JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

STATE OF WASHINGTON

SECOND EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

OF THE

FORTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Saturday, September 8, 1973.

The Senate was called to order at 9:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Jim Graham and Donnilyn Bahr, presented the Colors. Father William Treacy, pastor of St. Michael's Church of Olympia, offered the following prayer:

"ALMIGHTY GOD, WE RECALL TODAY YOUR WORDS IN EXODUS (III.7) SPOKEN TO MOSES, 'I HAVE SEEN THE AFFLICTION OF MY PEOPLE WHO ARE IN EGYPT AND HAVE HEARD THEIR CRY BECAUSE OF THEIR TASKMASTERS. I KNOW THEIR SUFFERINGS AND I HAVE COME DOWN TO DELIVER THEM.' WE CRY OUT TO YOU TODAY IN OUR AFFLICTION. PEOPLE ARE WORRIED ABOUT POLITICAL LEADERS AND THE PRIORITIES THEY PURSUE. TODAY, CAUGHT IN OUR FRUSTRATIONS, DUE TO INFLATION, TO MISTRUST OF EACH OTHER, WE TURN TO YOU WHO SENT MOSES TO DELIVER YOUR PEOPLE OF OLD IN EGYPT. GIVE TO THOSE IN THIS SENATE A VISION, A WISDOM AND COURAGE TO ENACT LEGISLATION FOR THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE THAT WILL INSTILL CONFIDENCE IN OUR POLITICAL PROCESS, AND WILL FREE OUR PEOPLE FROM THE BURDEN OF INFLATION AS IT OPPRESSES IN PARTICULAR THE BLIND, THE ELDERLY AND DISABLED. HELP EACH SENATOR TO SEE THAT HE CARRIES THE MANTLE OF MOSES, THAT IN REALITY HE IS SENT TO OLYMPIA TO ENACT LAWS THAT DO NOT ENSLAVE, DO NOT MAKE ONE SECTOR OF THE STATE OR THE ECONOMY OPPRESS ANOTHER, BUT THAT THROUGH JUSTICE WE ARE FREE AND WE THE PEOPLE IN GOVERNMENT, AND OUT, CAN TRUST EACH OTHER. AMEN."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

September 8, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE,
THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON,
OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON.

MR. PRESIDENT:

I, A. Ludlow Kramer, Secretary of State of the state of Washington and custodian of the Seal of said State, do hereby certify that: I have carefully compared the annexed copy of a proclamation by the Governor calling an extraordinary session of the Legislature to convene on the 8th day of September, 1973, with the original copy of said proclamation now on file in this office, and find the same to be a full, true and correct copy of said original, and the whole thereof, together with all official endorsements thereon. IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed hereto the seal of the state of Washington. Done at the Capitol at Olympia on this the date of September 8, 1973.

A. LUDLOW KRAMER
Secretary of State.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR:

At the time of its adjournment sine die on April 15, 1973, the First Extraordinary Session of the Forty-third Legislature of the State of Washington had pending before it legislation of substantial importance to the citizens of our state. Much of the legislative work needed by the people of this state had not been completed. It is the apparent sentiment of a large number of members of the legislature that the unfinished work can be completed in another extraordinary session over a period of nine consecutive days during the month of September, 1973.

In the event such extraordinary sessions were called, the subjects of critical concern toward which the Legislature should direct its attention are:

1. Tax Reform. Action is needed to perfect the implementation of tax reform in the event HJR 37 is approved by the voters in November, 1973. A number of corrections and revisions must be made prior to January 1, 1974, in order to clarify portions of the implementing statute and to avoid possible instances of double taxation. Examples of specific changes required include delaying the effective date of special levies voted in 1973 until the final vote on HJR 37 is computed and the adding of definitions and rules of interpretation for administering the statute.

2. School Distribution Formula. It is vital that the school fund apportionment formula be modified to insure that the change in the state funding method which would result in the event of the passage of HJR 37 does not result in unforeseen hardship to any school district.

3. Four Percent County-City Allocation. Mechanics of implementation must be enacted to facilitate the transfer of the 4% allocation to counties and cities under the tax reform implementation statute in the event of passage of HJR 37.

4. Property Tax Increase Limit. A one-year deferral of the 106% property tax lid is required because of inequities which will result from the fact that there are areas in the state where revaluation has not been completed. The 106% limitation was originally enacted and was intended to go into effect only after all properties had been subject to revaluation.

5. Supplemental Security Income. Federal funding for various programs now in existence and administered by the state for aid to the elderly, blind and disabled stand to be completely lost unless changes are enacted before January, 1974, to conform to recent changes in federal legislation relating to such programs.

6. Economic Impact Act. A measure now pending before the legislature designed to alleviate the adverse social and economic effects to individuals and communities resulting from closure of state institutional facilities and programs is desperately needed to help the hundreds of persons affected by the closure of Northern State Hospital. If action on this measure is not taken in September, benefits provided thereunder will be lost for those individuals.

7. Energy Crisis. Anticipated energy shortages in the area of electrical power in addition to gasoline may severely impact the state during the coming winter without the enactment of legislation aimed at easing the shortages through the curtailment of electrical consumption and provision for generating additional capacity in the area.

8. Civil Commitment Law. Implementation of the recently enacted Civil Commitment Law must be delayed because of significant changes which were enacted so that administrative authorities are able to set up all proper procedures to protect fully the rights of all persons affected thereunder.

9. Budget Adjustments. Several adjustments in the state budget must be made before January, 1974, in order to take advantage of federal funds recently made available which could substantially aid a number of programs on the state level.

In addition, other matters of major significance which should be attended to by the Legislature insofar as time constraints of the extraordinary session will permit include: (1) Funding for public transportation to help in alleviating the problems created by our energy crisis; (2) Creation of a statewide planning and administrative structure in the area of transportation to preserve and further technical competence already acquired in this area, and to integrate the various social, economic and environmental considerations; (3) Funding for the Department of Ecology to continue its oil spill monitoring program in Puget Sound; (4) Statewide land use planning and management; and (5) Creation of a Department of Community Development committed to the coordination and furtherance of state and local community development and planning activities.

As a result of the foregoing matters which have not been attended to, an emergency exists constituting an extraordinary occasion within the meaning of Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution of the State of Washington.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby convene the Legislature of the State of Washington in Extraordinary Session in the Capitol at Olympia on the eighth day of September, A.D. 1973, at the hour of nine o'clock a.m., and

I DO HEREBY SPECIFY, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution that the purposes for which the Legislature is convened are:

To appropriate sufficient funds and raise sufficient revenues to carry on the necessary functions and services of state government; and

To consider the enactment of the several other measures specified above for the benefit of the people of the State of Washington.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia, this 21st day of August, A.D. Nineteen Hundred and Seventy-Three.

DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor of Washington.

BY THE GOVERNOR:
A. LUDLOW KRAMER
Secretary of State.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, September 8, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

GENTLEMEN:

The convening of the Second Extraordinary Session of the Forty-third Legislature presents a unique challenge. Those of us in the legislative and executive branches of government have an opportunity to demonstrate to the people of this state that we can conduct public affairs with efficiency and dispatch while at the same time the needs of the people are being met. We can show that representative government can and does work. In a time when the popular regard for the governmental process seems to be at a low ebb, this challenge is one which must be met.

While the state of the state is good, there is much to be done during this session. I believe there is general agreement among legislators and between the legislative and the executive as to the key issues which confront us, both budgetary and substantive. These matters are now before you and need not again be presented by me. The entire executive branch of government, the staff of the Office of the Governor and I, personally, are looking forward to working with you during the nine days of this extraordinary session. I am confident that on September 16 we will be able to say to the people of Washington that we wisely and properly conducted their business here in Olympia.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor of Washington.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

Office of the Governor, September 7, 1973.

MEMBERS OF THE WASHINGTON STATE LEGISLATURE

DEAR MEMBERS:

The primary purpose of this letter is to request legislative action on several budgetary matters which have developed since the 1973 session and because of their emergent nature must be considered now, rather than in the regular supplemental budget to be presented to the January 1974 Special Session of the Legislature. A secondary purpose is to provide members of the Legislature with a fiscal report on the recently completed 1971-73 biennium as well as an economic and fiscal review of the current 1973-75 biennium. Finally, I have identified a number of fiscal problems which are of concern to me but which can await action until the January 1974 Special Session.

Since the 1973 session, we have become aware of a number of fiscal problems which need to be resolved by the Legislature. In reviewing these fiscal matters, and in view of the limited amount of time available during the September session, it was concluded that it would be appropriate to request the Legislature to take action in September on only critical or emergent items that cannot reasonably await legislative action in the regular Supplemental Budget which will be submitted in January, 1974. Accordingly, the items for which appropriations are being requested in September are as follows:

- 1. ECONOMIC IMPACT ACT $4,054,750

The Economic Impact Act is designed specifically to assist the approximately 780 state employees and the four communities affected by the closure of Northern State Hospital, Firland TB Sanitarium, Spruce Canyon Youth Camp, and Clearwater Honor Camp. In the Act, benefits are provided for affected employees who wish to retire early, who transfer to other state employment located outside of "reasonable commuting distance," or who decide to terminate their employment with the state. The total cost of the employee benefit provisions is $1,411,000. The Act also provides for a community assistance program which is intended to assist those communities in which a state institution is located and whose closure will result in a major economic loss to the community. The Act provides for a community assistance grant of up to $5,000 for each full-time employee who transfers to other state employment more than 25 miles from the affected community or who terminates his employment with the state and does not retire. These compensatory Community Assistance Grants are to be used by the local communities for economic development programs to ameliorate the income losses resulting from the operation of a state institution. The community benefits provisions will cost $2,643,750. The total cost of both the employee and the community benefits provisions is $4,054,750.

- 2. TEACHERS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM $810,000

This legislation is necessary to bring some 370 teachers who retired prior to 1957 and do not receive social security up to parity with the rest of the retired teachers. These persons were inadvertently excluded from House Bill No. 419 which increased benefits for all retired teachers, except this category. The cost of this legislation is $810,000.

3. OTHER ITEMS

A. Council on Higher Education. The 1973 Legislature approved a $4.6 million appropriation to the Council on Higher Education for aid to needy and disadvantaged students. Of this appropriation, $2.8 million was to be used for the State Need Grant Program and $1.8 million for the Tuition Supplement Program. The State Supreme Court subsequently held that the Tuition Supplement Program was unconstitutional because the program aided private, religious oriented institutions of higher education.

The 1973 Legislature also approved the initiation of a new student loan program. This new program, however, has also been challenged and will not be implemented until a test case can be prepared and decided.

As a result of the Supreme Court decision, and the lack of an alternative student loan program, it is recommended that legislation making the $1.8 million available for the State Need Grant Program be approved.

B. Superintendent of Public Instruction $150,000

The 1973 Legislature provided an appropriation of $750,000 to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for aid to private education. As the result of a recent Supreme Court case, the appropriation was declared invalid. The Superintendent has requested that $150,000 of the appropriation be made available to his Office for studies relating to staffing, curriculum and financial analysis of non-public common schools within this state so that a more complete evaluation of the financial and program status of private educational institutions can be made available.

C. Superintendent of Public Instruction—Handicapped Facilities $1,500,000

The Superintendent of Public Instruction has requested that the Legislature waive local matching requirements for those expenditures necessary to allow school districts to effectively comply with House Bill No. 90, the Education for All Act. The proposed expenditures would fund wheelchair ramps, guiderails, sanitary facility renovation and other related changes to existing facilities. Also included is the completion of three projects approved in 1972-73 for funding from the handicapped unmet needs appropriation. It is recommended that these projects be approved for completion within the total existing appropriation from the Common School Construction Account.

D. Superintendent of Public Instruction—Training School Bus Drivers $47,000

The Superintendent has requested the authority to use $47,000 of funds appropriated by the 1973 Legislature for school district transportation reimbursement to provide a training program for school bus drivers. It is recommended that this change be authorized as requested.

E. Department of Natural Resources—Court Settlement $2,250,000

A court judgment totalling $2,744,303 has been entered against the Department as a result of damages incurred when slash fires set by the Department got out of control. A second claim for a separate fire will probably result in an additional judgment for approximately $150,000. The second claim will not go to trial until December.

The first judgment has been appealed, but there is little likelihood it will be overturned in total. The plaintiff is willing to settle both claims for $2,250,000 if they are acted upon in September rather than having protracted litigation continue and probably not receive payment until sometime in 1975. This represents about a $650,000 savings to the Department, and it is recommended the appropriation from the Resource Management Cost Account to obtain this savings be approved by the September Session.

F. Labor and Industries Electricians' Certificate Fund $80,500

Section 109 of Senate Bill No. 2854 passed by the 1973 Legislature provides $80,500 to the Department of Labor and Industries from the Electrical Certificate Fund for the licensing and certification of electricians. The implementing bill, Senate Bill No. 2183, however, provided that "all monies received from certificates, permits or other (electrical license) sources shall be paid to the General Fund." Because of this oversight in Senate Bill No. 2854, funds are not available for implementation. The amount of $80,500 should be appropriated from the General Fund since the revenue will be deposited in that fund and therefore it is recommended the appropriation be made by the September Session.

With legislative resolution of these critical problems during this brief September session, other budgetary and fiscal problems, identified in the attached report, can await resolution until the regular Supplemental Budget review in January 1974.

Sincerely,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

^{A/} Surplus revenues of $10.4 million were transferred to the Teachers' Retirement System per chapter 155, Laws of 1972 and are not included in General Fund Revenues.

COMMENT: In the aggregate, 1971-73 General Fund tax revenues totalled $1849.6 million, exceeding session estimates by $17.0 million. This represented a variance, however, in terms of total revenue of less than 1 percent. The major increases were in the retail sales and business and occupation taxes, which reflected the impact of both inflationary pressures and a level of business activity which was slightly in excess of forecasts. The increases in these taxes were, however, partially offset by less than estimated collections of property tax revenues. These reduced collections, for the most part, were the result of the King County Superior Court decision earlier this year concerning the implementation of the tax limitation provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, as well as subsequent actions of the State Supreme Court.

Revenue from federal grants to the General Fund fell short of earlier estimates by $14.0 million. This is primarily the result of lower than anticipated public assistance caseloads and the overall reductions in federal expenditures initiated by the National Administration with a primary impact on programs in the area of Social and Health Services and Education.

Total actual 1971-73 General Fund revenues of $2404.4 million, as shown in the table, do not reflect some $10.4 million in surplus revenues transferred to the Teachers' Retirement System per Chapter 155, Laws of 1972. When this transfer is taken into consideration, total General Fund revenue was within $4 million of session estimates.

TOTAL EXPENDITURES:	$2415.2	$2390.7	$4310.9	$4305.5

* Does not include minor closing adjustments.

A/ Actuals include $25.00 million which was appropriated to the Teachers' Retirement System per Chapter 137, Laws of 1973, Section 88 in anticipation of surplus revenue. The session estimate includes $18 million for this purpose based upon budget revenue estimates.

COMMENT: 1971-1973 General Fund expenditures of $2,390.7 million fell short of the 1973 Session estimate of $2,415.2 million by $24.5 million. This was primarily due to higher than expected unexpended balances of state agency appropriations at the end of the biennium and variances between the receipt of estimated and actual federal revenues.

With respect both to Public Schools and Social and Health Services, lower than estimated expenditures were the result of reduced levels of federal funding. This in turn resulted in reduced expenditure of state funds and higher than expected state agency unexpended balances.

A substantial portion of the increase, from session estimates, in Higher Education expenditures resulted from the inclusion, in the actual data, of salary adjustment monies as approved by the Legislature but not allocated in the Session estimate to specific institutions. The increase in "All other Education" is attributable to increased appropriations for redeemed warrants outstanding against the Teachers' Retirement Fund based upon expected surplus revenue. Originally estimated at $18 million, the allocation was increased to $25 million as the result of higher than estimated General Fund tax revenue.

The increase in expenditures for Natural Resources and Recreation of $4.8 million was primarily the result of the distribution of surplus revenues to the Economic Assistance program.

Within the $29.6 million included in the session estimate for General Fund Reserve for Supplemental Expenditure and Appropriations is $10.1 million for salary increases and $15.6 million for the Economic Assistance program and $1.5 million for EXPO '74. With the exception of the Economic Assistance program, these amounts are allocated to the appropriate areas in the actual biennial expenditures. Of the Economic Assistance monies, $6.8 million was allocated to appropriate agencies; $7.2 million was transferred to the Public Service Revolving Fund for expenditure in 1973-1975 and $1.6 million remains unexpended.

COMMENT: It will be noted that the 1971-73 General Fund ending balance of $44.7 million exceeded session estimates of $34.4 million by $10.3 million. This increase in the fund balance is largely the result of agency expenditures being less than anticipated during the session.

With the beginning balance of $44.7 million, as of 7/1/73, current projections of 1973-75 revenues are exceeded by expenditures of $4.7 million leaving a projected fund balance of $40 million. It should be noted that there are uncertainties connected both with respect to revenues and expenditures in this biennium and the projections of $40 million ending General Fund Balance is subject to several important qualifications and are discussed later in this presentation. Following is a discussion of the current outlook for the 1973-75 biennium.

II. The 1973-75 Biennium Economic Review. In the view of most economists, the current period is one of extreme uncertainty. Economist Alfred Malabre, Jr., writing recently in the Wall Street Journal, said that, "appraising economic trends in today's inflationary economy would be exceedingly difficult business even for the most eminently qualified forecaster."

The Phase IV economic controls will have yet to be proven and as Washington State has the highest reliance on excise, or sales-type taxes, of any state in the nation, the outcome of these controls will have a vital and determining impact on the economic and revenue estimates upon which the 1973-75 budget is based. In addition, there is a general consensus among national economists that the nation has begun to feel, or will soon feel, the signs of an economic downturn. The most recent issue of "Business Week" reports, for example, that while consumer and business spending are holding up well, economists are more and more concerned about the outlook for 1974. This was the general consensus of members of the Governor's Economic Advisory Council, which met recently in Olympia. The members of this group did indicate that the downturn would not likely be serious and that little of it would be directly felt by most citizens of this state. They also advised, however, that there are uncertainties in the state's outlook which should not be overlooked. For example, recent trends in interest rates are having the effect of slowing growth in Washington's important Forest Products industry, which has been one of the strongest elements in the State's economic resurgence over the past two years.

The aerospace industry, which together with the forest products industry has been responsible for much of the recent gain in employment and incomes in Washington, has also begun to feel the impact of the economic slowdown and inflationary pressures. This is primarily true of their domestic business as foreign sales have benefitted by dollar devaluation and the resultant lower prices of American goods.

In the agricultural sector, despite problems of drought in Eastern Washington this year, record farm prices will benefit this increasingly important element in the state's economy.

The key factor with respect to the economic and revenue forecasts on which the budget is based is in summary; however, inflation and the uncertainties connected with the outcome of Phase IV controls. Despite these uncertainties, the Office of Program Planning and Fiscal Management, working with the Department of Revenue and other responsible state agencies will continue to monitor general economic conditions and undertake a full review of the state economic forecasts and revenue estimates prior to the January 1974 Special Session and will submit the necessary updated data and forecasts at that time.

² All other revenue has been decreased by $10.5 million to reflect Department of Social and Health Services caseload reserve established per Senate Bill No. 2800.

COMMENT: The basic General Fund revenue estimates have not as yet been updated for the purpose of this special session, as there has not been sufficient experience in the new biennium to judge against the economic factors used in connection with the original budget estimates and the actual revenue collections themselves.

Each of the major revenue sources will be carefully reviewed prior to the January 1974 Special Session and, where necessary, revised estimates will be prepared. One important change in state revenue which has occurred is the impact of the recent State Supreme Court decision in the Department of Revenue vs. Hoppe. In this decision the court upheld the contention of the King County Assessor that tax limitation provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1 would be effective with taxes levied in 1972 for collection in 1973. It had been the opinion of state legal officials that the fiscal impact of the measure would not be felt until 1974, reflecting 1973 property tax levies. The Department of Revenue has advised that estimates of state property tax collections deposited in the General Fund will have to be reduced by some $17 million for the 1973-75 biennium. It is recommended, however, that this adjustment in revenue estimates not be made until the January session, to provide the opportunity to evaluate the total economic and revenue outlook for the state.

With respect to the question of property taxes, it should also be noted that the amounts shown do not fully reflect the impact of House Bill No. 186, passed by the 1973

Legislature. This measure will have the effect of transferring, effective in 1975, present local public school property taxes to a state levy. An appropriation for allocation of these funds will be required and legislation to accomplish this will be introduced in the 1974 Special Session.

In addition to the review of tax estimates, the estimates of federal grants will also be carefully reviewed prior to the January 1974 Legislative Session. The current status of many ongoing grants is highly uncertain and it will not be possible to determine Congressional actions in this area until the fall term is well underway. Additional comments on the current status of federal grants is included under Section III.

COMMENT: 1973-75 General Fund expenditures of $2,647.8 million, as shown above, are based on current levels of appropriations established by the 1973 Legislature and have not been adjusted for requests for supplemental expenditures reflected in this letter, or for potential expenditure items for consideration by the January 1974 Special Legislative Session. These expenditures are balanced by $2,687.8 million total available revenues, including $44.7 million in beginning balance brought forward from the 1971-73 biennium.

1973-75	Revenues	$2,687.8
1973-75	Expenditures	2,647.8

Projected Ending Balance 6/30/75:

It should be noted that the projected ending balance as of 6/30/75 of $40 million is based on revenue estimates currently under review and subject to revision as well as changes in expenditures resulting from actions of both the September and January legislative sessions. On the revenue side, reference is again made to the discussions of the impact of the recent decision of the State Supreme Court relative to the implementation of the tax limitation provisions of Senate Joint Resolution No. 1. This will have the effect of reducing state property tax revenues by some $17 million, which, if not offset by higher collections in other sources, will substantially reduce the ending balance as shown above. In addition, there is also the question of differences between the Executive and Legislative estimates of Public Assistance caseloads as considered during the 1973 Legislative Session. Should the higher caseload estimates assumed in the Governor's Budget materialize, additional claims on revenue will occur.

In summary, the state's economic outlook, as well as the outlook for revenues is one of uncertainty and the time available between now and the January session will be required for detailed evaluation.

Expenditures, in much the same way, are subject to change. This is particularly true with respect to programs dependent upon the availability of Federal funding and these will be evaluated in the context of Congressional and Administration actions over the next three months.

III. Status of Federal Funding. With the introduction of the President's proposed budget for FY 1974, and subsequent events, the states, and local governments as well, have been faced with the growing uncertainty as to funding levels connected with a wide range of federal programs.

From information available at the time, a revised detail listing of federal grants, changed from original budget estimates, was prepared in February and provided to the Legislature to serve as a basis for 1973 legislative appropriations.

At that time, it was estimated that total federal grants to be received by the state during the 1973-75 biennium would fall short of original budget estimates by a total of $60 million, with reductions occurring in the major federally assisted program areas of Human Resources, Education, Natural Resources and Transportation.

These revised estimates of federal funding, in addition to changes provided by the Legislature were built into final legislative appropriation bills with the resulting overall reduction of $56.2 million.

The following table compares total federal grant amounts reflected within each major program area as anticipated in the 1973 legislative appropriations, current changes, and the revised estimates of federal revenue.

FEDERAL REVENUE
1973-1975 Biennium
($ in Millions)
	Anticipated In Appropriation	Current Change	Tentative Revised Estimate
General Government	25.4	+ .8	26.2
Natural Resources	24.6	- .6	24.0
Transportation	295.9	-	295.9
Human Resources	505.1	+26.4	531.5
Education	271.8	- 5.7	266.1
Federal Revenue Sharing	59.5	-	59.5
Other	4.1	-	4.1
TOTAL:	1186.4	+20.9	1207.3

COMMENT: The increase of $800,000 in the General Government area reflects the reallocation of federal monies originally programmed for the 1971-73 biennium for administration of the Intergovernmental Personnel Act and the Public Service Careers Program.

In the Natural Resources area, reductions of $600,000 are in weather-modification studies and planning grants connected with the solid waste program and result from federal limitations in funding for these programs.

While there has been no change indicated with respect to federal funding in the Transportation area, expenditure ceiling estimates contained in the Federal Highway Act of 1973 suggest a potential reduction in Highway aid to Washington of $34 million. The Highway Act was passed in August and firm data on state allocations are not yet available.

Under Human Resources programs, current estimates of federal revenues are up by $26.4 million. Of this, the major portion, some $22 million, is represented in unanticipated federal receipts to the Department of Social and Health Services either approved or pending for approval by the Legislative Budget Committee under provisions of Chapter 139, Laws of 1973, 1st Ex. Session. These receipts represent a wide variety of programs, including assistance to the elderly through community projects and provisions for meals, the Seattle Income Maintenance Experiment, continuation of certain provisions of the Emergency Employment Act, Law and Justice Project Grants and funding for the Northwest Regional Deaf/Blind Center. It should be emphasized that these receipts represent only those amounts approved for expenditure to date, or which it is anticipated will be approved through the end of October of this year. Because of many uncertainties in federal funding in Human Resource programs, no attempt has been made to prepare a revised projection which includes the effect of all of the changes which are likely to occur as Congress completes its actions on the federal HEW budget.

In the area of Education, current data indicate that federal revenues could fall short of 1973 session estimates by $5.7 million. This is largely the result of anticipated reductions in federal pass through funding for Public Schools.

IV. Known Problems for Consideration in January 1974 Supplemental Budget.

1. DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES. As was anticipated by both the legislative and executive branches during budget deliberations earlier this year, substantially changing conditions require a careful reappraisal of the Department of Social and Health Services budget.

There are some areas, for example, where federal revenues collected by the Department of Social and Health Services are increasing over budget projections. There are, however, some very critical areas of underfunding as well. As there exists considerable uncertainty with respect to these questions of federal funding, it appears that it would be inappropriate for any adjustment to be made in the Department of Social and Health Services budget during the September legislative session. Some of the pending changes which will affect the Department's budget include the change in implementation date of the Social Service regulations from July 1, 1973 to November 1, 1973. The content of those regulations are also likely to change, which will further affect the amount of federal and state matching funds to be expended on the Social Service program. The new Supplemental Security Income program which will be implemented in January, 1974, depending upon the content of the fund regulations, could result in additional savings over that contemplated in the budget. The AFDC caseload, while lower than estimates included in the Governor's budget, may not reach the levels assumed by the Legislature which would require additional funding. In addition to these uncertainties there are a number of other fiscal problems, all of which will be reviewed prior to the January 1974 session and presented for resolution to the Legislature at that time.

2. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE-GRASSHOPPER CONTROL. The 1973 Session of the Legislature provided $100,000 for a grasshopper control program in Eastern Washington. During the course of implementing this program it was discovered that the acreage computation, upon which the appropriation was based was inadequate. In order to provide sufficient funds to complete the program the Department of Agriculture was authorized to expend $50,000 from their second year of the biennium allotment to make up for the shortage. This expenditure was authorized with the understanding that a request would be made from the 1974 session to replace the advanced $50,000.

3. DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL ADMINISTRATION. The 1973 session of the Legislature in reviewing the Department of General Administration budget determined that the budget was 20.3 man years or $218,772 over current level projected expenditures. This determination was made after review of the total agency manning and funding request. When the reduction in the requested appropriation was made, the entire reduction was taken from the General Fund appropriation rather than from All Sources supporting agency budget. It will be requested that corrective action on this matter be taken during the January 1974 Session.

4. BOARD OF PRISON TERMS AND PAROLES. The Board of Prison Terms and Paroles will submit a supplemental budget request in January 1974 for $233,984 and 7.5 man years. This request will be based on two United States Supreme Court rulings regarding the operation of the Board. One is Morrisey vs. Brewer which requires that a preliminary hearing be held in cases of alleged parole violations to determine if cause exists for a revocation hearing.

Due to the immediate impact of this court decision the Board was required to implement this hearing procedure effective July, 1973 by advancing funds from second year allotments. The amount to be requested to restore the advance and continue these hearings for the remaining eighteen months will be $168,984 and 7.5 man years.

The second United States Supreme Court case impacting the Board is Gagnon, Warden, vs. Scarpella. This decision requires that attorneys be provided to indigents at all hearings where the length of a term may be extended or where parole may be revoked. The request will be for $65,000 to implement this decision for the remaining 18 months of the biennium.

5. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION. The Human Rights Commission will request a supplemental budget in the January session for two field representative positions, a minority groups specialist, and an intergroup relations specialist. The costs of these positions for the remaining 18 months of the 1973-75 biennium will be $65,550 and 6.0 man years.

The field representative positions are required to handle an increased workload in preliminary screening of complaints to reduce workload for field investigators. The minority groups specialist and intergroup relations specialist are required for additional workload, not anticipated in the original 1973-75 budget in the area of sex discrimination.

6. PUBLIC DISCLOSURE COMMISSION. During the 1973 session it was generally accepted that the appropriation of $192,872 would only allow the Public Disclosure Commission to perform a minimal level of duties. In recent months it has become increasingly apparent that the Commission is unable to fully investigate complaints and process paperwork on a timely basis at its present level of staffing.

To correct this situation, additional funds will be requested of the January session.

7. PROPERTY TAX DECISION—HOPPE VS. DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE. In this decision the State Supreme Court held that the property tax limit measure, approved by the electorate in November 1972 as Senate Joint Resolution, No. 1, must be implemented with respect to 1972 tax levies for collection in 1973. The overall fiscal impact on state property tax collections has been discussed elsewhere in this report (See section II). In addition to the $17 million loss to the state in property tax collections, local school districts are expected to lose $5.1 million and other taxing jurisdictions $10.2 million.

8. SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION. House Bill No. 186 provides for state levy of authorized public school property tax millage effective with calendar 1975 collections. An appropriation will be required to allocate to the public schools the portion of these collections representing the last six months of the 1973-75 biennium. In addition, legislation will be necessary to change the current law concerning the monthly distribution of state school apportionment. This will be required because of differences in Treasury cash flows resulting from the change from local to state levy of the public schools' authorized millage.

9. SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION—INSTITUTIONAL EDUCATION. The institutional Education Program, funded through the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, serves children whose mental, emotional or physical problems require care in a state home or institution. The Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is presently studying the adequacy of the funding for this program and will present its findings to the January 1974 legislative session. The Superintendent may request additional funding for the program at that time.

10. UNFUNDED LEGISLATION. During the 1973 session there was a substantial amount of legislation passed without appropriation of funds to provide for the additional workload required of state agencies. Some of the major items included within this unfunded legislation are the Environmental Coordination Procedures Act (Substitute House Bill No. 391), High School Students' Public Assistance grants (House Bill No. 753), Adult Supervision Program (Senate Bill No. 2491), Juvenile Probation Services (Senate Bill No. 2256), and Property Tax Revisions (House Bill No. 186).

These and other similar items will be taken under consideration for inclusion in any Supplemental Budget request presented to the January 1974 Session.

HIGHER EDUCATION ENROLLMENT—FISCAL CONSIDERATION. Based upon preliminary fall enrollment data, it has become apparent that higher education institutional enrollments in all but the University of Washington and Evergreen State College will fall short of estimates used in the establishment of 1973-75 biennium appropriation for these institutions.

Although fall data is still tentative, as classes have not yet begun, the table below indicates that the enrollment declines are most prominent at Western, Central, and Eastern Washington State Colleges.

The magnitude of the enrollment declines were not anticipated before the majority of faculty and staff contracts were committed for the 1973-74 academic year.

Some of the specific actions being taken by the three colleges affected by the estimates reduction in enrollment are:

A. WESTERN WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE:

1. Holding vacant twenty-one faculty positions, thereby saving approximately $250,000 to offset an expected local revenue loss of $421,000.
2. Deferral of building maintenance and other budgetary items.
3. Reduced telephone and mailing services.
4. Not filling staff attrition through retirement, resignations, and terminations.
5. Reduction in staff as required.
6. Convened intra-institutional committee to formulate recommendations on institutional policies designed to produce expenditure reductions ranging from $1.3 to $1.5 million.

B. CENTRAL WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE:

1. Holding vacant 15 faculty and 6 classified positions.
2. Prepared to give termination notice to 28 additional first year faculty staff if final fall enrollment decline is substantial.

C. EASTERN WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE:

1. Holding vacant 12 faculty positions.
2. Not filling four other faculty positions that have occurred through attrition.

Even though the outcome of final institutional enrollments will not be known for several weeks, the actions being taken by the schools are holding current fiscal year expenditures to a minimum. A full review of appropriations and appropriate reductions for FY 1974-75 as a result of the enrollment decline for each institution will be undertaken prior to the January session and a recommendation will be made to the Legislature at that time.

MOTION

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved that the rules of the first extraordinary session be adopted as the permanent rules of the second extraordinary session.

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARRY LEWIS

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, rules enable anybody to expedite its work and proceed in proper fashion and enable the members to understand the order and priorities of the work which is before them. This caucus feels that we should adopt rules early in the session, even though this has not been the custom of the majority in the past. We want to emphasize that point and make it clear that it is our opinion that we are here to go to work. We can expedite the work and accomplish the purposes required of us for the people of the state in a more logical manner, in a more proper manner, in a more orderly manner, and I would urge that you support this motion."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "I object to having the rules considered at this point. I have several amendments that I would like to have prepared and am not prepared at this point, and would like to have them considered at the proper time."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, speaking against Senator Lewis's motion, really he speaks with a forked tongue, because he talks about expediting business and certainly if we are going to get into a rules hassle for three days out of the nine he is not expediting any business. He is withholding the right of the Senate to proceed and I think that we should proceed with as little restriction as possible so that we can go along with our business. Now I will also say this, if he wants to adopt the rules of the First Extraordinary Session to be the rules of the Second Extraordinary Session I can go along with that, if I understand it right, because we did not have any rules in the First Extraordinary Session and I certainly would approve of going along with that in the Second Extraordinary Session."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "In order to expedite business, that is why we made the motion, Senator Bailey, so we would not have to wrangle about this, we would get it out of the way while we are waiting and we thought this would be the proper time and the proper moment. I think everyone is aware what the Senate rules are and there is no reason for not adopting them at this time. We are getting ready. We do not have any bills or anything before us and I think this is the proper time. We are not going to make a big deal. We are not going to wrangle, Senator Bailey. I assure you of that. We have no intention of wrangling with you. We just think it is appropriate at this time."

Senator Newschwander demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Lewis (Harry), Lewis (Bob), Guess, Peterson (Ted), Atwood, Jones, Scott, Sellar and Whetzel.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Lewis explain to me the rules of the First Extraordinary Session?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Bailey, would you like me to read the rules out of the book? The intent of the motion is to adopt the Senate rules that were adopted in the Forty-third Legislative Session which were carried on into the First Extraordinary Session and which I am proposing be adopted as the permanent rules of this Second Extraordinary Session."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Senator Lewis has not stated the truth in this matter. We had no adoption of rules in the First Extraordinary Session. The rules of the regular session were not carried over into the extraordinary session. I would like the Secretary to read your motion. Did it not say that the rules of the First Extraordinary Session would be the rules of the Second Extraordinary Session?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "That is the President's recollection. The Secretary will please read the motion."

The Secretary read the motion by Senator Harry Lewis.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Then, Mr. President, if this motion prevails, we then have no rules before the Senate. Is that right?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, the intention of my motion was to adopt the Senate rules as they are carried in the 1973 Legislative Manual, that section referred to as Senate Rules 1973. And if the motion was not clear, Senator Bailey, we do not have a rule that motions be written right now so we really do not have an operating procedure and the purpose of my motion was to get into an operating procedure. Because we have no rules, I would like to clarify for you verbally what the intent is. If you would get your Legislative Manual out for 1973 I am moving that we adopt as permanent rules those rules that are printed in the Manual under Senate Rules 1973."

Senator Bailey: "I think that it may be true that there is no rule but I do think if we are going to have a roll call vote the membership is entitled to know the motion we are voting on. You cannot vote on a motion that you intend one thing and states otherwise in the record. I would like to know what the record shows your motion to be. I think we would have to go along with Senator Washington on this, that if you are going to adopt the rules we have to give due notice here on adoption of the rules so members have a right to make a change if they so wish. I think though we should have the record read as to what the motion is before we can intelligently vote on it or even answer the roll call as Doctor Newchwander wants. If he does not know what he is voting on either, he will not know which way to vote."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "May I ask the clerk to correct my motion as I just stated it and read it back to the body to comply with Senator Bailey's request."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Lewis has moved that the verbal amendment that he just stated be adopted. Senator Lewis has moved that the rules of the 1973 Legislative Session be adopted as the permanent rules of the Second Extraordinary Session."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Lewis yield to a question? Senator, did you tailor these rules to the nine-day session? I understand there would be a number of days, like so many days, to introduce a bill and you have to have a bill read each day for three days and so on. Did you revise them at all? Do you think these rules applying to a sixty-day session should be tailored to the nine? Did you make any attempt to revise those dates to in effect reflect the substance of the time sequence in considering matters? And if not, shouldn't we put it over until tomorrow so you would have a chance to do that?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Dore, if you would like to have overnight to look at these that would be fine with us. The point that we are trying to make here is that the Republican Senators are here in Olympia for this nine-day session to attend the meetings, to participate in the legislative process in a positive manner, and to work cooperatively wherever possible. You are not going to find this caucus involved in political games. You will not find this caucus delaying the course of action. But we will be agreeable only to legislation which we feel is in the best interests of the people. And we realize, as I am sure you do, that bad legislation rammed through a limited session would be devastating. Simply stated, we are here ready to do a job and go to work and we want to make that emphatically clear. If, in your opinion, you would like to hold this over for a day, so be it, if that will help accomplish the purpose of our work."

Senator Atwood: "Senator Dore, the Senate rule that you are referring to is tailored to the constitutional requirement and that is all. I think the rules as they are written in the Rule Book can conform too, unless you have some specific rule you are looking to."

Senator Dore: "I have in mind Rule 61, 'Every bill shall be read on three separate days'."

Senator Atwood: "That is the one that is tailored to the constitutional provision."

Senator Dore: "And there is the two-thirds on appropriation and revenue matters. They cannot be considered after the fiftieth day and so on. Have you changed the days?"

Senator Atwood: "No, we have not."

Senator Dore: "Do not you think it would be helpful if you did that because . . ."

Senator Atwood: "There is a joint rule coming over, I believe, and maybe they have changed their minds, that covers some of what you are talking about. But if you want to put it over I would not think we would have any objections. I do not want to get in a big wrangle. All we are saying simply is that we believe that we should have some rules to govern the procedures here."

MOTIONS

Senator Dore moved that the motion by Senator Harry Lewis be considered as a special order of business at 9:50 a.m., Sunday, September 9, 1973.

Senator Francis moved that the motion by Senator Dore be amended to consider the motion by Senator Harry Lewis at the appropriate order of business on Sunday, September 9, 1973.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Do we have an order of business? The rules themselves provide for the order of business. Just so we are not stymied for making the motion at any time."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Although we do not actually have an order of business, we will have an order of business tomorrow."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "I would simply point out that any body when it meets has no rules and generally they operate under Reed's or whatever. If you had no rules you could do that. Other than that, the majority rules. That is enough."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "I would go along with the motion that puts this over until tomorrow, but I want to point out that the Democrats, the majority party in both houses, are not going to waste this time every day arguing rules and then, under the guise that the other side is doing a job for the people of the state. The people could care less what the rules are. They want us to go to work and we are going to go to work and we are going to do some things tonight. The majority is going to rule and you may pontificate all you want to on what the priorities are going to be here, but the majority is going to tell you what the priorities are and they are going to tell you when we are going to adjourn. You can argue over the technicalities all you want to, but we have both houses and we are going to tell you what we are going to do."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARRY LEWIS

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Bailey, speaking directly to the point you raised, we recognize that you are the majority. The point that I was trying to make, in answering Senator Dore's question, was one that in spite of the fact that we sit here as a minority and you may have some objectives with which we disagree on an issue by issue basis, we intend to vote our conscience and our position in representing our constituencies. But I want to make clear that this caucus intends to cooperate, in spite of what you said, in spite of the attitude that you have just enunciated, that we intend to work with you. We intend to try to accomplish the purposes that we can in this session. We have agreed to it and we intend to go to work and I want you to clearly understand that."

The motion by Senator Dore, as amended by Senator Francis, carried. The motion by Senator Harry Lewis will be considered under the appropriate order of business on Sunday, September 9, 1973.

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the fifth order of business.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2136, by Senators Wanamaker, Guess and Washington (by Legislative Transportation Committee request):

Directing priority programming by the highway commission.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 8, 1973.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2136, directing priority programming by the highway commission (reported by Committee on Transportation and Utilities):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 4 of the engrossed and printed bill, line 29, section 3, after "committee" and before "on" insert "and senate and house transportation and utilities committees".

On page 5 of the engrossed and printed bill, line 6, section 4, after "committee" and before "a" insert "and senate and house transportation and utilities committees".

On page 6 of the engrossed and printed bill, line 15, section 5, after "committee" and before "a" insert "and senate and house transportation and utilities committees".

Signed by: Senators Walgren, Chairman; Guess, Jolly, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Mattingly, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Sellar, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

There being no objection, the committee amendments were considered simultaneously.

MOTION

Senator Donohue moved adoption of the committee amendments.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Washington or Senator Wanamaker yield? Senator Wanamaker, I have heard it said and I would like a statement from you on the floor, does this enable the Highway Commission, after we have allocated funds for a specific road, does this allow them to take it away from the specific project for which allocated and put it on a lesser priority project at their option?"

Senator Wanamaker: "For a specific road, no. But in categories, yes."

Senator Woodall: "Senator, I wish you would enlarge. You say, 'in categories, yes.' In other words, we vote road funds to be spent in certain orders of priority. Are we now voting that this bureau, after we have designated the way we want it spent, has the power to turn around, notwithstanding what we have voted, and say, 'We are going to put it in other places first, ahead of where the legislature voted it'? I would like to hear extensive comment on it."

Senator Wanamaker: "No, it does not give them any authority to change the legislative intent of any bill."

Senator Woodall: "Then I would like to hear just what this bill does."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, the reference that Senator Woodall is directing our attention to appears on page 5 on lines 4 and 5. Under the existing law, the law that we seek to change, the Highway Commission in selecting the projects to present to us in their budget must first chase federal dollars. They first have to go out and spend all the ninety-ten money. As a result, the second category, the fifty-fifty money is often neglected because there is not anything left. So the proposal that you are talking about, Senator Wanamaker answered your question to, says that they can change that. They can do the priority project, even though it might be a lesser rate of matching fund with the federal government."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Bottiger yield? Senator, since we adopted priority programming, about every highway under the fifty-fifty matching fund highway has suffered terribly. We do not have enough to even repair the potholes, let alone take care of anything else. Everything is going in the Interstate or ninety-ten program it seems to me. Does this bill increase the ninety-ten program at the further expense of the fifty-fifty highways?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Bailey, it does just the opposite. Instead of chasing that federal money, now we can go down and say this particular bridge or this particular safety factor is more important than that particular freeway construction, and we would rather do this."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Donohue carried and the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2136 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2136, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Gardner, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—48.

Absent or not voting: Senator Greive—1.

Providing that voters at the county level may use initiative and referendum to put matters on the ballot.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Grant, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2143 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2143 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Grant, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2143 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Grant yield to a question? What are the percentages and what are they based on now of signatures required?"

Senator Grant: "It requires the petitions bearing signatures of registered voters of the county equal in number to not less than twenty-five percent of the number of voters—I am sorry, that is the original bill."

Senator Day: "Senator, I do not have a copy of the substitute bill."

Senator Grant: "I do not seem to have one in my book either, Senator Day. Ordinances, except ordinances providing for certain things, require fifteen percent of the registered voters of the county."

Senator Day: "Of course that does not sound like very many but if that were fifteen percent of the votes cast in the last general election in the county it would be a substantive amount, but instead of that it is based on the registered voters, which actually makes it about twenty-five percent of the people who voted in the last general election."

Senator Grant: "I do not disagree with that, Senator Day. It is a rather stringent requirement."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Grant, we have gotten along for many, many years in the state of Washington with the county commissioners running their government. Now what is the sudden burning need to allow people to tie up the operation of county government to the referendum process to where they can suddenly tie up something that the county commissioners thought was needed? If they do not like them they can kick them out at the next election. Now we have gotten along for seventy-five years with our present system. Why do we suddenly need the referendum in county government?"

Senator Grant: "Senator, I do not know whether there is a sudden burning need for this measure. I am not the prime sponsor of the measure. Maybe Senator Atwood would like to address himself to that. I would only say that the voters in every other jurisdiction, practically every other jurisdiction, have the authority or the right to initiative and referendum. It is one of the few remaining subdivisions of the state that does not have that authority and I think it should be granted to them."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "I would like to respond to Senator Woodall. In our county we have had two occasions on which the voters have tried unsuccessfully to referendum and because there is no right to do it, they are totally thwarted. And I think that as a citizen of Whatcom County I should have that right. I have that right as a citizen of the state. I have that right as a citizen of Bellingham. The people of King County have that full right. King County is not affected by this bill, gentlemen. They have that right by virtue of their county charter. I think the county of Snohomish in their home rule charter that was defeated had it in there and that, unfortunately, was defeated, or fortunately. But nevertheless in our county, and that was the reason for the bill, and I know some of the other sponsors, Senator Day from Spokane who is a sponsor, there have been various times and issues on which the people would like to have had a direct input and were totally thwarted. Now this bill has passed this body at least three times that I can remember with different percentages. I agree with you, Senator Day, it is a real tough hurdle, but this is the only way we could even get halfway agreement from the counties that are affected to keep from killing it in the House. I am hopeful they do not kill it again but it is of extremely high percentage. My original bill was modeled after the state and in the smaller counties, of course, that would have meant very few people could referendum anything and in effect tie up county government, just a few people, and that is why the fifteen percent was finally arrived at. But rather than have nothing at all I think there should be some vehicle to allow a citizen of a county to have some input by initiative and referendum."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Grant, what provisions are there in this bill for secrecy in the event that the people desire to put their names down on this piece of paper?"

Senator Grant: "There are none specified."

Senator Rasmussen: "Do you anticipate any court actions in that respect?"

Senator Grant: "You never know."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Grant, having sponsored a couple of state-wide initiatives and they were successful and I never had any knowledge that people regretted signing an initiative and they were always open to inspection and the Secretary of State's office had the cards; as they go through and check the initiatives they also check a separate card that they keep in their files which says that you, Joe Doakes, signed that initiative, and they keep those files down there in their office in a card file. I just wondered if you had explored that."

Senator Grant: "What was the question?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I was wondering if the Secretary of State wore blinders when he looked at the initiative petition."

Senator Grant: "I do not know what the Secretary of State does, Senator Rasmussen. Your comments are very interesting, though."

Senator Rasmussen: "You did not tell me, are there any secrecy provisions in this bill?"

Senator Grant: "No, this does not say that they are secret or open or anything else. It does not address itself to that question."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Grant. I am still confused."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "The President should like to call the attention of the members to the fact that we are saving paper as per the Department of General Administration.

Senator Mardesich: "What was your last comment there?"

The President: "General Administration. The President has just learned from the Secretary of the Senate's office that a new policy is that both sides of the paper be used, Senator."

Senator Mardesich: "That is in line with the Senate's position of economy in government?"

The President: "Yes, it is."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Guess, I did not get a chance to read this bill as yet and I was trying to quickly get to something here that attracted my attention. The caucus digest says, 'requires shock absorbers, spring shackles and cross stabilization linkage in proper working order and free from defects' and so forth and I wonder if this, and it provides criminal penalties up to ninety days imprisonment, does this apply to every vehicle? It does not make it a misdemeanor to have your shock absorbers not in working order, does it?"

Senator Guess: "No, it is not for that but it is for the altered vehicle. We found there are some extremely unsafe automobiles that have been modified and are loose on the highway and, working in conjunction with the State Patrol, we felt that it was necessary to require that the modified vehicle have the properly designed shock absorbers and crossways strengthening that the frame requires. So this was agreeable with the group and . . ."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "So this provision applies only to the modified vehicle?"

Senator Guess: "Only to the modified car."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "All right. Thank you."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Day: "In answer to the inquiry, these are both controlled substances and both of these are amendments (sic) to the same controlled substances act."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Sandison: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator, I have done a little reading on this lately and there is one school of thought that says cannabis sativa is a generic and basic member of the cannabis family and every other specie is just a derivative thereof and there are some people in the prosecutor's office in my own particular county who feel that the cannabis sativa would be enough to take care of the situation. What is your feeling on that?"

Senator Day: "No, according to the authority that we found at Washington State University that is not true and it was not true in the case in Florida where it was a successful defense and there is no way to identify the other varieties or to differentiate them once the leaves have been crumbled up. They all have hallucinagenic effects. There are different varieties and this does plug an actual loophole."

Senator Sandison: "If I could ask another question then. This has received the approval of the narcotics department here?"

Senator Day: "That is right."

Senator Sandison: "And the prosecutors?"

Senator Day: "All the law enforcement people that we have talked to support this particular amendment. Now we did talk to the federal people. They felt that the one relative to cannabis was imperative. They felt that in one instance in California they had been able to defend on the opiate derivative. They had been able to defend that one successfully, but it hinged on a very fine point of law and all this does is assure that there is not a loophole in either one of the areas."

Debate ensued.

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2942, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; absent or not voting, 2.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Durkan, the Senate dispensed with the Call of the Committee.

On motion of Senator Durkan, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Marsh: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, relative to section 16 of the amendment to the proposed state income tax act which we have just considered while sitting as a Committee of the Whole, said section being section 82A-33 of chapter 141, Laws of 1973 First Extraordinary Session, I want to know your interpretation as chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and the interpretation of the Committee on Ways and Means as to whether a Washington income taxpayer who has paid an income tax on income derived or received in the state of Oregon or in any other state imposing a state income tax is entitled to credit on his Washington state income tax return for payment of such foreign income tax if the income received in the foreign jurisdiction has been included and reported as part of the taxpayer's income in the Washington state income tax return."

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, as I understand this testimony by the expert witnesses before the Ways and Means Committee, section 16 of the amendment to the proposed income tax statute, and that is the section which we are discussing, Senator Marsh, has been explained to us by the tax experts who have appeared before the committee that any individual, estate or trust filing an income tax return in the state of Washington will be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by the state of Washington for taxes paid by such individual, estate or trust on income derived and paid to another state by way of income tax. If the income tax derived or received in another state which imposes an income tax has not been included in the return filed in the state of Washington, then the taxpayer would not be entitled to a credit for the income paid in another state on income not reported as part of his Washington state income tax return. With permission of the Senate, I will file this with the clerk."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question please? Senator Durkan, the amendment that I proposed as amended by Senator Mardesich and Senator Whetzel—I am referring to that amendment—is it correct that that amendment in no way broadens the intent of defining capital property as defined in sections 1221 and 1223 of the Internal Revenue Code? Is that our purpose here?"

Senator Durkan: "Yes, Senator Lewis. Prior to the Whetzel amendment and the addition of disposition I would say that the intent of the changes, the technical changes, the amendment by Senator Mardesich to your amendment was to bring the present bill which is before us in line with what we understood the language to be in the income tax bill which passed during the extraordinary session of the legislature."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Do I understand that your understanding of what we did is that we were not attempting to broaden the definitions of the Internal Revenue Code?"

Senator Durkan: "That is my understanding. Now the only addition is that I do not really have what the full impact on the word 'disposition' is."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 19; excused, 2.

THROUGH HIM WE CAN KNOW PURPOSE AND POWER FOR EVERY NEW DAY. WE TAKE TIME TO DRAW UPON YOUR DIVINE RESOURCES FOR THE TASKS AND CHALLENGES BEFORE US. HELP US TO BE EXCITED TODAY ABOUT OUR COUNTRY, ABOUT PEOPLE, ABOUT OURSELVES, ABOUT OUR JOB... EXCITED ABOUT LIFE ITSELF, RENEW US IN MIND, IN BODY, AND IN SPIRIT AS WE STAND BEFORE YOU IN THESE BRIEF MOMENTS. LET ENTHUSIASM SURGE THROUGH US, AND MAY WE BE SWEEP ALONG BY IT SO THAT EVERYTHING BECOMES GREAT AND WONDERFUL, AS IT IS INTENDED TO BE. MAY, BECAUSE OF THIS SESSION TODAY, BECAUSE OF OUR GOD-GIVEN ENTHUSIASM AND ATTITUDE, OTHERS BE HELPED, MANKIND MADE A LITTLE BETTER... SOMEONE'S WAY BRIGHTER BECAUSE WE OPENED OUR MINDS, OUR HEARTS, TO ALL YOUR WISDOM, UNDERSTANDING AND LOVE. THROUGH CHRIST OUR LORD WE PRAY. AMEN."

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189, by Representative Randall:

On page 8, section 9, line 7, after "one-" and before "cents" strike "[half] quarter" and insert "half".

Signed by: Senators Durkan, Chairman; Donohue, Vice Chairman; Odegaard, Vice Chairman; Atwood, Canfield, Dore, Marsh, Peterson (Ted), Sandison, Scott, Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

MOTION

Senator Durkan moved that the four committee amendments be considered simultaneously.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Durkan, I was in the meeting this morning and I did not know what the fiscal impact of the final bill is with the amendments on it. What is that?"

Senator Durkan: "Actually, it is two-fold, as far as local government is concerned, by the fact that the bill does mandate or cut ten percent out of the mandated funds. That is a cutback in terms that it will be a loss in revenue to the local government on those mandated funds. I do not have the exact amount how much it is going to be state-wide but it will be ten percent of whatever that special levy would be, or that mandated levy would be in those counties, is one. And the other is the support which we "grandfather in" will depend, it is ninety-five percent of the amount of whatever the level of spending in that particular district is now."

Senator Guess: "For instance, last year we did not have a special levy. Therefore our school districts got along with about three and one-half million dollars less than they had hoped to have. Now what is going to be the impact of this bill on School District No. 81?"

Senator Durkan: "In the original bill school districts, fire districts, library districts, and hospital districts were not included within the bill. And now if you were to take the mandated levy, it will only touch those levies which are mandated by law and would not affect your school districts unless you were having a levy."

Senator Guess: "All right. Now the fire districts are having to depend very strongly on special levy and would 186 cut them by ten percent or would this bill cut them by ten percent?"

Senator Durkan: "This bill, the present amendment would affect fire districts."

Senator Guess: "And they would be cut automatically ten percent? Now will this restore the ten percent cut?"

Senator Durkan: "No, it will not. So if you wanted to restore it you would have to have an amendment to that effect, Senator."

Senator Guess: "Where would your money come from if you restored it?"

Senator Durkan: "From the property tax, the automatic levy that fire districts receive, the millage."

Senator Guess: "In other words, it would raise taxes ten percent?"

Senator Durkan: "No, this mandates a ten percent reduction in those taxing districts which originally under 186, I think was the number of the bill, automatically made the mandated cutback. That, if you will recall, is the bill that was introduced in the House and that made the property tax cuts. This bill goes a step further and includes those districts which were not included under 186, except for the levy on mental health and retardation."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Durkan yield? Senator Durkan, the committee took out those two provisos on the ninety-five percent but it neglected, I think, to restore that language that was stricken and I am not sure whether we should not restore that stricken language. I had Senator Whetzel checking that to see if technically we should not restore that."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, further consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 189, together with the pending committee amendments, was ordered held until Tuesday, September 11, 1973.

SECOND READING

REENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 706, by Representative Randall:

Requiring assessors to add to the assessment list the omitted value of personal property.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Durkan, Reengrossed House Bill No. 706 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Durkan yield? Senator, your explanation is correct and on this pink sheet it says that it requires the assessor to add to the assessment. My understanding is, just as you said, that when he finds that an error has been made or he thinks one has been made, then he is permitted to add on. It is not exactly a requirement. He is authorized to do it."

Senator Durkan: "He is authorized to do it but I think if the audit shows that the property had been omitted and it is an omitted property statute, if the audit shows that it had been omitted and by the taxpayer, then the assessor shall assess."

Senator Canfield: "He is authorized to add it. I do not have the bill in front of me but does it say he is required to or he is authorized to?"

Senator Durkan: "He shall assess."

Senator Canfield: "He shall?"

Senator Durkan: "If it is omitted."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed House Bill No. 706, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Gardner, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody-46.

Absent or not voting: Senators Francis, Greive-2.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Gardner, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Woodall, Woody—41.

Voting nay: Senators Fleming, Grant, Odegaard, Scott, Whetzel—5.

Absent or not voting: Senators Francis, Greive—2.

Providing certain disability benefits for state patrol officers.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Marsh moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 16, after "disability" strike the period and insert ": AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That an officer injured while engaged in wilfully tortious or criminal conduct shall not be entitled to disability benefits under this section."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Will Senator Marsh yield? What would be a wilfully tortious act?"

Senator Marsh: "A wilfully tortious act would be an assault, for example, as distinguished from simply being involved in an automobile accident which would be a non-wilful act in most instances."

Senator Durkan: "What would it be if the 'wilfully' was not included?"

Senator Marsh: "It would be simple negligence. Any time you are involved in an act involving simple negligence, such as an automobile accident, you would not be covered. And I did not want to go quite that far. What I was concerned about was assaulting a person or some other things that we might mention."

The motion by Senator Marsh carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Durkan, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2659 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

On motion of Senator Wanamaker, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 16, after "state" and before the period insert "including the purposes of RCW 47.30.030".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Wanamaker yield? Would you explain to us what this bill does?"

Senator Wanamaker: "I was going to, Senator Woodall, as soon as it went on third reading."

Senator Woodall: "I would like to hear before. We might want to amend it."

Senator Wanamaker: "Okay, I will be glad to give it to you. This is purely a housekeeping bill which was inadvertently left out of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 124 in the 1971 Session in which, at that time, we abolished the State Patrol highway account, which is six dollars and ninety cents of your excise tax, and put it into the highway account, which it states in this same bill can only be used for highway purposes. Now we are budgeting for other purposes such as the State Patrol, state parks and other things out of this fund. So all this bill does is put the statute in conformity to the budget which we are doing."

Senator Woodall: "It has nothing to do, then, with the Highway Commission changing priorities as to commitments where there have been highways designated?"

Senator Wanamaker: "It does not even have anything to do with the Highway Commission, Senator Woodall, so there is no control in there at all."

On motion of Senator Wanamaker, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2551 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189, by Representative Randall:
Relating to revenue and taxation.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 189, the committee amendments having been moved for adoption on Monday, September 10, 1973.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, Engrossed House Bill No. 189 was made a special order of business immediately following consideration of Senate Bill No. 2967.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2943, by Committee on Social and Health Services (Endorsed by Senators Day, Van Hollebeke, Twigg, Clarke, Jones, Murray, Keefe, Woody and Herr):

Implementing the laws of licensing renewal fees of certain professions.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Day moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 4 after the period, insert "if a said fee is so paid then the said certificate shall allow the holder thereof to fit and dispense hearing aids, notwithstanding the provisions of any other chapter of Title 18 RCW."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DAY

Senator Day: "Mr. President and gentlement of the Senate, this amendment which is an identical amendment which will occur three places in the bill exempts from the hearing aid licensing act osteopathic physicans, M.D.'s and optometrists. Now you will note that in many areas the optometrist, for example, has been fitting hearing aids in conjunction with the fitting of glasses, as have ear, nose and throat specialists, and I understand there was one osteopath here doing it. I do not know whether he is now or not. Nevertheless I feel that in this particular competent area that they should not have been included in the mandating of a license to fit hearing aids. So what this will do is to exempt them from that particular statute that requires that other people who are nonprofessionals in this particular area have a separate license."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Newschwander: "Mr. President, a question of scope and object of this amendment. As I read this bill, this bill is totally a licensing revenue bill and here we now have another subject in my estimation, so I would like a ruling on scope and object of this amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DAY

Senator Day: "Mr. President, speaking to the scope and object issue, the title of the bill is 'An Act Relating to professions.' It does deal with renewal fees for those professions but it also deals with other criteria relative to those fees and what this does is amend the criteria relative to the fees. The amendment again says 'If said fee is so paid, then the said certificate shall allow the holder thereof to fit and dispense hearing aids, notwithstanding the provisions of the other chapter.' So it is tied directly to the payment of the fee. I believe it is a proper amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Will Senator Day yield to a question? Senator, am I correct in assuming that the purpose of your amendment relates exclusively to the requirement of the license fee and it would in no event permit the fitting of hearing aids by a person not presently legally entitled to so fit?"

Senator Day: "That is correct, Senator Clarké, and the reason for the amendment is to avoid the duplication of licenses and licensing fees by these professional people relative to the fitting of hearing aids. After the hearing aid bill was passed last time there seemed to be some question as to whether they have to then pay two fees and have two licenses, so what I am trying to do here is to correct that, what I feel was an incorrect thing that we did in that other act."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Day yield? Senator, as I was talking to you yesterday, I had a specific case which I think you properly covered under this bill where an optometrist told me that in order to put these hearing aids in the glasses which he was prescribing that it cost him, I believe he said, one hundred or on hundred and twenty-five dollars extra license fee. He told me that he simply, for the very few cases that he fitted, he is in the glasses business, not in the hearing aid business, just could not afford to take on that kind of service. And I just wanted to be sure that this does cover the licensed optometrist so I can properly inform this man."

Senator Day: "Yes, sir. One of these is an amendment to the section relative to optometry."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I wonder if Senator Day would yield to a question? Senator Day, have you checked this with the hearing aid association here in the state of Washington and have they approved it? I see no evidence of their interest and it looks like you are adding additional competition. What is their viewpoint?"

Senator Day: "I do not know what their viewpoint is and frankly I do not really care."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I care, Senator Day."

Senator Day: "If you will let me finish answering the question, the reason I do not is because we are not modifying any existing practice. Optometrists have been fitting glasses with hearing aids in them for some time. It is my understanding ophthalmologists have been doing the same thing and there has been one osteopathic physician who has been doing that. They are fully qualified to do so and have been, and then along comes a statute that says that anybody who fits a hearing aid must have an additional license. All this does is say that when the individual practitioner who has his license pays the fee for the license, that then he is not covered by the new RCW which regulates hearing aid salesmen. So I think that is an obvious error on the part of the legislature. It was never our intent in passing a hearing aid fitting and selling law to encumber professional people who have been doing this for a great length of time and who are fully qualified to do it. The idea of passing a hearing aid licensing act was to make sure that people who did nothing but sell hearing aids and had no other qualifications had qualifications to protect the public in the sale of a hearing aid, and that is exactly what we are continuing to do. We are just saying that if a physician has a license, pays his license renewal fee, then he does not have to in addition have a hearing aid fitting license and pay an additional hundred dollar fee."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Day, I appreciate your explanation but this bill has been worked on, I understand, for awhile. Is this a last minute amendment? What I am wondering is, does it involve the hearing aid people, because you have just said that it expands to some extent those people who have not been customarily doing it? It seems to me that they should have a voice and I think Senator Francis's point is well taken."

Senator Day: "That is exactly not what I said. I did not say this expanded it to let anybody who had not been fitting hearing aids fit them. What it does is correct a technicality in the law where under the present statute we passed last session, it stopped physicians from fitting hearing aids who had been fitting hearing aids, and I do not think that was the intent of that and all this does, it was brought to our attention so we thought this was an opportunity to correct it. I think that the body should clearly understand that there is no attempt here to do anything divisive except to eliminate the double license requirement for physicians, optometrists and osteopaths in the fitting of a hearing aid. Now if you object to that then I think you should vote against the amendment.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: “Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator Day, would you have any objection to holding this over until tomorrow and I will tell you my reason. As I look at this particular measure I think it is the practice, at least of the one osteopath that at one time did it and of all the doctors I know, to write a prescription to a hearing aid dealer and he fits the hearing aid. They do not fit the hearing aid themselves. When we passed the bill for hearing aids, we did it with the idea that people would have certain expertise when they fit these hearing aids. Now I am not at all sure, while I thought the amendment was fine yesterday when you talked to me about it, now as I listen to your discussion I am not at all sure but what you are going to let optometrists, osteopaths and M.D.'s who may not know the slightest thing about the mechanical device known as a hearing aid, but who may be very competent to test hearing. If you are not going to exempt all of these people, and I think they should know something about the mechanical device as well as everyone else so I would like, at least for myself, to have a chance to look and see exactly what this does.”

Senator Day: “If that is the concensus of the body that is fine, but I cannot imagine for the life of me any one of these professional individuals fitting a hearing aid if he is not competent to do it. He would refer, except in the instance where you are way out in the boondocks someplace where we have some optometrists that do the whole job, but I just cannot imagine in a populous area any one doing that type of work when he specializes in something else. He would refer. But I do not think it is the proper thing to expect a professional person who has the competency to measure hearing and do all the rest of it to then pay a one hundred dollar a year license fee just for the purpose of fitting a hearing aid.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, Senate Bill No. 2943, together with the point of order as raised by Senator Newschwander on the amendment proposed by Senator Day, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, September 12, 1973.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Walgren yield? Senator Walgren, sometimes when people have a desirable end in mind they sometimes in their haste do some things that are perhaps not correct. Has anyone briefed legally the question? Can we pass a law now which says that anyone who disobeys something that the Governor might order sometime hence becomes a gross misdemeanor? Has anyone briefed that question? Can we pass a statute that says, 'Today we are saying that whatever the Governor might decree three months from now becomes a gross misdemeanor if I do not obey him'? Has that been briefed?"

Senator Walgren: "The order that he would enter would become effective today. It might relate to something into the future and we are providing that if there is a violation of the order of the Governor by this delegation it is a crime, and I think we do have that power. Now as to whether or not anybody has specifically briefed that question, I cannot say that they have. We have, of course, been in contact with numerous attorneys in connection with the preparation of this act and, while I cannot say that that specific question was raised, we certainly have talked about this authority that is being given to the Governor."

Senator Woodall: "Normally the Constitution says that crimes are defined by acts of the legislature. And now we are delegating, with this particular bill, a power to one man to make law and anyone who disobeys him we have foreordained is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. And I am just asking a question again, has anyone checked into the constitutionality? Can we as a legislature delegate to one man the power to make criminal statutes?"

Senator Walgren: "We are talking here, Senator Woodall, about certainly some extraordinary emergency powers that the Governor will have. We are doing this under the police powers of the state of Washington and I think it becomes a question of fact at the time that the trial was brought on the criminal charge as to whether or not there was a violation. And that would be something for a jury or a judge to determine."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Senator Woodall, I think we can. I think we do it fairly regularly. A statute provides that a violation of an order issued by the Director of Agriculture shall be a misdemeanor or a gross misdemeanor. Violations of the rules and regulations of the Liquor Control Board are misdemeanors or gross misdemeanors or in some cases felonies. Now if you go to the point of one man on a regulation he might pass in the future, I think that it is possible under the police power and the extraordinary kind we are talking about here."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "Senator Bottiger, you are clear off base when you say that the Liquor Board can make felony statutes. Now that is just clear one hundred percent erroneous. It is not a statement of fact at all. Now the Liquor Board can make rules and regulations by which a licensee may lose the privilege of being a licensee but nowhere can the Liquor Board make laws making certain things felonies."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Walgren yield? Senator Walgren, I am in support of this act but I am concerned about the position of an individual or a business or a corporation that might suffer under an arbitrary or capricious act and my question is, does this measure in any way preclude the right of such individual, business or corporation, to sue the state in the event of a need in that regard as a result of this act?"

Senator Walgren: "There are two types of suits that you might be referring to, Senator Lewis. One would be an action in damages to obtain compensation for any wrongful acts of the state. This does not preclude that as far as a regular action through the courts. What we do in this act, of course, is to provide for some emergency determinations by a person who feels himself aggrieved from any of the orders or determinations made by the committee and the Governor so that he can make an immediate appeal to the Supreme Court. We have given the Supreme Court of this state original jurisdiction in this matter so we can get an early determination."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "And that is the clear legislative intent so if, for example, we were to cause a man directly to lose his business because of the requirements of this statute or the implementation of it, and that were determined by the courts, that he would have recourse to the state?"

Senator Walgren: "He would have the right to bring an action against the state of Washington."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Fine. Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Further, I would like to inquire, there are certain firm contracts that certain power suppliers make and which are the basis of certain industries coming into a certain town, certain community. They are guaranteed a certain amount of firm power. Can a company be ordered by executive order (sic) to deliver less power than they have entered into a long-term contract to deliver, and what are the contractual rights and responsibilities if they conform, if they are going to be penalized criminally if they do not conform?"

Senator Walgren: "I believe, under the police powers of the state that under a properly executed order of the Governor they indeed can be ordered to cut back on their power delivery to a particular user."

Senator Woodall: "Then it is your construction that although a certain power company entered into a contract with a certain industry, let us just say Del Monte, to bring them to Toppenish, Washington, and they said, 'We guarantee you so much power'. They have to have it to can and so forth. All right, now it is your construction that if the Governor says, 'Deliver them less than you agreed five years ago to give them,' that lets the power company off the hook if the cannery says, 'We lost this or that by you not giving us what you promised us in writing to give us'? It is your construction that the acts of the Governor excuse the contractual rights of the parties?"

Senator Walgren: "If it is a proper determination that this is an emergency under the provisions of this police power delegation of authority act."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Matson: "Would Senator Walgren yield? Senator Walgren, would I be correct if I said the legislative intent of this bill is authorizing and empowering the Governor to curtail and allocate electrical power use and electrical power use only?"

Senator Walgren: "That is correct, and that was the reason for those other amendments that we placed therein."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "I might just make one comment, that the main thrust of the bill is going to be against the user rather than the supplier. The supplier, if he was under, for instance, a supplier which could be governed by the laws of the state of Washington, would also be bound by it. But if, for instance, we do not have any right to direct to the Bonneville Power Administration. So this law, in order to be effective, is directed at the user. In other words, it is not violating the contract. You are just telling the user that under the police power you have to be cut back a certain amount, and it will not, in that event, be violating the contract."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CANFIELD

Senator Canfield: "As I understood at the hearing over in the House chamber last night, this matter was referred to by Mr. Hodel who is the administrator of the Bonneville system, and I understood him to make this remark, that if you do not have the power you cannot fulfill the contract. Just that simple. If you have not got it, you cannot deliver it. Now I do not know what the legal aspects of that might be, but if you have not got it, you cannot deliver it."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "I can answer that. Acts of God excuse nonperformance. I happen to entertain a doubt if acts on the second deck quite rise to that degree of dignity."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WALGREN

Senator Walgren: "No rebuttal to that, Senator Woodall.

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think that we have to recognize that we have two matters of very great importance here in connection with the act that we are discussing this afternoon. We do indeed have a power shortage and this power shortage could indeed be disastrous. The existing laws, or rather the lack of laws that we have on the books might prevent us from taking the appropriate action to prevent a power system failure. I think, and many of the people who worked with this particular measure as we were preparing it, believe that this might very well be one of the most important, if not the most important, measure that we will have to face during this mini-session. As I say, there is no doubt that we have a current power shortage right now. As a matter of fact, testimony was that the shortage that we have is equivalent to all the power that the city of Seattle would utilize during a twenty-four month period. That is, if we shut down all the lights, all the power, everything of an electrical nature in the city of Seattle for two full years, that would equal the current shortage of power. The problem, of course, is simply one, an act of God, that is the fact that we do not have any rain coming into the areas that generate the power for us in the state of Washington.

"Just a few very quick statistics. The snowfall throughout the area referred to is about seventy percent of the normal of last winter. Precipitation at Revelstoke, British Columbia, which is representative of the upper Columbia River, has been twenty inches during a time that it should have been thirty-seven inches. The runoff measures at The Dalles for the first six months of this year was seventy-million acre feet. Last year by comparison the runoff in a comparable period was over twice that much. One hundred and fifty million acre feet. And normal operating level of the Pacific Northwest reservoirs is forty-five billion kilowatts. And on September 1 of this year those reservoirs were short fifteen billion kilowatts. So that is a shortage of about seven percent now, and very realistically we have determined from the evidence that has been presented to us that it could go to thirty percent by next March unless conservation measures are taken and unless we provide for some possibility of what could occur in the future. In fact, I think we have an emergency right now. It is not a matter of trying to prescribe that there is going to be an emergency in the future.

"So it is up to us and our responsibility, it seems to me, for the legislature to take all possible steps to diminish the results of this emergency and I think to do otherwise would be a basic fault of ours during this session. This bill, Senate Bill No. 2967, would for the first time in our state's history, give the Governor authority to take action under the police powers of the state before the emergency happens. Now this is a serious power to give the Governor and it was not taken lightly when we made this recommendation to this legislature. No action by the legislature, however, in face of the emergency that we have had discussed with us and presented to us by evidence, would be a far worse and more disastrous act, it seems to me.

"This bill will establish a five-member committee to gather information and make recommendations to the Governor and to advise the Governor when such plans and procedures require execution and advise him with regard to the allocation and curtailment programs that would be aimed at the consumers of the electricity. It does not set up any guidelines and it does not provide who will receive the allotment and who will make it. This will be a determination solely upon recommendation of the committee to the Governor.

"The point is, we cannot allow our power system to have a failure. The bill is an emergency one. It will end on the thirtieth day of June, 1974. All powers conferred under the act will terminate at that time.

"Now many of us have been involved in preparation of this bill here in the Senate, our committee. The House committee has been working with us. We have had a select committee working during the summer. We have heard an awful lot of evidence and we are convinced that this is a proper act that should be enacted by the legislature at this time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Walgren yield? Senator, I agree with everything you say. I will probably vote for the bill, but it really disturbs me in that section 5. Actually, we are giving the Governor a power that we have never given him before except in the Constitution, an emergency war power, and things like that. My question to you is this. I know that you have not had much time to deal with the problem, but is the committee going to continue to function, first, between now and January?"

Senator Walgren: "The answer is yes."

Senator Atwood: "Secondly, is the committee going, and I am talking about your Energy Committee, I am not talking about the committee in the bill, to have something ready in the way of guidelines and parameters and priorities for the January session so that we can circumscribe this power that we are giving to one man, regardless of how great he may be?"

Senator Walgren: "Yes, Senator Atwood, We recognize that this bill, and I want to emphasize it, is drawn for an emergency situation now. This is only a short-time solution. Hopefully, these powers that are given to the Governor will not have to be put into effect if we have some conservation efforts on the part of the people. But it will not answer the long-term problems that we are going to be facing in the energy shortages ahead, not only with electrical power but with the petroleum industry and so on, and so I think it is incumbent upon us to come back to the legislature in January and present the parameters and the criteria that you are speaking of."

Senator Atwood: "I would be hopeful that you would have it ready."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I reluctantly am going to vote for the bill because I recognize the emergency. I think it is for the short-term period, but I think that the problem is going to get much worse in the next four or five years, after listening to the testimony last night. But I would hope that your committee would come with some good guidelines and parameters on this type of power that we grant to the Governor or to any other person and that will allay some of our fears in this matter."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I want to endorse the words by Senator Walgren and to say that I have the highest regard for the work that the committee has done, the testimony that has been organized by the staff and for the presentations that have been made before that committee. The thing that bothers me is that right now we have got several thousand candlepower of light coming down on our heads when we really do not need it and when we come down here in January, I would predict that we will be working by a sixty watt bulb instead of the ten thousands of watts that we are working by now.

"In talking with the mayor of the city of Austin, Texas the other night in order to determine what he had been able to do there on a voluntary basis, I came to the conclusion that, and his statement was that the people are very, very slow to react, and I would agree that unless we can do something here as a body to impress upon the people of the state of Washington and the other states in this region, then we are going to suffer a power failure if we do not take the necessary drastic measures to do so. So I would say that it behooves each of us to do what we can when we go home to convince the people in our communities that this is a serious situation. It is not something that will go away when you just forget about it. When we go home we should take an active part in trying to get something done. I am as reluctant as any man on this floor to grant the powers that are being granted, but I think that this is a part of the democratic process. Nobody except the Governor can stay over here all the time to exercise the powers that are being granted by this bill and it is absolutely necessary that we give him the competence as the leader of the state and we will have to depend on him to take all due caution and exercise good judgment in seeing that the bill is properly administered.

"Now I have had some very good comments from the remarks that were made by Senator Mardesich the other night that for all power over a certain base level that the cost of it or a tax on that power be levied to the point that it really makes the people think about it. It is too easy for those who are affluent to say, 'Oh, well, I will just pay the bill,' or those agencies that can pass it on to the consumer say, 'Well, this is just a cost of doing business and we will pass it on in the price of our goods.' The people have got to realize that this is a serious thing, that we cannot restore the lack of water and we are going to have to take the drastic step."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator Walgren, I am not on your committee and I have not been in on most of the hearings. I did sit in on most of the hearing last night and there was conversation about the difference in the amount of electricity and power that is used by commercial, industrial and residential, and someone alluded to the fact that whether they had discussed whether certain percentages right across the board would be used for taking out of industry, industrial, commercial or residential. My concern is one of the same concerns that Senator Guess indicated, that in some of these industrial areas or commercial, if there are fines they might tend to ignore them, pay them, issue them on to the customer; and the resident, the more affluent, might ignore them or either they have more modern appliances and so forth to use this. Now in your testimony and maybe people from the Governor's office and so forth, had they talked in terms of how they might envision this if it were mandatory and not voluntary, how it would be equally put across the board whereas that those people that are using less electricity, not having modern appliances, would have to give up their electricity while others would still use their modern appliances?"

Senator Walgren: "Senator Fleming, this is, of course, a very serious part of our discussion, as to how to actually make the determination who is going to be cut out, when it is going to be cut off and so on. We talked at one time about putting some language in the bill that would actually express an intent on our part that the committee would recommend and the Governor would accept only those recommendations that would have the least amount of economic impact upon any particular segment of society. You start actually, and this is what Senator Atwood is talking about. There just was not enough time to try to put that together. These are some of the things that we will hope to come back with in January for our long-term program. I think we have to acknowledge the fact that when the Governor, who will have this authority, is sitting down there taking the recommendations from his committee, he is the one who will have to make that determination. And there are going to be some political concerns in his mind as he is going through this. As I think Senator Mardesich said, it would probably be easier to cut back on residential users, for instance, as opposed to industry users. But the other point was, but that might not be the political thing to do. So we feel that the powers are pretty significant but the very fact that they are significant may be the constraint that the Governor will utilize in making these determinations."

Senator Fleming: "Thank you, Senator Walgren, and I would just like to add that those are some of the concerns that I have, but I will look at it the other way, and when you are talking in terms of political, it might be a little easier to let the big boys get by and the little people in the residential areas be the ones who have to cut back and this is a grave concern of mine. It is a far-reaching measure."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, the concern expressed by Senator Fleming is one I think that we all share. I think we should note here though that the residential area is the least possible to cut off because there is one switch and it takes out all of that residential area. It takes out the traffic signals, the hospitals, the kidney machines. The whole thing goes down. So the concern that has been expressed, I think, is the least likely to occur. The residential areas are using, I believe, about thirty-one percent of the power. In those areas the voluntary curtailment is about the only one that can work. The cuts will have to be made in the commercial and industrial area because that is where the single switches on the single plants are. And here again we would hope that the committee and the expression from the Governor's office was that the least economic impact of the entire state would be the proper course to go. You cannot cut out the caustic industries because with that goes all the pulp industries. They must have the produce from the chemical plant to make the pulp. So this committee is going to have a difficult task and hopefully we will be back in January with some better ideas on how there ought to be guidelines."

Senator Peterson (Lowell) demanded the previous question and the demand was not sustained.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, along with the other expressions that we are giving very strong power to the Governor, I certainly agree. But the power that we are giving him is not only to help take care of a problem in the state of Washington, but also to take care of a regional problem. And we are not necessarily acting by ourselves, although I do want to say that the state of Washington is taking the lead in solving a problem which really is of regional import because all of the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana are going to have to work together. They are going to have to do it this Fall if we are going to be able to stop the power curtailment and the blackout that is threatened. I do want to point out that, although we are giving strong powers, last Wednesday a group from four states, which included the leaders of this legislature, leaders from Oregon, Washington and Idaho, that is the legislative leaders, and the legislators who were the chairmen of the committees that would be handling this type of legislation, along with the Governors' representatives, did agree that the eight principles that are found in this legislation would be necessary to solve this regional problem. They approved it and I have every hope that the state of Oregon in particular, and the legislative leaders from Oregon indicated that they were going back with the idea if they found that the Governor did not have the executive power to do what we are doing here by legislation, that they would work to have a special session called so they can do the very same thing that we are, because they recognize that it is going to take executive action by the Governor in order to do it. So, again, we are giving strong power to our Governor, but I predict that the other four states are going to have to do the same thing.

"Last night it was pointed out that why does not the federal government do this particular job? I think the Council of State Governments, which is the agency that all fifty states support, is doing the right thing in trying to get four states to start to do something and do it on the state level rather than waiting and calling for the federal government to do it. This is an experiment. As a matter of fact, as far as we know this is the first effort on the part of states themselves to attempt to develop some relatively uniform legislation that they would themselves enact which would then make it not required for the federal government to step in and do the same thing.

"So this is a somewhat historic step that we are taking in that we will be the first state, if we enact this, to enact uniform types of legislation that other states will probably act to solve a problem rather than relying on the federal government to do it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Walgren yield? Senator, I think this measure has got to be passed, but I am thinking of the objections of Senator Woodall and the remarks just now made by Senator Washington. Now I know in many cases the Governor has made emergency allocations of money. He has done that upon prior authorization, subject to the approval of a select committee. I am wondering if this measure could not eliminate some of the objections that have been raised by having a committee of legislators to whom the Governor would speak and receive their recommendation and approval. Then he could act and the legislature would not have to meet, but at least we would have a handle on the action and we would get away from this sort of a dictator complex that I think Senator Woodall is worried about. Would you have any objection to that?"

Senator Walgren: "This has been considered. You might note that there will be two legislators serving in an ex-officio capacity with the committee. The Chairman of the House Committee on Transportation and Utilities and the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Transportation and Utilities. They will not have a vote on that committee, but they will be serving with the committee that will be making recommendations to the Governor. Now frankly, I personally would not like to be in the position to try to make the determination as to who was going to get the power and who is not going to get the power. I think it would be very difficult. Certainly if we were to do it on a legislature size of a committee. A smaller committee might be easier, but because of the emergency nature of the situation for the limited duration of this act, I think we should place it in one man."

Senator Canfield: "It would not be much harder, Senator, for the Governor to contact you and a number of other responsible legislators than it would to contact some of his staff or here and there."

Senator Walgren: "As I say, we will be sitting in with the committee so that we will have the input when we come back here in January."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "In the first place, of course, sitting in ex-officio does not mean a thing. Senator Keefe and I are sitting in ex-officio on the Gambling Commission. We have not scored a point yet. So that does not mean a thing, sitting in ex-officio without vote. It is a fraud and delusion.

"I would like to ask one question of Senator Walgren. Would it be possible under this bill as now written, in the absence of any guidelines, to order, for example, that I turn off my TV but a certain animated sign, for example, would still have a right to go? Now is that power being given? Is there any guideline or does he have the sole power to suggest in his mind what is and is not economic impact and what is and is not first priority?"

Senator Walgren: "I believe that he does and when he makes that decision he is going to be wrong. As a matter of fact, when he makes any decision under this act he is going to be wrong. And that is going to be the tough problem for him to answer."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "I wonder if Senator Washington would yield to a question? Senator Washington, we recognize you as an authority on power generation and PUD's and power companies. Has there been any attempt by any of the PUD's or private power companies to get any emergency power through their own efforts? I know Portland General Electric in Oregon has got two oil-fired generators being put in along the line. They are doing something. Are our PUD's and private power companies sitting back and hollering for rain? That is all they seem to be doing."

Senator Washington: "They do have more steam generation in Oregon. We have a very small amount. I think there is one small plant on Lake Union and Puget Sound Power and Light has one at a place called Shuffelton. Now they are very small plants. They are very inefficient. However, they are in a position to attempt to get power from them. The PUD's and all of the private power companies are stuck with just the pure fact that over ninety percent of the power in the state of Washington comes from stream flow. It just is not here. If we could buy all the oil in the world and have it here, but we do not have that kind of generation. It would not help. We have got to have rainfall."

Senator Talley: "Portland General Electric at home is building these two plants. They are not old plants. These are brand new plants that are being built right now, and they will produce power for about eight and one-half mills."

Senator Washington: "There will be efforts to, there are efforts being made to produce atomic energy, for instance. The Public Utility Districts of the state of Washington and the private power companies have joined together. They have joined together and have built a good steam plant at Centralia. So I think the power industry in the state of Washington, including the public and private, are attempting to, as is the Portland General Electric, to get other than water generation. Now Portland General Electric has to do it because they have no dams. They have practically no hydro generation at all as far as Portland General Electric is concerned. They have been forced to attempt to go into the fossil fuel and oil fuel for their power."

Senator Talley: "Another point. I heard some comment, Senator Washington, that maybe we would make our Governor the executive rainmaker for the state, too."

Senator Washington: "Again, I share many of the fears that have been expressed here, but the thing that I do want to point out is that this is an unprecedented emergency. It absolutely is unprecedented. No power company executive or Bonneville could foresee what was going to happen. There is just no way out of it and other states, for instance Oregon, passed a bill that really probably will not solve the problem. They are giving almost complete dictatorial power and for a long time to a single Commissioner of Public Utilities. I think it is better that we have the Governor, who is an elected official, have those powers than the single executive who is the Commissioner of Public Utilities. It is just one of those things that we are not going to be able to solve, I think, any other way. The important thing is that this legislation has a termination date. And I think, as someone else mentioned on this floor, the essence of democratic action is that we do have the power to give extensive powers to a single individual, but we also have the power on this floor to take it back and this, I think, is the important thing."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MATSON

Senator Matson: "Just an observation. At the pace we are going here, by the time we pass the bill the crisis may very well be over."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President, I had not intended to speak, but Senator Walgren's reporting was almost as bad as some other that I have seen on occasion. He made the comment that I had proposed that consumers should be cut. He did not finish the rest of the sentence, however. So with that I thought I had better explain a little bit.

"I first of all agree that this measure gives far too much power to the Governor. I do not think any of us dispute that. It is obvious. Too much power. Further than that, and that bothers me, but further than that the problem with this bill is that the only alternative that the Governor has is to pull the switch on the big company who refuses to cooperate. He can do nothing, as has been explained, about the power in the homes and the average little business because they are on all those lines out in the neighborhood. So he has to go directly to the big businesses. And take the classic example, that is the aluminum companies. There is no more interruptible power. They have already cut down on their employment because interruptible power is gone. And it follows that the Governor will have to direct those people to cut back on their power use and from that it further follows that people will have to be fired to accommodate to the lack of energy. Well, that is the thing that I was seeking to avoid with my proposal. My proposal was that rather than just go to the aluminum companies and to the other big users, that rather we impose, if as has been indicated a seven and one-half to eight percent cut in power is necessary, that we impose a straight five percent across the board cut on all users with the exception of the extremely small user. You could set aside someone who uses five hundred or one thousand kilowatts as being negligible in the total effect and someone who would be using so little that all you are talking about is a couple of light bulbs. Cut them out and apply it to everyone else over a certain consumption level. What do you do? The thing that you have to eliminate is the voluntary aspect of this thing. You cannot convince me where I have a sixty dollar electric bill for a two month billing period in Everett that if you are going to tax me ten percent or raise my bill to sixty-six dollars or three dollars per month it is going to convince me that I should turn around and turn off that light switch every time or turn the heat down a little on the water or make the shower a little shorter, as the Governor suggested. If it is not going to do it. It takes something more. What you have to tell me is that if my average consumption for every month, or for the month of September, let us say, was one thousand kilowatts, now you tell me you only get to use nine-fifty, at the rate you are now paying, any more than you pay a tax on. That extra fifty kilowatts that I would use over nine-fifty, two dollars a kilowatt, not one mill. And brother, you have convinced me. All of a sudden I can assure you that lights will be off when they do not need to be on, the heat will be down a little, the TV will not be on and if the kids do not do it, there are going to be some sore knuckles around. And that is the point we have to bring home and that is the only way we can solve this problem without causing people to be out of work, causing serious consequences for a lot of people.

"Now the question has been asked, and let me repeat again, when I say that I think it should be not only done for the home but for J. C. Penney and for the Seattle First National Life Building with all those beautiful lights on, for every power user in the state, for Kaiser Aluminum, anyone else. And five percent. Each and every one of us could cut with so little effort, including Kaiser Aluminum or Boeing or anyone. We could cut it with so little effort that we would achieve what we are trying to achieve without putting people out of work. And the question has been asked, I think Senator Atwood asked it of Senator Walgren, are you going to continue to work? I will assure you that he is going to continue to work and if he refuses to, we will find someone else who will."

On motion of Senator Walgren, the following amendments were adopted simultaneously:

On page 2, section 3, line 7, strike "five" and insert "seven".

On page 2, section 3, line 18, strike "ex officio members of the committee, without vote" and insert "the remaining two members".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Will Senator Walgren yield? The question has been skirted around here on the floor and I was over there at the hearing the other night when Senator Bottiger was making the presentation on this and the question I have to you is this. Under section 5 of the bill the Governor can disregard any of the committee recommendations and just do his own thing. What was the feeling of your committee on not having the Governor's actions with the concurrence of at least the majority of the committee?"

Senator Walgren: "Basically, Senator Atwood, it was again going to the question of the immediacy of the emergency. Whether it required quick and prompt action. As a matter of fact, the way the bill was originally drawn it referred to certain things that the Governor could do and he may refer it to the committee for recommendation. We changed that 'may' to 'shall' to see if we could give more authority to the committee but the ultimate determination was going to be in the Governor's hands and we felt if for some reason there was a hang up in the committee and if there was an emergency situation as has been testified to as you recognize, that he should have that power."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, Senator Mardesich's comments, I think, are very well founded and the potential solution to the problem that we can look at between now and January. But here are some of the problems that we came up with in discussing that idea. If you take last year's average consumption, how do you build in the problem of the person that just got the kidney machine or someone whose oil furnace blew up and he converted to electrical heat. What would be the manpower necessary? How many new state employees would you need to police this kind of a regulation? We did not have the answers to those questions. For that reason we did not pursue that proposal further, and hope to at least look at it between now and January."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Walgren yield? Senator Walgren, there has been some question on the floor about perhaps state liability in the event that the Governor or the committee were to curtail some electric use. Is it the intent of this legislation to limit the discretionary function exception to our state court claims act, which would in my estimation exclude such liability?"

Senator Walgren: "This does not extend it in any way."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Whetzel moved that the Senate immediately reconsider the vote by which the amendments by Senator Walgren to page 2, section 3, lines 7 and 18 were adopted.

Debate ensued.

The motion for reconsideration by Senator Whetzel carried.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Walgren, the amendments by Senator Walgren to page 2, section 3, lines 7 and 18, on reconsideration, were not adopted.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR MURRAY

Senator Murray: "I would like to make a comment. I thought Senator Mardesich had an excellent suggestion that has great merit but in the course of the floor action I certainly do not want to be guilty of slowing the bill down because we do need it. However, I think we should be aware of the fact that both in the all-day hearing that was sponsored by the Council on State Governments last week and in last night's hearing the facts come out that we need to start taking action immediately. The seven percent shortage is based upon the fact that we can start saving seven percent per month now. If we let it go until next March without taking immediate action, the shortage at that point in time could be as much as thirty percent. Then we would really have a catastrophe. I think that we should proceed with this bill now. I think a relatively simple amendment that would impose a tax and/or a fine for someone who did not cut their consumption by five percent without an adequate excuse, and Senator Bottiger I think brought out some problems that we might have, possibly the action should be on the merits of a fine rather than as a tax. But something heavy enough so all of us, starting immediately, would start trying to make that five percent savings at all levels, industries, business and the private homes so that we do not have the problem next March. We do need action that takes effect immediately on everybody's part and about five percent would probably do it, but we need to start taking action in September, 1973, not January, 1974. I do feel that we should vote for this bill now, but I hope that we can have some action that will add an amendment in the House before it actually hits the Governor's desk."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, there was never a better time to advise all your constituents that it is better to light one candle than it is to sit and curse the darkness."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "Just one remark. I am going to reluctantly vote for it just because if you do not you will be branded as possibly favoring a power shortage. It is a very poor bill. It has no guidelines. It leaves it all up to the discretion of one man, and I may observe that through the years I do not think he has always used it wisely. I hope he will use more discretion in his decisions on what lights to turn off and on than he has on who to let out of the penitentiary. It could be cast a very great calamity to it if he did not. So I am going to go along. I wish the bill would have taken more time. I wish there would have been guidelines. I think it is very wrong to say that he could decide arbitrarily, it has been brought out he could decide that an animated sign stays on and he could decide that Perry Woodall ought to turn off his TV. Now, of course, if he tells me to turn off certain commentators, that will be all right. That will be no particular loss. But there are certain programs I enjoy and I think certain animated beer signs and so forth ought to be turned off first. Now you are talking about saving seven percent. We may as well turn off some of the lights in our own galleries. Might as well keep those people in the dark. They will be just as well off anyway. But they came to see us, we did not come to see them, so we do not need that, if we are going to go into all of this business, then we should start here with our own household.

"Again, I am going to vote for it, but I think it is a poorly, poorly drawn bill. It has no guidelines and it makes one man an absolute dictator in his power of deciding what he thinks is important and what he thinks ought to be turned off. I have not always found his judgment to be infallible."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DONOHUE

Senator Donohue: "Senator Woodall, would this indicate that the man on the second floor perhaps was going to be the guiding light in this?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR DORE

Senator Dore: "Several years ago during the time of the great layoffs at Boeing we had that national cartoon saying, 'The last man leaving should turn out the lights.' I assume after we pass this bill, again we can revive that cartoon."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; nays, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Gardner, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody--47.

Voting nay: Senator Matson--1.

Excused: Senator Stortini--1.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2967, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189, by Representative Randall:

Relating to revenue and taxation.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 189. The following committee amendments were moved for adoption simultaneously by Senator Durkan on Monday, September 10, 1973:

On page 2, section 1, line 29, beginning with "notwithstanding" on line 29, strike all the matter down to and including "years" on page 3, line 1.

On page 3, line 2, strike all of section 2 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 4, section 3, line 5, after "after" and before the period strike "January 1, 1975" and insert "July 1, 1974".

On page 8, section 9, line 7, after "one." and before "cents" strike "[half quarter]" and insert "half".

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the committee amendments were adopted. Senator Atwood moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Atwood, Lewis (Bob), Murray, Fleming and Grant:

On page 9, line 23, add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 12. Section 134, chapter 195, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 84.52 are each amended to read as follows:

Within and subject to the limitations imposed by RCW 84.52.050 as amended, the regular ad valorem tax levies upon real and personal property by the taxing districts hereafter named shall be as follows: The levy by the state shall not exceed three dollars and sixty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value adjusted to the state equalized value in accordance with the indicated ratio fixed by the state department of revenue to be used exclusively for the support of the common schools; the levy by any county shall not exceed [one] two dollars [and eighty cents] per thousand dollars of assessed value; the levy for any road district shall not exceed two dollars and [twenty-five] fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value; and the levy by or for any city or town shall not exceed three dollars and [thirty-seven and one-half] seventy-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value: PROVIDED FURTHER, That counties of the fifth class and under are hereby authorized to levy from [one] two dollars [and eighty cents] to two dollars and [forty-seven and one-half] seventy-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for general county purposes and from one dollar and [fifty-seven and one-half] seventy-five cents to two dollars and [twenty-five] fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value for county road purposes if the total levy for both purposes does not exceed four dollars and [five] fifty cents per thousand dollars of assessed value: PROVIDED FURTHER, That counties of the fourth and the ninth class are hereby authorized to levy two dollars and [two and one-half] twenty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value until such time as the junior taxing agencies are utilizing all the dollar rates available to them: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the total property tax levy authorized by law without a vote of the people shall not exceed [nine] ten dollars [and fifteen cents] per thousand dollars of assessed value. Levies at the rates provided by existing law by or for any port or public utility district shall not be included in the limitation set forth by this proviso.

Nothing herein shall prevent levies at the rates provided by existing law by or for any port or power district.

This section shall apply to tax levies made in 1974 and each year thereafter for collection in 1975 and each year thereafter.

It is the intent of the legislature that the provisions of this section shall supersede all conflicting provisions of law including section 24, chapter 299, Laws of 1971 ex. sess., section 8, chapter 124, Laws of 1972 ex. sess. and section 134, chapter 195, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess."

Renumber remaining section.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Atwood yield? I have forgotten from the background of 186 in the last session, but it does kind of ring a bell that the reason we did that was on the basis that there had been a very substantial increase in assessments and there had been a very marked increase in the amount of receipts. That was the general feeling last year."

Senator Atwood: "That was the theory of it, Senator Washington, but in a lot of counties and cities they have not reached that revaluation. In King County, I read in the paper Mayor Uhlman and the city council attacking us because we do all these things to them and no funds. And here we have mandated a ten percent reduction. They have the same problems that we have and in spades and their problems are much greater than ours as far as trying to solve them. They just are short of funds. I know that in some areas local government has been criticized, but let the people do it, the taxpayers in those districts. They are elected just like we are. That is all I am saying. I really do not think it is our prerogative to mandate that kind of a budget cut."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator, my understanding of the measure is vastly different from yours. I am not at all sure that I am correct. I would like to know who and what your authority is for the fact that there is going to be a twenty-seven million dollar increase?"

Senator Durkan: "The bill as originally drafted, the first bill, 186, required the cutback in property taxes of approximately ten percent on the local level. Senator Atwood has, by his amendment, come back in and requested that 186, that particular section, be amended. Now the cost simply is, how much is that going to increase the property taxes with the Atwood amendment? In other words, how much are the local communities going to be able to raise taxes with this amendment of Atwood's? The best that we can come up with, and it would begin in 1975, is that the counties state-wide would have an increase of approximately eight million three hundred and fifty-one thousand. The cities state-wide would be able to increase about nine million eighteen thousand; the road districts about four million seven hundred and ninety-eight thousand. Now those are rough figures, but they are as close as we can come to determining what the property tax increase will be as a result of the Atwood amendment."

Senator Greive: "Senator, it is at variance with the way the measure was explained to me. I might very well be willing to side with your position if I knew where the authority came from. As I had understood this, and maybe I had it wrong, that when they leveled out the twenty mills in order to make it come out even we shorted the cities and we shorted the counties approximately ten percent or a little less than ten for the counties and ten percent for the cities. As I had understood the situation, we had given that money to the schools of about four or five million dollars and that all we were doing was redistributing that money. And I do not understand your analysis at all. It seems entirely foreign to the way I understood it. Now is there some way we can resolve that to be sure your explanation is correct?"

Senator Durkan: "We can be at variances. I am just saying that the result of 186 was to cut back property taxes in the amount that we now have presently without the Atwood amendment. With the Atwood amendment, property taxes are going to be allowed to increase to this level. That is what we are talking about. We are giving enabling legislation to local jurisdictions to regain the amount of percentages that they lost."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Have you consulted Harley Hoppe on this subject at all?"

Senator Durkan: "No, I consulted Senator Atwood's expert former employer which is the Washington Research Council."

Senator Woodall: "But Harley has not been asked?"

Senator Durkan: "No."

Senator Whetzel demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Greive, Connor, Durkan, Metcalf, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (Bob), Day, Canfield and Knoblauch.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment by Senators Atwood, Lewis (Bob), Murray, Fleming and Grant was not adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 17; nays, 30; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Canfield, Connor, Day, Fleming, Grant, Greive, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Murray, Newschwander, Sellar, Twigg, Wanamaker, Whetzel—17.

Absent or not voting: Senator Henry—1.

Excused: Senator Stortini—1.

MOTION

Senator Day moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 5, beginning on line 17, strike all of sections 5, 6 and 7.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I do not want to vote on this amendment yet. I am not too sure what Senator Day has done to county hospitals and things of that sort."

Senator Day: "In answer to that question, what I have done is that this will return the statute to its existing circumstance rather than cutting the millage to the local TB hospitals and, of course, it will retain the money and continue to make it available. Now the thing that bothers me about this is that we have had very little time to look at it. We have had no time in Social and Health Services to know what the impact to the program is. So consequently what this will do is just leave this particular aspect of the rollback alone, leave it as it is and it will take these three sections, which it is not known to me what the impact would be, out of the bill."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Day carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

Beginning on line 8 of the title, strike everything down to and including "70.33.040;" on line 14.

On motion of Senator Odegaard, Engrossed House Bill No. 189, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 189, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 16; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Gardner, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Mattingly, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Washington, Woody—31.

Absent or not voting: Senator Matson—1.

Excused: Senator Stortini—1.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2603.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2603, by Senators Lewis (Harry), Metcalf, Atwood, Peterson (Lowell), Wanamaker and Gardner (by Executive request):

Setting forth state economic impact act seeking to offset economic consequences of closing state institutions and services.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Substitute Senate Bill No. 2603 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2603 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Atwood moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan:

On page 1 strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. When either for fiscal reasons, changes in service modes, obsolescence or other extraordinary reasons, it becomes necessary to close a state facility, the state has a responsibility to provide certain benefits to affected employees.

It is the purpose of this chapter to establish an economic impact act for the state of Washington to meet the emergency situation now in existence for state employees affected by the closure of state facilities, as defined in section 2 of this 1973 act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. For purposes of this chapter:

(1) "Employees" includes those persons performing services for the state on a salaries or hourly basis including, but not limited to, persons in "classified service" as defined in RCW 41.06.020(3) and those persons defined as exempt from the state civil service laws pursuant to RCW 41.06.070.

(2) The term "closure of a state facility" means the termination of services being provided by a facility operated by the department of social and health services or in conjunction with the department of natural resources, when such facility is terminated for fiscal reasons, changes in service modes, obsolescence, or other extraordinary reasons and where vacancies in the same or a like job classification and at not less than one full range lower than the same salary range is not available to affected state employees.

(3) "Classified employees" means those employees performing classified service as defined in RCW 41.06.020(3).

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. Excluded employment and excluded employees under this chapter include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) State employment related to a single project under a program separately financed by a grant of nonstate funds, federal funds or state funds, or by a combination of such funding, which is designed to provide training or employment opportunities, expertise or additional manpower related to the project or which, because of the nature of the project funding requirements, is not intended as a permanent program.

(2) Activities at least seventy-five percent federally funded by a categorical grant for a specific purpose and any other activities terminated because of actions taken by the federal government or other funding sources other than the state of Washington in eliminating or substantially limiting funding sources, except to the extent that the federal government or such other funding sources may permit the use of nonstate funds to pay for any employee benefits authorized pursuant to this chapter.

(3) The following categories of employees are excluded from benefits under this chapter:

(a) employees refusing transfer to vacant positions in the same or a like job classification and at not less than one full range lower than the same salary range;

(b) classified employees having other than permanent status in the classified service;

(c) employees having less than three years' consecutive state service as an employee, except that such employees shall nonetheless be eligible for the benefits provided in subsections (1), (2), (4) and (5) of section 4 of this 1973 act.

(d) nothing in this chapter shall affect any other rights currently held by classified employees regarding reduction in force procedures and subsequent reemployment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. In order to carry out the purposes of this chapter, the state shall take every reasonable step at its disposal to provide alternative employment and to minimize the economic loss of state employees affected by the closure of state facilities. Affected state employees shall be paid benefits as specified in this section.

(1) Relocation expenses covering the movement of household goods, incurred by the necessity of an employee moving his domicile to be within reasonable commuting distance of a new job site, shall be paid by the state to employees transferring to other state employment by reason of the closure of a facility.

(2) Relocation leave shall be allowed up to five working days' leave with pay for the purpose of locating new residence in the area of employment.

(3) The state shall reimburse the transferring employee to the extent of any unavoidable financial loss suffered by an employee who sells his home at a price less than the true and fair market value as determined by the county assessor not exceeding three thousand dollars: PROVIDED, That this right of reimbursement must be exercised, and sale of the property must be accomplished, within a period of two years from the date other state employment is accepted.

(4) For employees in facilities which have been terminated who do not choose to participate in the transfer program set forth in the preceding subsections, the following terminal pay plan shall be available:

(a) For qualifying employees, for each one year of continuous state service, one week (five working days) of regular compensation shall be provided.

(b) Regular compensation as used in subsection (a) hereof shall include salary compensation at the rate being paid to the employees at the time operation of the facility is terminated.

(c) Terminal pay as set forth in subsections (a) and (b) hereof shall be paid to the employee at the termination of the employee's last month of employment or within thirty days after the effective date of this 1973 act, whichever is later: PROVIDED, That from the total amount of terminal pay, the average sum of unemployment compensation that the qualifying employee is eligible to receive equal to the total number of weeks of terminal pay minus one week shall be deducted.

(d) Those employees electing the early retirement benefits as stated in subsection (5) of this section shall not be eligible for the terminal pay provisions as set forth in this subsection.

(e) Those employees who are reemployed by the state during the period they are receiving terminal pay pursuant to subsections (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall reimburse the state for that portion of the terminal pay covered by the period of new employment.

(5) As an option to transferring to other state employment an employee may elect early retirement under the following conditions: PROVIDED, That such election shall be made within thirty days of termination:

(a) Notwithstanding the age requirements of RCW 41.40.180, any affected employee who has attained the age of forty-five years, with at least five years creditable service, shall be immediately eligible to retire, with no actuarial reduction in the amount of his pension benefit.

(b) Employees who elect to retire pursuant to RCW 41.40.180 shall be eligible to retire while on authorized leave of absence not in excess of one hundred and twenty days.

(c) Employees who elect to retire under the provisions of this section shall not be eligible for any retirement benefit for any calendar month during which they have been engaged in full-time employment. The public employees' retirement system board shall adopt necessary rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this subsection.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter employees affected by the closure of a state facility as defined in section 2(2) of this 1973 act who were employed as of May 1, 1973 at such facility, and who are still in employment of the state or on an official leave of absence as of the effective date of the 1973 act who would otherwise qualify for the enumerated benefits of this act are hereby declared eligible for such benefits under the following conditions:

(a) such employee must be actively employed by the state of Washington or on an official leave of absence on the effective date of this 1973 act, and unless the early retirement or terminal pay provisions of this chapter are elected, continue to be employed or to be available for employment in a same or like job classification at not less than one full range lower than the same salary range for a period of at least thirty days thereafter;

(b) such employee must give written notice of his election to avail himself of such benefits within thirty days after the passage of this 1973 act or upon closure of the institution, whichever is later.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. In order to reimburse the public employees' retirement system for any increased costs occasioned by the provisions of this 1973 act which affect the retirement system, the public employees' retirement board shall, within thirty days of the date upon which any affected employee elects to take advantage of the retirement provisions of this 1973 act, determine the increased present and future cost to the retirement system of such employee's election. Upon the determination of the amount necessary to offset said increased cost, the retirement board shall bill the department of personnel for the amount of the increased cost. Such billing shall be paid by the department as, and the same shall be, a proper charge against any moneys available or appropriated to the department for this purpose.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 and 9 of this 1973 act shall be added to Title 43 RCW as a new chapter thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. If any provision of this 1973 act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. This 1973 act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of state government and its existing public institutions and shall take effect immediately: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That each of the provisions of this 1973 act shall be operative and in effect only until and including September 14, 1974: PROVIDED FURTHER, That benefits under section 4(3) of this 1973 act shall be available until September 14, 1975."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Do I read this correctly that an able bodied man can quit work at age forty-five if the job in a particular area runs out? For example, he pushes a certain button at a certain institution in a certain place and he does not need to go anywhere else to try to find a job?"

Senator Atwood: "No, that is not correct. This is a very restrictive measure, Senator."

Senator Woodall: "Well, it says he can get it at forty-five and everybody else has to wait until sixty. Now what did he have to do . . . ?"

Senator Atwood: "Senator, he has to have been employed at Northern State, Spruce Canyon, Mission Creek or at Firlands. He has to have had at least five years' vesting and there is an explanation of what the man can draw. And that is all he can get."

Senator Woodall: "I know, but you have not answered my question, Senator."

Senator Atwood: "I have."

Senator Woodall: "My question was, he can be an able bodied man forty-five years of age; he is not required to make any effort to find any other employment, similar employment, move to another area. He may elect to stay there and take retirement at age forty-five under this. Correct?"

Senator Atwood: "Without the amendment that is on your desk, Senator. There is an amendment that changes that to fifty-five."

Senator Woodall: "Well, that will help a little."

Senator Atwood moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan:

On page 1, line 7, after "facility," insert "as defined by section 2(2)."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator, you are speaking of Northern State. What were the other places that you mentioned?"

Senator Atwood: "Firlands, Spruce Canyon, and I believe the others are Mission Creek and Clearwater. Not Mission Creek, Clearwater."

Senator Rasmussen: "These were forest camps?"

Senator Atwood: "Two forest camps, right."

Senator Rasmussen: "My concern is, Senator, that from here on out we will have a very, very strong reluctance to establishing any new projects. I can understand Northern State which was a long-time project, but the other two were not and they were not established as permanent projects either and I think that the legislature, if we are going to take this approach on those particular projects, that we will have a strong reluctance to setting up any new pilot projects."

Senator Atwood: "I will yield to Senator Peterson."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator Rasmussen, the employees at Clearwater and Firland and Spruce are state employees and they have a vested employment record with the state and have transferred from some other agency to that particular facility. I can cite Northern State as an example. I know many people that have called me personally. They are dedicated people to have to work with these people. The honor camp is something else other than mental treatment, but nevertheless, you have to be very dedicated to work with these people. They have put in maybe seventeen years and they need two or two and one-half years and sometimes less than that to get their vested retirement rights. What this bill does, in effect, really, and it has been watered down from over four million down to one point six or four or whatever it is now. We have cut out all the goodies. All we are trying to do is in some way take care of moving costs for those who are willing to transfer and if the person happens to be forty-five years old and he has put seventeen years in in state service, whether it is at Spruce Canyon or at Northern State, this is the proposal that the Governor has put before us, to in some measure pick up the benefits that certainly they are entitled to."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "I still have not gotten an answer to my question which is this. Here is an able bodied man. They say now he is fifty-five. Started out forty-five. He is at a temporary labor camp where we had some honor camp. Now, if I read this correctly, he is offered other employment with the state. He can go somewhere else. But as I read it, there is no obligation to do it. He can say, 'You bring me a job right here or else I am going to retire on you.' Now everyone else, if a highway blocks off a man's store we say, 'tough' and he has got to find somewhere else to clerk, doesn't he? You do not retire him. He does not start to draw federal social security because a highway blocked off a store. Or if a school teacher gets left out of one school they do not retire. They find another school to go to. Now I cannot understand this singling out one batch of people that we say because this particular job no longer exists right here you do not have to hunt anywhere. And the fact that the state may have a job for you elsewhere, the fact that the man who is out at this honor guard camp could go to work at Walla Walla, he does not have to go. Now everyone else in life has to hunt around when they are out of a job. If Harry Lewis's mill closes down, the man has to hunt somewhere else. He does not say, 'I am going to sit there until that mill starts up again,' or 'I retire.' But this is the most ridiculous thing, to say that, and I want to be corrected if I am wrong, but as I read it, there is no obligation on this man's part to take another state job wherever it might be offered. So that thirty miles away they say, 'Look, there is a state job down there. You are admirably qualified for it. It pays the same as the other job, but you do not have to go to it.' Now that has got to be bad legislation."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, in response to Senator Woodall, and I certainly recognize that you have a portion of a valid argument, but I would like to suggest that there may be some other things that I would urge you to consider. I do not know whether I can persuade you to support the bill in any case, but I would like to try to respond as best I am able.

"One of the things that you should recognize is that the retirement benefit itself is not the same retirement benefit that a person who retires at sixty-five would receive. It is a greatly reduced benefit. It applies only to that portion of the years that the person worked and it is substantially reduced. You have a complete detailed brief of that on your desk. And so when you talk about benefit received, number one, this man we have to assume and I assume would like to continue working at what he is doing. The closure is an act that has been done by us for many reasons. The second area that I would like to point out is the question of whether he should move or not. There may be some people like those whom you describe, I know many others who are in another category. Someone, for example, who has lived for seventeen, or Senator Peterson, you might be able to give us some better examples, twenty years in Sedro Woolley, who has a home, that is established, has an investment in the community and has time there and children there and decides that he really does not want to move to Spokane."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "We are getting off of the subject. We are now talking about the main bill rather than the amendment itself and just in hope to save time, if we do not address ourselves to the particular amendment, I am afraid we will have these speeches all over again when we get to the main question."

Senator Harry Lewis continues: "I do not intend to do that. This is all I intend to say about it, Senator Mardesich, but I will restrict myself just in trying to respond to Senator Woodall. At any rate, the arguments that you present, I think, are countermanded to some extent if you are correct; this is a policy decision that we are making. I happen to feel that it is a necessary and essential one. I happen to believe that anytime the state closes an institution it should measure among the costs of that closure the costs of people and the sensitivity and I think the state should be sensitive to the needs of people. And that is really the decision we are facing today."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARSH

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President and Senator Woodall, I would like to direct your attention to three places in the bill that directly address itself to the question which you have raised. The first one is on page 1, line 21. It states, 'The term closure of a state facility means,' then it drops on down below to line 26, 'where vacancies in the same or like job classification and at not less than one full range lower than the salary range is not available to affect the state employee.' So clearly by that definition if there are vacancies in the same or like job classification they must take the position or they are not eligible for the benefit.

"Secondly, I direct your attention to page 2, line 24, subsection (a), which says, 'Employees refusing transfer to vacant positions in the same or like job classification and at not less than one full range lower than the same salary range,' and finally, Senator Woodall, on page 4, beginning at line 28, subsection (c) reads, 'Employees who elect to retire under the provisions of this section shall not be eligible for any retirement benefits for any calendar month during which they have been engaged in full-time employment.' Now these provisions are in the bill which were inserted by amendment in the Senate Ways and Means Committee to get at this problem of employees refusing to take vacant positions that are available in the state. The bill, as originally drafted, did not require them to move, but we put these amendments in saying that they had to take vacant positions when they were available. Further, that when they are full-time employees, say they went to work for the city or the county and had a full-time job, they were ineligible for any benefits, so I think we have attempted in the Senate Ways and Means Committee to tighten up this bill in this regard."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Atwood carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendments to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan were adopted:

On page 1, line 17, strike "salaries" and insert "salaried".

On page 2, line 1, strike "is" and insert "are".

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Dore and Van Hollebeke to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan:

On page 4, section 4, line 21 of the Peterson (Lowell) amendment, strike "forty-five" and insert "fifty-five".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Could I ask Senator Peterson a question? If all other state employees cannot receive benefits of their pension until fifty-five, what legal or moral justification is there for a certain group of people to receive their pension at age forty-five? That is my first question. And secondly, has the constitutionality of this been determined? In other words, I am a state employee; I pay into that fund. Isn't this a raid on the reserves on that fund? In other words, after thirty years I can retire at fifty-five, not forty-five. If they are all in the class together, how can we have a class carved out to retire at forty-five? Those two questions, if I could."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator Dore, I think I can answer them both in one. This bill directs itself to a specific purpose for a specific need and to my knowledge, at least in my tenure in the legislature, this has never happened before. We have never closed down institutions and all of a sudden told the people that work there, 'Go on down the street and find out what you can do for yourself.' We have never done this before, not since I have been here. And this bill is an attempt, and the title explains it quite aptly, it is an economic impact bill to take care of those that the state of Washington has displaced. Now if there is a further question, I will try to answer."

Senator Dore: "Senator Peterson, but are not we taking care of them by giving them terminal pay? We are giving them moving costs. I favor all that. I am enthusiastically for it, but I wonder if we are not just giving them too much on top of it. In other words, I think they should have their pension rights given too but why should they be able to retire ten years ahead of any other state employee? Now if you would have taken the words out, 'without any actuarial deduction.' If you want them to retire at forty-five, then we could at least adjust it so they would take a reduced amount based upon their age. But I do not think you should have it at both ends, at age forty-five and then no actuarial deduction. I might go for forty-five if you had the actuarial deduction. Then we would all be treated the same way. That is the only thing I am saying."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Mr. President, I will yield to Senator Lewis."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Dore, if you take a look at the memo to Senator Atwood from Norm Schut, you will see the fact the actual costs of the early retirement provisions and how they are implemented in the legislation. I think the point that you might perhaps be missing is this, that do you understand that their benefits are substantially less than they would be if they retired at age sixty or sixty-five? Do you also understand that they have worked and made a commitment and that they would lose any retirement benefits unless they waited until they were sixty-five? And so on that basis it seems to me that your argument is specious because we are only giving them the benefits that they have actually earned. We are not giving them additional benefits. And I think that while we have stretched it a little bit, they would have to elect either to retire or to select another job and that both things do not go hand in hand. They do not receive both. Do you understand that?"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator Atwood, reading in the newspaper that Western Washington College is going to have a force reduction of one hundred professors."

Senator Atwood: "Not yet."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, unless they get all of us senior citizens to move up there and go into their classes and be counted as pupils, the way I understand it. However, under this concept these people are just as much out of work as the people at the Mission Ridge or Spruce Camp. Are you going to extend the same privileges to these people?"

Senator Atwood: "No, because the professors are under TIAA Craft which is a portable pension that can go to any state in the Union."

Senator Rasmussen: "My understanding that all employees are vested under PERS system."

Senator Atwood: "No, they are not. Just the classified. That is a RIF. This does not apply to a reduction in force, Senator Rasmussen. This bill only applies to the limited situation stated previously."

Senator Rasmussen: "My question was, are not these people out of work just as much as the other people?"

Senator Atwood: "No, I do not think so. Because they could transfer a lot easier than these people."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Bob): "Will Senator Atwood yield please? Senator Atwood, I have heard much conversation about making certain that government employees are given the same and equal treatment with private industry and wages are brought to this level and so forth. My question here is, would these employees whose jobs would be terminated be eligible for unemployment compensation?"

Senator Atwood: "I think under present law that they are."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Scott: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, since there is no actuarial reduction in the amount of the retirement pay given this individual and since the Department of Personnel is going to be billed for all costs over and above what the individual would have otherwise incurred, how much more is it going to cost the state during the next ten years as a result of this bill?"

Senator Atwood: "There is no way of answering you. On the maximum we can get you a figure but a lot of these people will not elect to retire. They will take transfers. This is presenting them with an option. We have no way of knowing how many will elect to take the forty-five. Maybe Senator Peterson can answer that."

Senator Scott: "I thought the very reason that we were enacting the bill is because most of these people could not get transfers."

Senator Atwood: "I am not sure what the figure is at Northern State. Senator Peterson can tell you how many transferred. A lot of them already have."

Senator Scott: "What I am suggesting is that there is a considerable general fund cost here, that we are indeed setting a precedent, so that we cannot close down a state institution. Indeed we are limiting it to four right now but we will not be able to close down any state institution without incurring an additional general fund cost. No precedent for this in either private industry or in the federal government, and it seems to me that we are setting a very different precedent over any we have now."

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Connor, Fleming, Bailey, Clarke, Metcalf, Peterson (Lowell), Dore, Jolly and Knoblauch.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "In the interests of time, I wonder if Senator Peterson would be too upset if a motion were made for indefinite postponement to see whether we are wasting time on this measure. Just as a test vote. We may be wasting hours of time here."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Mr. President, I do not know but I think we have aired this thing to the point that I think it is a state matter. It is something that we have to come to grips with. It is something that if we do not take action on in this mini-session it is dead for all time, because according to our Constitution, our statutes, we are going to have to get through with it now. I vigorously oppose any postponement. If we have to go through a bunch of Mickey Mouse amendments we are going to have to go through them."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the amendment by Senators Dore and Van Hollebeke to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was adopted by the following vote: Yeas, 27, nays, 20; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Canfield, Clarke, Day, Donohue, Dore, Francis, Greive, Guess, Herr, Jones, Keefe, Lewis (Bob), Lux, Mardesich, Matson, Mattingly, Murray, Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—27.

Voting nay: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Connor, Durkan, Fleming, Gardner, Grant, Jolly, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Marsh, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Talley, Walgren Washington—20.

Absent or not voting: Senator Henry—1.

Excused: Senator Stortini—1.

MOTIONS

Senator Greive moved that the Senate immediately reconsider the vote by which the amendment by Senators Dore and Van Hollebeke to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was adopted.

On motion of Senator Woodall, the motion by Senator Greive was laid upon the table.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was adopted:

On page 1, lines 6 and 25, strike "changes in service modes,"

Senator Canfield moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan:

On page 3, section 4, line 17, strike subsection (3), lines 17-23 and renumber the subsequent subsections.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Canfield failed and the amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was not adopted.

Senator Whetzel moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan:

On page 4, section 4 (5), after line 24, insert a new subsection: "(b) Notwithstanding the age requirements of RCW 41.40.180, any affected employee who has attained the age of forty-five years, with at least five years creditable service, shall be immediately eligible to retire with an actuarial reduction in the amount of his pension benefit."

Reletter remaining subsections.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Whetzel yield? There is a little bit of peril about floor amendments sometimes. You are putting in a whole new section. You say, 'notwithstanding the requirements of Remington's,' and so forth, 'any affected employee who has attained forty-five' may do this, Are you sure that that language ties it down to just this very limited thing or are you possibly opening it wide up?"

Senator Whetzel: "I certainly hope I am not opening it up. I took the exact language that is on the amendment, page 4, lines 20 to 24, subsection (a) that we just amended, in line 21 changing the age forty-five to fifty-five. I copied that exactly except for on line 23 where it says, 'with no actuarial reduction,' I put, 'with an actuarial reduction.' So at the age of forty-five they would have to take an actuarial reduction."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Will Senator Whetzel yield? I raise the same question. In your language on an affected employee, is that referring back to an affected employee of RCW 41.40.180 or is it as an affected employee under this act, and would you have objections after the words, 'any affected employee' and then insert 'under this act'?"

Senator Whetzel: "I have no objection and that language should also go on page 4, line 21 in subsection (a). I think that would be a good provision."

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan was adopted:

On page 4, line 21, after "employee" insert "under this act"

The motion by Senator Atwood carried and the amendment by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Atwood and Durkan, as amended, was adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator Walgren, can this money only be spent for increased fuel costs?"

Senator Walgren: "No, it is for the operations of the ferry system, maintenance and operation, but the testimony was that the deficit was caused because of the increased fuel costs. As a matter of fact, the bill provides that if there is additional revenue, and there has been additional revenue coming in because of the increased usage of the ferry system, that the money need not be expended. It simply gives them the authority to spend it."

Senator Rasmussen: "The reason I was wondering about the increased fuel costs, I see where the government rolled it back and there should not be any increased fuel costs."

Senator Walgren: "There may not be."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, earlier today the majority party held up the Economic Impact Bill, 2603, because we wanted assurance the Governor would not veto out the one-year cut off in the bill and I want to now explain that the Governor did contact me and said that if both houses left the one-year cut off in the bill he would not bother it. I wanted that in the record."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, you see on your desk a green sheet which has caused some consternation. People have been wondering how these bills got out of committee with their amendments. This is in response to the problem we have had that Senator Rasmussen addressed himself to the other day. With this short session we have been pushing bills out here quite rapidly and this is an attempt to merely give you a preview of what may come out of committees and what may come out of Rules and what may even come over from the House. The House is intending to act on a few of these bills and has not yet. But these are all very possible bills in terms of our consideration and so we made this list up for you so that you can address yourselves to them if you have any spare time and have a chance to bone up on them before we act on them. And we are going to adjourn for this evening now. I have asked a number of the committee chairmen if they have House bills, would they call meetings tonight and get those out since we should start to address ourselves to those House bills, in addition to which I am leaving open the hour between eight and nine tomorrow morning to again allow you an opportunity to consider House bills so that we can get on with the consideration of the bills and begin to wind the session up if possible. So you committee chairmen who want meetings better call them. I know a number of you have indicated that you want them. Senator Day says he would like an extra half hour for a hearing in the morning. I have no objection to even a nine-thirty call, rather than nine. You can have an hour and a half tomorrow so that we are sure to get some bills out."

Relating to elections.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Grant, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2910 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2910 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Grant, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2910 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Grant, let us assume that a corporation such as Boeing or Weyerhaeuser would not like the manner in which you were voting and that they, under this bill, then would have the legal right to form a campaign and finance it to recall Senator Grant. Is this what you have in mind with this type of legislation?"

Senator Grant: "I think maybe at times they have had that in mind, Senator. No, that is not what is contemplated by this. If that were a concern of the corporations that are prohibited now, which are so-called foreign corporations, they are incorporated outside the state of Washington, they could do it in other ways. As an example, the Boeing Company has a wholly-owned subsidiary which is the Boeing Computer Services, and if Boeing Computer Services wanted to contribute to a recall campaign against Senator Grant they could do it now. But I think it would be much more ineffective if, under the reporting requirements of Initiative 276, they had to do it directly. They had to report it directly."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Grant."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "Senator Grant, will you yield? Senator Grant, we have deleted the restriction that makes it a crime for any person who gives any money in connection with an initiative, referendum or recall from a corporation, the majority of whose members or stockholders had a residence outside the state of Washington. What I am wondering is, if this does not open it up so far that now a corporation who does not even do business in the state of Washington, who is not licensed in the state of Washington, has no office in the state of Washington, can participate in our initiative and referendum campaign."

Senator Grant: "I cannot find the section immediately, Senator Whetzel."

Senator Whetzel: "I am looking up at the top of page 2 of the substitute bill where it says, 'Money or anything of value contributed by or received from any person, firm, association, or corporation whose residence or principal office is, or the majority of whose members or stockholders have their residence outside the state of Washington.' Now we will be permitting corporations, regardless of their residence or principal office, to take part in the initiative and referendum campaigns in the state of Washington. What I am wondering is, unless it is limited to corporations who at least do business here, whether we have any control over them in terms of reporting requirements or criminal sanctions whatsoever, if we are not inviting corporations from the Southwest, from California or Japan."

Senator Grant: "Senator Whetzel, I think that is a legitimate concern and I would like to check this with counsel."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Grant, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2910 was ordered placed at the end of the third reading calendar for today.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2697, by Senators Washington and Gardner (by Lieutenant Governor request):

Placing certain appointed public officials under financial disclosure requirements.

MOTION

Senator Washington moved that Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2697 be placed on today’s second reading calendar following consideration of Senate Bill No. 2516.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: “Will Senator Washington yield? Senator, on this digest it refers to subdivisions of thirty thousand people. I think the bill referred to five thousand registered voters, did it not?”

Senator Washington: “I would have to check it. That is one of the things that we also wanted to check. Thirty thousand, however, has been eliminated. There is a possibility that we should go back to the thirty thousand.”

Senator Canfield: “I think the bill says five thousand registered voters.”

Senator Washington: “There is the very strong possibility that it should go back to the higher because a number of the smaller agencies, it is surprising how many stenographers and persons in that category are actually employed and confirmed by the agency. Small irrigation districts, weed districts, they confirm many of the lower employees, so we may go to the higher figure.”

The motion by Senator Washington carried. Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2697 was placed on today's second reading calendar following consideration of Senate Bill No. 2516.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2946, by Committee on Parks and Recreation (endorsed by Senators Knoblauch, Jones, Canfield, Bailey, Woody and Wanamaker):

On page 1, line 17, section 1 after "Washington" and before "be" strike "may".

On page 1, line 23, section 1, after "city-county" and before "is" strike "or county" and insert "county or state agency".

Signed by: Senators Knoblauch, Chairman; Bailey, Canfield, Jones, Lux, Odegaard, Wanamaker.

On motion of Senator Woody, the committee amendments were adopted simultaneously.

On motion of Senator Woody, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2946 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Woody yield? Senator, in addition to what you said about the use for these purposes, did we not write into the bill that it must be solely used?"

Senator Woody: "That is correct. The interpretation that we have on the bill the way it is right now is that that must be its sole and exclusive use. It cannot have a little slide and a teeter totter around an industrial park."

Senator Canfield: "I wanted the body to be sure of that."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2946, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 1.

On page 1, line 4, after the enacting clause strike the remainder of the bill and insert the following:

"Section 1. Section 72.23.070, chapter 28, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 4, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 72.23.070 are each amended to read as follows:

Pursuant to rules and regulations established by the department, a state hospital may receive any person who is a suitable person for care and treatment as mentally ill, or for observation as to the existence of mental illness, upon the receipt of a written application of the person, or others on his behalf, in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over, the application shall be voluntarily made by the person, at a time when he is in such condition of mind as to render him aware of the significance of his act;

(2) In the case of a person under eighteen years of age, the application shall be made by his parents, or by the parent, conservator, guardian, or other person entitled to his custody. All such applications shall be reviewed by the county mental health professionals, who shall submit a written report and evaluation with recommendations to the superintendent of the state hospital to which such application is made stating whether treatment is necessary and proper on a voluntary basis and evaluating the reasons for voluntary commitment. A person under eighteen years of age received into a state hospital as a voluntary patient shall not be retained after he reaches eighteen years of age, but such person, upon reaching eighteen years of age, may apply for admission into a state hospital as a voluntary patient;

(3) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over for whom a conservator or guardian of the person has been appointed, such application shall be made by said conservator or guardian, when so authorized by proper court order in the conservatorship or guardianship proceedings.

Sec. 2. Section 8, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st. ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Persons suffering from a mental disorder may not be involuntarily committed for treatment of such disorder except pursuant to provisions of this chapter, chapter 10.76 RCW or its successor, chapter 71.06 RCW, transfer pursuant to RCW 72.68.031 through 72.68.037, or pursuant to court ordered evaluation and treatment not to exceed ninety days pending a criminal trial or sentencing. Persons impaired by chronic alcoholism or drug abuse may receive services pursuant to this chapter if they so elect, unless proceedings have been initiated under the provisions of the Washington Uniform Alcoholism and Intoxication Treatment Act, chapter 92, Laws of 1973 (chapter RCW).

(2) No person under the age of eighteen years shall be involuntarily provided with, detained, certified, or committed for evaluation or treatment pursuant to the provisions of this chapter unless written authorization has been obtained from such person's parent, parents, conservator, or legal guardian, or pursuant to proceedings of the juvenile court under chapter 13.04 RCW.

Sec. 3. Section 14, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

Persons receiving evaluation or treatment under this chapter shall be given a reasonable choice of an available physician or other professional person [providing] qualified to provide such services.

In addition to the responsibility provided for by RCW 71.02.411, any person, or his estate, or his spouse, or the parents of a minor person who is involuntarily detained pursuant to this chapter for the purpose of treatment and evaluation outside of a facility maintained and operated by the department of social and health services shall be responsible for the cost of such care and treatment. In the event that an individual is unable to pay for such treatment or in the event payment would result in a substantial hardship upon the individual or his family, then the county of residence of such person shall be responsible for such costs. If it is not possible to determine the county of residence of the person, the cost shall be borne by the county where the person was originally detained. The [county mental health administrative board] department of social and health services shall [, as part of its annual community mental health program plan], pursuant to chapter 34.04 RCW, adopt standards as to (1) inability to pay in whole or in part, (2) a definition of substantial hardship, and (3) appropriate payment schedules. Such standards shall be applicable to all county mental health administrative boards. Financial responsibility with respect to department services and facilities shall continue to be as provided in chapter 71.02 RCW.

Sec. 5. Section 17, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

No [public or private] officer [or] of a public or private agency initiating or providing treatment pursuant to this chapter, nor the superintendent, professional person in charge, his professional designee, or attending staff of any such agency, nor any public official performing functions necessary to the administration of this chapter, nor peace officer responsible for detaining a person pursuant to this chapter shall be civilly or criminally liable for performing duties prescribed by this chapter or releasing a person at or before the end of the period for which he was admitted or committed for evaluation or treatment: PROVIDED, That such duties were performed in good faith and without negligence.

Sec. 6. Section 37, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

(1) If the court or jury finds that the person named in the petition (a) has threatened, attempted, or actually inflicted physical harm upon the person of another after having been taken into custody for evaluation and treatment, and as a result of mental disorder, presents an imminent threat of serious physical harm to others, and that the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention; or (b) was taken into custody as a result of attempting to inflict or inflicting physical harm upon the person of another, and as a result of mental disorder presents an imminent threat of serious physical harm to others, and that the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention, the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services for a further period of intensive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment.

If the court or jury finds that the respondent has committed acts falling within either subsection (1) (a) or (b) of this section, but finds that treatment less restrictive than detention will be in the best interest of the person or others, then the court shall remand him to the custody of the department of social and health services or to a facility certified for ninety day treatment by the department of social and health services for a further period of less restrictive treatment not to exceed ninety days from the date of judgment.

(2) Said person shall be released from involuntary treatment at the expiration of ninety days unless the superintendent or professional person in charge of the facility in which he is confined files a new petition for involuntary treatment on the grounds that the committed person has attempted or actually inflicted physical harm on another during his period of involuntary treatment, and he is a person who, by reason of mental disorder, presents a likelihood of serious harm, and that the best interests of the person or others will not be served by a less restrictive treatment which is an alternative to detention. Such new petition for involuntary treatment shall be filed and heard [either] in the superior court of the county of the facility which is filing the new petition for involuntary treatment [or in the superior court of the county wherein the original petition for involuntary treatment was filed]. The cost of the proceedings shall be borne by the county wherein the original petition for involuntary treatment was filed, when such proceedings are had in a county other than the county wherein the petition for involuntary treatment was filed and arrangements shall be made and agreements reached between involved counties for billing and payment arrangements to meet said responsibility.

Sec. 7. Section 45, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

[Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit] A public or private agency [from releasing] shall release to a patient's attorney, his guardian, or conservator, if any, or a member of the patient's family the information that the person is presently a patient in the facility or that the person is seriously physically ill, if the professional person in charge of the facility determines that the release of such information is in the best interest of the person. Upon the death of a patient, his guardian or conservator, if any, and a member of his family shall be notified.

Sec. 8. Section 46, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .) are each amended to read as follows:

When a [voluntary] patient would otherwise be subject to the provisions of section 44 of this 1973 amendatory act, and disclosure is necessary for the protection of the patient or others due to his unauthorized disappearance from the facility, and his whereabouts is unknown, notice of such disappearance, along with relevant information, may be made to relatives and governmental law enforcement agencies designated by the physician in charge of the patient or the professional person in charge of the facility, or his professional designee."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Woody yield? Senator Woody, I have not had a real chance to go through these but, having looked at them, they apparently do generate some more expense to the counties, a couple of these do. Do you have any idea what the fiscal note is on these bills or has one been prepared?"

Senator Woody: "No fiscal note has been prepared so far as the expense to the state of Washington is concerned, as opposed to the counties. It was only the people of Clark County that I was able to ask this particular question of and they replied that they were not aware of what the cost was, but these particular things that they wanted, they were very willing to absorb whatever cost it would take. Most of these things are not like cross referencing, notice or review, but the review, the court may say you would have to do it anyway."

Senator Atwood: "I understand that. I just was curious to see what, if anything, had been done in the area of the financing of this entire new procedure."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Woody yield? Senator Woody, did I understand you when you first started your remarks that the date of January 1, 1974, would remain in the bill?"

Senator Woody: "That is correct."

Senator Guess: "I do not have all the amendments in front of me but which amendment accomplishes this?"

Senator Woody: "The entire amendment, and by way of explanation, let me state that the portion of the bill, 2947, the part that I am taking out is only the language that puts off the effective date of the civil commitment act until July of 1974. During that period of time, as I understand it, if we wait that period of time there are several cases that are now pending before the court that would probably hold our current law unconstitutional. And so to prevent the portion putting it off an additional six months, we have come up with these amendments."

Senator Guess: "Thank you very much."

The motion by Senator Woody carried and the amendment by Senators Woody and Marsh was adopted.

On motion of Senator Woody, the following amendment to the title by Senators Woody and Marsh was adopted:

On line 1 of the title, after the semicolon following "illness" strike the balance of the title and insert: "amending section 72.23.070, chapter 28, Laws of 1959 as last amended by section 4, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 72.23.070; amending section 8, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 14, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 15, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 17, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 37, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 45, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); amending section 46, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW (. . .); declaring an emergency; and making an effective date."

On motion of Senator Woody, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2947 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Woody yield to a question? Senator Woody, I am still not satisfied with that answer you gave on January 1, 1974."

Senator Woody: "Let me explain further then. The bill book before you, the section just talks about putting the effective date of our 1973 act off. The amendments that I have put in, I have not taken all of the civil commitment bill, does not appear before you. Just those sections that we are amending."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARSH

Senator Marsh: "Mr. President and fellow Senators, if you will look in your bill book on page 1 of Senate Bill No. 2947 you will find that Senate Bill No. 2947 is simply a two-section bill. Section 1 says that the 'section 67, chapter 142, Laws of 1973 First Extraordinary Session and RCW . . . are each amended to read as follows: Chapter 142, Laws of 1973 First Extraordinary Session shall take effect on July 1, 1974.' Now the Woody-Marsh amendment strikes that section and substitutes the amendments that Senator Woody referred to. So it effectively then keeps the law as it is now, which goes into effect January 1, 1974. I might state that I passed out a memorandum which should be on everybody's desk. It reads, 'Statement explaining amendments to the civil commitment law,' and I would point out that if we enact the Woody-Marsh amendment in this bill in the present form it will save us a considerable amount of money. It will save us eight hundred thousand dollars to one million dollars over and above what would have to be spent if we delayed the implementation to July 1. So this really is a very worthwhile thing. As pointed out on page 2 of this memorandum, this bill in the present form with this amendment on it is supported by the Governor's office, the Department of Social and Health Services, and the Legal Services program, among others. I do not think there is any controversy about any of these amendments. None of these amendments, to my knowledge, is substantive. They are all procedural, so I urge your adoption of the bill."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Woody yield? Do these amendments in any way change the seventy-two hour . . . ?"

Senator Woody: "No, it does not. That was one of the requests by some people but we left it at seventy-two hours."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Woody yield to further question? Senator Woody, when this bill was passed the prior session the criticism I received was from the judges and prosecutors who said it was unworkable. You have solved that now in consultation with the Prosecutors' Association and the Judges' Association?"

Senator Woody: "As of today they are happy if we pass it this way to have it come into effect come January."

Senator Rasmussen: "Second criticism that I received was that it was a very expensive bill for the counties. Has that problem been solved?"

Senator Woody: "Well, it is solved already because if we do not have a civil commitment bill at all we are going to have all these people on the streets. We will save some money there perhaps."

Senator Rasmussen: "That is contrary to what your note says because it says you are going to let more of them out of Western State and the other institutions. You are going to save money that way so I cannot understand both approaches."

Senator Woody: "If we use my approach we will not let as many out as if we do not use my approach because if you do not use my approach there will probably be a court case saying that you have to release all these people on a writ of habeas corpus and then we will save an awful lot of money and they will all be living with us."

Senator Rasmussen: "They will probably be in the legislature then. I was going to say, Senator Woody, has the County Commissioners' Association approved these changes?"

Senator Woody: "Individual ones, yes. But, no, I have not gone to their representative and said, 'What is the poll?'. But the individual ones that I have talked to, especially those who have come forward with some objections, yes, they agree with these now. Those that have not come forward with any objections apparently do not care."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Woody."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2947, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48; excused, 1.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: “Will Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Grant, I noticed that the 276 committee has a policy of exempting some people from the provisions of 276 and other people maybe yes and maybe no. Are there any provisions in this proposal that you are passing that would require a uniform exemption or else a uniform application?”

Senator Grant: “Senator Rasmussen, this is not an amendment to Initiative 276. This is an amendment to our present code of ethics that will extend the same requirements of Initiative 276 insofar as reporting of their financial holdings and their dealings as is required under the initiative, but it is not a change so far as Initiative 276 itself is concerned. Whether or not there is a hardship exemption here, I am going to have to look at it. Senator Washington, maybe you know."

Senator Washington: "As far as I recall, I do not believe so."

Senator Grant: "I will concur in Senator Washington's remarks. I do not believe there is any exemption in this."

Senator Rasmussen: "This would require uniform filing and there are no exemptions?"

Senator Grant: "We do not provide for exemptions here."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "A question of Senator Washington. I notice on page 3, subsection (g) appears to be similar language to Initiative 276. My question, is this the identical language that has created such problems for people filing for public office?"

Senator Washington: "This is exactly the same language."

Senator Whetzel: "Do you anticipate this creating the same problems for the myriad of appointed officials?"

Senator Washington: "I do not believe that it will. These are not elected officials. They are appointed officials. They are going to be in most cases absolutely full time. You are not going to have the problem that we have now with part-time port district officials or part-time school district officials or persons such as that. These are all full-time persons and I do not think the same arguments would prevail."

Senator Whetzel: "Another question, do you know how many appointed officials this will apply to?"

Senator Washington: "It will be a relatively small number. For instance, at the state level it would be all of those who must be confirmed by the Senate."

Senator Whetzel: "How many are those?"

Senator Washington: "I do not have the number but it is whatever the number that goes through here that we approve, that is the number."

Senator Whetzel: "We just got a list of a couple hundred the other day. I do not know whether that is the total amount or not."

Senator Washington: "It is at least a couple of hundred."

Senator Whetzel: "Do you know how many boards and commissions citizens serve on in the city of Seattle that are approved by the City Council?"

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2697 will be considered after Reengrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2583.

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the first order of business.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Does the bill narrow down the definition so that it is merely this type of crane vehicle that is now permitted? Will it allow any other vehicles in, and if so, would it amount to anything?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Van Hollebeke, the definition is on the first page. All of the testimony before the subcommittee and the committee is that there is only one vehicle that fits that description. Now you will notice that it is nine feet between the front and back axle and is the minimum permissible length. It was ten feet and they developed a new crane, and that is all we are talking about, how far the front wheel has to be from the back wheel. No one could conceive of any other vehicle that would fit that description except this crane."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Okay. That is good enough. Thank you."

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 190, by Representative Randall:

Relating to revenue and taxation.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 10, 1973.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 190, relating to revenue and taxation (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, line 13 after "a" strike all the matter down to and including "order" on line 14 and insert "statewide refund of tax funds pursuant to state levies is required".

On page 1, following section 1, line 19, add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 84.69.060, chapter 120, Laws of 1957 as last amended by chapter 15, Laws of 1961 and RCW 84.69.060 are each amended to read as follows:

Refunds ordered under this chapter with respect to county and state taxes shall be paid by checks drawn upon the appropriate fund by the county treasurer: PROVIDED, That in making refunds on a county or district-wide basis, the county treasurer may make an adjustment on the next property tax payment due for the amount of the refund unless the taxpayer requests immediate refund."

Reumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 2, section 2, line 2 after "costs" and before "incurred" insert "including interest paid on the refunds".

On page 2, section 3, line 24, before "refunds" strike "mass".

On page 2, section 3, line 24, after "basis" and before "shall" insert "during 1973".

On page 2, section 3, line 26, after "court." insert "No written protest by individual taxpayers need to be filed to receive a refund pursuant to this 1973 amendatory act."

Signed by: Senators Durkan, Chairman; Donohue, Vice Chairman; Odegaard, Vice Chairman; Canfield, Dore, Lewis (Harry), Marsh, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sandison, Scott.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Durkan moved adoption of the committee amendments simultaneously.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, I noticed in the information sheet here on the amendment that the taxpayer may request or can request an immediate refund. Now, by putting in the six-month moratorium on interest you are practically going to force all taxpayers that have any amount of money involved to demand an immediate refund in order that they can collect the interest on their money. If they let it lay in the treasurer's office they will not have any interest on it for six months. So it would seem to me that this would force an immediate load onto the treasurer's office."

Senator Durkan: "It applies to the year 1973 only and the amendment is very clear in this respect, that you have two options. You can ask for the refund immediately or you can ask to have it applied as a credit to your next tax statement which will be mailed to you. There is no payment of interest. That is the answer."

Senator Rasmussen: "No payment of interest?"

Senator Durkan: "That is right. The testimony was from the county treasurers throughout the state that the administrative cost spread out over a state-wide average, that the administrative cost in mailing back the interest payments would cost more than the interest itself."

Senator Rasmussen: "True, but I am saying that it is going to be an immediate rush on the treasurer's office to collect the rebate they have coming. If they have a thousand dollars or two thousand dollars and they are going to get a rebate on it, they are going to actually go in there right now, anybody that has a large tax payment, and collect their money so they can put it out at interest."

Senator Durkan: "The average state-wide interest refund was less than fifty cents."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, that would not make anybody go wild for interest."

Senator Durkan: "But it is an arbitrary, Senator, it is just that there are not going to be any interest payments under this bill. That is the decision that we wrestled with for about four days in the committee, all of us starting out with the idea that the interest should be paid. It should be paid at eight percent or whatever the going rate was, and then finally ending up recognizing that it was not practical or feasible to make the interest payments, and this is the best product that we could come up with after a long debate on the bill."

Senator Rasmussen: "My second question would be, provided they may demand an immediate refund, immediately after this law becomes effective, the same day they should be able to get their money."

Senator Durkan: "As soon as they decide whether they want it credited or whether they want the cash, then the administrative proceeding of setting it up has to be put into effect and I would imagine if someone goes into the treasurer's office and says he wants his back, that the treasurer is going to comply as fast as they can to see to it that they get it."

Senator Rasmussen: "Immediate is right now. Thank you, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Further to Senator Durkan. It says, 'unless he shall demand,' it gets credited against next year. Now if I am a little slow paying it into the county they tab me eight percent."

Senator Durkan: "If I said that I was mistaken. I meant not next year's but the next half of the tax statement."

Senator Woodall: "Assuming I only paid the first half. If I paid the whole year then it would be the next year. All right. Now, if I am a little slow putting it into the county they tab me eight percent, don't they? But if they are a little slow paying back to me, they do not pay anything. That is the way it works. Is that it?"

Senator Durkan: "That is correct."

Senator Woodall: "I see. Well, it is not correct but that is the way it is."

Senator Durkan: "Senator, you were correct in your statement."

Senator Woodall: "I see. Thank you. Now then it says here it may make an adjustment on the next tax payment due unless the taxpayer requests immediate refund. Now I do not note any days or periods of time or anything that says when the county has to do it. How long does the taxpayer have to demand this refund or if he does not demand it, as Senator Rasmussen said, right after this law is passed, has he waived the right to ask for it or can he go in and ask for it? He did not learn about this until a couple of months. Will the treasurer say, 'Well, sorry we did not hear from you and we have already applied it against next year and we will not give it to you now.' To me this amendment is not fully adequate in that it has no time limit. It provides no time within which the taxpayer is entitled to ask, and it has nothing in it that says when the money has to be paid back."

"Now it just seems to me it is one of those things that maybe it was clear in the mind of the person drawing it, but I can see as an administrative matter it is very nebulous. It says, 'unless he shall request immediate refund.' Well, what does that mean and when does he request immediate refund? As soon as this bill passes? Does he have thirty days to do it? Does he have six months to do it, assuming that he paid for a whole year? I just do not understand this bill at all."

Senator Durkan: "Senator, actually you are fairly correct in how much time he has and it is about thirty days because October 15, if he does not ask for the refund it will be credited on the next tax statement issuance. But if he does make the request for the refund between now and the 15th, we are informed by the representatives of the treasurers throughout the state that they are prepared to make that refund in cash."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the committee amendments were adopted simultaneously.

On motion of Senator Durkan, Engrossed House Bill No. 190, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221, by Committee on Judiciary (originally sponsored by Representatives Parker, Ellis, Luders, Adams, Clements, Gaines, Laughlin, Hansen, North (Frances), Kilbury, Valle, Bausch, Knowles, Hurley, May, Savage, Anderson, Goltz, Maxie, Eng, Beck, Douthwaite, Kalich, Gallagher, Randall, Bauer, Haussler, Schinpoch, Warnke, Bagnariol, McCormick, Rabel, Jastad, Ceccarelli, Chatalas, Van Dyk, Bender, Curtis, Fortson, Pardini, Tilly):

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 11, 1973.

SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221, making it a crime to resell food stamps and food purchased therewith or to purchase resold stamps or food (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

In section 1, line 9, after "the" and before "value" insert "face".

In section 1, line 11, after "a" strike all the matter down to and including "both," on line 12 and insert "gross misdemeanor".

In section 1, line 14, after "a" strike all the matter down to and including the period on line 16 and insert "misdemeanor."

Signed by: Senators Francis, Chairman; Woody, Vice Chairman; Bottiger, Clarke, Greive, Van Hollebeke.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Francis, the committee amendments were adopted simultaneously.

On motion of Senator Francis, Substitute House Bill No. 221, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Francis yield to a question? We minimized the penalties but we left the amount of the fines the same?"

Senator Francis: "Senator Fleming, we have not spelled out the amount of the fine that is available. The fine that is available under Washington statute for a gross misdemeanor and a misdemeanor is less than it is under federal statute so it is less than it is set out here. We actually struck out the part about the jail term and the fine in this statute."

Senator Fleming: "Okay. Thank you."

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2697, by Committee on Constitution and Elections (originally sponsored by Senators Washington and Gardner) (by Lieutenant Governor request):

Placing certain appointed public officials under financial disclosure requirements.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2697. The amendment by Senators Washington, Metcalf and Grant to page 1, section 1, subsection (2), line 22 was adopted previously today.

The following amendment by Senators Washington, Metcalf and Grant was moved for adoption by Senator Washington previously today:

On page 1, section 1, subsection (2), line 24, after "state" strike the semicolon and insert "and who engages in supervisory, policy making or policy enforcing work."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Washington yield? I take it then this would not apply to the cop on the beat?"

Senator Washington: "No, it would not."

Senator Woodall: "We do not care how much he is buying and selling or what he is doing. Would a sergeant be a policy making man? Who is a policy making man?"

Senator Washington: "I would say in the first place, it is only those whose appointments would have to be confirmed, in this case by the city. We are certainly not getting everyone under this. We might extend it at some future time, but I would say we would probably only get the chief of police."

Senator Woodall: "So just the chief of police, we are only interested in what he does each year. We are not interested in any of the subordinates."

Senator Washington: "We may be interested but I do not believe at this particular time that we are going to be able to go down and require this from all policemen."

Senator Woodall: "Why can't we at this time?"

Senator Washington: "It is a question of judgment. The large number that you are going to have included in this and I feel, frankly, that when we are embarked in this endeavor, that in the beginning, if we get the top appointed officials, we will be making a good step in the right direction."

Senator Woodall: "Well, the people in Seattle who were indicted were a lot of lesser people who were charged with graft taking, and if this is an act aimed at maintaining purity and making sure that no one has any ill-gotten gain, why do you restrict the privilege of being honest to just the chief? Why do not you extend that benefit to the other ranks?"

Senator Washington: "My only answer to that is we could go on down to a number of lesser officials. I am sure you get down the line into clerks, possibly, who possibly may embezzle. You can get down into the area of employees in the highway departments and the road and city departments that have something to do with the purchase of real estate. I think you can go on down in many, many areas and include a lot more people who possibly can be engaged in dishonest activities. At this stage I believe from an enforcement point of view, from the amount of money that we are willing to spend at the state level as to the amount we are going to appropriate for carrying out these matters, that if we take the top policy making people and handle this properly we are going to be making a big step in the right direction."

Senator Woodall: "One more question, Senator. The way you have this bill, you are now exempting out all of the people who were in it who are in anything where there is less than five thousand votes cast. Is that correct?"

Senator Washington: "Yes, that was your amendment."

Senator Woodall: "No, it was not my amendment."

Senator Washington: "It was last session, Senator Woodall. We had it thirty thousand and we amended it down to the five thousand which is included in 276. That is the figure and that was the amendment that we adopted at the last session, Senator Woodall."

Senator Woodall: "We did not adopt it into 276."

Senator Washington: "No, just to keep the record straight, we did adopt that amendment and apply it to 2697."

Senator Woodall: "Which the people repealed by 276. Correct?"

Senator Washington: "No."

Senator Woodall: "Does not 276 state that the other two are repealed?"

Senator Washington: "I am not talking about that. This bill was before us in our 1971 Regular Session. It passed the Senate after your amendment. The bill as introduced by me had thirty thousand. You objected that the thirty thousand was too high and it was your amendment that brought it down to five."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "A question of Senator Washington. Relating to your amendment, Senator Washington, you have 'engaged in supervisory, policy making or policy enforcing work.' The question I have is how do you define supervisory?"

Senator Washington: "We have the language. We have taken this from section 1 of the present act. This is the section under which the state used to determine who would have to make reports under the code of ethics bill that we presently have, and by inserting that language we were able to cut out virtually thousands of public employees who otherwise would have had to make the filing under the code of ethics bill that we passed. State officials now have to file under that. In the beginning we covered a large number. We amended that and this is part of the language that was put in, supervisory, one, we have two levels here to determine whether or not you are going to be covered by this act.

First, you would have to be supervisory, you would not be the ordinary employee. You would supervise people. I think that is a definition they have already used in order to take a number of people out from under this act. And then second, you have to be appointed and approved by the legislative agency. So you have two areas, two qualifications that you have to meet. One, you have to be supervisory, and the other, you have to be approved by the appointing agency which would be the Senate as far as the state is concerned. It would have to be the city council if you were a city employee. It would not be just the ordinary employee. You would have to be supervisory and your appointment would have to be approved by the council."

Senator Bailey: "Another question. It is a little beyond the amendment you have here, but on page 1, line 19 it tells about an appointed public official. Is that defined sufficiently to omit the elected public official that might have been appointed to fill a vacancy?"

Senator Washington: "Well, we already have the . . ."

Senator Bailey: "We have not voted on it yet."

Senator Washington: "Well, for one thing, one who has been appointed would not have to be, if he is an elected official, subject to confirmation."

Senator Bailey: "My thought was that a little later it says, 'subject to confirmation by the legislative body.' Now if you are appointing a school board member to fill a vacancy he certainly is subject to confirmation by the remainder of that legislative body which would be the school board, and the city council would be the same. I mean, I am wondering if we are not . . ."

Senator Washington: "I can see that there could be some question there and I would certainly be willing for an amendment there."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2697, together with the pending amendment by Senators Washington, Metcalf and Grant, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Thursday, September 13, 1973.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2941, by Committee on Social and Health Services (endorsed by Senators Day, Van Hollebeke, Twigg, Clarke, Jones, Murray, Keefe, Woody and Herr):

Establishing a handicap symbol.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Francis, Senate Bill No. 2941 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2941, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—46.

Excused: Senators Durkan, Gardner, Stortini—3.

SENATE BILL NO. 2941, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 106, by Senators Donohue and Walgren:

Providing for a second bridge across the Snake River funded with federal money.

The memorial was read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Senate Joint Memorial No. 106 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the memorial was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Donohue yield? Senator, is this a parallel bridge to the present one between Lewiston and Clarkston?"

Senator Donohue: "Senator Canfield, this is a proposal that that particular area has had for several years and it is a parallel bridge. However, it is approximately one mile upstream from the present one."

Senator Canfield: "Would it take the place of the present bridge?"

Senator Donohue: "No, it would not. It would supplement the present bridge because the traffic is so great at the present time that the present bridge just cannot handle the traffic."

Senator Canfield: "One mile upstream from the present?"

Senator Donohue: "That is true, Senator."

Senator Canfield: "On the Snake?"

Senator Donohue: "The proposal, yes."

Senator Canfield: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Senator Donohue, when the pool in Lower Granite is raised, is the Corps of Engineers going to raise the existing bridge?"

Senator Donohue: "It is my understanding, Senator, that there will be twelve feet of water flowing under the present bridge. That bridge, as you know, does lift in the middle. And this is one of the other problems that they are having. The technical parts of the bridge that raise it up and down, many times they find a situation when they raise the bridge at the present time they cannot get it back down. And in emergency cases such as transport of ambulatory cases and so forth back and forth between Clarkston and Lewiston it has proven to be a very grave problem. This is, as you well know, something that involves the Corps of Engineers, the state of Idaho, the state of Washington and our different highway departments and is in the future and this is just a memorial to get the thing moving."

Senator Guess: "Would this bridge, if they build it, be high enough above water so they did not have to open it?"

Senator Donohue: "The proposed bridge?"

Senator Guess: "The proposed bridge."

Senator Donohue: "Yes, sir, that is true."

Senator Guess: "Thank you."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Joint Memorial No. 106, and the memorial passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—45.

Absent or not voting: Senator Lewis (Harry)—1.

Excused: Senators Durkan, Gardner, Stortini—3.

SENATE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 106, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2488, by Senators Van Hollebeke, Woody, Atwood, Mardesich, Greive, Walgren and Twigg:

Amending the implied consent law to permit a person who has refused the test to plead guilty and keep his license.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Washington moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, section 4, beginning on line 19, after "sustained" strike all the underlined material down to and including "rescinded" on line 23.

The motion failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "I would like Senator Van Hollebeke to just explain to me what the meaning of that particular paragraph is."

Senator Woodall: "Senator Van Hollebeke, there is nothing confusing about . . ."

Senator Washington: "Mr. President, in this case I would like to have Senator Van Hollebeke give the answer."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would you repeat the question, please?"

Senator Washington: "I would like you to explain to me just what the language means on page 3, line 25, when it says, 'The revocation or determination that there should be a denial of issuance shall be automatically rescinded.' That 'after he has pleaded guilty' looks to me like you are going to rescind any orders that took away his license."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would not you permit me to defer this question to my counselor, Senator Woodall?"

Senator Washington: "If you wish."

Senator Woodall: "We are back where we started from. Now this particular bill was introduced last February. Senator Washington says he is confused. Well, maybe he is. No one else is. This has been here since last February. It is the same language as we talked about last session. This particular section is very clear to anyone. At the present time there is a mandatory automatic rescission for six months if on the testimony of one person, they said that someone failed to huff and puff and blow on a particular night when they asked him to. And whether or not the explanation was fully made, pointed out with a very definite certainty, of course, you never quite know. You never know whether the particular person fully understood the import of his failure to blow, because a lot of people have had the opinion through the years that you did not have to give evidence against yourself. It has been kind of an ingrown doctrine in our law. Our Supreme Court, by a vote of six to three ruled wrong on the subject. They have been wrong before, too.

"All this law says is this. Now the purpose of this so-called implied consent law is no mystery to anyone. Everyone knows what its purpose is. It is to make it easier to convict people. It is an aid to lazy prosecutors and it is solely to get convictions. That is the whole purpose of the law. That is exactly what is for, so they can say, 'You go and blow in the thing and then we will use that evidence to find you guilty.' That is the exact purpose of the law, avowed purpose. Now this says that if a man goes in and pleads guilty, that is what you wanted it for in the first place, you do not need to treat him differently than the other fellow because that is all you wanted it for anyway. So we are saying that if the person pleads guilty you may then treat him the same as you would have treated him had he blown in it and pled guilty, so that you do not put a penalty on the non-blower six times what you put on the other fellow, which is the present law. In fact, it is worse than that because now the man who blows can get an occupational. The non-blower cannot even get an occupational. He can go on welfare. He cannot even get an occupational. So all this says is that if a man, the next morning when he is thinking a littler clearer, says 'I made a mistake last night. I should have blown in it like the fellow told me to. I did not fully understand it. I now am willing to plead guilty.' You can have your pound of flesh but please do not take a quart of blood too. That is all you are saying. So if a man pleads guilty you treat him just the same as you would have had he blown in the thing. And again, that is all you wanted was to get him found guilty, didn't you? You have won it. You have got what you wanted. So why say a man cannot work for six solid months? That is all the law says. It is very clear and it says it need not necessarily lose it. The court can still take it if the court wants to. But it eliminates the mandatory rescission. That is all it does. It is not confusing to anyone."

Debate ensued.

Senator Washington: "I had asked Senator Woodall and I thought I probably still had the floor after the answer which had been given. I would like to again point out that Senator Woodall made a very stirring plea for the bill itself but you still have not, in my mind, explained the wording here which gives very strong indications that there will be a difficulty even in revoking a license after a plea of guilty. And also just briefly following what Senator Clarke has said, one of our main problems with the judicial handling of drunk driving cases has been the very marked propensity to defer sentence, to find particularly for deferring sentence and particularly in a case such as this where they are not able to find out exactly how drunk a person is. I think we are going to find many more deferred sentences. We are going to have a lot more persons who actually should have their license revoked or should suffer some definite penalty as far as fines or imprisonment are concerned. The judge is not going to be able to have that information. I think we can just about say that in any case where a person does feel that he possibly is going to be found guilty is not going to take the breathalyzer. You are not going to have that information and we are going to have lots more deferred sentences and we are going to continue to have an increasing number of persons who have the habit of drinking and driving. We are going to continue to have them on the road. I think we are just very seriously taking away from the court the ability to make some very good decisions as to who should have a deferred sentence and who should actually have his driver's license taken away from him right after the conviction. This is a very serious step we are taking and it is going to, I am convinced, have lots more people with a propensity to drive while drunk on our highways."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Will Senator Murray yield to a question? You stated that if this thing tested below .10 that that is positive proof that you are not intoxicated, is that correct?"

Senator Murray: "No, the statement that I made was that I doubted if the prosecutor would take you to court if you had a test that came out with that result."

Senator Day: "That is what I heard you say. At any rate, what I wanted to ask you was, what if the fellow had had a couple of grains of phenobarbital, maybe a couple of tranquilizers, and then had enough alcohol so it registered .05. He could be so drunk he could not hit the floor with his hat and he still would have passed the test. What I am really asking is, were there any drugs utilized in this other than the drug, alcohol?"

Senator Murray: "No, and we are not talking about drugs. That requires a different test. It is a different charge."

Senators Talley, Walgren and Sandison demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488 and the bill passed the Senate by the, following vote: Yeas, 26; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Guess, Jolly, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Metcalf, Murray, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted), Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel—19.

Absent or not voting: Senator Rasmussen—1.

Excused: Senators Durkan, Gardner, Stortini—3.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2488 having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Woodall, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488 was ordered immediately transmitted to the House.

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2910, by Committee on Constitution and Elections (originally sponsored by Senator Grant):

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2132, by Senators Murray, Fleming and Bottiger:
Providing for a state criminal justice commission and training center.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2132 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Fleming, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Murray yield? Senator Murray, I do not have a copy of the substitute bill but how is the final selection of the site to be made?"

Senator Murray: "Actually, all reference to a site as such is eliminated. In other words, this will establish a new Criminal Justice Training Commission which supersedes the existing Law Enforcement Officers Training Commission. They will be authorized to set standards and make such arrangements as they wish with any college, the Seattle Police Department, for the judges, the prosecutors and the corrections people will all be included but there is no new appropriation. They will have the authority to merely do the same thing that the existing Law Enforcement Officers Commission does unless they can get additional funding from LEAA."

Senator Bailey: "Another question. Is there any danger that this commission will get the money from whomever it be and obligate that money in such a way that we will come back here in another year and find out they have absolutely determined where this operation is going to be by a previous commitment and then we are bound to accept and to take over what they have done? I would like to be sure the legislature has a handle on it, that the commission must come to the legislature for an authorization as to the exact site."

Senator Murray: "I am sure that that will be the case. That is certainly the intent of the bill."

Senator Bailey: "That they will be able to obligate the money and establish the . . ."

Senator Murray: "They will not have any state money to obligate under any circumstances under this bill, for major site selection, I will put it that way."

Senator Bailey: "Senator Murray, the problem I have is if you get a lot of federal money and you invest heavily in a certain site, then we are going to be obligated to provide the state money to keep it going after that. That is what I wanted to be assured, that this commission will not make an obligation to which we are then responsible a little later and we cannot afford to get out of because you have already put money into what is in a certain site."

Senator Murray: "To the best of my knowledge there is nothing in this bill that would permit them to obligate the state of Washington to a physical facility that we would be legally bound by."

MOTION

At 5:15 p.m., on motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Thursday, September 13, 1973.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2964, by Senator Gardner:

Authorizing gifts, grants and conveyances to school districts and providing for the administration thereof.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 12, 1973.

SENATE BILL NO. 2964, authorizing gifts; grants and conveyances to school districts and providing for the administration thereof (reported by Committee on Education):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 11, strike "and" and insert "or".

Signed by: Senators Gardner, Chairman; Bottiger, Fleming, Murray, Odegaard, Peterson (Ted).

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the committee amendment.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Senator Bottiger, on this digest it says 'The Senate committee amendment allows the property to be used for the benefit of school districts or students'. Now my question is this, I thought that the school districts were organized for the sole purpose of being for the benefit of the students."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I am sure they are. It is a grammatical change to permit the gift to be used for the school district or student purposes."

Senator Rasmussen: "That is the part I do not understand."

Senator Bottiger: "I think you could argue that the bill grammatically presumes or puts into statute a presumption we have all shared for years, that school districts are for children. You are talking about a technical amendment to allow the gift to be used for school district or student purposes and the entire amendment is changing 'and' to 'or.'"

Senator Rasmussen: "I would prefer that the gift be used for student purposes rather than school district."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the committee amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2964 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Bottiger yield? Senator, you are not earmarking or pinpointing where these funds go. These can be large contributions. Do they go for M and O or just anything?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Peterson, I frankly cannot get technical in the answer with you. I would presume it would be up to the giver. If he gives a swimming pool it would be a capital gift. If he gives some books, I do not know. If he gives some pencils and paper it would be a M and O gift. It would depend on what he gave, I guess."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Who decides this then?"

Senator Bottiger: "Whoever gives the property."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Oh, the school board directorship does not have anything to do with where it goes?"

Senator Bottiger: "If he gave cash, Senator Peterson, and it was unrestricted I would presume the school district could decide whether it was an M and O use or a capital use, but that would be in the event the giver did not specify what it was to be used for. Senator Jackson has made gifts to the Everett school district. Shoreline school district has received gifts. And now someone is challenging the question of whether they can accept them and we are going to leave it up to the giver and the school district of what they do with these things."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Bottiger yield to one more question? Senator Bottiger, this probably is not revelant but in the event somebody like Mrs. Merriwether Post, would will her entire fortune to the school district, would there then be a deduction at the state level for pupil maintenance because this district no longer needed . . ."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I do not have any idea. What we are talking about is the Kiwanis Club giving baseball uniforms to the high school team. Now in the event somebody is going to leave a million dollars to a school district I am sure Governor Evans will call a special session and we will decide."

Senator Rasmussen: "I did not get my answer but that is the way it is, I guess."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2964, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2964 having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan: "After the Ways and Means Committee meeting today someone had left my horoscope on my desk and I just wanted to read it for the members and I just want you to know I did not have a chance to read it earlier. It says, 'Step lightly, with measured gait. Don't chafe at roadblocks. Take all with calmness and deliberation. You may exceed your highest expectations.' Now I just want the members of my committee to know, had I read the horoscope this morning I would have been twice as bad."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "I think we could shorten that up and just say, 'Senator Durkan, proceed as usual.'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARRY LEWIS

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, I have long wondered where Senator Durkan got his guidance and it appears that I have been right, he gets it from the stars."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, Senator Francis was excused.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate will immediately commence consideration of Senate Bill No. 2043.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2043, by Senators Francis, Clarke and Woody:

Providing for jurisdiction in certain actions for divorce, annulment or separate maintenance.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2043 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 3.

Absent or not voting: Senator Greive—1.

Excused: Senators Francis, Gardner, Stortini—3.

SENATE BILL NO. 2043 having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SENATE BILL NO. 2494, by Senators Matson and Woodall:
Providing funding for convention centers.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 12, 1973.

SENATE BILL NO. 2494, providing funding for convention centers (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 5, section 5, line 11, after "any" and before "county" strike "class AA" and insert "[class AA]".

On page 5, section 5, line 11, after "county" and before "and" on line 12 strike "class A county, county of the first class".

On page 5, section 5, line 12, after "city" and before "is" on line 14, strike "of the first class having a population of one hundred fifty thousand or more not situated in a class AA county," and insert "[of the first class having a population of one hundred fifty thousand or more not situated in a class AA county]".

Signed by: Senators Durkan, Chairman; Atwood, Bailey, Gardner, Grant, Lewis (Harry), Mardesich, Marsh, Metcalf, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sandison, Scott.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Sellar, the committee amendments were adopted.

Senator Canfield moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 2, line 13, after "bodies" and before "submitting" strike "without" and insert "[without] after".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Whetzel yield? Senator Whetzel, as I read this part of section 2 it says that these municipalities make commitment to the financing of all or part of the project. And this had been without a vote of the people. Do you object to that statement?"

Senator Whetzel: "Well I do not know what it means in participation in financing. I assume that the communities might agree to participate in financing by issuance of revenue bonds, by general appropriations, by general obligation bonds. I think you have to then look to those sections of the law that specify how a community sets up its bond issues to provide that. What this language in here is doing is simply saying that these joint agreements between these communities dealing with the conveyance or lease of land, properties or facilities or financing are not in themselves matters that under other laws require a vote of the people unless, in fact, those laws applicable to the incurring of municipal indebtedness shall require such submission. I think that is why this language was put in here to make clear that joint agreements where some communities might come together and agree to participate in financing do not require a submission to the vote of the people. I do not know what kind of situation this might create for King County or the city of Seattle, if it creates any situation at all, but I think to come up with this floor amendment and put it in this place is inappropriate and ought not to be done without some consideration as to whether this will have some impact on existing facilities. As I say, I do not know whether it does or not. I just think that this is the inappropriate place to provide for these kinds of agreements to be submitted to the vote of the people. You would tie the hands of any communities that tried to get together in anything that they tried to do would have to go to the vote of the people. In Seattle our stadium has been to the vote many, many times."

Senator Canfield: "Senator Whetzel, may I proceed further? Are you aware of how these are to be financed under this act, these convention facilities?"

Senator Whetzel: "I understand that they are financed, in this bill one means is by revenue bonds."

Senator Canfield: "Yes. And do you know what the other one is? May I call your attention to page 4, lines 16 to 20, which state that if the revenue bonds do not cover the debt, then I will read, 'the holder of any such bond may bring action against the municipality and compel the performance of the covenant.'"

Senator Whetzel: "That is what it says, 'compel the performance of the covenants of the bonds.' It does not say that the community is liable above and beyond the obligations of the face amount of the revenue bonds. If they are revenue bonds tied to a specific source you cannot get into the general fund by this language in this particular part of the bill."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Herr: "Would Senator Whetzel yield? You know, Senator Whetzel, you and I get along well together?"

Senator Whetzel: "We certainly do."

Senator Herr: "But the thing that I would like to know is what is wrong with putting up any bond issue to a vote of the people, and I think this is the basic thing that we are trying to get to. And I think that it is something that is important to each and every citizen in the state of Washington that we do this. Don't you, Senator?"

Senator Whetzel: "Senator Herr, our Constitution and our statutes require the submission of bond issues to the people. What I am saying is that this amendment is not in part of the bill that relates to bond issues. It relates to joint agreements between the municipalities and that is something that would simply handicap the facilitation of those agreements if every detail had to be submitted to the vote of the people. I say, if you are talking about general obligation bond issues, that should be submitted to the people and if it meets the appropriate requirements. We do have some GO bonds that are not required to be submitted to the people. When they exceed a certain amount they are. If this bond is going to exceed that amount it should be submitted."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Canfield yield to a question? Senator Canfield, in this legislation it carries the authorization to use a portion of the sales tax for the support of these various functions?"

Senator Canfield: "As I read the bill it is an additional hotel-motel accommodations tax."

Senator Rasmussen: "Right. And then in addition, if they could float bonds on the strength of the revenues received from this hotel-motel tax?"

Senator Canfield: "That is correct."

Senator Rasmussen: "And they would issue bonds against this tax and the tax was not sufficient for some reason or other, it was deficient to carry the bonds, then the law also provides it would go back to the people and they would have to make good. Is this correct?"

Senator Canfield: "Well, I read the part of the act that says that if the municipality does not fulfill the contract, that the bond holders can compel the fulfillment of the covenant. I understand that to mean if the municipality would be sued and would get a judgment they would have to raise it through general taxation. So it appears to me it could be a potential general obligation against all the taxpayers in that affected district, is the way I read it. Now I want to make it clear to you gentlemen that I am in favor of a convention center for any city that wants it. All I am asking, again, is it be subject to a vote of the people."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Maybe Senator Whetzel can answer this. I think it is the same question that someone else asked. This is not an additional tax, is it? Isn't this a portion of the state sales tax now collected by hotel and motel accommodations?"

Senator Whetzel: "Yes, it is, Senator Bailey. I think, my memory is a little hazy on this. I handled this bill in the House when it went through. My recollection is that financing the stadium in King County did require a vote of the people. It was one of the Forward Thrust votes. This was after we had tried it before, before this legislation passed, as a general property tax obligation. It had been defeated. That these are revenue bonds, based on the revenues from the stadium, they are backed up by this claim against the sales tax on hotel and motel lodgings. There is, I do not believe, any responsibility, general obligation responsibility. Now that is my memory. I am not certain I am entirely correct. If we can put the bill over I will be happy to take a look at the statute and then I think we can get the exact information."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bailey, Senate Bill No. 2494, together with the adopted committee amendments and the amendment moved for adoption by Senator Canfield to page 2, section 2, line 13, was made a special order of business for 5:00 p.m. today.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate commenced consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 785 on third reading.

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 785, by Representatives Conner, Brown, Bausch, Douthwaite, Chatalas and Wojahn:

Increasing the minimum wage.

The bill was read the third time and placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Would Senator Metcalf yield? Senator Metcalf, the material that you have referred us and that you had placed on our desks, which you admittedly stated that you do not know who the Free Society Association Incorporated is or where the information came from except by their statement that it came from Washington, D.C."

Senator Metcalf: "I am sorry, Senator Peterson. I should have explained more fully. This is just a page from Professor Banfield's book and it is on the next page after page 97. This is the chart to which he refers in the statement. I mean, these three pages were three pages from the book and I should have made that clear. That was the source of it, his book which as I say is a textbook."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "My question is, Senator Metcalf, do you believe that in September of 1973 that we are considering 1966 statistics that have been prepared by a society that you and I neither one know anything of or who they are?"

Senator Metcalf: "I think that we would be absolutely irresponsible to ignore the clear data on this chart. Now I will concede to you this. Our rate, the percentage of minorities in our state is not as large as it is in Chicago or some of the cities in the East, and probably the damage is not that dramatic relative to the over-all population. But it does not need to be very dramatic to the person who you will throw out of a job by your vote today if you vote for this. It does not need to be very dramatic. It does not need to hit twenty thousand or four hundred thousand people. Those people that you are throwing out are the ones that I am trying to protect today by this unwise action."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Will Senator Grant yield? It is my understanding that the bill we have before us does not include persons under the age of eighteen. Am I correct in that assumption?"

Senator Grant: "It does not include domestic workers and it does not include agricultural workers. It does not broaden the minimum wage coverage at all. It only sets the new rates and those rates are minimal. A dollar eighty beginning January, 1974, two dollars in 1975."

Senator Washington: "One other question. I take it that the federal minimum wage does cover teen-agers. I am wondering if it does because of the graph that was given us by Senator Metcalf."

Senator Grant: "I am not sure that is the case, Senator."

Senator Washington: "Well then it does not include persons under the age of eighteen? In other words, those under eighteen are not included. I think I have the answer, Senator Grant."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 785 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 29; nays, 17; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Grant, Greive, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Mattingly, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Sandison, Talley, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Washington, Whetzel, Woody—29.

Voting nay: Senators Atwood, Canfield, Clarke, Guess, Jones, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Scott, Sellar, Twigg, Wanamaker, Woodall—17.

Excused: Senators Francis, Gardner, Stortini—3.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 785, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "Honored and esteemed members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen, even though this is a mini-session and time is pressing, the President is sure that the members of the Senate would join in an occasion to honor a long time member of the Senate staff, our very good friend, Mr. Charlie Gerold."

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Atwood, Lewis (Harry), Bailey and Mardesich to escort Mr. Gerold to a place of honor upon the rostrum.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "Friends of Charlie Gerold, and that of course includes every member in the Senate, every staff member, every member of the fourth estate and any persons who at any time in their lives have ever had the privilege and the pleasure of meeting Charlie, the friendship that exists between Charlie and me goes back to many, many years. I think perhaps longer than any member of the Senate, because Charlie came up to Queen Anne Hill many years ago and of course our paths crossed early. Charlie has compiled a brilliant career in the field of journalism and has served with the highest distinction in that career, and the President does not have to remind anyone here in the Senate of the value and the qualities of his remarkable contribution to the members of the Senate for many years. Charlie, it is certainly more than an honor and a privilege to have the opportunity to call upon the Secretary of the Senate to read a resolution."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1973-150

By Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Gardner, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, James, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall and Woody:

WHEREAS, On September 1, 1973, Charles A. "Charlie" Gerold submitted his resignation as Chief Clerk for the Republican Caucus; and

WHEREAS, Realizing Charles A. "Charlie" Gerold served faithfully and competently as a member of the House of Representatives of the state of Washington and as Chief Clerk for the Republican Caucus for a period of twenty-three years; and

WHEREAS, During this period of time "Charlie" was well known to all who entered the Senate Chambers; and

WHEREAS, Realizing "Charlie's" enthusiasm and presence served as an inspiration and that his absence will leave a void in the Senate Chambers,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the state of Washington in legislative session assembled, that the Senate congratulates and commends Charles A. Gerold for a job superbly done; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to Charles Gerold.

REMARKS BY SENATOR KNOBLAUCH

Senator Knoblauch: "Mr. President, I say very little on the floor of the Senate but I feel today I should get up and say something. Senator Washington and myself and perhaps Senator Woodall had the privilege of serving with Charlie Gerold in the House in 1950. Our friendship to Charlie goes back a long time. I sit here and look toward the Republican side quite often and I cannot help but notice how Charlie Gerold treats his Republicans like Senators like to be treated. He has been a mother hen to you gentlemen on the other side of the aisle. He has been extremely loyal and extremely respectful to all members of the Senate, and I say that as a member of the Democratic majority. Charlie, you are going to leave a real void in the State Senate. As an employee you have earned our respect and we know you as a good friend. You certainly have earned the tribute, Charlie Gerold, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant..'"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "I would like to pay my respects to Charlie Gerold but I think that Reuben Knoblauch really outdid himself this afternoon. I think this is one of the finest things he has ever said. I think he covered it. I think he said it just right. I cannot think of any way I could improve upon it. I just want to say whatever you said was really right in there, Reuben, and I concur in everything you said fine concerning Charlie Gerold."

REMARKS BY SENATOR TED PETERSON

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Mr. President and members of the Senate and those within reach of my voice, Charlie, I want to say that it is wonderful to see you sitting up front there. When I installed you as President of the Queen Anne Magnolia Lions Club back in the late 1940's I never expected to see this happen to you and I am sure happy that it has. I know from our friendship, and Charlie, you were my first patronage here in the Senate when I came in in 1955 for the 1955 Session, and I know how happy you are and how happy your good wife, Ethel is, and I know how happy you will be up on Whidbey Island there in that beautiful home of yours there and I wish you the best of everything."

REMARKS BY CHARLIE GEROLD

Charlie Gerold: "Honorable Senators, or my boys, as I have called you many, many times, this is very difficult for me to be up here to say my goodbyes, and I know, after hearing all these beautiful, gorgeous remarks about me that if I had a vest on there would not be a button left. I enjoyed the many, many years that I have been here with all my associates. The employees, we have worked together, we have kidded each other together, and I remember a lot of you gentlemen many, many years ago when your hair was not as gray as it is either. I want to thank all of you from the bottom of my heart for this honor that you have given me. It is the greatest thing that ever happened in my life.

"I also want to take this time to thank my wonderful wife, who took a lot when I came up here all these years. We did not know when we were going to quit and when we were going to do this and when we were going to do that, and she is sitting in the gallery and I would like to have her stand up.

"So in closing, I am not going to say goodbye because I will be back off and on. I give you all my best wishes, each and every one of you. God bless you and may you have a long life. Thank you."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "Thank you very much, Charlie. All the members and the President are certainly happy that you did not say goodbye because good friends do not say goodbye. They may say aloha, arivederci, au revoir, auf Wiedersehen, adios, shalom, but never goodbye. And many, many years of happiness to you and your beautiful wife Ethel. Congratulations, Charlie, on a job well done."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "There is one thing I would like to add, I think it would not be remiss at this moment, which comes to my mind. In these times when so many people are greedy and think of what they can get for themselves and some people kind of forget service, it is kind of refreshing to note that this particular man, because he was on social security, was limited how much he could earn in a year. I want you all to know that when our session ran over he said, 'Well, I cannot draw any more pay but I will never leave a job until it is done.' This man stayed on down here for many days at no compensation because he happened to enjoy it; he happened to believe in it; he happened to be doing his thing. And I think in this era of greed where everyone is trying to grab everything they can for themselves it is refreshing to know a man like this."

REMARKS BY SENATOR KEEFE

Senator Keefe: "We never say goodbye to Charlie. We say so long, good friends always meet again."

The President of the Senate, John A. Cherberg, presented an inscribed resolution to Mr. Gerold signed by all members of the Senate.

The members of the special committee escorted the honored guest, Charlie Gerold from the Senate Chamber.

MOTION

At 4:15 p.m., on motion of Senator Bailey, the Senate was declared to be at ease.

EVENING SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 6:00 p.m.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 11, 1973.

MOTIONS

Senator Washington moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendment relating to Central, Eastern and Western Washington State Colleges in Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, if I make the motion that the Senate concur in all of the amendments of the action of the House, which motion would be put first?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The positive motion."

MOTION

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2956.

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "There is only one amendment. We do have joint rules and what I want to know is, would that motion have been in order to begin with? It is all one amendment. It was not put on piecemeal by the House so I do not think you can recede from part of an amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "I know of no rules, either written or otherwise, particularly in this situation. We are operating without rules. I was recognized first. I made the motion and without rules I think it is incumbent that we proceed to debate and vote on the motion which I have made."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President would like to say that Senator Washington's motion is in order but it is of a negative nature for at least a portion of the amendment, whereas Senator Durkan's motion to concur is of a positive nature and is the motion that would tend to bring the houses to a closer understanding. Therefore it would be put first."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I follow the Chair in the ruling and you are probably right, but would it not be logical to accept the fact that Senator Durkan moves we accept the entire House amendment. Senator Washington in effect is amending that portion — forget the negative and the positive. It would seem to me like we would have a right to vote on Senator Washington's amendment, even though I do not happen to be for it, before we voted on Senator Durkan's proposal that we accept the whole bill from the House. In effect, Senator Washington's amendment is kind of an amendment to the report of the House on this bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DURKAN

Senator Durkan: "Speaking to the point of order, it would appear to me that my motion is properly put and should be considered first because if the body votes to accept my motion, it then has voted its decision to accept all of the amendments that the House has put. If the body votes not to accept my motion, then the other motions would be properly in order."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "I think it is rather basic that, as the President stated, anything that tends to bring the houses together and conclude the controversy takes precedent over one that tends to continue it. That is the basic rule. The other part of it is, however, as stated by Senator Atwood, you have one amendment. Now if you have a series of House amendments you could move to concur in some and you could move not to concur in others. But this is a brand new thing that we are bringing up here today that you have one amendment and you can say, 'I move we concur in two lines of it and we do not concur in the third line and then we concur in the fourth line and we do not concur in the fifth line.' That has got to be a brand new procedure and I have never heard of such a thing in thirty years. That you either concur or you do not concur in a House amendment. And if you do not concur, then you go back and you try to get together and you try to work it out. But you cannot concur in part of the same amendment and split it up. Now if there is a series, you can concur in one and not the other, but I think the motion by Senator Durkan is in order and should be acted on."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "Only for reference, I am not at least clearly informed that we have joint rules. I believe the majority leader indicates that we do. Did we adopt joint rules?"

"Calling your attention to Rule 7, I have not had time to go clearly over it, 'In every case of difference between the two houses there shall be a conference.' I do not see any reference that it has to be to an entire amendment."

"If we are bound in this manner we are tying our hands where one house can draft a bill, and it can be done, we could draft any number of bills. There is no ruling that says how you have to section bills. If we have a ruling here that you can only concur or not concur in an entire amendment we have given the other house and they have given us a weapon that we can use with impunity. We can draft long pieces of legislation with no sections, just like the House drafted this long amendment just so we would not, in an effort to keep us from being able to accept what we want to accept and reject what we want to reject. I think we are a body, we are independent and I think we have the right to say, 'In this long multi-page amendment you sent over to us, we are going to accept that part that we want. We are going to reject the part that we do not want and ask you to recede from that part.' I think it is logical. I think it is the only way logically that this type of a legislative body can function."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Washington, the President agrees with your philosophy and so does Reed's Rule 248 which permits a change in one amendment that is passed by one house. The President would like to read 249. I believe that it is generally agreed that a motion to concur takes precedence over a motion to not concur. 249 states, 'To Non-concur. This motion is proper where the House desires unconditionally to reject the amendment of the other House. Even when this motion is pending a motion to concur would be in order, and also a motion to concur with an amendment.' Therefore the President believes, although he agrees with all of the logic, that the motion to concur does take precedence."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "I would like to, when it is convenient, ask Senator Durkan a question. Senator Durkan, we have just had an experience in Spokane where School District 81, because of the failure of a special levy, trying to get by the deadline of the cut off, did cut severely some one hundred and fifteen or sixteen faculty. The courts ruled that the cut off and the notice was not proper and they finally ruled that Spokane would have to go back and hire a number of these teachers and then make restitution and pay for some three hundred and thirty thousand dollars. Do we face, by this type of a cut off, do we face a similar action?"

Senator Durkan: "I cannot answer with any certainty. I do know that the decision of the courts there was based on the fact that the rules and regulations did not provide for an orderly layoff of those employees. I do know that unless this legislature takes action, that December 15 is that deadline by which the board of trustees can act. Now I want to be clear on this so there will be no misunderstanding. It could well be that the sixteen month provision that many professors have could be considered a contract and that this action could be considered an impairment of contract. I do not know the answer to that. I do know that unless we do something now, then there is nothing in January that we can do. I mean that as far as this particular problem is concerned. But I do know there is a solution, if the procedure is clearly laid out and the layoffs are the result of the loss of finances that I read in that decision that they can do it."

Senator Guess: "Thank you very much. With that explanation I think I will have to say that I will have to vote to concur with the bill, Senator Washington."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Would Senator Mardesich yield to a question? I have always been under the impression with the federal funds that you just supplement a program and what you have done today, we are using federal funds to balance the budget, aren't we?"

Senator Mardesich: "I would like to probably respond to that in this manner, Senator Talley. I think back a few months ago when we started talking about reform of this legislature and part of what we were talking about when we were talking reform was the fact that we had lost to the executive and to the bureaucracy all of our power and authority. We said then that we should review, we should study, we should come back and act on the basis of the facts as we saw them after review and study. We said we should come back in September because we knew that the federal government was impounding money. They had said so. And because they had said so, we made appropriations from state funds to programs which we thought were worthy in amounts which we thought were sufficient to carry on those programs.

"Now we have come back with the answers. We divided the work, as it were, early in this year after we left this session. We divided the work between the two Houses because we knew we did not have sufficient time to staff and we knew that it was a short period of time starting from scratch if both Houses were to direct themselves to all the problems. So those of us in leadership assigned to the House the review of the budget and we directed ourselves to other matters, primarily the income tax. If you will recall back, we took a bare bones budget and started it here, sent it over to the House for them to tie on, I am sure with the knowledge of all the leadership and probably everyone in the place, all the results of the studies that had been made by the House committees. Now what has happened. The federal government has released some money. They have released twelve million to the Department of Social and Health Services already. And I do not think, after having listened to Frank Atwood tell me for fifteen years that we ought to do something about these problems and it was, if I remember correctly, Frank Atwood who started to question the unanticipated receipts problem and who last session pointed out that there were three hundred and fifty millions of dollars which were spent by the Governor - only eighty, he says. The other part we knew was coming. We had a good idea that was coming. Eighty that we did not know was coming. And it was spent without one moment of review, spent by the Executive and the Department without one moment of review by this legislature, without one ounce of direction as to what we thought was the proper way for them to proceed, what programs we thought should be carried on or started. We were questioning it then. Senator Atwood was in the forefront of that questioning.

"As a consequence of the action on the part of the Executive and the Department, we today even yet face the possibility that the federals may call back from our general fund that eighty millions of dollars that Senator Atwood was talking about and possibly more. The last figure I heard that there was forty million that they had actually made claims on and that there was a potential sixty million more that they could question. Some six or seven months they had not even concluded the review of. I do not think it will happen but it points out what can happen without a legislative review.

"Well I think we have begun to reassert ourselves. I think we have begun to do what we said we would do last April. We have begun to review. We have begun to tell the departments and the executives, 'We will come back. We want to see what you are doing. It is our position that we do not want to leave that money there and let you spend it in any manner you desire.' I do not think there is anyone here who can question that the department has received some funds over and above the allocation. If we do nothing about it today they can spend it. I say the decision should be up to us and this is what we are doing with respect to that twelve million. We are saying, 'Come back and show us.' The federals have begun to release the moneys. Congress has begun to reassert itself with respect to the impoundment question. With respect to the food stamp question they already have done it. And this is the point. The legislature has finally begun to reassert itself and to make the decisions that they should be called upon to make and it is, gentlemen, highly disturbing to me to hear you say, to hear Republicans say, after years of listening about the wild spending and irresponsibility on our part, now suddenly they are saying, 'Do not worry about them. They will not spend it. Give it all to them and let them do with it what they want. Let us wait until January. They will not do a thing.' Here is your chance to do something for that taxpayer for a change, without changing one program that you have already said is sufficient. Politics, you say, Senator Lewis? Well if that is politics I want to assert a little more of it. If it is up to us to save it for the people I think we ought to come back more often. If two or three days on occasion, and that is all that would be necessary — I am against the full-time legislature and you know it — but if our staff can produce figures for us and if we can come back here on occasion for two or three or four days and save for the people of this state millions of dollars, then I am willing to come back for those two or three days and do it.

"The question of the insult to the Insurance Commissioner, I agree with it. I understand how he must feel. But, gentlemen, if it will save for this state another million, stand up and slap me a few times. I will take the slaps and save the money for the people."

Senator Talley: "I am afraid to ask him another question. But there is a distinct possibility that we could be illegally using twelve million dollars in federal funds. Is that correct?"

Senator Mardesich: "To the best of my knowledge."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, my horoscope today has been most illuminating. I would like to read it to you. 'Take tips from the experience of others and keep listening. There is never an end to discovery.' Well that is what I have been doing all day. I have been listening, and I have been listening for the last three days. In response to Senator Mardesich, this side of the aisle has always been for fiscal responsibility and real budget review, not illusory budget review, Senator. What the House has done is just what we did back in April. We could have done this same thing in April. This whole so-called budget review is illusory. We do not know any more today, except for twelve million, and you have already jerked out more than that, sixteen out of here, we do not know any more today than we did in April on what the federals are going to do. We have no idea how much money we are going to get from the federals. If you want to do real budget review it takes about a week to two weeks taking testimony. We have not heard any facts or anything you could term facts up there, not once. Even Mr. Shinpoch's whole budget is based on guess. It is not a budget review.

"In addition to this, if you want to maintain control on the budget you can build contingencies. But what they have done is they have taken the money right out of the budget and they are going to spend it. They are going to spend it on other programs. I heard Senator Durkan. He has a couple of bills up there, aid to the poor and aid to the elderly. We are going to be back here like Senator Fleming has said, and, Senator, I was one of those who was wrong on that three to one. The SPI convinced us, or the executive OPP&FM convinced us that that was the way to go. We had to come back and stick it back in. Senator Durkan and Senator Dore were there too. Anyway I was one of those who was wrong on that. But what we have here is totally illusory. It is not real truth and in fact budget review.

"Now my objection to this package, this amendment that they have sent over, is based on the fact that we have not any facts, real facts, cold facts, on which to base a decision. I think Senator Durkan feels a little uneasy about this whole thing. I know everyone here should because we are shooting in the dark. I think it is totally precipitous action and we will be back in January and we are going to have to go through this whole thing and we have some time to do it then and really get in. And if there are, in the second year of the biennium, cuts that can be made we can make them and adjust them at that time. But to do it two months into the biennium is ridiculous. It is way premature. It is totally precipitous. If you feel uneasy about the moneys they might spend, build a contingency and maintain control over it in January.

"Now I do think I should address myself to the Western problem. Now in the first place, the Western cut I think is erroneous in the total figure but we had no time in which to take testimony. I agree that if they are not going to have the enrollment, and here is another precipitous action that one point six million could be taken out in January. It does not have to be taken out now. That one point six million comes out of an 06 program for the year, the fiscal year '74-'75, not for this year. We could have directed them in the bill to go down to the faculty staffing level but the fact is that they do not even know what their enrollment is going to be. They are just guessing. They could be four or five hundred above or below. The whole action is premature. And in addition to this, OPP&FM sent me a memo and I think Senator Durkan has seen it, I am not sure that Mr. Shinpoch is correct. They say that he is off by three to four hundred thousand dollars. I do not know. But here you are asking us to take an additional, there may be an error in there. We have no chance to even hear testimony on whether there was an error. The testimony up there by the college today was the fact that they would be six or seven percent below the formula by this. I do not know. And I do not think anybody here on this floor and I do not think Representative Shinpoch can say. He just refused to listen. All I am saying is to you that this time in this nine day session it is ridiculous and it is irresponsible for us to be taking tyis type of action. I can cut just as hard and have cut a lot harder than this. I am not objecting. Not than you, Senator. You are brutal. But what I am saying to you is this, that at this time and at this place it is not responsible government, especially when you do not know the facts. And I do not know. He is guessing. We are guessing here. For that reason I am just not about to take that kind of an action. If you want to do it and do it right, you should have built contingencies and not just slice it out."

On page 2, section 2, line 13, after "bodies" and before "submitting" strike "without" and insert "[without] after".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Matson yield? Senator Matson, if you would be willing to state on this floor that you do not think the people should have the right to vote on this matter I will withdraw the amendment. Would you be willing to make that statement?"

Senator Matson: "No, I do not think the amendment does what you think it does or what you want it to do. I oppose the amendment and I certainly do not oppose the right of people to vote on the floating of revenue bonds, but I do not think that is what your amendment does.”

REMARKS BY SENATOR CANFIELD

Senator Canfield: “Mr. President, I think the record will show I did not get an answer to my question.”

Senator Whetzel: "It says in lines 22 and 23, 'received from the federal government or from private sources.'"

Senator Atwood: "My question directly is, private sources would not include state moneys or local property taxes?"

Senator Whetzel: "No, I do not think it would."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Fleming yield? Senator Fleming, you have been making much of the point that these mayors and councilmen are so responsible. Now who do you think is in the best position to judge whether mayors are competent or not; Senator Rasmussen, who has been one or you, who has never been one?"

Sec. 8. There is hereby added to chapter 218, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and chapter 9.46 RCW a new section to read as follows:

This chapter constitutes the exclusive legislative authority for the licensing and regulation of any gambling activity and the state preempts such licensing and regulatory functions, except as to the powers and duties of any city, town, city-county, or county which are specifically set forth in this chapter. Any ordinance, resolution, or other legislative act by any city, town, city-county, or county relating to gambling in existence on the effective date of this amendatory act shall be as of that date null and void and of no effect. Any such city, town, city-county, or county may thereafter enact only such local law as is consistent with the powers and duties expressly granted to and imposed upon it by chapter 9.46 RCW and which is not in conflict with that chapter or with the rules of the commission."

Sec. 9. Section 28, chapter 218, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.280 are each hereby repealed."

In line 7 of the title, after "and adding" strike the remainder of the title and insert "amending section 20, chapter 218, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46. . . ; adding new sections to chapter 218, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and to chapter 9.46 RCW; and repealing section 28, chapter 218, Laws of 1973, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 9.46.280."

Signed by: Senators Francis, Chairman; Atwood, Dore, Greive, Twigg, Van Hollebeke. The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Francis, the committee amendments to pages 2 and 11 were considered simultaneously and adopted.

Senator Francis moved adoption of the committee amendments to page 12, section 4, lines 12 and 21 simultaneously.

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the committee amendments to page 12, section 4, lines 12 and 21 were adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, the committee amendments to page 12, section 4, line 20 and page 13, section 4, line 5 were adopted.

Senator Francis moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 13, section 4, line 7.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Matson yield to a question? Senator Matson, we are now considering changes in the fun and games law and this is concerned with civic centers but only in first class cities. Your bill would propose that they can use this two cents out of the five cents, or the four and one-half cent sales tax, for construction and costs. This would also limit you that you would not be able to have bingo games in the civic center if it is only related to first class cities."

Senator Matson: "The language in my bill was 'convention centers' and that is what we are interested in, not civic centers."

Senator Rasmussen: "One and the same. All depends on semantics. But are you not interested in seeing that all cities of any size can engage in this activity?"

Senator Matson: "I never really thought about it."

Senator Rasmussen: "Time right now when we are amending the bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "I see something in the paper this morning that is somewhat disturbing to me, that namely, this group of super-brains are proposing some rules and regulations that in order for the Eagles or the Elks or anyone else to carry their games, people are going . . .”

Senator Francis: “Senator Woodall, we just took care of that in the last amendment. We overruled them on that. We just did it.”

Senator Woodall: “You did? That is great.”

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: “To follow your statement to conclusion, Senator Woodall, are you referring to the article that said that you had to get the signature, name and address on each bingo card of anybody that played?”

Senator Woodall: “Yes.”

President Pro Tempore Henry: “I think that is what we have reference to, Senator Francis.”

Senator Woodall: “Did you take care of that part, too?”

Senator Francis: “No, I did not know about that part.”

Senator Woodall: “Let me point out something else to you. Now as Senator Canfield knows, I was connected with a fair for quite a few years, as was he. Now this has got to be the silliest thing in the world. How you can get five people who would pass something so dumb I cannot understand it. I do not know where you hunt to find them. To say that you have got to get the name and address of everyone who buys a bingo card has got to rank with the all-time in stupidity. If they ever give awards for stupidity these people will come in for high honors. You are at a fair. Here are people going down the midway and there is a man saying, ‘Come in, sit down and play bingo and spend two bits. Spend a quarter.’ And they have to stand there and give their name and address in order to spend twenty-five cents. You do not have to give your name and address to spend ten dollars betting on a pari-mutuel, but you have to give your name and address to spend twenty-five cents at a pumpkin fair buying a bingo ticket. Now that is crazy. Now if that has not been taken care of it certainly ought to be taken care of in this bill, because you have for all practical purposes killed bingo off. No one, Senator Canfield, I am sure will bear me out, at a county fair or district fair is going to stand there and sign up, give his name and address to spend a quarter to buy a bingo ticket. Now these five people just plain do not understand or else want to make it impossible. I do not know what. But it is absolutely totally ridiculous. You do not have to give your name and address to buy a ten dollar pari-mutuel ticket and you can buy as many as you want. But they want your name and address to buy a twenty-five cent bingo ticket. Now it is crazy and it will effectively kill off bingo. Now if we do not have that amendment in it, I think we ought to hold it until we can prepare one. But I read the morning paper and that is what they are trying to do, and it certainly ought to be taken care of. If they do not have sense, we ought to have some.”

Senator Francis: “You forgot the part where you say, ‘Don’t you agree with that, Senator Francis? This was supposed to be a question. My answer, and I will not be as lengthy in my answer as Senator Mardesich was yesterday in answer to a question. I am certainly not as eloquent. I think there is a point that you make that is excellent. I will join with you this far. I think we have to serve notice on the Gambling Commission that we are going to be looking hard at this bill again in January and I think that they have to be reasonable about what they are doing. At the same time, it seems to me that there are some very important amendments that we have to pass now in order to pass this bill and I think we ought to get on with what has been worked through the Judiciary Committee and through the hearing process and most of the way through the House, and so I would say that I do not agree with the idea of holding up the bill in order to get at that problem. The particular amendment we are looking at simply allows distribution of punch boards and pull tabs by the commission, basically. It allows them to do that consistent with the rest of the bill and I urge your support of that amendment.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Francis yield to a question? Senator Francis, I heard Senator Woodall ask you a question and I was coming in the wings and I heard Elks and Eagles and I voted 'no' but I do not know what I voted 'no' on. So I want to know, what did that amendment we just adopted do?"

Senator Francis: "The amendment we adopted said, in effect, that although we are encouraging Elks and Eagles and others to eliminate any discrimination in their policies, we are not going to do it by forbidding them to conduct gambling on the premises."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Francis, I appreciate that answer and I am glad I did vote 'no.' I wish I had voted 'no' a little louder, but I agree with Senator Woodall. Maybe we should hold this bill up indefinitely."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Talley: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator Woodall, I understand you are a member of this commission."

Senator Woodall: "No, we are not. We have a voice but no vote. That is why I pointed out the other day in response to a matter of putting some ex-officio members on, I said it is a meaningless sort of thing. We can point out to them their stupidity but we cannot make them vote sensibly."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Trying to hurriedly find that section of the rules for Senator Woodall, I think they did exclude fairs and civic centers and convention centers. They figured Expo '74 would need the money. I think they are excluded in here from the record keeping in regards to prize winners and so forth and the sale of bingo boards."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "I would like someone, possibly Senator Francis if he or Senator Walgren or someone would like to enlarge on that, are fairs exempt from this silly provision of getting the name of every mortal who buys a two bit bingo card? Now it is very important and I would like to know, and if someone who has studied and analyzed the bill can answer that I would certainly like to hear it."

Senator Canfield: "The law as presently written expressly excludes fairs from that particular problem that Senator Woodall mentioned. And if you will read the act, somewhere in it it says that 'Provided that agricultural fairs shall file reports on income from bingo and raffles and amusement games within thirty days after the conclusion of the fair,' and they are not required to receipt and record every player. And that is in the case of bingo, raffles and amusement games. The general law for others is not that way.

I would like to point out, gentlemen, this bill took an awful lot of work by a lot of members of this body and by many others and I do not think the bill is too good, and I think that some of the rulings of the commission may be not healthful. I have sort of felt that perhaps if we had a year's experience or some experience, at any rate, with the act we would know well how to amend it. And I see a number of flaws in the law right now but I have not yet figured out just the best way to meet those objections because my ideas are more or less restricted in building this bill to how they affected agricultural fairs, but I am hopeful that some proper amendments will be made because I feel, as Senator Woodall has expressed, that some of the actions taken are practically confiscatory. May I point out, for instance, that although the law says that a fair may conduct bingo for twelve consecutive days as a limit, our own county, Senator Woodall, put a license fee on our fair in Yakima which amounts to seventy dollars a day to run one bingo game. Seventy dollars a day. And I understand the city of Richland set no license fee. Now I do not know where we are going to get seventy dollars a day to pay a license fee and pay the other expenses and have any kind of a bingo game, so maybe what you say is correct, that a tax can be so onerous that you eliminate the activity. So I do think there are some things that have to be done to correct this bill."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Woodall yield? Senator Woodall, is this rule on the record keeping a part of the law or is it a part of the regulations adopted by your commission?"

Senator Woodall: "Do not call it my commission. Let us get that straight to begin with. The commission, yes. It is not in the law. They adopted that for anyone connected, and if the fairs are exempt, that is fine, but I do not know that fraternal organizations, that anyone connected with the game, anyone, would have to go back and account for all of their activities for ten years gone by and you cannot change the person running the deal without the consent of the commission, which means that if the Eagles or the Elks, any of those, change their president or change their commander or whoever he might be and they put another games chairman in, they have to get permission from these five superbrains to make sure that they are not going to cheat their own members. Now if we were opening up gambling, if we were having public gambling, if we were having gambling like in Vegas and Reno I could see some reason to all of this because then you would be protecting the public. But these people are worried about the Eagles cheating each other and the Elks cheating each other and the Vets cheating each other and the parish priest cheating his parishioners. I mean, this whole thing is stupid. You do not need any protection in those lines. Why do not they just leave these people alone and let them run their own deal?"

MOTION

Senator Bailey moved that Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 be held for further consideration following action on the committee amendments.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, the reason I make that motion, that this is a House bill and I think we can take care of it this evening without any problem. I think Senator Woodall has a point and I also think that Senator Canfield has a bad point as I do not know why we should be taking care of fairs all the time and forgetting the various lodges and nonprofit organizations that hold a little bingo. This is rather ridiculous that we can take care of the one group and we cannot take care of the other. I think the time to do it is now and deliver the message loud and clear down to the commission to let them know that we want a reasonable gambling policy in this state.

"The other thing: I am not willing to monkey with the fees at this time because most of these people, as you recall, when we campaigned for relaxation of gambling in the Constitution kept saying, 'Just give it to us because we can pay enough taxes to do away with school levies and everything else.' Now they are kicking when they get a fee or a license. They want it free now. I think the main thing is that we have some common-sense direction while we still have this bill before us."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Bailey carried. Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 will be considered further on the second reading calendar for this evening following action on the committee amendments.

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the committee amendment to page 13, section 4, line 7 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, the committee amendment to page 16, adding new sections following section 6 was adopted.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 16, following line 17, add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. Nothing in this act shall be construed as prohibiting a non-profit corporation from charging an admission charge not to exceed $5.00 per person for attending an event at which social card games or bingo are conducted."

Senator Woodall moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Bottiger:

After "charge" and before "per" strike "not to exceed $5.00".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Jolly yield? Senator, you are a long-time member of the executive committee of the State Grange and you know in all the granges throughout this state they have been sometimes having little simple bingo games and I am just wondering if you think this amendment will cover that or does it go too far, in your judgment?"

Senator Jolly: "Senator Canfield, I think this amendment will cover it."

Senator Canfield: "Would not this amendment allow a grange to charge anybody, member or not, to come into a grange building to take part in such an event?"

Senator Jolly: "Correct."

Senator Canfield: "And I am wondering if we want to open it that far. Do you think we should?"

Senator Jolly: "As far as that goes, most of our granges, if they give a party they do not bar anyone from coming. They let everyone come, and this amendment, I think, will cover that."

The motion by Senator Woodall carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senator Bottiger was adopted.

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, the following amendment by Senators Francis and Woody was adopted:

On page 16, following line 17, add a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The provisions of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Senator Francis moved adoption of the committee amendment to the title.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woodall: "The motion by Senator Bailey was to hold this on the order of business."

President Pro Tempore Henry: "That is right."

Senator Woodall: "I would not like the adopting of a title amendment to foreclose submitting further amendments to the main bill after we reconvene. I would like the Chair to state your thinking."

RULING BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The Chair rules that as long as it is on second reading, regardless of the adoption of title amendments, the body of the bill is open for amendment."

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On line 9 of the title, after "RCW" and before the period insert "and declaring an emergency".

Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, as amended by the Senate, was ordered held for further consideration this evening.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Grant, Senator Gardner was excused.

THIRD READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2132, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Senators Murray, Fleming and Bottiger):

Providing for a state criminal justice training commission.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Bailey, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132 was returned to second reading.

Senator Bailey moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, section 8, subsection (9), line 7, strike the semicolon and insert the following: “: PROVIDED, That the commission shall not have the power to invest any moneys received by it from any source in the permanent location of a training facility without having first obtained the consent of the Washington state legislature for such permanent location of the training facility;”

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Bailey carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fleming, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: “Will Senator Murray yield? Senator Murray, I have a sympathy with this concept. It was my impression that this bill with the specific site and financing arrangements, was turned down the other day. Now it is back without those things. Is that correct?”

Senator Murray: “That is correct.”

Senator Canfield: “Now I want to be assured that this does not or will not in some way commit us to the very things we turned down a few days ago.”

Senator Murray: “That was the purpose of the amendment that we just adopted. Senator Bailey had exactly the same question. I answered it for the record two days ago. We have just adopted a specific amendment that says the commission cannot secure a permanent site without permission from the legislature.”

Senator Canfield: “Or involve any financing programs?”

Senator Murray: “Any specific operational dollars would have to be in the budget. It would have to come back to the legislature, yes.”

Senator Canfield: “Well, I have been here long enough to know that that can be arranged. I just want to be sure that it is not going to be done against the express action of the legislature.”

Senator Murray: “It is certainly not the intent. I do not even know a way that it could be done.”

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 2; excused, 2.

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1075, by Representatives Kopet and Shinpoch:
Providing for state participation in the federal supplemental security income program.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

September 12, 1973.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1075, providing for state participation in the federal supplemental security income program (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 1, line 10 after the period strike "It is legislative intent that the" and insert "The".

On line 11 after "provide" strike "a general".

On line 11 after "assistance" strike "grant".

On line 15 after "such" strike "benefits" and insert "program".

On page 2, section 4, line 28 after "submitted" strike "for review and comment to" and insert ", and not become effective until approved by".

Signed by: Senators Day, Chairman; Van Hollebeke, Vice Chairman; Clarke, Connor, Francis, Greive, Herr, Jones, Murray, Twigg.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Day, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 11, after "state" insert "shall".

Senator Fleming moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 3, line 10, after "department." insert the following: "The state supplement shall ensure that no recipient becoming eligible for the supplemental security income program after January 1, 1974, will receive less than he would have received if he were on assistance in the month of December, 1973."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Day yield? Senator Day, are you saying that by the use of the words, 'the state shall provide,' I believe it is in section 2, that that in effect does all the things that Senator Fleming has mentioned in his motion and the reasons behind his motion?"

Senator Day: "No, I do not say that it does all the things, but what it does is by changing the language that was sent over by the House, for example, in line 15 we changed it to 'such program' - which would not mean that a person who was eligible for a specific program would had to have been eligible for, say old age assistance. And consequently it has given them a little more latitude in attempting to keep the level of support at the stable height and as high as we can keep it."

Senator Woody: "Thank you, Senator Day."

Debate ensued.

President Cherberg assumed the Chair.

The motion by Senator Fleming failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Lux moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 3, line 10, after "department." insert "The amount of the supplement shall in no instance be less than forty dollars for a single person and sixty dollars for a couple."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? As I read the amendment, and I want to see if you have some interpretation that I am not aware of, it says 'the amount of supplement shall in no instance be less than forty dollars for a single person and sixty dollars for a couple.' If it went up and the federal support went up, how could this in any way lower it?"

Senator Day: "I did not say that it would, Senator. I just said that if the federal support base went up and this mandates that no less support than forty dollars on a single person, let us say the support base is presently one hundred and fifty dollars for a single person and the federal government is providing one hundred and thirty dollars of it and you add forty to that, that would be one hundred and seventy so we would be above the one hundred and fifty, but if the federal support base went up to the one hundred and seventy you still would be mandated to pay the forty dollars under this particular statute, and I do not think that is a good approach to this."

Senator Greive: "Senator, why is that bad?"

Senator Day: "I do not think it would be bad for the recipient but I think that it is possible that what we are attempting to do here now is not to raise to that particular degree subsistence for recipients. What you are doing here is locking in the support level when you do not know what the federal level will consistently be. We know what it is at the moment, what it is projected to be. In addition, Senator Lux has pointed out that thirty-nine counties, you have different support levels, dependent on the area the recipient is in, and you have a flat level of support here. It would be great for people up in Pend Oreille County but it probably would not be enough in King County."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator Day, since you are interested and you are worried about the level that the federal government would either go up or down, would you mind if we held this bill a minute and we amended this amendment to be flexible where there is a portion thereof whereas we would not get out of line but we would still try and accomplish the thing that we are doing, and would you support such an amendment?"

Senator Day: "Senator Fleming, in answer to that, that is exactly the intent that Senator Lux stated that he had a minute ago. He said this should be easy to do administratively. And what we are attempting to do in both of these amendments is to take away the ability of the department to make the administrative decision. So what we are doing is trying to mandate levels of payment into the bill and, of course, that is not what we want to do. Now as I said before, I believe this is wrong. I think it is the wrong way to attempt this. I think what we should do is leave this open as it is and then if they do not meet the requirements that this legislature feels they should meet relative to this, I will stand right up here and support amendments to make them do it. I believe they will do it if they have an opportunity. But what we are doing here is writing an amendment that says that the supplement will be a flat amount which you do not know what that is going to do to the level. It may give more to some people than it does to others."

Senator Fleming: "Further on that same question, Senator Day, if we do not do that, how are we professing to cut back their flexibility on that because they can do whatever they wish?"

Senator Day: "That is right. With applicants after January 1 they will be able to do whatever they wish, but I am certain of this, that it is going to be very difficult for the department when we are here in January to substantiate not doing what they had the capability of doing and what this legislature intends them to do, and that is have equity in these payments. And I just think that if you give them as much freedom to utilize the different programs as they can that you will find that there will be equity an that everyone that is standing up here is really arguing for the same thing."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Will Senator Day yield? Senator Day, if we determine that the amendment as suggested by Senator Lux is necessary, is there any prohibition in January that would not permit us to go ahead and do this?"

Senator Day: "Absolutely none."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Will Senator Day yield to a question? At the present time, is the level of state support lower or higher than Senator Lux's amendment, or is that so variable that you cannot answer that question?"

Senator Day: "That is right. It is generally lower but it is much lower in some areas and it is a flexible thing, as he pointed out in his own argument. It varies, depending upon the demands. The department in their present categorization system attempts to meet the demands in the specific areas and so there is a great variance. Now that is why flat figures are just unworkable."

Senator Washington: "Senator Day, also one other question. I think most of our feelings are that if the federal government would completely take over old age, that it would be an excellent form of revenue sharing and that it would then free other revenue that we have for other purposes. And if that were done I can see then why the state would not want to be putting money into these categories. But until that time I can see Senator Lux's point of view that we should have some underpinning. Now is not there some way that his amendment could be itself amended so that it could be effective until the federal government does really take over and relieves us of responsibility with old age assistance?"

Senator Day: "It is my understanding that the federal government is going to take over and that is what this bill is about. It implements their take-over as of January 1. Now it is also my understanding that after January 1 that the recipient will receive one check. Now there is going to be a certain amount of impact to this and we are getting into discussion of the bill rather than the amendment, but the impact is going to come there because there are a number of people in this state who are on social security benefits who get a benefit check which is slightly less than they would be entitled to on public assistance but because of pride or some other reason they do not accept and go down and file for public assistance but that they will automatically now receive one check from the federal government and it will be up to the states to supplement the difference, so there is going to be a fiscal impact relative to that too, Senator."

Senator Washington: "But the point is, the federal government has not completely stepped in yet."

Senator Day: "Yes, they have stepped in in the following categories: This means that the federal government will govern the program in aid to the blind for money grants only, old age assistance, Title I money, sixty-five years and over for money grants only, and disability assistance, that is Title XIV money for totally and permanently disabled. They will run the program relative to the support program. So they are going to run it."

Senator Washington: "But it seems to me if we are still going to continue to have state support . . ."

Senator Day: "But you do not understand. You see, we are not going to have state support on an individual basis. The Department of Public Assistance is not going to be sending individual checks."

Senator Washington: "I see that but we are . . ."

Senator Day: "They are either going to deduct it from federal moneys we receive or we are going to write a check to the federal government which is then going to send the entire check to the recipient, and that is why if we had gotten into all those individual calculations it would have rendered the bill useless and that is what it would have done."

Senator Washington: "That point I can see, but we still, even though we are not doing it on an individual basis, the state is still spending a large amount of money for old age assistance. I am looking forward to the time when the state is not going to be putting money into old age assistance but that the federal government is going to do it, and I think the only place where I see the complication is where the federal government steps in and then we have been mandated a state support, and I think Senator Lux's amendment could be made more flexible."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lux: "Would Senator Day yield? Senator Day, could I ask you the question, would it be possible that these people that go on after January 1, would the payments be caught up some way? Would this be retroactive? Would these payments, if they were less and you gentlemen did not get around to revamping this bill, these would be retroactive?"

Senator Day: "Yes."

Senator Lux: "Thank you."

The motion by Senator Lux failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment by Senators Day and Atwood was adopted:

On page 3, line 12, after the period insert a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act for those individuals who have been receiving supplemental security income assistance and failed to comply with federal requirements relating to drug abuse and alcoholism treatment and rehabilitation shall be required to reapply for state assistance programs to be eligible for state assistance."

Renumber the remaining section consecutively.

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed House Bill No. 1075, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1075, as amended by the Senate, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2983, by Committee on Social and Health Services (endorsed by Senators Day, Van Hollebeke, Clarke, Murray, Jones, Connor, Herr, Keefe, Twigg and Francis):

Amending the definition of "dependent child".

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Day, Senate Bill No. 2983 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Matson, Senator Whetzel was excused.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Day yield? It is very interesting but what does the bill do in definition?"

Senator Day: "Senator Woodall, the bill relates to the payment of support for minors eighteen to twenty-one, dependent children eighteen to twenty-one. Now you will recall here last session we passed a bill which addressed itself to the support of a formerly minor over eighteen who then could finish high school. We find after a couple of court cases that we are mandated to pay for all kinds of schoolings through twenty-one years of age or up to twenty-one years of age, and consequently, it is necessary to pass this to differentiate and to not put the state in a position where it has to support a twenty year old going to college."

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR DURKAN

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, in answering Senator Fleming, I would like to just explain to the Senate the problem that we are faced with. We passed, in the last session of the legislature, a measure which we thought would take care of those eighteen year old boys and girls in high school and we put them on general assistance and we thought at the time that this would permit them to graduate from high school and we also said that we gave them one year leeway. The measure was taken to court and the judiciary decided, right or wrong, that not only were the children entitled to high school education but under AFDC that they were also entitled to support from the state Department of Public Assistance until they were twenty-one. Now this is exactly what we are talking about. No disrespect to Senator Fleming. He was one of the great sponsors, and so was I, of those who wanted the eighteen year old amendment. And I talked about it and worked for it and voted for it and I supported it. Now what we are really saying is that those children who have reached the age of eighteen and want to go on beyond high school and want to go to college that it is the responsibility of the state to support them until they are twenty-one in receiving these payments. I do not think anyone can fault me on my support for the poor or the needy but somehow it seems contradictory to me, Senator, that when they have reached the age of eighteen which they have asked for to be independent that they still want to come back and ask the state of Washington to support them while they go to college. And this is what this bill is all about.

"This bill says, in effect, that once they have reached the age of eighteen, we still have the law that we passed in January that permits the graduation from high school and I am for that. I think we should have it. But I do not think that the state of Washington has any responsibility to support them to go on through college in this manner which they are asking. The fiscal impact is five million dollars. It is two and one-half million dollars in state funds and it is approximately a fifty percent match in federal funds. I could support most measures but somehow I think that if these young men and women want to be independent at eighteen we should do everything we could to encourage them. And one of those things in encouraging them is not to support them with taxpayers' money to attend college and therefore I think this bill is very necessary at this time and would hope that the Senate would support it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Senator Durkan is making more sense all the time. I quite agree, it is rather ridiculous to say, 'I am an adult for purposes of voting. I am an adult to make contracts. I am an adult for all other purposes but I am a baby on this point.' I would like to make one query. Does this bill relieve a parent from an arrogant child that refuses parental discipline, refuses to take orders from their parents, does the bill relieve a parent from having to continue to contribute to the support of a child that will not stay in school and will not mind the parent and may make some uncomplimentary remarks concerning the parent? Does this eliminate the duty of a father to pay money to an arrogant insubordinate who will not listen to him?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, in answer to Senator Woodall's question, I think that the department was holding an administrative rules proceeding either this month or last month in which they were going to give that child support, and I think they have adopted that rule. I am not sure. Maybe Senator Day knows. They were going to do that by administrative rules procedure."

Senator Day: "Mr. President, Senator Woodall's question, the answer to it is that this bill directs itself to a child in need under the age of eighteen who has been deprived of parental support."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "My query was this, and perhaps the bill takes care of it. Here is a child that refuses to stay home, refuses to do what the parents want, and then goes and applies for welfare. Now if I understand the present law once the welfare gives it to the child they can come back on the parent and make the parent reimburse them what they gave this insubordinate rebellious child who would not stay home and listen. Now does this law then make it so that in the future the department still can come back on the parent of a child eighteen to twenty-one if the child goes and applies for welfare? Can you make the parent pick up the tab? If you can, it ought to be changed."

Senator Day: "I think the answer to Senator Woodall's question is no, that this takes that particular child out from under the direction of the department and the responsibility of the department."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Grant: "Will Senator Day yield? Senator Day, I cannot quite understand this digest of the bill. It is my understanding from the remarks of Senator Durkan that those between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one who otherwise would have been eligible would not be eligible now as a result of the passage of this, but the digester's note indicates that there is a fiscal impact of three million one hundred sixty-nine thousand dollars, of which one million four hundred and eighty-five thousand would be the state's share. I cannot understand whether or not, first of all, that is additional cost to the state? If so, why, if there are less people eligible?"

Senator Day: "I will take another run at it here for you. The correct fiscal note is four million seven hundred and eighty-two thousand dollars; two million five hundred and forty from the federal government and two million two hundred and forty-one from the state government. That is the correct fiscal note. Now that is the impact if this bill is not passed. You see, we passed a bill here in 1973, it came out of my committee with full support of the committee, to see that there was continuing dependent child support for a young person in high school, and they have had a court interpretation since which mandates that that extend support through twenty-one for pursuit of college. And that was not the intent of the committee and of course you can see where the additional fiscal impact came from. So it is definitely necessary in order for the intent of the 1973 legislation in January to succeed. Actually, what will happen, I believe, if this does not pass we will have to come back here next time and wipe out the good intentions of the last bill which would see a young person through high school and we do not want that to happen."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? Senator Day, I am wondering since you are an expert on this bill and also on 753, would it or is it a fact that even if we passed this bill that we are talking about now, are there still people, young people going to college, students, that would still be covered and we would have to provide aid as a result of House Bill 753 that we had passed before?"

Senator Day: "The answer to that is no, because there are some eligibility requirements in 753, which the Attorney General says that he hangs his hat on, will not allow that to happen. Now of course anybody can sue and go to court and it is possible that that will be turned around. However, if it is, at least this will protect us in the meantime and then when the court decides, we will have the right language to put in here to make sure that we can continue to see that young people can finish high school. And that is what the original intent of the legislation was."

Senator Fleming: "Did I hear you right when you said that you had an Attorney General's opinion?"

Senator Day: "No, I said we had a verbal consultation with the Attorney General in the Department and he feels . . ."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Day, not trying to belabor this, but normally in a case like this when we have such a controversial matter as this in that it has already been to court and so forth, before we proceed in such haste, do not we usually try to get an Attorney General's opinion, a written one?"

Senator Day: "Of course that is true if we were down here for a sixty-day session. We are not. We are hoping to wrap this up tomorrow. It is obvious we cannot get a written opinion, so the only alternative I see for us to protect ourselves relative to this is to pass this piece of legislation, to take the verbal opinion we have and I think we ought to pass it out of here and get on with this business."

Senator Fleming: "One final question and I will stop. We did in this legislature, be it the House or Senate, I assume begin to study this issue before the last couple of days. They did in the House consider this issue."

Senator Day: "We have had this issue under discussion since we passed the 1973 legislation."

Senator Fleming: "Okay. It would seem like we could have had an Attorney General's opinion."

Senator Day: "Of course it was not necessary until after the recent, very recent court decision."

Senator Fleming: "But there was a question of it even before then."

Senator Day: "Of course there is always a question but the question is not something that you answer until it is raised by someone and then when it is in the courts you certainly do not go over and ask an Attorney General's opinion until after the decision has been reached."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate commenced consideration of Senate Bill No. 2959.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2959, by Senator Durkan:

Providing for a system of property tax exemptions.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Durkan, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2959 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 was made a special order of business for 8:00 p.m. this evening.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2978, by Senators Murray, Washington and Talley:
Establishing a program of baseline studies by the department of ecology.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Washington, Senate Bill No. 2978 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Washington yield to a question?"

Senator Washington: "Yes, I will yield. If I have trouble with it I will give it to Senator Murray, who is on the Oceanographic Commission."

Senator Rasmussen: "So am I. That is why I am wondering. You do not learn anything there either, by the way. Of course I have not been on too long. Senator Murray has more wisdom. I would like to find out though, this base line study that you say sets guidelines, in scanning this bill I actually can see no guidelines but assuming that they do establish a base line study and that they go to the bottom of the bay and all the shorelands surrounding."

Senator Washington: "It does provide, of course, as a priority matter they are to study the areas of the Sound that would be most likely to have problems with oil spills."

Senator Rasmussen: "That relates to my question. Are they to determine what damages, potential damages from an oil spill so that a property owner could use this base line for a suit in court?"

Senator Washington: "Yes. That is really the basic reason for it. As far as the state is concerned, of course, in order to take care of the penalties that we have in our oil spill bill. But we provide here that it will be a multi-purpose information and the information would be available for landowners to use in the event of a suit."

Senator Rasmussen: "I am not alone thinking of landowners. What I am thinking now is that the Department of Ecology is charged with making this study and then the Department of Ecology will also use this study that they have made to assess the fines that they have the power to assess."

Senator Washington: "Yes, they could use it for that purpose. One of the major reasons, of course, is that at the present time you do not know the quality of the water and if there is a major oil spill, if you attempted to enforce the penalty provisions you would not be able to prove your case in court because you have to establish what the condition of the thing that is damaged, what its condition is prior to the damage and then you have to assess the damage later and then try to assess a monetary amount of money. Now our problem is, at the present time you could show that after the oil spill you have much loss in the organisms in the water. You can tell what the condition is after the spill but you do not have any evidence to show what it was before the spill. This is what the base line study is designed to assist in."

Senator Rasmussen: "I was wondering of the ethics of it of the department making the study, determining the base line, and then also using the base line that they had determined as a position from which to go for the assessment of penalties. Whether rather it should be an independent group is my thought."

Senator Washington: "Of course they are the agency of the state. I think your information would be of a scientific nature. Senator Murray might supplement my answer."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MURRAY

Senator Murray: "Mr. President, I would like to point out a couple of things. This, number one, sets the parameters of what will be determined and comes from the scientific community that makes up the Oceanographic Commission. At the last meeting of the Oceanographic Commission we did make a recommendation as to the definition of what base line studies should be and what the priorities would be. That is what is incorporated in this bill.

Now I would like to point out two things that might help answer your question, Senator Rasmussen. One is that the area of investigation to determine base lines, at the top of page 3, says 'will include chemical, physical and biological parameters of the waters. Complete information on marine pollution accidents, and economic evaluation' and so on. Then it also goes down, in the last section, section 4 on page 3, to state the priorities which should be assigned to the money that will be used and that we have appropriated in the appropriations bill. The number one priority is to get the base line studies, the facts and figures of the chemical, physical and biological parameters of the areas in which we have the greatest risk of damage from oil spills. Secondly, 'which contain marine and fresh water life which would be particularly sensitive to marine oil spills,' and third, to find out the information that might be of economic value for the development of marine life, specifically fish farming type of activities. Now all of these things are included in base line studies. I think the point that we do want to make and we want to establish is that the number one priority now for the allocation that we have granted is for the purpose of taking things in a priority order that is defined in section 4.

"Now another factor that I think should be pointed out in partial answer to your question, that this grants the Department of Ecology to work with, 'the department shall contract with existing state agencies, boards, commissions and institutions of higher education for the scientific investigation program to be conducted.' I think it is quite important to point out that probably the actual work will not be done by the Department of Ecology but will probably be done by other state agencies who have the scientific personnel, the expertise and the equipment to make this kind of investigation. So that they will not be making the rules and then imposing the fines in the same agency."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "I would like to answer one other point to Senator Rasmussen in his concerns about hat. I think that I have been as much concerned about this problem as anybody on the committee and to me I think we are doing that phase of the operation that is necessary in connection with oil spill. I have had a great fear that we would have a major oil spill and somebody would be assessed penalties far beyond the capability of our people to know what they were assessing on. And if we do have the conditions, we know what the marine life is, we know the biological makeup of the ocean floor and the ocean waters, then I think that we can have an orderly way of making a determination. Particularly, I would remind you of the fact that they had a tremendous spill down at Santa Barbara and there were people who claimed that the sea life would never be the same. Actually, after a period of about three years it was very difficult to tell down there what had happened or if there was any residual effect. But without some kind of a means or an index, a cataloging of what we have, you cannot make a proper determination as to what the restitution should be. So I support this measure and I think that it is taking us in the direction that I would like to see the state go."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 2978, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

On page 4, section 4, line 28, after "benefit" insert "of three percent for each complete year that such employee is under fifty-five years of age".

On page 4, section 4, beginning on line 33, after "benefit" strike all material down to and including "employment" on line 2, page 5, and insert "in a calendar year following a calendar year in which their employment income was in excess of $6,000. This $6,000 base shall be adjusted annually beginning in 1974 by such cost of living adjustments as are applied by the Public Employees' Retirement System to membership retirement benefits".

On page 6, section 9, line 15, strike "until and including September 14, 1974" and insert "for employees of those state facilities closed after May 1, 1973 and prior to September 14, 1974", and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Peterson (Lowell) moved the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2603.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Is there any change on the age of that pension? Fifty-five? Is there any change in that section?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Page 4, section 4, Senator Dore. On line 28, after 'benefit' the House amendment states, insert 'of three percent for each complete year.' Three percent of each complete year that such employee is under fifty-five years of age. In other words, they did make a change in it, but they did not lower it back."

Senator Dore: "What is the change?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "I just read it."

Senator Dore: "They cannot get pension benefits until they are fifty-five. If they take it at forty-five they have to have it based on an actuary basis. It is discounted."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "That is right."

Senator Dore: "How did they change it? What is the change?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "It would read that they would be eligible to retire with an actuarial reduction in the amount of his pension benefit of three percent of each calendar year that such employee is under fifty-five years of age."

Senator Dore: "How does that compare with the way the bill went out of the Senate, in terms of dollars?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "I think it refers to the Whetzel amendment but it does not substantially change it, does it? It does not appear to me that it does."

Senator Dore: "I do not know. That is what I am asking."

MOTION

At 5:15 p.m., on motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate recessed until 8:00 p.m. this evening.

EVENING SESSION

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 14, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has passed the veto of HOUSE BILL NO. 356 of the First Extraordinary Session of the 43rd Legislature, notwithstanding the veto of the Governor, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DONALD R. WILSON, Assistant Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Knoblauch moved that the Senate do pass House Bill No. 356, notwithstanding the Governor's veto.

REMARKS BY SENATOR KNOBLAUCH

Senator Knoblauch: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, just a few months ago both Houses here passed a measure which would place Memorial Day and Veterans' Day back to the old dates that we had celebrated for so many years. I do not know how I can find the words to try and dramatize the need to put these two dates back to May 30 and November 11. These two dates are tributes to our veterans and I wish I could take you to Madigan Hospital in the Christmas season to let you visit with some of these men who gave so much in Viet Nam, or to take you to the Veterans' Hospital in Tacoma, to let you see and talk to men who fought in many of our wars. The change in dates, I would assume and I suppose I could say feel sure, were changed by the tourist industry, who wanted to have long holiday weekends. Is it asking too much that we in America go back to the old dates, the dates that mean so much to many of us. May 30, a date as long as I can remember that we put aside to honor our war dead. November 11, I can remember since a young lad a day in Sumner when we set aside a special evening to honor those men who fought in World War I.

"You know, thirty-one states in our nation have gone back to both of the old dates or to one. Many of those states are large states and they realized that the people of their own areas want to go back to the old dates and honor our war veterans. Some people in America have forgotten those who gave so much. Memorial Day is no longer a day to remember the war dead. It is a time to go out on the highways and to have more accidents and to forget about those who gave so much. Are the veterans in America and their families asking too much when they ask the Senate and the House of the state of Washington to have Memorial Day on May 30 and Veterans' Day on November 11? I do not intend to criticize the Governor for his veto. I simply want to say that the veterans in my area and the veterans' organizations throughout the state of Washington have asked us men, and women of the House, to make this change. No, I do not think the veterans of the state of Washington are asking too much.

"I am hopeful tonight that the members of the Senate will remember those men and women who gave so much that we can enjoy freedom. And then we have these two days we have so long observed put back on our state calendar again. I hope that you members of the Senate will vote for this measure tonight to let the veterans of our state know that we remember and that we care."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think that Senator Knoblauch probably made all the speech that is necessary in regards to the issue that is going to be before us. I just wanted to add a little bit. Thirty states, this article says, now set to observe Veterans' Day on November 11. And since this was printed, Illinois has adopted the change so there will be thirty-one states now. In addition to that, if it was not enough for the honoring of the veterans and those who have served their country, this is the birthday of the forty-second state, the state of Washington, and it says the Constitution was ratified by the people at an election held on October 1, 1889, and on November 11, 1889, in accordance with section 8 of the enabling act, the President of the United States proclaimed the admission of the state of Washington into the Union. One of my constituents, after the Governor had vetoed the bill, wrote to remind me of that, and that alone would be enough reason to honor the day of November 11. But Senator Knoblauch has given you many more reasons and I urge you to vote to override the veto and move the dates back to November 11 and Memorial Day to May 30. I urge your support."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "Holidays, Mr. President and members of the Senate, holidays are next to holy days because the first holidays we ever had were holy days. They were days that had a specific significance. That is why we had them. The first holidays we ever had were holy days, Sundays, Christmas, Easter. They were holy days, and holidays are right next behind holy days because they have a significance. Now I can remember as a youth, and I at this time want to pay tribute to the fine remarks of Senator Knoblauch, for whatever we may think of his philosophy on any measure or wherever we may have differed, there is none in this room that has ever doubted this man's love of America or his patriotism. Never. And if there is anything that needs to illustrate the importance of returning these dates to something of significance I think we all witnessed last time the despicable display of arrogancy when we were honoring a man who happened to be from my county, but that is immaterial, he was from America, who had done seven and one-half years in a prisoner of war camp, and two slobby, fat, braless women sat arrogantly in the gallery and refused to stand in tribute to him. And you all heard Representative Pardini explain what he thought about them and when they came over here you listened when Senator Knoblauch told them what he thought about them and their conduct. And that stands as mute testimony to the need to return these days and make them significant, not just a long weekend to run up more statistics on accidents. That there is a reason for them. That the youth should commemorate.

"I can recall when I was in school people from the Legion would come up to the high school and we would on November 11 have an assembly or if there was a football game we would stand and pause and pay tribute and we were reminded that a lot of great men died or got shot or got hurt because they happened to believe in certain things. And now some people think it is more important to have a long weekend than to remember why we are doing these things. And I say that it is time that we return and remember why we do it.

"I had a grandfather who fought in the Civil War. He got injured. He died when my mother was age three. And we used to recall every Memorial Day. It had a significance. It had a tender significance to us because someone who was connected with us had passed away fighting for his country. These things are important and they are vital and to say that the commercialism of the era, you may as well put Christmas another place and say that Christ should take second place to commercialism. Patriotism should take second place to commercialism or vacationism. I say it is high time to say there are certain basic values which are much more important than the long pleasure weekends. So I join with Senator Knoblauch, Senator Rasmussen in their hope that this Senate will rise up and say, 'We place love of country over love of a long weekend.'"

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 12, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has passed ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2967, with the following amendments:

On page 2, section 3, line 16 after "committee" and before "shall" insert "and one member of the minority party from each house".

On page 2, section 4, line 30 after "usage" strike the semicolon and insert ". In developing its recommendations the committee should consider the economic, social and environmental impact of a curtailment and/or allocation program;"

On page 5, section 8, beginning on line 7 after "governor," strike "may be specifically exempted by the governor" and insert "shall be exempted", and the same are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Walgren moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "I wonder if Senator Walgren would explain the import of the amendment by Representative Perry changing the 'may be specifically exempted' to 'shall exempt from the state Environmental Policy Act.' Does not that mean that the Governor would have no discretion, that in fact by passing the Perry amendment we are exempting all of these acts from the Environmental Policy Act?"

Senator Walgren: "We are, that is correct, Senator Whetzel. We are indeed specifically exempting that particular provision, the Environmental Protection Act, during the emergency period that may be declared by the Governor. That, as a matter of fact, was in our original draft of the legislation as we were considering it in the committee and it got changed to 'may' as we were proceeding there through the process and was corrected over in the House."

Senator Whetzel: "What would be the import of this? Would that mean that there could be during this period when this act is in effect, that certain actions could be taken without regard to the Environmental Policy Act that normally would require that?"

Senator Walgren: "Specifically, we were interested in the requirement to have an environmental statement prepared and that was of great concern during an emergency period, and of course this is only going to go into effect once there had been an emergency declared."

Senator Whetzel: "Mr. President, I have no objection to the first two amendments by Representative Berentson and the joint amendment by Representatives Charnley and Kraabel but I think the language when it left the Senate, 'may' is a much better way of handling this than specifically and completely exempting these actions. What I am concerned about, and I do not know whether this is the kind of situation that would come up or not but, for example, there is a great controversy whether Ross Dam should be raised or not. I presume that that has passed beyond the stage that it is probably not any longer under the Environmental Policy Act, but suppose it had not been. Are we, by passing this bill with this provision in it, allowing all kinds of projects that might quickly be authorized under these emergency powers, even though they might never come into construction for years later and bypass the procedure that we set up in the Environmental Policy Act, and I find that I do not really have any answer on that question. I am concerned that we should not allow any discretion in that and therefore I feel compelled to vote against the concurrence on the Perry amendment and if the Senate concurs with it, I shall vote against the bill."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Walgren carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2967.

Debate ensued.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 487, by Committee on Commerce (originally sponsored by Representatives Johnson, Kalich and Ellis):

Changing the definitions relating to lotteries.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487 as amended by the Senate earlier today.

On motion of Senator Bailey, the following amendment to the committee amendment was adopted:

On page 13, section 4, line 27 after "cities" insert "or non-charter code cities" and after "city" insert "or non-charter code city".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Senator Francis, I would like to ask you two or three questions. I read in the paper only this morning where they were proposing that anyone, anyone, and that refers to club members, lodge members, Legion members, parish members, anyone who would have anything to do with a bingo game would have to give a ten-year rundown on his life in order to be in it, or if you got elected president of the Eagles or Elks, you would then have to file all this on yourself, which of course is as ridiculous as it is obnoxious. To say that if your own order wants to elect you, that you then have to have five people over here check your life for the last ten years to see if the particular lodge was proper in electing you. Now what I want to know is, have we corrected that? Have we taken that facet out of it?"

Senator Francis: "Senator Woodall, you were present in the meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee in which we considered the House amendments and added amendments from the Senate. As you recall, the Senate expert is Senator Twigg, the House expert is Representative Kuehnle. Both of them helped create what is now found in RCW 9.46, and all amendments here go to section 7, which is RCW 9.46.070 setting forth the powers and duties of the commission. And in that section we, in effect, direct them to make sure that gambling is run in a proper way in this state. Now I have not seen the amendments that you are talking about. You have mentioned that you are an ex-officio member of the commission. I take it you have watched them carefully and you have watched what they have been doing. I have not seen their recommendations. I have heard about them. This bill that we are getting at corrects things that we have known about, that we have needed to get at and that we have been working on for the last two months, trying to improve this law. As far as trying to override what they are doing in their regulations, we have not gotten at that in any respect in this bill. And in that sense we certainly are not taking care of the problem, as you put it. I do not think we can do it that quickly. I think we ought to, if we are going to overrule them on what their regulations are, have some hearings and ought to listen to their reasons for, as well as the reasons against, and make some careful decisions. But I do not think that that, which I agree with you is a very worthwhile effort, should interfere with our passage of this bill tonight that has some very excellent and very needed amendments."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, as amended by the Senate, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Saturday, September 15, 1973.

Renumber the remaining sections.

On page 1, line 9 of the title, after "41.32.580;" and before "and" insert "amending section 31, chapter 80, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 9, chapter 150, Laws of 1969 ex. sess. and RCW 41.32.310;"

On page 1, line 9, of the title, after "41.32.580;" and before "and" insert "section 57, chapter 80, Laws of 1947 as last amended by section 5, chapter 151, Laws of 1967 and RCW 41.32.570;"

On page 1, line 9, of the title, after "41.32.580;" and before "and" insert "amending section 5, chapter 147, Laws of 1972, 1st ex. sess. and RCW 41.32.583;"

Signed by: Senators Durkan, Chairman; Donohue, Vice Chairman; Odegaard, Vice Chairman; Atwood, Bailey, Fleming, Gardner, Grant, Marsh, Peterson (Ted), Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

With the consent of the Senate, Senator Durkan commenced explanation of all amendments proposed by the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate Ways and Means Committee amendment to page 7, line 31 be withdrawn.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "I just want to be sure that Senator Durkan has the right amendment removed."

Senator Durkan: "Senator Canfield, on page 7 of the bill, beginning with line 20 and the word 'PROVIDED,' I would move that we strike all the underlined material through line 30."

Senator Canfield: "Before we vote on that, would Senator Durkan yield to another question? Senator, I was under the impression that the amendment on page 3, subsection 3, was the amendment under question. I would appreciate it if you could check that before we vote."

Senator Durkan: "No, absolutely no, Senator. That is not correct. That applies to elected public officials."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Engrossed House Bill No. 1121, together with the pending committee amendments, was ordered placed at the end of the second reading calendar for this evening.

SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

SECOND READING

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2959, by Committee on Ways and Means (originally sponsored by Senator Durkan):

Providing for a system of property tax exemptions.

The time having arrived, the Senate commenced consideration of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959.

Senator Durkan moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 8, section 6, line 8 strike all of subsection (4) and substitute the following:

"(4) "Nonprofit" means an organization, association or corporation no part of the income of which is paid directly or indirectly to its members, stockholders, officers, directors or trustees except in the form of services rendered by the organization, association, or corporation in accordance with its purposes and bylaws and the salary or compensation paid to officers of such organization, association or corporation is for actual services rendered and compares to the salary or compensation of like positions within the public service of the state;"

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Will Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator, the hospital I want to ask you about is a hospital I do not represent but I have run across it simply because it turned up in a case, a similar case when I was doing some research. This particular hospital is one where the hospital building itself is owned by a trust, an insurance company in the East, but it is rented on a long term lease by a nonprofit corporation and operated as such. Now the case that I ran across happened in King County and it was a legal action, this is actually all a matter of public record, a legal action brought against Mr. Hoppe and which the court held that this was a nonprofit hospital. Now would this particular set of circumstances exempt this particular hospital?"

Senator Durkan: "No, it would not. But the next amendment which is going to be proposed by myself will."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Perhaps my question is, Senator Durkan, the question that has come to me most often is whether or not in our exemptions where a number of churches allow part of the church facilities, usually the church basement, to be utilized for a day care center and there was some possibility that the way the bill was drawn that they would lose their exemption."

Senator Durkan: "It is exempt."

Senator Washington: "Under the bill or under an amendment?"

Senator Durkan: "Under the bill. It is the only thing new that is exempt, day care centers."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Durkan yield? Senator Durkan, under this bill how about church parsonages?"

Senator Durkan: "They are exempt to the extent that they are occupied for the purposes of the church."

Senator Woodall: "In other words, if a preacher like Billy Graham or someone else lives in one of those, he gets it tax free, irrespective of what his total salary for the year is. Is that correct?"

Senator Durkan: "We have restrictions on salaries. Senator, this bill has been drawn as tight legally as this committee could do. We have rejected everything that is liberalizing any tax exempt property. We have drawn it so tight that there have been objections from those people who would benefit from more liberalized portion of the bill."

Senator Woodall: "That is not exactly an answer. I said . . ."

Senator Durkan: "Parsonages are exempt."

Senator Woodall: "In other words, if Billy Graham gets sixty grand a year he lives in a tax free house under this bill, or any of the other successful evangelists, and someone else earning a lesser income has to pay real estate tax on their home. Is that correct?"

Senator Durkan: "That is correct, but any person, Senator, whether they get sixty thousand or six thousand or six hundred, if they live in what is a parsonage, is exempt."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "I would like to ask Senator Durkan if in the instance of a church where the church has the dining room and the kitchen facilities and senior citizens are preparing meals for those senior citizens who are house ridden, if this would in any way endanger the church property."

Senator Durkan: "They are exempt."

Senator Guess: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Senator Durkan, just so we will get this on the record, I think I know the answer but I do want to put this question to you. We have a situation in West Seattle, which is my district, where a group is under the auspices of the Seattle Community College. They conduct a day care center. It is a part of the instruction where they actually have a teacher who is employed by the community college to come and instruct them, and they conduct this day care center and the instruction inside a church. Now it has been recently ruled by Mr. Hoppe that the entire church property, because they rent it to them and they only pay enough to take care of the utilities, so I have been informed, must pay taxes. Is it your understanding that they would be . . ."

Senator Durkan: "I feel they are exempt."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 8, section 7, line 31, after "exemption" and before the semicolon insert "PROVIDED, That the provision of this subsection shall not apply to those qualified for exemption pursuant to section 3 of this 1973 amendatory act if the property used for the purpose stated is either leased or rented".

On motion of Senator Atwood, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 10, line 11, after "file" and before "an annual" strike "an initial application for exemption and".

On page 11, line 1, after "each" and before "application" strike "initial" and insert "annual".

On page 11, on line 1 after "shall be" and before "deposited" on line 2 strike "paid with each such application and shall be".

On page 11, on line 12 after "denying the" and before "application" on line 13 strike "initial".

On page 13, following line 28, insert a new section to read as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. . . . There is hereby appropriated to the Department of Revenue $450,000 from the general fund to administer the provisions of this 1973 amendatory act for the biennium ending June 30, 1975."

Renumber the following sections accordingly.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "Before we go to third reading, could I ask Senator Atwood a question? By appropriating money and putting this fee in a bill dealing with taxes and tax exemption, are we running afoul of the Constitution?"

Senator Atwood: "I do not think so because this bill requires the Department of Revenue to do certain things and we do this very often, appropriating the money for the administration of a new act. I am not going to raise the point and I hope that none of you do. Otherwise we will be back in January giving them the money. I thought we should do it in this bill, though."

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "I wonder if Senator Lewis will yield to a question? Senator Lewis, on page 2, section 1, there is a proviso on the church exemption that says that the loan or rental of property otherwise exempt under this paragraph to a nonprofit organization, association or corporation or a school for use for an eleemosynary activity shall not nullify the exemption. I believe this amendment was one that you proposed in the committee. My question is, does the phrase, 'an eleemosynary activity' include such activities as the loan or rental of the property to a nonprofit preschool?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Donohue yield to a question? Senator Donohue, on page 2, section 2, and on line 27 and line 31, the word 'religious' has been struck. Also, on page 2, section 2, line 27, the word 'nonsectarian' has been substituted to qualify the word 'purposes.' Am I to take it then, that the intent of this portion of section 2, is to include the use of property by Masonry, the Elks, Eagles, Moose, etc., for the stated reasons, a qualification for property tax exemption? And, further, is it the desire to entirely remove the general requirement of 'religious' from overall intent of this portion of section 2?"

Senator Donohue: "The answer, Senator, is yes."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I think the answer is a little more detailed than that, if you would care to comment."

Senator Donohue: "All right, Senator. I was trying to expedite.

"It is not the intent of this language to include the fraternal groups which you mention above, or any such fraternal group. It is the intent to maintain the historical context of this exemption as it was first established by the Legislature in the Laws of 1901 and further modified by the Laws of 1915. Websters' Third New International Dictionary, Unabridged defines the word 'nonsectarian' as: 'not having a sectarian character; not restricted or dominated by a particular religious group.' This is the same distinction as given by the Court in 463 P 2nd 626 and 77 Wash 2nd 487: 'A bible camp of a church at which a particular set of religious beliefs are taught is 'sectarian' and not 'nonsectarian' under the statute exempting from taxation property of 'nonsectarian' religious organizations.' It is in this context that the word 'nonsectarian' is used and intended. It is felt that 'religious' is contained within the definition of 'nonsectarian', and the removal of the word 'religious' was to state more briefly and concisely the historical context.

"Finally, the use of the property is given beginning on page 2, line 28: 'solely used, or to the extent used, for character-building, benevolent, protective or rehabilitative social services directed at persons of all ages';. These are the primary uses and the word 'fraternal' is not among them. Nor, do the groups of organizations named or generally included in the question qualify within the scope of this exemption classification."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Donohue, thank you. That was very clear, concise and well read."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President, would Senator Donohue yield to a question? Senator Donohue, I heard the script and I think that it was clear but I am not so sure, but I just wanted to make sure that by those words in there you have indicated that those benevolent organizations such as the Elks and Eagles are not now exempt and they will not be exempt under this bill."

Senator Donohue: "That is correct."

Senator Fleming: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "I would like to ask one further question of one of the authors of the bill. I understand that there has been a line of reasoning that if a church owns a parking lot and that if six days out of the seven they compete with other parking lots that they have been assessed at six-sevenths of the total value. We do not assess them for the day that they park their cars there to attend church. Now what does this particular law do to that particular situation? Will they still be taxed on the six-seventh ratio if, in fact, six days out of the week they are in open competition with another parking lot? Will they pay anything or won't they?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "The answer is yes."

Senator Donohue: "It is prorated."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2959, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 47; excused, 2.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 12, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has passed SENATE BILL NO. 2942 with the following amendments:

In line 2 of the title, after "69.50.101" insert "; amending section 46.56.040, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 5, chapter 49, Laws of 1970 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.520;"

On page 5, after section 1, add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 46.56.040, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 5, chapter 49, Laws of 1970 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.61.520 are each amended to read as follows:

MOTION

Senator Day moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 2942.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, is it your legal opinion then that we should strip this from the bill?"

Senator Atwood: "I think in the essence of safety it probably should be done. It is just not good practice to do this because that is a negligent homicide statute. It is an important criminal statute. The change should be made in the negligent homicide statute to conform to the Uniform Controlled Substances Act but it is an entirely different section and I am afraid that Senator Woodall will raise this point on his first defense and his client gets off."

There being no objection, the motion by Senator Day was withdrawn.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Day the Senate concurred in the House amendment to Senate Bill No. 2942 on page 5, adding a new section 3, and asks the House to recede from its amendments to line 2 of the title and to page 5, adding a new section 2.

DONALD R. WILSON, Assistant Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Francis moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2947.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Francis yield? The effect of this amendment is to strike what we had in there where they could bring the recommitment petition in either of two jurisdictions. Now it can only be brought in one. Is that about the effect of what they have done?"

Senator Francis: "Basically, if you are referring by jurisdiction to the county, it is really a venue matter, not jurisdictional."

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2947.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2947, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—44.

Mr. President: The House has passed SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2377 with the following amendments:

In line 3 of the title, after "29.13.010;" and before "amending" insert "amending section 29.68.070, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.68.070;"

On page 2 following section 1 insert a new section 2 to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 29.68.070, chapter 9, Laws of 1965 and RCW 29.68.070 are each amended to read as follows:

When a vacancy happens in the representation of this state in the senate of the United States the governor shall make a temporary appointment until the people fill the vacancy by election at the next ensuing general state election. Such temporary appointment shall be from a list of three names submitted to the governor by the state central committee of the same political party as the senator holding office prior to the vacancy. A vacancy occurring after the first day for filing specified in RCW 29.18.030 and prior to the general state election shall be filled by election at the next ensuing general state election."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 3, section 2, renumbered section 3, line 1, after "election." insert the following:

"If the vacancy occurs between or on a date six months prior to a general state election and the second Friday following the close of the filing period, the special primary and special general elections shall be held in concert with the regular primary and regular general elections. Such declarations of candidacy validly filed within said three day period shall appear on the approaching primary ballot as if made during the earlier filing period. If the vacancy should occur later than the second Friday following the close of the filing period, a special primary and special general election to fill such vacancy shall be held after the regular annual general election but, in any event, no later than the ninetieth day following the said November election."

On page 3, section 3, renumbered section 4, line 12, after "thereat" strike everything down to the period on line 19., and the same is herewith transmitted.

DONALD R. WILSON, Assistant Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Grant moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Whetzel: "Mr. President, I raise the point of order that the House amendment to section 2 providing for the filling of the vacancy in the office of United States Senator is beyond the scope and object of the bill. The bill relates to the applying congressional elections to the annual general election law and this deals with a method of appointment of filling of temporary vacancies and does enlarge the scope and object of the Senate bill."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), the House message on Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377, together with the motion by Senator Grant to concur in the House amendments and the point of order by Senator Whetzel, was ordered held pending a Ruling by the President.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 14, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has concurred in the Senate amendment to ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 189 on page 4, beginning on line 17, striking all of sections 5, 6, 7 and 8, and refuses to concur in the following amendments:

In line 3 of the title, after "24A.41.130;" strike everything down to and including "(. . .);" on line 4.

Beginning on line 8 of the title, strike all material down to and including "70.35.070;" on line 16.

On page 2, section 1, line 29, beginning with "Notwithstanding" on line 29, strike all the matter down to and including "years." on page 3, line 1.

On page 3, line 2, strike all of section 2 and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 4, section 3, line 5, after "after" and before the period strike "January 1, 1975" and insert "July 1, 1974".

On page 8, section 9, line 7, after "one—" and before "cents" strike "[half] quarter" and insert "half" and asks the Senate to recede therefrom, and said bill, together with the Senate amendments thereto, are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Odegaard moved that the Senate recede from its position on the following amendments to Engrossed House Bill No. 189: In line 1 of the title; on page 2, section 1, line 29; on page 3, line 2; and on page 4, section 3, line 5; and adhere to its position on line 8 of the title and on page 8, section 9, line 7.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Whetzel: "Senator Odegaard, what is the impact of changing the effective date back to January 1, 1975? Does that mean that the ninety-five percent support will terminate on that date?"

Senator Odegaard: "No, Senator Whetzel, it does not. The action, when we recede from that particular amendment, will mean that the ninety-five percent saving clause will continue on."

Senator Whetzel: "Is it the intention that this be a permanent continuance or that it end at some time? I thought the Senate Ways and Means Committee intended that it should end and that is why that date was selected of July 1, 1974. Is this simply terminating it but six months later, I guess is my question."

Senator Odegaard: "The action we took would have corrected the problem that the year of 1974 was inadvertently left out of House Bill 186. The action we took then would take care of the year 1974, because there is one-half of the school year, this present school year, in the year 1974. We would have left those school districts in kind of a bad situation in the funding that they had counted on in their special levy if we had not taken that action."

The motion by Senator Odegaard carried. The Senate receded from certain amendments and adhered to others on Engrossed House Bill No. 189, as amended by the Senate.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 14, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has concurred in the Senate amendments to SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221 on section 1, line 9, after "the" and before "value" insert "face" and section 1, line 13, after "the" and before "value" insert "face", and refuses to concur in the following amendments:

In section 1, line 11, after "a" strike all the matter down to and including "both," on line 12 and insert "gross misdemeanor"

In section 1, line 14, after "a" strike all the matter down to and including the period on line 16 and insert "misdemeanor." and asks the Senate to recede therefrom, and said bill, together with the Senate amendments thereto, are herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Francis, the Senate refused to recede from the Senate amendments to section 1, lines 11 and 14 and insists on its position on Substitute House Bill No. 221, as amended by the Senate.

Renumber the remaining subsections consecutively and change all internal references accordingly.

In the event a dwelling unit is not rented by the tenant taxpayer for a full calendar year the credit shall be that percentage of the applicable credit that the period of time it is occupied by the tenant taxpayer as a dwelling unit bears to a full calendar year.

In the event a dwelling unit is rented by more than one tenant taxpayer the tax credit shall be that percentage of the applicable credit that the rental payment by the tenant taxpayer bears to the total rental for the dwelling unit.

The term "dwelling unit" means the tenant taxpayer's principal place of abode during the period of time for which he claims a credit and which contains facilities for sleeping and preparation of meals."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively., and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

MOTIONS

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate concur in the House amendment to page 45, immediately following section 25, adding a new section to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "If I understand the motion correctly, the motion to concur; normally if that motion loses, that is automatically a finding that the body do not concur. Would the Chair rule, however, that if this motion loses then it would be proper to, as stated, deliberate each separate exemption item by item?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Inasmuch as the Senate's business is being conducted in the manner which prevails, if the motion fails the President believes that the situation could be resolved by unanimity of opinion among a majority of the members."

Senator Newschwander demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Clarke, Lewis (Harry), Metcalf, Scott, Mattingly, Grant, Bailey, Washington and Dore.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the positive motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) that the Senate concur in the House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 failed by the following vote: Yeas, 15; nays, 33; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Canfield, Clarke, Greive, Jones, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Mattingly, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sellar, Wanamaker, Whetzel—15.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Washington, Woodall, Woody—33.

Excused: Senator Gardner—1.

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to page 45, immediately following section 25, adding a new section.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to the title on page 1, line 27.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendments to page 11, section 4, lines 8, 9; page 11, section 4, line 10; page 11, section 4, line 16; page 17, section 4, beginning on line 21; page 18, lines 16 and 17; page 18, line 18; and page 18, section 5, line 24.

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendments as listed above.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Herr: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator, I do not serve on Ways and Means and I am a little confused on one issue down here in the legislature. They tell me that a doughnut is nontaxable but when you put the chocolate on it becomes candy. Now to me this is kind of strange. Why? I have been down to this legislature and I am worried about fiscal responsibility and I think, Senator Woodall, you could probably tell me why."

Senator Woodall: "I likewise do not sit on Ways and Means but I would say that when the doughnut gets a hole in it it starts to resemble the state budget. While I have the floor, Senator Lewis said, 'Who will organize to defeat this income tax?' I do not know but if you get their names and addresses I want to work with them."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Scott demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Washington, Sellar, Metcalf, Bottiger, Jones, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (Bob), Murray and Canfield.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, we have already voted down Senator Lewis's first amendment to concur. We are on only one amendment now and the motion was to concur on that amendment."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The question before the Senate is the motion by Senator Lewis that the Senate concur in the House amendments as just read. A vote aye will be to concur in those amendments. A vote no will be to not concur in those amendments."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "As a point of parliamentary inquiry, I would assume then that further divisions of the issues would be possible?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "If the vote is negative it means that the Senate has not concurred in the House amendments as listed."

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the positive motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to pages 11, 17 and 18.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) to concur in certain House amendments failed by the following vote: Yeas, 20; nays, 28; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Dore, Greive, Jones, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sellar, Talley, Van Hollebeke, Wanamaker, Whetzel—20.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Connor, Day, Donohue, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Stortini, Twigg, Waigren, Washington, Woodall, Woody—28.

Excused: Senator Gardner—1.

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to pages 11, 17 and 18.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendments to page 25, section 27, line 3 and page 28, section 8, line 26.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Durkan yield? Senator, I should have asked this question in Ways and Means and I am sorry I did not, but you are speaking here to a revenue loss of thirty-three million, if I heard you correctly. Is that the correct figure?"

Senator Durkan: "That is what I am told."

Senator Canfield: "And so my question is, how much are we talking about in the total of charitable contributions? It certainly would be an amazing sum if the tax were to be thirty-three million. So I wanted to get your figure on what the total of these charitable contributions would be."

Senator Durkan: "My quick calculation, and that is all I have, if you took the highest rate that we have, that is six and one-half percent, you are probably talking between three hundred and four hundred million dollars in donations, which probably is not too far out when you consider the amount of money that is given to some of these institutions. It probably is fair. So that is about what you are talking about. One of the facts that is interesting which was brought before the committee, that the average donation when you take everything and lump it together and average it out is about thirteen thousand dollars. That is the average donation throughout the United States, and those are Internal Revenue figures from the IRS. If that helps you, Senator. So I would say we are talking about in the neighborhood of three or four hundred thousand, and yes, definitely a large chunk comes from those who have it."

Senator Canfield: "You meant maybe three or four hundred million? I could perhaps accept your figures and I have no reason to doubt them but I just wondered who gets all that money, what institutions or what groups or who in this state gets an amount of three or four hundred million dollars in donations."

Senator Durkan: "Senator, it would not surprise me one bit, knowing and being somewhat familiar with the private institutions, the amount of money that they receive. Senator Scott made a statement in Ways and Means about one college that had already received pledges of six million dollars, was it, Senator? This is just one institution. I know of others who have received tens of millions in the past several years so that does not surprise me one bit."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to page 25, section 27, line 3 and page 28, section 8, line 26.

Senator Henry assumed the Chair.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 10, section 4, beginning on line 13.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendment to page 40, section 17, after line 18 inserting a new subsection (3).

Senator Clarke moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to page 40, section 17, after line 18 inserting a new subsection (3).

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Will Senator Clarke yield to a question? I think there is a great deal of merit to this amendment but at the hearings I think the insurance companies made the representation in the event that they were exempt on both the domestic and foreign parts under this act, that they would be agreeable to an increase in the premium tax in order to make up for the loss of revenue, and I understand this amendment is priced out at nine million dollars. Are you in a position to make any representation in the event that the exemption is granted that the insurance companies would be willing to perhaps make up part of the difference by increase in the premium tax, say next January?"

Senator Clarke: "Senator Dore, the effect of any increase in the premium tax on an across the board basis would have exactly the same retaliatory effect."

Senator Dore: "No, just on the premium tax on the domestic companies, not the foreign companies."

Senator Clarke: "I think that that is something, certainly, Senator, that could be looked into. However, I think that if that were done it would be unfair then to subject the domestic companies both to the income tax and the premium tax. Now I think that if what you were talking about is a method of adjusting the premium tax and completely eliminating the income tax for the domestic companies also, that certainly is something that would bear looking into."

Senator Dore: "I would like to join in the motion of Senator Clarke. I think it would be very foolish to not exempt them out, at least as far as the foreign corporations are going, because this increased money we are losing does not come to the state anyway and of course other states will retaliate against the local companies and then, as Senator Clarke says, they will move their home offices out of the state. So I think this is a little bit different from the other exemptions. I think it is a question of good sense and I would very whole-heartedly join in this and I can see why they would not perhaps agree to a raise in the premium tax because under the old situation they were going to be exempt out, but if the domestic companies are going to be left in, then of course it probably would be unfair to increase the premium tax. I see, in answer to my question, that that, of course, would be unfair too. So I think as is, the amendment is a valid compromise, has a very rational basis behind it and I hope we all support it."

Senator Dore demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Herr, Sandison, Washington, Canfield, Metcalf, Jones, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (Bob) and Connor.

The President Pro Tempore Henry declared the question before the Senate to be the positive motion by Senator Clarke that the Senate concur in the House amendment to page 40, section 17, after line 18 inserting a new subsection (3).

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Clarke carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to page 40, section 17, after line 18 inserting a new subsection (3) by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Dore, Greive, Guess, Jones, Keefe, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Wanamaker, Whetzel—28.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Donohue, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Stortini, Walgren, Washington, Woody—19.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate do not concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

Debate ensued.

Senator Lewis (Harry) demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Murray, Dore, Whetzel, Jones, Matson, Bottiger, Bailey, Sellar and Wanamaker.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the positive motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) that the Senate concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Lewis (Harry) failed and the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14, by the following vote: Yeas, 23; nays, 25; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Francis, Greive, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sellar, Twigg, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woody—23.

Excused: Senator Gardner—1.

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I would just like to speak very briefly, gentlemen. What we have just done in a bill that was intended to be a graduated tax bill is we have placed the highest possible rate against the smallest businessmen in the state of Washington. I think that Senator Bottiger is correct in what he said and I think we all recognize this. This is extremely inequitable and unfair."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "I think that is an inappropriate comment under personal privilege. It was debative on the subject matter."

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Day moved that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

The motion for reconsideration carried.

Senator Day moved that the Senate do concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I think that this is a very difficult bill for a lot of us to vote on because someone line Senator Lewis stands up and says we have done one thing and does not offer any proof that we have done anything like that. Somebody else gets up and says it does just the opposite. They offer no proof. Now what in the name of heaven are we supposed to vote on here? You have not given us any evidence that it does what you say it does and — well, I still have not been convinced, but I just think it is rather foolish here after one fellow gets up and levels a charge without any substantial backing of that charge and gets up and then we reconsider and then we vote again without any explanation whatsoever."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DURKAN

Senator Durkan: "What Senator Lewis says is correct. We are applying the highest single rate to those people who choose to come under the subsection (s) of the tax. But what Senator Lewis does not say is that simply when you come under subsection (s) you get certain benefits. You get certain benefits which are not available to other people who do not come under subsection (s). Now what we are also saying is if you choose to come under this section, it is a freedom of choice, partnerships, individuals, associations, if they do not want to come under this section they do not have to come under and they can stay out and take the rate as it is. What, in effect, we are saying is that if you do choose to take the advantages of the section, then this is what the rate is going to be. Now it may be that it is too tough but at the same time the difference between what we are saying as far as the highest rate is concerned and what the House is saying, you cannot understand really what they mean by it. Are you talking about an individual under the House amendment, if he files? Are you talking about a married couple if they file? What rate is going to be applicable? It is not clear and based upon that, this is the reason why I moved to reject it, and I have not changed my position since I have heard Senator Lewis's debate nor anyone else's. It is just, as far as I am concerned, and so the body will understand, if you want the benefits of this certain section of the income tax code, if you want them, and they are benefits that are not available to other people, then you are going to be required to pay a higher rate. So you are going to have to make the tough decision. Now those who do not want the word 'highest' are simply saying that they want both the benefits and the lowest rate. That is what they are talking about and I do not think it is fair. It may be that this is not perfect but at the same time it is the best that we can come up with and I hope that the Senate will not change its position and I hope that they will vote not to concur."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "I think what Senator Durkan has said is absolutely true. However, I do want to call your attention to one other facet of this thing and that would have to do in reality with the fiscal impact that we are talking about. Now quite often a businessman will have a choice as to whether he wants to act as a corporation or as a partnership. And of course the tax implications have a very substantial influence upon that choice. Now in effect, what under the federal law the subchapter (s) does is to say that you can still operate as a corporation but you pay an individual tax on your income the same as you would if you were a partnership. Now what the present bill without the amendment says is that if you do want to take advantage of the corporate structure, then you have to pay at the highest individual rate. This, of course, will result in an increased income as to those people who elect to, after evaluating the various things, take that corporate method; but I predict that this may well change a lot of the subchapter (s) people back into the partnership situation, and for that reason I do not think that the fiscal impact in reality will be there. And I also do not really see the logic of saying that people should be penalized taxwise just because they want to conduct their business in a corporate manner instead of under a partnership. Now the amount of money they would be making would be identical and I think that the amount of tax they should pay should be identical. So for that reason I suggest that you do think rather carefully when you make this vote on reconsideration."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Are we voting on page 34, section 12, line 14?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Yes, Senator."

Senator Washington: "And that is all we are voting on?"

The President: "Yes, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Murray yield to a question? Senator Murray, as an accountant I would like to know what would be the difference under this amendment, a man doing business under this so-called chapter (s), suppose he makes twelve thousand dollars and someone else makes twelve thousand as an individual, could you tell me what the tax differential between the two would be approximately?"

Senator Murray: "If there is just twelve thousand dollars worth of profit and/or wages available to the one man who owns it or for division among those people that are available, I would say that probably – assuming that the only thing they were considering was the tax impact – they would take the action, pay themselves a salary and pay the tax at their individual rates which would be lower than the six point five percent.”

Senator Woodall: “So under this then there is nothing to stop the individual from drawing a salary for himself before you determine that the business did or did not make a profit?”

Senator Murray: “That is correct. In my opinion there would be little or no fiscal impact and I am speaking in support of concurring. Let me give you a few examples of what I think happened. The prime reason for going into a subchapter (s) is to absorb losses, to absorb losses so there would be no tax on the corporation, or secondly, because two partners in effect have substantially different income tax brackets for federal purposes and therefore want to be able to handle their share of the income to their convenience as if it were a partnership. Now from a very practical standpoint, as Senator Bottiger pointed out, if you are in a corporation that is currently operating under subchapter (s) and make a substantial amount of money, then you probably would turn to the straight corporation and pay the corporate rates for federal tax purposes where the rates are much, much higher. In other words, if you have two partners who are both in the fifty percent bracket personally they will very likely turn to a straight corporation where the first twenty-five thousand dollars pays only a twenty-two percent rate. The net effect of this action, in my opinion, would not produce any more revenue for the state of Washington. I would suggest that we do concur so that the small businessman who wants to take the advantage of incorporation and who is concerned with the federal tax impact and the legal consequences of operating behind a corporate shield, would still be able to do so without having to pay the penalty and give up that benefit of doing it. But I assure you if there is a substantial tax cost to him payable in state income tax, he is going to change so that there would not be additional revenue available to the state. Now this may be a long complicated answer and it is a long complicated situation. Many variables would change it. But in my opinion we should give him that opportunity because it will have little or no fiscal impact to the state. I urge you to concur.”

Senator Lewis (Harry) demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Canfield, Lewis (Bob), Whetzel, Lux, Francis, Marsh, Bailey, Knoblauch and Grant.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Day that the Senate do concur, on reconsideration, in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 14.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll. The motion by Senator Day failed and the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 13, line 14, on reconsideration, by the following vote: Yeas, 24; nays, 24; President Cherberg voted “no”.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Day, Francis, Greive, Herr, Jones, Keefe, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Sellar, Twigg, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woody-24.

Voting nay: Senators Bailey, Connor, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Grant, Guess, Henry, Jolly, Knoblauch, Lux, Mardesich, Marsh, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Stortini, Talley, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Woodall, President Cherberg-25.

Excused: Senator Gardner-1.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the Senate concurred in the House amendment to page 45, section 24, line 2 and page 45, section 25, line 10.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the Senate refused to concur in the House amendment to page 34, section 12, line 20.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate concur in the House amendment to page 19, section 6, line 29.

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WASHINGTON

Senator Washington: "Under the provisions of Article II, Section 30, I wish to disclose to the Senate that this section apparently deals very closely with timber and gravel. I happen to have a major interest in gravel property and after listening to all of the discussion I cannot figure out which way it affects, whether it will be a benefit or a detriment, but I do have a substantial interest in that type of property which was used as the example here on the floor and in the House, and for that reason I will decline to vote on this issue."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried on a rising vote and the Senate concurred in the House amendment to page 19, section 6, line 29.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

HOUSE BILL NO. 178,

HOUSE BILL NO. 458,

HOUSE BILL NO. 1075,

HOUSE BILL NO. 1126.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

SENATE BILL NO. 2300,

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2387,

SENATE BILL NO. 2516,

SENATE BILL NO. 2642,

SENATE BILL NO. 2947.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2603,

SENATE BILL NO. 2954,

SENATE BILL NO. 2967.

The Senate resumed consideration of the House Message on Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377, the motion by Senator Grant that the Senate do concur in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377 and the point of order by Senator Whetzel raised earlier today.

Debate ensued.

RULING BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President in ruling upon the point of order as raised by Senator Whetzel, finds that both the House amendment and the measure before the Senate, Senate

Bill No. 2377, pertain to the procedures to be followed in filling vacancies which arise in the Congress. The amendment therefore does not change the scope and object of the bill.

"The point of order as raised by Senator Whetzel is not well taken."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Grant yield?" Senator Grant, I notice with interest this pertains to the United States Senate now when it comes back from the House. Is there something that we should know about Senator Magnuson and Jackson's health at this time? Is there an emergency involved in this particular bill that our side of the aisle should be aware of?"

Senator Grant: "Senator Atwood, before it went over to the House it referred to filling of vacancies for senatorial seats. I am sure there is nothing that we have to be concerned about. Really our great concern is Representative Pritchard. We want to assure you that if he did meet an untimely death that the Governor would have an opportunity to appoint another Republican to fill that vacancy."

Senator Atwood: "I was curious about the urgency of this measure at this time. I take it they are still in good health?"

Senator Grant: "Oh yes."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "For Senator Atwood's information, Senator Jackson stands a good possibility of being President of the United States. I understand, although it has not been confirmed as yet that Dan Evans is going to switch parties and try to get to be his running mate."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Is this going to happen tomorrow or between now and January?"

Senator Rasmussen: "It will be confirmed probably shortly after his return from Russia, if he returns."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Grant yield? If you get any confirmation on that rumor, please let me know."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Now Senator Rasmussen has really raised a question. Is that why you grew your beard, so that you could take over as the Governor? Is there something in here besides senatorial . . .?"

Senator Grant: "We provided you yesterday, for your caucus, with a photograph."

Senator Atwood: "I saw that photo."

Senator Grant: "The Buffalo Party ticket. The date on that was incorrect. It should be 1976. We have not resolved the question yet as to who is going to be the presidential candidate and who will be the vice presidential candidate, but I have assured him that if my family gets free food I will take the second spot."

Senator Atwood: "Okay."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "Senator Grant, why don't you tell Senator Atwood that any such rumor is a bare-faced lie?"

The motion of Senator Grant carried and the Senate concurred in the House amendments to Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2377, as amended by the House, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 28; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting nay: Senators Atwood, Canfield, Clarke, Guess, Jones, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Peterson (Ted), Scott, Sellar, Twigg, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Woodall—19.

Absent or not voting: Senator Herr—1.

Excused: Senator Gardner—1.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2377, as amended by the House, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Durkan moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to page 25, section 7, line 30 and page 28, section 8, line 26 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, relating to limiting property tax levies.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Just as a technical matter, Senator Durkan, is that what is combined in the explanation with the amendment on page 25, section 7? With charitable deductions. I think that we would have to then reconsider the action with respect to both of those and divide the question."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President believes that Senator Mardesich's remarks are correct. Senator Durkan has moved that the Senate reconsider the vote by which the two amendments were adopted."

The motion by Senator Durkan to reconsider the votes by which the Senate refused to concur in the House amendments to page 25, section 7, line 30 and page 28, section 8, line 26 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 carried.

The question was divided.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate concur, on reconsideration, in the House amendment to page 28, section 8, line 26 to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Would Senator Durkan yield? Could you explain a little more carefully what your purpose is, Senator?"

Senator Durkan: "I would suspect that there are many here who feel that the intercorporate dividend amendment as put on by the House should be adopted, that we should concur in it. What the Senate did now is that I named that as part of the charitable deduction section because it was together, and then the Senate voted not to concur in the House's action which carried with it the intercorporate dividend, and what I am trying to do now is to give the Senate an opportunity to vote to concur on intercorporate dividends and then I will move that we do not concur on the charitable ones and we can do that by voice vote because we have been into it already and get on with it."

Senator Atwood: "I assume that you think it might have a chance so we might as well go ahead on it. I would like to cooperate with you, Senator Durkan."

Senator Durkan: "Thank you. I am getting very nervous."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate concurred, on reconsideration, with the House amendment to page 28, section 8, line 26.

Senator Durkan moved that the Senate again, on reconsideration, refuse to concur in the House amendment to page 25, section 7, line 30 of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

REMARKS BY SENATOR DURKAN

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, what this means is they allocate the income of the dividends to the various taxing districts throughout the United States as to where it comes from and what its source is. It is a situs amendment. The impact on the bill is minimal. We have no fiscal impact on it."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I would like to agree with Senator Durkan."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the Senate again, on reconsideration, refused to concur in the House amendment to page 25, section 7, line 30.

The Senate concurred in the following House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102:

On page 19, section 6, line 29,

On page 28, section 8, line 26,

On page 40, section 17, line 18,

On page 45, section 24, line 2,

On page 45, section 25, line 10, and

On page 45, following section 25, adding new section 26.

The Senate refused to concur in the remaining House amendments to Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102 and asks the House to recede therefrom.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 487, by Committee on Commerce (originally sponsored by Representatives Johnson, Kalich and Ellis):

Changing the definitions relating to lotteries.

The Senate resumed consideration of Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, as amended by the Senate on Friday, September 14, 1973.

Senator Bailey moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Amend the Committee amendment to page 13, section 4, line 5, as follows: On line 9 of the amendment strike "first class cities, or a first class" and insert "any city, or any".

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "I want to point out I had counsel and that is the trouble I am in right now. If I had written it myself it would not have sounded like this. We want every city to have the right of local determination and that is exactly what we are doing. We did strike the non-charter code cities because of its limitations. In the law before only first class cities had this privilege. I think a small town has as much right to determine whether they want to gamble or not gamble as anything else. If it does not make sense we can hire another attorney and start all over again."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRANCIS

Senator Francis: "I would like to speak against this amendment, not only because it is technically wrong but because, Senator Bailey, the amendment does things that I think we do not really know the practical consequences of. We have not had hearings on the amendment. I see no problem in coming back in January or before and starting to look at that. I would be willing to take it up at hearings commencing in October, but these other amendments we have had hearings on; we have looked at carefully; we know what we are doing. I just think on this one we ought to vote no. I think it is the safest thing to do. I sympathize with what Senator Bailey is trying to do and I think we ought to look at it carefully but I do not see that waiting until January for an amendment like that would hurt anything. So I would urge you to vote no, and an additional reason is that it would be an awfully difficult job to try to get in any technical shape anyway."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "I am not defending the perfection of the amendment but I am defending the right of a member to stand on the floor and make an amendment without being told by a committee it has not had a hearing. If we start that practice we will not be able to make an amendment on the floor any more, and I do contend that it is the right of every city, no matter what size, to determine whether or not they want gambling or whether or not they want a portion of gambling in their community. We ask them to do the police work. Now if you do not adopt this amendment you are going to have left on it, 'any first class city or non-charter code city,' so you are leaving off the other little cities or maybe cities of the same size that are not code cities, and we are really in trouble then. I would suggest that we adopt the amendment and give every city the right of self-determination."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRANCIS

Senator Francis: "Senator Bailey, I was not trying to argue that as a matter of principle we always have to look at every amendment in a committee. I thought it was obvious from looking at this amendment that there are potential problems with it. The first reasons that you have given give rise to, it seems to me, counter arguments. For example, you mentioned, Senator Bailey, that the cities have to police themselves. Well, I do not know all that much about your county but in my county that is not necessarily true. Many of the cities that you are talking about in my county have an arrangement with the county sheriff or what is called the county police department in my county, and the county police have to handle that job, and the difficulty of making a decision between one boundary and another as to whether or not they are subject to county jurisdiction could be big. Maybe not. Maybe there are no problems with your amendment. But I see a lot of potential for problems. What seems like a straightforward uncomplicated amendment, I would submit, may well create some serious problems. That is all I am saying. I think that it would not hurt us to vote it down now and get at the problem at a later date."

The motion by Senator Bailey carried and the amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Woodall moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 14, section 4 (6), line 6, after "activity" insert ": PROVIDED FURTHER, That with respect to the duly elected officers and directors of a bona fide charitable or nonprofit organization the commission shall not require any information beyond such current information as is normally required for purposes of identification;"

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Woodall carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, Engrossed Second Substitute House Bill No. 487, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

September 15, 1973.

Mr. President: The House has concurred in the Senate amendments to SUBSTITUTE HOUSE BILL NO. 221 to section 1, line 9 and to section 1, line 13; and refuses to concur in the amendments to section 1, line 11 and to section 1, line 14 and asks the Senate to recede therefrom and the bill together with the amendments thereto is herewith transmitted.

DONALD R. WILSON, Assistant Chief Clerk.

MOTION

Senator Francis moved that the Senate insist on its position on the Senate amendments to section 1, lines 11 and 14 and again ask the House to concur therewith.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Francis yield? What is the difference? One house wants it a felony and one wants it a gross misdemeanor? Is that the hangup?"

Senator Francis: "That is basically right. We went through it in detail but the House wants it a felony, ten years, ten thousand dollars, as I recall, for selling or purchasing either food stamps of a value of one hundred dollars or over, or of selling food or purchasing food which was bought with food stamps of value of over one hundred dollars. And we have consistently held that we did not think that it merited this, that it would actually interfere with the prosecution and the enforcement to have such high penalties. I personally take the position that I think the bill can wait three months rather than to adopt something that is that extreme."

The motion by Senator Francis carried and the Senate insists on its position on the Senate amendments to section 1, lines 11 and 14 on Substitute House Bill No. 221 and again asks the House to concur therewith.

OVERRIDING OF GOVERNOR'S PARTIAL VETOES
ON SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2226

The Senate commenced consideration of the partial veto by Governor Daniel J. Evans on the following bill:

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2226, Chapter 207, Laws of 1973, Forty-third Legislature, First Extraordinary Session.

Providing residential landlord tenant laws.

Following is a report from the Senate Judiciary Committee where Substitute Senate Bill No. 2226 had been referred following the partial veto by the Governor:

The Senate Judiciary Committee reports that Substitute Senate Bill No. 2226 do pass notwithstanding the following vetoes by the Governor:

- (1) Page 4, lines 7-8, sec. 6, subsection (1).
- (2) Page 6, lines 17-20, sec. 7, subsection (4).
- (3) Page 9, lines 29, 32, sec. 11, subsection (1) (b).
- (4) Page 15, lines 21-22, sec. 24, subsection (1).
- (5) Page 16, lines 9-13, sec. 25.
- (6) Page 19, lines 19-21, sec. 31, subsection (2) (b).

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRANCIS

Senator Francis: "Mr. President, the Senate Judiciary Committee has recommended overriding six out of the, I believe it was fourteen vetoes of the Governor and I do not know parliamentarily how we handle that except that we do have a referral to the Senate from the Judiciary Committee and I think procedurally it would be best just to take them up in the order in which they are found in the bill as recommended by the Judiciary Committee. If that is not before the Secretary of the Senate, then I can state them one at a time."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "Senator Francis, if you take them individually you will have to have a roll call on each one individually."

Senator Francis: "Mr. President, I think that is appropriate. There are only six and they are separate vetoes and I am not sure, I think that there would be some doubt as to our overriding the vetoes if we tried to lump them together. Accordingly, if it is in order I will move the first individual veto and then I would like to speak about that."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Francis, the roll will be called on each recommendation by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Senator Francis moved that the Senate override the Governor's veto to page 4, lines 7-8, section 6, subsection (1), as recommended by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Francis carried.

President Pro Tempore Henry declared a vote "yea" will override the Governor's veto and a vote "nay" will sustain the veto. The President declared that a two-thirds majority of those present is required to override the veto.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 2226, notwithstanding the Governor's veto to page 4, lines 7-8, section 6, subsection (1) and passed the bill by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 7; absent or not voting, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Day, Donohue, Dore, Francis, Gardner, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Bob), Lewis (Harry), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Mattingly, Metcalf, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Woodall, Woody—41.

Voting nay: Senators Connor, Durkan, Fleming, Grant, Jones, Lux, Whetzel—7.

Absent or not voting: Senator Murray—1.

MOTION

Senator Francis moved that the Senate override the Governor's veto to page 6, lines 17-20, section 7, subsection (4), as recommended by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Francis yield to a question? Senator Francis, by the Governor vetoing this section, did he really accomplish what he intended to do, or if we override this veto, will we be returning the quick repair section? To my understanding he did not do what he intended to do by doing that and even if we did override this veto we would still have to come back in January to amend this to remedy the repair section as quickly as possible."

Senator Francis: "Senator Fleming, I disagree with — I guess my answer to your question is no. If the Governor wanted to say that availability of financing was not a proper consideration in determining whether or not a landlord could get a particular repair made within forty-eight hours or twenty-four or whatever it took he could have stricken out simply that parenthetical phrase 'including the availability of financing'. He did not do that. He struck out the whole sentence, and it does not make much sense, because up on line 4 it is already said, 'except where circumstances are beyond the landlord's control,' so that the whole thing is: 'The following time limits apply except where there are circumstances beyond his control.' Now the bottom sentence that the Governor struck out said even when the circumstances are beyond his control he has got to do it with all reasonable speed. The Governor struck out anything that says he has to do it with reasonable speed, even where there are circumstances beyond his control. So now there is no provision for getting at it where there are circumstances beyond his control. It just does not make sense to me. I think that we are certainly helping the bill and making it a better bill by overriding this veto."

The motion by Senator Francis carried.

ROLL CALL

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Senator Bottiger, I am wondering, now under this section where we have limited it to one month's rent, and that is the limit and if that is set and the tenant is not satisfied, what other remedy does he have, other than moving as he did before?"

Senator Bottiger: "The same one he has now, move. Excuse me, Senator Fleming. He gets the reduction in the fair rental value of the property from the time he first made his complaint until the time of this award."

Senator Fleming: "Yes, but I am asking, the award is one month's rent?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Fleming, you are aware, the theory of the diminution in rental value is that the time that you make your complaint that there is no hot water and the landlord does not do anything so you file your complaint and you get arbitration. You may be six months later. At that time the court or the arbitrator could say that reduced the value of the rental of that premises fifty bucks a month. Each month. You can live there until you have used up all of that plus he can order the landlord to make the repair up to a full month's rent. Now that is a substantial change in favor of the tenant but at least it is somewhat limited."

The motion by Senator Francis carried.

MOTION

Senator Francis moved that the Senate override the Governor's veto to page 16, lines 9-13, section 25.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Francis yield to a question? Senator Francis, as a matter of fact, three or four questions. In the language 'rent or other action,' now 'other action,' do not you think, as you say you are trying to balance this thing off, is a little broad? What do we mean by other action? The tenant is protected only for complaints and using remedies under this act but the landlord is protected in making any other action. Now any other action, I just think that that is a little too broad under this act. Do not you think that we might be making it more of an imbalance than what it is with the veto?"

Senator Francis: "Senator, I do not see the words 'other action' in the part that the Governor vetoed out. I would say that if that was one of the Governor's concerns that should have been the language that he struck out."

The motion by Senator Francis carried.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Lux: "Mr. President, members of the Senate, I do not know what you would call this. Possibly a point of personal privilege. But I feel very strongly that people who have the quick wit and the sharp mind and the articulate tongue do not have a license by the good Lord Almighty to take advantage of those who are not so endowed. And I had the opportunity not so long ago to visit the park here in Olympia, I guess it is kind of the Commons across from the Old Capitol Building, and I noticed a statute down there in marble and there was an inscription on it. I would like to read that to you and it made quite an impression on me.

"I would make it impossible for the covetous and the avarice to utterly impoverish the poor. The rich can take care of themselves." And this was said by a Governor, John Rankin Rogers, about the turn of the century. Now I understand this was a populous governor and probably a granger, for which I am very proud because I also belong to the whetzel. Thank you for your indulgence."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fleming: "I just would like to say it is not too many times I wish on people, this body, that I hope they went through an exercise in futility, but I am hoping like heck that the House will make that possible."

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the first order of business.

WHEREAS, Many of the operators of said service stations are small, individual entrepreneurs who because of said guidelines established find themselves faced with a fixed amount of gallonage allocated to them by the wholesalers of gasoline and a profit margin established by the said guidelines which will result in a net loss to the average individual service station operator of one to three cents per gallon sold; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate of the State of Washington, that the Administration and Congress are hereby requested to consider amending this portion of "Phase IV Policy" insofar as the restriction of profit of retail dealers of gasoline is concerned while not equally limiting the wholesale price they are required to pay their suppliers towards the end that all segments of the industry be treated equally; and to take what other steps are necessary to facilitate and aid the position of the individual service station operators; and

ENGROSSED HOUSE BILL NO. 1128, by Representatives Luders, Bagnariol, Brown, Clemente, Bauer, Hoggins, Smythe and Warnke (by Superintendent of Public Instruction request):

Enacting the property tax relief and basic program of education financial equalization act of 1973.

The Senate commenced consideration of Engrossed House Bill No. 1128, the bill having been placed on second reading earlier today on motion of Senator Durkan.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Clarke, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 6, line 9, strike “, including special excess levies” and on line 10, after “instruction” and before the colon insert “, plus special excess levies”.

Senator Woody moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 6, after “that” on line 21, strike all the matter down to and including the period on line 27 and insert “reduces the funds of such school districts to the state average for comparable districts: PROVIDED FURTHER, That for districts below the state average for comparable districts the state superintendent shall provide by rule and regulation a five-year plan that increases the funds of such school districts to the state average for comparable districts.”

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: “Will Senator Woody yield? Senator, I would be interested in your explanation of just exactly what you mean by comparable districts. What do you mean by that word ‘comparable’?”

Senator Woody: “Just as fast, just in the same amount and the same dollars.”

Senator Canfield: “You are saying for comparable districts. What are comparable districts?”

Senator Woody: “If you will draw a little graph on a piece of paper in front of you and imagine that on the one hand there is a school district that presently has a figure of one thousand dollars per enrolled pupil. That is above the current nine hundred and thirty-nine dollar state average. And on the bottom end of that graph pick a figure that is underneath nine hundred and thirty-nine, say seven hundred dollars. Both of those, the seven hundred dollars will go up at twenty percent per year over a period of five years, to nine hundred and thirty-nine. The thousand dollars would go down to nine hundred and thirty-nine at the rate of the same twenty percent per year for five years.”

Senator Canfield: "I understand that but I do not understand what comparable districts are yet."

Senator Woody: "It is my understanding that that language came from some place else in the bill. If you will look on line 19, it says 'comparable districts' there too. I think it is throughout this."

Senator Canfield: "Senator, I would not say that necessarily proves that it is good."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Woody carried and the amendment was adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Dore and Donohue:

On page 16, following section 21, add a new section as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. The 1974 legislature, in the event SJR 37 is approved, shall amend said formula distribution to the various school districts, as provided in this act, to legislate state-wide teacher salary schedules."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Dore yield? Senator Dore, does this mean what you say when you say that the legislature will after 1974 declare and set teachers' salaries on a state-wide basis and negate the duties and actions of school boards locally?"

Senator Dore: "Senator, you are holding it up and you are pretending like you are reading from it. That is not the way it reads. Read it as it is."

Senator Guess: "'Provided by this act to legislate a state-wide teachers' salary schedule.'"

Senator Dore: "Yes, that is the intent of the amendment."

Senator Guess: "In other words we will, by this act, declare that we are going to take away the rights of all school boards for all time?"

Senator Dore: "We will legislate, hopefully, a uniform salary because if we are going to have equal education and going to give the same number of dollars to each school district we have to somewhat bring about some equality of payment of teachers. Because if one teacher in one area gets six hundred dollars more a month than a teacher in another area, then obviously they cannot get by on the same number of dollars given in a state-wide formula."

Senator Guess: "Senator, the number of dollars does not make any difference as to the quality of the education, but the thing I want to bring out to the body here is that we are departing from the normal by far. This is the most radical piece of legislation that we have considered. We might as well abolish local school boards and run the state school system from this floor."

Senator Dore: "There may be a good argument on that but that is not my intention. It is a radical piece of legislation because for the first time we are saying that after five years at least that everybody will get the same number of dollars. If you have that then you are going to have to tie in the payment to teachers in somewhat the same basis. And right now we have the east side of Lake Washington, we have three or four legislative districts in a number of school districts where the teachers, with the same number of years of training and accreditations make substantially more than other teachers that teach the same subjects and the same background and so on, which of course cannot be continued if we are going to adopt this uniform amount of money, nine hundred and forty dollars under this first year, to the various school districts. They are going to have to come down or those others have to come up, but the others at the high level will have to be frozen there, at least until the others catch up. The way we have been doing it is everybody has been leapfrogging. They are unequal and they keep leapfrogging up at a percentage basis. Now with this, this merely says the legislature has the intention that if this passes they will look into it and come up with a scheduling. It does not say what it will be. Maybe a lot of leeway in it. Maybe the districts that have high salaries, I suppose the others now will be granted a certain number of years to make it uniform. I do not know, but it is just to direct our attention to it and telling the people that if they pass it, the legislature nonetheless will look into it. The fear I have is if we do not put it in there there will be a tendency to say, 'Well, the people have spoken, HJR 37 and we should not tamper with that area at all because in effect it incorporated this formula today and we should not ever change it, at least for five or ten years,' which I think would be undesirable."

Senator Donohue: "Just to add to this, Senator Guess, I think probably the important issue is that if the people pass HJR 37 and if the dollars for schools are going to be considered in the legislature and not at the local level through special levies, it seems very obvious to me and to many other people that all negotiations for salaries will have to be done at the state level. Consequently, this is a move in the right direction and I think it is time that we recognized that it has to be done."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Woodall yield to a question? Senator Woodall, this bill that at the present time we are amending, I was intrigued by your statement that one legislature could not bind the other one. We will be bound under this though for five years of maintaining this level for the various school districts. Is this right?"

Senator Woodall: "If the people pass it then we would be bound unless by a proper percent of the vote of both bodies they would seek to amend it, and then of course you would get into all kinds of court jangles as to whether there had been some kind of a vested right acquired or whether we were not giving full faith and credit. They could not bind us to pass another law. They might be able to bind us to keep financial commitments."

On motion of Senator Dore, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Dore and Donohue was adopted:

On line 4 of the Dore/Donohue amendment to page 16, strike "SJR 37." and insert "HJR 37" and after "approved and before "amend" strike "shall" and insert "may".

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Dore carried and the amendment by Senators Dore and Donohue, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Engrossed House Bill No. 1128, as amended by the Senate, was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed House Bill No. 1128, as amended by the Senate, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 27; nays, 19; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES ON SENATE BILLS VETOED AND PARTIALLY VETOED

FORTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE SECOND EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

September 25, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain items ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2102 entitled:

"An Act relating to revenue and taxation."

Action to perfect the tax reform implementing bill which would become effective in the event House Joint Resolution No. 37 is approved by the voters in November headed the list of priority matters set forth in my Proclamation calling for the convening of the Second Extraordinary Session of the Legislature in September. The Legislature has responded with the enactment of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102, which makes a number of the changes and clarifications needed to make the concept of tax reform acceptable to our citizens.

The amendatory changes to RCW 82.08.030 in Section 4 of the bill are for the purpose of advancing the date on which food and prescription drugs shall be exempt from the retail sales tax. Subsection 28 purports to clarify the definition of prescription drugs, but in so doing the Legislature has also expanded the definition of prescription drugs beyond the intent of the proponents of tax reform by including in such definition animal drugs prescribed by a veterinarian licensed under RCW Chapter 18.92. The exemption of prescription drugs for our citizens is a meritorious idea which accords a degree of equity in the area of our basic human needs. No such rationale, nor any other compelling reason, exists for exempting animal drugs from the sales tax. Accordingly I have vetoed those items.

In subsection 29 of Section 4, food products to be exempt from the retail sales tax after January 1, 1974, are defined in detail but exclude from the definition candy and confectionery. Many of the ingredients of candy and confectionery qualify as food products under the definition and continue to be exempt from the sales tax in baked form and in frozen form. Yet the same ingredients when put into the form of candy and confectionery would no longer be defined as food products and would therefore be subject to the sales tax. Moreover, candy is defined as a food in the Washington Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, RCW Chapter 69.04, and is also classified by the United States Department of Commerce as a food. The exclusion of candy and confectionery from the definition of food products is inconsistent and illogical, and accordingly I have vetoed those items excluding candy and confectionery from the definition of food products.

Similar language including animal drugs in the definition of prescription drugs and excluding candy and confectionery from the definition of food products appears in Section 5, subsections 23 and 24. Section 5 advances the exemption of prescription drugs and food products from the state use tax to January 1, 1974. For the same reason as stated above, I have vetoed those items in subsection 23 which extend the definition of prescription drug to animal drugs prescribed by a veterinarian, and those items in subsection 24 which exclude candy and confectionery from the definition of food products.

With the exceptions noted above, I have approved the remainder of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2102.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

September 25, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2112 entitled:

"An Act relating to the state patrol retirement system."

This bill amends RCW 43.43.270 to provide post-secondary educational benefits through the State Patrol Retirement System to the surviving children of any member of the State Patrol killed in the line of duty.

While the subject of the bill is unquestionably meritorious, the bill is unfortunately technically defective because of a drafting error that failed to take into consideration amendatory language in RCW 43.43.270 enacted in Section 4, Chapter 180, Laws of 1973, First Extraordinary Session.

The error was apparently discovered after the passage of this bill by the Senate on September 11, 1973, and the House on September 12, 1973. Thus, the identical amendatory language has been included as Section 3 in Substitute Senate Bill No. 2387 enacted on September 15, 1973, and which has been approved by me on September 22, 1973.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2112.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

September 25, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to one section SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2377 entitled:

"An Act relating to United States congressional elections."

This bill makes various changes in the election laws relating to the holding of special elections to fill vacancies occurring in congressional offices in order to update and conform these laws to present election procedural requirements.

Under Section 2 of the bill, when a vacancy occurs in the office of United States Senator for this state, the Governor shall make a temporary appointment to fill the vacancy from a list of three names submitted by the state central committee of the same political party as the Senator holding the office prior to the vacancy. This procedure represents a very substantial departure from the tradition existing in this state since the beginning of popular elections for United States Senators. No other state in the Nation has such a provision and our state would stand alone in the procedure by which the Governor fills the vacancy in the office of United States Senator.

I believe that in the election and appointment of federal and national offices there should be some consistency nationwide and it would be inappropriate for the State of Washington to differ in its practice from the other states.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto Section 2 of the bill. With the exception of that section, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

September 25, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to one item ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2494 entitled:

“An Act relating to public recreation, sports, culture and convention centers.”

This bill extends the option of levying a local 2% sales tax on charges for hotel and motel lodging to all cities and counties, and also extends the use of such tax revenue for the financing of convention center facilities.

I have always maintained that a bill should not contain an emergency clause unless a real emergency exists which would justify the consequence of removing the right of referendum from the people.

In addition, it has been brought to my attention that the bill poses a serious potential loss of revenue to the state from extending the option of levying the hotel/motel sales tax to all cities. The possibility exists, and the language of the bill does not appear to preclude this, that cities within a county levying the tax may choose to levy their own tax, thus resulting in a total tax of 4% which would be deducted from the 4.5% sales tax otherwise collected by the state. This problem should be given detailed consideration by the Legislature at its next session.

With the exception of section 8 which I have vetoed for the foregoing reasons, the remainder of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2494 is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

September 25, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am returning herewith without my approval as to certain items ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2603 entitled:

“An Act relating to state government; setting forth an economic impact act for the state of Washington.”

This act establishes the policy of the state to assist state employees whose jobs are terminated by closure of state institutions by providing relocation expenses and reimbursement for limited amounts of financial losses on sales of homes required by relocation. It further provides eligible employees not electing to relocate termination pay and early retirement benefits.

Section 2 (2) of the act defines the term “closure of a state facility”. The definition is needlessly complicated, however, by an item relating to availability of vacancies at other locations, the presumed intent of which is adequately covered in Section 3 (3). Accordingly, I have vetoed that item.

Section 4 (5) provides the conditions under which an affected employee may elect early retirement over relocation. A proviso in that subsection requires that the employee make his election within thirty days of termination. The effect of this proviso is to preclude affected employees at state institutions which were closed earlier this year, such as Northern

State Hospital, from ever exercising the election of early retirement since thirty days have already expired since they were terminated by reason of the closure of the state institution. The presumed intent of this proviso is contained in Section 5 (1)(b) which requires the employee to make his election within thirty days after the passage of this act or upon closure of the institution, whichever is later. I have therefore vetoed the proviso in Section 4 (5), commencing at page 4, line 17, and ending on line 18.

Section 4 (5)(d) is intended to prevent the situation from occurring where an employee avails himself of the early retirement benefits of the act while earning over $6,000 a year in other employment. As written, however, the effect of this subsection is to require that those employees eligible for early retirement under the act to spend two consecutive calendar years with income of less than $6,000 in each calendar year before receiving retirement benefits. The items referring to the two consecutive calendar years with income of less than $6,000 in each calendar year before an eligible employee may receive retirement benefits are clearly contrary to the intent of this act to provide immediate benefits to displaced employees. Accordingly, I have determined to veto those items.

It has further come to my attention that an ambiguity may exist in the language of Section 4 (4)(c) relating to terminal pay benefits. Specifically, the proviso in that subsection on page 4, lines 3 through 7, could possibly be construed to mean that a qualifying employee is entitled to full terminal pay even if he or she may have been working at other employment during a leave of absence since the closure of the state institution. Such employee might thereby be in a position to receive full terminal pay in addition to the outside income, which is a consequence not intended by this bill. The intent of the bill is to accord terminal pay benefits to a qualified employee reduced by the amounts of unemployment compensation actually received or which would have been received had the employee been eligible for unemployment compensation.

With the exceptions noted above, I have approved the remainder of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2603.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

September 26, 1973.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.
(Through the Secretary of State)

GENTLEMEN:

I am filing herewith to be transmitted to the Senate at the next session of the Legislature, without my approval as to certain items, ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2956 entitled:

"An Act relating to expenditures by state agencies and offices of the state; making appropriations for the fiscal biennium beginning July 1, 1973, and ending June 30, 1975; making other appropriations; designating effective dates for certain appropriations."

The specific items I have vetoed are as follows:

1. Insurance Commissioner. On page 5, Section 13, I have vetoed the proviso starting on line 1 and ending on line 6.

This proviso would require the Insurance Commissioner to sign his name on informational material distributed by him in a print not larger in size than the smallest print on such material. I have vetoed this item because I believe that substantive legislation of this kind does not properly belong in an appropriations bill and should be enacted separately. I further believe that if such a standard is to be set it should be applied to all elective officials and not just one elected official. If there is indeed a problem of abuse of elective or personal authority in such a way as to gain personal recognition, the citizens of this state are quite capable of dealing with such problem at the next election.

I have chosen not to veto the amendment which reduced the Insurance Commissioner's budget by $467,000. These funds were added by the Legislature during the First Extraordinary Session in 1973 in anticipation of passage of a no-fault insurance law. Since the law has not been enacted, the removal of these funds by the Legislature is certainly understandable. In fairness, however, it should be pointed out that the Insurance Commissioner has initiated a voluntary no-fault insurance program which will have a fiscal impact beyond the amount of funds remaining in the Insurance Commissioner's budget. I believe that serious consideration should be given during the next session of the Legislature to provide the necessary funds to meet the additional work load of the Office of the Insurance Commissioner as a result of implementation of the voluntary no-fault plan.

2. Department of Social and Health Services. On page 5, beginning on line 7, I have vetoed the entire Section 14 which ends on page 16.

Section 14 contains a series of amendments resulting in a total reduction of $12.1 million from the appropriation to the Department of Social and Health Services made by the Legislature during the First Extraordinary Session in 1973. These reductions were made presumably on the assumption by the Legislature that the federal government will provide the same funds either through the Federal Social Security Act or the food stamp and commodity program.

These budget reductions are entirely premature. We simply do not know at this time what amount of state support will be necessary for the Social Services Program and food stamp program until federal regulations governing participation in these programs are adopted later this year. I do not quarrel with either the need or the desirability of effecting such a substantial savings should federal funding be realized. I further intend to work closely with the Legislature as soon as information is available which will allow us to determine more precisely the amount of state funds which can be saved. I believe it is far more sound budgeting procedure and policy to provide assured biennial funding for such essential programs as day care, drug abuse, alcoholism, mental retardation and mental health, rather than to risk severe cutbacks in these programs if the federal funds do not materialize, in which event the Legislature would have to reappropriate the amounts reduced at its next session.

I further consider it to be bad budgetary practice to make budget cuts in a departmental appropriation while at the same time authorizing the department to overspend its reduced budget until the next session of the Legislature if federal funding does not materialize. This type of budget adjustment is the best indication that the Legislature has no knowledge at this time whether federal funding will indeed be available prior to its next session.

3. Four-Year Colleges and Universities. I have vetoed the entire Sections 15, 17, 18, 19 and 20, and also the proviso in Section 16, at page 18, beginning on line 25 and ending on page 19, line 5.

The items vetoed consist principally of: (1) budget reductions for Eastern, Western and Central Washington State Colleges, and (2) provisos requiring the governing board of each four-year college or university to limit advance notice for non-renewal of faculty contracts to six months.

It is expected that Eastern, Western and Central Washington State Colleges will experience an enrollment decline to a level below that for which state support was provided during the 1973-75 biennium. While budget reductions to match reduced enrollment may eventually be necessary, it is premature of the Legislature to reduce arbitrarily the budgets for these colleges based on assumed enrollment declines which may or may not prove to be accurate. Actual and accurate enrollment information at these colleges for this fall will be available within a few short weeks, at which time a more realistic base for the necessary reductions can be taken. In addition, it has been recognized in a statement made on the record for the House Journal that fiscal computations used to compute the reduction for each college were in error. These computations did not adequately recognize the full amount of the corresponding student operating fees which will be lost to the colleges as a result of the lower enrollment levels. While I am now vetoing the budget cuts made by the Legislature, it is incumbent upon the administrators of the affected colleges to seek every possible way to limit spending and take such action as may be necessary to limit contract renewals to assure that every economy is achieved while not denying enrolled students the opportunity to complete their educational programs.

The provisos which would require the governing boards of the four-year colleges and universities to limit advance notice for non-renewal of faculty contracts to six months were adopted in a precipitous manner with little research or forethought. Moreover, adequate opportunity was not provided to representatives of the colleges and universities to comment upon the effect of the provisos.

Based upon an institution by institution review of faculty codes, handbooks and contracts, it is apparent that while there is some variation in institutional policies regarding advanced notification of termination or non-renewal, such policies are conditioned on the existence of financial exigencies. In actuality, under the existing policies at these institutions in the event of financial exigency such as would be occasioned by an abrupt and unanticipated decline in enrollment, no advance notice is provided. In short, if a faculty member were terminated with no notification whatsoever by reason of insufficient funds to operate the institution at its existing staffing level, there would be no breach of contract because the right to receive advance notice of termination or non-renewal is a right conditioned on the institution having sufficient funds to maintain its existing staffing level.

The net effect of the provisos is thus to provide a legislated six-month advance notice requirement for non-renewal of faculty contracts if a college or university experiences financial difficulties as a result of lower enrollment levels. It is ironic indeed that this right to notice currently does not exist.

I am not convinced that the Legislature intended to confer this additional benefit upon the faculty at our colleges and universities. I am convinced, however, of the need for the governing boards of the four-year state colleges and universities to adopt necessary and proper retrenchment procedures for the termination or non-renewal of faculty contracts in the event financial exigencies created by reduced enrollment or discontinuance of funded programs necessitate such action. I further believe that such operating policies and procedures are properly the delegated responsibility of the governing board of each institution and not a matter to be legislated in an appropriations bill.

With the exception of the items described above, the remainder of the bill is approved.

Respectfully submitted,
DANIEL J. EVANS
Governor.

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

STATE OF WASHINGTON

THIRD EXTRAORDINARY SESSION of the FORTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE

FIRST DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Monday, January 14, 1974.

The Senate was called to order at 9:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Durkan, Francis and Woodall. On motion of Senator Knoblauch, Senator Durkan was excused. On motion of Senator Scott, Senator Woodall was excused. On motion of Senator Fleming, Senator Francis was excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Dave Larsen and Roxanne White, presented the Colors. Reverend Howard Perry, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Olympia, offered the following prayer:

"ALMIGHTY GOD, OUR HEAVENLY FATHER WHO HAS GIVEN US THIS GOOD LAND FOR OUR HOME AND HAS SET IT IN THE HEARTS OF THE PEOPLE OF THIS NATION AND THIS STATE TO LIVE WITH EACH OTHER UNDER THE RULE OF LAW, LOOK WITH YOUR FAVOR, O LORD, OUR GOD, UPON THOSE TO WHOM WE ENTRUST THE AUTHORITY OF GOVERNMENT. WE PRAY ESPECIALLY FOR THE GOVERNOR OF THIS STATE, FOR THE MEMBERS OF THIS SENATE AND FOR THOSE WHO SERVE IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. MAY THEY BE TEMPERATE IN THEIR JUDGMENT, REMEMBERING THAT THEY SERVE ALL THE PEOPLE. DELIVER US, O GOD, FROM THE BLINDNESS OF HEART THAT LEADS TO THE TYRANNY OF EVIL MEN AND FROM THE WEAKNESS OF WILL THAT LEADS TO THE TYRRANY OF CORRUPT INSTITUTIONS. HELP US TO PROVE OURSELVES A PEOPLE WHO ARE GLAD TO DO YOUR WILL, KNOWING THAT IN YOUR WAY WE SHALL FIND THE TRUTH THAT LEADS TO LIFE. FORGIVE US OUR FAULTS AND GRANT THAT ALTHOUGH WE AT TIMES MAY BE WEAK WE MAY ALWAYS TRUST IN YOUR STRENGTH AND DEPEND UPON YOUR LOVE. GLORY BE TO THEE, O LORD GOD OF THE UNIVERSE, WHO DOES MAKE YOUR HOME IN THE HEARTS OF MEN AND OF WOMEN. WE WILL PRAISE YOU AND MAGNIFY YOU FOREVER. AMEN."

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President: "Honored members of the Senate, the President at this time should like to extend a gracious greeting to each of you and a warm welcome to our two newest members, the Honorable Ruthe Ridder who is now hanging her coat in the Senate lounge, and Senator von Reichbauer who is also with us, and to offer a note of condolence to Senator von Reichbauer for the demise of the Alabama team on that sad Monday night.

"The President believes that every member of the Senate will join with him in expressing appreciation to the Honorable Sid Snyder and his staff for the wonderful effort they have extended in making every preparation necessary for an efficient beginning of this extraordinary session. I believe that you will realize if you stop a moment to think that it is a tremendous task and that Sid and his group perform it in excellent fashion, in fact a superior fashion."

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

Office of the Secretary, January 14, 1974.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE,
THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON,
OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON.

MR. PRESIDENT:

I, A. Ludlow Kramer, Secretary of State of the state of Washington and custodian of the Seal of said State, do hereby certify that: I have carefully compared the annexed copy of a proclamation by the Governor calling an extraordinary session of the Legislature to convene on the 14th day of January, 1974, with the original copy of said proclamation now on file in this office, and find the same to be a full, true and correct copy of said original, and the whole thereof, together with all official endorsements thereon.

In Testimony Whereof, I have set my hand and affixed hereto the seal of the state of Washington. Done at the Capitol at Olympia on this the date of January 14, 1974.

A. LUDLOW KRAMER, Secretary of State.

(Seal of the state of Washington)

Office of the Governor.

In my proclamation dated August 21, 1973 convening an extraordinary session of the legislature in September, I listed a number of subjects of critical concern which required action by the Legislature. While the Second Extraordinary Session of the 43rd Legislature, by the time of its adjournment on September 15, 1973, had acted on a good number of those subjects, work on significant legislation vital to our citizens remains to be completed. In addition, we are now aware of the gravity and extent of the energy crisis which goes far beyond the electric power shortages existing at the time of the September session, for which legislation must be enacted to meet its broadening impact.

More specifically, the areas of major concern to which the Legislature must direct its attention are:

1. Energy Crisis. An extension of the emergency powers in the area of electric consumption and usage granted to the Governor in the September session is crucial so that our state can meet the crisis caused by shortages in oil and other fuels.
2. Department of Transportation. Now, more than ever, this state must address itself to the problem of integrated transportation planning beyond our traditional ties with the personal automobile and highways. Shortages of gasoline have put a glaring focus on the need for a statewide planning and administrative structure to preserve and to further technical competence in the area of transportation.
3. Public Transportation Funding. Legislation now pending designed at revising the gasoline tax structure in order to make possible funding of public transportation systems must be passed to help alleviate the short and long-term problems created by fuel shortages.

4. Statewide Land Use Planning. Legislation in this area is critically needed at this time not only on the merits of the issue, but also in light of imminent action in Congress on national land use control and management legislation. Our state must be prepared with the proper mechanism in the area of land use planning and management or risk the loss of substantial control to the federal government.
5. Supplemental State Budget. Supplemental appropriations and budget adjustments are needed to ensure that vital state programs are adequately funded throughout the remainder of the biennium.

In addition to the subjects above listed, the Legislature should also deal with: (1) Significant questions and needs in the area of state and local relations; and (2) Determination of a proper forest excise tax rate.

As a result of the foregoing matters which have not been attended to, an emergency exists constituting an extraordinary occasion within the meaning of Article III, Section 7 of the Constitution of the State of Washington.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Constitution, do hereby convene the Legislature of the State of Washington in Extraordinary Session in the Capitol at Olympia on the fourteenth day of January, A.D. 1974, at the hour of nine o'clock a.m., and

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of Governor Daniel J. Evans at the bar of the House, and the President requested the committee to escort him to a seat on the rostrum.

The President: "Honored members of this Legislature, ladies and gentlemen: The purpose of this joint session is to receive a message from Governor Daniel J. Evans. The Honorable Daniel J. Evans, Governor of the State of Washington."

Governor Evans: "Governor Cherberg, Speaker Sawyer, members of this Legislature: This message this morning will be as brief as I trust this session will be. But much more important than brevity, of course, is what will be accomplished during this 3rd extraordinary session of the 43rd Legislature. While it's called an extraordinary session, I view it, as I hope most of you view it, rather an annual session of this legislature designed to respond to the needs of our people to adjust the budget in light of changing conditions and to give us a better opportunity to meet the challenges of 1974, remarkably different from the challenges we faced just a year ago.

"Franklin D. Roosevelt said it perhaps best forty years ago when he said 'The only thing we have to fear, is fear itself.' In 1933 we had plunged into the worst depression in this nation's history. The economy was shattered, there was massive unemployment, agriculture was nearly destroyed and the monetary system was in disarray. Even with all these setbacks, however, there was among most of the people of that time a strong heartbeat of hope. People were resolved, together, to build a better society. With all of their problems people did have pride in themselves and hope for a better future.

"In contrast, in 1973 this state and this country enjoyed one of its best years economically. The increase in employment of 53,000 in this state was exceeded by only one year in our state's history. Today more people are at work in this state than ever before. We have fully recovered from the deep recession of the late 1960's and early 1970's. In nearly every major aspect of the economy there were substantial gains in employment and growth—with the exception of government. Agriculture enjoyed a record year, aerospace stabilized and grew, forest products were strong and the general well-being of the economy was spread throughout all parts of the state. All in all, 1973 was the second best year in the economic history of Washington.

"In meeting the most difficult problem of 1973—the shortage of electric energy—the people of this state responded to the situation in a voluntary way, which is, I believe, unprecedented in the history of our state, or for that matter, of the United States. Statewide electric energy usage was reduced 7 percent; state government reduced usage on the average of 20 percent and here on the Capitol campus energy use was reduced more than one-third.

"It is true that there were problems, serious problems, in 1973. Shortages of all kinds struck unexpectedly and dramatically. People questioned the shortages, but they were there. Inflation reached new levels and surely represents our most serious problem in 1974. The confidence people had in their government, in their institutions and finally in themselves seemed to reach new lows. A counsel of despair appeared to be the order of the day and it became fashionable for the richest, strongest, freest and most fortunate people on the face of this earth to feel sorry for themselves and to seek understanding and even pity from their less fortunate neighbors.

"Yet, I am convinced the people of Washington, even as they face the chronic shortages of 1974 and beyond and the realization that hard choices have to be made, are eager and almost pleading to be involved in a challenge which is larger than themselves and to which they can devote their energies, their imaginations and their intellects. I believe this administration and this legislature would make a tragic mistake if we felt 1974 was a time to be fearful, to cast aside our great programs of the past, or to fail to dream the great dreams for the future.

"The people of Washington, I believe, will heed a call to greatness as never before in the past generation. We are a people who, having experienced the discord of the past decade, now can turn to building toward the future which can be ours during the next ten years. We cannot turn and run but must stand and confidently provide the leadership all citizens so fervently desire and should expect.

"Earlier this month I disclosed a new and innovative program, unique among the fifty states of this nation, whereby literally tens of thousands of the people of this state could band together to define the options for their future and then decide what that future should be. As I said, 'While we cannot escape history, we can, within reasonable limitations, be active makers of history rather than its helpless victims.' I invite this legislature, individually, and as a body, to work on this project both as an active participant in delineating our future options and, by 1975, a year from now, as the active instrument for putting the most desirable options into effect.

"Later this week I will announce the formation of a commission to conduct once again a major study of public employment and governmental productivity and efficiency. This citizen effort is designed to examine every facet of governmental operation and to report specific recommendations for better efficiency, clearer measurements of productivity and better means of personnel utilization. I expect to be able to utilize the great talents within the private sector of our economy and I expect the recommendations to come from this group to be action recommendations to which I pledge prompt response. Today we have a fine and exceptionally productive group of state employees. In most major areas of state government we are now serving more citizens per employee and doing it more effectively than was the case ten years ago or in virtually any of our sister states. But we can do better and we must do better. Again, I would ask the legislature to become an active participant in this major effort.

"There are a number of specific issues which I will place before the legislature which I believe represent the highest priority for our state. The list is not long, but nonetheless important. The energy shortage, although perhaps not as severe in this state as in others, should have by now convinced almost everyone of the folly of not providing for a comprehensive department of transportation and for a reform of transportation funding. If we are to have, as so many have called for, an integrated and balanced transportation policy and if we are going to provide essential flexibility in transportation financing we do need these new pieces of legislation. Energy shortages simply are not going to disappear magically nor in a short period of time. Each local government, the cities and the counties of this state, as well as the state itself, I believe ought to have the wisdom and ought to have the ability to measure their own needs in transportation and be able to deal with those needs, both in terms of financing as well as management.

"This state, both individually and through the National Governor's Conference has been working closely with the federal government to assure a significant role for the states in energy allocation. The federal rules which will be published tomorrow will require an expansion of our allocation legislation so that we can act both promptly and decisively.

"We have been successful, through the National Governors' Conference in gaining this significant role for our state. We have succeeded, and now the challenge is ours—to be able to respond promptly and decisively when every allocation is required. No one seeks mandatory authority with any delight. It's not an easy task, it's not a very desirable task, but it's one which simply must be done if we're to meet, as well as possible, this energy problem.

"The best pollution control legislation of any state, the finest shoreline protection act in this country should be joined this session by comprehensive land use planning legislation. The legislation before you is good legislation. It has been worked on for months by broad citizen committees, as well as members of this legislature. Many have labored tirelessly to produce a bill embodying strong local control within a framework of state coordination. This state is noted for its progress in protecting its resources, and as the home of the distinguished United States Senator who is the leader in environmental matters and a prime mover of federal land use legislation. We ought to take some pride in passing a bill this session to show both to him and to our citizens, as well as the rest of the nation, our capacity for national leadership.

"The office of community development, now legally operating under an executive order, needs to be given legislative approval. It is doing outstanding work, I believe, now, and in recent months has made enormous strides in forging a new Washington partnership with local communities and governments.

"Several important measures designed to improve and strengthen our system of justice should be adopted. They are not new measures. They have been worked on hard by committees of this legislature and many of them have been introduced in past sessions. I believe three deserve your support this session. Implementation of these measures will enhance our system of justice and will lead to a more efficient management of that system of justice.

"In the field of consumer protection, two bills are urgently needed this session. Legislation providing for the publishing of a drug formulary would enable consumers, particularly older persons, to purchase safe and therapeutically effective prescription drugs at a cost lower than those usually charged for the equivalent name brands. A committee has worked on this legislation, it has been adopted by our Board on Pharmacology, and I believe ought to be adopted by this legislature. Newborn insurance legislation would require that health care insurance provide coverage to newborn children or persons covered by the insurance contract from the time of birth.

"Many exceptions exist today. Many families are made destitute by severe medical costs occurring with or shortly after the birth of their children not covered by many of today's insurance contracts. Both of these measures can be of significant value to the many people in our state who simply do not have the resources to totally protect themselves.

"People expect and should receive effective results from their tax dollar. This session I shall seek two measures to help insure those results. The centralized administration of state government's motor vehicles, which I have requested several times before, and centralized school bus administration will provide better management and can provide substantial savings to the taxpayers of this state. I will work closely with this legislature and with individual members as you seek other such legislation which can perform equal services.

"For several sessions the issue of annual sessions has been before this legislature. By executive action, for the last six years annual sessions have in fact been the rule rather than the exception. I believe it is time to submit this issue by a constitutional amendment to the people of this state so that they can have the opportunity to vote on this question and so that citizens can be assured of the regularity and the control of legislative sessions.

"Finally, let me speak again about the budget. In a break with tradition and as a precursor of the law you passed a year ago which will require early submission of the budget starting next year, I submitted this budget in December, several weeks ahead of the session to allow early consideration of it by appropriate legislative committees. I trust this process now is well under way. This state has a history of careful fiscal management and an equal concern for its human and natural resources. It is time for us to stand up and be proud of what has been done and what is being done because it is a legislative as well as executive responsibility. In fiscal 1972, Washington ranked seventh among the eleven western states in terms of state and local taxes per $1,000 of personal income. State taxes for fiscal 1972 increased only 4.3 percent over fiscal 1971. This was the second lowest rate of increase among the 50 states of this nation. During the 1965-72 period state and local government expenditures increased at a rate less than the national average. During this period I am confident the results, the excellence of response to the people of this state has been substantially above the national average. To a very high degree the proposals made in this budget concern those innovative and progressive programs which make this state a leader among the states in its concern for people. Education, care for the mentally retarded, volunteer programs, library services are but a few of the areas where we should and I think we must continue our leadership. The program, a unique program to put this state among the forefront of all the states of the nation in volunteer efforts, will be presented. This program for local service will allow young people throughout the state to volunteer for a year of effort in the support of the various institutions of their community. They will be able to select the kind of work they do and the various community organizations will be able to seek out and bring on board these young volunteers. The program deserves, I believe, the support of this state as it has already had for the past year the support of the federal government.

"I strongly urge the legislature to help make the libraries of this state whole. They have been hurt, and hurt badly, by the recent changes in law and by court decisions that relate to property taxes. Your local libraries and the state library as well will be unable to continue the excellent work they have carried out over past years unless there is some additional support from this session of our legislature.

"The retarded, especially those in our institutions, simply are not receiving to the extent they should educational and training opportunities, and this budget contains sufficient revenues to allow the continuation and expansion for those educational programs so that every youngster capable of receiving to whatever degree possible training or education, is able to get that training or education.

"I strongly urge the legislature to approve the exceptionally modest appropriations requested for the minority and equal rights commissions. I hope that these funds will not be caught up in either narrow partisanship or the equally erroneous position that the problems with which these commissions are working so successfully are resolved, because they are not.

"During the next several weeks the people will be watching to see how carefully and how promptly we discharge our responsibilities. I believe the business and budget of the state can and should be decided in the next 30 to 40 days. If, at any subsequent time, events dictate a further session, I would not hesitate to call one. But unnecessary delay in budget or legislative decisions now should receive strong citizen response and dissent.

"Each of us will be measured at the end of this session as to how well we conducted the peoples' business. If our performance consists of little more than partisan backbiting, struggles for privilege and prerogative and a small and mean response to the cry of the people for leadership, we will and should be judged accordingly. If, instead, we submerge needless partisanship, concern ourselves with making this system work rather than abetting its destruction and respond to the great issues of the day we can retrieve some of the lost luster of political leadership. We can be regarded as leaders who, in a difficult time, cared enough to be right rather than expedient and who participated in a great partnership with the citizens of this state whom we all serve. Thank you."

President Cherberg: "Thank you very much, Governor Evans. Would the Governor's escort committee please come to the rostrum and escort Governor Evans to his Chambers?"

The committee retired.

The President of the Senate instructed the escort committee to escort the state elected officials from the House Chamber.

The committee retired.

WE PRAY, OUR GOD, THAT YOU WOULD ABUNDANTLY GIVE US OF YOUR SPIRIT, WITHOUT WHOM NOTHING IS STRONG, NOTHING IS HOLY, AND USE US AS IT SHALL PLEASE YOU. EMPTY US OF SELF-SEEKING DESIRES AND FILL US WITH THE WISDOM WHICH YOU GIVE TO THOSE WHO WAIT UPON YOU AND YOUR WORD. INCREASE OUR FAITH, MELLOW OUR JUDGMENT, STIR OUR ZEAL, DEEPEN OUR AFFECTIONS. PRESERVE US FROM JEALOUSY AND IMPATIENCE, FROM SELF-WILL AND DEPRESSION AND GIVE US A SENSE OF OUR WORTH AS YOUR CHILDREN. GLORY BE TO YOU, O GOD OF OUR FATHERS, THROUGH JESUS CHRIST OUR LORD. AMEN."

By Senators Fleming, Grant, Durkan, Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Francis, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall and Woody:

WHEREAS, We the members of the Senate congregated here this fifteenth day of January to carry out the responsibilities delegated to us by the citizens of this state, recognize that in this never-ending challenge we have the ideals of a most Honorable American to help us light our path; and

WHEREAS, The Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was an obscure young minister in an Alabama church when he took part, in 1955, in an historic act of protest: The organized boycott by Blacks of the Montgomery bus system, an act which captured the imagination of the Nation and of the Black community in particular; and

WHEREAS, This man, a man of God, became an honored citizen of the world, when he received the Nobel Prize for Peace in 1964; and

WHEREAS, This man, a man of great intelligence, compassion, and courage, refused to be intimidated in the face of seemingly insurmountable obstacles in order to tell us that though we are "one Nation under God" we were two societies, separate and unequal; and

WHEREAS, This man, a man who devoted his life to the betterment of the downtrodden in this Nation, marched in the South, marched in the North and marched into the heart and conscience of every concerned American; and

WHEREAS, The Reverend Dr. King, challenged us to better the quality of this society by calling for the elimination of ignorance, discrimination, slums, poverty and disease — “Not because we are frightened of conflict, but because we are fired by conscience”; and

WHEREAS, This man, a man who held to a Gandhian belief in the principles of Pacifism, was assassinated in April of 1968, an act which brought shame and grief to all of us;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That on this day we, the Senate of the State of Washington, pause in our deliberation to pay homage to one of our most honorable citizens, the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in order to call to the attention of the residents of this state his selfless contributions to the betterment of minorities and the poor, to rededicate ourselves to the pursuance of his, and our, cherished ideals, and to pay heed to the following biblical quote on which it may be said that the Reverend Dr. King modeled his life, “If I am not for myself, who will be for me? And if I am only for myself, what am I? And if not now, when?”.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow and members of his family.

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: “Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, most of you know what this day is and you have heard the resolution. I cannot help but believe that in this day and age more than ever we should as members of this body and of this state and nation try and rededicate ourselves, and to some I guess dedicate themselves, to the people of this nation that are in most need. I hope at one point in time in history in this state that a resolution such as this on this floor will be more than just a formality. I hope that someday we in this state will not be on this floor on this date. Hopefully we will be at home or wherever there are places for us to sit back and reflect on what this nation is all about and where this nation should be going. I hope that that, with the good graces of the Lord and the good will of men, will be a reality some day. I think that we should also think in terms of what this man’s life meant. Whether you want to recognize it or not, no other man in history, be he black or white, yellow or red, other than a president, has had the acclaim that this man did in his life. No other man has had as many streets, as many schools, as many city holidays, school holidays and state holidays named in his memory. This in itself is a tribute to a great man and I think, in closing, what we all should think about, and it is a very serious thing, that right now we are at one of the most dangerous times in our lives. The poor and the minorities that this man fought for, this man strove to have better lives for them in this world, they are indeed in trouble. When we are in a nation at a time when we are talking about an energy crisis, when there is not enough fuel to heat homes, we know who will freeze in the inner cities, in the homes that are leaking at this particular time. We know when there is not enough gas at fifty cents in a nation but there will be enough gas at a dollar a gallon, you know who will suffer. We know when they say that there might be a dollar loaf of bread in the future in a country that has so much to offer while they are sending wheat to other countries; we know the people who will be suffering most. And I think that this body, and I hope the people of this state, can recognize that there are no longer any organized efforts to rid institutional racism. There are no longer any organized efforts to spread the economic power and the wealth with the poor and the minorities. On the national level all these programs have been dismantled and I think that we are going in reverse.

“And so in closing, gentlemen, I do say that if any time, now is the time to reflect on where we are going and hopefully that we will look in behalf of those people because this man lost his life striving in that direction. Thank you."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GRANT

Senator Grant: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I would simply like to offer a few words in behalf of the resolution. I think it is incumbent upon someone of my race to offer a tribute to this man but more than to a man; I think to an idea, and I think that is what is exemplified by the life of Martin Luther King is an idea, a concept. I think I should like to quote from Abraham Lincoln in the Emancipation Proclamation when he said, and I think Dr. King's life exemplified this — they are not well known words — he said, speaking to the blacks of the country at that time:

'I hereby enjoin upon the people so declared to be free to abstain from all violence unless in necessary self defense.'

"I think that is an idea that was exemplified by the life of Martin Luther King. And I think it is something that we all should reflect on. This is not a tribute to a man. If we were to establish the day, January 15, as a holiday it would not be a tribute to Martin Luther King. I think it would be a tribute to an idea, and that idea is equality of man, justice under the law for all citizens of this country. I just hope and pray that one day and we have not accomplished this as yet, I am fearful that we have not accomplished this as yet, we will consider our black brothers in this country men, fellow men, not boys. I urge your adoption of the resolution."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARRY LEWIS

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Mr. President, speaking in support of the resolution, I believe that this resolution in honoring Reverend King honors in a far broader sense all of those minorities, yellow, red, black, the downtrodden and the poor. I think the purposes we are talking about are more than ideals. They are more than objectives. They should be our purposes, the purposes of establishing equality, and I think we can be proud of the progress that we have made here in the state of Washington. The Republican Party is proud of its efforts in this regard as well as I am sure you gentlemen on the other side of the aisle are proud. Yes, we have a long way to go in the elimination of ignorance and the final elimination of all discrimination and we are glad to join with you, Senator Fleming, in this resolution today."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DORE

Senator Dore: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I too, would like to join in the resolution before you honoring Martin Luther King. In my lifetime as a state legislator, I think the two finest things that have happened to me are that I personally had the acquaintance of John F. Kennedy when I was a young law student and also I had the honor of introducing Martin Luther King on one of his visits to Seattle. Now what made Martin Luther King great, greater than all the rest of men in similar positions? He came from a humble origin, came from a deprived state, and yet he rose to the highest heights probably, as Senator Fleming pointed out, of any man other than the president himself. And I think the answer to that is the man himself. He was a regular rather small man physically, not impressive physically. He was quiet, he did not threaten anyone. He spoke very gently and so on, but he was a dynamic orator and he spoke during a time when many of our black brethren had abandoned our system of government, that it would not work, that there was no room for the black man, that he could not rise in the system. He could not have decent homes or he could not send his children to schools that were adequate so they could be trained. They would have no share of the great American dream, and so, many advocated violence, to break off, to have a separate America, to have separate states. But there was one cool calming voice during that era and I remember it well and that was Martin Luther King. And he said the Constitution of our land and our laws were adequate so the black man could work within the system and rise within the system, and I think history has determined that he was right, because at that time there were no black men in the legislature, at that particular time there was no black man. There was none on the city council of our great cities. There were very few in Congress. There were no great black leaders. In a few short years now, examine the record. We have many, many of our large cities administered by black mayors, effectively, accepted by black and white together. We have our many black Congressmen. We have, of course, representations in both houses of our legislature. Today throughout the state, of course, the black man can expect to be treated, not always but in most cases, equally with his white brother in the event that he advocates the proper program. And I think if we are fair and honest with this we can trace ourselves back to the time of Martin Luther King and what he advocated doing during an era of hysteria. He was that calm cool voice. He was dedicated. He spoke the voice of reason and that is why he rose to the top. He was the leader of men. I think people paid more attention to him probably during his time than any one single individual. What he said was the law. What he advocated they tried to do. So today it is indeed an honor and a privilege as I stand in the Senate to join in this resolution with Senator Fleming, Senator Grant, Senator Lewis, and others who have spoken here. He was an outstanding great man and it is fitting that we honor him today by this resolution."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Fleming, all members were added as sponsors of Senate Resolution 1974-165.

PRESIDENT'S PRIVILEGE

The President requested the members of the Senate and visitors to stand for a moment of silence in memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The motion by Senator Fleming carried and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

At 11:45 a.m., the Senate retired to the House Chamber to meet in Joint Session for the purpose of hearing the Honorable Henry M. Jackson, United States Senator, address the members of the legislature.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker requested the Sergeant at Arms of the House to escort the President, President Pro Tempore and Vice President Pro Tempore of the Senate to seats on the rostrum beside the Speaker.

The Speaker requested the Sergeants at Arms of the House and the Senate to escort the Senate members to seats within the House.

The Speaker turned the gavel over to the President of the Senate.

The President announced that with the consent of the members of the House and the Senate the roll call would be dispensed with.

The President of the Senate appointed the following committee to escort the elected state officials of the State of Washington to the bar of the House: Representatives Flanagan, Ceccarelli and Curtis and Senators Odegaard, Lewis (Harry) and Talley.

The Committee retired.

The Sergeant at Arms of the House announced the arrival of the elected state officials at the bar of the House, and the President invited them to seats at the front of the House Chamber.

The President of the Senate appointed the following committee to escort United States Senator Henry M. Jackson to the bar of the House: Representatives Gaines, Hoggins and Savage and Senators Ridder, von Reichbauer and Lewis (R. H. "Bob").

The President: "Mr. Speaker, Senator Jackson, Father Treacy, Honored State Officials, esteemed members of the Legislature, ladies and gentlemen: The most crucial and dangerous stage of any impending crisis is the times when positive action can be taken to prevent disaster. With regards to the apparent energies shortage throughout the nation and the world, that time is today. Those of us who now have the duties to deal with the problems surrounding the energies conservation and consumption needs must seek counsel in the most knowledgeable sources. We are indeed fortunate to have with us today, United States Senator Henry M. Jackson, a native son of Snohomish County in the state of Washington. As we are all aware, Senator Jackson has served with honor and distinction and served diligently on behalf of this state and the United States of America. He has achieved a career second to none. Senator Jackson is the most knowledgeable source on the subject of the energies crisis facing the world. His experience and background in these complex matters will be relied upon by the United States Congress in the immediate future when it resumes its battle with the energies crisis problem. Scoop, everyone fortunate enough to be present today is most grateful to you for being with us in Olympia and we know that you will give us the information that we need concerning this vital issue. Ladies and gentlemen, it is with great pride and honor that I now present to you the Honorable Henry M. Jackson, United States Senator."

Senator Jackson: "Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the House and Senate in Joint Session, and ladies and gentlemen: I am honored indeed to accept your kind invitation to address this Joint Session at a time of great, great uncertainty in our country's history. We're confronted with some of the most far-reaching problems that impact not only on our nation domestically, but impact on our nation internationally. We speak at a time when we don't have adequate information to deal with these problems. The facts are that we don't have the facts about how much oil is in inventory in various states of refinement, how much oil is being imported, how much oil is being exported, the amount of oil, if any, that is in shut-in wells, as they call them, capped wells. The list is long.

"I talked to Mr. William Simon, the head of the energy effort nationally and a very able man, and a great patriotic citizen. He made the same observation—we just don't have the facts. So on Monday next, I will have all the major international oil companies before my investigative committee to ask them to submit the data we have already requested covering the points I have mentioned and additional items. So that we can get the facts and with the facts we can act intelligently as legislators in dealing with the crisis.

"People ask me and they ask you 'Is there an energy crisis?' Well, I think that's a play on words. We're all politicians and to the man who has to stand in line for gasoline—I was at a breakfast in Shelton this morning and they couldn't come from one town because they're out of gas up there—it's a crisis. And to the person who sees in the paper that gasoline is going to be $1.00 per gallon, I'd say it's a crisis. And to our senior citizens who are getting hit hard with terrible increases in fuel oil prices, it's a crisis. The real question is: Are these things being withheld that should be made available?

"Now the emergency energy bill which comes up at noon on Monday, after I have a hearing at 10 a.m., has many things in it of importance, and one thing will be to require the data that I have referred to by law. They say in the meantime we're not going to wait, we're going to move right ahead and get that basic information without delay. The immediate problem that you and I face is how to manage shortages. That's not a very pleasant political task, by any means, because you have to ration shortages in such a way as to do equity and to do it in a way that will not impair the economy of this state and the nation.

"May I mention to you that in the mandatory allocation act — fuels allocation act — the philosophy behind it was to give as much responsibility to the state to carry out the program as possible. We feel that local government knows more about the specific problems at the local level than does someone sitting in Washington, D.C. I hope you share that judgment, and hence we have made special provisions in the law authorizing the President of the United States to delegate authority on the allocation to state government, and there are set-asides to deal with emergencies in a way in which you can act effectively on specific problems. I believe that the Congress will approve my emergency bill when we return — it's passed the House and Senate — it's a Conference Report — and in that bill we have a provision to reimburse the states for the cost of carrying out federal programs — the salaries and the necessary expenses incident to the administration of these allocation programs. In addition, we provide in that emergency bill for conservation authority, and those programs we leave largely to the states. May I, at this point, say how proud I am of the state of Washington for taking the lead nationally, along with the state of Oregon, in conserving energy, because this is a main part of our emergency efforts. We've been on an energy binge too long. I hope you agree with that. We've been wasting it, we've been using it as if it were going out of style. Having lights in those big skyscrapers on 24 hours a day is not the way in which you conserve energy. Those two huge towers in Lower Manhattan consume as much energy in a 24-hour period as is consumed in a city the size of Spokane. They have finally turned them off. They have one light switch in each building, or two switches, either turn them all on or turn them all off. I hope you look at your building codes, too. They don't even allow an open window — they're sealed. I think in our drive for something to be new and different, totally functional, we lose sight of some of the simple things that I think are basically important.

"Our immediate problem of the emergency, and in this area, if I may say so, I think it's important for the state, and maybe the Legislature will want to consider means by which you can, through your state government, advise Mr. Jack Robertson, who is the Regional Director of the Federal Energy Office in Seattle, and I think a very able and competent person — he's a distinguished scientist — of the things that you anticipate will be in short supply. I think you might want to consider an early warning system. Agriculture has the highest priority on allocations and that includes our timber products industry. I think you might want to consider authority for your state government to collect the data so that you can advise Mr. Robertson in advance what your requirements are going to be. What the future needs will be for agriculture, for the timber products business, for fishing — take something highly seasonal — the construction business. We have a base period that is not good and that will have to be adjusted. I believe the State Legislature might do well to consider legislation that will help in marshalling the facts so that sensible decisions can be made in advance and made before we run into serious economic trouble.

"Now the immediate problem, besides rationing shortages, involves, in addition, getting an on-going program of land use planning underway. This is a function of the state. The only reason that I introduced a bill in the Congress was to find a means by which we could urge the states to undertake this function, and we provide in that legislation grants-in-aid of up to 90% for technical assistance to make it possible for the states to get started on a land inventory program, to make it possible for the states to look ahead. We're talking about literally rebuilding America between now and the year 2000 — where the highways of the future will go and be located, the airports, the industrial sites, the power siting. Do we need, ladies and gentlemen, to have all of these series of corridors across the Cascades? Much of it, most of it, is duplicated, when we could have maybe 2 or 3 energy cores and not rip up as much land as we have been doing. And then the other objective, of course, is to decide in advance and look ahead for planning purposes to the areas you want to preserve and conserve. The federal legislation, very simply stated, is an effort to urge the states to exercise state's rights, because only the states have the police power to do this job. But we face a crisis in this area. Awhile back I, like maybe some of the rest of you — whenever a new industry came to town I was always muscling in the picture to claim credit. We were glad to welcome the new industries. Now, the odds are that the head of the new industry coming to town will be welcomed by the sheriff with a show-cause order why the industry should be located there. All I'm suggesting is that we need some guidelines, we need a road map, we need to be able to tell people where our power plants should be located, our energy sites, what areas ought to be conserved. I'm a life-long environmentalist. I can look at this both ways. I even authored the National Environmental Policy Act, but I know there's something rotten in Denmark when we have on the East Coast a situation where 70% of all their oil comes by tanker from abroad, and the states are all passing resolutions saying: 'We don't want a port or a refinery located on our coast.' Well, you know you can demagogue a little bit, but after awhile it comes to a screeching bit of trouble especially when they turn it off, and you have to decide whether they're going to be cold, or whether there's going to be a facility. I want the states to move first. I've been proud of the state of Washington for its progressive leadership on the part of both political parties.

"Moving on then, the Land Use Bill in the Senate is supported by the Democrats and by the Republicans — it's a bipartisan effort and I hope and trust that you will pass an appropriate land use bill in this session of the Legislature. We need some decisions regarding the areas that are to be conserved and the areas that are to be developed. The House is acting on my bill, I hope very shortly. It's all a part of the energy package, because you have to decide where these energy facilities are to be located. We passed the surface mining — so-called strip mining bill. It's a sensible bill. We just say if you can reclaim it, you can strip it. If you can't reclaim it, you can't strip it. I don't think we want too many moon scars around the United States. So the immediate problem in energy that we face beyond the emergency is first, an all-out effort must now be made to develop the outer continental shelf and to build oil refineries. This is how you move immediately. It's fine to talk about solar energy, but tell the chap when he asks you when he's going to get some more gasoline: 'Well, you go down to the solar pump.' The solar pump may be 25 or 30 years away, and I don't think many of us will be around at that point.

"We need immediately to develop our own oil protection. Let me give you some brief figures. The total oil reserve for the world is 600 billion barrels — that's recoverable reserve, what you can dig out. That does not mean in-place reserves and they are many, many times greater than that, but this is what you can get out with current technology — 600 billion barrels. Saudi Arabia, with 5 million people, has 300 billion barrels — one-half. United States of America, last year or last figures had 38.7 million barrels. We produce more and consume more than any nation on earth, so our reserves are going down. Now what do we have in the United States — I am convinced that in Alaska alone we have 100 billion barrels of oil that could be developed. Prudhoe Bay has 9.8 billion, the naval petroleum reserve has a minimum of 30 billion barrels, and that doesn't count the rest of the inland of Alaska and the outer continental shelf of Alaska, even though the outer continental shelf of Alaska is so vast that it is more than all of the other coastal and gulf states combined, about 50 to 60 percent of the total.

"And in the other areas of the outer continental shelf on the east coast, the west coast, the gulf, the public land, we have enormous reserves. So that's the task that we must move on immediately. We must cut the time from 8 years. We dawdle from the time a lease is sold; it's 8 years before oil appears. We want to cut that to about 3 to 4 years and do all of this in an environmentally acceptable way. We're not going out and insist that leases be sold in every area. We must pick the areas that will do the least amount of environmental damage, and I think that can be done.

"Then we must convert from oil to coal, and here we can save 2 million barrels a day. We consume 18 million barrels a day. We import a little over 6 million barrels a day. While we do that — I'll come to this main point in a minute — we must move forward with an on-going research and development system so that we can burn coal under boilers and do it without violence to the health of our people — clean air, and that we can do. A nation that can put all 12 men on the moon, — fantastic things that America has done — yet I've found that in this area we have done very, very little in the last 50 years in research. Burning coal under boilers, getting rid of the SO₂, the sulphur, and other pollutants is the highest research development project of all. So here we could save 2 million barrels a day immediately in the next few months — a third of the conservation efforts that I have alluded to through proper practices in the area of conservation.

"For the longer term, the intermediate and longer term, America must make the decision, and I think America has made that decision. The Senate did in passing my bill for a 30 billion dollar minimum authorization over ten years for research and development to make this country self-sufficient within a decade. I am confident that we can do it. For the intermediate term it involves a massive research and development program to convert coal to petroleum and to natural gas. We have over half of the coal reserves of the world — think of it, over half. We're in a unique position when it comes to the indigenous resources — Europe does not have his, Japan does not have those indigenous resources. Oil shale — we have a minimum of 600 billion barrels, equal to the total oil reserves of the world, that can be converted from that hard rock, and as high as 3 trillion barrels, five times the total reserves of the world, locked up in the Rocky Mountains, hard rock, you have to heat it to 800 or 900 degrees fahrenheit, but it can be converted to petroleum. Here again, this massive R & D effort is to come up with the best technique or techniques by which you can do it on an economically feasible basis and without doing violence to the environment.

"The third area is geothermal, the hot volcanic steam and water way down deep. We have it in our state. We estimate there are in the United States, primarily in the West and Louisiana, an equivalent of 20 Grand Coulees. This is a very important program.

"And then on down the road, looking out into the wild blue yonder, but we move all of these things concurrently – is fusion, the power of the hydrogen bomb. There's hydrogen as a fuel, which many experts say will be the substitute for gasoline in the future – very expensive now, and then there's solar energy, just to mention some. These are the infinite resources, unlimited, as compared with the finite resources which are limited and which we must recognize as limited, as we do our plans.

"And so I want to say that this program does involve the greatest research and development undertaking ever attempted by the United States of America in war or in peace – many times greater than the Manhattan project of World War II – many times greater than the Apollo program of the 1960's when we put a man, not one but 12, on the moon in 6 different voyages. It involves the marshalling of the brains involving all the disciplines of our nation, and you and I can be proud of the talent and the scientific and technological community of America. Many years after Kruschew announced that he was going to bury us, we find the Russians want our scientific and technological know-how like mad. But when you marry this scientific and technological know-how with these indigenous resources that I have referred to – the petroleum, the coal, the oil shale, the geothermal – you have an unbeatable combination. So in the midst of this crisis I bring you a word of good cheer. This is a manageable crisis.

"I want to say too, however, that as we look at our problems, we cannot ignore the problems of western Europe and Japan. It is important that we make sure that the economies of western Europe and Japan do not go under; they face the most serious of all problems. Europe is dependent to the degree of some 80 percent for their petroleum supply from the Middle East. Japan – 90 percent for its supply. And in the midst of that, having succumbed to blackmail, most of them, they had to pay their on-going price, and after they agreed to change their foreign policy, they were greeted with another greeting – which you always get from a blackmailer – that the price went up a little bit. The price has been going up a little bit from $3.50 a barrel to $20 a barrel in less than 12 months. I don't want the United States of America ever to be postured in such a way that we will be subject to blackmail and will have to knuckle under to any potentate, no matter where he may be located in the world. (Applause)

"So this is what it's all about. The figures we don't have available. But I say to you that the United States of America cannot tolerate a program in which we are dependent currently for 35 percent of our life blood from abroad and if there is a settlement tomorrow in the Middle East, ladies and gentlemen, don't get the idea that our problems are over, because they are not going to increase their production even a tiny bit. I was in the Middle East last year and I talked to one of the leaders of Saudi Arabia – this poor little country with 300 billion barrels of oil, an income of $3 billion the previous year. They made it very clear when I talked to them, and I brought this message back, but some people wouldn't listen. I said: 'Why don't you invest over in the United States?' I figured that if they invested enough over here, that when they attempted to nationalize our people over there, we could reciprocate over here. But they turned to me and said: 'Senator, can you think of a better investment than to keep our petroleum in the ground and just sell it as we need the revenue?' Well, I'm not an investment counselor but I said I couldn't disagree with them. As a matter of fact, had they gone to the best investment counselors on Wall Street a year ago and put it in the stock market it would be worth at least half of what it was worth then. In the meantime, they have had a 600 percent growth factor and I would think a good investment counselor who could produce for his client that well in one year, would make a good commission.

"The message is, that the Saudi's have cut their production from 8 million barrels to 6. They are making 4 times as much revenue. They'll take in 10 billion dollars. Secondly, they don't want to get too much money in the till, because they are sitting there as one of the 'have' countries surrounded by the Egyptians that are 'have nots' – 35 million of them versus 5 million. And they know very well that unless they are very prudent that there will be a capital levy put on them, and they don't hesitate to blackmail each other in the Middle East. So let's don't count on any great relief even if there is a settlement in Geneva. It would be unwise, imprudent for us to do that. Our task now is to go full speed ahead with the program of self-sufficiency and in the meantime see to it that our program is handled in such a way that we do not distort our economy. This is the crucial thing. What's hanging over the United States and the western industrial consuming countries is the danger of a major recession. As I said, I think it is a manageable crisis we face.

"In our own state, the reason that the economy of western Europe is important is that we export a lot of things to western Europe. We export a lot of agricultural products. We export lumber, pulp, and one of our biggest – commercial aircraft. Commercial aircraft could be seriously hurt with the postponement of orders here in this state, in this country nationally, and postponement of orders for the first time abroad. If the economies of Europe and Japan are hard hit, we must understand they will not be able to buy aircraft, and in the recession of 1970 the Boeing Company sold all of its commercial aircraft abroad, all of it – not a single plane sold in the United States commercially.

"So I think the legislature wants to watch carefully our industrial indicators. See to it that there is no cutback in the energy requirements for the job-producing industries in this state. This is an important item. All of these things are difficult. They are troublesome. They are all manageable. I want to assure you, both Republican and Democrat alike, of my desire to work with you in finding a common solution as I will work with your leaders on both sides of the aisle and work with the head of this energy effort, William Simon, who I think is an honest, confident, dedicated American – he doesn't belong to the same political party that I belong to. But I feel very deeply that in this point in our history it is so important that we act constructively and in the best interest of all of our citizens. We've all learned in politics, both sides of the aisle, that there are times when the best politics are no politics and that is right now. Thank you."

The President of the Senate instructed the committee consisting of Representatives Gaines, Hoggins and Savage, and Senators Ridder, von Reichbauer and Lewis (R. H. "Bob") to come forward and escort Senator Henry M. Jackson to the State Reception Room.

The committee retired.

The President requested the committee consisting of Representatives Flanagan, Ceccarelli and Curtis and Senators Odegaard, Lewis (Harry) and Talley to come forward and escort the elected state officials from the House Chamber.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 143, by Senators Bailey and Mardesich: Establishing cut-off dates.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 143 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 1, line 16, after "crises," insert "legislative reform, constitutional amendments and bills pertaining to implementing statutes for such constitutional amendments".

On page 1, line 23, after "crises" insert " , legislative reform, constitutional amendments and bills pertaining to implementing statutes for such constitutional amendments".

On page 2, line 4, after "crises" insert " , legislative reform, constitutional amendments and bills pertaining to implementing statutes for such constitutional amendments".

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Atwood:

On page 2, line 7, add the following:

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That on the thirtieth day of this session, February 12, 1974, the legislature shall adjourn sine die".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Mardesich yield to a question? Senator, this is a sine die amendment that we are proposing. We are very enthusiastic about the majority's move to establish a cutoff and we were glad to put our own cutoff resolution down behind yours when we saw that you had taken that proper step. My question is, do you intend to bring this session to a close properly and normally or do you intend to go along with the Speaker of the House and his objectives in delaying legislation until April sometime with an extended session?"

Senator Mardesich: "Mr. President, first of all, Senator Lewis, I think you make an assumption. I know you make an assumption when you suggest that the Speaker intends to delay legislation. I have certainly heard nothing to that effect and I think it is the Speaker's intention to proceed as rapidly and expeditiously as possible. With respect to the issue itself, you are well aware, I am sure, that when we were here last time establishing this system of continuing sessions and all that we agreed and in fact did authorize a session or sessions, which was the debate, it was left up in the air, we agreed that in 1974 we would limit ourselves to forty days all to take place prior to the April 30 deadline. It is our intention on this side to move as expeditiously as possible and that is why we have adopted these cutoffs. It has always been my position, as I think you are well aware when we met with the Governor with respect to this matter and he gave us some previews of his budget, this issue came up. I said at that time that as far as I am concerned we are going to work as hard as we can to finish this thing as rapidly as we can. And I had expressed the hope even that it might not take thirty days, but of course there is a great amount of legislation that has been introduced. We have some very serious problems with respect to the energy situation and it will take us some time to consider that. On the other hand, I did say that if it appeared to us that it was necessary, if for some reason we did not have the factual basis, the best factual basis available to use as a basis for acting, then I would not object to a session later. Believe me, I am the last one in the world to want to keep coming to Olympia every other day. I have things to do, as many of you do. It is difficult, it is a bad time of the year for farmers and when you get into the spring it is a bad time of the year for fishermen. When people do not know in their professions when they are going to be called to Olympia they have scheduling problems. I am aware of all that. And it is our intention to address ourselves to finishing this session up if we can. If it is at all possible we will. However, one subject did come up and that was the question of vetoes. We thought that if for no other reason we would work it this way. If there were vetoes then we might, that is again might, subject to further discussion, recess for a period of time, five days or so after the session, come back perhaps on a weekend following and address ourselves to the question of vetoes. The argument used against that was that we can consider the vetoes when you come back next January. But the fact is next January there may be a change in the membership of this place and I think that those of you who vote on bills now have the right to vote with respect to those vetoes. And that was one of the main reasons we left this open."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Thank you, Senator Mardesich. Your answer, as I understand it, is that you would like to play it loose. You are not really looking for a solid termination date? That is my understanding."

Senator Mardesich: "Let me reiterate. All I am saying is the sooner the quicker. If we can get done in less than thirty days I will be the first one to stand up and make the motion."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Lewis yield to a question? Senator Lewis, is February 13 the thirtieth day of the session? I was just counting up on the calendar. I did not know whether I had the right calendar or not and whether your amendment was in shape. You say the thirtieth and then you specify February 13."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator, I believe you are correct and if the Clerk or the Governor would permit an oral amendment, we will change that to the 12th."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newschwander: "Will Senator Bailey yield to a question? You know in '70 we came for thirty days and stayed thirty-six, '72 we stayed finally, I think, forty-four days. Regardless of the number of days we stay this time, will there be a sine die or are we going to recess until April?"

Senator Bailey: "I wish I knew that. Actually we have discussed this with the House and are not in disagreement in wanting to finish this job this session and if there is a need for another session we will have to negotiate the other session later on. After hearing Senator Jackson yesterday I am convinced that maybe we will not have the data for the energy crisis until later. Maybe we will but we are not going to close the door on that but not deliberately plotting for an April session. Our feeling over here is we want to finish the budget bill and we have found some general agreement. We are not in any fight with the House on this. We are talking in a very friendly fashion. They are taking some of our ideas but we do not want to close the door so tight that we say to you that there will be no April session."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, Engrossed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 143 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was adopted.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 142, by Senators Lewis (Harry), Atwood and Matson:

Prescribing dates for the consideration of bills and adjournment sine die.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senator Concurrent Resolution No. 142 was referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1974-164

By Senators Atwood and Lewis (Harry):

BE IT RESOLVED By the Senate of the State of Washington, in legislative session assembled that the rules of the Senate adopted at the regular session of the Forty-third Legislature be adopted as the rules of the Senate during the Third Extraordinary Session of the Forty-third Legislature.

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Bailey moved that Senate Resolution 1974-164 be referred to the Committee on Rules.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Bailey yield to a question? Senator Bailey, would you consider an amendment to your motion to have the Rules Committee report this resolution back out to the floor promptly within five days? If you would do that, I would certainly like to go along with your motion. If you would not go along with that suggestion, then I would assume that you do not want the Senate to operate with rules and I predict that we will not operate with rules during this session whatsoever. If you would go along with the motion to bring it back out by Monday, we would go along with you."

Senator Bailey: "I have no objection to bringing it out. Monday would be better. We hope to have a full calendar on Monday and Tuesday and I hope we do not get involved in two or three days of wasting our time on internal problems and forgetting the public's desire on some of their bills. I may not say how I will be glad to report it out, but I do not have to vote for it."

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), the motion by Senator Bailey was amended as follows: "that the committee on rules report to the Senate within five days".

The motion by Senator Bailey, as amended by Senator Lewis (Harry), carried.

Senate Resolution 1974-164 was referred to the Committee on Rules with instructions.

MOTION

Senator Metcalf moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1974-166

By Senators Metcalf and Stortini:

WHEREAS, The State of Washington requires private institutions to meet and maintain certain minimum standards; and

WHEREAS, The fire standards are required to protect the best interests of the residents and of the state;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That it is the will of the Senate that all State of Washington institutions meet all standards required of any private institutions or organizations.

MOTION

Senator Atwood moved that Senate Resolution 1974-166 be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Metcalf yield? Senator Metcalf, you mention in this resolution fire standards in your second 'Whereas' but your resolution says 'to meet all standards.' I do not know why you bring in fire there. You are talking about all standards, are you not?"

Senator Metcalf: "I am referring to all standards. The fire standards are the ones that perhaps are the ones we are thinking about right at this time."

Senator Canfield: "But your resolution does not restrict itself to fire standards?"

Senator Metcalf: "No, it does not. That would be brought out in Ways and Means."

Senator Canfield: "Thank you."

The motion by Senator Atwood carried. Senate Resolution 1974-166 was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

MOTION

Senator Keefe moved adoption of the following resolution:

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Lewis, you will recall a resolution was referred to the State Government Committee and they have been working industriously on it in the interim and we are just about ready to produce some results. This is the one that was praising President Nixon, 'You will be equally successful in guiding the internal affairs of this nation to achieve domestic tranquility, full employment and prosperity for all,' and the committee is a little bit uncertain because Governor Evans in a recent statement advised the President to come clean. And then in the paper I noticed a little item, 'special Evans fund keeps getting fed by friends,' and my question for the State Government Committee which is very energetic in working on this is, should we include Governor Evans' statement, 'Come clean, Richard Milhouse Nixon,' in the resolution and should we make any reference to the special fund that reminds the committee a little bit of the Checkers fund the President had one time when he was on TV explaining to his dog what the fund was used for? We are just wondering if you still would like to have the resolution as written on the domestic tranquility and come clean in government. Could you advise the committee a little bit so we can continue work?"

Debate ensued.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate commenced consideration of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1974-168

By Senators Rasmussen, Peterson (Ted), Washington, von Reichbauer, Ridder and Newschwander and Durkan:

WHEREAS, The Washington State Highway Commission is currently considering whether to allow the operation of longer combinations of trucks, tractors, trailers, and semitrailers on the highways of this State; and

WHEREAS, These longer combinations, commonly called triple trailers, may be as long as one hundred and five feet in overall length; and

WHEREAS, The extreme length of such longer combinations makes them hazardous for the men who must drive them; and

WHEREAS, Their extreme length makes such longer combinations hazardous to motorists who must operate their vehicles on the same highways; and

WHEREAS, The weight of such longer combinations under load makes them overly destructive of the highways of this State; and

WHEREAS, On January 22, of this year, the Highway Commission is holding a hearing to determine whether such longer combinations shall be allowed to be operated by special permit on the highways of this State;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate, that the operation of such longer combinations on the highways of this State would be detrimental to the best interests of the people of this State; and

WHEN HE DISCOVERED ANOTHER HUMAN BEING HURTING AND HELPLESS HE DISMOUNTED AND QUICKLY TOOK FROM HIS TRAVELING BAG THE TWO BOTTLES OF WINE AND OIL, TO POUR THEIR CONTENTS ON THE GAPING, FLY-COVERED WOUNDS OF THE MAN ON THE ROADSIDE. HELP OUR LEGISLATORS TO SEARCH OUT WAYS AND MEANS, THROUGH GOOD LEGISLATION, TO POUR OIL AND WINE ON THE WOUNDS OF THOSE WHO ARE HELPLESS AND HURT IN OUR STATE AND WHO LOOK TO THESE LEGISLATORS WITH HOPE AND TRUST TO BE THE MINISTERS OF HELP AND HEALING IN OUR DAY. ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2488, by Senators Van Hollebeke, Woody, Atwood, Mardesich, Greive, Walgren and Twigg:

Amending the implied consent law to permit a person who has refused the test to plead guilty and keep his license.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Van Hollebeke, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Van Hollebeke yield to a question? Do I understand that we are acting on the engrossed bill and in the bill are already the adopted amendments? In other words, when it was on the floor last session I proposed the amendment on line 3 which would strike out the words, 'or being in actual physical control of a motor vehicle.' Now is that language stricken from the version of the bill that we have before us?"

Senator Van Hollebeke: "I am in doubt on that, Senator Washington. I thought we were and I assumed but without any basis."

Senator Washington: "In my book I do not have an engrossed bill. All I have is the bill with the amendments that we adopted in the 1973 session. The answer apparently is that the amendments that we adopted have already been adopted and we do have an engrossed bill which meets the point I am asking you to answer."

"Senator Van Hollebeke: "Yes, I think this bill is much better now in your opinion, Senator Washington, and we will probably get a more enlightened vote from you this time. I thank you for your support."

Further debate ensued.

Senators Mardesich, Talley and Day demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2488.

Repealing the host-guest statutes.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Scott, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2046 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Francis yield to a question? Senator Francis, there has been some question as to whether or not this would have any retroactive effect. Let me ask you for the record, does this act have any retroactive effect or must the claim or cause of action arise after the effective date of this act?"

Senator Francis: "Senator Woody, there is no express intention in the bill to have it apply to any occurrence which took place before the effective date of the act and accordingly I would have to relate it back to general law which is, I think, quite clear that the law in force at the time of an event is the law which applies, and accordingly I see no basis upon which it could be given any retroactive effect."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Scott yield? In the case then of picking up a hitchhiker just at random on the highway and you had an accident, then the hitchhiker could sue, is that right?"

Senator Scott: "If you were found guilty of any offense provable in court. In a word, if you were responsible for the accident."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2046, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 10; absent or not voting, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2006, by Senators Peterson (Lowell) and Talley: Providing for loss of hunting license for unlawfully killing certain wildlife.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Substitute Senate Bill No. 2006 was substituted for Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2006, and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), the following amendments were considered simultaneously:

Senator Peterson (Lowell) moved adoption of the following amendments by Senators Peterson (Lowell) and Talley:

On page 1, section 1, line 8, after "77.16.030" and before "by" insert ", or who forfeits bail twice during any five-year period on a charge of violating RCW 77.16.020 or 77.16.030".

On page 1, section 1, line 17, strike all of lines 17 and 18.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, a question of Senator Peterson. Was the issue really not two or five years but whether or not the court had ruled that a forfeiture of bail was not necessarily a conviction?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "This was the purpose of the two amendments, to take care of that problem. There was some question, a judicial or a constitutional question that was brought up by a caucus attorney and the amendments that were prepared hopefully would take care of that problem and in their judgment it will."

Senator Bailey: "Senator Peterson, you think then because they can count the forfeiture of bail over a period of five years and not two years, that can change it? That is the point I do not follow."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Actually, what it does is strike the conviction on one amendment and the original language or the intent that was put in there in the other amendment basically does not affect the bill. It merely clears up the question as to whether or not the forfeiture in itself is construed as a conviction. At least this is the best advice I have."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Peterson yield? I do not have the bill immediately in front of me. You say this relates to big game?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Yes."

Senator Woodall: "Was any thought given to the inclusion of endangered species? I am very serious on that. They picked up a man in our area the other day who shot two very rare swans and I was wondering whether your committee would like to consider adding endangered species to this particular bill. It would seem to be a logical place to put it."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Senator Woodall, I appreciate your bringing this to my attention. We did not have an endangered species law at the time this bill was prepared and written and worked upon. I appreciate the suggestion and I assure you that I can come back next session and we can amend the statute accordingly, but I would prefer at this time, rather than hold the bill up I would like to ask that the body vote on this bill now and then we can take care of the endangered species in my committee and I assure you I will do that."

The motion by Senator Peterson (Lowell) carried and the amendments by Senators Peterson (Lowell) and Talley were adopted.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, line 10, after "deer" insert "or endangered species as determined by the commission".

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2006 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2006, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 48.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—48.

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2006, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

January 18, 1974.

Mr. President: The House has passed ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 3041, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

The President signed:
SENATE BILL NO. 3041.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE

January 18, 1974.

Mr. President: The Speaker has signed SENATE BILL NO. 3041, and the same is herewith transmitted.

DEAN R. FOSTER, Chief Clerk.

The Senate commenced consideration of Senate Resolution 1974-169.

MOTION

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following resolution:

SENATE RESOLUTION 1974-169

By Senators Dore and Van Hollebeke:

WHEREAS, It has been reported by one of the great metropolitan newspapers of the state that Governor Evans is maintaining a secret personal expense operating fund; and

WHEREAS, The very concept of such a fund violates the letter and the spirit of Initiative 276; and

WHEREAS, The chief executive of this state should above all be above suspicion; and

WHEREAS, In the interest of clean government Governor Evans should immediately release the names of the secret contributors to this fund and the amounts contributed thereto by individual and corporate donors in order to clear the governor's office of any suspicion of illegal influence peddling; and

WHEREAS, The governor's office should set a good example to be emulated by all officials and legislators; and

WHEREAS, We cannot afford a "Watergate" in the State of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, By the Senate, that the public disclosure commission as an item of first priority should forthwith investigate the legality of the Governor's secret fund and ascertain whether the disclosures required by Initiative 276 have been made; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the public disclosure commission shall report its findings together with its recommendations relating thereto to the third extraordinary session of the forty-third legislature.

Senator Lewis (Harry) moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Newschwander:

Strike the last paragraph of the resolution and insert "BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the public disclosure commission investigate, and all candidates immediately release, all information regarding campaign surpluses and deficits incurred in the most recent races for all statewide elective offices and regarding the means by which such deficits are or have been erased."

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Dore, Van Hollebeke and Mardesich to the amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Newschwander:

Amend the Lewis (Harry)/Newschwander amendment as follows: Restore the last paragraph of the resolution which was stricken by the amendment, and after "erased" on the last line of the Lewis amendment, strike the comma, insert a semicolon, and add "BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That candidates of such statewide races shall list the names of all contributors and the amounts of such contributions paid into their political fund and/or funds not previously publicly disclosed and filed with the secretary of state."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Dore yield to a question? I do not have this amendment to look at, but are you trying to make this retroactive to some prior races which have been run? Are you trying to make it go back to a time when you were not required to do it and now make you pick it up and do it?"

Senator Dore: "I did not offer the amendment. Senator Harry Lewis' amendment provided that all those who ran in the statewide races. He said the most recent statewide races. I assume that he means the finals of those races, not the primaries, so it would exclude you, sir."

Senator Woodall: "Thank you."

Senator Dore: "But it would include myself and, of course, I have already made a complete disclosure of my contributions through November 1, so I merely have to update mine because the rest of them are on file with the Secretary of State. The Governor would have to update his from October 17, advising of all the funds received in that fund, even though he has now refunded them. We would like to know who put the money in. So that is the purpose of it. It will not affect you, Senator. You ran during the primaries."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Dore yield to a question? Senator Dore, you remember that President Nixon had a fund that was contributed to by people who thought he was not living in the style that he should be accustomed to and he explained that on TV when he had Checkers with him. What I am interested in, and of course Agnew had a fund and in the same paper that you are reading now there is an item where people were making contributions to Vice President Agnew's fund and it was for the purposes of keeping him living in style that he was not accustomed to and also they were providing groceries and things to help out in feeding his family.

"Now what my question is, do you think that Governor Evans has the same type of a fund? If so, you are not covering it with contributions to a political fund because in the first article, of course you remember that Governor Cherberg referred certain investigations to the State Government Committee. We are now engaged in that investigation in seeking information and we are getting a large number of replies back from people who have made campaign contributions. So far we have not received any mention of funds being donated for expenses, not for political purposes but expenses, living expenses and travel. The committee was quite surprised, frankly, in finding out there was a secret fund such as President Nixon had and the same thing that Vice President Agnew had, and our committee will take a look at that also because it directly relates to the matter that Governor Cherberg referred to us. But I am wondering if your amendment would cover this, an expense fund? You are talking about a political fund and in the paper Governor Evans said it was not a campaign fund and then Jim Dolliver said that part of it was campaign and part of it was expense, and your amendment only mentions political funds."

Senator Dore: "I think I can answer you, maybe not entirely satisfactorily, but I will try. As I understood the Nixon fund, it was a secret fund. As I understand this fund of the Governor's, it is not secret; only the contributors are secret. We know the fund exists. I think he disclosed that. But in answer to your question whether or not 276 covers this particular front, I noticed in the Seattle Times newspaper yesterday he said he assumed the contributions were either for his last campaign or for a future campaign. I think by that statement, at least half of it, if it is for future campaigns then he is squarely under the reporting system of 276 and he will have to, without this resolution — this is only advisory anyway — under the statutory requirements of 276 — declare what is in that particular fund.

"Now in reference to the itemization of the expenses, as I understand it from the paper, he has said that he would furnish a list of the expenditures in detail. He did say that, so he has voluntarily said that, so I do not think you would have to have this in this. For that reason, I left that out. But of course, if you want to put it in in another amendment, I have no objection."

Senator Rasmussen: "Of course this does not relate to the State Government Committee, Senator Dore, and it was a secret fund up until the time the State Government Committee started looking into it."

Senator Dore: "It was a secret fund up until your committee, Senator, you as chairman, uncovered it and then it is no longer secret. That is right."

Senator Rasmussen: "I did not uncover it, Senator Dore."

Senator Dore: "I thought that is what you said. I am sorry, I was relying on your statement."

Senator Rasmussen: "No, Senator Dore. So it will be correct in the Journal, the Lieutenant Governor referred certain matters to the State Government Committee to be investigated. All of a sudden it became known by an announcement from Governor Evans that he did have a secret fund that was left over from previous campaigns. Then it was corrected later on by a different spokesman and I think he has the same problem that Nixon has, he has too many spokesmen, that it was not a campaign fund, that it was an expense fund. And he said he bought the Premier of Canada a four dollar gift. Was it forty dollars? Well, anyway, it was some amount and that was what the fund was used for and so I am glad that you think it will cover all phases."

Senator Dore: "I am just relying on the newspaper statement where the Governor himself is quoted as saying he assumes that either contributions to the former campaign or he assumes it was contributions to a future election race."

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Dore carried and the amendment by Senators Dore, Van Hollebeke and Mardesich to the amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Newschwander was adopted.

The motion by Senator Lewis carried and the amendment by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Newschwander, as amended by the amendment by Senators Dore, Van Hollebeke and Mardesich, was adopted.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Lewis (Harry) yield to a question? Senator Lewis, you seem to have quite a comprehension of what is going on in the Governor's office. Could you tell us how many years this fund has existed and what the amounts have been through the years since the Governor has been in office?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I would be very glad to answer that, Senator Rasmussen. First of all, I would like, in answering your question, to remind you that the reporting required under 276 is not due from any candidates, including the members of the Senate who are required to report under 276 until January 31, 1974, so the political nature of this resolution is obvious. There is nothing overdue. Everything is on time and my best information in talking to Mr. Dolliver yesterday was that they were accruing this data. They have gone through the middle of October into November, that they have now in their hands and their accountants are reviewing the reporting of all funds through December 16. This is a job in which they are being very accurate, in which they have gone far beyond that which is required. Now I have not seen the specifics but we will all see them, all the people of the state will see them under the terms of 276 when it is required and on a timely presentation by the Governor, and I assume by all of us at the end of this month. So I would suggest that you wait just a few days and they will be publicly disclosed, not only to you and to Senator Dore, but to all the people of the state, as is very proper."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I asked a simple question and got a long answer but, Senator Lewis, you did not say the number of years that this secret fund has been in effect. And I think this is of great importance. It was only very recently that Vice President Agnew was relieved from office by his own resignation and also apparently is in the process of being disbarred for having a secret fund that was contributed to by certain people, firms and corporations and individuals, and that is why, Senator Lewis, I asked you that question. How many years has this fund been in effect? It may have considerable bearing on what has been going on in the state, and apparently you said yes, you did know, but apparently you do not know."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "In trying to respond again to Senator Rasmussen, I am not aware, although it may be possible, that some of the other public officials like ourselves have already complied in advance. I know of no secret fund in the Governor's office and I think that the challenges to a secret fund that you have presented and Senator Dore has presented are fallacious. I think that you will find when you see the public reports which he has gone into much greater detail than any of us will have gone, or I suspect Senator Dore will have gone to, that you will be perfectly satisfied."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I do not want to prolong this. I think we are engaged in discussing something we referred to the Public Disclosure Commission. Something is wrong with what Senator Lewis talks about what the Governor will reveal on January 31. That is his personal disclosure on January 31. If he has received any funds since January 1 of 1973, he should be reporting every time he receives enough money to deposit. This is an entirely different matter. Now if it is a personal fund, he then owes income tax on it and it is an entirely different report. I do not think we should be challenging him now, but think we should be putting this to the disclosure people to answer the question over there."

REMARKS BY SENATOR VAN HOLLEBEKE

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Senator Lewis has suggested that this might have been clarified had Senator Dore gone to the Governor and asked him. Perhaps he has a better rapport there, but in the year I have been here I have tried to talk to the Governor twice on the telephone and I was treated as if I had just asked to talk to God and would need to clear through St. Peter first, and there was some question of whether I would ever get to see St. Peter."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Lewis yield to a question? Senator, you said that if I went down and saw the records I would be able to get all the information that I required through this resolution. Now I understand from the paper that the Governor is now sending some of the money back. He is quoted 'Evans acknowledged yesterday that money did come in during non-election years. He indicated he assumed the contributions were either for a past campaign or to a future campaign. Evans also said that some of the money has been returned to people, but he did not say when, how much, or to whom.' Now can I go down and see those records and have answered that particular question as to the amount of money he received, who gave the contributions since January 1, 1973, to date, and what money is being retained and not returned? Can I get that information, or is that going to be made available on January 31?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Dore, the answer to your question is an obvious one. You have never gone down and asked up to this time. I checked in the Governor's office and to my knowledge and to the knowledge of those I asked, you had never requested any information which would have been freely given to you if you had asked for it. But you want to recognize also, in addition to that, that they are accumulating data to be current to comply with 276, which deadline is the 31st. So in my view, now that you have politically attacked the Governor, I would advise them not to give you a thing and to wait like the rest of the citizens of the state have to wait. I do not think that you are entitled to any particular privilege at this point, in view of the kind of attack you have made, which is erroneous and fallacious and which will be cleared up in the reports that will be presented."

Senator Dore: "But as I understand, on January 31 - I will wait until then - but on January 31 I will be able to get the information as to the contributions he received and the names of the contributors and the amounts since January 1, 1973, to date. Is that correct?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "It is my understanding that he is going to make a full report."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "I think there is one question that remains in everybody's mind and that is, if the fund was legitimate and if everybody knew about it, why is he returning the money, and for how many years has it gone on, and you have not answered that question, Senator Lewis. I must say I feel sorry for you defending a situation that you know nothing about."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HARRY LEWIS

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I would like very much to respond to Senator Rasmussen who admitted he was confused yesterday and apparently is in the same situation after a good night's sleep. In response, I would just like to suggest that Governor Evans, in all of the campaigns with which I have been familiar, has always insisted on ending up with a surplus which I understand is a situation that not all statewide candidates, elected or defeated, have been fortunate enough to be in. And so, in answer to your direct question, it would be apparent to me that if he had a surplus that there was no need for him to accept additional funds and so, obviously, he would want to return those that he did not have a need for. I hope that answers your question."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODALL

Senator Woodall: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am not Governor Evans' number one admirer. I am not tied to his coattails, but in the many years that I have served here I have tried to establish a reputation of being somewhat fair. Now it seems to me that what the good Senator Lewis has pointed out has certainly been proven to be correct here this morning. We hear speeches about Agnew. We hear speeches about Nixon, all of which has nothing to do with the case. There is a time and a place and a proper way to get at all of these problems. If the Governor owes anything on income tax, the Internal Revenue Service ought to audit him and he ought to have to divvy up. And if he has committed a crime he ought to be prosecuted, but he should be tried in the courts; he should be audited by the Internal Revenue. Senator Lewis does not hold himself out as a CPA or a detail auditor and he has been put through an unfair grilling by being asked to answer questions that he could not possibly know the details of, sitting up here. Now I think there is a timeliness to things and I think that when the 31st rolls around, if it be the feeling of the chairman of the State Government Committee that the responses as of that date given by the Governor are of that point in time inadequate, he can address a proper communication to him and to his assistant, Mr. Dolliver. If at the end of that time he feels they have not adequately responded, he can then come back to this floor and ask for additional powers from the body. In the meantime, I think it is high time that we all go to lunch and stop this foolishness on the floor."

The motion of Senator Dore carried and the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2329, by Senators Atwood and Mardesich:
Providing for changes in the legal services revolving fund.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 16, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 2329, providing for changes in the legal services revolving fund (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 29, section 5, before "for" strike "1973" and insert "1974".

On page 2, line 29, section 5, after "the" strike "1973-1975 biennium" and insert "1975 fiscal year and subsequent fiscal biennia".

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Day, Henry, Knoblauch, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Atwood, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2329 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, I can understand the effort to make a little better sense out of the amount of money charged to agencies, but would this in any way revert back to the old policy? I think of Don Eastvold, when the deputies were paid for out of other funds to the extent that he was able to come to the legislature and say, 'The Attorney General's Office is operating on a very economical basis and we do not have half the expense we had before,' and then when you really looked at it he had all of that expense and more but it was assigned out, not in his budget, but to other budgets. Would this in any way create that false impression on the voters?"

Senator Atwood: "I would hope not, Senator Bailey. On the revolving fund theory these agencies are only supposed to pay for the legal services that they get. Now we have operated under it one biennium and as I said, it does distort the Attorney General's budget a little bit because most of these are in the agency appropriations. In fact, even the general services revolving fund does distort the appropriation, but it certainly is not directed toward reestablishing the old system that used to prevail around here. Some of the agencies still want to appoint their own AG's, but we are not that far along yet."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Will Senator Atwood yield to a question? What will this do to the payment for services, say for example of a small profession like podiatry, where they only have one hundred and two licenses, I think it is? Is this going to cramp them in the utilization of the Attorney General's Office when they need it?"

Senator Atwood: "I do not think so, Senator. There is some possibility of that, but I think as long as the charges are reasonable within the limitations they can budget for that when they present their budget, which is normally within what their funds are out of their license fees."

Senator Day: "That is exactly the point, Senator. Does that mean then that they are going to be limited in their utilization to what the license renewal fees bring in?"

Senator Atwood: "No, in no way. I notice here on some of the smaller agencies they were overbilled and we could not get the money back for them. They are distributing it on an even across the board. Some of those agencies that support their own budgets were particularly penalized. They did not use the Attorney General nearly as much as they got billed for."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2329, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; absent or not voting, 4; excused, 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 140, by Senators Grant and Metcalf:

Amending the Constitutional veto power of the governor (SSJR No. 104):

The resolution was read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Grant, the following amendment by Senators Grant and Lewis (Harry) was adopted:

On page 1, line 8, beginning with "Article" strike the remainder of the resolution and insert the following:

"Article III, section 12. Every act which shall have passed the legislature shall be, before it becomes a law, presented to the governor. If he approves, he shall sign it; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, which house shall enter the objections at large upon the journal and proceed to reconsider. If, after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members present shall agree to pass the bill it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present, it shall become a law; but in all such cases the vote of both houses shall be determined by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for or against the bill shall be entered upon the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within five days, Sundays excepted, after it shall be presented to him, it shall become a law without his signature, unless the general adjournment shall prevent its return, in which case it shall become a law unless the governor, within [ten] twenty days next after the adjournment, Sundays excepted, shall file such bill with his objections thereto, in the office of secretary of state, who shall lay the same before the legislature at its next session in like manner as if it had been returned by the governor: PROVIDED, That within forty-five days next after the adjournment, Sundays excepted, the legislature may, upon petition by a two-thirds majority or more of the membership of each house, reconvene in extraordinary session, not to exceed five days duration, solely to reconsider any bills vetoed. If any bill presented to the governor contain several sections or appropriation items, he may object to one or more sections or appropriation items while approving other portions of the bill: PROVIDED, That he may not object to less than an entire section, except that if the section contain one or more appropriation items he may object to any such appropriation item or items. In [such] case of objection he shall append to the bill, at the time of signing it, a statement of the section [,] or sections [;] , appropriation item or items to which he objects and the reasons therefor [,] ; and the section or sections, appropriation item or items so objected to [,] shall not take effect unless passed over the governor's objection, as hereinbefore provided. The provisions of Article II, section 12, insofar as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the secretary of state shall cause notice of the foregoing constitutional amendment to be published at least four times during the four weeks next preceding the election in every legal newspaper in the state."

On motion of Senator Grant, Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 140 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "I want to thank Senator Grant for the fine job he did of explaining this and I am certain that he covered completely the component of the veto of items within the budget. I would like to have you, Senator Grant, if you would yield to a question, go over the intent again. Is it my understanding that on a bill involving appropriations that the governor can veto an item and if this means that he can veto an item there, does he have to veto the whole item? Can he veto just the proviso that the legislature has put attendant to that item and possibly the item and then leave the total amount? If you will recall the way we construct these budgets you could veto an item and the total amount appropriated — say to the Department of Social and Health Services is further on down the bill, does that leave that total item intact and in so doing accomplish the same objective that he has accomplished before, regardless of whom the governor may be?"

Senator Grant: "That is a good question, Senator Day. Frankly, what we are trying to accomplish is to restore the veto power to the governor as it was understood up until 1959. Up until 1959 it was understood that he could veto appropriations items, but the Constitution does not say 'appropriations item.' All the Constitution says is 'items,' and so Governor Rosellini at the time interpreted that and it was upheld, in the Ruoff case I believe it was, that 'items' meant a comma, a word, anything. Now the language of this constitutional amendment as it relates to appropriations items is on page 2 in line 6. And what interpretation the court would give this relative to a proviso in an appropriations bill would only be conjecture. The language is 'PROVIDED, That he may not object to less than an entire section, except that if the section contain one or more appropriation items he may object to any such appropriation item or items.' What interpretation the court might put on that I do not know, insofar as a proviso which is what I think you are getting at, like Social and Health Services provided that he may expend so many million dollars in order to carry out the provisions of some project. It would appear to me that that would very likely be less than an entire section. He can still veto an entire section in the bill under this constitutional change, but it would very likely be an item veto that, as a layman, I would say would be valid. The way that is gotten around, Senator Day, is that the legislature, if two-thirds members petition, call themselves back in for a veto session, if it really is contradictory to a two-thirds majority of the wishes of the members of the Senate."

Senator Day: "Senator Grant, I will put my question another way. This bill would not solve the problem then of the legislature appropriating funds for a specific item and placing a proviso within the bill that was the reason we allowed that appropriation to go through, he could still use the item veto on that appropriations bill in taking out the proviso?"

Senator Grant: "I think you are correct, Senator Day."

Senator Day: "This certainly does not accomplish, is my point, my objective relative to this because I think the most important thing that we are trying to solve here is the legislature determining not only an amount of money in a budget or a specific amount for a specific program, but putting into that budget language which says that we want this money spent but we want it spent in a certain manner and it took a lot of hammering around in this legislature to arrive at that conclusion, and if this still allows him to change the intent of the legislature relative to the expenditure of a proviso in the budget by item veto. Senator Lewis, can you answer that question?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Day, I have introduced the item veto legislation, I think six consecutive years, and I am glad to see the majority providing support in this area. It is my understanding, based on the other issues that I have introduced in the past, that when we talk about an appropriation item, if there is with that appropriation item a statement of the intent of the legislature that if he vetoes the dollar amount, that the instructions that go with the dollar amount are vetoed as well and that the intent of SJR 140 here is that the appropriation item would include both.

"The other part of your question is that as far as the totals are concerned at the bottom of the page, that is really irrelevant. If he vetoes out an appropriation item and we do not override, the department could not spend the item for the purpose which was originally intended. But we have left him the power to item veto out appropriation items which could be simply a dollar amount on a page. If there is a statement of intent or instruction that goes with that dollar amount, that, as I understand the intent of this constitutional amendment, would include the statement of intent by the legislature that refers to the dollar item would be included in the veto and must be vetoed with the dollar amount as well as the statement."

Senator Day: "Yes, Senator Lewis, but it is just the reverse situation that I am concerned about. I am concerned about him vetoing the intent and not vetoing the amount."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "No, that does not apply, as I understand the intent of this amendment, that he could not veto out in an appropriation bill the statement of intent or objective of the legislature without vetoing also the dollar amount. Otherwise, that is what I understand 'appropriation item' to mean."

Senator Day: "Okay."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "I have had somewhat the same concern that Senator Day has expressed. I am just wondering, Senator, if your objection might not be covered by the material at the top of page 2, which under our present way of operating would allow us — we have meetings periodically and we could in this way call ourselves back to consider that particular matter to which you refer. I know you are very experienced in this and so I am going to ask you if you do not think that would solve this particular problem."

Senator Day: "In answer to your question, Senator Canfield, I think it could. However, I think that you have changed the situation again here so that it takes two-thirds of us to get back here and it obviously takes two-thirds to override any veto at the moment and I think the only thing you have done, you have made it possible for two-thirds of the legislature to come back and override a veto. So that is it."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Dore, I notice you have on page 2, lines 15 and 16, 'The provisions of section 12, Article II insofar as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.' In other words, you do not have a direct repealer of section 12. Now that sets up the power of the governor to call us into session, but once he calls us into session we have the right to meet for sixty days. We are not restricted by any agenda.

"Now my question, for the record and the Journal is, are you applying that section only to the underlined matter at the bottom of the first page and the top of the second pertaining to calling a special session only to consider, for five days, veto items? Or are there other parts of the bill you are thinking of?"

Senator Grant: "No, there is no other restriction that I am aware of, Senator Dore. The only restriction is in the event that the legislature by two-thirds majority calls itself into session solely to reconsider bills vetoed it be limited to five days. It does not restrict the governor's authority to call special sessions of the legislature."

Senator Dore: "It does not restrict our authority to remain here sixty days?"

Senator Grant: "It does not restrict us once called into special session as to any limitation on that session. The only restriction is that if we call ourselves into session by two-thirds petition, that we are limited to five days for consideration of vetoes."

Senator Dore: "Let me ask it very simply then. The underlined language on page 2, lines 15 and 16, which reads, 'The provisions of section 12, Article II insofar as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed,' applies only to the underlined language on page 1, lines 26 and 27, and on page 2, lines 1, 2 and 3, which read, 'PROVIDED, That within forty-five days next after the adjournment, Sundays excepted, the legislature may, upon petition by a two-thirds majority or more of the membership of each house, reconvene in extraordinary session, not to exceed five days duration, solely to reconsider any bills vetoed.' Is that correct?"

Senator Grant: "That is correct, Senator. That is the intent."

Senator Dore: "And all other parts of section 12, Article II remain in full force and effect. That is your intent?"

Senator Grant: "That is my intent."

Senator Dore: "Now the second question is in reference to page 2, which reads on line 6, 'PROVIDED, That he may not object to less than an entire section, except that if the section contain one or more appropriation items he may object to any such appropriation item or items.' Now presumably you are referring to an appropriation bill, but my question is, assuming you do not have an appropriation bill but a plain bill which alludes to appropriation, either in terms of dollars or merely that it shall provide for an appropriation. Now that is an exception. Is it your intent then in that case that he should veto parts of the section? That is the way it reads to me."

Senator Grant: "Senator Dore, it is the intent, I believe, that he be restricted in the use of his item veto, that is to a veto of less than a section, primarily to appropriations bills."

Senator Dore: "It does not say that. It says 'except that if the section contain one or more appropriation items.' Now apparently you are referring to the . . . , and believe it refers only to an appropriation bill, but I am thinking just about a plain bill. It seems that a practice might develop which you could allude to an appropriation and therefore get around the exception. I wonder if we should not hold this over to study that language a little more carefully to see exactly what it does. It seems to me you could give it that interpretation."

Senator Grant: "I would not give it that interpretation, Senator, but then I am not a constitutional lawyer."

THIRD READING

ENGROSSED SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 140, by Senators Grant and Metcalf:

Amending the constitutional veto power of the governor (SSJR 104).

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the roll call on final passage of Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 140.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Grant yield to a question? Senator Grant, for purposes of establishing legislative intent and clarification, I wonder if you would explain for the record the procedures that are indicated in appropriation bills particularly as they apply to full sections within the bill, appropriation items, and other verbiage in the appropriation language?"

Senator Grant: "I will try to do that, Senator Lewis, very briefly. It is intended by this measure to return the veto power to its status as of about 1959. That is the governor, of course, can veto an entire bill. No question about that in this constitutional amendment. He can veto entire sections of bills. If an enactment is so structured in sections, he can veto entire sections of bills. The question now is the item veto and how that affects it. There would no longer be an item veto under this constitutional amendment, with the exception of appropriations amounts, that is less than a section. He can veto appropriations amounts out of a main budget bill or out of any bill that has an appropriation attached to it, but he cannot under this constitutional amendment, according to our caucus attorney, veto any less than a section; that is, language that is less than a section, except for the appropriation itself."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Senator Grant, a further question. In the event an appropriation bill had a proviso in it which proviso would be less than a full section, would you clarify the intent of this constitutional amendment as to the right of the governor to veto that proviso or an amount within the proviso or an amount indicated as part of the proviso?"

Senator Grant: "It is my understanding and it is our intent, the intent of the sponsors of this measure, that he could not veto less than an entire section, a proviso that was less than an entire section, except for the appropriations amount."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Grant yield to a question? You invited me to ask a question before and I did not have the bill before me. I now have it, so I would like to ask you this. When referring to appropriation item in the bill you are talking about a dollar amount. Isn't that correct?"

Senator Grant: "That is correct, Senator."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Will Senator Murray yield? Senator Murray, I would like to ask two questions. The first is simply, do you feel that the veto power as being practiced by the governor was as intended by the framers of the Constitution? And second, do you feel that we have the proper separation of powers between the legislative and executive branches when the governor can and actually has vetoed out one word or phrase, giving the exact opposite meaning of the legislature? In other words, he sometimes comes up with completely new legislation rather than vetoing legislation we have passed."

Senator Murray: "In answer to both questions, the answer is yes, and may I amplify by saying that I think that we have ended up at the compromise position that he could force us to faster and easier. To be specific, we have two major bills that we are talking about. Number one, the gambling bill. His choice was to veto the entire thing or to utilize the item veto. He took out those measures and although it was numbered in many different uses of the item veto, in essence it cut out those items in different sections of the bill that he wished to have cut out. That was consistent with what at least the people in my district voted for when they voted for gambling. They wanted bingo and raffles and that is all. Now that is a matter of personal opinion, it is true. By the same token, we have gambling to the extent of bingo and raffles because he took this method to arrive at it. The other alternative would have to have had nothing. I think we really came up with a better compromise, more acceptable to more people for less money and with less effort than we could have had he vetoed everything."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 140, and the resolution passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 6; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Jolly, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Metcalf, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Woodall, Woody—40.

Voting nay: Senators Fleming, Jones, Matson, Murray, Newschwander, Whetzel—6.

Excused: Senators Durkan, Herr—2.

ENGROSSED SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 140, having received the constitutional two-thirds majority, was declared passed.

There being no objection, the Senate returned to the sixth order of business.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SECOND SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2843, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Senator Fleming):

Authorizing counties, cities, and towns to participate in and implement federally-assisted grant-in-aid programs.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, Third Substitute Senate Bill No. 2843 was substituted for Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2843, and the third substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, strike all of section 2.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Fleming yield to a question? Senator Fleming, I tend to agree with Senator Rasmussen in some respects. Page 2, subsection 3, does refer to what the cities would be doing, would be continuing these programs and it says, 'Continue federally-assisted programs, projects, and activities after expiration of contractual term or after expending allocated federal funds as deemed appropriate to fulfill contracts, promises, and representations made in connection with such agreements.' Now does this mean that someone could come and say that somebody promised us that this is what was going to be done, and if they could establish that in fact such promises were made, would the city then be under contractual obligation to continue those promises? Let me continue for a moment. I think perhaps Senator Rasmussen is going too far, but I wonder why you could not strike subsections 1, 2, and 3 and retain in subsection 4 the public corporation; and if you will read the first couple of lines I think you get right to what you are talking about, to 'Create public corporations, commissions, and authorities to administer and execute federal grants or programs;' and so on, without going to all this business about whether they can act on the basis of promises and so on and so forth. I think the rest of it is unnecessary."

Senator Fleming: "To answer your question, Senator Mardesich, I think you missed the point. Senator Rasmussen did not miss the point, but I think you did and that is that that language presently; presently they have programs going. As they are now, they were federal grant-in-aid programs. These programs have been involved in certain kinds of activity. Now unless and when they put the promises in these kinds of things, what they are indicating is that these are programs that are already involved. We said that we were going to do these kinds of things. Unless we put this kind of language in there those programs, if when the revenue sharing funds come down the pike, if they wanted to be able to continue those programs they would not be able to do so. And so that is why that language is in there and those are things that are already being done."

Senator Mardesich: "It seems to me if you had subsection 4 and perhaps added to that 'Create public corporations, commissions, and authorities to administer and execute federal grants or programs and/or local grants,' and so on and so forth, then you would solve that problem, but you have not opened the door to all this general language which I . . ."

Senator Fleming: "They might want to create additional corporations, but they would like to maintain the programs that they have and to my knowledge and also from legal understanding that they would have to have this kind of language in there to continue the programs because that is the problem they had with the corporation counsel in Seattle."

Senator Mardesich: "I think they could under this language because we cannot here by act legalize what has been done in the past. All the cities would have to do would be to recreate these corporations and proceed."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Mardesich, you are not letting them do all kinds of things under this language. From my understanding from the corporation counsel in Seattle and talking to some of the other attorneys, this language is the best language that we could use to be able to do what we are doing now and continue the programs and it is not open-ended up as one would want to believe, because the cities themselves still have the control of it; and secondly, we are only talking about federal funds and private funds that come through them and no state funds involved."

Senator Mardesich: "I can appreciate that, but it all comes out of the same pocket, Senator Fleming. Eventually it does at least, and I just wonder whether he may have a point and we should tighten that up a little bit. I am inclined not to go along with his amendment, but I think we can tighten it up a little bit so it is not wide open."

Senator Fleming: "Well, if there is some additional word or something like that that would be put in there to tighten it up, I could understand that, but to strike that I do not necessarily agree with you and we probably would go back and forth here through semantics all day on it, and all I can go by is what we have gone through. The committee studied this measure. We worked it, we reworked it, tried to work it to the satisfaction of Rules from the beginning bill a year ago, and we felt as though this was the bill that gave the most protection and to be able to do the job that we wanted to."

Senator Mardesich: "I sort of abdicated my judicial review of most of the bills on the floor to Senator Woody. I wonder if he might comment with respect to the question I raised?"

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODY

Senator Woody: "In looking at what you are talking about, I think that this can be tightened up without too much trouble at all, without doing much violence to it, Senator Fleming. If I interpret the word 'and' on line 4, one way would mean that you would have to have a contract with promises, with representations, all three of them, rather than 'or' but it does leave it open to a situation where somebody could suggest that some real representations were made and therefore we ought to be able to continue on with the program even though there is no contract. Senator Fleming, I would suggest that we hold this until tomorrow and work a couple of amendments just to tighten it up."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), Third Substitute Senate Bill No. 2843, together with the pending amendment by Senator Rasmussen, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, January 23, 1974.

At 11:25 a.m., on motion of Senator Bailey, the Senate recessed until 12:15 p.m.

NOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 12:15 p.m.

MOTION

At 12:20 p.m., on motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate recessed until 1:15 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:15 p.m.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2946, by Committee on Parks and Recreation (endorsed by Senators Knoblauch, Jones, Canfield, Bailey, Woody and Wanamaker):

Implementing the law of state shorelands and tidelands.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Guess moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Guess and Day:

On page 3, following section 2 add a new section as follows:

"Sec. 3. Section 9, chapter 255, Laws of 1927 and RCW 79.01.032 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever used in this chapter the term "second class shorelands" shall mean public lands belonging to the state bordering on the shores of a navigable lake or river not subject to tidal flow, between the line of ordinary high water and the line of navigability and more than two miles from the corporate limits of any city: PROVIDED, That a lake is not navigable unless there is in fact current use of that body of water by interstate commerce."

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Woody: "I raise the issue of scope and object of this amendment. I do not believe that it is within the scope and object of Senate Bill No. 2946."

REMARKS BY SENATOR GUESS

Senator Guess: "Mr. President, the bill that is before us has to do with 79.01 and this is an amendment to 79.01.032 and therefore it is totally within the scope. I have been a part of debate on this thing for many years, Senator Woody, and I have at some times been on very tenuous grounds when proposing an amendment. I will have to admit that, but this amendment could not have been better fit to the bill if it had been written in the bill originally, and therefore I would represent to the President that the amendment comes within the scope of the bill that is before us."

REMARKS BY SENATOR WOODY

Senator Woody: "Senate Bill No. 2946 merely determines under what circumstances second or first class shorelands or tidelands may be transferred without consideration. Previous language in the statute was a requirement that it be with clear market value. The amendment goes on to describe and define what second class shorelands are and is a substantial departure from what the current common law and statutory law is. It says, number one, that second class shoreline must be more than two miles from the corporate limits of any city. That is a substantial departure from any existing common law or statutory law and it is completely without the scope and object of under what circumstances may tidelands or shorelands be transferred without consideration to cities, towns, counties or municipal park districts. And it is also a substantial difference to the proviso that a lake is not navigable under certain circumstances. The scope and object of Senate Bill No. 2946 has nothing to do with describing under what circumstances a lake or other body of water is or is not navigable. I fully appreciate the problems that are attendant with the Lake Diamond situation, but this is not the bill in which to do it. And I think by going as far as one does here, describing it must be two miles from the corporate limits, is going to change the law not just regarding Lake Diamond but all the other shorelands within Seattle or any place else."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2946, together with the amendment by Senator Guess and the point or order as raised by Senator Woody, was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, January 23, 1974.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3052, by Senators Francis, Atwood, Lewis (Harry), Durkan and Grant:

Protecting rights in sound recordings.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 18, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3052, protecting rights in sound recordings (reported by Judiciary Committee):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, line 12, section 2, after "exceed" and before "thousand" strike "two" and insert "one".

On page 1, line 17, section 2, after "(2)" and before "or" strike "Sells" and insert "Knowingly sells" and after "sale or" and before "advertises" strike "knowingly".

Signed by: Senators Woody, Vice Chairman; Atwood, Bottiger, Clarke, Marsh, Twigg, Van Hollebeke.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Woody, the committee amendments were adopted.

Senator Mardesich moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 3, line 21 after "than" strike "twenty-five" and insert "five".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Mardesich yield? Senator Mardesich, I notice also on line 12, with the committee amendment it is one thousand dollars and the next word is 'and imprisonment not to exceed one year,' and yet down below, if your floor amendment passes it would be five thousand dollars or imprisonment. I am asking of you in your wisdom whether you think the 'and' on line 12 ought to be changed to 'or'?"

Senator Mardesich: "Again, I have no objection to changing that to 'and' provided again it was not five years. If it were one year I would have no objection to the changing of the 'or' to 'and' with the reduction in the term of from five down to one."

The motion by Senator Mardesich failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Woody, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3052 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, would Senator Woody yield to a question? Senator Woody, I know your intentions are honorable. This is only to make sure that there is not any question. If my young son records something off of the television or somebody else's tape and would play it in a neighborhood gathering, this would not make his actions illegal?"

Senator Woody: "No, you and I could continue doing that. I do that off some of the better FM stations myself. The crime is reproducing for sale, and if you do not reproduce for sale but for your own use, you can even give it away. It does not make any difference. It would not be a crime."

Senator Rasmussen: "But if he swaps it for a stick of gum, then it is a crime?"

Senator Woody: "Do it independently, please."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Woody."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3052, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. SECOND READING

REENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2004, by Senators Herr, Stortini and Van Hollebeke:
Providing for a state lottery.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 16, 1974.

REENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2004, providing for a state lottery (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 9, beginning on line 25, strike all of section 22, and renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

On page 1, line 2 of the title after "RCW;" and before "creating" insert "and".

On page 1, line 3 of the title, after "sections" strike all of the material down to and including "9.59.050" on line 13.

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Day, Henry, Knoblauch, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendment to page 9 was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 5, line 28, section 8, after "for the" insert "initial development and".

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 5, line 31, section 8, after "commission" insert " PROVIDED, That nothing in this act shall authorize the commission to enter into public contracts for the regular and permanent operation of the lottery after the initial development and implementation. Public contracts authorized under this act are to be performed for a flat fee and not on a percentage of the lottery operation".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Would Senator Rasmussen yield? Senator Rasmussen, does this mean that regardless of the amount that is involved in the lottery function that there could only be one set flat fee, that they could not participate in an expanding fee as the lottery grew larger and the costs are increased, etc.?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No - well, yes to the extent that a company that you would contract for supposedly that the lottery were to be, we anticipate possibly thirty million dollars a year, that you would not contract with the initial contracting firm for a flat percentage of say ten percent of the thirty million; that you would contract merely for the services rendered, such as the advice and the purchasing of machines and the necessary mechanical operations rather than awarding to some firm a percentage of the total of whatever the lottery may develop."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Stortini: "Will Senator Rasmussen yield to a question? Senator, I am looking at your amendment and you are talking about the commission and yet as I look at section 8 we are talking about the director. Does that then mean that the director can authorize this but not the commission? And also, a second question. Would this not be contrary to section 7 which gives the commission the power to regulate the locations?"

Senator Rasmussen: "I think this only speaks of the commission, Senator Stortini, and any action taken by the director will be taken under the direction of the commission. That is the only way that it can be conceived at the present time."

Senator Day moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senator Rasmussen:

Amend the Rasmussen amendment to page 5, line 31, section 8, as follows:

Beginning on line 5 of the amendment, after "implementation." strike the balance of the amendment.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Day carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senator Rasmussen was adopted.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

Senator Odegaard moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Woody and Odegaard:

On page 8, section 16, line 31, after "fund" and before the period insert "to be used exclusively for the support of common schools: PROVIDED, That such monies shall be in addition to and not supplementary of the appropriation required for the support of common schools by 28A.41.050 as now or hereafter amended."

Debate ensued.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I support the amendment but I want to point out that it is only a statement of intent. I am not as worried about OPP&FM as I am about the legislature itself. Without even saying why they lowered a general appropriation they could do so, unless the statement of intent were followed by every member and I do not know how you can enforce that. I think we are giving a false impression to school people when we say this will be additional because as much as that is desirable, we have no control over what may happen in a future budget. The fact that we want to do this, and I think every one of us agree to that, is one thing but I just would not like to lead people astray and think that this law really does anything as far as future appropriations might go. They could easily be reduced for another reason and in anticipation as to what would be coming in from the lottery. The amendment is good only in stating our intent."

Senator Whetzel moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Woody and Odegaard:

After "common schools" strike the proviso.
President Pro Tempore Henry presiding.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, this is an amendment I had not looked at before we came on the floor but then, looking at Senator Whetzel's amendment, I think I would have to have Senator Odegaard and Senator Woody say what it did to their theory. It strikes me that if we are trying to do what Senator Odegaard and Senator Woody want to do that perhaps we should have put lottery receipts into a special fund for the relief of special levies. All you are doing in this amendment is making a statement of intent. Anyway, with or without Senator Whetzel's amendment, I am going to vote for the amendment and I think they would have to speak to whether or not the proviso destroys that amendment."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ODEGAARD

Senator Odegaard: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think the proviso would certainly weaken the purpose of the amendment. The proviso might not actually in effect, bind future legislative sessions. We never can bind a future session of the legislature in its action. However, with that proviso it does leave it kind of weak. The intent, of course, is still there and that is maybe all we will end up with anyway, Senator Bailey, which I think is really what we are after; the intent of the legislature is to use this funding for the school system."

The motion by Senator Whetzel carried and the amendment to the amendment by Senators Woody and Odegaard was adopted on a rising vote.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Odegaard failed and the amendment by Senators Woody and Odegaard as amended by Senator Whetzel was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the committee amendments to the title were adopted.

On motion of Senator Stortini, the following amendment to the title by Senators Stortini and Herr was adopted:

On page 1, line 2 of the title, after "lottery;" and before "creating" insert "prescribing penalties;"

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2004 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

President Cherberg assumed the Chair.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Washington yield to a question? Senator Washington, I share your concern that the lottery should be operated so as to avoid any possible opportunity for anyone to profit other than the public and those people who win an occasional ticket. I assume that you have read the bill and I am wondering if there is anything that you feel should have been done to assure that there is proper protection in this bill to prevent that from happening and to protect the public and people. If you feel that there is something that should be added, I for one would certainly be more than happy to help return the bill to second reading. I have had this concern myself and I am wondering whether there is anything more that you feel that we can do."

Senator Washington: "I do not claim to be an expert in all of the ways of handling a lottery, but I do know that it is virtually impossible if somebody is selling tickets, to have the right kind of receipts. There is the old skimming operation which goes on in Las Vegas, goes on in Nevada. They try any number of ways but, from what I gather, it is virtually impossible to really keep that from being done. You can have your slot machines, you can have various devices that take in money and there has not been any real good way discovered yet of being able to keep the people who collect that money from being able to cover it up. There is not any way even to keep people who, and this is something we have to do as far as even the parking meters, checking people, (sic) there is no real way to determine how much is in those machines. And there is going to be no real way, as I feel, to check on the people who are selling and to really determine that we are getting our money back. There can be ways of listing the tickets and to have the numbers returned, but I think that there are going to be ways of getting around it. And I think as we go back again, perhaps you feel and Senator Van Hollebeke pointed out, in the early days, as he said, George Washington and various other personages of the early days, Alexander Hamilton, supported the idea. And I think it perhaps started out doing a worthy job, but it was not just the state of Washington, Senator Henry, that did away with lotteries. Virtually every state in the country did away with lotteries in the 1880's and in that period of time because they were getting out of hand and because it was impossible to control them. I just have that feeling. I do not think it is one of those things that you can completely control and for that reason I am voting against it.

"Again, there are these other arguments that I think the amount of money that is going to be taken is going to be a relatively small amount. I think it is illusory. People are voting for a lottery because they have visions that we are really going to balance the budget. And the more states that have lotteries, as a matter of fact, a lot of the money that is being taken in in New Jersey and New York are people buying those tickets in other states. And when every other state starts having a lottery, you are going to have that cut down and we are going to have even less money available. But I wish I could really point my finger to exactly what you can do, but I just have the feeling that we can plug lots of loopholes and we still, with these tickets being sold widespread all over the state, that the gambling interests and the ability to skim the funds are not going to be able to take place."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2004, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 31; nays, 16; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Henry, Herr, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. On page 1, strike all of section 2.

Debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following amendments by Senators Fleming and Woody were adopted:

President Pro Tempore Henry presiding.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence in the Senate Chamber of Ralph Nader and appointed Senators Connor, Atwood, Bailey, Lewis (Harry), Mardesich and Matson to escort Mr. Nader to the rostrum.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Honored members of the Senate, ladies and gentlemen, we who spend much of our life in the political arena and the legislative forum probably more than anyone else come to acknowledge and appreciate the role of a true advocate. It is not that we always agree with every advocate because this would make the position needless, but rather we learn quickly to admire and respect the tenacious and eloquent qualities of a master of advocacy. This admiration and respect is even greater when the advocate under consideration represents those who, but for his existence, would receive very little representation. Mr. Ralph Nader has gained world-wide acclaim for his diligent pursuits as an advocate for the consuming public of America and it is a distinct privilege, Mr. Nader, to join with the members of the Washington State Senate in welcoming you here today.

"Mr. Nader has stated that following his remarks he would welcome any questions from members of the legislature."

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit Ralph Nader, Consumer Advocate, to address the members of the Senate and the visitors.

BUT WE ALSO AFFIRM THAT THERE IS A LOT OF GOOD AROUND US, AN AWFUL LOT OF WONDERFUL PEOPLE, AND WONDERFUL THINGS. YOU HAVE GIVEN THIS BODY OF LEGISLATORS THE OPPORTUNITY TO HELP MAKE THINGS BETTER IN THIS WORLD OF OURS. BUT REMIND US, AS WE PRAY TOGETHER, THAT LEGAL REMEDIES WILL NEVER COMPLETELY CHANGE THE WORLD. THE ONLY PERSON WHO CAN REALLY DO THAT IS JESUS CHRIST, AND WE THANK YOU FOR THE REVELATION OF HIM TO THE WORLD. HE CAN CHANGE IT THROUGH PEOPLE WHO HAVE THEMSELVES BEEN CHANGED. GIVE US TODAY, LORD, YOUR CLEANSING, YOUR LOVE, YOUR POWER AND GUIDANCE. WE GET MIXED UP WITH SELFISHNESS AND SIN AND OTHER HINDRANCES AND WE GET SEPARATED FROM YOU, BUT YOU NEVER SEPARATE FROM US. YOU ALWAYS LOVE US. HELP US TO KNOW IT THIS DAY, AND TO LIVE IN THE POWER OF THAT KNOWLEDGE. LET ENTHUSIASM FILL OUR LIVES TODAY. MAY GOOD THINGS HAPPEN THROUGH US AS WE GIVE OUR ABILITIES TO THE CHALLENGES BEFORE US. IN DEEPEST GRATITUDE WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR BLESSING ON THIS SESSION AND THIS DAY'S BUSINESS. THROUGH JESUS CHRIST OUR LORD WE PRAY. AMEN.”

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The President announced the presence in the Senate Chamber of Mr. Tage Johansson and appointed a special committee consisting of Senators Walgren, Peterson (Ted), Jolly and Clarke to escort the honored guest to a place upon the rostrum.

The President turned the gavel over to Senator Gordon Walgren.

REMARKS BY SENATOR WALGREN

Senator Walgren: "Thank you very much, Governor Cherberg and lady and gentlemen of the Senate. It is a pleasure for me to welcome here a gentleman who is visiting us at the request of the Joint Committee on Transportation and Utilities and to introduce him here to you this morning. Mr. Johansson is the technical manager for Stockholm Transit System in Sweden and, as such, he is responsible for the planning and technical specifications for all of their rolling stock. That system includes railways, subway cars and buses, as well as all the facilities for rapid transit stations, tracks, signal systems, electrical power supply, yards, shops, bus stations, storage and everything that makes a truly mass transit system work. Mr. Johansson is a professional mechanical engineer and has worked with the Swedish state railways, prior to his position at this time, from 1945 to 1966. He has had the opportunity of traveling over here in the United States and learning more about some of our facilities that we have as far as railway transportation is concerned. As some of you know, Representative Perry and myself and some representatives of the Metro Transit System in Seattle had the opportunity of visiting in Sweden about a month ago and were quite impressed with the transit system that is available to the citizens of the city of Stockholm. So it is with a great deal of pleasure that I introduce to you a gentleman who will be speaking to us this afternoon before our joint committee meeting at four o'clock and we hope that all of you who might be interested will be there and he will be with us here for a few days talking to some of our local officials, a gentleman who we are very pleased to have with us visiting here in 'Little Scandinavia', the state of Washington, Mr. Tage Johansson."

With permission of the Senate, business was suspended to permit remarks by the honored guest and Senator Ted Peterson.

The special committee escorted the honored guest from the Senate Chamber and the committee was discharged.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Sandison, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2946, together with the point of order as raised by Senator Woody on January 22, 1974 on an amendment moved for adoption by Senator Guess on that day, was ordered to be considered as the first bill on the second reading calendar for Friday, January 25, 1974.

On motion of Senator Sandison, Senate Bill No. 2574 was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Friday, January 25, 1974.

SECOND READING

THIRD SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2843, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Senator Fleming):

Authorizing counties, cities and towns to participate in and implement federally-assisted grant-in-aid programs.

The Senate resumed consideration of Third Substitute Senate Bill No. 2843 on second reading. The bill had been amended on Wednesday, January 23, 1974.

On motion of Senator Fleming, the following amendment by Senators Fleming and Mardesich was adopted:

On page 2, line 6, section 2, strike the semicolon and insert "": PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That nothing herein shall be construed in a manner contrary to the provisions of Article VIII, section 7, of the Washington state constitution;"

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, line 22, section 3, strike "liberally".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Rasmussen yield? Senator Rasmussen, you said that many of these people help themselves first. Have not you heard the old adage, 'Charity begins at home.'?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Yes, but I think that the legislature should take a good long look at the way and how charitable we are being with some of the people. And of course they are having a hard time getting the gas for their Cadillac now, and they are suffering privation that way, but I do not think we should encourage it by leaving the word 'liberally' in there."

Further debate ensued.

MOTIONS

Senator Talley moved that the amendment by Senator Rasmussen be laid upon the table.

The motion by Senator Talley failed on a rising vote.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the amendment was adopted.

There being no objection, the amendment by Senators Fleming and Woody to page 2, section 3, line 22 on the Secretary's desk was withdrawn.

Senator Fleming moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Fleming and Woody:

On page 3, line 9, section 5, after "shall" strike "oversee" and insert "control".

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Fleming and Woody was adopted:

Amend the Fleming/Woody amendment as follows: After "shall" insert "control and".

The motion by Senator Fleming carried and the amendment by Senators Fleming and Woody, as amended, was adopted.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

Strike all material beginning with line 12 down through "assessments." on line 24.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Fleming yield? Senator Fleming, I have had some problems in my mind with this and when Senator Rasmussen brought up the word 'liberal' and some of the other connotations he had, I just wanted to ask you a question because it has never been clarified in my mind. The control of these funds, I think, is most important, but I do not know why they are not under better scrutiny and better control. Now we can remember back when in the Seattle area, in your district, there were two hundred and twenty-five to two hundred and fifty thousand of the fund that was unaccounted for. No one could explain what happened to it and to this day I have never been able to find out what happened to those federal funds that were allocated to the area that actually came in there, but were never accounted for. Can you explain that now? They were OEO funds."

Senator Fleming: "There was a controversy about 'X' number of dollars that was allocated for a particular operation, but I don't know of any funds that were not accounted for. There was some question at one point in time, but from my understanding, that question was cleared up. Secondly, when you talk about these funds, there is control. The city audits these corporations. They have full control of them. They appropriate the dollars and, quite naturally, even in state agencies sometimes we have some question as to where dollars are or how they were spent until we really get down and investigate and pinpoint them and then in most cases we know where they are. Now we might not particularly understand, you know, why it was done and we look into that and we try to resolve the problem. And I think the city fathers, they do the same thing from a legislative standpoint of view. So there is control, there is audit of these corporations. They own the corporations so they do control them. They are not corporations just running around doing whatever they want as some people would like you to believe. Secondly, there also is another vehicle because, let's face it, if you are going to be able to do a job for the preservation of your cities, for instance, the Pike Place Market. There are two entities there. There is an urban renewal and then there are also funds that come through from the federal government that we will be using. You have these areas, and let's face it, if the cities were able to go into that kind of business and do these kinds of things, you would have probably a lot more turmoil because too much politics would be in it as to trying to do certain things or not do things. I think by being able to set up these public corporations you volunteer expertise that they get. I think they are able to do a job. They have people that know what they are doing because if you did not, like the Pike Place Market, that would be difficult for the city itself to do that from city payroll and so forth without additional expenses and so on. So I think that the control is there and I think that we have to try and have faith in our local city fathers that they are going to look at the job and if they do not do the job, those people in those cities and counties will vote them out of office or whatever if they are not doing the job."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "I have a question. I am not an attorney and perhaps I am asking the question to an attorney on the floor or Senator Fleming, but it has always bothered me when I see this kind of thing. On line 16 in the part that we are discussing removing, 'to transfer with or without consideration funds, real or personal property, property interests.' That bothers me a little. I understand legal talk that you really do not maybe mean quite that but just what is the legal meaning of transferring with or without consideration real estate or real property?"

Senator Woody: "To attempt to answer that, Senator Metcalf, it means of course that there can be a transfer without anything in return whatever between any of these public corporations that are authorized under the statute. It does not mean, for example, that one of the public corporations can transfer any of this to, for example, me as an individual or anybody else. That would be contrary to Article VIII, Section 7 of the Washington State Constitution. The government cannot give away to another private individual anything for free. It cannot be done. And that is why Senator Fleming and Senator Mardesich put in the first amendment concerning Article VIII, Section 7 of the Washington State Constitution. Technically, I do not think that amendment was necessary because it is the Constitution anyway, but by putting it in here we drew attention to anybody dealing with these public corporations that we recognize the Constitution and they had better, too."

Senator Metcalf: "Senator Woody, what we are saying is you can transfer with or without consideration from one government body to another but not to a private individual or private corporation. Is that correct?"

Senator Woody: "That is correct. If they did that they would be contrary to Article VIII, Section 7 and whoever did it, well the transfer would be an invalid transfer, a void transfer."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would Senator Fleming yield to a question please? Senator

Fleming, the other day and just a few minutes ago you referred to the city of Seattle conducting such projects as the Pike Place Urban Renewal Project and I thought I understood you to believe that this act is necessary to continue what they are presently doing. Is that your understanding?"

Senator Fleming: "No, this act is not necessarily to continue what they are presently doing in toto. Pike Street Market is part of an urban renewal but portions — it is a two-phase thing from what I understand — of it are being carried on through public corporations or they will be able to receive certain moneys through a public corporation with Pike Street Market. From my understanding I think there has been a possibility of a five hundred thousand dollar grant from Ford Foundation or something of this nature that would go through a public corporation to help continue the Pike Street Market. Now that is my understanding. What you indicated to me that this is an urban renewal because you have been associated with it, but from the best advice and information I have gotten from the city people, before the completion of this there will also be moneys used probably from either public corporation through the possibility of this act being in law."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "All right. That is a possibility. You clarified the point I wanted clarified."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "I would like to ask Senator Woody a question. If you think there is anything in this act which would affect the tax status of bonds issued either to allow public corporations to issue bonds — I think I saw that — and would it affect the tax status now, the Pike Place Urban Renewal Project may be closely involved with the Pike Place Market Preservation and Development Authority, which is a public corporation created by a city of Seattle charter, and one of the key things as to whether that public corporation will be able to do anything better than the city itself can do or be involved heavily is whether or not they will be able to issue bonds and if they do, will they have tax exempt status? Is there anything in here, Senator Woody, that you know of that would affect that?"

Senator Woody: "I must confess that I do not know the answer to that at all. I am not that well acquainted with bonds and their problems. Perhaps somebody else might have the answer to it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Fleming yield? Senator, I really wanted to reserve my limited remarks to final passage, but this amendment seems to be the heart of the bill, and that is why I am speaking and asking for your consideration in answering my question. I think when this bill or something like it came up before that it looked pretty reasonably fair. As a matter of fact, I think I voted for it before. Something like this. And yet within the last year or so we have had just an unlimited number of criticisms of the actual functioning of the law. The duplication of authority or the overlap of authority, the unknown authority, and the furnishing of legal services by a flock of public legal aid services or attorneys that spring out of the brush here and there on the government payroll of some agency, and our people at least where I live were just completely frustrated because they did not know how to get a handle on any of these services, and when I talked to city and county officials they just threw up their hands and said they had no control. They just could not handle it. And so it seems to me that Senator Rasmussen's amendment is getting to the heart of this thing and I would appreciate your comment on it. It seems to me there is a lot of difference, Senator, between the concept, which appears to be pretty fair, and the operation, which seems to be bad."

Senator Fleming: "Senator Canfield, in answer to the first part of your question, you are right on. It is getting to the heart of the bill. Senator Rasmussen would like to kill the bill because this amendment guts the bill. It is as simple as that. Now when you start talking about legal services and all these other kinds of things, we are not talking about this type of operation because that is another concept and another type of bill that we passed the other day on legal aid. We are not talking about that kind of thing in there. There are controls on that type of situation, but those types of controls I do not know. I do not think they are as tight as the ones that we have here. These corporations that we are talking about now, it is just like any other corporate structure. There is control in that structure. And what I am saying and what I have been trying to get across to the members of this body, that these corporations as they have been operating, they are owned by the city. And if I own something, I control it. Now, it is up to those city fathers that we elect in office to determine how that control is to be administered. Now in some cities maybe the city fathers might be a little more – I do not want to use the word that Senator Rasmussen struck out – they might go a little more liberally in administering the policies. In other cities they might be a lot more, and I do not know if I want to use that word either, conservative – in their administration, but be that as it may, there is control. These city fathers are aware that the decisions that they make are decisions that the people are going to look at and they are going to be held accountable because they are controlling that and they are the ones appropriating the dollars, as we do. And so I think the things that you are concerned about, those things are covered. Now I cannot justify why in Spokane when revenue dollars start rolling in and they start using them for these kinds of things or why in Yakima or why in Tacoma they will act a little different in forming these corporations than they will in Seattle. I cannot justify that. But I do feel as though we should give them the opportunity, the dollars are going to be coming in this, we know it is much needed for us to be able to render services to our communities that otherwise we will not be able to do because of constitutionality and because we will not have these federal dollars coming in.

“And lastly, it is all federal dollars, not city dollars, and it is not state dollars, and I think that this is the main point. There is control. I think we need it. If we do not get this bill as it is now, we are going to lose a lot of dollars. We are going to lose millions of dollars, and some other state is going to get them. And I would hope that you would join with me again, Senator Canfield, and vote against this amendment because I think that it is much needed and I think that we all can be proud.”

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Metcalf, the following amendment by Senators Metcalf and Fleming was adopted:

On page 3, line 29, section 6, after “authority” and before “to” insert “is or was operating shall have jurisdiction and authority”.

On motion of Senator Fleming, Engrossed Third Substitute Senate Bill No. 2843 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

“OUR HEAVENLY FATHER, WE THANK YOU FOR THE OPPORTUNITIES OF SERVICE FOR THIS ANOTHER DAY. GIVE US THE ENERGY TO DO A GOOD JOB. YOU PACKED ENERGY INTO US WHEN WE WERE BORN, AND IF WE HAVE LOST IT THROUGH OUR OWN FAULT AND CARELESSNESS, HELP US TODAY TO EMPTY OUR MINDS OF ENERGY-DEPRESSANTS AND SEPARATE OURSELVES FROM ANYTHING THAT HAS TAKEN THE VITALITY OUT OF OUR NATURES. HELP US TO LIVE THIS DAY WITH POWER AND VIGOR AND LET LIFE BECOME A TREMENDOUS EXPERIENCE. HELP WITH EVERY PROBLEM. GIVE IDEAS AND INSIGHTS THAT WILL BENEFIT AND ENCOURAGE. MAY THESE LEGISLATIVE HALLS BE FILLED WITH A SENSE OF YOUR PRESENCE, LORD. WE ACKNOWLEDGE YOU IN THIS MOMENT OF MEDITATION. WE SAY WITH THE PSALMIST: ‘BLESSED BE THE LORD GOD . . . WHO ONLY DOETH WONDROUS THINGS. AND BLESSED BE HIS GLORIOUS NAME FOREVER; AND LET THE WHOLE EARTH BE FILLED WITH HIS GLORY!’

“NOW, FATHER, BLESS THE PRESIDENT OF THIS SENATE, AND EVERY SENATOR. GIVE EACH ONE YOUR DIVINE GUIDANCE AND SUSTENANCE. MAY WHAT IS ACCOMPLISHED IN THIS HALL TODAY BE IN ACCORDANCE WITH YOUR WILL FOR MANKIND. THANK YOU FOR BEING SO GOOD TO US AND GIVING US THE PRIVILEGE OF SERVING OTHERS. POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, a question of Senator Murray. I hate to ask questions on this bill all the time, and my book does not show it, but you are positive that all of the amendments that we adopted at the last session which limited and excluded their right to pick a site are in this bill?"

Senator Murray: "That is certainly the intent. I have double checked to see that they are in this bill. The digest that we just received says that they are in this bill."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, with Senator Murray's assurance I will accept it. I have a different copy of the bill here and I was fearful that we may have to readopt every amendment that we adopted the last time on the floor and I wanted to be reassured that Law and Order was not circumventing law and order."

REMARKS BY SENATOR MURRAY

Senator Murray: "You will notice it is a substitute bill that incorporated all of the measures that we passed last time."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Senator Bailey, I would hope that we could have that intent read into the record."

Senator Bailey: "Senator Canfield, that was the reason I asked the question, because it is in the record."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Reengrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2132, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

REENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2132, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, under Senate Concurrent Resolution 143, would it be the Chair's ruling that we cannot introduce any measure from here on? The intent of this resolution originally was to restrict it to general measures but to leave it open for revenue and taxation. As I read the resolution now I think that we have worded it so there can be no measure introduced after the closeout dates. The reason I raise this is that Senator Odegaard and I have a very good bill — a bill to postpone the effective date of House Bill 186 for another year. If necessary we could possibly use another title. The school districts are in a terrible shape over House Bill 186 and we wanted to get a ruling. So that we could judge our future action."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Fleming, "Along those same lines, besides the revenue and taxation, am I right to understand that we could still introduce any due related bills or not?"

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Mardesich, a decision on the parliamentary inquiries by Senators Bailey and Fleming will be made by the President on Saturday, January 26, 1974.

At 12:35 p.m., on motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Saturday, January 26, 1974.

JOHN A. CHERBERG, President of the Senate.

SIDNEY R. SNYDER, Secretary of the Senate.

THIRTEENTH DAY

MORNING SESSION

Senate Chamber, Olympia, Wash., Saturday, January 26, 1974.

The Senate was called to order at 10:00 a.m. by President Cherberg. The Secretary called the roll and announced to the President that all Senators were present except Senators Day, Guess, Jones, Keefe and Twigg. On motion of Senator Bailey, Senators Day, Guess, Jones, Keefe and Twigg were excused.

The Color Guard, consisting of Pages Edward Wilderman and Wendy Horst, presented the Colors. Reverend Glen D. Cole, pastor of Evergreen Christian Center of Olympia, offered the following prayer:

"OUR HEAVENLY FATHER, WE WANT TO THANK YOU FOR HEALTH AND FOR STRENGTH TODAY. WE WANT TO THANK YOU FOR THE ABILITY TO ENJOY LIFE AND TO FILL IT WITH GOOD THINGS. WE WANT TO THANK YOU FOR JESUS CHRIST, FOR HIS ENORMOUS APPEAL, FOR THE DYNAMISM OF HIS PERSONALITY, FOR THE ELECTRIC QUALITY OF HIS NATURE, FOR HIS LOVE, AND ALL THERE IS ABOUT HIM. AS WE STAND IN THESE SENATE CHAMBERS, WE REDEDICATE OURSELVES TO HIM AND TO DOING EVERYTHING WE CAN TO HELP MAKE HIS SPIRIT PREVAIL IN THIS COUNTRY AND THE WORLD. FILL US ALL WITH POSITIVE EMOTION TODAY. IN A WORLD OF NEGATIVISM, GIVE US THE UPWARD LOOK, AND THE OUTWARD LOOK. MAY WE BE ABLE TO SEE OPPORTUNITIES IN OUR PROBLEMS. AS JAMES LOWELL SAID: 'MISHAPS ARE LIKE KNIVES THAT EITHER SERVE US OR CUT US AS WE GRASP THEM BY THE BLADE OR BY THE HANDLE'. AND AS THE RUSSIAN PROVERB STATES: 'THE HAMMER SHATTERS GLASS BUT FORGES STEEL.' ASSIST, O LORD, THESE LEGISLATORS AS THEY FACE THE DIFFICULTIES OF THEIR JOBS. MAY THEY, WITH YOUR HELP, TAKE THE KNIFE BY THE HANDLE. MAY THERE BE WITHIN THEM SUBSTANTIALITY, STRENGTH, FAITH . . . THEN WHEN THE GOING GETS A LITTLE TOUGH, THEY WILL NOT BE SHATTERED, BUT FORGED INTO STEEL. THANK YOU FOR THAT GREAT POSSIBILITY, THROUGH OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST. AMEN.”

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, Senate Bill No. 2211 was ordered placed on today's second reading calendar immediately following consideration of Senate Joint Memorial No. 106.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2938, by Committee on Local Government (endorsed by Senators Sellar, Murray, Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Jolly, Fleming, Gardner, Walgren, Connor and Talley):

Authorizing a fire protection district service charge.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2938 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2938, and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 27, after "collected" and before the colon insert "and the service charge against an individual taxpayer shall not exceed an amount equal to one mill".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would like to ask someone, maybe the sponsor of the bill . . . I was reading the Governor's veto message and he says that if this act were to be approved the future would undoubtedly see many, if not all other, junior taxing districts attempting to achieve passage of similar legislation. Now my question is this, it does not make much difference whether it is a service charge or if it is a tax levy, it is still a charge on the property. How many other junior taxing districts would you anticipate—hospital districts, library districts and the same going to a service charge rather than to a tax?"

Senator Bottiger: "If you will look on page 2, the last sentence on page 1, starting in the second paragraph on page 2, you will see that we require that the amount of the service charge be directly related to the financial benefit received by the property. Now I cannot think of any other junior taxing district that can show a direct financial benefit as a result of an improving of services, unless you might get into a hospital district where if you had better ambulance services your Blue Cross premium might come down, something of that nature. But that would not relate to the property. That would relate to some other individual thing. I never did buy that argument of the Governor's in his veto message. I think our original bill avoided that problem. In direct answer to your question, I cannot see any other junior taxing districts that could show that. You have drainage, you might get it in drainage, a drainage or diking district might be able to show a direct financial benefit if they took care of some storm water or a thing of that nature, but they already have the LID method of financing."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Senator Bottiger, could you yield? I am concerned. We have a number of fire districts that cover large areas. Much of the land is open sagebrush land with very little grass. Now how would that be affected by this bill?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Washington, I have areas like that, too. Generally those fire districts have at least told me that there is not much they can do to improve their fire service to reduce premium. By the time the fire truck would get to the farmhouse it would have been burned anyway, and short of building a whole group of new firehouses and fire trucks and they would not have enough volunteers to man them, there is literally nothing they could do. So in the very rural areas, the very spread out farm areas, I do not think they would be under this bill. Incidentally, some of them do not levy two mills already."

Senator Washington: "One other point. There are some areas of land that have no buildings on them whatsoever. The only damage could be to the grass and sagebrush and there are many in that area who would like to have a good fire to get rid of the sagebrush."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Canfield has an amendment on the Secretary's desk to make sure that we would not be able to apply the tax here to the crop land. Unless you insure your crop from fire and therefore have a fire insurance premium, you would not be under this bill. So just ordinary grazing land would not be included."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CANFIELD

Senator Canfield: "I want to answer Senator Rasmussen's question, Senator Clarke's also. I would like to reiterate that one of my amendments takes care of this problem by a proper method of levying a tax, namely, under the forty mill law as amended by amendment 59. If we take care of that, we take care of Senator Dore's problem and all the other taxing districts, too."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "I would like to inquire of Senator Bottiger — he says this is not going to cost the homeowner anything because the additional charge they pay is going to reduce the premium on their fire insurance. Now the question I want to know, is there any provision in this bill that Mr. Herrmann, the Insurance Commissioner, is going to reduce the premium of our fire insurance in proportion to this charge? I never heard anything quite so 'iffy'. Now have you talked to Commissioner Herrmann that if this bill passes that the property owner will not in effect have to pay any more money because this additional charge resulted in the proportionate reduction in his fire insurance? Now if you have, then I will withdraw my amendment. Now I have talked to the firemen. They are my best friends, frankly, and I would like to go along with this bill, but I cannot go along to the penalty of the homeowner. Now you said your half mill. I said, 'What do you have in mind?' You did not give me any idea what you have in mind. He says, 'Why don't you just make it an amount equal to one mill, not half a mill because that would cut us too close?' Now maybe he does not know anything what he is talking about, but I again would like to ask the question. In your opinion, how high will this charge be on the individual householder, whether he gets it back in a reduced fire insurance premium or not, and how much money in the aggregate are we talking about, either on a county basis or state-wide basis?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Dore, up at Elbe we have a fire district that is a class ten, and throughout the state of Washington you range from class ten. Theoretically, you could hit a class one someplace, but I think the cities of Seattle and Tacoma hit class two and one-half and that is about as good as you can get, practically. You could get a lot better a lot more expensively. If you went to Elbe and — right now their fire equipment consists of an old milk truck — if you bought them a pumper you could move them from a class ten to a class seven. A class ten rate is ten dollars and sixty cents a thousand, a class seven rate is about four dollars a thousand. So you would have a lot of spread in Elbe. If you went out to Lakewood where Senator Newschwander is from and their problem there is, they are a class four going to a class six because they cannot keep up with the fire standards. And they could show and convince through their fire district commissioners that if they do not get this additional support for their fire district, their premium is going to go up. And that is what they would have to show. Their premium will go up if they do not do this kind of work. Now my point is, Senator, you are trying to come in here with a typical great big wide spade and shotgun approach and ask me to say for that particular household owner what is the maximum. It will depend, because if he lives across from a new firehouse he may have a dramatic change in his fire insurance premium and he may have a down premium and an up service charge. If he lives across the street from an existing firehouse, he might not have any change in his fire insurance premium. These things are measured by the rating bureau, how far you live from the firehouse, what the pressure is in the pump, how many times a week the men meet for their drill. Each fire district is graded. There is no way that I could give you a half a mill or a quarter mill that would be fair to everybody concerned."

Senator Dore: "Can you give us an idea of the dollar amount charged in every homeowner's property? Is it ten dollars or five dollars or . . ."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Dore, you are back with your shotgun. I just told you, if you built the fire hall across the street from your house it might be a fifty dollar reduction in your fire insurance premium and a thirty-five dollar service charge. If you already live across the street from a fire hall, it might not have any change in either one."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Dore, the Senate commenced consideration of an amendment by Senator Canfield. Further consideration of the amendment by Senator Dore will continue following the amendment proposed by Senator Canfield.

Senator Canfield moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 5, line 5, after "approved" strike "by a majority of the voters of the district" and insert "as provided in Article VII, Section 2, as amended".

Debate ensued.

MOTION

Senator Newschwander moved that the Senate commence consideration of the amendment by Senator Bottiger to page 4, section 5, line 10 before continuing the discussion of the amendment by Senator Canfield.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, I would like to ask Senator Bottiger a question before we move over to his amendment. Senator Bottiger, I am reading Amendment 17 to Article VII, Section 2, the one that Senator Canfield referred to, and I see no way, even as willing as many people probably would be to do this to apply a service charge, to have it come out on your tax statement, and have them be able to collect it, because when these people see a service charge on the tax statement and they will do as I think Senator Dore suggested. They will say, 'Well, how do we get this additional tax?' and it will be a tax, even though you call it a service charge. At the present time the fire districts may put a special levy on for the purposes of buying whatever type of equipment they want or for an additional service, which Lakewood, I think, Senator Newschwander, just did. Didn't they pass a five million dollar bond issue for upgrading their fire district? However, that was approved by a vote of the people as provided by the Constitution. I fail to see how you could ever collect this tax, and I am sure there would be people who would say, 'I did not approve this and I am not going to pay it.' Do you have an answer to that?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Rasmussen, Senator Woody may have misspoken when he implied that the people would not know about it. The people would have to vote for it. The fire district commissioners would have to submit this service charge concept to the people and have them vote 'yes,' a simple majority vote, before the service charge could be applied. Now it would then appear on their tax statement and be collected. So the idea that they would not know what this new thing was about, I do not think is accurate. They would know. They would also undoubtedly be, if you know anything about local fire districts, they would be told because there would immediately be a citizen's group to get the fire insurance companies out to lower their premium if there were new equipment or new services involved. Out in the rural country we are kind of neighborly that way. We know what is going on in respect to our fire insurance premiums. Again, I can only tell you that you vote once on sidewalks, you people inside the city, it is a ULID. They assess it on the benefit received to your property. You vote once on it and then you pay for it. We are trying to apply that same concept to the providing of other governmental services. You do it on sewers, on drainage districts, flood control districts, all kinds of things where you have a service charge connected to the benefit received by the property. A fire service is the same thing."

Senator Rasmussen: "You did not answer the question, Senator Bottiger, in regards there is no provision for a three year levy in the Constitution. It provides for a one year."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, as long as you make this a property tax, and you have to understand you are making it a property tax; I am saying it is not, as long as you make it a property tax you are right. There is not anything for a three year levy in the Constitution. But there is no restriction on a three year reaffirmation of a service charge. The city of Tacoma assesses a transit tax on their water bill. They collect it through their water bill. They call that a service charge and they presume that everybody receives something for the service charge. This is the same thing. I would like to strengthen the bill by saying you have to go back once every three years and reaffirm it with the people."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would Senator Bottiger yield? This would impose the tax on both personal and real property, and just scanning through it, I do not see any limitations so would it then impose the tax on household furnishings?"

Senator Bottiger: "Item one, it is not a tax. It is a service charge connected to the reduction in the fire insurance premium. The fire insurance premium is a self-imposed charge because if you do not want to insure your household goods and furnishings, you do not have to. Now it is the contents or the value of the property protected, and most of us insure our homes, most of us, I think, almost uniformly we insure our homes, especially if we owe any money on them the bank makes us insure our homes. So it is the improvements to real property including personal property."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Newschwander carried and the Senate commenced consideration of the amendment by Senator Bottiger.

On motion of Senator Bottiger, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, section 5, line 10, after "PROVIDED, That" strike all the matter down through and including "rejection" on line 14 and insert "such a service charge shall not remain in effect for a period of more than three years unless subsequently reapproved by the voters".

The Senate resumed consideration of the amendment by Senator Canfield to page 4, new section 5, line 5.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Canfield yield to a question? Senator Canfield, it is your intention by this amendment to require a vote in accordance with the wishes of people where they indicated that they wanted what used to be the forty mill limit; they wanted the twenty mill limit to be in force?"

Senator Canfield: "Whatever they want would be submitted to them for their vote under Amendment 59."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, by an overwhelming vote they voted for the referendum which moved it down to twenty mills."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "If we adopt Senator Canfield's amendment, would we have both Senator Canfield's amendment and Senator Bottiger's and therefore two inconsistent provisions such as we had when we voted that forty dollar raise and in one portion of that bill we said that it would be inside the formula and the other major one we said it would be a straight forty dollar limit and there was a difficulty by the Attorney General as to whether or not the teachers would get forty dollars or whether they would get something other than forty dollars? If we adopt Senator Canfield's, would we have both inconsistent amendments in the bill?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President believes that if the Senate in its wisdom adopts both amendments that they will be enacted into law."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? In what way has this bill been changed from the one that was vetoed by the Governor?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Washington, in innumerable ways. After the Governor vetoed that bill the proponents, the supporters of the bill, met with the Attorney General's Office, met with the Department of Revenue. There were problems in the former bill on collection, on the methods of assessing. There were also the references in the former bill to the property tax, in equating that, limiting it to certain percentage of dollars that would be realized under a part of a mill in property tax; and we have taken every reference therefrom out of this bill. So it is a service charge. It is more patterned after an LID than anything to do with property taxes."

Further debate ensued.

President Pro Tempore Henry presiding.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Senator Clarke, would you yield? Would you please read out loud the first line of the title of this bill?"

Senator Clarke: "An Act relating to revenue and taxation. Well, Senator, I will agree that the title would lead you to the conclusion, but I think if you start talking about a bill based upon simply the title without reading what the bill does, that you are proceeding in an erroneous concept."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Washington: "Would Senator Canfield yield to a question? Senator Canfield, I think you had a good point in perhaps wanting more than a simple majority, and as I read your proposed amendment, if you did have a majority of the voters as provided in Article VII, Section two, I think that is exactly what that would bring about, at sixty percent, would it not?"

Senator Canfield: "A sixty percent affirmative vote of a mythical or actual forty. Yes."

Senator Washington: "I have put an amendment on the Secretary's desk which would, on line 5 on page 4, insert the words 'a sixty percent majority' and I feel after listening to the argument, I have come into this without a great deal of knowledge of it, but it does appear to me that this is not a tax. I am thinking about it as someone who does own some vacant sagebrush property in an arid area and I think there are many people in the same position that I would be. If this were a tax, then I would be taxed along with everybody else for the improvement of fire protection for homes. Now I do not think it would necessarily be fair that my unoccupied sagebrush land should be so taxed. I look upon this as a step in the right direction, that it is going to be, whatever you call it, it is going to be a charge on only those who benefit by the action of the fire district. If the fire district does not produce a lowering of the rates, as I see it, there is not going to be any charge. I do think very possibly there should be a sixty percent vote. I am willing to go along on that and I would hope that you would withdraw your amendment. We would require this sixty percent vote. But again, while I am on my feet I think most of you should consider this, that this is a type of bill that shoots with a rifle right at the householder, the person who owns personal property, and if they reduce the amount of his insurance they pay for it. If it does not, you are a person like me, you do not pay for it because I have not received any benefit. This is not a tax. Clearly it is not a tax or my vacant sagebrush land would be taxed along with everyone else."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Senator, will you yield? One thing I am concerned about is we are not just talking about fire protection districts. We are talking about the authority of any junior taxing districts to render service, are we not?"

Senator Washington: "No, I do not believe we are."

Senator Canfield: "It could be."

Senator Washington: "This is true, but in response to your answer, I think we have to answer each problem as it comes to us. This to me seems to be a logical use of the principle we have used before as we have said for local improvement districts, for special benefiting of property. And I am willing to go for this one because I see it setting out very clearly that it benefits particular pieces of property. Now when they come along with a figment in attempting to reach - I agree somebody will try it, they are going to try dozens of approaches, but I think we are going to establish here some real concrete cogent reasons why we are going to specially assess this kind of property and when someone comes along and tries to really use their imagination to find any advantage to it or increase in value, I think this body then will vote no."

Senator Canfield: "Senator, is not a fire district called a junior taxing district? It is not called a junior service district. It is a junior taxing district with the authority to levy taxes under certain conditions. And I would forecast that if we pass this bill with the definition of this as a service charge and not a tax, we will have every taxing district using the same justifiable interpretation to raise service charges and not taxes, of course, but it is in fact a raise in taxes."

Senator Washington: "I disagree with you there, Senator Canfield, because we do have a clear distinction between taxes and charges. And I would be the first to oppose any sort of a nebulous attempt to have a concrete increase, to interpret some other approach by some other district as being a concrete increase in value when there really is not. What I think we have to do, we can always vote down bills if we say some time in the future we are establishing a precedent that is going to haunt us. Now we do that every time we pass a bill. We establish some sort of a precedent. But I think what we have to do is to assume that we will take logical steps and at the time we are not going to take that final illogical step that is going to take us over the edge of the precipice. And I am willing to take this step because I think it is logical. When someone comes up and tries to put a special property benefit on property because of libraries, I am going to say I am not going to take that step. Logically, it does not make sense and I do not think this body will follow it, but I do agree with you that we should have the sixty percent vote and that is the purpose of my amendment."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Washington yield? How many times in the past have you seen sixty percent of the registered voters show up for any election, let alone vote for something?"

Senator Washington: "Maybe I have this in the wrong place. Now this is . . ."

Senator Woody: "The way you have it written, you say 'by a sixty percent majority of the voters in the district.' That is your own amendment."

Senator Washington: "Now I am going to be the first to agree because many times myself, I have objected to floor amendments because, and this is a case where I have sat here and listened to the discussion, but I think it should be a sixty percent majority of those voting."

Senator Woody: "When? At the last election or this election?"

Senator Washington: "You have asked a good question and I think maybe some more action needs to be taken for the amendment. I am not going to attempt to really stand on it. I attempted here to help and maybe I have confused it. I think perhaps we should get a comment from Senator Bottiger."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Washington yield to a further question? Senator Washington, I was quite interested that you felt that the service charge will not apply to sagebrush covered acres. You are, of course, aware that the service charge should be applied and probably will be because some of the most disastrous fires in history have been caused by sagebrush getting caught, particularly in the California area. We have the same situation here, fire in the sagebrush and roll over into the wheat fields and burn houses and it is just recently that this happened. Obviously, you would be covered with the service charge because you are required to support the protection for your neighbors, also."

Senator Washington: "Of course, I do. You have levy which is levied on all property and of course this property does pay for that. But where you have a service charge which is based purely on the fact that you are going to lower your insurance rates, my land is not insured. And this is based on lowering your insurance rate. As I sit here and listen to the debate, this bill is designed for the person who has a high insurance rate and they are attempting to bring it down. It is designed to help him. It is designed to help the person who has a relatively low insurance rate now and there is a threat that it will be advanced. This is designed just to help him."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Is the Canfield amendment before us or is his oral amendment to another section of the bill or what?"

REPLY BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "The Canfield amendment is before us."

The motion by Senator Canfield failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

The Senate resumed consideration of the amendment by Senator Dore to page 1, section 1, line 26.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Will Senator Bottiger yield? Senator Bottiger, does this create a lien on the real property and does it also create a lien on personal property?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Van Hollebeke, there is one thing about people down here for the first time. They read the whole bill and sometimes they catch you. I do not know. You have obviously read it. Would you point the section out?" If you cannot find it, it does not."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I do not agree with that philosophy either."

The motion by Senator Dore failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

Senator Bottiger moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 22, after "association" insert "maintaining his or its own fire department and".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Grant: "Will Senator Bottiger yield to a question? I gave you my copy of the bill, Senator Bottiger, so I cannot refer to it but I understand that the Boeing Company, as an example, which has a fire department -- is not within a fire district -- so the bill would not apply to them in any event, with a certain exception and that is some properties in the Tukwila area which are within a fire district. Now in adding your amendment that requires them to have a fire department, I approve of that generally, but does the fire department for the Boeing Plant -- let us say in Renton for example -- provide services to the Tukwila properties that are within the fire district or does the fire district in that local area provide the services? Let me ask you additionally, I understand that there are some oil refineries that maintain their own fire departments, but if I have a fire department at an oil holding in Anacortes or at a refinery in Anacortes, does that exempt me from this service charge if I have another refinery in Bellingham?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Grant, it was the intent of the amendatory language and of the exemption in the statute that it apply only to the property protected by your own fire department. I think the statute would not make sense to read any other way because the protection factor would then make an unequal application of the statute to all people and a court faced with that dilemma would read the statute to make it apply equally to all similarly situated."

The motion by Senator Bottiger carried and the amendment was adopted.

Senator Canfield moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 3, section 2, line 4, after "52.36.020" and before the period insert ": PROVIDED, That the term "personal property" shall not include field crops, livestock or other tangible personal farm property not ordinarily housed or stored within a building structure".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "How about the cattle? Don't you bring them home at night, the cows, the milking cows? Are they not housed in structures or what? Would they be exempt?"

Senator Canfield: "In wording this, I feel in all honesty that if fire protection is worth anything it has got to cover machinery, for instance, if stored in a barn. It would have to cover hay stored in a barn. It would have to cover equipment stored in a barn. If you had a greenhouse that was flammable and you have crops growing in that and subject to fire, I think that might well be covered because it might catch from other buildings at least, but cattle out on the range that you cover under your declaration sheet I do not think ought to be covered, your sprinkler systems and growing crops and things of that sort, Senator, but if they are ordinarily put in a building which is subject to fire and fire loss, I think it is reasonable to levy this service charge."

Senator Dore: "How about chickens?"

Senator Canfield: "Chickens are ordinarily in a building and they generally are. I think that it is a real legitimate point to cover them under the service charge."

Senator Dore: "In other words, you do not want to exempt all animals?"

Senator Canfield: "No, not necessarily, Senator."

Senator Dore: "How do you determine if they are . . . ?"

Senator Canfield: "If they are subject to a fire hazard. That is what I am driving at."

Senator Dore: "Say they are in the building more than fifty percent of the time, then you would assess a tax against them?"

Senator Canfield: "Well, I think there would have to be a little reasonable judgment in that by the fire department."

Senator Dore: "I am just trying to understand your amendment, that is all."

Senator Canfield: "I am just trying to make it a reasonable application of the bill."

Senator Dore: "Now if you put your machinery in a building or under some type of a lean-to, then you tax it, but if you left it out in the field then, under your amendment they would not assess the tax?"

Senator Canfield: "That is the general idea. I think that if a person would store machinery out in the open, and I know some of them do, for the specific reason of avoiding the hazard of fire — if you would store them in a barn or a shed where you do have the possibility of fire — then I think it is reasonable to expect the service charge."

Senator Dore: "And when we make these personal property assessments we determine on a day certain, don't we? Like January 1 of this year? So if you moved everything out of a building on that particular day and the assessor came by and of course there would not be anything to assess under your amendment."

Senator Canfield: "As the body determined awhile ago, this is not a tax and so I do not think your problem there would apply to January 1."

Senator Dore: "I just wanted to get the full intent and I want to congratulate you. You have done indirectly for the farmers what we tried to do for all the people in your previous amendment."

Senator Canfield: "Thank you, Senator."

The motion by Senator Canfield carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Washington, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 4, section 5, line 5, after "a" and before "majority" insert "sixty percent".

On page 4, line 6, after "district" insert "voting".

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2938 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Senator Bottiger, I agree with you on the good work the fire districts do. Senator Van Hollebeke asked you a question about whether this charge becomes a lien against the personal and the real property, and did I understand you correctly to say that if it was not in the bill it would not become a lien against the property?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, you catch me obviously unprepared to answer that question. I recall an old opinion or a case that indicated that the bill itself has to enunciate the ways of collecting it if it is a lien on property. I am not positive of that. I think that is what I told Senator Van Hollebeke. I think the bill has to say so if it is to be a lien on the real property."

Senator Rasmussen: "Your statement is then that it will not become a lien on the property? It is not the intent of the bill that this charge become a lien against the real or personal property?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I am not sure of that and I realize this is for the record and I simply cannot — I do not want a 'yes' vote because I said that it was not a lien. The section says it will be collected in the usual and normal practices. That sounds to me like language that would permit some form of collection procedure. The thing that concerns me about a lien is in a closing transaction if the title insurance company were to interpret this as to requiring the apportionment of costs in a closing, would a purchaser of property on which the service charge had not been paid be able to go back against the original owner or would he have to pay? I have a little concern there and I wish that Senator Twigg, who is probably a little bit more experienced in land transactions than I, were here. I am just not sure about that."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you, Senator Bottiger."

REMARKS BY SENATOR RASMUSSEN

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Bottiger put a complete cloud over it with his positive statements and I think it is a serious matter whether or not this charge becomes a lien and I hope that it will be cleared up, and I had hoped that he would clear it up with a positive statement because we have had court rulings that the service charges put on by the transit do not become a lien to the extent that you cut off your water service, but it is subject to a suit to collect it. This is a different matter and I think that it would very definitely become a lien against the property."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "If I may join your group as a curbstome lawyer, I would like to inquire, Senator Rasmussen, how you could collect or how you would pay for this service if there is no way of enforcing the collection? You could just say, 'I do not want to pay,' and if that is the end of it, there is no point in this bill. There has got to be some enforcement. It has either got to be through some collection device, a lien or something of the sort. That seems to be very plain even to a curbstome lawyer."

(No reply by Senator Rasmussen)

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Senator, do you think it might be desirable to put it over until Monday to do a little research on the matter to see whether there is a lien or not on the matter, because some of the members may not vote for it if there is a lien on your property? You start moving out of your apartment or your house into someplace else and the next thing you know you cannot move your own furniture because there is a lien on it. I do not mind the enforcement situation. We had that with the household tax for transit. There was no lien there. There was a provision that the corporation counsel would sue directly for it. You may recall that. They sued a number of people and finally it became so burdensome they did not even enforce it and of course I hope this would not be the situation here. But I just wondered if to clarify it, it seems rather an important bill, the lien has always been a concern of the Democratic Party not to put a lien on people's homes, like say our senior citizens used to, after they died the state would pursue a lien against their homes and collect it. It has been something that the Democratic Party has been opposed to and I just wonder, in view of that, would it make some sense to maybe put it over to Monday to give you an opportunity to research it and then be able to emphatically tell Senator Van Hollebeke or Senator Rasmussen, 'No, there is not a lien,' or 'There is a lien,' so at least we could intelligently vote on it?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Dore, I would be willing to put it over until Monday."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Bottiger yield to another question? Which is partially a question and partially a comment, I guess, Senator Bottiger. This says 'fire districts' and this is now. But what about later? What about the water districts? What about all those various other districts? Hospital districts, airport districts, all types of districts? There are countless numbers of them. Are they next? And if they are next, what is the purpose of the constitutional limitations with respect to property taxes? And this is what has concerned me about this measure. Otherwise, I would not have been going for some of those amendments that have been floating around here. But it seems to me we begin opening the door, park, flood, the whole works. And I wonder what your response to that feeling is."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Mardesich, that has concerned me a great deal as well. Now first of all let us take sewer and water and knock those out right now because they have a service charge. You are taxed directly for the cost of putting the water main in front of your house by a running foot cost. It does not have anything to do with the value of the land. So many dollars per running foot. Sewers and water. Then you are charged by the volume of the service you use, water districts particularly. I am not quite sure, since we do not have sewers as far out as I live, but I understand you have a monthly service charge based on the square foot of the particular house or whatever is involved. But again, no value to the property. In hospital districts you might have, I can conceivably see a way – I do not buy it – I could see where you could make an argument that if your insurance premium were reduced, your Blue Cross or whatever it is were reduced because you had better hospital services in your area, then I could see that you could connect the reduction in your Blue Cross insurance premium by the location of that hospital but I doubt it very much. First of all, I do not think there would be a large enough reduction to make it worthwhile looking at. After you cross that line, I can find none, I can find no district that has any relation. Cemeteries are big users. You surely cannot argue that there is a value by having a cemetery closer to your home that has any connection to your land. A park district, they are not junior taxing districts. If you go to value your home, then you are on taxes. We are trying to get to the point that it has nothing to do with the value of your home. It is the service that is performed. Now schools have nothing to do – there is no way you can measure – there is a measurement against any particular property that you own by the value of your schools. The quality of your schools may reflect in the value of your home, but you cannot connect that to a service charge. Now if you went to the lunch that is offered in the school or the towel fee, we already charge a 'service charge' on that. The kids pay, at least my kids pay a towel fee in school. I cannot see anything where you can find a connection between the services offered, the quality of the services offered – and what somebody pays for those services like it does in a fire district with the insurance premium. It is a measurable value. Senator Mardesich, I cannot share your question. A school district, what can you measure a school district against? It most certainly has a value but what would you measure it against? The dollar value of your house? Is it going to lower any particular premium you pay on something?"

"Incidentally, libraries have been ruled that they cannot charge an LID because there is no measurable improvement to the property in a library district by the library services. And they cannot use the LID form."

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE HENRY

President Pro Tempore Henry: "I might say just for a moment before we start the roll call that you are using the wrong system. A number of years ago when I was mayor of a small town with a volunteer fire department, a large warehouse owned by a very wealthy man over in Yakima County caught on fire and we fought it all night, all day, and burned the paint on our new fire truck and sent him a very small bill for the work because it was outside the city limits. He objected to it and we had quite a time collecting it. A few months later the warehouse caught on fire again and the fire chief called and asked me what I thought he should do and I said, 'Call the guy up and see if he wants you to fight the fire.' About eleven o'clock at night. He decided he did. We had no trouble collecting."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am not quite sure what it means but it has been called to my attention, on line 21, section 3, reading in part, 'for the collection in the same manner that is used for the collection of fire protection charges for forest lands protected by the department of natural resources,' so if somebody can tell me how you collect forest land assessments, whether it is by lien or otherwise, why then we have the answer to that question. I would presume that it is collected if it becomes a lien on the property, just like any other LID or any other charge of that kind is collected."

There being no objection, Senator Peterson (Ted) was excused.

AND YET IT HAS BECOME THE DUTY OF THESE SENATORS GATHERED HERE TO MAKE THE NECESSARY DECISIONS ABOUT THE DIRECTIONS WHICH THE PEOPLE OF THIS STATE WILL TAKE IN MEETING THE PROBLEMS WE FACE.

“WE RECOGNIZE THE DIFFICULTY OF MAKING DECISIONS IN THE ABSENCE OF COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING OF THE LONG-RANGE EFFECTS, BUT PROBLEMS DEMAND SOLUTIONS, AND ALTERNATIVES DEMAND CHOOSING. MOTION

Senator Washington moved that the following Senate bill be removed from today's second reading calendar and referred to the Committee on Ecology:

SENATE BILL NO. 3023, by Senators Guess, Jolly and Donohue:

Exempting certain activities from certain requirements of the environmental impact act.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Jolly yield? As the bill is written right now it is fifty second feet, beyond that point it has to have the environmental impact, below that it does not? Is that the situation?"

Senator Jolly: "The ruling is this is true. There is no law that I know of that says this but the ruling of the Department of Ecology is that anyone taking anything, anything has to have an environmental impact now. But this bill would limit it to fifty cubic feet per second."

Senator Canfield: "In other words, if you took over fifty second feet it would have to be approved by the environmental impact statement?"

Senator Jolly: "Under the ruling of the Department of Ecology, yes."

Senator Canfield: "That is what this bill does, it does give the Department of Ecology the right to exercise their judgment if it is over fifty second feet?"

Senator Jolly: "I think it would, yes."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Guess yield to a question? Senator Guess, this proposed bill is merely exempting them from an environmental impact statement?"

Senator Guess: "This is correct, Senator."

Senator Rasmussen: "They still would be required to get the water permit?"

Senator Guess: "They would still have to get the water permit, and I do not know if they would ever get one if we put this bill through because it will make Mr. Biggs so unhappy with me."

REMARKS BY SENATOR JOLLY

Senator Jolly: "Mr. President, in reply to the question Senator Canfield asked awhile ago, I can see where his problem is. The amendment put up by the Agriculture Committee limited to fifty cubic feet, and so if Senator Washington's motion does not prevail and this bill is left on the calendar, I will offer an amendment to the amendment that would say fifty cubic feet or less so it would not tie it just to the specific fifty cubic feet."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Will Senator Washington yield? You mean someone sitting over here in Olympia is going to be able to figure out the best way to water land in some other area of the state? Is that what you are telling us this morning?"

Senator Washington: "No, I am not saying that it was figured out . . ."

Senator Woodall: "Well, who is the super brain who is going to figure out where the water ought to go and where it should not go? Who is this super brain who knows all?"

Senator Washington: "At the present time, of course, our water is controlled by the Department of Ecology and I think that it should also give these considerations. They have the power, with hearings, to listen to the . . ."

Senator Woodall: "I know all that."

Senator Washington: "It would be the Department of Ecology."

Senator Woodall: "Who is the super brain who knows all and knows the best way to use water? That is what I am asking you."

Senator Washington: "I do not think there is any necessary super brain but . . ."

Senator Woodall: "You are saying it ought to be referred to this man who knows best and I want to know who he is."

Senator Washington: "I think right now it is required that this be done under law by the Department of Ecology, and I think the law should require the Department of Ecology to view the ecological environmental impact of large withdrawals of water such as this."

Senator Woodall: "One more question. You are quite biblical. The Bible says the desert shall blossom as a rose. Now what is wrong? How can there possibly be a bad effect by having water turn arid land into productive land? How can that possibly hurt anybody?"

Senator Washington: "It cannot possibly hurt anyone and, of course, if we could always do that it would be wonderful if we could always feel that by taking water from the ground or taking it from a stream we were going to produce the lush garden that you talk about. I hope that would be true, but we have seen many examples. All you have to do in flying over southern Arizona is to see what they did when they took tremendous amounts of the water from the land. They developed irrigation areas and now you fly over and you see vacant homes, you see irrigation ditches that have no water in them because they took too much water out of the ground. The ground level went so far down that instead of having the lush garden you talk about, they have ruined that area to where they have no hope for irrigation at all. There also have been areas where they have had excellent irrigation, the people have had their homes, they have had their farms, and then somebody else comes in and takes the water and if you take the water from them, certainly that is going to have an adverse ecological impact if you deprive farmers who now have water and take it away from them. That is an ecological environmental impact, and it is something that should be considered."

Senator Washington demanded a roll call, and the demand was sustained by Senators Connor, Greive, Whetzel, Jones, Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Murray, Matson, Sellar and Wanamaker.

The President declared the question before the Senate to be the motion by Senator Washington that Senate Bill No. 3023 be taken from today's second reading calendar and referred to the Committee on Ecology.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3100, by Senators Durkan, Donohue, Sandison and Lewis (Harry): Transferring funds for use by the state patrol.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 17, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3100, transferring funds for use by the state patrol (reported by Committee on Ways and Means):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 1, line 5, section 1, after "Motor" strike "Vheicle" and insert "Vehicle".

Signed by: Senators Durkan, Chairman; Donohue, Vice Chairman; Odegaard, Vice Chairman; Canfield, Fleming, Lewis (Harry), Marsh, Rasmussen, Sandison, Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Durkan, the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Durkan moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 5, strike "Motor Vehicle" and insert "Highway Safety".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, the highway safety fund is projected to be in the red by the end of this biennium. Would there be any surplus money left over as a result of this transfer after the salary increases were paid?"

Senator Durkan: "The bill will raise about a million two and the first go around on the salary increases for the State Patrol would be about nine hundred thousand so the answer is yes."

Senator Bottiger: "About how many thousand?"

Senator Durkan: "Three hundred."

Senator Bottiger: "About three hundred thousand left? Thank you."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried and the amendment was adopted.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3100 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Grant: "Would Senator Durkan yield to a question? Senator Durkan, the information you have relative to the State Patrol salaries, I have seen a copy of that and I think that is the current salary level for the State Patrol and other law enforcement agencies. As you have indicated, the beginning salary – the trooper's salary range – if I recall correctly, is from $802 to $1012, and the average salary of all law enforcement agencies is $846. My question is, Senator Durkan, what will this put a beginning trooper at insofar as average salary? What increase would be provided under this measure?"

Senator Durkan: "The average salary will now be $852, and that is comparable to $946 in California."

Senator Grant: "You are sure that is the average and not the beginning point?"

Senator Durkan: "$852, that will go up now. That is beginning salary."

Senator Grant: "That would be the beginning salary, not the average salary? It would be $852 for a trooper or a fifty dollar a month increase?"

Senator Durkan: "Approximately, that is correct."

Senator Grant: "Thank you."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3032, by Senator von Reichbauer:
Authorizing acceptance, management and expenditure by school district boards of directors of gifts and conveyances.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3032 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3032 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3032 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Murray: "Would Senator von Reichbauer yield to a question please? On line 8 of the bill, the first page, you use the term 'scholarship and student aid purposes.' Would this prohibit the use of the gifts or grants or bequests for the support of extracurricular activities?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "No, Senator. Student aid could include the use of such gifts for extracurricular purposes which would enhance educational progress of the students."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator von Reichbauer yield to a question? Senator, it says it allows the sale, lease, rent or exchange and investment or expenditure of the proceeds. Proceeds of what?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "Of the gift or donation given to the school district."

Senator Rasmussen: "Well, that is not just exactly clear."

Senator von Reichbauer: "It is pretty clear."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, it may be clear to Senator von Reichbauer but he has not clarified this. This is school property, Senator. Once you have accepted the gift it then becomes the properties of the school and the school district, and this is one of the things that we do not permit school districts to do at the present time. Are you saying that they can do anything that they want with properties that belong to the people? Once it is accepted as a gift it then becomes a property that belongs to all the people. We do not allow that ordinarily. Most of this property, of course, is supported by taxes and this will be after it is accepted as a gift."

Senator von Reichbauer: "This is done de facto now and this is putting de jure what is de facto. My apologies to the lawyers. This is a situation similar to a trust, Senator. They are acting as trustees for a trust given to the school district."

Senator Rasmussen: "Is it clear to you?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "Yes, Senator, it is."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Would Senator von Reichbauer yield to a question? Senator, this provides that the school districts may enter into contracts and adopt regulations deemed necessary to provide for the receipt and expenditure of the foregoing. What type of contracts would you anticipate that it would be necessary for districts to enter into?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "I cannot think of anything specifically. As an example, if someone donated the apartment house or a building and the school was going to act as trustee for that, the school would have to have a manager for the building, for example, an apartment building."

Senator Van Hollebeke: "Where does the contract part come in?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "That is the contract between the manager and the school district on behalf of the trust for which the school district is acting as trustee."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3032, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Guess, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—45.

Absent or not voting: Senator Dore—1.

Excused: Senators Bailey, Durkan—2.

SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 3032, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3122, by Senator Twigg:

Making class A, B, C, D, or H liquor licenses at Expo '74 valid for one hundred ninety days without renewal.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 21, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3122, making class A, B, C, D, or H liquor licenses at Expo '74 valid for one hundred ninety days without renewal (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendment:

On page 3, line 9, section 1, after "world exposition" and before "held" insert "approved by the Bureau of International Expositions".

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Day, Henry, Knoblauch, Scott, Wanmaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Twigg, the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Newschwander moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 4, section 1, line 33 after "transfer", add a new section to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 7, chapter 62, Laws of 1933 ex. sess. as last amended by section 3, chapter 209, Laws of 1973 ex. sess. and RCW 66.16.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided by law, an employee in a state liquor store or agency may sell liquor to any person of legal age to purchase alcoholic beverages [as provided in chapter 100, Laws of 1973] and may also sell to holders of permits such liquor as may be purchased under such permits.

Where there may be a question of a person's right to purchase liquor by reason of his age, such person shall be required to present any one of the following officially issued cards of identification which shows his correct age and bears his signature and photograph:

(1) Liquor control authority card of identification of any state.

(2) Driver's license of any state or 'identocard' issued by the Washington state department of motor vehicles pursuant to RCW 46.20.117.

(3) United States active duty military identification.

(4) Passport.

The board may adopt such regulations as it deems proper covering the acceptance of such cards of identification.

No liquor sold under this section shall be delivered until the purchaser has paid for the liquor in cash: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That a board approved credit card may be accepted in lieu of cash providing that the bank or institution issuing the credit card guarantees full payment of the liquor purchased without discount or other cost or charge to the state."

Renumber the remaining sections consecutively.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Metcalf: "Mr. President, I raise the question of scope and object of this amendment. It appears to me that the bill is a bill relative to Expo '74 in Spokane, whereas this amendment is an amendment to allow the credit card purchase of liquor and I think it does not properly fit under this bill and I raise the question of scope and object."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Metcalf yield? Under what Senate rule are you going or are you invoking it under the Constitution?"

Senator Metcalf: "It was my understanding that we are operating informally under the rules of the past. I am not sure of the constitutional question but I would ask the President to consider that in his ruling as to whether or not scope and object is of constitutional nature."

REMARKS BY SENATOR ATWOOD

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President, speaking to the point raised by Senator Metcalf, I do not think the Chair should be required to rule on issues of constitutionality and should only be required to rule on issues of Senate Rules, and since we have no Senate Rules that have the scope and object requirement, I do not think the point of Senator Metcalf is well taken."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "If there are no objections, the President should like very much to have the full opportunity to study the point as presented by Senator Metcalf and for that reason requests of the Senate that it proceed with the calendar and the President will make the ruling at a later time."

There being no objection, Senate Bill No. 3122, as amended by the committee amendment, the amendment as proposed by Senator Newschwander, and the point of order raised by Senator Metcalf were ordered held for a Ruling by the President on the scope and object of the amendment by Senator Newschwander.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), consideration of Senate Bill No. 3284 will commence following Senate Bill No. 2939 on the second reading calendar for today.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3285, by Committee on Natural Resources (endorsed by Senators Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Metcalf, Talley, Sandison, Lewis (Harry) and Rasmussen):

Making changes in the laws relating to the disposition of money from the sale of certain food fish and shellfish.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Peterson (Lowell), Senate Bill No. 3285 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 3285, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 43; nays, 1; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 1.

The money can go to the soldier's grandparents as well as the soldier himself. It can be disbursed in any number of ways that might or might not directly profit the individual involved."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator Walgren, at the last session of the legislature the legislature passed a bill completing the four laning of the Bremerton highway to Bremerton in that death stretch where they have so many accidents."

Senator Walgren: "That is the Tacoma highway."

Senator Rasmussen: "It is a good highway. It needs some repairing. The Governor vetoed that portion which was to enable the extra traffic caused by the Trident submarine base. That is not included in this bill? Do you have another bill pending that that will take care of?"

Senator Walgren: "No, I do not, Senator Rasmussen. The Governor made his views rather clear with regard to that particular appropriation and we had some belief, although that has not been yet substantiated, that there were funds available from other projects that would go into that particular project to which you are referring but I have not seen anything of that nature yet."

Senator Rasmussen: "That is correct. He vetoed that but the assistant governor, Don Moos, also appeared in Tacoma and said that it would be nice to know what the federal agencies were contemplating so the state could make the proper preparation, and he indicated that the Governor made a mistake when he vetoed that section. Is it possible to override the veto or would you prepare another bill to take care of that?"

Senator Walgren: "You can be assured that that particular project, as well as the other projects that were vetoed, there were a number of them as you recall, some eight or nine that we considered in committee as to whether or not we would try to override the veto. We determined that we would not do so but rather wait until — not this session but the following session of the legislature."

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2058, by Senators Bottiger, Henry and Woodall (by Legislative Council request):

Permitting service of traffic citations for offenses not witnessed by citing officer.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Woodall, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2058 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Woody yield to a question? You made the statement that in an arrest under these circumstances there is no right to make a search."

Senator Woody: "No, I did not."

Senator Dore: "I thought you did. You said the arrest would be made by citation."

Senator Woody: "No, I did not."

Senator Dore: "I made the previous statement that if the officer desired to they could get the person out of their car, make a personal search of his body and also his car. Now you made the statement on the floor that this was not true."

Senator Woody: "Are you asking me to yield to a question?"

Senator Dore: "I am trying to get to where I frame the question so you know what I am talking about. I made the statement that under an arrest under this statute the officer could give a citation and of course there would be nothing more. Or they could give a citation and get the person out of his car, search him personally and search his car. Now you made the statement this was not correct. Since then I have reexamined the bill, I read the bill drafter's digest which is made by our attorney. It says, 'authorize a law enforcement officer to arrest the driver involved in an accident the officer has witnessed if the officer has probable cause to believe that said driver violated traffic law or regulation in connection with the accident.' The general law is if you have a lawful arrest you can make a search. Now my question to you is this, where in the bill is there a limitation that there shall be no search? And if there is not such a limitation, on what authority, relying on your statement, that there cannot be a search?"

Senator Woody: "The only authority for a search incident to anything, even expanded by the most recent U.S. Supreme Court case which broadens it quite a bit, is incident to an arrest. If you arrest the person you can make a reasonable search and they have expanded what is reasonable. You issue a citation but do not arrest, no reasonable search. There has been absolutely no case, no statutory authority, no case law supporting a search incident to an issuance of a citation."

Senator Dore: "Let me ask you a specific question? Are you relying on the bill or just general knowledge of the Constitution? Is there some limitation in the bill?"

Senator Woody: "The bill does not give the right to search incident to a citation."

Further debate ensued.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2634, by Committee on Local Government (originally sponsored by Senators Clarke, Guess and Fleming) (by Executive Request):

Enacting the State Building Code Act.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Clarke, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2634 was substituted for Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2634, and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Newschwander, the following amendment by Senators Newschwander and Lewis (Harry) was adopted:

On page 4, section 8, line 18, after "43.22," and before "70.79" insert "70.77,"

On motion of Senator Fleming, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2634 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Clarke yield? I have a few questions here, Senator Clarke. I know that you worked over this bill substantially in the Local Government Committee and that it is a much better bill than it was originally, no offense meant by that, but you have been working at it very hard. On page 2, new section 4, what this basically does, if any of the small outlying counties who do not have much in the way of current building codes, if their minimum standards are below the uniform building code, uniform mechanical code, uniform fire code, uniform plumbing code, or the uniform national standards specifications, then their particular standards that are under those minimums would no longer be applicable. Is that correct?"

Senator Clarke: "That is my understanding, Senator."

Senator Woody: "Would that be a hardship on some of the smaller outlying 'cow counties' if I may use that term?"

Senator Clarke: "No, Senator, I do not believe so. Actually, I think it would be of assistance to them because quite often they do not have the expertise to make these necessary determinations, and actually the standards were meant to cover just such situations as this. The exceptions really have to do with cities such as Seattle where they wish to impose ordinances that may for reasons of their particular industrial situation require difference in handling. But I do not believe there is any hardship on the smaller areas."

Senator Woody: "On line 32, page 2, it provides authority to the cities, towns and counties to adopt subsequent revision. In other words, if the uniform building code is revised nationally, it would require affirmative action by any city, town or county before any of those subsequent revisions would become applicable in that city, town or county. Is that correct?"

Senator Clarke: "I think the problem there is the constitutional question of delegation of authority. I do not think that it is proper to delegate to some other body which is making these standards and have it automatically adopted. It allows the areas to take a look at what the amendments are and if they have any reason to object to them, then they need not adopt them. But on the other hand, if they do wish to adopt them they can very easily and simply do so by reference."

Senator Woody: "In section 6, subsection (3) on page 3, it permits the cities, towns or counties to include or exclude specified classes or types of buildings, structures, etc., according to use or occupancy. Does this not really permit a vast exception possible to this act?"

Senator Clarke: "Yes, Senator, I believe it does, but this was one of the necessary compromises, in reality, to gain the support of areas such as Seattle because they do have a more sophisticated problem. It is true that the wording of the bill would seem to give them very wide authority as to using their discretion in making exemptions. On the other hand, I certainly think the intent is that they must be able to set forth some logical basis and reason for such exemptions. In short, I would rather agree with you that to an extent that emasculates the bill insofar as Seattle is concerned, and other cities of similar stature. But bills of this nature, quite often we have to proceed in steps on a compromise basis rather than take the whole thing at once. And in my opinion that is the reason for the inclusion of that wording."

Senator Woody: "Next, you except buildings of four or more stories high from the entire chapter. Why is this?"

Senator Clarke: "This again is a question where at some future date we may wish to remove that exception. This has to do, primary intent I suppose, with the high rise type of structure and there there well may be substantial differences in technology. That is the only answer I can give you, that again this is one of those instances where you have to use a judgment factor in order to obtain passage of the bill."

Senator Woody: "My last question would be on page 4, section 9 which provides that local land use and zoning requirements, building setbacks, side and rear-yard requirements, site development, etc., are specifically removed from the local jurisdiction notwithstanding any other provision of this act. My question relates to sanitary provisions such as septic systems and sewer requirements. Do we want those in or out of this act?"

Senator Clarke: "I would prefer to yield to Senator Fleming on that particular point."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: "Senator Woody, that section that you are talking about, the reason it was excepted, the committee felt, and people testifying felt as though it would be more applicable in a land use planning field. In terms of your sewer and septicals I think that we looked at that further up in the bill where at the King County Health Department and so forth we found that in most of the cities their health departments have more rigid standards than does the building code and we felt as though that if we put them in here that would lessen them. That is why we excluded them. One other area, on the F occupancy we felt as though originally it was just Seattle. Senator Whetzel felt as though we should put an amendment in there to include all cities because there are only a few of them that are one, two, three rated. But if in the future they did acquire that rating, then they would be applicable for that. Now that other section was not necessarily Seattle, but you have some of the farmers where they have nonhabitable living such as barns, silos and so forth so they could exclude those."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Fleming yield to a question? Senator Fleming, referring to new section 7, page 4 of the bill, 'There is hereby established a state building code advisory council to be appointed by the governor,' but in looking through that section I cannot see what their duties are. It does not say what the advisory committee is supposed to do. It says they may gather and get paid per diem and so forth."

Senator Fleming: "You never have in any of the bills that you have where they establish a commission actually spelling out every detail of what they are going to do under that act."

Senator Rasmussen: "In that regards, we did it previously. Senator Peterson provided for an advisory committee in regard to the herring bill. The Governor vetoed that out. It would seem that you should someplace in this section provide for what their duties are. Are they to recommend changes in the act or are they just merely to advise the Governor that they are meeting?"

Senator Fleming: "If you will read down on line 8, it says, 'The council may include state officials as ex officio, nonvoting members. The board shall report annually to the governor and the legislature on the operation and administration of this chapter.' And they will make recommendations as to changes and so forth."

Senator Rasmussen: "Are they then to administer this act?"

Senator Fleming: "From my understanding, along with, for instance, there are different levels of administration like the Department of Labor and Industries administers the electrical inspecting, but this overall act, the commission would oversee the act and administer it and make sure and make recommendations and so forth just like the gambling commission or any other commission does."

Senator Rasmussen: "The gambling commission provided what their duties were to be. But then they are to administer the act, they will then set up a staff and there will be another full fledged commission that will be operating year around?"

Senator Fleming: "Other than the commission, the fifteen member commission, I think that there might be one additional of a staff member in the Department of Labor and Industries."

Senator Rasmussen: "Thank you."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Grant: "Will Senator Fleming yield further? Senator Fleming, I do not think you answered the second question Senator Rasmussen asked you and that is, will the fifteen member commission be authorized per diem?"

Senator Fleming: "I would think they would, just like any other state commission. As a matter of fact, I recall that we did discuss that."

Senator Grant: "Then I would ask what price tag is attached to this."

Senator Fleming: "It was such a minimal amount, I think it is about sixteen thousand dollars."

Senator Grant: "Do you have a fiscal note on it?"

Senator Fleming: "Yes, I have."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2634, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 46; nays, 1; excused, 1.

(1) Except as provided in RCW 46.44.047 and 46.44.095 it is unlawful to operate any vehicle upon the public highways with a gross weight including load upon any one axle thereof in excess of eighteen thousand pounds: PROVIDED, That a tolerance of two thousand pounds may be allowed on the rear axle of a two axle garbage truck and an additional two thousand pounds may be purchased under the provisions of RCW 46.44.095 for an amount not to exceed thirty dollars per thousand: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this tolerance shall not be valid or permitted on any part of the federal interstate highway system where the maximum single axle load shall not exceed eighteen thousand pounds.

On page 3, section 2, line 15, strike lines 15 through 19.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Would Senator Walgren yield to a question? Senator Walgren, your amendment is on page 3?"

Senator Walgren: "Yes."

Senator Bottiger: "My understanding is that is a provision applying to these modular homes rather than triple trailers. Do you agree. . .?"

Senator Walgren: "Well, I think probably that was the purpose of the amendment in here originally, but I think that the reading of it would indicate that it would probably apply to the triple trailers also and for a continuous period of time as far as this amendment was concerned, or at least a one year period of time."

The motion by Senator Walgren carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Washington, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On page 1, line 4 of the title after "46.44.091;" insert "amending section 46.44.040, chapter 12, Laws of 1961 as last amended by section 1, chapter 150, Laws of 1973 1st ex. sess. and RCW 46.44.040;"

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2583 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Would Senator Bottiger yield? I have a couple of questions I wish you would clear up before we vote on this. About this six hundred thousand pounds, three hundred tons, will the highways stand that kind of a load?"

Senator Bottiger: "Under the existing law there is not any maximum limit. What we are doing is putting in a maximum limit on special permits. If you will read the proviso, 'PROVIDED FURTHER That in no event shall a permit be issued. . . .'"

Senator Canfield: "I understand that."

Senator Bottiger: "The testimony is that under certain conditions the massive wheeled vehicle moving a load of a tank or something of that nature, the Highway Department does permit them to do this and must, I guess, under certain circumstances, but they are at very low speed. The bill went through without conflicting testimony from anybody that this was a desirable amendment.”

Senator Canfield: “My other question is, in no way does this allow triple trailers?”

Senator Bottiger: “It does not have anything to do with triple trailers.”

Senator Canfield: “Thank you.”

Senator Peterson (Lowell): “That has been taken out, Senator.”

Senator Mardesich: “What is in it now?”

Senator Peterson (Lowell): “The bill as it now reads would say, ‘WHEREAS recent studies indicate that fleets of commercial fishing boats outside territorial jurisdiction of the state of Washington.’”

Senator Mardesich: “On line 16. . . .”

Senator Peterson (Lowell): “Line 16 with the amendment is stricken, Senator, in its entirety and we insert ‘by.’ In other words, it would read, ‘NOW, THEREFORE, Your Memorialists respectfully pray that the administration and Congress cooperate in taking immediate action by whatever steps may be necessary to protect this invaluable Washington state resource.’”

Senator Jolly: "We held a hearing in Yakima, Senator Canfield, and the cattlemen endorsed it. There is some controversy in the dairy farmers, that they are a little bit teed off about the five cent raise but the cattlemen's association over there endorsed it altogether, yes."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Grant: "Senator Jolly, will this apply to goats?"

Senator Jolly: "I do not think so."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 3358 was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, January 30, 1974.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2211, by Senators Francis and Whetzel:

Allowing prosecutor of King county to contract with attorney general to initiate support proceedings.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, line 21, after the period add the following: "PROVIDED, That all attorney fees and costs assessed against support monies shall not exceed an amount equal to ten percent of the amount recovered: PROVIDED FURTHER, That any legal expenses and/or costs expended by the attorney general, and not recovered from support payments, shall be assessed against the county where the support proceedings were initiated."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Would Senator Dore yield to a question? Senator Dore, under the existing statute, of course, there is a contract between say -- Pierce County and the Attorney General. I do not know what the details of the financial arrangement are, but under your bill it would appear that there will be an additional cost to Pierce County for something that we are very happy with now. Do you have any idea what that will be?"

Senator Dore: "Senator Bottiger, I have no objection. Maybe I should make an oral amendment and provide that in AA counties, you are getting a free ride apparently, the state of Washington is paying for your collection of support payments in your county which I do not think is right but if you have had that for several years now and do not want to accept my amendment, because my amendment, I agree with you, would apply to all counties so perhaps I would just confine it to AA counties."

The following amendment by Senator Dore to the amendment by Senator Dore was adopted on a rising vote, the President voted "aye":

Amend the Dore amendment to page 1, line 21, as follows: After "PROVIDED, That" and before "all attorney" insert "in all AA counties".

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Francis: "Would Senator Woody yield to a question? Senator Woody, during the many days that this matter has been on the calendar and we have not wanted to face up to a direct battle with Senator Dore on this issue, have you had a chance to check into the financial aspects of this and if so, what have you found out?"

Senator Woody: "Yes, I have. I have spoken with Richard Mattsen who is the Assistant Attorney General assigned to the Department of Social and Health Services to find out what the total impact of this is and including what the amendment that is before us would do. Number one, under their uniform reciprocal enforcement of support act, this is a situation where if, in Washington a mother and children are not being supported and the father or husband is down in California, at least out of state, they go after the fellow through the uniform reciprocal enforcement act. Neither the Attorney General nor the prosecuting attorney is entitled to take one dime out of whatever they collect unless the recipient, number one, is on welfare. That is a totally different matter from this. They have subrogation rights. If they are paying three hundred and forty-five dollars to a mother and the children who are on welfare, they have subrogation rights. That is, if you will recall last session that was House Bill No. 505 that we were trying to amend in certain regards. They have subrogation rights and naturally they are entitled, the mother if she is getting three hundred and forty-five for herself and the children, is not entitled to receive that plus two or three hundred from the reciprocal enforcement action out of state.

"If the person who is bringing this reciprocal enforcement action is not on welfare they can voluntarily contract with SECU to support enforcement which is entirely different from this bill, to collect their support for her. They charge six dollars and twenty-five cents a month for that. Now if something happened to Senator Dore's client that should not have happened, they ripped off fifty dollars out of one hundred and fifty, it should not have happened and I had a long conversation with Richard Mattsen about the fact that apparently this did happen and he is going to discuss this in detail with his staff throughout the state to make sure that it never happens again, if it did. In a uniform reciprocal situation, if one hundred and fifty dollars comes in from out of state the entire amount belongs to the mother and the children unless they are on welfare. If they are on welfare there is a subrogation. If they have asked SECU to collect their support for them the total amount they can deduct is six dollars and twenty-five cents a month.

"The problem with Senator Dore's amendment is that it allows them up to ten percent. They are not entitled to one percent. They are not entitled to any portion of the amount recovered. If we adopt Senator Dore's amendment then we are saying that the state, whether it be the prosecutor or the Attorney General, can deduct ten percent for carrying charges. As it stands right now, the law is zero percent."

Senator Francis: "Thank you, Senator Woody."
Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Durkan: "Would Senator Woody yield? Senator, you seem to be the resource man on this. Is there a fiscal impact as far as state government is concerned when we are broadening the duties of the Attorney General in this manner?"

Senator Woody: "There could be, yes, in this regard, if you expand it to the point of allowing the Attorney General, I should not say in a contract because although the language here says an agreement, which we could interpret as a contract, it really is not a contract. What happens is the Attorney General takes over where the prosecutor leaves off. The prosecutor says, 'I am not going to handle these things any more.' The Attorney General takes over. When I talked with Richard Mattsen I asked him this pointed question, 'Look, if you boys do that work in King County are you going to be back here asking for some more people?' He said that he was going to ship one man on existing staff up there if this occurred and maybe in a year or next biennium ask for two positions for clerks. That was his answer to me."

MOTION

Senator Durkan moved that Senate Bill No. 2211 and the pending amendment by Senator Dore, as amended, be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Debate ensued.

There being no objection, the motion by Senator Durkan was withdrawn.

MOTIONS

Senator Durkan moved that Senate Bill No. 2211 and the pending amendment by Senator Dore, as amended, be made a special order of business at 9:10 p.m. tonight.

On motion of Senator Dore, the motion by Senator Durkan was amended to place Senate Bill No. 2211 as the first bill on the second reading calendar for Wednesday, January 30, 1974.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3002, by Senators Walgren, Talley, Day, Metcalf and Jones:
Permitting the state to make purchases from sheltered workshops.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 21, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3002, permitting the state to make purchases from sheltered workshops (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, section 2, line 15, after "homes" insert "and day training centers".

On page 1, section 2, line 16, after ".800" strike "(2)".

On page 2, section 3, line 1, after "to" strike "waive the results of the competitive bidding and".

Signed by: Senators Day, Chairman; Van Hollebeke, Vice Chairman; Francis, Jones, Murray, Ridder, Twigg, von Reichbauer.

On motion of Senator Day, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3002 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will Senator Day yield? Senator, I am not as knowledgeable as you are on these sheltered workshops, but I have visited some of them and have seen the work they do and I heartily approve of what is being done by these people and the way they are doing it. I think some of them are doing remarkably good work. My only question is directed in this way, I would hope that we are not encouraging any mass production in these sheltered workshops."

Senator Day: "No, Senator Canfield, these people are handicapped to the point where it is a very slow laborious process for them to do very little and we are not cutting into any great production. . . ."

Senator Canfield: "That is what I am speaking to, that if somebody gets the idea to bring in some automated machinery with a few non-handicapped people just kind of being a superintendent, why then we would defeat the purpose of the bill, wouldn't we?"

Senator Day: "Yes. However, I just do not see how that could happen because this very clearly delineates that it is work done in sheltered workshops and the definition of a sheltered workshop, I believe, protects that."

Senator Canfield: "I will take your assurance on that, Senator."

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3016, by Senator Atwood:

Implementing the the laws relating to driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senate Bill No. 3016 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage. Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? This is extending the period of deferment or the deferral of sentence and my question is, at the present time they are deferring the sentence and essentially what is the effect of a deferral? What happens when the sentence is deferred?"

Senator Atwood: "When the sentence is deferred, Senator, after the deferral period of one year, it is for one year now, that is all they can do, at the end of one year the person comes in and pleads not guilty and that is the end of it. At that time he is no longer under control of the probation officer. Period. He is free. What this bill does is put him under the control of the probation officer up to three years, depending on the case, how bad the person's problem is."

Senator Metcalf: "All right, then this is in the case of a DWI?"

Senator Atwood: "That is all. This only applies to DWI."

Senator Metcalf: "Then in the case of DWI the implied consent law is a mandatory revocation of license. Is that correct?"

Senator Atwood: "This has nothing to do with that. That implied consent bill is only for not taking the Breathalyzer. It has nothing to do with this bill at all. This is strictly a probationary period. It has nothing to do with Initiative 242."

Senator Metcalf: "Okay then, in this case when a person does take the Breathalyzer test and is shown to have been under the influence and then the judge can defer the sentence and after the deferral is over he pleads not guilty to a charge that he was obviously guilty of and then he is released?"

Senator Atwood: "That is the way all deferred sentences are, Senator. That is the whole purpose of a deferral."

Senator Metcalf: "I see."

Senator Atwood: "That is the purpose of a deferral. But this deferred sentence is very seldom given to a second or a third offender. It would be very rare that this would be used, although there might be some cases I could think of, second offender, but what this aimed at is the real drinking driver and there are some of them that they have had two, three, four times. You go down there and look at some of the court records on this. But this keeps them under the control of probation officer up to three years, depending on the judge's decision."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Atwood yield to a question? Senator, is this limited only to DWI's or being drunk in public or some of the other drink associated offenses? Would they also be governed?"

Senator Atwood: "No, Senator Greive. The bill was carefully drafted and the bill drafter assured me that it only applied to DWI. I might say I thought I had to have a constitutional amendment and then I got an AG's opinion that you did not have to and this is the result of that. This only applies to driving while under the influence; if you will look at the bill carefully you will see that it is."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Senator Atwood, would you please yield to a question? I want to pursue what Senator Metcalf was saying, it is very brief. Does this make it tougher or easier on these offenders?"

Senator Atwood: "I do not know whether it makes it tougher, but it puts them under the gun for up to three years. It gives the probation officer a handle on the acute alcoholic and there are quite a few of them around, Senator. I think Senator Greive and I see quite a few of them. This last three months I have had some real bad ones. A couple of men are doing sixty days up there that are real bad ones, and this gives them a handle because they need help and they need supervision for longer than a year's period."

Senator Canfield: "I just want to be sure, Senator, that we are not doing something to encourage more and more of these DWI's to be running loose on the highways."

Senator Atwood: "No. I might say this is the only place the district court has jurisdiction to put a man on probation or suspended sentence for more than a one year period so it is much tougher than even the misdemeanor."

Senator Canfield: "I know we are making driving while intoxicated maybe not too much of a crime any more and drunkenness is not a crime any more. I do not want to give them a medal."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think, Senator Canfield, if we could explain it this way; when you are found guilty, either by a plea or a jury trial, of driving under the influence of alcohol, the judge may sentence you to a year in jail and then suspend or defer that for a period of time. If during that period of time you commit an offense that is in violation of your deferral or suspended rules, then you go to jail for the year and that is a heck of a hammer to have hanging over you so you are a good boy. Presently by law they can only do it for one year. This is extending it for three years. Any time during that three years you violate the rules, then to jail you go. And that is what we are asking to do — is to give more muscle to the parole officer for a longer period of time to keep this person in line."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, what do the parole officers do to help keep these people on the wagon and off the highways?"

Senator Atwood: "Most of these people, Senator Odegaard, are in the alcoholism referral program. Most of them, the bad offenders, have been through Sundown Ranch or through Shadles and what not, but they try to keep them in the program continuously for more than a year. After a year is up a lot of them just drop out. And then two or three months later they are back in the clutches. As Senator Bottiger points out, this really gives the probation officer a real hammer, especially if the judge says, 'You are on suspended sentence for three years and if you foul up during that three years, then you are going to go to jail and you are still under the gun.'"

Senator Odegaard: "Do they use the Antabuse program at all?"

Senator Atwood: "Some of the judges do. A lot of the judges insist, we have one judge that does use that as part of the treatment. Some people cannot take Antabuse, but I have heard him ask the person to look into it and require the probation officer report to the court on it."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Metcalf: "Just a very brief question to either Senator Atwood or Senator Bottiger. Then it is the intent of this legislation to be tougher on the person if he violates the deferment and if he gets nailed once and then is a deferred sentence and then gets in again within the time limit, the intent of this is to be tougher and really sit on him and clamp down on him."

Senator Atwood: "This gives them a real hammer for more than a year. If you have a deferred sentence for two years that is just doubling the time now that the judge can defer it. If he fouls up and gets caught driving while drinking again in that two years he is really going to get a stiff jolt. It is a whale of an extension of the power in this particular area."

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 3016, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 45; nays, 1; excused, 2.

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2408, authorizing remedies and penalties for violation of municipal competitive bidding requirements (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, line 5, section 1, after "chapter" and before "RCW" strike "39.50" and insert "39.30".

On page 1, add a new section following section 1 as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 35.23.352, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 1, chapter 114, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.23.352 are each amended to read as follows:

Any city or town of the second, third or fourth class may construct any public work or improvement by contract or day labor without calling for bids therefor whenever the estimated cost of such work or improvement, including cost of materials, supplies and equipment will not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars. Whenever the cost of such public work or improvement, including materials, supplies and equipment, will exceed five thousand dollars, the same shall be done by contract. All such contracts shall be let at public bidding upon posting notice calling for sealed bids upon the work. Such notice thereof shall be posted in a public place in the city or town and by publication in the official newspaper once each week for two consecutive weeks before the date fixed for opening the bids. The notice shall generally state the nature of the work to be done that plans and specifications therefor shall then be on file in the city hall for public inspections, and require that bids be sealed and filed with the council or commission within the time specified therein. Each bid shall be accompanied by a bid proposal deposit in the form of a cashier's check, postal money order, or surety bond to the council or commission for a sum of not less than five percent of the amount of the bid, and no bid shall be considered unless accompanied by such bid proposal deposit. If there is no official newspaper the notice shall be published in a newspaper published or of general circulation in the city or town. The city council or commission of the city or town shall let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder or shall have power by resolution to reject any or all bids and to make further calls for bids in the same manner as the original call, or if in its judgment the improvement or work, including the purchase of supplies, material and equipment, can be done by the city at less cost than the lowest bid submitted it may do so without making a further call for bids or awarding any contract therefor and in such case all such bid proposal deposits shall be returned to the bidder; but if the contract is let then all bid proposal deposits shall be returned to the bidders except that of the successful bidder which shall be retained until a contract is entered into and a bond to perform the work furnished, with surety satisfactory to the council or commission, in the full amount of the contract price. If the bidder fails to enter into the contract in accordance with his bid and furnish such bond within ten days from the date at which he is notified that he is the successful bidder, the check or postal money order and the amount thereof shall be forfeited to the council or commission or the council or commission shall recover the amount of the surety bond. If no bid is received on the first call the city council or commission may readvertise and make a second call, or may enter into a contract without any further call or may purchase the supplies, material or equipment and perform such work or improvement by day labor.

Any purchase of supplies, material, equipment or services other than professional services, except for public work or improvement, where the cost thereof exceeds two thousand dollars shall be made upon call for bids in the same method and under the same conditions as required herein on a call for bids for public work or improvement.

Bids shall be called annually and at a time and in the manner prescribed by ordinance for the publication in a newspaper published or of general circulation in the city or town of all notices or newspaper publications required by law. The contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder."

In line 2 of the title, after "remedies;" and before "adding" insert "amending section 35.23.352, chapter 7, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 1, chapter 114, Laws of 1965 and RCW 35.23.352;"

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2408 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Rasmussen yield? On that committee amendment exempting the second, third, and fourth class cities from the necessity of calling for bids on professional services, I could not find any definition in that bill of professional services and I wanted to get in the record and I wonder if you would tell us exactly what that term 'professional services' includes or excludes."

Senator Rasmussen: "The professional services, as it was explained in the committee, would exclude from competitive bidding those practices, architects, engineers and attorneys. And it was a particular concern when this bill was over in the House, that section bothered the second, third and fourth class cities, and the other cities have that right now."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Fleming, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2408 was ordered placed on the third reading calendar for Wednesday, January 30, 1974.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2572, by Senators Whetzel, Ridder and Talley:

Clarifying the authority of sewer districts.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Fleming, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2572 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Fleming yield? Senator Fleming, on page 3, lines 26, 27 and 28, it says, 'such rates and charges as may be combined for the furnishing of more than one type of sewer service but shall not be limited to storm or water, sewer and sanitary.' Could you describe to me what type of sewer services they are after you have gotten through with surface water and sanitary, what other types of sewage is there?"

Senator Fleming: "I think that Senator Talley might be able to speak more to that or Senator Whetzel. They are the sponsors of this measure and they are more experts in that area."

Senator Talley: "I think it would be water from canneries and materials such as that, Senator Guess."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Fine. Now, Senator, they are going to establish a rate on this deal. Now what I am wondering, in an area where you have the city streets, how are they going to determine what portion of the charge goes against that rainfall and which goes against the sewage that comes into the line?"

Senator Talley: "I think what you are trying to do with this bill is to clarify it so they can make a charge for it. They have never been sure that you could ever charge for taking care of the surface water before. I think it is more of a clarifying bill than anything else, Senator Guess."

Senator Guess: "What I am afraid of here, Senator Talley, is that the householder who is paying his sanitary charge is going to be picking up a larger charge than he should be taking, from the standpoint that the streets are everybody's business but not just the householders'."

Senator Talley: "You get into a matter of surface water and you get somebody that lives at the top of the hill and he does not have much surface water, it runs down on the person at the bottom. So they can pro rate this charge around so everybody will be charged equally. I think that is the intent. We went over this bill many times and I do not think there are any bugs in it that we know of."

Senator Guess: "I just hope that the people do not get hurt."

Senator Talley: "It is not that intent. It should clarify it so they will not get hurt, so they will know exactly what they are paying for."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Talley yield to a further question? Senator Talley, I gather from the question that Senator Guess was asking that you contemplate storm water being handled in sanitary sewers."

Senator Talley: "In some areas, Senator Rasmussen, they are going to have to be."

Senator Rasmussen: "I think that that is prohibited by the state, that there has to be storm drainage rather than combine it with the sanitary sewers because it just knocks the effectiveness of the sewage treatment plant and is destroyed by the storm water. So they are requiring that there be a separation between sanitary sewers and storm drains, and I think that if this bill allows them to run storm drain water into the sanitary sewers that we will be doing a disservice to the community."

Senator Talley: "Senator Rasmussen, I think you are right but until such time as these small towns and areas like that can afford to put in a system of storm drains we have to do the best we can with it."

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Talley, I think that you will find that they will not be able to get their matching funds either from the state or the federal government for sewage disposal purposes."

Senator Talley: "Well, you are not in favor of matching money anyway, so why worry about it."

Senator Rasmussen: "I beg your pardon, Senator, I always have supported matching money for worthwhile purposes, and I will match you on that."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FLEMING

Senator Fleming: "Mr. President, in regards to Senator Guess's question, in section 3 it indicates that that underlining in your caucus digest is just to try to make it possible to combine the rate revenues for more than one sewer service and not more than one type of water. They do offer more than one service. This is the clarifying language in that area."

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 was advanced to second reading and read the second time in full.

Senator Greive moved adoption of the following amendment:

Beginning on line 9, add the following:

Amend the Joint Rules by adding the following new rules:

NEW RULE. RULE 36. Every legislator who is a lawyer, insurance broker, real estate appraiser, accountant, or other professional, and who has a client who is a natural person or which is a corporation, partnership, joint venture, union association, or other entity regulated by the state or doing business with the state or any political subdivision thereof, shall file with the public disclosure commission a schedule of fees charged such client, the total amount of such fees if more than five hundred dollars, and state the nature of the work performed pursuant to such schedule during the twenty-four months immediately preceding the first day of a legislative session.

NEW RULE. RULE 37. Every legislator shall disclose the provisions of any contract between the state, or any of its political subdivisions, and any partnership, trust, or joint venture, wherever organized, in which he has a financial interest or any corporation, wherever organized, in which he holds ten percent of the outstanding shares of stock.

NEW RULE. RULE 38. Every legislator shall disclose the provisions of any contract between the state, its agencies or any of its political subdivisions, and any employer, wherever located, from which he received an annual salary of eight thousand dollars or more.

NEW RULE. RULE 39. No legislator shall accept lodging or travel provided by a lobbyist, or allow a lobbyist to pay bills for travel and lodging which, over a twenty-four month period, total more than one hundred dollars in value."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Durkan, Senator Durkan was added as an additional sponsor to the amendment proposed by Senator Greive.

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Mardesich: "This is simply a technical question. It would seem to me that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 has a form to which the amendment does not technically lend itself. It refers to no line. I am simply wondering how it should be handled. Where does it go?"

POINT OF ORDER

Senator Atwood: "Mr. President, I would like to raise a further point of order on this. I appreciate what Senator Greive is trying to do, but the Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 is a repeal of a joint rule. The amendment is an amendment only to Senate rules. We do not have any Senate rules if you will recall, Senator. Are you trying to put this in the joint rules? The way the amendment reads is that Rule 74, or the resolution says by the Senate that the rules of the Senate be amended as follows. It does not pertain to the joint rules at all, and I would ask for clarification on that."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150, the pending amendment by Senator Greive and the points of order as raised by Senators Mardesich and Atwood were made a special order of business for 11:45 a.m. today.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2480, by Senators Henry, Peterson (Lowell) and Talley: Relating to reforestation lands, disposition of proceeds.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Henry, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2480 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 2480, and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Henry, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2480 was ordered to hold its place at the end of the second reading calendar for today.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Senate Joint Resolution No. 149, Senate Bill No. 3375 and Senate Bill No. 3358 were ordered placed on today's second reading calendar following Senate Bill No. 2480.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2540, by Senators Woody, Bottiger and Atwood:
Providing for an increase in the salaries of part time district court judges.
The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Atwood, Senate Bill No. 2540 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.
Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Would Senator Woody yield to a question? Senator, I come from Seattle and we only have full-time justices in King County, insofar as I know. We may have one on Vashon that is part time. When I go, which is occasionally, to these other courts, I find there is a very, very confusing situation and I wonder if you could explain how it is that they create part-time justices. Who does it? How this whole thing comes about, because I understand that in Snohomish County you have several of them."

Senator Woody: "In Snohomish County we have one in Monroe, one in Arlington. That is it. There is just not enough business in those two areas to warrant a full-time district court, so the control is by the county commissioners. If they want to determine that it is a full-time district, then of course they have to pay the freight for a full-time district. I think in King County, in addition to Vashon, I have heard that there is one in Enumclaw but I will not guarantee it. The determination is made by the county commissioners. If they feel that there is enough business to warrant paying for and managing a full-time district court, then they have the power to do this."

Senator Greive: "Senator, does that mean then that in one of these other counties, I do not know, we may have two in King County, I have never had a case in Enumclaw, I have had a case involving Enumclaw but not one in Enumclaw, but does that mean that just arbitrarily the commissioners in any given county could decide they do not need full-time justices of the peace, or justice courts, that they can just have some part-time justice courts or is there some rule of some sort?"

Senator Woody: "I cannot answer that question, Senator Greive. That was not in the subject matter of this bill and I did not research that so I cannot answer. . . ."

Senator Greive: "I would imagine that that would be important as far as my vote because I would like to know how this is set up so I can determine whether I think that their salary ought to be raised."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Woody further yield? Are we mandating a minimum in this particular bill, whether the county commissioners want to pay it or not?"

Senator Woody: "There is no question about the fact that the lower limits are mandated. It shall be not less than a certain amount, but if you will look at the mandated less amount it says not less than one thousand dollars per year. It does not take very much time on the part-time district court judge's time to warrant a minimum of one thousand dollars per year."

Senator Woodall: "May I ask you one further question? Why should we down here tell the county commissioners what they ought to pay up there? This is like passing county ordinances, isn't it?"

Senator Woody: "To answer your question, this is a policy decision that this legislature has been faced with for a long time, that is, how much are we going to control, either the county commissioners' determination of salaries, which we have given up some of that in years past, and how much of it should we retain? This bill does not address itself to that problem. The only way you could address yourself to that problem is an entirely new bill saying that the legislature shall have no control whatever and the county commissioners shall have total control over the setting of judicial salaries, all judicial salaries. And that is a policy determination that is not the subject matter of this bill."

Senator Woodall: "Senator Woody, we are not talking about all judicial salaries. We are talking about part-time people, and you are asking us to vote today that someone who works part time in Sequim, Washington, must receive a mandatory minimum, whether the county commissioners of that area think so or not. Now that is what we are talking about. Now, how can I vote that a part-time JP working in a very, very small area, and I do not know how many cases he has, you do not know how many cases he has, but we are going to say he is worth so much. Why?"

Senator Woody: "To answer your question, Senator Woodall, when we had this hearing before the Judiciary Committee the court administrator and several of the part-time district court judges and a couple of county commissioners from small counties came to us and they had the statistics, not one part-time district court judge was receiving a salary as little as the amount that we have set forth here. In every county in which there was a part-time district court judge the county commissioners had already set their salary higher than the minimums we have set here. So they have already crossed that bridge and made that decision."

Senator Woodall: "Then why the bill?"

Senator Woody: "These people are being overworked."

Senator Woodall: "Part-time people are being overworked?"

Senator Woody: "It is cheaper than full time."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I think we are dealing here with a group of people whom they call part time, but they are working nearly full time and under the law that we set up ourselves we can only pay them a certain maximum. The minimum was there before. We raised it up a little, but each county commission can determine the justice court district anyway, so if there is not enough business there and they do not want to pay it, all they have to do is reorganize the districts. These people are the only ones in the whole state whom we have not raised up in some sort of a salary increase for a long time. I happen to have two districts in my home county and they are both working almost full time. They are expected in court every day and they hold night court, they can only make about sixty-five or seventy-five hundred dollars each and it is almost a full-time job. I take issue with Senator Woody, however, in one thing and that is, this money comes out of fines and forfeitures and does have an impact on the state's funds because you pay these court costs before you take what is left out for counties, cities, school districts and the state. We should not lift the lid completely. We should keep it under control, I feel. I think this is a good bill. It probably does not grant enough, if anything."

SECOND AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 2:40 p.m.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Scott, Senators Peterson (Ted), Newschwander and Twigg were excused.

MOTION

Senator Durkan moved that his name be removed from the amendment by Senator Greive to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150.

REMARKS BY SENATOR DURKAN

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President, when the resolution was put up by Senator Greive I examined it casually and I thought that the resolution was the one and the proposals which were proposed by the Committee on Open Government and based upon that, I wanted to join with Senator Greive and support the resolution and the amendment. However, since that time I have had an opportunity to speak with the people who represent the Committee on Open Government and they inform me that they are unalterably opposed to it. They tell me that the resolution does nothing, that it is mere puffery and it is a glossary of the present 276 Act. I have a letter from the representatives of the Committee on Open Government and copies will be made available to the members of the Senate and in effect I would like to read, if I may, they urge the Senate to consider that bill which has come out of Senator Grant's committee, Senate Bill No. 3243. They say that that bill is one which will do everything that they think is necessary for us to do in this session of the legislature and I would like to read what they say. 'We urge you to consider this bill, these amendments, and to vote affirmatively on them. Changes to Initiative 276 should be limited to these amendments, these amendments, as the integrity of the initiative must be preserved. We trust that you will assist in preserving the citizen's right to know. This right is absolutely essential in maintaining the vitality of the democratic process.' Now in discussing with the representatives of the Committee on Open Government and their lawyer, they have pointed out, and we did not have an opportunity to go into a great deal of it, but they point out that actually under the Greive proposal, new rule 74, that there would be no requirement for anyone reporting to name the person from whom he is receiving the consideration. Under new rule 75 they also point out that there is no definition in Initiative 276 as to what provisions mean. That is on line 27, the word 'provisions.' Based on this and based on the fact that the people who belong to the Committee on Open Government have done such hard work and an outstanding job on Initiative 276, I am withdrawing my name in support of this measure Senator Greive has offered."

The motion by Senator Durkan carried. The name of Senator Durkan was stricken from the amendment by Senator Greive to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150.

MOTION

Senator Grant moved that the amendment proposed by Senator Greive to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 be referred to the Committee on Constitution and Elections.

Debate ensued.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "In the event Senator Grant's motion should prevail to send the amendment back to the committee, would this still leave the main resolution before us for disposition or would it carry the entire thing with it?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President understands Senator Grant's motion was strictly to refer the amendment, the proposed amendment to the Senate Committee on Constitution and Elections."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Clarke: "Then if that carries the matter would still be before us, the main resolution? That is what I wanted to be sure of."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Grant, in checking with Mrs. Greeley, the President finds that that was the content of your motion, namely to refer the amendment to your committee. Was that your intent?"

REPLY BY SENATOR GRANT

Senator Grant: "My motion, Mr. President, was to refer the amendment by Senator Greive to the committee."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "That is what the President understood. The President believes this is a matter to be decided by the members of the Senate, namely, if they wish to refer the amendment to the Senate Committee on Constitution and Elections, the President believes that that is the prerogative of the members. However, inasmuch as this is an unprecedented circumstance in the President's experience, the President would believe that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 would still be before the members for disposition."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Thank you, Mr. President, that is what I wanted to know."

Further debate ensued.

Senator Greive demanded a roll call and the demand was sustained by Senators Connor, Stortini, Washington, Van Hollebeke and Metcalf. There were 28 members on the floor at the time of the demand for the roll call.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Will the President please indicate the vote? Does the amendment take the bill or leave the bill before the body?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The President believes that under the circumstances that the motion applies strictly to the amendment, Senator Canfield. The resolution would be before the Senate."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll and the motion by Senator Grant carried by the following vote: Yeas, 41; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 1.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Day, Donohue, Durkan, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Guess, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. Absent or not voting: Senator Henry—1.

Excused: Senator Twigg—1.

The amendment proposed by Senator Greive to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 was referred to the Committee on Constitution and Elections.

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 150 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was adopted.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2980, by Senators Guess and Rasmussen:

Abolishing all boards, commissions, councils, etc., created by executive order and prohibiting the further creation of the same.

REPORT ON STANDING COMMITTEE

January 21, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 2980, abolishing all boards, commissions, councils, etc. created by executive order and prohibiting the further creation of the same (reported by Committee on State Government):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 1, line 9, section 1, after "kind" and before the period insert ", except as provided in section 2 of this 1974 act".

On page 1, line 9, section 1, beginning with "On the" strike all of the material down to the period on line 15.

On page 1, add a new section following section 1 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. There is added to chapter 8, Laws of 1965 and to chapter 43.06 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The governor may notify the legislature of his intent to establish by executive order a new state agency, department, board, council, commission, task force, or organization of any kind: PROVIDED, That:

(1) If the legislature is in session, the governor's request shall be submitted in bill form and shall not become effective until enacted into law; or

(2) If the legislature is not in session, the notification shall be in bill form, without sponsorship. The legislature shall cause the proposed legislation to be referred to the appropriate standing committees of the senate and the house of representatives. Such standing committees may hold hearings and receive information on the proposal. The executive order shall not take effect unless such committees may notify the respective rules committees that they have approved the proposed bill by a two-thirds committee vote for introduction in the next session of the legislature. Such committees shall take affirmative or negative action on the proposed bill within ninety days after its referral.

On page 1, line 16, renumber the remaining section.

On page 1, line 16, section 2, after "This" and before "act" strike "1973" and insert "1974".

On page 1, line 21, section 2, after "November," and before "all" strike "1973" and insert "1974,".

On line 1 of the title after "adding" and before "to" strike "a new section" and insert "new sections".

Signed by: Senators Rasmussen, Chairman; Day, Henry, Knoblauch, Wanamaker.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendments to page 1, line 9 were adopted.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the committee amendment to page 1, adding a new section following section 1.

Senator Guess moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Guess and Rasmussen to the committee amendment:

Amend line 5 of the committee amendment adding a new section 2 as follows: Strike "by executive order".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Guess or Senator Rasmussen yield? I notice on the committee amendment that you say that if the legislature is not in session the notification shall be in bill form without sponsorship."

Senator Guess: "That is right."

Senator Atwood: "Our Senate rules provide for sponsors. You cannot override the rules of the body with an act. I wonder how do you think you can do this?"

Senator Guess: "Senator Atwood, as I understand the continuing legislation the committee would become the sponsor of the action."

Senator Atwood: "Only if the committee subscribed all their names thereto by our own rules. But what they are attempting to do here is override the rules of the body by an act passed by the legislature and I do not think you can do that."

Senator Guess: "So that there is only one way, the negative inference here is that if the committee does not choose to take action then it does not sponsor the bill, but if the committee chooses to sponsor the action then it becomes a committee bill."

Senator Atwood: "How can the governor sponsor a bill? That is what my point is, under the separation of powers. That is in effect what you are telling us he can do and the only way you can get a measure before this body is to have some member of the body sponsor it, either by way of resolution, bill or otherwise. This in effect puts the governor as sponsor of bills."

Senator Guess: "He was the sponsor of about eighty-seven last year. I do not know what difference this makes. He had eighty-seven executive requests then, didn't he?"

Senator Atwood: "Yes, but my point is that they were signed by members of either House or Senate. That is my point."

Senator Guess: "Well I imagine he would get this one signed just like he has gotten the other ones signed, Senator."

The motion by Senator Guess carried and the amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment to the committee amendment:

Amend line 12 of the committee amendment after "form" strike ", without sponsorship".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "Would Senator Atwood yield? Senator Atwood, do I get the inference from you that you would be willing to change that and if so, in what form would you make it?"

Senator Atwood: "I do not like that part that no one can sponsor, 'it shall be,' you have mandated how the governor has to act in this and I think it is totally unconstitutional. I think if you want to do what you are trying to do on this bill is to go the regular route, that any request shall be introduced in the regular manner of a bill with a member as a sponsor. The way this reads he could not even get a sponsor."

Senator Guess: "All right. If you would read subsection (1) 'if the legislature is in session the governor's request shall be submitted as an executive request in the regular manner'."

Senator Atwood: "That is okay. I am not arguing about that. I am looking at section 2. Look what you have said."

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the amendment to the committee amendment was adopted.

The motion by Senator Rasmussen carried and the committee amendment, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the remaining committee amendments were adopted.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Day: "Will Senator Rasmussen yield? In the last line of the substantive amendment you have mandated the committees to take action, affirmative or negative, on the proposed bill within ninety days after its referral. Does that mean that if it was not in proper form that they could not take time to maybe give it further consideration?"

Senator Rasmussen: "This merely provides, Senator Day, that the committee will have to take action one way or another. They can make questions in the bill as any committee can."

Senator Day: "What if they want to study it because they are not sure that they should kill the bill and they feel that public input is needed and they want to hold a public hearing and it takes some time to do those things."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would be considered affirmative action, Senator Day. Negative action would be reporting that the bill had no merit."

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2980 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Canfield: "Senator Guess, it is not clear to me that section 2 has been removed by the amendment. Maybe I am in error but I would like to have it clarified. That is my question."

Senator Guess: "It was certainly my intent that all of section 2 was stricken. I thought it was stricken. The Chair rules that the material was stricken."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "The Secretary advises that the material was not stricken."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Senator Guess: "It was not stricken?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "On further observation and investigation, it was stricken."

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "That does not mean that it was, Senator Guess."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Rasmussen yield please? Senator Rasmussen, going through the amendments that were either adopted or not adopted, I am left with one question. Boards, councils, commissions, task force or organizations of any kind that exist right now, would they be abolished?"

Senator Rasmussen: "The answer is no."

Senator Woody: "You are certain about that?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Right. The original bill provided that it would abolish those and it was felt that those that are now working, and there are some twenty-seven that have been created and there are I think nineteen of them left, that they would continue to work. This would only take control of any future ones, and certainly it is quite apparent with the number of boards and commissions that we have, and these are not those that are passed by law, these are created as the one that I just mentioned where they spent two hundred and two thousand dollars and then decided that they had not produced any good results and so they abandoned the project. This is the type of thing that we felt that the legislature should have a look at. The committee was one hundred percent in accord and will allow the governor to proceed with any type of task force he has at the present time and will continue to do so in the future if the committee has approved, or this legislature if they are in session."

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senator Durkan was excused.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2980, and the bill failed to pass the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 22; nays, 23; absent or not voting, 1; excused, 2.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Mardesich served notice that he would, on the next working day, move for reconsideration of the vote by which Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2980 failed to pass the Senate.

MOTION

Senator Mardesich moved that upon final passage of bills or amendments to bills on the calendar from now until 5:00 p.m., Thursday, January 31 that debate be limited to five minutes unless by leave of the body that motion be suspended.

QUESTION BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "Senator Mardesich, to clarify, five minutes per Senator, five minutes per bill?"

REPLY BY SENATOR MARDESICH

Senator Mardesich: "Yes, Mr. President."

REMARKS BY SENATOR BAILEY

Senator Bailey: "Mr. President, I do not usually oppose Senator Mardesich but I think five minutes per bill might preclude a lot of very important bills being discussed properly. I think that it would be better to follow previous practice and limit the three minute speeches, say with no yields."

With the consent of the Senate, debate on final passage of bills or amendments to bills from now until 5:00 p.m. Thursday, January 31 will be limited to three minutes with no yields.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 2211, by Senators Francis and Whetzel;

Allowing prosecutor of King county to contract with attorney general to initiate support proceedings.

The Senate resumed consideration of Senate Bill No. 2211. On Tuesday, January 29, 1974 an amendment to page 1, line 21 by Senator Dore was moved for adoption and an amendment to that amendment was adopted at that time, and held for further consideration as the first order of business for Wednesday, January 30, 1974.

There being no objection, the amendment by Senator Dore, as amended, was withdrawn.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 21, after "petitions" and before the period insert "except the powers of issuing or requesting the issuance of warrants of arrest"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bottiger: "Would Senator Dore yield to a question? Senator Dore, you and I as civil attorneys and officers of the court are authorized to request the court to issue a bench warrant. It looks to me like you are prohibiting the Attorney General from requesting the issuance of bench warrant."

Senator Dore: "Yes, he has no such power now and I . . ."

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Dore, for contempt, for a court order, the Attorney General has all kinds of . . ."

Senator Dore: "Can I answer your question, counsel? The issue of a bench warrant for violation of the orders of the court has been traditional. But the Attorney General has never had the power to go to a court and ask for a bench warrant for someone to be physically arrested because they did not pay support to their wife. Now that right has been given to the prosecuting attorney, who has those statutory duties, but the Attorney General has never had that right and I desire to restrict that right. I do not want the Attorney General going around in King County and requesting warrants to be issued for wayward fathers who do not pay support. And under this language as I read it broadly, I do not know if it has been used in other counties, you would give him that right to do. I do not think that is wise to do that. It is a matter of opinion."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Dore failed and the amendment was not adopted.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 1, section 1, line 21, after "petitions." add the following "All attorney fees and costs assessed against support monies shall not exceed an amount equal to ten percent of the amount recovered. In class AA counties any legal expenses and/or costs expended by the attorney general, and not recovered from support payments, shall be assessed against the county where the support proceedings were initiated."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Will Senator Woody yield to a question? Senator Woody, I missed the portion that you talked about the charging of six dollars twenty-five cents versus ten percent. Would you go through that again?"

Senator Woody: "That really is only collateral to this bill but the way it works, if the welfare paying out on AFDC, that is to a mother who has children, for support and let us assume that the grant, because of the number of the children in the family is three hundred and forty-five dollars per month. If the welfare department tracks down the father, they can go after him for repayment, in essence. Now if the money comes directly to the mother through the mail, she has to repay that because they have subrogation rights. Now in the event that she is not on welfare she can enter into an agreement with the welfare department, SECU Division, saying, 'Look, will you help me collect my support?' They will perform this service, a little bit like a collection agency, for six dollars and twenty-five cents a month. I advise my clients to do that because they can do a whole lot better than I can."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Will Senator Whetzel yield to a question please? I think you said you are familiar with thirty-four agreements in other counties with the Attorney General? Could you tell me what the provisions are as to the expense of the Attorney General assuming the duties of the prosecuting attorney? How much money is it contemplated will be saved King County by reason of this agreement with King County? Or do you have those figures?"

Senator Whetzel: "There are, I understand, no agreements with respect to the costs because there are no costs collected for attorneys' fees out of this. What simply happens, Senator Dore, is that in some counties prosecuting attorneys who are burdened with the primary responsibility of prosecuting criminal cases simply were neglecting to collect money for the state of Washington. I guess they regarded as their primary clients the citizens who were the victims of crimes in their counties and not the state Department of Social and Health Services. They were neglecting to collect the money so by statute we have turned over collection of the out-of-state claims to the Attorney General. That is all we are going to do here with respect to King County. There are some clerks that are doing this in the prosecuting attorney's office in King County. They will probably be doing other things. I do not think it will save King County any money. The clerks who are handling this in the Attorney General's office will add the number of cases, which I understand is about one hundred petitions, they will process those petitions, put them in the mail to California, Oregon and Idaho. There probably will not be any lawyers involved in this at all."

Senator Dore: "My question was not that, Senator. I think at least a year ago there were about six deputies in King County that did nothing but work on support payments and I am talking about people on welfare who are taken care of by the Attorney General. They do that now. Wouldn't they save then the salaries of these six men if they took over the support?"

Senator Whetzel: "No, Senator, because they are still going to be handling the support cases in King County. They cannot handle the ones in court in California, Oregon, Idaho, Montana. They put those in the mail, their secretaries handle most of these. All it is is a legal assistance and the Attorney General's office will be getting the people on welfare in, helping them fill out the petition and mailing it to the Attorney Generals in the other states. No one goes to court as a result of this bill in any court in the state of Washington."

Senator Dore: "Senator Whetzel, on line 18 you provide for inter-county proceedings. This is not just out of state. It can be . . ."

(The three-minute rule was invoked).

The motion by Senator Dore failed and the amendment was not adopted.

On motion of Senator Francis, Senate Bill No. 2211 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3003, by Senator Grant:
Making general revisions to the election laws.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 14, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3003, making general revisions to the election laws (reported by Committee on Constitution and Elections):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 1 of the title, after "crimes;" strike "and" and after "penalties" insert "; and declaring an emergency."

On page 9, line 21, section 12, after "by" strike "RCW 39.34.080" and insert "chapter 39.34 RCW"

On page 11, add a new section following section 15 as follows:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 16. This 1974 act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Signed by: Senators Grant, Chairman; Canfield, Metcalf, von Reichbauer, Washington. The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Grant, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), the following amendments were adopted:

On page 2, section 2, line 31, strike "major"

On page 2, section 2, line 32, strike "without" and insert "at"

Senator Rasmussen moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 9, section 12, line 15 after "auditor" and before "establish" strike "shall" and insert "may"

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Will Senator Grant yield? Senator Grant, before I vote on Senator Rasmussen's amendment I have a question about the smaller counties, not necessarily the large county of Pierce. Even though I think that this is a very good step forward, my question I have is, 'Is the amount that is in this bill sufficient per voter to pay the county back for the cost of changing over to this list?'"

Senator Grant: "Senator Bailey, that is the reason for the fiscal note. This measure has been to Ways and Means. There is a subsidy to the smaller counties and it was felt by all the county auditors in the small counties where the subsidy would go for the original setup costs and then maintenance as well that the subsidy would be sufficient. That includes the county auditor in Grays Harbor County. He has been at almost every committee meeting we have had. But to answer your question directly, all county auditors who have examined the subsidy program that is available through this bill, with the exception of the Pierce County Auditor, have felt it is sufficient."

Senator Bailey: "One more question. After they transfer over to this system, is there sufficient funding to maintain the lists up to date? I am wondering about the amount of equipment necessary in small counties to be able to keep this information up to date."

Senator Grant: "Yes, Senator, we considered that measure. The initial setup costs for the small counties where it is not fiscally to their advantage is sufficient as far as they are concerned and there is also a maintenance subsidy to see to it that the records are kept up to date."

The motion by Senator Rasmussen failed and the amendment was not adopted on a rising vote.

On motion of Senator Grant, the committee amendment to the title was adopted.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Marsh, Senator Greive was excused.

On motion of Senator Grant, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3003 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

NEW SECTION. Article XXVIII, section 2. Salaries for members of the legislature shall be fixed by an independent commission created by law for that purpose. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the secretary of state shall cause notice of the foregoing constitutional amendments to be published at least four times during the four weeks next preceding the election in every legal newspaper in the state."

There being no objection, the amendment by Senator Canfield to page 2, line 1, to the amendment by Senator Grant on the Secretary's desk was withdrawn.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woodall: "Would Senator Grant yield? These amendments have been floating around rather rapidly and I do not know where we are. For my own edification, you now have a bill or a proposal where the only people subject to this particular thing are legislators themselves. Is that what you are saying?"

Senator Grant: "That is correct, Senator Woodall."

Senator Woodall: "So that we take the heat on everyone else but we are subject to some commission that is going to be picked by somebody. Is that correct? Now who picks this commission?"

Senator Grant: "That is set up in the bill, Senator Woodall."

Senator Woodall: "Well tell me. Who picks them?"

Senator Grant: "The bill as it was originally drafted, Senator Woodall, provided for certain specific appointees. It provided, as I recall, for the president of the Washington State Jaycees, the president of the League of Women Voters, a newsman, a clergyman, the president of the Association of Washington Business, the president of the Washington State Labor Council, and I believe two appointees of the governor."

Senator Woodall: "You said originally. What does the bill now provide the way you have amended it, is what I am asking?"

Senator Grant: "We are on the constitutional amendment, Senator Woodall. You are asking me to describe to you the commission that is in the bill that will follow and I am trying to do that."

Senator Woodall: "These people that you have just named, they are the ones, you say, who will be the people who will decide what a fair compensation is?"

Senator Grant: "If that bill in its form is passed. Subject to referendum."

Senator Woodall: "Secondly, now in your proposed constitutional amendment you provide for an automatic referendum any time there is a salary raise?"

Senator Grant: "No, Senator Woodall. There is provided that in the event the people feel that the salary level is too high they will have the right to referendum."

The motion by Senator Grant carried and the amendment was adopted.

On motion of Senator Grant, Engrossed Senate Joint Resolution No. 149 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the resolution was placed on final passage.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2675, by Senator Day:

Revising the laws regulating chiropractic.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Day, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2675 was substituted for Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2675 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendments were adopted:

On page 8, section 12, beginning on line 10, strike all the material down through and including "(13)" on line 12 and insert "[(12) Practicing other healing arts, whether licensed to do so or not, while holding one's self out to the public as a chiropractor; (13) (12)]"

On page 9, following line 17, insert:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. There is added to chapter 18.26 RCW a new section to read as follows:

"The filing by the board in the office of the director of motor vehicles of a certificate or order of revocation or suspension after due notice, hearing and findings in accordance with the procedure specified in this chapter, certifying that any holder of a license has been found guilty of unprofessional conduct by the board, shall constitute a revocation or suspension of the license to practice chiropractic in this state in accordance with the terms and conditions imposed by the board and embodied in the certificate or order of revocation or suspension. Such certificate or order of revocation or suspension, if appealed, may be stayed by the board or by the reviewing court upon such terms as is deemed proper."

On page 9, following new section 15 added by the Day amendment, add the following new section 16:

On motion of Senator Day, the following amendment to the title was adopted:

On line 11 of the title, after "18.26.070;" strike "and" and on line 12, after "RCW" and before the period insert "; and adding a new section to chapter 18.26 RCW"

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed Substitute Bill No. 2675 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Day yield? On page 6 it discusses a continuing chiropractic education and symposium and it says that the symposium shall include instruction by at least two outstanding chiropractic educators. Other than yourself, is there another one in the state?"

Senator Day: "We import them, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Newschwander: "Will Senator Day yield to a question? I know you went over very quickly that twenty-five to thirty-five dollars a day per diem and I know that our board asked me this time about raising theirs and I said, 'You had better lay off.' I thought the mood of this session was to not increase per diem. What I am afraid of is that you know more about what the different boards are paying than I do, but by starting this one at thirty-five you are going to come in next session with every board we have out, and we have hundreds of them around this state, wanting their per diem raised to higher than what they are getting."

Senator Day: "Senator, I am delighted you asked that question, as they say, because if you will note in subsection (2) of Substitute Senate Bill 2675 on page 5, at the top of the page, Section 9, subsection (2) that we raised from fifteen to twenty-five dollars the license renewal fee. And so that will more than take care of it."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Substitute Senate Bill No. 2675, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 6; absent or not voting, 6; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Grant, Greive, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Marsh, Matson, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Washington, Whetzel, Woody—33.

Voting nay: Senators Francis, Lewis (Harry), Mardesich, Newschwander, Sellar, Walgren—6.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 3026 was ordered to hold its place on the second reading calendar for Thursday, January 31, 1974.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3203, by Senators Henry and Twigg (by Utilities and Transportation Commission request):

Requiring interstate motor carriers to operate within ICC authority registered with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Walgren, Senate Bill No. 3203 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Will Senator Walgren yield? Senator Walgren, would this bill have the effect of prohibiting backhauls for carriers in agricultural from California or am I in the wrong bill? Can you help me there?"

Senator Walgren: "I do not believe it would, no."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Can you describe what the purpose of the bill is, Senator, and how it works, please, briefly?"

Senator Walgren: "I did, very briefly, Senator Lewis. As I told you the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission requested that we present this bill to the legislature for your consideration so as to provide them with some authority that they could have to enforce the present rules and regulations of that department as it related to interstate carriers."

REMARKS BY SENATOR HENRY

Senator Henry: "Francis Pierson of the department informed me this afternoon that they have in their rules and regulations adopted within the last two days a procedure set up where backhauls can be made, and this other is where a licensed PUC carrier is licensed to carry certain products. He stops for examination and he is carrying something that he is not supposed to be carrying without a permit, then they have no teeth in the law at the present time. So this will tighten up the PUC licenses but will also permit backhauls where you carry a load of hay to Seattle and you get a permit if you have some lumber or something you want to haul back."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "Just for the record, will that be entered in the record in terms of a response to my question? Thank you."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 3203, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 40; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 3.

"Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Whetzel, Woody—40.

Voting nay: Senators Matson, Washington—2.

Absent or not voting: Senators Connor, Durkan, Rasmussen—3.

Excused: Senators Guess, Metcalf, Woodall—3.

SENATE BILL NO. 3203, having received the constitutional majority, was declared passed. There being no objection, the title of the bill was ordered to stand as the title of the act.

NOTICE OF RECONSIDERATION

Having voted on the prevailing side, Senator Lewis (Harry) served notice that he would, on the next working day, move for reconsideration of the vote by which Senate Bill No. 3203 passed the Senate.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Mardesich, Senate Bill No. 3116 was ordered placed at the end of the second reading calendar for Thursday, January 31, 1974.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3145, by Senators Dore, Woody, Clarke, Jones and Mardesich: Permitting the establishment of satellite banking facilities.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Dore, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3145 was substituted for Senate Bill No. 3145 and the substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Dore, Substitute Senate Bill No. 3145 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Walgren: "Would Senator Dore yield? Any number of other banks can participate in this one satellite?"

Senator Dore: "No — within the commercial bank category. If a commercial bank has the satellite it must offer the use of that satellite to all other commercial banks with one exception. If a mutual or a savings and loan combines with a commercial they need not do it. A single commercial or savings and loan."

Senator Walgren: "And secondly with regard to the sharing of installation and operation costs, can a bank that did not participate from the very beginning of this satellite, come in at a later time and participate?"

Senator Dore: "That question has not arisen but I think it is written, as the chairman of the committee I would say the statute is available for not only those banks that are in existence now but is also available for any other commercial or mutual or savings and loan association that comes into existence subsequent to that time."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "In further answer to the question by Senator Walgren, that sharing is conditioned upon, that is, the participation is conditioned upon sharing also on the cost of installation as well as operation. I concur with the explanation by Senator Dore. This is probably one of the best worked over bills in the session. It started out being quite controversial among the various financial interests; it has all been worked out and I think it is an excellent bill which you can vote for."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Fleming: "Would Senator Clarke yield to a question? Senator Clarke, you said the small banks, I assume that you are talking about some association or something of this nature that represents a lot of small banks, but my individual small bank I do not think was at that hearing and said that they agreed with that. I think that is what you are talking about, isn't it?"

Senator Clarke: "Senator, you are undoubtedly correct. I was speaking about the representative of an association of smaller banks."

Senator Fleming: "Thank you. I just wanted to make that clear because a lot of times we talk about someone representing a small group and they do in associations but a lot of people are left out of that."

Further debate ensued.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Substitute Senate Bill No. 3145, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 39; nays, 3; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 3.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3031 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Ted): "Would Senator Rasmussen yield? There is another bill in, Senator, that makes the state dates coincide with the federal dates. Do you remember, there was quite a mixup and the federal people had not only the state holiday but they had the federal. Is this taken care of in this bill?"

Senator Rasmussen: "This does not make any change in that. I think that the bill you are speaking of is up in the Education Committee relating to school holidays and makes it conform with the bill that this legislature passed last session."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "You did not think of tying this in in your legislation here then, did you?"

Senator Rasmussen: "No, this is just related to school holidays in another section of the law. I think that is in the Education Committee in the Senate right now. Or it may be in Rules. I have no knowledge."

Senator Peterson (Ted): "It is not in Rules. That is why I wondered."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3031 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 33; nays, 10; excused, 5.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3147, by Senators Walgren and Woody:

Declaring the state ferry system to be a mass transportation system.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Woody, Senate Bill No. 3147 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Mardesich: "Would Senator Woody yield? This is a very serious question. I assume that you are aware of what the situation is with respect to the motor vehicle fund, the twenty percent projected drop off in revenue as a consequence of the gasoline problems. We saw a report just the other day which shows, I think it was something like four or fourteen million left in the motor vehicle fund to use for matching money. With that situation already being the case, will this cause us any further problems with adding this to the mass transit system? Will we be in a position where we now have no funds to divide, what will this do, just add more of a problem to it?"

Senator Woody: "So far as I know it will add no further problem so far as taking any money away from that particular fund. This particular measure is specifically designed for two things: number one, to get federal funds, and number two, in an effort to prevent any further cut down of the use of the ferry system. It may have a collateral effect of more people using the ferries rather than driving. If we cut down the ferry system they will be driving the long way around and use more gas and therefore perhaps build up the fund in that regard, but the basic purpose of this bill is only to make it a mass transit system."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Senate Bill No. 3147 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; excused, 4.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—44.

Excused: Senators Durkan, Guess, Scott, Walgren—4.

On page 10, line 8, section 7, after "component city" insert "and county".

Signed by: Senators Washington, Chairman; Murray, Van Hollebeke, Whetzel.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Washington, the committee amendments were adopted simultaneously.

On motion of Senator Washington, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3229 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3229 and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 44; excused, 4.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Fleming, Francis, Grant, Greive, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (Harry), Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Matson, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Sellar, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—44.

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SENATE BILL NO. 2716, by Senator Bottiger:

Establishing a collective bargaining unit comprised of exempt employees who are liquor vendors.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Lewis (Harry), the following amendment was adopted:

On page 1, section 1, line 7, after "vendors:" strike the remainder of the paragraph and insert: "PROVIDED, That this 1974 amendatory act shall not be construed as granting such vendors retirement benefits or tenure: PROVIDED FURTHER, That such bargaining unit shall not bargain for or be included in any governmental employee retirement system".

On motion of Senator Bottiger, Reengrossed Senate Bill No. 2716 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Bottiger yield to a question? Senator Bottiger, is this a private association, a business group that you are authorizing for collective bargaining privileges?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I do not believe so. The State Employees' Association is the one that I was referring to that came and asked for the bill. They are engaged in collective negotiations for many state employees. You know, there is Norm Schut's group and then the Association. The Association came and asked for this bill. It apparently has no objection from Mr. Schut's organization."

Senator Rasmussen: "Enlighten me a little more on that. Is Norm Schut's union organization representing these people without them paying dues into the organization?"

Senator Bottiger: "I would not know whether it is or not. Norm Schut's group is not the one involved in this. It is the State Association of Employees that is asking for this. I do not know whether they are collecting dues from them now or not."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Senator Lewis, are these people private merchants running their own business that we are now allowing to become a collective bargaining group with the state?"

Senator Lewis (Harry): "No, Senator, they are really contractors with the state and they are closely controlled by the State Liquor Board. As an example, there is a requirement that the more liquor they sell the lower the percentage they take in, and they are primarily mom and pop operations in small rural areas, working on a very tightly controlled basis with the Liquor Board which controls their profits, which controls everything that they do. They are scattered from one end of the state to the other and so there is no way that they can bargain individually to try to improve their situation. You want to remember that the rest of the liquor is sold through agencies and that they are presently controlled by the state and they have their own bargaining units, but these people scattered out in the fringes are so isolated and by themselves that unless an organization that is interested like the Association of State Employees here, there is no way for them to come to grips with the Liquor Board itself. Does that answer your question?"

Senator Rasmussen: "Yes, Senator Lewis. My sympathies are probably with them but my sympathies are also with all of the gas station dealers that are selling gas to state employees and that is my concern too. Maybe we should include them in the bargaining unit also."

Senator Lewis (Harry): "I would suggest that you ask the Governor if that would be within the scope and object, and I would be willing to listen to his wisdom."

Senator Rasmussen: "This is not an amendment, Senator Lewis. Mr. President, that is my concern and I share the same concern as Senator Day expressed, that the Liquor Board is probably in deep trouble because of the high taxes the legislature has put on liquor and we most certainly should do something about it, but I am not sure that the way Senator Lewis proposes is the way to do it."

Further debate ensued.

MOTION

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3324, by Senators Lewis (Harry) and Rasmussen:

Providing for the legal defense of public officers.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

Senator Dore moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Dore:

On page 1, section 1, line 15, after "amended" and before the period insert "PROVIDED, That the amount and reasonableness of such fees and costs expended shall be approved by the superior court where the action or proceeding was commenced".

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Dore yield? I have looked at this bill to some extent. 'That the amount and reasonableness of such fees,' are you referring now to the fees that the Attorney General may on paper lay off against the department or are you talking about the claimant's attorney's fees?"

Senator Dore: "I think the early part of the bill refers to fees and costs and I merely put it in broad language to include everything. Expenses, whatever is incurred."

Senator Woody: "There is no place in the act that says 'fees.' What do you intend by this?"

Senator Dore: "Whatever is paid out of the fund will be approved by the court. Maybe you have other words you would like to add to it or amend but I wrote the amendment in a hurry. I just came across the bill."

Senator Woody: "If you take what you are saying on its face value, that means of course the claimant's attorney's fees would have to be approved as they are in workmen's compensation, would have to be approved by the superior court before they would be allowable and payable."

Senator Dore: "I am referring to the last sentence, 'In such cases the attorney general shall appear and defend such officer or employee and any obligation for payment arising from such action or proceedings shall be paid from the tort claim revolving fund pursuant to provisions of the act.' Obviously that sentence means the fee that the Attorney General will pay. No attempt to set the fees of the claimant. If you want to put a proviso in excluding them I have no objection."

Senator Woody: "My point is if later on, unless somebody looks at the Journal of the Senate, your amendment is going to be interpreted to mean that the claimant's attorney's fees will have to be approved as they are in workmen's compensation. I do not know whether that is good or bad. It might be good. I do not know."

Senator Dore: "If you will ask me a question, Senator, I will then put it in the Journal."

Senator Woody: "You have the question."

Senator Dore: "What is the question so I can put it in the Journal?"

Senator Woody: "I have asked it about three times. I think it is in the Journal. Is it the legislative intent by your amendment to include that the fees of the claimant's attorney should be or should not be approved by the superior court?"

Senator Dore: "No, the purpose of my amendment applies to the expenditures of the Attorney General and all fees and costs that he pays out of the tort claims fund shall be first approved as to amount and reasonableness by the superior court judge in the proceedings. There is a check on the fees of the claimant because, after all, he negotiates with his own lawyer. There is no need for it, actually, in that particular category."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Greive: "Will Senator Dore yield to a question? It would seem to me that you get your defense and there is a great deal of work done and you may never even go to court. It may be settled, you know, various things that a lawyer handles. Are you saying that ab initio, backwards, after it is all done they could decide whether the money should have ever been expended by the superior court or that it is reasonable?"

Senator Dore: "This bill is not my bill but merely provides for the defense by the Attorney General of various state officials who get involved in court actions. The only new part of it is it provides that this money shall be paid out of the tort claims revolving fund. And I just added an amendment saying any funds so paid, whether they be preliminary to court action or involve court action shall be approved by the superior court in which the proceeding or action arose."

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, I am still somewhat at a loss. I do not really object to the court having a handle on it but what this bill really does is, first of all it changes the test from negligence to gross negligence so that it is a question of whether or not you are dealing with gross negligence. Then it proceeds and it is a board that is made up of the governor and the various department heads make this determination. Then it provides that the obligation arising from this shall come from the tort claims revolving fund which seems to be intelligent too. Now the trouble with a lawsuit is that you spend a lot of time and energy, you draw up pleadings, you answer, you have motions and so forth, and you do not ever go to the court. Now when it is all done, are you going to come backwards and then say that that should not be allowed?"

Senator Dore: "No, Senator. I just said that anything paid out of the fund as to reasonableness shall be approved by the court. You may object to other parts of the bill and not approve of the other amendments but this merely says that if you do approve them, then the amount and reasonableness shall be determined by the court. And I think the words used, 'action or proceeding,' which would include, in my opinion, more than just a formal lawsuit, it would include perhaps negotiation or things of that nature. I think it is quite broad."

Senator Greive: "Senator, in reading your amendment it says 'the amount and the reasonableness of such fees.' Now I would interpret 'amount' a little differently than you do. I would have no objection of the 'reasonableness' being approved but the 'amount', as I would interpret it, would sound to me like they could refuse backwards to have allowed the fees that had already occurred, or the obligations already incurred. I would suggest, Senator, if you would take out the word 'amount' and leave 'reasonableness' you would solve the problem."

Senator Dore: "Responding to Senator Greive, I do not think it makes any difference. I struck the 'amount' out because if it is not 'reasonable' that determines the 'amount'. I put that word in. The majority leader says I should accept your amendment."

On motion of Senator Greive, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Dore was adopted:

On line 3 of the amendment, strike "amount and"

On motion of Senator Woody, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Dore was adopted:

On line 4 of the amendment, after "expended" insert "by the attorney general".

On motion of Senator Francis, the following amendment to the amendment by Senators Rasmussen and Dore was adopted:

On line 6 of the amendment, strike "approved" and insert "subject to approval".

The motion by Senator Dore carried and the amendment, as amended, was adopted.

On motion of Senator Rasmussen, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3324 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

MOTION

At 11:00 a.m., on motion of Senator Bailey, the Senate recessed until 12:15 p.m.

NOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 12:15 p.m.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Durkan: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I had the Secretary distribute to both caucuses the decision which the Supreme Court handed down this morning concerning revaluation of property taxes. The impact on the budget could be substantial. We do not know yet and will not know probably for some time, until after the Attorney General's Office and the Department of Revenue, along with assessors, have had an opportunity to examine the opinion and make a determination whether or not the rollback is going to apply to other than just Pierce County and whether it is going to apply to more than four years. The budget is prepared and ready to be presented to the Senate. However, I have decided that until we know just what the impact of this is going to be, and hopefully it will be sometime this afternoon or tomorrow, as to what the loss of revenue is going to be to school districts and other local junior taxing districts, we are going to hold off. For instance, we do know that at least thirty-five percent of all the parcels in Pierce County are going to be affected by this decision. We do know that it could be as much as five or six million dollars in Pierce County and it could affect one school district in excess of two million dollars. These are some of the things that we have been told already by the Department of Revenue. They are trying to analyze the opinion and give us some information, and hopefully it will be available this afternoon or tomorrow morning, so we can make a judgment on what to do as far as the common schools and other problems, senior citizens, fire districts, any junior taxing district you can think of, and hopefully we will have it there. So those of you who are anxiously awaiting the Ways and Means Committee deliberations on the budget, I hope that you would bear with us until we have had an opportunity to examine this opinion."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Bailey: "Did Senator Mardesich's rule on the limitation of time carry through until today or through the day?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

The President: "I believe so, Senator."

MOTION

At 12:20 p.m., on motion of Senator Mardesich, the Senate recessed until 1:15 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The President called the Senate to order at 1:15 p.m.

MOTION

On motion of Senator Bailey, Senator Fleming was excused.
There being no objection, the Senate returned to the first order of business.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Grant yield? Was any suggestion made to changing the city elections or the primaries from the particularly bad time where they come in the Fall?"

Senator Grant: "The county auditors suggested that change, Senator Rasmussen. However, it is not included in this measure. No change has been included in this measure."

Senator Rasmussen: "The committee did consider that?"

Senator Grant: "We have had that under consideration."

Senator Rasmussen: "Do you think it was a good suggestion?"

Senator Grant: "In some respects."

Senator Rasmussen: "That would help a whole lot in getting a primary turnout. Maybe we can get that in over in the House."

Senator Grant: "Maybe you would like to try it over there."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3044, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 34; nays, 9; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 2.

SECOND READING

SENATE BILL NO. 3058, by Senators von Reichbauer, Clarke and Bottiger:

Authorizing added functions for the school directors' association and authorizing school districts to contract with the association in relation to its performance of certain functions.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, the following amendments by Senators von Reichbauer and Murray were adopted:

On page 2, line 17, section 1, after "by" strike "school districts" and insert "a local school district board(s) of directors"

On page 2, section 1, beginning on line 20, strike all of the material down to and including the period and insert: "district board(s) in particular problem areas: PROVIDED, That such services, information, and consultants are not already available from other state agencies or from the information and research services authorized by RCW 28A.58.530."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator von Reichbauer yield to a question? Senator, you are apparently enlarging the school directors' bill so that they may sue and be sued, contract for various things through various agencies. Could you tell me, how is the School Directors' Association financed? Are these taxpayers' funds that are going to be used?"

Senator von Reichbauer: "Mr. President, is Senator Rasmussen talking about the amendment or the bill?"

Senator Rasmussen: "It is in relation to the amendment."

Senator von Reichbauer: "I believe it is not; the question is not. But I will answer your question. They are supported by state funds."

Senator Rasmussen: "My question is, how much you are enlarging this to encompass."

Senator von Reichbauer: "I was planning to get into this when I spoke to the bill in its entirety."

Senator Rasmussen: "Okay. I will hold my question until then, Senator."

On motion of Senator von Reichbauer, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3058 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

REMARKS BY SENATOR BOTTIGER

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, to directly answer Senator Rasmussen's question, the bill makes no change whatsoever in the assessment method by which the School Directors' Association is funded. Each member district of the association pays, I believe it is a per capita, revenue tax which is set by statute. The bill would authorize them on a reimbursable basis to entertain either the legal actions that might be necessary on behalf of, say, all third class school districts, to defend them as a group rather than each school district having to defend itself. Probably a tax savings of taxpayers' money. In addition they could by cooperative agreement obtain the services of, say, an insurance consultant to review and advise certain class school districts or groups of school districts on how to get a better buy on insurance premiums which again, hopefully, would reduce the cost to the taxpayer. I think, Senator Rasmussen, I join with you in your concern the dollars that we think are going to educate kids are not funneled off on some program but I think this bill meets both of your objections and saves money rather than spending it."

Debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Would Senator Clarke yield to a question? Senator Clarke, is there a limit on the amount of assessment they can put on a local school district?"

Senator Clarke: "Yes, it is very definitely set by statute. I forget now just what it is but my recollection is that there is a specific statutory limitation."

Senator Rasmussen: "Does Senator Bottiger know, or Senator von Reichbauer?"

Senator Bottiger: "Senator Rasmussen, I cannot remember. In the back of my mind I think it is sixty-eight cents but I am not positive."

Senator Rasmussen: "Per pupil or per district?"

Senator Bottiger: "It is per pupil. It is a per pupil assessment. I can remember having raised it by a bill so I know it is in a bill form and if they want to raise that they have to come to us to get authority to raise that assessment, because I remember having done that."

Senator Rasmussen: "Mr. President, it makes me wonder why we have a Superintendent of Public Instruction and all of his staff when we are enlarging all the other duties for the School Directors' Association. I thought they were all interested in the school children. Maybe we ought to have a committee to study a little coordination so that we do not expand the two organizations and have them fighting each other. It would get to the point where they are like the federal agencies, they are all fighting among themselves."

REMARKS BY SENATOR CLARKE

Senator Clarke: "Mr. President, in answer to those comments the last amendment just put on, if you would read it, Senator Rasmussen, very specifically restricts the functions to those that are not available through the avenues that you just talked about."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3058, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 38; nays, 2; absent or not voting, 6; excused, 2.

On motion of Senator Talley, Senate Bill No. 3027 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Atwood: "Would Senator Talley yield? Senator Talley, by doing this, the cities of the first class firefighters and policemen have compulsory arbitration now, do they?"

Senator Talley: "I am not sure, sir."

Senator Atwood: "If they do then this would give that right also to the ones that you are scooping up in this? This covers everyone below fifteen thousand. This gives them the identical rights of the firefighters and police in the first class cities?"

Senator Talley: "Yes, correct."

Senator Atwood: "Yes."

SENATE BILL NO. 3040, by Senators Day, Jones, Van Hollebeke and Ridder:
Creating the Washington health care facilities authority.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 24, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3040, creating the Washington health care facilities authority (reported by Committee on Social and Health Services):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, line 21, section 2, after "professionals" and before the period insert "or as an independent nursing home or other facility primarily offering domiciliary care"

On page 3, line 6, section 3, after "commissioner," strike "and two" and insert "the chairman of the Washington state hospital commission, and one".

On page 3, line 22, section 4, after "participants" and before "for" insert "of projects".

On page 6, line 15, section 5, after "thereof," and before "and" insert "interest during construction, reserve funds".

Signed by: Senators Day, Chairman; Van Hollebeke, Vice Chairman; Connor, Herr, Murray, Ridder, Twigg.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Day, the committee amendments were adopted.

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3040 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will Senator Day yield? 'Participant' means any city, county or other municipal corporation or agency or political subdivision of the state or to any corporation, hospital or health maintenance organization authorized by law to operate nonprofit health care facilities. What do you anticipate will be included in all of this?"

Senator Day: "Well of course, just what it says, any nonprofit corporation including the state which should have a hospital. In other words, if we want to utilize this particular type of financing it can be done for any type of facility covered under that description."

Senator Rasmussen: "All of the state, county and cities now can issue that type of bonds without any additional help."

Senator Day: "That is true but you see, what that does relative to this type of construction, it brings them under this new health care facilities, Washington Health Care Facilities Authority, and one of the members of that authority is our own Lieutenant Governor."

Senator Rasmussen: "I see he is put on there by virtue of this bill. I do not know if he knows he is in charge of the health authority yet."

"Then the other question I have is, on page 3, 'but shall be payable only from special funds created by the authority for their payment'. Now I presume that that is going to be revenue from the particular institution that you are going to build with this authority."

Senator Day: "No, it says the members of the authority shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to reimbursement solely from the funds of the authority for necessary expenses incurred, etc., in the discharge of their duties, if I am reading where you suggest."

Senator Rasmussen: "No, I am looking at section 4, Senator, on line 26, where the authority is empowered to issue bonds 'for the construction, purchase, acquisition, rental, leasing or use by the participants for which bonds to provide funds therefor have been approved by the authority. Such bonds shall be issued in the name of the authority.'"

Senator Day: "That in no way involves the liability of the state. It merely gives them the authority, the specific authority, and empowers them as the ones who can issue the bonds for such purposes."

Senator Rasmussen: "That is my question. You are going to pay for the bonds. First you say such bonds shall be issued in the name of the authority. Then you are going to pay off the bonds from this special fund but over on page 5 at the top of the page you say that they shall not be a general obligation of the authority. Well how are you going to sell bonds and get a decent rate when they are not an obligation of the authority, yet they are issued under the power of the authority."

Senator Day: "It says rather that the authority is empowered to provide for the issuance of such limited obligation securities. Now obviously the facility being constructed is going to be the thing that is going to be obligated for the payment, the people who build the hospital, and the building itself will of course be the security."

Senator Rasmussen: "Could you tell me one thing more, Senator? Where does this bill come from?"

Senator Day: "This bill came from a need and was supported by the Hospital Association, by the Department of Social and Health Services, and by many others. It is a new type of approach to financing. Now in years past we have had Hill-Burton funds where we have actually made grants for a portion of the . . ."

Senator Rasmussen: "We still have those."

Senator Day: "Yes, but they are nearly out of the picture and what this does now, it reverses. Instead of our sending federal monies back in taxes and then trying to subsidize these things, what we are doing is allowing them to issue these special types of bonds in a manner that will cut the interest rate from over nine percent to five and one-half percent, and in so doing we enable construction and reduce costs, Senator, and that is what the purpose of the bill is."

Senator Rasmussen: "It has a very worthwhile purpose. I doubt if it will work."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Day yield? Senator Day, I am going to ask you a long-winded question in which I expect your usual definitive answer for purposes of legislative intent. In view of the fact that the authority is made up of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Insurance Commissioner, two members of the public who shall be appointed by the Governor, subject to confirmation of the Senate, and in view of the fact on page 5, starting on line 24 it provides that 'such health care facilities may be acquired, constructed, reconstructed, improved, leased, sold or otherwise disposed of in the manner determined by the authority,' in view of the fact the bill provides for these rather broad powers by this committee and also in view of the fact that we have known in the past that our own Capitol Committee has met in manners and time and has conducted itself in a fashion that our own Lieutenant Governor has not been able to find out what is going on and let the people of the state know what is going on with that committee; is it the legislative intent of this Senate Bill 3040 that the authority cannot meet in a manner to determine how property should be acquired or sold such that any member of the committee will not know what is going on or that any of the situations that have occurred with the Capitol Committee could occur in this situation?"

Senator Day: "Thank you, Senator Woody. In answer to your question, it should be clearly understood that the intent of this legislation is that all the members of the created commission participate and be notified of meetings, be allowed to participate fully in the decisions made, and I think that you did make one error. You said two public members. We have cut that to one public member so that the Chairman of the Hospital Commission who has been recommended for confirmation by my committee will be the other public member, so we tightened that up, Senator."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Rasmussen: "Will the Senator yield to a further question? Senator, for the record, you are not conferring the powers of eminent domain on this authority?"

Senator Day: "I do not believe so."

Senator Rasmussen: "They will not be able to condemn any person's or any corporation's property?"

Senator Day: "No, I do not believe so. I think they can receive, in section 11, 'they may contribute real and personal property to cover the expenses of preliminary surveys and studies' and that type of thing. They are empowered to receive, in section 4, 'gifts, grants, pledges, mortgages or other securities from the federal government, the state, public and private institutions, except the authority may not obtain money derived from taxes for the purposes of the project or the taxing agency.'"

Senator Rasmussen: "There are no powers then of eminent domain?"

Senator Day: "Not to my knowledge."

Further debate ensued.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Francis: "Senator Day, would you yield? Senator Day, your amendment on page 2 apparently excludes the construction through this bill of any facilities as independent nursing homes or as facilities offering primarily domiciliary care. First of all, and it is a two part question, is this intended to exclude nursing homes from this act, and secondly, if so, why?"

Senator Day: "Senator, I am sorry you were not at the first and second hearing relative to this because at the first one the nursing homes came in, together with the other people involved in the bill, and they had thought that nursing homes should be put in. And then at the second one after a great deal of discussion relative to this thing, they felt that it was not feasible and they wanted out. So the committee took them out. And that is about the best answer I can give you that they all agreed they should not be in this bill at this time and so they took them out of it."

REMARKS BY SENATOR FRANCIS

Senator Francis: "Mr. President, I have serious doubts as to whether or not that is a valid reason for excluding nursing homes because the entrepreneurs who operate them now do not want competition from state constructed health care facilities, and I was present at the hearings and I am familiar with the fact that they did not want it. I just am surprised that this is the only reason we have taken them out of here. It seems to me if we need health care facilities in some part of the state that does not have them we ought to be free to construct them whether or not people who are currently in the industry who may or may not be possible competition want them in there. I am sorry to see that we are on third reading because I think that is a bad amendment but maybe they can do something about it in the House."

REMARKS BY SENATOR DAY

Senator Day: "Mr. President, addressing myself to that, this does not preclude the construction of such facilities. All it does is preclude them from getting five and one-half percent money instead of nine and one-quarter."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Senate Bill No. 3040, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 42; absent or not voting, 3; excused, 3.

Voting yea: Senators Atwood, Bailey, Bottiger, Canfield, Clarke, Connor, Day, Donohue, Dore, Francis, Grant, Greive, Henry, Herr, Jolly, Jones, Keefe, Knoblauch, Lewis (R. H. "Bob"), Mardesich, Marsh, Metcalf, Murray, Newschwander, Odegaard, Peterson (Lowell), Peterson (Ted), Rasmussen, Ridder, Sandison, Scott, Stortini, Talley, Twigg, Van Hollebeke, von Reichbauer, Walgren, Wanamaker, Washington, Whetzel, Woodall, Woody—42.

Absent or not voting: Senators Durkan, Matson, Sellar—3.

Excused: Senators Fleming, Guess, Lewis (Harry)—3.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "Will Senator Day yield? Senator Day, are you familiar with the case of radio and TV station KVO5 in Bellingham that recently had a lease cancelled by the Park Department on Orcas Island?"

Senator Day: "It is my understanding that the lease was not cancelled. It was not renewed. This is one of the things this addresses itself to."

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "It in no way affects this particular interest because this is passed I understand. They did not renew the lease and . . ."

Senator Day: "Is it for a radio or TV?"

Senator Peterson (Lowell): "TV and radio I believe."

Senator Day: "Of course, what this will do is mandate that KVO5 and KXLY on Mt. Spokane are the two leases we are discussing that the Parks Department, in the interest of public service, renew these leases as per the qualifications that are in the bill."

SECOND READING

ENGROSSED SUBSTITUTE SENATE BILL NO. 2186, by Committee on Social and Health Services (originally sponsored by Senators Bottiger, Gardner and Francis):

Providing for the regulation of the practice of naturopathy.

MOTIONS

On motion of Senator Day, Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2186 was substituted for Engrossed Senate Bill No. 2186, and the second substitute bill was placed on second reading and read the second time in full.

On motion of Senator Woody, the following amendment was adopted:

On page 4, section 6, beginning on line 31 with "An applicant" strike all the material down through and including "failed." on line 33.

On motion of Senator Day, Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2186 was advanced to third reading, the second reading considered the third, and the bill was placed on final passage.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Dore: "Would Senator Day yield to a question? What activity can medical doctors do that naturopathics cannot do under your bill if this bill passes? What areas can they not perform?"

Senator Day: "Now are you asking me what medical doctors can do that they cannot, or vice versa?"

Senator Dore: "Either way, you could express it either way."

Senator Day: "This limits the practice of naturopathy, precludes them from doing surgery or prescribing drugs except the drugs which are natural agents and in the determination of natural agents, the Board of Pharmacy sits on a committee with the Board to determine what those are specifically."

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, I am going to object to this exchange simply because it is an attempt to read into the record legislative intent on something which is wholly contained within the act and I feel might prove to be the subject of future litigation and I do not think that we are here attempting to litigate differences between two professions, neither in which I have any personal or financial interest except that I deal in this particular field of law and it seems to me that we are only going to foul this record up from one end to the other. I just think it is an inappropriate question and should not be asked, and the answer should not be recorded as the sense of the body."

Senator Day: "Mr. President, to answer the question I will read the language in the bill. 'A formulary of drugs which will be the only drugs which can be used, administered or prescribed by naturopathic physicians as licensed by this 1973 act shall be compiled by a joint committee appointed by the State Examining and Disciplinary Board, the naturopathic physicians, and the Washington State Board of Pharmacy.'"

Senator Greive: "Mr. President, that still does not satisfy my objections. I believe that there is a provision for minor surgery in the bill and Senator Day has already said it would prevent them from doing any surgery."

Senator Day: "No, I said it would prevent — did I not say major surgery?"

Senator Greive: "No. If you say major surgery I am satisfied."

Senator Day: "I intended to say major surgery, Senator."

Senator Dore: "Am I under the gag rule? I am just reading what was in the digest and it does provide for surgery, repair of minor wounds without surgery except their closure and removal of foreign bodies. I just wondered what that meant. That is not a proper question. Maybe Senator Greive could answer."

Senator Greive: "I am not going to give an answer to make it the sense of this body. However, I will give Senator Dore my humble opinion which may or may not reflect the sense of the body because I do not want these great words to be interpreted by the state Supreme Court at some future time. As I understand it, naturopaths have traditionally had the right to do very minor surgical procedures, prescribe certain types of drugs, and to participate in various types of what I would term physiotherapy and this merely codifies what they are doing and have been doing for years."

Senator Bottiger: "Mr. President, before we make a mountain out of a molehill, the naturopaths are already covered by what is called the drugless healer act which was passed, I think I said 1916 and was corrected to 1919. It is grossly out of date. In redrafting this bill it was not the intent of the committee or the sponsors of the bill to expand their scope of practice at all. Now a naturopath can take a sliver out and that is about the extent of the kind of minor surgery Senator Greive was talking about. He is not engaging in surgery. He is basically a dietician in the use of natural foods and natural herbs to cure problems. And that is what he has been doing, Senator Dore, since 1919."

ROLL CALL

The Secretary called the roll on the final passage of Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill No. 2186, and the bill passed the Senate by the following vote: Yeas, 35; nays, 5; absent or not voting, 6; excused, 2.

Senator Walgren: "No."

Senator Grant: "Thank you, Senator Walgren, and I apologize sincerely for detaining you from your other duties."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Walgren again yield? In the terminology, 'graduated from a recognized professional police academy or training institution,' by that you mean some sort of official recognized academy rather than a correspondence school?"

SENATE BILL NO. 3235, by Senators Rasmussen, Woody, von Reichbauer, Ridder, Knoblauch and Walgren:

Including nursing home employees within the minimum wage act.

REPORT OF STANDING COMMITTEE

January 26, 1974.

SENATE BILL NO. 3235, including nursing home employees within the minimum wage act (reported by Committee on Labor):

MAJORITY recommendation: Do pass with the following amendments:

On page 2, beginning on line 29, section 1, after "(i)" strike all of the material down to and including "(j)" on line 32 and insert "[Any individual employed by the state, any county, city, or town, municipal corporation or quasi-municipal corporation, political subdivision, or any instrumentality thereof;

(j)]"

On page 3, beginning on line 5, section 1, strike all of the material down to and including "(1)" and insert "[(k) Any individual engaged in performing service in a hospital licensed pursuant to chapter 70.41 or chapter 71.12 RCW;

(1)] (j)".

Signed by: Senators Connor, Chairman; Fleming, Grant, Ridder, Sellar, Woody.

The bill was read the second time by sections.

On motion of Senator Grant, the committee amendments were adopted.

Senator Grant moved adoption of the following amendment:

On page 2, section 1, line 24, strike all the material on line 24.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Woody: "Would Senator Grant yield? 'Any newspaper vendor or carrier', and I realize this is the minimum wage act and I realize that there is an age problem here. I peddled papers for the Everett Herald since I was twelve years old until I discovered how to work for a gas station. Whom are we including if you strike that out?"

Senator Grant: "Senator Woody, under our state minimum wage act the juveniles that you are thinking of who deliver papers from door to door are excluded anyway. Under eighteen they are excluded. I think that some of you perhaps thought I was trying to put one over, but I want to assure you I was not. The minimum wage act in this state applies to people who reach their majority, as far as I know, and the newspaper carriers and vendors I sincerely believe should be covered under this act. Now that is a person who gets in his car and goes from one house to the next and delivers papers. He is entitled to the same consideration under the minimum wage act as anybody else as far as I am concerned."

Senator Woody: "Speaking against this, I can see one area that it would include. In Seattle, for example, there are a lot of fellows who have got themselves out of the mission home, kicked the booze habit and have now got a little newsstand on the corner. They would have to be covered by the minimum wage act then?"

Senator Grant: "That is correct, Senator Woody. If they are working as newspaper vendors or carriers I think they are entitled to the same consideration under the act as anybody else. I should remind you that this only sets a minimum and if any of these firms want to pay in excess of that, there is nothing that prohibits them from doing so."

POINT OF INQUIRY

Senator Odegaard: "Senator Grant, I thought that the carriers and vendors usually are not on an hourly basis but on the amount that they carry and the mileage that they run and that kind of thing."

Senator Grant: "That is true, Senator Odegaard, and again let me stress to you that all this does is set a minimum, that this exemption does not prohibit the payment in that way to vendors and carriers. It only says that they must be paid an amount, the minimum amount they can be paid is an amount equivalent to a dollar eighty an hour in this state. You can still contract with your vendors and carriers and if it amounts to more than that, then this does not apply."

Further debate ensued.

The motion by Senator Grant failed and the amendment was not adopted.

Senator Francis moved adoption of the following amendment by Senators Ridder, von Reichbauer and Murray:

On page 3, following section 1, add the following new sections:
