APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE WORKPLAN

Behavioral Health System Capacity

The state operating budget, in coordination with the state capital budget, has included numerous efforts designed to increase the inpatient capacity of the behavioral health system. Examples include the Olympic Heritage Behavioral Health facility, additional forensic beds at the state hospitals, capacity at Maple Lane, and the University of Washington teaching hospital. Additionally, the operating budget has funded numerous efforts to divert clients from inpatient care by providing increased services.

The Committee will receive an update on inpatient capacity, by geographic area, as well as on efforts to serve clients in other appropriate care settings. (One work session)

Child Care Access and Availability

The Working Connections Child Care (WCCC) program, a program funded in the operating budget, helps eligible families pay for child care while they work, attend job training, or participate in educational programs. Eligibility is determined by household income, though some families may be categorically eligible for WCCC. The WCCC program pays a monthly subsidy payment directly to the child care provider based on child age, geographic location, and other factors. Eligible families also make a monthly copayment directly to the provider, based on household income.

The state operating budget has included numerous efforts designed to facilitate the access, affordability, and availability of child care. The Committee will receive an update on the availability of child care including how additional child care funding contained in the operating budget has impacted affordability and availability of services. (One work session)

2025 Session Budget Preview

The Committee will receive an update on the budget outlook after the September and November revenue forecasts and estimated maintenance level changes. The Committee will also receive a preview of budget related items that may come before the Legislature in the 2025 session. (One work session)

STATE GOVERNMENT & TRIBAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE WORKPLAN

Increasing Voter Turnout

The state has taken many steps to increase voter turnout over the past several sessions, but there are still barriers and accessibility issues that prevent some voting-age citizens from casting a ballot. The Committee will invite experts in elections and voting rights to discuss which recent election accessibility policies have led to increased turnout, as well as further steps that the Legislature can consider taking to further increase voter turnout in state and local elections. (One work session)

Campaign Finance Enforcement

The Committee will invite the Public Disclosure Commission to discuss the agency's processes for enforcing and providing guidance about campaign finance disclosure requirements. (One work session)

Special Purpose District Elections

The Committee will invite the Washington State Institute for Public Policy to discuss its June 2024 report about Conservation District elections and the election code in Title 29A RCW. The Committee will also invite experts in elections and voting rights to discuss steps that the Legislature can consider taking to improve special district elections for districts that do not hold elections under Title 29A RCW. (One work session)

TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE WORKPLAN

Transportation Safety

The Committee will receive an update on current and planned rules of the road enforcement efforts to address traffic safety by the Washington State Traffic Safety Commission and the Washington State Patrol. Areas of focus will include:

- the use of funding by the Traffic Safety Commission directed towards enforcement efforts at the state and local level;
- plans for the use of increased federal and state funding, such as new federal funding for enforcement efforts and new state funding for DUI enforcement grants and an ignition interlock compliance pilot;
- an overview of the impact of law enforcement staffing shortages on enforcement, the Washington State Patrol's use of performance goals in this area, and the role of emphasis patrols on enforcement activities; and
- the impact of state funding on traffic safety from the perspective of one or more local law enforcement entities.

(One work session)

Active Transportation Activities

The Committee will be updated on the implementation of new programs funded largely by Climate Commitment Act revenues to support active transportation at the local level. Updates will include information about outreach and technical assistance to communities that have not historically benefited from transportation investments. These programs include: a statewide school-based bicycle education program; the Sandy Williams Connecting Communities program to fund local projects which reconnect communities that have been bifurcated by state highways; a grant program to support local jurisdictions' network-wide traffic conflict screening programs in intersections with disproportionate numbers of injuries to active transportation users; an e-bike rebate program; assistance to local jurisdictions in addressing emergent issues related to safety for pedestrians and bicyclists; and support to develop a plan to establish cycle highways to connect population centers. (One work session)

Public Transportation: Update

The Committee will receive updates on the state of public transportation in Washington, including presentations from the Washington State Department of Transportation, local transit agencies, and transportation stakeholders. Topics covered may include current challenges and opportunities in operations, zero-emissions transition progress, and service levels and ridership. Updates will also be provided on the awarding and expenditures of Climate Commitment Act funds. (One work session)
