COMPILED, EDITED AND INDEXED BY MALCOLM McBEATH
CHIEF CLERK OF THE HOUSE

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

FORTIETH LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

NOON SESSION

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., Monday, January 9, 1967.

The Acting Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Thirty-ninth Legislature, Sidney R. Snyder, called the House to order at 12:00 noon.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Canon William Forbes, Vicar of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Mt. Vernon:

"We offer our prayers for the President of these United States, for the Governor of this State, and for this legislative assembly. To pray is to care about goals and ideals. To pray is not to ask selfishly that our own will be done at all costs. To pray is to open our hearts unto God and to ask that in all things His will be done. His kingdom come on earth as in heaven. I bid you therefore in silence to pray for a moment." (There followed a moment of silence.)

"And now, summing up our petitions, guide, we beseech Thee, oh Lord, all those to whom is submitted the government of this state and at this time give them wisdom and self-control that they may consider all questions calmly in their deliberations and act wisely and promptly in upholding what is right and ordering that which is just, that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors upon the best and surest foundations so that peace, happiness, truth, and justice may be promoted amongst us to the glory of Thy name. Amen."

MESSAGE TO THE GOVERNOR

The Honorable Daniel J. Evans, Governor
State of Washington
Olympia, Washington

Your Excellency:

This letter is my resignation from the office of State Representative, Position No. 1, 48th Legislative District, effective 12:03 A.M. on Monday, January 9, 1967.

My resignation is for the reason that I have been appointed State Senator from the 48th Legislative District effective as of that time and the two offices are, of course, incompatible by law.

Also, for the foregoing reason, effective at the same time and date I will be unable to, and will not, take my oath of office as State Representative.

Yours very truly,

James A. Andersen

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to distribute to all members present their election certificates.

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Litchman.

The Honorable Robert C. Finley, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, administered the oath of office to all members of the House of Representatives present.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass", "do pass as amended", or that "the attached substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass." Minority reports, "do not pass" or "without recommendation", may be submitted with the majority report. Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a different recommendation which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto. All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports: Provided, That a majority of the members elected to the house may require a committee to report a bill back to the house at any time.

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Sprague moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mr. Gorton:

Debate ensued, Representatives Sprague, Smith, and Heavey speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. King demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Adams, Mr. Sprague yielded to question.

Mr. Adams:

“Mr. Sprague, can you give us any idea, after all these are recorded into the journal, how thick the journal will be and how many volumes it will be? Would you have any idea as to the additional cost this might involve, and would you be in a position to vote for an appropriation to defray this additional cost?”

Mr. Sprague:

“Dr. Adams, as you know, I am a freshman here. My feeling would be, in general, that the cost would not be as great as you indicate. Secondly, it seems to me that it is the duty of this body to make available to everyone, though it does cost some money, the record of all our proceedings in committee, as we do already on the floor. Maybe there is someone who could answer your question better than I could.”

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Moon, Lux, and Heavey speaking in favor of its adoption.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Smith on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Smith:

“Mr. Chief Clerk, could the clerk read the names of the members of the rules committee?”

The Acting Chief Clerk:

“There is no rules committee. They haven't been appointed yet.”

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment by Mr. Sprague to the resolution by Mr. Gorton was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 57; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—40.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, Eldridge, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman—57.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1; Vacancy—1.

With the consent of the House, the proceedings were interrupted at the request of Mr. Copeland in order that the House might receive a message from the Secretary of State.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Acting Chief Clerk requested that Representatives Leland, Clarke (George W.), and Garrett escort Representative Chapin to a place of honor on the rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE

The Honorable Robert C. Finley, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, administered the oath of office to Representative Chapin.

The House resumed consideration of the resolution by Mr. Gorton.

Mrs. Hurley moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mr. Gorton:

On page 6, line 20, after "No standing committee" and before "shall" insert "with the exception of rules committee"

Debate ensued, Representative Hurley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mrs. Johnson demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment by Mrs. Hurley to the resolution by Mr. Gorton was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 7; nays, 91; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Backstrom, Bozarth, Day, Hurley, Kink, McCormick, Perry—7.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bottiger, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Eldridge, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Salting, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman—91.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. O'Brien:

"I would like to take the liberty at this time to present and introduce to you the former Governor of the State of Washington, who is sitting in the north gallery with Mrs. Rosellini. Will former Governor Albert Rosellini and Mrs. Rosellini please stand and be recognized." (Applause.)

Mr. O'Brien moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mr. Gorton:

On page 4, beginning on line 8, strike all the material on lines 8 and 9.

Debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien and Day speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Gorton, since on a motion to lay on the table it is possible at a later date for the House to reconsider the material, could you tell me what would be the situation should a bill pass over to the Senate and then the House, by a vote, should decide to take the amendment off the table and consider the amendment?"

Mr. Gorton:

"The motion would not be recognized. If a motion to lay on the table once is actually carried, the question is never in fact taken from the table, even in the case of a floor resolution which stays permanently in the possession of the House. Once the motion to table has been carried, it in effect is a permanent decision on the particular question which is involved, and if the bill had gone on and passed the House and gone over to the Senate, the Speaker would, of course, rule the motion to take it from the table out of order."

Mr. Smith:

"Continuing the discussion with Mr. Gorton, I understand a motion to table leaves the matter on the table and it could be taken from the table. When you say it is a permanent action, I don't quite understand. It is temporary. It could be taken off, provided the House so decided."

The Acting Chief Clerk:

"Do you wish to answer Mr. Smith, Mr. Gorton?"

Mr. Gorton:

"No."

Mr. O'Brien demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien, Walgren, Sawyer, and Heavey speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the amendment by Mr. O'Brien to the resolution by Mr. Gorton was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 55; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—43.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Eldridge, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman—55.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1.

MOTIONS

Mr. Brouillet moved that the House recess for lunch. The motion was not carried.

Mr. King moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution by Mr. Gorton:

On page 4, beginning on line 6, after "proceedings" strike all material down to and including the comma and all material thereafter down to and including "sessions" on line 7.

Debate ensued, Representative King speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Gorton, have you read House Rule 38, entitled 'Postpone Indefinitely'?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Yes, I have, Mr. O'Brien. That is one in connection with the permanent rules which will bring them into conformity with this particular one we are dealing with at this time."

Mr. O'Brien:

"You don't feel there is a conflict between this proposal and Rule 38?"

Mr. Gorton:

"No, I don't."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Well, there is an important part of Rule 38 which I call to your attention. 'The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.' This was inserted in the House rules to take care of an abuse which existed at one time when a motion could be made to postpone a bill indefinitely on first reading. To prohibit this type of motion, this rule was adopted, which makes it materially different from the one you have here where you are putting a Senate rule in here in toto."

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. O'Brien, we are not proposing to repeal House Rule 38 and a motion to postpone indefinitely certainly would not be permitted on first reading under the rules as we have proposed them."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. King, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. King:

"If a bill has been postponed indefinitely and at some other time a majority of the members of this House, which would include some members of your own party, should decide they wanted to consider that bill again, what justification would we have in prohibiting them from doing so in advance? While this has been pretty generally the custom in the past, we have always been left with this freedom of option."

Mr. Gorton:

"There is one very good reason for this rule, Mr. King. It seems to me the members of the House ought to know what the effect of the motion to postpone indefinitely is. They ought to know what the effect of a motion to lay on the table is. They ought to know what the effect of a simple yea or nay vote is. For example, under the rules we have had, if you vote no on a bill and it is defeated, and a proper motion for reconsideration is not made with notice given on the same day, and a motion made the next day, that bill is dead for the session. It doesn't matter whether the majority changes its mind later in the session or not. The reason you have this is so that you don't keep going over the same propositions again and again and again. The same is true when you pass a bill out of the House. It goes over to the Senate and it is too late to change your mind. A motion to postpone indefinitely is a motion to deal with a bill on a final basis. For example, a bill can't be defeated on second reading. You don't vote no as to the final passage of the bill then, but you can vote affirmatively on a motion to postpone indefinitely and it should be final. If it was an important matter which the House wished to take up again, it could do so in one of three ways. You could suspend the rules, which of course would take a two-thirds vote; another bill could be introduced with the same general purpose; or an amendment could be made to put this subject matter on some other bill. In other words, there is more than one way to skin a cat, and if the subject matter is something on which the House changed its mind, it certainly could be taken up again. Finally, of course, the rules can be changed by a majority vote, and we could go back on this particular rule if the majority should so decide."

The Acting Chief Clerk declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. King to the resolution by Mr. Gorton.

The motion was not carried, and the amendment was not adopted.

The Acting Chief Clerk declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the resolution by Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution, and Representatives O'Brien and Bottiger speaking against its adoption.

The Clerk called the roll, and the resolution was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 43; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Eldridge, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman—55.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—43.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Chatalas on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Chatalas:

"I would like to have the record show that the muzzle was placed on the Democrats by the Republicans at exactly 1:51."

The Acting Chief Clerk:

"The record will so indicate, Mr. Chatalas."

Nominations for Speaker of the House were declared to be in order.

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Bledsoe.

Mr. Bledsoe:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Honorable Robert Finley, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, distinguished colleagues, ladies and gentlemen:

"In part because of the times in which we are living, in part because of the intensive interim study as to substantive matters to appear before this body, and in part because of the immediacy of the problems confronting this session, the days before us give promise of being some of the most exciting and challenging that any legislative body in this state has yet faced. We have considerations before us of impact and import. Labor and financial problems beset us. Hopefully, we will arrive at solutions beneficial to the state and its citizens of these challenges, which will require that we put forth the very finest possible from among our body for the positions of leadership. We are fortunate to have within our body and within our membership a man of substantial experience and wide knowledge, whose will is both strong and good, whose ability to lead us in the days to come is without peer. I would urge you all to join in support of the man whose name I now take pride in placing before you in nomination as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the fortieth session of the Washington state legislature, the Honorable Don Eldridge."

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Clark (Newman H.).

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, ladies and gentlemen:

"While I have had the privilege of voting for the successful Speaker since fourteen years ago, it was only because I was nominated to oppose him. Fourteen years ago, we had the honor of having an outstanding Speaker. We have that same privilege now in Don Eldridge. He is a man who has served this body capably and forthrightly, and who will as Speaker be outstanding. It is my great privilege to second the nomination of Don Eldridge as Speaker."

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mrs. McCaffree.

Mrs. McCaffree:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

"I also rise to second the nomination of the Honorable Don Eldridge for Speaker of the House of Representatives. It is indeed an honor for me to do this. Representative Eldridge has served the people of the state of Washington most capably and expertly for many years in this House of Representatives. He has been a dedicated legislator with integrity and honesty. He is a man with a keen sense of responsibility and obligation, with fairness to all. He is a man who will give his best for a successful session of this legislature and for the welfare of the people of the state of Washington. I believe that Representative Don Eldridge is the best qualified to serve as Speaker of the House of Representatives for the fortieth session of the Legislature. I would urge that you would support him for this position."

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is an honor and privilege for me today to place in nomination for Speaker of the House of Representatives the name of Representative John L. O'Brien. I think we all know John. He has had a long and distinguished record of service in the House of Representatives and I might remind you that he is the senior member of this body, having served some twenty-six years in the state legislature. During this time he has had the honor of serving our House for four terms as Speaker of the House, two terms as majority leader, and two terms as minority leader. No other member of this House has such a record of distinguished service as John L. O'Brien. We need an experienced leader to guide us in the growing problems of an expanding and dynamic state. We need the experience and guidance of those who are true and tested. Representative O'Brien's outstanding ability has been recognized nationally by his having been elected as first vice president of the National Legislative Leaders Conference, and he will be elected president of this National Legislative Leaders Conference this coming year. If we in the House wish an experienced and capable leader, I am sure that the members of this House will join with me in supporting John L. O'Brien as Speaker of the House of Representatives."

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Chatalas.

Mr. Chatalas:

"Thank you, Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"What I have to say here today is an expression of my own personal views, but at the same time I am sure I am expressing the views of everyone here in this assembly, and with all respect to the many fine legislators who have presided over this body. No one, in my opinion, has surpassed in dedication and ability my friend, my neighbor, and above all my seat mate from the Thirty-third district, the Honorable John L. O'Brien. His long service in the House, his four terms as our presiding officer, his recognition in national legislative affairs make me real proud to second the nomination of John O'Brien for Speaker of the House for this, the fortieth legislative session."

The Acting Chief Clerk recognized Mr. Beck:

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, Reverend Forbes, distinguished ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"The day of reckoning of the fortieth session of this legislature of the House of Representatives is at hand. The problems that are going to be facing this state in the next few weeks have never been equaled in magnitude. This is no time for apprenticeship to be served in the Speaker's chair of this House. We need a man with a humanitarian heart, one who understands the problems, one who is willing to face up to his responsibilities, one who will preside with justice and equality and fairness. It gives me great pride to second the nomination of the very distinguished gentleman from the Thirty-third district, Mr. O'Brien."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the nominations for Speaker of the House were closed.

The Clerk called the roll for election of the Speaker of the House, and Mr. Eldridge was elected Speaker by the following vote: Mr. Eldridge, 55; Mr. O'Brien, 43; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting for Mr. O'Brien were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Eldridge, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haus-sler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—43.

Those voting for Mr. Eldridge were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman—55.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1.

The Acting Chief Clerk appointed Representatives Berentson, Goldsworthy, and Garrett to escort Mr. Eldridge to the rostrum, where the Honorable Matthew W. Hill, Justice of the State Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

The Speaker addressed the House with the following remarks:

"Mr. Acting Chief Clerk, Justice Hill, Canon Forbes, members of the House of Representatives:

"I may be Speaker of the House here in this body, but back home I am still considered by my family as chairman of the entertainment committee.

"This is the highest honor and also the greatest responsibility which has ever come to me. I deeply appreciate the honor and recognize the great responsibility that goes with it. At this time, I would like to extend my thanks to those of you who made this experience possible. I would also like to thank my family for the help and the understanding they have given to me, and may I take this opportunity to introduce my mother, Mrs. Ray Eldridge, my wife, Harriett, and our four children, Ray, Jean, Sally, and Jon. (Applause.)

"The fortieth legislature has a unique opportunity to meet the challenge of a growing state and we must keep pace with these ever changing problems. The fortieth session will have a new look in a number of respects. We will enjoy the convenience of new office space, new equipment, and an improved communications system. The operation of the House will be facilitated by the advent of prefilling of bills, the early appointment of committee chairmen, and the assignment of members to the individual committees. This new organizational plan allows for members to serve only on three committees in most cases, thereby eliminating conflicts and providing the members a better opportunity to fully consider all legislation before this body. I wish to commend Representative Tom Copeland for his assistance in setting the procedural pattern for this session, and thank minority leader John O'Brien for his cooperation in getting this legislative session off to a head start. With your help, we can meet and solve the tremendous problems facing us during this fortieth session of the Washington state legislature. Thank you."

The Speaker called for nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker recognized Mr. McDougall:

Mr. McDougall:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"I have the pleasure at this time of nominating a distinguished colleague, the Honorable Tom Copeland, for the office of Speaker Pro Tem. Heretofore this post has carried an honorary connotation, but it is the intent of the majority leadership to drastically change this procedure and to create a working position. Already this practice has been put into action. Since his election as Speaker Pro Tem Designate several months ago, Representative Copeland has spent countless hours away from his family and from his business capably handling the administrative functions of putting the House in order. On his shoulders fell the responsibility of working with the contractors and carpenters and carpetlayers, and yes, even arguing with certain Senators to provide sufficient office space for all of us seated here today. It hasn't been an easy task handling the variety of details, but Representative Copeland has done it well. In previous sessions, he has admirably served the Republican side as party whip and minority leader. He will continue to play a very important role in this, the fortieth session. I am indeed privileged to nominate the Honorable Tom Copeland of Walla Walla as Speaker Pro Tem."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Wolf.

Mr. Wolf:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, Reverend Forbes, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It is a real pleasure on my part to be able to stand and second the nomination for the Honorable Tom Copeland of Walla Walla. I am sure you will agree with me that Tom, in the ten years he has spent in the House of Representatives, has given everything for us. The same has been true in the two months prior to this session. There were some problems, but this thing got off the ground today because of Tom Copeland. I urge you to support the Honorable Tom Copeland for Speaker Pro Tem of the House of Representatives. Thank you."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Goldsworthy:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley:

"It is a pleasure for me also to second the nomination of Tom Copeland for Speaker Pro Tem. A ten-year veteran of this House, Tom has served with distinction his party, his district, and the state of Washington. Tom has the rare ability to get along with everyone, whether they are on that side of the aisle or whether they are over on this side. That goes up to and including Mr. O'Brien, and this rare faculty of Tom's alone would recommend him to take over this position. This office, as it will be run by Tom, will be a very honest and hard working position. I am very happy to second the nomination of Tom Copeland for this position."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Haussler.

Mr. Haussler:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, Reverend Forbes, ladies and gentlemen:

"It has been through some of the past sessions an esteemed honor for me to nominate the Honorable Avery Garrett for various positions of leadership in this House and you have always seen fit to elect him. As you remember, the Honorable Avery Garrett served as the Democratic caucus chairman in 1963. He worked very well with all areas of the House. In 1965 he was elected Speaker Pro Tem and he did an excellent job. He is honored and respected by everyone with whom he has ever worked. It gives me great honor and pleasure to place in nomination the name of the Honorable Avery Garrett as Speaker Pro Tem for the fortieth session of this House."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moon.

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice Finley of the Supreme Court of the State of Washington, Canon Forbes, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is a high honor and privilege to second the nomination of Representative Avery Garrett for Speaker Pro Tem. Representative Garrett was Speaker Pro Tem during the thirty-ninth session. He is an able and dedicated legislator. He gives his best effort for the state of Washington and its people. I take pride in seconding the nomination of Mr. Garrett."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives were closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Mr. Copeland was elected Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. Copeland, 55; Mr. Garrett, 43; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting for Mr. Copeland were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—55.

Those voting for Mr. Garrett were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Copeland, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—43.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Litchman—1.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Leland and McCormick to escort Mr. Copeland to the rostrum, where the Honorable Robert C. Finley, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, administered the oath of office to him.

The Speaker called for nominations for the office of Chief Clerk.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Harris.

Mr. Harris:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice Finley, Canon Forbes, and fellow members of the House:

"I rise to nominate a gentleman who has the education, business experience, and background in civic affairs to qualify him as our Chief Clerk. He attended Western Washington University and the University of Washington. In a sense, he is one of us in that he served two sessions as a state representative. Presently, he owns and operates a glass company in his hometown, and through the years while he had the responsibility and work of developing his own business, he gave endlessly of his time, energy, and effort in many civic affairs. He is a former member of the Bellingham city council. He is past president of the Bellingham chamber of commerce and is presently a member of the Bellingham planning commission.

"I, personally, have known this man since 1955 and I have found him to be tremendously devoted to any work that he undertakes. His sense of fairness and good judgment will impress all of us. Now, as these few words fall upon your hearing, I am mindful of the late Si Holcomb, whom we all loved and who served this body for many, many years. It is my feeling and belief that Malcolm McBeath is a man who can step into this position and effectively handle it. It is with a great deal of pleasure that I nominate Malcolm "Dutch" McBeath as Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives for this fortieth session of the state legislature."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, and members of this body:

"It is hard for me to follow Representative Harris, because he covered Mr. McBeath's qualifications for this position very thoroughly but I can go a little farther back. I first met Mr. McBeath in the 1953 session. He was a member of that famous class of '53, and I would remind some of the new members that you now have a class of '67 that will go on for many years. A good many of you will be here a number of years from now. Mr. McBeath was living with two or three other members, individuals who are still members of the legislature, down at the Governor Hotel. You can't serve with a man of this type for two sessions, know him all the years in between, and follow his activities without knowing him with a great deal of pleasure. I recommend him to you for this position. I am sure he will serve you well. Mr. McBeath is not an apprentice, as you well know. In fact, he has had a lot of experience here. I urge you to vote for Mr. Malcolm McBeath."

The Speaker recognized Mr. DeJarnatt.

Mr. DeJarnatt:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice Finley, members of the House of Representatives:

"I rise to place in nomination the name of Sid Snyder for the position of Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. This position is an important one in the orderly procedure of this legislative body. It is indeed a vital one. This position demands a knowledge of parliamentary procedure which can only be gained by years of experience. Mr. Sid Snyder is our present Acting Chief Clerk. He has served us well in this capacity. Sid Snyder is ready for this responsible position. He has served a long and faithful apprenticeship. He was trained by that noble gentleman who is now gone from our midst. Mr. Si Holcomb was a thorough teacher and Sid Snyder is his star pupil. It is now time for the student to become the master. Sid Snyder's personal qualifications are well-known to those of us who have served in this body. He is knowledgeable; he is competent; he is tireless in all his endeavors. I am proud to make this nomination and I ask your support for Sid Snyder for Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Grant.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, members of the legislature:

"It is a pleasure for me to have an opportunity to second the nomination of Sid Snyder. Down on the beach between Ilwaco and Long Beach, there is a small community called Seaview. Probably the heart of that community is a little supermarket called Sid's Supermarket. When you go in those front doors and walk to the right, you see a man wearing an apron behind the meat counter. That's Sid, wrapping wieners or cutting meat. He is the proprietor of this small supermarket in that small town. I think it is kind of a wonderful thing that we have a man of his character who can serve and has served as the Acting Chief Clerk and as the Assistant Chief Clerk and who has demonstrated time and time again his real ability in the field of parliamentary procedure and in administration. Administratively, he has brought order out of chaos in these legislative halls.

"Now, this isn't a position that should be taken lightly. The Chief Clerk's office should not be a political plum to be handed out or to be doled out to a friend of the Speaker or a friend of someone else in this legislature. It is a position of responsibility and one that requires ability and talent, ability and talent that I think Sid Snyder has demonstrated time and time again. But I doubt this seconding speech is going to change anyone's vote. The die is cast. The names are already painted on the door. So I suppose we can't convince you to change your vote.

"Sid Snyder is a big man and not just physically. He is a big man in most every respect. With all his ability and skill, he will serve the state of Washington as Assistant Chief Clerk. He has, as Representative DeJarnatt pointed out, served his apprenticeship. His abilities are known to us all on both sides of the aisle, and we would all suffer a great loss if we were to dismiss entirely this very real talent. I urge your support, and again, it is an honor to second the nomination of Sid Snyder."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Kink on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to know—some of the freshmen have been asking me—what is the salary per day of the Chief Clerk?"

The Speaker:

"These salaries have been tentatively set by the House committee but we are still negotiating with the Senate to get some comparative setup on all employment salaries."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Harris on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Harris:

"Mr. Speaker, I would assume that either one of the men, whoever is elected, will proceed with the job, whatever the salary is. Is that correct?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, who was temporarily off the floor, has returned, and Mr. Kink, if you would like to direct your question to him, I am sure he will yield to question."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Copeland:

"Let me only say this. Salaries are one of the very difficult things we have to handle around here. It will be a case of working out a salary schedule with the Senate. We hope to meet with Senator Sandison this afternoon or in the early part of this week to establish that. It is not determined yet."

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen:

"I rise to place in nomination the name of Sid Snyder for the position of Assistant Chief Clerk. I believe that Representatives DeJarnatt and Grant have already well outlined the attributes of Sid Snyder and the reasons why we should retain him in a position of authority and working here in the House of Representatives. I think it is vital for our proper functioning for the next sixty days that a man of such proven ability and experience be in that office. Therefore I urge you to support Sid Snyder for Assistant Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice, and members of the House:

"Everything has been pretty well said here in behalf of our loyal and oldtime employee, Sid Snyder. I would just like to take the opportunity at this time to second his nomination for Assistant Chief Clerk."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, I should also like to second the nomination of Sid Snyder for the position of Assistant Chief Clerk. In keeping with the attempt of the fortieth session of the legislature to move everything forward as smoothly as possible, not only for its own session but the sessions in the future, we feel that the best possible way of handling the business of the House is to have a chief clerk from one party and assistant chief clerk from the other, so that in future legislatures the succession can be made from one party to the other as smoothly as it can be. I would also like to welcome back to our midst as Assistant Chief Clerk, Sid Snyder."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the nominations for Assistant Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives were closed.

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen:

"I am very pleased to be able to nominate for this position a friend and neighbor for a good many years, Mr. Eugene Prince. Now, Gene is certainly no stranger to these legislative halls. He has worked as assistant to the Chief Clerk for two sessions, and has worked in many capacities for the House of Representatives. Now, you people who were here last week or the week before have seen Gene wandering around here like he knows what he is doing, which he certainly does, because he is completely familiar with all the duties of his office. I think Gene does not have an enemy in the world. I think he is as well respected on both sides of the aisle as any man I know. I am very pleased to place in nomination for Sergeant at Arms my friend and neighbor, Gene Prince."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Reese.

Mr. Reese:

"Mr. Speaker, Honorable Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that I second the nomination of Gene Prince for Sergeant at Arms. I have known Gene for a number of years. He is very competent and a very fair individual. Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen:

"Actually, while I am on my feet I probably should move again to recess for lunch, but I rise for a more important occasion than that. I wish to place in nomination for the office of Sergeant at Arms your present incumbent Sergeant at Arms, Mr. Elmer Hyppa. You all know Elmer. He has been our Sergeant at Arms for the last ten years. In fact, I replaced him in the legislature—not that I defeated him, but he chose not to run. I think it is important that a man of his experience and ability perform this job. I think people on both sides of the aisle are well satisfied with his service and the impartiality which he displayed. I urge you to support and elect the present incumbent Sergeant at Arms, Mr. Elmer Hyppa."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gallagher.

Mr. Gallagher:

"Mr. Speaker, Chief Justice Finley, ladies and gentlemen of the House:

"It gives me a great deal of pleasure to second the nomination of Elmer Hyppa as Sergeant at Arms. He has been the Sergeant at Arms in successive legislatures since he was first elected in 1957. In the 1959 session he served on crutches and did a satisfactory and able job. Elmer has the experience that is necessary, just as Sid Snyder does for the position of Assistant Chief Clerk. It is my pleasure to second the nomination of Elmer Hyppa as Sergeant at Arms."

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the nominations for Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives were closed.

The Clerk called the roll, and Mr. Eugene Prince was elected Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives by the following vote: Mr. Prince, 55; Mr. Hyppa, 43; absent or not voting, 1.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Department of State, Office of the Secretary,
Olympia, Wash., January 9, 1967.

To the Honorable, The Speaker of the House of Representatives,

The Legislature of the State of Washington, Olympia, Washington.

Sir:

As of May 31, 1966, John Martinson and T. Evans Wyckoff, being residents of Anacortes and Seattle, respectively, and Co-Chairmen of the Committee for Full Employment in Washington, for and on behalf of said organization tendered five copies of a proposed measure to be an Initiative to the Legislature of the State of Washington, accompanied by their affidavits and that the name and post office address of the organization proposing this initiative for submission to the 1967 Legislature is:

Committee for Full Employment in Washington
917 White-Henry-Stuart Building
Seattle, Washington 98101

The copies of the proposed measure were filed and the measure was identified as Initiative Measure No. 32 to the Legislature. A copy was transmitted to the Attorney General for ballot title and, on June 8, 1966, the following ballot title was received from the Attorney General:

"LOCAL PROCESSING OF STATE TIMBER

An Act establishing a state agency to be known as the Full Employment Commission; providing for a procedure whereby timber sold by the state to any "responsible bidder" and removed from state-owned or administered lands will be branded, and will receive primary processing in a facility employing Washington residents located in the state of Washington or within fifteen miles from any boundary thereof in an abutting state, unless permission is granted by the Full Employment Commission for primary processing elsewhere based upon a finding that no reasonable market presently exists for the timber at such a facility; and establishing penalties."

I further certify that on December 28, 1966 and again on December 30, 1966, persons representing the Committee for Full Employment in Washington submitted signature petition sheets alleged to contain 130,000 signatures of registered voters for filing and canvass, and requested that a report of the final canvass and count be certified to the 1967 Legislature.

Accompanying the petitions was a financial statement reporting in detail the contributions received and expenditures made by the Committee for Full Employment in Washington relative to their signature campaign. The total amount of contributions reported was $33,461.00, and the total amount of expenditures reported was $25,812.99 as the cost of printing and circulation of signature petitions. The financial statement was certified under the signature of Charles W. Jordan, Jr., residing in the city of Everett, and serving as Assistant Secretary to the sponsoring committee.

On January 5, 1967, a preliminary count of the signatures of the initiative petition was concluded by the office of the Secretary of State, and the result of which indicated that there were approximately 136,163 names signed to the petition.

The canvass of signatures supporting Initiative Measure No. 32 to the Legislature will be completed as soon as possible. If at the conclusion of our checking we find that at least 100,022 valid signatures of currently registered voters have been submitted, a full report will be given simultaneously to both branches of the Legislature. It is estimated that it will take approximately four weeks' time from this date to complete the checking of the signatures.

Respectfully submitted,
A. Ludlow Kramer,
Secretary of State.

The Speaker referred the message to the Committee on Natural Resources.

"Mr. Speaker, members of the Washington state legislature:

"It is a great honor for me to make a brief report to you of some of the major accomplishments and recommendations of the twenty-seven members of the Legislative Council. It was a privilege for me to serve as the chairman of this council and it is my opinion, after serving eight years in the legislature, that we had the hardest working Legislative Council in the history of the state. I feel that the results which we have come up with and on which I will report will bear me out on this. Many people do not realize the work that our interim committees do. We had many committees working during the interim and I am sure, if you will review their reports, they will be of great assistance to you. The Council, as a whole, during the biennium met nine times to receive committee reports, and the committees of the Council had a total of over two hundred meetings during that period. We originally had thirty-one assignments made to the Council by the House and the Senate. These were extensively increased by requests from many organizations, individuals, state officials and legislators; and resulted in more than seventy specific recommendations in actual bill form. The Council recommendations deal with the urgent problems of metropolitan areas, the structure and facilities of the legislature itself, our tax structure, the complex areas having impact on people as individuals, and the preservation of open space and management of the state's natural resources. The Council also made intensive studies in the areas of operation of our state institutions, labor and management relations, salary structures of our state employees, and the proposals for reorganization of state government.

"The committee makeup of the Council is as follows: We have the Executive Committee; the Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee of which Representative Copeland is chairman; and a special Air Safety Committee also chairmanned by Representative Copeland; the Commerce, Industry, Trades and Professions Committee under the chairmanship of Senator Greive; the Judiciary Committee with Senator Woodall as chairman; the Labor Committee of which Representative May is chairman; the Local Government Committee with Jack Burtch as its chairman; Parks, Recreation and Tourism headed by Representative Garrett; Public Assistance of which Representative Moon is chairman; the Revenue and Regulatory Agencies with Senator Gissberg as chairman; the State Government and Legislative Procedures Committee of which Representative O'Brien is chairman; and the State Institutions and Youth Development Committee with Senator Kupka as chairman.

"These gentlemen deserve a vote of thanks from all of us for the fine work they did and so do the members of their committees and all other members of committees who served the legislature during the interim period.

"In summarizing our recommendations, I will not make reference to each bill but, generally, to the areas which they cover in the hope that you will give these legislative recommendations additional consideration, knowing that many of your fellow legislators have already adopted them. It is these recommendations from the Council and other interim committees which you will receive reports on later that will make up a large part of the program coming out of this session. The interim committee work will be as fruitful as you make it, for the work of our interim committees is your suggested legislative program, and I stress the words "your legislative program." And, therefore, I feel as an ex-legislator, this program deserves the highest amount of consideration from its own body. Most of the legislators who have served on these committees are returning and I know that they feel strongly about the work that they have done on these programs and the merit that is behind each and every one of these bills which they have recommended.

"For the strengthening of local government and the solving of many conflicts in organization and finance, the Council has proposed that cities be given more latitude in annexing the bordering areas; this could eliminate hundreds of problem areas. A boundary review board to determine what boundary changes of local government are in the public interest is another proposed bill, and also there is one to authorize counties to carry out the functions of water supply and sewage disposal in areas in which public health might be endangered. Enabling laws were drafted to assist fire protection districts in their financing, for expanding local improvement bonding powers for cities, and the establishment of a Department of Community Affairs as liaison between the state and local government. Other proposals would retain some protection for communities which are fearful of being annexed or incorporated, by a method of controlling zoning in their communities, which appeals to individuals; and, conversely, a bill to place tighter restrictions on new incorporations of cities, as recommended by the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations and our Urban Areas Committee of 1963. It is the desire of the Council to give to local government the tools they need and we feel that this legislation which is recommended will work toward that end.

"The Council Subcommittee on Judiciary carried on a tremendous work program, including such major assignments as revision of the uniform commercial code and major revision in the Administrative Procedure Act; this latter being designed to strengthen legislative control of administrative rules and regulations. The Subcommittee also developed several very complex proposals which would clarify the legal limits of interest charges on retail credit, consumer finance programs, and the definition of usury, yet impose no burden on legitimate firms in this field of endeavor. Other bills would implement the concept of due process and private rights, and deal with out-of-state loan companies, regulation of debt adjusters, and garnishment. One final mention of this complex work relates to a new concept in Washington State, although it has already been implemented in New York and California, calling for modest compensation of the victims of crimes committed by individuals who have escaped from custody or are on probation.

"An outstanding example of what can be done by reasonable compromise and careful consideration of many factors over a long period of time is a proposed bill to license child care agencies, initiated because of the tragic deaths in Seattle of three small children. The Public Assistance Committee has worked hard and this proposal has received support from practically every agency, public or private, concerned and would, if enacted, insure good standards of safety for such child care centers.

"From the Subcommittee on Revenue and Regulatory Agencies the Council has approved and presented a bill which would for the first time in Washington State bring to light information on charitable trusts and foundations and require reporting of their operations to ensure that the designated beneficiaries actually received the funds from the foundation. This committee also developed a constitutional amendment and the necessary implementing statute to allow authorization of assessment of land on basis of actual use. The Council members hoped strongly that this will buy a little more time for our state by preserving existing open space, while meantime all possible steps are taken to purchase such land outright for state or local government units, or at least to allow easements without such complete purchase. Tremendous and sudden developments in King and Snohomish counties provided graphic examples of the potential application of this bill.

"Other bills resulting from the study during the biennium of the Revenue Subcommittee are:

- (1) To remove the setting of salaries of elective county officials from the arena of competition and place it into the hands of the Governor's Salary Advisory Committee which uses objective and detached criteria in so doing; and
- (2) Tighter regulation on personal property assessment.

"In the important area of our parks and tourism operations, the Council has submitted legislation to strengthen the financial structure of the Parks and Recreation Commission, as well as the operations of the Department of Natural Resources and the Interagency Committee on Outdoor Recreation.

"The Subcommittee on Commerce reveals in its recommendations that a giant step forward in dealing with air pollution can be taken by the session if the proposed clean-air act is adopted. This bill, together with one to allow certain tax incentives for pollution control devices and another calling for study of the auto exhaust problem will make a major attack on the problem and for the first time provide for statewide standards, adequate enforcement and implementation of the local and regional agencies. The draft bill has already received national attention and may serve as a model for other states. The Subcommittee on Commerce also has presented enabling legislation to allow world trade centers and to expand the resources of small investment companies.

"The Subcommittee on State Government and Legislative Procedures reports that in the field of state government the legislature will have an opportunity to regain its proper place in the appropriation and expenditure process during the interim. A bill to allow legislative members to work with the Governor in authorizing emergency expenditures will provide through the interim the same powers possessed by the legislature during the session. The committee has also prepared bills which would provide office space and funds for a newly elected governor prior to his first session. Another proposal would require audits of concessionaires located on state lands or in state parks. This subcommittee also made an exhaustive review of the report on the reorganization of Washington State government which should be of interest to each legislator.

"The Executive Committee of the Council during the past biennium conducted substantive research and has proposed that the members of the House and the Senate give consideration to consolidating the legislature's interim activities in three major agencies, namely the Legislative Council, Legislative Budget Committee and the Joint Committee on Highways, and that every member of the Legislature serve on at least one committee. It is hoped that this would provide more permanent career staff, better administration, better use of facilities and more economical operation in general.

"One result of our work which you have already observed was the implementation of pre-printing of bills to permit a much earlier start on the work of our standing committees. Another proposal which our members developed is that there be a joint session to provide an opportunity for all members of the legislature to have reports from their subordinate bodies describing the work done during the biennium and also allowing the public to know that legislators are indeed active, other than at session time. Another legislative device which we hope will be favorably received is the proposal for a short resumé or explanation of the purposes of each bill. Finally, in view of the tremendous expansion of federal grant programs and the complexity of federal-state relations, we have suggested that the legislature's agencies, as well as the Director of Central Budget Agency, be regularly informed as to the implementations of such federal grant programs, particularly as to commitments to which they may make, binding the state legislature to future operational costs.

"Our Special Committee on Air Safety started with one simple assignment which was to review the adequacy of our search and rescue procedures for downed aircraft. However, from it and other hearings developed a whole package which, if enacted, should greatly strengthen our search and rescue procedures with central coordination, and which would ensure registration of all private aircraft, and which should provide reasonable funds for aviation education and safety programs and for development of our small airports and emergency landing strips, with matching funds.

"From our Subcommittee on Agriculture and Natural Resources came recommendations which indicated that there is a great need for expanded laboratory research facilities and that, perhaps, one central complex should be established for integrating the work of state agencies. This committee also recommended extension in the maximum term of leasing of state land to allow a reasonable period of time for private enterprise to amortize its capital expenditures and thereby provide greater income to the state.

"Our Labor Committee had many hearings with management and with labor concerning industrial insurance and coverage under workmen's compensation. They were unable to come to any agreement between labor and management in this area and, therefore, have no specific bills to be considered by the Legislature.

"Our State Institutions and Youth Development Committee reviewed the administration of medications by unqualified people, the condition of our state institutions, the need of additional institutions and the inadequate salaries being paid to those people at the present time. The Council made a recommendation in this area to take immediate action to increase the salaries of our employees in our institutions, and I want to inform you that it was the unanimous feeling of our entire Council that immediate action be taken in this particular area.

"A further explanation of all of these committees will be in our biennial report which will be out soon.

"In conclusion, may I observe that this short summary, I believe, is an indication of the great amount of research time and effort that went into the Council's study and resulting recommendations, and, as these proposed bills pass through your various standing committees, I hope that all members of the Legislature will have an opportunity to analyze them carefully and to call upon individual members of the Council, or its staff, for explanation at any time during the session.

"On behalf of all of the Legislative Council members who have supported the different bills which will be before you in the coming session, I only ask you today for your consideration and, we hope, your support in passing what we thought during the interim would be legislation to keep our State moving ahead in the way I know we all desire.

"Again I want to thank you for the opportunity of being with you today to make this report. It certainly is a pleasure to see you all again."

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker introduced Representative Copeland, who presented a plaque to Mr. Schaefer in appreciation of his services as chairman of the Legislative Council during the interim between the 1965 and 1967 sessions.

The Speaker:

"At this time I would like to call on Representative Henry Backstrom, Chairman of the Interim Budget Committee, for a report of that committee."

Mr. Backstrom:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the House, ladies and gentlemen:

"My report is certainly not going to be as extensive as that of our honored guest, the past Speaker of this House. I do, however, want to give you a short resumé and review of some of the things which the Budget Interim Committee has concerned itself with during the interim. Before I do that, I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation to the members of the committee who have so diligently and conscientiously worked upon this committee.

"We have, I want to say to you, an excellent staff. Certainly, we have gained in many areas of development, but, in addition, we have assembled a very, very fine staff which will benefit those who will follow on the committee. For myself, I want to express my appreciation for the opportunity of being chairman during this past biennium.

"To those of you who are freshmen, I want to say that this committee is one of longstanding. It was established by enactment in this House in 1951. It concerns itself basically and principally with the study of departmental budgeting and with the matter of hearings at the various institutions. Incidentally, for the information of those of you who are not on the committee and have not had an opportunity to visit with us the various areas where we have held meetings, we have visited all the institutions throughout the state, including the institutions of higher education and the penal institutions.

"We did this specifically for the purpose of getting the proper perspective and first-hand information. This, I think, we got. We have offered some recommendations. Some will be incorporated into bills that will be introduced; some that encompass some of our recommendations are already introduced.

"Let me tell you something about the specific areas in which we have concerned ourselves. One was the matter of personnel of our institutions and their compensation. Many of you know, and certainly we know more specifically after visiting the institutions, the conditions that prevail there by reason of the lack of proper pay of the personnel. The state personnel board has completed its survey and we concur with it. The bill which I believe, Mr. Speaker, is over here today from the Senate is one that will take care of the emergency need. I believe you should think very seriously about what you do with this bill. I would hope that this may not become a partisan matter, for certainly the recommendations on the part of the budget committee are strictly bipartisan. I am happy to say that throughout the biennium we have operated entirely on a bipartisan basis.

"We have also studied the matter of the real estate excise tax, whether procedures on the local level should be revised. Now the schools petition the county commissioners as to their needs and then by resolution the commissioners decide whether they will impose the one percent real estate excise tax or pay the districts seventeen cents a day. We have also tried, and I believe we have succeeded, to develop recommendations which would make this tax uniform. We found throughout the state that some were collecting and some were not collecting on real estate transactions, which demonstrated the need for equalization of tax treatment. This, of course, is near to the heart of many of you and certainly to me, having served on the revenue committee for a number of years. I think we are making some progress in this particular area.

"In the matter of revenue projection, I think we have been able to come closer than many did last session. Of course, at that time we didn't have the guidelines to go by that we have had during the interim. The state general fund, as you know, has some ninety-eight million dollars revenue in excess of expenditures that may be applied against the needs in appropriations.

"We studied public assistance very carefully and came up with a number of suggestions. These suggestions, of course, are in the area of enhancing and developing faster action insofar as obtaining federal aid for the aged and getting them off state general assistance and into the federal aid area. We have recommended lowering the time limit for OASI eligibility and improving procedures.

"One recommendation, to which the gentleman who is to follow will probably take exception, but one in which we sincerely and honestly believe, is in the highway finance area. We feel that personnel and objectives should be specifically spelled out in highway budgeting. We also think that the highway budget should be channeled through the ways and means committee. If it is not, then the ways and means committee should be apprised of what is in it, so that they may offer some suggestions, or at least have something to say about it. This issue is one which has been discussed for a number of years. Some have strong feelings on it and others do not. The highway department and the highway interim committee probably have the strongest feelings in this matter. We will see what happens.

"The committee studied the impact of Senate Joint Resolution No. 22, relating to the school funds. We have recommended a bill, which has already been introduced, to make it possible to implement this constitutional amendment. We also offered a resume of the impact of Initiative No. 226. Of course we do not now have to worry about the initiative which was rejected by the people. Despite the fact that it lost at the general election, we still hold a responsibility to the cities.

"Mobile home taxation is another area which we studied very thoroughly. We came up with some recommendations that the house trailer people do not agree with. They were very unhappy, in fact, that we increased their excise tax. They wanted to go on a property tax-basis in some instances, particularly on those trailers from which the wheels can be removed so that they become more permanent. However, trailers without wheels are still mobile, and this particular problem is one that we probably will be concerned with during this legislative session.

"The matter of the increase of the tax on malt beverages is one that was studied very carefully. As you know, in 1965 we increased this tax, to the unhappiness of the industry. It is a matter that you can't look upon casually. You must take into consideration the economy that it affects, because 65 percent of the beer produced in Washington is exported. Therefore, we must look at not only the tax and its revenue, but also the impact on the industry and the economy of the state.

"We studied the matter of the interagency committee for outdoor recreation and came to some conclusions and offered recommendations. These are not in line with the thinking of all the members nor, certainly, with all the people in this House. However, we will offer a bill to move the interagency committee either to the commerce and economic development department or to community affairs. There seems to be a considerable amount of sympathy with the proposal that it be moved to community affairs and, if this continues, the bill will probably be introduced to accomplish this.

"The last item I want to mention to you is school support. You have all received a copy of the committee report. I hope you will study it, because I am not going to attempt to tell you all about it today, because of lack of time. I wish to thank you for your attentiveness, and I also wish to thank you for the opportunity of serving you. I hope the budget committee will continue to do the kind of job it has during the past interim. Thank you very much."

The Speaker:

"Thank you, Representative Backstrom, for the fine report. At this time I would like to call on Representative Leonard Sawyer, Chairman of the Joint Committee on Highways, for his report. Representative Sawyer."

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives:

"First, I wish to state that serving as chairman of the Joint Committee on Highways has probably been one of the most delightful experiences I have had in my legislative experience, and I wish to express my appreciation to the members of that committee, because I think we were one of the most active interim committees of the legislature. We had an outstanding committee. We embarked on a strong, aggressive program, and I know that without the strength of the members on that committee we would not have been able to proceed on the chart we set. It is indeed a pleasure for me to report on some of the things we did and some of the things we attempted to do.

"At our first meetings following the last session of the legislature we felt one of the first problems to be dealt with was a matter of relations between the highway department and the legislators, as well as the general public. The highway department was not getting its message across to the people or to the legislators, and we felt if something wasn't done our highway program might suffer. We felt the first thing we had to do was to look at the image of our interim committee itself.

"I had often heard it mentioned that the interim committee on highways was just a tool of the highway department. I did not believe this was true. We felt that one of the first things we had to do was to establish the fact that we were an independent legislative body, and I think this fact was very clearly demonstrated when we met at the Good Roads Convention in Bellingham, September 1965. At that time we stated the objective of our interim committee, and I would like to read to you from the speech I made at that time:

"If there has been any criticism of this committee, it has been that it is a tool and mouthpiece of the highway department and commission. I do not believe this and, knowing the makeup of the present committee, I know it will not be true of us. There is a responsibility of the highways commission and department to administer the highway program. This is not our duty, but it is our duty to reflect the opinions and desires of the people of the state of Washington. We must determine what the people want, study the feasibility of these wants, and thereby direct the highway commission and department to accomplish those wants infallibly. The people of the state pay for the use of our highways. It is to these people and not to any state department that we must tender our allegiance.'

"We realized when we embarked on this course that we were going to be bitterly criticized, and that we would have to work hard, and work hard we did. We actually met three times more often than any other highway committee had done. We held a total of one hundred seventeen meetings. It was a hard-working committee.

"In trying to determine the main problem between the highway department, the public, and the legislature, we decided it was just a simple lack of communications. The highway department was not telling its story. They would come to the legislature and hand us a blank check. We were supposed to appropriate four hundred million dollars to them without question. We also discovered that when the highway department appeared before our committee they assumed the attitude of an adversary. They were telling only the facts they thought would help present their position, but there was a definite reluctance to discuss highway matters with the legislators. We also determined that our highway priority system was definitely breaking down. It wasn't doing the job.

"We had to decide what our approach should be. We felt that we had to establish independent sources of information if we were to act independently, and independently judge the highway program. For the first time the committee hired a budget analyst. This man's duty has been to go over the highway budget, talk to the highway people, and help them prepare their budget so that the legislators themselves will understand it. Also we instructed this same person to act as our "oversight" man. In other words, when the legislature had instructed the highway department to do certain things, there was no followup to see if these things had been done, and many had not been done.

"In addition, we hired independent firms of engineers to give us an analysis of the priority system, and what we could do to improve it, and to analyze the practices of the highway department. You will get a full report of that.

"We attempted to reorganize our staff on a permanent basis and obtained the services of two excellent interns who were each assigned secretarial services. We also took complete minutes of every meeting, so if any member desires information on any of the bills we studied, he has the entire testimony taken before our committee available to him.

"We feel that the results of these activities have been excellent, and I believe one thing that had a great deal to do with it was the excellent cooperation the highway department gave us, once they found out we were attempting to be constructive. As a result, I believe when you go to your highway meetings this time and talk to the highway department you will find a true priority system for the first time. You will be able to compare any road in your district with a road in any other district, and you will see all the factors that went into that priority—why one road was given priority above another. The information will be there. The department has done an excellent job. They have done away with the sufficiency ratings and saying this is the priority system. I believe you will see one of the best jobs in the priority program you have ever seen. You will find the highway department ready to give you the information you want.

"Also in the interim committee report, I would like to direct your attention to pages 70 and 72 which have to do with planning. We found out there was no comprehensive planning between the county, cities, and the state. Each one is completely independent and they have maintained this independence. We found there were budgeting practices which should be corrected, and the highway department has now developed what we call program budgeting so that they will be able to go to any project and tell exactly where it is at the present time, what money is allotted to it, what has been expended, and where that money is going.

"On the construction program, they were not able to tell you at the Olympia office where any particular construction project was or report on its progress. They will now be able to tell you this. You will get a six-year plan broken down in detail by biennium with a map showing what the portion of the highway is by color and what will be coming up each biennium. With this information we can make our decisions, we will have the information we need.

"I think you will see a completely different budgeting report to this legislative branch. This will be a thorough report. It will be presented so you will understand it. If you don't like something, you will have the facts and information to resist. I think this has been the main problem we have had. We wanted our own independent studies and wanted as much information as was available. We also found out that the highway department was organized to handle a budget of from only about seventy-five to one-hundred million dollars, as they had since 1947. I wish to report they have modernized their procedure so they can now handle a budget that will soon be around five hundred million dollars. They are doing a good job here and I hope we can encourage them to do better. We are confident we will have a better-equipped highway department to handle the complex problems we are facing because of our state's expanding society.

"In addition, our committee was directed by the 1965 legislature to conduct certain studies. You will find in our report the results of these studies and our recommendations. We also thought the cover of our report might be of interest to you. On one side you will see pictured the highway department road system as it is today, and on the other, the way it was when it first started. I think this report contains a wealth of background information for people not directly associated with the highway projects, as such. There is a complete resumé of each one of the departments, their organization, their past district, and also their legislative recommendations, so that you will be able to study these recommendations and obtain information prior to their being presented.

"Further, the strength of the fact-finding information this report contains is the result of the work of the subcommittee chairmen. They did a tremendous job. These chairmen were: Subcommittee on Agriculture, Representative Horace Bozarth; on Auto Insurance, Representative Arnold Wang; on County-City Administration, Senator Dewey Donohue; on Extensions, Representative William McCormick; on Federal Programs, Representative Bob McDougall; on Ferries, Representative Red Beck; on Industrial Development, Senator John Petrich; on Motor Vehicle Administration, Representative Paul Conner; on Reciprocity and Weights, Senator Robert Bailey; on Safety, Senator Al Henry; on Finance, Senator Nat Washington; on Planning, Senator August Mardesich; and on Mass Transit and Toll Financing, Representative Al Leland. The reports of these subcommittees and their recommendations you will find in your copy of the report. I think they are quite complete.

"I also wish to draw to your attention the fact that in our deliberations we decided we would do exactly what our title suggested; we would be a fact-finding committee. Therefore, we have not made extensive recommendations except in those areas where we were directed to do so, or where the committee felt very strongly or thought it necessary to take immediate action. We have prepared for you a complete breakdown of all the fields of study we covered and the status of each—whether there is only information available, whether there is legislation drafted, or whether legislation can be drafted quickly. The information is presented, we hope, so that both sides of the issues are represented. There are many approaches to some of the problems, so rather than the interim committee making recommendations, we attempted to dig out the facts, so that the legislators themselves would have the information available to them for whichever approach they desire to follow. Our staff is on a permanent basis and available to you. We do want, at this time, to compliment our staff, because they did a tremendous job and we are very proud of them. I think they have made available the information that will assist the legislators at this session, and I think the format is set so that information will be available for us during the interim period as well.

"In closing, I would like to say that with the background work we have done we think we are better prepared to handle the highway budget than Mr. Backstrom. We feel Mr. Backstrom has so many problems on so many matters in the appropriations committee that they should keep their cotton-picking fingers off our problems.

"Our committee is proud of its accomplishments. We hope we have contributed to the image of what a legislative interim committee can and should do. Because of this, we feel we have furthered the highway program for our state. I would like to close by using for the last time a jingle I think the highway committee people are sick of: How wondrous are the dreams we spin of what we'll do when our ship comes in; meanwhile, forgetting all the while that we forgot to send any out. I want to tell you we have a lot of ships at sea, and we want you to come down and get aboard."

The Speaker:

"Thank you, Mr. Sawyer.

"I would like at this time by way of compliment to recognize the other interim committees and their chairmen: the Joint Committee on Education, Representative Frank Brouillet, chairman; the Temporary Advisory Council on Public Higher Education, Senator Gordon Sandison, chairman; the Committee on Intergovernmental Relations, Lieutenant Governor John Cherberg, chairman; the Interim Committee on Insurance, Senator Karl Herrmann, chairman; the State Public Pension Commission, Senator John Ryder, chairman; Joint Committee on Governmental Cooperation, Representative Mark Litchman, chairman; the Committee on Water Resources, Senator Wilbur Hallauer, chairman; the Joint Interim Committee on Facilities and Operations, Senator Fred Dore, chairman; the Interim Committee on Fisheries, Representative Dick Kink, chairman; the Legislative Committee on Game and Fish, Representative Hugh Kalich, chairman; the Committee on Industrial Insurance Appeals, Senator Bob Greive, chairman; the Columbia Interstate Commission, Senator John L. Cooney, chairman; the Statute Law Committee, Senator Robert Charette, chairman; the Judicial Council, Judge Hugh J. Rosellini, chairman; the Municipal Code Committee, Senator Martin Durkan, chairman; and the Constitutional Advisory Council, Representative William Klein, chairman. We wish to compliment these chairmen and their committees for the work done during this past interim."

An Act relating to state government; making appropriations for salary adjustments and employee benefits for the period beginning February 1, 1967 and ending June 30, 1967; and declaring an emergency.

Mr. O'Brien moved that the rules be suspended, and that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 be advanced to second reading and read the second time by sections.

Mr. O'Brien demanded a call of the House, and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present except Representatives Bottiger and Chapin.

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the absent members were excused, and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the motion by Mr. O'Brien that the rules be suspended, and that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 be advanced to second reading and read the second time by sections.

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien, who spoke in favor of the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton on a point of order.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, I don't believe Mr. O'Brien's motion is debatable."

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. Gorton."

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I call attention to you and your majority leadership that it is an established custom in the House of Representatives to allow at least one person to speak for a motion to suspend the rules and one against. This has been the practice for many sessions and last session the Speaker was even more lenient and allowed this question to be debated. I feel that at least one person should have the opportunity to speak in behalf of this motion and someone on the other side should have the opportunity to speak against this motion."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, I am going to rule you out of order. I am going to indicate to you that the rules committee will consider this matter, and if it is the feeling of the group that the rule should be changed, then that is fine; but as long as the rules do not allow debate on the suspension of the rules to move a bill to second reading, I am going to rule that it is not debatable."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, my point of parliamentary inquiry is that I don't know what we are voting on and I would like to have either the Speaker or someone designated by him explain what we are voting on."

The Speaker:

"It is a vote on the suspension of the rules to move Senate Bill No. 1 to second reading."

Mr. Smith:

"What is Senate Bill No. 1 about?"

The Speaker:

"I think you have that information in your billbook, Mr. Smith."

Mr. Brouillet demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moon on a point of order.

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, are the amendments to Senate Bill No. 1 in our books? They aren't in mine. I would like to know what the amendments have been to this bill."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Speaker, would Mr. O'Brien yield to question?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, will you yield to question?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, I will."

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. O'Brien, will you explain to me what Senate Bill No. 1 is?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, I will."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton on a point of order.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, yielding to question to discuss a motion before the House that is not debatable is not in order."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The gentleman asked me a very simple question and if the House will be tolerant, I am certain I can answer it very quickly. It has to do with a critical situation in the institutions where twenty-two thousand people are underpaid."

Mr. Gorton:

"Will the Speaker rule on my point of order?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, I think you recognize you are out of order. We will continue with the proceedings."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Day on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Day:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask you a question. Is it true that all but two of the Senators are sponsors of this bill?"

The Speaker:

"I can't tell you that. Perhaps the reading clerk can."

Mr. Day:

"I will be glad to have the reader answer. Is that true?"

The Reading Clerk:

"There are forty-six names."

Mr. Day:

"All but three of the Senators are sponsors of this bill?"

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to suspend the rules, advance Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 to second reading, and read the bill the second time by sections, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 51; nays, 46; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Beck, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Clocksin, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Leckenby, Litchman, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Richardson, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren, Wanamaker, Wolf—51.

Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, I tried to obtain recognition before you made the referral. I wanted to ask, if the bill has an effective date earlier than the date on which it is finally passed, if the date would have to be changed and if, therefore, some of the effect of the bill would be lost?"

The Speaker:

"I think this would be a determination of the committee as to whether or not any adjustments are necessary. I believe the Appropriations Committee can determine this matter, Mr. Smith."

MOTION

Mr. Sawyer moved that the House be put at ease until 5:00 p.m. in order to consider the vital legislation now before the House.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Sawyer, a motion to put the House at ease is not in order."

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the House dispensed with further business under the call of the House.

The Speaker recognized Mr. Sawyer.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, I move we recess until 8:00 p.m. tonight, so that the Appropriations Committee—"

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton on a point of order.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, a motion to recess may not be debated or explained. If he wishes to make a motion to recess he should be permitted to do so, but it cannot be argued before the motion is put."

Mr. Sawyer moved that the House recess until 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Sawyer demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 2.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bottiger and Chapin—2.

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Grant on a point of inquiry.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Speaker, did the reading clerk announce the meeting of the Appropriations Committee for the purpose of discussing Engrossed Senate Bill No. 1?"

The Speaker:

"I think if you will refer to your schedule, it will indicate when that committee will meet, Mr. Grant."

House Resolution No. 67-8 by Mr. King:

Whereas, One of the important functions of the legislature is to assist the young men and women who are its employees toward a greater understanding of our system of government; and

Whereas, Many of the young men who work in the bill room have come to work at the legislature with this specific object in mind; and

Whereas, Some of these men have given up a semester in college or employment at a regular job in order that they might have a chance to learn how the legislature operates; and

Whereas, The bill room in which they work has been moved from its former position adjacent to the House chamber to the basement of the capitol, with the result that they now have no opportunity to observe the legislative process as in the past;

On page 2, section 1, line 32, strike "General Fund Appropriation..... $ 13,418"

Robert F. Goldsworthy, Chairman,
Gerald L. Saling, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: George W. Clarke, Virginia Clocksin, Charles W. Elicker, Dr. Caswell J. Farr, Joe D. Haussler, Timothy H. Hill, Dale E. Hoggins, Gladys Kirk, Jerry C. Kopet, Marjorie W. Mr. Haussler and Mr. Kalich appeared at the bar of the House.

Debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Saling and Clarke (George W.) speaking in favor of its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I understand that Mr. Bottiger's amendment on this matter is on the desk. It calls for a higher amount than the amendment by Mr. Saling, and according to Reed's an amendment with a larger figure should be acted on first."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, that would be the case if that were the sole content of the amendment, and there is much more to the amendment than that. I think that Mr. Bottiger's amendment can be considered in order after the one before the House now is fully considered."

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I refer you to Reed's, section 154."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"It seems to me that this provision refers to a situation in which there are blanks and we are filling them in by amendment. Now, the amounts are already here. If this were to be a blank amount, then we would start with the highest amount to fill the blank, but since the amounts are already stated, I would think that your point is not well taken."

Mr. Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Bottiger, Grant, Sheridan, and Chatalas as a substitute to the amendment by Mr. Saling:

On page 2, section 1, strike all of lines 2 through 5 and insert "To the superintendent of public instruction general fund appropriation to be allocated to the school districts in such a way as to provide salary increases for noncertified employees so as to grant such employees salary increases to a rate as near as possible to prevailing rates as established by the department of labor and industries$2,417,800"

Debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking in favor of adoption of the substitute amendment, and Representative Saling speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Adams, Mr. Bottiger yielded to question.

Mr. Adams:

"Isn't it possible that there are a number of these employees who are not in any sense covered under industrial insurance? They are not in extrahazardous employment. I don't believe you would be able to operate with that wording that you have used where you have to go to a schedule that is put out by the department of labor and industries."

Mr. Bottiger:

"In answer to Dr. Adams, I am looking over a list that was supplied to me by the noncertified school employees association of the state of Washington. I don't recognize any sole category here that is not included someplace in the prevailing wage rate, and the prevailing wage rate is what we use for federal matching funds. I wouldn't swear to it, but I think all of these are on the prevailing rate scale."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against adoption of the substitute amendment.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Sheridan on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Sheridan:

"Mr. Speaker, I have another amendment on the desk bearing on this same section, which has to do only with the amount of the appropriation. In a way it is not completely germane to the amendments before us now, which deal with the manner in which this money will be allocated and spent. My question is, if this particular amendment is disposed of, would my amendment then be in order? Would it be considered, or should I try to attach it to the amendment now pending?"

The Speaker:

"Once the subject matter of the section has been changed, we will have to continue on with the next amendment, but your amendment would be in order."

Mr. Sheridan:

"Following action on this particular amendment?"

The Speaker:

"Yes."

The motion was lost, and the substitute amendment to the amendment by Mr. Saling was not adopted.

Mr. Sheridan moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Saling to House Bill No. 186:

In the last line of the amendment by Mr. Saling to page 2, section 1, strike "$2,417,800" and insert "$3,125,000"

Debate ensued, Representatives Sheridan and O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Kink demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of Mr. Sheridan's amendment to the amendment by Mr. Saling to House Bill No. 186. The motion was lost, and the amendment to the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 51; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—45.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—51.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Day, Litchman, Perry—3.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Saling to House Bill No. 186.

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

The purpose of my amendment to House Bill No. 186, is to clarify to school districts that it is up to them to determine whether the noncertificated personnel are granted a percentage increase, or whether they are granted an across-the-board increase. In any event, the total amount appropriated must go to improving the salaries of noncertificated employees of school districts.

Gerald L. Saling,
District 5-B.

Mr. Goldsworthy moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 1, line 18, strike "$2,495,769" and insert "$1,395,769"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Goldsworthy yielded to question.

Mr. O'Brien:

"How about this bookkeeping error? Isn't this quite a large error to come in inadvertently on something which I understand was fully considered and on which there was great deliberation? I further understand there was a study made which showed a cost increase of $1.50 per day. Where did this great error come in?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"An error can be one dollar or ten million dollars; an error is an error. This came in from the department with the wrong figure which was written down instead of the right one. This has been corrected by the department. Unfortunately, Mr. O'Brien, it wasn't caught until the appropriations committee held its meeting last night which you tried to deny us. We caught this error and now we are trying to correct it."

Debate ensued, Representative Smith speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Kink demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Sheridan, Mr. Goldsworthy yielded to question.

Mr. Sheridan:

"Would the adoption of your amendment and the consequent reduction in this figure in any way reduce the per day figures which were discussed last night at the appropriations committee hearing? Would they still remain the same as the department submitted to us?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"It will remain the same as the department submitted. Their figures were based on the figure as I am trying to correct it, not the one that came inadvertently to us."

Mr. Sheridan:

"For example, in Class 1, it will be increased from 7.45 to 8.81. That amount of increase would not be affected?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"I don't believe so. I do not have the breakdown on that. I can't give you the figures, but I am being told that is correct."

Further debate ensued, Representative Newschwander speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Goldsworthy, and the motion was carried and the amendment adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 52; nays, 44; absent or not voting, 3.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Gorton, Engrossed House Bill No. 186 was ordered transmitted immediately to the Senate.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

It is with reservations that I vote for House Bill No. 186. The dollar amounts are inadequate. The emergency in salaries for state employees became acute in this biennium. The surplus was accumulated this biennium. Logically it should be used to meet this emergency. Staging delayed implementation of state employees' salary increases only defer problems and shortchange our state employees.

Mary Stuart Lux,
22nd District.

Although I voted for this bill because it helps to alleviate a pressing emergency, I am deeply concerned over the earmarked appropriation to the public school districts. The primary responsibility for allocation of funds for public schools belongs to the local school board. This bill tends to impede the carrying out of that responsibility and infringes on the rights of school directors. There are many, many districts whose salary schedules for noncertificated employees do not require an increase at this time and certainly not on an emergency basis. In those districts, this bill will cause future problems for local school boards and create immediate imbalances.

Richard U. Chapin,
48th District.
Brian J. Lewis,
41st District.

I voted for this emergency appropriation measure because it covered the most needed areas where the most turnover has taken place. While some additional increases may be justified, it would be difficult to add proposed increases without having to force sales taxes or other taxes to an even higher figure than the Governor has already proposed. This bill is an improvement over Senate Bill No. 1 which did not include several areas of need, but could have cost even more in the future.

Harold S. Zimmerman,
17th District.

Faced with the immediate and critical problems of inadequate salaries for public employees and insufficient disbursements to welfare recipients and to nursing homes and hospitals, in Washington state, we, the undersigned, today voted for passage of House Bill No. 186.

In so voting, we do not indicate satisfaction with this measure which we find inadequate and insufficiently responsive to clear and immediate needs involving thousands of citizens of this state. We have offered amendments to strengthen House Bill No. 186; they have been rejected.

Because of the House Democratic membership's concern for elimination of present inadequacies, we voted for this measure in order to: 1, insure at least a first step toward progress in this critical area; 2, to allow immediate consideration of the Bill by the Senate; and 3, to make a maximum effort to cooperate with all members of this body.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Copeland, Engrossed House Bill No. 186 was ordered transmitted immediately to the Senate.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted not to concur in the Senate's amendments to House Bill No. 186 because there were not enough committed votes to support a five percent sales tax. Because of this, teachers and other state employees not covered in the act would not receive even the amount recommended by the Governor. Therefore, I could not vote for a bill that would discriminate against one group of state employees, or that was irresponsible in that it does not consider funds to support it.

Dale E. Hoggins,
21st District.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bledsoe, Mr. Goldsworthy yielded to question.

Mr. Bledsoe:

"Mr. Goldsworthy, are you aware of whether the Senate is in session now or not?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"Mr. Bledsoe, I am glad that you asked that question, because the Senate is not in session now. This is inconceivable to me, after all the grand oratory and deathless prose that we have heard over the past days about how the House is fiddling while the Senators burn and that sort of thing. Then, after the heavy schedule that the House put in order to hurry this back to the Senate, they all go home for the weekend. Now, the House of Lords, as we affectionately call them, may consider themselves above the state of Washington and the House in particular. Really, Mr. Bledsoe, that was a good question. I am glad you asked it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, in the previous statement it was indicated that one of the houses of the legislature may be lying down on the job. Since my Senator is involved I feel pretty strongly about this, and I would like to say a couple of words about it. The House did fiddle from Monday through Thursday and took no action on employees' raises. They had to wait until their leadership could catch up and lead them and tell them what to do. Our leadership had known ahead and pointed the way, but they had to wait. I am reminded of the time of the big march on Washington, D. C., when Martin Luther King and the others were back in there talking and the crowd was going ahead, and he had to ask, 'Which way do I go? I've got to get up front to lead them.' This is what the House had to do; it had to wait to be led. Now, the Senate in its wisdom sent back over to us their ideas and the House wouldn't accept it again. So they have a conference. The Senate knows that the conference committee is going to need some time to work this out. They are not putting up a phony front to pretend they are doing what they aren't. They are facing the facts. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the House adjourned until 11:00 a.m., Monday, January 16, 1967.

Don Eldridge, Speaker.

Malcolm McBeath, Chief Clerk.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House Einar Skrinde, President of the state Future Farmers of America, and appointed Representatives Moon and Newhouse to escort him to a place on the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"I would like to say to this fine young gentleman that it is a real pleasure to honor a young man who has gone so far in this great organization of Future Farmers of America. There is so much publicity given to the things our youngsters do when they are at fault, it is indeed a pleasure to have an outstanding young man like Einar with us today. I would like to have him say a few words to the members of the House."

Einar Skrinde:

"Mr. Speaker, honorable Representatives, the Washington State Association of the Future Farmers of America can view with pride the accomplishments of their organization during the past thirty-six years. Since being chartered in the 1930's, more than ninety-three thousand boys have been members. Each year since 1930, our organization has contributed over one million dollars to the economy of Washington. Our association has grown steadily from twenty-eight chapters chartered the first year to one hundred forty chartered in 1967, with six thousand members. Few people realize the fact that even in our present day of scientific revolution agriculture is our nation's biggest industry, with one-third of the population of the United States employed in agricultural occupations. Emphasis is not only necessary in science, mathematics, and engineering, but in vocational agriculture as well. It is important that all of us may continue to eat well and economically. On behalf of the Washington State Association of the Future Farmers of America, I would like to thank you for your past and continuing interest and support of agricultural education, for agriculture is truly the strength of America. Thank you."

MOTION

Mr. Wolf moved that House Bill No. 287 be rereferred to Committee on Local Government.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Litchman, Mr. Wolf yielded to question.

Mr. Litchman:

"Mr. Wolf, I am sorry, but I am not aware of the contents of this bill. In the past, those making a request to transfer a bill from one committee to another have customarily announced to the membership the contents of the bill and the purpose of transferring it for the benefit of those of us who are unaware of this particular bill. I wonder if you might mention briefly the purpose of the bill and then why you wish to have it transferred. I'm sure there wouldn't be any objection to that."

Mr. Wolf:

"This is being done at the request of the prime sponsor, Mr. Lewis. May I rerefer your question to Mr. Lewis?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes."

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Speaker, the bill is one which proposes to create a municipal industrial development fund to make moneys available from the state government to those local units of government that are facing a problem of rapid expansion of municipal facilities by virtue of sudden industrial expansion. This would make loans available to them for periods up to five years and, basically, they would be repaid from anticipated increased property taxes that would arise out of the industrial development. I think this properly is a subject for the Committee on Local Government."

The motion was carried.

Dale E. Hoggins, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: R. Ted Bottiger, Robert L. Charette, George W. Clarke, Virginia Clocksin, Norwood Cunningham, S. E. "Sid" Flanagan, Carlton A. Gladder, Gary Grant, Doris J. Johnson, Hugh "Bud" Kalich, Joseph L. McGavick, Gordon W. Richardson, John M. Rosellini, Gerald L. Saling, David G. Sprague, F. Pat Wanamaker, Harold S. Zimmerman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Mahaffey moved that the committee amendment be adopted.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Brouillet, Mr. Mahaffey yielded to question.

Mr. Brouillet:

"I need some legal advice here. In House Bill No. 107 originally, you didn't use this language. You just referred to the section. Why do we now have this long amendment? Wouldn't it have been simpler just to use the original language of the bill?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"It did say that the moneys would be invested as the members of the Teachers' Retirement System have invested theirs, and we thought that would be sufficient; but the attorney general's office thought we should specify exactly how we would invest the money."

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 107 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

House Bill No. 42, by Representatives Bledsoe, Flanagan, and Bozarth (by departmental request):

Authorizing director of game to contract for use of real property for public hunting and fishing.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment:

On line 11, after "fishing" strike the period and insert "PROVIDED HOWEVER, The department shall not acquire any further property on the Nisqually flats."

Debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking in behalf of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Bledsoe speaking against its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Whetzel on a point of order.

Mr. Whetzel:

"Mr. Speaker, Reed's Rules, section 160, provides that amendments must be germane. Here we are dealing with a bill that relates to agreements between the game commission and owners of the real property for permitting fishing and hunting, and the amendment relates to an entirely different subject—the acquisition of property by the game department. I think that it is not appropriate to this bill."

The Speaker:

"It would seem that we are entering into a gray area where you could go either way on this. I will leave the decision to the body when they consider this amendment."

Further debate ensued, Representative Flanagan speaking against adoption of the amendment.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 42 was passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 43, by Representatives Bledsoe, Flanagan, and Bozarth (by departmental request):

Requiring tags for hunting mountain sheep, wild turkey and bear.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., January 18, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Natural Resources, to whom was referred House Bill No. 43, requiring tags for hunting mountain sheep, wild turkey and bear, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 19, after "law" and before the period insert " : PROVIDED, The director may issue permits for the control of bears in areas where, in his opinion, property is being damaged. No tag will be required for any bear killed to control damage"

S. E. "Sid" Flanagan, Chairman,
Virginia Clocksin, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Otto Amen, C. W. "Red" Beck, Duane L. Berentson, Alan Bluechel, P. J. "Jim" Gallagher, Dwight S. Hawley, Dan Jolly, Hugh "Bud" Kalich, Dick J. Kink, Bill Kiskaddon, Alfred E. Leland, Brian J. Lewis, W. L. "Bill" McCormick, John S. Murray, Sam Smith, Richard L. Smythe, Keith J. Spanton, Dick Taylor, Fred A. Veroske, Harold S. Zimmerman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Flanagan moved adoption of the committee amendment.

Debate ensued, Representatives Flanagan and Bledsoe speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Heavey speaking against its adoption.

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment was adopted.

Mr. Avey moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, beginning on line 7, delete all the material down to and including the period on line 12.

Debate ensued, Representatives Avey and Hurley speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Flanagan and Bledsoe speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Kink demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Kalich, Barden, and Adams speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Haussler, Day, and Anderson speaking in favor of its adoption.

Mr. Clarke (George W.) demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Lewis on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Speaker, is it possible to have a division of this question between turkeys and bears?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Avey has two amendments. One deletes the section as it applies to bear, and one as it applies to turkeys. They are already divided. I think in the discussion we have wandered afield from the single specific amendment. We have before us now the turkey amendment."

Mr. Lewis:

"Will the clerk read the amendment on which we are now voting?"

The reading clerk read the amendment by Mr. Avey.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the intent of this amendment explained, please."

The Speaker:

"The amendment before the House is the amendment dealing with the deletion of turkeys. We will vote on that one now."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, it appears that since all the debate has been on the bear amendment, that we should vote on that amendment. If we are to vote on the turkey amendment, then we should have debate on the turkey amendment before the vote is taken."

The Speaker:

"There has been an objection by members of the House, and, therefore, we will consider the amendments in order."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of parliamentary inquiry is this: When Mr. Kink demanded an electric roll call, was he speaking of bear or turkey?"

Mr. Kink:

"Mr. Speaker, I was referring to the amendment by Mr. Avey."

The Clerk called the roll on the amendment by Mr. Avey to page 2, lines 7 through 11, of House Bill No. 43, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 4; nays, 91; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Bottiger, Conner, Day, and Hurley—4.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Hausler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sheridan, Smith, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—91.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Backstrom, Copeland, Sawyer, Smythe—4.

Mr. Avey moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, beginning on line 13, delete all the material down to and including the period on line 19.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Avey, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Avey:

"Mr. Flanagan, I would like to know the financial impact of this. How much money will this raise and what will this money be used for? Is it for purchasing more property or what will the money be used for?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"Well, Representative Avey, I can't tell you the amount of revenue that will be generated in dollars on this. The money would be used in the same way as any other revenue that the game department gets through licenses or tags, to pay for the entire program of the state, which includes fish and fish hatcheries and the development of game throughout the state. Of course, as I mentioned before, the mountain sheep and wild turkey part of this was extremely costly, because these animals were entirely extinct and had to be brought in from other areas, certain types that could live here, and put in the proper conditions to finally build up to the point where hunting could be allowed. This is a costly program and the fee doesn't even start to pay the cost of it. Of course, this fee on bears will help pay that, too."

Debate ensued, Representative Avey speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Kink demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Day, Mr. Avey yielded to question.

Mr. Day:

"We have been discussing these amendments of yours quite at length, the last one as well as this one. I noticed that you voted against your last amendment. Now, my question is, did you offer these amendments so that you could vote against them or did you offer them so you could vote for them. Just what was your intent?"

Mr. Avey:

"I offered the amendments with the intent that I was on the right subject. This is not the first mistake I ever made, Mr. Day."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Wolf, Mr. Charette yielded to question.

Mr. Wolf:

"Mr. Charette, as a representative of one of the leading districts in natural resources—and I mean our timber industry—is it not true that the bear population is one of the largest factors in the destroying of small trees?"

Mr. Charette:

"Yes, Mr. Wolf, bear control is one of the real problems of the timber industry. That is why the coastal counties have declared the bear to be a predator. In fact, people who own large tracts of timberlands invite hunters to come in at no charge to hunt bear and kill them. We have an individual living in Grays Harbor county who in his lifetime has killed three thousand five hundred bears. He is employed by the timber companies. These people are much more friendly toward the hunter than some of the eastern Washington farmers."

Further debate ensued, Representative Wolf speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Kalich, Mrs. Lux yielded to question.

Mr. Kalich:

"Mrs. Lux, your name was brought up awhile ago and you are from one of the leading counties in southwest Washington. I wonder, from a lady's standpoint, what you think about paying a two dollar tag on bear?"

Mrs. Lux:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House: I certainly object, and I support Mr. Avey's amendment. This is not only a tag on bear; it is a trap for the deer hunter who is not thinking about bear when he gets his deer tag. Then he goes out hunting and finds the opportunity to bring home a fine specimen and he takes it and is trapped. It is just not justice. I urge you to support Mr. Avey's amendment."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

On request of Mr. Beck, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Flanagan, on the question of these bears being predators over here in Mr. Charette's district, does this bill not exclude the Olympic peninsula where they are declared predators?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"Yes, Mr. Beck, and as long as you have asked that question, I would like to mention that this matter of the damage to timber was brought up in committee. We have already adopted the committee amendment which gives permission to hunt without license or fee where the bears are causing damage, and at the committee meeting the timber people were the ones who proposed this amendment and agreed with it and thought that that took care of the situation."

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the amendment by Mr. Avey to page 2, lines 13 through 19, of House Bill No. 43, and the motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 62; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Bottiger, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Cunningham, Day, Elicker, Farr, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Litchman, Lux, Marzano, May, McCormick, Moon, O'Brien, Reese, Rosellini, Smith, Sprague, Wolf, Zimmerman—34.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Copeland, Sawyer, Smythe—3.

Mr. Conner moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, following line 22, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. In the counties of Clallam, Jefferson, Grays Harbor, Mason, and Thurston, the cougar or lion is declared a predator and a bounty of not less than twenty-five dollars shall be paid for each animal hunted, trapped, taken, or killed."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton on a point of order.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that the amendment is for all substantial purposes identical to House Bill No. 62 and, therefore, is out of order under the provisions of Rule 36."

The Speaker:

"I believe your point is well taken, Mr. Gorton, and the Speaker will rule that the amendment is out of order."

House Bill No. 43 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Wolf, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Wolf:

"Mr. Flanagan, this piece of legislation was introduced in 1965 but did not pass. What specific fish do they want included, in lay language?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"Mr. Wolf, they didn't tell the name of the specific fish. From the information I have, there are quite often new varieties of fish which enter our waters and this bill allows them to classify them as game fish without going through all this legislative procedure. Mr. Barden informs me that one variety now in question is the wall-eyed pike."

Representatives Beck and Avey spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 39, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 96; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 1.

Representatives Mahaffey, Holman, and Johnson spoke in favor of passage of the memorial.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Conner, Mr. Mahaffey yielded to question.

Mr. Conner:

"Mr. Mahaffey, would you concur in the fact that we are fortunate to have such an alert attorney general who discovered this error?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Well, yes. That is what he is paid for."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

I don't know whether it means anything or what the significance of it is, and I don't know whether it adds to the decorum of the House. It is put in a position where the minority can plainly see it and I wonder if there is any chance you could put it someplace else. It isn't a material matter, but it is somewhat disturbing and I don't know why we have to look at it."

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

State of Washington, Office of the Governor,
Olympia, January 20, 1967.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Washington.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In the opening days of this 40th Legislature, there has been much concern voiced about the resolution of our serious and accelerating problems of urban growth. There is, however, another consideration which is both equal in importance and opposite in nature. And that is the eventual disposition of Washington's priceless heritage of natural beauty.

We in this state have been fortunate in the many fine programs we have developed for outdoor recreation and to preserve our natural resources. These programs have been implemented by dedicated and capable management over a long period of years. In addition to our important programs under the Parks and Recreation Commission, the Department of Natural Resources, the Game Commission and the Fisheries Department have made and are making exceptional contributions to protect our resources and provide for their use by our citizens.

In this fastest growing state of the nation, government has an essential obligation to assure that the pursuit of economic growth and individual opportunity does not result in a permanent scar upon our unexcelled beauty, that our physical resources are not indiscriminately squandered and that future generations will have the luxury of viewing the works of nature in a place where they should be both visible and natural.

Our natural beauty—from the seashore to the mountain summit and beyond—is more than just a fact of geography; it is an economic asset to our thriving tourist industry, a preserve for the outdoor sportsman, a principal resource of family recreation and a substantial contributor to both our peace of mind and the pleasure of life in Washington. It is in good measure, the equal and opposite of our Urban Society.

Where the latter is complex, the former should be simple. Where urban areas are crowded by circumstance, our open spaces should be free by design. Where the one demands a maximum of effort, the other deserves a minimum of exploitation.

It is for these reasons that I am delivering today a special message to the Legislature on Natural Resources and Outdoor Recreation.

The position of government in assuming a greater protective role over the intangible of natural beauty is bound to be debated. But, in the judgment of this administration, there is no other available means to achieve the ultimate and necessary balance between economic affluence and natural wealth, and no other sure guarantee that the public interest will be represented within our basic structure of private initiative.

As in the case of urban affairs, time is the uncompromising taskmaster. Where in the past we have considered our natural heritage to be one of perpetual abundance, today we must view it as a vanishing asset, subject to the predictable and inevitable population growth which we must expect for the balance of this century. When you consider that Washington will add 500,000 people in the next four years, and perhaps a million more in the ten years after that, the factor of time becomes the foundation of urgency.

As a beginning step in the protection of natural resources and the promotion of recreational opportunity, this administration will offer specific legislation in four principal areas: the acquisition of open space lands; the designation of scenic highways; the establishment of historic markers and the preservation of ocean beaches.

Ten years ago, the principle of acquiring open space lands was understandably remote. We were then both isolated by geography and insulated by disposition from the population pressures being experienced by other states.

Yet today, the same scenic areas so long considered public property by unspoken consent, are now in increasing danger of being removed entirely from the public domain, and their loss, once accomplished, can never be retrieved.

To assure that we have the capacity to acquire and preserve a portion of these areas, this administration will ask that a $50,000,000 bond issue be referred by the Legislature to the people for approval on the 1968 election ballot. The bill will propose that half of the money requested be designated for use by state agencies and half by local agencies in a cooperative and coordinated effort to set aside and secure for the future some of our great natural heritage.

I particularly want to emphasize that these funds should be used for full development of lands presently set aside for recreational use as well as for the acquisition of new sites.

To further define the state-owned lands stretching from the Columbia River to Cape Flattery and along the straits of Juan de Fuca to the mouth of the Elwha River, I will ask through legislation that they be established as a Washington State Seashore Conservation Area. By so doing, we will impose a reasonable restraint on commercial development, yet at the same time preserve a maximum freedom for all legal outdoor recreation activities, including hunting, except in those areas with high concentrations of people.

Too often we consider our expanding highway system only in the context of getting from one place to another with all possible speed and facility. While convenience is certainly a major criteria, so also is pleasure, and I am today asking that the Legislature create a system of Scenic Recreation Highways. These highways will be designed for the enjoyment of Washington's scenic beauty and planned in conjunction with our existing—and expanding—park and open space development program.

The Parks and Recreation Commission, the Highway Commission, the Game Commission, and the Department of Natural Resources will be able to work on a coordinated program to develop scenic viewpoints, campground, picnic and recreation areas, adjacent trails, water access and other programs necessary to provide for recreational use of those areas along our scenic highways.

Washington's past is certainly a measure of its future, and I believe it is now appropriate that we designate certain sites within our borders which have special historical significance, and develop these in a manner befitting the contribution they have made to our heritage.

The extent of this administration's concern in the area of natural resources and outdoor recreation should not be measured solely by the four executive requests to be submitted.

I have directed the Executive Department to continue an investigation into the question of strip mining in potential recreational areas, with the objective of determining if regulatory legislation is required. The intent of this inquiry is not to impose unnecessary hardships on responsible private mining operations, but to assure that the substance of our natural resources are not victimized in the process.

Further, the Parks and Recreation Department and the Department of Game have been working either singly or cooperatively in the development of such programs as the designation of primitive areas, the establishment of a system of recreation trails, the acquisition of free Federal surplus lands and greater year-round utilization of our present state park facilities. In each instance, these programs are both positive and creative, and I think they represent clearly the manifest interest which state agencies are now showing in comprehensive resource protection and utilization.

This administration is prepared to endorse in principle the concept of preserving our "wild rivers" and natural streams through legislation as the best available means of protecting them from pollution and contamination, and at the same time recognizing their important potential contribution to recreational opportunity.

Finally, I believe there must be a study made of the kinds of recreational use to be made of our state lands. This message proposes the establishment of two new kinds of recreational areas—a seashore conservation area and scenic recreation highways. In addition, a number of state agencies are participating, and properly so, in various aspects of outdoor recreation. Beyond this, a number of private citizens and groups are making significant contributions to outdoor recreation by providing necessary facilities for public use. During the ensuing biennium, I believe it is imperative that we carefully assess the recreational potential of our state lands so their use can be responsive to the total outdoor recreational needs of our state and so that both private and public recreational areas can work together to meet the needs of the people.

The pressure of our urban problems should not turn us away from the opportunities which exist beyond. Urban areas and open space are, in more ways than one, inseparable, and the congestion of one should provide us with a key to the value of the second.

No citizen of Washington, nor any visitor to these borders, can fail to recognize the wealth of beauty we possess. Neither then, should they fail to recognize that, in a time of swift development, even a great natural heritage can be placed in jeopardy. The degree of their future appreciation now falls to this Legislature, and it will be dependent in good measure on the success of the actions we take.

We have relatively little time to protect our beauty, and to preserve a portion of our great open spaces. But if there is little time, there is at least enough time; and if we begin now, I am confident that future generations will look upon their luxury of natural beauty as a legacy from this 40th Legislative session.

Sincerely,

DANIEL J. EVANS,
Governor.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Senate Chamber,
Olympia, Wash., January 20, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

The Senate has passed: Senate Bill No. 198, and the same is herewith transmitted.
Ward Bowden, Secretary.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Hawley on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Hawley:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would like to take a few moments at this time to call your attention to a report that you will have in your offices. This is your report from your Fisheries Interim Committee and I would request that you read it when you have time. I know we all get many of these things, but we feel this report is very important because, in capsule form, it reviews the ten-year program which is being proposed by the department and your Fisheries Interim Committee. In addition, it has some fifteen or sixteen recommendations which are very brief and will acquaint you somewhat with the activities in this field, and the value of this great resource. I am particularly proud to be able to distribute to you this canned salmon which was canned by the Salmon Fishermen's Pack. The fish in here, a sockeye salmon, comes from a new run being created on the Cedar river. These fish were caught in the Ballard locks, in my district, on their way up to the spawning ground. I am sure you will find them just as good as the Fraser river stock. I would also like to call your attention to an invitation you will receive to a fisheries party on February 9. This is probably one of the most enjoyable invitations you will receive while you are here in the legislature. When you receive your ticket, put it in your safe, and on February 9 come and enjoy some of the finest food in the world, not only in the state of Washington."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Juelling, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Juelling:

"Mr. O'Brien, if my memory serves me correctly, yesterday you translated this into dollars and cents as to what it might mean to the state of Washington as specified by the state treasurer. I wonder if you have those figures available? They might be very interesting to the members of the House."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Well, I can tell you the total amount that the state treasurer, through the state finance committee, has invested in securities of the United States treasury department. The amount as of December 1, 1966 was one hundred seventy-eight million dollars. The yields are different percentages. In most instances they are invested in notes of short duration as far as termination or maturity date is concerned. Some go a little longer because, as I understand, they were able to buy them at a pretty good yield. As far as giving you the actual dollar amount that the state treasurer would hope to earn on this type of investment, all I can tell you is that interest collections for the year 1966 were the highest in the history of the state; they were nine million three hundred thousand dollars, while in the next highest year, 1965, they were four million six hundred thousand dollars. Of course, this is attributable to the increased available surplus, the improved interest rates, and the accelerated investment program. The state finance committee, along with the state treasurer, is vitally concerned in utilizing temporary surpluses in order that the highest yield may be achieved for this type of investment, and we feel that these short term notes will yield about a quarter of one percent more than the other type of investments. That is what is anticipated."

Debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Conner speaking in favor of its passage.

MOTION

Mr. Berentson moved that further consideration of House Bill No. 27 be deferred, and that the bill be ordered placed on next Wednesday's third reading calendar.

Debate ensued, Representatives Berentson and Clark (Newman H.) speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Smith, Charette, Perry, and Bottiger speaking against it.

Mr. Anderson demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Marzano, Mr. Cunningham yielded to question.

Mr. Marzano:

"Mr. Cunningham, I see that this bill before us was in the State Government committee. Could you tell me what the vote was on this particular bill we are discussing?"

Mr. Cunningham:

"Unanimous, as I remember it, Mr. Marzano."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Lewis, Mr. Cunningham yielded to question.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Cunningham, in testimony before your committee, were there any figures given to you that would tell us how much extra interest per year the state would gain by this maneuver?"

Mr. Cunningham:

"As I recall, it was about a quarter of one percent that would be the gain by this type of investment; and, since you have asked the question, there is a related matter here. The treasurer indicated that he at no time would consider investing more than one-third of the surplus in this type of investment, usually less."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Avey and O'Brien speaking against the motion.

Mr. Holman demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Berentson requested permission to close debate.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, under what rule does Mr. Berentson have the right to close debate?"

The Speaker:

"As I recall, Mr. O'Brien, this is a long-standing precedent which has been established, is this not true, that the maker of the motion has the right to close debate?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Just on final passage or a motion to indefinitely postpone his bill. It doesn't apply here."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Berentson, I will have to rule you out of order on the advice of that four-term Speaker of the House, Mr. O'Brien."

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Berentson that further consideration of House Bill No. 27 be deferred, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 57; absent or not voting, 1.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Copeland, Farr, Flanagan, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Morrison, Murray, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Veroske, Wanamaker, Mr. Speaker—41.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I voted for this Free Conference Report in order to obtain for some employees, in particular employees of state institutions, the increase they need and must have. Inadequate and demoralized workers have a detrimental effect on people cared for in these institutions.

In order to accomplish this good purpose the "bitter" must be accepted with the "sweet." Many other state employees also received raises they neither needed nor deserved.

Mrs. Joseph E. Hurley,
3rd District.

House Resolution No. 67-10, by Representatives Garrett, Barden, Grant, Clocksin, Lynch, Smith, Chatalas, McGavick, Kiskaddon, and Holman:

Whereas, The Supersonic Transport will undoubtedly prove to be one of the major engineering and transportation breakthroughs of the 20th Century; and

Whereas, The Federal Government has, after extensive study of the plans submitted by the competing firms, designated the Boeing Company as the official builder of the SST; and

Whereas, This designation is a reflection of the high caliber of the men and women employed by Boeing, the economy of the Northwest would not be enjoying its present high rate; and

Whereas, The skilled, imaginative, and trained employees of Boeing are truly one of the richest assets of our state.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, That we officially commend and honor The Boeing Company and all their employees who have brought this distinction to our state.

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to The Boeing Company, to the Aero Mechanics Union and to the Seattle Professional Engineering Association.

House Resolution No. 67-11, by Representatives Conner, Bottiger, Avey, Wolf, Wanamaker, and O'Dell:

Whereas, June 7th of this year marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Lions clubs or of Lions International; and

Whereas, The motto of Lions International is "We Serve"; and

Whereas, We deem it impossible that any observing person could feel that Lions International hasn't greatly served; and

Whereas, The "for free" work total of the Lions for: the blind, the nearly sightless, the deaf, those needing surgical and health care, those youngsters otherwise in danger of becoming delinquents, those cities and towns needing civic improvements, those people seeking but not able to afford further education, the improvement of agriculture, the prevention of accidents via safety campaigns, and for the promotion of generous consideration among the peoples of the world exceeds that of any other service corporation;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington salutes Lions International as it observes its Golden Anniversary Year. We, members of the House of Representatives, applaud the organization for its concern, action, and leadership in making this a more friendly world.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"Representative Flanagan, you said that as far as you know there is no objection to the bill by the department of natural resources. Did you hold a hearing on this?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"We had bills on the agenda ahead of time and the department of natural resources didn't appear on this bill. They appeared on some other bills. They had the opportunity to appear. I just called Mr. Cole's office about a half hour ago, and the gentleman in the office informed me that they had no opposition to this specific bill."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. Flanagan, just what is the procedure for granting these easements?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"Under this bill, it could be done by the game department and then would go through the department of natural resources."

Mr. Bottiger:

"Suppose a utility, such as the Washington natural gas company, were requesting an easement in order to put a right of way, or to put one of their pipes through state-owned property. Is there any advertising, or how does the public become aware of the fact that such an easement is being granted?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"I wouldn't know, Mr. Bottiger. This land, as you know, is already owned by the game department. This isn't a case where you are going onto somebody else's land. The game department owns this land and would grant this request."

Debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Newhouse speaking in favor of its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Newhouse yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"It is my understanding that at the present time there is no other commission that has this authority, that all land owned by the state must be sold or easements must be reviewed by the department of natural resources in the interest of the people of the state. Do you know whether there are any other commissions or departments that have this authority to grant easements at the present time?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"The department of highways has authority within their own department to do this without submitting it to the department of natural resources, I believe, Mr. Moon."

Further debate ensued; Representatives Bledsoe and Beck speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Conner, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Conner:

"How much money is involved in this?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"There would be very little money involved, because what you are doing is granting a right of way for a road or utility. I don't imagine it would involve very much. I would like to point out, as long as you are asking this question, Representative Conner, that under the existing law the department has the authority to sell timber, gravel, sand, and other materials and to sell or lease such real or similar personal property. They have a great deal more power under existing law than that which you people are talking about."

Mr. Conner:

"Representative Flanagan, it says that all proceeds will go to the state treasurer and be credited to the state game fund. Does this mean there may be a surplus in the state game fund?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"What do you think, Representative Conner? I know they are using these funds to provide hunting and fishing throughout the state and thereby not using general funds. Do you think the program should be enlarged or what?"

Mr. Conner:

"I was wondering, if this were going to bring additional moneys, if we could, perhaps, with the permission of the sponsors, suspend the rules, return this to second reading and amend it for the purpose of earmarking these funds for cougar bounty funds."

Further debate ensued, Representative Kalich speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 40, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—95.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Bottiger and Moon—2.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Berentson, Saling—2.

House Bill No. 40, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

On motion of Mr. Leland, the rules were suspended, House Joint Memorial No. 8 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the memorial was placed on final passage.

Representative Leland spoke in favor of passage of the memorial.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Sprague, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Sprague:

"Mr. Leland, I would like to ask whether these funds would have a direct effect on the third Lake Washington bridge?"

Mr. Leland:

"The loss of these funds would have a direct impact on every federal interstate project in the state of Washington, and the third Lake Washington bridge is part of the federal interstate system."

Mr. Sprague:

"There is no reference in here to any funds for mass transit planning or capital outlay."

Mr. Leland:

"And indeed there should not be, because we are dealing with the federal interstate program, and neither the state Constitution nor the existing bureau of public roads' regulations permit expenditure of any highway money on rapid transit. The significance of this far transcends any single project, be it the third Lake Washington bridge or any other specific project, because this has a dire impact on the entire state of Washington."

Representative Beck spoke in favor of passage of the memorial.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Lewis, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Leland, is it not correct that the federal highway funds here involved do not just apply to the interstate system but to all federal monies that would be allocated by the federal government to construction of state highways, including primary and secondary highways and the federal aid secondary highways constructed by the counties?"

Mr. Leland:

"Representative Lewis, this is correct. The federal matching ratio on the interstate system is ninety to ten, roughly; on the others it is fifty-fifty. Of the total impact, some sixteen million dollars is applicable to state highways other than the interstate system. Also included would be the so-called urban projects such as the R. H. Thompson expressway in Seattle."

Representative Lewis spoke in favor of passage of the memorial.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Anderson, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Anderson:

"Mr. Leland, we are not being discriminated against, are we? Every state has the same treatment? Is that true?"

Mr. Leland:

"No, unfortunately this isn't true. The federal government announced that the cutback was seventeen and one-half percent applied nationwide, but by virtue of some twenty-six million dollars worth of credits which we have accrued, as is outlined in the memorial, and by virtue of the projects that we have ready to go into bid and have under construction, the true mathematics in this instance are that instead of seventeen and one-half percent, our actual cutback is forty-one percent, and an additional ten million dollars is threatened, which would be another twelve percent, which would make a cutback of fifty-three percent. So we are very much discriminated against and adversely affected."

Representatives Sawyer and O'Brien spoke in favor of passage of the memorial.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Joint Memorial No. 8, and the memorial passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 85; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 14.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke, (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Leland, Lewis, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Merrill, Moon, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—85.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams, Berentson, Copeland, Holman, Hubbard, Kalich, Kopet, Leckenby, Litchman, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Richardson, Saling—14.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. King:

"Mr. Mahaffey, I notice the words 'major structural changes' in the committee amendment. I wonder what the word 'structural' means. Does it mean you have to move supporting beams and things like that?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Mr. King, we discussed this with the legal advisers on the committee and with the superintendent's office. In their opinion, structural meant both changes to the outside and inside of old buildings and that this satisfied the definition of bringing the building up to modern conditions so it would be good for another twenty years."

Mr. King:

"Would altering the size of a classroom be a structural change?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"I would think so."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. DeJarnatt, Mr. Mahaffey yielded to question.

Mr. DeJarnatt:

"Representative Mahaffey, would this also include additions to present buildings?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"With the interpretation we have from the superintendent's office, if this is necessary to modernize a building I presume it would. What we are interested in is saving a lot of money by modernizing old structures that are still basically sound and can be modernized and made good for several years. Under the present law we would have to tear those down and build a new building, and that would cost a lot of money."

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment was adopted.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House the Washington State Dairy Princess, Susanne Hultgren from Monroe, and appointed Representatives Backstrom and Berentson to escort Princess Susanne to a seat of honor on the rostrum.

The Speaker:

"I am going to ask Princess Susanne to say a few words to the House."

Princess Susanne:

"This is certainly a very, very impressive moment for me. It is an honor to be able to speak to the people who are responsible for helping to legislate our laws and guide the government of the people of the state of Washington. It is an especial, double honor for me because not only do I represent the seventy-five hundred dairy families of this state, but also, by my very title, I represent the state of Washington when I am on my appearances. This is an honor because it is a state of which I am very proud. The day when the farmer and his problems, and industrialists and their problems, can separate and isolate themselves from each others' problems is past. The world is too small for us to isolate ourselves. Those of you elected from rural communities must know the problems of industrial people in their community and, vice versa, the industrial people must know the problems of the rural communities. I think that this is very important for the best government of the entire state of Washington. In this day and age, it is all too easy for the people of our Country and of our state to look to our military and industrial life for that which distinguishes us, and, as we know, the United States and Washington contribute to this immensely, but the fact that really distinguishes us from many countries is the fact that we produce an over-abundance of food—not military might or industrial power altogether. In many countries throughout the world, the trend is toward food shortage, but we can produce an abundance in our country with only seven percent of the people doing it, a very important seven percent. The dairy farmers of the state of Washington are proud to be part of this seven percent and to be able to give this benefit to our Country. The fact that we can produce such abundance of food gives much help to other nations and countries and also makes us the envy of those who would see our destruction. I would like to wish you wisdom and integrity in deciding all conflicts and injustices of the present day. I know it is not an easy job. At the same time, I would like to take this opportunity to invite you to the dinner tonight sponsored in your honor by the dairy farmers of the state of Washington. Thank you for this wonderful privilege."

We, a majority of your Committee on State Government and Legislative Procedures, to whom was referred House Bill No. 75, relating to veterans reemployment rights, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, beginning on line 24, strike all of subsection 4, and insert "(4) He must return and reenter the office or position within three months after serving four years or less: PROVIDED, That any period of additional service imposed by law, from which one is unable to obtain orders relieving him from active duty, will not affect his reemployment rights."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Cunningham yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Cunningham, I noticed that you said this wouldn't hurt anybody except twenty-year veterans returning for their jobs. How would this hurt those twenty-year veterans?"

Mr. Cunningham:

"I don't know as it would hurt them. The problem that has arisen involves a person who might be drafted into the service for a two- or three-year hitch, but who would then elect to stay in on a voluntary basis for twenty years; then he would come back to a department such as the police department or fire department or some such organization and reapply for the job which he had held. It was the feeling of everyone, including the veterans groups, that this amendment provides for a situation in which a national emergency might be declared and they were unable to get out at the end of their term of draft or original enlistment. However, the situation where the men come back after twenty years has caused a great deal of trouble. Maybe the job doesn't even exist because the department has been revised or changed. There is no intent here to violate the rights of a veteran that he has coming under the national act."

Debate ensued, Representative Smith speaking against adoption of the amendment; and Representative Newschwander speaking for its adoption.

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 75 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

On page 2, section 3, line 3, after "section" and before "of this act" strike the numeral "3" and insert the numeral "4"

MOTION

Mr. Charette moved that House Bill No. 58 be indefinitely postponed.

Debate ensued, Representative Charette speaking in favor of the motion, and Representative Adams speaking against it.

Mr. Heavey demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Clark (Newman H.) speaking against the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. McGavick, Mr. Charette yielded to question.

Mr. McGavick:

"Mr. Charette, can you tell us whether it would be possible to amend this bill in such a way as to make it palatable?"

Mr. Charette:

"One of the things that I am afraid of is that if the bill is now amended and goes on to third reading, it will take a two-thirds vote to bring it back to second reading for amendment. I don't think we need this bill, and believe it should be indefinitely postponed."

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to indefinitely postpone House Bill No. 58, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 30; nays, 67; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Backstrom, Bottiger, Brazier, Brouillet, Charette, Clocksin, Conner, Day, Gallagher, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, King, Leckenby, Marzano, McGavick, Perry, Richardson, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren, Wolf—30.

House Resolution No. 67 - 17, by Representatives Grant, Perry, Gallagher, King, and Johnson:

Whereas, American colleges and universities have achieved their greatness at least partially through our recognition that although they are responsible to the general public they should not be interfered with on the basis of political whims; and

Whereas, We in Washington have ourselves experienced the disastrous affect of this type of political interference in the infamous dismissal of the late President Suzzallo from the University of Washington; and

Whereas, Political interference leading to a loss of academic freedom is a loss to all Americans no matter where in this country it may happen; and

Whereas, The recent firing of Clark Kerr, President of the University of California, is a prime example of politics infringing upon the integrity and independence of a great American university; and

Whereas, This attack upon academic freedom by the Regents of the University of California, led by Governor Ronald Reagan, is one of the most frightening examples of political interference with intellectual freedom that we have seen in years;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives that we deplore the political interference with the administration of the University of California and the arbitrary firing of President Clark Kerr; and

Be It Further Resolved, That we urge the board of regents of the University of California to review their action in light of the serious consequences of this attack upon the independence and integrity of the University; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Governor Reagan and the Board of Regents of the University of California.

Mr. Grant moved adoption of the resolution.

Debate ensued, Representatives Grant and Thompson speaking in favor of adoption of the resolution, and Representative Spanton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Marzano demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

MOTION

Mr. Gorton moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Higher Education.

Debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Conner and Smith against the motion.

Mrs. Johnson demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry and Sprague speaking against the motion, and Representatives Brazier and Barden speaking in its favor.

MOTION

Mr. Charette moved that the motion by Mr. Gorton be amended to require that the Committee on Higher Education return the resolution to the floor of the House within five days.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, what will be the effect of this motion, should it fail to pass, on preceding motions?"

The Speaker:

"The previous motions would still be before us."

Debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against the motion to amend.

Mr. Thompson demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the House to be at ease.

The Speaker called the House to order.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mrs. Lynch, Mr. Charette yielded to question.

Mrs. Lynch:

"Mr. Charette, I think you are well aware that we have some very important bills in the Committee of Higher Education. I wonder if you are more or less intending to put them in order for us? Secondly, are you suggesting that maybe the Committee on Higher Education go to California where we might really find out what is going on?"

Mr. Charette:

"It is not the intent of my motion to interfere with your fine work in your committee, and particularly in the matter of separation of the community colleges. I think this is a matter of enough import that the body itself can argue it and make up their minds. I don't know why we don't have the vote today. Everyone knows how they are going to vote and they can vote right now. You might be surprised when you see my final vote."

Further debate ensued, Representative King speaking in favor of Mr. Charette's motion to amend the motion by Mr. Gorton.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. McGavick, Mr. Grant yielded to question.

Mr. McGavick:

"I wonder if you could tell us the political makeup of the fourteen individuals who voted for dismissal of President Kerr?"

Mr. Grant:

"I think that is very immaterial. I could not even relate to you the names of the specific people who voted in favor of terminating President Kerr's services to the University of California. I don't see how that has any bearing on the motion before us, which is a motion to delay a vote for five days. I prefer to vote right now."

Mr. McGavick:

"How can we include in this resolution that the firing of President Kerr is an example of political interference with intellectual freedom if we don't know the political orientation of the people who did it? You are impugning their judgment on the basis of political motivation without having knowledge of it."

Mr. Grant:

"I think it is immaterial whether the regent was a Republican or Democrat. The point is that the governor of California and his new regent set up the rules of the game. The new regent was the one who suggested the termination. You know the political affiliation there. I think this was a politically biased and politically motivated act on the part of the board of regents. I think it is a threat to academic freedom.

However, Mr. Speaker, I do not see the materiality of the question asked to the matter under discussion."

Further debate ensued, Representative McGavick speaking against the motion by Mr. Charette.

Mr. Richardson demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Charette to amend Mr. Gorton's motion to refer the resolution to the Committee on Higher Education, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 62; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Avey, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Cunningham, Day, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—62.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bottiger, Bozarth, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Heavey, Kink, McCormick—8.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be Mr. Gorton's motion to refer the resolution by Representatives Grant, Perry, Gallagher, King, and Johnson to the Committee on Higher Education.

Debate ensued, Representative Humiston speaking in favor of the motion.

Mr. Chapin demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion by Mr. Gorton to refer the resolution to Committee on Higher Education, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 58; nays, 33; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Cunningham, Day, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Sawyer, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—58.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bottiger, Bozarth, Conner, Copeland, DeJarnatt, Kalich, Kink, McCormick—8.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I would like the record to show that my intent was to vote yes on the roll call vote to refer the resolution to Committee on Higher Education. I inadvertently pushed the electric roll call button the wrong way.

On motion of Mr. Flanagan, House Bill No. 44 was rereferred to Committee on Appropriations.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

House Bill No. 25, by Representatives O'Brien, Lux, and Copeland (by legislative council request):

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 25 on second reading. Requiring certain information for budget director and legislature from state agencies participating in certain federal programs.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Mr. Goldsworthy moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, following subsection (3), add two new subsections to read as follows:

"(4) The term 'agency', as used in this section, shall not include any state university or state college now existing or hereafter to be established.

(5) Each state university or state college now existing or hereafter to be established shall report quarterly to each such officer enumerated in subsection (1) above on forms and in a manner prescribed by the budget director summarizing the funds received from each federal agency; describing the programs for which such funds were received and reporting any fiscal commitments made as a consequence of any federal grant or contract received."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. King, Mr. Goldsworthy yielded to question.

Mr. King:

"If this session of the legislature should set up a separate state board for community colleges so it came under the state section, would they have to report on a daily basis under the provisions of this bill?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"There is nothing like that in here now since we do not have the separate board for community colleges. We would have to take care of that when the time comes, if it comes during this session. This just applies to the two state universities and the three state colleges."

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 25 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 296, by Representatives Wanamaker, Hubbard, and Haussler (by departmental request):

House Bill No. 30, by Representatives O'Brien, Wolf, and Cunningham (by state treasurer request):

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 30 on second reading, two amendments to section 1 having been adopted previously. (See page 245 for amendments.)

Providing for daily remittance of moneys to state treasurer by state officers and agencies.

House Bill No. 30 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. O'Brien, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 30 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representative O'Brien spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Adams, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Adams:

"How long is it now before this money is deposited with the state treasurer and, also, would you advise me how they go about getting it in there? Assume this bill passes, then is this money deposited in the local bank or does the agency get the director to draw a draft on the local bank? If so, how much work does the local bank do in this process? I'd like to have an explanation of what is being done now and what changes will take place."

Mr. O'Brien:

"The business manager of the University of Washington talked to me about this, and apparently the tuition fees collected by the university account for much of this sum. The money will be deposited in the same banking institutions but they will draw a check or warrant on it and report it down here daily."

Mr. Adams:

"There is a considerable amount of work on the part of the bank handling this bookkeeping, for which it seems they should have some compensation. If they have the money in their hands, certainly they should get enough to cover the bookkeeping that goes with it."

Mr. O'Brien:

"There is little more involved than bookkeeping. They will be writing a check to cover the amount of money of the day's deposit. It wouldn't be extensive. Apparently, Mr. Conrad at the University of Washington is not concerned with this question; he didn't raise it at all. Under the state law they are supposed to deposit this money daily and this hasn't been done. You don't take the cash and send it down here; you write a check daily. This is intended to expedite the procedure so the state auditor will have access to and control over state funds. This would simplify the whole procedure."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Farr, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Farr:

"Mr. O'Brien, would this apply to state colleges as well? Would they or would they not have to deposit all receipts that they receive each day?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I am sure that all the state colleges do deposit their receipts daily. This is just good accounting practice and would be required by their auditor. This would apply only to funds belonging to the state of Washington. The local funds they would still control as they do now, but under this bill funds pertaining to the state of Washington and that are actually state receipts would be deposited in the regular banking channels and a check drawn to the credit of the state treasurer. It is just a question of transfer of funds. At the present time there are delays and, apparently, sometimes a whole month may pass before they transfer these funds to the state treasurer."

Mr. Farr:

"I wish to verify that the so-called local funds of Western Washington State College would not have to be deposited daily."

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is right. They would handle those funds just as they are handled now. This only applies to state funds, primarily tuition fees."

Further debate ensued, Representative Beck speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Brazier, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

"Mr. O'Brien, during your presentation you referred to the figure thirty-thousand dollars. Was that additional interest per day or additional money for investment? It seems like a very large figure if it refers to additional interest."

Mr. O'Brien:

"This may refer to the total funds available to the state treasurer in excess of the last year. Last year the treasurer earned about nine million dollars on investment of funds on a short term basis because of a surplus of cash. This implementation would probably increase that considerably, and I believe this may be what is meant by the note I have."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Perry, Wolf, Sheridan, and Lewis speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 30, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 88; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 4.

(1) Applications for the probate of a will and for letters testamentary, or either, may be made to the judge of the court having jurisdiction and the court may immediately hear the proofs and either probate or reject such will as the testimony may justify. Upon such hearing the court shall make and cause to be entered a formal order, either establishing and probating such will, or refusing to establish and probate the same, and such order shall be conclusive except in the event of a contest of such will as hereinafter provided. YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Clark yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Clark, in the underlined portion of the amendment on page 4, you mention something about an affidavit attached to the will. Would you explain that?"

Mr. Clark:

"Yes. This is a law which is in effect in other states so that the actual expense of bringing in witnesses to a will can be avoided when it is necessary, but it protects the right to do so in the event of a will contest, which occurs in only a very low percentage of cases."

Mr. Smith:

"Do I understand that such a bill is being introduced or has been introduced separately into the legislature?"

Mr. Clark:

"No, I had received this information but we did not put in a separate bill. We put it in in this way."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Clark yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"Representative Clark, you are chairman of the Judiciary Committee. I am wondering why your committee would approve an amendment and then you, as chairman, come out with a different amendment on the floor."

Mr. Clark:

"We are perfectionists."

Mr. Moon:

"I realize you may be perfectionists, but it appears to me that perhaps your committee is moving more rapidly in some areas than you should be. Perhaps you should give them more consideration while the bill is before your committee."

Mr. Clark:

"That is your opinion."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of information.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Clark gave us a very eloquent reason for not adopting the original amendment and for adopting the one he proposed from the floor, but he did not say anything about what either of the amendments do to the bill."

Representative Clark spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Avey, Mr. Clark yielded to question.

Mr. Avey:

"Mr. Clark, would this mean that if I were to divide up my timberland or cut-over land into ten-acre tracts, I couldn't do this unless I went to a real estate broker?"

Mr. Clark:

"No, it certainly does not."

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Chapin on a point of information.

Mr. Chapin:

"For the benefit of the rest of the members of the Judiciary Committee, would the reading clerk read that amendment once more?"

The reading clerk reread the amendment by Mr. Clark.

MOTION

Mr. Moon moved that House Bill No. 93 be rereferred to Committee on Judiciary for further consideration.

Debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Bottiger and Chapin speaking against it.

The motion was lost.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Clark.

The motion was carried and the amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 93 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 197, by Representatives Saling, Smythe, Taylor, and Hoggins:

Deleting provision against use of dairy product substitutes in educational institutions.

MOTION

Mr. Mahaffey moved that House Bill No. 197 be rereferred to Committee on Agriculture.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Saling, Mr. Newhouse yielded to question.

Mr. Saling:

"Mr. Newhouse, can you assure me that the purpose of this move is not to kill the bill?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"I can assure you that those members who have asked that this bill be rereferred to the committee for consideration have no intention of killing the bill and I have not either. I suppose we will look at the features of the bill. There are some floor amendments to the bill which might better be considered in committee."

Mr. Saling:

"Can you give us an approximate time when you think the bill might be here with us again?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"I suspect during the coming week."

Debate ensued, Representatives Bottiger and Beck speaking against the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Farr on a point of order.

Mr. Farr:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe we are on second reading and Mr. Beck's remarks are not necessarily germane."

The Speaker:

"He can speak on the motion to rerefer."

Further debate ensued, Representative Beck completing his remarks, Representative Moon speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Sprague and Heavey speaking against the motion to rerefer.

Mr. Holman demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Bledsoe speaking against the motion.

MOTION

Mr. Adams moved that further consideration of House Bill No. 197 be deferred and that the bill be ordered placed on Monday's second reading calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Is this in the same rank as a motion to rerefer?"

The Speaker:

"The two motions are in the same rank. I would have to rule that the motion by Dr. Adams is out of order. We will have to deal with Mr. Mahaffey's motion first."

Further debate ensued, Representative Adams speaking against the motion to rerefer House Bill No. 197 to Committee on Agriculture.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Perry, Mr. Newhouse yielded to question.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Newhouse, do they serve butter at the penal institutions now?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"I do not believe so, Mr. Perry."

Mr. Perry:

"At the rest of our state sponsored institutions, do they serve butter?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"They can, Mr. Perry, but according to House Bill No. 477, passed at the last session of the legislature, they are allowed to use butter substitutes when butter is not available."

Mr. Perry:

"Do you mean when surplus butter is not available?"

"Yes. Excuse me."

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Berentson, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Hawley, Kink, Litchman, McGavick and Wolf—10.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

The reason I did not vote on this motion is because of the possibility that it might involve a conflict of interest.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Bledsoe, further consideration of House Bill No. 197 was deferred, and the bill was ordered placed on Monday's second reading calendar.

Transferring water resource funds.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., January 24, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Natural Resources, to whom was referred House Bill No. 174, transferring water resource funds, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendment:

In section 1, line 9, after "department a" and before "fund" strike "trust" and insert "[trust]"

S. E. "Sid" Flanagan, Chairman,
Virginia Clocksin, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Otto Amen, C. W. "Red" Beck, Alan Bluechel, P. J. "Jim" Gallagher, Dwight S. Hawley, Vaughn Hubbard, Dan Jolly, Dick J. Kink, Alfred E. Leland, W. L. "Bill" McCormick, John S. Murray, Richard L. Smythe, Keith J. Spanton, Alan Thompson, Fred A. Veroske, Harold S. Zimmerman.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Mr. Flanagan, the committee amendment was adopted.

House Bill No. 174 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Joint Memorial No. 2, by Representatives Flanagan, Mahaffey, Brouillet, Bledsoe, McDougall, and Grant:

Memorializing Congress to revise grant-in-aid education programs.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Mahaffey, House Joint Memorial No. 2 was rereferred to Committee on Education and Libraries.

Amending the probate code.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the rules were suspended, the second reading considered the third, and Engrossed House Bill No. 138 was placed on final passage.

Representatives Clark (Newman H.) and Smith spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bluechel, Mr. Clark yielded to question.

Mr. Bluechel:

"Mr. Clark, would you explain the reasons behind the change in the standard so that the appraisal fee is based on the total value of the real estate rather than on the equity?"

Mr. Clark:

"Yes. This is really not much of a change. In effect, they are now appraised at their total value and that is continued. This also removes the appraised value and sets a minimum of ten dollars in the case of small estates, which are often just as difficult to appraise. You have to appraise the house at its total worth, although taxes are paid only on the equity."

Mr. Bluechel:

"Suppose, as an example, that the estate has one hundred thousand dollars worth of real estate, but the equity is only ten thousand dollars. In essence, as I understand this, this would take one-tenth of one percent of the full value of the real estate rather than of the equity. Am I correct?"

Mr. Clark:

"Yes."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Leckenby, Mr. Clark yielded to question.

Mr. Leckenby:

"Mr. Clark, in your opinion is a minimum fee of ten dollars sufficient for the appraiser in case of a difficult terrain and so forth?"

Mr. Clark:

"I believe so, for the reason that if the property has not much value, the ten dollars is more than one-tenth of one percent. Now, it is true that there are some very difficult estates. We can't write a bill that would be totally equitable, just as we can't write a bill that is totally equitable for people under the probate law. We can only get an average that will be beneficial and correct for the majority of people, which this does."

Further debate ensued, Representative Chapin speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 138, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 90; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 8.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO TEMPORARY RULES

In conformance with House Rule No. 12, Mr. Gorton gave notice that he would offer proposed amendments to the temporary House rules on Monday, January 30.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe it is customary that in the case of any rule change the members be fully informed by written notice of the areas where the rules are to be changed. Just to give notice that you are going to change the rules on Monday doesn't appear to me to be adequate. The membership should be fully informed."

The Speaker:

"Copies of the proposed changes in the rules will be on the members' desks within the hour, so that the members will have an opportunity to give them full consideration over the weekend."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck on a point of order.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, do you think that is fair? Does that give us adequate time? A lot of us want to go home this weekend. Is this proper notice?"

The Speaker:

"I think the rules require a one-day notice. In effect, Mr. Beck, you are having two days to study these changes, so I think that will be ample."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bledsoe, Mr. Goldsworthy yielded to question.

Mr. Bledsoe:

"Representative Goldsworthy, as we have made our way up and down the highways of legislative progress in the weeks just past, I have been impressed with your powers of observation. My schedule has been such that today I have been unable to ascertain what progress has been made in the Senate with the measures we have been sending to them. Have you been able to observe what is going on today?"

Mr. Goldsworthy:

"It is interesting that you should ask me that question because just before we took up here this morning, I went over to the Senate, since we had many important House bills which had been sent over there. I went over there to lend my assistance and my aid to certain important Senators in their labors. Do you know, Representative Bledsoe, I was shocked, because other than quite a few Republican Senators around, they were not working this weekend. I know a lot of you did not realize this, but the Senate is not working and, Representative Bledsoe, I would not answer your question if my remarks could be taken as being political or partisan in any way. We certainly don't want to be involved in that sort of thing, but we know the Senate is Democratically controlled. They are all home again this weekend, while the House labors. I wonder if that answers your question, Representative Bledsoe. It is in the spirit of friendship and cooperation that I report that while the state is waiting for this important legislation, the Senators again have had a vacation."

RESOLUTION

House Resolution No. 67-17A, by a majority of the members of the Committee on Rules and Administration:

Be It Resolved, That the temporary rules of the Fortieth Legislative Session be adopted by this House as permanent rules of the House of Representatives, Fortieth Legislature, with the following amendments:

Amend Rule 1 as follows:

Rule 1. Custom, so prevalent and so ancient as to have the force of law, has made it the duty of the chief clerk of the previous assembly to call the session to order and to conduct the proceedings generally until a speaker is chosen.

The secretary of state furnishes to the clerk a certified statement of the names of the members elect, which is read by the clerk. The roll is called and the oath of office is administered to the members by a justice of the supreme court. The members rise and are sworn. After adoption of temporary rules, the assembly then proceeds to the election of its officers.

Amend Rule 3 as follows:

Rule 3. The speaker shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the house shall have adjourned on the preceding day. He shall call the members to order immediately, and on the appearance of a majority of the members shall proceed with the order of business prescribed by Rule [10] 45.

He shall possess the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed, viz.:

(a) He shall preserve order and decorum, may speak to points of order in preference to the other members, arising from his chair for that purpose.

(b) He shall decide all questions of order, subject to appeal to the house. On every appeal he shall have the right, in his place, to assign his reason for his decision.

(c) The speaker shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

(d) The speaker shall have a general direction of the house chambers.

(e) He shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall not extend beyond an adjournment.

(f) In appointing the committee members to standing committees, the speaker shall name members in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties in the house. Committee members will be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus will select all committee chairmen.

Members of the Rules and Administration Committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the speaker will serve as chairman of the Rules and Administration Committee.

Interim committee memberships will be elected by the respective caucuses, unless otherwise provided by law, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the caucus election of interim committee members.

Patronage will be divided proportionately by the party caucuses, following as closely as possible the ratio between the parties.

(g) In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby, the speaker (or chairman of the whole house) shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

(h) He shall designate the persons who shall act as reporters for the public press.
(i) He shall announce the business before the house in the order in which it is to be acted upon.

(j) He shall sign all acts, joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and joint memorials in open session of the house. (See Joint Rule No. 12.)

(k) He shall authenticate by his signature, when necessary, all the acts, orders and proceedings of the house.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Newhouse, this morning Don Moos, the Director of Agriculture, told me that in many areas there is presently a butter shortage and that there is currently no butter available for schools and institutions. Would it be reasonable for the members to assume that this is one of the reasons why your committee did not object to this bill when it came before the Education Committee?"

Mr. Newhouse:

"Mr. Lewis, I would say that that would be one reason. I think the biggest reason is that some years ago an initiative submitted to the people of the state of Washington concerning the coloring of oleo passed by some four to one, even in dairy counties, so that the farmers have taken a back seat on this matter since then."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Lewis, Mr. Saling yielded to question.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Saling, I have been advised by the office of the superintendent of public instruction that the school lunch program department has concluded there are no ill effects to school children from eating oleo instead of butter. Would you agree that this butter substitute is high in nutritional value and is an adequate substitute for butter?"

"Yes."

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Mahaffey, Mr. Moos has advised me—"

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that we are getting into a sort of courtroom jargon of questions and answers between members. If the gentleman has some arguments for or against the amendments, it seems he should present his arguments rather than get into a quiz contest between various members of the House."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, I really don't think your point is well taken, but I would like to have Mr. Lewis keep in mind that this can become a frivolous situation. You may continue, Mr. Lewis."

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. Mahaffey, would it be correct to say that an effort to save money for the state of Washington was a prime motivation in moving this bill out of committee?"

Mr. Mahaffey:

"Mr. Lewis, this is true in this respect, that people in such institutions as the penal institutions do not have to pay for their meals, but we are particularly interested in our schoolchildren who are paying for their meals. We are trying to save them money. That is why we are interested in the schools alone, not in taking care of penal institutions at this time."

Debate ensued, Representative Lewis speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Moon and Saling speaking against it.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Lewis on a point of information.

Mr. Lewis:

I expect no stars or clusters, but privately I wish to extend congratulations to Mr. Goldsworthy on his promotion to major general.

"I beat this out over the weekend. It was raining, so I couldn't play golf. It is to the tune of 'Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean' and it deals with the little performance on Saturday:

"Oh, Mr. Goldsworthy! Oh, Mr. Goldsworthy!

Did you travel to the 'House of Lords' today?

Did you see they had adjourned?

And were you really burned?

And yes, I'll yield to let you have your say.

"Oh, Mr. Bledsoe; So glad you said so.

You're so right, the Senate halls were bare.

When I came back through the Gulch

I had a pounding pulse

Indigestion, Mr. Goldsworthy? Claustrophobia, Mr. B.

"Oh, Mr. Speaker? Yes, Mr. Mac.

Weren't you glad I got into the act?

Chuck Moon was on the floor,

and so were several more,

But we adjourned it, Mr. Eldridge. Absolutely Mr. Mac."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I refer you to Rule 60, wherein it states: 'A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out.' It seems to me that yesterday there was some difficulty in securing a majority on House Joint Resolution No. 22 because there wasn't a majority present and eligible to sign the committee report. However, this morning I see it is reported out with a 'Do Pass' recommendation of ten."

The Speaker:

"It would appear, Mr. O'Brien, that there has been no violation of the rule here. If any member desires to take his name off the report, he has the opportunity to do so. I would have to say that as long as the bill is here and has the necessary signatures on it, I would have no way of knowing whether there was a quorum or whether the bill was signed out by the people in attendance."

Mr. O'Brien:

"I think it might be well if you inquired of the chairman of the committee how he secured these signatures. A precedent has been established in this House of Representatives that a committee report is to be signed by a majority in a regularly called meeting. Many times in the past this has occurred and the chairman was asked to schedule another meeting where a majority would be present to sign such a report."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, I have stated that as far as I am concerned, the bill is here. It has the required number of signatures and I don't think we need to pursue it any further."

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., January 30, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

I, a minority of your Committee on State Government and Legislative Procedures, to whom was referred House Joint Resolution No. 22, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do not pass.

William S. Day.

Passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for second reading.

Be It Resolved, That the temporary rules of the Fortieth Legislative Session be adopted by this House as permanent rules of the House of Representatives, Fortieth Legislature, with the following amendments:

Amend Rule 1 as follows:

Rule 1. Custom, so prevalent and so ancient as to have the force of law, has made it the duty of the chief clerk of the previous assembly to call the session to order and to conduct the proceedings generally until a speaker is chosen.

The secretary of state furnishes to the clerk a certified statement of the names of the members elect, which is read by the clerk. The roll is called and the oath of office is administered to the members by a justice of the supreme court. The members rise and are sworn. After adoption of temporary rules, the assembly then proceeds to the election of its officers.

Amend Rule 3 as follows:

Rule 3. The speaker shall take the chair every day precisely at the hour to which the house shall have adjourned on the preceding day. He shall possess the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed, viz.:

(b) He shall decide all questions of order, subject to appeal to the house. On every appeal he shall have the right, in his place, to assign his reason for his decision.

Members of the Rules and Administration Committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the speaker will serve as chairman of the Rules and Administration Committee.

Interim committee memberships will be elected by the respective caucuses, unless otherwise provided by law, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the caucus election of interim committee members.

Patronage will be divided proportionately by the party caucuses, following as closely as possible the ratio between the parties.

(g) In case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct in the lobby, the speaker (or chairman of the whole house) shall have the power to order the same to be cleared.

(h) He shall designate the persons who shall act as reporters for the public press.

(i) He shall announce the business before the house in the order in which it is to be acted upon.

(j) He shall sign all acts, joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and joint memorials in open session of the house. (See Joint Rule No. 12.)

MINORITY REPORT

The minority members of the Committee on Rules and Administration recommend the adoption of the resolution with the following amendment:

On page 11, Rule [32] 48., strike all of lines 15 and 16

Mr. Chatalas demanded a call of the House and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

The Sergeant at Arms was instructed to lock the doors.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives Hawley, Kink, Leland, and Sawyer.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the absent members were excused, and the House proceeded with business under the call of the House.

Mr. Gorton moved that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. Whetzel moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution:

On page 8, rule [26] 15, line 22, after "members" and before the period insert " , press and public"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Chatalas, Mr. Whetzel yielded to question.

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Whetzel, does this mean that all members of this body could have a copy of the lobbyists?"

Mr. Whetzel:

"It was never provided in our rules that the information would be made available to the members. The rules provided the members could go into the office and inspect the information. Now, the past Speaker, I believe, at the end of the last session did submit a list to the members. There is nothing in the rule that prevents the Speaker from doing that."

The motion was carried, and the amendment to the resolution was adopted.

Mr. O'Brien moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution:

On page 11, Rule [32] 48, strike all of lines 15 and 16

Debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against it.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Day on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Day:

"Mr. Speaker, as these rules are written, if you will note on the preceding page, page 10, the question of consideration is a subsidiary motion of the first rank, whereas to lay on the table is a motion of second rank. If we were to have a situation where there were fifteen amendments on the table and someone were to make a motion to lay these on the table, and then I raised a question of consideration, which under Reed's Rules No. 110 would demand that the propositions before us be read and put, before the vote was taken, what would your ruling be? Would you rule that all the amendments would have to be read so that we would then have an opportunity to know what we were voting to table?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Day, that is a moot question. When that situation occurs the Speaker will rule."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Day and Smith speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Chapin speaking against its adoption.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of parliamentary inquiry:

Mr. Perry:

"My point of parliamentary inquiry is that Representative Day brought out the primary importance in the subsidiary motions so far as the question of consideration is concerned, and you said the question was moot. Would you explain to the body the basis of your ruling on this question?"

The Speaker:

"Well, this situation is not before us at this time and to rule on something that is not before us would certainly not be in order."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Charette, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Gorton, under the rules as proposed by you, if the amendment by Mr. O'Brien is not adopted would a motion be in order to lay all amendments on the table without the amendments having been read?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I imagine the Speaker will rule on that question when an attempt to table a number of amendments, without being read, is presented."

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Gorton, the reason I am asking you this question is because I understand that you, as leader of the majority, have been one of the main persons in the writing of these rules. Will you tell the body what your intention is?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I think that Reed's Rules and the House rules are quite clear, Mr. Charette. Even Mr. Day pointed out that the question of consideration takes precedence over the motion to lay on the table."

Mr. Chatalas demanded an oral roll call, and the demand was sustained.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Brouillet on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to prolong the debate but I would like to insert in the record a few remarks written by Representative Sawyer, who is out of town attending a meeting of the President's National Safety Advisory Committee. He feels very concerned about this and stayed up late last night researching this matter. This is a well-written document and I would like to insert it in the journal."

The Speaker:

"We would be most happy to have you do that."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

There is some logic in providing for reasonable measures to prevent a filibuster whereby a small minority can frustrate the will of the elected majority. Yet, I feel there is a more dangerous precedent when a majority of one can gag or seriously limit the duties and effectiveness of a minority.

A motion to lay on the table is undebatable; therefore, it simply cuts off debate on any amendment whenever a simple majority wishes it. It necessarily means, that henceforth, on any issue, at any time, and during any future session of any House a simple majority, of one, with a cooperative presiding officer, can accomplish any end they desire without regard to consideration of the viewpoint of any minority position.

This new method of laying an amendment on the table means a granting of a power. Whenever you grant a power, you must assume that the power will be exercised. So, when we discuss this proposal, we must do so in the light, not of how it may be exercised to do no harm, but we must consider how it may be exercised to do harm.

The truth is that this measure, if adopted, will empower a majority to throttle freedom of speech upon this floor and enable sinister and wicked measures to be carried to consummation without the state being advised of the inequities they bear.

Gag rule is the last resort of the legislative scoundrel. Gag rule is the surest device of the rascal who presides over political bodies and proposes to accomplish something which will not bear discussion. Gag rule is the thing that men inexperienced in legislative proceedings may advocate at first, and if they have any sense, nearly always retire from as gracefully as possible after they have seen it in operation.

There is a justification for free and full debate in this body. I am getting a little tired of hearing about the sacred rights of the majority; that this is a country ruled by the majority; and that the majority has a right to have its way. This is not a country or state of unlimited rule by the majority. The Constitution of the United States and the State of Washington was written in large part, to prevent unlimited majority rule. The Declaration of Independence was an announcement that there are limitations upon majority rule.

Unquestionably, those areas in which the majority rule is allowed are basic and vital to our democracy. And a simple majority should and does decide the merits of virtually every issue raised in this body, including a change in our rules. That is not the question here; the question is whether a simple majority can cut off a full and free debate in regards to amendments being presented to his House. The issue of limiting debate in this body is one of such monumental importance that it reaches, in my opinion, the very essence of the State Legislature as an institution. I believe it compels a decision by more than a majority. I believe it ranks with other fundamental issues, which by their very nature, are elevated to a level above the dictates of a majority. Our United States Constitution itself specifies that nine distinct issues shall require more than a majority for adoption. The Constitution of the United States is not undemocratic.

In other words, I consider the issue of whether a representative representing his district has spoken long enough to be of such transcendent scope that it should be decided by more than a mere majority vote. I believe this is vital for the protection of any and every minority, for the protection of every citizen of our State, and should not be taken from either.

It is suggested by this amendment to our rules that a majority should decide the relative importance of this issue and the sufficiency of debate, not the minority. But giving this choice to the minority has one redeeming feature—the minority can never impose its changes on the majority. The minority can but say to the majority, "You are going about it in the wrong way. The need for a change may exist but your solution is defective." This negative power of a minority plays a crucial role in our scheme of government.

As a practical matter, as we get into the meat of this session later on, our everyday experiences in this chamber show how the last minute shift of two or three votes changes the majority. Far be it from any of us to admit these last minute changes are not proper and responsive to valid and sincere argument on the merit; but when the issue itself concerns each member's right to continue to urge valid and sincere arguments for or against the merits of a proposal, I feel the issue is so vital as to warrant the House endorsement based on a less tenuous foundation of more than a single vote margin.

Majority Rule! Where is the logic or the reason to be found back of majority rule except in the mere necessity to dispatch business? The fact that a majority of one or ten votes for a bill in the House is not a certification that the action is right. I would like to quote from the minority leader of the United States Senate, Senator Dirksen, and his remarks made on January 18 of this year during the arguments in the Senate in regards to closure. I quote, "Probably history will record that the majority has been wrong oftener than not. I believe there is something to that text, in the books of Exodus in the Old Testament which says, 'Follow not a multitude to do evil,' is in language so crystal clear that it cannot be mistaken, and it has been there for a long, long time."

You must remember that the majority crucified Jesus Christ. The majority burned the Christians at the stake. The majority drove the Jews into exile and ghetto. The majority established slavery. The majority set up enumerable gibbets. The majority chained to the stakes and surrounded with circles of flames martyrs through all ages in the world's history.

Majority rule without any limitation or curb upon a particular set of fools who happen to be placed for the moment in the charge of the machinery of government. Again quoting Senator Dirksen on that same day, "The majority grinned and jeered when Columbus said the world was round. The majority threw him into a dungeon for having discovered a new world. They jeered Galileo, and made him repent before they sacrificed him. That was the majority speaking. You have to be pretty careful, and especially so when you are in a field of procedure."

I think we can also look to the debate of 1964 Civil Rights Bill which took some eighty-three days in our Senate. One wonders what would have been the results if the majority could have imposed closure on the debate in the Senate. I doubt very much if the bills would have been nearly as comprehensive even though it could have been done in less time. I do not believe that this law observance today would be nearly as uniform, nearly as great a source of pride for all Americans without that comprehensive debate. Conflicting convictions were expressed and an atmosphere of open and free debate where the result was not by any means a foregone conclusion. The attention was focused on the Senate as a safety valve for an emotionally charged issue in our scheme of government. The fact that the law is now fully observed in all parts of our country attests abundantly to the vital service performed in the Senate chamber. After all, any law is only as good as its observance. Senator Dirksen also in his speech on January 18 referred to the Civil Rights Bill and how it started with merely only four titles and wound up with eleven and how much better bill it was for the welfare of the Country.

Again, quoting Senator Dirksen in his speech on the closure of the Senate on January 18 of this year, "Do not tell me you cannot get it because I got it, just as others did. You can get it again when you have a case, but when you have a bill of goods to sell to the Senate, a bill of goods that is under suspicion and not in national interest, it should not be sold.

"That is the point. If we are going to protect the republic against wild schemes and fantasies and favored legislative brain children, the thing to do is to protect our rules. Let me adjure you now with everything that is in my heart to vote down this motion to table and let the point of order prevail."

Before any law or statute to bind approximately four million people could be passed, it should somewhere be subjected to free debate; somewhere it should encounter opposition, somewhere the fires of keen intellect should burn their heat about it and test it for its metal; somewhere and somehow it should be determined by all that intellects can do and all that the tongue can express, whether the particular law or amendment which is proposed is fit to be insisted be fastened upon four million people who think they are free. As far as taking advantage of full debate, some rules of common sense and decency and gentlemanly conduct have their effect. Not in all my twelve years that I have sat in this body have I ever seen but two or three instances of what might have really been called a filibuster but my particular amendment would have taken care of at least one and probably both. Time and time again I have seen the opportunity under the rules for the minority to have stood and obstructed legislation, but as soon as debate was fairly over they have invariably given way and the vote has come. In the two instances which I remember freedom of speech was not denied but continuance of speech was demanded. It was insisted that the bills before the House and that the opponents or advocates of the bills should speak for or against them and that no other business should intervene.

I would like to quote Senator James A. Reed from Missouri 1911-1929 in one of his speeches in which he was talking about closure of the Senate, "Sir, I know it is popular to attack the Senate. So many an ass has stood and brayed at the lion. He who would claim for this body perfection would prove himself a fool. But the more imperfect we are, the more we need to counsel and take advice. The less we know, the more we ought to strive to know. There may be some men of such supernatural powers of intellect that they can gain nothing by the discussion their fellows may produce; but I have never seen an important bill upon the floor of the Senate, unless there was some political organization in control determined to pass it without dotting of an 'I' or the crossing of a 'T', that has not been amended and amended to its benefit. As long as we can keep this form free, as long as a vigorous and determined minority can prevent the passage of a statute, so long this Country will be safe, reasonably safe, at least, for no great act of treachery can ever be consummated where there are not some brave souls to stand in its resistance and to stand to the end. To strike down is safeguard of a public discussion, apply the gag, and imagine, if you please, that it is to be applied only to pass good measures, only to accomplish the virtuous and the wise and the holy, only to bring the things of rectitude; imagine that, if you please. He is a fool; he is every kind of fool that has ever cursed this earth or cursed himself, who thinks that any power will always be used wisely and justly. Power is almost invariably abused."

And again quoting that Minority Floor Leader for the Senate, Senator Dirksen, in his January 18 debate on the Senate closure, "I do not mind. I am prepared to do it, and surely in the wisdom and genius of this body we can find the right answer without forfeiting the safeguard that has meant so much to this Country."

I think the Senator's feelings and statements in this matter can certainly apply here equally as well. When we have two divergent strong feelings I think the art of compromise, which is the art of politics, that people can sit down and in their wisdom and in the genius of the minds that are collected here come up with the answer that will probably work the best for the most people rather than having the answer of a majority even though it be of one, crammed down the throat of a minority, such as will be possible under this rule.

Our Country has long cherished and protected the right of the minority. In South America and Cuba, the minority is shot and the majority has free and full power. Yet, I don't think their forms of government are any better than ours. In fact, I think quite the contrary is true.

Let's require the majority in its head-on pursuit of its dictates pause to make those compromises which "wisdom" requires, so that all the people of our great state will be represented.

Full debate should not be cast aside without an ample majority. Let's not leave our precious right to debate up to a simple majority of one.

I thank you.

Leonard A. Sawyer
25th District

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment by Mr. O'Brien to the resolution adopting permanent House rules, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 53; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Litchman, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—42.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—53.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Hawley, Kink, Leland, Sawyer—4.

Mr. Gorton moved adoption of the following amendment to the resolution:

On page 16, line 5, before "No standing", insert:

"A record of the votes of members of the committee on rules and administration on any issue shall be ordered when demanded by one-third of the members present and shall be retained by the chief clerk until the end of the session. It shall be available for inspection by any interested person."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. King, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. King:

"This would be a procedural question as to how this would operate. Are the members of the House going to know in advance with sufficient notice the bills to be considered in the rules committee so that we could ask ahead of time that a record be made, or will a written record be kept of every vote in the rules committee so that after that vote has been taken we can then ask that a report be released to the public? Which of these two methods is going to be used?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. King, I couldn't have answered this question the first day, because I had never been on the committee before. The rules committee operates from a calendar which includes all the bills listed on it that are in front of the rules committee. In effect, you can make that up for yourself by using the Washington research council report to find which bills are before the rules committee. If I were not on the rules committee and I were interested in a bill, I would ask somebody on rules to obtain a record of the vote. There is no way to tell in advance of a meeting which bills will be under discussion in rules on that particular day because that is up to each individual member. As his turn comes, he can say which bill he would like to have discussed. This rule was drafted to be as closely analogous as possible to the rule which relates to a demand for an electric roll call on the floor. It would not be recorded in those cases where the Speaker simply calls for a voice vote, which is the case with the great bulk of the bills in rules committee as it is on the floor, but it would be used in cases where important issues were concerned and one-third of the members ask for it."

Mr. King:

"Would it be possible for the group to ask for the votes on a series of bills to be recorded in one motion?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I don't see how it would be possible, Mr. King, because of the fact that only one bill is before the committee at a time. There is no way for anybody to know what bill is going to be discussed next. Since the bills are considered in the rules committee one at a time, I expect the demand would have to be made one bill at a time."

Representative Heavey spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. O'Brien moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Mr. Gorton:

After "when demanded by" and before "of the members" strike "one-third" and insert "one-seventeenth"

Debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking in behalf of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative McDougall speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative Sprague speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of Mr. O'Brien's amendment to the amendment by Mr. Gorton on page 16 of the resolution adopting permanent House rules, and the motion was lost and the amendment to the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 54; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagariol, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Litchman, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—41.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jueling, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—54.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Hawley, Kink, Leland, Sawyer—4.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Chatalas on a point of information.

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Speaker, I notice there were fifty-four against and still there are two absent from the Republican side."

The Speaker:

"What seems to be the problem?"

Mr. Chatalas:

"I thought there were only fifty-five in the majority and there were fifty-four who voted against the amendment."

The Speaker:

"You had better check your own party, Mr. Chatalas."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the amendment by Mr. Gorton to page 16 of the resolution adopting permanent House rules.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Gorton, if this amendment were adopted, I have two questions in my mind. At what time would a member of the House who is not on the rules committee make a motion to have the vote on a particular bill be kept and made public? Would that be the day that it comes in or just any day during the week after it is in rules committee? Perhaps he might make his motion after the vote has been taken. Then what?"

Mr. Gorton:

"This doesn't speak of members of the House. This whole rule deals with the committee and the demand would be made by a member of the committee."

Mr. Smith:

"Then you would have to be on the rules committee to be able to get any record of how the rules committee voted?"

Mr. Gorton:

"You have a much more restrictive situation than that now, Mr. Smith. Any time you want to get a bill out of committee, you have to ask members of the rules committee to do it for you. I assume if you want a record on a particular issue, you would ask one of the members to demand that."

Mr. Smith:

"Then, Mr. Gorton, you are saying in your rule change that you wish to make no provision for the members of the House to get the record of what happened in the rules committee unless they are on the committee? I want to make sure you mean to confine this to this select group."

Mr. Gorton:

"That is not true. The record will be available to anyone, whether he is a member of the House or not. The demand for a record relates to the procedure within the rules committee, and just as you would in relation to any other committee of which you are not a member, you would go and find a member of the committee to make a motion for you on some issue in which you are interested. If you want a bill taken up in rules committee, you ask a member to do it for you. Under this rule, if you want a record of a vote taken, you ask a member of the rules committee to get that record for you. Once the record is made, it is available to you or members of the press or anyone else who wants to know what it was."

Mr. Swayze demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Litchman moved adoption of the following amendment to Mr. Gorton's amendment to page 16:

After "available" and before "for inspection" insert "immediately"

Debate ensued, Representative Litchman speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mr. Moon moved adoption of the following amendment to Mr. Gorton's amendment:

After "*demand*ed by" and before "of the members" strike "one-third" and insert "one-sixth"

Debate ensued, Representatives Moon and O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment to the amendment, and Representative Gorton speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Bottiger demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on Mr. Moon's amendment to the amendment by Mr. Gorton to page 16 of the resolution adopting permanent House rules, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 42; nays, 53; absent or not voting, 4.

A bill with an amendment or amendments adopted by the house shall be sent to the committee on claims, auditing, and printing, which committee shall see that all amendments are properly engrossed upon the original bill, and that the bill be returned to the chief clerk before the opening of the house on the next succeeding day.] 35. Any representative shall have the right to compare the original bill and amendments thereto and any representative shall have the right to compare an enrolled bill with the engrossed bill before the speaker signs the same."

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the resolution adopting permanent House rules as amended.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Charette, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Gorton, under these rules as they have been worked out by your committee, if there are three or four amendments on the desk and a motion is made to lay them on the table, can they be laid on the table without being read?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Charette, that is the same question you asked before. I think it is a moot question at this point. In the past this has happened under rules which are in effect no different than the ones that are here. It is my belief—but I am not going to guarantee this will be the ruling until the specific situation comes up, and of course the ruling won't be made by me—that under ordinary circumstances to lay something on the table it has to be before the body. It isn't before the body until it has been read. I am not going to guarantee that interpretation. It is a personal one with me."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Grant, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Gorton, on page 9 of the proposed rules where the language is stricken, I notice that privileged motions in the past included a demand for call of the house and a demand for roll call. That is not listed in the privileged motions proposed today. What is the reason for that?"

Mr. Gorton:

"This isn't any change in the present procedure. Actually this is an amendment of the temporary rules, Mr. Grant, and it puts the permanent rules back in the form that the House permanent rules have always been. It was suggested by Mr. O'Brien that the way each of those motions was listed in the old House rules was preferable to the way the Senate rules read. It was actually a drafting mistake on my part in preparing the temporary rules. We switched to the Senate situation. Those two particular questions are constitutional in nature. They are embedded in the Constitution, the call of the House and the demand for roll call, and obviously they are still considered as having precedence over just about anything else."

Representative Grant spoke on the resolution, addressing himself to the make-up of committees and the prefiling of bills, and Representative Gorton answered his arguments. Representative Brouillet addressed remarks to the question of the function of the majority and minority parties in the House.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on House Resolution No. 67-17A, adopting permanent House rules, and the resolution as amended was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 85; nays, 10; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bo-zarth, Brazier, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sheridan, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—85.

House Bill No. 116, by Representatives Leckenby, Garrett, and Mahaffey (by legislative council request):

Authorizing creation of utility local improvement districts.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., January 27, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Local Government, to whom was referred House Bill No. 116, authorizing creation of utility local improvement districts, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

On page 4, section 2, on line 12, after "districts" strike all the matter down to and including "amendatory act" on line 13

On page 4, section 3, on line 26, after "this section" strike all the matter down to and including "amendatory act" on line 27

On page 19 add two new sections following section 27 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. The legislative authority of any city or town may by ordinance convert any then existing local improvement district into a utility local improvement district at any time prior to the adoption of an ordinance approving and confirming the final assessment roll of such local improvement district. The ordinance so converting the local improvement district shall provide for the payment of the special assessments levied in that district into the special fund established or to be established for the payment of revenue bonds issued to defray the cost of the local improvement in that district.

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 29. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

Homer Humiston, Chairman,
Joseph L. McGavick, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Horace W. Bozarth, Robert L. Charette, P. J. "Jim" Gallagher, Avery Garrett, Slade Gorton, Joe D. Haussler, Edward Heavey, Timothy H. Hill, Dale E. Hoggins, Francis E. Holman, Hugh "Bud" Kalich, Jerry C. Kopet, William S. Leckenby, Brian J. Lewis, Audley F. Mahaffey, John Merrill, Gordon W. Richardson, Leonard A. Sawyer, George P. Sheridan, Jonathan Whetzel.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Holman, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Garrett, the following amendment by Representatives Garrett and Holman was adopted:

On page 19, after section 29, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 30. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

On motion of Mr. Garrett, the following amendment by Representatives Garrett and Holman to the title was adopted:

On page 2, in the last line of the title, after "35.43 RCW" and before the period, insert "and declaring an emergency"

House Bill No. 116 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 307, by Representatives Jolly, Flanagan, and Newhouse:

On motion of Mr. Brouillet, the following amendment by Representatives Brouillet and Lynch was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 19, after "Education" strike "Facilities"

House Bill No. 355 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 229, by Representatives Newschwander, Chatalas, Farr, and Jastad:

Raising application fees for prospective dentists.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Sawyer moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, section 5, beginning on line 15 after "That" and before "this section" on line 16 insert "until January 1, 1969"

Debate ensued, Representative Sawyer speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Newschwander speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Newschwander yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Representative Newschwander, are matters like this a matter of professional ethics which are normally taken care of by the association of dentists, doctors, or lawyers?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"No, Mr. Smith."

Mr. Smith:

"Do you mean that lawyers and others don't have ethics committees and police themselves rather than having a public law to do it?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"You asked me about dentists. Not all dentists belong to the association; secondly, the board that runs our association has no power over the so-called ethics of the men in the practice of dentistry in this state."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Smith and Clark (Newman H.) speaking against adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Garrett, Mr. Sawyer yielded to question.

Mr. Garrett:

"These grandfather clauses always intrigue me because it seems that they have a tendency to set someone up with a competitive advantage over someone else. Under your amendment, if I understand it right, if people are now advertising they could keep on advertising but no new dentists, such as this chap who is trying to get started in my district, would be able to advertise."

Mr. Sawyer:

"That is true, but only for a period of two years. My amendment would allow the grandfather clause to continue for two years so that those dentists who have a large amount of money invested would have a chance to make other arrangements with their businesses and go into a professional status rather than continue on a pure business basis."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Garrett and Sawyer speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Humiston, Newschwander, Chatalas, and Lewis speaking against it.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Lewis, Mr. Newschwander yielded to question.

Mr. Lewis:

"Dr. Newschwander, I understand the intent of the bill when it is talking about something like Dr. Smith advertising as a dentist, and when Dr. Smith decides to retire or go out of business, nobody can buy his practice and use the name of Dr. Smith. How do we take care of someone who is advertising as Peerless Dentists and we don't know who the Peerless Dentists are? When does their right of advertising as Peerless Dentists expire?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"If you go back to the beginning in 1935, you will see that anybody at that time who was using a trade name such as 'Peerless' could continue doing so. Nobody in practice now can use a trade name, and when the original owner of that 'Peerless' name stops business, the 'Peerless' name goes out with him."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Adams, Mr. Newschwander yielded to question.

Mr. Adams:

"If a dentist moves into an area and opens his office, to what extent can he announce it?"

Mr. Newschwander:

"A dentist starting in a new area has the opportunity of running a small two or three inch ad in a newspaper or he can send out announcements. There is nothing to prevent them from using routine, accepted methods of getting the word around that they are starting practice."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Adams, Jastad, and Walgren speaking against adoption of the amendment.

The motion was lost, and the amendment by Mr. Sawyer to House Bill No. 229 was not adopted.

Mr. Charette moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 3, line 17, after "[five]" and before "dollars" strike "ten" and insert "fifty"

Debate ensued, Representative Charette speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Newschwander speaking against its adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

House Bill No. 229 was passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 8, by Representatives O'Brien, Copeland, and Gorton (by legislative council request):

Providing for committees of the legislative council, revising expense and voucher procedure, and authorizing special committee members.

The bill was read the second time and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Joint Resolution No. 1, by Representatives Moon, Gorton, and Whetzel (by legislative council request):

Constitutional amendment to allow assessment of agricultural, timber and open space lands on basis of use rather than value.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Bledsoe, the House deferred further consideration of House Joint Resolution No. 1, and the resolution was ordered placed on Monday's second reading calendar.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I was present on February 1st during the voting on House Bill No. 197. I did not vote on this issue as my vote might be construed as involving conflict of interest.

Hal Wolf,
22nd District.

Although I voted for the bill, I think it is deficient in not including reformatory and penal institutions. Their inclusion would save the state in excess of sixty-three thousand dollars per year.

Brian J. Lewis,
41st District.

Engrossed House Bill No. 58, by Representatives Adams, May, and Kopet (by departmental request):

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I was present at the time the vote was taken on House Bill No. 58 and voted yea. Apparently the machine did not function properly in recording my vote.

Alan Bluechel,
1st District.

Engrossed House Bill No. 174, by Representatives O'Dell, Smythe, and Thompson:

Transferring water resource funds.

House Bill No. 9 was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Copeland speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives Moon and May speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Barden, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Barden:

"Representative O'Brien, did the Legislative Council give any consideration to the administration of the oath prior to the convening of the next session of the legislature subsequent to the appointment to office of a representative or senator?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I don't believe it went into this specifically. I don't think there is any problem about having one of the supreme or superior court judges give a person qualified and appointed by a board of county commissioners the oath of office."

Mr. Barden:

"Would it be in order to revert back to second reading and provide for that?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"I think Mr. Copeland should answer that."

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Barden, there is already a procedure provided whereby a superior court judge may issue the oath of office to someone who is duly appointed to fill this position. It has been done on numerous occasions. There are some members here who first gained their seats by appointment and did receive an oath at the time or shortly thereafter."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Copeland, O'Brien, and Bottiger speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mrs. Lynch, Mr. Copeland yielded to question.

Mrs. Lynch:

"Mr. Copeland, I was an appointee and I was sworn into office. I did not receive any money. Are you assuring us that an appointee, if this bill is passed, will be sworn in?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Well, this is the normal procedure, Mrs. Lynch. If you follow along through with the standard procedure, the secretary of state is notified that the replacement has been made. I am quite certain it would be somewhat incumbent upon the new appointee to seek out a superior court judge and take the oath of office after which the secretary of state could confirm it, and he would then be authorized to receive the salary."

Mrs. Lynch:

"I think most of the appointees have not been sworn in and most of the county commissioners do not do this. I think this is something we do need to clarify."

Mr. Copeland:

"I don't think we have to do it in this section. The reason it was never done before is because there was no particular benefit in having the appointee sworn in because he wasn't going to get paid anyway. Now, with a salary in effect, it would be more or less a perfunctory sort of procedure to ask a superior court judge to swear you in."

Further debate ensued, Representative Grant speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

MOTION

Mr. Moon moved that the rules be suspended and that House Bill No. 9 be returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment.

Debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Barden and O'Brien speaking against it.

With the consent of the House, Mr. Moon withdrew his motion.

On motion of Mr. Copeland, the House deferred further consideration of House Bill No. 9, and the bill was ordered placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

Engrossed House Bill No. 298, by Representatives Newschwander, Kink, and Jueling (by executive request):

Authorizing establishment of work release program for prisoners.

Engrossed House Bill No. 298 was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Representatives Newschwander and Amen spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 298, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 95; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—95.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Harris, May, Richardson, Wanamaker—4.

Debate ensued, Representative Hill speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Beck speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Chatalas, Mr. Clark (Newman H.) yielded to question.

Mr. Chatalas:

"Mr. Clark, two years ago we raised the salaries of all the judges, if I remember correctly. What does this do now to the justice court judges? Their salary, as I remember it, had something to do with the percentage of the superior court judges' salary."

Mr. Clark (Newman H.):

"Yes, last time there was an amendment put in which increased their salaries by fixing it on a percentage of two-thirds of the superior court judges' salary. That could be amended back to fix their salaries during this session at any amount that you wish."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Heavey and Clark speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 38, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 78; nays, 17; absent or not voting, 4.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Avey, Backstrom, Berentson, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Gallagher, Garrett, Gorton, Grant, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Leland, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Whetzel, Wolf, Mr. Speaker—78.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Anderson, Harris, Leckenby, Wanamaker—4.

Engrossed House Bill No. 38, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I was temporarily out of the chamber at the time the vote was taken on Engrossed House Bill No. 38. I would like to be recorded as voting yea.

William S. Leckenby,
31st District.

This bill was deficient in not fixing the salaries of justices of the peace. Currently justices receive two-thirds of the salary of a superior court judge rather than a fixed amount. Many minor justice court judges do not warrant a salary increase of over sixteen hundred dollars at this time.

Brian J. Lewis,
41st District.

Engrossed House Bill No. 55, by Representatives Cunningham, Bottiger, and Swayze (by departmental request):

Amending the public works contracts law.

On motion of Mr. Bottiger, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

In line 4 of the title, after "RCW 39.08.010" and before the period, insert "": and adding a new section."

The bill was ordered reengrossed.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the rules were suspended, Reengrossed House Bill No. 55 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"I notice that there are up to twenty-seven members on your Committee on Natural Resources. Only fourteen of them signed this bill out Do Pass. This leaves thirteen that didn't sign it. I was wondering if perhaps you could give some explanation of this?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"I think probably we had about fourteen or fifteen there that day."

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of House Bill No. 188, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 92; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 7.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Beck, Mr. Bottiger yielded to question.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Bottiger, there is no doubt in my mind whatsoever that this may be a good law. However, I would like to ask you a question. Last session we adopted a great, big thirty-six page bill, the uniform commercial code. What does this do to the code? Does this bring us out of line with all of the other states or was this an error that was in our commercial code when we adopted it last session and are going to put into effect next July 1?"

Mr. Bottiger:

"This bill adds a new section to the code which to my knowledge is not in effect in any other state. In this sense we will be 'un-uniform' but I think it is the kind of amendment that other states will be adopting and so we will reach uniformity again."

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Bottiger, could this not be inserted in our criminal code or under some other section other than in the uniform code?"

Mr. Bottiger:

"My answer to that, Representative Beck, is that you can put it any place you want. However, putting it in the same section of the uniform commercial code that deals with overdraft checks puts it where a lawyer would logically look for it when researching the question."

MOTION

Mr. Beck moved that the House defer further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 224, and that the bill be ordered placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

Debate ensued, Representative Beck speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Clarke (George W.) and Humiston speaking against it.

The motion was lost.

Representatives Conner and Avey spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Goldsworthy demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 224, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 92; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 6.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Hurley on a point of personal privilege.

Mrs. Hurley:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would like to direct your attention to our calendar today and especially to page two on which we are working now. As you will notice, every bill on that page is a departmental request bill. We have seventeen bills on the calendar today and of those seventeen bills, eleven are departmental or executive request bills. Now, I have noticed this before and I thought it was going to get better, but it only seems to be getting worse. I find this most tiresome. As a representative of the people, we are doing a pathetic job of representing them. In fact, as I look at the calendar today, I see we have no choice. As long as departmental request bills are the only things that are going to be on the calendar, we can't possibly do the job we were sent here to do, and I think it is really too bad. I hope on tomorrow's calendar we will have some people bills."

The Speaker:

"I might just mention that the cut-off date for departmental requests is quite early in the session. That cut-off date has now passed and those bills are before us now. I am sure that the people bills will come along in quantity at a later date."

MOTION

Mr. McDougall moved that the rules be suspended, the Committee on Rules and Administration be relieved of House Bill No. 376, and that the bill be ordered placed on Monday's second reading calendar.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of order.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, it sounds to me as if this is a two-part motion. We are suspending the rules and also taking the bill from committee."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"It isn't necessary to suspend the rules to take a bill away from the Rules and Administration Committee. I might state it is a bad precedent to relieve the Rules and Administration Committee of a bill after it has been referred there for consideration. I am quite sure the Speaker would be agreeable to placing the bill on Monday's calendar without going through this procedure."

With the consent of the House, Mr. McDougall withdrew his motion.

House Bill No. 405, by Representatives Lynch, Charette, McCaffree, and Kirk (by departmental request):

Deleting women's jury service exemption.

The bill was read the second time and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. McDougall, House Bill No. 28 was rereferred to Committee on Appropriations.

Abolishing certain special funds.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

House Bill No. 9, by Representatives O'Brien and Copeland (by legislative council request):

Providing for emoluments for appointees to the office of legislator.

House Bill No. 9 was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Copeland speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representatives May, Holman, and Moon speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Copeland yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"Representative Copeland, I sat and listened intently to you but I still am in doubt about my principal objection to this bill. Will this bill, as it is presently drafted, allow an appointed member of the legislature to draw a salary without being sworn into office and taking the oath of office and realizing his responsibilities?"

Mr. Copeland:

"In all probability the individual would want to go through the procedure of being sworn in, but even if he weren't, he would be certified by the secretary of state and would then for all intents and purposes be fulfilling the functions of the office. In other words, you are talking about a small, gray area, Mr. Moon, which I think is hardly significant. At the time any new member is elected, he is not sworn in until the first day of the session but he is paid for his travel to Olympia before that time. The important thing is not the matter of a man raising his hand before a judge. The feeling behind the bill is that the people are trying to render a service to their district and they should be compensated for it. Consider the possibility that you and Mr. Backstrom might for some reason both resign from the legislature simultaneously. I think your district is entitled to have two people representing it in the interim, and I think those two people are entitled to get paid for their services."

Mr. Moon:

"I have no disagreement with this. My disagreement is that they should be allowed to receive state salaries prior to the time they take the oath of office. Can they, under this bill, assume the responsibilities and duties of the office and be paid without taking the oath of office?"

Mr. Copeland:

"Yes, they can be paid without taking the oath of office. The Constitution is quite specific that in the case of filling vacancies the vacancy is considered filled when the appointment has been certified by the head election official of the state of Washington. The attorney general has ruled that once they receive that certificate, appointees are in fact members of the legislature."

Further debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking against passage of the bill.

Mr. Mahaffey demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien, Clark (Newman H.), Swayze, and Bottiger speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representative Harris, who was excused.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former Speaker of the House Charles W. Hodde and appointed Representatives O'Brien and Copeland to conduct him to a seat on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

PRESENTATION OF AWARD

The Speaker recognized within the bar of the House State Arts Commission Chairman Robert W. Evans and members of the Arts Commission; Mrs. C'cele Coombs, Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker, and State Librarian Maryan Reynolds, and appointed Representatives Mahaffey, Kirk, Johnson, and Bottiger to conduct them to seats on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker requested the Sergeants at Arms to escort members of the State Arts Commission and members of the State Library Commission to seats at the front of the House chamber.

The Speaker noted former State Representative Clayton Farrington of Thurston county among those escorted to seats of honor, and asked him to stand and be recognized.

The Speaker;

"We are privileged today to have with us this group of men and women who represent the State Arts Commission and State Library Commission, and we are going to be privileged to witness a presentation of an honor award. I will turn the gavel over to Chairman Robert Evans of Tacoma. Chairman Evans."

Mr. Evans:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, this is indeed an honor for the Arts Commission, and I am sure for the Library Commission, and we hope that the award we are about to present will be of interest and perhaps stimulate further such honors in the future. We have on this campus a building which is eminently suited for such an honor, and it has been the business of the State Arts Commission over the past six years to present an award for any cultural achievements, any notable events, or outstanding buildings, old or new, which we felt deserved recognition. There is on this campus an outstanding contemporary building, the State Library, the product of the design of Paul Thiry, an architect of national and international eminence. It is in every sense a great architectural achievement, a jewel on this campus for which the Capitol may be proud.

We have some slides which will demonstrate the quality of this building. These will be presented without comment and will illustrate the works of art within and without the building itself."

Slides were shown.

Mr. Evans:

"This building is filled with and surrounded by examples of great art, about which Mrs. Wanamaker will talk further. Our award is not given lightly. It is given to those things within the state which we consider to be of highest quality aesthetically and artistically. This library is certainly a crowning glory of the campus if not of the county. The building we are in, you will notice, is barren of art, although we would like to see it filled with art. Perhaps we will do that at another time. However, at the moment, may I present a former member of this august body and now a member of the State Arts Commission and who was, at the time this building was being considered for construction, the chairman of the State Library Commission, Mrs. Pearl Wanamaker."

Mrs. Wanamaker:

"Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker and members of the House of Representatives, members of the Arts Commission and State Library Commission:

"Today the Washington State Arts Commission presents its award to the Washington State Library in recognition of the excellence of this architecture enhanced by art works and the dedicated service of the art works as part of the architectural quality of the building in blending into an attractive whole. The interior is open, as you saw by the slides, to provide vistas throughout, both within and without. The colors were planned as part of the architectural design and are muted in order to emphasize books and people as part of the design.

"We honor in this award many people. We honor Paul Thiry, the architect, for the architectural excellence and, not only that, but for his persistent efforts in bringing this building into being. We recognize John W. Elliott, master craftsman, for the territorial sun dial, on which the motto is 'Time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current.' (Marcus Aurelius). We honor Everett G. Du Pen, sculptor, for the fountain designed to be viewed from many angles, giving a sense of wheeling, soaring flight. We honor James Fitzgerald, sculptor, for the free-standing mosaic wall, which you saw in the slides, a striking and unusual work of art in every respect. We honor Kenneth Callahan, painter, for the Washington room murals, four magnificent panels representing the full sweep of Washington state history in one exciting panorama. We honor Mark Tobey, painter, for his painting specifically designed for the Washington State Library. We honor Bob and Ira Spring, photographers, for the Washington photographs which are a part of the illuminated transparencies. We also honor Chao Chen Yung, color photographer, for the color development in the transparencies. There are also two highly prized oil paintings, 'American Indian Basketry and Utensils' by Myra A. Wiggins, and 'Old Ships on Lake Union' by Edgar Forkner, both Washington citizens.

"Also, for vision and leadership in this project, we recognize today in this award the Washington State Library Commission, the Washington State Capitol Commission, the Washington State Legislature, and the Washington State Librarian and her staff.

"This award recognized the Washington State Library as a fine example of how buildings, both private and public, can incorporate beauty of design, arts and crafts, and utility. Mr. Bruno, chairman of the Arts Commission, could not be here to accept this award, but he has designated Mrs. C'cele Coombs from Yakima to accept it on behalf of the Washington State Arts Commission. Mrs. Coombs, will you step forward and receive the award?"

Mrs. Coombs:

"It is an honor for me to accept with very deep appreciation this award from the Washington State Arts Commission on behalf of the State Library Commission, the State Librarian, Miss Maryan Reynolds, and all the citizens of the state of Washington. Indeed, it is a double honor to receive it from you, Mrs. Wanamaker, who for so long have been associated with excellent education and who served as chairman of the commission during many of the years of active work for this building. The credit for bringing this building into reality cannot go to the Library Commission alone, but must go to all of the citizens of Washington, including the library staff of the State Library, the Washington State Library associations, and many other organizations and individual citizens, and, in particular, the legislatures of 1955 and 1957, many of whom are in the audience today, the governor's Capitol Committee, the architects, and many others. The most wonderful thing for us who work with the State Library in having this building is the opportunity it has given the State Library to give to the citizens of this state the type of services which are outstanding in the nation. Thank you for the recognition of the building and its total program. The award will fit very beautifully into the architecture of the building. Thank you very much."

Mr. Evans:

"I might, if I may, recognize Miss Maryan Reynolds, who is the state librarian.

"That, ladies and gentlemen, concludes our presentation. We would be very willing to give another to this body any time you have another achievement of equal merit. Thank you."

The Speaker requested that the Sergeants at Arms escort the members of the State Arts Commission and the State Library Commission from the House chamber.

The Speaker requested that the special committee escort the guests of honor from the rostrum.

INITIATIVE NO. 32
LOCAL PROCESSING OF STATE TIMBER

An Act establishing a state agency to be known as the Full Employment Commission; providing for a procedure whereby timber sold by the state to any "responsible bidder" and removed from state-owned or administered lands will be branded, and will receive primary processing in a facility employing Washington residents located in the state of Washington or within fifteen miles from any boundary thereof in an abutting state, unless permission is granted by the Full Employment

Commission for primary processing elsewhere based upon a finding that no reasonable market presently exists for the timber at such a facility; and establishing penalties.

INITIATIVE MEASURE NO. 32 TO THE LEGISLATURE
LOCAL PROCESSING OF STATE TIMBER

An Act establishing a state agency to be known as the full employment commission; providing for a procedure whereby timber sold by the state to any "responsible bidder" and removed from state-owned or administered lands will be branded, and will receive primary processing in a facility employing Washington residents located in the state of Washington or within fifteen miles from any boundary thereof in an abutting state, unless permission is granted by the full employment commission for primary processing elsewhere based upon a finding that no reasonable market presently exists for the timber at such a facility; and establishing penalties.

Be It Enacted By The Legislature Of The State Of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. This act may be known and cited as the "Washington State Log Conservation and Full Employment Act of 1967."

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. The legislature of the state of Washington finds:

(1) The maintenance of full employment and the prevention of job loss is essential to the health, safety, and welfare of the people of the state of Washington, while the encouragement of industry is vital to such full employment and the continued prosperity of the state. Though the primary processing of logs is one of the state's most important industries, it has faced increasing economic difficulties in recent years because of a shortage in the supply of logs from public lands. Wood processing plants employing residents of the state of Washington have been closed and loss of jobs has resulted. Should this trend continue, the state could well be deprived of the employment and an industry which have traditionally been among the chief pillars of its economy.

(2) The well-being of the state depends on the stability of the jobs of its citizens with both the production of raw materials, and the processing thereof, playing important roles. The consequences of trade restrictions and export bans imposed by others threaten to disrupt the balanced economy of this state by eliminating both intrastate processing of logs derived from timber grown on state lands and the employment of residents of the state of Washington in plants that process such timber. When state timber is marketed, the maximum value for the state is obtained when the timber is sold competitively and the primary processing thereof is completed either within the state's borders or by facilities that directly furnish jobs to residents of the state of Washington.

To avert substantial and irreparable damage to the economy, the legislature of the state of Washington, pursuant to the state's police power, is compelled to enact this legislation in order to carry out the obligation of the state of Washington to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the state's citizens.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. As used in this act:

(1) "Timber means wood in tree form, whether standing or down, or in log form.

(2) "Public timber" means all timber removed from or still on state-owned or administered lands.

(3) "Primarily processed" means that state of manufacture when all longitudinal surfaces of a log have been made flat by sawing or when a substantial portion of a log has been converted into veneer or when a log is converted into chips of a size suitable for use in the manufacture of pulp.

(4) "Logging" means the severing of timber from the land.

(5) "Log" means a segment of a tree that has been excised therefrom.

(6) "Facilities in the state of Washington" means a manufacturing establishment (a) that is equipped with facilities for the conversion of logs into veneer, lumber or chips; (b) that is located within the state of Washington or in an abutting state within fifteen miles on a straight line from any point on the boundary of the state of Washington; and (c) that employs residents of the state of Washington in the primary processing of logs.

(7) "Responsible bidder" means a person who, in addition to meeting the requirements of other laws and regulations relating to the sale of public timber, as part of his bid (a) agrees in writing that if he is awarded the contract for the sale of the timber for which he is bidding he will cause all of the timber that is included in such contract and removed from state land to receive primary processing in a facility in the state of Washington as defined herein, unless a permit is issued pursuant to section 8 of this act for the primary processing of such timber elsewhere, and (b) represents in writing that he, his affiliates, subsidiaries, and persons under a common control with him, have not theretofore breached any agreement made under section 5 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. Where the appraised value exceeds two thousand dollars, all sales of state-owned or administered timber or interests therein made by the department of natural resources shall be at public auction and made to the highest responsible bidder.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In the performance of a contract for the sale of public timber, if the buyer shall fail to abide by the agreements that were made by him as part of his bid for such contract, he shall be liable therefor in a civil action for damages brought by the state of Washington in an amount equal to one-half of the price established by the contract for all of the timber that by such contract is included or estimated to be included, as the case may be, in the sale. Every contract for the sale of public timber shall contain a provision that all of the timber included in such contract that is removed pursuant thereto from state land shall receive primary processing in a facility in the state of Washington unless a permit is issued pursuant to section 8 of this act for the primary processing of such timber elsewhere.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) All logs derived from the sale of public timber shall be branded by a brand to be specified in the contract for the sale of such timber and every contract for the sale of public timber shall include a requirement therefor. The commissioner of public lands shall maintain in his office and at such other places as shall be specified by the regulations of the full employment commission established by section 9 of this act, a record of such brands which shall be available for public inspection at all times when the office of such commissioner is open for the transaction of business with the public. Removal of any such brand from, or the alteration or mutilation of any such brand on, any log prior to the time when such log is primarily processed shall be a misdemeanor.

(2) Every person who purchases, either from the state of Washington or from another person, public timber or logs derived from public timber and branded in accordance with this act shall make such records as the full employment commission created by section 9 of this act shall by regulation require, to show his use or other disposition of such timber and logs. Every person required to make records as aforesaid shall preserve the same for a period of three years during which time upon the request of said commission such person shall make such records available for inspection by the commissioner of public lands during the customary and usual business hours at such person's principal place of business in the state of Washington or, if he has no such place of business, at the office of the said commissioner in Olympia, Washington, during the usual and customary hours of business of said office. Failure to make, preserve or make available for inspection such records in accordance with this act and the regulations issued in pursuance thereof shall be a misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Any person who transports out of the state of Washington by water, whether on a self-propelled or other type of vessel, boat or barge or by floating or towing in rafts or otherwise, any branded logs derived from public timber shall report information concerning such shipment in accordance with rules and regulations that shall be promulgated by the full employment commission. Failure to comply with said rules and regulations shall be a misdemeanor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Permits for the primary processing of public timber other than in a facility in the state of Washington shall be issued by the full employment commission created by section 9 of this act upon the application of the person in control of the use or disposition of such timber if the commission finds that such timber is currently in log form and that there is presently no reasonable market therefor at facilities in the state of Washington, as defined in section 3 (6) of this act, to which it could be economically transported for primary processing. In arriving at such findings with respect to a reasonable market, the commission shall take into account:

(1) The values that were assigned to the species and grade or grades of logs in their stumpage form when the minimum prices were established for the sale of the stumpage from which such logs were derived.

(2) The cost of logging and transporting such timber from the place where it was severed to its then situs in log form, taking into consideration the average cost therefor as such costs are used in the appraisal of timber in the state of Washington that recently has been or shortly will be made available for sale in the vicinity of the area where such timber was severed.

(3) The general level of prices currently offered for logs of the species, size and grade involved by persons who control such primary processing facilities in the state of Washington as are situated within economic log transportation distance of the then situs of such timber.

(4) Whether the general level of price for the species, size and grade of logs described in subsection (3) of this section affords a profit over and above the appraised value described in subsection (1) of this section and the cost described in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) Whether the applicant has solicited in good faith, but unsuccessfully, offers for the purchase of such logs at or below the general level of price described in subsections (3) and (4) of this section from persons customarily engaged in primary processing of logs of the type involved at facilities in the state of Washington as defined in section 3 (6) of this act within economic log transportation distance of the situs of such logs.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. There is hereby created the full employment commission which shall consist of seven members. One of the members shall be the commissioner of public lands, one shall be active in the management of a company or corporation principally engaged in the processing of logs within Washington, one shall be active in the management of a company or corporation principally engaged in logging in the state of Washington, one shall be active in a labor organization representing workers engaged in the primary processing of logs in the state of Washington, and one shall not be associated in any manner with forestry, logging or the manufacture or sale of wood products, one shall be the chairman of the natural resources committee of the Washington State Senate and one shall be the chairman of the natural resources, harbors and waterways committee of the Washington State House of Representatives. With the exception of the commissioner of public lands and the members serving from the Washington State Legislature, the rest of the members of the commission shall be appointed by, and serve at, the governor's pleasure. All commission members shall be reimbursed from the state department of natural resources' account for the actual and necessary expenses incurred by them in the performance of their functions, but shall receive no salary or other compensation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. (1) Five members, at least three of whom shall have been appointed by the governor, shall constitute a quorum at any meeting or session of the full employment commission. At any meeting or session at which a quorum is present, the commission may act by a majority of those present, but no permit shall be issued pursuant to a tie vote.

(2) The full employment commission shall issue regulations to implement this act. Such regulations shall, among other things, designate two days in each calendar month, not less than twelve nor more than sixteen days apart, on which the commission shall receive testimony in support of and opposed to every application for a permit that is then pending and which was made at least five days, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays in the state of Washington, prior to the day of receiving testimony. Within seven days after receiving such testimony, Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays in the state of Washington being excluded, the commission shall grant or deny such application.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A fee of fifty dollars shall accompany the application designated in section 8 of this act, such money to be placed in the department of natural resources' account to be used by the department for the administration of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. In addition to all other remedies permitted by law, any person who breaches the undertaking required by section 5 of this act shall, together with his affiliates, subsidiaries and others under a common control with him, be barred from the further purchase of public timber.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

The message was read and referred to Committee on Natural Resources.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Sheridan, Mr. Clark (Newman H.) yielded to question.

Mr. Sheridan:

"Representative Clark, I wonder if you would explain to us laymen what 'common language' means, in common language?"

Mr. Clark:

"Yes, I would like to use some partial criticism of opinions we have had recently by some members of our state supreme court, in which some lawyers believe that they are using the vernacular of the average citizen a little more than they should. As lawyers, we do appreciate a succinct, briefly stated opinion, because it is easier for the court to write one than to give historical background in common language. Of course, it is more difficult for the attorney general's staff to write a seventy-five word, common language explanation of a bill that will accurately state its purpose and at the same time be understood by the general public, but it is my belief that they should be able to do so."

Further debate ensued, Representative Sheridan speaking against adoption of the committee amendment.

On motion of Mrs. McCaffree, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, beginning on line 3, after "At the" and before "general" insert "next" and after "election" strike all of the material down to and including "1968,"

On motion of Mrs. McCaffree, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 9, after "section" and before the period, strike "10" and insert "11"

House Joint Resolution No. 1 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 121, by Representatives Gorton, Moon, Whetzel, Sprague, Flanagan, and McGavick (by legislative council request):

Providing for open space land.

MOTION

On motion of Mrs. McCaffree, Substitute House Bill No. 121 was substituted for House Bill No. 121, and the substitute bill was placed on the calendar for second reading.

Substitute House Bill No. 121 was read the second time.

On motion of Mrs. McCaffree, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 8, section 13, line 17, after "section" and before the comma, strike "10" and insert "11"

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 8, section 11, line 9, after "by" and before "law" strike "a"

Mr. Chapin moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 12, after "county" and before the period insert "; and shall also mean any public lands which are now or may hereafter be used for park or recreation purposes"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. Chapin yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. Chapin, not having been able to follow too carefully exactly where you put that section, is my understanding correct that you are limiting this just to the property rented by the parks department?"

Mr. Chapin:

"No, Mr. Bottiger. What this does is to add to section 2, subsection 2, another classification of open use. That is, the additional one would include any public lands which are now or may hereafter be used for park or recreational purposes."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Garrett, Mr. Chapin yielded to question.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Chapin, what becomes of the rentals collected by the department of natural resources for this land you refer to?"

Mr. Chapin:

"I do not know the answer to that one."

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Chapin, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 8, section 12, line 14, after the period, insert "Such rules and regulations shall provide with respect to public lands leased to the state parks and recreation commission under RCW chapter 79.08 that rents shall be based on valuations of same in accordance with the actual use as defined in section 3 of this act."

Mr. May moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 4, after "enhance" strike "public"

Debate ensued, Representatives May and Gorton speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Moon and Heavey speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Lewis, Mr. May yielded to question.

Mr. Lewis:

"Mr. May, in a case where the county commissioners accepted a planned development which included an open space among the houses for a six-hole or nine-hole golf course of more than five acres which was for use exclusively by the people in the unit development and which enhanced the value of the property in that development, under the terms of your amendment could the owners of that golf course then apply for open space use and thereby avoid real estate taxes?"

Mr. May:

"I don't think that is the object of the bill. There are very few courses in this state on which a person not belonging to the club cannot play; I know of only two. All the rest are open to the public."

Mr. Lewis:

"I think you missed the point of my question. I think private clubs should be allowed to select their own members and I am not trying to put in legislation to force private clubs to open to the public. However, these private golf courses as a part of real estate developments are becoming very popular and I think those people should be taxed."

Mr. May:

"I would prefer that this question be answered by a sponsor of the bill or by someone on the interim committee."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Whetzel.

Mr. Whetzel:

"Mr. Speaker, I think I can clarify this by saying that any of these open space categories do not automatically come under the current use tax provisions. They must be submitted to and approved by the county commissioners. I think it is the kind of thing that should be left to the decision of the commissioners, who are the people who are going to lose the tax funds that would be involved in the current use assessment. Let them decide in each individual case."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. Moon yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"I notice we use the phrase 'enhanced public recreational opportunities' and so far we have been talking about golf courses. Out in my district we have an airport with houses around it. Anyone is free to use that airport without landing fees or anything of that nature. Obviously, it is more than five acres. Would that qualify for an exemption?"

Mr. Moon:

"I would think that this would be one type of land or open space use where an individual or group could petition for exemption. This would be determined by the zoning group."

Further debate ensued, Representative Flanagan speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Heavey and King speaking against its adoption.

The motion was carried, and the amendment by Mr. May was adopted.

Mr. Grant moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 4, following line 12, add a new paragraph as follows:

"Approval of any application made under section 2 subsections (1) and (4) of this act by a city or county with a comprehensive zoning code shall include a rezoning of the land for which classification is sought to a zoning classification identical with the classification use. Similarly, approval of applications for classifications under section 2, subsections (2) and (3) shall constitute acceptance by the applicant of a zoning classification identical to the use of such land after classification is granted under this act and before the land is withdrawn hereunder. At such time as any land classified under this act shall be withdrawn herefrom, for whatsoever reason, application for rezoning thereof as otherwise provided by law, must be made to the proper authorities of any city or county having a comprehensive zoning code on the date of such withdrawal. County assessors shall give adequate notice to affected officials of cities or towns to see that the purposes of this section are fully complied with."

Debate ensued, Representatives Grant and Heavey speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Gorton and Bledsoe speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Sawyer demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Chapin and Lewis speaking against adoption of the amendment.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Grant, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 32; nays, 60; absent or not voting, 7.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bag-nariol, Beck, Bottiger, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chatalas, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Hawley, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, King, Marzano, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—32.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Chapin, Charette, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Cunningham, Elicker, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Humiston, Jueling, Kalich, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker.—60.

Increasing rental allowance for veterans' meeting places.

The bill was read the second time and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 8, by Representatives O'Brien, Copeland, and Gorton (by legislative council request):

Providing for committees of the legislative council, revising expense and voucher procedure, and authorizing special committee members.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 8 on second reading, amendments by Representatives Copeland and O'Brien having been adopted previously. (See p. 402 for amendments.)

House Bill No. 8 was ordered engrossed.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the rules were suspended, Engrossed House Bill No. 8 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Representatives O'Brien and Hawley spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Clark (Newman H.), Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.
Mr. Clark:

"Mr. O'Brien, would you explain the method to be used for the appointment of interim committees under the council's jurisdiction, and also tell us whether this will interfere in any way with the committees set up by the legislature to function independent of the council?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Clark, I cannot speak for the majority party in the House of Representatives, but in my conversations with the Speaker of the House, he seems to feel that this wouldn't interfere in any way with existing committees that have been functioning for some time, such as the Committee on Fisheries and the Committee on Game and Game Fish. The new material that is being added here is for the purpose of enabling the legislative council to set up additional committees that wouldn't in any way conflict with those that have existed for some time headed by Mr. Hawley and Mr. Kink, who have done excellent work in the area of fisheries which has been almost sacrosanct, and which we don't dare interfere with because they have been working so well and are liked by both factions in fisheries. The feeling here is that we should utilize the talent of most of the members who aren't assigned to a special committee set up by resolution."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. O'Brien, is this bill designed to discourage the authorization of interim committees by the legislature or is it just designed to give the legislative council more authority to use all of the members of the legislature on committees?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"This isn't the umbrella type of recommendation that is over in the Senate where the legislative council would be an all-encompassing interim committee with the exception of the budget committee and highway fact-finding committee. That isn't the purpose of this bill at all. The ultimate decision on the number of interim committees to be set up hasn't been made."

Representative Grant spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 8, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 94; nays, 0; absent or not voting, 5.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—94.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bluechel, Copeland, Hubbard, Litchman, Smythe—5.

Engrossed House Bill No. 8, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE

I was temporarily out of the chamber at the time the vote was taken on Engrossed House Bill No. 8. I would like to be recorded as voting yea for the bill.

Alan Bluechel,
1st District.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker observed within the bar of the House former State Representatives Louis E. Hofmeister and W. J. Beierlein of King County and appointed Representatives Barden and Garrett to conduct them to seats on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the House deferred further consideration of the balance of the second reading calendar, and the bills were ordered placed on tomorrow's second reading calendar.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the House recessed until 1:10 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Speaker called the House to order at 1:10 p.m.

The Clerk called the roll, and all members were present except Representatives Avey, Copeland, Hubbard, Kalich, Smythe, and Taylor. Representatives Copeland and Hubbard were excused.

Authorizing creation of utility local improvement districts.

Engrossed House Bill No. 116 was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative Leckenby speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Litchman speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Holman, Mr. Litchman yielded to question.

Mr. Holman:

"Mr. Litchman, it is my understanding that you have introduced a separate bill on the point you have just made. Is that not correct?"

Mr. Litchman:

"Yes, Mr. Holman. In answer to your question, Mr. Perry and I and others have introduced a separate bill to take care of this situation, reducing the number of protestants from sixty to fifty percent. My only point is that if this bill passes with an emergency clause on it, the city of Kent wouldn't be affected by it. If we pass it to become effective ninety days after the end of the session, practically speaking, the city of Kent could do anything they want to and it would require sixty percent to protest against an untenable measure."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Holman, Cunningham, Garrett, and Humiston speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Perry speaking against its passage.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 116, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 68; nays, 23; absent or not voting, 8.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Conner, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Garrett, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Humiston, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, O'Brien, O'Dell, Perry, Reese, Rosellini, Saling, Sheridan, Sprague, Swayze, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—68.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Anderson, Backstrom, Bottiger, Brouillet, Clocksin, Day, Flanagan, Gallagher, Gladder, Grant, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Litchman, Lux, May, Moon, Newschwander, Richardson, Sawyer, Smith, Spanton, Thompson—23.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Adams, Mr. O'Brien yielded to question.

Mr. Adams:

"Will this in any way give the council or anybody else an opportunity to say 'no' if one of these federal programs comes along? Are they going to be able to go ahead and do what they want to do and the council can't do anything about it?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"That is true. We couldn't stop an agency from making an application. All that this bill will accomplish is to provide that the legislators will be informed of the application and of its overall effect, in case, for example, somebody asked you a question about the new federal program. The main purpose of the act is to keep the legislative body informed on the impact of the federal programs."

Mr. Adams:

"If the council didn't offer any objection, would it be in any sense interpreted as meaning that the council approved?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Not necessarily. The budget director, the budget committee, or the chairman of the council wouldn't be involved in the administrative part of it all. This is purely for informational purposes to notify the members of the legislative council and the legislative budget committee and, in turn, all the members of the legislature just what is going on in our state regarding the various federal programs."

Debate ensued, Representatives Adams and Clark (Newman H.) speaking against passage of the bill, and Representatives Lux and Day speaking in favor of its passage.

House Resolution No. 67-20, by Representative Beck:

Whereas, A highway program that provides facilities commensurate with the needs of the people is a fundamental means of alleviating the increasing numbers of injuries and fatalities caused by automobile accidents; and

Whereas, The highway system plays an integral and substantial role in the economy of the state; and

Whereas, Current and anticipated industrial expansion is of a magnitude virtually unparalleled in the state's history; and

Whereas, The major problem represented by the acute demand for adequate highways to satisfactorily transport the people and products of this state has been critically aggravated by the current industrial development and attendant population increase; and

Whereas, Current estimates are that it will cost over $1.5 billion through 1975 to merely meet the needs of the 7,013 miles of highways already on the state system; and

Whereas, The large disparity between planned revenues and expenditures means either projected construction must be curtailed or road-user charges must be increased; and

Whereas, The cutback in federal aid will further delay bringing our highway system up to standards; and

Whereas, Because of the lack of funds, the Thirty-ninth Legislature in its wisdom extended the completion date for bringing our highways up to standard from 1975 to 1981 in Substitute Senate Bill 438; and

Whereas, Governor Evans vetoed this portion of the bill with the following statement: "I am reluctant to extend the time for completing this high priority highway system. The people need most of these highways now. To allow them to remain uncompleted for sixteen years would be poor highway planning. Limitations on available funds over the next ten years may require some adjustments . . ."; and

Whereas, At the Governor's press conference on January 13th he stated that there will be no gasoline tax increase planned for this session by his administration because "I've got enough problems in the field of finance."

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House of Representatives, That we request Governor Evans to present a message to the fortieth Legislature offering a comprehensive and definitive program of financing to meet the critical highway needs of the citizens of the State of Washington; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Beck moved adoption of the resolution.

Representative Beck spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

The motion was carried on a rising vote.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. McDougall yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. McDougall, I have a couple of questions to ask you about this amendment, because as I read this, it does some things I wonder about. Is it the intent of this amendment to establish an alibi for the merchant detaining someone he suspects?"

Mr. McDougall:

"I wouldn't say it was establishing an alibi. I would answer your question by saying that far too often the merchant has been placed in a situation of facing a charge of false arrest when he can't absolutely prove that individual has taken something from his store. This, as is pointed out in this amendment, would allow that merchant or agent or employee to reasonably detain somebody whom he suspects of taking something."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. McDougall, when you say 'reasonable detention' in your bill, would you explain what that term means?"

Mr. McDougall:

"I am not a lawyer, but I could say that if I were to interpret it as an owner I would think it would mean that if I suspected an individual of having taken something I would ask if he would step into my office for a few moments and I would interrogate him with regard to the item I had seen him take and tell him I would like to discuss this matter with him. I suppose a lawyer could probably interpret 'reasonable detention' a little more clearly, but that would be my impression of what this term connotated."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"I would like to have one of the lawyers give me some further information. Mr. Gorton, can you clear me up as to just what kind of protection the merchant would have if he used what he called 'reasonable detention' and the person who was being detained didn't believe this was reasonable, and then they came into court and the court decided it wasn't reasonable? Then we haven't really protected the merchant at all. In fact, we have set him up to be knocked down like a paper bag. I think this is kind of technical at this point and needs to be thought out. Suppose the individual who is suspected does not wish to be reasonably detained. What do we do? Does this amendment permit the merchant to forcibly detain him? Does that permit them to engage in physical restraint? I suggest these are serious questions. I would like some of our legal minds, particularly Mr. Gorton, who is quite informed on some of these subjects, to give us some information so we might take an intelligent position."

Mr. Gorton:

"Since Mr. Smith asked these questions of me, although I feel there are attorneys in the House who could probably answer them better, I will try to make a simple and short answer. In any civil action on what might amount to false arrest, Mr. Smith, the ultimate determination of whether or not the grounds for restraint were reasonable within the framework of the amendments offered by Mr. McDougall would be made by the judge or jury, if there were one in the case. It is certainly possible that restraint which was deemed reasonable by the merchant would be deemed unreasonable by the judge or jury, in which case the person who was detained would win the lawsuit. I gather that the problem now is that the risk to the merchant is even greater, so great that in many cases the merchant, even though he knows perfectly well the item was stolen, is afraid even to slow down the person as he walks out. He would know from his attorney that he would be running a risk under this act, but the risk is lessened. We can never write a statute detailed enough to outline every circumstance of what is reasonable and what is not reasonable, and that is really why we have courts."

Representatives Day, Hill, Marsh, and Chapin spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The motion was carried, and the amendment was adopted.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Smith on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of personal privilege is that because of the hasty cut-off of debate, my complete position was not made clear and this leaves a cloudy area which debilitates—"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Smith, I don't believe you are speaking on a point of personal privilege. I believe you are talking again about the amendment, and I would have to rule you out of order. You may continue, but keep your remarks to the matter of personal privilege."

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of personal privilege is that in my discussion I was not necessarily concerned with what acts we take, but I wanted to make sure we consider all of the points of importance. By cutting off debate, we refuse to get all the facts out in front of us. There are more of these questions that may come up before us which should certainly be brought out. It is not that I am going to be against the bills, but I do think consideration should be given to every angle prior to making law."

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

Strike all of the title and insert:

"An Act relating to commerce; prescribing civil and criminal defenses; amending section 1, chapter 229, Laws of 1959 and RCW 9.78.010; repealing section 3, chapter 229, Laws of 1959 and RCW 9.78.030; adding a new section to chapter 249, Laws of 1909 to chapter 9.01 RCW; adding a new section to Title 4 RCW; and prescribing penalties."

MOTIONS

On motion of Mr. Bledsoe, the House deferred further consideration of the remainder of the bills on the third reading calendar, and the bills were ordered placed on tomorrow's third reading calendar.

On motion of Mr. Bledsoe, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Thursday, February 9, 1967.

THIRTY-SECOND DAY

MORNING SESSION

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., Thursday, February 9, 1967.

The Speaker called the House to order at 10:00 a.m.

The Clerk called the roll and all members were present except Representatives McCormick and Saling, who were excused.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms color guard.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend Charles Loyer of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Olympia.

The reading clerk proceeded to read the journal of the proceedings of the previous day. On motion of Mr. McDougall, further reading was dispensed with and the journal was ordered to stand approved.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker announced an interruption in the proceedings of the House for the purpose of making a presentation, and appointed Representatives O'Brien and Clark (Newman H.) to escort former State Representative Frank C. Jackson of King county to the rostrum.

Mr. Jackson:

"Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is a great privilege to come today and address you for a moment or two. If I had any advice to give you, I'd say, 'Be yourself.' I'd like to suggest that you be kind to new members. I know how I felt as a new member and I know they will all appreciate that. I also know that we have presiding this session men who have had long experience as members of this House and who are thoroughly familiar with its rules and with its procedure, so it is a pleasure for me today to be able to present to them a tool. You know, we can't do good work without good tools. I would like to present a gavel to your Speaker that was made in the private enterprise shop of J. W. Wheeler, who sells nothing from this shop but who gives many contributions from it to those who have rendered distinguished service to the community and state. There is nothing that seems to me more appropriate than to give a gavel today to one who fits that description exactly, a gentleman who has served eight regular sessions and six extra sessions, and who has won the confidence and respect of all your members and has been elected your Speaker. So, Mr. Speaker, it is a great honor and privilege for me to be able to present to you one of the tools, an important tool, which you have to use.

"I am very glad that Mr. Copeland is here, too. I can say the same thing to him. For many years I made these gavels myself, and even down at the old capitol, where I served five sessions, and up here for many years I presented those I had made. Since I stopped making them, I have had the good fortune to have a friend who has been making them in his shop to give to those who render signal service. It is a great honor and pleasure, Mr. Copeland, to present a gavel that you may use in this session and keep for many years."

Mr. Copeland:

"Thank you very much."

The Speaker:

"Thank you, Mr. Jackson, on behalf of Representative Copeland and myself. We certainly appreciate this gesture and will treasure these gavels for many, many years."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Perry:

"I see that the ninety-seven other members of the House today received a little token from the Commissioners of San Juan Island and would like to ask that they donate these to the Rainier School for Retarded Children so this can't be construed as an attempt to affect their vote on this bill."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Berentson.

Mr. Berentson:

"At this point I would like to comment as it seems that San Juan now lies in my district. I would like to point out the tremendous amount of resourcefulness displayed by the little resolution accompanying the can of salmon, and I will have to agree with most of the people of San Juan that maybe they don't need help after all. On the other hand, in omitting two of our body they really aren't that cruel. They are pretty fine people up there. I am sure, Mr. Perry, I would be happy to donate my can of salmon if you feel left out. I am sure we will be happy to see you up there this summer at the salmon barbecue."

RESOLUTION

House Resolution No. 67-21, by Representatives Brouillet, Charette and Mahaffey:

Whereas, There has been no major revision of the school code since 1909; and Whereas, Reflecting the general social and technical advances of our society, contemporary concepts of education bear little resemblance to those in vogue in the first decade of this century, the intervening period having evolved comprehensive changes in the fields of curricula, school administration, transportation of pupils, district organization, teachers' certification, teaching methodology, fiscal support, and many other facets of the educational process; and

Whereas, The laws relating to education have not kept pace with these changes in an orderly fashion, with the result that Title 28 RCW is replete with obsolete, obscure and conflicting provisions which vastly complicate the administration and operation of our education system; and

Whereas, In examining and recompiling Title 28 during the 1961-1963 biennium, the statute law committee noted the need for a substantive or quasi-substantive revision of such laws pursuant to the recommendations of a policymaking body; and

Whereas, The Joint Committee on Education created by chapter 130, Laws of 1965 extraordinary session (Chapter 44.33 RCW) is so composed and has been granted by such statute the necessary powers to convene advisory committees and other adjuncts

so as to effect such revision to Title 28 as may be necessary to afford this state an up-to-date, comprehensive, and comprehensible school code;

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, By the House, that the joint committee on education, with such technical assistance as may be provided by the statute law committee, and in cooperation with such other public and private agencies concerned with the administration of the common schools and higher education as it may deem proper, shall prepare a bill for submission to the forty-first legislature to accomplish a revision of Title 28 RCW.

THIRD READING OF BILLS

Engrossed House Bill No. 376, by Representatives McDougall, Harris, Marsh, Thompson, and Bozarth:

Providing penalties for shoplifting.

Engrossed House Bill No. 376 was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representative McDougall speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Smith questioning its adequacy.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to request permission to insert in the record the opinion of the Attorney General which I have obtained on this bill."

The Speaker (Mr. Copeland presiding):

"You may have that permission."

Office of the Attorney General,
Olympia, Wash., February 10, 1967.

Honorable Sam Smith,
Washington State Representative,
Legislative Building,
Olympia, Washington.

Dear Mr. Smith:

You have orally requested the opinion of this office on four questions pertaining to House Bill No. 376 as amended. Those questions are as follows:

(1) Must a person taking merchandise in violation of RCW 9.78.010 physically leave the premises before the crime of shoplifting is completed?

(2) Is "reasonable detention", provided for in House Bill No. 376, as amended, in fact an arrest?

(3) Does "reasonable detention", under House Bill 376 as amended permit forcible detention?

(4) Must the owner, employee or agent of a mercantile establishment reasonably detaining a suspect advise the suspect of any or all of his constitutional rights?

Question (1):

The principal element of the crime of shoplifting is the taking into possession of the merchandise without intending to pay.¹ The crime of shoplifting is complete at the moment the shoplifter picks up the merchandise.² As a practical matter, however, it is virtually impossible to establish in court the fact of the shoplifter's intent at that point, and additional circumstances must therefore be shown for a successful prosecution. The act of leaving the store without paying for the merchandise is, of course, very strong evidence of this requisite intent; however, it is by no means the exclusive way of showing it. Covert concealment of items in special pockets of a large coat while other items are left in the shopping basket would be one of many other ways to demonstrate the requisite intent to defraud. We therefore answer your first question in the negative.

Question (2):

The difficulty with question two is highlighted by this statement in American Jurisprudence, Second Edition:

"To effect an arrest, there must be actual or constructive seizure or detention of the person arrested, or his voluntary submission to custody, and the restraint must be under real or pretended legal authority. There can be no arrest where there is no restraint or where the person sought to be arrested is not conscious of any restraint.

"Even a brief official detention, such as where police officers stop a moving vehicle, may be sufficient to constitute an arrest, according to some authorities. But when one is merely approached by a police officer and questioned about his identity and actions, this is only an accosting, not an arrest."

5 Am. Jur. 2d § 1, pp. 695-6

New sections 2 and 4 of House Bill 376, as amended, by their terms actually permit something between what is commonly thought of as an arrest, that is, the taking into physical custody for the purpose of answering to the criminal charge in court, and what is commonly thought of as an accosting, which involves no element of actual or implied physical restraint. In answering the proposed legislation here we must deduce by implication certain elements which are not explicitly set forth.

We have been advised that the new sections 2 and 4 to this bill are taken substantially, if not verbatim, from provisions of the laws of New York State. If that is true, then the interpretation given these sections by the courts in New York State would have considerable weight in any judicial construction in our state. However, in view of the extremely short time given for the preparation of this opinion, it has been impossible to analyze those decisions. However, reading sections 2 and 4 of the bill in the light of our own past decisions and other statutes, it appears that our court would consider the permitted detention provided for to be a technical arrest; and it is therefore our opinion that the "reasonable detention" provided for in House Bill No. 376 would in fact be an arrest.

Question (3):

¹RCW 9.78.010.

²Assuming that his intent is not to pay.

It is a cardinal rule of statutory construction that the legislature does not enact meaningless legislation. Proposed sections 2 and 4 of this bill would in fact be meaningless if the businessman did not have authority to forcibly detain the suspect, for if the suspect was at all times free to leave, then there could be no basis for a false arrest or wrongful detention suit. The force permitted certainly could not exceed the force permissible in the arrest of a person for a misdemeanor by a police officer. This would mean at most the businessman could employ no more force than reasonably necessary to accomplish the detention, and in no event could the businessman seriously injure or take the life of the suspect.

Question (4):

There is at present no obligation on the part of a private citizen, or for that matter on police officers, to advise an arrested person of such constitutional rights as the right to remain silent, the right to an attorney, etc. This obligation rests on the magistrate or other judicial officer. While the arresting authority has no obligation to advise a person arrested of his rights, certain evidence obtained from the person arrested included but not limited to confessions and the fruits thereof will not be permitted into evidence without such advice by the arresting or detaining officer prior to the acquisition of the evidence.

While sections 2 and 4 of the bill permit "reasonable detention" rather than authorize it affirmatively, by their terms they specifically contemplate the possibility of obtaining a statement from the detained person; and since, if passed, this legislation would in effect officially approve such detention and interrogation, it would appear that substantial justice would require some advice by the detaining authority to the suspect. It undoubtedly will be something less than the requirements of Miranda v. Arizona, 16 L. ed. 2d 694, because of the nature of the detention; however, it certainly could not be less than advice that the suspect might remain silent.

We trust that the foregoing informal opinion will be of assistance to you.

Very truly yours,

John J. O'Connell,
Attorney General,
Richard F. Wrenn,
Assistant Attorney General.

Further debate ensued, Representatives Bottiger and Hill speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order on House Bill No. 425. As I understand it, there was a tie vote in committee, five to five. There was a majority present when the bill was acted on. Now it appears out with a majority of seven. According to Rule 60, a bill has to be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill can be reported out. In this instance, it appears this bill wasn't signed by a majority at a regularly called meeting and still it is reported out."

The Speaker:

"It would appear to me that the signatures are in order. I don't think it is the prerogative of the body to question the action of a committee."

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, it would appear to you on prima facie evidence that you have the number required. However, a precedent has been established in the House in the past with respect to a situation in which a member desires to find out how a report was signed and raises a question on the signing of a 'Do Pass' report as to whether or not all the members were present in committee when the measure was actually signed. I believe, Mr. Speaker, that you should inquire as to the method used in securing signatures in this particular instance."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, it would appear to me you have been here long enough to know such a precedent hasn't been established, and as a matter of fact there have been many occasions when committee reports have been circulated on the floor and you as Speaker permitted this. As far as I am concerned, this committee report is in order and it will stand."

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, all I can do is refresh your memory. A legislator from your particular district, Mr. Ralph Rickdall, in one instance called to my attention, as Speaker, a bill on a gasoline measure which was reported out of the Commerce Committee. I asked the chairman of the committee to call another meeting in order that the bill could be reported out in the proper fashion. During the last session I believe we had the same problem with the chairman of the Committee on Elections and Constitutional Revision, who was asked to call another meeting when the number of signers on a report was challenged by members of the minority party. So a precedent has been established in this House on the calling of these particular matters to the attention of the Speaker."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Grant on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Dr. Adams, as chairman of the Labor Committee would yield to question?"

Mr. Adams declined to yield.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Marzano will yield to question, if Dr. Adams will not yield?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Marzano, will you yield to question?"

Mr. Marzano:

"Yes."

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Marzano, were you present at the meeting of the Labor and Employment Security Committee at which this was discussed?"

The Speaker:

"That is not a point of personal privilege, Mr. Grant."

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., February 8, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a minority of your Committee on Labor and Employment Security, to whom was referred House Bill No. 425, modifying procedure in industrial insurance appeals, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Mr. Grant moved adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Grant and Garrett:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Section 1. Because of the tremendous rise in living costs during the past decade, especially costs of food, and because of the failure of O.A.S.I. and similar pension systems adequately to reflect in their pension payments these costs, and because savings once deemed sufficient for retirement living are now grossly insufficient, it is deemed essential that the legislature grant persons retired on fixed incomes some relief from the burden of the sales tax. This relief must be granted in order to insure that thousands of persons now retired on fixed incomes can continue to lead their lives in reasonable security without becoming a burden on state or local government.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 82.08 RCW a new section to read as follows:

For purposes of this act, it shall be conclusively presumed that each household within the state of Washington will have paid, during each calendar year, a sum in excess of fifty dollars or more to the government of the state of Washington as retail sales tax. The following persons, as heads of households, shall be entitled to an annual rebate of fifty dollars from the retail sales tax paid by them in any one year, provided they come within the following provisions:

(1) A male head of the household shall be sixty-five years of age or older prior to February 15th of the year in which the rebate is sought;

(2) A female head of the household shall be sixty-two years of age or older prior to February 15th of the year in which the rebate is sought;

(3) The head of the household shall be retired from all gainful employment and shall not be actively engaged in any type of business other than as provided by O.A.S.I.;

(4) The combined income of the head of the household and his spouse, from all sources whatsoever, shall not be in excess of three thousand dollars for the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which the rebate is sought.

"Head of a household", as used in this section, may be a married, single, widowed or divorced person, provided he or she is the sole support of the household.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is added to chapter 82.08 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Claims for rebate made under section 2 shall be made solely upon forms prescribed by the state auditor. The forms shall include the information required under section 2, and may include such other material as the auditor may find necessary to determine the eligibility of claimants. The auditor is given power to make such reasonable requirements for claims for rebate as are necessary to prevent fraud or the payment of compensation to persons not entitled thereto. Claims for rebate shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to the auditor, who, upon satisfying himself as to the eligibility of the claimants, shall draw warrants in payment of such claims against the general fund of the state treasury. The first claims for rebate shall be filed prior to February 15, 1968, for taxes paid in the year 1967. Any person signing a false claim shall be subject to prosecution for either civil or criminal perjury.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act shall take effect on July 1, 1967."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton on a point of order.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that I do not believe that the amendment by Mr. Grant and Mr. Garrett is germane to the bill. It appears to me under Rule 33 of our rules and under Rule 160 of Reed's rules that the amendment is on a subject different from that under consideration and therefore it is not proper. The subject matter in the original bill which we have already debated at length has to do with interest on the inheritance tax. The amendment, which really is a separate bill, has to do with exemptions for certain classes of people from the sales tax. I don't think that under the fair intent of the rule that this is a proper amendment to this bill."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken. The Speaker will rule this amendment is not germane to the bill."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Grant.

Mr. Grant:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain why a member feels it is germane. The subject matter in this bill is revenue and taxation—"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Grant, on the fifty-first day of the 1965 session Speaker Schaefer ruled on a similar situation. On the eighth day of that same session, he ruled on a similar situation. In the 1961 session Mr. O'Brien on the forty-third day ruled not only that the amendment was not germane but that it was also frivolous. I wouldn't go quite that far, but the ruling is that your amendment is out of order."

Material is obscene if, considered as a whole, its predominant appeal is to prurient interest, that is, a shameful or morbid interest, in nudity, sex or excretion, and if in addition it goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in describing or representing such matters. Predominant appeal shall be judged with reference to ordinary adults unless it appears from the character of the material or the circumstances of its dissemination to be designed for children or other specially susceptible audience. Undeveloped photographs, molds, printing plates, and the like, shall be deemed obscene notwithstanding that processing or other acts may be required to make the obscenity patent or to disseminate it.

(2) Justifiable and noncommercial private dissemination. It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under this section that dissemination was restricted to:

(a) institutions or persons having scientific, educational, governmental or other similar justification for possessing obscene material; or

(b) noncommercial dissemination to personal associates of the actor.

(3) Evidence; adjudication of obscenity. In any prosecution under this section evidence shall be admissible to show:

(a) the character of the audience for which the material was designed or to which it was directed;

(b) what the predominant appeal of the material would be for ordinary adults or any special audience to which it was directed, and what effect, if any, it would probably have on conduct of such people;

(c) artistic, literary, scientific, educational or other merits of the material;

(d) the degree of public acceptance of the material in the United States;

(e) appeal to prurient interest, or absence thereof, in advertising or other promotion of the material; and

(f) the good repute of the author, creator, publisher or other person from whom the material originated.

Expert testimony and testimony of the author, creator, publisher or other person from whom the material originated, relating to factors entering into the determination of the issue of obscenity, shall be admissible. Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—96.

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to have an opportunity to insert a statement in the journal."

The Speaker:

"Permission is granted, Mr. Grant. You may bring it to the Chief Clerk."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I would also like to insert a statement in the journal."

The Speaker:

"Please give it to the Chief Clerk."

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted against this measure because it constitutes another method of escape from fair taxation, at a time when the schools, institutions, and other services of the state require additional tax funds. Once again we are voting to give one citizen tax relief not available to another.

Robert A. Perry,
45th District.

I voted against House Joint Resolution No. 1 because it is another constitutional amendment providing a tax shelter to a certain class without also providing a method whereby local government and our public schools can recover the losses incurred as a result of the forgiveness of these local taxes. I feel that this legislation should be considered as part of the overall tax reform that this fortieth session of the legislature should concern itself with.

Gary Grant,
47th District.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 121, by Committee on Revenue and Taxation:

Providing for property tax valuation of certain open space land, farmland, and timberland.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued, Representatives Gorton and Bledsoe speaking in favor of passage of the bill, and Representative Day speaking against its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. Bledsoe yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. Bledsoe, after the first ten years have expired, as I understand this bill, you could withdraw without the necessity of any notice or anything else?"

Mr. Bledsoe:

"That is correct. My contract extends only to a ten-year period. If I could continue briefly, this bill is incomplete as far as people who are totally dedicated to the green belt philosophy are concerned. It does not go as far as they would like to see it go. Actually, what it is doing for those of that philosophy is buying ten years of time."

Further debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Gorton speaking for its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. Gorton, perhaps we are getting something cleared up here. Regardless of whether we are talking about twelve years for timber or seven years for farm, the notice which I give after the expiration of the first period is, as I understand it, irrevocable. If I give notice, I can't afterwards change my mind; but after that period of time, the lower tax rate continues for the notice period. In other words, at the end of the twelve years, I give five years' notice that I am going to escape from this limited or conditional use, but I continue during the five-year period at the reduced tax rate.

In other words, I am given that period of time to find the best buyer I can. Is that correct?"

Mr. Gorton:

"That statement is correct, Mr. Bottiger. You are given that five-year period to find the best buyer, but the county or city is also given the five-year period to determine whether or not it wishes to condemn or purchase all or a portion of your rights in the land. The reason the notice is made irrevocable is that if it weren't you could withdraw at any time and, presumably, every smart land owner would give the notice at the end of the fifth year and then he could withdraw his notice and keep in the program at the end of the ten years. This way, once he has given the notice, he will be taxed at the end of the five-year period at the highest and best use and won't be able to come into the program for five years thereafter. It is designed to discourage an automatic notice of withdrawal at the end of the five-year period."

Further debate ensued, Representative Richardson speaking against passage of the bill, and Representatives Flanagan, Moon, Chapin, and Bagnariol speaking for its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Richardson, Mr. Flanagan yielded to question.

Mr. Richardson:

"Mr. Flanagan, in your remarks you said you were convinced there would be a very slight fiscal impact upon any district in the state of Washington. Tell me, Mr. Flanagan, how do you hope to accomplish the purposes of this bill if you are not going to provide for any tax reduction?"

Mr. Flanagan:

"I said it would have very little effect on the overall tax intake of local and state government. I mentioned not only local taxes but state-collected taxes. I think if you compare this bill to bills which would completely remove property from tax rolls through acquisition by public bodies, thereby not only removing the property from the tax roll but also stopping business enterprises that would be paying state-collected taxes by the time they developed their products, you would find your tax impact would be far less in this type of a bill."

Mr. Richardson:

"Thank you, Mr. Flanagan, for very adroitly not answering my question."

Further debate ensued, Representative Perry speaking against passage of the bill, and Representatives McGavick and Litchman speaking for its passage.

Mr. McDougall demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. King on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, would it be proper under the rules of the House for members who now own or have an interest in lands which would be exempted from this tax to vote on this measure?"

The Speaker:

"Are there further remarks?"

Further debate ensued, Representative Grant speaking in opposition to passage of the bill, and Representative Wanamaker speaking for its passage.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Sawyer, Mr. Gorton yielded to question.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Representative Gorton, you mentioned that at the end of this period the county would have the option of condemning this property. I couldn't find this in the bill."

Mr. Gorton:

"It is not in the bill. They have that power right now, Mr. Sawyer. They can condemn any time."

Mr. Sawyer:

"For what?"

Mr. Gorton:

"Park purposes."

Mr. Sawyer:

"I thought you said for green belt purposes. I'm sorry. If the condemnation proceeding took place in any event—for highways or parks or anything else—what would be the property value that would be levied on the property if it was condemned before you gave notice and after you gave notice?"

Mr. Gorton:

"I can't tell you what condemnation award would be made in a case, Mr. Sawyer, but it would be based on the highest and best use; it would have to be under the Constitution."

Further debate ensued, Representative Kalich speaking against passage of the bill, and Representative Gorton speaking for its passage.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bottiger on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. King brought up a question. He didn't mean to be facetious. Could we have a ruling which would be inserted in the journal on whether a person with a private financial interest in this bill, who owns a tract of land in what would be a green belt area, should vote on this measure?"

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Well, this matter is a matter for the judgment of each individual member. If Mr. King feels he should not vote on this measure, he is perfectly free to refrain, but I think when we get into matters of taxes, it affects every one of us, and it looks pretty ridiculous if I say we should refrain. As far as I am concerned, any member can refrain whenever he wishes on a matter such as this."

Further debate ensued, Representative Moon speaking in favor of passage of the bill.

Mr. Newschwander demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 121, and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas, 80; nays, 17; absent or not voting, 2.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Avey, Bagnariol, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jolly, Jueling, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Smith, Smythe, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Thompson, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—80.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Anderson, Backstrom, Beck, Clocksin, Day, Grant, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Kalich, Marzano, May, McCormick, Perry, Richardson, Sheridan, Spanton—17.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bottiger, King—2.

Engrossed Substitute House Bill No. 121, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I voted "no" on Substitute House Bill No. 121, not because I am against tax relief for open space land, but because doubt exists as to whether this bill will accomplish what we want to do. I would call your attention to the last session when we passed House Joint Resolution No. 7, a measure we were all for, but we hastily put together a bill to implement it. And what do we have? A law the assessors and county treasurers can't implement. There is no hurry for this bill, as it can't go into effect until after the 1968 elections, and I feel this bill should have been voted down. We could then come back to the 1969 session with a good bill that is well thought out. This bill has been put together without consultation with anyone who has to implement House Joint Resolution No. 1.

C. W. "Red" Beck,
23rd District.

The reason that I voted against Substitute House Bill No. 121 was that it was a tax shelter for big timber interests.

Eric O. Anderson,
19th District.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Heavey on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Heavey:

"Mr. Speaker, in the previous debate some allusions were made by a couple of members—I don't know whether facetiously or not—about my lack of interest in certain segments of the state. Perhaps the remarks I made about House Joint Resolution No. 1 could have been misconstrued, but even facetiously I don't believe I should be accused of not having the interest of every citizen in the United States in my mind when I speak to this body. If I have indicated to any segment of this state that I do not have their interest in mind, I wholeheartedly apologize."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bledsoe on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Bledsoe:

The Speaker:

"You may have that privilege."

STATEMENT FOR THE JOURNAL

February 13, 1967.

With respect to House Bill 179 there are several things which I would like to have put into the record.

As many of you realize, this bill, although introduced by individual members of the House, is the result of over 18 months of hard work by the members of the Legislative Interim Committee on Water Resources. Some aspects of this bill have been considered at six or seven meetings of the legislative interim committee, and the negotiations went on continuously between meetings.

The principle thrust of the bill is to upgrade our pollution control laws. I wish to emphasize that it is not designed to pick upon or single out one specific segment of our society which discharges wastes, such as agriculture, industry or municipalities. What it is designed to do is to provide for a broadly based strengthening of the statutes under which our existing water pollution control commission operates, especially as it relates to its enforcement powers. It is also designed to clarify existing legislation. And most important, it is the sponsors' intent to provide the State of Washington with the type of legislation which will enable it to participate in the water quality regulation field in an effective manner so as to insure a federal-state balance and cooperation, and at the same time discourage a complete federal preemption of water quality programs in our state.

Particular attention should be given to several sections. I will start at the beginning:

In Section 1 of the bill, you will find a very comprehensive definition of pollution. You will note that any change of the physical, chemical or biological properties, including changes in taste, color, turbidity or odor of the water, are covered by the definition. We believe that the commission should have full control over pollution, but we do not believe that every act which would result in a change in a condition of the state's waters should be prohibited. This is in accord with the intent of the Legislature when a comprehensive water pollution control act was first enacted in 1945.

We all recognize, for example, that the various discharges cause a measurable change in the temperature of the Columbia River. Likewise, we recognize that normal irrigation return flows may cause some changes in the physical or chemical characteristics of the waters of an irrigation canal. We all recognize that dredging operations and road building operations by necessity cause changes in the turbidity of the waters. We do not intend that these practices be prohibited. We do intend that these operations be subject to the control of the commission in order that it may regulate practices which are detrimental to the public interest.

Let me make the intent of the Legislature abundantly clear as we deal with the area of agriculture, generally, and irrigation agriculture, specifically.

It cannot be denied that under certain conditions there could exist minute but measurable variations in the turbidity or salinity of the return flow of water from an irrigation system. These variations have not yet been deemed to constitute "pollution" as interpreted by the Pollution Control Commission in our state. Nor should they be so regarded in the future.

But if our pollution control standards are to have meaning, factors such as turbidity and salinity must be included in the total definition of water pollution. If, in drawing this definition, it would seem that we are zeroing in on the agricultural segment of our society, I would like the record to show that such is not the Legislative intent.

An alternate solution to this problem would be to amend agriculture out of the Act specifically, by name. It was not the feeling of the Interim Committee that anyone be excused from a basic responsibility in this area. At the same time, the routine practices conducted by the irrigationist in fertilization, weed and pest control and the other agricultural techniques, need not bring down the wrath of the Pollution Control Commission upon his head. This was not the intent of the Interim Committee which prepared the bill after exhaustive investigation. This is not the intent of the Legislature as it proceeds to enact House Bill 179.

As a result of our investigations over the past two years, we have fully satisfied ourselves that the pollution control commission is qualified to make determinations as to the reasonableness of practices which may affect the quality of the state's waters. We have no doubt that it will exercise its powers, as it has in the past, in a manner consistent with its statutory directions stated in RCW 90.48.010. ("It is declared to be the public policy of the State of Washington to maintain the highest possible standards to insure the purity of all waters of the state . . . and to that end require the use of all known available and reasonable methods by industries and others to prevent and control the pollution of the waters of the state.")

Another section to which I would like to specifically call your attention is Section 22 of this bill. This section was accomplished only after the longest series of meetings with the people most effected by regulations of the pollution control commission. As you will note, this section contains provisions for the exercise of emergency powers by the commission in certain specified cases where the public interest demands that the commission's orders become effective as soon as practically possible. This section is specifically directed toward two particular problems: health problems, and fish kills. It could also be utilized in other situations wherein a definite emergency exists.

Before closing my remarks, Mr. Speaker, let me call to the attention of the House just a few more things. We are very pleased that we could accomplish a section relating to summary abatement powers which has all of the following advantages:

1. The commission can have an order in effect in just a little over 24 hours under circumstances warranting such action.

2. A person receiving the order under this section will have a choice of either responding immediately to the order, or demanding a hearing on the issues immediately. Thus, although the commission will be enabled to respond to emergency situations with immediate action, any person who feels that the commission's action is based on erroneous information, or is arbitrary, will have adequate opportunity to appear and present his side of the case.

I feel that this bill represents a most reasonable balance of the public and private interest, and urge that it be passed by this House.

Stewart Bledsoe,
Robert W. O'Dell,
Eric O. Anderson,
Dan Jolly.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Thompson:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to point out to the House that the successful development of this measure which turned the board completely green can be attributed to the interim system and the ability of the legislature to reconcile conflicting interests. I hope the House will recall this success in considering the many and various proposals before it to carry on studies of equally important problems out of the legislative framework. I hope you will join with me in an attempt to develop bipartisan policy in support of our interim committee system."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I would like to have you recall when I was chairman of water resources and pollution control last year and a bill came up before my committee on this matter. I was named by name in every newspaper in the state of Washington for sitting on that bill. It was a bad bill, and I would like to report today that because of good legislation, because of people getting together and working it out, we have one of the best bills in the United States. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the House deferred further consideration of the remaining bills on the third reading calendar, and the bills were ordered placed on the third reading calendar for tomorrow.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

House Bill No. 123, by Representatives May, Garrett, and Wolf:

Relieving motion picture projectionists from criminal liability.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 123.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the following amendment by Mr. Bottiger:

On page 1, add a new section following section 1 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Obscene defined. Material is obscene if, considered as a whole, its predominant appeal is to prurient interest, that is, a shameful or morbid interest, in nudity, sex or excretion, and if in addition it goes substantially beyond customary limits of candor in describing or representing such matters. Predominant appeal shall be judged with reference to ordinary adults unless it appears from the character of the material or the circumstances of its dissemination to be designed for children or other specially susceptible audience. Undeveloped photographs, molds, printing plates, and the like, shall be deemed obscene notwithstanding that processing or other acts many be required to make the obscenity patent or to disseminate it.

(2) Justifiable and noncommercial private dissemination. It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under this section that dissemination was restricted to:

(a) institutions or persons having scientific, educational, governmental or other similar justification for possessing obscene material; or

(b) noncommercial dissemination to personal associates of the actor.

(3) Evidence; adjudication of obscenity. In any prosecution under this section evidence shall be admissible to show:

(a) the character of the audience for which the material was designed or to which it was directed;

(b) what the predominant appeal of the material would be for ordinary adults or any special audience to which it was directed, and what effect, if any, it would probably have on conduct of such people;

(c) artistic, literary, scientific, educational or other merits of the material;

(d) the degree of public acceptance of the material in the United States;

(e) appeal to prurient interest, or absence thereof, in advertising or other promotion of the material; and

(f) the good repute of the author, creator, publisher or other person from whom the material originated.

Expert testimony and testimony of the author, creator, publisher or other person from whom the material originated, relating to factors entering into the determination of the issue of obscenity, shall be admissible. The court shall dismiss a prosecution for obscenity if it is satisfied that the material is not obscene."

Mr. Sheridan demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Charette on a point of order.

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Speaker, I raise the point of whether or not this amendment is germane to the bill. We are talking about the showing of motion pictures and the amendment has a broad definition in it."

The Speaker:

"I think we have a broad title here, Mr. Charette, that would cover the amendment without any difficulty."

Mr. Charette:

"Is it then going to be the ruling of the Speaker that any time we have a liquor title or an education title, we can tie anything onto it that has to do with education or liquor as the case may be?"

The Speaker:

"I wouldn't go so far as to say that, Mr. Charette."

Debate ensued, Representative Bottiger speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives May and Charette speaking against its adoption.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Charette, while I am sure the members enjoy your dissertation, I think you have gone a little afield of the amendment."

Mr. Charette:

"I believe I am speaking to the amendment. I am talking about the evidence that can be put in."

The Speaker:

"You may continue, but perhaps you should shorten up your remarks."

Representative Charette completed his remarks.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

Mr. Sheridan:

"Mr. Speaker, I wonder if Representative Charette will yield to question and answer in one word?"

The Speaker:

"Do you yield, Mr. Charette?"

Mr. Charette:

"I would never attempt to answer a question in one word."

Mr. Sheridan:

"Mr. Charette, you raised a point of order about whether Mr. Bottiger's amendment was germane to the bill before us, which is sponsored by Mr. Wolf, amongst others. I note further on the calendar another bill by Mr. Wolf, House Bill No. 171. It is my recollection that when that was before us previously you attempted to tack on an amendment which was certainly broad in its scope. My question is, Are you being consistent or are you merely crying Wolf?"

Mr. Charette:

"I might state in answer to that question that it cannot be answered in one word any more than if I were to ask Mr. Sheridan whether or not he has stopped beating his wife. I always accept the ruling of the Speaker. I may not like it, but I accept it because that is one of the rules of the House and I will abide by them."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Sheridan and O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Sprague speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Chapin, Mr. Bottiger yielded to question.

Mr. Chapin:

"Mr. Bottiger, am I correct in my understanding that this entire amendment of yours is taken directly from the American Bar Association model code on obscenity?"

Mr. Bottiger:

"This was my direction to the bill drafting room and the Attorney General's office when they drew this bill for me, and it is my understanding that the amendment is taken from the model code. However, there has been a deletion made; we are using only a portion of the definition section."

MOTION

Mr. Moon moved that the amendment by Mr. Bottiger to House Bill No. 123 be laid on the table.

The motion was lost on a rising vote.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the amendment by Mr. Bottiger to House Bill No. 123.

The Clerk called the roll on the adoption of the amendment, and the motion was carried and the amendment adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 73; nays, 21; absent or not voting, 5.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Charette on a point of parliamentary inquiry. Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Speaker, isn't it true that if any person is sitting at his desk, he is required to vote?"

The Speaker:

"That is right."

Mr. Charette:

"Did Mr. Swayze vote?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Swayze is recorded as voting yes."

Mr. Charette:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Hill moved adoption of the following amendment:

In section 1, following line 20, delete all of the remaining material

Debate ensued, Representative Hill speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives May and Bottiger speaking against its adoption.

The motion was lost, and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Mr. Day, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, add a new section following section 2 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. If any provision of this act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected."

House Bill No. 123 was ordered engrossed, and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

Amending laws relating to motor vehicle fees, funds, and driving record abstracts.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 96 on second reading.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the following amendment by Mrs. Hurley:

The motion was lost on a rising vote, and the amendment was not adopted.

Mrs. Hurley moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 29, after "party" and before the period, insert "Provided, That no policy of insurance shall be cancelled on the basis of such information unless the policyholder was determined to be at fault"

Representative Hurley spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Clarke (George W.) on a point of order.

Mr. Clarke:

"Mr. Speaker, I think the good lady has anticipated what my objection would be and that is that this title relates to motor vehicles and, in effect, she is proposing an amendment which would have to do with insurance and the insurance code. My point of order is that the amendment is not germane and does not follow from the title of the bill."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, it appears that it might be too late for the gentleman, Mr. Clarke, to raise that point of order. Mrs. Hurley offered that amendment and started to discuss it, so there was a time lapse between the introduction of her amendment and the point of order. The point of order has to be raised immediately relative to the germaneness of the amendment."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Your point is well taken, Mr. O'Brien. Mr. Clarke, I would have to rule your point of order out of order."

Mr. Walgren demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representatives Leland, Clarke (George W.), Chapin, and Merrill speaking against adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Clark (Newman H.), Sawyer, Perry, Heavey, and Conner speaking for its adoption.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mrs. Hurley, and the motion was carried and the amendment adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 62; nays, 34; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Amen, Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Barden, Beck, Bluechel, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Clark (Newman H.), Clocksin, Conner, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Harris, Haussler, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Lewis, Litchman, Lynch, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McGavick, Moon, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, Perry, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Spanton, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—62.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Anderson on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Anderson:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to congratulate Mrs. Hurley on her victory today. I would say this was the third session in which she has tried to get this amendment and I think we should give her a good hand."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the House deferred further consideration of the remaining bills on the second reading calendar, and the bills were ordered placed on the second reading calendar for tomorrow.

Mr. Zimmerman:

"The original act did include an increase in the out-of-state, seven-day license to $10.00, but we amended that to return it so it would not affect the tourists. REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The Speaker appointed the following representatives to a special committee of the House: Henry Backstrom, Richard L. Smythe, and Homer Humiston, chairman. The committee was directed by House Resolution to: "study the problem of future financing of the county hospitals in King, Pierce and Clark counties and report their findings to the House no later than February 15, 1967." The report follows:

(1.) All three hospitals have a common problem. In recent biennia these hospitals have been substantially supported by line item appropriations to the State Department of Public Assistance. The 1965-67 appropriations were:

King County Hospital	$8,901,563.
Pierce County Hospital	2,870,167.
Clark County Hospital	1,065,587.

For several reasons, not germane to this report, the 40th Legislature, in H. B. 186 made supplemental appropriations to the three county hospitals.

Because these payments to the county hospitals are for the purpose of paying the hospitals for care of persons for whom the State Department of Public Assistance is responsible, and because most of these patients come under the provisions of title XVIII or title XIX of Public Law 89-97, the "Medicare Law," and because the Social Security Administration insists that matching funds will be available only when a post-payment method is used, it is the recommendation of this committee that the line item method of financing for State Department of Public Assistance patients be replaced by a post-payment plan to begin July 1, 1967.

Because county hospitals do not have operating funds on hand at the start of a biennium, and because hospitals need approximately 75 days average income on hand to start operating on a post-payment plan, it is the recommendation of this committee that an advance of 75 days average cost of this category of patients be made to the account of each of the three county hospitals.

(2.) The Clark County Hospital is an older facility and will probably be phased out within a few years. There is an active fund-raising campaign now in progress, the objective of which is to build a new community hospital in the City of Vancouver. However, even if this drive is successful, a new hospital will not be operating during the 67-69 biennium.

(3.) In addition to the financing problem outlined in (1.) above, the Pierce County Hospital presents some additional problems. The hospital is composed of two units, one is the general hospital unit, and the other is the tuberculosis unit. The latter unit is a relatively new and modern facility.

The recommendations of the committee for financing care for State Department of Public Assistance patients in the Pierce County Hospital have been covered in (1.) above.

The tuberculosis unit is supported in a large part by funds supplied through the State Department of Health. This committee believes that the members of the legislature should be made aware of the problem of care for patients with tuberculosis in a facility or facilities in the western part of the state. At present this patient load is divided between the Firland Sanatorium in King County, and the county hospital in Pierce County. The Firland Sanatorium is approaching the end of its useful life, and if it is to continue, the state will be faced with an expensive program of renovation or replacement. One of the possibilities that presents is to discontinue the use of Firland Sanatorium and convert the Pierce County Hospital into a facility for tuberculosis only. This committee has no recommendation with respect to this, but believes the legislature should be aware of this problem because it relates to future financing of Pierce County Hospital.

(4.) In addition to the financing problem outlined in (1.) above, the King County Hospital presents some additional problems. The University of Washington School of Medicine uses this hospital as an important facility in their teaching program. This situation has created some problems in the administration of the hospital. It is the recommendation of the committee that, (a) the role of the University of Washington School of Medicine in the administration of the King County Hospital be clarified and that, (b) the portion of the budget over and above that for which the State Department of Public Assistance is responsible, be included in the budget of the University of Washington School of Medicine.

Homer Humiston,
Henry Backstrom,
Richard L. Smythe.

Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

Empowering state patrol to make spot checks.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., February 8, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Transportation, to whom was referred House Bill No. 226, empowering the state patrol to make spot checks, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 3, beginning on line 26, strike all of section 3 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively

In line 4 of the title, after "adding" strike "new sections" and insert "a new section"

Alfred E. Leland, Chairman,
Duane L. Berentson, Vice Chairman,
Bob McDougall, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Otto Amen, C. W. "Red" Beck, Horace W. Bozarth, Paul H. Conner, Dwight S. Hawley, Vaughn Hubbard, Elmer Jastad, Dan Jolly, Bill Kiskaddon, William S. Leckenby, Brian J. Lewis, W. L. "Bill" McCormick, Irving Newhouse, Richard L. Smythe, Keith J. Spanton, Dick Taylor, Alan Thompson, Fred A. Veroske, F. Pat Wanamaker, Jonathan Whetzel, Hal Wolf.

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Leland moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 1.

Debate ensued, Representatives Leland and Beck speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Hill speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bottiger, Mr. O'Dell yielded to question.

Mr. Bottiger:

"Mr. O'Dell, do you believe that the deletion of section 3 would allow the state patrol to set up a road block in Vancouver to check people to see if they had bought cigarettes in Oregon?"

Mr. O'Dell:

"I don't think the state patrol would use this for that purpose, but if there is a road block out there, there might be members of the Tax Commission keeping a check to see what was going on."

Further debate ensued, Representative McDougall speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment and Representative Sprague speaking against its adoption.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Beck on a point of order.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman has referred to the police. This bill does not affect the city police or sheriff. This only applies to the Washington State Patrol troopers."

The Speaker:

"Thank you. You may continue, Mr. Sprague."

Further debate ensued, Representative Sprague concluding his remarks, Representatives Berentson and Bagnariol speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representative Barden speaking against its adoption.

MOTION

Mr. Heavey moved that House Bill No. 226 be rereferred to Committee on Judiciary.

Mr. Beck demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Heavey speaking in favor of the motion and Representative Leland speaking against it.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Heavey on a point of order.

Mr. Heavey:

"Mr. Speaker, I thought the motion was to refer to Judiciary and I think the remarks should be confined to the referral."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"You are wrong, Mr. Heavey. This opens it up to full debate."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Clark (Newman H.), Walgren, and Bledsoe speaking against the motion to rerefer the bill to committee.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the motion by Mr. Heavey to rerefer House Bill No. 226 to Committee on Judiciary was laid on the table.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the committee amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Brazier, Mr. McDougall yielded to question.

Mr. Brazier:

"Mr. McDougall, you mentioned that in the testimony before your committee it was said they would prefer to not have this bill if this section is not stricken. Now, it is my understanding that this bill had been planned substantially before this legislature came into session and that it was an executive request bill. I would assume the patrol was actively involved in its preparation. Was there some change in their position or did they explain this to you in committee?"

Mr. McDougall:

"Mr. Brazier, actually when the joint committee studied this bill we just took into consideration the matter of allowing spot checks for the purposes which are specified in this bill. You may recall that a comparable bill without section 3 was introduced into the Senate and it was felt for awhile that this might be the proper vehicle, inasmuch as it did not contain the regulations that are in section 3. After conferring with the patrol, it was felt that it was best to take the section out of this bill, which we are attempting to do here today."

Mr. Kink demanded the previous question, and the demand was sustained.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the committee amendment to page 1 of House Bill No. 226 and called for a vote.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe Mr. Beck demanded an electric roll call on the motion to adopt this amendment."

The Speaker:

"I believe the demand was made on the motion by Mr. Heavey to rerefer the bill to Committee on Judiciary."

Mr. Charette demanded an electric roll call on the motion to adopt the committee amendment.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"The roll call has been asked for. We have placed the motion and the Speaker has called for a vote on the motion to adopt the committee amendment. A demand for an electric roll call is out of order at this time."

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment to House Bill No. 226 was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Leland, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

House Bill No. 226 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 227, by Representatives Cunningham, Zimmerman, Bozarth, May, Wolf, Veroske, and Smythe (by executive request):

Implementing law relating to motor vehicle driver's licenses.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., February 8, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Transportation, to whom was referred House Bill No. 227, implementing law relating to motor vehicle driver's licenses, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, section 1, line 2, after the semicolon add "and"

On page 2, section 1, line 5, after "That" and before "the director" insert "until July 1, 1969"

On page 2, section 2, line 19, after "color" and before "design" strike "and" and insert "or"

On page 6, following section 10, add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 11. Section 4, chapter 39, Laws of 1963 and RCW 46.81.030 are each amended to read as follows:

There shall be levied and paid into the driver education account of the general fund of the state treasury a penalty assessment in addition to the fine or bail forfeiture on all offenses involving a violation of a state statute or city or county ordinance relating to the operation or use of motor vehicles or the licensing of vehicle operators, except offenses relating to parking of vehicles, in the following amounts:

(1) Where a fine is imposed, [two] three dollars for each twenty dollars of fine, or fraction thereof.

(2) If bail is forfeited, [two] three dollars for each twenty dollars of bail, or fraction thereof.

(3) Where multiple offenses are involved, the penalty assessment shall be based on the total fine or bail forfeited for all offenses.

Where a fine is suspended, in whole or in part, the penalty assessment shall be levied in accordance with the fine actually imposed."

In line 1 of the title after "licenses" and before the semicolon insert "and driver education"

In line 15 of the title after the semicolon and before "adding" insert "amending section 4, chapter 39, Laws of 1963 and RCW 46.81.030;"

Alfred E. Leland, Chairman,
Duane L. Berentson, Vice Chairman,
Bob McDougall, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Otto Amen, Eric O. Anderson, Paul Barden, Horace W. Bozarth, Paul H. Conner, Norwood Cunningham, Dwight S. Hawley, Vaughn Hubbard, Elmer Jastad, Dan Jolly, Bill Kiskaddon, William S. Leckenby, Brian J. Lewis, William J. S. "Bill" May, W. L. "Bill" McCormick, Irving Newhouse, Robert W. O'Dell, Richard L. Smythe, Keith J. Spanton, David G. Sprague, Alan Thompson, Fred A. Veroske, F. Pat Wanamaker, Jonathan Whetzel, Hal Wolf.

The bill was read the second time.

On motion of Mr. Berentson, the committee amendment to page 2, section 1, line 2 was adopted.

Mr. Berentson moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 2, section 1, line 5.

Debate ensued, Representatives Berentson and Leland speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Beck and Moon speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Beck, Mr. Berentson yielded to question.

Mr. Beck:

"Mr. Berentson, you said that we could come down here in January, 1969, and take this out of the law if we find it is necessary. Do you think that we would be subjecting ourselves to any penalty in our federal aid because we are giving the director of licenses the power to waive this provision? Would it not be just as wise to wait until 1969 and see if the school forces provide this drivers' education program?"

Mr. Berentson:

"I suppose it would be possible to do that. As far as how this might affect the federal act, I don't think at this point we can really discuss and determine that. I think the important thing here is that the people involved, the people who are going to be responsible for this, such as the superintendent of public instruction, have repeatedly assured us that this is not a problem. Now, I think some of us suspect that it might possibly be a problem, but I think with that assurance and in view of the fact that what we are really trying to do is encourage driver education in the high schools, it only makes sense to establish some type of deadline."

Further debate ensued, Representative Beck speaking against adoption of the amendment and Representative Cunningham speaking for its adoption.

MOTION

Mrs. Hurley moved that House Bill No. 227 be rereferred to Committee on Appropriations.

Representatives Jolly, Newhouse, and Reese appeared at the bar of the House.

Debate ensued on the motion by Mrs. Hurley, Representatives Hurley, Sawyer, and Brouillet speaking in favor of the motion, and Representatives Leland and Berentson speaking against it.

Mr. Kink demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Further debate ensued, Representative McDougall speaking in opposition to the motion and Representative Day speaking in its favor.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Saling, Mr. Day yielded to question.

Mr. Saling:

"Mr. Day, you mentioned there was one school, only, in Spokane that had driver education. What is the name of that school?"

Mr. Day:

"It is at Fourth and McClellan. I am not sure of the name of the school."

Mr. Saling:

"As you know, I am a member of the staff in Spokane and I happen to know there is a safe driving program available at all the public high schools in Spokane during the evenings and in the summer. Children in any high school may sign up for driver education. They do not meet at the school; they meet at the school you refer to, but they may sign up at any high school."

Mr. Day:

"That is the very point I was making. Certainly it is available, but they go to this specific place for this education. How do they get there? Who provides the transportation for them and who provides the instruction? What is the cost of this? I think that is the main question."

Further debate ensued, Representative Cunningham speaking against the motion and Representative Litchman speaking in its favor.

Mr. O'Dell demanded the previous question, and the demand was not sustained.

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Gorton, the motion by Mrs. Hurley to rerefer House Bill No. 227 to Committee on Appropriations was laid on the table.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the committee amendment to page 2, section 1, line 5 of House Bill No. 227.

Mr. Smith demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Sawyer on a point of order.

Mr. Sawyer:

"Mr. Speaker, many times in the past there has been a motion to lay on the table and then the question is presented while members are attempting to get up to demand an electric roll call on the motion. I was wondering how we can obtain your attention."

The Speaker:

"We are in the middle of a roll call, Mr. Sawyer."

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the committee amendment to page 2, section 1, line 5 of House Bill No. 227, and the motion was carried and the amendment adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 67; nays, 32; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Adams, Backstrom, Bagnariol, Barden, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Cope-land, Cunningham, Farr, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Humiston, Johnson, Jolly, Juelling, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Rosellini, Saling, Smythe, Spanton, Swayze, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—67.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Amen, Anderson, Avey, Beck, Bottiger, Brouillet, Charette, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Flanagan, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hubbard, Hurley, Jastad, Kalich, King, Marzano, May, Moon, Perry, Richardson, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson—32.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to go farther on the inquiry of Mr. Sawyer. Now that there is no debate allowed on the motion to lay on the table, how does a person obtain recognition after the motion to table has been made?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Garrett, this is a matter of judgment of the Speaker, and I would hope that on occasion I would give ample time for recognition on that motion."

Mr. Garrett:

"The manner would be, then, to rise in the manner I am now, and say 'Mr. Speaker'? I will try it."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Moon on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Speaker, before I had the opportunity to vote on that motion to table, there was a matter of considerable concern to me and I had hoped to ask Mr. Leland a question concerning comparative costs per local student—"

The Speaker:

"This is not a point of personal privilege, Mr. Moon."

On motion of Mr. Berentson, the committee amendment to page 2, section 2, line 19 was adopted.

Mr. Berentson moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 6.

Debate ensued, Representatives Berentson and O'Brien speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"Representative Leland, can you tell me, give me, comparative costs to local school districts for this driver education on a per student basis, comparing a class B school, a class A school, and a class AA school?"

Mr. Leland:

"Representative Moon, we have never had it broken down on that basis because the educators have advised us it wasn't necessary. It was originally estimated that the total cost per student in this program would be forty-five dollars. We have been advised by the school authorities that this has run from forty dollars in some districts up to as high as sixty dollars, but the statewide average would be fifty dollars per student. Now the money raised from the students themselves has ranged from ten to forty-five dollars. The reason for this is that some school districts didn't want any part of driver education, irrespective of what the legislature might have established as policy, and the way they frustrated driver education was simply to make the charge to the individual student so great that the program could not go on. Now, the thing that has changed the attitude of the educators is the Federal Safety Act, which requires that we have this driver education, so I think that the school districts and the department of public instruction now understand that we don't have any leeway. We have to have these courses as it is mandated to us by the federal government. There is a surplus in the fund at the present time and we have been advised that it is now estimated that the cost to the average student is expected to be ten dollars."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Avey, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Avey:

"Mr. Leland, aren't there some statistics that Director Toms has submitted that prove there is a higher percentage of accidents among students who have driver training than among those who don't?"

Mr. Leland:

"I think you are reading between the lines, Representative Avey. This request was asked at the hearing, and he said that in certain age groups of girls, I believe, you could construe some statistics to indicate that in certain categories and certain circumstances they had a higher rate of accidents, but I think you will recall quite clearly that he emphatically and strongly said that the overall statistics indicate a marked reduction in accidents amongst students, both boys and girls, who have had driver instruction. I might also say those who have followed this highway safety problem for years will all agree that the single greatest factor in reducing accidents is a change of attitude; and everyone agrees that when you get as old as those of us sitting here on the floor of the House it is a little bit too late to change attitudes, so the greatest hope behind this measure for reducing accidents is the development of proper attitudes.

This can best be accomplished through driver education in the schools in these age brackets."

Further debate ensued, Representatives Brouillet and Backstrom discussing financial aspects of the question.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Richardson, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Richardson:

"Mr. Leland, did I understand you to say that the Federal Safety Act requires local school districts to carry out a driver education program?"

Mr. Leland:

"Not directly, but it requires the state or the governor to implement the program. Under the federal act, they hold a single individual responsible in each state, and that is the governor."

The motion was carried, and the committee amendment to page 6 of House Bill No. 227 was adopted.

Mr. Clark (Newman H.) moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, section 5; line 27, after "public highways" and before "for a fixed" insert "in the event court action is pending to determine questions of negligence and liability of the persons involved in the accident, and until final determination thereof, and when decided the driver or drivers licenses thereafter suspended shall be limited"

Debate ensued, Representatives Clark (Newman H.), Bottiger, and Perry speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Gorton, Charette, Clarke (George W.), and Leland speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Kink demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Clark (Newman H.) to House Bill No. 227, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 14; nays, 85; absent or not voting, 0.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Avey, Backstrom, Bottiger, Clark (Newman H.), Garrett, Grant, Hurley, Kink, Moon, Perry, Sawyer, Smith, Thompson, Walgren—14.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Anderson, Bag-nariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Chapin, Charette, Chatalas, Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, Day, DeJarnatt, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gallagher, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Heavey, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Jueling, Kalich, King, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Litchman, Lux, Lynch, Mahaffey, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCaffree, McCormick, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Rosellini, Saling, Sheridan, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Taylor, Veroske, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—85.

On motion of Mr. Berentson, the committee amendments to the title were adopted.

House Bill No. 227 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

It was late in the day and judgment was impaired, and perhaps things were said that were unseemly and untimely. I wish to apologize to Mrs. Johnson. This was not my intent nor my wish. I am sorry, Mrs. Johnson."

(1) The department shall not suspend a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a fixed period of more than one year, except as permitted under RCW 46.20.342. Whenever the license of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291, such suspension shall remain in effect and the department shall not issue to such person any new or renewal of license until such person shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

(2) [Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of one year from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless and until it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.] Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of six months in cases of revocation for refusal to submit to a chemical test under the provisions of this amendatory act of 1967, and in all other revocation cases after the expiration of one year, from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless and until it is satisfied after investigation of the character, habits and driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways."

The bill was read the second time.

Mr. Berentson moved adoption of the committee amendment to the bill.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Smith, Mr. Berentson yielded to question.

Mr. Smith:

"Mr. Berentson, do I understand you properly when you say this amendment would establish a penalty for failure to take the breathalyzer test, you lose your license for six months?"

Mr. Berentson:

"Should you reject the test, you would not be subject to revocation until all litigation had been taken care of. It would not mean that should you refuse you would automatically lose your license."

Mr. Smith:

"Does it mean that if I were to go to court and be found guilty, this penalty for failure to take the test would be in addition to whatever sentence the court might put on me? For instance, if the court should suspend my license for one year, would this be an additional six months because of failure to take this test?"

Mr. Berentson:

"An attorney could answer that better than I. What we are aiming at here is, basically, when there is a refusal to submit to a chemical test, if a man does go through normal court proceedings and is proven guilty, he would be subject to the revocation."

(1) Each school district offering a course in driver education shall, in such manner as the superintendent of public instruction may direct, keep accurate records of the cost thereof. Subject to RCW 46.81.060 each school district shall be reimbursed from the driver education account [in an amount not to exceed thirty dollars for each pupil who is instructed in the course in accordance with the regulations set forth by the superintendent] : Provided, That [beginning June 30, 1964 and on June 30 of each year thereafter] the state superintendent shall determine the approximate per pupil cost of driver education and [may increase to more than thirty dollars the amount of reimbursement to the school district but in no instance shall the amount of reimbursement exceed more than] shall reimburse not less than seventy-five percent of the estimated per pupil cost of driver education. Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

Debate ensued, Representative Brouillet speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment and Representative Leland speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. McGavick, Mr. Brouillet yielded to question.

Mr. McGavick:

"Mr. Brouillet, in reading the amendment, I see the amount of thirty dollars is stricken, and instead it allows for up to seventy-five percent. Can you describe to me what the financial impact of that change would be? One question further, what will be the effect on the fund?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, and Mr. McGavick, first I must apologize for not having the amendment on your desks earlier, but we didn't receive it from bill drafting in time. There is a surplus in the fund and there is no reason to build up a surplus. It will have no impact on our taxes. It was our feeling that we should spend this money in the area where it was necessary. There is no surplus in the local school districts."

Mr. McGavick:

"Is this the same thing as the amendment we tacked onto the bill yesterday, increasing the revenue from tickets? We have actually increased the revenues going into that fund, so we should disperse it out to the areas where it is to be used?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"Yes. It seems to me that if there is money in the fund, the school districts that are having these courses should have it. We keep throwing sand in the wheels and our eyes by talking about the federal law. Is this to be the whole basis in guiding our decisions as to whether we want to do something in this area or not? I submit that to you."

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Brouillet yielded to question.

Mr. Cunningham:

"Mr. Brouillet, I would assume that you have looked into what this would do to the financing of the driver training in this area. Assuming we are going to reach all the students in the next two years, or nearly all of them, would this deplete the funds so severely in the first year that in the second year high fees would be required?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"The governor has control of this, I assume. Secondly, I have checked into past experience, but I have no assurance of what the future experience will be. On the basis of past experience, I would expect that we are going to raise more than ample funds to take care of it."

Mr. Cunningham:

"Wouldn't you feel it to be reasonable that we should have the opportunity to check carefully on what the financial impact might be of this type of an amendment?"

Mr. Brouillet:

"I have no objection to holding the bill over. I am not trying to sabotage the bill. I have no objection if somebody else wants to hold the bill over."

Further debate ensued, Representative Leland speaking in opposition to the amendment.

MOTION

Mr. Wolf moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 269, and that the bill be ordered placed on tomorrow's second reading calendar.

Mr. Leland demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 67; nays, 31; absent or not voting, 1.

Those absent or not voting were: Representative Grant—1.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. Marzano on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. Marzano:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a communication here from the President of the United States which I would like to read. It is a message to Congress on veterans' affairs, January 31, 1967.

"Last week I proposed to Congress a twenty percent overall increase in Social Security payments—representing the greatest increase in benefits since the act was passed in 1935. Although these increases will benefit millions of older Americans, we must make certain they do not adversely affect the pensions paid to those veterans and dependents who are eligible for both benefits.

"Accordingly, I propose that the Congress enact the necessary safeguards to assure that no veteran will have his pension reduced as a result of increases in Federal Retirement Benefits, such as Social Security.

"The proposals I have outlined will, I believe, strengthen our veteran's programs. But we must assure the continuing soundness of these programs."

"Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I have a House Joint Memorial in Rules Committee which I would like to see pulled out that will safeguard these—"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Marzano, I believe you are out of order. I have been lenient in letting you read your letter, but you are out of order in your remarks."

House Bill No. 270, by Representatives McCormick, McDougall, O'Dell, Gallagher, and Barden (by executive request):

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Garrett, Mr. McDougall yielded to question.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. McDougall, do you think my motion is something that should be delayed for further study?"

Mr. McDougall:

"In the late, late future."

With the consent of the House, Mr. Garrett withdrew his amendment.

House Bill No. 270 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

On page 3, beginning on line 11, strike all of section 3, section 4 and section 5

Representative Lewis spoke in favor of adoption of the amendment.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Charette on a point of information.

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Speaker, would you have that amendment read again, please?"

The reading clerk reread the amendment.

POINT OF INFORMATION

The Speaker recognized Mr. Bagnariol on a point of information.

Mr. Bagnariol:

"Mr. Speaker, do I understand correctly that the amendment would strike sections 3, 4, and 5 completely?"

The Speaker:

"Is that correct, Dr. Adams?"

Mr. Adams:

"That is correct."

Debate ensued concerning the effect of the amendment as written.

REMONSTRANCE

Remonstrance to the House of Representatives by Representative O'Brien:

Whereas, The 40th Legislature of the State of Washington is now in its fortieth day; and

Whereas, The American legislative process is based upon the concept of complete participation by all groups and members; and

Whereas, This full participation achieves its best results when the final product of the legislature truly reflects the best thinking of all its members and not any narrow or partisan clique; and

Whereas, The proper and deliberative nature of this body has been endangered by excessively political considerations dictated by the Republican majority in the House of Representatives;

Now, Therefore, We, the Democratic Members of the House of Representatives, do hereby remonstrate against the arrogant and narrowly partisan behavior of the Republican leadership in this legislative session over such instances as listed below:

1. Committee meetings have been called on short notice, without full notification of all Democratic members;

2. Dates and times of committee meetings have been changed without notification of all Democratic members;

3. Committee meetings have been called but Democratic members have been arbitrarily locked out of these "open" meetings;

4. Open meetings inexplicably have been turned into executive sessions and Democratic members have been asked to present material without the opportunity for advance preparation or without benefit of expert consultation;

5. Members of majority and minority parties, alike, have publicly objected to the "steamroller" tactics of the Republican leadership that has denied the legislative branch of State government adequate time to verify administrative facts and figures;

6. Committees and committee chairmen have refused to willingly consider Democratic measures while covering the same subject under Republican sponsorship;

7. Sessions as scheduled have been inadequate to handle anywhere near the complete calendar, causing innumerable bills to be carried over from one day to another. For example, yesterday five bills were passed and twenty-five carried over, many of these for a second and third time.

There has been an unprecedented series of Saturday sessions in the early days of the legislature when the only observable work to be done was to listen to a dialogue between two of the Republican leaders.

9. The Republican leadership has felt it necessary to make repeated and highly unusual changes in committee membership for no apparent reason other than an inability to maintain party responsibility on their own side of the aisle.

Now, Therefore, We remind the Republican leadership that although the majority party has responsibilities, minority parties must also have rights if the legislative process is to function efficiently. We would also remind the Republican leadership that although reasonable men may differ on partisan issues, our raison d'etat as a legislative body is to pass laws for the betterment of all of the people of the State of Washington. We, therefore, call upon the Republican leadership to join with us in a cooperative attempt to successfully solve the problems of our state.

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien.

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, do you wish to move the adoption of this?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Well, we are in a sort of area of limbo on adoption. This is a remonstrance directed to the legislature. On that basis it would be inserted in the journal, which is the right of the minority according to Reed's Rule No. 75, which discusses the views of the minority. We are calling this to the attention of the majority principally because of certain things that have happened relative to conduct of committee meetings. Last evening some of the Democratic members of the Appropriations Committee were asked to convene for a meeting at 8:30 and they arrived at 8:30. Apparently they were locked out and told they weren't wanted until 9:00 while other members of the Appropriations Committee apparently met and determined their so-called strategy. Now, in the history of this state legislature, and particularly the House of Representatives, we have never heard of such a practice where the majority might lock out other members for the purpose of apparently going over what they were going to do. If they wanted to do that, perhaps they should meet in the majority caucus room or someplace else. This disregard of the views and rights of the minority is something we couldn't let go on without remonstrating to the House of Representatives. This is a horrible situation, in which you have a committee that would meet in this way. I think that the Natural Resources Committee did the same thing not too long ago. They met and members of the Democratic minority showed up and were told that the majority was just meeting to discuss various matters. We would hope that the majority would consult with us in all matters of the general overall policy of this House of Representatives, in order that we could cooperate successfully in determining the right type of measures that should come before the House. This way you will have a better legislature and the bills will be considered on a more friendly basis. This is what has happened in the past.

"Furthermore, the change of a committee membership, where one man is appointed in order to protect the majority because the majority is having difficulty in securing a majority in the committee and a switch of membership is made at a late date, is also something that has been absolutely in disregard of the policy of good legislative practice.

"This is the purpose of the remonstrance which has been submitted to you in all good faith. We hope that in the balance of the session we can work with this in mind and not attempt to 'steamroll' things. We hope you will take the views of the minority in good faith in the way they are being offered in order that we can conduct our position in the affairs of this House of Representatives on a high level so that after the culmination of our work, you are going to be proud of this legislature and proud to say you were a member of the fortieth session."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Clark (Newman H.).

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. O'Brien a question."

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, will you yield to question?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker."

Mr. Clark:

"Mr. O'Brien, referring to the last session of the legislature, of which you were also floor leader and I was serving on the Appropriations Committee, we had a meeting, jointly called, with the Senate Appropriations Committee. The Republican members, of which I was one, were present at 8:00 over there. The door was locked. It was dark. We stayed around and waited. We did not get in. We were barred from the meeting, although we cancelled all other work in planning for that evening. I attended all the meetings during the session of the Appropriations Committee. We met and considered many very substantial matters and held a great many hearings. The president of Western State University was on his feet for one hour and a half answering questions and discussing the--"

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of order.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I thought I was up to answer a question and not to listen to a speech. If he wants to make a speech, I think he should have a right to the floor."

Mr. Clark:

"I am giving you the background."

The Speaker:

"Mr. Clark, will you confine yourself to your question?"

Mr. Clark:

"I was giving him the background in order that he would know what went on last session, of which he apparently was not apprized. I wish to complete one other illustration, that was the fact that after attending all the meetings of the Appropriations Committee, four days before the issuance of this secret document which we worked on, there were four members, which included the chairman, playing bridge in the Appropriations Room and they said there was no meeting and the bill wasn't prepared. It was given to us when it went on the floor, although we had worked trying to keep it down throughout the session to make it appropriate for the great body. You have made statements, have you not, Mr. O'Brien—"

The Speaker:

"Mr. Clark, would you ask Mr. O'Brien a question, please?"

Mr. Clark:

"To continue, you have made statements, have you not, Mr. O'Brien, upon which you are uninformed or about which you are deliberately overlooking this background? Is this not the prerogative, Mr. O'Brien, which you have always exercised, as Speaker four times and floor leader so many times I can't remember, to prepare the appropriations bill according to the wishes of the party in control?"

The Speaker:

"Mr. O'Brien, do you care to answer the question?"

Mr. O'Brien:

"It is a question, of course, that has been narrowed down completely. For awhile we were talking about the Senate practices. Now he is talking about the position of the majority party in presenting a budget. I would say that in the past the majority party, when we were in control, would determine the strategy on the budget and policy matters on the basis of approving an item either upward or downward. However, we always allowed the minority party the right to offer its amendments. On this basis we were fair and impartial. We never attempted to put the minority party into the committee of the whole. You always had a right to offer your amendments and we gave you the right of full discussion without any attempt to cut you off. This is something we are deeply concerned about, this going into the committee of the whole without the minority party's having a recorded vote. It will just be a matter of wheels spinning in the sand, of talk in a vacuum. Our overall strategy was never to put the budget into a committee of the whole. We can discuss this later, but I can assure you that as far as we were concerned in the past, you always had ample time to present your amendments. There were no strategy meetings with people locked out as far as I know ever in the House of Representatives."

The Speaker recognized Mr. Gorton.

Mr. Gorton:

"Mr. Speaker, now that I have a copy of this so-called remonstrance, I notice nothing in it about the committee of the whole. I do notice a very fancy French phrase, which is misused. I notice nine points, one of which is unnumbered, but I think it is the one that the minority leader is most upset about. That is the fact that we have been working on Saturdays. The particular point of remonstrance on Saturday work states that, at least to the sponsors of the remonstrance, the only observable work done was to listen to a dialogue between two Republican leaders. As I remember the last Saturday session, there were some twenty-five bills on the second and third reading calendars. I am sorry the only observable thing to the minority leader was an entirely different matter.

"It seems to me that during the course of this session so far, committee meetings have been called on longer notice rather than shorter notice than during any other session I have experienced. There has been more notice rather than less notice that the bills were to be considered, and numerous lobbyists have thanked Mr. Copeland and the other Republican leadership for exactly that fact. There has probably been more rather than less discussion of measures in committee. This is evidenced by the great number of committee amendments and substitute bills which have gone on almost every bill which has been considered on the floor.

"To go beyond that particular point, I find incredible the assertion that in a parliamentary body the members of one party on a particular committee or of the House itself may not meet to consider what they consider most advisable in connection with a particular bill. I submit that the ultimate conclusion to what Mr. O'Brien is calling for is the abolishment of the caucus and that there is no point of caucussing because this is a nasty method of determining whether or not the members of either party, the minority or the majority, wish to act in a particular way on a particular bill. The assertion that the majority members of a particular committee have never previously met when the Democratic party was in the majority is simply unsupportable. They have met in the committee rooms in the past. They will meet in committee rooms in the future, and I suggest that this is not only something that has been hallowed but which should be hallowed by responsible government. Of course they have to meet in order to decide what they want to do. The minority leader is the first one who would defend the right of the members of his party on a particular committee to meet and determine what they want to do on a particular bill.

"I am sorry that Mr. O'Brien feels that matters take too long on the floor to discuss on second reading. I have observed that much of second reading has been taken up by amendments from the minority party, and regrettably the discussion of this worthless remonstrance will probably crowd a couple of the bills on second reading today."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

The Speaker recognized Mr. DeJarnatt on a point of personal privilege.

Mr. DeJarnatt:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe my actions were impugned by the gentleman from Seattle, Representative Clark, in referring to the 1965 session and describing the chairman of the Appropriations Committee playing bridge in the Ways and Means Room. I would like to have the record show I did not play bridge on that occasion. I have never played a game of bridge or any other card game. Thank you."

MOTION

On motion of Mr. Swayze, House Bill No. 286 was rereferred to Committee on Natural Resources.

SECOND READING OF BILLS

House Bill No. 228, by Representatives McDougall, Smythe, Beck, Kirk, Bozarth, Mahaffey, Reese, Lux, and Farr (by executive request):

Providing implied consent to taking of chemical tests by persons allegedly driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 228 on second reading.

House of Representatives,
Olympia, Wash., February 8, 1967.

Mr. Speaker:

We, a majority of your Committee on Transportation, to whom was referred House Bill No. 228, providing implied consent to taking of chemical tests by persons allegedly driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, have had the same under consideration, and we respectfully report the same back to the House with the recommendation that it do pass with the following amendments:

On page 3, line 17, insert a new section following section 1 to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 27, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 and RCW 46.20.311 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department shall not suspend a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a fixed period of more than one year, except as permitted under RCW 46.20.342. Whenever the license of any person is suspended by reason of a conviction or pursuant to RCW 46.20.291, such suspension shall remain in effect and the department shall not issue to such person any new or renewal of license until such person shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW.

(2) [Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of one year from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless and until it is satisfied after investigation of the driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.] Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of six months in cases of revocation for refusal to submit to a chemical test under the provisions of this amendatory act of 1967, and in all other revocation cases after the expiration of one year, from the date on which the revoked license was surrendered to and received by the department, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law, but the department shall not then issue a new license unless and until it is satisfied after investigation of the character, habits and driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways."

Renumber section 2 as section 3.

In line 2 of the title, after "RCW 46.61.505;" and before "and add-" insert "amending section 27, chapter 121, Laws of 1965 and RCW 46.20.311;"

Alfred E. Leland, Chairman,
Duane L. Berentson, Vice Chairman,
Bob McDougall, Vice Chairman.

We concur in this report: Otto Amen, Paul Barden, C. W. "Red" Beck, Horace W. Bozarth, Paul H. Conner, Norwood Cunningham, Vaughn Hubbard, Bill Kiskaddon, William S. Leckenby, Brian J. Lewis, W. L. "Bill" McCormick, Irving Newhouse, Robert W. O'Dell, David G. Sprague, Dick Taylor, Alan Thompson, Fred A. Veroske, F. Pat Wanamaker, Jonathan Whetzel.

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be the adoption of the committee amendment to the bill.

On motion of Mr. McDougall, the following amendment to the amendment was adopted:

Amend the amendment by the Committee on Transportation to page 3, line 17, inserting a new section 2, as follows: On the last line of the mimeographed amendment, after "highways" and before the period insert ", and until such person shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility for the future as provided in chapter 46.29 RCW"

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the committee amendment as amended.

The committee amendment as amended was adopted.

Mr. Charette moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 8, after "state" and before "shall be" insert "or who is a pedestrian on or near a public highway"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Leland, Mr. Charette yielded to question.

Mr. Leland:

"Representative Charette, the purpose of this act is to deal with a drinking driver and when one is convicted as the result of drunken driving to remove his license. Now, is it your purpose in this act that if somebody wanders around the highway as a pedestrian drunk, you are going to take his driving license away from him?"

Mr. Charette:

"It certainly is. I think any person that goes on or near a highway while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage, whether driving an automobile or walking, can be just as dead as any other person and that is the purpose of the act. I think any person who would have the audacity to go near a highway when he is drinking should not be allowed to operate a vehicle."

Mr. Leland:

"Representative Charette, in addition to having been a Senator, I am aware that you were once a prosecuting attorney and also a police judge, as well as a practicing attorney. Are you suggesting or is it your thought in this amendment that the present statutes dealing with drunk in public, drunk or disorderly conduct, etc., are inadequate to handle somebody who is wandering around on his feet but still drunk?"

Mr. Charette:

"Mr. Leland, in order to answer your question, if I may, I must put it in two parts. I think there is a good possibility that the present law gives the prosecuting attorneys of the state of Washington, if they have the forces to do so, the right and the opportunity to correct the problem that we are trying to correct by House Bill No. 228. I think that it would strengthen the bill because people have to walk on the sidewalk in a drunken condition to get into their automobiles before they can drive it while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. I think that, in answer to your question, the prosecuting attorneys of the state need this additional amendment on here so that they might have the real muscle with which to attack this problem."

Debate ensued, Representatives Charette and Smith speaking in favor of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Leland, Berentson, Bagnariol, and Smythe speaking against its adoption.

Mr. Grant demanded an electric roll call and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on adoption of the amendment by Mr. Charette to House Bill No. 228, and the motion was lost and the amendment not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 69; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Ceccarelli, Charette, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, King, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Moon, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Taylor, Thompson—27.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Adams, Amen, Backstrom, Bag-nariol, Barden, Beck, Berentson, Bledsoe, Bluechel, Bozarth, Brazier, Brouil-let, Chapin, Chatalas, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Conner, Copeland, Cunningham, Elicker, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldswor-thy, Gorton, Harris, Haussler, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kalich, Kink, Kirk, Kiskaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lux, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Merrill, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Brien, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Sal-ing, Smythe, Spanton, Sprague, Swayze, Veroske, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Wolf, Zimmerman, Mr. Speaker—69.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Bottiger, Litchman and Lynch—3.

Mr. Garrett moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 22, following the period insert "Provided, That this act shall not apply if a person is conscientiously opposed to taking such a test on religious grounds."

Debate ensued, Representatives Garrett and Perry speaking in behalf of adoption of the amendment, and Representatives Berentson, McDougall, and Leland speaking against its adoption.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Moon, Mr. Leland yielded to question.

Mr. Moon:

"Mr. Leland, are you then saying that driving is a privilege that should be granted only to people of certain specified religions, and those people who belong to these reli-gions that don't want blood tests shouldn't be granted the privilege of driving?"

Mr. Leland:

"No, I didn't say that. I don't think that even the most concerned lawyer in this body is concerned about that. I am simply stating the fact that the courts have long held and recognized that the driving of an automobile is a privilege and not an inherent right of any individual. It is a privilege subject to licensing and regulation."

Further debate ensued, Representative Gorton speaking against adoption of the amendment.

Mr. Bledsoe demanded the previous question, and the demand was sus-tained.

Mr. Grant demanded an electric roll call and the demand was not sustained.

The motion was lost and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Mr. Leland, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

House Bill No. 228 was ordered engrossed and passed to Committee on Rules and Administration for third reading.

House Bill No. 269, by Representatives Berentson, Veroske, May, Thomp-son, and Barden:

Establishing traffic safety commission.

The House resumed consideration of House Bill No. 269 on second read-ing. (See pp. 582-583 for amendments adopted previously.)

The Speaker declared the question before the House to be adoption of the following amendment by Representatives Brouillet, Flanagan, and Sawyer:

On page 3 following section 4 add a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 5. Section 8, chapter 39, Laws of 1963 and RCW 46.81.070 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Each school district offering a course in driver education shall, in such manner as the superintendent of public instruction may direct, keep accurate records of the cost thereof. Subject to RCW 46.81.060 each school district shall be reimbursed from the driver education account [in an amount not to exceed thirty dollars for each pupil who is instructed in the course in accordance with the regulations set forth by the superintendent]: Provided, That [beginning June 30, 1964 and on June 30 of each year thereafter] the state superintendent shall determine the approximate per pupil cost of driver education and [may increase to more than thirty dollars the amount of reimbursement to the school district but in no instance shall the amount of reimbursement exceed more than] shall reimburse not less than seventy-five percent of the estimated per pupil cost of driver education. Per pupil cost of driver education shall include the per pupil cost of vehicles used exclusively in driver education programs and simulators used in such programs amortized by school districts over a twenty-four month period.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund the sum of $17,500,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for contingencies. Allocations from this appropriation may be made to any state agency for any lawful purpose: Provided, That allocations shall not be made to expand the scope of the activities or level of service of any agency beyond that intended by this appropriation act: Provided further, That allocations from this appropriation shall be made only upon the recommendation of the Governor and the concurrence of the Legislative Budget Committee.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund the sum of $25,000,000 for distribution to cities and towns. This amount shall be distributed by the State Treasurer in eight equal quarterly amounts on the last days of September, December, March and June of each fiscal year, in accordance with the following formula: One quarter to all cities and towns; one quarter to cities of 20,000 or more population; one quarter to cities and towns maintaining police departments of five or more full time equivalent positions for fully paid persons engaged in police work, and exclusive of any clerical positions; and one quarter to cities and towns maintaining fire departments of five or more full-time equivalent positions for full-paid persons engaged in firefighting and exclusive of any clerical positions. Each city or town shall share in the amount distributed under each factor in the proportion which its population bears to the total population of all cities receiving funds under that factor. Population data used in this distribution shall be determined in accordance with chapter 43.62 RCW as now existing or as hereafter amended. The state treasurer shall determine eligibility as to police and fire departments by reference to approved municipal budgets which shall be submitted to him at such time and in such manner as he may prescribe.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The word "agency" used herein shall mean and include every state government office, officer, each institution, whether educational, correctional, or other, and every department, division, board and commission, except as otherwise provided in this act.

The phrase "agencies headed by elective officials" used herein shall mean those executive offices or departments of the state which are directly supervised, administered, or controlled by the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of public lands, or insurance commissioner, but it shall not include those boards, commissions, or committees on which one or more of the above-named elected officials serve.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. In order to carry out the provisions of these appropriations and the state budget, the budget director, with the approval of the governor, may:

(1) Allot all or any portion of the funds herein appropriated, or included in the state budget, to the various agencies by such periods as he shall determine and may place any funds not so allotted in reserve available for subsequent allotment: Provided, That the budget director shall not alter allotment requests filed with him, nor shall he place in reserve any funds, for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials; University of Washington; Washington State University; Central Washington State College; Eastern Washington State College; Western Washington State College; Washington State Apple Advertising Commission; Washington State Fruit Commission; Washington Dairy Products Commission or any agricultural commodity commission created under the provisions of chapter 15.66 RCW; the legislative branch of state government including the legislative council, the legislative budget committee, the statute law committee, and any legislative interim committee; or the judicial branch of state government: Provided, However, That the aggregate of allotments for any agency shall not exceed the total of applicable appropriations and local funds available to the agency concerned. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee to incur obligations in excess of approved allotments or to incur a deficiency and any obligation so made shall be deemed invalid. Nothing in this section or in chapter 328, Laws of 1959 shall prevent revision of any allotment when necessary to prevent the making of expenditures under appropriations in this act in excess of available revenues.

(2) Issue rules and regulations to establish uniform standards and business practices throughout the state service, including regulation of travel by officers and employees and the conditions under which per diem shall be paid, so as to improve efficiency and conserve funds.

(3) Prescribe procedures and forms to carry out the above.

(4) Allot funds from appropriations in this act in advance of July 1, 1967, for the sole purpose of authorizing agencies to order goods, supplies or services for delivery after July 1, 1967: Provided, That no expenditures may be made from the appropriations contained in section 1 until after July 1, 1967.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Except as otherwise provided in this act, any receipts from federal or other sources or from gifts or grants in excess of those estimated in the budget may be received and allotted by the governor but in the event that receipts shall be less than those estimated in the budget from any source the appropriation shall be limited to the amount actually received and allotments made as provided in section 4. Whenever possible, the receipt of federal or other funds which are not anticipated by the governor's budget or the legislature shall be used to support regular programs instead of using appropriated funds.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Agencies are authorized to make refunds of erroneous or excessive payments and in the case of other refunds, which may be provided by law, without express appropriation therefor.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. Whenever allocations are made from the governor's emergency appropriation to an agency which is financed by other than general fund moneys, the budget director may direct the repayment of such allocated amount to the general fund from any balance in the fund or funds which finance such agency. No appropriations shall be necessary to effect such repayment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. In addition to the amounts appropriated in this act for revenue for distribution and bond retirement and interest, there is also appropriated such further amounts as may be required or available for these purposes under any statutory formula or under any proper bond covenant made in accordance with law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Amounts received by an agency as reimbursements pursuant to RCW 43.09.210 shall be considered as returned loans of materials supplied or services rendered. Such amounts may be expended as a part of the original appropriation of the fund to which it belongs, without further or additional appropriation, subject to conditions and procedures prescribed by the budget director which shall provide for determination of full costs, disclosure of such reimbursements in the governor's budget, maximum interagency usage of data processing equipment and services and such restrictions as will promote more economical operations of state government without incurring continuing costs beyond those reimbursed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund the sum of $20,500,000 for relief of special school property tax levies for maintenance and operation purposes, to be distributed by the superintendent of public instruction to the school districts of the state as follows:

EQUALIZATION FORMULA TO RELIEVE SPECIAL LEVIES: Not to exceed thirty-four dollars per weighted pupil multiplied by two factors:

(1) Factor one shall be a fraction, the numerator of which is the total assessed valuation of property in the state divided by the total number of weighted pupils in the state, and the denominator of which is the assessed valuation per weighted pupil in the school district adjusted to the state average indicated ratio as determined by the state tax commission: Provided, That such fraction shall not exceed the equivalent of a fraction the numerator of which is two and the denominator of which is one; and

(2) Factor two shall be a fraction, the numerator of which is the higher of the millage rates at which the special levies by the school district for maintenance and operation purposes were made in either 1966 or 1967 (but limited to a maximum of twice the average of the higher of the millage rates at which special levies were made in either 1966 or 1967 for maintenance and operation purposes by all school districts in the state), and the denominator of which is the average of the higher of the millage rates at which special levies for maintenance and operation purposes were made in either 1966 or 1967 by each school district in the state: Provided, That no school district shall receive an allocation under this equalization formula of an amount less than fifty percent or more than one hundred percent of the proceeds of the higher of the special levies made in either 1966 or 1967 by the district for maintenance and operation purposes; and

FLAT GRANT PER WEIGHTED PUPIL: The balance of this appropriation shall be distributed to all school districts in the state on the basis of a flat grant per weighted pupil not to exceed ten dollars per weighted pupil.

The combined amount distributed to each school district under both parts of this appropriation shall be not less than ten dollars per weighted pupil, nor more than an amount equal to the revenues derived by the school district from its special levy made for maintenance and operation purposes in either 1966 or 1967, whichever amount is higher.

The annual entitlement computed under the provisions of this appropriation shall be paid to school districts on a monthly basis in accordance with the schedule contained in chapter 162, Laws of 1965, Extraordinary Session.

The initial distribution of this appropriation shall be made to school districts in February, 1969; and no portion of this appropriation shall take effect unless the state shall levy and collect a tax upon net income from and after January 1, 1969 pursuant to chapter, Laws of 1967 (House Bill No. 639).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. There is hereby appropriated from the general fund to the tax commission the sum of $2,292,236 for administration of a state net income tax pursuant to chapter, Laws of 1967 (House Bill No. 639): Provided, That this appropriation shall not be expended until an amendment to the constitution authorizing such an income tax is ratified and approved by the people.

Gerald L. Saling, Vice Chairman.

MOTION

Mr. Gorton moved that the House do now resolve itself into the committee of the whole for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 208.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of order.

Mr. Garrett:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that before Mr. Gorton's motion was made we advanced to second reading, and we have a bill before us which was not on any second reading calendar that I have seen before. In House Rule 84 it says that no committee shall meet while the House is in session. Apparently there has been a Rules Committee meeting while the House was in session. I would like a ruling on Rule 84."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Garrett, it has been a long-established precedent in this House that committees may meet while the House is in session. Former Speaker O'Brien on many occasions excused the Appropriations Committee to meet. The Rules Committee has met while the House was at ease, and I think your point is not well taken."

MOTION

Mr. Charette moved that the rules be suspended and that the House do now repeal House Rules 85 through 88 by striking those rules.

Mr. Grant demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion, and the motion was lost by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 50; absent or not voting, 3.

Those voting yea were: Representatives Anderson, Avey, Backstrom, Bag-nariol, Barden, Beck, Bottiger, Bozarth, Brouillet, Ceccarelli, Charette, Chata-las, Conner, Day, DeJarnatt, Gallagher, Garrett, Grant, Haussler, Heavey, Hurley, Jastad, Johnson, Jolly, Kalich, King, Kink, Litchman, Lux, Marsh, Marzano, May, McCormick, Merrill, Moon, O'Brien, Perry, Rosellini, Sawyer, Sheridan, Smith, Spanton, Sprague, Taylor, Thompson, Walgren—46.

Those voting nay were: Representatives Amen, Berentson, Bledsoe, Blue-chel, Brazier, Chapin, Clark (Newman H.), Clarke (George W.), Clocksin, Copeland, Cunningham, Farr, Flanagan, Gladder, Goldsworthy, Gorton, Har-ris, Hawley, Hill, Hoggins, Holman, Hubbard, Humiston, Jueling, Kirk, Kis-kaddon, Kopet, Leckenby, Leland, Lewis, Lynch, Mahaffey, McCaffree, McDougall, McGavick, Morrison, Murray, Newhouse, Newschwander, O'Dell, Reese, Richardson, Saling, Smythe, Swayze, Veroske, Wanamaker, Wolf, Zim-merman, Mr. Speaker—50.

Those absent or not voting were: Representatives Adams, Elicker, and Whetzel—3.

MOTION

Mr. Smith moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 208, and that the bill be ordered placed on the second reading calendar for Monday.

Mr. Chatalas demanded a call of the House and the demand was sustained.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Copeland on a point of order.

Mr. Copeland:

"Mr. Speaker, House Rule 48 specifies under 'Subsidiary Motions' that in the fourth rank the motion to postpone to a day certain is equal in rank to Mr. Gorton's motion to commit, and I would suggest that Mr. Smith's motion is not in order at this time."

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"Mr. Copeland, I believe your point is well taken. Mr. Gorton's motion takes precedence over the motion of Mr. Smith and it is now before us."

MOTION

Mr. Smith moved that the House defer further consideration of House Bill No. 208 and that the bill be made a special order of business for 12:00 noon on Monday.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker:

"I am sorry, Mr. Smith. That motion is out of order."

The Speaker:

"The matter is before us, Mr. Heavey."

MOTION

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Bledsoe yielded to question.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Bledsoe, I don't understand the motion. Have you talked to Mr. Gallagher? Does he want to be excused?"

Mr. Bledsoe:

"No, he didn't discuss this lack of attendance with me. However, we are coming to an electric roll call and we may be here for some time if we wait for Mr. Gallagher to join us. I suggest we should not needlessly wait while Mr. Gallagher is brought back to his chair."

Debate ensued, Representative O'Brien speaking against the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Day on a point of order.

Mr. Day:

"Mr. Speaker, Reed's Rule 35 on points of behavior states:

"The presiding officer should treat all members as equals of each other and of himself, and should decline all personal disputes."

"I don't know whether there is a personal dispute involved here but I would ask the Speaker to rule whether if he had absented himself for personal reasons from the body for a few moments under the call of the House, which could certainly be possible and any human could understand that, would he accept such a motion as this?"

The Speaker:

"I think the motion is in order. I don't believe there is any personal difference involved."

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Garrett on a point of order.

Mr. Garrett:

"I would like the Speaker to rule on how he would excuse Mr. Gallagher when we are under the call of the House if Mr. Gallagher were present and he would have to vote along with the rest of us?"

The Speaker:

"When that problem arises, the Speaker will rule."

Further debate ensued, Representative Bledsoe speaking in favor of the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

The Speaker recognized Mr. Heavey on a point of order.

Mr. Heavey:

"Mr. Speaker, I don't believe Mr. Bledsoe's motion is timely because Mr. Gallagher has not been called before the bar of the House and we don't know whether he has absented himself or not. I suggest the motion is out of order and should be made when a roll call has been called or Mr. Gallagher has been called before the bar of the House."

The Speaker:

"I don't believe your point is well taken, Mr. Heavey."

Mr. Chatalas demanded an electric roll call, and the demand was sustained.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion to excuse Mr. Gallagher from the call of the House. Mr. Gallagher not answering the roll call, the Speaker instructed the Sergeant at Arms to bring in Mr. Gallagher.

Further debate ensued, Representative Grant speaking against the motion.

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mrs. Johnson on a point of inquiry.

Mrs. Johnson:

"Mr. Speaker, it is my belief that the demand for an electric roll call by Mr. Chatalas was on the motion to excuse Mr. Gallagher and I believe, therefore, that Mr. Jolly's motion for an oral roll call is now in order."

The Speaker:

"The record shows that you are correct."

Mr. Jolly demanded an oral roll call and the demand was sustained.

Mr. Charette:

"Will any member of the Republican caucus yield?"

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, it seems what we have now is what Mr. Thomas Reed refers to as the silent majority, not minority, and we are attempting to establish a debate. How is the Speaker going to rule when the two parties don't engage on the opposite side and you haven't got a debate?"

The Speaker:

"The question before the House—"

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, I asked you how the Speaker was going to rule relative to what constitutes a debate?"

The Speaker:

"When that question comes before me, I will rule. We have had discussion on this, Mr. Perry, and if there is no further debate I will put the question."

Further debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien, King, Johnson, and Sawyer speaking against the motion.

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Bagnariol, Mr. Sawyer yielded to question.

Mr. Bagnariol:

"Mr. Sawyer, we freshmen here in the back row haven't had much to say. Could you tell me why an elected official would not want his vote recorded on a matter as important as appropriations for the state of Washington?"

Mr. Sawyer:

"I think, Mr. Bagnariol, that this is a very keen question, because you will have to wait until you are an incumbent and you go before a group of people and they ask you why you did something in the budget, which is one of the most important items you are going to have before you, that and taxes. You are going to have to answer that, and if you can't answer it they are not going to return you. Secondly, it is very disturbing, and I know it would be very disturbing to the members of the Republican party if they had to vote on the various items of this budget, if they read in the newspapers how they voted on schools, how they voted on institutions, how they voted on all the various items. Yes, Mr. Bagnariol, I understand why."

Further debate ensued, Representative Bagnariol speaking against the motion.

Mr. Gallagher, Mr. Moon, and Mr. Whetzel appeared at the bar of the House.

The Clerk called the roll on the motion that the House do now resolve itself into the committee of the whole for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 208, and the motion was carried by the following vote: Yeas, 55; nays, 44; absent or not voting, 0.

POINT OF INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. O'Brien on a point of inquiry.

Mr. O'Brien:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rather curious about the motion to suspend the rules in order to amend items of the budget. Will this suspension of the rules permit blanket amendments of all nature regarding various amendments? Could we go through our amendments again and offer them?"

The Speaker:

"If this motion were to prevail, yes."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. King on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. King:

"Mr. Speaker, if we were to vote for this motion to suspend the rules, does that mean we could, on an electric roll call vote, document the amendments to this budget by a simple majority vote of this body?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct, Mr. King."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Perry on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. Perry:

"Mr. Speaker, since we have already considered in the Committee of the Whole substantially the same amendments that we would hypothetically submit, are we now being faced with a devious tactic to keep us from further amending the act?"

The Speaker:

"I presume that is correct, Mr. Perry."

Debate ensued, Representatives O'Brien and Smith speaking against the motion to suspend the rules.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The Speaker recognized Mr. Heavey on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

"Would it be in order to consider all the amendments we offered before on an electric roll call vote?"

The Speaker:

"That is correct."

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

I supported final passage of House Bill No. 208 despite strong feeling that additional funds are required to provide fully the educational needs. It is my hope that the supplemental budget may add necessary funds to eliminate special levies for maintenance and operation.

At the same time I recognize other needs of institutions, and for funds for correcting air and water pollution. But because we must be financially responsible, I realize the necessity for additional taxes if we only add to appropriations.

It is my personal opinion we should use some of the surplus funds for immediate needs, rather than raise the sales tax to four and one-half or five percent. It is also my belief that the tax reform program offered by Governor Dan Evans will give people a fine choice in reforming Washington's tax structure. I hope they study it carefully before making up their minds.

Harold S. Zimmerman,
17th District.

The budget that received final approval (including my vote) has a number of factors and assumptions included within it with which I am in disagreement. I wish to enumerate these factors and make a statement regarding each of them.

1. $17,500,000 Contingency Fund. I am in favor of these dollars being used as a contingency fund for the first time in the history of our state. This is purely good business practice. An error of less than one percent in a two and one-half year projection should be expected. This provides cushion and the availability and use of these funds in the next two years will undoubtedly be praised in the end.
2. The fifty some odd million dollars that are set aside for construction and institutional improvement funds or the pay-as-you-go fund is also a sound business practice. The taxpayers of the state of Washington will in the end save many dollars. I recognize that for the benefit of school levies at local levels, it would be better were we to appropriate dollars to relieve these local levies. In the final analysis, however, the use of these dollars for construction at this time is a better step in that we are able to proceed with necessary construction without the cost of interest against such construction dollars. In addition, this levy relief would be one year only. With the advent of the Governor's "tax package" and a new tax base for the state of Washington, it is my firm belief that this stands a more than reasonable chance of passing and that then we will be in a position two years from now to assume local levies and support education fully at the state level.

The budget as passed, assumes a four and one-half percent sales tax or three-tenths percent increase to support the budget. For the benefit of this record, I wish to state that I am in disagreement with the necessity of the sales tax increase. I am personally convinced there are dollars to carry the program forth just as outlined in the budget without a tax increase. If there is a four and one-half percent sales tax in the ensuing two years, then we will have additional dollars available that could now be applied to the benefit of education and assumption of local levy dollars. I am convinced, although it cannot be proven, that the estimates for revenues for the next biennium are underestimated. We will end up with a considerable surplus if we increase our sales tax three-tenths percent. Based on this personal belief, I can conscientiously vote for this budget and yet find myself voting against the sales tax increase when we deal with revenue and taxation. It is my hope that this Legislature will not increase taxes for the people of the state of Washington.

In November the voters will vote on a tax reform when the Governor's "tax package" is placed before them. This will be a giant step in helping to carry our state forward on a level of taxation that is equitable and fair.

Richard L. Smythe,
49th District.

Do you recall that legislation?"

Mr. Humiston:

"Yes, I do."

Mr. Sprague:

"Then, my recollection is correct, Dr. Humiston, that this was a burden—if it is a burden—placed on private insurance carriers who write group insurance?"

"Dr. Adams, are there any restrictions placed upon the advertising practices of podiatrists relative to their participation in health care service contracts, which restrictions may be upon physicians participating under those contracts?"

YIELDING TO QUESTION

At the request of Mr. Jastad, Mr. Adams yielded to question.

Little or large, physically or otherwise, Walt Horan never forgot people. I have seen him walk down the main street of the city of Spokane and call across the street to some workman. They all knew Walt and appreciated his fine work in Congress. This resolution is a very minimal thing in the memory of this great Congressman. Thank you."
