentencing.

Sec. 5. RCW 71.05.035 and 1989 c 420 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((With respect to chapter 420, Laws of 1989,))~~ The legislature finds that among those persons who endanger the safety of others by committing (~~felony~~) crimes are a small number of persons with developmental disabilities. While their conduct is not typical of the vast majority of persons with developmental disabilities who are responsible citizens, for their own welfare and for the safety of others the state may need to exercise control over those few dangerous individuals who are developmentally disabled, have been charged with (~~felony~~) crimes that involve a threat to public safety or security, and have been found either incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity. The legislature finds, however, that the use of civil commitment procedures under chapter 71.05 RCW to effect state control over dangerous developmentally disabled persons has resulted in their commitment to institutions for the mentally ill. The legislature finds that existing programs in mental institutions may be inappropriate for persons who are developmentally disabled because the services provided in mental institutions are oriented to persons with mental illness, a condition not necessarily associated with developmental disabilities. Therefore, the legislature believes that, where appropriate, and subject to available funds, persons with developmental disabilities who have been charged with (~~felony~~) crimes that involve a threat to public safety or security and have been found incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity should receive state services addressing their needs, that such services must be provided in conformance with an individual habilitation plan, and that their initial treatment should be separate and discrete from treatment for persons involved in any other treatment or habilitation program in a manner consistent with the needs of public safety.

Sec. 6. RCW 71.05.050 and 1997 c 112 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to limit the right of any person to apply voluntarily to any public or private agency or practitioner for treatment of a mental disorder, either by direct application or by referral. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall be released immediately upon his or her request. Any person voluntarily admitted for inpatient treatment to any public or private agency shall orally be advised of the right to immediate release and further advised of such rights in writing as are secured to them pursuant to this chapter and their rights of access to attorneys, courts, and other legal redress. Their condition and status shall be reviewed at least once each one hundred eighty days for evaluation as to the need for further treatment and/or possible release, at which time they shall again be advised of their right to release upon request: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That if the professional staff of any public or private agency or hospital regards a person voluntarily admitted who requests release as presenting, as a result of a mental disorder, an imminent likelihood of serious harm, or is gravely disabled, they may detain such person for sufficient time to notify the (~~designated~~) county designated mental health professional of such person's condition to enable (~~such~~) the county designated mental health professional to authorize such person being further held in custody or transported to an evaluation and treatment center pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, which shall in ordinary circumstances be no later than the next judicial day: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if a person is brought to the emergency room of a public or private agency or hospital for observation or treatment, the person refuses voluntary admission, and the professional staff of the public or private agency or hospital regard such person as presenting as a result of a mental disorder an imminent likelihood of serious harm, or as presenting an imminent danger because of grave disability, they may detain such person for sufficient time to notify the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional of such person's condition to enable ~~((such))~~ the county designated mental health professional to authorize such person being further held in custody or transported to an evaluation treatment center pursuant to the conditions in this chapter, but which time shall be no more than six hours from the time the professional staff determine that an evaluation by the county designated mental health professional is necessary.

Sec. 7. RCW 71.05.130 and 1991 c 105 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

In any judicial proceeding for involuntary commitment or detention, or in any proceeding challenging such commitment or detention, the prosecuting attorney for the county in which the proceeding was initiated shall represent the individuals or agencies petitioning for commitment or detention and shall defend all challenges to such commitment or detention: PROVIDED, That ~~((after January 1, 1980,))~~ the attorney general shall represent and provide legal services and advice to state hospitals or institutions with regard to all provisions of and proceedings under this chapter except in proceedings initiated by such hospitals and institutions seeking fourteen day detention.

Sec. 8. RCW 71.05.150 and 1997 c 112 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When a county designated mental health professional ~~((designated by the county))~~ receives information alleging that a person, as a result of a mental disorder: (i) Presents a likelihood of serious harm~~((;))~~; or (ii) is gravely disabled; ~~((such mental health professional))~~ the county designated mental health professional may, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged~~((;))~~ and of the reliability and credibility of ~~((the))~~ any person ~~((or persons, if any,))~~ providing information to initiate detention, ~~((may,))~~ if satisfied that the allegations are true and that the person will not voluntarily seek appropriate treatment, file a petition for initial detention. Before filing the petition, the county designated mental health professional must personally interview the person, unless the person refuses an interview, and determine whether the person will voluntarily receive appropriate evaluation and treatment at an evaluation and treatment facility.

(b) Whenever it appears, by petition for initial detention, to the satisfaction of a judge of the superior court that a person presents, as a result of a mental disorder, a likelihood of serious harm, or is gravely disabled, and that the person has refused or failed to accept appropriate evaluation and treatment voluntarily, the judge may issue an order requiring the person to appear within twenty-four hours after service of the order at a designated evaluation and treatment facility for not more than a seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment period. The order shall state the address of the evaluation and treatment facility to which the person is to report and whether the required seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment services may be delivered on an outpatient or inpatient basis and that if the person named in the order fails to appear at the evaluation and treatment facility at or before the date and time stated in the order, such person may be involuntarily taken into custody for evaluation and treatment. The order shall also designate retained counsel or, if counsel is appointed from a list provided by the court, the name, business address, and telephone number of the attorney appointed to represent the person.

(c) The county designated mental health professional shall then serve or cause to be served on such person, his or her guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the order to appear together with a notice of rights and a petition for initial detention. After service on such person the county designated mental health professional shall file the return of service in court and provide copies of all papers in the court file to the evaluation and treatment facility and the designated attorney. The county designated mental health professional shall notify the court and the prosecuting attorney that a probable cause hearing will be held within seventy-two hours of the date and time of outpatient evaluation or admission to the evaluation and treatment facility. The person shall be permitted to remain in his or her home or other place of his or her choosing prior to the time of evaluation and shall be permitted to be accompanied by one or more of his or her relatives, friends, an attorney, a personal physician, or other professional or religious advisor to the place of evaluation. An attorney accompanying the person to the place of evaluation shall be permitted to be present during the admission evaluation. Any other individual accompanying the person may be present during the admission evaluation. The facility may exclude the individual if his or her presence would present a safety risk, delay the proceedings, or otherwise interfere with the evaluation.

(d) If the person ordered to appear does appear on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility may admit such person as required by RCW 71.05.170 or may provide treatment on an outpatient basis. If the person ordered to appear fails to appear on or before the date and time specified, the evaluation and treatment facility shall immediately notify the county designated mental health professional (~~((designated by the county))~~) who may notify a peace officer to take such person or cause such person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility. Should the county designated mental health professional notify a peace officer authorizing him or her to take a person into custody under the provisions of this subsection, he or she shall file with the court a copy of such authorization and a notice of detention. At the time such person is taken into custody there shall commence to be served on such person, his or her guardian, and conservator, if any, a copy of the original order together with a notice of detention, a notice of rights, and a petition for initial detention.

(2) When a county designated mental health professional (~~((designated by the county))~~) receives information alleging that a person, as the result of a mental disorder, presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm, or is in imminent danger because of being gravely disabled, after investigation and evaluation of the specific facts alleged and of the reliability and credibility of the person or persons providing the information if any, the county designated mental health professional may take such person, or cause by oral or written order such person to be taken into emergency custody in an evaluation and treatment facility for not more than seventy-two hours as described in RCW 71.05.180.

(3) A peace officer may take such person or cause such person to be taken into custody and placed in an evaluation and treatment facility pursuant to subsection (1)(d) of this section.

(4) A peace officer may, without prior notice of the proceedings provided for in subsection (1) of this section, take or cause such person to be taken into custody and immediately delivered to an evaluation and treatment facility or the emergency department of a local hospital:

(a) Only pursuant to subsections (1)(d) and (2) of this section; or

(b) When he or she has reasonable cause to believe that such person is suffering from a mental disorder and presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm or is in imminent danger because of being gravely disabled.

(5) Persons delivered to evaluation and treatment facilities by peace officers pursuant to subsection (4)(b) of this section may be held by the facility for a period of up to twelve hours: PROVIDED, That they are examined by a mental health professional within three hours of their arrival. Within twelve hours of their arrival, the (~~((designated))~~) county designated mental health professional must file a supplemental petition for detention, and commence service on the designated attorney for the detained person.

Sec. 9. RCW 71.05.160 and 1997 c 112 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

Any facility receiving a person pursuant to RCW 71.05.150 shall require a petition for initial detention stating the circumstances under which the person's condition was made known and stating that such officer or person has evidence, as a result of his or her personal observation or investigation, that the actions of the person for which application is made constitute a likelihood of serious harm, or that he or she is gravely disabled, and stating the specific facts known to him or her as a result of his or her personal observation or investigation, upon which he or she bases the belief that such person should be detained for the purposes and under the authority of this chapter.

If a person is involuntarily placed in an evaluation and treatment facility pursuant to RCW 71.05.150, on the next judicial day following the initial detention, the county designated mental health professional (~~((designated by the county))~~) shall file with the court and serve the designated attorney of the detained person the petition or supplemental petition for initial detention, proof of service of notice, and a copy of a notice of emergency detention.

Sec. 10. RCW 71.05.170 and 1997 c 112 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional petitions for detention of a person whose actions constitute a likelihood of serious harm, or who is gravely disabled, the facility providing seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment must immediately accept on a provisional basis the petition and the person. The facility shall then evaluate the person's condition and admit or release such person in accordance with RCW 71.05.210. The facility shall notify in writing the court and the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional of the date and time of the initial detention of each person involuntarily detained in order that a probable cause hearing shall be held no later than seventy-two hours after detention.

The duty of a state hospital to accept persons for evaluation and treatment under this section shall be limited by chapter 71.24 RCW.

Sec. 11. RCW 71.05.200 and 1997 c 112 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any person is detained for evaluation and treatment pursuant to this chapter, both the person and, if possible, a responsible member of his or her immediate family, guardian, or conservator, if any, shall be advised as soon as possible in writing or orally, by the officer or person taking him or her into custody or by personnel of the evaluation and treatment facility where the person is detained that unless the person is released or voluntarily admits himself or herself for treatment within seventy-two hours of the initial detention:

(a) That a judicial hearing in a superior court, either by a judge or court commissioner thereof, shall be held not more than seventy-two hours after the initial detention to determine whether there is probable cause to detain the person after the seventy-two hours have expired for up to an additional fourteen days without further automatic hearing for the reason that the person is a mentally ill person whose mental disorder presents a likelihood of serious harm or that the person is gravely disabled;

(b) That the person has a right to communicate immediately with an attorney; has a right to have an attorney appointed to represent him or her before and at the probable cause hearing if he or she is indigent; and has the right to be told the name and address of the attorney the mental health professional has designated pursuant to this chapter;

(c) That the person has the right to remain silent and that any statement he or she makes may be used against him or her;

(d) That the person has the right to present evidence and to cross-examine witnesses who testify against him or her at the probable cause hearing; and

(e) That the person has the right to refuse psychiatric medications, including antipsychotic medication beginning twenty-four hours prior to the probable cause hearing.

(2) When proceedings are initiated under RCW 71.05.150 (2), (3), or (4)(b), no later than twelve hours after such person is admitted to the evaluation and treatment facility the personnel of the evaluation and treatment facility or the county designated mental health professional shall serve on such person a copy of the petition for initial detention and the name, business address, and phone number of the designated attorney and shall forthwith commence service of a copy of the petition for initial detention on the designated attorney.

(3) The judicial hearing described in subsection (1) of this section is hereby authorized, and shall be held according to the provisions of subsection (1) of this section and rules promulgated by the supreme court.

Sec. 12. RCW 71.05.210 and 1997 c 112 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

Each person involuntarily admitted to an evaluation and treatment facility shall, within twenty-four hours of his or her admission, be examined and evaluated by a licensed physician who may be assisted by a physician assistant according to chapter 18.71A RCW or an advanced registered nurse practitioner according to chapter 18.79 RCW and a mental health professional ~~((as defined in this chapter))~~, and shall receive such treatment and care as his or her condition requires including treatment on an outpatient basis for the period that he or she is detained, except that, beginning twenty-four hours prior to a (~~court proceeding~~) trial or hearing pursuant to RCW 71.05.215, 71.05.240, 71.05.310, 71.05.320, 71.05.340, or 71.05.370, the individual may refuse (~~all but emergency life-saving treatment~~) psychiatric medications, but may not refuse: (1) Any other medication previously prescribed by a person licensed under Title 18 RCW; or (2) emergency lifesaving treatment, and the individual shall be informed at an appropriate time of his or her right (~~to~~) of such refusal (~~of treatment~~). (~~Such~~) The person shall be detained up to seventy-two hours, if, in the opinion of the professional person in charge of the facility, or his or her professional designee, the person presents a likelihood of serious harm, or is gravely disabled. A person who has been detained for seventy-two hours shall no later than the end of such period be released, unless referred for further care on a voluntary basis, or detained pursuant to court order for further treatment as provided in this chapter.

If, after examination and evaluation, the licensed physician and mental health professional determine that the initial needs of the person would be better served by placement in a chemical dependency treatment facility, then the person shall be referred to an approved treatment program defined under RCW 70.96A.020.

An evaluation and treatment center admitting any person pursuant to this chapter whose physical condition reveals the need for hospitalization shall assure that such person is transferred to an appropriate hospital for treatment. Notice of such fact shall be given to the court, the designated attorney, and the (~~designated~~) county designated mental health professional and the court shall order such continuance in proceedings under this chapter as may be necessary, but in no event may this continuance be more than fourteen days.

Sec. 13. RCW 71.05.230 and 1997 c 112 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

A person detained for seventy-two hour evaluation and treatment may be detained for not more than fourteen additional days of involuntary intensive treatment or ninety additional days of a less restrictive alternative to involuntary intensive treatment if the following conditions are met:

(1) The professional staff of the agency or facility providing evaluation services has analyzed the person's condition and finds that the condition is caused by mental disorder and either results in a likelihood of serious harm, or results in the detained person being gravely disabled and are prepared to testify those conditions are met; and

(2) The person has been advised of the need for voluntary treatment and the professional staff of the facility has evidence that he or she has not in good faith volunteered; and

(3) The facility providing intensive treatment is certified to provide such treatment by the department; and

(4) The professional staff of the agency or facility or the county designated mental health professional (~~designated by the county~~) has filed a petition for fourteen day involuntary detention or a ninety day less restrictive alternative with the court. The petition must be signed either by two physicians or by one physician and a mental health professional who have examined the person. If involuntary detention is sought the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm, or is gravely disabled and that there are no less restrictive alternatives to detention in the best interest of such person or others. The petition shall state specifically that less restrictive alternative treatment was considered and specify why treatment less restrictive than detention is not appropriate. If an involuntary less restrictive alternative is sought, the petition shall state facts that support the finding that such person, as a result of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm, or is gravely disabled and shall set forth the less restrictive alternative proposed by the facility; and

(5) A copy of the petition has been served on the detained person, his or her attorney and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, prior to the probable cause hearing; and

(6) The court at the time the petition was filed and before the probable cause hearing has appointed counsel to represent such person if no other counsel has appeared; and

(7) The court has ordered a fourteen day involuntary intensive treatment or a ninety day less restrictive alternative treatment after a probable cause hearing has been held pursuant to RCW 71.05.240; and

(8) At the conclusion of the initial commitment period, the professional staff of the agency or facility or the county designated mental health professional (~~((designated by the county))~~) may petition for an additional period of either ninety days of less restrictive alternative treatment or ninety days of involuntary intensive treatment as provided in RCW 71.05.290; and

(9) If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient treatment is other than the facility providing involuntary treatment, the outpatient facility so designated has agreed to assume such responsibility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

In making a determination of whether there is a likelihood of serious harm in a hearing conducted under RCW 71.05.240 or 71.05.320, the court shall give great weight to whether the person has: (1) A recent history of one or more violent acts; or (2) a recent history of one or more commitments under this chapter or its equivalent provisions under the laws of another state which were based on a likelihood of serious harm. The existence of prior violent acts or commitments under this chapter or its equivalent shall not be the sole basis for determining whether a person presents a likelihood of serious harm.

For the purposes of this section "recent" refers to the period of time not exceeding three years prior to the current hearing.

Sec. 15. RCW 71.05.280 and 1997 c 112 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

At the expiration of the fourteen-day period of intensive treatment, a person may be confined for further treatment pursuant to RCW 71.05.320 if:

(1) Such person after having been taken into custody for evaluation and treatment has threatened, attempted, or inflicted: (a) Physical harm upon the person of another or himself or herself, or substantial damage upon the property of another, and (b) as a result of mental disorder presents a likelihood of serious harm; or

(2) Such person was taken into custody as a result of conduct in which he or she attempted or inflicted physical harm upon the person of another or himself or herself, or substantial damage upon the property of others, and continues to present, as a result of mental disorder, a likelihood of serious harm; or

(3) Such person has been determined to be incompetent and criminal charges have been dismissed pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(~~((3))~~) (4), and has committed acts constituting a felony, and as a result of a mental disorder, presents a substantial likelihood of repeating similar acts. In any proceeding pursuant to this subsection it shall not be necessary to show intent, willfulness, or state of mind as an element of the (~~(felony))~~ crime; or

(4) Such person is gravely disabled.

Sec. 16. RCW 71.05.290 and 1997 c 112 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At any time during a person's fourteen day intensive treatment period, the professional person in charge of a treatment facility or his or her professional designee or the (~~((designated))~~) county designated mental health professional may petition the superior court for an order requiring such person to undergo an additional period of treatment. Such petition must be based on one or more of the grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280.

(2) The petition shall summarize the facts which support the need for further confinement and shall be supported by affidavits signed by two examining physicians, or by one examining physician and examining mental health professional. The affidavits shall describe in detail the behavior of the detained person which supports the petition and shall explain what, if any, less restrictive treatments which are alternatives to detention are available to such person, and shall state the willingness of the affiant to testify to such facts in subsequent judicial proceedings under this chapter.

(3) If a person has been determined to be incompetent pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(~~((3))~~) (4), then the professional person in charge of the treatment facility or his or her professional designee or the county designated mental health professional may directly file a petition for one hundred eighty day treatment under RCW 71.05.280(3). No petition for initial detention or fourteen day detention is required before such a petition may be filed.

Sec. 17. RCW 71.05.300 and 1997 c 112 s 25 are each amended to read as follows:

The petition for ninety day treatment shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court at least three days before expiration of the fourteen-day period of intensive treatment. At the time of filing such petition, the clerk shall set a time for the person to come before the court on the next judicial day after the day of filing unless such appearance is waived by the person's attorney, and the clerk shall notify the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional. The ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional shall immediately notify the person detained, his or her attorney, if any, and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, and the prosecuting attorney, and provide a copy of the petition to such persons as soon as possible.

At the time set for appearance the detained person shall be brought before the court, unless such appearance has been waived and the court shall advise him or her of his or her right to be represented by an attorney and of his or her right to a jury trial. If the detained person is not represented by an attorney, or is indigent or is unwilling to retain an attorney, the court shall immediately appoint an attorney to represent him or her. The court shall, if requested, appoint a reasonably available licensed physician, psychologist, or psychiatrist, designated by the detained person to examine and testify on behalf of the detained person.

The court may, if requested, also appoint a professional person as defined in RCW 71.05.020 to seek less restrictive alternative courses of treatment and to testify on behalf of the detained person. In the case of a developmentally disabled person who has been determined to be incompetent pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(~~((3))~~) (4), then the appointed professional person under this section shall be a developmental disabilities professional.

The court shall also set a date for a full hearing on the petition as provided in RCW 71.05.310.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

(1) If an individual is referred to a county designated mental health professional under RCW 10.77.090(1)(d)(iii)(A), the county designated mental health professional shall examine the individual within forty-eight hours. If the county designated mental health professional determines it is not appropriate to detain the individual or petition for a ninety-day less restrictive alternative under RCW 71.05.230(4), that decision shall be immediately presented to the superior court for hearing. The court shall hold a hearing to consider the decision of the county designated mental health professional not later than the next judicial day. At the hearing the superior court shall review the determination of the county designated mental health professional and determine whether an order should be entered requiring the person to be evaluated at an evaluation and treatment facility. No person referred to an evaluation and treatment facility may be held at the facility longer than seventy-two hours.

(2) If an individual is placed in an evaluation and treatment facility under RCW 10.77.090(1)(d)(iii)(B), a professional person shall evaluate the individual for purposes of determining whether to file a ninety-day inpatient or outpatient petition under chapter 71.05 RCW. Immediately following completion of the evaluation, the professional person shall file a petition or, if the recommendation of the professional person is to release the individual, present his or her recommendation to the court. The superior court shall review the recommendation not later than the next judicial day. For an individual subject to this subsection, the professional person may directly file a petition for ninety-day inpatient or outpatient treatment and no petition for initial detention or fourteen-day detention is required before such a petition may be filed.

(3) If a county designated mental health professional or the professional person and prosecuting attorney or attorney general, as appropriate, stipulate that the individual does not present a likelihood of serious harm or is not gravely disabled, the hearing under this section is not required and the individual, if in custody, shall be released.

(4) The individual shall have the rights specified in RCW 71.05.250.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 19. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

Whenever a county designated mental health professional or professional person is conducting an evaluation under this chapter, consideration shall include all reasonably available information and records regarding: (1) Prior recommendations for evaluation of the need for civil commitments when the recommendation is made pursuant to an evaluation conducted under chapter 10.77 RCW; (2) history of one or more violent acts; (3) prior determinations of incompetency or insanity under chapter 10.77 RCW; and (4) prior commitments under this chapter.

Sec. 20. RCW 71.05.330 and 1997 c 112 s 27 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit the superintendent or professional person in charge of the hospital or facility in which the person is being involuntarily treated from releasing him or her prior to the expiration of the commitment period when, in the opinion of the superintendent or professional person in charge, the person being involuntarily treated no longer presents a likelihood of serious harm.

Whenever the superintendent or professional person in charge of a hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment pursuant to this chapter releases a person prior to the expiration of the period of commitment, the superintendent or professional person in charge shall in writing notify the court which committed the person for treatment.

(2) Before a person committed under grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280(3) or 71.05.320(2)(c) is released under this section, the superintendent or professional person in charge shall in writing notify the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the criminal charges against the committed person were dismissed, of the release date. Notice shall be provided at least thirty days before the release date. Within twenty days after receiving notice, the prosecuting attorney may petition the court in the county in which the person is being involuntarily treated for a hearing to determine whether the person is to be released. The prosecuting attorney shall provide a copy of the petition to the superintendent or professional person in charge of the hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment, the attorney, if any, and the guardian or conservator of the committed person. The court shall conduct a hearing on the petition within ten days of filing the petition. The committed person shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for an involuntary treatment proceeding, except as set forth in this subsection and except that there shall be no right to jury trial. The issue to be determined at the hearing is whether or not the person may be released without substantial danger to other persons, or substantial likelihood of committing ~~(felonious)~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security. If the court disapproves of the release, it may do so only on the basis of substantial evidence. Pursuant to the determination of the court upon the hearing, the committed person shall be released or shall be returned for involuntary treatment subject to release at the end of the period for which he or she was committed, or otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 21. RCW 71.05.340 and 1997 c 112 s 28 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) When, in the opinion of the superintendent or the professional person in charge of the hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment, the committed person can be appropriately served by outpatient treatment prior to or at the expiration of the period of commitment, then such outpatient care may be required as a condition for early release for a period which, when added to the inpatient treatment period, shall not exceed the period of commitment. If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient treatment is other than the facility providing involuntary treatment, the outpatient facility so designated must agree in writing to assume such responsibility. A copy of the conditions for early release shall be given to the patient, the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional in the county in which the patient is to receive outpatient treatment, and to the court of original commitment.

(b) Before a person committed under grounds set forth in RCW 71.05.280(3) or 71.05.320(2)(c) is conditionally released under (a) of this subsection, the superintendent or professional person in charge of the hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment shall in writing notify the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the criminal charges against the committed person were dismissed, of the decision to conditionally release the person. Notice and a copy of the conditions for early release shall be provided at least thirty days before the person is released from inpatient care. Within twenty days after receiving notice, the prosecuting attorney may petition the court in the county that issued the commitment order to hold a hearing to determine whether the person may be conditionally released and the terms of the conditional release. The prosecuting attorney shall provide a copy of the petition to the superintendent or professional person in charge of the hospital or facility providing involuntary treatment, the attorney, if any, and guardian or conservator of the committed person, and the court of original commitment. If the county in which the committed person is to receive outpatient treatment is the same county in which the criminal charges against the committed person were dismissed, then the court shall, upon the motion of the prosecuting attorney, transfer the proceeding to the court in that county. The court shall conduct a hearing on the petition within ten days of the filing of the petition. The committed person shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for an involuntary treatment proceeding, except as set forth in this subsection and except that there shall be no right to jury trial. The issue to be determined at the hearing is whether or not the person may be conditionally released without substantial danger to other persons, or substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security. If the court disapproves of the conditional release, it may do so only on the basis of substantial evidence. Pursuant to the determination of the court upon the hearing, the conditional release of the person shall be approved by the court on the same or modified conditions or the person shall be returned for involuntary treatment on an inpatient basis subject to release at the end of the period for which he or she was committed, or otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient care or the secretary may modify the conditions for continued release when such modification is in the best interest of the person. Notification of such changes shall be sent to all persons receiving a copy of the original conditions.

(3)(a) If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient care, the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional, or the secretary determines that:

(i) A conditionally released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release~~((, that))~~;

(ii) Substantial deterioration in ~~((the))~~ a conditionally released person's functioning has occurred~~((,))~~;

(iii) There is evidence of substantial decompensation with a ~~((high))~~ reasonable probability that the decompensation can be reversed by further inpatient treatment~~((,))~~ or ~~((there is))~~

(iv) The person poses a likelihood of serious harm~~((, then,))~~.

Upon notification by the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient care, or on his or her own motion, the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional or the secretary may order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and taken into custody and temporarily detained in an evaluation and treatment facility in or near the county in which he or she is receiving outpatient treatment.

~~((The))~~ (b) The hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient treatment shall notify the secretary or county designated mental health professional when a conditionally released person fails to adhere to terms and conditions of his or her release or experiences substantial deterioration in his or her condition and, as a result, presents an increased likelihood of serious harm. The county designated mental health professional or secretary shall order the person apprehended and temporarily detained in an evaluation and treatment facility in or near the county in which he or she is receiving outpatient treatment.

(c) A person ~~((shall be))~~ detained under this subsection (3) shall be held until such time, not exceeding five days, as a hearing can be scheduled to determine whether or not the person should be returned to the hospital or facility from which he or she had been conditionally released. The ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional or the secretary may modify or rescind such order at any time prior to commencement of the court hearing.

~~((b))~~ (d) The court that originally ordered commitment shall be notified within two judicial days of a person's detention under the provisions of this section, and the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional or the secretary shall file his or her petition and order of apprehension and detention with the court and serve them upon the person detained. His or her attorney, if any, and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, shall receive a copy of such papers as soon as possible. Such person shall have the same rights with respect to notice, hearing, and counsel as for an involuntary treatment proceeding, except as specifically set forth in this section and except that there shall be no right to jury trial. The issues to be determined shall be: (i) Whether the conditionally released person did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release; (ii) that substantial deterioration in the person's functioning has occurred; (iii) there is evidence of substantial decompensation with a ~~((high))~~ reasonable probability that the decompensation can be reversed by further inpatient treatment; or (iv) there is a likelihood of serious harm; and, if any of the conditions listed in this subsection (3)~~((b))~~ (d) have occurred, whether the conditions of release should be modified or the person should be returned to the facility.

~~((e))~~ (e) Pursuant to the determination of the court upon such hearing, the conditionally released person shall either continue to be conditionally released on the same or modified conditions or shall be returned for involuntary treatment on an inpatient basis subject to release at the end of the period for which he or she was committed for involuntary treatment, or otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Such hearing may be waived by the person and his or her counsel and his or her guardian or conservator, if any, but shall not be waivable unless all such persons agree to waive, and upon such waiver the person may be returned for involuntary treatment or continued on conditional release on the same or modified conditions.

(4) The proceedings set forth in subsection (3) of this section may be initiated by the ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional or the secretary on the same basis set forth therein without requiring or ordering the apprehension and detention of the conditionally released person, in which case the court hearing shall take place in not less than five days from the date of service of the petition upon the conditionally released person.

Upon expiration of the period of commitment, or when the person is released from outpatient care, notice in writing to the court which committed the person for treatment shall be provided.

(5) The grounds and procedures for revocation of less restrictive alternative treatment shall be the same as those set forth in this section for conditional releases.

(6) In the event of a revocation of a conditional release, the subsequent treatment period may be for no longer than the actual period authorized in the original court order.

Sec. 22. RCW 71.05.390 and 1993 c 448 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as provided in this section, the fact of admission and all information and records compiled, obtained, or maintained in the course of providing services to either voluntary or involuntary recipients of services at public or private agencies shall be confidential.

Information and records may be disclosed only:

(1) In communications between qualified professional persons to meet the requirements of this chapter, in the provision of services or appropriate referrals, or in the course of guardianship proceedings. The consent of the patient, or his or her guardian, shall be obtained before information or records may be disclosed by a professional person employed by a facility unless provided to a professional person~~((, not))~~: (a) Employed by the facility~~((, who does not have the))~~; (b) who has medical responsibility for the patient's care~~((or who is not))~~; (c) who is a ~~((designated))~~ county designated mental health professional ~~((or who is not involved in))~~; (d) who is providing services under ~~((the community mental health services act,))~~ chapter 71.24 RCW; or (e) who is employed by a state or local correctional facility where the person is confined.

(2) When the communications regard the special needs of a patient and the necessary circumstances giving rise to such needs and the disclosure is made by a facility providing outpatient services to the operator of a care facility in which the patient resides.

(3) When the person receiving services, or his or her guardian, designates persons to whom information or records may be released, or if the person is a minor, when his or her parents make such designation.

(4) To the extent necessary for a recipient to make a claim, or for a claim to be made on behalf of a recipient for aid, insurance, or medical assistance to which he or she may be entitled.

(5) For either program evaluation or research, or both: PROVIDED, That the secretary of social and health services adopts rules for the conduct of the evaluation or research, or both. Such rules shall include, but need not be limited to, the requirement that all evaluators and researchers must sign an oath of confidentiality substantially as follows:

"As a condition of conducting evaluation or research concerning persons who have received services from (fill in the facility, agency, or person) I, . . . . ., agree not to divulge, publish, or otherwise make known to unauthorized persons or the public any information obtained in the course of such evaluation or research regarding persons who have received services such that the person who received such services is identifiable.

I recognize that unauthorized release of confidential information may subject me to civil liability under the provisions of state law.

(6) To the courts as necessary to the administration of this chapter.

(7) To law enforcement officers, public health officers, or personnel of the department of corrections or the indeterminate sentence review board for persons who are the subject of the records and who are committed to the custody of the department of corrections or indeterminate sentence review board which information or records are necessary to carry out the responsibilities of their office. Except for dissemination of information released pursuant to RCW 71.05.425 and 4.24.550, regarding persons committed under this chapter under RCW 71.05.280(3) and 71.05.320(2)(c) after dismissal of a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, the extent of information that may be released is limited as follows:

(a) Only the fact, place, and date of involuntary admission, the fact and date of discharge, and the last known address shall be disclosed upon request; and

(b) The law enforcement and public health officers or personnel of the department of corrections or indeterminate sentence review board shall be obligated to keep such information confidential in accordance with this chapter; and

(c) Additional information shall be disclosed only after giving notice to said person and his or her counsel and upon a showing of clear, cogent and convincing evidence that such information is necessary and that appropriate safeguards for strict confidentiality are and will be maintained. However, in the event the said person has escaped from custody, said notice prior to disclosure is not necessary and that the facility from which the person escaped shall include an evaluation as to whether the person is of danger to persons or property and has a propensity toward violence.

(8) To the attorney of the detained person.

(9) To the prosecuting attorney as necessary to carry out the responsibilities of the office under RCW 71.05.330(2) and 71.05.340(1)(b) and 71.05.335. The prosecutor shall be provided access to records regarding the committed person's treatment and prognosis, medication, behavior problems, and other records relevant to the issue of whether treatment less restrictive than inpatient treatment is in the best interest of the committed person or others. Information shall be disclosed only after giving notice to the committed person and the person's counsel.

(10) To appropriate law enforcement agencies and to a person, when the identity of the person is known to the public or private agency, whose health and safety has been threatened, or who is known to have been repeatedly harassed, by the patient. The person may designate a representative to receive the disclosure. The disclosure shall be made by the professional person in charge of the public or private agency or his or her designee and shall include the dates of admission, discharge, authorized or unauthorized absence from the agency's facility, and only such other information that is pertinent to the threat or harassment. The decision to disclose or not shall not result in civil liability for the agency or its employees so long as the decision was reached in good faith and without gross negligence.

(11) To the persons designated in RCW 71.05.425 for the purposes described in that section.

(12) Civil liability and immunity for the release of information about a particular person who is committed to the department under RCW 71.05.280(3) and 71.05.320(2)(c) after dismissal of a sex offense as defined in RCW 9.94A.030, is governed by RCW 4.24.550.

(13) To a patient's next of kin, guardian, or conservator, if any, in the event of death, as provided in RCW 71.05.400.

(14) To the department of health of the purposes of determining compliance with state or federal licensure, certification, or registration rules or laws. However, the information and records obtained under this subsection are exempt from public inspection and copying pursuant to chapter 42.17 RCW.

The fact of admission, as well as all records, files, evidence, findings, or orders made, prepared, collected, or maintained pursuant to this chapter shall not be admissible as evidence in any legal proceeding outside this chapter without the written consent of the person who was the subject of the proceeding except in a subsequent criminal prosecution of a person committed pursuant to RCW 71.05.280(3) or 71.05.320(2)(c) on charges that were dismissed pursuant to chapter 10.77 RCW due to incompetency to stand trial or in a civil commitment proceeding pursuant to chapter 71.09 RCW. The records and files maintained in any court proceeding pursuant to this chapter shall be confidential and available subsequent to such proceedings only to the person who was the subject of the proceeding or his or her attorney. In addition, the court may order the subsequent release or use of such records or files only upon good cause shown if the court finds that appropriate safeguards for strict confidentiality are and will be maintained.

Sec. 23. RCW 71.05.530 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 142 s 58 are each amended to read as follows:

Evaluation and treatment facilities authorized pursuant to this chapter may be part of the comprehensive community mental health services program conducted in counties pursuant to ~~((the Community Mental Health Services Act,))~~ chapter 71.24 RCW, and may receive funding pursuant to the provisions thereof.

Sec. 24. RCW 71.05.560 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 142 s 61 are each amended to read as follows:

The department ~~((of social and health services))~~ shall adopt such rules ~~((and regulations))~~ as may be necessary to effectuate the intent and purposes of this chapter, which shall include but not be limited to evaluation of the quality of the program and facilities operating pursuant to this chapter, evaluation of the effectiveness and cost effectiveness of such programs and facilities, and procedures and standards for certification and other action relevant to evaluation and treatment facilities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

In any judicial proceeding in which a professional person has made a recommendation regarding whether an individual should be committed for treatment under this chapter, and the court does not follow the recommendation, the court shall enter findings that state with particularity its reasoning, including a finding whether the state met its burden of proof in showing whether the person presents a likelihood of serious harm.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 26. A new section is added to chapter 71.05 RCW to read as follows:

The department shall develop state-wide protocols to be utilized by professional persons and county designated mental health professionals in administration of this chapter and chapter 10.77 RCW. The protocols shall be updated at least every three years. The protocols shall provide uniform development and application of criteria in evaluation and commitment recommendations, of persons who have, or are alleged to have, mental disorders and are subject to this chapter.

The initial protocols shall be developed not later than September 1, 1999. The department shall develop and update the protocols in consultation with representatives of county designated mental health professionals, local government, law enforcement, county and city prosecutors, public defenders, and groups concerned with mental illness. The protocols shall be submitted to the governor and legislature upon adoption by the department.

Sec. 27. RCW 10.77.005 and 1989 c 420 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((With respect to this act,))~~ The legislature finds that among those persons who endanger the safety of others by committing ~~((felony))~~ crimes are a small number of persons with developmental disabilities. While their conduct is not typical of the vast majority of persons with developmental disabilities who are responsible citizens, for their own welfare and for the safety of others the state may need to exercise control over those few dangerous individuals who are developmentally disabled, have been charged with ~~((felony))~~ crimes that involve a threat to public safety or security, and have been found either incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity. The legislature finds, however, that the use of civil commitment procedures under chapter 71.05 RCW to effect state control over dangerous developmentally disabled persons has resulted in their commitment to institutions for the mentally ill. The legislature finds that existing programs in mental institutions may be inappropriate for persons who are developmentally disabled because the services provided in mental institutions are oriented to persons with mental illness, a condition not necessarily associated with developmental disabilities. Therefore, the legislature believes that, where appropriate, and subject to available funds, persons with developmental disabilities who have been charged with ~~((felony))~~ crimes that involve a threat to public safety or security and have been found incompetent to stand trial or not guilty by reason of insanity should receive state services addressing their needs, that such services must be provided in conformance with an individual habilitation plan, and that their initial treatment should be separate and discrete from treatment for persons involved in any other treatment or habilitation program in a manner consistent with the needs of public safety.

Sec. 28. RCW 10.77.010 and 1993 c 31 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) A "criminally insane" person means any person who has been acquitted of a crime charged by reason of insanity, and thereupon found to be a substantial danger to other persons or to present a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

(2) "Indigent" means any person who is financially unable to obtain counsel or other necessary expert or professional services without causing substantial hardship to the person or his or her family.

(3) "Secretary" means the secretary of the department of social and health services or his or her designee.

(4) "Department" means the state department of social and health services.

(5) "Treatment" means any currently standardized medical or mental health procedure including medication.

(6) "Incompetency" means a person lacks the capacity to understand the nature of the proceedings against him or her or to assist in his or her own defense as a result of mental disease or defect.

~~(7) ((No condition of mind proximately induced by the voluntary act of a person charged with a crime shall constitute "insanity".~~

~~(8))~~ (8) "Furlough" means an authorized leave of absence for a resident of a state institution operated by the department designated for the custody, care, and treatment of the criminally insane, consistent with an order of conditional release from the court under this chapter, without any requirement that the resident be accompanied by, or be in the custody of, any law enforcement or institutional staff, while on such unescorted leave.

~~((9))~~ (8) "Developmental disability" means the condition defined in RCW 71A.10.020(2).

~~((10))~~ (9) "Developmental disabilities professional" means a person who has specialized training and three years of experience in directly treating or working with persons with developmental disabilities and is a psychiatrist or psychologist, or a social worker, and such other developmental disabilities professionals as may be defined by rules adopted by the secretary.

~~((11))~~ (10) "Habilitative services" means those services provided by program personnel to assist persons in acquiring and maintaining life skills and in raising their levels of physical, mental, social, and vocational functioning. Habilitative services include education, training for employment, and therapy. The habilitative process shall be undertaken with recognition of the risk to the public safety presented by the individual being assisted as manifested by prior charged criminal conduct.

~~((12) "Psychiatrist" means a person having a license))~~ (11) "Expert or professional person" means:

(a) A psychiatrist licensed as a physician and surgeon in this state who has, in addition, completed three years of graduate training in psychiatry in a program approved by the American medical association or the American osteopathic association and is certified or eligible to be certified by the American board of psychiatry and neurology~~((-~~

~~(13) "Psychologist" means a person who has been~~);

(b) A psychologist licensed as a psychologist pursuant to chapter 18.83 RCW~~((-~~

~~(14) "Social worker" means a person~~); or

(c) A social worker with a master's or further advanced degree from an accredited school of social work or a degree deemed equivalent under rules adopted by the secretary.

~~((45))~~ (12) "Individualized service plan" means a plan prepared by a developmental disabilities professional with other professionals as a team, for an individual with developmental disabilities, which shall state:

- (a) The nature of the person's specific problems, prior charged criminal behavior, and habilitation needs;
- (b) The conditions and strategies necessary to achieve the purposes of habilitation;
- (c) The intermediate and long-range goals of the habilitation program, with a projected timetable for the attainment;
- (d) The rationale for using this plan of habilitation to achieve those intermediate and long-range goals;
- (e) The staff responsible for carrying out the plan;
- (f) Where relevant in light of past criminal behavior and due consideration for public safety, the criteria for proposed movement to less-restrictive settings, criteria for proposed eventual discharge from involuntary confinement, and a projected possible date for discharge from involuntary confinement; and
- (g) The type of residence immediately anticipated for the person and possible future types of residences.

(13) "Violent act" means behavior that: (a)(i) Resulted in; (ii) if completed as intended would have resulted in; or (iii) was threatened to be carried out by a person who had the intent and opportunity to carry out the threat and would have resulted in, homicide, nonfatal injuries, or substantial damage to property; or (b) recklessly creates an immediate risk of serious physical injury to another person.

(14) "County designated mental health professional" has the same meaning as provided in RCW 71.05.020.

(15) "History of one or more violent acts" means violent acts committed during: (a) The ten-year period of time prior to the filing of criminal charges; plus (b) the amount of time equal to time spent during the ten-year period in a mental health facility or in confinement as a result of a criminal conviction.

Sec. 29. RCW 10.77.020 and 1993 c 31 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) At any and all stages of the proceedings pursuant to this chapter, any person subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to the assistance of counsel, and if the person is indigent the court shall appoint counsel to assist him or her. A person may waive his or her right to counsel; but such waiver shall only be effective if a court makes a specific finding that he or she is or was competent to so waive. In making such findings, the court shall be guided but not limited by the following standards: Whether the person attempting to waive the assistance of counsel, does so understanding:

- (a) The nature of the charges;
- (b) The statutory offense included within them;
- (c) The range of allowable punishments thereunder;
- (d) Possible defenses to the charges and circumstances in mitigation thereof; and
- (e) All other facts essential to a broad understanding of the whole matter.

(2) Whenever any person is subjected to an examination pursuant to any provision of this chapter, he or she may retain an expert or professional person to perform an examination in his or her behalf. In the case of a person who is indigent, the court shall upon his or her request assist the person in obtaining an expert or professional person to perform an examination or participate in the hearing on his or her behalf. An expert or professional person obtained by an indigent person pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be compensated for his or her services out of funds of the department, in an amount determined by ~~((4))~~ the secretary to be fair and reasonable.

(3) ~~((Whenever any person has been committed under any provision of this chapter, or ordered to undergo alternative treatment following his or her acquittal of a crime charged by reason of insanity, such commitment or treatment cannot exceed the maximum possible penal sentence for any offense charged for which the person was acquitted by reason of insanity. If at the end of that period~~

~~the person has not been finally discharged and is still in need of commitment or treatment, civil commitment proceedings may be instituted, if appropriate.~~

(4)) Any time the defendant is being examined by court appointed experts or professional persons pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the defendant shall be entitled to have his or her attorney present. The defendant may refuse to answer any question if he or she believes his or her answers may tend to incriminate him or her or form links leading to evidence of an incriminating nature.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. A new section is added to chapter 10.77 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Whenever any person has been: (a) Committed to a correctional facility or inpatient treatment under any provision of this chapter; or (b) ordered to undergo alternative treatment following his or her acquittal by reason of insanity of a crime charged, such commitment or treatment cannot exceed the maximum possible penal sentence for any offense charged for which the person was committed, or was acquitted by reason of insanity.

(2) Whenever any person committed under any provision of this chapter has not been finally discharged within seven days of the maximum possible penal sentence under subsection (1) of this section, and the professional person in charge of the facility believes it more likely than not that the person will not be finally discharged, the professional person shall, prior to the person's release from the facility, notify the appropriate county designated mental health professional of the impending release and provide a copy of all relevant information regarding the person, including the likely release date and shall indicate why final discharge was not made.

(3) A county designated mental health professional who receives notice and records under subsection (2) of this section shall, prior to the date of probable release, determine whether to initiate proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW.

Sec. 31. RCW 10.77.030 and 1974 ex.s. c 198 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Evidence of insanity is not admissible unless the defendant, at the time of arraignment or within ten days thereafter or at such later time as the court may for good cause permit, files a written notice of his or her intent to rely on such a defense.

(2) Insanity is a defense which the defendant must establish by a preponderance of the evidence.

(3) No condition of mind proximately induced by the voluntary act of a person charged with a crime shall constitute insanity.

Sec. 32. RCW 10.77.040 and 1974 ex.s. c 198 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever the issue of insanity is submitted to the jury, the court shall instruct the jury to return a special verdict in substantially the following form:

- answer
yes or no
1. Did the defendant commit the act charged? . . . .
  2. If your answer to number 1 is yes, do you acquit him or her because of insanity existing at the time of the act charged? . . . .
  3. If your answer to number 2 is yes, is the defendant a substantial danger to other persons unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions? . . . .
  4. If your answer to number 2 is yes, does the defendant present a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions? . . . .
  5. If your answers to either number 3 or number 4 is yes, is it in the best interests of the defendant and others that the defendant be placed in treatment that is less restrictive than detention in a state mental hospital? . . . . .

Sec. 33. RCW 10.77.060 and 1989 c 420 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) Whenever a defendant has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, or there is reason to doubt his or her competency, the court on its own motion or on the motion of any party shall either appoint or request the secretary to designate at least two qualified experts or professional persons, one of whom shall be approved by the prosecuting attorney, to examine and report upon the mental condition of the defendant. At least one of the experts or professional persons appointed shall be a developmental disabilities professional if the court is advised by any party that the defendant may be developmentally disabled. For purposes of the examination, the court may order the defendant committed to a hospital or other ~~((suitable))~~ suitably secure public or private mental health facility for a period of time necessary to complete the examination, but not to exceed fifteen days from the time of admission to the facility.

(b) When a defendant is ordered to be committed for inpatient examination under this subsection (1), the court may delay granting bail until the defendant has been evaluated for competency or sanity and appears before the court. Following the evaluation, in determining bail the court shall consider: (i) Recommendations of the expert or professional persons regarding the defendant's competency, sanity, or diminished capacity; (ii) whether the defendant has a recent history of one or more violent acts; (iii) whether the defendant has previously been acquitted by reason of insanity or found incompetent; (iv) whether it is reasonably likely the defendant will fail to appear for a future court hearing; and (v) whether the defendant is a threat to public safety.

(2) The court may direct that a qualified expert or professional person retained by or appointed for the defendant be permitted to witness the examination authorized by subsection (1) of this section, and that the defendant shall have access to all information obtained by the court appointed experts or professional persons. The defendant's expert or professional person shall have the right to file his or her own report following the guidelines of subsection (3) of this section. If the defendant is indigent, the court shall upon the request of the defendant assist him or her in obtaining an expert or professional person.

(3) The report of the examination shall include the following:

- (a) A description of the nature of the examination;
- (b) A diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant;
- (c) If the defendant suffers from a mental disease or defect, or is developmentally disabled, an opinion as to competency;
- (d) If the defendant has indicated his or her intention to rely on the defense of insanity pursuant to RCW 10.77.030, an opinion as to the defendant's sanity at the time of the act;
- (e) When directed by the court, an opinion as to the capacity of the defendant to have a particular state of mind which is an element of the offense charged;
- (f) An opinion as to whether the defendant is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

(4) The secretary may execute such agreements as appropriate and necessary to implement this section.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 34. A new section is added to chapter 10.77 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Whenever a defendant is evaluated under this chapter, a copy of the order requiring the evaluation shall be transmitted to the county designated mental health professional of the county in which the defendant was charged.

(2)(a) When a defendant is evaluated under RCW 10.77.060, the professional person shall make a recommendation to the court whether the defendant should be examined by a county designated mental health professional for purposes of filing a petition under chapter 71.05 RCW whenever the court determines, and enters a finding that, the defendant is charged with: (i) A felony; or (ii) a nonfelony crime and: (A) Is charged with, or has a history of, one or more violent acts; (B) is a threat to public safety; (C) has previously been acquitted by reason of insanity; or (D) has previously been found incompetent pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The facility conducting the evaluation shall provide its report and recommendation to the court in which the criminal proceeding is pending. A copy of the report and recommendation shall be provided to the county designated mental health professional, the prosecuting attorney, the defense attorney, and the professional person at the local correctional facility where the defendant is being held. Upon request, the facility shall also provide copies of any source documents relevant to the evaluation to the county designated mental health professional. The report and recommendation shall be provided not less than twenty-four hours preceding the transfer of the defendant to the correctional facility in the county in which the criminal proceeding is pending.

(c) If the facility concludes, under RCW 10.77.060(3)(f), the person should be kept under further control, an evaluation shall be conducted of such person under chapter 71.05 RCW. The court shall order an evaluation be conducted by the appropriate county designated mental health professional: (i) Prior to release from confinement for such person who is convicted, if sentenced to confinement for twenty-four months or less; (ii) for any person who is acquitted; or (iii) for any person whose charges are dismissed pursuant to RCW 10.77.090(4).

(3) The county designated mental health professional shall provide written notification within twenty-four hours of the results of the determination whether to commence proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW. The notification shall be provided to the persons identified in subsection (2)(b) of this section.

(4) The prosecuting attorney shall provide a copy of the results of any proceedings commenced by the county designated mental health professional under subsection (3) of this section to the facility conducting the evaluation under this chapter.

Sec. 35. RCW 10.77.070 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 117 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

When the defendant wishes to be examined by a qualified expert or professional person of his or her own choice such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the defendant for the purpose of such examination, as well as to all relevant medical and psychological records and reports.

Sec. 36. RCW 10.77.080 and 1974 ex.s. c 198 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

The defendant may move the court for a judgment of acquittal on the grounds of insanity: PROVIDED, That a defendant so acquitted may not later contest the validity of his or her detention on the grounds that he or she did not commit the acts charged. At the hearing upon ~~((said))~~ the motion the defendant shall have the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she was insane at the time of the offense or offenses with which he or she is charged. If the court finds that the defendant should be acquitted by reason of insanity, it shall enter specific findings in substantially the same form as set forth in RCW 10.77.040 ~~((as now or hereafter amended))~~. If the motion is denied, the question may be submitted to the trier of fact in the same manner as other issues of fact.

Sec. 37. RCW 10.77.090 and 1989 c 420 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) If at any time during the pendency of an action and prior to judgment~~((,))~~ the court finds, following a report as provided in RCW 10.77.060, ~~((as now or hereafter amended, that the))~~ a defendant is incompetent~~((,))~~ the court shall order the proceedings against the defendant be stayed~~((,))~~ except as provided in subsection ~~((5))~~ (7) of this section~~((, and,))~~.

(b) If the defendant is charged with a felony and determined to be incompetent, ~~((may))~~ the court shall commit the defendant to the custody of the secretary, who shall place such defendant in an appropriate facility of the department for evaluation and treatment, or the court may alternatively order the defendant to undergo evaluation and treatment at some other facility as determined by the department, or under the guidance and control of ~~((some other))~~ a professional person, until he or she has regained the competency necessary to understand the proceedings against him or her and assist in his or her own defense, but in any event, for no longer than a period of ninety days.

(c) A defendant found incompetent shall be evaluated at the direction of the secretary and a determination made whether the defendant is developmentally disabled. Such evaluation and determination shall be accomplished as soon as possible following the court's placement of the defendant in the custody of the secretary. When appropriate, and subject to available funds, if the defendant is determined to be developmentally disabled, he or she may be placed in a program specifically reserved for the treatment and training of persons with developmental disabilities where the defendant shall have the right to habilitation according to an individualized service plan specifically developed for the particular needs of the defendant. The program shall be separate from programs serving persons involved in any other treatment or habilitation program. The program shall be appropriately secure under the circumstances and shall be administered by developmental disabilities professionals who shall direct the habilitation efforts. The program shall provide an environment affording security appropriate with the charged criminal behavior and necessary to protect the public safety. The department may limit admissions of such persons to this specialized program in order to ensure that expenditures for services do not exceed amounts appropriated by the legislature and allocated by the department for such services. The department may establish admission priorities in the event that the number of eligible persons exceeds the limits set by the department. A copy of the report shall be sent to the facility.

(d)(i) If the defendant is:

(A) Charged with a nonfelony crime and has: (I) A history of one or more violent acts, or a pending charge of one or more violent acts; or (II) been previously acquitted by reason of insanity or been previously found incompetent under this chapter with regard to an alleged offense involving actual, threatened, or attempted physical harm to a person; and

(B) Found by the court to be not competent; then

(C) The court shall order the secretary to place the defendant: (I) At a secure mental health facility in the custody of the department or an agency designated by the department for mental health treatment and restoration of competency. The placement shall not exceed fourteen days in addition to any unused time of the evaluation under RCW 10.77.060. The fourteen-day period shall be considered to include only the time the defendant is actually at the facility and shall be in addition to reasonable time for transport to or from the facility; (II) on conditional release for up to ninety days for mental health treatment and restoration of competency; or (III) any combination of (d)(i)(C)(I) and (II) of this subsection.

(ii) At the end of the mental health treatment and restoration period in (d)(i) of this subsection, or at any time a professional person determines competency has been, or is unlikely to be, restored the defendant shall be returned to court for a hearing. If, after notice and hearing, competency has been restored, the stay entered under (a) of this subsection shall be lifted. If competency has not been restored, the proceedings shall be dismissed. If the court concludes that competency has not been restored, but that further treatment within the time limits established by (d)(i) of this subsection is likely to restore competency, the court may order that treatment for purposes of competency restoration be continued. Such treatment may not extend beyond the combination of time provided for in (d)(i)(C)(I) and (II) of this subsection.

(iii)(A) If the proceedings are dismissed under (d)(ii) of this subsection and the defendant was on conditional release at the time of dismissal, the court shall order the county designated mental health professional within that county to evaluate the defendant pursuant to chapter 71.05 RCW. The evaluation may be conducted in any location chosen by the professional.

(B) If the defendant was in custody and not on conditional release at the time of dismissal, the defendant shall be detained and sent to an evaluation and treatment facility for up to seventy-two hours for evaluation for purposes of filing a petition under chapter 71.05 RCW.

(iv) If at any time during the proceeding the court finds, following notice and hearing, a defendant is not likely to regain competency, the proceedings shall be dismissed and the defendant shall be evaluated as provided in (d)(iii) of this subsection.

(e) If the defendant is charged with a crime that is not a felony and the defendant does not meet the criteria under (d) of this subsection, the court may stay or dismiss proceedings and detain the defendant for sufficient time to allow the county designated mental health professional to evaluate the defendant and consider initial detention proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW. The court must give notice to all parties at least twenty-four hours before the dismissal of any proceeding under this subsection (1)(e), and provide an opportunity for a hearing on whether to dismiss the proceedings.

~~(2) On or before expiration of the initial ninety-day period of commitment under subsection (1)(b) of this section the court shall conduct a hearing, at which it shall determine whether or not the defendant is incompetent. ((If the defendant is charged with a crime which is not a felony, the court may stay or dismiss proceedings and detain the defendant for sufficient time to allow the county mental health professional to evaluate the defendant and commence proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW if appropriate; and subsections (2) and (3) of this section shall not be applicable: PROVIDED, That, upon order of the court, the prosecutor may directly petition for fourteen days of involuntary treatment under chapter 71.05 RCW.~~

~~(2)) (3) If the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that ((the)) a defendant charged with a felony is incompetent, the court shall have the option of extending the order of commitment or alternative treatment for an additional ninety-day period, but it must at the time of extension set a date for a prompt hearing to determine the defendant's competency before the expiration of the second ninety-day period. The defendant, the defendant's attorney, or the prosecutor((, or the judge)) shall have the right to demand that the hearing ((on or before the expiration of the second ninety-day period)) be before a jury. No extension shall be ordered for a second ninety-day period, nor for any subsequent period as provided in subsection ((3)) (4) of this section if the defendant's incompetence has been determined by the secretary to be solely the result of a developmental disability which is such that competence is not reasonably likely to be regained during an extension. ((If no demand is made, the hearing shall be before the court. The court or jury shall determine whether or not the defendant has become competent.~~

~~(3)) (4) For persons charged with a felony, at the hearing upon the expiration of the second ninety-day period or at the end of the first ninety-day period, in the case of a developmentally disabled defendant, if the jury or court((, as the case may be,)) finds that the defendant is incompetent, the charges shall be dismissed without prejudice, and either civil commitment proceedings shall be instituted((, if appropriate,)) or the court shall order the release of the defendant: PROVIDED, That the criminal charges shall not be dismissed if ((at the end of the second ninety-day period, or at the end of the first ninety-day period, in the case of a developmentally disabled defendant,)) the court or jury finds that: (a) The defendant (i) is a substantial danger to other persons((,)); or (ii) presents a substantial likelihood of committing ((felonious)) criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security((,)); and ((that)) (b) there is a substantial probability that the defendant will regain competency within a reasonable period of time. In the event that the court or jury makes such a finding, the court may extend the period of commitment for an additional six months. At the end of ((said)) the six-month period, if the defendant remains incompetent, the charges shall be dismissed without prejudice and either civil commitment proceedings shall be instituted((, if appropriate,)) or the court shall order release of the defendant.~~

~~((4)) (5) If the defendant is referred to the county designated mental health professional for consideration of initial detention proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW pursuant to this chapter, the county designated mental health professional shall provide prompt written notification of the results of the determination whether to commence initial detention proceedings under chapter 71.05 RCW, and whether the person was detained. The notification shall be provided to the court in which the criminal action was pending, the prosecutor, the defense attorney in the criminal action, and the facility that evaluated the defendant for competency.~~

~~(6) The fact that the defendant is unfit to proceed does not preclude any pretrial proceedings which do not require the personal participation of the defendant.~~

~~((5)) (7) A defendant receiving medication for either physical or mental problems shall not be prohibited from standing trial, if the medication either enables the defendant to understand the proceedings against him or her and to assist in his or her own defense, or does not disable him or her from so understanding and assisting in his or her own defense.~~

~~((6)) (8) At or before the conclusion of any commitment period provided for by this section, the facility providing evaluation and treatment shall provide to the court a written report of examination which meets the requirements of RCW 10.77.060(3).~~

Sec. 38. RCW 10.77.110 and 1989 c 420 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If a defendant is acquitted of a ~~((felony))~~ crime by reason of insanity, and it is found that he or she is not a substantial danger to other persons, and does not present a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall direct the defendant's final discharge. If it is found that such defendant is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall order his or her hospitalization, or any appropriate alternative treatment less restrictive than detention in a state mental hospital, pursuant to the terms of this chapter.

(2) If the defendant has been found not guilty by reason of insanity and a substantial danger, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, so as to require treatment then the secretary shall immediately cause the defendant to be evaluated to ascertain if the defendant is developmentally disabled. When appropriate, and subject to available funds, the defendant may be committed to a program specifically reserved for the treatment and training of developmentally disabled persons. A person so committed shall receive habilitation services according to an individualized service plan specifically developed to treat the behavior which was the subject of the criminal proceedings. The treatment program shall be administered by developmental disabilities professionals and others trained specifically in the needs of developmentally disabled persons. The treatment program shall provide physical security to a degree consistent with the finding that the defendant is dangerous and may incorporate varying conditions of security and alternative sites when the dangerousness of any particular defendant makes this necessary. The department may limit admissions to this specialized program in order to ensure that expenditures for services do not exceed amounts appropriated by the legislature and allocated by the department for such services. The department may establish admission priorities in the event that the number of eligible persons exceeds the limits set by the department.

(3) If it is found that such defendant is not a substantial danger to other persons, and does not present a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, but that he or she is in need of control by the court or other persons or institutions, the court shall direct the defendant's conditional release. ~~((If the defendant is acquitted by reason of insanity of a crime which is not a felony, the court shall order the defendant's release or order the defendant's continued custody only for a reasonable time to allow the county designated mental health professional to evaluate the individual and to proceed with civil commitment pursuant to chapter 71.05 RCW, if considered appropriate.))~~

Each person committed to a hospital or other facility or conditionally released pursuant to this chapter shall have a current examination of his or her mental condition made by one or more experts or professional persons at least once every six months. ~~((Said))~~ The person may retain, or if the person is indigent and so requests, the court may appoint a qualified expert or professional person to examine him or her, and such expert or professional person shall have access to all hospital records concerning the person. In the case of a committed or conditionally released person who is developmentally disabled, the expert shall be a developmental disabilities professional. The secretary, upon receipt of the periodic report, shall provide written notice to the court of commitment of compliance with the requirements of this section.

Sec. 40. RCW 10.77.150 and 1993 c 31 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Persons examined pursuant to RCW 10.77.140~~((, as now or hereafter amended,))~~ may make application to the secretary for conditional release. The secretary shall, after considering the reports of experts or professional persons conducting the examination pursuant to RCW 10.77.140, forward to the court of the county which ordered the person's commitment the person's application for conditional release as well as the secretary's recommendations concerning the application and any proposed terms and conditions upon which the secretary reasonably believes the person can be conditionally released. Conditional release may also contemplate partial release for work, training, or educational purposes.

(2) The court of the county which ordered the person's commitment, upon receipt of an application for conditional release with the secretary's recommendation for conditional release, shall within thirty days schedule a hearing. The court may schedule a hearing on applications recommended for disapproval by the secretary. The prosecuting attorney shall represent the state at such hearings and shall have the right to have the patient examined by an expert or professional person of the prosecuting attorney's choice. If the committed person is indigent, and he or she so requests, the court shall appoint a qualified expert or professional person to examine the person on his or her behalf. The issue to be determined at such a hearing is whether or not the person may be released conditionally without substantial danger to other persons, or substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security. The court, after the hearing, shall rule on the secretary's recommendations, and if it disapproves of conditional release, may do so only on the basis of substantial evidence. The court may modify the suggested terms and conditions on which the person is to be conditionally released. Pursuant to the determination of the court after hearing, the committed person shall thereupon be released on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary, or shall be remitted to the custody of the secretary. If the order of conditional release includes a requirement for the committed person to report to a community corrections officer, the order shall also specify that the conditionally released person shall be under the supervision of the secretary of corrections or such person as the secretary of corrections may designate and shall follow explicitly the instructions of the secretary of corrections including reporting as directed to a community corrections officer, remaining within prescribed geographical boundaries, and notifying the community corrections officer prior to making any change in the offender's address or employment.

(3) If the court determines that receiving regular or periodic medication or other medical treatment shall be a condition of the committed person's release, then the court shall require him or her to report to a physician or other medical or mental health practitioner for the medication or treatment. In addition to submitting any report required by RCW 10.77.160, the physician or other medical or mental health practitioner shall immediately upon the released person's failure to appear for the medication or treatment report the failure to the court, to the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the released person was committed, and to the supervising community corrections officer.

(4) Any person, whose application for conditional release has been denied, may reapply after a period of six months from the date of denial.

Sec. 41. RCW 10.77.180 and 1993 c 31 s 9 are each amended to read as follows:

Each person conditionally released pursuant to RCW 10.77.150(~~(, as now or hereafter amended,)~~) shall have his or her case reviewed by the court which conditionally released him or her no later than one year after such release and no later than every two years thereafter, such time to be scheduled by the court. Review may occur in a shorter time or more frequently, if the court, in its discretion, on its own motion, or on motion of the person, the secretary of social and health services, the secretary of corrections, medical or mental health practitioner, or the prosecuting attorney, so determines. The sole question to be determined by the court is whether the person shall continue to be conditionally released. The court in making its determination shall be aided by the periodic reports filed pursuant to RCW 10.77.140(~~(, as now or hereafter amended,)~~) and ~~((RCW))~~ 10.77.160, and the opinions of the secretary ~~((of social and health services))~~ and other experts or professional persons.

Sec. 42. RCW 10.77.190 and 1993 c 31 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person submitting reports pursuant to RCW 10.77.160, the secretary, or the prosecuting attorney may petition the court to, or the court on its own motion may schedule an immediate hearing for the purpose of modifying the terms of conditional release if the petitioner or the court believes the released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her conditional release or is in need of additional care and treatment.

(2) If the prosecuting attorney, the secretary of social and health services, the secretary of corrections, or the court, after examining the report filed with them pursuant to RCW 10.77.160, or based on other information received by them, reasonably believes that a conditionally released person is failing to adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her conditional release the court or secretary of social and health services or the secretary of corrections may order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and taken into custody until such time as a hearing can be scheduled to determine the facts and whether or not the person's conditional release should be revoked or modified. The court shall be notified before the close of the next judicial day of the apprehension. Both the prosecuting attorney and the conditionally released person shall have the right to request an immediate mental examination of the conditionally released person. If the conditionally released person is indigent, the court or secretary of social and health services or the secretary of corrections or their designees shall, upon request, assist him or her in obtaining a qualified expert or professional person to conduct the examination.

(3) If the hospital or facility designated to provide outpatient care determines that a conditionally released person presents a threat to public safety, the hospital or facility shall immediately notify the secretary of social and health services or the secretary of corrections or their designees. The secretary shall order that the conditionally released person be apprehended and taken into custody.

(4) The court, upon receiving notification of the apprehension, shall promptly schedule a hearing. The issue to be determined is whether the conditionally released person did or did not adhere to the terms and conditions of his or her release, or whether the person presents a threat to public safety. Pursuant to the determination of the court upon such hearing, the conditionally released person shall either continue to be conditionally released on the same or modified conditions or his or her conditional release shall be revoked and he or she shall be committed subject to release only in accordance with provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 43. RCW 10.77.200 and 1993 c 31 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon application by the committed or conditionally released person, the secretary shall determine whether or not reasonable grounds exist for final discharge. In making this determination, the secretary may consider the reports filed under RCW 10.77.060, 10.77.110, 10.77.140, and 10.77.160, and other reports and evaluations provided by professionals familiar with the case. If the secretary approves the final discharge he or she then shall authorize ~~((said))~~ the person to petition the court.

(2) The petition shall be served upon the court and the prosecuting attorney. The court, upon receipt of the petition for final discharge, shall within forty-five days order a hearing. Continuance of the hearing date shall only be allowed for good cause shown. The prosecuting attorney shall represent the state, and shall have the right to have the petitioner examined by an expert or professional person of the prosecuting attorney's choice. If the petitioner is indigent, and the person so requests, the court shall appoint a qualified expert or professional person to examine him or her. If the petitioner is developmentally disabled, the examination shall be performed by a developmental disabilities professional. The hearing shall be before a jury if demanded by either the petitioner or the prosecuting attorney. The burden of proof shall be upon the petitioner to show by a preponderance of the evidence that the petitioner no longer presents, as a result of a mental disease or defect, a substantial danger to other persons, or a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

(3) Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the patient from petitioning the court for final discharge or conditional release from the institution in which he or she is committed. The issue to be determined on such proceeding is whether the petitioner, as a result of a mental disease or defect, is a substantial danger to other persons, or presents a substantial likelihood of committing ~~((felonious))~~ criminal acts jeopardizing public safety or security, unless kept under further control by the court or other persons or institutions.

Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit the committed person from petitioning for release by writ of habeas corpus.

Sec. 44. RCW 10.77.210 and 1993 c 31 s 12 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any person involuntarily detained, hospitalized, or committed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall have the right to adequate care and individualized treatment. The person who has custody of the patient or is in charge of treatment shall keep records detailing all medical, expert, and professional care and treatment received by a committed person, and shall keep copies of all reports of periodic examinations of the patient that have been filed with the secretary pursuant to this chapter. Except as provided in RCW 10.77.205 and 4.24.550 regarding the release of information concerning insane offenders who are acquitted of sex offenses and subsequently committed pursuant to this chapter, all records and reports made pursuant to this chapter, shall be made available only upon request, to the committed person, to his or her attorney, to his or her personal physician, to the supervising community corrections officer, to the prosecuting attorney, to the court, to the protection and advocacy agency, or other expert or professional persons who, upon proper showing, demonstrates a need for access to such records. All records and reports made pursuant to this chapter shall also be made available, upon request, to the department of corrections or the indeterminate sentence review board if the person was on parole, probation, or community supervision at the time of detention, hospitalization, or commitment or the person is subsequently convicted for the crime for which he or she was detained, hospitalized, or committed pursuant to this chapter.

(2) All relevant records and reports as defined by the department in rule shall be made available, upon request, to criminal justice agencies as defined in RCW 10.97.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 45. In developing rules under RCW 10.77.210(2), the department shall implement the following legislative intent: Increasing public safety; and making decisions based on a person's current conduct and mental condition rather than the classification of the charges.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 46. A new section is added to chapter 10.77 RCW to read as follows:
A copy of relevant records and reports as defined by the department, in consultation with the department of corrections, made pursuant to this chapter, and including relevant information necessary to meet the requirements of section 34(2) of this act and RCW 10.77.090, shall accompany the defendant upon transfer to a mental health facility or a correctional institution or facility.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 47. A new section is added to chapter 72.10 RCW to read as follows:
The secretary shall, for any person committed to a state correctional facility after the effective date of this section, inquire at the time of commitment whether the person had received outpatient mental health treatment within the two years preceding confinement and the name of the person providing the treatment.

The secretary shall inquire of the treatment provider if he or she wishes to be notified of the release of the person from confinement, for purposes of offering treatment upon the inmate's release. If the treatment provider wishes to be notified of the inmate's release, the secretary shall attempt to provide such notice at least seven days prior to release.

At the time of an inmate's release if the secretary is unable to locate the treatment provider, the secretary shall notify the regional support network in the county the inmate will most likely reside following release.

If the secretary has, prior to the release from the facility, evaluated the inmate and determined he or she requires postrelease mental health treatment, a copy of relevant records and reports relating to the inmate's mental health treatment or status shall be promptly made available to the offender's present or future treatment provider. The secretary shall determine which records and reports are relevant and may provide a summary in lieu of copies of the records.

Sec. 48. RCW 10.97.030 and 1990 c 3 s 128 are each amended to read as follows:

For purposes of this chapter, the definitions of terms in this section shall apply.

(1) "Criminal history record information" means information contained in records collected by criminal justice agencies, other than courts, on individuals, consisting of identifiable descriptions and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, or other formal criminal charges, and any disposition arising therefrom, including acquittals by reason of insanity, dismissals based on lack of competency, sentences, correctional supervision, and release.

The term includes information contained in records maintained by or obtained from criminal justice agencies, other than courts, which records provide individual identification of a person together with any portion of the individual's record of involvement in the criminal justice system as an alleged or convicted offender, except:

(a) Posters, announcements, or lists for identifying or apprehending fugitives or wanted persons;

(b) Original records of entry maintained by criminal justice agencies to the extent that such records are compiled and maintained chronologically and are accessible only on a chronological basis;

(c) Court indices and records of public judicial proceedings, court decisions, and opinions, and information disclosed during public judicial proceedings;

(d) Records of traffic violations which are not punishable by a maximum term of imprisonment of more than ninety days;

(e) Records of any traffic offenses as maintained by the department of licensing for the purpose of regulating the issuance, suspension, revocation, or renewal of drivers' or other operators' licenses and pursuant to RCW 46.52.130 (~~as now existing or hereafter amended~~);

(f) Records of any aviation violations or offenses as maintained by the department of transportation for the purpose of regulating pilots or other aviation operators, and pursuant to RCW 47.68.330 (~~as now existing or hereafter amended~~);

(g) Announcements of executive clemency.

(2) "Nonconviction data" consists of all criminal history record information relating to an incident which has not led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject, and for which proceedings are no longer actively pending. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that proceedings are no longer actively pending if more than one year has elapsed since arrest, citation, or service of warrant and no disposition has been entered.

(3) "Conviction record" means criminal history record information relating to an incident which has led to a conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject.

(4) "Conviction or other disposition adverse to the subject" means any disposition of charges (~~(, except)~~) other than: (a) A decision not to prosecute(~~(,)~~); (b) a dismissal(~~(,)~~); or (c) acquittal (~~(except when the)~~); with the following exceptions, which shall be considered dispositions adverse to the subject: An acquittal (~~(is)~~) due to a finding of not guilty by reason of insanity and a dismissal by reason of incompetency, pursuant to chapter 10.77 RCW(~~and the person was committed pursuant to chapter 10.77 RCW: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That~~); and a dismissal entered after a period of probation, suspension, or deferral of sentence (~~shall be considered a disposition adverse to the subject~~).

(5) "Criminal justice agency" means: (a) A court; or (b) a government agency which performs the administration of criminal justice pursuant to a statute or executive order and which allocates a substantial part of its annual budget to the administration of criminal justice.

(6) "The administration of criminal justice" means performance of any of the following activities: Detection, apprehension, detention, pretrial release, post-trial release, prosecution, adjudication, correctional supervision, or rehabilitation of accused persons or criminal offenders. The term also includes criminal identification activities and the collection, storage, dissemination of criminal history record information, and the compensation of victims of crime.

(7) "Disposition" means the formal conclusion of a criminal proceeding at whatever stage it occurs in the criminal justice system.

(8) "Dissemination" means disclosing criminal history record information or disclosing the absence of criminal history record information to any person or agency outside the agency possessing the information, subject to the following exceptions:

(a) When criminal justice agencies jointly participate in the maintenance of a single record keeping department as an alternative to maintaining separate records, the furnishing of information by that department to personnel of any participating agency is not a dissemination;

(b) The furnishing of information by any criminal justice agency to another for the purpose of processing a matter through the criminal justice system, such as a police department providing information to a prosecutor for use in preparing a charge, is not a dissemination;

(c) The reporting of an event to a record keeping agency for the purpose of maintaining the record is not a dissemination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 49. The code reviser shall alphabetize the definitions in RCW 10.77.010 and correct any references.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 50. The following acts or parts of acts are each repealed:

- (1) RCW 71.05.015 and 1979 ex.s. c 215 s 1; and
- (2) RCW 71.05.080 and 1973 1st ex.s. c 142 s 13.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 51. This act takes effect July 1, 1998, except for sections 18, 34, 37, and 38 of this act, which take effect March 1, 1999.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 52. (1) The Washington state institute for public policy shall conduct an evaluation of this act to determine:

(a) Whether there has been a reduction in recidivism for mentally ill offenders who are felons or who meet the criteria specified in RCW 10.77.090(1)(d) and received mental health services as a result of the provisions of chapters 10.77 and 71.05 RCW.

(b) The number of nonfelony offenders who have been referred to competency restoration under RCW 10.77.090(1)(d)(i)(C) and the percentage of such offenders who have been restored to competency within the allotted time for felons, nonfelony offenders meeting the criteria under RCW 10.77.090(1)(d), and the nonfelony offenders who do not meet this criteria.

(c) Whether the information-sharing provisions of this act are adequate to provide necessary information to the affected parties. The analysis shall include findings as to whether the flow of information is resulting in the efficient usage of the information and whether there are revisions in the flow which would better allow the courts, professional persons, and parties to proceedings to make better use of the information.

(2) The evaluation shall be presented to the legislature on or before November 15, 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 53. RCW 10.77.005 is recodified within chapter 10.77 RCW after RCW 10.77.090.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 54. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

SSB 6217 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Human Services & Corrections: Changing provisions relating to guardians ad litem. Reported by Committee on Law & Justice

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 2.56.030 and 1997 c 41 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
The administrator for the courts shall, under the supervision and direction of the chief justice:

(1) Examine the administrative methods and systems employed in the offices of the judges, clerks, stenographers, and employees of the courts and make recommendations, through the chief justice, for the improvement of the same;

(2) Examine the state of the dockets of the courts and determine the need for assistance by any court;

(3) Make recommendations to the chief justice relating to the assignment of judges where courts are in need of assistance and carry out the direction of the chief justice as to the assignments of judges to counties and districts where the courts are in need of assistance;

(4) Collect and compile statistical and other data and make reports of the business transacted by the courts and transmit the same to the chief justice to the end that proper action may be taken in respect thereto;

(5) Prepare and submit budget estimates of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system and make recommendations in respect thereto;

(6) Collect statistical and other data and make reports relating to the expenditure of public moneys, state and local, for the maintenance and operation of the judicial system and the offices connected therewith;

(7) Obtain reports from clerks of courts in accordance with law or rules adopted by the supreme court of this state on cases and other judicial business in which action has been delayed beyond periods of time specified by law or rules of court and make report thereof to supreme court of this state;

(8) Act as secretary of the judicial conference referred to in RCW 2.56.060;

(9) Submit annually, as of February 1st, to the chief justice, a report of the activities of the administrator's office for the preceding calendar year including activities related to courthouse security;

(10) Administer programs and standards for the training and education of judicial personnel;

(11) Examine the need for new superior court and district judge positions under a weighted caseload analysis that takes into account the time required to hear all the cases in a particular court and the amount of time existing judges have available to hear cases in that court. The results of the weighted caseload analysis shall be reviewed by the board for judicial administration which shall make recommendations to the legislature. It is the intent of the legislature that weighted caseload analysis become the basis for creating additional district court positions, and recommendations should address that objective;

(12) Provide staff to the judicial retirement account plan under chapter 2.14 RCW;

(13) Attend to such other matters as may be assigned by the supreme court of this state;

(14) Within available funds, develop a curriculum for a general understanding of child development, placement, and treatment resources, as well as specific legal skills and knowledge of relevant statutes including chapters 13.32A, 13.34, and 13.40 RCW, cases, court rules, interviewing skills, and special needs of the abused or neglected child. This curriculum shall be completed and made available to all juvenile court judges, court personnel, and service providers and be updated yearly to reflect changes in statutes, court rules, or case law;

(15) Develop, in consultation with the entities set forth in RCW 2.56.150(3), a comprehensive state-wide curriculum, training requirements, and continuing education requirements for persons who act as guardians ad litem under Title 13 or 26 RCW except these requirements do not apply to the attorney general or any prosecuting attorney functioning as the guardian ad litem pursuant to RCW 74.20.310. The curriculum, training requirements, and continuing education requirements shall ~~((be made available July 1, 1997, and))~~ include specialty sections on child development, child sexual abuse, child physical abuse, child neglect, clinical and forensic investigative and interviewing techniques, family reconciliation and mediation services, and relevant statutory and legal requirements. The curriculum, training requirements, and continuing education requirements shall be made available to all superior court judges, court personnel, and all persons who act as guardians ad litem and be updated yearly to reflect changes in statutes, court rules, or case law;

(16) Develop a curriculum for a general understanding of crimes of malicious harassment, as well as specific legal skills and knowledge of RCW 9A.36.080, relevant cases, court rules, and the special needs of malicious harassment victims. This curriculum shall be made available to all superior court and court of appeals judges and to all justices of the supreme court;

(17) Develop, in consultation with the criminal justice training commission and the commissions established under chapters 43.113, 43.115, and 43.117 RCW, a curriculum for a general understanding of ethnic and cultural diversity and its implications for working with youth of color and their families. The curriculum shall be available to all superior court judges and court commissioners assigned to juvenile court, and other court personnel. Ethnic and cultural diversity training shall be provided annually so as to incorporate cultural sensitivity and awareness into the daily operation of juvenile courts state-wide;

(18) Authorize the use of closed circuit television and other electronic equipment in judicial proceedings. The administrator shall promulgate necessary standards and procedures and shall provide technical assistance to courts as required;

(19) Maintain a list of all guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to Titles 11, 13, and 26 RCW, who, pursuant to a founded grievance action, have been removed from the guardian ad litem registry in any superior court within the state; and

(20) Develop a model grievance procedure for use by the superior courts when dealing with complaints against: A guardian ad litem under chapter 11.88, 13.34, or 26.12 RCW; a court-appointed special advocate appointed under chapter 13.34 or 26.12 RCW; or a parenting investigator appointed under chapter 26.12 RCW.

Sec. 2. RCW 11.88.090 and 1996 c 249 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Nothing contained in RCW 11.88.080 through 11.88.120, 11.92.010 through 11.92.040, 11.92.060 through 11.92.120, 11.92.170, and 11.92.180 shall affect or impair the power of any court to appoint a guardian ad litem to defend the interests of any incapacitated person interested in any suit or matter pending therein, or to commence and prosecute any suit in his or her behalf.

(2) Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian, except as provided herein, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the alleged incapacitated person, who shall be a person found or known by the court to:

(a) Be free of influence from anyone interested in the result of the proceeding; and

(b) Have the requisite knowledge, training, or expertise to perform the duties required by this section.

The guardian ad litem shall within five days of receipt of notice of appointment file with the court and serve, either personally or by certified mail with return receipt, each party with a statement including: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment; his or her hourly rate, if compensated; whether the guardian ad litem has had any contact with a party to the proceeding prior to his or her appointment; and whether he or she has an apparent conflict of interest. Within three days of the later of the actual service or filing of the guardian ad litem's statement, any party may set a hearing and file and serve a motion for an order to show cause why the guardian ad litem should not be removed for one of the following three reasons: (i) Lack of expertise necessary for the proceeding; (ii) an hourly rate higher than what is reasonable for the particular proceeding; or (iii) a conflict of interest. Notice of the hearing shall be provided to the guardian ad litem and all parties. If, after a hearing, the court enters an order replacing the guardian ad litem, findings shall be included, expressly stating the reasons for the removal. If the guardian ad litem is not removed, the court has the authority to assess to the moving party, attorneys' fees and costs related to the motion. The court shall assess attorneys' fees and costs for frivolous motions.

No guardian ad litem need be appointed when a parent is petitioning for a guardian or a limited guardian to be appointed for his or her minor child and the minority of the child, as defined by RCW 11.92.010, is the sole basis of the petition. The order appointing the guardian ad litem shall recite the duties set forth in subsection (4) of this section. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged incapacitated person and shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged incapacitated person.

(3)(a) The superior court of each county shall develop and maintain a registry of persons who are willing and qualified to serve as guardians ad litem in guardianship matters. The court shall choose as guardian ad litem a person whose name appears on the registry in a system of consistent rotation, except in extraordinary circumstances such as the need for particular expertise. The court shall develop procedures for periodic review of the persons on the registry and for probation, suspension, or removal of persons on the registry for failure to perform properly their duties as guardian ad litem. In the event the court does not select the person next on the list, it shall include in the order of appointment a written reason for its decision.

(b) To be eligible for the registry a person shall:

(i) Present a written statement outlining his or her background and qualifications. The background statement shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

(A) Level of formal education;

(B) Training related to the guardian ad litem's duties;

(C) Number of years' experience as a guardian ad litem;

(D) Number of appointments as a guardian ad litem and the county or counties of appointment;

(E) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030; and

(F) Evidence of the person's knowledge, training, and experience in each of the following: Needs of impaired elderly people, physical disabilities, mental illness, developmental disabilities, and other areas relevant to the needs of incapacitated persons, legal procedure, and the requirements of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW.

The written statement of qualifications shall include ~~((a statement of the number of times the guardian ad litem has been removed for failure to perform his or her duties as guardian ad litem))~~ the names of any counties in which the person, pursuant to a founded grievance, was removed from a pending case or a guardian ad litem registry; and

(ii) Complete the ~~((model))~~ training ((program)) and continuing educational requirements as described in (d) of this subsection. The training and continuing education requirements are not applicable to guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to court rule solely for the limited purpose of assessing a personal injury settlement.

(c) The background and qualification information shall be updated annually.

(d) The department of social and health services shall convene an advisory group to develop a model guardian ad litem training program and establish training and continuing educational requirements. The department, in consultation with the advisory group, shall update the model training program biennially. The advisory group shall consist of representatives from consumer, advocacy, and professional groups knowledgeable in developmental disabilities, neurological impairment, physical disabilities, mental illness, aging, legal, court administration, the Washington state bar association, and other interested parties.

(e) The superior court shall require ~~((utilization of the model program developed by the advisory group as))~~ that any guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this chapter comply with the training and continuing education requirements described in (d) of this subsection, ((to assure that candidates applying for registration as a qualified guardian ad litem shall have satisfactorily completed training to attain these essential minimum qualifications to act as guardian ad litem)) unless the guardian ad litem is appointed solely for the limited purposes of assessing a personal injury settlement.

(4) The guardian ad litem appointed pursuant to this section shall have the following duties:

(a) To meet and consult with the alleged incapacitated person as soon as practicable following appointment and explain, in language which such person can reasonably be expected to understand, the substance of the petition, the nature of the resultant proceedings, the person's right to contest the petition, the identification of the proposed guardian or limited guardian, the right to a jury trial on the issue of his or her alleged incapacity, the right to independent legal counsel as provided by RCW 11.88.045, and the right to be present in court at the hearing on the petition;

(b) To obtain a written report according to RCW 11.88.045; and such other written or oral reports from other qualified professionals as are necessary to permit the guardian ad litem to complete the report required by this section;

(c) To meet with the person whose appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian and ascertain:

(i) The proposed guardian's knowledge of the duties, requirements, and limitations of a guardian; and

(ii) The steps the proposed guardian intends to take or has taken to identify and meet the needs of the alleged incapacitated person;

(d) To consult as necessary to complete the investigation and report required by this section with those known relatives, friends, or other persons the guardian ad litem determines have had a significant, continuing interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person;

(e) To investigate alternate arrangements made, or which might be created, by or on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person, such as revocable or irrevocable trusts, or durable powers of attorney, or blocked accounts in cases of personal injury settlements; whether good cause exists for any such arrangements to be discontinued; and why such arrangements should not be continued or created in lieu of a guardianship;

(f) To provide the court with a written report which shall include the following:

(i) A description of the nature, cause, and degree of incapacity, and the basis upon which this judgment was made;

(ii) A description of the needs of the incapacitated person for care and treatment, the probable residential requirements of the alleged incapacitated person and the basis upon which these findings were made;

(iii) An evaluation of the appropriateness of the guardian or limited guardian whose appointment is sought and a description of the steps the proposed guardian has taken or intends to take to identify and meet current and emerging needs of the incapacitated person;

(iv) A description of any alternative arrangements previously made by the alleged incapacitated person or which could be made, and whether and to what extent such alternatives should be used in lieu of a guardianship, and if the guardian ad litem is recommending discontinuation of any such arrangements, specific findings as to why such arrangements are contrary to the best interest of the alleged incapacitated person;

(v) A description of the abilities of the alleged incapacitated person and a recommendation as to whether a guardian or limited guardian should be appointed. If appointment of a limited guardian is recommended, the guardian ad litem shall recommend the specific areas of authority the limited guardian should have and the limitations and disabilities to be placed on the incapacitated person;

(vi) An evaluation of the person's mental ability to rationally exercise the right to vote and the basis upon which the evaluation is made;

(vii) Any expression of approval or disapproval made by the alleged incapacitated person concerning the proposed guardian or limited guardian or guardianship or limited guardianship;

(viii) Identification of persons with significant interest in the welfare of the alleged incapacitated person who should be advised of their right to request special notice of proceedings pursuant to RCW 11.92.150; ~~(and)~~

(ix) Unless independent counsel has appeared for the alleged incapacitated person, an explanation of how the alleged incapacitated person responded to the advice of the right to jury trial, to independent counsel and to be present at the hearing on the petition; and

(x) In cases of personal injury settlements, information relevant to the court's analysis of the offered settlement. The information relevant to the court's analysis may be specified by local court rule, and need not include information specified in subsection (4)(f)(i) through (ix) of this section.

Within forty-five days after notice of commencement of the guardianship proceeding has been served upon the guardian ad litem, and at least fifteen days before the hearing on the petition, unless an extension or reduction of time has been granted by the court for good cause, the guardian ad litem shall file its report and send a copy to the alleged incapacitated person and his or her counsel, spouse, all children not residing with a notified person, those persons described in (f)(viii) of this subsection, and persons who have filed a request for special notice pursuant to RCW 11.92.150. If the guardian ad litem needs additional time to finalize his or her report, then the guardian ad litem shall petition the court for a postponement of the hearing or, with the consent of all other parties, an extension or reduction of time for filing the report. If the hearing does not occur within sixty days of filing the petition, then upon the two-month anniversary of filing the petition and on or before the same day of each following month until the hearing, the guardian ad litem shall file interim reports summarizing his or her activities on the proceeding during that time period as well as fees and costs incurred;

(g) To advise the court of the need for appointment of counsel for the alleged incapacitated person within five court days after the meeting described in (a) of this subsection unless (i) counsel has appeared, (ii) the alleged incapacitated person affirmatively communicated a wish not to be represented by counsel after being advised of the right to representation and of the conditions under which court-provided counsel may be available, or (iii) the alleged incapacitated person was unable to communicate at all on the subject, and the guardian ad litem is satisfied that the alleged incapacitated person does not affirmatively desire to be represented by counsel.

(5) If the petition is brought by an interested person or entity requesting the appointment of some other qualified person or entity and a prospective guardian or limited guardian cannot be found, the court shall order the guardian ad litem to investigate the availability of a possible guardian or limited guardian and to include the findings in a report to the court pursuant to subsection (4)(f) of this section.

(6) The parties to the proceeding may file responses to the guardian ad litem report with the court and deliver such responses to the other parties and the guardian ad litem at any time up to the second day prior to the hearing. If a guardian ad litem fails to file his or her report in a timely manner, the hearing shall be continued to give the court and the parties at least fifteen days before the hearing to review the report. At any time during the proceeding upon motion of any party or on the court's own motion, the court may remove the guardian ad litem for failure to perform his or her duties as specified in this chapter, provided that the guardian ad litem shall have five days' notice of any motion to remove before the court enters such order. In addition, the court in its discretion may reduce a guardian ad litem's fee for failure to carry out his or her duties.

(7) The court appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority, in the event that the alleged incapacitated person is in need of emergency life-saving medical services, and is unable to consent to such medical services due to incapacity pending the hearing on the petition to give consent for such emergency life-saving medical services on behalf of the alleged incapacitated person.

(8) The court-appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority to move for temporary relief under chapter 7.40 RCW to protect the alleged incapacitated person from abuse, neglect, abandonment, or exploitation, as those terms are defined in RCW 74.34.020, or to address any other emergency needs of the alleged incapacitated person. Any alternative arrangement executed before filing the petition for guardianship shall remain effective unless the court grants the relief requested under chapter 7.40 RCW, or unless, following notice and a hearing at which all parties directly affected by the arrangement are present, the court finds that the alternative arrangement should not remain effective.

(9) The guardian ad litem shall receive a fee determined by the court. The fee shall be charged to the alleged incapacitated person unless the court finds that such payment would result in substantial hardship upon such person, in which case the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED, That if no guardian or limited guardian is appointed the court may charge such fee to the petitioner or the alleged incapacitated person, or divide the fee, as it deems just; and if the petition is found to be frivolous or not brought in good faith, the guardian ad litem fee shall be charged to the petitioner. The court shall not be required to provide for the payment of a fee to any salaried employee of a public agency. In cases of personal injury settlements, guardian ad litem fees shall be negotiated among the parties.

(10) Upon the presentation of the guardian ad litem report and the entry of an order either dismissing the petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian or appointing a guardian or limited guardian, the guardian ad litem shall be dismissed and shall have no further duties or obligations unless otherwise ordered by the court. If the court orders the guardian ad litem to perform further duties or obligations, they shall not be performed at county expense.

(11) The guardian ad litem shall appear in person at all hearings on the petition unless all parties provide a written waiver of the requirement to appear.

(12) At any hearing the court may consider whether any person who makes decisions regarding the alleged incapacitated person or estate has breached a statutory or fiduciary duty.

Sec. 3. RCW 13.34.100 and 1996 c 249 s 13 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for a child who is the subject of an action under this chapter, unless a court for good cause finds the appointment unnecessary. The requirement of a guardian ad litem may be deemed satisfied if the child is represented by independent counsel in the proceedings.

(2) If the court does not have available to it a guardian ad litem program with a sufficient number of volunteers, the court may appoint a suitable person to act as guardian ad litem for the child under this chapter. Another party to the proceeding or the party's employee or representative shall not be so appointed.

(3) Each guardian ad litem program shall maintain a background information record for each guardian ad litem in the program. The background file shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

(a) Level of formal education;

(b) Training related to the guardian's duties;

(c) Number of years' experience as a guardian ad litem;

(d) Number of appointments as a guardian ad litem and the county or counties of appointment;

((and))

(e) The name of any counties in which, pursuant to a founded grievance, the person was removed from a pending case or a guardian ad litem registry; and

(f) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

The background information report shall be updated annually. As a condition of appointment, the guardian ad litem's background information record shall be made available to the court. If the appointed guardian ad litem is not a member of a guardian ad litem program the person shall provide the background information to the court.

Upon appointment, the guardian ad litem, or guardian ad litem program, shall provide the parties or their attorneys with a statement containing: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; the name of any counties in which, pursuant to a founded grievance, the person was removed from a pending case or a guardian ad litem registry; and his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment. The background statement shall not include identifying information that may be used to harm a guardian ad litem, such as home addresses and home telephone numbers, and for volunteer guardians ad litem the court may allow the use of maiden names or pseudonyms as necessary for their safety.

(4) The appointment of the guardian ad litem shall remain in effect until the court discharges the appointment or no longer has jurisdiction, whichever comes first. The guardian ad litem may also be discharged upon entry of an order of guardianship.

(5) A guardian ad litem through counsel, or as otherwise authorized by the court, shall have the right to present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and to be present at all hearings. A guardian ad litem shall receive copies of all pleadings and other documents filed or submitted to the court, and notice of all hearings according to court rules. The guardian ad litem shall receive all notice contemplated for a parent or other party in all proceedings under this chapter.

(6) If the child requests legal counsel and is age twelve or older, or if the guardian ad litem or the court determines that the child needs to be independently represented by counsel, the court may appoint an attorney to represent the child's position.

(7) For the purposes of child abuse prevention and treatment act (42 U.S.C. Secs. 5101 et seq.) grants to this state under P.L. 93-247, or any related state or federal legislation, a person appointed pursuant to RCW 13.34.100 shall be deemed a guardian ad litem to represent the best interests of the minor in proceedings before the court.

(8) When a court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem is requested on a case, the program shall give the court the name of the person it recommends and the appointment shall be effective immediately. The court shall appoint the person recommended by the program. If a party in a case reasonably believes the court-appointed special advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified, the party may request a review of the appointment by the program. The program must complete the review within five judicial days and remove any appointee for good cause. If the party seeking the review is not satisfied with the outcome of the review, the party may file a motion with the court for the removal of the court-appointed special advocate on the grounds the advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified.

Sec. 4. RCW 13.34.102 and 1997 c 41 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) All guardians ad litem (~~(, who have not previously served or been trained as a guardian ad litem in this state, who are appointed after January 1, 1998,)~~) must ~~((complete the curriculum developed by the office of the administrator for the courts))~~ comply with the training requirements established under RCW 2.56.030(15), prior to their appointment in cases under Title 13 RCW, except that volunteer guardians ad litem or court-appointed special advocates ((accepted into a volunteer program after January 1, 1998,)) may ((complete an alternative curriculum)) comply with alternative training requirements approved by the office of the administrator for the courts that meet((s)) or exceed((s)) the state-wide ((curriculum)) requirements.

(b) All persons appointed as guardians ad litem or court-appointed special advocates must comply with the continuing education requirements established under RCW 2.56.030(15).

(2)(a) Each guardian ad litem program for compensated guardians ad litem shall establish a rotational registry system for the appointment of guardians ad litem. If a judicial district does not have a program the court shall establish the rotational registry system. Guardians ad litem shall be selected from the registry except in exceptional circumstances as determined and documented by the court. The parties may make a joint recommendation for the appointment of a guardian ad litem from the registry. The court may order the removal of a guardian ad litem from the rotational registry if the court finds that the guardian ad litem charges an unreasonable fee for his or her services.

(b) In judicial districts with a population over one hundred thousand, a list of three names shall be selected from the registry and given to the parties along with the background information as specified in RCW 13.34.100(3), including their hourly rate for services. Each party may, within three judicial days, strike one name from the list. If more than one name remains on the list, the court shall make the appointment from the names on the list. In the event all three names are stricken the person whose name appears next on the registry shall be appointed.

(c) If a party reasonably believes that the appointed guardian ad litem lacks the necessary expertise for the proceeding, charges an hourly rate higher than what is reasonable for the particular proceeding, or has a conflict of interest, the party may, within three judicial days from the appointment, move for substitution of the appointed guardian ad litem by filing a motion with the court.

(d) Upon the motion of any party the court shall, if located in a judicial district with a population over one hundred thousand, remove a compensated guardian ad litem who was not selected from a rotational registry system. This subsection (2)(d) does not apply when the guardian ad litem was appointed: (i) Under exceptional circumstances authorized under (a) of this subsection; or (ii) as a result of a joint recommendation of the parties.

(3) The rotational registry system shall not apply to court-appointed special advocate programs.

Sec. 5. RCW 13.34.105 and 1993 c 241 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Unless otherwise directed by the court, the duties of the guardian ad litem include but are not limited to the following:

(a) To ~~((represent))~~ investigate and ~~((be an))~~ advocate for the best interests of the child;

(b) To collect relevant information about the child's situation;

(c) To monitor all court orders for compliance and to bring to the court's attention any change in circumstances that may require a modification of the court's order; and

(d) To report to the court information on: (i) The legal status of a child's membership in any Indian tribe or band; and (ii) the facts relating to the child's best interests.

(2) ~~((The))~~ A guardian ad litem who is: (a) Selected from a registry; (b) appointed under exceptional circumstances pursuant to RCW 13.34.102(2)(a); or (c) a court-appointed special advocate shall be deemed an officer of the court for the purpose of immunity from civil liability unless removed from a case pursuant to a founded grievance.

(3) Except for information or records specified in RCW 13.50.100(4), the guardian ad litem shall have access to all information available to the state or agency on the case. Upon presentation of the order of appointment by the guardian ad litem, any agency, hospital, school organization, division or department of the state, doctor, nurse, or other health care provider, psychologist, psychiatrist, police department, or mental health clinic shall permit the guardian ad litem to inspect and copy any records relating to the child or children involved in the case, without the consent of the parent or guardian of the child, or of the child if the child is under the age of thirteen years, unless such access is otherwise specifically prohibited by law.

(4) The guardian ad litem shall release case information in accordance with the provisions of RCW 13.50.100.

Sec. 6. RCW 26.12.175 and 1996 c 249 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) The court may appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the interests of a minor or dependent child when the court believes the appointment of a guardian ad litem is necessary to protect the best interests of the child in any proceeding under this chapter. The family court services professionals may also make a recommendation to the court regarding whether a guardian ad litem should be appointed for the child. The court may appoint a guardian ad litem from the court-appointed special advocate program, if that program exists in the county.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered, the guardian ad litem's role is to: (i) Investigate and report to the court concerning parenting arrangements for the child((?)); (ii) report on the child's wishes when the child is twelve years of age or older; and ~~((to represent))~~ (iii) advocate for the child's best interests. The court may require the guardian ad litem to provide periodic reports to the parties regarding the status of his or her investigation. The guardian ad litem shall file his or her report at least sixty days prior to trial.

(c) The court shall enter an order for costs, fees, and disbursements to cover the costs of the guardian ad litem. The court may order either or both parents to pay for the costs of the guardian ad litem, according to their ability to pay. If both parents are indigent, the county shall bear the cost of the guardian, subject to appropriation for guardians' ad litem services by the county legislative authority. Guardians ad litem who are not volunteers shall provide the parties with an itemized accounting of their time and billing for services each month.

(2)(a) If the guardian ad litem appointed is from the county court-appointed special advocate program, the program shall supervise any guardian ad litem assigned to the case. The court-appointed special advocate program shall be entitled to notice of all proceedings in the case.

(b) The legislative authority of each county may authorize creation of a court-appointed special advocate program. The county legislative authority may adopt rules of eligibility for court-appointed special advocate program services.

(3) Each guardian ad litem program shall maintain a background information record for each guardian ad litem in the program. The background file shall include, but is not limited to, the following information:

- (a) Level of formal education;
- (b) Training related to the guardian's duties;
- (c) Number of years' experience as a guardian ad litem;
- (d) Number of appointments as a guardian ad litem and county or counties of appointment;

~~((and))~~

(e) The name of any counties in which, pursuant to a founded grievance, the person was removed from a pending case or a guardian ad litem registry; and

(f) Criminal history, as defined in RCW 9.94A.030.

The background information report shall be updated annually. As a condition of appointment, the guardian ad litem's background information record shall be made available to the court. If the appointed guardian ad litem is not a member of a guardian ad litem program the person shall provide the background information to the court.

Upon appointment, the guardian ad litem, or guardian ad litem program, shall provide the parties or their attorneys with a statement containing: His or her training relating to the duties as a guardian ad litem; the name of any counties in which, pursuant to a founded grievance, the person was removed from a pending case or a guardian ad litem registry; and his or her criminal history as defined in RCW 9.94A.030 for the period covering ten years prior to the appointment. The background statement shall not include identifying information that may be used to harm a guardian ad litem, such as home addresses and home telephone numbers, and for volunteer guardians ad litem the court may allow the use of maiden names or pseudonyms as necessary for their safety.

(4) When a court-appointed special advocate or volunteer guardian ad litem is requested on a case, the program shall give the court the name of the person it recommends and the appointment shall be effective immediately. The court shall appoint the person recommended by the program. If a party in a case reasonably believes the court-appointed special advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified, the party may request a review of the appointment by the program. The program must complete the review within five judicial days and remove any appointee for good cause. If the party seeking the review is not satisfied with the outcome of the review, the party may file a motion with the court for the removal of the court-appointed special advocate on the grounds the advocate or volunteer is inappropriate or unqualified.

Sec. 7. RCW 26.12.177 and 1997 c 41 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

(1)(a) All guardians ad litem ~~((, who have not previously served or been trained as a guardian ad litem in this state, who are appointed after January 1, 1998,))~~ must ~~((complete the curriculum developed by the office of the administrator for the courts))~~ comply with the training requirements established under RCW 2.56.030(15), prior to their appointment in cases under Title 26 RCW, except that volunteer guardians ad litem or court-appointed special advocates ~~((accepted into a volunteer program after January 1, 1998,))~~ may ~~((complete an alternative curriculum))~~ comply with alternative training requirements approved by the office of the administrator for the courts that meet((s)) or exceed((s)) the state-wide ~~((curriculum))~~ requirements.

(b) All persons appointed as guardians ad litem or court-appointed special advocates must comply with the continuing education requirements established under RCW 2.56.030(15).

(2)(a) Each guardian ad litem program for compensated guardians ad litem shall establish a rotational registry system for the appointment of guardians ad litem. If a judicial district does not have a program the court shall establish the rotational registry system. Guardians ad litem shall be selected from the registry except in exceptional circumstances as determined and documented by the court. The parties may make a joint recommendation for the appointment of a guardian ad litem from the registry. The court may order the removal of a guardian ad litem from the rotational registry if the court finds that the guardian ad litem charges an unreasonable fee for his or her services.

(b) In judicial districts with a population over one hundred thousand, a list of three names shall be selected from the registry and given to the parties along with the background information as specified in RCW 26.12.175(3), including their hourly rate for services. Each party may, within three judicial days, strike one name from the list. If more than one name remains on the list, the court shall make the appointment from the names on the list. In the event all three names are stricken the person whose name appears next on the registry shall be appointed.

(c) If a party reasonably believes that the appointed guardian ad litem lacks the necessary expertise for the proceeding, charges an hourly rate higher than what is reasonable for the particular proceeding, or has a conflict of interest, the party may, within three judicial days from the appointment, move for substitution of the appointed guardian ad litem by filing a motion with the court.

(d) Upon the motion of any party the court shall, if located in a judicial district with a population over one hundred thousand, remove a compensated guardian ad litem who was not selected from a rotational registry system. This subsection (2)(d) does not apply when the guardian ad litem was appointed: (i) Under exceptional circumstances authorized under (a) of this subsection; or (ii) as a result of a joint recommendation of the parties.

(e) Under this section, within either registry referred to in (a) of this subsection, a subregistry may be created that consists of guardians ad litem under contract with the department of social and health services' division of child support. Guardians ad litem on such a subregistry shall be selected and appointed in state-initiated paternity cases only.

(3) The rotational registry system shall not apply to court-appointed special advocate programs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. A new section is added to chapter 26.12 RCW to read as follows:
A guardian ad litem who is: (1) Selected from a registry; (2) appointed under exceptional circumstances pursuant to RCW 26.12.177(2)(a); or (3) a court-appointed special advocate shall be deemed an officer of the court for the purpose of immunity from civil liability unless removed from a case pursuant to a founded grievance.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 11.88 RCW to read as follows:
The court shall, in each order of appointment, specify the hourly rate the guardian ad litem may charge for his or her services, and shall specify the maximum amount the guardian ad litem may charge without additional court review and approval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:
The court shall, in each order of appointment, specify the hourly rate the guardian ad litem may charge for his or her services, and shall specify the maximum amount the guardian ad litem may charge without additional court review and approval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 26.12 RCW to read as follows:
The court shall, in each order of appointment, specify the hourly rate the guardian ad litem may charge for his or her services, and shall specify the maximum amount the guardian ad litem may charge without additional court review and approval.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. A new section is added to chapter 11.88 RCW to read as follows:
All guardians ad litem are prohibited from engaging in ex parte communications with any judicial officer regarding the matter for which he or she is appointed, except as approved pursuant to a hearing conducted with adequate notice to all parties. Unauthorized communication shall be immediately reported to all parties and their attorneys. The court, upon its own motion, or upon the motion of a party, may consider the removal of any guardian ad litem who violates this section from any pending case or the guardian ad litem rotational registry, and if so removed may require forfeiture of any fees for professional services on any pending cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:
All guardians ad litem and court-appointed special advocates are prohibited from engaging in ex parte communications with any judicial officer regarding the matter for which he or she is appointed, except as approved pursuant to a hearing conducted with adequate notice to all parties. Unauthorized communication shall be immediately reported to all parties and their attorneys. The court, upon its own motion, or upon the motion of a party, may consider the removal of any guardian ad litem or court-appointed special advocate who violates this section from any pending case or from any court-authorized registry, and if so removed may require forfeiture of any fees for professional services on any pending cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 26.12 RCW to read as follows:
All guardians ad litem, court-appointed special advocates, and parenting investigators are prohibited from engaging in ex parte communications with any judicial officer regarding the matter for which he or she is appointed, except as approved pursuant to a hearing conducted with adequate notice to all parties. Unauthorized communication shall be immediately reported to all parties and their attorneys. The court, upon its own motion, or upon the motion of a party, may consider the removal of any guardian ad litem, court-appointed special advocate, or parenting investigator who violates this section from any pending case or from any court-authorized registry, and if so removed may require forfeiture of any fees for professional services on any pending cases.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 26.12 RCW to read as follows:

All information, records, and reports obtained or created by a guardian ad litem, court-appointed special advocate, or parenting investigator shall be discoverable to the parties and their attorneys. The guardian ad litem, court-appointed special advocate, or parenting investigator shall maintain the privacy of the parties and the confidentiality of information obtained, pursuant to the investigation, as to third parties. Any guardian ad litem can move the court to seal the court file to protect information obtained by the guardian ad litem from disclosure to third persons, particularly in cases where no evidentiary rulings have been made on information introduced by affidavit, declaration, or other means.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. A new section is added to chapter 13.34 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter shall not be construed to prohibit a guardian ad litem, court-appointed special advocate, or parenting investigator from releasing confidential information, records, and reports to the office of the family and children's ombudsman for the purposes of carrying out its duties under RCW 43.06A.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 17. A new section is added to chapter 26.12 RCW to read as follows:

This chapter shall not be construed to prohibit a guardian ad litem, court-appointed special advocate, or parenting investigator from releasing confidential information, records, and reports to the office of the family and children's ombudsman for the purposes of carrying out its duties under RCW 43.06A.030.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 18. This act takes effect July 1, 1998, except for sections 4 and 7 of this act, which take effect January 1, 2000."

E2SSB 6235 Prime Sponsor, Senate Committee on Ways & Means: Creating the community outdoor athletic fields advisory committee. Reported by Committee on Trade & Economic Development

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass as amended.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature recognizes that coordinated funding efforts are needed to maintain, develop, and improve the state's community outdoor athletic fields. Rapid population growth and increased urbanization have caused a decline in suitable outdoor fields for community athletic activities and has resulted in overcrowding and deterioration of existing surfaces. Lack of adequate community outdoor athletic fields directly affects the health and well-being of all citizens of the state, reduces the state's economic viability, and prevents Washington from maintaining and achieving the quality of life that it deserves. Therefore, it is the policy of the state and its agencies to maintain, develop, fund, and improve youth or community athletic facilities, including but not limited to community outdoor athletic fields.

(2) In carrying out this policy, the legislature intends to promote the building of new community outdoor athletic fields, the upgrading of existing community outdoor athletic fields, and the maintenance of existing community outdoor athletic fields across the state of Washington. The purpose of sections 1 through 4 of this act is to create an advisory council to provide information and advice to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation in the distribution of the funds in the youth athletic facility grant account established in RCW 43.99N.060(4).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) A community outdoor athletic fields advisory council is established within the interagency committee for outdoor recreation. The advisory council shall consist of nine members, from the public at large, appointed as follows: (a) Five members appointed by the chairperson of the interagency committee for outdoor recreation; (b) two members appointed by the house of representatives, one each by the speaker of the house of representatives and the minority leader of the house of representatives; and (c) two members appointed by the senate, one each appointed by the majority leader of the senate and the minority leader of the senate. The appointments must reflect an effort to achieve a balance among the appointed members based upon factors of geographic, racial, ethnic, and gender diversity, and with a sense and awareness of community outdoor athletic field needs.

(2) The advisory council shall provide information to and make recommendations to the interagency committee for outdoor recreation on the award of funds from the youth athletic facility grant account created in RCW 43.99N.060(4), to cities, counties, and qualified nonprofit organizations for acquiring, developing, equipping, maintaining, and improving youth or community athletic facilities, including but not limited to community outdoor athletic fields.

(3) The members shall serve three-year terms. Of the initial members, two shall be appointed for a one-year term, three shall be appointed for a two-year term, and the remainder shall be appointed for three-year terms. Thereafter, members shall be appointed for three-year terms. The chairperson of the interagency committee for outdoor recreation shall appoint one of the members to serve as chairperson of the advisory council for the duration of the member's term.

(4) Members of the advisory council shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for travel expenses as provided in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Subject to available resources, the interagency committee for outdoor recreation, in consultation with the community outdoor athletic fields advisory council may:

(1) Prepare and update a strategic plan for the development, maintenance, and improvement of community outdoor athletic fields in the state. In the preparation of such plan, the interagency committee for outdoor recreation may use available data from federal, state, and local agencies having community outdoor athletic responsibilities, user groups, private sector interests, and the general public. The plan may include, but is not limited to:

(a) An inventory of current community outdoor athletic fields;

(b) A forecast of demand for these fields;

(c) An identification and analysis of actual and potential funding sources; and

(d) Other information the interagency committee for outdoor recreation deems appropriate to carry out the purposes of sections 1 through 4 of this act;

(2) Determine the eligibility requirements for cities, counties, and qualified nonprofit organizations to access funding from the youth athletic facility grant account created in RCW 43.99N.060(4);

(3) Encourage and provide opportunities for interagency and regional coordination and cooperative efforts between public agencies and between public entities and nonprofit organizations involved in the maintenance, development, and improvement of community outdoor athletic fields; and

(4) Create and maintain data, studies, research, and other information relating to community outdoor athletic fields in the state, and to encourage the exchange of this information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The interagency committee for outdoor recreation may receive gifts, grants, or endowments from public and private sources that are made from time to time, in trust or otherwise, for the use and benefit of the purposes of sections 1 through 4 of this act and spend gifts, grants, or endowments or income from the public or private sources according to their terms, unless the receipt of the gifts, grants, or endowments violates RCW 42.17.710.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Sections 1 through 4 of this act expire one year after RCW 82.14.0494 expires.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act are each added to chapter 43.99 RCW under the subchapter heading "youth or community athletic facilities."
