WHEREAS, Participants in the AgForestry Leadership Program embark on a challenging two-year track that blends a dozen in-state seminars with study and travel at the national and international levels, with the goal of producing strong, able, informed leaders who not only excel in their chosen professions but also possess critical communication, public policy, and collaboration skills; and

WHEREAS, David Roseleip, a Montana native and Montana State University graduate from a long-time farming family, was working for Farm Credit Banks in Spokane when, in 1978, he was selected as one of the 30 participants in AgForestry Leadership Class 1, which graduated in 1980; and

WHEREAS, Dave Roseleip became the third president of the AgForestry Foundation in 1984 and served in that capacity for the next 30 years, during which time he also took on the duties of program director beginning with Leadership Class 6; and

WHEREAS, Dave Roseleip has overseen the recruitment and selection of Leadership Classes 7 through 37, presided over the graduation of 31 of the 35 AgForestry leadership classes, and seen the foundation grow to receive annual support from more than 750 paid members; and

WHEREAS, In the mid-1980s, Dave Roseleip, along with other graduates, helped form what is now known as the Alumni Council for the AgForestry Leadership Program, which provides networking and continuing-education opportunities to the more than 1,000 AgForestry graduates; and

WHEREAS, His passion and dedication for the development of effective leaders led Dave Roseleip to co-found, in 1986, the International Association of Programs for Agricultural Leadership, an international consortium of agriculture, forestry, and rural leadership programs in the United States and countries abroad; and

WHEREAS, Dave Roseleip has generously shared his deep well of knowledge by also serving on the boards of Farming and the Environment, Pacific Northwest Farm Forum, Washington Biodiversity Council, and the Washington Agriculture Council; and

WHEREAS, Dave Roseleip will retire from AgForestry effective June 30, 2015, yet he will remain active by raising funds for the foundation's endowment fund, all while spending time with his wife Jan, their five children, and many grandchildren;

WHEREAS, On the National Day of Silence, many students take a vow of silence to bring attention to the name calling, bullying, and harassment of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender youth in schools; and

WHEREAS, The Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network designates the third Friday of every April as the National Day of Silence; and

WHEREAS, Hundreds of thousands of students at more than 8,000 schools have participated in the National Day of Silence in past years; and

WHEREAS, The Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network's 2013 National School Climate Survey illustrated the pervasive harassment and victimization faced by lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender students by documenting their experiences within the preceding academic year; and

WHEREAS, Nearly 75 percent of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender students reported being verbally harassed by their peers at school because of their sexual orientation, and more than 55 percent reported being verbally harassed because of their gender expression; and

WHEREAS, 36 percent of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender students reported being physically harassed by their peers at school because of their sexual orientation, and over 20 percent reported being physically harassed because of their gender expression; and

WHEREAS, The State of Washington has enacted a series of laws to require school districts to prevent bullying, harassment, and discrimination against students on the basis of their sexual orientation and gender identity or expression; and

WHEREAS, Every child should be guaranteed an education free from name calling, bullying, harassment, and discrimination, regardless of his or her sexual orientation and gender identity or expression;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Washington State Senate support the goals of the National Day of Silence, applaud the young people who support their peers who have experienced bullying and harassment by participating in the National Day of Silence, and encourage schools and school districts around the state to adopt and enforce policies that ensure a safe and healthy learning environment for all students, teachers, and other staff regardless of their sexual orientation or gender identity or expression.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced local participants in the National Day of Silence from Olympia area schools and representatives of the Safe Schools Coalition who were present in the gallery and recognized by the senate.

INTRODUCTION OF SPECIAL GUESTS

The President welcomed and introduced Miss Alex Hanesworth, a junior at Anacortes High School, Skagit County, the 2015 State Poetry Out Loud contest champion and Miss Gabriella Sipe, a senior at Olympia High School, Thurston County, who was named runner up. Coordinated by the Arts Commission, Poetry Out Loud is supported by the National Endowment for the Arts and the Poetry Foundation and involved more than 22,000 students at the classroom level throughout Washington. The state competition took place on March 7 at the Broadway Center for the Performing Arts in Tacoma on March 7. The Poetry Out Loud national recitation will be held April 28-29, 2015 in Washington, D.C., where 53 high school student state champions will compete for the title of national champion and a $20,000 prize.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Ranker: "I want to congratulate Alex and her mother Marilyn, who is also here today, for your accomplishments. To compete against 22,000 people and to win is just remarkable. You have made, obviously, your mother but also the City of Anacortes, everybody in northern Washington State and the entire state of Washington, extremely proud. Congratulations to you and we look forward to you bringing home the next national championship and we'll here about that later this month. Congratulations to you and your mother."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: "I wondered if I could read a short poem of celebration?"

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I think it would be appropriate."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Liias: "Thank you Mr. President. This is by Lucille Clifton. It's entitled 'Won't you celebrate with me'.

'won't you celebrate with me what i have shaped into a kind of life? i had no model.
born in babylon
both nonwhite and woman
what did i see to be except myself?
i made it up here on this bridge between starshine and clay,
my one hand holding tight
my other hand; come celebrate with me that everyday something has tried to kill me and has failed.'

Congratulations"

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Fraser: "Well thank you Mr. President. Well, I too am as proud as I can be that the runner up, the number two person out of 22,000 students is from Legislative District Twenty-two, which I represent. I am proud of her. I know our whole community is proud of her and the state is. Twenty-two thousand students participated and she came in number two and I compliment her and all the students who did very well in this competition. This is a really great program and I'd like to also compliment the State Arts Commission that runs it. This is a program that helps students develop appreciation for literature, which is so important in life, helps them build self-confidence and helps them to develop their public speaking skills. So, who knows if some of them will be on the floor reciting their own poetry one of these days? So, congratulations to all and also to the State of Washington because Washington State as a whole came in number three in the nation in student participation. This is outstanding for our state."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: "Well, in speaking today [during the debate of Senate Resolution No. 8669] of Ana Cauce who is the University of Washington Chief – not Chief-of-Staff, as I misspoke."

REPLY BY THE PRESIDENT

President Owen: "I believe she's Chancellor."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator McAuliffe: "She is but they call her 'Chief' and that's why I, but she is the Chancellor so I just wanted to correct myself." [Dr. Cauce was the Interim President of the University of Washington, later named President.]
