Introduction

This Legislative Handbook of the Sixty First Legislature for the 2010 session contains pictures and biographical material on state elected officials and members of the Senate and House of Representatives. Additionally, there are sections of the handbook on Americans with Disabilities Act, how a bill becomes law, parking and tour information, and a campus map.

This handbook is prepared by the Senate and the House of Representatives to assist those interested in becoming better acquainted with their statewide elected officials, legislators and the legislative process in our state.

State Elected Officials

CHRIS GREGOIRE
Governor

As Washington's 22nd Governor, Chris Gregoire continues a lifetime of service delivering real results to the people of Washington. She previously served as the Director of Ecology and was Washington's first woman Attorney General. Combining effective leadership with a tireless work ethic, she has shown time and again that she has the courage and independence to stand up and fight for individuals and families. Governor Gregoire is committed to helping working families by expanding opportunities for family wage jobs and promoting growth while maintaining the environment that makes Washington a unique and wonderful place to live. Governor Gregoire believes that our economic future relies on an educated and skilled workforce, strategic investments in infrastructure, a strong commitment to research and development and a robust business climate.

Chris O'Grady was raised in Auburn, Washington, by her mother, who worked as a short-order cook to support the family. She rode horses, picked blueberries and learned the value of hard work and a good education. After graduating from Auburn High School, Chris entered the University of Washington. She graduated with a teaching certificate and Bachelor of Arts degree in speech and sociology. She met her husband, Mike, in September 1971 when they both worked for the Washington Department of Social and Health Services. Chris received her law degree in 1977 from Gonzaga University.

State Elected Officials

BRAD OWEN
Lt. Governor

Democrat. Brad Owen was elected as Washington State's 15th lieutenant governor in 1996, and was re-elected to his fourth term in 2008. He serves the state as president of the Senate, and is acting governor in the absence of the governor. Owen was a small business owner and served his community as a finance commissioner in Shelton, followed by several terms as a state Senator and Representative. The lieutenant governor has dedicated his term of service to "helping kids grow up healthy in safe communities with opportunity," his office motto. Owen also actively supports strengthening the ties between Washington state's international community and state government. For the past several years he has worked toward fostering international trade and building stronger international connections. Owen also founded and is the president of a non-profit organization called Strategies for Youth. This innovative organization partners with his office to develop and deliver positive messages to youth, as well as to the community at large. Owen is married with 6 children and 17 grandchildren, and lives in Shelton.

SAM REED
Secretary of State

Sam Reed is Washington's 14th Secretary of State, currently serving now in his third term. Since taking office in 2000, Sam Reed has led the State of Washington into the 21st Century and secured its legacy. In 2004, he launched the nation's first state government digital archives. Reed fought and won the battle to save the Washington State Library, the State's oldest cultural institution, which is now a division of his office. The Secretary has worked diligently to make Washington a more business-friendly state by allowing corporations to file electronically, and has worked to increase the accountability and transparency of our state's charitable organizations. As the nation's most accomplished Secretary of State in the field of elections, Reed, with the State Attorney General, took the people's case for a wide open, Top Two Primary to the United States Supreme Court, and won. Voters can now choose any candidate on the primary ballot, regardless of political party. Secretary Reed is widely recognized for sweeping improvements to the voting process following Washington's contested 2004 gubernatorial race, the closest in U.S. history. Secretary Reed has won numerous awards for his accomplishments in public service, including the GOVERNING Magazine Public Official of the Year Award, the YMCA Youth & Government Robert F. Utter, and Gonzaga University's Law Medal.

JIM MCINTIRE
State Treasurer

James McIntire was elected as Washington's 22nd State Treasurer in 2008. Prior to this election, he was a successful business economist for Navigant Consulting Inc. McIntire earned his PhD in economics at the University of Washington, where he founded and directed a fiscal policy center and taught economics for 25 years. He began his political career working in the U.S. Senate for Hubert Humphrey, and served as a policy advisor to congressional committee chairmen and Washington governors. He has chaired statewide boards for economic development and nonprofit housing. As a five-term State Representative, McIntire provided leadership on several financial committees. He sponsored the first state law making identity theft a crime, a constitutionally protected, "Rainy Day Account," performance audits, priorities of government budgeting, and the new Citizen Commission for Performance Measurement of Tax Preferences. During a budget shortfall, McIntire helped to re-enact the estate tax and raise cigarette taxes to pay for schools and children's health care. As State Treasurer, McIntire has focused his attention on the safety and security of public funds, the integration of sound financial management throughout state government, and the need for long term financial planning to meet the education and transportation needs of Washington's economy.

BRIAN SONNTAG
State Auditor

Ever since he was first elected State Auditor in 1992, Brian Sonntag has been a passionate, leading advocate for citizens of the State of Washington. Now in his fifth term as Auditor, Brian remains committed to ensuring state and local governments are accountable, accessible and responsive to citizens. He has a distinguished career in public service. He was elected Pierce County Clerk when he was 26 years old and served eight years in that office. Brian was also elected twice to the office of Pierce County Auditor (an office his father held for 22 years) before being elected State Auditor. Brian serves as a board member of the Washington Coalition for Open Government. Last year he received the Coalition's James Anderson Award, for his advocacy for open government. The Washington Newspaper Publishers Association's gave him the Freedom's Light Award in 1999. And for his efforts to improve local government operations, Brian received the Warren G. Magnuson Award from the Seattle Municipal League in 1999. Brian also is a member of the state Productivity Board and co-chairs Public Service Recognition Week, an annual event showcasing the achievements of state employees. In 2007, Tacoma Community College selected Brian as its distinguished alumni of the year for his public service and community involvement, which includes serving on the boards of United Way and the Boys and Girls Club, as well as many years as a youth baseball and basketball coach. Professionally, he holds the designation as a Certified Government Financial Manager from the National Association of Government Accountants. He also serves as a trustee on the Association of Government Accountants Academy of Government Accountability. He is a member of the Tacoma Athletic Commission. He and his wife, Jann, live in Tacoma, have raised five boys, and have four grandchildren.

State Elected Officials

ROB MCKENNA Attorney General

Republican. Rob McKenna is Washington's 17th Attorney General, serving his second term in office. As the state's chief legal officer, he provides legal services to state agencies, boards and commissions. General McKenna's ongoing priorities are:

- Keeping communities safer by leading the state in fighting meth and prescription drug abuse, gangs, sexual predators, domestic violence and crimes against vulnerable adults;
- Protecting consumers and businesses from scams and high-tech crimes, such as cyber fraud, phishing and spyware; and
- Promoting integrity in government by defending the state's laws and encouraging open access to government.

McKenna received his J.D. from the University of Chicago Law School in 1988, where he was a member of the Law Review. He earned a B.A. in Economics and a B.A. in International Studies, both with honors, from the University of Washington. He was also student body president and graduated Phi Beta Kappa. McKenna, his wife Marilyn and their four children reside in Bellevue.

RANDY DORN Superintendent of Public Instruction

A lifelong resident of Washington state, Randy Dorn is an experienced educator and dedicated public servant committed to creating world-class schools for all of our children.

Dorn has spent much of his career in education. He received a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Idaho and a master's degree in education from Pacific Lutheran University. He taught at elementary and middle schools and served as elementary and a high school principal.

For seven years he served in the state House of Representatives and was a key sponsor of the Education Reform Bill. As a state representative, Dorn chaired the K-12 House Education Committee and was a member of the Appropriations Committee. His honors include the President's Award from the Association of Washington State School Principals and the Golden Gavel from the Washington Association of School Administrators.

In 1999, Dorn became executive director of Public School Employees of Washington, the second largest educational employee's organization in Washington state.

Dorn and his wife, Kaye, live in Eatonville and have three grown sons. The commitment to education runs deep in Randy's family: one son is a teacher and one is training to become one.

State Elected Officials

PETER J. GOLDMARK Commissioner of Public Lands

Democrat. Commissioner of Public Lands, Peter Goldmark was elected to lead the Washington State Department of Natural Resources in 2008. Goldmark has had a lifelong involvement with agriculture, science, education, and public service. His mission is to sustainably manage the lands of the state in the public interest. He is working to create rural economic opportunity and green jobs, fight climate change and protect Puget Sound. He is working to expand the production of renewable energy on state lands, most notably through his Biomass Initiative. Goldmark is a published scientist and holds a PhD in molecular biology from the University of California at Berkeley. The Okanogan native is a former; Director of the Department of Agriculture; Washington State University Regent; local school board member; veteran firefighter, and still operates his family ranch.

MIKE KREIDLER Insurance Commissioner

Democrat. Native-son Mike Kreidler has served the Evergreen State in a variety of elected offices and appointed posts. From the boardroom of his local school district to the state Legislature and halls of Congress, Mike has represented the state's citizenry for more than 30 years. Through dedication, fairness and hard work, he earned presidential and gubernatorial appointments – as Regional Director for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in 1988, and as a member of the Northwest Power Planning Council. A staunch advocate for consumer protection and a determined regulator of our diverse insurance markets, Mike was re-elected to a third term as Insurance Commissioner in 2008. A key priority for 2010 is making national health care reform work here at home in this Washington. A doctor of optometry, Mike practiced at Group Health Cooperative in Olympia for 20 years. He holds a Master's degree in public health, and was a founding director of a successful community bank. Mike retired as a Lieutenant Colonel from the Army Reserves. He and his wife, Lela, have three children and are proud grandparents.

Senator

SENATORS OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON

OWEN, BRAD Lieutenant Governor President of the Senate

Born and raised in Tacoma, Bradley Scott "Brad" Owen was elected Washington's 15th lieutenant governor in 1996 and re-elected in 2000, 2004 and 2008. His 34 years in public office includes service as a finance commissioner for the City of Shelton, as a member of the state House of Representatives and of the state Senate. He is now the longest-serving elected official in Washington state government as well as "the dean" of active lieutenant governors in the nation.

The office motto "helping kids grow up healthy in safe communities with opportunity" summarizes the lieutenant governor's leadership role in economic development, international relations and trade development, and inspiring youth to reach their full potential. As lieutenant governor he has conducted 16 foreign trade and goodwill missions to countries in Asia, Europe and South America.

In addition to his day-to-day duties, Lt. Governor Owen is president of Strategies for Youth, a non-profit organization he established with his wife, Linda, in 1989 to teach school kids about substance abuse, respect and diversity. He holds leadership positions on numerous other boards and committees, both in the government and non-profit sectors.

Among his many honors is the bestowment of a Spanish order of knighthood by the King of Spain in 2007. In 2002 he received an honorary doctorate in humanities from Walla Walla College. He is a Rotary International Paul Harris Fellow.

Lt. Governor Owen is an avid outdoorsman, and enjoys playing the guitar, drums, and sax. He and Linda live in Shelton. They have six children and 17 grandchildren.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Assistance For Persons With Disabilities

The Washington State Legislature is committed to making legislative activities and facilities accessible to all people. To meet this goal, the Legislature has taken steps to ensure that individuals with disabilities have full access to legislative activities, programs, and services. The Legislature would like to hear from you if you have comments or concerns relating to services we provide to persons with disabilities. Please feel free to contact the appropriate ADA coordinator.

Barrier-Free Access

All legislative buildings have designated disabled parking and entrance ramps to provide easy access. Each building on the campus has at least one door that is accessible by wheelchair. Legislative hearing rooms in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings are accessible to persons using wheelchairs. Each hearing room has an accessible entrance and a designated wheelchair seating area. If additional assistance is required, please contact the appropriate Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) coordinator listed below.

Auxiliary Aids For Communication

Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TTY):

The Legislature has TTY service. This service allows persons who are deaf or hard-of-hearing to communicate with legislators and staff about matters before the Legislature, scheduling, bill information, etc. For information or to leave a message, call the following number:

Legislative TTY 1-800-635-9993

State Telephone Relay Service:

As an alternative to the Legislature's TTY number, any legislative number can be reached directly by dialing:

State Telephone Relay Service (voice) 1-800-833-6384
or State Telephone Relay Service (TTY) 1-800-833-6388

Assistive Listening Devices in Hearing Rooms and Chambers:

Legislative hearing rooms and the House and Senate Chambers are equipped with assistive listening systems. These systems allow hard of hearing persons to amplify hearing and floor proceedings through the use of special headphones. For meetings in the Cherberg and O'Brien buildings, headphones can be checked out at the security offices on the first floor of each building. For the House and Senate Chambers, headphones can be checked out from the Security Personnel just outside the Gallery doors.

Interpreters and Readers

The Legislature will provide sign language interpreters and readers when appropriate and with advance notice. If you need a sign language interpreter or reader, please contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator.

Documents in Alternative Formats:

Legislative documents can be made available in alternate formats (large print, braille, and audio tape) upon request. If you need a document in an alternate format, contact the appropriate staff person or ADA coordinator. Please give as much advance notice as possible, as it may take significant turnaround time to meet certain requests.

ADA Coordinators

The Senate and House ADA coordinators provide assistance if questions or concerns arise and coordinate the implementation of the ADA.

How a Bill Becomes a Law

1. A bill may be introduced in either the Senate or House of Representatives, but the procedure by which a bill becomes a law is much the same, wherever the bill originates.

The bill is introduced in the Senate or the House by a member, or members, of that body. After the bill is filed with the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the House, it is given a number and, it is read the first time by title only in open session and referred to a standing committee.

2. The committee studies the bill and often holds public hearings on it. The committee will then meet to consider the information it has gathered. It may approve the bill with or without amendments, draft a new bill on the same subject incorporating the desired changes, or take no action.
3. The committee is now ready to report back to the Senate or the House. If the majority is in favor of the bill as introduced or with certain amendments, the chair recommends the bill for passage. The committee report is read in open session of the Senate or the House, and the bill is then referred to the Rules Committee.
4. After the bill has been recommended for passage by the standing committee to which it was originally referred, the Rules Committee can either place it on the second reading calendar for debate before the entire body, or take no action.
5. When the bill appears on the calendar for second reading, it is subject to amendment. It is then returned to the Rules Committee where it must receive a favorable vote before being placed on the third reading calendar for final passage. This referral to Rules is often bypassed by vote of the Senate or the House and the bill placed on final passage immediately following its second reading. Depending upon the degree of controversy, debate may last a few minutes to several hours or even several days.

6. After passing in the Senate or the House, the bill will go through an almost identical procedure in the other body.

If the bill is passed by the other body, but is amended, the originating body must concur in the amendments. If the change in the bill is not accepted, it may be returned for reconsideration of the amendments. If the amendments are not rescinded, a conference committee may be requested on the differences.

7. If the conference committee cannot agree, a conference committee may be appointed with power to rewrite the amendment or even write an entirely new bill. When the conferees reach agreement, they report to their respective houses. Their report is either accepted or rejected without any changes.
8. If the report is accepted by both houses, the bill is signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House in open sessions of each body, and then is sent for the Governor's signature.
9. Within five days, if the Legislature is still in session, or 20 days after its adjournment, the Governor may sign the bill or veto all or any section of it. The Legislature can override the veto by a two-thirds vote of both houses. If the Governor fails to act on the bill, it becomes law without a signature.

Visitors Tour Information

The State Capitol Tour Program provides educational tours to school groups, constituent visitors and guests, community organizations and the visiting public. The Tour Office will coordinate with legislator's office arrangements for visiting constituents. When school groups are scheduled to tour the capitol during session, the legislator's office will reserve a time for the legislator to speak to the group from their district.

Requests from constituents often come directly to the Tour Office which then informs the legislators from the district. Many times the request comes first to the legislator who will then call the office with the name of the group and a contact phone number.

Guided public tours of the Washington State Legislative Building are offered seven days a week between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Tours are free and begin every hour on the hour and last 60 minutes. Groups can meet their tour guide at the foot of the rotunda steps on the north side of the building, just inside the main entrance. The Legislative Building is closed on Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day.

The Washington State Capitol Tour office accepts reservations for group tours year round. Please call (360) 902-8880 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday to make your reservations.

Visitors are welcome to take a self-guided tour of the Legislative Building and the campus grounds. Brochures are available at the information desk located in the north foyer entrance of the Legislative Building and at the Visitor Information Center.

Free public tours of the Executive Mansion are available most Wednesdays. Reservations are required. Morning and afternoon tours are offered, however dates and times may vary. Maximum group size is limited to 25 and each tour last one hour. Please call the State Capitol Tour office at (360) 902-8880 for information and to make your reservation.
