NOON SESSION

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, January 11, 1993

The House of Representatives of the 1993 Regular Session of the Fifty-Third Legislature was called to order at 12:00 Noon by the Chief Clerk of the Fifty-Third Legislature, Alan Thompson.

The Chief Clerk requested the Sergeant at Arms to escort the Members-elect to seats on the floor of the House, as selections by Quintessence were performed.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by I Corps Command Color Guard of Fort Lewis.

Prayer was offered by Sister Joann Starr SNJM of Seattle.

Today you begin again in active session the work you have committed yourselves to do for the people of Washington. Many hearts are hopeful that what is needed to sustain life and promote human fullness will be the direction you set for yourself and the work you accomplish.

I would like to begin this prayer with a reading from Carter Heyward, from her book Our passion for Justice.

Your first reaction might be another reading on love. But I challenge you to listen closely to her words which can reinforce in you the commitment you begin again today for the people of our state.

"Love, like truth and beauty, is concrete. Love is not fundamentally a sweet feeling; not, at heart, a matter of sentiment, attachment, or being 'drawn toward'. Love is active, effective, a matter of making reciprocal and mutually beneficial relation with one's friends and enemies. Love creates righteousness, or justice, here on earth. To make love is to make justice. As advocates and activists for justice know, loving involves struggle, resistance, risk. People working today on behalf of women, blacks, lesbians and gay men, the aging, the poor in this country and elsewhere know that making justice is not a warm, fuzzy experience. I think also that sexual lovers and good friends know that the most compelling relationships demand hard work, patience and a willingness to endure tensions and anxiety in creating mutually empowering bonds.

For this reason loving involves commitment. We are not automatic lovers of self, others, world, or God. Love does not just happen. We are not love machines, puppets on the strings of a deity called "love: Love is a choice -- not simply, or necessarily, a rational choice, but rather a willingness to be present to others without pretense of guile. Love is a conversion to humanity -- a willingness to participate with others in the healing of a broken world and broken lives. Love is the choice to experience life as a member of the human family, a partner in the dance of life, rather than as an alien in the world or as a deity above the world, aloof and apart from human flesh."

Today we acknowledge that what you most sincerely must be about in this state is the love of our elders, our sisters and brothers, our children and grandchildren.

When we look around us or listen to the news we hear of the thousands of homeless in Washington; we hear about the multitudes of children who go hungry each day; we hear about those who do not have adequate healthcare and are without jobs or the opportunity for employment; we hear about the reality that almost 25% of our children never graduate from high school.

Yes, we have deep and serious problems in our state. But as Barbara Jordan said, it is the linkage of humanity which has to solve the problem. You have come together to link your individual talents and gifts to solve the problems of our people. It is by your love in its deepest and most profound meaning that you will serve our people and will deserve the honor bestowed on you by these same people.

I want to thank you for committing yourselves to the service of the people of our state.

In your dedication to this democracy we all find hope for the future.

In your commitment to honestly and justly meet the needs of our people we trust in a better world.

In your hard work and struggles with difficult decisions we find hope that our society with men and women, blacks, asians, hispanics, and whites can come to trust each other and work together for the benefit of all peoples.

May the God who sustains and nourishes all life comfort you in your struggles for justice, challenge you to always hold the common good in your heart and find you at the end of each day closer to that reality of love which Carter Heyward spoke of in her writings.

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"Assembly" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the assembly in accordance with Article 2 § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing or select committee of the house as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous assembly to call the assembly to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each assembly: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding assembly: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) In appointing the committee members to standing committees, the speaker shall name members in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties in the house. Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs. Members of the rules committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the speaker shall serve as the chair of the rules committee. Other committee memberships shall be selected by the respective caucuses, unless otherwise provided by law, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the selection of other committee members.

(H) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches and clerks perform their respective duties.

(I) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall employ, upon the recommendation of the employment committee and subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

Admittance to the Floor

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

(A) Except as provided otherwise in subsection (B) of this rule, the following persons shall be entitled to admittance to the third and fourth floor of the house chamber (excluding the galleries):

1. Senate officers and members of the senate.
2. Persons in the exercise of official duty directly connected with the business of the house.
3. Reporters who have been designated by the speaker and who have received press cards of admittance, subject to revocation.

4. Former members of the legislature not advocating any pending or proposed legislation, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker and subject to revocation.

5. The immediate family of members, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker or speaker pro tempore and subject to revocation, may be admitted when the house is not in session.

6. Other persons, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker and subject to revocation, may be admitted except for one-half hour prior to the convening of each day's session and for one-half hour immediately following adjournment each day the house is in session.

(B) No lobbyist, Washington state employee or public official shall be admitted to the house chamber either when the house is in session or one-half hour immediately prior to convening and one-half hour following the adjournment of its daily session, except with the consent of the speaker.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced on the next working day, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing thirty (30) days before any session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the assembly shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the assembly.

Amendatory Bills - Form

Rule 10. Bills intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words underlined which are amendatory to such existing statutes. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by lining out such matter with a broken line and enclosing the lined out material within double parentheses. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule have been complied with.

New sections need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION.".

Reading of Bills

Rule 11. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee or committees. Bills referred to more than one committee shall be considered consecutively by the committees in the order set forth in the referral motion.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee. However, bills referred to more than one committee, upon being reported out of committee, shall be transmitted to the next committee as set forth in the referral motion.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. No bill shall be considered for second reading unless a calendar of bills for second reading and copies of any amendment made by a committee have been distributed to each member no later than 8:00 p.m. on the second day preceding such consideration unless otherwise directed by the rules committee. No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed.

A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading. If a bill on the suspension calendar has been reported by more than one committee, the question for consideration by the house shall be as directed by the rules committee.

(F) FLOOR RESOLUTIONS. Floor resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. The rules committee may adopt floor resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule 12. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule 11(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion to non-concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. All amendments to the title of a bill, which do not amend the subject matter statement may be adopted by a single motion.

Final Passage

Rule 13. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(B) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(C) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule 14. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at 11:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule 22(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule 15. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. The rules committee shall have charge of the daily calendar of the house and shall direct the chief clerk of the order in which the business of the house shall be: PROVIDED, That:

(1) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.

(2) Messages from the senate, governor or other state officials may be read at any time.

(B) ORDER OF BUSINESS. Business shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor and other state officials.

Fifth: Committee reports.

Sixth: Second reading of bills.

Seventh: Third reading of bills.

Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.

Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.

Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.

Eleventh: Announcements.

The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.

(C) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

Motions

Rule 16. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

Adjourn
Adjourn to a time certain Recess to a time certain Reconsider
Demand for division
Question of privilege
Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

First rank: Question of consideration
Second rank: To lay on the table
Third rank: For the previous question
Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain
 To commit or recommit
 To postpone indefinitely
Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

Points of order and appeal
Method of consideration

Suspension of the rules
Reading papers
Withdraw a motion
Division of a question

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. No motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, to postpone indefinitely being decided shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 23.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Rule 17. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with rule 19 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 18. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall be submitted to.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 19. The previous question may be ordered on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 20. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question in which that member is immediately or particularly interested*.

*"A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon." (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule 21. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the original vote was taken.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

Call of the House

Rule 22. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house or a motion to excuse absentees. The motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof.

(D) CALL OF HOUSE RAISED WHEN ABSENTEES RETURN. When the sergeant at arms shall make a report showing that all who were absent without leave are present, the call of the house may be dispensed with.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 23. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

Rule 24. The standing committees of the house and the number of members that shall serve on each committee shall be as follows:

1. Agriculture & Rural Development 10
2. Appropriations 27
3. Capital Budget 15
4. Commerce & Labor 9
5. Corrections 9
6. Education 19
7. Energy & Utilities 9
8. Environmental Affairs 12
9. Financial Institutions & Insurance 16
10. Fisheries & Wildlife 9
11. Health Care 16
12. Higher Education 18
13. Human Services 11
14. Judiciary 17
15. Local Government 12
16. Natural Resources & Parks 11
17. Revenue 16
18. Rules 19
19. State Government 9
20. Trade, Economic Development & Housing 12
21. Transportation 25

Duties of Committees

Rule 25. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass", "do pass as amended" or that "the substitute be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) Minority reports "do not pass" or "without recommendation" may be submitted with the majority report. Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a different recommendation, which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report and spread upon the journal. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage. For purposes of this subsection, "fiscal committee" means the appropriations, capital facilities and financing, revenue, and transportation committees.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

Free Conference Committee Report

Rule 26. No floor vote may be taken on any free conference report within twenty-four (24) hours of its placement on each member's desk, unless the free conference committee made no changes in the bill as it was last acted upon by the house.

Vetoed Bills

Rule 27. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the assembly, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule 28. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since his sentencing shall be forthwith paid to him, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 29. Any standing rule or order of the house may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof.

Any standing rule of order or business may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, bill reading may be advanced by majority vote. (Rule 11)

Smoking

Rule 30. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the House of Representatives or within the House Chamber.

"No smoking" signs shall be posted in all committee rooms of the House of Representatives.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 31. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Rules to Apply for Assembly

Rule 32. The permanent house rules adopted at the beginning of the assembly are to govern all acts of the house during the course of the assembly unless amended or repealed.

MOTION

Representative Hine moved adoption of House Resolution No. 93-4600. Representatives Hine and Ballard spoke in favor of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 93-4600 was adopted.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The Chief Clerk announced that nominations were in order for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Representative Franklin: Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk, I place the name of Representative Brian Ebersole as nominated. Brian Ebersole came to the Legislature with the class of '82. Over the years as my representative from the Twenty-Ninth Legislative District I was able to observe and monitor his abilities and behavior in the district setting. He was always well versed, sensitive to others, and able to articulate the issues for those he represented in a clear manner. He was always open and listened carefully to what was being said. His educational background is that which deals with children. He has worked in Tacoma Public Schools with troubled youths and dropouts. He developed a keen sensitivity to the needs of our common schools as well as higher education. Brian has never shown a fear of accepting responsibility and a need for a firm and a consistently sensitive approach to resolving conflicts. He is a good listener and a keen practitioner of consensus building. His calm approach at times may seem to be an error of aloofness; however, it is not, but rather someone who is digesting and dissecting and thinking about what can be done to correct the problem or resolve the issue at hand. He cares deeply about the people of his district and about the people of Washington State. Brian is a thinker, a consensus builder, and has a strong compassion for others. Brian has served as Chair of the House Education Committee, and the past five years, as Majority Leader. As we face the challenges of the future and the areas of health reform, education reform, the creation of jobs, the protection of our environment, meet the needs of our children, protect our communities, to name a few, I feel confident that with Representative Brian Ebersole at the helm and we as committed care-persons, this body will be in good hands.

Representative Wang: It is my privilege to rise to second the nomination of Representative Brian Ebersole as Speaker today. I've had the opportunity to know Brian for years starting with his role as counselor in the Tacoma Public Schools and you can see how he's developed that kind of soft spoken approach and made it work well over the years in working with people. Those kind of people skills. I also served with him on the Education Committee and after the first few years when he chaired the Education Committee and he's been Majority Leader since 1987 I believe. One of the things that is characteristic about Brian is his rapid rise through the process, education Chair in second term, Majority Leader after the term after that, and with his political skills people sometimes don't take notice and give recognition to the substitute issues and the way in which Representative Ebersole has been a leader on many important issues. When he first was elected, one of his first major bills was the Housing Finance Commission, the bill which was languishing for years where legislators were unable to pass it. Brian got it passed in his first term and ever since then it has done much to help people struggling to buy homes and to acquire housing throughout this state. He chaired the Education Committee. He worked in the whole area of kindergarten through twelfth grade education and was successful in many of the reforms and many efforts he put forth there. He was one of the first of leading pioneers in the application of the branch campuses consistently on a statewide basis for helping all parts of the state; and of course he worked on things like the drug bill dealing with the drug problems we've had; and last year an unsung kind of role working with the juvenile justice issue and spending a lot of time through the whole interim, attending meetings and working and developing that kind of substance issue. But, perhaps the best example is in vocational education. Vocational, meaning where Brian has been willing to take an area little recognized, where there's been relatively little glory and been willing to tackle a tough issue with entrenching interest, of tackling an issue which is important to our future and yet where there has been relatively little glory involved and a lot of controversy, and Brian has been successful in dealing with substance issues of that sort. It's significant that in one of the papers today Brian listed who his political hero would be, and he said "Al Gore Sr." the elder statesman, and I can see why. The former Senator Gore was a man of the people like Brian, who puts an uncommon degree of common sense, and yes, he was the type of person who could even get a C+ in bowling. He was the person, though, who had courage and who, as a matter of principle, would be willing to do what's right and stand up for what's right. It was the kind of thing, that kind of ability which made Al Gore Sr. a folk hero in Tennessee, where Brian is from. With his recent wife, Lillian, I hope that Brian has entered a new phase of life and will lead us well. I'm very proud and honored to second the nomination of Brian Ebersole for Speaker.

Representative Appelwick: Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk. I rise in great pride to offer a second for the nomination of Brian Ebersole. I've known Brian for ten years as freshman colleagues, as sometime roommates, as friends, I've served on the Education Committee when he chaired that committee and worked with him as Assistant Majority Leader so I've seen up close the roles he's played and how he's handled them. On the Education Committee he had a very charming manner and Representative Betrozoff isn't with us today to second my remarks, but I can assure you that his quick smile and openness were very disarming and he set an example of how to lead a bi-partisan committee rather than simply march a caucus across a political terrain. He has the tremendous sense of compassion and social justice and I don't think I've seen that any place better than the omnibus drug bill. You recall we went off with the gang of eight to decide how we were going to handle this very volatile topic and in that gang of eight which Brian was co-chairing he set the tenets that we would focus on prevention and intervention as well as punishment; that we would focus on education and treatment as well as incarceration. His tremendously broad point of view became critical to a national model in how to deal with the drug problem. It's that commitment to justice, that broadness in point of view that has served him so well. As Majority Leader no one can question the openness, the fairness, the candor, and the genuine compassion for other members of the human level of both sides of the isle in working with us. It's with great pride that I second the nomination of my friend, the gentleman from the 29th District, Brian Ebersole.

Representative Miller: Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk, I place the name of Clyde Ballard from the 12th District before you for Speaker of the House of Representatives. Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk and returning and new members of the House of Representatives. Now as you question the fact that I do not know how to count votes, I do know how to count votes and my members will tell you and I know I need to get just seventeen of you to go along with this proposal but I want to give you a reason why you should do it. First of all, this seems to be the year of change and certainly since 1982 we haven't seen such a large new numbers come, but Representative Ebersole, Representative Ballard and I were all members of that class of 1982, as was Representative Locke. Now I do remember that at one time we toyed with the idea, didn't follow it through, but we toyed with the idea of taking over; there we were forty-four of us out of ninety-eight. So I think that one of the things that we need in this year's change is experience, a steady hand at the helm, and one thing that the new members may not be aware of is that Representative Ballard is the only top leader in the Legislature who is a returning leader, somebody who has served in the capacity of top leader before. In the Senate on both the Republican and the Democrat side we have new people and it appears as if I can't convince those seventeen people we will have a brand new Speaker, not someone who's unfamiliar with leadership. Brian and I have worked together very closely over the last two years and I agree with you that he is an easy person to work with, and somebody that looks for a consensus. But I think we need an experienced hand at the helm and I think the members of my caucus will tell you that Clyde is a very steady, very ethical person with a long history of patience in working with all different kinds of people, somebody who has the energy - it takes lots of energy to do this job, long hours, much work throughout the whole year - he certainly has that, he certainly has the support of his members and I know the support of many people on the other side of the aisle. Clyde has been a very responsible leader in working as a leader of the loyal opposition, as I hope you will feel, we have all been members of the loyal opposition, and have worked together very well with the majority party, and we certainly intend to do that in the future. But I think that Clyde has special qualities that would be very helpful to the leadership of this body. We have a lot of tough problems to deal with, and we need somebody with the experience, with the integrity, and with a genuine love of people and the issues of our state to carry us forward into the next two years. Once again, I seek your support for Representative Clyde Ballard for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Representative Tate: Yes, Mr. Chief Clerk, I second the nomination. Thank you Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of the House, distinguished guests, Mom and Dad. I move to second the nomination of Clyde Ballard for Speaker of the House of Representatives here in the State of Washington. Now, we've heard a lot of talk about legislative skills, but I'd like to talk about Clyde Ballard as a person. Now, I've gotten to know Clyde Ballard over the last four years, and as you can see, it's like roosters right up there in the gallery, and they are a team, they're always working together. And he's a good family man, and he's got a model marriage that we should all follow. He's a good father; he's raised three successful sons. But he's also been a business man, and I don't know how many of you know what business Clyde was in, but he ran an ambulance service, and medical services. And in that line of work, he learned to have certain kinds of skills; how to be calm under pressure when shots are going on around your head, and to be the one that shows up on time, gets the job done, not looking for glory, but just doing the job. And that's the kind of person Clyde Ballard is. Now, we're going to need those kinds of skills in the next two years, we're going to have all kinds of issues. We're going to have to balance the budget. We're going to have to reform our health care system and make it more accessible and affordable, get folks off of welfare and help them be responsible and break that cycle of dependency. There are a lot of test issues facing us. Clyde Ballard has those kinds of skills: calm, showing up, getting the job done, not looking for glory and working with everyone to make sure it gets done. That's the kind of person we need as the Speaker of the House, and I would urge you to follow my lead. I know it's kind of a done deal - it says, 'Speaker of the House' on here already, it says, 'Brian Ebersole,' but I hope you'll follow my lead, and those seventeen folks will vote their conscience. Thank You.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Hine, nominations for Speaker of the House were closed.

SPEAKER'S ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

The Speaker: Thank you Rosa, and Arthur, and Marlin, for your generous remarks. This is a humbling day for me.

A wise man once said that "democracy is based upon the conviction that there are extraordinary possibilities in ordinary people." Let's all hope that is true of me.

I would like to acknowledge my wife Lillian, her sister Sonja Reid, and Paul Shelton, my friend from high school and college who has come from Tennessee to be here today. I would also like to thank all of you for the confidence in me expressed by your vote.

This is a day for new beginnings. For you thirty-seven new members, today marks the beginning of a new adventure. We welcome you. We welcome your fresh ideas, and we welcome your commitment to change and improvement in our state's public life. But I think everyone should understand that today is the opening of a new era for all of us--veterans and newcomers alike.

For every one of us, today marks a new beginning that was mandated by this state's voters last November. They want change. They don't want excuses, delays, or partisan posturing. They want solutions. They know we can't go spending one out of every seven dollars generated in this state on health care. They believe that it is not morally acceptable to continue to deny health care to thousands of working people, or to take money away from education in order to pay for health care inflation.

They know that our public schools have been surpassed by our international competitors, and that we have to move heaven and earth to make our schools better than they have ever been before. They understand that the seventy percent of our young people who don't go to college have to have better job training if they're going to make wages that can support a family. And they know that our budget crisis is not just a problem of government, but a problem of people--a problem whose solution will affect us all. The people of this state expect us to solve these problems--not just talk about them. And the people of this state want each one of us to work for the common good--not the special interests, and not our own political interests.

The citizens of Washington want us to think in new ways, to be open to new ideas, and to put practical solutions ahead of partisan ideology. To live up to their expectations, we will have to give up the ideological preconceptions that have become a substitute for clear thinking. It has always been easier to pick an ideology than to think. And the unfortunate truth is that our political life has, in the past, been dominated by labels more than by real intellectual labor. The labels "conservative" and "liberal" are like package deals that include automatic steering, power locks, and cruise control. It doesn't take skill or intelligence to drive that car; all you do is just push buttons. It even comes with pre-set controls that give you automatic positions on every issue. But that kind of mechanical ideological response to problems has polarized American politics in a way that is neither useful nor sustainable-- and in a way that is simply not reflective of the real concerns of most citizens. In fact, it has driven American democracy perilously close to the edge of a cliff. Our constituents know this, and they want us to turn off the cruise control, get out of the car, and walk a mile or two in their shoes. They base their political judgements less on ideology, and more on personal values. And as a result, they are way ahead of us on many issues. The vast majority of them are not interested in hearing us have endless debates about the death penalty. They want us to craft policies that effectively prevent and reduce crime. The vast majority of them are also not interested in polarized debates about whether people on welfare deserve more help or less help from government. Our citizens almost universally want to help families in need -- but they want us to invest their tax dollars in ways that help people become self-sufficient, not just spend on endless dependency.

The vast majority of our citizens are not interested in theories about whether we should have more government or less government--they just want better government. They want government to be accountable, compassionate, efficient, and future-oriented. They want to know that every tax dollar that comes out of their pockets is spent wisely and well. And they want us to make decisions based on people's needs, not party affiliation. That's why I want to begin this session by making two specific requests of every House member. First, I want original, independent, and creative thinking from each of you. We can't solve today's problems if we are confined by last year's programmed responses. We have no choice but to search for new ideas and ways of doing things so that we can make our government more entrepreneurial, more responsive, more accountable, and more driven by results instead of rules and regulations. Second, I want all of us to reject polarization and political labels. Finding the balance -- the way that bring people together, solves the problems, and focuses on the values we hold in common -- is the way forward. Finding balance requires not less political courage, but more political courage. It requires us to reject false either/or choices. It requires acknowledging that on many issues, conservatives and liberals each have a piece of the truth, and neither has the whole truth. It requires finding new ways of making the pieces fit together. Most important, it requires a new set of navigational tools. In this session -- and in this new political era -- we have to navigate not by old ideological guideposts, but by the fundamental values of American democracy. What our constituents value is hard work, decency, compassion, honesty, openness, and appreciation of differences. And what the people value most of all is our children, and our shared responsibility to leave them a healthy natural world, a healthy, well-educated society, and a healthy economy. How well we represent the people of this state will be measured by how well we embody those values in our relations with each other, and by how well we incorporate those values in our budget, and in our reforms of our health care and education systems. The people of this state -- and the budget crisis of this state -- have handed us enormous challenges. We have no time to waste, and no margin for error. That's why I am so delighted to see both the caliber and the diversity of the Members of this chamber. We have the largest proportion of women lawmakers of any state in this nation. We have our country's first Korean-American legislator, and our first Filipina-American legislator. We have breadth, and depth, and real representation of the people of our state. I know that you are a group of leaders who can be counted on to nourish and protect our democratic traditions, and I know that this group of human souls will struggle together to ensure that justice and opportunity belong to every citizen of our state. And I know that each of you has the intelligence, the knowledge, and the commitment to do this well. I am grateful for your willingness to serve, and I wish you all -- newcomers and veterans alike -- both success and satisfaction in the vital work we are about to begin. Thank you.

POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. Ballard: Thank you Mr. Speaker. May I offer congratulations from myself and the House Republican Caucus on your election to Speaker of the House.

I must admit that your election to Speaker comes as somewhat of a shock to me because last August I called Jeanne Dixon personally and she predicted that she and I were both going to be elected to new offices in the 1992 elections. Maybe it was the wrong Jeanne Dixon!

As we begin the Fifty-Third Legislature of the State of Washington, I would like to reflect for a moment on the dramatic changes that have occurred in just the last two years.

Washington State has become a leader in this country in election of women to Congress, statewide elected offices, and legislative offices. A new Governor, Speaker of the House, Auditor, Attorney General, Insurance Commissioner, Commissioner of Public Lands...and one of the largest freshmen classes in the history of the House of Representatives are taking office this week. And for the first time in half a century, the very distinguished John L. O'Brien did not answer the House roll call. This is an exciting time for all of us. But it is also a very challenging time for us.

Our state's economy is ailing, and there is no miracle cure. Unemployment rates continue to grow, as does the number of businesses filing for bankruptcy. Federal and state restrictions have unwittingly eliminated jobs in communities that are traditionally dependent on a single industry. Everything appears to be overcrowded: classrooms, colleges, prisons, highways, courts. Many senior citizens' benefits don't cover basic needs. Working citizens are expected to support more and more of the state's nonworking population.

I know that all of us, as we campaigned during the 1992 election cycle, heard the pleas of the citizens in our own districts. People want job opportunity. They want their children to receive quality education. They want their neighborhoods, their friends, their families, to be safe. They want their aging parents to be able to live with dignity and be assured quality of life.

They want to ensure that their children will inherit a world that is not drowning in unrealistic restrictions, that is not encumbered by debt that we have bequeathed to them. The people of this state listened to our election promises. They elected us because they believed that we were sincere in those promises.

As we move through the 105 days of this legislative session, I ask that all of us take time to step back from the rhetoric, step back from frantic rush to deadlines, step back from political one-up-man-ship, do a personal "reality check."

Ask yourself...'is this what I promised my constituents? Is this why I was really elected? Am I here to serve, or am I serving myself?' We hold the future in our hands, in our votes, in remembering, and fulfilling, our campaign promises.

I assure you, and the people of the State of Washington, that the House Republican Caucus members are here to work with you, to eliminate waste in government, to preserve and promote a healthy business climate, to honestly and judiciously evaluate our educational system, and to create a system that values the safety of law-abiding citizens over the comforts of criminals.

It will be no surprise that at times, we will not agree on solutions to particular problems. The House Republican Caucus will be presenting our positions. But, we will do so in a spirit of problem solving. We look forward to a challenging and rewarding session, and invite the House Democratic Caucus to work with us to accomplish mutual goals.

Congratulations once again to you, Mr. Speaker. Let's get to work.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The Speaker announced that nominations were now in order for Speaker Pro Tempore.

Representative Dorn: Thank You, Mr. Speaker. It gives me great honor and pleasure to place in nomination the name of Ron Meyers for the position of Speaker Pro Tempore. Members of the House, honored guests, and for those unfortunate few in the rotunda, watching on the T.V. screen. Representative Meyers, as a colleague has been professional, in every means on the rostrum over the last two years. He was taught by a master, or should I say maybe the master of the rostrum in John O'Brien, who is not here with us today. His experience is exemplary. He's been fair in dealing with members on both sides of the aisle and on all issues. The one thing I like about Ron going to leadership is through his years in this House he's been willing to question leadership at times, and ask is that the true direction of all people in this House, and all people in the state of Washington? Also, at points, when there's stress on the floor, when we've needed a moment of humor, Ron has also been able to add the lightness of humor or a kind word when somebody has stepped to their microphone at the wrong time, and has been polite to those people also. Ron is a person who has been a close friend, who has been a decent human being, as when I've talked to him, he's been understanding when I've come to him with my point of view. Ron is not an easy-going person though, so to approach Ron in an aggressive manner, I would say to you approach Ron in a very casual manner, not an aggressive manner. That aggressive manner may be returned to you, in your face, as Ron would say. At this time, I would like all people to stand with me and support Ron as Speaker Pro Tempore.

Representative Ballard: Thank You, Mr. Speaker. I rise to second the nomination of Ron Meyers. Mr. Speaker, Honorable Justice, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, and honored guests, it is my pleasure to second the nomination of Representative Ron Meyers for Speaker Pro Tempore. Representative Meyers has had considerable experience with the gavel during the past few sessions and I am pleased to say that his rulings are usually fair and impartial. Ron is a man of integrity, one who represents the Institution, and thus represents the rights of each and every member of the House to be heard. But he also recognizes the difference between debate and argument, and maintains control of the floor proceedings accordingly. His knowledge of parliamentary practice enables this body to perform its duties in a logical and expeditious fashion. Representative Meyers will serve admirably and fairly as Speaker Pro Tempore of the House of Representatives.

MOTIONS

On motion of Representative Hine, the nominations for Speaker Pro Tempore were closed.

On motion of Representative Hine, a unanimous ballot was cast for Representative R. Meyers as Speaker Pro Tempore of the House.

COMMITTEE OF HONOR

The Speaker appointed Representatives Dorn and Ballard to escort Speaker Pro Tempore R. Meyers to the rostrum.

Chief Justice Anderson administered the oath of office to Speaker Pro Tempore R. Meyers.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE R. MEYERS

Representative R. Meyers: Mr. Speaker, Members of the House of Representatives, Acting Chief Justice, distinguished guests, family and friends. Thank you my friends for this honor. I will do my best. And thanks to my bride, Donna Lee, she truly believes that all things are possible.

Although our challenges are perhaps the greatest this state has faced since statehood - and although our many decisions on public policies - and allocation of scarce resources will be very difficult - I have no doubt that our efforts will make Washington State a better place for all who live here.

Our state has not seen a more capable, more energetic and more diversified group of legislators in its 104 years of statehood. That bodes well for Washington's future.

One person can make a difference. And many people working together can make a big difference.

I look forward to working together with you over the course of this Fifty-Third Legislative term. Thank you.

The Speaker instructed the committee of honor to escort Speaker Pro Tempore Meyers to his seat on the floor of the House.

ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK

The Speaker announced that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Representative Morris: Thank you Mr. Speaker. It is a special treat for me today to place a nomination for the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, the man from my own 18th legislative district, Mr. Alan Thompson. Thank you again Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and members of the gallery. It is time when we're awash with change, with new members, with new leadership, with a changed electorate, with new voters. It is good that we have some constancy and that is what we will find with Alan Thompson as our Chief Clerk. Alan has spent a number of years in the House and the Senate and six years as the Chief Clerk. He first came to Olympia from a small town in Washington, Castle Rock, in 1965. For those of you that are new and don't know the duties of the Chief Clerk, the Chief Clerk runs the mechanics of the place. If we didn't have the Chief Clerk we would find how ineffective we really are as a group. Mr. Thompson, who has performed this responsibility for the last six years with expediency and grace, is a man who is soft spoken, tough minded, even-handed and an able administrator, a man who generates respect from others and who himself has respect not only for the Legislature, but for the institution and the history of the Legislature. I urge your support for Alan Thompson.

Representative Padden: Thank you Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, and those in the galleries. It does give me great deal of pride to second the nomination of an individual who is from Castle Rock, Washington. As we mentioned, he has a long history in this institution on this side of the rotunda and on the other side of the rotunda. Actually he's running for re-election and I don't know, but Mr. Clerk, does term limits apply to the Chief Clerk or not? I don't know that, but as long as he is re-elected by this body he can hold that position. He has represented both the 18th and 19th Districts in the Legislature and has been an individual that does have a memory about what goes on here in these halls and I was doing a little research going back to check out his legislative career and I ran across a resolution that he was a number two sponsor on, Resolution 82-137. It has something to do with the murals and if you would like to get a copy of it, I have one here, but I won't go into the whole resolution right now. Seriously, Alan has always had an open door policy and while we have not always agreed on everything, he was always willing to hear out every member and he is the Chief Clerk not just for one side of the aisle but for the entire 98 members of this body; and I think he's proven that he has the ability to work very well with people and there's been a lot of changes this institution has gone through in recent years, just as we know now we can't (not that I ever did), we can't smoke in this institution, so there's a lot of changes that have gone on. I think he has done an admirable job and I'm happy to second his nomination.

MOTIONS

On motion of Representative Hine, the nominations for Chief Clerk be closed.

On motion of Representative Hine, a unanimous ballot was cast for Mr. Thompson as Chief Clerk of the House.

REMARKS BY CHIEF CLERK THOMPSON

Mr. Thompson: Thank you, Justice Anderson. It might be known, but Justice Anderson once served here, but he was known as Jimmy in those days. Representative Morris and Padden, thank you very much for your nominating comments. You were unexpectedly kind. My thanks for the whole house for this opportunity and honor to continue to serve you. These acknowledgments must of course include some recognition of my wife, Barbara, for her approval of my continuing for yet another two years in this association and with your indulgence I would like to request that she and one of my four sons, Jim, rise and be recognized by the House. Other than this, I simply want you to know that I share in the wishes of our entire wonderful House staff in wishing you every success in dealing with the truly difficult matters that confront the Legislature and I share in their readiness to be tirelessly helpful to you. Thank you again.

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

The Speaker appointed Representatives Appelwick and Foreman to escort Chief Justice James A. Anderson and acting Chief Justice Barbara Durham of the Supreme Court from the House Chamber.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Hine, the house will advance to the eighth order of business.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4601, by Representatives Hine and Ballard

MOTION

On motion of Representative Hine, the bills, memorials and resolutions listed on today's introduction sheet under the fourth order of business were referred to the committees so designated.

JOINT SESSION

The Sergeants at Arms announced the arrival of the Senate at the bar of the House.

The Speaker (Mr. R. Meyers presiding) instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the House and Senate to escort the President of the Senate Joel Pritchard, President Pro Tempore Lorraine Wojahn, Vice-President Pro Tempore Al Williams, Majority Leader Marc Gaspard, and Minority Leader George Sellar to seats on the rostrum.

The Speaker (Mr. R. Meyers presiding) invited the Senators to seats within the House chamber.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Basich, Valle, Stevens and Schoesler and Senators Niemi, Quigley, Roach and McCaslin as a special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Bray, Scott, Van Luven and Cooke and Senators Snyder, Sheldon, Smith and Oke as a special committee to escort the elected officials from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

The Speaker is pleased to introduce His Excellency, the Consul General of Korea, Mr. Hae Soon Lee, the former Consul of Chile, Mr. Kerry Monterey, and Mr. Donald Brody, Consul General from Malawi, and Mrs. Brody.

The Speaker introduced the Supreme Court Justices present, Chief Justice James A. Andersen, Justices Charles Z. Smith, Robert Brachtenbach, Charles Johnson, Barbara Madsen, Barbara Durham, Robert Utter, and Richard Guy.

The Speaker greeted the outgoing, incoming and continuing state elected officials, State Auditor Robert Graham, State Attorney General Ken Eikenberry, Commissioner of Public Lands Brian J. Boyle, Insurance Commissioner Richard Marquardt, Auditor-elect Brian Sonntag, Attorney General-elect Christine Gregoire, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Judith Billings, Commissioner of Public Lands-elect Jennifer Belcher, Insurance Commissioner-elect Deborah Senn and Secretary of State Ralph Munro.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Hine, Sommers and Grant to escort Congresswoman Maria Cantwell to her place on the rostrum.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Anderson and Schmidt and Senators Jesernig and Anderson as a special committee to advise His Excellency, Governor Booth Gardner, that the Joint Session had assembled and to escort him from his Chamber to the House of Representatives.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Dorn and Miller and Senators Vognild and Prince as a special committee to escort Governor-elect Mike Lowry from the State Reception Room to the House Chamber.

REMARKS BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker called the Joint Session to order.

The Clerk of the House called the roll of the House.

The Clerk of the Senate called the roll of the Senate and all members were present except Senators Niemi and L. Smith.

The Speaker: This joint session has more than one purpose. It has been called to hear the State of the State Address of the Governor. This occasion also provides the legislature with the most appropriate opportunity to recognize retired and retiring state officials for their long and distinguished service to the state of Washington. The Joint Session also complies with the constitutional requirement to canvass the vote for the constitutional elective offices of the state of Washington.

For this latter purpose the clerk will read the message from the Secretary of State.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand, and affixed the Seal of the state of Washington, this 11th day of January, 1993.
(Seal)

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State.

Mr. Speaker: In view of the election results just read, certified by the Secretary of State, and to which there have been no protests, this joint session now declares the following qualified citizens to be elected in accordance with the constitution of the State of Washington:

Mike Lowry Governor
 Joel Pritchard Lt. Governor
 Ralph Munro Secretary of State
 Dan Grimm State Treasurer
 Brian Sonntag State Auditor
 Christine Gregoire Attorney General
 Judith Billings Supt. of Public Instruction
 Jennifer Belcher Commissioner of Public Lands
 Deborah Senn Insurance Commissioner

Mr. Speaker: Having discharged the constitutional requirement imposed upon the Speaker of the House, it is now my pleasure to call upon the President of the Senate Joel Pritchard to preside over the Joint Session.

The Speaker presented the gavel to President Pritchard.

Mr. President: Thank You, Brian. Well it's a joyous occasion. We have a new start. We have a lot of new faces. We have the same old artwork, but as the Speaker has announced, this occasion provides all of us with the opportunity to recognize all friends who are leaving office after long and effective service to the state of Washington.

For this part of the program I am going to call upon Secretary of State Ralph Munro to join me and the speaker in making presentations to these distinguished individuals.

Secretary Munro, will you please make the first introduction.

Secretary Munro: Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, long time Insurance Commissioner for our state, Mr. Dick Marquardt, former Senator from north Seattle and the Director of the Washington State Selective Service Commission. Commissioner Marquardt was first elected in 1976. Under his leadership, Washington became the first state to outlaw low benefit, high-cost life insurance, including the so-called funeral plans. The rules survived all court challenges by insurance companies, even to the state supreme court. The Commissioner's crusade against deceptive television advertising and misleading cold-lead insurance mail marketing to get prospect's names has won national acclaim from consumer groups in 1987 and 1988. The Commissioner's senior health insurance benefit's advisors, commonly called SHIBA, a volunteer program of the first of the kind in the Nation, and it's a model for a new federal grant program establishing similar ideas and plans in 49 states. Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, I give you the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Washington, the Honorable Richard Marquardt.

Mr. Marquardt: Well, it's a wonderful thrill to have served the public for these past sixteen years. You folks have been very cooperative with my office, and I thank you. And I'd like to ask that same cooperation for my successor. Thank you, again.

Secretary Munro: Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, He studied at the Montana School of Mines and earned his tuition each summer working as a hard rock miner himself. He went on to the University of Portland and then to the University of Chicago. Mr. Brian Boyle, formerly a Cowlitz county commissioner, was elected as our Public Lands Commissioner in 1980. Under his leadership, the department of Natural Resources has achieved many milestones, including the Timber, Fish, Wildlife Agreement, the Commission on old-growth alternatives, and the Olympic experimental state forest. Establishing a network of natural area preserves and natural resource conservation areas created the aquatic lands enhancement account which gives us aquatic lands lease payments for public access trails, restoration of estuaries, and improvement of beaches and boater access. And lastly, a state landscape which will be better because of his work. Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, I present to you our Washington State Commissioner of Public Lands, Mr. Brian Boyle.

Mr. Boyle: Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Mr. President. It's interesting to be here twelve years later, and realize how I sat there, kind of in awe of this room in 1980 as the new state elected officials are today. It's also interesting, and I think it's a mark of progress, that a Commissioner of Public Lands could show up wearing canary yellow. And there is a substantial difference in the make-up, and I suspect, in the temperament of the new elected officials, and I wish you well. I think it's a mark of progress that those of us who recognize our time has passed, step aside, and make room for other progressive ideas. And you should remember that Voltaire, when asked to eulogize someone that he detested, said that he was a great writer, a statesman, a wonderful husband and father, and I'll say that all, presuming that he's actually dead. And we should remember that those of us who claim that we've accomplished things through leadership sometimes have had to step aside, because it's really the followers that provide the leadership, and we've had to step aside to make room for them. And one of the things that I have enjoyed, and I hope you as new legislators do, is that the caliber of people in state government as state employees is incredibly high, and they're incredibly dedicated to the quality of living in the state of Washington. Thank you.

Secretary Munro: Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, Mr. Ken Eikenberry, Washington State's Fourteenth Attorney General, born and educated in the Wenatchee valley, a law degree from the University of Washington, Deputy Prosecutor for King County, an Agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. For three terms he worked in this room as a member of the House of Representatives. Attorney General Eikenberry has now served twelve years as our Attorney General. Appointed on numerous occasions by the White House to National Commissions, Ken Eikenberry is known for his consumer protection work. Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, I give you the Attorney General of the state of Washington, the honorable Ken Eikenberry.

Mr. Eikenberry: Well, thank you for this handsome memento, and this occasion. It's nice of the legislature and the officers to do this. I should start out by addressing Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of this joint session and ladies and gentlemen. I hope Mr. President, you don't mind, I'm not being disrespectful, but as a former House member, I always address the Speaker first. It has been a high honor and privilege to serve as the Attorney General for the people of our state, and to serve with you during the past twelve years. As a former House member, I do appreciate the pressures and the challenges that confront this body, and as you hammer out legislation designed to benefit the citizens of our state. And it's in that spirit that I want to comment and express appreciation for the attention and the amendments you've given to the consumer, and fair business practices of our state, to the attention you've given to improving the law on crime, particularly as it relates to sex predators, and to victims of crime, culminating in the amendment to our Constitution in 1989 on behalf of crime victims. And I'd like to close on the thought of the authority that was placed in the Office of the Attorney General by this body in 1981, giving it the responsibility of prosecuting certain kinds of crimes and offenses and investigating them. That has been a demonstration project for this body since that time, expanding into especially difficult kinds of prosecutions, such as murder cases in several counties, crimes against government agencies, like the reformatory at Monroe, racketeer influence in corrupt organization prosecutions, labor and industries, medical provider fraud cases, and that sort of thing. And I do suggest to you that this will be an area that you will look at expanding into as criminal activity does become more sophisticated and more difficult to prosecute in the future. But for today again, my appreciation to you, for the opportunity to work with you in crafting and designing these items of legislation, designed to benefit the citizens of our state. I thank you again for this occasion.

Secretary Munro: Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, Since statehood in 1889, our Washington state has only had seven constitutional Auditors. Robert E. Graham is the seventh, and was first elected to this position in November 1964. Previously he worked for Labor & Industries and the Budget office. This is his 47th year of state service. He received his education at Moclips High School in the Pacific Coast and Grays Harbor College. He and his lovely wife Loydine have been married for 47 years. Among his many accomplishments Auditor Bob Graham is developing nationally recognized fraud prevention and investigation programs. He has led the states in auditing electronic data processing systems and applying computer assistance audit techniques. He's provided direct leadership in the production of the state's first audited financial statements (in 1982, in 1987,) and each year since. The state has received a certificate of achievement for excellence in financial reporting from the Government Finance Officers Association which does comprehensive annual financial reports. Mr. Speaker and Mr. President, I present to you our Washington State Auditor for the last 28 years, the Honorable Bob Graham.

Mr. Graham: Well, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President and all of you esteemed elected officials and citizens present here, and family present here, I just want to say I can't really believe I'm hanging up a 50 year career at this particular point in time. But they do say that time passes swiftly when you're having fun and so that's been the case. As a matter of fact 28 years ago tomorrow I stood here and was sworn in as the seventh state Auditor of the state of Washington by Judge Ott and that seems phenomenal being in that position for 28 years. The interesting thing is the first four auditors served for just 16 years total, though there's been three of us old birds that have served for 88 years, which I think is probably a national precedent winning championship, as far as tenure in office. I really have a few thank yous I want to make today; one is to the people who have given me the opportunity to fulfill a youthful desire. I wrote in my high school annual that what I hoped to do when I graduated was to go to college and finish my education in either accounting or law and apply it in government. Nothing could have fit more than the office of state auditor, so that even in my youth I looked upon the possibility of my vocation being public service. The second thank you should go to the legislative body. I have maintained an office continuously in this building since May 1, 1948. The legislature has been a good host to allow me to keep an office here in the legislative building for all those years. I'm going to share a little secret with you. Not everybody believes that this is the legislative building. There are some here today in the Gallery, over here mainly, my children and my grand-children, who for a number of years thought this building was Daddy's Capital. In more contemporary history this building was known as Grandpa's Capital. So you have been good hosts. It's been said in the introduction that we have really brought accountability in full financial disclosure to the state of Washington during my tenure, and that's true. It's a good thing we did that with the Auditor's financial statements, because 2 years after we did that, (standard Employees's duties) came out with the ruling that unless the state had audited financial statement that they would do one of two things: either they wouldn't rate bonds at all or they would lower the ratings. So that bodes well for us in our bond rating in the state of Washington. I've always run the office feeling that I'm responsible to the people of this state who have elected me. I've been equally responsive to the state legislative body. The audits that we provide have been, I feel, tools to help this body do the work of managing the public purse and setting public policy. That is your role, and the state has been the beneficiary of the national recognition of the office of Auditor. We have that strong recognition of the financial audit area. But there's one area not yet addressed, however. The state of Washington is the only state in the nation where the auditor is precluded from doing performance audits. I think that is something that the legislature should look at and actually change the law preventing the auditor from performing that function. The law says that I can give information to this body at any time or make recommendations. So I'll use this parting shot to say that my recommendation is that you amend the law prohibiting the state auditor from doing performance audits because in so doing you will enhance the tool kit you need to do your work in the role that you have to play. You'll also be giving the citizens and taxpayers of this state the biggest bang for their buck. Let me just say in concluding that my career has been fulfilling. It most certainly has been satisfying and it has been satisfying because I think that the citizens of this state - one thing that they want most is the accountability of their government and that is what the office of auditor is all about. The late President, John Kennedy said something I'll paraphrase. He said, 'The most important thing that a government can have is the confidence of their people.' And it is my belief that the accountability role that the office of auditor plays in this state has given the citizens of this state some confidence in their government. So therein lies the satisfaction of my career and I just want to thank the people of the state for the opportunity to fill my youthful desire. And finally, I want to thank my family who have borne with me over these years, and particularly my wife Loydine to see that I've kept in line and to carry out the role of state auditor. It's been a great thing and I've enjoyed it very much. Thank you.

Secretary Munro: Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, The Governor of the State of Washington the Honorable Booth Gardner and his wonderful wife Jean, have led our state for the last eight years. Governor Gardner will be remembered for: Strong environmental legislation that will keep Washington livable far into the future, as in growth management, water resource management, oil-spill prevention, cleaner air, Puget sound clean-up, Hanford clean-up, hazardous waste clean-up, a plan to save the salmon. Improving education, as in early childhood education for all 4-year-olds, smaller class sizes, improved funding, school choice, and leadership toward educational reform. Setting the stage for health care reform to create the Department of Health to focus on health efforts; establishing the Basic Health Plan to expand access; spearheading health care reform at the state and national levels as Chair of the National Governors' Association;

Making Washington a safer and healthier place for children, as in more health care and better nutrition for poor children, more CPS workers, tougher penalties for child abuse, cracking down on dead-beat dads and the finest of service to our state's disabled and handicapped children;

Fostering an attitude of openness and cooperation in state government so that it's now more accessible to citizens, more welcoming of women and minorities, on good terms with our Native American tribes, and more efficient and better managed.

Mrs. Gardner will be remembered for her fine work as the Co-Chair of our state's 100th birthday celebration, the 1989 Centennial. She has been an active and involved supporter of our state heritage programs. Known for her ready smile and warm personality, Jean Gardner has been an absolutely first-rate first lady.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, I give you Governor and Mrs. Gardner, affectionately known by the citizens of our state as Booth and Jean.

The Speaker introduced the Governor of the State of Washington.

It's a great honor for me to join with Secretary of State Munro and President of the Senate Pritchard in introducing one of the most popular governors this state has ever had and one of the finest human beings many of us have ever known. I know that the press has been full of articles lately discussing and dissecting Booth's administration and his achievements but none of them have really focused on the role that Booth and Jean have played as first citizens of this great state. In that role both Jean and Booth have set a new standard. They are both people who have led by example. As the chief organizer of this state's Centennial celebration, Jean Gardner brought new depth to our understanding of our cultural diversity and history of Washington State. Without preaching, she taught us a lot about who we are as a state, and about how important it is to recognize the contributions of every ethnic group in every community. As first lady Jean has been independent, involved, willing to take risks, and at the same time fully devoted to her family. Booth has been every bit her equal. His openness to people of every walk of life and his ability to make friends are legendary. I am convinced that there are at least 10,000 people across this state who count Booth among their very best friends and what's even more extraordinary, they really are. Booth is a man who can connect with people genuinely, honestly, and with real concern for their well being. This is a governor who has had time for every man and women in this state, unless of course there were children around. If you have ever been in a room and watched Booth at a public event you will know of what I speak. We know that when Booth spots a child, he will snub Supreme Court Justices, political big shots and CEOs of major corporations and make a beeline to that child. When this governor says children come first, he means it and he lives it. We've all learned a great deal from him and we all know that today we are about to learn something more. Please join me in again welcoming the 19th governor of the state of Washington, the Honorable Booth Gardner.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
BY GOVERNOR BOOTH GARDNER

Governor Gardner: Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, members of the Supreme Court, existing elected officials and newly elected officials, members of the legislature, citizens of the state of Washington.

I want to begin today by talking about the timber town of Hoquiam, in Grays Harbor County. For longer than anyone can remember, the Grays Harbor area has been one of the largest timber producing regions in the country. For several generations, trees meant jobs for Grays Harbor.

There are plenty of trees left in those forests -- but no longer many jobs. Supply, demand, and environmental issues have conspired against Hoquiam. I've been there many times -- most recently this past fall, just after a permanent mill closure put another 900 people out of work.

As we drove into Hoquiam through the falling rain that afternoon, the town looked like one of those Fisher Price creations -- neat rows of homes, side-by-side, with churches and schools and stores, all surrounded by an endless landscape of growing trees. As I watched the rain falling, I thought of the generations of men and women who had grown up, worked, married, raise families, lived, and died, surrounded by all those trees. It was and is a good life. Working in the woods is not easy, but it's an honest day's work and a good wage. It was something solid to pass from father to son, and from mother to daughter. It was something solid on which to build a community. And the strength of that community is evident at Hoquiam High School, home of the Grizzlies, where I spoke at an assembly.

When I looked out at those young women and men, just embarked on adulthood, full of hope for their future, but perplexed and scared by what was happening to their parents, I was moved.

I told them that nothing is permanent -- not even the town where they had been born, or the woods and mills that give it life. I told them that while their parents and grandparents had lived good and productive lives in Hoquiam, that same life might not be available to all of them. I advised them to look ahead, and not cling to the past. I urged them to continue their education, and to look, perhaps, beyond Hoquiam, beyond the mills they could see and the trees that surrounded them toward the more prosperous economies on I-5.

I thought it was a pretty good speech. It was honest, and it made sense. It had hope. It was doable. Apparently it was heard, because at least one student went home and told her parents. At the community forum that evening, one of the parents asked me to share what I had told the students.

When I was finished, a man rose from the crowd. You could see 25 years of working in the woods on his face and hands -- 25 years that had ended a month before with a pink slip. He said, "Governor, what you say is all right for my kids, but what about me? I'm 45. I have a wife and four children. My mother is sick. Do you really think I can start over again?"

I didn't have much of an answer. Since that evening, I have thought about that man a lot. And I have thought a lot about what I could say to you that would be useful -- useful to the many new legislators who are here today, useful to the veterans who've been here for years and risen to positions of leadership, and useful to the people of this state.

For the past eight years, I have had a perspective on this state shared by only seventeen other people. The view from the Governor's office is different than any other.

From that corner office, you inevitably come to see the big picture, the distant horizon of the future, and the oncoming rush of history. It is a pinnacle of power -- and it is also a daily lesson in humanity. It is a daily lesson in the limits of what government can do, the inevitability of change, and the challenge of passing democratic values from one generation to the next.

Here's what I've seen from this perspective: First and most importantly, I've seen that everybody matters. That man in Hoquiam matters. His children matter. His sick mother matters. Every student in our public schools is crucial, every teenager's dreams are essential to our future, and every adult in this state is an important citizen. There are no "little people" -- only little minds that fail to grasp the basic truth of our common humanity and our common future.

Second, I have seen that change is a double-edged sword. Change is constructive. It is desirable. In a dynamic, free-market economy, it is inevitable. But it can also be painful, frightening -- and often terribly unfair. Government doesn't have much control over a great deal of it, but we are required to respond to it, to try to shape and direct it where we can, and to protect those who suffer from its effects.

In some cases, we are called on to promote change -- and to overcome enormous obstacles and entrenched resistance in order to achieve it. When we discover that change in other countries has resulted in their students learning more than our children, we are called on to move heaven and earth to change the way we educate our young people. When our health care system spins out of control and devours both family and government budgets, we are called on to change the way we organize and deliver medical services -- and to do it quickly.

The essential point about change is this: our ability to sustain a stable, democratic, and prosperous society depends on our capacity to change. It depends on all of us having the courage to change -- even when change is uncomfortable, even when there is resistance to change, and even when some of the consequences of change are unknown. We cannot cling to the past. In a democratic society, the status quo is the enemy of stability, not its friend.

The final truth I have come to see in the past eight years is that we are all pretty ignorant. We never have all the information we need to make good decisions -- but we have to make decisions anyway. Our power to predict the future is extremely imperfect, and our knowledge of our own constituents is constantly overtaken by social and cultural changes that we barely comprehend.

And so, for all of us, to lead is to learn. To be governor is simply to be the premier student of this state. To be governor is to know that the more we differ from each other, the more we have to learn from each other. And to be governor is to know that if this state is to prosper, all of us -- of every age and in every community -- must become more diligent students.

I leave this office after eight years with a profound affection and respect for the people of this state, and for the thousands of public servants who make our state government work. I am grateful for all you've taught me, and I will never forget what I have learned.

Thank you.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Governor and his wife to his chambers.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Governor-elect from the House Chambers.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Congresswoman from the House Chambers.

The President of the Senate has been asked to announce that following the Joint Session there will be a receiving line outside the State Reception Room for outgoing State Elected Officials. All Legislators and members of the public are cordially invited to attend.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the State Elected Officials from the House Chamber.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Supreme Court Justices from the House Chamber.

MOTION

The President appointed Representatives Rayburn and Reams and Senators Prentice and Cantu as a special committee to advise His Excellency, Governor Lowry, that the Joint Session has assembled and to escort him to the House of Representatives.

The President of the Senate introduced Governor and Mrs. Lowry

The President introduced Congressman Mike Kreidler.

Prayer was offered by Reverend Samuel McKinney of Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Seattle.

Let us pray. We gather O God, to seek your blessings on all the elected officials who shall be sworn in this day. We're grateful for the excellence and the diversity they represent. We gather also God to seek your blessing upon Mike Lowry, the 20th Governor of the State of Washington. Smile, we pray upon all the inhabitants of this state, all elected and appointed officials and those who reside within all state institutions. May your creative, compassionate, beneficent, understanding spirit encompass our governor and all those sworn in this day, be a shining light before him, be a protective hovering cloud over him, a wall of strength behind him, solid unyielding ground underneath him as he leads us into a future which in spite of human tears and fears will be undimmed. May Governor Mike Lowry be blessed with an understanding and cooperative legislature and may a sensitive Supreme Court surround him with cooperative elected officials and may be upheld by a helpful and knowledgeable staff and employees. Be it, O God, our commitment to education so that we support and sustain a system of educational opportunities for all the populace of all ages and levels, open doors in trade and commerce and production so full employment might be enjoyed by all. Enable each of us to participate with creation in the preservation of our environment including the majestic mountains, burning valleys, towering trees, clean, clear waters laid in many varieties of fish. Remove from this state and nation all symbols of many acts of racism, sexism, elitism, ageism, and all otherism's. May the many splendid varieties of the human family residing in this state signal to the rest of the world how we could all live together as brothers and sisters. Now send your presence to the governor's family, that they might enjoy his successes with him so it strengthens and encourages him at those times when he and his conscience must stand alone. Grant him wisdom, grant him courage, for the facing of this hour, for the living of these days that he fail not humanity, nor thee. Amen

President of the Senate: The purpose of this Joint Session is to administer the Oath of Office to the constitutionally elected state officials of the State of Washington and receive the Inaugural Address of Governor Mike Lowry.

Justice James Andersen administered the oath of office Governor, Mike Lowry, and the President of the Senate presented him the Certificate of Office.

The President of the Senate introduced our new First Lady, Mary Lowry.

The Speaker: Thank you Mr. President, this is indeed an honor.

This is a week for sharp contrasts. Yesterday, we said goodbye to a governor who was known to be soft-spoken, quiet, and often perplexed by the twists and turns of legislative politics. He was a man of many interests--a serious tennis player, a regular at the local gym, a diligent piano student, and a philanthropist.

Today, we welcome a new governor--a man who eats, breathes and sleeps politics and public policy. Our new governor is a man who revels in the rough and tumble of the legislative arena--a man whose passionate and vocal devotion to the democratic process is legendary.

Among our new governor's passions are health care reform, education reform, and the creation of government budgets that invest in opportunity and promote economic vitality. We look forward to working closely with him to achieve these goals. But his overriding concern is bringing people together across all the lines of difference of color, of gender, of geography, and of party loyalty.

And he devotes every ounce of his considerable energy to these tasks. In fact, when our new governor needs a thorough, aerobic workout, he doesn't go to a gym--he gives a speech.

So now, let me clear away the water pitchers, get out of harm's way, and ask you all to join me in giving a joyous and rousing welcome to the Twentieth Governor of the State of Washington, the Honorable Mike Lowry.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS BY MIKE LOWRY

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Legislature and elected officials, Reverend McKinney, dedicated public employees, honored guests, and fellow citizens of the state of Washington.

Before I begin my remarks, let me acknowledge two more people who have joined us today--Governor Booth Gardner and Jean Gardner.

Our goal in moving forward will be all the more achievable due to the innovative and courageous contributions of Governor Gardner. Thank you, Booth, for leaving behind such a solid foundation on which we may build the future progress of Washington State.

And thank you, Jean, for your leadership in so many fields and especially in fostering the arts and appreciating the heritage of our state. You may trust that your legacy will be in good hands, and we can only hope to equal the vision and dedication you brought to our state.

It is a great honor to serve as governor of our beautiful state and I want to thank all who have made today possible, especially my friends and family. It is, of course, impossible to thank everyone individually but grant me the privilege of acknowledging my best friend and closest advisor, Mary Lowry, our daughter Diane, my niece and nephew Ann and Keith Ventress, my sister Suellen Lowry Hibschman, and my mother Helen Lowry. Thank you all.

Finally, let me thank the voters of Washington State for the privilege to stand here before you in this, the people's house. My pledge to them and to you is never to forget that within these walls I am a servant--not a master.

Many have asked why I am so optimistic about our state's future. The answer is simple: it is the tremendously positive attitude of the people and their desire to work together for progress--Democrat, Republican, Independent, one state working together for the good of all. And I know that is the attitude of the elected officials in this room, to all work together to get the job done.

Certainly, we face a difficult budget problem, but it is one we can and will solve--without IOU's, without gimmicks, without smoke and mirrors. We will write fair and fiscally sound budget that lays a solid foundation for a better future.

A better future for all of our state's families and businesses because with your leadership and cooperation we will begin the task of reining in the run-away costs for health care, and we will begin to reap the benefits of preventative health care and healthy people. If we had passed health care reform in 1981, we would not be facing a state budget deficit in 1993. We must and we will pass health care reform this year.

A better future for our children and our economy because with your leadership and cooperation we will build an education system second to none--from preschool through high school, from our community colleges and technical institutes through our four-year and research universities. We must and we will provide the caliber of education we need to train the very best professionals and workers that we need to attract and keep creative investment and innovative businesses, and that we need to secure our economic vitality for decades to come. We must not make the penny wise and pound foolish mistake of serious cuts in our education system. We must and we will pass education reform.

Education reform that includes "readiness to learn." I believe the most important education issue of all is the effect of the living conditions of the child outside the classroom. It must be almost impossible to learn if you are hungry or sick or homeless, and yet in our great state we have thousands of children hungry and sick and homeless. That is wrong, and we must commit ourselves to change that.

And we must get to the roots of why our prisons and jails are bursting at the seams at the cost of $27,000 per person per year. We spend six times more per year on a prisoner than a community college student. We need to put more judgment back into our justice system, and we must offer more opportunity and hope for a well-paying job for all our people. Let's give education and opportunity and hope a chance.

Let us build a solid foundation with a more streamlined state government, consolidated functions, and all agencies more accountable to the people they serve. We must and we will make state government more efficient, and we extend the hand of partnership to the private sector to meet our responsibilities in building a strong economy.

A better future for today's citizens and all the generations to come because with your leadership and cooperation we will set new standards for environmental stewardship and community investment. We must commit ourselves to protecting our natural beauty and resources and meeting community needs in ways that will strengthen our economic opportunities; improve the quality of our air and water; safeguard our wilderness and scenic areas; and provide a modern transportation system and sound infrastructure for the balance of this decade, well into the Twenty-First century. Good environmental policy, and good economic policy go hand in hand.

With your leadership and cooperation we must and we will accomplish all of these things--because that's why the people sent us here. The voters went to the polls last November not to promote an ideology but to solve real problems in the community and their daily lives.

We must not disappoint the voters. If we fail to meet their expectations, if we fall back into the old habits of partisan rancor and institutional gridlock, more than just our reputations will suffer. We will undermine the whole cause of public investment and service, and thereby, deprive the people of their rightful due.

So I pledge to all of you in this room and to all who might hear or read my words that I will join with the Legislature and the judiciary and with all the institutions of the state, public and private, as a partner and a fellow worker. I will roll up my sleeves, loosen my tie, and put my shoulder to the wheel with all of you to deliver the goods that our people need, expect and deserve.

The test of our success in this enterprise will not be an abstract measure of new laws or politics. It will be counted in concrete results in the vitality of the economy and the quality of daily life for our citizens.

Before I end this speech--and yes, it will end--let me add a word about the ethics of public service.

The most important political issue in America and in our state today is to rebuild the credibility of our political system. This great democracy depends upon integrity.

That is why I insisted on a totally positive campaign. I wanted to prove that the good people of Washington State would support a totally positive campaign, and they did. I placed campaign contribution limits on our campaign, because I wanted to prove the good people of the state of Washington would support a campaign that strictly limited special interest financing by participating with their small contributions, and they did in record breaking fashion. Please join with me to reject once and for all the destructiveness of negative campaigns. Please join with me in the further pursuit of comprehensive campaign finance reform, until we get the job done.

I believe that being a servant of the people, whether as an employee, an elected official, a member of a commission or board, or a consultant, is the highest honor an individual can attain. To be entrusted with the public's interest also imposes the most demanding standards and expectations for professional conduct.

To this end, one of my first official acts as Governor of the state of Washington shall be to issue an Executive Order directing all officials and employees to employ the highest standards of professional conduct. That order will include a mission statement of open government, citizen participation, and the elimination of all discrimination.

All citizens are entitled to equal service, protection and opportunity regardless of race, sex, age, national origin, religion--and sexual orientation.

On this last point, let me add that the wonderful people of Washington will tolerate many things, but intolerance is not one of them. We must remain a leader in fighting discrimination in all its forms, and that happens to be good business, too.

A few moments ago I noted the mood--or moods--of the electorate last fall. I found them to be both anxious and hopeful about the future and about the role of government in helping to solve the problems facing our state.

That is where we begin the work of this administration in partnership with this Legislature and the public. But let us imagine how our work might end. Envision for a moment a time four years hence when we look back and take pride in a state government--

That met its responsibilities in providing for a vibrant and healthy economy...

That approved a comprehensive reform of our health care system that guaranteed every citizen uniform access to the highest quality health service...

That reinvented public education by mandating the highest caliber of instruction, by restoring local control and innovation, by assuring sufficient state resources to meet each school district's needs, and by expanding access to quality colleges and universities...

That moved our state into the Twenty-first Century with an integrated transportation system...

That opened new doors through which citizens can pass from dependency to independence...

That created exciting opportunities for public-private partnerships like the Washington Wildlife and Recreation Coalition...

That made the strategic investments in human resources and facilities to transform Washington into a magnet for new investment and international trade...

That tackled the long overdue challenges of collective bargaining and of reforming the civil service system for the good of our valued public employees and all our state's citizens...

That cultivated the arts, safeguarded the historic landmarks, and protected the heritage of the diverse cultures which make Washington whole and unique...

That secured a legacy of productive farms and fisheries, new recreational opportunities, healthy wildlife, protected wilderness, clean air and water, and rational growth management for future generations...

That freed our political system from the blight of special interest campaign financing and negative campaigns...

And that pounded a stake through the ugly heart of prejudice and bigotry once and for all...

If we can achieve these goals, we will earn the trust invested in us by the voters. And the people will be able to say: They did the job we elected them to do.

Which, for a public servant, is the highest praise possible. Thank you.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Governor back to his office.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Supreme Courts from the House Chambers.

The President of the Senate instructed the special committee to escort the Elected Officials to the State Reception Room.

The President: The Governor of the Supreme Court and the Elected Officials will receive congratulations in the State Reception Room.

MOTION

On motion of Representative Hine, the Joint Session was dissolved.

The President of the Senate returned the gavel to the Speaker.

The Speaker instructed the Sergeants at Arms of the House and the Senate to escort President of the Senate Joel Pritchard, President Pro Tempore Lorraine Wojhan, Vice-President Pro Tempore Al Williams, Majority Leader Mark Gaspard and Minority Leader George Sellers from the House Chambers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Speaker: As you know, on January 13 we are going to lose a colleague, Representative Lorraine Hine, who will be resigning from her House seat in order to assume her new responsibilities as Governor-elect Mike Lowry's legislative liaison.

Although Lorraine will be back with us in a different capacity, it is appropriate that we honor her tremendous service to this state. Lorraine has accomplished a great deal in her twelve years in Olympia, and it has been a pleasure for all of us to serve with her. Today she becomes the first woman to serve as House Majority Leader, a service that will regrettably last only three days.

Representative R. Fisher: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Lorraine I'm going to miss you. This institution is going to miss you. But you'll not be far away. My ten years here have been made more enjoyable, more meaningful, and more productive because of you. Good luck on your new journey and remember that every Governor and every Governor's agent needs to recognize that transportation is important in this state. So as the songs go, "So long; it's been good to know you and we'll meet again."

Representative Brough: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Following the previous speaker, this may be our last chance to lobby her. Since the shoe will be on the other foot and she will be lobbying us. It's been my pleasure to be lobbying Lorraine for ten years. I think that Governor Lowry has chosen well. We have a local newspaper who usually calls women bright and articulate when they give an endorsement and I think that bright and articulate are certainly two terms that appropriately apply to Representative Hine. She understands local government, she understands the legislative process, and she understands budgeting better than most anybody else in here, especially that particular combination. She's remarkably well suited for the job that Lowry has chosen her for. But, I also want to put in my plugs. I hope, Lorraine, that you carry your opposition to the third runway at Sea-Tac into the governor's office. I've been lobbying for my colleague here about Moses Lake. The issue that we worked most closely together on over the past few years was the Metro reorganization. It took us about three or four runs at the Senate before we gave it up. The ACLU fortunately picked it up and it came to pass, finally through the courts and through the vote of the public in King county. But the results were positive and I know that we both feel good about that. I also want to publicly thank her again for her support for the wetlands and hope that when she goes into the governor's office she recognizes that the Interpretive Center is not yet built and additional funding is needed. So, I wish you well, and like I say, it has been my pleasure to lobby you for the last few years. It has been my pleasure to call you friend. Good luck.

Representative Rust: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Lorraine and I were one of the smallest classes on record in this Legislature. There were only four of us but gender ratio was very good. There were two women and two men and that's the way it ought to be. Even though there were only four of us we have this wonderful record of togetherness because we sat together for twelve long years. And this year Joe King decided not to run for election and so there are only three. But for a short time we really had a wonderful gender ratio, two women and only one man. Now Lorraine is leaving us and Art and I are going to be left to work together and we've shown a pretty good gender ratio but it is a ratio we need to have for the whole House of Representatives. I know that Mike has already committed himself to protecting the environment and I really appreciate your help in that arena over the years. I don't think I need to lobby you. I'm just going to continue to ask for your support and I'm going to support the governor's efforts to protect the environment. Thanks.

Representative Miller: Thank you Mr. Speaker, members of the House. Well, Lorraine you should have consulted me before you made this decision because I was really looking forward to working with Lorraine as the Majority Leader. When I'd heard that she became the Majority Leader and I managed to be re-elected as floor leader I thought, 'piece of cake, this is going to be great.' There will be no problems, no surprises, everything will be smooth. However I congratulate you and I congratulate Governor Lowry because it was a real smart move on his part. You'll be a wonderful Legislative liaison. You're well respected not only by people on both sides of the aisle here but also by people in the Senate. We've worked on enough joint committees together that I know that they respect you and that you will be able to work with them. I want to tell you a story that Lorraine told to me the first day that we had together on the floor as freshmen here. That was 1983 and we were having school and Lorraine as a leader of her caucus was participating in this school. She took me aside and she said "Look around this room; you're going to make very close friends here. That you will work very closely together; they will be like family but look around again because in a few days the same people may not all be here. Lorraine, you will be missed.

Representative Wang: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I too want to rise in just recognizing and celebrating Lorraine, and state how much I too have enjoyed our years together here. We came in, in a very tough year with only four of us on this side. There are only, I believe now, going to be four of us in the entire Legislature from that group from 1980, considering both sides of the aisle here, but over the years we were successful in achieving a lot of different things. One message though, that I think is important to consider, something I'm not going to lobby you on, but one message that is important, that when we first got here, Denny Heck would always come around and walk up to these little name plates here and would illustrate the point about how easily they slide in and out. Lorraine we will miss you.

Representative Leonard: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Lorraine has been a neighbor and a mentor of mine from way back and we definitely are going to miss you, Lorraine, but I'm awfully glad you're going where you're going. I know we think alike on a lot of the human services issues that we're going to be asking the governor's support on and I know the governor has some ideas about a lot of the things he was talking about today that we're going to have to support here. So, we're going to look forward to continuing to work with you and assuming you're still going to be a neighbor and we really congratulate you. The Governor made a marvelous selection; he could not have done better. Our prayers and thoughts and goodwill go with you and we'll see a lot of you. Thank you for your mentorship, for your goodwill and for all the lessons you've taught us. Thank you.

Representative Wineberry: Thank you Mr. Speaker. It gives me great honor and even a misty moment to stand and to say to Lorraine that we are going to miss her. I am, in the company of most of you, we were not of Representative Hine's class and many of us will always remember her as the person that gathered our caucus together. For years all of us have served as the mentees under this mentor as we have strived to get on her list. We have strived to get on her list so that we could be recognized to give our two cents in the caucus discussions. She is an executive's executive. Many who may not know should take note that this is a woman who has been a mayor before she was a legislator. Mayor of Des Moines. And now she comes full circle in moving back into the executive branch and certainly a higher level of government. Now we will be doing everything in our power to not be on this woman's list, especially the bad list. But we certainly look forward to working with you. I'm not going to say so long but to use a CD vernacular-later.

Representative Edmondson: Thank you Mr. Speaker, members of the House. Lorraine, we go back a long way. You were mayor of Des Moines and I was mayor of Yakima and I discovered your wit, your charm, your fairness, and certainly enjoyed serving with you and after achieving the national level also when you were mayor. But I came to the House as a freshman last term and I saw your smiling face and you came up and gave me a warm welcome and I thought, 'good' because you're an asset wherever you are. We'll miss you in the House but you're not far away and once again you'll be an asset wherever you serve. Nice knowing you.

Representative Padden: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Ladies and gentlemen of the House. I guess I'm one of the four that's left in our class. The thing that I'm going to miss most about Lorraine on the floor, and what really hasn't been mentioned, is her great ability in debate, to represent either side of the aisle on so many issues and representing so well. I've always admired your articulateness. I remember one time we were debating, and I do remember the issue but no need going into it, Representative Hine proudly indicated that she was a do-gooder. She was always really quick and did do an excellent job so you'll miss that part of it but I wish you well in your new position and congratulations.

Representative Kohl: Lorraine, I'm a relatively new member of the Legislature and I'd like to extend my appreciation to you. One year ago when I was appointed you were really one of the instrumental ones in helping me make the adjustment to the Legislature. And even though your tenure as Majority Leader was rather brief you're still the first woman as Majority Leader and what you're doing is paving the way for many women to follow you. I think you have been very instrumental in making Washington State the number one state in the country with women in the Legislature. So, thank you.

Representative Long: Thank you Mr. Speaker. My memories of you, Lorraine, go back to the Association of Washington Cities and I believe the first time I heard you, you made a presentation to Puget Sound Council of Governments in Snohomish County and you were impressive and we followed your lead. And then when I came to Olympia and you welcomed the class of freshmen, you said "Welcome to Fantasy Island." I'll never forget that. You called it correctly. I think one of the things that hasn't been said about you, a lot of wonderful things, is that you're very perceptive and that you really know and understand people. And that will bode well for you in whatever role you play. Certainly anyone who can raise six children has to be good at that. It's been a pleasure to know you and I just look forward to seeing you more in the future.

Representative Silver: Yes Lorraine, we will all miss you. I remember being called into Lorraine's office numerous times and she would say, "We've got a little problem here. Do you want to come for a little while." And there were several of us that would join with Lorraine. And the one thing that I appreciated about it is that she went right to the heart of the problem. You didn't have to waste a lot of detail, you knew right where she was coming from and where the problem existed. And we sat there and worked out a lot of things that made you feel kind of proud of all of us. I appreciate the work you did on the pension policy commission. That very easy committee, very easy. But she did a good job there, we worked hard, we worked together and it's a delight to have you here. I'm glad I had the opportunity to know you and I'll look forward to dealing with you from now on. That will be very much fun. Good luck to you Lorraine, you deserve it.

Representative Heavey: Thank you Mr. Speaker, the most beautiful district in this state. Lorraine I wasn't going to say anything, but I thought about our relationship and at times I felt, most times, felt like one of your students or one of your children. I had a feeling you were kind of an iron-handed person and I tried to remember some bit of wisdom you might have given me or story you might have told me but I couldn't think of any. But one thing I've noticed about you, in my opinion, the quality that I hope you will take down to the governor's office, is that you have time and time again, looked at both sides and understood both sides of the issue and have respected both sides of the issue, whether or not you've agreed with that issue and that is a quality around here that is sometimes very lacking. I always appreciated that about you and wish you luck in the Governor's office.

Representative Thibaudeau: Thank you Mr. Speaker. My admiration for this lady is outweighed by my apprehension at standing up here but I do know, how many of us know, that the parents and children of this state owe Representative Hine a great, great debt. A few years ago during the waning days of the session, probably the last day actually, prenatal care was in great doubt. It was Representative Hine who went over to that other body and worked out a compromise and prenatal passed on the last day of the session. So I, and the other parents of this state, say thank you and we look forward to working with you.

Representative G. Fisher: Thank you Mr. Speaker. One part mentor. The first time I ran for office she gave me the best political advice I've ever received. She said "Greg, you're too young, don't tell jokes on the campaign trail. They'll think you're cocky." And I didn't tell a single joke and here I am. One part friend. In good times and bad you've always been there. And on occasion, one part Mother. Most of the time that's been appreciated too. There's been a lot of talents and abilities assessed to you today whether it be the acerbic wit or the brutal honesty or the legislative prowess and the list goes on and on. But I think your greatest gift is your ability to treat everyone with dignity. No matter how powerful you got or how busy you were you always had time to say something kind to somebody else and that will always be remembered. But I thought today was going to be sad but having heard the governor's speech I figured I was going to see you a lot in revenue this year. God bless, and we love you.

Representative Valle: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I've known Lorraine as a neighbor, as a political figure, and I must say I didn't think very much of local government until you came and then you really impressed me. But one thing that really hasn't been said here is, that under the King speakership this was our second speaker, and you had only to listen to her in our meetings, in our local meetings, in our own districts, and I've had the pleasure of serving with you. I look forward to it. I think you've got a big, big job, after listening to our new governor; I'm willing to help. Thank you very much for being here.

Representative Ballard: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Representative Lorraine Hine. You are a class act. You've been a delight to work with. We've had some great debates. We've not always agreed but it has been challenging and fun. We've appreciated as a caucus working with you. You've been fair, at times a little tough, but we look forward to a continuing relationship and wish you the very best. And it has been a pleasure.

Representative Peery: Thank you Mr Speaker. Last week with Lorraine's announcement, it was pretty emotional for a lot of us and personally, I guess, would have to admit it, kind of took me back to some emotions I felt when my sister first let me know that she was going on to college. I knew it would be best for her. I knew I was going to miss her and then I realized I got a car. With or without the car, Lorraine, you have indeed been the model of a modern major general when it comes to leadership in the House of Representatives. She's been, as all of you know, the leader in caucus, chair for our caucus for the past ten years. She not only served in that role; she carved and made that role into what it is and will continue to be. Her loyalty, her appreciation of this institution, is shared by all of us. It's very understandable that Mike Lowry would make the decision he made; it's unfortunately understandable that Representative Hine would decide to honor that request by the governor to serve in that capacity. I would only ask you one other thing, as we have been going through a lot of traditions lately here on the floor. There seems to be a tradition from the governor's office of the individuals coming from the Legislature to serve in a capacity of legislative liaison. And so if we can change one tradition, beginning perhaps tomorrow, could that be that we maybe have a limit of one legislative story per member visit. Thank you very much.

Representative Hine: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Some lag of the past once said there are three things you should never do. Try to climb a wall that is leaning towards you or try to kiss a girl that is leaning away from you or be the last speaker before lunch. I am trying to be that big brave speaker you have all described and so you'll bear with me and I'll try to keep it all together. Mr Speaker, I thank you for your generous words, I thank you for the opportunity to serve with you as I have in a leadership role, and I sincerely regret that I will not be continuing in this capacity. I'm truly torn because I believe that you are going to do a fine job and that the leadership team assembled with Representative Peery and Representative Sommers will carry on with you in good stead. My dear colleagues, the new people haven't heard me say this before, the old ones have but allow me one more time. This is the most exclusive marvelous club that you will ever belong to. You will have no closer relationships in anything you do in your entire lives. We work together, we fight together, and we come out with good service for the state of Washington. We have to fight like everything to get here and I don't know sometimes how we do it but the caliber of individuals who serve in this legislative assembly, the House of Representatives, is an organization that I hold dear to me. I was torn to think of leaving it, but we all have to go on. There is life after the Legislature and I intend to do that. My sincere thanks for all the kind remarks made by so many of you; I feel like I was presiding at my own wake. The kind of respect and the kind of friendships that I've had with Representative Ballard, Miller, Brough, and all the rest on that side and all of you on this side, my very close relationship with my good friends the Representatives Fishers. You really all have been so supportive and great. I leave the district in good hands with my dear friend and colleague Greg. He's been the most wonderful district-mate. Frankly, I think, Greg, we've been the envy of this House. Not too many district-mates get along as well as you and I do and I didn't know you didn't like some of that mothering or I'd probably put it on anyway. If I may be permitted to make a couple of other thank yous. One doesn't give twelve years to this institution without a lot of people making that possible and for me, my husband Bill, how many years is it? Thirty-seven, thirty-eight, something like that. We have a fifty-five Chevy so how many years ago is fifty-five? Oldsmobile, sorry about that. Of my six children my one daughter Wendy is here today. You know they have to give up a lot for me to be here. And I sincerely appreciate that. I hope that they have been able to learn and take something from the experience that makes up for some of the holes in the lives, where a mom and a wife usually are and were unable to be and I really appreciate that from them. I want to mention are the people who work here with the Legislature - the staff. Martha Payne, when she was caucus secretary, now she's got a more high falutin' management kind of job as coordinator or something or other, has been everybody's friend but my friend in particular. She has helped make tough moments lighter with her outrageous, irreverent humor and I sincerely appreciated that. To the members of my own personal staff, Jim and Val, Val's been with me ten years or eleven I guess it is, who simply made my office run smoothly and gave me the kind of support I needed. That being said there are a lot of people to thank and appreciate, all of the staff. That being said this is one of the hardest moments in my life. I sincerely thank you all. I wish you well. You are a wonderful group. Believe me, when I'm downstairs I'll be coming to you talking about what the governor wants, but you better know I'm going to be telling him what you want, because you're the important part of getting anything done. Thank you all so much for doing me this honor today; thank you for being there with me and I wish you well in the Session. I won't be far and I wish you well, Kim, in your new car. Mr. Speaker and all of you, I appreciate your spending some time here when you all have meetings and lunch to go to. Thank you; it's been wonderful, an experience of a lifetime will not ever be forgotten. You are all super and I appreciate it, and am over-whelmed by your generosity. Mr. Speaker, Thank you.

Johnson, Cothorn, Zellinsky, Schmidt, Wang, Kessler, Morris and G. Cole

WHEREAS, January 18, 1993, is the observance of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday as both a federal holiday and Washington state legal holiday; and

WHEREAS, 1993 marks the twenty-fifth year since Dr. King was assassinated; and

WHEREAS, We, the members of the House of Representatives, are honored to pay tribute to what would have been the 64th birthday of Dr. King, who set an example of world leadership for all of us to follow; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King demonstrated his love of mankind by devoting his life to fighting discrimination and violence and by endeavoring to help all human beings live in freedom and with dignity; and

WHEREAS, Dr. King was internationally acclaimed and awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in recognition of his leadership in and dedication to achieving economic, educational, and social equality for all persons; and

WHEREAS, This noble laureate by his memory continually reminds us to fulfill his dream, a dream depicting a world of human equality and global peace; and

WHEREAS, This great American champion of the oppressed was assassinated while espousing his principles of pacifism and the assassination deeply grieved every citizen of this nation; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has honored Dr. King by creating a permanent federal holiday to commemorate the anniversary of his birth; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State Legislature has seen fit to honor this man as has the Congress and other states by declaring his birthday a legal, paid state and school holiday; and

WHEREAS, We applaud the Puget Sound television and newspaper community for launching the annual media celebration of Dr. King's life and legacy; and

WHEREAS, We urge more Washington corporations and businesses to join the nation and our state in officially commemorating the holiday;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That on this day, we, the members of the House of Representatives of the State of Washington, pause in our endeavors to pay homage to one of America's most honorable and honored citizens, the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in order to call to the attention of all Washingtonians Dr. King's wisdom and accomplishments and to rededicate ourselves to the pursuit of his principles; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit a copy of this resolution to the various organizations throughout the state which are dedicated to the achievement of racial equality.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia Washington 98504

Mr. Speaker:

We herewith respectfully transmit for your consideration a copy of Initiative to the Legislature Number 141, originally filed with this office on June 11, 1992. On December 31, 1992, the sponsor of the proposed initiative filed 9,665 signature petition sheets in support of the measure. We have completed our preliminary canvass of these petitions and have determined that they contain 159,308 signatures.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of Article 2, Section 1 of the State Constitution, we are provisionally certifying Initiative to the Legislature Number 141 to you at this time. We expect to complete verification of signatures no later than February 14, 1993 and we will provide the Legislature with a final certification as soon as possible thereafter.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and affixed the Seal of the State of Washington, this 11th day of January, 1993.

(Seal)

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding) announced the following committee appointments:

Representative H. Sommers is removed from the Committee on Education and assigned to the Committee on Rules.

Representative Wang is removed from the Committee on Rules and assigned as Chair to the Committee on Capital Budget.

Representative Dunshee is removed from the Committee on State Government and assigned to the Committee on Appropriations.

MESSAGE

Honorable Mike Lowry Legislative Building
Olympia, WA 98504

Dear Governor Lowry:

I submit this letter of resignation from my House Seat to accept the appointment to the Senate representing the 29th Legislative District. My two years in the House of Representatives has been that of growth and understanding of what it takes to develop good public policy. I cannot overstate the help that I have received and the warmth from leadership, my colleagues, staff and all who are a part of this process.

I leave the House with the knowledge that I am across the rotunda on what was learned in the past two years. I will remain committed to working together to help solve problems facing our state and pursuing the development of good public policy.

Sincerely,
Rosa Franklin
Washington State Representative
29th Legislative District

MESSAGE FROM PIERCE COUNTY COUNCIL

Resolution No. R93-9. A resolution of the Pierce County Council appointing Steve Conway to the Washington State House of Representatives. Representing the 29th district.

WHEREAS, a vacancy for the position of Washington state House of Representatives, 29th district, occurred with the appointment of Rosa Franklin to the Washington State Senate; and

WHEREAS, as prescribed by law, the Pierce County Democratic Central Committee has submitted to the Pierce County Council a list of three names of nominees for appointment to the Washington State House of Representatives representing the 29th District; and

WHEREAS, the council has met and interviewed the three nominees; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of Pierce County:

Section 1. Steve Conway is one of the three individuals on the list submitted by the Pierce County Democratic Central Committee, and is highly qualified to fill the vacancy in the Washington State House of Representatives representing the 29th District.

Section 2. Steve Conway is hereby appointed to the position of the Washington State House of Representatives representing the 29th District.

PASSED this 26th day of January, 1993.

Representative-elect Steve Conway was escorted to the rostrum and administered the oath of office by Supreme Court Justice Charles Johnson.

Representative Conway was escorted to his seat on the floor.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE

for

Tamera Schoen (a.k.a Kristy Williams)

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, GREETINGS:

On January 17, 1992, Tamera Schoen was sentenced by the Superior Court for King County for the State of Washington to a term of 43 months in prison after being found guilty on December 9, 1991, of numerous counts of Possessing Stolen Property.

Ms. Schoen is terminally ill. She has been diagnosed with adenocarcinoma (cancer) of unknown primary origin which has metastasized to the liver. As of October 30, 1992, her medical oncologist and primary physician indicated that she is not a surgical candidate and that the goal of therapy is to preserve the quality of her life as long as possible with analgesics and chemotherapy. Ms. Schoen is tentatively scheduled for chemoembolization of her adenocarcinoma at Tacoma General Hospital on December 7, 1992. This hospitalization will require a three to four-day stay at Tacoma General Hospital.

On December 3, 1992, the Clemency and Pardons Board met to review the clemency petition presented on behalf of Ms. Tamera Schoen. The Board voted unanimously to recommend that the Governor grant clemency to Ms. Schoen so that she can be transferred to a hospice situation immediately following her hospitalization at Tacoma General Hospital.

A hospice arrangement has been made in the home of Ms. Cynthia Locke. Ms. Locke is a resident of Snohomish County and presently resides at 19918 Damson Road, Lynnwood, Washington. Ms. Locke is a registered nurse and is licensed in the State of Washington. Ms. Locke has been providing adult in-home hospice care.

Because of the medical condition of Ms. Schoen, this is an extraordinary case and justifies granting clemency at this time for the remainder of Ms. Schoen's sentence.

The period of this clemency shall begin from the time of release from the hospital following the tentatively scheduled chemoembolization on or following December 7, 1992. If the necessary hospitalization is delayed, this clemency shall be effective in a delayed fashion to coincide with her release from the hospital following the medical procedure. In the event that her physician certifies that she is unable to receive the chemoembolization at any point in the foreseeable future due to her medical condition, she shall be released from the Department of Corrections to the hospice in-home care provided by Ms. Cynthia Locke no later than December 14, 1992.

During the pendency of this placement, a community corrections officer will monitor the placement on a periodic basis.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, do hereby grant the clemency for Tamera Schoen, Department of Corrections #940821, for her conviction for several counts of Possession of Stolen Property, pursuant to the conditions set forth herein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia, this 4th day of December, A.D. nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

Booth Gardner, Governor of Washington.

Arlyn Davis

On September 30, 1981, Arlyn Davis, and his co-defendant, John Wright, entered pleas of guilty to the crime of First Degree Murder. The crime occurred on March 22, 1981. Arlyn Davis was 15 years old at the time, having turned 15 years old on March 20, 1981. John Wright, the co-defendant, was 16 years old.

The victim was a 36-year-old man who had offered Mr. Davis a ride when Mr. Davis was hitchhiking several months prior to the date of this offense. The victim offered to give Mr. Davis drugs and assistance at any time he needed them, as Mr. Davis was running away from home. Mr. Davis subsequently contacted the victim who did supply him with drugs. This eventually led to Mr. Davis' involvement in homosexual activity with the victim, and ultimately the victim became Mr. Davis' pimp. The victim encouraged Mr. Davis to recruit other young men, one of which was John Wright. Mr. Wright and Mr. Davis concluded that they needed to get out of the situation and made the decision to steal money from the victim, buy plane tickets, and go to Florida. During the robbery attempt, the victim resisted and was choked with an electrical cord by Mr. Wright. Both defendants planned and executed the robbery, although there had been no plan to take the life of the victim. The two boys received $11,000 as a result of the robbery, but were apprehended at SeaTac Airport before they could leave for Florida. The $11,000 was fully recovered.

Mr. Davis was sentenced to life in prison. The Thurston County prosecuting attorney, Patrick Sutherland, and the sentencing judge, Gerry Alexander, both recommended to the parole board that the minimum term be set at its lowest possible level, which was 20 years at the time of sentencing. Mr. Davis' Sentencing Reform Act guideline range is 240 to 320 months. He has jail time credits of 191 days, and therefore, has an adjusted guideline range of 233 to 313 months. The indeterminate Sentence Review Board set Mr. Davis duration of confinement at 240 months, as mandated by statute.

From the time that Mr. Davis arrived at the Walla Walla State Penitentiary in 1987 to the present time, he has been free of any infractions. Prior to being sent to Walla Walla, Mr. Davis married his girlfriend, Patty, in 1985. From that time on, Mr. Davis began to rehabilitate himself. Mr. Davis was involved with and completed both mental health counseling and drug treatment counseling. He completed his high school diploma and has taken various college classes. He is employed as the inventory manager and purchaser for institutional industries at Walla Walla.

The Thurston County prosecuting attorney, Patrick Sutherland, investigated Mr. Davis' progress at Walla Walla thoroughly by both conferring with Mr. Davis' counselor at Walla Walla and examining his institutional file. Prosecutor Sutherland recommends that Mr. Davis be considered for clemency.

At the request of the Clemency and Pardons Board, the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board conducted an investigation into Mr. Davis' "paroleability" and conducted a hearing on that issue on October 23, 1992. At that hearing, the Department of Corrections was represented and took the position that it had no objection to clemency.

After its investigation, the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board supported and encouraged a grant of clemency to Mr Davis who is now 26 years of age.

The parents of Mr. Davis, Edward and Nicolette Davis, have been supportive of their son since the time of his arrest. They reside in Honolulu, Hawaii, and run two businesses.

Mr. Davis has accepted responsibility for his actions and admitted his guilt. He has shown appropriate remorse and his chances for re-offending are low. Mr. Davis has completed all of the programming possible with the Department of Corrections. During this process, he has matured a great deal and has taken advantage of every opportunity to improve himself. It is unlikely that Mr. Davis will present any future danger to society if released at this time, subject to the conditions set forth herein.

The Clemency and Pardons Board, at its December 3, 1992, meeting, reviewed and discussed the petition of Mr. Davis. A presentation was made on his behalf by his attorney, Mr. Ed Schaller. After deliberation, the Board voted 3-2 to recommend to the Governor that clemency be granted.

This is an extraordinary case and justice is served by granting a conditional clemency at this time for the remainder of Mr. Davis' sentence. By this order, I hereby waive the 20-year mandatory minimum term set by RCW 9.95.115, and direct the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board to parole Mr. Davis. The Indeterminate Sentence Review Board shall impose, at a minimum, the following conditions in its parole order:

1. Upon release from the institution, report as instructed to a community corrections officer and thereafter make a correct report as often as directed.
2. Secure written permission of a community corrections officer before leaving the State of Washington.
3. Obey all laws and abide by any special conditions imposed by the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board or any written instructions issued by a community corrections officer of the Department of Corrections.
4. At no time, purchase, own, possess, or control any firearm or deadly weapon.
5. Submit to a search of person, residence, vehicle, and possessions whenever requested by a community corrections officer.
6. Obey all court orders.
7. Reside in a residence approved by the assigned community corrections officer and secure permission of the community officer before changing residences.
8. Do not use or possess controlled substances of any kind.
9. Submit to drug or alcohol monitoring, if directed by the community corrections officer, through an agency approved by the community corrections officer. As a condition of clemency, sign a full release of information allowing the treatment or monitoring agency to release information to the community corrections officer and the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board. This release of information must be effective until Mr Davis is granted a final discharge.
10. Do not consume any alcoholic beverages.
11. Enter into full employment or an education program within 30 days of release.
12. An inter-state compact investigation for transfer of parole to Hawaii must be submitted for final approval to the Indeterminate Sentence Review Board in the event that Mr. Davis desires to move to Hawaii.

The Indeterminate Sentence Review Board may, in its discretion, amend these conditions if the situation so warrants.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the laws of the State of Washington, do hereby grant the conditional clemency for Arlyn Davis, Department of Corrections #279242, for his conviction of Murder in the First Degree, pursuant to the conditions set forth herein.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this 7th day of January, A.D., nineteen hundred and ninety three.

Booth Gardner Governor of Washington

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, GREETING:

Gordon H. Graham was found guilty of forgery, robbery, and numerous parole violations by the Superior Courts of the State of Washington for Chelan, Spokane, and King Counties during the years 1949 to 1972. He served many years in jails. With the exception of an occasional parole violation during that same time period, 1949 to 1972, Mr. Graham has maintained a record free of further felony convictions and has involved himself commendably in community and professional activities, and has shown his rehabilitation. He petitioned for a pardon to clear his good name.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby pardon Gordon A. Graham from the judgment and sentences imposed in Chelan, Spokane, and King Counties during the period 1949 to 1972.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia, this 11th day of January, A.D. nineteen hundred and ninety three.

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENCE SHALL COME, GREETING:

Sherwood J. Trulson was found guilty of assault in the third degree by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for King County on January 25, 1985, and he was thereupon sentenced to a term of two years community supervision by the Department of Corrections (reduced to one year after one year completed) and 240 hours of community service and attendance at an alcohol treatment program. Since this time, Sherwood Trulson has maintained a record free of further felony convictions and has involved himself in the creation of a new company, Environmental Waste of America, Inc. He has also shown his commitment to rehabilitation through his recovery from alcohol abuse. For these reasons, the Clemency and Pardons Board recommended that a pardon be granted in order to further the role of Mr. Trulson as an active member of the business community, his family and the State of Washington. NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby pardon Sherwood J. Trulson from the judgment and sentence of assault in the second degree entered January 25, 1985, by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for King County. IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this 24th day of August, A.D. nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENCE SHALL COME, GREETING:

Mark Nelson plead guilty to Simple Assault in the State of Washington, a crime which was committed on February 15, 1980, and he was sentenced with a deferred finding followed by a dismissal one year later. This is the only assault in Mr. Nelson's background. Since that point in time, Mr. Nelson has enrolled in a nurse training program at Shoreline Community College. In the course of that training, both he, and the schools administration have asked that this simple assault be removed from his criminal background record. For the reason of furthering his educational pursuits, and the relationship of that educational pursuit to his rehabilitation, the Clemency and Pardons Board recommended to the Governor that a pardon be granted. NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby pardon Mark Nelson from the sentence imposed for simple assault committed on February 15, 1980. IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this 24th day of August, A. D. nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENCE SHALL COME, GREETING:

Jamaal D. Kiah-el was found guilty of petty larceny, contributing to delinquency of a minor, and grand larceny by the Superior Court of the State of Washington for King County during the years 1958 and 1959. He served several months of time in the King County jail. During the early 1960's, Mr. Kiah-el was also convicted of similar crimes in the State of Pennsylvania. With these exceptions, Jamaal D. Kiah-el has since maintained a record free of further felony convictions and has involved himself commendably in community activities and has shown his rehabilitation. He petitioned for a pardon to clear his good name. NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, do hereby pardon Jamaal D. Kiah-el from the judgment and sentences imposed in King County during 1958 and 1959. In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this 24th day of August, A.D., nineteen hundred and ninety-two.

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"((Assembly)) Term" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the ((assembly)) house in accordance with Article 2 § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing, conference, joint, or select committee ((of the house)) as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous ((assembly)) term to call the ((assembly)) house to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each ((assembly)) term: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding ((assembly)) term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) ~~((In appointing the committee members to standing committees, the speaker shall name members in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties in the house. Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs. Members of the rules committee will be selected in the same manner and same ratio as provided above, and the speaker shall serve as the chair of the rules committee. Other committee memberships shall be selected by the respective caucuses, unless otherwise provided by law, on a basis of statutory and geographical representation; otherwise, the same ratio between the parties will prevail in the selection of other committee members.))~~ The speaker, in open session, shall appoint committee chairs from the majority party of the house and shall appoint members to committees in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties of the house, unless otherwise provided by law or house rules.

(H) The speaker shall serve as chair of the rules committee.

(I) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches and clerks perform their respective duties.

~~((H))~~ (J) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall employ, upon the recommendation of the employment committee and subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

~~((Admittance to the Floor))~~ Admission to the House

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

~~((A) Except as provided otherwise in subsection (B) of this rule, the following persons shall be entitled to admittance to the third and fourth floor of the house chamber (excluding the galleries):~~

- ~~1. Senate officers and members of the senate.~~
- ~~2. Persons in the exercise of official duty directly connected with the business of the house.~~
- ~~3. Reporters who have been designated by the speaker and who have received press cards of admittance, subject to revocation.~~
- ~~4. Former members of the legislature not advocating any pending or proposed legislation, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker and subject to revocation.~~
- ~~5. The immediate family of members, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker or speaker pro tempore and subject to revocation, may be admitted when the house is not in session.~~
- ~~6. Other persons, upon presentation of cards of admittance issued by the speaker and subject to revocation, may be admitted except for one-half hour prior to the convening of each day's session and for one-half hour immediately following adjournment each day the house is in session.~~

~~(B) No lobbyist, Washington state employee or public official shall be admitted to the house chamber either when the house is in session or one-half hour immediately prior to convening and one-half hour following the adjournment of its daily session, except with the consent of the speaker.) (A) The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the wings and adjacent areas of the house chamber for the period of time beginning one-half hour prior to convening and ending one-half hour following the adjournment of the house's daily session:~~

The governor or designees, or both;

Members of the senate;

State elected officials;

Officers and authorized employees of the legislature;

Former members of the house who are not advocating any pending or proposed legislation;

Representatives of the press;

Other persons with the consent of the speaker.

(B) Only members, pages, sergeants at arms and clerks are permitted on the floor while the house is in session.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced ~~((on the next working day))~~ at the next daily session, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing ~~((thirty (30)))~~ twenty (20) days before any session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the ~~((assembly))~~ term shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the ~~((assembly))~~ term.

((Amendatory Bills—Form

Rule 10. Bills intended to amend existing statutes shall have the words underlined which are amendatory to such existing statutes. Any matter to be deleted from the existing statutes shall be indicated by lining out such matter with a broken line and enclosing the lined out material within double parentheses. No bill shall be printed or acted upon until the provisions of this rule have been complied with.

New sections need not be underlined but shall be designated "NEW SECTION.")

Reading of Bills

Rule ((44)) 10. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That this rule may be temporarily suspended at any time by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present; and that on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution((7)) or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee ~~((or committees. Bills referred to more than one committee shall be considered consecutively by the committees in the order set forth in the referral motion))~~.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee~~((. However, bills referred to more than one committee, upon being reported out of committee, shall be transmitted to the next committee as set forth in the referral motion))~~, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. ~~((No bill shall be considered for second reading unless a calendar of bills for second reading and copies of any amendment made by a committee have been distributed to each member no later than 8:00 p.m. on the second day preceding such consideration unless otherwise directed by the rules committee.))~~ No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed. A bill for which a substitute has been recommended by a standing committee may not be subject to another substitute report by a committee that subsequently considers it. Amendments to a recommended substitute may be adopted and reported by such committee.

A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading. ~~((If a bill on the suspension calendar has been reported by more than one committee, the question for consideration by the house shall be as directed by the rules committee.))~~

(F) ~~((FLOOR))~~ HOUSE RESOLUTIONS. ~~((Floor))~~ House resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. If a rules committee meeting is not scheduled to occur prior to a time necessitated by the purpose of a house resolution, the majority leader and minority leader by agreement may waive transmission to the rules committee to permit consideration of the resolution by the house. The rules committee may adopt ~~((floor))~~ house resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule ~~((42))~~ 11. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule ~~((44))~~ 10(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion not to ~~((non-concur))~~ concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. ~~((All amendments to the title of a bill, which do not amend the subject matter statement may be adopted by a single motion.))~~ The title of a bill shall not be amended in committee or on second reading. Changes to that part of the title after the subject matter statement shall be incorporated by the chief clerk in the engrossing process.

Final Passage

Rule ~~((43))~~ 12. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(B) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(C) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule ((14)) 13. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at ~~((11:00))~~ 10:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule ~~((22))~~ 21(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule ((15)) 14. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. ~~((The rules committee shall have charge of the daily calendar of the house and shall direct the chief clerk of the order in which the business of the house shall be: PROVIDED, That:~~

~~(1) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.~~

~~(2) Messages from the senate, governor or other state officials may be read at any time.~~

~~(B) ORDER OF BUSINESS.))~~ Business of the house shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor and other state officials.

Fifth: Committee reports.

Sixth: Second reading of bills.

Seventh: Third reading of bills.

Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.

Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.

Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.

Eleventh: Announcements.

~~((The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.~~

~~(C))~~ (B) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

(C) EXCEPTIONS. Exceptions to the order of business are as follows:

(1) The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.

(2) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.

(3) House resolutions and messages from the senate, governor, or other state officials may be read at any time.

Motions

Rule ((16)) 15. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

- Adjourn
- Adjourn to a time certain
- Recess to a time certain
- Reconsider
- Demand for division
- Question of privilege
- Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

- First rank: Question of consideration
- Second rank: To lay on the table
- Third rank: For the previous question
- Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain
 - To commit or recommit
 - To postpone indefinitely
- Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

- Points of order and appeal
- Method of consideration
- Suspension of the rules
- Reading papers
- Withdraw a motion
- Division of a question

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. Once decided, no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely (~~being decided~~) shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule ~~((23))~~ 22.

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Rule ~~((47))~~ 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution((;)) or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule ((49)) 18 (Previous Question).

Rule ((48)) 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall ~~((be submitted to))~~ prevail.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule ((19)) 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable (~~by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present~~).

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule ((20)) 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question (~~(in)~~) which affects that member (~~(is immediately or)~~ privately and particularly (~~(interested*)~~). (~~()~~) A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (~~()~~) (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

Reconsideration

Rule ((24)) 20. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the original vote was taken.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

Rule ((22)) 21. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house or a motion to excuse absentees. The motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof.

~~((D) CALL OF HOUSE RAISED WHEN ABSENTEES RETURN. When the sergeant at arms shall make a report showing that all who were absent without leave are present, the call of the house may be dispensed with.))~~

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule ((23)) 22. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

- 21. Transportation ((25)) 27

Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs.

Duties of Committees

Rule ((25)) 24. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass", "do pass as amended" or that "the substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) ~~((Minority reports "do not pass" or "without recommendation" may be submitted with the majority report.))~~ Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a ~~((different))~~ recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation", which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report and spread upon the journal. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage. For purposes of this subsection, ~~((^))~~fiscal committee~~((^))~~ means the appropriations, capital ~~((facilities and financing))~~ budget, revenue, and transportation committees.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

~~((Free Conference Committee Report~~

~~Rule 26. No floor vote may be taken on any free conference report within twenty-four (24) hours of its placement on each member's desk, unless the free conference committee made no changes in the bill as it was last acted upon by the house.))~~

Standing Committees - Expenses - Subpoena Power

Rule 25. Regardless of whether the legislature is in session, members of the house may receive from moneys appropriated for the legislature, reimbursement for necessary travel expenses, and payments in lieu of subsistence and lodging for conducting official business of the house.

The standing committees of the house may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. Before a standing committee of the house may issue any process, the committee chairperson shall submit for approval of the executive rules committee a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The process shall not be issued prior to approval by the executive rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals.

Vetoed Bills

Rule ~~((27))~~ 26. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the ~~((assembly))~~ term, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule ~~((28))~~ 27. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since ~~((his))~~ sentencing shall be forthwith paid ~~((to him))~~, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members.

~~((Standing Rules Amendment~~

~~Rule 29. Any standing rule or order of the house may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof.~~

~~Any standing rule or order of business may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and~~ after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, bill reading may be advanced by majority vote. (Rule 11))

Smoking

Rule ((30)) 28. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the house of representatives or within ((the)) House ((Chamber)) facilities.

"No smoking" signs shall be posted ((in all committee rooms of the house of representatives)) so as to give notice of this rule.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule ((34)) 29. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 30. Any standing rule may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4610, by Representatives Jacobsen, Foreman, Wood and Anderson

WHEREAS, Athletics is one of the most effective ways for women in the United States to develop leadership skills, self-discipline, initiative, and confidence; and

WHEREAS, Sport and fitness activity contributes to emotional and physical well-being, and women need both strong minds and strong bodies; and

WHEREAS, The communication and cooperation skills learned through athletic experience play a key role in the contributions of athletes to the home, to the workplace, and to society; and

WHEREAS, Early motor-skill training and enjoyable experiences of physical activity strongly influence lifelong habits of physical fitness; and

WHEREAS, The bonds built among women through athletics help break down the social barriers of racism and prejudice; and

WHEREAS, The history of women in sports is rich and long, but there has been little national recognition of the significance of the athletic achievements of women; and

WHEREAS, The state of Washington has produced women athletes who are winners, such as Olympic skier Debbie Armstrong, ice skater Rosalynn Sumners, track star Doris Brown-Heritage, swimmer Mary Wayte, synchronized swimmer Tracie Ruiz-Conforto and Candy Costie, marathon runner Lisa Weidenbach, and soccer player Shannon Higgins, whose spirit, talent, and accomplishments distinguished them from others and were a source of inspiration and pride to all of us; and

WHEREAS, The number of women in the leadership positions of coaches, officials, and administrators has declined drastically over the past decade, and there is a need to restore women to these positions to ensure a fair representation of the abilities of women and to provide role models for young female athletes; and

WHEREAS, The athletic opportunities for male students at the college and high school level remain significantly greater than the athletic opportunities for female students; and

WHEREAS, The number of funded research projects focusing on the specific needs of women athletes is limited, and the information provided by the projects is imperative to the health and performance of future women athletes;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That February 4, 1993, be designated as National Girls and Women in Sports Day.

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The Honorable
Speaker of the House
Legislature of the State of Washington
Olympia, Washington

Mr. Speaker:

On January 11, 1993, this office certified that we had begun the signature checking process on Initiative to the Legislature #141 which was originally filed with this office on June 11, 1992.

We have completed a canvass of 101,875 signatures out of 159,308 signatures submitted in support of this measure. Of the number canvassed, we have determined that 86,656 were signatures of legal voters, 15,219 were either not registered, illegible or were multiple signatures.

Article II, section 1A of the State Constitution establishes the minimum number of acceptable signatures in order to qualify an initiative measure for the ballot as eight percent of the total votes cast for the office of Governor, or 150,001 signatures. The total number of invalid signatures permissible on Initiative Measure #141, therefore is 9,307 (159,308-150,001).

Since the total number of invalid signatures discovered during the canvassing procedure was 15,219, which exceeds the permissible number, we have terminated the signature checking process and we are unable to certify the measure to you for your consideration.

(Seal)

Ralph Munro, Secretary of State

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

On page 1, line 8, beginning with "WHEREAS, The economy" strike all material through "Washington." on page 2, line 29, and insert the following:

"WHEREAS, A severe forest management crisis exists in the Pacific Northwest affecting the lives of thousands of timber workers, families, and communities; and

WHEREAS, There is a fundamental need to protect old growth forest ecosystems through comprehensive forest management of federal lands; and

WHEREAS, A solution to the forest management crisis must include a perspective that economic needs and ecosystem protection are compatible; and

WHEREAS, The Clinton administration has demonstrated a willingness to bring key parties together in a forest summit and has sought input from many different parties on how, when, and where such a summit might be conducted; and

WHEREAS, Washington officials have offered to host this critical policy summit and to provide logistical support, including tours of forest areas and distressed timber communities; and

WHEREAS, There have been successful conflict resolution efforts in the past in Washington state regarding natural resource disputes by combining summits led by elected officials with more extended consensus efforts among a broad range of interested parties; and

WHEREAS, While the need is great to invest sufficient time to derive a lasting solution, many families in rural communities are in desperate need of early relief from the hardships this conflict has imposed on them;

NOW, THEREFORE, Your Memorialists respectfully pray that you will pursue with all due speed the holding of a forest summit in the Pacific Northwest, with the overall goal of seeking long-term solutions to conflicts between fish and wildlife protection and timber harvesting. We further ask that the ideas and suggestions solicited from officials in the state of Washington be considered in making the important decisions about the conduct of the summit.

We respectfully ask that the following be adopted as guiding principles for the forest summit:

- (1) All stakeholders should have a part in the summit process;
- (2) Elected leaders should be the core of the process and should be accountable for final decisions;
- (3) Information presented at the summit and used by summit participants should be based on the best scientific knowledge available; and
- (4) While as great a consensus as possible should be sought at the summit, no one group should have veto power over summit recommendations.

Finally, we ask that the subjects covered by the summit process include the following:

- (1) Assistance and retraining for timber workers and their families;
- (2) Restoration of forests and salmonid stocks and habitat;

- (3) Appropriate amount of preservation of old growth forest stands;
- (4) Sustainable timber supply and production;
- (5) Recovery areas for endangered or threatened species;
- (6) Incentives for private landowners;
- (7) The possibility of a federal/state/tribal partnership on ecosystem and landscape management;
- (8) Economic development and diversification;
- (9) Local government revenue; and
- (10) Resolution of litigation.

BE IT RESOLVED, That copies of this Memorial be immediately transmitted, to the Honorable Bill Clinton, President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each member of Congress from the State of Washington."

Signed by Representatives Pruitt, Chair; R. Johnson, Vice Chair; Morton, Ranking Minority Member; Stevens, Assistant Ranking Minority Member; Dunshee; Linville; Schoesler; Sheldon; Thomas; Valle; and Wolfe.

February 8, 1993

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4603, by Representatives Sheahan, Schoesler, Mielke, Silver, Lisk, Fuhrman, Grant, Kremen, Morton, Rayburn, Jacobsen, Heavey, Foreman, Morris, Brumsickle, Chandler, Stevens, Karahalios, Chappell and Wood

WHEREAS, It is the policy of the Washington State Legislature to recognize excellence in all fields of endeavor; and

WHEREAS, Washington State University's Cougar football team has exhibited the highest level of excellence in winning the 1992 Weiser Lock Copper Bowl in Tucson, Arizona; and

WHEREAS, The Cougars' 31-28 victory over the University of Utah Utes enabled them to complete the season ranked fifteenth in the nation, the best final national ranking ever for a Washington State University team; and

WHEREAS, Head Coach Mike Price's skills and leadership over just four years of coaching at Washington State University has brought stability to the Cougars' football program and has built a strong foundation for future success; and

WHEREAS, Coach Mike Price is one of only two Cougar coaches, the other being Dennis Erickson in 1988, to win nine games in a season since 1930. Price was a strong contender for regional and national coach of the year honors, and was a Football News Coach of the Year top ten finalist; and

WHEREAS, Coach Mike Price and all the Washington State University football assistant coaches and all the players share in the Cougars' success by combining exceptional coaching with exceptional playing; and

WHEREAS, The phenomenal individual and team achievements of the 1992 Cougar players will be forever remembered when commemorating the Cougars' winning year; and

WHEREAS, Their incredible abilities were demonstrated by this second bowl appearance and second bowl win for the Cougars in the past five years; and

WHEREAS, The Cougars' 1992 9-3-0 record equals Washington State University's 1988 9-3-0 record after they beat Houston in the Aloha Bowl; it equals their most wins ever, and represents their best record since the 1930 Rose Bowl team finished 9-1; and

WHEREAS, The Cougars' triumphant season included a crushing defeat of the University of Washington Huskies by a stunning 42-23 in the 1992 Apple Cup in Pullman, Washington; and

WHEREAS, The Cougars finished the 1992 season with the third best record in the Pacific-10 conference for Pac-10 play and tied for the second best record overall; and

WHEREAS, The Cougar players' profound professionalism, aggressive defense, brilliant offense, and amazing team discipline resulted in superb achievements in kicking, punting, field goals, rushing, passing, receiving, kickoff returns, punt returns, tackles, sacks, recovered fumbles, and touchdowns; and

WHEREAS, Quarterback Drew Bledsoe is the grandson of the esteemed Stewart Bledsoe, who served the constituents of State Legislative District Thirteen and the citizens of Washington State with great distinction as an esteemed member of the House of Representatives from 1967 to 1972; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe's Most Valuable Player performance in the Copper Bowl with an awesome 476 passing yards, surpassing his previous school record of 413 yards against Montana in 1992, places him in league with other great Cougar quarterbacks such as Mark Rypien and Timm Rosenbach; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe was named the Pacific-10 conference's Player of the Year on offense by the league's coaches, the fourth Washington State University player to earn such an honor and the first Cougar quarterback to do so; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe captured the Pacific-10 Conference total-offense crown for the second straight season by racking up 2,717 yards in total offense in the 11 regular season games alone, 247 yards per game, giving him a ranking of ninth in total offense nationally; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe set a Washington State University Cougars single season 12 game record for total yards passed by passing a remarkable 3,246 yards; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe set a Washington State University Cougars record for passing and running over 200 yards per game by achieving such an accomplishment in 23 games during his career, bettering the previous Washington State University record of 20 games set by Timm Rosenbach; and

WHEREAS, Drew Bledsoe set a Washington State University Cougars single season record for pass attempts, 432, and for pass completions, 241, and tied for the second best record for single season touchdown passes at 20; and

WHEREAS, Four Washington State University Cougars seniors participated in three of the collegiate postseason bowl games: Running back Shaumbe Wright-Fair, leading rusher in the Pac-10 this season, Pac-10 conference second team selection and a Doak Walker Award semi finalist, participated in the Japan Bowl; tight end Clarence Williams, a Pac-10 conference first team selection participated in the Hula Bowl and the East-West Shrine Game; defensive end Lewis Bush, a Pac-10 conference honorable mention team selection participated in the Hula Bowl; and offensive guard Bob Garman, a Pac-10 conference second team selection participated in the Japan Bowl and the East-West Shrine Game; and

WHEREAS, Other Cougar players receiving football honors include Greg Burns, ranked second in the Pac-10 in interceptions and a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; Ron Childs, a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; C. J. Davis, ranked second in the Pac-10 in receptions and receiving yards, Copper Bowl Offensive Most Valuable Player and a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; Josh Dunning, a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; Torey Hunter, a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; Anthony McClanahan, a Pac-10 conference second team selection and a Football News All-America third team selection; Singor Mobley, a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; DeWayne Patterson, a Football News sophomore All-America second team selection; Deron Pointer, ranked first in the Pac-10 in kickoff returns and a Pac-10 conference honorable mention selection; Aaron Price, ranked fifth in the Pac-10 in field goals and a Lou Groza Collegiate Placekicker Award semifinalist; John Rushing, a PAC-10 conference honorable mention selection and a Football News sophomore All-America third team selection; and Robbie Tobeck, a Pac-10 conference second team selection; and

WHEREAS, These wonderful achievements could only have been attained with the many students, alumni, family, and community members, and friends who gave their enthusiastic support, making them achievements for everyone to share and enjoy; and

WHEREAS, The Washington State University Cougar football team is a source of great pride to all the citizens of the state of Washington;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the State of Washington honor the 1992 Washington State University Cougar football team and Coach Mike Price; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this Resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Head Coach Mike Price and the entire coaching staff, Quarterback Drew Bledsoe and the entire 1992 Cougar football team, and Washington State University President Samuel Smith.

MOTION

Representative Peery moved that the House consider House Bill No. 1081 on today's second reading calendar. The motion was carried.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1081, by Representatives Heavey and Eide

Redefining uniformed personnel for public employee collective bargaining.

Representative Heavey moved adoption of the following amendments by Representatives Heavey, King and Orr.

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 41.56.030 and 1992 c 36 s 2 and 1991 c 363 s 119 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

(1) "Public employer" means any officer, board, commission, council, or other person or body acting on behalf of any public body governed by this chapter as designated by RCW 41.56.020, or any subdivision of such public body. For the purposes of this section, the public employer of district court or superior court employees for wage-related matters is the respective county legislative authority, or person or body acting on behalf of the legislative authority, and the public employer for nonwage-related matters is the judge or judge's designee of the respective district court or superior court.

(2) "Public employee" means any employee of a public employer except any person (a) elected by popular vote, or (b) appointed to office pursuant to statute, ordinance or resolution for a specified term of office by the executive head or body of the public employer, or (c) whose duties as deputy, administrative assistant or secretary necessarily imply a confidential relationship to the executive head or body of the applicable bargaining unit, or any person elected by popular vote or appointed to office pursuant to statute, ordinance or resolution for a specified term of office by the executive head or body of the public employer, or (d) who is a personal assistant to a district court judge, superior court judge, or court commissioner. For the purpose of (d) of this subsection, no more than one assistant for each judge or commissioner may be excluded from a bargaining unit.

(3) "Bargaining representative" means any lawful organization which has as one of its primary purposes the representation of employees in their employment relations with employers.

(4) "Collective bargaining" means the performance of the mutual obligations of the public employer and the exclusive bargaining representative to meet at reasonable times, to confer and negotiate in good faith, and to execute a written agreement with respect to grievance procedures and collective negotiations on personnel matters, including wages, hours and working conditions, which may be peculiar to an appropriate bargaining unit of such public employer, except that by such obligation neither party shall be compelled to agree to a proposal or be required to make a concession unless otherwise provided in this chapter. In the case of the Washington state patrol, "collective bargaining" shall not include wages and wage-related matters.

(5) "Commission" means the public employment relations commission.

(6) "Executive director" means the executive director of the commission.

(7)(a) Until July 1, 1995, "uniformed personnel" means ((a)): (i) Law enforcement officers as defined in RCW 41.26.030 ((as now or hereafter amended,)) of cities with a population of fifteen thousand or more or law enforcement officers employed by the governing body of any county with a population of seventy thousand or more((, or (b))); (ii) fire fighters as that term is defined in RCW 41.26.030((-as now or hereafter amended)); (iii) security forces established under RCW 43.52.520; (iv) employees of a port district whose duties include crash fire rescue or other fire fighting duties; (v) employees of fire departments of public employers who dispatch exclusively either fire or emergency medical services, or both; or (vi) employees in the several classes of advanced life support technicians, as defined in RCW 18.71.200, who are employed by a public employer.

(b) Beginning on July 1, 1995, "uniformed personnel" means: (i) Law enforcement officers as defined in RCW 41.26.030 employed by the governing body of any city, town, or county; (ii) general authority Washington peace officers as defined in RCW 10.93.020 employed by a port district; (iii) security forces established under RCW 43.52.520; (iv) fire fighters as that term is defined in RCW 41.26.030; (v) employees of a port district whose duties include crash fire rescue or other fire fighting duties; (vi) employees of fire departments of public employers who dispatch exclusively either fire or emergency medical services, or both; (vii) employees of public employers, other than fire departments, who receive calls or dispatch calls, or both, regarding fire, police, or emergency medical services, or any combination of them; or (viii) employees in the several classes of advanced life support technicians, as defined in RCW 18.71.200, who are employed by a public employer.

Sec. 2. RCW 41.56.460 and 1988 c 110 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In making its determination, the panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in RCW 41.56.430 and as additional standards or guidelines to aid it in reaching a decision, it shall take into consideration the following factors:

(a) The constitutional and statutory authority of the employer;

(b) Stipulations of the parties;

(c)(i) For employees listed in RCW 41.56.030(7)(a) (i), (iii), and 41.56.495, comparison of the wages, hours and conditions of employment of personnel involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of like personnel of like employers of similar size on the west coast of the United States;

(ii) For employees listed in RCW 41.56.030(7)~~((b))~~(a)(ii) and (iv) through (vi), comparison of the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of personnel involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of like personnel of public fire departments of similar size on the west coast of the United States. However, when an adequate number of comparable employers exists within the state of Washington, other west coast employers shall not be considered;

(d) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living;

(e) Changes in any of the foregoing circumstances during the pendency of the proceedings; and

(f) Such other factors, not confined to the foregoing, which are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours and conditions of employment.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 41.56 RCW to read as follows:

In making its determination, the panel shall be mindful of the legislative purpose enumerated in RCW 41.56.430 and, as additional standards or guidelines to aid it in reaching a decision, it shall take into consideration the following factors:

(1) The constitutional and statutory authority of the employer;

(2) Stipulations of the parties;

(3)(a) For employees listed in RCW 41.56.030(7)(b)(i) through (iii), and (vii), comparison of the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of personnel involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of like personnel of like employers of similar size on the west coast of the United States;

(b) For employees listed in RCW 41.56.030(7)(b)(iv) through (vi), and (viii), comparison of the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of personnel involved in the proceedings with the wages, hours, and conditions of employment of like personnel of public fire departments of similar size on the west coast of the United States. However, when an adequate number of comparable employers exists within the state of Washington, other west coast employers may not be considered;

(4) The average consumer prices for goods and services, commonly known as the cost of living;

(5) Changes in any of the circumstances under subsection (1) through (4) of this section during the pendency of the proceedings; and

(6) Such other factors, not confined to the factors under subsection (1) through (5) of this section, that are normally or traditionally taken into consideration in the determination of wages, hours, and conditions of employment. For those employees listed in RCW 41.56.030(7)(b)(i) who are employed by the governing body of a city or town with a population of less than fifteen thousand, or a county with a population of less than seventy thousand, consideration must also be given to regional differences in the cost of living.

Sec. 4. RCW 41.56.123 and 1989 c 46 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) After the termination date of a collective bargaining agreement, all of the terms and conditions specified in the collective bargaining agreement shall remain in effect until the effective date of a subsequent agreement, not to exceed one year from the termination date stated in the agreement. Thereafter, the employer may unilaterally implement according to law.

(2) This section does not apply to provisions of a collective bargaining agreement which both parties agree to exclude from the provisions of subsection (1) of this section and to provisions within the collective bargaining agreement with separate and specific termination dates.

(3) This section shall not apply to the following:

(a) Bargaining units covered by RCW 41.56.430 et seq. for factfinding and interest arbitration;

(b) Collective bargaining agreements authorized by chapter 53.18 RCW; or

(c) ~~((Security forces established under RCW 43.52.520; or~~ ~~(d)))~~ Collective bargaining agreements authorized by chapter 54.04 RCW.

(4) This section shall not apply to collective bargaining agreements in effect or being bargained on July 23, 1989.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. RCW 41.56.460 and 1988 c 110 s 1, 1987 c 521 s 2, 1983 c 287 s 4, 1979 ex.s. c 184 s 3, & 1973 c 131 s 5 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. RCW 41.56.495 and 1988 c 110 s 3 & 1985 c 150 s 1 are each repealed.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. (1) Sections 3 and 5 of this act shall take effect July 1, 1995.

(2) Sections 1, 2, 4, and 6 of this act are necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

Representative Sheldon moved adoption of the following amendment to the amendment:

On page 2, line 28 of the amendment, after "city" strike ", town, or county" and insert "or town with a population of ten thousand or more or any county"

Representatives Sheldon, Springer, Schoesler spoke in favor of the amendment and Representatives Heavey, Orr, Chappell and Conway spoke against it.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be adoption of the amendment to the amendment on House Bill No. 1081. The amendment to the amendment failed.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4611, by Representatives L. Johnson, Cooke, Thibaudeau, Morris, Conway, Dellwo, Linville, Edmondson, Flemming, Rust, Holm, J. Kohl, Foreman, Cothorn, G. Cole, Wolfe, Patterson, Brown, Long, Riley, Mastin, Ogden, Romero, Karahalios, Wood, Valle, Leonard, R. Johnson and Johanson

WHEREAS, Monday, February 15, 1993, marks the one hundred seventy-third anniversary of the birth of Susan Brownell Anthony, reformer and leader of women's suffrage; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony defied male electioneers and faced indictment for illegally voting in 1872; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony spoke on suffrage legislation before members of the Washington State Territorial Legislature in Olympia, Washington, on October 19, 1871, making her the first woman in the history of the United States to be given the privilege of addressing an assembled legislature; and

WHEREAS, Following her presentation to the Washington Territorial Legislature, Susan B. Anthony was the guest of Daniel Bigelow, a state lawmaker who was one of the first to support women's suffrage in the Northwest, at what is now Olympia's historic Bigelow Home; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony helped draft the constitution for the Washington Women's Suffrage Association; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony was director of the Female Department of the Canajoharie Academy in New York until she abandoned her career in education to devote her life to social reform, first organizing the Women's State Temperance Society of New York; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony, along with Elizabeth Cady Stanton, founded in 1863 the Woman's Loyal National League to petition Congress to advocate full civil and political rights for women and blacks when the Civil War ended; and

WHEREAS, In 1866, Susan B. Anthony and other reformers formed the Equal Rights Association to further their campaign for women's suffrage; and

WHEREAS, The reformers took their suffrage campaign in 1867 to the New York State Constitutional Convention, where the state legislature refused to consider the issue, but instead gave considerable support to legislation legalizing prostitution; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony and her suffragettes fought back with lobbying efforts that killed the prostitution bill in committee, and furthermore, eventually secured the first laws in New York state guaranteeing women's rights over their children and control over property and wages; and

WHEREAS, Susan B. Anthony, during the presidential campaign in 1872, urged women to claim their rights under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments by registering and voting in every state in the union; and

WHEREAS, In a colorful display of her remarkable courage, Susan B. Anthony and her three sisters boldly entered a stronghold of men in a Rochester, New York, barbershop in 1872 and insisted that they be registered to vote under provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment; and

WHEREAS, On November 5th, Susan B. Anthony entered her polling place and voted the Republican ticket after which she was charged and indicted for voting illegally; and

WHEREAS, In another display of determination, Susan B. Anthony, refusing to pay her streetcar fare as a deputy marshal was carting her off to jail, announced loudly enough for all passengers to hear, "I'm travelling at the expense of this government. This gentleman is taking me to jail. Ask him for my fare!";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor Susan B. Anthony and remember her for and emulate her in her dedication to social reform that led to the passage of the Women's Suffrage Amendment (Nineteenth Amendment) to the United States Constitution in 1920; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That Susan B. Anthony be remembered for her courage and determination to work for equal rights for all citizens of America as reflected in Anthony's quote, "It was we, the people, not we, the white male citizens, nor yet we, the male citizens, but we the whole people, who formed this Union. And we formed it not to give the blessings of liberty, but to secure them, not to the half of ourselves and the half of our posterity, but to the whole people--women as well as men."

Representative L. Johnson and Cooke spoke in favor of adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4611 was adopted.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the fourth order of business.

MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

Speaker Pro Tempore Ron Meyers

Representative Todd Mielke

Speaker Ron Meyers: We are assembled today to pay tribute to the lives and services of distinguished former members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the state of Washington who have passed from among us.

On behalf of the people of our state, the Fifty-Third Legislative Session of the State of Washington conveys its respect to these deceased legislators who once sat in the hallowed Chambers of the House and Senate, voted often on important and complicated bills, attended committee meetings, and above all else, served to the best of their abilities in order to make our state a better and more enjoyable place to live. Their achievements, records and valued services have been recorded in the Journals of the Senate and House, and are now and forever more a permanent part of the history of the State of Washington.

We express our sympathies to their families and friends, and share with them on this memorable occasion the fond and happy memories of these Legislators who served with distinction and who truly loved the State of Washington. They have left a legacy of dedicated service that will remain forever etched in our hearts, our memories and our legislative records.

RESOLUTION

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4613, by Representatives Kremen, R. Johnson, Linville and Quall

WHEREAS, One hundred years ago, under the provisions of the Federal Statehood Enabling Act, the Washington State Legislature designated property overlooking Bellingham Bay and the San Juan Islands as the site of a proposed normal school; and

WHEREAS, In 1895, the legislature appropriated funds for New Whatcom Normal School to construct a single structure, now the central portion of Old Main; and

WHEREAS, In 1899, the legislature voted thirty-three thousand five hundred dollars to equip and operate the school and on September 6, 1899, Principal Edward T. Mathes welcomed the first class of eighty-eight students, a number which doubled by week's end and rose to over two hundred within one month; and

WHEREAS, In 1933, the legislature granted to the institution the right to confer degrees, following which a continuing expansion and elaboration in academic and degree programs, including graduate, interdisciplinary, and international studies, transformed the institution's educational role from one limited to the training of teachers to its status today as a multipurpose, comprehensive, regional university; and

WHEREAS, Commensurate with its increasing academic diversity, the school's name was changed by legislative action from New Whatcom Normal School to Western Washington College of Education in 1937, to Western Washington State College in 1961, and to Western Washington University in 1977; and

WHEREAS, Distinguished faculty, staff, and administrators have successfully acted in concert to fulfill the call for traditional educational values, to transmit new academic knowledge, technologies, and methods, and to prepare for the imminent educational challenges inherent in a new century; and

WHEREAS, Over the past century, Western Washington University has provided outstanding, nationally recognized liberal arts and business programs to more than one hundred thousand Washington citizens; and

WHEREAS, The graduates of Western Washington University have distinguished themselves in many fields including teaching, government service, business, the arts, the professions, and the sciences; and

WHEREAS, Ceremonies scheduled by Western Washington University to take place during the week of February 22 to 26, 1993, will formally observe and commemorate the one hundred year anniversary of the founding of the institution;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the state of Washington honor and proclaim the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Western Washington University and the celebratory events as the University enters into its second century of service to the state of Washington reaffirming its dedication to educational excellence; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to Mary Kay Becker, Chair of the Board of Trustees, and Dr. Larry Marrs, Chair of the Founders Celebration Committee, all of Western Washington University.

Representative Kremen moved adoption of the resolution.

Representatives Kremen, Jacobsen and Cooke spoke in favor of the adoption of the resolution.

House Resolution No. 4613 was adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 93-4614, by Representatives Miller, Thomas, Carlson, Long, Dyer and Anderson

WHEREAS, The fortieth annual National Retail Bakers Week is being held during the week of February 21 through 27, 1993; and

WHEREAS, This year's theme is "Proud Partners in Our Community" which reflects the many contributions made by retail bakers as professionals, responsible business persons, and active members of our communities; and

WHEREAS, In addition to providing delicious fresh baked goods, our retail bakers provide an excellent role model for would be entrepreneurs and provide jobs to many young people; and

WHEREAS, Across the nation in 1993 the forty-five thousand retail bakers generated over fifteen billion dollars in sales;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives recognize and honor our retail bakers for the job they are doing for our state, and wish them well during their celebration of National Retail Bakers Week; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives find that patronizing and enjoying the many delicious fresh bakery foods available at local retail bakeries is an excellent manner for all citizens to share in the National Retail Bakers Week celebration; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Retail Bakers of America.

Representative Miller moved the adoption of the resolution and spoke in favor of it.

House Resolution No. 4614 was adopted.

There being no objection, the House reverted to the fourth order of business.

Representative Orr, Heavey, R. Meyers, King, Campbell and Riley spoke in favor of passage of the bill.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Representative Sommers yielded to a question by Representative Lisk.

Representative Lisk: Representative, as one of the original authors of the 1977 LEOFF II systems, was the intent to allow employees under the LEOFF II system the right to sue?

Representative Sommers: I think I had made it clear. The intent was that officers would be included under industrial insurance, the standard procedure for industrial insurance and that they would not under have the right to sue. Yes, I was the prime sponsor of that legislation and it's very clear in my mind that the intent of the legislature was to provide industrial insurance to these members but they were to be treated as everyone else in industrial insurance is treated; that they do not have the right to sue.

POINT OF ORDER

Representative Heavey: Mr Speaker that is an inappropriate question. It does not speak to the matter of the bill before us. RCW 41.26.280, the LEOFF I language says, with permission of the Speaker, the injury or death resulting to a member from intentional negligent act or admission the governmental employer of the member, the widow, widower, child or dependant of the member, shall have the privilege to benefit under this chapter and also have the cause of action against the governmental employer as otherwise provided by law. In other words, the right to sue for intentional or negligent acts. The bill, prime sponsored by Representative H. Sommers in 1977, said the provisions to the following sections of this chapter, meaning the same chapter as I just quoted, shall apply only to persons who establish membership in the retirement system on or before September 30th 1977. In other words, the following sections that are going to be listed only apply to left one people. They get up, right up, and find sections and they leave off the section I just quoted. Implication in the law held by superior court, three superior court judges have ruled that section 280 also applies to left two members, that they have the right to sue in addition to workers compensation covers. I think its very clear in the bill by the lady from the 36th district that is the way the legislature intended it to be and I'm sorry we have to debate this, I urge your support.

Representatives Orr and Heavey again spoke in favor of the bill.

Representative Lisk spoke again spoke against the bill.

Representative Heavey requested a point of order and it was denied.

Representative Zellinsky demanded the previous question and the demand was sustained.

On motion of Representative Wood, Representatives Ballard and Miller were excused.

The Speaker stated the question before the House to be final passage of House Bill No. 1295.

ROLL CALL

The Clerk called the roll on final passage of House Bill No. 1295 and the bill passed the House by the following vote: Yeas - 73, Nays - 22, Absent - 0, Excused - 3.

Voting yea: Representatives Anderson, Appelwick, Ballasiotes, Basich, Bray, Brough, Brown, Campbell, Carlson, Conway, Cooke, Cothorn, Dellwo, Dorn, Dunshee, Eide, Finkbeiner, Fisher, G., Flemming, Foreman, Forner, Grant, Heavey, Holm, Horn, Jacobsen, Johanson, Johnson, L., Johnson, R., Jones, Karahalios, Kessler, King, Kohl, J., Kremen, Lemmon, Leonard, Linville, Locke, Ludwig, Mastin, Meyers, R., Mielke, Morris, Myers, H., Ogden, Orr, Padden, Patterson, Peery, Pruitt, Quall, Rayburn, Reams, Riley, Romero, Schmidt, Scott, Shin, Springer, Talcott, Tate, Thibaudeau, Thomas, Valle, Vance, Van Luven, Veloria, Wineberry, Wolfe, Wood, Zellinsky and Mr. Speaker - 73.

Voting nay: Representatives Brumsickle, Casada, Chandler, Chappell, Cole, G., Dyer, Edmondson, Fisher, R., Fuhrman, Hansen, Lisk, Long, Morton, Rust, Schoesler, Sehlin, Sheahan, Sheldon, Silver, Sommers, Stevens and Wang - 22.

Excused: Representatives Ballard, Miller and Roland - 3.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NOTICE: Formatting and page numbering in this document may be different from that in the original published version.

AFTERNOON SESSION

House Chamber, Olympia, Wednesday, March 3, 1993

The House was called to order at 3:30 p.m. by the Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Heather Hudson and Kelli Lang. Prayer was offered by Reverend Hilton Jarvis of Lacey Baptist Church.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGES

The Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding) introduced the court of the 1993 Apple Blossom Festival, which included Queen Kristie Marie Adamson, Princesses Marie Louise Davis, Anna L. Shaw, Shawnee Elizabeth Effinjur, Jennifer Ann Netz, and Candida Melinda Cheryl. Queen Kristi Marie Adamson briefly addressed the members of the House of Representatives.

The Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding) introduced Dr. Bosco Shawn-Uk Kim of Korea.

Dr. Bosco Hyun-Uk Kim: Honorable Brian Ebersole, Speaker of the House; distinguished members of the House; and ladies and gentlemen:

I feel honored and humbled to stand before you to bring a greeting from my people in Korea. Several years ago I had the privilege of addressing the joint session of the Senate and House in this great assembly hall. They looked impressive and great, but you folks look even better.

I am especially grateful to you for welcoming one of my countrymen in your midst, Representative Paul Shin, my colleague and best friend. As the first Korean American to serve in the state legislature, we are very proud of him and above all, because of him, all Koreans are coming to know your great state of Washington.

As you know, Korea just completed its presidential election, and we elected the first civilian president. We are indeed on the way to full democracy.

In retrospect I don't think this would have been possible without the longstanding and amicable relations between your country and mine. In 1945 it was your country who liberated Korea from Japanese colonialism. In 1950, when the Communists invaded South Korea, it was you who came to our aid; even giving your blood, for purposes perhaps unknown at the time. It was you who accepted into your country to receive higher education hundreds of thousands of Korean students who then returned to Korea to help rebuild their country. And it is you who continue to foster this alliance; politically, militarily and economically between your country and mine.

From this partnership Korea has risen from abject poverty into a respectable, industrial nation, and above all to an independent democratic state.

For these reasons I bring my hearty thank you and warm feelings of friendship from my people. Personally, I feel because I have so many good friends like you and Paul Shin; Washington is like my second home.

Thank you again. Auf Wiedersehen: Until we meet again.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

HB 1135 Prime Sponsor, Agriculture and Rural Development: Modifying the regulation of "alternative livestock."
Reported by Committee on Fisheries & Wildlife

MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Agriculture & Rural Development be substituted therefor and the substitute bill do pass with the following amendment: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature declares that the husbandry of alternative livestock as a farming operation may provide a consistent source of healthful food, offers opportunities for new jobs and increased farm income stability, and improves the balance of trade.

The legislature finds that many areas of the state of Washington may be suitable for alternative livestock farms, and therefore the legislature encourages the promotion of appropriate alternative livestock farming activities, programs, and development with the same status as other agricultural activities, programs, and development within the state.

The legislature finds that alternative livestock farming should be considered a branch of the agricultural industry of the state for purposes of laws that apply to or provide for the advancement, benefit, or protection of the agriculture industry within the state. The legislature further finds, however, that alternative livestock farming may pose threats to the state's wildlife, and therefore requires effective regulation to minimize these threats.

It is therefore the policy of this state to encourage the development and expansion of appropriate alternative livestock farming within the state. It is also the policy of this state to protect wildlife by providing for effective regulation of alternative livestock farming including but not limited to a disease inspection and control program for alternative livestock farming operations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Alternative livestock" means the following as long as they are confined by humans, raised or used in farm or ranch operations in the private sector, and produced on the farm or ranch or legally acquired for the farm or ranch: Fallow deer (dama dama); reindeer (all rangifer except rangifer tarandus caribou); and other nonresident vertebrate species listed by rules adopted jointly by the departments of agriculture and wildlife under section 5 of this act. "Alternative livestock" does not include: Wildlife species that currently exist in a wild state in the state of Washington, except that by rule which shall include methods that will ensure genetic integrity, the directors of the department of agriculture and the department of wildlife may allow rocky mountain elk (cervus elaphus nelsoni) to be farmed in the same status and under the same regulatory provisions as "alternative livestock"; animals which have escaped confinement; a domestic dog (canis familiaris) or domestic cat (felis domestica); private sector aquatic products as defined in and regulated under chapter 15.85 RCW; an animal raised for release into the wild; an animal raised for the purpose of hunting that takes place in this state; an animal that is required to be identified under section 6 of this act and is not identified as required; or an animal located on, purchased from, or being transported to or from a farm or ranch that is required to be registered under section 8 of this act but is not registered as required at the time the livestock is located on, purchased from, or being transported to or from the farm or ranch.

(2) "Alternative livestock products" means the products of alternative livestock including, but not limited to, meat and meat products, velvet, antlers, horns, leather, hides, feathers, eggs, gametes, and genetic materials. "Alternative livestock products" does not include a product that is required to be identified under section 6 of this act and is not identified as required.

(3) "Department" means the department of agriculture.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The department is the principal state agency for providing state marketing support services for the alternative livestock industry. The department shall exercise its authorities, including those provided by chapters 15.64, 15.65, 15.66, and 43.23 RCW, to develop a program for assisting the alternative livestock industry to market and promote the use of its products. The department shall consult the alternative livestock council in developing the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. It is unlawful to hunt or allow others to hunt for a fee, any alternative livestock or rocky mountain elk reared on or derived from an alternative livestock farm.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. (1) Any authority of the department of wildlife to regulate alternative livestock and alternative livestock products is limited to the authority granted by this section.

(2) The directors of the department of agriculture and the department of wildlife shall jointly adopt rules identifying species including deleterious species that may be raised in this state as alternative livestock. In identifying species under this section, the departments shall consider the risks that the presence of the animals in this state, or the concentration of their number through confinement, may pose, to the public health and safety, to the environment, to resident wildlife, and to traditional and alternative livestock. Consideration shall also be given to the ability of scientists to identify and distinguish the species and products made from such species, in all forms, based on accepted biological testing. A hybrid of an animal listed in section 2(1) of this act or identified in joint rules adopted under this subsection shall be considered to be alternative livestock only if it is expressly identified in joint rules adopted under this subsection. The animals listed in section 2(1) of this act and those identified in such joint rules constitute the only animals considered as alternative livestock under this chapter. The departments may, under jointly adopted rules, restrict the areas of the state in which animals listed in section 2(1) of this act or those identified under this subsection may be ranched or farmed.

(3) The department of agriculture and the department of wildlife may jointly adopt rules that authorize the department of agriculture to regulate the entry and intrastate movement, sale, transfer, possession, exhibition, disposition, and release of alternative livestock or alternative livestock products.

(4) Any rules adopted under this section shall specify the emergency enforcement actions that may be taken in accordance with the provisions of chapter 34.05 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The director of agriculture shall, in consultation with the department of wildlife and the alternative livestock council, establish identification requirements for alternative livestock and alternative livestock products to the extent that identifying the livestock or the source or quantity of the products is necessary to permit the department of wildlife to effectively administer and enforce Title 77 RCW. The director shall also consult with the director of the department of wildlife to ensure that such rules enable the department of wildlife to enforce the programs administered under that title.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The director of agriculture in consultation with the department of wildlife shall develop and administer a program of disease inspection and control for alternative livestock. The purpose of the program is to protect the alternative livestock industry from the loss of animals or productivity to disease and to protect wildlife in this state. As used in this section "disease" means, in addition to its ordinary meaning, infestations of parasites or pests.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The owner of a farm or ranch for alternative livestock shall register the farm or ranch annually with the department of agriculture. The director shall develop and maintain a registration list of all alternative livestock farms and ranches. Registered alternative livestock farms and ranches shall provide the department production statistical data. The director of agriculture shall, in consultation with the alternative livestock council, establish by rule annual registration fees sufficient to cover the costs of development of rules and the administration of this chapter and the rules adopted under this chapter. Fees collected under this section shall be deposited in the alternative livestock farm account within the agricultural local fund established in RCW 43.23.230 and shall be used solely to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of agriculture shall adopt rules for administering this chapter. Rules shall be adopted in accordance with chapter 34.05 RCW.

In developing and adopting rules under this chapter, the department of agriculture shall consult the alternative livestock council, the department of wildlife, appropriate federal agencies, and Indian tribes to assure the protection of state, federal, and tribal wildlife resources and to protect alternative livestock from disease that could originate from resources regulated or managed by public entities.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 10. If either the director of agriculture or the director of wildlife proposes a rule identifying a species of animal as alternative livestock under section 5 of this act or other rules of a scientific nature that are the subject of the joint rule-making authority of this chapter but the other director fails to propose the rule jointly, a scientific review board shall be assembled to make its recommendation regarding the proposed identification. The board shall be composed of: One member selected by the director of the department of agriculture and one member selected by the director of the department of wildlife. The members selected by the directors shall select a third member.

The board shall review the proposal based on the criteria for considering threats posed by section 5(2) of this act and make its recommendations to the directors of the departments of agriculture and wildlife. The directors shall consider the recommendations of the board. If the board recommends that the species be identified as alternative livestock by joint rule and either director determines not to adopt such a rule, the director so declining shall file a statement with the board and the director of the other agency specifying the director's reasons for declining.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. The director of agriculture and the director of wildlife shall study the needs for assuring adequate fences or other methods of enclosure for various species of alternative livestock. The directors shall jointly adopt rules establishing enclosure standards for one or more types of alternative livestock as deemed necessary to assure adequate protection to traditional farm animals, wildlife, and alternative livestock.

If an animal is not enclosed as required for the animal in rules adopted under this section or if it is found by a state wildlife or agricultural official or local law enforcement officer outside an area of an enclosure that is required for it in rules adopted under this section, the animal so unenclosed or so found is hereby declared to be a public nuisance. An owner of alternative livestock may request assistance from the department of agriculture, department of wildlife, or local law enforcement office in recapturing escaped alternative livestock and may be billed for the cost of services rendered.

Alternative livestock that escape a required enclosure shall be recaptured and impounded at a suitable facility at the owner's expense. Animals may not be returned to the owner's premises until sufficient repairs or improvement are made to assure that release will not reoccur. The owner of the animal is liable for damages that are shown to be caused by the animal during the time of the escape.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 12. The alternative livestock council of not more than seven persons is hereby created. Four members of the council shall be appointed by the director of agriculture to three-year terms. Three members of the council shall be appointed by the director of the department of wildlife to three-year terms. The director may shorten the initial term for a position on the council to stagger the expiration of terms on the council. Vacancies on the council shall be filled by the director by appointment. The council shall advise the department on all aspects of alternative livestock farming and the marketing of alternative livestock and alternative livestock products.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. Each owner of alternative livestock shall ensure that the livestock are confined to the property of the owner or secured at all times when not on that property. An owner who violates the requirements of this section is subject to a civil penalty in the form of a fine levied by the director of the department of agriculture as an order under chapter 34.05 RCW. The fine shall not exceed ten thousand dollars for each instance of a violation. In determining the amount of a fine, the director shall consider the risks or potential risks to the environment, resident wildlife, and traditional and alternative livestock posed by the violation.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 77.04 RCW to read as follows:

This title does not apply to alternative livestock or alternative livestock products, as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act. The sole authority of the department of wildlife to regulate such alternative livestock and alternative livestock products is the authority granted by joint rules adopted under section 5 of this act.

Sec. 15. RCW 77.32.010 and 1987 c 506 s 76 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a license issued by the director is required to:

- (a) Hunt for wild animals or wild birds or fish for game fish;
- (b) Practice taxidermy for profit;
- (c) Deal in raw furs for profit;
- (d) Act as a fishing guide;
- (e) Operate a game farm;
- (f) Purchase or sell anadromous game fish; or
- (g) Use department-managed lands or facilities as provided by rules adopted pursuant to this title.

(2) A permit issued by the director is required to:

- (a) Conduct, hold, or sponsor hunting or fishing contests or competitive field trials using live wildlife;
- (b) Collect wild animals, wild birds, game fish, or protected wildlife for research or display; or
- (c) Stock game fish.

(3) Aquaculture as defined in RCW 15.85.020 is exempt from the requirements of this section, except when being stocked in public waters under contract with the department.

(4) A license or permit is not required for farming or ranching operations for alternative livestock as such livestock are defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act.

Sec. 16. RCW 77.32.211 and 1991 sp.s. c 7 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A taxidermy license allows the holder to practice taxidermy for profit. The fee for this license is one hundred eighty dollars.

(2) A fur dealer's license allows the holder to purchase, receive, or resell raw furs for profit. The fee for this license is one hundred eighty dollars.

(3) A fishing guide license allows the holder to offer or perform the services of a professional guide in the taking of game fish. The fee for this license is one hundred eighty dollars for a resident and six hundred dollars for a nonresident.

(4) A game farm license allows the holder to operate a game farm ~~((to acquire, breed, grow, keep, and sell wildlife))~~ under conditions prescribed by the rules adopted pursuant to this title. The fee for this license is seventy-two dollars for the first year and forty-eight dollars for each following year.

(5) A game fish stocking permit allows the holder to release game fish into the waters of the state as prescribed by rule of the commission. The fee for this permit is twenty-four dollars.

(6) A fishing or field trial permit allows the holder to promote, conduct, hold, or sponsor a fishing or field trial contest in accordance with rules of the commission. The fee for a fishing contest permit is twenty-four dollars. The fee for a field trial contest permit is twenty-four dollars.

(7) An anadromous game fish buyer's license allows the holder to purchase or sell steelhead trout and other anadromous game fish harvested by Indian fishermen lawfully exercising fishing rights reserved by federal statute, treaty, or executive order, under conditions prescribed by rule of the director. The fee for this license is one hundred eighty dollars.

Sec. 17. RCW 77.12.570 and 1987 c 506 s 49 are each amended to read as follows:

The commission shall establish the qualifications and conditions for issuing a game farm license. The director shall adopt rules governing the operation of game farms. Private sector cultured aquatic products as defined in RCW 15.85.020 and alternative livestock as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act are exempt from regulation under this section.

Sec. 18. RCW 77.12.580 and 1987 c 506 s 50 are each amended to read as follows:

A licensed game farmer may purchase, sell, give away, or dispose of the eggs of game birds or game fish lawfully possessed as provided by rule of the director. The eggs of alternative livestock as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act are exempt from regulation under this section.

Sec. 19. RCW 77.12.590 and 1987 c 506 s 51 are each amended to read as follows:

Wildlife given away, sold, or transferred by a licensed game farmer shall have attached to each wildlife member, package, or container, a tag, seal, or invoice as required by rule of the director. Private sector cultured aquatic products as defined in RCW 15.85.020 and alternative livestock and alternative livestock products as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act are exempt from regulation under this section.

Sec. 20. RCW 77.12.600 and 1985 c 457 s 24 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) A common carrier may transport wildlife shipped by a licensed game farmer if the wildlife is tagged, sealed, or invoiced as provided in RCW 77.12.590. Packages containing wildlife shall have affixed to them tags or labels showing the name of the licensee and the consignee.

(2) For purposes of this section, wildlife does not include private sector cultured aquatic products as defined in RCW 15.85.020 or alternative livestock or alternative livestock products as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act. However, if a means of identifying such livestock or products is required by rules adopted under RCW 15.85.060 or section 6 of this act, this exemption from the definition of wildlife applies only if the ~~((aquatic))~~ livestock or products are identified in conformance with those rules.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A new section is added to chapter 16.49A RCW to read as follows:

(1) Meat and meat by-products of alternative livestock, as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act, whether or not such meat, meat by-products, or animals originate from within the state, shall not be sold or distributed for public consumption without prior inspection by the department, the United States department of agriculture, or another department-recognized local, state, or federal agency responsible for food safety and inspection.

(2) The department may adopt rules establishing a program for inspecting meat and meat by-products of alternative livestock. Such rules shall include a fee schedule that will provide for the recovery of the full cost of the inspection program. Fees collected under this section shall be deposited in an account within the agricultural local fund and the revenue from such fees shall be used solely for carrying out the provisions of this section. No appropriation is required for disbursement from the account. The director may employ such personnel as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Sec. 22. RCW 16.36.005 and 1987 c 163 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

As used in this chapter:

"Alternative livestock" shall have the meaning as defined in section 2 of this act.

"Exotic wildlife" means any wild animal whose members do not exist in Washington in a wild state as of the effective date of this act but does not include alternative livestock as defined in section 2 of this act.

"Director" means the director of agriculture of the state of Washington or his authorized representative.

"Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.

"Garbage" means the solid animal and vegetable waste and offal together with the natural moisture content resulting from the handling, preparation, or consumption of foods in houses, restaurants, hotels, kitchens, markets, meat shops, packing houses and similar establishments or any other food waste containing meat or meat products.

"Veterinary biologic" means any virus, serum, toxin, and analogous product of natural or synthetic origin, or product prepared from any type of genetic engineering, such as diagnostics, antitoxins, vaccines, live microorganisms, killed microorganisms, and the antigenic or immunizing components intended for use in the diagnosis, treatment, or prevention of diseases in animals.

Sec. 23. RCW 16.36.010 and 1927 c 165 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The word "quarantine" as used in this act shall mean the placing and restraining of any animal or animals by the owner or agents in charge thereof, either within a certain described and designated enclosure or area within this state, or the restraining of any such animal or animals from entering this state, as may be directed in writing by the director of agriculture, or his or her duly authorized representative. Any animal or animals so quarantined within the state shall at all times be kept separate and apart from other (~~domestic~~) animals and not allowed to have anything in common therewith.

Sec. 24. RCW 16.36.020 and 1987 c 163 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

The director shall have general supervision of the prevention of the spread and the suppression of infectious, contagious, communicable and dangerous diseases affecting animals within, in transit through and being imported into the state. The director may establish and enforce quarantine of and against any and all (~~domestic~~) animals which are affected with any such disease or that may have been exposed to others thus affected, whether within or without the state, for such length of time as he or she deems necessary to determine whether any such animal is infected with any such disease. The director shall also enforce and administer the provisions of this chapter pertaining to garbage feeding and when garbage has been fed to swine, the director may require the disinfection of all facilities, including yard, transportation and feeding facilities, used for keeping such swine.

The director shall also have the authority to regulate the sale, distribution, and use of veterinary biologics in the state and may adopt rules to restrict the sale, distribution, or use of any veterinary biologic in any manner the director determines to be necessary to protect the health and safety of the public and the state's animal population.

The director shall also have the authority to adopt rules governing the importation and care of alternative livestock. In adopting such rules, the department shall consult with the department of wildlife of the state of Washington.

Sec. 25. RCW 16.36.050 and 1979 c 154 s 11 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to intentionally falsely make, complete, alter, use, or sign an animal health certificate, certificate of veterinary inspection, or official written animal health instrument of the department of agriculture. It shall be unlawful for any person, or any railroad or transportation company, or other common carrier, to bring into this state for any purpose any domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock without first having secured an official health certificate or certificate of veterinary inspection, certified by the state veterinarian of origin that such animals meet the health requirements (~~(promulgated)~~) adopted by the director of agriculture of the state of Washington: PROVIDED, That this section shall not apply to domestic animals imported into this state for immediate slaughter, or domestic animals imported for the purpose of unloading for feed, rest, and water, for a period not in excess of twenty-eight hours except upon prior permit therefor secured from the director of agriculture. It shall be unlawful for any person to divert en route for other than to an approved, inspected stockyard for immediate slaughter or to sell for other than immediate slaughter or to fail to slaughter within fourteen days after arrival, any animal imported into this state for immediate slaughter. It shall be unlawful for any person, railroad, transportation company, or other common carrier, to keep any domestic animals which are unloaded for feed, rest and water in other than quarantined pens, or not to report any missing animals to the director of agriculture at the time the animals are reloaded.

Sec. 26. RCW 16.36.040 and 1979 c 154 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The director of agriculture shall have power to (~~(promulgate)~~) adopt and enforce such reasonable rules(~~(, regulations)~~) and orders as he or she may deem necessary or proper to prevent the introduction or spreading of infectious, contagious, communicable, or dangerous diseases affecting domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock in this state, and to (~~(promulgate)~~) adopt and enforce such reasonable rules(~~(, regulations)~~) and orders as he or she may deem necessary or proper governing the inspection and test of all animals within or about to be imported into this state, and to (~~(promulgate)~~) adopt and enforce (~~(intercounty)~~) intrastate embargoes, hold orders, and quarantine (~~(to prevent the shipment, trailing, trucking, transporting or movement of bovine animals from any county that has not been declared modified accredited by the United States department of agriculture, animal and plant health inspection service, for tuberculosis and/or certified brucellosis-free, into a county which has been declared modified accredited by the United States department of agriculture, animal and plant health inspection service, for tuberculosis and/or certified brucellosis-free, unless such animals are accompanied by a negative certificate of tuberculin test made within sixty days and/or a negative brucellosis test made within the forty-five day~~ period prior to the movement of such animal into such county, issued by a duly authorized veterinary inspector of the state department of agriculture, or of the United States department of agriculture, animal and plant health inspection service, or an accredited veterinarian authorized by permit issued by the director of agriculture to execute such certificate)).

Sec. 27. RCW 16.36.060 and 1985 c 415 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person to willfully hinder, obstruct, or resist the director of agriculture or any duly authorized representative, or any peace officer acting under him or her or them, when engaged in the performance of the duties or in the exercise of the powers conferred by this chapter, and it shall be unlawful for any person to willfully fail to comply with or violate any rule (~~(, regulation)~~) or order (~~(promulgated)~~) adopted by the director of agriculture or his or her duly authorized representatives under the provisions of this chapter. The director of agriculture shall have the authority under such rules (~~(and regulations)~~) as shall be (~~(promulgated)~~) adopted by (~~(him)~~) the director to enter at any reasonable time the premises of any (~~(livestock)~~) domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock owner to make tests on any animals for diseased conditions, and it shall be unlawful for any person to interfere with such tests in any manner, or to violate any segregation or identification order made in connection with such tests by the director of agriculture, or his or her duly authorized representative.

Sec. 28. RCW 16.36.070 and 1947 c 172 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever a majority of any board of health, board of county commissioners, city council or other governing body of any incorporated city or town, or trustees of any township, whether in session or not, shall, in writing or by telegraph, notify the director of agriculture of the prevalence of or probable danger of infection from any of the diseases of domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock the director of agriculture personally, or by the supervisor of dairy and livestock, or by a duly appointed and deputized veterinarian of the division of (~~(dairy and livestock)~~) food safety and animal health, shall at once go to the place designated in said notice and take such action as the exigencies may in his or her judgment demand, and may in case of an emergency appoint deputies or assistants, with equal power to act. The compensation to be paid such emergency deputies and assistants, shall be fixed by the director of agriculture in conformity with the standards effective in the locality in which the services are performed.

Sec. 29. RCW 16.36.080 and 1947 c 172 s 7 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person registered to practice veterinary medicine, surgery and dentistry in this state not to immediately report in writing to the director of agriculture the discovery of the existence or suspected existence among domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock within the state of any reportable diseases as published by the director of agriculture.

Sec. 30. RCW 16.36.100 and 1927 c 165 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

The governor and the director of agriculture shall have the power to cooperate with the government of the United States in the prevention and eradication of diseases of domestic animals, exotic wildlife, or alternative livestock and the governor shall have the power to receive and receipt for any moneys receivable by this state under the provisions of any act of congress and pay the same into the hands of the state treasurer as custodian for the state to be used and expended in carrying out the provisions of this act and the act or acts of congress under which said moneys are paid over to the state.

Sec. 31. RCW 16.57.010 and 1989 c 286 s 22 are each amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of this chapter:

- (1) "Department" means the department of agriculture of the state of Washington.
- (2) "Director" means the director of the department or a duly appointed representative.
- (3) "Person" means a natural person, individual, firm, partnership, corporation, company, society, and association, and every officer, agent or employee thereof. This term shall import either the singular or the plural as the case may be.
- (4) "Livestock" includes, but is not limited to, horses, mules, cattle, sheep, swine, goats, poultry (~~(and)~~), rabbits, and alternative livestock as defined in section 2 of this act or in rules adopted under section 5 of this act.
- (5) "Brand" means a permanent fire brand or any artificial mark, other than an individual identification symbol, approved by the director to be used in conjunction with a brand or by itself.

(6) "Production record brand" means a number brand which shall be used for production identification purposes only.

(7) "Brand inspection" means the examination of livestock or livestock hides for brands or any means of identifying livestock or livestock hides and/or the application of any artificial identification such as back tags or ear clips necessary to preserve the identity of the livestock or livestock hides examined.

(8) "Individual identification symbol" means a permanent mark placed on a horse for the purpose of individually identifying and registering the horse and which has been approved for use as such by the director.

(9) "Registering agency" means any person issuing an individual identification symbol for the purpose of individually identifying and registering a horse.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 32. The directors of the department of agriculture and the department of wildlife shall prepare a report on the joint rule making under this act. The report shall also include a status report on the alternative livestock industry in the state and shall address questions related to the enforcement of the provisions of this act, containment, disease, genetic screening, and identification of individual animals. The report shall be transmitted to the chairpersons of the house of representatives committees on agriculture and rural development and fisheries and wildlife and the senate committees on agriculture and natural resources by July 1, 1995.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 33. Sections 1 through 13 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 15 RCW."

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NOTICE: Formatting and page numbering in this document may be different from that in the original published version.

FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Monday, March 8, 1993

The House was called to order at 11:00 a.m. by the Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Derick Dong and Steven Ayre. Prayer was offered by Representative Clyde Ballard.

Poetry was offered by Lisa Shipley:

El Tiempo de la Carcel

by Lisa Shipley

time is a bird without wings el tiempo es un pajoro sin alas time is anger that eats the heart el tiempo es colera que come el corazon time is not sun or moon, but a cell without shadows el tiempo es lo que te dan, no lo que tienes time doesn't pass, it fills with more time like throwing water into the sea el tiempo no pasa, se llena con mas tiempo como echar agua al mar time is pushups you feel and count tears you feel and cannot count el tiempo, lagartijas que se puede sentir y contar lagrimas que se puede sentir y nunca contar time is sleep without dreams or the rhythm of the earth in a bed where covers don't fit only time covers you el tiempo es sueno sin suenes sin el ritmo de la tierra en una cama dondelas cobijas no te cobijan

solamente el tiempo te cubre time is an empty wall your eyes paint with sorrow and memory el tiempo es una pared vacia que tus ojos pintan con dolor y recuerdos time is what you wait for el tiempo es lo que esperas time is what you hope for el tiempo es lo que esperas

tiempo afuera/time outside tiempo que es tuyo/time that is yours el tiempo que tanto quieres recomenzar time you want so much to renew

Painting the Sand

Like a Navajo I paint
my story in the sand
to climb down from the mountain

There is danger in the north nothing in the west an inked quill in the south still waters at the heart

In the east there is trouble
I clear the hour of my birth cast the aquamarine of my grandmother's eyes the greying contours of my grandmother's face

You come a wind across the desert smell of spines and succulent flowers scattering sand you uncover desecrated ground I can't paint over

Inside the sweat lodge memory burns but the smoke's not pure the map is gone
the sand is waiting

Throw sage on the fire while we sweat in silence hand me a rock
and a shell from the sea
so I can hold them in my palms and say there is peace

So I can turn to the east this geography of sorrow draw fresh water from the well vermillion turquoise and umber my colors virgin sand falls to earth on forgiven ground a landscape I claim a new compass I follow

Throw sage on the fire
while we sweat in silence
hand me a rock
and a shell from the sea
I can hold them in my palms
I can say there is peace.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

HB 1197 Prime Sponsor, Representative Leonard: Allowing families to retain a greater percentage of income before public benefits are reduced or terminated. Reported by Committee on Appropriations MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Human Services be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Appropriations: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. The legislature finds that:

- (1) Many states are currently evaluating and developing new program directions for the aid to families with dependent children program;
 - (2) The state expects new initiatives from the federal government aimed at reforming the public assistance system;
 - (3) Washington's family independence program will complete its five-year demonstration period in June 1993;
 - (4) Current welfare-to-work evaluations and studies emphasize a strong connection between recent work experience and employability. Further, studies have found that targeting services to specific welfare population segments is a cost-effective strategy in successful welfare-to-work programs;
 - (5) Public assistance programs are more likely to succeed when expectations are clearly established and the state, service providers, and recipients work together to develop an employability plan; and
 - (6) The current public assistance system requires a reduction in grant payments when income is earned.
- The legislature intends to create a stronger economic incentive for working while on welfare by allowing families to retain a greater percentage of earned income before it results in the reduction or termination of grant benefits.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. The department shall amend the state plan to eliminate the one hundred hour work rule for recipients of aid to families with dependent children-employable. The department shall seek federal approval for the amendment to the state plan and report on federal action to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by December 1, 1993.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. The department of social and health services shall design a program for implementation involving recipients of aid to families with dependent children. A goal of this program is to develop a system that segments the aid to families with dependent children recipient population and identifies subgroups, matches services to the needs of the subgroup, and prioritizes available services. The department shall specify the services to be offered in each population segment, and not all services shall be available to each segment. The general focus of the services offered shall be on job training, work force preparedness, and job retention.

The program shall be designed for state-wide implementation on July 1, 1994. Any proposal for implementation may include phasing certain components over time or geographic area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. The secretary of social and health services shall appoint an advisory committee to give recommendations and advice on the design and implementation of the program. The advisory committee shall consist of no more than fifteen individuals and shall be composed of representatives from business, the private industry council, labor, state job placement services, private nonprofit job placement services, and recipient advocate groups.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. The department of social and health services shall consider the following in developing the program:

- (1) An employment incentive program that strengthens the ability of recipients to reach a level of self-sufficiency as determined by the department. Aid to families with dependent children grants may be used to supplement a program participant's wages;
- (2) Development of a community work program that includes nonpaid work experience for those persons who are long-term recipients of aid to families with dependent children;
- (3) Services that are limited in duration. This limitation shall be clearly conveyed to program participants;
- (4) Segmentation of the recipient population based on factors such as work experience, education level, age of recipient, wage history, child support history, and length of time the person has been an aid to families with dependent children recipient;
- (5) Matching appropriate services to each segment of the recipient population. The criteria may include an array of services that targets high cost, intensive services to the least employable groups and low cost, less intensive services to the most employable groups;
- (6) Use of contracts between recipients and the department that set forth employability/self-sufficiency plans and sanctions for noncompliance;
- (7) Training and education services for absent parents that increase their ability to support their children;
- (8) The elimination of work disincentives for recipients of aid to families with dependent children;
- (9) Providing food cash assistance or electronic benefit transfer in lieu of food stamps; and

(10) Appropriate education and training services designed to promote economic self-sufficiency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 8. The department of social and health services in consultation with the governor shall determine what statutory or regulatory waivers are necessary to eliminate barriers to full implementation of the program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. The department of social and health services shall present the proposed program including an implementation strategy to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 15, 1993."

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

Sec. 1. RCW 43.168.020 and 1991 c 314 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Committee" means the Washington state development loan fund committee.

(2) "Department" means the department of community development.

(3) "Director" means the director of the department of community development.

(4) "Distressed area" means: (a) A county which has an unemployment rate which is twenty percent above the state average for the immediately previous three years; (b) a metropolitan statistical area, as defined by the office of federal statistical policy and standards, United States department of commerce, in which the average level of unemployment for the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for such calendar year by twenty percent. Applications under this subsection (4)(b) shall be filed by April 30, 1989; (c) an area within a county, which area: (i) Is composed of contiguous census tracts; (ii) has a minimum population of five thousand persons; (iii) has at least seventy percent of its families and unrelated individuals with incomes below eighty percent of the county's median income for families and unrelated individuals; and (iv) has an unemployment rate which is at least forty percent higher than the county's unemployment rate; or (d) a county designated as a timber impact area under RCW 43.31.601 if an application is filed by July 1, 1993. For purposes of this definition, "families and unrelated individuals" has the same meaning that is ascribed to that term by the federal department of housing and urban development in its regulations authorizing action grants for economic development and neighborhood revitalization projects.

(5) "Fund" means the Washington state development loan fund.

(6) "Local development organization" means a nonprofit organization which is organized to operate within an area, demonstrates a commitment to a long-standing effort for an economic development program, and makes a demonstrable effort to assist in the employment of unemployed or underemployed residents in an area.

(7) "Project" means the establishment of a new or expanded business in an area which when completed will provide employment opportunities. "Project" also means the retention of an existing business in an area which when completed will provide employment opportunities.

(8) "Minority" means persons of color, including African-Americans, Hispanic/Latino Americans, Native Americans, and Asian/Pacific Islander Americans.

(9) "Minority or women-owned business" means any resident minority business enterprise or women's business enterprise, as determined by the committee to be consistent with the requirements of chapter 39.19 RCW and subsection (8) of this section.

Sec. 2. RCW 43.168.030 and 1985 c 164 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The Washington state development loan fund committee is established as an entity within the department of community development. The committee shall have ~~((seven))~~ eight members. The director shall appoint the members, subject to the following requirements: (a) Three members shall be experienced in investment finance and have skills in providing capital to new and innovative businesses, in starting and operating businesses and providing professional services to small or expanding businesses; (b) two members shall be residents of distressed areas; (c) one member shall represent organized labor; ~~((and))~~ (d) one member shall represent a minority business; and (e) one member shall represent a women-owned business. Careful consideration in making these appointments shall be taken to ensure that the various geographic regions of the state are represented, that members will be available for meetings on a regular basis, and will have a commitment to working with local governments and local development organizations.

(2) Each member appointed by the director shall serve a term of three years, except that of the members first appointed, two shall serve two-year terms and two shall serve one-year terms. A person appointed to fill a vacancy of a member shall be appointed in a like manner and shall serve for only the unexpired term. A member is eligible for reappointment. A member may be removed by the director only for cause.

(3) The director shall designate a member of the board as its chairperson. The committee may elect such other officers as it deems appropriate. Five ~~((Four))~~ members of the committee constitute a quorum and five ~~((four))~~ affirmative votes are necessary for the transaction of business or the exercise of any power or function of the committee.

(4) The members of the committee shall serve without compensation, but are entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of official duties in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(5) Members shall not be liable to the state, to the fund, or to any other person as a result of their activities, whether ministerial or discretionary, as members except for wilful dishonesty or intentional violations of law. The department may purchase liability insurance for members and may indemnify these persons against the claims of others.

Sec. 3. RCW 43.168.050 and 1990 1st ex.s. c 17 s 74 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The committee may only approve an application providing a loan for a project which the committee finds:

(a) Will result in the creation of employment opportunities, ~~((the))~~ the maintenance of threatened employment, or development or expansion of business ownership by minorities and women;

(b) Has been approved by the director as conforming to federal rules and regulations governing the spending of federal community development block grant funds;

(c) Will be of public benefit and for a public purpose, and that the benefits, including increased or maintained employment, improved standard of living, ~~((and))~~ the employment of disadvantaged workers, and development or expansion of business ownership by minorities and women, will primarily accrue to residents of the area;

(d) Will probably be successful;

(e) Would probably not be completed without the loan because other capital or financing at feasible terms is unavailable or the return on investment is inadequate.

(2) The committee shall, subject to federal block grant criteria, give higher priority to economic development projects that contain provisions for child care.

(3) The committee may not approve an application if it fails to provide for adequate reporting or disclosure of financial data to the committee. The committee may require an annual or other periodic audit of the project books.

(4) The committee may require that the project be managed in whole or in part by a local development organization and may prescribe a management fee to be paid to such organization by the recipient of the loan or grant.

(5) (a) Except as provided in (b) of this subsection, the committee shall not approve any application which would result in a loan or grant in excess of three hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(b) The committee may approve an application which results in a loan or grant of up to seven hundred thousand dollars if the application has been approved by the director.

(6) The committee shall fix the terms and rates pertaining to its loans.

(7) Should there be more demand for loans than funds available for lending, the committee shall provide loans for those projects which will lead to the greatest amount of employment or benefit to a community. In determining the "greatest amount of employment or benefit" the committee shall also consider the employment which would be saved by its loan and the benefit relative to the community, not just the total number of new jobs or jobs saved.

(8) To the extent permitted under federal law the committee shall require applicants to provide for the transfer of all payments of principal and interest on loans to the Washington state development loan fund created under this chapter. Under circumstances where the federal law does not permit the committee to require such transfer, the committee shall give priority to applications where the applicants on their own volition make commitments to provide for the transfer.

(9) The committee shall not approve any application to finance or help finance a shopping mall.

(10) For loans not made to minority and women-owned businesses, the committee shall make at least eighty percent of the appropriated funds available to projects located in distressed areas, and may make up to twenty percent available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed. For loans not made to minority and women-owned businesses, the committee shall not make funds available to projects located in areas not designated as distressed if the fund's net worth is less than seven million one hundred thousand dollars.

(11) If an objection is raised to a project on the basis of unfair business competition, the committee shall evaluate the potential impact of a project on similar businesses located in the local market area. A grant may be denied by the committee if a project is not likely to result in a net increase in employment within a local market area.

(12) For loans to minority and women-owned businesses, the committee may consider non-traditional credit standards to offset past discrimination that has precluded full participation of minority or women-owned businesses in the economy. For applicants with "high potential" who do not meet the credit criteria, the committee shall consider developing alternative borrowing methods. For applicants denied loans due to credit problems, the committee shall provide financial counseling within available resources and referrals to credit rehabilitation services.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. A new section is added to chapter 43.168 RCW to read as follows:

Subject to the restrictions contained in this chapter, the committee is authorized to approve applications of minority and women-owned businesses for loans or loan guarantees from the fund. Applications approved by the committee under this chapter shall conform to applicable federal requirements. The committee shall prioritize available funds for loan guarantees rather than loans when possible. The committee may enter into agreements with other public or private lending institutions to develop a joint loan guarantee program for minority and women-owned businesses. If such a program is developed, the committee may provide funds, in conjunction with the other organizations, to operate the program. This section does not preclude the committee from making individual loan guarantees.

Sec. 5. RCW 43.168.070 and 1987 c 461 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The committee may receive and approve applications on a monthly basis but shall receive and approve applications on at least a quarterly basis for each fiscal year. The committee shall make every effort to simplify the loan process for applicants. Department staff shall process and assist in the preparation of applications. Each application shall show in detail the nature of the project, the types and numbers of jobs to be created, wages to be paid to new employees, and methods to hire unemployed persons from the area. Each application shall contain a credit analysis of the business to receive the loan. The chairperson of the committee may convene the committee on short notice to respond to applications of a serious or immediate nature.

Sec. 6. RCW 43.168.100 and 1986 c 204 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The committee may make grants of state funds to local governments which qualify as "entitlement communities" under the federal law authorizing community development block grants. These grants may only be made on the condition that the entitlement community provide the committee with assurances that it will: (1) Spend the grant moneys for purposes and in a manner which satisfies state constitutional requirements; (2) spend the grant moneys for purposes and in a manner which would satisfy federal requirements; and (3) spend at least the same (~~double the~~) amount of the grant for loans to businesses from the federal funds received by the entitlement community.

HB 1957 Prime Sponsor, Representative Dellwo: Creating the medical health coverage benefit determination committee. Reported by Committee on Appropriations MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Health Care be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Appropriations:

On page 1, strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. The legislature finds that health care coverage providers employ a variety of methods to determine whether a particular health care service or treatment will be denied because such service or treatment is considered by the provider to be experimental, investigative, or similarly questionable as to its efficacy. The denial of coverage may prevent access to necessary health care services or treatment when the person seeking coverage has no other method of affording such health care service or treatment.

The legislature further finds that similarly situated persons with the same health care need but with different health care coverage providers face the possibility that one provider will deny coverage while the other will permit coverage. This inconsistency in coverage determinations requires an impartial body to provide technical guidance to health care coverage providers in determining whether certain health care services or treatments should be covered under a disability insurance policy, health care service contract or agreement, or under any other similar health care benefit program.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) Unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply throughout this chapter:

(a) "Committee" means the medical health coverage benefit determination committee created in this chapter.

(b) "Health care coverage provider" or "provider" means:

(i) Every insurer, as defined in RCW 48.01.050, having a certificate or authority to transact disability insurance as defined in RCW 48.11.030, in this state;

(ii) Every health care service contractor, as defined in RCW 48.44.010(3), registered to transact business in this state;

(iii) Every health maintenance organization, as defined in RCW 48.46.020(1), registered to transact business in this state;

(iv) The Washington basic health plan, as defined in RCW 70.47.020(1);

(v) The Washington state health care authority, as defined in chapter 41.05 RCW;

- (vi) Every local government self-insured health and welfare benefit plan or program regulated under chapter 48.62 RCW; or
- (vii) The Washington State Health Insurance Pool as defined in chapter 48.41 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. (1) There is hereby created in the office of the insurance commissioner, the medical health coverage benefit determination committee consisting of seven members appointed by the commissioner on the basis of their knowledge and experience in health care services. In appointing such members the commissioner shall seek to appoint members from diverse health care professions that may include medical research, pharmacology, oncology, internal medicine, gynecology, pediatrics, or any other health profession capable of providing expertise for purposes of this act. The commissioner may not appoint members who work for or with a provider in a capacity similar to the purposes of the committee and may not appoint members who are advocates for groups, associations, or other organizations promoting the use or coverage of a particular procedure, treatment, drug, or other health care service.

(2) Members of the committee shall be appointed for a term of four years and until their successors are appointed. In the event of a vacancy, the commissioner shall appoint a person to fill the unexpired portion of the term. The terms of the first four members of the committee shall be staggered so that one member shall be appointed to serve until June 1, 1994, one member until June 1, 1995, one member until June 1, 1996, and one member until June 1, 1997.

(3) The commissioner may remove a member of the committee only for inefficiency, malfeasance, or misfeasance.

(4) The committee shall operate on a part-time basis. The committee shall meet at the request of the commissioner and may meet at the request of a majority of members of the committee to consider, develop, and recommend criteria to guide future actions of health care coverage providers in determining whether a procedure, treatment, drug or other health care service is experimental, investigative, or efficacious for purposes of extending coverage. The committee shall also consider and make recommendations as to whether a procedure, treatment, drug, or other health care service is experimental, investigative, or efficacious.

(5) The committee shall as soon as practicable after the initial appointment of the members, meet and elect a chairperson and shall at least biennially thereafter meet and elect such chairperson.

(6) Members of the committee shall receive reimbursement for travel expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties in accordance with RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

(7) The insurance commissioner shall provide the committee with administrative, material, and staff support necessary for the proper functioning of the committee and may adopt all rules necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. (1) In making a recommendation as to whether a procedure, treatment, drug, or other health care service is experimental, investigative, or efficacious the committee shall:

(a) Take into account findings, studies, or research conducted at qualified research centers in this country and abroad;

(b) Consider whether treating physicians find the procedure, drug or treatment efficacious or necessary for the health or survival of the patient, or whether there is a potential benefit to the public as a whole, as for example, where a disease is rare and treatment for it may remain experimental for the foreseeable future; and

(c) Consider other similar relevant information.

(2) After considering the facts and without reference to any particular dispute between a provider and the person seeking coverage of a procedure, drug, treatment, or other health care service, the committee shall issue a written recommendation to the commissioner detailing its findings and conclusions.

(3) The commissioner shall publish at least once a year, and disseminate to the public and providers, a summary of the committee's determinations and deliberations.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 5. This chapter shall expire on July 1, 1998.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. Sections 1 through 6 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in title 48 RCW."

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 6. (1) There is created a water rights fees task force. The task force shall be comprised of fourteen members, who are appointed as follows:

(a) Two members of the Washington state house of representatives, one from each major caucus, to be appointed by the speaker of the house;

(b) Two members of the Washington state senate, one from each major caucus, to be appointed by the president of the senate;

(c) Ten members, to be appointed jointly by the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate, to represent the following interests: Agriculture, aquaculture, business, cities, counties, the state department of ecology, environmentalists, water recreation interests, water utilities, and hydropower interests. The task force may establish technical advisory committees as necessary to complete its tasks.

(2) The task force shall conduct a comprehensive review of water rights fees and related policy issues. The task force's tasks shall include but not be limited to:

(a) Identification of the costs associated with the various types of activities and services provided in the water resource program and examination of how these costs compare with the fees charged for these activities and services;

(b) Identification of appropriate accountability measures for the department to employ in administration of the water rights program. Recommendations of accountability requirements and measurements shall take into account the distinctive characteristics of the water rights program, that is, that the department receives a large number of applications on a one-time basis and that the department must meet its legal obligations under the doctrine of prior appropriation.

(c) Identification of which program activities should be eligible for cost recovery from fees, as well as which direct and indirect costs of program administration;

(d) Review of the application, examination, and water rights permit requirements for marine water users, to determine if these users should receive special consideration;

(e) Review of the definition and treatment of nonconsumptive water uses, to determine if and what special consideration should be given to these uses;

(f) Review of the fees and accounting methods for the dam safety program;

(g) Review of the findings of the water resource data management task force, and identification of the appropriate distribution of responsibility between the applicant and the department for provision of technical information and analysis; and

(h) Establishment of a reasonable time framework for completion of new and pending water rights applications, and an analysis of the staff and funding levels required to meet the established time framework."

HB 1372 Prime Sponsor, Representative Pruitt: Creating the government accountability task force. Reported by Committee on Appropriations MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on State Government be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Appropriations:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 43.88.160 and 1992 c 118 s 8 are each amended to read as follows:

This section sets forth the major fiscal duties and responsibilities of officers and agencies of the executive branch. The regulations issued by the governor pursuant to this chapter shall provide for a comprehensive, orderly basis for fiscal management and control, including efficient accounting and reporting therefor, for the executive branch of the state government and may include, in addition, such requirements as will generally promote more efficient public management in the state.

(1) Governor; director of financial management. The governor, through the director of financial management, shall devise and supervise a modern and complete accounting system for each agency to the end that all revenues, expenditures, receipts, disbursements, resources, and obligations of the state shall be properly and systematically accounted for. The accounting system shall include the development of accurate, timely records and reports of all financial affairs of the state. The system shall also provide for central accounts in the office of financial management at the level of detail deemed necessary by the director to perform central financial management. The director of financial management shall adopt and periodically update an accounting procedures manual. Any agency maintaining its own accounting and reporting system shall comply with the updated accounting procedures manual and the rules of the director adopted under this chapter. An agency may receive a waiver from complying with this requirement if the waiver is approved by the director. Waivers expire at the end of the fiscal biennium for which they are granted. The director shall forward notice of waivers granted to the appropriate legislative fiscal committees. The director of financial management may require such financial, statistical, and other reports as the director deems necessary from all agencies covering any period.

(2) The director of financial management is responsible for quarterly reporting of primary operating budget drivers such as applicable workloads, caseload estimates, and appropriate unit cost data. These reports shall be transmitted to the legislative fiscal committees or by electronic means to the legislative evaluation and accountability program committee. Quarterly reports shall include actual monthly data and the variance between actual and estimated data to date. The reports shall also include estimates of these items for the remainder of the budget period.

(3) The director of financial management shall report at least annually to the appropriate legislative committees regarding the status of all appropriated capital projects, including transportation projects, showing significant cost overruns or underruns. If funds are shifted from one project to another, the office of financial management shall also reflect this in the annual variance report. Once a project is complete, the report shall provide a final summary showing estimated start and completion dates of each project phase compared to actual dates, estimated costs of each project phase compared to actual costs, and whether or not there are any outstanding liabilities or unsettled claims at the time of completion.

(4) In addition, the director of financial management, as agent of the governor, shall:

(a) Make surveys and analyses of agencies with the object of determining better methods and increased effectiveness in the use of manpower and materials; and the director shall authorize expenditures for employee training to the end that the state may benefit from training facilities made available to state employees;

(b) Report to the governor with regard to duplication of effort or lack of coordination among agencies;

(c) Review any pay and classification plans, and changes thereunder, developed by any agency for their fiscal impact: PROVIDED, That none of the provisions of this subsection shall affect merit systems of personnel management now existing or hereafter established by statute relating to the fixing of qualifications requirements for recruitment, appointment, or promotion of employees of any agency. The director shall advise and confer with agencies including appropriate standing committees of the legislature as may be designated by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate regarding the fiscal impact of such plans and may amend or alter said plans, except that for the following agencies no amendment or alteration of said plans may be made without the approval of the agency concerned: Agencies headed by elective officials;

(d) Fix the number and classes of positions or authorized man years of employment for each agency and during the fiscal period amend the determinations previously fixed by the director except that the director shall not be empowered to fix said number or said classes for the following: Agencies headed by elective officials;

(e) Provide for transfers and repayments between the budget stabilization account and the general fund as directed by appropriation and RCW 43.88.525 through 43.88.540;

(f) Promulgate regulations to effectuate provisions contained in (a) through (e) of this subsection.

(5) The treasurer shall:

(a) Receive, keep, and disburse all public funds of the state not expressly required by law to be received, kept, and disbursed by some other persons: PROVIDED, That this subsection shall not apply to those public funds of the institutions of higher learning which are not subject to appropriation;

(b) Disburse public funds under the treasurer's supervision or custody by warrant or check;

(c) Keep a correct and current account of all moneys received and disbursed by the treasurer, classified by fund or account;

(d) Perform such other duties as may be required by law or by regulations issued pursuant to this law.

It shall be unlawful for the treasurer to issue any warrant or check for public funds in the treasury except upon forms duly prescribed by the director of financial management. Said forms shall provide for authentication and certification by the agency head or the agency head's designee that the services have been rendered or the materials have been furnished; or, in the case of loans or grants, that the loans or grants are authorized by law; or, in the case of payments for periodic maintenance services to be performed on state owned equipment, that a written contract for such periodic maintenance services is currently in effect and copies thereof are on file with the office of financial management; and the treasurer shall not be liable under the treasurer's surety bond for erroneous or improper payments so made: PROVIDED, That when services are lawfully paid for in advance of full performance by any private individual or business entity other than as provided for by RCW 42.24.035, such individual or entity other than central stores rendering such services shall make a cash deposit or furnish surety bond coverage to the state as shall be fixed in an amount by law, or if not fixed by law, then in such amounts as shall be fixed by the director of the department of general administration but in no case shall such required cash deposit or surety bond be less than an amount which will fully indemnify the state against any and all losses on account of breach of promise to fully perform such services: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That no payments shall be made in advance for any equipment maintenance services to be performed more than three months after such payment. Any such bond so furnished shall be conditioned that the person, firm or corporation receiving the advance payment will apply it toward performance of the contract. The responsibility for recovery of erroneous or improper payments made under this section shall lie with the agency head or the agency head's designee in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to this chapter. Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit a public body to advance funds to a private service provider pursuant to a grant or loan before services have been rendered or material furnished.

(6) The state auditor shall:

(a) Report to the legislature the results of current post audits that have been made of the financial transactions of each agency; to this end the auditor may, in the auditor's discretion, examine the books and accounts of any agency, official or employee charged with the receipt, custody or safekeeping of public funds. The current post audit of each agency may include a section on recommendations to the legislature as provided in (c) of this subsection.

(b) Give information to the legislature, whenever required, upon any subject relating to the financial affairs of the state.

(c) Make the auditor's official report on or before the thirty-first of December which precedes the meeting of the legislature. The report shall be for the last complete fiscal period and shall include at least the following:

Determinations as to whether agencies, in making expenditures, complied with the laws of this state (~~PROVIDED, That nothing in this section may be construed to grant the state auditor the right to perform performance audits. A performance audit for the purpose of this section is the examination of the effectiveness of the administration, its efficiency, and its adequacy in terms of the programs of departments or agencies as previously approved by the legislature. The authority and responsibility to conduct such an examination shall be vested in the legislative budget committee as prescribed in RCW 44.28.085).~~)

(d) Be empowered to take exception to specific expenditures that have been incurred by any agency or to take exception to other practices related in any way to the agency's financial transactions and to cause such exceptions to be made a matter of public record, including disclosure to the agency concerned and to the director of financial management. It shall be the duty of the director of financial management to cause corrective action to be taken promptly, such action to include, as appropriate, the withholding of funds as provided in RCW 43.88.110.

(e) Promptly report any irregularities to the attorney general.

(f) Investigate improper governmental activity under chapter 42.40 RCW.

(7) The legislative budget committee may:

(a) Make post audits of the financial transactions of any agency and management surveys and program reviews as provided for in RCW 44.28.085. To this end the committee may in its discretion examine the books, accounts, and other records of any agency, official, or employee.

(b) Give information to the legislature or any legislative committee whenever required upon any subject relating to the performance and management of state agencies.

(c) Make a report to the legislature which shall include at least the following:

(i) Determinations as to the extent to which agencies in making expenditures have complied with the will of the legislature and in this connection, may take exception to specific expenditures or financial practices of any agencies; and

(ii) Such plans as it deems expedient for the support of the state's credit, for lessening expenditures, for promoting frugality and economy in agency affairs and generally for an improved level of fiscal management.

Sec. 2. RCW 44.28.085 and 1975 1st ex.s. c 293 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislative budget committee shall make management surveys and program reviews as to every public body, officer or employee subject to the provisions of RCW 43.09.290 through 43.09.340. The legislative budget committee may also make management surveys and program reviews of local school districts, intermediate school districts, and other units of local government receiving state funds as grants-in-aid or as shared revenues. Management surveys for the purposes of this section shall be an independent examination for the purpose of providing the legislature with an evaluation and report of the manner in which any public agency, officer, administrator, or employee has discharged the responsibility to faithfully, efficiently, and effectively administer any legislative purpose of the state. Program reviews for the purpose of this section shall be an examination of state or local government programs to ascertain whether or not such programs continue to serve their intended purposes, are conducted in an efficient and effective manner, or require modification or elimination: PROVIDED, That nothing in this section shall limit the power or duty of the state auditor to report to the legislature as directed by subsection (3) of RCW 43.88.160 ((as now or hereafter amended. The authority in this section conferred excludes a like authority in the state auditor)).

The legislative budget committee shall receive a copy of each report of examination issued by the state auditor under RCW 43.09.310, shall review all such reports, and shall make such recommendations to the legislature and to the state auditor as it deems appropriate."

MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Local Government be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Revenue:
On page 5, after line 24, insert the following:

(1) As used in this section, "taxing district" means a county, emergency medical service district, city or town, public hospital district, or fire protection district.

(2) A taxing district may impose additional regular property tax levies in an amount equal to fifty cents or less per thousand dollars of the assessed value of property in the taxing district in each year for six consecutive years when specifically authorized so to do by a majority of at least three-fifths of the registered voters thereof approving a proposition authorizing the levies submitted at a general or special election, at which election the number of persons voting "yes" on the proposition shall constitute three-fifths of a number equal to forty per centum of the total votes cast in such taxing district at the last preceding general election when the number of registered voters voting on the proposition does not exceed forty per centum of the total votes cast in such taxing district in the last preceding general election; or by a majority of at least three-fifths of the registered voters thereof voting on the proposition when the number of registered voters voting on the proposition exceeds forty per centum of the total votes cast in such taxing district in the last preceding general election. Ballot propositions shall conform with RCW 29.30.111.

(3) Any tax imposed under this section shall be used only for the provision of emergency medical care or emergency medical services, including related personnel costs, training for such personnel, and related equipment, supplies, vehicles and structures needed for the provision of emergency medical care or emergency medical services.

(4) If a county levies a tax under this section, no taxing district within the county may levy a tax under this section. No other taxing district may levy a tax under this section if another taxing district has levied a tax under this section within its boundaries: PROVIDED, That if a county levies less than fifty cents per thousand dollars of the assessed value of property, then any other taxing district may levy a tax under this section equal to the difference between the rate of the levy by the county and fifty cents: PROVIDED FURTHER, That if a taxing district within a county levies this tax, and the voters of the county subsequently approve a levying of this tax, then the amount of the taxing district levy within the county shall be reduced, when the combined levies exceed fifty cents. Whenever a tax is levied county-wide, the service shall, insofar as is feasible, be provided throughout the county: PROVIDED FURTHER, That no county-wide levy proposal may be placed on the ballot without the approval of the legislative authority of each city exceeding fifty thousand population within the county: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That this section and RCW 36.32.480 shall not prohibit any city or town from levying an annual excess levy to fund emergency medical services: AND PROVIDED, FURTHER, That if a county proposes to impose tax levies under this section, no other ballot proposition authorizing tax levies under this section by another taxing district in the county may be placed before the voters at the same election at which the county ballot proposition is placed: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That any taxing district emergency medical service levy that is authorized subsequent to a county emergency medical service levy, shall expire concurrently with the county emergency medical service levy.

(5) The tax levy authorized in this section is in addition to the tax levy authorized in RCW 84.52.043.

(6) The limitation in RCW 84.55.010 shall not apply to the first levy imposed pursuant to this section following the approval of such levy by the voters pursuant to subsection (2) of this section.

~~((7) No taxing district may levy under this section more than twenty-five cents per thousand dollars of assessed value of property if reductions under RCW 84.52.010(2) are made for the year within the boundaries of the taxing district.))"~~

(c) District 3 shall consist of Chelan, Douglas, Kittitas, Klickitat and Yakima counties and shall have ~~((one))~~ two judges.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 2.06 RCW to read as follows:

(1) Any judicial position created by section 1, chapter ..., Laws of 1993 (section 1 of this act) shall be effective only if that position is specifically funded and is referenced by division and district in an omnibus appropriations act.

(2)(a) The full term of office for the judicial positions authorized pursuant to this act shall be six years.

(b) The authorized judicial positions shall be filled at the general election in the November immediately preceding the beginning of the full term.

(c) The six-year terms shall be staggered as provided in (c)(i) through (iii) of this subsection.

(i) In the first division, the initial full terms of six years for the two positions in district 1 shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1993. If the effective dates for the judicial positions are later than the deadline to include them in the November 1993 election, the initial full terms shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1999. The initial full term of six years for the position in district 3 shall begin on the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1996. If the effective date for the judicial position is later than the deadline to include it in the November 1996 election, the initial full term shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 2002.

(ii) In the second division, the initial full terms of six years for the two positions in district 2 shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1994. If the effective dates of the judicial positions are later than the deadline to include them in the November 1994 election, the initial full terms shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 2000. The initial full term for the position in district 3 shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1998. If the effective date of the judicial position is later than the deadline to include it in the November 1998 election, the initial full term shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 2004.

(iii) In the third division, the initial full term of six years for the position in district 3 shall begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 1994. If the effective date of the judicial position is later than the deadline to include it in the November 1994 election, the initial full term will begin the second Monday in January following the general election held in November 2000.

(d) Upon becoming effective pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, the governor shall appoint judges to the additional judicial positions authorized in section 1, chapter ..., Laws of 1993 (section 1 of this act). The appointed judges shall hold office until the second Monday in January following the general election following the effective date of the position. The appointed judges and other judicial candidates are entitled to run for the judicial position at the general election following appointment.

(e) The initial election for these positions shall be held in November following the effective date of the position. If the initial election of a newly authorized position is not held on a date which corresponds to the beginning of a full term as specified in (c)(i) through (iii) of this subsection, the election shall be for a partial term.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety, or support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately."

HB 1806 Prime Sponsor, Representative Bray: Changing regulation and licensure of well contractors and operators. Reported by Committee on Revenue MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Environmental Affairs be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Revenue:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"Sec. 1. RCW 18.104.010 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

The legislature declares that the drilling, making or constructing of ~~((water))~~ wells ~~((using the ground water resources))~~ within the state is a business and activity of vital interest to the public. In order to protect the public health, welfare, and safety of the people it is necessary that provision be made for the regulation and licensing of ~~((water))~~ well contractors and operators and for the regulation of ~~((water))~~ well design and construction.

Sec. 2. RCW 18.104.020 and 1983 1st ex.s. c 27 s 14 are each amended to read as follows:

The definitions set forth in this section apply throughout this chapter, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context.

(1) "Abandoned well" means a well that is unused, unmaintained, and is in such disrepair as to be unusable.

~~((2))~~ (2) "Constructing a well" or "construct a well" means ~~((and includes))~~:

(a) Boring, digging, drilling, or excavating ~~((and))~~ a well;

(b) Installing casing, sheeting, lining, or well screens, ~~((whether in the installation of a new well or))~~ in a well;

or

(c) Drilling a geotechnical soil boring.

"Constructing a well" or "construct a well" includes the alteration of an existing well.

~~((2))~~ (3) "Decommission" means to fill or plug a well so that it will not produce water, serve as a channel for movement of water or pollution, or allow the entry of pollutants into the well or aquifers.

(4) "Department" means the department of ecology.

~~((3))~~ (5) "Dewatering well" means a cased or lined excavation or boring that is intended to withdraw or divert ground water for the purpose of facilitating construction, stabilizing a landslide, or protecting an aquifer.

(6) "Director" means the director of the department of ecology.

~~((4))~~ (7) "Geotechnical soil boring" or "boring" means an uncased well drilled for purpose of obtaining soil samples to ascertain structural properties of the subsurface. Geotechnical soil boring includes auger borings, rotary borings, cone penetrometer probes and vane shear probes, or any other uncased ground penetration for geotechnical information.

(8) "Ground water" means and includes ground waters as defined in RCW 90.44.035~~((, as now or hereafter amended))~~.

~~((5))~~ (9) "Instrumentation well" means a well in which pneumatic or electric geotechnical or hydrological instrumentation is permanently or periodically installed to measure or monitor subsurface strength and movement. Instrumentation well includes borehole extensometers, slope indicators, pneumatic or electric pore pressure transducers, and load cells.

(10) "Monitoring well" means a well designed to obtain a representative ground water sample or designed to measure the water level elevation in either clean or contaminated water or soil.

(11) "Observation well" means a well designed to measure the depth to the water level elevation in either clean or contaminated water or soil.

(12) "Operator" means ~~((any))~~ a person~~((, other than a person exempted by RCW 18.104.180,))~~ who (a) is employed by a ~~((water))~~ well contractor ~~((for the control and supervision of the));~~ (b) is licensed under this chapter; or (c) who controls, supervises, or oversees the construction of a ~~((water))~~ well ~~((or for the operation of water))~~ or who operates well construction equipment.

~~((6))~~ (13) "Owner" or "well owner" means the person, firm, partnership, copartnership, corporation association, or other entity who owns the property on which the well is or will be constructed.

(14) "Pollution" and "contamination" have the meanings provided in RCW 90.48.020.

(15) "Resource protection well" means a cased boring used to determine the existence or migration of pollutants within an underground formation. Resource protection wells include monitoring wells, observation wells, piezometers, spill response wells, vapor extraction wells, and instrumentation wells.

(16) "Resource protection well contractor" means any person, firm, partnership, copartnership, corporation, association, or other entity, licensed and bonded under chapter 18.27 RCW, engaged in the business of constructing resource protection wells or geotechnical soil borings.

(17) "Water well" means ~~((and includes))~~ any excavation that is ~~((drilled, cored, bored, washed, driven, dug, jotted, or otherwise))~~ constructed when the intended use of the well is for the location, diversion, artificial recharge, observation, monitoring, dewatering, or withdrawal of ground water. ~~(("Water well" does not mean an excavation made for the purpose of obtaining or prospecting for oil, natural gas, minerals, or products of mining, or quarrying, or for inserting media to repressure oil or natural gas bearing formations, or for storing petroleum, natural gas, or other products.))~~

~~(7))~~ (18) "Water well contractor" means any person, firm, partnership, copartnership, corporation, association, or other entity, licensed and bonded under chapter 18.27 RCW, engaged in the business of constructing water wells.

(19) "Well" means water wells, resource protection wells, instrumentation wells, dewatering wells, and geotechnical soil borings. Well does not mean an excavation made for the purpose of obtaining or prospecting for oil, natural gas, geothermal resources, minerals, or products of mining, or quarrying, or for inserting media to repressure oil or natural gas bearing formations, or for storing petroleum, natural gas, or other products.

(20) "Well contractor" means a resource protection well contractor and a water well contractor.

Sec. 3. RCW 18.104.030 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

It is unlawful:

(1) For any ~~((water well contractor))~~ person to supervise, construct, alter, or decommission a ~~((water))~~ well ~~((for compensation))~~ without complying with the ~~((licensing))~~ provisions of this chapter~~((;))~~

~~(2) For any water well contractor to construct a water well for compensation without complying with))~~ and the rules ~~((and regulations))~~ for ~~((water))~~ well construction adopted pursuant to this chapter;

~~((3) For any water well construction operator to supervise the construction of a water well without having an operators license as provided in this chapter))~~ (2) For any person to cause a well to be constructed in violation of the standards for well construction established by this chapter and rules adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter:

(3) For a prospective water well owner to have a water well constructed without first obtaining a water right permit, if a permit is required;

(4) For any person to construct, alter, or decommission a well unless the fees required by section 9 of this act have been paid;

(5) For a person to tamper with or remove a well identification tag except during well alteration; and

(6) Except as provided in RCW 18.104.180, for any person to contract to engage in the construction of a well or to act as a well operator without first obtaining a license pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 4. RCW 18.104.040 and 1991 c 3 s 249 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall have the power:

(1) To issue, deny, suspend or revoke licenses pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

(2) At all reasonable times, to enter upon lands for the purpose of inspecting, taking measurements from, or tagging any ((water)) well, ((drilled or being drilled, at all reasonable times)) constructed or being constructed;

(3) To call upon or receive professional or technical advice from ~~((any))~~ the department of health, the technical advisory group created in section 25 of this act, or any other public agency or ~~((any))~~ person;

(4) To ~~((make such))~~ adopt rules, in consultation with the department of health and the technical advisory group created in section 25 of this act, governing licensing ~~((hereunder))~~ and ~~((water))~~ well construction as may be appropriate to carry out the purposes of this chapter. ~~((Without limiting the generality of the foregoing,))~~ The rules adopted by the department may ~~((in cooperation with the department of health make rules regarding))~~ include, but are not limited to:

(a) Standards for the construction and maintenance of ~~((water))~~ wells and their casings;

(b) Methods of capping, sealing ~~((artesian)),~~ and decommissioning wells ~~((and water wells to be abandoned or which may contaminate other))~~ to prevent contamination of ground water resources and to protect public health and safety;

(c) Methods of artificial recharge of ground water bodies and of construction of wells which insure separation of individual water bearing formations;

(d) The manner of conducting and the content of examinations required to be taken by applicants for license hereunder;

- (e) Requirements for the filing of notices of intent, well reports, and the payment of fees;
- (f) Reporting requirements of ((water)) well contractors;
- ~~((f))~~ (g) Limitations on ((water)) well construction in areas identified by the department as requiring intensive control of withdrawals in the interests of sound management of the ground water resource;
- (5) To require the operator in the construction of a well and the property owner in the maintenance of a well to guard against waste and contamination of the ground water resources;
- (6) To require the operator to place a well identification tag on a new well and on an existing well on which work is performed after the effective date of rules requiring well identification tags and to place or require the owner to place a well identification tag on an existing well;
- (7) To require the well owner to repair or decommission any well:
 - (a) That is abandoned, unusable, or not intended for future use; or
 - (b) That is an environmental, safety, or public health hazard.

Sec. 5. RCW 18.104.043 and 1992 c 67 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

- (1) If requested in writing by the governing body of a local health district or county, the department by memorandum of agreement may delegate to the governing body the authority to administer and enforce the well tagging, sealing, and decommissioning portions of the water well construction program.
- (2) The department shall determine whether a local health district or county that seeks delegation under this section has the resources, capability, and expertise, including qualified field inspectors, to administer the delegated program. If the department determines the local government has these resources, it shall notify ~~((drilling))~~ well contractors, consultants, and operators of the proposal. The department shall accept written comments on the proposal for sixty days after the notice is mailed.
- (3) If the department determines that a delegation of authority to a local health district or county to administer and enforce the well sealing and decommissioning portions of the water well construction program will enhance the public health and safety and the environment, the department and the local governing body may enter into a memorandum of agreement setting forth the specific authorities delegated by the department to the local governing body. The memorandum of agreement shall provide for an initial review of the delegation within one year and for periodic review thereafter.
- (4) The local governing body shall exercise any authority delegated under this section in accordance with this chapter, other applicable laws, the memorandum of agreement, and applicable ordinances. If, after a public hearing, the department determines that a local governing body is not administering the program in accordance with this chapter, it shall notify the local governing body of the deficiencies. If corrective action is not taken within a reasonable time, not to exceed sixty days, the department by order shall withdraw the delegation of authority.
- (5) The department shall promptly furnish the local governing body with a copy of each water well report and notification of start cards received in the area covered by a delegated program.
- (6) The department and the local governing body shall coordinate to reduce duplication of effort and shall share all appropriate information including technical reports, violations, and well reports.
- (7) Any person aggrieved by a decision of a local health district or county under a delegated program may appeal the decision to the department. The department's decision is subject to review by the pollution control hearings board as provided in RCW ~~((18.104.130))~~ 43.21B.110.
- (8) The department shall not delegate the authority to license ~~((water))~~ well contractors, renew licenses, receive notices of intent to commence ~~((drilling))~~ constructing a well, receive well reports, or collect state fees provided for in this chapter.

Sec. 6. RCW 18.104.048 and 1987 c 394 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((To enable the department to monitor the construction, reconstruction, and abandonment of water wells more efficiently and effectively, water well contractors))~~ A property owner or the owner's agent shall ((provide notification to)) notify the department of ((their)) his or her intent to begin well construction, reconstruction, or ((abandonment)) decommissioning procedures at least seventy-two hours in advance of commencing work. The ((notification)) notice shall be submitted on forms provided by the department and shall be accompanied by the fees required by section 9 of this act. The notice shall contain the name of the owner of the well, location of the well, proposed use, approximate start date, ((driller's)) well contractor's or operator's name and license number, ((drilling)) company's name, and other pertinent information as prescribed by rule of the department. Rules of the department shall also provide for prior telephonic notification by well ((drillers)) contractors or operators in exceptional situations. The department shall issue a receipt indicating that the notice required by this section has been filed and the fees required by section 9 of this act have been paid not later than three business days after the department has received the notice and fees.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 7. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

The department by rule shall adopt procedures to permit a well operator to modify construction standards to meet unforeseen circumstances encountered during the construction of a well. The procedures shall be developed in consultation with the technical advisory group established in section 25 of this act.

Sec. 8. RCW 18.104.050 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((In order to enable the state to protect the welfare, health and safety of its citizens, any water)) (1) A well contractor shall furnish a ((water)) well report to the director within thirty days after the completion of the construction or alteration of a well by ((him or any water well)) the contractor. The director, by ((regulation)) rule, shall prescribe the form of the report and the information to be contained therein.~~

~~(2) In the case of a dewatering well project:~~

~~(a) A single well construction report may be submitted for all similar dewatering wells constructed with no significant change in geologic formation; and~~

~~(b) A single well decommissioning report may be submitted for all similar dewatering wells decommissioned that have no significant change in geologic formation.~~

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

(1) A fee is hereby imposed on each well constructed in this state on or after July 1, 1993.

(2)(a) The fee for one new water well, other than a dewatering well, with a minimum top casing diameter of less than twelve inches is one hundred dollars.

(b) The fee for one new water well, other than a dewatering well, with a minimum top casing diameter of twelve inches or greater is two hundred dollars.

(c) The fee for a new resource protection, observation, and monitoring well is forty dollars for each well.

(d) The combined fee for construction and decommissioning of a dewatering well system shall be forty dollars for each two hundred horizontal lineal feet, or portion thereof, of the dewatering well system.

(3) The fees imposed by this section shall be paid at the time the notice of well construction is submitted to the department as provided by RCW 18.104.048. The department by rule may adopt procedures to permit the fees required for resource protection wells to be paid after the number of wells actually constructed has been determined. The department shall refund the amount of any fees collected for any wells on which construction is not started.

Sec. 10. RCW 18.104.060 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 6 are each amended to read as follows:

Notwithstanding and in addition to any other powers granted to the department, whenever it appears to the director, or to an assistant authorized by the director to issue regulatory orders under this section, that a person is violating or is about to violate any of the provisions of this chapter, the director, or ((his)) the director's authorized assistant, may cause a written regulatory order to be served upon said person either personally, or by registered or certified mail delivered to the addressee only with return receipt requested and acknowledged by him or her. The order shall specify the provision of this chapter, and if applicable, the rule ((or regulation)) adopted pursuant to this chapter alleged to be or about to be violated, and the facts upon which the conclusion of violating or potential violation is based, and shall order the act constituting the violation or the potential violation to cease and desist or, in appropriate cases, shall order necessary corrective action to be taken with regard to such acts within a specific and reasonable time. ((A regulatory)) An order issued ((hereunder)) under this chapter shall become effective immediately upon receipt by the person to whom the order is directed, and shall become final unless review thereof is requested as provided in this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 11. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The department may order a well contractor or well operator to repair, alter, or decommission a well if the department demonstrates that the construction of the well did not meet the standards for well construction in effect at the time construction of the well was completed.

(2) The department may not issue an order pursuant to this section:

(a) For wells for which construction has been substantially completed before July 1, 1993, more than six years after construction has been substantially completed; or

(b) For wells for which construction has been substantially completed on or after July 1, 1993, more than three years after construction has been substantially completed.

For purposes of this subsection, "construction has been substantially completed" has the same meaning as "substantial completion of construction" in RCW 4.16.310.

(3) Subsection (2) of this section shall only apply to a well for which the notice of construction required by RCW 18.104.048 and the report required by RCW 18.104.050 have been filed with the department.

Sec. 12. RCW 18.104.070 and 1987 c 394 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((Except as provided in RCW 18.104.180, no person may contract to engage in the construction of a water well and no person may act as an operator without first obtaining a license by applying to the department.))~~

A person shall be qualified to receive a water well ((construction)) operator's license if ((he)) the person:

(1) Has ((made)) submitted a completed application ((therefor)) to the department on forms provided by the department and has paid to the department ((an)) the application fee ((of twenty-five dollars)) determined by rule adopted pursuant to this chapter; and

(2) Has ~~((at least two years of field experience with a licensed well driller or one year of field experience and an equivalent of at least one school year of qualifying educational training that satisfies the criteria established by department rule))~~ the field experience and educational training required by rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter; and

(3) Has passed a written examination as provided for in RCW 18.104.080(~~(- PROVIDED, That should any applicant establish his illiteracy to the satisfaction of the department, such applicant shall be entitled to an oral examination in lieu of the written examination authorized herein); and~~

(4) Has passed an on-site examination by the department if the person's qualifying field experience under subsection (2) of this section is from another state. The department may waive the on-site examination.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 13. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

The department may issue a water well construction operator's training license if the person:

(1) Has submitted a completed application to the department on forms provided by the department and has paid to the department the application fee required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(2) Has acquired field experience and educational training required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(3) Has passed a written examination as provided for in RCW 18.104.080;

(4) Has passed an on-site examination by the department; and

(5) Presents a statement by a person licensed under this chapter, other than a trainee, signed under penalty of perjury as provided in RCW 9A.72.085, verifying that the applicant has the field experience required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter and assuming liability for any and all well construction activities of the person seeking the training license.

A person with a water well construction operator's training license may operate a drilling rig without the direct supervision of a licensed operator if a licensed operator is available by radio, telephone, or other means of communication.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 14. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

A person shall be qualified to receive a resource protection well operator's license if the person:

(1) Has submitted a completed application to the department on forms provided by the department and has paid to the department the application fee required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(2) Has acquired field experience and educational training required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(3) Has passed a written examination as provided for in RCW 18.104.080. This requirement shall not apply to a person who passed the written examination to obtain a resource protection well construction operator's training license; and

(4) Has passed an on-site examination by the department if the person's qualifying field experience is from another state. The department may waive the on-site examination.

A person with a license issued pursuant to this chapter before the effective date of this section may obtain a resource protection well construction operator's license by paying the application fee determined by rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter and submitting evidence required by the department to demonstrate that the person has the required experience to construct resource protection wells.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 15. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

The department may issue a resource protection well operator's training license if the person:

(1) Has submitted a completed application to the department on forms provided by the department and has paid to the department the application fee required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(2) Has acquired field experience and educational training required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(3) Has passed a written examination as provided for in RCW 18.104.080;

(4) Has passed an on-site examination by the department; and

(5) Presents a statement by a person licensed under this chapter, other than a trainee, signed under penalty of perjury as provided in RCW 9A.72.085, verifying that the applicant has the field experience required by rules adopted pursuant to this chapter and assuming liability for any and all well construction activities of the person seeking the training license.

A person with a resource protection well construction operator's training license may operate a drilling rig without direct supervision of a licensed operator if a licensed operator is accessible by radio, telephone, or other means of communication.

Sec. 16. RCW 18.104.080 and 1991 c 3 s 250 are each amended to read as follows:

The examination(~~(, which is made a prerequisite for obtaining a license hereunder,))~~ for a license issued pursuant to this chapter shall be prepared to test knowledge and understanding of at least the following subjects:

- (1) Washington ground water laws as they relate to well construction;
- (2) Sanitary standards for ~~((water))~~ well drilling and construction of ~~((water))~~ wells;
- (3) Types of ~~((water))~~ well construction;
- (4) Drilling tools and equipment;
- (5) Underground geology as it relates to ~~((water))~~ well construction; and
- (6) Rules of the department and the department of health relating to ~~((water))~~ well construction.

Examinations shall be held at such times and places as may be determined by the department but not later than thirty days after an applicant has filed a completed application with the department. The department shall make a determination of the applicant's qualifications for a license within ten days after the examination.

Sec. 17. RCW 18.104.100 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 10 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((The term for the effectiveness of any license))~~ (1) Licenses issued pursuant to this chapter shall be ~~((one))~~ renewed every two years ~~((, commencing on the date the license is issued))~~. ~~((Every))~~ A license shall be renewed ~~((annually))~~ upon payment of a renewal fee ~~((of ten dollars))~~ and completion of continuing education required by rule adopted by the department. If a licensee fails to submit an application for renewal, ~~((together with))~~ the renewal fee, ~~((before the end of the effective term of his license, his license shall be suspended for thirty days on notice by the director. If his renewal fee is paid prior to the end of said suspension period, the suspension shall automatically terminate. If during the period of suspension renewal is not completed, his license shall be revoked. PROVIDED, That the director shall give the licensee ten days notice prior to the revocation of any license for failure to renew))~~ and proof of completion of the required continuing education, the license shall expire at the end of its effective term.

(2) A person whose license ~~((is revoked under this section and who thereafter desires to engage in the supervision of construction of water wells))~~ has expired must ~~((make application))~~ apply for a new license ~~((and pay twenty-five dollars))~~ as provided in ~~((RCW 18.104.070))~~ this chapter. The department may waive the requirement for a written examination and on-site testing for a person whose license has expired.

(3) The department may refuse to renew a license if the licensee has not complied with an order issued by the department or has not paid a penalty imposed in accordance with this chapter, unless the order or penalty is under appeal.

(4) The department may issue a conditional license to enable a former licensee to comply with an order to correct problems with a well.

Sec. 18. RCW 18.104.110 and 1991 c 3 s 251 are each amended to read as follows:

In cases other than those relating to the failure of a licensee to renew a license, ~~((any license issued hereunder may be suspended or revoked by))~~ the director may suspend or revoke a license issued pursuant to this chapter for any of the following reasons:

- (1) For fraud or deception in obtaining the license;
- (2) For fraud or deception in reporting under RCW 18.104.050;
- (3) For violating the provisions of this chapter, or of any lawful rule or regulation of the department or the department of health.

No license shall be suspended for more than six months. No person whose license is revoked shall be eligible to apply for a license for one year from the effective date of the final order of revocation.

Sec. 19. RCW 18.104.120 and 1983 c 93 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Any person with an economic or noneconomic interest may make a complaint against any ~~((water))~~ well contractor or operator for violating this chapter or any regulations under it to the department of ecology. The complaint shall be in writing, signed by the complainant, and specify the grievances against the licensee. The department shall respond to the complaint by issuance of an order it deems appropriate. Review of the order shall be subject to the hearings procedures set forth in RCW 18.104.130.

Sec. 20. RCW 18.104.150 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 15 are each amended to read as follows:

~~((All receipts realized in the administration of this chapter shall be paid into the general fund.))~~ (1) All fees paid under this chapter shall be credited by the state treasurer to the reclamation account established by chapter 89.16 RCW. Subject to legislative appropriation, the fees collected under this chapter shall be allocated and expended by the director for the administration of the well construction, well operators' licensing, and education programs.

(2) The department shall provide grants to local governing entities that have been delegated portions of the well construction program pursuant to RCW 18.104.043 to assist in supporting well inspectors hired by the local governing body. Grants provided to a local governing body shall not exceed the revenues generated from fees for the portion of the program delegated and from the area in which authority is delegated to the local governing body.

Sec. 21. RCW 18.104.155 and 1987 c 394 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The department of ecology may ~~((levy))~~ assess a civil penalty ~~((of up to one hundred dollars per day))~~ for a violation of this chapter or rules or orders of the department adopted or issued pursuant to it. ~~((Procedures of RCW 90.48.144 shall be applicable to all phases of levying of such a penalty as well as review and appeal of them))~~

(2) There shall be three categories of violations: Minor, serious, and major.

(a) A minor violation is a violation that does not seriously threaten public health, safety, and the environment. Minor violations include, but are not limited to:

(i) Failure to submit completed start cards and well reports within the required time;

(ii) Failure to submit variance requests before construction;

(iii) Failure to submit well construction fees;

(iv) Failure to place a well identification tag on a new well; and

(v) Minor or reparable construction problems.

(b) A serious violation is a violation that poses a critical or serious threat to public health, safety, and the environment. Serious violations include, but are not limited to:

(i) Improper well construction;

(ii) Intentional and improper location or siting of a well;

(iii) Construction of a well without a required permit;

(iv) Violation of decommissioning requirements;

(v) Repeated minor violations; or

(vi) Construction of a well by a person whose license has expired or has been suspended for not more than ninety days.

(c) A major violation is the construction of a well by a person:

(i) Without a license; or

(ii) After the person's license has been suspended for more than ninety days or revoked.

(3)(a) The penalty for a minor violation shall be not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five hundred dollars. Before the imposition of a penalty for a minor violation, the department may issue an order of noncompliance to provide an opportunity for mitigation or compliance.

(b) The penalty for a serious violation shall be not less than five hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars.

(c) The penalty for a major violation shall be not less than five thousand dollars and not more than ten thousand dollars.

(4) In determining the appropriate penalty under subsection (3) of this section the department shall consider whether the person:

(a) Has demonstrated a general disregard for public health and safety through the number and magnitude of the violations;

(b) Has demonstrated a disregard for the well construction laws or rules in repeated or continuous violations;
or

(c) Knew or reasonably should have known of circumstances that resulted in the violation.

(5) Penalties provided for in this section shall be imposed pursuant to RCW 43.21B.300. The department shall provide thirty days written notice of a violation as provided in RCW 43.21B.300(3).

(6) For ~~((each notice regarding))~~ informational purposes, a copy of the notice of violation, resulting from the improper construction of a well, that is sent to a water well contractor or water well construction operator, ~~((the department shall send a copy of the notice for information purposes only to the owner of the land on which the improperly constructed well is located))~~ shall also be sent by the department to the well owner.

(7) Penalties collected by the department pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the reclamation account established by chapter 89.16 RCW. Subject to legislative appropriation, the penalties may be spent only for purposes related to the restoration and enhancement of ground water resources in the state.

Sec. 22. RCW 43.21B.110 and 1992 c 174 s 13 and 1992 c 73 s 1 are each reenacted and amended to read as follows:

(1) The hearings board shall only have jurisdiction to hear and decide appeals from the following decisions of the department, the director, the administrator of the office of marine safety, and the air pollution control boards or authorities as established pursuant to chapter 70.94 RCW, or local health departments:

(a) Civil penalties imposed pursuant to RCW 18.104.155, 70.94.431, 70.105.080, 70.107.050, 88.46.090, 90.03.600, 90.48.144, 90.56.310, and 90.56.330.

(b) Orders issued pursuant to RCW 18.104.043, 18.104.060, 43.27A.190, 70.94.211, 70.94.332, 70.105.095, 86.16.020, 88.46.070, 90.14.130, and 90.48.120.

(c) The issuance, modification, or termination of any permit, certificate, or license by the department or any air authority in the exercise of its jurisdiction, including the issuance or termination of a waste disposal permit, the denial of an application for a waste disposal permit, or the modification of the conditions or the terms of a waste disposal permit.

(d) Decisions of local health departments regarding the grant or denial of solid waste permits pursuant to chapter 70.95 RCW.

(e) Decisions of local health departments regarding the issuance and enforcement of permits to use or dispose of biosolids under RCW 70.95J.080.

(f) Any other decision by the department, the administrator of the office of marine safety, or an air authority which pursuant to law must be decided as an adjudicative proceeding under chapter 34.05 RCW.

(2) The following hearings shall not be conducted by the hearings board:

(a) Hearings required by law to be conducted by the shorelines hearings board pursuant to chapter 90.58 RCW.

(b) Hearings conducted by the department pursuant to RCW 70.94.332, 70.94.390, 70.94.395, 70.94.400, 70.94.405, 70.94.410, and 90.44.180.

(c) Proceedings by the department relating to general adjudications of water rights pursuant to chapter 90.03 or 90.44 RCW.

(d) Hearings conducted by the department to adopt, modify, or repeal rules.

(3) Review of rules and regulations adopted by the hearings board shall be subject to review in accordance with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW.

Sec. 23. RCW 43.21B.300 and 1992 c 73 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any civil penalty provided in RCW 18.104.155, 70.94.431, 70.105.080, 70.107.050, 88.46.090, 90.03.600, 90.48.144, 90.56.310, and 90.56.330 shall be imposed by a notice in writing, either by certified mail with return receipt requested or by personal service, to the person incurring the penalty from the department, the administrator of the office of marine safety, or the local air authority, describing the violation with reasonable particularity. Within fifteen days after the notice is received, the person incurring the penalty may apply in writing to the department, the administrator, or the authority for the remission or mitigation of the penalty. Upon receipt of the application, the department, the administrator, or authority may remit or mitigate the penalty upon whatever terms the department, the administrator, or the authority in its discretion deems proper. The department or the authority may ascertain the facts regarding all such applications in such reasonable manner and under such rules as it may deem proper and shall remit or mitigate the penalty only upon a demonstration of extraordinary circumstances such as the presence of information or factors not considered in setting the original penalty.

(2) Any penalty imposed under this section may be appealed to the pollution control hearings board in accordance with this chapter if the appeal is filed with the hearings board and served on the department, the administrator, or authority thirty days after receipt by the person penalized of the notice imposing the penalty or thirty days after receipt of the notice of disposition of the application for relief from penalty.

(3) A penalty shall become due and payable on the later of:

(a) Thirty days after receipt of the notice imposing the penalty;

(b) Thirty days after receipt of the notice of disposition on application for relief from penalty, if such an application is made; or

(c) Thirty days after receipt of the notice of decision of the hearings board if the penalty is appealed.

(4) If the amount of any penalty is not paid to the department or the administrator within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the attorney general, upon request of the department or the administrator, shall bring an action in the name of the state of Washington in the superior court of Thurston county, or of any county in which the violator does business, to recover the penalty. If the amount of the penalty is not paid to the authority within thirty days after it becomes due and payable, the authority may bring an action to recover the penalty in the superior court of the county of the authority's main office or of any county in which the violator does business. In these actions, the procedures and rules of evidence shall be the same as in an ordinary civil action.

(5) All penalties recovered shall be paid into the state treasury and credited to the general fund except those penalties imposed pursuant to RCW 18.104.155, which shall be credited to the reclamation account as provided in RCW 18.104.155(7), RCW 70.94.431, the disposition of which shall be governed by that provision, RCW 70.105.080, which shall be credited to the hazardous waste control and elimination account, created by RCW 70.105.180, and RCW 90.56.330, which shall be credited to the coastal protection fund created by RCW 90.48.390.

Sec. 24. RCW 18.104.180 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 18 are each amended to read as follows:

No license (~~(hereunder)~~) under this chapter shall be required of:

(1) Any individual who personally (~~(drills)~~) constructs a well on land which is owned or leased by (~~(him)~~) the individual or in which (~~(he)~~) the individual has a beneficial interest as a contract purchaser and is used by the individual for farm or (~~(noncommercial-domestic)~~) single-family residential use only. An individual who constructs a well without a license pursuant to this subsection shall comply with all other requirements of this chapter and rules adopted by the department, including but not limited to, well construction standards, payment of well construction fees, and notification of well construction required by RCW 18.104.048. An individual without a license may construct not more than one well every two years pursuant to the provisions of this subsection.

(2) (~~(Any)~~) An individual who performs labor or services for a (~~(water)~~) well contractor in connection with the (~~(drilling)~~) construction of a well at the direction and under the supervision and control of a licensed operator who is present at the construction site.

(3) A person licensed under the provisions of chapter 18.08 or 18.43 RCW if in the performance of duties covered by those licenses.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 25. A new section is added to chapter 18.104 RCW to read as follows:

(1) For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, the director shall appoint a technical advisory group, chaired by the department. The technical advisory group shall have twelve members: Two members shall represent the department of ecology, six members shall represent resource protection well contractors or water well contractors, one member shall represent the department of health, one member shall represent local health departments, one member shall represent licensed professional engineers, and one member shall be a scientist knowledgeable in the design and construction of wells.

(2) The technical advisory group shall assist the department in the development and revision of rules; the preparation and revision of licensing examinations; the development of training criteria for inspectors, well contractors, and well operators; and the review of proposed changes to the minimum standards for construction and maintenance of wells by local governments for the purpose of achieving continuity with technology and state rules.

(3) The group shall meet at least twice each year to review rules and suggest any necessary changes.

(4) Each member of the group shall be compensated in accordance with RCW 43.03.240 and reimbursed for travel expenses while engaged in the business of the group as prescribed in RCW 43.03.050 and 43.03.060.

Sec. 26. RCW 18.104.900 and 1971 ex.s. c 212 s 19 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "~~Washington (Water) well construction act~~(5)."

Sec. 27. RCW 89.16.055 and 1981 c 216 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

In addition to the powers provided in RCW 89.16.050, the department of ecology is authorized and empowered to:

(1) Conduct surveys, studies, investigations, and water right examinations for proposed reclamation projects or the rehabilitation of existing reclamation projects that may be funded fully or partially from the receipts of the sale of bonds issued by the state of Washington.

(2) Support the preparation for and administration of proceedings, provided in RCW 90.03.110 or 90.44.220, or both, pertaining to river systems or other water bodies that are associated with existing or proposed reclamation projects.

(3) Conduct a regulatory program for well construction as provided in chapter 18.104 RCW.

Funds of the account established by RCW 89.16.020 may, as appropriated by the legislature, be used in relation to the powers provided in this section, notwithstanding any other provisions of chapter 89.16 RCW that may be to the contrary.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 28. Section 5 of this act expires on June 30, 1996."

MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Agriculture & Rural Development be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Revenue:

Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 82.04 RCW to read as follows:

(1) "Agricultural product" means any product of plant cultivation or animal husbandry including, but not limited to: A product of horticulture, grain cultivation, vermiculture, viticulture, or aquaculture as defined in RCW 15.85.020; plantation Christmas trees; turf; or any animal including but not limited to an animal that is a private sector cultured aquatic product as defined in RCW 15.85.020, or a bird, or insect, or the substances obtained from such an animal. "Agricultural product" does not include animals intended to be pets.

(2) "Farmer" means any person engaged in the business of growing or producing, upon the person's own lands or upon the lands in which the person has a present right of possession, any agricultural product whatsoever for sale. "Farmer" does not include a person using such products as ingredients in a manufacturing process, or a person growing or producing such products for the person's own consumption. "Farmer" does not include a person selling any animal or substance obtained therefrom in connection with the person's business of operating a stockyard or a slaughter or packing house. "Farmer" does not include any person in respect to the business of taking, cultivating, or raising timber. "Farmer" does not include any association of persons whatever, whether mutual, cooperative, or otherwise, engaging in any business activity with respect to which tax liability is imposed under the provisions of this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to sales of:

- (1) Feed, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, and spray materials to persons who participate in the federal conservation reserve program or its successor administered by the United States department of agriculture with respect to land enrolled in that program, or to farmers for the purpose of producing for sale any agricultural product.
- (2) Chemical sprays or washes to persons for the purpose of post harvest treatment of fruit for the prevention of scald, fungus, mold, or decay.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use of:

- (1) Feed, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, and spray materials by persons who participate in the federal conservation reserve program or its successor administered by the United States department of agriculture with respect to land enrolled in that program, or by farmers for the purpose of producing for sale any agricultural product.
- (2) Chemical sprays or washes by persons for the purpose of post harvest treatment of fruit for the prevention of scald, fungus, mold, or decay.

Sec. 4. RCW 82.04.050 and 1988 c 253 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) "Sale at retail" or "retail sale" means every sale of tangible personal property (including articles produced, fabricated, or imprinted) to all persons irrespective of the nature of their business and including, among others, without limiting the scope hereof, persons who install, repair, clean, alter, improve, construct, or decorate real or personal property of or for consumers other than a sale to a person who (a) purchases for the purpose of resale as tangible personal property in the regular course of business without intervening use by such person, or (b) installs, repairs, cleans, alters, imprints, improves, constructs, or decorates real or personal property of or for consumers, if such tangible personal property becomes an ingredient or component of such real or personal property without intervening use by such person, or (c) purchases for the purpose of consuming the property purchased in producing for sale a new article of tangible personal property or substance, of which such property becomes an ingredient or component or is a chemical used in processing, when the primary purpose of such chemical is to create a chemical reaction directly through contact with an ingredient of a new article being produced for sale, or (d) purchases for the purpose of consuming the property purchased in producing ferrosilicon which is subsequently used in producing magnesium for sale, if the primary purpose of such property is to create a chemical reaction directly through contact with an ingredient of ferrosilicon, or (e) purchases for the purpose of providing the property to consumers as part of competitive telephone service, as defined in RCW 82.04.065. The term shall include every sale of tangible personal property which is used or consumed or to be used or consumed in the performance of any activity classified as a "sale at retail" or "retail sale" even though such property is resold or utilized as provided in (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) above following such use. The term also means every sale of tangible personal property to persons engaged in any business which is taxable under RCW 82.04.280, subsections (2) and (7) and RCW 82.04.290.

(2) The term "sale at retail" or "retail sale" shall include the sale of or charge made for tangible personal property consumed and/or for labor and services rendered in respect to the following: (a) The installing, repairing, cleaning, altering, imprinting, or improving of tangible personal property of or for consumers, including charges made for the mere use of facilities in respect thereto, but excluding charges made for the use of coin operated laundry facilities when such facilities are situated in an apartment house, hotel, motel, rooming house, trailer camp or tourist camp for the exclusive use of the tenants thereof, and also excluding sales of laundry service to members by nonprofit associations composed exclusively of nonprofit hospitals, and excluding services rendered in respect to live animals, birds and insects; (b) the constructing, repairing, decorating, or improving of new or existing buildings or other structures under, upon, or above real property of or for consumers, including the installing or attaching of any article of tangible personal property therein or thereto, whether or not such personal property becomes a part of the realty by virtue of installation, and shall also include the sale of services or charges made for the clearing of land and the moving of earth excepting the mere leveling of land used in commercial farming or agriculture; (c) the charge for labor and services rendered in respect to constructing, repairing, or improving any structure upon, above, or under any real property owned by an owner who conveys the property by title, possession, or any other means to the person performing such construction, repair, or improvement for the purpose of performing such construction, repair, or improvement and the property is then reconveyed by title, possession, or any other means to the original owner; (d) the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the cleaning, fumigating, razing or moving of existing buildings or structures, but shall not include the charge made for janitorial services; and for purposes of this section the term "janitorial services" shall mean those cleaning and caretaking services ordinarily performed by commercial janitor service businesses including, but not limited to, wall and window washing, floor cleaning and waxing, and the cleaning in place of rugs, drapes and upholstery. The term "janitorial services" does not include painting, papering, repairing, furnace or septic tank cleaning, snow removal or sandblasting; (e) the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to automobile towing and similar automotive transportation services, but not in respect to those required to report and pay taxes under chapter 82.16 RCW; (f) the sale of and charge made for the furnishing of lodging and all other services by a hotel, rooming house, tourist court, motel, trailer camp, and the granting of any similar license to use real property, as distinguished from the renting or leasing of real property, and it shall be presumed that the occupancy of real property for a continuous period of one month or more constitutes a rental or lease of real property and not a mere license to use or enjoy the same; (g) the sale of or charge made for tangible personal property, labor and services to persons taxable under (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) above when such sales or charges are for property, labor and services which are used or consumed in whole or in part by such persons in the performance of any activity defined as a "sale at retail" or "retail sale" even though such property, labor and services may be resold after such use or consumption. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to modify the first paragraph of this section and nothing contained in the first paragraph of this section shall be construed to modify this paragraph.

(3) The term "sale at retail" or "retail sale" shall include the sale of or charge made for personal business or professional services including amounts designated as interest, rents, fees, admission, and other service emoluments however designated, received by persons engaging in the following business activities: (a) Amusement and recreation businesses including but not limited to golf, pool, billiards, skating, bowling, ski lifts and tows and others; (b) abstract, title insurance and escrow businesses; (c) credit bureau businesses; (d) automobile parking and storage garage businesses.

(4) The term shall also include the renting or leasing of tangible personal property to consumers.

(5) The term shall also include the providing of telephone service, as defined in RCW 82.04.065, to consumers.

(6) The term shall not include the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the building, repairing, or improving of any street, place, road, highway, easement, right of way, mass public transportation terminal or parking facility, bridge, tunnel, or trestle which is owned by a municipal corporation or political subdivision of the state or by the United States and which is used or to be used primarily for foot or vehicular traffic including mass transportation vehicles of any kind. ~~((The term shall also not include sales of food, seed, seedlings, fertilizer, and spray materials to persons who participate in the federal conservation reserve program or its successor administered by the United States department of agriculture, or to persons for the purpose of producing for sale any agricultural product whatsoever, including plantation Christmas trees and milk, eggs, wool, fur, meat, honey, or other substances obtained from animals, birds, or insects but only when such production and subsequent sale are exempt from tax under RCW 82.04.330, nor shall it include sales of chemical sprays or washes to persons for the purpose of post harvest treatment of fruit for the prevention of scald, fungus, mold, or decay.))~~

(7) The term shall not include the sale of or charge made for labor and services rendered in respect to the constructing, repairing, decorating, or improving of new or existing buildings or other structures under, upon, or above real property of or for the United States, any instrumentality thereof, or a county or city housing authority created pursuant to chapter 35.82 RCW, including the installing, or attaching of any article of tangible personal property therein or thereto, whether or not such personal property becomes a part of the realty by virtue of installation. Nor shall the term include the sale of services or charges made for the clearing of land and the moving of earth of or for the United States, any instrumentality thereof, or a county or city housing authority.

Sec. 5. RCW 82.04.330 and 1988 c 253 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:

This chapter shall not apply to any ~~((person in respect to the business of growing or producing for sale upon the person's own lands or upon land in which the person has a present right of possession, any agricultural or horticultural produce or crop, or of raising upon the person's own lands or upon land in which the person has a present right of possession, any plantation Christmas tree or any animal, bird, fish, or insect, or the milk, eggs, wool, fur, meat, honey, or other substance obtained therefrom, or in respect to the sale of such products))~~ farmer that sells any agricultural product at wholesale ~~((by such grower, producer, or raiser thereof))~~. HB 1986 Prime Sponsor, Representative Wineberry: Facilitating neighborhood reinvestment. Reported by Committee on Revenue

MAJORITY recommendation: The substitute bill by Committee on Trade, Economic Development & Housing be substituted therefor and the substitute bill with the following amendment by Committee on Revenue: Strike everything after the enacting clause and insert the following:

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislature finds that:

- (a) Neighborhoods are a powerful indicator of the diversity and health of the state;
 - (b) There are geographic areas within communities that are characterized by a lack of employment opportunities and high unemployment, by an average income level that is below the median income level for the surrounding community, by a lack of affordable housing, by deteriorating infrastructure, and by a lack of facilities for community services, job training, and education;
 - (c) Strategies to encourage reinvestment in these neighborhoods by assisting local businesses to become stronger and neighborhood residents to gain economic power involve a variety of activities;
 - (d) Reinvestment in these neighborhoods cannot be accomplished with only governmental resources and requires a comprehensive approach that integrates various incentives, initiatives, and programs to meet the economic, physical, and social needs of the neighborhood;
 - (e) Successful neighborhood reinvestment depends on a local government's ability to coordinate public resources in a cohesive strategy designed to leverage long-term private investment;
 - (f) Neighborhood reinvestment can strengthen the overall community tax base through increased taxes realized from the establishment of new business and physical property improvements;
 - (g) Local governments, in cooperation with neighborhood residents, can provide leadership as well as planning and coordination of resources and necessary services to address reinvestment in neighborhoods; and
 - (h) It is in the public interest to adopt a targeted approach to neighborhood reinvestment and enlist the resources of the public and private sectors, and neighborhood groups to revitalize neighborhoods.
- (2) The legislature declares that the purposes of the neighborhood reinvestment act are to:
- (a) Encourage neighborhood reinvestment through strong partnerships and cooperation between all levels of government, community-based organizations, neighborhood residents, and the private sector;
 - (b) Involve and educate the private sector and stimulate private reinvestment through the judicious use of public resources;
 - (c) Target governmental resources to those neighborhoods in greatest need; and
 - (d) Include neighborhood individuals and organizations in the policy-making process.

PART I -- GENERAL PROVISIONS AND POLICIES

NEW SECTION. Sec. 101. (1) It is the goal of the state of Washington to create an environment that fosters economic reinvestment and empowerment of neighborhood residents through public and private sectors, and neighborhood efforts. The legislature declares that attainment of that goal is a state priority.

(2) The objectives of the neighborhood reinvestment act are to attain the state's goal of economic reinvestment and empowerment of neighborhood residents by working with the public and private sectors, and neighborhood residents to:

(a) Develop local comprehensive neighborhood reinvestment strategies that reflect the diverse elements of the neighborhood;

(b) Expand homeownership and rental housing opportunities;

(c) Increase employment opportunities for neighborhood residents;

(d) Link housing and supportive services;

(e) Revitalize the physical infrastructure;

(f) Develop new private investment in the neighborhood; and

(g) Stimulate neighborhood business development and retention.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 102. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Affordable housing" means residential housing that is rented or owned by a person or household whose monthly housing costs, including utilities other than telephone, do not exceed thirty percent of the household's monthly income.

(2) "Business firm" means any incorporated or unincorporated business entity authorized to do business in the state of Washington and subject to the state's business and occupation taxes levied in chapter 82.04 RCW.

(3) "Community service" means any type of counseling and advice, emergency assistance, or medical care furnished to individuals or groups in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(4) "Crime prevention" means any activity that aids in the reduction of crime in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(5) "Designated neighborhood reinvestment area" means a geographic area within the boundaries of a local government that meets the requirements of section 104 of this act and is so designated by the director of the department of community development.

(6) "Education" means any type of scholastic instruction or scholarship assistance to any person who resides in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area that enable that person to prepare for better employment opportunities.

(7) "Housing assistance" means any activity that aids in the acquisition, preservation, rehabilitation, or construction of affordable housing within a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(8) "Job training" means any type of instruction to any person who resides in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area that enable that person to acquire vocational skills to become employable or seek a higher grade of employment.

(9) "Local government" means a city, town, or county.

(10) "Neighborhood assistance" means furnishing financial assistance, labor, material, or technical assistance to aid in the provision of community services, crime prevention, education, job training, and housing assistance activities in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(11) "Nonprofit organization" means any public or private nonprofit organization that: (a) Is organized under federal, state, or local laws; (b) has no part of its net earnings inuring to the benefit of any member, founder, contributor, or individual; and (c) has among its purposes significant activities related to neighborhood assistance activities in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas. The term also includes public housing authorities created under chapter 35.82 RCW and public corporations created under chapter 35.21 RCW that are located in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 103. (1) Any local government may apply to the director of the department of community development for designation of an area within the local government as a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(2) The application shall be in the form and manner and contain such information as the director of the department of community development may, by rule, determine, provided that the application for designation shall:

(a) Contain information sufficient for the director of the department of community development to determine if the criteria established in section 104 of this act have been met.

(b) Be submitted on behalf of the local government by its chief elected official, or, if none, by the governing body of the local government.

(c) Contain a five-year neighborhood reinvestment plan that describes the proposed designated neighborhood reinvestment area's community development needs and present a strategy for meeting those needs. The plan shall address the following categories: Housing needs; public infrastructure needs, such as transportation, water, sanitation, energy, and drainage/flood control; other public facilities needs, such as neighborhood facilities or facilities for provision of health, education, recreation, public safety, or other services; community economic development needs, such as commercial/industrial revitalization, job creation and retention considering the unemployment and underemployment of area residents, accessibility to financial resources by area residents and businesses, investment within the area, or other related components of community economic development; and social service needs.

The local government is required to provide a description of its strategy for meeting the needs identified in this subsection (2)(c). As part of the strategy, the local government is required to identify the needs for which specific plans are currently in place and the source of funds expected to be used. For the balance of the area's needs, the local government must identify the source of funds expected to become available during the next two-year period and actions the local government will take to acquire those funds.

(d) Certify that neighborhood residents were given the opportunity to participate in the development of the five-year neighborhood reinvestment strategy required under (c) of this subsection.

(3) No local government shall submit more than two neighborhoods to the director of the department of community development for possible designation as a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under this section.

(4)(a) Within ninety days after January 1, 1994, the director of the department of community development may designate up to six designated neighborhood reinvestment areas from among the applications eligible for designation as a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under this section. The director of the department of community development shall make determinations of designated neighborhood reinvestment areas on the basis of the following factors:

(i) The strength and quality of the local government commitments to meet the needs identified in the five-year neighborhood reinvestment plan required under this section.

(ii) The level of private commitments by private entities of additional resources and contribution to the designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(iii) The potential for reinvestment in the area as a result of designation as a designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

(iv) Other factors the director of the department of community development deems necessary.

(b) The determination of the director of the department of community development as to the areas designated as neighborhood reinvestment areas shall be final.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 104. (1) The director of the department of community development may not designate any area as a designated neighborhood reinvestment area unless that area meets the following requirements:

(a) The area must be designated by the legislative authority of the local government as an area to receive federal, state, and local assistance designed to increase economic, physical, or social activity in the area;

(b) The area must have at least fifty-one percent of the households in the area with incomes at or below eighty percent of the county's median income, adjusted for household size;

(c) The average unemployment rate for the area, for the most recent twelve-month period for which data is available must be at least one hundred twenty percent of the average unemployment rate of the county; and

(d) A five-year neighborhood reinvestment plan for the area that meets the requirements of section 103(2)(c) of this act and as further defined by the director of the department of community development must be adopted.

(2) The director of the department of community development may establish, by rule, such other requirements as the director may reasonably determine necessary and appropriate to assure that the purposes of this section are satisfied.

(3) In determining if an area meets the requirements of this section, the director of the department of community development may consider data provided by the United State bureau of the census from the most recent census or any other reliable data that the director determines to be acceptable for the purposes for which the data is used.

PART II -- BUSINESS AND HOUSING TAX INCENTIVES

Subpart A - Business and Occupation Tax Credits for Contributions

NEW SECTION. Sec. 201. Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout sections 202 through 206 of this act.

(1) "Affordable housing" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(2) "Business firm" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(3) "Community service" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(4) "Crime prevention" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(5) "Designed neighborhood reinvestment area" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(6) "Education" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(7) "Housing assistance" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(8) "Job training" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(9) "Neighborhood assistance" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(10) "Nonprofit organization" has the same meaning as in section 102 of this act.

(11) "Recipient" means the person or business firm receiving tax credits under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 202. The department shall establish a program to provide tax credits to business firms making contributions to nonprofit organizations that are undertaking neighborhood assistance activities in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas. The tax credit may be used as a credit against any of the taxes imposed on the business firm under this chapter.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 203. (1) Application for tax credit under this chapter must be made before the actual contribution to the neighborhood assistance activity is made. The application shall be made to the department of community development in a form and manner prescribed by the department of revenue and department of community development.

(2) The department of community development shall transmit a copy of the completed application for tax credits to the department of revenue, with its recommendations, within ten working days after receipt thereof. Within thirty days after receipt of the completed application from the department of community development, the department of revenue shall determine the amount of tax credits to be allocated to the business firm. The department of revenue shall notify the department of community development of its decision within ten working days.

(3) The department of revenue, in consultation with the department of community development, shall adopt rules specifying the administrative procedures applicable to applicants for tax credits, the form and manner in which the applications shall be filed, and the information to be contained therein. The rule shall apply to administrative procedure before the department of revenue and the department of community development.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 204. In order to qualify for the tax credits in section 202 of this act, the neighborhood assistance activity must meet the following requirements:

(1) The neighborhood assistance activity must be located in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area;

(2) The business firm's contribution must be made to a nonprofit organization that is undertaking neighborhood assistance activities that are consistent with the area's five-year neighborhood reinvestment strategy under section 103 of this act.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 205. (1) No tax credit under this chapter for neighborhood assistance activities may be issued after December 31, 2001.

(2) The department shall grant a credit against the tax due under this chapter of an amount equal to fifty percent of the approved amount contributed by the business firm for eligible neighborhood assistance activities in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas during the taxable year.

(3) Any tax credit not used during the taxable year in which the contribution was made may be carried forward for the five immediately succeeding taxable years until the full credit has been used.

(4) The department shall keep a running total of all tax credits granted under this chapter during each fiscal biennium. The department shall not allow any credits that would cause the total tabulation for a biennium to exceed one million dollars. If all or part of an application for credit is disallowed under this subsection, the disallowed portion shall be carried over for approval the next biennium.

(5) No tax credit shall be granted to any bank, bank and trust company, trust company, national bank, savings bank, savings association, or savings and loan association for activities that are a part of its normal course of business.

(6) No recipient is eligible for tax credits in excess of one hundred thousand dollars during the taxable year and no tax credit shall be granted to any business firm for any amount contributed of less than two hundred fifty dollars.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 206. Applications and any other information received by the department under sections 202 through 205 of this act shall not be confidential and shall be subject to disclosure.

Subpart B - Tax Incentives for the Preservation of Affordable Housing

NEW SECTION. Sec. 207. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to the retail sale of building materials used in the remodeling, rehabilitation, or new construction of affordable housing or to the labor used to incorporate such building materials into real estate. As used in this section, "affordable housing" is as defined in section 102 of this act.

(2) In order to qualify for the exemption of retail sales tax on materials or labor under this section, the affordable housing must meet the following requirements:

(a) The affordable housing must be located in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under section 103 of this act;

(b) The affordable housing development must be owned by an organization eligible to receive assistance through the Washington housing trust fund created in chapter 43.185 RCW;

(c) The affordable housing development must contain two or more residential rental dwelling units. Rental units used on a transient basis shall not be considered under this section; and

(d) At least fifty percent of the dwelling units must be set aside for occupancy by households with incomes at or below eighty percent of the median income, adjusted for household size, for the county where the dwelling unit is located for a period of at least twenty-five years.

(3) The department of revenue, in consultation with the department of community development, shall adopt rules specifying the administrative procedures applicable to applicants for exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor, the form, manner, and time in which applications shall be filed, the information to be contained therein, and criteria for the approval or denial of requests for the exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor under this chapter. The rules shall apply to both the department of revenue and the department of community development.

(4) The department of revenue shall grant an exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor for affordable housing that is approved by the department of community development. The department of revenue shall keep a running total of exemptions granted under this section and section 208 of this act during each fiscal biennium. The department of revenue shall not allow any exemption that would cause the total tabulation for a biennium to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(5) This section shall expire January 1, 2002.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 208. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use of building materials used in the remodeling, rehabilitation, or new construction of affordable housing or to the labor used to incorporate such building materials into real estate. As used in this section, "affordable housing" is as defined in section 102 of this act.

(2) In order to qualify for the exemption granted by this section, the affordable housing must meet the following requirements:

(a) The affordable housing must be located in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under section 103 of this act;

(b) The affordable housing development must be owned by an organization eligible to receive assistance through the Washington housing trust fund created in chapter 43.185 RCW;

(c) The affordable housing development must contain two or more residential rental dwelling units. Rental units used on a transient basis shall not be considered under this section; and

(d) At least fifty percent of the dwelling units must be set aside for occupancy by households with incomes at or below eighty percent of the median income, adjusted for household size, for the county where the dwelling unit is located for a period of at least twenty-five years.

(3) The department of revenue, in consultation with the department of community development, shall adopt rules specifying the administrative procedures applicable to applicants for the tax exemption under this section, the form, manner, and time in which applications shall be filed, the information to be contained therein, and criteria for the approval or denial of requests for the tax exemption under this chapter. The rules shall apply to both the department of revenue and the department of community development.

(4) This section shall expire January 1, 2002.

Subpart C - Tax Incentives for Business Development and Retention

Sec. 209. RCW 82.62.010 and 1988 c 42 s 17 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Applicant" means a person applying for a tax credit under this chapter.

(2) "Department" means the department of revenue.

(3) "Eligible area" means: (a) A county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent; ~~((or))~~ (b) a metropolitan statistical area, as defined by the office of federal statistical policy and standards, United States department of commerce, in which the average level of unemployment for the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for such calendar year by twenty percent ~~((-- Applications under this subsection (3)(b) shall be filed by April 30, 1989))~~; or (c) a designated neighborhood reinvestment area approved under section 103 of this act.

(4)(a) "Eligible business project" means manufacturing or research and development activities which are conducted by an applicant in an eligible area at a specific facility: PROVIDED, That the applicant's average full-time qualified employment positions at the specific facility will be at least fifteen percent greater in the year for which the credit is being sought than the applicant's average full-time qualified employment positions at the same facility in the immediately preceding year.

(b) "Eligible business project" does not include any portion of a business project undertaken by a light and power business as defined in RCW 82.16.010(5) or that portion of a business project creating qualified full-time employment positions outside an eligible area or those recipients of a sales tax deferral under chapter 82.61 RCW.

(5) "Manufacturing" means all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different, or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use and shall include the production or fabrication of specially made or custom made articles. "Manufacturing" also includes computer programming, the production of computer software, and other computer-related services, and the activities performed by research and development laboratories and commercial testing laboratories.

(6) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(7) "Qualified employment position" means a permanent full-time employee employed in the eligible business project during the entire tax year.

(8) "Tax year" means the calendar year in which taxes are due.

(9) "Recipient" means a person receiving tax credits under this chapter.

(10) "Research and development" means the development, refinement, testing, marketing, and commercialization of a product, service, or process before commercial sales have begun. As used in this subsection, "commercial sales" excludes sales of prototypes or sales for market testing if the total gross receipts from such sales of the product, service, or process do not exceed one million dollars.

Sec. 210. RCW 82.62.040 and 1988 c 41 s 4 are each amended to read as follows:

RCW 82.62.020 and 82.62.030 shall expire (~~July 1, 1994~~) January 1, 2002.

Sec. 211. RCW 82.60.020 and 1988 c 42 s 16 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Applicant" means a person applying for a tax deferral under this chapter.

(2) "Department" means the department of revenue.

(3) "Eligible area" means: (a) A county in which the average level of unemployment for the three years before the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for those years by twenty percent; ~~((or))~~ (b) a metropolitan statistical area, as defined by the office of federal statistical policy and standards, United States department of commerce, in which the average level of unemployment for the calendar year immediately preceding the year in which an application is filed under this chapter exceeds the average state unemployment for such calendar year by twenty percent ~~((Applications under this subsection (3)(b) shall be filed by April 30, 1989))~~; or (c) a designated neighborhood reinvestment area approved under section 103 of this act.

(4)(a) "Eligible investment project" means that portion of an investment project which:

(i) Is directly utilized to create at least one new full-time qualified employment position for each three hundred thousand dollars of investment on which a deferral is requested; and

(ii) Either initiates a new operation, or expands or diversifies a current operation by expanding or renovating an existing building with costs in excess of twenty-five percent of the true and fair value of the plant complex prior to improvement; or

(iii) Acquires machinery and equipment to be used for either manufacturing or research and development if the machinery and equipment is housed in a new leased structure: PROVIDED, That the lessor/owner of the structure is not eligible for a deferral unless the underlying ownership of the buildings, machinery, and equipment vests exclusively in the same person.

(b) "Eligible investment project" does not include any portion of an investment project undertaken by a light and power business as defined in RCW 82.16.010(5) or investment projects which have already received deferrals under this chapter.

(5) "Investment project" means an investment in qualified buildings and qualified machinery and equipment, including labor and services rendered in the planning, installation, and construction of the project.

(6) "Manufacturing" means all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different, or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use and shall include the production or fabrication of specially made or custom made articles. "Manufacturing" also includes computer programming, the production of computer software, and other computer-related services, and the activities performed by research and development laboratories and commercial testing laboratories.

(7) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(8) "Qualified buildings" means new structures used for manufacturing and research and development activities, including plant offices and warehouses or other facilities for the storage of raw material or finished goods if such facilities are an essential or an integral part of a factory, mill, plant, or laboratory used for manufacturing or research and development. If a building is used partly for manufacturing or research and development and partly for other purposes, the applicable tax deferral shall be determined by apportionment of the costs of construction under rules adopted by the department.

(9) "Qualified employment position" means a permanent full-time employee employed in the eligible investment project during the entire tax year.

(10) "Qualified machinery and equipment" means all new industrial and research fixtures, equipment, and support facilities that are an integral and necessary part of a manufacturing or research and development operation. "Qualified machinery and equipment" includes: Computers; software; data processing equipment; laboratory equipment; manufacturing components such as belts, pulleys, shafts, and moving parts; molds, tools, and dies; operating structures; and all equipment used to control or operate the machinery.

(11) "Recipient" means a person receiving a tax deferral under this chapter.

(12) "Research and development" means the development, refinement, testing, marketing, and commercialization of a product, service, or process before commercial sales have begun. As used in this subsection, "commercial sales" excludes sales of prototypes or sales for market testing if the total gross receipts from such sales of the product, service, or process do not exceed one million dollars.

Sec. 212. RCW 82.60.050 and 1988 c 41 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:
RCW 82.60.030 and 82.60.040 shall expire (~~July 1, 1994~~) January 1, 2002.

Sec. 213. RCW 82.61.010 and 1988 c 41 s 1 are each amended to read as follows:

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout this chapter.

(1) "Applicant" means a person applying for a tax deferral under this chapter.

(2) "Person" has the meaning given in RCW 82.04.030.

(3) "Department" means the department of revenue.

(4) "Eligible investment project" means:

(a) Construction of new buildings and the acquisition of new related machinery and equipment when the buildings, machinery, and equipment are to be used for either manufacturing or research and development activities, which construction is commenced prior to December 31, (~~1994~~) 2001; or

(b) Acquisition prior to December 31, (~~1994~~) 2001, of new machinery and equipment to be used for either manufacturing or research and development if the machinery and equipment is housed in a new leased structure: PROVIDED, That the lessor/owner of the structure is not eligible for a deferral unless the underlying ownership of the buildings, machinery, and equipment vests exclusively in the same person; or

(c) Acquisition of all new or used machinery, equipment, or other personal property for use in the production or casting of aluminum at an aluminum smelter or at facilities related to an aluminum smelter, if the plant was in operation prior to 1975 and has ceased operations or is in imminent danger of ceasing operations for economic reasons, as determined by the department, and if the person applying for a deferral (i) has consulted with any collective bargaining unit that represented employees of the plant pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement that was in effect either immediately prior to the time the plant ceased operations or during the period when the plant was in imminent danger of ceasing operations, on the proposed operation of the plant and on the terms and conditions of employment for wage and salaried employees and (ii) has obtained a written concurrence from the bargaining unit on the decision to apply for a deferral under this chapter; or

(d) Modernization projects involving construction, acquisition, or upgrading of equipment or machinery, including services and labor, which are commenced after May 19, 1987, and are intended to increase the operating efficiency of existing plants which are either aluminum smelters or aluminum rolling mills or of facilities related to such plants, if the plant was in operation prior to 1975, and if the person applying for a deferral (i) has consulted with any collective bargaining unit that represents employees of the plant on the proposed operation of the plant and the terms and conditions of employment for wage and salaried employees and (ii) has obtained a written concurrence from the bargaining unit on the decision to apply for a deferral under this chapter.

(5) "Manufacturing" means all activities of a commercial or industrial nature wherein labor or skill is applied, by hand or machinery, to materials so that as a result thereof a new, different, or useful substance or article of tangible personal property is produced for sale or commercial or industrial use and includes the production or fabrication of specially made or custom-made articles.

(6) "Research and development" means the development, refinement, testing, marketing, and commercialization of a product, service, or process before commercial sales have begun.

(7) "Buildings" means only those new structures used for either manufacturing or research and development activities, including plant offices and warehouses or other facilities for the storage of raw materials or finished goods if such facilities are an essential or an integral part of a factory, mill, plant, or laboratory used for manufacturing or research and development purposes. If a building is used partly for manufacturing or research and development and partly for other purposes, the applicable tax deferral shall be determined by apportionment of the costs of construction under rules adopted by the department.

(8) "Machinery and equipment" means all industrial and research fixtures, equipment, and support facilities that are an integral and necessary part of a manufacturing or research and development operation. "Qualified machinery and equipment" includes computers; software; data processing equipment; laboratory equipment; manufacturing components such as belts, pulleys, shafts, and moving parts; molds, tools, and dies; operating structures; and all equipment used to control or operate the machinery. For purposes of this chapter, new machinery and equipment means either new to the taxing jurisdiction of the state or new to the certificate holder. Used machinery and equipment may be treated as new equipment and machinery if the certificate holder either brings the machinery and equipment into Washington or makes a retail purchase of the machinery and equipment in Washington or elsewhere.

(9) "Qualified employment position" means a permanent full-time employee employed in the eligible investment project during the entire tax year.

(10) "Recipient" means a person receiving a tax deferral under this chapter.

(11) "Certificate holder" means an applicant to whom a tax deferral certificate has been issued.

(12) "Operationally complete" means constructed or improved to the point of being functionally useable for the intended purpose.

(13) "Initiation of construction" means that date upon which on-site construction commences.

Sec. 214. RCW 82.61.040 and 1988 c 41 s 2 are each amended to read as follows:
RCW 82.61.020 and 82.61.030 shall expire ((July 1, 1994)) January 1, 2002.

Sec. 215. RCW 82.61.070 and 1988 c 41 s 3 are each amended to read as follows:

The department and the department of trade and economic development shall jointly report to the legislature about the effects of this chapter on new manufacturing and research and development activities in this state. The report shall contain information concerning the number of deferral certificates granted, the amount of sales tax deferred, the number of jobs created and other information useful in measuring such effects. Reports shall be submitted by January 1, 1986, and by January 1 of each year through ((1995)) 2003.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 216. A new section is added to chapter 82.08 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The tax levied by RCW 82.08.020 shall not apply to the retail sale of building materials used in the remodeling or expansion of a commercial or industrial structure or to the labor used to incorporate such building materials into real estate.

(2) In order to qualify for the exemption of retail sales tax on materials or labor under this section, the commercial or industrial structure must be located in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under section 103 of this act.

(3) The department of revenue, in consultation with the department of community development, shall adopt rules specifying the administrative procedures applicable to applicants for exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor, the form, manner, and time in which applications shall be filed, the information to be contained therein, and criteria for the approval or denial of requests for the exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor under this chapter. The rules shall apply to both the department of revenue and the department of community development.

(4) The department of revenue shall grant an exemption from retail sales tax on materials or labor for commercial or industrial structures that are approved by the department of community development. The department of revenue shall keep a running total of exemptions granted under this section and section 217 of this act during each fiscal biennium. The department of revenue shall not allow any exemption that would cause the total tabulation for a biennium to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars.

(5) This section shall expire January 1, 2002.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 217. A new section is added to chapter 82.12 RCW to read as follows:

(1) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply in respect to the use of building materials used in the remodeling or expansion of a commercial or industrial structure or to the labor used to incorporate such building materials into real estate.

(2) In order to qualify for the exemption granted by this section, the commercial or industrial structure must be located in a designated neighborhood reinvestment area under section 103 of this act.

(3) The department of revenue, in consultation with the department of community development, shall adopt rules specifying the administrative procedures applicable to applicants for the tax exemption under this section, the form, manner, and time in which applications shall be filed, the information to be contained therein, and criteria for the approval or denial of requests for the tax exemption under this chapter. The rules shall apply to both the department of revenue and the department of community development.

(4) This section shall expire January 1, 2002.

PART III -- COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT AND PRIVATE INVESTMENT Subpart A - Deposit of Surplus State Funds

NEW SECTION. Sec. 301. (1) No later than fifteen days after receipt of a written evaluation under the federal community reinvestment act (12 U.S.C. Sec. 2901 et seq.) each qualified public depository under the provisions of chapter 39.58 RCW shall submit to the Washington public deposit protection commission a copy of such written evaluation.

(2) Only those qualified public depositories assigned a rating of satisfactory or better shall be eligible to receive deposits under the provisions of chapter 43.86A RCW. Those qualified public depositories assigned a rating less than satisfactory shall be notified by the Washington public deposit protection commission that a failure to receive at least a rating of satisfactory, at the next written evaluation, will make the qualified public depository ineligible to receive deposits under chapter 43.86A RCW.

(3) Those qualified public depositories assigned less than satisfactory ratings for two consecutive evaluations shall be ineligible to receive deposits under the provisions of chapter 43.86A RCW, until the performance of the qualified public depository in meeting the community credit needs is determined to be at least satisfactory by the Washington public deposit protection commission.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 302. The Washington public deposit protection commission shall compile community reinvestment act ratings required under the federal community reinvestment act (12 U.S.C. Sec. 2901 et seq.). The Washington public deposit protection commission shall make this information available to the public.

Subpart B - Linked Deposit Program

NEW SECTION. Sec. 303. (1) The legislature finds that:

- (a) There are parts of communities throughout the state that are experiencing economic stagnation or decline;
 - (b) The unemployment and underemployment in these areas threaten the safety, health, and welfare of residents of these areas, decreasing the value of private investment and jeopardizing the sources of public revenue; and
 - (c) The revitalization of these areas requires the development of new business ventures and the stimulation of private investment.
- (2) The legislature declares that it is the intent of the linked deposit program to provide capital to promote community economic development and job creation in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas by authorizing the state treasurer to operate a program which links state deposits to business and residential loans by financial institutions.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 304. (1) The state treasurer shall establish a linked deposit program for investments in certificates of deposit in Washington financial institutions. As a condition of participating in the program, financial institutions must make qualifying loans as provided in section 305 of this act. Each certificate of deposit purchased by the state treasurer shall be equal to the amount of the qualifying loan made by the financial institution. The state treasurer is authorized to set interest rates on certificates and on qualifying loans consistent with the intent of sections 303 through 306 of this act and sound financial practices.

- (2) Qualifying loans under the linked deposit program are those which:
- (a) Are made in designated neighborhood reinvestment areas as defined in section 102 of this act;
 - (b)(i) Are made to a small business with a majority of employees in the state or (ii) are residential mortgage loans for single-family or multifamily housing that is affordable to low-income households as defined in RCW 43.185A.010; and
 - (c) Are consistent with other criteria set by the state treasurer.
- (3) In setting interest rates on certificates, the state treasurer shall offer rates so that a two percent preference in lending will be given to businesses engaged in manufacturing, export, providing services for sale outside the state, or residential mortgage lending.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 305. The state and those acting as its agents are not liable in any manner for payment of the principal or interest on qualifying loans under the linked deposit program. Any delay in payments or default on the part of the borrower does not in any manner affect the deposit agreement between the financial institution and the state treasurer.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 306. The state treasurer may use up to fifty million dollars per year of state funds for the linked deposit program.

PART IV -- EMPLOYMENT OF NEIGHBORHOOD RESIDENTS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 401. A business receiving assistance under chapter . . . , Laws of 1993 (this act) shall seek to employ as many of its employees as possible from the designated neighborhood reinvestment area the assistance is related to, with a minimum goal of at least thirty percent of the employees from the respective designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 402. The department shall require that local governments receiving financial assistance under chapter . . . , Laws of 1993 (this act) include a provision in their construction contracts for projects in neighborhood reinvestment areas, that require the contractor to increase outreach and recruitment efforts to employ as many of its employees as possible from the designated neighborhood reinvestment area the assistance is related to, with a minimum goal of thirty percent of the employees from the respective designated neighborhood reinvestment area.

PART V -- TECHNICAL PROVISIONS

NEW SECTION. Sec. 501. (1) Sections 1, 101 through 104, 401, and 402 of this act shall constitute a new chapter in Title 43 RCW.

(2) Sections 201 through 206 of this act are each added to chapter 82.04 RCW.

(3) Sections 301 and 302 of this act are each added to chapter 30.60 RCW.

(4) Sections 303 through 306 of this act are each added to chapter 43.84 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 502. If any provision of this act or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 503. Part and subpart headings as used in this act constitute no part of the law.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 504. This act may be known and cited as the "neighborhood reinvestment act."

There's No Such Thing As the End of The World

there's no such thing as the end of the world, there is no such thing as the end of the world,
there's no such thing as the end of the world,
there are intricate, delicate fine rhythms, souls... the smallest things, children all, growing things, souls making it through the universes, inevitable broken bicycles, sure yet mis-fired missiles, down payment for youth, priceless rhythms,
down playing truth,
intricate, yes, a different kind of small,
fine shaped tears,
from an onion of hope,
every possibility a rhythm, souls freshly grounded,
peppered into morning rhythms, understanding the smallest things, truly healing rhythm,

there's no such thing as the end of the world,
there's.. no such thing as the end of the world;

souls all, as long as souls, a solitary big fat dark cloud, no such thing.. hanging over a different blue head, after this america's real funk,

a ribbon of sunrise, smallest thing that's due,
over a homeless dread, no such thing, no such thing as the end of the end.. what a mother knows will and can be done before dusk, no such thing as what a father might know detailed in sidewalk cracks between jobs ..and no such thing as brief yet ritual campaign trailing sunlight more than sometimes hiding behind long robed clouds, so as long as souls, souls all loyal ducks across a dry breasted sky, precious rhythms,
drawn to like rhythm, the gigolo of gravity, all smallest things;
golden souls, smallest souls
trumpets blowing songs, humankind on one side of the awful wind, listening still a middle beating voice blessed will to begin, born morning's smallest naked heart, the finery of rhythm, a simplest first breath can start, souls all, souls all,
no such thing, but as long as souls all what is inside us all, the real milk,
raw sugar and rice, no such- as pious sacrifice, intricate earth,
Aubrey Jowcol, my son born first, no such.. delicate yet all power-ful waters, Darius Dolphy my son whose smile can quench a deepest thirst, no such thing as the finest jeweler's third eye, as sure as there's no such thing as the end of this earth;

no such thing as the sun the moon, essential smallest rhythm between a glistening seaweed and the tide, no such thing as the unspoken words of two old sisters, near dusk only they can behold,
one soil,
one root, 60 and 65, drinking something hot, a warm porch, unmoving rhythm, the silence between their all-seeing lips, a laughter, a knowing that unlike history, is alive because there's no such thing as the end of the world;

all souls as long as there are souls, human drums, energy, no such thing as lives who have to paint rotten peaches in oils- art!
who drive the trucks that deliver the foodstuff (& more) to the big grocery stores,
-stuff that wometimes dulls the body, spirit and mind,

yet rhythms
golden smallest rhythms of truer, earnest realists, choices when twisted race up against brother and sister, as what is what compared to the glory?
to be timelessly shared between elders, babies, youth, disabled, war-torn, persecuted souls without the beginning of anything... in a world without end between two old dusking men in front of a tv screen, both familiar with gunfire and hard labor, the Yankees against the Tigers, no such thing.. as the deeper yellow-eyed one, the color of young African tobacco, the color of drying rhythm, the small dimming intoxicating sun, not a breeze from a baseball game's retrieve, and no such thing as the smallest knobs on the tube, understanding horizon, vertical, brightness, focus, color, clarity, the sureness of limitations, as long as there are souls, defects and all.
no matter the pressure of the extra innings, the base-stealing night game fears, the ironic hip-hop melody of bombs bursting in air, there's -there is no such thing as quit, as closing down a child's dream factory's lair

we are behind what we do, summer evening lightning bugs, no such.. laughter when the new puppy peed on the kitchen floor, no such... Billie Holiday records, what fortunate sound I've been fortunate to implore, no such.. wonderful things before and in-between each dusk we could do, smallest things before there's any ever such thing as some end of a world, because there ain't..

there's no such thing as the end of the world, the thing the souls have promised all if to ourselves we try to be true, the weaving of a sweetest rhythm, because there's no such thing as the end of love, for is a heart, and from every beat a calling,

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout RCW 74.09.760 through 74.09.820 and 74.09.510:

(1) "At-risk eligible person" means an eligible person determined by the department to need special assistance in applying for and obtaining maternity care, including pregnant women who are substance abusers, pregnant and parenting adolescents, pregnant minority women, and other eligible persons who need special assistance in gaining access to the maternity care system.

(2) "County authority" means the board of county commissioners, county council, or county executive having the authority to participate in the maternity care access program or its designee. Two or more county authorities may enter into joint agreements to fulfill the requirements of this chapter.

(3) "Department" means the department of social and health services.

(4) "Eligible person" means a woman in need of maternity care or a child, who is eligible for medical assistance pursuant to this chapter or the prenatal care program administered by the department.

(5) "Maternity care services" means inpatient and outpatient medical care, case management, and support services necessary during prenatal, delivery, and postpartum periods.

(6) "Support services" means, at least, public health nursing assessment and follow-up, health and childbirth education, psychological assessment and counseling, outreach services, nutritional assessment and counseling, needed vitamin and nonprescriptive drugs, transportation, family planning services and child care. Support services may include alcohol and substance abuse treatment for pregnant women who are addicted or at risk of being addicted to alcohol or drugs to the extent funds are made available for that purpose.

(7) "Family planning services" means planning the number of one's children by use of contraceptive techniques.

Sec. 9. RCW 74.09.800 and 1989 1st ex.s. c 10 s 5 are each amended to read as follows:

The department shall, consistent with the state budget act, develop a maternity care access program designed to ensure healthy birth outcomes as follows:

(1) Provide maternity care services to low-income pregnant women and health care services to children in poverty to the maximum extent allowable under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act;

(2) Provide maternity care services to low-income women who are not eligible to receive such services under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act;

(3) By January 1, 1990, have the following procedures in place to improve access to maternity care services and eligibility determinations for pregnant women applying for maternity care services under the medical assistance program, Title XIX of the federal social security act:

(a) Use of a shortened and simplified application form;

(b) Outstationing department staff to make eligibility determinations;

(c) Establishing local plans at the county and regional level, coordinated by the department; and

(d) Conducting an interview for the purpose of determining medical assistance eligibility within five working days of the date of an application by a pregnant woman and making an eligibility determination within fifteen working days of the date of application by a pregnant woman;

(4) Establish a maternity care case management system that shall assist at-risk eligible persons with obtaining medical assistance benefits and receiving maternity care services, including transportation and child care services;

(5) Within available resources, establish appropriate reimbursement levels for maternity care providers;

(6) Implement a broad-based public education program that stresses the importance of obtaining maternity care early during pregnancy;

~~(7) ((Study the desirability and feasibility of implementing the presumptive eligibility provisions set forth in section 9407 of the federal omnibus budget reconciliation act of 1986 and report to the appropriate committees of the legislature by December 1, 1989; and~~

~~(8))~~ Refer persons eligible for maternity care services under the program established by this section to persons, agencies, or organizations with maternity care service practices that primarily emphasize healthy birth outcomes;

(8) Provide family planning services for twelve months immediately following a pregnancy to women who were eligible for medical assistance under the maternity care access program during that pregnancy or who were eligible only for emergency labor and delivery services during that pregnancy; and

(9) Within available resources, provide family planning services to women who meet the financial eligibility requirements for services under subsections (1) and (2) of this section."

FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY, MARCH 9, 1993

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NOTICE: Formatting and page numbering in this document may be different from that in the original published version.

FIFTY-NINTH DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Wednesday, March 10, 1993

The House was called to order at 9:30 a.m. by the Speaker (Representative R. Meyers presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Adam Elhardt and Taura Lemmon. Prayer was offered by Sandra Lee, Minister of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Olympia. Poetry was offered by Pauline Escudero.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

Two Stories

Bellingham thickets tilt up pocket his small heaven like the cupped paws of a burrowed mouse
Wooden stairs and wooden houses rise up
And the one voice he hears is not his own

And so it is of a sort
A girl with maple hair A boy with pearl heart
The burn on the hand
The man with his tongue out The slow dance of a slow death
Knuckles buckling on wood

But Outside Tacoma trees are deep velvet tipping down touching trunked ground
A bruised skin sky welcomes her back home Horizon to horizon, tipped by needled pines
A violet black morning rise spilled across with pink orange sage blue And over the hill breathing water, slaps beach sand away,
With such wonder she holds a voice in
With a muffled croak
"I am home"

The bed she made for his sleeptime with vines and hollows indented to his form
His leaf-flecked cradle His greentime dream
And he waits as if in stasis For the time of life to come For the hand open living
When no more the scald of metal abrupts the earth
And when a child stumbles upon him
They see still pools reflect But when a killer comes peeling green leaf back or policemen with their blue clinking

His body pulls into the rattler's spiral
His eyes open onto theirs And his lips part wide Opening
And down in the deep of the earth
They see a pearl heart rising
Pulsing a song strong and flying
But their souls cannot believe And they forget what they have seen And he and she go on waiting.

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.

There being no objection, the House advanced to the fourth order of business.

Quality Student Learning Environment

Sec. 201. RCW 28A.600.020 and 1990 c 33 s 497 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The rules adopted pursuant to RCW 28A.600.010 shall be interpreted to insure that the optimum learning atmosphere of the classroom is maintained, and that the highest consideration is given to the judgment of qualified certificated educators regarding conditions necessary to maintain the optimum learning atmosphere.

(2) Any student who creates a disruption of the educational process in violation of the building disciplinary standards while under a teacher's immediate supervision may be excluded by the teacher from his or her individual classroom and instructional or activity area for all or any portion of the balance of the school day or until the principal or designee and teacher have conferred, whichever occurs first(~~(= PROVIDED, That)~~). Except in emergency circumstances, the teacher shall have first attempted one or more alternative forms of corrective action (~~(= PROVIDED FURTHER, That)~~). In no event without the consent of the teacher shall an excluded student be returned during the balance of that class or activity period.

(3) Permanent expulsion may be imposed for consistent disobedience or disruptive behavior by a student that substantially interferes with the educational process or the ability of a teacher, principal, or superintendent to maintain discipline or provide a quality learning environment.

Consistent disobedience or disruptive behavior includes constantly walking or moving around, talking or making noise, or other such behaviors engaged in by a student without specific permission from the teacher, principal, or superintendent.

Before permanent expulsion, a parent or legal guardian of the student subject to permanent expulsion shall meet with the authorities considering permanent expulsion and shall be given the opportunity to sign a written understanding that the parent or legal guardian and the student will work with school officials in specific ways to eliminate the disruptive behavior, and that the student is on a probationary status and further disruptive behavior may result in permanent expulsion.

For violations of this section, a teacher may permanently expel a student from his or her individual classroom and instructional or activity area, a school principal may permanently expel a student from the school, and a district superintendent may permanently expel a student from the district.

(4) In order to preserve a beneficial learning environment for all students and to maintain good order and discipline in each classroom, every school district board of directors shall provide that written procedures are developed for administering discipline at each school within the district.

Such procedures shall be developed with the participation of parents and the community, and shall provide that the teacher, principal or superintendent or their designee, and other authorities designated by the board of directors, make every reasonable attempt to involve the parent or guardian and the student in the resolution of student discipline problems.

Such procedures shall provide that students may be excluded from their individual classes or activities for periods of time in excess of that provided in subsection (2) of this section, or permanently, if such students have repeatedly disrupted the learning of other students(~~(= PROVIDED, That)~~). The procedures ((are)) shall be consistent with the regulations of the state board of education and provide for early involvement of parents in attempts to improve the student's behavior(~~(= PROVIDED FURTHER, That) Pursuant to RCW 28A.400.110, the procedures shall assure that all staff work cooperatively toward consistent enforcement of proper student behavior throughout each school as well as within each classroom."~~

"NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. (1) The legislative budget committee shall conduct an examination of the department of veterans affairs, the Washington soldiers' home at Orting, and the Washington veterans' home at Retsil. The examination shall specifically address:

(a) The quality of patient care at the Washington soldiers' home and the Washington veterans' home to determine the quality of patient care and whether staffing ratios and funding are sufficient; and

(b) A determination as to whether funds in the revolving funds governed under RCW 72.36.120 and 72.36.130 are being expended for the benefit and welfare of the members of these homes, and whether any of these funds are being inappropriately transferred to administrative offices in Olympia.

(2) To ensure that there is no duplication of effort, prior to conducting the examination, the legislative budget committee shall confirm that these specific issues have not been fully addressed by recent federal or other audits. If these issues have been fully addressed by other audits, the legislative budget committee shall report on the findings of these audits. If these issues have not been fully addressed by other audits, the legislative budget committee shall conduct the examination described in subsection (1) of this section.

JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

NOTICE: Formatting and page numbering in this document may be different from that in the original published version.

SIXTIETH DAY

House Chamber, Olympia, Thursday, March 11, 1993

The House was called to order at 9:45 a.m. by the Speaker (Representative Holm presiding). The Clerk called the roll and a quorum was present.

The Speaker assumed the chair.

The flag was escorted to the rostrum by a Sergeant at Arms Color Guard, Pages Windy Gill and Collette Jacques. Prayer was offered by Reverend Kosho Yukawa of the Tacoma Buddhist Temple.

Poetry was offered by Judith Roach:

HOT BONES

This is for my son, Robin, whose chromosomes count too many and whose ears are stopped by the word profound, who speaks with his hands,
even in the delirium of a high fever, and who has images of hot bones in his poems, which he performs in the flourish of a fervid dance, accompanied by a tambourine he doesn't hear,
the swirling from inside his own strong internal rhythm, his eyes seeing a poetry of agile hands connected to body, to honest work
-stacking wood or sorting scrap metal-which is his passion, tied, as it is, to trust in the rightness of giving oneself wholly, to the task at hand.

THE FLOWERS

When you ask them what they do for a living
they do not mention photosynthesis but unfurl their slender petals spread them a little wider like a slow dance move throb a sweet surge of deep scent unsound the shadow of a sob

Reading of the Journal of the previous day was dispensed with and it was ordered to stand approved.
