2022 REGULAR SESSION

TWENTY FOURTH DAY

NOON SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia
Wednesday, February 2, 2022

The Senate was called to order at 1:30 p.m. by the President of the Senate, Lt. Governor Heck presiding.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

President Heck: "Before we proceed, the President regrets to inform you that yet another member of our family has fallen prey to Covid. You may notice the absence of a particular person up here at the rostrum. Our incredibly talented Secretary of the Senate, Sarah Bannister, has been diagnosed with Covid. I spoke with her this morning. She is not a-symptomatic, but is feeling fairly well, and looking forward to a full recovery and return. It is a good reminder I think, to everyone, to recognize and follow the protocols associated with it. This disease is not yet done. This virus is not yet done with us. It's also an opportunity for me to ask all of you to continue to extend your greatest patience as we attempt to deal with a lot of new players in their positions at the rostrum. I have one-hundred percent confidence in this incredibly talented staff, but we are dealing under unusual circumstances. And with that, Secretary will call the roll."

The acting Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all senators were present with the exception of Senator Brown.

The Washington State Patrol Honor Guard presented the Colors.

Miss Kate Heber of Lake Washington High School led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance. Miss Heber was a guest of Senator Dhingra.

Rabbi Tamar Malino, Temple Beth Shalom, Spokane, offered the prayer.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Pedersen, the reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was approved.

There being no objection, the Senate advanced to the first order of business.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Trudeau: "A Point of Personal Privilege, Mr. President?"

Lt. Governor Heck: "Are you going to apologize for the President, for him being the last person, evidently, on the face of the planet [to know of Senator Trudeau's pregnancy]?"

Senator Trudeau: "Thank you, and I would offer Mr. President that you probably can only see this part of me. If you saw the rest of me, it would probably be pretty obvious at this point so. Mr. President, I want to thank you and, if you'll indulge me, I want to start from a place of deep gratitude for you, and for seriously all of the amazing staff and folks that work in this institution. The lovely security personnel who actually knows where Bangladesh is which is a great way to start the day. And for the communities we represent, and to each member of this body. Although I know you guys took it easy on me today, and I appreciate that. But I want to thank you not just for helping move this bill, and honor my mom, but because it's an honor to serve and despite it all, I really think that we always have so much to reflect on and be grateful for. I come to you today as a person who was born into violence and chaos. And now as a person gifted with the opportunity, Mr. President, to stand here today running a bill inspired by my mother. Someone who was not gifted the same opportunities, but who despite it all, always wanted me to succeed. And as someone who's a mother myself, I know that that is a natural instinct that I will appreciate always. I get to pass legislation like Senate Bill 5749 that I know will lower barriers for good people that wake up everyday and want to do the right thing, but sometimes are just not able to because of their circumstances. And I know that members of this body won't always agree, and I'm sure that a lot of the time we won't. But Mr. President, I can promise that I will not forget the humanity of every one of my colleagues and every person who serves in this institution. And that may sound, 'woo-woo,' Mr. President, a technical term, but it gets to the basics. And as I mentioned during, or as I heard, during recent comments honoring Senator Ericksen, I just, I bring forward with me a commitment to see each other as people doing the best we can to get through every single day. And I'm grateful to you as the first of many things, although unplanned, the first American-Muslim and Bengali-American to serve in the legislature, the first woman of color to represent my district, and I believe also the first pregnant legislator on the floor. And I bring my experiences to this body Mr. President because in many ways I feel that I embody the American dream. But at the same time, I have a very intimate view of where the American promise has not always been kept. And if you will allow me to quote one of my favorite poets Mr. President? As the great Maya Angelou once said, 'History, despite its wrenching pain can not be unlived. But if faced with courage, need not be lived again.' And in the spirit of this institution's commitment to collaboration and integrity, if I may Mr. President just to relay a little bit about the gifts that I am providing to each member? Thank you. As a mom of a toddler, I gift each of you with things that are particularly relevant to me: rocks and chocolate. I offer first Almond Rocas, which originate from my district.'

President Heck: "We don't see any up here Senator Trudeau."

Senator Trudeau: "Coming your way Mr. President, I can assure you. Thank you. And sandstone rocks from a local gallery in my district that I individually hand painted with unique historical landmarks or art instillations from around my district. Some of them are also signed by my toddler, which I hope you will appreciate. And to keep us connected I want to offer two things about these rocks. There is a hashtag Tacoma rocks [#TacomaRocks] that is on the back of every one of these individually painted items. And the idea of that is that you can go around with young children, and put rocks in different areas, and when people find them, they can actually use the hashtag on social media, to connect everyone. So, you'll take a little piece of Tacoma back, and I hope you will find a little one that will enjoy it. I also, you know, I want to offer to you that if you come to me and ask me about what the painting on your rock represents, I promise to you that I will invite you to my district and take you to go see this landmark, or particular art installation, so that we can actually communicate out of this, off this floor and as real human beings, living day-to-day. So, I thank you Mr. President. I appreciate you, and the opportunity to represent this district, my family, my community, and all the people that I care about in the state of Washington. Thank you so much."
