REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "The President would like to make an announcement, it is Valentine's Day and I've already seen some people stuffing their face out there, particularly Senator Sheldon back there, and of course that violates the very strict rules of decorum of the Senate but the President believes that it would be appropriate today if you wished to partake of treats today particularly those incredible cookies, if you so like, without violating the rules of decorum. Chew with your mouth shut."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Eide: "Well thank you Mr. President. Well, once again, my hat goes off to your wonderful beautiful wife, Linda for the cookies she has on our desk every Valentine's day. This is my tenth year in the senate and I think she's got every single year, so go home and give her a big kiss for all of us."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Pflug: "Thank you Mr. President and point well taken. Hopefully we'll adjourn in time for you to do that in a timely manner. I also would like to thank you, your lovely wife and on behalf of the nurses particularly appreciate the oatmeal cookies which certainly are a respectable breakfast food, don't you think? Thank you."

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, FEBRUARY 14, 2008

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "You can thank Senator McCaslin. When he complained about only having chocolate chip, she felt obligated to provide two types so you can barter for two oatmeal raisins if you want."

WHEREAS, Autism is a developmental disability that typically appears during the first two years of life and continues through the individual's lifespan; and

WHEREAS, Autism is the fastest-growing developmental disability, affecting 1 million to 1.5 million Americans - 1 in 150 babies born; and

WHEREAS, Many children are not diagnosed until after 3 years of age, often because of lack of recognition of autism characteristics by general practitioners; and

WHEREAS, There are many different characteristics in individuals with autism - delayed or deficient communication, decreased or unresponsive social interaction, unusual reaction to normal stimuli, a lack of spontaneous or imaginative play, and behavioral challenges; and

WHEREAS, There is no known cause and no known cure, however with aggressive and continuous therapy, some individuals can learn to acclimate to their environment and mask symptoms of their disability; and

WHEREAS, All individuals with autism should be included and regarded as valuable members of our community; and

WHEREAS, Autism can create significant stress on the families of those affected by autism; and

WHEREAS, Families, caregivers, advocates, and organizations are striving to bring about positive changes for children and adults with autism; and

WHEREAS, Through research, training, public services, support groups, advocacy, and increased awareness, we will be more understanding, inclusive, and better-equipped to support the growing number of individuals with autism and their families;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate honor and support individuals with autism and acknowledge the tremendous courage that they and their families put forth every day; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the Honorable Christine Gregoire.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 28B.20.297 and 2005 c 357 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The legislature finds that small technology-based firms are the source of approximately one-half of the economy's major innovations ~~((and that))~~. The legislature further finds that economic development in the state is increasingly driven by innovative firms and that it is in the interest of the state to:

(a) Increase participation by Washington state small businesses in the federal small business innovation research program by assisting them in becoming small business innovation research program grant recipients(

~~The legislature further finds that many small business innovators lack the grant-writing skills necessary to prepare a successful small business innovation research program proposal, and the federal program that funded grant-writing assistance has stopped operations. Nearly fifty percent of small businesses trained under the federal program won grants compared to less than ten percent of those that did not receive training))~~;

(b) Increase the number of innovative firms that understand and engage in the technology commercialization process by providing information resources and technical assistance in accessing new technologies;

(c) Increase funding for product development and production by providing information on available finance options and facilitating the matching of investors with innovative entrepreneurs; and

(d) Coordinate these commercialization, assistance, and information functions through existing statewide organizations and reinforce collaboration among the network of the state's research, economic development and technology assistance organizations for this purpose.

(2) As used in this section:

(a) "Small business innovation research program" means the program, enacted pursuant to the small business innovation development act of 1982, P.L. 97-219, that provided funds to small businesses to conduct innovative research having commercial application.

2008 REGULAR SESSION

(b) "Small business" means a corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, or individual, operating a business for profit, with two hundred fifty employees or fewer, including employees employed in a subsidiary or affiliated corporation, that otherwise meets the requirements of the federal small business innovation research program.

(3) To the extent funds are appropriated for these purposes, the Washington technology center shall provide or contract for the provision of the following in conjunction with the state's public universities and colleges, private and federal research laboratories, and local and regional economic development and technology assistance organizations:

(a) Establish a small business innovation research assistance program, including a proposal review process, to train and assist Washington small businesses to win phase I small business innovation research program awards. ~~((a))~~ In operating the program the Washington technology center shall give priority to first-time small business innovation research program applicants, new businesses, and firms with fewer than ten employees(

(b) Develop and disseminate a guide to the technology commercialization process in the research and academic institutions in the state;

(c) Develop, maintain, and provide access to a database of technologies and inventions developed in the state available for commercialization and licensing;

(d) Offer training on the provision of commercialization assistance to technical assistance providers at the state's small business development centers, economic development councils, chambers of commerce, industry cluster associations, the Washington manufacturing service, and private consulting firms;

(e) Develop a funding resource guide, offer workshops on how to access financing for commercializing new technologies, provide opportunities for novice investors to learn about investing in technology-based companies, host events to connect entrepreneurs and investors, and maintain an interactive web site accessible by researchers, entrepreneurs, and investors; and

(f) Report on the impact of commercialization activities at Washington research institutions on an annual basis.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 6386, by Senators Stevens, Hargrove, Morton, Delvin, McCaslin and Rasmussen

Concerning the publication of a minor's information.

The measure was read the second time.

MOTION

Senator Hargrove moved that the following striking amendment by Senators Hargrove, Oemig and Stevens be adopted:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1 (1) The legislature finds:

(a) The sexual abuse of a child is a most serious crime and an act repugnant to moral instincts;

(b) A pedophile is a person who has fantasies, urges, or behaviors that involve sexual activity with a child; and

(c) When a person acts on a pedophilic urge, he or she has committed a criminal act against the most vulnerable segment of our society, children. The main method for preventing pedophilia is avoiding situations that may promote pedophilic acts.

(2) It is the intent of the legislature to criminalize conduct that is intended to provide a person the information necessary to commit a pedophilic act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2 A new section is added to chapter 9.68A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Every person who knowingly publishes information relating to the location of children or a place where children regularly gather, or the specific time and location in which children or a particular child may be found, or the personal information of a child, for the purpose of arousing or gratifying the sexual desire of any person, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. It is a defense to a charge against an internet service provider or social networking site that the internet service provider or social networking site had only constructive knowledge and not actual knowledge.

(2) It is not a defense to prosecution under this section that the information includes a specific disclaimer of intention to incite a sexual offense against a child if it is clear from the overall character of the communication that its purpose is to promote the commission of a sexual offense against a child.

(3) For the purposes of this act:

(a) "Location of children or a place where children regularly gather" means any public facility or private facility whose primary purpose, at any time, is to provide for the education, care, or recreation of a child.

(b) "Child" means any person under the age of sixteen.

(c) "Personal information" means the name of the public or private elementary, middle, or high school attended by a child; a child's school address, home address, home telephone number, cell phone number, and home e-mail address; directions to a child's school or home; physical description of a child; or photographs of a child.

(d) "Public facility" means a facility operated by a unit of local or state government, or by a nonprofit organization.

(e) "Publishes" means makes information available to another person through any medium, including, but not limited to, the internet, the world wide web, or e-mail.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3 A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Whenever it appears that any person is committing or has committed any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act, the prosecuting attorney or the parents or guardian of any child harmed by an alleged violation of section 2 of this act may initiate a civil proceeding in superior court to enjoin such violation, and may petition the court to issue an order for the discontinuance of the publication of the information in violation of section 2 of this act.

(2) An action under this section shall be brought in the county in which the violation is alleged to have taken place, and shall be commenced by the filing of a verified complaint, or shall be accompanied by an affidavit.

(3) If it is shown to the satisfaction of the court, either by verified complaint or affidavit, that a person is committing or has committed any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act, the court may issue a temporary restraining order to abate and prevent the continuance or recurrence of the act. (4) The court may issue a permanent injunction to restrain, abate, or prevent the continuance or recurrence of the violation of section 2 of this act. The court may grant declaratory relief, mandatory orders, or any other relief deemed necessary to accomplish the purposes of the injunction. The court may retain jurisdiction of the case for the purpose of enforcing its orders.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4 A new section is added to chapter 4.24 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The parents or guardian of any child whose personal information is published in violation of section 2 of this act and who suffers damages as a result of such conduct may bring a cause of action against the person who published such information, for actual damages sustained and reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

(2) If a court has found that any person has engaged in any act that constitutes a violation of section 2 of this act the court shall award liquidated damages to the child whose personal information is published in violation of section 2 of this act in the amount of ten thousand dollars for each violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5 If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.
