Canvass of the Returns of the General Election
Held on November 5, 2019 Canvass of the Returns of the General Election
Held on November 5, 2019 was not found

I, Kim Wyman, Secretary of State of the State of Washington, do hereby certify that according to the provisions of RCW 29A.60.250, I have canvassed the returns of the 2,035,401 votes cast in the November 5, 2019 General Election by the registered voters of the state for all statewide measures and those legislative and judicial offices whose jurisdiction encompasses more than one county, as received from the County Auditors. The votes cast for these measures and these candidates are as follows:

Referendum Measure No. 88

The legislature passed Initiative Measure No. 1000 concerning affirmative action and remedying discrimination, and voters have filed a sufficient referendum petition on this act. Initiative 1000 would allow the state to remedy discrimination for certain groups and to implement affirmative action, without the use of quotas or preferential treatment (as defined), in public education, employment, and contracting.

SPEAKER'S PRIVILEGE

Acting Speaker Lovick asked the members to join him in welcoming the newest members to the House, Representatives Duerr and Ramel.

ELECTION OF THE SPEAKER

MOTION

Representative Sullivan moved that Representative Laurie Jinkins be elected Speaker of the House.

Representative Sullivan: "Thank you Mr. Speaker. You know, it's an honor to stand today in support of the nomination of Laurie Jinkins for Speaker of the House of Representatives. I was trying to decide what to say about Laurie today and why everyone in this body should give their vote to her. I needed to do a little investigation; I have to admit, I don't know Laurie that well, so the first thing I did was go to her Wikipedia page and it was really boring, Mr. Speaker. I mean, don't get me wrong, there was lots of stuff about her academic achievements, there was stuff about her civic engagement which was plenty, but nothing like her strange sock addiction was listed on there so I figured I'd better dig a little deeper and what I found out is that Laurie grew up in a small town in Wisconsin with a population of about 500. She was very involved in 4H. She showed cows. She once gave a demonstration on how to make homemade butter and I'm sure she'd be happy to share that with anybody on the floor if you'd like more information. She graduated from the UW; unfortunately it's the wrong UW. It's that one in Madison, Wisconsin not the one here, Go Dawgs. I also learned, I already knew this, but I learned a little more about just how competitive that Laurie is. She was an All-American in shotput, hammer throw and in discus, and for three years, she was Northwest Women's caber tossing champion. That's that thing where you flip those big poles. When she mentioned a few years ago that she was interested in running for Speaker, I should have known that that competitive spirit would lead us to this day today. But you know, it takes more than just that competitive spirit, and when you look at Laurie's legislative history, it's incredible the work that she's done in moving this body forward in so many different areas. As we tried to catch up to other states and really serve our population on mental health, Laurie was right there on the front lines; not only dealing with the policy but also pushing our budget requests to make sure that we actually lived up to the commitment that we made to people around this state. As Chair of the Judiciary Committee for many years, you know that committee gets more bills than any other committee in the Legislature, and she was able to work effectively and efficiently in getting legislation out of that committee. They dealt with many controversial issues, and she was always fair; making sure that all sides were able to give their position on those bills. But, Mr. Speaker, the attribute that I care about the most, the thing that really struck me was her willingness and her ability to listen to people. Within days after she became Speaker Designate, you know I think a lot of people would just go back in that big office over in the corner and just sit behind the desk and wait for people to come and share their opinion or talk to her about their issue, but Laurie set out on the road. She started in Eastern Washington and visited with legislators across this state to not only get to know them better, to listen to their concerns and their questions and learn more about them, but to learn more about their district as well. The only thing that bothers me is Covington is 20 minutes away from Tacoma, you know, I'm still waiting. So hopefully that's going to happen really soon.

This is really an historic day Mr. Speaker. We haven't had a new Speaker in over 20 years. Laurie Jinkins will be the first woman elected Speaker in the history of the state of Washington. Representative Jinkins will be the first lesbian Speaker in the history of the state of Washington. Mr. Speaker, I know that that is very important and this is a day that we should celebrate and we need to take time to do just that. To celebrate Laurie Jenkins as Speaker of the House of Representatives. But the reason why I ask for your vote for her for Speaker is because I know that she will do an incredible job leading this institution for the next many years and I really enjoy, will enjoy the opportunity to work with her and I know that, and I feel that everyone in this chamber will have that opportunity because she will be there to listen. She will be there to work with us and make us successful and Mr. Speaker, I ask for your vote for Laurie Jenkins for Speaker of the House.”

Representative Sullivan moved that the nominations for the Office of Speaker of the House of Representatives be closed. The motion was carried.

Representative Sullivan moved that Representative Laurie Jenkins be elected Speaker of the House of Representatives. The motion was carried.

Representative Sullivan escorted Speaker Laurie Jenkins to the rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE

Justice Mary Fairhurst administered the Oath of Office to Speaker Jenkins.

Representative Lovick: “I want to take a moment to recognize that we are all witnessing history today. Another barrier falls as the first woman in Washington State will stand on this spot and hold this gavel as Speaker of the House. Madam Speaker, congratulations.”

SPEAKER’S REMARKS

“Thank you, Pat. Thank you, Kim, for your beautiful rendition of the national anthem. You always move me.

Connie, there is no other person in the world I hoped would give the blessing on this day. Thank you.

Justice Fairhurst, you hired both Laura and I to our first jobs. You married us. And I’m incredibly honored that this would be your last official act.

I want to thank the good member from the 44th for his uplifting words.

There is no other member of this body more able to call on our better angels as we struggle with tough policy issues.

And the good member is right. Barriers do not come down by themselves.

I stand here today on the shoulders of many who came before me. A legacy of hard-working, determined people who – to quote from the Broadway musical Hamilton - planted seeds in a garden they never got to see. To my friends Jan, Judie, Gloria, Bill and LaVonne, I know that you are here in spirit.

Many lawmakers in this chamber are honoring that history by wearing white as a tribute to the suffragettes who marched, organized and got arrested until it was possible for a woman to vote, run for office—or to become Speaker of the House.

This year is the 100th anniversary of women’s suffrage, a movement that - while pivotal to giving women opportunities in public and civic life - was not as inclusive as it should have been.

A century later, we are still dismantling barriers.

Many have asked me what it’s like to be the first woman and the first out lesbian Speaker of the House. Well, I’m about to find out.

Another barrier is broken, but it won’t be the last. Today represents another step toward inclusion, toward more seats at the table.

I want to take a moment to thank my own family for their love and support.

My wife, Laura, and our son Wulf, who teach me every day about everything from the finer details of employment law, to the struggles of college students, to how to be present and loving for friends and family.

My parents, Donna and Jack Jenkins, who flew out from rural Wisconsin and remain quite perplexed by a daughter who is this interested in politics.

My sisters, Julie and Karri. My sister-in-law, Tobey, niece Sasha and her new husband Dan. My sister-in-law Glenda and her husband Jim, my backpacking buddy.

I’m the oldest of five siblings and my sister Julie hit it on the head when I was elected to this position. She commented, “Congratulations, but you’ve always been the speaker of our house.”

I’m honored that my family, my friends and many of my mentors are here today as I move into the hardest, and most fulfilling, job I’ll ever have.

The most important people of my legislative career are also here: my current and former legislative assistants. Jessica, Lynda, Cinthia, and Ann, you have been such effective partners, and guided me wisely. Goodness knows I’ve needed it. Thank you.

I also want to thank the good member from the 2nd District, my counterpart from across the aisle.

We were elected in the same year—2011—and have already had a lot of opportunities to work together as colleagues. Both of us call Pierce County our home, and we both come from rural upbringings that shape our views of the world. JT, I appreciate your commitment to making Washington state a better place, and look forward to continuing our work together in these roles.

And I want to extend a warm welcome to the new members of this body.

Please join me in welcoming our colleagues from the 1st and 40th Districts – Rep. Duerr and Rep. Ramel. Please stand. Thank you for stepping up to take on this important work.

You may notice another new face on the House floor. One that most of us are used to seeing on this side of the rostrum. Frank, thank you for your decades of service and commitment to the people of Washington. Your leadership, spirit of cooperation and creativity has transformed this place and our state, and I feel lucky that you remain here.

Over the past few months, I’ve gotten to see a lot of this state. I made the goal - perhaps a tad ambitious - to visit each member in their district before session. It was worth every single minute and every single mile. I shared breakfast with the member from the 19th District in Aberdeen, and with the member from the 29th District in south Tacoma.

Both of their servers knew what to bring them without placing an order. I visited the Pataha Flour Mill with the good member from the 9th District and her faith community. The good member from the 15th District took me on a hike of the Selah Ridge, where we walked in the footsteps of Justice William O. Douglass. Quite an experience for two lawyers. Laura and I ate the best spaghetti dinner ever at the new home of the good member from the 29th District, in the middle of her remodel. I spent Veterans Day at the very wet Vancouver Veterans Day parade with the good member from the 18th District, and I visited with the good member from the 22nd as she was recovering from back surgery. I'm glad you're here and healthy, Representative Dolan. Visiting every district took me to 51 coffee shops and restaurants across Washington, but by far the best cup of coffee was the one I had with my wife just outside of Wauconda, made by the good member from the 7th District. Let me tell you, Starbucks has nothing on Joel Kretz. These visits made me optimistic about what we can accomplish together.

The title of my new role may be Speaker—but I see my primary job as listening, and I promise to listen to all of you, even when we disagree. We're going to have differences on policy. We'll express those differences right here in this chamber. Yet our passion comes from the same source: a deep, abiding commitment to make things better for the people of this state. That commitment has helped us do big things together.

We created a first-in-the-nation long-term care insurance program AND the nation's first public option health care plan. We provided free or reduced college tuition and apprenticeships to families earning up to 100 percent of the median family income. We moved forward on creating a first-in-the-nation behavioral health teaching hospital. We provided our military families and veterans access to college education, and support services to cope with PTSD and address suicide prevention. And in 2020, right now, paid family leave is in effect here in Washington! Every Washingtonian now has up to 12 weeks of paid leave to care for a new baby or an ailing family member. Thank you to the good members from the 38th and 14th Districts for bringing this to Washington. These policies will make a real difference for families in our state. That's why I ran for Speaker. My family is a living example of how the laws passed here have helped people. It's why my wife and I were able to legally marry in 2013, the year of our 25th anniversary. It's why we were able to have our son, who had a great public-school education in Tacoma, and now attends one of our state's incredible public universities. It's why we can afford to pay for his college education. And why as a lesbian, I can serve openly and proudly here in the Legislature.

Our work here is about helping ALL families. Those who are experiencing homelessness or injustices in our criminal justice system. Those who can't access health care due to geography or cost. Those grappling with opioid addiction or another substance use disorder. Those falling behind in an economy that isn't working for everyone.

There are emergencies all across this state, and one felt in every community I visited this year was housing and homelessness. I heard about it from the good member from the 39th in Sultan, and the good member from the 3rd in Spokane, and the good member from the 19th - who drove me through a homeless encampment in Aberdeen - and many others. We must focus our time in this 60-day session working to ensure greater stability for families and communities by getting people inside and out of the cold with a roof over their heads and somewhere to build a life. Washington has housing shortages across the board. There are not enough shelters for those facing homelessness, but there's also not enough transitional housing, permanent supportive housing, low income housing, affordable housing or housing for working families. Our approach must be comprehensive, creative and strategic.

Another issue that touches all of us is the lack of affordable child care, which hurts working families and businesses. Last year, the Association of Washington Business reported nearly 50 percent of Washington parents found it difficult to find and keep affordable child care. This not only hurts families but it's costing our businesses over 2 billion dollars a year. Over the holidays, my wife and I had two couples with one-year-old kids over for breakfast. It was troubling to hear them talk about how difficult it was to find child care, and how much it costs. Lynda and Yasmin - we're going to do things to help you, Shoshana, Rumi and your families this year.

We're also going to help our families, farms and businesses that are threatened by the effects of climate change. My brother Todd was going to be here to see my swearing in. He's in charge of the Bureau of Land Management Smokejumper station in Boise, Idaho. His team of specially trained wildland firefighters actually parachute into remote and rugged terrain. But Todd isn't here today because he's in Australia helping to fight the massive, catastrophic wildfires. He's one of my heroes. Australia is the latest striking example of our climate crisis. Our own Department of Natural Resources fought a record 1,850 wildfires in our state in 2018. We took a big step on climate last year by passing our 100 percent clean electricity bill, a first-in-nation energy efficiency standard for Washington's buildings, and a bill to advance green transportation in our state. Now we have to take more steps. I'm calling on you to be the leaders our state, our country, and our planet need to protect our future before it's too late.

I'm also hoping we can be leaders this year by bringing down the high cost of health care. My wife is a cancer survivor, and I've been a Type 1 diabetic since childhood. Thanks to the great health care we've been able to access here in Washington state, our family is healthy and I can afford the insulin that helps keep me alive. That's not the case for everyone. The good member from the 9th and I have spent a lot of time talking about her child's new diagnosis with diabetes, and the challenges their family has in finding insurance coverage for pediatric insulin. And, this spring, I was invited to speak at Camp Panther, a week-long day camp for kids who are Type 1 diabetics. After I finished speaking, a five-year-old girl raised her hand and asked if I could help make her insulin less expensive, because it was hard for her family to pay for it. No kid should have to worry about this. If there's one thing we should get done this year, it's ensuring that no one has to worry about affording lifesaving prescription drugs, like insulin. And there are other policies we can pass to protect our children, our families, and our communities. We can take further steps to reduce gun violence, invest in our K-12 education system, strengthen consumer protections, and safeguard data privacy.

In 60 days, in a supplemental budget year, it might not be possible to accomplish all of this. Sometimes success is measured in increments. In fact, in the Legislature this is often how we measure things. What's important is that we keep moving forward. And it's not always easy.

This session, we're going to be grappling with the effects of Initiative 976 on our transportation system. I'm not going to sugar coat it – the impacts of this initiative are devastating to transportation in our state, particularly for seniors, people with disabilities, and people with low-incomes—many of whom rely on our buses, ferries, trains and other public transportation. We will fight to protect our most vulnerable communities. I'm grateful to my seatmate, the good member from the 27th, who is working with the good member from the 2nd to do this. We'll work with our colleagues across the Rotunda and the Governor to keep Washington moving. It's going to be hard. But we will do this hard work together.

Since my election as Speaker-designate, the number one question I've gotten from folks outside the Legislature is, How do you deal with all that partisanship? I get why they ask the question – we're often confused with the other Washington. But I know from my travels around the state, and from meeting with all of you, that in THIS Washington, there's much that unites us.

I've had the privilege of working with so many of you, from both sides of the aisle, on great legislation. First as a new member, later as a committee chair, and now as Speaker of the House. This body is the most diverse it has ever been! And that is our strength. The poet and civil rights activist Audre Lorde said, "It is not our differences that divide us. It is our inability to recognize, accept, and celebrate those differences." Here in Washington, we celebrate those differences. That's why I am standing here today. It's why I'm so committed to equity and inclusion, to expanding justice and opportunity for everyone in our great state. It's why I'm confident the diversity of this body will bring even better solutions for the people of Washington.

Now is the time to plant seeds in gardens we may never see grow. This session, let's start planting those seeds. Together. Thank you."

Representative Wilcox: "Thank you Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, today represents a new era in the House. It's a solemn moment and we celebrate many of the same things that you celebrate. It's a little hard for me to remember that the last time all of us were in here, we were celebrating the end of an era, wearing fake mustaches. Ever since then I've been afraid that someday my great grandchildren would run across a picture of that and, no explanation for why we were doing it. Madam Speaker, we all appreciate the effort you've taken so far to visit so many people. The number of miles you put on were amazing and I've had a huge number of calls from people telling me how much they appreciated that and I'm sure that you've heard that too, but I want everyone else to understand that there is a lot of appreciation, and there always is, in this chamber. One thing that I don't appreciate is that you stole about half of my speech, so I'm making up some of this too. But it was a nice thing to see that in many ways we think the same things. I was going to point out how much we do have in common but I think instead, I will thank your parents – I'm so glad that you're here – these are clearly amazing people who gave you that solid rural upbringing that a lot of us have enjoyed too. And I don't think that anyone here would deny that people on both sides of this aisle, this sometimes divide, care a great deal about the institution. I imagine that as you stand up there you understand that you're a part of history now. In a way that very few people will ever enjoy and my guess is that at the same time, you're filled with a sense of reverence for this building, the people that built it, the people that fill it now and, even more importantly, the dreams of all of those people. We know that this building is full of good feelings, often it's also full of dispute, often, and, it's supposed to be like that. This is a place where you talk about conflict, and at it's best, it's a place where you help resolve conflict. And Madam Speaker, one of the things that I really appreciate that you recently said is you talked about how your job is to listen. And, Madam Speaker, we're the minority. That means that we don't get to win a lot of things. Our number one job is to speak and debate and we can help you do your job and you can help us do our job when you and all of your colleagues are the best possible listeners. We had some moments of serious conflict last session and it got very heated. Some might say that it got ugly. I learned quite a bit from that. In fact, I had a series of long conversations with one of the people that felt the greatest sense of conflict. And when I asked that person to explain, so that I could understand why they expressed themselves the way they did, the answer that I got was, because I need them to listen. Madam Speaker, sometimes it may seem like we are just up here pontificating because we're frustrated, and maybe sometimes I know that I feel that way too, so that's a possibility, but down deep, we, both sides, the 97, normally 98, people in this building feel a deep sense of responsibility to the 130,000 some-odd people that we represent. And, you know America, the state of Washington, it has never been a winner take all system. In fact, I think the reason that it has lasted so long is because people understand that it's not a winner take all system. One of the things that concerns me the most, and because it concerns the minority it should concern the majority as well, is that we're seeing incidents across the country where I think there has been the sense that elections matter so we're going to implement our whole agenda. We saw that in Oregon last year, and the process broke down at one point. I hope we never go through an experience like they had. There are many that think that that is going to happen in the state of Virginia, soon; let's not get there. The way that we avoid that, Madam Speaker, is for us, in the minority, to express ourselves without reservation but understanding that the process has value too. And that the rules matter. What we would like your side to do, Madam Speaker is understand that it is our job to speak. And these serious conflicts that we have sometimes come from frustration, but other times they come because we have the sense that either we're not being allowed to express the things that are important to us, and we may even feel like the rules are being unfairly used against us, or we get the sense that somehow we have to create more controversy because people are not listening to us. So let's both, let's both sides get better at that. In that vein, I'll share with you some of the things that we're going to be most concerned about this year. First of all, we believe the people that live in the state of Washington have a right to be safe. And many people feel like their ability to be safe has declined over time. Some of this involves homelessness and it used to be that we thought homelessness was a big city problem only, and you probably didn't see as much concern as there should have been across the whole spectrum but now, especially you as you've been in every single corner of the state in the last few months, know that, unfortunately, it's a problem that brings us all together; we see the tragedy of homelessness and all the other tragedies that surround it in the biggest cities, where we always thought it always was, and the smallest towns. And Madam Speaker, it's been fun going around doing the press circuit with you because we both get to show some of our cards, not all of them. But one of the things you said the other day that I appreciate more than can tell you is that it's not just about a roof over your head; it's all these other things. You and I came into the Legislature at exactly the same time. I remember being the only freshman in what we called "Ways and Means" then at a time of budget crisis, long long hearings, people in trouble and people needing the help of the state and not being able to get it. And what I took away from that I've never forgotten. As you probably know, I had kind of a sheltered life; we worked hard but we saw life on the farm, not life everywhere else and for the first time, I saw people who had somehow become disconnected from their family, their community, and their faith. And there are people that are perfectly functional when that happens but life is much harder when it is; and I interpret what you've said today and what you said the other day as one of our jobs is not just to figure out how to get a roof over people's heads but it's to reconnect them to their families and their communities and although we can't establish a faith for people, we can certainly make it easier for faith of all kinds to flourish and we would love to join you with that. We also want to join you in supporting our law enforcement community. It's hard to be a cop. It's hard to be any kind of law enforcement officer and we're absolutely right to have the highest possible standards for people that have that kind of responsibility, but at the same time, it's absolutely critical that we help people to do that hard job understand that we support them; that we appreciate them, and we understand that they've got faults. We want them to get better, but we know that we don't have a civil society unless they understand that they can do their jobs effectively and well. And when it comes to safety, we know that we've got a wildfire problem and we really want to solve that. Madam Speaker, you lined out a number of policies that we've worked on in the past and that we'll work on in the future. Probably we want to work on just about the same ones but at the same time, we don't want to break things and affordability is a broad term for something that I think the Legislature often breaks. Sometimes it's across the whole economy, sometimes it is in an individual sector and you mentioned childcare. One of my greatest regrets in the 9 years that I have been here is been the fact that through policy sometimes passed here, sometimes passed through the voters, we've really broken that system, and instead of having better availability and affordability childcare over the 9 years that you and I have been here, it's gotten worse; it's one of the most common complaints that people write to us about and it's a lot more than a complaint, too. It affects lives and families. And, Madam Speaker, when we create solutions, a lot of times we create excess cost and thank goodness we have a strong economy. Washington State has a uniquely strong economy – wages are going up, but at the same time we hear over and over and over from people that they can't afford the things that they used to. So, as we think about the great things that we've got to give them, let's think hard about, let's not break what we're trying to fix and let's not create a system where it's impossible to afford the thing that we're trying to fix as well. And when we get into housing, in particular Madam Speaker, lets try to deescalate the ideology. I thought that we had some tragedy last year when we did housing; there was a report that came out recently that said there was 250, there was a shortage of 255,000 housing units over the last 15 years. The private sector used to produce housing in abundant quantities. I know my parents built the house that I live in for almost nothing in today's terms and to reproduce that now is out of reach for many people, so let's not just try to provide public housing; let's try to fix the regulator and the tax and the cost system so that the private sector can do their part when it comes to housing. And lastly, Madam Speaker, we need to work on government accountability. There's two areas that I think are critical. First of all, I thought it was good to hear, after all, of the struggle that we've had that this body and all four corners have decided that the public does have a right to know; that we're gonna figure out how to work with the Public Records Act, just like every other level of government is doing and we've got a lot to learn and we're going to do that. The other reform issue that I really hope you'll work with us on is the idea of title only bills and I've heard you say that we don't really have that here and that's probably strictly true but Madam Speaker, we can address this ourselves by really trying hard to make sure that we're not surprising people. That the groups and the public that are affected by any bill really gets a chance to evaluate those things, come down here, do their citizen's duty, lobby themselves and help us make the very best possible decisions. Madam Speaker, these 60 days have great promise. We've had a huge transition in authority in this building. As you've noticed before, over the last 18 months, three of the four corners have changed leadership and oddly, it was all people that came in here together; that's something that means a lot to me. Let's go forward and really create an example that people can take joy in and have faith in. We're going to fight just as hard as we possibly can for the things that we believe in; nobody sent us here to give up. At the same, we're going to do it respectfully. Madam Speaker, I'm quite sure that you have all the capacity in the world to make sure that we get a chance to conduct that debate, to present our ideas, and that you and all of your caucus are going to listen carefully too. Thank you Madam Speaker."

Definitions

Rule 1. "Absent" means an unexcused failure to attend.

"Term" means the two-year term during which the members as a body may act.

"Session" means a constitutional gathering of the house in accordance with Article II § 12 of the state Constitution.

"Committee" means any standing, conference, joint, or select committee as so designated by rule or resolution.

"Fiscal committee" means the appropriations, capital budget, finance, and transportation committees.

"Bill" means bill, joint memorial, joint resolution, or concurrent resolution unless the context indicates otherwise.

Chief Clerk to Call to Order

Rule 2. It shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the previous term to call the house to order and to conduct the proceedings until a speaker is chosen.

Election of Officers

Rule 3. The house shall elect the following officers at the commencement of each term: Its presiding officer, who shall be styled speaker of the house; a speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker; a deputy speaker pro tempore, who shall serve in absence or in case of the inability of the speaker and speaker pro tempore; and a chief clerk of the house. Such officers shall hold office during all sessions until the convening of the succeeding term: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That any of these offices may be declared vacant by the vote of a constitutional majority of the house, the members voting viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. If any office is declared vacant, the house shall fill such vacant office as hereinafter provided. In all elections by the house a constitutional majority shall be required, the members shall vote viva voce and their votes shall be entered on the journal. (Art. II § 27)

Powers and Duties of the Speaker

Rule 4. The speaker shall have the following powers and duties:

(A) The speaker shall take the chair and call the house to order precisely at the hour appointed for meeting and if a quorum be present, shall cause the journal of the preceding day to be read and shall proceed with the order of business.

(B) The speaker shall preserve order and decorum, and in case of any disturbance or disorderly conduct within the chamber or legislative area, shall order the sergeant at arms to suppress the same and may order the sergeant at arms to remove any person creating any disturbance within the house chamber or legislative area.

(C) The speaker may speak to points of order in preference to other members, arising from the seat for that purpose, and shall decide all questions of order subject to an appeal to the house by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once without leave of the house.

(D) The speaker shall sign all bills in open session. (Art. II § 32)

(E) The speaker shall sign all writs, warrants, and subpoenas issued by order of the house, all of which shall be attested to by the chief clerk.

(F) The speaker shall have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution shall neither extend beyond adjournment nor authorize the representative so substituted to sign any documents requiring the signature of the speaker.

(G) The speaker, in open session, shall appoint committee chairs as selected by the majority party caucus, and shall appoint members to committees in the same ratio as the membership of the respective parties of the house, unless otherwise provided by law or house rules.

(H) The speaker shall serve as chair of the rules committee.

(I) The speaker shall have charge of and see that all officers, attaches, and clerks perform their respective duties.

(J) The speaker pro tempore shall exercise the duties, powers, and prerogatives of the speaker in the event of the speaker's death, illness, removal, or inability to act until the speaker's successor shall be elected.

Chief Clerk

Rule 5. The chief clerk shall perform the usual duties pertaining to the office, and shall hold office until a successor has been elected.

The chief clerk shall perform all administrative duties related to the public records obligations of members of the house.

The chief clerk shall employ, subject to the approval of the speaker, all other house employees; the hours of duty and assignments of all house employees shall be under the chief clerk's directions and instructions, and they may be dismissed by the chief clerk with the approval of the speaker. The speaker shall sign and the chief clerk shall countersign all payrolls and vouchers for all expenses of the house and appropriately transmit the same. In the event of the chief clerk's death, illness, removal, or inability to act, the speaker may appoint an acting chief clerk who shall exercise the duties and powers of the chief clerk until the chief clerk's successor shall be elected.

Duties of Employees

Rule 6. Employees of the house shall perform such duties as are assigned to them by the chief clerk. Under no circumstances shall the compensation of any employee be increased for past services. No house employee shall seek to influence the passage or rejection of proposed legislation.

Admission to the House

Rule 7. It shall be the general policy of the house to keep the chamber clear as follows:

(A) The sergeant at arms shall admit only the following individuals to the wings and adjacent areas of the house chamber for the period of time beginning one-half hour prior to convening and ending one-half hour following the adjournment of the house's daily session:

The governor or designees, or both;
Members of the senate;
State elected officials;
Officers and authorized employees of the legislature;
Former members of the house who are not advocating any pending or proposed legislation;
Representatives of the press;
Other persons with the consent of the speaker.

(B) Only members of the house, pages, sergeants at arms, and clerks are permitted on the floor while the house is in session.

(C) Lobbying in the house chamber or in any committee room or lounge room is prohibited when the house or committee is in session unless expressly permitted by the house or committee. Anyone violating this rule will forfeit his or her right to be admitted to the house chamber or any of its committee rooms.

Absentees and Courtesy

Rule 8. No member shall be absent from the service of the house without leave from the speaker. When the house is in session, only the speaker shall recognize visitors and former members.

Bills, Memorials and Resolutions - Introductions

Rule 9. Any member desiring to introduce a bill shall file the same with the chief clerk. Bills filed by 10:00 a.m. shall be introduced at the next daily session, in the order filed: PROVIDED, That if such introduction is within the last ten days of a regular session, it cannot be considered without a direct vote of two-thirds (2/3) of all the members elected to each house with such vote recorded and entered upon the journal. (Art. II § 36)

Any returning member or member-elect may prefile a bill with the chief clerk commencing the first Monday in December preceding any regular session or twenty (20) days before any special session. Prefiled bills shall be introduced on the first legislative day.

All bills shall be endorsed with a statement of the title and the name of the member or members introducing the same. The chief clerk shall attach to all bills a substantial cover bearing the title and sponsors and shall number each bill in the order filed. All bills shall be printed unless otherwise ordered by the house.

Any bill introduced at any session during the term shall be eligible for action at all subsequent sessions during the term.

No house bill may be introduced that is identical to any other pending house bill.

Reading of Bills

Rule 10. Every bill shall be read on three separate days: PROVIDED, That this rule may be temporarily suspended at any time by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present; and that on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

A bill may be returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment by a suspension of the rules: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, this rule may be suspended and a bill returned to second reading for the purpose of amendment by a majority vote.

(A) FIRST READING. The first reading of a bill shall be by title only, unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full.

After the first reading the bill shall be referred to an appropriate committee.

Upon being reported out of committee, all bills shall be referred to the rules committee, unless otherwise ordered by the house.

The rules committee may, by majority vote, refer any bill in its possession to a committee for further consideration. Such referral shall be reported to the house and entered in the journal under the fifth order of business.

(B) SECOND READING. Upon second reading, the bill number and short title and the last line of the bill shall be read unless a majority of the members present shall demand its reading in full. The bill shall be subject to amendment section by section. No amendment shall be considered by the house until it has been sent to the chief clerk's desk in writing, distributed to the desk of each member, and read by the clerk. All amendments adopted during second reading shall be securely fastened to the original bill. All amendments rejected by the house shall be passed to the minute clerk, and the journal shall show the disposition of such amendments.

When no further amendments shall be offered, the speaker shall declare the bill has passed its second reading.

(C) SUBSTITUTE BILLS. When a committee reports a substitute for an original bill with the recommendation that the substitute bill do pass, it shall be in order to read the substitute the first time and have the same printed. A motion for the substitution shall not be in order until the second reading of the original bill.

(D) THIRD READING. Only the last line of bills shall be read on third reading unless a majority of the members present demand a reading in full. No amendments to a bill shall be received on third reading but it may be referred or recommitted for the purpose of amendment.

(E) SUSPENSION CALENDAR. Bills may be placed on the second reading suspension calendar by the rules committee if at least two minority party members of the rules committee join in such motion. Bills on the second reading suspension calendar shall not be subject to amendment or substitution except as recommended in the committee report. When a bill is before the house on the suspension calendar, the question shall be to adopt the committee recommendations and advance the bill to third reading. If the question fails to receive a two-thirds vote of the members present, the bill shall be referred to the rules committee for second reading.

(F) HOUSE RESOLUTIONS. House resolutions shall be filed with the chief clerk who shall transmit them to the rules committee. If a rules committee meeting is not scheduled to occur prior to a time necessitated by the purpose of a house resolution, the majority leader and minority leader by agreement may waive transmission to the rules committee to permit consideration of the resolution by the house. The rules committee may adopt house resolutions by a sixty percent majority vote of its entire membership or may, by a majority vote of its members, place them on the motions calendar for consideration by the house. House resolutions are not subject to debate, except for resolutions necessary for the operation of the house, and resolutions commemorating Children's Day, Day of Remembrance, Martin Luther King Jr. Day, National Guard Day, and President's Day.

(G) CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS. Reading of concurrent resolutions may be advanced by majority vote.

Amendments

Rule 11. The right of any member to offer amendments to proposed legislation shall not be limited except as provided in Rule 10(E) and as follows:

(A) AMENDMENTS TO BE OFFERED IN PROPER FORM. The chief clerk shall establish the proper form for amendments and all amendments offered shall bear the name of the member who offers the same, as well as the number and section of the bill to be amended.

(B) COMMITTEE AMENDMENTS. When a bill is before the house on second reading, amendments adopted by committees and recommended to the house shall be acted upon by the house before any amendments that may be offered from the floor.

(C) SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILLS. A house bill, passed by the senate with amendment or amendments which shall change the scope and object of the bill, upon being received in the house, shall be referred to the appropriate committee and shall take the same course as for original bills unless a motion not to concur is adopted prior to the bill being referred to committee.

(D) AMENDMENTS TO BE GERMANE. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment; and no bill or resolution shall at any time be amended by annexing thereto or incorporating therein any other bill or resolution pending before the house.

(E) SCOPE AND OBJECT NOT TO BE CHANGED. No amendment to any bill shall be allowed which shall change the scope and object of the bill. This objection may be raised at any time an amendment is under consideration. The speaker may allow the person raising the objection and the mover of the amendment to provide brief arguments as to the merits of the objection. (Art. II § 38)

(F) NO AMENDMENT BY REFERENCE. No act shall ever be revised or amended without being set forth at full length. (Art. II § 37)

(G) TITLE AMENDMENTS. The subject matter portion of a bill title shall not be amended in committee or on second reading. Changes to that part of the title after the subject matter statement shall either be presented with the text amendment or be incorporated by the chief clerk in the engrossing process.

Final Passage

Rule 12. Rules relating to bills on final passage are as follows:

(A) BUDGET BILLS. No final passage vote may be taken on an operating budget, transportation budget, or capital budget bill until twenty-four (24) hours after the bill is placed on the third reading calendar. The twenty-four (24) hour requirement does not apply to conference reports, which are governed by Joint Rule 20, or to bills placed on the third reading calendar by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present.

(B) RECOMMITMENT BEFORE FINAL PASSAGE. A bill may be recommitted at any time before its final passage.

(C) FINAL PASSAGE. No bill shall become a law unless on its final passage the vote be taken by yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against the same be entered on the journal of each house, and a majority of the members elected to each house be recorded thereon as voting in its favor. (Art. II § 22)

(D) BILLS PASSED - CERTIFICATION. When a bill passes, it shall be certified to by the chief clerk, said certification to show the date of its passage together with the vote thereon.

Hour of Meeting, Roll Call and Quorum

Rule 13. (A) HOUR OF MEETING. The speaker shall call the house to order each day of sitting at 10:00 A.M., unless the house shall have adjourned to some other hour.

(B) ROLL CALL AND QUORUM. Before proceeding with business, the roll of the members shall be called and the names of those absent or excused shall be entered on the journal. A majority of all the members elected must be present to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, seven members with the speaker, or eight members in the speaker's absence, having chosen a speaker pro tempore, shall be authorized to demand a call of the house and may compel the attendance of absent members in the manner provided in Rule 21(B). For the purpose of determining if a quorum be present, the speaker shall count all members present, whether voting or not. (Art. II § 8)

(C) The house shall adjourn not later than 10:00 P.M. of each working day. This rule may be suspended by a majority vote.

Daily Calendar and Order of Business

Rule 14. The rules relating to the daily calendar and order of business are as follows:

(A) DAILY CALENDAR. Business of the house shall be disposed of in the following order:

First: Roll call, presentation of colors, prayer, and approval of the journal of the preceding day.

Second: Introduction of visiting dignitaries.

Third: Messages from the senate, governor, and other state officials.

Fourth: Introduction and first reading of bills, memorials, joint resolutions, and concurrent resolutions.

Fifth: Committee reports.

Sixth: Second reading of bills.

Seventh: Third reading of bills.

Eighth: Floor resolutions and motions.

Ninth: Presentation of petitions, memorials, and remonstrances addressed to the Legislature.

Tenth: Introduction of visitors and other business to be considered.

Eleventh: Announcements.

(B) UNFINISHED BUSINESS. The unfinished business at which the house was engaged preceding adjournment shall not be taken up until reached in regular order, unless the previous question on such unfinished business has been ordered prior to said adjournment.

(C) EXCEPTIONS. Exceptions to the order of business are as follows:

(1) The order of business may be changed by a majority vote of those present.

(2) By motion under the eighth order of business, a bill in the rules committee may be placed on the calendar by the affirmative vote of a majority of all members of the house.

(3) House resolutions and messages from the senate, governor, or other state officials may be read at any time.

Motions

Rule 15. Rules relating to motions are as follows:

(A) MOTIONS TO BE ENTERTAINED OR DEBATED. No motion shall be entertained or debated until announced by the speaker and every motion shall be deemed to have been seconded. A motion shall be reduced to writing and read by the clerk, if desired by the speaker or any member, before it shall be debated and by the consent of the house may be withdrawn before amendment or action.

(B) MOTIONS IN ORDER DURING DEBATE. When a motion has been made and seconded and stated by the chair, the following motions are in order, in the rank named:

(1) Privileged motions:

Adjourn

Adjourn to a time certain

Recess to a time certain

Reconsider

Demand for division

Question of privilege

Orders of the day

(2) Subsidiary motions:

First rank: Question of consideration

Second rank: To lay on the table

Third rank: For the previous question

Fourth rank: To postpone to a day certain

To commit or recommit

To postpone indefinitely

Fifth rank: To amend

(3) Incidental motions:

Points of order and appeal

Method of consideration

Suspension of the rules

Reading papers

Withdraw a motion

Division of a question

(C) THE EFFECT OF POSTPONEMENT - MOTIONS TO POSTPONE OR COMMIT. Once decided, no motion to postpone to a day certain, to commit, or to postpone indefinitely shall again be allowed on the same day and at the same stage of the proceedings. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not again be introduced during the session. The motion to postpone indefinitely may be made at any stage of the bill except when on first reading.

(D) MOTIONS DECIDED WITHOUT DEBATE. A motion to adjourn, to recess, to lay on the table and to call for the previous question shall be decided without debate.

All incidental motions shall be decided without debate, except that members may speak to points of order and appeal as provided in Rule 22.

Motions to adopt house resolutions shall be decided without debate, except as provided in Rule 10(F).

A motion for suspension of the rules shall not be debatable except that the mover of the motion may briefly explain the purpose of the motion and one member may briefly state the opposition to the motion.

(E) MOTION TO ADJOURN. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order, except when the house is voting or is working under the call of the house; but this rule shall not authorize any member to move for adjournment when another member has the floor.

Rule 16. The methods by which a member may exercise his or her right to debate are as follows:

(A) RECOGNITION OF MEMBER. When any member desires to speak in debate or deliver any matter to the house, the member shall rise and respectfully address the speaker and pause until recognized.

(B) ORDER OF SPEAKING. When two or more members arise at once, the speaker shall name the one who is to speak.

(C) LIMITATION OF DEBATE. No member shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without consent of the house: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day any bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, no member shall speak more than three (3) minutes without the consent of the house. No member shall speak more than twice on the same question without leave of the house: PROVIDED, That the chair of the committee or the mover of the question may close debate if it is consistent with Rule 18 (Previous Question).

Rules of Debate

Rule 17. The rules for debate in the house are as follows:

(A) QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE. Any member may rise to a question of privilege and explain a personal matter, by leave of the speaker, but the member shall not discuss any pending question in such explanations.

(B) WITHDRAWAL OF MOTION, BILL, ETC. After a motion is stated by the speaker or a bill, memorial, resolution, petition, or remonstrance is read by the clerk, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the house, but may be withdrawn by consent of the house at any time before decision or amendment.

(C) READING OF A PAPER. When the reading of any paper is called for and is objected to by any member, it shall be determined by a vote of the house.

(D) DISTRIBUTION OF MATERIALS. Any materials of any nature distributed to the members' desks on the floor shall be subject to approval by the speaker and shall bear the name of at least one member granting permission for the distribution. This shall not apply to materials normally distributed by the chief clerk.

(E) ORDER OF QUESTIONS. All questions, whether in committee or in the house, shall be propounded in the order in which they are named except that in filling blanks, the largest sum and the longest time shall be put first.

(F) DIVISION OF POINTS OF DEBATE. Any member may call for a division of a question which shall be divided if it embraces subjects so distinct that one being taken away a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the house; but a motion to strike out and to insert shall not be divided. The rejection of a motion to strike out and to insert one proposition shall not prevent a motion to strike out and to insert a different proposition.

(G) DECORUM OF MEMBERS. While the speaker is putting the question, no member shall walk across or out of the house; nor when a member is speaking shall any member entertain private discourse or pass between the speaking member and the rostrum.

(H) REMARKS CONFINED. A member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate and avoid personalities. No member shall impugn the motive of any member's vote or argument.

(I) EXCEPTION TO WORDS SPOKEN IN DEBATE. If any member be called to order for words spoken in debate, the person calling the member to order shall repeat the words excepted to and they shall be taken down in writing at the clerk's table. No member shall be held in answer or be subject to the censure of the house for words spoken in debate if any other member has spoken before exception to them shall have been taken.

(J) TRANSGRESSION OF RULES - APPEAL. If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the house the speaker shall, or any member may, call the member to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down unless permitted to explain; and the house shall, if appealed to, decide the case without debate; if there be no appeal, the decision of the chair shall prevail.

If the decision be in favor of the member called to order, the member shall be at liberty to proceed; if otherwise, and the case shall require it, the member shall be liable to the censure of the house.

Ending of Debate - Previous Question

Rule 18. The previous question may be ordered by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present on all recognized motions or amendments which are debatable.

The previous question is not debatable and cannot be amended.

The previous question shall be put in this form: "Representative _____ demands the previous question. As many as are in favor of ordering the previous question will say 'Aye'; as many as are opposed will say 'No'."

The results of the motion are as follows: If determined in the negative, the consideration goes on as if the motion had never been made; if decided in the affirmative it shall have the effect of cutting off all debate and bringing the house to a direct vote upon the motion or amendment on which it has been ordered: PROVIDED HOWEVER, That when a bill is on final passage or when the motion to postpone indefinitely is pending, one of the sponsors of the bill or the chair of the committee may have the privilege of closing debate after the previous question has been ordered.

If an adjournment is had after the previous question is ordered, the motion or proposition on which the previous question was ordered shall be put to the house immediately following the approval of the journal on the next working day, thus making the main question privileged over all other business, whether new or unfinished.

Voting

Rule 19. (A) PUTTING OF QUESTION. The speaker shall put the question in the following form: "The question before the house is (state the question). As many as are in favor say 'Aye'; and after the affirmative vote is expressed, "as many as are opposed say 'No'."

(B) ALL MEMBERS TO VOTE. Every member who was in the house when the question was put shall vote unless, for special reasons, excused by the house.

All motions to excuse a member shall be made before the house divides or before the call for yeas and nays is commenced; and any member requesting to be excused from voting may make a brief and verbal statement of the reasons for making such request, and the question shall then be taken without further debate.

Upon a division and count of the house on the question, only members at their desks within the bar of the house shall be counted.

(C) CHANGE OF VOTE. When the electric roll call machine is used, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the speaker has locked the roll call machine. When an oral roll call is taken, no member shall be allowed to vote or change a vote after the result has been announced.

(D) PRIVATE INTEREST. No member shall vote on any question which affects that member privately and particularly. A member who has a private interest in any bill or measure proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon. (Art. II § 30)

(E) INTERRUPTION OF ROLL CALL. Once begun, the roll call may not be interrupted. No member or other person shall visit or remain at the clerk's desk while the yeas and nays are being called.

(F) YEAS AND NAYS - RECORDED VOTES. Upon the final passage of any bill, the vote shall be taken by yeas and nays and shall be recorded by the electric voting system: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That an oral roll call shall be ordered when demanded by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. (Art. II § 21)

The speaker may vote last when the yeas and nays are called.

When the vote is by electric voting machine or by oral roll call on any question, it shall be entered upon the journal of the house. A recorded vote may be compelled by one-sixth (1/6) of the members present. A request for a recorded vote must be made before the vote is commenced.

(G) TIE VOTE, QUESTION LOSES. In case of an equal division, the question shall be lost.

(H) DIVISION. If the speaker is in doubt, or if division is called for by any member, the house shall divide.

(I) STATEMENT FOR JOURNAL. A member whose recorded vote does not accurately reflect his or her intent may submit a written statement for the journal clarifying their intent to vote aye or nay. The statement must be submitted to the chief clerk on the same day the vote is taken. A member who is excused for one or more days of recorded votes may submit a written statement for the journal explaining the reason for his or her absence. The statement may not exceed fifty words and must be submitted to the chief clerk on the same day the member returns.

Reconsideration

Rule 20. Notice of a motion for reconsideration on the final passage of bills shall be made on the day the vote to be reconsidered was taken and before the house has voted to transmit the bill to the senate.

Reconsideration of the votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the next working day after such vote was taken: PROVIDED, That on and after the fifth day prior to the day of adjournment sine die of any session, as determined pursuant to Article II, Section 12 of the state Constitution, or concurrent resolution, or on and after the third day prior to the day a bill must be reported from the house as established by concurrent resolution, then reconsideration of votes on the final passage of bills must be taken on the same day as the original vote was taken.

A motion to reconsider an amendment may be made at any time the bill remains on second reading.

Any member who voted on the prevailing side may move for reconsideration or give notice thereof.

A motion to reconsider can be decided only once when decided in the negative.

When a motion to reconsider has been carried, its effect shall be to place the original question before the house in the exact position it occupied before it was voted upon.

Call of the House

Rule 21. One-sixth (1/6) of the members present may demand a call of the house at any time before the house has divided or the voting has commenced by yeas and nays.

(A) DOORS TO BE CLOSED. When call of the house has been ordered, the sergeant at arms shall close and lock the doors, and no member shall be allowed to leave the chamber: PROVIDED, That the rules committee shall be allowed to meet, upon request of the speaker, while the house stands at ease: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That the speaker may permit members to use such portions of the fourth floor as may be properly secured.

(B) SERGEANT AT ARMS TO BRING IN THE ABSENTEES. The clerk shall immediately call a roll of the members and note the absentees, whose names shall be read and entered upon the journal in such manner as to show who are excused and who are absent without leave.

The clerk shall furnish the sergeant at arms with a list of those who are absent without leave, and the sergeant at arms shall proceed to bring in such absentees; but arrests of members for absence shall not be made unless ordered by a majority of the members present.

(C) HOUSE UNDER CALL. While the house is under a call, no business shall be transacted except to receive and act on the report of the sergeant at arms; and no other motion shall be in order except a motion to proceed with business under the call of the house, a motion to excuse absentees, or a motion to dispense with the call of the house. The motion to proceed with business under the call of the house and the motion to excuse absent members shall not be adopted unless a majority of the members elected vote in favor thereof. The motion to dispense with the call of the house may be adopted by a majority of the members present.

Appeal from Decision of Chair

Rule 22. The decision of the chair may be appealed from by any member, on which appeal no member shall speak more than once unless by leave of the house. In all cases of appeal, the question shall be: "Shall the decision of the chair stand as the judgment of the house?"

Standing Committees

Rule 23. The standing committees of the house and the number of members that shall serve on each committee shall be as follows:

1. Appropriations	33
2. Capital Budget	((23)) 25
3. Civil Rights & Judiciary	15
4. College & Workforce Development	17
5. Commerce & Gaming.....	11

Committee members shall be selected by each party's caucus. The majority party caucus shall select all committee chairs.

Duties of Committees

Rule 24. House committees shall operate as follows:

(A) NOTICE OF COMMITTEE MEETING. The chief clerk shall make public the time, place and subjects to be discussed at committee meetings. All public hearings held by committees shall be scheduled at least five (5) days in advance and shall be given adequate publicity: PROVIDED, That when less than eight (8) days remain for action on a bill, the Speaker may authorize a reduction of the five-day notice period when required by the circumstances, including but not limited to the time remaining for action on the bill, the nature of the subject, and the number of prior hearings on the subject.

(B) COMMITTEE QUORUM. A majority of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

(C) SESSION MEETINGS. No committee shall sit while the house is in session without special leave of the speaker.

(D) DUTIES OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

(1) Only such bills as are included on the written notice of a committee meeting may be considered at that meeting except upon the vote of a majority of the entire membership of the committee to consider another bill.

(2) A majority recommendation of a committee must be signed by a majority of the entire membership of the committee in a regularly called meeting before a bill, memorial, or resolution may be reported out: PROVIDED, That by motion under the eighth order of business, a majority of the members elected to the house may relieve a committee of a bill and place it on the second reading calendar.

Majority recommendations of a committee can only be "do pass," "do pass as amended," or that "the substitute bill be substituted therefor and that the substitute bill do pass."

(3) Members of the committee not concurring in the majority report may prepare a written minority report containing a recommendation of "do not pass" or "without recommendation," which shall be signed by those members of the committee subscribing thereto, and submitted with the majority report.

(4) All committee reports shall be spread upon the journal. The journal of the house shall contain an exact copy of all committee reports, together with the names of the members signing such reports.

(5) Every vote to report a bill out of committee shall be taken by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, as well as the names of members absent, shall be recorded on the committee report. Any member may call for a recorded vote, which shall include the names of absent members, on any substantive question before the committee. A copy of all recorded committee votes shall be kept by the chief clerk and shall be available for public inspection.

(6) All bills having a direct appropriation shall be referred to the appropriate fiscal committee before their final passage.

(7) No standing committee shall vote by secret written ballot on any issue.

(8) During its consideration of or vote on any bill, resolution, or memorial, the deliberations of any standing committee of the house of representatives shall be open to the public.

(9) A standing committee to which a bill was originally referred shall, prior to voting the bill out of committee, consider whether the bill authorizes rule-making powers or requires the exercise of rule-making powers and, if so, consider:

(a) The nature of the new rule-making powers; and

(b) To which agencies the new rule-making powers would be delegated and which agencies, if any, may have related rule-making powers.

(10) Standing committee subcommittees established in Rule 23 have the same powers and duties as standing committees.

(11) Insofar as practicable, testimony in public hearings should be balanced between those in support of and in opposition to proposed legislation, with consideration given to providing an opportunity for members of the public to testify within available time.

Standing Committees - Expenses - Subpoena Power

Rule 25. Regardless of whether the legislature is in session, members of the house may receive from moneys appropriated for the legislature, reimbursement for necessary travel expenses, and payments in lieu of subsistence and lodging for conducting official business of the house.

The standing committees of the house may have the powers of subpoena, the power to administer oaths, and the power to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses in accordance with the provisions of chapter 44.16 RCW. Before a standing committee of the house may issue any process, the committee chairperson shall submit for approval of the executive rules committee a statement of purpose setting forth the name or names of those subject to process. The process shall not be issued prior to approval by the executive rules committee. The process shall be limited to the named individuals.

Vetoed Bills

Rule 26. Veto messages of the governor shall be read in the house and entered upon the journal. It shall then be in order to proceed to reconsider the bill, refer it, lay it on the table, or postpone its consideration to a day certain.

The merits of the bill may be debated before the vote is taken, but the vote on a vetoed bill cannot be reconsidered.

In case of a bill containing several sections or items, one or more of which has been objected to by the governor, each section or item so objected to shall be voted upon separately by the house. Action by the house upon all vetoed bills shall be endorsed upon the bill and certified by the speaker.

Vetoed bills originating in the house, which have not been passed notwithstanding the veto of the governor, shall remain in the custody of the officers of the house until the close of the term, after which they shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Suspension of Compensation

Rule 27. (1) Any member of the house of representatives convicted and sentenced for any felony punishable by death or by imprisonment in a Washington state penal institution shall, as of the time of sentencing, be denied the legislative salary for future service and be denied per diem, compensation for expenses, office space facilities, and assistance. Any member convicted of a felony and sentenced therefor under any federal law or the law of any other state shall, as of the time of sentencing, be similarly denied such salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance if either (a) such crime would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution, or (b) the conduct resulting in the conviction and sentencing would also constitute a crime punishable under the laws of Washington by death or by imprisonment in a state penal institution.

(2) At any time, the house may vote by a constitutional majority to restore the salary, per diem, expenses, facilities, and assistance denied a member under subsection (1). If the conviction of a member is reversed, then the salary, per diem, and expense amounts denied the member since sentencing shall be forthwith paid, and the member shall thereafter have the rights and privileges of other members.

Smoking

Rule 28. Smoking of cigarettes, pipes, or cigars shall not be permitted at any public meeting of any committee of the house of representatives or within House facilities.

"No smoking" signs shall be posted so as to give notice of this rule.

Liquor

Rule 29. The House of Representatives shall strictly adhere to the liquor laws of the state of Washington, including provisions relating to banquet and special occasion permits. The proper permits must always be obtained before consumption of liquor in any house facility.

Parliamentary Rules

Rule 30. The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Reed's Parliamentary Rules shall govern all cases in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the house.

Standing Rules Amendment

Rule 31. Any standing rule may be rescinded or changed by a majority vote of the members elected: PROVIDED, That the proposed change or changes be submitted at least one day in advance in writing to the members together with notice of the consideration thereof. Any standing rule may be suspended temporarily by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present except as provided in Rule 10.

Rules to Apply for Assembly

Rule 32. The permanent house rules adopted at the beginning of the term are to govern all acts of the house during the course of the term unless amended or repealed.

Legislative Publications

Rule 33. The House of Representatives directs the house executive rules committee to adopt procedures and guidelines to ensure that all legislative publications at public expense are for legitimate legislative purposes.
