WHEREAS, On this day, we join citizens across the nation in observing Presidents' Day, a time set aside to reflect on the leadership and service of those who have served as President of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Presidents' Day has long served as a moment for honoring the achievements and enduring legacies of pivotal American leaders, particularly George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, whose contributions shaped the course of our nation's history; and

WHEREAS, George Washington, the first President of our United States, was instrumental in leading the country through the challenges of the Revolutionary War and the early years of our independence; and

WHEREAS, By voluntarily stepping down at the end of his second term, George Washington set a crucial precedent for peaceful transitions of power, a practice that has since become a cornerstone of American democracy; and

WHEREAS, Abraham Lincoln, the sixteenth President, is revered for his steadfast leadership during the Civil War, preserving the Union and writing the Emancipation Proclamation to end slavery; and

WHEREAS, The significance of Presidents' Day is a celebration not only of these two extraordinary figures, but of all presidents who have shaped the country in their unique ways—

each bringing their unique vision, determination, and dedication to the office; and

WHEREAS, The establishment of Presidents' Day as a national observance highlights our nation's commitment to democratic ideals in the continued pursuit of a more perfect Union;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives honor our nation's presidents for leaving a legacy of renowned leadership in turbulent times and their immeasurable contributions to the furtherment of liberty, equality, and justice in this country.

WHEREAS, We welcome to the House of Representatives the young people here today, visiting the workspace of their legislature; and

WHEREAS, In the state of Washington, we believe in leaving our state a better place than we found it, as we don't inherit the earth, we borrow it from our children; and

WHEREAS, Students are here all session working diligently serving as pages and interns, and we hope their experience in Olympia inspires them to remain informed and engaged in their democracy; and

WHEREAS, We can learn much from children, as they are exposed from birth to different places, languages, and people, and embrace those new experiences with a smile and open arms; and

WHEREAS, It is our solemn obligation to reflect on our achievements and work towards the remaining progress needed to accomplish and fulfill the rights of every child, prioritizing their health, safety, and education; and

WHEREAS, We recognize the incredible potential that resides within each child;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives encourage all the people of Washington to celebrate Children's Day and to do whatever they can to help children and students thrive.
